

Pay Raise For County

5% Increase Retroactive To June 1

Coleman School

County Commissioners Wednesday granted a 5 1/2 per cent pay raise for all 64 county employees, retroactive to June 1, 1972.

The commissioners decided on the pay raise following almost a day and a half sitting as the county tax equalization board.

The commissioners heard from 23 persons regarding newly structured evaluations of property.

Efforts are being made to evaluate property in the county along the same lines as the three cities and school districts, County Judge Bill Carter noted.

Further adjustments of salaries are needed and hopefully will be made next year, Carter said.

As a prelude to the decision on salary adjustments, Carter asked for additional pay raises for law enforcement personnel and a number of other county employees.

The pay raises granted by commissioners cover all elected county office holders as well as all other county employees.

Carter said the pay raises will cost the county $15,230 a year.

The pay boost means a $394 annual increase for the highest paid county employees--Judge

Bill Carter, the tax assessor-collector and county auditor.

Their pay will be raised from $7,896 a year to $8,290.

The county commissioners will receive a pay increase of from $6,720 to $7,114. The sheriff will go from $7,584 to $7,978 a year and county treasurer Mildred Boyd's salary will go from $5,760 to $6,154.

The County Attorney, Joe Earnest, and county clerk Marie Bassham will receive pay boosts of from $7,584 to $7,978 and district clerk Bill Erwin's pay will be increased from $5,604 to $5,998.

In addition to the pay increase, commissioners voted Carter a $50 a month car allowance in line with his job as juvenile court judge and a $25 a month car allowance was approved for Precinct 1 Peace Justice Leonard Henderson.

In other action, commissioners voted to abolish the post of third deputy in the county clerk's office. That job is now held by anyone as the result of the resignation of Chief Deputy Mrs. Geneva Bynum to take a job in the county attorney's office.

As the result of Mrs. Bynum's resignation, second deputy Mrs. James D. Wulfjen was promoted to chief deputy and former third deputy JoAnn See RAISE Page 7

Gas Rate To Court

City Council Says "No" To Increase

The City of Colorado City and Lone Star Gas Co., apparently are headed for the courtroom to determine if Lone Star is entitled to a gas rate increase.

Monday night, George Admire, local manager for Lone Star Gas, went before the council and asked for the third time that the gas rate be increased.

He said he wanted a yes or no.

He got a "No" by the unanimous vote of the council.

Admire Tuesday said Lone Star Gas Co., would file with the Railroad Commission for an observed depreciation examination and when this examination is completed, the requested rate increase will be taken to court.

The matter that Lone Star would be seeking to prove is the amount they have invested and their costs, all of which is relative to the return they are entitled to receive on their investment.

By law, utility companies are entitled to receive an 8 per cent return on their investment, after taxes.

However, Admire said that it will probably be some time before the request for observed depreciation examination is filed and until such a request is filed, the door the negotiations is still open.

He noted that the cost of an observed depreciation examination is substantial and such costs will result in an increase in the requested rate increase.

The city council was considering tabling the request and joining other cities in hiring a team of consultants to make a study to determine if the rate increase was justified.

Such a study would have cost Colorado City $258.

However, Admire forced the issue when he asked the council for a yes or no.

Members of the council have expressed their opposition to a See RATE Page 5

Feed Lot Opposed

Ordinance Being Drafted

A delegation of 12 persons, headed by Tommy Ratliff asked city council Monday night to do what it could to stop the establishment of a commercial feed lot for cattle and swine near the city's northern edge.

City fathers responded by directing City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr., to draw up an ordinance forbidding the establishment of a feedlot within 5,000-feet of the city limits.

City Legal Advisor Dell Barber said the city's legal rights in such a matter are questionable and that the best recourse for those seeking to stop the feed lot from being established was to seek a court injunction.

If the feedlot is established, whoever established it would need a lot of money to pay off resulting suits, Barber said.

However, Sadler said he had consulted with the Texas Municipal League and been told the city has rights of control over land 5,000-feet from the city limits.

Of particular concern to members of the council was the possibility brought out by Ratliff and other members of the delegation that a feedlot might contaminate shallow water wells in the area.

from underground sources that could be contaminated by a feedlot, councilman Frank Brownfield said.

Ratliff's concern in the matter is that he has purchased 220-acres adjoining the 40-acre plot where the proposed feedlot was to be located.

Ratliff's plans for the acreage is to plant pecan trees and eventually to have a shelling and packing operation, which would be hampered if there was a smell in the air that would be packed in the packages.

Ratliff plans to plant some 1,000 trees this January and hopes to begin shelling and packing operations within 5 years.

He eventually hopes to plant from 5,000 to 7,000 pecan trees on the farm, depending on the water supply.

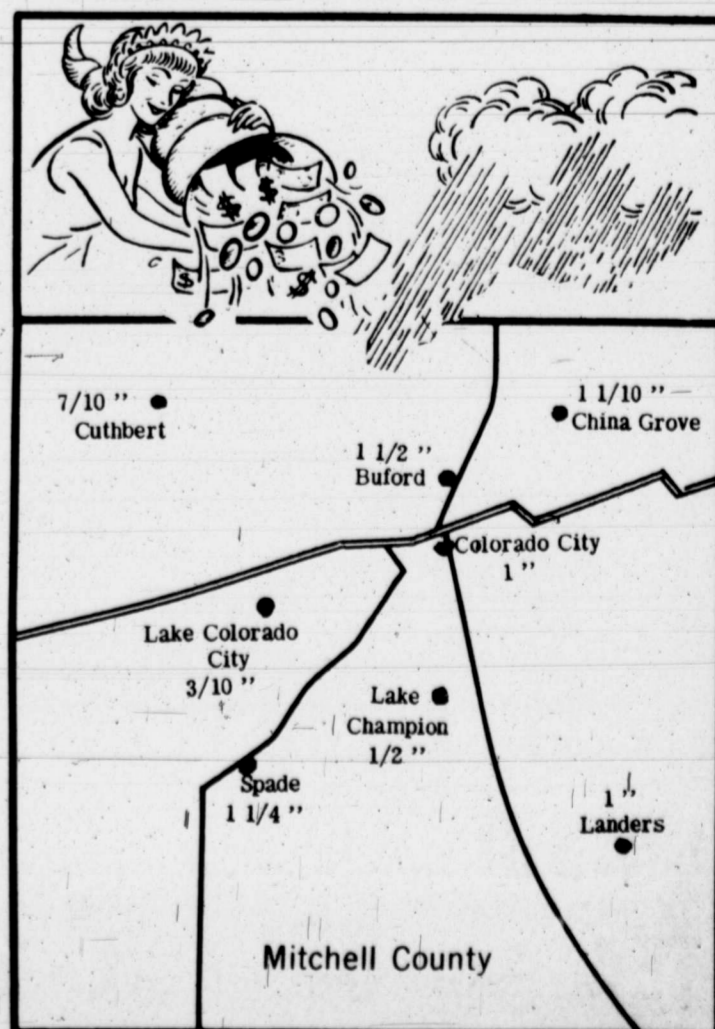

Other members of the delegation either have businesses or homes in the general area of the proposed feedlot and they contended the smell and resulting insects would harm their businesses and make life unbearable.

Those protesting the proposed feedlot location included David Taylor, operator of Taylor Enco; Cecil Flowers, manager of Villa Inn Motel; Lloyd Ledbetter, owner of the Dairy Queen; Mrs. Homer Bodine, with Bodine Drive - In Dairies, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamer, Mrs. Witt Hines, Ralph Hines, Mrs. Herron Gist, and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Mitchell, who all live in the general area of the proposed feedlot.

Jimmy Moody and Leo Thompson, former owners of M&T Food Service, have proposed building the feedlot and had indicated they didn't believe it to be big enough to bother anybody.

Neither of the men were present for the council meeting and Moody said afterwards he wasn't aware until late Monday that there was to be a delegation at the council meeting to protest the proposed feedlot. Moody declined to make comment when asked if he planned to continue with plans for the feedlot.

Coleman Marker Dedication Set Friday

Dr. P.C. Coleman "Father Of Texas Tech"

The Coleman school housed the Colorado City students in grades 1-11 for a number of years. The school was located where the school bus parking lot is now, near Hutchinson Elementary.

Ceremonies at 5 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in front of the Colorado City Historical Museum will honor the man who is recognized as the "Father of Texas Tech".

J. F. Bodine.

Dr. Maxwell Thomas, who was born in Colorado City and now lives in Dallas, will give the history of his grandfather.

A historical marker bearing the name and legend of Dr. Preston C. Coleman will be dedicated during the ceremonies.

On hand for the ceremonies will be Dr. Coleman's only living direct descendant, his daughter, Mrs. Roland Burchard. A large number of Dr. Coleman's grandchildren will be on hand for and participate in the ceremonies.

Following the ceremonies, the museum will be opened for the public and later that night many of those from out of town will attend "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," in the city's historically marked old opera house.

Master of ceremonies for dedication of the marker will be District Attorney Frank Ginzel. The welcome will be given by Gus D. Chesney, chairman of the Mitchell County Historical Survey Committee.

Invocation will be given by

The marker will be unveiled by two other grandsons of Dr. Coleman, Tom Burchard and Will Virey, both of Sacramento, Calif.

The words on the marker will be read by Preston Coleman Burchard, another of Dr. Coleman's grandsons. Joe Earnest, County Attorney, will give the dedication.

The benediction will be given by the Rev. Dr. Shirley Guthrie.

Other of Dr. Coleman's relatives who will be on hand will be Mrs. Alice Virey and Tom Burchard of Sacramento, and Eleanor Wheeler of Midland.

Dr. Coleman, came to Colorado City in 1883 and practiced medicine here until his death in 1932.

He was concerned with medicine, religion, education and community development. And he was a leader in all these fields.

He rode horseback to administer medicine in a wide area of West Texas covering an area with a 100-mile radius to care for the ill.

Dr. Coleman served as president of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce for a score of years and was a leader in public school education, with one school here, now replaced by newer buildings, bearing his name as a tribute to his work.

The native of Tennessee championed the cause to obtain a state education facility for West Texas, an effort which brought the location of Texas Tech to Lubbock.

He traveled across the state See DEDICATION Page 5

City Site For Jr. Tourney

Colorado City has been selected as the site for the district junior teenage baseball league tournament.

The tournament will be held July 25-29.

Bob Chalker, secretary-treasurer of the local junior teenage baseball organization, said in announcing Colorado City as site for the tournament that Colorado High Athletic Director Weldon Brevard will serve as tournament director.

Chalker said the tournament will bring a large number of people into town.

Who will represent Colorado City in the tournament is still a question, but the Braves are leading the league with six wins and no losses.

The White Sox are in second place with a three-win, three-loss, record, followed closely by the Lions who have won two and lost four. The Colts have won one and lost five.

Tuesday night's results had the Lions downing the Colts 6-3 and the Braves shut-out the White Sox 6-0.

Feeding Time

Charlie Brown (Rickey Parks) offers Snoopy (Joe Woolsey) his supper during a scene from "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," the current production at the Opera House by the Colorado City Playhouse, Inc. The play will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Tickets are $2.50 each and reservations may be made by phoning 728-3491.

Nursing Home Plans Enlarged

Plans were announced Wednesday to enlarge the proposed new nursing home for Colorado City to 66 rooms and 134 beds.

When plans for the nursing home were first announced last week, it included only 50 rooms and 102 beds.

However, Lewis Claxton of Colorado City and Ray McDonald of Abilene, said it was decided to make the addition now rather than later as it would be more expensive to do so later.

The nursing home will employ some 50 people once it is completed. Construction could get underway as early as late next month and without delays, the building could be finished within four months.

City council Monday night authorized City Manager J. A.

Vows Repeated In Home

Judy Darlene Tate and Jerry Don Beard exchanged wedding vows on June 2 at 9:30 a.m. in the home of the bride's parents in Snyder.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Tate Jr., and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jeral Beard, 2200

Forty Fifth Street, Snyder. They are former residents of Colorado City.

The Rev. J. M. Dean performed the double ring ceremony before an archway entwined with English ivy, Chinese velvet and fernery.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used in the decor through-out the house. Scented votive candles in white milk-glass holders gave out a pleasing fragrance which added to the festive occasion.

Traditional wedding music was played on the organ by Miss Eloise Wood of Denton. She also accompanied Barbra Tate, sister of the bride, and Larry Beard, brother of the groom, as they sang, "We've Only Just Begun".

For her wedding the bride wore a lovely gown of polyester crepe, designed and made by her and her mother. The skirt of soft pleats and gathers fell from a fitted bodice.

Seed pearls created into a floral design encircled the scooped neckline and were repeated at the waistline.

The full flowing sleeves of crepe chiffon were gathered into wide fitted cuffs fastened at the sides with self fabric loops over six rounded pearl buttons.

Her elbow length veil of chantilly lace was attached to a headpiece decorated with flowers made from lace and bordered with a row of pearls. The centers of the flowers were iridescent crystal beads.

The bridal bouquet was white carnations and baby's breath and was mounted on the bride's Rainbow Bible which was presented to her when she served as Worthy Advisor of the Snyder Assembly, Number 230. From the Bible fell blue and white ribbon streamers.

For "something old" the bride had pennies inside her shoes, minted in the years that she and the groom were born. "Something new" was the bridal gown, "something borrowed and blue" was a garter, worn by the bride, borrowed from her friend, Kay Nell Feather.

Barbra Tate, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a formal length sleeveless gown of blue chiffon over a variegated blue embroidered brocade material. She carried a nosegay of blue carnations, atop her Rainbow Bible, from which fell blue ribbon streamers.

Randy Lefler from Plainview, cousin of the groom was best man, Ricky Beard, brother of the groom greeted the guests and seated them.

Miss Debra Murphy registered guest.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Misses Martha Stephens, Kay Nell Feather, and Mrs. Neva Huddleston presided over the tables.

The bride's table was covered with a blue cloth under a beautiful hand-made crocheted tablecloth made by the bride's grandmother.

The center decoration was a large blue glass snifter with a floating candle inside, circled with English ivy. Flanked on either side were long blue tapers in white milk-glass holders.

The tiered cake was decorated with blue roses and topped with wedding bells. Punch was served from a white milk-glass bowl.

The groom's table was laid

Mr. And Mrs. Jerry Beard

with a white damask cloth, from which coffee and rolls were served.

For a wedding trip to the Dallas area, the bride chose a teal blue double-knit dress with white accessories and a white corsage. While in the Dallas vicinity the couple toured "Six Flags Over Texas" and "Seven Seas".

The bride is a student at Texas Tech University, majoring in Home Economics and is a member of A. H. E. A. and the Eastern Star. The groom also attends Texas Tech University and is an Architectural Engineering Major.

During the summer the couple is at home at 2701 Ave. X, in Snyder.

Beard is employed by McAlister Transfer and Storage.

They will return to Lubbock this fall.

Out-of-town guests were from Plainview, Lubbock, Brownwood, Kermit, Abilene, Denton, Richardson, and Canon City, Colorado.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom in the dining room of The Steak House in Snyder.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Tate and Charlie Eastman of Snyder. The groom's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Floyd of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Beard of Lynden. His great-grandmother is Mrs. J. F. Galyean of Snyder.

Newcomers Welcomed

FEW PEOPLE ever live to reach maturity without getting an occasional desire to write a book.

"Oh, what a wonderful book the story of my life would make," we sigh in secret or say out loud, "if only there was ever time to sit down and write it!"

And that's where the rub comes in. People busy living hardly ever have the time to re-live in print chapters filed away in the cabinets of yesterday.

Most of us take it out, therefore, in wishing we'd write a book. Or better still that somebody else would write the wonderful story of our lives for us.

THIS YEN to write a book when the time is ripe and the house is still is a particular affliction if not a downright occupational hazard for almost anybody and everybody who ever worked in the editorial department of any newspaper, large or small.

And some of our best, most enjoyable and readable books have come from reporters and editors who do take time to write it like it was—or at least how they think it was.

Am thinking here of some splendid realistic books written by war front correspondent, particularly.

REPORTERS are just people and stick to their specialties mostly—sports, politics, psychology, religion, the medical field, history, regional tales, the novel, and on and on and on.

Library shelves are full of biographies and autobiographies, too. Dare say that few novels exist without part of "the self" who labored to compose it always creeping in.

Most authors do not write about life. They write from it.

SUPPOSE Congress should pass a law making it mandatory that every citizen who hoped to vote had to write a least one book. There are already some stranger laws than that on the statutes of this country.

What would your book be about? Nine times out of ten it would be the story of your life even if it were meant to be fiction. What else does the average person know to much about?

Tried to think the other night what the book this reporter is gonna write when the time comes will be. There were not too many sensible answers, though titles would come easy.

THIS BOOK, if ever written, could never be about sports though "How To Watch Football With Your Spouse" might turn out to be a "doozy".

"How To Stay Married" would plain plagiarism 'cause Kathleen Norris, Dorothy Dix, Dr. Joyce Brothers, Dear Abby, Anne Landers and hundreds of others have already told everybody.

It could never be a cook book because every woman knows the rules for hamburger spaghetti, banana pudding and lima beans with ham. That lets "How To Cook It Easy" out.

Mystery novels would be out too though admit they are nearly always fun to read—specially if you read the last chapter right after the first chapter.

It is said that Franklin Delano Roosevelt read at least one mystery every night at bedtime and that he knew who-dun-it by page forty. Makes you wonder if he peeped a little too.

A BOOK telling all the amusing incidents of writing small town social events would surely have its writer living in Canada or Mexico City—fast.

Not qualified to write inspirational or devotional books, wild west books, and let's skip the sexy thrillers too.

My autobiography is nobody's business but mine. Some of it is not very funny anyhow. Had rather write one to make people laugh.

Small volumes of verse would come easiest with some sweet, some sacred and some plain foolish. Only who reads poetry anymore other than the select few?

Probably the best bet might be just "How Not to Write a Book".

Just don't do it. Play it safe, and throw the typewriter away.

Man Rescued At Lake

Two Colorado City men rescued an unidentified man from Lake Colorado City Thursday afternoon after he ventured into deep water and developed leg cramps.

The man and his family were camping at the lake in the state park and went for a swim. He ventured into deep water, leaving his family in shallow area.

When he developed leg cramps, he began yelling for help and attracted the attention of Ken Burnam and state park employee Pat Reilly.

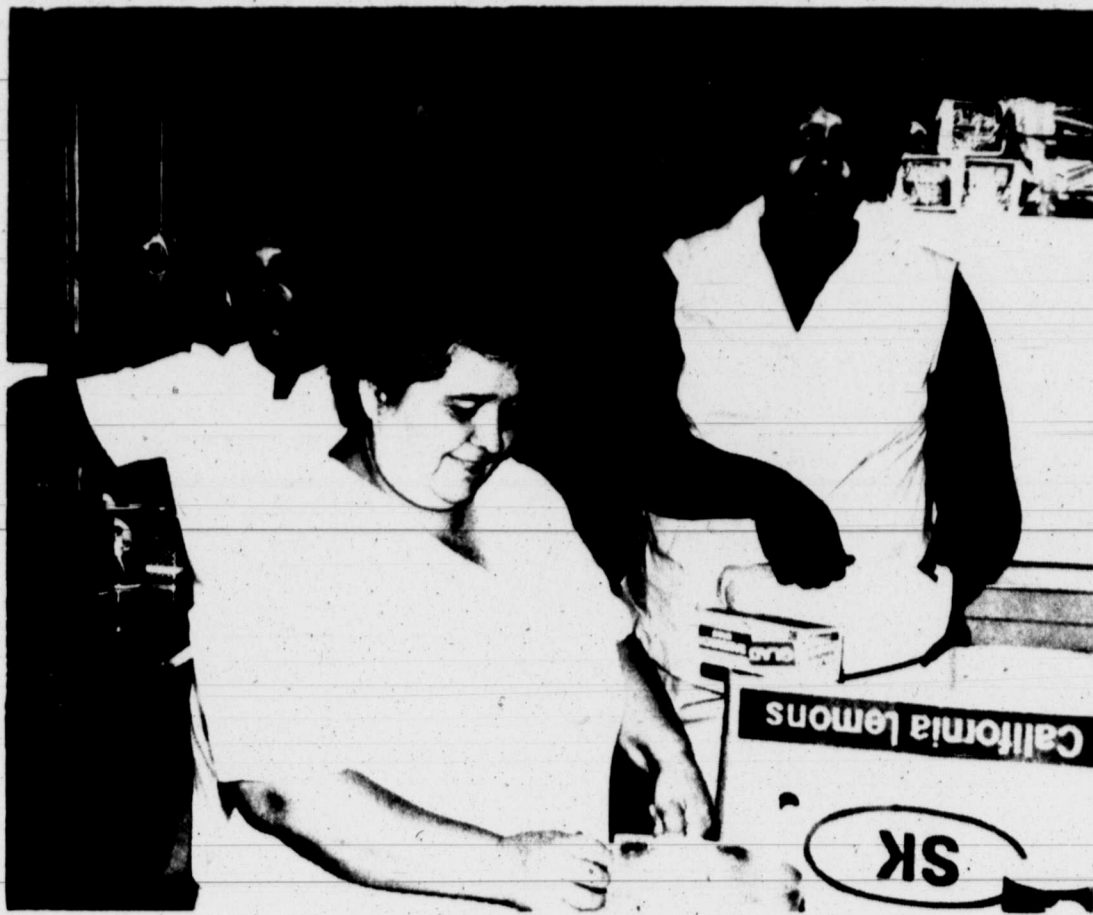

Burnam and Reilly pulled the man to safety.

Burnam, a teacher at Colorado High School, has been the aquatic director for the Boy Scout camp at Camp Tonkawa, near Abilene for several years. At the camp, Burnam, teaches swimming, life saving, rowing and canoeing.

Reilly is a 1971 graduate of Colorado High and is a certified life guard.

The near drowning brought tips to take for safety sake from state park officials:

- Never go swimming alone.
- Swim in supervised area.
- Take along flotation devices such as inner-tubes.
- Have someone on shore to keep an eye on swimmers.
- Do not dive into unfamiliar waters.
- Do not attempt to swim across large bodies of water.
- Do not swim to the point of exhaustion.
- Never fool others by pretending to be in trouble.
- Enter the entire family into a swimming and life-saving program of some type.

"Balanced Meals"

Table Games

Children participating in the CAP's recreation program are allowed to play table games part of the time. These children have just finished a game of table tennis.

Hoover, a junior Spanish major and English-Religion minor is a member of Ministerial Alliance, the Spanish Club, and received the Modern Language Award in 1971.

Good Luck

This past week it became known that Sheriff Lewis Claxton, who is retiring when his term is concluded at the end of this year, and Ray McDonald of Abilene, will build a new nursing home in Colorado City.

These two men will be making a big investment in Colorado City and it will be a great asset for our town.

This nursing home will have 134 beds as well as a beauty shop, barber shop and chapel. It will employ about 50 people.

We appreciate these two men and want to wish them the best of luck in this new venture.

Another point of contention was the fact that the requested increase included a sliding scale increase, with a 31 per cent increase for persons who using 1,000 cubic feet of gas with the rate of increase going down as the volume used increases. One councilman pointed out that this would hurt people on a fixed income.

The average rate of increase requested was 8 per cent, which councilman Eddie Piland contended was out of line with rates laid down by the wage and price control commission.

Admire replied that the rate increase had been submitted to the commission and when no reply was received within 30 days, approval was assumed.

Councilmen J. C. Britton pointed out that the city council in its recently approved budget gave city employees only a 5 1/2 per cent increase, because of wage and price controls.

council couldn't very well come along and give an 8 per cent increase to Lone Star.

The higher rate schedule is justified, according to the application, because of increased cost of buying gas, higher property and equipment costs, increased costs for employee compensation, higher interest rates on borrowed money and higher taxes.

"In addition", Admire noted, "Lone Star has a commitment to its customers to vigorously compete for supplies of natural gas to keep its reserves in a favorable position."

"While other sections of the country are experiencing some shortages in natural gas, Lone Star has maintained favorable supplies."

"The gas cost adjustment portion of the application placed before the City Council," Admire continued, "will help Lone Star maintain its favorable gas supply position and assure our customers of natural gas service for the future." Not effected by the rate increase request are gas air conditioners which will keep the special rate now in effect.

Lone Star's current rates in Colorado City now cost gas customers:

For the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas--$1,8788 gross, $1,67 net (net being the discount if paid within specified period from date of billing).

For all over 1,000 cubic feet of gas--$1,0322 gross per 1,000 cubic feet, and .929 net per 1,000 cubic feet.

Here are the sliding-scale rates requested in the new Lone Star application:

For 1,000 cubic feet--$2,444 gross and $2.20 net.

For 3,000 cubic feet--$1,167 gross per 1,000 cubic feet gross and $1.05 net.

For 6,000 cubic feet--$1,056 gross per 1,000 cubic feet and .95 net.

For 15,000 cubic feet--.967 gross per 1,000 cubic feet and .87 net.

For 75,000 cubic feet--.911 gross per 1,000 cubic feet and .82 net.

Sadler Jr., to advertise for bids for a city block of land north of the city water works on Chestnut between 19th and 20th Streets.

This is the land the developers said they would like to have as it is near the hospital.

Bids will be taken until 2 p.m. June 23.

OTHER COUNCIL ACTION

The city council Monday night told Sadler to investigate a city ordinance on mowing weeds on vacant lots in order to keep the city clean.

Sadler told the council of a newly established Abilene ordinance that includes provisions for a fine of $200 a day for owners of lots with weeds over 6-inches high. The fine is levied only after a warning.

Sadler pointed out that while the city doesn't need an ordinance quite this strict, one is definitely needed.

Other actions by the council included:

-- Establish July 5 as the date for the equalization board hearing.

-- Approved a permit for James Sprout to keep three horses in the city.

-- Re-appointed Dr. Kenneth Cowan as city health officer for $50 a month.

-- Approved a request by the Colorado City Jaycees for city equipment to help tear down old buildings if permission can be obtained to tear down such structures.

Bob Mitchell, president of the Jaycees, approached the council and told them of plans to offer their services free to owners who want to tear down an old building.

Mitchell, accompanied to the meeting by Jaycee Sonny Pawkett, told of plans to improve the appearance of Civic House, which the Jaycees own.

He assured the council he would work with the Chamber of Commerce and its Community Development Committee in doing the work on the Civic House.

She'll help you get your money's worth from your electric appliances.

Any time you have questions about the operation and care of an electric appliance, ask one of our home economists. A telephone call will do it. She'll have the answers you need. Or follow through until she gets them for you.

She can help you in other ways, too. With food preparation or freezing. With the planning of your new kitchen. The tips you get from our home economists can help you get all the benefits you expect from your electric appliances. There's no charge for this service, so don't hesitate to call.

It's the job of every one of us to see that you get the most value from your electric service.
