Lodge To Send Student To U.N.

From every section of the United States and Canada, one thousand teen-age high school students will again converge on the United Nations this summer. They will be in New York to take part in the Twenty-Second Annual Odd Fellows' United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, which is sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and its companion organization, the Rebekahs. Local plans are already well advanced for this project, and the Floydada L.O.O.F. Lodge #34 of Floydada will participate. This was announced by The Lodge. Arrangements are being made with the Floydada High School for the selection of a qualified student to take part in the Pilgrimage's week of observing the United Nations in action.

To be eligible, students must have completed the sophomore or junior year (10th or 11th grade) by June; be 16 or 17 years of age at the time of the Pilgrimage; and be in good health. Scholarship, leadership, interest in community welfare, concern in world affairs, and general fitness to take part in the project are all taken into account in making the selection.

The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed this program on their "Approved List of National Contests and Activities" again for the year of 1970-71. This project has been on this select list the past fourteen years.

While at the U.N., the young delegates will observe this great world-wide organization in action, tour the buildings, hear business conducted in the five official languages, listen to authoritative explanations of various departments and agencies, enjoy meals in the U.N. Delegates' Dining Room, and interview representatives of member nations.

They will also visit International House where graduate students from over 80 countries live under one roof. They will attend Radio City Music Hall, take a 3-hour boat ride around Manhattan Island, attend a Broadway Play, visit the Empire State Building Observatory and tour Rockefeller Center.

Medicare Official Notes Hospital Improvement

Caprock Hospital here was re-surveyed for Medicare certification this month by the state department of health, and a representative said that the hospital had improved one hundred percent overall since December.

The results of the inspection, which came on two days notice, speaks well of the quality of service given at the local hospital, administrator Robert Williams said. Hospitals usually have at least two weeks notice of a survey.

Improvements were noted especially in the fields of medical records keeping and nursing service and staffing. The hospital has recently filled a vacancy in the lab, due to the resignation of the technician, and added a resident anesthetist, which helped on the Medicare report.

Caprock now fulfills 100 percent the Medicare requirements, after having been relieved of the 24-hour registered nurse requirement. The hospital is relieved of the RN requirement annually up to 1975, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Williams said.

All the hospital needs now are more physicians. Williams said that with two additional doctors on the staff, Caprock would be in fine shape, and that the board and administration is actively seeking more physicians.

 At this point we are looking at a cost of $54,000.00 for the building complete with refrigerated air conditioning and central heat and the kitchen fully equipped.
 Personal contact will be made at this point to see if individual contributions would cover the cost of the building. If this is not possible, contributions will be solicited from organizations and individuals in the community.
 Any suggestions about how to finance its construction would be appreciated at this time.

I WAS PRIVILEGED to see and hear Jeane Dixon at West Texas State University Tuesday night. If you don't know Jeane Dixon, she is the person who accurately forecast the assassinations of Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King, Robert Kennedy, the election of Harry Truman in 1948 and many other big news events.
 Her book, "A Gift of Prophecy" is and was one of the best sellers for many years.
 I made some notes from her Tuesday night talk which I thought were interesting:
 She believes flying saucers and UFOs are real.
 Lyndon Johnson should have selected a cabinet of his choosing, "horse sense people" instead of taking the inheritance of Kennedy "intellectual and Harvard people."
 Jackie and Onassis will continue to be very happy together.
 Everyone should study astrology. Astrology is a roadmap to the now and the future. The end of the world is about 5,000 years away, when the sun and earth will collide.
 Cuba has Russian missile bases.
 If our president yields to the people's demands that we bring our troops home, the Communists will take South Korea, South Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Cuba and South America.
 A more conservative president will be elected next. . . Ronald Reagan is a good possibility.
 More white people than black belong to the Black Panthers.
 We need transformation instead of revelation.
 Russia is smart enough to take advantage of our mistakes, but the Communists will not win out in the long run. Although Russia is way ahead of the USA in "under-the-seas" power and outer space power, the American people will finally unify for the needed strength.
 Pioneering of research on other planets will bring the USA cures for illnesses and new forms of energy.
 Spiro won't be president. (I had that one figured).
 The war won't be over for the USA in Vietnam until 1975 or 1976.
 Possibly the keynote of her address was a vision in which she saw Jesus and he was saying, "Follow Me. . . follow Me". . .
 "Unless you have tapped that eternal light. . . you have not lived."
 Jeane also said although there is strength in a two or three party system, the continual criticism that the party not in power throws at the one running the nation creates a weakness in unity for the American people.

GEORGE McALLISTER gave a humorous and interesting talk at Rotary yesterday. . . "Pollution via the TV tube". . . and he made one statement that I especially liked. He said "TV advertising has become so expensive that a man running for public office and spending money on TV programs will have to be a millionaire or a crook to afford it."

MRS. ALAN KIM HINSLEY (Sarah Lanell Williams)

Miss Sarah Lanell Williams And Alan Kim Hinsley Wed Saturday In Methodist Church

The First United Methodist Church in Floydada was the setting for the wedding of Miss Sarah Lanell Williams and Alan Kim Hinsley Saturday, February 20. Rev. C. B. Melton performed the double-ring ceremony at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. Aldine Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Hinsley. Both families reside in Floydada.

A background of palms, flanked by basket arrangements of pink gladioli and pink pompons formed the nuptial scene. Brass hurricane lamps, lighted prior to the wedding, marked the bridal aisle.

Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Vernie Moore, organist, who accompanied soloist, Mrs. Don Cheek.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal bridal gown of satin fashioned with a Sabrina neckline enhanced by iridescents and seed pearls. Long lace sleeves came to petal points at the hand. The chapel length train of matching satin was edged in scalloped lace with a full back panel attached to the shoulders.

An elbow length veil of silk illusion was caught to a cluster of white fabric roses and lace petals, accented by pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of white cattleya orchids showered with garlands of Stephanotis.

Mrs. Michael Hinsley of Lubbock attended her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Rex Battey, sister of the groom, was bridesmatron and bridesmaids were Miss Kay Johnston, Lockney and Miss Sue Eubanks, Richardson, cousins of the bride, and Miss Carolyn Jones, San Antonio.

They wore floor length dresses of American Beauty rose, styled with empire waists, short bell shaped sleeves, and loose back panels. Their headpieces were American Beauty rose velvet bows with tulle veils and each carried a cascade bouquet of miniature frosted pink carnations.

Little Miss Jerri Kinard, flower girl, was dressed identically to bridal attendants, and wore a frosted pink carnation corsage.

Eddie Kinard was ring bearer and Miss Kathy Hinsley, sister of the bride, and Miss Kellye Karr of Lubbock, the bride's niece, were candlelighters.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Michael Hinsley of Lubbock. Groomsman were Roger Emert, Alan Thrasher, Joe Thurston and Rex Battey, brother-in-law of the groom. Emert and Battey also served as ushers.

The attendants' bouquets encircling a wedding candle formed the centerpiece on the serving table at the reception in Fellowship Hall, which followed the ceremony.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Betty Johnston of Lubbock, Mrs. Cleo Whittle, Mrs. John Roberts, and Mrs. Roy Kinard. Mrs. Johnston registered guests.

Serving were Misses Kathy Chappell, Denise Cates, Pam Lewis and Debra Baird, all of Floydada, and Deanne Bean of Galveston.

The bride will graduate from Floydada High School in 1971. Her husband is a 1970 graduate and is engaged in farming. A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's parents, was held Friday night at King's Restaurant.

DON'T forget your tickets to the "Youth and the Drug Problem" by Art Linkletter, to be presented March 12 in the Plainview High School auditorium. Tickets for the matinee at 3:45 are $3.50 and tickets for the night performance are $5. They may be purchased at the Hesperian. We are not making anything off them, just helping out the Plainview Junior Service League, sponsors of the program.

JIM Word of Floydada, well-known amateur archeologist, will present a program March 11 at the meeting of Plainview Artifact, Gem and Mineral Society.

I FOUND the birthday cards very cheering. Thanks everyone. I was born so long ago I thought I was the only one who remembered the eventful day, except mother of course, who was there. I could always remember my birthday very well, because Mom always said I was born the day before George Washington. Now that they have changed his birthdate back to the original, I'll probably forget when mine is.

RADIO Station KFLD was among many preparing to go off the air Saturday after receiving on their news wires an erroneously transmitted presidential proclamation of a "national emergency". The incident generated anxiety and confusion across the country, but eventually Kenneth Cockrell, local announcer at the time, kept his cool long enough. Just as he was ready to cut the switches a retraction came over the wires, so all ended well.

MR. and Mrs. Walter Collins have received news from a former Floydada neighbor, Mrs. Bill Salisbury, of Selmar, Calif., that she and her son, Harold, lost their home in the recent earthquake. Mrs. Salisbury said she escaped injury and Harold sustained only slight injuries, but their home was completely destroyed. They are presently living with a daughter, Mrs. Jake Hill and family in Sepulveda, Calif. Mrs. Salisbury's late husband was a former mail carrier for the Floydada Post Office.

Miss Meryl Kathleen Graham and Gary Don Fuller Repeat

Miss Meryl Kathleen Graham and Gary Don Fuller exchanged double ring wedding vows at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, February 12, in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church. The Rev. C. B. Melton performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fuller, Floydada, are parents of the couple. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white cotton lace fashioned with a victorian neckline and full sleeves. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Roy Dale Kendrick, matron of honor, who wore a navy and white dress, topped with a sleeveless navy coat. Ricky Fuller attended his brother as best man.

Miss Carla Bean, organist and Mrs. Don Cheek, soloist, presented traditional wedding selections.

Mark Craig continues to improve from chemical burns in Caprock Hospital, however he is suffering from an allergy, which is uncomfortable, friends said. Mark was badly burned along with his science teacher, Elbert Reeves, in the recent mishap at Floydada Junior High.

Rest Home Birthday Party

Party time is here again. So let us celebrate. By having fun and wishing well.

With those who claim this date. Mrs. Spence, at eighty-three. . . Is very glad to be here. She loves a party any day. . . It's just the thing to cheer her.

A special wish to Mrs. Lanier. . . The youngest of the four. . . For many years to celebrate. And then add on some more! Mrs. Luttrell you all know (You likely call her Lillie) Keeps everybody on their toes. . . She really is a "dilly."

Mr. Snell, though just a "kid" Is turning ninety-three. . . And greetings from the ones he loves. Just suits him to a "T". We couldn't end this party.

It surely would be wrong. Without our litting voices Singing the birthday song! With the reading of the above poem and the singing of "Happy Birthday Dear People" the February birthday party for residents of the local rest home got underway on Friday the 19th at 2:30 p.m. The combined ages of the above mentioned honorees is 343 years. The "honor" table was laid with a white cloth and a blue floral arrangement. Individual cards marked places for the honorees. Ladies of the Church of Christ (City Park) who sponsor the monthly event, served a beautifully decorated birthday cake and delicious pink and orange punch. All of the residents of the home and a number of guests were served. The next party will be Friday, March 19, 2:30 p.m. Anyone having a relative or friend invited to attend.

"Give me one good reason to wait and band Caparol when I plant my cotton."

It'd be quicker to give you the only good reason why you shouldn't.

Giving you all the reasons why you should switch from broadcasting a pre-plant cotton herbicide, to banding Caparol® pre-emerge, takes longer. Because there are at least seven good ones.

1. You don't have to tie up money in weed control months before you need it. Banding Caparol pre-emerge at planting, keeps your options open until the seed goes in the ground. And you're using money over a shorter time period.
2. The economics of banding Caparol, instead of broadcasting and incorporating a pre-plant, is the only reason some growers need. Caparol is the best answer yet for the problem of tight money, cheap cotton and weed control.
3. Caparol is easy to apply. Just mount a spray nozzle behind each planter wheel and you can plant and spray in one trip. When the cotton is in, the herbicide is on.
4. Planting can't mess up a Caparol treatment. Busting too deep or knocking off too much soil with the planter can undo even the best pre-plant incorporated treatment. But not Caparol. It's sprayed behind the planter. The last thing to go on the seedbed.

5. No incorporation is needed when you pre-emerge Caparol. You save the cost of incorporation, and you save soil moisture, as well.
6. In addition to great carelessness weed control, Caparol controls annual morningglory. Pre-plant herbicides just can't touch it.
7. You can rotate to sorghum or follow again with cotton without danger of injury. Caparol doesn't cause a carryover problem.

Now if you only needed one reason to wait and band Caparol when you plant your cotton, you have plenty to choose from. All of them are worth checking into. When you do, it's a better than even chance you'll join the switch to Caparol.

The only reason not to, is if a severe grass infestation is likely to be more of a problem than broadleaves. This is about the only reason left for broadcasting a pre-plant herbicide.

Check it out for yourself. Put Caparol to the test this year. See why the switch is on to Caparol.

I REMEMBER... I REMEMBER...

Little Mean Pony Pays Off

A good many years ago - in fact so many years ago that maize heads grew upside down on a goose neck stem, not civilized like now - Charlie Kneirim and Barkley Chesnut had a little pony they raised out around Fairview, that was mean when he was born and got meaner the longer he lived.

By the time he was three years old there was nobody around that part of the world that could top him. Barkley thought he was a pretty good country boy rider but this little red devil unloaded him the second jump.

So when they read where Col. Zack Miller was paying $25 to anybody who could bring in a horse that his cowboys could not ride (it was a sort of a dull time between rains on the farm anyhow) they decided to take the pony up to Oklahoma collect the $25, which would pay the expense of the trip and a profit besides.

Col. Miller ballyhooed the ride. He said that Booger Red would show the little red devil how it was done, but that pony proved he was pretty good. When the snubbers turned him loose that little Horse stuck his head between his legs, made a half circle in the air and a cork screw twist under the saddle. Booger Red (if it was Booger Red, which Barkley doubted) lit on the ground where the pony had been a moment before.

The $30 pony became a $150 horse at once, but Col. Zack jewed the Floyd County boys down to $125, which with the $25 prize sent them home with a fat profit way above $100.

This was pretty good money with maize off the farm going at $5.00 per ton delivered.

Water, Inc. Urges Voter Support For Amendment

Officials of Water, Inc., have issued a plea for all West Texans who have not yet registered to vote during 1971 to do so immediately. In issuing the plea, they noted that passage of one of the proposed constitutional amendments on the May 18 ballot is a "must" to insure orderly future development of water for Texas.

Gaston L. Wells, Dumas, president of Water, Inc., explained that the proposed amendment which will be listed as Number Four on the ballot, sets a realistic interest ceiling rate on all water development bonds and authorizes $100 million bonds to be used as matching funds for water reclamation facilities.

Extension of the voter registration deadline through Feb. 28 provides a reprieve to those who have not yet registered, Wells said, noting that voter registration during this "off" election year is much lower than usual.

Recalling that less than 7,000 votes was the margin that defeated financing for implementation of the Texas Water Plan in 1969, Wells said all eligible West Texans should make an extra effort to see that they are registered voters this year, and once registered, should support the constitutional amendment dealing with water matters.

The Heart Association has set a goal to reduce expenditures to below 15¢ by 1972. Your contribution is needed.

February 28 is National Heart Sunday.

Frances Puckett Voting Delegate At TSTA Meeting

DALLAS - Two Floyd County educators will be official, voting delegates at the 92nd annual state convention of the Texas State Teachers Association March 11-13 in Dallas.

They are among the 1,330 certified members of the 1971 House of Delegates which will meet on the last day of the convention to discuss and act on proposed amendments to the TSTA constitution, new policies, recommendations of standing committees, and other business.

The official delegates are elected from the 433 TSTA local associations throughout the state and certified by districts on the basis of one delegate per 100 members or fraction of 100. Every local association in the state is entitled to at least one official delegate.

With total membership in TSTA expected to hit a record 138,000 this year, attendance at the convention may exceed 10,000. Featured speakers include A. D. (Andy) Holt, president emeritus of the University of Tennessee, and Art Linkletter, the well-known radio and television entertainer.

The Floyd County delegates are Frances Puckett, Floydada; and Harley McCasland, Lockney.

Teens Against Dystrophy

During March, high school and college students, as well as members of youth groups, will be sporting green in the form of "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" tags as Texas joins the rest of America in a nationwide one-day fund raising crusade to benefit Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

In the spirit of St. Patrick, who performed many miraculous cures in addition to chasing the snakes out of Ireland, these young men and women will be handing out green "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" tags. In return, they'll be asking for some of your green to help MDAA research scientists perform a modern miracle by finding cures for muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases.

It is particularly appropriate that young people become involved in the fight against dystrophy because two-thirds of its victims are children. Many more volunteers are needed to participate in this crusade. If you are interested in joining a Teens Against Dystrophy group or forming one in your own community or school, write or call Howard D. Wright, District Director, Muscular Dystrophy Association, 1916 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas, 79405, PHONE Area Code 806 747-4221.

A new edition of the herbicide handbook published by the Weed Science Society of America is now available, announces Dr. Dudley Smith, weed control scientist at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

The handbook contains detailed information on nearly all weed killers that are being marketed. Twenty-five new chemicals have been added plus all information has been up-to-date, explains Smith. A great deal of new information has also been added on the toxicity of herbicides, Crop use, residue information, tolerances, and chemical structures are indexed by both common and tradenames.

Custom applicators and chemical dealers may find the information particularly helpful, says Smith. The handbook is also a useful tool for students, farmers, county agricultural agents and others who need information about herbicide use, special precautions, residues and cleaning sprayers after using various herbicides.

According to Smith, copies of the handbook at four dollars each may be obtained from the Weed Science Society of America, Agronomy Department, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, 61801.

'Probation' Law

Since 1957 the district court in Floydada has handed down many sentences of "probation" rather than prison sentences if a person has been declared guilty of the charge.

The Hesperian feels that many of its readers do not know the full meaning of such a sentence and Hesperian reporter James Huggins is this week reporting an interview with District Attorney George Miller in regard to "probation" sentences.

The Texas Adult Probation Law, enacted in 1957, gave the state supervisory powers over persons convicted of crimes who drew suspended sentences. Before the 1957 law, suspended sentences were imposed in the state, but officers had no supervision powers over the persons convicted.

The probation law set up certain conditions which persons serving probated sentences must follow, and these are included in regulations set up for the 110th Judicial District, which includes Floyd County. District Attorney George Miller made available to the Hesperian the terms of probation of the District, which state that the defendant shall:

- (1) Obey all orders of the court and the Probation Officer (the District Probation Officer is Lynn Buzbee of Spur);
- (2) commit no offense against the laws of this or any other state of the United States;
- (3) avoid "injurious or vicious habits";
- (4) avoid persons and places of "disreputable or harmful character";
- (5) report to the probation officer in person within ten days from the date of the beginning of probation and in writing on or before the 10th day of each succeeding month thereafter during the term of probation;
- (6) permit the probation officer to visit him at his home or elsewhere;
- (7) work faithfully at suitable employment as far as possible; subject to the approval of the court and/or the probation officer;
- (8) not change employment or place of residence without the permission of the probation officer;
- (9) remain within the county unless permitted to depart by the court and/or the probation officer;
- (10) support his dependents;
- (11) pay a fee of $10.00 per month to the court during the entire probationary period;
- (12) pay all costs of court within 90 days;
- (13) make restitution to the injured party (if applicable).

Miller said the law passed in 1957 was essentially the same law in effect now, except that in 1965, significant changes were made. A defendant is now eligible for probation even though he has previously been convicted of a felony; also, a defendant is now eligible for probation no matter what the crime he has been convicted of. Before the 1965 change, persons convicted of murder, rape and "offenses against morals, decency and chastity" were not eligible for probation. Now, probation is possible no matter what the offense, provided the maximum penalty assessed may not exceed ten years.

At any time after a defendant has satisfactorily completed one-third of the original probationary period, or two years, whichever is lesser, the period of probation may be reduced or terminated by the court.

The District Attorney stated that while the revocation of probation does not automatically follow upon arrest for a subsequent felony, probation is revoked in most cases if a person is arrested and convicted of a felony while serving a probated sentence. The defendant having probation revoked then must serve the sentence for the original crime in addition to any punishment assessed.

The Hesperian will continue to report on the operation of the probation law in Floyd County.

Dear Mr. Tooley

I found this joke in the Los Angeles Herald Examiner. Thought it was sorta clever, so I'm sending it to you. It's FAROUT to know that people in Los Angeles know there's a Harmony, Texas.

Dear Editor:

I'm a soldier in Vietnam from around the Floyd County area. I'm receiving a subscription of your paper each week.

On the last issue I ran across an article with the heading of OUR SOLDIERS. It said something that really astonished me and some of my fellow troopers, the part where it stated that soldiers are refusing to go into the field and upon receiving orders from higher ranking personnel such as actions as lobbing hand grenades under the flaps of their tents are taken. I'm not stating that this fact is not true but I'm merely saying that I've been in this country about five months now and never have I seen any of these weird acts. The fact that marihuana is smoked freely is a statement that could lead to deep arguments. However, I will agree to this statement, it is smoked rather freely but you also have to look at it this way. Guys that do smoke it can do their job and maintain as usual.

However we can't leave out the fact that I've never seen a drunk man that could maintain, especially in a combat zone. I would appreciate it if you would print this statement in your weekly paper.

There was also another statement about the guys go out a little ways and hide. Well, what are you supposed to do on an ambush—stand up and let the enemy see you first?

I'll have several speeches to make to the public when my tour of duty is over.

We are the best.

(Editor's Note: Tommy, the news article you mentioned was written by a national newswriting syndicate, and is not necessarily the opinion of the folks at The Hesperian.

Thanks for your letter, and we certainly appreciate your loyalty to our country and the 173 Airborne.)

A city held a contest to find the oldest living resident and shower the winner with expensive gifts. A man claiming to be well over 100 finished first and was interviewed at a press conference.

"To what do you attribute your triumph," one reporter asked. "Proper eating and exercise? Nonuse of alcohol and tobacco? Hard work and plenty of rest? A happy marriage? Exactly what?"

"Well," the bright-eyed old gent replied, "I'd say mostly to a bad fire at the Hall of Records."
