Answerline

Q. How much money is the city finance officer paid, and exactly what are his or her job duties?

A. City Finance Officer Connie Ponko is responsible for all city finances, including supervision of the front office at City Hall, water and sewer billings, processing the payroll, draft budget preparation, all accounting aspects and fund balances, bond and debt payments and other related matters. She also works as City Manager Steve Shutt's assistant "as necessary on specific projects," Shutt said. He said anyone who wants to learn her salary should submit a federal public information document to his office.

Hospital construction bids sought

Mitchell County Hospital Board members were in a jovial mood, laughing and joking with one another, after Tuesday night's 80 minute meeting, undoubtedly because they had finally just set the wheels rolling to build a new county hospital.

After more than a year of intense consideration and planning and an vigorous bond election, it came down to setting minimum qualifications for bidders, approving the final design of the complex and drafting a schedule for advertising and accepting a construction bid.

Here are the qualifications and plans:

-- Bidders must have been in business for at least five years, have built at least 10 projects that required Texas Department of Health licensing, have done at least $25 million a year in business for each of the past three years and have the ability to be 100 percent bonded.

-- Bids will be advertised for on Dec. 27 and Jan. 10 and received by Jan. 25, after which the hospital board will award a bid to a general contractor for construction to begin around mid February.

The board heard details of the proposed final plan Tuesday night from architect Bob Cox of Austin, Project Manager Bob Wallace of Lockhart, mechanical engineer Ray Price of Lubbock, civil engineer Stanley Morris of Sweetwater and structural engineer Thomas Kam of Austin.

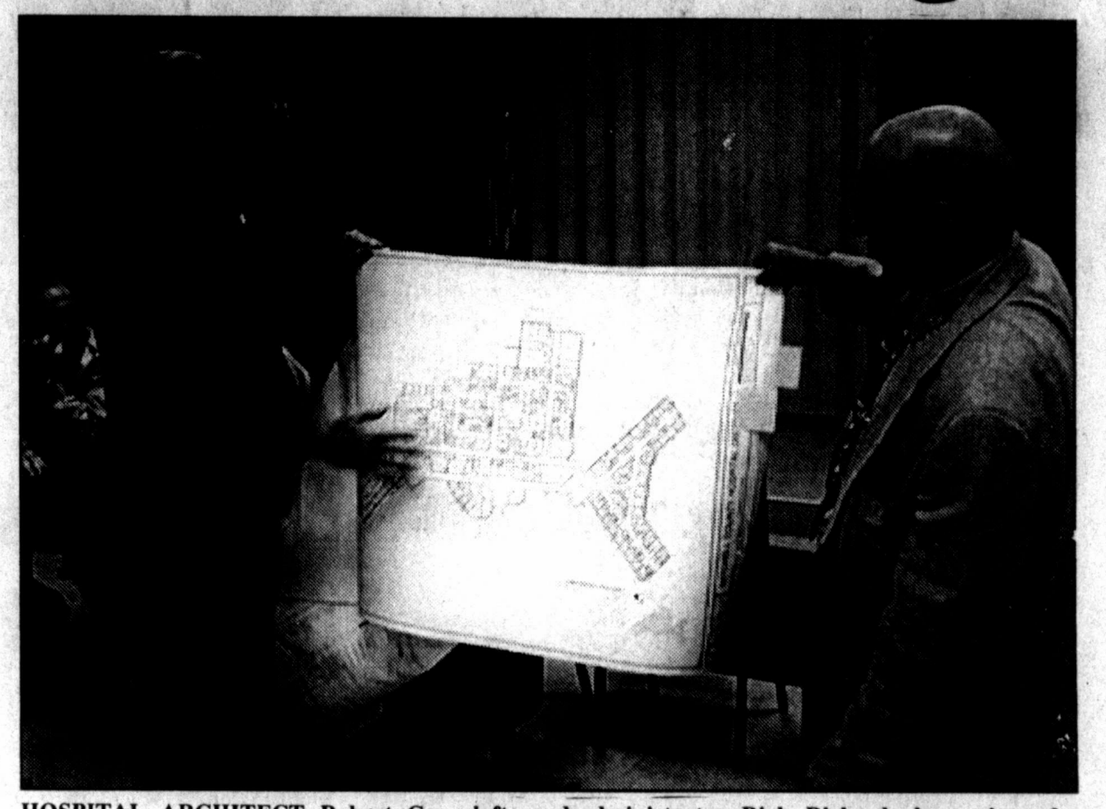

Morris said his four wheel drive vehicle had highcentered at the project site east of the Wallace-Ware Units earlier in the day and that he would ask Commissioner Wendy Inman to send a tractor to extricate it Wednesday morning.

"So we have a time line here that seems pretty realistic?" Board President Kent Boyd asked Wallace.

"I think so," Wallace said.

He added that the work

Festival of Trees list growing for Dec. 10

Nine participants have joined the seven who commited last week to decorating Christmas trees for the Chamber of Commerce's Sunday, Dec. 10, "Festival of Trees."

"If you and your group or organization would like to participate in this joyous celebration, please call the Chamber at 728 3403," said Chamber Manager Leigh Ann Erwin Tuesday.

"Come join us in starting a new family tradition."

Burger King, Calvary Baptist Church, the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, the Calvary to Canada Friends and Family group, Colorado City Apartments, Colorado Floral, C-City Seniors Apartments, the Maddox Family and Stacie's Creations are the new participants in the 1 to 5 p.m. Dec. 10 event in the Railhead Trade Days Building downtown.

They joined Kelley Elementary School, the Business & Professional Women, the First Presbyterian Church, Cecilia Scott, Cub Scout Troop No. 2, The Rainstick and the American Cancer Society.

The building lights will be turned off at one point for all the Christmas tree lights to be turned on.

Local musicians will perform, Santa Claus will meet children and have his photo taken with them, and hot chocolate and cookies will be provided at the end of a tour of the trees, which will be decorated in various themes.

Loraine School Board looking for transfers ruling by Dec. 11

LORAINE -- Whatever the outcome is of the hotly debated Loraine-Colorado City school transfers issue, Supt. David Lewein will be satisfied because he feels that the Texas Education Agency in Austin has made a more thorough investigation than it did last year.

He has been told that the TEA might issue a ruling before the next Loraine School Board meeting on Dec. 11.

Investigators Sylvia Gonzales and Don Enos spent most of the afternoon of Monday, Nov. 20, at the school, talking with teachers and reviewing programs, curricula and lesson plans.

Initially having been told the LISD might have a ruling by Thanksgiving, Supt. Lewein said he was afterwards given to understand that there was a possibility the decision might come down by Dec. 11.

"They are very concerned about the racial imbalance of Colorado City in regards to the white students," he said.

Lewein referred to what he said is an increase by more than the TEA-allowed one percent in the numbers of white students, caused by transfers, in the CISD's racial balance.

Colorado City Supt. Buddy Compton has told his school board that he provided more information about the transfers of about 50 Loraine students to C-City this time, and he still expects the TEA to rule favorably for the CISD, which it did last year after a similar complaint by Lewein.

Last year's TEA ruling held that the transfers had been justified by circumstances including the employment of both parents by the CISD and other factors.

Large groups of Loraine area parents whose children go to school in C-City have attended the Loraine board's October and November meetings, making the point that the students should be able to go to the district of their choice.

"I think they did a thorough job in investigating the complaint the second time, and I'm very well satisfied," Le-

TDCJ officers' longevity noted

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice has been battling a high statewide staff turnover rate, but a number of its officers in Colorado City and the Big Spring, San Angelo and Sweetwater work camps have completed at least five years with the department.

Senior Warden Tom O'Reilly presented service awards to 179 C-City based officers in a 9 a.m. Tuesday ceremony in the Wallace Unit.

Fourteen were recognized for 10 years' work, one was honored for 15 years and one for 25.

"Retention is a big thing with TDCJ, and we want to know that we appreciate you staying," Warden O'Reilly said.

"If you're working on this farm, we care about you, and we want you to know we do."

The visitation room ceremony began humorously with seven inmates, five singing and one each on piano and guitar, performing a song called "Grandma's Killer Fruitcake."

The chorus began, "Harder than the bottom of an old cold bucket, heavier than a sermon by Preacher Luckett, bad enough to give the whole state of Kentucky a great big belly-ache!"

One acted out a telephone call in which he said, "No, Grandma, please don't send anymore!"

Field Sgt. Ted Caufield of the San Angelo Work Camp was the senior employee, receiving a 25 year plaque for 18 years with the TDCJ and seven with the highway department.

Jane Webb, who works in inmates' records at the Wallace Unit, was recognized for 15 years.

Ten year certificates in polished, fitted wooden frames went to Correctional Officers Edgar Clary, Jack Starr and Domingo Molina, Parole Officer Nancy High and Field Lt. Mark Carter, all of the Wallace Unit, and Lt. Glenn Sullivan and Maintenance Supervisor Charles Henderson of the Ware Unit.

Other 10 year awards were given by Warden O'Reilly and Assistant Warden Eddie Wheeler of the Wallace Unit to San Angelo Work Camp Sgt. Donald Hannon and CO's Ronnie Hill, Stephen Steen and William Foree and Sweetwater Work Camp Sgt. Freddy Morales and CO's Charlie Murdoch and Billy Ransberger.

Framed five year certificates went to, from various units and work camps, Lts. Rick Mayfield, Carson Bennett, Guy Payne, Stephen Bates, Jason Morris, Tyal Rule and Joseph Chimielewski and Sgts. Mark Cornutt, Jeffery Penrod, Mitzie Cribbs, Bryan Shook, Juan Rivera, Delores Hernandez, Ruben Ruiz, Damon Minnix, Gerald Parnell, Charles Tidwell, Larry Alvarado, Richard Burgess, Jody Smith, James Wheeler, Shawn Rees and Cory Morris.

(Editor's note: the complete list of awards will be published in next week's Record.)

PRISON LINE CREWS, or inmates who have not earned trustee status, were clearing land across Rogers Road from the Wallace and Ware Units Tuesday, watched over by several field officers on horseback.

local news

MENTORS in the Mitchell County program to provide positive role models to elementary and middle school students convened at Garcia's Restaurant Tuesday to report on their work. Several said the students look forward to their visits.

Mentoring program getting positive remarks from mentors

No positive attention that an adult gives to a child is wasted.

That seemed to be the message of informal reports Tuesday from "mentors" in the county sexual abstinence education program.

About 20 people ate lunch at Garcia's Restaurant and discussed their experiences visiting students at the city's two elementary schools and middle schools and sometimes taking them to sports contests and other activities.

Seventy adults, many of them leading citizens, are involved in the program, which is operated separately from the sex abstinence education program that is administered by the County Board of Economic Development.

Banker Dwayne Harris spends 30 to 40 minutes a week with a first grader, and he often finds himself in the middle of several children, all of whom want his attention.

BOED Director Windi Fuller said she intends to continue her relationship with her student until the girl graduates from high school.

The program began in August 1999 after the sex abstinence education program, funded by the state for $104,000 a year, was inaugurated in February that year.

Some of the mentors have now kept working with their students from the fifth grade into middle school.

"I'm hoping they're going to the nursing home to see me," quipped Rosanne Jameson.

"Mine just lacks attention," said Jan Lemons.

Kelley Elementary School Principal Kitten Arthur explained that the students are chosen by administrators who do not necessarily see anything wrong with the children other than that they could benefit from such a relationship.

A boy who lives with his grandmother was reported to be "happier and calmer" just before visits from his mentor, Blaine Lemons, who took him to some football games this fall.

"Some parents are very reticent about having an outsider come in," Ms. Arthur said, noting that one parent took her child out of the program after a few weeks.

Prison chaplain Ed Riley said it is especially beneficial to boys who have no positive male role models at home.

"Encouraging these young boys and letting them learn how to be a man -- you're going to save the State of Texas a whole lot of money," he said.

Police investigating possible sexual assault

Police are investigating a situation in which a 20 year old man is suspected of having a sexual relationship with a 14 year old girl whose parent knew about it.

"On Wednesday, Nov. 22, the police department and Child Protective Services began an investigation of a 20 year old male and a 14 year old female who have been cohabiting with the knowledge and consent of the 14 year old's parent," Chief of Police Pat Taylor said Tuesday.

"Several factors are at issue, including sexual assault, sexual performance by a child and prostitution and compelling prostitution," Chief Taylor said.

Led by Investigator Charles Rice and Officer Pete Torres, the investigation continues.

Officer Rice took a transient into custody last Thursday at 3:35 p.m. who was wanted in Abilene for revocation of probation and possession of a controlled substance.

Raymond Norris, 40, of Abilene was apprehended under the Hickory Street and Interstate 20 overpass.

An Alco Department Store customer lost a checkbook at the store last Wednesday, and someone found it and forged and cashed a $107 check at the store.

Officer Rice said the incident was reported at 11:50 a.m.

Elidoro Reyes of Westbrook told Officer Tommy Dill at 5:48 p.m. Saturday that he had given a woman whom he did not know a ride to Sweetwater who apparently stole two checkbooks from his pickup.

Sheriff Toombs wins approval of expenditures from fund

Mitchell County commissioners Tuesday approved Sheriff Patrick Toombs' 2001 budget for expenditures from his drug profits forfeiture account.

Having received $500,000 from $9.9 million in cash that state narcotics agents seized from a "drug truck" here almost two years ago, Sheriff Toombs proposed spending $85,000 in the coming year.

He was authorized to spend $10,000 for law enforcement supplies, $32,000 for equipment in vehicles, $5,000 for investigations, $30,000 for special investigations salary supplements, $3,000 for education and $5,000 for office equipment.

County Judge Ray Mayo said after the 9 a.m. called meeting, which lasted 30 minutes with Pct. 3 Commissioner Wendy Inman absent, that interest earnings will pay for most of the sheriff's expenditures.

The court last summer budgeted $22,000 for a new sheriff's car, and Sheriff Toombs was authorized Tuesday to buy a four wheel drive vehicle and pay the difference from the forfeiture account.

Other business included an update, requested by the Texas Natural Resources Conservation Commission, of the county's septic tank regulations.

Judge Mayo said the rules were reworded but not substantially changed.

The county still requires a resident who wants to install a septic tank to file an application in the county clerk's office and pay a $125 fee.

Then state inspector George Franklin of Big Spring charges $100 to inspect it.

Commissioners voted to allow retired county employees, at their own expense, to take part in a health insurance coverage program offered by the Texas Association of Counties.

A $5,665 budget amendment was approved to accept new funding for the county's sexual abstinence education program from the state comptroller's office in Austin.

wein said Monday.

"Whatever they come up with will be the end result," he said, reiterating his promise not to file a third complaint next year if the LISD does not prevail this time.

"I'm glad they took the time to visit our school and ask questions about our schedules, programs and lesson plans.

"They didn't mention anything that we lacked, as far as I could gather."

He said Ms. Gonzales and Enos will submit their findings to the TEA Legal Department, which will make a final ruling.

Welfare board seeks gift givers

The Mitchell County Child Welfare Board will be having their annual Christmas tree gift giving at all four county banks.

The trees will be displayed with stars designating the type of gift needed for the children ages infant thru high school.

The stars can be picked from the trees anytime from November 20-December 15.

New warden arrives at Ware Transfer Unit

Hugh Bryan joined the Texas Department of Criminal Justice in 1986 because he believed it was the best penal system in America, and his 14 years in the system have now led to the achievement of his ultimate ambition -- appointment as assistant warden in charge of the Dick Ware Transfer Unit in Colorado City.

"It's been a very exciting, rewarding career," he said in a Tuesday telephone interview from the Jordan Unit at Pampa, northeast of Amarillo in the Panhandle.

"I've traveled all over the state in various jobs these last 14 years."

Bryan has accepted a promotion from major to move here with his wife Nora, and he is impressed that the 80 John Wallace and Ware Units have had the top rated medical clinics and kitchens in the state the past two years.

He will, in effect, replace Assistant Warden Neal Webb, who began his new assignment as assistant warden of the Beto I Unit at Palestine on Monday.

Assistant Warden Eddie Wheeler has taken Warden Webb's place at the Wallace Unit, and Warden Bryan will assume Warden Wheeler's duties at the Ware Unit, effective Dec. 1.

Warden Bryan said he expected to be in C-City on Wednesday, Nov. 29, to visit the units west of town and begin looking for a home.

"It's definitely something I have worked for for a long time," he said. "I'm excited about it, and my wife is, also."

Bryan grew up at Spearman, in the Panhandle, and graduated from Tarleton State University at Stephenville in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in agricultural education.

He was an Army officer for 8 1/2 years, serving as a helicopter pilot and maintenance specialist in Korea and at Fts. Eustis in Virginia, Rucker in Alabama, Lewis in Washington and Walters and Hood in Texas.

He joined the TDCJ as a correctional officer 1 at the Ferguson Unit in Midway, in East Texas, where he worked for three years until serving 4 1/2 years in community education and officer training in Huntsville.

He moved to the Ft. Stockton Transfer Unit as a lieutenant and was promoted to captain there at the Lynaugh Unit.

Warden Bryan was promoted to major at the Jordan Unit in December last year.

He and Mrs. Bryan are members of the Disciples of Christ and plan to join the First Christian Church in C-City, he said.

They have three children, Leslie, a teacher and coach in Houston, Laura, a student at Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches, and Michael, who is finishing his degree at Tulane University in New Orleans, La., after playing tight end for the Green Wave football team for the past four years.

Warden Bryan said he considers the TDCJ to be the best penal system in the United States. "or I wouldn't have been working here all these years."

Ten reasons to enroll your child

If you're like many parents, you have a whole list of reasons why you haven't begun saving for your children's college education. While you're puttint it off, the cost of a college education is growing even faster than your kids are.

Since 1996 tuition and required fees at Texas public colleges and universities have increased 69 percent. By the time today's newborns are ready for college, those costs are expected to quadruple.

The Texas Tomorrow Fund can help you avoid soaring college costs by prepaying tuition and required fees at today's prices. When your child is ready for college, the State of Texas guarantees to cover the cost.

Enrollment in the Texas Tomorrow Fund is open now through May 25, 2001. Here is my list of 10 reasons why you shouldn't let another enrollment period go by without signing your child up:

#10 Success. The Texas Tomorrow Fund is growing steadily, with about 100,000 children signed up. Six thousand students are already attending college using prepaid tuition funds.

#9 Convenience. Monthlyinstallment payments can be made using payment coupons, automatic payroll deductions or electronic bank drafts.

#8 Tuition and required fees. The Texas Tomorrow Fund covers college tuition and all mandatory fees.

#7 Refunds. If your child chooses not to attend college or receives a scholarship, you can get your money back. Or better yet, transfer the funds to a sibling.

#6 Flexibility. The Texas Tomorrow Fund pays full tuition and required fees at any public university or community college in Texas. Tuition benefits can even be transferred to an out-of-state university. You can also change your prepayment program if your child's needs or your financial situation changes.

#5 Affordability. The earlier you enroll your child, the more affordable it is. If you enroll your child as a newborn, payments for one year of community college can be as low as $18 per month until your child graduates from high school. A four-year public college plan for today's newborn can be paid for in monthly installments of $129 until your child graduates from high school. There are other payment options to suit your family's needs, including a lump-sum payment option, an annual payment option, a five-year payment plan or a ten-year payment plan.

#4 Security and peace of mind. Main Street Texans don't have to worry about Wall Street volatility. The State of Texas guarantees that your child's tuition and fees will be paid, no matter how much costs increase.

#3 Soaring college costs. If current cost trends continue, by the time today's kindergartner is ready for college, four years of tuition and mandatory fees at a Texas public university are expected to cost $39,338. If your child is a newborn, you can expect to pay $62,425 if he or she is not enrolled in the Texas Tomorrow Fund.

#2 Savings. By enrolling in the Texas Tomorrow Fund, you lock in tomorrow's tuition and fees at today's prices.

#1 Nothing is more important than education. Stop putting it off. Enroll your child in the Texas Tomorrow Fund now.

The Texas Tomorrow Fund gives families a convenient, affordable way to ensure that their children and grandchildren get the college education they will need for the high-skill, high-paying jobs in Texas' future.

For an application or more information about the Texas Tomorrow Fund, visit the web site at www.texastomorrowfund.org or call 1-800-445-GRAD (4723) today.

Bringing Home the Bucks

Hunting bolsters the Texas economy by about $3 billion annually. This year, Texas Parks and Wildlife biologists estimate a white-tailed deer population of more than four million, and deer harvests in the top counties should be comparable to those reported in 1999.

Traffic accident on I-20

A 51 year old Big Spring woman was injured in a 3:35 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 23, traffic accident on a rain slickened Interstate 20 east of Loraine, 10 miles east of Colorado City.

Department of Public Safety Trooper Jeremy Usener said Mary D. Hudgins was riding in the right front seat of a 1997 Geo Metro car when it skidded into the center median and hit a light pole.

She was extricated from the car with a Jaws of Life hydraulic device by members of the C-City and Loraine Fire Departments.

Suffering a possible fracture of her right hip, Ms. Hudgins was taken to the county hospital by Mitchell County EMS and later transferred to Scenic Mountain Medical Center in Big Spring.

Neither her husband, 50 year old Wesley M. Hudgins, who was driving, nor her 14 year daughter Courtney was hurt.

Trooper Usener said the eastbound car hydroplaned, skidded sideways into the pole, bounced off it and came to rest in the westbound lanes of the highway.

Hydroplaning occurs when a vehicle's tires hit water and lose contact with the road.

HOSPITAL

should take about 11 months and the hospital, physician's clinic, in-patient wing and other features should be operational by the end of 2001 or in early 2002.

"We have a lot of interest in this project," he said.

"This is a big project. It's complicated."

Cox said the most important aspect of the bidding process is to supply contractors with complete information, and he expects to work closely with companies from Dallas, Austin, San Antonio, Houston and throughout West Texas.

"Usually, about every two weeks I get an invitation to go to lunch with someone who is interested in the project," he said.

Cox said only three to four "freestanding" new hospitals are built each year in Texas, so the Mitchell County job is highly desirable.

He said the basic cost was projected at $7.3 million in August, with a $7.35 million bond issue having been approved in June to finance it, but the current plan calls for only $7,112,000.

Morris told the full board that he has surveyed the 22 acre site and will be primarily concerned with "where the water goes," ensuring that the complex will not be flooded even in the event of storms that do not come more than once every 25 years or even once in a century.

Kam said it has been decided to use a concrete slab, rather than concrete pillars, for the foundation and that the base structure will be made of steel.

He said there will be 500 feet between the clinic and in-patient building on opposite sides of the complex and "no grade," or difference in elevation, between them because patients will be moved from one to the other.

In answer to a question from board member Lee Roy Miller Jr., Kam said the sand at the site is no more than 18 to 30 inches deep, where it starts becoming mixed with various types of clay.

"There is no rock on this site," he said.

Price outlined plans to air condition, heat and ventilate the building, saying pumps and motors on the roof will be variable speed to save electricity.

He said it is crucial to send bad air from hydrotherapy and toilet areas out of the building.

Cox said the double layered windows with insulated glazing are more expensive than the usual type, but they will more than pay for themselves by saving on utility expenses.

Asked if the board will have any influence on what sub contractors are used, the architect said he and Wallace will check the references of proposed sub contractors and ask the contractor to replace them if they appear questionable.

He said a well will be drilled on the site for landscaping purposes, but no specific landscaping plans have been made.

Other business included Dr. Dee Roach's report that students from the Texas Tech University Applied Health Sciences Center in Lubbock and the Hendrick School of Nursing in Abilene have been doing clinical training at Family Medical Associates.

"We do believe that education is a very critical part of what we do here," he said.

The board recredentialed members of the medical staff and allied health professionals and approved Christmas bonuses for district employees.

For full time workers, they are $200 for those who have been here for at least 12 months, $150 for nine months, $100 for six months and $50 for three months.

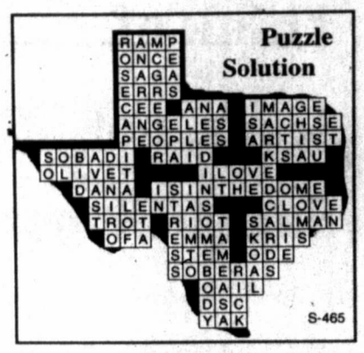

They are $100 for part time employees who have been here for 12 months, $75 for nine months, $50 for six months and $25 for three months.

Rickard said the bonuses will cost about $40,000.

The board agreed to meet a week early in December because of the Christmas season, at 6 p.m. Dec. 19, when there is expected to little or no business concerning the hospital project.

The annual Home Health Agency review was approved.

Think of Jesus, not Santa Claus

By Bob Campbell

We often hear that "Jesus is the reason for the season," but do we really think about it other than superficially?

Santa Claus is a more popular symbol of Christmas, but his much less complicated image is part of the superficiality that bums out so many people when all the presents have been opened.

Christians are often taught that Christmas should not be a religious holiday because no one knows when Jesus Christ was born and it is His death, burial and resurrection that we should celebrate, not His birth.

As you may know, Dec. 25 was originally a pagan holiday, evolving into Christmas as civilization became more enlightened.

We don't know when Jesus was born, but it was more likely sometime in the fall.

I don't think His birth should have the significance of the resurrection, but I hate to see Christians give up without a fight, so to speak, on Christmas.

Considering that we don't celebrate Jesus' birth at all if we don't do it on Christmas, why not observe it then on a happy, appreciative level like the Wise Men who understood that God had done the great thing He had promised for centuries in Scripture -- make salvation available not just to the Jews but to everybody?

That would be better than just handing it over to Santa Claus and the toy manufacturers.

We're told in detail about His birth in the Bible, so I believe it does have religious significance.

We will never know when He was born, so Dec. 25 is as good a date as any, falling at the end of the year and being a good time to be thankful for what we have and have been able to accomplish.

It should also be a time for rejuvenation for the work of the New Year.

We are commanded to work, and we do much better when we're spiritually strong, confident that Jesus Christ Himself is with us.

Certainly, He is a historical figure, but more importantly, He lives and works in the here and now.

Jesus is at work 24-seven to bring the lost sheep home.

He is spiritually gentle, but He is also a personage of tremendous power.

One of the starkest contrasts between the earthly and heavenly realms is in the glum demeanor of most human beings and the ecstacy of the Savior, saints and angels who live in the presence of God.

They all must go around with big smiles on their faces and a divine light in their eyes.

We're always hearing about magic in one form or another, but the only true magic is in the hands of Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit, who have been commissioned by God to complete His work.

Any other type is a perversion and a pale imitation of the divine power to transform anything as easily as you lift your hand.

That's why Satanism is so evil and repugnant -- a delusion of the rankest sort.

Here we are again. Time for the annual report on seasonal affective disorder (SAD).

I presume everyone knows that seasonal affective disorder is caused by shorter days, longer nights, and an overabundance of the hormone, melatonin. For years I didn't know what caused it, but I was sure I probably had it.

Then, I started reading the newspaper and learned there are several reports each winter about the debilitating effects of seasonal affective disorder. I become more depressed every time I read one of these.

A recent story from New York Times Syndicate quotes a staff member of the Canadian Mental Health Association as saying it took almost nine years before he was diagnosed with SAD. He remembers he could "go like (expletive deleted), get anything done" over the summer but "over the wintertimes I couldn't keep up that pace. It progressed downhill every year," he says.

That's me. I've been progressing downhill for at least 20 years. It's nice to know what's causing it.

The New York Times story says seasonal affective disorder was first noted before 1845 but wasn't officially recognized as a psychiatric diagnosis until the 1980's. There's no question a lot of folks were going downhill all of those years.

How does one know if they have seasonal affective disorder? A 1998 story from Knight Ridder/Tribune news service quotes one psychologist as saying, "It can be very dramatic -- you can't think clearly at all. One person described it as feeling like his brain was encased in cold, 40-weight motor oil."

This patient was obviously a mechanic. How else would he know how a person's brain feels in 40-weight motor oil, as opposed to 30-weight or transmission fluid, for example?

The good news about SAD is that it can be treated with light therapy. The bad news is you have to buy some lights.

Those of us who get depressed at the price of lights can get some relief with a few common sense measures. Psychologists suggest we sit by a window at work or take a walk during the lunch hour.

People who work in their basement or some type of closet, as I do, might try sitting closer to their computer screen to soak up as much light as possible. News reporters can turn their cameras around and shoot the flash back into their faces occasionally.

Some do this several times a day, anyway. No one will notice you are doing it on purpose.

Folks who service cars and trucks should be careful to keep their heads out of the motor oil. Those who feel like their brain is encased in a stiff liquid might try standing in a hot shower for a few minutes. If that doesn't loosen things up, one of those electric dipstick heaters might help.

Above all, don't be afraid to do something others might consider stupid. It will cheer up your spouse if nothing else.

Sticky Doorknobs on the Internet

By Tumbleweed Smith

Jimmy Patterson grew up in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. That's where he really developed his sense of humor. When he was 18 he performed in local comedy clubs.

He fell in love with journalism through sports and wound up as the Monday Morning Humor Editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram. He wrote a column every Monday poking good-natured fun at his family.

"I've always felt I don't write so much about my family as I write about everyone's family," says Jimmy. "I have three kids and a wife. I count on them to do really goofy things. All of us, as parents, go through many similarities, be it dinnertime, homework, driving kids to functions, minor illnesses, sibling spats, things like that. If we don't inject a little humor into that, we really run the risk of going completely nuts."

He left the paper to work with the United Way of Midland. But he didn't stop writing his column. He now writes it on the internet. He's on two parenting web sites (ParentingHumor.com and DineOutRight.com) and one humor web site (TheNetWits.com). People can also subscribe to his column directly by contacting him at jpatterson@marshill.com.

"Our email list has grown from thirty-five to two hundred and twenty in a year. People had always encouraged me to put all my material into a book, so I've done that."

His book is available on the internet.

"The book's name is STICKY DOORKNOBS and it's being published on iUniverse.com. It contains sixty-five columns about family. There's a chapter about sisters, one on little boys and their dads and a chapter about relationships between husbands and wives. The central theme of the book is family dynamics and things that have happened, like when my wife dropped her wedding ring down the toilet one night at bedtime. We ended up taking the commode from its moorings and hauling it to the front yard at midnight."

One of his columns is about the IRS telling him he didn't have any children. He spent three months convincing the bureaucrats that he did, indeed have some youngsters. Perhaps what made them finally believe him was when he reported that his six year old boy was interested in two things: sports and eating.

You can read the book on the internet. "They will give you a portion of it, sort of as a teaser. Then you can either download it on disk or onto your hard drive for x amount of dollars or you can buy it in a traditional six by nine paperback. If you want the book, you go to iUniverse.com, order it and then they publish it. They print the books as they are ordered. This has allowed a lot of folks an opportunity to publish their writings who have not had success going throught the more traditional publishing houses in New York and California. Oftentimes, new writers are not afforded the chance to get their work published because of the cost. So what iUniverse.com is doing is publishing books as people order them."

He writes his column at home on Sunday or Monday night. "I'll spend Tuesday and Wednesday nights polishing it, then send it out Thursday night."

C-City Network to order 100 computers

The C-City Network Tuesday was planning to order 100 computers and related equipment and begin its state funded project of computerizing Colordo City and giving its citizens access to the Internet.

Content Developer Brenda Hammond said she would probably recommend accepting an $89,874 bid from the Gateway Co. of Sioux Falls, S. D., for 87 work stations, 13 laptop computers and a server.

The Network's board of directors had to approve the purchase, and delivery was expected within about a week of the order.

Board members are Tom Scott, Steve Shutt, Terry Dukes, Mary Ann Davila and Sally Neff.

"The Gates Foundation just donated to the library, and that was a factor -- contributing to our community," Ms. Hammond said.

"They were also able to give us the best pricing."

She referred to the recent donation of two Gateway computers and a printer to the library.

Consulting with a Gateway representative in Lake Forest, Calif., she "bumped up the specs," or specifications, by having a monitor with integrated speakers put on each computer for an extra cost of $186 per unit.

The Network will have two classrooms with 20 public access computers in one and 10 in the other at the Wallace Community Center on South Hwy. 208 and one with 10 stations in a yet to be selected location at the Colorado School District Administration Building at 12th and Hickory Streets.

Funded by a $500,000 grant from the Texas Infrastructure Board in Austin, others will be installed at the police department, City Hall, banks, the county library, churches and other places, along with wireless equipment.

The laptops will be at the new Mitchell County Hospital at Rogers Road and the south side of Interstate 20 for patients and their families to use.

TEA announces special ed certification program

Applications for the Region 14 Education Service Center's 2000-2001 Alternative Certification Program for certification of special education teachers will be accepted from December 4, 2000-February 23, 2001.

The program allows college graduates wanting to be special education teachers to earn certification as they train and teach full time, serving as interns with mentor teachers in area school districts. Participants complete course work and training in the spring and summer prior to entering the classroom. During the internship year, further college course work and training is continued.

Applicants are selected from those meeting the following admission requirements:

- Received bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education.
- Attained a minimum of 2.5 grade point average overall OR 2.75 on the last 60 hours.
- Earned at least passing scores on the Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP).
- Acceptable score on a critical thinking test administered at Region XIV Esc.
- Completion of an interview process.

Those who are interested in applying for the training program must have passed the TASP (Texas Academic Skills Program). The latest possible administration that an applicant can take the test and still be eligible for acceptance into the program is March 3, 2001. Registration deadline for that test is February 2, 2001.

The teaching certificate enables recipients to teach anywhere in Texas in special education in grades Pre-K through grade 12. Reciprocity is available in some other states.

For information on Region 14's program contact John Stevens 915-675-8630.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We have new puppies this year and as quick as we put up a string of lights, they can take them down, get the bulbs out and eat the wire in half. Therefore, we will not be able to display our lights until the "kids" are a little bit older. So many of you take the time time to drive out each year, so we are trying to save you a trip! Have a Merry Christmas!

THE YARD OF THE MONTH for October is at the 145 E. 14th St. home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Wood, who won a $50 gift certificate from the Keep Colorado City Beautiful Committee for the "Best Festive Fall Decorations" in town.

Yard of the Month belongs to Wood Family on E. 14th

The October yard contest theme was "Best Festive Fall Decorations". Keep Colorado City Beautiful Committee has looked at the homes nominated by the residents of Colorado City and a winner has been selected. Consideration was given to the type plants, their use in the decoration as well as the general yard and home appearance.

The October winner is Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Wood, 145 E 14th St. Other nominations included Arda Valenzuela, Johnny Forbes, Adrianna Perez, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Burt, Sue Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baum, and Shawna Massingill. All are to be commended for the work they have done on their home and yard. Efforts such as these improve the image of our town and help make a positive impression on visitors and new residents. The Keep Colorado City Beautiful Committee thanks these individuals, as well as those who worked hard but were not nominated, for their contribution to the improving appearance of Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood will receive a $50 gift certificate from Neff Nursery and the Keep Colorado City Beautiful Committee. They will also receive a sign for their yard recognizing their efforts.

The Keep Colorado City Beautiful Committee will conduct a different contest next year. The theme has not yet been set, but it will be publicized once available. We know that many high quality yards were not included in the KCCB evaluations this year. They simply were not nominated by friend or neighbor. Help us include all deserving residents next year by participating in the nomination process.

Everyone is reminded that fall preparation along with Spring planting and yard work produces the outstanding yards that we have in our city. Begin now for next year. The recent soaking rains help your yard as well as our farmers. If you would like some assistance with plant selection or have a plant related problem, call one of the local nurseries or the Colorado City Garden Club. They can help you with ideas and plant selections that thrive in our local area.

CIA aps for work are taken

Applications are now being accepted for the 2001 Christmas In April. This year we are hoping to get back to the one day blitz and complete all homes in the one day, which will be April 29, 2001.

Please comply with all the rules, as they are national rules and we must follow these as closely as possible. This is not a maintenance program, so we ask that you not apply in consecutive years after having your home worked on any in the last three years.

Focus of this program is to provide homes that are dry, safe, and warm; accordingly, priority is given to plumbing, electrical, safety (railings), and roof repairs. Homes are selected on the basis of greatest need, with lowest income applicants given priority.

Please follow these rules when applying:

- All taxes must be paid.
- Applicant must own and reside in the home a minimum three years.
- Low income, elderly (60 years and up.)
- Low income disabled.

Applications are available at the Chamber of Commerce office. If you need help with your application, that will be provided.

All applications are to be returned to the Chamber of Commerce office by noon Friday, December 15. No home will be considered without written application and only if received by the above date and time.

Sales Tax Holiday saves Texas families an estimated $37 million

Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander announced that families saved an estimated $37 million during Texas' second annual Sales Tax Holiday, held August 4-6. The savings include $29.2 million in state sales tax and $7.8 million in local sales taxes.

"My prediction that the second Sales Tax Holiday would be bigger and better than the first was right on the money," Comptroller Rylander said "This year, shoppers saved $4.4 million more than they saved during the 1999 Tax Holiday."

"This year, shoppers were familiar with the Sales Tax Holiday, they knew what items were tax-exempt, and they planned ahead to take full advantage of this much-deserved tax break," Comptroller Rylander said.

The Comptroller estimates shoppers purchased about $467 million in tax-free clothes and shoes during the three-day shopping spree.

During the Sales Tax Holiday, no state or local sales taxes are charged on most clothing and footwear priced at less than $100. The August event is timed to give families a financial break during the back-to-school shopping period.

During the first two Sales Tax Holidays, taxpayers saved an estimated $69.6 million in state and local sales taxes.

"The Sales Tax Holiday is a tremendous hit with hard-working moms and dads, but I want to make it even better," Comptroller Rylander said. "The tax burden on working families is too high and the Sales Tax Holiday provides Texans with some much-needed relief."

Though the Sales Tax Holiday is held during the first weekend of August, the results are not available until November, because retailers who report sales tax collections to the Comptroller on a quarterly basis don't report their August figures until late October.

Arts and crafts festival slated

Headache seminar led by local doctor

Dr. Gus Gross will conduct a layman's seminar on various types of headaches and their treatments at 2 p.m. Saturday in the C. C. Thompson Room downtown.

Dr. Gross, a member of the county hospital's medical staff, will show a video and slides and then provide literature and answer questions.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Merck Pharmaceuticals Co. in Abilene said there are "so many different types of headaches that it's hard to put a number on it."

Among them are tension, stress and migraine headaches, which are the most medically troublesome, coming once or twice a year or even weekly and being resistant to ordinary treatments.

"Dr. Gross will discuss how to know when a headache is severe enough to call for a physician's visit," the spokesman said.

"Some people just suffer from chronic, everyday, recurrent headaches. Oftentimes, people say that a lack of sleep can trigger their headaches.

"Don't try to self-diagnose. The best information anyone can get on their health is in a doctor's office, not in a magazine."

The spokesman said the cause or causes of migraine headaches remain somewhat mysterious, but vaso dilation, or the swelling of blood vessels in the head, is one of their characteristics.

Dr. Gross will review advances that have been made for migraine headache treatment.

Hospital Auxiliary bake sale set for December 15

The Mitchell County Hospital Auxiliary Pink Ladies held their monthly meeting Tuesday, November 14 at the Wallace Center.

President Betty Bagwell welcomed the members and gave a financial report on the income from our booth at the fair and from the sidewalk sale at the Harvest Festival. The report was from the treasurer's, Gloria Erwin, book.

After some discussion it was decided to have the Christmas dinner for the members and their spouses at the Episcopal Church annex December 5 at 6 pm. Members are to bring a salad.

The Pink Ladies will have a bake sale in the hospital lobby December 15 at 9 am. They will also help decorate the Christmas trees in the hospital lobby and at Valley Fair Lodge.

The Pink Ladies are assisting with the "Shots Across Texas" by getting the needed information on the babies when they are born in the hospital

They still have the gift shop in the lobby of the hospital and have lots of interesting things to sell. Afghans and pillows are still for sale also.

Everyone is invited to come by and shop with them. Also, new members are welcome.

Graham, Ocana united in Loraine ceremony

James M. Graham and Jeanette S. Ocana of Loraine were married Saturday, November 18 in Colorado City in the home of Rene and Ellie Alvarez. The Rev. Ronnie Skaggs of Abilene officiated.

Roland Graham of Loraine sang "One Day At A Time" and Debbie Mitchell sang "The Rose".

Best man was Rene Alvarez and maid of honor was Joyce Childs.

James is a long time resident of Loraine and employed by Texas Boll Weevil Eradication and Jeanette is formerly of San Pedro, California and is employed by Garcia's Restaurant.

Family and friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Childs, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Castro, all of Loraine; Mr. and Mrs. Rene Alvarez, Dianna Bell, Lisa Perez, Eric Lilly and Annisa Pineda, Debbie Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lozano, and Sara Martinez, all of Colorado City; also, Wilson Glass and Patsy Long of Sweetwater, Bob Power of Decatur and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Skaggs of Abilene.

Aycock hosts the women of First Baptist Church

The Global Focus Group of the Women on Mission of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Betsy Aycock on Tuesday, November 21.

Going to the "Far Ends of the Earth" was the study for this month and was presented by Earline Sellier who used charts and a map for each person showing the area of the globe from the area between 10 degrees to forty degrees north latitude and reaching from western Africa to east Asia.

In these areas the people have had very little or no contact with the outside world or in more open places the people are so steeped in ancient, tribal beliefs that missionaries who serve there work anonymously and on a one to one basis for their safety and the safety of their friends.

Virginia Dearen had the calendar of prayer for missionaries with birthdays on this day. She gave each person a Thanksgiving magnet with the names of missionaries attached to them to pray for this month.

Definite plans were made to meet Monday, Nov. 29 and pack the Christmas gift boxes for the Seaman's Center at the Port of Houston.

Jean Edwards will host the Christmas meeting in her home on December 19 at 6:00 pm.

The Self's in 1940

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Self

60th anniversary to be celebrated by couple

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey L. Self will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on Thursday, November 30.

Aubrey L. Self and Mary Jo Oliver were married in Colorado City by the Rev. Scott Hickey on November 30, 1940.

Mary Jo was born in the Cuthbert Community to Curtis C. and Sophia Oliver. Aubrey was born in Malakoff, Texas to Doc L. and Dicie Self.

Aubrey served 2 1/2 years in the Army Air Corp during World War II. He was stationed on Tinian Island in the 20th Air Force 504th Bomb Group. After his discharge, he worked for Coltex Refinery from 1946 until 1969 then transferred to Cosden Oil and Chemical in Big Spring where he retired in March 1982.

Mary Jo was a Licensed Vocational Nurse at Root Memorial Hospital from 1944 until her retirement in May 1982, except for a period of time when she was office nurse for Dr. Harry Logsdon and Dr. Laurence Rudd.

They have two children, Lana Self and Gene Self and wife Nena, all of Colorado City. They are members of the First Baptist Church of Colorado City.

COOK'S CORNER

Homemade candy during the Christmas holidays is a real treat. This year, we are sharing with you some traditional candy recipes along with some not-so traditional ones. Share them with your friends and family and enjoy!

Pecan Puffs

2 packages caramels
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 lg. package marshmallows
8 cups fine-chopped pecans

In the top of a double-boiler, melt caramels with butter, stirring several times. Spear marshmallow with fork and hold over melted caramel. Using another fork or knife, coat marshmallow with caramel, then dip into pecans and pat gently so that pecans will stick. Push puff off fork onto waxed paper to cool. Repeat until all marshmallows are dipped. (Caramel may have to be reheated if it gets too stiff.) Wrap each puff separately in plastic wrap. Store in tight container.

Date Loaf Candy

2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
1 package dates, chopped
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups chopped pecans

Mix all ingredients except pecans and boil over medium heat until mixture reaches soft-ball stage. Beat until stiff; add pecans. Pour out on damp cloth, roll up and chill. Slice.

Million Dollar Candy

3 Hershey chocolate bars
3 6-ounce pkgs. chocolate chips
1 jar marshmallow cream
4 cups sugar
1 large can evaporated milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 stick butter
1 pound chopped pecans

In a large bowl break Hershey bars into pieces; add chocolate chips and marshmallow cream. In a 4 1/2-quart saucepan, mix sugar and milk. Bring to a rolling boil and cook for 4 1/2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add chocolate mixture. Stir until chocolate is melted. Add vanilla, butter and pecans. When butter is melted, pour into a buttered 9"x13" pan. Cool and cut into squares. Makes 5 pounds.

Mama's Divinity

2 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
1 cup pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla

Boil sugar, water, syrup and salt until mixture forms a firm ball in cold water or makes a thread when dripped from a spoon. Pour into egg whites and beat until mixture begins to thicken. Add nuts and vanilla and beat well. Pour into a well-greased pan or platter. Cool and cut into squares.

Texas Peanut Butter Fudge

2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1/8 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup canned milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/3 cup peanut butter

In a deep saucepan, mix together sugar, syrup, salt and milk. Cook over medium heat until mixture reaches soft-ball stage (234 degrees on a candy thermometer). Cool and add peanut butter. Beat vigorously until mixture shines and starts to thicken. Pour out onto a buttered platter or square pan. Cool and cut into squares.

Sour Cream Fudge

2 cups sugar
1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts

In a saucepan mix sugar, sour cream and syrup and cook until mixture reaches soft-ball stage. Add vanilla and nuts and beat until creamy and thick. Pour into a buttered 8"x6" dish and chill.

Pharis presents program to local retired teachers

The Mitchell County Retired Teachers met Tuesday, November 14, 2000. After lunch with the Senior Citizens, the members met in a classroom for the program and business meeting.

Patti Pharis, a teacher from Colorado Middle School, gave the program, an explanation of the Learn programs for which the school has received two, three year grants from the Region 14 Service Center. Each grant was for $3,000.

The CURVES, an acronym for Citizens Uniting to Recognize Veterans Efforts and Service, is a project of English and History departments. They plan to locate and interview every veteran in Mitchell County. Their purpose is to recognize the sacrifices and contributions made by our service men and women. The $3,000 grant will provide for materials, travel and research that will be needed.

As a part of the program, a group traveled to a field south of Sweetwater for the dedication of a monument, where the only pilot in the women's air force to be killed in action, crashed and died.

Another activity of the CURVES project was the Veteran's Day Service held at the courthouse in front of service mens monument. Buddy Clark, a veteran of WWII, and a member of the Last Battalion, spent 3 1/2 years as a prisoner of war of the Japanese and was one of a very few men who lived to come home, was an honored speaker.

Also honored posthumously was Caddo Mathews who served in the Pacific. He was chosen as one of Admiral Nimitz's bodyguards and spent the entire war there. He was a former minister here and taught and coached in CHS. The students in the CURVES project traveled to San Angelo to interview members of his family where they learned of service. His widow and daughter also came to the ceremony here to honor him.

Tammy Johnson leads in SHARE program which received a grant also. The students participating in this project are involved with learning to know and honoring Senior Citizens. As part of this, they visit the Senior Citizens once a week when they wait the tables and then take time to know them. They also furnish, plan and put up the center's bulletin boards.

The next meeting will be January 9, 2001 at the Wallace Center.

STUDENTS OF THE WEEK AT Hutchinson Elementary are third grader Briana Ortiz, fourth grader Daniel Perez, and fifth grader Crystal Wilson.

Hutchinson students of week chosen

Students chosen as students of the week at Hutchinson Elementary are Briana Ortiz, Daniel Perez and Crystal Wilson.

Briana Ortiz is third grader at Hutchinson Elementary. Her teacher is Mrs. Salinas. Her parents are Charlie and Carrie Ortiz. Her favorite pet is her dog Buddy. Her favorite subject is reading and her favorite thing about Hutchinson is music with Ms. Kimmel.

Daniel Perez is a fourth grader in Mrs. Godina's class and his parents are Stephanie and Ramiro Perez. His special pet is his dog Rocky. His favorite subject is P.E. and his favorite thing about Hutchinson is Coach A's P.E. program.

Crystal Wilson is a fifth grader in Mrs. Turnbow's class. Her parent is Tommie Wilson. Her favorite hobby is drawing and her special pet is her dog. Her favorite subject is math and her favorite thing about Hutchinson is everyone is very nice.

In the November 16 issue of the Colorado Record, Cheyenne Guelker was listed incorrectly. She should have been listed as follows: Cheyenne Guelker is a fourth grader in Mrs. Weaver's class. Sue and Carl Guelker are her parents. Riding horses is her hobby and reading is her favorite subject. Her teacher is also her favorite thing about the school.

Each week a student from each grade level will be chosen as the student of the week and a picture will run in the paper. The student is chosen based on criteria established by the teacher.

The student will receive a 'dog tag' necklace with Student of the Week, Hutchinson Elementary. The tags are donated by City National Bank.

Lady Wildcats have played three games

The Westbrook Lady Wildcats began their basketball season with one victory out of three games.

First up for Westbrook was at Garden City on November 14, with the Lady Bearkats coming out on top with a 46-31 victory. April Chambers scored six points for the Lady Wildcats, with Allison Barboza and Brynn Rich adding five points and Veronica Matos four points.

The Lady Wildcats rebounded on November 17 with a 38-34 victory over Hermleigh in Westbrook. Chambers again paced Westbrook with 15 points, with Rich scoring nine and Barboza six.

Game three was a rematch against Hermleigh, with the Lady Cardinals winning a 56-50 overtime thriller in Hermleigh last Tuesday night despite a sensational performance from Rich, who scored 25 points in the loss. Chambers added 10, with Audrey Herless scoring five.

The Lady Wildcats will compete in the Highland Hilltop Classic, beginning Thursday night at 7:30 pm at the Highland new gym, with the tournament scheduled to run through Saturday. Westbrook will then host Sterling City Tuesday night at 6:30 pm.

Lady Wolves fall to Clyde, 53-41

A 13 point first quarter deficit was too much to overcome for the Colorado City Lady Wolves as they fell 53-41 to Clyde Tuesday, November 21 in Clyde.

The Lady Wolves couldn't find their shooting touch early on falling behind 18-5 by the end of the first quarter.

Colorado City closed the gap to 21-10 early in the second quarter, but the Lady Bulldogs height advantage paid dividends the rest of the half to pull ahead 29-14 until Lady Wolves guard Kotia Russell nailed a long two pointer at the buzzer to make the score 29-16 in favor of Clyde at the break.

Lady Wolves forward Vanessa Quintero opened the second half with a strong move to the basket for a lay-up, and guard Kassi Redwine went coast to coast for a basket following a Clyde score to narrow the Lady Bulldogs lead to 31-20.

After the two teams traded quick scoring runs late in the third period, the Lady Bulldogs began to pull away with a 10-2 run into the fourth quarter, giving Clyde a 47-27 lead with 4:49 left to play in the game.

The Lady Wolves were resiliant. Forward Amanda Guerra made a nice steal and assist to Redwine for a score, and guard Alison Lopez had her own steal with a lay-up to make the score 49-33 Clyde with three minutes to play.

After a 4-0 Lady Bulldog run, Colorado City scored the last eight points of the game, but ran out of time in the 53-41 loss.

"We outscored them the final three quarters, but we had a hard time containing their two biggest girls," said Lady Wolves head coach Darrin Leverton. "We can't outjump teams like that, but we've got tough kids who are very physical and that usually gives us an advantage."

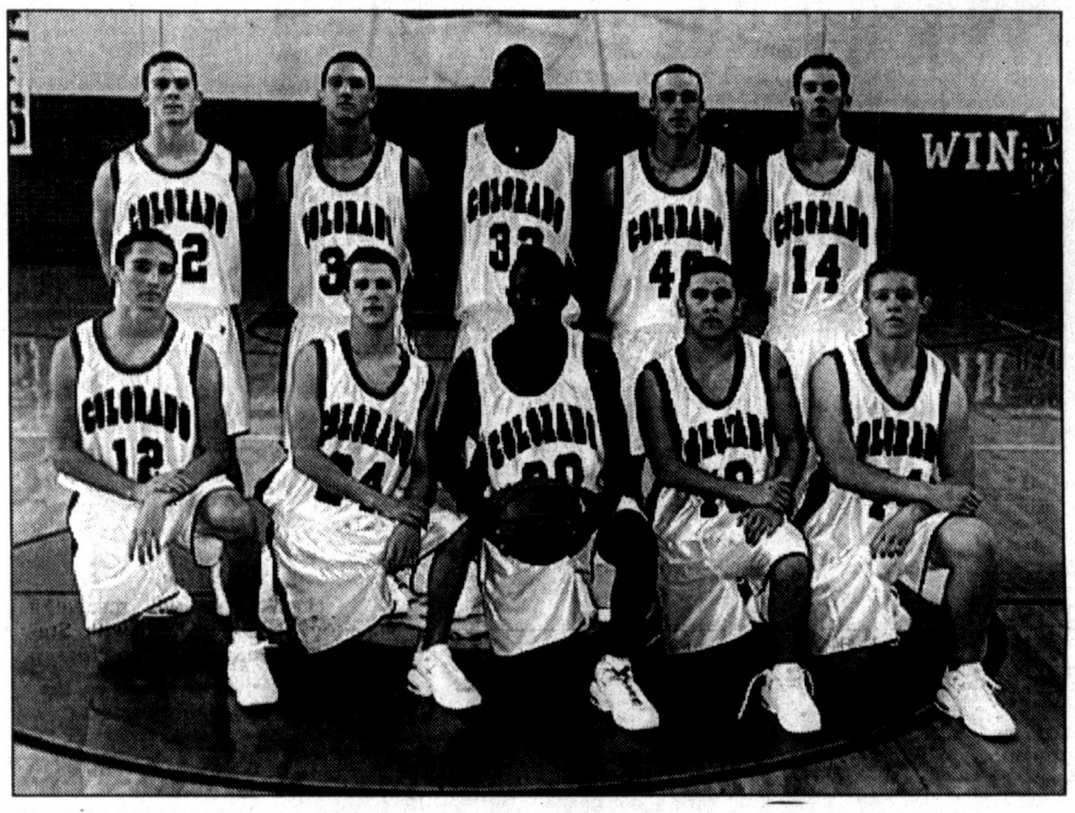

Lopez led the Lady Wolves with 14 points and added five rebounds, with Quintero scoring 10 points and six rebounds. Kim Rivera scored six points, Redwine six points and four assists, Guerra two points, five rebounds and three assists, Russell three points and three boards and Teri Phariss grabbed four rebounds.

The Lady Wolves will play in the Shallowater tournament, running Thursday through Saturday in Shallowater, followed by a game on Tuesday night versus Ira at 6:30 pm at the Pit. Colorado City opens the Shallowater tournament Thursday afternoon at 3 pm versus Olten.

"It's a good tough tournament. We enjoy it every year," said Coach Leverton of the tournament, which features four class 3A teams. "We like to play bigger schools. It's good preparation for district play."

Stanton, Hamlin to play here

Colorado City football fans will be treated to another playoff game this weekend as Wolf Stadium will play host to a class 2A division III playoff battle between Stanton and Hamlin. Game time is Saturday afternoon at 2:30 pm.

Stanton (10-2) finished second in district three to Colorado City and fell to the Wolves 21-18 at Wolf Stadium on October 20, but the Buffaloes are unbeaten since then. Hamlin (9-3) finished third in district 8.

Admission will be $6 for adults and $4 for children.

Wildcats win two of first three games

The Westbrook Wildcats dropped their season opening basketball game before storming back to win the next two.

Game one was at Garden City on November 14 versus the Bearkats with Westbrook falling 68-51. Chris Matlock scored 21 points for Westbrook, with Ty Callaway scoring 13 points, Cody Rich eight, Colt Rich six and Michael Miguel three.

On November 17, Westbrook responded with their first victory, defeating Hermleigh 67-46 in Westbrook behind Callaway's 24 points, nine steals, and seven rebounds. Eric Roberson added 16 points and 10 rebounds, Chris Matlock 10 points, 16 rebounds, four steals and six assists and Colt Rich nine points and 12 rebounds.

Westbrook met Hermleigh once again last Tuesday night in Hermleigh with the Wildcats destroying the Cardinals 70-26. Callaway scored 24 points and had six steals, Matlock had 16 points, 11 rebounds and four assists, Roberson 10 points and 10 rebounds, and Colt Rich 16 points and nine rebounds.

The Wildcats will play in the Highland Hilltop Classic, with their first game scheduled for Thursday at 6 pm versus Sweetwater's JV team, followed by a home game versus Sterling City at 8 pm on Tuesday night.

Bulldogs down Wolves

The Colorado City Wolves opened their basketball season in Clyde on Tuesday, November 21, with the Bulldogs pulling away late for a 52-37 victory.

It was a solid debut for the Wolves, who rushed straight onto the court from football season and still kept the Bulldogs in striking distance for much of the game.

"I was really pleased with the effort. It's hard to sustain the defensive effort and shooting when you're not in basketball shape," said Wolves head coach Barry Kimball. "We're capable of shooting well, so I think we can do some damage."

The Wolves scored right off the bat as forward Marquise Lenard put in a lay-up for the first points of the game.

Clyde scored 15 of the next 21 points, and led 19-10 early in the second quarter when Wolves guard Dereck Garcia hoisted a three pointer to make the score 19-13 with 4:37 left in the first half.

The Bulldogs maintained their lead into the third quarter, but the Wolves would make a strong run. Thanks to forward Cort Arthur's three pointer and Lenard's block and lay-up, the Wolves were able to narrow Clyde's lead to 24-21.

Following a score, Wolves guard Chase Phariss found forward Ian Bassham wide open, and Bassham promptly hit a three pointer to close within 26-24.

Clyde would bounce back with a three pointer of their own, and that would be as close as the Wolves would get.

Wolves guard Aaron Waldrip would hit a three point shot early in the fourth quarter to make the score 39-30 in favor of Clyde before the Bulldogs extended their lead again to close out the 52-37 victory.

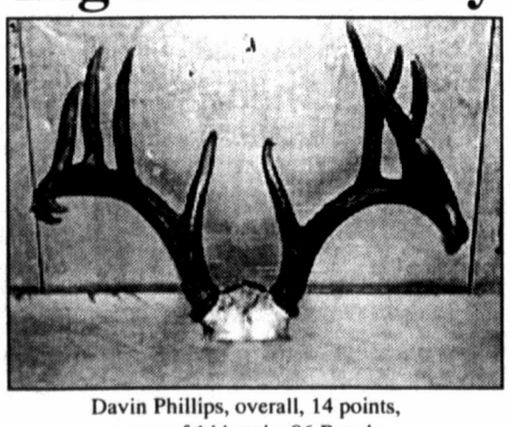

The Wolves were led in scoring by Phariss with 11 points, Arthur with six, Lenard and Garcia with five apiece, Bassham and Waldrip three, and Andrew Spear and Jacobie Russell two each.

Colorado City will travel to Shallowater for the Shallowater tournament, running Thursday through Saturday, followed by a game versus Ira on Tuesday at 8 pm at the Pit.

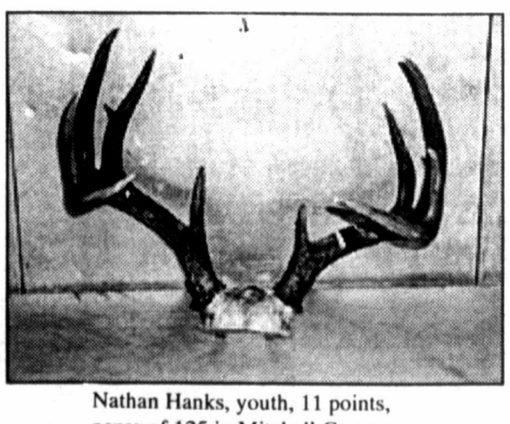

"I like having a tough schedule," said Coach Kimball. "It helps get us battle ready for district play."

CARD OF THANKS

Card of Thanks

To our friends and relatives of Mitchell County and surrounding area:
Thank you so much for your cards, calls, visits, gifts, flowers, food and especially your prayers during my two surgeries and two recoveries. A very special thank you to Bill Everett for performing the tracheotomy. May God bless each of you.

Sincerely,
Dorris Dockrey & family

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings! I hope you had a great holiday and kept safe and happy. I think being with family is better than the food. Both things make an extra special day.

Iris Preston enjoyed Thanksgiving day in the home of her children, Harold and Susan Preston, grandchildren Matt and Shona Preston and their baby girl Claire. Iris reported having a great day!

Durwood and Ina Vay McAdams of Perryton bought the home at 206 Market St. and are making some improvements on the place. We are pleased to have them in town. We hope they like living here.

Marie Hair and Lucille Jarratt enjoyed the company of Marie's children over the holiday. Her son, Eric Smith, and daughter-in-law Betty of San Angelo, a granddaughter Brenna McBride and Camille Hebloan a great-granddaughter.

Guests in the home of Brother Bryan and Rebekah Waddell over Thanksgiving were Bro. Bryan's parents Marvin and Sally Waddell and his aunt, Karen Dubose, all of Bridge City, Texas.

A brother, Bill and Valerie Waddell and their three children of Mirande City, Texas, along with two college friends from A&M Wednesday and again on Saturday were Steven and Autumn White and brothers David Jones and his wife, also Brandon Jones.

Frank Stovall, nephew of Mable Graham, passed away unexpectedly Sunday in Scurry County, Texas. He is survived by his wife and two sons and three grandchildren. His parents are T.J. and Pheta Stovall. He is also survived by four sisters, many nieces and nephews and cousins. Our condolences go out to the family and friends of Mr. Stovall.

Elnora Mitchell had lunch with her sister Fern Reeves and her husband Dan in Colorado City this past weekend.

Leona Linam's granddaughter Melanie Linam Davis and children Andrew and Lara of El Paso visited her and other Linam relatives Thanksgiving.

Virgil and Geraldine Parnell went to Bowie, Texas for the holiday visiting their children Al and Nelline Fulcher.

Richard and Barbara Blair of North Richland Hills, Billy Dale and Wyonna Blair and Shala Ruth from Dallas.

Also Stephanie and son, James of San Angelo, Bradley and wife and baby of Abilene were all guests in the home of Ruth Richburg over the holiday period.

Earl Phillips and Elba Evans had Thanksgiving dinner in the home of Maylon and Peggy Beaty. Their great-grandchild Brayden Blue was also present.

* * *

Nola Taylor visited Kitty and Dalton Gage, Amber and Evan Easley and children in Lubbock last week.

Spending Thanksgiving with Grady and Elnora Mitchell were Herman and Penny Mitchell, Henry and Mandy Mitchell, Neal Miles, all of Colorado City; grandson David Mitchell and wife and their two sons Derek and Ian from Brownfield; Betty Safford and Adam Myers, Colorado City. Absent was Jody Macha and husband Raynard, so the family talked with them via telephone. Guests in the home of Bea Lee over the holiday were Coke Rutherford and family of Houston and Tammy French of Colorado City. The group also celebrated Herman's birthday.

Bea Looney enjoyed the holiday with her sister and brother-in-law Pat and Steve Berry of Lubbock. The Berrys brought the entire Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings. What a nice thing to do!

* * *

Charla, Danny and Charity Cain, Coral and Matthew Clark spent Thanksgiving with Ham and Blondie Hamilton. The Hamilton's and Cain's attended a wedding in Odessa Friday night.

* * *

Dawn and Paul Kropp plus baby Dannielle spent Friday night and part of Saturday with Juanice Butler.

* * *

We have concerns for Gwen Claxton, Lois Lee and Dorothy Haltom this week. Our well wishes go out to them.

On November 25, the family of Lela Bowlin gave her a surprise 90th birthday party at the Senior Center in Loraine. In attendance were Del and Betty Bowlin, their daughter Lea Ann, her husband Robert and son Tim; Fred and Barbara Bowlin of Del Rio, their two sons Ben and wife MaxAnn and sons Luke and Cade, Brian, wife Joanna and daughters Brooke and Katie Bowlin of Ft. Clark, Texas; Shug and Pat Bowlin with their sons Kevin, wife Kim and sons Brannon and Brittian; Kendall and wife Karen expecting their child in April.

Unable to attend were Bobby Bowlin and fiance Brenda Williams, his children, Heather Sanders, husband Greg and Heath and Jamie Bowlin. A good time was had by all.

Danny and Pam Butler spent Thanksgiving in New Mexico at the ranch of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hughes.

Those enjoying Thanksgiving with the Narl Long's were Mr. and Mrs. David Chapman, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Necessary of Ovala; Dustin Boyd, Stephenville; Jacob Necessary, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Gary, son Rick and Kayla, Colorado City and Crystal of Angelo State; Rhonda Morris, Sheena and Jody of Florence; granddaughters Stephie Flatten and great-grandchildren Ryan, Rachel and Becca of Sheldon, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Merket, Whitney, Meagan and Keaton and Kasey Merket of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Merket, Kristen, Ryan, and Payton Merket of Lamesa. Good food and lots of playing in the rain.

"Senior Center"

On the 17th, Dr. Joel Kzanli gave an interesting narration of his adventures in Central America. The program was interesting and very well received.

* * *

On the 10th, 13th and 15th, we enjoyed the piano playing of Joshua Delany. He is an inmate at the Wallace Unit and very talented. He also sang as equally well as he played piano. We hope he comes again.

* * *

On December 6, we found out that Joshua could indeed entertain us again. Come and enjoy his talent.

* * *

We are seeing pretty vests and holiday sweaters now and the center looks very pretty, all done up for Santa.

* * *

Come to see us.

See you about town.
