Yule Season Plans Are Under Study

Work was launched this morning at the Chamber of Comerce on plans for Christmas season events.

A trade promotion group of the chamber's merchants' committee discussed several possibilities and then announced that another session will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the chamber office.

Also discussed this morning was the final payment on the Christmas lights and decorations used in business areas of the city. The final payment is due Dec. 1 and the committee hopes that the debt can be erased on schedule. Once the present debt is cleared, the chamber plans to include such activities in its general budget with the hope that various types of special assessments can be eliminated from the chamber program.

Several suggestions for trade promotion events during the Christmas shopping season were made at this morning's session. These will be studied imediately and the group hopes to take some definite action at the meeting Wednesday morning.

Jay Rogers, chairman of the merchants' committee, presided at the meeting this mornig.

Lavender Service Set At Fluvanna

Funeral services have been set for 2:30 p.m. Wednesday for Firdnand Wadlton Lavender, 89, who died at 5:10 p.m. Monday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Lavender, a native of Athens, Tex., had been a resident of the Fluvanna community for 58 years.

The funeral service will be held at the Fluvanna Church of Christ. Don Browning, a grandson and minister of the East Side Church of Christ in Snyder, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. Thomas Hall, pastor of the Fluvanna Baptist Church.

Burial will be in the Fluvanna Cemetery, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home. Grandsons will be pallbearers.

Mr. Lavender is survived by three daughter, Mrs. Jewel Browning of Fluvanna, Mrs. Bess Clayton of Brownsboro and Mrs. Eula Browning of Girard; two sons, Lee Lavender of Fluvanna and Archie Lavender of Dorchester; 11 grandchildren; 27 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

First Cavalry Repels New Assault By Reds

By PETER ARNETT

IA DRANG VALLEY, South Viet Nam (AP) — Men of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, holding their ground in the biggest battle American troops have fought in Viet Nam, threw back two new assaults today by North Vietnamese regulars from hillside entrenchments above them.

A military spokesman said 869 Communist have now been killed, and confirmed by body count, in the savage struggle of the last three days in the central highlands near the Cambodian frontier. American losses were reported to remain moderate.

Dug in around a helicopter landing zone in the Ia Drang Valley, the troopers were expecting another attack.

The North Vietnamese have the advantage because they hold the high ground — a chain of mountains that stretches into neutralist Cambodia, six miles away. The Communists have been digging in across these mountains for years and know them intimately.

Intelligence officers said there are possibly four or five regiments from the 235th North Vietnamese division in the mountains. They originally had believed the division to be the 304th.

Communist gunfire downed two U.S. helicopters today. The four-man crew of one was rescued. The others are believed dead.

Fresh American troops flew in to reinforce the lines around the landing zone, originally manned by about 1,000 men of two cavalry battalions.

In the air war, two Communist MIG fighters fired on two unarmed U.S. photo-reconnaissance planes over North Viet Nam. The American planes escaped unharmed.

About 500 North Vietnamese resumed the attack on the 1st Cavalry troops in the Ia Drang Valley about 4 a.m. This attack tapered off at dawn, but three hours later about 600 Norththe Americans from one direcVietnamese launched a coordi-tion, while two others struck nated attack against two U.S. from another. Once again the units. Reds were driven back. Twenty-

Two Red companies came atfour enemy snipers infiltrated the cavalrymen's defense perimeter, but most of them were killed.

U.S. fighter-bombers pounded the Reds without letup, but the Communists showed no sign of retreating. They were dug in on a 1,700-foot hill overlooking the valley.

"The terrain is their own and is favorable to their defense," a U.S. spokesman said.

Several thousand American troops are battling an enemy regiment of about 1,500 men for control of the valley. The Communists apparently have not been reinforced since they first attacked Sunday.

Senior U.S. commanders say that U.S. and Vietnamese forces may have killed more than 1,200 Communist troops in the area near the Cambodian border since the Reds laid siege to the Special Forces camp at Plei Me Oct. 19. The camp is about 12 miles east of the Ia Drang Valley and 220 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Plei Me camp is a threat to a major supply route from North Viet Nam through Laos and Cambodia.

American casualties today were extremely light, in contrast with heavy losses Monday and Sunday. The brunt of the new attack was borne by one company of the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Cavalry's 7th Regiment. It had only six wounded in the action.

US Outlines New Tactics

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. aim in pouring more and more fighting men and equipment into South Viet Nam is to raise the tempo of attack to such a level that the Communists will be put on the run and ultimately worn out, says a Pentagon official.

This outline of U.S. strategy is clear from statements made Monday night by one of the top military planners for the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"Our objective is to keep the combat tempo at such a rate that the Vie Cong will be unable to recuperate," said Army Lt. Gen. B. E. Spivy in a Chicago speech.

"We want to get and keep them on the run," Spivy said.

"In guerrilla warfare, once the guerrillas are on the run, they are likely to run downhill toward military ineffectiveness and defeat."

This is the same strategy which was used by the Filipinos, with American advice, against the Comunist Huks and by the British Commonwealth forces against the Reds in Malaya years ago.

The three-star general, director of plans and policy for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said that "we are doing better, considerably better than a few months ago when the situation was close to critical."

In essence, Spivy said, "We are holding our own and a bit more, but the Communists are not yet on the run."

While voicing confidence that the United States and the South Vienamese can win this war, Spivy said this outcome will hinge on unflagging efforts "for a considerable time to come." He shied away making any time prediction.

Spivy also refrained from predicting how large the U.S. military build-up in Viet Nam will ultimately become.

President Johnson has approved still further U.S. reinforcements which are expected to bring U.S. military strength in that Southeast Asian country about 40,000 above the present 161,000 by early next year.

The staff planner said the ratio of U.S. and South Vietnamese fighting men is now about 4 to 1 over the Communists.

"Whether this is enough remains to be seen," Spivy said.

Santa Gets More Helpers

By The Associated Press

Playing Santa Claus to American troops in Viet Nam is drawing more and more college students, just plain folks and now the Air National Guard.

Thousands of persons are collecting gifts and goodies and messages of encouragement to send to servicemen in Viet Nam.

A doctor and his wife have collected an estimated 150,000 messages in Philadelphia. Students at Pepperdine College and other Southern California schools are packing 1,500 boxes of Thanksgiving goodies. The Tennessee Air National Guard is preparing to fly mail and Christmas gifts to GI's in the war zone.

Last month Dr. and Mrs. Richard P. Ornsteen of suburban Gladwyne, near Philadelphia, started "Mail Call Viet Nam." It wasn't long before they needed the services of hundreds of volunteers to help screen and package the greetings.

Rules Cited For Trailers

In response to inquiries from several area farmers, highway patrolmen have called attention to safety marking requirements on cotton trailers.

Wendell Rehm, local highway patrolman, said each trailer must have a tail light, plus two red reflectors, one on each side. Two trailers may be pulled by the same vehicle, provided the over - all length of the vehicle plus the trailers is not over 65 feet.

The speed limit for a vehicle pulling a cotton trailer is 50 miles per hour and a $5 license fee is required on a cotton trailer with gross weight of 4,000 pounds to 15,000 pounds. On other farm trailers the license fee is required on weights from 4,000 pounds to 10,000 pounds.

Atomic Team Views North Texas Sites

DALLAS (AP) — An Atomic Energy Commission team moved to Amarillo today in a swing through Texas to look at possible sites for the AEC's proposed $540 million proton accelerator, which would be the world's largest.

The four-man team inspected sites in the Dallas-Fort Worth area Monday. From Amarillo the party will go to proposed sites at Lubbock Wednesday, Odessa Thursday, Austin Friday, San Antonio Nov. 22 and Houston Nov. 23.

Team members refused to compare the two North Texas sites against others they had visited.

"We were impressed both with the sites and the proposals. We now have a firsthand feel for the nature of these two areas," said Dwight Ink, AEC assistant general manager.

Ink said he and his companions could not compare the two Dallas-Fort Worth-area locations with any others.

Site C is about 13.7 miles east of Lewisville. Site J is 18 miles north of Arlington.

Walter Hughes, assistant director for administration of the AEC's division of research, Olaf Pruss, AEC Division of construction and supply, and Dr. Robert Walker, California Institute of Technology physicist, accompanied Ink.

They were taken on an aerial inspection of the area, briefed by earth science experts and given soil samplings.

The Graduate Research Center of the Southwest was host to the group at lunch. A score of top academic leaders, including several college and university presidents, were on hand.

The group is one of eight visiting the 85 remaining possible sites for the world's largest accelerator. Ink said evaluation was running behind schedule.

"We never dreamed there would be so much interest," he said, alluding to the fact that three times as many states, cities or areas bid for the scientific complex as was expected.

Walker came the closest to definitive evaluation. He said he was "quite impressed" with the chalk formations in the Lewisville site.

"It's nice and rigid, solid and yet pliable enough to be carved with a knife," he said.

Perhaps the most important of all criteria is the makeup of the soil. The accelerator will weigh many tons and cannot be built on ground that will shift, sink or move.

The facility, at least three times larger than a similar one the Russians soon will complete, will take 6 to 8 years to finish, Ink said.

Initially it will cost about $300 million for the buildings and $40 million equipment, Ink estimated. An operating budget of more than $75 million annually is expected.

Eventually other buildings will be added to the complex, pushing the investment near $1 billion.

The super accelerator will have an energy output of 300 to 1,000 bevs (billion electron volts)—permitting the breakdown of particles far beyond what is now the utmost in atom-smashing.

NEW DECREE

Rhodesia Will Lose Privileges

By COLIN ROST

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson was expected to strip Rhodesia of its Commonwealth trading privileges today as his first action under sweeping emergency powers voted by Parliament.

Acting without a formal vote, the House of Commons and the House of Lords early today adopted emergency legislation authorizing Wilson to act by decree against the central African colony's rebellious white minority government.

All decrees take effect as soon as they are issued but expire unless approved by both houses of Parliament within 28 days.

Conservative critics argued that Wilson was getting a blank check for sanctions or any other action without parliamentary control. But they bowed to their party leadership's insistence that the government should not be opposed and that Britain should take a united stand against the Rhodesian government unilateral declaration of independence last Thursday.

The new law gives the British government power to annul any legislation passed by the current Rhodesian Parliament, including the independence constitution proclaimed by Prime Minister Ian Smith.

It declares that Rhodesia remains a part of Her Majesty's dominions, and that the government and Parliament of the United Kingdom hold responsibility and jurisdiction for the territory.

The declaration is aimed at touch at the African-Asian bloc in the United Nations as at the Rhodesian rebels. Wilson's government at this stage is set against using force to put down Smith's regime and is insisting on Rhodesia's British status to head off any attempt to stage an invasion under the U.N. flag.

The government hopes that Rhodesia's white minority will withdraw its support from Smith once sanctions begin to hit their pocketbooks.

Four-Year Term No Dead Issue

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Connally said today he probably will ask the 1967 legislature to give voters another chance to approve four-year terms for governors.

Connally also indicated to a news conference that annual sessions of the legislature might be another change soon in basic state government.

He repeated previous vows to call a special legislative session if necessary to take action on congressional and legislative redistricting and poll tax suits now pending before federal courts.

"I am not going to rule out a special session," he said.

Connally said he had no indication when the federal court at Houston would rule on redistricting suits "but I am very hopeful it will be very soon."

"Meanwhile, I implore every Texan to pay his or her poll tax so there will be no question of their voting qualifications," He said, concerning the federal suit seeking to ban the poll tax voting requirement for state and local elections.

Connally stressed what he called the need for four-year terms for a governor and other statewide elected officials, an issue [illegible]

In answer to a question about growing state needs and state-federal relationships, Connally also said "We are not far from annual sessions of the legislature too."

Connally repeated several times he did not intend to endorse any candidate in 1966, nor would he be a member of any ticket or team in the Democratic primary. However, he "comented" on several candidates.

"Waggoner Carr (candidate for the Senate) has been a very able attorney general. He is extremely cooperative. I have every confidence he would make an outstanding U.S. senator.

"Jim Wright (Fort Worth congressman expected to oppose Carr) has been a very effective congressman.

"A lot of people might infer that Crawford Martin (candidate for attorney general) has my support and the mere fact I appointed him secretary of state should reflect my feelings about his ability."

Connally said he had not been [illegible] invited to attend the [illegible] ton dinner in Midland Thursday [illegible] for Sen. Ralph Yarborough, subject of some speculation as a [illegible] to try that jurisdiction for the territory.

China May Face Tough UN Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States sought today to make sure Red China is barred from the United Nations for another year by calling on the General Assembly to hold to its stand that admission of Peking requires a two-thirds majority.

The United States and nine other countries introduced the resolution Monday night as the 117-nation assembly wound up its annual debate on the China question.

The American resolution recalled that the assembly ruled in 1961 that the issue was sufficiently important to require a two-thirds majority and requested that the world forum stick to this position.

The move came as a surprise to many diplomats. U.S. representatives had been voicing confidence that they had enough support to defeat Peking by a simple majority. Informed sources, however, said an informal poll of delegates indicated that Peking's supporters could muster a simple majority of seven or eight votes in their favor.

The poll was said to have been taken when Peking's backers were circulating a tentative resolution which called for the seating of Red China but left out the usual demand for expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists.

The supporters of Red China put in their resolution Monday night after toughening it up to include the ouster demand. Peking reportedly informed the sponsors it would not accept any U.N. decision on admission unless it included this clause.

The expulsion call was expected to lose Peking some votes. France, which has come out for Red China since it established relations with the Communist state, reportedly urged the sponsors to keep out any reference to expulsion even if Peking would not accept this.

Cosponsoring the U.S. demand for a two-thirds majority were Australia, Brazil, Columbia, Japan, Italy, Japan, the Philippines, Malagasy, and Thailand.

Doctors Say Ike Is Doing Fine

FT GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Doctors attending former President Dwight D. Eisenhower say he is doing fine after his second heart attack.

The Ft. Gordon information officer, Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, relayed this medical bulletin from the doctors' spokesman, Dr. Thomas W. Mattingly, late Monday afternoon:

"Gen. Eisenhower is still resting comfortably and doctors continue to express pleasure at the progress made by the five-star general.

"Again this afternoon the famous patient spent the hours reading, listening to stereophonic music and chatting with members of his personal staff. As yet he has not been out of bed."

While doctors refuse to say whether any plans have been made to move the general to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, Eisenhower's son, John, who now lives in Phoenixville, Pa., said before his departure for home Sunday night he hoped he could spend Thanksgiving with his father in Washington.

Heavy Snow Forecast In North

By The Associated Press

Arctic air pushed into Montana and North Dakota behind a developing storm center today and heavy snow was expected.

Early morning temperatures ranged down to 7 below zero at Havre and 3 below at Cut Bank, both in Montana.

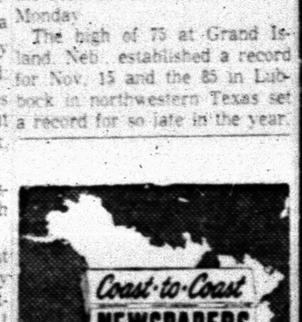

Heavy snow warnings were issued for central Montana with up to 6 inches expected.

Four inches of snow fell at Great Falls, Mont., Monday night while 2 inches accumulated in Lewistown, Mont., and 1 inch at Minot in central North Dakota.

Snow also fell along the southern shores of Lake Superior. Six inches fell at Sault St. Marie in eastern Upper Michigan.

Warm southerly winds moved temperatures to record levels of the southern and central Plains Monday.

The high of 75 at Grand Island, Neb., established a record for Nov. 15 and the 85 in Lubbock in northwestern Texas set a record for so late in the year.

Cookie Hasn't Crumbled Yet

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't count Cookie Gilchrist out of that rushing race in the American Football League.

Although Paul Lowe of San Diego is out front with 810 yards to Cookie's 684, the Chargers have an open date Sunday while Cookie and the Denver Broncos will be at work.

As San Diego already has played 10 games and Denver has played only nine, the extra date gives Gilchrist a big chance to close the gap.

Gilchrist ran for 119 yards on 16 carries against Houston last Sunday while Lowe was held to 48 yards by Kansas City.

Despite John Hadl's troubles against the Kansas City defense, the San Diego quarterback still leads the passers in standings based on six catego- ries.

The Milwaukee Braves, who are heading for Atlanta in 1966, drew 55,384 home fans in 1965. It was the low figure in the National League.

Top runs batted in man on the Kansas City Athletics last season was first baseman Ken Harrelson. He drove in 66 runs while hitting .238. He also led the team in homers with 23.

Dockmen Call Strike

BEAUMONT (AP)—A sudden Longshoremen strike tied up six ships here and two at Orange today.

Negotiations between shippers and the International Longshoremen's Union have been droning on since June. The union struck Monday and posted pickets.

Jimmy Phillips, business agent for union Local 1924, said "We are striking because we have no contract." He said the three companies involved, Lykes Brothers, P. C. Pfeiffer and J. J. Flanagan, had offered no set rate of pay and were unwilling to supply timekeepers on their ships.

The three companies are the only ones whose ships call here.

James Hartzog, general manager of the port, said the strike was a surprise.

"The three companies involved had been negotiating and it was believed some agreement had been reached," he said.

A "federal mediator" from Houston will meet with the two sides here Thursday at 2 p.m.

The invocation was given by Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Musical numbers were presented by Mr. Bill Denton, minister of Music and Education at the First Baptist church. Mrs. S. A. Tibbets closed the program with two readings, "The Ruggles Family", and "Almost Beyond Endurance."

The LLL club is a non-denominational club which was organized in June, 1965 by Dr. Lightfoot and other members of the Baptist church. It meets on the second and fourth Thursdays at the church. The 35 members enjoy crafts, games and a covered dish luncheon at their regular meetings.

The organization recently enjoyed a trip to the Baptist Encampment at Stanton. This was followed with a picnic. Their next trip will be to the Geriatrics Hospital in San Angelo on Nov. 20th. Lunch will be served the group at the Cactus Hotel. A Christmas party has been announced for December 16th at the First Baptist church.

Sofa Bathtub

In Queen Victoria's day, a lady's sofa could become her bathtub simply by lifting the top! Bathing suddenly was much more effective, too, as soap became popular for complexions and health. While it cleansed better than plain water, it could not compare with today's modern, mild soap — with hexachlorophene to combat bacteria.

East Elementary P-TA Meeting Held Monday

The East Elementary P-TA met recently at 3:45 p.m. in the speech - arts room, with David Parkhill, president presiding.

A report was made by Bobbie Murray about the pictures taken. The group voted to have a pie, cake and coffee sale after the Christmas program.

Mrs. Guy Sullivan introduced Mrs. Jo Park, librarian at Lamar Junioir High, who gave a delightful book review of "Rushing Big for Little Things."

The next meeting will be the Christmas musical Dec. 6.

The membership prize was awarded to Mrs. Johnye Bishop's first grade. Mrs. Reon, Mrs. Wiegel and Mrs. Davenport tied for the room count trophy.

CAUSE STILL A MYSTERY

Probers Study Blackout Prevention

By W. JOYNES MCFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators turn their attention today toward minimizing the possibility of another massive power failure.

The emphasis of the week-long probe shifted to protection and prevention after the point of origin of last Tuesday night's blackout in the Northeast and Canada was established Monday in a plant of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission at Queenston.

Chairman Ross Strike of the Ontario commission announced that the failure was caused by a relay break at the Sir Adam Beck Plant No. 2. This break threw one transmission line out of service and four others quickly tripped out because of the resultant overload.

The Beck plant is four miles north of Niagara Falls.

The entire output from the plant as well as some power being obtained from the New York State Power Authority, which had all been moving north, was thrown onto the U.S. transmission facilities, overloading them. Some safety equipment tripped but all of it didn't work.

Still unresolved, however, are these questions: What caused a relay in that plant to break and what can be done to reduce to a minimum the risk of a similar episode?

Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission, who was directed by President Johnson to lead the blackout probe, said a failure could occur again but the likelihood is not too great.

Swidler said the commission is continuing its investigations into why the trouble spread over so many power systems and will suggest measures to minimize the possibility of a recurrence.

There was speculation that the recommendations would likely take several approaches:

—Better control devices to cut off automatically lines or sections of systems involved in disturbances.

—Larger, stronger and more multiple interconnections in systems.

—Provisions for more "spinning reserves" in the form of hydroelectric plants or their equivalent, which could supply generating capacity or its equivalent faster than a conventional steam generating plant can be started.

Sources said that instead of interconnecting grids it might be more advisable to provide extra high-voltage direct current circuits that could deliver power from distant sources to one or more major load centers without using interconnections.

Commission staff members, aided in some instances by technical experts from industry, are making detailed studies of the basic operating records of the power systems that bore the brunt of the blackout. They hope to complete a reconstruction of the power movements and operating failures during the crisis.

Meg Plans Busy Slate In Capital

By FRANCIS LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain's Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, whirl into a busy schedule today that combines sentiment, religion, history and partying.

The princess said they wanted to see as much as they could of things that "up to now we've only been able to read about."

That included monuments, museums, the grave of President John F. Kennedy at Arlington National Cemetery, and where the historic Glastonbury thorn — true to tradition — burst into bloom for the visit of British royalty.

Washington's Glastonbury thorn grew from a cutting given the cathedral by British friends in 1902. The cutting supposedly was from the original thorn, which legend says sprouted from the staff of Joseph of Arimathea who is said to have founded the first Christian church in England at Glastonbury.

The thorn's white flowers have blossomed four times previously when British royalty visited Washington.

The royal couple, arriving here late Monday from Arizona on a presidential jet plane, considered getting a head start with a drive around the capital Monday night. They decided to rest instead, after the five-hour flight and an hour-long appearance at a jam-packed reception where they met the Washington press corps.

Their entrance to the capital came at dusk and the princess lamented "I didn't see anything" on the half-hour motorcade ride from Andrews Air Force Base that stopped rush-hour traffic.

Police escorts, sirens blaring, snaked them through red lights and a confusion of traffic, including a few motorists who joined the procession by mistake.

So far on their American tour which began Nov. 4, the princess and her husband reported they had been most impressed by the view of the Grand Canyon from their low-flying plane.

"Now here in Washington," the princess told the press reception attended by more than 1,000, "we look forward with great pleasure to meeting President and Mrs. Johnson again and to spending as much time as we can seeing the art treasures and historic buildings."

Mrs. Johnson was invited to a British Embassy luncheon today and the Johnsons planned a gay dinner-dance for the royal visitors at the White House Wednesday night. Beside that, there were teas, receptions and parties ahead.

Thanksgiving Service Set At Fluvanna

FLUVANNA — Members of the Fluvanna Methodist Church will meet Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at the church for a Harvest Thanksgiving Festival. Featured speaker for the evening will be Dr. Hubert Bratcher of Big Spring.

Decorations in the fellowship hall will carry out the autumn harvest theme. Plans for table decorations are being made by the young people of the church with the help of Henry Flournoy, youth class teacher, and Mrs. Bill Jennings, MYF leader. Co-chairmen for the Wednesday night meal are Mrs. Fowler Mathis and Mrs. Leo Beaver. Mrs. Bob Jordan is serving on the telephone committee.

Following the Thanksgiving meal, members of the congregation will gather in the sanctuary where several lay members will take part in the special worship service for the evening, according to Rev. Klel Quesenherry, minister. Mrs. Dean Ball and Mrs. Sam Bruner have been in charge of the candles for use in the family dedication worship service.

Dr. Bratcher, who is the District Superintendent of the Big Spring District, will bring the message for this special harvest service.

Elizabeth Sports Pop-Gun Shiner

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor is away from the set of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" because of a black eye.

Miss Taylor was struck in the right eye Sunday by a popgun cork fired by her nephew, Leyton, 4.

She showed up at Warners studios Monday morning, thinking the makeup man could take care of the black eye. Producer Ernest Lehman sent her to an eye specialist, who told her to stay away from the bright studio lights for a few days.

Second Red Space Shot Aimed At Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today it had launched its second space shot toward the planet Venus within five days.

Tass said the launching of the unmanned automatic space station Venus 3 was similar to the launching of Venus 2 last Friday.

Tass said Venus 2 is expected to reach Venus about the end of February, but the Russians have not said whether they expected it to crash into the planet or fly past it collecting scientific data.

The only other announced Soviet probe of Venus, in 1961, failed when its radio went silent and the craft missed the planet by about 100,000 miles. Western space watchers think the Russians have tried and failed at least six other times to send probes to Venus.

America's Mariner 2 passed 21,648 miles from Venus on Dec. 14, 1962. It radioed back data on the temperature, magnetism and other conditions to give scientists their clearest knowledge so far about Venus and outer space, Tass said.

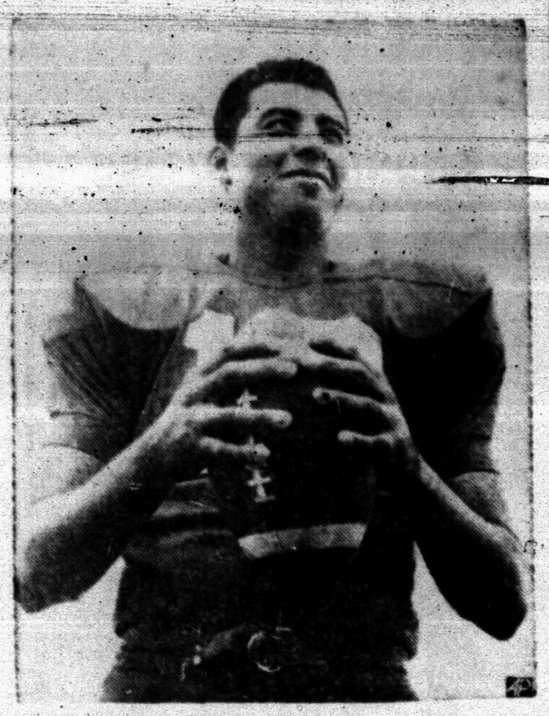

Tass said Venus 3, like Venus 2, was launched into a "heliocentrical" orbit — around the sun.

Tass said Venus 3 weighed 2,116 pounds, approximately the weight of Venus 2.

KEY MAN IN SUL ROSS CHARGE--Luz Pedraza, Sul Ross State College quarterback, is the leader in the West Texas school's charge down the gridiron trail toward an unbeaten season. Pedraza has played every game since enrolling as a freshman in 1962 and has led the team to top records his last two seasons. Folks in the Big Bend country think Pedraza is the best quarterback in the country with even the big colleges considered. (AP Wirephoto)

Showdown Looms In SWC Saturday

By The Associated Press

A 9-0 record would indicate a football team was really going places.

Frank Broyles, however, thinks it's most unusual that his Arkansas team, although it boasts this gaudy record, still doesn't know where it will be playing Jan. 1.

You see, Arkansas plays Texas Tech, which has an 8-1 record, at Fayetteville Saturday and Arkansas will have to win or tie in order to get into the Cotton Bowl. If Tech should win, then the Red Raiders would make it.

No question though that Arkansas will be playing in a bowl game somewhere regardless of how the game comes out.

Each coach took time Monday to tell how good the other's team was but there wasn't a hint that either would concede that the other was better.

Coach J. T. King of Texas Tech said Arkansas was absoluely terrific, that it had so many ways to beat somebody it pretty much awed him, "but this team of ours is conceding nothing and after all Tech has survived this season, I say anyth ng can happen at Fayetteville Saturday."

Broyles said his scout, Jack Davis, told him Tech's Tom Wilson was one of the finest passers seen in several years and that Donny Anderson, the Tech All-America halfback, had improved greatly. "Tech is one of the most versatile teams Arkansas faces," added Davis.

Anyway, both teams will be in top shape for the big game. There are no injuries.

Baylor coach John Bridgers found he would have defensive end Donnie Laurence back after missing the Texas Tech game because of an injury and this undoubtedly brightened the spirits of the Bears for their game with Southern Methodist at Waco Saturday.

Bridgers also indicated he expected the footballs to fly because, after studying the scouting report, he had his team working on pass defense.

Apparently Baylor will go to the air a lot, too. Kenny Stockdale, who can throw the ball high, wide and handsome, will start at quarterback.

Southern Methodist found no injuries but didn't work much Monday.

Texas Christian may have to play without end Joe Ball, who suffered a back injury in the game with Texas last week, but all other Horned Frogs were in top shape and still talking about the 25-10 victory over the Longhorns.

UIL Sets Deadline

Deadline for schools to join the University Interscholastic League is December 1.

Schools joining the League by that date are eligible to compete in football, baseball, track, basketball, tennis, volleyball, track and field, and golf. In the literary field they may compete in debate, extemporaneous speaking, persuasive speaking, poetry interpretation, prose reading, declamation, journalism, number sense, one - act play, picture memory, ready writing, science, slide rule, spelling, typewriting and shorthand.

"It is necessary that schools have their applications and fees in by December 1," said R. J. Kidd, League Director. "The League must organize for competition all over the state. Schools must meet the deadline if they are to be eligible for the many League - sponsored contests."

Application blanks have been mailed to all superintendents. Mr. Kidd urged that all school principals check to make sure their applications have been sent in with a check for the proper fees.

Five Teams Close Season

Five of six Snyder football teams closed their season last week as the Lamar 8th grade continued to sport the best record with six wins against two losses.

The "B" team was half a game off the pace with a 6-2-1 record, while the Lamar 9th grade, with a 5-3 mark, was the only other team that had more wins than losses.

The Varsity is the only team that has not closed out its season. The Tigers host Lake View's Chiefs here Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in the season finale.

SNYDER TEAMS

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp.

Raiders Rate No. 9 In Poll

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State, rolling along week after week as the nation's No. 1 college football team, has its biggest challenge in a decade Saturday against the determined legions of Notre Dame.

The game is one of three big ones on tap this weekend, each involving two members of the Top Ten and each of national importance. They are Notre Dame-Michigan State, Arkansas-Texas Tech and Southern California-UCLA.

Michigan State, returned as the nation's No. 1 team in the regular weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters today, is 9-0 for the season and gunning for its first national championship since 1952.

Should the Spartans beat Notre Dame in their last game of the season, the national championship is almost assured.

But Notre Dame, ranked fourth in the nation and 7-1, also has national championship aspirations and possibly could vault to the No. 1 spot with a decisive victory.

Michigan State whipped Indiana 27-13 and Notre Dame took North Carolina 17-0 last weekend.

Arkansas remained second, also at 9-0, and risks a 21-game winning string against Texas Tech, which moved into the Top Ten with an 8-1 record. The winner gets the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. Tech will go to the Gator Bowl if it loses.

An Arkansas victory will give it the Southwest Conference title outright — and perhaps a shot at the national tile if Michigan State should stumble. Tech gains a share of the conference crown if it wins.

Arkansas beat SMU 24-3 and Tech took Baylor 34-22 last weekend.

Southern Cal and UCLA are ranked sixth and seventh, respectively, each with a 6-1-1 record. The winner almost certain, gets the Rose Bowl spot opposite Michigan State.

Michigan State received 31 of the 48 first-place votes cast and gained 456 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points:

1.	Mich. State (31)	9-0 456
2.	Arkansas (15)	9-0 439
3.	Nebraska (2)	9-0 378
4.	Notre Dame	7-1 346
5.	Alabama	7-1-1 268
6.	Southern Calif.	6-1-1 226
7.	UCLA	7-1-1 180
8.	Missouri	6-2-1 115
9.	Texas Tech	8-1 86
10.	Florida	6-2 42

QB CLUB TO MEET

The Snyder Quarterback Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria to view game films of last week's 16-15 triumph by the Tiger football team over Littlefield's Wildcats. Members also will hear a scouting report on this week's opponent—the Lake View Chiefs.

Coaches in the school system will give reports on last week's games.

Sports Shorts

LUBBOCK (AP) —Regardless of how the Arkansas-Texas Tech game comes out Saturday at Fayetteville, Tech will be in a bowl game.

If Tech wins it will go to the Cotton Bowl. If it loses it's the Gator Bowl.

Athletic Director Polk Robison Monday said he had conditionally accepted an invitation for Tech to meet Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl Dec. 31 and that the condition hinged on the outcome of the Arkansas-Texas Tech game.

This doesn't mean though, said coach J. T. King, that Tech isn't thinking primarily of the Cotton Bowl.

"Our No. 1 concern still is the Southwest Conference championship and Cotton Bowl but our squad voted several days ago and decided to accept the Gator Bowl bid if the Cotton Bowl is not available," King explained.

DALLAS (AP)—Texas, with Richard Romo and Preston Davis tying for first, Monday won the Southwest Conference cross-country championship for the third straight year.

Davis, the 1963 champion, and Romo, who won it last year, joined hands coming across the finish line so they would finish in a dead heat. Each had a time of 14:51.1 for the three-mile course.

Texas had 28 points. Arkansas was second with 30 and Texas Tech third with 82.

ATHENS (AP) — Henderson County awaits a call from the Junior Rose Bowl in California.

The Cardinals, who had an undefeated, untied season, declined an invitation to the Shrine Bowl at Savannah, Ga.—the official bowl game of the National Junior College Association—and decided to take their chances with the Junior Rose Bowl, which is due to make its announcement Sunday.

Henderson County faces a possible year's probation for passing up the Shrine Bowl.

Hogs, Tech Pace SWC

DALLAS (AP)—There are games to play but most of the individual statistical leaderships appear to be wrapped up in the waning Southwest Conference football race.

Eight of the nine categories are led by Arkansas and Texas Tech players, further illustrating the importance of the Arkansas-Tech game at Fayetteville Saturday when the conference title will be determined.

Bobby Burnett of Arkansas leads the ball-carriers but does not appear in much danger of losing although he has Donny Anderson of Tech to compete against. Burnett has rushed for 883 yards in 202 attempts. Anderson is second with 630 yards.

Tom Wilson of Texas Tech has total offense and passing locked up. The mighty Red Raider thrower leads in total offense with 1673 yards—almost 700 yards more than his closest competitor, Jon Brittenum of Arkansas.

Wilson also leads the passers with 146 completions for 1800 yards and 17 touchdowns. He is 75 completions ahead of the runner-up, Harry Ledbetter of Texas A&M, and is more than 1,000 yards to the good.

Anderson leads the pass-receivers with 50 for 654 yards but his lead isn't exactly safe. Dude McLean of Texas A&M, who has another game to play, has 47 for 575.

Anderson leads the scorers with 90 points to 78 for second place Bobby Burnett. The Arkansas star would have to score 12 points and Anderson get nothin' to tie him.

Tommy Trantham of Arkansas tops in pass interceptions with four for 158 yards. Jack Brasuell of Arkansas leads in punt returns with 285 yards on 21 and Anderson leads in kickoff returns with 513 yards on 20 runbacks.

David Conway of Texas leads the punters with a 44.3 average on 46 kicks.

GRID MOTHERS WILL MEET

The Football Mothers will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in Room 118 at Snyder High School for the purpose of formulating plans for the annual football banquet. All mothers are urged to be present.

Lions Still No. 2

DALLAS (AP) — Texarkana, Dumas, Alpine and Three Rivers held No. 1 spots in the Dallas News poll of Texas schoolboy football today and Alpine and Three Rivers have permanent possession.

At least it was the final poll in Classes AA and A and that's the way they wanted it.

Classes AAAA and AAA, led by Texarkana and Dumas respectively, have another week to go before the final poll.

Dallas Woodrow Wilson moved into second place behind Texarkana in Class AAAA when San Angel took a tumble, Bay City took over 10th place Angelo stayed in the poll, however, although falling to No. 10 falling out.

Future Housewife May Buy Food For Two Years Ahead

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some day the American homemaker may shop for the family dinner two years ahead of time and file it in a cabinet.

Food technologists are refining processes such as freeze drying so that well-flavored instant steaks, seafood and poultry in packages can be stored indefinitely, without refrigeration.

Campers, hunters, fishermen and mountain climbers have been eating freeze-dried foods for years. But only recently have such foods moved into kitchens.

The biggest push this year has been on breakfast cereals containing freeze-dried blueberries, strawberries, apples, and now, bananas and ice cream.

Freeze-dried fruit cereals sell for 37 cents a box, compared to 25 cents for plain cereals.

"Currently, the cost of production of the freeze-dried vegetables and fruits now available is well beyond that which would be acceptable to a broad range of customers," says Arthur E. Larkin Jr., executive vice president of General Foods Corp. But he added: "The freeze-dry technique promises eventually to provide products at reasonable prices."

Kermit Bird, a U.S. Department of Agriculture economist, estimated 5.6 million pounds of food were freeze-dried in 1962, 11.3 million in 1963 and 25 million last year.

The total will reach 317 million pounds by 1970, he predicted.

Already, the freeze-dried products include coffee, chives, parsley, pepper, asparagus, orange juice, macaroni, rice, mushrooms, apples, pineapples, fruit salad, ham patties, pork chops, beef steak, pot roast, chicken stew, shrimp, scrambled eggs, and omelets.

They are used extensively by astronauts and the armed forces.

The Army used dried foods during World War II, but they had an off-flavor, caused by the heat-drying process. Then scientists adapted the freeze-drying process that had been used to produce blood plasma.

Drinks At Teller's Cage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Belly right up to the teller's window, folks, and put down your money. What you'll get back will be a drink, not a receipt.

Kelly Buchanan, a real estate man, opened a new bar Monday in the branch office of the now defunct San Francisco National Bank.

He didn't make many changes. Remaining from the bank days are a $7,000 chandelier and a $14,000 panel. Also around are red velvet sofas and leather ash trays from another branch of the doomed bank. Drinks are served through the teller's windows.

The U.S. controller of currency closed the bank.

Don C. Silverthorne, who founded the bank in 1962, has been charged with misapplying its funds and accepting fees illegally for arranging loans.

3 Texans Among Viet Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of three Texas were on the latest list of servicemen killed in Viet Nam fighting.

Released Monday by the Defense Department, the list included:

Army Sgt. 1. C. Hoover Morri, husband of Mrs. Blurnett Morris of Lufkin, Tex.

Army Pfc. James Washington son of Frank Washington of Houston.

Marine Sgt. Lynn Mince, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mince of Lubbock, Tex.

Loan Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $121,-214 loan for Port Arthur, Tex., to plan a 103-acre government complex and port district project received approval Monday from the Urban Renewal Administration.

Marine Sees Peaceniks As Traitors

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Demonstrators against U. S. policy in Viet Nam are described as "just a shade away from being traitors" in a letter from a Marine fighting in Viet Nam.

Second Lt. Jack Zimmermann called demonstrations by college students "the intellectual betrayal" and said they are "confusing to us over here" in the letter, published Monday in the San Antonio News.

"Those who offer blood and medical supplies to the Viet Cong are bold-faced traitors and should face the penalty for treason," he wrote.

"Those who burn their draft cards burn their right to live as citizens in Americia and should be treated accordingly....

"I know, without a doubt, that the misguided are just a loud few, but it is confusing to us over here. All the men over here need is to know that someone. . .cares that we are here and understands the reason we must stay."

The lieutenant said he had read that college demonstrators claimed "I was a 'butcher, a brute and a killer of women and children."

He said Marine protection nevertheless has enabled Chu Lai farmers to harvest their richest rice crop in years and "the people. . .are now more secure, more prosperous and more informed than ever before."

Zimmermann is second in command of an artillery battery at Chu Lai. He is a 1964 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zimmerman, live in San Antonio. He is married to the former Ilene Weinberger of San Antonio.

Snow May Ease Drought In North

NEW YORK (AP) — The approach of winter with its expected snows and icy temperatures almost surely will affect the drought in the Northeast.

That effect could be either for the good or the bad.

Plenty of snow would allow moisture to seep down to replenish underground sources. Then, in the spring thaw, the runoff would raise reservoir levels.

But a deep frost could seal off the water table and prevent any moisture from reaching the table.

"If there is a deep freeze-up, without snow first, there could be a water shortage again before spring," said a spokesman for the Massachusetts Agriculture Department.

James M. Weigle, a geologist with the U.S. Geological Survey in New Hampshire, said that a light snow also could mean dry wells before spring.

Autumn rains have brought some relief to the parched areas.

One of the hardest-hit areas has been New York City, where water conservation has become a way of life. Asked if some restrictions would be lifted for the winter, Water Commisisioner Armand D'Angelo replied, "Definitely not."

D'Angelo said his department's engineers are looking for new ways to save water. He has asked them to see how much city water is used in winter to flood vacant land for ice skating. If it's too much, he indicated it may be banned.

Water restrictions are being continued in many cities, but some communities in New Hampshire are relaxing the restrictions.

Belton Girl Arrested In Slaying

BELTON, Tex. (AP)—Armed with a fugitive warrant from Tucson, police arrested a Texas teen-ager Monday after questioning her about the desert slaying of an Arizona girl.

Two young men were jailed earlier in the case.

Officers took Mary Rae French, 19, into custody at her home here in Central Texas. Tucson police Lt. George Robles said she gave officers a statement but he did not disclose details.

In Tucson, authorities supplied this background:

Richard Bruns, 19, of Tucson, first led officers to the bodies of Gretchen Fritz, 17, and her sister Wendy, 13, last week. They had been missing since Aug. 16. Information from Bruns caused officers to arrest Charles Schmid Jr., 23, of Tucson and charge him with murder.

Bruns also told questioners that Norma Alleen Rowe, 15, was beaten to death May 31, 1964, while at a desert spot east of Tucson with Schmid, John Saunders, 19, and Miss French.

Police arrested Saunders in Westbrook, Conn., Sunday night and quoted him as giving the same account of the Rowe girl's death as Bruns, who was not involved in the slaying.

Tucson police chief Bernard Garmire said jealousy was the motive for the killing of Miss Rowe. He said Saunders had promised to lead officers to the shallow grave where she was buried.

Arrangements were made to return Saunders and Miss French to Tucson. Arizona officials said both waived extradition.

Crude Oil Production Increased In Texas

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — U. S. Crude oil and lease condensate production increased 58,200 barrels a day last week to an average of 7,835,400 barrels, the Oil and Gas Joural said today.

Production in Texas was up 17,000 barrels to a daily average of 2,699,00. Oklahoma produced 586,700 barrels, an increase of 2,800.

Louisiana was up 18,300 barrels to 1,680,000, and New Mexico up 5,800 to 318,300.

Tahoka Girl Named Farm Bureau Queen

DALLAS (AP) — The new Texas Farm Bureau queen is Cherri Lee Norman, 18, of Tahoka on the South Plains.

The brown-haired, hazel-eyed Baylor freshman was selected Monday night at the organization's 32nd annual meeting. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Norman of Tahoka.

First runnerup among 13 finalists was Shirley Self, 18, of Premont, a freshman at Texas A&I.

College Students Target Of American Communist Party

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's more than just a wild and woolly time. It's a hodge-podge, left and right.

"Real squares. Old ladies up in the Bronx."

That's what some young radicals today call members of the American Communist party. The weekly newspaper, the National Observer, which quoted them, said they are equally contemptuous of liberals and labor unions.

But Monday the party thought it got a shot in the arm and talked of running candidates for office. But George Lincoln Rocwell, commander of the American Nazi party, has already said he will run for president in 1972.

The Ku Klux Klan is in business. The ultraconservative Minutemen talk of their secret "underground army."

Robert Welch, founder of the right-wing John Birch Society, says of the United States: "It's one vast insane asylum" where "they've let out the worst patients to run the place."

The Communist party has splinter groups. Student groups have splinter groups. Even the Republican party has splinters.

But long after thousands of today's young radicals sag into middle age, raising families and buying homes between trips to the bank, the Communist party will probably be still here.

At least it has an ideology, although it changes with the wind, while many and probably most of the young radicals have only upset emotions and incoherence.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover considers the Communist party a "Moscow-controlled" menace and part of an international Communist conspiracy. He called Gus Hall, the party's chief spokesman, "Moscow-trained."

It was Hall who Monday, after a Supreme Court decision, got the idea that now the party could run candidates, although its claimed membership has dropped from perhaps 100,000 in the 1930s to 10,000 now.

The court held unconstitutional a provision requiring a party member to register as such with the federal government.

This was the reasoning: For failure to register he could be prosecuted and jailed. But if he did register, he could be prosecuted under another law which makes it a crime to belong to a group that advocates overthrowing the government.

Thus, if he registered, he would be risking incriminating himself under the other law. The court pointed out that under the Constitution's Fifth Amendmen a man can't be compelled to incriminate himself.

In the 1930s — although the Communist party's part in it was very small — the great domestic crusade was to organize workers into unions. They joined in the millions.

Earlier this month, in a special story on the radical left among the young, the New York Times, picking out the Students for a Democratic Society as the "largest single radical student group on or around campuses," said that the SDS had "pretty much given up the working class as lost, having fallen prey to the union and the Democratic party." The Times says SDS claims 3,000 members, with 90 chapters around the country.

The National Observer, not limiting itself to student groups, said the new left places less emphasis on economic problems, more on "human freedom," and only a few splinter groups try to "out-Mao Mao Tze-tung."

Yet, the newspaper went on, "even a tiny splinter group possesses the capacity for mischief if it also possesses dynamite." Some group are on a crusade against poverty and the war in Viet Nam.

FBI's Hoover says "the Communist party is today expending tremendous energy attempting to increase its influence among college students."

These Things We Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things we could do without:

Young men who look like they're wearing a nest of robbins in their hair.

Discotheque dancers who twitch like they had the itch or were trying to run a 100-yard race on a pogo stick.

Any new kinds of dog foods, deodorants or dandruff cures.

Christmas cards that depict pretty girls in a Santa Claus suit, or Santa himself in a bathing suit chasing a beach maid wearing a bikini.

Any more books by doctors or marriage counselors on what to do about sex. All the possibilities of sex have been pointed out by eminent authorities many times already. What civilization needs is more good cook books and fewer manuals on sex, as no civilized person ever loses interest in good cooking.

Motorists who say they only want half of the road but decide their half is in the middle.

Teachers who give your kids homework that would tax the mental powers of an Einstein.

The telephone company's decision to give us all numbers that only a computer can remember.

Power companies that can't explain after a blackout why all their electricity took a vacation at the same time.

College boys who think it smart to light their cigarettes with their draft cards.

Office wits who, when you're taking up a collection for a retiree, invariably whine, "When are you going to take up one for me?"

Lady shoppers in supermarkets who ram a fellow's shins with their carts and then glare at him as if he should apologize for being alive.

Wiseacres who, when you tell them you're going to the dentist to get your teeth cleaned, reply, "Why bother to go yourself? Why not just mail them in?"

Anybody who mails your wife another credit plate.

Anybody who mails you another credit card.

Health nuts who think they can solve all your problems by showing you a series of isometric exercises that cured them of eczema, rid them of 25 pounds of fat, and brought them new success in their work.

From these and other pests, deliver us, amen.

Goes To Reformatory

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Arther Paige, 16, has been committed to the Gatesvilile state school for boys until his 21st birthday.

Young Paige had been charged witih assault with intent to murder in the wounding of his high school shop teacher, Jimimy Daniels, 35, with a shotgun.

County Judge W. K. Baldridge ordered him sent to the reformatory Monday.

Officials at Fred Moore High School said the shooting stemmed from discipline given Paige for missing two shop classes.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOLLUSKS

QUESTION: How can clams and oysters manage to eat?

* * *

ANSWER: Oysters and clams are simple creatures, belonging to the primitive group of animals called mollusks. Although some mollusks, such as squids and snails, move around in search of food, oysters and clams are true stay-at-homes. They have worked out a very successful way of living by remaining more or less in one spot, which is possible because their food is brought directly to them. Their soft bodies are protected by a pair of shells. Their food is the minute plant and animal life contained in sea water. The cross section of a hard-shell clam at upper left will show how their system works. At right are two tubes or siphons; one sucks water in, another pushes it out. When water comes in, it passes through gills, which resemble screening. The gills take out oxygen needed for breathing and screen out food particles as well. The gill surface is covered with tiny hairs which keep up a lashing motion. This creates currents in the water inside the shell, carrying the food to a mouth tube with a simple stomach behind it. Oysters feed in much the same way, but without the long siphons. They attach themselves permanently to one spot, whereas the clam moves around to some extent.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: You'll be wondering what the story is on that strange creature, the goeduck, or goeduck. He's obviously a very large clam, but where is he to be found? Check with an encyclopedia to pick up some more goeduck lore. 11-16

IN VIET WAR

Russell Believes Tide Is Turning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell advocated today broad-scale U.S. military action to knock out the harbor of Haiphong in North Viet Nam.

Russell, Georgia Democrat who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he believes the tide of battle in South Viet Nam no longer is running in favor of the Viet Cong. But he said to turn it definitely for the United States the harbor at Haiphong should be knocked out.

Haiphong, an important industrial city with a population of about 370,000, is located in the Gulf of Tonkin area about 50 miles from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

"I believe we should bring the fleet into action, mine the harbor from the air, tell other nations to keep their ships out of there and knock out the waterfront," he said in an interview. "I see no point in bombing the half-starved people of either Hanoi or Haiphong, but we should cut off the line of military supplies by enforcing a blockade," Russell said.

"I think this would have a very material effect on the progress of the war without bringing any acceleration of the conflict by our opponents. I do not believe the Chinese are going to get into the war unless the Russians should move in and that doesn't seem likely."

Russell said he favors increased bombing of North Viet Nam ground-to-air missile sites. He said he had urged Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to bomb the sites around Hanoi when they first were disclosed but the decision went against such action.

The Georgia senator, who just returned from a visit to the Dominican Republic and an inspection tour of Caribbean defense installations, said the situation in Santo Domingo remains potentially explosive.

"I think things are becoming more stable every day there," he said. "But there still is a hard core of well-trained dedicated Communists underground and the situation is fraught with danger from them."

Jury Seeks Lawyer's Tax Records

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The State Supreme Court is being asked to determine the right of a grand jury to subpoena income tax records in the Oklahoma County panel's investigation of alleged bribery of high state officials.

Dist. Judge Joann McInnis gave the Oklahoma Tax Commission until the first of next week Monday to secure the high court opinion after commission agent Doyle Howell refused to produce tax records for Whit Pate covering the years 1960 and 1961.

A subpoena also has been issued for Pate's federal tax records covering the same years from the U. S. Internal Revenue Service.

Pate, a Heavener lawyer and aide in 1959 to then-Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, was released from jail under $2,000 bond Monday shortly after Judge McInnis sentenced him to 46 days on contempt of court.

Pate refused under promise of immunity from state prosecution to answer questions by the Oklahoma County grand jury concerning a purported $60,000 payoff on a bill to legalize parimutuel betting on horse and dog racing in 1961. The legislature failed to pass the bill.

Counsel for Pate said the State Court of Criminal Appeals would be asked to throw out the jail sentence and contempt citation on grounds the promised immunity would not apply to possible [illegible]

Atty. Gen. Charles Nesbitt, who is assisting the panel, said the jury was looking into possible tax violations and should be allowed access to state files.

An Oklahoma County contractor and pilot, Jack Woosley, triggered the grand jury probe when he made the bribery allegations in a sworn statement filed in a civil action against an Oklahoma City Newspaper.

Woosley said in that statement that McCarty and former Senate president pro tempore Everett Collins had received $20,000 each and Pate and Forrest Castle, former State Crime Bureau director, had received $10,000 apiece to seek passage of the gambling bill.

Castle testified 2½ hours under promise of immunity last week.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Few discoveries have stimulated the civilized world more than recent garden studies here, which revealed that cucumbers are emotional.

Possibly they do not throw tantrums the way you do but at least they work up enough feelings to be measured by tiny electric wires and meters.

Surprised? Just ask yourself, "How does a tomato (garden variety) feel?"

One gardenologist personally analyzed tomatoes and discovered they experience pain and worry. In seeking evidence of fear and guilt, the doctor was stunned to discover that a tomato registers extreme anxiety when pierced by a nail.

This may be taken as conclusive evidence of great strength of character on the part of tomatoes. Most of us would scream in anguish when stuck by a pin.

Going deeper into agricultural psycho - somatics, we can announce that it is now known that bananas suffer strokes. Possibly they become only partially paralyzed and walk with a slight limp.

The most significant note, of course, is the discovery that alfalfa gives off carbon monoxide gas as a means of self defense. The doctor in charge of this project reports that two pounds of alfalfa can produce enough gas (if attacked, we assume) to kill the average man.

That ends my days of mowing lawns.

And now that this information is no longer classified, I can make my own modest contribution to science.

A few nights ago, I was attacked by a drunken onion. It occurred while I sat at the dinner table contemplating a bowl of salad. In the center of the bowl, nestled comfortably on a bed of frightened lettuce, was this onion. It had been doused with wine vinegar and was, understandably, drunk and in a nasty mood.

There was a sudden pain in my shoulder followed by a reddening of the skin. The onion glared at me with heady, bloodshot eyes and it took only second to realize I was being subjected to intense radiation of pitchblack. (This is a semi - deadly gas given off by certain types of onions under emotional stress.)

But you never know. And my philosophy is "play it safe." We had no lead shields available so there was nothing to do but set fire to the house and retreat. You may be interested in knowing, my good doctors, that the onion died courageously after disintegrating the house in an effort to escape.

I watched the remains burn for a while, then walked slowly down the street through the rain. Avoiding, of course, a small market on the corner where other vegetables are sold.

I may be a lot of things but I have no intention of becoming a guinea pig for sadistic onions.

Sealift Continues

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Children, comprising one-third of the new refugee stream, think they are still in Cuba when they land here.

Five-year-old Domingo Garcia Pico, asked if he knew what country he has reached, replied, "Cuba." His cousin, 3-year-old Jose Luis Pico, responded "Cayo Hueso" — Spanish for Key West. He said he thought it was in Cuba.

The U.S. government-chartered Skipper K arrived Monday night with 94 refugees as a seaborne operation preliminary to an airlift that may bring 100,000 here continued.

A second boat chartered by the government, the 150-passenger Pan American out of Biloxi, Miss., set out on the refugee run and was expected back by midnight.

Fine, Jail Term Assessed In Court

W. A. Prichard was handed a 10-day jail term, a $25 fine and court costs today after he pleaded guilty in county court to charges to swindling by worthless check and theft.

He was charged on two counts of the same offense Nov. 7.

Sandy Koufax won 11 straight games for the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1965.

Musicians Arrested

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Authorities filed complaints Monday charging Western singer Ray Price and four members of his band with illegal possession of 1,000 dangerous pills.

Police Lt. N. C. Baumann said officers seized the tablets in the musicians' bus and motel while they were here to fill an engagement Friday.

James Day, one of the band members, posted $1,500 bond in the case earlier, Baumann said Day had been convicted on such a charge previously and the law makes a second offense a felony.

Misdemeanor charges are on file against Price and the others —Pete Burke, Robert Fritz, Francis Coleman and Charles Harris. Each went free under $500 bond. All are from Nashville, Tenn.

LOREN SULLIVAN

Sullivan Is New Manager For Penney's

Loren Sullivan took over the duties of manager of the local J. C. Penney Co. department store in Snyder on Monday.

Sullivan, who has been associated with Penney's for the past 11 years, came here from Hillsboro, where he had been store manager for 3½ years.

The new local Penney manager first joined Penney's in Odessa and was employed in the company's store there for three years before moving to Garland, where he was assistant manager for five years.

A native of Denton, Sullivan is married and he and his wife, Miriam, have three children, Bill 17, Patricia 16 and Sue 4. They are members of the Baptist Church in Hillsboro. Sullivan has been a member of the Lions Club, serving on the board of directors.

Sullivan succeeded Hartman as manager of the Penney Store here. Hartman, who resigned the post, has not announced his future plans.

2 Bandits Get Cash In A Hurry

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — It took two gunman no more than four minutes to rob the American State Bank of $16,164 Monday, bank president Roland Irvine estimated.

"This is a holdup," one announced as the bandits strode through the front door brandishing shiny pisitols. Women's white stocking masked their faces.

At their command, tellers Beth Taylor and Lottie Thompson filled a paper sack with money. The robbers compelled a dozen other bank employes and four customers to lie on the floor until they departed.

They sped away in a car, but not before a woman working for the bank obtained the license number. Police found the automobile abandoned a bit later. They said the vehicle presumably was stolen.

A resident of the neighborhood told police she saw two men remove a laundry bag from the car and walk away hurriedly.

Bank personnel said both bandits appeared to be in their 20s.

Probe Death Of Hunter

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — Investigators tried today to determine how Jerry Shinn, 21, was killed while deer hunting on a ranch near South Ft. Hood.

Searchers found the body Sunday Evening at the foot of a tree. His rifle hung from a limb 14 feet overhead.

Justice of the peace A. M. Turland said Shinn was shot once but his gun was empty and had not been fired. There were five cartridges in his pocket.

Beeny Cook said he and Shinn became separated while hunting. After failing to locate Shinn, Cook told officers, he went home with their wives, expecting to find Shinn there. A search then began.

Blaze Extinguished By City Firemen

Firemen answered a call to the Cactus Courts on the Lamesa Highway about 7:15 a.m. today with three trucks.

Fire of undetermined origin caused about $500 damage to one of the units, according to firemen, who said there was smoke damage throughout the unit. Damage was confined to the interior. Some mobile bedding was burned.

Ruling Seen As Setback In Control Of Subversives

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — After inevitable destruction [illegible] against subversion, or it faces further testing of the law. A similar appeal was successful [illegible] today and decided to move [illegible] ahead in that field as best it can.

The Supreme Court took most of the starch out of the effort Monday. It ruled that Communist party members cannot constitutionally be forced to register with the government because of the risk of self-incrimination.

Thus in one 11-page opinion the court wiped out 43 membership cases developed after long and costly hearings by the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate [illegible] which would, of course, be subject to appeal and [illegible] will ask the next Congress reconvenes in January. He said his group will try to "plug the gaps" in the subversion laws.

"If progressive changes in constitutional interpretation by the Supreme Court have made that impossible, then it will be the duty of the Judiciary Committee to recommend an appropriate constitutional amendment," he said.

Since the opinion announced Monday by Associate Justice William J. Brennan Jr. was directed specifically at that provision of the law aimed at individual members, the Justice Department decided to continue its prosecution of the party for failure to register as a Communist front organization.

That trial is in its third week in U.S. District Court and could bring the party a $230,000 fine on conviction—which would, of course, be subject to appeal and further testing of the law. A similar appeal was successful [illegible]

Because the party has failed to register, the responsibility for signing up falls, by law, on its officers and members.

The Subversive Activities Control Board issued registration orders, after hearings, to 44 alleged members, who appealed through the federal courts. The defendants and the government agreed that whatever the Supreme Court ruled on the cases of William Albertson and Roscoe Quincy Proctor would apply to all 41 others — one of the original 44 is dead. That's the decision that came down Monday, taking the teeth out of the 1950 law's membership provision.

While the Justice Department made no comment about its plans the Albertson decision was seen as seriously weakening its case against Gus Hall, who calls himself "chief spokesman" of the Communist party. Hall's trial for failure to register as a party officer has been delayed pending disposition of the party trial now under way here.

But since Brennan's opinion was aimed at protecting specifically named individuals from self-incrimination, the feeling among government legal observers was that a similar finding in regard to Hall will be virtually unavoidable.

Hall hailed the decision as "a blow against the longest legal vendetta in American history," and predicted increased Communist activity.

He told a news conference in New York: "Wherever it's possible, we're going to run Communists for public office. This is something we've always wanted to do and couldn't."

He said his party will publish a basic political program within two weeks, call its first public national convention since 1950 and take steps to enter candidates in the 1966 congressional elections.

Hall said he holds the title of "national chairman" of the party but never uses it.

Crewman On Ill-Fated Ship Wonders If He'll Sleep Again

By HEDLEY BURRELL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Third engineer Harry Sopirios of the cruise ship Yarmouth Castle hasn't slept for two nights — and he is wondering if he will in the weeks head.

His new assignment: crew member on the Yarmouth, sister ship of the Yarmouth Castle.

"I don't know if I will ever erase the memory of those flames," he said.

Sopirios, 42, interviewed in Nassau, leaves the Bahamas today aboard the Yarmouth.

Eighty-one passengers and two crewmen are believed to have perished when the Yarmouth Castle went down Saturday off Great Stirrup Cay, about 60 miles northwest of Nassau.

Passenger Norman Lehr of Miami Beach died of burns in a Nassau hospital. His body will be flown to Miami in a private plane.

Many survivors said there was no warning as fire swept the ship, that the water sprinkler system didn't work, fire hoses lay unused on the deck, and that only 4 of 14 lifeboats were lowered.

But a Coast Guard investigator said Monday the Yarmouth Castle passed a Coast Guard safety check three weeks before she sailed.

Third engineer Sopirios said the alarm went off in the forward section and he spread the alarm to the crew sleeping below deck.

"The fire never reached the engineroom or the crew's quarters," he explained. "I think it started somewhere in one of the more expensive forward cabins."

He said hose pipes and lifeboats in the forward section were burned.

Sen. Warren G. Manguson, D-Wash., called for a joint Coast Guard-Department of Commerce investigation of the sinking.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, said, "We think the same safety regulations applying to U.S. flagships should apply to foreign flag ships soliciting business in the United States."

The Yarmouth Castle flew the Panamanian flag.

Greater Boston Gang War Marks Bloodiest Single Day

BOSTON (AP) — The Greater Boston gang war has claimed three victims in the bloodiest single day of the 20-month-old vendetta.

The bodies of victims No. 27 and No. 28 were found Monday night in the Mickey Mouse cafe at nearby Revere Beach.

They were Raymond Distasio, 35, of Medford, the cafe's daytime bartender, and John B. O'Neill, 26, of Revere, a customer who lived nearby.

Earlier in the day, the body of ex-convict Robert A. Palladino, 34, of Winchester was found beneath an elevated highway near Boston Garden.

All three had been shot in the back of the head. Police believe all the deaths are links in an endless chain of revenge killings between rival gangs of petty hoodlums.

Police said Distasio was shot twice in the back of the head and O'Neill three times. O'Neill also was shot in both arms, the chest and back.

His body was found close to the front door at the end of a trail of blood which indicated he had been fleeing, wounded, when he fell. Distasio's body was found sprawled in the middle of a dance floor at the rear of the cafe.

Police report Disitasio was a friend of John M. Schackleford, 31, of Wilmington who was wounded in his right arm Saturday in Charlestown. Schackleford told police he was sitting in a parked car and was shot by someone in a passing car.

O'Neill, who formerly lived in Whitefield, N.H., moved to Revere about three months ago with his wife and their four young children. Mrs. O'Neill said her husband worked in a Lynn shoe factory and they had planned to move to that city Monday night.

Distasio was the father of four children. The youngest is three months old.

The killings began in March 1964 with the shooting of William J. Sheridan, 21, of Dorchester after a christening party.

George P. McLaughlin, 37, has been sentenced to the electric chair for Sheridan's death.

McLaughlin's brother Edward J. (Punchy) McLaughlin, 48, was shot to death Oct. 20 while on his way to George's trial.

Nine days later, James J. (Buddy) McLean, 35, of Somerville was shot outside a Somerville nightclub.

Only George McLaughlin, who once was on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men, was well-known to other than Greater Boston authorities.

New Flat Car Is Completed By RS&P

The Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railway Co. has completed work on a new 135,000 pound capacity flat car for carrying bulk loads.

The new car, equipped with 304,500-pound capacity bins was completed in five days for Fabricated Metals, Inc. of San Leandro, Calif. It will be put on a run from Snyder to San Francisco and back via Corpus Christi, carrying grain starch, according to B. B. (Bear) Slone, chief mechanical superintendent.

He said the car is the result of a new patent, which should result in increased efficiency in moving bulk loads. "Each bin replaces a 55-gallon drum," he said. "The bins are square," he explained, "and can be moved with a fork lift whereas the drums are harder to handle. There is no lost space with a square bin as there is with a round drum."

Rain Slows Farm Activity

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers are trying to regain time lost during soggy weather, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Rains extended early last week from the Low Plains southeastward to the coast, with South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley receiving moisture for the second week.

The cotton crop is 46 per cent harvested and farmers await a freeze to defoliate plants. Damp mornings delayed strippers, and the weather also slowed sorghum combining. The sorghum crop is 93 per cent harvested.

Rain limited digging of cross timbers peanut crops, but South Texas peanuts crop are being gathered at full speed.

Wheat seeding is almost complete and on schedule with last year. Unseasonably warm weather and frequent rain has improved oat prospects, and 91 per cent of the crop is planted.

Wet weather stopped most vegetable activity in the Rio Grande Valley, but cucumbers are moving in fair volume at Laredo, San Antonio - Winter Garden vegetables are almost ready to harvest.

Three Die In Crash

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —A head-on crash near here on U.S. 41 Monday killed Jimmy Neely, 21, of Gainesville, Tex., and Clifton Mimms, 65, and his wife, 54 of Washington, D. C.

Death Is Ruled Justifiable Homicide

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP) —City Judge Hubbard Hathvin ruled justifiable homicide Monday in the shooting of Billy Mossir Ruth, 43, of Denison, Tex.

A shot killed Ruth early Sunday at the door of the motel room where James Smoak and his wife of Jefferson, Tex., were staying. Ruth had a room close by.

Smoak testified he fired because Ruth, with a knife in one hand, was trying to force his way into the couple's room. Methvin dismissed a second degree murder charge against Smoak.

Cold Snap Hits Europe

LONDON (AP) — Icy winds seethed across Europe today and temperatures plummetted as the continent shivered in an unusual mid-November freeze.

The arctic air mass, which dumped snow from the Atlantic to Siberia, caught Britain's nationalized electricty and gas undertakings unprepared and the nation faced trouble tonight.

Large areas of the country were blacked out for an hour Monday night as soaring demand for electricity was placed on inadequate plants.

In the Alsace region of France, the grapes are being picked under a blanket of snow.

"I've never seen anything like this before," said one oldtimer.

The first fatality of the snap was reported from East Germany where a 4-year-old child drowned at Rosenthal when ice broke on the village pond.

Three young East Germans defied the cold, jumped into the near freezing waters of the River Elbe and swam to safety in the West.
