RALLY AVERTS STOCK MARKET CRASH

Self-Styled 'Kaiser Of Louisiana' Faces 19 Ouster Charges

LONG'S FRIENDS LOSE FIGHT TO DELAY ACTION

Impeachment Resolution Is Read After Three-Hour House Debate

MURDER PLOT TOLD

Former Body Guard Of Governor Gives Affidavit To Legislature

BATON ROUGE, La., March 26. (AP)—Nineteen charges, ranging from a plot to murder a state representative to malfeasance in office, were filed against Gov. Huey P. Long, 36-year-old executive of Louisiana, in an impeachment resolution read late today in the state house of representatives.

The resolution was presented after efforts had been made by the governor's partisans to forestall it with a motion to adjourn sine die. The motion was lost by a vote of 38 to 55 after three hours' debate in which the rule holding an adjournment motion non-debatable was disregarded.

Resolution Up Today

The resolution was laid on the table to come up at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

In addition to the formal impeachment resolution, another was introduced containing the sworn affidavit of Harry A. Bozeman, who charged that Governor Long attempted to hire him to murder J. Y. Sanders Jr., member of the house of representatives, because he opposed his legislative program. Bozeman until recently was a personal attendant of Governor Long and recently was dismissed from the state highway department. Years ago he was known in the prize fight ring as "Battling" Bozeman.

"Kaiser of Louisiana"

His affidavit said:

"Huey P. Long sent for me to come to the govenor's mansion about five or six weeks ago. The governor said to me 'Battling Bozeman, I am the kaiser of this state. When I crack my whip who ever dares to disobey my orders, regardless of what they may be, I'll fire 'em. They won't last as long with me after disobeying one of by commands as a snow ball will in hell.'"

"'Shut that door over there'," he says, the affidavit continued. "'Come down here and sit down by me'. The governor had been drinking. I smelled it on his breath.

"He says 'Battling Bozeman, I am going to call an extra session of the legislature', and he says 'this —— J. Y. Sanders Jr. is going to disprove of all my measures and I want to get him out of my way.

Daughter Attempts To Murder Aged Mother

LOS ANGELES, March 26. (INS)—Invoking the law of the ancients that the old should be put to death, Sadie Brown, 45, today shot and probably fatally wounded her 83-year-old mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown.

"Mother had lived long enough," the daughter told police without emotion. "I wanted to kill her."

The two women, according to the daughter, had quarreled all night long over who should rule the household.

'Non-Stop' Flier Is Stranded in Amarillo

AMARILLO, Texas, March 26. (UP)—Okeh Bevins, who attempted to pilot his Lockheed Vega monoplane on a non-stop solo flight from Los Angeles to New York, will spend the night here. He landed here at 2:45 p. m. today from a flight from Willard, N. M., where he was forced down, terminating the non-stop feature of his venture.

Hambone's Meditations

Impeached

Chief Justice Charles W. Mason of the Oklahoma supreme court is facing impeachment charges voted by the house of representatives. He is accused of accepting a bribe.

MAN NAMED IN BRIBE CLEARED

But Rice Gets Reprimand For Letter

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 26. (UP)—The Oklahoma house of representatives tonight exonerated Grady Lewis, Creek county representative, on charges he made a proposition to two justices of the state supreme court offering to bargain justices for a reduction of a libel suit.

The charge was made by Representative Sam Carmack. He told the house that Grady Lewis proposed to two justices of the state supreme court that if Justice J. W. Clark's judgment against O. O. Owens and the Tulsa World was reduced $40,900, investigation of the supreme court and voting of impeachment charges would be halted.

The suit involved alleged libel in a political advertisement carried in the World when Owens was candidate for the legislature.

Vote on a second impeachment charge against the chief justice, scheduled within 10 minutes after Carmack's statement, was delayed until 9 a. m. Wednesday, and the house began hearing proof of the allegation late today.

Carmack's statement also disrupted action of the house in voting charges against Justices Fletcher Riley and Clark, under fire along with Chief Justice Mason. The charges against the three allege incompetency, corruption and malfeasance. Mason was impeached on a bribery charge voted Friday night.

Meanwhile, the senate adopted a motion that evidence had not substantiated statements of Senator John L. Rice in a letter to Editor Carl Magee, of the Oklahoma City News, that bribery of senators had been attempted in the impeachment vote of Henry S. Johnston, former governor. The vote on the motion was 41 to 0.

After the vote a committee submitted an order, providing for Rice's suspension pending investigation in the next regular or extra session of the legislature.

When Senators W. C. Austin and Guy Andrews offered a substitute motion for a public reprimand of their colleague, Rice thanked them in a choking voice.

Stimson Sets About Task of Learning Duties

WASHINGTON, March 26. (AP)—Henry L. Stimson lost little time after his arrival here today from New York in beginning the task of acquainting himself with the questions with which he must deal as secretary of state. Within less than an hour after he stepped from the train at the Union station he was in conference with President Hoover and then spent the remainder of the afternoon at the state department.

Port Arthur Youths Under Bond in Slaying

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Martin Trahan, 16, and his brother, Gilbert Trahan, 22, were bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bond each after an examining trial on charges of slaying George Wehgie, 55, their step-father in front of their mother's house here yesterday. Neither of the boys made a statement.

RUSHED FROM JAIL

Denny Dixon Transferred To Ballinger After He Gives Statement

COLEMAN, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Denny Dixon, one of two suspects arrested near here early yesterday, was rushed to Ballinger for safe keeping late today after officers reported he had made a statement admitting participation in an attempted bank robbery Thursday night at Van Alstyne in which W. L. Echols, night watchman, was fatally wounded, and the holdup of a filling station here Saturday night in which Elgie Leslie was wounded seriously.

Dixon was alleged to have made the statement after being confronted by Sheriff J. J. Vaughan of Van Alstyne and several witnesses from that city. Echols was shot when he accosted a man in an alley back of a Van Alstyne bank. He died Saturday in a Sherman hospital.

Officials said Dixon admitted emptying his pistol at the officer.

Dixon and his alleged companion, Robert Mason, are under charges of robbery with firearms in connection with the filling station robbery here. Charges of murder will be filed against them for Echols' death, the county attorney's office said. There is a chance they will face two murder charges, as Leslie is not expected to live. Leslie declared a man entered the filling station and shot him in the back without warning. Mason was held in jail here.

A third man was being sought in connection with the two crimes.

Graf Zeppelin Greeted As It Crosses Holy Land

TELAVIV, Palestine, March 26. (US)—The Zionist population of Telaviv wildly welcomed the first airliner of the skies ever to pass over the city between 7:15 and 7:25 o'clock tonight (New York time.)

It is carnival day here, and the populace was disappointed that the zeppelin was not permitted to land, despite the invitation to Dr. Eckener from the mayor that he would supply 600 men to help land the giant sky cruiser.

Government Heads At Odds Over Ship Row

WASHINGTON, March 26. (UP)—Both the United States government agencies involved here and Canadian representatives jockeyed about today as they took up officially the sinking of the rum-runner I'm Alone, but with no common ground reached. Both sides still were apparently just as far apart as ever on disputed points in the rum-running treaty between the two nations which is at issue.

Dallas Rail Workers Silent on Strike Vote

DALLAS, March 26. (AP)—Whether the 3,500 train, engine and yard employes of the Texas and Pacific railway have voted to strike or to remain at work and negotiate further the six points at issue between them and the company was not made public tonight by representatives of the railway unions here to count the ballots. A statement that there was no information to give out greeted inquires as to the result of the vote.

Trio Held in Dallas After Texas Robberies

DALLAS, March 26. (AP)—G. W. Hope, 31, his brother Carl Hope, 28, and Elmo Rudolph, 17, all of Fort Worth, were held here today on charges of recent burglaries of the Renner and Duncanville post offices and the Smithville bank.

They deny any connection knowledge of the attempted bank robbery at Van Alstyne in which W. L. Echols, night watchman, was fatally shot.

Allen Tutt Acquitted In Slaying Of Scott Baldwin

Grandfield Farmer's Second Trial Results in Freeing of Defendant; Woman Reveals Romance With Slain Man

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., March 26.—Allen Tutt was acquitted on a charge of slaying Scott Baldwin near Grandfield when the jury in Tutt's second trial for the killing returned its verdict early tonight.

The jury made its report at 6:45 o'clock, having been out 26 hours, during most of which time, it was said, the count was six to six.

Romance Is Told

The second trial opened Monday morning and all testimony had been completed by noon. The high spot of the testimony came when Mrs. S. R. Pixler, who lived near Tutt and Baldwin, said that at one time she and Baldwin had considered eloping.

The killing occurred at Baldwin's home and the testimony showed it to have been the result of a warning note written by Baldwin. The first trial resulted in an unagreed jury.

The alleged romance between Mrs. Pixler, who had been called as a witness for the state, and Baldwin, was a distinct surprise to the trial spectators.

Tells of Letter

She told of reading a letter addressed to her husband informing him that a "your nabor is stealing your wife from you." She said she believed the letter referred to Tutt and that it had been written by Baldwin.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Pixler said that she and Baldwin had exchanged notes directly and at one time he had asked her to run away with him.

She told of refusing to accompany him away from home but said she had told him, "If it is intended we should be together there will be a way provided."

Hearing Set on Winkler Oil Proration Reduction

AUSTIN, March 26. (AP)—Application for a reduction in the daily prorable allowance that may be taken from the Winkler county oil and gas field will be heard by the railroad commission here next Friday, Clarence E. Gilmore, chairman, announced today.

Gilmore said there would be considered such other matters with respect to the administration of the proration rules as may be deemed necessary for the prevention of waste and the conservation of the natural resources of crude petroleum and natural gas in Winkler county.

Scout Troop Sets New Record for Badges

A new record for obtaining merit badges was set by a Wichita Falls troop in one session of the board of reviews Monday evening when Troop No. 4 secured a total of 63 merit badges and nine promotions in rank.

John Tevis is scoutmaster of the troop. Its regular weekly meetings are held each Friday night in the First Christian church building.

Woman Shoots Another Near Ponca City, Okla.

PONCA CITY, Okla., March 26. (AP)—Mrs. Mildred S. Barrett, 21, estranged wife of a former oil company employe, was shot and killed today by Mrs. Earl Norman, whose husband is employed by the oil company, on a road near the company's See lease, in Noble county. Mrs. Norman was arrested and taken to the Noble county jail at Perry. The motive for the slaying was not clear, authorities said.

Detroit Car Magnate Succumbs in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26. (AP)—Henry Elliot Rose, 46, sales manager and a vice president of the Hupmobile Motor corporation of Detroit, died here tonight after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Rose came to St. Petersburg about three months ago for his health on a year's leave of absence from the company. The body will be returned to Detroit tomorrow.

VICTOR RETURNS

Rockefeller Says Ouster Shows High Business Ethics Vital

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., returning today from a three months' trip abroad, characterized the removal of Col. Robert W. Stewart from the chairmanship of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana as "significant because it emphasizes the conviction that the highest ethical standards are as vital in business as they are in other relations of life."

SOUTH PLAINS GETS SHOWERS

Silverton, Floydada And Lockney Crops Aided

Most towns in the Wichita Falls area were slighted by coquettish, promising black clouds Tuesday, and only three centers, Silverton, Floydada, and Lockney, received much needed rain. And what precipitation these towns received served only to whet the vigorous appetite for moisture winter wheat fields are showing.

A light shower at Floydada late in the afternoon was greatly appreciated, however. The wheat acreage was benefitted. A heavy rain in this sector would mean a bumper crop for this year, according to leading farmers.

A similar rain fell at Lockney and at Silverton. The wheat crops at both places badly needed what little moisture fell, and should more follow these plotes likewise probably would produce buxom crops, it was said.

GOOD RAINS FALL AT VERNON AND FREDERICK

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, March 26.—Rains fell throughout the day here, bringing visions of a bigger winter wheat crop than in years. The fields were badly in need of moisture.

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 26.—A good rain fell here today. The precipitation was anxiously looked forward to by farmers, who had started complaining of the lack of moisture in the wheat fields.

Leader of Cantonese Is Reported Shot

LONDON, March 27 (Wednesday) (UP)—An exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong early today said a report had been received there, that Gen. Li Chai-Sum, regarded as the foremost Cantonese leader had been shot.

The general was arrested recently by Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, president of the Nationalist government, when he went to Nanking to attend the nationalist congress.

The report of the shooting, which was unconfirmed, was received by a prominent British firm from its Shanghai office.

Student Aviator Meets Death on First Flight

LOS ANGELES, March 26. (UP)—A 22-year-old student aviator who took his first solo flight too soon plunged 200 feet to his death today when he attempted to pilot a plane which he had contracted to paint.

The youth was P. Sumner Brown Jr., son of a prominent Los Angeles real estate broker and clubman. Only yesterday his engagement to Miss Maude Ryan, pretty debutante, was made public. They were to have been married on May 29.

HOOVER LAYS DOWN LAW FOR DIXIE BOSSES

President Flatly Lets It Be Known Old Order Is 'Declasse'

CREAGER IS PRAISED

Change in Disposal of Patronage Promised By New Executive

WASHINGTON, March 26. (AP)—President Hoover took a sweeping step today in his drive to break up political sectionalism south of the Mason and Dixon line.

In his first purely political pronouncement since entering the White House he bluntly informed the old organizations in South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi that they had lost the administration's confidence because of abuse in handling federal patronage and called upon the people of those states to build new organizations.

Leaders Praised

Conversely he commended the leadership in the other southern states on the effort to "broaden the basis of party organization by the establishment of advisory committees of the highest type of citizenship to deal with administrative questions and who will also cooperate with independent Democrats."

The organizations the recreation of which was decreed by the president are headed in South Carolina by Joseph T. Tolbert, for many years national committeeman, and in Mississippi by Perry Howard, a Negro, who also has had long service as national committeeman and who now is awaiting trial in connection with patronage distribution.

Ben Davis Out

Ben Davis, a Negro, formerly headed the organization in Georgia, but his service as national committeeman, was abruptly terminated at the Kansas City convention last June and the Republican national committee has deferred naming his successor awaiting the present action of Mr. Hoover.

Leaders of the organizations commended by the chief executive are R. B. Creager, national committeeman of Texas; Oliver D. Street, national committeeman for Alabama; Wallace Townsend, national committeeman for Arkansas; Emile Kuntz, national committeeman for Louisiana, and Glenn B. Skipper, national committeeman for Florida.

The president said that Republican leadership in the border states and in Virginia and North Carolina "has long since built up vigorous party organization which assures Republican representation in the congress from those states." These states as well as Texas and Florida cast their electoral votes for Mr. Hoover in the last election.

Mann Retires

The president's statement was made in response to inquiries by newspapermen and among other things said that the building up of responsible organization "must in every conception of our foundations of local self government evolve from those states themselves."

This view of the chief executive is believed to have led to the retirement from the Republican organization of Horace A. Mann, a Washington, D. C., attorney, who had personal direction of the last Republican campaign in all of the southern states except Virginia and Texas.

COURT FREES ORPHAN GIRLS

San Antonio Home Loses In Removal Fight

SAN ANTONIO, March 26. (AP)—Dependency of eight girls on the local organization of the Volunteers of America was dissolved by Judge W. W. McCrory in 94th district court Tuesday afternoon through a a plea of intervention filed by Col. A. C. Wright, southern regimental commander of the Volunteers of America, through E. B. Simmons, defense counsel. The plea was granted by the court in the ex-parte suit filed by Lamar Beeligson, district attorney, against the Volunteers of America.

Motions Overruled

Judge McCrory granted the intervention after overruling three motions filed by Simmons after both the state and the defense had rested. The motions were for a continuance of the grounds that the original petition failed to allude to the alleged drinking episodes in Austin, Galveston, Nuevo Laredo and other cities; a motion to dismiss, on grounds that the children were shown to be in custody of the Volunteers of America and that organization had not been made party to the court action, and because the names of parents of the girls were not shown in the petition, and a motion to strike out evidence regarding transactions outside of Bexas county because the petition did not cover these phases. The latter motion also sought that evidence alluding to drinking by defendants be stricken from the court records.

Court Hold Custody

As a result of the granted plea, Marian Steiner, Annie and Sallie Martinez will be in the custody of the court until such time as they are placed in homes.

The plea was based on the fact that the Volunteers of America do not operate permanent orphanages or homes for children, that the San Antonio organization is the only one in the southern district which operated such a home, and that the plea was being made by the regimental commander. The plea stated that the local organization will not operate a permanent institution in the future.

Rebels Release American Airman

NOGALES, Ariz., March 26. (AP)—G. K. "Buzz" Morrison, Reno, Nev., aviator, employed by Mexican federal forces and who was captured by Mexican rebels when he made a forced landing in rebel territory near Cananea, Sonora, was released this afternoon and crossed the international boundry line into American territory. Morrison announced he had agreed not to participate in future Mexican military activities.

(By The Associated Press)

Action in the Mexican revolution switched sharply Tuesday from the west coast to north central Mexico where the insurgents concentrated heavily as the federals drove northward.

The town of Jiminez in Chihuahua, on the road to the American border, was heavily bombed by four federal planes, four insurgents being killed and 17 wounded.

General Escobar, rebel commander-in-chief, left Juarez for Jimines to take personal command of the main rebel army there.

Rum Runner Gets Life For Slaying Dry Officer

PORT HURON, Mich., March 26. SHARP LOSSES RETRIEVED BY BELATED RUSH

Credit Crisis Sinks Price Levels $5 to $35 Per Share Early

8 MILLION SHARES

All Sales Records Topple During Slump Caused By 'Outsiders'

By STANLEY W. PRENOSIL
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—The worst credit crises in nine years in which the official rate on call loans was jacked up from 12 to 20 per cent and as high as 25 per cent, as demanded in the "outside market," today brought about one of the most turbulent sessions in the history of the New York Stock Exchange when prices crashed $5 to nearly $35 a share, and then rebounded in almost as spectacular fashion, on a record-breaking turnover of 8,246,740 shares.

The previous record was 6,942,800 shares on Nov. 23 last.

Reserve Board Blamed

The credit stringency was the indirect result of the federal reserve board's policy in asking the co-operation of member banks in curtailing the volume of credit on speculative collateral. This has resulted in the heavy withdrawal of funds from New York by out-of-town banks during the past week, and the disinclination of New York bankers to meet the deficiency.

Call money renewed today at 12 per cent, jumped to 15, then 17 and finally 20 with only a nominal amount of loans called. New York bankers are reported to have supplied some funds at the 20 per cent level to keep the rate from going higher although they will shortly be called upon to meet unusually large April 1 dividend and interest disbursements.

"Small Fry" Scared

The sharp rise in money threw a terrible scare into thousands of small speculators, most of whom had never before experienced a credit crisis, and into some of the large traders as well, with the result that large blocks of stocks were dumped overboard "at the market" in order to conserve rapidly vanishing paper profits.

The late rally of $5 to $26 a share in some of the high priced stocks resulted in relatively little change being shown by the stock market indices. The Associated Press figure for 50 leading industrials fell only 1.2 points, as against 6.6 yesterday while the index of 20 rails dropped only 3-10 of a point, although it set a new low level for the year. As a group, the Public Utilities were the hardest hit, the index of 20 leading issues dropping

Incendiaries Caused Fire on German Ship

HAMBURG, March 26. (AP)—Incendiaries were blamed tonight for fire which partly destroyed the new 40,00 ton North German Lloyd liner Europa early today. The vessel was to have been the queen of the German transatlantic service.

All reports agreed that the blaze originated simultaneously in several different points, but no definite clue has been found by the investigating authorities, officials of the shipbuilders, Blohm & Voss, and of the North German Lloyd company.

11 Jurors Picked In Wilson Death Trial

TYLER, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Eleven jurors had been selected when court adjourned late today in the trial of Loys Wilson, garage mechanic, for the fatal shooting of the Rev. Fount Wallace, Baptist minister, at Troup, last April.

Reverend Wallace was shot to death as he stood in front of a drug store at Troup talking with a group of friends. Wilson was alleged to have fired a shot into the minister's body after shouting, "prepare to meet thy God."

W. P. Belcher, Officer for 41 Years, Dies as He Drives Car to Work

Funeral services for W. P. Belcher, veteran city policeman, who was found dead in an automobile in the 2400 block on Fillmore street early Tuesday afternoon, will be conducted from the home of his son, W. W. Belcher, 2904 Wenonah avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Rosemont cemetery.

Mr. Belcher and Ellis Summers, his riding partner at police headquarters, had just gone home for lunch and Mr. Belcher was on his way back to Summers' home when his death occurred.

Heart failure, which was apparently due from exertion in pushing the automobile which he was driving in order to get it started, was given as the cause of his death.

He was found by Joe Counts, who called a Burris-Shepherd ambulance and had the stricken officer carried to the Hargrave-Walker hospital here. He died before the ambulance could reach the hospital.

Summers had been closely associated with Mr. Belcher for the past year and said that only recently had he complained of pains around his heart. He was evidently in good health when he left him to go to lunch, Summers said.

Mr. Belcher was one of the most able and respected officers in this

Late Rally Brings Prices Near First Levels

4.8 points as against 5.3 points yesterday.

Early Rally Halted

The market had opened fairly steady, with opening prices irregular. A rally started soon after the opening but this was checked when the call money renewed rate was posted at 12 per cent. Large offerings than began to appear and prices rapidly melted away, with the selling movement gaining increased impetus from each advance in the rate.

Such a gigantic accumulation of orders poured over the brokerage wires from all sections of the country, and by radio and cables from abroad, that the ticker fell hopelessly behind the market. Word came back from the floor around 11 o'clock that the ticker was nearly 25 minutes late. The delay was increased to 40 minutes at noon, 55 minutes at 1:30, 64 minutes at 2 o'clock and 93 minutes at 2:50, with the usual last minute rush of buying and selling, delaying the printing of the final quotation until two hours and 14 minutes after the market had closed.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES SUFFER

CHICAGO, March 26, (AP)—Heavy selling, attributed partly to weakness in the stock market and the boost in money prices, today caused a big slump in prices on the Chicago board of trade, although some of the loss in grains regained before the market closed.

September wheat dropped more than six cents below the day's high figure and other deliveries also were down five cents or more as compared with the high. Before the close, however, the market became stronger so that the loss for the day was about three cents on the various deliveries as compared with yesterday's close. September wheat closed at 1.25¾ after reaching a low of 1.22 while March deliveries closed at 1.16⅛ after reaching a low of 1.15½.

Bugle Offered As Prize for Scouts

A silver bugle and two bugle cases which will be given as prizes in the bugling contest of the Boy Scout Jamboree in the Memorial auditorium Friday night were secured Tuesday by Frank B. Creighton, scout executive.

The bugle will be given as first prize, a leather case will be given as second prize, while a small cloth case will afford the third prize.

The jamboree will be a general get-together and contest among all of the scouts in the Wichita area. It is expected that several hundred boys will take part in the program.

FOR FARMERS

Disposal Plant Fertilizer Offered by City At 50 Cents Load

Farmers and gardeners near Wichita Falls may secure fertilizer for their crops at a price of 50 cents a load at the city disposal plant, A. H. Douglass, general manager of the city water department, said Tuesday.

Mr. Douglass received a letter from Texas A. & M. college Tuesday saying that refuse from the disposal was valuable as fertilizer and was worth around $7 a ton.

A load of the fertilizer which, as offered by the water department for sale is not limited to any certain amount but is "as much as can be carried in one load," Mr. Douglass said.

Sets Style

This lovely New York girl, now appearing in George White's famous "Scandals," has plenty of personality. Not only has she won Broadway's admiration by the cleverness of her acting and dancing, but she has literally "set the style" for Fifth Avenue by the way she dresses her hair.

"Girls in my position must do everything to keep their appearance pleasing," says Miss Manners. "But I lead such a busy life that I can only use the simplest methods. I know I have discovered the easiest way of doing my hair. It's so popular now here in New York. It keeps my hair so easily manageable that I can dress it any way I want and it stays in place wonderfully. All I do is put a little Danderine on my brush every time I use it. My hair was dull and wiry before I started using Danderine. Now it's so bright and sparkling and so soft and fluffy that every one compliments me. Danderine soothes my scalp and keeps away all traces of dandruff. It keeps my hair and scalp so clean, I don't need to shampoo half as often as I used to."

Danderine quickly removes that oily film from the hair brings out its natural color; makes it fairly sparkle. It keeps your hair soft and easily manageable while you're letting it grow to the new length. It helps stop dandruff. It is delightfully fragrant; isn't oily; doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous bottles. Over five million used a year.—Adv.

Gratitude, Not Grief, Is Keynote Of French Feeling During Foch Rites

By COSMO HAMILTON
Novelist and Dramatist
(Copyright 1929 by Universal Service)

PARIS, March 26.—"The eternal faith of mother love."

Of all countries in the world France is the most simple and unselfconscious in the expression of her feelings. She has, as a child has, the gift of ecstasy and the habit of eloquence, and her sons are unashamed of the living fire and the eternal faith of mother love.

They are born with the word France in the holy places of their hearts and know that to have lived well for her is not to die, because she never forgets.

Not grief, but gratitude is the keynote, therefore, of France's deep national emotion at this moment, and in it there are also pride, respect and reverence.

To the call of death, as to the call of service, her worn old son had answered: "Je suis pret." It was what France knew that he would answer, but they have shown their passionate tribute to his gallantry by their proud salutes.

And never has their sense of beauty been more marked than in their having placed the coffin of their world-famous marshal side by side, under the Arc De Triomphe, with their unknown soldier and his everlasting light. Both were ready. Known and unknown, both went out to serve. In the heart of France one is not more famous than the other and neither is dead.

Memory, draped in the tri-color, stands forever by their tombs.

That the Prince of Wales, who knew Foch well, and the high officers of England's army who were led by him had listened to the last post during the beautiful memorial service in Westminster cathedral, seemed right and good to France.

That the people of her allies in Europe and in the United States who poured to her support and came finally under the fine and courteous leadership of her splendid son, have placed their flags at half mast at his passing from this earth, seemed right and just.

That kings and kings' sons, marshals and general of other lands, brothers in arms of all ranks have crossed seas and frontiers to carry and to watch the carriage of his coffin from the cathedral Notre Dame there once more to recall the indomitable courage, the masterly strategy, the unruffled confidence, the unchanging courtesy of the soldier whose Notre Dame was France, seemed just and proper.

A different story must have been written if jealousy, political intrigue and wounded vanity had prevented the appointment of Foch as general commanding all the armies—late, but just in time.

That France, herself stirred as never before, has devoted herself to an ecstasy of solutotion, has tipped her tri-colors with crepe, has never ceased to march past the bier by day and night since the eyes of that old man could look no longer at the face of his beloved Paris, seemed very right indeed.

Today as I watched the pomp and splendor, the grave affection and the glorious gratitude which marked the obsequies of this great and simple man, shared the emotion of his most distinguished countrymen, the Prince of Wales, and comrades of all the allies at the tender service in the cathedral Notre Dame, and of the people from every corner of his lovely country, and the men and the women and the children who were massed in the streets, I thought of his equally splendid and grateful welcome on the other side.

SERVICES FOR MRS. RILEY

Pioneer Woman Dies Here At Age of 79

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise Riley, 79, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. E. Thomas, 1508 Tenth street, will be conducted from the Church of the Good Shepherd Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Riley moved to Wichita Falls in 1887 and lived for many years in a house that stood on the present site of the Perkins-Timberlake company.

Active pallbearers were announced as Jim Duncan, Oral Jones, Frank Collier, Eli Morgan, Harry Daugherty, Eugene Sherrod and Walker Hendricks.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Thomas; a granddaughter, Louise Thomas, and a sister, Mrs. W. E. Paschal of Houston.

P. F. PAGE

The body of P. F. Page, 57, of Bowie, who died in a local hospital Tuesday, will be forwarded to Bowie for burial by the Hines morturary Wednesday.

N. P. GILES

Funeral services for N. P. Giles, 59, 1405 Seventh street, who died here Sunday, will be conducted Wednesday afternoon from the East Side Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock by Rev. Ernest McGaughey, pastor. Burial will be in Rosemont cemetery.

He was a former county commissioner of Jefferson county, Oklahoma, and was a resident of Brandon, Texas, before coming to Wichita Falls.

Mr. Giles is survived by his wife, four sons, A. H., Oscar, A. J., and H. P. Giles, and three daughters Mrs. C. Campbell of Electra, and Mrs. L. U. Smith and Miss Dolly Giles of Wichita Falls.

C.-C. BANQUET PLANS READY

Program Completed For Junior Meeting

With the membership roll mounting daily and an impressive array of speakers and entertainment numbers provided for the event, plans for the first annual banquet of the junior chamber of commerce Friday night at the Wichita club were declared complete Tuesday by Jerry Vinson, chairman of the publicity committee.

Grover C. Wood, of Dallas, assistant state executive of the Y. M. C. A. has been named the principal speaker for the occasion. Talks also will be given by Urban Williams of Dallas, state Y. M. C. A. executive, Ernest Batz of San Antonio, president of the national junior chamber of commerce, H. V. De Armand, secretary manager of the Dallas junior organization, and Orville Bullington, president of the senior body here.

Entertainment features announced so far include dances by Misses Helen Peters and Virginia Hampson of the Knickerbocker studios a "revelation" in the "Ebony Warblers," and music by the Little Rovers' orchestra.

Tickets for the banquet are being sold at the Renfro Drug store.

Zoo's Lions and Tigers Moved to City Park

The lions and tigers of the municipal zoo were moved into their summer quarters at Scotland park Tuesday afternoon, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent.

The lions have grown so much during the winter months in their quarters in the city hall annex that it was necessary to increase and strengthen their cages at the summer home of the zoo animals, Mr. Bunnenberg said.

Arrangements for the grand opening of the zoo and the park department's Easter program at Scotland park Sunday are almost complete, according to Mr. Bunnenberg. The program will include concerts by three bands, an Easter egg hunt and probably some stunts by a few of the animals.

Woman Asks U. S. Judge for Jail Sentence to Break Dope Habit

Eight Indictments Returned By Grand Jury in Report; Criminal Cases Near End

In her plea of guilty to the possession of morphine, made before Judge W. H. Atwell in the United States district court here Tuesday afternoon, Ruth Ross, a pretty, dark-eyed young woman, begged the court for a two or three month jail sentence.

"I believe I could get well in that time," she told Judge Atwell. The judge deferred her plea until later in the week when the criminal docket has been cleared and half a dozen other prisoners are to be sentenced. The girl had been indicted in a bill returned an hour before her appearance by the federal grand jury. She was charged with the possession of four grains of morphine. When she entered a plea of guilty Judge Atwell asked her if she had anything to say about her sentence.

"Well I would like a jail sentence if I could get it, your honor," she said.

Before the adjournment of the court Tuesday afternoon, pleadings in seven of the eight indictments returned by the grand jury at 1 o'clock had been heard and 30 more criminal cases, all but three of them dealing with violations of the national prohibition law, had been cleared from the docket.

It appeared late Tuesday afternoon that the criminal work of the court would be completed before noon Wednesday. Trials of civil cases and the hearing of special motions are set for Thursday. Wednesday's session will open with the trial of W. J. Young, indicted Tuesday for the possession and sale of whisky. Young was the only man indicted Tuesday who did not plead guilty.

Fines ranging from $25 to $400 and 17 jail sentences from 30 to 90 days were imposed during the Tuesday session. Four of the jail terms were assesed against white women; one to a negress. Six defendants who Tuesday afternoon pleaded guilty to indictments returned at the present session will be sentenced later.

Changing Coffee?

Then Why Don't You Try This Rare Flavor From The West Coast of Central America?

Experts say its sharp, pungent, mellowness is not duplicated anywhere else in the world

FROM the western mountain slopes of Central America comes a remarkable type of coffee, with a flavor entirely unlike any you have ever tasted.

Less than one out of every 20 pounds of coffee produced in the world comes from this region. And until recently most of this limited supply was snapped up by Europe. For experts concede that the tiny areas shown on the map above produce probably the finest flavored coffee in the world.

This coffee of Central America is the basis of the Folger flavor. A flavor so sharp and pungent, yet mellow, that it makes all ordinary coffees seem flat and thin

If for no better reason than curiosity, try it. See for yourself why it is known as the world's highest flavored coffee.

Central American coffee was first introduced in this country in San Francisco, where it was brought by Folger.

Travelers discovered its rare flavor in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco. From all parts of America—even from Europe—they wrote back for shipments. Thus the fame of Folger flavor spread. Today, on its own sheer merit, this coffee has won its way into homes of 31 states. Grocers now carry it, packed in flavor-tight vacuum tins.

Please Accept One Week's Comparison

Because Folger flavor is so different we make this unusual offer. Buy one pound from your grocer today. Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again. Then take a vote. If for any reason Folger's is not the family choice your grocer will gladly refund the full purchase price. It will be our treat. That's fair; isn't it? You risk nothing—so why not order a pound of Folger's today? Folger Coffee Co., Kansas City, Mo.

W. P. BELCHER DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran Peace Officer Here Passes Away

section of the country. He had been a peace officer here for the past 10 years, weathering each change in the heads of the different department in which he served. He served in the capacities of deputy sheriff, jailer and as city plainclothes man here.

BURNS PAYS TRIBUTE

Tribute to W. P. Belcher, veteran city officer who died Tuesday, and regret for his loss to the city police department and to the city, was expressed Tuesday night by Chief of Police Frank Burns.

"Mr. Belcher was one of the best and most efficient officers with whom I have ever worked," said Chief Burns.

"He was well liked, and respected even among the law violators that he arrested. His knowledge of the element with which he worked and his ability to handle criminals will make his loss keenly felt by the entire police department."

Mr. Belcher was born in Georgia in 1869 and had just passed his sixtieth birthday a short time before his death. He moved to Morgan in Bosque county, Texas, when he was a youth and was married to Miss Ola Daniels there.

During the time that Mr. Belcher lived in Morgan he served 31 years as a peace officer, being at times deputy sheriff, constable and city marshal. The veteran administrator of the law served as an officer from his early youth when his means of transportation were the horse and buggy and by horse back.

Active pallbearers were announced as follows: F. E. Summers, Charles Gant, S. O. Hamm, W. P. Timmons, George Hawkins and Johnnie Sewell.

Survivors include his wife, two brothers, T. S. Belcher of Morgan, and Lee Belcher of Stinnett, Texas; two sons, W. W. and L. R. Belcher, of Wichita Falls; a daughter, Mrs. E. C. Austin of Midland, and three grandchildren, Warren Belcher Jr., John Russell Belcher and Jack Austin.

Dean of University Testifies in Suit Here

Miss Delaurel Byville, assistant dean of women at the Southwestern University at Georgetown, Texas, Tuesday afternoon took the witness stand in the 89th district court to defend herself against a $25,000 damage suit brought for Mrs. Frella Rabie in connection with the death of Frank Rabie in an automobile accident on the Iowa Park road on June 9, 1928.

The defendant told the jury that Mr. Rabie stepped from his own car into the road in front of her machine and that she had struck him before she could bring her car to a stop.

"I didn't stop at the exact spot of the accident because I didn't want the three little girls who were driving with me to see the injured man" the witness explained.

Testimony in the suit was completed Tuesday afternoon. Judge P. A. Martin will read his charge Wednesday morning and the case is expected to go to the jury before noon.

WOMAN MAY WIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 26. (AP)—The chances of a woman winning the derby this year are greater than ever because the sex has more representation among the owners who have made nominations. There are nine: Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbile, Mrs. L. G. Kaufman, Mrs. James B. Brown, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, Mrs. E. Denemark, Mrs. Margaret G Marshall, Mrs. E. L. Swikard, Mrs. A. Vaughn and Mrs. A. C. Van Winkle.

Program Completed for Annual Maundy-Thursday Banquet Here

The annual Maundy Thursday banquet for Scottish Rite Masons will be held Thursday night, March 28, at 7 o'clock in the Masonic Temple at Tenth street and Scott avenue, according to Rabbi S. J. Schwab, president of the Wichita Valley Scottish Rite club and toastmaster for Thursday night's event.

The ceremonial feature of the evening will be the service of extinguishing the candles and the remembrance of members who have died during the last 12 months.

Rabbi David Lefkowitz, Ph. D., D. D., of Dallas, will be the principal speaker of the evening. A number of short talks also will be given by local speakers.

A mixed chorus of 14 voices under the direction of Dr. L. D. Parnell, with Mrs. Helen Frohmer Olmsted at the piano, will sing the following numbers: "The Path of Life" (Gaines), "Heaven is not far Away" (Wooler), and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" (Ambrose).

OPEN SERVICES FOR EASTER ANNOUNCED

An open meeting to be held Easter Sunday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at the Masonic Temple will be featured by the service of relighting the candles, and the initial concert appearance of the Scottish Rite chorus of 40 mixed voices organized this spring by Dr. L. D. Parnell, director.

The meeting will open with the candle ceremony conducted by members of the Wichita Valley Scottish Rite club, and will be followed by a program of the following numbers by the choir:

Processional, "Ah, Wot it is that God Should Send" (Numern-Bach).
The Lord's Prayer—Chant.
"God Is My Guide" (Schubert).
"Inflammatus," from "Stabet Mater" (Rossini).
"The Omnipotence" (Schubert-Spiker).
"Pilgrims' Chorus," from "I. Lombardi" (Verdi).
"Pilgrims Chorus," from "Tannhauser" (Wagner).
"By Babylon's Wave" (Gounod).
Benediction—Choral Chant.
Recessional, "O Blessed Is He That Taketh Heed."
Mrs. Helen Frohmer Olmsted, accompanist.

The public is invited to attend the Easter Sunday afternoon service.

Masonic Lecture At Temple Tonight

Masons of the Wichita Falls district and from several lodges in nearby territory will hear an illustrated lecture on the history and achievements of Masonry by Wilbur Keith of Dallas Wednesday night at the Masonic temple, Tenth street and Scott avenue, featuring the annual meeting of the 88th district of the Masonic Service association.

Mr. Keith, state secretary of the association, will be accompanied on his visit by Joe R. Gunn, worshipful master of Trinity Valley lodge of Dallas. In the interest of the committee on education and service of the Masonic grand lodge of Texas, they are making a tour which will cover most of Northwest Texas.

According to Walter F. Caldwell, district deputy grand master of Wichita Falls, the lodges comprising this district have indicated that a large representation from each community will be present Wednesday night. The meeting is scheduled to open at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Keith and Mr. Gunn were at Henrietta Tuesday night, coming to Wichita Falls after a lecture there.

Crump Tells Club Of Sale of Groceries

Service grocery stores are still doing more than half the grocery business of the country despite the rapid spread of chain stores, according to E. M. Crump, proprietor of the E-Z stores, who spoke before the Ad club in its weekly meeting at the Kemp hotel Tuesday noon.

W. R. Johnson of the American Refining properties discussed the marketing of petroleum products. Unvarying high quality of merchandise is the chief requisite in holding trade, he said.

Voyle W. Armstrong spoke in behalf of the membership campaign now being waged by the Pat Carrigan post, American Legion.

Movies Get Attention Of Cowboy Evangelist

The prediction that the motion picture show will be outlawed within the next generation on the same grounds that the saloon was outlawed was made Tuesday night by Rev. B. B. Crimm, cowboy evangelist, in the tabernacle at Yale and Twenty-second.

"Motion picture men will admit today they are not showing the right sort of pictures, especially for the children but they say they must give the public what it wants," the evangelist said. "The same was true yesterday with the saloon."

Rev. M. B. Hayes, pastor of the First Baptist church at Burkburnett led the congregation in prayer. On Wednesday night Crimm will speak on "The Destructive Power of Sin."

Cottage prayer meetings will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the following homes: Mrs. R. E. James, 2211 Bridwell; Mrs. J. T. Roark Jr., 1821 Keeler; Mrs. R. T. Hope, 1518 Twenty-fifth; Mrs. J. Doermeyer, 2110 Harvard; Mrs. Ben Bell, 2225 Yale; Mrs. J. H. Douglass, 1317 Thirty-fourth; Mrs. M. M. Mathis, 1310 Seventeenth; Mrs. T. L. Calcote, 1209 Underwood.

5,000 Watch 'Human Fly' Climb Hotel

More than 5,000 Wichita Falls thrill seekers viewed Babe White, famous "human fly," when he made two sensational climbs of the Holt hotel building here Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. White scaled the building from window to window with his bare hands and performed numerous aerial stunts which included swinging from a silk dress and an inner tube from a considerable height up the building.

The crowd which witnessed the famous building climber scale the structure at the night performance filled the sidewalks and a good portion of the streets around the building.

LONG FACES IMPEACHMENT

19 Charges Voted Against Louisiana Governor

I have chosen you to do away with this ——'.

"I says, 'Governor, what do you mean?'

"He says, 'I mean for you to kill the —— ——. Leave him in the ditch where nobody will know how or when he got there. I'm governor of this state, and if you were to be found out I would give you a full pardon and many gold dollars'. . .

Gets Final Answer

"In about a couple of weeks the governor stopped me on the street while I was here during the week-end, and says to me, 'Well, what about it?' I says, 'Oh, everything seems to be all right. I believe it is going to rain'. The governor says, '——the rain, I mean what about Sanders', whereupon I says to the governor, 'I have given you my final answer as to him'.

"Very well, remember what I told you. I'm the boss', he roared at me, and turned mad, walking away.

"I went on back to New Orleans and after a few days a telegram came from L. R. Ames, saying to pay Bozeman off immediately, right now, not tomorrow."

To Investigate Charges

The resolution, which also went over until tomorrow, directed the appointment of a committee to investigate Bozeman's charges, which are the basis of the 19th charge in the impeachment resolution.

The other charges were condensed in the resolution under the headings "guilty of crimes and misdemeanors in office, incompetency, corruption, favoritism, oppression in office and gross misconduct," and 18 alleged specific instances were cited.

Introduction of the impeachment resolution came as a sequel to stormy political controversies in which the governor lost the support of virtually the entire press of the state and many of his former political allies, including Colonel Robert Ewing, Democratic national committeeman from Louisiana.

Loses Solons' Aid

Tonight Governor Long, who was swept into office 11 months ago, with the support of strong political factions, apparently had lost his control over the legislature, which he called into special session last week to enact tax measures. Later he started a move to adjourn the session at once, but this failed last night when the assembly broke up amidst fist fighting and disorder.

The governor's opponents spent all of last night in the preparation of impeachment charges and today succeeded in introducing them after a long session.

Last Rites Today For Mrs. Brannon

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Brannon, 51, who died in a local hospital Tuesday afternoon, will be conducted from the Hines mortuary chapel Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock by Rev. Ed R. Barcus, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church.

Following the services, the body will be forwarded to Birmingham, Ala., for burial.

Mrs. Brannon was the wife of Harley N. Brannon, local oil operator, and lived at 1701 Lucile avenue. She was born in Lincolnshire, England. The family moved to Wichita Falls from Birmingham in 1919, and the deceased has been affiliated with the Floral Heights Methodist church during her residence here.

Survivors are her husband and four children, Mrs. J. L. Patterson of Panhandle, Texas, Misses Lois and Jennie Brannon of this city, and Raymond Brannon, who is connected with the Westinghouse Electric company at Sharon, Pa.

Saturday Last Day To Enter School Race

Names of candidates who are to run for election as members of the Wichita Falls board of education in the April 6 election must be in the hands of W. W. Brown, secretary of the board, before Saturday night of this week, Mr. Brown announced Tuesday.

The four members of the board whose terms expire this year have all announced for re-election, it was made known Tuesday. They include Mrs. T. B. Smith, Carter McGregor, C. H. Clark and W. B. Chauncey.

The polls will be located at the Reagan Junior High school on the day of the election, Mr. Brown announced.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, March 26. (US)—A Chicago woman exchanged apologies with Chicago police the other day. You see they arrested her for shooting a truant officer, and she stammered and blushed an apology. She thought it was her husband. The police accepted the apology.

Can't you hear them saying it? "That's all right lady, sometimes we do that too. Next time look twice before you shoot."

It's a better break than most Chicago husbands get.

Chivalry may be dead every other place, but it's rampant in Chicago. A woman gets in the witness chair, has a pretty mourning hat and black bordered hanky, and always lowers her eyes which are red from weeping.

"You see," she says, trembling, and holding tight to the chair, as if she is about to faint, "I heard a noise and there I stood with a gun in my hand. That's all I can remember."

And the winklepoofs in the jury box look shaken and sympathetic.

And that, barring photographs and jury handshaking, is about all there is to it.

The truant officer? Well he's just all out of luck.

But sincerity is on the increase. They aren't carving so many ladies with a blindfolds and scales on courthouses.

A delicate blond lady with her husband watching the playoff hockey games in Madison Square garden. A couple of players, going so fast, the eye had difficulty keeping up with them, fell and slid along the ice, got tangled up in some crossed hockey sticks, one man got hit on the head, another sat down with a vehemence that sounded like complete destruction, and at that point the lady remarks.

"It certainly looks like an easy game. But I suppose it isn't or so many people wouldn't come to see it."

I read about another woman who was unconscious for 334 hours. But she was hit by an automobile.

The best thing about California is not the climate. It's the regular folks who live there. One of their judges gave a man alimony because he was ill and his wife was husky and wanted to divorce him. The husband filed a cross bill to state his case. The wife's answer will undoubtedly be the crossest thing of all.

American girls in London are buying $3,000 dresses to meet the queen. One is a gown sprayed with a pound of liquid gold.

That will probably impress everybody but Ziegfeld.

Burkburnett News

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, March 26.—The construction of an additional building to the office of Kimbell and Bostic Pipe Supply was completed this week.

The high school choral club returned from Denton, Texas, Sunday evening after remaining in that city since Friday participating in the contest of the choral clubs. Miss Isabelle Johnson, teacher, announced in chapel Monday morning that the club had made a creditable showing in the contest with classification of fourth place, prior to being disqualified in the finals.

An Easter program will be presented by the Epworth league of the First Methodist church Sunday evening according to an announcement by the president, L. D. Stacy.

The quartet of the choral club of the high school which consists of Misses Louise Wood, Estelle Frakip, Ethel Virginia Allen and Vina B. Butz, will sing at the Wichita county breakfast at the convention of the thirteenth district of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parents-Teachers association in Vernon Thursday morning.

Rapid progress is being made on the new brick building under construction for the Willis Knight and Whippet Motor Sales adjoining the B. F. Sanders Garage and Filling Station.

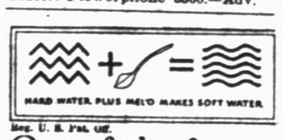

Rev. Glen R. Clark, minister for the Central Christian church here delivered a sermon Monday night at the church on "The Great Magnet." The sermons being delivered by Rev. Clark will be 13 in number with one of each night of week days and an inclusive one on Sunday. He announced in the sermon Monday night that an Easter program would be held in the church Sunday.

Everett James, member of the local high school faculty and a new member of the Burkburnett Rotary club, represented the Burkburnett club at the Rotary convention held in Ranger, Texas.

The Lions club of this city will stage its annual Easter hunt Saturday, March 30, in the Lions club park.

The Senior class of the Burkburnett high school will be the guests of the Mothers' club at a "Seated Tea" next week.

Out of the faucet Into the dishpan

THERE it comes, hard city water Dishes to be washed, and only hard city water to wash them in. You know what will happen, don't you? The soap will mix with the hard water, and form a dirty scummy ring around the edge of the dishpan. How can dishes really get clean in that water?

Melo will soften the hardest water and make it a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. No dirty ring, grease cut, dirt dissolved. Soap much more effective! Bring on your hard water! Then bring on Melo! Get a can of Melo today at your grocer's.

Record News Daily Pattern Service

"IF YOU ARE NOT SLENDER"

Pattern 1700

You will adore the slenderizing lines of design 1700. The long, pointed vestee, the chic, slim collar and reverse, and the pleated skirt section, all combine to create a slender silhouette. Of course the choice of fabric is most important.

Small designs, dots or very tiny flowers are best for the woman who is not slender—never a large pattern—as the effect will be completely destroyed. Today's model uses dotted foulard or silk crepe. A brown ground with beige dots or blue with grey dots. The trimming would be beige or grey.

May be obtained only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46.

Size 36 requires 4 yards, 4-inch material and 1¼ yards trimming.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipts of fifteen cents (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Out latest fashion book will be sent upon receipt of ten cents in coin. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern department, 243 W. Seventeenth street, New York City.

Mr. Daly Lectures On Play Writing

The third lecture of James Daly was given at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Tuesday afternoon, under the auspices of the drama department.

Mr. Daly made a most interesting talk on the subject of play writing. The following quotations from his lecture are the high lights that gave his audience inside to his subject: "Never hurry, over an important moment, but dwell upon it with purpose of squeezing the emotional content"; "Foreshadow coming events"; "Make your action concrete by the introduction of stage business"; "Study the importance of postponement—of interruption"; "Learn the value of reserve; do not throw all your cards on the table at once"; "Know at the beginning what your climax is to be"; "In moving toward your climax, take always a path that is definite, but do not race through that path."

Movie Directors Decide Girls' Greatest Loveliness

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—39 movie directors say that the secret of a girl's attractiveness is exquisite skin. "It is a first essential for the screen star," says Clarence Badger, Paramount director. "Only marvelously smooth skin carries over to the audience." Sue Carol explains. "Lux Toilet Soap leaves my skin gloriously smooth." Nine out of ten screen stars are using this white fragrant soap. And all the great film studios have made it their official soap in all dressing rooms.

Music Study Club Gives Beautiful Program Tuesday

Mrs. Ben Bell was hostess Tuesday morning to the music Study club at her home on Speedway. A program of exceptional merit was enjoyed. Numbers were as follows: Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey sang two lovely solos, "Minor and Major," by Strauss, and "Robin, Robin, Sing Me a Song," by the same musician. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Underwood. Mrs. Ben Bell gave a piano number, "Dance Creole," by Chaminade. Two exquisite vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Wayne Holmes, "The Wren," by Benedict, with Mrs. Bruce Greenwood playing the obbligato, and "Chanson Provencale," by Del Aqua, with Mrs. William Olmstead accompanying.

The ensemble players, Mesdames Jewell Bonner, O. E. Nichols, A. M. Miller and Bruce Greenwood, gave three numbers that were thoroughly enjoyed, "A Nocturne," by Blumicks; "Andante from fifth Symphony, Tschaikowsky; and "Gavotte Moderne," Severn. Mrs. O. B. Kell accompanied them.

A delicious salad plate was served the 18 club members and about 25 guests.

PLAIN TALKERS TRAMPLE TOES

But Some Truths Are Pleasant, Says Miss Dix

The Person Who Boasts of Being Plain-Spoken Usually Tramples Roughshod Over Everybody's Feelings—But There Are Just as Many Pleasant Truths as There Are Disagreeable Ones.

A woman writes: "I am always telling my husband how good-looking and clever I think he is, and that he is about the best husband that Lady Luck ever bestowed upon a woman, and when my friends have pretty new frocks I compliment them upon their good taste. My sister calls me a hypocrite because I do this.

"You know you don't think your husband is such a world-beater,' she says. 'He has plenty of faults. Why don't you tell him about them instead of flattering him to death? And if Mrs. Jones has good taste in dress, she has a wretched figure. You had better tell her she is getting too fat and should begin counting her calories, instead of making her think she is a second Jenny.'

"Now, my husband adores me and eats out of my hand, and I am popular in society, but I don't want to buy people's liking by being double-faced. Of course, I don't think my husband is absolute perfection, and I see things to criticise in my friends, but am I hypocritical when I praise them for their good points and keep silent about their bad ones?"

No, you are not a hypocrite. You are Mrs. Solomon, and a Peace-Maker, and a Joy-Spreader, and a Jar of Healing Ointment, to boot. All who know you must arise and bless your name, for you go through the world saying the little word of appreciation for which so many hunger and thirst in vain, and salving the bleeding wounds of vanity.

For critics are many, but admirers are few and far between. Our family and friends are always ready to knock, but they sit on their hands when we might reasonably look for a round of applause. They are voluble when it comes to discoursing on our faults, but mum as clams when it comes to mentioning our virtues.

They go even farther. They count it unto themselves for righteousness when they hurt and humiliate you by turning the spotlight upon their defects and by making you feel that they see nothing good in you. If they ever discover one charm or grace or redeeming characteristic in your whole make-up, wild horses couldn't drag the admission from them.

If you are a young girl and have carroty hair and a saleratus biscuit complexion, they harp on that and never notice that you have a Greek profile and a bathing beauty figure. If you are a boy and make bad grades in school, they broadcast that to the world, and never call attention to the fact that you are a wizard with tools and honest and reliable and help mother with the household chores.

If you are a wife, they tell about what a poor housekeeper you are, and how everything is at sixes and sevens, and meals are never on time, and the work is done helter-skelter, but they don't say a thing about your being so pleasant and good-natured and interesting that your husband and children worship you.

If you are a husband, they berate you for being cross and grumpy and never having anything to say at home, but they never praise you for working your fingers to the bone to give your wife and children luxuries, and going without vacations yourself so that they can go off to summer resorts and have sports cars.

Oh, dear me, no. They would consider it hypocrisy and deceit to let you know they admired you. They feel that honesty compels them to disparage you in every possible way.

I often wonder who originated the bilious theory that only disagreeable things are true and that only disagreeable people are sincere, and I wonder still more that so many people should subscribe to this false doctrine.

But they do. When you meet any one who boasts of being plain spoken and always telling people the truth about themselves, you know that he or she is one of the individuals who trample rough-shod over everybody's feelings and who go about saying things to every one they meet that they would rather die than hear.

Why anybody ever originated the idea that the truth necessarily had to be unpleasant I don't know. Nobody knows. As a matter of fact, there are just as many pleasant truths as there are disagreeable ones. It is just as true that there is sunshine as it is that there is rain. It is just as true that there are roses and lilies as that there are poisonous weeds. It is just as true that a girl may be intelligent as it is that she is homely. It is just as true that a woman may be a marvelous cook as it is that she may not be a highbrow.

So why is there any hypocrisy in speaking the truth that will bring pleasure and happiness to a fellow creature and keeping silent about the truth that would stab him like a knife? And why is there any virtue in reversing the process and putting the loud pedal upon people's faults and soft-pedaling their virtues?

Why shouldn't husbands and wives praise each other for their good qualities instead of eternally criticising each other's bad ones? Why shouldn't parents occasionally pay their children a compliment, instead of eternally nagging them about their short-comings? Why shouldn't we bestow a few bouquets on our friends while they are living and not wait to lay them on their coffins?

Believe me, we would get better results if we did, for every one of us has a natural inclination to live up to our reputation and be what people think we are, and we would be better wives and better husbands and more ambitious children and finer men and women generally if we knew that those about us admired us and expected only the best of us.

If it be hypocrisy to give praise instead of blame, to soothe instead of wound, to show admiration and appreciation where it is due, then let us all be hypocrites.

—DOROTHY DIX.

WE WOMEN

by Betty Brainerd

MINERVA'S MIRROR

THE INFIDELITIES of men are as nothing compared to the silliness of women who cease to think when confronted with a situation in which their emotions are so involved as to render themselves rather helpless mentally.

Tears are not, never have been, and never will be substitutes for thought.

"Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased" . . . and merry-go-rounds, like men who run in circles, shall go on forever.

Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise . . . and with all due respect to Thomas Gray, only a wise man could have been foolish enough to concoct such a glittering and specious epigram.

Light travels 186,000 miles a second . . . which is a snail's pace as compared with the speed with which a false rumor travels.

Some women might walk a mile for a cigaret, but they'd call a taxi to go that far to keep a date with friend husband!

Cleopatra was not the mother of the Eternal Triangle, but she will do as an example.

The way of the transgressor is hard . . . which is why transgressors are usually "hard boiled."

A woman who makes up her mind to "get" a man usually succeeds only in proving that she hasn't a mind.

Hell is paved with good intentions—and regrets.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

TOOK CATHARTICS EVERY NIGHT

Eating ALL-BRAN Relieved Constipation

Everybody who is slave to cathartics and laxatives will be interested in this letter—

"I took cathartic pills every night and enemas daily to relieve myself and take away the awful headaches I was subject to. Two months ago I started eating a large bowl of your ALL-BRAN with cream for breakfast and today I am in fine condition, better than I have been in three years. My bowels are regular every day. I have not taken one cathartic pill in two months."—Mrs. A. J. O'Connell, 55 Phelps Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

Constipation gets in its deadly work when bulk is left out of the diet. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, however, will supply this bulk. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and relieved constipation forever by eating ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious recipes for muffins, breads, etc., on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars serve it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CHURCH TO END EASTER SERIES

Bishop Moore to Give Final Episcopal Address

The series of special pre-Easter services being conducted at the Church of the Good Shepherd will be concluded this week, closing with the sacrament of baptism at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, according to Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector.

The service Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock will be conducted by Rt. Rev. Harry T. Moore, bishop of Dallas, who will preach and administer the rite of confirmation.

There will be two services on Maundy Thursday, the celebration of holy communion at 7 a. m., with Bishop Moore as celebrant, and at 8 p. m., commemorating the night of the institution of the Holy Eucharist.

A three-hour service in commemoration of Good Friday will be held from noon to 3 p. m. Friday, March 29, with the last of lenten young peoples' services at 4:30 o'clock.

Rev. Bratton extended an invitation to the public to attend the services, and stated that any who may not be able to attend during the entire three hours of the Good Friday services will be welcome to come and go as they choose.

Fort Worth Men To Address Optimists

Kendall S. Ickes, secretary of the Panther City Boys' club, and Jesse Martin, Optimist club member, both of Fort Worth, will address the membership of the Optimist club in the regular weekly meeting at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon, according to James V. Allred, president.

The Panther City Boys' club, it was stated, is an organization sponsored by the Fort Worth Optimist club for the many newsboys, employed boys, and other underprivileged classes of that city. Mr. Ickes will discuss the methods used in the organization and operation of the club, while Mr. Martin will speak on the movement from the standpoint of an Optimist club member.

Bringing of the Fort Worth boys' work leaders here for Wednesday's meetings, Mr. Allred said, resulted from an active interest among members of the Wichita Falls Optimist club in the establishment of an organization here similar to that that headed by Mr. Ickes.

DANDRUFF

Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

"Married Life" Not Worth While

Blames Wives' "Nerves"

"Weak nerves," said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady-nerved, radiant woman you once were. Take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals and before going to bed and if it doesn't soon make a new woman of you—doesn't rid you of that tired, strained feeling—go back and get your money.

Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

School and College News

Kathleen Cason and Margaret Bone won the semi-finals in the girls' declamation contest Tuesday afternoon and will represent the high school in the declamation contest finals in the city elimination tournament which is to be held Friday night, according to Miss Juanita Kinsey, public speaking coach. Marian Proctor was chosen as alternate for the event, ranking third in the event. Dorothy Janeway and Gertrude Klass, winners in the contests yesterday, were scheduled to enter in the event, but withdrew following their victory in the debating preliminary. The following six entries were defeated by Cason and Bone: Christine Oakes, Mary Lou Johnson, Mary Collier, Lois Baber and Hazel Hobbs.

Six speakers in the boys' declamation contest were chosen Tuesday afternoon and will engage in another contest prior to the city elimination tournament Friday night, as two representatives only will be permitted to enter the event. Winners of the semi-finals were Louis Bond, Philip Kouri, George Nelson, Joe Pitman, Dean Harrison and Woodrow Bristow.

Results of the first preliminary college debates at the close of the day Tuesday were as follows: First group, Dick Long and James Harvey, defeated Orville Medford and Arvil Davis; group two, Lewis Haynes and Gaylord Giles, winners over W. A. Johnson and Charles McCain; group three, Frank Ward and Curtis Cook, defeated Morris McAfee and Harry Maricle; group four, Jack Jameson and Lemuel Park, defeated Gabbert Stevens and Eggleston Rames. The two winning debaters of the four groups will enter in the district tournament.

Country Club Drainage System Nearly Ready

Underground drains to prevent overflow water from polluting the city water canal from Lake Wichita to the Country Club Estates should be completed within the next eight or 10 days, A. H. Douglass, general manager of the water department, said Tuesday.

The drains will be constructed of large pipe and will run under the water canal, and will carry water and refuse from heavy rains to Holliday creek for disposal, Mr. Douglass said.

About 150 acres of land will be drained of overflow water that would otherwise go into the canal.

Stop Rheumatic Pain With Prescription A-2851

Local druggists who are dispensing Prescription A-2851 are all loud in their praise of what it will do. It doesn't seem to matter whether the condition is of long standing and the pain constant, or whether only occasional twinges are felt—Prescription A-2851 seems to go right to the seat of the trouble and knock out the pain.

While this particular prescription was compounded especially for rheumatic conditions—it has also proven successful in many forms of gout, neuritis and sciatic nerve pain.

Tear out this announcement and hand it to your druggist, or be sure to to remember the name—Prescription A-2851. In liquid or pill form. There is nothing else so good to drive out rheumatism.

Stomach Misery Ended Forever

No More Indigestion When You Put Your Faith in Dare's Mentha Pepsin

Don't worry any longer about distress after eating, heaviness, gas or sour stomach for just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a delightful elixir, will stop the distress and make your stomach feel fine and fit.

Thousands will vouch for the truth of this statement and thousands more will tell you that the most stubborn and chronic cases of indigestion and gastritis rapidly yield to this wonderful medicine and that stomachs habitually weak and upset are made strong, healthy and vigorous.

Try one bottle. If it doesn't help you Allison Drug Co. or any druggist will gladly return the purchase price.—Adv.

She needs the car too . . .

SAID a woman who lives in a suburb: "I look forward to week-ends, just as much as my husband does. But when Saturday comes, I send him off in the car for golf or fishing or something else that he likes. He thinks that I've been enjoying the car the other days of the week—but have I?

"My weekday use of the car is just like the use of any other tool of home-keeping. It's all business. In the morning I take my husband to work and meet him at night. In between I have to take the children to school, bring them home, go to market, go on the endless errands that it takes to run a home efficiently.

"But the fun of sitting behind a wheel and saying to myself: 'Now I'm going to take a drive for the joy of driving—to rest my nerves and smell the country' . . . that's what I'd like to do on Saturday."

Though the automobile has become a necessity of modern life, it is still a luxury in the best sense of the word. There is a thrill in driving for pleasure alone—in going just where you want to go—that nothing else quite equals.

To all families who need a second car—we make this suggestion:

A used car is unused transportation

The cars which General Motors dealers are taking in trade offer real opportunities. These cars vary in type, style and size. In many the potential mileage has scarcely been touched. Purchase the used car of your choice and pay on the convenient GMAC Plan.

Hoover Hires Literary Man to Take Care of Presidential 'Fan' Letters

Besides Replying to Admirers, French Strother Will Ascertain Proper Historical Basis for Speeches

WASHINGTON, March 26. (INS)—Another Democrat has joined the official family of President Hoover.

He is French Strother, the writer. He will be, in effect, the "literary secretary" of the new regime—the fourth secretary to the president.

Strother will have two duties. First, he will be expected to answer unusual mail—such as the letter from the proud mother of twins who has named them "Herbert" and "Lou," or the 100-year old man who cast the first vote of his life for Mr. Hoover. Second, he will be charged with delving into the historical background of any occasion the president chooses for a speech, this background to be worked into the address.

No Office Available

The new presidential aide will have to wait until after the executive offices are remodeled before he can have an office. He has reported for duty, but the present quarters are filled to overflowing with the additional clerks and stenographers Mr. Hoover brought along with him into office.

Selection of Strother was taken as another indication of the president's desire to surround himself with assistants he regards capable, regardless of their politics. "Who's Who" lists Strothers as a Democrat, although he did work for the Republican party during the recent campaign.

Three Aides Allowed

By act of congress, President Hoover has three secretaries, each serving at $10,000 a year. They are George Akerson, Lawrence Richey and Walter Newton. Strother, it is assumed, will receive at least the same remuneration, but a portion of it probably will come from the executive's personal pocket. Mr. Hoover surrounded himself while secretary of commerce with a number of men whose pay was augmented privately.

Strother is 45 years old and married. He has one son, named after him. He is a Californian, with Fresno as his birthplace, and Garden City, L. I., as his present residence. His first job was as a reporter on the Fresno Republican, following which he went with World's Work and the California Weekly. During the past 18 years, Strother has been an independent writer, though contributing largely to World's Work. He is a director of the Garden City, L. I., bank.

Duncan 'Chicken Broker' Jailed in Lawton

Special to The Record News

LAWTON, Okla., March 26.—A get-rich-quick scheme of two Duncan youths operated here has gotten one of the pair in jail while his partner is being zealously sought.

One of them purchased $15 worth of chickens from a local produce company, giving an alleged bogus check, immediately after wards selling the chickens to another poultry firm for cash. His partner was at the same time operating a like game but their wires became crossed and Hicks was arrested.

Oklahoma House Votes To Abolish Judgeship

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 26 (UP)—A local bill abolishing an extra judgeship in the sixth district was passed by the house late last night and sent to the senate. The bill was sponsored by Representatives Matherly, Drake and Lewis.

This bill, while local in nature, was regarded as statewide in power for abolishing similar offices.

QUANAH SEEKS STATE ROAD

Designation of Carlsbad Route Is Petitioned

QUANAH, Texas, March 26.—County Commissioners Caldwell, Reed and Thomas, and County Engineer Nabors have returned from Austin where they presented a petition to the state highway department for designation as a state highway of that part of the Carlsbad Cavern route traversing Hardeman county southwest from Quanah to the Cottle county line. This petition must lay over 30 days before action is taken upon it.

Practically all of the proposed routing of the Carlsbad cavern road from the extreme eastern part of the United States to El Paso via the famous Carlsbad cavern, and on to California is already designated as federal or state highways, and it is believed the Texas highway department will grant the request of the commissioners for designation of this distance.

The road connects at Red river over highway No. 7 in Oklahoma with highway No. 51 in Texas, which highway No. 51 is now in process of being paved from Red river to Pease river north and south across this county through Quanah.

Cottle county commissioners have also petitioned the state highway department for designation to connect with Hardeman county road across their county.

Stubborn Tough

Old Coughs

That Linger

That's the kind of a cough that is put out of business with amazing speed when the cougher is wise to Bronchuline Emulsion.

Tough old coughs—persistent coughs—coughs that hang on and rob people of their sleep—those are the kind of coughs Bronchuline likes to tackle.

Many times such coughs linger after the grippe or a heavy cold, and if you have one or know of anyone who has one keep Bronchuline Emulsion in mind.

It isn't just a cheap sweet cough syrup—it's the best cough remedy—and the best is never cheap. That's why Allison Drug Co. and dealers everywhere guarantee results or money back.—Adv.

Mountain Hootch Makers Near Lawton 'Take Out' in Fear of Stiff Jones Law

Special to The Record News

LAWTON, Okla., March 26.—That the "Jones law" doesn't look good to old-timers in liquor manufacturing and retail liquor business is indicated by frank statements being made by these persons that they are "taking out."

While "the law" has broken many bootleggers in this section, several large operators with big output sources, have made the business profitable and they now state that they do not want all their profits taken away from them in a bunch and be compelled to serve "time" in the penitentiary in addition.

There is no question but what the Jones law has them scared. Smalltime bootleggers and "hip peddlers" appear unconcerned and doubtless have scarcely heard anything of the Jones law, but the fellows who have been smart enough to play the game on a large scale "don't want any of it."

But few of these big operators have avoided prosecution, but small fines and jail sentences which have been imposed they could well afford as profits were big.

Scores of stills have been taken in this county, the mountains affording countless hiding places, but the output for this and surrounding cities continued large—they found other equipment and other hiding places.

But the "big ones" say they are "taking out." Their faces and records are known to the courts and they are fearful of making further appearances as defendants since the inauguration of the Jones law.

Whether or not they mean what they say remains to be seen but some of them are doubtless sincere in the matter.

PIERCE-ARROW TURNS ANOTHER PAGE IN FINE CAR HISTORY

A feature that has marked America's finest motor car for more than a quarter-century —the fender lamps of Pierce-Arrow.

THE fresh, crisp beauty of the new Pierce-Arrow excites open admiration wherever it goes. The new Straight Eight engine by Pierce-Arrow is credited with a performance approached by not another eight in existence. And no accomplishments were ever more deliberate.

With Pierce-Arrow's recent expansion, its engineers and designers were set the task of creating a car which would have power and size and beauty without bulk. It was to meet a long-waiting demand.

How well the new Straight Eight by Pierce-Arrow has met this demand is now a matter of fine car history. An authority has said that it arrived "in the nick and point of time."

Pierce-Arrow mechanical detail embraces every device of proved character known to the engineering of fine motor cars.

Hereford Expects to Capture Plains Show Prizes

Special to The Record News.

HEREFORD, Texas, March 26.—Deaf Smith county is to be represented strongly at the Panhandle Plains Dairy show at Plainview April 2 to 5, according to information from local breeders.

Fred Pittner, owner of the Pittner Guernsey farm, will exhibit eight animals of the famous breed of May Rose type. Several of these animals exhibited last year at the Tri-State fair drew comment from visitors from all parts of the state, and his show here at this time is in much better shape than they were for the Amarillo exposition. Included in Pittner's herd will be the famous heifers, Panhandle's Golden Marie and Maiden of Fern Dell," both of which returned big winners from the Amarillo show.

Included in the Guernsey animals shown will also be some of the May Rose breeding from the farm of O. L. Rutherford, who imported from the north as calves 10 of the finest animals that could be found. Mr. Rutherford and his associates are owners of the Quality Milk company and pasteurization plan, one of Hereford's recently added industries.

Among the Jersey entries will be those from the J. L. Lipscomb farm of Hereford. Mr. Lipscomb has been one of the leading Jersey breeders of this section for a number of years, and competition is always keen when his animals are entered in the ring.

County Agent Dunkle and W. R. Arnold, chamber of commerce secretary, are endeavoring to work up a large delegation from Deaf Smith county to attend the Plains show, and in all probability effort will be made to take the high school band on the trip.

Alleged Counterfeiters Get Preliminary Trial

M'ALESTER, Okla., March 25. (UP)—Harley Dean, Tulsa, and Parker Nichols, Kiowa, following a preliminary hearing today before Jackman Gill, McAlester, United States commissioner, were bound over to the federal court in connection with wholesale distribution of spurious $10 bills throughout Southeastern Oklahoma.

About $800 of the counterfeit money was found in the headlights and back curtain of a Ford car the men are alleged to have been driving.

OKLAHOMA HOUSE DENIES PLAN TO BOOST INCOME

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 26. (UP)—The house Tuesday refused to raise its own pay by voting $10 in stamps for each member.

The vote was 60 to 19. It is the first time in this session a motion to buy stamps has been killed. The house so far has bought $25 in stamps for each member.

The motion was attacked on the grounds it was a subterfuge to relieve the financial burden of the house members under the $5 a day pay.

JEWEL BANDITS DEFY THRONGS

Frisco Gang Gets $400,000 In Daring Raid

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26. (INS)—Staging a spectacular holdup in the business district, three bandits kidnaped a New York jewelry salesman and his suitcase containing $400,000 in diamonds and other jewels while amazed crowds of pedestrians looked on today.

Thirty minutes earlier three men, believed to be the same bandits, robbed the jewelry store of Nathan Jacko, and escaped with $2,000 in jewels and several hundred dollars in cash.

Every police car in the city was making a frenzied search for the kidnaped jewelry salesman, Henry Alons, who represents a large New York diamond firm.

Alons had called at the A. I. Hall & Sons Jewelry store in the jeweler's building, and was accosted as he walked to the street.

Three men, apparently waiting for him, pulled Alons from the sidewalk curb to an automobile, and sped away before amazed crowds of pedestrians could interfere.

Vacational Students Visit Hereford Farms

Special to The Record News.

HEREFORD, Texas, March 26.—Prof. George P. Grout of Panhandle, accompanied by Vocational Teacher McElroy from White Deer, and Superintendent Wilson of the Groom schools, was in Hereford this week with a class of 22 vocational students from the three schools.

The students were taken to the various farms near Hereford and animal judging indulged in some of Deaf Smith county's finest bred herds. The boys receive this preliminary experience before entering the judging contest at the Panhandle Plains Dairy show at Plainview, April 2 to 5.

Big Land Sales Near Hereford

Special to The Record News.

HEREFORD, Texas, March 26.—More land has been sold in Deaf Smith county during the past six months than in any similar period during the history of the county, according to local real estate men.

Announcement by the firm of Hill-Ricketts was made this week that they had sold more than 30 sections of raw land during the past half year, and practically all of this is being put in cultivation. In many instances this land was sold in quarter and half section tracts, and it probably means the bringing of more than 100 new families into Deaf Smith county just from this firm's sales alone.

Reports from other leading realty firms in the city indicate the same kind of business, and according to records being compiled by Miss Beulah Lee Rutherford, office secretary of the chamber of commerce, probably 200,000 acres of land will be broken out in the county during the year.

Indications at this time point to a bumper wheat crop occasioned by the fine bottom season which obtains. According to wheat growers, the prospect for a large yield is the best in years.

Wage Conflict Nears In Ruhr Mine District

SUBURBAN DAY!

Thursday, March 28

THINGS FOR SPRING AND SUMMER AT A SAVING. SHOP IN WICHITA FALLS NEXT THURSDAY . . . SELECT YOUR COMPLETE EASTER ENSEMBLE FROM COMPLETE WICHITA FALLS STOCKS . .

Suburban Day will be next Thursday. On that day the gates of Wichita Falls will swing open to a host of visitors, people from all over this territory. The attraction will be the price and quality appeal of great stocks of seasonable merchandise in the Wichita Falls shops and stores.

Springtime is a season of change. The drab and threadbare things of winter are cast aside. Color, freshness, brightness are the dominating factors in the public's desire for new clothing, new furniture, new decorations.

It is just as natural for a woman's fancy to turn to thoughts of millinery, footwear and frocks as it is for flowers to bud and birds to open their throats in blithesome caroling.

Come to Wichita Falls Suburban Day. Here you will find all that is latest and best in wearing apparel. Here, too, you will find furniture and furnishings for every taste. If your needs run to jewelry, chinaware, pictures or luggage, the Wichita Falls stores afford a range of selection and a quality standard equal to the most critical requirements.

Watch the advertisements in The Times and Record News. They will contain information about the outstanding Easter Suburban Day values. Each advertisement will be a message of welcome, an invitation to come to Wichita Falls and avail yourself of the economy, convenience and other advantages of this metropolitan market.

PLAY SURE AND STAY POOR

DON'T BE afraid of losing your place. If you can't get a new one, you won't hold the old one.

Two-thirds of the Dobbins jogging along in job-shafts are Ecaus, swapping hopes and potentialities for a regular nose-bag.

The essential difference between leaders and followers is a matter of spunk. Most folk mark themselves cheap, and fearfully reduce the terms of ambition, to insure a quick sale of their services.

They stick to the bargain basements of opportunity, and consequently never encounter the quality hunters.

Hark back to school days, and recall how you held your own with classmates.

Then sift memory and trace the mental processes that landed you in a rut, while dozens of boys, without an early aptitude for anything, are now wearing medals.

Lots of 'em were of humbler parentage—developed against illiterate backgrounds—had no family connections or inspiring guidance.

But something in 'em, that would not tolerate permanent inferiority, wound the mainsprings of character and made 'em tick.

They set out to "get it" and also ran into blind alleys, but unlike you, turned from the by-ways to the highways of action, and went on and up.

They refused to play weak hands—tossed "deuce" chances into the discard—endured temporary inconveniences, suffered unemployment and unenjoyment—and waited for the "ace" breaks included in all life decks.

FRANK VANDERLIP never had a dollar, except from a mechanic's wage envelope, until after 30.

Which didn't hinder him from thinking and believing he could patch the gaps in his education, and rise through journalism and private-secretaryship, to a sub-cabinet office, and, thence, presidency of the National City bank.

Incidentally, he didn't attempt to "keep up with the Joneses." It took all his time and savings to keep up with the procession. And before long, he was leading it, with a Wall street baton.

Carl Laemmle was 40 when he threw off a floor-walker's yoke and decided to be independent, with $4,000. Universal Pictures are the fruit of that "sink or swim" adventure.

He traded up from a cloth-shrinker's sponge. And Heaven knows, Providence couldn't furnish a more ridiculous instrument of fortune.

And if these careers don't ease self-pity aches, consider Joseph Pulitzer, carrying beer in Faust's restaurant—but carrying on until, like Monte Cristo, the "World" was his

Witchcraft in 1929

ONE OF OUR most amazing bits of recent news is the story from Allentown, Pa., telling how a young garage mechanic is accused of acting as a "hex" doctor in the case of a young girl who was poisoned.

It is weird enough to realize that "powwow" rites, witchcraft charms and so on can exist in a state like Pennsylvania in the year 1929. But there is something especially incongruous about the thought of an automobile repair man, of all people, acting as the dispenser of such hocus pocus.

Witchcraft and its allied arts date back into the very dawn of the human mind. The black art is still spoken of, in some backward sections of Europe, as "the old religion"; and the title is an apt one. Before written history began, the charms and spells that the Pennsylvania hexers used were in existence. To examine them is to take a glimpse into the dim infancy of the race.

The auto repair man, on the other hand, is the very incarnation of the machine age. He simply could not have existed at any other stage in history. He was brought into being by the automobile, and is as far removed from the day of witchcraft as anyone you can name.

And yet, if the Allentown authorities are correct, it was such a man who gave out charms and incantations for the suspicious believers in witchcraft!

The thing is symbolic, in a way. It illustrates the way in which habits of thought suited to an age that is dead are persisting alongside of new developments that call for an entirely new outlook on life.

The automobile is one of the machines that have changed modern life. It typifies them all; machines that have speeded the pace of existence enormously, that have put countless old social and economic customs in the discard, that have started the race on a new trail that can lead it to great heights or abyssmal depths.

To get along in this new machine age we must advance mentally as much as we have advanced mechanically. We must learn how to make all of these machines work for our good and not for our harm. They are two-edged weapons; if we do not master them they will master us.

Most of the time we seem to be succeeding fairly well. But an incident like this at Allentown is disconcerting. Can ancient superstition of the darkest type exist side by side with the complicated machinery of 1929?

We are only half way modernized. An auto repair man who performs incantations on the side is an extreme case, to be sure; but he is not fundamentally much more surprising than any other man who failed to realize that new conditions call for a profound mental readjustment.

A Hurricane as a Personal Affront

A GREAT LAKES sailor, awaiting execution in the Ohio penitentiary for murder, tells a fellow prisoner that he committed murder because he had a grudge against the world in general.

He had sailed the lakes for nearly 40 years, he said, and in all that time never "got the breaks the other fellows got." Embittered and sullen, he had waited his chance to get even; and when, finally, he got into a quarrel with an associate, he struck him down and hammered his head in, with the dim feeling that he was somehow avenging the real or fancied wrongs that the world had done him.

It would be interesting to know just how many crimes of violence trace back to just some such reason as this. The number must be large. Even the most law-abiding and self-controlled of men have moments when they feel that the whole universe is in some sort of conspiracy against them. Put that feeling in the under-developed brain of a man who has spent a lifetime without hope, and you have the materials for a terrible outbreak.

As a matter of fact, there are some men who are almost justified in feeling that way. The ordinary mortal brings most of his troubles upon himself; but there is no use denying that now and then the cards do get stacked against a man. The man who spent his childhood in a slum and had to start earning his own living before he had donned long trousers, began under a tremendous handicap; the addition of a few more unfavorable circumstances can easily rob him, forever, of all chance to gain happiness or contentment in his whole life.

Such people, however, are the exception. Most of us have no more right to consider ourselves cheated by the world than we have to take a hurricane as a personal insult from nature. We are responsible for nearly all of our own difficulties; and if we could once thoroughly digest that fact we would do a good deal less useless grumbling.

There is a scriptural authority for believing that the Kingdom of Heaven is within us. That is comforting gospel; but what we do not often realize is that the converse is true, too—the other, less beatific, supernatural kingdom is within us also. We can enter into and enjoy the first by our own efforts; and, likewise, we can enter into and suffer in the second, also by our own effort.

The man who can truly say that the world has been grossly unfair to him is a rarity. Once in a while, to be sure, such a person does turn up—usually in the criminal courts; and when that happens it behooves the rest of us to see that he gets a decent break, for once, at least. But most of us are only deceiving ourselves when we think that we have been cheated. After all, we have a pretty fair degree of control over our own destiny.

VALUE OF FERTILIZER FOR COTTON

A dispatch from Nacogdoches states that while that county was the largest user of fertilizer during 1928, that this year will see an increase of at least 25 per cent in the purchase and use of commercial fertilizer. It is claimed that an increase of 15,000 bales of cotton was produced in that county in the past year because of the use of fertilizer and that this year its use will be practically universal with farmers there.

HOW TO SPELL "COURTHOUSE"

Another very noticeable feature of the Eastland building is that the spelling is correct. County and courthouse are spelled with U's, instead of V's, as was done on our beautiful building. But, of course, H. T. will have to stay with his own courthouse, even if the spelling is wrong and the square is still arranged to meet the needs of the horse-and-buggy era of civilization.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, March 26.—A man who has a reputation of being a gang leader and who has recently been sojourning in the sunny climate of Florida, has been entertaining guests from time to time. The other night he had at dinner some newspaper men, and one reports that he unexpectedly opened a door and observed three or four fellows busily engaged in cleaning and polishing up some machine guns and revolvers. This investigator adds that he closed the door quietly and quickly and slipped away from there into the night without hesitation or delay.

ZZyn Nicholas Putnam.

Zzy Lewis Browne.

Mr. ZZyz Lewis Browne established himself as a final name—try to pronounce it.

He was wrong, because he got only as far as the secretary. Unconsciously, as he went in he had a half smoked cigar. No provision is made to deposit half smoked cigars and one of the most embarrassing things in the world is to land in such a distinguished abode with a butt and no place to put it.

He has a country club air and a sporty golf suit, and the first time he plays it is for a small bet, and he will shoot a score that fits the game of the other fellow and lets him win. Then, when he gets the bet up to a good size he will shoot anywhere from 73 to 79, and, if you don't believe that that will beat most golfers, especially when there is a lot of money bet on it, this writer can send you the shark's name and address.

I have recently returned from Cuba where it is customary to dine anywhere from half past nine to 11 o'clock at night. Why fashionable dinners are held at such a late hour in that country is beyond my imagination, because it leaves the diner with a lot of dead time on his hands between six and the dinner hour and also, if he comes from the United States, a rather empty stomach, which sometimes he undertakes to fill up with cocktails and other tonics forbidden in this country. That does not turn out so well.

During my sojourn in Havana, I was sitting with some friends at the country club about 7 o'clock in the evening having a cocktail and killing time until the dinner hour, when some other people came in and ordered sandwiches. One of the wits in the crowd remarked:

"This is probably lunch time for them."

Speaking of dinner hours, as I seem to be doing, there is a head of a big industrial corporation who lives in Greenwich, a very fashionable suburb outside New York. This company proposed to advertise its products by radio broadcasting and it was suggested that the hour between six and seven would be desirable as it was the supper hour. The president of the company, scoffed at the idea and remarked,

"No one eats his dinner between six and seven."

Some of his subordinates disagreed with him, so the next morning he came in triumphantly and declared,

"I asked everyone in the club car going to Greenwich last night and not a man there has dinner before half past seven."

Which shows how far out of touch he is with the average citizen and his habits.

FILM COUPLE, ILL, IMPROVING

Mabel Normand and Cody To Be Reunited

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 26.—(INS)—Improvement in the conditions of both Mabel Normand, screen star, and her actor-husband, Lew Cody, soon will permit a reunion of the couple, their physicians announced today.

Cody and his wife have been separated by illness which for a time threatened the lives of both. Each was reported feeling "especially well" today.

Convalescing from a nervous breakdown, Cody probably will be brought home from Palm Springs by the end of the week, his doctor said.

Although Miss Normand, who is suffering from tuberculosis, has shown no great change, her condition is steadily improving, according to Dr. E. C. Fishbaugh.

Pair Sent Up for Life In Indiana Murder

INDIANAPOLIS, March 26. PACT WAS PAIN FOR MRS. INMAN

$75,000 Settlement Insufficient, She Thought

RENO, Nev., March 26. (INS)—Mrs. Helene Garnet Patton Inman was dissatisfied with the financial agreement reached with Walker P. Inman, wealthy heir to the Duke tobacco fortune, Emanuel Cohen, her former attorney, testified at the divorce proceedings today in which Inman is seeking to divorce Mrs. Inman.

"She said I was sure cheap," the attorney testified, "because that gentleman (Inman) had plenty of money and I should have stuck him."

Cohen was testifying regarding a property settlement in a separation agreement under which Mrs. Inman was to receive $75,000 over a period of five years.

He said sometime later Mrs. Inman told him she had regretted not asking for more in the agreement. He said he had advised her that inasmuch as she had signed the agreement she should abide by it.

At the request of counsel for Mrs. Inman the court stenographer today cleared up confusion as to the identity of two women witnesses who have testified for Inman. The stenographers gave their names as Mrs. John Babcock and Mrs. Marie Inman.

"NOTHING LESS THAN WONDERFUL," SHE SAYS

"I Have Gained 15 Pounds on Two Bottles of Orgatone and My Suffering Is Over," Says Wichita Falls Woman

"I have actually gained 15 pounds since taking just two bottles of Orgatone and feel like a woman with a new lease on life," said Mrs. E. A. Morris, whose husband is a well known employe of the Swift & Co., and who resides at 1803½ Collins Ave., Wichita Falls, Texas.

"I had stomach trouble and got to where I could hardly eat anything," she continued, "and I had gas on my stomach, which would bloat up so, I could hardly get my breath at times. My heart would palpitate so fast, it seemed as if it would run away from me.

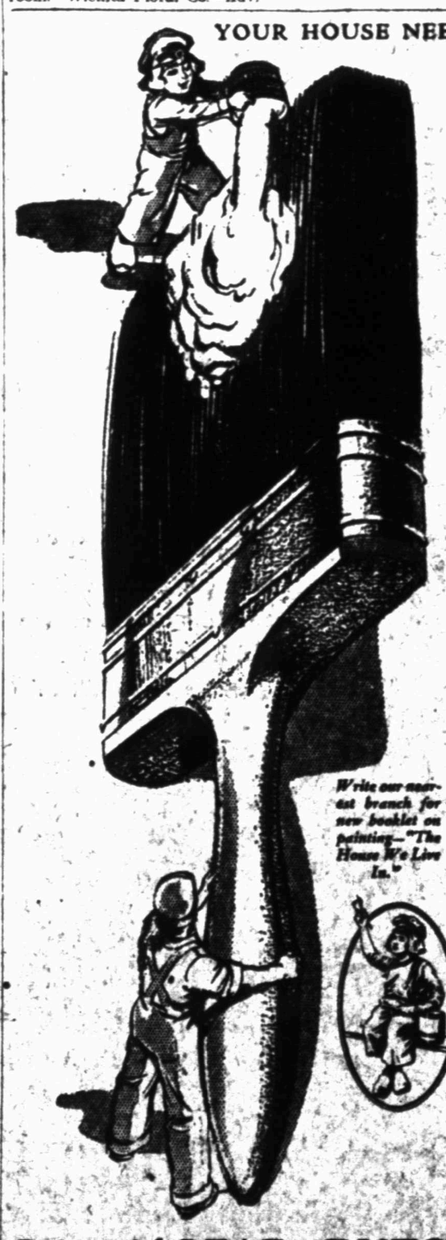

"Doctors told me I had chronic appendicitis, for I had severe, intense pains in my side, and at times, it seemed as though I just couldn't stand the suffering I had to go through. I had terrible headaches, and would get so bilious and dizzy I could hardly stand up. I had a bad case of constipation and took strong laxatives for temporary relief.

"I had kidney trouble, which caused my back to pain and throb and I was just a complete nervous wreck. I got very little sleep at night and would roll and toss until morning, and when morning came, I felt so bad and worn out, I didn't feel like doing anything at all and could hardly get around to do my work. I didn't have any energy and just felt like each day was a dread.

"Finally I was persuaded to try Orgatone, and it was just the medicine I have been needing so long. In a few days I began to feel better and my joy cannot be imagined when I finished my second bottle to find my suffering had gone and my weight increased 15 pounds. My appetite is good now, my nerves are calm and I get more pleasure out of eating and sleeping than I have in a long time. I get up in the mornings thoroughly refreshed and am able to do my work now and don't have those tired, worn out feelings. Those who knew about my condition say I am looking better and stronger than I have in a long time. I really feel like I have a new lease on life and I owe it all to Orgatone. My husband is also taking Orgatone, and getting good results. We think that Orgatone will help anyone who gives it a good trial."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific bile preparation containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone nurse who is meeting the public daily. Also at Burkburnett at the City Drug Store.—Adv.

YOUR HOUSE NEED PAINT?...THEN CONSIDER-

BOTH ends of the PAINT BRUSH

You need a skilled painter on one end— pure lead paint on the other

TO weather-proof your house, your first need is a master painter . . . a craftsman skilled in paint mixing and application. Your second is — pure lead paint.

These two age-old partners insure a superior paint job—one that always saves you money in the end. With lead paint, made with Dutch Boy white-lead, the painter applies a protective film—tough, elastic, wonderfully long-lasting. And, because this paint does not crack or scale, you are not faced with the cost of burning or scraping off old, scaly paint when repainting time finally does arrive—an expensive job.

Growing Up Without Fear

Parents take upon themselves a grave responsibility when they bring children into the world without themselves having the proper knowledge of the newer science of child psychology. Children are more in need of models than teachers, and the education of the child must begin with the parents.

Those parents who are not well either mentally or physically can help themselves by studying and applying the best methods for helping their children.

The habits of most children are controlled principally through fear. Their little minds are constantly in a muddle with "don'ts" and "do nots" and the fear of what will happen if they "do."

Children like to be active. This is the first point to remember in child training. Let them be active at something which is pleasing to them and yet constructive at the same time. If you, as a parent, think it wise for your child to play in his own yard, see to it that he has interesting toys to play with. If you want him to read good books, buy them for him, but don't make the mistake of having these books too "high-brow." Simple, wholesome stories can be selected which teach admirable traits and ideals and still without the revolting tales of murder and disaster.

Children love such toys as bicycles and kiddy-kars, etc. The use of these helps in the development of their bodies. Children like to "go fast." A bump or two will show them how fast they should go. Avoid scaring them about the dangers of falling or running into something. Probably not one child in 10,000 is ever seriously injured by falling from a bicycle, but almost without exception they are injured mentally from the teaching of what might happen but seldom does except in the imagination.

Courage, fair play and pride of achievement are ideals which can be inculcated in the young mind, where there should be no place for imaginary fears.

Most people are afraid of every policeman they see. This is because as children they were warned that if they did certain things the policeman would be called. Policemen are hired and paid by the taxpayers to help people and not to hurt them. Your child should be taught to depend upon police officers for help, and still many children will scream at the sight of a policeman. I hope this illustration will shock many parents who are reading this article into a desire for more study about the value of teaching children to do good things, and the harm which comes from an education through fear.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Is Cancer Hereditary?

Question—Mrs. C. M. B. asks: "Do you believe that the tendency toward cancer is inherited? I have heard of several families whose different members had cancer."

Answer—There have been a great many different opinions on this subject, but I am satisfied from my own observation that there is a tendency in some families toward successive members of the family having different kinds of tumor formations. This is probably not only because of physical similarity between members of a family, but also because of certain psychological factors. These tendencies, however, should not be important if proper rules for healthful living are followed early enough in life.

Evaporated Milk

Question—Mrs. A. C. asks: "Is there any difference in the wholesomeness of canned milk and that of pasteurized milk?"

Answer—The main difference is that the water has been removed. Unsweetened evaporated milk is equally as wholesome as pasteurized milk.

Spider Bite

Question: Mrs. A. B. asks: "Is there any cure for a spider bite of 10 years standing? I am able to stop the eruption for the time, but one toe will heal and another will be covered with blisters. I have consulted the best of skin specialists in different cities of the United States."

Answer—I am sure your present trouble is not from the original spider bite 10 years ago, but is due to an acidosis from faulty habits of eating. Your trouble may continue to show up in your toes due to the fact that the circulation is usually poorer in the extremities. Treating the skin of the toes is of little use; it will not stop the source of poisoning which is probably three feet away in the intestines.

One of Bank Robbers Discovered Near Death

GARY, Ind., March 26. (AP)—One of three robbers who yesterday held up the Glen Park State bank and escaped with $5,000 was found today, probably fatally wounded in the basement of a home near where the robbers' automobile was abandoned.

The robber was shot by policemen. Police believe he is F. B. Johnson and that he hails from Texas. He refused to talk. The robbers broke into a home near the one in which the man was found, changed clothes and, abandoning their wounded companion, a machine gun and a clothes hanger with Houston, Texas, printed on it, fled.

MACK: Boy, when a man hopes fo' trubble, he finds that lions is got wish-bones.

MORAN: A big gun speaks with authority.

MACK: They speaks with authority but I don't like th' replies wit' that kind o' conversashun.

MORAN: I thinks yo' is a coward.

MACK: When guns is talkin' I listens with my feet.

MORAN: This is Texas.

MACK: I wuz in jail here once.

MORAN: What wuz th' charges?

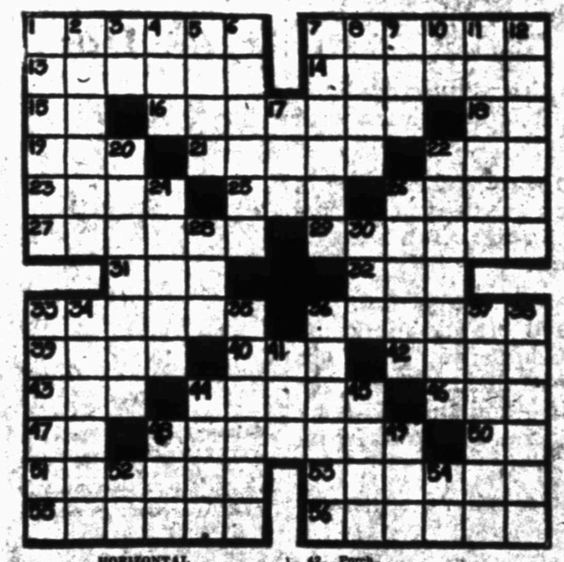

MACK: No charges. Everything wuz free.

MORAN: Well, we is in Texas. Mexico is th' next stop.

MACK: Egghead, don't yo' think we'd better retreat a couple of states?

Big Boy is getting scared. He would like to lay down in Arizona and talk it over. Looks like the Two Black Crows are in for a military career.

A new contender for a place with the Spudders has declared his hat in the ring. He is Bill Bean, the lefthanded first baseman, who, while listed on the Abilene roster in the combined camp here, will get a trial with the Wichita Falls athletes in their five straight exhibition games, the first of which is today.

Bill is to start at first base today in the opener of a two-game series with the New York Giant seconds at Athletic park, providing a righthander is on the mound for the hostiles. If Bert Niehoff, who is in charge of the yannigans, elects to start a southpaw, Dallas Clements, a switch hitter, will again be at first base.

Rabbit Benton, regular shortstop of last season, also will make his first appearance of this spring in the Giant series. It is likely that the Rabbit will pastime a few innings today.

Payne, Smith to Pitch

George Payne, the veteran screwball expert, and Cy Smith, big righthander, will be Skipper Jim Galloway's hill selections today. Bob Snyder will start back of the log and if he needs help Laurence is the next choice.

Pete Lapan, veteran maskman, returned to camp yesterday from California, where he was called by the illness of his wife. Jack Crouch, who strained an ankle sliding in last Saturday's game will be able to play within a few days and thus the full Spudder catching strength is assembled.

Debs Garms, the other member of the hospital list, who sprained an ankle sliding in Sunday's game, was not so seriously hurt as first believed and the kid shortstop also will be ready to don diamond regalia soon.

Roush Heads Giants

Several noted athletes are with the Giants. Probably the most famous is Edd Roush, one of the greatest outfielders in baseball history, who is touring with the yannigans at his own request in order that he will have more work than could be obtained with the regulars.

The Giant keystone is made up of former Texas leaguers. Andy Cohen played with Waco a few years ago and Eddie Marshall went to the McGraw club last [illegible] from Beaumont.

Tony Kaufmann, the converted pitcher, and Fullis, third outfielder, Cummings, the gigantic catcher, and Witry, another maskman, and Curly Ogden and Chaplin, hurlers, are other members of the Giant club here who are well known by fandom anywhere, and who in fact will be on the New York varsity this season.

Today's game, and all exhibition contests, starts at 3 o'clock.

Schmeling to Fight In June for 'Jacks'

NEW YORK, March 26. (UP)—Arthur Bulow, recognized as Max Schmeling's bona fide manager by the New York State Athletic commission, signed a contract today for the German heavyweight to engage in a bout under the promotion of Jack Dempsey and Humbert J. Fugazy this summer.

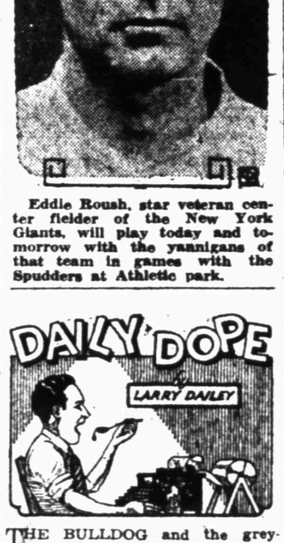

The date and place for the proposed bout will be announced later, but it is believed the match will be held here in June.

Dempsey and Schmeling have great regard for each other.

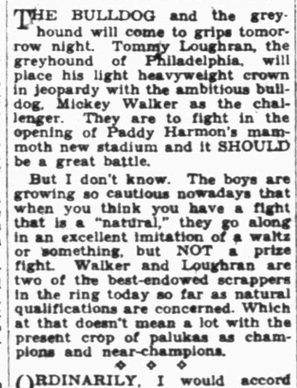

Schmeling is now in Germany making an effort to have his contract with Bulow cancelled. The New York commission, however, has announced that regardless of any action taken in Germany Bulow will continue to be recognized here as Schmeling's manager for the duration of their contract.

HOUSTON, March 26. (AP)—The Iowa university Hawkeyes outhustled the Rice Owls here today and scored a 6 to 0 victory in the first of a two-game series, although none of the runs were earned.

Plays Here

Eddie Roush, star veteran center fielder of the New York Giants, will play today and tomorrow with the yannigans of that team in games with the Spudders at Athletic park.

THE BULLDOG and the greyhound will come to grips tomorrow night. Tommy Loughran, the greyhound of Philadelphia, will place his light heavyweight crown in jeopardy with the ambitious bulldog, Mickey Walker as the challenger. They are to fight in the opening of Paddy Harmon's mammoth new stadium and it SHOULD be a great battle.

But I don't know. The boys are growing so cautious nowadays that when you think you have a fight that is a "natural," they go along in an excellent imitation of a waltz or something, but NOT a prize fight. Walker and Loughran are two of the best-endowed scrappers in the ring today so far as natural qualifications are concerned. Which at that doesn't mean a lot with the present crop of palukas as champions and near-champions.

ORDINARILY, I would accord Loughran the edge on Walker. But Mickey is hard to beat in Chicago. In fact, it seems that he is champion of them all, regardless of weight, in Chicago. Mickey won his middleweight title on a questionable decision from the late Deacon Tiger Flowers and retained the 160-pound throne on another "one of those things" last year in a scrap with Ace Hudkins. So it would seem that the only way to beat Walker in Chicago is to knock him out—something that Loughran can not do.

Tommy is no knockerout, though he is a sharp hitter and one of the best boxers of them all. Tommy rates to beat Walker. But I wouldn't wager the family jewels on it—or on any boxfight in this day of many and inexplicable reversals of form.

Walker's contract injects a decidedly queer angle into his fight with Loughran. In fact, the wonder of it is that the Illinois Boxing commission would sanction such an agreement as entered into by the principals of the fight. It is to the effect that Walker is to receive $60,000 if he is defeated by Loughran, while if Tommy loses, Mickey will receive no remuneration for his efforts. And if Tommy loses, Walker wins, and is light heavyweight champion of the world.

Therefore, Walker stands to lose nothing tomorrow night, for he is well paid if he loses and champion if he wins.

None else but Jack Kearns could procure such favorable terms for a fighter.

ALTUS, Okla., March 26.—Sweaters for the basket ball girls' team of the Altus High school have been ordered by school authorities.

Seven girls will receive the awards.

BASS WHIPS FORBES

PHILADELPHIA, March 26. (AP)—Benny Bass, featherweight champion of Pennsylvania, slugged his way to a 10-round victory over Harry Forbes of St. Louis at the arena tonight.

WACO WHALES CHISOX, 12-7

Sanguinet Clouts 3 Homers; Cubs Hit 6 Circuit Drives

WACO, Texas, March 26. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox were buried under a home run barrage laid down by Waco here today with Bob Sanguinet, a Dallas sandlotter, leading the way.

Bob singled the first time up and hit three successive home runs on his next appearances at the plate. On his fifth trip to the plate he walked. Mellano hit a home run in the first inning, a mighty wallop over deep center field wall. Johnson and Battle also hit home runs to aid in the 12 to 7 victory.

EXPORTERS PLAY ERRORLESS GAME

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 26. (AP)—The Exporter regulars defeated the yannigans, 2 to 1, this afternoon in an errorless game featured by a home run by Mike Wiley with none aboard.

Before the score keeper could get on the field Tom Estell, umpire, lost count of the innings and sent the game into the tenth, whereupon the yans pounded out two runs for a synthetic victory.

STEERS DEFEAT WACO SECONDS

MEXIA, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Manager Milt Stock's Dallas Steers bested the Waco Cubs second team, 7 to 3, in an exhibition game here today. Pitcher Graham of the Steers was the star of the game with a pair of homers.

Rex Love and Lin Shires, formerly of the Mexia Gushers in the Lone Star league, played with Waco.

ANDY HARRINGTON ON HOSPITAL LIST

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Andy Harrington, Panther infielder from whom much is expected and upon whom much depends this season, left the Fort Worth training camp today on the eve of the Fort Worth-St. Paul clash, for Fort Worth for medical attention.

The regular second baseman of last year is suffering from a wrenched back. It is believed that a day or so of rest is all Harrington requires but Manager Ats, taking no chances with his prospective second sacker, ordered him to Fort Worth for care by the club physicians.

SPORTS NIP MILLERS IN SLUGFEST, 14-4

SHREVEPORT, La., March 26. (AP)—Seven home runs featured today's exhibition game here, in which Shreveport defeated Minneapolis of the American association, 14 to 4.

Three runs were made on two pitched balls during a fourth inning rally, in which the Sports scored 10 times. With Stewart on base, Brown and Whelan hit homers on successive pitches.

Voigt's 139 Leads North And South Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., March 26. (AP)—George Voigt, Washington, D. C., amateur, took the lead in the north and south open golf tournament here today by negotiating 36 holes on the rugged Pinehurst Country club course in 139.

Five strokes behind came Tommy Armour of Detroit, last year's runner-up, and Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., flash, each crossing the halfway mark in 144 to start the second day's play in second place.

Ernie Orsatti Accepts Terms With Cardinals

AVON PARK, Fla., March 26. (UP)—Outfielder Ernie Orsatti, last of the Cardinal holdouts, came to terms with the St. Louis management tonight and will leave his home in California at once.

Secretary Clarence Lloyd of the Cardinals said the young Italian would join the club in Tampa this week.

Training Camp Chatter

ABILENE, Texas, March 26. (AP)—The New York Giants second string, commanded by Bert Niehoff, continued its winning streak by downing the Tulsa Oilers of the Western league, 6 to 0, here today.

Infield boots and wildness of Jim Wright in the third frame were responsible for the Oilers' downfall.

Score: R. H. E.

PHILS TRIM CARDS

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 26. (AP)—The Philadelphia Nationals overcame an early lead of the St. Louis Cardinals today, and won 8 to 4.

REDS HONOR MEEKER

ORLANDO, Fla., March 26. (UP)—The Cincinnati Reds paid their respects to their former teammate, Roy Meeker, southpaw pitcher who died yesterday following a heart attack, at a brief funeral service held here today. The body was shipped to Kansas City, Kan., after the services. The Reds will resume practice tomorrow.

Bruce Harrington, right hand pitcher from the University of Illinois, was released to the Columbus American Association club today.

RED SOX JOBS UNFILLED

BRADENTON, Fla., March 26. (UP)—The competition is still keen for the outfield positions on the Boston Red Sox, with Doug Taitt, Ken Williams, Elliott Bigelow, Jack Rothrock, Russ Scarritt and Ira Flagstead participating.

The shortstop berth is still unsettled with Rhyne slightly favored over Bill Naresky and Grant Gillies.

NATS NOSE OUT ROBINS

TAMPA, Fla., March 26. (AP)—A single by Barnes with the bases filled in the ninth sent Sam Rice home with the run which gave Washington a thrilling 7 to 6 decision over Brooklyn here today. West's single previously had scored Tate with the tying marker and Harris had been passed to fill the bases. Babe Herman hit a home run for the Robins.

BRAVES WIN IN 12TH

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26. (AP)—The Boston Braves tied the score in the ninth inning and defeated the Philadelphia Athletics in the 12th today, 7 to 6. Bell's single scored Maguire with the winning run.

PIRATES BEAT TIGERS

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 26. UP)—The Detroit Tigers dropped a contest lacking brilliant play to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 4.

George Grantham, Pirate whose winter home is in Phoenix, shone at bat with a homer and a double.

Loughran Drills To Make Weight

Walker Looks in Best Condition of Career

CHICAGO, March 26. (UP)—Still slightly over weight, Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight boxing champion who defends his title against Mickey Walker here Thursday, continued to train in heavy gym togs today.

Tommy is hopeful that he can exchange the heavy wraps for regulation fighting trunks tomorrow and he believes that he will have no trouble in getting under the 175-pound light heavyweight limit.

Walker, meanwhile looks to be in the best form of his life. A natural middleweight, he has added several pounds in his quest for the light heavyweight crown and probably will weigh about 168 pounds for the Loughran bout.

Their measurements are as follows:

Mickey Walker		Tommy Loughran

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS BAER"

NEW YORK, March 26.—President Hoover's summer white house will be near Frederick, Md.

That's only 40 miles from Washington. Still, it's a start.

After Herbert gets more sure of his job he will go further away.

Frederick is where Barbara Frietchie sang the duet with Stonewall Jackson.

Stonewall was making a friendly little call in Maryland at the time.

He intended to go over the chautauqua circuit through Pennsylvania and New York.

For some reason, the mayor was not on the city hall steps to greet Stonewall.

Stonewall came marching up the main street. The reception committee was also on a main street. But in another town further north.

Barbara heard the bands playing and stuck her head out of a garret window.

She had her hair done up in red, white and blue curlpapers.

One of Stonewall's boys took aim at Barbara. He wasn't mad at the old girl. All he wanted to do was to run up his score.

Barbara said, "is that you, Stoney?"

Stonewall replied, "Hello, Barbsy, old girl. Better pull in your neck, they're looking for lumber."

Barbara didn't like this reference to wooden heads. Some historians claim that Barbara and Stonewall had been childhood sweethearts.

Anyway, they were always clowning together. The real truth of the matter was that her childhood sweetheart was the man who tried to shoot her.

Red, white and blue curl papers would make any childhood sweetheart mad.

Barbara started to recite, "shoot if you must, this old gray—"

That was the only time Stonewall was ever defeated.

"Tune out," he said.

So Stonewall's army marched away with all on board.

DOBIE TO QUIT CORNELL POST

Stuhldreher May Succeed Gloomy Gilmour

By ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—The solution may turn out to be the selection of Harry Stuhldreher, head man of Notre Dame's famous "four horsemen," to succeed Gilmour Dobie as head coach and chase away the gridiron gloom above Cayuga's waters.

It's been a dark secret so far that Dobie, after five disastrous seasons and under some pressure, was prepared to resign—a secret, that is, to everyone but those who not only seem to accept the dour Scot's retirement as a fact but who also appear to know the exact date on which official announcement will be made.

If, as they expect, such announcement is made this Wednesday, it will confirm their previous understanding.

Longhorn Relay Records May Go

Four or More Marks Endangered Friday

AUSTIN, Texas, March 26. (AP)—Record marks in at least four events appeared in forthcoming danger tonight as the entry list for the Texas university relays here Friday was being examined.

Warne of Northwestern, Canby of Iowa, McDermott of Illinois and Drake of Oklahoma have been soaring more than 13 feet in the pole vault and the relay record in this event seems certain of being bettered. Ashley of Texas A. & M. college and Sandburg of Texas likely will push the leaders.

The discus field is overshadowed by Rasmus of Ohio state and Baldwin, University of Texas captain. Howle of Oklahoma, Hoffman of Notre Dame, and Lyon of Kansas State Agricultural college also are outstanding performers.

An old javelin duel will be resumed when Lee Bartlett of Albion college who became collegiate champion last year with a toss of 216 feet, 8 inches, meets Rhinehart of Indiana, whose best mark was 210 feet.

The big point of the afternoon's performance, probably will be the 100-yard dash in which Claude Bracey of Rice institute will match his speed against Bob Elder, the flying Irishman from Notre Dame, whose running has featured winter races. Cy Leland, Texas Christian university speedster, and Knight of Florida, also promise to furnish rugged competition in the century event.

He'll Stick

Herb Cobb, right-hander from the Spudders, probably will be retained by Manager Dan Howley, of the St. Louis Browns. Cobb has made a fine impression at the Browns' camp at Palm Beach and Sunday pitched four perfect innings against the Buffalo club in which not a player of that International league team reached first base.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT YOU'RE GETTING when you buy OIL?

CARELESSNESS is a very expensive habit—especially when it is associated with motor car lubrication.

Unless you insist upon a reputable brand of oil—and are sure that you get it—you are certainly heading your car for the scrap heap by the shortest possible route.

You know what you are getting when you stick to the unsurpassed brands marketed by the Continental Oil Company. These are oils which have passed every test. They have a reputation to maintain—and they do it by providing a thorough lubricating job under all conditions of motor operation.

Look for the signs shown below—at service stations and garages.

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY
Producers, Refiners and Marketers of high-grade petroleum products in Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington, Wyoming.

Conoco Motor Oil insures protection. It seals compression—saves gasoline—fights friction. Flows freely at low temperatures. Stands up under most intense cylinder heat. In short, does a complete lubricating job in all kinds of weather.

Ask for the grade made especially for your car.

Conoco Amalie is 100% Pennsylvania Oil—refined from premium crudes by a special process. Universally recommended by automotive engineers and lubrication experts.

Through exhaustive laboratory and road tests it has demonstrated its ability to lubricate properly under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

ATHLETICS RATED ONLY CLUB STRONG ENOUGH TO HALT YANKS

MACK'S TEAM HAS BALANCE

Whether Athletics Pack Punch Another Matter

(This is the seventh of a series of articles on the pennant race in the American league).

By BILL SLOCUM

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 26. (UP)—Only two ball clubs appear at this time to have a chance to win the American league pennant in the coming race, and one of them wears the livery of Connie Mack. The Athletics—good enough to oust the Yanks from the leadership last September, but not quite good enough to stay in front—will resume the battle soon with brilliant prospects.

It would be no great upset if the Mackmen crowded their way past the Yankees this year and retained the advantage. But at this time it does not appear likely. Mack has a strong team, but Huggins apparently has a better one. Second place appears to be the likely finishing spot for the A's.

There is strength in every department of this club, and it shapes up as decidedly superior to some clubs which have won pennants in the past. But it all depends on what the other fellow has. One might say that Mack has a king high full house, while Huggins is topping a similar hand with aces.

Connie has nothing this year except pitching which runs strongly to quality and quantity, the best catcher in the league, a good defensive infield, barring one spot; a hard-hitting outfield, and an ensemble which rates close to the Yankees in consistent hitting, though lacking something in distance.

Lead in Versatility

In versatility the Mackmen lead the league, or perhaps both leagues, so Connie has little worry concerning replacements. Orwoll is a good pitcher, a capable first baseman and a competent outfielder. Jimmy Foxx catches, plays third base or first and does well at each station. Jimmy Dykes does well at any infield or outfield post and is always a dangerous hitter, though perhaps not as tough at the plate as Orwoll, and certainly not as murderous as Foxx. With these versatile performers at his call, Mack can always place a strong team in the field, regardless of injury or illness.

Three of Mack's 1928 fly chasers—Cobb, Speaker and French—are missing now, and he also has disposed of Hauser, Bush and Johnson, of last year's team. And yet his club looks better than it was a year ago.

Foxx should be better as a result of his first season's experience as a regular, and he was quite a headache last season to opposing pitchers and managers. The same is true of Haas, who graduated last season from a substitute to a high grade regular. Earnshaw is another of the younger group of Mackmen who may be expected to do better in the coming campaign.

The only addition to the team during the off season was in the purchase of Homer Summa, outfielder, from the Cleveland Indians. He will be utility fly chaser. He is a better hitter than French and is faster than Cobb or Speaker, of Connie's outfielding brigade of last season.

Lefty Grove, the best southpaw in the game today, heads the pitching staff and leaves nothing to be desired, unless it is an occasional victory over the Yankees. They were bad news for him all last season. Rube Walberg, another southpaw of parts, is second in rank and a good second as well. The veteran, Jack Quinn, who persists in tossing father time around, was next in line as far as activity went, and was more effective than Walberg, but there is no telling when a pitcher, past 40 years of age, must make his bow.

Bill Shores Back

Earnshaw and Orwoll will be battling for recognition as regulars, and Mack still has Rommel and Ehmke to call upon. Then there is a youngster named Bill Shores from Wichita Falls, a name worth remembering, and two stars from the minors—Bolen from Baltimore, and Yerkes, who was brought back from Portland, of the Coast league. No kick about the pitching.

When you say Cochrane you say a lot of catching and hard hitting, too. If Mickey is injured his hitting will be missed, but not his defensive work, as Cy Perkins is every bit as good a receiver as the man who was voted the most valuable man in his league last season.

Bishop and Boley are set for second base and shortstop, respectively. Foxx is equally set, but his place remains doubtful. If Orwoll is used at first Jimmy will play third. Otherwise it will be Foxx at first base and either Hale or Dykes at third. Joe Hasler is utility shortstop, and Jimmy Dykes will substitute elsewhere on the infield. Eddie Collins is available but not likely to play much.

It will be the same outfield as in the last half of last season—Simmons, Haas and Miller, with Summa as extra.

Ghosts of the Alamo

("As I recall it," writes L. F., "it was in March that the Alamo fell. Would you mind reprinting some verses you wrote with the Alamo as the theme"?)

There's a tramp of a ghost on the low winds tonight,
An echo that drifts like a dream on its way;
There's the blur of a specter that leaves for the fight,
Grave-risen at last from a long vanished day;
There's the shout and the call of grim soul unto soul
As they rise, one by one, out of death's shadowed glen
To follow the bugle—the drum's muffled roll
Where Ghosts of the Alamo gather again.

I hear Crockett's voice as he leaps from the dust
And waits at the call for an answering hail;
And Bowie caresses a blade red with rust
As deep in the shadows he turns to the trail;
Still lost in the darkness that covers their sleep
Their bodies may rest in a sand-mounded den,
But their raw souls have come from the red starry steep
Where Ghosts of the Alamo gather again.

You think they've forgotten—because they have slept—
The day Santa Anna charged in with his slaves?
Where four thousand men on a bare hundred swept
And stormed the last rampart that stood for their graves?
You think they've forgotten—but faint, from afar
Brave Travis is calling the roll of his men,
And a voice answers "Here!" through the shadows that bar
As Ghosts of the Alamo gather again.

There's a flash on a blade—and you thought it a star?
There's a light on the plain—and you thought it the moon?
You thought the wind echoed that anthem of war?
Not knowing the lilt of an older border tune;
Gray shade after shade, stirred again unto breath,
Gray phantom by phantom they swing down the glen,
Where souls hold a hate that is greater than death
As Ghosts of the Alamo gather again.

The Yankee Record

Some few days ago these dispatches contained a statement that gave the Yankees something like a record in winning six pennants in eight years. "You state this record puts them well ahead of any other big league team," writes R. McConnell. "How about the Boston's six wins in seven years from 1872 to 1878, inclusive, and the White Stocking's five wins in seven years from 1880 to 1886? The Yankees' record isn't such a heluva lot ahead of these two."

Six out of seven is better than six out of eight. But if the Yankees make it seven out of nine, by suppressing all hostile attacks upon the old homestead this season that will at least give them some sort of record. Or it will do until a real record comes along.

Another Bridge War

"You quote one of the best bridge players in the world' as stating that no woman bridge player is among the first five hundred. 'One of the best bridge players'—who admits him to be that? I am acquainted with 90 per cent of the so-called best bridge players in New York. Most of them are self-styled or advertised by their loving (and stupid) friends. In New York there are 10—perhaps 20 men—who can outplay any woman. Most of these are absolutely unknown. As a woman who has suffered from the stupidity and conceit of men players, I challenge the statement concerning my sex."

Cagle's Successor

Dear Sir: There's a lot of dizzy sorrow for eastern football teams—also Notre Dame and Stanford—in the announcement that Chuck Bennett, of Indiana, has been notified that he has passed all his entrance examinations for West Point. Bennet was awarded the Chicago Tribune trophy for being the most valuable man in the Big Ten football last fall. Bennett's forte is the old-fashioned sort of tucking the pesky pigskin under one arm and rambling rapidly into enemy territory from scrimmage for four, six and eight-yard gains, one right after the other. While this system is almost extinct in modern football, it does have its good points. —C. B.

All of which would indicate that when Chris Cagle winds up his career next fall there will be a young man to take his place, who is about as good as any of them that happen along—from Carroll to Cagle.

"What is meant by the phase 'leaving the left shoulder behind' in the golf swing"? queries D. H. It means just about that—not permitting the left shoulder to turn sufficiently on the pivoting that goes with the back swing. Many golfers twist their hips and bodies around, but leave the left shoulder locked or checked, in place of letting it take a free, natural turn to the right as the back swing is started. Or, many dip their left shoulders, in the belief that they are pivoting, where, of course, they are not. Nine golfers out of nine and a half permit the left shoulder to turn far enough to the right as the back swing is made. There is almost no surer method of slicing, if that happens to be one's wish.

Dempsey to Stage Flyweight Title Go

NEW YORK, March 26. (US)—Phil Bernstein, manager of Izzy Schwartz recognized by the New York Boxing commission as the world's flyweight champion, announced this afternoon that he had signed with Jack Dempsey for his fighter to meet "Spider" Pladner of France for the title sometime this summer. Pladner has reached an agreement with Dempsey by cable.

Pladner scored a one-round knockout over Frankie Genaro, who was recognized by the National Boxing association in Paris recently. He also holds a decision over Schwartz.

BROWNS LOOM AS CONTENDER

Yanks, Giants and Cubs Are Other Favorites

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, March 26. (UP)—Three weeks and one day before the opening of the major league baseball season the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns in the American league and the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in the National league appear to be the most formidable pennant contenders.

The Philadelphia Athletics have disappointed their admirers thus far in training and must come on fast to be ready by April 16. If the A's round into shape, Connie Mack's club must be ranked, along with the Yanks and Browns, as one of the three outstanding American league clubs.

The many changes in the Cleveland Indians, Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers make it difficult to classify any of them but none of the trio has as yet shown anything of championship caliber.

Despite numerous injuries and other setbacks the St. Louis Cardinals are shaping up nicely and apparently are only a jump behind the Giants and Cubs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates have encountered more obstacles than any other club among the prospective National league pennant contenders and Donie Bush's team now is a far cry from championship form.

Unless Benny Bengough's arm recovers soon, the Yankees will be without a first-string catcher. Huggins has been dickering with the Senators for Bennett Tate, but the deal apparently is doomed.

Some doubt still exists over the strength of the injured arm of Lazzeri, Pennock and Wiley Moore. Lazzeri has had to favor his arm, while Moore and Pennock have been allowed to take their time in training.

It appears that Lyn Lary, the Oakland flash, is not yet ready for the majors and Leo Durocher will probably start the season at shortstop for the Yankees.

Browns Look Dangerous

The St. Louis Browns have all the ear-marks of a serious contender in the American league race. Dan Howley has quietly built a formidable club which may furnish the sensation of the 1929 season.

The Browns have been extremely fortunate with their young players as many as half a dozen promising to stick. Rick Ferrell, young catcher, is a find and Ed Grimes and Leonard Dondero, who are struggling for the third base job, resemble a pair of diamonds in the rough.

As many as four recruit pitchers have shown signs of making good. They are Chad Kimsey, Herb Cobb, Oscar Estrada and John Buvid When it is considered that Sam Gray, General Crowder, George Blaeholder, Walter Stewart and Richard Coffman compose one of majors, it is not hard to visualize the strongest pitching units in the the Browns up there fighting for the pennant.

Cubs Need Pitching

If and when the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff settles down, Joe McCarthy's combination will be ready to lay claim to the National league flag. The Cubs, as expected, are hitting like mad in exhibition games.

Down in Texas, the New York Giants are sweeping all opposition before them. Right now the National race certainly looks like a two-club affair with the Cubs and Giants fighting it out to a finish.

Injuries have retarted the Cardinals, but Billy Southworth promises to have the National league champions back in the race again this season.

LIGHT HEAVIES SCRAP TONIGHT

Moore and Calmes Feature Boxing Show Here

Dempse Moore, Wichita Falls light heavyweight boxer, will meet Baxter Calmes tonight in the feature 10-round bout of a boxing show at the Palace theater. Baxter, a brother of the clever Bobby, is from Duncan, Okla.

Moore, according to Promoter Alex Ross, will box under the management of Kack Kearns, former pilot of Jack Dempsey and now handling the ring affairs of Mickey Walker, starting April 1.

Since leaving Wichita Falls last autumn Moore claims to have won five bouts, as follows: Moco Carpenter, 10 rounds, decision; Jack Strong, one round, k. o.; Jack Stanley, five rounds, k. o.; Hooker Boyer, three rounds, k. o.; Fred Reese, three rounds, k. o.

Six other bouts comprise a lengthy card. Three six-round and two of four-round mills are carded as follows:

Judy Hoge, Houston, vs. Red Luther, Fort Worth, lightweights, six rounds; Jack Lewis, Wichita Falls, vs. Red Williams, Childress, middleweights, six rounds; Brady Finley, Duncan, Okla. vs. Wilson Carpenter, Fort Worth, six rounds, lightweights; Jack Howell, Archer City, vs. Jack Betts, Wichita Falls, middleweights, four rounds; Virgil Stewart vs. Martin Craig, both of Wichita Falls, four rounds.

A battle royal will open the show at 8:15 o'clock.

GRAY COUNTY TAKES SPURT

Panhandle Output Moves Toward 60,000 Bbls.

Special to The Record News

BORGER, Texas, March 26.—Slowly the production of the six counties in the Texas Panhandle is creeping upwards towards the 60,000 barrels a day mark. Last week's gain was 1,895 barrels daily over the previous week despite the fact that three counties showed losses.

Gray county's gain of 2,265 barrels more than offset the losses in Hutchinson, Carson and Wheeler, which amounted to an even 500 barrels.

Moore county showed a gain of 130 barrels. These two counties were the only ones to make gains.

Losses were recorded by the following: Carson, 280 barrels; Hutchinson, 140 barrels and Wheeler 80 barrels.

Totals by counties, with comparative figures for the previous week and number of wells were:

County—	Wells.	Last wk.	Prev. wk.
Hutchinson	984	26,060	26,200
Gray	315	23,810	21,545
Carson	155	5,895	6,175
Moore	9	1,485	1,355
Wheeler	5	575	635
Potter	1	20	20
Total	1499	57,845	55,950

Operations at the Harry Ware wildcat test in section 18, block 3, Carson county, five miles southwest of Panhandle, the county seat, have been shut down with the test down to 4,500 feet.

Plans are under way for the organization of a company to take over the drilling work. Ware has handled the cost of the test so far.

There have been several showings of oil in the test. It is the deepest wildcat test in the county and is expected to be put down to 5,000 feet.

Construction of the rig on the Bivins A-11 in section 38, block 21, C. S. S. survey, Hartley county, has been started. Four carloads of casing is already on the ground.

The test is being put down by the Canadian River Gas company on the Lee Bivens estate ranch. It is located a mile due west of Bivins A-10.

Bivins A-10 is located a mile and a quarter southeast from the "Negro Jim" camp, or about nine miles southeast of Channing.

Operations at Bivens A-10 have been temporarily shut down pending underreaming of a 12-inch casing. It is down below 1,300 feet.

Operations at Bivins A-9 of the Canadian River Gas company will be resumed in a few days. Drilling was shut down before Christmas but resumed a few weeks ago. It is located on section 6, block 21, C. S. S. survey and is three miles east of Channing.

Late Oklahoma Field Reports

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 26. (AP)—The discovery well of the Oklahoma City field, I. T. I. O.-Foster No. 1 Oklahoma City, in CSE SE 24-11-3w, today staged a production gain of 264 barrels, gauging 4,040 barrels as compared to 3,776 barrels yesterday. It was cutting 3 per cent, two per cent water and one per cent paraffine. Gravity was 34 at 72 degrees.

TULSA.—The eight major pools of the greater Seminole area spurted to a production gain today of 62,226 barrels for the district's first increase in 10 days. Declines had been registered daily since March 16. Total production for the eight pools shown by today's gauge was 267,468 barrels from 1473 wells as compared to 205,242 barrels from 1470 wells yesterday.

The St. Louis field showed an increase of 9,241 barrels over yesterday. The output for the 24-hour period was 101,852 barrels from 327 wells.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Routine operations were the general order in the Oklahoma City field today, no new wells in the area showing. Mid-Kansas was bailing mud at No. 1 Fortson to CSW NE 24-11-3w, after cementing casing and standardizing at a total depth of 4984 feet. Prairie Pipe Line company was rushing a line to the Mid-Kansas lease from Pavnova station, west of Shawnee, making the second major line to serve the Oklahoma City field. Empire having a line to the discovery well.

Townsite Oil Drilling Ordinance Upheld

ST. LOUIS, March 26. (UP)—Validity of an ordinance passed by the city of Oxford, Kan., in June, 1927, limiting the erection of oil wells to one to a block was upheld today by the United States circuit court of appeals here. Owners of leases had appealed on the grounds the ordinance denied them rights under the federal constitution.

MOTOR FUEL MORE VOLATILE

Winter Gasoline Shows Further Advancement

Special to The Record News

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The motor gasoline marketed in the United States this winter is slightly more volatile than that sold during the previous winter, the department of commerce announces, as the result of a motor gasoline survey made by the United States bureau of mines. This characteristic is shown by a slight lowering of the distillation temperatures, particularly at the average initial and 20 per cent boiling points.

The motor gasoline survey just completed by the bureau of mines is the 19th in a series of semi-annual surveys of the gasoline marketed in different parts of the country. The present survey was conducted in Boston, New York, Washington, Pittsburgh, Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, Omaha, Denver, San Francisco, Laramie, Wyo., and Bartlesville, Okla. The 12 cities in which samples have been collected were chosen as representative of the more important marketing territories, as it was obviously impracticable to obtain a sample of every gasoline sold in the entire country.

In the past a distinct difference usually existed between "winter" and "summer" gasoline, as the gasoline marketed during the winter was more volatile than that sold during the summer. For several years this difference has been very small and has been confined to the lower end of the distillation range. This winter, as was the case a year ago, the average figures indicate a general trend toward the sale of a more volatile winter-grade gasoline; this trend is especially evident in the samples collected in Boston, New York, Washington, Pittsburgh, Omaha, and San Francisco. A study of the individual analysis, however, shows a common tendency toward the marketing of a standardized product, as individual variations from the average, with the exception of a few blends, are small.

The tendency toward better fractionation in the manufacture of gasoline which was noted in the previous surveys has been maintained, as the average difference between the end points and the 90 per cent points is notably less than in the earlier surveys.

The gasoline marketed in each city this winter is, in general, much like that marketed a year ago in that it shows a tendency toward greater volatility. This is particularly true of the gasoline samples collected in Laramie.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 26. (AP)—An early advance on relatively firm cables and some nervousness over weather prospects were followed by a severe break in cotton today under liquidation, which appeared to be inspired by weakness in the stock market.

July contracts, which sold up to 20.32 early, broke to 19.63. Offerings tapered off at the decline and a good part of the loss was recovered at stocks steadied later. July closed at 19.95. The general market closed steady at net declines of 7 to 21 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 8 to 12 points. Active months showed net gains of 10 to 16 points in the early trading on covering and trade buying. This was accompanied by comment on the firmer showing of Liverpool. Some buying also was reported on prospects for renewed showers in the eastern belt.

May sold up to 20.52 and December to 20.14 on this early buying but demand tapered off at these figures and prices turned easier during the middle of the day. Liquidation became more active and general as the market worked off and sentiment seemed to be unsettled by reports of advancing call money, weakness in stocks and declines in grain.

Brokers with western and Wall street connections were among the sellers. There was also local and southern liquidation. Stop orders were uncovered, with the decline of extending to 20.20 for May and 19.37 for October, or about 46 to 66 points under yesterday's closing and 60 to 77 points from the high prices touched on the early advance, offerings tapered off at the lower level, which seemed to attract a little more trade or commission house buying. This steadied the market and prices recovered some 30 or 40 points of the losses in the late trading.

A preliminary private report was published during the morning pointing to an increase of 1.9 per cent in acreage to be without any particular effect on the day's market. Private cables reported advices with local and London buying in the Liverpool market, and said there was moderate business in cotton cloths but that yarns were enactive.

Exports today, 14,803, making 2,748,749 this season. Port receipts 20,401. U. S. port stocks, 1,786,739.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 26. (AP)—The sharp break in stocks resulting from the advance in call money to 17 and 20 per cent was reflected in tobogganing cotton prices here today and under pressure of offerings values sold down the levels nearly $3.50 below an early advance, but active trade buying and covering developed on the scale down. July contracts which had traded down from 20.14 to 19.49 rallied and closed at 19.80, or 16 points net down. The general market closed very steady at a net decline of 16 to 19 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 8 to 10 points in response to higher Liverpool cables than expected. Dallas continued to gain after the start until May sold at 20.06, July 20.12 and October 19.93, or 14 to 16 points above yesterday's close.

The higher prices attracted realizing which was augmented later by heavy selling on the sharp break in stocks and the advance in call money. Before the flood of offerings were absorbed active positions showed declines of from 23 to 31 on a bulge in May, which early in May traded off to 19.37, July 19.49 and October 19.21, or 62 to 69 points below the highs and 44 to 55 points below yesterday's close.

Active trade buying developed on the decline and interests were credited with absorbing a large volume of contracts. Prices rallied 23 to 27 points from the lows in late afternoon and May closed at 19.74 and October 19.60, or 18 to 19 points net lower.

Closing Rally Only Strength Seen In Most Disastrous Stock Period

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 26. (US)—Stocks rallied toward the close of one of the most disastrous sessions ever experienced on the big board today. Selling orders poured in from all parts of the country as money skyrocketed from renewal of 12 to record figure of 20 per cent.

The tape dropped two hours behind and values faded out in a manner comparable to the cataclysm of early 1926 as recent favorites dropped from four to 25 points before the bankers threw in support.

While the Oils showed the best resistance, no group was immune. Standard industrials and specialties recovered faster than they broke so that Steel after being off 5 points closed fractionally higher, Can gained 3 1/8 net for the day after being down 4 1/8, Westinghouse closed fractionally higher having made up a loss of 3 points and others did correspondingly as well. Greene Cananea lost 4 for the session, Johns Manville 2 3/4 while Carbide finished 3 points higher.

Total turnover reached 8,246,740 shares as compared with previous record of 6,942,000 shares on Nov. 23 last.

The closing rally indicated to many traders that the worst was over but the real test will be experienced tomorrow morning. Brokers sent margin calls, mostly by telegraph, to all parts of the world. Many demanded that more money be sent in by 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The extent to which this causes distress selling will determine whether or not lower prices will be seen. Inquiry among bankers revealed that more money was being made available toward the close so that renewal rate of 15 per cent or lower is expected tomorrow morning and unless the recovery becomes over-rapid some drop in the rate may be permitted. Advices from Chicago and Canada revealed that bankers there had the situation pretty well in hand and would not have to draw any more funds from this market for the immediate future.

Steel, Can, General Motors, Radio, Carbide and Westinghouse enjoyed the best buying in the closing recovery. Banking buying was reported while the larger investment trusts were said to be reaccumulating stocks on which they collected big profits over the past few weeks. The late demand for Radio was credited to General Electric interests and as a result it climbed steadily from 82 to 93 to finish over a point higher for the session. Interests who have been active in General Motors for several years were the principal buyers in the final hour. They started group operation last week but stepped aside when the money reins were tightened Monday. They remain confident that the current six months will establish record high earnings and that extra dividend will be paid during the summer.

Speed of the recovery in the good stocks evidenced the great number of "sold out bulls" who have been waiting on the sidelines for many months for an opportunity to get back in dealings. They had faith in the reserve warnings. Brokers reported that some buying orders in the last hour came from customers who have not been active for a year and more. Coppers and Oils shared in this class of accumulation for the advancing trend of the price of the red metal warrants higher dividends by most producers. Kennecott was the favorite while Texas Company vied with the Standards for leadership of the oils. Leaders of the oil industry get together here tomorrow and further steps toward holding down production of crude are to be taken. With the most important interests in the industry working harmoniously there is reason to expect record earnings by most of the oil companies this year.

The one good result of the break is that it relieves fear that the rediscount rate will be raised here Thursday. The federal reserve's position does not warrant such action and now that the enthusiasm of speculators has been chilled the credit structure of the market can be corrected without recourse to such action. As tomorrow's trading will not be reflected in the loan report that will be issued after Thursday's meeting it seems probable that broker's borrowings will show decline of $300,000,000 or more for the week.

FORT WORTH, March 26. (AP)—Slaughter yearlings and heifers made up a good portion of the light receipts of cattle at Fort Worth today and trading opened with buyers bidding a quarter to half dollar lower, with very few sales before noon. One car very fat yearlings sold at $13.50 or about a quarter lower than yesterday's trade.

Slaughter steers reported by two loads heavy steers that sold at $11.85, or about steady.

The supply of bulls consisted of odd head with better heavy ones at $8.00 to $8.50 and common light bulls around $7.00.

Very few cows included in the day's receipts. Trade at unchanged values with butcher and beef cows at $7.00 to $8.25, with a few head of the better fat cows up to $9.25. Canners and cutters at $5.25 to $6.50.

Slaughter yearlings and heifers plentiful, about 15 or 18 loads and more than needed for the day's supply. One load of very fat yearlings sold during the early part of the session at $13.50, or about a quarter lower buyers inclined to take off a little more on yearlings and salesmen tried for nearer steady prices.

The supply of calves very light and values fully steady. Two loads of calves, a little under 400 pounds sold at $12.00. Bulk of culls cleared between $8.00 and $9.00.

Stocker cattle sold to good demand. Two loads of steers, a little under 800 pounds sold at $11.50, stocker yearlings averaging 476 pounds and of good quality sold at $14.00. Some stocker calves sold at $12.25.

Sheep steady, shorn fat wethers at $9.25 and wooled feeder lambs at $12.50 to $14.00, fat spring lambs at $17.00 and $17.50.

Hogs opened slow, with a lower tendency but closed steady to strong, with one load of good hogs in the rail division at $10.95. Truck top was $10.35; bulk 175 to 250-pound butchers at $10.00 to $10.80; packing sows at $8.50 to $9.50.

KANSAS CITY, March 26. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 10,000; steady; top $11.30 on 200 to 230 pounds; $10.25 on 215 to 240 pounds; packing sows $9.80@10.25.

Cattle—Receipts 9,500; calves 1,000; steady to weak; slaughter steers, good and choice 950 to 1,500 pounds $12.00@14.50; fed yearlings, good choice 750

GET OUT OF YOUR OWN BACK YARD!

The modern demands a broader view, a bigger horizon than the bounds of his own domicile. The comforts of today's working man surpass the luxuries of the king of yesterday.

It is because the modern has a better system of appropriating his finances. He buys with forethought.

He buys things he can afford. That is why America is a country of automobiles. Nearly every wage earner has buying power to afford a used car.

Waco Youth Unable To Say What Occurred

DALLAS, March 26. (AP)—Unable to tell what happened to him except that he was riding in an automobile with some men on the Duncanville road Monday night, Weldon Curtis, 20, Waco, was in a serious condition at a Dallas hospital today. Police say they believe the boy was knocked in the head, robbed and thrown from the car as he had no money or valuables with him when found by a passing motorist who notified the sheriff.

JUDGE DEFENDS TAX FEE SUITS

Officials Entirely Friendly, Marrs Declares

Explaining the county's reasons for pleading the statute of limitations in defense of suits involving almost $32,000 in claims for delinquent tax commissions, now pending in the 78th district court, Judge John F. Marrs, county judge and presiding officer in the county commissioners' court, issued a formel statement Tuesday.

The statement followed an attack upon the plea made by T. R. Boone, attorney for Guy C. Raley, county tax collector, in his final argument before the jury trying Mr. Raley's suit for around $18,000 commissions on delinquent taxes claimed for the period between 1923 and 1925. M. L. Tittle, former tax collector, has sued for $13,396.01.

Must Obey Law

Judge Marrs explained that the commissioners court has no right to waive the statute of limitations, barring suits after the lapse of a stipulated time, and spoke for the commissioners in declaring that the harmonious cooperation between the court and the officials involved has been undisturbed by the litigation. His complete statement is quoted below:

"In order that the tax payers may not misunderstand the feelings of harmony or lack of harmony among the county officers and employes involved in the tax suits now on, I will say that as far as I know and believe, all are working along in the same manner and with substantially the same feelings toward each other as before. The only rough talk has been by some of the lawyers, who thought the commissioners court could not be honest and plead limitation or for any reason turn down these claims.

"The attorney general of Texas has ruled that a county judge and commissioners court must plead every legal right the county has, including limitation, and if they should not, and the tax payers were to lose some valuable right by reason of such failure, the county judge and commissioners would be liable on their bonds. We thought best for a district court to pass on these many law points before such large sums of money should be paid out by your commissioners court.

Defends Action

"The commissioners court has only such powers over the tax payers' money or any money entrusted to them to handle as the laws of Texas give them. The money forms a trust fund and must be handled accordingly. It seems no worse for a county to plead limitation than for an individual to do so, under the same circumstances. The lapse of time means the loss of records and written evidence and the death of important witnesses. Thus, the law conclusively presumes that an obligation has been settled after a period of from two to four years, unless some written order or agreement shows the contrary.

"The commissioners court is handling the county's business as best they know under all the circumstances."

High School Co-Eds Ban Cosmetics

Health Week Taboo Also on High Heels

Co-eds of the Wichita Falls High school gymnasium classes, under the direction of Miss Davida Olinger, instructor, have united in declaring war against all cosmetics, high-heel slippers, and unhealthful postures. The movement was started as a part of "Good Health Week," which is being observed this week in the high school department.

A complete schedule has been made for the week and will be strictly adhered to, not only during the week, but throughout the term, according to Miss Olinger. A large amount of space will be devoted to the campaign in the weekly edition of the Wichitan, Junior college newspaper, when the edition will be issued Wednesday. During the general assembly period on Thursday morning, Dr. Austin F. Leach of the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital will speak. Thursday will also be known as "tag day" among the co-eds of the classes. A one-act play written by Mar' Sue Shanklin, one of the leaders, will be presented during the Girls' club period on Friday morning and will carry a cast of 13 characters.

A moving picture of the care of the teeth was shown at the assembly Tuesday morning under the auspices of the Leaders' club and was a part of the observation.

Executive Board of Little Theater Called to Consider Plans Today

A meeting of the executive staff of the Little Theater will be held Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the office of Baldwin Montgomery, president, in which an effort will be made to perfect plans for perpetuating the movement which has given five performances since its organization early this year.

This announcement was made by Mr. Montgomery Tuesday night following a highly successful second-night performance of "Outward Bound," the mystic drama written by Sutton Vane. It had been stated by Mrs. James Bowen, business manager, that unless the response of Little Theater supporters on Tuesday night showed marked improvement over that accorded the first performance of "Outward Bound" on Monday night, the remaining plays announced for the spring season would have to be abandoned, and the services of James Daly, director, lost to the local organization. Leaders in the Little Theater group were materially encouraged by the attendance Tuesday night, and by the many expressions of interest in the continuance of its efforts, they said.

Mr. Montgomery expressed the gratitude of the Little Theater to the entire executive staff for their assistance in preparing for the production of "Outward Bound," to Miss Faye Rackley and Dorothy Campbell, who were responsible for much of the stagecraft; Mrs. A. D. Duck, for the costuming; Everett Shipp and Mr. Collins, who handled the properties; and to Mrs. Pauline Slaughter and Joseph Rabinowitz, who furnished music before the play and during intermissions.

P.-T. A. MEET AT VERNON OPENS

Wichitans Speak at First Day's Session

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, March 26.—With child welfare as the keynote the purpose of the Parent-Teacher associations, duties of officers and work projected were discussed at the opening program of the three-day annual convention of the 13th district here today. Rain throughout the day reduced attendance below expected figures and only slightly more than 50 registered.

Preliminaries were disposed of during the day and the general session opened at the First Baptist church tonight, when greetings were voiced by Secretary Grady Shipp of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce; Supt. W. T. Lofland of the Vernon schools, Supt. Ercell W. Brooks of Wilbarger county, Mrs. J. E. Lutz, federated club president, and Dr. E. L. Moore of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state P.-T. A. president, and Mrs. Frank B. Creighton, president of the 13th district, responded.

New Offices Filled

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. L. E. Ledbetter, seventh vice president and state health chairman, both of Austin, did not arrive until late in the day, but both entered into the activities of the session immediately.

Mrs. C. C. Hoag of Knox City was elected health chairman of the district, and Mrs. J. B. Parrish of Quanah was elected chairman of child welfare. Both offices were created at the executive meeting this afternoon and no other elections are planned.

Open discussion of the problems of the district at the afternoon institute was presided over by Mrs. Frank B. Creighton of Wichita Falls, district president. Officers participating in the discussion included Mrs. John M. Fox, Wichita Falls, publicity chairman; Mrs. C. R. Roberts, Wichita Falls, recording secretary; Mrs. T. J. Torvie, Electra, sixth vice president; Mrs. S. J. Marcell, Olney, historian; Mrs. Boyd Gillispie, Truscott, first vice president; Mrs. J. M. Knapp, president Wilbarger county council; Mrs. George H. Wilson Jr., of Vernon, second vice president, and Mrs. C. E. Cullers of Megargel, fourth vice president.

State and district officers were honored by the Presbyterian auxiliary at a 6 o'clock dinner at Allingham park and the delegates were honorees at a dinner given by the Vernon Parent-Teacher associations.

The general session was opened at the First Baptist church tonight with Mrs. R. H. Nichols, president of the Vernon council, presiding.

Harry Hines Talks

Emphasizing the responsibility of the school and affiliated organizations in development of the youths, Harry Hines, vice president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "Training the Youth for Citizenship" in one of the principal speeches of the evening. Mrs. Ira L. Crain of San Angelo, the other principal speaker, discussed "Juvenile Protection," pointing out the need of closer cooperation between parents and teachers as a safeguard for the interests of youth.

Burns Restores Commission To Agency's Sleuth

Arthur Haigwood, patrolman for the George Hodgins detective agency, was restored to his gun and commission Tuesday morning after he had been deprived of them by Night Chief Jim Glenn for firing upon an automobile in the Morningside drive addition, Monday night.

Haigwood, believing the car occupied by O. B. Holder, O. L. Beach, two Wichita Falls youths, and their girl companions, was being driven by hijackers, fired upon it when the driver refused to stop at this command.

He was brought to police headquarters by Ellis Summers, city officer, and relieved of his gun and commission. Chief Burns restored them to the private detective after questioning him Tuesday morning.

JURY IN TAX SUIT RELEASED

Deadlock Ends Trial Of Raley Claim

After deliberating more than 24 hours, the jury trying the $18,000 suit of Guy C. Raley, county tax collector, against the county for commissions on delinquent tax collections, Tuesday afternoon reported itself hopelessly in disagreement over the issues involved and was discharged by Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court.

Among the issues left unanswered was the direct question as to whether or not the commissioners court had agreed to return the money to Mr. Raley if the law repealing the act allowing the payments should be held invalid. The jury also failed to agree as to whether the county judge had made such a promise to the collector.

No date has been set for a new trial of the case. A similar suit brought by M. L. Tittle, former collector, asking around $13,000 commissions was tried last week, both sides claiming victory. Issues were the same as those involved in the Raley suit. Judge Cook is to hear arguments of both sides on motions for judgment next week, he announced Tuesday.

Realtors Discuss City's Tax Rate

A discussion of general principles of taxation and the tax peculiar to Texas and Wichita Falls comprised the program given before the Wichita Falls Real Estate board in its bi-weekly meeting Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

The single tax, now being used in Australia and New Zealand, which imposes a tax on land only, was described by Orville Bullington, president of the chamber of commerce, as similar to the local system. The landowner here, however, is under even a greater handicap than that imposed by the single tax plan in that taxes are levied not only on the land, but upon the improvements as well, the speaker stated. Inequitable distribution of the burden of government expense, he said, results from the fact that many people pay no tax upon the bulk of their personal property.

The present rate of $1.40 in Wichita Falls is in line with that prevalent in other large cities of the state, according to Mayor J. W. Akin, who declared that this tax rate is sufficient to permit operation of the city on a cash basis.

J. B. Marlow urged a continuance of city improvement, rather than curtailment of such activity as an economy measure. He expressed the belief that the four-year college movement started here early this year will be successfully completed.
