Pipeline Agreement Reached

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)- President Carter and Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau announced today agreement on construction of a $10 billion pipeline across the Canadian Yukon to carry natural gas from Alaska to the lower 48 states.

"This joint undertaking will be the largest single private energy project in history," they said in a joint statement issued by the White House.

Carter and Trudeau said "major benefits will accrue to both countries" from the pipeline. They said it will give Canada greater ability to develop its own gas reserves, particularly in the frontier regions of the Mackenzie Delta.

"The U.S., in turn, will have the enormous benefit of new natural gas supplies from the North Slope of Alaska at a significantly lower cost-of-service price than could have been achieved through an all-U.S. route," they said.

They said they hoped to sign a detailed agreement next week.

"After the agreement is signed, each of us intends to submit our decisions to our respective legislative bodies for the appropriate authorizations and assurances," the President and the Prime minister said.

"We are both hopeful the project will be approved."

Democratic Whip John Brademas of Indiana said Carter and his advisers told him and other House leaders during a meeting in the Roosevelt Room at the White House that the trans-Canada "route would deliver gas more cheaply and cleanly and equitably than the alternate route" through Alaska.

White House officials said details of the agreement were on their way to Congress as required by law. Congress has 60 days either to let Carter's decision stand or reject it.

The Senate Energy Committee has scheduled a hearing on the pipeline route for Sept. 26.

Brademas said the route through Canada would be acceptable to the House.

Trudeau attended the signing of Carter's new Panama Canal on Wednesday and the White House state dinner Wednesday night to celebrate the signing.

Carter had hoped to inform Congress of his choice of two competing pipelines proposals-the one crossing Canada and an "all-American" route through Alaska and then south using liquified-gas tankers-by Wednesday, the day Congress returned from its summer recess.

'Clara' Appears

By The Associated Press

A tropical depression in the Atlantic attained gale force winds today and became a tropical storm.

The National Weather Service in Miami has designated the storm "Clara." Forecasters say it is centered about 300 miles northwest of Bermuda and is moving toward the east-northeast between 15 and 20 miles per hour, or out to sea.

Maximum sustained winds are 50 m.p.h. with gale force winds extending out about 100 miles from the center, the weather service said.

Meanwhile, flash flood watches continue in the mountains of North and South Carolina as the result of heavy rain which began Wednesday.

Up to eight inches of rain has fallen over the Carolinas resulting in highway flooding and several mud slides.

Other showers and thunderstorms were along the Texas Gulf coast today while an area of showers spread into northern Idaho and Montana. Skies were generally clear over other sections of the country.

Judge Is Recalled

MADISON, Wis. (AP)-Basing her campaign on "the right of everyone to know they will get a fair trial," attorney Moria Krueger defeated Dane County Judge Archie Simonson in a recall election sparked by his courtroom remarks on rape. Ms. Kruegar, 33, parlayed outrage at Simonson's comments linking rape and women's revealing clothing into 27,244 votes and a 35 per cent plurality Wednesday. Six candidates were on the ballot in the first judicial recall election in Wisconsin history.

Threats Revealed

BONN, West Germany (AP)-The kidnapers of industry leader Hanns Martin Schleyer have threatened to execute him unless the search for him is halted, the West German government revealed today. The execution threat was contained in a ransom letter the government made public 24 hours after it failed to meet a deadline set by the kidnapers for the release of 11 jailed terrorists.

Scurry County picked an appropriate time to build a new jail. The new federal and state standards for such facilities are causing problems in most places and usually the older the jail, the more trouble they have getting it into compliance with the regulations. Even those constructed during the past 10 or 12 years have some difficulties in meeting the new standards, which usually means that the county, city, or which ever agency is involved must turn around and spend substantial sums of money to alter relatively new buildings.

The new Scurry County jail's plans and specifications met the standards, and our new jail should be in full compliance----that is, until some headline-happy federal judge comes up with a new edict.

Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of Western Texas College, called attention to a significant trend in local population while discussing the new Senior Citizens Center with city councilmen Tuesday night.

The number of local residents over 60 years of age has increased substantially during the few years that the senior citizens program and the RSVP have been functioning at WTC. There are more retired people living here than ever before and their number is expected to continue on an incline.

This reminds us that some places have made retirement into an industry. Colonies of retired people have become major economic factors in many communities.

Many of these people also make significant contributions to the civic and social life and even the business life of their communities. In fact, one major research organization has come to the conclustion that an executive's life does not begin at 40, but actually at 55, provided he takes steps to keep himself healthy. They say that new findings show that an executive's real "prime" in terms of job performance, overall aliveness, etc., should begin around 55.

Spray Pilot Stunts On Side

By JOHN LONG

Life has its twists and turns, but for Ted Stallings they become calculated risks as he pilots his airplane in daredevil maneuvers that make even the stout-hearted feel queasy.

At 19 years of age, Stallings is an accomplished aerobatic pilot and one of the youngest stunt flyers in the state. He is currently touring Scurry County, although not in an air show.

Stallings is one of six pilots participating in the diapause program, aimed at annihilating boll weevils in cotton fields through aerial sprayings. He stunt flies on the side.

Stallings, who grew up around airplanes, thinks nothing of flying, but still finds carnival rides an unsettling experience. He has also sworn off racing motorcycles, believing that sport to be too dangerous.

Once at a Motocross race in Dallas, he topped the crest of a 75-yard high hill at full speed and, for a moment, felt himself suspended in mid-air. He was also scared.

"I said, 'Lord, if You get me out of this I'll never race again,'" he related.

He safely touched the earth and then promptly parked his motorcycle in a pit stop. He watched the remainder of the race as a spectator. In keeping with his promise, he has not raced motorcycles professionally since that incident three years ago.

A native of Bovina, Stallings said he learned about piloting airplanes from his father, Chuck.

Stallings guessed he was three or four years old when he first rode in an airplane, but said he distinctly remembers being "scared to death" of the experience. During the intervening years, he has overcome his fear of flying and much of his motion sickness.

Priscilla Says She Was Raped By Ex-Husband

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)- Priscilla Davis testified today a former husband raped her twice and that she did not lure him into sex to enhance her divorce action against him.

"It was embarassing and humiliating and I didn't know what to do," Mrs. Davis testified outside the presence of the jury.

"I told the truth," she said.

Mrs. Davis returned to the witness stand in the capital murder trial of her estranged husband Cullen to respond to questions left unanswered during her previous testimony that ended Tuesday.

State District Court Judge George Dowlen permitted the defense to interrogate Mrs. Davis about the contempt action she filed in 1967 against Jack Wilborn, her second husband.

A defense lawyer contended she enticed Wilborn to violate a restraining order by inviting him to her home on July 10 and 11 of that year for sexual encounters.

She previously was accused of a similar ploy with Davis, from whom she separated and sued for divorce in July 1974.

"You got Mr. Wilborn to come over to your residence...and you engaged in sexual relations with him, did you not?" the lawyer asked today.

"I did not lure anyone

Amin In Coma After Surgery

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)- President Idi Amin of Uganda was reported by one of his top aides today to be "in a coma" after undergoing surgery in a Kampala hospital for an undisclosed ailment.

Robert Astles, British-born confidant of the 51-year-old president, said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press in Nairobi he did not have further details.

Asked the reason for Amin's operation, he replied: "We don't exactly know. But he's in a coma. We believe he'll pull out of it. I'm going over to the hospital right now to see what's happening."

Astles was speaking from his office in Kampala. He is a white Ugandan citizen married to a black Ugandan, Mary Astles, who is Ugandan minister of culture.

Earlier today, Uganda radio announced that Amin underwent the operation in Kampala's Nulago Hospital by a Soviet surgeon. The broadcast said the president was accompanied to the hospital by the Soviet ambassador on Wednesday. Dr. Feodor Senkof was identified as the surgeon.

Here Are Major Points In Canal Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)- Here is a summary of major principles of the two Panama Canal treaties signed by President Carter and Panamanian leader Omar Torrijos:

-CONTROL: The United States and Panama would administer the canal jointly until the expriation of the new treaty on Dec. 31, 1999, turning control, management and maintenance of the canal at that time over to the Panamanian government. The old treaty, signed in 1903, gave the United States perpetual control over the canal and adjacent Canal Zone.

-DEFENSE: For the duration of the treaty the United States has primary responsibility for defense of the canal. A board of U.S. and Panamanian military officers is established to consult on defense matters and every five years review military resources made available by both countries.

The United State may decide on its own how and when to reduce its 9,000-man military force in the Canal Zone and schedule the closing of 14 bases there during the life of the treaty.

-COMPENSATION: The United States will pay Panama $50 million to $60 million annually from canal revenue and an additional $10 million a year for the canal's operation. Panama also will receive $50 million in military assistance over the next 10 years.

-LANDS AND WATERS: About 70 per cent of the 500-square-mile Canal Zone reverts to Panama as soon as the treaty is ratified with the United States retaining temporary control over the rest, including areas considered vital to running the canal.

-JURISDICTION: Within three years of ratification, the 3,500 American civilian employes in the Canal Zone would be subject to Panamanian law instead of American law. Panama after three years would take responsibility for public and social services, including schools, the Canal Zone police force and postal service.

-NEUTRALITY: Under a separate treaty, the two countries agree to a guarantee that the canal will remain open to ships of all nations and that the canal's neutrality will be respected "in times of war as in times of peace."

American and Panamanian warships and other vessels are given proiority to use the canal.

Liddy Has First Taste Of Freedom In 4 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)- On this third anniversary of Richard M. Nixon's "full, free and absolute pardon," another major Watergate figure, G. Gordon Liddy, is tasting his first full day of absolute freedom in more than four years.

His first night out of prison was spent with his wife in a fancy Washington hotel not far from his suburban home where the five teen-aged Liddy children awaited his return.

He was released from the federal prison at Danbury, Conn., on Wednesday.

Liddy, who devised and supervised the Watergate burglary which started Nixon on the road to resignation, held to his personal code of secrecy through 52½ months in prison.

While others talked, wrote and testified about their part in Watergate and its aftermath, only Liddy held the answer to the central question: What were the burglars looking for when they entered the Democratic party offices? And Liddy never talked, even to the point once of refusing to state his name.

The price for that silence was not only the longest sentence handed any Watergate figure, but also refusal by the judge to grant a plea to shorten it and an additional 18 months tacked on for contempt.

Nixon, who once told aides he thought Liddy was a "little nuts," received his pardon from successor Gerald Ford on Sept. 8, 1974, a month after resigning the presidency.

Liddy's neighbors in Oxon Hill, Md., had banded together in a petition drive and that may have played a part in the decision by President Carter to commute the 20-year sentence to eight years. Now the neighbors are starting a fund drive to help Liddy pay his debts and they plan a party for him on Sept. 24.

To win parole and get his $40,000 fine deferred, Liddy had to declare himself a pauper with less than $20 to his name. He said he owes $337,500 - the bulk of it to his lawyer and former law partner Peter Maroulis who fought his case to the Supreme Court.

"Throughout our campaign to have the prison sentence commuted, we never once solicited any funds as we didn't want it to have commercial overtones," said neighbor James Gavin, an executive with one of the nation's largest firms.

"Now that he's released, however, he faces debts and fines of approximately $300,000 and unfortunately he's deprived from practicing law, which is the thing he knows and does best."

Liddy did some writing in prison and the November issue of Chic magazine has his article on national security. Larry Flynt, publisher of the men's magazine, refused to say how much Liddy was paid.

Friends say he probably will write a book, but not about Watergate. He has received a number of job offers but as far as it's known, accepted none.

Identification Of Body Is Confirmed

WHARTON, Tex. (AP)- Dental records have been used to identify a decomposed body as that of a 21-year-old woman who disappeared last January, Wharton County officials say.

Chief Wharton County Deputy Sheriff Earl Winebernner said Wednesday he had been told by Harris County Medical Examiner Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk that dental records had been used to identify the body as that of Diana Kaiser.

Miss Kaiser vanished during the early morning hours of Jan. 6 shortly after she was seen on the shoulder of U.S. Highway 59 that runs through this Southeast Texas county.

The remains were found Tuesday near East Bernard, about 16 miles north of here.

Earlier Wednesday Sheriff H.R. Flourney said he was convinced the remains were those of Miss Kaiser, who was known in the area by her CB handle of "Free Spirit."

Flourney said the body was found in a culvert on Farm Road 2919 by Department of Highway workmen cutting grass in the area.

"We found a white jacket, a blue blouse that she was supposed to be wearing at the time, a ring and a necklace," Flourney said.

The compact pickup Miss Kaiser was driving at the time of her disappearance was discovered earlier this year about 10 miles from where the body was located.

The night Miss Kaiser disappeared truckers reported seeing her pulled over on the shoulder by a brown car flashing red lights.

jail.

Chester Wallace Jr. of Levelland, being held on a charge alleging unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, escaped from custody yesterday about 3:45 p.m. as he was being transferred from the courthouse to the county jail. The break for freedom occurred, deputies said as the front door of the 2707 College Ave. jail was being unlocked.

Wallace was apprehended about 6:30 p.m. behind Daniel's Texaco Station at 2300 25th St. The search for the errant prisoner involved officers from the Scurry County Sheriff's Office, the Snyder Police Department and the Department of Public Safety.

Wallace, who has been incarcerated at the county facility since July 27, had been at the courthouse speaking with his attorney before being returned to the jail, deputies said.

He was indicted earlier this summer on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The charge stems from an incident in which he is alleged to have taken a car owned by Harold Denson.

During his brief period of freedom, he is believed to have hidden in the bed of Deep Creek.

Deputies reported they plan to file charges of felony escape against Wallace.

airplane, you know what's going to happen. You know what you're getting into," he said. Carnival rides, however, are different and he admitted he has never fully learned to negotiate the unexpected turn of events he encounters in them.

Stallings, who was issued a traffic citation earlier in the day for speeding in his car, said flying is probably no more dangerous than driving an earth-bound vehicle.

Still, there are risks involved in flying. Stallings said he has had three close friends killed in airplane accidents within the past two months.

"When you've had some close friends die, you become leery of flying," he said. "You can fly safely or you can fly dangerously. Either way it can kill you," he summed up.

Although fully aware of the potential dangers involved in flying, Stallings still likes the activity.

"When you're up there, its just you and your plane and you're in control," said Stallings. "I never was much of a team person. I guess I'm just more independent."

Stallings admitted he has had two brushes with death. Both incidents occurred last year.

Once while in flight, his airplane engine conked out, necessitating a forced landing. On another occasion, he lost a brake while taking off, crashed, and flipped the plane over.

With facial characteristics not dissimilar to those of actor Robert Redford who starred in "The Great Waldo Pepper," a movie depicting the barnstorming pilots of the 1920s and 1930s, Stalling said he plans to keep on flying.

Aerobatic flying, he said, is a more scientific approach to barnstorming and stunt flying. Barnstorming and stunt flying, he said, were achieved in the old days of aviation by a seat-of-the-pants approach.

Seemingly undismayed by the dangers of his occupation, Stallings said he sees aerobatic flying as a kind of ultimate test of the pilot's abilities.

"I plan to keep on flying," said Stallings.

Theft, Mishap Reported Here

A theft and a minor traffic accident topped the list of police reports filed Wednesday.

Jan Smith of 3001 Ave. M told police her wedding rings are missing and thought to be stolen. The reported theft of the $95 rings is alleged to have occurred between Sept. 3 and Sept. 7.

A minor traffic accident occurred in the 5000 block of College Ave. Wednesday at 3:53 p.m.

Involved in the mishap were a 1976 Oldsmobile driven by Darla Floyd of Ira and a 1976 Ford driven by Roy Holmes of Snyder.

Presley Family Wants Bodies At Graceland

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)- Elvis Presley's family wants to move the bodies of the singer and his mother to a garden at Graceland Mansion.

D. Beecher Smith II, an attorney for the family, submitted a request Wednesday to the Board of Adjustment for an exception or variation to the residential zoning of the singer's 13-acre estate.

A variation would be required before the bodies could be moved from the mausoleum at Forest Hill Cemetery to the Meditation Garden on the mansion grounds. The cemetery is about three miles north of Graceland.

Smith said in a letter the board should grant an exception because it is impossible to provide adequate security for the bodies at Forest Hill. Smith said the cost to the family of providing security at the cemetery is about $200 a day.

The 42-year-old singer, who died Aug. 16 after an apparent heart attack, was entombed two days after his death. The body of his mother, Gladys Love Presley, was moved from a grave in the cemetery to the mausoleum after her son's body was placed there, Mrs. Presley died Aug. 14, 1958.

The application sought permission for as many as six burial sites at the Meditation Garden, which visitors said is on the south side of the mansion grounds.

The petition said the mansion is surrounded by a high stone wall and guarded 24 hours a day. The family's request is expected to be heard at the board's next meeting Sept. 28.

Eleven days after Presley's coffin was sealed in its crypt, three men were arrested near the cemetery and charged with trespassing. Police officials said they had received a tip the body would be stolen and held for ransom.

Police Director E. Winslow Chapman later called the scheme a hoax, but a man identified as a police informant maintains the body was to be held for $10 million ransom.

DAC CHAPTER ORGANIZES--An organizational meeting of the Daughters of American Colonists Chapter was held recently in the home of Mrs. Gene L. Dulaney. Left to right, Mrs. Leland S. Herod, first vice regent; Miss Josie Baird, regent; and Mrs. P.M. McKee, organizing officer and Texas state registrar, were present to aid in the organization of the local chapter.

DAC Chapter Meets

A new Chapter of Daughters of American Colonists was organized in Snyer on August 29th in the home of Mrs. Gene L. Dulaney.

At the meeting of the National Board of NSDAC in June of 1976 Miss Josie Baird of Rotan was appointed organizing regent of a new chapter to be organized in this area. Interested persons in the Snyder-Rotan area were invited to membership. In the 1977 June board meeting of the National Society the new chapter was officially confirmed with sixteen new members and two transfers from the William Norwood Chapter of Abilene.

Mrs. P.M. McKee of Abilene, state DAC registrar, was organizing officer. She was assisted by Mrs. Michael J. Wingo, Texas State "Courier" chairman, and Mrs. Bernie C. McCrea, all members of William Norwood Chapter.

Miss Baird, organizing regent, opened the meeting, and introduced the organizing officers.

Mrs. McKee welcomed the new members and spoke briefly on the scope of the organization. Mrs. Wingo stated the objectives of the Daughters of American Colonists which are patriotic, historical and educational--fostering a love of America and its institutions, obedience to its laws, and respect of its flag which is the emblem of its power and a civic righteousness; doing research and preservation of that research through publishing findings, and depicting the men who founded in America the principles upon which our present United States was conceived and established; and through these aims become more aware of our great country's present needs, more perceptive of its present and future potential greatness, and alert to the pitfalls to be evaded.

Mrs. McCrea acted as chaplian for the installation of officers.

Miss Baird was asked to announce the chosen name of the new chapter, and to give a brief history of the man for whom the Chapter was named--George Cogdell. She noted that George Cogdell is of record in North Carolina as one of the orphan sons of one John Cogdell who was deceased as of 1912 in that state. His name appears with that of his brother, Richard Cogdell, on many records found in N.C. colonial records during the 18th century. These young men are typical of the colonial ancestors of the pioneer west Texans who are progenitors of many present residents of this area. Mrs. Lawson Stiff is a descendant of George Cogdell.

The following officers, having been formerly approved by national board, were installed by Mrs. McKee: Miss Josie Baird, regent; Mrs. Leland S. Herod, first vice regent; Mrs. Lawson Stiff, second vice regent; Mrs. Henry F. Clark chaplain; Mrs. Ferhlin E. Tutt, Miss Delila Baird, registrar; Mrs. J. Whit Clark, treasurer; Mrs. Darthulia Green Hale, historian; Mrs. Ruple Morrow, librarian; and Mrs. Jimmy Don Hale, parliamentarian.

the chapter regent presided for a brief business session. She brought greetings which had been received by telephone from Mrs. Hugh Hamilton McCullough of Louisville, Ky. national organizing secretary; Mrs. James E. Crews of Huntsville, state regent; Mrs. Robert D. Evans of Devers, state organizing secretary; and Mrs. Grady Kirby of Houston, co-state organizing secretary.

Mrs. Herod, program and yearbook chairman, gave a report on programs planned for the year and announced that yearbooks would be ready for distribution soon.

Following adjournment of the meeting Mrs. Dulaney served refreshments to members and guests.

Reconstruction Offered Victims Of Breast Cancer

CHICAGO (AP)-Women who have had breast cancer operations should not be stigmatized for wanting plastic surgery to give them a new breast rather than a prosthesis made of cloth or plastic, says an American Cancer Society official.

"It seems grossly unfair that once she has lost her breast, there is a stigma attached to wanting to get it back." Francine E. Timothy told the society's second national conference on human values and cancer on Wednesday.

"Whether a woman can have breast reconstruction is entirely up to the surgeon, but she should at least be allowed to want one without being judged," said Mrs. Timothy, who is director of the society's Reach to Recovery Program and who has had a breast removed. The agency is designed to help women who have had mastectomies, or surgical removal of the breast.

"For some women, the hope of an eventual breast reconstruction is the one thing that makes them hold on to life which may already be complicated or depressing" because of a breast amputation, she told about 1,700 persons at the conference.

"Any amputation is a terrible thing, but some amputations are more symbolic than others, and this particular one causes an internal turmoil that logical reasoning doesn't quiet," said Mrs. Timothy.

Many women have no idea to whom they could ask questions about a reconstruction, and often don't ask at all out of timidity. It is the fear of being judged vain or frivolous that keeps some women from looking into the possibilities, she said.

Artificial breasts, made of cloth and plastic, are worn by thousands of women who have lost a breast to cancer.

Instead of prosthesis, many women wish to have plastic surgery to give them a new breast, and they have many reasons for the desire, said Mrs. Timothy, who said she has not had plastic surgery.

"Imagine, each one of you, that every single morning you must attach an extra thing to your body, a thing of considerable weight which you can't forget, ever, during the day because it must constantly be checked," Mrs. Timothy said.

"In my interviews with operated women, I found that young women care desperately about being obliged to live with only one breast, but I found that married women care as much, and single women care as much and older women care as much."

Perhaps," Mrs. Timothy continued, "breast reconstruction is almost more important to an older woman. A mastectomy is particularly hard on a woman who is already having trouble accepting the fact of growing older."

OBSTACLE COURSE PLANNED--Stanfield Elementary PTA has worked during the summer months gathering supplies to build an obstacle course for the students to use in their gym class or play time. This project headed by Kay Redeker is pictured with Joel Griffin (center) principal, and Troy Scott, PE instructor. Supplies were donated by local companies.

Fair Expects Big Food Display

Blue ribbons on a row of jars of delicious-looking canned foods are an eye-catching sight, and there should be an unusually large exhibit at the County Fair Sept. 29, 30, & Oct 1, this year.

If you have canned food and you wonder whether to enter it in the fair, here are some guidelines.

Select your prettiest jars of food. The type of canning the fair judges will be looking for is the kind that you'd like to be able to serve your family and friends regularly. Don't try to do "Fancy Pack" for the Fair; just bring your best regular canning.

The color should be right for the product. Green beans should be "green bean colored" and carrots, tomatoes, etc. should all have a good color for the product they are.

The stage of development of the product should be at it's best for serving; snapped beans should be young and tender and all near the same stage of development. "Pieces" in a jar should be similar in size, except when it is a mixture of products. For example peach halves and slices packed together will not score as well, usually, as either sliced or halved ones.

The jars should be filled to the neck. They're best when the liquid covers the product, but a good pack means you'll have a jar full of food-not a jar of water. This won't be true for certain products, like berries, where there's never a jar full after they are heated.

Select only products packed in "standard" canning jars. This means jars that were manufactured for home canning. Usually they have a brand name in raised letters on the side. Most jars bought with mayonnaise, pickles, etc. do not have a brand name; they are called "one-trip jars" by the manufacturers, and are not acceptable at the County Fair because they are not recommended for home canning.

The Kerr Jar Manufacturing Company gives some special awards at our fair for products canned in Kerr jars using Kerr lids. If you have some good products canned in these jars enter them and try to win a dozen Kerr jars: Ribbons are not affected by the brand of jars used.

Bring your products to be entered to the County Coliseum between 1 and 8 p.m. on Wednesday September 28. Please write your name and the name of the product on a piece of paper and attach to each jar.

Remember, it's the Scurry County Fair, and everyone is needed to keep it the best fair ever. Pick out your best products and bring them to the Fair.

Opening lead — 10♥

By Oswald & James Jacoby

This hand from "Bridge is Beautiful" shows how responder handles a good hand with weak three-card support for partner's opening bid. He starts with a two-diamond response. Maybe the hand belongs in notrump or in a minor suit. Then when South rebids to two hearts, North stops exploration and goes on to the heart game.

West opens the 10 of trumps and South ducks the first trump lead to keep control of the suit. East leads a second trump and South takes his ace. Four hearts is a cinch. There is one spade loser plus two trump losers. Can you see how to avoid that spade loser?

South cashes his ace of diamonds, enters dummy with a club, discards a spade on the king of diamonds, ruffs a diamond, enters dummy with a second club, ruffs dummy's last diamond and is pleased to see that all the diamonds have been played.

South plays more clubs. East's best defense is not to ruff, but even that does him no good. South simply throws him in with his last high trump and he is forced to lead away from the king of spades.

Ask the Jacobys

An Oregon reader wants to know what we bid in response to partner's one-heart opening with:

♠xxxx ♥xx ♦xx ♣AKxxx?

We respond with one spade with one notrump as our second choice and pass as a third choice. We definitely do not respond two clubs and have no great confidence in whatever response we make.

U.S. Open Tennis Championships...

Stove Chars Tracy's Dream

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)-Chris Evert beat the past and Betty Stove beat the future to advance to their semifinal matchup at the U.S. Open tennis championships.

The top-seeded Miss Evert provided a barometer for Billie Jean King's continuing singles comeback Wednesday night with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over the former queen of women's tennis.

About 4½ hours earlier, Tracy Austin, the 14-year-old future queen of tennis, drove her Cinderella carriage to center court. But Miss Stove turned the clock to midnight with a powerful 6-2, 6-2 triumph.

In the other women's quarter-finals matches today, No. 2 seed Martina Navratilova, the Czech expatriate now playing out of Dallas, faced No. 10 Mima Jausovec of Yugoslavia and third-seeded Virginia Wade of Britain met Wendy Turnbull, the No. 12 seed from Australia.

With all the hoopla attached to Miss Austin, the most famous school girl this side of Amy Carter, a pair of men sneaked less dramatically into the semifinals.

Guillermo Vilas, the No. 4 seed from Argentinia, could do no wrong in his 6-1, 6-1, 6-0 rout of unseeded Ray Moore of South Africa. Vilas has a Saturday semifinal date with Harold Solomon, the No. 12 seed from Silver Spring, Md., who wore down No. 10 Dick Stockton of Carrolton, Tex., 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

The other semifinal pairing will be determined today. Brian Gottfried, the No. 3 seed from Lauderhill, Fla., plays surprising Corrado Barazzutti of Italy and second-seeded Jimmy Connors, Belleville, Ill., meets fifth-rated Manuel Orantes of Spain.

While school bells were beginning to ring around the country, Miss Austin-set to enter the ninth grade in Rolling Hills, Calif. a week from today-was given a professional tennis lesson by Miss Stove.

Rangers Connect Against Minnesota

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)-Texas designated hitter Willie Horton penetrated the Minnesota Twins' defensive shift Wednesday night, and in the process helped the Rangers defeat the Twins and salvage the final game of a three-game series.

Horton drove in Toby Harrah from first with an opposite-field double in the sixth inning to lift the Rangers to a 4-3 win.

Harrah had walked to lead off the inning with the score tied 3-3. With one out, the Twins shifted second baseman Bobby Randall to the left side of second base in an effort to retire the pull-hitting Horton.

But Horton, who had given the Rangers a 1-0 lead in the second inning with his 13th home run into the right-centerfield bullpen, drilled a slicing liner to right and Harrah, who was running with the pitch, scored from first.

Rightfielder Rich Chiles had also been moved toward center field and was unable to field the ball quickly enough to prevent Harrah from scoring.

"I've been watching him for two nights now and everytime it looks like he's trying to swing that way," said Chiles.

"His home run came right at dusk and I had trouble seeing it.

The win halted a four-game losing streak by the Rangers and gave them a glimmer of hope in catching division-leading Kansas City. Texas Manager Billy Hunter, who admitted after losing the first two games of the series to the Twins that things were getting desperate, refused to concede the Western Division title to the Royals.

"All I can hope for is that Kansas City goes into a losing streak like the one we've been in," he said. "We really needed this win, it picked us up."

Staubach To Stay Under Protection

DALLAS (AP)-Don't look for Rodger the Doger to be doing his thing tonight.

Roger Staubach, the 35-year-old Cowboy quarterback with a penchant for wild scrambles, says he will stay where National Football League quarterbacks his age should stay-in the pocket.

The Cowboys host the Pittsburgh Steelers in nationally televised National Football League preseason game with some 50,000 fans expected in Texas Stadium.

Staubach has been bothered by a pulled hamstring muscle and missed two preseason games.

"I've played before when I didn't run," says Staubach. "I don't want to jeopardize my chances against Minnesota in the season opener Sept. 18. If I get in trouble I'll just lay the ball off."

The Cowboys brass is worried that any sudden dash by Staubach might reinjure the hamstring.

"He's in good shape but he has to be careful he doesn't sprint," said Dallas Coach Tom Landy.

There will be one person on the field tonight who doesn't have to worry about going high speed and that's Steeler running back Franco Harris, who has been having a workhorse preseason.

Westerners Begin Schedule Today

Western Texas College golf team begins its fall season today at the New Mexico Intercollegiate Junior College Tournament in Hobbs, N.M.

Coach Bob O'Day will be taking a "blue team" and a "Green team" to the two-day 54-hole tournament which will feature other squads from the conference.

Bass Club Views Film

A film entitled "Big Mouth" will be shown here tonight, sponsored by the Dean Floyd, president of the local club, said the film presents a study of the large mouth black bass.

Floyd said all persons interested in bass fishing are invited to attend and admission is free.

Snyder Execution May Make Difference...

Bulldogs 'Similar To Lobos'

The Tigers jump from Lobos to Bulldogs this week as they invade Borger Stadium 7:30 Friday night for the season's second contest. Snyder, 24-0 victims of Monahans last week, will have a difficult time finding a victory against the District 1-AAA second-ranked team, but it will be exactly what they are shooting for.

"They're no super-team," notes Coach Mike Jenkins, who rates Borger about equal to Monahans in ability.

What Snyder will have to do, is correct the mistakes they made so frequently against the Lobos, execution, fumbles, lack of consistancy.

"Our offense will have to be more consistant," Coach Jenkins agrees. "Defensively, if we improve like we have been we're going to be real strong there."

The Tiger defense played a respectable game Friday against Monahans. They halted the Lobos twice inside the 20, and never allowed a drive of any length to materialize. But unfortunately, they didn't need to. The Tiger offense, lacking woefully in experience with nine newcomers in the ranks, turned the ball over three times in the second half and produced one 13 yard punt in the first half. It was too much for any defense to handle. Monahans took full advantage of the errors.

But the offense too, had its moments. Clay Peterson led the game in rushing for 60 yards, averaging 4.2 yards per carry. And, Snyder's aerial attack looked promising also, completing five of eight tosses.

In hopes of sparking the running attack Friday, Jenkins moved 190-lb. Tommy Smith to fullback and switched Richard Crayton to defensive safety. Peterson will move over to the tailback position.

Continuing on throughout the offense, probable starters include: Clay Johnson at quarterback, Jett Terry at split end and Mitch Mackey or Mike Hicks at tight end. David Lee at flanker. Mark Schaufele at center. C.B. Edmiston and Richard Willis or David English at the gaurd slots, and Baron Land and Scott Crenwelge at the tackle positions.

Defensively, Gary Hamilton takes a turn at noseguard. Richard Willis and John Hopkins take up the tackle posts. Hubert Thompson and David English will be on the ends. Wes Partain and Randy Shipp will go at linebacker. Dray Sikes and David Zajicek man the halfback slots. Crayton at safety, and Joe Longbothom is to return at monster.

Borger, 42-14 victors over District 4-AAAA cellar warmer Lubbock High last week, also has experience throughout its offense, and like Snyder, presents a tough defense for opponents to deal with.

14 lettermen were welcomed back from last year's 5-5 team. Probable offensive starters for Coach Jim Breckenridge's Bulldogs include capable quarterback Greg Fleming (140-lb. junior.), with Richard Horn (170) and Ricky Ennis (170) at the ball carrying positions. Standouts are aerial targets John Plumley (6-3, 200-lb., 4.7 speed) and Dennis Rion (6-3, 200) at the ends. Along the line are David Washer (175) at center, Lee Gross (175) and Jim Cooper (185) at guard, and Greg Tallant (180) and B. Sharp (200) at tackle. Flanker is 155-lb. Bryan Foster.

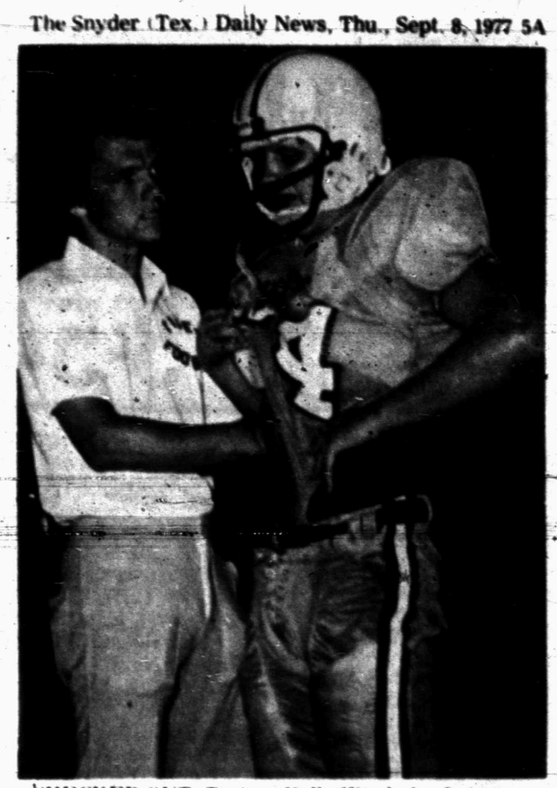
At defensive right end is big Tommy Casioa, a 6-3, 200-lb. veteran, and at right tackle is "bigger" Greg Smith (6-3, 215). Tony Elrod (175) and Mark Woodard (175) crank the other side of Borger's defensive line.

All-State candidate Plumley and Greg Sargent man the linebacker slots with 185-lb. Craig Maxwell at noseguard. Randy Chaney and Bryan Foster are far backers with Mark Poole at monster and D. Sahlt at safety.

Tiger Coach Jenkins remains optimistic concerning his team's chances this week, and related the squad had a real good workout Tuesday in conversation Wednesday.

The only Tiger out with injuries for the Borger contest is Cary Welsh. Welsh started at right guard last week.

Game captains for the week are center Mark Schaufele (170-lb. senior) and defensive back Dray Sikes (160-lb. senior).



CHECKED OUT--Trainer Kelly Wood checks out a minor injury reported by John Hopkins during last week's Snyder-Monahans. Hopkins, 180-lb. senior, will start at defensive right tackle for the Tigers Friday night at 7:30 when they take on the Bulldogs at Borger Stadium. (SDN Staff Photo)

Sideline Glances...

Plotting (Sigh!) The Predictions

BY BILL MCCLELLAN

Predictions again. It's a plot.

When I left the news office Friday night, I was confident in my pickings. I had missed only three predicted winners (Jayton, Hobbs and Snyder), out of 15 results in. The worst I could do now was miss the Spur-Rotan victor (so I figured) with that game plus the Andrews-Big Spring and Lamesa-Carlsbad results still forthcoming.

NOT SO. Something went wrong. (It's a plot.).

Big Spring, supposedly a district doormat, and Andrews (state ranked) tied. If that wasn't enough, Carlsbad bounced Lamesa, 10-0. I didn't need to look at the Spur-Rotan outcome. I knew instantly that Spur failed to jingle-jangle for me.

It's a plot.

Despite turning in a rather sickly .611 percentage, I found I was not alone in making faulty predictions. Many West Texas prognosticators were embarrassed, too. It was a good feeling to note that I also tied for the "lead" in our local poll with Mickey Nunley, Booster Club prez.

MICKEY WAS the only picker to correctly chose Weinert over Hobbs, by the way.

Now for upcoming games...I'll hang with Snyder to edge Borger by a SLIM margin, partly because I feel that time is all they need to build a good competitive team, and partly because I have no desire to drive two hundred-odd miles to write about a team that I have picked to lose.

Seriously, if Snyder can get its offense on track they could come home a roaring victor.

In addition, I'll go with Forsan to slip past Borden County and Wellman to sneak around Hermleigh. Reasoning: Borden County, at one time rated 10th in the state, is without starting QB Blane Dyess. Substitute Travis Reinhart is a good one, no doubt, but Gail will be hard pressed to get past Forsan anyway. Give me a healthy Dyess and BC will give me a win.

Meanwhile, Hermleigh will really have a test Friday when they try out Wellman. Three-Way and Wellman are the choices in the 3-B north zone, and Wellman edged out TW 19-18 last week. If Coach Spieker's Cardinals can beat Wellman Friday...watch out!

IN MORE reasonable predictions, Sweetwater gets the nod over C-City; Ira and Hobbs will win; Dunbar will hand Coronado it's second straight loss; Lake View will snore through Eagle Pass; Seminole should club the Cubs; Roscoe'll rob Rotan (barely); Roby will hammer Hawley; and with fingers crossed, Jayton will jolt Spur.

College: Tech to defeat Baylor; Texas over Boston College; Houston over UCLA in good one; and the Irish over Pitt.

ALL IN ALL, it looks like a good week to 'up' the meager percentages of last week. But I can't bank on it; it's a plot.

Bryan Takes A Nosedive

By The Associated Press

Bryan, ranked No. 2 in the AP's preseason poll, was expected to battle top ranked Sherman in the early part of the season for the No. 1 billing.

San Angelo ended that abruptly last week however, with a surprisingly easy 38-7 victory to knock Bryan out of this week's 4A rankings. The victory also earned San Angelo the No. 8 spot in this week's poll.

While San Angelo created the biggest waves, Sherman in 4A, Mount Pleasant in 3A, Yoakum in 2A, Poth in A and Wheeler in B all kept their No. 1 crowns untarnished.

Sherman held onto its Class 4A ranking with a 50-26 rout of Hurst Bell.

Mount Pleasant polled 10 first place votes and easily held its top billing in 3A but two other teams stumbled. Andrews, ranked No. 3 last week, fought Class 4A Big Spring to a 14-14 tie and dropped to ninth this week. Dickinson, ranked sixth last week, disappeared after a 36-35 loss to Huntsville.

Brownwood, which defeated 4A Abilene Cooper 15-6 and Gainesville, have moved into a share for the lead in 3A.

Here is The Associated Press Texas Schoolboy Football Poll with first place votes in parentheses, season records and points based on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1

Massage Parlor Patron Not There for Backrub

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to HURT WIFE, who asked, "What makes a happily married, religious man go to a place like a massage parlor?" you replied: "Curiosity. Lust. An itch for variety. The fear of missing something. Wanting to be 'one of the boys.' Being too chicken to refuse when one of his pals suggested it. Temporary insanity."

Abby, did it ever occur to you that maybe he just wanted a massage!

ARTHUR

DEAR ARTHUR: It's possible. But if YOU had been writing this column for more than 20 years, I'll bet that's the LAST answer you'd have come up with.

DEAR ABBY: I may be old-fashioned, but I can't see teaching sixth and seventh graders sex in the schoolroom. They are a long way from needing that kind of information. Why rush them? If you start putting ideas about sex into their heads, first thing you know, they'll start experimenting.

No wonder we have so many unmarried mothers among teenagers. I read in your column that venereal disease is now an epidemic in this country.

What can be done to stop all this sex education, Abby?

CONCERNED IN ILLINOIS

DEAR CONCERNED: If there really WERE all the sex education you claim there is, we'd have LESS teenage pregnancy and V.D.—not more.

No one has to put "ideas" about sex into the heads of children. It's there already. Sexual feelings and curiosity about sex are natural and normal in all children. And so is experimenting.

Ideally, parents should provide their children with a proper sex education, but surveys show that most of them do not, so some schools provide it. Unfortunately, the only states that have laws requiring sex education in the schools are Hawaii, Kentucky, Michigan, Maryland, Missouri and North Dakota. (Louisiana expressly forbids it.) The old saying, "What you don't know can't hurt you" is not true. On the contrary—it CAN hurt you. And it's hurting all of us.

DEAR ABBY: Why do people place so much importance on manners? From the time kids learn to walk and talk, adults hassle them about manners and being polite.

I don't see what good it does to stand up when an older person or a lady comes into the room. And there are dozens of other rules that come under the heading of "manners" that make no sense at all.

Maybe you can explain it to me.

DON'T GET IT

DEAR DON'T: To answer your question, no one said it better than the late and great Amy Vanderbilt:

"Good manners are the traffic rules for society in general. Without good manners, living would be chaotic, human beings unbearable to each other. Reduced to a phrase, good manners is consideration of other people in respect to their feelings, their safety, their privacy and their full social rights and privileges."

Students Who Defaulted On Loans Beware

By WARREN E. LEARY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-If you borrowed money from Uncle Sam to get through college and neglected to pay him back, there may soon be a bill collector looking for you.

The government, getting tough with some 390,000 recipients of federally insured student loans who never paid them off, is turning over about $430 million in bad debts to private collection agencies.

So, if you're among the one in six federal loan recipients who defaulted since the program began nine years ago, there's the prospect that your credit rating may be jeopardized unless you pay up.

The Office of Education, part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has been trying to collect on the loans, but hasn't been successful, so it's calling in the pros.

If you're one of those in default, though, you'll be given one last chance to repay before your file is turned over to a collector, says a federal official.

"We want to give them a chance to pay because, if their files go to collectors, we want them to know what they are getting into," says Leo Kornfeld, deputy HEW commissioner for student finance assistance.

"They could be jeopardizing their future credit ratings and could have trouble later getting mortgages, credit cards or car loans."

Kornfeld said the decision to use private collection agencies is "rooted in our firm conviction that those who are able but unwilling to pay their debts do a grave injustice to the American public who provided them with an opportunity for education.

"Unfortunately, there is an attitude on many campuses that this is government money, it's a soft touch and you can get out of paying it back," Kornfeld said in an interview.

"This will almost be an educational lesson in a way," he said. "a part of growing up is learning that you have to pay off your debts."

Kornfeld said the response to his department's invitation to private organizations to bid for the first collection contract has been "overwhelming."

The winning bidder will be required to locate the negligent borrowers and set up a schedule for them to repay the government.

If unsuccessful, the collector will recommend to the government other measures it can take, including legal action.

Kornfeld said the first contract will be awarded and files sent to the collection agency by December. The contracts will prohibit unethical harassment tactics, he added.

Kornfeld said the collection agencies will work for a percentage of payments collected. No additional federal money will be used to finance the program, he said.

Elephants live to be about 60 years old and when one of the herd dies can show almost human grief.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful who you assign to handle your business affairs today. Put the wrong person in the driver's seat and you'll end up with egg on your face.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Both you and your mate are more edgy than you realize today. Some inconsequential word or action could cause a spontaneous flare-up.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) "Safety First" is always a sound rule. This is particularly important to you if using new or unfamiliar equipment.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't spring any sudden changes that disrupt family routine today. You'll get everybody rattled with your disregard for their feelings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You are not noted for making snap judgments, but you may do so to your own detriment today. Stick to your familiar pattern of moving cautiously.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take no financial risks today. Don't buy anything that is more novel than utilitarian. Your yardstick should be predicated on a practical scale.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A misunderstanding could arise between you and a friend today over something silly. Quash it before a foolish barrier is erected.

LEO (July 23-Aug.22) Your timing could be off today regarding when and how to close a deal. You can rectify this by being aware that "when" is just as important as "how."

FUZZO AND FRIENDS--This group of boys and girls visited with Fuzzo the Snyder Clown at the muscular dystrophy benefit movie presented by Snyder Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes at the Snyder Cinema. Donations and ticket sales raised $370.48 for MD to be presented with Snyder's Contribution to the Jerry Lewis Telethon.

Snyderites Join Fight Against MD

Snyder residents combined their efforts and raised a fantastic $5,819 for Muscular Dystrophy over the Labor Day Weekend.

Snyder Jaycee-ettes operated the call station in conjunction with Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. This was the center of local efforts in the drive.

Many local youths conducted door-to-door campaigns in their neighborhoods. They collected $885.32 for "Jerry's Kids."

"Fuzzo the Snyder Clown" (Howard Brenneman) clowned for MD, the Trinity Methodist Youth and their sponsors conducted a carnival for MD and the Snyder Jaycees collected money at their annual Labor Day Rest Stop and contributed profits from their benefit movie. Individual, clubs and businesses pledged money to support the MD campaign.

Snyder Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes expressed thanks to a group of merchants who contributed food and drinks to the workers in the telethon. These include Bob's Delicatessen, Cash Food, the Dairy Queens, Furr's Supermarket, Ken's Pizza, Lota Burger, Morton Foods and Piggly Wiggly. The Jaycee-ettes also expressed appreciation to Snyder Community Antenna Television for hooking up their cable.

Dylan Seeks Custody Of Children

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)-Singer Bob Dylan, contending that his ex-wife violated a court order by taking their four youngest children to Hawaii without his permission, has asked that he be granted sole custody of the children.

In documents filed in Superior Court, Dylan claimed that his ex-wife, Sara, took the children-three boys and a girl ranging in age from 6 to 11-to Maui, Hawaii, earlier this month.

The legal action did not involve the couple's older daughter who is in a private East Coast school and was not taken to Hawaii.

An attorney for Dylan's ex-wife said she had "violated no court orders of any kind" and characterized the legal action as "precipitous, hysterical and without foundation."

The couple was divorced in June after 11 years of marriage.

Drinking Mother Likely To Bear A Sickly Child

By DANIEL Q. HANEY
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP)-Women who drink heavily are twice as likely to bear sickly, deformed babies as mothers who use liquor moderately or not at all, a new study shows.

"There is definitely increased risk to offspring of women who drink heavily during pregnancy," said the study in today's New England Journal of Medicine.

The study said the health of the babies of moderate drinkers-women who drink more than once a month but do not fit into the category of heavy drinkers-and teetotalers was virtually the same.

The findings are based on a review by Boston University doctors of the drinking habits of 633 pregnant women at Boston City Hospital.

Earlier studies have warned of the dangers of drinking to the unborn, but this is the first report that measures the odds of this damage occurring.

Dr. Eileen M. Oullette, who directed the study, said she recommends that women give up drinking completely while pregnant.

"It's unknown whether there is a safe amount that can be ingested," she said in an interview. "Alcohol crosses the placenta and goes directly into the baby."

Some of the women cut down on their drinking during pregnancy, but the doctors said only two of the 27 women who drank heavily throughout pregnancy had normal infants.

The study defined heavy drinkers as those who consume five or more drinks daily, or an average of more than 1½ ounces of pure alcohol a day. However, the heavy drinkers in the test consumed an average of more than 6 ounces of pure alcohol a day.

The doctors discovered a variety of abnormalities among the babies of the heavy drinkers.

Seventeen per cent of the heavy drinkers' children had serious birth defects, they said, compared with 3 per cent of the babies of nondrinkers, defined as women who drink less than once a month.

The babies of the heavy drinkers were also far more likely to be jittery, unable to suck well and have small heads and brains and poor muscle tone.

Overall, 71 per cent of the heavy drinkers' children had some kink of abnormality, compared with 36 per cent of the nondrinkers' babies, they said.

A normal, healthy human heart beats 72 times per minute. A hummingbird's heart beats 2,000 each minute.

Introducing Funk & Wagnalls New Encyclopedia.

Recommended by American Library Association Booklist Review*

The best way to get information is to go to the source.

And that's exactly what Funk & Wagnalls has been doing since 1876, when they began publishing reference books.

Their sources for this new Centennial Edition include hundreds and hundreds of prominent people. Each a recognized authority in his, or her, field of knowledge. Many with Nobel and Pulitzer prizes to their credit. And while they're too numerous to list here, you'll find they're all listed in Volume 1.

The result is a comprehensive, accurate home reference center with over 193,000 indexed subjects. (That's as many subjects as encyclopedias costing hundreds of dollars more contain.)

And each article is written in clear, simple English that gets to the heart of the subject without going over your head.

That's why the experts recommend Funk & Wagnalls.

To introduce you to Funk & Wagnalls New Encyclopedia, we sell Volume 1 at the remarkable introductory price of only 49¢.

So instead of going through a salesman's sales pitch, you just go through Volume 1 and let it convince you to buy the rest of the set.

That way, you find out if it's the right encyclopedia for your family before you pay for the whole set. And you save two ways. First, because Funk & Wagnalls sells their encyclopedias through supermarkets instead of through salesmen there's no commission to pay. Second, because supermarkets can sell in great volume, Funk & Wagnalls can afford to charge you less per volume.

So stop by the Funk & Wagnalls display in any of our supermarkets and pick up Volume 1. It's one of the smartest purchases you can make these days.

Old Sparky Is Going Out Of Business

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - With Texas' first scheduled execution by injection only a week off, state officials have decided to completely retire the state's electric chair and use a general anesthetic for the lethal dose.

The Department of Corrections earlier had said it planned to use "Old Sparky" as a place to restrain persons to be given the fatal injections.

But TDC spokesman Ron Taylor said Wednesday that TDC Director Estelle had chosen instead to use a hospital gurney.

A gurney is a stretcher on wheels with straps to hold the passenger.

After reviewing TDC lethal drug research that indicated three options, Estelle decided on sodium thiopental, a general anesthetic.

Loss of consciousness comes almost immediately after the drug is injected, Taylor said, and death would occur "within minutes."

The two other drugs under consideration were succinylcholine chloride and sodium cyanide. The former is a muscle relaxant while the latter is a "contact poison," Taylor said.

The drug research was aided by unnamed consultants, whose identity TDC "intends to protect," Taylor added.

Unless a stay of execution is granted, the new execution form will be used Sept. 16 on convicted Fort Worth mass murderer and rapist Kenneth Granviel.

The U.S. Supreme Court turned down Granviel's appeal earlier this year and let stand a decision by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals that Granviel was properly convicted in the fatal stabbing of 2-year-old Natasha McClendon.

Granviel admitted killing five members of the McClendon family on Oct. 7, 1974, in a night of terror, and killing two women on Feb. 8, 1975. He said the killings "occurred in a frenzy" brought on by his sexual urges.

Texas' execution-by-injection law went into effect Aug. 29.

While the death seat has changed from the polished oak of "Old Sparky" to the white linen of a gurney, executions will still be performed in the death chamber behind the ivy walls of the Huntsville Unit of the TDC.

final pitiful effort

It is final and official. Martha Mitchell, the distraught wife of his Attorney General and campaign manager, John Mitchell, is blamed by Richard Nixon for Watergate. If anybody knows the inside story of the most bizarre scandal in the nation's history, the central figure and most conspicuous victim should be that person.

Watergate was quite a deal. More than 40 associates and subordinates working out of the White House were sent to prision for offenses ranging from perjury to conspiracy to conceal evidence in a judicial proceeding. The principal figure in the whole affair became the only U.S. President in history to resign in order to avoid impeachment.

As beneficiary of a Presidental pardon before he was indicted for violating the law or formally charged with impeachable offenses while in office, Richard Nixon is assured he will never have to answer in a court of law for anything he said or did during the months of national humiliation called Watergate.

But he has been telling a version of the affair for a price, which knowledgeable observers believe will make him once more a millionaire. Latest development is the announcement that the fifth and final installment of the televised interview with English journalist David Frost will be released later.

The summary, carried in Sunday's newspapers, once more reveals refusal of Richard Nixon to admit that he did anything worse than trusting associates who failed to cover up evidence that sent him into retirement.

In the latest, and hopefully the last, installment of his interview with English journalist David Frost, primary responsibility for wrecking his administration was wife of former Attorney John Mitchell.

Martha Mitchell is dead and can't refute the charge. But it should be remembered that she was first to publicly charge what was later fully supported in court proceedings and Congressional hearings. Along with Martha Mitchell, White House aide H.R. Haldeman, is blamed. He didn't destroy the tapes containing inscriminating evidence of Nixon's part in conspiracy to defeat justice.

Nixon is picturing himself as the innocent victim of bungling and absorption of aides in their personal affairs. He is really saying he was too weak or indecisive to take action. His latest attempt to clear himself of wrongdoing is a pathetic demonstration of how far a self-deceived person will go to in trying to perpetuate a fiction.

nature's resilience

Mother Nature is apparently tougher and more resilient than we think, at least as far as oil spills are concerned.

A study by Massachusetts Institute of Technology has found that the fragile ecologies of coastal areas can survive and, given enough time, recover from the effects of this kind of pollution.

There have never been more massive oil spills than occurred during World War II. In the first six months of 1942 alone, tankers sunk by German U-boats dumped more than 3.4 million barrels of oil and gasoline off the Atlantic coast.

This is five times more oil than was involved in history's worst single spill, the Torry Canyon disaster off England in 1967, and 20 times the cargo carried by the Argo Merchant, which broke up off Massachusetts last December.

The MIT study, which was funded by a grant from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, focused on two areas hit by the wartime spills: Ocracoke Island, N.C., where more than 160,000 barrels came ashore, and northern New Jersey coast waters, which were sheared with 264,000 barrels.

The researchers found that in both cases, "regional wildlife and economy (fishing) survived with minimal difficutly."

This is immensely encouraging, but no cause for complacency. What it really means is that the only reason we did not long ago damage vast stretches of the world's coastlines beyond repair is not because of human wisdom but thanks to sheer dumb luck.

There are limits to the environment's capacity to absorb and rebound from human abuse. If we have fortunately not exceeded them in the case of oil spills, we may be pressing dangerously close in other areas.

backward behavior

When the United States elected to host the United Nations it was assumed that these foreign "guests" would always be on their best behavior.

In the years since, however, the world's backward nations have come to dominate the General Assembly--and many brought with them their backward ways.

Last year three cars registered to Idi Amin's Ugandan Mission in the United States collected 1,761 traffic tickets in eleven months--and ignored them.

A foreign diplomat can come and go--into and out of our country--carrying cash, drugs or state secrets in his luggage--and there is not a thing we can do about it.

A foreign diplomat living in the United States can ignore his bills, let his dog bite the neighbors. He can injure and even kill people with his automobile--and there's not a thing we can do about it.

And not only are diplomats beyond the reach of our laws but their wives and children are also--and even the housemaids in their embassies!

No other nation in the world treats international emissaries as leniently as do we.

Indeed, hard pressed as New York City is to pay its bills, the city still must spend more than two million dollars a year to protect these visitors--while they ignore some two hundred thousand traffic tickets each year.

A generation ago it was the "Ugly American" who sometimes made himself unpopular and unwelcome overseas. But nowhere did we expect to flaunt the laws of a host nation.

Newsweek magazine remembers when a cultural attache at the Panamanian Embassy ran a red light in 1974--crashed into the car of a Dr. Halla Brown--a 62-year-old clinical professor of medicine at George Washington University.

The impact damaged Dr. Brown's spine, turned her into a permanent quadraplegic. Her medical bills have totalled a quarter million dollars and so far she still requires round-the-clock nursing.

Panama's Ambassador offered his condolences; nothing else.

Diplomatic immunity was intended to protect diplomats from intimidation by the host government. This is important.

In "undemcratic" countries our own diplomats might be subjected to harassment under local laws or kangaroo courts.

But this experience of Dr. Brown...

And the death of a young boy last year who was run over by the chauffeur of the Senegalese Embassy..

These incidents have finally motivated our Congress to modify the Act of 1790. If that bill passes the Senate this Fall our guests are going to be taught some manners.

Top diplomats will retain criminal and civil immunity--but not lesser embassy employees and not their servants. And the bill will require every member of the diplomatic community to carry liability insurance.

This will not clip their wings but, as United States protocol chief Erin Dobelle says, "It will require that they answer for what they do."

my turn

by john long

We have all heard how easy it is for an experienced or even an amateur burglar to break into a relatively unprotected home. From personal experience, I know it is a relatively simple task to break into my own apartment.

The other day, in my haste to get to the scene of a traffic accident to shoot a couple of pictures, I inadvertently locked myself out of my own domicile.

Because we often hear how burglars simply walk into temptingly unlocked homes, I take precautions to make sure that does not happen to me. I always lock my apartment before leaving.

On that particular day, I also succeeded in locking myself out. The tragedy was also compounded because my car keys are on the same keyring with my house keys. Since I could not go anywhere, I resolved to settle down to the task of breaking into my apartment to retrieve the misplaced keys.

Because I am new to the burglary business, I lack the stealth of an experienced burglar. Not knowing what else to do, I troubled my neighbor who lives below me for a screwdriver.

I doubt if any self-respecting burglar would bother a neighbor for a screwdriver. They buy their own, no doubt. But to me, it seemed like the appropriate thing to do.

After bumming a screwdriver off my neighbor, who just happened to have one on hand, I thought he would not mind instructing me on the finer points of burglary which I obviously lacked at the time.

He was a regular coach to me. Because my apartment is located on the second story of a two-story building, we carefully climbed out onto the awning over the front porch.

Dangerously leaning over the side of the awning, he showed me how to insert the screwdriver between the window and the window frame. By gently wiggling the screwdriver into the appropriate place, the window screen neatly popped out of place and there lay before us the entry to my apartment.

For all of my neighbor's virtues, he is a rather stocky person. Being of a slender build, and because it was my problem and not his, I made the leap for the window.

I caught the window sill with both hands and completed the breakin by crawling through.

All in all, I found the experience to be very humbling. After all, when one cannot even decently break into his own apartment without his neighbor's help, he knows he has led an easy life.

Still, if I ever find myself confronted with the same predicament again, I will feel equal to the task I know to be before me.

martha angle and robert walters

WASHINGTON (NEA)- The Republican party, which has a way of outliving its own obituary notices, appears to be recuperating rather nicely from last year's brush with extinction.

With the Aug. 27 victory of Louisiana Republican Robert Livingston, the GOP now has won three of the four special congressional elections held this year. All four seats were previously occupied by Democrats, and had been regarded as "safe" for the majority party.

Republicans have also captured 20 of 43 state legislative seats filled this year in scattered elections across the country, for a net pick-up of 14 seats. And GOP candidates have at least an even chance of winning gubernatorial elections later this fall in Virginia and New Jersey.

Considering how far the party's fortunes had sunk after the Democratic sweeps of 1974 and 1976, these by-election gains are of little practical consequence.

But GOP professionals in Washington are both relieved and heartened by the results.

"At least, it shows we're not dead," said Steven F. Stockmeyer, executive director of the National Republican Congressional Committee, which funnels financial and technical support to GOP candidates for the House.

"If we put up good candidates, run a professional campaign and stay away from ideological purity, Republicans can win elections," Stockmeyer said.

While the three new GOP congressmen elected this year in Minnesota, Washington and Louisiana are all fairly conservative, none is aligned with the doctrinaire right wingers who are forever trying to shape the Republican party in their own image.

Congressional GOP leaders and Republican National Chairman Bill Brock are convinced that the party's only hope for the future lies in the selection of solid, pragmatic candidates who can appeal to a broad spectrum of voters.

"There's no question that our successes in the special elections this year will help to encourage other good candidates to run as Republicans next year," said Brock, "and good candidates are the key to saving this party."

Ever since he took over the national chairmanship earlier this year, Brock has argued that Republican candidates can attract traditionally Democratic voters if they will go after them aggressively and address issues which concern ordinary people.

Livingston, the first Republican elected to Congress from Louisiana's 1st District in 102 years, appears to have vindicated Brock's faith.

In his initial bid for the seat last November, Livingston lost by 5,000 votes to Democrat Richard Tonry. But Tonry's own primary victory had been so tainted by vote fraud that the congressman ultimately was forced to resign and has now been sent to prison.

Livingston kept right on campaigning, and in the Aug. 27 special election, he drew almost 50 per cent of the vote as he defeated a Democrat and an independent.

In so doing, he not only ran extremely well in blue collar neighborhoods that usually vote Democratic, he also carried 22 per cent of the black vote-a remarkable improvement over his 3 per cent showing among blacks last November.

The differnece can be attributed, in large measure, to the efforts of a team of black political organizers Brock retained earlier this year as part of a $225,000 GOP National Committee drive to court black voters.

The Republicans are not out of the political woods by a longshot, but the small triumphs they have achieved in this year's state legislative and congressional elections would appear to indicate that Brock and other moderates now in control of the national party are on the right track.

letter to editor

To The Daily News:

Snyder, you have done your thing again.

It is with much gratitude and thanks to such a wonderful city for making a trip possible to a fantastic group of Miss Softball America girls, managers, coaches and chaperones.

The experience which we had when we went to Richmond, Virginia, is indescribable.

To visit our nation's capitol in Washington to these girls is something which they will never forget. I never will.

The biggest thrill was being able to see these girls play in a national tournament which we have been trying to achieve for six years since Miss Softball began in 1971.

Although we lost, our girls lost with dignity. Snyder, you have a great number of girls to be proud of. I have had a wonderful year working with a great number of people and hope the year 1978 will bring more exciting experiences to all other girls planning to play in MSA. Snyder, you're a wonderful town to live in.

ratings automatic

NEW YORK (AP)- Though municipal bonds in general still carry some stigma because of New York City's attempt to renege on repayment terms, many municipal entities still can obtain a Triple-A rating almost automatically.

San Diego County's South Bay Irrigation District won that rating a couple of weeks ago for $22.5 million or water revenue bonds. A relatively low rate of 5.6778 per cent was obtained, resulting in substantial savings.

The simple procedure involves the purchase of insurance that guarantees purchasers they will receive principal and interest payments for the life of the issue. More than $2 billion of such bonds have been sold since 1974.

Almost all the insurance so far has been issued by two organizations, the Municipal Bond Insurance Association, a consortium of four insurers, and the smaller American Municipal Bond Assurance Corp.

Since the concept is now deemed successful by John Butler, president of the Municipal Issuers Service Corp., which represents the insurers, it is possible more concerns might enter the field, and even conceivable-though industry sources don't say so-that corporate issues might be covered.

The first such bonds insured through Butler's organization, an issue of revenue bonds by the Carbondale Ill. Water and Sewer District, were brought out in 1974, a high interest period, at 8.655 per cent.

Said Butler: "Without the insurance, they might have cost the issuer ½ of 1 per cent more in interest costs." That is, they probably would have carried a Single-A or a B rating.

The San Diego irrigation district bonds represent the biggest issue protected through the service corporation, and perhaps also the biggest saving to the issuer. Butler estimates the district will save more than $500,000.

While each issue is evaluated separately by MISC, it claims the savings to the issuers or underwriters, whichever pays the fee, amount to ½ or ¾ or a full percentage point.

Cost of the insurance is about ½ of 1 per cent on an annualized basis, paid in full at the time the insurance is purchased. It results, says Butler, in savings of $5 to $7 for every dollar put up.

The benefits, he claims, are spread all around.

The service corporation and the insurers-The Aetna Casualty and Surety Co., St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance, Aetna Insurance sometimes called "Little Aetna", and U.S. Fire Insurance-find the insurance profitable.

The issuer, of course, obtains the lower interest rate, which might seem deceptively small until it is multipled by the millions of dollars and the 15-to-30-year time period involved.

The investors benefit from the security of knowing there never can be a default, unless the big insurers backing the issue themselves fall upon bad times. Butler claims also that the return to investors is higher than for some related investments.

Carol Foreman Takes Her Ag Job Seriously

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)- Carol Tucker Foreman says she is still a consumer advocate in her job as assistant secretary of agriculture, but she is also a farmer advocate and thinks the two groups should move much closer together.

She works hard at her job and doesn't mind stepping on some toes if need be. She is a take-charge person who likes her name to be associated with actions taken by the Agriculture Department.

But sometimes Ms. Foreman, as she prefers, takes charge of something important while her boss, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, gets the credit in official news releases cranked out by the department's information mill.

For example, on Tuesday Ms. Foreman called a news conference to announce proposed changes in the government's 31-year-old national school lunch program. A major aim is to reduce food waste by serving smaller portions to younger children.

At the news conference, it was clear that Ms. Foreman - accompanied by two officials of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service - was in charge and was the chief spokesman.

Meanwhile, USDA information specialists were preparing a news release describing the proposed changes and attributing prepared remarks and the whole thing to Bergland. It was distributed at Ms. Foreman's news conference, which Bergland did not attend.

Nothing should be read into all that, one USDA information expert said with a trace of embarrassment. It's just the way the bureaucracy works sometimes.

Ms. Foreman, 38, was executive director of the Consumer Federation of America before being named assistant secretary for food and consumer services. She frequently had attacked the food policies of previous administrations and relished needling then-Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, clearly not an admirer of most consumer advocates.

When her appointment was announced early this year, some farmbelt congressmen and agricultural groups protested on the basis of Ms. Foreman's job with the federation.

Now, more than six months later, Ms. Foreman is still outspoken but has tried hard to dispel the one-sided consumer image her critics have tried to saddle her with.

Speaking to a meeting Wednesday in Des Moines of Mid-America Dairymen Inc., Ms. Foreman said, "If we represent all the people - and not just one narrow group - that means we can never make all our constituents happy.

"For the Department of Agriculture, like any other government agency doing its job, is going to make decisions that please one group and send another up the wall."

Further, she told the dairymen, "I'd like to put a quick, painless end to the old concept that there is some sort of mystical dividing line between the farmer and the consumer. There is not and never has been, except in the minds of some people."

This attitude plays a part in her name being attached to some of USDA's more routine announcements. Each time the department announces the purchase of some commodity - meat, fruit, beans and the like - for donation to schools and other institutions, it is Ms. Foreman doing the announcing.

Cloud Seeding Rejected

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)-Voters in the Panhandle have rejected cloud seeding to suppress hail.

The Water Resources Department informed Speaker Bill Clayton it had finally determined the election results Wednesday.

It took several days to make that determination because the affected counties failed to include precinct maps with the ballot results.

"The elections, provided for by legislation passed last spring, have given the opportunity to the people of our area to finally settle the long-standing dispute over state regulation of hail suppression," Clayton said. Clayton is from Springlake.

"The people have made their wishes known and the Department of Water Resources is informing the companies involved of the people's decision by letter," he said.

The affected counties are Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Deaf Smith, Lamb, Oldham, Parmer, Briscoe, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Randall and Swisher.

Some 25 per cent of the annual 1.4-million ton potato crop produced in Maine is harvested by hand, says National Geographic.

Over The Area

Rotan Bank Names V-P

ROTAN—Phil Springer, 25, has been named vice president of First National Bank in Rotan.

A 1970 graduate of Rotan High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Springer. He received a bachelors degree with a major in finance at Texas Tech University.

Springer is the third generation of his family to serve as an officer of the bank. His grandfather, R.L. Springer, served as chairman of the board until his death in 1976, and his father, James Springer is currently serving as president of the bank.

To Discuss Base Closings

BIG SPRING—A Big Spring delegation will attend a meeting in Topeka, Kan., of representatives of other cities that have lost defense installations. Members of the Webb Air Force Base Steering Committee, the city council and the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce will attend.

The meeting is set for Sept. 14-15-16 and those attending will discuss common problems related to the conversion of military bases to civilian use.

C-City May Get New Park

COLORADO CITY—Colorado City's new parks and recreation board is looking into the possibility of a new park at the historic Seven Wells site near Lake Champion.

This could be made possible when the state constructs a farm road connecting Texas Highways 163 and 208, which also would connect the two lakes on a direct route. Seven Wells, owned by Texas Electric Service Co., would be near the roadside.

Fisher Hospital Head Resigns

ROTAN—Jim McCallay has resigned as administrator of the Fisher County Hospital. He had held the post since November of 1973.

Ralph Ammons, president of the hospital board, indicated that a special meeting of the board might be called prior to the regular meeting set for Sept. 19 to discuss procedure for seeking a successor.

Huge Grant For Migrant Education

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)-Texas received the federal government's largest single allocation for migrant education, the state education agency reported Wednesday.

Education Commissioner Marlin Brockette said the $35.7 million grant would benefit 110,00 children in 145 districts.

Special projects at Texas A&I and in several South Texas communities also will receive part of the allocation, he said.

Largest single grant will be $1.8 million to the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo Independent School District. Brockette said migrant children from Texas spend at least part of each school year in one or more of 40 other states.

"This year we expect 72 per cent of our migrant students to be actively following the harvests with their parents with only 28 per cent staying in one place throughout the 1977-78 term," Brockette said.

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Impotent 63-year-old

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What has happened to a man who in the nine years I have been his wife has been sexually vigorous and is suddenly impotent? His age may be important, but from what I have read, it is not necessarily so. He is 63. We are happily retired, but he keeps physically active as I do. He weighs no more than he did at 20, a trim 135 pounds on a 5 feet 7 frame. He does smoke — one to two packs a day. He does not drink.

I am trying to avoid accepting the possibility that I have done or said something to "turn him off," and I don't know whether to open the subject for discussion which might hurt him.

When we were discussing his proclivity for catching colds and the fact that I rarely got one, he rather testily pointed out to me, "don't forget, I'm ten years older than you." As a matter of fact I am only eight years his junior. I may be overly sensitive, but I think his remark about the colds had a double meaning.

Can you suggest anything to help him or to help me adjust to a lack of something very precious to me?

DEAR READER — The most obvious fact is that the two of you have a communication problem. A husbnd and wife should be able to talk freely to each other about the important things in their personal life, particularly where it involves or affects both. If you were able to communicate effectively your husband might not have much difficulty either.

You should try to discuss your personal feelings with your husband and try to make him feel secure in your love. Avoid being demanding or accusing. If you are successful in making him feel that you love him, no matter what, and that you are his best friend who is interested in his happiness above all else, he may want to talk about it.

He may be afraid of failure because he is getting older. It may be as simple as convincing him that he need not be successful every time any more and that the closeness and love is the important thing to share.

He is still young enough to be sexually active. More than half of American men older than 75 are. It follows that many by that age are not and often this is because of associated disease, particularly disease of the arteries that affects all parts of the body in addition to causing heart attacks or strokes.

I am sending you the Health Letter number 3-12, Impotence, to give you a better idea of what affects men. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Your personal relationship to each other is important. A couple having difficulties in their marriage is also likely to have difficulty in the bedroom. If this applies to you it might be a good idea to try to improve the personal relations in the marriage besides just sex. Loving attention outside the bedroom may result in receiving loving attention in the bedroom.

If your husband does have an impotence problem that doesn't correct itself, he should regard it as a symptom and have an examination. If you have other marriage problems you may profit from seeing a marriage counselor.

Dr. Lamb answers representative letters of general interest in his column. Write to him in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Ford To Return To University

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)-Former President Gerald R. Ford will return to the University of Michigan campus Nov. 2-4 for his second visit in the role of an adjunct professor of political science.

Ford, graduate of the university, spoke to 10 political science classes last April.

"His first visit was greatly appreviated by faculty and students, and his return is also anticipated with pleasure," Professor Samuel Barnes, chairman of the political science department, said Tuesday.

Peck Moved To Receive Award

DEAUVILLE, France (AP)—Actor Gregory Peck says he was as moved to receive the French order of Commander of Arts and Letters as was Groucho Marx, the late comedian who called the medal his favorite.

Peck received the award Tuesday from French Culture Minister Michel d' Orano. The American actor was praised for his long film career that included 50 movies in 30 years.
