Govt. Injunction Halts Dock Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government today obtained a 10-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley law to halt the dock strike that has crippled ports from Maine to Texas nine days.

A full-scale resumption of work was expected Monday.

Union President William Bradley immediately wired locals in all struck ports instructing them to resume work.

Brooklyn dock leader Anthony Anastasia ordered his men to go back to work tomorrow morning, but it was not expected that full-scale work in all of the ports would be resumed before Monday morning.

The government will seek before the 10 days expire to have the order extended by agreement for the full 80-day "cooling off" period provided for in the law.

President Eisenhower initiated the action to halt the strike on the ground its continuance would "imperil the national health and safety."

Federal Judge Frederick van Pelt Bryan issued the temporary order on application of Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. George C. Doub, who flew here from Washington.

The International Longshoremen's Assn., independent, notified the court through its counsel, Louis Waldman, that it had no objection to the 10-day order.

The walkout of 60,000 ILA members from their cargo-handling jobs immobilized 200 or more ships along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

The strike started Nov. 15 in a contract dispute between the union and the New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms.

At issue were the questions of whether the contract would cover both the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, as the union wanted; the length of the contract, wages, and various other items.

Doub said he requested a 10-day temporary order to avoid a lengthy hearing and afford "immediate relief" in the strike.

He expressed hope all parties concerned would agree by stipulation within the 10 days to extend the injunction by 70 additional days to comprise the 80-day "cooling off" period provided for by the Taft-Hartley law.

If there is opposition to the extension, he said, a hearing would be held next week before Judge Bryan in an effort to obtain it by court order. Bryan set next Friday as the date for such a hearing, if one is needed.

The injunction is the third obtained under Taft-Hartley during the Eisenhower administration. Former President Truman invoked the provision 10 times following its passage in 1947.

The application for the injunction listed 13 defendants, including the ILA, the shipping association, and various other Atlantic and Gulf Coast employers.

Doub said he considered the union the "principal defendant." Of the others, he said: "I doubt very much if they object to this order."

Doub was dispatched to New York after a board of inquiry, appointed in conformance with the Taft-Hartley law, reported to President Eisenhower on the contract dispute.

The report made no recommendations, being confined by the law to a factual report on the issues.

One of the chief points of contention had been removed from the strike by a court order earlier this week. That was the demand by the union that the contract cover the entire Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, as opposed to separate contracts for each port.

4-DAY HOLIDAY FOR WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered a Christmas Eve holiday for federal employes.

His action gives them a four-day holiday since Christmas falls on a Tuesday.

UN Gets Stern On Troop Withdrawal

Dag Told To Build Up A Police Force

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)— The U. N. Assembly overwhelmingly called on Britain, France and Israel again today to withdraw from Egypt and gave Dag Hammarskjold wide powers to deploy the Middle East police force.

The Assembly renewed its demand despite an Israeli announcement that she had withdrawn two brigades, roughly 6,000 men, from Egypt and a British announcement moving up by 48 hours the departure of the first British battalion to be withdrawn from Port Said.

The Assembly voted 63-5 in favor of a resolution by 20 Asian-African countries calling once more for the withdrawal of the invaders and noting with regret previous Assembly demands were not obeyed. The United States voted for this resolution.

Then the Assembly voted 65-0 in favor of a resolution by Canada, Colombia, India, Norway, United States and Yugoslavia authorizing the secretary general to go ahead with his arrangements for building up the police force in Egypt and using it.

The Soviet bloc of nine countries abstained on this resolution.

The voting brought out sharply the continued split between the United States and its Western partners, Britain and France and wound up three days of acrimonious maneuvering for votes.

The United States, after wavering yesterday toward an abstention, came out firmly today in favor of the Asian-African resolution. This added to the bitterness of the British and French delegates against the United States.

Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and Israel were the five countries voting against the Asian-African resolution. Belgium, Canada, China, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Portugal and South Africa abstained and Nicaragua was absent.

The resolution giving the secretary general the powers he wanted to direct the emergency force also authorized him to go ahead with exploring practical arrangements and negotiations of agreements for clearing the Suez Canal. He has been talking with Danish and Dutch salvage firms and is ready to get to work immediately on a survey of the task.

Hammarskjold announced immediately after the vote that he has asked Gen. R. A. Wheeler, retired U. S. Army engineer and engineering consultant to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, to assist him in the technical organization of the work. Wheeler has served as engineer of maintenance of the Panama Canal and chief of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

John J. McCloy, chairman of the board of directors of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York City, will assist him on the business negotiations, and Col. Alfred G. Katzin, of South Africa, a deputy undersecretary general, will work with him on the secretariat side.

Before the final vote on the Asian-African resolution, the Assembly beat down an amendment offered by Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium. It would have softened the resolution by deleting any reference to regrets and simply expressing the hope they would expedite the withdrawals. It was defeated 37-23. There were 18 ab-

No Support For Nasser In U.S. Position

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The United States appears to be backing Egypt's demands for swift withdrawal of British, French and Israeli invasion forces without developing any real trust for President Nasser's Middle East policy.

In the view of top officials, the Egyptian leader deservedly faces a bleak, uncertain political future unless he drastically changes his near-fanatic efforts to rally the Arab world around him with Russian support.

This government has lined up behind Egypt in this case, they emphasized, because it is opposed to aggression by anyone—even its closest allies—not because Nasser's conduct of the past few weeks has changed the basic suspicion of him.

Despite what are considered to be surface appearances to the contrary, many officials here have concluded that Nasser's prestige and power is on the downgrade in areas where it counts.

Temporarily, they agreed, Nasser probably has slightly boosted his standing in the eyes of Arabs who credit him with mobilizing enough foreign support to block Britain and France from seizing the Suez Canal.

Offsetting this, however, is believed to be new opposition, most of it under cover, which has developed both within Egypt and among leaders of Nasser's wary Arab allies nearby.

The main aim of the Eisenhower administration seems to be to forge a policy of dealing with Nasser until it averts the immediate threat that the Middle East crisis may erupt into a bigger war.

Once British, French and Israeli troops are pulled out, it is felt, the economic and political pressures which have been shoved into the background temporarily will hit Nasser with full force, making his future shaky.

GI 'Turncoats' Are Coming Home

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Communists Chinese Red Cross has sent word to officials here that two more American "turncoats" GIs are coming home.

They are Aaron Wilson, 24, Urania, La., and Arley Pate, 26, Carbondale, Ill., former American soldiers who elected to stay in Red China after their capture in the Korean War.

Strike Board Calls For Injunction

A special inquiry board, named by President Eisenhower after he invoked the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law in the Atlantic and Gulf Coast longshoremen's strike, is pictured as it met in Washington. The board recommended a government injunction to end the strike for a "cooling off" period, and this was accomplished. Members are, left to right, Jacob J. Blair of Pittsburgh; Thomas W. Holland of Washington, chairman; and Arthur Stark of New York City. (AP Wirephoto).

Demand Nagy's Return To Take Hungary Reins

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 24 (AP)—The General Workers' Council of Greater Budapest demanded tonight that the kidnaped former Premier Imre Nagy be brought back and installed as head of the Hungarian government.

(This coincided with a demand by Yugoslavia that the Hungarian government live up to its promise and either permit Nagy to return to his home in Budapest or take up refuge in Yugoslavia. President Tito's government said it did not believe Nagy went to Romania of his own free will, as the Hungarian government declared.)

The council claims to represent all the workers of the capital and 65 per cent of those in the rest of the country. It asked Premier Janos Kadar's government to disclose through Budapest radio Nagy's present whereabouts and "the true circumstances of his departure."

The council requested that a three-member delegation be permitted to visit Nagy personally "wherever he is."

Council members scoffed at the government version of Nagy's "voluntary" departure for Romania, saying they didn't believe a word of it.

A five-member committee investigated Nagy's disappearance and reported that the version published by the Yugoslav press apparently was correct.

"If this is true, the Hungarian workers will give a resounding answer," a member of the council added.

He said the workers are clinging to all their demands on the Kadar government including the reinstatement of Nagy and the withdrawal of Russian troops from Budapest.

"We want to know where Nagy is and when we find him, we want him to return as prime minister," the council member said.

But the council advised workers not to launch another strike because "workers have to live."

Leaders of the council said Hungary loses about 27 million dollars a day when production is at a complete standstill and "ultimately the workers have to pay for that."

"We have proved to the world where we stand with the unprecedented general strike of the entire industry of the whole nation," leaders added.

Belgrade Joins In Nagy Demand

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 24 (AP)—Yugoslavia sent notes to Hungary and the Soviet Union tonight demanding that former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy be allowed to return to his home or come to Yugoslavia.

The note to Moscow charged Soviet officials in Budapest prevented the Hungarian government from carrying out its agreement with Yugoslavia guaranteeing Nagy's safe conduct to his home.

It demanded the Soviet Union "do everything necessary" to see that this agreement is observed.

The Yugoslav note to Hungary was a sharp protest. It declared disbelief in yesterday's official Hungarian announcement that Nagy and a party of 51 went to Communist Romania of their own free will after they left asylum in the Yugoslav Budapest Embassy Thursday.

The note to Moscow was presented to Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Firjubin. With it went a copy of the note to Hungary.

Airliner Crash Takes 23 Lives

GRIESSEN, Germany, Nov. 24 (AP) — A two-engined Czechoslovak airliner crashed at the Swiss-German border tonight, killing all 23 passengers and crew, German customs authorities reported.

Eyewitnesses reported they saw the blazing plane tumble to earth about 500 yards inside Swiss territory after an explosion. Bodies were burned beyond immediate identification.

The plane crashed into an open field near the Swiss customs office of Wasterkingen at about 6:20 p.m. Swiss time, Klothen Airport authorities said.

Among the victims was a 10-man delegation from Communist China. The rest were Czechoslovakians. The cause of the explosion was not known.

Mexico Bus Mishap Kills 20 Persons

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24 (AP) — At least 20 persons were reported killed and 24 injured near here today when a bus, crushed between two locomotives, exploded and burned.

The accident occurred this afternoon at Mixcoac, on the Cuernavaca Highway south of Mexico City, during a heavy rain.

Pennsylvania City Digging Out From Two-Foot Snowfall

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP) — This city of 130,000 on the southeastern shore of Lake Erie struggled today to shake the effects of a paralyzing two-foot snowfall.

Highway workers, National Guardsmen and volunteers labored to clear snowbound roads and streets. A few buses and autos inched along icy, snow-covered highways.

A number of stores, restaurants and cafes were open, but only a few customers trickled in.

The Weather Bureau forecast possibly more heavy snow for the area.

The snow swirled into this area Thanksgiving Day, piling up drifts that half-buried autos, buses and trucks. Hundreds of motorists were stranded.

The snow stretched about 150 miles along the southeastern shore of Lake Erie from Buffalo, N. Y., through the northwestern tip of Pennsylvania and 50 miles west of here into Ohio.

A few highways running south from Erie were reported open. Routes 5 and 20, the main links between Cleveland and Buffalo, were partly open. Traffic was reported moving on both arteries in the direction of Buffalo.

To the west, Route 5 was open as far as Route 98, which runs southward toward Fairview. Route 20 was open to westbound traffic between Erie and Fairview.

Trains still ran behind schedule. Two buses left the city this morning—one headed for Pittsburgh and the other for Buffalo.

A number of business establishments remained open, operating with skeleton crews.

Western New York State was trying to battle its way out of a four-foot blanket of snow. The snow spread out east and south of Buffalo.

Search parties trudged through drifts seeking any motorists or hunters who may have been stranded as the temperature dived to zero in some places.

At least four deaths were attributed to the weather in New York.

Coldest Weather Of Season In Eastern Part Of U. S.

By The Associated Press

Erie, Pa., and western New York State dug out of heavy snow Saturday and most of the eastern part of the country had the coldest weather of the season.

The cold spread from the Middle Mississippi Valley northeastward into New England and southward into portions of the South Atlantic states.

The temperature fell to 10 below zero at Oakland, in the western Maryland Mountains. Other readings in Maryland ranged from 10 to 19 above. The cold snapped telephone lines in some areas.

Fargo, N. D., had 2 below overnight. Even Vandalia, in south-central Illinois, had a minimum of 3. Saranac Lake, N. Y., had 11 below.

Atop Mt. Washington, in New Hampshire, the thermometer fell to 13 below and winds were 55 m.p.h.

Meanwhile, the Weather Bureau forecast the possibility of more heavy snow.

The snow belt ranged about 150 miles along the southeastern shore of Lake Erie in New York, through the northeastern tip of Pennsylvania and 50 miles west of Erie into Ohio.

Western New York State also was fighting its way out of a four-foot snow blanket. Searching parties trudged through drifts to seek motorists or hunters who might have been stranded in the snow and cold.

Although the cold spread into the south, winds brought dry air into Florida and kept temperatures above the danger point Saturday. Little damage was reported to vegetable crops.

Slays Wife, Then Has Fatal Attack

SEALY, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—Peace Justice John Matejka ruled murder and death by heart attack in the deaths of Willie Fiendeisen, 82, and his wife, Emma, 70, today.

Matejka said Findeisen apparently wounded his wife with a shotgun, then beat her to death with a spade handle. He died of a heart attack a few minutes later.

Ike's Life Murals Are Presented

ABILENE, Kan., Nov. 24 (AP)—Fourteen murals, depicting President Eisenhower's life from his barefoot days in this dusty Kansas town to the White House, were unveiled here today.

A university chancellor called them a symbol of American democracy.

Two excited Eastern artists, who collected $50,000 and spent two years on the paintings, passed out autographs to the plaudits of a crowd of between 1,500 and 2,000 Midwesterners at the Eisenhower Museum.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

We didn't add traffic death No. 24 for Howard County during the week, although C. A. Smauley narrowly missed that distinction when his car overturned east of here. But a traffic death in the lower valley was just as numbing. A crash near LaFeria claimed the life of young Guy Knowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Knowles.

The weatherman produced some rather crisp readings for the past week. That probably rules out early repetition of an awesome experience for John Annen. Not long ago John turned on the air conditioner. There was blood-curdling bedlam and out of the duct sailed a pussy cat. Somehow the creature had bedded down in the blower.

PLOT AND COUNTERPLOT CREATE TENSION

Feeling Of Doom In Near East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 24 (AP)—You cannot escape a feeling of impending disaster.

It is as if this part of the world waits helplessly for a stream of senseless events to explode in a fury of suicidal insanity.

The whole fertile crescent area—Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Jordan—is in ferment. Plot moves against counterplot until the distinction between friend and enemy is blurred.

Sinister forces work in the shadows. Moslem again Christian, Arab against Arab, all of them professed enemies to the death of Israel.

Rumors fly on the winds of gossip—rumors of religious strife in store for half-Christian, half-Moslem Lebanon and elsewhere in the Arab Near East; rumors of activities by agents for the Russians, agents for the British and French, agents for Egyptians, Syrians.

Grim soldiers stand guard night and day, not only over British and French installations, the likely targets of terror attacks, but over installations of their own Arab allies. Nobody knows when or where violence might explode like a sudden storm. There are so many cross purposes in this confused and tortured Arab world that almost anybody can be the target.

This lovely city of Beirut, normally a Mediterranean pearl of peace, has come to fear even the appearance of calm. Looking westward, Beirut senses danger in the solution of a dangerous problem—just one more of the paradoxes which bedevil the Middle East.

Lebanese expect the British and French will get out of Egypt under the pressure of the United Nations. What happens then, when this dangerous problem is solved? Another one arises:

Israel already has said she will not give up the Gaza Strip, from which the Egyptians were driven in the invasion last month. She is not likely to want to give up the two Tiran Islands which control the Gulf of Aqaba.

If she does not, this must mean war. Gamal Abdei Nasser of Egypt, if he is to save face and remain leader of Egypt and the Arabs, must move against the Israelis. War then promises to spread through the Near East.

In a situation where public emotions have been so stirred to passion, Arab leaders find themselves in the position of having to follow the masses. When an intimidating demonstration is needed in Damascus, for example, demonstrators are brought in by the busload. Leaders are paid. Some demonstrators might receive a few piasters each, but for the most part, out of the boredom of youth, they go along for the joyride.

The same is true of Iraq and Jordan. The potential for violence and for pressure on governments is enormous.

In Lebanon, an emergency government, predominantly Christian, rules with a firm hand and with the intelligent cooperation of the army under the new and able defense minister, Gen. Fouad Shehab. His biggest job is to prevent acts of terror from burgeoning into widespread and uncontrolled violence. His army, reportedly swelled now from its former 6,000 to 10,000 men, seems capable of doing the job.

But in a sense every Near East country is at the mercy of what happens in the other Arab countries. This is the source of this prevalent sense of foreboding.

The hospital arranged to have the four moved from separate rooms and floors into one room for the reunion.

C Of C Joins National Better Business Bureau

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has joined the National Better Business Bureau, J. B. Wiginton C-C president, announced Saturday.

The Better Business Bureau is a national organization, including more than 800 chambers of commerce, set up to warn members and the public against fraudulent promotions and unfair business practices, Wiginton said.

"As a member of the Bureau, we will receive monthly bulletins alerting us to the sharp promoters and schemes operating in other sections. In addition, we will have access to the Bureau's files and are entitled to special reports on any inquiry we make.

"While this program is not a cure-all and will not stop all the abuses practiced by a minority who operate on the fringe of business, it will give the community greater control over them and provide it with a channel through which investigation and correction can be made," said Wiginton.

He emphasized that the program can best serve the community only if the community makes use of it. He urged the public to be especially cautious of any propositions which promises "something for nothing."

"As with all programs of the Chamber of Commerce, this one can be successful only if we have the cooperation of the community. A check with the Chamber of Commerce may save time, money and worry. It pays to "investigate before you invest,' " he said.

Hankins reported no pledges have come in from the employes division of the drive but that $222 had been reported in initial statement from the division on Thursday afternoon. He attributed the absence of pledges to the small number of firms contacted so far.

Employes division is expected to snowball this week as an intensive drive is launched to wind up the drive within the next seven days.

Courts, Lawyers Adhere To Old Ceremonies, Tradition

Much of the awe that courts of justice instill in the minds of lay spectators stems from the strict adherence of such institutions to standard formalities and sometimes stiff ceremonies in connection with their operation.

Many customs still tracked by the law courts trace back into ancient history. They are traditional — just as the legal phraseology employed in even the simplest of legal documents had its origin in the earliest days of courts of law.

Courts are still formally opened by the time honored practice of an officer loudly announcing:

"Oyez! Oyez! The Honorable District court of Howard County is now in session. If you have business with the court come forward and you will be heard."

Time was when it was the practice of the town crier to parade the streets of ancient cities on the days when the courts convened proclaiming in very nearly the same words the news that the court was in session. Today the announcement is made only in the courtroom or, as is the case in Big Spring, through an open window from the upper floor of the court house.

When a defendant is called for trial and fails to answer it is within the power of the judge to forfeit the bond posted for his appearance.

In such instances, the court orders the sheriff or a deputy to "forfeit the bond."

The officer steps in front of the bench and calls out: "John Doe, John Doe, John Doe. Come into court and save recognizance. Richard Roe. Richard Roe. Richard Roe. Come into court and save recognizance."

In the old days, it was the duty of the bailiff of the court to make such announcement in the streets. The bondsmen whose names were called were thus warned their client had failed to appear.

Some simplification in the language of legal papers has developed in the last century but in many states the same form, the same words and the same punctuation has to be employed in all documents to make them legally valid.

Thus, in murder complaints, the reading is often somewhat as follows:

"That John Doe, aforesaid, armed with a firearm, to-wit a rifle, then and there loaded with powder and leaden bullets, did fire and cause to be fired such firearm, a rifle, loaded as aforesaid, into and against the body of one Richard Roe, inflicting certain mortal wounds upon the said body of the said Richard Roe of which he did languish and die as was the intent, purpose and intention of the said John Doe contrary to the law and against the peace and dignity of the county and state."

Actually all John Doe did was take a gun and shoot Richard Roe, causing his death. In the old days, omission of one single word from the formal complaint or alteration of any phrase of punctuation could lead to the indictment being thrown out of court.

Many of the old phrases still cling just as do many of the old ceremonies and rituals still followed in courts.

Many laymen are inclined to regard such stilted proceedings as kokum which they think attorneys and judges pursue for the sole purpose of impressing the layman. The Texas Bar Association, aware of this prevailing view, recently issued a statement on what it calls "lawyer talk."

Said the Bar Association:

"Many persons feel that the whereases, aforesaids, and other legal verbiage used by lawyers are intended only to confound and confuse the layman.

"Nothing could be further from the truth. In drafting legal documents, the lawyer attempts to draft them in such a way as to exclude all ambiguities. In the last analysis, a legal document means what some court at some future time shall declare that it means. As a consequence, it is the lawyer's duty to his client to attempt to draft the instrument in such a way that it can mean only one thing.

"Most any paragraph of non-legal language contains numerous ambiguities. When a lawyer refers to the deed aforesaid, he is attempting to make it clear beyond question that the deed he is referring to is the deed mentioned in a prior portion of the instrument. Likewise, when he prefaces a legal document with a long list of whereases, he is simply reciting pertinent facts for the benefit of the court to show the facts of the situation that lead to the execution of the instrument.

"The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that to the trained analyst such language is susceptible of several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the draftsman's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.

"Another reason why layers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus, most deeds declare that the grantor by these presents does grant, sell, and convey the land in question to the grantee. Each of the words recited has a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and consequently the lawyer knows in using them that their meaning is settled, and that they will operate to properly transfer the title. He would be inviting litigation for his client, if instead of using those words, he devised new language to express the same purpose. He could only say,, 'While I think the languages that I have used will accomplish the purpose, I cannot be sure of it.'

"As a consequence, the lawyer, in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time-tested language instead of experimenting with new language."

Cotton Yield Just Past 2,000 Bales

The cotton harvest wasn't any major industry in Howard County this year. It was slim pickings for both the farmers and boll pullers. Friday afternoon the four Big Spring gins had turned out only 2,196 bales, and managers say the harvest is drawing to an end.

Some of the cotton came from Glasscock, but about 2,000 bales were raised in Howard County. Also a little late cotton from Martin County has been trickling into Big Spring.

"We are almost finished," said gin manager A. C. Kloven. "There's a little left, but few bales are coming in now. Much of the cotton is filled with sand, and some bales weighing 3,000 pounds are required to turn out 500 pounds of lint cotton. If we got a good rain, I believe farmers would plow under some of the most scattering cotton."

Gordon Hodnett, another gin manager, says he had already ginned more than he expected a few weeks ago. However when the Vincent gin closed down, some of the remaining cotton was brought to his gin.

One thing to offset the cost of harvesting the sandy cotton has been the increased price of cottonseed, Hodnett said seed was now selling for $65.00 a ton, with each bale averaging about 700 to 800 pounds of seed.

The Lomax gin has done fairly well this year, with over 1,100 bales already ginned and another 150 or 200 expected. Manager Cecil Long said much of this came from Glasscock County.

Irrigated cotton produced well this year, but dryland fields made very little. The best dryland cotton came from the Lee's community in Glasscock County, according to Long.

The Vincent gin stopped operations a few weeks ago after ginning around 275 bales. About a third of this came from north of Vincent in Borden County.

AT JUNIOR HIGH

Choir Practicing For Thanksgiving

By ANNE ROBINSON

This year of 56-57 is the most promising yet at Junior High, so we would like to keep you up to date on the things going on around BSJH. I sincerely hope you enjoy reading these junior high "yaks" as much as we enjoy writing them. I hope this item will come out every Friday in the Daily Herald so don't miss it.

To start things off I will introduce those who are working with me. They are: Judy Perdue — assistant editor; Lana Wren, ninth grade reporter; Judy Foster, eighth grade reporter; Diann Baker, seventh grade reporter. We will be trying our best to bring to you the news you want to hear.

Perhaps you would like to meet the officers of the ninth grade. They are Bill Engle, president; Bonnie Everett, vice president; and Delores Howard, secretary.

The eighth grade officers are Carrie King, president; Linda Liner, vice president; Fredda Bonfield, secretary-treasurer.

The officers elected for the seventh grade are; president, Gail Potter; vice president, Karon Koger; secretary, LaJuan McPhearson.

The calendar of activities for next week includes: MONDAY — 9th grade Tri-Hi-Y meets. TUESDAY—8th and 9th grade Hi-Y meets. WEDNESDAY — 7th and 8th grade Tri-Hi-Y meets. FRIDAY— Date night. SUNDAY — See you in church.

* * *

The seventh grade Tri-Hi-Y got off to a good start with 55 regular members attending. Officers elected were Katie Bess Morgan, president; Gail Patton, vice president; Joan Jordan, secretary; LaJuan McPherson, treasurer; Judy Jilleane, chaplain. The club plans a dance for Thanksgiving.

Eighth grade Tri-Hi-Y officers are Mary Reed, president; Fredda Bonfield, vice president; Jane Guin, secretary; Judy Foster, treasurer; Cleo Thomas, reporter; Sally Adair, parliamentarian; Juanita Janak, chaplain; Lillian Burnett, historian; Jackie Clark, song leader. They are also having a dance, Friday, Nov. 23.

The officers of the ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y are Carol Phillips, president; Pat Johnson, vice president; Carolyn Sewell, secretary; Lana Wren, treasurer; Carolyn Washington, parliamentarian; Marilyn Mann, historian and reporter; Jane Cowper, chaplain. The club's latest project was a rummage sale to make money to send to World Service. Fifty dollars were taken in from the sale.

There has been a lot of commotion in the former Central Ward building lately, early in the morning. The choir has been practicing under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Gambill, for the Thanksgiving program which is to be presented Wednesday Nov. 28. We have been learning some new songs and relearning the old ones.

Not too long ago some of the choir members made a trip to Lubbock to see the Fred Waring concert. They left early Sunday morning and got back late Sunday night. The concert was enjoyed by everyone and they came out wishing there was more of it.

Last Tuesday night the FHA boys had their annual district banquet where they crowned their sweetheart. They had voted on candidates at the first of school.

The contestants were Carolyn Sewell and Luan Lawson from Junior High, and Sue Barnes from senior high; Luan Lawson won the honors. For the last two years a girl from junior high has won. At the banquet there were six sweethearts and 100 boys. There was plenty of competition around at the banquet. We were very happy that Luan had a good standing with her placing third in the contest for sweetheart, with Odessa first and Midland second.

Quite a few parties have been going on lately. Linda Liner gave a slumber party in her home Saturday. Some of the kids attending the party were: Malinda Crocker, Linda Green, Judy Foster, Cleo Thomas, Joyce Gunn, Betty Boykin, Shirley Terry and many more. Another party was held at Ann Robinson's house on Friday. Lana Wren, Gloria Coker, Mary Ella Bain, Betty Lou Jones, and Judy Perdue were her guests.

Another club continuing its activities this year is the Ninth Grade Spanish Club. Members attended the second meeting of the club Friday. The Spanish Club this year is under the leadership of Mrs. Margaret McMillin. The officers are Luan Phillips, president; Carol Phillips, vice president; Shirley Terry, parliamentarian; Marilyn Bigham, secretary-treasurer. Joe Rodriquez, reporter.

Miss Billie Clyburn's P. E. classes, consisting of eighth and ninth grade girls, have been having a volleyball tournament. They play in the mornings in the gym. The Rocketeers, Miss Clyburn's sixth period class, have won first place with six wins and no losses. The consolation winners were the Stardusters. They won red ribbons. Blue ribbons were received by Diann Allen, Joan Bratcher, Betty Ellison, Shirley Killough, Kay Dimpfl, and Netta Kay Lewis.

The YMCA was the scene of a ninth grade Hi-Y dance last Saturday. Some of the kids attending were Larry Knight, Betty Lou Jones; Pat Johnson, Bud Fox; Carol Phillips, James Drake, Sherry Lurting, Bugs Wright, Donald Dorsey, Shirley Terry, Jerry Hutchins, Terry Lewis, Ann Robinson, Alvin Utley, Marilyn Mann, Jackie Richbourg, Marilyn Bigham, and Judy Perdue.

* * *

Kids you can breathe a sigh of relief now test week is over. Hope you made good.

If you noticed unusual disturbance around Junior High during the past week it was only due to the fact that our principal, Mr. Thomas E. Earnest was in El Paso attending a business meeting.

Two weeks ago, Tuesday we had our last pep rally for football season. We will continue these when basketball season begins. We would like to give our thanks to the cheer leaders for the fine work they have done. The cheer leaders this year are Shirley Terry, Marilyn Bigham, Linda Liner, Fredda Bonfield, Pat Johnson, and Mary Reed.

Tuesday night the eighth and ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y had a combined social at the Y after their meetings.

McMurry Band To Play Here Next Sunday

ABILENE—Clinton Wood, son of J. W. Wood of Coahoma, will make a four-day concert tour with the McMurry Indian Band Dec. 2-5, playing for church congregations and high school audiences in seven West Texas cities.

A graduate of Coahoma High School, Wood was a member of the band where he played the clarinet. He was also a member of Future Farmers of America at Coahoma.

Raymond T. Bynum, McMurry director, said that the band will play in Big Spring, Odessa, Midland, Seminole, Andrews, Lamesa and Snyder on the winter tour.

The McMurrians will leave Abilene early Dec. 2 morning and give their first concert at 7:30 p.m., that day in the First Methodist Church of Big Spring.

Final concert of the tour is scheduled for 10:30 a.m., Dec. 5, at Snyder High School, after which the band will return to Abilene. They will travel in two McMurry College buses.

The band's church program, on the theme "Let us worship through music," will be presented in the Big Spring church.

Remainder of the concerts, all slated for high school assembly programs, will feature marches, symphonic selections, solos, specialty numbers, and Latin American rhythms, Bynum said.

Oil - Gas Shortage Puts Tight Clamp On Europe

LONDON, Nov. 24 (AP) — European motoring shifted into low gear this weekend as governments clamped down on their dwindling oil stocks.

Homes and industries, too, felt the pinch from the closing of the Suez Canal, a shortcut for tankers that supply Western Europe a large part of its oil from Middle Eastern fields.

The brief war on Egypt by Israel, France and Britain had left the canal so clogged by wreckage there was little hope it could be cleared before spring. The French were among those hardest hit.

French gasoline pumps closed on government orders from 2 p.m. today until 6 a.m. Monday. Only one filling station out of every 10 opened in Paris this morning.

Token rationing was imposed on the hundreds of officers at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military headquarters —SHAPE—near Paris. By SHAPE orders, each will get only one full tank a week for his private car.

It was understood the command, now headed by U.S. Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad, wished to show its staff was not getting preferential treatment in view of the French difficulties. A full tank a week, of course, will permit considerable driving. Military vehicles were not affected.

Continuous hot water in Paris apartment houses became as rare as a cheap meal, and many radiators were barely warm.

Sweden banned all private car traffic for the weekend. The Stockholm government slashed all oil deliveries to industry and to oil heated houses by 30 to 50 per cent.

Denmark's motorists will spend a large part of Sunday lining up for coupons for gasoline rationing expected to start in about a week. The Danish government seeks to cut fuel consumption by a third.

Britain's minister of fuel and power, Aubrey Jones, urgently appealed to all motorists to cut out weekend driving.

Gasoline rationing going into effect Dec. 17 will limit the British motorist to 200 miles of driving a month, but a rigid system of self-rationing was already working at many filling stations and garages.

The Ford Motor Co., said some of its 35,000 employes will go on a shorter working week because of a slump in the domestic demand for new cars.

In Italy, motorists were asked to curtail unnecessary driving. But they could buy all the gasoline they wanted—at prices that ran as high as a dollar a gallon.

Norway's order to oil companies to cut sales by 10 per cent was working well. The government has denied it plans to ration gas.

The only effect of the Suez crisis on West Germany's gasoline situation, so far, is a price increase of a cent a gallon.

Belgium's economic affairs minister, Jean Rey, said Sunday driving would be banned for the first time tomorrow from 4 a.m. to nidnight. In following weeks Belgians must not drive from midnight Saturday until Sunday midnight.

"This is just a first measure," Rey said. "I am afraid Belgians do not realize how grave the situation is."

The Netherlands slapped its first ban on Sunday driving. Excepted were foreigners, diplomats, reporters and drivers of "emergency" vehicles. Economic Minister Jelle Zijilstra warned there would be heavy fines for violators.

Homecoming Queen Crowned At Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 24 — Jeannene Pieper was crowned Homecoming Queen Friday night at half time ceremonies of the Snyder-Lamesa game.

After placing the crown on Miss Pieper, Jim Barr, president of the student council, presented her with a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pieper. In addition to other school activities she is a majorette in the Golden Tornado band and social chairman of the Booster Club.

Linda Hamilton, head cheer leader, in charge of homecoming activities presented the princesses junior candidate, Bobbie Jo Wright; sophomore, Tahita Neimeyer and freshman, Patsy McMullen with corsages.

Preceeding the crowning of the queen the Golden Tornado Band formed "Dad" in honor of the fathers of past and present football players who have been on the team.

A special salute went to Vincent Chapman, who has had four sons to play on Tornado teams.

Six mothers of football players, whose fathers are dead, were also honored. They are Mrs. C. L. Schmidt, Mrs. Bowen Cox, Mrs. Leveta Thompson, Mrs. D. J. Bolch, Mrs. Jessie Boardman and Mrs. Etta Dunbar.

Following the forming of the block T, Linda Peterson, escorted by Allan Bratcher, vice president of the band, was crowned band sweetheart by Rex Duke, band president. She was presented a bouquet of yellow roses.

Escorted by Kenneth Hubbard, president of the senior class, Linda Warren was crowned football sweetheart by Roger Shipp, captain of the Golden Tornado team and presented with a bouqet of white mums.

Following the game, a reception was held at the high school cafeteria. Jim Barr gave the welcome to the ex-students with Linda Hamilton welcoming the fathers and mothers. Julia Holder and Richard Evans sang. The evening was spent in dancing and games.

The serving table was laid with a yellow cloth, a cornucopia filled with glittering fruit, flanked by black tapers forming the centerpiece. Mothers of the cheerleaders, student council officers and majorettes were in charge of the reception which honored ex-students and band parents of students. Guests were registered at a table which featured a golden football helmet filled with mums.

THROUGH CAA TRANSFER

County Due To Get Wink Air Beacon

Howard County Commissioners Court will probably make plans Monday to inspect and to remove an airport beacon from its present location near Wink to Big Spring.

The beacon and its tower were given to the county by the Civil Aeronautics Authority for erection on the new Howard County airport to be built in 1957. It was specified in the letter announcing that the CAA would give the equipment to the county that the county must dismantle the beacon and remove it from the present site. The CAA wanted the removal completed as quickly as possible.

The gift will represent a saving of several thousand dollars to the county, R. H. Weaver, county judge, said. He added that he believed the commission would probably send someone to inspect the beacon ahead of the crew to do the actual wrecking.

The CAA said that no restoration of the present site after the demolition had been completed would be required other than refilling of any holes which were at the site.

The beacon will be brought to Big Spring and stored pending time to place it on the new county airport site. Weaver explained the county had made a request to the CAA for the gift of the beacon some months ago and that it was not uncommon for the agency to make such disposition of excess equipment it might have on hand.

Funds for the construction of the new half-million dollar county airport are now on deposit to the county's credit in a Big Spring bank. The money was derived from sale of improvement bonds voted last summer by the county.

Weaver has announced that it is planned to begin negotiations immediately with the owners of the land which has been selected as site for the airport.

The site is about four miles north and east of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway.

Man Missing Since Oct. 20

Esquio A. Ruiz, young Spanish-American, has been missing from Big Spring and out of touch with all relatives and friends since Oct. 20.

Sheriff's officers have been asked by the relatives to help locate the man.

Fred Taylor, deputy sheriff, said that Ruiz, who has a good reputation in the community, was last seen on Oct. 20. On that date, the deputy was told, Ruiz told relatives he was going to Stanton to work in the cotton compress.

He was seen getting into a car with another Spanish - American who was not known to any of Ruiz' acquaintances. Ruiz took none of his personal belongings with him and indicated he would be in Stanton only a short time.

Nothing has been heard of him since that date and relatives are alarmed. They fear he may have met with foul play.

Taylor said that preliminary investigation has not revealed any clues as to Ruiz' present whereabouts.

Toy Collection Is Going Slow

Collections of toys by the fire department are still lagging, officials report.

The fire department and Shell dealers here annually collect toys and the firemen repair them for underprivileged children at Christmas. But this year, the firemen will not have many toys to repair unless more come in than have so far.

The drive opened Nov. 15, but thus far, only a small amount of toys have been turned in at the fire station.

The fire department and Shell officials urged citizens to bring toys by any Shell service station or any of the four fire stations. These toys will be repaired and taken to the distribution station — this year it will be at the Tidwell building at Third and Johnson — to be given to the children there.

Fire stations are located at the city hall, at 18th and Main, Eleventh and Birdwell, and N. Main and Eighth.

Hearing Set On Contest Of Reservoir Site Cost

A Howard County Court jury will be called upon Monday to decide if $12,500 was too much for the city of Big Spring to pay for a hilltop in southeast Big Spring on which a water storage reservoir is being built.

The case, set for trial in county court before Judge R. H. Weaver and a county court jury, is on an appeal from the ruling of a special appraisal commission setting damages payable to the owner of the land at $12,500.

The land is a part of the W. K. Edwards estate. The appraisal was made and the damages set last March 26. The city proceeded with its construction of the storage reservoir but appealed from the findings of the special commission.

Weaver said the appeals case would be one of probably two civil cases he will hear in county court this coming week.

A jury panel has been notified to be in the court room Monday morning.

Commissioners who made the appraisal and set $12,500 as fair compensation to the Edwards estate for the land the city wanted were Thomas Hutto, Lawrence Robinson and R. V. Middleton.

Construction work on the storage reservoir is not yet completed.

Guy Knowles Rites At 3 P.M. Today

Funeral services for Guy T. Knowles, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Knowles, Big Spring, are scheduled for 4 p.m. today in the Presbyterian Church in Lubbock. The church is located at 33rd and Indiana Streets.

Young Knowles, who was prominent in state musical circles, was killed in a car accident near La Feria on Thursday morning.

He was band director at Mercedes and was en route home from La Feria, which is near Mercedes, when his car and another driven by Mrs. J. C. Overdiek, Welasco, collided.

Knowles is survived by his parents and his wife.

Cage Officials Meet Wednesday

Efforts will be made to organize a basketball officials' body for Howard County at an open meeting in the Phillips conference room, second floor of the Permian building, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

All persons who desire to call ball games within the area have an open invitation to attend the parley.

Organization of such a group should make it easier for coaches in the area to hire officials in the future, a spokesman stated.

Grease On Fire

Firemen answered a call Saturday morning that was nothing but a pan of grease afire on a stove. The call was to the Settles Hotel. No damage was sustained, firemen reported.

SCVAK Phone System Sold To Wes-Tex Cooperative

Sale of the SCVAK Telephone, Inc. to the West-Tex Telephone Cooperative was announced here Friday evening by W. D. Berry, SCVAK president.

The transaction will clear the way for development of new rural areas, said O. B. Bryan, manager of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative from which Wes-Tex originally issued. He predicted that action would be comparatively rapid inasmuch as engineering has been firmed on Berry's proposed development.

Included in the trade are the existing physical facilities in the Ackerly and Knott exchanges which serve between 110 and 120 customers. Although the trade is effective immediately, it will be in force as of Dec. 1 as far as customer billing is concerned.

Wes-Tex already has service in this area, operating exchanges out of West Stanton, Lenorah, Lomax and Luther. The West Stanton and Lenorah exchanges have extended area (local call) service through Stanton exchange, while Luther and Lomax have extended area privileges through Big Spring.

No figures were announced in the deal.

Berry said he had cancelled his REA loan applications, both approved, in the amount of $467,000 and $63,000. Presumably, Wes-Tex will reapply for these or such part as may be needed.

Besides the Ackerly-Knott service, SCVAK had territorial rights on Sparenburg in southern Dawson, Vincent in northeastern Howard, and Sand Springs in eastern Howard. Bryan daid that Wes-Tex contemplated no activity in the Sand Springs area.

Berry has turned over all engineering on the proposed service. He said that customer deposits would be refunded, but that persons who had posted the deposits could reassign them to Wes-Tex if they wished service. Bryan said Wes-Tex would accept new applications through the offices in Stanton.

While work will be contingent upon approval of the REA rural telephone loan, Bryan said that contracts would be let as soon as possible. The task of signing prospective customers will start at once.

The Wes-Tex board, headed by A. A. McKinney, Big Spring, president, and Berry had come to terms nearly two months ago and the SCVAK directors and stockholders approved the sale on Oct. 27. SCVAK will maintain its corporate status, said Berry.

Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative came into being late in 1949 and was formally organized on Jan. 5, 1950. Contracts for construction were let late in April of 1953.

Berry, who then operated as the Ackerly-Knott Telephone Company, had announced in January of 1949 that he was planning extensive rural telephone development. There arose some territorial problems between the two groups and Southwestern Bell, but most of these ultimately were worked out. On April 11, 1950 Berry had offered to sell the Ackerly-Knott facilities to Wes-Tex but the deal never materialized.

It was during World War II that Berry first applied and got approval for materials to construct the Ackerly-Knott exchanges. This put him in a position to pioneer in dial telephones in this part of West Texas, for long before any cities in this area had such service, patrons on the two exchanges were using dial service.

HCJC Credits In Good Standing

Howard County will not have to send a representative before the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools accreditation committee this year.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that the committee had examined HCJC records and apparently found everything satisfactory. HCJC was admitted to the Southern Association last year, but for three years it must report to the committee to substantiate the maintenance of satisfactory standards.

Dr. Hunt is to be on the association's legislative committee and is due to attend the annual meeting set for Dec. 2-5 in Dallas.

Slav Troops Violate UN Neutrality

By LEONARD LEDDINGTON
AP Staff Writer Representing The American Press

PORT SAID, Nov. 24 (AP)—United Nations sources arriving in Port Said said today Yugoslavia's U.N. troops now behind Egyptian lines were openly instructing Egyptian soldiers in military matters.

The sources, who declined to be named, said these first Communist troops arriving in the Ismailia area made no attempt to comply with the neutral nonfraternizing role assigned to the impartial U. N. forces. They said the Yugoslavs were going out of their way to show pro-Egyptian sympathies.

An advance unit of the Yugoslav force arrived on the Egyptian side earlier this week. A full Yugoslav armored unit will reach the British-French side here next Wednesday.

The troops already in Port Said are 190 Norwegian infantrymen who crossed the cease-fire line last Wednesday and encamped in a site surrounded by a barbed wire fence. They have not left that canp since.

U. N. troops are coming in to replace British-French forces who landed here almost three weeks ago and seized Port Said in a thin 27-mile strip of land south along the Suez Canal.

The first British-French withdrawal was tonight's departure of one battalion of British infantrymen headed for Cyprus aboard the troopship Dilwara.

Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, commander of the Allied force, told newsmen on a visit here yesterday that the departure of other British and French units would be on a "relative basis"—a tit-for-tat exchange of British-French for U. N. troops.

The U. N. sources who came through the cease-fire line said members of the Yugoslav advance unit on the Egyptian side were being wined and dined by the Egyptians and were seen giving rifle instruction to Egyptian troops. There was no official confirmation of their report here. Dispatches from the Egyptian side are subject to strict military censorship.

The sources added that the Yugoslav show of friendship with the Egyptians might be an isolated instance, but said relations between U. N. troops on the southern side of the cease-fire line are far different from the policy of nonfraternization being practiced on the British-French side.

College Players Conclude Staging Of 'Seven Keys'

Howard County Junior College players closed their three night performances of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" Saturday night.

A sizeable audience, which from its laughter and applause highly approved the performance, was on hand. The Howard County Junior College auditorium was approximately half filled.

F. E. Short, director of the newly organized speech and drama department of the college, expressed himself as well pleased with the success of the department's initial experiment in play production.

The play was seen by some 800 persons during the three nights of its presentation. The department plans to produce other plays this season.

Further Search Requested For Missing Flier

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—A young Texas mother, haggard from loss of sleep and from a fear she does not speak, today appealed to President Eisenhower to have the search for her missing Marine reserve pilot-husband resumed.

"We plead to you to continue and widen the search for Capt. William Bennett Wilson and Col. Henry Bock," said the telegram which Mrs. Dorothy Sue Wilson sent to the President. It was also signed by her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wilson Sr. of Austin.

"We all feel sure he is alive, knowing the excellent pilot he is. We prayerfully await your reply."

Capt. Wilson, 34, was piloting a Marine jet plane which disappeared Nov. 14 in the Detroit-Mt. Clemens area of Michigan while on an instrument training flight from Dallas to Detroit. Col. Henry C. Bock, 63, Houston, also a Marine reservist, was a passenger of the flight.

The search for the missing plane was discontinued last Monday with no trace of the plane or the two men having been found.

Since the plane disappeared Mrs. Wilson and her three small children, Benny, 5; Sue Ann, 2, and Bobby, six weeks, came here from their home in Wharton, Tex., to stay with her mother, Dr. Bee Lee Dixon.

Mrs. Wilson said she believes her husband, a Korean War veteran, may have landed or bailed out over inaccessible and remote terrain.

She also has appealed to persons living in Michigan and the province of Ontario, Canada, to keep up the search for her husband and Col. Bock.

No Clues To Plane Crash Fatal To 33

PARIS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Air experts were puzzled today by the mysterious crash, seconds after takeoff from Orly Field, of an Italian Airlines (LAI) plane en route from Rome to New York.

The four-engined DC6B, apparently failing to make altitude, sliced off the roof of a suburban villa, plowed into another and burst into flames early this morning, killing 33 of the 35 persons aboard. Among them was famed Italian conductor, Guido Cantelli, 34, protege of Arturo Toscanini.

Two Italians, employes of the airline, were thrown out of the wreck and were in grave condition at a nearby hospital. A 19-year-old resident of one of the houses also was hospitalized.

Fourteen of the dead were believed Americans, but identification was incomplete.

Maurice Bellonte, early transatlantic flyer and chief inspector of civil aviation, took charge of the investigation. Police sealed off the site, barely 100 feet from where a new extension of Orly Field is being built. Police said one reason for this was to prevent interference with a search for documents from an Italian diplomatic pouch they said was aboard the plane.

Preliminary examination and questioning produced no explanation for the crash.

The scene of the crash presented a pathetic sight. Draped across a bush was a white wedding dress which somehow escaped the flames.

Badly burned and twisted by the fire was a moving van loaded with goods which neighbors said belonged to the injured youth, Jacques Cramoisy, who was to have moved today.

No Segregation Tiff Seen In Legislature

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Chances of the 55th Legislature becoming the big battleground for state segregation problems are almost nil.

There may be only a skirmish here and there to evade—not violate—federal court rulings that would put white and Negro children side-by-side in Texas school rooms.

That's the response from Texas legislators questioned by The Associated Press in a poll to determine issues facing the new Legislature.

A number of legislators listed segregation vs. integration among the most controversial problems expected, but few expressed concrete ideas on what, if anything, the state should do about it.

Some commented but asked that they not be quoted for publication at this time.

There will be considerable controversy over segregation legislation," predicted Rep. Harold Kennedy of Marble Falls. "However, I feel the time spent on it will be wasted effort inasmuch as it appears there is nothing the state Legislature can legally do about it."

Rep. Robert Baker of Houston said he believed there would be "a great deal of discussion" over segregation "but I do not anticipate that it will require any increase in appropriations to our Gilmer-Aikin program, nor do I anticipate that it is a problem that cannot be solved."

The Legislature probably will have available at least two recommended programs involving segregation.

There apparently is no pending problem vital enough to demand legislative solution at once.

Legislators know Texas voters approved by a large majority the three-question racial referendum presented in the July primary. This vote put more than 850,000 Texans on record as favoring interposition and school segregation and against intermarriage of whites and Negroes.

A special bi-racial advisory committee named by Gov. Shivers has suggested legislation to guarantee continued segregation in the state's 1,875 school districts. Among the proposed new laws would be a statute to prevent integration of a school district without a public election. Another would allow the state to finance education of children who did not want to attend integrated classes.

Shivers has indicated he will ask the Legislature to consider the school segregation problem when he makes his last recommendation before leaving office Jan. 15.

Gov.-elect Price Daniel has made no specific campaign promises on segregation. He has said he believed the problem was one for school districts to solve at the local level.

About one-third of the legislators answering the AP survey put segregation among the five most important pending problems. Several listed it as second only to water.

"Most school boards feel the Legislature should furnish some guideposts here," said Rep. Alonzo Jamison Jr. of Denton, "and it is possible the Legislature can assist in devising procedures—constitutional ones—that will enable school boards to postpone for a good time to come compliance in areas where the feeling is so bitter."

"I cannot see at this time where any new legislation could have any bearing," said Rep. Jesse Osborne of Muleshoe, "other than possibly some delaying action in order to make it work more smoothly."

"In the July primary the people voted by a big majority to petition the Legislature for specific legislation in reference to certain racial issues," said Rep. Jack Welch of Marlin. "I feel sure that this will be one of the most important legislative issues."

"I think the state should take some action on segregation in public schools," said Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs. "My idea is to give local school boards authority by control of transfers of students between schools to handle the segregation problem strictly on a local basis."

Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas wants segregation laws revised and said he would propose new regulations covering the solicitation of integration suits.

"I intend to introduce a bill which would provide that attorneys in lawsuits, upon demand of the other side, would have to file an affidavit stating that they had not solicited or paid anything for or encouraged the law suit by their clients," he said.

Rep. Zeke Zbranek of Daisetta called segregation "the tough one" among legislative problems.

"No present comment except to note that no legislation that we might pass on this subject will solve the basic problem," he said. "It will remain with us for years to come."

Red-Dominated Government Tightens Hold On Hungary

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government of Premier Janos Kadar—propped up by Russian guns—tightened its grip tonight on rebellious Hungary.

Speaking in a tougher manner with Imre Nagy out of the picture, the Kadar government lashed out at the United States with a charge that the U. S. Embassy in Budapest is operating an illegal radio transmitter.

Radio Budapest clamped a blackout on news about Nagy, the only Hungarian political figure with enough popular support to bring the country out of the chaos left by a month of revolt against a Moscow-imposed dictatorship.

Kadar's government announced last night that Nagy, former premier and independent Communist leader, had left his place in refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy to go to Romania.

The Yugoslavs, who had a promise from the Kadar regime that it would not molest Nagy or his followers, charged the Russians kidnaped Nagy and his 51 companions in violation of the pledge. Yugoslav newspapers carried the accusation and a government spokesman said this represented the official attitude of President Tito's government.

Romania is under strict Soviet control. Nagy left the Yugoslav Embassy Thursday. The announcement about his departure for Romania was made more than 24 hours later.

Radio Budapest said nothing in response to Yugoslavia's demand for an explanation of how Nagy fell into Soviet hands after being promised he would not be molested.

Hungarian politicians arriving in Vienna as refugees predicted Kadar would not be in office long. They saw Ferenc Muennich, the deputy premier and minister of defense, as the man who actually carries out Soviet orders. Muennich provided the bus which Nagy and his party expected would take them to their homes instead of exile.

One politician said he was in the studio of Radio Budapest while Kadar was reading a statement to the nation. The politician said he saw Muennich snatch the statement out of Kadar's hand and denounce him as an "idiot" who is "misleading the nation."

The continued flight of Hungarian refugees into Austria reflected the feeling of the people that the Russians had abandoned any pretense they were in the country only at the bidding of the government for the purpose of restoring order.

Radio Budapest tried to dissuade Hungarians from joining the ranks of 73,000 or more who have crossed into Austria.

Latest arrivals from Budapest said there still is no official estimate of the number of dead and wounded in the rebellion which started Oct. 23. A surgeon, who said he personally performed 200 operations during the fighting, reported there were 12,000 new graves in the suburban cemetery of Rakoskeresztur alone.

More Wounded Are Brought Into Austria

AT THE AUSTRIAN-HUNGARIAN BORDER, Nov. 24 (AP)—Cold and weary Hungarian refugees who stumbled across the frontier into free Austria today carried 11 more persons wounded by Russian gunfire, Red Cross workers reported.

Red Cross authorities said the Russians were tightening the border guard and that more wounded could be expected to arrive across the snowy fields in the night. The temperature hovered at the zero mark.

Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab made an oral and written protest to the Soviet Union today against an armed chase of Hungarian refugees which led to the fatal shooting of a Russian soldier on Austrian territory yesterday.

Raab called in the Soviet ambassador and told him that, until this incident, the Russians had respected Austrian frontiers and that their troops should be instructed to do so again.

The Austrian Interior Ministry said the Russian soldier was fatally wounded when he and another Russian broke loose from Austrian customs guards after having been disarmed on Austrian soil.

The two Russians had crossed the border in an unsuccessful effort to stop a small band of fleeing Hungarians. When the Russians made a break to return to Hungary, a customs guard fired. The wounded man died in a hospital at Oberwarth. His companion surrendered and was held for questioning.

Eyewitnesses reported sporadic firing on refugee bands by Russian units near the destroyed "Freedom Bridge" yesterday. The Russians first blew up that wooden canal crossing, over which hundreds had fled from Communist terror, and today set workmen to sawing off the remnants.

Official Scores Treatment Of Prostitute Prisoner

AUSTIN (AP)—The secretary of the State Prison Board charged yesterday that the treatment of an alcoholic prostitute by some local officers was neither "humane or moral."

Dr. George Beto, also president of Lutheran Concordia College, made a brief statement concerning the transfer of Mrs. Maggie Deison, 56, although seriously ill, from the Travis County jail to a prison hospital near Huntsville in the back seat of a deputy sheriff's car.

Mrs. Deison died at the prison hospital recently, about a month after being sentenced to five years for the knife slaying of her common law husband, former convict Robert McClary.

"The taking of Maggie Deison to the penitentiary was undoubtedly legal," Dr. Beto said, "but the carrying of an obviously very sick woman in an automobile for 160 miles is neither humane nor moral."

County physician Harold Williams, who authorized the trip, said yesterday he had suspected the woman was near death but felt it would be better to send her to a prison hospital than to place her in a hospital here "because prison was where she was headed."

Williams said that if she had been in a hospital here, an around-the-clock guard would have been needed and if she recovered another move would have been necessary.

Mrs. Deison had been in "bad shape for a long, long time," Williams said.

The county physician said an ambulance was not used because he thought the prisoner would be "just as well off" in the deputy's car.

General Prison System manager O. B. Ellis told The Austin American last night that Mrs. Deison was in "critical" condition when she arrived in the deputy's car and remained in that state until she died.

Prison records gave cause of her death as sclerosis of the liver.

Deputy Sheriff Howard Bowden, who drove the car, said Mrs. Deison was in considerable pain during the trip but apparently knew "what was going on." Bowden's wife went along as a nurse.

McClary was killed last spring in a small hotel room here. At her trial Mrs. Deison pleaded self defense saying she had been beaten frequently. She testified she supported McClary through prostitution.

Only 2 Applications For Drought Freight Rates

Only two Howard County cattlemen have applied to County Judge R. H. Weaver for certificates entitling them to special reduced freight rates on incoming shipments of cattle feed since the power to issue such certificates was lodged with the county magistrate some days ago.

Governor Shivers notified R. H. Weaver, county judge, that it was his responsibility to issue the required certificates to stockmen who asked for them in a letter to the Big Spring man earlier this month.

These orders provide in part that the class of persons entitled to reduced rates are those designated as being in distress and in need of relief by the United States Department of Agriculture or by such state agents as designated by the department.

The Secretary of Agriculture has authorized governors of all drought-stricken states to designate persons entitled to reduced freight rates.

Effective Nov. 15, Governor Shivers re-delegated to all County Judges in designated drought counties in Texas the authority to execute certificates.

Heretofore, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisors were authorized to execute certificates and only stockmen who were eligible for emergency feed could obtain the certificates. This revised authorization extends the benefits of reduced freight rates to all stockmen in designated counties.

Extension Service Conference Called

A program development meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday afternoon Nov. 27 at 2:30 in the Howard County Court House. The meeting is under the direction of County Agent James Taylor, who has invited agricultural leaders and business men to discuss problems with which the Extension Service can help farmers and ranchers.

At this initial meeting there will be men representing the cattle, dairy, poultry, grain sorghums and cotton interests of the county. They will appoint a committee of rural leaders who will hold two meetings a year with the county agent. This committee will then present certain problems pertaining to agriculture and the Extension Service will devote some time to helping solve them.

"This is a statewide thing with the Extension Service," said Taylor. "We want to help out wherever we can, so if the farmers and ranchers of the county will outline their most urgent problems, we can then revise our own work program."

"Our work varies from county to county. If people want to investigate broilers or start a standard variety cotton program, or have anything else in mind, we'll do what we can to get it started."

$482 NETTED IN DAV DRIVE

Disabled American Veterans collected $482.20 in their forget-me-not drive Saturday.

The drive is the first staged here by the DAVs. Making the collections Saturday were members of the seventh and ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y and the Negro Girl Scouts, in addition to the DAV Auxiliary.

All the money will be used locally, for DAV welfare work in the county and at the VA Hospital.

Hilton's First Hotel To Become Home For Oldsters

AMARILLO, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—A petite five-foot-one grandmother this week took over ownership the first hotel owned by millionaire hotelman Conrad Hilton.

Mrs. Witt Springer, Amarillo housewife and grandmother, said she will turn the old Mobley Hotel in Cisco into a remodeled establishment especially designed for oldsters.

If all goes well, she'll be open for business in Cisco Jan. 1—with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Guinn of Cisco, as her first guests.

Long before she began working on the deeds to the Cisco hotel a year and a half ago, Mrs. Springer realized it would be a wonderful place for older people.

"I'd been dreaming of old people sitting and rocking on that hotel front porch in those tall-backed cane-bottom chairs," she said.

Her plans for the Mobley call for 46 rooms and a recreation room, with station wagon service to Lake Cisco.

Valve Job Runs Into Trouble

A maneuver that was slated to take only three or four hours Saturday consumed more than 12 hours and caused water pressure to drop sharply.

Clay Carey, contractor for the remodeling of the water filter plant, planned to take about four hours to install a 54-inch butterfly valve on water pipes Saturday. To do this, the city's water supply from Lake J. B. Thomas had to be shut off.

To keep a flow of water to city customers, the city filled all its water reservoirs, which hold about three and a half million gallons of water.

Carey started his installation project at 4:30 a.m. Saturday and did not finish until after dark Saturday night. The valve did not take long to install; the trouble was removing a plug from the end of the pipe.

The pipe had been plugged by A. P. Kasch and Sons. The plug was inserted in the end of the 54-inch pipe and then a cement block poured behind the plug for extra protection.

The contractor had little trouble removing the block but had to cut part of the plug away to get it out.

After removing the plug, Carey installed one joint of pipe and then the valve.

The city did not run out of water during the time that the supply from Lake Thomas was cut off, but the pressure did drop sharply during the afternoon.

The only pressure on water taps was from altitude of reservoirs.

In the closing stages of the hot debate, Abba Eban of Israel told the Assembly of the withdrawal of the two brigades.

MORE

Eban said thousands of Israel's armed forces have not only been withdrawn from Egypt but have been withdrawn from active military duty and sent back to their homes.

In two communications to Hammarskjold, Eban said considerable numbers of Israeli troops and equipment which were in Sinai on Nov. 7 are now back in Israeli territory. He said the "equivalent of two infantry brigades have been withdrawn." He did not give figures but informed sources said there are about 3,000 men in an Israeli brigade.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd announced that the first battalion of the Queens Own Royal West Kent Regiment was leaving Port Said tonight and would arrive in Cyprus tomorrow afternoon.

Hungarian Move Knocks Red Strength In Western Europe

ROME, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Hungarian tragedy has knocked Communist strength in Western Europe to a postwar low, a 12-nation Associated Press survey showed today.

Suppression of the Hungarian freedom fighters by Russian guns disillusioned many who believed in the Communist dream.

Thousands of West European Communists have turned in their party cards in Italy, Britain, Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, Holland and Denmark. Rank and file defections have been fewer in France, West Germany, Norway, Belgium and Finland. The reason AP correspondents explained, was that Red parties in those countries already were down to hard core.

Fellow travelers are breaking away all across the Continent with angry denunciations of Soviet action. The most important defection has been that of Pietro Nenni's Italian Socialist party, which polled nearly 3½ million votes in the last general election and which had toed the Communist line.

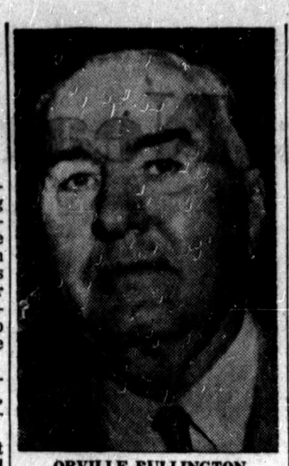

The Soviet cause also lost many of its most prized sympathizers—writers, artists and other intellectuals whose fame served Communist propaganda well. Among those who have denounced Russian imperialism in Hungary are French playwright - author Jean Paul Sartre, Swiss artist Hans Erni, Italian novelist - painter Carlo Levi and Italian artist Renato Gottuso. Even painter Pablo Picasso is unhappy, although he has not broken away.

Circulation of Communist newspapers has slumped in France, Britain, Austria, Sweden, Denmark and Italy.

The London Daily Worker lost a quarter of its editorial staff and a third of those on Denmark's "Land og Folk" — Country and People — quit. Budapest correspondents of both papers resigned with charges that their eyewitness reports were altered for propaganda purposes.

The Communist version of Hungarian events remained generally the same throughout Europe: Russia intervened because "reactionaries and Fascists" launched a counterrevolution against popular governments. Andre Stil in L'Humanite of Paris went so far as to write from Budapest that Hungarian children were playing happily atop Soviet tanks. Vast numbers of Leftists were unconvinced.

Within the central committees which dictate national Communist policies sharp divisions of opinion were reported in many countries.

ORVILLE BULLINGTON

Ex-GOP Leader In Texas Dead

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Orville Bullington, 74, pioneer Wichita Falls attorney and a leader in the state Republican party for many years, died today.

Bullington quit the Democratic party in 1918. He ran for governor on the Republican ticket in 1932 and polled more votes than any other GOP gubernatorial candidate prior to that time.

Bullington had been a delegate to eight national GOP conventions and was on the Texas State Republican Committee from 1947 to 1951 and was chairman in 1952.

Bullington was a regent of the University of Texas for several years. He was a former chairman and president of the old Wichita Falls and Southern Railroad and former president of the Hotel Kemp Corp.

He was the senior member of the law firm of Bullington, Humphrey, Humphrey and Fillmore, oldest such firm in the city.

His widow; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. O. Bullington; and three grandchildren survive. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian church, at Wichita Falls, with entombment in Hillcrest Mausoleum in Dallas.

Loss Of Billfold

Ronald King, 506 E. 12th, reported to the police department this morning that he lost a billfold containing $7 but the area of the loss was not given. He also failed to say when he lost the wallet.

Trial Set Monday In Hit-Run Death

Alvin P. Milligan, charged with murder by an automobile and with hit and run, is due to go on trial in 118th District Court on Monday morning.

His case is the first scheduled for trial at the criminal docket which Judge Charlie Sullivan has scheduled for this week.

Milligan, who has been in jail since Sept. 23, is alleged to have been the driver of a car which rammed into an automobile in which Eugene Cordes Jr., Big Spring, was riding on the evening of Sept. 22. Cordes was killed.

The driver of the death car did not stop but fled from the scene.

On the morning of Sept. 23, officers arrested Milligan in Big Spring. He was in possession of a car which officers assert has been identified as the one involved in the fatal accident.

Milligan was indicted on two counts by the recent grand jury. Bond had been set in his case at $25,000 on the day of his arrest. He has made no attempt to post bail.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, said that he would call the case of Milligan when court convenes on Monday.

Other criminal cases which are set for trial this week include:

W. A. Williams, DWI second offense; Harold Thomas Gibson, DWI second offense; A. D. Kennedy, theft; W. H. McDaniel, worthless check; Billy E. Davis, theft and Clyde Myles, burglary.

Jones said that he hoped to dispose of these cases on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday will be a general holiday at the county court house in observation of the Texas Thanksgiving Day.

Sees No Fight On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) today pooh-poohed the idea that Senate Democrats will get into a fight over civil rights in the next Congress. He forecast a good chance for legislation in the field.

Mansfield is slated to be his party's new Senate whip. He told newsmen "I think you will be disappointed in all the headlines you anticipate" about a row among Democrats over civil rights.

"I think it is not at all improbable," he went on, "that a fairly good civil rights bill will meet with the approval of this Congress."

In this connection, the Montanan said it would be important to note the makeup of the Senate Judiciary Committee in the 85th Congress convening on Jan. 3.

This committee, which handles civil rights bills, is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), a strong foe of such legislation. His committee buried the administration's civil rights measure which passed the House.

$60,000 Jewelry Taken From Hotel

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—A middle aged man who hurriedly left the Statler Hilton Hotel after claiming some possessions from the vault was sought today in a $60,000 jewel theft there.

Police Lt. T. B. Leonard said the man fled without paying his bill. The jewels belonged to a New York salesman and were taken from a safety locker in the vault.

The loss was discovered by hotel officials and Harold Rosenthal, the salesman, when the latter went to the vault yesterday.

The sample case which held the 11 trays of fancy watches and jeweled rings was found yesterday along a highway near Canton. Rosenthal set the $60,000 value on the jewelry.

Most of the Martin County gins have slowed up, and gin hands are getting a few moments rest now and then. At Stanton the harvest is about 90 per cent finished, as pickers go after the last of the cotton.

Gin manager Loyd Henson of Stanton says that from here on most of the cotton will be "hickory nuts," the last crop of small and knotty bolls. Grade and staple are expected to be inferior, because much of the cotton will be spotted.

His gin has almost set a county record by turning out nearly 6,400 bales, with expectations of getting 7,000. He said some picking would go on for quite awhile yet, as farmers wait for the last bolls to open.

* * *

The early estimates on the cotton crop have been lowered for the county. Several observers think 25,000 bales will be made, which is several thousand fewer than predicted at the first of the season.

County Agent Gerald Hanson has guessed the crop at 26,000 bales. Main reason for shorter production was the long, hot month of August when no rain fell and farmers had difficulty in getting water over the fields.

* * *

A story in the Herald a few days ago erroneously reported the new officers of the Howard County Farmers Union. This is the correct listing: Frank Goodman of the Moore community is the new president, replacing A. H. Tate who resigned because he is moving to Martin County.

M. H. Ulmer was elected vice president, replacing R. C. Thomas, while Morris Barnes was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

The Farmers Union is the newest farm organization in the county, but already has a membership of over 100 members. A. H. Tate spearheaded the movement to get it started in the county and did much of the spadework to arouse interest among farmers.

* * *

Grass in Glasscock County was never shorter nor the soil any drier than now. Also the cattle and sheep population is probably less than it ever was. The showers that fell in the fall brought up a few weeds and greened up the valleys, but most of this forage is gone now.

Most everyone is feeding livestock, says County Agent Oliver Werst. He said at a meeting the other day about half the ranchers of the county signed up for the drought feed. They are using grain cubes and corn, with most of the corn being fed to sheep.

* * *

Along with the other cotton communities, St. Lawrence will also fail to reach its crop goal. The gin has just about reached the 4,000-bale mark, but most of the cotton is out.

Werst said the acre yield for the community would probably not average over three-quarters of a bale. The wells are weak down there and farmers were trying to cover too much land without the help of rain. The rains didn't fall, so the cotton burned badly in August and early September.

One thing they didn't have this year was the angular leaf spot. Werst said most farmers planted the blight resistant Acala BR cotton, which held off the blight.

A few new irrigation wells are going down, including a new one on the A. W. Schraeder farm. Several others have been drilled or are being drilled now. Most of the wells are small and put out from 75 to 200 gallons per minute.

* * *

Ode to Winter Clouds—

They're too dry to rain and too thin to snow;
Just float overhead
with no place to go.

* * *

County Agent Jimmy Taylor and two or three gin managers say the Howard County cotton yield will be about 3,500 bales this year. There will be more ginned than that, because of the Glasscock County cotton brought to Big Spring and Lomax.

Vincent also pulls a little cotton out of Borden County, though this is offset by Ackerly which gins some Howard County cotton. Ordinarily the Knott gins get some business from Martin County, but there wasn't much this time. About the driest strip in West Texas lay along the Howard-Martin boundary and hardly anything was made.

ROAD DUST:

Tumbleweeds tearing loose and drifting to the nearest fences. On the dryland fields south of Stanton there's a bumper crop of them . . . Basketball time again, with two small boys tossing a ball through a barrel hoop that was nailed on the side of a shed. A lone cowoby riding a horse through a Glasscock pasture. No cattle or sheep anywhere near, but he must have known where he was going.

Garden City has renovated its courthouse, putting in rest rooms and painting the inside of the building from stem to stern. The ancient jail was not included in the beautifying program, however . . . Not many Latin-Americans in the rural communities. Most of them went back to South Texas where the cold winds couldn't follow.

Farm woman talking to a neighbor: "Cotton picking didn't last very long with us this year. We started on Monday and finished up on Thursday" . . . Boy talking over phone to another lad. Seems they had a double date, but one of the girls couldn't go and he needed a replacement. "But don't get ——," he warned. "All she can talk about is that houn' dog singer you know who."

The sheriffing business has been pretty dull around Stanton this fall. Deputy Sheriff Albert Johnson says crime is at a low ebb 'n Martin County and some days there's hardly any use to come to the office. They did have a burglary a few nights ago, which was the first in a long time. Occasionally they throw a Mexican National into jail for being drunk, but usually the cotton pickers are quite law-abiding.

"We used to pull from 50 to 60 drunks off the highway every year, while now we don't get 20," said Johnson. "There's probably just as many as ever, but on a fast, divided pavement they're harder to catch."

Special Venire To Be Drawn For Murder Hearing

District Court Clerk Wade Choate will draw a special venire Monday from the current district court jury panel to serve in the forthcoming murder trial of O. R. (Bud) Cross, Big Spring tavern operator.

Cross goes on trial in 118th District Court on Dec. 10.

He is charged with the gun death on Oct. 2, of Hugh Emett George. George, an employe of the Cabot Carbon Company, was shot to death late on the night of Oct. 2 while he was in a roadside establishment operated by Cross.

Cross surrendered to officers a few minutes after the fatal altercation.

He has been at liberty on $5,000 bond which he posted Oct. 3 and which he renewed after he had been indicted for murder by the recent grand jury.

No Big Items On City's Budget

At the present time the city commission has very little business in sight for its regular meeting next Tuesday night.

H. W. Whitney, city manager, who prepares the agenda, said Saturday that no big matters face the commission at the present time. Approval or disapproval of a plat is the only definite matter to be handled.

The plat was submitted by Omar Jones for an area southwest of the city. It has already been approved by the city planning and zoning board.

A special called meeting last Tuesday removed one big matter from the commission's ledger — temporarily. A meeting between the Air Force and the commission was held to agree on who would finance the water and sewer lines to serve Webb's proposed housing unit.

In that meeting, the commission agreed to pay for the projects if the people approve bonds and if water rates for heavy users can be hiked five cents per 1,000 gallons.

Tuesday night's meeting will be held in the city hall at 5:15 p.m.

Many Texans Praise R-12

1,000's of people are taking (Citru-Mix) or R-12 and praising it beyond belief. Here are excerpts from a letter one woman wrote.

"To My Friends and Loved Ones: I had rheumatism, arthritis, lumbago or whatever you call it, all over my body, it would play back and forth between my arms, legs and shoulders, even in my jaws, teeth, fingers and toes. R-12 was recommended to me by a friend and I have taken three bottles. Now I don't seem to have it at all. I have written this letter of my own free will because I want my friends to just try one bottle."

R-12 is sold and guaranteed by Collins Brothers Drug and The Walgreen Agency Drug Stores in Big Spring, Texas. The price is only $2.00 a bottle.

Christmas Shopping Apparently Getting Off To A Brisk Start

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—First signs of a long-awaited Christmas buying surge brightened the nation's business scene this week.

It was still too early to tell if the 1956 Christmas shopping boom would live up to expectations. But the latest news was good.

Reports from merchants indicated customers were finally getting into the swing and the annual holiday buying binge was on.

New automobiles were being snapped up without haggling by eager customers almost as fast as the lower and longer 1957 models arrived in dealers' showrooms. Demand for the sleek new cars was outrunning supply and buyers were paying full list price. For volume dealers, this meant a gross markup of $300 to 500 per car — quite a change from the recent era of giveaways, "crazy" deals and heavy discounts.

The year-end boom in new cars raised one vexing question: would heavy consumer spending on automobiles put a crimp in department stores' Christmas sales? Not until final 1956 figures were in would merchants know the answer.

A late slump in home building caused the government to take a downward hitch in its estimate of total construction spending this year.

Last June, experts in the U.S. Commerce and Labor agencies put the total value of new construction to be started in 1956 at 46½ billion dollars. But they hadn't figured on the recent sharp decline in homebuilding. Taking this into account, they issued a new estimate of 44¼ billion, still a record but considerably short of the previous mark.

To perk up lagging sales, the government took steps this week to increase the supply of mortgage funds available to new home buyers.

The week brought graphic evidence of the effect that "tight" money and high interest rates can have on business expansion. Crowell-Collier Publishing Co., seeking to broaden its activities in the radio-television field, recently announced plans for buying control of Consolidated Television & Radio Broadcasters Inc. The deal would have given Crowell-Collier a chain of seven Midwest radio and TV stations. This week, the publishing house announced that the deal was off. The reason: "conditions that have arisen in the money market."

Another threat to business expansion was the tightening shortage of steel. The oil crisis in the Middle East added to the already fierce demand for structural plates (for shipbuilding) and oil country tubular goods. Auto makers were expected to step up their buying of sheet steel in a month or so. Once again, there was talk of allocations, but steel experts said the odds were heavily stacked against government controls now.

Ballots Going Out For New C-C Directors

Chamber of Commerce members should receive their ballots concerning election of directors either Monday or Tuesday.

Red Smith, Chamber manager, said the ballots would go into the mail Monday. The ballots will contain the names of 45 men, from which 15 will be selected for the board.

The ballots must be returned to the chamber office by Dec. 5, Smith said, to be counted.

The 15 men selected will join 15 holdovers, and then this group will appoint an additional 10 persons. From the present board and the newly appointed group, a nominating committee will be named when the directors meet Dec. 17.

This nominating group will then report to the board at the first meeting of 1957, with its list of nominations for officers for the coming year.

Water Usage Below 2.5 Million Daily

Water consumption in the city is lagging during November to an average of less than 2.5 million gallons per day.

The total city consumption during the first 22 days of November was 54,763,000 gallons, or a daily average of 2,489,200 gallons.

Thursday's usage was 2,515,000 gallons, and it was 2,552,000 on Wednesday. Tuesday's total was the high for the month, 2,991,000 gallons.

The city estimated that 90 million gallons would be used during the month, but with the city's total will come the water taken by Cosden and Cabot which is not figured into the final total until the end of the month.

Two Dead, 14 Hurt In Dallas Explosion

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Two men burned to death and 14 suffered injuries with a thunderous explosion and fire turned the Southland Feed Mills elevator into a pillar of flame today.

The blast knocked out power lines and shook a large section of North Dallas at 3:40 a.m.

Flames, touched off by the explosion, billowed up through the 135-foot elevator and were visible for miles.

The 14 men — 12 employes of the mill and two switchmen for the Katy railroad—fought their way out of the flames and smoke.

One was critically burned and many of the others were painfully seared.

The bodies of Bill Brown and Eugene Shives, both of nearby Waxahachie were recovered from the smouldering ruins.

Nineteen pieces of equipment and 80 firemen battled the flames for two hours before bringing them under control.

Firemen D. W. Hampton was overcome by smoke.

The interior of the elevator was burned out. Feed, grain and equipment was destroyed.

Fire Chief C. N. Penn estimated damage to the elevator at $150,000. Twelve box cars on a siding were destroyed or damaged. The side of the adjoining Lofland Steel Co., building was caved in by the explosion.

Supt. E. E. Franklin of the Dallas Terminal for the Katy Railroad said that the blast apparently was caused by dust, a frequent cause of elevator explosions.

"There was no telling where the explosion came from," R. L. Powell, 49, night foreman, said. "It knocked me to the floor. The whole place was filled with fire and smoke. I crawled out on my hands and knees."

Powell said the night crew was sacking and loading feed when the blast occurred. Most of the employes were Negroes.

The explosion sent a heavy fire door flying through the air for 150 feet and pieces of sheet metal were hurled hundreds of feet away. A window in a pharmacy a block away was shattered.

Many men had all their clothes burned away as they fought their way singly through the flames. Several were hysterical from pain and shock. One man had to be dug out of the rubble.

Stolen Bicycle Is Recovered

A bicycle was stolen here Friday night, but it has been recovered.

Reporting the loss of the bike was Mrs. J. E. Russell, 611 E. 18th. She said it was a red and white boy's bicycle.

Early Saturday, policemen located a red and white bicycle at 19th and Gregg. It was brought to the police station.

Contractors To Confer On New Wages For Bricklayers

Members of the labor relations committee of the Association of General Contractors will meet here Tuesday to discuss wage increases for bricklayers.

Expected here for the meeting are representatives from Abilene, Midland, Odessa, Lamesa, San Angelo, and possibly Lubbock.

Fred Kasch is the local representative on the committee.

The men will meet at the Settles Hotel at noon and talk over wage scales for the bricklayers. Kasch had reports that the meeting was scheduled here Saturday, but he was later notified it would be held Tuesday.

The bricklayers in Midland were granted a 25-cent-an-hour raise in an agreement reached late Thursday night. In Odessa earlier, the union men were given seven and a half cents an hour boost. Before the increases came, bricklayers were paid $3.75 per hour at both places.

Kasch said that the AGC had not sanctioned the raises and the key hikes were approved only by subcontractors. The group meeting here will probably decide on whether to accept the raises.

Hugh Welch, San Angelo and West Texas chapter secretary of the AGC, reported that he would ask the Department of Labor not to approve the $4-an-hour scale.

In the Midland talks, the union bricklayers refused to negotiate with AGC representatives, and the Department of Labor recognizes the AGC as the official management agent in such troubles.

Hit-Run Driver Later Is Located

The lone accident Friday was a hit-and-run, but the driver who left the scene of the accident was located less than half an hour later.

The 1956 Oldsmobile owned by Ethel Trotter was hit while it was parked in the 200 block of Nolan Friday afternoon. The police later located the other car, a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Mildred Foster.

The car Mrs. Foster was driving is registered to a Snyder resident.

Peter Irving of Big Lake and Doris Webb, 511 Abrams, were drivers involved in a mishap at Third and Johnson Saturday morning. Irving was in a 1950 Hudson, and Mrs. Webb was driving a car owned by T. D. Patterson, 1602 Bell.

Price Speculations Linked With Crisis

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Nov. 24 (AP) — The Middle East crisis has revived speculation that domestic crude oil prices will be increased.

Industry sources said, however, the rumors primarily are based on "wishful thinking." They said the Suez dispute and its disruption of oil supplies would have to continue several weeks longer before affecting the domestic crude price structure.

Considerable crude has been shipped to Europe since the crisis began but domestic stocks above ground still are excessive. Of greater importance, the tanker shipments have not affected the high level of gasoline being held in storage.

A Houston broker summed up the situation this way:

"Western Europe still is buying on a selective basis. They want only crude for their refineries. The situation will become serious when they start taking gasoline, crude or anything they can buy."

The high level of gasoline stocks has been the primary reason for recent cutbacks in domestic crude production. Talk of a crude price hike was very strong three months ago but gasoline stocks were a major factor for failure of a price hike to develop.

Refiners have been major spokesmen in behalf of crude price hikes, emphasizing the margin between gasoline and crude prices at present is extremely narrow.

U.S. daily crude production last week averaged 7,158,750 barrels daily. This was only 25,000 barrels daily below the all-time high set nine months ago but was only 300,000 above a year earlier period.

Welch Field Gains Well And Location

Dawson County activity this weekend included a new well in the Welch field and a new location in the same pool.

The new well is Davison and Pembrook No. 2 W. J. Burkett about two miles north of Welch. It pumped 55 barrels of oil, plus 70 per cent water, in a 24-hour test. Gravity is 33 degrees. The well is 1,900 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of the east half, 14-C39, PSL Survey.

Total depth is 4,980 feet, and top of the pay zone is 4,890 feet. Perforations are between 4,890-924 feet. Before finaling, operator treated with 10,000 gallons fracture fluid and 3,000 gallons acid.

Cities Service Oil staked the new location a mile south of Welch. It is the No. 2 Turner and is located 660 feet from north and west lines, 49-M, EL&RR Survey, on a 110-acre tract.

Drilling depth is 5,000 feet.

WILDCAT LOCATION

Skelly Oil Company amended the location of its No. 1 Frank Freeman, a new wildcat try. Plotted site is 2,118 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines, Labor 11, League 275, Glasscock CSL Survey, on a 355-acre tract. Drilling depth is 13,000 feet.

In the Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field, Humble No. 2 Lane pumped for 24 hours and recovered 46 barrels of load oil, plus 76 per cent water. Operator is still testing. The hole reached 7,605 feet.

Location is 3,100 feet from north and 1,800 feet from west lines, 45-33-5n, T&P Survey, and 20 miles southeast of Lamesa.

Humble No. 1 M. R. Stewart, in the same field, prepared to test casing this weekend and drill through the plug. Operator set casing at 3,435 feet.

The venture is 550 feet from north and east lines, 5-33-4n, T&P Survey, and 19 miles southeast of Lamesa.

DST FAILS

Humble Oil and Refining No. 1 Lunelle Hemphill, in the Mungerville Southeast field, tried to take a drillstem test twice at 6,313 feet, but the packer failed both times. Exact interval of the test was not reported.

Drillsite is nine miles west of Lamesa, 660 feet from north and east lines, Labor 31, League 3, Taylor CSL Survey. Operator will test to 9,400 feet.

A mile and a half south of Lamesa, Texas Company's No. 1 W. J. Beckham swabbed 317 barrels of load oil in 21 hours. Operator is swabbing Dean perforations between 8,266-68 feet. The swabbing procedure continued this weekend.

Location of the wildcat is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines, 17-35-5n, T&P Survey, and six and a half miles northwest of the Sparenburg field.

Sohio Will Plug Back For Tests

Sohio No. 3-B Atkinson will plug back to 6,500 feet. It is located 660 feet from north and west lines, 28-36-5s, T&P Survey, and 25 miles southwest of Garden City.

It finaled for 511.16 barrels of oil in October of 1953 from the Spraberry.

NOBODY KNOWS

Novel Booklet Out On Oil Industry

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Gulf Oil Corporation is distributing a booklet entitled, "The Industry Nobody Really Knows," aimed at giving consumers of all petroleum products a more realistic understanding of how the oil industry actually gets its job done.

The story is told in terms of the individual experiences of independent operators who have only a contractual relationship with any major oil company. The publication separates fact from myth in explaining how oil men who comprise "the largest industrial enterprise ever known," carry on their business.

Written by Craig Thompson, freelance magazine writer and author, the collection of facts for this story involved more than 8,000 miles of travel and literally hundreds of hours of interviews with persons ranging from lease buyers, royalty owners, ranchers, truckers, and jobbers to junk buyers, bankers, producers, and service station owners, among others.

"The mental picture of the large oil company as a sort of gigantic octopus feeding on the little fellows is a myth," Thompson says, pointing out and refuting three other myths about this business. These, he says, are that ownership of an oil well automatically makes a man a millionaire, that oil millionaires are created by a so-called tax privilege known as percentage depletion; and that the oil industry is dominated and controlled by a few big companies.

"Of the hundreds of thousands of men who have gone questing for oil since the turn of the century, fewer than one in a thousand have wound up with anything like a million dollars," Thompson points out.

One of these, however, is H. R. Cullen of Houston, who hit it rich and amassed a fortune in a few short years; and his story is told in fascinating detail. But for each Cullen, there are hundreds of prospectors who have never found oil at all. One of these, the author points out, is Craig Rumbaugh of Odessa, Texas, who has drilled 26 consecutive dry holes.

Relating story after story of enterprise, initiative, resourcefulness, of small beginnings, substantial growth, and great success, this new booklet points out that these stories do not spell out the existence of a monopoly or anything like it.

The oil industry has been undergoing a process of disintegration that is still going on, according to this booklet. In divesting themselves of many functions the major oil companies have created numerous opportunities for small and middling business men. For example, Gulf's Houston production division does business with some 251 drilling operators and well servicing companies. A list of 154 additional firms makes a specialized contribution to the company's production needs. Included here are such diverse companies as machine shops, pest control companies, painting contractors, tank builders, and automotive dealers. Back of these businesses are a number of American success stories which are outlined in the booklet.

The Thompson booklet also points out that where in 1904 Standard Oil sold 88 per cent of all the oil products bought by United States consumers, today there is not a single company that can claim as much as 10 per cent of the total market.

Sinclair Sends Conrad Here

Charles C. Conrad, assistant foreman for the production department of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company at Odessa, has been transferred to Big Spring, in the same capacity.

Conrad began working for American Republics Corp. in September, 1953, as a pumper at Longview, and remained with the company after its acquisition by Sinclair.

Stephen L. Drake Jr., assistant district foreman at Homer, La., for Sinclair Oil & Gas Company, has been transferred to the Midland division and will be headquartered at Odessa. The change was effective Nov. 16.

Drake joined Sinclair in February of 1952, as a junior petroleum engineer at Big Spring. He worked at Fort Worth; in Colorado state; at Crooks Gap and Lost Soldier, Wyo., and Jackson, Miss., before going to Homer.

Tennessee Stakes Location Near To Recent Discovery

Tennessee Gas Transmission Company reported location of a venture a mile west of a heavy Pennsylvanian producer in Lea County, N. M.

The new location is Tennessee No. 1-B State-Kenmitz and is a mile west of the Tennessee No. 1-A State-Kenmitz. Location on the No. 1-B is 660 feet from the north and east lines, Section 25, Block 16-south and 33-east. It will project to 11,500 feet looking for Pennsylvanian pay.

The Tennessee No. 1-A State-Kenmitz recently made 157 barrels of 41-degree oil in only two hours on a drillstem test. Perforation interval for the test was 10,640-731 feet in the Permo-Pennsylvania.

Rotary Rig Total Is Up

Rotary drilling continued its gradual show of strength on a nationwide basis, according to reports from Hughes Tool Company to the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors.

As of Nov. 19 there were 2,826 rigs turning in the United States and Western Canada. This compared with 2,810 the previous week and was up substantially from 2,778 a month ago. However, in the comparable week of 1955 the total was 3,114 rigs.

The United States gained slightly to show 2,582 rigs, and of this number 1,028 were in Texas, a gain of 10 for the week. West Texas reported 381, a decrease of four rigs.

Biggest single gain for the week was southern Louisiana with 419, up by 32. This gave all of Louisiana 488 rigs.

Western Canada slipped a little, showing 244 in an 8-rig dip for the week.

Import Policy Blamed For Oil Transport Weakness In Texas

ABILENE, Nov. 24 (AP) — The president of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn. blames excessive oil imports for a "grave weakness" in gathering and transportation facilities for crude oil in West Central, West and North Texas.

Bruce Street of Graham wrote Arthur Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization this week that this weakness was brought sharply into focus at the last Texas Railroad Commission proration hearing.

"The weakness in our transportation system is the direct result of importation of excessive crude into this country," Street said.

"The major purchasers are, or expect to be, large importers of crude, and in their long-range planning have not provided for the expansion of gathering and transporting facilities to keep pace with the supply or potential demand that would arise if foreign imports were cut off."

Street said some purchasers requested 20 producing days on the Gulf Coast and 16 days for the rest of Texas. They justified the requests on the basis that pipelines out of North, West Central and West Texas were inadequate to accommodate more than the oil that could be obtained from 16 producing days each month.

Street urged Flemming to "proceed with the formulation and implementation of a long-range policy to control importation of oil so that when another emergency arises our country will have available to it the oil that is so vital to our national defense."

Nation Can Fill Crude Needs

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The oil industry is confident it can offset the cut-off of Middle East supplies without bringing about any need for rationing in this country.

There is general agreement in the industry and among government officials of the ability of domestic producers to meet all of this country's needs as well as supply oil-short Western Europe.

Robert Wood of Midland, Tex., president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, says U. S. production may be stepped up to fill the gap without creating any necessity for gasoline or oil rationing in this country.

Similar assurances have come from other industry spokesmen.

Secretary of Interior Seaton has said domestic production can be increased more than enough to make up for the Middle East oil that is not getting through the blocked Suez Canal.

Seaton said oil prices might go up if more than six months is required to get the canal into operation again. Some industry sources have estimated fuel oil prices in this country might jump as much as one cent a gallon.

Edger Waits Upon Orders

G. C. Bingham of Odessa cored below 2,230 feet at a Sterling County venture this week and is now shut down waiting on orders this weekend.

It is the Bingham No. 1 W. L. Foster Jr., and is 12 miles southwest of Sterling City. Operator cored below 2,230 feet and ran logs. Its location is 330 feet from north and east lines of the south half of the northeast quarter, 28-22, H&TC Survey.

About 10 miles southwest of Sterling, Union of California No. 11-B Foster Jr., drilled below 1,700 feet. It is in the Parochial Bade (Clear Fork) field, 330 feet from north and east lines of the west half, 27-22, H&TC Survey.

Operator is drilling to 2,400 feet.

Fair & Woodward Schedule Three New Snyder Ventures

Ralph Fair and Woodward & Company of San Antonio have located three new ventures in the Snyder field of Howard County.

Fair-Woodward No. 24 Susie B. Snyder is located 1,650 feet from north and east lines, 20-30-1s, T&P Survey, and about seven miles southeast of Coahoma. It will project to 3,000 feet with rotary tools.

The No. 25 Snyder will be 1,650 feet from north and west lines, 20-30-1s, T&P Survey, and will also penetrate to 3,000 feet.

Fair-Woodward No. 26 Susie Snyder is 990 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines, 20-30-1s, T&P Survey, and seven miles southeast of Coahoma.

Drilling depth is 3,000, and all three locations are on a 640-acre tract.

In the Moore field, Cosden Petroleum No. 9-B L. S. Patterson will probably drill through cement plug this weekend and fracture.

Operator bottomed at 3,076 feet and waited on cement to set the casing Saturday. Location is five miles southwest of Big Spring, 2,310 feet from north and east lines, 22-33-1s, T&P Survey.

Texas American No. 5 Percy Jones, in the Iatan East Howard field, deepened to 2,273 feet in lime this weekend. It is six miles south of Coahoma, 990 feet from west and 1,653 feet from south lines, 13-30-1s, T&P Survey.

Bennett To Direct Sun Gas Division

DALLAS—Gerald B. Bennett has been named acting division gas superintendent for Sun Oil Company's southwest division, S. M. Gladney, division manager, announced Saturday.

Appointment of Robert L. Sullivan, formerly special assistant, as acting assistant division gas superintendent also was announced by Gladney.

Bennett, who has been assistant since 1947, succeeds Benton E. Warren, who recently moved into Sun's foreign operations. A native of Dallas and a 1938 petroleum engineering graduate of the University of Texas, Bennett has been with Sun since college days. He was with Sun Pipe Line Company briefly and then with Sun's Gulf Coast Production Division on a drilling crew, then as pumper, and for about nine years as a petroleum engineer. He moved to Dallas in 1947, as assistant manager of the gas department for the Southwest Division.

Potential Taken On Scurry Strike

Operators are now taking potential at a Scurry County wildcat.

It is Smith and Creyer of Dallas No. 1 M. A. Fuller. It recently flowed 85 to 90 barrels of oil from the San Andres, through a 24-64-inch choke. Perforations are between 1,974-2,035 feet. Total depth is 2,434 feet.

Lamesa Slates Thanksgiving Services

LAMESA, Nov. 24 — Joint Thanksgiving services will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the speaker for the evening.

Richard Crawley will direct the community choir with Mrs. Jake Lippard as organist and Mrs. Weldon Lindsey, pianist. Featured soloist will be Mrs. Wayland Pope.

The program includes the call to worship, Rev. L. Loyd Mayhew, pastor of the host church; responsive reading, Rev. A. E. Hughes, Second Baptist Church; evening prayer, Rev. Don Zimmerman, St. Paul's Lutheran Church and receiving the offering, Rev. Arthur Thomas, East Side Baptist.

Services have been dismissed in the churches whose pastors are members of the ministerial alliance. The organization has recently elected new officers with Rev. J. Loyd Mayhew, president; Rev. A. E. Hughes, secretary-treasurer; Rev. Walter Horn, First Presbyterian Church, vice president and Rev. Rush Barnett, First Christian Church, public relations. Meetings are held each third Thursday in the choir room of the First Baptist Church.

District Methodist Meeting Scheduled In Snyder Dec. 7

Methodists of the Big Spring District, which embraces 39 churches, will converge on Trinity Church in Snyder Dec. 7 for the annual district meeting.

Dr. O. W. Carter, Big Spring district superintendent, said he anticipated a number of representatives from every charge. Virtually all phases of the church program will be considered at the one day event starting at 9:30 a.m.

Highlighting the session will be emphasis upon evangelism, and Dr. Ray Neal Johnson, district chairman on evangelism, will speak to the young ministerial candidates who are licensed by the commission on ministerial qualifications. Dr. Johnson will preach on the subject: "You Must Be an Evangelist."

At the morning worship at 11 o'clock, Dr. D. D. Denison, chairman of the conference board of evangelism, will develop the theme for a concerted evangelistic campaign from Jan. 1, 1957 until Easter. The keynote is "Tell Texas About Christ."

The opening devotion at the district parley will be conducted by the Rev. Thomy Nelson, pastor of St. Luke's Church in Colorado City, and Floyd Boston of Trinity Church will lead the singing.

There will be reports from Murry College, from the Texas Mission Home and Training School at San Antonio, the Methodist Home in Waco, the Ceta Canyon and Butman encampments, the Golden Cross (hospital charity agency of the Methodist Church), the committee on pensions and endowment. The Rev. Ellis Todd, Plainview, conference representative for Christian Rural Overseas Relief, will bring the appeal for CROP.

Dr. Carter will preside over the sessions. The previous day he will be the keynoter for the district conference in Lubbock. The district meetings rank next to the annual conference in general importance and draw from lay and clergy alike.

Trinity Church, located in the southern part of Snyder, is one of the newer ones in the district, being only three years old. However, it has a beautiful and large church plant.

Sperm Whales Dive For Large Squids

By RAMON COFFMAN

I had expected to complete our whale series yesterday, but several questions remain to be answered.

Q. What do sperm whales eat?

A. They eat fish, sometimes a fairly large one. A 10-foot shark was found inside the stomach of a sperm whale.

Perhaps their favorite food is the giant squid. Diving to the bottom (sometimes going down half a mile) the whale looks about for an animal of this type. When a squid is found, it resists, but at length it is taken into the whale's mouth and swallowed.

Q. Some persons say that a whale has a throat with a very small opening. If that is true, how can a giant squid or a 10-foot shark be swallowed?

A. Whales differ in the size of their throats. Bowhead and other whales have huge mouths but small throats.

Sperm whales, on the other hand, have large throats to pass the victims into their stomachs.

Q. Is it true that a man was swallowed by a whale, like Jonah in the Bible, and lived to tell the tale?

A. A British engineer, Sir Francis Fox, reported a case of that kind. He declared that a sperm whale swallowed a sailor in the year 1891, and that this man was found and set free after the whale was caught and cut up. The man, he added, was still alive after spending 24 hours in the whale, but his skin was "deathly white." He was not able to talk sensibly for two weeks.

That is the tale, and we can take it or leave it as we think best. No scientific proof was presented by Fox, and it seems to me a "fishy" story.

Q. How big is a baby whale?

A. The size differs according to the kind of whale. A baby sperm whale was found to be 14 feet long.

Adult Education Will Be Stressed At Convocation

Lay delegates from a large number of the nearly two score churches of the Big Spring Methodist district will attend an area convocation in Fort Worth this week.

The parley, primarily for adult education within the church, will start Thursday evening and will terminate Sunday morning. Representatives will come from the Northwest Texas Conference (which embraces this district), the North Texas and Central Texas conferences. Around 2,000 are expected.

Among the speakers will be Bishop W. C. Martin, Dallas, Bishop Dick Raines, Indianapolis, and Dr. Gaston Foote, Fort Worth.

Besides the general sessions, there will be small group discussions. After the convocation, district leaders and others will conduct local meetings to reflect the spirit and highlights of the area gathering.

Heading up the district delegates will be Cecil Bridges, Stanton, chairman of the district board on education for adult workers, assisted by Max Fitzhugh, Big Spring. Dr. O. W. Carter, district superintendent, will attend, and he said he anticipated representatives from Midland, Big Spring, Snyder, Lamesa, Andrews, Stanton, Colorado City and possibly other points.

Webb Cited For Ground Safety

Webb Air Force Base was notified this week that it had won the October Certificate of Achievement for its Ground Safety record.

The Award of Merit pennant, which accompanies the Certificate and is flown at the base for the following month, or until the figures for the succeeding month have been released was already at Webb AFB—having been won the previous month. The index score was 1,579. Ellington AFB won first place pennant with 1,077.

'Drag Strip' Parley Called

Big Spring Evening Lions Club, Ted O. Groebl, president, has taken the lead in calling a conference for Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce Conference Rooms to discuss the feasibility of a "drag strip" project for Big Spring motor enthusiasts.

At this meeting, if plans go through as planned, organization of a working group to plan and activate the "drag strip" program will be set up.

Groebl said that speakers from other communities in West Texas where "drag strip" projects have been put in operation will be present at the Tuesday night conference. These guests will tell the Big Spring leaders what was done and how the goal was accomplished in their respective communities.

Members of other interested organizations are invited to send representatives to the meeting.

Patrolman Added To City's Force

The appointment of one patrolman Saturday still left the city police department two men below full strength.

Added to the department Saturday was Jimmy Lee Wade. Wade has been a resident of Big Spring for less than a year and came here from New Mexico.

He will work on Captain Lindy Oldfield's shift.

The latest vacancy was created Wednesday when J. D. Campbell resigned to enter private business.

Webb To Poll Personnel On Street Names

The Webb Air Force Base newspaper, the Springboard will ask its readers to give their opinions on changing street names on the base.

The poll will be conducted in two consecutive issues of the Springboard beginning with the issue of Nov. 28. The Springboard is published every Wednesday, by the personnel of Webb Air Force Base.

The movement, which has been often discussed, moved into official status this week, when the base commander was asked, through the Civilian Incentive Awards Committee, to conduct such a poll through the columns of the base newspaper.

The suggestion will go to Springboard readers in the form of a questionnaire on which they are asked to indicate their views.

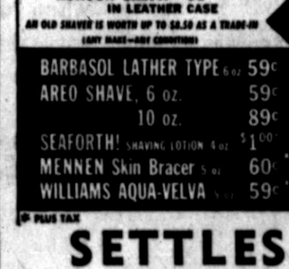

At present the streets run north and south and are numbered First, Second, Third, through Eighth; the avenues run east and west beginning with Warehouse then changing to A, B, C and D.

The suggestion was apparently an attempt to honor Air Force leaders. Results of the poll will be published in the Springboard.

100 Kiwanians Due Here Today For Conference

More than 100 Kiwanians from the several clubs in the 22nd Kiwanis International Division will be in Big Spring this afternoon for an organization conference, Harve Clay, president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club announced Saturday.

Clay said that many reservations had been made with him for a banquet at the Settles Hotel which will be the closing event on the afternoon program. He estimated that about 20 of the 100 expected would be members of the Big Spring club. The others are to be from Midland, Odessa, Snyder, Colorado City, and Andrews.

In addition to officers and committee chairmen from these clubs, a number of wives of Kiwanians will be present, Clay said.

Several high ranking officers of Kiwanis International of the Texas-Oklahoma District are also to be on hand.

These will include Paul J. Files, Paris, district governor; Bailey G. Choate, Abilene, a past-district governor; Frank M. Hood, Andrews, lieutenant governor for the 22nd division and Frank W. Wilson, Snyder, lieutenant-governor-elect.

Purpose of the conference is to indoctrinate new committee chairmen and officers of the several clubs in the program of Kiwanis for the ensuing year.

Big Spring was chosen as the site of the Division 22 meeting because it is nearly in the center of the division geographically.

Horace M. Reagan, president-elect of the Big Spring club, and Clay urged all committee chairmen of the local organization as well as all members of the Big Spring club to be at the Hotel Settles at 1 p.m. to welcome the visitors and to take part in the discussions.

Wilson was in Big Spring last Wednesday to confer with local club officers on details of the meeting today.

Pleas Of Guilty In County Court

Two defendants pleaded guilty to charges against them in county court on Saturday morning.

Robert G. Buckley, charged with writing a worthless check, was fined $20 and costs.

Winston Roger Bivins, charged with DWI, was fined $75 and assessed three days in county jail.

Both men were released Saturday from custody. They paid the fines, and Bivins had already served the required three days in prison, it was said at the sheriff's office.

Shivers Appointment Talked Anew As He Chats With Ike

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Gov. Shivers' chat yesterday with President Eisenhower revived talk here that the outgoing Democratic governor may have his eye on an appointive post under the GOP.

Shivers was the key man in the second successive presidential campaign that swung Texas out of the once - solid Democratic South into the Republican column.

The defeat of Adlai Stevenson in Texas gave back to the retiring governor much of the political status he lost last spring when Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn won control of the state's delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Shivers apparently retired into the background after that defeat. He staged a swift political comeback by jumping into the presidential campaign with both feet. He again urged Texans that their best interest lay not with the Democratic party, but with Eisenhower — just as he did in 1952. In both instances he defied tradition, saying principle was more important than party, and made it stick.

Shivers clings to the position that he is a Democrat, and that Eisenhower is a "better Democrat" than Stevenson and many of Stevenson's backers.

Speculation was that naming of Shivers to some vital national post, as a Democrat, would serve to let the Eisenhower administration tell other rebellious Southern Democrats that the new administration is fully aware of its political obligations. Also, it would help the GOP in future assaults against the weakening Democratic solidarity in the South.

Washington newsmen were told that the Eisenhower - Shivers talk was a mere exchange of "hellos" and that the Txas governor dropped by to see the President among other friends in the capital.

They were told that the current Texas senatorial fuss between Shivers and Sen. Price Daniel, the governor-elect, was not even discussed.

Shivers, always a fighter, is now in the midst of a struggle with Daniel over the senatorial succession. He has refused to accept Daniel's future resignation. Daniel is insisting that the election be called soon enough to send his successor to Washington by the time Congress convenes.

Time for any such move is rapidly diminishing. Daniel has said he will be there himself to help the Democrats hold their narrow margin in organizing the Senate. Congress meets Jan. 3. Daniel becomes governor Jan. 15. Shivers has said that such a move on Daniels' part would be contrary to Senate custom and tradition.

When Shivers retires Jan, 15, he will have been governor longer than any other in Texas history — more than seven years.

He has not said what his plans are.

Recently he and Mrs. Shivers bought the old Pease Mansion in Austin, indicating they plan to make Austin their home. They also have homes at Sharyland in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and at Magnolia Hills, near Shivers' boyhood home at Woodville.

$5,000 GIFT OFFERED CHURCH AS MEMORIAL TO MRS. WASSON

Mrs. A. S. Barnett, the former Velma Wasson, has offered a gift of $5,000 to the First Baptist Church as a memorial to her mother.

In making the gift, Mrs. Barnett asked that it be set up as a special account known as the Martha Elizabeth Wasson Memorial. She further asked that the principal be invested in income bearing property with the increment to be used for any Christian purpose at the discretion of the First Baptist Church.

Management of the fund would be vested in the board of deacons of the church. The principal, except as for gain or loss in investment, would remain intact.

Mrs. Barnett, the daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. A. L. Wasson, was reared mostly in Big Spring and is a former member of the First Baptist Church. Her mother died several years ago.

The First Baptist Church is expected to accept the gift formally and take steps to carry out provisions of the bequest. It has one other similar fund, a $2,000 account given by the late Mrs. Fannie Ward. The income from this gift has been deposited over the years to a charity fund.

U. S. Acknowledges Use Of Secret Radio

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The United States acknowledged today it had operated a secret short-wave transmitter in the American legation in riot-torn Budapest.

The State Department, in disclosing this, said the radio ceased operating 10 days ago.

Officials reported the radio transmitter was used "only for a few days." This was done, they said, because chaotic conditions in the Hungarian capital had shut down all normal communications, arousing fears for the safety of American personnel.

Legation messages to the State Department, said press officer Joseph Reap, are being transmitted via "normal channels."

Reap added pointedly that the United States expects the Hungarian regime to "maintain these normal facilities as they have assured U. S. officials will be the case."

Officials reported that the transmitter ceased its operations about 10 days ago when normal communications facilities were restored.

State Department communications with its legation in Budapest virtually collapsed after the Soviets unleashed their military onslaught, Reap said.

Answering other questions, Reap said the State Department has "no reason to doubt" Yugoslav charges that the Soviets have abducted former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy. But, he said, the department has "no comment" on the development at this time. The White House also declined comment on Nagy.

Abstract Co. Linked In Bank's Collapse

FORT WORTH, Nov. 24 (AP)—A government agent has involved the Home Guaranty Abstract Co. in a $664,000 hot check writing scheme that led to collapse of River Oaks State Bank.

The charge came from Surrie Fenlaw, auditor for Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which took over the defunct bank Oct. 15.

Fenlaw told of the bogus check writing operation in testimony late yesterday in 153rd District Court where he was a witness in a suit over claims against the abstract company.

He was supported by testimony from O. L. Witt, manager of the Fort Worth National Bank bookkeeping department, who said he had been watching operations of the abstract company before the bank failure.

Fenlaw said many hot checks were written by attorney J. C. Mount, secretary - treasurer of the abstract firm.

The auditor said the bulk of the checks were written on the abstract company's trust account at Fort Worth National Bank and some were drawn on the firm's escrow account at the River Oaks Bank.

Most checks were written during Oct. 9-12, four days prior to the bank failure, Fenlaw said, adding that most of the checks were cashed at the River Oaks bank.

His investigation discloses Fenlaw said, that:

1. When the checks were rejected by Fort Worth National they were returned to River Oaks for payment with the amount totaling at least $664,000.
2. The Fort Worth National Bank was stuck with $76,600.
3. The abstract company's escrow account was short $48,981 at River Oaks bank.
4. Only a few of the checks involved "legitimate" real estate transactions and indication that the money was used for other enterprises.

Not Just Hubcaps, But Wheels, Also

Thieves took the usual hubcaps from one car Thursday night, but in another instance, they took the entire back wheels.

Both back wheels were removed from a 1951 Pontiac owned by George Barrett, Ellis Homes. Barrett said the car was parked at his Ellis Homes address Thursday night at which time the wheels were taken.

The set of hubcaps were taken from a car owned by J. W. Thompson, 809 W. 6th. Thompson said the car, a 1953 Chevrolet, was parked in the 100 block of W. 17th Thursday night at the time of the theft. He said also that one vent glass was broken.

Simms Busy Man In Move To New Plant

One of the busiest men at the teeming Tidwell Chevrolet Company's new plant on East Highway 80 is David Simms.

He is the general sales manager for the company and it is his responsibility to do all in his power to help any interested person find out all about the new 1957 Chevrolet.

Simms is a native of Denison.

He recalls that his old school superintendent was also the school superintendent when another well-known Denisonite — Dwight David Eisenhower — was attending school.

His home and that of the President as a boy were only a few blocks apart, he recalls.

After Simms had completed high school at Denison he enrolled in Southeastern State College, Durant, Okla. Durant is just across the Red River a few short miles from Denison.

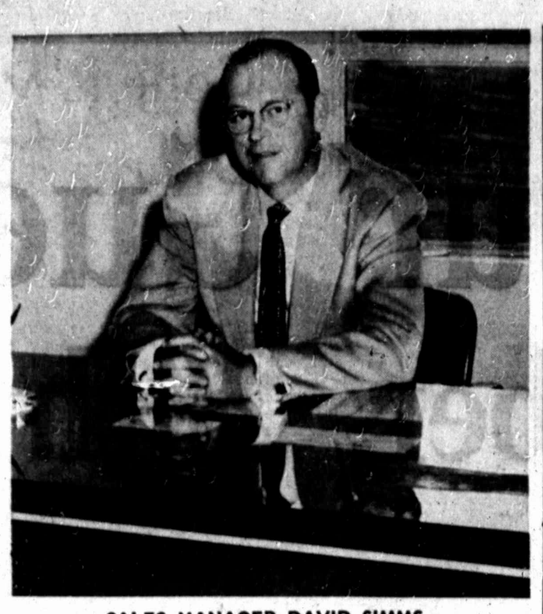

Simms came to Big Spring in 1950 and began his career with Chevrolet here. He was a salesman at the time. When Tidwell assumed the dealership here, Simms became sales manager for the company — the post he now holds.

He is married and he and his wife, with their four daughters live at 604 Birdwell Lane.

In addition to his activities as sales manager for Tidwell Simms finds time for considerable civic activity.

At present he is president of the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He is also a member of Big Spring Elks Lodge and he is active in the Big Spring Knife and Fork Club.

Employes of Tidwell Chevrolet Company are well provided with insurance.

Life insurance is provided under the General Motors Dealer Group Insurance Bureau. It is available to Tidwell employes at sixty cents per $1,000.

The Tidwell workers also participate in a Blue Cross Group Hospitalization Insurance program.

PLENTY OF ROOM

Body Department At Old Location

Moving into Tidwell Chevrolet Company's new building on East Highway 80 held no problem for the body repair department; that department did not move.

They are not in the old building at Third and Johnson either.

The body repair shop and its personnel are located at 1008 E. Third Street and have been for quite some time. And with their present capacity, they will remain there.

Working at the body shop are Morris Sneed and Charles Leek. Leek has been with the body shop for three years and Sneed about two.

In addition to the two men who are in charge of the shop, Lee Denton, a high school diversified occupations student, works with them. He attends school half a day and works at the body shop the remainder of the day.

Six cars can be adequately handled at once in the body repair portion of the building. In addition, two more can be cared for in the paint shop. Filling out the remainder of the L-shaped building is a fenced-in area for other cars.

Sneed, Leek, and Denton handle all types of body repair from flatenning dents to fixing completely wrecked cars. Their body parts are kept in the building and not at the new shop's parts department on E. Fourth.

This expedites matters and keeps the personnel from having to go to the new shop several blocks away for every little item.

The paint is also kept in this building for the same reason.

By having the paint shop in the same building with the body repair, cars do not have to be transferred to the building farther east for the work. By having the two departments in the same place, all the body repair and paint can be handled together.

Then the car will be transferred to the repair shops for mechanical troubles if such are needed.

Custom seat cover work is also done at the body shop. This material is also kept at the building.

Tidwell Likes To Trade Cars On Big Scale

Leroy Tidwell started out pushing a pencil and became a volume trader in automobiles.

He wouldn't trade places with anyone — selling cars is what he likes best.

"It's pleasant work," explained the genial owner of Tidwell Chevrolet Company, which is observing open house Monday in a new, spacious plant on U. S. 80 Highway east. "You meet interesting people, good people. You get to visit and perhaps to trade."

Out of this philosophy has come another of Tidwell's, namely that a satisfied customer is the best source of new customers that a business can have."

Tidwell has been in Big Spring only three years — actually a little less than that — but he has become firmly rooted in civic affairs.

Born at New Boston in Bowie County, where his father, Lee Tidwell, was county attorney and later county judge, he got most of his schooling in Fort Worth where his father entered the oil business. Leroy Tidwell was five when the family moved to Fort Worth and he attended elementary school with Ross Boykin, who became his neighbor when he moved to Big Spring. He also attended Pashcal (Central) High School but returned in New Boston to graduate and then go on to East Texas State College at Commerce. In 1936 he joined an auditing firm in Kilgore and this proved the entering wedge to the automotive business. One of the accounts was a car agency, and eventually he joined the staff of that concern.

The process was gradual. From bookkeeping, he began to dabble in sales and by 1939 he had been made general manager and sales manager of the Quality Motor Company in Kilgore. The following year he entered a partnership in the used car field, and then took out to serve as an instructor in war training at Kilgore (Junior) College. He instructed in navigation, air regulations and general aviation procedures.

The year 1946 found him back in his favorite spot, that of an automotive agency. He spent about a year and a half with a finance concern and then in 1949 realized his first major dream — an agency of his own.

The Chevrolet agency opened in Winnsboro and he bought it. In short order he was setting new sales records and before the year was out more Chevrolets had been sold in Wood County than ever before. He had less than a dozen on his staff there, and the town's population was 3,000. It was quite a step-up in acquiring Lone Star Chevrolet and converting it into Tidwell Chevrolet in Big Spring. There were 17 on the force, and today, less than three years later, there are 31.

Volume has always been a favorite thesis of Tidwell. He likes to trade and it is therefore no surprise that every year Chevrolet happens to be the leader in the number of new car units sold here.

Mrs. Tidwell is the former Marguerite Halter of Fort Worth — but he had to wait until she visited Kilgore to meet her. They were married in 1938 and have two daughters, Lee Margaret, 10, Martha, 6; and one son, Fulton, 3, who waited to be born in Big Spring.

In many civic affairs Tidwell is active. He is president of the new industrial fundation; he is a member of the long range planning committee of the YMCA; on the Chamber of Commerce board; is a Lion; a Baptist; Mason and Shriner.

He also has other business interests including a building which houses his former agency in Winnsboro; a partnership in the Chevrolet agency of San Diego, Calif.; partnership in the Piper airplane distributorship with Cecil Hamilton.

Head Man In Tidwell Chevrolet

Surrounded by automobiles, the objects in which he has found a busy and fascinating life as an automobile dealer, Leroy Tidwell sits at his desk in his new plant. Tidwell started out as a bookkeeper but found selling and trading cars was the thing he liked most to do. Since 1953 he has operated the Chevrolet agency here, setting not only the local sales pace but moving cars at a rate for a city twice this size.

Mechanics Receive Help With Laundry

Their employer helps mechanics at Tidwell Chevrolet Company with their laundry bill.

A change of uniforms is provided every other day through an arrangement worked out between Tidwell, the mechanics and a uniform laundry service. The company and the mechanics share cost of the service.

Size Of Vehicle Is No Problem

Width and height of a vehicle pose no problems for Tidwell's new repair shops.

The shops' doors at the new Tidwell Chevrolet building on E. Fourth are big enough to handle any customer.

The doors, electrically operated, are located on the north and west sides of the shop. They are tall enough and wide enough to bring in van trucks for repair.

The ceilings too are high which will cause no problem of lifting the front or back end of a van or high-cabbed truck for repairs underneath.

Office Staff At Tidwell Chevrolet

Howard Ehrlich, employe of Tidwell Chevrolet Company for 10 years, is office manager and accountant for the firm. He is shown in the new business offices with his three aides, left to right, Joyce Grigg, Doris Reid and Alma Brown. Tons of paper work are processed by the quartet each year.

Staff Of Four Handles Office Work For Firm

Howard Ehrlich and three other office workers process the multitude of records, reports and transactions that result from operations of Tidwell Chevrolet Company.

Ehrlich is accountant and office manager for the concern. He has been with the company for 10 years, and was associated with Tidwell in Winnsboro and Kilgore where automobile agencies were operated prior to Tidwell's move to Big Spring more than three years ago.

Assisting Ehrlich is Doris Reid, bookkeeper who also handles receipts and payroll and who has been with the Chevrolet agency here for nearly five years; Joyce Grigg, cashier and clerk, who has been with Tidwell about seven months; and Alma Brown, who handles car transfers and titles and who joined the company only recently.

Christmas Party

Tidwell Chevrolet Company stages a Christmas party each year for its 31 employes and their families.

Gifts are exchanged at the Yule gathering and decorations, refreshments and party games provide the appropriate holiday setting.

Cone Is Manager Of Used Car Sales

Dock Cone, used car manager for Tidwell Chevrolet Company, came to Big Spring when Tidwell acquired the local Chevrolet dealership in 1953.

Prior to that he had worked with Tidwell for three years in Winnsboro, Texas. He began his career as a Chevrolet man in 1950 and in his tenure has served as new car salesman, used car salesman and now is filling the post of used car sales departmental manager.

He attended school in Winnsboro. He is married and he and his wife and their son, Carroll, live at 1422 Tucson. He likes Big Spring and Big Spring people.

Most of all, he insists, he likes the new 1957 Chevrolet and the fine second hand cars that new owners of the 1957 Chevrolet bring to his used car lot.

In addition to managing the used car lot, Cone has the highly important position with the company as official used car appraiser.

His many years in the business and his close study of the subject qualify him exceptionally as an expert in this highly important field of car salesmanship.

His figure on the value of the trade-in the prospective buyer has to offer is an important factor in closing many deals.

He stays at the main offices on U. S. Highway 80 east and the lot itself is operated by Roy Tidwell, salesman.

Tidwell can always be found at the used car lot at Fourth and Johnson and will be happy to show any of the cars on the lot to prospective buyers.

Cone said the new Tidwell plant on East Highway 80 will greatly facilitate the handling of the fine new Chevrolets and he looks for an exceptionally good year in the field.

The Paper Work Becomes Involved

It requires more than 100 different forms and envelopes to carry on an automotive business such as Tidwell Chevrolet Company.

The forms are for reports, title applications, sales certificates, car registration, record, etc.

Howard Ehrlich, accountant and office manager, says he averages making a report a day to the state, Chevrolet Company, etc.

IN NEW PLANT

Space, Modern Equipment Are Features In Service Dept.

Customers will find plenty of room when they walk into the spacious repair shops at Tidwell Chevrolet's new building on East Fourth.

The actual working space of the repair department has been more than doubled over the old spot on Third and Johnson.

The old building measured 70 by 50 feet — about 3,500 square feet of working space. The new building gives the service department about 8,400 square feet. It measures 120 by 70 feet. In addition, a wash rack is being built on the outside of the building — it will soon be enclosed — which will add even more space.

The size gives each mechanic two stalls to work in. In all there are 10 two-part lifts evenly spaced over the building. These two-part lifts work separately. This enables a mechanic to raise either the front or back end of a vehicle for repair needs.

Or both ends can be raised simultaneously for work that calls for plenty of space underneath.

In addition to the 10 lifts, there is a special pit for wheel alignment. Bear Wheel Alignment equipment is used by Tidwell.

The stalls are not separated which gives more room in case a large truck has to be placed in more than one stall area.

In all, mechanics can adequately work on 17 cars at one time and not get in each other's way. The additional space is located down the middle of the building.

The floor is slightly slanted toward the center of the building with a water drain extending the length of the structure.

Lighting offers no handicap either. In addition to having a row of windows the length of the shop of both sides, florescent light fixtures are spaced in three rows and hang low enough to give light but not low enough to interfere with work.

Panels of transluscent plastic, spaced over the roof, let in additional sunlight.

Each mechanic has his own individual tool rack, mounted on rollers to allow the workman to take the tool case anywhere in the building. Each is uniform in size and design and has bins for small tools and also larger drawers for bulkier implements.

Over each stall is an individual trouble light. These Cordamatic lights are permanently mounted on a pole about five feet out from the wall. The trouble light is on the end of a 30-foot cord which twists back into the Cordamatic case when not in use. The light can be pulled out three inches or the full 30 feet.

Special equipment for lubricating arrived and is now in use in the new building. It is Graco brand equipment.

All special tools for valve work, etc., are housed in a screened-off area in the northwest corner of the building. Here, the mechanics will grind valves and handle other such jobs which require the special tools.

Tidwell has special equipment for repairing the rear axle, propeller shaft, the engine, three and four-speed transmissions, hydramatic, Powerglide and power steering, clutch and brakes, steering, and air conditioning.

'Rent-A-Car' Is Tidwell Service

Tidwell has a rent-a-car service for its customers who have their cars in the shop for repairs.

These persons can rent a car from Tidwell for $5 per day and five cents per mile, while their car is being worked on. These rates are well below the regular charg-

Third, Fourth Access Provided

Access from either Third or Fourth Street has been provided for Tidwell Chevrolet Company's new plant.

On the Fourth Street side of the property is the main entrance to display rooms, busines offices and parking area. On the Third Street side is the service entrance, which also provides access to the parking area.

Plenty Of Room And Then Some

The repair shop has room to adequately handle 17 cars at once and not be overly crowded. With 10 two-part lifts, either the front or back end of a car can be hoisted for repairs or the entire car can be lifted for work, as shown here.

Parts Department Major Feature Of Tidwell Chevrolet Company

One of the most active and important departments in Tidwell Chevrolet Company at its new plant on East Highway 80 is the parts department shown above. In the bins and aisles at rear of the counter, Tidwell keeps a constant stock of parts for Chevrolets worth $75,000. In addition to parts for all current models of Chevrolet, the parts department stocks hundreds of special parts for all model Chevrolets. In addition, the company has an arrangement where overnight delivery can be made on any special part which happens to be out of stock at the time it is needed.

Attractive Backdrop For Sleek Automobiles

The main showroom of the new Tidwell Chevrolet plant affords a most attractive background for display of the new models sold by the company. The entire front and side walls are of plate glass to afford open view from the highway. The back wall is of a quarried vari-colored stone masonry. The floor is of quarried tile, and the ceiling is appointed with strip fluorescent illumination. Outside planters embellish the showrooms. (Keith McMillin Photo).

D. A. Sellers Is Manager For Tidwell Chevrolet Parts Dept.

D. A. Sellers, who has been with Tidwell Chevrolet Company since 1953, is the man responsible for a most important department of the new Tidwell establishment on East Highway 80.

Sellers is parts department manager.

The function of the parts department is to have on hand and readily available all of the thousands of individual pieces which go into the making of an automobile.

In Sellers' case, his problem is stocking and knowing where to find all of the parts in today's complicated and highly perfected Chevrolet.

Further he has to keep on hand the parts needed for all Chevrolets of other years dating back for perhaps half a decade.

Sellers doesn't know how many individual pieces are in his stock bins but he knows that the Tidwell Company keeps a $75,000 stock of parts on hand all of the time.

A mechanic serving a Chevrolet comes to the parts department and asks for some tiny bolt or any of the complicated items which are a part of the modern motor car. Sellers or one of his co-workers steps back into the narrow aisles between row after row of towering bins and in a few seconds emerges with the particular item desired.

Sellers came from Gorman, Texas. He has been in the automobile business since 1947. He engaged in this line immediately after he was discharged from the armed forces. He moved to Big Spring a year earlier and today he lives at 626 Caylor Drive with his wife and his three children. The Sellers have a daughter and two sons.

He is delighted with the new and roomy facilities which are at his control in the new Tidwell plant. The old quarters were crowded and difficult, he says. In the new building he has room for the thousands of items he must keep on hand.

His task is to keep the supplies always on hand — he rides herd on all of the many pieces needed to keep Big Spring and Howard County Chevrolets running as they should and it is rare indeed when a needed part is not on hand.

"We have arrangements by which we can get overnight delivery on any part needed," he said, "but we try to have it on hand when the customer asks for it."

11 Men Work In Service Shops

Eleven men call their work headquarters the repair shop at Tidwell Chevrolet Company's new building on E. Fourth.

Heading the personnel lineup is W. P. Hughes, the service manager. Hughes is in charge of the shop at the new building and also the work at the body shop at 1008 E. Third.

The shop foreman is Marshall Cates.

The mechanics are Cecil Biggs, Bud Washburn, Lawrence Oliver, Pat Patterson, A. E. Ivy, Perry Mathis, Sam Tillery, Howard Armstrong, and Joe Urrias. Tillery, in addition to being a repairman, drives the wrecker.

There are no specialists at Tidwell; they all know how to handle all phases of work in the new enlarged shop. Whether it be hydramatic trouble, electrical shorts, or an unbalanced wheel, the mechanics are trained to handle it.

When one is assigned to a car, he stays with the job until it is completed, no matter what or how much trouble.

At frequent intervals, Tidwell has training films to show the men how to handle specific jobs and general mechanical work. These films are shown at least once a month.

Also, when the Chevrolet company comes out with a new invention or method of construction, the company holds special schools at different points throughout the nation to train its personnel on how to repair it or handle the problem.

Tidwell makes a policy of sending one man to the school, which is held in Dallas for this area. The man then returns and instructs the rest of the personnel on the item.

No certain person is sent to the Dallas schools; all men in the shop at one time or other attend these schools.

A Variety Of Materials Used

Glass, stone, brick, tile, steel, concrete and wood have been used effectively in the new Tidwell Chevrolet Company plant—decoratively as well as structurally.

The only wood in the building is for panelling office walls, for doors and for wainscot borders. Basic structure is of steel founded on concrete. Arkansas stone, brick, steel and glass are used for exterior walls. Quarry tile was used to pave the glassed-in new car showroom.

The Arkansas stone also forms the wall separating the showroom from executive and business offices. Steel covering was used on the shops portion of the building.

Pretty Lawn In The Making

Tidwell Chevrolet Company will have one of the prettiest lawns in Big Spring, next spring and summer.

The lawn is being established between the front of the new $175,000 building on East Fourth. It will extend from the glassed-in Chevrolet showroom to the highway (Fourth Street) line.

A planter of Arkansas ledgestone has been constructed along the west line of the grass area. On the east side of the lawn will be a shrubbery plot.

Steel guardrails also will flank the lawn.

Concern Stocks All Brands Of Oil

Tidwell Chevrolet Company stocks all major brands of motor oil in the big parts department.

The company also features the widely popular Zerex anti-freeze.

It is policy of the company to stock fuel pumps and filter elements for all cars and any item which may not be in local stock can be ordered, overnight delivery, from Dallas.

Spare motors and motor blocks are also regularly stocked but these are stored in another building.

Tidwell features glass service for all motor cars.

Paint is one item they do not stock.

The only paints the department has on hand are small jars which are used for retouching processes.

Wrecker Is Always Available

Driving a wrecker for Tidwell Chevrolet is not a straight eight-to-five job; when the clock runs, it runs.

And the policy is not changed one bit, what with Tidwell moving into its new building on East Highway 80. The only change in its wrecker service is the location.

Wrecker service at Tidwell means work in the small hours of the night or during the average working day. And the man doing the work at all hours is Sam Tillery.

Tillery can be reached at his home at any hour for a wrecker call by dialing AM 4-4135. This will bring a wrecker to any place. During the days, while not on wrecker calls, Tillery is a mechanic in Tidwell's shops.

Tidwell's white 1955 Chevrolet one-ton wrecker can be seen almost any day in different parts of the city or surrounding areas hauling in wrecked cars or ones that need repair and have to be pulled in.

Although Tillery works from the main shop, now open on W. Fourth Street, much of his work is taken to the shop at 1008 E. Third, where Tidwell's body repair shop is located.

Not only do citizens in Big Spring and Howard County depend on the Tidwell wrecker for service, but the police also. Tidwell is one of the established wrecker firms that take turns on call.

As its turn rolls around, Tidwell is on special call for two weeks on all emergency accidents where a wrecker might be needed. When a motorist does not specify a certain wrecker, Tidwell is dispatched during its two-week stretch.

New Tidwell Building Is Attractive, Made For Use

A skillful combination of stone, brick and steel makes the new Tidwell Chevrolet Company plant in east Big Spring one of the most stylish and most utilitarian.

Glass, rich wood paneling and quarry tile also were used effectively in making the building attractive as well as extremely "liveable."

The facility is situated in the 1500 block between East Third and East Fourth streets. Its site formerly was occupied by almost a "mountain" of caliche which Tidwell moved away before starting construction.

Front of the building is on Fourth Street. This consists of the new car showroom. Immediately back of the display area are the company's offices. These include quarters for the company's owner, Leroy Tidwell, the sales staff, accountants, etc.

Next, and between the offices and shops, is the parts department which is more than double the size of the parts section in the old Tidwell location.

Approximately the north half of the building is taken up by the shops, which extend from the parts department and offices section to the Third Street service entrance.

Over-all dimensions of the modern new building are 221 feet by 70 feet.

The showroom takes up an area 20-by-40 feet. Shops fill a rectangle 120-by-70 feet. Remainder of the 15,470 square feet of floor space is taken up by the office facilities, corridors, etc.

The spacious showroom is enclosed in glass on three sides — facing south, east and west. Its north wall — separating it from the business offices — is made of Arkansas ledgestone which extends through the showroom roof to form an attractive facade for the higher roof of the remainder of the building.

The showroom floor is covered with inlaid quarry tile.

Outside walls extending back from the stone front are of red Roman brick, except for the shop portion of the structure which is sheathed in steel. Inside, the offices, with the exception of that of Leroy Tidwell, company owner, are finished in ash paneling above which the surfaces are textoned. Ceilings also are textoned in a shade to blend with the blond paneling.

Tidwell's office is finished in walnut paneling. It is carpeted with a deep rose-colored rug. It has a western exposure. Furnishings are finished to match the wall panels.

Other floors throughout the office section of the building are covered with asphalt tile. Shops, of course, have concrete floors.

The building is equipped with a high fidelity public address system and is being equipped with its own switchboard-type telephone system.

Many Airmen Go To Tidwell's

Had you noticed how many airmen from Webb Air Force Base you see driving new Chevrolets?

David Simms, sales manager for Tidwell Chevrolet Company, says there is a reason — the airmen at the base are and have been for several years some of the best customers that Tidwell has.

"We sell a great many cars to Webb personnel," said Simms. "Chevrolets are popular with all classes of people and naturally they are popular with the men in the Air Force, too.

"We deeply appreciate the fine business we get from Webb airmen.

"We always bend over backward in our efforts to be as cordial and helpful as we can to any airman who wants to own a new Chevrolet."

New Home Of Tidwell Chevrolet Company

Five Enthusiasts On New-Car Staff

Would you like to meet five busy men who are super-enthusiastic about the product they sell?

You would?

Well, then, shake hands with Charles Blount, Bill Emerson, Carl Merrick, H. J. (Red) Holland and Pete Peterson.

They are the new car salesmen for the Tidwell Chevrolet Company at the new plant of the company on East Highway 80.

Under the direction of David Simms, sales manager, these are the men who have the fun of selling the beautiful new 1957 Chevrolets to Big Spring buyers.

Blount, Emerson, Merrick and Holland are all "old hands" at Tidwell. They have been selling Chevrolets for a long time and are unanimous in their declaration that this year's Chevrolet is the best of the many fine models Chevrolet has turned out in recent years.

Peterson is relatively new with Tidwell. However, the fact that he is new on the present job, in no way detracts from his enthusiasm for the product he sells. He, like his compatriots, bubbles with enthusiasm over the new 1957 Chevvies.

Prospective car buyers who have not had a chance to see and drive these fine new 1957 Chevrolets are urged to drop in at Tidwell Chevrolet Company and talk to these five fellows.

Enviable Sales Record Made

Tidwell Chevrolet has achieved an enviable record in sales.

Among Chevrolet agencies, the Big Spring agency generates sales normally attributed to cities of 50,000 to 60,000 population or higher. No comparisons are made between the sales in Big Spring and other area towns, but the record here is among the best in the entire West Texas region.

One reason for this is the belief of Leroy Tidwell, owner, that the most satisfactory way to operate an automotive agency is on a volume basis. If a person is in a trading mood, Tidwell contends he will try to find some way to trade.

Thus, it is no coincidence that the only regular staff meeting as such is the daily meeting of the sales force. Every morning David Sims, sales manager, and Doc Cone, used car sales manager, call in their staff members and outline the plans for the day. Every member of the sales force knows what is happening and might happen and has a key role to play in the plans.

Salesmen are in a position to know how to trade, and they need go no further than the department heads to get final approval if in doubt. They know Tidwell's policy on volume and do their best to uphold it.

Residents Get 'Second' Cars

One of the unique promotions of Tidwell Chevrolet in the interest of community activity is the Soap Box Derby.

When Leroy Tidwell acquired the agency here, he immediately put in his bid for a Soap Box Derby franchise. In this he was joined by the Big Spring Herald and the Big Spring Downtown Lions Club.

After three years the derby has become a community institution drawing several thousand people to its July 4 running. Charles (Lefty) Morris, Billy Bob Hutchens, and Wesley Hendricks have won the event and have been sent to Akron, Ohio, for the All-America Soap Box finals.

Big Spring is the smallest city in the United States with a Soap Box franchise, but interest in the event seems to be growing.

"I want to pay tribute to the Lions for their continued supervision and planning, and to the Herald for its sustained publicity and cooperation," said Tidwell. "They have made this event possible."

New Chevrolet Causes A Stir

Anyone interested in the new 1957 Chevrolet?

Well, the answer to that question, in the opinion of David Simms, sales manager for Tidwell Chevrolet Company, is that a great many persons are highly interested in the newest models of this fine automobile.

In his six years with Chevrolet, Simms said that he has never seen as much enthusiasm manifested over a new line of cars as is being displayed at the present time over the 1957 Chevrolets.

"We have had a most enthusiastic reception for the new Chevrolets," Simms said. "More folk express high approval and more folk are buying the new models than at anytime since I have been with the company."

The first showing of the new Chevrolets was on Oct. 19 he recalls.

"We sold one car on that date," he said. "Since then we have had a remarkably good business and it looks as though it is going to keep on and on the same way."

The reason is simple, Simms feels.

The new 1957 Chevrolet is one of the most beautiful and modern cars on the road, he points out. He adds that it has everything any car buyer wants and that the extremely wide assortment of models, colors and types, make it possible for Chevrolet to fill the demands of almost any person who may be in the market for a new automobile.

Simms urges any one in Big Spring who has not seen the new Chevrolets — "I doubt is there are many who haven't," he observes, "but there may be a few" — to come out to the fine new Tidwell Chevrolet plant on East Highway 80 and inspect models on display.

Tidwell's Payroll Is $170,000

Annual payroll for Tidwell Chevrolet Company approximates $170,000.

Sharing in this are 31 employes. Their average pay is more than $5,480 per year.

Doris Reid is bookkeeper in charge of the Tidwell payroll. She also handles accounts receivable for the concern. She has been with the local Chevrolet agency for nearly five years.

Mrs. Reid works under Howard Ehrlich, office manager and chief accountant for Tidwell. Ehrlich has been with the Tidwell company for 10 years in three Texas cities — Big Spring, Winnsboro and Kilgore.

Three Handle Parts Service

It takes three busy men to handle the parts department at the Tidwell Chevrolet plant on East Highway 80.

In addition to the department manager, D. A. Sellers, two other full time employes are constantly serving the mechanics who work in the repair department with the parts and tools they need to make repairs on cars in the shop.

Charles Clanton, with Chevrolet in Big Spring since 1951, is one of the workers. The other is James Hatler, who is new at the job but who has become a valuable worker.

The new building has more than double the bin space for parts that was available at the old location, these men report.

The parts department occupies 2,100 square feet of the main floor at the rear of the Tidwell plant. In addition to this area, there are an additional 1,500 square feet used by the department above the company offices.

Instead of 70 bins which were used at the old location, the department now has 136 bins. Each of these bins is three feet by seven feet in size.

They contain parts for all model Chevrolet automobiles and trucks.

Cabin At Lake For Employes

Workers at the Tidwell Chevrolet Company have their own cabin at Lake J. B. Thomas for weekend or other outings.

The facility has been provided jointly by the company and the employes.

The Tidwell workers have organized their own lake club, to which members pay monthly dues of $2 each to finance operations.

The 20-by-28 building includes a kitchen and is being equipped with bunks. It also has toilet facilities.

D. A. Sellers is president of the lake club. The members plan to fence the grounds, install playground equipment and a boat dock.

Over Square Block Of Parking Space

More than a square block of parking space has been provided adjacent to the new Tidwell Chevrolet Company plant in the 1500 block of East Fourth.

The area will be used by Tidwell customers as well as for the parking and display of new and used cars and trucks.

The parking area, as well as Tidwell's new building, extends from Fourth Street on the south to Third on the north. Front of the lot and the modern new building is, of course, on Fourth Street which is the east-bound segment of busy U. S. Highway 80 through Big Spring.

There are some 66,000 square feet of space in the paved parking area. Another 15,470 square feet are covered by the massive, modern building of masonry and steel which also extends from Fourth to Third. A service entrance is provided on the Third Street side of the property.

Dimensions of the building are approximately 220 feet by 70 feet. This includes the huge automotive shops which are under a covering 120-by-70 feet. Grounds outside of the building are about 270-by-270 feet.

Tidwell has given right-of-way for opening two streets between Third and Fourth —one on the east side of his property and the other along the western border of the grounds.

Value of the new Tidwell plant has been set by appraisers at $175,000.

Employes Have Retirement Plan

Employes of Tidwell Chevrolet Company have their own retirement plan.

Called the Pension Trust Retirement Plan, the retirement program is available to all Tidwell employes who desire to participate, provided they have been with the concern as much as two years.

The program was started last July 1, with 12 employes participating.

The retirement plan is operated in conjunction with an insurance company, and an insurance plan for Tidwell employes also is provided.

Both employes and employer contribute to the retirement fund which is managed by three trustees —all employes of Tidwell. The trustees are Howard Ehrlich, D. A. Sellers and W. P. Hughes.

Retirement is available at age 65, according to provisions made in setting up the program.

Firm Maintains Three Locations

Tidwell Chevrolet Company actually will be in three parts even though it is opening a new big plant on U. S. 80 east.

The main show rooms, offices, and shops, as well as a spacious used car lot will be maintained at the new location.

But the traditional used car outlet uptown at Fourth and Johnson will be maintained under the direction of Roy Tidwell. An old timer in the automotive business in Big Spring, he is no relation to the owner of the business, Leroy Tidwell.

The third unit is the body and paint shop in the former Coca Cola building location on East Third Street.

Used Cars Are Recommended By Mechanics

Any used car purchased from Tidwell Chevrolet Company will be recommended by the company's mechanics — they've checked them.

Every car that goes on the firm's car lot — now located on East Highway 80—has been completely checked by Tidwell mechanics.

When Tidwell sells a new car or used one and receives a used car as trade-in, it is not ready for the car lot.

It is turned over to one of the shop mechanics for a complete check-over. And by complete, Tidwell means a complete check-over.

The brakes are tightened or repaired; the headlights are focused. If the upholstery is frayed or torn, that too is fixed.

Windshield wipers are replaced, and tested. Every safety device is tested and put in top shape.

In this way, the men who sell Tidwell used cars know that they are selling a car that has been checked to see if it is serviceable.

Fringe Benefits Are Provided

"Take-home" as well as "fringe" benefits are enjoyed by members of the staff at Tidwell Chevrolet Company.

Although some are not now participating in the Tidwell Pension Trust Retirement Plan, they will be eligible to do so as soon as they compile a record of two years service with the company. At present, 12 workers are participating in the retirement program.

Employes also have life insurance available at only sixty cents per $1,000 through the General Motors Dealer Group Insurance Bureau. In addition, they may participate in a group hospitalization (Blue Cross) insurance plan at relatively low rates of coverage.

Through financial assistance granted by Tidwell, the employes also have their own cabin and lake club at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Tidwell also assists mechanics in paying for laundry uniforms. All employes receive a two-week paid vacation each year, provided they have been with the company at least a year.

In the "take home" category, the 31 Tidwell employes share in a $170,000 annual payroll.

Frogs Clinch Bowl Trip In 20-17 Win

HOUSTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Texas Christian sputtered for two quarters against an aroused Rice team and then roared back behind the second half passing of quarterback Charlie Curtis and running of fullback Buddy Dike to clinch a New Year's Day trip to the Cotton Bowl with a 20-17 victory over the Owls.

The Horned Frogs, 10-point favorites, trailed throughout the first half but came from behind twice in the third period to grab a second straight trip as Southwest Conference host at Dallas.

The victory also retained TCU's chances for a tie with Texas A&M for the conference championship but a tie would require a Texas upset of the Aggies and a TCU victory over SMU next week. NCAA probation makes the Aggies ineligible for the Cotton Bowl.

Rice jumped into a 10-0 lead before Dike climaxed TCU drives of 82 and 79 yards to move the Frogs ahead, 13-10. Quarterback King Hill passed to halfback Ken Williams for 35 yards and another Rice touchdown to make it 17-13 but the Frogs came right back for a 60-yard drive with Curtis plunging over from the one with less than two minutes remaining in the third period.

Fullback Raymond Chilton ended a 79-yard first quarter Rice drive with a four-yard run and fullback Jerry Hall made it 10-0 in the second period with a 25-yard field goal.

Hall also kicked two extra points. End Harold Pollard and fullback Vernon Hallbeck converted for TCU.

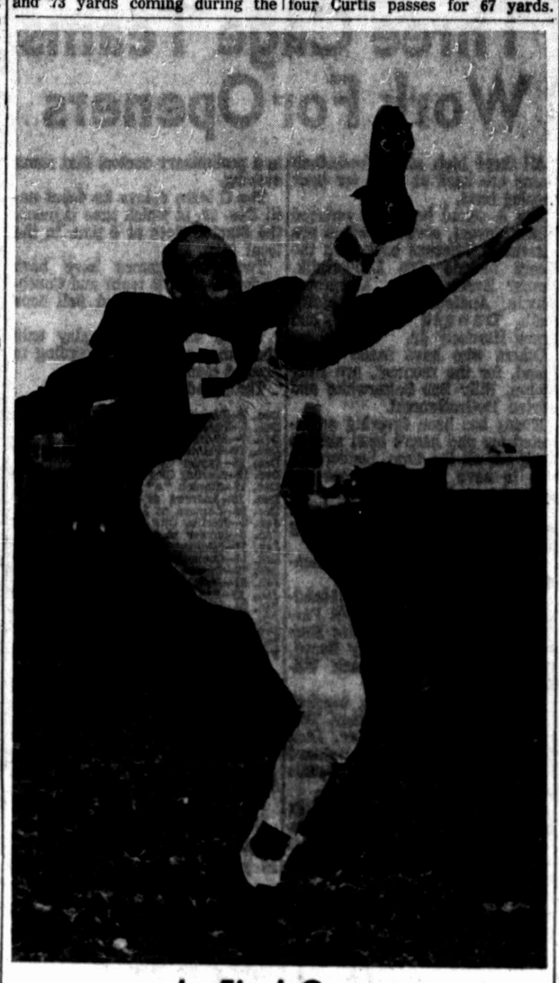

TCU clinched the Cotton Bowl trip in that the victory guaranteed the Frogs no less than a tie for second place with Baylor in final conference standings. In that the Frogs defeated Baylor, 7-6, the Dallas bid is automatic.

Curtis, and Dike overshadowed the efforts of Jim Swink, TCU all-America halfback. Curtis, a 200-pound senior from Gainesville, completed 10 of 18 passes for 185 yards. Seven out of nine passes were completed for 120 yards came during the three touchdown drives.

Dike had a net of 107 yards in 21 carries for the day with 12 tries and 73 yards coming during the scoring surges. His first touchdown was from the two, the second from the one.

Both teams were geared for offense, the Frogs posting a total net offense of 456 yards, Rice 382 yards.

Swink ran his season rushing total to 604 yards, netting 64 yards in 12 carries. He also received four Curtis passes for 67 yards.

In Final Game

Bobby Hayworth, quarterback from Big Spring, wound up his collegiate football career in McMurry College's 20-13 victory over Southern State College of Magnolia, Ark., in Abilene Friday night. Hayworth quarterbacked the Indians through most of the first half. One of the bright spots in the game was a jump pass Hayworth completed to Tommy Watkins, good for 40 yards.

Webb Gridders Deflate Reese

Webb Air Force Base's all-star football team blanked Reese AFB of Lubbock, 20-0, in a touch game played here Saturday afternoon.

The same two clubs play a return contest at the base this afternoon. Game time is 2 p.m.

Reese failed to get within Webb's 15-yard line.

The Dusters took the opening kickoff and surged to Reese's 15 on the fine pitching of Ron Houslea but the Rattlers took the ball there on downs. Webb's John Wierdsma attempted a field goal on fourth down but it was blocked.

Reese kicked out, Webb marched back to the enemy 18, where Wierdsma made good on a field goal try to give the locals a 4-0 lead.

In the second period, Bruce Sweeney went 40 yards on a fake reverse around left end behind good blocking for Webb's initial TD and Bill Palmer added the extra point on a kick from placement.

In the third period, after an exchange of punts, Webb marched 50 yards for its second touchdown, the last 25 yards coming on a pass from Sweeney to Bob Messersmith, right end. Palmer added his second conversion of the day to pad Webb's lead to 20-0.

John Lee was a standout for Reese on both offense and defense.

Webb's line, composed of Don Bates, Bruce Struckman and Wiersdma, played outstanding ball.

Center Bill Raines, end Bob Messersmith and left half John Bonner sparkled on offense for the Dusters.

Jimmy Ray Smith, Jim Zapp, Bob McDonald and Allen Cloud officiated the contest.

Performing for Webb, in addition to the above named, were Bill Palmer, Sweeney and Houska in the offensive backfield and Arthur Jones, end; Bill Napolitano, back; and Sweeney, back, on defense.

Majors Paces Vols To Win

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24 (AP) — Little Johnny Majors gave 45,000 football fans a brilliant display of running, passing and kicking today as he piloted Tennessee to a 20-7 victory over Kentucky in a Southeastern Conference game.

With Kentucky scenting a 7-6 upset of the unbeaten and untied Vols, Majors rallied his mates to a two-touchdown burst in the final quarter to hand Tennessee its ninth victory in a row.

Majors scored two of the Vols' touchdowns and had an indirect hand in the other.

The first Tennessee score came on a freak play in the opening period when tackle John Gordy grabbed Majors' fumble on the Wildcat 6 and raced over the goal line. Sammy Burklow missed the extra point.

BY TIGERS

Favored Arkansas Is Upset, 21 To 7

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 24 (AP)—Fullback Jimmy Taylor led a rugged Louisiana State ground attack today that thrashed favored Arkansas 21-7 without completing a forward pass.

For the fourth year in a row, the Tigers upset a favored team. Razorbacks haven't beaten LSU since 1929.

It was the second victory for LSU against seven losses, while Arkansas now has a 6-4 mark.

Taylor gained 170 yards on 20 carries, including a 75-yard sprint off tackle for LSU's first touchdown and a one-yard buck for the final tally.

The second LSU score came in the second quarter when guard Bob Ziegler snatched a wobbly pass by hard-pressed Arkansas quarterback Don Christian and trotted 27 yards for the touchdown.

LSU scored a safety in the fourth quarter when end John Wood and Billy Smith nailed Christian in the end zone. LSU quarterback M.C. Reynolds had put Arkansas in a hole by punting out on the Razorback one.

After LSU jumped to a 13-0 lead, Arkansas took the next kickoff and marched 68 yards in seven plays for its touchdown. On the scoring play, fullback Jerry Ferguson cut off right tackle 14 yards, then tossed a latteral as he was tackled to halfback John Titschel, who raced over for the touchdown. The play was good for 39 yards, with Ritschel going the last 25 yards.

Some 26,000 fans saw the contest in cool, clear weather at State Fair Stadium.

Neither team completed a forward pass in the first half. LSU defeated Arkansas at its own game—controlling the ball with a running attack.

The Tigers also took advantage of three Razorback fumbles and an intercepted pass.

For the first time this season, the LSU ground attack rolled smoothly throughout an entire game, losing the ball only once on a fumble.

The 197-pound Taylor, with a fat 8.5 average, led LSU ball carriers who piled up 295 yards rushing. He had a lot of help from his halfback running backs, J.C. Brodnax and Joe May. Brodnax pounded 69 yards in 17 tries for a 4.1 average, while May carried 16 times for 62 yards and a 3.9 average.

Taylor's long-scoring run came on third down with less than a yard to go for first down. While Arkansas bunched its defense, the husky fullback slanted outside right tackle and broke into the clear with the aid of a key block by Wood.

A few minutes later, Wood hit Underwood hard as the Arkansas quarterback turned loose the pass intercepted by Ziegler.

LSU's final touchdown came after Earl Leggett recovered an Arkansas fumble on the Razorback 23.

The drive appeared stalled on fourth down and four to go on the 8, but an Arkansas lineman broke off side when Taylor got back to try a field goal. The penalty moved the ball to the 3. The Tigers scored two plays later.

Sooners Romp Past Huskers

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Unbeatable Oklahoma methodically rolled to its 39th straight football victory today, overpowering Nebraska 54-6 with an eight-touchdown barrage that closed out a decade of Big Seven Conference domination.

The No. 1 ranked Sooners lacked some of the razor-edged sharpness that beat Missouri 67-7 for the Big Seven pennant last week, but team speed and a crushing line shattered the Cornhuskers of Pete Elliott, who was an assistant at Oklahoma last year.

For the record book, the 29th consecutive victory tied the all-time college record of Washington back in 1908-1914. Since 1947, when Bud Wilkinson took over as Oklahoma head coach, the Sooners have not lost a league tilt.

The Sooners, with 55 boys playing, scored in every quarter, going through the air and on the ground on long gains as they mixed their split-T attack with single wing and a back-in-motion flanker.

Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's All-America, quarterback Jimmy Harris and alternate halfback Carl Dodd each scored two touchdowns with David Brown and Dale Sherrod each making one. Brown's came on a 53-yard run.

Bruins Manhandle SMU As Sophomores Shine

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Baylor turned loose its sophmore backfield with versatile Buddy Humphrey as the ring leader today and the Golden Bears smashed Southern Methodist 26-0 to put Texas Christian into the Cotton Bowl.

Baylor thoroughly dominated the Methodists, who only got past midfield under their own power just once during the afternoon.

Texas Christian beat Rice 20-17 at Houston today to clinch the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. SMU was the last team with a chance of beating out TCU.

Humphrey passed for one touchdown, scored one and pitched in heavily in the drive that brought a third. He was aided in his impetuous conquest by Larry Hickman and Farrell Fisher, a couple of pounding sophs.

A crowd of 26,000 watched the game played in Indian summery weather in the Cotton Bowl.

The Bears, led by the hard-driving sophomores, rolled up 269 yards on the ground and passed for 93. Southern Methodist was held to 53 on the ground and 40 passing.

While Baylor, in clouting SMU, was eliminating itself from the Cotton Bowl, it was furthering its bowl hopes just the same. The Bears are believed in line for a spot in the Sugar Bowl if they finish the season without defeat. They have won seven and lost two.

Next week Texas Christian plays Southern Methodist at Dallas able to clinch second place in the conference race by beating SMU, the Horned Frogs could wind up in a tie for the championship should Texas A&M lose to Texas next Thursday at Austin. A&M is on NCAA probation and ineligible for the Cotton Bowl.

Fumbles handed two of the touchdowns to Baylor but mainly it was the smashing Bear backs and an unyielding, overpowering line that pushed SMU thither and yon that told the story.

Humphrey made the first Baylor score with a 2-yard run around end. Hickman got the second with a 1-yard plunge, Bobby Peters whirled around end for two yards and the third and Humphrey passed 9 yards to end Bill Anderson who went two more for the final counter. Donnel Berry converted after two touchdowns.

Hickman and Fisher wound up with 51 yards rushing apiece but the leading ground-gainer was Del Shofner, who made 96, failing, however, to score Shofner made a couple of long runs in the last period.

Midland Wins Over Odessa

ODESSA, Nov. 24 (SC) — Leading, 7-0, going into the fourth period, the Midland Bulldogs poured on the coals to vanquish the Odessa Bronchos, 27-0, here Saturday afternoon.

Johnny Branson scored for Midland in the second period on an intercepted pass, covering 46 yards. Fred Hedges booted the PAT.

In the fourth, Larry Cooper, sneaked over from the one, Hedges scored from the two and Sam Rosson counted on a pass from Cooper. Hedges also booted two PAT's in the final period.

Odessa never got closer to the Midland goal than the 33-yard line.

Kilgore Is Picked

CLEBURNE, Nov. 24 (AP)—School officials scheduled the Kilgore-Cleburne regional Class AAA playoff game today for next Saturday at 2 p.m. at Kilgore.

Houston Downs Tech Raiders By 20-7 Tab

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—Houston used crushing ground power and a brilliant defense in the second half to stop Texas Tech cold for a 20-7 victory over the Red Raiders before 15,000 fans here today.

Quarterback Don Flynn scored twice and halfback Hal Lewis went over once, but it was the bruising power of fullback Donnie Caraway that proved the difference.

Caraway carried 16 times and picked up 77 yards to grind down the Raider defenders. He was the key figure on offense and his defensive play did a lot to contain the Raiders.

Tech, trailing 7-0 after one period, went off the field with a 7-7 tie at half time when halfback Hugh Fewin raced 20 yards at 13:25. Quarterback Don Williams tied up the game with his conversion. Flynn kicked both of Houston's extra points.

The Cougars lost little time scoring in the first quarter, capitalizing on a break when Tech fullback Gene Bentley fumbled on the Raider 21. Six plays later, Flynn rolled around left end for the touchdown at 4:10.

Tech came to life in the second period. Fullback Doug Duncan set up the opportunity with a 37-yard run. Houston held but Williams returned fullback Owen Mulholland's punt to the 37. Eight plays later Fewin slipped 20 yards around left end for the touchdown.

After Houston had held Tech following the second half kickoff the Cougars opened a 67-yard drive with Flynn going one yard for the winning touchdown at 13:25.

The Raiders started a drive that ended on another break for Houston. Fewin fumbled on the Tech 41 and center Billy McIlroy recovered.

It took the Cougars only seven plays to send Lewis eight yards over left guard into the end zone at 3:49 to settle the game.

It was the Cougars sixth victory and the sixth loss for the Raiders.

The game was into the second quarter and Washington had a 21-0 lead before State scored. The first counter came on Washington's third play, when the Huskies sprung Mike McClusky over right tackle for 58 yards.

IN CAGE DEBUT

Jayhawks Trounce Dusters, 97-68

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks' 1956-57 basketball debut Saturday night proved a rousing success.

The local collegians invaded the lair of the Webb Air Force Dusters and departed with a 97-68 victory.

Originally, the Hawks were to have waited until Dec. 4 to launch play. Coach Harold Davis accepted the challenge mainly because other schools on the Hawk schedule are already active.

After ten minutes of play, the score was tied at 16-16 but the Hawks pulled away after that and were in command, 39-32, at half time.

Charles Clark and Stan Williams fouled out early in the second half and Bobby Wardell and Johnny Watson went to the penalty box in the last eight minutes but by that time the Hawks had nailed down the verdict.

Al Kloven turned in far and away his best performance since he first donned an HCJC uniform. He hit 30 points, all but four of which came from the field.

Mike Powell chipped in with 14, Wardell had 13 and Clark ten.

Bob McDonald proved the hottest performer for Webb and kept the Dusters in the game through the first half.

In all 11 players got into the scoring act for the Jayhawks.

Plainsmen Outlast Seminoles, 13-7

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 24 (AP) — The passing combination of Howell Tubbs to Jimmy Phillips gave Auburn the winning margin today as the Tigers defeated tough Florida State 13-7.

It was Auburn's 14th consecutive winning appearance at home and the sixth victory of the season against three defeats. A crowd of 10,000 fans watched the game, chilled by a raw wind despite sunny skies.

The victory added a dramatic climax to Tiger fullback Jim Walsh's career. He plunged over from the 3 in the third period for the first touchdown in four years at Auburn.

Andrews Is Host

ANDREWS, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Class AAA bi-district game between Andrews and Littlefield will be played here Thursday afternoon, coaches decided today.

SEASON CAGE DUCAT READY

The Big Spring Quarterback Club has tackled the job of helping the schools sell a season ticket to Big Spring High School basketball games for $5.

The ducat — and only one pasteboard will be used for all games — is good for 19 games.

That does not include the second game, set Dec. 4, since the Steers and HCJC are to play games on the same night but in different gyms and admission can be gained to both contests for the price of $1.

The high school contest (with Sweetwater) will start at 7:00 o'clock that evening. HCJC's contest (with Decatur) will be moved back to 8:30 in order that fans can attend both games.

Regular admission to either game is 75 cents.

Pairings For Fight Card Monday Are Announced

Johnny Johnson's Physical Education boxing program, which has been going on at the local high school for the past several weeks, will be climaxed Monday evening with a "fight night" in the high school gym.

The public is invited to attend and see champions crowned in each weight division. At least eight and possibly ten fights will be staged.

The Key Club is sponsoring the program. Admission prices have been pegged at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. However, students must purchase their ducats in school. If they wait until they get to the door, they will be charged an additional 10 cents.

Dan Lewis will referee all the bouts.

Pairings, as announced by Coach Johnson:

FLYWEIGHT—Warren McCrary vs Gabriel Fierro.

BANTAMWEIGHT—Charles Engle vs Lefty Morris. This will be an exhibition, since Engle has already been crowned champion.

FEATHERWEIGHT — Ken Cobb vs Arnold Uriba.

LIGHTWEIGHT — John Brown vs Johnny Subia.

WELTERWEIGHT—Frosty Forrest vs Buddy Watson.

MIDDLEWEIGHT — Sammy Meador vs Billy Rosser.

LIGHTHEAVY — Travis Anderson vs Don Payne.

HEAVYWEIGHT— Leighton Stewart vs Wayne Ditloff.

Wildcats Drubbed By Howard Payne

ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—Bob Byerly and Cecil Elkins, Howard Payne defensive men, combined talents today to give Payne a 20-12 victory over Abilene Christian College.

Byerly recovered an ACC fumble on the Abilene 12 which set up a touchdown and Elkins blocked an extra point kick which gave Payne enough for the victory. Payne added an insurance touchdown in the final period, however.

Middies Favored In Philly Clash

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Navy will be slightly favored when the Middies clash with the Black Knights of West Point before a sellout crowd of 102,000 at Municipal Stadium next Saturday.

But — and that's a great big but — the unusual can be expected in the 1956 renewal of the service classic, just as it has in every Army-Navy game.

The Middies have a 6-1-1 record with only a 7-7 tie with Duke and a 21-6 loss to Tulane marring their record.

The Cadets have dropped three games in eight but were three points more effective against the two teams' only common opponent — William and Mary. Army whipped W&M 34-6; Navy turned the trick 39-14.

Iowa Hawkeyes Stampede Notre Dame Irish, 48-8

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 24 (AP)—Iowa's Rose Bowl-bound Big Ten football champions put a golden touch to the best Hawkeye season in 35 years with a spectacular 48-8 rout of Notre Dame today.

Iowa, stabbing Notre Dame with dazzling long runs, kept its partisans in the crowd of 56,632, huddled in slightly below freezing weather, wild and warm throughout the afternoon with by far its best offensive show of the season.

The Hawks, headed for a New Year's Day Rose Bowl duel with Oregon State, ended their regular season with an 8-1 record and they picked up their first undisputed Big Ten championship since 1921 as a result of Michigan's 19-0 victory over Ohio State.

Iowa had a 5-1 conference record, landing the Hawks in first place for the first time since a share with Michigan in 1922.

Iowa, whose fans had feared there might be a letdown after last week's bowl-clinching 6-0 victory over Ohio State, dispelled all those thoughts in the first half by racing to a 28-0 lead under the expert direction and individual play of quarterback Kenny Ploen.

Ploen went 10 yards for the first Iowa touchdown and set up the second with a 32-yard spurt to the Notre Dame 1-yard line. He got himself a second touchdown in the second quarter on a 41-yard run.

Ploen's advertised duel with Notre Dame's Paul Hornung failed to materialize because the handsome Irish star was sidelined with 6 minutes left in the first period. Bothered by two bad thumbs, he didn't make another appearance.

Notre Dame didn't score until Iowa had a 35-0 lead on Fred Harris' 61-yard break through the Irish line.

The first Notre Dame points came in the third period when Frank Geremia tackled Harris in the end zone for a safety. Notre Dame followed with a touchdown on a 14-yard pass, Larry Cooke to Bob Ward who made a one-handed catch on the Iowa 3.

Merkel's Badgers, who may be the finest Class A football team in the state, fired up a high-octane offense at the expense of the Sundown Roughnecks here before 3,000 fans Friday night and breezed to a 60-20 victory.

The success put them in the second round of the playoffs, where they meet Sonora, the 8-B king, next weekend at a site yet to be determined. Sonora qualified for the game by subduing Big Lake Friday evening, 26-13.

Carroll Benson's aggressive club raced to a 40-0 lead before the Roughnecks, kings of District 5-A, could untrack. The Roughies tried and tried but they couldn't penetrate the Merkel defensives with any degree of success until Benson sent in his reserves.

The Badgers ran up 26 points in the opening period and had no trouble adding to their point aggregate, after that.

Fullback Jackie Russell got the Badgers off on the right foot when he shook himself loose on a nifty 36-yard run less than two minutes after the game had started. That run climaxed a 65-yard drive.

Kermit Rutledge didn't kick the goal but it didn't matter. A short time later, Rutledge himself broke loose on a 19-yard gallop that reached the pay window and Merkel led, 12-0. That particular march went 53 paces.

Ruissell got back into the scoring act on a 49-yard run, after guard Carl McKeever had intercepted a Sundown pass and was downed on his own 40. That time, Rutledge booted the point and Merkel widened its advantage to 19-0.

Rutledge churned 39 yards for the next Merkel score, set up by a Sundown fumble out on the Roughies' 43. He also made good on the PAT try and Merkel led, 26-0.

Early in the second round, quarterback Robert McLeod — who did a sensational job of directing the Merkel attack — passed to Manley Denton for a touchdown. The play covered 73 yards and Denton was far behind the defenders when he accepted the toss. Rutledge again made good on the PAT try and Merkel led, 33-0.

The Badgers scored again in the second when Rutledge snaked through from the three after Russell had intercepted a pass thrown by Dale Childs and darted 38 yards to that point. Rutledge's try for point was good.

Sundown beat the clock to get its initial TD, moving 59 yards across the double stripes. Billy Carter carried it over from 14 yards away, going right up the middle. That made it 40-6, Merkel, and that score stood up at half time.

It didn't take McLeod long to find Denton with another touchdown pass after play was resumed. That play covered 40 yards and Rutledge made the try for point to run the tab to 47-6.

Rutledge stepped into the spotlight again shortly thereafter when he churned 22 yards into the end zones after Merkel had pounced on a Sundown fumble on the Roughs' 32. Kermit also booted the point to run Merkel's lead to 54-6.

Childs finally got his Sundown attack to percolating against Merkel reserves and it paid off with a score shortly before the period ended. Charles Singleton bruised four yards for the score, at the end of a drive that went 70 yards. Childs booted the point and Merkel led, 54-13.

Each team counted once in the last period.

McLeod dived over for Merkel's tally from one yard out, culminating a 66-yard drive. A pass from Childs to Jimmy Janes, good for 22 yards, gave Sundown its last tally. The drive carried 72 yards. Childs kicked the PAT for the final tally of the game.

In all, Rutledge tallied 30 points for Merkel. Russell made 12, Denton 12 and McLeod six.

Carter, Singleton and Janes each got a TD for Sundown while Childs booted two extra points.

Score by quarters:

Merkel	26	14	14	6—60
Sundown	0	6	7	7—20

MICHIGAN RIPS BUCKS, 19 TO 0

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 24 (AP)—Michigan buried Ohio State's Big Ten co-championship hopes under the cleat-torn turf of Buckeye Stadium today, with a 19-0 conquest which was more convincing than the score indicates.

The Buckeyes, two-time Western Conference champions, were shorn of their chance for a third straight crown in last Saturday's 6-0 loss to Iowa and were a frustrated ball club today. They banged in futile fashion at the stalwart Wolverine defenses most of the day.

Ohio needed this one to tie Iowa for the title, but the Bucks didn't have a chance. Michigan scored the first time it had the ball, going 78 yards in 14 plays with quarterback Jim Van Pelt tossing a 21-yard scoring pass to Terry Barr. Two minutes later Barr was in the end zone again on a 4-yard run after he had recovered an Ohio fumble on the 9.

The Wolves wrapped it up midway in the last period with a 74-yard, 6-play drive in which halfback Jim Pace reeled off a 47-yard dash over tackle and caught a 24-yard pass from Jim Maddock. Maddock scored the touchdown on a 1-foot plunge.

Ohio made only one threat, marching 58 yards to Michigan's 4 as the fourth quarter opened, but Michigan took the ball on downs.

The Bucks, who had lost the ball three times on fumbles and three times on pass interceptions in the first eight games, matched those six turnovers today as they fumbled the ball away four times and two of their five aerials fell into enemy hands.

Ohio State launched the season favored to wrap up an unprecedented third straight Western Conference crown. But the Bucks wound up on a note of futility with the successive shutouts at the hands of Iowa and Michigan.

It was the first time in Coach Woody Hayes' six-year regime here that he had been beaten twice in a row, and the first time he had been blanked twice in any season.

A crowd of 82,223 witnessed the game, boosting Ohio's six-game, at-home attendance to a new record of 494,575, an average of 82,429. The previous record of 490,477 was set last year.

Michigan gained 127 yards on the ground and 156 through the air for a 283 total, to Ohio's 192 total. The Bucks outrushed the Wolves 182 to 127, but most of the yardage came deep in Ohio territory except for the one big splurge to Michigan's 4. Ohio failed to make a first down in the opening period, and the game was 25 minutes old before the Bucks got into Michigan territory.

Pace was Michigan's big ground gainer as he rolled for 92 yards in 16 tries. Galen Cisco led the Ohio attack with 66 yards in 13 tries, with halfback Don Clark, who was injured early in the final quarter, picking up 53 yards in 12 tries.

Patterson, Moore Meet Friday For World Title

CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP)— Floyd Patterson, who some critics think is too young, and Archie Moore, who some think is too old, meet Friday for the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

The scheduled 15-round fight at Chicago Stadium will be broadcast and home televised (both NBC) starting at 10 p.m., EST, with Chicago and a 150-mile radius blacked out.

Each fighter will receive 30 per cent of the gate a $250,000 projection by the International Boxing Club based on 18,000 attendance, radio and TV proceeds $200,000 package deal and movie right (the amount depending on the sale).

Moore, who says he will be 40 years old on Dec. 13, has remained a steady 8-5 favorite. If he wins the title vacated when Rocky Marciano announced his retirement seven months ago, he automatically will relinquish his light-heavyweight crown under National Boxing Assn. regulations.

If Moore loses, he will be required to defend his 175-pound title within 90 days or forfeit it.

There is no return match clause in the contract.

Patterson, who registered seven knockouts in eight bouts in his climb to the Olympic middleweight championship in 1952 at Helsinki, will be 22 on Jan. 4. If he beats Moore he will become the youngest heavyweight king in history. Joe Louis was 23 when he gained the crown from Jimmy Braddock.

Patterson hasn't fought since he fractured his hand defeating Hurricane Jackson in New York last June 8, in 12 rounds, the most he ever has gone. In winning 30 fights, he has scored 19 clean knockouts and 2 technical knockouts.

Minnesota Tied By Badger Club

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 24 (AP) — Wisconsin deprived Minnesota of sole possession of second place in the Big Ten Football Conference today by holding the Gophers to a 13-13 tie with a giant-sized assist from a pass interference penalty called against Bobby Cox.

A crowd of 54,149 huddled in frigid Camp Randall Stadium to watch the Badgers register their third tie of the Conference race without a victory. Wisconsin finished ninth.

The Gophers and Michigan wound up second behind Iowa.

Wreck Uses Foe's Miscues To Achieve 28-0 Victory

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Georgia Tech combined Florida mistakes with Ken Owen's smashing power up the middle and Paul Rotenberry's sweeping speed for a 28-0 Southeastern Conference football victory today.

The Engineers convinced a Gator Bowl capacity crowd of 36,000 they are every bit as good as their No. 5 national ranking and worthy of being invited back to play in the Gator Bowl game five weeks from today.

This sixth conference victory also kept alive Tech's title hopes, dependent on a Tennessee loss to Vanderbilt next week.

Florida escaped without punishment on its first fumble midway the first quarter. But a minute later, Jimmy Dunn's bobble gave Tech an opportunity from the Florida 17.

Owen blasted over the middle on a series of short plunges and Toppy Vann sneaked a yard for Tech's first touchdown.

Florida was playing a waiting game in the second quarter when Jon May punted on first down and the strategy backfired. The kick died at the Florida 25 and on the seventh play Rotenberry was escorted by four Tech blockers into the end zone.

Held to one first down in the first half, Florida opened up after intermission but had too little to dent Tech's defense, while the Engineers added touchdowns on a 49-yard sustained drive and a short ramble after a blocked punt.

SMU FAVORITE IN SWC BASKETBALL CAMPAIGN

By The Associated Press

The seven squads will bulge with veterans when the Southwest Conference opens its basketball seasqn next weekend.

The league appears its strongest in history with prospects of making an outstanding showing along the intersectional front. The teams play all over the country, meeting the best in basketball.

Defending champion SMU is the favorite. Rice and Texas get strong backing and should be rated above the Methodists, says SMU Coach Doc Hayes.

SMU has five lettermen, including three all-conference players of last season — Larry Showalter, Jim Krebs and Bobby Mills.

Texas has the most veterans, nine lettermen. Among them are Ray Downs, the conference's leading scorer. The brilliant Longhorn forward - center flipped in 322 points last campaign in conference games alone — almost 27 points per game. He led for the full season with 625.

Rice has five lettermen and some fine sophomores. Temple Tucker, 6-10 center, and Tom Robitaille, 6-9 sophomore, head one of the tallest teams the conference ever saw.

Texas A&M has eight lettermen, Baylor and TCU five each and Arkansas four. All - conference Dick O'Neal, who scored 593 points last season, leads TCU for the last time.

First games are scheduled Saturday Dec. 1 with A&M meeting Centenary at Shreveport, Baylor clashing with Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, Arkansas hosting Oklahoma and Rice taking on Trinity at San Antonio. Dec. 3 finds SMU opening against McMurry at Dallas, TCU playing Austin College at Fort Worth and Texas meeting North Texas State at Austin.

Texas Tech is a member of the conference but isn't yet eligible to compete for the championship. The Red Raiders open Dec. 3 against Kansas State at Lubbock.

Spartans Enjoy Big Third Period To Sink Wildcats

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 24 (AP)—Michigan State knocked in four touchdowns in the third period today to assure a 38-17 victory over Kansas State in a football game marred by a rash of fumbles by both teams.

The MSU Spartans, trailing 3-0 at one point in the second quarter, fumbled seven times in the first half alone and lost the ball on five of the miscues.

Ben Grosse kicked a field goal from the 30-yard line to give the Kansans their early three-pointer. Michigan State had only a slender 6-3 halftime lead, the touchdown coming on a fourth-down pass from the 5-yard line by third-string quarterback Mike Panitch to Larry Harding.

After a halftime scolding, Michigan State started playing scoring football in the third period.

The touchdowns in the third stanza came on a 39-yard, pass-run play from Don Gilbert to Sammy Williams, a 2-yard plunge by Gilbert, a 6-yard run by Dennis Mendyk and a 41-yard, pass-run play, this throw from Panitch to Harold Dukes.

In the third-quarter scoring, two of the MSU touchdowns were made after Kansas State fumbled and one followed a pass interception.

Mendyk went over from the 1 for the final MSU score in the fourth period.

In the final period, with less than four minutes left, quarterback Dick Corbin passed to Gene Keady in the end zone while Kansas State was on the 7 for one consolation touchdown and Ralph Pfiefer added another on a plunge from the 4.

Helpless Harvard Kayoed By Yale

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 24 (AP)—Touchdown twins Dennis (The Menace) McGill and Al Ward ended their college football careers in sensational fashion today as Yale overpowered hapless Harvard, 42-14 in winning the first formal Ivy League championship.

McGill and Ward, speedy, elusive halfbacks seeking all-Ivy honors for the second straight year, turned in sparkling running performances in the 73rd Yale-Harvard football meeting before a packed crowd of more than 38,000 at the stadium.

McGill, a 170-pounder from North Bergen, N.J., scored Yale's first touchdown on a two - yard buck and then tallied the second on a 78-yard sweep around end.

Ward, a 174-pounder from Glencoe, Ill., who also stars in track, returned a Harvard kickoff 77 yards for a touchdown and was a workhorse in Yale's all-senior backfield.

Pro Teams Start Annual Draft Calls On Monday

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24 (AP) — The National Football League will make its bonus selection and hold at least four rounds of its annual 30-round player draft on Monday, seeking for the second straight year to meet the early Canadian competition for U.S. college football talent.

Prior to last year, the NFL bonus selection and draft were held at the league's yearly meeting in mid-January. Canadian professional football, however, begins seeking talent in mid-November and early December, forcing the NFL to move up its draft date.

When representatives of the 12 league franchises gather here on Monday, the first order of business will be the bonus choice, an out-of-the-hat draw first started in 1947 and entitling the winner to draft rights on any graduating college football player in America.

Under league rules, once a team wins the bonus player, it drops out of the drawing until all 12 teams have won. This year, only the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Cardinals will participate in the draw. The Pittsburgh Steelers won last year and surprised by selecting a comparative unknown, back Gary Glick of Colorado A&M.

The scuttlebutt is that if Green Bay wins, it will go for a hard running halfback like Jim Brown, Syracuse; Jim Swink, Texas Christian; Jon Arnett, Southern California; Clarence Peaks, Michigan State, or Oklahoma's Tommy McDonald.

The Cardinals seem more likely to select an outstanding quarterback with such prospects as Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, Stanford's John Brodie, Purdue's Len Dawson, Georgia Tech's Wade Mitchell, and Columbia's Claude Benham around for the picking.

Scotties And Tech To Play Thursday

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—The bi-district football game between Dallas' Highland Park and Dallas' Crozier Tech will be played at Dal-Hi stadium here Nov. 29 at 8 p.m.

Highland Park won Dist. 5 AAAA. Corzier won 6AAAA.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Of the returning Big Spring football lettermen, all were considered regulars at one time during the season besides Wesley Grigsby, and Wesley didn't get a chance to prove himself due to an early season injury . . . In all, the Longhorns will have 12 monogram winners back in 1957, which makes prospects considerably brighter than they were this year . . . Sweetwater has now beaten Lamesa five years running in football . . . Even when the Tornadoes fielded their championship club in 1952, Sweetwater won, 28-14 . . . The 46 points Colgate ran up against Army in a losing cause recently was the largest number ever counted by a losing club in a major college football game . . . Plainview, way down in football this year, will run from both the Single Wing and Split T next season . . . Abilene High School has only three of 11 basketball lettermen back from last season and only one of those, forward Ted Lucas, is working out at the present time . . . The other two, Glen Gregory and Ralph Bruton, are still playing football . . . Incidentally, Gregory and Jimmy Carpenter are the two fastest boys in Abilene High but both pass up track to concentrate on baseball . . . Neither can outrun Big Spring's Johnny Janak in the 100, however . . . Gregory and Carpenteh are also excellent broad jumpers . . . Decision of Coach Harold Davis to stage the annual Howard College Basketball Tournament Jan. 3-4-5 means that Shorty Lawson and his capable team of Abilene officials won't be able to call the meet . . . Shorty, Bob Groseclose and Jerome Vannoy will all be teaching school at that time . . . Big Spring's Boyce Hale, a capable arbiter who calls 'em close, will probably be one of the tournament refs . . . Jimmy Joe Robinson, the former HCJC cager, is attending school at ENMU in Portales, N. M., on a scholarship . . . Two former HCJC athletes, Bobby Maines and Wiley Brown, are back here and may play on an independent team being organized . . . Maines quit Brigham Young University while Brown decided he didn't like it at Midwestern . . . Maines expects to return to BYU in the spring . . . Brown plans to enroll at ACC next fall.

Grun Only Junior But He's Moving

Max Hooper, who performed for Reese Air Force Base's basketball team against Webb's Dusters here the other night, is a former University of Illinois cager . . . Now an instructor in B-25's at the Lubbock base, Max campaigned for a place on the U.S. Olympic team earlier this year . . . When football season ended for the Big Spring Steers recently, Jan Loudermilk the junior end had grown to 224 pounds . . . Loudermilk caught 12 passes good for 123 yards in District 2-AAAA competition in 1956 . . . Bobby Savage, the former Big Spring athlete, has given East High School of Des Moines, Iowa, its seventh City Series championship in eight years this fall . . . East made it certain by whamming North High of Des Moines, 40-0, in its final game . . . One of Savage's boys, Jim Thomas, scored 109 points to set a new city scoring record . . . Attendance in the minor baseball leagues dropped off ten per cent this year but there were five fewer circuits in operation . . . Both the International League and American Association outdrew the Pacific Coast League at the gate, by the way . . . Preston McCleskey, the former coach at Plainview High School is now with the Department of Internal Revenue, stationed in Midland . . . Freddy Grun, one of the stars of the Loop backfield that met and lost to Sterling City in Forsan Friday night, is only a junior but he won't be available to the Longhorns next year . . . His family is moving to the Abilene vicinity . . . Emmett Broderson, the former Big Spring coaching aide, gave Whiteface not only its first grid champion in nine years but its first 11-man crown in history this fall . . . Tatum, N. M., who tied Whiteface in the first game of the season, emerged as the Class C champion in New Mexico . . . The deal which would have moved Pat Stasey from Hobbs, N. M., to San Angelo as a baseball operator isn't as close to reality as it was three weeks ago.

New System Will Benefit Program

The athletic lettering system which schools have adopted is revolutionary and is going to be controversial . . . No doubt, it will work to the advantage of most everyone concerned, although some of the boys might think they have been slighted . . . It has reached the point, however, where there are more athletic jerseys around than there are athletes and that defeats the purpose of the letter . . . In the future, all ward school athletes will be rewarded with certificates . . . Seventh and Eighth Graders will be given silver miniature footballs, basketballs or softballs, whichever sport they participate in . . . Ninth Grade honorees will receive slightly larger miniature silver balls . . . Gold balls go to members of the high school B team while those lettering on the varsity team will be given jackets . . . the policy governing the awarding of letters will be permanent, not something to be altered from year to year . . . Some boys have been receiving so many jackets before getting to the varsity in the past, winning one there actually has meant little to them by that time . . . Limiting the awarding of jackets to varsity sports exclusively, should add new significance to playing A team ball, henceforth . . . A. J. Green, the San Angelo oil man, hasn't built that bowling alley here because, frankly, he's a little on the shorts right now . . . So many people are in to him for money, he's running a tighter budget than usual . . . If all goes well, he'll start construction in the spring . . . Combined seating capacity of the 13 parks hosting National Professional Football league games (Green Bay uses two, one at home and the other in Milwaukee) is 686,113 . . . When Snyder and Colorado City played recently, it marked the 25th meeting in history between the two schools.

Dozen Of 29 Grid Letter Winners Back Next Season

Varsity football letters have been awarded to 29 members of the 1956 Big Spring High School football team, which wound up winning two of ten starts.

Of the 29, an even dozen will be eligible to play again next fall.

Returnees will be Jan Loudermilk, big end, who won his second letter; Jimmy Evans, George Peacock, Gerald Davidson, Maxie Carey, Jerry White, Dick Jackson, Knox Pitzer, Wesley Grigsby and Danny Birdwell, all first year lettermen and all juniors; and two sophs who lettered for the first time, Buddy Barnes and Wayne Fields.

Among the seniors, two-year lettermen were Johnny Janak, Ronnie Phillips, Lewis Porter and Walter Dickinson.

Seniors who won their initial numerals were Billy Johnson, Frank Powell, Jerry McMahen, Bobby Lawdermilk, Glenn Whittington, Ronnie King, Herschel Stocks, Donnie Bryant, Bunkey Grimes, Bobby Suggs, Edward Slate, Guinette Gibbs and Rickey Terry.

Co-managers lettered were Calvin Bourdofsky and Bill Norred.

Sonora Will Play Merkel

SONORA, Nov. 24 (SC)—Sonora earned the right to play Merkel in the second round of the Class A football playoffs by subduing ponderous Big Lake, 23-13, here Friday night.

The Bronchos scored in every quarter, although their point-getting was limited to a field goal in the second period.

George Johnson, Sonora's all-state back, scored all 23 points for the Bronchos.

Big Lake scored first, getting a touchdown when Howard Johnson sliced through from inside the one.

George Johnson went two yards for the first Sonora score, kicked a field goal in the second from the eight, plowed 12 yards for the second TD in the third and went eight yards in the final round for the last Sonora tally.

First downs favored Sonora, 19-18. The Bronchos picked up 301 yards rushing to 257 for Big Lake and 244 yards passing to 210.

Tarheels Shelled By Duke, 21-6

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 24 (AP) — Duke struck for two second-period touchdowns and added a fourth-quarter clincher behind the clever quarterbacking of Sonny Jurgensen to defeat North Carolina, 21-6, today and remain in the running for the Orange Bowl nod from the Atlantic Coast Conference.

A shivering crowd of 36,000 saw Duke draw first blood in the second quarter when halfback Wray Carlton swept right end from the 11 to climax a 78-yard drive.

Shortly before the half, Bernie Blaney romped over from the 7 for Duke's second touchdown.

North Carolina, sparked by the hard running of halfback Ed Sutton, scored in the second quarter with quarterback Curtis Hathaway sneaking over from the 1.

Duke, which finished with a 5-4-1 record, scored its other touchdown in the fourth quarter when Jurgensen plunged over from the 1-foot line.

Bobby Morrow Wins Gold Medal In 100

By TED SMITS

MELBOURNE, Nov. 24 (AP) — The race between the United States and Russia for top Olympic Games honors still looked close today after the Americans smashed through for four more track and field gold medals and the Soviet athletes picked up two in weightlifting.

But if the first two full days of competition mean anything, then the breaks already have started going for the Americans and against the Soviet Union.

At the end of today's events, the United States topped the unofficial points table with 108 points, 20 points ahead of the second-place Russians.

Already the United States has won five out of eight events contested by both the men and women's track and field teams before 100,000 crowds in the Melbourne cricket oval. And additionally, Russia's well-regarded basketball team suffered an ignominious defeat at the hands of France 76-67 today while the Americans were rolling over outclassed Thailand 101-29.

Continuing the track and field domination started Friday by Charlie Dumas' record-smashing leap in the high jump, the Americans today picked up gold medals in the hammer throw, 400-meter hurdles, 100-meter dash and broad jump.

Harold Connolly of Boston posted an Olympic record of 207 feet, 3½ inches in the hammer throw in beating out Russia's great Mikhail Krivonosov, with whom the American has been dueling for world honors.

Bobby Morrow of San Benito, Tex., edged teammate Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan., in the 100-meter dash with a 10.5 clocking. The time made against a 10-mile headwind, was two-tenths of a second slower than the Olympic record. In a preliminary, both Morrow and Ira Murchison tied the record. Murchison was fourth in the final.

Glenn Davis of Clinton, Ohio, stepped over the 400-meter hurdles in 50.1 seconds to match the games' record set by Eddie Southern of Dallas in the semifinals. Southern was second in the final and Josh Culbreath of Norristown, Pa., third in the U.S. sweep.

The United States also was one-two in the broad jump with Greg Bell of Bloomington, Ind., leaping 25 feet, 8¼ inches for the gold medal. John Bennett of Grand Forks, N. D. was second. Rafer Johnson, the third U.S. entry, was scratched because of a bad knee. He is America's chief hope in the decathlon.

The Russian basketballers were still left in the competition on a round-robin basis and the Soviets have plenty of points coming up in the women's track and field events, rowing, boxing, weightlifting and gymnastics.

But the significant thing, and no doubt one which must be puzzling Russian sports fans, is that two of the United States' four great track victories today were scored over Russian heroes, who only last year held world records in their specialties.

These are Yuri Lituyev, former record-holder in the 400-meter hurdlers, who finished fourth behind the one-two-three American sweep led by Davis, and the huge Krivonosov. Connolly's victory was the first for an American in the hammer since 1924.

The long-awaited duel between Connolly and Krivonosov was close, but the amazing thing was that the Russian, who is noted as a great pressure competitor, cracked under the tough going of the Olympics. He held the lead from the second round to the fifth when Connolly edged ahead by a scant six inches. On the sixth and last throw, Krivonosov completely lost control and lurched out of the ring for a foul, thus ending hopes for a Russian gold medal in an event most Soviet experts considered a sure thing.

The United States scored first and fourth in the hammer with Al Hall taking the other spot. They might even have had more if Cliff Blair had not been kicked off the team.

Blair was suspended for "violation of the amateur code" because he wrote newspaper articles which he said were not for pay.

Defending champion Bob Richards, or 15-foot vaulter Bob Gutowski, should win in the pole vault well are American favorities in well are American favorities in and Tom Courtney and Arnold Sothe 800. In the javelin, defending champion Cy Young of the United States has a bare possibility of defeating world champion Janusz Sidlo of Poland.

Everything is quiet on the Olympic front Sunday with no competition scheduled except for the postponed races in the rowing.

As the experts look ahead to later stages of the games, they predict an American victory in basketball where the U.S. team is greatly more polished than any of the opposition.

In addition, the United States should keep adding to its track and field medals until they come close to, or even exceed, the high water mark of 14 set last time at Helsinki.

There should be U.S. points in boxing, rowing, weightlifting and possibly even the women's track and field where Mrs. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles has already surprised by taking fourth in the discus. The American swimmers seem certain to score well both in the men and women's division, but the opposition will be tough.

Morrow Wins Preliminary Heat

Bobby Morrow, Texas speedster, wins the 12th heat of the 100-meter dash in Olympic Games preliminaries at Melbourne, Australia, with Russia's I. Konovalov (58) right on his heels. Morrow's time was 10.4. Morrow is co-holder of the 100-meter world record of 10.2.

EAGLES SLASH LOOP, 57 TO 12

FORSAN, Nov. 24 (SC) — Sterling City ran roughshod over the Loop Longhorns, 57-12, here Friday night to enter the Regional six-man football finals.

Sterling City reigns as District 8 champion. Loop represented District 7.

The Eagles scored on the second play from scrimmage when Melvin Foster ran 39 yards. Wilbur Stone added two points on a kick.

A short time later, Stone shook himself free from eight yards out for another tally and Stone again made good on a kick try.

Bill Young's pass to Stone was good for 21 yards and the third Sterling score. Stone's conversion try via a kick was again good.

Kenneth Winn put Loop into the scoring column for the first time on a 12-yard run up the middle. That play occurred just before the half ended.

Sterling proved it had only warmed to the task in the second half. The Eagles produced touchdowns in two plays it got its hands on the ball when Glass breezed 55 yards on one play and Foster broke free on a 77-yard dash for another. Stone made good on his booting try after Foster's score.

Young passed 28 paces to Jimmy D. McWhorter for still another Sterling tally.

Henry Floyd broke the spell by counting for Loop on an 11-yard pass play from Winn.

Young raced 30 yards for another Sterling six-pointer and Kelton Gaston got the last one on another sprint of 30 yards. Gaston then passed to Jim Davis for the extra point.

COLD WEATHER HAMPER TO FISHING AT LAKE

Weather — cold and blustery—kept fishing to a minimum at Lake J. B. Thomas last week.

It even interfered with a survey by the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Department representatives put down nets at various points in the lake to catch a census on varieties. But waters were so rough that no representative conclusions could be drawn. The survey may be repeated as soon as the weather stabilizes. From the fish census, agents of the commission draw conclusions about the proper balance of fish population. This more or less governs the type of stocking to be done.

Trotline fishermen eased off because it was both too cold and too rough to be running lines. The intrepid crappie fishermen, however, were still at it, and reporting some fair catches, too. Where two weeks ago the big boys were biting the top had scaled down from two pounds to around 1½ to 1¼ pounds.

Among those reporting good catches in the Lake Thomas Lodge area at the east end of the lake were Quinon Reed of Coahoma. He strung 20 crappie weighing up to 1½ pounds.

R. E. McMillan of Big Spring came in with eight on his string, weighing up to 1¼ pounds. He added to his luck with four nice channel cat, the largest going at three pounds.

From Sweetwater, A. C. Bishop and Walter Terrell reported they hooked 15 crappie off the Lake Thomas Lodge point, the largest going at 1½ pounds.

Gene Burke and Buddy Lindsay of Andrews also reported to Ned Sanders at the lodge that they had 20 crappie up to 1¼ pounds on their string.

Princeton Kayoed By Green Indians

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 24 (AP)—Dartmouth capped its first winning season since 1949 with a 19-0 football upset of Princeton today as bold quarterback Mike Brown scored a record three toucehdowns.

Princeton, which hadn't lost a game until last week, was favored by two touchdowns in the Ivy League finale.

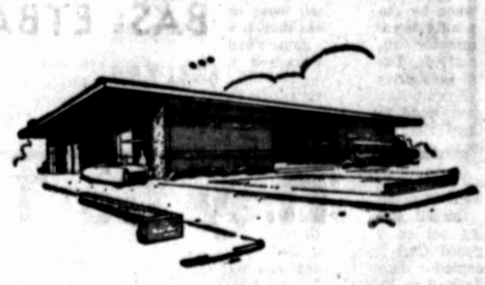

But the Tigers never recovered from Dartmouth's masterful ball-control in the first half and three damaging penalties at the start of the second.

Brown, son of the Cleveland Brown's coach, plunged 1 yard in the second period, 2 yards in the third and 1 in the fourth for a Dartmouth single-season scoring mark of 10 touchdowns.

The Tigers appeared sluggish from the start after their 42-20 trouncing by Yale a week ago, and the Indians didn't give them a chance to get untracked.

Modern Crusade Against TB

Ever wonder why the double-barred cross is on the Christmas seals sent out by the Tuberculosis Association? That was the emblem carried in the crusades during the Middle Ages, and it marks the modern crusade of man against the scourge of tuberculosis.

Fifty years ago, Emily Bissell, an active Red Cross worker in Delaware, launched a crusade for $300 to save a TB Hospital on the Brandywine River. She designed a seal and began selling them in the Wilmington, Del., post office.

Various newspapers helped Miss Bissell in her project and the idea grew into the seals we buy today.

Why buy the seals?

An estimated 22,000 Texans have active tuberculosis, with a small per cent in hospitals. About 7,000 are unaware that they have the disease.

Deaths from TB have gone down 53 per cent in the last five years, but the dread disease still causes more deaths than all other infectious diseases combined.

More new cases were found this past year in Texas than ever before.

From the pennies and dollars sent in during the seal drive, the chest X-rays are financed, medicines are bought for indigent families ,and the battle against TB is waged on all fronts.

WILLING HANDS, LIGHT WORK seems to be the motto of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Gray and Mrs. Garner McAdams as they count the tiny red bangles, which will be distributed in the local schools. Gray, who holds one of the coin boxes which will be placed in various business houses, is chairman of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. Gray, center, is executive secretary of the organization. Mrs. McAdams is chairman of the bangle committee.

ONE HUNDRED, TWO HUNDRED ran the chant as members of the City Home Demonstration Club sorted and counted the letters prepared for mailing with the TB seals. The floor gave more work space for Mrs. Johnnie Green, at left, Mrs. J. W. Elrod and Mrs. L. C. Lawdermilk. Funds from the drive are used to purchase medicines for needy families, to sponsor the chest X-ray program and to finance additional X-rays for persons who are found to have symptoms of tuberculosis. The association also sponsors the patch tests administered in the schools.

LABELING THE LETTERS made part of the work for the City Home Demonstration Club in their project of assisting the Howard County Tuberculosis Association with the Christmas seal sales. On an assembly line basis, the procedure went rapidly, as Mrs. Ross Callihan, at left, tore the nameplates apart; Mrs. H. F. Jarrett pasted; Mrs. Edwin Danial, at right, counted; and Mrs. Neil Norred stacked he envelopes.

MEMBERS OF THE CITY HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB were the volunteers who took the job of preparing the seals for mailing by the Howard County Tuberculosis Association. The women met for all-day sessions, with each group working at a particular task. Mrs. Armour Long, at left, Mrs. Alton Underwood and Mrs. W. S. Goodlett "stuff the envelopes" with the letters and seals. Mrs. Underwood is also serving as chairman of the coin box committee.

QUITE A SERVICE was rendered to the Howard County Tuberculosis Association by Jo Dell Gregory and Jack Turner, both employes of Cosden Petroleum Corporation. Turner, who operates the company's multilith, turned out the 10,000 copies of the letter, which was sent with Christmas seals earlier this month. Miss Gregory, who cut the stencil, watches the operation of the machine. In past years, the expense of having the letters printed had to be deducted from proceeds of the seal sales.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Ready For Business

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Byerley and Lynn are getting "all set" for the new insurance agency that Mr. Byerley plans to have in operation soon. The Byerleys are recent newcomers to Big Spring. Although Byerley was born and raised here, he has just recently retired from 20 years' service with the Air Force. Byerley's father operated an insurance agency in Big Spring for many years and retired a few years ago. "I wanted to come back home and start the Byerley business again," Mr. Byerley said.

Ex - Big Springer Returns With Family To Make Permanent Home

Returning to Big Spring recently to establish a permanent home were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Byerley, and their six-year-old daughter, Lynn.

All the Byerleys aren't newcomers in the strictest interpretation since Mr. Byerley was born and reared in Big Spring. But, after serving with the Air Force for 20 years and being stationed at many places, the Byerleys decided on Big Spring as the permanent home base after his recent retirement from the Air Force.

Mrs. Byerley, who was born and reared in Montreal, Canada, is pleased with the new home spot. Even though Texas isn't "completely new to her" she still marvels at the wide open blue skies of Texas.

"My first impression of Texas was the gigantic open spaces and the vastness of the skies," Mrs. Byerley recalled.

She explained that living in Montreal, a city of about one million, and masses of skyscrapers, the people rarely took the time to realize there was a sky above them.

Mr. Byerley retired as master sergeant from the Air Force, where he worked in communications.

With several years of work as a stenographer, Mrs. Byerley will be a busy worker along side her husband as they plan to open the Byerley Insurance Agency in the near future.

For several years Byerley's father operated an insurance agency in Big Spring and retired only a few years ago.

Fishing and hunting are tops on the list of recreations Mr. Byerley enjoys. When Mrs. Byerley isn't busy with her secretarial duties she enjoys knitting and doing handwork.

Lynn likes to play "doctor and nurse" and insists that she will be a ballet dancer or "three other things" when she grows up. Her attention these days is directed entirely to the parakeet "who doesn't have a name yet."

The Byerleys are making a home at 1500 Eleventh Place.

Perfume Note

When selecting perfume for a Christmas gift, be sure you take the personality of the recipient into consideration. It wouldn't be a good idea to give your little old school teacher aunt an exotic scent or your baby sister a powerful aroma. It's a good idea in questionable cases to choose light, floral odors.

Look, Ma, No Cling!

Dry cleaners now have an added gimmick — a new lint-free, cling-free process that will keep clothes from sticking to lingerie. The new rinse works particularly well on synthetic fabrics and silks.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bizzell of 405 North Ave O. Lamesa. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brock of Friona.

The bride chose for her wedding a dress of light blue wool designed with a Peter Pan collar and three-quarter sleeves. From her fitted bodice fell a full skirt. She wore a black onyx necklace and earbobs, a gift of the bridegroom. Her hat was of white satin and feathers with her other accessories being black. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Following a wedding trip through South Carolina and Georgia the couple will make a home in Augusta, where the bridegroom is stationed at Ft. Gordon with the army. For travel the bride wore a tweed suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School and was graduated in 1956 from Texas Tech, where she majored in foods and nutrition. She received her dietetic internship at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Los Angeles, Calif. Prior to her marriage, she was assistant dietitian at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The bridegroom was graduated from Friona High School and Texas Tech in June of 1956, with a major in agronomy. Before entering the army, he was with the Soil Conservation Service as a soil scientist at Big Spring. He is attending South Eastern Signal School before being sent to Germany.

MRS. ROYCE KING

Royce King Of Lamesa, Katherine O'Byrne Wed

LAMESA — Wedding vows were exchanged Thursday evening by Katherine O'Byrne and Royce King at St. Teresa Catholic Church in Gladewater. The Rev. Thomas Leary read the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. O'Byrne of Gladewater and Mr. and Mrs. Roy King of Lamesa.

Forming the setting for the exchange of vows were arrangements of white stock and white pompon mums used on the altar, with Oregon ferns and white mums on each side.

Marcia Cain, Gladewater, presented the traditional wedding music and accompanied Kay Stuth, Commerce, who sang, "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Mira Mist taffeta and Chantilly lace. The molded empire bodice of lace was designed with a scalloped low rounded neckline and sleeves, which were long and tapering. A crushed cummerbund of taffeta accented the empire waistline and terminated in a large butterfly bow in the back.

The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops and crinolines, extended into a chapel sweep. Her crown was of pearls with a French illusion finger tip veil. At her throat the bride wore an antique gold cross, once belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Eva O'Byrne. She carried a cascade of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Ed O'Byrne, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor; Mrs. Joe Crosslin was the bridesmatron. They wore identical dresses of red taffeta, fashioned with low rounded necklines, elbow length sleeves, and straight skirts. Cummerbunds and floating panels of red chiffon accented the dresses. Small hats of red feathers and red satin opera pumps were the accessories. They carried crescent bouquets of white mums.

Bobby Turner, Sulphur Springs, served as best man. Ed O'Byrne was groomsman, with Andy Tuttle and Mason Phillips serving as ushers.

The bride's parents were hosts at the reception held at their home. The bride's colors of red and white were featured throughout the house.

A three - tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of red and white flowers were used on the bride's table, which was laid with an heirloom lace cloth. Members of the houseparty included Betty Matthews, Longview, Mrs. Glenn Johnson, Gladewater, Frances Smith, Gilmer and LuDelia Clemmer, Gladewater.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. King chose a mocha brown wool jersey dress with black accessories and a white orchid corsage. They will be at home at 1706 Hunt Street, Commerce.

The bride attended East Texas State College and was a member of the Tooanoowe Social Club, Alpha Lambda and was a majorette in the college band. She is employed by the college as supervisor of correspondence.

The bridegroom received his bachelor of science degree from ETSC and played varsity basketball; he was a member of the "T" association and vice president of his senior class. He is currently working toward a master of physical education degree.

Have Late Age Limit On Reading To Johnny

There is a relationship which grows out of reading together in the family which need not end when the child begins to read for himself, writes Josette Frank in her book, "Your Child's Reading Today." This is brought into focus during this week in which Children's Book Week will be observed, today through Saturday.

"For the young child it may be the quiet pleasure of sitting close beside his mother and having his first claim of her attention. As the children grow older, there is still warmth of shared experience on which, for the moment, other distractions do not intrude," Miss Frank says.

She believes that the "togetherness" of reading aloud has a special value in this day of families dispersing in all directions for the wide variety of activities which claim each one's time. Miss Frank is a lecturer, writer, and consultant on children's books, radio, and television for the Child Study Association of America.

Parents sometimes wonder if it is wise to continue to read to children after they are old enough to read to themselves. To this she says, "Of course, it is."

The child who takes to reading easily and early will hardly be discouraged in the joy of his new-found skill. To read him those books which are still beyond him, will not rob him of the incentive either to read what books he can or to read these same read-aloud books later for himself.

As for the child for whom reading skill comes slowly or develops late, Miss Frank believes that reading aloud will be continuing his pleasure in books which will carry him through the labor of learning into his reading years.

FOR THE PETITE

Pattern In Five Pieces Makes Easy Assembling

Invitation to a party and nothing to wear? Well if you're a petite size you're in luck because you can whip up this model by Sylvan Rich in no time at all.

There are only five basic pieces in the exclusively sized pattern with precise perforations to assure accurate matching and no time wasting.

The cummerbund, which is stitched into the sides, crisscrossed in front and hooked in back is draped so as not to cut height. The wide boat neckline reveals enough of your neck and shoulders to make you seem taller.

The circular skirt in the new longer length gracefully camouflages a full hip. Choose satin, faille, brocade, taffeta, peau de soie, surah or novelty cotton.

From this chart select the one size best for you.

Size 10: bust 34, waist 25, hips 35, length from nape of neck to waist 16 inches; size 12: bust 35, waist 26, hips 36, length from nape of neck to waist 16¼ inches; size 14: bust 36½, waist 27½, hips 37½, length from nape of neck to waist 16½ inches; size 16: bust 38, waist 29, hips 39, length from nape of neck to waist 16¾ inches; size 18: bust 40, waist 31, hips 41, length from nape of neck to waist 17 inches.

Size 12 requires 5⅛ yards of 39-inch material for dress.

To order Pattern No. 1289, state size, enclose $1.00. Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G. P. O. Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y.

MR. AND MRS. J. H. STANDEFER
... 61st Anniversary

J. H. Standefers Have Sixty-First Anniversary

By BETTYE CAMPBELL

LAMESA — Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Standefer celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary Saturday at their home, 1402½ North Main Avenue in Lamesa. The couple was married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Jack at Haskell on Nov. 24, 1895. Mr. Standefer says it was the coldest day he had ever seen.

The couple moved to the plains and filed on a claim in Lubbock County in 1901. It was just after the Indians had left, and before very much law was in evidence. The holding of "kangaroo court" and the order by the ranchers and cowboys to move off the homestead is still in the memory of the Standefers.

Mrs. Standefer recalls they did move off for one night and the next day they moved their tent right back on their claim. This was the time before the towns of Lubbock or Slaton were in existence and very few "nesters" were even on the plains.

"Many's the time" he had to defend his homestead from those who sought to keep the land from being opened up to homesteading; but time passed, and with it, came more settlers. In 1914, the Standefers moved to Dawson County and have made their home here except for eight years which were lived in Seminole. In December, 1955, they came back home to Lamesa to live next door to one of their sons, Luther.

Mr. Standefer, who will be 91 on March 18th, enjoys visiting friends and listening to the radio; he is unable to read since the loss of his sight some 24 years ago. The only trip he makes outside his home is to the barbershop regularly and to attend services at the First Baptist Church two or three times a year.

Mr. Standefer hails his "Allie" as a wonderful cook and housekeeper and when you visit their home, you will agree with the charming gentleman. Although Mrs. Standefer was 80 on October 13th, she still does all of her housekeeping.

The Standefers have five children, Arthur and Luther of Lamesa, Elliott, Walter and Mrs. Thomas Isbell of Odessa; 15 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

No special celebration was planned this year to mark the anniversary date, but the family, friends and neighbors dropped in to wish "Big Granny" and "Little Granddad" a happy wedding anniversary.

Culinary Skill Brings Pleasure To Cake Decorator And Recipient

By ANNE LeFEVER

One of the nicest hobbies, especially for her friends, is the one pursued by Margueritte Cooper, 507 Goliad. That's making and decorating cakes for birthdays or other special events.

An employe of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Miss Cooper seems to have quite a file of dates to be remembered with some of her sweet handiwork. Also quite a group of boosters who have had occasion to eat some of it!

Her cake decorations have all the earmarks of a professional job, and it looks "as easy as pie" — or in this case, easy as cake!

According to Miss Cooper's sister, Mrs. L. A. Plowman, she is the family chef when it comes to making cakes and holiday candies.

"I started fooling around with cakes when I was about ten," Miss Cooper remarked. "at that time, I belonged to a little sewing club, and I liked to make cakes for my refreshments."

Very wisely, her mother showed her how to perform the task, gave her the recipe, and "turned me loose in the kitchen." She even tried coloring cakes, but there's a general opinion abroad that the present-day products are much more attractive than were those of her earlier efforts.

"I paid 25 cents for my first pastry tube, but I had a thousand dollars worth of fun from it," Miss Cooper said.

Following directions and using her own ingenuity, she has learned to make tiny blossoms of the frosting on waxed paper and to let them dry before placing them on the cake. Then, if one doesn't look just right, there's no messy operation of taking it out of position.

Another time-saver, which she puts into practice is mixing her icing at the time she starts the cake. Sound odd? Maybe so, but it works fine!

For the cake, this imaginative cook creams two small packages (three-ounce) of cream cheese with half a cup of vegetable shortening.

To this she adds three cups of sifted powdered sugar and mixes well. Alternating with one-fourth cup of cherry juice, she then adds three more cups of sifted powdered sugar.

After a thorough mixing, she removes two cups of the frosting to be used later.

To the remaining mixture, she adds one-fourth cup of shortening, three eggs, one at a time, beating one minute at each addition.

She has ready to add: two and one-fourth cups of flour— "just plain ol' bread flour," according to the cook — three teaspoons of baking powder and one teaspoon of salt. With three-fourths cup of sweet milk, she adds this alternately, and then pours in chopped maraschino cherries.

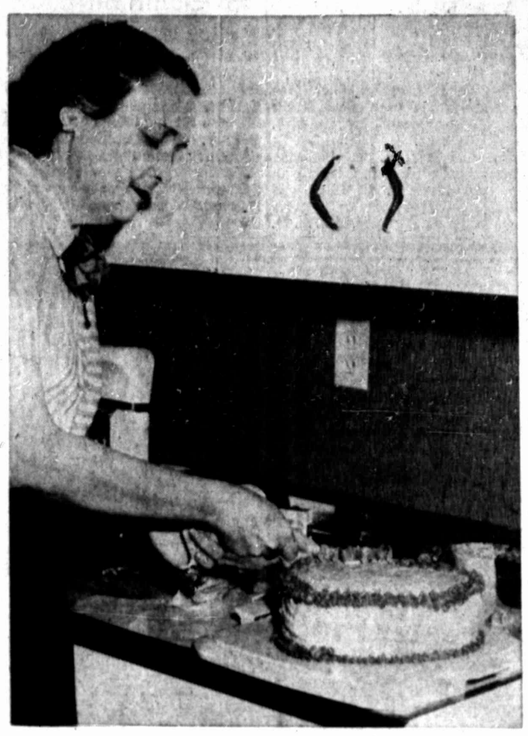

"Use any size bottle of cherries you prefer," Miss Cooper remarked.

This will make a fluffy batter, which should be baked in two nine-inch layer pans at 350 degrees until the cake springs back into place when touched with the finger.

When the cake has cooled, it is covered with the icing, and then the decorating starts. For the decorative frosting, Miss Cooper uses one cup of shortening with enough powdered sugar to make a very stiff frosting, adding food coloring until she obtains the shade she wants.

With a pastry tube, she makes borders, and flowers or writes names and greetings.

And the recipients of the cakes? They love it — and her!

Woman At Work—And Play

What might be work to some women is play to Margueritte Cooper. That's cake baking! And are her friends glad! She whips up a cake "with the greatest of ease" and then proceeds to decorate it in various ways. The one she is working on is a lovely shade of pink with border and roses of red in a hue that blends so well. Leaves are green — of course — resulting in a professional looking creation.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. C. Flowers, Old San Angelo Highway, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Standlee, to A-1C Glenn L. Teply. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teply, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The couple will be married at St. Mary's Episcopal Church on Friday, with the Rev. William Boyd reading the vows.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

Fourteen members of the WRA, having put off the paying of dues to the organization, have been going through initiation this past week.

Beltie Anderson, Nelda Beeles, Clara Freeman, Ann Green, Lady Frances Jones, Connie Kamn, Joyce Lankford, Patsy Reeves, Mickey Stiager, Lavelle Wasson, Belva Wren, Claudine Butler, Wilma Bradford and Lydia Corralez are the girls who have been required (1) to curtsy to teachers upon entering the class room. (2) carry lemon drops and gum for fellow members and teachers. (3) wear red and gray ribbon in hair at all times. (4) sing for any fellow member. (5) visit sponsor and three other fellow members during initiation week.

At the next regular meeting, the girls will be required to give a 15-minute skit. In addition to the above tasks, each girl must earn $2 for the treasury of WRA.

The championship badminton game was played off Monday night in the gym at the night meeting of WRA. After two breathtaking and spectacular games, Esther and Frances Bueno were declared champs. Runners-up were Pat Dunn and Claudine Butler. This game climaxed several weeks of badminton contests, in which volunteer teams from the Physical Training classes participated.

HCJC expresses sympathy to Miss Elizabeth Daniel for the loss of her brother-in-law. Miss Daniel, upon receiving the news of his death, joined her twin sister, Margaret, at Knoxville, Tenn. Miss Daniel will return to HCJC after the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Thanksgiving assembly, consisting of a play entitled "Magic On Main Street" was presented Tuesday morning in the college auditorium. The short play, under the direction of Mr. Fred E. Short, was participated in by Ann Porterfield, Billie Freeman, Clara Freeman, Dorothy Baker, Mary Jane Boettcher, and Mary Sue Hale.

The media of television was responsible for bringing the first appearance of the HCJC Choir, under the direction of Mr. Orland Johnson, into the homes of residents of this city and surrounding area.

"There Is A Land," "All Through the Night," and "I Hear A Voice A'Praying," made up the program. The choir, appearing on a local TV show, "Channel Four Calling," was accompanied on the piano by Mr. Jack Hendrix.

Marlene Mann brought a new honor to HCJC this past week by being elected secretary of the state Junior College Press Association. The honor was won at a journalism conference held at A&M, from which a group of local journalism students returned Tuesday evening. After losing the presidency by the margin of four votes, our local miss was nominated for secretary and won by a sweeping majority.

Rodney Sheppard and Richard Engle were guest speakers for a Lions' Club meeting Monday afternoo .

A hilarious reception greeted the three-night stand of "Seven Keys to Baldpate." This is the first production by the HCJC college players under the direction of Mr. Fred E. Short. The audience never failed to be amused by the antics in this melodramatic farce by George M. Cohan. Attired in costumes worn in the 1920's, the cast was made up of members of the Drama Club, drama and speech students, and students attending HCJC.

Three main topics of interest, according to tabulations of interest finders filled in by members of the College Y Club, are understanding ourselves, social recreation on campus, and how to increase school spirit.

The next several meetings of this organization will be devoted to these programs. The program devoted to Understanding Ourselves will be divided into three portions, with various authorities to explain emotional, spiritual and physical aspects of this problem.

HI--TALK

By CAROL ROGERS

BSHS students are looking forward to the Thanksgiving holidays this week. School will be dismissed Wednesday afternoon and classes will be resumed Monday morning. The Thanksgiving Assembly will be presented Wednesday afternoon. The program will include musical selections by the a capella choir, a Thanksgiving reading, and a message.

The food drive for the needy was a success in BSHS. This drive, sponsored by the student council, is an annual affair.

Charlene Lansing and Darlene Agee enjoyed visiting in Abilene last weekend. The girls stayed at McMurry. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Agee.

Last week was "dead week." The reason? The students were occupied with studying for six weeks tests which were taken Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

The chemistry classes skipped the usual routine of things Friday, when they visited the local sewerage disposal plant.

The Thanksgiving semi-formal will be held Thursday evening from 9 p.m. until 12. The affair, sponsored by the student council, will take place in the gym.

Enjoying a few days in Dallas this week is Janet Hogan. Janet, accompanied by her parents, left Thursday and will return today.

The football team, their dates, and coaches will be honored with a banquet Tuesday night. The banquet is given annually by the Quarterback Club.

Donnie Bryant is spending the weekend in Carlsbad, N. M. He will return today.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs will have a joint meeting Monday night. The program will be on "World Service" by Arnold Marshall. All members are urged to attend.

El Rodeos will go off sale for $5 Wednesday. If you haven't bought your annual yet, contact a staff member or go to the journalism room.

Many organizations are putting last minute touches on their floats for the annual Christmas parade to be held Monday afternoon. Prizes will be given for the three best floats.

Several students attended the Speech Activities Conference held in Lubbock last week. Those attending the conference at Texas Tech were: Wesley Grigsby, Prissy Pond, Lynn Anderson, Kelsey Meeks, Roni Raybon, and Mack Godwin, sponsor.

Kathleen Thomas, Michael Musgrove; Kay Kirby, Dennis Holmes; Malinda Crocker, Buddy Barnes; Punky Boyd, Gary Tidwell; Judy Cauble, and Ronnie King were some of the kids enjoying the Seba Tri-Hi-Y Club hayride Saturday night. The group went to the Reagan Ranch for a wiener roast.

A Methodist Youth Retreat was held Friday night. Some of those attending the service were Ronnie King, Walter Dickinson, Johnny Janak, Toni Thomas, Lynn Anderson, Kay Loveland, Bobby McMillian, Cecilia McDonald, Lou Ann White, and Sue Boykin.

The boys' physical education classes are holding a series of boxing matches, with the final match to take place Monday night in the gym. The public is invited to attend. The matches will begin at 7:00.

Lewis Porter, Senior-of-the-Week, especially well-liked by his football teammates, was chosen co-captain this year. This was his second year on the A team and his third year of high school football. He is also a member of the track team.

Lewis has been a class representative on the student council for the past two years and is currently serving as vice president of the Senior Hi-Y. He is also a member of the Key Club and DeMolays.

City HD Club Plans Holiday Observance

Meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, members of the City Home Demonstration Club planned a Christmas luncheon for Dec. 14. The place of the luncheon will be announced at a later date.

Following the City HD luncheon on Dec. 14, members will go to the HD Council Christmas party, which will be held at 2 p.m. at the court house.

At the Friday meeting, a demonstration on Christmas gift wrapping was given by Mrs. Neil Norred and Mrs. B. F. Mabe.

Each member brought a dried arrangement and a discussion was held about the arrangements.

Fourteen members attended.

The date of their wedding has been set for Wednesday.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1956 SEC. D

Yule Presents Reflect Larger Family Units

The larger American family unit is having major impact on the kind of games that head the best seller lists this Christmas. The recent increase in families with three and four children—up 40 per cent since the war—has created a major demand for games which different age levels can play together.

Typical of the flexible trend in family game fun this season is Rack-O, a new card game that focuses play on completing or breaking numerical sequences begun by two or four players. Rack-O cards are inserted in racks as they fall. The object of this new Milton Bradley game is to replace the cards in the rack by draw until ten racked up cards read progressively from low to high.

Many new twists on old favorites have been developed to cater to the play abilities of the kindergarten-primary grade crowd who wants to compete with grownups. Tic-Tac-Aroo, for example, streamlines the classic tic-tac-toe and provides the base for two entirely different competitions. Bingo is enjoying a surge of popularity with a variety of new game versions pitched to improve reading and geography performance. Candyland plays depend on the matching of colors, so that kindergarteners can join in the fun.

Pirate and Traveler, basing action on adventures throughout the world, gives parents, as well as junior and his sister, a chance to brush up on geography and to enjoy the thrills of adventure.

A fascinating new way to help junior get rid of aggressive impulses is "Knockout," by Northwestern Products, an ingenious new game which gives players the opportunity to realistically maneuver the punches of two boxers on a miniature prize fight ring. Electronically operated, "Knockout" has a bell to score knockouts and a buzzer to call fouls.

A new combination of double header sports games is "Baseball and Football," by Milton Bradley. Players throw feathered rubber suction darts at a 3D target that whirls when struck. The outcome of each play is registered on a scoring board beneath the target which determines progress on the playing boards. After each play is registered, teams on the playing board shift to a new position. The board has a baseball diamond on one side and a football field on the other. There's an extra bull's eye target, too.

Make Own Candles

Festive round candles may be made from melted-down bits and scraps of old candles. Use hollow ball with split running halfway along the circumference. Small hole cut in top lets ball and string in. Scotch tape over crack keeps wax in.

'I'll See You Monday Afternoon'

He won't be loaded down with packages this trip, but Santa Claus has sent word that he'll be in Big Spring by 4:30 p.m. Monday. That's the hour set by the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations for a gala reception for the old gentleman. Santa will be the guest of honor in the big parade. He'll wave and shout to the crowd from the top of a big "chimney" float which is being prepared especially for his visit. Santa has sent ahead about 500 pounds of candy which he'll ask local businessmen to distribute along the parade route. He also has promised that he'll be back in the city — in just one month from last night! And he'll be loaded down with toys and other presents on that trip, too.

Colorful Parade To Open Yule Time Here Monday

A gala parade — which sponsors predict will be the most colorful of its kind ever staged here — will officially open the 1956 Christmas season in Big Spring at 4:30 p.m. Monday.

In the procession, Santa Claus will make his first visit of the year to Big Spring. He will be riding in a big float simulating a housetop — chimney and all — sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber also is making arrangements to have about 500 pounds of candy distributed along the parade route. Local men will assist with the distribution, and none will be tossed from the floats into the crowd.

In all, there will be 18 decorated floats and four bands in the parade. Twelve of the floats will be competing for cash prizes posted by the Chamber of Commerce. First place winner will receive $75, second $50 and third $25.

There will be three commercial floats and three non-commercial entries which will not be competing for the prize money.

Bands to be spaced in the procession are from Coahoma High School, Webb Air Force Base and Big Spring High and Junior High.

The floats and bands will assemble Monday afternoon in the area bounded by First and Third and Austin and Nolan. The parade will start moving at Third and Goliad promptly at 4:30 p.m.

The procession will move along Third Street to Runnels, turn north to First, go west to Scurry, bend south to Second, return eastward to Main, go south to Third and then resume its westward march to Third and Bell where it will break up.

Floats to be competing for the $125 in prizes have been entered by the Ada Bellettes, Garden Clubs Council, Las Artistas, Desk and Derrick Club, Four O'Clock Garden Club, Seba Tri-Hi-Y, Zu-Meta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Howard County Junior College, De-Molays, Fairview Home Demonstration Club, John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge and the American Legion.

The entries will be judged on the basis of originality of idea (30 points), artistry (30), portrayal of subject (30), and effort (10 points).

Non-competitive and non-commercial floats are being prepared by the Chamber of Commerce (Santa Claus), local churches (a Nativity scene), and the Girls Auxiliary of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church. The Chamber is providing $50 toward paying for the churches' float.

Commercial entries have been announced for Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Tidwell Chevrolet Company and John Davis Feed Store.

The community Christmas tree has been installed on the east side of the courthouse block. Installation of Yule decorations will be completed during the weekend and the Christmas lights will be turned on for the first time following the parade Monday.

Movie Camera Is Ideal Gift

If there's no movie camera in the household, what better gift to capture the motion and fun of the holidays A new Brownie movie camera, that's almost as easy to use as a box camera, costs less than $30. It's possible to take up to 50 average-length movie scenes in sparkling color on a single roll of inexpensive 8mm film.

Designed also for low-cost family movies, the 8mm Brownie movie turret camera offers a three-lens range at a one-lens price—$79.50. The turret may be simply turned for regular, wide-angle or telephoto movies.

Colorful Household Linens Gain Favor At Christmas

Color spreads a lovely glow through today's homes. And nowhere is this more evident than in household linens. One happy result is that all the beautiful and useful items that come under the category of "household linens" have skyrocketed in popularity as gifts.

Such gaieties as the newcomer striped sheets and companion pillowcases, for instance, are a delightful choice for a bride—or as a special treat for oneself, for that matter.

Again, what is as appropriate as bright guest towels for the friend who has just moved into a new house; or a bath towel and mat set in pastel shades for the career girl furnishing her very first apartment; or luncheon mats and napkins of smartly sophisticated design to grace mother's next bridge luncheon table; or work-a-day dish towels in bouncy color as a shower gift for the engaged girl?

Bells To Munch By

A bright touch can be added to a holiday dinner by sewing a few tiny bells along the hem of the tablecloth. Guests will have music to munch by.

Save Memories In A Special Album

Christmas memories can be stored in a neat little album being offered by B. C. Moses of Houston, Texas. There are pages for snapshots, favorite cards, guest register and the dinner menu among other things.

It makes a unique gift which is sure to grow in value the older it gets.

Let Children Help

Let the children help trim the tree. Strings of popcorn and cranberries are old standbys which are fun to prepare and easy to work with. Juveniles of today get just as big a kick out of it as grandpop did.

Filter Kit For Camera Owner

From film to filter kits, the field of photo aids offers wide gift variety. Something handy in the way of photo aids are the new Kodak filter kits now available for most still and movie cameras. Said to be the handiest ever designed, these new kits keep all the basic filters visible, instantly available, yet individually protected in a sturdy case small enough for pocket, handbag or gadget bag. The kits are priced from $6.

A new Kodak Ektachrome processing outfit contains all the equipment and supplies needed by color photo fans to process their own 35mm Ektachrome film without the need of a darkroom. The set, available at $24.75, is especially useful in homes and apartments, and vacation spots where there's no access to a darkroom.

HI-FI, TV

Recreation Gift Fits Whole Family

Mother can enjoy a new refrigerator Christmas gift, but the whole family enjoys a recreational gift. High on many families' wanted lists is a new TV set, hi-fi components, a portable radio or TV for later patio use or for a bedroom.

These delights are in the line of gifts-we-need-badly-but-have-been-putting-off. For this reason, the whole family may share in the selection without diminishing the enjoyment. Perhaps the choice has been made for months, but no one's done the buying. Christmas is the time.

Suggestions for the family that's in a quandary about a recreational gift include the following:

A portable TV set comes from General Electric. Kids love these, but so do husbands who crave watching the ball game in the quiet of their studies. The receiver is 8½ inches high, 9½ inches wide and 13¾ inches deep, convenient for any location. It comes in two color combinations —brown and ivory and blue and ivory.

Hi-fi components are for the audiophiles. A wife wanting to give a stocking gift to a sound-happy husband could select a pressure testing gauge, a record compensator or a noise suppressor.

A splendid selection for those who roll their own hi-fi would be a speaker enclosure. One, from the Cabinart Division of G & H Wood Products, is an exact equivalent, in design and acoustics, of the factory-finished Klipsch Rebel enclosure. The kit can be put together with a screw driver and a small hammer. Some husbands could imagine nothing more delightful than having a Christmas day project of putting the enclosure together. For others, the wives will assemble in advance.

Finishing such an enclosure can be done as a labor of love or left for the woodwork lover. Cabinart says that it can be oiled, sealed, stained, shellacked, varnished and waxed according to the taste, energy and time the owner has. For those who care naught for effort and much for results, the speaker enclosure can be bought all made up and finished.

A small apartment dweller would welcome a portable hi-fi phonograph or radio, such as those by Trav-Ler. The personal portable is 9 inches wide, 6 inches high and 2½ inches deep and retails under $20.

The portable phonograph by the same company is a four-speed automatic record player with three speakers, tone controls and a cabinet designed to look like luggage. This is under $100.

Almost any appliance store displays a variety of such goods, designed for the mode of living and pocketbooks of most families.

Don't Neglect The Adult Mind

Adult education is a field in which, like Mark Twain's weather, there has been a great deal of talk about but little done. Of course we, as have other communities, have found good excuses for not having done anything about developing a more adequate program. Invariably we say in effect, "but get ready; it's coming."

So far it hasn't cascaded. There is now, however, more reason to believe that we may broaden our horizons in this area. One evidence was the conference at HCJC last week to devise means of ascertaining opportunities and needs.

A primary difficulty in any movement which would improve educational opportunities to adults is that we lack the knowledge and the tools for taking hold for a start. Another is that we mistakenly narrow our concept of adult education to a few academic subjects in night school and to an only slightly wider offering in the vocational field. In fact, the cause of adult education might be better served if we could break the bonds of our thinking those offerings which simply help us to learn or improve vocational skills and include those things which deepen, broaden and enrich our lives.

We will not have any great difficulty in interesting adults in courses for typing secretarial training, mechanics, supervision, metal and woodwork, blue print reaching, etc. The job and advancement incentive is ever-present as a stimulus. Most assuredly we ought to see that the best possible opportunities and instruction in these fields are provided.

But to get at the plus part of a program for greater educational adventures for adults is in the long run more important. You see, it is on this level that we begin to satisfy the real yearnings and desires and to create mental patterns which ultimately give a community character and vigor.

Hence, we must get at the matter of encouraging avocations and to assist adults in greater achievement and enjoyment in them. Four our example, our garden clubs are doing a splendid bit of work, not because they hope to turn our city into a Garden of Eden, but because they help members to obtain more satisfying horticultural results. This is adult education in action; perhaps there are means of fortifying it with cooperative undertaking and technical assistance. The field of avocations can be extended tremendously.

Perhaps our most golden opportunity is in the creative and cultural realm. Let us cite two spendid examples of groups dealing with words and ideas—the Great Books and the World History units. Here is some adult education at its finest; here is adult education making use of libraries, of debate, of thinking processes.

The row for greater achievement in music has been a hard one to hoe here, but we are making substantial accomplishment. The way is open for corollary groups, orchestras; for original composition and arrangement.

Similar cases can be made for drama where we are experiencing a refreshing revival of interest and action, and in the field of art. Both of these offer great possibilities for creative talents. We have scarcely scratched the surface.

What sort of city will be ours be 10 or 20 years from now? To be sure the kind of weather, the care of soil, the smokestacks, the alertness of business and the ingenuity of research all will figure in. But don't underestimate the power of an adult population which stays mentally vigorous. Many times communities thrive or die first in the head.

What To Do On An 'Afternoon Off'

There's a school of thought holding that various professionals, proprietors, self-employed people and the well-to-do have all the best of it, in the matter of following stipulated work hours.

You know, no time-clock punching, no routine of getting at the desk at 8 a.m., departing from 12 to 1, and being back again until 5. None of the drudgery. They can work when they please.

But can they?

Take the case of the man who decides he ought to knock off early for one afternoon, and turns up at home around 3 p.m. Chances are he's not going to get a warm greeting from the wife and kids, but a startled inquiry: "What's wrong?" or "Are you sick?" or "What did you forget?"

Either that kind of a reception, or he will stumble in the day the spouse has in the girls for a few rubbers of bridge, and the card table is right in the den where the most comfortable couch is. Or there is a Den of Cub Scouts in the yard and in full cry. Obviously, it was no afternoon to try to sneak off for a couple of hours, and it will be a long time before the fellow has another go at it.

Perhaps it's one of those fine afternoons when he knows darn well a bunch of the boys are out on the golf course, and why not join them for this once? All he has to do is to show up at the No. 1 tee, and immediately encounter two top customers who had been trying to reach him all day, and three other people who had called asking various chores and favors and had gotten the answer, "I sure would like to help you, but I'm simply snowed under today." That's the sort of thing that makes the fellow who has some freedom with his time think twice before he steals out for afternoon recreation.

Suppose he tries the relaxed atmosphere of his club, just to get away from the hustle-bustle for a couple of hours, and turn through some detective story magazines. Is this going to stay peaceful? An over-zealous secretary is sure to let the secret out to some caller that "I'm not sure where he is, but some times he is at the club." That does it, because here comes the phone call, with a lot of heavy ribbing like "I wish I had banker's hours."

There's one other place to turn — to the cool cavern and the pleasant entertainment of a movie in the afternoon. But just let our man of freedom approach the box-office, and immediately there will pass down the street a couple of busybodies who will tell (a) their own husbands and (b) his own wife. In no time at all the story is over town that the fellow must have lost his job or else how in the world could he be spending his afternoons at the movies?

With certain breeds of business men there's a great guilt complex, anyway, about entering a theatre in broad daylight, and these fellows will virtually sneak up to the box office and slink in with hat pulled down, in an effort to escape identity.

Where else is a man to go, when he feels that urge for a few hours' extra relaxation? If he can't go home, to his golf course, his club or to the movies? He stays behind the eight-ball, that's where. If he can't lock his own office, disconnect the telephone and take a private nap, he is left with the alternative of just sitting, twiddling his thumbs and bemoaning hit fate. And very likely carving out a path to a premature grave.

He is probably better off knowing each day that he has to punch a time clock, and no foolishness about it.

Using Moral Force Before War

WASHINGTON—The American people have much to be thankful for but most of all for one thing—they are not engaged in armed conflict anywhere.

To say this, however, is not to ignore the passions of an indignant nations. The pressure to "do something" about the plight of the people of Hungary is remarkably strong throughout the United States. Many persons in this country, however, when asked whether they would favor the use of American military force, and hence involvement in a war with Soviet Russia, immediately concede this would not be desirable and would not meet with widespread approval. The conversations then turn as a rule to the United Nations and the usual cry is "why can't the U.N. do something?"

This is really an expression of an innate belief that somehow there must be set up in the world an international police force to secure freedom for the oppressed and to protect the independence of nations large and small. What is not realized, however, is that any international police force is only as strong as the major powers behind it. A token force such as the U.N. has sent to the Suez area can preserve order in a little war but only because the step has the moral sanction and implied physical support of the larger powers—America in particular. Egyptian guerrillas, for instance, would be afraid to attack a U. N. police force because it might bring in American forces to defend the U.N. troops. But if the British and French decide to keep their forces in Suez until a plan for evacuation satisfactory to them is evolved, and if Colonel Nasser misguidedly tries to use force to drive them out, he could not count on American help in the U. N.

This kind of delicate situation requires a sense of restraint. President Eisenhower, though a military man himself, has given a dramatic exhibition of how a leader dedicated to peace can steer safely in dangerous waters. He is on the telephone constantly with Secretary of State Dulles. Mr. Eisenhower never makes a move without consulting the man who heads the State Department and any efforts to drive a wedge between the President and his Secretary of State are doomed to failure. The friends and spokesmen of would-be candidates for the job, of course, have been hoping the Secretary's illness would compel his retirement. But it so happens that Mr. Dulles is getting stronger every day and is in as close touch with the White House from Key West as he was when at the hospital here.

To try to maintain world peace in the present circumstances will require avoidance of pressures which are at work to upset an American policy. It may be that no matter what is done here in Washington, some reckless persons in the Moscow government will precipitate a situation that may lead to a general war.

To be elected on a platform of keeping the nation out of war puts a heavy obligation on any administration. Back in 1916, for example, President Woodrow Wilson pledged his utmost to keep the nation at peace but a few months later America was compelled to enter World War I. Partisan criticism in later years—though not at the time—blamed him for having promised something he didn't fulfill. But the facts of history show that he did everything humanly possible to keep America out of war and that circumstances beyond the control of any man in this country forced the United States into the conflict. It was the German attack on American ships on the high seas which brought the climax.

"It is a fearful thing," said Mr. Wilson to Congress on the night of April 2, 1917, "to lead this great peaceful people into war, into the most terrible and disastrous of all wars, civilization itself seeming to be in the balance. But the right is more precious than peace, and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest to our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world at last free."

There comes a time, in other words, when all the efforts to maintain peace are fruitless and war becomes inevitable.

President Eisenhower is endeavoring by moral force—by public discussion and appeals to the conscience of peoples everywhere—to seek peaceful solutions. Every day there are evidences that world opinion is making itself felt.

So peoples everywhere can be grateful that at the head of the United States government is a man who sees clearly that moral force must supersede anger and passion and that hope must be placed in the ability of free men to assert their concerted will in each country so as to compel autocratic governments to give way to free governments.

Now's The Time For Moderation In Our Economy

WASHINGTON — Minutes after the White House announced the resignation of Arthur F. Burns as chairman of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers, Burns' 'phone began ringing. Reporters.

Persistent question: "Whom did you quarrel with? Is there a split in policy?" This intensive search for a squabble headline went unrewarded.

Yet, there is a headline: "Dr. Burns Quits — As Planned — Without Tiff." His legacy to the new chairman, 48-year-old Raymond J. Saulnier, is top responsibility for the preparation of the Annual Economic Report to Congress, due in mid-January.

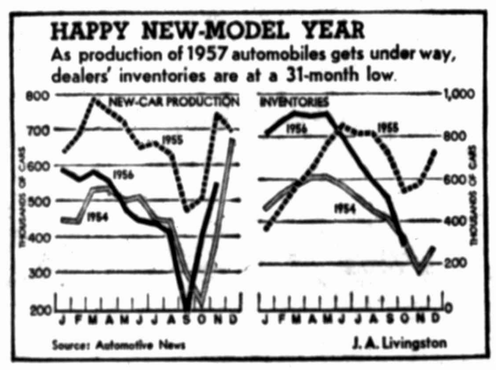

Burns was — is — tired. He is conscientious to a fault. He loves research. He wanted always to be in there — researching. And yet, as chairman of the Council, he was constantly in meetings with government officials. He couldn't squeeze 36 hours in a 24-hour day. He took a lot on himself and a lot out of himself.

A few months ago, he brought in 40-year-old Paul W. McCracken, professor of economics at the University of Michigan, for indoctrination into the ways of the Council. And President Eisenhower, as planned, has named McCracken to serve as a Council member when Burns leaves on Dec. 1. Elder statesman of the Council is Joseph S. Davis, agricultural expert and emeritus professor at Stanford. He's 71.

Burns can depart in good conscience. The President has a new chairman and a full Council. And no great change in economic policy or planning is to be expected. All has been quietly, decorously, arranged.

Business was never better. Unemployment has dropped below the 2,000,000 mark. Industrial wages have climbed above $82 a week. Merchants optimistically look forward to one of the "great Christmases of all time." Washington's problem is not how to sustain prosperity, but to keep prosperity from going haywire.

You can look for a change in emphasis in Washington. Not because Burns is leaving as chief economist, but because of tension over the Suez Canal. America's military forces again are on the alert. This is as it should be, even though Russia may well be engaged in a gigantic bluff. My hunch is that the Soviet threats against Britain and France are diversionary shoutings to distract attention from Soviet setbacks in Hungary and Poland. When the squid is alarmed it expels an inky cloud to cover retreat. But military and foreign economic aid are bound to expand.

This will accentuate the boom in capital goods — construction of factories, roads, schools, hospitals, power plants. Agreed, some state and local government projects have been deferred by high interest rates. And some business men have put aside plans because money's too expensive or hard to get. Yet the Departments of Labor and Commerce foresee a 5 per cent rise in construction in '57 — this, in spite of a drop in residential building. So inflationary pressures persist.

Now's the time for restraint — national restraint. Federal public works should be held back — put on a shelf — for use when business begins to slip. The roadbuilding program ought to be delayed. So, also, should deferrable water and power projects.

State and local governments also ought to hold back construction. Every time a state or a city borrows money, it competes with business firms for money. Every time it builds a bridge or a highway, it competes for labor and materials. And, as the Pennsylvania Dutch would say, the economy is "full up." There's little slack in manpower, materials, machinery, or money.

That's why the decline in residential construction is not a 100 minus. It leaves work — building — for tomorrow. Likewise, it's fortunate that automobile companies haven't been able to push production up as fast as last year and that inventories of passenger cars are at a 31-month low, around 275,000.

The automobile industry has a special responsibility in stabilizing our economy. Sales will exceed $15,000,000,000 this year. Employment approaches a million, excluding suppliers. Neither the companies nor the country can afford another year like 1955-56 — in which over-production forced "crash sales," bulbous inventories, and a subsequent plop in production.

We need moderation in motordom. Suppose construction were to taper off late in 1957. It would be comforting to have a strong automobile year in prospect in 1958 as a cushion. So, I, for one, would be satisfied with fair auto sales in 1957 — maybe 5 per cent better than '56. I'm not anxious for a superlative year. I'd like to "store up" some auto sales for the future.

Yes, Dr. Burns is resigning when business could hardly be any better. Yet it could easily get worse. That's the problem of those who carry on at the Council of Economic Advisers. It's the job of all of us, including federal, state, and local government officials, executives in industry, workers and consumers:

To see that it doesn't.

Norman Vincent Peale

How To Develop An Organizing Force

One night about a year ago, after I had given a talk, a woman came up to speak to me. Although she had a pretty face and an attractive disposition, she was very heavy with surplus weight.

"How old would you say I am?" she demanded.

"Madam," I answered, though surprised, "I may have done a lot of foolish things in my life, but I have always made it a rule never to try to guess a woman's age."

"Would you say I am somewhere around fifty?" she asked.

I thought I could be safely conservative. "Yes, maybe so."

"You're wrong by twenty years," she said, triumphantly. "I'm thirty. But as you can see I have a weight problem. I really want to get thin. My doctor gives me a diet, but he can't give me the will power to follow it. Why, when I see a box of candy . . . "

"I know," I interrupted, "you empty the box."

She grinned and nodded. "I feel all scattered apart inside," she said. I was delighted with the picturesque accuracy of that phrase. That was it, of course — the flabbiness of her inner life was reflected in the flabbiness of her body.

"This is a battle you will never win by will power," I told her. "Every time you look at a box of candy and say to yourself, 'No, I won't eat a single piece of that,' you only tend to fasten its tempting image more firmly in your mind."

"That is exactly what happens," she agreed, "though I have never had it put to me in quite those words."

"Why don't you try spiritual imagination instead," I suggested. "Paint a picture on your mind of the beautiful, slender person you want to be. Say to yourself, 'There I am; that is what I am going to be.' In doing this you will be pitting your imagination against your desire, and imagination is far the stronger. We can become what we picture more surely than by attempting to remake ourselves by trying to muster up flabby will power.

"And there is something else you can do. Tell the Lord that you realize what a tragedy it is to be defeated by anything — even if it is only candy, fried potatoes, pastry and whipped cream. Say to Him that you want to be master of yourself. He will help you. Such prayers can make you stronger than any temptation. If you do your part and get some real spiritual motivation, you will see results.

"You can succeed in dieting through imagination, faith and prayer."

Several months after this conversation a very nice looking woman came up to me after church. She was attractively dressed, youthful and vibrant. It seemed that I had met her, yet I couldn't place her. She smiled at me and asked, "How old would you say I am?"

"Not a day over twenty," I replied promptly.

"Wrong by eleven years," she said, and reminded me of our former encounter. I hadn't recognized her, she was so changed.

"I'm organized now," she said, "drawn together, straightened up — and thinner."

Organization — that's the secret. That means to get yourself under control and be master of yourself. No one can exercise mastery if he is flying apart all the time. That is one of the great services religion performs for us. It tightens us up and fuses us together so that our personalities are no longer disorganized.

If you can make your religion the organzing force in your life, you can handle any personal problem.

Declaring, And Holding, A Policy

In these days those whose business it is to explain and to comment on the news are having it impressed upon them, if they did not know it before, how big is the difference between making declarations and working out a policy. For a great power like the United States it is always a question, to be weighed with great care in each specific case, how far it should go in making declarations which express sentiments but are not to be followed by actions that correspond to the sentiments.

There are two schools of thought on this question. The one holds that a declaration by the United States has great influence on world opinion, and that world opinion has a great influence on the actions of governments. The other school, while not denying that this is true, is a believer in verbal austerity. It holds that the declarations lose their value, like printing press money, if they are made too often and too easily and with too much resounding rhetoric. This school adheres to the Theodore Roosevelt maxim that it is best to speak softly and to carry a big stick.

* * *

Commentators are likely to be impressed also these days with the stubborn and varied difficulty of things, and to feel a bit shy about calling upon the government to step forward with new bold imaginative policies. I say this as one who has long felt that what the Eisenhower administration has been calling peace was an excessively compacent reliance upon truces which avoided fighting but settled nothing.

In the Middle East we are living now amidst the ruins of that policy. But it is not only the American policy that is in ruins. So too, is the British policy. So too, also, is the United Nations policy as it existed up to the time the fighting broke out. And so too, I believe, is Nasser's policy as he conceived it and planned it before the British, the French and the Israelis struck.

What we have in the Middle East is not the failure of the policy of one government but a general failure in which all the great powers individually and the United Nations collectively have great responsibility. As a consequence of the general and all around failure the mold of things is broken and the pieces can never again be put together as they were before.

* * *

Provided we see things clearly and not with self-righteous eyes, we shall not be surprised, indeed we may be glad, that a new and comprehensive policy has not as yet been improvised and declared to the world. Though Washington made a bad start with its first actions in the U. N., it has since then recovered its poise, and it has made, I think, three sound decisions. It has warned the Soviets effectively against military intervention. It is giving full support to the U. N.'s police force. And it has announced its readiness to cooperate in dealing with the coming oil shortage, treating Western Europe as one economic community.

This is a long way from anything like a Middle Eastern settlement. But that settlement is far off and will be reached over a long and rough road. It is something that after the debacle of policy we have gotten our feet on the right road.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 17:5—"The Apostles said to the Lord, "Increase our faith!" (RSV)

* * *

Faith is the antithesis of fear. Faith in God as a Loving Heavenly Father, faith in God as the Author of life, faith in God's personal concern for the world and for our individual lives, faith in God's power to forgive sin, faith in the continuing orderly processes of God's universe, faith in the power of Right, faith in the laws of science and in the laws of moral conduct. They constitute the greatest asset that any life can possess. Such was the faith of The Man of Galilee, and such faith was the secret of his power and of his Lordship.

The reason the Apostles asked Jesus to increase their faith was the fact that they saw in His life the irrefutable evidence of the value of a larger faith than they themselves possessed. They wanted more faith so they could be more like Him.

"Lord, increase our faith"—is a worthy prayer for anyone to pray at the beginning of each new day.

The student bell-ringer earns his scholarship by making 13 trips to the bell each day. On each trip he tugs the big rope 10 times for a daily total of 130 lusty tugs.

During each 102-day semester the student bell-ringer pulls the rope more than 13,000 times.

He raced on foot to retrieve his mount after a pedestrian finally caught the animal. Tyree said his horse bolted when he dismounted to make an arrest.

Of Such is the Kingdom of God

Some people argue that the words of Christ imply that God's Kingdom belongs to children and not to adults. Indeed, there are some families whose worship habits suggest as much. The youngsters are bundled off to Sunday School; and the grown-ups stay home.

But Biblical scholars have long agreed that Christ's words point to the attitude, not the age, which is the mark of God's Kingdom.

The implicit faith, the humble acceptance, the eager yearning with which children approach Christ's teaching — these are the qualities which belong to God's Kingdom.

Perhaps we are foolishly infatuated with the notion that our children should follow in our footsteps. If we start them in the right direction, the direction of the Church, we may gain much more by following in theirs.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Air Power Series Tells Rise Of Nazi Air Force

"Luftwaffe," the dramatic story of the rise of the Nazi air force, told for the most part from captured German films and narrated by CBS correspondent Walter Cronkite, will be the third chapter in the new series, "Air Power," on KBST-TV this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Today's program depicts how the powerful German Air Force was secretly created prior to 1939, in violation of the Versailles Treaty — the early German model airplane and glider clubs, the insistence by Hitler that Germany was merely building "transport planes" and the secret blueprinting of Heinkel, Dornier, and Junkers aircraft by Germans in Russia, Switzerland and Denmark. "Luftwaffe" will also show the beginnings of World War II—the Nazi grab of Austria in 1938, the ill-fated meeting at Munich with such historical figures as Chamberlain, Daladier, Hitler, Mussolini, the assault on Poland in 1939, the invasion of the Low Countries, and finally, France.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

WHY THE CHISHOLM TRAIL FORKS AND OTHER TALES OF THE CATTLE COUNTRY by Andy Adams. Illustrated by Malcolm Turgood, University of Texas Press.

Dr. Wilson M. Hudson, University of Texas associate professor of English, who is himself a well-known folk lore expert, edited Andy Adams' assorted stories which make up this interesting new release of the University of Texas Press.

"Why the Chisholm Trail Forks and Other Tales of the Cattle Country," owes a great deal of its charm to the delightful pen and ink sketches which were prepared for it by Malcolm Turgood, Austin artist.

Dr. Hudson wrote an interesting introduction to the stories which explains the reason for their collection and the role they play in the accumulating written history of the cattle days in this state.

Adams, a Hoosier by birth, caught his first glimpse of Texas in 1880's. For ten years, he was on the trail as a cowboy and as an outfit foreman. When he was past 40, he turned to writing and his seven books previously printed deal exclusively with stories of the cattle country and the early days.

Adams died in 1936. He had made his home in Colorado Springs for a number of years while he was enjoying his greatest fame as a folk lore teller of tales.

Probably his most famous book was "Log of a Cowboy." Many authorities regard this to be the finest book ever written about life on the range.

His latest book just released by the University of Texas Press, touches on all aspects of range life. Each tale is told by a character from some Adams novel but all are derived from the author's many hundreds of nights spent under the western skies listening to the talk of the men as they sat around the campfires.

"Why the Chisholm Trail Forks" will probably be a highly popular volume with the hundreds of book readers who manifest such avid interest in folklore and, particularly, the legends and myths of the early days of the cattle industry in the West.

THE FBI STORY: A REPORT TO THE PEOPLE by Don Whitehead. Foreword by J. Edgar Hoover. Random House.

DON WHITEHEAD

The Federal Bureau of Investigation — the "G-Men" as Machine-Gun" Kelly dubbed its pistol-packing agents — is half a century old and has been under Hoover's direction two-thirds of that time. But in Hoover's words its "birth, development and struggles" have never before been recorded in a single volume. It takes an out-size book to do it, too.

Hoover joined in 1921, became director in 1924, and "Hoover is the FBI," says Whitehead — now with the New York Herald Tribune after 21 years with The Associated Press.

The FBI has had some peculiar assignments, like arresting an army — an army that was planning to invade Mexico. Its spectacular tasks have included the Lindbergh, Weinberger and Greenlease kidnapings, the Riesel acid-throwing, the pursuit of such killers as Durkin, Dillinger, "Baby Face" Nelson and "Old Creepy" Karpis, nabbed by Hoover in person. The bureau's long-time, ever-present foes, however, have been the Reds, from the Palmer raids of 35 years ago to the Hiss, Chambers, Fuchs, Gold, Rosenberg cases of yesterday. It hunts by a "scorched - earth policy," says Whitehead; that is, it exhausts all clues, like sifting two million handwriting specimens to solve the Weinberger kidnap.

Whitehead has given the FBI the thorough, exhaustive treatment, too, in this immense compendium of facts. And what hair-raising facts! This is the cream of the crime story in our 20th century.

A TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN by Betty Smith . Paperbound reissue of Literary Guild success. Popular Library reprint.

"A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," by Betty Smith made its first appearance in 1943.

Harper and Bros. edition ran through 29 printings.

The book has been translated into 15 foreign languages and editions of it have appeared in lands where each of these languages is spoken. The book has been made into a highly successful motion picture.

Now, nearly 14 years after it first appeared, Popular Library has issued a new paper-bound edition of the successful novel. This new edition, selling for 50 cents, will hit the shelves and counters this week.

Probably millions of readers who have either seen the movie or have read the story when it was a big Literary Guild selection success will pick up the cheap edition to re-read the tale.

And thousands of new readers who have missed reading "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" will be added to the lists.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITTH

Whether you believe in re-incarnation is beside the point. Whether you are interested in the controversy over Bridey Murphy should determine your interest in the film version of the best-seller "The Search For Bridey Murphy." As a motion picture, it is, to say the least, unusual for Hollywood. Believe it or not, the producers stuck as closely as possible to the book. No fictionizing, no romance angle added—all in all, a fairly well done documentary-type film.

"The Search For Bridey Murphy," in both the book and the movie version, is a true account of what happened to a woman under hypnosis when she was told to "go as far back as you can remember" and tell what she saw. In this case, the subject went back to another century, to the surprise and consternation of Morey Bernstein, the hypnotist.

The flashbacks into Ruth Simmons' "former" life are made more real by Hollywood's treatment, and the cumulative result is rather weird. Mrs. Simmons narrates under hypnosis as the screen translates her words into a misty, silent moving picture. Incidentally, Bernstein's tape recordings of the actual sessions are used in the film.

There have been several "copycat" movies cooked up to take advantage of Bridey Murphy's popularity. Now you can see the real thing.

* * *

If you are an Elvis Presley fan, you'll want to see "Love Me Tender," his first movie. If you are indifferent to "The Idol" you'd best stay away.

* * *

The Saturday kid shows at the Ritz are generally (and naturally) best suited for the kids. But this week, it's a Mr. Belvedere film. If you enjoyed Clifton Webb's suave comics during Belvedere's heyday, and if you can stand the presence of a mob of children, you might take time out to enjoy the irascible Mr. Belvedere again.

* * *

And speaking of comics, Martin and Lewis are back this week in their last film, "Pardners."

* * *

"Bus Stop" also returns this week. In this movie, Marilyn Monroe proves she can act, too. But at the same time, she shows a danger of being typed in the dumb blonde role (and who cares?)

* * *

We would like to correct an error. "1984," we are told, was incorrectly previewed in this column last week. Unfortunately, we had not seen either the movie itself or any of the reviews. The only material we had to go by was the publicity book sent out by the studio, and that was misleading. The publicity book gave us the impression that the film version of George Orwell's novel had been remade into a sex movie at the cost of some of Mr. Orwell's more dramatic points.

Actually, our informing friend tells us, the part pertaining to sex took up about two or three minutes of the movie's time. The rest followed the book with a dramatic devastation Hollywood seldom achieves. As you may have already deduced, we, being under the wrong impression, didn't even bother to see the movie. Let this be a lesson to Hollywood publicity men.

* * *

Judy Holliday is still the dumb blonde in "Solid Gold Cadillac." With considerable help from Paul Douglas, she continues in the type of role that made her famous in "Born Yesterday." It's the story of a part-time actress who invades Wall Street, upsets the business world, and ends up as head of the corporation.

We once pointed out in an editorial how most movie cartoons are titled with puns. Here's a sampling of some of the more outrageous title puns of cartoons showing this week at Big Spring theatres:

Rattibtson Crusoe, Bone Sweet Bone, New Hounds, Room and Wrath, By Word Of Mouse, Parlez Vous Woo and Quack Shot.

'Bus Stop' Back For Local Showing

"Bus Stop," screen version of William Inge's successful Broadway play, will be shown at the Sahara and Jet Drive-In Theatres Thursday through Saturday.

Starring Marilyn Monroe and introducing Don Murray, it is the story of an innocent cowpoke who falls in love with a song-and-dance girl in a low dive, and proceeds to woo her frontier fashion — including roping her onto a bus headed for Montana.

Modern Odyssey

Globe-trotter Lowell Thomas stands before the Sphinx and the Pyramid of Cheops, last of the Ancient Seven Wonders. It is here that the noted commentator opens his modern odyssey in quest of modern wonders for the newest Cinerama adventure, "Seven Wonders of the World," now in the seventh month of an exclusive engagement at the Melba Theater, Dallas.

Marshall Theatre Has Growing Pains

By MARSHALL COMERER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Marshall Little Theater hopes its difficulties are only growing pains and not a slow withering away.

The amateur theatrical group embarked on its fourth and most ambitious program this season. It leased land at the Marshall airport last summer, moved a house to the site and began work on what it hoped would become a permanent home.

But only 22 persons renewed membership this year. So the three play season planned for this year was cancelled and the money was refunded to the few persons who had bought associated membership.

The executive board decided to give its first production of the season, "The Tender Trap," free to test reaction.

The play, which opened, Nov. 15, drew an appreciative audience. The board has now decided to make another membership drive after the holiday season.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," Gian Carlo - Menotti's Christmas opera about the miracle in the life of an improverished mother and her crippled son at the time of the birth of Christ, has been scheduled for at least four Texas groups during the holidays.

The Opera will be a feature of the Corpus Christi Symphony Orchestra Dec. 3.

The East Texas Symphony Orchestra will give its performance in Tyler on Dec. 11.

The Lubbock Little Theater and Texas Tech Music Department will give their performance Dec. 19-20.

It will also be given as part of the program at the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center at Georgetown, Nov. 27.

Western Classic Returns To State

"Drumbeats Over Wyoming," playing Friday and Saturday at the State Theater, is a re-edited version of that old Western classic, "Plainsman And The Lady."

Starring are William Elliott, Gail Patrick, Vera Ralston and Joseph Schildkraut.

Scanty Wardrobe

Perhaps the scanties wardrobe yet used in a Hollywood production is seen on Marilyn Monroe in "Bus Stop." Her wardrobe consists of an abbreviated theatrical costume, a simple dress and a raincoat.

Prof Explains Significance Of Magical '7'

Seven Wonders of the World, the seven seas, the seven deadly sins, the seven ages of man, the seven levels of hell, the seven notes of the musical scale and the seven days of the week are something more than a lucky coincidence, according to Harvard Professor, George A. Miller.

In the course of a study conducted for the Office of Naval Research, he found that men become confused when they try to remember more than seven objects at any one time.

Many lists, like the seven wonders of the world, were originally drawn up before printing was known. They were passed from one person to the next by word of mouth. Listeners would not remember long lists, and the span of memory would quickly reduce the list to seven items before it had gone through many minds.

The memory span, says Professor Miller, is one of the most reliable intelligence tests. "If the ancients also had a span of seven items, therefore, it is a plausible conjecture that we are not a bit brighter than they were," he states.

The wise men of days gone by and even the great Leonardo da Vinci didn't think of Cinerama, however. In his newest Cinerama adventure, "Seven Wonders of the World," Lowell Thomas shows seventy wonders and asks his audience to choose seven.

The list of the ancients included only man-made wonders. Thomas includes the natural miracles of the world. Grand Canyon, Iguazu Falls in South America, a tribe of African natives over seven feet tall and dozens more are featured in "Seven Wonders," now in the seventh month of an engagement at the Melba Theater in Dallas.

Veteran Comedian Clinging To Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) -- Comedian Oliver Hardy, felled by a stroke Sept. 14, still clings doggedly to life. If the wishes of his fans can help him, he'll make it back to recovery.

I dropped by Hardy's modest Van Nuys home to check on his condition. Mrs. Hardy, a small, attractive woman, told me the once-rotund comic is much the same as when he left the hospital last month. His right side is paralyzed. He is unable to speak. He requires nurses 24 hours a day.

"His spirits seemed to improve when we brought him home," she reported. "But he seems to get frustrated by his inability to do things. He will sit and look at a newspaper for a long time and appear to get irritated because he can't absorb it.

"We put him in a wheelchair one day and brought him into the den to see TV. He always was such an avid watcher. But it was evident that he couldn't comprehend what was going on.

"Sometimes he gets so upset over his inability to get better that he seems to wish that it were all over with."

Mrs. Hardy said her husband finds encouragement in the flood of letters that has poured in since his illness. She showed me a couple of boxes of messages from all over the world. Here are some of them:

Auckland, New Zealand — "I do hope that you will soon recover and once more enjoy life. You have, with your good partner Stan, made many happy hours for millions of people the world over."

Jativa, Spain — "In the name of all our children — who have enjoyed so much all your lovely pictures with your old friend Stan Laurel — I am sending our very best wishes and good luck."

Dublin, Ireland — "Kindly let him know that one who got many laughs watching him on the screen in my schoolboy days wishes him God's blessing for a speedy and lasting delivery."

A whole class of school children in Noroton, Conn., fashioned their own get-well cards.

Into The Past

Louis Hayward puts Teresa Wright into a deep hypnotic trance in this scene from "The Search For Bridey Murphy," the screen version of the controversial book by hypnotist Morey Bernstein.

'Bridey Murphy' Story Is Told In Film Version Of Experiment

Three subjects which many people find fascinating — re-incarnation, life after death, and the spirit world — were vastly complicated by the recent experiments carried out by Morey Bernstein on Mrs. Ruth Simmons.

Out of those adventures into the unknown, Bernstein compiled a true account of his experiences which became a best seller. "The Search for Bridey Murphy," retaining the title of the book, has been made into a motion picture which shows Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre. Starring are Louis Hayward as Bernstein and Teresa Wright as Mrs. Simmons.

The picture begins with Bernstein's first forays into hypnotism and his discovery of Mrs. Simmons as the best subject he has ever had. Unexpectedly, he evokes from her a voice from a past century — Bridey Murphy — and his layman's interest turns into an obsession. Suspense builds as the eerie story moves to a climax, with Bernstein pushing the experiments past the danger point.

The experiment gets out of hand after Mrs. Simmons has told of her "previous life" in Ireland and is pushed by her hypnotizer even further back.

The story leaves the audience to make its own decision regarding re-incarnation. The story was not fictionized, but was drawn from the actual tape recordings Bernstein made during the trance sessions.

Elvis Presley Film Slated

Elvis Presley has his first film role in "Love Me Tender," showing Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz Theater. Co-starring are Richard Egan and Debra Paget.

Presley, singing idol of teenagers, portrays a young man in love with his brother's girl. He has a straight dramatic role, although he sings four songs in the course of the film.

Dealing with the escapades of four brothers in the Civil War, "Love Me Tender" stars Egan as oldest brother and leader of a Confederate cavalry troop. Presley has the part of a kid brother too young to go to war. Conflict develops when Egan returns from the wars to find his brother, upon a false report of Egan's death, has married Miss Paget.

PLATTER PALAVER

By Mary Sue Hale

More records are sold in the winter season. The reason for this isn't too hard to figure. In the summer, spring and fall, the weather permits more activity. But in the winter, it is so much more pleasant to stay home and read a good book, watch a favorite TV show, or put on an LP record, forgetting the cold front moving in.

For such a time is designed the LP record, "Ski Trails" by Jo Stafford. The Norman Luboff Choir and the Starlighters are also featured in this record, along with the music of Paul Weston. Included in the selections designed to make your winter moods more pleasant are "Baby, It's Cold Outside," "June in January," and 'I've Got My Love To Keep Me Warm."

"Love Me Tender," as done by Henry Rene and his orchestra instrumentally, knows no season. It is a tune that could be appreciated anytime, by just about anybody. This song, incidentally, is another version of the one introduced by Elvis Presley.

The combination of organ and saxaphone make the disc, "Slow Walk" recorded by Bill Doggett, outstanding. Some unusual music combinations are used in this latest by the introducer of "Honky Tonk."

The artist Billie Holiday sings one of the most popular LP records around this area, "Soltitude." "You Go To My Head," "Easy To Love," "I Only Have Eyes For You," "Tenderly" and "Soltitude" are among the other numbers.

A new recording group is the Highlights. A new production of theirs, "City of Angels" backed with "Listen My Love," has good teen-age appeal. This is currently an up-and-coming number.

Don Rondo singing "Two Different Worlds" on Jubilee label is also a very popular tune, both nationally and locally. The flip side of this recording is "He Made You Mine."

Nothing but terrific is one description we have heard in relation to Joe Jalino's recording of "Garden of Eden." Although released a very short time, this is a record that has a chance of progressing to the top.

Do you like the style of Chris Connor? Her latest Columbia LP release, "He Loves Me, He Loves Me Not," is highlighted by "Angel Eyes" a number that is rapidly approaching the status as a standard. Other vocal selections include "Thursday's Child," "Round About" and "High on A Windy Hill."

No Trance Danger

No trance induction period in "The Search for Bridey Murphy" lasts for more than twenty seconds. Producers of the controversial film about hypnotism feared the special effects used in the movie might place unsuspecting members of the audience in a trance.

Running Time Of Film Epics Debatable Point

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The running time of new film epics is the source of controversy in Hollywood today. Do movies run too long? Will the public rebel against sitting three and four hours to watch one movie? Or will people feel they're getting their money's worth?

The footage champ is "The 10 Commandments," which stretches 3 hours and 36 minutes. Close behind is "War and Peace" at a hefty 3 hours and 28 minutes, followed by "Giant" at 3 and 17.

It's downright common for a picture to run two hours or over these days. Until recently, the average length of a picture was 90 minutes, and many ran 80 and 70.

I found articulate partisans for both sides of the issue. In the pro faction was Edward Dmytryk, youthful looking vet of 33 years in films. He is obviously for long films, since he's directing "Raintree County," which may run four hours.

"I think longer pictures are inevitable," he argued. "If you're going to tackle big subjects, you've got to have the length to present them. Nowadays we're doing a lot of big novels. If you're limited to two hours on the screen you can only take a portion of the book. Then you're fooling the public; they expect to see the whole story.

"The book, 'Raintree County,' covered a man's life. Even with four hours, we can only tell of six years of his life.

"It all depends on the story. Some stories are told best in 90 minutes. But if you're going to tell an epic, you need more time."

Taking the con was Dick Powell. Said he:

"I've never seen a long picture that couldn't have been improved by taking 20 minutes out of it. And that includes 'Gone With The Wind.'

"Four hours is just too long to sit and watch entertainment."

Legal Safeguard

As an extra legal safeguard on "The Search for Bridey Murphy," Paramount Studios added a clause to their clearance from Ruth Simmons, the hypnotically age-regressed housewife who is subject of the picture. The rights now read "her present life, and any past existences." The document is believed to be a "first."

Burglars Ransack Liberace's Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Liberace's home in nearby Sherman Oaks was ransacked by burglars who took an undetermined amount of clothing and jewelry.

The burglary in the wavy-haired pianist's home was discovered yesterday by a maid. Liberace is currently appearing in Las Vegas and no one was home at the time, police said.

They reported that a rear door was pried off to gain entrance to the home.

Open Mind On Supernatural

Louis Hayward, who plays hypnotist Morey Burnstein in "The Search for Bridey Murphy," reports a chilling experience of his own that has forced him to keep an open mind on the supernatural.

Starring in a Broadway play, Hayward received a visitor from London in his dressing room, an actor named Harry Trilling. Hayward never saw him after that.

Several years later, in London, Hayward met Trilling's sister. He remarked he'd seen her brother in New York in 1935.

"Louis," she replied, looking at him oddly, "Harry's been dead since 1933."

'Pardners' Is Western Humor

It's not often that a Western tickles the funnybone. It takes someone like the Martin and Lewis team to do it. And, in "Pardners," the comics turn the usual cowboy dramatics into a humorous farce.

"Pardners" plays Thursday and Friday at the Terrace Theatre.

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis play dual roles. In the first, they are brave ranchers who die defending the old homestead. The widows separate, taking their sons with them — back to the ranch for Dean Jr., off to New York for Jerry Jr.

Dean next appears as a stalwart cowpoke with a mortgage he can't meet and a beautiful girl friend, Lori Nelson; while Jerry bows in again as a wealthy hot house flower with a secret hankering for the rugged life.

Jerry, by blind luck, saves a beautiful dance hall girl, who thus falls in love with him; he also is made sheriff for his exploit. Then the descendants of the raiders who killed Dean and Jerry Sr. get ornery again. From there on out, it's anybody's deal.

'Bridey' Profits Go To Research

Any profits realized by hypnotist Morey Bernstein from "The Search for Bridey Murphy" will be used to establish a chair for scientific research in hypnosis at the University of Colorado.

'Spoilers' Slated

"The Spoilers," playing Sunday and Monday at the Terrace Theatre, is the screen version of the Rex Beach novel dealing with violent life in the early-day Yukon Territory. Starring are Jeff Chandler, Anne Baxter and Rory Calhoun.

Things To Do And Not To Do In Making Selection Of Toys

Here are some do's and don'ts on buying toys from Dr. Philip Lewis of the Chicago Board of Education, a member of the Toy Guidance Council's advisory board. They will make it easier for Assistant Santas to make a wise choice of playthings for the children on their Christmas lists.

Don't wait till the last week. Toys are important tools of child development and deserve careful selection.

Do plan to do your toy shopping first and take time to read leaflets describing children's play needs at different age levels which most good toy departments have.

Do study manufacturers' tags and box instructions to determine age appeal. Remember age suitability of any toy is a major safety factor.

Don't buy toys for just one child in a family. Do give all the children in the family some toy remembrance, although they need not be of equal value. The toddler, for example, will be happy with push and pull toys and won't envy the more expensive toy you select for an older brother.

Don't arbitrarily refuse to cater to a boy's wish for a housekeeping toy, or a girl's request for a cowboy costume.

Do remember that boys and girls have the same play interests up to six. Boys enjoy playing with dolls, cooking sets and other homemaking toys and benefit from imitating such familiar family activities. Girls enjoy Wild West play and benefit from sharing such dramatic play with their brothers.

Don't concentrate your toy purchases all at one counter, just because it's easier for you to complete your gift list in a hurry.

Do consider the fact that each child needs a variety of toys for all-around development, and select toys to meet his needs for different play activities.

Don't buy a very large truck for a child you know lives on an upper floor of an apartment.

Do consider the child's home and pick playthings that will be appropriate to his surroundings.

Don't feel "lost," if you are buying for a child you are not acquainted with.

Do observe play interests of children the same age. If the parents are interested in music, chances are that musical toys will be especially enjoyed by their child.

If parents are enthusiastic about sports, games related to sports are likely to make a hit with junior.

Don't cross a big family of youngsters off your list, because you can't manage large gifts for all.

Do consider a purchase of group interest, such as a large building set, and provide each child with a set of different figures, or miniature furniture, to add the personal touch.

Gloves Give Her Elegence

The Leather Glove Producers of France suggest that every lady should have a pair of luxury gloves for Christmas if they're ladies who don't want something strictly utilitarian but a gift that is personal and elegant.

They don't refer to the French leather glove "classics" women buy for themselves season-in season-out . . . but to the embroidered, jeweled, spangled, flowered, laced beauties that are decorative and romantic.

These run a little higher in price, naturally, than plain gloves . . . that's why women wait till Christmas to get them. But they're in a class with ermine wraps, real jewelry, and fine French perfume and don't cost nearly as much.
