RANGER FIELD TO BE GRASSED

ATHLETIC FIELD NOW BEING PLOWED PREPARATORY TO BEING SET BERMUDA GRASS PLANTS

Due to the interest of Calvin Flowers, a member of the Perryton Independent School District board, and the boys of the Ranger football squad, contesting athletics of the future will find a beautiful green Ranger field.

Mr. Flowers now has his tractor and plows at work plowing up the entire field and working the top soil down preparing a good bed for the planting of Bermuda grass. Mr. Flowers is donating the plowing and other work. The boys of the Ranger football squad will plant the grass and look after it during the summer months. It will be planted next week.

Other plans for the improvement of the field before the football season opens next fall include the building of bleachers and the installation of lights for night play. It is thought that the High School Activity Fund will be sufficient to take care of the expense, but in any event, the building of the bleachers and the installation of the lights will not come from regular school funds or money raised by taxation. If the Activity Fund is not sufficient, other arrangements will be made for financing.

Mother and Father Die

Both Parents of Mrs. Mayme B. Autry Die at Fort Worth Last Wednesday Night

Death struck suddenly on Wednesday night of last week and claimed the father and mother of Mrs. Mayme B. Autry, advertising manager of the Ochiltree County Herald. Mrs. Autry and her husband, D. E. Autry, superintendent of the Perryton Soil Conservation Camp, left Perryton on Saturday, April 10, for Hot Springs, Arkansas, for a two weeks vacation. When they left, they did not know that Mrs. Autry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Blankenship, Fort Worth, were ill, but on their arrival at Hot Springs, the news of the illness was awaiting them. They went directly to Fort Worth where Mr. Blankenship, age 77, passed away at 6:30 p. m., April 14. Mrs. Blankenship, age 68, followed her companion of 41 years at 11:15, just a few hours later. Both were native Texans.

Funeral services were held at the Rosen Heights Church in Fort Worth at 11:00 o'clock last Friday morning with interment at Stephenville.

Surviving children are Mrs. Autry; M. D. Blankenship, superintendent of schools at Mobeetie; Dennis and Basil Blankenship, Fort Worth; Mrs. Clyde Shropshire, Fort Worth; Mrs. Carter Harrington, Dallas; and Mrs. Bence McMahan, Stephenville. To Benefit Missions

Dinner and Program at Methodist Church to Promote Missionary Work on Friday Eve

Plans are being made for the Missionary dinner at the Methodist Church, Friday night. The dinner will start at 8 o'clock. Miss Ruby Neufeld will have charge of the music. Mrs. Rufus Boerjack is directing a short pageant, and C. F. Jones is installing a radio in order to hear the addresses of Bishop Smith and Bishop Moore.

This occasion is celebrating the beginning of missionary work by the Methodist Church. The first missionaries sailed for China 89 years ago. The dollar that is paid at this dinner all goes toward paying a debt of the Board of Missions, and to further the work of missions. Seventy-five tickets have already been sold.

Dorrance Woodward and Oscar Blank came in Sunday from Stephenville for a week visit with home folks. They are students at John Tarleton college and this is their spring vacation. Jack Woodward and LeRoy LaMaster accompanied the college band on a tour to San Antonio and did not get to come home.

BOY SCOUTS HIKE FOURTEEN MILES FOR RATING

The following item came to our desk after being deleted from the regular weekly news items sent in by our correspondent in the Blue Mound, Oklahoma community: "LaVaun Patterson and Geo. Partridge walked to Perryton, a distance of 14 miles, to complete a part of their First Class Scout test." The two Boy Scouts referred to above are members of that crack Troop at Gray, Oklahoma with patrols at Blue Mound and Gray. Rev. A. W. Wentworth is the able Scoutmaster of this troop.

Rain Falls Over Perryton's Territory on Monday Night

Rainfall, ranging from 37 to one inch, fell over the Perryton area Monday night and renewed the hopes of people of this section for a wheat crop. During the past week, many fields had suffered from dry weather and brown spots were showing up. Much of this was caused from lack of moisture, but some thought that bugs were also injuring wheat.

The precipitation in Perryton was 37 inch, according to the official United States rain gauge, kept by Attorney Jack R. Allen. From reports from the surrounding area, it appears that the moisture to the north was about the same as here, getting lighter toward Liberal. Guymon on the northwest, reported very little rain, but Gruver, almost due west of Perryton had one inch. Spearman reported almost three-quarters of an inch. The northwest and west parts of Ochiltree county received a little more moisture than here in Perryton. The downpour to may have been a little less than 37 the immediate south of Perryton inch, but it got heavier south of Wolf Creek.

"This rain while not near as much as was needed, will serve to hold the growing crops for a few days."

CONTEST BASED ON ALLEGED ILLEGAL WORDING OF REPEAL BALLOT AT MARCH 20TH TEST

Contest Filed in District Court on April 17; R. T. Correll and J. W. Payne are Attorneys for the Contestant, J. H. Shearer

LEGAL BEER SALE OUTLAWED APRIL 26

A suit contesting the legality of the election held in Ochiltree county on March 20, 1937, in which the sale of beer was forbidden by a vote of 420 to 313, was filed in the district court on April 17, by Attorneys R. T. Correll and J. W. Payne, representing J. H. Shearer, contestant, County Attorney Oscar C. Flowers, as the legal representative of Ochiltree county, was named as contestee. Mr. Flowers must file an answer to the suit within 10 days.

GUYMON BOOSTERS HERE TUES.

ONE HUNDRED MEN AND WOMEN IN PIONEER ATTIRE ADVERTISE PIONEER DAY MAY 3RD

The hardy pioneers that settled the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle didn't have a thing on the good folks of Guymon when it comes to the "never-say-die" spirit. Along with other communities in the Southwest, they have suffered reverses due to the succession of drouths. But Guymon hasn't followed the trend of many towns and thrown up the sponge, forgetting that there could be such a thing as a gala day in this co-called land of swirling dust and barren ground.

No, the Guymon folks are staying right in there, sittin' tight in the saddle and walloping the old brone, "Adversity," over the head every time he jumps.

The "Guymon, Onward" spirit was in evidence in Perryton Tuesday morning when one hundred Guymon men and women, garbed in the dress of the pioneers of "No Man's Land" swooped into town and told us about the Pioneer Day fete to be held in Guymon on May 2-3.

Andy Sullivan, Texas county sheriff, was generalissimo of the visiting delegation. That veteran newspaperman and musician, Fred Kreiger, had a bang-up cowboy band that added much color to the booster trip. Earl Gilson, grand marshal of the big parade that will feature the celebration on May 3, was beating the big bass drum in the band. Roscoe Belcher, business manager of the Texas County News, was hardly recognizable with all his hirsute adornments. Rollin Stewart Perryton "Hi" graduate, was a member of the P. A. M. C. cowboy quartet, one of the featured attractions of the booster motorcade.

Mrs. Dona Senn, Okarche, Okla.; H. R. Padgett, Monte Vista, Colo.; and C. Z. Padgett, Brownfield, Texas, were in Perryton last Saturday for the funeral of their brother, Dwight L. Padgett. Other relatives here were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevens, Conway, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Padgett, Panhandle; Mrs. Francis Dunaway, Oklahoma City; Carl Senn, Okarche, Okla., and Corwin Padgett, Gray.

Action for the contest is based upon an alleged illegal wording of the ballot and the order for the election. The contest will be decided at a special hearing before Judge E. J. Pickens, the date of such hearing to be set after the County Attorney files his answer to the contest.

The legal sale of beer will be discontinued in Ochiltree county on April 26, even though the hearing in the district court has not been held and it is not likely that it will be decided before that date. As the question now stands, the election is legal and beer sales will stop, it being up to the contestant to prove the election illegal. However, if Judge Pickens' decision sets aside the election, then legal beer sales will continue until another election is called and it is voted out again.

ATTEND DALLAS SCOUT MEETING

PERRYTON GIRL SCOUT LEADERS AT TWO DAY REGIONAL CONFERENCE ON APRIL 16-17

Representing Perryton and Ochiltree County at the Cactus Region Girl Scout Conference held in Dallas last Friday and Saturday, April 16-17, were Mrs. J. Malvin Jackson, Miss Eugenia Mitchell, Mrs. O. Miss Mitchell has been captain of the older group, which is sponsored by the Perryton Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Hudson, representing Auxiliary and Mrs. Bush, the Parent-Teacher Association are counselors for the two troops. These two organizations helped with the expense of this trip.

This two day conference was in reality a school of instruction dealing with all phases of Girl Scout work, and much valuable help and instruction was gained by these local leaders. The aim or goal of this Region is that every Girl Scout be given an opportunity to participate in some camping activities.

The captains are meeting with their troops this week and plans are being made to create more interest in Scouting.

Mrs. William Hughes and Jeanette, Mrs. Chester Hughes and Billie Jean, all of Spearman, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Shotwell Tuesday. Mrs. Shotwell returned home with them for a short visit.

BLACK ENTER-TAINED LIONS

THREE FROM PERRYTON JOIN WITH BLACK COMMUNITY IN EVENING OF FOOD AND FUN

Three Perrytonites were with the Black community at a program sponsored by the Black community at the Black school last Friday evening. After a beautiful feed prepared by the ladies of the Black community, program chairman Irvin R. Brown presented a short, snappy program, featured to the approval of all present by the absence of any nature whatsoever.

An added attraction to the program was announced in last week's issue. J. H. Woodward, the "Bob" of Perryton, appeared as "Mr. J. H. Woodward" and all were surprised by bringing down the house with his "bawoos" rendition.

Following word of thanks to the community and those of the Black community who helped them, Mrs. Ray Skinner, teacher of the Black school, on behalf of the people of the community, I wish to thank the Perryton Lions Club and all who helped them, for the fine program they gave Friday evening.

They do appreciate the fine cooperation shown by them and wish to thank the ladies of the Black community for their response in furnishing the program.

Lena and Miss Nancy Kengle were Monday from Enid, Okla., and visited with their brother, L. Kengle.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The class Annual, "The Ranger", is progressing nicely under the care of Editor Harold Hudson and sponsors, Miss Allen and Miss Rabel. All of the pictures have been sent off to be printed, and only three pages of the written material of the annual are yet to be written. Typists, Bill Tindle and Lena Murray, have been busy typing and have been cutting stencils for the mimeograph during the past week. In this annual, there will be pictures of all four classes in high school and also the boys' football and basketball squads, the girls' basketball squad, the boys' and girls' glee clubs, the faculty, pictures of the school buildings and grounds, and snapshots taken by the "candid camera".

Sibyl Apple was a Sunday night guest of Ruth Jeffroy.

Observe "Kid Day"

Antics of Seniors Bedecked in Juvenile Attire Entertain All The Student Body

"Kid Day" was celebrated Tuesday with the loud and raucous roars and giggles from the erstwhile Seniors, who, as Supt. Irvin said in chapel, have "reverted to type." The seniors gave a program in little chapel with Fred Kuhn as announcer. Readings were given by Harold Hudson, Jack Williams, Wamon Pittman, Doris Cofer, J. W. Depew, and Myrtis Dowers. Mary Lee Wilson and Imogene Howlett played the piano. Ben Crum made wisecracks at Fred Kuhn and Clyde Jones danced.

Lunch was enjoyed by the Seniors while on the stage, accompanied by many grunts and snorts that sounded like a bunch of hogs turned loose.

After the Seniors part on the chapel program, the basketball awards were made.

All of the Seniors looked very dignified in their short dresses and pigtails, and in their short pants and loud bow ties. All during the day, the halls were filled with images of small children giggling at themselves, and with others giggling at them. After all, though, Senior "kid day" comes but once a year and seniors have to have some fun.

Juanita Cox was a Sunday dinner guest of Catherine Skulley.

THEY FOLLOW THEIR EYES

Success and Beauty With a Simple Makeup Formula
by Eve Hogarth

THE girl next door has made good! Maybe she's private secretary to the head of the firm. Maybe she's married the boy down the block. Maybe she's starring in the movies. At any rate, more and more American women are learning how to dramatize their appearance and personality in a way that steals thunder from glamorous over-seas beauties.

How do they do it? We asked the four stars of the sensational movie-musical "Top of the Town." All four girls confessed to the same beauty secret: they match their makeup to their eyes!

"I've always given a lot of thought to makeup," said Doris Nolan, blonde young movie meeter, whose captivating charm has brought her to top-ranking stardom in less than a year in Hollywood. "In the theatrical business your face is at least two-thirds of your fortune, and making the most of yourself is as important a part of your business routine as memorizing lines. Skin changes with weather and one's physical condition. Hair loses life and color. But eye-color remains constant. That, in brief, is why I've found it very flattering to key my makeup to my eyes."

Sparkling brown-eyed Ella Logan, a newcomer to the movies from radio, put almost the same idea in different words. "I look best in warm, orangish shades," she said emphatically. "So I carry that color scheme through my whole wardrobe."

"It's stupid to think you can only wear one color, however. With the right makeup you can wear certain shades of every color. I match my makeup to my eyes, since I think of them as my personality color. Then, even if I try my luck against blondes and wear blue, I make sure that somewhere about the throat of my dress there's a bit of rust or gold, something to bring my frock into focus with my personality color."

Every woman knows that certain shades are much more becoming than others. Not just certain colors, but particular shades of those colors. If she analyzes this she will find that these are the shades which reflect the color of her eyes.

If this is true in the case of clothes, how much truer it is in the case of makeup. The hazel-eyed girl like Doris Nolan should look for sunny, rusty reds for her rouge and lipstick, subtle bluish greens for eye-shadow and mascara are to help her to achieve scientifically sure beauty and not just guesswork good looks.

The blue-eyed woman will find her best makeup bet in dresden-like shades that are keyed to the blue of her eyes. Blue-eyed Gertrude Niesen, gray-eyed Janice Jarratt both solve the problem of off-stage makeup in this same simple way. And certainly it seems an easy, effective guide to good looks that is more than worth the trouble of a little experiment on the part of any woman.

THE OBEDIENCE OF NOAH
Gen. 8:20-22; 9:8-17

Introduction
Our study continues with outstanding characters of the Old Testament. Rising from the low valleys of a common herd—a herd stampeding toward the precipice of destruction—an occasional mountain is seen towering in lonely majesty, bathing its lofty crest in the pure atmosphere and sunshine of those far heights. So while the impending destruction of that wicked race of Antediluvians drew nigh, a lonely figure was seen walking with God.

I. Noah's Altar (8:20-22)

The age of the Patriarchs was distinguished by its family type of religion. The father was priest for the family devotions. Hence we note the building of the altar and the offering of the sacrifice being done by him. Of course it was permissible for a son to offer his own sacrifice when occasion made it necessary, as in the case of Jacob at Bethel.

The earth had been purified through the flood. Only Noah and his family had escaped of all the teeming multitudes previously occupying the land. A new start must be made. A new world opened before them. Immediately Noah builds an altar and offers clean beasts upon it. In this offering we can see the type of Christ's death on the cross. In fact all the sacrifices of the Old Testament pointed forward to the "Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world." As the clean beast gave up its innocent life, so would the spotless Christ die for a sinful people!

Jehovah smelled the sweet savor and pledged that no more would the earth be destroyed by a flood. As long as time shall last, the seasons will roll around in their own appointed course.

II. The Bow of Promise

God said the bow in the sky would be a token of the covenant between Him and the earth. The rainbow has a beauty all its own. As we look at its harmonious blend of color as it spans the sky, we may learn many lessons. It suggests to us rain without which famine and death would stalk the land (Matt. 5:45). It suggests the sun, an emblem of Christ (Mal. 4:2). The sun of Righteousness shines upon the rain of God's goodness and makes the bow. In connection with the rainbow there are clouds, which remind us of sin. The darker the cloud the brighter the bow. (See Isa. 44:22). The colors of the bow are significant. Yellow, Red, Blue remind us of the Godhead—the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, the tri-unity. But these blended seven—the symbol of perfect unity—unique thing about this bow absence of arrows. If there were arrows, it would point upward. It has been shot. It pierced the world. He died for the sins of world (See Hab. 3:9; Lam. 3:1). Last of all, the bow is semicircular. Only half of it is to be seen. There will be nothing to prevent seeing the full glory if the Son of God and all that the beauty eternally hold in store for us.

What an acorn needs is management

If the wind manages to drop the tiny acorn in the right spot... and rain and sun and Mother Earth manage to nourish it properly... you get a mighty oak.

If the finest barley Nature produces manages to get together with the costliest of domestic and imported hops... and they in turn manage to have the guidance of priceless brewing skill... you get a mighty fine beer. If you want a fine beer with an utterly distinctive bouquet and taste, you ask for BUDWEISER.

There is seldom a week passes but what the Herald has one or more poems submitted for publication. In many instances, these poems are worthy of publication, in other instances they are not so good, but in practically every case, the theme is excellent, but for many reasons, our policy, along with most other small newspapers, is "We just simply don't publish poems, except in very rare cases". In the first place, if we followed the practice, we know from experience of the past, that we would be showered with a deluge of poetry, and we can't run them all, so as a consequence, we try and treat everybody alike and reject them all. The cost of composition of poems is very high, in fact it is prohibitive and more than we could afford if we changed our policy and threw down the bars. We know that there has been times when persons have resented our refusal to publish their contributions, but we have found it is best to treat everybody alike on the poem question.

One of the most interesting meetings of the Lions Club in many a day was that of Tuesday noon. Mayor Forbes brought up the question of center parking on Main Street and after a number of talks, both for and against center parking, the program chairman, R. T. Shindler, called for a vote, divulging that a large majority of those present favored center parking. This expression has not changed our views on this subject one iota. We felt that it was an unwise move when it was started several years ago and we remain of the same opinion. Center parking is a traffic hazard, causing much property damage and is ever a potential hazard for loss of life or bodily injury. The fact that it is a property damage hazard has been proven time and again since its inception. Fortunately, there has been no serious accidents but the time will come. That the need for additional parking space justifies its continuance is not a fact. Back in the old days "before the drouth", Perryton had several times the amount of business it now has; there were many more cars registered in the county; the population of both the town and surrounding country was greater. We didn't have center parking then and we didn't have any parking problems either. Was this beautiful wide main street of ours planned, paved at a cost of thousands of dollars, to be used as a traffic way or a parking lot?

PRESIDENT DEMANDS CUT

Washington, D. C.—Pointing out that the 1938 budget would balance except for a debt reduction of $401,595,000, observers close to the President indicate that in his forthcoming message to Congress, he will urge a cut in relief and administrative expenses of $250,000,000 for the new fiscal year, preparatory to a balanced budget in 1939. Actual income this year will run $500,000,000 below estimates, a situation demanding greater economies or new taxes, which Administration leaders are reluctant to support.

CENSUS OF IDLE ASKED

Washington, D. C.—Declaring that Department of Labor statistics covering unemployment are 5,000,000 out of line, Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, states his belief that there are only 2,975,000 idle workers in the country, and urges a national census to determine the true state of labor. Current estimates of the unemployed range from 6,000,000 to 10,000,000.

SPEEDS UP KILLINGS

Chicago, Ill.—Three murderers put to its first test this city's "humanized" electric chair, which is so designed mechanically to shorten the suspense of "the last mile". That sensitive guards may have clear consciences, four identical death switches control the current, three of them dummies, and no guard knows who actually makes the fatal contact.

CROWN PRINCE CENSURED

The Hague, Netherlands—Because they visited places of interest on their honeymoon just ended, Crown Princess Juliana of Holland and her consort Prince Bernhard have been chided by church and secular papers for "desecrating the Sabbath". Said one editor, "the love of her subjects would suffer if she should continue to treat the Sabbath demands with little regard."

MARX BROTHERS INDICTED

Los Angeles, Cal.—Charged with copyright infringement in broad-casting without permission a skit called "Mr. Duffie and Mr. Duffie", a Federal grand jury indicted Groucho and Chico Marx, stage, movie and radio buffoons, against whom a $26,000 civil damage suit is also pending. Chico denied his guilt, posted $1,000 bail, and promised to have Groucho return from Honolulu at once.

ENJOYS TWO POSTMASTERS

Milford, Mass.—As winner of first place in a civil-service examination, John F. Curran believes he is entitled to the postmastership of this city and claims that the United States Senate duly confirmed his appointment, but Postmaster General Farley has never sent his commission. Two months ago, at the President's request, the Senate confirmed the appointment of John F. Higginson for the job. Mr. Curran has brought suit in the Federal courts to force the Postmaster General to deliver his commission and $2,300 in back salary.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Jealousy guarded for years, the sales figures of the four big tobacco companies were finally disclosed by James M. Landis, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. For 1935, R. J. Reynolds Co. (Camels) sold $250,635,962 worth; Liggett & Myers (Chesterfield) $231,736,295; American Tobacco (Lucky Strike) $217,224,080 and Lorillard (Old Gold) $39,155,136. Pointing out that 6 per cent on a note "amortized monthly by equal payments" was nearer 12 per cent, the Federal Trade Commission obtained consent from automobile companies to desist from advertising that motor cars could be bought by paying 6% on deferred balances. General Motors and Ford failed to sign the stipulation, indicating a possible contest of the Commission's ruling. Succeeding Carl R. Gray as President of the Union Pacific Railroad, William Martin Jeffers will on October 1st take over the management of the 9,600-mile, $665,000,000 road stretching from Omaha, Neb., to Portland, Ore.

CORONATION PLANS

London, England—All Britain has its eyes turned toward plans for the Coronation Week of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth May 11 to 17. Tradesmen estimate an average expenditure of $375 per head on the part of 22,500 Americans expected in London. The occasion has revived interest in the former Edward VIII, now Duke of Windsor, who is said to have "aged five years in the last four months." His fan mail is said to have fallen from 8,000 to 50 letters a day. A disconsolate guest for the Coronation is the fabulous Nizam of Hyderabad, "richest man in the world", who has learned that his new Emperor will greet only one of the Indian prince's vast staff of wives.

THE CAPITAL WEEK

Washington, D. C.—A slip of the pen reduced Lieutenant Colonel James Roosevelt to a mere Lieutenant in a bill before Congress permitting him to accept a Brazilian decoration. A hasty correction enabled him to receive the order. The National Resources Committee recommended to the President the immediate expenditure of $1,727,000, 000 for waterway, water-supply and food control projects in the country's seventeen drainage basins, with future projects to cost $2,434,000,000. The Senate received the Pettengill bill, repealing the 50-year-old "long and short haul" clause of the Interstate Commerce Act. This would permit railroads to meet truck competition on long-distance traffic by charging less for a long haul than the sum of local point-to-point tariffs.

STORMY BETHLEHEM

Wilmington, Del.—In spite of recurrent attacks by shareholders Charles M. Schwab, 70-year-old chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, continues to draw his $200,000 per year. At this year's meeting efforts to retire him took the form of a resolution to reduce him to $25,000 as honorary chairman. After a hot interchange of words, during which President Eugene Grace was restrained from recourse to physical methods, Chairman Schwab's supporters won out and the ageing steelmaker will draw his $200,000 for another year at least.

SYNTHETIC MEASELS

Mountain Lakes, N. J.—When an epidemic of measles closed a nearby school, students of the local high school watched hopefully as Frederick Lewis, 13 years old, entered Nurse Josephine Trippett's office for examination of a red rash that covered his face. When he emerged his complexion was less ruddy; the nurse had removed his lipstick "measels" with an unsympathetic scrubbing.

FUTURE FARMERS CLUB TRY CHICKEN RAISING

The Future Farmers of America Club of the Perryton High School are experimenting in the chicken business. According to C. H. Williams, head of the agriculture department, the boys are giving considerable study and time to the raising of between 90 and 100 little chicks.

These chicks are now about two weeks old and electric lights are furnishing the necessary heat for them. The club will not dispose of the chicks until the close of school, so this will give sufficient time for practical experience in the raising of chickens.

CORONATION "BARGE" UNDERGOES A WORKOUT IN SOUTHAMPTON WATER

Instead of the colorful ancient royal barge, raised in 1829, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will make their traditional Coronation progress from Windsor to Greenwich in this thoroughly modern, 1,000-horsepower Admiralty Japotein boat. It was so built to replace the 18th-century barge which was lost in the service of the late King. Above: The King's large speedboat, built in 1935, is seen in the water.

FUN FACTS

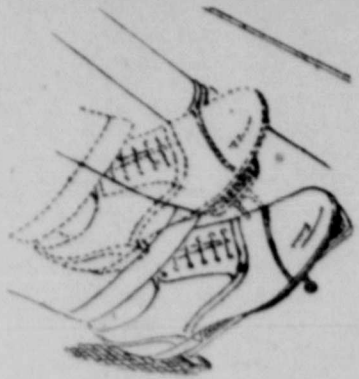

THE FUN

Stand facing your subject, who may be sitting or standing, about two feet away. His feet are together. You have a coin or other small solid object held loosely between your thumb and forefinger, approximately 10 inches above the floor (most tables and desks are 30 inches high). Your subject watches this coin. When, without warning, you drop it, he moves his right foot to intercept the coin so that it will strike his foot instead of the floor. Try several times.

It takes the coin $\frac{1}{4}$ of a second to reach the floor. From a height of 48 inches, it will take $\frac{1}{2}$ of a second. From a height of 70 inches, it will take $\frac{3}{4}$ of a second.

Reaction time of $\frac{1}{4}$ of a second is very good; $\frac{1}{2}$ second is fair; $\frac{3}{4}$ of a second is slow.

THE FACTS

You can readily perceive the similarity in movement between intercepting the coin and moving your foot from the accelerator to the brake in an emergency. At 40 miles per hour, you travel 60 feet in 1 second. If your reaction time is $\frac{1}{4}$ second, your car will have traveled 30 feet between the time you recognize a dangerous situation and the time you get your foot on the brake. This has nothing to do with stopping the car; the brake action has yet to take place. Four-wheel brakes in good condition may stop your car in an additional 80 feet. Total distance, 110 feet.

At 50 M.P.H., reaction time would consume 38 feet, braking 125; total 163 feet.

At 60 M.P.H., reaction time would consume 45 feet, braking 180; total 225 feet.

Note that twice the distance is necessary to stop at 60 M. P. H. as at 40 M.P.H.

Now you can see why it pays to be careful at intersections and in congested areas.

a bureau of local affairs which should be created for this purpose. The staff provided should work with the local officers and gain their confidence and cooperation through demonstrating an ability to improve results. Such a bureau should be able to save several times its annual cost. In addition to the work which has been mentioned, the state should assist in securing better qualified employees, and in securing better enforcement of state laws.

An example of possible savings by this means is found in the report of the Joint Auditing Committee in 1934. This committee was composed of representatives from the offices of the state auditor and the state comptroller, and was created to examine claims against the state which were held by various "fee" officers. The audit of $524,000 of these claims resulted in an actual saving to the state of $374,000. Of this amount, $288,000 of claims against the state were refused, and $86,000 in amounts due the state were collected. An additional sum of $515,000 in amounts due the state from fee officers was also set up. Consequently the total actual and "contingent" saving from this audit amounted to $889,000, (that is $374,000 plus $515,000). It is also significant that this audit has had several other beneficial results. The legislature has made some needed changes in the fee laws, the comptroller has started auditing all current fee bills before they are paid, and the fee officers themselves have been instructed concerning the fees legally due them.

Texas' seven state teachers' colleges have benefited to the extent of nearly $2,000,000 from the federal P. W. A. and W. P. A. building programs. The amounts granted the colleges for new dormitories, stadia, and other projects are as follows: Sam Houston State Teachers' College, Huntsville, $167,929; Southwest Texas, San Marcos, $500,000; North Texas, Denton, $383,260; West Texas, Canyon, $411,052; East Texas, Commerce, $122,500; Sul Ross, Alpine, $240,000; Stephen F. Austin, Nacogdoches, $123,281.

Inattention may serve some useful purpose when wife wants help in hanging the curtains or demands that the cellar be cleaned up.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, April 25.

The Golden Text is: "I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them" (Revelation 14:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself" (Philippians 3:20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the illusion of death, mortals wake to the knowledge of two facts: (1) that they are not dead; (2) that they have but passed the portals of a new belief. Truth works out the nothingness of error in just these ways. . . . As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change" (pages 251 and 291).

Closer Relations of State and County Governments Needed

By H. C. BRADSHAW and L. P. GABBARD,
Division of Farm and Ranch Economics

Because of the peculiar position occupied by the county, there is an opportunity for improving county services through promoting closer relations with the state. Legally, the counties are subdivisions of the state. They are created by the legislature for the purpose of enforcing state laws, assessing and collecting state taxes and performing other duties. Incidentally, of course, the counties are allowed to provide certain other services on their own initiative, but the authority to do so is delegated to them.

Thus, the state has a real interest in much of the work carried out in the counties. For example, the failure of locally elected officers to collect taxes promptly affects the ability of the state to meet its obligations. Likewise, the failure of any local unit to pay its debts has an effect on the credit of the state. Similarly, any weakness in the local enforcement of law breeds disrespect for law in general.

The failure of the state government to take more effective responsibility for the actions of its locally elected officials has resulted from a combination of three factors. In the first place, the state functions through a legislature, the members of which are elected from relatively small areas. Consequently, these members are apt to think in terms of their districts. This often means that the counties control the state instead of the state controlling the counties. In the second place, the locally elected officers, like the state wide officers, are provided for in the constitution of 1876 and, therefore, are largely independent of all control except from the voter. In the third place, the short terms of both state and county officers means that they must leave the office about as soon as they become familiar with their duties. A great deal would be gained by retaining qualified officers as long as their services were satisfactory.

The State Legislature and the various state officials have not been mindful of this problem. Each session of the legislature results in the passage of a number of laws affecting the relations of the state and its local units. It is believed, however, that the emphasis has been wrongly placed. In the past, the supervision exercised has been "legal" and not "administrative" to any large extent. Legal supervision has been exercised through the passage of laws placing certain duties upon county officers, requiring the officers concerned to take an oath to carry out the duties, and making the officers subject to the courts for non-performance.

Experience has demonstrated that by the time the courts take action, the damage is beyond repair. Moreover, the great majority of the questions about which county officers need assistance do not involve legal problems, and the courts are not qualified to advise preventive, constructive, and informed supervision now exercised by the courts.

Existing legal provisions apparently are designed to secure uniform business methods in all counties. Actually, however, uniformity has not been secured because officials of each county have been allowed to give their own interpretation to uniform provisions. This is especially true of such "business" procedures as collecting taxes, keeping accounts, and purchasing equipment and supplies. All this work corresponds to work which business firms must carry out. Consequently the most effective methods devised by business firms should be applied to government. The application of such methods should strengthen tax collection procedures, insure accurate accounts, and provide effective purchasing of equipment and supplies.

The solution seems clear enough. The state should provide a definite agency to which the counties and other local units could appeal for advice and assistance. It is a common complaint of local officials that they are unable to secure such assistance from the state. Whenever a new law is passed, whenever a new county officer is placed in office, an opportunity arises to secure better results through the provision of advice and assistance. As long as this opportunity is neglected, local officials can hardly be blamed for operating their offices about as they choose.

The state should take the lead in developing improved practices in such work as budgeting, accounting and auditing; in assessing and collecting taxes; and in creating and administering indebtedness. All these duties might well be given to

SECURITY LAW GIVES DIRECT BENEFITS TO TEXANS

TEXAS—More than 100,000 people in Texas are beneficiaries of the Social Security law, which went into operation in this state on January 1, 1937. These estimates are based on reports to the Social Security Board since this plan went into operation.

The Texas old-age assistance plan under the act became effective in July, 1936. All told, it has received Federal grants of $7,180,950 for old-age assistance.

Texas passed a State law for old-age assistance in 1935, but this did not become effective until the present plan went into operation. It has had a State law for aid to dependent children (mother's aid) since 1917, but had not made any specific provision for aid to the blind.

In addition to participating in these programs for which the Social Security Board is the Federal administrative agency, Texas is also cooperating in social security programs directed by other Federal agencies.

The three maternal and child-welfare programs, administered by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, provide for the extension of such services, particularly in rural areas. Texas had an approved plan for maternal and child-health services for 1936, and Federal payments totaling $42,001.66 had been made to the State by June 30. The plan approved for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, provides for a Federal grant of $190,590. Under the 1936 approved plan for services for crippled children, $49,999.92 had been paid to Texas by June 30, 1936. The 1937 plan, as approved, includes a Federal grant of $152,730.02. A Federal grant of $27,349.74 was paid to Texas for child-welfare services under the 1936 plan. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937, a Federal grant of $90,758.43 was provided in the Texas plan approved.

The purpose of vocational rehabilitation is to provide reeducation for workers crippled in industry. At the end of the last fiscal year, 2,009 such persons were receiving training under the Texas program, for which the State has received Federal grants of $90,054. The Federal administrative agency for this part of the act is the Office of Education of the Department of the Interior. Under the public-health provisions of the act, which are administered by the United States Public Health Service, Texas has received Federal grants for the purpose of expanding and strengthening its State and local public-health services. Up to January 31, 1937, these grants totaled $317,812.45.

The Social Security Board has maintained a policy of decentralization in order to bring the act as close as possible to the participating States and to the people. In line with this policy it has established twelve regional offices. That for Region Ten, which comprises the States of Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, is in the Maverick Building, North Press and East Houston Streets, San Antonio. The regional offices serve as field headquarters of the Board's three operating Bureaus, which administer Federal old-age benefits, unemployment compensation, and public assistance. The Board has also opened field offices in connection with the administration of old-age benefits in a number of cities, including Austin, Dallas, Houston, and San Antonio.

The State-Federal programs are administered by the following agencies, all of which have headquarters in Austin: Unemployment Compensation Commission; Old-Age Assistance—Old-Age Assistance Commission; Maternal and Child-Health Services—State Department of Health; Division of Maternal and Child Health; Services for Crippled Children—State Department of Education; Crippled Children's Division; Child-Welfare Services—State Board of Control; Division of Child Welfare; Vocational Rehabilitation—State Supervisor of Vocational Rehabilitation; Public-Health Services—State Department of Health.

MUSICAL SHOW HERE SUNDAY

A MUSICAL SMASH IS COMING
TO THE ELLIS, APRIL 25-26
WITH EDDY AND MAC-DONALD

Topping even their triumphs in "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie," Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, America's favorite singing stars, showing at the Ellis April 25-26 in "Maytime," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's lavish operetta which was one of the memorable hits of the New York stage.

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard, the man who gave filmgoers "The Great Ziegfeld," with a wide variety of songs by Sigmund Romberg and Herbert Stothart, and with a brilliant supporting cast headed by John Barrymore in his first appearance since "Romeo and Juliet"—the new M-G-M musical opus as one of the outstanding sensations of the new movie season.

The famous song hit of the original play, "Sweetheart, Will You Remember?" was retained for the film version.

Most elaborate is the court of Louis Napoleon in 1865. There are opera houses, great parks, forests, streets of Paris, lavish hotel suites, an entire section of the Latin quarter of Paris, an apple orchard in full bloom and numerous other colorful sets. Six stages were turned over to the creation of these settings, among the most elaborate ever attempted in Hollywood.

Reclaim Blown Land

Stratford Farmers Co-operate In Soil Conservation Program by Planting Grain Sorghums

Stratford, Texas, April 20—Farmers of the Stratford project of the Soil Conservation Service are cooperating one hundred per cent in the program to reclaim and stabilize blown out wheat land in this area, says R. R. Hinde, Associate Regional Agronomist of the Region Six office in Amarillo.

Forty-two farmers cultivating a total of 16,391 acres near Stratford are omitting the seeding of wheat this fall, and will plant solid in 42-inch rows of grain sorghums. Through this method they expect to re-establish a crop residue, retain moisture, and replace organic matter lost by blowing of the top soil, thereby getting their land back into condition for growing wheat.

The Stratford farmers are being urged by the Soil Conservation Service to strip crop their land in 1938, planting grain sorghums in strips 68 feet wide to be alternated with the fall seeding of wheat in 105-foot strips.

"Farmers of the wind erosion area of the Great Plains are beginning to realize that the growing of a variety of crops is necessary for solution of their problem," says Mr. Hinde. "The grain sorghums have been found of the greatest value in reclaiming and stabilizing blowing wheat lands, and can be produced profitably along with wheat to provide feed for livestock," the agronomist points out.

Don Ameche and Ann Sothorn are starred in "Fifty Roads to Town," Twentieth Century-Fox's laugh-spiced romance, showing April 29-30 at the Ellis Theatre. Norman Taurag directed the picture, which is based on the novel by Louis Frederick Nebel.

Hollywood's ace song writers Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, turned out another hit, "Never in a Million Years," for the Twentieth Century-Fox production of "Fifty Roads to Town." Don Ameche and Ann Sothorn are starred in the film, which shows April 29-30 at the Ellis Theatre. Norman Taurag directed.

Be interested in the "how" of your job and the "how much" will take care of itself.

Harlow, Taylor Film

Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor
are Together in the Film
"Personal Property"

Two of the outstanding names in the film firmament are co-starred in "Personal Property" which will be the attraction at the Ellis Theatre April 22-23. They are Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor, making their first appearance together in the comedy-drama, based on the H. M. Harwood stage play, "Man in Possession," which enjoyed a hit run on the New York stage.

The new picture, coming from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, was directed by W. S. Van Dyke who has come to be known as "the man who has never made a failure" as the result of his direction of such successive hits as "Rose Marie," "San Francisco," "After the Thin Man" and numerous other successes.

In the supporting cast are Reginald Owen, one of Hollywood's outstanding character actors, Una O'Connor, who played Norma Seneer's maid in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," Henrietta Crossman, veteran actress of the Broadway stage, E. E. Clive, Cora Witherspoon, Maria Shelton, Forrester Harvey, Lionel Braham and Barnett Parker.

The story of "Personal Property" casts Miss Harlow as Mrs. Crystal Wetherby who poses in London society as a wealthy American widow, but who is actually impoverished and is being pursued by her creditors. When Taylor, playing the part of Raymond Dabney, is given a job as a sheriff's officer assigned to watch the personal property of Mrs. Wetherby, she induces him to pose as her butler in order not to "give her away" before a man whom she hopes to marry for his money and thus liquidate her debts. Since this man turns out to be none other than Dabney's brother, who under the impression that Mrs. Wetherby is rich, similarly plans to marry her for her money, the complications run thick and fast to make one of the merriest and most hilarious screen comedies of the year.

The screen play of "Personal Property" is the work of Hugh Mills and Ernest Vajda, and the picture was produced by John W. Considine Jr.

"Hopalong Cassidy"

William Boyd is Showing at the Ellis Saturday in a New Western Thriller

William Boyd as a disarmed and captive "Hopalong Cassidy" in "Hills of Old Wyoming," the latest Clarence E. Mulford Western action picture at the Ellis Theatre Saturday, pulls a famous Civil War scouting trick in escaping from the leader of a cattle rustling band.

Hopalong, riding ahead of his captor down a narrow trail is brushed by a large branch of a pine tree. He grasps the limb without being detected, bends it forward with him as he rides, and then lets it snap back, catching the rustler full in the face. The latter's momentary confusion permits Hopalong to escape. A similar getaway is actually recorded in War Department files, when a Federal scout successfully fled from a Confederate cavalryman.

Cassidy's exploit enables him to live to outwit and outfight a crooked government agent who uses his guileless Indian wards on the Wyoming reservation to cloak his cattle stealing. The agent also arouses the Indians against the ranchers and there are authentic and colorfully portrayed scenes in which the war dances and other Indian ceremonies are vividly portrayed.

Hopalong courageously outfaces the Indians as they are getting ready to attack the settlers and persuades them to follow him as their new leader. He then rallies the ranchmen and heads this combined force in a lead-splitting death-defying charge against the rustlers.

"Fifty Roads to Town," based on the novel by Louis Frederick Nebel, shows at the Ellis Theatre, April 29-30, with Don Ameche and Ann Sothorn in the starring roles. Norman Taurag directed the picture, with Raymond Griffith as associate producer.

Lionel Barrymore and a Capable
Cast Appear in the Drama
"A Family Affair"

Lionel Barrymore and a capable cast appear in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "A Family Affair," which is showing at the Ellis Theatre April 27-28.

This is a strong story of life in an average small town in America. An old family, long respected in the community, comes to grief when an older married daughter indiscreetly gets involved with another man. At the same time the father, a courageous old county judge, returns a decision on a public project which is bitterly opposed by his townspeople.

Barrymore, as the justice, portrays the character with his usual depth of understanding and all supporting cast is admirable. Many of them appeared in "Ah Wilderness!" also produced by M-G-M.

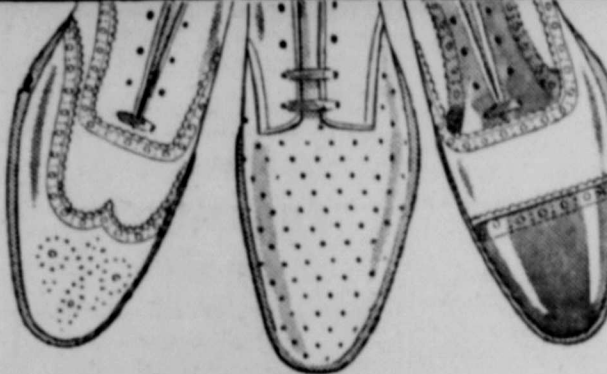

The cast includes Cecilia Parker, Eric Linden, Mickey Rooney, Charley Grapewin, Spring Byington, Julie Hayden and Sara Haden. Geo. Seitz was the director.

When the family is caught in the shadow of grief and shame, it is the old judge who saves his daughter from marital disaster and restores himself in the eyes of his fellows by proving his decision.

WAUGH, FAMOUS SCULPTOR, DESIGNS GLASS MEDAL

ties in the medium, and partly a change from his regular work. The results were so successful that he is now conceded to be the foremost designer in glass in the country, a title which he had no deliberate intention of acquiring.

Still adhering to his creed that he is primarily a sculptor, he occasionally accepts a commission to design in glass if he considers the project interesting and worthwhile. His latest is the design of the glass medal to be awarded in the Competition of the Pittsburgh Glass Institute. Since this competition is planned for the purpose of assembling and making public the best work in glass used in a structural and decorative manner during the 16 months preceding the closing date it is only fitting that the award itself should be an outstanding expression of that aim.

The medal is of crystal-clear finely polished glass, 4 1/2 inches in diameter and approximately 1/2 inch in thickness. The design, in intaglio on the reverse side of the medal, shows the competition symbol engraved in exquisite detail.

The character of the work is so delicate that there is only one man in the country capable of executing it, and each plaque must be made individually. The result is an exquisite medallion, symbolizing the honor bestowed and at the same time presenting the owner with a veritable museum piece in the art of fine work in glass.

The uniqueness of this medal and its intrinsic beauty will be added incentives to entrants in the Competition, which will close on April 30th of this year.

To quote Mr. Waugh, "In every way, glass is causing great public interest. For at least forty years, a new architecture of glass and steel has been talked about; now it is here. People are really beginning to feel glass as a structural medium. Its extreme adaptability gives it greater range than any other comparable substance. It is an astounding material."

"When speaking of a home food supply, this means a well balanced diet," stated Miss Ruby Mashburn, District Demonstration Agent, at the meeting of the Missouri Avenue Club which met in the home of Mrs. John E. Johnson, Wednesday April 14, at two o'clock.

"A well balanced diet is more important for children than adults," continued Miss Mashburn. "A child's diet should be selected to build bones, teeth, blood and muscle tissue. School children require as much food, as adults. We should not only look to our garden for a food supply but to our orchards, poultry and fields, as well. A well balanced diet means also fewer diseases and 'less tooth troubles'."

Miss Wertha Tarter gave a very helpful demonstration of how to make mitered corners. This is a much neater and serviceable corner than the other ways. Miss Tarter then continued with the making of the bed spreads. She stated that bed spreads have two main purposes, these are for beauty and to protect the undercovers. The bed spreads should be large enough to cover the pillows and should have twelve to eighteen inches on the sides. The tufted bed spreads are good now and are easy to make. The lighter shades of white and cream can be used for any room. The tufted spreads can be had already stamped. When they are finished they should be washed in warm soapy water for not more than five minutes, then hang them on the line to dry and beat with a stick until fluffy. Washing makes the tufts tighter.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames: J. H. Key, J. C. Elrod, W. E. Bowen, E. W. Witt, L. E. King.

RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM AIDS FARMERS IN THE DROUTH AREA

The Resettlement Administration, with its broad-gauged program designed specifically to rehabilitate and restore the confidence and integrity of the low income farm worker, is using the far-famed "cow sow and hen" idea, as a basis for the long-time program of farm rejuvenation. This idea is the fundamental basis of a soundly planned foundation for a live-at-home program that makes the farm family self-sustaining and largely independent of the price fluctuations of commodities.

The "cow, sow and hen" plan is being put into practice on thousands of farms in the Panhandle-Plains of Texas, eastern New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Colorado, etc., where this federal agency has had to step in and offer a substantial loan service to farmers whipped by dust and wind and drouth. That this help is appreciated is evidenced by the many stories of rehabilitation told by county supervisors, and by the farmers themselves, who pay tribute to the faithful work of Resettlement advisers. The cooperation between farmers and Resettlement workers will pay its dividends now and in years to come in a higher type of agriculture everywhere.

To the farm and home management specialists of the Resettlement Administration is due the credit for the rehabilitation of many of these farmers who saw their future blasted by the scourge of drouth. Their work is to guide and advise the farmer in the best type of crops to be raised, the best manner in which to handle his soil in order to maintain its maximum fertility, and advise on all farm problems. The home management specialist helps the women to solve the problems of the home, helps her to plan a garden, aids her in canning food that ordinarily might go to waste for winter consumption and in many other ways does her bit by giving advice that makes the farm home a happier and more wholesome place to live.

In addition to these aids, the county supervisor studies the needs of his clients and recommends them for loans or grants with which to carry on a program. The home management supervisor surveys the needs within the home and suggests loans or grants to enable the mother to build a happier and a more substantial home life for her family.

The successfulness of the program is not based on hearsay evidence; it is tabulated in the records and reports of the county and home management supervisors. The records are cold statistical reports, but when broken down they show how great has been the service.

Business for the most part is lauding this program because business knows the value of a prosperous agriculture. Thus it seems that the work of this agency will continue for a long time, for its earnest

To Historic Fiesta

Jack Woodward and Leroy LaMaster Are With Band Playing in San Antonio This Week

Five buses, gaily decorated in purple and white, will roll out of Stephenville on April 21 carrying the John Tarleton College band and honorary corps of cadets to San Antonio for the historic Battle of Flowers Fiesta. With them will be two Perryton boys, Jack Woodward, who plays the clarinet in the band, and Leroy LaMaster, playing the trombone.

The band, directed by D. G. Hunewell, will enter the band contest on April 22 and take part in the colorful flower parade the following day. The crack company, supervised by Major James D. Bender, will accompany the band and take part in the parade. Dean J. Thomas Davis of Tarleton and band sponsor Dorothy Davis will also make the trip. The group will be quartered at Kelly Field while in the Alamo city.

D. G. Hunewell organized the first Tarleton band in 1920. Twelve members composed that first organization. In three years Hunewell had built a band that won first place in the college band contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at San Angelo. The next year, 1924, the Tarleton band was selected as the official W. T. C. of C. band at Brownwood. The band again won first place in the band contest that year. In other years the Tarleton band has made trips that have covered the entire state. At present 30 cadets compose the John Tarleton College band.

Petition to Jones

Farmers Dissatisfied With Soil Conservation Payments Requested to Sign

The Herald has been requested to make the announcement that a petition is now being circulated and signed by farmers of Ochiltree county who are dissatisfied with the amount of the payments that they have received for compliance with the provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. One of the petitions is at the Plainview Hardware & Furniture Co. and it is urgent that same be signed at once.

We understand that the petition is addressed to Congressman Marvin Jones. It seems as though many persons have not informed themselves sufficiently on the new farm program and are laboring under the impression that the present Soil Conservation and Domestic Act is a continuation of the old AAA wheat program that was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The writer admits that he knows little about either program but from what we have learned about the two programs, we realize that they are very different. The old program paid for what you didn't do and the new program pays for what you do. A complete reversal insofar as the cooperator is concerned.

Dies Suddenly

L. C. Kelley, Wichita Banker and Former Resident of Higgins, Dies Saturday Morn

Stricken by a heart attack while apparently in excellent health, L. C. Kelley, 48 years old, executive vice president of the Fourth National Bank of Wichita, died Saturday morning as he was being rushed in an ambulance to Wichita Hospital.

He entered the barber shop in the rear of the bank building about 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, cheerful and apparently in good health. While in the barber chair, he suddenly suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Kelley, who was born near Furley, Kansas, had been a resident of Wichita, Kansas, for 20 years, going there from Higgins, where his father operated a large cattle ranch. His mother, Mrs. J. W. Kelley, still operates the ranch.

Surviving are his widow, Bonnie; one daughter, Betty Jean, a student of Wichita high school, his mother, one brother, R. T. (Cap) of Lipscomb, and four sisters. Mrs. Val McLanahan was his sister. He is an uncle of Mrs. Herring Lance of this city.
