Porter Loving Dies in Tractor Accident Monday

Porter Loving, one of the county's first aviation enthusiasts, farmer, and a member of a family long associated with the development of the county, was killed some time Monday afternoon when the tractor he was driving at his farm on Buck Creek southwest of Wellington overturned into a canyon, pinning him beneath it.

His body was found about 10:30 p.m. Monday night by members of a searching party organized after he had failed to return home that evening. The group had been formed by Chief of Police Bill McCarver, who with a number of other men were doing volunteer work at the First Baptist Church. Members of the Wellington Fire Department were called to help in the search.

Sheriff Claude McKinney said that Mr. Loving had been to his home in town for lunch, then returned to the farm to work. Apparently he had plowed up some weeds near the house, then drove down beside a canyon. Before getting there, Mr. McKinney said, tractor tracks showed he had put on the right brake, which would have thrown him into the canyon, then about 4 feet farther on had applied the left brake. The tractor was equipped with a "comfort cover," making it practically impossible for the driver to get out once the tractor started turning.

An inquest was held by Justice of the Peace Raymond Horton, who said that although he had not completed the investigation, every indication was toward accidental death.

The time of the accident has not been determined, but officers said that as well as could be determined, it occurred not long after he returned from lunch.

Mr. Loving was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Loving. He was born at Blair, Oklahoma, August 22, 1902, and about a year later came here with the family. He grew up here and was educated in the Wellington schools.

Mr. Loving as a young man became interested in aviation and was among the first here to learn to fly. His enthusiasm continued as long as he lived. He was known as one of the best and most careful pilots of the area, and was acknowledged as being an outstanding airplane mechanic. For a number of years he operated his own plane here.

During World War II he was a civilian flying instructor at Fort Sill.

In addition to his farming activities he operated a custom combine business, one of the first to

"We qualified against some of the roughest teams in the Southwest. Teams like Amarillo, Odessa, Okla. City, and many more. I was proud of the boys," he concluded.

Samnorwood sent three boys to the meet but the power of the larger schools was just too much punch.

The following coaches will accompany the boys from their respective schools. Coach Maxey McKnight of Wellington, W. F. Howard of Quail, and Howard

Miss Veda Mae Kiker Honored at McMurry

Miss Veda Mae Kiker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kiker, and a junior in McMurry College, was presented as the 1953 Sweetheart of Kiva, men's social club at that college, recently at the group's annual spring banquet at the Windsor Hotel, Abilene.

The banquet theme was Cinderella. Meshed steamers of multicolored yard draped from the chandelier to the walls enclosed the banquet tables. A huge silver slipper, an orange pumpkin and a "Cinderella" sitting at the ends were table decor.

Pledges presented the program.

Miss Kiker graduated from Wellington high school in 1950.

Seniors Present "Meet Me in St. Louis" Tues.

For rib-ticking fun don't fail to see the annual Senior play, "Meet Me in St. Louis." This is one of the best plays to be presented on the stage of Wellington in a long time. Curtain time is Tuesday, April 28, at 8:00 p.m.

It is the heart-warming story of four daughters who don't want to leave their home in St. Louis, because they will have to give up their love affairs and Grandpa. With a combination of humor and sincerity it is a good play for the entire family to see.

Things start in a big way when the youngest daughter derails a trolley. The entire Smith family gets even deeper in hot water when the father (James LeDerer) announces that they will have to move to New York. The girls cook up some of the wildest schemes to stay in their present home.

They insult the boss, Mr. Dodge, (James Glasscock) and his sidekick, Mr. Duffy (Cal Aaron). After one thing and then another Smith is fired. Then the fireworks begin.

The cast includes Mr. Smith, James LeDerer; Mrs. Smith, Jean Stangel; their daughters, Rose, Jan Crawford, Ester, Betty Wood; Agnes, Ruthie McCaskill; Tootie, Glenna Yarbrough; Lon, their son, Harold Moore; Grandpa, Cal Lacy; Katie, the cook, Eugene Black; Mrs. Waughop, Peggy Jeffers; Ida Boothby, Tanya Smith; John Shepard, Fred Alexander; Fred Gregory, Jim Thompson; Lucille Pentard, Mary Johnson; Mr. Dodge, James Glasscock; Mr. Duffy, Cal Aaron; the conductor, Phil Handley; and the master of ceremonies, Jim Leggett.

Watch Your Dogs, Owners Urged

50 Loads Trash Hauled
In Clean-up Drive

By JAMES GLASSCOCK
Most of the dirt and filth in Wellington was eliminated in the City-Wide Clean-Up Drive which was held the 6, 7, and 8 of April. More than 50 truck loads of rubbish and junk were taken to the city disposal north of town. This did not include the regular run on the garbage collection route.

"Everyone co-operated in the most suitable way and now we have one of the cleanest towns anywhere," Mayor L. B. Bratten declared.

"I want to thank the people for helping us make this project as successful as it was. I hope that it will not be necessary to have another clean-up campaign for a long time to come. We could make it possible by disposing of all of our rubbish and never let it collect, the Mayor continued.

"We do have our flaw in our inter-sanitation program. It is the outdoor privies. We are asking the owners to co-operate by repairing them, digging new pits, making use of vents, and the use of lime to keep odor and flies checked.

"If Wellington was to have an epidemic of polio or some other dreaded disease, I would personally feel guilty because I had not done all that is my power to prevent this disease. So please help us to keep disease from getting a start in Wellington," he urged.

"The city police has killed one mad dog this year," Mayor Bratten revealed. "I urge all pet owners to get your animals vaccinated to help protect the lives of the children of our town. After all there is no real cure for this disease," he stressed.

"Please watch your dogs. They may be the best pedigree dog in town but they can dig up as many flowers, bring up as many bones as some street dog," he explained.

"Here in Wellington we are all just one big happy family and if your neighbors dog is bothering you then go and tell them of it. They may think 'Pooh' is not giving trouble. Please don't poison or kill the dogs. They may be the life to some little boy or girl," the city head stated.

"At the present time the city has completed digging one well and another well is nearing completion. Since most of the surface water is gone it is necessary to dig some deep wells. It is hoped that by the time summer is here that the people will have all the water they will need. It is costing a lot to get these wells to produce but we are doing it without any tax increase or bond issues.

BON JOUR, SOLDAT—A pretty smile from the pretty wife of American Gen. Matthew Ridgway cheers up a wounded French soldier, Private Adrien Batifol. Mrs. Ridgway is seen above at the Military Hospital Val de Grace in Paris. She is holding a mirror so that he wounded man may examine his beard which has grown since he was injured while fighting Communists in the French colony of Indo-China.

When we do get this water in use we want the people to use it until their heart's content," Mayor Bratten concluded.

What is Alcoholism?

ALCOHOLIC NEEDS HOPE, HELP TO TAKE IT OVER LONG PERIOD

BY AN ALCOHOLIC
(Third of a Series)

In most illnesses, the patient realizes he is sick and is willing to do anything suggested to bring about recovery. Not so, however, with the usual run of alcoholics. They will test the patience of a saint and resist every effort to help them. This stubbornness is a part of their affliction. They have lost the ability to understand the seriousness of their condition.

The alcoholic, or threatened alcoholic, is floundering in darkness. He must have help if he is to survive. Experience has shown that some person outside the immediate family circle is a better prospect to work on the alcoholic victim.

The threats, pleas and promises which have come from the family in the past were in vain. The drinker resents these appeals and considers them as interference or nagging. Getting drunk or drunker is usually the way the vain approach ends.

A member of Alcoholics Anonymous, an interested and understanding physician, a friendly employer, a close friend, or a sympathetic, down-to-earth pastor may be able to rouse the drinker's concern as to his desperate situation and need for help.

The family will always make the big mistake of pitting their love against his love for alcohol, not realizing that the alcoholic's illness makes alcohol the most important thing in his life. He can't shut off the compulsion to drink as one would turn on or off the water faucet. It's not that simple. The very first approach to an alcoholic is an important one. It should be made by someone with kindness and understanding, but never without firmness.

Don't expect any miracle at the outset. It would be foolish to think that the rebuilding of the alcoholic's character (and this must be done) which has been years in developing badly, or rather going to pieces, can be done in a week, six weeks, or even six months.

Recovery for the alcoholic is a slow job and there are no short cuts. First of all, he must be persuaded, calmly and clearly, to accept his condition as he would if informed he were a victim of heart disease or tuberculosis. And he must realize that he can be helped.

The drinker should be convinced that he cannot recover alone. He has to be shown that he has a serious drinking problem, or will have one if some preventive action is not immediately employed. Once faced with these facts, he must decide to do something about it.

The alcoholic is an extremely selfish person. He thinks only in terms of self. Faced with an "either-or" ultimatum which would carry with it some kind of penalty were he not to try the treatment suggested, he might agree, though purely from a selfish motive to avoid the penalty.

Regardless of the insincerity of the victim's decision to try some program of help, progress can be made. There are numerous instances on record where such counterfeit or phony intentions in the beginning blossomed into a sincere desire to recover.

Exposing these hard-shelled drinkers to some program of treatment is the important objective at the outset — and the sooner the better.

The alcoholic is a diehard at heart. His fierce ego will admit no defeat, especially where alcohol is the issue. The effective treatment of alcohol addiction is, of course, the treatment of that which causes it. With the alcoholic, it requires treatment of the ego.

He must find humility, and for him this means a complete surrender of self.

Before any problem drinker can be started on any treatment program designed to get at the root of the trouble, he must be physically straightened out. He has to feel well to grasp the mental medicine or therapy he needs. A physician or psychiatrist should completely check him for any serious ailments which may have been contributing to the urge for drinking. Bodily ailments may have a serious effect on the mind. Any person who is just emerging from a prolonged drinking spree or bout should have medical attention, even hospitalization. Ordinarily, about five days of medical treatment will be sufficient to bring about fairly good physical well-being.

It is important that the alcoholic be convinced that recovery can be had and that it is worthwhile. The history of thousands of other alcoholics who have recovered from equally serious, or worse drinking addiction is the conclusive proof that it can be done and is worth doing.

THE HELPING FORMULA

1. Don't shield or cover up anyone with drinking difficulties. Once detected, do something constructive about it. Be kind, but be firm.

2. Physical condition of drinker must be restored to par. Consult understanding physician.

3. Victims must be convinced that they are suffering from an illness requiring help. They can't help themselves.

4. Problem drinkers must be shown why they have needed alcohol for relief of emotional conflicts; why they feel guilty, insecure, inferior, not wanted, etc. Reality must be unveiled to them.

5. Patients must be encouraged to read some enlightening material on this affliction. (The book "Alcoholics Anonymous" is highly informing, interesting and helpful).

6. Alcoholics must be convinced they will never be able to use alcohol in any quantity. Self-designed plans of control just will not work.

7. New interests, new hobbies and new nondrinking companions are necessary.

8. Drinkers must be helped to recognize the signs of increasing tension, and told how to relay mentally and physically.

Social Security Man Here April 29

Today, throughout the nation, 66 1/2 million persons have worked long enough to be fully insured under the social security program. This means that 66 1/2 million persons have worked at least 1 1/2 years or longer in employment or self-employment, that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance. This gives at least temporary protection to themselves and their families. Those of the 66 1/2 million who become 65 or die before July 1, 1954, need have worked only six calendar quarters (about 1 1/2 years), at any time since 1937, to qualify for benefits. However, those who will not be 65 until after that date will need to have worked for a longer period in order to qualify. No person ever needs more than 40 calendar quarters (10 full years) of work. But continuous employment or self-employment is necessary to assure maximum protection and the highest possible benefits.

The Amarillo Social Security Office has a booklet entitled "Your New Social Security." It will answer most, if not all, of your questions. It is free and a request on a post card or letter is all that is necessary.

A representative from the Amarillo Social Security Office will be in Wellington, on Wednesday, April 29, at 8:30 a.m. at the County Court Room.

West of Farmers Co-op Gin

Wellington, Texas

Loco News

By MRS. GEORGE ADKINS

The farmers here are re-planting their early feed and sudan. Those replanting this week were J. A. Scott, Willie West, and L. C. Keith. Fred Cox planted some this week also.

The singing at the Bethel Methodist Church Sunday was a big success. So many came, all the seats were filled and some had to stand. Visitors from Hollis, Mangum, Vinson, Eldorado, Wichita Falls, Childress, Wellington, Shamrock and Paducah attended.

Mrs. Gene Cook and daughter are home from the hospital. They are at the L. M. Bartlett home.

Fred Cox, R. L. Mabery, John Wolf, Roland Mayhugh, and Keith Smith met at the Dale Tipton farm Tuesday morning to help him move some cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson and Judy of Buck Creek spent Wednesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown and family.

J. H. McDanel is still suffering with rheumatism. He took several treatments in Wellington this week.

The senior pictures are being seen in the mail this week. They surely are nice. Doesn't seem as though the young people who are sending them out should be old enough to be finishing high school, but as always time flies.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Austin put up a pretty yard fence around their home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Adkins took Mrs. Ora Calcote to her home at Texola, Oklahoma, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Calcote spent a week visiting here.

Several attended the implement sale in Wellington Wednesday.

The annual meeting of the Loco Farmers Co-op Gin Society was held Friday night, but due to the bad sand storm, not enough attended for a quorum. The date of the next meeting will be announced later by Coy Cates, secretary of the board.

Lots of ice was to found Saturday morning. Low here was 28 degrees.

Rev. R. L. Porter, Sr. of Wellington is conducting a revival meeting at the Loco Baptist Church, began Sunday morning. Attendance has been very good for the first three services. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. C. M. Terry is a patient in St. Joseph's hospital this week. We hope she will soon be up and about again.

The farm-to-market road through Arlie received the first coat of topping this week. This is certainly going to a wonderful improvement over the old rough gravel road we all traveled for so long.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Durfey attended the Farm Bureau meeting in Childress Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Calcote and Juanita of Quail visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Adkins Wednesday.

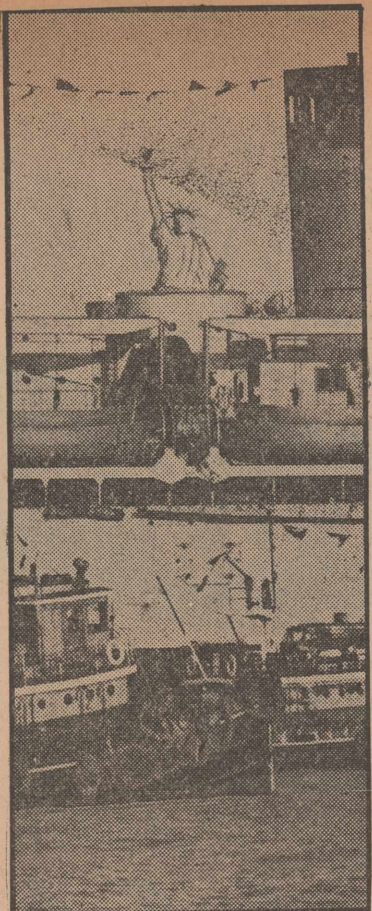

Raymond Taylor who has been working in Dallas for the past month, was in an auto accident there last week and received a broken back, in the wreck. His condition is very serious. Mrs. Taylor and their son and daughter have gone to Dallas to be with him. The family live on the farm of Mrs. C. M. Terry at Loco.

The freeze Friday night did a little damage to the wheat that is heading and the early gardens.

The locust trees and early roses are blooming here.

Rev. L. D. Cleveland filled his regular appointment at the Loco Methodist Church Sunday. Mrs. Cleveland and Bessie accompanied him. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf.

Rev. and Mrs. Cleveland and Bessie and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. King of Wellington visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Adkins Sunday after-

Norwood FFA To Contests

By James Glasscock

The Samnorwood F. F. A. judging teams attended the Greenbelt District judging meet in Clarendon on April 7. However, the result of how the Norwood teams placed has not been announced. Mr. Lee Christie, chapter advisor revealed this week.

The boys entered in three divisions. Dairy Products, Crops and Dairy Cattle. Members of the teams are: Dairy Cattle John Knoll, Bob Baxter, Troy Ledbetter, and George Cunningham, alternate. Crops: Melvin Woods, Tommy Jones and James Martin-dale. Dairy Products T. C. Newkirk, Truman Ledbetter, and Jerry Reynolds.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation Dist.

Frank Coleman, Chairman
Tom Cunningham, Vice Chairman
Frank Ford, Secretary
Logan Cummings, Member
Alfred Knoll, Member
Fred Squyres, Supervisor
Lynn Courtney, Aide

Farmers of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, including all of Collingsworth County, can now get their soil testing done here at home, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist, reported following the recent meeting of the SCD board of directors.

The board voted for the purchase of a testing kit in an effort to speed up soil testing work here in the county, particularly on land which is to be put under irrigation.

The tests will be for nitrogen, phosphorus and potash content of the soil and they will be run by Mr. Squyres or Lynn Courtney, conservation aide. This will be a portable kit, so that the tests may be taken either in the field or the work may be done in the office.

Heretofore, the tests have been sent to Midwestern University, Wichita Falls.

This is a service to farmers of the district and there will be no charge for the tests.

In the same meeting, approval was given practices on 3,215 acres of land for the following farmers: Barney Glenn, 320 acres; John D. Glenn and Barney Glenn, 160 acres; Elmer W. Reynolds, 960; Ross Swift, 20; Truett Thomas, 235; A. S. Whitson, 320; O. A. Terry, 80 and G. M. Thompson, 1120 acres.

Checking of a number of terrace systems, built this spring, has been under way and several other land owners have their work about ready for checking, Mr. Squyres said. These will make a total of 87 miles of terraces, he said.

Earl Hunter has completed some channel type terraces, which he prefers, and the Easter rain was the first real test they have been put to. W. E. Brashears of Aberdeen has his channel type terraces about ready to check, while Mack Tarver is completing standard type terraces.

Lester Parrish and sons are terracing to divert water from 200 acres of land off their farm at points where it isn't wanted. This excess water is taken in at one spot and run through the syru pan terrace system they are putting in across their farm. Thus slowed down, it puts most of the water in the ground where it belongs.

Terrace lines have been run for Rolan C. Bryan at Nicholson, A. S. Whitson at Aberdeen and E. C. Alexander near Dodson.

Channel type terraces have been finished and checked on land in the Needwood community owned by Mrs. Lillian A. Fain of Canyon, and also for G. M. Thompson of Aberdeen.

Others who are terracing are O. W. Phipps, Neylon Morgan, W. E. Browning, Lois O. Tyson, R. W. Alexander, A. L. Duncan, Hamilton and Deaver, the Mill Iron Ranch, W. R. Breeding, Elmer W. Reynolds and O. A. Terry.

Notaries Should Ask Reappointmt.

Secretary of State Howard Carney has announced that he will reappoint all persons who now hold Notary Public Commissions and that all such persons must qualify by filling an oath and bond with the County Clerk of their residence between June 1, 1953 and June 10, 1953. The law specifically requires County Clerks to approve Notary bonds and individuals should not send money or requests for commissions direct to the Secretary of State. All Notary matters can only be received by the Secretary of State after the County Clerk acts thereon.

Any person who has not heretofore been a Notary Public should apply to his County Clerk between May 1, 1953 and May 23, 1953, if he desires to have this application given prompt attention in the State Department, as the rush of reappointing all old Notaries may slow up the ordinary process of making new appointments and issuing commissions.

Secretary of State Carney said, "Each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the County for which he is appointed; exact names and permanent addresses should be given to the County Clerk in applying for a commission, as location of the Notary may be necessary long after he has notarized a particular instrument."

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gray, long time residents of Quail community are moving to Clarendon this Thursday, where he will farm.

You really GO when you go V-8

When you go Ford V-8 you get this fine car power without paying a premium.

What kind of engines are you finding in more and more of America's finest cars? Yes, V-8 engines. And no wonder, for no other type of car engine available today can beat V-8's for compactness . . . and for smoothness. And Ford and only Ford offers you a V-8 engine in a low-priced car! It's the wonderful result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined . . . over 13,000,000 of them.

It's just one of 41 "Worth More" features that make Ford worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.

Imagine! A car so low in first cost keeps its value better than any other car on the American Road. Used-car figures on last year's cars prove that. And with its 41 "Worth More" features, this newer, finer '53 Ford holds still greater promise of long-lived value. You'll find built-to-last Crestmark Bodies. You'll find a new kind of ride that practically "repaves" the roughest roads. And these are but samples of the reasons why Ford is worth more when you buy . . . worth more when you sell.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Monday I told my wife that we would leave about noon on Tuesday to go see the grandchild. This is being written at 5:30 Tuesday morning and Louise and Henry are still asleep. The only reason I don't wake them and start out is that I don't have any money and the banks don't open until 9 a.m.

Perhaps it is just as well that I am leaving town. I predicted last week that it would rain when I took my trip and now it looks like it is going to pass us by. Everything happens to me. Two weeks ago the paper won a beautiful silver tray for being the best in typography and press work and the same week the award was announced we printed the Castleberry Motor Co. signature under the Ford ad of the Collingsworth Motor Co. Kelly and Bobo and Walt took the mistake in very gracious fashion, I thought, but the ribbing I received from the readers left my old back pretty sore. So I guess it is about time that I get to Galveston to see little Marian. Maybe there is one person who will appreciate my so-called merits.

Hope that Bobby Jack Watson will remember to keep water in Saint Francis basin for the birds while I am gone. We have mocking birds, brown thrushes and two white billed red eyed black birds nesting in our yard. At least we think the blackbirds are building a nest. It is the first time we have ever had blackbirds. Of course we have sparrows and blue jays; but I consider them about as useful as cats.

Cats do catch mice and rats; but so do snakes and I consider them in the same category. Cats can't seem to catch sparrows but they will go hungry for a week trying to find the nest of the mocking bird. I never have liked cats since boyhood. I found a bunch of kittens in the barn and about half of them had their eyes chewed out. I ran back to the house crying to ask my mother if big rats could have done that, and she explained that sometimes old tom cats bit out the eyes of the little male kittens. I got my .22 and found Mother's beautiful yellow tomcat sleeping in the sun and I shot him right behind the left shoulder. (Cat lovers who wish to reply are asked to keep their words to the same length as this paragraph).

Horace Small has found Josephine. This is no scandal. Josephine is a bird dog that belongs to Johnnie Crawford, etc.; but she loves me and my flowers. When Horace found her the man that had been keeping her asked: "Can you prove that this is your dog?" And Horace said: "Sure can, just take her down to Johnnie Crawford's and in two hours she will be over in Deck Wells' flowers." That is what happened too; except that Josephine does not bother the flowers much—she comes over for a drink of water. Since I am a former mayor, Bura Handley furnishes me with better water than he does Johnnie.

That will be all for this week folks. I am on my way to see my granddaughter, and the mocking bird is singing in the trees.

Shamblee's All Stars Open Season

Shamblee's All Star opened their baseball season Sunday against a Memphis team at Memphis, defeating them 11 to 2, Earl Shamblee, manager, announced.

Shamblee is trying to match a game here Sunday at 3:00 p.m. at the Fair Ground, and was confident early this week that a game would be played.

"The boys are doing awful well. They're all youngsters and good," he said.

Starters in the game with Memphis were Eddie Joe Ford, Catcher; James Leonard Honeycutt, first base; J. C. Honeycutt, second base; M. J. Randon, third base; Eddie Errington, short stop; the Rayford brothers, right field and left field; J. C. Bird, center field; and Schoolboy Scruggs, pitcher.

Mrs. E. H. Harwell is a surgical patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Dodson Nazarene Youth to Give Pageant Sunday

A pageant, "At the Gate Beautiful," will be presented by the young people at the Dodson Church of the Nazarene Sunday evening, April 26, at 7:30. This pageant is the portrayal of the lame man who was laid at the gate of the temple to receive alms.

Those in the pageant are Fred Lee Patterson, Mrs. Charles Grimes, Creston Lemons, Jessie Hernandez, Buddy Cornieus, Melva Dean Vaughn, Jean Orr, Johnnie Young, and Vickie Whitfield.

Others in the pageant who will do special singing are Garland Hightower, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Patterson, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Bickford, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lowell Patterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Arlene Lewis.

The pageant is directed by Mrs. Bynum Hightower, president of the NYPS.

Riders to Santa Rosa Rodeo Mon.

Members of the Wellington Rodeo Association will ride in the opening parade and grand entry at the Santa Rosa Rodeo in Vernon Mon., April 27, and they are urging any person interested to ride with them. Cameron Beam, president, announced this week.

Trucks are being provided to carry the horses, and transportation will also be available for the riders. They will leave the Wellington rodeo grounds at 8:30 a. m. Monday morning.

All riders should wear white shirts with red ties.

Those interested in going should contact one of the Rodeo Association members within the next few days so they can arrange for the trucks.

If small children are to ride in the parade, their parents should accompany them to Vernon, regardless of whether they ride or not, Mr. Beam said.

Members of the Association are Mr. Beam, Fleet Pruden, Guy Clay, Guy Bell, Ben Hurst, Bill Towns of Childress, Eddie Smith, Paul Bell and John Holton.

Mrs. Unity Baker Celebrates Her 99th Birthday Monday, April 27

Mrs. Unity Baker will celebrate her 99th birthday Monday, April 27. She is now in a convalescent home at Panhandle. She has been bedfast for the past four years due to a fall when she received a broken hip.

Having lived at the Panhandle Rest Home for the past four years she has made many friends in Panhandle and the surrounding communities and today she invites them to the open house she is having in honor of her birthday.

Born Unity Darby in McNairy County, Tenn., in 1854, she has a remarkable memory for incidents in her childhood especially concerning the Civil War.

She was married to N. B. Belew in 1885 and moved to Decatur, Texas, shortly after. They had only one son, Jack, who lives in Panhandle and looks after his mother. Mr. Belew died in 1905 and in 1908 she was married to George Baker in Bowie. Mr. Baker died in 1917 and she thereafter kept house for her son.

She is a devout member of the Primitive Baptist Church and enjoys having the Bible read to her.

She is head of five generations for, although having only one son, she has six grandsons, 14 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

The open house will be from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Going from Wellington will be three grandsons and families, Mr. and Herman Belew and children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belew and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Belew and children.

Miss Barnett, Lynn Wright Wed in Formal Ceremony

A formal wedding that highlights the spring social season in this area was that of Miss Loretta Barnett and Lynn Wright, which was solemnized Sunday, April 19, at the First Baptist Church in Shamrock at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Barnett of the Lone Mound community and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Wright of Wellington.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. James O. Todd, pastor, as the couple stood before an arch entwined with fern, and from which hung silver wedding bells, tied with white satin ribbon. Flanking this were baskets of white maroon daisies and stock, with lemon leaf providing the greenery. Branched candelabra held lighted cathedral tapers. Aisle candelabra were entwined with fern and tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Cabot Brannon of Shamrock, organist, played "I Love You Truly," and "Indian Love Call" along with a group of numbers played softly during the ceremony. She also accompanied Miss Cathy Centron of Puerto Rico, a student in West Texas State College, Canyon, as she sang "Through the Years" and "Because," and as the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white lace and net, designed with a strapless lace bodice, with which she wore a bolero, featuring a high standing collar and long fitted sleeves that came to a point at her wrist. Tiers of lace and net formed the full ballerina length skirt.

The double veil, fingertip-length and edged in lace, fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls. The bride carried a nosegay centered with a white orchid and surrounded with french-ed white carnations and net, and from this fell white satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Patsy Roark of Lutie was the maid of honor, while Mrs. Sandy Parsons III of Lubbock, sister of the groom, and Miss Mary Ann McCracken of Elmer, Oklahoma, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore identical dresses of blue net over taffeta, styled with strapless bodices, edged in a deep pleated ruffle, and worn with this was a matching net stole. The full skirts were ballerina length. They carried white carnation nosegays edged in blue lace and tied with silver ribbon. Carnations also formed their headbands.

Candlelighters were Miss Shelah Stephens and Miss Bernice Close of Shamrock. Miss Stephens wore aqua nylon net over taffeta and Miss Close ice blue net over satin. Their wristlets were of white carnations tied with silver ribbon.

Billy Mac Sims of Wellington was the groom's best man, while the ushers were Don Van Pelt and Lonnie Fuson of Wellington.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barnett wore a pink rayon boucle dress with white accessories, while Mrs. Wright chose a dress of brown embroidered linen with beige accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

RECEPTION

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white hand-made lace cloth and centered with a colonial bouquet flanked with candles. After the bride and groom had cut the first slice of the white two-tiered wedding cake, the guests were served by Mrs. Velma Reeves of Canyon, while Miss Ray June Jones of Amarillo presided at the punch service. Guests were registered by Miss Shelah Stephens, while Miss Sue Vaughn of Samnorwood played piano selections during the hour.

Postal Receipts Down for Quarter

Postal receipts for the first three months of 1953 had dropped a thousand dollars under receipts for the same period a year ago, R. F. Curry, postmaster, said this week.

Receipts this year, through March, have been $7,038.97, compared to $8,031.79, for the first three months of 1952.

Mr. Curry pointed out, however, that one item adding to the postal receipts a year ago was that the postal rate increase going into effect then found several business firms, and banks with large quantities of government stamped envelopes on hand, for which they had to buy additional postage.

Mr. Curry added that the postal receipts were a good indication of what the people think of the financial conditions.

"If people feel that times are not so good, they don't write as many letters and they don't mail as many packages," he commented.

Since the Easter rain, the first week end of April, business at the Post Office has been about like it was a year ago, Mr. Curry added.

About 15 or 20 families have moved out of the town and have not been replaced, Mr. Curry said, and this affects the income for the quarter just ended, but not as much as might be expected.

Dodson Downs Quail Baseball Team 5 to 1

By JAMES GLASSCOCK

A tight-pitcher's duel between Dodson's Percy Dempsey and the Quail ace, Dewey DeBord, was broken-up in the bottom of the seventh inning as four important Dodson runs poured across the plate.

Dodson picked up an important run in the bottom half of the first inning, but DeBord tightened down and shut them out until the fatal seventh. The Quails behind the hitting of their pitcher, evened things up in the top of the fourth with a one-run rally.

With things knotted as they were, both moundsmen were very tight in their pitching.

Then the seventh inning was where "lady luck" was in favor of Dodson. Dodson's hits were termed by their coach as lucky hits.

The final score was in favor of the Dodson "9" by a score of 5-1.

The top hitter for the Dodson crew was Dempsey with three hits for four times at bat. DeBord paced the Quails with a triple and a double.

The only Quail run came in the fourth when Wallace Blasingame came in on Bobby Patterson's double.

These two teams will meet again this Thursday, April 23 at the Quail diamond.

The pitching records are as follows:

Dempsey (1-0)—16 strikeouts.
DeBord (0-1)—7 strikeouts.
At the same time the girl's volleyball teams at Quail and Dodson met and the Quail girls evened up things by taking two straight wins from the hosts. The first game ended 15-4 and the second and deciding by a score of 15-6.

Both of these teams will encounter each other at Quail this Thursday, April 23.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Write Your Congressman, but Write Him Right

"Tell your representatives and senators what YOU think", voters are being urged on more and more issues. We are asked to be more vocal in making our wishes known to our lawmakers on both state and national level. Our elected officials ask this of us, so do organizations and plain pressure groups.

Yet the fact remains that a good deal of writing done to the congressmen and senators doesn't carry the punch that the writer intended, or perhaps that his opinion deserves.

A leaflet sent out by the Wellington Chamber of Commerce to its members a short time back on the subject carries these good tips:

1. When you write your lawmaker, address him as Representative John Doe, or Senator John Doe.
2. Be local; tell him how a national question affects your business, your industry, your community.
3. Be businesslike; brief but not terse.
4. Be specific; if you're FOR something, say so. If not, don't hedge.
5. Be polite; members of Congress deserve dignified treatment.
6. Be reasonable; seek only possible things.

7. Be yourself; use your own letter-head and letter style.

8. Request action; your man is elected to DO something.

9. Ask for an answer; you've told him where you stand, now ask him where HE stands.

10. Be appreciative; thank him for good votes, compliment his better speeches and praise his staff, too.

As a matter of information for those Collingsworth Countians who write their congressman or senators — and there are more who do it than you think, the senators are Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City and Price Daniel of Liberty. You write both of them, and their mail is addressed to the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. That is all the address you need.

The Washington address of Congressman Walter Rogers (18th District) of Pampa, is House Office Building, Washington D. C.

Both State Representative Grainger McIlhenny and State Senator Walter Rogers will get your letter if you address it to the State Capitol, Austin, Texas.

Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek ought to know what he's talking about this week, inefficiency.

Dear editor:

Since I had plenty to do, you know most people usually say since they didn't have anything to do they took it easy but if I waited till I didn't have anything to do before taking things easy I'd never get around to it, at any rate, I was out here taking things easy yesterday when I stopped under a tree and sat down and pulled a newspaper out of my pocket I'd been carryin around a few weeks and unfolded it and after I got comfortable read where one of the reasons there was an ammunition shortage in Korea some time back was that it took things so long to get through the Pentagon.

As I understand it, the Pentagon is a buildin in Washington where the army transact its business on paper and accordin to this story it sometimes requires an order nine months to a year to get from one end of the Pentagon to the other, due to the involved red tape. Consequently when a General in Korea calls for some more bullets, it takes months before the order trickles down through the Pentagon, and the obvious remedy is to get Generals who can tell twelve months in advance what the enemy is gonna do, which directions he's gonna move in and at what hour, and get set for him.

But what I started out to say was is what I want to know is why don't we use the Pentagon for other phases of government?

For example, why don't they put the tax collectin department over there? Nothin would make a bigger hit with me than its takin the government nine months to a year to get around to sendin me a tax bill.

People are always talkin about government inefficiency, but there are some phases of government that can't get to inefficient to suit me, and mailin tax statements heads the list. Also, I could use a lot more inefficiency and sloppy bookkeepin in creditin taxes and gettin around to findin out who hasn't paid up yet.

I believe with the proper planin and channelin the collectin through the proper offices in the Pentagon or any other buildin they got up there where red tape is swirlin, a man could get by for years without payin any taxes and it might be years after that before anybody got around to discoverin it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BIBLE COMMENT
For April 26Human Lifels
Truly Sacred

Insistence on the sacredness of human life did not begin with Jesus. It was a part of the noble tradition of Israel that He said He had come to fulfill, not to destroy.

One of the first references to the sacredness of human life is found in the tale of Cain's murder of his brother Abel. Later the story of Abraham is another example of this attitude. Abraham pleaded for the inhabitants of a wicked city. He was even willing to forego his own advantage in order to prevent strife.

This emphasizes the high plane of moral foundations and human relationships based on the concept of the sacredness of human life.

As a matter of fact the noblest teachings of the prophets make life, the healing, and the salvation of human beings, the ideal goals of our faith.

Somehow, to speak of the sacredness of human life in this age of hot and cold warfare seems almost a mockery of the principle itself.

But in spite of this, human life is sacred and the only mockery is the mockery of God's laws. Jesus Himself said that He had come so that men might have life more abundantly. With this declaration, He draws the line of Heaven and the kingdoms of the world.

Killing is contrary to the teachings of Christianity. Yet a supposedly Christian world has made only a little progress in promoting peace and eliminating war. Defensive war, against terror and aggression, is a different matter but there is not one nation with a spotless record of non-aggression. Every country has justified killing when the state ordered that it be done.

The deed that needs to be done is to establish as a true fact the premise that killing is wrong and that it is a sin against humanity as well as God.

This is the thing to which Jesus gave full witness.

Karl Marx was a frequent contributor to the New York Tribune while living in poverty in London after his exile from Prussia and France.

Sheriff McKinney said that the man did not live in this area, but was a transient here when he committed the burglary, and as far as could be learned, had no home.

Campbells Shear Sheep Recently

By MRS. GEORGE ADKINS
Frank and Cliff Campbell had a traveling Latin-American sheep shearing caravan shear their sheep this week. They had several hundred to shear, and the work was completed just before the recent cold spell struck.

Cliff Campbell said they did not lose any sheep as a result of the cold, although they did have to pen some of them.

At present, they have not weighed or shipped their wool, although Mr. Campbell said the average sheep would average from 8 to 12 pounds per fleece, depending on the condition of the animal and the care it had received.

These brothers generally ship their wool to either the Fort Worth or San Angelo market.

Troy Clark Exhibits Grand Champion Calf Saturday

Troy Clark, Samnorwood Future Farmer, showed the grand champion fat calf in the annual Youth Project Show Saturday, April 18, an animal which veteran show workers described as being one of the best from the standpoint of conformation entered in a show here in a number of years.

Showing the reserve champion was Boone Martin, Wellington Future Farmer.

The grand champion Jersey bull was shown by Tom Whitson and more careful preparation made for showing the exhibits.

The cable cut through the windshield and killed him instantly. Mr. Cunningham was buried in Littlefield Tuesday, April 14.

The other accident was one in which Mr. Phillips' brother, Dean Phillips, was involved. He was

His brother was uninjured. Mrs. Taylor and Peggy Ruth are at his bedside. The latter, who won first place in the district shorthand contest of the interscholastic league, was to have represented the school in the regional contest at Lubbock this week.
