Lowe Prospector In Central Midland Indicates Discovery

Ralph Lowe No. 1 J. E. Hill, Central Midland County wildcat, five miles southwest of the city of Midland, has indicated a discovery from the Dean sand of the lower Permian at 9,100-78 feet.

The prospector ran a three-hour drillstem test on that zone. Gas showed at the surface in 14 minutes. No fluid came to the surface while the tool was open.

However, when 22 dry stands of drill pipe, approximately 2,000 feet of pipe, was pulled out of the string. That made about 7,100 feet of fluid which had come into the tester during the three-hour period.

The oil started unloading and operator stopped pulling the pipe to allow the oil to unload. When all the heading was over it was planned to reverse out the fluid that might be left in the tester.

At last report no signs of water had been developed in the oil. It is presumed that the project will be drilled deeper. It was originally started out on an Ellenburger contract of 13,500 feet.

Informed observers say that the free oil developed in Lowe No. 1 Hill is the first such fluid to be found in the Permian Basin in that formation. Other wells which have been drilled in the region have logged shows in the Dean sand—but available reports fail to show that any of those projects have had any free oil in that horizon.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 30, block 39, T&P survey, T-2-S. The indicated discovery is six miles northeast of the center of the Parks-Ellenburger field.

Production Shows Logged In Midland

Some shows of possible production in the Devonian have been logged at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 H. P. Timmerman, Central-West Midland County wildcat. Operator is now testing the section which carried the shows, which is at 11,764-868 feet.

This prospect, topped the Devonian at 11,595 feet, which is on a datum of minus 8,744 feet. According to some correlations that makes it approximately 15 feet low to the top of the Devonian in Magnolia No. 2 Parks, two and one-quarter miles to the northwest, which is the center of the Parks-Ellenburger field.

The Magnolia No. 2 Parks did not show for any commercial production in the Devonian.

Top of the section showing porosity and oil stain in No. 1 Timmerman is at 11,760 feet.

This exploration is 11 1/2 miles south and a little west of the city of Midland, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 40, T&P survey, T-3-S.

It has already shown for a flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian. It flowed 414 barrels of 43.5-gravity oil in one and one-half hours from the section at 10,455-535 feet. There was no water.

Discovery Indicated In C-N Dawson Area

Standard Oil Company of Texas appears to have a new oil discovery in Central-North Dawson County at its No. 1 Mrs. M. V. A. Smith.

That prospect, located just south of the Lynn County line, four miles southwest of O'Donnell and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 34, block 41, pd survey, recovered 4,780 feet of clean 37.6-gravity oil after a five and one-half-hour drillstem test in the lower Spraberry sand of the Permian at 7,928-72 feet.

Gas came to the surface in 17 minutes after the tool was opened. No fluid came out of the top during the test. If tool had been opened longer it likely would have flowed oil. There was no water with the oil which was recovered from the drill pipe.

Total recovery was the clean oil and 720 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud and 10 feet of salt water. Bottomhole fluid pressure after 15 minutes was 2,700 pounds. There was a strong blow of gas throughout the test.

This project was started to go to 10,000 feet to try for production in the Pennsylvanian lime reef. Operator was preparing to drill deeper at last report.

Organizations Are To Meet In Odessa

ROK Troops Reported In Red Capital

By RELMAN MORIN

TOKYO—(P)—South Koreans said Wednesday night their troops had fought into Pyongyang, doomed and almost deserted Red capital, but there were indications the report may be premature.

Two hours after the radio said South Korean troops had entered, a field dispatch reported Marine pilots still were attacking enemy targets in close support outside the city.

The dispatch, filed by AP Correspondent O. H. P. King after a flight over the capital, made no mention of friendly forces inside the city.

Instead it said North Korean rear guards were withdrawing into the bomb-blackened city before the United Nations advance.

It still was believed possible a small advance South Korean force had crossed the Taedong River into the Red capital, as the Pusan radio said. If so, it climaxed a brilliant eight-day march of almost 90 miles.

The Pusan radio said the South Korean also captured Pyongyang's nearby air field.

City Appears Deserted

AP Correspondent Hal Boyle in another flight over Pyongyang said remnant enemy forces fleeing north from the city were attacked by jet planes. He said the city appeared deserted.

Demo Accusations, Dewey Denials Rock U. S. Political Front

NEW YORK—(P)—Democratic accusations of Republican corruption and sweeping denials by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey rocked New York Wednesday with campaign explosions that echoed on the national political front.

Dewey, twice the Republican candidate for President, stood on an unqualified denial of Democratic assertions that cash or promises of appointment were used to purchase Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley's withdrawal from the gubernatorial race and paved the way for his own renomination.

Hanley, now Republican candidate for senator, took to the air Tuesday night to back Dewey to the hilt and deny any improper significance to a letter Hanley wrote last September 5 after a conference with Dewey.

In the letter he said he had received "unalterable propositions" and could clean up his debts in 90 days if he dropped out of the governor's race and ran for the Senate instead.

Tuesday night, in an emotional 15-minute talk, the 74-year-old Hanley called Democratic charges "a new low in political smear."

"Nobody has given me a nickel," he said, "and I wouldn't have written it. I have more sense than that."

But in another radio talk, Dewey's Democratic-Liberal rival for the governorship, Congressman Walter A. Lynch, hurled threats of a grand jury investigation and impeachment at the two men.

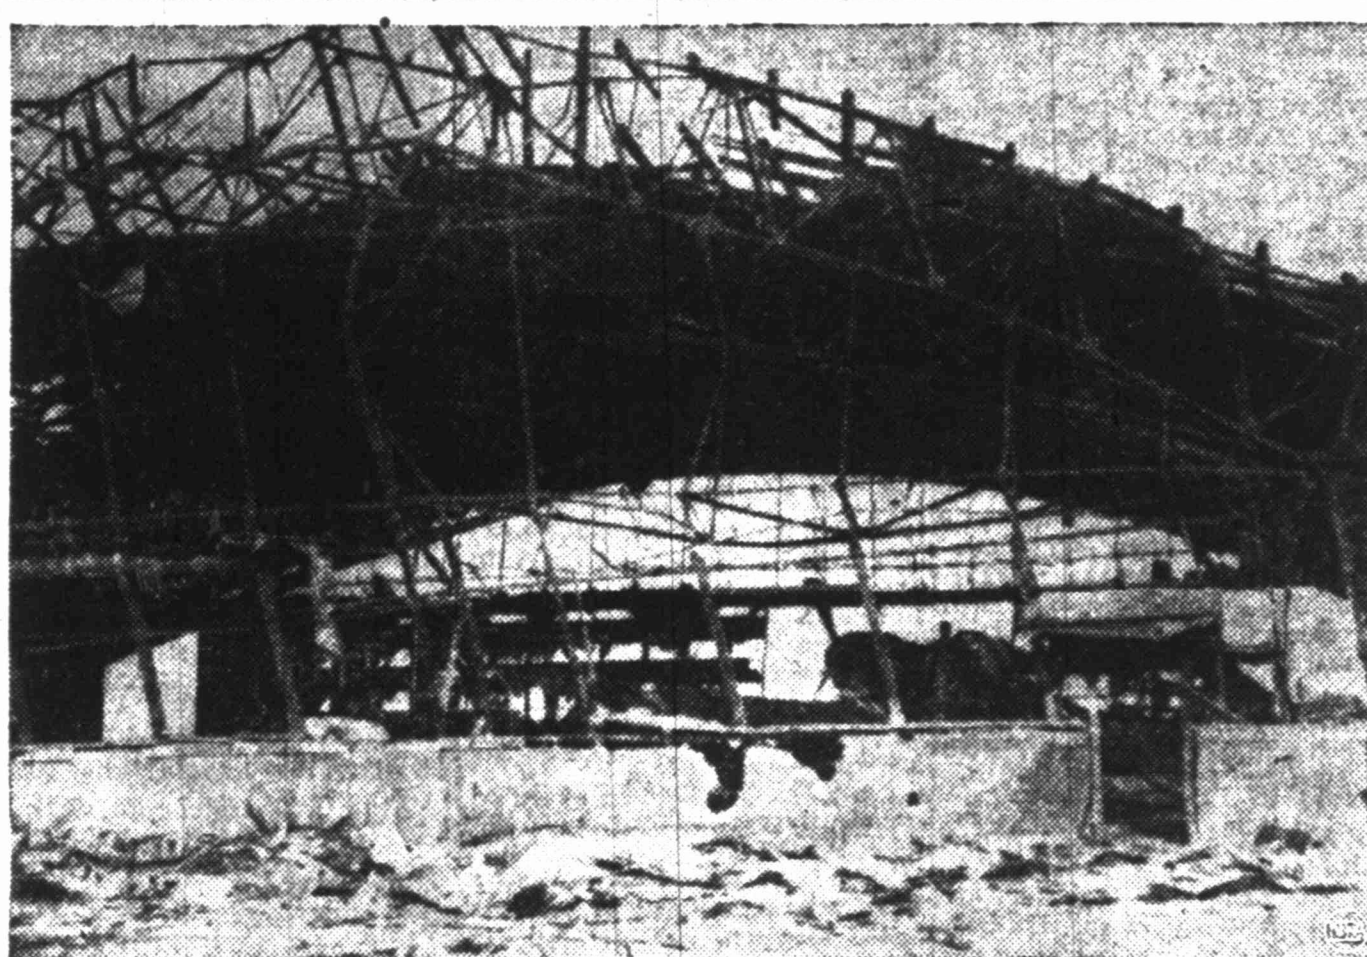

Some anti-Dewey Republicans joined Lynch in criticism that split state party ranks and cast a shadow on the November 7 election.

It was a novel experience for Dewey, who began his public career as the famed "racket buster" of the 30's and who made clean politics the keynote of his state administrations and two White House campaigns.

Lynch, speaking from a farm rally in Westchester County, said both Dewey and Hanley conspired to violate a New York law prohibiting the bartering of offices.

"The subject confession of their perfidy as contained in the Hanley letter is proof of undeniable guilt," Lynch said. "They must both withdraw from the race."

"There is nothing else for them in their guilt to do," Lynch said. "If they don't act quickly the anger of the citizenry of the State of New York will force them out."

Police Agency Over Prices, Wages Comes into Official Being

WASHINGTON—(P)—A powerful new police agency over prices and wages Wednesday tackled a series of problems affecting Americans' pocketbooks and pantry shelves.

The Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) officially came into existence Tuesday when Alan Valentine took the oath as administrator. A few hours later, another mobilization agency said it will act shortly to curtail use of rubber.

The announcement that sharper curbs on rubber usage by tire and other manufacturers will be issued shortly came from the National Production Authority (NPA). Administrator William H. Harrison said the order will limit the total amount of natural rubber consumed in November and December, as well as the total of new synthetic and natural rubber.

Officials indicated the order will seek to limit consumption to about 90,000 tons a month. That was the goal fixed in August but widely missed. The aim of the forthcoming order is to make more natural rubber available to the government stockpile.

New Credit Rating Saves City Money On Bonds, Manager Says

Raising of the City of Midland's credit rating during the last few weeks resulted in savings up to $150,000 in interest charges on revenue and tax bonds sold Tuesday, City Manager W. H. Oswalt announced.

The city's financial rating recently was raised by the Moody Investor Service to a "BAA" classification. The new classification is considered a "good" credit rating by investment firms, Oswalt said.

The city manager said the new rating largely was responsible for the number of bids received Tuesday for the purchase of $2,750,000 in revenue and tax bonds. Ten bids were received, representing approximately 75 investment firms.

Accurate and complete information furnished bidders by the city was responsible for the new credit rating, according to Oswalt.

The First Southwest Company of Dallas, financial advisory firm, had studied Midland's financial structure and made several recommendations which the city followed in obtaining the new rating.

Ratings of the Midland Independent School District also were raised.

Hamon Heads General Mid-Continent Group

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Jacob L. Hamon of Dallas Tuesday was named president of the General Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association to succeed Frank M. Porter.

Hamon was named at a special meeting of the board after Porter resigned.

Porter now is president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Truman Offers Full 'Peace Partnership' To Oppressed Asia

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—President Truman set the world stage Wednesday for an unprecedented counter-offensive to Soviet peace propaganda. He offered a full "partnership of peace" to all Asia, backed up by United States military might.

The State Department's "Voice of America" bombarded every reachable listener with a constant repetition of Truman's warning to the peoples of the Far East that Russia is trying to turn them into "colonial slaves of a new imperialism."

And the President left for the Russian Politburo a bold and blunt reminder that the United States will not stop short of war to resist aggression and preserve "our free way of life."

Truman flew back to Washington shortly after delivering his major foreign policy speech here Tuesday night.

His plane landed at Andrews Field, a military airport southeast of Washington, at 10:04 a.m. Wednesday. The military airport was used because of fog over the National Airport.

It was the last, eight-hour leg of a 14,400-mile round trip flight during which he talked with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Wake Island about what, he said, were the "dangers which still face us."

Founded On Justice

"What we want is a partnership for peace with all the world," Truman told a cheering audience. He said "we want peace but it must be a peace founded upon justice. That American policy is as old as our republic and it is stronger today than ever before in our history. And with God's help we intend to keep it that way."

The crowd applauded vigorously as the President declared "We are increasing our armed strength because Soviet policies leave us no other choice."

If the Soviets "really want peace," Truman continued, they can prove it "by living up to the principles of the United Nations Charter," and "by joining the rest of the United Nations in calling upon the North Koreans to lay down their arms at once."

Lamesa Elementary Schools To Adopt Half-Day Schedule

LAMESA—(P)—Part of Lamesa's school children will go to school on a half-day basis starting October 23.

Plans for the half-day sessions were approved Tuesday at a special meeting of the school board. Superintendent G. B. Wadcock said the action would relieve congestion in the classrooms and give children of migratory laborers opportunity to work half-a-day in the cotton fields.

The half-day sessions are scheduled for all grades through the fourth and possibly through the sixth.

Current enrollment at schools here is at a record high of 3,300 and has been growing from 50 to 150 pupils per week since school opened.

Appeaser Warning, Says Chiang Aide

TAIPEI, FORMOSA—(P)—A Chinese Nationalist government spokesman Wednesday said his government is cheered by President Truman's faith in the ability of the free world to resist aggression.

Nationalist Cabinet Spokesman Shen Chang Huan said the President's speech in San Francisco should serve as a warning to those who still think "the Chinese Communists can be appeased or bought."

More Mid-Movie Munching Gives Exhibitors Indigestion

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Now even the exhibitors are screaming that eating at the movies is getting out of hand. MGM is warring on drive-in theaters with a free admission policy to attract customers for their concessions. A New York theater chain is starting a three-minute intermission for candy sales. Walled Benny Berger at a Pittsburgh theater convention:

"I expect eventually to find that instead of a two-hour show and a three-minute intermission, we will have a three-minute show and a two-hour candy and popcorn intermission."

Errol Flynn and Vincent Price stage a fight in an icy, outdoor swimming pool for a sequence in "Blood Line." While the scenes were being shot, Price cracked to Flynn:

"You should enjoy this after all the hot water you've been in."

Bing Crosby wants the Andrews Sisters for his co-starrer with Bill Boyd. Larry Parks, who was raised on a Kansas farm, is farm hunting. Carmen Miranda can name her own price if she will return to Brazil for a personal appearance tour. The Brazilian government wants to declare a holiday in her honor. Charles Fredericks, the singing lead in the Broadway-bound "Lady From Paris," is up for Eagle Lion's "South of Singapore."

The idea is in the "let's-get-it-into-a-contract" stage at Agents Television Corporation, a new outfit that will represent agents for Hollywood's stars, directors, producers and writers in packaging television shows. W. R. Frank, the Minneapolis theater chain owner, is chairman of the board, aided by Buster Collier, Magny Wolf and Irving and Sidney Salkow.

TV Invasion Set

Maybe Lana Turner and Arlene Dahl won't lose any sleep over it, but Elsa Lanchester is busting out as a beauty for her night club tour.

Saucer-faced Elsa, whose testimonials never were sought by soap companies after she appeared as the orange-blossom girl in "The Bride of Frankenstein," told me:

"Up until now, I've been afraid to try to look pretty. Before this, when I'd come out looking elegant, certain people around town would say, 'Poor Mrs. Lanchester—she's trying to look nice.'"

"I used to work at the Hollywood Canteen and the GIs would buzz about stars who didn't come up to their expectations. But I looked so much better than they thought I would, I had a good time."

Not in the script:

Laurence Olivier and Jennifer Jones are standing on the rear platform of a railroad coach—mounted on springs with a device to give realistic motion—for a scene in "Carrie." Director William Wyler to the crew:

"Give me a big jerk on the train."

Olivier with a grin: "Coming, Mr. Wyler."

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Readers And Others Often Ask If Hair Turns White Overnight

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Not long ago a correspondent asked whether it was true or merely an old wives' tale that worrying turns a person's hair white. Actually this is a hard question to answer, since most of those researchers who have been interested in it have concentrated on whether the hair could turn white suddenly as a result of some fright or shock.

The hair color is decided before birth according to definite rules of heredity. What makes the color is pigment, and when the pigment disappears the hair becomes white. Since pigment is distributed all through each hair, it is hard to believe that it could disappear all of a sudden from the ends of the hair which already are dead.

After writing about this subject once before, I received several letters from people who claimed they knew someone whose hair had turned suddenly white. One of them wrote:

"Shortly after the crash of the Fall of 1907, I interviewed a man in a New England industrial city. My recollection is that his age was under 50. I went to his home 10 days or two weeks later. The man who met me at the door invited me in but seemed surprised that I did not recognize him. After concluding our talk the matter of his appearance came up, and he told me the change in his hair had taken place in one night. I remembered his hair as black. Now two-thirds of his head was white and the rest in rough streaks remained black. It made a very strange sight."

Having Children Do Chores Doesn't Make You A 'Meanie'

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"My wife and I are the meanest parents in the neighborhood," I recently heard a man say ruefully. He added by way of explanation: "We insist on our children doing a few small jobs about the house and yard. They have to do their chores before they can go out to play, and apparently we are the only parents in our neighborhood who demand anything at all of their children in the way of work."

Any parent who today clings to the old-fashioned but still sound notion that a child should accept a little responsibility for helping with yard and household chores probably can sympathize with this man. For today, in the so-called "better" neighborhoods few children are expected to do anything but what beckons at the moment.

Mama hires a yard man to come once a week to mow the lawn, while husky junior goes to the movies, reads comic books, or sits in front of his own or a neighbor's television set.

Sis doesn't even clean up her own room, though she has plenty of energy for anything the gang thinks up. Also, she doesn't hesitate to use Mom as a chauffeur for the gang. So the parent who tries to see to it that his children shoulder a little responsibility and do a little work along with having fun is at a disadvantage. Because the neighbors' kids don't have any chores to do, one's own children are likely to feel put upon. It's no wonder that Mama and Papa get to feeling like the neighborhood's meanest parents.

A Wise Statement

Perhaps they can console themselves with the attitude I once heard another father express.

"I want my children to love me," he said, "but more important, I want to do what I think is right for them, whether it makes them love me more or less at the time." That man's children grew up not only to love him—but to have deep respect for him as a person and as a parent.

Margaret Denies Rumors of Romance

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — There is no romance in the life of Margaret Truman—for the present at least.

"Not at the moment," she replied, "but things can change."

Miss Truman will sing at a concert here Wednesday night. Asked if she found much pro or anti-Truman feeling on her tour, Margaret replied:

"I don't think so, not much. I think the politicians have rather given up using me. I won't be used in any way. I am here as a concert singer."

Stassen-Stalin Talk

Offhand it might seem that no great harm could come from a face to face talk between Harold Stassen and Joseph Stalin, as the former Minnesota governor proposes. Stassen, not being a representative of the U. S. government, could make known to Stalin America's determination to resist all Soviet aggression. He could reaffirm our great desire for lasting peace. But nothing he would say formally would commit the U. S. government to anything at all.

The United States might learn, in return, the current thinking in the Kremlin on the outlook for peace and a settlement of major world issues. Theoretically, a clearing of the international atmosphere might follow. The trouble with Stassen's plan is that Russia never enters discussions of this sort with sincere and honest motives. Right now Soviet leaders face a damaging defeat in Korea. More than that, they look out upon an aroused Western world that is arming as never before to meet their every advance into fresh territory. Many signs already have appeared that Moscow is softening its attitude, almost certainly with the aim of lulling the West back into its old state of false security. Soviet representatives at the UN mention "peace talks."

Who can believe these overtures are genuine? Blowing hot and cold is a standard Russian technique. If the Russians could succeed now in weakening the West's resolve to rearm, they could cancel out much of the loss they suffered by touching off the Korean war.

To accept their overtures at face value would be merely to play their game. For the same reason, conversations between Stassen and Stalin would play into Soviet hands. They surely would use the opportunity to offer stout assurances of their peaceful aims, their wish to make the UN a force for world order, and so on. Stassen would be a perfect foil for a device that easily could deceive the world once more about true Russian purposes. Indeed, Stassen may well be just the man they're looking for. By dint of his ability to command a large American and Western audience, he would be a fine mouthpiece for Moscow's latest peace propaganda.

It would be little short of criminal to have the world's hopes of peace raised falsely again, as they have been so many times by cynical Russian leaders bent upon global conquest.

Until Russia gives evidence by deed rather than word that she means "peace" when she says it, we in the West ought to limit her chances to throw verbal smoke screens. A man-to-man Stassen-Stalin talk probably would serve just exactly the opposite end—and thus help the Soviet Union.

No Canine Catcher He

Stray dogs all over the country must be padding about with uplifted ears and a new sense of security these days.

It isn't that some rich fellow has created an endowment fund for strays and thereby removed the specter of hunger, it isn't that the veterinary medical associations have decided to set up free clinics to keep the wandering canines in the full bloom of health.

It's just that President Truman said he would not appoint John L. Lewis dog catcher.

Some Folks Get A Lot Of Work Done Over The Weekend

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Taxpayers pay for honeymoon of Michigan congressman's daughter; John L. Lewis suing Senator Bridges on foreign policy; Ghost of "Operation 23" at work.

WASHINGTON — The taxpayers don't know it, but they are paying for the honeymoon of a congressman's daughter. She is Mrs. Jules De Porre, daughter of Democrat Congressman Louis Rabaut of Groses Pointe Park, Mich.

Carolyn was the last in a line of daughters who worked as Congressmen Rabaut's secretary. But she quit to get married shortly after Easter, and became Mrs. Jules De Porre on July 8. Despite this, she has continued to draw $433.33 a month.

While the congressman's daughter draws her salary, her job is taken by Marion B. Lacey, who is paid $331.71 per month by the House Appropriations Committee. Very conveniently, the committee "loaned" her to Rabaut to handle "committee business." She is not on his regular payroll.

When queried by the column, Rabaut explained that his daughter never quit working for him, but just shifted to his Detroit office. Actually, this explanation doesn't hold up. For the congressman didn't open an office in Detroit until Congress recessed the last week of September.

Furthermore, when the congressman takes a trip to Detroit, his office help in Washington complains that he scribbles letters in long-hand and sends them back to Washington to be typed, thus making a mystery as to what his newly married daughter is supposed to be doing for him in his Detroit office.

A further check by this column in Detroit indicates that Mrs. De Porre hasn't been working for her father as his congressional secretary at all. Mrs. De Porre also told this column that she returned to work here between Easter and her July 8 wedding day, but a check at the House Office Building revealed this was not true.

The real truth is that Congressman Rabaut gave his daughter a $433.33-per-month wedding gift—at the taxpayers' expense.

John L. Lewis's Friend
It's no secret that New Hampshire's Senator Styles Bridges, the No. 2 Republican of the Senate, was paid $35,000 a year as trustee for John L. Lewis's Miners' Welfare Fund. In addition, it also looks as if the shaggy-browed Lewis has been giving cuts to Bridges regarding foreign policy.

For several months, Bridges has been working closely with the State Department and moving into Senator Vandenberg's shoes as the GOP spokesman on foreign affairs—second only to Senator Taft in Republican influence. But, suddenly Bridges' lashed out with a vitriolic attack against the State Department.

This attack, it now develops, was not prepared in Bridges' office at all, but by John L. Lewis's "public relations" firm, the Allied Syndicate.

Tip-off came when the Bridges statements were delivered by mistake to the wrong part of the capital. A press attendant called Bridges' office to straighten out the error, but no one in the senator's office seemed to know about it. They didn't even know that he was making a statement on foreign policy.

Later, Arthur Reilly, a former John L. Lewis press-relations man, straightened out the matter of the misplaced Bridges press releases. Reilly, after serving in United Mine Workers headquarters, transferred to the Washington office of the Allied Syndicate, which works for Lewis. The Bridges statement, incidentally, was prepared while the senator was out of the city.

So it looks as if the $35,000 salary paid by John L. was producing more for Senator Bridges than his services as trustee on the Miners' pension fund.

Admiral's Propaganda
The admiral's propaganda outfit, "Operation 23," was supposed to have been abolished after the B-36 feud of last Fall. It was the cause of a bitter battle between the Air Force and the Navy, with the result that forthright Secretary of the Navy Matthews dispersed the Naval officers in charge.

However, it now develops that the ghost of "Operation 23" still is haunting the Air Force. The same old anti-Air Force stories are being leaked to the press. In fact, Navy propagandists, believe it or not, are spreading the same identical stories as the Communists about the Air Force; namely, that U. S. airplanes have been killing North Korean women and children.

Actually, B-29 raids in Korea have been so accurate that they demolished the Wonsang armament plants without even touching the rows of workers' houses alongside.

Some admirals also are coming out into the open with the same views that got them into trouble over unification. Rear Adm. Stuart Ingersoll, for instance, arranged a recent conference of American mayors on the Navy's success in Korea, as if the Air Force did not exist. "One of the main lessons of the Korean war," declared Admiral Ingersoll, "was the great value of inherent mobility of the Navy forces."

The admiral pointed out that the Navy had sailed up and down the Korean coast bombarding Communists there, forgetting to mention that there was no enemy Air Force to interfere with the Navy.

Army Friend
President Truman stepped right into the middle of a row between two Republican senators recently, when he scribbled his signature on a bill transferring Fort Des Moines to the State of Iowa.

GOP Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon scornfully had dubbed the bill the "Fort Des Moines Steal," but GOP Senator Bourke Hickenlooper needed the bill to help his reelection fight, and though Hickenlooper is a bitter foe of the administration, while Morse is a personal friend of Truman's the President sided with his GOP enemy against his GOP friend.

Morse opposed the bill on the ground that it was a purely political grab.

"There are too many members of Congress making a political grab bag of the reservoirs of surplus property," the Oregon senator maintained. The bill before us reeks with Iowa Politics.

"Where the carcasses lie," commented Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois, sadly, "there the vultures love to feed."

Morse even carried his opposition to the point of writing Secretary of the Army Frank: "The time to stop a raid on the federal treasury of giveaway camp sites is right now."

Taxpayer Pays
And to President Truman, he wrote: "For two years certain politicians from Iowa have tried to put through the Hickenlooper bill. The fact is, Mr. President, the whole thing smells. I think you should veto

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Imaginative defense is one of the sure signs of the expert bridge player. The quality may be seen in action in this hand, taken from a recent national championship.

West opened the queen of clubs, and East won with the ace. The average player would have returned a club or a trump, thus leading up to dummy's weakness. When this hand was played, however, East was John Crawford, and John is far from just an average player. He thought for about two seconds and then produced the killing return.

It was clear to Crawford that his side could win only one club trick. His partner's lead of the queen of clubs indicated that South held the king. Even if South had more low clubs, he could trump them, in dummy.

The diamonds in the dummy made it equally clear that the defense could win only one high card trick. That suit, two additional tricks were needed to defeat the contract.

South had bid the hand fairly strongly even though his only high card in the two minor suits was the king of clubs. Hence he was bound to be quite strong in the major suits. It was therefore hopeless to count on West for more than one trick in either hearts or spades.

By this time Crawford had reached the conclusion (in far less time than it took to explain) that the defense could win only three tricks at most in high cards. Their only chance was to get a ruffing trick, and the only logical suit was diamonds.

The question was, did West have a singleton or a doubleton in diamonds? The chances were that West would have led diamonds if he had held a singleton. Crawford therefore decided to play him for a doubleton. Upon reaching this decision, he led back a low diamond.

This return killed the contract. Declarer won in dummy and took the trump finesse. (It would have done him no good to make any other play.) West won with the king of spades and returned his remaining diamond. Crawford now took the ace of diamonds and returned his last diamond, enabling his partner to ruff.

Korean War Shows Inadequacy Of Services' Reserve Programs

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Korea has shown up some drastic defects in the reserve structure of the services. And with a big mobilization continuing after victory in Korea the inequities and shortcomings of the reserve components of U. S. armed forces will be even more glaring.

It always has been the theory that the country should maintain a small regular force in time of peace and call on civilian reserves in time of war. That theory is being junked in fact by the present build-up of all of the services. And they're looking for a new theory and new rules to cover the existence of a very large peacetime military force with probably total mobilization in case of war.

The present reserve force consists of the National Guard, whose complicated legal status makes it a half state, half federal force and the active reserves who are wholly under Uncle Sam. The inactive reserves occupy a sort of shadowy legal status.

The active reserve corps which each service, including the Coast Guard, maintains has the soundest legal basis for future needs. It can be made adequate merely by improving recruiting, training and leadership. There have been the widest differences between organized reserve units as to their state of preparedness. The standard generally hasn't been high.

Short Of Need
Pentagon spokesmen admit that the active reserves tell far short of meeting the need for infantry replacements in Korea. That doesn't mean that the reserves were expected to furnish men direct to the front lines. Obviously a reservist has to have additional training before going into combat. But the average active reserve unit was not constituted so as to even supply men quickly to get the further training needed before combat.

However, it is the National Guard which has the top brass worried. In a mobilization which is short of all-out war, the guard just isn't filling the bill. According to a top Army spokesman there are so many considerations involved in calling a National Guard outfit into active duty it's easier to ignore the guard completely and just gamble that you can build up new regular forces quickly enough.

The situation in Europe is cited by the Army spokesman as a typical example of the difficulties in using the guard. After a guard unit is called up it takes months of additional training before it is ready for any specific job such as would be required of it in Europe today. And the cost of equipping it and sending it overseas is enormous.

Then the $64 question is asked: How long can you keep a guard unit on active duty? Basically, every National Guardsman is a civilian. Every month he is in service is a sacrifice to him. The theory is that a man agrees to accept that sacrifice when he goes into the guard, but the morale factor enters into the picture. Say you have an Ohio guard division in Germany for more than a year. Pretty soon you get the Ohio men asking why they can't come home and let the New York guard serve some time in Europe.

National Guard Problem
If the pressure for such a switch gets great enough it means more months of training and the cost of equipping a new unit, the New York guard. All the Army has gotten out of one unit is a little more have your ghoulish fun sticking pins into us! I hope you do die! You're too mean to go on living!" Leena heartily agreed, crying out, but the shocked recognition of so much bitter hatred in one woman blinded her to the real truth—that Sandra Thorne was afraid of Miss Maggie. Afraid of something else that she could—and probably would—tell.

Leena recognized that fear a moment later, as Sandra sought her husband's eyes.

"Jasper," she pleaded. "Don't believe her, Jasper! She's crazy!" Miss Maggie smiled, her thin old lips drawing down into a sour-persimmon pucker that made Leena shudder. It was almost as though the old woman's heart had shriveled along with her wasted body, until human kindness no longer remained.

"If I were in my mind you'd be valid is that the point you're trying to make, Sandra?" Miss Maggie's laugh was a thin, mirthless cackle. "How wrong you have been to hate me all these years—all of you, Leena, read it." She handed the girl the folded sheets she had taken from the briefcase that lay now across her bony knees.

Obediently, Leena unfolded the paper and began reading. After the preliminary statements that she knew Miss Maggie had copied from some previous will, she stopped.

"Miss Maggie," hesitatingly, "I don't think—"

"Nonsense! Read on." Leena shot a swift glance around the room. All eyes were on one pair, boring coldly into her. She read.

"Setting aside all previous wills made by me, Margaret Annabelle Thorne, I hereby leave to my niece-in-law, Sandra Pearson Thorne, the sum of $30,000, this on the condition that she regain possession of my mother's sapphirine and diamond lavaliere which I have reason to believe she stole and pawned. Said lavaliere must then be presented to my sister Agatha, who is its rightful owner under the terms of our mother's will."

"Would you make that offer again? Now?" "You're lying!" Sandra blazed. "You can't take the knowledge that you're going to die, and

Woman's Club, Inc., B&PW Have Dinner

Money was anything but a scarce item when the Business and Professional Women's Club of Inc. had a dinner meeting Tuesday night in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

"The Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow" was the theme for the decorations and paper money, tinsel coins and glass trees bearing silver dimes were scattered along the length of the three tables.

This is the twenty-third anniversary of National B&PW Week.

Corsages carried out the financial theme with a crushed dollar bill outlined with silver coins. Other corsages were in the badge form with multicolored ribbons edged with dangling coins.

A low bowl of Pyracantha spread fan-shaped decorated the speaker's table.

Taking part in the business session were Mrs. Charles M. Goldsmith, president of the Woman's Club, Inc. and Mrs. L. G. Byerley, program chairman. Thelma Gardner, president of the B&PW Club, introduced the program chairman.

"Measuring Up Financially" was the topic of the panel discussion, led by Glenyth Herring, financial committee chairman. Miss Herring introduced Fannie Bess Taylor, who then introduced the members of the panel. They were Miss Herring, Susie Noble, Dorothy Thompson, Emily Atkinson, Miss Taylor and Holly Friberg.

"To manage money well is to improve one's self," Miss Taylor stated. "With 15 to 30 per cent of our income going to adequate housing, we should be especially careful where we spend that 14 hours a day when we aren't at the office," Mrs. Noble said.

Miss Herring, the next speaker, estimated we spend 40 per cent of our income for food and clothing.

"We must look healthy to get a job and be healthy to keep it," Miss Herring said. Candy bars and sodas don't furnish enough nutrition. More imagination can improve the meal planning at home, where too much food shouldn't be made over the three meals.

On clothing she said "Often the woman who looks like a million dollars does so on very little money. It is always best when bargain hunting to buy late in the season at a good shop rather than early in a cheap one. The best bargain is no bargain at all if it just hangs in the closet."

"Build the wardrobe around one color. The accessories must look as though the purchaser had the complete wardrobe in mind."

Dorothy Thompson, treasurer of the finance committee, discussed "time payments."

"Check on the finance rates which will be charged and the interest. See what the policy covers, what insurance it gives."

"The time payments are valuable to our modern times. Almost anything can be purchased if your credit is good."

Mrs. Friberg estimated that 20 per cent of our salary is spent on medical care, personal items, vacations, transportation, social activities and recreation.

"Make a point to visit your optometrist regularly, the dentist twice a year and the doctor at least once. Budget plans should include hospital insurance."

"And don't forget to make a regular trip to your beauty shop. Women need that lift. Stringy hair is unpleasant to your boss if you're taking dictation across the table or to the students if you're a teacher."

"A vacation is another must, at least once a year. Learn to play golf, tennis or enjoy some activity. Set money aside in the budget for a vacation. If it's impossible to visit the mountains or the seashore, stay home."

Savings, insurance and investments were discussed by Emily Atkinson, who said, "Of course it is usually easier to spend than to save. Most rates are intended to supplement, not support, a person. They offer a bulwark against financial worry, old age, hard times and illness."

"Enough money saved can mean a vacation or traveling, the education of children or luxuries. Only what we save is really ours. Higher rates usually pay two and one half per cent interest. Postal savings, savings bonds and life insurance are a few."

"The greater possibility of returns, the greater risks involved."

Mugwump Monkey and the Hufen Puffen were in the Hufen's hollow tree house. Mugwump said: "Hufen, what would you do if an Eskimo came a-knocking at your door?"

"Sure," said Mugwump.

The Hufen thought about this. Why, an Eskimo is someone who lives in the north near the North Pole somewhere. There are no trees in Eskimo-land, but only ice and snow. Oh, ice is everywhere there in Eskimo-land. The air is so cold that water all about is changed into ice that never melts. Why, building a house is the easiest thing in the world. All you do is saw some ice like wood into that is made of ice, making it snugger and snugger and tighter and tighter against the cold, cold air. And you will go to sleep at last in a bed of furs to sleep through a long winter night while the bears are prowling about on the ice, or maybe a walrus, or a something else.

"Hufen Puffen," said Mugwump. "I asked you about what you would do if an Eskimo came a-knocking at your door right now."

"Oh!" said the Hufen, because he had been doing the thinking of all these things about Eskimo-land, and he still hadn't said what he would do if an Eskimo came a-knocking at his door.

Well, the Hufen decided at last that he didn't know, he didn't, just what he would do, but I'm telling you he had better decide. Something is about to happen, and that is the story I'll tell you tomorrow. Happy day!

blocks. Then you stack the blocks on one another to make a house to live in. And the blocks should always be light together to keep out the snow and wind. The wind is cold—oh, so cold—there in Eskimo-land.

For the door on the house that is made of ice, all you need is a warm fur to be stretched across the place you go in. Better still, maybe there should be a block of ice to roll against the hole that the fur is covering. That will be sure to keep out the wind, and then, too, no polar bear is going to get to come in. The ice will be much too heavy for him to push aside, we hope.

And then the snow will fall and fall and fall. It will cover the house

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

All is not a bed of roses for even the best canasta players. For instance, I was watching a game in Dallas the other evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Robinson, two of our best and most enthusiastic players, had built up a nice lead in the game. They needed 120 and their opponents were still in the 50 bracket when one of those equalizing hands came up.

The Robinsons could not get the count and the opponents were having a field day. They had not melded much because they were each holding so many cards that the Robinsons could not afford to freeze the discard pile and had merely to build up their hands so that they could go out eventually.

Finally Ted acquired the count and melded 2-A-A, 2-Q-Q and 10-10-10. He discarded and retained another deuce and an odd six spot in his hand.

Plavac and Ellington said some of the subjects scheduled for presentation are "Law Enforcement as a Profession," "Public Relations," "Traffic Accident Reports," "City Ordinances," "Laws of Arrest and Searches and Seizures," "Duties of a Patrolman," "Investigative Note Taking and Report Writing," "Collection and Preservation of Evidence," and "Practical Crime Scene Search Problems."

Now Ted drew a nine. Upon looking over the situation on the table he saw that his opponents had completed two canastas and had several melds of five or six. It was particularly unfortunate that two of their six melds were naturals in nines and sixes.

This left Ted in a real tough spot. He could freeze the pack, in which case he could not possibly go out for at least two rounds. However, in that case both he and Mrs. Robinson would be able to discard safely from then on and the opponents would be able to make canastas with their few cards. Or he could give away a natural canasta and keep his out position.

Ted's decision was to freeze the pack. His theory was that in all probability Mrs. Robinson also held cards that would be particularly valuable to the opposition. Therefore, he reasoned that even though the hand went right to the end the opponents could not make any natural canastas and would have to be content with completing canastas with wild cards.

I was inclined to approve his decision, particularly due to the fact that the opposition was down to four and five cards respectively. The actual result of the hand was astounding. The opponents did not want to go out and after a few rounds during which several tens were discarded into the center the player at Ted's left threw away a jack. His side already had a mixed canasta in jacks but Mrs. Robinson held two jacks anyway. She took the pile, melded the natural canasta in tens and several other melds and went out.

Cross Burned On University Campus

AUSTIN —(P)—A seven-foot cross was burned on the University of Texas campus Tuesday night—the second cross burning at the university in the last ten days. The letters "KKK" were scrawled in black ink on a sidewalk leading to the law school.

The Austin Fire Department, which was called to extinguish the flames at 10:57 p.m., reported the cross burning. Police said they had no report of the incident.

Some 75 students gathered at the firemen put out the flames. No one was seen erecting the cross or lighting it.

There was no indication whether the incident was a student prank or a serious demonstration. Firemen said they overheard several students say the cross may have been burned in protest of negroes attending the university, several of whom are enrolled in the law school.

J. B. McCallin, a university night watchman, and a construction company watchman, C. J. Addox, said another cross was burned about ten days ago in front of the biology building.

Pair Arrested After Holdup Attempt On South Dallas Bank

DALLAS —(P)—Two men were arrested here Tuesday after an unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the South Dallas Bank and Trust Company.

Police and Dallas News Reporter Charles Murphy teamed to capture the two men, identified by bank employees as those who tried the holdup about 4 p.m.

The reporter spotted the men's car parked in front of a tavern. He was on the way to the bank when he saw it. He had heard a description of the auto, the men, and the license number on the police radio of his car.

Lester McCalmant, teller at the bank, told officers a man came to the window, held a gun in his right hand and down on his hip and told McCalmant to be "quiet and start digging for the money."

McCalmant looked at the gun and ducked quickly behind the counter. He said the holdup man then turned and walked out.

One of the men arrested at the tavern had a toy pistol. Bank employees said one man made the robbery demand and the other drove a get-away car.

ETCC Group Asks Income Tax Break For Bond Buyers

DALLAS —(P)—The man who buys war bonds ought to get a break on his income tax, think directors of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

They passed a resolution at a meeting here Tuesday which advocated this.

The resolution, introduced by A. T. Deere of Freeport, urged "the creation of some form of income tax credit by the government to individuals and/or partnerships or corporations who purchase government bonds so that the citizens rather than banks will be purchasing government bonds and in this manner help stem the tide of inflation that is rapidly engulfing the nation."

The telegram also protested against the secretary's action in imposing any controls at all.

Mines Sink Two More United States Ships

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Two more Navy vessels, the minesweeper Pirate and Pledge, have been sunk by mines in Korean waters.

Announcing this Tuesday, the Navy placed the toll at one dead, 12 missing and 79 injured. That brought total announced casualties due to mine explosions to 12 dead, 36 missing and 96 injured.

The Navy said the Pirate and the Pledge were sunk October 12 off Wonsan, North Korean port recently captured by South Korean forces. The Navy previously had announced that the destroyers Brush and Mansfield were damaged by mines in late September and the minesweeper Magpie sunk October 1.

The Pirate had 39 injured and six missing; the Pledge suffered one dead, six missing and 40 injured. The Navy said the two 185-foot vessels struck separate mines about six minutes apart while clearing mines off Wonsan. Two other minesweepers picked up survivors under fire from enemy shore batteries.

There was no indication what type of mines sunk the two craft. The Navy has said many floating mines of Russian manufacture have been found off Korea.

McCarthy On Coast To Fight Damage Suit

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Glenn McCarthy, millionaire Texas oil man, is here to fight a $210,000 damage suit brought by a Los Angeles sports promoter.

Lawrence Rummans, the promoter, charges that McCarthy beat him up, falsely imprisoned him in a hotel and has withheld $10,000 which Rummans says is due him for assisting McCarthy in promoting a charity football game. Rummans said he was beaten in McCarthy's Shamrock Hotel in Houston, Texas, Sept. 22, 1949.

McCarthy gave a deposition in the case Tuesday. In answer to questioning he said that he has no idea as to the size of his fortune but his income is "definitely" in excess of $1,000,000 a year.

Rummans says he was hired by McCarthy to promote an all-star charity football game in Houston, Texas, in July of 1949.

The suit is to be tried in federal court here, probably within the next two months.

FBI Puts Out New 'Wanted' Notices For Subversives

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The FBI Wednesday issued a new "wanted" notice for subversives.

Arrestingly black bordered on white cardboard and imprinted with the penned signature of Director J. Edgar Hoover, the notice reads: "Protect your country."

"The President of the United States on July 24, 1950, requested all law-enforcement agencies, patriotic organizations, and YOU to report all information relating to espionage, sabotage and subversive activities to the FBI."

"1. Be alert. A watchful citizen can save many American lives."
"2. Report only facts. Avoid reporting malicious gossip or idle rumors."

A footnote says: "The nearest FBI office is listed on page one of your telephone directory."
The posters, about 10 by 8 inches, will appear shortly in police stations and defense plant areas across the country.

Interim Government Planned For Israel

JERUSALEM —(AP)—Israeli political leaders Wednesday faced the task of setting up a caretaker government pending the national elections authorized by the Knesset (Parliament).

The Knesset voted Tuesday to dissolve and call new elections. Earlier it rejected outgoing Premier David Ben-Gurion's proposed interim cabinet.

His suggestion that eight members of his present cabinet be retained as the caretaker group was voted down 57 to 43 with only Ben-Gurion's Mapai (Labor) party supporting it.

Must Get Confidence
The constitution entitled Ben-Gurion and his colleagues to stay in office until formation of a new cabinet, but he told the Knesset he could not head a cabinet that did not enjoy the confidence of Parliament.

Ben-Gurion resigned Sunday after three members of the conservative religious bloc withdrew from his cabinet in opposition to a proposed cabinet shift to deal with Israel's financial problem.

President Chaim Weizmann asked Ben-Gurion to form a new cabinet, but the white-haired premier told him Monday he had been unable to do so.

The Parliament gave its Legislative Committee two weeks to prepare a bill providing for dissolution of the Knesset and the new elections.

Physician Fails In Attempt To Block Woman's Suicide

DETROIT —(AP)—A physician pursued a woman patient around his office for 15 minutes in a futile effort Tuesday to keep her from plunging to her death from a thirteenth floor window.

Mrs. Jean Cogley, 41, eluded his grasp and landed on a fifth floor window ledge. She was dead on admittance to a hospital.

Dr. Harold P. Raynor said the housewife feared she was suffering from an incurable disease and threatened suicide. He had been treating her for a nervous disorder for six months.

"I told her there was nothing wrong with her and that she needed no further treatment," the physician said. "She seemed to be somewhat calmer."

"Then she ran toward the window. I grabbed her by the skirt and one ankle and held on for what seemed like an hour. The skirt ripped and I couldn't hold her."

Educator Dies In Car-Train Collision

DALLAS —(AP)—James Frank Kilpatrick, 55, area supervisor of the State Board for Vocational Education, was killed Tuesday night when his car struck a Dallas-bound freight train just west of here.

Sheriff Bill Decker said Kilpatrick's car was struck about 9:50 p.m. But the wreckage was not found until a passenger train bound for Fort Worth came along 55 minutes later. He said the engineer of the freight train apparently never realized there had been an accident.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Isa. 61:1-9; John 20:21; Acts 8:29
A SENSE OF MISSION AND SUBMISSION

Whenever I stand up to preach I ask the audience to bow their heads in prayer; and I invariably remind—God of my verse—a verse given to me years ago at the very beginning of my ministry: "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, He may give it you." (John 15:16.)

The repeating of this verse gives me the sense of being sent, of having the backing of the Eternal, and of speaking in a Name not my own. But it does another thing: It lays on me the sense of obligation to surrender to and be obedient to the working out of this plan. It gives life a sense of mission and submission. That sense of mission gives dignity and meaning to life. An ambassador of a country weighs his words, for they are representative words—he is speaking in the name of his government. We, too, must feel that same representative capacity, that we are speaking and thinking and acting in a name not our own. The significance of a life is determined by the significance of what it is identified with and what it represents.

But that sense of mission brings a sense of submission. Instead of making you proud and cocky, it has the opposite effect. You are awed and humbled. You feel you must walk softly before God. You are on "the adventure of humility."

Ochoa Withdraws Plea For Stay On Removal To U. S.

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—George Ochoa, Laredo customs broker, was due to start Wednesday for Tijuana, Mexico, for an extradition hearing on two Texas murder charges.

Telefaro Ocampo, Ochoa's attorney, said Ochoa spent Tuesday night in a detention cell in the Department of Justice Building. He had been held in Mexico City's jail.

Ochoa is charged with shooting to death two men in separate rooms on different floors of a Laredo hotel last year.

The customs broker's removal to Tijuana was made possible when his lawyer withdrew a pending plea for an injunction against extradition.

Ochoa indicated that, whatever the outcome of the Tijuana hearing, he would return to the U. S. He said he did not know what would happen after the meeting.

"If extradition is denied," he said, "I guess they'll turn me loose and I can cross the border (into the U. S.) if they extradite me, I'll go just the same."

two-pounder, Adkins explained.
"You can't cradle him in your two doctor offered little hope, but the him well wrapped up."Doctors at Childrens Hospital say

Seminole Tests Kermit In 5-A

By DALMON McNAIR
Monahans and Kermit continued to set a rollicking pace in District 5-A football last week while the Seminole Indians clung to a chance at the crown with a 26-13 upset victory over Wink, dropping the Wildcats from the title picture.

Kermit polished off Andrews in methodical fashion 32-13, while Monahans had trouble with a stubborn Denver City team before winning 21-7.

Pecos, another strong contender despite an early season loss to Kermit, took the week off as did McCamey, Crane and Fort Stockton. Pecos and Seminole each have been beaten once in district competition. Pecos dropped a 12-20 duel to Kermit and Seminole lost to Pecos 14-40 in early season games. Each has marched over two conference foes.

Wink gave up its last chance at the crown by losing to Seminole last week. Monahans also holds a victory over the Wildcats. McCamey, Andrews, Fort Stockton, Crane and Denver City already were in the also-ran column.

Friday Night
Here is a lineup on games scheduled this week:
Monahans at Andrews. The Lobos are deeper and have been much more impressive. Monahans 28, Andrews 13.

Pecos at Crane. The Eagles, despite their loss to Kermit, appear to be one of the toughest aggregations in the district, while Crane has been a doormat thus far. Pecos 34, Crane 7.

Fort Stockton at Denver City. Any guess might be wrong in this one. However, Denver City's strong showing against Monahans raises the home team a vote. DC 14, Fort Stockton 7.

Seminole at Kermit. Definitely the top game of the week. Seminole lost to Pecos but the Indians have improved rapidly. On the other hand, Kermit has had little trouble so far this season with the exception of a close one with Pecos. Kermit 20, Seminole 14.

King's Row

By LARRY KING

Whoa now, and wait a minute! Quoting Blondy Cross in the San Angelo Standard Times, Wednesday morning edition:
"When Midland moved into Sweetwater of 5-AA last week and mauled Pat Gerald's Mustangs 21 to 6, Midland fans almost had a heart attack."
"Midland up to this season had a long football drouth. The Midland kids are making themselves and the fans happy. They won't lose to Brownwood Friday night. If they don't have a letdown, they won't lose any of their district games, either."

—KR—
Blondy's kind words about the Midland team are appreciated—but we hasten to add that we most heartily disagree with him.

We realize a lot of fans are talking "district championship," already. But stop and consider the facts, before you order tickets for the playoffs.
First of all, the season hasn't started as yet, as far as district play is concerned. Sure, Midland has a record of four wins and no losses in non-conference play—but so does Lamesa. Big Spring has a four-one record, Lubbock, playing a rough schedule, has won three, lost one, tied one. Odessa has faced rough competition, but has three wins against two losses.

—KR—
And, that isn't all. Look at the schedule—there's where Midland is hurting. The first district game is with Big Spring, on November 3—the next is with Odessa on November 11—only SIX days later, Midland meets tough Lubbock in the Westerners back yard—and also SIX days from that date, the Bulldogs have a date with Lamesa, on the Tornadoes' home grounds.

—KR—
What will happen, say, if three or four more Midland boys receive injuries? At present, Co-Captain and Halfback Jack Burris is out with an arm injury, and Guards Dalton Byerley and Pete English are out with leg injuries.

English definitely will not play for two or three more weeks. Burris and Byerley are doubtful starters this Friday against Brownwood. Midland is woefully weak in reserve strength. It will be several years before the Bulldogs have enough reserve strength to carry on a tough schedule without worries.

—KR—
Add to this the fact that the Purple eleven is blessed with very little speed. Several times this year a Midland back has been into the open, and a little more speed would have sent him all the way—but Midland has to be content with a few yards at a time, and grind out touchdowns the hard way.

We don't know what will happen when the Bulldogs hit a team with real speed—we must just wait and see.

—KR—
We don't want to create the impression the Bulldogs aren't a good ball club in our eyes—they are a good ball club. They hit hard, the blocking is good, the kids hustle all the way.

But facts are facts. You can see what COULD happen to the Bulldog team. It faces a tough handicap.

Tot Blondy Cross isn't alone in calling for a Midland district sweep. The Lubbock, Odessa and Lamesa papers have been saying the same thing—that is understandable. They know if the home-town teams are warned, they will be sitting and waiting for Midland.

We know one thing—if a fighting heart, a flaming spirit, and good coaching is the combination it takes, Midland will disappoint very few of its real fans.

No one would be happier than King's Row, should the Bulldogs continue their winning ways. They proved to us last Friday night they are a great ball team. We are behind them, win, lose, or draw.

—KR—
DOTS AND DASHES: We had a letter from a Midland football fan, H. Pope Stearns—he calls to our attention the fact that 13 seemed to be a lucky number for the Bulldogs. . . . Midland played Sweetwater on the thirteenth day of the month, the Bulldogs were rated in place number 13 in schoolboy rankings, and made 13 first downs to win. . . . We have a couple of more to add to that: Back Charles Crowley was born on the thirteenth of the month, wears number 13 on his Bulldog jersey. . . . Merrill Huff, Midland "football forecaster" picked ten teams he thought would win games last week in college circles. . . . All ten of his "winners" lost. . . . Neville Alfrey, owner of the Service Club, paid Huff ten dollars for a slip of paper with the 10 "winners." Huff picked, with Huff's autograph thrown in. . . . Big Sandy High School has been suspended from further competition in football this year. . . . Sandy fans and the coach reportedly abused officials. . . . End of the Row!

Area Roads Added To Highway System

AUSTIN—Segments of one farm-to-market road in Martin County last week were added to the state maintained system of public roads, the State Highway Department announced.

Added to the highway system were: Martin County—9.96 miles, from intersection State Highway 137 near Lenora to Howard County line.

Dawson County—4.12 miles, from Midway south to county road intersection; 2.87 miles, from intersection U. S. 87, 2.80 miles northeast of Lamesa, east to county road intersection; 4.32 miles, from intersection Loop 218 at south edge of Lamesa to McCarty School; 3 miles, from Klondike to intersection State Highway 137 approximately 11 miles south of Lamesa.

once," and "by lifting the Iron Curtain and permitting the free exchange of information and ideas," and finally by joining with the UN to establish a system of collective security "which will permit the elimination of the atomic bomb and the drastic reduction and regulation of all other arms and armed forces."

Truman declared that until the Soviet Union does these things "we are determined to build up the common defensive strength of the free world."

—KR—
What the United States did for Korea, he said in effect, it stands ready to do, in conjunction with the United Nations, for any peaceful country that finds its borders violated and its freedom attacked.

"We hate war," the President declared, "but we love our liberties. We will not see them destroyed. We want peace, but it must be a peace founded upon justice. That American policy is as old as our republic, and it is stronger today than ever before in our history. We intend to keep it that way."

Truman promised American support of all who resist—just as did South Korea—with these words:

"We know that the peoples of Asia cherish their freedom and independence. We sympathize with that desire and will help them to attain and defend their independence. Our entire history proclaims our policy on that point."

"Our men are fighting now in Asia to help secure the freedom and independence of a small nation which was brutally attacked."

German Jokes Take Slap At Red Chief

BERLIN —(P)—Residents of Soviet-occupied Eastern Germany can't do anything against the Russians or the Communists. So at least they think up new anti-Russian jokes every day. The latest: An East Zone policeman on patrol saw a little girl standing in front of a huge cardboard portrait of Generalissimo Stalin. She was extending a handful of grass toward him. When the policeman asked the girl what she was doing, she replied: "My father says things won't get better until Stalin bites the grass." This is the German expression for biting the dust.

Egypt is more than 380,000 square miles in area.

Trooper Prevents Railroad Accident

SAN ANTONIO —(P)—Fast thinking by a state highway patrolman probably averted a major railroad accident near Fratt late Tuesday. Patrolman E. F. Vantress, while 30 miles out from San Antonio on the Austin Highway, spotted a blaze on the right-of-way which had reached such intensity as to buckle a rail. The patrolman immediately contacted the San Antonio police by radio and fire fighting equipment was rushed to the scene. At the same time Vantress was informed a train was due "at any minute." It was the M-K-T's streamliner, The Texas Special, which was running late. Vantress grabbed two red flags from his emergency kit and raced north until he saw the train—more than a half mile from the overpass—and began waving. The train was halted.

Chest Drive—

Both leaders predicted the quota will be exceeded promptly. Lawson said the drive should be completed successfully within two weeks, but that it will continue until the goal is reached.

Every man, woman and child in every section of the city will be given the opportunity of contributing to the Community Chest, officials said. "What You Give Makes The Difference" is the slogan. Participating Agencies Six youth and welfare organizations—Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Center, Latin American Youth Club, Salvation Army and Goodfellow—will participate in the Chest funds. The budgets of the six agencies, plus a $1,000 campaign expense item, make up the overall Community Chest budget. Campaign headquarters has been established in the Boy Scout Building, 318 North Colorado Street, with Jean Lewis, executive secretary, in charge. Funds collected by the workers are to be reported at the headquarters office.

The 1950 quota represents a 41 per cent increase over last year's $22,000 budget. Leaders said the increase is caused by expanded activities of the participating agencies to meet the youth and welfare needs of ever-growing Midland.

Dawson Discovery Reports Potential

Fred M. Manning, Inc. and Bay Petroleum Corporation No. 1 D. Huddle has been completed as the second Spraberry discovery for Dawson County.

It was completed for 186 barrels of 37.9-gravity oil daily. It flowed through a 16 64th-inch choke from pay at 7,856 to 7,985 feet which had been shot with 310 quarts of nitro-glycerine.

Gas-oil ratio was 625-1. Tubing pressure was 75 pounds. No. 1 Huddle was drilled to 9,914 feet in Pennsylvanian lime where it was dry and plugged back to 8,026 feet for completion in the Spraberry from open hole. It topped that formation at 7,538 feet with a minus datum point of 4,766 feet.

Dawson County's first lower Spraberry production was in the Spraberry-Deep pool, 13 1/2 miles southeast of the No. 1 Huddle in Southeast Dawson County.

Location for the new discovery is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 11, block 38, T-5-N, T&P survey and one and one-half miles southwest of Lamesa.

Casing To Be Run In Nolan Wildcat

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company of Fort Worth was preparing to run casing for completion attempt as an Ellenburger discovery at its No. 1-A May Sears, seven miles east of Sweetwater in Northeast Nolan County.

The Ellenburger was topped at 5,950 feet and cored from 5,967 to 5,973 feet, recovery being three feet of dolomite. A 90-minute drillstem test from 5,955 to 5,973 feet recovered 30 feet of slightly oil-cut mud. Operator then deepened to 6,014 feet and ran a 130-minute test with packer at 5,973 feet. There was gas to the surface in one minute, developing into a strong blow within 15 minutes.

Recovery was 680 feet of oil and 210 feet of heavily oil-cut mud. Flowing pressure was 205 pounds and shut-in pressure 2,475 pounds.

The No. 1-A May Sears is located three miles northeast of Solito No. 1 Bri Favor, Ellenburger producer in section 21, block 30, T&P survey.

The No. 1-A May Sears is 765 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 74, block 30, T&P survey.

Prospectors Are Set For Stonewall Areas

Two deep wildcats have been scheduled for immediate drilling in Stonewall County, one in the north portion of the county two miles south of King County line, and one in South-Central Stonewall. Deeper of the pair is a 7,100-foot Ellenburger wildcat. It is Continental Oil Company No. 1 G. G. Carothers, 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 39, block F, H&TC survey. Drillsite is three miles southeast of Rowan & Hope No. 1 Cathrine Berry, recent failure at 6,670 feet. The other Stonewall project, a 6,080-foot Ellenburger test seven miles southeast of Aspermont, will be F. Kirk Johnson and others of Fort Worth No. 1 A. E. Smith, 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 143, block 1, H&TC survey.

Fisher To Be Site Of Deep Explorer

Lion Oil Company has staked drillsite for its No. 1 Huddleston, 6,500-foot wildcat in extreme Southeast Fisher County.

Exact location will be 669 feet from west and 578 feet from south lines of east half of section 10, block K, T&P survey.

Operations are to begin in the immediate future.

Indicated NW Howard Discovery Is To Swab

Brinkerhoff Drilling Company No. 1 E. Jones, indicated Pennsylvanian reef lime discovery in Northwest Howard County, in the Knott community and 14 miles northwest of Big Spring, slated to make a swabbing effort to try to kick the well off to flow.

This project, located 660 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 18, block 34, T&P survey, T-2-N, had flowed oil from the Pennsylvanian after a drillstem test at 9,460-89 feet.

The section down to 9,501 feet was then cored and it showed good porosity and oil saturation.

Operator then cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 9,465 feet. The plug on that pipe has been drilled out and operator is back in the hole with the swab and tubing to make the test.

Borden Stepout Is Due To Plug Back

The Vickers Petroleum Company, Inc. and Norwood Drilling Company No. 1-B Canning stepout to the same concern's No. 1-A Canning in Southeast Borden County, recently completed flowing discovery from the Wolfcamp of the lower Permian above total depth of 5,937 feet, is running electric log surveys at contract total depth of 7,505 feet in the Pennsylvanian reef lime and will plug back and test the Wolfcamp.

When the section in which the No. 1-A Canning is producing was drilled, the No. 1-B Canning showed for some sort of production.

The prospector took a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian at 7,255-67 feet. With tool open three hours, recovery was 180 feet of free oil, 320 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 380 feet of salt water.

The No. 1-B Canning is 1,960 feet from west and 2,002 feet from north lines of section 142, block 25, H&TC survey and 13 miles southeast of Gail.

Extender Completed To SE Borden Pool

Amerasia Petroleum Corporation No. 6 Weathers has been completed as a south extension to the Von Roeder field of Southeast Borden County for a daily flowing potential of 472.56 barrels of 45.3-gravity oil.

The new producer is 2,002 feet from south and 1,958 feet from west lines of section 94, block 25, H&TC survey.

The potential was based on a 20-hour flow through a one-quarter inch choke. The producing horizon from 6,801 to 6,842 feet was treated in open hole with 500 gallons of acid.

No water was produced on the completion test. Gas-oil ratio was 955-1. Casing pressure was reported to be 550 pounds and pressure on tubing was 950 pounds.

Five and one-half inch oil string was cemented at 6,803 feet.

Swabbing Continues In NW Upton Wildcat

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Davis, wildcat in Northwest Upton County, is at drilled out total depth of 13,159 feet swabbing through perforations at 13,110-13,159 feet.

Operator grabbed lead with slight shows of oil in pits and then acidized the above interval with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The No. 1 Davis was then swabbed down to 12,200 feet. In five hours, recovery was five barrels of oil and six barrels of acid water. Operator is continuing to swab and test.

Location of the No. 1 Davis is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block 41, T&P survey, T-5-S and six and one-half miles southwest of the Pegasus field.

SE Lynn Prospect Is Preparing Shot

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Caswell, well offset to the same company's No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company, opener of the O'Donnell-Pennsylvanian pool in Southeast Lynn County, is at plugged back total depth of 6,016 feet in Spraberry sand.

Operator was making preparations to shoot with nitro-glycerine at 5,960-6,006 feet. Casing is set at 5,960 feet.

The offset swabbed 5 barrels of fluid in 12 hours. The fluid was 80 per cent salt water, 10 per cent acid water and 10 per cent oil.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 431, block 9, EL&RR survey.

ROK Troops—

peared deserted. His dispatch was filed shortly before the Pusan announcement.

The ROK's fought hard to enter the city ahead of the U. S. First Cavalry Division.

The American foot troopers wanted to add Pyongyang to their string of historic firsts—Manila, Tokyo, the linkup between the two South Korea beachheads.

But the South Koreans, battling to win back the northern half of their country—wrested from them with the Russian occupation after World War II—were not to be stopped.

ROK's Surge Forward
Along the winding mountain road southeast of Pyongyang and into the capital plains, the ROK troops rolled forward, hardly pausing.

For days their officers had trouble restraining the South Koreans from running on toward the city.

They surged through Red Korean opposition, sporadic at times, bitter at others.

The mountain road was littered with Communist dead. The South Koreans wheeled past huge piles of abandoned Red Arms and equipment.

They paused only to seize what they needed for their onward thrust.

American Tanks cleared a path at least part of the way for the surging ROK's.

The thrust climaxed a spectacular northward drive out of the old Pusan beachhead, about 270 miles to the southeast.

The ROK First Division made a reputation for toughness north and northeast of the old Taegu anchor of the Southeast Korea beachhead.

When other ROK divisions recoiled there before the fury of Communist attacks, the South Korean First Division held. It would not retreat.

The battle for Pyongyang, which may end the war, began earlier Wednesday when Allied columns surged against a Red Korean defense line south and east of the city.

First Satellite Capital

Pyongyang is the first capital of a Russian satellite to be entered in war by forces of the Democratic nations.

On the east coast, two other important cities fell. Hamhung and Hungnam—110 miles south of the Manchuria border—were captured by ROK troops.

The U. S. 24th Division, first in Korea, was slicing west to capture Cinnampo, the port of Pyongyang.

It had rolled 78 miles in 24 hours in a desperate bid to pass the First Cavalry and enter Pyongyang first.

The First Cavalry rolled north as Task Force 777, a composite name for its units—the Seventh Cavalry Regiment of General Custer fame, the 77th Field Artillery Battalion and the 70th Tank Battalion.

Lt. Col. William A. (Wild Bill) Harris, a Texas Texan, led the flying column of tanks, mechanized infantry and artillery.

For NE Real Area Wildcat Is Slated

Moore Exploration Company of Midland and Dan Auld of Kerrville have staked location for a wildcat in Northeast Real County.

They will drill their No. 1 Claude Haby to 6,700 feet, unless commercial production is found at a lesser depth.

Exact location will be 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 111, San Antonio Ditch survey.

It will be two and one-half miles south of Kerr County line and approximately three miles west of the Bandera County boundary.

The prospector will be drilled about five and one-half miles south of the old Love area, where promising shows of oil were encountered in the early 1930s but commercial production was not developed.

Drilling & Exploration Company of Abilene has the drilling contract. The project is being supported by Humble Oil & Refining Company and Atlantic Refining Company.

Oil Stain Found In Howard Test

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 1 C. W. Burton, Northwest Howard County wildcat, 10 miles northwest of Big Spring, and eight miles south and west of the Vealmoor field, was drilling ahead before 8,876 feet in a lime.

This prospector cored at 8,871-76 feet. Recovery was six inches of soft lime with slight porosity and slight oil tain.

Following the pulling of the core operator went back in the hole and is drilling deeper. A drillstem test probably will be run after about 25 feet more hole has been made.

No official call has been made on the top of the Pennsylvanian lime reef. This project has already penetrated a section of approximately 900 feet above 8,871 feet which was alternate streaks of lime and shale.

Official sources are waiting until more information is secured before making a call on the reef top—thinking that there is a possibility that the current lime section may turn out to be only a stringer.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 27, block 33, T&P survey, T-2-N.

Lions Club Has Oil Progress Week Luncheon Program

"Suppose all our planes, ships and tanks of war were stopped for the want of oil?"

"Suppose all our automobiles, locomotives, trucks and tractors of peace were stopped for the want of oil?"

"We would have chaos, economic chaos!"

Those statements by Ed Warren at the luncheon meeting Wednesday of the Midland Lions Club in Hotel Scharbauer brought graphically home the current observation of Oil Progress Week throughout the nation.

Warren, an independent oil operator and president for a second term of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, was the featured speaker of an Oil Progress Week program for the Lions.

Discusses Attitudes
He pointed out how attitudes affect the oil industry and the reception of oil peoples and their work. He said the oil industry was important to Midland and by the same token, Midland's reception of the oil industry was important to it.

Harry Lawson also was an Oil Progress Week program speaker. He pointed out that 2,000,000 persons in the nation were in the oil business and perhaps 5,000 of these are in Midland. He said the progress of Midland had gone hand in hand with the oil industry.

John P. Butler introduced Warren. Ed Prichard presided. Invocation was by John Biggs. David Lavery of MHS was introduced as Junior Lion of the Week. Hershel Ezell announced the Civic Music Association campaign. Coach Tugboat Jones said "we were proud of our boys at Sweetwater. We have a tough game this week with Brownwood."

Hurricane—

Coast," escaped damaging winds. Peak velocity was 70 miles an hour in gusts. Lake Worth and Ocean Boulevard overflowed a few streets. Signs and shrubbery were chopped up. There was no structural damage and no one was injured.

Communities along the eastern shore of Lake Okechobee rode out hurricane winds and heavy rain. Crop damage, especially to corn and beans, was heavy. Many houses sustained roof damage, windows were blown in and trees uprooted.

The storm lost some force as it pushed northward near the eastern edge of Lake Okechobee but still packed winds of 100 miles an hour as it headed for Central Florida.

"Some force will be lost as the hurricane continues its course up the peninsula but precautions against hurricane winds should be continued from the Okechobee region northward to the Orlando-Titusville area," the Weather Bureau said.

Water Supply Cut Off

Henderson placed damage in Miami at $2,000,000 in an early estimate but raised it another million later. All Miami policemen were called to duty. Electricity was off in many sections of the city.

There was no water in many sections, especially in the suburbs. Telephone service between Miami and Miami Beach failed. Many other phone lines were down in the area where half a million people live.

Port Lauderdale, raked by 100-mile-an-hour winds, was plunged into darkness. Some damage was reported to roofs, windows and shrubbery. Reports from Davis, just west of Fort Lauderdale, said that farming community was "hard hit."

Miami Wednesday began to survey damage. The storm toppled radio towers, snapped power lines and uprooted trees. Windows were smashed and shrubbery whipped to shreds.

Hospitals Darkened

While there was no spectacular damage, some buildings were unroofed and damage to homes from water likely will be considerable. The wind tore off chunks of roofing and rain whipped in.

Sharp lightning accompanied the hurricane, and falling power lines, shooting out blue flames, gave the darkened city an eerie appearance as the storm swept through.

Large parts of Miami and suburbs were plunged into darkness. Power went off at two big hospitals in Miami and Miami Beach and auxiliary plants were pressed into service.

Streets were deserted and shops and stores boarded up. Causeways between Miami and Miami Beach were closed to traffic.

Bus service was halted and all traffic ordered off the streets shortly before the hurricane—ninth of the season—roared in from the south about 11 p.m.

Crop Damage Unknown
Sustained winds of 101 miles an hour with gusts up to 116 miles were measured at the downtown Weather Bureau station. The peak recording of 125 miles was reported from the Miami Airport Weather Station.

It was too early to predict damage to Florida's record 100,000,000-box orange and grapefruit crop, just now beginning to move to market.

The hurricane moved on the Southeast Florida coast after making up near Jamaica Sunday and whipping across Cuba, where it damaged crops and communication lines. It was the eighteenth tropical storm with hurricane force winds to strike extreme Southeast Florida since 1900.
