'They Came From Spain' Opens Sept. 2 In Palo Duro

A new production, THEY CAME FROM SPAIN, is scheduled to open in the Palo Duro Canyon on Thursday, Sept. 2, 1971, with Eddie Thomas of Dallas as the director.

The people of the Panhandle have raised $66,000 in underwriting to produce this show which will play Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays during September and October of 1971. There will also be Sunday evening performances on Labor Day and Columbus Day weekends. The success of "TEXAS" the musical drama which has played to 340,000 people during its five years, and the appeal of the Canyon to visitors when the large "TEXAS" cast is not available, dictated the need for a production which could be presented with a smaller cast.

The new show THEY CAME FROM SPAIN will use mixed media: light and sound, film and live movement based on techniques developed during the popular first production in the theatre, THUNDERING SOUNDS OF THE WEST, in the summer of 1965.

The fall production will reveal the story of the Conquist-

'Self Defense' Meeting Slated

"Self Defense For Women" is the theme of a public meeting at 2 p. m. Thursday, May 13 in the Assembly Room of the Courthouse in Dimmitt.

Chester E. Fant, safety officer with the Texas Department of Public Safety, will demonstrate self-defense techniques.

Sponsored by the County Home Demonstration Council, Mrs. Jack Ingram is chairman. All women in the county are urged to attend the meeting.

adores, led by Coronado, as they crossed the plains to take refuge in the Palo Duro Canyon in 1541. They left detailed and intriguing journals and letters of their impressions and experiences. These are the basis for the script of the new show, written by Margaret Harper, who was also one of the authors of the 1965 show.

Designer and director will be Eddie Thomas, a member of the speech department at El Centro College in Dallas. Mr. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas of Amarillo. He spoke at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Heritage Foundation Sunday about his plans, and painted interesting pictures of ways the story might be told. He also presented a model of set designs.

Mr. Thomas knows the Palo Duro well. He lived near it in his youth. He created the role of Calvin, the leading man in the "TEXAS" production, and played it for two years, learning every whim of the Canyon. His experiences are varied and include community and professional theatre (Little Theatre of the Rockies, Pasadena Playhouse, and the Dallas Repertory Theatre, where he recently finished a run as the leading man in THE PRIME OF MISS BRODIE). He has also made television appearances on such programs as GUNSMOKE and ALFRED HITCHCOCK. Recent movies in which Mr. Thomas has appeared are BULLET FOR PRETTY BOY, SPLEN-

Help Needed By Student

Dear Friend:

For use in a serious research of Texas weather, I need to contact as many people as possible who have first-hand knowledge of storms, drouth, floods, and so on.

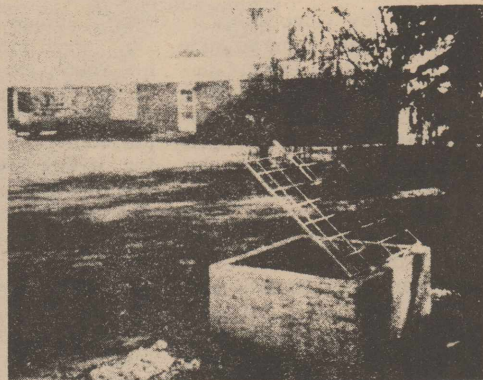

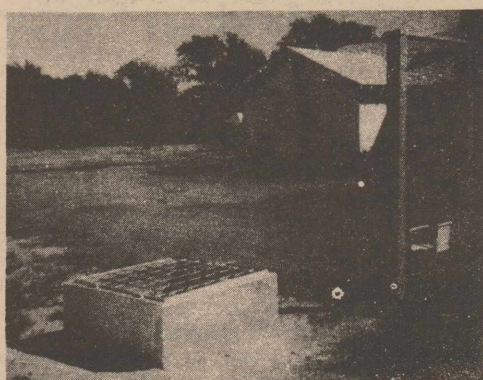

Especially desired is information pertaining to the drouth and depression of the 1930's.

Do you suppose there are those around who recall the great government cattle shooting episode during the summer of 1934? Oral accounts and photographs of this would be most welcome.

Any help you can give me will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Roy Sylvan Dunn

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

For a long time there has been need for a congressional inquiry into unfair and biased reporting of the news on television. Some network officials apparently regard a broadcast license as a license to engage in politics and general warfare against American institutions.

At last, preliminary action has been taken. The House Commerce Investigations Subcommittee, of which U. S. Rep. Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia is chairman, has issued a subpoena for the film, sound tapes and scripts used by the Columbia Broadcasting System in producing the anti-defense documentary "The Selling of the Pentagon."

The Subpoena is in order inasmuch as television networks operate under license from the federal government. The networks are supposed to abide by standards of fairness. Congress has a right and a duty to inquire into whether the networks are respecting such standards.

Many Americans believe that the networks have abused their vast power and are using the airwaves to shape opinion for political ends. "On the CBS television network, "Barron's Financial Weekly" recently charged, "which includes five wholly-owned stations and 198 affiliates -- slanted journalism has long been the name of the game. As in the 'Selling of the Pentagon', moreover, the thrust has tended to be violently against what most of the country would regard as its basic interests, institutions and values."

The author of a recent letter to the editor of the WALL STREET JOURNAL undoubtedly expressed the opinions of many viewers when he charged that the networks have engaged in obfuscation, distortion and mishandling of interpretation in treatment of news about the Vietnam War. He said that if a man from Mars "had been watching the major news programs on television, he would have had to conclude that the United States started the war in Vietnam on purpose for imperialistic purposes, that the North Vietnamese are the victims of this aggression, and that the Pentagon and the FBI are being run by Hitler-type monsters."

Viewers throughout the country could supply well-documented indictments. This viewer noted the networks' slanted coverage of public indignation over the verdict in the Calley case. The three major networks used a carbon copy approach in reporting the unprecedented public indignation the evening after it burst forth. Each network gave a capsule summary of the outpouring of feeling. None of the networks used film of public protests or interviews with congressmen or governors who objected to the verdict.

As soon as the bare bones story was reported, each network switched to a long interview with the Calley jurors who, understandably, upheld the verdict. One network even used a big block of time to present a defense of its coverage of the Laos operation.

Slanted TV journalism is nothing new. Shortly after Fidel Castro came to power, the networks were busy selling Castro as the Robin Hood of the Caribbean. When conservative Barry Goldwater ran for president, the networks did their best to describe him as a far-right extremist. Almost every night during the Vietnam war, TV commentators have poured out messages of defeatism. Every type of New Left kook has received friendly treatment and ample coverage on television. In Chicago in 1968, the television news teams did their best to present New Left rioters as persecuted idealists.

Now the networks are in trouble. In the case of the CBS documentary "The Selling of the Pentagon," other media have revealed that film was cut and transposed to make military officers and congressmen seem unresponsive and foolish.

The networks are violating the people's right to know. The way to deal with that is to deny renewal of licenses where there is a record of deliberate distortion. It is time to turn off the networks that use the airwaves to run down the United States.

DOR IN THE GRASS, and GOING ALL OUT.

Mr. Thomas received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in acting and directing at West Texas State University, and has had advanced study in these fields in professional schools on both coasts.

Technical designer for the production will be Bill Rhew, who has been working for several years on the problems involved. Mr. Rhew produced the first sound demonstration in the Canyon. He experimented with sound reproduction in the area, discovering the attributes which are the basis for the splendid sound system in the Pioneer Amphitheatre. Working with Joe Batson, Mr. Rhew designed and supervised the construction of the sound building and designed the equipment. He made the sound track for THUNDERING SOUNDS OF THE WEST.

Mr. Rhew has produced many documentary films, a series of travelogues which have been widely distributed: TENDERFOOT IN EUROPE, ARCTIC ADVENTURE IN ALASKA, UNCHAINED FRONTIER (Canada and the North-east), FOLLOW THE BAMBOO (Southeast Asia), GO VIEW THE LAND (India and the Middle East), ON THE SQUARE (Russia and Norway) and WALKING THROUGH THE CENTURIES (Travels of Paul). He has studied Sound and Light Programs in Athens and Rome. A graduate of East Texas State University, Mr. Rhew majored in sociology with a minor in speech. He was in the Editorial Department of the Signal Corps in the Army. He is an advisor to the West Texas State University chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, and is in constant demand for sales films, television commercials, and special documentaries.

Dear Editor

A little late but never too late to say thank you to the few folks that voted for me in the last city election.

Might have run a little better if I had not been definite about my ambitions for the City. A statement of vague or no special interest might have been better. At any rate I am not a politician.

One other thought I should have included was regarding the west part of town. Our dirt streets are not bladed as much as the county rural roads although they have ten times as much traffic. Especially the west end of town.

To those elected I will endorse every thing you do and suggest a few things that are impossible to do. Am not caustic but for you all the way.

NATION'S BIGGEST INDUSTRY

-- Farming employs 4.6 million workers--as many as the combined employment in transportation, steel industry and the automobile industry. Agriculture's assets total $307 billion, equal to: about two-thirds of the value of capital assets of all corporations in the U. S. or about half the market value of all corporation stocks on the New York Stock Exchange. The value of agriculture's production assets represents about $50,000 for each farm employee, so says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

PROGRESS PRODUCTS

The Washington Natural Gas Company notes in their publication "Pilot Light" that in 1969, Americans spent millions of dollars for goods which didn't exist 30 year ago. No-iron clothing, self-cleaning ranges, teflon cookware and color TV are a few of the products of progress generated by new ideas in industry.

NOT OPPOSITES

"Ecology and forestry are not opposites. In fact, ecology is a part of the science of forestry. A managed forest is a prime showcase for ecology in action." That statement is made by Cy Scheider who, as Boise Cascade's chief forester, is concerned about the misinformation, misunderstandings and misconceptions about forestry, tree harvesting and forest land management.

A heated lemon produces almost twice as much juice as a cold one. Just place in a warm oven and heat for just a few minutes.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Have you ever heard of "hoggies"?

Issued in about 1616, they were the first coinage struck for the English-American colonies.

Hoggies come from the Sommer Islands, which are present day Bermuda. When Juan Bermudez stopped there in 1515 he left behind a few of his cargo of hogs.

In 1609 Sir George Somers arrived to a greeting party of descendants of Juan's hogs. Somers became famous in the islands, so when they minted coins for the colonies, they honored him. The reverse side of the coin pictured his full rigged galleon.

On the front of each hoggie was, naturally, a picture of a hog with "Sommer Islands" encircling it.

The hoggies were made of brass or a similar substance lightly silvered. They were in four denominations: shilling, sixpence, three pence and twopence.

FATALITIES FACTS

"Back in 1909, when horse-and-buggy travel reached all-time peak, there were 30 fatalities for each 100 million horse-travel miles," comments the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania. "Today, with more than 96 million motor vehicles driving 967 billion miles a year, the traffic toll is just a little over five fatalities for each 100 million vehicle miles."

COMPARED WITH OTHER PRODUCTS-- Food costs have risen less since 1947-49 than most other consumer items in the cost-of-living index. For all the items on the list, the increase in cost to 1969 was 57 percent. For all food, the increase was 48 percent. For rent, it was 63 percent and for medical care 124 percent. The farmer received 8 percent more for the farm food "market basket" than he did in 1947-49. The cost of farm-grown food has risen 32 percent, although processing and marketing costs have risen 55 percent. And Texas farmers and ranchers are battling a drought.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

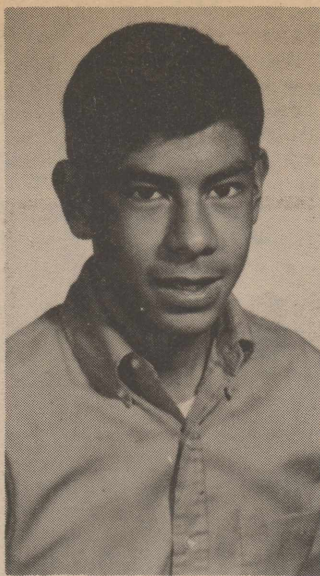

--The average family of four eats two and one-half tons of food per year. It breaks down about this way: 1,000 pounds of meat, fish and poultry; 1,500 pounds of dairy products; more than 1,000 pounds of fruits and vegetables and over 1,500 pounds of flour and cereal products, sugar, potatoes, fats, oils and eggs. Each million people we add to our population requires another 172,000 beef cattle; 25,400 dairy cattle; 433,000 hogs and 1.3 million hens at today's food consumption rates.

CALCIUM NEEDS

We all know that calcium is necessary for the building and maintenance of strong bones and teeth. But did you realize that calcium also helps muscles and nerves react normally, as well as being important for normal blood clotting? Good sources of this valuable mineral can be found in milk and milk products. Lesser amounts are found in dark green leafy vegetables, sardines, clams and oysters.

The dish consists of baked cheese and cracker sandwiches filled with ham and surrounded by an egg and milk custard. This good-tasting casserole is good for your family and high in protein nutrition.

In the past, this type of recipe was sometimes called "Strata" and was made with trimmed crusts of bread. In this updated, easy fix version, saltine crackers enhance the delicious flavor. Garnishes can be added individually or mixed together for a really festive touch.

Ham, Cheese and Cracker Casserole is ideal for Saturday lunch or for an evening meal, accompanied by a green vegetable and salad.

Credit By Examination Program Offered At LCC

Lubbock Christian College, a private, liberal arts senior college, will offer a broad program of "credit by examination" beginning with the fall semester of this year. There are five ways a student may obtain credit for courses without actually taking the courses.

- (1) Acceptance of Advanced Placement Examination credit as received from the College Entrance Examination Board.
- (2) Placement and Achievement tests in specific areas whereby students may bypass courses or receive credit in them.
- (3) Subject examinations in many areas under the College Level Examination Program
- (4) "End-of-course" examinations in many departments
- (5) Credit for appropriate educational experience in the Armed Services as approved by the American Council on Education.

The program will enable a student to accelerate his college program by having courses waived or by receiving credit in them, thus avoiding the regular tuition charge. A student may also gain additional elective credit to broaden his college curriculum. Both current and incoming students may avail themselves of a wide spectrum of credit opportunities not previously available to LCC students.

Students encouraged to consider this program are those with special high school preparation in English, foreign language, mathematics or the sciences. Other indications of qualification for the program are participation in accelerated high school classes, high scores on the SAT, ACT or National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, and particular knowledge or experience beyond the high school level.

The Credit by Examination program becomes effective during the 1971 fall semester orientation period. Students desiring information should contact Robert A. Hawkins, registrar of the college.

Moments OF Meditation

REV. C.T. CUNNINGHAM

Fear is real. Most people suffer, either consciously or unconsciously, from fear. People fear many things. Old age, death, disease, and poverty are just a few of the things most people fear the most.

Dr. Harold Urey, who was a Nobel Peace Prize winner and one of the physicists whose work led to the creation of the atomic bomb, wrote, "I write to make you afraid. I, myself, am a man who is afraid. All the wise men I know are afraid."

There is fear of the future, fear of atomic destruction. People need to turn to God as the answer to fear. Over and over again Jesus said, Fear not...let not your heart be troubled...neither let it be afraid." In Christ man can conquer fear. It may come in a time of prayer but it can be conquered.

I saw a sign the other day which read, "Why pray when you can worry?" Let's take our problems to God in prayer, and let Him help us with them. We cannot handle them by ourselves. O, I know that it seems for a time that some people make it pretty good without God, but it only appears that way and will not last for long.

Drug Awareness Day Held Monday In Hart High

Drug Awareness Day was held Monday, April 26 at Hart High School. Students saw three films, giving information on LSD, drugs and marijuana.

Discussion groups were held with no faculty or adults attending. Groups were directed by student leaders. After lunch, the students assembled in the gym for an overall discussion and then returned to classrooms with a teacher present.

Students report the day was both beneficial and enlightening. Teachers were in agreement. Discussing the immediate school and community and the drug problem, students and teachers agreed that alcohol is the biggest drug problem of this area.

MEAT SUBSTITUTE

What's to great about dried beans, peas, lentils, and nuts? Well, they are rich in protein and when eaten with other foods they can be used as a substitute for meat. They're also noted for their iron and B vitamins. But they do lack vitamins A and C. That's why it's so important to serve greens or yellow vegetables, and raw salad when you're having a main dish of beans for supper.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

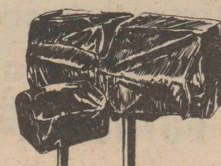

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Gov. Smith Calls For State 'Crack Down' On Drivers

With one eye on an expected increase in traffic during the summer months, Gov. Preston Smith has called on law enforcement officials to "crack down" on traffic violators.

"I want this State to be known as a tough one," the Governor told members of his Traffic Safety Committee. "A tough one on people who care so little for the lives of others that they drive while drunk, drive recklessly, speed excessively, and, indeed, do everything but 'Drive Friendly'." He was referring to the slogan "Drive Friendly," which has been used by the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee during the past 18 months in a massive public education program on traffic safety.

The Governor has said the experience during the last two years in administering the most intensive traffic safety program in the history of our State has shown that most traffic problems are the result of a minority of irresponsible drivers. "I hope our local (police) chiefs will join with the Department of Public Safety to find the drunks and the unlicensed drivers behind the wheel, and get them off the road," the Governor said.

He cautioned, however, that a traffic police "crack down" would be purposeless unless the courts also deal effectively with offenders.

These strong words from the Governor were apparently timed purposely to coincide with two events. First, the head of the Highway Department, J. C. Dingwall, has forecast a vast increase in highway travel this summer.

And second, with the 62nd Legislature nearing the end of its regular session, the Governor is mindful of a series of traffic safety law changes he has recommended that still awaits action by the lawmakers.

One of the measures which the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety favors did receive the chief executive's signature in late April. That bill, S. B. 183, established a uniform vehicle code, the first major change in the State's traffic code since 1947.

While congratulating the legislative sponsors of the bill, Gov. Smith said the new code "will serve to enhance mobility, make highway travel safer and more convenient, and conform to the uniform traffic code used by many of our other states." The sponsors were Sen. Jim Bates, Edinburg, and Reps. Jim Nugent, Kerrville, and Frank Calhoun, Abilene.

Admitting that he was encouraged by the passage of this law, the Governor said he was disappointed that other traffic proposals which the Governor's Committee sees as vital have not yet been acted upon.

The Governor's remarks came on the heels of release of statistics by the Department of Public Safety revealing an increase of fine traffic deaths in 1970 over 1969, but a decrease in the death rate per 100 million miles of vehicle travel. DPS Director Wilson E. Speir explained that the number of vehicle miles, licensed drivers and registered motor vehicles each increased substantially during 1970.

Dingwall said here that his forecast of a substantial increase in traffic during the summer months was based on two factors. First, past experience reveals a usual increase in travel when schools are dismissed for the summer.

Additionally, Dingwall said the Highway Department has sent seven million pieces of highway information literature in response to requests from people who intend to travel in Texas this summer.

"Look at the red kite up there! See how high it's flying!"

The little boy follows her finger, and she is warmed and gratified by his smile of appreciation.

It seems as if mothers are eternally anxious to make sure that their children get all there is to get out of life—that they miss nothing.

Mothers would, if they could, show their children all that there is to see and give them everything—time for fun, time for play—new clothes, new toys, a television to watch cartoons, endless red kites and bright yellow balloons and, later, skis and sports cars.

Yet, in this eagerness to show and to give, aren't they in danger of overlooking some of the most important things of all? What of beauty, of serenity, of joy—the knowledge of God's goodness, His love, and familiarity with His house on earth . . . the Church?
