Kelley Church Holds Annual Fall Harvest Festival Recently

Members of the Kelley Methodist Church held their annual harvest festival on Sunday, November 14, in which each family donates the proceeds from one acre of ground to the church.

There was 100 per cent participation according to Rev. J. M. Fitzgerald, pastor, in which 25 families contributed $750.

The membership of the church met for a community dinner at noon at which time all sorts of delectable foods were brought by the various families and shared together.

Following the dinner, the gifts were presented at the church and the program was started at 2:30 in the afternoon. Ted Parker led the song service after which R. E. Drennen, dean of Clarendon College delivered the main address.

Mr. Fitzgerald pointed out that the donations at the annual fall festival are in addition to the contributions that the members make to the church throughout the year.

Farmers Will Vote on Cotton Referendum on December 14

The Secretary of Agriculture has set December 14, as the date for a growers' referendum on quotas for the 1955 cotton crop. At least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum must approve quotas before they may be made effective.

The marketing quota and acreage allotment levels are determined by provisions of law. Under the basic formula in these provisions, the marketing quota would be below the announced level if it were not for a "minimum" provision in the law. This minimum is 10 million bales, and that automatically becomes the marketing quota under the present supply situation.

Voting time will be from 8:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. at the following places:

- Shinnery Community — Reeves Store.
- Dodson-Fresno Community Farmers Gin, Dodson, Texas.
- Rolla Community — Rolla Gin Office.
- Wellington Community — County Courtroom.
- Crossroads Community — County Courtroom.
- Quail Community — Neeley's Station.
- Marella Community — Pettit's Store.
- Dozier Community — Tindall Gin.
- Samnorwood Community — School Gym.
- Aberden Community — Lutie Gin.

The national acreage allotment, under the legislative provisions, is that acreage, based on the nation-

A Battle Against Time

Savage Asks for Early Christmas Mailing

Postmaster R. T. Savage, today announced a three-point program designed to insure delivery of all Christmas cards and gift packages by December 25.

"I've found," he explained, "it's not enough to salp up posters all over town saying, 'Shop Early, Mail Early.' That's the main idea of course, but I'd like to be more specific".

Specifically, then, the Postmaster first urged business firms to mail their regular correspondence before 4:00 p. m. throughout the Christmas season. They can help even more, he added, by withholding all circular and catalogue mail until after the critical period, December 15-25.

"This will leave elbow room at the Post Office to process the tremendous volume of holiday mail we'll be handling. I'm quite sure it will exceed the alltime record."

Point 2, consequently, requires the public's cooperation. Begin by checking your Christmas card list this week. Each address should include the full name, street number, city, zone and state.

After this visit the Post Office to order the stamps you'll need. Then there will still be a week left for leisurely Christmas shopping—one New Year's resolution you can keep!

Finally, the Post Office itself was moved into high gear. So just do your part, and remember all gift packages should be mailed by December 5, all Christmas cards by at least a week before Christmas.

Anglin First to Win In Good Will Days

E. W. Anglin of Cross Roads was the first person to draw $50 in script in the merchants good will days campaign which will be held each Saturday until further notice.

Under this plan $50 script will be set aside each Saturday. Should the person eligible to receive the script not be present the script will build up and $100 worth will be given the next Saturday.

This is issued in small demonstrations and may be used at any of the participating firms. Last week there were 64 business firms taking part and this week the list has grown to 70. New firms participating are Jay's Drive Inn, O. K. Rubber Welders, Hatch Dry Goods, Huston Furniture, French Clothiers and V & L Garage.

During Christmas week $50 in script will be given away every day during the week at 4 p. m.

Christmas Lights Will Go Up Here On December 8

Christmas lights will go on in Wellington on December 8 and the Domestic Science Club will hold the initial program at 7 p. m.

The lights all over town and the lights on the mammoth Christmas tree will be turned on at that time.

The Christmas fund of $586 has been completed and a group went to New Mexico and brought back the tree Tuesday. Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Mish Dukeminier, James Sullivan, Dr. Carter Holcomb, Sandy Parsons, Jr., and Hiram Cudd. Cudd Bros. are supplying the truck that will bring the tree back to Wellington.

Again, as last year, various organizations will put on the programs at 7 p. m. from December 13 through December 23. These will not last over 30 minutes giving people an opportunity to attend other functions if they so desire or to do their shopping leisurely. Any organization wishing to put on a program is invited to contact Mrs. J. W. Thomas, secretary of the chamber of Commerce this week. We hope to have the programs completed soon and will publish a list of them in next week's issue of the Leader.

Work on decorating the huge Christmas tree will begin this week, according to John Sherman, chairman of the decorations committee. People are asked to bring in their cans cut in decorative designs as last year as soon as possible in order that the work of decorating the tree may be completed in time. Those who have the time to cut cans, but do not have the cans are asked to contact Mrs. J. W. Thomas and she will get you a supply.

Last year the decorations and the programs attracted much favorable comment and they are expected to be more interesting and elaborate in 1954.

Heart Attack Fatal

Joe Baumgardner Dies Suddenly Tues. Nov. 23

Joe Baumgardner, 61, died Tuesday, November 23, two hours after suffering a heart attack at his farm home 2 miles south of Wellington.

Apparently he had experienced no previous symptoms of a heart condition for he and Mrs. Baumgardner had gone to Childress the night before to hear a speech by Sen. Price Daniel and Tuesday morning he set out to mend a fence on his farm.

When his wife drove home from Wellington about ten o'clock in the morning she saw him driving the tractor toward the house. He stopped the tractor and got in the car and said "Take me to the doctor, I'm sick".

He was taken to the Jones-Watkins Clinic where his illness was pronounced a heart attack and was sent to St. Joseph's hospital and died a short time after being admitted.

The funeral will be held Friday, November 26, at the First Methodist Church with Rev. J. F. Michael in charge of services. The exact hour has not been set pending word from Haynes Baumgardner. If he can reach Wellington in time the funeral will be held at 10:30 in the morning.

Joseph Bailey Baumgardner, the son of Joseph Fisher Baumgardner and Ida Sarah (Kite) Baumgardner, was born Jan. 23, 1893, in Collins County. The family moved to Atlanta when he was 12 years old and he came to Collingsworth County 1912 to work the farm his father had bought in 1892.

He is survived by his wife, eight children, one brother and two sisters. The children are J. H. Baumgardner of Lubbock, Forrest Baumgardner of Tulsa; Haynes M. Baumgardner of Washington, D. C., Robert W. Baumgardner of Brownfield, Marion F. Baumgardner of Lafayette, Ind.

Mrs. C. M. Gordon of Grapevine, David Baumgardner of Wellington and Priscilla Baumgardner of Wellington.

The brother is Travis Baumgardner of Austin, and the sisters are Mrs. Olean Leggett of Clarendon and Mrs. Grady Nolan of Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mr. Baumgardner was a member of the Methodist Church, a former member of the Wellington School Board, a charter member of Kiwanis and a member of the Farm Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Baumgardner, a friendly, cheerful, God-fearing man had a number of hobbies that he carried on in addition to his indefatigable work on his farm such as flowers, gardening and photography, but his great love was for his family, his friends and his church.

Dr. Thaxton Appointed City Sanitarian

Dr. Curtis Thaxton has been appointed city sanitarian and assumed his duties this week.

Dr. Thaxton, who holds a degree as Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from A and M, takes the place of W. R. Ritter who died from a heart attack on October 19.

The same general sanitation program that the city has been carrying on for the last few years will be continued. This includes all dairies selling grade A milk in Wellington, all restaurants, grocery stores, drug stores as well as periodic tests on milk produced out of town and bottled drinks.

While in A & M Dr. Thaxton had intensive training in this type of work, and the city officials feel that he has excellent qualifications for carrying on this type work.

Penalties Change Tide of Battle

Rockets Drop Final Game By 27 to 20

Pestered by penalties and passes the Wellington Skyrockets put up one of their better games of the year against an able Quanah team last Friday night as they finally went under on the short end of a 27 to 20 score.

Wellington scored first after Ketchum recovered a Quanah fumble inside the Rocket 20 yard line. Fine running by Brock, Tarver and Ketchum behind great line play carried the ball to the 42 yard line where Duggie Jameson flipped a neat 15 yard pass to Maxie Tarver who raced to the four yard line before being brought down. Wayne Ketchum picked up 3 yards and Tarver made it over for the touchdown with Phillip Cobb making the point good.

The Rockets held the Indians on their drive after the kickoff: but lost the fruit of a good drive of their own when Quanah intercepted a pass; but the hard fighting Rockets held the Quanah boys and got the ball again on their own 45 and on 9 plays carried on the ground with Brock doing most of the ground gaining went to the 3. And on the next play Brock carried over the goal line only to have the touchdown called back because of an offside penalty.

Wellington failed to gain and Quanah took over on their own 5 and launched the most effective game seen on Powell Field this year to carry the ball downfield. Unable to gain on the ground, Layton Mayes used a fine throwing arm to good advantage and climaxed it with a 22 yard touchdown pass. The kick was no good and Eugene Brown intercepted a pass to halt another Quanah drive near midfield and Wellington led 7 to 6 at the half.

The Rockets started on the offensive early in the third quarter and after an exchange of punts drove from their own 40 across the goal line on running plays with Brock again the big ground gainer assisted by Tarver, Ketchum and Jameson with all of the Wellington line doing superb work. Cobb's kick went under and the score stood at 13 to 6 in favor of the Rockets.

The Wellington line was again putting up a rugged fight such as they did against Childress and Quanah was able to do little on the ground but penalties against Wellington kept them alive until they could get their pass offense clicking again and they made their second and third touchdowns after passes had opened up the Wellington defense.

Mayes made both of the next two touchdowns on brilliant runs on option plays to put the Indians ahead 20 to 13.

The Rockets tied it up with a long sustained drive at the beginning of the fourth quarter with Tarver going over for the counter and Cobb making the kick good. But in the final quarter they were handicapped more by penalties than the Quanah offense or defense and Mayes finally managed to get a pass to H. L. Gossage who raced through a broken field to score the winning touchdown.

Wellington was penalized five times in the crucial last quarter, three for 45 and two for 5 to make a total of 45 yards. Wellington fans were quite disappointed in the officiating which cost the Rockets a chance to score and made possible the winning touchdown for Quanah. Wellington was penalized 14 times for 100 yards and Quanah was penalized 4 times for 25 yards.

All this - and more miles per gallon too!

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflo Drive!

So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflo Drive?"

And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.

They designed and engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflo Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.

That provides one setting for more miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.

All you have to do is push the accelerator pedal down to the last half-inch beyond the full throttle position—and a-way you go!

Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.

There's a step-up in styling as sensational as the step-up in power.

And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the low-priced SPECIAL.

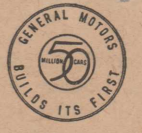

Pay-off on progress!

Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflo and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.

But the thrill of the year is Buick's latest engineering "first"—and what it does for the man or woman who drives the latest and greatest Dynaflo Drive.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, TEX.—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd's office is engaged in another investigation. This time it's a multi-pronged one in which the state auditor, the department of public safety and DeWitt County Attorney Wiley Cheatham are also interested. It has to do with the one hundred million dollar veteran's land program. Managing Editor R. K. Towery of the Cuero Record unearthed the story. He discovered that some Texas veterans in and around Cuero had signed up for what they thought was a free bonus of land, only to learn that they had purchased land with down payments they had never made. Towery said promoters sold large tracts of land to groups of veterans, that the veterans had never seen the land, had never made a payment on it, and had no means of paying for it. They are also checking appraisals. State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, whose office administers the program, said that he would "stand behind the appraisals in their entirety". According to Cheatham, the county attorney's investigation revealed "a rotten, stinking mess that ought to be aired out before the people". IDENTICAL BIDS Another investigation being undertaken by the Attorney General has to do with identical bids for electrical supplies for the capitol city. Under scrutiny are identical bids for $32,112.80 which four firms gave the Austin City Council on underground cable. DOPE TRAFFIC EYED Texas' new law providing imprisonment or hospitalization for dope addicts will get its test in Austin soon.

Charges were filed here against six men and women, following 17 arrests by city and county officers and Texas Rangers last week, in a raid on a small Congress avenue hotel. Narcotic agents said recently that Austin is rapidly being drawn into "an alarming and expanding black market drugs problem".

ROAD ROUNDUP Highway patrolmen, armed with radar, have already nabbed 11 central Texas speeders. Warned were 63 others. These automatic eyes are being placed on principal highways throughout the state.

FINANCING FREEWAYS Bond financing to provide needed state highway construction has been advocated. Executive Director James E. Taylor of the Texas Motor Transportation Association asked for dedication of one per cent of the present four-cent gas tax for highways. He says the plans would provide immediate construction of 1,000 miles of four-lane freeways.

AMENDMENTS EFFECTIVE NOW

Proclamations declaring the recently voted amendments part of the constitution have been issued by Governor Allan Shivers and Secretary of State C. E. Fulgham. Amendments provide for women jurors, higher pay for members of the Legislature, longer terms for some public officials, and increased pensions for the aged. There is talk here of a suit by some members of the Legislature to test the attorney general's ruling made prior to the election, that the public amendment did not extend Legislator's terms to four years.

DWI PENALTIES

Three days in jail is the minimum penalty for drunk driving and the judge may not reduce the sentence.

That was the decision of the Court of Criminal Appeals in the case of an El Paso man. Held unconstitutional by the decision was the part of the Texas law which authorized the judge to commute the jail sentence in drunk driving cases.

INSURANCE CHARGES Charges that Texas insurance companies are gypping servicemen have been denied sharply by Garland A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Insurance Commission. Smith referred to statements by Mike Stern, writer, made before a congressional committee in Washington.

"Texas sell 90 per cent of the policies sold to GI's overseas and has the worst insurance laws in the nation," Stern said. Smith replied that Stern had "got way out on a limb . . . that as far as he knew, all companies doing business with servicemen were good ones".

DESEGREGATION PROCEDURE Desegregation in Texas' public schools must be a gradual undertaking, the U. S. Supreme Court has been told. A written brief, handed the court by Attorney General Ben Shepperd, warned that violence would be the price of rapid transition.

Shepperd also asked the programs for carrying out the desegregation order be left to local school districts. OIL INCREASE A 64,374-barrel daily increase in Texas oil production for December has been authorized by the Texas Railroad Commission.

Thanksgiving

A Time For Prayer

The first Thanksgiving day was for Pilgrim Fathers, primarily a day of prayer . . . a day set aside to give thanks to Almighty God for the blessing of survival amid the trials and hardships of the New World. Let us, on this Thanksgiving Day, seek to recapture the sturdy faith of our forefathers. Let us humbly bow our heads in a prayer of gratitude to the Creator for all that we have and all that we are. In this simple expression of faith in Divine Providence, let us find renewed faith in ourselves, our work, our fellow men . . . renewed faith in the strength of Freedom to keep our Nation forever safe and our children forever secure.

TOM'S REDUCING PROGRAM—Children visiting the Nevele Falls, N. Y., Country Club think they're having all the fun at the annual pre-Thanksgiving turkey chase, but they couldn't be more wrong. Old Tom, flying high and handsome, is doing his best to get toughened up and provide a stringy mouthful for whoever catches him. Tom doesn't know it yet, but he's going to undergo a drastic reducing program after he's caught. About a week after Thanksgiving, he'll be nothing but feathers and bones.

Cicero Smith Holds Annual Holiday Sale

In keeping with modern merchandising trends, Guy Bell, manager of Cicero Smith Store here, has announced that an annual Christmas Savings sales event has become a part of the store's normal operating policy.

This year, the sale will begin Saturday, November 27 and will continue through December 24.

"Since adding so much beautiful, practical housewares merchandise to our stock", said Mr. Bell, "we have learned that it is good business to reduce our inventory often, so that fresh merchandise can be added. In order to do that, many firms have frequent sales which increase a store's expense substantially; as a result, the greatest possible savings cannot be passed along to the consumer."

"Therefore, we've decided to hold our big sale just once a year, and make reductions of 10 percent to 40 percent on all items in the store. These items include hardware, housewares, toys, paints, wallpaper, plumbing and electrical supplies, millwork and small appliances such as toasters and coffee-makers."

"We also feel that by holding our sale just before Christmas, it will give our customers the advantage of low prices on gifts for everyone in the family. It will help make shopping easier, faster, and better—and much more economical—for the people of Wellington. However, the supply of many articles is definitely limited, and I suggest that shopping be done as soon as possible, in order to make the greatest savings."

"Our store has been colorfully decorated for this once-a-year Christmas Savings Sale, and all merchandise is plainly marked for ease and convenience."

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunsaker of Lubbock visited over the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hunsaker and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Glenn.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Friends were saddened and shocked by the sudden death of Joe Baumgardner, as friendly and as kind a man as ever lived in Collingsworth County. Apparently he had been feeling fine and the evening before had driven over to Childress to hear Sen. Price Daniel make a speech. And the next morning he had driven off to repair a fence. We have lost too many of our good citizens from heart ailments in the last few years.

Well children, it is time to be getting those letters to Santa Claus to the paper. You know it takes some time for us to get them on up to the North Pole.

Four lively faced little boys came by the office the other day and the youngest, Billy Wilkerson, acted as spokesman. He wanted to know how much it would cost to get his name in the paper. I explained that if he wanted to advertise something that it would cost in proportion to how much he wanted to say and how big he wanted to say it. But that if it was news that it would cost him nothing. Billy said, I don't want to advertise anything, I just want to get my name in the paper—a lot of people are just like him, but few have the candor to admit it so frankly and with such cheerful enthusiasm. I asked what grades they were in and found out that Billy Wilkerson was in the fourth, Jerry Williams and James Branch in the 5th and Tommy Williams was in the sixth. The names of their teachers are Mrs. Leggett, Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Duncan. I asked if they liked them and the answer was a unanimous yes. Tommy Williams must be studying to be a diplomat or else he is behind in a grade or two for he observed on departing—put it in the paper that I not only like my teacher, but that she is a very good one.

Stuff Bird With Two Dressings for Double Taste Treat

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

JUST to make life more interesting, why not use two different kinds of stuffing for your holiday turkey? Use one for the chest cavity; another, more exotic one, for the neck cavity.

If your family goes in for stuffing, eating lots of it, bake extra amounts in greased individual molds. That's much better than trying to cram too much into the turkey, because turkeys should be loosely stuffed.

Some stuffings are simple and straightforward; others are fairly complex. Here are three recipes using enriched, yeast-raised bread as a base—each more than enough to fill the neck cavity of a 15-pound turkey, with enough left over for the casserole dish.

Toasted Almond Stuffing

Eight cups soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine, 2 cups chopped toasted almonds, 1 1/4 cups green celery tops, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 2 eggs, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup grated onion.

Combine all ingredients thoroughly and use to stuff cavities of turkey.

Sausage Stuffing

Eight cups stale bread cubes, 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine, 1 cup finely chopped onions, 1 1/2 cups chopped celery stalks and leaves, 3/4 pound bulk sausage, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 3 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, 1 cup chicken stock or milk.

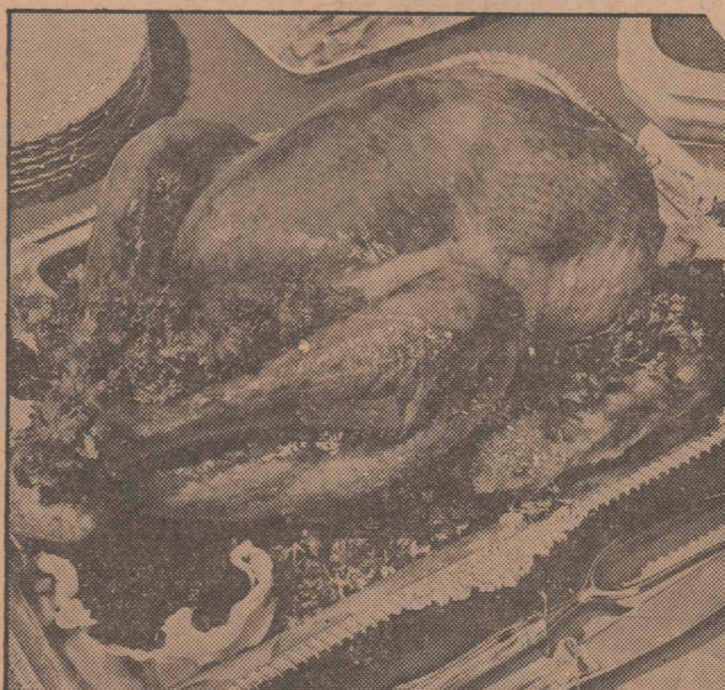

Cook sausage. Combine with remaining ingredients and use to stuff turkey cavities.

We used to have oyster stuffing every Thanksgiving when I was a small girl, and this one reminds me of the way my grandmother's used to taste.

Oyster Stuffing

(Yield: about 10 cups; enough for a 12-pound turkey)

One half cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup diced celery, 3/4 teaspoon Tabasco, 8 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 2 cups drained, chopped oysters or 1 can (16 ounces).

Not two-face but twice-stuffed is this turkey, a new taste-treat for you and yours during the holidays.

Melt butter, add onion and celery and cook until onion is yellow, but not brown. Stir in Tabasco. Add to bread crumbs with parsley, salt and poultry seasoning. Mix lightly. Add oysters.

New 1955 Rambler Cross Country

Shown is the 1955 Rambler Cross Country station wagon, featuring modern styling refinements and outstanding maneuverability. According to George Romney, president, American Motors Corporation, the Rambler will become the first "basic volume car" sold and serviced by both Nash and Hudson dealers. The four-door Cross Country features a distinctive "stepped" roof-top line, highlighted by an auxiliary luggage carrier called the "Travel-Rack." In addition to the Cross Country, the Rambler line includes the four-door Sedan model in the 108-inch wheelbase series, and the two-door Suburban station wagon, Country Club hardtop and Club Sedan in the 100-inch wheelbase series.

American Motors Corporation Shows New 1955 Rambler Models

DETROIT—American Motors moved for a large share of the 1955 automobile market with the introduction of its new Rambler series. According to George Romney, president, American Motors Corporation, the new models will be sold and serviced by both Nash and Hudson dealers.

The new Rambler line will be displayed officially by Nash and Hudson dealers throughout the country, Friday, November 26. However, many dealers will offer previews of the new models Wednesday, November 24.

The Rambler will be individually identified by newly-designed Nash and Hudson medallions. As volume develops, further distinction will be made between Nash Rambler and Hudson Rambler cars, Romney said.

"Offering the new Ramblers through two independent national dealer groups will immediately double the sales and service outlets for this smart, low-priced car," he said. "The greater marketing strength behind the Rambler alone should sharply increase its public acceptance and sales, but equally important are design changes we think will make the Rambler America's easiest-to-use automobile."

"Within a year after its introduction, the Rambler was the largest selling car in the convertible and station wagon field," he said. "It took hold quickly because it represented the first effort to meet the changing needs of the American Motorist, as he moved to the suburbs, increased his second-car needs and struggled with traffic and parking problems. Its combination of individual passenger roominess equal to the biggest cars, greater compactness and its double strength unit body made it the first successful new car idea in many years. Now that we are able to build in all body styles and offer it through twice as many dealers, we feel confident it can become America's fourth low-priced car, with features exclusive in this field."

The 1955 Rambler models include the two-door Suburban station wagon, Country Club hardtop and Club Sedan in the 100-inch wheelbase series, and the four-door Sedan and Cross Country station wagon in the 108-inch wheelbase series.

Styling refinements are highlighted in the entire range of Rambler models. Low and sleek in appearance, the new Ramblers are styled by Pinin Farina, noted European custom car designer and styling consultant to American Motors.

The new front fender design incorporates full-wheel cutouts which enhances the Rambler's continental appearance and has increased its outstanding maneuverability. With a turning diameter of 36 feet for the two-door series, and 38 feet for the four-door, the Rambler has the best turning diameter among American production cars.

The front suspension features a wider tread; and the use of anti-friction ball and needle bearings greatly increases the ease of turning by eliminating binding of moving parts.

The Rambler's entirely new grille consists of a single die-casting which forms a continental oval design in accord with the concepts of clean, functional styling. The entire grille surface is patterned with a series of convex horizontal and concave vertical bars, integrally meshed.

The newly-designed Nash and Hudson medallions are mounted in the center of the grille work. Nash and Hudson dealers will have distinctive medallions on their respective Rambler models.

The entire Rambler series employs the "double strength unit body", with body and frame constructed and welded together to form a single unit. According to engineers, this type of body construction makes the Rambler safer, stronger, more rigid, durable and rattle free.

The "Airliner Reclining Seats" and "Twin Travel Bed" combination is available in the four-door Rambler series as optional extra cost equipment. Only "Reclining Seats" are offered as optional equipment on the two-door Rambler models.

The "All-Season" air conditioning system, combining refrigerating, heating and ventilating into one integrated unit, is available on all Rambler models as extra cost equipment. With all components located forward of the instrument panel, the Rambler offers a compact air conditioning system in the low price field as factory installed equipment. The "Weather Eye" heating and ventilating system is offered as optional equipment on all Rambler models.

The interior trim and upholstery combinations are completely restyled with new materials, colors and patterns in the 1955 Rambler models. Many attractive cloth, vinyl and genuine leather combinations are offered in both Rambler series.

An entire range of 11 solid and 11 two-tone exterior baked enamel colors are available in the new Rambler series. All 1955 Rambler models are equipped with the new tubeless super-cushion tires as original standard equipment.

Three transmissions are available on all 1955 Rambler models. Conventional synchromesh is standard equipment, and automatic overdrive and Dual-Range Hydra-Matic are available as optional equipment.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Council Invites Public to Sessions

One of the first actions of council-manager government in Southern Pines was to shift facilities around at town hall so the public would have more extensive and comfortable accommodations in the council's meeting place.

This action was appreciated and attendance at meeting increased, but there are still usually a number of vacant chairs in the public's section at the council's session. We feel sure there are residents of the town who would, if they once attended, keep those chairs filled each meeting.

Such a gathering is unique in that one can, if one chooses, be merely a passive spectator, yet, if sufficiently interested to take part, can voice one's opinion, an opinion that may contribute to the town's welfare through its direct influence on the men who make the town's laws.

The council invariably and courteously gives all persons present at meetings a chance to say what they want to say and we can testify from experience at many council meetings that such remarks from the floor often are influential in helping councilmen reach a decision pro or con on some subject.

Persons attending town council meetings are free to come and go as they choose during the evening. No one is offended if they arrive late or leave early. There is no substitute for personal attendance in getting a clear picture of what is going on at town hall or a detailed understanding of why the council does the things it does in making laws or setting policies.

If it is perfectly possible to be a good citizen of a community without taking active part in its legislative sessions, but we affirm that good citizenship reaches its peak, both in effectiveness and in personal satisfaction, with attendance at town council meetings.

Realtors Offer Services

The Natural Resources Commission has announced that it is gratified that the South Dakota Association of Realtors has offered the services of its members to assist in gathering information which will influence industries to locate in our several communities.

All of us should be pleased as the action for it should prove helpful. As a matter of fact, the intelligent, capable real estate man should be better equipped than members of the commission itself. Their approach is completely practical. They actually on the firing line and are familiar with the different elements which attract industry to a community.

Various cities in this area have set up agencies for the purpose of stressing the advantages which will accrue to industries in picking their cities at locations. It is a safe assumption that is, after all, the wisest course. If it is true that there will be increasing decentralization of industry, all of these activities should be expanded, and quickly.

The
Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note: The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek discusses incomes this week, a matter mostly theoretical with him.

Dear editor:
It has long been my observation that some men are almost up on the feminine level when it comes to being curious about how much money other men make, and the current controversy over the new-fangled method of sending out income tax forms has emphasized the point.

As you know by now, the government has designed a system of easy handling of income tax notices, with colored stripes around the outside of the envelopes indicating what income bracket the taxpayer is in. While this makes it easy for the government clerks in sorting out the notices for mailing, it also gives people a chance to observe what income bracket their neighbors are in, and it's this point which has set up a howl throughout the country, lots of people contending notices ought to be sent in plain envelopes so nobody can tell what bracket they're in.

In answering this complaint, Internal Revenue Commissioner Andrews in Washington said it was a lot of political nonsense.

"In the first place" he said, "I don't know of anybody who cares who knows how much money he makes", which, if you ask me, indicates Mr. Andrews doesn't know the same people I know.

But he didn't stop there. He went on to say: "If people want to go snooping, they'll find out anyhow. There are a thousand and one ways to approximate a person's income—by the way he eats, dresses, the number of children he supports, the automobile he drives".

When I read this, I had to get up and walk around the room to make sure I was reading it right.

If there's any way to tell what income is not, it's following the plan Mr. Andrews outlines. Some of the best dressed people I ever saw owed the most money and had the least chances of ever paying it back. Any banker who set out to judge a man's income bracket by what clothes he wears, or the cloths his wife wears, wouldn't be in the banking business long. Driving a long automobile these days ain't no more of an index to your income than owning a television set or an inner-spring mattress. Judging a man's income bracket by what he eats is about as accurate as estimating the size of his house mortgage by the way he trims his lawn or by the color of his bathtub. And as for judging a man's income by the number of children he has, I tell you, that floors me. Maybe it can be done in Washington, but it sure can't out here in my neck of the woods.

By the way, yesterday mornin a man in a new 1955 convertible stalled on the road out here near my place and asked me to lend him a dollar to get some gas with. What income bracket you reckon he's in?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Paul Saw Christianity As War Against Evil

"Stand therefore". This was Saint Paul's exhortation to the Christians at Ephesus after he had urged them to "put on the whole armor of God", so that they might "withstand in the evil day, and having done all, stand". That Paul should have seen the Christian life as warfare is not to be wondered at. His whole course was beset with enemies and persecutions".

To the Christians, to whom Paul wrote, life was also a warfare. They may have been free from the most serious persecutions that beset Paul, but they were subject to persecution.

There were hazards in being a Christian. The days, as Paul says, were evil. The pagan environment was hostile and full of temptations of the flesh and of the spirit.

Paul was insistent upon the Christian warfare, and, like a great military leader, he was deeply concerned about preparation, equipment, indoctrination, and encouragement.

And in all this his own example is never lacking. That is a quality of great leaders.

Is the Christian life still a warfare today? It is a significant and important question.

Hostile forces and temptations are no less real, though they may seem less evident and more subtle.

It may be said that we do not think of the Christian warfare as precisely, and as much, as it is set forth in New Testament days.

But this may be because we lack something of the vision that inspired Paul and the early disciples; that we do not see as they did, that need of warfare, with the call of duty and the call to greatness.

The right kind of experience is always worth the cost.

Scandal is one thing that never gets shop worn by being continual-ly passed around.

The easy-going person often has a hard time coming back.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a day for family gatherings about the festive board... a day for turkey and fixins' and pumpkin pie. But, above all, Thanksgiving is a day to stop and think about a lot of things that we take for granted the rest of the year. Such things as the blessings of abundance, far beyond the rosiest dreams of our forefathers, who so courageously wrested a foothold in a New World. Such things as the blessing of freedom... for us not a distant hope, but an ever-present reality. On Thanksgiving Day, let us humbly bow our heads in a prayer of gratitude to Almighty God for all that we have, all that we are, all that we can hope to be. Let us reaffirm our faith in our free way of life and solemnly pledge ourselves to preserve it unblemished for the generations still to come.

Weeks Early Released From Service In December Home At Mid-Month

Army personnel whose release from active military service would normally take place during the Christmas-New Year period will, with some exception, be separated between December 13 and 17 in order that they may spend the holidays at home, the Department of the Army has advised Fourth Army headquarters.

Officers and enlisted men who return from overseas and are scheduled for separation during the holiday season period will be separated as soon after arrival as possible. To preclude overseas returns from reporting for reassignment during the Christmas holiday period, leave for this period has been authorized.

The release policy applies only to personnel scheduled for separation during the December 13 to 17 period who are in the continental United States or its territories. Early departure from overseas stations to meet provisions of the policy is not authorized.

Exceptions to the policy are officers being released from active duty for purpose of reenlistment and retirement, who will continue to be processed in accordance with instructions issued in each case; non-regular Medical Corps, Dental Corps and Veterinary Corps officers who have not completed 21 months' active duty prior to release; enlisted personnel of Reserve components desiring to complete Reserve obligations, who may be retained until expiration of their terms of service; enlisted personnel inducted or enlisted under provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service Act, as amended, who are eligible for release prior to completing two years' active military service, but who must complete 21 months' active duty.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q. I have a nephew who is a World War II veteran drawing VA pension because he is paralyzed from the waist down for reasons not connected with his service. He gets an extra amount because he needs regular aid and attendance. He has just been admitted to a VA hospital for treatment. Will his extra allowance continue, or will it be cut off?

A. It will continue while he is hospitalized. In many instances, the extra allowance stops when a veteran enters a VA hospital. But is generally continued for paralyzed veterans and those who lost their sight.

Q. Would it be possible for me to take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill on a part-time basis?

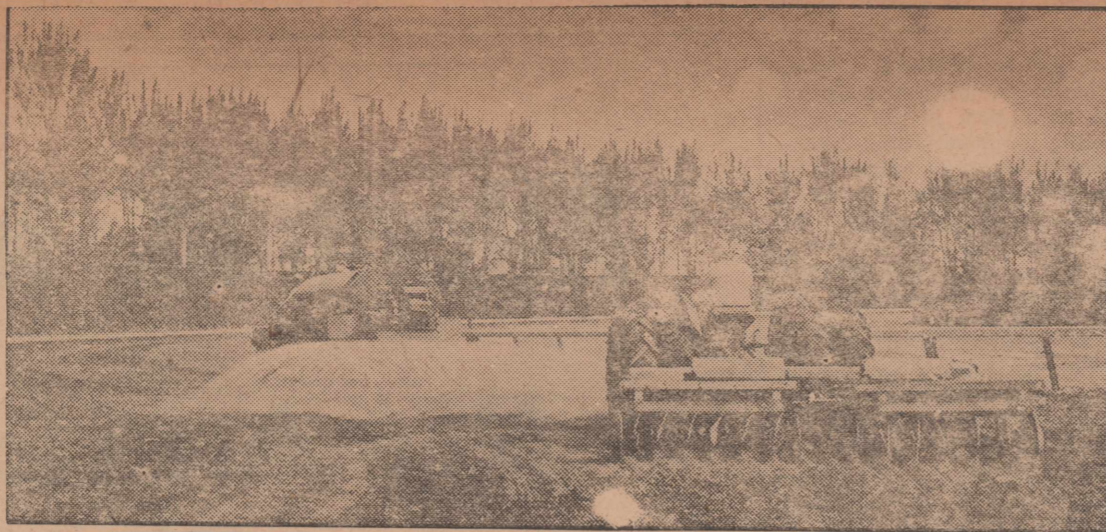

A. No. The law requires that on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill must be on a full-time basis.

Q. My daughter has been receiving VA compensation payments based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. She reached her eighteenth birthday during the summer vacation between school terms. Will she be eligible for payments for the time between her birthday and the time she resumes school?

A. Yes. Payments may be authorized for the period between your daughter's birthday and her re-entry into school.

Q. I am the widow of a World War II veteran, and I have never remarried. I also am a World War veteran myself. Would I be eligible for two GI Loans—one on the basis of being an unmarried widow, and the other based on my own eligibility?

A. No. You would be eligible for only one GI Loan—based on your own eligibility as a veteran.

feed—and not sold on the market—must be included under quota and allotment provisions. The law is clear on this point and is not a matter for administrative ruling, adds McCan.

Smaller producers—those with acreage allotments of less than 15 acres—do not come under the marketing quota provisions if their total wheat production on the farm does not exceed 15 acres. In these cases, the penalty for exceeding acreage allotments is only the loss of wheat price support eligibility.

In all other instances, however, all wheat produced on acreage outside the established farm allotment is subject to quota penalties.

DOES THE INGREDIENT TAG TELL THE WHOLE STORY

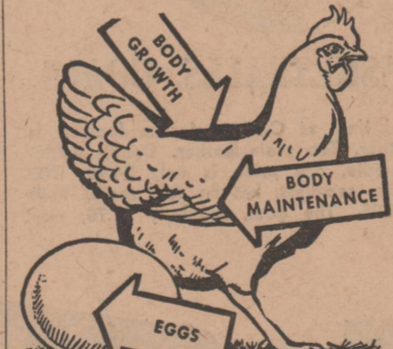

Mrs. Sallie Hunter of Wellington says that it does not. Mrs. Hunter divided her flock into two separate pens. To one pen she fed Purina Lay Chow and grain and in the other she fed a cheaper ration. The ingredient tags read just about the same and therefore the conclusion was that the cheaper ration was just as good as the higher ration but the hens had something to say about this and here is what they told Mrs. Hunter. Her production was 50% less on the cheaper ration than on the Purina Lay Chow. Mrs. Hunter tells me that the money she saved on the cheaper ration actually cost her plenty. She says that she cannot afford to feed it. Her hens were the same age and had been raised just exactly the same way and were fed under the same conditions.

FEED FOR ALL 3

- * Body Growth
- * Body Maintenance
- * Lots of Eggs

The pullet is under a great strain during the first 4 one-half to 5 months of laying. She has to complete her growth, keep her body up while laying at a 65 to 85 percent rate.

Powerful Purina Booster Checkers top-fed over regular feed are designed to help your pullets do all these jobs. Helps hens hold high production for a long time—through fall and winter when eggs prices are good. Let us tell you other ways Purina Booster Checkers can help you.

NEW PURINA CAGE LAYENA

Purina Research men have announced a new high efficiency formula for Cage Layena. Results of our feeding trials show up to seven per cent less feed per dozen eggs. This savings alone means an extra 28 to 30 dozen eggs per ton.

Adjustments in protein, vitamins, and minerals have been made to help utilize the higher level of carbohydrates needed for efficient egg production.

The new Cage Layena comes in Checker-Ett Form and is to be fed continually as the complete ration. It can also be fed on the mash and Checker plan.

There is a bonus advantage to the new improvement. Feeders will probably notice that wet droppings are reduced during the summer.

Cage hen management shows up most when market conditions tighten up like they have recently. By taking some action on the management programs, feeders can keep profit margins where they ought to be in spite of an unfavorable market.

We have plenty of Purina Range Checkers on hand for you cattlemen that need a good ration for your range cows and calves. We honor all Drouth Certificates.

SO YOU'VE HAD AN ACCIDENT?

(From a booklet now being printed and illustrated by the International Department of Public Relations.)

One out of every 14 people will suffer some accidental injury this year involving at least one day of disability. Many will be permanently disabled. "Accident Facts" published by the National Safety Council reports that there are 10 million accidents in the United States every year. One half of these accidents occur in the home.

No estimate can be made of the number of less severe injuries. Minor jolts happen every day. Many people believe they will suffer no major disability—at least, that is what they think at the time. But weeks . . . and sometimes even months or years later . . . they will turn up with some illness or disability not immediately associated with the accident. Nevertheless, the accident was the original cause.

Can Accidents Produce Disease?

Yes, the cause of many diseases can be traced to a previous accidental injury. It takes electricity to run lights. An accident can disrupt that electricity. The lights then grow dim and go out. Likewise, nerve force from the brain, channelled over the spinal nerves, is necessary to run the body. If nerve force is interrupted, the affected organs fail to perform their proper function. It might be the stomach which would be affected, the eyes, the heart, or any other organ of the body. Disrupted function can result in serious disease.

How Is Nerve Force Interrupted?

Misaligned vertebra may cause a pressure on the nerve of the spinal cord sufficient to interfere with the full flow of nerve energy to various organs in the body, resulting in decreased function. In an accident the body absorbs the force of extreme jars, jolts, bumps and strains. If the pressure is extreme, a paralysis may result—if only a small pressure occurs, it may take months or years to produce any noticeable ill effects.

Can Ill Effects Be Prevented

Definitely yes! If your automobile was involved in an accident, you would have a mechanic check over the entire machine and correct any misalignment, broken parts or other damage. You should make sure that it was sound mechanically before driving it again. The same principle applies to your body if it has been involved in an accident.

See Your Family Chiropractor

Your Chiropractor is trained in detecting interference to transmission of nerve energy caused by misalignments or subluxations in the spine. If there is an interference to the free flow of nerve energy to any part of the body, he will tell you so. He will correct this interference by an adjustment to the spine.

If you have had an accident lately, it will pay you to have a check-up by your family Chiropractor, and don't put it off. The longer you wait, the more damage you will suffer, and the harder it will be to correct the cause of your trouble.

See your Chiropractor . . . for a check-up . . . and avoid serious consequences later.

Favorable Outlook For Egg Producers

COLLEGE STATION, — The outlook for 1955 is favorable for egg producers who sell on a graded market. But with expected lower seasonal prices, many backyard poultrymen may reduce or curtail production next year.

Based on the price prospects and trends in recent months, the natural tendency of farmers will be to raise fewer replacement chicks in 1955, says John G. McHaney, extension agricultural economist.

Production for the first six months of 1955 is already "made" by the number of hens and pullets now on farms. After mid-1955, the volume of eggs largely depends upon the number of chicks started during the first half and saved for replacement.

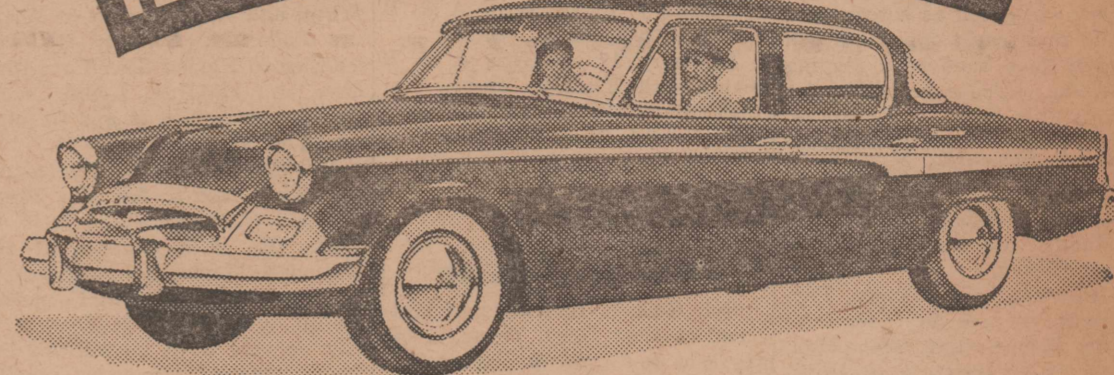

Eggs will be plentiful during the first half of 1955, even more so than now, McHaney predicts. Prices paid to producers in March and April may drop below the levels of the same months in '54, but can be expected to improve again in the fall of 1955.

A four percent increase in egg production this year in Texas has not kept pace with production in other regions but there's no cause for a high percentage reduction of layers on farms in areas where graded markets are available, the economists says.

Orval Couch—

(Continued from Page One) who will serve as acting manager until the officials of the Greenbelt Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., can meet and select a permanent manager.

Mr. Couch, a native born son of a pioneer couple, was moving spirit in founding the Greenbelt Electric in Wellington in 1938. He started to secure applications for electric service on September 6th, 1938. W. D. (Waddell) Bailey, Jr., was the first person to sign an application for REA service. The first loan for construction of the rural electric line was made in December in 1938 in the amount of $131,000.00. The present system consists of 1860 miles of line with 2850 connected members.

The move to the Louisiana REA Co-op represents a sizeable increase in salary for Mr. Couch for the Louisiana Co-op has about 3 times the number of connected members—over 85,000—with less miles to service.

George Henry has done outstanding work in servicing the Greenbelt, Mr. Couch observed and I am confident that he will continue to keep the service at its present high standard. He is a most able man, Mr. Couch said.

Orval Couch was born in Wellington November 20, 1908, the son of an early day couple, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Couch who moved here from Chico in 1904. He is a graduate of Wellington High School and an ex-student of Wichita Falls Jr. College. He was married to Marian Sewell and they have two children, Lynn Couch, now of Texas A & M and Carolyn Couch of Wellington.

Mr. Couch served as director of the State Board for the Texas Electric Cooperatives in 1946 to 1948. He is a member of the National Management Committee for the National Rural Cooperative in Washington D. C. He is now serving as a member of the state advisory committee on the safety and ob training program in the state of Texas.

Farmers To Vote—

(Continued from Page One) an average yield per planted acre for the 5 years 1949-53 inclusive, required to produce an amount of cotton equal to the national marketing quota.

According to the latest available statistics, the total supply of upland cotton for the 1954-55 marketing year is estimated at 21.5 million running bales, more than 3.8 million bales above the "normal supply" of 17.7 million bales. The "normal supply", as specified in the legislation, is the current marketing year's estimated domestic consumption of 9.1 million bales and exports of 4.5 million bales, plus a 30-per cent reserve of 4.1 million bales. (A running bale is a bale as it comes from the gin and usually averages heavier than 500 pounds gross weight.)

The large supply of cotton available for the 1954-55 marketing year is due principally to a large carryover on August 1, 1954, resulting from the 1953 crop of 16.4 million bales, the fourth largest crop on record.

The national marketing quota is defined as the amount of cotton needed from the 1955 crop to make available a "normal supply" of cotton in 1955-56. However, legislation also provides that the minimum national marketing quota for the 1955 cotton crop shall be 10 million bales or one million bales less than the 1953-54 domestic consumption and exports, whichever is smaller. Were it not for this legal minimum, the national marketing quota for the 1955 upland cotton crop would be 9.7 million bales (500 pounds gross weight).

If growers approve quotas in the referendum, price supports on the 1955 upland cotton crop will be made available to eligible growers at a level between 82 1/2 and 90 per cent of parity, the precise level depending on the level of supply at the time of the price support determination. If quotas are turned down, supports to eligible growers will drop to 50 per cent of parity.

Growers who exceed their farm acreage allotments under a cotton quota program will be subject to penalties of 50 per cent of parity on the farm's excess production. In addition, cotton and other crops produced on the farm will be eligible for price support. In general, the farm marketing quota—which is the amount that may be marketed free from penalty—is the production from the farm's acreage allotment.
