Park Data To Public

Tuesday Meeting To Detail Master Plan

Master plan for the new 575-acre Lake Colorado City State Park will be detailed for the public here Tuesday.

Johnny Buck of Austin, director of park operations for Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, will present the plan at 5:30 p. m. in Civic House.

Citizens of the area are included to attend and become acquainted with the development that is scheduled at the park, according to Larry Neill, Lake Colorado City State Park superintendent.

Texas Parks & Wildlife Department board approved the park's master plan following an official hearing in Austin last Feb. 24.

The department's plan is aimed to preserve natural features of the park on the shores of Lake Colorado City.

At the same time the plan will establish a broad program of active recreation compatible with the site and its water potential.

Initial development will include facilities for the park superintendent, a headquarters building, restrooms, roads, parking areas, picnic sites, shade shelters, campsites, swimming each, pier and water system.

Main work at the park site during the recent months since the state acquired the acreage has been clean up.

With Superintendent Neill on the park staff are Jim Reynaud and Dan Galey.

City Budget Puts Lid On Spending

If the city's new balanced budget follows City Manager J. A. Sadler's plan, slightly less than $40,000 will be available for capital improvements during the 1971-72 fiscal year beginning May 1.

The exact amount is $39,592.80.

All the rest of $546,344.16 budgeted for spending in the 71-72 fiscal year will be spent for day-to-day essentials to keep the city operating.

All total, the general fund lists $334,550 for spending in all accounts. That is $54,067 more than the general fund is spending for the 12 months ending April 30.

However, it is easy to see that operational expenses are being kept close to the 1970-71 line despite rising costs, because most of that $54,067 increase is taken up by the $39,592 cash leftover for capital improvements.

There is another lid for the spending, too. If the budgeted operating costs go higher than expected, then the $39,592 improvement fund will be trimmed in proportion. In other words, if the cash isn't there, improvements just won't be made.

The budget lists the following proposed expenditures for 71-72 in four main categories:

General fund--$334,550 compared to current year's $292,184.20.

General executive--$30,594.16 compared to current year's $31,900.87.

Water and sewer--$112,534.50 compared to current year's $83,514.

Sinking (retirement of bonded debt)--$68,665.50 compared with current year's $69,305.50.

An additional $11,075 is listed for spending for lake parks in the next year. This is almost $3,000 lower than the $13,954.87 being spent during the year now ending.

Budgeted for police is $69,198--slightly up from the current $67,104. Street Department will require $64,374--about $7,000 more than current $57,362.

Transfer Date Near

Colorado Independent School District now is taking applications for students planning to transfer into the district from out of town next fall.

Any student who is not a resident within boundaries of the Colorado district may attend Colorado City schools if a legal transfer is accomplished.

Transfers must be made by the student's parent, guardian or person having lawful control of the child, according to Gary Gardner, assistant to the superintendent.

Gardner said transfer can be completed in his office at the School Administration Office, East 12th and Chestnut.

Applications for transfer must be completed before May 31 for a transferring student to be eligible to enroll in Colorado

City schools for the 1971-72 school year beginning next fall.

Gardner emphasized that transfers must be made and approved by the receiving district each year the incoming child attends school first through 12th grades.

During the current school term the district has 39 students who are in class on transfer from outside the Colorado district.

TV, Tapes Tops On Loot List

Burglars and thieves had a taste for television and stereo taped music during the Easter weekend.

Most of the loot was taken from automobiles but one burglary had a target for larger items.

That was at the Frontier Electronics cable television tower building on Interstate 20 at the north city limits. After breaking a lock on the door, the burglars hauled away a 15-inch black and white television plus a 5-band radio.

Dale Mathis, Frontier's manager, reported to police the burglary was committed Friday or Thursday night.

Jim Reynaud, park attendant at Lake Colorado City State Park, reported that a tape deck was taken from his car parked Saturday night at his home.

Another tape player was reported stolen Saturday night from the car of C. W. Pruitt, Lake Colorado City.

A third tape player was stolen from Michael D. Long's car, parked Saturday night at Long's Garage, 945 East Second. Taken with the player were about $70 worth of tapes.

Thieves took 4 hubcaps from the 1970 automobile owned by Lance Walker, 604 East Sixth, according to police.

At the Pat Myers Used Car lot on East Hill, thieves took a voltage regulator from one car and an alternator from another.

Land Bank Reduces Loan Rate

N. H. Pratt, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Colorado City, said Wednesday the Federal Land Bank of Houston will reduce the interest billing rate on variable rate loans to 7 1/2%.

"This reduction will be effective on installments maturing on or after June 1, 1971, and affects more than $110 million in variable rate loans to over 3200 Texas farmers and ranchers," Pratt said.

The variable rate loan, which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July 1969, lets the interest rate "float" over the variations in the money market. This is the second time since last Jan. 1 that the billing rate has been reduced and is the third such reduction in the last 12 months.

Sadler doesn't hesitate that he figured the budget estimate close with a sharp, sharp pencil.

He doesn't hide the fact, either that $39,592.80 will keep an economy lid on all capital improvements.

But the budget will be financed by the same $1.60 tax rate per $100 property valuation (based on 45 per cent of market value), which should be good news to taxpayers.

City Council voted approval of the new budget Monday night. There were no complications before the vote, because councilmen had been in study meetings with the city manager earlier to chart the budget.

Also, Sadler earlier had revealed he was working toward a balanced budget--budget that would contain all expenditures within the amount of income estimated without a tax increase.

The $39,592.80 for capital improvements is the amount of cash estimated that will be left over in the general fund after operating expenses are paid.

Colorado City motorists now have radar checking their speed.

A short-range radar unit has been installed in one city police car.

It was put to work immediately and will be used increasingly as a deterrent to auto speeding.

The unit was obtained after a second long-range radar unit was installed on local Texas Highway Patrol cars.

Bought by the city after removal from the highway patrol car, the short-range unit will be efficient for city police use.

Chamber of Commerce wants to know if Colorado City wants new, modern apartments to lease.

It is a feasibility study being conducted by the Chamber's industrial committee, chairmaned by Charles Root.

Community leaders for years have emphasized the need for more rental units in Colorado City. This need has been pointed up repeatedly when the industrial committee contacted industries surveying West Texas for plant locations.

Recent conferences with Federal Housing Administration officials in Lubbock has led to the feasibility study to determine if new apartment units here would be in demand.

Here is what the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee wants to determine:

Reily To Review

Series Program Thursday

Colorado City's cultural series Thursday will spotlight the life of a queen whose descendants have ruled England for the last 400 years.

It will come with a book review of, "Mary, Queen of Scots," by Bob Reily, who has gain popularity as a reviewer in earlier program of the Chamber of Commerce sponsored series.

The Thursday review will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Mitchell County library and will be followed by a refreshment period.

Reily, a busy community leader in addition to his work as an insurance agent, in previous cultural series programs reviewed "Nicholas and Alexander" and "Shadow of Blooming Grove."

The "Mary, Queen of Scots" review will delve into the 16th century life of Mary Stuart, who has been neglected by history.

ians partly, at least, because of her more famous cousin and contemporary, Queen Elizabeth of England.

Mary was queen of France for more than a year, and ruled Scotland as queen for more than six years. However, her adult life was a continuous effort to obtain recognition from Queen Elizabeth as her successor to the English throne.

Although Mary never gained this recognition and, instead, was executed by her queen cousin, every king and queen of England since 1603--including the current Queen Elizabeth--has been a direct descendant of Mary Stuart.

Reily's review will point up the facts of this conflict and attempt to relate events from Mary Stuart's side instead of from the usual approach of Elizabeth's more famous life.

The cultural series is a project of the Chamber's cultural committee chairmaned by Miss Gladys Miller. Like all of the program, Thursday's will be free with public invited.

reviewer.

Center Election

Vote At Thursday Meeting

An advisory council for Wallace Neighborhood Center will be elected Thursday.

The election will be at a meeting of all interested citizens, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the center on Front Street. Persons participating in the meeting will be invited to nominate candidates for the council from the floor. However, a six-member committee also will present a list of nominees.

Members of the committee are Earnest Biggers, Mrs. Ula Leonard, Mrs. Maebl Smith, Mrs. Beulah Perry, Mrs. A. Lene Lee and Mrs. Dorothy Fowler.

To be elected to the council are 6 youths and 7 youths representing, blacks, browns and whites within the county.

Also on the council will be two members of Community Action Program board, one CAP staff member and a representative of Mrs. Hattie Wallace Branch, whose gift and interest made the center possible.

The council, which will set policies for Wallace Neighborhood Center and develop the center's programs, will be responsible to the Community Action board.

Those contacting the Chamber in regard to the apartments will not be obligating themselves in any manner, Pickens emphasized.

"This is only a study to obtain information concerning the possibility and potential of building new apartment units within our community and the information gained from this survey will be only in considering the feasibility of such a project."

"These citizens are asked to phone or contact the Chamber of Commerce office," said Seton Pickens, executive vice president of the Chamber.

Devorce, Bracy Top Contenders

Colorado High's track team, with one of its state champions ailing, buses to Snyder Saturday for the 1971 District 3-AAA meet.

Coach Dell Riley's Wolf team isn't expected to be a contender for the title.

Dunbar, Sweetwater and Brownfield are the schools more likely to be near the top after all points are counted.

But the Wolves will be contending for No. 1 in at least 4 events and can be threats in more.

Big Carl Devorce, of course, is counted for wins in the shot put and discus. And, if he puts his muscle to the task, may set records in one or both.

He was state champ in the shot last year and has the third best toss among all Texas high schoolers this year with 61 feet 10 1/4 inches.

Devorce's best discus throw is 157 feet 9 inches, best in this area of the state, but doesn't rate the top 10 across the state. However, just as in the shot, his mark is better than anybody's in District 3-AAA.

The question mark is the other state champ, Speeding Stan Bracy.

Stan, who won the Texas AAA 220 last year and lost the 100 only by a breath, started with a fast, winning pace this season. His 9.7 and 21.9 times are still the fastest in the area Abilene calls Big Country.

But he hasn't run since the Lone Wolf Relays here last month. A muscle tear in the left leg has kept him a spectator every weekend.

"He's working out this week and will run Saturday," said Coach Riley. "But he hasn't been off the blocks for a long time.

Stan says he will be okay Saturday. If his leg is as good as his desire, then he will be a title contender in both sprints despite the injury layoff.

Another likely point-maker for Colorado is Jim Wilkerson, the honor student athlete, who has run the 120-yard high hurdles in 15 seconds flat.

Coach Riley believes he is capable of lowering his time to about 14.8. However, Snyder has a hurdler who has a 14.4 to his credit.

Ruth COFFEY'S CONVERSATION CORNER

TROUBLES other people have are never in the class with the ones you have yourself. Everybody knows that.

Still, the perennial popularity of such columns as Dear Abby, Anne Landers, and Dr. Joyce Brothers definitely prove the old "misery loves company" bit. At least nearly everybody loves reading about other people's miseries.

Other people's troubles sometimes sound strangely familiar when you see them in print. Only of course they are not quite as bad as the ones you have yourself. You know that.

Have toyed for years with the idea of turning this column into a thing of good free advice and counsel to the confused. It sounds simple enough.

But advice is like the dose of castor oil old-fashioned parents used to mix up for helpless little children. It's one heck of a lot easier to give than to take.

IF THE DAY ever comes when Conversation Corner turns into Dear Ruthie chances are that most of the space will be taken up with what NOT to do. That's a very negative approach but would be more practical and might certainly come more naturally.

Nearly everybody can tell people what not to do. Telling them what TO do about problems is usually a case of the blind leading the blind.

DO NOT'S being saved up for a rainy day (ha!) might or might not help readers who need help in one way or another. They would, however, be as numerous as the children of the King of Siam.

Do not wait until just before deadline to work on the income tax. Unless you like to sit up nights and eat peanut butter sandwiches for dinner.

Do not get the funny idea that the Internal Revenue Service will just go away if you pretend or "play like" April 15 is not coming around on time. It always does show up.

Do not go gathering Easter eggs when you should be hunting check stubs.

Do not believe that the Easter Bunny or the Tooth Fairy or Santa Claus is going to add and subtract for you while you watch TV movies or read the Time Magazine story on Lt. Calley.

Do not watch the weight if you like chocolate candy. But do not forget to watch the wait when you have business with Uncle Sam.

DO NOT mail any angry letters you write. Write 'em and enjoy 'em if you must, then tear 'em to pieces. Think of the stamps you'll save, what with postage going up on the hour.

Do not decide you plain don't like somebody for no reason. There's always such a good chance you can and will change your mind and that's embarrassing even if somewhat gratifying.

DO NOT if you are a woman ever predict what the man in your life will or will not do.

Do not if you are a man dare to predict what a woman will or will not do.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harley Mayberry and children, Caven, Laura K and Sharon Leigh, of Odessa; Mrs. Bonnie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Brown and Wendy; also, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore of Austin.

Do not, man or woman, ever predict out loud what any teenager kin to you will or will not do under any set of circumstances. Only safe thing to predict about the young is that they are and will continue to be unpredictable.

DO NOT visit the sick and sit there telling all your own ailments. Do not visit the hale and hearty and relate your symptoms, either.

Do not talk about your in-laws. Given time and consideration they may prove to be among the best friends you ever knew.

Do not brag about your grandkids unless you are game to equal time to hearing antics and accomplishments of other people's grandkids, too.

Do not criticize other people behind their backs. Be a strong character and do it to their faces if criticize you must and have got any guts.

Do not deliberately lie or deliberately repeat a lie. You might meet yourself coming back and then what?

Do not hate. To hate is to destroy yourself and you could develop stomach ulcers. You need to save all that internal agony for the Internal Revenue season, friends!

Lampshade Making

Mrs. Janet Moore, Mitchell County Home Demonstration agent here, last Friday demonstrated the art of recovering or making lampshades in a leaders' training workshop in TESCO Reddy Room. Looking on as Mrs. Moore puts finishing touches to a shade is Mrs. Lindley Webb, left, member of Buford HD Club, and Mrs. Cullen Payne, Baumann Club representative.

HD Women Learn Lampshade Making

Eight home demonstration women representing four Mitchell County HD clubs attended a leader training workshop concerning the making of lampshades Friday in Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Baumann Club of Loraine had the largest group, represented by Mrs. Clara Butler, Mrs. Gladys Payne and Mrs. Lynn Compton.

Mrs. Pat Adams and Mrs. Lindley Webb represented Buford Club; Mrs. P. H. Pace and Mrs. Earl Hunter, Fairview Club.

North Loraine representative was Mrs. Roy Wells.

Mrs. Janet Moore, county HD agent, conducted the workshop presenting hints for best uses of lamps, repairing and making of lampshades.

The agent told the group what to look for in buying a reading or work lamp—correct height, spread and depth of shade, light-colored lining, reflection to soften light, type of bulb and well made switches.

"Other kinds of lamps may be used in a room to serve other purposes, such as a general illumination, decorative accent and the like," she explained, "but the reading lamp can serve these purposes also."

In requirements of good lighting the club representatives, who will present the same program to their individual clubs, heard Mrs. Moore advise enough light, light in enough places and right places and freedom from glare.

Visit Hendersons

Visiting recently in home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Henderson were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Max Richards and Melinda of Snyder.

"Use your lamps wisely," the instructor cautioned.

"Place lamps so that the light comes over the shoulder and on the task, close to reading or work."

Correction position for a lamp depends on the person who uses the lamp—his height, size, whether he is right or left handed, the way he sits.

Ranne In NTSU Concert

WESTBROOK—Eddie Ranne of Westbrook participated in spring concert of North Texas State University School of Music at Denton.

Ranne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ranne, is a member and tenor soloist of Chapel Choir.

The choir, directed by Grant Williams, presented "Gloria" and "Inscriptions from the Canticum". Also on the program were University Symphony Orchestra and the Madrigal Singers.

Ranne is a junior voice major at North Texas.

Couple Return

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Henderson have returned from the Texas valley where they visited points of interest including Harlingen, Brownsville and Padre Island.

Position also depends on furniture, arrangement of furniture, color and texture of room furnishings, she continued.

Instructing steps in making a lampshade, Mrs. Moore discussed fabric lampshades, steps in covering in fabric and cardboard.

Putmans Have Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Putman of Roscoe, former Westbrook residents, announce the birth of a daughter, Lisa Michelle, born April 2 in Big Spring.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Doss of Westbrook.

Putman is Nolan and Mitchell Counties representative for Farm Bureau working through Mitchell County Farm Bureau office here.

EXAMPLE FOR ALL

Deserving of special recognition are those eleven adults who this Thursday night receive certificates for completing our school system's Adult Basic Education program.

Most of us weren't too industrious with books and studies when we were in school. And, as we move along in years, we know it would require extraordinary effort and desire to go back and resume classroom studies.

These special 11—Reuben Alvarez, Mrs. Dee Bowen, Mrs. Paul Cooley, Mrs. J. R. Erwin, Mrs. Etta Jones, Mrs. Bobbie Lewis, Mrs. Glen Logsdon, Mrs. Jose Orona, Mrs. Hilton Parsons, Mrs. Willard Thurman and Mrs. Herman Upshaw—had the necessary desire, made the effort and succeeded.

They did it with all the added responsibilities of their adult lives. And our community will be richer because of their effort and the example they have provided for all of us... young or old.
