Violence Flares In Little Rock Again

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Police clubbed segregationists today in a short, violent battle over integration of Little Rock's public high schools.

The violence came after a rally on the Capitol lawn where only a few minutes before Gov. Orval E. Faubus had told some 1,000 segregationists to avoid trouble.

Some 200 segregationists began their march on Central High School soon after the rally broke up. It was at Central that mob violence erupted over intergation in 1957.

Police rushed from Hall High School where three Negroes had been integrated this morning without incident.

Police Chief Gene Smith and 20 policemen met the flag-waving, chanting men, women and children at an intersection near Central, moments before the school was scheduled to be opened to integration.

Smith ordered the crowd to disperse. The crowd jeered.

Police began swinging billy clubs. Six of the segregationists, all men, were arrested.

Before he ordered his police task force into action, Chief Smith called on firemen to spray the crowd with water from a truck which had been parked at an intersection. Some of the crowd were doused.

The scuffle lasted six or eight minutes. The street was cleared but small groups reformed on the sidewalk.

"Get them," someone in the crowd shouted. "Get Gene Smith!"

There was a sudden surge toward the policemen but they stood their ground.

Some of the arrested men resisted vigorously. There was one man with a bloody head.

The crowd slowly withdrew. A block from the school it began to regroup out of the police restricted area around Central.

In contrast with the scuffle at Central there were no demonstrations earlier in the day when three Negro girls walked quietly by themselves into Hall High School.

Some 20 spectators watched them from lawns of homes across the street.

The Negroes entered the school only four minutes before the opening. Most of the 736 white students had already streamed into the building.

The girls were Elsie Robinson, 16; Estelle Thompson, 16, and Effie Jones, 17. They were not among the nine who integrated Central High School in 1957-58.

When they walked into the building they restored integration to a public school system whose high schools had been closed against it by Gov. Orval E. Faubus last year.

They came in a private car without police escort. They had been told by Police Chief Gene Smith they would have to report to school just like everyone else.

Streets around the school were barricaded. Smith deployed 50 policemen in the immediate area to keep order. Most of the officers carried billy clubs and blackjacks in addition to pistols.

Central High School, scene of mob violence in the fall of 1957, was schedule for integration by one Negro boy at 1:30 p.m. today. It was there Faubus tried unsuccessfully to stop integration with National Guardsmen.

Even as Hall was opening to token integration, segregationists gathered on the State Capitol lawn in protest.

With a portable phonograph playing "Dixie," some 1,000 assembled. They waved both American and Confederate flags. The rally was orderly.

There were placards and slogans. One said, "Race mixing is communism."

Some of the crowd had come by caravan from over the state.

The School Board stayed in close touch with the schools. All-Negro Horace Mann High also reopened this morning and Tech High, an all-white school, was to open this afternoon. The board reported classes of both Hall and Horace Mann were progressing normally.

Little Rock Technical High, a white school, and Horace Mann, a Negro institution, did not figure in the Little Rock School Board's integration plan.

Only half-day classes are scheduled this week, with a regular full-time schedule to begin Monday. The School Board said it scheduled the half-day classes because all city high schools had been closed for a year, under order of Gov. Faubus.

Police Chief Eugene G. Smith would not reveal his plans to keep order but said that he would not "put up with any foolishness."

School Board officials said they would deal "firmly, fairly and effectively" with any students causing trouble in the schools.

Faubus took to television Tuesday night to accuse the School Board and the police chief of becoming puppets of the federal government.

Faubus also tried to discourage the segregationist rally on the capitol lawn by saying he would not be there. But segregationists insisted on going ahead with the meeting.

Even as Faubus spoke, the state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People reported her house had been fired upon from a speeding car.

Mrs. L. C. Bates said several shots were fired and a white neighbor, K. R. Honey, reported one bullet crashed into his living room where it missed his 9-year-old daughter, Janet, by less than a foot.

Twice Faubus has stopped school integration in Little Rock. The first time was in the fall of 1957. Then he called out National Guardsmen to temporarily turn back nine Negroes from Central High School. Last fall he closed the schools with a state law which since has been declared unconstitutional.

Says Texas Laws Unconstitutional

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas laws aimed at prolonging school segregation are as unconstitutional as similar statutes in Virginia, an attorney told the Houston Assn. for Better Schools Tuesday night.

Edmund D. Campbell, lawyer for Virginia residents who sought to have Norfolk schools reopened after they were closed under Virginia's massive resistance laws, said Houston schools could be integrated without a referendum as required by state law.

If state aid was withdrawn as provided in the laws, Campbell said, Houston citizens could request an injunction against the state.

"And they'd get it," he said. "I'm sure."

His comments came in answer to a question by Jerry McAfee, a defeated Houston school board candidate.

McAfee asked what Houstonians should do about the state law, which would conflict with any federal court order to desegregate schools. He also questioned the validity of petitions now being circulated to call a referendum election on the subject.

"If there was withholding of funds from the district," Campbell said, "some taxpayer could apply to a federal court to issue an injunction prohibiting the state treasurer from withholding the funds. I am sure such a request would be granted.

"I believe I can assert with complete confidence that the Texas laws are unconstitutional and will be enjoined the first time anyone contests them."

The Houston Independent School District is under orders to desegregate with all deliberate speed. It has been ordered by Judge Ben C. Connally to file with the district court clerk by next Monday a report on steps have been taken to comply with this order.

Campbell's said the issue before the public is not segregation or desegregation. That, he said, has been decided by the U.S. Supreme Court and is the law of the land.

The issue, he said, is one of being either for or against public schools.

"Virginians have come to realize what Texans have become compelled to realize," Campbell said. "The issue is not whether anyone is for or against segregation or the mixing of the races. But rather, and the courts have made it crystal clear, it is whether we are for or against public schools."

One Dead, 7 Hurt In Two-Car Crash

A woman was killed and seven men were injured, at least one critically, in a two-vehicle crash one mile north of Snyder Cemetery at about 9:45 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Cuca Garcia Garza, 39, general delivery Snyder, died at about 11 o'clock this morning in Cogdell Memorial Hospital from injuries received in the accident.

Genaro Reyes, 23, was listed as being in critical condition in the hospital at noon.

Seven Latin Americans were passengers in the 1958 Chevrolet sedan driven by Mrs. Garza.

The other vehicle was a 1959 Ford pickup driven by William Pershing Lewallen, 40, of 316 Twenty-ninth Street, an oil well pumper.

Both vehicles were demolished. The impact ripped the entire left side from the sedan, and knocked the front seat and some of the passengers from the vehicle.

The pickup was traveling east on a farm-to-market road, and the car was traveling north on another farm-to-market road.

Lewallen and six of the Latin Americans were not believed critically injured, although extent of the injuries and conditions had not been determined shortly before noon.

In the sedan with Mrs. Garza were Reyes, Genaro Henry Garza, 18; Lorenqo Rodriquez, 16; Jacbo Rodriquez, 14; Pedro Sandoval, 19; and Jesse Hernandez, 48, all of whose addresses were listed as general delivery, Snyder.

The collision occurred near the center of the intersection. The se-

Ike To Keep Hands Off Steel Strike

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he has no intention of intervening in the four-week-old steel strike unless it develops into a national emergency.

Eisenhower told his news conference that he couldn't think of anything more objectionable than for any agency of the federal government — except the mediation service—to step into labor-management negotiations without development of an emergency situation.

He said the law provides for free, untrammeled negotiations without intervention by the federal government, other than mediators.

Told there had been a suggestion that the steel strike must be settled before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev comes here Sept. 15, Eisenhower ridiculed the idea.

He asked: Don't we want Khrushchev to see the United States as a freedom-loving country?

Krush Due To See Military Bases

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is being invited to see some military installations during his visit to the United States if he wishes.

The Soviet leader will be given a wide range of choice on the kind of installations open to him, the President told a news conference. If he does not want to see any establishments, that's okay too.

Khrushchev told a Moscow news conference last Wednesday that if he is invited to see an American military installation "I would not go." He added he would go to America as a peaceful man and would not have any rocket sticking out of his pocket.

Discussing the Khrushchev visit beginning in mid-September, Eisenhower said he intends to tell the Soviet leader that U.S. bases abroad are purely defensive and threaten no one.

He also plans, Eisenhower said, to ask why Khrushchev does not permit progress in improvement of East-West relations which Eisenhower considers necessary for a summit conference.

Eisenhower said he is most anxious for Khrushchev to see the fine, small, modest homes in which Americans live, including those in such specific places as the Levittown housing development and the community around the Fairless steel plant in Pennsylvania.

The President did not specify which Levittown and some of his audience took him to mean the one on Long Island, which would provide two widely separated examples. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said later, however, that Eisenhower was talking about the Levittown near the Fairless plant.

Eisenhower said he would like to take Khrushchev on a flying trip around Washington, D.C., in his "chopper"—his helicopter—so Khrushchev could see the fine homes which have developed in the areas around Washington.

Khrushchev should also go into the great farming regions of this country and see farms that are run by individual free men, Eisenhower said. He added that he would like the Soviet Premier also to go into the little town where he was born—Denison, Tex.—and hear from the people there how Eisenhower worked in the early years of his life.

In response to a series of questions about the Khrushchev visit here next month and his visit to the U.S.S.R. later, Eisenhower also said:

1. He hopes his talks with Khrushchev will produce a better atmosphere between the Soviet Union and the Western powers. But he does not intend to engage in negotiation or act as a spokesman for the West.

He also hopes that Khrushchev will get better information about the United States and that he will get better information about the Soviet Union on his trip there.

2. Eisenhower does not plan to accompany Khrushchev on his tour around the United States. They may visit Gettysburg or nearby Camp David, Md., together but so far that is only a possibility.

3. His decision to invite Khrushchev to the United States and to go to the Soviet Union is not by any means a reversal of the policies of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

He often talked with Dulles about such visits, and as long ago as the last month of 1958 they began to feel that their diplomacy should be reinforced by something new in this respect.

4. On his trip to the U.S.S.R. Eisenhower would like to see people and find out what they are like. He said that as a state visitor he will be surrounded by great crowds all the time and will not be able to see many sights such as buildings, but he will have a chance to get acquainted with people and that is his main interest.

This was the first time the President ever has held a full-scale news conference outside Washington. The setting was in a gymnasium at the Hotel Gettysburg. The gym was converted into a press room at the time Eisenhower was here recuperating from his 1955 heart attack.

There have been a few previous sessions with newsmen outside of the capital, but they have been mainly one-shot affairs for discussion of some particular subject.

The rules were the same as for a Washington conference — with reporters largely guiding the discussion by questions of their own choice.

In contrast with the attendance of 200 or more which usually turns out in Washington, something like 60 or 70 newsmen and photographers were on hand here.

School Budget Okayed

A budget of $2,672,182 for the coming school year was adopted by the Snyder Independent School District board last night after a public hearing at which no one appeared.

To raise the budget, the board also adopted a tax rate of $1.66½ per $100 valuation on a total of $137 million in valuations in the district. Of each $1.66½, $1.16 will be used for maintenance and operation of the school system for the coming year, and $.50½ will go for interest and sinking fund on the school's debt.

A breakdown of budget shows that $690,310 will be for debt service; $97,435 for administration; $1,310,931 for salaries; $97,297 for instructional supplies; $150,131 for other school services; $194,065 for operation of the school plant; $66,078 for maintenance; $23,050 for fixed charges; $1,600 for community services; $150 for public adult education; and $40,535 for capital outlays.

In other actions, the board approved a request of Bill Newsom, administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital, and J. C. Jackson, head of the Vocational Industrial training program in the school system, that the school provide a meeting place for the licensed vocational nurses training program now underway at the hospital and school.

J. Ray Martin, county judge, also met with the group on the nurses training program.

At present the Scurry County Health Unit is being used as a classroom facility for the program and it is considered ideal for the program by officials of the program, Newsom said.

However, the program is financed partly by federal money provided by the Smith-Hughes Act of 1917, which states that the public schools are to provide the classroom facility for such a program.

When the program was started it met at first in the junior high school building, but because of conflicts with other activities in that building, it was moved to the Materials Center at the high school a temporary frame building. Officials of the state program, who inspected the facility, believed the materials center location was inadequate, and it was moved to the health unit.

For the program to receive state accreditation, a permanent meeting place has to be provided with assurance of such a place through February of 1960.

The board voted last night to request a lease agreement between the school system and the county on use of the health unit location to extend through February. Martin said that he would check all possibilities to determine if the county could legally enter into a lease agreement with the school for such a purpose.

Members of the school board assured the nurses school officials that provisions would be made for a meeting place. One other possibility discussed was use of the snack bar at the junior high school building, which Jackson said could be remodeled for about $1,200 and made adaptable for the nurses program classroom.

There are 23 student nurses in the school who will be given state examinations in February and will become licensed vocational nurses if they pass.

Mrs. Helen Wadleigh appeared before the board and suggested that she be permitted to decorate walls of Stanfield Elementary School with murals. Board members chose to wait until the school is occupied, and let administrators, teachers, and others connected with the school choose what type of wall decorations would be needed, then make arrangements for them.

T. E. McCollum superintendent, reported that there had been several resignations from the teaching staff in the past few days, and all but one had been filled. Resignations included Edwin Stokes, junior high school counselor; Miss Sara Sue Spikes, West Elementary first grade teacher; Mrs. Arline Nesbitt, North Elementary School librarian; Miss Jo Ann Shows, West Elementary music teacher; Mrs. Shirley Mitchell, Lincoln fifth and sixth grade teacher; Thomas E. Williams, East Elementary physical education teacher; Guy Sullivan, West Elementary physical education teacher; George Murry, junior high teacher; and Mrs. Lynn Bethel, North Elementary music teacher.

McCollum discussed a tentative plan to draw up a job definition chart for the entire school system which would outline each teacher's and department head's duties so that conflicts and misunderstandings could be eliminated. After the discussion, he stated that he would bring a definite proposal to the next board meeting.

Relocation of some students in elementary schools to equalize the student load was also discussed, as were rerouting some school bus routes.

Snyder News Gets Award

FORT WORTH (AP)—Sterling Beckham, veteran Sulphur Springs vocational agriculture instructor, was named the "Vocational Agriculture Teacher of the Year" here this morning.

The "Supervisor of the Year" award went to Area VI supervisor, Ira K. Black of Sulphur Springs. "Teacher Trainer of the Year" award was given to G.H. Morrison, Sam Houston State Teachers College.

Newspaper awards included the Snyder Daily News, The Weatherford Democrat, and the Taylor Daily Press.

R. T. Kerr of Baytown received an award for 30 years service in the profession.

Son Shoots Jayton Man Accidentally

JAYTON, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff Robert Koonce said an 11-year-old boy accidentally killed his father with a shotgun Tuesday night.

Mrs. Hulene Dale, a home economics teacher here, told the sheriff Jerry Don Dale shot Linton A. Dale, about 40. Details of the shooting were not learned immediately.

Small Band Of Castro Foes Reported Still Holding Out

By ROBERT BERRELLE

HAVANA (AP)—A small band of anti - Castro conspirators was reported still holding out in central Cuba today as government raiders continued their roundup over the country of persons suspected of plotting against Fidel Castro.

Maj. Raul Castro, brother of the prime minister and commander-in-chief of the armed forces, told an American Marine who had been accidentally caught in the dragnet that 3,000 suspects had been seized.

Unofficial sources said most probably would be released after police sort them out in a hunt for ring leaders.

The report of the holdout conspirators came from Mario Kuchilan, a Cuban journalist and radio commentator close to Prime Minister Castro. Kuchilan said a small group were at large in Las Villas province in central Cuba. He gave no details.

Earlier there had been unconfirmed reports of government troops skirmishing with anti-Castro forces in this agricultural region, which is deeply concerned with the revolutionary regime's land reform program.

Kuchilan also charged that the Dominican Republic's dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, had contributed $52,000 and a ton of arms toward the conspiracy. Kuchilan urged students and other Cubans to cable the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference in Santiago, Chile, demanding the expulsion of the Dominican Republic from the Organization of American States.

No date yet was set for Castro's television and radio report to the nation on the alleged conspiracy. This led to speculation that there were still some remnants to be cleaned up. But a government spokesman said Castro is about ready to take to the air again.

Presidential Minister Luis Buch denied Washington columnist Drew Pearson's report that Castro had been wounded last weekend.

"Prime Minister Castro is alive and in good health," Buch told newsmen Tuesday night. "He has not suffered any accidents nor has he been wounded."

Two more Americans—a woman journalist and a photographer—were picked up by police Tuesday night.

Jean Secon, a part-time employe of United Press International, and Alexander Rorke, a free lance photographer from New York, were taken into custody after they went to the home of Maj. William N. Morgan, an American serving in Castro's forces, to seek interviews.

Morgan was credited in some reports with helping to uncover the anti-Castro plot by posing as a conspirator. A conflicting report said he really was a conspirator and was being held.

Miss Secon told a reporter who reached her by telephone at Morgan's home that she was "okay and expected to be released momentarily."

She said she did not know Morgan's whereabouts. Rorke also was held at Morgan's home.

Teachers Seeking January Session

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — The powerful teachers' lobby indicated today it wants a fourth special session of the Legislature, devoted to increasing salaries, sometime in the politically vulnerable month of January.

A two-year program costing 65 million dollars is outlined in a letter mailed by the Texas State Teachers Assn. to school administrators and teachers Tuesday.

The program includes 56 million dollars in salary boosts. Local districts would chip in another 16 million dollars, including 14 million for higher salaries.

The letter advises teachers to secure poll taxes and participate activaly in electing legislators "who will continue to support an improved educational program for Texas children."

Leaders of the association reportedly met with Gov. Price Daniel last week and said October would be too early to build up enthusiasm at the grass roots for a special session. They indicated a preference for January.

Office seekers must file by Jan. 31. The first primary will fall early in May which will require campaigning to be conducted shortly after a January session.

The letter said the full recommendations of the Hale - Aikin school study committee would cost 100 million dollars a year but that amount "is not attainable" now.

The TSTA "Interim" program provides a $45 a month increase for all teachers and a minimum of $3,609 for a bachelor-degree teacher for 9½ months work.

In addition, increments will provide another $108 each year thereafter until teachers reach the maximum salary.

Texas teachers now earn an average of $441 a month for each month worked.

The program includes an increase of $50 per teacher for operating purposes at a state cost of $2,800,000 a year and an increase of $190 per bus for transportation at a state cost of $1,200,000 a year.

It recommends that 20 per cent of the increased total cost be paid by local districts. This would total $7,400,000 a year.

"Teachers can have a tremendous political influence as they exercist their full right of citizenship," the letter said.

21 American Republics In Talks Today

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Foreign ministers of the 21 American republics begin talks today on tensions in the Caribbean area. A drive toward enforcement of human rights was slowly taking shape.

The conference was to begin with a welcoming address by Chilean President Jorge Alessandri. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was to reply on behalf of the foreign ministers.

Keen interest in the human rights issue was demonstrated Tuesday night when El Salvador's Alfredo Ortiz Mancia circulated a proposal for creation of an Inter-American Commission of Human Rights. It would be set up by the Council of the Organization of American States.

The proposal also asks the Inter-American Council of Jurists to prepare a study of fulfillment of the principles of human rights and representative democracy in the Caribbean.

Carlos Tovar of Ecuador was readying a separate project calling on the jurists to draw up an Inter-American treaty guaranteeing human rights that would bind the members to observe its provisions.

The declaration now in effect has no binding force.

Uruguay and Venezuela also have specific items on the conference agenda dealing with human rights. So has Cuba, which has called for an Inter-American Court of Human Rights.

The general argument here is that if human rights and representative democracy can be encouraged, tensions resulting from the presence of dictatorships will tend to disappear.

The ministers are expected to consider the various proposals with caution, however, in view of hemisphere tradition of not interfering in each other's affairs.

'Prime Suspect' Is Held In Long Island Murder Series

ISLIP, N.Y. (AP) — A husky, crew-cut construction worker was in jail on a robbery charge today, but authorities apparently have been unable to connect him with three recent murders on Long Island.

He was, however, the "prime suspect at the moment," Suffolk County Dist. Atty. John P. Cohalan said Tuesday.

The man, Francis H. Bloeth, 27, an ex-convict, lives in a two-room attic apartment near here with his wife and baby daughter.

Cohalan said Bloeth was picked up Monday night on a tip from a former burglar who said he had sold Bloeth a .32-caliber revolver in June and a .32-caliber automatic later. Police say the first two murders were committed with a .32-caliber revolver and the third with a .23-caliber automatic.

Bloeth's home and car were searched, but police say no gun was found.

The three slayings, which took place in the first eight days of this month in a 30-mile area on this eastern section of Long Island, netted less than $400. Two men and a woman were killed in three separate robberies.

All three killings followed a pattern. The victims worked alone, at restaurants, and the holdups were around midnight.

Bloeth took a lie detector test in Manhattan Tuesday at his own request, but authorities said the results would not be made public. Bloeth claimed the test cleared him. "I didn't do it, the machine said I was right," he told reporters.

He is accused of a tavern holdup near here last month. Cohalan said Bloeth admitted the holdup, but Bloeth told reporters he didn't do it.

Cohalan said the man in the tavern holdup held a gun to the head of bartender Joseph Principe and pulled the trigger four times. Each time there was a harmless click.

"Do you want to try for five?" asked the gunman, and the bartender quickly handed over his money—only $60.

Bloeth's wife, Jane, 25, a former waitress in a Greenwich Village restaurant in New York City, said she knew about Bloeth's record—he was first in trouble when he was 15—when she married him two years ago.

As for the killings, she said "I feel he's not guilty. He can't be, not of that."

She was questioned Tuesday, and later received reporters in her $65-a-month apartment in a one-family house in a residential neighborhood.

A slender, dark-haired woman, she said "he couldn't have done those things and treated me and the baby with the tenderness he does."

She said her husband, who made $150 a week as a construction oiler, had no debts.

Bloeth was sent to prison for auto theft. His first arrest as a juvenile delinquent was for burglary.

Broker's Son Is Indicted In Slaying

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)— The 20-year-old son of a Wall Street broker has been indicted on a first degree murder charge for killing a boy bicyclist with a small truck while trying to scare him. Conviction could mean death in the electric chair for Jonathan Mclain Young of Bedford Village, N. Y., a son of John Young. The youth was indicted Tuesday under a rarely-used section of the New York Penal Code.

Young told police he was driving his pickup truck July 1 when he saw two boys on bicycles ahead of him. He said he headed his truck at them "just to scare them and not to hurt them, but I misjudged the distance."

The two boys were on a camping trip. They were 13-year-old Richard Sullivan and 15-year-old Michael Dill, both of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Dill suffered a brain concussion and has recovered. Young Sullivan died on the way to a hospital. The accident took place on Route 22 in Bedford Village, a New York City suburb.

Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi of Westchester County said Young did not stop but drove on after the accident. Later he returned to the scene and questioned officers.

Still later in the day he walked into the Bedford Village police station and questioned officers there about the accident. When they questioned him he admitted he was the truck driver.

Gagliardi said the murder charge was based on a part of the state law which allows it as a result of "an act imminently dangerous to others and evincing a depraved mind regardless of human life although without a premeditated design to effect the death of any individual."

Gagliardi said Young had received private psychiatric care before the accident. The youth is now in Grasslands Hospital, Valhalla, N. Y., for observation and determination of his sanity.

Rebel Veteran Is Near Death

HOUSTON (AP)— A physician said today Walter W. Williams, last-surviving veteran of the Civil War, probably can be expected to live "only a matter of days."

The physician said the 116-year-old Confederate veteran continues to grow weaker.

"He took a little nourishment last night but he hasn't really improved," said a daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, who has cared for Williams at her home the past three years.

"He doesn't move and it is hard to tell when he's awake," she said.

Williams has not been advised the House of Representatives in Washington Tuesday asked President Eisenhower to have the nation's flags flown at half-mast upon the old soldier's death.

"He would get a kick out of knowing that but he can't hear a thing now," Mrs. Bowles said.

Per Capita Use Of Wool Declines

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says the per capita use of wool since World War II has declined steadily in the United States.

It reached a low point of 1.9 pounds in 1958, about 30 per cent below the 1934-38 average.

The main causes for the long-term decline were said to be changes in the age and sex composition and geographical location of the population, the trend towards more informal home furnishings and clothing, and, most significantly, to the increasing use of man-made fibers.

CRASH

Both vehicles were demolished.

Gordon Johnson, state highway patrolman, and Perry Rodman, sheriff's deputy, investigated the accident.

Johnson said that there are stop signs on the north-south road, but none on the east-west road.

Drivers of the vehicles were apparently unaware of the approach of each other vehicles until just before the crash. The sedan left short skidmarks just before the impact.

Mrs. Garza is the second victim of traffic accidents in Scurry County this year. Killed earlier this year was Leroy Jones, a Negro shoeshine man, who died when his car overturned seven miles north of here on the Lubbock highway.

Milton Off For Mexico

Dr. Eisenhower, who is president of Johns Hopkins University, has made various similar trips to Latin America as a personal representative of the president.

U. S. officials said that while Dr. Eisenhower is not going to Mexico for any particular negotiations, he will discuss U.S.-Mexican relations with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos and other officials.

In announcing the trip late Wednesday, the White House said it was agreed between the two presidents at their Acapulco meeting last February that continuing talks from time to time on matters of common concern would be mutually beneficial.

About 16 million thunderstorms crack over the earth each year, says the National Geographic Society.

Martin Luther's German translation of the Bible was published in 1534.

Panel Yields To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee yielded to President Eisenhower today by voting him temporary authority for three years to raise government bond interest rates if he considers it necessary.

It was a compromise, pronounced satisfactory by Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, between the President's original demand for outright repeal of the 4½ per cent interest ceiling on long-term bonds and the committee's original two-year grant of authority.

Mother Charged In Infant's Death

EDINBURG (AP) The death of her newborn son has brought murder charges against Silvia Baldreas, 31, Alamo, Tex.

Sheriff's deputy Tom Wingert of Hidalgo County said the baby's body was wrapped in a newspaper and dropped into an outhouse pit near the home where the woman lived with her aged father and older sister.

MRS. THOMAS EUGENE BROOKS

Brentz Ann Crow Says Wedding Vows With Thomas Eugene Brooks, Anson

Miss Brentz Ann Crow became the bride of Mr. Thomas Eugene Brooks in a candlelight ceremony held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening August 8 in the First Methodist Church in Anson. Rev. James N. Easterwood, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wortham Crow of Anson, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks of Albuquerque, N. M. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Gibson, 310 Twenty-fourth, Snyder.

The church altar was banked with emerald palms and branched with cathedral candelabra with 99 slender white burning taper forming a background and were on either side of the arched altar which lighted the setting. The couple stood before the arch. The windows were banked with greenery circling white tapers. Family pews were marked with all white double-wedding ring decorations. Lighted tapers were also over the organ.

Mrs. Edward Lain Wilson, organist, played a group of wedding selections as guests gathered. Mrs. Wayne Pelton, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Because". At the close of the ceremony she sang "The Wedding Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. Wilson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white chantilly lace and tulle over champagne satin styled with a fitted bodice coming into a point at front with points of lace dipping into tulle. The full skirt was appliqued with large rounds of lace centered with iridescents. The rounded neckline was appliqued with scalloped lace accented with iridescents.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace covered crown outlined and decorated with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid with stephanotis in a cascade with white satin shower ribbons atop the Hardin-Simmons Cowgirl's white Bible. Wisps of stephanotis were caught in the loveknots of the ribbon.

In following tradition, the bride carried a miniature mesh purse under the Bible for something borrowed, that belonged to her aunt, Mrs. Joe Brown of Snyder. For something old she was given and wore a blue diamond ring which was a gift from the bridegroom, an heirloom belonging to his grandmother, or something new, the bridegroom put the blue diamond in a new mounting and added two diamonds with it. She also wore a blue garter, a gift from her mother.

Bridal attendants were, Mrs. Danny Tollison, matron of honor, Abilene. Bridesmaids were Sharon Wilson, Anson; Judy Rader of Anaheim, Cal., cousin of the bridegroom; Johnnye Lou White and Mrs. Carl Thompson, Anson.

They were identically attired in dresses of peacock blue silk organza over matching taffeta, styled with scoop necklines and tiny shoulder straps. The fitted bodices and full skirts were accented with bands of matching velevet ribbon. They wore velvet bandeaux with veils of peacock blue. Their bouquets were a double ring of stephanotis and baby Chrysanthemums.

Johnnie Brooks, Albuquerque, N. M., attended his brother as best man. The bride's brother, Wortham Crow Jr., Anson; Dayton King and David Dean, Abilene; and Ray Carson of Stamford were groomsmen and ushers. Randy Lepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lepard, Anson, was ring bearer.

All male attendants and both fathers wore boutonniere's with feather frenched chrysanthemum petals. The groom's boutonniere was made from the same stephanotis as the brides' corsage.

Barbara Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Lawrence Jr., Anson, cousin of the bride was flower girl. She was dressed identically as the bridesmaids. Her corsage was white gardenias and she carried double-wedding rings of styrafoam with baby chrysanthemums tied with white satin ribbon.

Candlelighters were Jan Crowder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Crowder, Snyder, and Alice Faye Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gibson of Las Cruces, N. M. Both are cousins of the bride. They wore salmon color silk organza with a fitted bodice, pleated at the top no shoulder straps and a full skirt with huge bow in the center back of the bodice. Their corsages were of white gardenias.

The organist and soloist also wore white gardenia corsages.

Mrs. Crow chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve lace over a matching satin sheath with empire line and a jacket with a small collar. Her satin opera pumps were dyed to match the shade of her dress, gloves, earrings, and feathered hat. She wore for her corsage white glamelia. Mrs. Brooks wore a white eyelet—embroidered over yellow with matching jacket, with gloves, shoes and feathered hat of white. Her corsage was a white glamelia.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The newly weds received guests with their parents and bridal attendants.

Mrs. Byrd Phillips had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Edward Wilson and Miss Jane Johnson played appropriate music on the organ. Miss Martha Cole poured punch, assisted by Carol Foster, Dallas; Glenda Montgomery, Abilene; Joan Lindsay; Vernon; Mrs. Grady Flynt and Mrs. G. E. Wilson both of Anson.

The wedding cake was an all white tiered cake with tiers raising to a top arrangement of sugar roses, wedding bells and heart-shaped frame holding a minature bride and groom. Other members of the house party were: Miss Ima B. Dougherty, Mrs. Bill Lepard, Mrs. Phillip Cole, Mrs. Bill Creel, Mrs. W. T. Drennan, and Mrs. Louis Johnson. Wedding gifts were displayed in two rooms.

After the wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev.; the couple will be at home after August 20, at 202 Columbia SE in Albuquerque, N. M. For traveling the bride wore a navy silk ensemble with a feather white hat and white accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from the center of her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Anson High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University. She was a member of Cowgirls and served on Behrens and South Hall dormitory councils.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Abilene High School and a 1958 graduate of Hardin-Simmons where he was president of the Student Association, member of Circle K, and selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Out-of-town guests were from Dallas, Albuquerque, Houston, Fort Worth, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Bryan, Lueders, Midland, California, Las Cruces, N. M., Abilene, Hamlin, Stamford, Snyder and Seminole.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegrooms parents on the patio of Thunderbird Lodge, Friday night, August 7, at 8:30 o'clock.

County 4-H Girls Camp Reports Successful Meet

The 4-H County Club girls camp opened at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the Fluvanna school.

Get acquainted games were led by recreation leaders, Gwen Landrum, Betty Pylant, Sue Herring, Eudera House, Karen White and Robyn Beavers.

Lunch was eaten at noon, at which time rules for this year's camp were made.

Camp officers were elected and included, Robyn Beaver, chairman, Larue Reeder, co-chairman, Jacquelin Martin, secretary, Sue Herring, treasurer, Eudera House, reporter and Sherry Finch, cleanup chairman.

Varied sessions were held in the afternoon. The clothing group was led by Jackie Martin, Helen Stirl, Mary Ellen Ainsworth and Sharon Rollins.

The group was instructed on care for the different types of hair. The craft group made purple and pink African violets. Leaders were Donna Shaw, Larue Reeder, Janet Martin and Doris Rhodes.

In leadership the girls were told the responsibility and benefits of leadership work by Karen White, Eudera House, Sue Herring and Betty Pylant. Gail Browning helped some of the girls in a session on public speaking. Eleanor Browning assisted with crafts and recreation.

A session on 4-H for the younger girls was led by Miss Ruby Butts, who also helped the more advanced girls with their records.

Thursday evening a skit was presented by the Ira Club. Participating were Nita Erwin, Joy Sterling, Sue Taylor, Patsy Jones, Karen White, Linda Byers and Eudera House.

Camp was closed with an evaluation of all camps. Miss Butts was presented a pair of pillow cases by the girls of this county in appreciation for her untiring help.

Kennedy's Pointed Criticism

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) is an intelligent and perceptive young man. He must have realized when he criticized Sen. Lyndon Johnson as a presidential candidate that he was, in the public mind, placing himself in the same boat with Sen. William Proxmire (D., Wis.), the Americans for Democratic Action and other leftwing critics of Johnson. Kennedy's slap at his senatorial colleague was a pretty harsh one. He was quoted as saying that Johnson fluctuates and is not a heavyweight thinker.

The interesting question is why Kennedy would make the statement at this time, aside from the obvious fact that the two men are rivals for the Democratic nomination for President next year. Kennedy is bound to know that Johnson is a sensitive man and is not given to turning the other cheek when such strong criticisms are voiced against him. Kennedy and his backers must have decided that now is the time to openly challenge the powerful majority leader in the Senate. The Massachusetts senator also must have a reason for doing so.

Is the reason that Kennedy is trying to put a wedge between Johnson and the liberal wing of the party, while at the same time taking off some of the gilt Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D., Minn.) has been endowed with by the liberals?

This appears to be the most plausible reason. It would mean that Kennedy has decided to base his bid for the presidency on an appeal to the liberal wing of the party. Kennedy knows that this approach didn't work for Averell Harriman, but perhaps thinks times have changed enough that it can be successful in 1960.

Kennedy's action opens channels of interesting speculation and adds another small piece to the jigsaw puzzle that is the Democratic scramble for the nomination. It explains somewhat Kennedy's preoccupation with a labor bill that is favorable to labor.

Here's Suggested Tour For Krush

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every adult American seems to have his own ideas about what we ought to show Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev during his visit next month.

Some would brusquely show him the door. Some would sweep the dirt under the rug and let him see only the parlor—first counting the silver, of course.

But, perhaps surprisingly, a majority of letter writers to the newspapers on this topic favor showing the Soviet leader the great American house from top to bottom—not only the spotless kitchen and living room, but also the debris in the attic and the leaky corner in the basement.

They want him to see us with our best foot forward, true, but they also have a ruggedly honest wish that he see the bad about us as well as the good—the defects we know we have and have not yet corrected.

Behind this attitude lies a wholesome and sturdy desire to prove to Khrushchev—or any one else who comes along—that, above all, Americans aren't hypocrites.

What could you show him that would give him a real feeling about America?

A Sunday drive through any neat suburban town anywhere in America, just as the churches are letting out.

A big annual family reunion picnic at any small farm in the Midwest or South. He could count the cars.

A New England town meeting, to show him that in America Democracy and government spring from the individual.

An integrated public school in New York. The public school is the place where, above all, the melting pot melds all races and creeds into Americans.

Any strike-bound town, such as Homestead, Pa., to show him that labor in America is not a total prisoner of either capital or government.

A visit to Harlem and the Bowery, or the slums and skid-row sections of any big American city—and the dents being made in them by new housing developments.

The Gridiron banquet in the nation's capital, when top U. S. officials sit and watch themselves being satirized in sharp but good-natured ridicule. Is that done anywhere but America?

A big league baseball game or college football contest.

Go through the United Nations on a guided tour with tourists from all over the country—to find how greatly a hope for peace is part of the American dream.

If Khrushchev does these things, he may or may not like us any better — but he'll understand Americans as they really are. And he'll surely feel the trip was worthwhile.

Lost Sailor Gets Accidental Rescue

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Seaman Garguilo Francisco accidentally fell off his ship in the Atlantic Ocean Tuesday. Little over an hour later he was sort of accidentally rescued.

The Navy submarine rescue ship Kittiwake, scurrying to port with an injured diver, happened to spot Francisco bobbing in the water 43 miles off Cape Henry and took him aboard.

Ike Faces Tough Road On Last Lap

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For President Eisenhower, now pushing 69, his last 17 months in office may be his toughest.

He looks well after his illnesses: A heart attack, a stomach operation, and a slight stroke.

But these next four months alone will be a grinding strain, certainly mentally, perhaps emotionally. He will be 69 Oct. 14 and over 70 when he leaves office Jan. 20, 1961.

Here's a sample of what's ahead:

1. Later this month he flies to Europe to consult American Allies on his mid-September meeting here with 65-year-old Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

2. Upon his return he will almost surely undergo intense briefings on world details in order to cope with the well - informed Khrushchev.

3. His conversations with the Soviet leader will be no cinch. Khrushchev is volatile, unpredictable, maybe erratic.

4. Eisenhower won't be free of worry about the Soviet's safety during his entire stay here. And Khrushchev may create other problems along the way.

5. Eisenhower, after talking with Khrushchev, may decide a summit meeting with him and Western leaders is needed quickly or later. That would mean more tension, preparation, and travel.

6. Before or after such a summit conference Eisenhower must visit Khrushchev in Moscow. More talks. That's part of their exchange-visit deal.

7. Meanwhile, Eisenhower must concern himself with the programs and budget he will offer Congress when it returns in January. They must be ready by then. His aides already are at work on them.

8. And in 1960, his last full year in office, he must do what he did this year: fight Congress for what he wants or be sidetracked.

9. Also in 1960 — according to his present thinking — he would like to travel to some other countries as a gesture of American goodwill.

10. And, since 1960 is the big political year of conventions, campaigns, and a presidential election, Eisenhower will get up to his neck in politics. He's bound to take some part in the campaign for a Republican president.

So his remaining time in office —now just a few days over 17 months—will be no frolic. In addition, there will be problems, maybe crises, unthought of now.

No wonder he plans, before leaving office, to recommend to Congress that new arrangements be made—perhaps special assistants —for future presidents to relieve them of some of the burdens of the presidency.

Americans returning from talks with Khrushchev in Moscow—including Vice President Richard M. Nixon—report he's extremely well versed on East - West problems, sharp on details. All the Soviet leaders seem to be. They do their homework.

That's why Nixon did his before journeying to Moscow last month. He crammed for the trip: reading, briefings, talks with experts.

Eisenhower can do no less, particularly since he already has a healthy respect for Khrushchev's ability in conversation. He thinks the Soviet is perhaps the best debater in the world.

Eisenhower used to depend on the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to worry about details while he considered problems in a broad way. But through most of 1959, because of Dulles' illness and death, the President has been pretty much on his own.

The reason: The new secretary, Christian A. Herter, has been out of the country most of the time since taking office last spring. Herter's time has been almost entirely taken up with negotiating with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

Eisenhower will probably have Herter by his side when he talks with Khrushchev. It still remains to be seen—because he hasn't had much chance to demonstrate it yet—whether Herter has the same mastery of detail as Dulles.

Although Herter had the No. 2 State Department spot behind Dulles, the older man so completely dominated foreign policy and policy-making that Herter was left far in the background, shadowy and voiceless.

Strike Takes Toll In Stock Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The month old steel strike is beginning to take its toll in the stock market.

The deadlocked labor dispute is one of the uncertainties that tripped up the bull market. It ranks only second to the popularly credited upsetting factor: The chance of a thaw in the cold war.

Both are feeding the urge to cash in paper profits after the long price rise in stocks, or what market pundits like to call a technical correction — meaning that price levels look shaky.

The steel strike itself has yet to hurt the over-all economy. Its effects are felt in communities where steel mills are closed. Allied industries, coal and railroads, are slowed. The hurt shows up in lower retail sales. In time it may show up in defaults or delayed payments on time purchases.

The strike shows signs of spreading throughout the metal industries, with copper mines closing and aluminum plants facing labor troubles.

If the steel strike lasts past Labor Day—as many in Wall Street now believe it may—the effects on other industries may mushroom fast.

Many firms have built up steel inventories to last for some time, but some companies haven't been able to, and shutdowns will be part of the day's news in September.

What seems to worry the stock market most is that the chance of an early settlement of the steel strike seems dim. Both sides in the dispute have taken firm stands and show little indication of yielding.

Most market analysts are on record as believing that the current business boom won't be halted if the steel strike ends in September. After that, they aren't so sure. And the stock market, always sensitive to uncertainties, has reflected that fear.

Bud Morgan Still Winning Honors

Bud Morgan, track standout from Snyder at North Texas State College last year had the best time in the nation in college-university competition in the low hurdles.

Morgan's time of 22.8 seconds beat all times in that competition for the track season which ended in June, according to records recently published by the Amateur Athletic Union. He was among the top 10 in all levels of competition in the low hurdles with times of 23.0 or under. His 22.8 was the winning time in the Missouri Valley Conference meet.

Morgan, who also formerly ran the high hurdles, has been switched from the highs to dashes at North Texas, and he ran second in the Missouri Valley meet with 9.7 in the 100 last spring. He is also on North Texas' mile relay and sprint relay teams.

Notification has just been received here that Morgan was chosen to the 1958 national all-scholastic track and field team, for high school athletes. Morgan was the only Texas youth named to that team.

While in high school Morgan was twice state low hurdle champion, and his 18.8 winning time in 1958 was just two-tenths of a second off the state record of 18.6 and was the best time in two years.

Also an outstanding high school gridder, Morgan was named the 'Outstanding Tiger" for the 1957 season.

Now 19, he will be a sophomore at North Texas this fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan, 2206 Forty-second Street.

Yankees Playing Best Of Season

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Are the New York Yankees finally making a pennant push or is it merely a salary drive?

Whatever it is, the defending champions are playing their best ball of the season. Tuesday's 8-5 victory over Boston was their sixth straight, best winning streak of the year.

New York moved to within 10 games of the Chicago White Sox who were beaten 6-1 by Detroit while Kansas City was defeating Cleveland's second place Indians 7-3. Baltimore and Washington were not scheduled.

San Francisco's Giants increased their National League lead over Los Angeles to three games, winning a 10-inning game from St. Louis 5-4. The Chicago Cubs nipped the Dodgers 5-4, also in 10 innings. Milwaukee split with Cincinnati, winning the second 7-3 after the Reds took the opener 4-3 Philadelphia downed Pittsburg 6-4.

A six-run inning was the clincher for the Yankees. Two-run doubles by Tony Kubek and Hector Lopez, a couple of Boston errors and a wild pitch featured the wild inning that gave Duk Maas his 11th triump and Jerry Casale his eighth defeat.

Al Kaline's three-run homer in the first was all Jim Bunning needed to notch his 10th victory for Detroit as he held the White Sox to eight hits.

The defeat was charged to Billy Pierce, his 12th against as many victories.

Bud Daley became the first Athletic pitcher to win 13 games in the team's five year history in Kansas City. The left-hander permitted nine hits including homers to Minnie Minoso and Rocky Colavito in the sixth when the Indians scored all their runs. It was Colavito's 34th of the year, placing him one behind league leader Harmon Killebrew of Washington. A five - run spree against Jim Grant in the first made it easy for Daley.

Junior High Grid Drills Scheduled

Drills for junior high school football teams will begin at 8 o'clock next Monday morning and continue on a twice-daily schedule until school opens, Ace Amos, head coach of the junior high schools, said.

Amos said that about 145 seventh and eighth graders are expected to report for training. All boys are asked to bring shorts to practice and exercise in.

Amos said that the drills will be held at 8 o'clock each morning five days each week, and that afternoon drills will be announced later.

On the teams will be about 42 eighth graders from both Travis and Lamar Junior High Schools, who will form a combined eighth grade team. The eighth grade team will be coached by Amos and Charlie Sparks.

There will be about 55 boys on the Lamar seventh grade team, and coaches will be Roy Carter and Bob O'Day, a new coach in the junior high system.

About 48 boys are expected to show up for the Travis seventh grade squad and coaches will be Bill Hartsfield and Ned Underwood.

O'Day coached last year in the San Antonio school system.

Alpine Cools Hobbs Rally

By The Associated Press

Alpine, the South Division leader, became upset when the North Division pacesetter, Hobbs, took a seven-run lead in two innings Tuesday night. Alpine roared back for a 19-9 Sophomore League victory.

Midland tripped Artesia 8-6. Odessa beat Carlsbad 6-2 and Plainview trounced Roswell 11-0.

PHYSICAL EXAMS FOR GRIDDERS SET

Physical examinations for junior and senior football players have been scheduled Friday, head coach John Conley announced this morning.

All juniors and seniors who plan to play football this year have been asked to report to the high school fieldhouse at 8 a.m. that day to take their physicals.

San Antonio Nips Local GPL Entry

LUFKIN — Snyder's Graduate Pony League all-stars battled South San Antonio for eight innings before dropping a 7-4 decision to the South Texans in the Region 7 tournament here Tuesday night.

Centerfielder Hubert Roche battling last in the San Antonio lineup, was the spoiler of Snyder's hopes. He slashed a triple with the bases load in the eighth inning to break the 4-4 deadlock which had endured through the regulation seven innings. Moreover, it was Roche who sparked a 4-run second inning for the San Antonio team to keep them in the ball game. His blow that time was a home run with one aboard.

Snyder pecked away at the South San Antonio aggregation and out hit their foes by 11 to 6. However, the Snyder team left 13 men stranded on the bases.

Jesse Crawford continued his amazing hitting spree, collecting a triple, double and two singles in four trips to the plate. Franklin Moore and Mife Moffett had two hits apiece for Snyder.

Moore blasted out a home run with one mate on base in the fourth inning to tie the score.

In the other tournament game played Tuesday night, Southwest Houston defeated Garland, 4-1.

Snyder and Garland tangle this evening at 6:15 in a battle to survive in tournament play. The loser will be eliminated; while the winner will advance to further action in the double elimination tournament.

Tonight's other game will match Southwest Houston and Lufkin.

State Farm Tightens Hold On 1st Place

State Farm Mutual practically clinched first place in the Men's Summer League as a result of last week's bowling. State Farm now has a very commanding lead of 11 Peterson points with only two weeks left in this season. Everett Studio held onto its second place during last week. Rounding out the first division are Phillips 66 in third place and McAlister Transfer in fourth place.

The individual honors were well divided for last week. The only double winner was Jim Tatum with high game and second high series. Jim bowled a 217 game and a 548 series. The high individual series went to Bob Zetzman who bowled a 559 total. John C. Young had second high game with a 199.

Jimmie Guy continued to lead in the average department, despite a two point drop as a result of last week's play. Jimmie's average is now 194. J. L. Bunch has the second high average with 189. Lowell Guy with 179, Royce Gladson with 178, and Jim Tatum with 177 round out the top five averages.

Following are the complete standings including last week's results:

TEAM	POINTS
State Farm Mutual	768.6
Everett Studio	757.7
Phillips 66	745.2
McAlister Transfer	744.3
Red's Humble Station	704.9
Welex, Inc.	376.4

Alston Banks On Pitchers

CHICAGO (AP) —"If our pitching doesn't cool off we can go all the way."

That is Manager Walt Alston's appraisal of his Los Angeles Dodgers' pennant chances.

The Dodgers, in second place in the sizzling race, launched a 17-game road trip Tuesday by losing 5-4 to the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings.

Home run balls were served by Clem Labine to Al Dark and Tony Taylor in the 10th to provide the Cubs with victory.

"But our pitching is going pretty hot," said Alston. 'We have some 'ifs,' just like the other contenders. Johnny Podres (9-7) has had his ups and downs with a back injury. He didn't look too bad in going the first six innings Tuesday, giving up six hits and striking out four.

"Our other two lefties, Sandy Koufax (5-2) and Danny McDevitt (8-8) have had arm trouble off and on, but right now they are okay. If they stay that way we can win it."

In the Dodgers last nine games, their pitchers have fanned 83 batters, raising the staff's league-leading total to 750.

Alston will go with his kingpin, Don Drysdale (15-6) in today's game with the Cubs.

McCovey Sidelined With Groin Injury

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie McCovey, hard-hitting San Francisco rookie, was sidelined with a groin injury Tuesday night as the Giants took a 10-inning, 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Manager Bill Rigney noticed McCovey limping during Monday's game with St. Louis and decided to take no chances with the first baseman, sparkplug of the Giants' current pennant drive.

1,000 Season Tickets Sold To Grid Tilts

About 1,000 season tickets have been sold for the five home football games of the Snyder Tigers so far.

Season ticket sales, still closed to those who held season seats last year, are running ahead of those at the same time last year. Deadline for reservations in the advance sale is 5 p.m. Friday, however.

The school business office recently sent letters to last year's season ticket holders to give opportunity to buy the same number of seats they held last year in the advance sale. They must have their money in to the school business office by 5 p.m. Friday to recserve their seats.

Last year a total of 1,758 season tickets were sold.

Those who reserve tickets in the advance sale may pick them up next Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce office from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Those who do not buy tickets in the advance sale or who desire more seats then they had last year may buy them when general sale of season tickets opns next Wednesday at the chamber office.

Home games of the Tigers this year are with Andrews Sept. 18, Big Spring Sept. 25, Levelland Oct. 16, Sweetwater Oct. 30 and Lamesa Nov. 6

The season tickets are $7.50 each.

Victoria Has Biggest Lead

By The Associated Press

Victoria, the Texas League leader for these many weeks, held its biggest lead of the season Wednesday, six games.

Victoria whipped Poza Rica, the Mexican League leader, 6-3 in a Pan American Association game Tuesday night. Austin, the second place club in Texas, lost to the Mexico City Red Devils 2-0.

Veracruz crushed Corpus Christi 15-6 Tulsa downed Nuevo Laredo 7-5. San Antonio beat the Mexico City Tigers 9-3 and Monterrey took two from Amarillo, 2-0 and 7-0.

Scott Breeden allowed 12 hits, but the Rosebud infield came through and the Victoria hitters made theirs count.

Al Osorio of the Red Devils hurled a neat five-hitter at Austin and drove in a run with a single. Bobby Hendley of Austin took the loss.

Mike Fernandez hit a two-run triple and Jose Garcia poled a three-run homer as Veracruz staged a nine run fifth inning. Tuco Toledo also homered for Veracruz.

Silverio Perez held Amarillo to two hits in the seven-inning opener at Monterrey. Evelio Hernandez scattered six hits and struck out nine in blanking the Gold Sox in the nightcap.

Tulsa rallied from a 5-0 deficit to beat Nuevo Laredo. Jim O'Rourke of Tulsa blasted a pinch home run with two men on.

Ron Santo of San Antonio hit four singles in five times at bat as the Missions beat the Tigers.

TO THE VICTORS—U. S. Davis Cup teammates Earl Buchholz, Jr., left, of St. Louis Alex Olmedo hold trophies after winning the men's doubles title in Eastern Grass Courts tennis championships at South Orange, N. J. They defeated Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn and India's Ramanathan Krishnan, 6-2, 11-13, 6-4, 8-6. The Peruvian-born Olmedo also won the singles title. (AP Wirephoto)

Cincinnati Flags Braves' Express

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Milwaukee doesn't win the pennant this year, blame it on the Cincinnati Reds.

The Braves whipped the Reds 18 out of 22 in 1957 and won the championship by eight games. Last year, Milwaukee took 17 out of 22 from the Reds and again won by eight games.

It's a little different this year. Including last night's split of a doubleheader, the Braves have been able to win only six of the 14 games played with the Reds. Hence they're in third place today, 3½ games behind the league leading San Francisco Giants.

The Braves had to come from behind to win the second game 7-3 after Cincinnati had won the opener 4-3. The Giants needed 10 innings to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, and widened their lead to three games over second place Los Angeles, beaten 5-4 by the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings.

Philadelphia dropped Pittsburgh into a fourth place tie with the Cubs by defeating the Pirates 6-4.

American League leading Chicago and second place Cleveland both lost, the White Sox bowing to Detroit 8-1 and the Indians losing to Kansas City 7-3. New York thrashed Boston 8-5 for their sixth straight. Baltimore and Washington were idle.

After beating Warren Spahn for the fourth time this season, the Reds almost duplicated the feat against Lew Burdette, another old time Cincinnati tormentor, in the second game. They led 3-1 but Joe Adcock slammed his second homer of the day and Billy Bruton followed with another four - bagger to give Burdette his 16th triumph.

Home runs by Gus Bell and Frank Robinson accounted for Spahn's 11th defeat in the opener.

Willie Kirkland drove in four runs to account for all but one of the Giants' runs as they swept the two-game series from St. Louis. Kirkland smashed a three-run homer, his 19th, in the first inning, and drove in the winning run with a single in the 10th. Lindy McDaniel was the victim.

Johnny Antonelli lost his bid for victory No. 17 when the Cards scored two in the ninth to tie the score. Stu Miller, in relief, picked up his second victory in two nights.

Tenth inning home runs by Alvin Dark and Tony Taylor offset a run scored by Los Angeles in the top of the inning and gave relief pitcher Bill Henry his seventh triumph.

Gene Freese drove in two runs with his 16th home run and a single to hand Bob Friend his 15th defeat. Harry Anderson hit a two-run homer for the winners to help Don Cardwell notch his sixth triumph.

Ingo Not Impressed By Pleas To Return

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — World heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson left no doubt today that he hasn't been softened one bit by cables pleas to hop a plane for New York.

Johansson said he not only has no intention of heading for New York to get an accounting of the receipts of his June 26 title-winning fight with Floyd Patterson, but that he no longer even is committed to a return-bout contract he signed.

Johansson insists he hasn't had an accounting of the money and don't go through with any return until he gets it.

Short Bout Is Forecast

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore and challenger Yvon Durelle of Canada clash tonight at the Forum in a return title bout scheduled for 15 rounds that probably won't go more than 10.

"It won't go as long as the first one," said Durelle, the Canadian and British Empire champion. "He goes down or I go down. And I won't be hard to find. I'm coming right after him. If I get him on the floor first again, I'm going to give it all I've got. This time it's do or die."

The 29-year-old fighting fisherman from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., realizes he blew the opportunity of a lifetime in his losing fight with Moore last Dec. 10. Yvon had the old gladiator down three times in the first round and once in the fifth before he was stowed away in the 11th round himself.

"He won't if I can help it," said Moore, the 42-year-old champion from San Diego. "I got hit by a sucker punch (a right hand lead to the jaw in the first round) and it's not going to happen again. He's tough and strong and I know what I have to face."

The odds favor Moore at 3-1. That's the same price as for their thrilling, eight - knockdown first fight.

On the basis of that contest, Durelle's hopes appear to rest again on catching Archie cold. One punch—like in the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title upset—could determine the issue. Yvon has to land that big right.

The pick here is Archie within 10 rounds.

Moore can do everything Yvon can do and lots more. And he showed in the first bout that he had the better chin and stronger heart. Of course at the ripe old age of 42 plus, Archie can come apart at the seams any moment.

Moore is getting a $175,000 guarantee for his eighth defense of the 175-pound crown he won from Joey Maxim nearly seven years ago. Durelle will receive $15,000 plus $5,000 for extra expenses in this twice-postponed scrap.

The bout will be telecast over the ABC network in the United States, starting at 9 p.m. (EST). It will not be telecast in Canada. There will be a radio broadcast to Canada's maritime provinces. The $100,000 TV fee will pay the fat part of Moore's guarantee.

Promoter Eddie Quinn hoped that a last day sale will lure $15,000 fans and $250,000 through the turnstiles. More realistic figures probably would be 12,000 and $16,000.

North Dakota's basketball team will play two Big Ten teams next winter. They are Iowa and Wisconsin.

The first boxing team at Michigan State was formed in 1886.

Negroes Get Death Penalty In Rape Case

LA GRANGE, Ga. (AP)—Three Negro men have been sentenced to die in the electric chair for the multiple rape of two young white women during a night of terror near this west Georgia city.

An all-male jury, including one Negro, convicted the Negroes Tuesday night after deliberating nearly five hours.

The jury did not recommend mercy and Superior Court Judge Samuel J. Boykin sentenced the three to be electrocuted at Reidsville State Prison Oct. 2.

The verdict was read in a tense courtroom closely guarded by State Patrolmen and Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents. The first three rows were cleared and spectators warned against any outbursts.

The three young defendants, George Alford Jr., 18, of Dayton, Ohio; Clifford Johnson, 22, and Brannon Epps, 24, both of La Grange, accepted the sentence with the same stoical expressions they had maintained throughout the two-day trial.

They had nothing to say when then judge offered them an opportunity to speak before passing sentence. He ordered them held in a safe place until they were taken to the state prison.

There was no immediate indication whether the three court-appointed defense attorneys planned an appeal.

Solicitor General (Prosecutor) Wright Lipford said a second indictment returned in the case would be dropped.

All three Negroes were charged with raping a 20-year-old married woman during the early morning hours of Aug. 1. Epps and Alford also were charged with raping the woman's 18-year-old cousin.

Georgia law prohibits publication of their names.

Lipford asked the death penalty so girls "would have the right to walk the streets of La Grange without being brutally ravished and raped."

He charged that the Negroes raped the women after taking them first from their white escorts and later from three Negroes who tried to help them.

The two women testified they were forced to submit. Both told of hours of terror during which the trio raped them several times.

The older girl, who was married for the third time six months ago, broke down during sharp cross examination and was sobbing when she left the witness stand.

The younger girl, a cousin from West Hollywood, Fla., testified she was thrown down in the back of a pickup truck after her clothing had been taken from her. Ripped undergarments were introduced as evidence.

The three Negroes in the pickup truck finally forced their car off the road, the women said. One of the Negroes brandished a knife and made them get in the pickup.

The defendants each made unsworn statements. Under Georgia law, they could make any statement they desired and not be cross-examined.

Each Negro acknowledged having intercourse with the older girl and two of them said they had intercourse with the younger girl.

Epps said he had known the older girl for years and had had sexual relations with her previously for money. He said he paid her $5 on the night of the alleged rape and that no force was used.

Johnson told much the same story and Alford said "they offered us their bodies for money. We are not guilty of rape."

Both girls returned to the stand and denied that they had known the defendants before the incident.

The prosecutor said Epps' statement that he and the older woman had gone together previously was a "damnable lie." He added that if such had been the case authorities would have run her out of town.

Steel Talks Are Mostly Lawyer's Job

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel strike negotiations are "mostly a lawyers' job" in their current phase, says the nation's top mediator.

That's the appraisal given to newsmen by Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, as the nationwide strike of half a million workers went into its fifth week.

Finnegan is sitting in on contract talks between representatives of the industry and the United Steelworkers Union of America. The talks continued today.

grapple with money issues. The Finnegan said Tuesday that no attempt has yet been made to negotiators are still considering contract language, he said.

Commenting on Union President David J. McDonald's absence from the negotiations Monday and Tuesday, Finnegan said:

"Right now it's mostly a lawyers' job — apparently that's the way Dave feels about it, and that's all right."

McDonald stepped out of the negotiations temporarily after last Friday's session, and is now touring strike centers. He complained that the industry's negotiators were not of high enough ranks.

Finnegan told newsmen he had received no suggestion from the Eisenhower administration that there should be increased efforts to settle the strike before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives in the United States next month.

FBI Arrests Bad Man In Shower

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — FBI agents knocked on the door of a motel early today. A man opened it and the agents caught one of their 10 most wanted men in the shower.

They arrested James Francis Jenkins, 38, an accused bank robber who had chopped his way out of a cell in a Philadelphia jail last April 30 with a screwdriver.

Jenkins had been awaiting trial on bank robbery charges. He was indicted for taking part in the $17,730 holdup of a Broomall, Pa., bank on March 4.

The FBI agents who made the arrest would not reveal how they were led to Jenkins. But tips from several citizens in Buffalo played a major role, Assistant Special Agent Karl Brouse said. He would not elaborate.

The agents used a pretex to gain entrance to the motel room, they said. Again, they would not say what the pretext was.

When they got inside, Jenkins was in the shower. Another man, Henry Kiter Jr. 27, of the Philadelphia area, had been watching television.

Neither Jenkins nor Kiter put up a fight. They were not armed but a sawed-off shotgun was found in their car near the motel, the agents said.

The pair had been at the motel for several days, the agents said. They were using false names.

The FBI said Jenkins and two cell mates worked for 13 days with a screwdriver to dig a hole in their ceiling at the Philadelphia jail. Then they climbed to the roof and lowered themselves out of jail with ropes made from torn bed sheets.

The cellmates were recaptured quickly but Jenkins remained at large until today. He had been on the most wanted list since July 21.

Jenkins was to be arraigned later in the day on a charge of escaping from federal custody. Kiter was charged with helping a federal prisoner escape.

The FBI said Kiter had served time as a juvenile delinquent and had been arrested for carrying firearms.

Solon Gets Score On Labor Rackets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department showed the box score on labor racket prosecutions to Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) Tuesday and told the congressman:

"We have 28 indictments pending against 14 different individual members of the teamsters union. In addition there are indictments pending against two business men who are alleged to have participated in violations with teamster members."

Teague had asked in a telegram what steps the department was taking in relation to teamsters president James R. Hoffa, whom the government has failed to convict in two attempts.

"It has been publicly stated by legal staff members of the committee," said the congressman from Bryan, "that there is sufficient evidence to bring legal action against Mr. Hoffa on the basis of perjury and anti-trust violations."

Asst. Atty Gen. Malcolm R. Wilkey, in charge of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department, replied that he was not aware of such a statement by the committee's staff.

Wilkey said since 1954 the Justice Department has obtained 39 convictions of 31 different individual members of the teamsters union. The convictions, he said, were under the Hobbs Anti-Racketeering Act; the Taft-Hartley Law, the income tax laws, and the perjury statute. Eight businessmen also were convicted in these violations.

"In the labor racketeering field generally," Wilkey told Teague, "in the past 6½ years the department has secured 134 convictions under the Hobbs and Taft-Hartley acts alone."

Wilkey said he "cannot properly comment, of course, upon the likelihood of any named individual facing criminal charges in the future for any offense."

Lost Boy On Little Visit

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The cops and almost everybody else looked for Patrick Bryan, 11, the past two days.

But Pat says he knew where he was all the time:

"See, I was sitting on the back porch—this was Sunday—working on my fishing reel, when my pal Marty came by.

"Anyhow, Marty says to me—'Come on, we'll spend the night at my house.' I figured it would be all right with Mom, as long as I let her know. So I left her a note.

"Marty and me, we had a good couple of days, just laying around and doing nothing. I get home and find the folks practically on the ceiling. Sure, I found the note—in the trash can—but everybody's still pretty mad.

"Gosh, how'd a fella gonna know when everybody else is gonna get excited?"

Brodie's Activities Bring Complaints

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Neighbors complain that it's too noisy around actor Steve Brodie's house.

They told the city attorney's office that:

Brodie works late at night with a power saw, plays an outside radio loudly, horseshoe playing "sounds like an iron factory" and the Brodie children batted baseballs into other yards.

Brodie appeared before Deputy City Atty. Samuel Copeland Palmer III Tuesday and said he had quit the midnight sawing a year ago, had removed the radio speaker and shifted the horseshoe pits. Palmer suggested that the kids play ball without a bat on a vacant lot. He set another hearing in two weeks to see how things go.

Strike Ends In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A one-day strike by 62 unions led by followers of ex-Dictator Juan D. Peron ended at midnight. Thirty-two Democratic unions and 19 pro-Communist groups had refused to join in.

The strike affected textile factories, meat packing houses, food plants and metal industries, but all seemed normal otherwise.

Peronistas called the strike to protest what they called police brutality in quelling a riot by striking sugar workers in Tucuman last week. One striker was killed in that skirmish and 15 police and 3 strikers were injured.

Crowley's Death Ruled Accidental

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Joseph P. Crowley's death was accidental, the result of a combination of liquor and sedatives, a coroner says.

Crowley, a businessman and former Yale football star, was recently acquitted of manslaughter charges by a Tokyo court in the death of his brother-in-law and business associate, T. A. D. Jones Jr. 45. Crowley died Sunday, his 50th birthday, when he was alone at home. His wife and three children were at their summer home in nearby Madison.

County Coroner James J. Corrigan said Tuesday examination showed Crowley had taken about seven sleeping pills, and he estimated from the amount of alcohol in the blood that Crowley might have taken eight or 10 drinks.

Some automatic washing machines today have built-in clocks and bells to tell housewives when the laundry is done.

Loot Is Returned By Thieving Sea

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) —The thieving sea has given back its loot.

Last Wednesday Shirley Azen of Hollywood fled from a large wave sweeping onto Crescent Bay beach.

The wave snatched up her purse containing a diamond and ruby wrist watch valued at $500, two diamond rings worth $600, a pair of glasses and $15 cash.

Man Coaxed From Bridge

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—A young liquor store employe climbed down from a 175-foot high perch over the port of Corpus Christi Tuesday night after threatening to jump for more than an hour.

Police grabbed George Wyatt, 25, as he reached the roadway of one of Texas' highest bridges, still under construction.

Wyatt, first seen about 8:40 p.m. told police he was going to jump because "I'm tired of you bothering me." He was about 175 feet above the water then.

Wyatt agreed to come down if he could talk to H.L. Handley, former policeman and deputy sheriff. Handley was reached at his home and after a short talk persuaded Wyatt to descend.

The bridge, scheduled for opening in November, is 234 feet above the water at its highest point.

Junior Editors Quiz on ATHLETICS

QUESTION: Who invented dumbbells?

• • •

ANSWER: Dumbbells are weights usually made up of two metal balls joined together by a metal bar. They are lifted and swung in the air as a form of exercise by people who wish to strengthen the muscles in their arms.

Dumbbells have been used for so long that no one recalls their origin. English people at the time of Queen Elizabeth I used weights that looked like present-day dumbbells. The ancient Greeks had weights called "halteres" which strongly resembled them.

The origin of the word "dumbbell" as a description of a person is equally obscure. The weights may have been called that because they look like the clappers of bells although, of course, they make no sound—hence, "dumb-bells."

• • •

Woman Lost Second Time

TWIN LAKES, Colo. (AP)—Dr. Mary McGehee, 65, was lost today on a rugged hike across Colorado's Continental Divide—almost exactly two years after she was lost on a similar jaunt.

That time, while climbing 14,000-foot Mt. Shavano in south-central Colorado, the greyhaired woman scholar found her way to a ranch house two days after a search was started.

She and a college student, Georgia Steiner, 18, Lake Forest, Ill., set out on a hiking trip last weekend to a friend's cabin some 50 miles away. Miss Steiner reported they became lost Saturday.

A search party of 10 today left Aspen, where Dr. McGehee lives, for the Taylor reservoir area about halfway between Aspen and the pair's destination of Vicksburg, Colo.

The missing woman, who once joined an archaeological expedition to Greece, taught history and archaeology at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Since moving to Colorado five years ago, she has climbed nearly a dozen of the state's highest peaks.

Nixon Is Convinced Rockefeller To Run

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is convinced that, come what may, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller intends to battle him for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

The New York governor has indicated he will make a decision by November. If private polls then show Nixon trailing leading Democrats in popularity and Rockefeller feels his reputed appeal to independent voters would make him a stronger GOP nominee, he will take the plunge.

Nixon's reaction to all this, it can be said on the best authority, is that anyone can get any kind of result he desires from private polls. He thinks Rockefeller wants to run and will find that the polls support such a course.

But Nixon never really believed he could get the nomination without a fight, and since Rockefeller's election as governor he has regarded a battle between them as almost inevitable.

For this reason, Rockefeller's recent demonstration of near-eagerness for the contest has come as no surprise to the Nixon camp. Nor does it alter plans for the vice president to attend almost exclusively to his governmental duties until November.

If Rockefeller comes out in the open then—or makes an earlier announcement after huddles with strategists impatient to get him into national circulation—the Nixon plans could change accordingly.

At this point the vice president has no thought that President Eisenhower might designate him to accompany Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the latter's scheduled tour of the country.

While such a tour assignment might enhance Nixon's political stature in the international field, it is not expected to materialize.

Instead, Nixon will stay in the background when Khrushchev comes to Washington, limiting his contacts to official affairs to which he would have been invited even if he had not conferred at length and jousted with the Soviet leader.

For all of his six and half hour discussion with Khrushchev at the latter's villa near Moscow, Nixon does not expect to be included among the U.S. advisers if Eisenhower takes the Soviet premier to the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md.

Nixon, who does not share Rockefeller's obvious reliance on the polls, appears to be convinced he will do all right in the public opinion canvasses for some time to come as a result of his Soviet trip.

Consequently he is planning no obvious campaigning efforts in the next two months or more. He now is scheduling a September visit to New England for a couple of what his staff calls "civic type" of speeches.

Included may be an appearance in New Hampshire, where he and Rockefeller could meet head-on in next year's primary. Beyond that Nixon has firm commitments only for speeches at the American Legion convention in Minneapolis, Minn., and at the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting in Los Angeles.

Museum To Open Again

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Next month, for the first time in nearly 30 years, Egyptians will be able to see the mummies of some of their land's ancient rulers.

Beginning Sept. 1, Cairo Museum will open to the public the chamber containing mummies of Egyptian pharoahs. The room was closed to the public in the early 1930s on the ground that it was undignified to display bodies of past rulers in a museum.

In the intervening period, only important scholars and dignitaries have set eyes on the mummies, some of them 50 centuries old.

Corinne Calvet Seeking Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Corinne Calvet, suing actor Jeffrey Stone for divorce, charges that he treated her so cruelly she became nervous and sick.

The French actress did not specify acts of cruelty in her suit filed Tuesday.

Miss Calvet asked for custody of a son, Robin, 3.

Miss Calvet, 32, and Stone, 34, were married in 1955. She divorced actor John Bromfield in 1954. Stone formerly was married to actress Barbara Lawrence.

No Date For Adjournment

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress apparently will continue its session into September. The current question is, how far into September?

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Tuesday Congress will stay on the job until it passes effective legislation on labor, housing, civil rights, highways and pollution control.

Johnson wouldn't set a target date for adjournment but indicated it might take until mid-September to get all this done.

His opposite number, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, had a different idea. He said he hopes that "late on Saturday, Sept. 5, the members of Congress will decide they have been in Washington long enough and they will go home."

Only three days ago Johnson's right hand man, Assistant Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, had still another guess—about Sept. 1.

In recent peacetime years Congress never has stayed in session into September.

But it is important to Johnson, who has presidential aspirations for next year, for this Democratic-controlled Congress to present to the voters a constructive record of effective legislation.

And probably more than any other man in the two houses of Congress, Johnson has the power and backing of his majority to say "you have done enough; now we can adjourn."

Both House and Senate must agree jointly on adjournment.

Another consideration is the Sept. 15 visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to this country.

If Congress were still in session, it would be expected to invite the Soviet premier to address it. For obvious political reasons, this prospect is not very palatable to congressmen of either party. So they want to get out of town before Khrushchev arrives and avoid embarrassment.

Johnson denied that Khrushchev's visit was a factor in his thinking about adjournment. But he had a lot to say about what Congress still has to produce.

"We are going to have an effective anti-labor racketeering bill passed and we are going to stay here until we pass one," he said.

Johnson added: "We are also going to pass effective housing, civil rights, highway and anti-pollution measures. I don't think I know enough about how much time this will take to set any target date for adjournment."

State Crops Are Better

WASHINGTON (AP)—Crops in Texas greater than last year's were predicted by the U.S. Agriculture Department Tuesday in grain sorghums, wheat and rice.

The department predicted smaller crops than last year for barley and oats and a Texas corn crop about the same as last year's.

A grain sorghum crop of 276,912,000 bushels was forecast, compared with last year's 273,066,000 bushels, and a 10-year average of 6,256,000.

Rice production was estimated at 13,344,000 hundredweight, compared with the 1958 crop of 11,93[illegible]0.

Barley crop for the state was estimated at 53,440,000 bushels, more than three million bushels over last month's forecast.

The department gave no reason for the increase in the wheat figure, although harvest virtually was complete a month ago.

The corn crop was estimated at 42,928,000 bushels.

Oat production in the state was set at 24,156,000 bushels, about half of the 1958 production.

CAB Declines To Reconsider Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time, the Civil Aeronautics Board declined Tuesday to reconsider its grant to Continental Airlines to operate nonstop service between Dallas and Amarillo and between Dallas and Lubbock.

The board first denied the petition of Braniff Airways for reconsideration last March.

Braniff, in its supplemental petition, declared revised schedules filed by Continental in March indicated the airline would be unable to provide the proposed services without downgrading service over existing routes.

Editor Takes Skating Tour

GLADEWATER, Tex. (AP) — Jim Cortese, 41, Sunday editor of the Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal, is trying to skate across Texas from Shreveport, La., to Hobbs, N.M.

But Tuesday, he said: "I'm not trying to prove anything. When it stops being fun, I'll quit."

On other vacations, Cortese spent some time in a nudist colony, stayed awhile in a Trappist monastery, swam the Mississippi River, walked to the top of the Empire State Building, and even quit smoking.

But with just 75 miles of his proposed 1,000-mile-plus skate behind him Tuesday night,

All Oppose Small Bottle

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Like whisky and wine, you don't often find a school board, a church group and tavern owners mixed together.

But the New Jersey Council of Churches, the Teaneck School Board and the State United Tavern Owners Assn. all said Tuesday they are opposed to reducing the minimum size of liquor bottles.

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board is hearing a proposal to reduce the minimum from 12.8 ounces to 8 ounces for distilled spirits.

The tavern owners claimed smaller bottles would mean more home drinking and less bar business. The school board and the church council said smaller bottles would encourage drinking and would be easier for teen-agers to obtain.

3 Fishermen Are Drowned

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Three fishermen drowned Tuesday in the Delaware River when their 14-foot motorboat hit a submerged jetty near Bayview Beach.

A fourth member of the party managed to cling to the side of the overturned craft for four hours before he was rescued by two other fishermen.

The accident occurred an hour after the group set off from Augustine Beach, 20 miles south of here. Bayview is another five miles down river from Wilmington.

The dead, all Wilmington Negroes, were Clarence Cooper, 54, a grocer; Gus Davis, 50, and Robert Henderson, 45, both barbers. The survivor is Rev. Addison D. Wilder, 49, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist Church.

Burglar Is Nabbed

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Horace Rideout suspected that his home was being broken into at night. Three times in three weeks, he said, there were things missing when he and his wife woke up.

On Monday night, the 32-year-old mason's helper shut off his lights early and sat, silently, in his bedroom. At midnight, the burglar appeared.

Rideout saw a thin arm reach for the unlocked bedroom window and push it open. A small boy crawled in.

Amazed, Rideout scuffled with the child and caught him. The boy managed to cut the man slightly with a letter opener.

At the police station Tuesday, the boy told a story of breaking into 11 homes and businesses in the past year. Police said the boy, a Negro, whose name they withheld, is eight years old.

He took $35 and some jewelry in three visits to the Rideout home, police said. He got the letter opener at a school building. He specialized in homes, but once broke into an amusement center, they said.

The police asked the boy why he did it.

The child explained that he, like most other eight-year-olds, had an appetite for candy and toys. So, when his parents tucked him into bed at night in his tenement home, he wouldn't go to sleep.

He would wait until his parents retired, then sneak out of doors and into the night to visit the unguarded houses in the neighborhood.

He took small items, and small amounts of money, police said. He used just about all of the money to buy candy and toys.

The Great Salt Lake of Utah is about six times saltier than the ocean.

Two Chevy middleweights prove their rawhide stamina!

Top hands on high-country hauls!

Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6403 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever!

Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is, lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.
