

Hurricane Refuses To Die Longest Lived In 75 Years

Thousands Feared Dead

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Flora still hovered over southeast Cuba today, its relentless rains and buffeting winds lashing the island for the fifth consecutive day. The Weather Bureau in Miami said no storm in 75 years had battered one area for so long. Flora's winds were dropping, but there was no indication when its drenching torrents would dissipate or move on. As the storm plunged Cuba's Communist regime into the worst economic disaster of its nearly five years in power, neighboring Haiti reported Flora had killed 2,000 to 4,000 persons and made 100,000 homeless last week. The Cuban government reported 11 dead. Two Americans drowned at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. Jamaica reported nine dead, and 17 were killed on the island of Tobago by Flora last week. Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro was reported raving his storm-battered Eastern provinces to assess the damage. Agriculture officials in Havana said half the island's crops were laid waste by Flora's winds and rain. The government put the death toll at 11. It said also Havana's million residents would go on half rations of beef, eat half as many vegetables, and drink no coffee pending arrival of 5,000 tons of coffee beans from Brazil under an agreement with the Soviet Union. Agrarian Reform Institute President Carlos Rodriguez did not make clear in his announcement Monday night whether the agreement with the U.S.S.R. resulted from the hurricane or was made before it hit Cuba. The American Red Cross cabled Cuba's Red Cross an offer of relief supplies and workers. Mayari, Castro's birthplace in hard-hit northern Oriente Province, radioed an appeal for aid from the U.S. Naval Station at nearby Guantanamo Bay, but Santiago station cut in and told Mayari to stop calling the U.S. base. The U.S. Weather Bureau at Miami said late Monday night that Flora's peak winds had subsided to 75 m.p.h.—minimum strength for a hurricane. It predicted Flora would remain stationary or drift a bit north today. Flora was then still lurking on Southeastern Cuba's Caribbean coast where its peak winds had been 80 m.p.h. A movement over land ordinarily would weaken her peak winds further. The Castro government said 50,000 persons had been removed from the island. See HURRICANE Page 2

Mrs. Nhu Says Not After Power NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, the acid-tongued first lady of South Viet Nam, has arrived in the United States "to try to understand why we can't get along better." Mrs. Nhu, accompanied by one of her four children, her daughter Le Thu, arrived at Idlewild airport Monday night for a three-week American speaking tour. The 33-year-old Mrs. Nhu denied an assertion by her father, former ambassador to the U.S. Tran Van Chuong, that she is power-hungry. "I'm power hungry," she told newsmen at the airport, "I would not have the confidence of the Viet Nam government. I have charged they are victims of a ruthless government persecution." Mrs. Nhu said at Idlewild she hopes to see her father, "but I don't know when." Before leaving Paris, she told airport interviewers: "I do not see him, it will be because he does not want it." As she stepped off the plane here, she said, "I have come here to see you, to try to understand why we can't get along better. I hope at the end of my stay to know you better." Mrs. Nhu has no appointment with any ranking U.S. official although she visits Washington next week. She said her last night would be "a banquet, a dinner, a group of persons during my trip." She will leave for home from California on Oct. 29.

MEMBERS OF THE SNYDER BLACK AND GOLD BAND were busy unpacking their new uniforms this morning. Unpacking the box are Sherry Patton and Margaret Zick. Standing are Scooter Harbour, Hillman Bearden, Bobby Easterwood and Tom Bennett. The uniforms have all arrived, but some hats are still to be received. Plans call for the uniforms to be worn first at the Lamesa game Oct. 25.

CONSTRUCTION WORK IS PROGRESSING on the new city shops and warehouse buildings being built on Thirty-seventh Street east of Avenue M. The building shown will be used for a repair shop, storage of water department supplies and storage of the emergency hospital equipment of the Civil Defense agency. The buildings will replace the old barn in the 1900 block of Twenty-seventh Street which will be removed to make room for the new fire, police, and civil defense operating center.

6 New Vehicles Are Purchased By City

Six new vehicles and a packer body for a garbage truck were purchased last night by the Snyder city council. Three new police cars were purchased from Wilson Motors. Two Dodges and one Ford were traded in on the new 250-horsepower Fords. The total difference in cost was $2,686.86. Also bidding on the police cars were Wellborn Motors. The net bid for three new Dodge police cars was $3,364. Wilson Motors was also low bidder on two new pickups with a net difference after trade-ins of $2,506.96. Other bidders were Wellborn Motors with a $3,000 bid; Lamb Chevrolet, $3,047.58; and Snyder Truck and Tractor, $3,190. On a one-ton truck, Wilson Motors was also low bidder. Their difference after trade-in was $1,844.42. Other bidders were Wellborn, $2,009.04; Lamb, $1,949.77; and Snyder Truck and Tractor, $1,975. The trucks will be used by the Water Department. Five bids were received on the 20-yard capacity packer body for use by the sanitation department. Low bid of $3,524.20 was submitted by Hobbs Trailer Co. of Lubbock. The total cost to the city for all of the new equipment will be $10,662.44. The city council accepted with regret the resignation of D. D. Shelburne, councilman from Place 2. In his letter of resignation Shelburne said, "I must...protect a business interest in the pending Police, Fire, and Civil Defense center to the extent of placing a bid on this construction." Although permitted by local ordinance, it is prohibited by a recent state law for a councilman to bid on city projects, even though sealed bids are submitted. Shelburne was first appointed to the city council on Apr. 15, 1960, to fill the unexpired term of Herman Trigg who resigned shortly after being elected. Shelburne was elected to the councilman's post in April, 1962. His term would have expired this coming April. No action was taken by the council to name a successor to Shelburne. In other business the council awarded certificates of appreciation to R. E. Weber, R. H. Melton and J. L. Browning. Those presented the certificates served as members of the 1963-64 tax equalization board. Joe Carroll was appointed as See 6 NEW PAGE 2

Banquet Tonight Honors Teachers

Local school teachers will be honored guests tonight at a banquet sponsored by the merchants committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Jarvis, the banquet speaker, is engaged in the full-time practice of dentistry in San Marcos. He has combined a successful career as a public speaker with his profession, and is one of the best-known humorists in the Southwest. As he is widely sought as speaker for banquets, dinners, group-chamber of commerce, sales groups and medical and dental groups. Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of First Baptist Church, will give the invocation, and the Rev. John Gordon, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the benediction. Wayne Pinner will present dinner music in the cafeteria, while the remainder of the program will be in the auditorium. Civil Rights Bill Approval Limited

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee approved today in some form a limited form of the public accommodations bill urged by President Kennedy as part of his civil rights program. The vote was 14 to 3. The bill bans racial discrimination by business establishments catering to the public was amended so that its coverage would not extend to neighborhood shops not part of an interstate chain and not primarily serving interstate travelers. Also exempted would be rooming houses if the proprietor lives in the premises for his home and has not more than five rooms for rent. Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said now when the committee also adopted amendments designed to encourage voluntary compliance as much as possible and providing for the right to a jury trial in contempt cases argued against discriminatory practices. He said that just how far the bill's coverage extends would have to be determined in the end by the courts. But, over-all, the Senate committee moved in the direction of restricting coverage in contrast to the broader coverage provided in an omnibus civil rights bill recently approved by a House judiciary subcommittee. Magnuson noted that 32 states already have public accommodations laws and said the bill approved by his committee doesn't go as far as many of these laws and no farther than any of them. He listed the three senators who voted against the bill as Norris Cotton, R-N.H., Thurston Morton, R-Ky., and Strom Thurmond, D-S.C.

Weather Is Still Mild

By The Associated Press Texas weather remained mild and pleasant Tuesday, with a single drizzle—the steadily lightening spines of extended drought. Skies were clear except for partly cloudy conditions in South Central Texas. Forecasts called for occasional showers near the coast, but no moisture elsewhere. Brownsville measured 24 inch of rain as similar showers fell Monday. There were smaller amounts at Beaumont, Houston, Corpus Christi, Galveston and Laredo. The thermometers hit a 90-degree high Monday at Wichita Falls. Top marks elsewhere ranged down to 61 at Galveston.

Valachi Resumes Testimony Under Bomb Plant Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gangster informant Joseph Valachi resumed his testimony today as U.S. marshals beefed up their protection because of anonymous telephone tips that a bomb would be planted in the hearing room. Chief U.S. Marshal James McShane said the FBI had received several telephone tips here and in New York that a bomb would be planted and also that several spectators in the audience would try to shoot Valachi if he got a chance. McShane said the marble-columned Senate caucus room, scene of the hearings, was searched this morning and no bomb was found. The guard of U.S. marshals that flanks Valachi, as he walks down the hall and then sits behind him in the hearing room, was strengthened, McShane said. The added protection was "partly because of the tips and partly because we just don't want anything to happen," McShane said. The underworld reportedly has placed a price of $100,000 on Valachi's head. The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he had been informed of the general nature of the bombing and shooting tips but had no details. He said he planned to proceed as usual with the hearings. Valachi seemed tense as he was hustled into the hearing room by a big squad of marshals and seated at the witness table. As McClellan banged the gavel to get the hearings underway, 12 See VALACHI, Page 2

Viet Aid Under Close Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. aid programs for South Viet Nam are receiving a close review of whether they are helping the anti-Communist war and not going toward the Diem government's campaign against critics of Diem officials reported today. So far, they said, none of the existing programs—running at a rate of more than $400-million-a-year—have been cancelled. In Saigon, the pro-government Times of Viet Nam charged that the United States had suspended economic aid in an effort to force the Diem government to liberalize its authoritarian policies. Reliable U.S. sources in Saigon denied this. They said some important licenses for aid to South Viet Nam had been held up for review in Washington—licenses Congress has not yet acted on the foreign aid bill. Washington officials said aid projects for South Viet Nam are being given a "hard look" which has had the effect of holding up approval in some cases that previously would have received a prompt go-ahead. Meanwhile, some of the senators who have demanded an end to military and economic aid to the Diem government question Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The two report today to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on their recent missions to Saigon. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said in advance of their closed questioning that their reports indicating a likelihood of beating down the Communist guerrillas by 1965 were "designed to snuff out the spreading congressional revolt against the Diem regime." Church and 32 other senators are sponsoring a resolution recommending aid be cut off unless South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem ceases his "policies of oppression" against Buddhists and seeks the support of his people. McNamara and Taylor told a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee last Thursday that "we are winning the war" in Viet Nam. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said some senators at that briefing "expressed skepticism about the situation being as bright" as Secretary McNamara thought it was.

CHIEF AND WAMPUM — Chief John Big Tree, and Iroquois Indian from New York, displays wampum of the white man which bears his likeness. Big Tree, 98, posed for the sculptor who fashioned the buffalo nickel in 1912. Only part of Big Tree—from the nose up—appears on the old nickel. The chin belongs to Sioux Chief Iron Tail who died several years ago. Big Tree and several dozen Indian friends are in Dallas, Tex., to perform at the State Fair of Texas. Asked why the mint switched to Jefferson five-cent pieces, the old chief replied, "they just got tired of looking at me." (AP Wirephoto)

Latest In Governor Series Centers Signs On Louis Proclamation

THE AGE OF LOUIS XIV. By Will and Arlet Durant.

Why "The Age of Louis XIV," the Durants' impressive panorama of history, "The Story of Civilization," started back in 1935 with "Our Oriental Heritage," unfolds its eighth volume. There are two more to come.

The initial tone of this latest work is muted, surprising for such an effervescent writer as Will Durant, who undoubtedly is still the main creative force, whatever the contributions by his wife. However, we should in fairness remind ourselves that this is not merely one more in the series but actually a continuation of the previous volume, "The Age of Reason Begins." The Durants are grappling a major problem, that of adapting to four volumes the material that had been gathered for one, to cover the vast and complicated story of western history, primarily European, between the Reformation and the French Revolution.

Each volume must have its own unity. The Durants did well to center the present one on the Sun King, who, because of his extended reign, unquestionably had a more and longer influence, good or bad, on his time than any other individual. Still it takes all the authors' long-practiced skill to weave in successfully such other diverse characters as Oliver Cromwell, John Milton, Jonathan Swift, Peter the Great, Sir Isaac Newton and Spinoza.

Durant, who began as a historian of philosophy, is at his best in his splendid portraits of the creative spirits—the philosophers, writers, artists, and scientists. For instance, the section on Dan Swift is one of the best sketches of that tortured soul available to the general reader.

Most of us can trace in this book the beginnings of whatever profession we follow—medicine, chemistry, physics, architecture, engineering, even journalism.

For artistic reasons, it is easy to justify devoting the last as well as the first chapter to Louis XIV, for this gives the book a frame. Certainly we all can welcome artistic historical writing in our age of dull monographs. But in this case we encounter so many more appealing figures than the famous that we are not anxious to be drawn back to home at the end.

Followers of the enthralling story the Durants are telling will look forward to the next volume, "The Age of Voltaire," promised for 1965.

Fischer Quints Off Limits For Curious Sightseers

By GEORGE MOSES
ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Three weeks after the Fischer quintlets were born, a sunbaked farmer hailed an acquaintance in Aberdeen.
"Say, where's St. Luke's Hospital? Think I'll go over and see the quintlets."
"He was back in no time, surprise on his weathered features. They won't let you in," he complained.
"Natives of this South Dakota prairie city could have saved him the trouble.
"They know the four girls and a boy, growing stronger daily, are off limits. Likewise, they have adopted a live-and-let-live policy toward Andy and Mary Ann Fischer, the quint's parents. The Fischers operate in a strange semi-isolation while they carry out their contract for exclusive magazine and television rights to details of their story. Andy has been too busy to return to his $50-a-week job as a shipping clerk.
"Visitors like the farmer call at St. Luke's Hospital at a rate of 15 or 20 a day, hoping to see the babies, born Sept. 14. Other visitors occasionally drive slowly past the Fischer farm two miles northwest of town.

Aberdeen seems uncertain of how to proceed. Increased business, tourist and otherwise, which the quint's are certain to draw, is tempting. But few persons would want it, or admit to wanting it, at the expense of the five's welfare or reasonable privacy.
Plans for a new home for the Fischers, underwritten by the Aberdeen community at up to $100,000, are in low gear.
Architect Clarence L. Herges, who will draw the plans, explains the Fischers haven't picked a site — nor decided whether the quint's will have a separate nursery.
It appears the quint's will go home when their doctor permits, to a weathered nine-room farmhouse. Its stucco sides are faded, but it sports a bright blue shingle roof. A cracked window or two look out on a gravelled farmyard and an old gray and red barn.
No guard is posted to keep away the curious, but few stop. Those who do are turned away politely.
At the hospital the atmosphere is not so casual.
An armed guard, equipped with a midget that lets him see around a corner and down another hall, is on duty 24 hours a day a few feet from the nursery where the quint's gain weight daily. Each must weigh about 5½ pounds before being allowed to go home.
If you're the properly identified parent of a new baby, you'll get by him, for the quint's share $1.

Luke's only nursery with other babies.
But if you aren't you must have special credentials to stand at the nursery window and watch the five healthy babies lying on pink blankets in their individual incubators.

Stock Market Remains Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite improvement in auto and sugar stocks the stock market failed to break out of an irregular price pattern late this afternoon.
Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.07 million Monday.
Steels were mostly lower by small fractions as were airlines, aircrafts, tobaccos, metals, and oils. Utilities, rails and chemicals were mixed. Mail order firms were a bit higher.
Chrysler led the auto section upward, posting a gain of around 3 at one time and reaching a 1963 high.
GM, Ford and American Motors were ahead by around ½.
Amriam Crystal Sugar was higher by about 3½ while Central Aguirre Sugar, South Puerto Rico Sugar, Great Western Sugar and Holly Sugar, each gained more than 1.
Westinghouse, up about 1, and Grayson Robins, higher by a fraction, were heavily traded.
Twentieth Century Fox gained almost 1½.
Aveo held more than 1.
RCA held a gain of about 1½.
Tishman Realty was at 19½, off ½.
American stock exchange prices remained mixed with an edge to the upside in moderate dealings.
The bond market steadied in late trading. Corporate issues were mixed while U.S. government bonds were mostly on a par with Monday's close.

Southerners Seem To Have Capitol Hill 'Under Thumb'

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., complaining the other day about the power enjoyed by Southern Members of Congress, declared:
"The sober truth is that while Grant might have taken Richmond, the South has taken Capitol Hill."
Douglas, who wants new laws on civil rights, was somewhat in the position of a football coach talking about how tough the opposition is.
Still, as can be demonstrated mathematically, the South does have a strong position at the Capitol. This is a factor contributing to new talk of diluting the role of seniority in reaching the top in Congress.
As things now stand, seniority is the basic factor in getting good committee assignments and chairmanships.
Southerners hold more than their geographical share because so many of them have been in Congress for so long, sometimes sympathetic and sometimes opposed to national administration purposes.
The new talk is circulating among a group of self-styled "loyal" House Democrats who say they would not abandon seniority. But they would strike at the seniority of those members who were found to be actively disloyal to the party in presidential elections.
They would have the party caucus, which makes committee assignments in the House, pass over those representatives who support the opposition in 1964.
Those named could be removed from committees on which they have long seniority or could be denied further promotion on the committees. This would lessen their chances of becoming chairmen.
An appraisal of what chances this movement has will have to await the 1964 presidential campaign, to see who among the Democratic members might bolt the national ticket. Some Southerners have bolted in the past, and some are restive about 1964.

But the chances of Congress tinkering very much with the claims of seniority are not all strong.
This is true even though arguments can be made that the system gives power to men who are not necessarily qualified.
The question that up to now has countered attempts to junk the system is this: What better way is there to choose the chairmen?
Chairmen could be appointed by the speaker of the House and the Senate majority leader. But 50 years ago Speaker Joseph Cannon had that power and abused it so that the House took it away from him.

Couldn't the committeemen themselves elect the chairman?
This idea was advanced during the time that Sen. Alben W. Barkley, D-Ky., was majority leader. He said, from the background of a lifetime of political experience, that it just would not work.
He predicted, "Jealousies, ambitions and all the frailties of human nature would crop out in the electioneering methods of men who wanted to be chairmen of committees."

Electric Co. Head Man Steps Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph J. Cordiner, who guided General Electric Co. to new peaks of prosperity and through a stormy price fixing scandal, will step down Dec. 21 as GE head man.
Cordiner, 63, said he plans to devote himself to his citrus and cattle ranch in Florida before compulsory retirement at 65.
Succeeding him as chief executive of the world's largest electrical goods manufacturing firm will be Ferd J. Borch, 53 now executive vice president for operations.
Borch will also become GE president. Gerald L. Philippe, 54, president for two years, will become board chairman.
Cordiner encountered a business and personal crisis in 1960 with the disclosure of a giant electrical goods industry price fixing conspiracy.
Seven electrical concern executives, including three GE officials, drew jail sentences, and fines totaling nearly $2 million were levied against 29 firms. GE paid fines of $437,500 and 12 other GE officials were fined. All subsequently left the company.

Fidel Castro Almost Drowns

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro narrowly escaped drowning when his amphibious vehicle sank during Castro's tour of hurricane-ravaged eastern Cuba, Havana Radio said today.
Peasants quickly threw ropes to Castro, and three aides and they pulled themselves to safety said the broadcast heard in Miami.
The broadcast said waves washed over the open back of the amphibious truck and swamped it as the Castro party tried to cross Larioja River, between Victoria de las Tunas and Holguin in northwest Oriente Province Monday.
Castro and his party were traveling by automobile along the island's central highway. The broadcast said they transferred to the amphibious vehicle because a bridge had been knocked out by high water.
Swift current in the river pushed the vehicle against a tree and it began to sink. The broadcast said the peasants drove a heavy truck to the water's edge and tied one end of ropes thrown to Castro to the truck.
"We sank because the river current was too strong and the amphibious car was open in the back," Castro was quoted as saying after he arrived in Holguin.

Retirement Seen For Colonel Gayle

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Col. Charles A. Gayle, director of the system program office for the controversial TFX fighter plane at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, will retire from active military service next year.
The Aeronautical System Division at Wright-Patterson announced Monday night that Brig. Gen. John L. Zoekler will succeed Gayle, who plans to leave in March.
When Zoekler takes over, he will be designated special assistant to the Aeronautical Systems Division commander, Maj. Gen. Robert G. Ruegg.
Gayle, an aeronautical engineer and former fighter pilot, will reach the 26-year service level in February. He agreed to stay an additional month to provide for an orderly overlap in management of the TFX program.
Gayle, a 47-year-old native of Corsicana, Tex., has made several appearances before the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClelland, of D-Ark., in his probe of the TFX contract award to General Dynamics Corp.

The colonel said he will return to Texas.
"I have 57 acres of land and I want to see what I can do with it raising cattle," he said.
Zoekler formerly was chief of the aircraft and missiles division of the Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson in 1956.
Prior to his reassignment here, he was the first director of the Atlas missile research and development program and more recently commander of the western contract management region for the Air Force Systems Command.

Predictions Of '64 Economic Level

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL, Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's top economist predicted today that the national economy will hit the $600 billion level for the first time early next year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Daily News:
Let us all be prepared for some kind of big scheme to come up just before voting time in 1964, so people will again be fooled into voting for the same socialists that we have in office now.

Remember last October when you looked for once like we would hold our own and Russia was really afraid of us, then we backed right down and let Russia have her way?

We desperately need a change. Ever since Roosevelt's time our government has helped the enemy. Someone said Roosevelt got us into the wrong war at the wrong time for the wrong reason against the wrong enemy.

This is true—we had no business getting into the last two wars fighting for other countries. We are still helping the communists in their wars instead of preparing and strengthening our own nation, "spending ourselves into prosperity." What a preposterous idea.

We are spending ourselves into bankruptcy which will make it so easy for the communists to take over. Let us be on our guard and be prepared to see through the deal that will come up before 1964 election time.

Mrs. W. Ed Murphy

—and bring more benefits to consumers.
The forecast came from Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisors in connection with the submission of the first report to Kennedy of the Consumer Advisory Council.

The consumer council, among other things, recommended "immediate and positive action" to bar racial discrimination against customers of hotels, stores, theaters, restaurants and other businesses. It said a larger tax cut may be required for small taxpayers it called for truth in packaging and lending.

Kennedy created the consumer council in July of last year under the chairmanship of Dr. Helen G. Canover, dean of home economics at Cornell University, to give consumers a stronger voice in government in an advisory capacity.

Since the council was set up under the wing of the Council of Economic Advisors, Heller was asked about improvement of the consumer's position. He said that of course it was improved.

"There is more safety in drugs," he said, "in a TV set you are more sure of getting what you pay for. The advisory agency makes 22 government agencies aware of the consumer for the first time."

Heller said, too, that "as the economy improves the consumer improves."

That brought a question as to the state of the economy. Heller replied that in the next quarter year it should reach a rate of $600 billion a year—the value of all goods and services produced. This means a $100 billion increase since Kennedy took office, he said.

Fellow economists regarded this as a decidedly optimistic view of economic conditions as they may be expected to unfold over the next few months.

The forecast for the present quarter is that national production should hit an annual rate of $592 billion to $594 billion before the year runs out. Heller's figure displays confidence that the economy will keep climbing at a healthy rate and that the outlook is good. It also indicates a confidence that the administration's proposed $11 billion tax cut, already approved by the House, will also clear the Senate in the course.

Cotton Crop Estimate Is Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department estimated the cotton crop today at 14,447,000 bales, an increase of 4 per cent from a month ago.

The Texas crop was estimated at 4,500,000 bales and the yield per acre at 368 pounds. Texas ginnings were 1,417,415 bales compared to 1,422,217 last year.

Production last year was 14,067,000 bales and for the three-year (1957-61) average 12,125,000. The September forecast was 14,310,000.

All cotton crops since 1953 have been grown under federal acreage allotments and marketing quotas seeking to limit overproduction. Allotments were down nearly 10 per cent from last year.

The department estimated the yield at 300 pounds lint per acre compared with 161,900 last month, 112,700 last year and 73,200 for the five-year average.

The Census Bureau said 4,774,172 bales had been ginned prior to Oct. 1 compared with 4,676,990 last year.

Indicated yields in other states included: Arkansas 1,433,000; Louisiana 830,000; Oklahoma 300,000; New Mexico 265,000; Arizona 83,000 and California 1,700,000.

TOKYO (AP)—The Soviet Union turned over a Red Chinese defector to Japanese authorities today.

Eisenhower Would Advise Republicans Mindful Of Ippoming Election Year

EDITOR'S NOTE — How does former President Dwight D. Eisenhower size up various facets of the political picture with an election year in the offing?

Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer, and Marvin L. Arrowsmith, who covered the White House for the AP during the eight years Eisenhower was president, interviewed Eisenhower at the story.

By JACK BELL and MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower wants Republicans to bathe out policy differences publicly at the 1964 convention—and then pick a presidential candidate best representing majority views proclaimed in a large party platform.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Eisenhower said he would "like to see a good lively fight" among delegates on the GOP's course, in that he could have the feeling of consensus of Republican thought" in the choice of presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Eisenhower, who wants this sort of wide-open policy debate on the convention floor, met with AP reporters in his office on the Gettysburg College campus. Here are other points he made in a ranging discussion of political matters:

—He believes he may have been mistaken in interpretation of some of the views of Sen. Barry Goldwater, particularly on repeal of the graduated income tax. But Eisenhower also still believes that before the Arizona senator "can" the GOP's course, in that he could have the feeling of consensus of Republican thought" in the choice of presidential and vice presidential nominees.

—He has "kept very still in expressing a personal preference" for the presidential nomination because "I have no intention of trying to be a kingmaker." But he thinks three or four men he declined to name are more highly qualified than others to be president.

—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has told him he was removing himself absolutely from the 1964 presidential nomination contest. "But," says Eisenhower, "I suppose that if suddenly there was a wave of support that threw him again into the race, there would be no question about his capacity to perform the job."

Question: Mr. President, you had quite a bit of experience in the field. What kind of a president do you think Kennedy is making?

Gen. Eisenhower: One thing I have always avoided is dealing in personalities. But I will say that in almost every domestic program I see what I consider is a degree of, if not recklessness, at least of carelessness in our budgetary affairs, so that there are few domestic programs that I could agree with wholly.

Q. The other day you wrote that you are unclear on precisely what are Sen. Goldwater's present views. You called on him and other Republican presidential possibilities to state their views clearly. On what particular issues are you unclear about Goldwater? Do they include, for example, civil rights?

A. I don't know exactly what he has said about civil rights, but I think he has probably taken a moderate course. I believe he must believe, like all of us, in progress in this field. As a matter of fact, I believe in just as fast progress as we can make, but it must not be so impulsive as to be destructive.

Q. Sen. Goldwater professed himself to be mystified, saying he thought he had made his views on the issues very clear.

A. I may have been mistaken, but I thought at one time he had argued for complete repeal of the graduated income tax. In this I have been told that I was mistaken. But a couple of weeks ago, in an interview, he said he was against it in principle. He thought the only practical thing to do was to keep the graduated tax in proper bounds, useful bounds, that would do the least damage to incentives and our capabilities of accumulating reinvestments capital while we were getting the necessary revenues to run the country.

I accept this attitude, except that I believe the graduated income tax is, within reason, correct in principle, too. I think unquestionably his view now is one that would be close to mine. But there have been a number of views in the past that my friends and I, in our talks, have just not known in detail.

no intention of getting people in here and trying to be a kingmaker. I would deplore that on anyone's part and I certainly want to have no part of it.

Q. There has been talk that the Republicans might turn again to Richard Nixon as the strongest man to contend against President Kennedy. Would you like to see Nixon have another chance?

A. I don't think he wants it. He is still a very highly qualified man for the job. He didn't win and that, of course, people would remember. But he is very well, you might say, "atrophied" in the duties and the tribulations and the trials and the tests that come to the top man. And this is very important.

Q. Have you had any conversation with him about this?

A. When he came from California to New York, he called me and said that one reason he was making the change was so he could be free to talk about political questions without, by any manner of means, being considered as a political candidate. He said, "You can't transfer from one

Group Against Name Change

LUBBOCK (AP)—The faculty advisory committee of Texas Technological College voted Monday to support the student council and student newspaper in opposing a change in the school's name to Texas Technological University.

Manuel DeBusk of Dallas, chairman of the board of directors for the college, said Saturday he will recommend to the Board Nov. 1 that the name be changed to Texas Technological University.

The faculty and student groups and the Treasurer, student newspaper, want the name to be Texas State University. They argued that the school is no longer a technological institution.

"The problem has been kicked around and further debate would be detrimental to the school," DeBusk said. "The board is ready to act."

DeBusk said the controversy does not center around making the school a university but whether the word "technological"

Release Or Retrial Is Ordered

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel T. Williams, 34, who has served 18 years of a life sentence on a murder conviction; has been ordered released from prison or retried promptly.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Monday his confession was obtained by coercion. It added that it was "unlikely" that Williams would be tried again since the purported confession was the only real evidence against him.

Williams, a Negro, was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the slaying of a girl during a burglary in Brooklyn. Thomas E. Dewey, then governor, commuted the sentence.

Wisdom Of Founding Fathers Grows Ever More Miraculous

BY INEZ ROBB

The awesome wisdom of the Founding Fathers grows more miraculous with the passage of time. The years only supply additional proof of their brilliant insight into human nature and the nature of human events, and the impact of both on a government of laws.

One of the Founders' astute and hardheaded decisions was the placing of a civilian at the head of the nation's military complex.

The Founding Fathers had before them, as an exemplary case history, one of the noblest of them all, George Washington — first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen and, first of all, a civilian.

At all odds, no military junta has ever seized power in this country, deposed a duly elected President, dissolved Congress and ruled by fiat. Even when the ballot box has been stuffed on occasion, it has remained sacred. The ballot box, per se, not the caribee and the bullet, has been and still is the authoritative symbol of power in this country.

All these long thoughts about the genius of the Founding Fathers has been occasioned, as anyone can guess, by the sharp repudiation of the ballot box in Central and South America. In less than two weeks, the military, unchecked by effective civilian control as in the United States, has deposed the duly elected President, first, of the Dominican Republic and, second, of Honduras.

There can be no doubt that the trend toward military dictatorships is ballooning in Central and South America. The military coup d'etat in the Dominican Republic and in Honduras only follows by months similar seizures in Guatemala and in Ecuador.

There is much official speculation as to how much longer the military will stay its restless hand in El Salvador, in Brazil and in Venezuela. Certainly, no one can ever be the figurehead of the Argentine government without the consent of the military.

But north of the border, the tradition of military subservience to civilian authority is so strong that the blatherings of a Gen. Robert Walker (retired) and a Gen. Herbert C. Holdridge (fortunately, retired, too) get no attention except from John Birchers and their ilk.

There are pockets of retired military officers, mainly in California, who agitate on the far, far right. But the point is that when we citizens go to bed at night, we're certain of at least one thing in this uncertain world: We won't wake up in the morning to discover that a military junta has taken over the nation and banished all democratic processes. The present civilian head of the nation's military complex is one of the most brilliant public servants in the memory of man. He is, in fact, too brilliant for his own good if not for that of his country. His intellectual prowess is offensive to many a Congressman with whom he must deal on the Hill.

And his heartening belief that Congress really meant it when it ordered unification of the services, has offended not only some powerful military men but their "patrons" in Congress.

The current Secretary of Defense has been subject to an extraordinary amount of abuse for the simple reason that he is so good at this job and so obviously irrefutable.

But even the Secretary's severest critics, both in and out of the military establishment, would be outraged at the mere thought of a military seizure of power in the United States.

It is unthinkable to any citizen, in or out of uniform. And we owe it in large part to the wisdom of the Founding Fathers who put the armed forces where they belong in a democratic nation — under civilian authority.

Memories Are Clue To Person's Age

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is hard to tell the age of men and women today.

There is a conspiracy to stay young.

Gray hair is tinted another color, cosmetics give a youthful complexion, diets keep figures trim, and—for those who can afford it—plastic surgeons remove tattletale wrinkles.

But no matter how skillfully you camouflage your exterior, you have a secret betrayer within. That is your memory. And it will quickly give away your real age anytime you succumb to the temptation of reminiscing out loud.

Certainly you're no longer a spring chicken if you can remember when—

Casey Stengel was a madcap outfielder for the New York Giants.

Red Grange kept in shape for football by delivering ice in the summer.

There were two things you could be sure of: (1) Nobody would ever climb Mt. Everest, and (2) no man would ever run a 4-minute mile.

Girls wore dresses so short you could see their rolled stockings on a breezy day.

A pet dog ate the scraps from the family table, and didn't require a special menu of its own.

Most workmen wore white shirts only on Saturday nights and Sundays.

Young ladies used to sit in the backyard with a towel wrapped around their necks and let the hot sun dry their long hair.

Father always wore earmuffs to work on a cold day.

When you're sick in the house, neighbor ladies always baked fresh bread and sent it over.

And your knowledge that his grandpa was old and might die at any time was compensated for by the hope that he might get the old man's watch.

Then you studied reading, writing and arithmetic in school — instead of social adjustment and group adaptability.

It was the height of romantic ecstasy to let your foot as you both pumped the player piano in the living room.

Any town that didn't have at least two pool halls was really only a village.

Half the young sports in America were growing sidouris and arguing down their hair so they'd look more like Rudolph Valentino.

Remember? If you do, don't admit it—or everyone under 40 will either put you down as a contemporary of Methuselah, or think you're still in mourning for William B. McKinley.

Junior Editors Quiz on FARM ANIMALS

ANSWER: Horses, like many other animals, are creatures of habit, and like to have things done the same way each time. They have been trained to understand that when you approach from the left side you may mount them, but they might be startled if you tried to mount from the right side. Using the left side is said to have come from the old days when riders, such as the knight in chain armor which we show, had to mount a horse with a long sword hanging by his left side, if he had mounted from the right the weight of both left leg and sword would have to be thrown over the horse's back, making it a clumsy operation.

Cows these days are by no means all milked from the right side. Most cows are milked by machine, in which case it doesn't matter which side you use. In the days of hand milking, however, most milking was from the right side because most people are right handed. It is more natural for a right-handed person to reach under the milk bag with the right hand, as our pictures (B) and (C) show.

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine there's some enemy standing in front of you which you have to knock out fast. Take a swat at him through the air. Which hand did you use? Chances are, the right. This shows how a right-handed person uses his right for the job. Further more.

FBI Probes Businesses Of Former Senate Page Boy

By JOHN CHADWICK
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has launched an investigation into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker, 36, who resigned his $19,600 a year post as secretary to the Democratic majority in the Senate.

A Justice Department source disclosed the investigation shortly before Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield announced Baker's resignation Monday.

The inquiry apparently began with allegations in a $300,000 civil damage suit that Baker used his office to help win contracts with a government defense subcontractor for an automatic vending machine company with which he had financial dealings.

Baker was to have met with Senate leaders of both parties Monday afternoon but turned in his resignation before the meeting.

A former Senate page who came here from Pickens, S.C., Baker was named secretary of the majority eight years ago when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was Senate majority leader. He reputedly was a Johnson protégé.

Baker's wife is also on the government payroll, serving as record manager for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee at $11,800 a year.

Mansfield said in a statement that Baker had "discharged his responsibility to the majority with great intelligence and understanding" and that "his great ability and his dedication to the majority and to the Senate will be missed."

"Developments during the past few weeks, however, have made it apparent to him that it would be best if he withdrew from office," Mansfield added.

"He has acted, as was to be expected of those who know him, in what he believes are the highest interests of the Senate and the majority. I deeply regret the necessity for his resignation and the necessity for its acceptance."

Mansfield declined to say beyond his statement except to say "it has been a most difficult situation."

There was no immediate comment from Baker.

Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota who sat in at the meeting after which Baker's resignation was announced, said the Democratic majority, who had chosen him, did not request his resignation.

Among the other senators at the session were Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., George A. Smathers, D-Fla., Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who has been conducting his own inquiry into Baker's business activities.

"I was disappointed that Bobby did not come to the meeting to answer some questions," said Williams.

Francis R. Valeo, 47, administrative assistant to the majority leader, was assigned by Mansfield to take over Baker's duties. Valeo will serve as acting secretary to the majority pending action by the conference of Democratic senators.

Baker's business dealings came to light Sept. 9 in a law suit filed in U.S. District Court by Capitol Vending Inc. against Serv-U Corp., a vending firm with which the

Sinatra Gives Up Gaming Interests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer Frank Sinatra, who surrendered $3.5 million in Nevada gaming interests, says he's going to concentrate on the entertainment field from now on.

But he wished the gambling industry good luck in parting, Casinos, he said, make jobs for entertainers and he's all for them.

The singer's withdrawal was expected to end further action by the commission, although technically it still could proceed.

The Gaming Control Board had asked the State Gaming Commission to revoke Sinatra's license to operate his parent organization, to revoke Sinatra's gaming license at Cal-Neva and to force him to give up his 9 per cent interest in the Sands hotel in Las Vegas.

Sinatra's interest in Cal-Neva was estimated at $3 million, his Sands hotel holdings at about $380,000.

Cooler Air In Northeast

CHICAGO (AP)—Cooler air spread into much of the Northeast today after a brief spell of unseasonably warm weather in many areas.

Temperatures also moderated in much of the Midwest after Sunday's record high marks for October in many states. Monday's temperatures cooled back into the middle 90s to the 80s in areas from Oklahoma into New England, with record high readings for October in many cities.

Generally fair weather prevailed across most of the nation. Light rain fell from New England southwestward into the Great Lakes region. More showers sprinkled areas in southeastern Florida.

It was a little chilly from the northern Great Lakes into the northern Plains and in the mountain areas of the West with temperatures in the 40s.

The University of Kentucky lists a series edge on only three of its 1963 football foes—Virginia Tech, Detroit and Miami of Florida.

Among the other senators at the session were Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., George A. Smathers, D-Fla., Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who has been conducting his own inquiry into Baker's business activities.

Movie Distributors Strike In Old Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — As a strike against American movie distributors went into its 57th day, there were reports today that leaders of the striking unions and management may get together for more talks.

The unions are demanding more pay and benefits which distributors claim would be illegal.

As a result of the strike, U.S. movies are banned in theaters here and Mexican distributors are experiencing a minor boom in business.

By surmising where on the Minnesota-Ontario border canoes of France's 18th Century traders may have foundered, scuba divers have emerged with rust-covered muskets, axes, spears, brass kettles and other goods that the voyagers intended to exchange for beaver pelts.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MAZATLAN, Mexico — Nothing but National Geographic type color scenery, 24-carat sunshine and a cooling breeze from the sea today. This is what got me in a fix.

With weather like this around you become confident. And I let the little Hertz car in the hotel garage (mine is in a Mexico City hospital after an unexpected tie at an intersection) and chartered a bicycle.

There is a long boulevard that winds around the waterfront and has a flock of names. In a handful of blocks it goes from Paseo Centenario to Paseo Clausen to Avenue del Mary and that's as far as I read the signs. I re-named the whole thing Ocean Boulevard, although Mazatlan may not give this official recognition.

Anyhow, it has the beach with

American Explorers Return; Unaware Object Of Search

By LOU ARMijo
CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP)—A group of American explorers, none of whom had been heard from in more than a week, arrived here today greatly surprised that a search had been launched for them.

The explorers, including two young women, were discovered Monday at the primitive village of Creel, located about 7,000 feet above sea level in the mountains of northwest Mexico. The ten men and the two women arrived by train. Two other members of the party, with vacation time still on their hands, went to the Pacific coast resort of Las Mochis.

The party was greeted at the station by James D. Dean, 31, Salt Lake City, Utah. Dean was a member of the expedition when it started a proposed 120-mile float trip Sept. 25 down the Rio Urique. The river flows through the Barranca de Cobre gorge, an area described as more rugged and dangerous than the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

The party covered only eight miles in four days because of low water and boulders—at least two stories tall—in the river. Running low on food, Dean and Larry Davis, 26, of Price, Utah, left on foot to pick up supplies at a mining camp. It took them another four days to cover 15 miles. They finally met some Indians who took them to the mining camp. Dean, however, was hospitalized at Chihuahua suffering from exhaustion, dehydration, bruises and abrasions.

Davis returned to the main party accompanied by a Mexican guide and two Indians. Nothing was heard from the group until Sunday when a search plane spotted their boats beached in the canyon.

Mexican and U.S. authorities then began preparations for a combined search and rescue effort. U.S. Vice Consul Robert Homme of Juarez, Mex., was aboard the aircraft that spotted the party in Creel Monday.

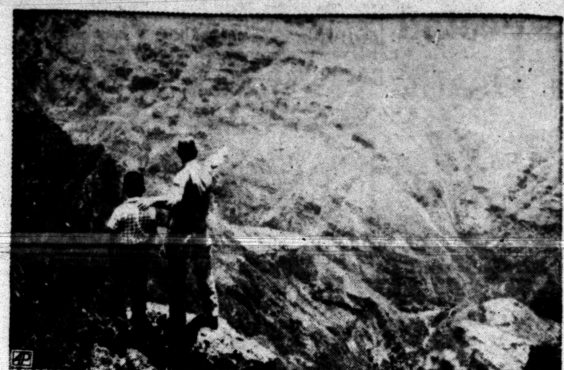

The plane landed at Creel and Homme later reported all 14 were healthy except for blisters and sunburn. "The two women looked better than anyone," he said. They are Janice Cross, 19, daughter of the expedition leader, Dr. John L. Cross Sr., 45, of Orem, Utah, and Mary Ellen O'Reilly, 26, of Black Eddy, Pa. Cross said "about six of the group, including the two girls, want to try the trip again." The group decided to abandon the trip, said Cross, because most of the members had only a limited time to make the trip. "This was the only reason for quitting. I'm sure we can make it next time," he added.

The river never has been traversed by boat, according to Cross. The party did not run out of food, said Cross. The only inconvenience experienced was short rations made necessary by the delay in reaching supply points.

Giles Barton, 38, La Canada, Calif., and E. A. Moore, 34, Burbank, Calif., both businessmen and amateur river-runners are en route to Las Mochis where they plan to spend the remainder of their vacation.

Others arriving here with Cross, his daughter and Miss O'Reilly, were Davis, John L. Cross Jr., 21, son of the expedition leader, and Verne Thurber, both of Orem, Utah; Dr. Wilmer J. Tanner, Provo, Utah; Ward J. Roylance, Bill Roylance, Al W. Morton, Leroy M. Sessions, and Dr. Fred Bischoff, all of Salt Lake City.

S. was reported to be trapped and unable to get out. The river, Urique, which the party was attempting to conquer, is shown at the lower right. The Mexican canyon has been described as larger than Arizona's Grand Canyon. The expedition has returned safely. (AP Wirephoto)

Injured Snyder Man Said Recovering Well

Doyle Buchanan, Snyder man who was seriously injured in a car-train collision Aug. 26, was taken to Lubbock Monday for treatment and returned to Snyder by Bolger Ambulance Service. According to reports, Buchanan is progressing well. The bone specialist in Lubbock who is treating him for a leg injury had Buchanan walking and putting his weight on the leg for the first time since the accident. Buchanan is a patient at Ogden Memorial Hospital. The Air Force Academy football team this fall plays Washington, Nebraska and Boston College for the first time.

Draft Quota Is Increased Again

AUSTIN (AP)—State draft headquarters disclosed today another increase in the Texas quota for November. The November draft is for 668 men, compared to 847 for October. State draft calls have been on the rise since August when 852 men were requested. State quotas in July and June were 349 and 187. The national draft quota is 17,000 men. More than 3,000 men in Texas will take pre-induction physical and mental examinations.

Property Taxes Of $880 Million Seen

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Research League estimates that at least $880 million in property taxes will be collected in Texas this year. The privately financed group reported today that only about five per cent or about $42 million of this total will go to the state with counties, cities, school districts and special districts getting the rest.
