Krenek named WTC president

A man who rose through the ranks at Western Texas College was named the institution's third college president Monday — Dr. Harry Krenek.

Krenek — who counts 20-years in college education, 13½ of those at WTC — was chosen by a unanimous vote of the six board members present.

He has been serving as the acting chief executive officer on campus since December and the resignation of former president Dr. Don Newbury.

R.C. Patton, board president, said Tuesday morning, "We (the board) felt fortunate that we had a man of Harry's caliber already in place.

"We considered a lot of applicants and took our time to insure we got the best man. I think we've done that."

Krenek's strong points as outlined by Patton are his experience with the college and his rapport with existing faculty members.

"He's seen how the college was run under two college presidents," said Patton, "and that has to be a plus. He also seems to have an excellent relationship with the rest of the staff. I've never heard an ill word about Harry from anyone at the college."

Patton said Krenek will be employed for "approximately the same salary" as Newbury. "We really haven't sat down and negotiated this yet," he said, speculating it would be in the $60,000 per year range.

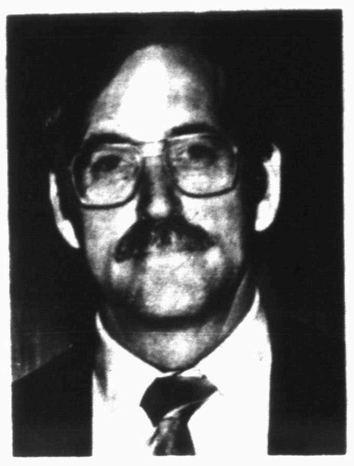

Krenek will also move into the president's home provided by the college.

Patton said there was some consideration to sell the president's home during earlier board discussion. "With the downturn in the economy, our concern now is that we couldn't sell it and come out," he said.

Krenek's official elevation to president will leave vacant his former post as dean of instruction. Monday night, he said he will be "discussing the position with members of the staff."

The post is currently held on an interim basis by Bettie McQueen,

Meltdown averted; sixth person dies

MOSCOW (AP) — Crews at the Chernobyl nuclear reactor stopped the white-hot core from burning into the earth and it now will have to be buried in concrete for centuries, Soviet officials said today.

Also today, a Soviet official said a total of six people have died since the April 26 accident at the Ukrainian power plant spewed radiation over much of Europe. A vaguely worded government statement, issued Monday, led to speculation that eight people might have died.

In a report from Chernobyl, the Communist Party newspaper Pravda quoted Yevgeny Velikhov, a coordinator of the cleanup at the plant, as saying it could take months to finish encasing the reactor in concrete to seal off its radioactive core.

Ivan Yemelyanov, deputy director of the organization that designed the reactor, said today the concrete also would be poured into the reactor's cooling apparatus and other portions of the system.

Once sealed, the reactor would have to remain "entombed" for hundreds of years while its radioactive core decays into harmless substances, Yemelyanov told West European reporters in Moscow. A transcript of his comments was provided by one of the reporters present.

Velikhov, vice president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, told Pravda a crisis developed 10 days after the accident, which began when an explosion rocked Chernobyl's No. 4 reactor and it caught fire.

"The reactor was damaged. Its heart was a white-hot core, a scorched, active zone that was somehow 'hanging,'" Velikhov said.

Scientists had feared that tons of sand, lead and other material dumped on the reactor to stop leaking radiation would force the burning core into a reservoir of water below the reactor, he said.

"Would we manage to keep it intact or would it go down into the earth? No one in the world has ever been in such a complex situation," he said.

Alternate pay plan may have ISD vote

Discussion and possible action regarding a replacement plan for teacher and administrator salary schedules for Snyder ISD is slated Tuesday by the Snyder school board.

The compensation study plan under study by the board is listed as an agenda item for the regular May session of trustees. It will begin at 7 p.m. at the administration building.

The study has been in the preparation phase since last October and has prompted three meetings between board members and a staffer from the Texas Association of School Boards.

The plan, which as of Tuesday was still undergoing revisions, was initially prepared by Cindy Holdway of TASB.

The concept proposed, according to Superintendent Bob Hawes, is a different "pace plan" for district salaries, moving away from the locked in increases granted under the old salary "step schedule."

The step schedule directed pay raises for teachers and administrators based primarily upon years experience in education and advanced educational degrees.

The new plan is an attempt to expand this criteria, Hawes said. He noted the intent of the new pay plan is not to reduce any existing salaries, however.

The compensation study must be finalized before trustees can move forward with budget studies for next school year.

Indictment linked to bank loans

Jack Spikes, a former Snyder resident who became associated in several area banks with his brother, Sam Spikes, has been indicted by a federal grand jury.

A 14-count indictment against Spikes, a commercial real estate developer, was returned last week and was filed in federal court in Fort Worth. The indictment accuses him of federal violations while serving as chairman of the board of American Bank of Commerce in Grapevine.

In a separate two-count indictment, Spikes is charged with making false statements to secure loans from MBank Dallas and from Bent Tree National Bank of Addison.

Spikes was one of several guarantors of a $7.75 million loan

FM 1611 decision due 2-3 day delay

County Judge Preston Wilson will postpone his decision on the proposed extension of FM 1611 until the latter part of next week, he said Monday.

Informed that Pct. 2 Commissioner Hassie Sneed will not be present for Monday's regular session, Wilson decided to postpone his action for the benefit of the full court.

He said the meeting will likely be May 21 or 22, a Wednesday or Thursday,.

Wilson noted an agenda for the special session will be posted 72 hours prior to the meeting.

The judge tabled a motion Monday to reject a minute order by the State Department of Highways to construct the 3.7 mile extension of the farm-to-market road.

Commissioners Duaine Davis and Ted Billingsley favored rejecting the proposal while Sneed and C.D. Gray Jr. voted against the motion. Wilson chose to postpone his option to break the tie pending further study.

Some 30 local residents crowded the courtroom during Monday's session to offer comment both for and against the proposal.

Computer purchases approved

Western Texas College trustees accepted several bids Monday night during the regular May meeting.

Three of the bids were for computers. Trustees accepted a bid of $2,135 from the Manchester Equipment Co. in Hauppauge, N.Y. for an IBM PC (personal computer). An Apple IIe computer was purchased from Apple Computer Inc. of Dallas. The bid was for $2,227. The only local bid of $2,407 was from Computer Case Inc.

A bid of $3,853 was accepted from IBM Corp. of Lubbock for an IBM PC XT computer.

In other action, trustees accepted a bid of $81,006 from C.A. Gray Plumbing of Midland to install new water lines at the dor-

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Folks who think time heals everything haven't tried sitting in a doctor's office."

David Gist is not a health fanatic, but he does believe in exercise. That's why Gist, the owner of Arrow Construction, keeps the TV and refrigerator in separate rooms.

David's wife, Martha, informed Saturday evening that they should plan on spending Sunday with her mother who lives in Sundown.

It was further suggested that we follow them to Lubbock Saturday evening and eat dinner. We could return to Snyder and they could go on to Sundown with a chair they had bought Martha's mother for Mother's Day.

Just outside the city limits, David pulled off the road to try and secure the chair that was being moved around by the wind. Like any wife, Martha was giving David plenty of advice on how to tie down the chair.

Frustrated, David suggested that Martha ride with us, and he pushed the power lock down on the passenger side of the pickup. The fun had just begun...

The keys were locked inside the pickup truck--with the motor running. In a far more reconciliatory tone, Gist asked, "Martha, do you have your set of keys."

"Yes, they're in my purse and they're locked inside too."

David remembered another set back at their house, but Martha reminded him the house keys were also in the purse--locked inside the pickup.

The decision was made, however, to return to the house and see if entry could be gained. The door was locked, but luckily it had not been pushed closed. Things are now looking up. There may be supper after all.

Meanwhile, G. A. Parks was returning to Snyder from his farm near Dermott. Parks said Gist was trying not to be noticed stranded on the side of the road. "When I drove up, he was acting like he was working on something in the back," Parks observed.

While waiting on Martha to return with the keys, Parks said most of Snyder drove by and waved. Gist even accused us of stopping at the coffee shop and telling of his situation.

And we had promised not to tell--at least until we got back to Snyder.

Fish kill reported at course

Western Texas College golf course maintenance personnel are working this week to clean up a massive fish kill in the golf course lake.

College workers discovered hundreds of fish floating in the lake when they reported for work Monday morning.

Cleanup at the lake began Monday with workers loading the dead fish on a truck to be hauled away. Rex Hopkins, physical plant director at WTC, estimated it would take several days to finish the job.

Catfish, carp and bass — many in the 10-15 pound range — were noted.

Hopkins said he has contacted a state biologist with the Department of Parks and Wildlife to

Q. — If Gov. White loses in the next election, will the no-pass, no-play law still be in effect?

A. — Yes. The rule was passed as part of law approved by the Texas Legislature and signed by the governor. To repeal it would take another action by the legislature or the courts. The governor alone would not have this power, according to officials with the Texas Education Agency.

In Brief

Appeal nixed

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today rejected an appeal from attorneys for convicted killer Jay Kelly Pinkerton to halt Pinkerton's scheduled execution early Thursday.

The death date is the fourth for Pinkerton, 24, convicted of the stabbing death of an Amarillo woman in October 1979. He also was convicted of capital murder in a second similar slaying in Amarillo.

Attorney Dean Roper of Amarillo contends Pinkerton's trial jury was not asked the proper questions during the punishment phase.

"It's a new issue," he said today. "I don't know if it's been raised before in Texas. I'm confident it's a legitimate argument."

Hammer lands

MOSCOW (AP) — American industrialist Armand Hammer arrived in Moscow today with medicine and equipment for bone-marrow transplants being performed on radiation victims from the Chernobyl nuclear accident.

"The Soviet government is coping very well with their problems and I think this is a time when we must all help, especially if we can save lives, which I think we can with this transplant program," Hammer said after arriving at Sheremetyevo Airport.

Four male juveniles — ages 10, 11 and 12 — were taken into custody for the offense at 3:45 p.m. The stolen balls were recovered with the arrests and the suspects later released to the custody of their parents.

A new list of books is available at the circulation desk in the lobby of the building, and these include some of special interest during the Texas Sesquicentennial year.

The books in the library are available to students and non-students the year around and the library has posted summer hours for the benefit of those who want to get in some extra reading time during the summer. Hours from May 12-30 will be 8 a.m. to noon and 1-5 Monday through Thursday and 8-12 on Friday.

From June 2-July 31, the library will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday and 10:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. The library will be closed on Fridays during this period.

James A. Michner's new novel "Texas" will head Sesquicentennial reading for many people this summer, and it is available in the WTC library. Other promising titles for the Sesquicentennial include "If These Walls Could Speak," historic forts of Texas) by John Salvant; "Landscaping With Native Texas Plants" by Sally Wasowski; "Journal of an Indian Trader (1790-1810) by Anthony Glass; "Attack and Counterattack" (the Texas-Mexican frontier) by Joseph Milton Nance; "American Rodeo: From Buffalo Bill to Big Business" by Kristine Fredriksson; "The Fiddler's Almanac" by Ryan Thomson, and a collection of prefaces by J. Frank Dobie.

Many drawings and paintings by Theodore Gentilz are reproduced in a colorful volume titled "Gentilz," with text by Dorothy Steinbomer Kendall. Persons who have visited San Antonio will enjoy seeing again works by Gentilz which are displayed in the Witte Memorial Museum among other sites.

Girls were bound, kicked at party

AUSTIN (AP) — Junior high school girls invited to a high school "initiation party" were bound, kicked, doused with vomit and forced to repeat obscene chants in an off-campus event that administrators say got out of hand.

Austin High School principal Jacquelyn McGee said Monday that some students may be disciplined after an investigation is complete on the incident, which he said occurred April 25 on a private lot near the school.

Those found guilty of hazing will be suspended from participating in extra-curricular activities for one year, McGee said.

McGee said the victims were eighth-grade girls from O. Henry Junior High School, who will be transferring to Austin High School in September.

"It was intended to be an initiation where the older girls would pour ketchup and syrup on the younger girls," McGee said. "The older girls brought boyfriends and other friends. The mob psychology kind of took over."

O. Henry principal Johnny Brown said several students complained to school officials about the initiation the week after it happened.

"What the students were told was that it was going to be a fun activity and they would just have some laughs and tell stories," Brown said.

McGee and Brown told the Austin American-Statesman that initiations of eighth-grade girls have been held in the past but were not as dangerous as the one this year.

According to a letter McGee mailed Thursday to parents of students at both schools, the initiation took place behind a garage and lasted until 5 a.m. Some of the girls were picked up at their homes as late as 2 a.m.

The location is a hangout for high school students, said McGee, who added that the initiation involved about a dozen eighth-grade girls and up to 100 high school students, ex-students and others.

McGee's letter said witnesses reported that girls were forced to kneel and were kicked hard with cowboy boots. Dirt was kicked on them and they were "poked and hit," the letter said.

"The girls were forced to chant a lot of vulgar and obscene things," one witness said. Another witness said several boys were drunk and one vomited and others threw the vomit on the girls, according to McGee's memo.

The mother of one of the girls invited to the initiation said the party got out of hand when some of the boys began to take over.

McGee said some of the ninth-grade girls who went through the initiation last year organized the initiation this year. The initiation has been held in past years by ninth-grade girls.

"This one got out of hand," McGee said. "We felt like it was time the school had to get word out to parents that this could be a dangerous thing."

"Clearly this type of activity is totally out of line, and we want to do everything we can to discourage it," Brown said.

Just to give you an idea of how Brazil came so close to defeating the United States in the semifinals of the World Championship match last fall, here is Brazilian declarer Marcello Branco.

West for the U.S. team got off to the best lead — a low diamond. Branco won the ace and immediately shot back the club king. West grabbed the ace and continued with the diamond king. Declarer's prospects now looked dim. He could trump, play A-K of hearts and return via his club jack to play the jack of hearts. East would win and continue diamonds, getting ahead of declarer in trumps to give South a terrible result. But Branco knew what to do. On the diamond king he simply discarded a low spade, letting West have the trick. Now what?

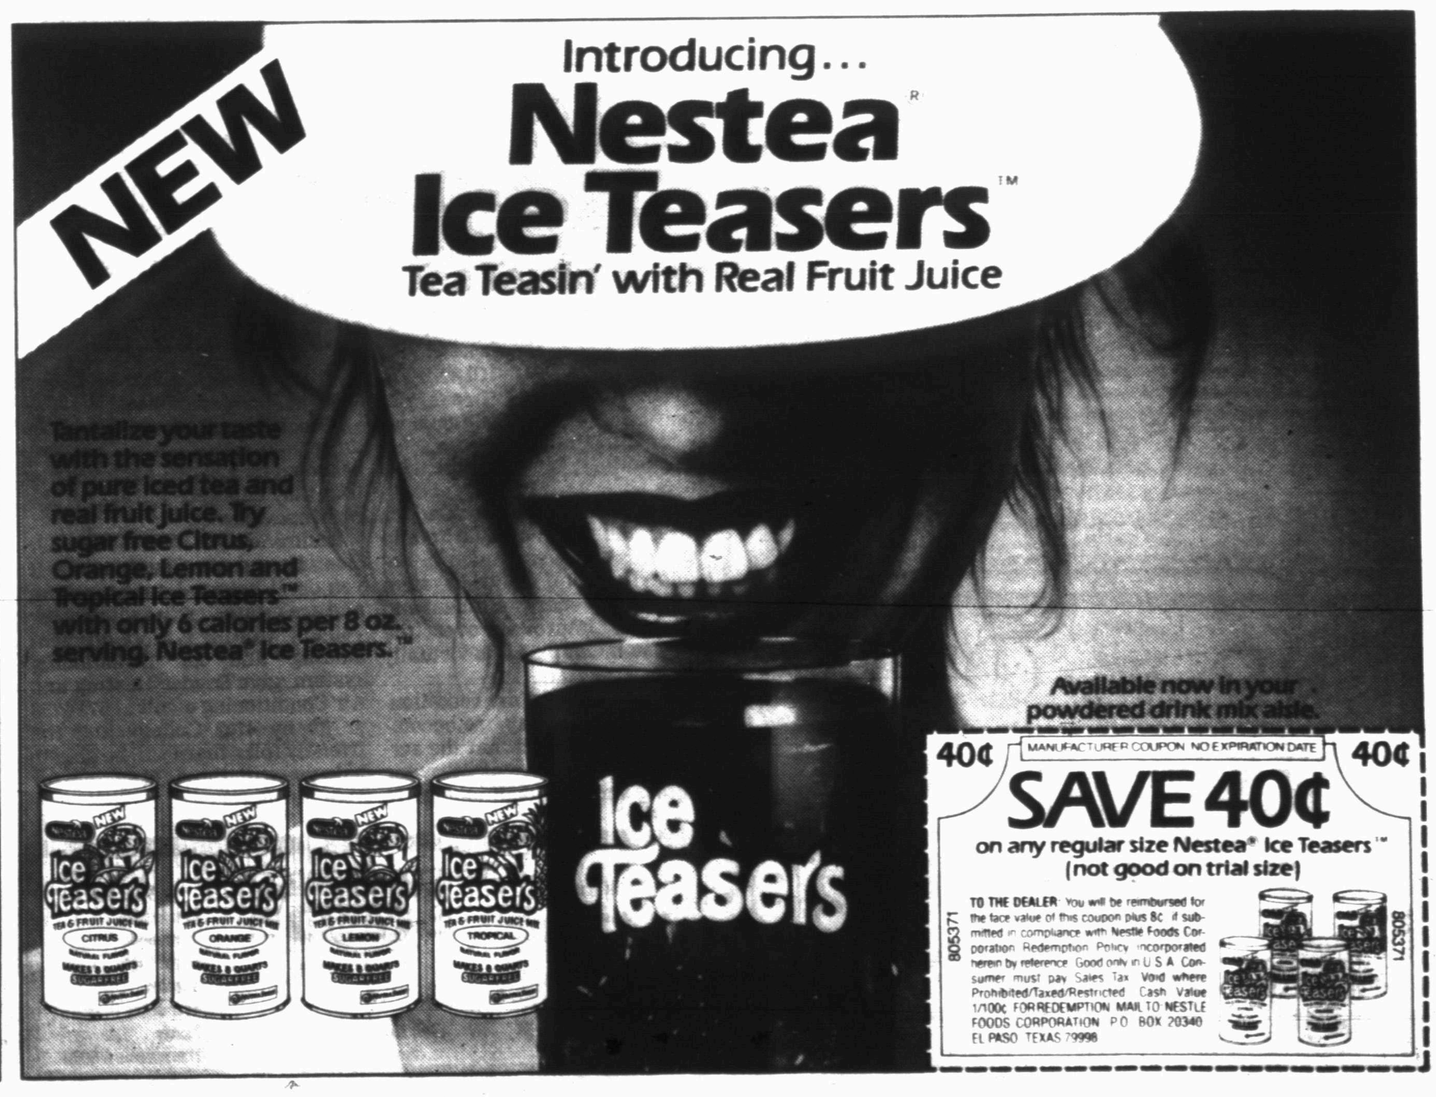

There was really nothing to be done. West tried another diamond, ruffed in dummy. South cashed dummy's other high heart, came to his hand with the club jack and forced out the heart queen. He still had plenty of trumps to take care of the small ones remaining in East's hand.

Could the hand have been beaten? If West could see through the backs of the cards, he would let the club king win at trick two. If the play then continued as before, West could switch to a spade after declarer discarded on the king of diamonds, and South would not be able to return to his hand to draw trumps without allowing East to ruff in with a small heart.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: You were wrong in your answer to "New Mexico Mess," the grandmother who was concerned about her 15-year-old grandson's sexually active relationship with an 18-year-old girl. You stated that the girl could be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Abby, New Mexico's claim to shame is that the age of consent in this state is 13!

My heart goes out to the grandmother. Tragically, the type of situation she describes is not uncommon. I know of one case where a 13-year-old girl became involved with a 40-year-old man against her parents' wishes. The authorities could do nothing about it because the child had given her consent!

As a state senator, I have twice carried a bill to our Legislature that would raise the age of consent to 16 for both boys and girls — 18 when force is involved. Twice, Abby, I have come back empty-handed.

I intend to keep carrying this bill back to Santa Fe until I get it through. Perhaps if this appeared in your column it might help.

SEN. W.P. VANDERGRIFF, NEW MEXICO STATE SENATE

DEAR SEN. VANDERGRIFF: I'll try! This is a plea to all my New Mexico readers: Phone or write to your state legislators and let them know that you think the age of consent should be raised to 16.

Are you with me, Alamogordo, Albuquerque, Carlsbad, Clovis, Farmington, Gallup, Hobbs, Las Cruces, Portales and Roswell?

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help us come to some kind of agreement. When my husband and I go to a restaurant or a public place and he holds the door open for me, I walk on in. About that time, another couple or even some women walk up, and he continues holding the door open for them. He says I should wait until all the others have gone in. I say he should follow me in and let the others open the door for themselves. (If there's another man, he should hold the door open for his lady.)

When my husband and I get separated — which is often when he keeps holding the door open for people — he gets upset.

Should I wait, or should my husband turn the door over to those who walk up and follow me?

LEE IN QUARTZSITE, ARIZ.

DEAR LEE: Your husband should hold the door open for you, and those who follow closely on your heels — be they men or women. If he's holding the door for so many that you and he become separated, he's overdoing it. And if this is the biggest problem you and he ever have, you're lucky.

DEAR ABBY: I am the writer of the original "Forgotten Parents" letter, and having read the follow-up letters you have published since, I would like to clarify a few points.

Perhaps I did not make myself clear when I stated that our son owed us (his parents) $10,000 and has made no effort to repay any part of it. We merely wondered if it had any bearing on the fact that he had severed his relationship with us.

We do, in fact, have a promissory note, which we would never, under any circumstances, put into force. I am sure my son knows this. We have no idea why he did not repay the money. The money is insignificant in comparison with the loss of our son and grandchildren.

To clarify further, I would like your readers to know that we did send our son several written messages, asking for an explanation, but received no answer. I telephoned his wife and asked her what was wrong, and she said there wasn't anything wrong, and was reluctant to discuss the situation.

I have only one consolation — that I am I, and he is he — for I would not want to have his guilt when either his father or I dies. Unless, of course, he has no conscience, which I do not believe is possible.

Snyder Heating is dealer for Lennox

Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning Company, located at 4702 College Avenue, was established 35 years ago by Vernon Rannefeld and is one of the few original owner companies still in Snyder.

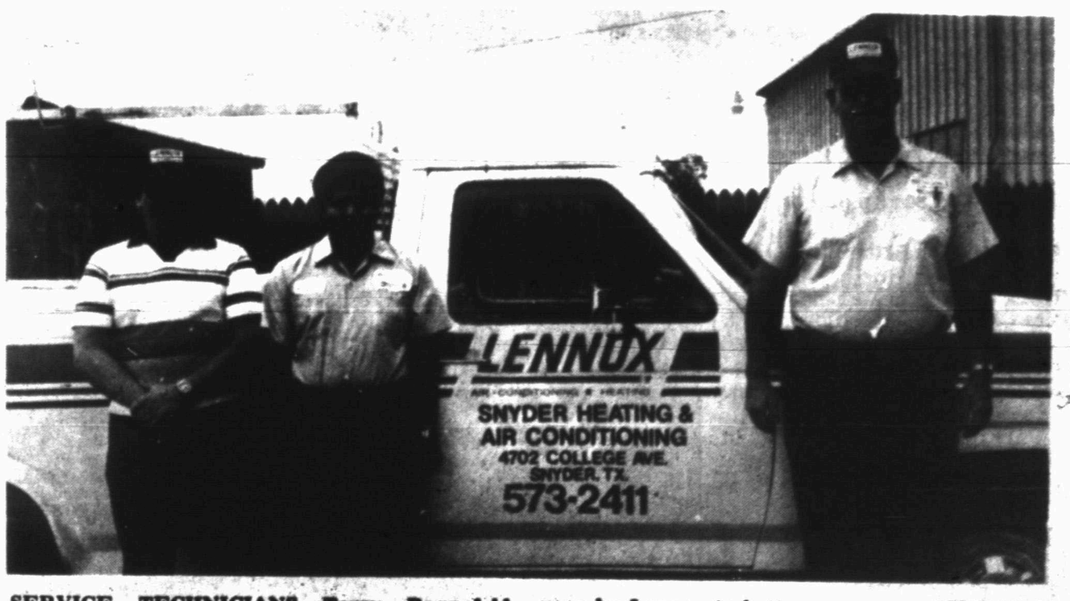

Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning is the authorized dealer for Lennox heating and air conditioning systems and they provide full sales and service to their customers.

High efficiency means lower utility bills and Lennox is the leader in high efficiency equipment. The gas heating unit (pulse furnace) is 95 percent energy efficient and requires special installation techniques which are expertly handled by the service technicians at Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning. Lennox has the only two-speed air conditioning system which provides even higher energy efficiency and lower utility bills for the consumer.

Although it has been around for years, the Lennox heat pump system is still very much in demand. This total electric system is also highly energy efficient and has been improved over the years so much that it is virtually trouble free.

The heating and air conditioning systems of today are becoming so sophisticated that the service technicians at Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning are schooled by Lennox each year so that they can keep abreast of the new innovations.

Estimates are free at Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning. If you don't have a Lennox system and are interested in switching or you are wanting a more efficient heating and air conditioning system, give Snyder Heating and Air Conditioning a call at 573-1753 or go by 4702 College and the friendly folks there will be glad to help you with the right system for your needs.

Indian courts should handle Bhopal lawsuits

NEW YORK (AP) — Indian courts are capable of handling lawsuits stemming from the chemical disaster that killed an estimated 2,000 people in Bhopal, and to leave the cases in the United States would be a form of imperialism, a federal judge says.

U.S. District Judge John F. Keenan ruled Monday that the 146 suits filed in the United States over the Bhopal accident, including one filed by the Indian government, do not belong here and should be transferred to India.

The decision was a victory for Union Carbide Corp., whose subsidiary owned the plant that leaked poisonous methyl isocyanate gas across a crowded slum the night of Dec. 3, 1984. In addition to the deaths, an estimated 200,000 people were injured.

The Danbury, Conn.-based company argued that with all of the victims, all of the plant workers and most of the records in Bhopal, it made little sense to hear the litigation in a courtroom on the other side of the world.

Lawyers for the victims and for the Indian government, however, contended that India's judicial system was not up to the job.

Get counseling for nightmares

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a man in my mid-70s, and for the past several years have been experiencing periodic nightmares that leave me with a very frightened feeling. I try to wake up, but feel that I've become paralyzed. My wife says I occasionally cry out. What can I do to rid myself of these recurring nightmares?

DEAR READER — Nightmares are thought to be means by which we unconsciously work through problems and frustrations. Dreaming is normal and nightmares are common. Some medications can trigger or enhance dreaming, so if you are taking drugs for an ailment, ask your doctor about this.

Counseling can often help cure nightmares by bringing unconscious stresses and conflicts into the open, where they can be effectively dealt with. Recurring nightmares can be temporary problems or last for years. If this change in your sleeping pattern does not resolve in a few weeks, ask your doctor to refer you to a therapist for counseling.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What causes water puffs under the eyes in the elderly? Our pathway is rugged enough, and they make us appear so ghostly.

DEAR READER — As people age, the skin begins to sag. In addition, there is a loss of subcutaneous fat. These two factors can cause the bags-under-the-eyes look. You may be happy to learn that many plastic surgeons are quite skillful at removing excess tissue in the facial area. If you are tired of looking like the Ghost of Christmas Past, see a plastic surgeon for an opinion.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have a slight curvature of the lower spine, plus rheumatoid arthritis (in remission). I do aerobics three times a week and sit-ups (with knees bent) every day. What other exercises can I do to strengthen my lower back?

DEAR READER — I think the specific answer to your question depends on the severity of your arthritis and is best left to your doctor's judgment. In general, walking, biking and swimming are useful forms of exercise.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is there any antibiotic that will get rid of vaginal warts? I have them burned off, but they come back. If they are caused by a virus, why can't I take some drug to kill the virus?

DEAR READER — Because warts are caused by viruses, they are not helped by antibiotics. The most effective current treatment involves topical therapy (medicine applied to the skin) by a specialist such as a gynecologist.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Every few months, in the middle of the night, I am awakened by a rectal spasm. I have an irritable colon and watch my diet. Is there anything else I can do to alleviate this discomfort?

DEAR READER — Irritable colon is characterized by uncomfortable intestinal spasms. Therefore, when nocturnal spasms are present, the use of an antispasmodic medication at bedtime may help your discomfort. Check with your doctor.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my health report on IRRITABLE BOWEL SYNDROME. Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 plus their name and address to P.O. Box 2507, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott in care of this newspaper at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Lawmaker says inaccurate information given in probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House counsel Fred Fielding provided inaccurate information to investigators of lobbyist Michael Deaver after Deaver's company broached the subject of Fielding going to work there, a congressman says.

Rep. Gerry Sikorski, D-Minn., said Monday that Fielding may have violated federal conflict of interest laws by writing a memorandum favorable to Deaver after discussing the job possibility with a member of the lobbyist's office.

Sikorski said Fielding told the staff of the House Energy and Commerce subcommittee on oversight and investigations that he and Deaver discussed possible employment for Fielding with Deaver while "both of them were still at the White House" but after Deaver had announced he was leaving.

Sikorski's comments came at a hearing of the oversight and investigations subcommittee, of which he is a member.

At the hearing, a General Accounting Office report was released that concluded Deaver, former deputy White House chief of staff, may have violated federal conflict of interest laws in connection with the Reagan administration's decision last year to appoint a special envoy to Canada on acid rain.

Deaver, a close friend of President Reagan and his wife, Nancy, left the White House and formed his lobbying company last May. In July, he signed a $105,000 contract to represent the Canadian government.

The GAO report was referred to the Justice Department, which is determining whether to recommend that an independent counsel investigate Deaver.

Sikorski says the Justice Department should review Fielding's role as well.

The congressman said the vice president of Deaver's firm, William Sittman, told Fielding over lunch Feb. 27 that Fielding "should come by and discuss" possible future employment with Deaver's firm.

The next day Fielding wrote a memo to the Office of Government Ethics regarding Deaver.

Fielding's memo said Drew Lewis, the special envoy to Canada, "had no administrative support from the White House office."

GAO investigators concluded in their own probe that Lewis, though his expenses were paid by the State Department, did receive technical staff support from the White House. Sikorski said Fielding's memo was incorrect.

House speaker calls rare meeting May 30

AUSTIN (AP) — House Speaker Gib Lewis is calling members of the House to a rare meeting May 30 to discuss the state's financial condition and major education issues.

Lewis, D-Fort Worth, said the other 149 members were being asked to attend the one-day meeting. The entire House membership hasn't assembled since the end of the 1985 session last June.

Plunging oil prices have caused a dramatic drop in the state's income. Comptroller Bob Bullock earlier this year forecast that revenue likely would fall $1.3 billion short of the $37.2 billion budgeted for 1986 and 1987 by the Legislature.

Gov. Mark White, who praised Lewis for calling the House session, has urged state agencies to trim their spending by 13 percent in the wake of that crisis.

Lewis noted that the budget crunch remains a pressing problem.

"The fiscal affairs of Texas continue to dominate discussions among state leaders as well as many interested citizens," Lewis said. "I feel it will be most helpful for the state's elected representatives to be given this opportunity to receive the facts as they are from those who deal daily with our state's fiscal condi-

Office space is limited

CHICAGO (AP) — Although there are reports of office space gluts in some U.S. cities, one office market expert says the growth of the service economy means the nation as a whole still needs new office space.

"The U.S. needs between 80 million to 100 million square feet of new office space in 1986 and will continue to need that much or more annually throughout the balance of the century," said Howard L. Ecker, president of a Chicago real estate consulting firm.

Ecker said Monday he has tracked the nation's office space needs since the early 1970s.

"In that time, the U.S. has gone from a smokestack economy to a service economy in which the nation has in effect become the home office to the world economy," he said.

Although there is now a move away from construction of new office buildings and investment in commercial real estate, Ecker said he believes it is a short-term movement and may contribute to future needs for office space.

"Institutional lenders have retreated in late 1985 and early 1986 from funding new office development.

Parish could be key to series with Bucks

BOSTON (AP) - Boston center Robert Parish doesn't mind being ignored. It may finally get him some attention.

He expects Milwaukee to continue taking greater notice of his more heralded mates on the Celtics' front line, Larry Bird and Kevin McHale. That could put Parish's own offensive abilities on center stage when Boston opens its National Basketball Association Eastern Conference final series tonight against the Bucks.

"They didn't double me up a lot in the regular season as much as they did Kevin and Larry," Parish said. "So I'm looking for the same type of coverage."

Although his 16.1 scoring average was third-best for the Celtics during the regular season, he ranked fourth on the club in field goal attempts and got many of his baskets off offensive rebounds.

"I've been overlooked for the last two years. That's rather obvious," said Parish, who is in his sixth season with Boston after spending his first four pro years with Golden State.

But he claims his subordinate role in the Celtics' attack doesn't trouble him.

"My only concern is winning," he said. "Whenever they give it to Kevin, he's producing. Whenever they give it to Larry, he's producing. The bottom line is to win and that's my only concern."

He concedes, however, that "there's a chance" he'll get more shots against Milwaukee than he did in most games this season. "Only time will tell."

A lot depends on the distribution of playing time among Bucks' centers Randy Breuer, Alton Lister and Paul Mokeski and whether Milwaukee relies primarily on a small lineup featuring Sidney Moncrief, Paul Pressey, Ricky Pierce and Craig Hodges.

Although Boston's offensive strength is the inside game, Coach K.C. Jones isn't sure the Bucks will go with their big men.

"They're ready to adjust to anything," Jones said. "They may use a big lineup or they may use a smaller lineup to find which one works."

"At times the tallest guy on the court is (forward Terry) Cummings at 6-feet-9," Boston guard Danny Ainge said. "At other times they've got two 7-footers in there, so they give you a lot of different looks."

At Boston Garden, the Celtics are 42-1 and haven't lost since Dec. 6.

Kareem voted all-NBA center

NEW YORK (AP) - Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Los Angeles Lakers was named to the center position on the All-NBA team by a single vote over Houston's Akeem Olajuwon, the league announced.

In voting by a panel of 78 media members who regularly cover the league, Abdul-Jabbar was named for the 10th time, tying him for the league record. Forwards Larry Bird of Boston and Dominique Wilkins of Atlanta, and guards Earvin "Magic" Johnson of the Lakers and Isiah Thomas of Detroit were also named.

Witness prominent but...

Jurors scarce for USFL suit

NEW YORK (AP) - The witness list for the USFL's antitrust suit against the NFL resembles something in Who's Who. Yet the first stage of the trial focuses on a group of less prominent citizens whose job it will be to decide the future shape of professional football in America.

The long-awaited trial began Monday and immediately ran into a snag when 89 of the first group of 143 prospective jurors begged out of serving after U.S. District Judge Peter K. Leisure informed them that the case could go on as long as two months.

The selection process began Monday afternoon with Leisure questioning 12 prospective jurors, two-thirds of them either New York City or federal employees. Six were excused.

Jury selection will be followed by opening statements and then the first witness, expected to be NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle. He was present Monday and was greeted by one departing juror with a "Hi, Pete."

Rozelle is one of a raft of potential big-name witnesses, although not all are expected to testify.

They include Gov. Mario Cuomo of New York and Mayor Edward I. Koch of New York City along with two U.S. Senators, Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y. and Albert Gore, D.-Tenn. The New York politicians, if they are called, are expected to discuss the move of the New York Jets from Shea Stadium in New York City to Giants Stadium in New Jersey, seven miles from downtown New York.

The list also includes most of the owners in both leagues, the heads of the sports departments of the three major television networks, coaches Don Shula of the Miami Dolphins and Joe Walton of the New York Jets, and a group of players, most from the USFL, headed by Herschel Walker and Jim Kelly.

And it has what the USFL hopes are its two star witnesses - broadcaster Howard Cosell and Al Davis, the owner of the Los Angeles Raiders whose team is the only one in the NFL that is not a defendant in the suit.

The suit, filed in October 1984, charges the NFL with violating the Sherman Antitrust Act by monopolizing the pro football market. It seeks $440 million in damages which, if trebled as antitrust awards allow, would amount to $1.32 billion.

It also charges that the NFL pressured the three networks not to give the USFL a contract when the younger league decided in the summer of 1984 to switch from a spring season to a fall season. For the three seasons it played in the spring - it plans to begin autumn play in September - the USFL had contracts with ABC and ESPN cable, but only the ESPN contract was transferable to the fall.

The suit asks that the NFL contract with one of the networks be voided.

The main issue at Monday's session involved a motion by the USFL that all football fans be eliminated from the jury because they might be predisposed to favor the existing NFL.

"Plaintiff cannot imagine," the USFL said in a brief accompanying the motion, "how any football fan with the deep-seated and even subliminal loyalties associated with being a fan, could be deemed an impartial juror in this case."

Cinncinnati stops New York's skein

by The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Reds are having trouble starting a winning streak this season. But they are finding ways to stop them.

Eddie Milner's two-out home run in the ninth inning Monday night lifted the Reds to a 4-3 victory over Montreal, snapping the Expos' eight-game winning string.

The triumph gave Cincinnati its second straight victory, matching its longest success streak of the season. On Sunday, the Reds ended New York's seven-game winning skein.

"We've won two in a row, so that's pretty encouraging for us," Cincinnati player-manager Pete Rose said. "The more games you win, the more confidence you get. Maybe we'll start getting some breaks to go along with it."

The Reds still have the worst record in the major leagues, 8-19, and are eight games behind Houston in the National League West.

"Things haven't been going our way yet, but that doesn't mean we can't turn things around," Rose said. "If we can start winning two out of three, and three out of four in some series, you'd be surprised how fast you can get back into it."

In the other NL games, New York nipped Atlanta 1-0 and Philadelphia beat Houston 5-1 in the only other games scheduled.

Milner's first home run of the season came against reliever Bert Roberge, who was making his first appearance for Montreal since being recalled from the minors May 1.

"He just got a forkball up," Milner said. "I wasn't trying for a homer, I was just trying to hit it hard."

Ted Power, 1-3, pitched 1 2-3 hitless innings for the victory.

The Reds took a 1-0 lead in second inning on Andy McGaffigan's bases-loaded balk, and Montreal tied it in the third on Andre Dawson's RBI infield hit.

Milner singled home a run and Dave Concepcion drew a bases-loaded walk in the fifth. Tim Raines, who extended his hitting streak to 16 games, singled and scored on Dawson's groundout in the fifth and Al Newman hit a sacrifice fly in the eighth that made it 3-3.

Phillies 5, Astros 1

Von Hayes hit three doubles and drove in two runs and Shane Rawley pitched a seven-hitter as Philadelphia won in the Astrodome.

Hayes, 11-for-24 in his last eight games, doubled in the fourth inning for the Phillies' first hit off Jim Deshaies and scored on a single by Juan Samuel.

Ron Roenicke hit a two-run single in the fifth and Hayes added an RBI double later in the inning. Hayes hit another run-scoring double in the ninth.

Rawley, 4-3, pitched his third complete game of the season. He struck out three and walked two.

"I had three good pitches tonight," Rawley said. "I made good pitches at the right time. The guys played great defense behind me. Three double plays helps a lot."

Mets 1, Braves 0

In New York, Ray Knight led off the bottom of the ninth inning with a double and scored easily when Tim Teufel followed with a single up the middle. The victory was the Mets' 19th in the last 21 games.

New York starter Sid Fernandez and reliever Roger McDowell combined on a four-hitter, the second time the pair has teamed for a shutout this season.

Fernandez worked seven innings, giving up four hits, and striking out 10. McDowell, 3-0, got the victory, finishing up with two hitless innings and fanning three.

Atlanta starter Rick Mahler pitched 6 1-3 shutout innings.

But not celebrating...

Rangers bombard Cleveland

by The Associated Press

The Texas Rangers have been doormats too long to get complacent, even after collecting 19 runs on 22 hits to stay in first place in the American League West.

"It's a long season," winning pitcher Charlie Hough said after Texas set team records for runs and hits in a 19-2 victory over the host Indians Monday night. "If we can sustain the intensity, I don't know if we can win it, but I think we're going to be all right."

Even rookie Pete Incaviglia, one of seven Rangers with at least two runs batted in, sounded a note of caution after the team's biggest offensive game ever.

"Right now we're swinging the bat real well," Incaviglia said. "It's a good feeling to see guys up and down the lineup hitting the ball. But we've got to forget this one now and think about winning tomorrow."

Elsewhere in the AL, it was New York 9, Minnesota 8; Kansas City 6, Detroit 5; Baltimore 4, Chicago 3; Seattle 6, Milwaukee 0; California 7, Boston 1; and Toronto 5, Oakland 3.

Despite the large final margin of victory, the Texas-Cleveland game was tied 1-1 until the Rangers scored eight runs in the sixth inning. Larry Parrish, who has four homers in three days, sparked the outburst with a three-run homer.

Angels 7, Red Sox 1

Rookie Wally Joyner drove in four runs with his 11th and 12th homers and Don Sutton won his 297th career game as California snapped Boston's five-game winning streak at Anaheim.

Joyner hit a solo homer in the first and capped a six-run rally in the fourth with a three-run homer that gave him the major-league lead with 33 RBI.

Orioles 4, White Sox 3

Baltimore rallied for two runs in the ninth inning on Jim Dwyer's pinch-hit homer and Lee Lacy's game-winning single.

Chicago, looking for its fourth straight victory since management decided to keep Tony LaRussa as manager, took a 3-2 lead in the top of the ninth on Harold Baines' two-out homer off Orioles starter Scott McGregor.

Yankees 9, Twins 8

Rickey Henderson snapped an 0-for-18 slump with three hits, including a two-run homer, and Butch Wynegar hit his fourth three-run homer of the season for New York, which needed all the runs when Minnesota rallied for six runs in the ninth at the Metrodome.

Royals 6, Tigers 5

Jim Sundberg helped Kansas City take a 6-2 lead with a three-run homer before the Royals fought off two Detroit rallies.

The Tigers, trailing 6-2, scored three runs in the eighth after loading the bases with no outs against relief ace Dan Quisenberry, who failed to retire a batter.

Mariners 6, Brewers 0

Seattle won for the third time in four games since Dick Williams took over as manager as Dave Henderson hit two homers and left-hander Matt Young allowed three hits in seven innings of relief against Milwaukee at the Kingdome.

Young, 3-2, came on to pitch in the third inning after starter Milt Wilcox pulled a muscle while warming up. Young struck out eight and walked four.

Blue Jays 5, A's 3

Lloyd Moseby had three hits and scored three runs and drove in one as visiting Toronto beat Oakland.

Joaquin Andujar, 4-2, took the loss, ending his personal four-game winning streak. He lasted only one inning, giving up one run on two hits, before being forced to leave because of a strained hamstring.

Mexico, U.S., at odds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp increase in narcotics trafficking from Mexico is causing strains in U.S.-Mexican relations, with each country accusing the other of not doing enough to resolve the problem.

State Department deputy spokesman Charles Redman said Monday that "deeply entrenched corruption among (Mexican) officials nominally engaged in anti-narcotics programs" is partly responsible for the increase.

But Mexican Embassy spokesman Leonardo Ffrench said his government is doing its best to fight drug trafficking and pointed out that 300 Mexican agents have died or been wounded in the struggle over the past decade.

The two countries normally try to resolve differences in private, but one U.S. official said Redman's statement reflected a conscious decision to be more open in discussing problems with Mexico.

Given the magnitude of the drug problem and other issues, "We're going to look pretty stupid if we soft-pedal too much," said the official, who spoke only on condition of anonymity.

The assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, Elliott Abrams, was scheduled to testify about drug trafficking and other issues today in an appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Western Hemisphere affairs. Also on the witness list was William Von Raab, the U.S. Customs Commissioner.

Speaking to reporters Monday, Redman said, "Mexico may now be the largest single foreign supplier of heroin and marijuana, and increasing amounts of cocaine are transiting Mexico into the United States."

In addition to alleged official corruption in Mexico, Redman said the increase in drug trafficking also is the result of Mexico's deepening economic problems dating back to 1982 and of near perfect climatic conditions for drug production.

Ffrench suggested the United States should do more to help itself resolve the problem.

"Sometimes it seems unfair that a country like the United States, with almost unlimited resources, has not been able to solve the drug problem within its own territory and keeps on blaming countries like Mexico with a lot fewer resouces," Ffrench said.

"It expects them to solve not only their own drug problem but that of the United States as well."

Ffrench said his government insists that the only possible way to succeed in the anti-drug war is for the United States and Mexico, which share identical goals, to strengthen cooperation and "stop blaming each other's efforts."

Lack of cooperation, he said, benefits only the drug traffickers.

As an example of U.S. inattention to the drug problem, Ffrench said that according to a report by the pro-marijuana lobbying group, the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, U.S. marijuana production reached $18.6 billion last year, exceeding all other products, including corn and wheat.

He also said the President's Commission on Organized Crime has stressed that "demand and consumption" are at the core of the drug trafficking problem.

Elsewhere Monday, Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, said the U.S. Customs Service planned to put 200 more agents on the U.S.-Mexico border in response to a study revealing new crossing points for drug traffickers.

He said a Customs study had identified several hundred new crossing points on the border between Mexico and Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, landing sites on the Texas Gulf Coast, and the establishment of "stash houses" on the Mexican side of the border.

Gramm, who will head the Senate delegation to the U.S.-Mexico Interparliamentary conference in Colorado at the end of the month, said he believed top officials in the Mexican government want to fight the drug trade, but that the goal is severely diluted by the time it reaches law enforcement officials at the bottom of the ladder.

France established a protectorate over Morocco in 1912.

Pope John Paul II to visit Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Pope John Paul II will become the first pope to visit Texas when he embarks on a September 1987 trip to the Southern and Western United States, the Austin Diocese says.

The pontiff will celebrate a public mass and meet with the U.S. directors of Catholic Charities while in San Antonio, but other details of his Texas visit have not been worked out, Bishop John McCarthy said Monday.

Catholic leaders were told of the pontiff's decision to visit Texas during a meeting last week, he said.

Monsignor Louis Wozniak, pastor of St. Louis Catholic Church in Austin, said a fraternal organization of priests of Polish descent will try to arrange a papal trip to Panna Maria, a small town about 50 miles southeast of San Antonio.

Panna Maria is the oldest Polish settlement in the United States, Wozniak said, adding that the pope might also visit low-income neighborhoods of San Antonio.

In Vatican City, a source who spoke on condition of anonymity confirmed that the pope was planning a trip to the United States next year but said details on the itinerary were still being worked out.

In addition to Texas, the pontiff will visit Florida, California and possibly Arizona during the trip, he said.

McCarthy said San Antonio is an appropriate city for the pontiff to visit because of the large number of Hispanic Catholics in South Central Texas and because the area represents "the roots of Catholicism in Texas."

He said the papal visit will be the culmination of a period of spiritual renewal by the state's Catholics.

"There will be a long period of preparation. It's not a one-day event," the bishop said.

Wozniak said the papal visit will be an "uplifting moment" for many Catholics in Texas.

Krenek chosen 3rd president

director of vocational education on campus.

Krenek's wife Marsha also serves as manager of the campus bookstore. He said she will be resigning that post.

The Kreneks have two sons, Dan, a sophomore at SHS; and David, a fourth grader at East Elementary.

Krenek joined the WTC staff in 1972 as an assistant professor of history, one year after the campus began operation.

After 10-years as a professor, he was named dean of instruction in December of 1982. In this capacity, he oversaw all academic courses offered at the campus to include arts and sciences as well as the vocational-technical program.

While a professor at WTC, he twice served as president of the Faculty Association. He has also been active in both the Scurry County Historical Association and its related Historic Scurry County Inc., serving as its first president during the effort to relocate the historic Dodson House.

He began his college teaching career in 1966 at Sul Ross University in Alpine. Prior to that, he was a high school teacher at Aransas County High School.

In addition to Sul Ross, he was a part-time college instructor at Texas Tech University from 1969-71 while a graduate student.

He returned to Sul Ross from 1971-72 before joining the staff at WTC.

He received his doctorate from Tech in 1979. His other degrees include his BS degree from Howard Payne University in Brownwood, earned in 1963; and his masters degree from Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, earned in 1967.

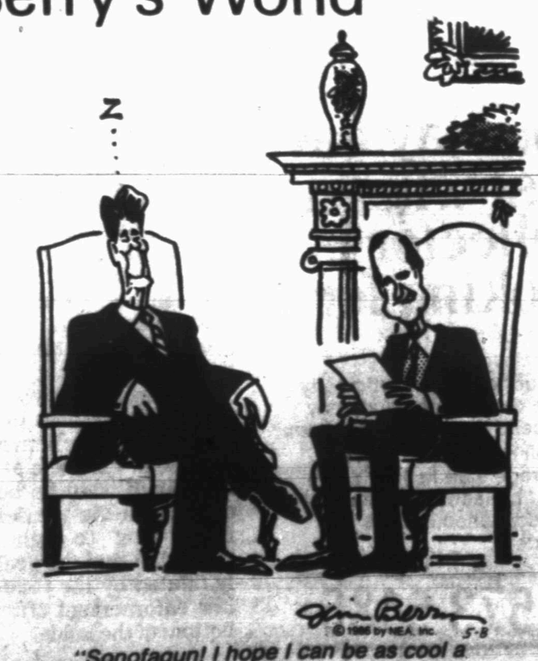

He is a high school graduate of Elgin High School near Austin.

The first president of Western Texas College was Dr. Robert Clinton, who served in that capacity from 1970 — one year before classes began — through December of 1980. On April 1, 1981, Dr. Don Newbury assumed the post following Clinton's resignation.

Krenek now becomes the third president for the 15-year-old institution.

Voting for his selection Monday were board members R.C. Patton, Bill Wilson, Bill Jones, Howard Sterling, Edwin Parks Jr. and Bob Hargrove. Roy Baze was absent Monday.

Salary study before board

Salaries account for in excess of 70 percent of the entire school district budget.

At Tuesday's May meeting, the board will also consider the method by which school officials will select this year's recipients for career ladder salary supplements.

A committee comprised of administrators and teachers were charged with the process last year, part of requirements under the new law.

This year the board has the option of changing this procedure if it chooses.

Some 71 teachers chosen for career ladder last school year received bonus payments of $1,500 each.

Trustees are also expected to formally accept the resignation of J.M. (Mule) Kayser from the board — a change effective back to April 15.

The board has scheduled also an executive session at meeting's end to discuss the pending lawsuit against the district challenging its method of electing members at-large.

Other agenda items listed include:

—A request from local TSTA representatives regarding the addition of funerals as an approved absence for teachers under the professional business leave provision.

—Renewal of the agreement between the district and the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture for U.S.D.A. commodities. The board is expected also to name Artie Butler, assistant superintendent for business, as its authorized representative to secure these commodities.

—The appointment of a delegate and alternate to the fall state convention of the Texas Association of School Boards.

—Consider approving for another year the food service contract awarded to American Food Management.

—Bids received to encapsulate the ceiling at Worsham Auditorium; and the rewiring of the concession stands and restrooms at Tiger Stadium.

—A request for use of the district's athletic facilites by members of the Scurry County Recreation Program.

—The resignations of 11 district staffers and one leave of absence request.

Assault filed with officers

Police investigated a misdemeanor assault complaint filed Monday morning by a Snyder High School senior who told officers he had been assaulted by a Hispanic male while on his way to school.

That complaint was forwarded to the county attorney for possible prosecution. No arrest was made in the case Monday.

In other action, police jailed one local man for public intoxication Monday evening.

One wreck occurs

One minor traffic accident was reported in Snyder Monday.

Involved in the 4:44 p.m. mishap in the 3000 Block of College Ave. were a 1979 Chevrolet driven by Maizie Seguin Redden of Roby and a 1982 Ford driven by Madalena Pacheco Castillo of Hermleigh.

Indictment of banker told obtained from MBank in the fall of 1981 to purchase stock in Security National Bank of Lubbock. Sam Spikes was chairman of the board of Security National and Jack Spikes was later named to the board.

The indictment accuses Spikes of understating his liabilities on the MBank loan application and on an application on March 1, 1984 for a $24,500 loan from Bent Tree National Bank.

Spikes currently lives in Dallas. Roger L. McRoberts, assistant U.S. Attorney of Lubbock, told the Dallas Morning News the charges against Jack Spikes are the result of an ongoing investigation into alleged banking violations at several West Texas financial institutions.

A Lubbock federal grand jury last month returned an indictment against Sherry Davis for making false statements on financial applications. Mrs. Davis was a former secretary to Sam Spikes.

Jack Spikes, who grew up in Snyder, was a former all-Southwest Conference fullback for Texas Christian University in the late 1950s.

mitory. Additional expenses will be incurred when the college has to repair the damage that will be made when the lines are laid.

Trustees briefly discussed replacing the gas line which runs beneath one of the buildings with a line that will be laid over the building instead. Cost is expected to be around $3,000 and bids will be presented at a May 27 budget hearing. It will begin at 5 p.m.

During the president's report, newly appointed head Dr. Harry Krenek informed trustees the college had received a refund of $7,601 from Texas Electric Service Company.

Krenek told board members it would cost around $5,500 to send members of the girls and boys rodeo team to Bozeman, Mont. for the finals. Trustees approved this expenditure.

He also said that the college gym will be used for some of the national Little Dribblers tournament games to be played in Snyder.

Krenek also provided a list of equipment which the college plans to sell including gymnastic equipment, vehicles and typewriters. Trustees also approved this.

Trustees also received a copy of the swimming pool schedule, regulations and fees.

The next regular board meeting will be June 9.

Trustees attending were R.C. Patton, Bill Jones, Howard Sterling, Bob Hargrove, Bill Wilson and Edwin Parks. Roy Baze was absent.

Weather helps

HAMPSTEAD, N.C. (AP) — Cooler weather and calmer winds helped firefighters halt the spread of a stubborn 75,000-acre fire that has raged for nine days, and officials were optimistic today that a rise in humidity would help contain the blaze.

determine the cause of the kill. As of Tuesday morning, the biologist had not arrived, however.

Hopkins said Monday afternoon he and course supervisor Bill Mitchell believe an algae build-up in the lake coupled with a normal turnover in the lake water seemed the most likely cause for the deaths. This would rob the fish of oxygen, they said.

Births

Alex and Denise Ynguanzo of Lubbock, formerly of Snyder, are the parents of a baby girl weighing seven pounds, four ounces, born Sunday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.
