GOVERNMENT SETS PRICE AT 70 PER CENT OF PARITY

Grain Sorghum Support Scored

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 14 — A grain sorghum price support program announced today by the agriculture department drew criticism from Texas congressmen who represent large areas producing the feed.

Cong. George Mahon, (D-Tex.) Colorado City, and Lubbock expressed surprise at the announcement the government would support the price at 70 per cent of parity.

"I'm wholly dissatisfied with this figure," he told a reporter. "It should have been at least 90 per cent of parity to influence any farmers to switch over to grain sorghum from cotton."

"The support price is wholly inadequate," said Mahon. "It is possibly worthless. This is not enough help to encourage a substitution of grain sorghum for cotton production in grain sorghum areas."

Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, member of the house agriculture committee, said the action meant that the government would lose money in the end. Now it would have to buy cotton on which it will sustain much heavier losses than it would have on grain sorghum.

Reps. Poage and Lyle had joined Mahon in urging a strong price support as a means of reducing cotton production.

Prospects are for a mounting surplus of cotton, they said, in urging a loan guarantee of 90 or 100 percent of parity on the feed grain as a means of getting large tracts taken out of cotton cultivation.

"The price support last year was 78 percent of parity," Poage declared, "or roughly $2.35 per hundred pounds.

"Reducing this to 70 percent of parity means a cut of about 20 cents per hundred pounds on what the farmer will get.

"In my opinion, it will cause 1,000,000 more acres in Texas to be devoted to cotton than would have been the case with even the 78 percent figure guaranteed last year."

The Texans said they have little hope that they might yet persuade the department to booost the guaranteed figure since they previously emphasized the necessity for a strong price support program.

Parity is a formula used by the government to assure farmers the same purchasing power for their crops as they received during a base period, usually the years 1909

Ellender On Floor More Than 12 Hours

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 15 (Tuesday) — Southerners carried their filibuster into the early hours of this morning, although the Truman leadership of the Senate had already acknowledged temporary defeat and sought to call the battle off.

The southern filibuster, which started Feb. 28, is aimed at blocking an administration move to change Senate rules to facilitate passage of civil rights bills.

Refuse To Yield

At 12:30 a. m., EST, Senator Ellender (D-La), current speaker for the Dixie block, was still going strong after more than 12 hours of speechmaking.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, interrupted to ask if Ellender would yield the floor so Lucas could make a motion to adjourn.

ADJOURNMENT DEBATED

WASHINGTON, March 15. (Tuesday) (AP) — Senator Ellender (D-La) yielded the floor of the Senate early today after talking for 12 hours and 20 minutes, but whether the great filibuster battle would go on or end was still uncertain.

Senators were still engaged in a discussion shortly after 2 a. m. (EST) as to whether to adjourn or recess.

That would have meant the end of the fight, with the administration temporarily defeated, but even so Ellender was having none of it. He, like the other southerners, wanted something more than a temporary victory.

"I don't think I'll yield," he drawled.

It was a highly unusual situation. Southern Democrats sworn to defeat civil rights bills and northern Republicans who advocate such legislation apparently were joining to block the Truman Democrats' attempt to lay the fight aside.

Fear New Attempt

However, the two forces arrayed against the administration gave altogether different reasons for their actions.

The southerners said they feared the move of the Truman Democrats was only strategic. They suspected the administration would revive later in this con-

COLD FRONT RIPS INTO AREA

Freezing Weather, Snow Sweep Into Plains; Sharp Drop Seen

SPRING beat a hasty retreat out of the South Plains early today as a blustery cold front opened a drive southward out of the shivering Midwest and ripped into Texas.

Sub-freezing temperatures, occasional snow flurries, light freezing drizzle, strong winds, and some dust were forecast for the area at midnight last night by the Weather station north of town.

Temperatures today probably will fall to 20 to 25 degrees by noon, and not climb above the 35 degree mark this afternoon, the station said. Readings as low as 15 degrees are forecast for the Panhandle.

The front which hit the Plains area at 1 a. m. was expected to step up its velocity to 25 to 30 miles an hour this morning, whipping dirt and dust into the air. A bank of clouds following behind the front is expected to bring freezing drizzle or light snow flurries during the day, the station said.

Man Arrested In Ralls; $250 Taken In City

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

A MAN who identified himself as William Moore, 38, of Garrett, Ky., was arrested about 7 p.m. Monday at a small hotel in Ralls, about four hours after $250 had been snatched from a teller's cage at Citizens National bank here.

Moore, who was charged in justice court of C. E. Lynn with felony theft and placed under $5,000 bond, admitted in a signed statement to E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, that he had taken the money. When arrested by Crosby county sheriff Foy Addison and Deputy Sheriff J. N. Poteet at the Ralls hotel, Moore had in his possession $243.95.

Recognized By Floydada Man

While local agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, city detectives and Texas Rangers were checking reports and files for possible identification of the subject, the alertness of W. A. Keeter, Floydada construction worker, resulted in the arrest.

Keeter, who earlier in the day had seen Moore at Shorty's cafe, 1205 Ave. G, where the latter was seeking to cash a $5 check, was on his way home to Foydada when he saw the suspect at the Ralls hotel. He notified authorities and the arrest followed.

Keeter, who talked with newsmen about 4:30 p.m. after seeing an account of the theft from the bank in the afternoon papers, said that he was in the cafe when a man attempted to cash a check there. When he failed to get the check cashed, even after offering to take $2 for the instrument, he left the cafe, Keeter said.

Tried Other Firms

Outside the eating establishment, Keeter said he was approached by a man who proposed a plan, without giving any details, to "stack up some money." Keeter said he cautioned the man that such actions would only lead to trouble.

The last time he saw the man, Keeter said, he was going down

PARIS, March 14 — American embassies in Europe were understood tonight to have received a warning from the State Department that the Soviets may act to create an East-West war scare.

A report to the embassies envisaged a Russian attempt to stir up a grave new crisis in the next few months in the hopes of obtaining western approval of a Soviet offer to settle the cold war on appeasement terms.

Diplomatic observers predicted if the Russians make such a move, it may take the form of sending troops into Finland.

Rumors Of Trouble Heard

The Soviet strategy was regarded as one of the developments that may emerge from the Soviet government shakeup.

In a related development, it was learned that French foreign office circles are concerned over rumors that Russia is planning to precipitate serious trouble in the Balkans in an attempt to liquidate Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. His non-conformist policies brought Yugoslavia's ouster from the Cominform last year.

Reports from Trieste told of the dispatch of Cominform general staff officers to Albania's northern border with Yugoslavia under Soviet Lieut. Col. Timosegiev. The newspaper Paris Presse said the group's objective is to foment an insurrection against Tito in Montenegro.

Tito Under Pressure

French diplomatic reports spoke of the possibility that Bulgarian, Albanian and Greek Communist "partisans" may stir up trouble in Macedonia in the next 10 days.

These reports agree that Soviet-inspired pressure tactics against Tito are increasing but admit the Soviet objectives as yet are uncertain.

Rattling of the Soviet saber in Europe would be aimed at winning maximum concession from the West at the peak of a war scare.

A sugar-coated peace offering from the Soviets then would make it difficult for the West to reject it without losing support of public opinion.

Diplomatic observers speculated the Russians might attempt to move their troops into Finland in retaliation for Norway's rejection of a Soviet offer to set up a

Censorship Imposed On Truman Pictures

KEY WEST, Fla., March 14 (AP) —The White House imposed censorship today on air views of President Truman's vacation headquarters, including pictures of the Chief Executive in swimming. Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross attributed the action to "security" reasons.

Ross confiscated films of Tom Craven, Paramount news cameraman and Joe Vadala, representing NBC television news.

Still photographers Byron H. Rollins of the Associated Press, Milton Frier of Acme News Pictures and Al Muto of International News photos destroyed their films rather than submit to censorship.

Later, Ross told a news conference he "requested" the pictures not be used because he considered them "a completely unauthorized invasion of the President's privacy," as well as for security reasons.

Reporters pressed for an explanation of the security angle. Ross said he meant pictures showing the exact location of the President's beach. He said he approached the security angle from the point used by the Secret Service which guards the life of the President.

If the photographers had cleared their request through him, he said, some "mutually satisfactory arrangement" could have been made.

NEW BUDGET IS OKAYED

Soviets Make New Changes In Top Government Posts

By EDDIE GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, March 14—The Supreme Soviet approved tonight a newly-revealed shakeup of top Soviet leaders in which Nikoalai A. Voznesensky was replaced as chairman of the important state planning commission.

Also approved was the 1949 budget. The Supreme Soviet, which had convened last Thursday, then adjourned its sessions.

The new budget calls for military expenditures of 9,000,000,000 rubles ($15,000,000,000 under the Russian exchange rate). This is an increase of almost 20 per cent over military expenditures for last year.

Part of General Shift

The budget provides for total expenditures of 415,355,000,000 rubles and for revenues of 455,208,000,000. The corresponding figures for 1948 were: expenditures 368,800,000,000 rubles and revenues 408,400,000,000.

Voznesensky also was relieved of his duties as deputy prime minister. Ivan T. Golyakov was replaced as president of the supreme court of the Soviet Union.

The changes apparently were part of an overall shift of responsibility involving the release of V. M. Mootov as foreign minister and A. I. Mikoyan as foreign trade minister. The decision to release Voznesensky and Golyakov was taken at about the same time—March 5—but was not reveiled until an announcement was made today to the Supreme Soviet, which has been in session on the budget.

In the cases of Molotov and Mikoyan, at least, the prevailing impression among foreign diplomats here has been that no demotion was involved. Molotov still is first deputy prime minister under Sta-

Train Carrying Film Stars Due To Visit Lubbock Late Today

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Staff Writer

The 16-Pullman special train, carrying the largest group of Hollywood celebrities ever to visit Lubbock, is due to make a 15-minute stop at the local Santa Fe station at 7:45 o'clock tonight.

Some 60 movie personalities will be aboard the streamliner, which is en route from Hollywood to Houston for the dual St. Patrick's day premiere of multi-millionaire Glenn McCarthy's Shamrock hotel and first motion picture, "The Green Promise."

Good Turnout Seen

Aside from the fact that the train will be here from 7:45 to 8 p.m., if on schedule, advance publicity releases have not given any details regarding the Lubbock stop.

Maybe the five dozen film stars will all take some part in saying "Howdy" to the crowd at the local station—particularly since this is the train's first Texas stop.

And then again, maybe not even one actor will take the trouble to peer from a window.

But despite the uncertainty, quite a throng is expected to be on hand. After all, it isn't every day that an entourage of this caliber visits here. For that matter, this is just about the costliest and most spectacular star junket ever staged anywhere.

Top Stars On Train

The passenger list of the special train reads like a page from "Who's Who in the Movies." And the statement that it's a group of big stars can be applied more ways than one—since 295-pound Oliver Hardy (of Oliver & Hardy), and fat funnyman Lou

Chinese Reds Renew Attacks On Nationalist Yangtze Defenses

NANKING, March 14 (INS)—Communist forces were reported today to have renewed their attacks against Nationalist defenses on the Yangtze river despite the promise of new peace negotiations.

The Kuomintang (Nationalist party) mouthpiece, the Central Daily News, reported that 300,000 men in two Red columns under Gen. Chen Yi have been attacking a Yangtze ferry point east of Nanking since Friday.

Despite the renewal of hostilities which broke a 10-week lull on the civil war front China's new Premier. Ho Ying-Chin continued with his plans for an agreement with the Communists.

Rent Controls Given Boost

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 14 — A Senate Banking subcommittee reached unexpected agreement today on several major provisions tightening rent controls. Chairman Sparkman, (D-Ala.), said he was well satisfied with the result.

The Senate group reached no agreement, however, on the length of rent control extension, proposals for which range from 90 days to 27 months.

The subcommittee approved the recontrol of previously decontrolled rent areas wherever such action is recommended by local boards. It also approved:

Major Tests Scheduled

1. Recontrol of residential apartments with the rates rolled back to Oct. 31, 1948, instead of June 30, 1947, as requested by Housing Expeditor Tighe Woods.

2. Decontrol of luxury apartments renting for $290 a month or more.

3. Empowering of the expediter to recontrol trailer camps on recommendation of the local advisory boards.

Major tests on the length of extension are scheduled for tomorrow in the House of Representatives, which will vote on the 90-day proposal to give states, counties and cities the power to reject control.

Doubts were expressed in both the Senate and the House as to whether the full-length, long-term rent control extension bill sought by President Truman will be enacted into law.

Sparkman said that he and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), another adminis-

Lewis' Move Backfires On Boyd Nomination

Coal Stoppage Idles More Than 500,000

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, March 14 — The coal industry's 20th major stoppage since 1919 today cut production to a mere trickle.

Coal dependent industries began living off their "fat"—the big stockpiles garnered during the current mild eastern winter. More than 62,000 railroaders were forced into idleness.

About 471,000 hard and soft coal miners stayed at hime to observe a two-week shutdown called by UMW president John L. Lewis. The miners' boss ordered all diggers east of the Mississippi to remain idle as a memorial to dead and injured miners.

Lewis also wished to emphasize the UMW's opposition to the appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, but that maneuver boomeranged when a Senate committee today approved the appointment, 10 to 1.

32,000 Remain At Work

Lewis called Boyd unqualified. Today's committee action puts the Boyd nomination up to the Senate for final action. But nobody knew when that would come on account of the filibuster tieup.

Only about 32,000 miners remained at work in western states, where Lewis made an exemption in his "stop work" order. He said the severe winter there make continued production necessary.

Another 17,000 miners in Illinois were busy in the pits. They belong to the Progressive Mine Workers, an independent union.

In Pennsylvania and West Virginia, a few coal stripping operations were working but the output of those non-union workers is insignificant.

Like Another Sunday

Wives of western Pennsylvania's 56,000 idle miners complained of the expected financial hardship just before Easter. But one practical housewife declared: "We're just going to have our men do the spring house-cleaning."

Atomic Ship Project To Be Started Soon

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Conn) said today a huge new research project is to be started soon on atomic plants for submarines and ships.

He said the atomic energy commission will spend about $500,000,000 in the next five or six years building new atomic reactors for the project. It is to be located in a western state.

McMahon is chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee. He told about the project in an interview.

McMahon tolked to reporters after a meeting of the joint atomic energy committee with AEC director David Lilienthal and other commission officials.

"At the end of this research," McMahon said, "we are hopeful we can demonstrate that mobile (atomic) power plants not only are feasible but are here."

Sweet Potato Crop In Lubbock County May Yield $500,000

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE humble sweet potato, or yam, will bring somethir e like $500,000 to Lubbock county growers this year, according to County Agent Dave Sherrill. Sherrill is supported in this optimistic outlook by Olen Crump, 314 Avenue U, one of Lubbock's outstanding growers and producers of certified sweet potatoes.

Crump has been busy for the past several days preparing his seed beds to produce an estimated 1,000,000 plants. Of this number Crump will plant about 100,000 slips on a ten acre area and will sell the balance to other growers.

"Prices for number one grades are higher now than at any time since the war years," Crump said Monday. "Unless something unusual happens to destroy the quality of the fine crops we are able to produce here the harvest this year should command a comparable price."

Olen Crump followed his father into sweet potato growing business. Originally it was a side-line with him which he worked in his off hours. In 1938 Crump gave up railroading with the Santa Fe to devote his full time to agricul-

New Tax Bill Is Filed At Austin

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 14.—A tax bill designed to raise enough money to cover the gap between state spending and present revenues was filed today for House introduction.

The measure, as introduced, would cover only lime, Fuller's earth, and gypsum, but Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth said he expects to "cover the whole field" when his bill reaches committee.

This, he said, would include higher tax rates on oil, gas and sulphur, three natural resources which now bring in most of the state's revenue.

New Taxes Proposed

Hull's measure said the fact that additional revenue is needed for the state government of Texas creates an emergency.

Hull told a reporter: "If we need a tax bill, my idea is it should be spread out. My purpose is to write an omnibus tax bill in which I'd want to cover the whole field to raise whatever revenue we have to have to balance the budget."

He had no idea how much revenue the taxes on the three new items would raise. "I just wanted to have a bill I could expand later," he said.

The new taxes: 2½ cents per 100 pounds on distribution of lime, 18 cents per ton on production of Fuller's earth, and 2½ cents per ton on production of gypsum.

Fuller's earth is a resource much like clay. It is used in iron production.

SCIENCE SEEKS BROADER FIELDS

Cosmic Rays Potentially Greater Than Atom Energy, Scientist Says

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Trail blazers of science have moved on to a new and exciting field—cosmic rays. Famed scientists say that the energy potential of these rays renders puny by comparison the nuclear fission which spawned the atomic bomb. In the following article, first of a series of four, Professor Marcel Schein of the University of Chicago tells some of the secrets he and other physicists are trying to wrench from the mysteriously-energized rays. Probing the mysteries of atomic rays, Schein and other trail blazers have crawled up the snow-swept peak of Mount McKinley, flown to rare heights in a specially-equipped plane and sent men with the Navy on a carrier to the Caribbean.)

By PROFESSOR MARCEL SCHEIN
University of Chicago Physicist
(As Told to Robert N. Schwartz, International News Service Staff Correspondent. World Copyright, 1949, by INS. Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly Forbidden.)

CHICAGO, March 14 — Scientists, like pioneers, are forever seeking greener pastures.

And they have found a vast, exciting one—a pasture so lushly verdant that it has caught the imagination of some of the nation's top physicists.

The new frontier is cosmic rays—a tremendous potential source of energy which one day may as thoroughly antedate atomic power as the newest jet-propelled planes have outmoded the Wright Brothers' venerable Kittyhawk.

One of the great technical problems of nuclear physics — how to split the atom and unloose its power—has been solved. Much, of course, remains to be done, but the outlines, at least, of the path have been clearly blazed.

Some of the trial blazers have moved on. Such men as Dr. Enrico Fermi, noted Nobel prize winner and the man who made possible the first nuclear chain reaction—and the atomic bomb—are assaulting the citadel of cosmic rays.

Seek Answer

Thei rassault is spurred by the knowledge that further along the labyrinth of nature man comes closer and closer to the problem that has baffled and enticed philosophers and scientists through the ages—what is matter?

The men instrumental in discovering X-rays and electrons little dreamed of the tremendous practical ramifications of their work. The men who first achieved atomic fission probably did not foresee its application.

Rays Contain Energy Charges

So it is with cosmic rays. We know that some of these particles contain fantastically tremendous charges of energy—hundreds of billions of electron volts.

This energy, however, is of low intensity and we know of no way to put it to work until we are able to produce it artifically with higher intensities.

Another intriguing possibility in cosmic ray research is that it may shed some light on the process of heredity. Some scientists have speculated that cosmic radiation may be responsible for the so-called spontaneous mutations—the inexplicable jumps by which nature produces such things as two-headed cows.

Plants, Grains Tested

That possibility is being investigated at the University of Chicago by exposing plant and grain seeds to cosmic radiation.

What are cosmic rays?

They are not rays in the popular sense of word at all, but particles of matter carrying huge charges of energy propelled from some gigantic—and unknown—force somewhere in outer space.

They slam into the earth's atmosphere at high speed.

At the top of the atmosphere these pugnacious particles collide violently with nuclei of oxygen and nitrogen atoms and—just as when a billiard ball hits two other billiard balls—transmit a large fraction of their tremendous energy to them.

They promptly break up and as a result of that first collision showers of other—or secondary—particles are expelled. These showers are popularly known as cosmic rays.

Energy Released

The collisions liberate four different components of matter: (1) nuclear particles like protons and neutrons; (2) electrons; (3) gamma rays, which are high energy X-rays; and (4) mesons.

The mesons are the $64 question. It is the general opinion of the leading scientists of the world that they are the "glue" that holds matter together. They are very short-lived—only millionths of a second. The most powerful modern cyclotrons can produce artifically mesons of relatively low energies. It therefore seems safe—if anything in science can be safe—to assume that the study of high energy mesons will have to be carried on in actual cosmic radiation for years to come.

Balloons Aid Research

For this study, free balloons which rise from 60,000 to 100,000 feet are invaluable. In their specially designed gondolas, which maintain a constant temperature, they carry sensitive instruments which record and measure cosmic radiation.

But the study must be carried on also on two other fronts. Science scales towering mountains to find sites for studies that must get clear, strong cosmic radiation. Scientists also use specially pressurized Air Force B-29s made available by the Office of Naval Research.

Displaced Persons Arrive In U.S.

NEW ORLEANS, March 14. (U.P.) The Army transport General Sturgis docked here Monday with 843 displaced persons, who stood at the rails in a blinding rain and wildly cheered a brass band playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The DP's received a royal welcome. A miniature of the statue of liberty was set up especially for them. Three congressmen and a big crowd waited on the Poland street wharf.

Many of them are married couples with children; there was a total of 115 children under six years old aboard. Most of them are farmers from Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Yugoslavia.

The Germans carried them off to work in the Third Reich, and after the war they preferred to stay in Germany rather than return to their homes and live under the Russians.

Of the 843 DP's, 251 will remain in Louisiana. The others will disperse throughout the South, West, Midwest and North. They sailed for the United States two weeks ago from Bremerhaven, Germany.

The three congressmen who welcomed the DP's are Emmanuel Celler, (D-N.Y.); Frank L. Chelf (D-Ky.), and Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.).

Denver Girl Finds Gold Nugget In Gravel On School Playground

DENVER, March 14. (INS)—An eight-year-old Denver school girl touched off what may develop into a new "gold rush of '49" Monday.

Lynn Musgrove picked up a gleaming bit of rock from the gravel on the Steele school playground.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Musgrove, showed it to a mining engineer, who pronounced it one of the finest specimens of free gold he had ever seen.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a plat bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 66, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 248 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212.

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds." Adv.

ARE YOU SEEKING PEACE OF MIND?

A leading editorial in an issue of Life Magazine pointed out the large number of people who today are seeking happiness through Peace of Mind.

This secular magazine stated that many palliatives are offered for personal unhappiness, but there is only one cure. The cure, the article continues, is Religion—Peace of mind is of the spirit, not matter.

In his troubles and anxieties man can have recourse to a Power outside himself. In learning about God and to rely upon God many men have been able to find answers to their problems.

How can a person learn about God, Religion, the Destiny of Man which "makes the troubles of this time not worthy to be compared with the glory to come"? He can learn by the study of Religion. Study is the primary step.

Religion is not a sensual but a rational process. If God had wished to reach man through his senses He could have done so but instead appeals to his reasoning powers. Religion therefore has to be known to be appreciated and enjoyed.

A person can learn about Religion, its teachings, its duties, and its joys by enrolling in the Free Correspondence Course in the Catholic Religion.

One half hour a day spent in the study of this Course has the power to relieve the pent up tensions of restless, high strung, perplexed and uneasy souls. Long before the days of Life Magazine St. Augustine expressed this great truth in a single sentence, "our hearts are made for Thee oh God and they are restless until they abide in Thee." Human nature hasn't changed.

Why spend money on pills and medicines when the trouble goes deeper. Medicines cannot reach the spirit but Religion can. Send for this Free Course which if faithfully studied brings peace and happiness to life because it gives the only reasonable meaning of life and fits each man's life into the pattern and plan of God.

They saved for this SUNNY day!

AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP
As they go, so goes the nation!

"We dreamed together, planned together," Jay and Kay recall, "for the day Jay could go to work for himself."

A business of his own! This was the ambition Jay and Kay Tompkins shared from the time their campus romance began. But when they were married in 1938 they lacked the money to start one—and later they found themselves in another dilemma! For after nine years of building up a backlog to start his own firm, Jay saw that the new venture would earn far less than his well-paying salesman's job.

With a growing family and an uncertain world, could Jay and Kay risk a new business? Could they live on income cut by half? They'd planned and saved so long! What if they managed their money carefully, went without "extras" for a while . . . and took the big step?

His business is a bookkeeping and tax service for other small businesses! To get it started, Jay and his wife put in all of their savings, borrowed $1000 on their life insurance. At first Kay helped out at the office, too. "Without her help we would have been lost," Jay says. He employs only veterans.

School bus was a civic project of Jay's. Active in community affairs, though not so much as he'd like, he helped arrange service. Now daughters Ann, 7, and Sally, 4, are able to ride to school in safety!

For golf and other recreation Jay and Kay spend only $15 a month, even now that the business is on its feet. The Tompkinses keep a "family ledger," know where their money goes. Home costs $61.57 a month; life insurance comes to $78.44; food, $94.

Today, Jay and Kay are finding their sacrifices well worth while. By such things as holding neighborhood "swap parties" for children's outgrown clothes, Kay is saving money for a much-wanted freezer, and a clothes-dryer.

To keep the independence they've won, Jay and his life insurance agent figured out what it would cost the family to live if Jay died, and arranged life insurance program accordingly. "I'm proud of Jay," his wife says, "he expects to get no more from the world than he puts in."

Daughters of a Senator? Could be, if Jay's dream of doing more in public service comes true! It's part of his family's tradition. His great-great-grandfather was U. S. vice-president under Monroe.

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Tompkinses, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind . . . the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

LAKE CHAPALA SEEN AS FUTURE TOURIST CENTER

Guadalajara Makes Big Impression On Wayland's Visitors; Friendliness Of Mexicans Emphasized

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Guadalajara impressed Wayland's goodwill trippers as being much like Plainview, Lubbock or any other South Plains town despite the fact that it is the second largest city in Mexico. (Monterrey disputes Guadalajara's claim to second place).

Everyone on the tour found the people of Guadalajara exceptionally friendly and helpful. Especially so were the students and faculty members of Guadalaraja university who hurdled the language barrier to impress the Texans that they were the "most friendly" college group in two nations.

Proof that the visitors were impressed is shown in the fact the Wayland group voted almost unanimously to give up a two-day visit in Mexico City to remain in Guadalaraja and enjoy the hospitality that was being pressed upon them.

Not Deluged By Tourists

Just why Guadalaraja should prove so much more friendly than other Mexican cities is hard to discover. The only apparent reason is that the people there have not been deluged with tourists, and that the relatively few tourists that have penetrated that far into Mexico have been the "cream" of the American tourist crop.

The staff at Hotel Del Parque, where the Texans made their headquarters, arranged early breakfasts, serenaded by Mexican orchestras, and provided other special facilities to make the Texans' stay more enjoyable. It may have cost extra, but if it did J. L. Harden, Wayland business manager had no complaint to make, for generally all of their rates were far below a comparable hotel in the United States.

Made Trip To Lake

The University of Guadalajara arranged for a bus trip to Lake Chapala on Tuesday. About 15 of the medical students joined the Americans on the tour, and four faculty members also went along.

At Lake Chapala some of the most beautiful scenery of the Mexican tour was seen. The town of Chapala is built in the "sugar loaf" hills on the shore of a lake more than 40 miles long and 12 miles wide. It is the playground of Guadalaraja residents, and is a growing tourist center. Within 10 years Guadalajara believes it will be one of the major tourist attractions in Mexico.

The bus trip to and from Lake Chapala was almost a "singing bee." The Mexican students sang more than 25 of their most popular songs, and also gave the Mexican version of several popular American tunes, such as "Rancho Grande" and "South of the Border."

Wayland Students Also Sing

The Wayland students in turn sang their Alma Mater, and some of the tunes of the States.

Despite the fact only a few of the Guadalajara students knew more than a dozen English words and about the same number of Wayland students had a working knowledge of Spanish, both groups declared the trip was the most enjoyable they had ever made.

Groups of Mexican and American students would huddle together and thresh out a topic of conversation in a mixture of English and Spanish until both groups had grasped the idea. It was difficult but it built a feeling of fellowship and appreciation that probably could not have been achieved otherwise.

The Wayland students learned that their Mexican friends had much the same interests and problems that they faced. The Mexicans in turn learned that their lighter skinned friends were not "muy rico" as they had been led to believe, but that many of the American boys and girls were working their way through school.

Sports Main Topic

Sports of course was the major topic of discussion, and it was at those round table discussions that the Americans learned the Mexicans were ambitious to broaden their athletic field, and to build teams that could compete on a par with those of the United States.

During the whole trip to and from Lake Chapala there was never an awkward moment, and certainly never a silent one.

Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland college, said after the trip, "I believe we accomplished more today than we ever have before to show the students of the United States and Mexico that they have much in common, and that we have a definite foundation for friendship and co-operation."

Following the one-day plane trip to Mexico City, a group of Guadalajara students were at the airport with automobiles to return the Texans to their hotel, and throughout the stay in Guadalajara it was a usual sight to see a Guadalajara student and a Wayland student walking together downtown or sitting together at the hotel.

Shopping Was Pleasant

Shopping tours through the city were generally pleasant. Street merchants were neither noisy or bothersome. The tourists were not trailed by a dozen or so nagging hawkers or shoeshine boys, and the Americans suffered little "gouging" at the hands of the shop keepers.

As in all Mexico the students learned that there was an asking price and a selling price on all goods, and that the first price asked on any item was to be ignored and haggled over. This bargaining was seldom bitter, but carried on in friendly fashion in a mixture of English and Spanish.

While the prices were well in line on the value of the goods, most of the merchants' selling price was about 10 per cent lower than their asking price. Jewelry could be haggled down a bit lower than prices on woven materials.

The Texans found a number of modern stores in Guadalajara, but most of their time was spent at the smaller shops and street stands. They found more pleasure in dealing with the merchants of these small establishments than the more American way of doing business in the large stores.

Tipping was necessary. Orville Reid, head of the missionary group in Guadalajara explained to the Texans upon their arrival that tipping was expected for all services. That it was a Mexican custom. They were told, however, that over tipping merely fattened the purse of the Mexicans without gaining any friendships.

Reid emphasized that they must tip but to hold their tipping within the limits usually observed in the United States. On the whole there were fewer demands for pesos at Guadalajara than in Mexico City. There were few beggars and panhandlers on the streets, and little demand for money except for services rendered.

Taxicabs were available for five pesos an hour, or three pesos a trip for as many as could cram into the vehicle. Horse drawn hacks could be hired for three pesos an hour. A most elaborate meal cost about 10 pesos, with breakfast running about 3.50 pesos. A U.S. dollar exchanged for 6.90 pesos.

One feature that surprised the Texans was the small number of night clubs and honky-tonks. Guadalajara made no attempt to sell its "night life" other than its Sunday night "promenades" and its movies. While the people seldom close down the town before midnight most of them spend their evenings walking in the parks, of which there are at least a dozen, or strolling the streets greeting acquaintances.

Savings On Manufacturing Of Newsprint Is Reported

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14 (AP)—Savings of about $5.50 a ton in newsprint manufacturing costs can be realized through a new pulp process discovered accidentally, a Rochester firm says.

Arthur H. Ingle, president of Consolidated Machine Tool Corp. here, announced the process yesterday. It is called the "Curlation process," he said.

No mention was made of any immediate effect on the price of newsprint to users.

Ingle explained that the process cuts costs by obtaining about 11 per cent more sulphite pulp from each cord of pulp wood.

INCONSISTENT TAXES

FOR generations, men have called women inconsistent. Yet men — at least the men in Washington who have been elected by women voters—allow inconsistent, as well as discriminatory and unfair tax laws to persist.

One of the outstanding examples of this is the 20 per cent excise tax on toilet preparations.

It was levied as a wartime emergency measure yet the wartime emergency has been over for three years now, but the tax has been reenacted without a termination date.

It calls such essential items as cleansing cream, deodorant, face powder, luxuries. Yet, during the war when the tax was levied, the government gave priorities releasing certain wartime essential materials to the toilet good industry.

It discriminates against women by taxing their good grooming necessities yet calls for no tax on the masculine counterparts of razors, shaving creams and razor blades.

THIS tax is inconsistent because the woman with money can buy a $1000 evening gown without being taxed, yet the working girl who earns $30 a week must pay twenty cents extra every time she buys a dollar lipstick, or a dollar bottle of hand lotion which she must have to be well groomed —a "must" to keep her job. The stenographer, file clerk, waitress, must have clean, neat hair, yet their congressmen say they must pay a 20 per cent tax on shampoo, if it contains 5 per cent or less of soap or saponaceous materials.

The woman who can afford to have a governess for her children can buy a tax-free $75 hat, yet the mother who takes care of her own children must pay a 20 per cent tax on baby oil and talcum which keeps her baby comfortable.

THE Department of Labor, in its estimated "Government Girl Budget" for 1946, allocated to "personal care" (including beauty parlor services) $56 out of a total take-home pay of $1,610 for the average girl employee of the government. A New York working woman whose weekly salary range is from $25 to $35 a week, spends an average of three dollars a month for toilet preparations alone, according to a survey.

Women all over the country are registering their annoyance on this tax at toilet goods counters in drug and department stores. The time has come for them to register their feelings with their congressmen in Washington.

DURING the war, when the tax was levied, women knew that it was a small price to pay. But the president's proclamation of the end of hostilities was made over two years ago. Why should women be discriminated against on excise taxes? A man's pockets—there are approximately nine to twelve to a suit — in which he carries his everyday necessities of money, pencils, papers and cigarettes — are tax free, yet a woman's handbag, her catch-all for daily necessities, is taxable even though its retail pride may be only $3.

We wonder why so many of these taxes are aimed at the middle and low-income groups. Is an electric bulb a luxury? If not, why is it taxed ten percent? Is it not just as important for a woman to be her most attractive self as for a man to be clean shaven? Face powder and deodorants are no more luxuries for feminine constituents than shaving cream and razor blades are for masculine voters.

LEGISLATIVE action has been taken in Washington by the toilet goods industry and it is planned that the bill will come up for review sometime this spring. It is up to the women of the country to let the men on Capitol Hill know how they feel about taxes on their everyday necessities. Every woman who sees the inconsistencies and unfairness of this 20 per cent cosmetic tax should takeup the problem personally with her senator and congressman through individual letters.

After all, is there any real good reason why the so-called weaker sex should be discriminated against by the so-called stronger sex?

Monday Programs Are For Church Groups

Circle and group meetings were conducted Monday for many church women who met in homes or churches. Guests were presented on a number of the programs.

Seventy-nine persons attended a Monday afternoon meeting of First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service at the Church. Mrs. Bob Fuller gave the opening meditation and Rev. E. H. Crandall taught one of a series of lessons from the book, "Newness of Life."

John Zimmerman sang a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Charles Cathey.

The final part of the program was presented by Mrs. A. F. Harris, secretary of children's work in the WSCS. She showed slides on the church's cooperation with the home in the religious training of the child from the cradle through the junior level.

COLLEGE STUDENT SPEAKS FOR WMS

Walnita Wong of Hawaii, junior student at Mary-Hardin Baylor in Belton, discussed the work of churches in her home country when she met with First Baptist Women's Missionary society Monday at the church. She answered questions of the group after the talk.

Mrs. Vester Wolber brought the devotion on "God Shows No Partiality." Mrs. B. H. Bird offered a prayer of gratitude, Miss Doris Stoneham prayed for the missionaries in Hawaii and Mrs. E. J. Cowan and Mrs. Lee Jackson led the opening and closing prayers.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. A. E. Cook and the guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Roy Bass. One hundred fifteen persons attended.

WESTMINISTER CIRCLES MEET

Mrs. D. R. Hopkins was hostess at a Monday meeting of Nettie Grier circle of Westminister Women of the Church which was attended by 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Roy Winke. The Bible study was brought by Mrs. David Zacharias and the Survey Article was discussed by Mrs. J. E. Maisen.

A Bible lesson on Revelation was presented by Mrs. W. M. Fentress for Ethel Wharton circle in the home of Mrs. Clyde James. Miss Margaret Huff brought a mission study on "Stewardship" for the 11 members and four guests attending.

CALVARY BAPTIST WMS AT CHURCH

Twenty-five members of Calvary Baptist WMS met at the church Monday afternoon for a Royal Service program, "Christ Is the Answer To Our Racial Problems," led by Mrs. J. H. Puckett.

Mrs. J. A. Giles presided.

BUSINESS, LESSON MEETINGS HELD

A study of the book of Ephesians was continued by Mrs. Audrey Wartes for Madona circle of First Central Baptist church Monday at the church. Twelve members attended.

Circle 1 of the church met for a lesson on scriptures and background of the Bible given by Mrs. Jack Welch. Nineteen were present.

MRS. WAYNE MARTIN PRESENTS LESSON

"Human Rights in Labor" was topic of the program presented Monday at the church for Asbury Methodist WSCS. Mrs. Wayne Martin brought the lesson and Mrs. L. D. Marshall directed the beginning worship service.

Mrs. J. W. Hendryx presided at the meeting which was attended by approximately 20 persons.

ST. JOHN'S CIRCLES HAVE MEETINGS

Mrs. W. E. Moren was hostess to 11 members of Mary Louella Dunn circle of St. John's Methodist WSCS. Mrs. J. W. Taylor brought a devotion and Mrs. Hubert Bratcher presented the final lesson from the book, "The Newness of Life."

Mrs. George Davis concluded the same study for Mary Winn circle in the home of Mrs. Joe Partain. Eleven persons, including four new members attended.

Meeting with Mrs. Fred Sparks were 10 members of Maude Keith Horn circle. The "Newness of Life" study was concluded by Mesdames D. W. McCaig, W. M. Slagle and A. Holmes.

FIRST CHRISTIAN GROUPS AT PROGRAMS

"Jesus Christ the Lord," a study from the book, "Understanding the Christian Faith," was presented for five circles of First Christian Women's council Monday. Circle 1 met with Mrs. John Broome for a devotion by Mrs. G. E. Dawson and a lesson by Mrs. L. O. Armstrong. Mrs. Dave Leaverton, jr., presided at the meeting which was attended by 13 members. Circle 2 had 15 members and three guests present in the home of Mrs. Allan Marcus. Mrs. L. O. Armstrong taught for this circle, also, and Mrs. C. M. Neel gave the devotion.

Meeting with Mrs. K. M. Renner were 14 members of Circle 3. The lesson was by Mrs. Isabel Garrison and the devotion by Mrs. J. J. Park. Mrs. J. W. Kolb presided. Mrs. Fred Childress taught a lesson for 12 members of Circle 4 in the home of Mrs. D. F. Lamb. Mrs. O. J. Snow presided and gave the devotion. Sixteen members of Circle 5 met with Mrs. F. J. Chapman for a lesson by Mrs. Jeff Watson. Mrs. H. B. Daviss presided and Mrs. J. R. Nichols brought a devotion.

MEETINGS HELD BY PRESBYTERIANS

Sixteen members of Circle 6 of First Presbyterian Women of the Church attended a covered dish luncheon in the home of Mrs. T. R. Prideaux Monday. Mrs. Victor Smith led a lesson from The Survey and Mrs. H. A. Davidson taught a Bible study.

New members of Circle 7 who met at Fellowship hall were Mesdames Homie Davidson, Jack Ellis, Charles Duckworth, George Wharton and Atmar Atkinson. Sixteen other members and two guests, Mrs. O. L. Fredricks and Rev. William F. Rogan who brought the Bible study, attended, also. Mrs. Bill Coker presented The Survey article.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered table centered with violets and white tapers.

Twenty-six children were kept in the church nursery by Mrs. W. H. Foster.

Mrs. Rasor Is Speaker

Mrs. A. F. Rasor, Wesleyan Service Guild secretary of Lubbock district Methodist churches, addressed the Seagraves Guild at a covered dish luncheon held there Sunday. The morning service at the church was dedicated to the Guild, which at present is raising funds for an organ to be placed in the sanctuary.

Other luncheon guests were members of the newly organized Seminole Guild. Accompanying Mrs. Rasor to Seagraves were Mrs. J. M. Young, Miss Lois Thompson and Miss Maud Dee Skeen, who are members of the First Methodist Guild, and Miss Meta Ulrich. They were breakfast guests of Miss Lena Marie Skeen, formerly of Lubbock.

Benefit Party Is Set By Auxiliary

Auxiliary to Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will sponsor a benefit forty two party at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the Party House in Mackenzie State park.

Plans were made when the group attended a social Saturday night in IOOF hall with Mrs. W. C. Gattis and Mrs. Maxine Duncan as hostesses.

Today's Town Talk

Lunching at Hector's today during the fashion show hour will be Mesdames Morley Jennings, R. C. Goodwin, K. M. Renner and Fred Tunnell.

The committee handling the Women's West Texas Golf Association tournament to be held June 14-19 is working on plans for the first tournament of its kind to be held in Lubbock since 1935, when the tournament play was organized here.

Co-chairmen for the tournament are Mrs. Fenner Tubbs and Mrs. T. E. Patterson, who are also both on the board of directors for the WWTGA.

Mesdames C. L. Dean and Guy L. McAfee, who originally helped found the tournament, are co-chairmen for the social activities which will take place in connection with the golf play-offs.

Mrs. J. H. Stiles is secretary for the West Texas association.

George Spinning, 2503 Twenty-fifth, and Mr. and Mrs. Knox Thomas, 2309 Eighteenth, returned home Sunday night from a week's trip to Jackson, Miss.

While there they attended the Annual Convention of the Southwestern Savings and Loan Conference.

Mrs. James G. Allen, 3110 Twenty-first, was hostess Friday night for a 6:30 o'clock pledge initiation service and program meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, international professional fraternity for women in journalism.

Initiates were Charlotte Blackburn, Mac Strong, Bobby Stone and Jeanne Dudley.

Mrs. Opal Dixon, Avalanche-Journal staff writer and photographer, commented on the professional aspects of pictorial and editorial journalism, and led a round table discussion on the subject.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the approximately 15 persons attending, and plans were made for the State Theta Sig convention to be held in connection with the Southwestern Journalism congress at Tech in April.

District H-D Meet Planned For April

Following a meeting of Lubbock Home Demonstration council Saturday afternoon in the courthouse, delegates were named to the meeting of district 2, Texas Home Demonstration association, in Floydada April 19. These were Mrs. E. E. Watkins, Mrs. John Redwine and Mrs. Lee Heatley. Alternates will be Mrs. W. H. Emory, Jess Davidson and H. K. Hicks.

Mrs. Peggy Fischer, assistant home demonstration agent, reported on 4-H club girls' work.

A demonstration of simple refreshments will be given in Wolfforth April 9 from 2:30 until 4 o'clock, it was announced.

Sixteen clubs were represented; 14 being 100 per cent.

Builders At Lunch

The luncheon given Monday at First Methodist Fellowship hall by Builders class was attended by 45 members and their guests.

A solo was offered by Mrs. Aubrey Woodfin and the invocation was led by Mrs. A. W. Hall. Mrs. Lillian Butler, president, presided.

White snapdragons and greenery decorated the luncheon tables.

Dance Club Plans Guest Observance

Western Dancing club will observe guest night at its last dance of the season to be given tonight at 9 o'clock in Hilton hotel. Ross Edwards' orchestra will play.

LUNCHEON HELD

Seventeen members of Circle 2, First Presbyterian church, attended a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Justin Neathery, Monday. Mrs. H. F. Godeke gave the devotional, and 70 visits were reported.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-
Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!
Many wise 'middle-age' women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.
Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

Folger's Coffee-Mountain Grown

Not Just Another Brand But A VERY SPECIAL Coffee Flavor!

Flavor Favorite Down on the Farm. Farm folk have a keen sense of taste appreciation . . . sharpened by active out-of-door lives . . . And how the menfolk rush to line up for Folger's . . . especially these chilly mornings when the vigorous goodness of Folger's really hits the spot!

Apple Pie and Coffee Flavor!—How well they illustrate flavor difference. Technically—if you slap a mess of apples in between pie crust you can call it apple pie. Yet what a far cry from that legendary pie "Mother used to bake." The difference in coffee flavor is often just as tremendous.

How Nature and Folger's combine to bring you the World's Finest Coffee!

IN the mountains of the Tropical Americas—the magic of abundant sunshine—rainfall and volcanic-ash soil combine to produce coffee with an amazing intensity of flavor. Folger's has pioneered the blending and roasting of these special kinds of coffees. The individuality of the Folger Flavor is a triumph of selection, blending and processing of these coffees into a truly distinctive flavor. No other coffee is quite like it! . . . Try it . . . Discover its keen, winey tang . . . its rich vigorous goodness.

The NEW 54 COTTON PLANTING SEED NOW AVAILABLE

The NEW Paymaster "54" is now available for the 1949 planting season — ready for farmers who want more profit from Cotton. This quick-maturing, high-yielding, better-staple-producing planting seed answers the demand for a variety that is tested and proved for West Texas growers. It is the result of scientific selection and painstaking experiments to develop a seed that will produce more money per acre planted.

Here's why the NEW Paymaster "54" is a money-making Cotton . . .

- EARLY MATURITY — Of 25 varieties tested recently . . . "54" was first in percentage of crop harvested in a four-month period.
- HIGH YIELD — In this same test, "54" was third among all varieties in yield per acre.
- BETTER STAPLE — "54" ran 15/16" to 1 inch throughout West Texas, assuring a better price.
- TESTED FOR DRY LAND — "54" has been proved successful for dry land farming as well as for irrigated Plains areas.

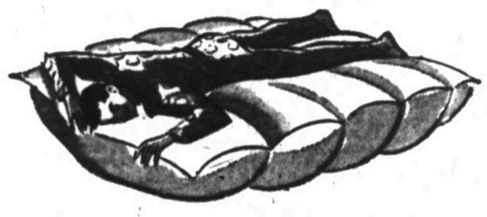

Be among those profit-minded farmers who demand a money-making Cotton planting seed—the NEW "54"; order your supply of the improved, state-registered "54" NOW.

Five Charged In Burglary Cases

Five persons, arrested over the weekend and charged with burglary, had given statements to the sheriff's and district attorney's offices, it was announced Monday, possibly clearing up two cases of car theft and other burglaries.

County and city officers here, the Abernathy city marshal and the sheriff's department at Brownfield cooperated to make the arrests, it was announced.

Marshal Rutledge of Abernathy started the investigation when he took to the sheriff's office here a radio taken in a March 10 burglary of the E. R. Haskins store at Wolfforth.

Charges Are Filed

Before the investigation was completed, the following had been arrested and charged here with burglary: Chester Wayne Morgan, 18, of 1614 Main; Ferion Dwain McCreary, 20, of Slaton highway; Robert Lee Davis, 20, of 2411 North Third.

And Dep. Sheriff Buel Powell of Brownfield had arrested J. B. Jackson, about 19, of Lubbock, who also was under burglary charge here.

Statements were given by those arrested in Lubbock. Davis also testified that he and another person—not one of those charged in the Haskins store burglary—had stolen a car in Amarillo March 5. The car had been recovered here, the sheriff's department said today.

Jackson, in a signed statement, had admitted in addition to the Wolfforth burglary that he burglarized a liquor store in Big Spring, taking a quantity of liquor, two pistols and a watch, Deputy Sheriff Earl Horton said. He admitted stealing a car there also, it was said.

Tires Are Recovered

Clyde Wayne Diebel, 19, of 3005 Thirty-second, had been charged with burglary late Saturday in connection with the removal of property from an irrigation well house of A. R. Ryals of seven miles west of Slide. Four tires belonging to C. C. Knott of Lubbock route 5 also had been recovered after Diebel had given officials a statement, it was announced.

All Sunday charges were filed by E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace.

The charges naming Morgan, Dwain, Davis and Jackson resulted from some of the suspects' having gone to Abernathy in search of liquor one of them admitted he had left with a negro to sell for him.

In connection with the search one of the suspected pulled a pistol.

Car Stolen, Wrecked

A 1949 Ford coupe owned by H. A. Padgett of 2808 Twenty-fifth was stolen, then wrecked when the police engaged it in a chase that reached speeds of 80 miles an hour, it was announced.

Two men leaped from the car about 4:56 a. m. Sunday at Twenty-third and Ave. Q and evaded Sgt. L. D. Bakney in the darkness.

Fine Is Assessed

Fred Shockley, jr., 23, was fined $100 on a negligent collision ticket after his car, allegedly being driven on the wrong side of the street, struck one car and drove it into another.

W. H. Shilling of Wilson route 1 informed the sheriff's department that a battery had been stolen from him, and that two neighbors, Tom Moore and Bill Close, also had reported similar thefts.

Fender skirts valued at $18 were reported stolen from the car of Dick Anderson of Men's dormitory 3 at Texas Tech.

Poice patrolmen found a broken window pane at 1715 Nineteenth and blood on the ground and trailing to where a car had been parked nearby. There was evidence of an attempted burglary, officials said.

Wayne Ashley informed police that an $80 radio had been removed from the quarters of Carl Hite of 2324 Ave. H.

E. E. Taylor of Waco said a tire and wheel valued at $24.85 had been stolen from him here.

J. A. Lowrance told police that two fender skirts and four Hollywood flipper type hubcaps, valued in total at $40, had been stolen from his car.

Walter Harry Jones, 22, of Lubbock was arrested early Monday night by city police on a warrant from Morton charging desertion.

Lenora Carmichael, 22-year-old Memphis woman, charged with theft, was found not guilty by a county court jury Monday afternoon. She had been returned last Wednesday from Amarillo, where she was arrested.

John Steele, former county attorney, represented the defendant, and County Attorney Waggoner Carr prosecuted for the state.

Burglary of West Texas museum, on the campus of Texas Tech, and theft of several old weapons from a display case was reported to the police after two police patrolmen had recovered some of the property.

Taken were three pistols, a shotgun, a rifle, a sword and a saber, all of a vintage to make them museum pieces.

All property was marked with small identifying white numbers, police said they had been told by Dr. W. C. Holden, curator of the museum.

Entrance was through the roof and into the elevator shaft. The property taken was exhibited 20 feet below the place of breaking and entering.

One cap and ball pistol and a cavalry saber were recovered at Broadway and Ave. Q when Patrolmen Pete Hubbard and George Hall accosted two boys, about 12 and 13, who abandoned the weapons and fled.

grams and move toward even higher peaks of success."

Percy Eason, retiring president, gave the introductory remarks to launch the rapidly moving program. Ernest Joiner, incoming president, served as toastmaster and introduced the speaker.

Preceding Shepperd on the program was the Ralls High school boys quartet composed of Taddum Wicks, Randall Morton, Dwayne Lynch, and James Edd Williams. A. L. Winfrey, chairman of the reception committee, introduced out of town guests.

Officers Are Named

Officers for the incoming year will be Joiner, president; R. G. Pope, vice president, and C. W. Mann, secretary.

Directors and committee heads include:

Directors: Harold Priddy, R. G. Pope, Ernest Joiner, Al Ray Cooper, M. A. McLaughlin, John Fowler, Percy Eason, J. S. Dennard, Roy Abell, jr., W. P. McKee, J. W. Brandon, jr., and T. D. Lyle.

Rural directors: Geo. D. Noble, Joe Jackson, Jack Robertson, Edmond Crump, J. W. Payne, John W. Thomas, Ellis Henry, Guy Herring, Vernie Smith, V. A. Johnston, J. W. Gillon, L. P. DuBose, J. S. Moore, J. M. Rankin, Joe Elam, M. M Beck, Claude Adams, Lellan Caddell, W. R. Dunlap, R. A. Winn, and Thomas C. Cole.

Chairmen of standing committees: Industrial, Harold Priddy; membership, Al Ray Cooper; agriculture, George Noble; civic affairs, L. A. Wicks, jr.; public utilities, Frank Benson; roads and routes, P. B. Ralls; reception, A. L. Winfrey; and attendance, Alton Brown.

Benefits Are Cited

Shepperd made a strong bid for the organization of a state board of development. He pointed out the many benefits such a board could bring to Texas by pushing recreational and industrial possibilities of the Southwest.

"Forty-five of the 48 states have such a board," the attorney declared," to organize and present information of opportunities offered in those states for industrial firms seeking new homes, and for tourists who wish to travel, and who are interested in the recreational spots offered in the state.

"We have no such state organization to supply this information. Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and the other major cities through their giant Chamber of Commerce organizations keep men sitting on the doorsteps of industry waiting with complete briefs to bring them to their cities. Ralls and Gladewater and the small towns have little opportunity to secure an industry. I believe a state board of development would level off the industrial development of the state.

"Many towns would benefit rather than a few of the major cities. As for the tourist trade, it is one of the major businesses of the nation, and this state as well, but it could be increased manyfold by an agency which could mark and advertise the many spots of interest in Texas.

"Too many motorists race through our state without ever knowing of historical or natural spots of interest which they might have visited because we have no board or group to place signs, issue maps and pamphlets to motorists as they enter our state informing them of our many interesting spots," Shepperd contended.

The attorney pointed out that gasoline taxes collected from out-of-state visitors alone would pay the cost of such an agency.

Following his plea for a state board of development, Shepperd urged his Ralls audience to adopt a spirit of "world citizenship."

"The eyes of the people of the worl are upon us today to see whether you and I are willing to assume the obligations thrust upon us," Shepperd declared.

He pointed out that Congress had committed the American people to world citizenship by approval of the Marshall plan.

"America has the greatest opportunity for service in history, and we must not fail," Shepperd declared.

Pointing to the present ideological conflict, the attorney said, "We must make up our minds we cannot do business with Russia. The sooner we decide it the better off we will be."

Shepperd declared that he did not see actual war. "I believe we ca nisolate Russia without actual conflict," he said, "by making democracy work."

The formula for making democracy work, as outlined by the former U.S. Jaycee head, was (1) Become better Christians, (2) Give more thought to youth, (3) Attackq problems at home and abroad with determination. (4) Make up our minds where we are going and strive together to reach the goal, (5) Be inquisitive, (6) Watch what we say, (7) Believe in the job before us, (8) Start democracy working at home, and (9) Sell democracy to people of world.

Sweet Potato Crop

tural pursuits and he is mighty happy about the results of the change.

Many farmers who have small plots, and several major growers combine to produce approximately 125,000 bushels on 300 acres in Lubbock county. This figure is based on a yield of around 400 bushels per acre.

Quarantine Affects Process

The pink boll weevil quarantine has made it impossible for the farmers to use cotton burrs for packing their seed beds as they have in the past. The law now requires that all such burrs be burned.

Crump didn't let this little detail stand in his way. He experimented first with an electric heating element such as is used in some greenhouses where expensive flowers are grown. This proved so costly that it would have taken all the profit out of commercial vegetable growing. Crump discarded this plan quickly, not only because of the cost of installation and maintenance but because of its unreliability.

Seed Hulls Used

Since the weevil quarantine did not include cotton seed hulls, Crump tried these and found that they would produce a high degree of heat in the seed beds. Further experimenting proved that 100 pounds of cotton seed meal added to 5,000 pounds of the hulls gave still more heat. Crump admitted that he followed the "trial and error" method but the net results were entirely satisfactory. Reaching down into the depths of one of his finished beds it was easy to detect several degrees difference between the surface and subsoil tmperatures.

Crump said he welcomed the opportunity to pass along any information he had gathered on the growing of certified sweet potatoes. His recommendations for the construction of seed beds included the placing of an eight inch layer of hulls mixed with cotton meal as the foundation. This should be wetted and packed down tightly, Crump said. On top of this foundation a four inch layer of clean soil is placed. Then the seed potatoes, inspected and certified, are laid on top of the soil, close together but not touching. One bushel of seed potatoes will cover approximately 12 square feet in this manner.

Seedlings Covered

A final layer of clean earth is placed over the seedlings to a depth of four inches and watered down. Crump also conceived the idea of placing an additional layer of one and one-half inches of rotted and dried out hulls on top of the finished bed. This, he said, would let the heat of the sun into the bed but would allow cold rains to be absorbed slowly and keep the upper surface of the soil soft and pliable.

In this type of seed bed, and planted as Crump recommends, one bushel of seedlings will produce about 2,000 slips.

Such seedling beds should be prepared now, Crump asserts. March 20, he believes should be the very latest. The slips will then be ready for transplanting in early May. If the transplanting takes place on time, the sweet potatoes will be ready for harvesting in August. About 110 days are required to develop the yam in Lubbock county.

Fertilizer Is Unnecessary

Crump does not use any fertilizer in growing his crop but keeps a good clean soil and applies water to his fields every seven days when there is no rainfall or an insufficient amount.

"I'm going to try a few Puerto Rico 'bunch' potatoes this year," Crump said. "Frankly I can't say much about them because this will be my first experience with them and I believe it will be the first time they have ever been grown in this area."

The bunch potato is vineless. All of the potatoes grow about a central stalk and yield about four number one units in addition to smaller sizes. Crump will try about 14,000 plants this year and his experience with them will determine whether or not he will attempt to grow more of them.

Frequent Cultivation Possible

The chief advantage of the bunch potato, Crump says, is the fact that it can be cultivated constantly because there is no vine on the surface of the soil to be damaged. This allows the soil to be kept loose and produces a more tender and tasty yam. With the Maryland potato the vine makes it impossible to use the cultivator after it has attained an advance growth.

"If I have the same success with the Puerto Rico "bunch" potato that I have had with the Marylands we may have another fine money crop for Lubbock county," Crump said.

County agent Sherrill anticipates more interest in sweet potatoes this year and in succeding years. He has accumulated a wealth of data and practical experience from such growers as Olen Crump and his father C. D. Crump. This information he has available in his office for those who wish to grow this crop commercially or for home consumption.

Lubbock FFA Youth Speaker At Lamesa Banquet Monday

LAMESA, March 14(AP) (Special)—Approximately 125 persons attended the first annual Parent-Son FFA banquet held here tonight at the First Baptist church.

Alton Brazell, of Lubbock, a national vice-president of the organization spoke on "The Benefit of FFA to Youth." Other speakers included Harold Dunk, vice-president of the state FFA, and three members of the local club.

The Lamesa FFA chapter sweetheart, Nova Dee Fancher, was presented by Benny Eggleson. Ben Mack Dopson, club president served as toastmaster.

Suspect Caught In Bank Theft

the street "making almost every store" in an attempt to cash the check. The time was about 2:30 p.m., Keeter said, a half hour before the bank incident.

Money Reported Snatched

Accounts from witnesses to the theft from the bank reveiled the following story:

A man, described as between 35 and 40 years old, wearing a battered hat and OD shirt, entered the bank and presented a check for $10 to Eunice George, bank teller. Mrs. George turned to leave and verify a statement of the man that he had an account there.

The man then allegedly reached under the grill of the teller's cage, snatched a package containing 50 five-dollar bills which had been freshly bundled, and started to flee.

Cost Left In Bank

J. C. Blair, of 1718 Ave. M, who was standing a few feet away from the window, saw the man reach for the money and grabbed him by the belt. The man jerked free and ran through the crowd of people toward the front of the bank. The door had just been closed since it was just about 3 p.m., the usual closing time.

Arlon Dedmon, of 2818 Allen, a driver for Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma coaches, stuck out his foot and tripped the thief, but the man managed to make the street and ran west on Broadway. He left his coat ,which he apparently had been carrying, in the bank..

Dorsell Young, a bank employe, gave chase, but the man outdistanced him and was last seen in the vicinity of Dickinson Motor company, 1413 Ave. J.

Had Hitchhiked A Ride

Moore, in his statement to Pharr, said he had just been released Monday morning from the jail at Littlefield and had hitchhiked a ride to Lubbock, arriving here about 11 a.m.

His account of what had happened at the bank tallied with that of witnesses to the incident.

After leaving the bank and eluding pursuit, Moore said he took a city bus for several blocks and then caught a taxi to a place about three miles out of town. He then caught a ride with a truck into Ralls, he said, where he had rented a room at Ralls Inn where he was later arrested.

At the time of arrest, Moore was not wearing clothing fitting the description of those of the man who took the money from the bank.

However, Ira Hollingsworth of Hollingsworth garage at 908 Fourteenth, said that a man who "looked as if he had been running" had changed clothes at the garage shortly after 3 p.m. and left with a bundle under his arm.

Several downtown stores had reported a man answering the description of the man who stole the money from the bank trying to cash a $5 check shortly before 3 p.m.

Witnesses had not been called in last night to identify the suspect held in county jail.

Grain Sorghum

to 1914.

MORE LAND IN AREA TO GO INTO COTTON

From 75 to 80 per cent of cultivated land in Lubbock county and the surrounding area will be planted to cotton this year because the government has announced its price support on grain sorghum at only 70 per cent of parity, it was predicted last night by Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county AAA.

A 70 per cent price will mean that loans roughly will be only $2.10 per hundred on grain sorghum, Wells stated.

"If the government would support the price of grain sorghum as high as $2.50 or $2.60, we could expect a considerable increase in its production," the secretary said. "In the face of a prospective cotton surplus, we had hoped that farmers would change their plans for large cotton acreages in favor of the sorghums, but I don't think a 70 per cent of parity loan will carry much weight with them."

Won't Encourage Sorghum

County Agent Dave Sherrill concurred with Wells in the opinion that the announced support price would not encourage sorghum production in this area.

Cotton produced here will bring from $135 to $140 per bale next year, Sherrill predicted. Drawing a comparison between gross profit from sorghum and cotton, he stated that an irrigated acre producing ¾ bale at that price would gross about $105, while an irrigated acre producing 2500 pounds of grain sorghum at 70 per cent would gross something like $52.50. Even though expenses of producing cotton are much higher, the difference in net profit would still make cotton a much more profitable crop under existing price supports, he pointed out.

House Committee Recommends Okay On Three Money Bills

AUSTIN, March 14 (AP) — The House Appropriations committee tonight recommended passage of three money bills totalling $5,600,000 for Lamar college and for medical branches of the University of Texas at San Antonio and Dallas.

The committee approved one million dollar appropriations to make Lamar Junior college (Beaumont) a four-year senior technological college and to establish a medical branch at San Antonio. It also recommended a $3,600,000 bill for merging the Southwestern Medical college at Dallas with a medical branch of the University of Texas.

Arrangements Made For Legion Meeting

Final plans for the American Legion district convention to be held here April 2 and 3 were laid at an executive board meeting Monday night, according to J. R. Eagan, post commander.

Some 300 persons attended a party in observance of the American Legion's 30th birthday held in Legion hall following the board meeting. The program was directed by Mrs. J. A. Hatfield, and included a discussion of Legion history by Fred Young. A covered dish supper was served by auxiliary members.

Those attending the executive session heard a report from Joe Holmes that arrangements have been completed for the Junior Baseball fund to receive proceeds of sales of sporting goods sold at the Sporting center May 5 when members of the Cleveland Indian professional baseball team will autograph items sold.

The group agreed to buy Christmas trees to wholesale to area posts for resale during the holiday season.

It was further decided to sponsor a concert by Miss Lou Ann Hardy, violinist, in the high school auditorium sometime in mid-May.

Filibuster Grinds On

gressional session its attempt to change the Senate rules to make it easier to curb filibusters and thus pass civil rights bills.

The southerners seemingly hoped that if they kept the filibuster going awhile they could wring some sort of binding concession from the administration men. As one southerner put it, the Dixie senators wanted to "hold the administration's feet to the fire."

GOP Denounces Move

As long as the filibuster went on the administration had no chance to get an extension of the rent controls expiring March 31. Likewise, the second installment of the Marshall plan and other major bills would be bottled up.

Republicans denounced tonight's move by the leadership of the Truman Democrats as a "surrender."

Earlier in the evening Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois acknowledged that the southerners had already won a thumping victory. He announced that the administration would halt for the time being its drive to change the Senate rules so that a two-thirds majority can curb debate on any subject.

Seeks Adjournment

With all legislation paralyzed by the 13-day-old talkathon, he said: "We are aware the filibuster could run on for weeks. They have the manpower to do it."

Lucas' plan was to move tonight to adjourn the Senate until tomorrow, instead of recessing as has been done during the filibuster. This parliamentary device would wipe the slate clean of the question now being discussed. Then the Senate could go on with other business.

But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) went into a huddle with the GOP policy committee which he heads. He announced afterward that the committeemen had decided to vote against an adjournment motion.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told a reporter he thought all of the southern Democrats would vote against an adjournment motion.

Another southern senator said the Dixie group now held the whip and they don't intend to lose it without a "compromise."

As if anticipating a long hard night, capitol employes began assembling army cots for senators at 11 p.m. EST.

As long as Ellender didn't weaken, Lucas couldn't even make a motion to adjourn.

There were reports that the Democratic leaders had made the decision to call a temporary halt after telephone consultation with President Truman at Key West, Fla.

The fight began when Lucas moved to take up a proposed rules change, under which two-thirds of those voting could end filibusters at any time. (At present such a majority can end debate on legislation, but not on a motion.

Today, many southerners were reported favorable to a compromise, under which two-thirds of the whole Senate (not just those voting) could curb debate. But tonight Truman Democrats turned this down. They argued that this was a "step backward" because even under present rules there are certain circumstances in which a simple two-thirds majority of those voting can end debate.

The Lucas announcement that the fight would be halted came swiftly thereafter. The leader's plan was to lay aside, at the end of tonight's session, his motion to take up the rules change.

American diplomatic advices from Stockholm, however, state that the Swedish government is confident Russia will not attempt such a move against Finland.

Texas Veteran Asks Help In Recovering Stolen War Medal

ORANGE, March 14 (AP)—A Texas survivor of the Bataan death march has appealed for help in recovering his Congressional Medal of Honor.

The veteran is Sgt. Domingo Hernandez, 24, of Robstown.

He reported the medal and his war documents were stolen from him in Lake Charles, La.

Joe Runnels, jr., Orange county clerk and past commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, said Hernandez appealed to him for assistance.

"There is a rather strong feeling in the subcommittee that state legislatures should get standby laws on their statute books to take over rent control relatively soon."

Sen. Tobey (R-NH), ranking GOP committeeman, said he favored extension for only six months to enable the states to take control if they wish.

Sparkman said that he hopes to get a bill on the Senate calendar Friday and bring it to a vote next Monday if the southern filibuster on a "gag" rule change is ended or can be interrupted.

In the House, Reps. Williams (D-Miss), and Miller (R-Neb), are sponsoring amendments to give local political units power to reject controls.

Williams' proposal would decontrol rents upon adoption of a resolution by a legislature, city council or other authorized unit.

Miller would require approval of decontrol in regular or special elections.

The current bill would provide for a 15-months extension—to June, 1950—but leaders conceded that votes on shortening this period and "local autonomy" amendments will be close.

day had dropped the mercury to 36 degrees there at 11:30 p. m. and an 18-mile an hour wind was blowing. Dalhart, at the tip of the Panhandle, at midnight reported a 25-mile-an-hour wind blowing with snow, freezing drizzle and fog. The temperature stood at 27 degrees.

Dodge City, Kans., at the same time reported a 17-degree reading, snow, and a 35-mile-an-hour wind. The mercury at Dodge City hit 57 degrees at 3:30 p. m. shortly before arrival of the front.

Cloudy and continued cold was forecast for Wednesday. A minimum of 20 to 25 degrees is predicted for Wednesday morning, with a high of 50 degrees during the afternoon.

The Weather station reported the cold front had been slowly moving southward for two days, wher late Monday afternoon it put on a sudden burst of speed that made it an immediate threat to Oklahoma and Texas.

Warmup Due Thursday

Relatively warm readings are expected to return to the South Plains by Thursday, the station indicated. Monday's high was 63 degrees, with a low of 28 degrees marked up in the morning hours.

The Associated Press reported the cold wave is expected to reach South Texas sometime Wednesday, losing some of its sting as it moves south.

In the early morning hours Monday, scattered storms occurred, bringing hail to San Antonio and heavy rains at some gulf coast points.

Rainfall at Beaumont totaled 4.68 inches Sunday and Monday. Of this amount, 2.68 inches fell in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 p. m. Monday. Other rainfall in that 24-hour period included San Antonio 1.27 inches, Galveston. 84 inch, Houston .69, Austin .12, and Lufkin .02.

The hail storm at San Antonio lasted approximately 20 minutes and was accompanied by winds reaching 50 miles an hour in gusts and 1.17 inches of rain.

The Virginia railway was the latest to announce furloughs. That line said 2,000 of 3,800 employes would be idle later this week.

Unemployed Total Grows

The idle miners and railroaders swelled to about 3,742,000 the total number of unemployed persons in the nation from all causes. Before the mine shutdown began, the government had reported 3,200,000 were jobless in the United States.

Hard coal production was virtually at a standstill. One producer announced plans to begin immediate rationing. There appeared to be large supplies of coal at anthracite marketing areas but small stocks in the producing regions.

Meanwhile miners in Pennsylvania and Illinois were leading a fight to obtain state unemployment compensation benefits. President John Busarello of UMW district 5 said at Pittsburgh he thought his men would qualify.

But A. J. Caruso, head of the Pennsylvania bureau of employment and unemployment compensation, said:

"I'd say they weren't eligible. The law says only those who are involuntarily unemployed shall be awarded the benefits."

The Bethlehem Steel company said it had enough coal on hand only for a few weeks. A spokesman for the second largest U. S. producer said operations would have to be reduced long before theoretical reserves are exhausted. The U. S. Steel Corp., number one steelmaker, said no curtailment of operations was planned now.

Suspect In Wire Tapping Charged

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—A former detective, said to have his ear bent toward the innermost secrets of New York's city hall, was indicted today on a charge of breaking from custody during a wire tapping probe.

Later the ex-detective, Kenneth Ryan, 45, formally was accused in a separate count of tapping the telephone wire of Borough President Hugo E. Rogers, a Tammany leader, March 3.

A grand jury indicted Ryan just after he ended a two-day police search by giving himself up. He was accused of fleeing custody after arrest on a felony charge.

Enters Innocence Plea

Ryan broke from the city hall Saturday through a washroom window while being questioned about the wire tapping charge.

He also was booked separately on a wire tapping complaint signed by Mrs. Rogers.

Ryan pleaded innocent in general sessions court to the escape charge and was held under $7,500 bond.

He appeared in magistrate's court on the wiretapping count but was not required to post bail. No ples was entered at this time.

Hearings on both charges were set for March 28.

The grand jury count carries a maximum penalty, upon conviction of one to seven years in prison. Wire tapping carries a maximum penalty of two years.

Claims Offer of Post

Mayor William O'Dwyer claimed evidence of a scheme to tap his telephone wire and those of some 75 other top city officials.

The grand jury looking into the mayor's complaint subpoenaed Kenneth Ryan; Clendenin J. Ryan, wealthy foe of the O'Dwyer administration; and the latter's attorney, John G. Broady.

The two Ryans are not related.

O'Dwyer said Kenneth Ryan told of being hired by an unidentified lawyer to tap telephone wires in city hall.

The multi-millionaire Clendenin Ryan denied any part in the plot. So did his attorney.

However, Clendenin Ryan said he had been offered the post of ambassador to France if he would drop his campaign against the O'Dwyer administration.

Ambassadors are appointed by the President, subject to confirmation by the U.S. Senate.

Soviet Shakeup

lin, and Mikoyan remains in the all-powerful Politburo, the Communist party executive.

Voznesensky, too, apparently remains in the Politburo. At 45, he is its youngest member. No mention of this post appeared in the announcement read to the two houses of the Supreme Soviet by Alexei F. Gorkin, secretary of the presidium. The presidium consists of vice presidents of the 16 republics and serves in executive capacity when the Supreme Soviet, a parliamentary body, is not in session.

Voznesensky, the announcement said, is replaced in the important planning commission post by Maxim Z. Saburov, no stranger to the commission. He was its chairman in the war years.

New Ministry Formed

At the same time the presidium announced formation of a new ministry — the ministry for construction machinery and industry enterprises. It is headed by Nikolai A. Dygaya. This ministry is a combination of the former ministry of construction, military and naval enterprises and the machinery industries construction administration. Dygaya headed the former ministry.

The state planning commission is one of the most important government bodies of Russia. It mapped all four of the Soviet Union's ambitious five-year plans, the basis of the Soviet economy.

Both houses of the Supreme Soviet approved the changes in leadership on the request of Gorkin.

As in the case of Voznesensky, no reason was given for the release of Golyakov as president of the supreme court. The tribunal is the chief court of the entire USSR, and the supervising court for all the constituent republics. It is elected by the Supreme Soviet.

Taking Golyakov's place as head of the supreme court is A. A. Volin.

New Tax Bill

by Hull's bill would go to the available school fund. The other three-fourths would be used for general purposes.

Hull also filed a companion measure setting up a fiscal control act. It would make the state comptroller furnish estimates of revenue each quarter to reduce all appropriations voted by the legislature if revenue fell off. Reductions would be on a proportionate basis" and would be limited to a total cut of 10 per cent.

Opposition Seen

The possible need for new taxes at this session was voiced last week by Gov. Beauford H. Jester. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert cut his estimate of spending money available for the next two years by $22 million. Jester said that made an $80 million gap between state income and needs for money.

He said this was such a grim financial fact "that we can not overlook the possibility that the legislature will be forced to levy new taxes."

Not everybody agreed with the governor. Senate Finance Chairman Jim Taylor said the job of providing state services could be done without new taxes. House Appropriations Committee Chairman Rep. Ray Kirkpatrick thought the situation not "too serious." He said some money bills would have to be chopped after the four major appropriation bills are taken care of.

Newspaper Group Opposes Plan To Increase Postal Charges

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers association said Monday proposed postal rate increases "would drive every newspaper from the mails." It added that proposed new regulations could permit "a fanatical bureaucrat" to determine the content of newspapers.

The ANPA's views were outlined in statements prepared for presentation to the House Post Office committee. The statements were by Josh L. Horne, publisher of the Rocky Mount, N. C., Telegram and chairman of the ANPA postal committee, and Elisha Hanson, ANPA general counsel.

Rate Increase Considered

The committee is considering rate increases proposed by the Post-office department which would fall heavily on second class mail used by publishers. The ANPA represents approximately 800 newspaper publishers having more than 90 per cent of the nation's total daily and Sunday circulation.

Horne and Hanson emphasized that the present second-class mail structure does not constitute a subsidy to publishers.

Nowhere in the Post Office department's recommendation, Horne said, "is there any recognition of the fact that the department must improve its service if it is to increase its revenues.

"All that it proposed on second class mail is an astronomical increase (estimated at 400 per cent) in rates and a control, for rate making purposes, over the content of publications.

Accounting Criticized

Horne said departmental figures indicate that the department "does not know within a range of $3,000,000 what its receipts were for the year ending June 30 last or within a range of $10,000,000 what its expenditures were on second class mails."

"The claim has been made constantly through the years," he said, "that the deficits charged against second class mail constitute a subsidy to publications, and that publications should 'pay their way' and not be the recipients of congressional subsidy.

"Subsidy—if in fact a subsidy exists—is not a subsidy to newspapers." He said the ANPA "wants no part in a subsidy."

Part of the second-class mail deficit, Horne continued, is caused by the department's own accounting methods. Another part, he said, is caused by the department's policy of charging against other classes of mail the cost of various public policy services such as operation of rural free delivery.

Classification Plan Hit

While hewspapers are charged the full cost of postal services, Horne said, many of them sort, route, sack, weigh and transport their papers, with the post office merely putting the bundles in the proper R.F.D. car.

Horne said increased postal rates would be reflected either in increased prices to mail subscribers or in elimination of mail subscribers.

"In either case it is the reader in outlying sections of the country who bears the brunt of these increased costs, not the newspaper," he observed.

ANPA counsel Hanson said the post office proposals would classify as advertising, for rate-making purposes, publication of vital statistics such as birth, death and marriage notices.

"Under a fanatical bureaucrat," he said, "it would be almost impossible not to define every single item of news that appears in a newspaper as advertising for the purpose of determining postal rates. If it be argued that the department has no intention of resorting to such fanaticism, the reply is made that the power is there if at any future time another head of the department chooses to exercise it."

Kansas Motorist Notes Outcome Of Election On License Plates

DENVER March 14. (INS)—A Kansas motorist who had brought his license plates up to date was observed in Denver Monday.

Kansas plates ordinarily carry the legend, "The Wheat State."

The motorist had blocked out "H" and "A" with tape, to make his license read, "The W-E-T State."

Jury Is Selected In Damages Action

A jury selected Monday will return this morning to hear evidence in the 99th court civil action of Kelly Copeland against R. B. Musick and others, suit on contract.

The jury is composed of Ben McWhorter, jr., A. E. Eden, Lloyd N. Lipscomb, Rufus Averett, L. O. Reynolds, W. M. Wallace, T. F. Wood, S. E. West, D. D. Webster, D. O. Dawkins, J. A. Gordon, and W. L. Blaylock.

The law firm of Campbell and Adams represents the plaintiff; Bradley, Key and Kimmel, the defendant.

Two other cases were set for this week: A debt action of Bill Crawford against M. E. Tew, and an attachment and suit on note action of Berch Scott against C. H. Doggett and wife Helen.

The Crawford-Tew case is set for Wednesday morning, the Scott - Doggett case for Thursday.

BOND GROWS BIGGER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.)—Herman E. Murray of Canton, Ill., received a $100 bonus bond from the state in 1923, for war service during World War I. He put the bond in a safety deposit box and forgot about it until recently. State treasurer Ora Smith gave him face value for the bond and $99.50 interest.

Two Graham Students Injured In Laboratory Mishap Leave Hospital

GRAHAM, March 14 (U.P.)—Rapid improvement was reported today in the condition of two of the more seriously injured Graham High school students, burned by sulphuric acid March 4 in a science classroom experiment.

They are Virginia Smith and Joyce Creager, who have been dismissed from the Graham hospital.

None of the 16 students and their teacher, burned when a defective flask exploded to spray their faces with acid, is expected to suffer impairment of eyesight, with one possible exception.

L. J. Russell was reported to have received a scar on the cornea of his left eye.

YOUNG AND OLD ALIKE

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—The highest pedestrian traffic accident rate is found among two age groups, the California state automobile association reports. Persons of 65 years or older, and children between five and 14 years old are most often hit by vehicles, the survey disclosed.

Tech, Westerners Enter Track Meet

Reynolds Leads Red Raider Crew

Texas Tech and Lubbock High school will take partial teams to Fort Worth this week for the 26th Annual Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet.

Coach Maxey McKnight of Tech will take 11 Red Raider cindermen, as well as five freshmen, while Coach Fred Brown will take nine high school boys.

Return to the area of spring weather has given both coaches a chance to work their charges. Yesterday Coach Brown took his varsity squad out to Tech and held a non-point scrimmage dual meet against the Raider freshmen. Both coaches expressed satisfaction over some of the performances.

Raiders Hold Light Drill

Meanwhile the Raider varsity went through a typical Blue Monday session. Coach McKnight worked the Raiders easily and there were no time trials. Runners limbered up on the cinders and field men went through light practice in their specialties.

Backbone of the Raider group going to Fort Worth will be Charlie Reynolds, ace sprinter. Reynolds is slightly overweight and will be brought along slowly this spring. His best time in the century so far has been 10.1, but coach McKnight isn't worried. He said yesterday that Reynolds had reached his peak too soon last year and that he would not let it happen again.

Reynolds has been beaten by both Seth Murphey and Moon Mullins, the other two dashmen, whom McKnight expects to help in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Those three runners, along with Ed Clepper, hurdle and high jump hope, will form the sprint relay quartet.

Charley Pinnell also will pair with Clepper to give a threat in the high jump and high hurdles and Joe Overton, a transfer student from McMurry, will compete in the high jump.

Elliott To Make Trip

Joe Wilson, Costin Bufkin and Ben Wilson will run in the quarter mile at Fort Worth and will team with Edgar Hawkins, top miler, to run the mile relay.

The only field man to make the trip will be Jim Elliott in the javelin. Elliott has shown a lot of promise and last week hurled the javelin 180 feet.

The freshmen group will be headed by Earl Hutcherson of Lubbock, who will compete in the low hurdles and on the mile relay team. Sonny Stanford will compete in the high hurdles and three men, Norman McNeil, Charles Ritchie and John Shinn, will run the 440-yard dash. The last three will add Hutcherson to form the mile relay quartet.

Tech tracksters will leave here Friday for Fort Worth.

WESTERNERS GAIN FIVE EVENTS FROM TECHSANS

Six events were run in competition with the Tech freshmen Monday, and the Westerners came in first in five of them.

In the 880-yard run, Eddie Goetze turned in 2:09.3 over the route after trailing the Tech runner nearly all the way.

A 440-yard relay team, composed of Donald Decker, Charlie Williams, Malcom Young, and James Vernon, ran the distance in :45 Wayne Stroud, who usually runs in place of Vernon is sick and unable to work out.

The 100-yard dash was won by Young in :10.5, and Alfred Adair hit 11 feet in the pole vault. Decker took first in the 220-yard dash with :23.

Earl Hutcherson of Tech won the 440-yard dash with a time of :53.5.

The meet should prove helpful to the Westerners when they compete in the Southwestern meet in Fort Worth this weekend. The boys have been a little off form, but are rounding into shape. Their peak will probably be reached after the meet, however.

Thursday the nine trackmen, two coaches and manager will leave for Fort Worth.

High Scorers Teamed With Top Linksmen

Pairings Announced For Country Club High-Low Golf Tournament

Pairings for the Country club High-Low Golf tournament were made Sunday night after all qualifying rounds were turned in to Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country club pro.

This is the first tournament of the year at the country club, and persons with high qualifying scores are teamed with the better golfers to insure a more even tourney.

Matches are played in foursomes, and the losers over the 18-hole route each week are eliminated and the winners matched. In this way the field is narrowed every week by half the number of teams participating. Finals will be played in five or six weeks.

A total of 78 entries were made in the tournament, and the matches will be played from Monday through Sunday of each week. All scores must be turned in by Sunday night.

Pairing this week are Melvin Best and Dr. J. R. Harris Vs. Wynne Collier and Lonnie Langston; H. M. Chick and R. J. Cheatham Vs. Jack Markham and Robert Moxley; Chick Trout and Lester Grimes Vs. Eck Wheeler and M. C. Robinson; George Carter and O. D. McCoy Vs. Ted Tipps and Dr. D. W. Haymes; Dick Jenning and Gilmer Aycock Vs. O. A. Terry and Troy Peeples; G. E. Taylor and B. E. Adair Vs. Roy Cooper and Wilkie Talbert. M. R. Tripp and L. O. Robertson Vs. Jake Warnick and Dr. R. T. Canon; Hugh Anderson and Kyle Ratisseau Vs. H. J. Patterson and Orville Stewart.

Also John Trout and W. S. Moncrief Vs. F. L. McRee and J. V. Powers; S. R. Forsythe and O. A. Brock Vs. Cecil Horne and Dr. J. M. Reynolds; Dr. W. A. Schaal and Chas A. Guy, jr. Vs. Clyde Fortune and A. C. Jackson; Weymond Newton and F. L. Lindsey Vs. Kay Bradshaw and L. O. Neill; Raymond Marshall and K. N. Clapp Vs. Sid Claiborne and John Kattmann; Jimmie Marshall and Paul Pugh Vs. John Bell and E. R. Howell; Lindsey Telford and Guy Brown Vs. Olen Stewart and Tom Pendergraff; and J. A. Raley, jr. and Dick Green Vs. T. L. Sampson and H. D. Delaney.

Getting byes for the first round were Bill Tatum and Hiram Parks; Ray Biggers and C. O. Campbell; Charles Townes and H. D. Allen; C. E. Fish and Jack Stone; Harris Underwood and J. D. Hassell; Bill Bartley and Bob Lavender; and C. C. Caldwell and Dr. C. B. Batson.

Pro-Amateurs To Hold Meet Today

Approximately 15 professional golfers are expected here today for the spring meeting of the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf association at Lubbock Country club, beginning at 10 o'clock.

All local amateurs who wish to play in the 18-hole match this afternoon should contact Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country Club pro, by 12 noon in order to get started on time and with little conflict. Play will start at approximately 12:30 or 1 o'clock.

Amateurs will get half their handicap, and three amateurs will tour the rounds with one pro. In case too many amateurs attend, one will be designated to serve as captain over the layout.

The morning session will be a business meeting at which the association will discuss and set dates for summer tournaments. Other business also will be taken care of at this time. Luncheon will be served at the club, after which the players will take to the links.

Pros expected here for the meeting include Shorty Hornbuckle, Odessa; Shanty Hogan, Lamesa; Warren Cantrell and Charles Akey, Midland; Ray Garrett, Wichita Falls; Gene Mitchell, Plainview; Joe Houck and Lavery Farguar, Borger; Red Bost, San Angelo; Sherley Robbins, Big Spring; John Austin, Pampa; E. B. Lovvorn, Sweetwater; Chuck Klein, Amarillo; and Morgan Hampton, Abilene.

BRADLEY DUMPS WESTERN KENTUCKY

Loyola, Chicago, Upsets Favored Kentucky, 67-56, In NIT Event

NEW YORK, March 14 (INS)—Kentucky's top - seeded Wildcats were dumped out of the National Invitation tournament today, 67 to 56, by a plucky Loyola team that engineered the biggest upset of the season.

The Ramblers' ding-dong triumph wrecked Kentucky's hopes of achieving a grand-slam of major collegiate titles.

It was an afternoon for upsets at Madison Square Garden. Bradley earlier had nipped favored Western Kentucky, 95 to 86, with a brilliant stretch drive that brought it from 10 points behind.

From the start, it was apparent the Wildcats had caught a Tartar in Loyola. The Ramblers, one of the last-minute tournament selections, battled Kentucky to a standstill through the first half and eight minutes of the second.

Then they came on with a closing rush that Kentucky couldn't match. It was curtains for the Wildcats, and the signal for Loyola to pile up the score, when Alex Groza and Wah-Wah Jones, and later substitute Walter Hirsch fouled out.

The Chicago team's great center, Jack Kerris, was the key man in the Rambler triumph. Benched much of the first half with four fouls, he came back to completely outshine Kentucky's All-American Groza.

Kerris ended up with 23 points, 15 in the second half when they counted most. Groza, after getting 14 in the first half, didn't score a point ofter the intermission.

And Groza eventually fouled out, while Kerris was still around at the finish.

Kentucky looked like an awakened ball club early in the second half after being on the short end of a 32-31 midway score. The Wildcats opened up a four-point, 36-32 lead at the outset, but Loyola never allowed them out of sight.

Bradley came within two points of the Garden collegiate scoring record in upsetting Western Kentucky, and the combined total of the two teams topped the old Garden mark of 161 by 20 points.

SAN FRANCISCO DROPS UTAH, 64-63, IN NIT TILT

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—A one-hand shot by Frank Kuzara in the last five seconds of play gave San Francisco a pulsating 64-63 victory over third-ranked Utah tonight and added further confusion to the National Invitation basketball quarter-finals which earlier had seen the elimination of heavily favored entucky and fourth-seeded Western Kentucky.

BOWLING GREEN UPSETS ST. LOUIS BILLS, 80-74

NEW YORK, March 14. (INS)—Bowling Green nosed out defending champion St. Louis university, 80 to 74, tonight for the fourth straight upset in National Invitation basketball tournament quarter-final play.

Raiders Work To Correct Mistakes

Monday was a desultory one for Texas Tech spring football training, with Coach Dell Morgan giving players a chance to loosen up stiff and bruised muscles with only minimum contact work.

Saturday's full-scale scrimmage showed up numerous mistakes and these will be worked on during the coming days. There are only 30 days of spring training and each one is going to count, for Tech will have only eight days next fall in which to prepare for the first game.

New Men Impressive

Mistakes Saturday were expected, for the large squad had worked out only from Monday. But coaches were impressed with some of the new players and by performances of several of the lettermen and older hands.

The squad this spring, which is expected to carry the brunt of the battles in 11 games next fall, gives promise of being one of the best in recent Raider history. There are promising players for each position and reserve strength will be deeper.

Coach Morgan is more worried about the backfield strength this year than the line, which appears to have considerable depth. The ends are untried, for the most part, but the tackles and guards have experience. Several promising players are trying out for wing positions to team with Luke Thompson. Most promising are Hugh and Dick Jackson, Elbert Johnson, Dingy Davis and Bud Henderson, shifted from center.

Backs Show Promise

The backs so far have shown promise of giving the Raiders as much versatility as they had last year. Several of the incoming men, up from freshmen ranks, have shown aptitude and last year's varsity backs are continuing to show the ability that made them feared.

Of course such backs as Glenn Lewis, Charley Reynolds and Zac Henderson won't be back, but there are 13 veterans back, plus a host of newcomers.

Yesterday the backfield men worked on pass defense, while defensive and offensive scrimmage featured the work of the linemen. It wasn't hard work for the most part, but there was no loafing and the spirit on the Tech squad remains high.

Oil Belt Loop To Add Eighth Team

Representatives from seven teams in the Oil Belt Baseball league voted Sunday to admit one other team to the league and to play a 35-game schedule.

President Joe Holmes indicated at the meeting that representatives from several towns had asked about joining the league, but Monday afternoon none had been contacted.

The schedule this year calls for games during the week and on Sunday. Last year only games were played on Sunday afternoon with the 21-game schedule, but the addition of games under the lights on Thursday night during part of the season should give the players more practice and create more interest in the league.

Four of the league teams at this time have lighted fields, or will have them by the time play begins April 24, and mid-week games will be scheduled at the fields with lights. In case another team acquires lights while the season is in progress, it will probably be possible for some night games to be played at that town.

Two umpires will be used for each game, both to be furnished by the league, and playing fields will be lined off with lime before each game.

The Oil Belt league is a closely-knit organization, and teams pay an entrance fee to participate. Penalties are assessed for failure to appear for regularly scheduled contests, and this keeps the league running smoothly.

Teams represented at the meeting were Levelland, Post, Sundown, Denver City, Slaton, Brownfield, and Seagraves.

Local Bowlers Gain Third In Tournament

DALLAS, March 14. (Special)—Lubbock teams and individuals didn't fare too well in the annual Southwest Bowling tournament that ended here Sunday.

Ben Brown, who completed his bowling the weekend of March 5-6, fell from second to sixth in the final standings in the Class A singles. Brown rolled a 671, not high enough to retain his position after the attacks by bowlers Saturday and Sunday.

A pair of Lubbock bowlers ended up in third place in the Class A doubles on the basis of a 1305 total. The keglers were James Buckner and Bill Nelms, who were dislodged from second place by the action over the weekend.

Both the Mission Orange team, which was in seventh place in Class A, and the Yellow Cab five, which was in fourth in Class B, fell from the standings. Mission Orange was the defending titlists.

Frisco Girls Defeat Morse, Gallatin In AAU Tournament

DALLAS, March 14. (AP)—Frisco today took two steps toward its second consecutive title in the high school bracket of the annual Southwestern AAU girls basketball tournament. It defeated Morse, 21-18, and Gallatin, 23-20.

Gallatin's first round victory was over Denison, 36-29.

DOUBLE ROUND ROBIN PLAY SET

District 3-A To Add Baseball This Year; TIL Rules Prevail

FLOYDADA, March 14 (Special)—District 3-A will have baseball this year under the Texas Interscholastic League rules and the district has been divided into two halves.

Each half will play a double round robin over the regular season, which opens April 14 in both halves, and a three-game playoff will determine the championship.

Teams in the East half of District 3-A are Paducah, Crosbyton, Spur and Matador, while West half teams include Floydada, Abernathy, Ralls and Lockney.

The season will end on May 3. Opening games April 14 will send Matador to Paducah and Spur to Crosbyton in the East half, with Lockney at Floydada and Abernathy at Ralls in the West half.

The complete schedule follows:

April 19: Paducah at Spur, Crosbyton at Matador (East half); Floydada at Abernathy, Ralls at Lockney (West half).

April 22: Crosbyton at Paducah, Matador at Spur (East half); Lockney at Abernathy, Floydada at Ralls (West half).

April 26: Crosbyton at Spur, Paducah at Matador (East half); Ralls at Abernathy, Floydada at Lockney (West half).

April 29: Spur at Paducah, Matador at Crosbyton (East half); Abernathy at Floydada, Lockney at Ralls (West half).

May 3: Paducah at Crosbyton, Spur at Matador (East half); Ralls at Floydada, Abernathy at Lockney (West half).

Texas Aggies Add Three Games To 1949 Baseball Schedule

COLLEGE STATION, March 14 (AP)—The Texas A. and M. college Aggies today added three games to their 1949 baseball schedule and changed the site of a fourth tilt.

Athletic director Bill Carmichael said the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks will come here Friday to meet the Cadets. The Aggies meet Bryan of the East Texas league there April 5. Waco of the Big State league will be an opponent April 16.

The Aggie-Bryan game April 2, originally carded for Bryan, will be played at College Station.

Joe Wisniewski, Don Hensiek To Join Hubbers At Greenville Camp

Fourteen Players Under Contract

GREENVILLE, March 14 (Spl.)—Contracts of Joe Wisniewski, an outfielder, and Don Hensiek, pitcher, have been received, bringing the total number of Lubbock Hubbers under contract to 14, General Manager George Schepps announced today.

Both Wisniewski and Hensiek returned their signed contracts yesterday and reported that they would be on hand for the opening of spring training here next Sunday.

Sunday's initial baseball tryout camp here, under the direction of three managers, Jackie Sullivan of Lubbock, Red Davis of Greenville and Bill Gann of Corpus Christi, was termed a complete success. Over 30 baseball prospects reported for the week-long camp and off initial showings, Schepps was hopeful that several would make the grade.

Jimmy Rieger Reports

One of the boys reporting for the camp was Jimmy Joe Rieger of Lubbock, a former player in the Oil Belt semi-pro loop as well as an outstanding softball player. Rieger reported to the Hubber office during the winter and asked a chance to try out. He was told to report to the local camp and turned in a good performance his first day.

Schepps said that the school apparently will be a complete success and that the three managers were enthusiastic even after only one day. They called it the best tryout camp they had ever been connected with and already have begun tabbing players as prospects. Some of the boys reporting now may be put under contract and given a chance to make one of the three teams during the spring training session.

Also on hand as instructors are Sol Gliato, who will work with the pitchers, and Mike Dooley, under Hubber contract, who will work with the catchers. Dooley is in fine condition and happy to be with the Hubbers again.

Bill George "Cotton" Russell, the former high school pitching star who won 12 and lost seven for the Hubbers last year, also reported yesterday. Russell, who picked up weight during the winter, is anxious to get in shape so as to be ready for a good year.

The regular Hubber training camp will open here Sunday with at least 21 players expected to be on hand.

TICKETS FOR INDIAN-GIANT GAME GO ON SALE HERE

There was no particular rush to buy tickets for the appearance here April 5 of the New York Giants and the World Champion Cleveland Indians on the first day of ticket sales.

Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, Hubber owner, announced that a check of tickets sold yesterday at the Hub Clothiers showed only 650 persons had beaten the rush. It was approximately half the number sold on the opening day of sales last year.

Lubbock and area baseball fans can obtain tickets daily at the Hub Clothiers during business hours. All tickets on sale are general admission only and sell for $1.20 each. A total of 8,000 tickets will be placed on sale.

Braves Win First Exhibition Game, 5-0, Red Sox Drop Yanks

BRADENTON, Fla., March 14.—Boston's National league champion Braves won their first Citrus Circuit exhibition in three games today by blanking the St Louis Cardinals 5-0.

PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES DOWN SENATORS, 4 TO 3

ORLANDO, Fla., March 14. (AP)—Eddie Waitkus' ninth inning home run with one aboard lifted the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators here today. It was the Phillies' third straight exhibition game win.

PESKY LEADS RED SOX TO 4-1 WIN OVER YANKS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14. (AP)—Johnny Pesky banged out three hits, including two doubles, and drove in two runs today to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees. A crowd of 5,006 saw the Sox snap New York's two-game winning streak.

PITTSBURGH WINS THIRD EXHIBITION GAME, 4 TO 1

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 14. (AP)—Chubby first baseman Les Fleming wielded a big stick today and the Pittsburgh Pirates took their third consecutive exhibition game, a 4-1 win over the Chicago White Sox.

Local Softball Team Holds First Workout

Approximately 15 men were on hand Monday for the first softball workout of Lubbock's Texas Softball league team. Workouts this week and next will be held Monday through Wednesday, and after next week the team will practice every day.

There is a possibility that practice games will be held with Fort Worth, Dallas and Stamford before the season starts May 7, but nothing definite has been decided yet.

The league is divided into two districts with Lubbock, San Angelo, Fort Stockton, Crane, and Seminole in the western half and Stamford, Abilene, Cisco, Comanche, Big Spring, and Midland in the eastern division. All games played here will be at Jumbo Webster field.

Included in those reporting for practice Monday were Wally Fowler, K. O'Neill, Roland Drake, James Abbott, Don Allen, Jiggs Jackson, and Floyd Lawhorn. Allen was one of the best shortstops in Texas softball in 1946 and 1947 and will replace Ralph Earhart who led the league in batting last year with a .342 average.

Interscholastic Loop Field Meet Slated For Hale Center

HALE CENTER, March 14. (Special)—Hale Center will be the scene of the district Interscholastic league literary and field meet April 1 and 2, local school officials have announced. Literary events are to be held Friday, April 1, and track and field contests Saturday, April 2.

Almost a dozen schools will have contestants in the various trials from which regional entrants will be picked. Tennis contests will be held in Plainview on April 8, and a two-day softball tournament will be held in Hale Center at the time the literary and track meet is staged here. Volleyball games will be held in Olton April 15-16.

BOWLING OVER BOWLERS—Janet March probably didn't remain as such an attractive target for keglers in the American Bowling Congress tournament at Atlantic City, N. J. She was stationed behind the pins to demonstrate a new electric, semi-automatic pinsetter which was being placed on trial.

District 3-B Schools Card Baseball Games

HALE CENTER, March 14. (Special)—Several schools who are in District 3-B football competition will enliven their last two months of the 1948-49 school term by competing in a new sport—baseball, Superintendent N. L. Douglas of Hale Center schools announced.

Almost all of the District 3-B schools will enter the diamond race, he said. Hale Center Owls will field their first baseball squad in many years under direction of Coach Ralph Huntington. Other schools in 3-B gridiron competition who may have baseball teams are Dimmitt, Olton, Springlake, Whitharral, Amherst, Anton, Friona, Spade and Farwell.

One-Man Team Back In Lineup Again

Galan Expected To Aid New York Giants

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—We never got around to congratulating the New York Giants for signing Augie Galan, the veteran outfielder, first baseman, second baseman and third baseman, so we're doing it now.

Not that this one-man team will be a star of first magnitude this year. After all, he'll be 37 shortly, so he's practically playing on borrowed time. But we have a hunch that more than once when Leo Durocher needs some guy as a pinch hitter who won't hit into a double play, Augie will come through for him.

The real reason we are glad to see him stick around the majors is because he is one of the nicer guys, and his very presence on the roster reflects credit on the club.

History Interesting

Augie's case history is particularly interesting because he's the only player we know of who got into a world series by saying "no."

We've probably written it before, but we'll repeat the circumstance briefly for the benefit of those who came in late.

Augie was released outright to the Los Angeles club by the Chicago Cubs Aug. 20, 1941, after faithfully serving the Bruins more than six years. The Cubs considered him washed up.

Galan, a man of few words in such circumstances, said "No." He declined to report and Larry MacPhail, then head of the Brooklyn Dodgers, stepped in to ease the situation. He made a deal for Augie, who reported promptly, played in the World Series that year, and stayed with the club the next five years.

He went from there to Cincinnati, and when he was given his unconditional release by the Reds after the 1948 season it looked like Galan finally would have to call it a career.

We wrote something to that effect. We also used to write pieces on that order about Paul Waner every time he was released by some club toward the end of his long career, but the little guy always kept bobbing up with some other club so we finally had to give up the practice. It was getting monotonous.

Galan has had more injuries and ailments than the average player could stand, but he's always kept bouncing back and word from the Giant camp is that he looks as spry as ever, and is sure he can help the club.

It is as a clutch hitter that he could be most valuable. A guy who never hit into a double play during a 154-game season, as Galan did, or never did, in 1935, or who led his league in bases on balls twice, as he did in 1943 and 1944, is mighty handy to have around.

Gano Tubb New Levelland Coach

LEVELLAND, March 14 (Special) — Announcement was made Monday of the appointment of Gano Tubb as Levelland basketball coach and second team football coach by Supt. O. W. Marcom.

At the same time Bill Scott was named to assist Truitt Ratton in football.

Tubb is a graduate of Levelland high school and Southwestern Tech of Weatherford, Oklahoma. He was head coach at Levelland for six years and junior high coach for three years. For the last two years he has been at O'Donnell.

Eire has added three new merchant ships this year and will buy two more.

EMPTY STRONG BOX SPURS HUNT

Ohio Search For Jesse James' Loot Continues Despite Bad Luck

ZANESVILLE, O., March 14 (U.P.)—Undaunted by their bad luck so far, five men today continued their hunt for $1,500,000 reportedly hidden here in the middle 1880's by Jesse James.

The men, led by John Trammel, who claims he is 109 and used to ride with the famed Missouri train robber, unearthed a rusty strong box in an abandoned cemetery near here Saturday — but the box was empty.

Trammel led his companions over a secret route to the old burial place by means of a ragged map. He pointed to a spot and the men started digging.

No Loot Found

Several feet under the ground they uncovered a metal box, scarred by years of deterioration.

"That's it. That's Jesse's box," said Trammel. But when the men opened the box it was bare.

Trammel was disappointed but not discouraged at finding only an empty box.

"Either Jesse got scared and moved the money, or he needed some and got it up," he theorized. "But he didn't take it all. That's the gang's money. Jesse wouldn't have taken it."

Man In Austin

Roscoe James, who claims he is a nephew of Jesse, a private investigator and Trammel came here several days ago at the invitation of Zanesville residents, who also claim relationship to the bandit.

The private investigator, Lee Yowk of Van Nuys, Calif., hinted that he would try to persuade an Oklahoma man who claims he is Jesse James to come here to aid in the search. The man, 102-year-old Frank Dalton, is under an oxygen tent in Austin, Tex., suffering pneumonia.

The actual digging climaxed a rumor that has been going around for months that James came here soon after he was supposed to have been shot to death by Bob Ford in 1882. According to the local story, James adopted the name "Tom Howard" and traveled around Ohio as a lightning-rod salesman.

TO SPEAK AT MEETING

HALE CENTER, March 14 (Spl.)—Don Jones, manager of the Extension service experiment farm at Lubbock, will address a joint meeting of Hale Center and Cotton Center farm bureau members here Thursday night, March 17, in the high school auditorium, Claud Burnett, president of the Hale Center group, has announced.

HE WON'T TELL

Man Claims Money Is Under Water

AUSTIN, March 14. (U.P.)—Pale and so weak he could barely lift his hand, 102-year-old Frank Dalton—who claims to be Jesse James—lay in a hospital bed Monday and declared:

"They'll never find it; it's under 30 feet of water."

That was his comment on the search around Zanesville, Ohio, for $1,500,000 in hidden loot, a trove built up in the days when the James gang robbed banks and trains as casually as you'd order a beer.

The amount, he said, has been exaggerated, instead of $1,500,000 it's only $52,000.

Last One Who Knows

At the hospital here, the nurses respectfully refer to their white-bearded patient as "Mr. James." He is suffering from pneumonia.

He was in an oxygen tent, which the nurses rolled back briefly to permit reporters to talk to him about the Ohio treasure hunt. He was so weak that, when he wanted to lift his hand to gesture, the nurse had to move back the bed cover so he could get it free.

"They know something about it," he said, referring to the Ohio search party, "but they don't know where it is."

Where is it? a reporter asked.

"It's under 30 feet of water, that's where it is."

A lake or well perhaps?

"It's under 30 feet of water, that's all."

Old Jesse, or Frank, if you prefer, wouldn't comment on the possibility that he hoped to recover the money for himself.

"I had some help in hiding the money," he declared. "I'm the last person who knows where it is. All the others are dead. I'm the only one now."

The nurse pulled the oxygen tent back and the old man settled under it.

"Mr. James has to rest now," she said.

U.S. High Court To Rule On Constitutionality Of Racial Segregation In Railway Dining Cars

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 14 — The United States Supreme court agreed today to decide whether racial segregation in the dining cars of southern railroads is unconstitutional.

The high tribunal refused to review a dispute over alleged discrimination against negro firemen on three southeastern railroads.

But its action in this case upholds a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision allowing negroes to file suit in the District of Columbia to block a bargaining agreement which they said would injure them.

The agreement was proposed in January, 1948, to the Southern, Seaboard and Atlantic Coast Line railroads by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

In other actions, the court:

1. Held that Hawaiian courts must decide the constitutionality of an Hawaiian law which forbids the teaching of foreign languages to young children. The Supreme court cancelled a federal tribunal decision which overturned the law.

2. Cancelled a New Hampshire State Supreme court finding that a state law regulating closed and union shops is unconstitutional.

3. Refused to review a California law which grants telephone companies free use of public roads for their lines. It held that no substantial federal question is involved.

The dining car case was brought by Elmer W. Henderson, of Baltimore, Md., who claimed that the Southern railway had violated the constitution by using a five-foot wall to segregate negroes and whites.

Negroes Forced To Wait

Henderson said that if all tables in the negro section are taken negroes must wait even though accommodations in the white section are available.

He contended that negroes are barred from vacant seats because of their race and declared that the railroad's practices conflict with a Supreme court ruling which outlawed segregation on interstate buses.

In the Hawaiian case, the court ruled, 7 to 2, that federal courts lack jurisdiction over "judicial consideration of acts of importance primarily to the people of a state or territory . . . unless exceptional circumstances command a different course."

The disputed Hawaiian law provides that languages other than English cannot be taught to children who have not completed the fourth grade or who have not shown at least normal ability in English composition or reading.

Evidence Heard In Lamesa Assault Trial

LAMESA, March 14 (Special)—The trial of Ramsey Westmoreland, charged with assault with intent to murder, got underway here today in 106th District court before Judge Louis B. Reed.

Selection of a jury was completed shortly after noon and state witnesses J. W. Howell, Edd Hatch, Orville Bradley, G. C. Futgell and Dr. Sam Z. Frazier took the stand during the afternoon.

The courtroom was well filled throughout the first day of the trial, which observers said would probably be concluded tomorrow. Judge Reed adjourned the court at 6 p. m. and announced that the trial would resume at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Westmoreland allegedly assaulted Howell with a knife on Nov. 3, 1948, as Howell and Bradley were moving a house in East Lamesa.

Representing the state are District Attorney R. Stansell and Clement and Dawson County Attorney Vernon D. Adcock. Defending Westmoreland are G. H. Nelson and George McCleskey, Lubbock attorneys, and Dan M. Cook, Plainview lawyer.

$325,000 Bond Issue Proposal Rejected By Hockley Voters

LEVELLAND, March 14 (Special)—Hockley county voters Saturday turned down a proposed $325,000 bonds issue which would have provided funds for parks in four county cities, but approved by a narrow margin a tax reallocation plan.

Complete unofficial vote tabulations released today by County Clerk H. E. Clingan showed the bonds issue was defeated, 545 to 444, while the tax reallocation measure passed by 492 to 490.

The reallocation plan provides for transfer of funds not needed in the county's jury fund to the general fund.

Paving Of El Paso-Mexico City Highway To Be Completed

EL PASO, March 24 (AP) — The central highway from El Paso to Mexico City will be completely paved by next October, according to Ricardo Pineda, Mexican federal highway engineer, a recent visitor here.

The highway is passable throughout, he said, and paving will be completed by October on a 265-mile stretch between Parral and Durango and a 100-mile stretch between Durango and Fresnillo.

Murder Suspect To Be Returned To Texas

LOS ANGELES, March 14. (AP) Officers are due here Tuesday to return Arthur Clayton Hester to Fort Worth, on charges of murdering his guardian, John Lord, dean of the Texas Christian University Graduate school.

En route here by automobile are Sheriff Houston Walling and Detective A. C. Nowerton of Fort Worth.

Hester, 18 and an ex-sailor, told police he is "ready to face the music" and will waive extradition.

The athletic-appearing youth was arrested Saturday when he walked into the home of his half-sister, Mrs. Anna Gadberry, in east Los Angeles.

Hester told Detective E. A. Romero he had a quarrel with 70-year-old Dr. Lord and struck him with a piece of pipe last Tuesday, but maintained he did not know the educator was dead. Dr. Lord's body was found Thursday in his home 12 miles from Fort Worth.

Hester told police he left in Dr. Lord's car, but finished the journey here hitchhiking after the auto's clutch burned out at Coahoma, Texas.

Dr. Lord became Hester's guardian in 1946, after the youth had lived at the State Orphans home at Corsicana.

GROUP URGES 'YOUTH COUNCIL'

Jester Asks Emergency Action On Juvenile Delinquency Plan

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 14—A law giving Texas a new system to prevent and cure child delinquency was given hurry-up status today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

He asked for emergency action on Senator R. L. Proffer's bill creating a State Youth Development council. It would bring under one head all efforts in this broad field.

The bill puts into effect findings of the Juvenile Code commission that spent 18 months—at its own expense — studying the problem. It came up with a report that said in essence the state is falling down on the job.

Proffer's bill was written to do the job.

Jester Praises Group

"The commission has wisely reviewed the entire problem of youth development and has presented a plan — not for creation of extensive new agencies — but for mobilization of existing forces of state government in a program emphasizing prevention of delinquency, scientific diagnosis and treatment, in addition to custodial care," Jester told the legislature.

"I wish to commend this commission, and all who have assisted it, for a splendid contribution to the public good."

Under Proffer's bill, the training schools for girls and boys at Gatesville, Gainesville and Brady would be transferred from administration by the board of control, and placed under the Youth Council.

Task Outlined

The council's most immediate job would be to see if it could find out what is wrong with children committed to its care by the courts. It could then determine the treatment — which might or might not be confinement in one of the training schools.

The council would also:

1. Make a continuing study of the needs of all children, and call them to public attention.

2. Try to help families meet their responsibilities to children.

3. Make recommendations to public and private agencies "on any matter affecting the care, welfare, or behavior of children."

4. Advocate programs to strengthen, co-ordinate and develop "all essential services to children."

Would Assist Authorities

5. Assist local authorities with youth problems.

6. Make continuing recommendations to the legislature.

The council would be made up of 16 members: six citizens interested in youth welfare to be appointed by the governor; eight state officials such as the chairman of the Board of Control, the executive director of the department of Public Welfare, the State Police director; and two others nominated by the 14. These two would be full-time workers.

The measure calls for no appropriation except $7,000 annual salaries for the two full-time council members, and $10 a day expenses for other council members up to 60 days a year.

West Texas Farmer Is Fined For Income Tax Evasion

FORT WORTH, March 14. (U.P.) A prosperous West Texas farmer Monday was fined $7,000 in U.S. district court here on income tax evasion charges.

The fine was assessed by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson against Albert Graf of Wilbarger county.

Government attorneys contended Graf wilfully failed to report $38,261 in income during a five-year period. Graf's attorney said the farmer, who completed the sixth grade, failed to report the income because of "ignorance and poor advice."

Hon. John Doe, State Senator,
Austin, Texas

Dear Senator Doe:

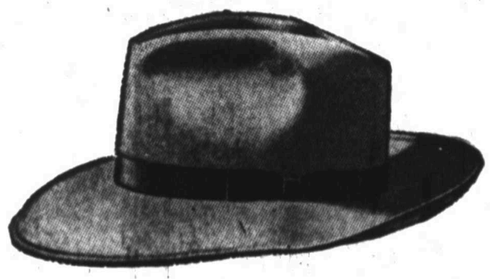

Your invitation to appear before the Senate Committee on natural resources has been received. If I can be of any assistance to you in this connection, I shall be happy to present to your committee such information as I may possess.

It so happens that this request comes at a most opportune time. I have just purchased a double-breasted Hart, Schaffner & Marx Suit which in my opinion will be just right for this occasion. I hope my testimony will be as presentable as my clothing!

You may expect a telephone call from me immediately upon my arrival in Austin.

Cordially Yours,

Joseph M. March.

House Gives Okay To Basic Science Bill

Lubbock Solon Requests Delay

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 14 — The embattled basic science bill was finally passed by the House tonight 93 to 43, after more than 20 hours of bitter debate.

Proponents of the bill defeated all amendments which they disliked except one. The House voted 108 to 27 to exempt ex-servicemen from taking the basic science examination if they have been enrolled in a school of healing arts one year at the time the law becomes effective. The school must be approved under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Bill Is Attacked

"This is one of the most vicious and the worst piece of legislation I've ever seen," Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont declared. "Any bill created by one group to try to get a monopoly is bad."

Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio, told the House he was convinced the bill as written would permit chiropractors to practice. He said many of the aspects of it they were objecting to were already in the law, and did not hinder their practice.

The bill sets up a board to examine and license practitioners of the healing arts. It requires persons to take examinations in chemistry, physiology, anatomy, pathology, bacteriology and public health and hygiene.

Chiropractors objected saying the board giving the exam would be made up of professors from colleges teaching the courses as they apply to the medical practice. The chiropractors say they would be discriminated against on the examinations because their views differ from those of the medical profession.

Would Raise Standards

Doctors said their purpose in sponsoring the bill is to raise standards for those who would practice the healing arts.

The long wrangle over the measure, which now goes to the Senate, took up most of three legislative days.

Today's debate went on for six hours.

"The medical doctors are wrapping a tight fence around the healing arts," asserted Rep. Bill Miller of Houston.

"Are they interested only in setting minimum standards or in controlling the healing arts?" He asked.

He described the bill as a "biased program to eliminate some kinds of competition."

AMA Also Blasted

Hitting at the American Medical Association, Miller said:

"When they (the doctors) shake free from the American medical program and start working for the people of Texas, I'll vote with

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Tuesday, March 15, 1949

Approval Given To Road Petition

Lubbock county commissioners, meeting Monday in regular semi-monthly session, approved a petition presented by a group of landowners of the Shallowater and Monroe communities calling for designation and hot topping of a farm to market road adjoining the two communities.

Approval by the county commissioners is subject to further approval and acceptance by the State Highway department.

Among those appearing before the commissioners on behalf of the thoroughfare were W. O. Fortenberry, Guy L. McAfee, C. U. James, and Hubert Anderson.

At Monday's session, routine business was discussed was discussed. All bills and accounts were approved and ordered paid.

Bonds of J. R. Crisp and J. R. Crisp, jr., as public weighers were approved, and the Lubbock National bank was given final approval and designated as the Lubbock county depository for 1949-50.

The group met with a delegation of Monroe residents who appeared on behalf of a proposed community clubhouse there. No action was taken, however, pending word from the attorney general of Texas on his opinion concerning conversion of funds for such a purpose.

Attending the meeting were Commissioners R. O. Short, Perry Corley, Ottis Isom, and George G. Green; County Judge Walter Davies; County Clerk Louie Moore; and Assistant County Attorney Dudley Brummett.

Dallas Named In Group Of U. S. Cities With 'Best Speech Habits'

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP) —The Linguaphone Institute of America today named ten U. S. cities which it regards as having "the best American speech habits."

The honor list includes Washington, D. C., Hollywood, Dallas, Chicago, New Haven, Conn., New Orleans, New York, Oak Ridge, Tenn., Madison, Wis., and Denver.

The institute said Washington was selected "because it is the home of American oratory," Hollywood because of the "high pressure charm" of the movie colony's speech, and Dallas because of its "uninhibited brashness."

In New Orleans, the institute said, "Speech embodies the grace of the southern drawl, the fire of the French accent with the efficient business-like speech of a commercial metropolis."

Iceland May Refuse Bases To Pact Nations

WASHINGTON, March 14. (INS) Icelandic Foreign Minister Bjarni Benediktsson implied Monday night that his nation would refuse any request to furnish peacetime military bases to other countries under the North Atlantic pact.

Benediktsson told a newsman after a conference with Secretary of State Acheson that the question of military bases in Iceland for the pact powers has not been raised.

The Icelandic statesman met with Acheson for 30 minutes amid indications that the alliance may be expanded into a chain of pacts ringing the globe with a democratic barricade against possible Russian aggression.

London reported a move to form a Pacific alliance and Turkey defied Soviet pressure by sounding out her neighbors on the possibility of a Mediterranean defense alliance.

Square Dancing School Underway

By ELLEN MILLER
Avalanche Staff Writer

It looked like the Old West had returned to the Texas Tech gym last night.

Crowding the building almost to the rafters, couples from Lubbock and nearby towns poured in to learn square dancing from a real master of the art—Jimmy Clossin of El Paso.

Clossin, who is teaching three classes daily this week at the college was brought here for the tenth year by the Women's Physical Education department of Tech to teach in the annual country dance school.

Interest At All-Time Record

Interest is higher this year than ever before, according to Mrs. Johnnye Langford, department head, and tickets were sold out early last week.

Clossin allows that square dancing is right easy if you can just remember which is your right hand and which is your left, remember who is your partner, and listen to the caller.

Couples just beginning to learn the figures have to do a bit of studying to know what the caller is talking about. For instance, in a square, a corner isn't where you'd think—it's the lady on the gentleman's left, or, the gentleman on the lady's right. And by the time the tyro has learned this he has to get used to such terms as "allemande left" when the caller means, "on the corner with your left hand."

Terms Are Explained

Sometimes the caller says "partner" when he means "partner." But he's just as likely to refer to a partner as "honey" or "taw." "Sally Goodin" is always the lady in the couple on the right, and the "gal from Arkansaw" is the lady opposite.

Clossin shows considerable patience in explaining this, and the numerous other small details to beginning square dancers. His students may also obtain a 45-page booklet that includes a vocabularly of terms and some 30 different calls with explicit instructions for the dance.

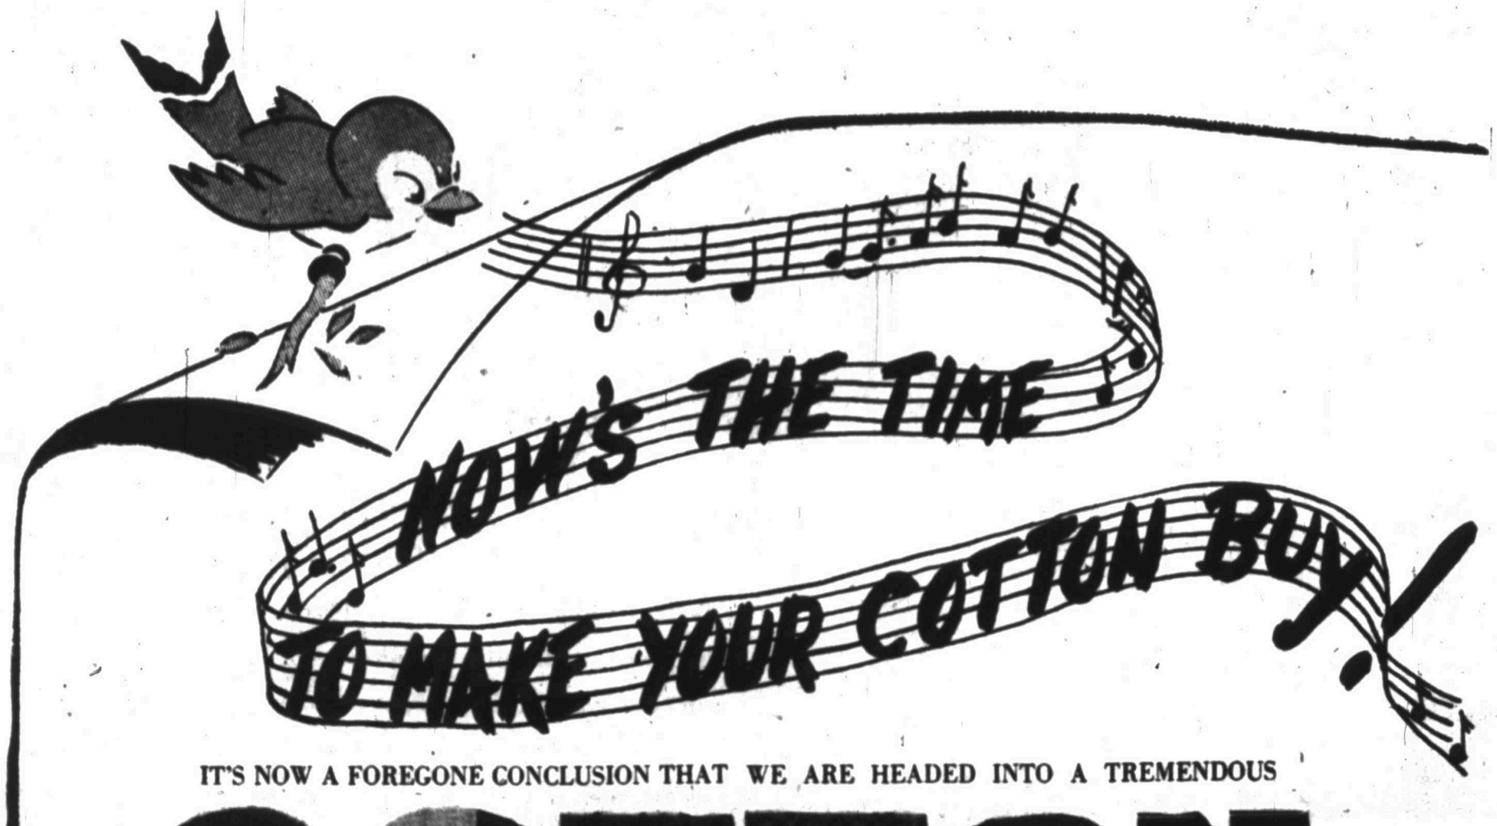

For advanced students, taught in a separate class each night, Clossin gives instructions for much

Operations Scheduled To Explore Into Ellenburger In Terry County

Operations to explore into the Ellenburger in southwest Terry county, approximately 15 miles southwest of Brownfield, will be started soon by Hiawatha Oil & Gas company.

The prospector will be Hiawatha No. 1 J. W. Robbins, et al. The drillsite is to be in the southeast quarter of section 56, block D-14, C&MRR survey.

It is expected that the venture will have to dig to at least 11,000 feet, and possibly, may have to go to 12,000 feet to find and test the Ellenburger.

Hiawatha has a block of more than 6,000 acres of leases surrounding the location. This acreage was originally blocked by Seaboard Oil company of Delaware. It was checked by seismograph, and that survey showed possibilities of a deep structure on the block.

Seaboard turned the acreage to Hiawatha to drill and retained an over-ride on it.

Drilling with rotary is to start at the deep wildcat in the near future. Exact location will be announced in a few days.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware and Republic Natural Gas company have taken an oil and gas lease on the George Beggs of Fort Worth ranch of approximately 38,000 acres in East Garza county and in west Kent county.

Consideration for the lease is reported to be the payment of $1.00 per acre to the landowner each year for ten years. No initial bonus payment is called for by the transaction, and no annual rental is called for.

The contract does not include any drilling obligation.

It is understood that the two companies are equal partners in the deal.

The Texas company was swabbing the west-central Andrews county Devonion with its No. 1-W State, wildcat one and one-half miles north of the West Parker-Devonian field.

Bottomed on 8,450 feet, the venture perforated the section of pipe at 8,310-58 feet. Those perforations were washed with 500 gallons of mud acid. Operator was swabbing water and acid residue on last report.

This prospect is 665 feet from east and 662.8 feet from south lines of the north half of section 35, block 12, University survey.

U.S. Housing Official To Speak In Lubbock

Featuring a 1949 "Economy Housing program" meeting in the district courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse at 7:30 tonight will be a talk by E. T. Stearns of Fort Worth, district director of the Federal Housing administration.

Representatives of the building trade from 41 Panhandle-South Plains counties have been invited to attend the meeting and delegations from Lamesa and Muleshoe have notified officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce they will attend.

Besides Stearns' speech and talks by local builders and suppliers there will be a question and answer forum conducted by Stearns.

"PALE AS A GHOST"

That's one of the signs of a Borderline Anemia

Nearly everyone looks pale at times. Some people naturally have less color in their cheeks than others.

But if your complexion is too often pale and sallow—if your manner is jaded, your energy under par—faded red blood cells may be the reason. You may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies indicate that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded, shrunken and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—to look better—to act more alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

19 MEN INDICTED FOR THEFTS

Sherman Trucker, Accused In Grain Swindle, Goes On Trial

MCKINNEY, March 14 (AP) — A 32-year-old Sherman trucker, one of 19 men indicted on charges of swindling and theft in grain transactions in Collin county, went on trial here today.

He is C. K. Denison, one of 17 residents of adjacent Grayson county charged last October. Two others were indicted in October. One was Grayson county sheriff Merkel Dicken, then-sheriff-elect. The 19th is still at large.

Testimony today concerned the manner in which loads of grain were weighed and the weights recorded at the Burris Mill elevator scales here. The state is expected to contend that the scales were tampered with.

The prosecution today introduced two scale inspection reports by the Department of Agriculture. The first was four months before the swindling and thefts are alleged to have occurred. It said the scales were accurate. Another report, made seven months after the alleged offense, said the scales were inaccurate and must be repaired.

Testifying today were W. A. Sorrells, manager of the mill and A. G. Speck, mill weigher. Sorrells testified for more than two hours, largely explaining how loads were weighed and the weights recorded. Speck's testimony essentially was the same.

Denison's name did not come up in today's testimony. Instead, much of the testimony concerned a check for $969.74 paid for a load weighing 29,110 pounds net. The check was made out to M. A. Hudgeon, who also has been indicted. The prosecution today did not indicate how it planned to relate this check to the Denison case.

Indictments Follow Probe

District Attorney Paul Worden said that the men were indicted after a five-month investigation into alleged grain thefts in a number of Texas counties, including Collin, Lamar, Tarrant, Hale and other West Texas counties. The amount involved was not disclosed. It was estimated at $1,000,000 by the Sherman Democrat.

All charged to date are residents of Grayson county, north of here. The alleged offenses occurred in Collin county, of which McKinney is county seat. All of the men are truck drivers or owners.

Worden said the indictments are based on alleged occurrences in the maize harvest in 1947 at Burris mill plant here. Most of the indictments charged theft of maize, others oats. Some of the indictments said swindling was done by secret manipulation of scales weighing the grain.

Sheriff Denies Charge

The jury was completed by noon. Questioning of prospective jurors injected a political flavor to the trial. The jurors were asked roif they took part in the sheriff's election last July when Dicken was running for the sheriff's position.

Other cases are expected to be set for trial.

When indicted, Dicken said in a public statement that "I am not guilty of the offense charged." He said the indictment was the "outgrowth of the recent heated political campaign in which I received the nomination as the Democratic nominee for the sheriff of this (Grayson) county."

"This indictment was carefully timed for the political results desired by my political enemies," he said.

Dicken defeated incumbent Fred Prestage, who was active in the investigation which led to the indictments.

News Briefs

Public schools for white children will be dismissed here all day Friday because of the West Texas Teachers association district meeting here that day, Supt. R. W. Matthews has announced. Classes at Dunbar school will meet as usual, as negro teachers held their meeting earlier in the school year.

Among charter members of Delta Upsilon chapter, Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity at Southern Methodist university, is Carey G. May, son of Mrs. A. W. May, 2121 Eighteenth. Carey, a junior, is majoring in voice. He sings bass in the university's choir and chorus.

Two car fires caused the only runs made by the fire department over the weekend, firemen reported yesterday.

An invitation to hear a lecture by Dr. G. C. Brewer tonight at Abilene Christian college has been extended members of the Broadway Church of Christ and other interested persons. Dr. Brewer, a former pastor of the Broadway church, will discuss "Communism and its Influence in America," beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Margarete Walker, dean of women at Texas Tech, will leave Thursday for McMinnville, Oregon, where she will install a chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national musical organization at Linsfield college. Mrs. Walker is president of the group. She will return March 28.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech will address the regular luncheon of the Lubbock Lions club in the Hilton hotel today.

W. L. Ducker, head of the Petroleum engineering department at Texas Tech, will sit with a panel of engineers in Amarillo tonight to answer questions asked by the graduating seniors of Amarillo High school. The forum, which will be broadcast, is sponsored by the South Plains chapter of the Texas Society of Professional engineers. The purpose is to enlighten young people who are interested in engineering as a profession. Ducker will represent the petroleum industry.

Plans For Terry Show Are Made

BROWNFIELD, March 14 (Special)—Plans are being completed for the eighth annual Terry county Boys' stock show which is to be held here April 9 under sponsorship of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

There will be two classes in this year's show, one for fat steers; the other for fat barrows. An adult breeders' swine show, which has in past years been held in connection with the show, will not be held this year.

Boys' calves will be adjudged choice, good, and common, with respective prizes of $5, $3, and $1.

No Grand Champions

There will be no grand champions in the show, since it is the claim and keynote of the show "Every Exhibitor is a Winner, and Every Winner a Future Commercial Breeder."

There are to be two classes in the fat barrow division: animals over 140 pounds, and animals under that weight. Prizes ranging from first to seventh will be $5, $4, $3, $2.50, $2, $1.50 and $1.

Judging will be done by Ray C. Mowery of the agriculture faculty at Texas Tech. A sale of calves and pigs will follow the judging, with Kenneth Bozeman of Lubbock as auctioneer.

Entries will be limited to 4-H club and Future Farmers of America boys in Terry country. Expected to participate are 4-H clubs at Union, Wellman, Brownfield, and Meadow, and FFA chapters at Brownfield, Meadow, and Wellman. Approximately 50 boys are expected to participate.

City Of Denton To Store Water In Garza-Little Elm Reservoir

AUSTIN, March 14 (AP) — The State Board of Engineers today granted the city of Denton a conditional permit for 21,000 acre feet of water storage annually in the Garza-Little Elm reservoir.

The permit will become final when the city signs a contract with the U. S. Corps of Engineers, which is building the reservoir, for sale of the water.

"We understand there is 21,000 acre feet of storage left in the reservoir which has not been assigned to an applicant," Marvin C. Nichols of Fort Worth, consulting engineer, said in speaking for Denton. "We are asking for this amount of annual storage with an annual division of 11,000 acre feet."

Nichols said the city planned to take the water from Hickory creek on the southwest edge of the lake above the dam.

At present the city gets its water from wells.

The Garza-Little Elm reservoir is being constructed as a unit in the Trinity river flood control and water conservation project. The city of Dallas has been granted a permit for about 415,000 acre feet of storage in the reservoir annually.

Others representing Denton at the brief hearing were Mayor J. L. Yarbrough, City Attorney Rogers Teel, and Henry G. Creel jr., city engineer.

Over $50,000 Worth Of Gems Stolen From Montana Store

BUTTE, Mont., March 14. (INS)—Theft of more than $50,000 worth of diamonds from a Butte jewelry store was discovered Monday morning when employes reported for work.

Police Chief Bart Riley said the diamonds, valued at $55,000 to $60,000, were stolen sometime over the weekend from the Gordon Jewelry store.

Riley said the job was done by "professionals" who gained access to the store by an unknown method and did an "expert" job of opening the safe where the loose diamonds, rings, watches and other jewelry was stored.

Car Registrations

A VIGOROUS advocate of a law proposing to transfer registrations, licensing and titling of motor vehicles from county assessor-collectors to agents named by the State Highway Department cited an argument in support of the plan this week which seems likely to backfire.

E. J. Amey, director of the Highway Department's motor vehicle division, said a city like Dallas should have at least six, and preferably 12, permanent agencies to attend to a job now handled for the entire county by the assessor-collector and his staff. The proposed law now pending would provide for the additional registration agencies, not only in Dallas, but probably in every county and most communities in Texas.

Obviously, permanent agencies would require staffing. They would mean increased public payrolls. The supposition is logical that increased registration expense would be followed by demands for increases in registration, licensing and other fees paid by the the auto owner.

An increase in the number of registration agencies probably would, and certainly should, save a little time occasionally for the fellow wanting new license plates or having other car business to attend to.

But it is a cinch guess that a great many auto owners would prefer conditions as they are to the risk of a whopping increase in his various motor vehicle fees. And the increase almost certainly would be a whopper if the plan required six to 12 permanent agencies in the one city of Dallas instead of the one office which serves that entire county.

An Honor Earned

DOWN IN Mexico City the other day leaders of the press below the border honored a Texas newspaperman for his ceaseless efforts toward better understanding between newsmen of Mexico and the United States. The Texas newspaperman thus honored was William Prescott Allen, publisher of the Laredo Times.

For almost a quarter century, Mr. Allen has lived and operated his paper in a Texas border city in which the Latin-American population is larger than the Anglo. He has come to know the Spanish speaking people of his city, his Mexican neighbors across the river and he has come to appreciate them. So throughout his residence in Laredo, Mr. Allen has become a great force for better understanding between Latins and Anglos which, in itself, alone, has made him a most useful citizen to Laredo, to Texas and to Mexico.

If ever a man deserves Mexican-American recognition, that man is William Prescott Allen. The fact that Mexican newspapermen were the first to give it to him speaks authoritatively in behalf of the success of his efforts. If Texas newspapermen, through one of more of their organizations, do not follow suit in formally recognizing Mr. Allen's unselfish endeavors, they will be guilty of unpardonable oversight.

Texas and Mexico need more men with the understanding of William Prescott Allen. Certainly, newspapermen with his vision would be in good position to serve, because the tools of their trade make it possible for them to best further improved relations on both sides of the border.

We congratulate Mr. Allen upon the honor which has come to him; we thank him for his long efforts now bearing fruit for all of Texas and Mexico; and we commend the Mexican newspaper gentry for their bestowing upon Mr. Allen the honor which deservedly is his.

It seems the Red spies working in America provided Russia with everything except money.

Why not pay United Nations officials on a peacework basis?

Fable: Once upon a time a 17-year old admitted he wasn't a careful auto driver.

The more political pull a man has the less pushing he has to do.

In the old days it was different. A spy always wore a black mustache and had on a long dark coat.

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER.
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover, winners of an expense-paid week at a swank desert resort, are visited by an armed man as they dress for dinner. The man leaves after saying he made a mistake. Later, while they are at a cafe where waiters are in Arab costume, Johnny is given a Queen of Diamonds on which is written, "Your deal." With the owner of the cafe, Mr. Barcelou, Johnny and Sin search for the waiter who left the card. A back door opens and Homer Anglin, the man who visited their cottage, stumbles into the cafe dying from a bullet wound. Anglin whispers to Johnny: "You already got it." During the investigation, Barcelou informs Police Lieutenant Lay that Anglin said something to Conover before he died, but Johnny, resenting Barcelou's implication that the Conovers are mixed up in the murder, denies it.)

VIII

THEY turned into the palm-guarded cement walk that wound up to the hotel's front entrance. A rainbow of floodlights, carefully concealed in the shrubbery, bathed the area in carnival hues and threw grotesque shadows across their path.

A lizard scuttled suddenly away from their footsteps. Sin suppressed a shriek doing her best not to let their unexpected Saturday night get her down.

John Henry pursed his mouth. "If we only had some idea what that Barselou is up to—"

"It's nothing that concerns us, Johnny. We don't know he's up to anything. I mean, it wasn't his fault that poor fellow got shot in his alley."

"Look at it this way, Sin. We get that funny queen card in his restaurant and it's delivered to us by a waiter in one of Barselou's costumes. We go up to his office, which is probably just what he wanted. As soon as we're there, you remark that we're tired from our trip and Barselou says it's a long drive from San Diego."

"Oh," said Sin softly.

"Right. How did he know we were from San Diego? We wern't carrying avocados or anything."

"Johnny, he's been checking up on us!"

"Sure, and why? We're just two more people."

"He must think we're somebody else."

John Henry nodded emphatically. "That's the connection. Barselou thinks we're somebody else. And Anglin gets murdered at Barselou's back door. It ites up to me."

THEY started up the front steps of the Las Dunas and he realized they were practically running. They slowed to a sedate, unworried pace and pushed through the glass doors.

The lobby was bright and quiet and deserted. There was a youth behind the registration desk who gave them an overdone smile and good evening as they hurried by.

"You have the key?" Sin asked.

John Henry felt its plastic arrowhead in his trousers pocket. "Uh-huh. Surprised?"

"After everything else, I sort of expected your pocket had been picked. Johnny, who are we?"

The sunken patio was drenched in soft amber light. Scattered guests lounged at the metal tables under gaily-striped umbrellas. White-jacketed waiters, carrying drinks on silver trays, scurried to and fro. The amber light made the drinks seem twice as potent.

A wide cement veranda ran down the north side of the patio. More of the umbrella tables were here, and broad doorways opened into the Oasis Room. The even percussion of a dance orchestra floated out into the garden, over a current of laughter, the hum of conversation and the clink of ice in glasses. The dancers were shadow people dimly seen from the patio.

The pasteboard jacket had no place in this holiday setting.

THEIR path curved gradually up the canyon of cottages. Darkness sneaked in on the two of them again. Most of the cottages were still unlighted. A few porch lamps beamed down coldly, reflecting from the white stucco. Somewhere up on the nearest hill, a coyote howled.

"I'm glad you left our porch light on," Sin said suddenly.

"Always thinking head, that's—"

"What's wrong?"

"Nothing honey." John Henry could have sworn that he turned the porch light off last thing before they left. But there it was, clearly illuminating the black iron 15 on the white stucco. He glanced up and down the row of silent cottages. The canyon was devoid of life except for the Conovers and the crickets. Even the distant orchestra had taken an intermission. Then he laughted at his abrupt ideas of ambush and they stepped up onto the porch.

"What are you laughing at?"

He fumbled the key out of his pocket. "Nothing, Sin."

"Johnny! What are you laughing at?"

John Henry punched the key into the lock. Then he withdrew it and said, "I'm not laughing."

"Then why aren't you? You were."

He looked down at the lock. "I could swear I locked it when we . . ." He let his voice trail off as he tried the handle. It worked smoothly and the door swung away from them into the blackness of the cottage. "Guess I forgot that too," he said sheepishly and, patted around for the light switch from the inside wall. The front room came into brilliant being.

Sin's scream was short and piercing. John Henry jumped and swore automatically. Sin was wrapped around his arm, pressing her body half behind him, her eyelashes fluttering in fright.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

Somehow or other I can't ever think of you folks who read this column merely as "readers."

Otherwise I would be much more pontifical in my approach, much more selective in my subjects, much more erudite in my language.

BRANDEIS

In other words, I wouldn't say "I wouldn't"—I'd say "I would not." I'd say "Awfternoon" and "cawn't"—and I'd make a gosh darn fool of myself.

All this introduction because people are eternally sending me letters asking me what I look like, and what kind of stockings my wife wears and, believe it or not, a couple of days ago someone even inquired whether or not she wears a girdle.

And, believe it or not, after being married twenty-seven years plus, I didn't know and I had to ask her and she told me to tell my inquirer that it wasn't any of her gosh-darn business whether or not she wore a girdle and, anyhow the darn thing pinches her so it isn't any joke.

Well, if I keep on interrupting myself, I'll never get to my point, which also deals with a letter I had from a reader.

I must have such interesting mail, writes this fellow, and he wants to know how many letters I get every day and whether I answer them all.

Here is a letter from Time magazine and still another from the same publication.

In one of them they tell me that this year they are celebrating their 25th birthday, and would I please airmail the enclosed card right back to F. D. Pratt, the circulation director, (and, by the way, a friend of mine) today. The words airmail and today are underlined.

The offer is a special one—44 weeks at only $3.87.

Congratulations, on your 25th birthday, but I am not going to answer this letter.

The other one, from the same magazine, starts "Hitler was a baby compared with this gang," and offers me Time at $6.50 for 52 issues. It ends with a request to mail the card "right back to me, please today (underlined), Cordially, F. D. Pratt."

I am not going to answer that one either, but I wish that F. D. Pratt would get together with F. D. Pratt and make up his mind what Time magazine wants to do for me.

HERE is another one:

"Dear Friend: Will you be Coronet's guest. . . "

It ends with an urgent request to slip a dollar into the convenient reply envelope "right now."

Will I be their guest? At one dollar? Sounds like a Pyramid Friendship club, doesn't it?

Another letter. From the Public Relations News. They are reserving a copy of the "Free Publicity Guide for Executives" for me. All I have to do is to send them $5.00 for 13 copies of their magazine. But "drop it in the mail, now, while the card is handy," says F. S. Binder, the business manager.

There are ten or twelve more like these. They won't be answered, but they are carefully filed away until next Thursday.

Then the garbage men come and put them in the permanent file.

South Gives Argument

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Southern Democrats' most effective argument against limitation of Senate debate has been the recollection that today's majorities often become tomorrow's minorities. They have warned Northern and Western members supporting the rules change that they may be working against their own interests, and that the day may arrive when they will be glad to resort to a filibuster.

Exhibit A in this debate is the American Federation of Labor. Along with the C.I.O., the A.F. of L. has lobbied for President Truman's demand that the cloture provision be revised.

TUCKER

Labor believes that it can obtain the kind of Taft-Hartley substitute it wants only if the opposition is throttled, and the Administration measure rushed through without amendment or delay.

DAWES: But the A.F. of L. took an entirely different stand twenty years ago, when Vice President Charles G. Dawes, in his inaugural speech, shocked the Senate, the Supreme Court and the then President Hoover by launching a Trumanesque crusade for revision of Senate rules and regulations.

A business man, Mr. Dawes was irked by procedural delay in the chamber over which he presided. He inveighed particularly against the weakness of the cloture rule; he wanted action.

When he quit four years later, however, he admitted that he had been mistaken, and he endorsed unqualifiedly the protection which the Senate rules gave to racial, political and economic minorities.

"PREDATORY": The A. F. of L. immediately leaped into the fight against proposed Dawes reforms. Its lobbyists buttonholed every member of the Senate with insistent demands that they oppose any changes in the rules, especially those which enabled their Capitol Hill friends to filibuster against anti-labor measures.

At their national convention that same year the A. F. of L. unanimously condemned the Vice President's campaign to abolish free speech in the Senate. Labor leaders urged that "every publicity be given to the denunciation by labor of the Dawes scheme, which does not come from the people, but emanates from the secret chambers of the predatory interests."

FORUM: "For several months," continued the A. F. of L. statement, "the Vice President of the United States has conducted an agitation for the purpose of abolishing free speech in the United States Senate, the only forum where cloture does not exist, and where members can prevent the passage of reactionary legislation.

"The railroad industry, the great oil industry, and other great industries in the United States want to make it possible for a handful of men in the United States Senate to control all legislation."

When A. F. of L. President William Green is asked to reconcile his past and present attitude on cloture, he replies with a wan smile and a "No comment."

DOGHOUSE: The three men who framed and enforced the Taft-Hartley Act have made it extremely difficult for the Republicans on Capitol Hill to fight off Democratic charges that the measure was designed to land labor in the national doghouse and to benefit employers.

Former Representative Fred Hartley of New Jersey, co-author of the statute, has become head of the Tool Owners' Union, which has been denounced as a "fascistic orgapization" by New York State Officials, and barred from official activity in that state.

Gerald W. Landis, ranking Republican on the committee which wrote the House version of the T-H Act, has become head of an outfit avowedly operating in the interest of manufacturing groups.

LOBBYIST: Gerard Reilly, who helped to write the measure as NLRB counsel, has become the highest-paid lobbyist for employer groups at Washington. His present annual income is placed at $100,000, possibly more. He represents numerous firms which fought the Taft-Hartley Act tooth and nail, including a coal company that has always opposed John L. Lewis.

Capitol Hill Republicans recognize that they had a right to seek employment wherever they pleased. But they wish that the trio had not swung aboard the anti-labor "gravy-train" until the end of the present controversy over enactment of a new labor law.

INSULT: A comic opera skirmish in the "cold war" was staged off the dingy and disreputable harbor of Lewes, Del., when Russia recently returned the cruiser Milwaukee, which had been loaned to the Soviet in the days when Stalin and F.D.R. were palsy-walsy.

Moscow wanted to dock the obsolete warship at one of our great ports—Boston, New York or Norfolk. Although Stalin delayed return of the vessel for several years, and still keeps thirty-one vessels loaned under similar circumstances, he was informed that only Lewes was available.

Lewes is a sleepy hamlet not more than five miles from Rehoboth Beach, where many Washington officials and socialites spend their summer months. They never go there except to buy clams and seafood, and it is doubtful, save in wartime, whether any boat larger than a fishing smack ever tied up there. It was the worst sort of insult we could offer the Reds.

Some Progress Seen In Congress

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — What happened in the house education and labor committee on the expanded wage-hour bill sought by the administration offers a good case history of the situation of President Truman and his program in the 81st Congress, and it appears more encouraging than some recent pessimistic analyses would indicate.

This measure provides a good test generally for economic-social reform measures on the Truman program, for its provisions for increasing the number of workers benefitted and raising the rate from 40 cents an hour to a flat 75 cents, which the committee approved, are highly controversial and were vigorously challenged by a great variety of businesses affected.

Bloc In Action Again

Once again, in this instance, there appeared the old familiar coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats, which for nearly 10 years has played such havoc with New Deal proposals, first when offered by the late President Roosevelt, and more recently by President Truman. But this time the coalition that had been so successful in the Education and Labor committee could not pull off the trick.

Three southern Democrats joined with the nine Republicans on the committee. But they were outvoted, though narrowly, by 13 Democrats who were able to put over a bill that achieved most of the administration objectives. Some few concessions were necessary. It was quite a substantial victory, however, because it appeared a few days ago that the administration might get only a token measure limited largely to a flat increase in the rate from 40 to 65 cents an hour without extending coverage to additional workers.

Most significant was the fact that the margain of victory for the administration was furnished by a Southern Democrat who refused to go along with his three colleagues in the coalition with Republicans in the fashion that almost has become traditional.

This was Rep. Hugo S. Sims (D.-S. C.), who symbolizes the newer generation in the South, which reflects the gradually increasing progressivism in that section, as well as the viewpoint of the generation that fought the last war. Rep. Sims, who is 27 years of age, had a notable war record as a paratrooper with the 101st Airborne Division in Europe, winning several decorations. Enlisting as a private, he rose to captain.

After the war he engaged in newspaper work with his father at Orangeburg, S. C., for a time. He was elected to the state legislature and went to law school at the University of South Carolina at Columbia, the capital, while serving as a legislator. In his campaign for the House, in which he defeated the conservative incumbent, Rep. John J. Riley, he began months ahead of time and conducted almost a house-to-house canvass of his district, the second district in middle South Carolina, the largest and most populous in the state. It is about half industrial and half rural.

Holding the balance of power in the committee, he won a couple of concessions from the administration leadership on the committee—exemptions of agricultural workers from the measure and the right to offer an amendment on the floor for a graduated increase to 75 cents in two years, beginning with 65 cents at the outset.

Progress Is Seen

But his support, with these concessions, contrasted with the opposition of his three southern colleagues — Representatives Barden (N. C.), Wood (Ga.) and Lucas (Tex.). He was, too, bombarded by small industries in his district, as well as farmers, against the bill.

There are a number of Hugo Simses in the House of the 81st Congress, some from the South, some even among Republicans, and they are likely to supply a thin margin of victory on numerous Truman proposals, first in committee and later in the House, itself. Young Sims' presence on this key committee, which also will have jurisdiction over labor and health legislation, indicates the wisdom of the personal pressure brought by President Truman on his House leadership at the outset of this Congress to infiltrate key committees with more progressive members to offset the conservative southerners and Republicans.

The wage-hour bill case demonstrates also how careful and earnest legislative spadework, with compromises here and there, can help on such controversal issues.

Instrumental in this successful coup was another Democrat who unseated a Republican last November, Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (W. Va.), not a youngster like Mr. Sims, for he is 62. He was influential in working out the substitute compromise bill which the 13 Democratic members of the committee agreed to support unitedly at a caucus called the night before by the chairman, Rep Lesinski (D-Mich).

Announcing!

For The First Time During The Post War Era We Have a Good Stock Of Used Cars & Trucks.

Policy...

In the early post war period when new cars and trucks began to make their appearance in limited numbers on the South Plains market, we adopted the policy of not DEMANDING that the purchaser of a NEW DODGE CAR or TRUCK trade their old car or truck in to us just for the privilege of buying a new vehicle.

Now that the Used Car and Used Truck valuations have changed, customers have found it more desirable to trade in their old cars and trucks on the purchase of a new DODGE.

Today, for the first time in the post war era, we have an excellent stock of CUSTOMER USED CARS and USED TRUCKS on sale at prices you would normally expect to pay for USED VEHICLES.

We invite you to come once again to DICKINSON'S USED CAR LOTS for excellent values at normal used car prices!

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Commission of Lubbock, Texas, will be received at the office of Steve Mathews, City Manager, until 2:00 p. m. March 24, 1949 for furnishing all necessary materials (except materials specifically specified as being furnished by the Owner) machinery, equipment, superintendence and labor for constructing certain 16 inch, 24 inch, and 30 inch Distribution Trunk Mains and appurtenances, all for the City of Lubbock, Owner, Lubbock, Texas.

The principal items of work consists of furnishing and installing approximately 3,832 linear feet of 30 inch, 7,947 linear feet of 24 inch, and either 3,261 linear feet of 16 inch cement lined cast iron pipe or 2,176 linear feet of 20 inch prestressed concrete cylinder pipe and 65 linear feet of 16 inch cement lined cast iron pipe for Distribution Trunk Lines and necessary appurtenances.

Bidders must submit a Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a Bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Proposal Bond from a reliable Surety Company payable without recourse to the order of the City of Lubbock, Texas, in an amount not less than five (5%) per cent of the largest possible bid submitted as a guaranty that the bidder will enter into a Contract and execute bond and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of Contract to him. Bids without the required check or Proposal Bond will not be considered.

The Successful Bidder must furnish Bond on the form provided in the amount of 100% of the total Contract price from a Surety Company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as Surety, or other Surety or Sureties acceptable to the Owner.

All lump sum and unit prices must be stated in both words and figures. The Owner reserves the right to reject any and or all bids and to waive informalities. In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating the prices in the bids, the Owner reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the bid. Unreasonably unbalanced unit prices will authorize the Owner to reject the bid.

Bidders are expected to inspect

MARKET HOLDS STAND

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—A wandering course was followed by the stock market today, and it wound up just about where it started.

Prices were spread out over a range of fractions to more than a point in either direction among the leaders. Most of these, however, closed with only small changes.

Oils stood out on the topside with the best showing of the day among the major groups. Skelly was the leader, closing at 11⅝ up 1⅛ after a highly favorable earnings report for 1948.

Rails were backward and under selling pressure most of the day. Buying sentiment was chilled by the two-week memorial holiday called by John L. Lewis in the coal mines which threw 371,000 miners out of work and resulted in the railroads giving lay-off notices to 42,700 workers.

Freight revenue from coal shipments will diminish to a trickle among the coal carriers. Railroads are already faced with mounting costs outstripping rising income.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .1 of a point at 69.8. Rails lost .3 of a point. Of the 968 issues traded, 377 advanced and 365 declined.

The volume of business was fair at 800,000 shares as against 1,070,000 shares on Friday.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—Cotton futures moved lower today under pressure of commission house and New Orleans selling. The market was influenced by the slow demand for the cotton goods and lack of new export business. There was a good deal of evening up in nearby March and switching into later months, anticipating the expiration of trading in the March contracts Thursday this week.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 40 cents higher than the previous close.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 14. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at 10 designated southern spot markets was 10 cents a bale lower at 32.52 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 32.37; middling 15/16ths-inch average 30.53.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 14. (AP)—Grains sank at the start and then spent the rest of the day inching upward on the board of trade today. The slow upward climb brought some deliveries, particularly in oats, above last Saturday's close.

Selling at the start was based on heavy receipts of cash grain at leading markets. This was particularly true of wheat, where eight southwestern markets had 1,060 cars compared with 388 cars a year ago. Wheat later rallied on reports of improved domestic flour business.

Wheat closed ⅛-⅜ lower, May $2.14⅝-⅞, corn was lower to higher, May $1.30-1.30⅛, oats were ⅛-⅜ higher, May 64½, rye was ⅛ to 1 cent lower, May $1.25, soybeans were ⅛-¾ lower, March $2.39¾-2.39, and lard was 15 to 22 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.27.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 14. (AP)—Wheat No. 1 hard $2.20-44.

more intricate figures with romantic titles as Texas Star, Corners of the World, Brown Eyed Mary and some two dozen others.

A revival of square-dancing in West Texas prompted the first publication in 1938 of the text that Clossin uses here.

Square dancing is an important part of the West, Clossin says. The figures are descendant of the minuet and quadrilles of colonial days. However, square dancing developed its own background by being danced in the barn instead of the court. Using whatever music was available also added flavor and probably speed, as the old-time fiddlers knew only fast hoedown music demanding a two-step rhythm.

The school at Tech is held as the community-wide recreation program that each member of the National Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation is requested to have each year, Mrs. Langford stated.

Nearly 22,000 tons of matches were produced in Japan in a recent month.

Hockley Jury Returns Eleven Indictments

LEVELLAND, March 14 (Special) — A Hockley county grand jury of which Ed Hart of Anton was foreman returned 11 bills of indictment about 7:30 p.m. Monday to 72nd District Judge Dan Blair, District Attorney Lloyd Coslin said.

Croslin, who with assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars went to Levelland Monday morning, said that six of the subjects named in seven indictments were in custody or had made bond.

The indictments included: Donald R. Hull, theft of an auto of the value of more than $50; Carl Phelan, receiving and concealing stolen property of the value of more than $50; Wade Germany, a negro, assault with intent to rape; Jimmy Collins, theft over $50 and forgery; Terrell Flinn, theft over $50 (an auto); and Lane Page, forgery.

In addition, three charges of swindling by worthless check and one of felony theft were returned in indictments, Croslin said.

South Africa has paid $88,000,000 in grants and loans to ex-volunteers.

Twenty Five Chosen For Wednesday Night 'Youth Talent' Finals

Twenty-five finalists in the "Youth Talent Contest" to be staged Wednesday night in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium were selected last night from an original entry list of 46.

A staff of five judges auditioned all entrants, and chose the top 25 on a point rating basis. The auditions were held at radio station KCBD.

Last night's winners will compete in a public performance Wednesday night, starting at 8 o'clock. Tickets for the event, which is sponsored by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be priced at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents students. Tickets will be sold only at the audition box office on the night of the show, and no seats will be reserved.

Regional Contest Slated

The two entries chosen Wednesday night as Lubbock's most outstanding will be eligible to compete in a regional contest April 1 at Lamesa. The Lamesa winner is to receive an audition for the Horace Heidt "Youth Opportunity Program" sometime next fall when Heidt tours the Southwest.

Finalists in the Lubbock competition are:

Nancy Teague, 17, singer, Slaton; Gilbert Efird, 10, singer, Denver City; Patsie and Marjorie Scales, 17 and 16, respectively, singing duet, Brownfield; Lloyd Thompson, jr., 19, singer, 2823 N. Third; Jimmie Poteet, 15, singer, Wolfforth; Jo Ann Scott, 16, singer, 411 Wolfforth; Mary Hunter, 13, singer, 1313 Twenty-eighth; Carroll Thompson Junior High Quartet, composed of Eudell Spetzer, 13, Don Elliott, 13, Maurice Fawcett, 15, and Robert Rawls, 14, of Lubbock; Sammy Hodge, 14, electric guitarist, 2115 Eighth; Beulah, Loveta and Glenda Pritchard, singing trio, all of Lubbock.

Pianist Selected

Carolyn Roan, 14, pianist, 2007 Fifth; Homer Martin, 19, singer, Lubbock; Jack King, 17, singer, 2826 Thirty-third; Sandra Pritchard, singer, 1218 Ave. N; Don Elliott, 13, singer, Lubbock; Kenneth Brown, 17, singer, Lubbock; Hazel True, 18, singer, 2208 Eighth; Sara Ann Lynn, 10, pianist, Clovis; Dorothy Ellen Blair, 22, singer, 2105 Ave. T; Ned Hardin, 15, accordionist, 2417 Twenty-ninth; Eddie Gillet, 13, electric guitarist, Lubbock route 4, Raymond B. Biggers, 22, singer, 2905 Ave. J; John L. Zimmerman, 18, singer, 2311 Sixth; Jonita Jenkins, 18, and Betty Meyers, 19, singing duet, Lubbock; "The Musical Mascots," J. B. Baccus, 13, Wallace Moyers, 14, and James Solley, 14, string trio, all of Lubbock.

In addition, several performers who were unable to appear last night because of valid reasons are to be auditioned later and perhaps added to Wednesday night's competition.

TWO AIRMEN KILLED

MANILA, March 14 (INS)—Two U. S. airmen were believed killed or seriously injured in the crash today of an air force liaison plane in the Philippines. The plane crashed into a mountainside and exploded 30 miles northeast of Baguio where the Philippine president maintains a summer home. The names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Basic Science Bill

them."

"This is one of the most ridiculous pieces of legislation I've seen since the Olsen and Johnson show," said Rep. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

Two minor changes were made after being termed acceptable to Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio, who steered the bill to victory. One assures that the act will not apply to members of any religion in administering last rites. Another provides that applicants who have passed a similar basic science exam in another state would not have to take the exam in Texas.

Abolition of the poll tax as a requirement for voting came under discussion in the Senate. No action was taken on the proposed constitutional amendment by Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, the Senate adjourning until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Kelley said his resolution would not affect collection of the poll tax for revenue purposes.

"This legislature could by passing a statute collect three times as much in poll taxes as is now collected simply by making payment of the poll tax a requirement for buying a drivers' license," he said.

Amendment Accepted

An amendment by Senator D. B. Hardeman of San Angelo requiring voter registration by Feb. 1 of each year was accepted by Kelley.

Debate of the basic science bill on third reading was made possible when Rep. Miller B. Walker of Beaumont secured postponement of his bill licensing billiard recreation halls.

Walker told reporters he was willing to accept an amendment deleting a provision that would allow beer to be sold in recreation parlors.

He said he also would approve a change raising the age minimum for persons allowed in pool halls from 16 to 21.

The WCTU and the United Texas Drys have had the bill under fire the past week.

Basic Science Bill Hit

Hanna made a blistering attack on the basic science bill, which is advocated by the Texas Medical association and opposed by chiropractors.

"Somebody's just hell-bent on ramming it through," he shouted. "You couldn't give artificial respiration to a drowning man without violating this law."

He predicted defeat of the measure in the Senate.

"The people should have a right to vote on this," he rasped. I think they would vote it down three or four to one. I'm standing up here defending the right to choose the kind of doctor I want in this state."

The afternoon session delayed meetings of five House committees.

Movie Pioneer, At Home In Television, Recalls Changes Caused By Use Of Sound In Film Life

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 14—Conrad Nagel, who did so much to make the talking movie what it became, is equally at home in the medium of television—as those within range of a program named "Riddle Me This" can attest.

The eternally young man was reminiscing the other night about the birth of the talkies and the terror it struck in Hollywood—a terror somewhat akin to that which television is striking. He thinks there will always be room enough for all mediums of expression.

Made First Talkie

He made history's first talkie by accident. MGM, angry at him for some reason he did not mention, loaned him to Warner's, which at that time was leading the life of a dog—namely, Rin Tin Tin. But Warners also had the vision of sound, and with the help of Dolores Costello and Nagel, put together an oddity named "Glorious Betsy"— a silent broken intermittently with the voices of the players.

"Then we made 'Tenderloin' with Mike Curtiz," Nagel recalled. "It, too, was only partially spoken. But no lines were written for us. We had to make them up as we went along. I remember Mitchell Lewis had to advance on Dolores in one scene—she was cornered and he, of course, was the villain—and she cried, 'Haven't you a mother or sister? Think of them. Spare me!' That gives you an idea.

Limited Showing Made

"Then F. Hugh Herbert and Cullen Landis made the first all-talkie, a thing called 'Lights Of Old Broadway.' It cost $25,000 and could be shown in only a dozen or so theaters in the whole country."

The film made money despite its tiny outlet—something television has not been able to do. It revolutionized the industry, and soon after that Al Jolson was playing in the "Jazz Singer" and John Barrymore in "Don Juan." Nagel became the master of ceremonies of films. In 24 months he introduced or made the "teasers" for 31 pictures. "Ruined me as a movie actor," he says today with a grin.

"We were pioneers, I guess," he recalled "but someone else had had the first dream. In 1896 Thomas A. Edison said, 'The children of our time will see and hear the Metropolitan opera, without wires.'"

Edison Prediction Fulfilled

P.S.—They did last fall, through the courtesy of the American Broadcasting company and a battery of infra-red lights.

Nagel thinks television should make use of the dozens of former and "at leisure" Hollywood directors. He doesn't think it will ruin anything, no mater how popular it becomes.

"A mad king of Bavaria once built an opera house with one seat—his own," he said. "But he stopped going. He missed being with the mob. Human nature and human gregariousness remain pretty much the same."

Washington, D. C., is the undisputed capital of the world. It wields more power over the civilized world than did Athens or Rome. No nation on earth makes a move any more without first considering the reaction of this semi-somnambulant metropolis.

Washington Festival Planned

But it took a Georgia boy—Carter Barron—to give it a civic consciousness. Barron, as football fans of a few years ago will remember, is a ball of fire. Since his arrival in Washington about 15 years ago, almost straight from Georgia Tech, he has preached a steady gospel based on making the town the world's No. 1 tourist center.

His latest work is devoted to the annual budding of Washington's Japanese cherry blossoms, due April 1. He is co-ordinating a huge festival which he believes, in time, will outdo New Orleans' Mardi Gras or Pasadena's Festival of Roses.

It will be a big time affair in which the President probably will take part, and the thought behind it—aside from international goodwill—is to get the people of the country and the world to travel to Washington, to see the last great democracy on earth at work.

Frank Costello, the gambler who recently was denounced as the "true boss of New York," tried to get a few seats to Madison Square garden to see the Golden Gloves fights on the night of the day he was denounced.

"The true boss of New York" spent many hours on the phone without success. Then a scalper called him and said he'd let him have a small box for $200. Costello bought it. Cash.

Some boss!

'MAN - OF - THE - MONTH'—Bob Wylie, above, Monday was named "Man-of-the-Month for February" by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce. Wylie was presented the award for his work as co-chairman of the club's fight committee, which has supervised several recent boxing shows sponsored by the Jaycees. The presentation was made by Dr. Brandon Hull at Monday's weekly Jaycee luncheon in the Hilton hotel. (Staff Photo.)

Red Cross Residential Drive Is Scheduled To Open Monday

Kickoff breakfast for the Red Cross residential campaign will be held at 9 a. m. Monday in the Hilton hotel, when zone chairmen, captains and other workers will be present.

Plans for opening the residential drive were discussed at a meeting of zone chairmen Monday morning at Red Cross headquarters. Mrs. W. B. Agee, chairman of the residential drive, and Homer Hensley, general chairman of the fund drive, spoke at the session.

Goal in the residential drive will be $3,500 and efforts will be made to exceed that amount. Of the total, 67.2 per cent will be kept in the county and the remainder will go to national headquarters.

Mrs. Agee has asked that residents be prepared to give contributions when Red Cross workers call Monday.

Low Countries Sign New Credit Protocol

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, March 14. (AP)—The three Low countries—Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, have moved one step nearer union.

It was revealed Sunday that economic union of the three countries will become effective July 1, 1950. A preparatory pre-union stage will be reached this July.

Representatives of the three governments signed a protocol to this effect Sunday. In the same document Belgium and Luxembourg agreed to extend credits to The Netherlands to help her carry her own weight in the proposed union.

The union, when effective, will set up a free-trade area with common excise taxes and customs. The countries will also co-ordinate their commercial and monetary policies.

The protocol stressed the necessity for continued Marshall plan aid to help the three countries realize the union. There was no indication that any other special American credits would be sought.

Funeral Services Conducted In Denton For NTSTC Professor

DENTON, March 14 (AP) — Funeral services for Dr. Joseph L. Kingsbury, 69, of North Texas State Teachers' college, were conducted today at First Presbyterian church here. Burial was in Denton.

Dr. Kingsbury, professor of history and curator of the state historical collection at NTSTC, died at his home Sunday after a heart illness of several weeks. He had been on the college faculty since 1925.

Rites Scheduled In Missouri Today For William H. Paulger

Funeral services are scheduled at 10 a. m. today in Holden, Mo., for William H. Paulger, 92, resident of Lubbock since 1945, who died about 12:45 p. m. Sunday in the home of a grandson, W. J. Whittaker of route 2, Lubbock.

Mr. Paulger had been in poor health for the past several months.

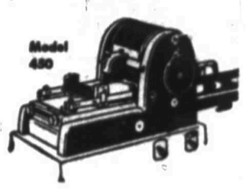

The body was taken overland Monday to Holden for services and burial, Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home reported.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Ida Whittaker of 2119 Twenty-sixth; a son, C. A. Paulger of Oklahoma City; three grandsons, W. J. Whittaker, E. C. Whittaker, and Leroy Paulger, all of Lubbock; three granddaughters, Misses Jennye Mae Whittaker and Martha Louise Whittaker and Miss Louie Paulger, also of Lubbock; a number of great - grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.
