FROST PREDICTED IN AREA

Destruction Is Left In Wake Of Twisters

Nearly 250 Are Reported Injured; Property Loss Estimated Over Million

(By The Associated Press)

Splintered homes in the wake of tornadoes that struck five midwestern states yielded more bodies today and raised the death total to 32 persons. Nearly 250 were injured, hundreds were homeless, and unofficial estimates placed the damage at more than $1,000,000.

The twisting storms, laden with hail and torrential rain, struck hardest in central Illinois, where at least 10 were dead. Next hardest hit was southeastern Kansas, where seven, including three children, were killed.

Five Dead In Missouri

The Kansas storm struck about noon yesterday. It started in northeastern Oklahoma; later knifed into southwestern Missouri. Five were known dead in Missouri storms.

About sundown what apparently was a separate storm twisted across Illinois from the southeast, dipping to earth in the Pekin area. Bushville and Astoria also were hard hit.

Arkansas Area Struck

Another twister lashed at Heber Springs, Ark., killing four persons. Then it swung up through southeastern Missouri, accounting for three of Missouri's dead at Nelleyville. An earlier Arkansas blow had killed a woman at Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Baird, both about 55, were killed when wind demolished their home near Minturn, Ark., last night.

Three Miles Wide

The three-mile wide Illinois storm left an estimated 85 persons injured. Six of the dead were at South Pekin. Mrs. Roger Morris was killed when her home was destroyed. Mrs. Conner Sullers was picked up and tossed to her death as she stepped from a church, and Hilco Johnson, father of six children, was killed when the wind demolished a railroad roundhouse.

Six others were killed in and around Pekin. At Venice, Val Ste-

Charge Is Filed Against Youth

J. R. Rae, 22, Coleman county farm youth, this morning waived examining trial in the court of S. E. McMillan, justice of peace, and was bound over under $5,000 bond to grand jury action on a charge of robbery.

Specifically, the complaint, signed before Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney, by Sheriff Tom Abel, set out Rae had taken $5 in currency and a gold watch from Sam B. Bardwell, Lubbock business man, March 17.

Similar Complaint Filed

Ballinger officials had filed a similar complaint in Runnels county Wednesday, before Sheriff Abel transferred the man to Lubbock county jail.

Bardwell, who identified Rae at Ballinger Wednesday, had told authorities of a wild ride with the man after picking him up near Lubbock. He said the man commandeered the Bardwell machine and, driving recklessly, stopped only for gasoline and to pick up hitchhikers before reaching downtown Ballinger, where Bardwell leaped from the speeding car.

Made Oral Statements

At Ballinger, Rae made oral statements before sheriffs and newspapermen and, en route to Lubbock, he amplified his expressions.

This morning however, his only statement was: "I have only one statement; all that stuff in the

Missing Fliers In Pacific Are Sought

HONOLULU, March 31 (AP)—Sixty-five American warships and 240 fighting planes were ordered into an intensified search at dawn today for six naval airmen who vanished during mimic warfare which had already cost the lives of five fellow aviators.

No trace of the plane was found during a night-long search, begun after it disappeared yesterday morning.

Naval officers still held hope the names of the six aboard would not be added to the growing list of naval fliers killed during fleet maneuvers this year.

Five men were killed yesterday when their plane crashed off Walanae, Oahu island, in the third major fleet air tragedy of the year. Two others of the crew escaped with their lives.

Extra Call Is Made Today For Payment Of State Warrants

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—As a result of heavy ad valorem tax collections the past few months, State Treasurer Charley Lockhart made an extra call today for payment of Confederate pension warrants. He said the Confederate pension fund deficit had shrunk to $4,268,157 on March 29.

The treasury announced it would pay from the Confederate pension fund all pension warrants through the September, 1936 issue regardless of whether they had been discontinued and purchase for the state highway investment fund warrants through the September, 1937, issue provided they had not been discounted.

Bill To Give Railroad Workers Own Insurance Plan Offered

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—Senator Wagner (D-NY) and Representative Crosser (D-Ohio) drafted legislation today to give 1,000,000 railroad workers an unemployment insurance system of their own.

Advocated by the Railroad Labor Executives association, the bill would lay a three per cent tax on pay envelopes of $300 a month or less, to be paid by the carriers.

Any employe earning as much as $150 a year would be eligible to benefits ranging from $1.75 to $3 a day for 80 days.

Attendance rush started early this afternoon at the 16th semi-annual wholesale clothing market which opened at Lubbock hotel this morning, to continue through Sunday.

Most of the registrations were expected in advance of the dinner-dance in the main ballroom at the Hilton hotel which is to begin at 7:30 p. m. A floor show will be presented with Ned Bradley's orchestra furnishing the music.

Five Floors Reserved

Exhibits of the more than 70 jobbers here for the market were on display on schedule before 8 o'clock this morning. Five floors of the hotel have been reserved for that purpose.

Represented by the jobbers is every important style center in the United States. The merchandise on display represents an investment of probably more than half a million dollars, including evening gowns which retail for several hundred dollars.

Open Until 6:30 Today

Open hours of the market today will be until 6:30 p. m. During remaining days of the four-day event they will be from 8 a. m. until as late at night as business requires.

Retailers who have not yet secured their dinner-dance tickets were requested to present their credentials at the registration booth in the lobby of the Lubbock before 6:30 p. m. Admission to the dance will be by ticket only, officials warned.

Is Aid To Merchants

The market is sponsored by Western Wholesale Clothing Market association as a means of bringing together a selected list of jobbers from all parts of the United States and the retailers from an area of approximately 200,000 square miles in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Officials of the market association are Luther Godwin, president; I. A. Stephens and Ernest T. Pope, vice presidents; and O. J. Sexton.

Three Obstacles To Adjournment Seen

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Congressional leaders foresaw today three possible obstacles to a May adjournment—the wage-hour bill, the Hungarian debt settlement proposal, and railroad legislation.

Democratic leader Barkley (D-KY) said he hoped the senate could dispose of the tax revision bill, the $1,100,000,000 naval expansion program, and the proposed $1,000,000,000 relief measure in April.

This would clear the senate calendar, he said, unless consideration of Hungary's debt program should result in a lengthy senate debate on the entire war debt question.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), house floor leader, said he thought that chamber could complete its present program by May 1. But other members said that if efforts to revive the wage-hour bill are successful, the picture may change. A subcommittee is drafting a modified measure in the hope of winning greater support.

Western Congressmen Give Approval To Highway Move

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—Western congressmen at a dinner last night in honor of Gene Howe, Amarillo editor, endorsed a move to designate U. S. highway 66 as the Will Rogers Memorial highway.

Called together by Carl Hinton, manager of the Amarillo, Tex., Chamber of Commerce and director of the Will Rogers Memorial highway association, the group agreed to invite President Roosevelt to attend dedication ceremonies of the Los Angeles-Chicago route in Amarillo next August.

TRUSTY IS SOUGHT

HUNTSVILLE, March 31 (AP)—Wynne state prison farm officials searched today for A. A. Bergdorf, 56-year-old state approved trusty who walked off yesterday afternoon from his duties of tending chickens.

Bergdorf, native of Big Spring, was serving a 99-year sentence from Howard county on a murder conviction, prison records showed.

Fruit May Be Killed; Down To 31 Today

Wet Freeze Could Do Much Damage; Large Amount Of Fruit Already Budded

Frost with a minimum temperature of 32 degrees or lower was predicted for Northwest Texas among other areas for West Texas for tonight by the weather bureau at Dallas, according to a dispatch from the Associated Press.

The weather bureau declined to predict, however, whether the frost would kill anything.

Down To 31 Today

State experiment sub-station reported a minimum this morning of 31 degrees and West Texas Gas company's main line station, 33 degrees. No frost was reported and it was not thought that any damage was done.

With a wet freeze, a low of 33 degrees could be had without much serious damage to fruit, either in bud or fruit. If not a wet freeze, it was said, a low of 32 or 33 degrees for any length of time might do damage.

Dr. A. W. Young of Texas Technological college said he thought the small fruit might stand a litle lower temperature than the buds. Nearly all fruit trees are either in bud or have budded.

New Party Set Up In Mexico

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, March 31. — A new "party of the revolution" came into being today to carry on the nation's Mexico for Mexican's program, looking toward a society without classes in a socialist state.

The new party of laborers, farmers and soldiers is an intensified government party, taking over the organization of President Cardenas' former national revolutionary party. Barba Gonzalez, head of the old party, was named president of the new.

Calls For Nationalization

Its proposed platform, presented in convention last night, carries a call for "progressive nationalization of big industry" (like expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign-owned oil industry.)

The taking over of the oil industry from 17 American, British and Netherlands owners brought vigorous United States representations asking how Mexico would pay indemnity, and today there were indications of a possible split in Cardenas' hitherto solid congressional support.

Special Session Called

A special session of congress will take up the oil question April 11. It was ascertained that before then at least ten senators were preparing to ask the president how Mexico would find foreign markets for the

PURCHASE IS SUGGESTED

LOS ANGELES, March 31. (AP) — A panacea for Mexico's financial ills was suggested today by Col. William H. Evans as the purchase of lower California by the United States.

In telegrams to President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull and President Cardenas, Col. Evans urged consideration of the purchase plan, which is embodied in Rep. Charles Kramer's bill now pending in congress.

Woodul Seeks Attorneyship

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, March 31.—Walter Woodul, twice lieutenant governor of Texas, announced for attorney general today with a promise to enforce the anti-trust and oil laws and conduct a non-political office.

The bespectacled Houstonian, who served terms in the Texas senate and house before being elected lieutenant governor first in 1934, has served 18 times as acting governor during absence of Governor James Allred.

Plans Active Campaign

Woodul said he planned to make an active campaign "on my own merits, visiting as many sections as time permits and discussing frankly issues involved in the race."

"If elected, I shall safeguard to my utmost ability the interest of the people of Texas and of the public schools in the public domain," Woodul said. "I shall enforce the anti-trust laws, the oil laws and all other laws it may become the attorney general's duty to enforce."

Unopposed In 1936

Woodul received a record-breaking vote for lieutenant governor in 1934 and was unopposed in 1936, polling a heavy vote.

Woodul, while a member of the state legislature, advocated passage of laws for a unified highway system, better schools, improved social conditions, improved labor conditions and laws intended to aid farmers and livestock raisers.

Austrian Legionnaires Return Home As Triumphant Nazis

(By The Associated Press)

SALZBURG, Austria, March 31.—The Austrian legion came home today.

These Austrian Nazis fled into Germany in 1933 and 1934 as outlaws, tattered tramps—fugitives from the laws of Engelbert Dollfuss' and Kurt Schuschnigg's independent Austria.

They returned a carefully drilled, motorized corps, neatly uniformed as Nazi storm troopers. How many returned was an official secret, but one estimate placed 14,000 in the line that thousands of cheering, weeping home folk greeted.

They were perfectly disciplined—which tended to set at rest rumors that their return would bring vengeful action.

They crossed the Austrian border—now stripped of customs barriers—at Rott, near here, in a chilly rainstorm. Only a handful saw the actual crossing.

Over the former boundary was the banner: "The Homeland Greets You." The roads to Salzburg were lined by hun-

Roosevelt Has 'No Inclination To Be A Dictator'

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 31—President Roosevelt, charging organized opponents of his government reorganization program had "planted bogies under every bed," asserted in a letter made public today he had "no inclination to be a dictator."

The letter, addressed to an unnamed friend under date of March 29, urged approval of the measure "in its present form" and replied to charges that the legislation would make him a dictator by asserting:

"As you well know, I am as much opposed to an American dictatorship as you are, for three simple reasons:

"(A) I have no inclination to be a dictator.

"(B) I have none of the qualifications which would make me a successful dictator.

"(c) I have too much historical background and too much knowledge of existing dictatorships to make me desire any form of dictatorship for a democracy like the United States of America."

Made Public Early Today

The letter was made public by Secretary Marvin McIntyre shortly before 1 a. m. (CST). There was no explanation for the late release except that the president made up his mind to issue it before midnight and it required almost two hours to prepare it for the press.

The president made his decision while resting from a 120-mile motor trip to and from Fort Benning late yesterday to inspect the troops and equipment of the noted infantry post.

Name Is Withheld

The name of the president's correspondent regarding reorganization was withheld because McIntyre said in a prefatory statement "he did not write for publicity purposes."

In the communication today he recalled that when he proposed the legislation over a year ago all parties and factions agreed on the need of such a measure, but that a year later "a carefully manufactured partisan and political opposition to any reorganization had created a political issue—created it deliberately out of the whole cloth."

As examples of the "bogies" he contended had been planted by the opposition he said it had been charged that the army engineer corps was to be abolished "in spite

REACTION IS REPORTED

WASHINGTON, March 31. (AP)—Foes and friends of the administration's reorganization bill termed "a perfect fake" and "an admirable statement" today the letter in which President Roosevelt asserted "I have no inclination to be a dictator."

Representative Snell (R-NY), the house Republican leader, used the "fake" expression when he told reporters the president's letter to an unnamed correspondent was "purely an effort to get the front page" and "get people's mind off" the controversial reorganization bill.

Snell added that "I don't see what there was to get people up in the middle of the night for. He's said that a million times."

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic senate leader, in terming the letter "a very admirable statement;" said it was one "the sincerity of which will be conceded by everybody who knows the president."

Senator Burke (D-Neb), a leader of senate forces who fought the reorganization bill, said he was "astonished that the matter has gone to the point where the president found it necessary to refute the charge that he had ambitions to become a dictator."

The militiamen said they had evaded guards placed by the Barcelona government to prevent deserters reaching France. They said they were convinced there was no other way of escaping the insurgent onsweep.

Gin Problems Talked Here

Cooperative ginners of the South Plains, including both directors and managers as well as stockholders, held their annual meeting here yesterday and heard discussed matters pertaining to their work. Sessions were held in the Hilton hotel and were presided over by G. A. Vestal, Quanah, president of the Texas Cooperative Insurance Co., and by J. E. Montgomery, Tynan, president of the Texas Cooperative Ginners association.

Visitors were urged to attend the annual meeting of the Texas Cooperative Ginners association at Dallas, next Tuesday, and the state ginners meeting Wednesday and Thursday.

Two Hundred Register

F. G. Campbell, manager of the Lubbock Cooperative oil mill, acting as secretary, reported registration of 200, including representatives of 35 out of 44 cooperative gins and from eight other cooperative groups. There were divisions of agriculture students in both morning and afternoon sessions, about 50 at each meeting.

The meeting was divided into three groups, ginners and directors meeting in the morning; Farmers Cooperative Insurance Co., and Cooperative Gin Service and Supply Co., in the afternoon and stockholders of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives at a dinner meeting last night. A luncheon was held at noon.

G. A. Vestal Presides

G. A. Vestal, Quanah, president of the groups, presided at the afternoon session. Roy Sanders, Greenville, with the U. S. D. A., discussed quality cotton seed and how to obtain it. He gave a resume of results of five years planting of standard seeds at five stations in north and east Texas. "Spinners could look to Texas for quality of cotton," he said, if farmers would control quality by better seed.

Sanders stressed the one variety cotton program and advised cooperative ginners to urge farmers to use one variety, thus keeping the seed pure. Texas cooperative ginners could handle sale of a million bushels of seed annually.

Protection Is Needed

J. R. McCreary, Calvert, president of the Texas Cooperative council and active in the insurance field, spoke on lowering the cost of insurance. He urged a "more equitable distribution of the profits of agriculture," and said the nation "should give to agriculture the same protection it gives to other industries." He attacked Lawrence Westbrook, Texan, who is aiding a senate committee investigating cotton cooperatives.

Vestal made a brief report of activities of his own cooperative gin which has handled 85,700 bales of cotton in 15 years. Savings were $270,000 or an average of $3.20 per bale. He urged a high density press be set up at each cooperative gin, saying it would reduce the costs of ginning and processing of cotton to farmers.

Claude Terry, Houston, formerly of Plainview, manager of the insurance cooperative and the gin service, outlined plans for a trip to Washington to urge Secretary Wallace to establish a cotton laboratory in Texas. He reported on the cost of establishing the two groups and said that from August 28 to December 31, $1,365,000 in insurance on gin properties was written.

Director Is Retained

In an election for director from this district, J. O. Edler, Crosbyton, was retained by a 5 to 4 vote over John Heck, Wilson.

Sec. H. D. Wade presided over a program following the luncheon. Edler welcomed the visitors and McCreary responded. A number of visitors spoke briefly, including R. D. Jones, Lubbock; Earl T. Duke, instructor in agronomy at Texas Technological college; Finley R. White, Briscoe county agent who introduced several other agents; Dr. E. L. McBride, Texas Technological college; Manager Campbell of the cooperative oil mill; Ralph W. Moore, master of Texas grange; Sterling C. Evans, president Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

Expressions of sympathy for President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college were given and a rising vote of the audience wishing his rapid recovery was later given.

Is This the Reason You Are Constipated?

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk"! Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1. Eat this crisp crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Beneficial Rains In March Favorable To Valley Crops

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—Beneficial rains during the first half of March were favorable for South Texas vegetable crops, the U. S. Bureau of agriculture economics reported today.

Spring beans in lower Rio Grande valley were beginning to move in solid carlots, the tomato crop was in good condition and potatoes were beginning the movement to market, the report said.

Early watermelon plantings were up and in good condition and harvesting of strawberries in the Poteet and Carrizo Springs areas was under way.

Flattering Topcoat

In a season when there's much talk about coats that are fitted and flared, conservatives and those who shop with an eye on the budget still will want this type of topcoat. Of navy and white wool tweed in novelty, broken herringbone design, it is flattering to women of all ages and sizes. And it's a "backlog" model—something equally suitable for town or country and sure to be as smart next year and the year after as it is right now. It's shown over a navy town sheer, and would be just as stunning over a tweed sports skirt and a couple of sweaters.

Shipments On Barge Lines To Be Held Up By Labor Trouble

KANSAS CITY, March 31. (AP)—The federal barge lines will accept no shipments of freight here pending settlement of labor troubles on the New Orleans docks, M. Clifford Crocker, terminal superintendent for the lines here, announced today.

First barge shipments of the season were scheduled to leave here Saturday after arrival of the Tom Sawyer, which left St. Louis Tuesday laden with farm equipment. The Sawyer probably will be unloaded here and sent empty back to St. Louis, Crocker said.

He quoted a statement issued by the lines at New Orleans stating it is "only fair to our patrons" not to accept shipments until settlement of labor difficulties.

Markets Of Italy, Germany And Japan Likely Outlets Of Mexico's Oil

ardenas May hange Plans

(By The Associated Press)

EXICO CITY, March 31.—The kets of Italy, Germany and Ja- were pictured in some inform- quarters today as a likely output the production of Mexico's ex- priated oil industry.

his solution was advanced as la- , diplomatic and financial com- ations confronted President denas, who has summoned an gent" session of Congress to et problems arising from his ex- priation of the $400,000,000 Brit- and American industry.

Date Is Not Set

ate of the session has not been but it was expected to be early April.

With the country's purchasing er abroad cut sharply by fluctu- on of the peso, United States sus- sion of silver purchases, and a ing silver market, it was asserted xico might be forced to trade h other nations similarly lacking eign exchange.

Although it was recalled Car- as had said he would sell oil y to democratic countries, some ervers declared that because of desparate need for an immediate rket he sooner or later would sp any helping hand.

Every Tank Is Filled

The government's problem was st illustrated by the situation at mpico where every oil storage nk was said to be filled, and ere was no place to put refined because of lack of foreign mar- ts since the expropriation March

Supporting assertions that Mexi- , despite liberal tendencies, might mp its oil into the lap of foreign tions were the following:

German bankers in Mexico City re seeking to trade machinery for l;

To Arrange Contract

A high source in Tokyo said last riday Japan was ready to arrange oil-purchasing contract with exico through private companies; Italians announced last night ade envoys were being sent to exico City.

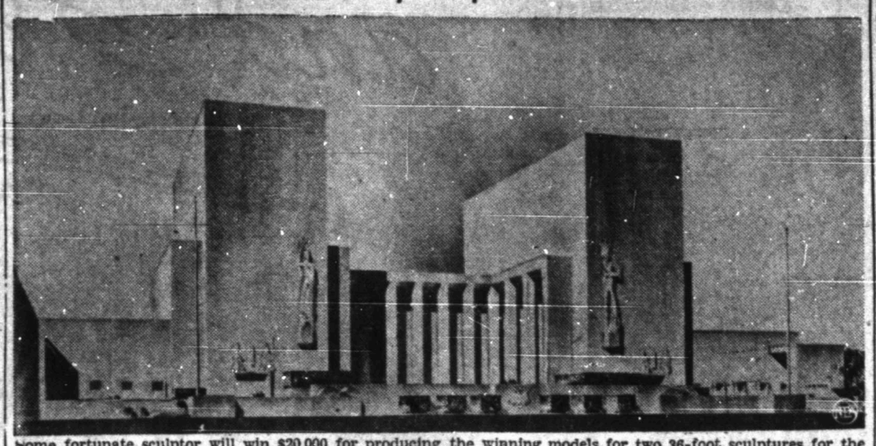

Before the expropriation, the nited States and Great Britain ere Mexico's biggest oil customers.

Curtailment of Mexican purchases abroad hit the United States harder than any other country, because 60 per cent of Mexican imports come from there.

Some fortunate sculptor will win $20,000 for producing the winning models for two 36-foot sculptures for the facades of the U. S. Government building at the New York World's Fair of 1939 shown in the architect's sketch above. The building will feature a judiciary and a legislature tower. The sculptures must symbolize Peace and Common Accord, the objectives which the U. S. seeks in its relations with other countries. In addition to the main prize of $20,000 there will be other prizes for sculptor contestants. The contest which closes June 1, 1938, is being conducted for the government by Theodore T. Director Is Retained

In an election for director from this district, J. O. Edler, Crosbyton, was retained by a 5 to 4 vote over John Heck, Wilson.

Sec. H. D. Wade presided over a program following the luncheon. Edler welcomed the visitors and McCreary responded. A number of visitors spoke briefly, including R. D. Jones, Lubbock; Earl T. Duke, instructor in agronomy at Texas Technological college; Finley R. White, Briscoe county agent who introduced several other agents; Dr. E. L. McBride, Texas Technological college; Manager Campbell of the cooperative oil mill; Ralph W. Moore, master of Texas grange; Sterling C. Evans, president Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

Expressions of sympathy for President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college were given and a rising vote of the audience wishing his rapid recovery was later given.

Is This the Reason You Are Constipated?

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk"! Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1. Eat this crisp crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Jason Urton of Lovington, N. M. is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Alred, 2419 Texas avenue. He will go to San Antonio before returning to his home.

Thirty-Seven CCC Enrollees Re-Enlist In Service Here

Beneficial Rains In March Favorable To Valley Crops

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—Beneficial rains during the first half of March were favorable for South Texas vegetable crops, the U. S. Bureau of agriculture economics reported today.

Spring beans in lower Rio Grande valley were beginning to move in solid carlots, the tomato crop was in good condition and potatoes were beginning the movement to market, the report said.

Early watermelon plantings were up and in good condition and harvesting of strawberries in the Poteet and Carrizo Springs areas was under way.

Flattering Topcoat

In a season when there's much talk about coats that are fitted and flared, conservatives and those who shop with an eye on the budget still will want this type of topcoat. Of navy and white wool tweed in novelty, broken herringbone design, it is flattering to women of all ages and sizes. And it's a "backlog" model—something equally suitable for town or country and sure to be as smart next year and the year after as it is right now. It's shown over a navy town sheer, and would be just as stunning over a tweed sports skirt and a couple of sweaters.

Notables Witness Burglary In Museum But They Won't Talk; They're Statues

AUSTIN, March 31 (AP)—Lady Macbeth, Stephen F. Austin, William Jennings Bryan, Schopenhauer and some other notables were witnesses to a burglary—but they won't talk.

The figures—marble ones—saw some small boys climb through a window and snitch some pennies from a donations box in the Elizabet Ney museum, a memorial to the Texas sculptress.

Shipments On Barge Lines To Be Held Up By Labor Trouble

KANSAS CITY, March 31. (AP)—The federal barge lines will accept no shipments of freight here pending settlement of labor troubles on the New Orleans docks, M. Clifford Crocker, terminal superintendent for the lines here, announced today.

First barge shipments of the season were scheduled to leave here Saturday after arrival of the Tom Sawyer, which left St. Louis Tuesday laden with farm equipment. The Sawyer probably will be unloaded here and sent empty back to St. Louis, Crocker said.

He quoted a statement issued by the lines at New Orleans stating it is "only fair to our patrons" not to accept shipments until settlement of labor difficulties.

Markets Of Italy, Germany And Japan Likely Outlets Of Mexico's Oil

ardenas May hange Plans

(By The Associated Press)

EXICO CITY, March 31.—The kets of Italy, Germany and Ja- were pictured in some inform- quarters today as a likely output the production of Mexico's ex- priated oil industry.

his solution was advanced as la- diplomatic and financial com- ations confronted President denas, who has summoned an gent" session of Congress to et problems arising from his ex- priation of the $400,000,000 Brit- and American industry.

Date Is Not Set

ate of the session has not been but it was expected to be early April.

Vith the country's purchasing ver abroad cut sharply by fluctu- on of the peso, United States sus- sion of silver purchases, and a ing silver market, it was asserted xico might be forced to trade h other nations similarly lacking eign exchange.

Although it was recalled Car- nas had said he would sell oil ly to democratic countries, some servers declared that because of desparate need for an immediate rket he sooner or later would sp any helping hand.

Every Tank Is Filled

The government's problem was st illustrated by the situation at mpico where every oil storage nk was said to be filled, and ere was no place to put refined because of lack of foreign mar- ts since the expropriation March

Supporting assertions that Mexi- despite liberal tendencies, might mp its oil into the lap of foreign tions were the following:

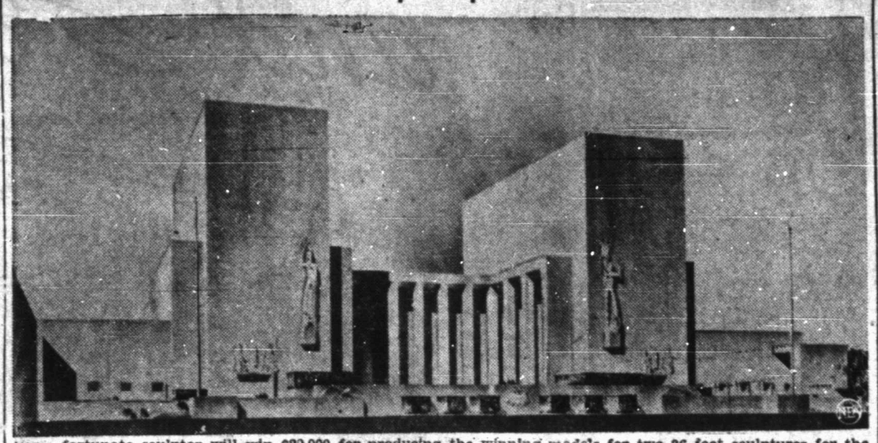

German bankers in Mexico City re seeking to trade machinery for ;

To Arrange Contract

A high source in Tokyo said last riday Japan was ready to arrange oil-purchasing contract with exico through private companies; Italians announced last night ade envoys were being sent to exico City.

Before the expropriation, the nited States and Great Britain ere Mexico's biggest oil customers.

Fame And Fortune Await Lucky Sculptor

Some fortunate sculptor will win $20,000 for producing the winning models for two 36-foot sculptures for the facades of the U. S. Government building at the New York World's Fair of 1939 shown in the architect's sketch above. The building will feature a judiciary and a legislature tower. The sculptures must symbolize Peace and Common Accord, the objectives which the U. S. seeks in its relations with other countries. In addition to the main prize of $20,000 there will be other prizes for sculptor contestants. The contest which closes June 1, 1938, is being conducted for the government by Theodore T. Hayes, executive assistant U. S. Commissioner to the Fair.

Curtailment of Mexican purchases abroad hit the United States harder than any other country, because 60 per cent of Mexican imports come from there.

Warning Given By Parks Men

Better not take liquor, whether spiritous, vinous or malt, into state or city parks of Lubbock, it has been warned here.

The laws will oe enforced in the Mackenzie state park and the several city parks, said S. C. Rawlings, special officer assigned by both the City and County of Lubbock to the parks. He carries a commission from both the police department and the sheriff's office so as to have authority 'n that part of the state park which lies outside the city limits.

Ruling Is Cited

Rawlings cited the ruling for the state parks which said:

"No intoxicating liquors or beverages may be brought into, sold or consumed within state park limits."

Officers of the Texas Liquor Control board pledged assistance in attempts to enforce to the letter the rulings received from William J. Lawson, executive secretary of the Texas state parks board.

"Persons who bring intoxicating drinks into the state park do so at their own risk," Rawlings said. "They are taking a chance of getting into serious trouble.

Find Other Places

"If they want to throw their 'liquor parties,' they will have to find other places—the state and city parks were planned for wholesome recreation spots, for men, women and children, and we, in cooperation with the parks board, will do our best to keep them free of liquor and beer.

"Certainly to permit intoxicants to be taken into the parks would be to subtract from their value as recreational centers for residents generally."

The state park officer cited other rules under which the park is regulated:

No Hunting Allowed

No hunting shall be allowed on any state park in Texas, and there shall be no shooting or killing of birds, animals or game of any sort within the state parks in any season of the year.

No fishing shall be allowed in state parks except at specified times and places and in accordance with rules applying to each park and administered by the local representative of the park.

No vehicles shall be permitted to travel through the state parks or upon any of the state park roads at a speed in excess of 20 miles an hour. The speed limit shall be applied to all parks.

No wild flowers, trees or shrubs shall be picked, cut, broken or otherwise mutilated.

No gambling or lottery devices may be exhibited or operated within state parks.

Trial Of Deputy State School Superintendent Set May 16

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—Trial on indictments charging extortion in the collection of examination fees and misapplication of public funds against Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson, first assistant state superintendent of education, has been set for May 16 in a Travis county district court.

The state asked that 68 witnesses, including state Superintendent L. A. Woods, be summoned.

Miss Wilson, indicted March 5, has remained at her duties since, asserting the alleged irregularities were in fact regular department policies in effect for many years.

Masters' Tourney To Open Friday

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 31 (AP)—The nation's golf leaders got in final warmup rounds today for the renewal of the Augusta National tournament which features the annual competitive appearance of Bobby Jones, retired golf king.

The Atlanta lawyer, who has never come closer than a tie for the 13th in the Augusta competition, shot a two under par 70 in practice yesterday.

The tournament, starting Friday, attracted a field of some 50 players, including all members of the United States Ryder cup team, 10 U. S. open champions, five professional champions and four who have won the National Amateur title.

Meeting here last night with George R. Jacobus, president of the Professional Golfers association, some 35 leading players agreed that only tournaments with purses of $5,000 or more should be scheduled by the association. At present the minimum limit for P. G. A. purses is $3,000.

The suggestion must be presented before the executive committee of the P. G. A. for final approval and adoption. The committee is expected to meet within a week or ten days.

Hodza's 'Minority Statute' Plan In Czechoslovakia Doomed To Fail

erman Group pposes Idea

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
ssociated Press Foreign Writer

RAHA, Czechoslovakia, March 31 remier Milan Hodza's attempt to g about domestic peace in choslovakia through a "minority ute" to meet just claims of each he many nationalities composing state will fail, if one may judge n the present tense atmosphere.

o harmonize the wishes and as- tions of Konrad Henlein's Su- n (pro-Nazi) German with the ional exigencies as conceived by Czech government is like squar- a circle.

Proposal Is Ridiculed

n the Sudeten camp where this respondent conferred at length, lza's proposed "minority statute" ridiculed.

We want a real government with- he Czechoslovak state," a spokes- n said, "but this cannot be done merely qualifying existing minori- aws as Hodza proposes.

We demand first of all that com- nal elections shall be held. The took place in 1930. They should e place every fifth year. Com- nal elections now would be a w-down as to who is who. Then er these elections have been held, the country be re-districted ac- ding to language and nation- y."

Expect Loyalty In Return

high official of the Czech gov- ment said:

We have lived side by side with Germans for centuries and ow that somehow we just must along with each other. We are dy to give the Germans in our ders every cultural, linguistic d proportionate political represen- ion. We expect, however, loyalty our state. That loyalty, we fear, not always apparent.

"We often are asked why we do t rearrange Czechoslovakia on a ntonal basis like Switzerland. ere are two vital objections; First, body in Switzerland thinks of nting to secede from the con- ieration; second, to divide the untry into cantons would mean ising the minority question in each them."

In Case Of War

When asked whether the Sudeten rmans could be relied upon in se of war, this high official mere- shrugged his shoulders.

From another trustworthy source was learned care had been taken the government to scatter the rmans and other minorities among ech and Slovak recruits so each mpany or battalion is made up numerous nationalities.

Also, the Sudeten German sol- ers are not stationed in the Ger- an section, but are taken to ech and Slovak districts. Sudeten urces said, however, that in each mpany Germans club together, e Slovaks form in groups and on among the other minority oups. So while the various na- onalities in the army are not or- nized territorially, they have in- rmal organizations among them- lves in each army unit.

Government officials pointed to anz von Papen's reported ap- intment as ambassador to Tur- key as highly significant. To them this is but another indication of Germany's "Drang Nach Osten"—drive to the east.

Wife Still Loves

Kissing her husband fervently, perhaps for the last time, Mrs. Koler Holsclaw of Buchanan, Mich., above, swears to "stick by him to the end," despite the fact that Holsclaw has been unmasked as a North Carolina fugitive. Known in Buchanan as Frank Bentley, Holsclaw was arrested for drunken driving. Fingerprint records revealed he was the man who escaped from the southern penitentiary after serving six years of a 30-year term for slaying a man because of a girl.

A wave of bag-snatching in women's shopping districts of Europe has made coin purses with patented fasteners popular there.

Boy Killed When Struck By Truck

SNYDER, March 31. (Special)—Funeral rites will be read for 8-year-old T. C. Campbell, who was crushed by a truck Wednesday when he chased his hat on a public road.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Campbell of Patterson, Ark., and his father had stopped their car to repair a tire, four miles north of Dermott. A sandstorm was blowing, a fact authorities took into consideration in investigation into the death.

Enroute To New Mexico

According to an official account, the truck was driven by Jasper Wood, 32, of Spur.

The Campbells were enroute from their home to Hagerman, N. M.

Billy Johnson and Thomas C. Laws, Texas Highway patrolmen from the Lubbock district headquarters, assisted Scurry county officers in the investigations.

YOUTH IS DROWNED

DALLAS, March 31. (AP)—Manuel Rendon, 17, was drowned in Elm fork of the Trinity river near here Wednesday.

Companions said they saw him swim across to the opposite bank, and return half way, then sink beneath the surface.

The Arctic fox, in the northern part of its range, is snow-white the year round. Farther south, it is white in winter and bluish-brown in summer, while in the southern part of its range, it is dark the entire year, and is known as the blue fox.

Worst Duster Of Season Hits New Mexico On Wednesday

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 31. (AP)—The most severe dust storm of the season whirled over much of eastern New Mexico Wednesday on the wings of blustery March winds that neared gale intensity.

The Tucumcari-Amarillo, Texas sector was the center of the disturbance. The United States weather bureau reported conditions there as "bad." The worst of the storm extended from Clayton, in Union county's "dust bowl" on the north, to Clovis.

Visibility east of Tucumcari was reported virtually negligible.

Little Difference In Big Leagues, Analysis Shows

Powerhouse Idea Is Said Over-Rated

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 31.—The literary guns that have been pounding home this spring the popular notion of American league superiority over the National, as a prelude to the 1938 baseball pennant battles, seem to have misfired on a number of salient points.

It is quite true that harassed National leaguers have found no adequate escape from the demolishing No. 1 argument of their tormentors, who point to seven victories in the last ten World series and four conquests in five mid-summer all-star games.

Clubs Rather Than League

These are the payoff events, but they emphasize that the pennant clubs, rather than the American league as a whole, have been the dominating influence.

Club for club in the two big leagues, it is still a wide open argument as to which is stronger. For years there has been a wider gap between the first and last-place outfits in the American than in the older circuit. This balance, while strengthening the Nationals in any all-inclusive argument over rival ability, does not alter the fact of A. L. dominance at the top.

Still Great Asset

Bill Terry, boss of the Giants, concedes "a team like the Yankees can beat the ears off anybody," but adds: "a man who can bust up a ball game with a hit is a great asset, but he is worth twice as much if he also can save a game by being a fine defensive player." That's the way we play ball in our league. We do not plan to give the other team runs and then count on scoring more by sheer power. We stress defense. All the teams in our league play that kind of ball and we believe it to be the best baseball there is."

Terry's remarks, occasioned by Waite Hoyt's magazine thesis that the A. L. exploits power and liberalism, as opposed to N. L. defensive tactics and conservatism, cover only part of the general rebuttal. The fact is that the powerhouse idea is vastly over-rated. For example, the Yankees converted their power into pennants only when they had defensive skill and pitching to support it. The Yankees were out-hit in their own league last year by Detroit, and even St. Louis, the last-place club, but won the pennant by a 13-game margin. In the World series, their defense was certainly as vital a winning factor as their batting power.

Rideout Twins Outstanding In Dual Track Meet Defeat

DENTON, March 31. (AP) — The Rideout twins performed outstandingly yesterday in a dual track meet between the North Texas Teachers college and the Oklahoma A. & M. college.

Although the Teachers lost the meet, with 59 points against 68 for the visitors, their individual showing was more conspicuous.

Blaine Rideout ran a mile in 4 minutes 11.8 seconds, which bettered the Southwest conference record by about 10 seconds. Brother Wayne ran the half mile in 1:54.5, faster than the Southwest conference record.

The North Texas mile relay team ran the mile in 3:19.5.

ROOKIES END TRAINING

MODESTO, Calif., March 31. (AP)—Two and one-half weeks of spring baseball training ended today for 56 New York Yankee rookies, most of whom will return to their homes before reporting at the various Yankee farm clubs for duty during the 1938 season.

Thirty-five of the recruits were placed with farm teams, said Joe DeVine, veteran Yankee scout. Of these, 16 will go to the El Paso club of the Arizona-Texas league.

Five Latin American capitals—Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Mexico City, Santiago and Montevideo—have larger populations than Washington, D. C.

No April Fooling Expected In Bout

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 31.—Joe Louis is ready to toss brown bombs on tough Harry Thomas' chin in the Chicago stadium tomorrow night.

The world's heavyweight champion's crown will be at stake in the 15-round battle, and, although it will be April Fools day, nobody with the exception of Thomas and his relatives expects the blonde from Eagle Bend, Minn., to pull the biggest April Fool's joke of all times by knocking the title-holder off the throne.

Regarded As Tune-Up

Louis regards the bout as a tune-up for his championship contest with Max Schmeling set for June 22. He says he will take no chances with the hard punching, wild swinging Thomas and will go out to win in four punches if possible. He does not think Thomas will last four rounds.

Thomas, boasting that he has never been knocked cold, intends to make the most of his first, and probably only, shot at the heavyweight championship. Courageous beyond question and always an optimist, Thomas said today that his body attack will bend Louis and take the fire out of the negro's punches. His heavy bruising punches, he figures, give him a long shot chance, as he says the champion does not recover quickly from a stunning blow.

All-Time Low For Betting To Be Set In Fight

CHICAGO, March 31. (AP)—The 15-round brawl between Joe Louis and challenger, Herry Thomas, at the Chicago stadium tomorrow night will set an all-time low for wagering on the result of a heavyweight championship fight.

There is absolutely no money in sight since there are few willing to risk it on Thomas' wild swings.

Odds are 20 to 1 that Louis wins and 10 to 1 that he rocks the swing man to sleep.

Longhorns And Frogs Battle On Diamond At Austin Today

(By The Associated Press)

Uncle Billy Disch's University of Texas Longhorns were set to open the Southwest conference baseball schedule at Austin today, with the Texas Christian university Frogs of Fort Worth as opponents.

Garnett was expected to take the mound for the Longhorns with Woodrow Duckworth hurling for the visitors.

Tomorrow and Saturday Baylor and Southern Methodist will cross bats in Dallas while the Texas Aggies entertain Rice at College Station for a two-game series.

Augie Galan Has Film Over His Right Eye Removed

LOS ANGELES, March 31. (AP)—Outfielder Augie Galan of the Chicago Cubs baseball team was traveling around today with a bandage over his right eye.

Galan, whose fielding and hitting has been one of the bright spots of the Clubs' fine showing in spring exhibition games in southern California, underwent a minor operation yesterday for removal of a film that had grown over his right eye.

Dr. W. A. Morrison said Galan would be able to resume his duties with the Clubs within a week.

STARTERS ARE PRIMED

PINEHURST, N. C., March 31. (AP)—Eight favored starters were primed today to battle for four semi-final berths in the 36th annual Women's North and South Golf tournament that to date has seen no upsets.

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Chapel Hill, defending champion and national titlist, was bracketed against Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., shotmaker, in one feature match and Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., faced Virginia Guilfoil, Syracuse, N. Y., in another.

Let 'Er Rip

One pant leg straggling down to his ankle, an out-size chaw in his cheek, Lon Warneke, star right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, looks like he means business as he lets go with a fast one in training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Tremaine Is Mat Winner

Andy Tremaine of Tucson turned the tables in a hurry and tipped over the dope bucket to take Dick Sampson of Denton last night in a rugged three-fall main event grappling match at the Auditorium.

Dick Takes Opener

Sampson captured the opening fall with his "special." Andy having not the resources to break it that one George Hartay recently displayed. The fall lasted 12 minutes. The fall followed a series of hard body slams, with Tremaine on the receiving end. Andy came back to grab a figure-four arm lock and swing on for ten minutes of the second fall, Sampson showing great courage in staying with him and seeking an outlet. He finally found it, but lost the fall to a rocking chair" split, a matter of course in which Tremaine is highly proficient.

Sampson was weakened in the third fall, and was a bit listless. He managed to stay out of the way, however, and was by way of winning with a crotch and body slam. Once he seemed to have accomplished it, and the crowd stood to leave, but Tremaine wriggled out. Sampson hoisted him again, but Tremaine looped a toe over a rope and held it just long enough to throw Sampson off balance. When they fell, Andy was on top, and the match was over.

George Hartay fixed up Bill "Sweet William" Venable in a rousing semi-final that drew plenty of roars. Venable, the Alabama Bulldog, did some of his best work last night and carried his vicious fight to the Hungarian. He grew careless, however, and fell victim to a leglock and an "up and down" movement in which his weight was pounded quite severely against Venable's form. The latter gave up in 24 minutes.

Silly Prince Omar fouled himself out of the picture in a 19-minute bout with the long-legged and artistic Bill Hall of Hollywood. Hall "carried" the prince along, fighting without much interest and rarely getting rough with the would-be villain prince. Omar lashed out with a foot, catching Hall in the groin and stunning him. Referee Clements awarded the match to Hall just as the gong sounded.

High Hurdles Featured For Texas Relays

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 31. — Sparkling high hurdles attractions top the list of events for the 11th running Saturday of the Texas Relays — the Southwest's premier track and field carnival.

A battle was forecast in a special duel between Alan Tolnich, agile amateur indoor champion from Wayne university at Detroit, and Sam Allen, stellar stick-stepper from Oklahoma Baptist university, co-holders of the relays 120-yard hurdles record at 14.3 seconds.

Townes In Exhibition

Forrest Townes, celebrated world champion from Georgia, will run in an exhibition against an unnamed opponent. Director Clyde Littlefield cancelled a three-way affair for the stars since Townes' professional standing might impair the Olympic team chance of Tolmich and Allen.

Outshone by the great trio but considered potential Olympic material were three record-smashing timber toppers in the regular university event. The phenomenal Sophomores Fred Wolcott of Rice institute and Boyce Gatewood of Texas will test their speed against Jack Patterson, veteran Rice pacesetter. Eldon Franke of Nebraska and Marsh Farmer, Texas Tech's one-armed star, also are entered.

Graham May Set Mark

Bob Hubbard of Minnesota, Harvin Dawson of Nebraska and Jud Atchison of Texas each has bettered 24 feet in the broad jump, an event attracting keen interest, while Gilliam Graham, a Texas sophomore, might endanger the javelin record set at 219 feet, 8 1-2 inches, by Alton Terry of Olympic fame. Graham has hurled the spear more than 216 feet.

A Minnesota squad, arriving two weeks early for conditioning, led 19 teams including Drake, Kansas State, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Louisiana State, Arkansas, Oklahoma and others in the university division.

Twins Are Featured

The college class of 15 schools, headed by the North Texas Teachers college double twin entry of Wayne and Blaine Rideout distance men, and Elmer and Delmer Brown, sprinters, including the usually strong Oklahoma Baptist college and Yankton college of South Dakota, a newcomer.

Thirteen institutions have entered junior college and freshman squads and 74 high schools will be represented.

The relays boast six best performances out of 13 common to the Penn, Drake and Kansas Relays, Littlefield has pointed out. He said Drake was second with three.

Black Hawks To Do Or Die In Stanley Cup Hockey Series

CHICAGO, March 31. (AP)—Chicago's unpredictable Black Hawks will do or die tonight against the surprising New York Americans in the battle for the right to meet the Toronto Maple Leafs for hockey's grand prize, the Stanley cup.

One up due to their 3 to 1 triumph on New York ice Tuesday night, the Americans were favored to ultimately win the best of three, second-round series. However, the Black Hawks, desperately eager to prolong what started out to be a sour season, were primed for a rousing effort on their own rink.

ERADICATE CEDAR

JUNCTION, March 30 (AP)—Cedar eradication led range improvement last year in Kimble county, County Agent Dick Homan reports. Acreage aggregating 26,776 was cleared of cedar and prickley pear eradication was carried out on 3,900 acres. Mesquite growth was cleared from 72 acres.

Tennis Star Weds Foster-Mother

When Frankie Parker, 22-year-old internationally famous tennis star, married the newly divorced wife of his coach and patron, Mercer Beasley, he merely changed his status in the same family circle. Mrs. Beasley shown above clutching Frankie's arm after one of his tennis matches, had been his foster mother since Beasley discovered the boy chasing balls in Milwaukee years ago, took him into his home and coached him to tennis fame. Parker married Mrs. Beasley in Reno only a few hours after the latter obtained a divorce, and thereby become stepfather of a girl, Katherine, one year younger than himself, and a boy, James, 8 years younger.

Wilmer Allison Steadies His Aging Legs For Match Today With Hollywood Ace

BY OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, March 31 — Texas' Wilmer Allison steadied his aging legs today for his match with up and coming Wayne Sabin of Hollywood.

Quarter-finalists in the River Oaks tourney with six other crack players, the two will meet in one of the two matches carded today. The winner must take three out of five sets.

Few Have Done It

Defeat for Allison, once the nation's top ranking player and now bent on a comeback, could mean voluntary retirement from a brilliant tennis career that began when Sabin wore knee breeches. To Sabin, victory could be extra sweet—few men have taken Allison's measure in tennis.

Neither showed any signs of slipping yesterday, Allison polishing off Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, and Sabin defeated Jake Hess of Houston, 6-2, 6-2.

Favorites Are Busy

While Allison and Sabin were going about their chores, the pre-tourney favorites, Bobby Riggs of Chicago, and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, the defending champion, had their hands full for a while.

Off to a slow start, Grant came from behind to defeat Warren Christner of Austin, 7-5, 8-6. Riggs came from behind to whip Bobby Kamrath of Austin, 8-6, 6-4.

Riggs Meets Hendrix

Grant will play Bernie Coghlan of Santa Monica, Calif., today in the only other match scheduled. Coghlan yesterday beat Ed Lorfing of Austin, 7-5, 6-2.

Tomorrow Riggs will play Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., who yesterday beat Edgar Weller of Austin, 6-2, 6-4. Hal Surface of Kansas City, who yesterday beat Paschal Walthall of San Antonio, 9-7, 6-2, will play Ernie Sutter of New Orleans, intercollegiate champion, victor over Frank Guernsey of Houston, 6-2, 6-2.

Training Camp Notes Briefly

IN LINE TO START

ORLANDO, Fla. — Emil (Dutch) Leonard is in line for a starting assignment on the Washington Senators' mound staff, largely because Rookie Pitchers Joe Krakauskas and Ken Chase haven't come up to expectations. Leonard's knuckler is the most impressive pitch in the Senators' camp, too good, perhaps, to save only for relief roles.

FELLER TO PITCH

NEW ORLEANS — The Cleveland Indians play their last game in New Orleans today before breaking camp tomorrow. They meet the New Orleans Pelicans, with Bob Feller, Bill Zuber and Al Milnar scheduled to pitch.

ATTRACTING ATTENTION

BILOXI, Miss. — Eddie Morgan, the outfielder obtained from Brooklyn in the Camilli deal, is attracting the attention of Manager Jimmy Wilson, of the Philadelphia Phillies. Morgan collected two doubles against Cleveland yesterday and exhibited an accurate throwing arm.

JOE STILL MISSING

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The New York Yankees, still minus Joe DiMaggio, break camp today and head for Tallahassee. They will reach New York by a previous route and will play minor league teams exclusively on the junket. Their next big league opposition will be the Dodgers on April 15 at Ebbets field.

CROSSES HIS FINGERS

SAN ANTONIO — While managers of several major league teams bemoaned epidemics of sore arms, Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Browns crossed his fingers, grinned and commented, "We haven't an ailment in camp and haven't had one all season that has worried us."

New presidents of the United States do not provide their own china when entering the White House. The government provides it.

Save The Crying Towels

By Collier Parris

IT IS RUMORED over town that there will be a display of fireworks out Texas Tech way this afternoon about 5:30 or 6 o'clock.

Football rules prohibit the use, on the outside of uniforms, of flint or steel, but when the Red Raiders let themselves go in scrimmage, the sparks are all but visible as leather hits leather and leather hits cloth-covered pads.

After a day's rest, they should be in the mood to go this afternoon. The grandstand and sidelines no doubt will be occupied by downtown coaches and their associates who'll be trying to pick a team.

If they can pick a team, they'll be doing better than Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith, who can't see, from this distance, just who'll be on the starting eleven.

From this corner's lookout, it is also very difficult to select eleven favorites. Without attempting to pick a team from the current spring training squad, we would like to suggest the following as a pretty fair prospective lineup:

Ends—George L. Webb of Itasca and Thurman Bostick of Brownwood.

Tackles—A. B. Murphy of Beaumont and Bill Davis of Grapevine.

Guards—Dixie White of Lubbock and Holt Waldrep of Slaton.

Center — Rex Williams of Sherman.

Quarterback — Frank Guzick of Sherman.

Halfbacks—Elmer Tarbox of Higgins and Bobby Holmes of Miami, Okla.

Fullback — CharlesR Calhoun of Lubbock.

In that lineup you would have a reasonable amount of weight, a fair number of experienced men—only eleven of them are letter men—considerable speed, a normal amount of intelligence and a heckuvalot of desire.

You will find in that list, seven regulars of the 1937 lineup. The other four played enough football to convince one and all their followers that they are capable of going to town.

Maybe there is a better combination. We hope so, because anything better would be plenty good. The others have got to show a lot of stuff to beat out those named. If they can show it, power to 'em, and they'll get full credit.

Among outstanding challengers, in our books, for the places are the following:

Ends: C. L. Storrs of Lubbock and Ralph Balfanz of Abilene.

Tackles: J. G. Gilbert of Cameron and Allan McNeese of Athens.

Guards: Wilmer Greene of Gainesville and Primo McCurry of Lubbock.

Center: Rafe Nabors of Lubbock.

Backs: Arbra Johnson of Athens, Jodie Marek of Temple, Frank Sachse of Quitaque and Gene Barnett of Lubbock.

There are so many other candidates that these lists under go severe changes before autumn rolls around. But the above listed 22 carry on and prove they are capable of playing, we see no reason to feel fretful over the 1938 season.

Tarbox, Holmes, Barnett and Neese have not been doing a spring training, on acc't. of t on Berl Huffman's track and team, and because the first are not taking their daily pla the daily workouts, you'll Coach Cawthon fussing about lack of ability and experience a the backs," but they'll be out next fall, and you can lay to

upreme Court Of Texas Undertakes To Clarify State Zoning Law

rris Suit To Reviewed

TIN, March 31—The supreme has undertaken to clarify known as the state zoning issue of whether a city can t construction of wooden as a matter of zoning was ed in a case from Harris styled City of West Universi- e against J. Henry Martin ners.

To Review Litigation

court granted a writ of error plication of the city, which n effect, an agreement to lower court litigation. in claimed the city by ordi- was without power to prevent ction of a wooden building.

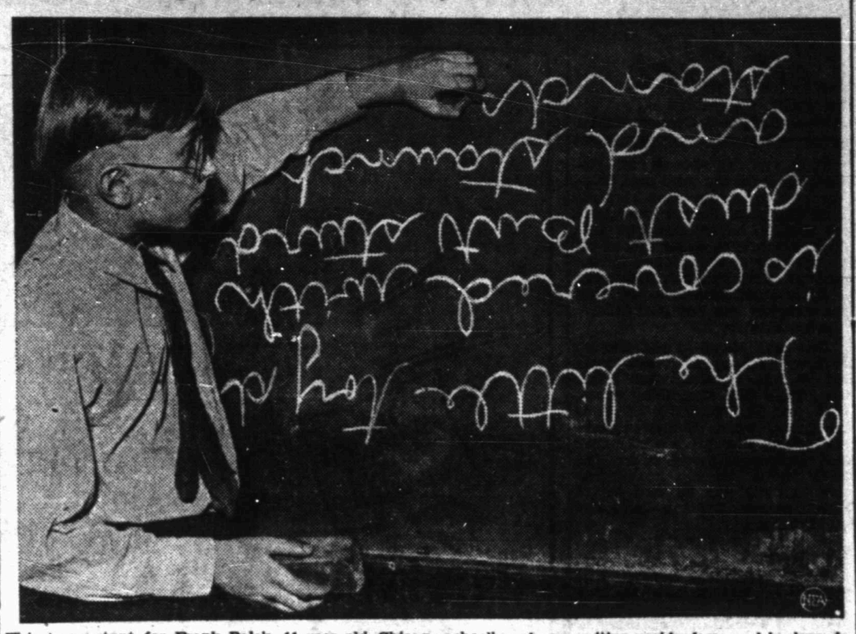

In district court, he obtained a temporary injunction, restraining interference by the city, which order was sustained by the Galveston court of civil appeals.

Had Implied Power

The city maintained it had implied power to prohibit such construction under the state zoning law and explicit authority under statutes pertaining to fire prevention.

When it upheld the injunction, the court of civil appeals said it appeared the legislature intended to make the power to prohibit wooden buildings a part of fire-prevention policy rather than zoning.

Brilliant Chicago Boy Is Topsy-Turvy Writer

This is no stunt for Frank Balek, 11-year-old Chicago schoolboy shown writing upside down and backwards. It's just the easiest way for him to write. Frank used to write just backwards—mirror fashion—and teachers had to use a looking-glass to read his themes. So he changed, and now writes both upside down and backwards, so that teachers need only turn the paper around to read it. School authorities tried to correct his writing, but discovered he is an "inversionist" and actually sees the world upside down. So they let him write as he pleases, and find he is really a brilliant student.

Increased NYA Aid In State Requested

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP)—A committee of educators meeting here Wednesday adopted a resolution asking that the National Youth administration aid to students be increased next year.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

Prettiest gesture of March: Garbo and Stokowski yielding the Page 1 spot so Hitler could marry Austria!

FROM the way the situation looks from here, every day is April Fool's Day in Washington.

Remember, it's no disgrace to be a fool on April 1st. The trick is to keep from being a fool on the other 364 days of the year!

SPEAKING of April Fool's Day, isn't it funny the way the old customs — regardless of how thoroughly unnecessary—stick with us?

Probably 200 years ago our ancestors used the arrival of spring to take time out for foolishness, sent their friends after the then equivalent of lefthanded monkey wrenches and feeding still others on rubber doughnuts, and the like.

And from then on, as far as any living man can remember, the first day of April has been one in which no holds are barred in practical joking and a very appreciable part of the human population use it to make fun—or what might pass for fun—of each other.

One of these days, maybe, we'll outgrow April Fool's Day and numerous of our other useless anniversaries.

But we'll have to be considerably more intelligent than the genus homo of this good era.

Here's one thing to remember about this April Fool's Day, come what may:

Laugh and take it. If you view yourself too seriously, the rest of the world will know you're a fool!

THERE is considerable talk down around San Antonio that Maury Maverick, wild-eyed congressman from South Texas, is going to have stiff opposition and might very likely get a thumping in the coming elections.

Such an occurrence would, in The Plainsman's opinion, be a good thing for both Texas and congress.

Maverick is entirely too wild-eyed to draw many cheers from this corner.

We were talking just the other day about Maverick and his antics and the fellow on the other end of the conversation remarked that the San Antonio solon had been very successful in keeping himself in the public eye.

Sure he has.

And so was Zionchek!

WHAT the country needs — and what every congressional district needs—is a national legislature made up of men who can and will think.

We have too many now who can be led and herded, by one side or another, into doing almost anything.

The worst thing about politics and our political system is that rarely, if ever, is the best equipped man in any given voting era elected to any office.

Don't misunderstand.

Frequently — although not frequently enough — the best man running for a certain office is given the office by the voters.

What The Plainsman means is that the best equipped men rarely run for office.

USING as an example of what we are saying—an example which can be applied to any office available in this fair land of ours — the Texas governor's race for the good year 1938, don't you think that there are men better equipped for the job than any of those seeking it?

The Plainsman does.

Despite the fact that two of the leading candidates are personal friends of the writer, he can name at least a dozen men who would make better governors.

But these better men won't run, for a variety of reasons — one of which is that they know they couldn't win.

The people don't elect their officials, actually speaking. The officials elect themselves by convincing the greatest number of voters to vote for them.

It may be Utopian to consider such a thing, but this country—nor any other—will ever get the maximum in service and efficiency in public office until the office seeks the man, rather than the man seeking the office.

Think it over.

That Man on Avenue Q says a man with a grievance is a grievance to others.

BUT enough of unpleasant subjects! Have you heard the story about the smart young lawyer?

It was an unusually hard fought case in which a citizen was suing an insurance company's client for payment of damages following an accident. The insurance company had employed as an "expert" witness a very famous doctor, who, as he mounted the witness stand, felt very much his own importance and prestige.

The young lawyer representing the plaintiff refused to quail before the haughty stare of the great man.

"Doctor," he said, "you tended Russell Sage, I believe?"

"Yes," said the great one impressively. "I was called into consultation during Mr. Sage's last illness."

"Where is Russell Sage now?"

"He is dead."

"Did you tend Grover Cleveland, doctor?"

"Yes."

"Where is Cleveland now?"

"He is dead." The doctor spoke sharply, the courtroom tittered but the young lawyer went quietly on.

"And Commodore Vanderbilt. I believe you were summoned in his case?"

"Yes."

"Where is the poor old commodore today?"

"Dead!" the doctor almost roared.

"Doctor, did you also attend George Pullman Field, Philip D'Armour, Richard Mansfield and Mark Twain?"

"I did."

"And they are all—"

"Yes, they're all dead!

The young lawyer turned to the jury, bowed, and then turned to the judge.

"If the court please," he said, "the plaintiff rests with the EXPERT on physiology and medicine!"

The above story, told by George Williams in the monthly magazine "Legal Chatter," is good for something else besides a smile at the defficiencies of man.

It is good to teach us that even experts can be slipped up on!

And proving that Hobart is no dummy as a politician in Texas, he will be introduced by the local Baptist preacher! . . . The Hughes Springs address will be the first of 300 campaign speeches Hobart will make in what will be the most active campaign ever staged by a Texas candidate for lieutenant-governor. . . . The largest relief man ever made is proposed for the 1939 San Francisco exposition as a means of publicizing the resources of 11 Western states. . . . CHAPTER XXVI

The war was not over before Christmas. Nor before the spring came. It grew fiercer and flamed inland along the frontiers. On sea the fighting approached the fantastic. Almost without a navy the United States was holding her own, doing it by means of a few well-managed war sloops (you might count on your fingers) and those little privateers that were pouring out of every American port to sting the proud British Navy like a swarm of wasps.

On the day that Polly's son was born in her father's house in Connecticut, the clipper Grey Gull was having a reckless try at an armed British merchantman almost twice her size.

The Gull was not without experience. Several times during the winter she had intercepted West Indiamen coming u from Jamaica and had crippled them considerably; but always other ships in the English convey had driven off the fragile clipper before she could take her prize.

The question of money became acute to the Gull's officers. The unpaid crew was loyal, cheerfully foregoing pay; but the matter of procuring food for 75 hearty men was a problem that kept Cabell and Jerry awake and scheming through many a night when they should have been sleeping.

"I'd not have expected my father to be so pig-headed about this," Cabell sai

Soon after getting his letter of marque from President Madison he had asked his father for $5000 with which to finance his cruise. He asked it by land post from Wilmington, since Boston was inaccessible by water at the time. The letter that came in answer was violent and scathing.

"You exceeded yourself when you bought the clipper on my authority. I will pay for it since the debt is made, but I will not subsidize it nor give you another ship if you lose that one. I do not hold with Mr. Madison's war and I wish to keep out of it. I insist that my son keep out of it. These insults we have had from England had better be ignored than fought over . . ."

Cabell had replied by requesting his father's lawyer to send him at once a small inheritance he had had from a relative's estate "since I am of age and the money is mine." This amount was transferred to him at a Wilmington bank and it now was almost spent.

It was during their stop at Wilmington that Jerry and Cabell had the recipe for taking a British merchantman which they were about now to put into practice:

"You cut out your ship after dark," a reckless young Carolinian told them. "Don't attack the first brig you see. She's apt to be the lookout. Wait for a straggler. When you've picked your laggard, sail round her and cut her from the pack. Then take her." There followed advice more explicit from the young man who sailed a Baltimore clipper as light as the Gull and who was not troubled with New England caution. He had already taken four prizes, he said, and had divided the spoils among a gratified crew.

That May day when Polly's son was crying his first cries, the Gray Gull was cruising off the coast of northern France, boldly attempting to spy out a convoy of home-coming merchantment from foreign waters.

Toward evening a fleet was spied by the lookouts. At this news Jerry climbed the ratlines to see how many sails there are and how well protected. He climbed down to confer with Cabell. He had counted more than a score, he said, with what appeared to be tow men-of-war convoying the fleet.

They decided to wear ship and sail west to avoid being detected. "We're not worth chasing," Jerry pointed out, "but if they see us following, one of the frigates will rake us. Do you agree?"

Cabell did and ordered the man at the wheel to port helm. They put out into the Atlantic, determined to withdraw from sight as if making westward passage.

A feeling of elation seized them all. Not a man among them but wished for action and a streak of luck. So far, the Gray Gull had not justified her letter of marque as a privateer. If she had stung the English Navy it was as a nervous gnat rather than as an angry hornet.

The test had arrived. When dark was falling the Gray Gull's crew brought her east, northeast, with all lights doused, in toward the rich prizes that were nearing the sea girt island called England. Bristol would be the fleet's destination, for it had passed Land's End and showed no intention of entering the Channel. This much was to the Gray Gull's advantage.

And now luck came at last. The hindmost ship was lagging. From her lanterns, fore and aft and quarterdeck, they could judge her size. A large merchant ship, about 500 tons, tall sparred, three masted and square sailed.

The Gray Gull, with Jerry at the helm, came up on her slowly and silently, sailed to larboard of her for a time, passed her and all but crossed her bows; wore ship and crossed her stern, then came up to starboard. Looking up, they could see that she was lightly manned and that those who sailed her were celebrating some event in the cup that cheers.

Jerry conferred with Cabell. He said, "I'll take her without firing a round if you'll give me a dozen men."

"We'll have to fire, of course. Just the carronades. A few rounds and she's ours. We'll have her before they can man the guns. We'll board her and run her off in record time." It was the method of the young Carolinian, applicable here to perfection.

But Jerry shook his head in violent negation. "You'd ruin her rigging at best. She's got sweet rigging"—his gaze lifted to where tall masts pierced the blackness. "At worst you'd bring the frigates down on us. No firing, I tell you!"

"How'll you do it?" Cabell hissed. "By tossing seaweed?" The tenseness of the situation made him feel a furious impatience with his obstinate first mate. He would have liked, actually, to wring his neck. . . Jerry was feeling the same urge in regard to his captain. Perhaps the inevitable moment had come when one ship was too small for two such dominating personalities.

"Give me 12 men, and a long boat," Jerry said again, "and I'll take her. I'll board her by stealth."

Cabell called him a madman, cursed him softly while the crew stood on the Gull's larboard deck and strained their eyes toward the merchantman. It was fantastic to be sailing beside the big ship in the darkness, just out of range of her lantern rays, unseen and unsuspected. Now and again the Gray Gull's sailors would take in more of her sail to keep pace with the laggard. The British ship was being so badly handled that her sailors were scarcely getting eight knots out of her.

Jerry said, "Give me my chance, Cabell! I want a ship of my own. I'll even it up by giving you most of her cargo. Give me 12 of your men. That'll leave you 60, and more. Bill Gill can replace me as mate. He's as good a seaman, any way you take him."

"Rats!" exclaimed Cabell. He was referring to the last remark. "Nobody could replace you." But he put out his hand and gripped Jerry's. "Take the best of the long boats," he said, "and pick your men. . . But God help you. I doubt if Polly would thank me for this."

At that moment Polly was an unreal dream to Jerry Whitfield. A dim beautiful dream from whom he had had no word since their parting. This venture and this peril were reality, more urgent than heartbeat, sweeter than lips of woman.

'WE HAVE NO FEAR OF WAR WITH MEXICO

To those who may fear the United States' oil land seizure controversy with Mexico holds the danger of war, The Evening Journal believes it can, with utmost confidence, give complete reassurance.

We believe the note of protest from our State department to Mexican President Cardenas merely serves as a warning that persistance of Mexico's present policy will force an economic disruption between the neighbor nations. That, of course, would border on industrial disaster for Mexico and almost certainly would mean the upsetting of the Cardenas regime in favor of one with policies not quite so extreme.

We cannot believe that our State department could even give thought to armed intervention. We cannot believe that it can be blind to the fact that the overwhelming portion of our citizenship would be convinced that any such intervention would be dictated by the major oil companies. We cannot believe the State department imagines that this nation is prepared to use armed force on behalf of dear old Standard Oil or any of his cousins.

Our government doubtless has adopted a correct policy in severely reminding Mexico that certain American rights must be respected. But as to the possibility of the controversy leading to war—it is unthinkable.

A Thought . . .

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 31.—Recently, and for the third time, 20th-Fox took up Arthur Treacher's option. The actor doesn't know Darryl Zanuck, having met him only once, and briefly, so he dashed off a little note of appreciation for the renewal of his contract. Back came a letter from Zanuck saying that the company was very glad to have him working for it.

This may sound to you like an ordinary exchange of formal pleasantries, but Treacher, when I saw him, could talk of nothing except that and the generally agreeable treatmeent which Hollywood players receive. Treacher is a very busy and prosperous movie butler, but he is not a star and he has not forgotten the way he used to get kicked around, and sometimes out, on Broadway.

Nice Work

There were many hungry, jobless weeks and months in New York, and for a time he even accepted the indignity of being a comic chorus boy, singing and dancing with a group of ex-army men who all were more than 6 feet tall. After becoming an actor he remained painfully aware that, backstage he was regarded as no more human or necessary than one of the props. But it's different in Hollywood.

When an actor reports for work in the morning, Treacher observed, a waiter comes over from the commissary, takes his order if he hasn't had breakfast, and delivers a loaded tray to his dressing room. On the set, he never is allowed to stand very long, for somebody's always following him around with a chair. The property man always can produce a bottle of pop if he's warm, or an aspirin if he has a headache.

A prop boy always is at hand to run errands. And there's a chap who stands around with a powder puff ready to powder his nose if he gets tired of powdering it himself. A studio car always is at his service if something's wrong with his own. And even his social engagements and romances are arranged by the studio publicity department. All in all, Treacher finds that actors have a pretty easy time of it.

Beneficial Bump

A bump on the head caused Treacher to become a movie butler. I don't mean that he was dropped when he was a child. It was a bump against an overhead microphone in his first picture, "Hollywood Party," in which he had been cast as a gentleman. But due to his 6 feet 4 1-2 inches of height he kept getting in the way of the sound boom, so the director decided he was too ludicrously tall for the part. As partial compensation he was allowed to play the bit of a butler.

So bored and depressed was Treacher that his mood was reflected in his acting. Instead of resenting this lack of spirit, Director Chuck Reisner thought it funny and used the actor in several similar parts. When Treacher tried to snap out of his sorry mood, Reisner wouldn't stand for it; told him to hold the pose and he'd amount to something in Hollywood. Sure enough, Frozen-Puss Treacher now is making four or five times as much money as he ever earned being a frivolous comedian on the stage.

Off-screen, he's anything but dour. Never goes to night clubs, but he's a great hand for private parties. Dances, gaily kisses the ladies, and makes 'em blush with his collection of sorg-stories which he tells, Dwight Fiske fashion, with the aid of a piano.

Teaching It Now

The entertainment arts are winning a big place in college curriculums, with hundreds of schools offering courses in screen writing, acting and technical production. Also thousands of high schools try to teach motion picture appreciation. Ninety colleges have classes in radio speech, 57 in scriot writing, and numerous others offer courses in radio production, radio advertising and even radio law. Now you know where the next crop of announcers will be harvested.

New York City's Columbia University has an extension course in Film Study with a course of lectures to be delivered by such celebrities as Groucho Marx, Norma Shearer, Fritz Lang and Luise Rainer.

FDR And His Merry Men Are Back On Warpa Against Business; Wage-Hour Bill Up Again

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 31—President Roosevelt and his New Deal colonels are resuming the warpath.

Rodney Dutcher

It looks as if the so-called breathing spell, which a previous dispatch reported was threatened after anti-administration statements by B. M. Baruch and others made the President sore, were about over.

This will be bad news to some, but excellent news to discouraged New Dealers on and off Capitol Hill who have been moaning that the New Deal was falling apart, that Roosevelt was doing everything his enemies wanted him to do and was letting his leadership go by default.

Roosevelt now intends to go to town for a wage-hour law and to send Congress a comprehensive message on monopoly early in April. The monopoly message is likely to be a strong one, providing an issue for an immediate fight in Congress and for injection into the congressional campaigns.

War Cry Sounded

That the President still had some fight left in him was indicated by his removal of Chairman Arthur Morgan of TVA, who was set up as a hero by anti-New Deal groups, and

Other official heads may roll beside that of former TVA Chairman Arthur Morgan "What this town needs," President Roosevelt remarked the other night to a small group, which included Postmaster General Jim Farley, "is about 15 good decapitations."

The incompetence of various high officials in Washington and Roosevelt's almost abnormal reluctance to fire any of them have long been commonly recognized. But the President gave no hint as to whom he might have in mind.

by the grim determination with which administration forces united to beat down the rebellion of conservative Democratic senators against the reorganization bill.

Then what appears to be a genuine war cry was sounded at Gainesville, Ga., in F. D. R.'s indictment of Southern wage scales and an industrial "feudal system." The attack was aimed not only at Southern politicians who have blocked wage-hour legislation, but also at the industrial interests they represent. It was an appeal to Southern workers who the President hopes will assert political strength and send more liberal representatives to Congress.

No One Plan

Those with whom Roosevelt consulted in advance of the speech are sure that he will go the limit in fighting for a wage-hour act at this session. The nature of the bill which the House will pass, if any, is only guesswork now because of inability to get together on one plan.

Considering the current presidential frame of mind, a strong White House attack to keep the vestage of the principle of the undistributed profits tax—retained in the House tax bill but knocked out by the Senate Finance committee—seems certain.

The outstanding front where the President hasn't made up his mind how and when to attack is the business depression. It becomes daily more likely that he will be forced into a spending program—or a lending program amounting to much the same thing. Already he has told WPA chiefs that they needn't plan for the ruthless cut in WPA funds which had been anticipated in April.

PERMANENTLY LOCATED AT 1112 AVENUE L

To The Voters Of The City Of Lubbock

Some time ago, as you know, I filed for City Commissioner, place three (3) for the election to be held in the City of Lubbock on April 5th, 1938.

My purpose in seeking the office of Commissioner, was to give to the people of our city a genuine service—a service not rendered in the present administration, viz: to abolish waste of public funds; to establish a reasonable wage scale and to appropriate public funds for the attraction of new enterprises and to increase the payroll that labor might receive its just reward.

After making a brief survey of the political situation—contacting my friends and also those who are in accord with my program, I have been encouraged and complimented on my policies to build a better and a finer City.

I am withdrawing my candidacy in the belief that our citizens will elect a progressive and economy ticket.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP) — Stocks found a firmer footing today after the late selling wave of yesterday's market had carried prices to the lowest levels for several years.

Volume was much smaller than in Wednesday's proceedings, and selling flurries frequently interrupted the come-back. Gains of fractions to 2 points were halved or cancelled in many cases near the fourth hour.

Brokerage quarters were still singing the blues, but some analysts seemed to detect a break in the recessionary clouds and talk was heard here and there of the market dragging bottom and preparing for a spring rise.

Bonds were mixed, with U. S. Governments lower. Commodities were uneven. While the foreign picture was none too bright, securities in European centers exhibited a better trend.

Favored the greater part of the day—some later retreated—were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, J. I. Case, Boeing, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, American Telephone and Public Service of N. J.

General Motors and Chrysler were in trouble after a forenoon upturn.

STATIONS ARE CLOSED

CALEXICO, Calif., March 31. (AP)—In a move to conserve their fast dwindling gasoline supplies for emergency use, all service stations in Mexicali, across the international border from this community, were closed today by order of Governor Rodolfo Sanchez Taboada.

China still has eight arsenals which are making small ammunition for her war with Japan.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 31. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 4 to 8 points net higher here today in response to favorable cables and on local and outside trade buying and covering.

Offerings were light and contracts were scarce in early dealings and the recent liquidation appeared to have strengthened the market's technical position.

May contracts opened at 8.71, July 8.76, Oct. 8.82, Dec. 8.84, Jan. at 8.87, and March 8.90.

Inventives were lacking during the morning and business tapered off almost to a standstill. Demand dried up at net advances of about 50 cents a bale and earlier buyers took profits.

There was some selling for foreign accounts and near mid-session May traded at 8.67, July 8.72, Oct. 8.76 and Dec. at 8.84, or unchanged to 7 points above the previous close.

The turnover here yesterday was 16,450 bales and open commitments 402,100 bales, a decrease of 3,300 bales from the previous day.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 5 to 11 advanced on higher Liverpool cables, trade and foreign buying. May 8.60; July 8.67; Oct. 8.71; Dec. 8.73; Jan. 8.75; March 8.79.

The weather map showed scattered showers in the belt with temperatures below normal in the northwest and above normal elsewhere.

Prices advanced a few points further following the call. The trade continued to take near months while Liverpool and the continent purchased forward deliveries.

The advance attracted local and southern hedging and July reacted from 8.71 to 8.66 shortly after the first half hour, leaving quotations about 7 to 10 points net higher.

The market lost most of its gains by midday as local selling developed. Foreign demand for late months also let up as the markets abroad closed.

July reacted to 8.60 and was selling at 8.61 at midday, when the market was 1 to 4 points net higher.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 31. (AP)—Downturns of wheat prices predominated in Chicago early today following an irregular start. Liverpool quotations were lower, with cheaper offerings of Australian wheat reported, and this more than offset frost reports from Kansas.

Opening at ⅜ decline to ¼ advance, May 86¼-⅜, July 82⅜-½, Chicago wheat futures then receded all around. Corn started unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, May 60½-⅝, July 61⅝-¾.

oil; what would the government do about the mining industry, likely to be hard hit by United States suspension of silver purchases and a drop in the world price; and how would Mexico pay for the oil properties.

There has been speculation, without official action, that the oil companies might be paid in oil, although there spokesmen did not favor this; or that the company management might continue to operate the wells, applying profits to the debt.

The newly formed revolutionary party by its projected platform would pledge the party to the socialist doctrines of Marx and to retain the present constitution and democratic form of government.

Twenty per cent penalty will be mandatory for those buying after that period if they should have operated their automobiles without new licenses, said Bryan, and there are definite charges provided by law to govern such cases.

FDR's Letter On 'Dictator'

of the fact" that congress alone could determine who will do river and harbor work, and that the forestry service was to be "hamstrung—hamstrung I suppose by the best friend forestry ever had in the United States."

Other Charges Mentioned

He mentioned other like charges and added: "I cite these merely as examples of a score of equally silly nightmares conjured up at the instigation either of those who would restore the government to those who owned it between 1921 and 1933, or those who for one reason or another seek deliberately to wreck the present administration of the government of the United States."

Referring to the bill's provision making executive orders on bureau shifting subject to disapproval by congressional "joint" resolution within 60 days, the president said if such a resolution were passed he would "in the overwhelming majority of cases go along with carefully considered congressional action," he added:

Would Gladly Yield

"I can think of no cases where the president would not gladly yield to a clear expression of congressional opinion."

In giving two "cogent" reasons why the bill should be passed in the present form, he said a "concurrent" resolution turning down presidential orders—which some opponents have proposed—was questionable constitutionally because it was only an expression of congressional "sentiment" and could not repeal executive action taken in pursuance of law.

A "joint resolution must be approved or rejected by the president, whereas a "concurrent" resolution does not go to him for action. Some opponents favor the "concurrent" form to prevent the possibility of a veto, thus forcing congress to reject an executive order by a two-thirds vote.

Visualizes No Possibility

In stating his second reason, the president referred to the "remote possibility" of a veto, adding: "I repeat that I visualize no such possibility between now and 1940 when the authority given is to end."

"Thus," his letter concluded, "you will see that charges of dictatorship are made out of the whole cloth—even if I wanted to be a dictator, which, heaven, knows, I do not."

The president said there were two methods of effecting a businesslike reorganization—by "complex and detailed legislation by the congress" or by the chief executive doing it subject to disapproval by congress.

He said he would have been willing to go along with the first method, but attempts by congress to reorganize in the past had failed many times and "every responsible member of the senate or the house is in agreement that detailed reorganization by the congress is a practical impossibility.

Highway Plans Are Prepared

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 31. — Engineers plied pencils and T-squares on scores of proposed highway improvements upon notification the U. S. Bureau of public roads had approved projects nominated for regular federal aid beginning July 1 and costing more than $15,000,000.

Of the amount, federal coffers would furnish $7,957,610 to be matched by state funds.

Improve 907 Miles

The program, scheduled to begin with opening of a new federal fiscal year, would improve 907 miles of major arteries in 25 highway divisions, including 265 miles of grading and drainage structures, 493 of surfacing and 147 of grading, drainage structures and surfacing as a joint operation.

The highway commission several months ago suggested improvements it thought eligible for federal assistance. With eligibility determined, engineers began preparing actual plans and specifications for submission to the bureau.

Montgomery In Capital

Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, is in Washington attempting to expedite administration of the new program.

Highway officials anticipated early approval of a secondary or feeder road program contemplating $1,591,522 in federal assistance and a $2,724,825 grade crossing elimination program to be financed entirely by the national government.

Refusal of congress to curtail regular federal aid, although contrary to a recommendation of President Roosevelt, will expedite Texas road construction.

Current federal assistance totals $12,273,957, including that for secondary items and grade separations and has accounted for major improvements in the state highway systems which on Jan. 1 totaled 21,244 miles, including 2,227 graded and drained, 1,815 with gravel, caliche or similar surfacing, 10,235 with asphalt surfacing, 4,765 with concrete or brick and 2,200 unimproved.

A state financed program of asphalt surfacing costing $2,444,852 is ready to begin.

El Paso Police Investigate Source Of Dynamite Stick

EL PASO, March 31. (AP)—Police investigators today sought the source of a stick of dynamite found lodged beneath the wheel of an automobile belonging to C. B. Cronkhite, El Paso contractor, in what appeared to be an attempted dynamite slaying.

No motive could be disclosed for inflicting death upon Cronkhite.

"I don't know of any reason why anyone would want to kill or injure me," the contractor said. "I may have some jealous rivals in the contracting business. Some of them become pretty angry when a competitor beats them on a bid for a job, but they are not killers."

Doctors, Nurses Rushed

Doctors and nurses were rushed to Pekin, where more than 250 houses were destroyed. The Pekin fire station and the Chicago and Northwestern railroad depot and roundhouse were demolished. About 150 passenger and freight cars were strewn in fragments alongside tracks.

Injured from towns around Pekin were being concentrated there. Sixty were taken from South Pekin, a village of 500 five miles south.

Sheriff Ralph Goar mobilized 50 deputies for relief duty around Pekin and the state highway patrol sent 62 men.

Kansas Area Stricken

Columbus, Kas., bore the brunt of the Kansas-Oklahoma-Arkansas-Missouri storm. All seven Kansans known dead were killed there. A strip ten blocks wide was virtually levelled. At least 50 buildings were destroyed and 100 persons were injured.

Three-year-old Buddy Palmer died today of injuries he suffered at Columbus.

Sheriff Fred Simkin of Cherokee county said 200 families were homeless. He estimated damage at Columbus at $100,000 but other sources said it would be at least $300,000.

Teachers Save Pupils

Quick work by teachers saved 100 pupils at Highland grade school in Columbus. The building was virtually wrecked. Near Chetopa, Kas., Miss Virginia Sappington led 20 pupils out of her rural school and ordered them to lie in a ditch. The building was heavily damaged.

Three inches of rain added a threat of floods in Oklahoma and Kansas. There were no fatalities in Oklahoma, but 15 persons were injured in the five counties the storm covered. The village of Hollow was razed.

Six Red Cross workers from midwestern division headquarters at St. Louis were at Columbus, five at Pekin, four in Missouri, 12 in Arkansas and 10 in the Alton, Ill., district.

Weather bureau officials at Kansas City said the storm began when warm air from the Gulf of Mexico clashed with a cold low pressure area.

morning paper was a lie."

He had expressed his wish to talk with Frank Mills, ranger stationed at Lubbock. "I've been knowing him since I was that high," he said, indicating.

Mills formerly was sheriff of Coleman county. He was out of the city this morning.

Whether other charges would be filed was not known at noon, said the sheriff, awaiting "developments."

Rae was arrested near his father's home by George Robey, sheriff, R. C. Miller, chief deputy, and H. T. O'Bar, chief of police, all of Coleman, late Tuesday.

When Bardwell walked into the jail, Rae said:

Mr. Bardwell, I'd like to talk with you."

Rae said he had not taken "over the wheel" to "hurt anybody or to take anybody's money," but so he could make Bardwell drive him home.

Afraid He Would Be Hurt

"When he jumped out of the car I grabbed him because I was afraid he would be hurt," he said. Bardwell had explained earlier the machine was being driven 50 miles an hour or more at the time, at a "90-to-nothing" rate.

"I don't know why I did it," he said. "This is the first lawsuit I ever was in."

"Well, I guess there isn't much chance for me," he said later to the sheriff. "It means the pen, I guess. I don't mind that so much—work is so hard to find—and I could learn a trade in the pen, I guess—but this will hurt my mother. She hasn't been in good health for two years."

He continually asked Sheriff Abel what the official believed "would be the maximum penalty."

"Death for armed robbery," said the sheriff once.

"But didn't have a gun," Rae explained.

Writes To Parents

A letter the man handed one of the officers for Sheriff Abel to mail was addressed to "Dear Mother and Dad." It said, in substance:

I guess you will know now there is something wrong . . . You have done your best to raise me right, and I don't want you to worry. FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

Act Pays Dividends

DETROIT—John Rebert, jr., 8, had a dime but no bank.

Looking for a safe place to hide it, he dropped it into the open mouth of his sleeping 33-year-old father. The coin was removed from Rebert's esophagus at a hospital.

Now little Johnny is going to get a bank.

'Number, Please'

LYNCHBURG, Va. — The James river turned the tide on Lynchburg's telephone operators.

Flooding an underground conduit, the river flashed 2,000 calls simultaneously on the battery of telephone swichboards.

The operators, after their frantic cries of "number please" remained unanswered, informed repairmen who quickly found the difficulty and remedied it.

Resourceful

INDIANA, Pa.—Farmer James H. Peace, anxious to sit in Pennsylvania's assembly, chartered an airplane to enter politics.

Peace hired a pilot to fly his nominating petitions to Harrisburg, the state capital. The aviator beat the filing deadline by minutes.

Twin Trouble

SIDNEY, Neb.—It takes ingenuity to mother twins.

Ron and Jon, age 14 months, locked themselves in the family car. Mrs. H. H. Hansen cajoled, pleaded, and coaxed but her sons just pressed their noses against the glass and gurgled.

Then Mrs. Hansen ran to a nearby store, bought two shiny tooth brushes, and attracted the twins' attention. Interested, they rolled down one of the windows.

Come On, Gang!

TILLAMOOK, Ore.—There's safety in numbers.

A flock of nearly 1,000 geese rallied to the defense of one of their number attacked by a hawk at a feeding ground near here.

The hawk escaped after being pounded almost to death by the geese's wings.

Jumpy

NEW YORK—John Sullivan is in a hospital because he didn't look before he leaped.

Seeking a short cut through Central park, he vaulted a three-foot wall.

There was a 25-foot drop on the other side.

He suffered a compound leg fracture.

Thick

OKLAHOMA CIT—The way to sell bread is to slice it thick.

Granville W. Moore, counselor to the East Texas bakery trade, told the Oklahoma Bakers' association people eat bread by the slices, not pounds, regardless of the size of each piece.

"We count by slices," Moore said. "We have so many slices of toast for breakfast, so many slices of bread at lunch, and so many more at dinner."

When you step out in that new tweed sports suit, be sure your costume is correct right down to your feet. Lisle stockings, besides being the smartest foot note of the moment, harmonize beautifully with sports fabrics. Shown above, at top, pastel blue lisle mesh stockings team up perfectly with Tyrolean flats of perforated white reversed calf with side gussets of bright blue. Quite new is the bold white stitched welt decoration. At left, fine round-hole mesh lisle stockings are a lighter tone of copper-brown to harmonize with the warm copper color of the grained calf oxfords. At bottom, navy blue clocked lisle sports stockings in a rosy beige contrast pleasingly with the navy blue of the reversed calf sport shoes.

Famed Gibson Girl, Popular At Turn Of Century, Here Again

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Feature Service

The Gibson Girl, the Miss America at the turn of the century, has set her sartorial seal on the modern girl's spring clothes.

The high-necked shirtwaist, veiled sailor hat and hatpins worn by the beauty who queened it over beaux of 40 years ago have come to life again in the new mode of 1938.

Even a modern version of her whalebone neckline appears in some of the new suit blouses. The collar's boneless, of course, in keeping with the modern girl's insistence on comfort, but it stands in a high smooth-fitting line about the throat which is strongly reminiscent of the Gibson Girl fashions.

The tucked vestee rimmed with lace, the ruffled jabot and even a modified version of the mutton-leg sleeve are also seen in the new lingerie suit-blouses which are made of white batiste or Swiss organdy.

Another fashion note which dates from Gibson Girl days is the blouse-and-skirt mode, back in vogue for the first time in many years. It links a pleated or gored skirt with the "bloused blouse" cut with the high neck and long full sleeves favored by the belle of the nineties. New bloused top dresses follow similar lines.

Then there's the big Merry-widow sailor, flat of crown and brim, looped up in a voluminous veil and caught with hatpins in a way which bring memories of the pampadoured beauties of many years ago. Sometimes the veils extend under the chin, again they are tied into a big bow at the back of the hat, while the hatpins vary from little jeweled modern designs to the globe-topped spikes of the nineteen hundreds.

Some of the new spring suits are slightly reminiscent in line of those worn by the Gibson Girl—and by way of an exclamation point, clusters of violets are being worn again.

You Can Have Pie In Little While If You Have The Crust To Do It Says Expert

BY LOUISE BENNETT WEAVER
AP Feature Service

The hurried hostess in need of a pastry dessert will find a few pie-making time-savers very helpful.

She may keep a supply of pie-crust mix handy. She may stow away a few boxes of crackers, zwieback or vanilla wafers to be rolled out as a base for a quick crust. Or she may have on hand extra tart cases and pastry shells to be filled at the last minute.

There are lots of pastry-making short-cuts. Among them are:

1. Keep a supply of cream fillings (chocolate, fruit, caramel or cocoanut) stored in the refrigerator. When you need them pour them into baked piecrusts and cover with meringue made of the egg whites saved from the fillings.

2. While you're making toast in the morning broil some fresh or canned fruits. Let them chill and use them at night in baked tart cases. Top them with jelly, whipped cream, sauce or boiled custard.

3. Make individual, deep dish or lattice-topped pies or cobblers instead of double crust pies. They take less baking time.

4. Prepare a piecrust mix to store in the refrigerator. To do it mix six cups of flour, two teaspoons of salt and two cups of lard. Add enough cold water to hold the ingredients together. Press into a ball. Wrap in waxed paper and store in the refrigerator. Chilled dough rolls out easily and will produce a flaky crust when baked.

5. Mix a crumb-crust as follows: Add one and a half cups of rolled Graham cracker, zwieback, toast or vanilla wafer crumbs to one-third of a cup of granulated sugar and a third of a cup of butter. Then add one teaspoon of cinnamon and a fourth of a teaspoon of salt. Press into a buttered pan and chill—or add a fruit or cooked custard filling and chill the combination until serving time.

Additional hints:

Use coffee as the liquid called for in a cream filling.

Add a third of a teaspoon of oil of peppermint to chocolate fillings.

Top orange cream or chocolate meringue-covered pies with a little grated sweet chocolate.

Thicken fruit and berry pies with two tablespoons of tapioca or flour.

Sprinkle toasted almonds over the top of cocoanut, orange, lemon or pineapple cream pies.

Combine fruits used in deep dish pies. For example, add red cherries to pineapple, apricots to pineapple, apples to cranberries, peaches and currants to prunes and apples.

Butterscotch Pie
(Makes One Pie)

1 package butter-scotch arrow-root pudding
1 eight-inch baked pastry shell
2 cups milk
Whipped cream

Mix butterscotch pudding and milk. Cook over a low fire, stirring constantly until it thickens and boils up once. Remove from fire and cool slightly. Pour into baked pastry shell. Top with whipped cream.

Legal Interpretation Of Spring Style

A barrister's folio inspires the design for a new spring bag which opens into a square flat "carry-all" equipped with pockets for powder and cash. It is made of warm chaudron (henna) leather to match the hat and is worn with a beige and cream shadow-plaid wool coat.

Don't Baby "Infant" Who Is Fretful

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"I simply can't get the baby started right," wails Mrs. Brown when the doctor comes in to make his regular check-up. "He has colic half the night and often through the day. What am I to do,"

The doctor makes a careful note of anything that might be disturbing her own digestion, and therefore the baby's. But it seems that Mrs. Brown knows all the things that disagree with her. Baby just has colic in spite of everything, and that's all there is to it. Can't he tell her why babies have colic?

To comfort the mother with a colicky baby. I am going to tell her to do just the best she can, until the three or six months of tummy ache are over.

The subject of this chapter, however, is not nourishment or its problems, but rocking the baby and walking the floor with him.

Possibly nothing has caused more debate in points north, south, east or west than the old rocking chair. What should be done about it?

Keep it, dear mother, not to rock Jackie every time he gets tired of bed, or has a pain, but because every once in a while you might want to lift him and hold him close while you croon a little lullaby. He is yours to enjoy, and I never knew a mother who did not long to do this very thing.

Easy To "Spoil"

It is quite easy for him to learn to expect rocking. It is your problem not to fix the habit, so he won't give you any peace. But it is so easy to establish expectancy, so he won't close his eyes in slumber unless he is gently swayed to a soothing tune.

He is just smart enough, too, to put on an act when he wasn't any more than especially if he has really had some bad days, and learned to dread the slightest little twinge. "Hurry, mama," his cry says, "it's coming again. I'm almost sure it is anyway. I'd feel much better over your shoulder or turned on my face over your lap."

Nothing can equal a baby's cry for irritating us beyond endurance. But when we hush it too often, it just keeps on pleading its own case.

A nice comfy bed is about as good a place as any for baby to "suffer" in. What he doesn't know doesn't hurt him. Again, I repeat that training begins right in the crib.

Since the reign of Charles II. of England, the office of Earl Marshal always has been held by the head of the House of Howard. The Earl Marshal is in charge of all arrangements for a coronation.

BANNER POTATO TIPS

Thoroughly mash or rice potatoes if they are used to make rolls or biscuits. If leftover potatoes are to be used be sure they are not highly seasoned. Soften them by heating in a double boiler and pressing through a sieve.

COLD WHIPPING CREAM

Keep cream that is to be whipped very cold. And chill the bowl and beater to be used in whipping it. If the cream is slow to thicken add a little salt or lemon juice to hasten the process.

PINK AND BLACK

PARIS (AP) — Pink and black are a smart color combination. Strawberry pink pique makes a three-quarter swagger coat with wide-cut elbow-length sleeves to top a black crepe dress with pink pique collar and belt.

New Silhouette

A shining example of the new loose lined silhouette is this wonderfully flattering spring coat of nubby wool in navy blue. Its hemline swings. Its armholes are wide and comfortable, sleeves full. Its back is generously bloused.

Since 1918, more than one and a quarter million houses have been built in England, providing homes for five or six million people.

DRIED BEEF APPETIZER

Select twelve good-sized pieces of dried beef. Spread each piece with a mixture made by adding half a cup of cream cheese to one teaspoon each of chopped parsley, green pepper and sweet pickles and a fourth of a teaspoon each of dry mustard, paprika, minced onion and celery salt. Roll each piece of beef in waxed paper and chill for an hour or so. With a sharp knife cut each roll into three pieces. Insert wooden picks in each and place them on hot triangles of toast.

GRAY IS POPULAR

NEW YORK, (AP)—Gray is color news in evening clothes this spring. She accented it with a huge silver chain necklace and a geranium coiffure topknot.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Home Will Be Far Sweeter In 1963 Even If It 's Glass---Or Rubber; Big Improvements Seen

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Associated Press Feature Writer

Many middle-class Americans will be living in "magic houses" 25 years from now.

But don't expect them, or their neighbors, to be ga-ga about it. For they took pretty much as a matter of course the transition from the cupola cutie and the bay-windowed behemoth of the Victorian era to the immeasurably more comely and livable house of 1938.

And you can count on U. S. home-lovers, already casually familiar with flip-of-the-finger conveniences, to take in their stride the houses of 1963 with such miracles as:

Telephones that will take down the message whether or not anyone answers the phone.

A bedroom light that will go on automatically in the night when one gets out of bed—an important safety gadget since 33 per cent of all home falls occur in bedrooms.

An electric eye that will light the entrance to a house as one approaches it.

Concealed lighting providing maximum "daylight" illumination night and day, and simultaneously flooding every room with health-giving rays.

Television offering home movies, baseball and football games and photo finishes of horse races. Perhaps a tabloid newspaper by radio or wire facsimile.

Chemically-treated air-conditioning which will kill germs in noise-deadened, vermin-proof, dust-free rooms.

Kitchens will go completely mechanical, and there will be a great increase in electrical devices for cooking on dining room table. Water-softeners and moth-proof closets will be in common use.

Old Designs To Linger

There will be sundry versions of the elegant house of tomorrow. Architectural styles, exterior and interior construction materials, appliances and furnishings will come in a multiplicity of easily-assembled combinations. (Easier assembly of materials, experts say, is the key to lower-priced homes.)

Houses will have more flowing lines but many will incorporate graceful contours of classic designs. Architectural seers are confident that American and French colonials, the Georgian house, English and Cape Cod cottages still will be popular.

The trend will be toward smaller houses with maximum utilization of space and labor-saving arrangements. They will come in metals, in brick with steel supports, in fire-resistant wood with self-cleaning paint, in concrete with delicate mosaics, in cinder blocks, in synthetic stone, in glass, and possibly in rubber.

Pre-fabricated houses will be built of metals, brick panels, plywoods, plastics and various synthetic materials. Some occupants, moving from one town to another, will take their collapsible "prefabs" with them. The trailer-type home, of course, will be taken along on jaunts to woods, mountains and seashore.

It will not be fantastic to see combination tile-glass roofs affording miniature solariums in small houses. This offers a new use for attics. Special "below-basement" garages will be reached by elevators. Coming also are more basement gymnasiums and small swimming pools that can be covered when not in use.

Houses All On The Ground

Many experts believe that in suburban areas houses will be built on a ground-floor plane as far as possible. Living rooms will be shifted to the rear in many cases to escape street noises and provide a view of gardens.

Large wall sections will be devoted to windows, or to glass bricks which provide diffused light without loss of privacy. Plumbing lines will be fewer but more efficient than today's complicated setups.

Many appliances will be built into the house, Room-to-room communicating systems will be installed.

Some experts look for a large number of all-glass houses, the inside walls and partitions of which will be kept clean by the mere rub of a sponge. Floors, in winter, would be covered by a thick carpet of solid rubber made of removable squares to afford easy cleaning.

Water will be piped along the walls—to cool the house in summer and to clean the glass.

Authorities see a definite trend to planned large-scale production of single and multiple family homes for sale and rent. Limited dividend corporations will build entire residential sections providing for elaborate landscaping and freedom from traffic hazards.

Central management will insure neighborhood upkeep, recreational facilities and underground parking zones. Cities will encourage similar corporations to rehabilitate run-down residential neighborhoods.

HENS YIELD NO PROFIT

BRISTOW, Okla., (AP)—The average Oklahoma hen lays 64 eggs a year doesn't pay for her keep.

Poultrymen of the Creek County Poultry Federation say a hen must lay at least 73 eggs a year before the farmer can make a profit on her.

The federation is attempting to find a way to do something about the low production average.

SALAD POINTER

If your cooked vegetable salad seems a little flat for your taste, try mixing with the vegetables finely chopped dill or sweet pickles.

Patrons of Maine's state liquor stores have spent $15,000,000 since the state went into the liquor business in 1934.

FISHING COMFORT
A true sportsman may scorn a bit of discomfort, but fishing garments designed by an experienced fisherman and fashioned of a water-repellant fabric, is real news for piscatorial fans. Because the process by which this fabric is made resistant to water allows the pores of the cloth to remain open, the garments are cool and light. Convenient fishing aprons and suits fold compactly into a small space, and washing or dry-cleaning do not detract from their water-repellancy.

Approximately 90 per cent of all persons enrolled in school go to public educational institutions and 10 per cent to private schools.

Spring Styles Captivated By Swing Epidemic

There is action in the skirts of the spring's new sports frocks. Pleats and gores have been used to give freedom of movement on golf links and country roads. This dress of blue, rose and cream plaid rayon crepe has a high-tied collar and an all-around pleated skirt typical of the trend. Other frocks for an Easter weekend include Old Favorite, the shirtwaist dress (good as ever), trig two-piece frocks and jacket dresses. Biggest selections from the sports color card are green, beige, rust, blue and a big splash of wine.

AFTERNOON JACKET
PARIS (AP) — Leather jackets, formerly just sportwear items, are new recruits for afternoon wear. They come in black shiny leather, and are punched full of holes like eyelet embroideries. Schiaparelli shows one in fitted tailleur style. Pucci in a short swagger model. Both top slim afternoon dresses in black woolen.

SPIDER WEB
NEW YORK (AP) — A spider web dress made its debut at a recent benefit fashion show at the St. Regis Hotel. The full frothy skirt of the black marquisette frock was printed in huge white spider webs on which perched a red spider. The corselette belt was red.

QUANTITY PRODUCEION
Housewives whose families are avid cookie munchers will enjoy using one of the new six-sided, sharp-bladed cutters which turn on a sturdy wooden-handled frame and cut a swathe of different shaped cookies at one stroke. Simply dip the cutter in flour to prevent the dough sticking to the forms and run it lightly over the dough sheet. Additional blades of different designs may be purchased, as well as one for cutting doughnuts.

LEMON FOR RUST
Lemon juice and salt will remove iron rust stains from materials or a hot oxalic solution may be used for linens or cottons if the color will not be affected.

Something New In Way Of Easter Bonnets

One of the handsomest Easter hats to wear with spring tailleurs is this small sailor with crown of navy felt and brim of white toyo—practical because its smooth finish resists dust. It's finished with a single jaunty ribbon at the back and a navy veil.

Current Edition Of Popular Pillbox

This 1938 edition of the pillbox was snapped at a recent smart luncheon at the Ritz in New York. Sally Victor designed it of grape felt and smocked soft blue jersey to wear with a grape tweed suit flecked in blue.
