18 Dead, 20 Missing In Bomber Crashes

SUB FIRES LOON — A Loon guided missile starts its flight from the surfaced USS Carbonero during maneuvers off Hawaii recently. The missile zoomed over a long line of 33 Navy ships without being hit by anti-aircraft fire in test operation. The missile was launched 20 miles behind the ships strung over a 21-mile course. It sped 400 to 500 miles an hour over its controlled course and plunged into the sea 80 miles from where it was set off. Three Survive B-29 Collision

By NEIL SHAW
INS Staff Correspondent

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 17—Eighteen Air Force crewmen were presumed dead today in the twisted and fire-charred wreckage of two B-29 bombers that collided in the murky night sky nearly five miles above a California valley.

Only three of 21 officers and men aboard the two giant superforts were known to have escaped death by parachute after the bombers plummeted from the sky over the fog-shrouded San Joaquin river just before midnight last night.

One Spins To Earth

One of the bombers spun to earth in a terrifying meteor-like blaze and the second crashed with a roar of grinding metal on opposite sides of the bleak river delta about nine miles northwest of Stockton.

Both aircraft were attached to the 92nd Bombardment group at Spokane, Wash., and were part of a group of 13 planes on a "round robin" night training flight over the San Francisco bay region.

Bodies of only six victims had been recovered shortly after noon today. Three of these, burned beyond recognition and with fire-tattered parachute fragments clinging to them, were extricated from the plane that fell in flames on McDonald island. The other three were taken from the second B-29 which is mired in six feet of mud and peat on a Rindge tract, across from McDonald island.

Search Is Launched

On the slim chance that some survivors may be wandering or lying injured in the desolate river delta region, the Navy dispatched a search craft up river from the naval supply depot annex at Stockton.

An Air Force helicopter from Hamilton field also is sweeping low over the sprawling marshland in the hopes of finding survivors.

The ill-starred B-29s took off from Spokane at 4:55 p. m. yesterday on a long-range training mission. They collided in the sky at 11:45 p. m. just as the superforts were coming out of a test bomb run at 26,000 feet.

Search Spurred For Lost Fliers

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 17. (AP)—Two red flares spotted in the ocean 240 miles northeast of Bermuda and faint radio signals spurred the search tonight for survivors of a B-29 which crash landed off this island with 20 aboard.

A search plane spotted the flares. This was the first break in a vast hunt by air and sea for the U. S. Air Force superfortress. It ditched in the Atlantic yesterday with its fuel gone and its radio equipment impaired.

Faint Radio Signals Heard

Shortly after the flares were spotted, another search plane heard faint radio signals which they believed might be coming from the signal equipment known to be available to the men from the ill-fated B-29.

This plane, piloted by Capt. J. G. Martin, returned to Kindley field. Calculations showed that the radio signals were coming from the exact area where the flares had been reported.

Meanwhile, Capt. K. T. McFarland, jr., pilot of the plane which had spotted the flares, hovered over the area. A flying fortress was dispatched to the scene equipped with flares, emergency supplies and a dinghy, but had to return to Kindley field when its gas supply ran low. However, another flying fortress with similar equipment and a PBY—a flying boat—

Stroble Confesses Strangling, Beating Little Girl To Death

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17. Drunk on wine, Fred Stroble, 66-year-old baker, strangled and bludgeoned six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft to death, he admitted today to District Attorney William Simpson.

Simpson said the confession was verbal, but was being transcribed for signature later. Stroble has been formally charged with murder.

A sordid story of molestation, followed by the killing when the little girl resisted, poured from Stroble less than two hours after he was picked up in a downtown bar, just as he finished a glass of beer.

Confession Is Released

Simpson released these excerpts from Stroble's story:

"I had been drinking all day—wine. I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been drunk.

"The girl and I were in the bedroom and I was playing with her . . . (Simpson said this involved an act of molestation, but not rape) . . . when she started to scream. She was resisting me.

"I strangled her first with my hands, then with a tie. She was quiet. I wrapped her up in the blanket and carried her out to the incinerator. There I saw the axe . . . and an ice pick.

"I stabbed her with the ice pick, and then I slammed her with the flat side of the axe six times on the head. I didn't want her to suffer.

Got Butcher Knife

"Then I went back to the kitchen and got a (butcher) knife. In Mexico, I heard the way you make certain of a kill is to stab them in the neck. I stabbed her with the knife in the neck."

"The little girl did not suffer too much. She was dead within eight or 10 minutes."

He said he went to the nearby beach city of Ocean Park immediately after the killing, registered at a rooming house under an assumed name.

"Then I began thinking about all I had done. I decided to commit suicide. It seemed the only way out. I looked at a pier down there. I thought that would be the place to jump off. But I couldn't go through with it."

Simpson said he was not asked why he returned to Los Angeles today.

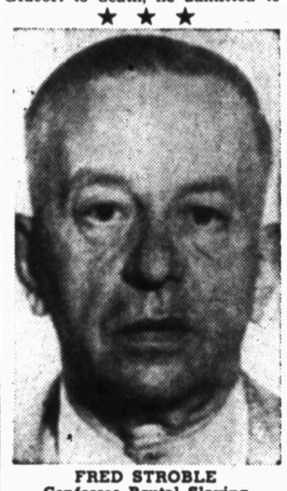

Attempted Intimacies Admitted

Simpson said Stroble admitted that he had attempted intimacies with Linda Joyce at least once before.

Simpson said Stroble related that before the killing he dragged the little girl from the bed and at that time her underwear came off. The panties later were found in the incinerator.

Reporters asked the district at-

Idaho Girl Is Found Slain

(By The Associated Press)

BURLEY, Idaho, Nov. 17.—Glenda Joyce Brisbois, blonde, seven-year-old first grader, was found murdered in an irrigation canal today.

Hope for an early capture of her kidnapper faded abruptly, however, when officers ran down a car which had been thought to be driven by the slayer, but immediately released the driver.

Sheriff Jess Carlton of Twin Falls county, who was assisting Cassia county officers and state police in the manhunt, did not identify the driver. But he said the motorist, whose movements had been followed by circling radio-equipped planes, was not the killer.

"That leaves us with a cold trail," he said.

Burley Police Chief Bill Williams, who reported finding a man's footprint on the steep canal bank where Glenda's battered body was found, said "it will be like looking for a needle in a haystack now."

(The International News Service reported police and sheriff's officers were seeking an unidentified man wanted for questioning in the slaying of a seven-year-old Burley, Ida., girl.

(Cassia county Sheriff Saul Clark said the man reportedly boarded a bus in Burley some time after Glenda Joyce Brisbois was killed and her body thrown into a canal southwest of Burley.

(The unidentified bus traveler is known to have left the bus at Malta, Ida., and to have proceeded on foot toward nearby Albion.

Guam Reports Heavy Damage By Typhoon

HONOLULU, Nov. 17. (AP)—The worst typhoon of the year heavily damaged the big Pacific base of Guam tonight.

(The Army in Tokyo announced there had been no fatalities on Guam. It said the "all clear" signal was given at 7:07 a.m. Friday, Guam time, or 4 p.m. today, eastern standard time.)

The commercial Pacific Cable company received the news in the first dispatch from its Guam office since the storm roared in with winds of nearly 145 miles an hour.

The Guam office said "the whole island was severely damaged" and it would be "some time before normal operations are restored." It was the first word since cable traffic was halted last night.

"Terrific typhoon hit Guam," the message said. "Staff all safe . . . office roof gone and south wall blown in. Power off. No water." The connection apparently was made with battery power.

Martin Moon, Associated Press correspondent on Guam, said in a brief message that it was impossible to estimate the full damage.

He said, however, that the typhoon was worse than the one in 1946 which did wide damage at that American base.

Open Verdict Returned In Garza Death

(Special To The Avalanche)

SOUTHLAND, Nov. 17—A non-committal verdict in the mysterious death of Mrs. Marvin Truelock, 41, was issued today by Justice of the Peace J. D. King of Post as officers continued the investigation and the husband of the dead woman said he suspected foul play.

King ruled that the woman, who was found dead here Wednesday afternoon on the concrete floor of her bedroom with a gag in her mouth, a burning stove over her face and her hands held behind her back with a rope, died "from suffocation from the gag in her mouth."

"It is the only verdict I can give right now," King said, "and it could be changed if any new evidence is presented."

Services Set Today

He explained that he made the temporary verdict in order that the woman's body might be released to the family for burial.

Funeral services for the former school teacher at Higgins and one-time acting postmistress in Southland will be held at 3 p. m. Friday in the First Baptist church of Southland.

Rev. P. D. Fullingim, pastor of the church, will conduct services. Burial will be in the Southland cemetery, with the Mason Funeral home of Post in charge of arrangements.

Sheriff E. M. Bass of Post, in charge of the Garza county case, said the temporary verdict would not slow down the investigation.

Bass, with his deputy V. A. Lobban and Texas Ranger Razz Renfrow, spent most of today in Southland questioning residents.

No New Information

"No new information was uncovered," Bass said. "We talked with a number of people living in Southland and established their locations at the approximate time of the death."

Sheriff Bass said there was no evidence of robbery, since money was found in three places in the bedroom—in two purses and in a cigar box, all in open view.

Bass said that while the husband of the dead woman, a 40-year- old garage and machine shop owner, was questioned twice today, he had not mentioned that he suspected foul play.

However, Truelock told an Ava-

Reds Warned Against 'Balkan Adventure'

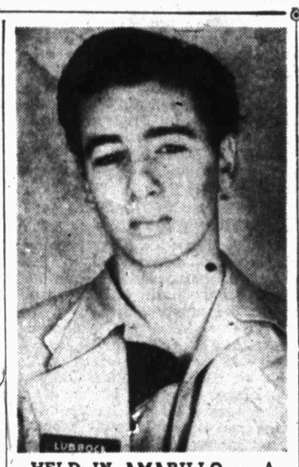

LONDON, Nov. 17. (INS)—British government and opposition spokesmen warned Russia tonight against any "Balkan adventure" which might precipitate general hostilities.

The preoccupation with Balkan problems such as Greece and Yugoslavia dominated the conclusion of the first day of a foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, preceded by a clash over policy between British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Winston Churchill.

Conservative leader Harold MacMillan said any Russian adventure in the Balkans might signal a general war. He added his protest at the decision to remove British troops from the key point of Salonika in Greece.

Truman May Block Strike

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—President Truman declared today that he will use the Taft-Hartley injunction weapon against a new coal crisis but refused to say when the action would be taken.

The President declined to tell his news conference whether the government will seek the injunction before or after the Dec. 1 deadline fixed by John L. Lewis for another strike by his 375,000 soft coal diggers.

Fact-Finding Ruled Out

Mr. Truman emphasized, however, that he does plan to use the 80-day anti-strike injunction of the law when the proper time arrives and that there will be no fact-finding board appointed in the coal dispute as there was in steel.

Veteran labor observers expressed the belief that the President's announcement — inadvertently or otherwise—strengthens Lewis' effort to pressure the mine owners into a new contract more advantageous to the coal diggers.

The operators recently have held new negotiations suggested by Lewis would be futile unless he modified his demands, and settled back in anticipation of immediate government intervention.

May Permit Strike

Today's presidential statement, however, indicated that Mr. Truman might allow the mines to be shut down again before acting. It appeared that the President's strategy is to force the parties back into negotiation and apply pressure for a voluntary agreement.

The President firmly stated that it is his job to enforce the laws

Donald Mann Shot; Suspect Is Charged

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMARILLO, Nov. 17.—Billy Max Mann, 23-year-old Amarillo resident, was arrested here on a charge of murder about 8 p. m. today less than three hours after his brother, Donald, 32, was shot to death in his home in the southwestern part of the city.

The suspect, taken into custody without resistance in the Greyhound bus station here, was the object of a widespread police search which included road blocks placed on all highways leading from the city immediately after the shooting at 5:30 p. m.

Had Records in Lubbock

Both Mann brothers involved in the shooting have police records in Lubbock and Amarillo, newsmen learned Thursday. Both, records showed, have been handled in Lubbock for vagrancy, Billy Max Mann as late as Sept. 20 of this year.

Police were told Donald Mann was in the living room of a home in the southwestern residential section of Amarillo. Donald was making a telephone call when a man appeared in a doorway leading to a hall, and began firing, police said.

Donald ran from the room after the shots, leaving a trail of blood through the dining room and kitchen. The trail continued around the house and across the front yard to the curb in front of a neighbor's home, where he collapsed. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Northwest Texas hospital.

The slain man returned to Amarillo a week ago from Louisiana.

Police said Donald Mann, Billy Max Mann and Arliss McKinney, Donald's former wife, were alone in the house at the time of the shooting.

Rifle Was Death Gun

The death gun, a .22 caliber pump-action Remington rifle, was found in a closet of the house. Mann had been shot four times, police said.

Police Capt. C. E. Sadler said the suspect left the house on a motorcycle which later was found parked across the street from the bus station when he was arrested there two-and-a-half hours later.

It was believed for a time the suspect had abandoned the motor-

Agreement Urged On Austrian Pact

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Nov. 17. (INS)—Britain's Hector McNeil appealed to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky tonight for an early four-power agreement on the Austrian peace treaty.

The British diplomat cornered Vishinsky for an intensive 20-minute discussion of the issue in the Flushing Meadow Assembly auditorium immediately after the plenary adjourned until tomorrow.

Both Appear Optimistic

The two East-West leaders sat in animated conversation in the bloc of British seats and apparently aired the remaining differences still blocking full agreement on the Austrian treaty. Both appeared exceptionally optimistic on leaving.

HST Declares Jailing Of Envoy 'Outrage'

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Truman today branded as an outrage the jailing by Communist China of U. S. Consul General Angus Ward and indicated the American government has no intention of recognizing the Red regime.

Mr. Truman's denunciation followed a top-level morning conference on the critical Chinese situation between the chief executive and his Far Eastern advisers.

Strategy Meeting Set

Following the parley it was announced that U. S. diplomats in the tense area will map strategy in a January meeting in Thailand.

Questioned about the Ward incident, which has brought the Chinese crisis to a head, the President told his news conference that he was in full agreement with the statement by Secretary of State Acheson.

Acheson had declared the U. S. should not consider recognizing the Chinese Red regime in view of the Ward imprisonment.

Mr. Truman said that Winston Churchill was perfectly entitled to his expressed opinion that the U. S. should join Britain in recognizing Chinese Communists, but would not comment further on the British leader's statement.

Deliberations Complicated

Reports that Britain will recognize China to protect its tremendous investments in the Far Eastern country has complicated the U. S. government's deliberations in the matter.

Shortly after the 80-minute White House parley ended, the State department announced that the U. S. embassy and consulate in Chungking will be evacuated in the face of advancing Chinese Communist armies.

Spokesman Michael J. McDermott indicated the evacuations were decided on because "the Chinese Communists thus far in areas under their control have demonstrated in many cases an inability or unwillingness to permit adequate freedom of movement."

McDermott laid full blame on the Red regime of Mao Tse-Tung for the jailing in Mukden of Ward and four of his staff and intimated Russian influence was involved.

The imprisonment of Ward has

President May Seek Tax Boost

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Truman indicated today that he will ask Congress in January for a $5.5 billion tax increase.

Mr. Truman made it clear at his news conference that he is steadfast in his position that taxes should be high enough to put the government on a pay-as-you go basis and to reduce the deficit when possible.

Budget Director Frank Pace recently estimated that the government will face a $5.5 billion deficit in the current fiscal year.

Thus, to meet the President's recommendations, a tax boost in that amount would be necessary.

Mr. Truman declined to say specifically that he would ask Congress to raise taxes when it reconvenes in January.

Instead, he said he would answer the question in his state of the union and budget messages.

The chief executive was asked: "Do you know of any other way to meet the deficit?"

He replied that he had discussed the matter thoroughly many times and that his position is well known.

The President then blasted a

Barkley Arrives In St. Louis For Wedding To Pretty Widow

By PAT MILLIGAN
INS Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—Vice-President Barkley arrived in St. Louis today for his wedding to Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, who met him at Lambert field as he stepped off an airliner from Washington.

The vice president attended a wedding rehearsal at 5:30 p. m. (CST) in the church where he and comely Mrs. Hadley are to be married.

The ceremony will be held at 11 a. m. (CST) tomorrow.

A large crowd gathered at the airport to watch the "Veep" step off the plane—the 16th passenger to alight.

He walked over to Mrs. Hadley, greeted her and she replied:

"We're all among friends."

The attractive 38-year-old mother of two teen-aged daughter drove up to Lambert field in her new convertible, Barkley's wedding present, to watch his plane come in. She arrived 36 minutes ahead of the transport.

The "Veep" and Mrs. Hadley both smiled and looked selfconscious as they greeted each other with "hellos" when Barkley step-

Police Seek Suspects In Finance Company Safe Cracking Job Here

A SEARCH for clues to the identity of burglars who early Thursday escaped with $3,004.79 in cash after breaking open a safe owned by the Pacific Finance corporation at 1907 Texas Ave., was making little headway last night, officials here said.

The safe, battered open, was found in a field about six miles south of the city Thursday morning. Missing besides the cash, company officials said, was $1,978 in checks.

The figures were supplied by Charles Sylvester, manager, about the time city and county officers, acting upon information, announced they had found the battered safe on the Palmer farm, a half-mile off the Lubbock-Tahoka highway six miles south of Lubbock.

City Detective L. W. Forrester and Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank found one penny in the wreckage of the four-by-three-foot safe.

The officers and Capt. of Detectives Pat Davidson were investigating.

They said entry to the building was made by forcing a side, south,

Second Hiss Perjury Trial Gets Underway With Selection Of Jury

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A jury of eight women and four men was selected today to re-try former State department official Alger Hiss on charges of perjury.

Two alternate jurors, a man and a woman, were also selected after which Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard adjourned court until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow when Prosecutor Thomas F. Murphy will open the government's case.

Hiss is accused of perjury on two counts. One charges the former State department official lied to a grand jury when he denied giving documents to former editor Whittaker Chambers. The other charges he lied when he denied having seen Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937.

His first trial ended last July when the jury was unable to reach a verdict and deadlocked eight-to-four for conviction.

The predominantly female jury has for its foreman a woman, Mrs. Ada Condell, a housewife. The other women also were listed as housewives.

Hiss was smiling and apparently cheerful as he appeared in court with his wife, Priscilla. Judge Goddard, the new trial judge, proceeded briskly with the trial and the jury was sworn in after six government peremptory challenges and nine from the defense.

Judge Goddard presided over the sensational Earl Carroll perjury case in 1926 which involved a champagne tub bath backstage by a Broadway show girl.

Georgetown University Will Play In El Paso's Sun Bowl

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—Georgetown University today accepted an invitation for its football team to play in the Sun Bowl game in El Paso, on Jan. 2.

Record Deer Kill Reported

(By The Associated Press)

Deer were filling up the storage facilities in the hill country Friday.

A record kill for the first day of the hunting season Wednesday was reported in Fredericksburg. More than 800 bucks were in storage at four Fredericksburg locker plants and another 100 were in ice vaults at Harper.

An estimated 3,000 hunters were out in Gillespie county.

Around Kerrville the morning temperatures were down in the low 30's. Hundreds of hunters bagged their limit of deer and turkey the opening day.

Austin claimed the youngest successful deer hunter. James Dudley Morse, 4, shot a four-point buck on the A. F. Moss Ranch near Llano. The boy hit the deer in the neck with a .22 rifle. He is the son of R. Emmett Morse, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

At Kerrville R. S. Hamlin, jr., of Dallas, brought in a 15-point buck killed near Hunt. It weighed 115 pounds dressed. At Fredericksburg 15-year-old Kenneth Maner of Fredericksburg brought in an eight pointer weighing 126 pounds dressed.

Wheeler Robertson of Kilgore got his limit of gobblers when he brought down two with a single shot near Kerrville.

Youngster Poses Question For Mother

Jewish Leaders Ask Nation To Ponder Beating Of Youth

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 17. (AP)—Two Jewish leaders said today "all self-respecting Americans need very much to ponder" the beating of 11-year-old Laurence Goldstein, assaulted by older boys a week ago because he is a Jew.

His attackers, a group of older boys, called him "Jew", spat on him, punched him and kicked him into the gutter.

The incident prompted young Laurence, son of a soldier killed in Europe, to ask his mother, "Why did my daddy die?"

In a joint statement, Robert E. Segal, executive secretary of the Jewish Community council of metropolitan Boston, and Sol Kolack, executive director of the New England Anti-Defamation league of B'nai B'rith, said:

"The lynch spirit is not confined to any one area of our nation. And that spirit does not have to assert itself in a shameful beating of a dead veteran's son for us to know that it is all too prevalent.

"Some Americans injure other Americans not with the bully's fist, but with the bigot's poisonous words and nasty actions . . . actions such as the denial of a job or admission to a hotel or to a college solely on the basis of race or creed or origin."

Commander George H. Craig of the American Legion gave this answer yesterday in Indianapolis to the boy's question:

"You have been the victim of an isolated instance of hatred," Craig said.

"Your experience provides the answer why your daddy died . . . he could not stand by and condone mass mistreatment of human beings. There were evil men who tried to enslave all the free people in the world. Your father went to war to prevent wholesale destruction of human rights and freedom.

"All true Americans, whether Catholics, Protestants, or Jews fought to reestablish international law. Such outrages should not go unpunished. Because such brave men as your father died, America today remains free and our minorities protected."

We want you to compare BLUE BONNET Margarine with the expensive spreads for bread for flavor, nutrition, economy. For once you do, we believe you'll use only BLUE BONNET from that moment on.

COMPARE THE FLAVOR. It's rich, country-sweet—as delicious as any spread at any price!

COMPARE THE NUTRITION. No other spread for bread is richer in Food-Energy the year 'round! BLUE BONNET is chock-full of Vitamin A. Rich in Vitamin E and other food essentials!

COMPARE THE ECONOMY. BLUE BONNET costs only half as much as the most expensive spread. That's good news for your budget!

So put BLUE BONNET on your table, on your vegetables, and on your bread. Get it already yellow, ready-to-serve, in the new Flavor-Saver wrap of Pure Aluminum . . . or in the handy Yellow Quik bag . . . or white, with coloring wafer.

AEC OFFICIAL URGES DISPERSAL OF KEY FACILITIES

Truman Indicates No Immediate Need For Moving Government Out Of Washington To Avoid A-Bombs

By RICHARD M. PALMER
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—President Truman indicated today that there is no imminent need for moving the government out of Washington to protect it against atomic bombing.

Mr. Truman's statement followed a warning issued the nation's top defense planners by David Lilienthal that Russian know-how "brings closer the time" for decisions on dispersal of key defense facilities "such as those of the government in Washington."

The chief executive told his news conference that he will not ask Congress for any money to finance dispersal of federal agencies in his budget requests next January.

The President said there is nothing new in the dispersal proposals and pointed out that decentralization of industry and government are matters of civilian defense being considered by the national security resources board. He indicated his satisfaction with the NSRB's progress with the problem.

Lilienthal, Atomic Energy commission chairman, submitted an AEC report on probable atomic damage in Washington to the NSRB. He agreed with the panel that one A-bomb dropped over a metropolitan area could smash it beyond use.

The commission report pointed out that one atomic bomb of known effectiveness dropped on Washington could "severely damage" the White House, the Treasury, State, Interior and Navy departments, the Atomic Energy commission building and a number of other vital government offices.

Defense Secretary Johnson who concurred in the report with other members of the board said "suitable plans" for moving important government agencies from Washington if an attack threatened already are "in course of preparation."

The AEC chairman said the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki proved that if important industrial plants and government headquarters are to withstand an atomic blast they must be located at least two miles apart. He continued.

"The blast and wind (of an atomic explosion) would crush or render unusable the ordinary load-bearing brick dwelling for a distance of 7,000 or 8,000 feet."

Missing Girl Is Reported Located

ATLANTA, Nov. 17. (AP)—A girl identifying herself as Dorothy Jennings, the missing 16-year-old daughter of a Cincinnati business executive, was picked up here today.

The blonde girl was placed in the city jail. She gave her home as Fort Mitchell, Ky., which is across the river from the Ohio city.

Miss Jennings disappeared from an exclusive boarding school in Cincinnati last Monday.

Policeman A. L. Donald said the girl listed her name as Dorothy Jennings and gave her age as 16.

New Chapter Of Texas Tech Exes Organized At Hereford

HEREFORD, Nov. 17 (Special) The newest chapter of the Texas Technological college Ex-Students' Association was formed here tonight.

D. M. McElroy, Lubbock, executive-secretary for the association, was on hand for the organizational meeting. This is the last chapter planned by the group within the near future, McElroy said.

Marshall Formby, manager of station KPAN here, Jerry Stoltz, former vice-president of the San Angelo chapter, and Sylvester Slagle, local farmer, have spearheaded the movement for a local chapter.

Classic Children's Books Difficult For Younger Set To Understand, Writer Says

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — This is national Children's Book week—and maybe a good time to see what's wrong with some of them.

Take one of the oldest—"The Gingerbread Boy."

The G. B. has been re-written so many times that it now has two endings. One has the little gingerbread boy breaking away from the bad old fox and "coming back to the waiting arms of the dear, little old lady," who put him in the hot oven in the first place. The other has the fox offering the gingerbread boy a lift across a river and finally licking him up for dessert.

Some of the language of the modern kid books could stand a little editing. What city editor, for instance, would pass a sentence like the following from one of the "Gingerbread Boy" books.

Titles Were Quaint

"One day as the little old lady was baking gingerbread, she said out loud, just to herself, you know, for the little old man was out in the garden, I think I will make a gingerbread boy."

Zowie! Kind of hard for a three-year-old to soak up that construction.

Not long ago the Library of Congress got a collection of rare children's book. It's on a tour of the country now. It contains no modern titles such as "Peter Rabbit," "Bambi," or "Mary Goes Shopping Alone.".

In the old days the titles were quaint. They included such things as: "Marmaduke Multiply's Merry Method of Making Minor Mathematicians; "Multiplication table illustrated, 1816;" "The Happy Courtship, Merry Marriage;" "The Doleful Death of the Bridegroom, 1914;" "The Child's Grammar, Designed to Enable Ladies Who May Not Have Attended To The Subject Themselves To Instruct Their Children, 1875," and "The Life And Death Of An Apple Pie, 1825."

Nothing about "Cinderella," or "Little Red Riding Hood" in those days. The "Once upon a time" pieces came much later.

Actually, the children's book of another day have something to do with kid stuff we see now—a link at least. A booklet called "Children's Books of Yesterday" puts it this way: "The beginning of children's liteuature came with the earliest retelling of the Gesta Romanoru.. of the medieval romances of chivalry, or 'Reynard the Fox,' or 'Aesop's Fables,' and the like."

Mother Goose, the lovely myth who gave us all so many happy hours before slumbertime, can trace her ancestry to the early French. To the stories of Madame De Denlis, which later were fetched to England as "Mother Goose."

We thank madame. Otherwise we'd never have had "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater," "The Old Lady Who Lived In A Shoe," "Little Bo Peep," and many another lullaby piece.

No use telling you what's on the market today. You can look at the news and book stands and see for yourself.

The first publisher and printer of children's books was John Newbery, whose first effort was "The Little Pretty Pocket Book," which came out in the mid 1700's. According to an early historian:

what happened to the price of coffee and why!

DURING the past several years, the world's production of coffee has declined, while consumption has been on the rise. Thus the demand has become slightly greater than supply on a world-wide basis.

In recent months a severe drouth in one major coffee growing country, coupled with hurricanes and floods in other countries, has damaged the crop to be harvested next year. The extent of that damage is not certain, but it appears that early estimates were somewhat exaggerated.

protecting your supply

Many consumers, reading and hearing of this crop damage, have laid away an extra supply in their kitchens. This "run" on coffee in stores has produced a few localized and temporary "shortages."

If you have been limited by your grocer in the number of pounds of coffee you can buy, more than likely that is his voluntary attempt to protect his stock of coffee—and yours—until his next shipment arrives.

Remember, not a pound of coffee is grown in the United States . . . it is an imported commodity. Coffee companies here must depend upon growers in foreign countries for their entire supply.

where coffee prices start

Recently these growers, for the reasons mentioned above, together with other contributing factors, have been in a position to demand—and get—more money for their green coffee than ever before. Thus the prices of green coffees have risen by leaps and bounds. So rapid in fact, has been the climb, that we have been selling coffee to grocers and grocers have been selling to you, at prices below what was called for by the actual prices we were paying for green coffee in the producing countries the same day.

Coffee companies in the United States operate on a volume basis. The profit on each pound of coffee is small indeed. Without a tremendous volume there would be no profit at all. Likewise, the grocers of today sell coffee on a near-cost basis.

The increased price you are paying for coffee originates in the coffee growing countries—not with the roaster or your grocer.

No one can foretell how far this combination of unusual forces may push coffee prices upward, nor how long the situation may continue.

But we at Folger's believe that there is ample coffee on hand and in sight to supply the normal consumer demand for this special Mountain Grown coffee.

and we make this promise

When you buy Folger's Coffee it will be the same wonderful coffee with the individuality of flavor that has always set it apart from all other blends.

Considering how much pleasure a cup of Folger's Coffee gives you—surely you must agree that penny for penny Folger's still provides the most pleasure you can put on your table.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

DR. GEORGE W. COX state health officer, declares there's hardly anyone who hasn't caught cold at one time or another. The common cold is common indeed! Besides making one feel miserable, colds steal your time and your money. They fool you, too, because the early signs are often the same as those of more serious illnesses.

Do your best to keep from taking cold, Dr. Cox urges. And if you do catch one, take proper care of yourself so you can get rid of it.

WHEN you have a cold:

1. Get as much rest as possible. Stay in bed or indoors for the first day or so if you can.

2. Keep comfortably warm and dry. If you must go to work, wear clothes that will protect you adequately when you go outdoors and avoid drafts and sudden chilling when overheated.

3. Drink plenty of citrus fruit juices, water and other liquids. Eat simple foods which agree with you.

4. Protect other people as much as possible. Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze. Use paper handkerchiefs or paper napkins that can be burned. Wash your hands frequently with soap and water.

5. If a cold starts with chills, fever or aching, or seems more severe or lasts longer than usual, consult a physician without delay.

We noticed packages of menthol-treated paper hankies in a pharmacy the other day. They serve to give you a whiff as you hold them under your poor running nose.

NEED BETTER BOOKS

IF YOU remember your youth you'll recall you had inner problems, which your school curriculum and your parents couldn't help you solve. You turned to books and often were helped.

We've been thinking about that during National Book week. After 13, young people want to know what life is and what they are. They want to read about families in situations where everyone lives normal lives, eating and sleeping at home—the rule in the vast majority of cases.

Someone who is well read can be of tremendous help in guiding young people to good, meaty books. But there is no use to tell children and young people that they should read with appreciation unless you do yourself.

HANDY BAKING SODA

BAKING soda is a handy item to have around in emergencies. Though it is particularly useful in the kitchen, here are some additional ways to use it:

As a mouthwash, mix about one teaspoon of soda to a glass of water.

It can be dusted over feet before donning shoes and stockings.

As a first-aid treatment for sunburn, and superficial scalds and burns it can be made into a paste with water. (Consider medical care, first.)

It is a remedy for insect bites, hives and rashes when applied in paste form.

A solution of soda and lukewarm water (about three tablespoons of soda to one quart of water) will loosen dirt on brushes, and help deodorize it.

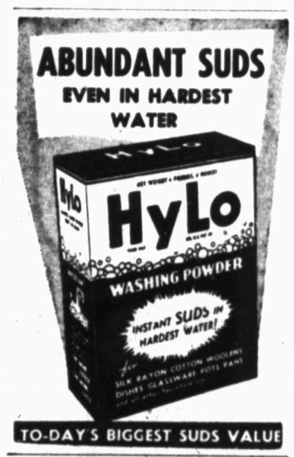

It can be used as a water softener, using a ratio according to the condition of the water.

Annual Bazaar Will Be At Hall Today

Town Talk

CAROUSEL DANCING CLUB will have a dinner-dance tonight beginning at 8 o'clock at the Hilton hotel. Ted Crager's orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Table decorations will depict a Thanksgiving theme. Centering each table will be a pumpkin, surrounded by autumn leaves, green and red peppers, bright yellow squash and fruits in typical fall colors. Orange candles will complement each centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kenneth are chairman of the host list, which is also composed of Messrs. and Mesdames Sam Weaver, E. S. Waldrep, John Vickers, Robert Duncan and Nelson Terry.

Honoring Mrs. Ralph McClure of Fort Worth, her sister, Mrs. Robert J. Walker of 2616 Twenty-second entertained with a dessert bridge Wednesday afternoon in her home.

Attending were Mesdames Otis Larner, Jim Witt, Jelly Brown, Larry Doyle, Stanley Stromberg, Richard Mayer, Eck Wheeler, W. C. Reynolds, Donovan Stafford, Orville Stewart and Sam Weaver, jr.

Mr. and Mrs. McClure and their two children, Ralph, jr., 8, and Terry, 1, have been Lubbock visitors since last Sunday. They are also visiting Mrs. C. W. McFarland, mother of Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Walker.

The family will return to their Fort Worth home Sunday.

Mrs. N. E. Thompson and two children, Kay and Jay, will return to their home in San Antonio Saturday after spending three weeks here as guests of the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thompson, 2312 Sixteenth.

Mrs. Thompson is the former Miss Eron Gafford.

Mesdames J. D. Jenkins, Aubrey Edwards and Jack Henry will be hostesses at a luncheon for members of AAUW Child Study unit 1 at the Lubbock Country club today at 12:30 o'clock.

Dr. Agnes True, associate professor of education and psychology at Texas Tech, will speak on "Understandings and Attitudes of Importance to Growing Children."

Decorations will consist of a three-tiered crystal centerpiece with brightly colored flowers and fruits suspended from the sides. Surrounding it will be two cornucopias filled with assorted flowers, leaves and fruits.

Regular family night activities will be observed at the Country club Saturday night.

Only members of the club may attend.

A dessert-bridge was given as a surprise courtesy to Mrs. A. C. White and Mrs. E. M. Cook at Lubbock Country club Thursday. Mrs. Melvin Best was hostess.

Others on the list were Mesdames Barney Stagner, Jack Baker, Harry Frank Woody, Preston Baumgardner, Leroy Land, Dustyn Norris, R. B. Smith, jr., Edwin Young, Horace Gearhart, D. L. Pemperton, J. W. Kinard, Matt Sullivan and Howard Stroud.

Floral decorations were of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Atmar L. Atkinson entertained with a bridge-luncheon in her home at 3201 Twenty-ninth Thursday for the following guests:

Mesdames Earl Miller, Gordon Thompson, Mina Watkins, Garvis Hill, Charles Brodie, Truman Green, Ira Dunlap, Dub Rushing, John Wilson, Jim Morris, Lewis Kerr, Frank Baker, William Howe, Kenneth D. Moore, Cary Maxey and James Atcheson. Mrs. Baker made high score and Mrs. Watkins second high.

The Atkinson home was decorated in the seasonal motif.

Use Cranberries For New Fall Desserts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

With cranberries on the list of plentiful foods for November, let's seek new recipes:

Cranberry Parfait

One quart vanilla ice cream, 1 can whole cranberry sauce.

Alternate scoops of vanilla ice cream and spoonfuls of whole cranberry sauce just as it comes from the can. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Serve with Swedish jelly cookies.

Swedish Jelly Cookies
(Makes 16 to 18 Cookies)

One-half cup butter or other table fat, ¼ cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 egg white, unbeaten, ¾ cup finely chopped nut meats, canned jellied cranberry sauce cubes.

Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Beat until light and fluffy. Add egg yolk, mix thoroughly and blend in flour. Form into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Dip in egg white, then in nuts.

Place on greased cookie sheet and press flat with bottom of glass. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 5 minutes. Remove from oven and press center down and bake 15 minutes longer. Cool and fill center with cubes cut from slices of canned jellied cranberry sauce.

Cranberry Cubes In Pear Halves

One three - ounce package of cream cheese, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup whole cranberry sauce, 2/3 cup evaporated milk, whipped, 6 ripe pears.

Whip up the cream cheese with the mayonnaise and lemon juice. Fold in the cranberry sauce and whipped evaporated milk. Pour into freezing tray and place dividers. To serve, wash, halve and core ripe pears. Place on salad greens and top with 2 cranberry cubes.

Music Club Program For Tonight Is On "How We Listen"

Lubbock Music club will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock at Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, for a program based on the topic, "How We Listen."

Mrs. H. I. Robinson will present program notes.

The following numbers will be given: Recit.: "Although Both Heart and Eyes O'erflow and aria, "Lord, To Thee My Heart" (Bach), Mrs. Stuart Shafter; "Overture to Tannhauser" (Wagner), Mrs. J. B. Joiner and Mrs. Leonard Cole; "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (Saint-Saens), Mrs. A. C. Bowden; aria of Micaela from "Carmen" (Bizet), Mrs. C. N. Hallmark; "Pequena Danza Espanola" (Iturbi), Mrs. Lannes Hope; "Nostalgia" (Rose), Mrs. Bailey Ireland.

Alchoholics Anonymous now has an organization in Belfast, Northern Ireland.

OES Chapter Plans Tuesday Luncheon

Lubbock Chapter No. 76 of the Order of the Eastern Star will have a Thanksgiving luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday in the dining room of the Masonic hall.

A covered dish dinner is being planned for the night of Dec. 6 honoring the grand officers. Honor guests will be Mrs. Ben V. Smith, who was appointed grand Adah at the last grand session, and Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher, who is the grand representative to West Virginia.

NOVEMBER SPECIAL—Cranberry parfait and Swedish jelly cookies use plentiful cranberries.

The Thursday afternoon meeting of Dupre P-TA was opened with four Thanksgiving songs presented by pupils of Mrs. Leon Tabor. Afterwards, a panel discussion on "Teamwork Between Parents and Children" was given by four Senior High school students, Norma Smith, June Franklin, T. W. Moss and J. C. Chambers, under the direction of H. J. McCabe, dean of boys at the high school. A general discussion of the question was conducted after the students had spoken.

Mrs. T. L. Sampson presided. Members voted not to have a parents and children Christmas party which had been discussed previously, but room parties for children of the school were decided on.

A social hour followed the meeting, and 100 persons attended.

Miss Mary Lou Hawkins, supervisor of the 19th child welfare unit in Texas, spoke for Cottage School P-TA Thursday afternoon. Her subject was "Teamwork between Agencies of the Community That Make for Good Citizenship."

Thirty-eight members and six guests were present.

Amiga Club Holds Luncheon Thursday

Twenty-one members and one guest, Mrs. R. L. Thurman, of Amiga club had a Thanksgiving luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. T. O'Neal at 1924 Twenty-ninth Thursday.

The club's Christmas party will be given Dec. 15 at 2 p.m. at Mrs. A. C. Sanders', 1512 Ninth.

Inspection Is Tonight

Mrs. Raymond Gage of Needmore, vice president of the department association of Texas, Ladies auxiliary to Patriarch Militant, and Col. Neil Rockey of Muleshoe will conduct an inspection of local Auxiliary No. 24 and the Canton tonight at 8 o'clock at IOOF hall.

The groups attended a party in the First National Bank cafeteria Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holeman as hosts. Mrs. W. A. Holeman is head of the local auxiliary and her husband is captain of the Canton.

Films of Hawaii were shown and music of the island was enjoyed. Games of canasta and forty-two were the diversion with Miss Margaret Mallard scoring high in forty-two and Mrs. Charles Hayes high in canasta.

The refreshments were served buffet style. Centering the board was a colorful arrangement of fruit, candies and tapets in holiday motif.

Dinner Plans Made By Friendship Club

Plans were discussed for a Thanksgiving dinner with families as guests when 1948 Friendship club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. R. J. Fisher on the Idalou highway. She and Mrs. George Phenix will represent the club in taking a Thanksgiving basket to the Old Folks home. The dinner will be Monday night at 7 o'clock in Mackenzie State Park Party house.

The next regular club meeting is to be in the home of Mrs. Carl Foster, Dec. 7 at 2 p. m.

The group is continuing a study of Proverbs. Others present were Mesdames J. W. and Vernon Lemon, Bedford Shearer, B. F. Forbes, Leo Stogsdill and J. L. Edwards.

Natives are feverishly sowing cereals since rains came to Kenya, after a drought.

Coffee Held For Class

In the home of Mrs. O. L. Gibson at 2817 Twenty-fourth Thursday morning, a coffee was given for the First Baptist Winsome class. Forty-two persons called.

"I Thank Thee, Father," was title of the devotion given by Mrs. Earl Hobbs, in which she stressed the importance of Christian heritage. Mrs. R. E. L. Pattillo and Mrs. Gradie Bownds offered prayers.

Refreshments and decorations were in the harvest theme. A large centerpiece of fall fruits and vegetables was arranged on the serving table at which Mrs. Aubrey Faulkner presided. Mrs. M. M. Ewing and Mrs. R. A. Burford, fellowship chairmen, were in charge, and were assisted by Group 2 of which Mrs. John Cocanougher is leader.

She is a member of Phi Mu sorority; Panhandle Regional club; Kappa Beta Pi, honorary organization for women in Law School who have a graduate average; Co-Ed Assembly, an advisory governing organization composed of presidents of women's organizations; Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary scholastic organization for freshman women; Sidney Lanier Literary society; and Kirby Hall House council.

W. D. Girand To Quit Lubbock Court Post

W. D. Girand, of Lubbock, federal referee in bankruptcy court for the last 21 years, announced Thursday that he has sent in his request for resignation and will "rest and relax" as soon as it is recognized.

Girand, who has been in government service for the last 37 years, was appointed to the position of bankruptcy referee in 1928 when the federal court was established in Lubbock. Prior to the appointment he was a deputy clerk of the United States Court at Abilene and a United States Commissioner.

His area of jurisdiction covers 49 counties in the Amarillo and Lubbock divisions. "Its those trips back and forth to Amarillo that wore me out," Girand stated.

The position is appointed by the United States district judges. No successor has been named.

Girand plans to join his son, W. D., jr., in law practice in Hobbs, N. M., in the firm of Neal and Girand. He has a daughter, Alma, who is head of the research department for Litt Bros. in Philadelphia.

School Of Missions To Meet Here Today

The Southside Baptist church, Forty-fourth and Ave. D, will sponsor a School of Missions tonight, Saturday, and Sunday.

Theme of the school will be "Missions in Japan." Teachers will be six foreign students, several of whom are Japanese, from Wayland college at Plainview.

Individual classes will be held for the following groups: Children up to nine years of age; juniors from ages nine through 12; intermediates from ages 13 to 16; young people, and adults.

Three sessions are to be held. The first is scheduled for 7:30 to 9 p. m. today. The second will be held during the same hours Saturday night, and the final session is planned for 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

A young Baptist preacher, native of Latvia, will fill the pulpit at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning worship service, according to an announcement by Rev. Fred McPherson, pastor of Southside Baptist church.

The public is cordially invited to attend all these services, Rev. McPherson said.

Hunters In Three States Asked To Watch For Plane Wreckage

HOUSTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—An appeal to all hunters, especially those after deer, in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, to watch for airplane wreckage was made today by Mrs. G. H. Harrington.

Mrs. Harrington's husband, G. H. Harrington, consulting geologist, together with his pilot, O. A. Sweitzer, jr., disappeared on a flight from Tulsa to Houston on the night of October 21.

No trace of any nature has so far been found of either the plane or its occupants notwithstanding an intensive air and ground search along their probable route to Houston.

Mrs. Harrington has posted a reward for any information leading to the finding of either the plane or its occupants.

BOMB DAMAGES BUILDING

ROME, Friday, Nov. 18.. (AP)—A district headquarters of Premier Aloide De Gasperi's Christian Democrat party, near St. Peter's, was damaged by a bomb early today. No casualties were reported. Police surrounded the area, but it was not known immediately whether any arrests were made.

Stronger American Backing Sought

Shah Pledges Iran To Resist Threats

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—The Shah of Iran said tonight his country, which has stood firm under postwar pressure from Russia, is determined to maintain its 3,000 - year - old independence "against all threats from whatsoever source arising, at whatever cost."

The youthful ruler told Secretary of State Acheson that "in the United States we have a great and powerful friend."

Support Offers Reassurance

Iran, he said in a prepared talk, has been further reassured by the American support being given to Greece and Turkey, and by the wartime 1943 Tehran declaration in which the United States, Britain and Russia pledged support for Iranian independence and integrity.

The Shay spoke at a dinner given by Acheson in his honor on the second evening of his month-long good will visit to the United States.

Earlier he had said that Iran wants peace with Russia, its big northern neighbor.

It also is asking increased help from the United States to strengthen its American-advised armed forces.

Stronger Backing Sought

Starting out a month's good will tour, the 30-year-old ruler told newsmen that he "certainly" will take up the matter of stronger American backing with President Truman and defense officials. He has a conference arranged for tomorrow with General Omar N. Bradley and the joint chiefs of staff.

His tour, which will extend to the Pacific coast, began with a visit today to Annapolis where the Shah reviewed Naval Academy midshipmen. He wore the blue uniform of an admiral, as commander in chief of Iran's naval as well as land and air forces.

The Shah was complimented meanwhile by Mr. Truman "as a very earnest and sincere young man who is working hard to improve the lot of his people." The President made the comment as his royal visitor moved to the government's Prospect House for distinguished guests following an overnight stay at the Blair House.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years; Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Aluminum Workers Reject Proposal To End Walkout

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17. (AP)—The CIO United steelworkers today rejected a strike settlement proposal offered by the Aluminum Company of America for about 16,000 employes in nine states.

Vice-President James G. Thimmes of the union said in a statement:

"The company's proposal is substantially inferior to any agreement made by the union in the basic steel industry."

An Alcoa spokesman said the union's demands for wage adjustments have been turned down. His statement added:

"The union is considering the pension-insurance offer of the company and its representatives said the union would notify the company of the next negotiation conference date."

California Political Leader Won't Run Against Roosevelt

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 17 (INS) — California political leader E. George Luckey said today that he will not be a candidate for the governorship.

Luckey made the announcement in a telephone conversation with Frank X. Blackwell, head of the delegation which was not recognized at the Young Democratic clubs of America convention here.

It had been rumored that Luckey would oppose James Roosevelt now a candidate for governor of California.

Tech Students Give Raiders Sendoff For New Mexico Game

Over 400 Texas Tech students assembled at Jones stadium at 5 p. m. Thursday for the final college pep rally of the year, sending Coach Dell Morgan's Red Raiders off for their Saturday game with New Mexico university at Albuquerque.

The Raider squad, on hand for the rally, ran through several plays while Morgan explained the duties of each man. Group yells and songs were led by the five Tech cheerleaders.

Music by the Texas Tech band was another feature of the final rally, which was attended by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of the college.

The Thursday yell session was the last for the season even though the Raiders have a game here with Hardin-Simmons university Nov. 26. That game will occur during Thanksgiving holidays, cheerleaders pointed out.

Estimated One-Sixth Of U. S. Cotton Destroyed By Insects

MEMPHIS, Nov. 17 (AP) — Insects destroyed an estimated one-sixth of the 1949 cotton crop, the National council reported today.

Preliminary estimates, it said indicate the damage is the highest in 22 years, and involves destruction of 2,811,000 bales.

These figures were released by Ransom Aldrich, chairman of the National Cotton council's committee on production and marketing.

Aldrich said surveys disclose that the losses, in prevailing market prices, would total about $470,110,000.

Mississippi led the list in terms of value with $106,510,000 in seed and lint being destroyed by the boll weevil and other pests.

Other states and their losses include:

Arkansas, $91,660,000; Texas, $39,635,000; Louisiana, $20,407,000.

Aldrich said the scope of the matter emphasizes the importance of the third annual cotton insect control conference in Birmingham, Dec. 19-20.

Canvass Of Hobbs Vote On City Government Is Ordered

HOBBS, N. M., Nov. 17 (INS) — A canvass of the Nov. 8 vote in which Hobbs citizens approved a commission-manager type of city government was ordered today by District Judge George T. Harris.

OPPOSING FORCES LINING UP

Struggle Between West, Soviets For Control Of Vets Indicated

By RALPH L. RANFT
INS Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 17. — A struggle began shaping up today between Russia and the West for control of war veteran's organizations throughout the world.

As a result of a conference held recently in Warsaw the Russians are expected to open a powerful drive soon to capture veterans' associations in Western Europe—particularly France and Italy, where strong Communist parties exist and some progress already has been scored in penetrating veterans units.

Opposing Forces Planned

Anti-Communist veterans told International News Service that to meet the Soviet drive they are planning an international federation to weld former western veterans, and will invite participation of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Veterans committee.

Officials of the French Union of Veterans associations discussed the latter project last week in Paris with Gilbert Harrison of Los Angeles, national chairman of the AVC.

Harrison himself told International News Service that the European non-Communist veterans "are eager to cooperate with their American wartime conrades in a continuing effort to resist Communism and advance both peace and freedom."

Harrison and the French veteran leaders agreed that the world organization would include Democratically - minded veterans in Western Europe, Latin America, the British Commonwealth nations and the United States. Fascists would be barred as well as Communists.

However, it was decided that no international Congress could be called until next summer due to immense preliminary work needed.

French veterans leaders said the Communists already are working within the French veterans union with "front" or dummy organizations.

The International Federation of Veterans, comprising former resistance fighters of "paramilitary" groups in all lands occupied by the Nazis, is completely dominated by Communists. It is headed by Henri Manhes, a member of the French Communist party.

Fathers Have One-Night Stand As Officers Of P-TA Chapter

Fathers of school children replaced regular officers of the Roscoe Wilson chapter of the Parent-Teachers association in a meeting held at Hutchinson Junior High school last night.

Guest speaker was Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Tech, introduced by Frank Junell. His topic, "Teamwork Between Parents," stressed the importance of schools and homes as the factories in which the community's most important product, the child, is produced.

Special officers for the meeting were:

Dr. J. William Davis, president; Glenn Woody, secretary; and Raymond Painter, treasurer. Music was supplied by a quartet of Tech students, the "Chord-Board Four."

DRIVER IS CHARGED

CARRIZOZO, N. M., Nov. 17 (INS) — Henry M. Craig, 23, of Amarillo, Texas, was charged today with involuntary manslaughter. Craig was driver of a cattle truck which was involved in an accident in which three persons were killed west of Roswell Saturday.

Coplon's Arrest Is Ruled Legal

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—Judith Coplon's arrest was ruled legal today and Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan held that papers taken from her purse by the FBI may be used as evidence against her.

But the judge indicated that he may quash one of four counts in the indictment charging Miss Coplon and Valentine Gubitchev with conspiring to spy for Russia.

Through her lawyer, Archibald Palmer, Miss Coplon contended that the government is seeking to try her twice for the same offense. She already has been convicted on one spy charge.

Palmer asked an adjournment of four or five days so that he can seek court of appeals reversal of the ruling that the government can keep the papers taken from her at the time of her arrest.

The lawyer contended in four days of argument before Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan that these papers should be returned. The government had no right to take them, he said, because Miss Coplon's arrest was made without a warrant and thus was illegal.

But Judge Ryan held that FBI agents were justified in making the arrest even though they had no warrant.

Ryan said he would listen to arguments tomorrow on the attorney's motion for an adjournment.

FBI agents testified earlier that Miss Coplon and Gubitchev gave pursers the slip several times before they were taken into custody last March 4 at the end of a dramatic chase down and across Manhattan.

Ryan said he was "inclined to feel" that the government would have to choose between the second and fourth count of the indictment.

He said he would announce his decision tomorrow, when he is to rule on motions by Miss Coplon's lawyer to throw out the whole case against her.

The second count of the indictment accuses Miss Coplon of trying to transmit confidential government documents to unauthorized persons.

Count No. 4 charges an attempt to transmit national defense information to a citizen of a foreign power with intent to harm the United States.

1,800 Farmers Expected To Attend Annual Convention

DALLAS, Nov. 17 (AP)—Approximately 1,800 Texas farmers and ranchers are expected here Monday for the 16th annual Texas Farm Bureau Federation convention.

Speakers include U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Roger Fleming, director of the farm bureau's Washington office, and Mrs. Charles W. Sewell, director of the Associated Women of the Farm bureau.

Walkout Threatens Southwestern Bell

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 17 (AP)—A five-state strike, involving 40,000 of the 50,000 employes of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, will be resorted to rather than prolong negotiations for a new contract to replace the agreement which expires Dec. 1, it was decided by the delegates at the Communications Workers of America southwestern division convention here Thursday.

A resolution, which officials said passed by a vote of 500 to 1, instructed the bargaining committee to "use every method at its disposal including a strike vote to bring about an immediate and satisfactory termination of the present 1949 negotiations."

Officials explained that a strike can be called only by a referendum of the membership. However, in speeches preceding the resolution, officials indicated that in their opinion a strike vote should be taken before the negotiations are actually deadlocked, so that the bargaining committee will have an expression of rank-and-file sentiment to use as a lever in its dealings with the management.

The resolution charges "The Southwestern Bell Telephone company failed to bargain in good faith with the southwestern division for over nine months in 1948," and that "this delay caused the division large expenditures in time, effort and money."

CONFLICTING TESTIMONY HEARD

Rejected Suitor Claimed Sane At Time Of Killing Sweetheart

By JOHN KAY ADAMS
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 17—Eleven witnesses testified today that Keith Petersen was sane and knew what he did when he killed his sweetheart, Carolyn Schofield, Sept. 2.

One of them was David L. Schofield, father of the slain girl, who said: "Keith is as sane as any man in this courtroom."

Testimony in the 21-year-old collegian's sanity hearing ended with Dr. Robert E. Winn, a defense rebuttal witness—the second psychiatrist to testify during the hearing that Petersen is insane—a schizophrenic, or split personality.

Judge Prepares Charge

The jury should receive the case tomorrow. District Judge Henry King was preparing his charge, and final arguments will be heard before the jury retires. Its decision will determine action on a murder charge against Keith.

The former journalism student cried as testimony ended and jurors filed out of the court room. He called out three times during defense testimony yesterday—but today he seemed to take little interest in court proceedings.

Petersen told reporters after the slaying he killed Carolyn after she told him she planned to marry someone else.

Under cross examination by District Attorney Will Wilson, Dr. Winn said, "he (Petersen) knows he's violated the laws of society, but in his particular case he has not violated his own law."

Health Officer Testifies

Dr. J. M. Pickard, Dallas county health officer, was a state witness. He said he believed Petersen was a "dementia praecox, but he knew it was wrong to kill the girl."

He said he based his opinion on Keith's statement to him; "I didn't intend to kill her. I intended to scare her."

Defense Attorney Maury Hughes said;

"Doctor, you're not a psychiatrist are you?"

"No, sir, I'm not," Dr. Pickard admitted.

"You say he has dementia-praecox which is a disease of the brain, is it not?"

"Yes sir," the doctor answered. He was not further examined.

Witnesses testifying Keith was sane included police detectives and newspaper reporters.

Father Suggests Absence

Carolyn's father revealed he had asked Keith to stay away from his daughter just six days before the killing. Keith had taken the suggestion in a friendly way, the father said.

"He telephoned Mrs. Schofield Sunday before the murder (on Friday) and told her he had himself under control and there would be no more trouble," the father said.

Schofield is a grey-haired oil company engineer. He appeared calm on the stand.

Keith paid little attention to testimony today. He sat alone in court yawning occasionally as details of the shooting were repeated.

Yesterday he heard his father, a Dallas psychiatrist and seven others testify he was and is insane.

Two Reporters Testify

George H. Carter, of the Dallas Times Herald, and Charles Murphy, of the Dallas Morning News, today testified for the prosecution. Each reporter said he interviewed Petersen immediately after the shooting. They said they believed he was sane and that he knew he had done wrong.

Carter described Keith as an "egotistical, self centered, spoiled boy."

Murphy quoted Keith as saying, "I know I've done an abominable thing."

L. G. Delk, city detective, and P. B. Leach, of the homicide and robbery squad, said they believed Keith sane.

Leach said he reached the scene of the crime a few minutes after the victim had been shot. A pistol was on the table, and the body was one the floor near the table.

Accused Volunteers Answers

Young Petersen was sitting on a couch in the room and volunteered to answer any questions.

Delk took a statement from Petersen following the slaying.

"Do you think he (Petersen) knew it was wrong to kill that girl?" District Attorney Will Wilson asked.

"Yes," Delk replied. "In my opinion he was sane."

Other witnesses who testified for the state today were R. C. C. Jamison, employe of a Dallas store, who said he sold a man who identified himself as "K. L. Petersen" a pistol the day of the crime; and Ben Burch, negro porter at the Southland Life building where the slaying occurred.

Defense Attorney Maury Hughes did not contest the physical facts of the shooting.

Two policemen posing as models at a waxworks exhibit in Paris recently arrested two pick-pockets.

Dallas Man Is Killed In Two-Car Crash Near Denton

DENTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—A two-car collision nine miles south of here today caused the death of John Richard Baumgardner of Dallas.

Baumgardner was riding with Joe F. Luker of Dallas. Luker was not injured seriously. Driver of the other car, Wayne Friday of Lewisville, suffered only slight injuries.

Baumgardner and Luker were insurance men. They had started on a hunting trip to Gainesville.

Connally Optimistic About Foreign Outlook For Nation

MARLIN, Nov. 17. (U.P.)—Texas' senior senator, Tom Connally, was back in his native state today, with an optimistic outlook on the foreign situation.

"There is no danger of war in which the United States will be involved in the foreseen future," he said.

The chairman of the important Senate Foreign relations committee described the status of this nation's foreign relations as "very favorable."

"Peace is our objective," Connally said. "The cause of peace has been distinctly advanced through the efforts of the United States. We shall continue our efforts toward peace and security.

To assure peace, he called for "maintenance of the best Air Force in the world, a superior Navy and an adequate Army.

The last session of Congress was a long and hard one, Connally said, "but all important matters pertaining to U.S. foreign relations fostered by the administration were enacted.

Noting Secretary of State Dean Acheson's return from recent European conferences, Connally said, "It is gratifying to know that these conferences, made distinct progress. The situation of the United States in our foreign relations is very favorable."

Lubbock Soldier Gets Parachutist's Rating

Pvt. James C. Scott, son of W. S. Scott of 2131 Nineteenth, was recently graduated from the basic airborne class at Benning, Ga.

He was graduated as a qualified parachutist from the Infantry school according to an announcement by Major General Withers A. Burgess, commandant.

PVT. SCOTT

The course is designed to train volunteer officers and enlisted personnel from all branches of the service as qualified parachutists and glidermen. Students are required to make five jumps from an airplane including one day jump with full equipment.

The airborne course is but one of thirteen at the Infantry school open to officers and enlisted men of the regular Army, Organized Reserve and National Guard. Courses range from training recruits to be parachutists to training regimental commanders and division general staff officers.

SMALL DEPOSITS FOUND

Uranium, Other Valuable Metals Reported Found In California

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (INS)—The Interior department tonight reported an "important" and "unusual" discovery of uranium, thorium and eight other rare materials in Southeastern California.

Thorium and uranium are essential ingredients of atomic energy production. But the department said the deposits discovered in San Bernardino county, 53 miles southwest of Las Vegas, Nev., appears to be too small to be of "commercial interest."

Other minerals discovered in the area were Bastnasite, Limonits, hematite, barite, fluroite, siderite, quartz, and a little galena. Quartz is considered a strategic material and is being stockpiled under government defense programs.

Commercial Use Seen

The bastnasite lode was reported to be "considerable" and large enough to make commercial operations profitable. Its components, cerium and lanthanum, are the principal ingredients of mich metal which is used as a spark wheel in cigarette lighters, torches and similar devices.

The department said that this country's main supply of this material is now derived from monazite, a mineral largely imported. Interior officials asserted that the California deposits are the largest known single formation containing all the above mentioned minerals in concentrated minable form in the world." Further tests are being made to determine the exact quantity of each.

The other minerals discovered in the area are used for the following purposes:

Limonite, hematite and siderite, sources of iron; barite, used in oil well drilling and in the manufacture of glass; flurite, used in steel refining and in production of hydrocholoric acid; quartz, used to make bath room fixtures, glass and cement; galena, a source of lead.

Brownfield Lions Hear ACC President

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 17, (Special)—Approximately 59 members of the Brownfield Lions club and their wives attended an annual ladies night banquet held at the Esquire restaurant at 8 p.m. today.

Principal speaker was Don H. Morris, president of Abilene Christian college. Morris attacked the socialistic trends of today insofar as they concern education. "Federal aid to education," he said, "will ultimately bring federal control and create a situation by which a person or group might gain control."

Morris went on to state that centralization in government weakens the ability to produce while the same evil in business breaks down the system of free enterprise.

Guest of honor at the banquet was Miss Ann Smeideker, recent winner of the Harvest Festival Queen title. Miss Smeideker leaves early Friday morning from Lubbock for Hollywood where she will be the guest of the Rotary club for 10 days.

The Brownfield council of Girl Scouts presented corsages to the ladies as they entered the banquet hall.

Mrs. James Warren was hostess chairman. Hostesses included Mrs. Tess Fulfer, Mrs. W. G. McDonald and Mrs. Billy Glick.

TRAFFIC ENGINEER QUITS

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP) — The resignation of City Traffic Engineer W. C. Brandes, effective Dec. 6, was announced today. He has been traffic engineer since creation of the traffic engineering department in September, 1944. Brandes said he had accepted a job with a private business firm in Texas.

More Police Sought In Effort To Halt Dallas Traffic Toll

DALLAS, Nov. 17 (AP) — The citizens traffic commission today asked the Dallas city council to add 75 more officers to the police force in an effort to halt a rising traffic toll.

During a recent 11-day period, eight persons died in traffic mishaps.

The commission's resolution was sent to the city manager.

Vice-chairman L. H. Ridout, jr., told the commission today that Dallas has only 448 officers compared to 565 in Kansas City and 609 in Seattle, Wash., both cities of comparable size.

Former Soldier Indicted In New York On Treason Charge

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted John David Provoo, 33, a former staff sergeant in the Pacific on 12 charges of treason. One act allegedly caused the Japanese to execute a U.S. Army captain.

The tall, dark-haired Californian was accused of shaving his head, dressing as a Buddhist priest and going over to the Japanese after the fall of Corregidor in 1942.

He is charged with causing the death of Army Capt. Burton C. Thompson by reporting him "anti-Japanese and uncooperative."

The Justice department disclosed that more than 15 witnesses were brought here from Japan to tell the grand jury about Provoo, who faces a possible death penalty if convicted. He is the 26th American charged with treason in World War II.

Provoo, formerly a federal reserve bank employe in San Francisco, has been under arrest since Sept. 2, when the Army discharged him as undesirable. He will be arraigned next Tuesday.

Britain's hospitals are using 40 times as much blood as before the war.

Westerners Invade Midland For 3-AA Title Game Tonight

Lubbock Win Will Assure Crown; Injuries Cause Change In Lineup

With the District 3-AA championship in sight, the Lubbock Westerners will be playing for keeps tonight when they engage the Bulldogs of Midland at 8 o'clock at Midland's Memorial stadium.

Atop the district standings with victories over Lamesa and Odessa, the Lubbock eleven can claim the title by defeating Midland. A win will give the Westerners three conference triumphs and assure them of the crown regardless of the outcome of the Brownfield game Thanksgiving day.

A slim following of Lubbock fans will make the trip to Midland for the contest. Advance ticket sales at the high school reached only 203, E. J. Lowrey, athletic business manager reported Thursday night. This is a far cry from the large bands of more than 5,000 fans that followed the Westerners to Amarillo and Odessa.

Co-captains for this all-important game are Wayne Stroud and Charlie Williams, the two regular halfbacks. Both have been top performers all season.

The Westerners will go into the scrap with a change in the starting lineup for the first time this season, due to knee injuries to Guard Freddy Gray and Tackle Joe Brock and an ankle injury to Fullback Malcolm Young. Gray and Young were injured in the Odessa clash, while Brock was hurt in practice. Young's injury is not serious.

Coach Pattison said Thursday that he was expecting a strong fight from Midland. "The Midland boys are young," Pattison commented, "but they have lots of spirit and hustle."

Coach of the Bulldogs, Tugboat Jones, was singing the blues when contacted by telephone. Two of his heaviest boys, Stan Coker and Alfred Baze, are not expected to see action, leaving his squad weak at the tackle positions on defense.

The Midland squad is composed mostly of juniors and sophomores with only four boys being lost this year. Until the season opened, not a single man in the lineup had ever started a varsity game before. Coach Jones said that the team operates from the single and double wing, with the single wing attack being used the most.

Quarterbacking the attack is Reed Gilmore, 145-pounder, and Ralph Brooks, 157 at left half; Jack Burris, 151, right half and L. C. Thomas, 157, fullback, round out the starting backfield.

In previous starts this season, the Bulldogs have won three games and lost five. Victories were over Brownfield, Plainview and Big Spring. In district play Midland defeated Brownfield and lost to Odessa, 55-7.

Over the full season the local eleven has put together eight victories without defeat to rank second in the weekly poll of Texas sports writers. Last week's 7-6 victory over Odessa was the closest margin of victory all year, also being the first time Lubbock was held to less than 33 points in a game.

Practice this week has been centered around the offense and two days of hard scrimmage were held. Blocking came in for lots of attention, and holes were opening up in the defensive line with frequency in the scrimmage Wednesday, allowing the ball carriers to race through for long gains.

Passing in scrimmages was excellent, and End Billy Wright appears to be reaching peak form in the pass-snagging department after a slow start.

Thursday's practice was limited to dummy offensive and defensive drills, with defensive patterns coming in for most of the attention.

Coaches Pattison and Fred Taylor will accompany the team to Midland on a chartered bus which will leave from Chapman field at 12:30 o'clock today. Line Coach Bill Floyd will remain in Lubbock, having been ill with a strep throat infection all week.

Majors Start Player Draft

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17. (INS)—The New York Yankees drafted $50,000 bonus pitcher Hugh Radcliffe at the major league draft meeting in Cincinnati today and 13 other clubs paid more than $170,000 for players.

Radcliffe, a Georgia High school sensation, was signed by the Philadelphia Phillies in 1948 but had not been called up to his parent club. He was listed on the Toronto roster.

Only the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Braves did not make any minor league purchases. The deadline for further selections is Nov. 18.

Players drafted were:

Washington Senators — Stephen Nagy, pitcher, San Francisco; George Genovese, infielder, Hollywood, and Newton Grasso, Seattle.

Chicago Cubs—John Klippstein, pitcher, Montreal.

St. Louis Browns—Tom Upton, infielder, Kansas City, and Sidney Schacht, pitcher, Louisville.

Cincinnati Reds—Everett Johnson, catcher, Los Angeles, and Rudy Minarcin, pitcher, Toronto.

Chicago White Sox—Joe Erautt, Catcher, Baltimore.

Pittsburgh Pirates — George Strickland, infielder, Birmingham.

Philadelphia Athletics — Ben Guintinni, outfielder, Dallas, Henry Wyse, pitcher, Shreveport; and Edward Harbczak, pitcher, Stamford.

New York Giants—Sam Calderone, catcher, St. Paul.

Cleveland Indians—Leo Thomas, infielder, Portland.

Philadelphia Phils—Milo Candini, pitcher, Oakland.

Boston Red Sox—George Copeland, pitcher, Rochester.

St. Louis Cardinals — Harold Stamey, outfielder, Utica.

New York Yankees—Hugh Radcliffe, pitcher, Toronto.

Brooklyn Dodgers — Malcolm Mallette, pitcher, Sacramento.

Vaughn Talks At Banquet

Finis Vaughn, former football coach and at present a farmer and football official, told the New Deal Lions football squad last night that coaching had been a wonderful inspiration to him.

Vaughn was the principal speaker at a banquet in the Hilton hotel last night honoring members of the football squad and their dads, as well as the school coaches, given by school supporters. Approximately 75 were in attendance. The Lions meet Meadow tonight in the deciding game of the District 4-B conference race.

A. L. Faubion, superintendent of schools, served as referee (toastmaster) for the banquet, with invocation by C. S. Wales. W. L. "Toby" Waggoner gave the speech of welcome and the response was given by Co-Captain Robert Gentry, team quarterback, and Assistant Coach E .V. Bartley.

Coach H. T. Pior spoke briefly, introducing every player, who in turn introduced his father. Coach Pior paid tribute to the players and said that he pitied every man who wasn't a coach, for a coach was father to every boy on his squad. He went on to say that the coach was with the boys on the field, in the dressing room, on the bus and everywhere, which made a close tie that could not be achieved any other way.

Lawrence Ivey supplied piano music during the dinner and at dinner intermission, after which Supt. Faubion called on several "sideline quarterbacks."

Vaughn in his speech, spoke on what coaching had meant to him. He said that he refused to consider the fact that he was a farmer now, instead of a coach, for coaching was such a rich experience that he couldn't really leave the profession.

He related that what money there was in it, or what glory, couldn't begin to compensate for the satisfaction of doing the job and of making lasting friendships. He stated that he could go anywhere in the nation and meet boys who either had served under him or with whom he had served.

Vaughn also related specific incidents in his life to show what coaching meant to him, paying tribute to the game, to the men who made up football and all athletics and to the coaches.

Slaton, Littlefield Clash Today

5,000 Seen For Game At Tech

A turnout approximating 5,000 fans is expected this afternoon when Slaton's Tigers and Littlefield's Wildcats clash at Jones stadium here for the District 4-A football championship.

Kickoff time is 2:30 o'clock.

Today's tussle winds up a 4-A campaign which saw Slaton and Littlefield capture their respective divisional titles with perfect records in conference play. Littlefield, the north zone winner, was held to a 7-7 scoring tie by Sudan, but won the game on penetrations. Slaton's closest call in the south division race was its 7-6 squeeze over Post in the regular season finale.

Littlefield Favored

Coach J. S. Fikes' burly Littlefield eleven, which last year lost to Post in the district playoff, goes into today's game as a solid favorite. The Wildcats have rolled to seven triumphs, one tie and one loss this year. The lone setback came in the season opener, which saw Littlefield drop a 14-0 decision to Dalhart, one of the region's top-ranked Class A outfits.

Slaton started slowly, then picked up steam all the way. After losing their first three games (to Floydada, Abernathy and Muleshoe), Coach Clarence Tillery's Tigers finished fast to mow down six opponents in succession.

All direct score comparisons point to a probable Littlefield win. The Wildcats ran up a 48-0 count on Muleshoe, which earlier had beaten Slaton, 26-0. Against other common opponents, there were these results: Slaton downed Morton 12-0, while Littlefield ran up a 39-6 count; Slaton defeated O'Donnell, 31-0, while Littlefield won by 53-0; Slaton blanked Sundown, 28-0, while Littlefield turned the trick by 66-0.

Slaton Has Improved

Most observers, however, agree that today's tiff won't be as one-sided as some of these comparisons might indicate.

As mentioned before, the Slaton squad has developed fast since its faltering start. Moreover, it has gained a reputation as one of the "hustlingest" teams on the South Plains.

Littlefield goes into the game with a substantial weight advantage. The Wildcat's starting offensive team will average nearly 176 pounds per man, as compared to 159 for Slaton. Littlefield's starting backs hold a 166 to 138 edge over the Slaton quartet. All of which indicates that the Tigers definitely will have an uphill battle on their hands if they are to win.

Bi-District Next

Today's winner advances to the bi-district round of the state Class A playoff, where its opponent will be the District 3-A titlist (Spur, Crosbyton, Lockney or Floydada).

Tickets for this afternoon's game, priced at $1 for adults, 50 cents for Texas Tech students and 30 cents for school children, will be on sale at the stadium gate.

The probable starting offensive lineups:

LITTLEFIELD	POS.	SLATON
Edwards (157)	LER.	Biggs (150)
Cotter (205)	LTR	Williams (185)

James, Duncan Win Arena Bouts

Henderson Flattens Olivas In Main Go

Billy Henderson, the level-headed Levelland lightweight, last night breezed to his 29th win in 31 pro starts by flattening Tony Olivas in the third round of a scheduled 10-round main event at Sled Allen's arena.

A crowd estimated at 650 fans saw Henderson floor the El Pasoan in every round before putting him down for keeps in the third with a right cross to the chin. Olivas struggled to regain his feet, but failed to beat Referee Elmer Tarbox's ten count.

Although Olivas landed several solid punches, Henderson never was in serious difficulty. He opened cautiously, but midway through the first nailed Olivas with a short right that dropped the invader for a count of eight.

Olivas hit the deck twice in the next stanza, and on the second occasion would have been tolled out had not the bell intervened at the count of eight.

Then came the fateful third, when Henderson, who had been the aggressor all the way, applied the finisher after 2 minutes 35 seconds.

The semifinal between Lubbock Heavyweight Gene James and Eddie Lamar, Oklahoma City, was a one-sided affair with James completely in command all the way until the bout was halted after four heats. Lamar, a former state heavy champion who was sadly disappointing in this bout, was down a score of times—usually because of sheer exhaustion. His infrequent offensive flurries never seriously troubled James, who did a workmanlike—though awkward—job in carrying out his 14th successive win as a professional. It was James' second straight over Lamarr, and was so convincing as to erase any possibility of additional re-matches in the future.

Duncan Beats Gray

Leonard Duncan, Hale Center middleweight, disposed of Art Gray, an El Paso collegian, without working up a lather. Gray, whose big shortcoming was his inability to absorb a wallop, went down three times in the first and then took the count after being tagged with a solid left after 2 minutes 40 seconds of the second.

Charley Neff, Petersburg lightweight, subbed for Augustine Guiterrez, Pecos, when the latter failed to appear for his four-round opener with Tommy Mannoai, El Paso. Neff might have done well to have stayed home, too, because he took a thorough lacing from Mannaoi, who won the unanimous decision.

The show was staged by the Texas Tech collegiate chapter of the Future Farmers of America, with all profits slated to go toward establishment of a scholarship fund. Henderson, James and Duncan also contributed their entire purses to the fund.

'Dirty Demons' Drop 'Thugs' At Boys Club

The Dirty Demons eked out a 22-21 victory over the Seventh Street Thugs in a Senior league contest Thursday at Boys club in the top basketball game of the day.

Leading the winners was Bobby Nabors with eight points, but his performance was bettered by the Thugs' Jack Hawkins, who tallied nine markers.

Bobby Tollison looped in 15 points as the Sorry Lot dropped the Five Fools, 35-23. For the Fools, Dennis Calvert was high with 10 points in the Junior loop contest.

The Palominos romped through the Galloping Ghosts in the Midget league to win by a 26-12 count, with Ben Shipman counting nine points for the Horses. High for the Ghosts was Douglas Tucker, and he scored four points.

In the Pee Wee contest, the Maulers lived up to their name, beating the Buffaloes, 8-3, as Paul Sikes hit the basket for six points of the winners' eight. The Buffs were led by Reed Loflin with all three of their markers.

Today's games have the Pee Wee Stampeders Vs. Roughies; Eagles Vs. Raiders in the Midget league; and Fancy Five Vs. Hornets and Longhorns Vs. Basketeers in the Junior League.

Shallowater Basketball Team Defeats Roosevelt, 37 To 26

SHALLOWATER, Nov. 17 (Special) — Shallowater's cage team romped to its 13th successive victory here last night, defeating Roosevelt school 37-26.

Bobby Reed led the winners to victory with 13 points, and Ray Hammet was high for the losers.

In a B team game Shallowater won, 23-14, with Jerry Lindsey pacing the attack with eight points. Roosevelt's girls team defeated Shallowater, 35-11, as Yvonne Rucker scored 16 points.

Cowhands Smash Plainview 'B'

Lubbock's Cowhands completed their regular football season Thursday afternoon at Chapman field with a rousing, 50-0, victory over Plainview's B team.

The victory was the sixth for the local team in seven starts and ran their total points to 287 to only 43 for the opposition this season, an average of 41 per game. Odessa scored the only win over the local squad, but received a 39-0 licking in a return game.

End Don Jones was the scoring leader for the Cowhands, making three touchdowns and kicking one point after against the Plainview eleven. Fullback James Sides accounted for two six-pointers, and Charles Hodges, Cecil Austin and Bo Sexton made one each. Charles Brewer kicked one extra point to account for the other point.

Lubbock scored two touchdowns in each of the first two quarters, resting at halftime with a 25-0 lead. One tally was called back, and another made in the third period, and three touchdowns were made in the final stanza, one on a 65-yard return of a pass interception by Sides.

All Lubbock scores came on long runs, the longest being 90 yards and the shortest 40 yards.

Jones tallied first in the opening quarter on an end-around play that covered 60 yards. In the same period Halfback Hodges skirted right end and raced 75 yards.

Early in the third quarter Halfback Austin went around left end and sidelined his way 90-yards downfield, with Dale Clark carrying out the last defender. Brewer converted. Sexton skirted left end on a revised version of the statue of Liberty play for 40 yards in the closing minutes of the second quarter.

A 50-yard gallop early in the third period by Austin was nullified, but two plays later Hodges hit Jones with a long pass and the speedy wingman raced on to paydirt. Tatum converted to give the locals a 32-0 lead. Early in the fourth quarter Duane Rampy passed to Jones on a play covering 75 yards, Jones taking the ball on the 50 and outrunning the two defenders.

Sides went over right guard for the fifth Cowhand touchdown, traveling 70 yards to score. His interception and 65-yard return accounted for the last talley, with Milton Beech throwing a hard block on the last man to challenge Sides and keep the path to the goal line open.

Play was rough throughout the game, with several players being ousted from the contest.

The middle of the Cowhand line was hard to crack, with Billy Breedlove, Bill Waters, Dale Clark, Thomas Cadenhead and others stacking up Plainview players at the line of scrimmage.

Tech Squad Leaves Today

Coach Dell Morgan will take a 40-man football squad to Albuquerque for the New Mexico game today with the Texas Tech football players due to leave West Hall by T.N.M. & O. special bus at 8 a.m.

Halfback Walter Maloney, injured in practice two weeks ago, is the only player not making the trip. Coach Morgan decided to hold him out of the Lobo tilt so that he would be ready for duty against Hardin-Simmons, when his injury should be healed.

But in the loss of Maloney, the Red Raiders gained a player. Quarterback Milton Rathbone, who has been out of action with a trick knee, has returned to former ability and strength. He is expected to see considerable action Saturday.

Making the Albuquerque trip will be the following players:

Backs—Ernest Hawkins, Bill Lyman, Milton Rathbone, Albert Salem, Tim Hatch, Herman Bailey, Bobby Close, Cal Stevenson, Ike Stuver, Eural Ramsey, Bud Conley, Earl Jackson, J. W. Thompson.

Westerner Bandsmen Travel To Midland

Westerner band members will leave here today (Friday) shortly after school for the Lubbock-Midland football game to be played there at 8 p.m., Principal Floyd Honey has announced. Buses will be parked at the Eighteenth street entrance of the high school by 4 p.m.

For the information of parents, the buses will return to the high school about 1:30 or 2 a.m. Honey said.

Seminole Wins District 5-A Junior Title With 20-12 Win

FORT STOCKTON, Nov. 17. (Special)—Seminole won the district 5-A Junior High school football championship here today coming from behind to defeat Fort Stockton's Juniors, 20-12.

After spotting the losers 12 points in the first quarter on an intercepted pass and 60-yard run and a two-yard quarterback sneak, Seminole started rolling and held Ft. Stockton scoreless the rest of the distance.

Jackie Sparks scored first for Seminole on a 12-yard run, and then John Wilson passed to Brad Crawford for 40 yards and a touchdown to even the score. Wilson converted and Seminole led 13-12. Wilson sneaked over for the third touchdown and Paul Sublett added the extra point to assure Seminole of its 10th straight triumph without defeat.

Clarence Fox Coaching School Slated

Over 100 Coaches Expected Here

Area high school basketball coaches and their court squads will have an opportunity Nov. 27 and 28 to take part in the Fourth Annual Clarence Fox Coaching school, which will be held in Chapman Fieldhouse.

Fox announced yesterday that he again would conduct his respected school under the sponsorship of the Sports Center. Over 100 high school coaches from both the North and South Plains are expected to be here, along with approximately 300 or more of the coach's squads.

A basketball game between Texas Tech and West Texas State college will conclude the school. The game will be an exhibition and will not count in the Border Conference standings.

Robison Will Instruct

Serving as instructors in the school will be Polk Robison, coach of the Red Raiders, and Gus Miller, coach of the Buffaloes. Their respective squads will serve as demonstrative units.

Coaches in this area that are interested in attending the school, which is free, should make reservations immediately with Fox in care of the Sport Center, 1612 Thirteenth street.

The program will open Sunday, Nov. 27, at 9:30 a.m. in the Hilton hotel, when all coaches are invited to attend an officials meeting of the Border Conference. Rules and interpretations will be discussed at the meeting and it will take the place of a separate rules interpretation meeting for the school.

The regular school will get under way at 2 p.m. in Chapman Fieldhouse, opening with an address of welcome by Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school.

Lecture Slated

Coach Miller will conduct a lecture session and Coach Robison will follow with a lecture at 3 p.m. The two lectures will be followed by a demonstration of tactics put on by the Texas Tech basketball squad.

Sunday night will be free so that visiting coaches and squads may attend the churches of their choice.

At 10 Monday morning, the West Texas State college basketball squad will present a demonstration and there will be lectures in the afternoon by Coach Robison, at 2 p.m., and Coach Miller, at 3 p. m.

An exhibition basketball game between the Raiders and the Buffs will be played that night in Chapman Fieldhouse with the game open to the public.

Fox pointed out that the school was coming at a fine time for area coaches to arrive Saturday for the Hardin-Simmons-Texas Tech football game Nov. 26, followed by the two-day school. He said that he never had no less than 100 coaches in the past and that he expected that many at this school, his fourth.

Lamesa Loboes May Work With Braves

LAMESA, Nov. 17 (Special) — The Lamesa Loboes will continue to receive player help from the Dallas Eagles of the Texas league and have strong hopes of arranging a working agreement with the Boston Braves, Manager Jay Haney announced today.

Haney, Club President H. A. Duke and Club Director Dr. R. F. Nix conferred with Eagle Manager Bobby Goff in Dallas Wednesday. Haney said that Goff promised the Loboes all the help Dallas could possibly spare them during the coming West Texas-New Mexico league season.

Haney and Walter Buckel, business manager and former Lobo shortstop, plan to attend the winter meeting in Baltimore next month. While there, the Lobo skipper hopes to complete arrangements for a working agreement with the Braves, National League contenders.

Even if a working agreement is obtained, the Loboes still will accept help from Dallas, which has 78 players under contract, according to Haney.

Lamesa may have the services of both Glenn Selbo, shortstop, and Pitcher Bob Upton again next year, Haney reported. Both players belong to the Eagles.

Selbo hit .321 and Upton won nine and lost seven for Lamesa last season.

Duke said that the proposed seating capacity of the new park, which will be finished in time for the opening of the 1950 season, is 3,500 persons.

AFTER THE MATCH — Prinicpals in Thursday's special exhibition golf match at Lubbock Country club are pictured above as they relaxed after the 18-hole thriller in which Raymond Marshall and Jimmy Goldman defeated the famed Bauer sisters. However, the two local golfers had to go all out in a back-nine rally to turn back the two California girls, one up. Left to right are Marshall; Alice Bauer, the elder half of the golfing twosome; Dave Bauer, father and teacher of the feminine stars; Marlene Bauer, who set a new women's record here with a sizzling 69; and Goldman. Marshall, Goldman Best Bauer Sisters, 1-Up, In Exhibition

Marlene Breaks Women's Record

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

Marlene Bauer, the 15-year-old golfing marvel from Los Angeles, smashed the Lubbock country club women's course record Thursday by firing a sparkling 69 over the 6,233-yard layout.

Despite the poker-faced Californian's superb performance, however, she and her 22-year-old sister, Alice, lost their special exhibition match with Raymond Marshall and Jimmy Goldman by a 1-up margin, as the two Lubbock men rallied to overcome a three-hole deficit at the nine-hole turn.

The younger Bauer girl's round easily bettered the local official women's record of 72, set by Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite last June. Moreover, Marlene's score was shot from the men's tees, which are more than 200 yards longer than the women's tees, and she played most of the round in a stirr wind. To top all this, she wore a lengthy white skirt instead of the shorts she usually prefers on the links.

She posted a brilliant 32—the best nine-hole score she had ever recorded anywhere—on the outgoing nine. Coming in, she "slipped" to a 37, one over men's par. This gave her the 18-hole total of 69, two below men's par and five under the feminine standard.

Alice Bauer finished with a 36-36—74, while Marshall had 35-35—70 and Goldman 37-34—71.

The Bauer sisters, booming 250-yard drives down the fairways and dropping putts with startling consistency, had a best-ball score of 30 on the first nine. Marlene needed only 11 putts on the round, as she went out with four birdies and only one bogey—the result of a short putt that rimmed the cup and missed on No. 8.

Men Take Command

Three down at the turn and subject of some friendly heckling by male acquaintances in the gallery, Marshall and Goldman took command on the incoming nine. Marshall won No. 12 with a birdie four, Goldman took No. 12 with a birdie two, and Marshall grabbed 13 with another birdie four to square the match. Then, on No. 16, both came through with birdie three's that won the hole and—eventually—the match.

Both Marshall and Goldman were below par coming in, with 35 and 34 respectively.

The gallery which had increased to nearly 100 persons by the time the match reached the final green, actually was stunned by Marlene Bauer's superb play. Although the chunky California miss came here with a reputation as one of the nation's top feminine amateur golfers and a potential all-time great, few expected to see such a spectacular performance. From tee to cup, she displayed an uncanny touch that already has brought her some three dozen tournament titles, and which quite probably will carry her to the very top of the women's golfing world.

"Slightly" Out-Driven

At present, the younger Bauer girl holds the Women's Western Junior and Women's National Junior championships. She was a semi-finalist in this year's Women's National Amateur, where she had the low aggregate score for the rounds in which she competed.

Her sister, Alice, who is quite a golfer in her own right, was not up to Marlene's brilliant standard in the match here, chiefly because of a sputtering putter. Both Alice and Marlene hit for remarkable distance off the tees, in view of their respective weights of 105 and 115 pounds, although in general they were slightly outdriven by their male opponents.

The two girls, accompanied by their parents, currently are en route to their home in Los Angeles, after a highly-successful summer and fall tour on the major women's tournament circuit. They will leave Lubbock early today to make another exhibition appearance at Midland.

Eagle Eleven Leads League In Yardage

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17. (Special)—For the first time this season the champion Philadelphia Eagles lead the National Football League in total yards gained by running and passing according to the latest statistics released by league headquarters.

The Eagles moved into the top position by the narrowest margin, five yards, over the Washington Redskins, who have been in the lead for several weeks, and fifteen yards over the Chicago Bears, who have bee giving Washington a close battle. The Cardinals are fourth and the Giants, fifth.

The champions have run for 1805 yards, passed for 1304, and gained 17 on laterals for their total of 3126. Washington, with 3121 yards, has run for 1191 and passed for 1930, while the Bears have gained 1210 on the ground, 1869 in the air, and 32 on laterals for 3111.

The Eagles made their big jump by registering 550 yards last Sunday, which, however, was not the high for the day, the Cards rolling up 572.

In rushing the Eagles lead with 1805 yards, followed by the Cards with 1662, Pittsburg with 1558, and Green Bay with 1504. The Cards have the best average gain, 5.3 yards, with Washington and Green Bay having 4.3 and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia 4.2.

Washington has gained the most yards passing with 1930. The Bears have 1869, Los Angeles 1560, the Giants 1522, and Detroit 1314. The Eagles have the best percentage on passes with 51.5 on 84 completions out of 163 attempted. The Giants have completed an even 50 percent with 102 out of 204.

Wilson Drops 29-18 Six-Man Game To Weinert Of Haskell

POST, Nov. 17. (Special)—Wilson's Mustangs bowed out of the regional six-man football playoffs here tonight as they dropped a 29-18 decision to Weinert, of Haskell county, in a bi-district tilt witnessed by some 1,500 fans.

Coach A. J. Sales' Wilson team, unbeaten and untied in seven earlier starts this season, scored first, but Weinert came back to take a 7-6 lead at halftime.

Then the invaders turned on the steam early in the second half to run their margin to 23-12, and coasted in to victory.

It was Weinert's ninth successive triumph this season, and advanced the Haskell county team to the regional finals.

Rice Picked To Drop Frog Squad

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Rice Owls are expected to nail down the Southwest Conference championship Saturday then start talking about their Cotton Bowl foe.

Coach Jess Neely won't like this kind of declaration but he has little support elsewhere. Few think TCU has a ghost of a chance to stop the powermen in blue at Fort Worth. Even those who put cash on the line aren't according the Frogs a close game. Rice will be a 10½-point favorite to win.

In order for Rice to win the title, SMU would have to beat Baylor. SMU is favored by 7½ points.

Defeat for Rice and victory for Baylor would throw the race into a tie. Victory for both Rice and Baylor would leave the title up to the last game.

Baylor can't even afford a tie with Southern Methodist if Rice wins. That would give the pennant to the Owls anyway.

While Rice and TCU are trading touchdowns at Fort Worth, and SMU and Baylor are scrapping it out at Dallas, Arkansas will be playing William and Mary at Little Rock. Arkansas will be a six-point favorite.

Texas and Texas A. & M., will be bystanders. Both have been eliminated from the running and have only their Thanksgiving Day game left. These two state schools battle at College Station.

Next week will wind up the Conference campaign except for the SMU-Notre Dame game Dec. 3.

Petersburg Defeats Pioneer Squad, 12-7

PETERSBURG, Nov. 17. (Special)—Petersburg's Buffaloes defeated the Lubbock Pioneers, 12-7 here tonight to gain their fourth victory of the season against five losses.

For the Pioneers it was the fourth defeat to go with four victories and one tie over the full season's route.

Petersburg scored in the first quarter when Fullback Kenneth Regan crashed over from the five-yard line. A second quarter score netted six more points to give Petersburg a 12-0 halftime advantage, the tally coming on a 15-yard pass from Buddy Saffel to Paul Main.

Lubbock's tally came in the third quarter on the kickoff following the half.

Petersburg led in first downs, 9 to 7, and net yards gained, 271 to 241.

Verdict Given In Woman's Death

lanche-Journal reporter by telephone that he suspected foul play because of the unusual circumstances surrounding his wife's death.

Truelock said he last saw his wife about 12:20 p. m. Wednesday when he left Southland to pick up some machine parts in Lubbock.

Visited Stores In Lubbock

He said he bought some merchandise at the Quicksall-Pryor company and the Lubbock Electric company and then went to the Five Five Five company to have speedometer repairs on his pickup truck. He said he then went to the Barrett Automotive service, where he was notified by a telephone operator an accident had happened and he was needed at home.

"When I left her, she was in good spirits," Trulock said.

Her body was found under the burning stove at 1:25 p. m. by her 13-year-old son by a previous marriage, Calvin Grantham. Another child, Glenda Grantham, 15, was in school at the time. Calvin came home from school to get a pair of tennis shoes for a gym class.

King said he will file his verdict with a district court grand jury meeting in Post during the first week in December, probably on December 5.

Could Change Verdict

"I couldn't see my way clear to render any other verdict," King said. "As I read the law, this temporary verdict is subject to change for several years, at least for five or 10 years."

While his verdict bore out the report by Dr. D. C. Williams of Post that the direct cause of death was suffocation by the pair of men's cotton socks found stuffed in her mouth, it did nothing to shed light on how the gag got there, how the stove happened to be on her head and how the rope was tied around her waist. When found, the woman was on her back, her arms under her body and her wrists under the loosely tied rope.

Officers found two notes under a comic book on a sewing machine in the bedroom where the woman was found dead. Also on the sewing machine were a hatchet, a butcher knife and a screwdriver filed to a sharp point.

Note Neatly Written

One of the notes, which was shown to newsmen by King, was not addressed or dated but the salutation was to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fletcher of Plainview. It was neatly written in ink on a penny postal card, without a misspelled word or a scratch-out.

It read:

"I'm like Aunt Mary or Mat—no will power to take advantage of my many God-given chances. McArthur has a bunch of Mexicans who started yesterday. Marvin let the kids go to school all day today because Glenda wanted to practice a play they give next week. Remember what Judge Dickinson said in 1928 after I wouldn't let the folks dance in my schoolhouse? 'I'll help you get a school somewhere else in the county—you're too good a teacher to lose.' 'No, I'm sick of the whole county.' And I always wanted to be a pioneer before that. I should have sent you and Dad money for groceries every month and kept teaching.

"I'm too big a coward to be turned out of the church and the shame on the kids and Marvin won't be so great after I'm gone. I'm doomed for Hell anyway—my unforgiving spirit took Foster and I'll have his death to answer for too.

"I'm too selfish to live."

The note was signed "Flora."

Note Written Wednesday

Officers said it had been established that the notes were in the handwriting of the dead woman.

Bass said that it had been established that the postal card note had been written on Wednesday, through the reference to the children going to school all day.

It was assumed that the reference to Foster pertained to her twin brother, William Foster Fletcher, who was burned beyond recognition when the light airplane crashed near Amarillo in May, 1947.

Justice of the Peace King said the other note, written on a tablet, said "practically the same thing and also mentioned the brother." It was addressed to her husband and family.

Mrs. Truelock, a resident of Southland since 1937, was born June 6, 1908, north of Tahoka. She was a member of the Finn family, West Texas pioneers who came to Lynn county in 1900.

She was an honor graduate of Plainview High school and attended Wayland college in Plainview one year and Texas Technological college in Lubbock one year.

A member of the Baptist church since her youth, she was active in church and social affairs.

Rev. Fullingim, her pastor in Southland, said he did not understand the reference to being "turned out of the church" in the note.

"Her name was never brought up in church conferences and there were no difficulties," he said.

Additional survivors were named as three brothers, Frank and Fred Fletcher of Galveston and Robert F. Fletcher of Kilgore.

Robbery Suspect Believed To Have Kidnapped Cotton Worker

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 17. (AP)—A man suspected of staging an armed robbery at Denton is believed to have kidnapped W. B. Tatum in Cooke county and forced Tatum to drive him to Fort Worth.

Texas Ranger Lewis Rigler said tonight that the kidnapping took place about noon today. He said Tatum was pulling bolls in o cotton field near Era, in Cooke county, when a man entered the field and pulled out a revolver.

Rigler said Tatum was forced to get into his 1933 model automobile, parked in the field, and drive the man to Fort Worth.

of the neck by a heavy blow.)

Glenda's body was located about 18 hours after she was kidnapped from a street near her home. Her head had been gashed by two blows from a sharp instrument. She was fully clothed.

The ditch was one mile southeast of this city of 5,300 persons, which is 185 miles southeast of Boise and 200 miles north and west of Salt Lake City. The body was partly covered by the 10 or 12 inches of water in the ditch. Coroner Vern McCulloch brought the body to his funeral home here for an examination.

Community Stunned

Discovery of the little girl's body left this community stunned with anger and disbelief.

B. C. Bishop of Payette, Idaho, the girl's grandfather, told reporters "Glenda always was such a friendly little girl. She had been warned repeatedly about accepting rides from strangers. She just must have forgotten."

Bishop said Glenda was born in San Diego, Calif., in 1942. She has an older sister, Sandra Lee, 9.

Officers and possemen pushed from several directions into the area near Malta and Bridge, Idaho, searching for the dark-colored car after it was spotted from the air.

No Statement Scheduled

Sheriff Saul H. Clark said no formal statement on the case would be made at once.

Clark's aides reported the head wounds, and added that Glenda's death was "not accidental."

The blonde first grade student was reported missing at 5:30 p. m. yesterday. A playmate, Wayne Whicker, 6, told officers a man driving a dark colored car called Glenda. After talking with him a moment or two, Glenda got in the car and he drove away, the boy said.

Wayne said the man had a round face and straight hair. He also told officers the man had accosted two other small girls a few minutes before he spoke to Glenda.

Glenda's father, Charles Brisbois, waited red-eyed through the night at the sheriff's office. He is a truck driver. Mrs. Brisbois, who has been ill recently, was secluded in her home under a police guard. One friend and the Brisbois' other daughter, 8, were with her.

"We haven't enough money to bother about," Brisbois said as he awaited reports through the morning. "My girl couldn't have been kidnapped for ransom."

He left unmentioned his fears that the girl had been a victim of a sex fiend. The fears were heightened by a similar case in Los Angeles, only this week. There the body of Linda Joyce Glucoft, 6, was found under a rubbish heap. She had been strangled, stabbed and bludgeoned with an axe.

door.

"Appearances indicate someone broke the door loose by butting against it with his shoulder," they said.

There also was a mark indicating a prying instrument had been used, Sylvester said.

Tried Once Before

Sylvester had reported approximately a week ago that marks on the door jam indicated someone had started to break into the building, but apparently had been frightened away.

The officers had not found any of the 27 checks that were in the safe when it was locked Wednesday. It was theorized they either were buried or burned.

They sent word to Sheriff Grady Harrist that they were unable to load the safe, and Harrist sent a wrecker truck to the scene to remove it.

Saw Safe In Field

Emmett Palmer, owner of the farm, saw the safe in his cotton field soon after he woke up Thursday morning. He informed officers. Crumpled metal and concrete blocks were scattered over a 12-foot in diameter area.

Soon afterward, a janitor discovered the safe was missing from the finance company, and phoned Sylvester.

Forrester found that the safe had been rolled approximately 30 feet from the back of the building to the side door, where it apparently had been loaded into a motor vehicle.

It was the first burglary reported by the company, which established business at the address here in 1946. Sylvester has been manager of the company since May 15, 1948.

Home office of the corporation is in San Francisco.

Investigators, seeking clues, said they had been unable to "find any definite starting place."

Vessels Stand By

The flares were sighted at 6:45 p.m. (4:45 p.m. CST) after 31 hours of searching that covered 360,000 square miles of ocean. Surface vessels were ordered to stand by for word to rush to the scene if needed.

Canadians, Britons and Americans joined in the hunt.

At least 45 planes and various ships took part in the search for the B-29, which lost its bearing and ran out of fuel yesterday somewhere off Bermuda in a flight with a group of others from March Air Base, Calif. All were assigned to bases in England under a rotation training system.

The B-29 was commanded by Lt. Col. John Grable, jr. It was due in Bermuda at 8:10 a.m. yesterday. But its radio navigation equipment went out, bad weather prevented the crew from getting an astronomical bearing, gasoline ran short and two search planes sent out to act as guides were unable to make contact.

The last radio message from the plane heard by the Kindley field air base here was at 11:45 a.m. It said the pilot was preparing to ditch the plane in five minutes.

BALTIMORE STATION HEARS REPORT RAFT SIGHTED

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17. (AP) — Municipal radio station WMH reported intercepting a message tonight indicating that some survivors of a B-29 which crashed-landed off Bermuda are afloat on a raft equipped with a radio.

The station reported this message was received from Bermuda marine radio at 9:15 p.m. (CST):

"Faint signals which may have been from lost aircraft have been heard and direction finder has been attempted.

"Any ships in vicinity of 36:07 north and 60:30 west are requested to keep sharp lookout."

The California giant redwoods are believed to be remnants of great forests which once covered many sections of the earth.

NEWS BRIEFS

Bond of $1,000 was set Thursday for Buddy York, 20, of Brownfield, charged with robbery by assault of Lindel Ray Yarbrough of Lubbock route 7. Bond of equal size was set for Glenn Thornton, 35, of Lubbock, charged with theft Oct. 31 of a car owned by Jack Godfrey of Lubbock.

A bale of unginned cotton burned at the Tudor Cotton gin near the Plainview cutoff road northeast of the city about 6 p.m. Thursday, fire department records showed. Damage to a truck on which the cotton had been loaded was not heavy, it was reported.

Judge G. V. Pardue Thursday adjudged M. J. Williams in contempt of his 99th District court and ordered him to pay a fine of $100 and court costs. The assessment, growing out of a violation of a Feb. 23, 1948, temporary injunction restraining Williams from trafficking in alcoholics, was paid, the district clerk said.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Scitern turned over to police Thursday a billfold containing more than $10 in money and a ring. Police said the owner could claim the property by giving proper description. The billfold was found in southwest Lubbock. Police patrolmen J. C. Smith and Bob Adkison said appreciation of the department to the Sciterns.

Employes Honored

Ausman was quick to point out that the awards were not just on the basis of number of years employes have been with the company, but for their years of service.

"Besides being a service award, it should also be considered an award of merit," he said.

Allen's Service Tops

Allen's 38 years with the company brought the top award for active service among 453 persons in the entire company receiving the certificates and medallions denoting their years of service. The medallion presented to him was studded with two diamonds.

The company covers the Panhandle, South Plains, parts of Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Others Are Honored

Besides Wilson and Anglin, members receiving awards for 25 years or more of service were William S. Jones of Lubbock and Homer S. Moss of Denver City, 27 years each; J. B. Morrisset and Samuel H. Batton, both of Lubbock; L. Bilbrey of Denver City, and Leonard D. Moss of Seagraves, all 26 years; and George A. Stallworth of Levelland, and Marvin K. Young of Ralls, 25 years each. Medallions for these men were studded with two rubies.

Besides guests from several South Plains towns, a number of company officials from Amarillo were also present. Some of those were L. A. Lacy, assistant comptroller; Roy Tolk, statistical engineer; Victor O. Shawgo, personnel director; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Annett, editors of The Southwesterner, employe publication of the company; and Edward G. Weber, advertising manager.

Ernest F. St. Clair, jr., of Lubbock, commercial manager here, assisted Ausman in the presentation of awards.

Other awards went to: Carl Wilson, John A. Burns, and Elsie V. Link, all of Lubbock, 24 years of service; Samuel H. Campbell and John H. Austin, both of Lubbock, 23 years of service; Edgar Horner of Seagraves, 22 years; Sadie B. Bownds of Lubbock, 21 years; Wilbur L. Pearson of Lubbock, and Gordon R. Hammond of Levelland, 20 years.

Sidney M. Wadley of Lubbock, 18 years; Willis G. Clarke of Tahoka, Horace C. Taylor of Seagraves, and Benjamin E. Elliston of Denver City, 14 years; Harry N. Stone of Seminole, 13 years; Eugene M. Copp, Tom Z. Ogg, and George R. Bunton, all of Lubbock, and Daniel L. Cass and Clarence A. Heald, both of Levelland, 12 years; C. Curtis Campbell and Wallace S. Pool, both of Lubbock, and J. Lewis Hollingsworth of Slaton, 11 years;

Yancy L. Wright of Denver City, Joel R. Blocker of Crosbyton, and Travis W. Thomas of Seagraves, ten years; Thomas J. Clark of Lubbock, and Patten McFarland and King W. Collins, both of Denver City, nine years; Johnnie Reasonover, Marvin O. Tudor, and Walter F. Young, all of Denver City; and Sam Mitchell, negro, of Lubbock, eight years; Annie C. Reynolds and J. Earl Bloodworth, both of Lubbock, and James L. Patrick, jr., and Raymnold M. Goeth, both of Denver City, six years; Jeff V. Monk and Conley D. Hart, both of Denver City, Viola B. Cunningham of Levelland; Jasper M. Edwards of Seagraves, and Ted R. Hibbs of Post, five years.

Awards to Bilbrey, Burns, Miss Bownds, Pearson, Ellis on, McFarland, Young, Goeth, Monk, and Cunningham, were made in absentia.

ped off the plane.

The vice president commented as he gestured at the large group of newsmen, photographers and well-wishers:

"I see you have quite a committee with you."

"Yes, but I think we're among friends," Mrs. Hadley replied.

Barkley said "No kidding" when his fiencee declared "Gee, I'm glad to see you" and he added:

"Well, you know we're going to have to be circumspect now."

Mentions New Car

When Mrs. Hadley roguishly mentioned that she had a new automobile, Barkley retorted in mock suspicion:

"You have! Who gave you a new car? I'm the suspicious type, you know."

Then the "Veep" and his bride-to-be who was wearing a black broadtail fur jacket over a gray wool suit, black pumps, white gloves and no hat, climbed into the convertible with Mrs. Hadley behind the wheel and roared away at an estimated 75 miles an hour.

Shortly before the airliner landed at 3 p. m. (CST), Mrs. Hadley told newsmen, "This is my day," but she refused to answer any other questions.

Meanwhile, a guest who glimpsed the bride-to-be's "top-secret" wardrobe revealed that Mrs. Hadley's trousseau includes an ermine wrap.

Clothers Are Secret

Details of the attractive 38-year-old widow's wedding dress and going-away clothes have been kept a closely-guarded secret by Mrs. Hadley and her friends.

R. C. Coburn, St. Louis attorney who is a close family friend said that a description of her bridal attire will not be released to newsmen until a half-hour before the ceremony.

Mrs. Hadley has spent little time at her hame since the announcement of her engagement to the most romantic vice president in the nation's history.

She managed to squeeze in an appointment at a beauty parlor this morning but ducked all other engagements.

Mrs. Hadley and the 71-year-old "Veep" will be wed at St. John's Methodist church but their vows will not include the word "obey." It is not included in the revised Methodist matrimonial ritual which Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis will read.

It also was reported that the trousseau shown to close friends last night at the home of Mrs. T. M. Sayman included an expensive brown frock to be worn by Mrs. Hadley's mother at the church ceremony.

Her father, Roy Rucker, who is invalided in Kansas City, will not attend, but her two daughters, Anne and Jane, are numbered among the 34 close relatives invited.

One of the guests at the private showing said that one of the slips bought by Mrs. Hadley was quite expensive and occasioned a low whistle later from one of the plain clothesmen stationed at the Sayman home.

"When I told my wife about the price, she said it was unusual to pay that much for a slip," he confided. "I thought so, too."

cycle and was driving a Town and Country model Chrysler sedan.

Held In Amarillo Jail

Although the suspect was lodged in Potter county jail officials pointed out that the shooting actually had taken place in adjoining Randall county. The boundary line between the two counties runs through the outlying section of the city at a point about four blocks from the scene of the shooting.

Young Mann, charged with murder with malice, was arraigned before Randall county Justice of the Peace Mrs. W. J. Flesher. He was ordered held in denial of bond.

Sadler said police patrolmen, working on a hunch, spotted Mann as he was about to enter the bus station. He started to run as officers approached him inside the building, it was reported, but apparently changed his mind after he had taken several steps, and surrendered.

The suspect had not purchased a ticket in the station, Sadler said.

Road blocks were thrown up by the Texas Highway patrol and local police of the several communities at Clarendon, Canyon, Panhandle and Groom, and between Amarillo and Dumas.

The slain man was employed occasionally as a painter.

decision had been reached and that the story did not come from any responsible source in the government.

The chief executive criticized members of the congressional economy bloc, declaring that it is easy enough for legislators to demand economies when they don't have to wrestle with the budget themselves.

He added that he sent Congress a tight budget last January, but that several billion dollars more than he recommended, had been tacked on to the government spending program at the very time a lot of congressmen were yelling for economies.

Promises Tight Budget

Mr. Truman declined to estimate the size of his next budget recommendation other than to say it will be a tight budget and an honest budget.

The President refused to say whether the next budget would be larger than the $41.9 billion expenditure budget submitted last January. Revised estimates have now increased that budget to $43.5 billion.

brought the U. S.-Chinese issue to a head and doubtless was discussed during the White House conference.

The meeting was attended by the President, Secretary of State Acheson, Undersecretary Webb, Assistant Secretary W. Walton Butterworth, Ambassadors Philip C. Jessup and J. Leighton Stuart, and special China adviser Raymond B. Fosdick and Everett C. Case.

The White House said Jessup will head the Thailand conference, to be held at the capital city of Bangkok. The announcement declared the parley "will have as its object a general review of the situation" in the Far East.

Ship Attack Clarified

In another troublesome Chinese incident—shelling of an American merchantman by a Nationalist gunboat—the State department today received a report from its Shanghai consulate that the vessel was fired on after it ignored an order to remain at anchor.

Shanghai reported that the ship, the Isbrandtsen line's Flying Cloud, stopped and anchored after a warning shot was fired across its bow. The report continued:

Chinese naval officers boarded the vessel and instructed it to remain anchored while they sought further instructions from their superiors. Apparently the Flying Cloud ignored this instruction and did proceed, whereupon the gunboat opened fire."

More than 300 shells were fired, inflicting some damage to the vessel but causing no casualties.

Soviets May Be Involved

McDermott, in placing responsibility for Ward's imprisonment, said "it may that freedom of action of the Chinese Communists is more restricted in Manchuria than in other areas of China under their control."

Pressed by newsmen as to whether he meant Russia is exercising control in Manchuria, McDermott said they could draw their own conclusions.

Jessup will leave for Bangkok as soon as he completes his work as a member of the U. S. delegation to the current General Assembly of the United Nations. He will visit Tokyo and other cities enroute and will return by way of India and Pakistan.

Further complicating the Far Eastern situation is the probability that Britain will recognize the Chinese Communist regime. Acheson has said the U. S. should not consider such recognition in view of the Ward imprisonment.

Senate Republican leader Wherry, of Nebraska, said he agreed with Acheson but added that British recognition would mean that the English "would be trading with Communist China and getting the profits." He added:

"It would be a question of whether you want to put profits over principle."

Federal Action

and when the time comes, he will use the Taft-Hartley statute and all the laws on the books.

However, the chief executive asserted that there is no national emergency yet that calls for use of the Taft-Hartley act.

He was asked whether a coal shutdown Dec. 1 would create a national emergency and whether that is the date when the government will go into action.

The President said he could not answer the question and that the newsmen would have to wait until Dec. 1.

The miners returned to work last Thursday under a three-week strike truce which expires at midnight Nov. 30. They were idle for 52 days prior to the truce.

Contract negotiations between the union and the mine owners were broken off more than three weeks ago and federal mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching turned the coal controversy over to the White House Wednesday. He said further mediation efforts would be useless.

Earlier it was expected that Mr. Truman would appoint a special panel to investigate the dispute and recommend a settlement. This procedure paved the way for a negotiated peace in the steel industry.

The President told newsmen, however, that he is not planning any action in the coal case like the steel procedure.

The United Mine workers president said that the 375,000 soft coal diggers who returned to work last Thursday after 52 days of idleness will leave the pits again Nov. 30 unless a new contract is signed by then.

Austrian Pact Ta'ks

ject was the Austrian peace treaty while Vishinsky limited himself to smiling broadly and replying to correspondents that everything "including the weather" had been discussed.

It is understood on reliable authority that Vishinsky promised to place the McNeil appeal for agreement before the Kremlin and reply as early as possible.

The conversation between McNeil and Vishinsky was carried on through the Russian interpreter. Sitting nearby but not participating was A. A. Arutinuian, one of the chief members of the Russian UN delegation.

"Fill In" Promised

McNeil indicated he would "fill in" both the United States and French delegations on the gist of his private confab with Vishinsky.

The impromptu consultation considerably brightened prospects for the important initial break in the cold war which appears imminent with information available here that four-power agreement on the Austrian peace treaty is expected within ten days.

The signing of an Austrian treaty would represent an important break in the cold war. It would require Russia, the United States, Britain and France to withdraw their troops from the occupied country within a specified period.

For the Soviet Union, it would entail withdrawal of all but communication line units from the entire Danubian valley — Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania.

Quick Action Seen

A top American source said that barring eleventh-hour reversals in the Russian attitude, the treaty should be ready for the council of foreign ministers before the end of the month. An important meeting of the deputies is set for New York tomorrow afternoon.

Russian sources at Lake Success admitted that an Austrian peace treaty might be ready for agreement within ten days to two weeks. UN delegates are convinced such a development could be the first big break in the cold war, despite unabated clashes between East and West in Assembly debates.

Three Survive

Force base issued a revised list of survivors in which Lt. Warren Sharrock, of Jamestown, Calif., was listed among the missing and presumed dead. Known survivors were lasted as:

Frank D. Schmidt, Spokane: S/Sgt. Robert S. Kluge, Spokane, and Pfc Keith R. Burns, Boise, Ida.

They were brought to Stockton's naval annex hospital and later transferred to the Fairfield-Suisun Air base near Sacramento. None was injured seriously.

The sheriff's office at Stockton originally reported that Lieutenant Sharrock was one of the survivors but a day-long search for the Air Force officer proved fruitless and he was listed among the missing.

Officer's Body Found

Just before nightfall all doubt as to the fate of Sharrock was dispelled when a body identified by authorities as that of the Air Force lieutenant was removed from the B-29 wreckage on Rindge tract.

Sharrock's name apparently was mentioned by Sergeant Kluge when the sergeant, dazed and mud-spattered, stumbled into the home of a fishing resort operator and reported the crash to Mrs. Margaret Kenyon and her husband.

When sheriff's deputies obtained Sharrock's name they erroneously listed the lieutenant as a survivor.

Woman Heard Crashes

Mrs. Kenyon, who had heard the terrifying crashes, said that the Air Force crewman who came to her home was "so shocked and dazed we hardly understood him when he asked to use the telephone."

She quoted the airman as saying: "The other plane smacked right into us."

"Oh, the poor, poor boy," Mrs. Kenyon said. "I gave him a cup of hot coffee and he stood there just staring at us, drinking the coffee and not knowing whether it was coffee or water."

One of the bombers in the tragic twin crash struck the earth about 300 yards from a Mexican crop laborers' camp. Terrified residents of the camp told a sheriff's officer they felt the ground shake and thought it was an earthquake.

Stroble Confesses

torney if Stroble felt there was anything wrong with him or if he might be insane.

"No," said Simpson, "he says he's all right."

The district attorney said Stroble related that the girl was all bundled up in the blanket when he dragged her out to the incinerator area.

Doctor To Examine Prisoner

Simpson said that immediately after the questioning is completed Stroble will be taken to Dr. Marcus Crahan, county jail physician, for a physical examination. The official said he wanted this done to be sure that there would be no possible charge later that Stroble has been mistreated. He also said Stroble would be given a mental examination.

The district attorney said that the transcript of Stroble's lengthy statement will not be released today.

Stroble, his grey suit grease-stained, was nervous as he entered Simpson's office, but his face wore a contemptuous smile.

Thus ended a far-flung international search for the baker, already a bond jumper on a previous charge of molesting a 10-year-old girl last April. He had fled to Mexico then, it developed, returning only a week ago to the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Hausman, whose daughter, Rochelle, was Linda's frequent playmate. They lived across the street from Linda's house.

He had been missing since the axe-slashed body of little Linda was found, wrapped in a blanket, in a pile of boxes behind the home of his daughter early today.

A sharp-eyed laundry deliveryman, Bill Miller, pointed Stroble out to a rookie cop in a bar a few doors from busy Pershing square, the city's downtown park.

Opening Blast Fired In Perjury Trial Of Labor Leader Bridges

By CONSTANCE HITCHCOCK
INS Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The government fired its opening blast today in the criminal perjury trial of Harry Bridges and promised that it will prove the CIO labor leader was a member of the Communist party.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert McMillan told a San Francisco federal court jury that the government will produce a number of witnesses to show that Bridges joined the Communist party under the name Harry Dorgan, the family name of his mother, in 1933 or early in 1934.

Perjury Charge Made

The Australian-born Bridges and two of his top aides in the CIO longshoremen's unoin, Henry Schmidt and J. R. Robertson, are accused of testifying falsely under oath to hide Bridges' alleged membership in the Communist party when he was naturalized in 1945. They are charged with criminal perjury and conspiracy to defraud the government.

Chief Defense Counsel Vincent Hallinan, in his opening statement to the jury, charged that "this trial is an old story—the third inquiry against Bridges." This was a reference to the two deportation hearings in which Bridges won a clean bill of health from immigration department examiners.

Red Witnesses Promised

McMillan informed the jury that the government's witnesses include men and women belonging to labor organizations and to the Communist party. He said the witnesses were in position to testify positively that Bridges was a Communist.

One of the witnesses, the prosecutor declared, will be "the Communist party member commissioned to solicit the membership of Bridges, and who procured Bridges' signature" on a party membership card.

McMillan stated that another government witness will be the "unit organizer to whom Bridges' membership book was given" for more direct delivery to the district membership secretary.

Further Promises Made

McMillan even promised that the government will produce evidence that Bridges attended "top faction Communist meetings restricted to party members."

And he said the government will show that Bridges, using the name of Rossi, was elected to the central committee of the Communist party in the U. S. in 1936 and again in 1938.

McMillan told the jury Bridges was an active Communist party member to such an extent that he once was threatened with expulsion and was later disciplined by the party.

As for Schmidt and Robertson, who were Bridges' sponsors at the 1945 naturalization hearing, McMillan asserted that the government would prove they also were Communists who attended party meetings with Bridges. He said all three had agreed to deny that any one of them was a member of the Red party.

Mass 'Lying' Predicted

Defense Attorney Halliman brushed aside McMillan's charges and predicted that the government would present at least 125 witnesses. He charged that most of these would be "lying" from various motives.

Halliman declared that a conspiracy exists against Bridges which "has its taproots in greed, hate and malice." This conspiracy, he charged, grew out of the "bloody waterfront strike led by Bridges in San Francisco in 1934."

A jury satisfactory to the government and the defense was finally chosen this morning.

Eight men and four women jurors, plus four alternates, were seated in the jury box when opposing attorneys indicated their approval of the jury as it stood midway in the fourth day of proceedings.

Alternate Jurors Selected

Federal Judge George B. Harris ordered the selection of four alternate jurors because the trial is expected to last several months. At the outset of proceedings Monday, Judge Harris estimated the trial would continue for eight weeks, possibly longer.

Selection of the jury was completed after the government had used three of its six peremptory challenges and the defense six of its 10 challenges.

U. S. Challenges Juror

As expected, the government exercised the third of its challenges to remove Seton W. Manning from the jury box. Manning graduate of Harvard uninversity, is secretary of the Urban League, an organization which promotes the advancement of colored people.

Attorneys for Bridges used one of their challenges to unseat Phil N. Lindquist; a civilian Navy machinist and secretary to an assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Lindquist told the court:

"I have been struggling with my conscience in the courtroom and at home at night as to whether I could be fair to the defendants."

Judge Harris complimented Lindquist for his honesty but excused him because the court did not believe he could be a dispassionate juror.

Justice Douglas Arrives In Arizona To Complete Recovery

TUSCON, Ariz., Nov. 17. (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas arrived here today for an Arizona vacation to complete recuperation from his fall from a horse last month while on a mountain trip.

Mrs. Douglas met her husband at the train. She had been here several days making arrangements for their stay at Rancho Tranquillo, 10 miles east of Tuscon.

Oil Company Completes Second Well In Kelley Field Extension

The Cities Service Oil Co., of Delaware has provided the second completion for the recent three-mile extension to the Kelley area of Scurry county.

Its Von Roeder No. 1 was completed Wednesday for a Texas Railroad commission potential of 1,124 barrels of oil daily through a ¾-inch choke. The well is bottomed at 6,735 feet, with a 110-foot penetration of the Canyon reef producing formation.

This marks another good producer completed by Cities Service in the Scurry county play.

Shivers Urged To Make Money Available For Fight On Foxes

MALAKOFF, Nov. 17 (AP)—County Judge James Spencer has requested Gov. Allan Shivers to make more money available for killing rabid foxes around Malakoff and in other parts of Henderson county.

Five cows in this East Texas area have died of hydrophobia and evidence indicates they were bitten by mad foxes.

Numerous owners of dogs have reported that their dogs have been engaged lately in fights with foxes.

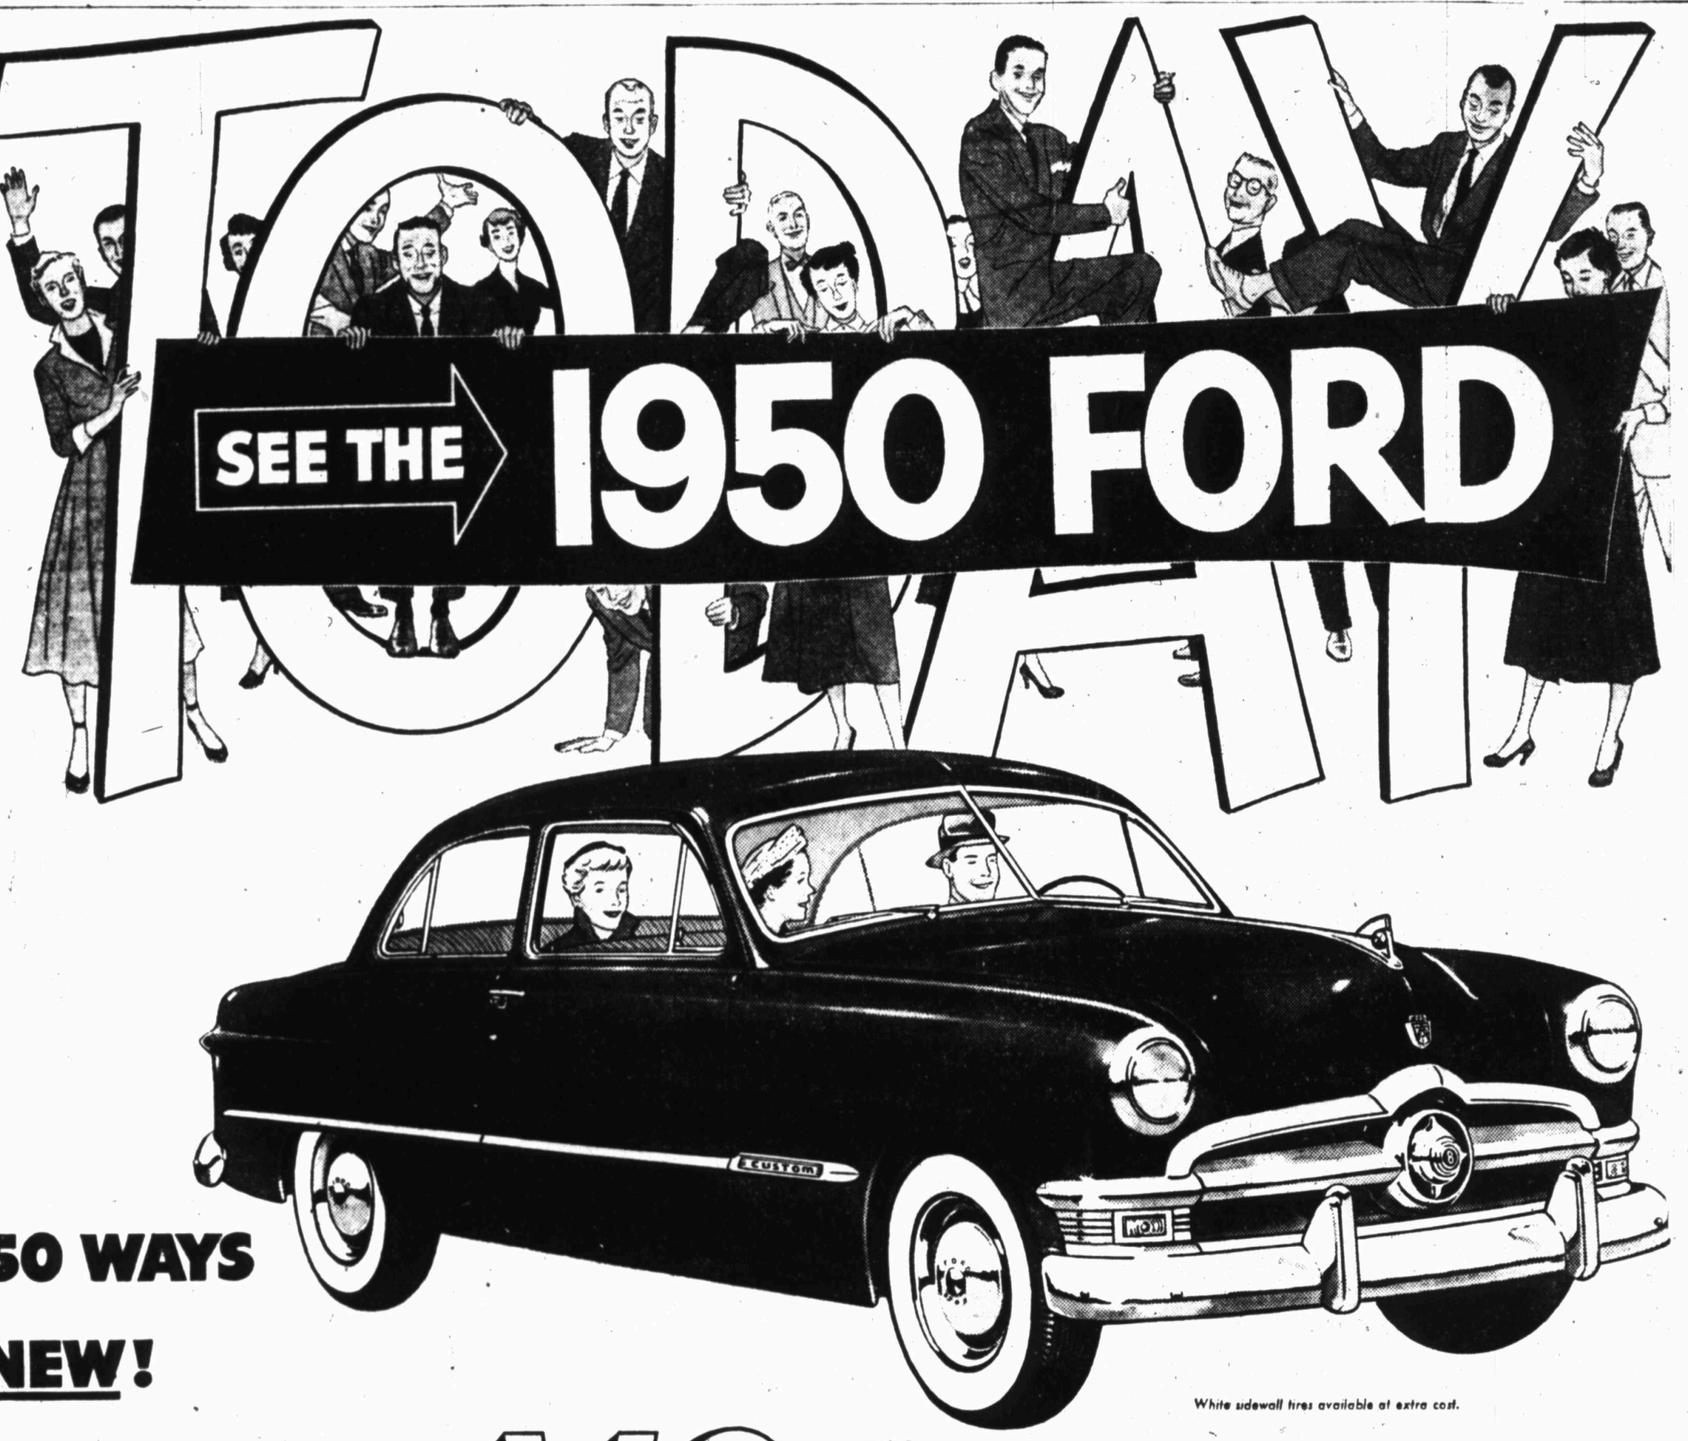

TRAMPS GET SMART

FALL RIVER, Mass. (U.P)—Bums and drunks have found a new way to beat the price of a flop house. Police have found them getting into unlocked autombiles on used car lots and curling up for some sleep in the rear seat.

Reeves Studio Opens Enlarged Camera And Photography Plant

Several hundred persons last night were shown through the enlarged Reeves camera store and photography plant at 1717-1719 Broadway.

The open house last night was by invitation only, and was attended by old friends and customers of the firm.

The general public is invited to attend an open house tonight at the plant. A broadcast over station KCBD will originate from there between 7:30 and 7:45 o'clock tonight.

Reeves now has approximately 10,000 square feet of floor space in its plant, and is one of the most modern equipped plants of its kind in the Southwest.

The new building which was recently completed and which adjoins the original Reeves plant houses the camera store, engraving plant, and wholesale photo finishing departments. In the old portion of the building, which has been completely remodeled, are located the portrait and commercial photography departments.

Last night, a four-tier birthday cake was served to those attending the open house. In addition to celebrating the opening of the new store, Reeves also is celebrating the completion of 12 successful years in business in Lubbock. Refreshments are to be served tonight.

Winston Reeves is owner and general manager of the firm.

FISHERS USE VOLTS

Two German inventors have an electrical device for sea fishing, using two electrodes, one with a varying positive voltage which would work on a fish's spine, causing it to swim into a net.

MISS EVERYTHING — Winner of assorted titles ranging from "Miss Sharp Look of 1949" to the Marine Corps' First Division designation as "Miss Gung Ho," pretty Margaret Phelan has earned the encompassing title of "Miss Everything." MEETING IS POSTPONED

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—A meeting announced for today to organize a world peace center at Hiroshima, Japan, has been postponed until November 24. The Reverend Garland Hopkins, associate secretary of the Methodist board of Missions, said the postponement was due to the inability of some committee members to attend today's session.

SHIVERS COMMENDS WORK

Work Progresses On Texas' New Building Program For Prison

AUSTIN, Nov. 17 (AP) — Completion and occupancy of one-third of the Texas prison system's new isolation cell block—key building in the modernization program—is expected by late spring or early summer.

The plans were announced in a progress report by the system to Gov. Allan Shivers, released here today.

The cell block, located at Huntsville, is to segregate incorrigible inmates, not now possible with existing facilities. Money for the cell block and other improvements was made available to the system by the last legislature.

Gov. Shivers said he was gratified with the work accomplished to date and complimented "superior leadership" of general manager O. B. Ellis.

The report to the governor said several other of the program's buildings are now under construction, others to be started at an early date, while still others with low priority remaining in the planning stage.

Most of the construction will be at Huntsville where, besides the cell block, there is to be built an industrial building, a textile mill, carpenter and paint shop, laundry and bath house, craft shop, completion of the prison store and guards' dormitory, housing units, adequate boiler facilities, and repairs to existing buildings.

Over the scattered farm system the projects will consist of housing units, laundry and bath houses, livestock buildings and equipment, detention fences, trusty buildings, guards' dormitories, refrigeration facilities, water wells and repairs to existing buildings.

Eight living units have been completed and occupied to date, the report said. These units were to house supervisory personnel. Four other units are under construction.

In all locations, full use of prison-made masonry products such as brick and tile was reported.

Amarillo Man Shot, Another Caught In Santa Fe Burglary

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 17 (INS) — One man was shot and another surrendered to Santa Fe police today when they were surprised in the act of burglarizing a Santa Fe warehouse.

William I. Pate, 53, Amarillo, was shot through the chest when he tried to break through a cordon of Santa Fe police surrounding the warehouse of Gross-Kelly company.

His companion, identified as Ray B. Hood, 24, Big Spring, surrendered to police after Pate was shot. Pate's wound was described as "not serious."

The men were surprised while trying to break open a safe at the warehouse by a merchant policeman. He summoned Santa Fe police, who surrounded the warehouse.

Police said the pair had broken into three other buildings, obtaining $310 in cash prior to their capture.

Police added that Pate and Hood will be charged with burglary.

Sewanee University Alumni Honor President At Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP)—Dr. Boylston Green, recently installed president of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., was honor guest here tonight at a dinner given by Dallas alumni.

He presented a silver key to A. P. Wooldridge of Dallas, an 1899 graduate, for 50 years of service as a Sewanee graduate in his community.

Dr. Green, formerly an instructor of English at the University of Texas, was president of Emerson college in Boston before going to Sewanee. He and his wife plan to go on to Austin tomorrow.

Accompanying Dr. Green and his wife were Capt. and Mrs. Wendell F. Kline. Kline is vice president of Sewanee. During the war he was commanding officer of Cabinass school at Corpus Christi.

FURTHER CHANGES UNLIKELY

Federal Agency Defends Present System For Control Of Aircraft

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (U.P.)—The Civil Aeronautics administration today stoutly defended its aircraft control system and said it intends to change it only when "the need is shown."

CAA officials said they are "convinced there is nothing basically wrong with our present system of aircraft traffic control" despite the tragic collision of a P-38 and an airliner and a series of "near misses" in the Washington area.

"We are making a constant study and have been for months, of aircraft control problems," one official said. "We change our regulations only as the need arises."

He added that CAA does not propose to "make any further changes" beyond the ban, announced yesterday, against the use of the Washington national airport by military combat planes.

The ban stemmed from the fateful Nov. 1 airport accident in which a P-38 fighter, piloted by Bolivian ace Erick Rio Bridoux, crashed into an Eastern Air Lines DC-4. All 55 persons aboard the big plane perished in the worst disaster in the history of civil aviation.

Since then, there have been at least three reported near misses between civil and military craft in the same general area.

The latest took place Monday over Dahlgren, Va., site of a naval ordinance proving ground.

Capt. Hasson Calloway, pilot of a Eastern Air Lines DC-3 reported that he almost collided with a military plane. The Navy explained that he had flown into the base's restricted danger zone where intermittent anti-aircraft practice had been going on and that a Navy plane flew alongside the transport to obtain its number.

The CAA announced its ban on further use of National airport by military planes in identical letters to Maj. Gen. Maurice Kuter, commanding general of the Military Air Transport services and Vice-Adm. C. T. Burgin, deputy chief of naval operations for air.

Granting Of Trial Date Spikes Temple-Agar Reconciliation Talk

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—Reports that blond movie star Shirley Temple would reconcile with her actor-husband, John Agar, were dashed when the one-time child actress was granted a trial date for her divorce.

Miss Temple learned yesterday that her suit would come up Dec. 5, and her attorney said a property settlement was nearly completed.

The curly-haired, 21-year-old star accused her husband of four years of mental cruelty in the suit filed Oct. 13.

AFRICA SUFFERS DROUGHT

So severe was South Africa's drought this year that a spring in the village of Peddie which had not failed for over 100 years, since Fort Peddie was established, dried up.

SCOUT COMES THROUGH

QUINCY, Wash. (U.P.)—A 14-year-old Boy Scout who hiked four miles for help after an automobile accident injured two companions was found to have suffered a punctured lung. Officers said it was two hours after Leroy Abbott made his hike before it was discovered he was seriously injured.

Work will start soon on the world's largest reservoir on the White Nile in Africa.

GIRL FIGHTS FOR VISION

Operation To Save Sight Of Last Eye In Family Called Successful

BY GEORGE L. SCOTT
INS Staff Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17.—A miracle in preventive surgery for Mary Hope Hodgdon, Portland's "last eye" girl, was declared successful today by the chief surgeon at the Elk's eye clinic.

Blind parents of the 12-year-old girl, who had lost sight in her left eye, were overjoyed when told at the hospital that their daughter had every chance of retaining vision in her good right eye.

Mary Hope has been the "eyes" of her parents ever since she was old enough to talk and read.

Girl Waves Goodbye

Promptly at 7:10 a.m. (CST) the cheerful little girl waved goodbye to her hospital ward companions and was wheeled into surgery by nurses of the Doernbecher Children's hospital.

After 45 minutes on the operating table, the surgeon announced that the surgery was completed "perfectly" and without the slightest evidence of hemorrhage.

It was the risk of a sight-destroying hemorrhage that prompted the surgeon to make the pre-operation warning:

"It is a dangerous operation, but what there is to be gained far offsets what will be lost if the operation is not performed."

Following the operation, he said with satisfaction:

"It looks like we have the cystic-area properly treated. It will be 10 days before we will know certainly. During that time bandages will be changed but no attempt will be made to look into the eye.

"We consider the patient is past immediate danger of complications."

Absolute quiet for Mary Hope was imposed by her doctor. Only her parents will be allowed to visit briefly during the critical days in which the newly created weld-like adhesions around the edge of her retina are healing.

She will be permitted to turn her head slowly to ease the tiresome monotony but the utmost care must be taken to guard against any jarring movement.

Prior Surgery Noted

According to the surgeon, today's surgery was not as extensive as the first half of the operation last June.

Still it required 15 penetrations of a fine hair-like electric needle to the very surface of the chorold—the layer of blood vessels that feed the retina—to cause the pinpoint irritations which form the nucleus of the important adhesions.

Without this treatment the destructive cysts would pry the smooth sight-recording membrane from the back of the eyeball and cause blindness. It was this type of growth that caused Mary Hope's left eye to go blind and brought darkness to her mother early in life. Her father was blinded in a powder blast.

Mary Hope will be given a special temporary "blinder" type of glass when she is released to come home, read a small mountain of mail from well wishers and eventually return to school.

Dog Sledder Reports 'All's Fine'—On Cross-Country Trip

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—Cross-continent dog sledder Cecil Moore camped at Aurora lodge near the Salchaket river, 39 miles south of here last night as the temperature dipped to 10 degrees below zero.

Moore, who is bound for Lewiston, Maine, told United Press Correspondent Al Bramstedt he had suffered no hardships and "all is fine."

At the Salchaket river, he was met by members of the Fairbanks Lions club who gave him a .30-30 rifle to protect himself against wolves and bears.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist, and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS INCREASING

One Out Of Four Aged Persons Getting Federal And State Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Almost one of every four aged persons in the United States is on public assistance rolls.

State and federal aid for the needy aged (65 and over) declined sharply during the war but is now increasingly rapidly. The main reasons are the growing population of elderly persons and a general trend for states to pay larger benefits.

During August 1949 some 2,661,000 persons received a total of $116,643,611 in old-age assistance payments. This was 22 percent more than the total paid in August 1948 and 300 percent more than the $36,548,000 disbursed in August of pre-war 1939.

For the country as a whole the average payment last August was $43.83 per recipient. That's more than double the average of $19.36 in August 1939, when prices of food and other necessities were much lower than now.

Payments Boosted

Several states this year boosted their maximum payments of old age assistance. The maximum was increased in Illinois from $45 to $65, in Maine from $40 to $50, in Michigan from $60 to $80, in Nebraska from $50 to $55, in North Dakota from $40 to $60 and in Tennessee from $45 to $50.

Alaska increased its maximum from $60 to $80, New York has no fixed limitation on payments to the needy aged, and Connecticut eliminated its maximum this year.

Several states have eliminated residence requirements for recipients. Others have reduced the period of required residence. Some states have increased and others have lessened the responsibility of relatives to care for destitute elderly people.

Average monthly payments ranged recently from a low of $18.81 in Mississippi to a high of $70.70 in California. Colorado had the second highest, $67.02. Washington state was third with $66.87.

Proportion Varies

The proportion of elderly people receiving assistance varies greatly in the states. In Louisiana 791 of every 1,000 persons 65 and over were receiving payments, and in Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas more than 400 per 1,000.

At the same time fewer than 100 aged persons per 1,000 were on the assistance rolls in Connecticut, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Virginia.

Factors in the wide differences between the states are general economic conditions, the proportion of persons receiving benefits under old age and survivors insurance and the ability of children to care for destitute parents.

Some people confuse old age assistance with old age insurance.

Persons who receive assistance payments do not contribute toward them.

Under old age insurance employes and employers make monthly contributions. These later provide monthly payments for retired employes regardless of their needs.

U. S. Aids States

Some welfare authorities contend that widening the coverage and increasing the benefits under old age insurance would go far in reducing the need for old age assistance.

A. J. Altmeyer, social security commissioner, says old age insurance "ought to absord enough of old age assistance so that the federal government would not be required to participate in financing public assistance."

Recently some 10 percent of the persons of the persons receiving old age insurance benefits were also getting old age assistance. That was because their insurance benefits (national average about $25 a month) were not enough to keep them from the ranks of the needy.

The social security law provides federal grants-in-aid to the states to cover a share of the cost of old age assistance. Each state determines for itself who is eligible for assistance and also the cash amount to be given each person.

Under present law the federal share is $15 of the first $20 of the average payment per person, plus one-half the balance up to a maximum of another $30 on individual payments — that is, another $15.

Bill Passed By House

A bill passed by the House at the last session of Congress would increase federal contributions, particularly in states where the payment levels are low. It will be considered by the Senate at the next session.

The bill provides that the federal share be $20 of the first $25 of the average payment, plus $5 of the next $10 and $5 of the next $15.

The maximum federal contribution thus would remain $30 per recipient, but states with average payments between $20 and $30 would be able to raise their payments as much as $5 per person.

The federal government does not now contribute to assistance payments made to needy aged people residing in public institutions. The bill would have the government share the cost of payments to such persons except those in institutions for mental disease and tuberculosis.

Payment for aid of dependent children also have been increasing rapidly. In Augus a total of $40,230,000 was paid to help 1,402,033 dependent children in 551,716 families — an increase of 33.5 percent over payments in August 1948.

Blind Receive Pay

The federal governn.ent shares the cost up to a maximum of $27 for one child and $18 for each additional dependent child. It says three-fourths of the first $12 of the average payment per child and one-half the balance. A proposed new law would provide a payment also to the relative with whom the dependent child is living.

Total state and federal payments to the blind in August were $4,108,012, an increase of 18 percent over the amount paid in August 1948. Some 90,000 blind persons received payments averaging $45.39.

Proposed legislation would provide for federal funds to match assistance payments to medical practitioners for treatment of blind persons. The total monthly amount paid to a blind individual would not exceed $50.

Payments for all kinds of public aid — federal, state and local — reached a peak of $304,000,000 in December 1938, when WPA and other public works projects were in operation. The defense program and subsequent war production boom brought public aid payments below $100,000,000 a month in 1943.

Public assistance has climbed quite steadily since the war. It was near the $200,000,000 a month mark recently, according to the social security administration.

ADDITIONAL SERVICES URGED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (INS)—A Civil Aeronautics board examiner recommended today additional commercial airline service between Los Angeles and Hawaii. The examiner, Ralph L. Wiser, urged CAB to allow United Airlines to fly passengers, cargo and mail between these two points.

Third Accident In Year Sends Texas Youth To Dallas Hospital

EASTLAND, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—Don Martin, 14, rapidly becoming known here as a hard-luck youngster, was under treatment in a Dallas hospital today for a brain concussion he received in a fall from a jeep.

An Eastland High school freshman, Don was en route to a scout meeting when he fell from the vehicle, striking his head on the pavement. He was taken to the Dallas hospital yesterday.

The accident was the third this year for Martin, son of Mrs. Frank Martin.

Earlier he fractured a leg while swimming near the spillway of Eastland dam. As soon as he was able to cast aside his crutches from that inqjury, he resumed his swimming. Then, a dive off the high board at the local swimming pool returned him to the doctor He had broken both arms.

For many years Americans have sung of Greenland's icy mountains. Aside from those near the island's shores, however, no one has seen them, says the National Geographic Society. Interior mountains, if any, are covered by the Greenland ice cap.

GOP Needs Leaders, Less Ties With Big Business, Voters Say

By GEORGE GALLUP
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N J., Nov. 17—As Republican leaders cast about for a winning formula for 1950 and 1952, the public sees three main things wrong with the Republican party.

These are brought out in a survey in which a cross-section of the voters in all states spoke their minds to interviewers for the Institute. They said:

1—It's the party of Big Business; it's for the rich and does little for the poor. "They have passed no laws to help the working class," is a typical comment. Another voter called the G. O. P. "the financial party."

2—The leadership is unsatisfactory; the party needs new blood, new candidates. "The same men have been too long in the driver's seat," said one voter. "There are no new men around," he added.

3—The Republican platform is indefinite and wobbly; it lacks genuine liberalism, tries to copy the Democrats part of the time and oppose them the rest of the time.

Here is the way the survey came out:

"The Republican party has not won a presidential election since 1928. What do you yourself think is worng with the Republican party today?"

Big business party, all for rich, nothing for poor	23%
Poor leadership, need new blood, new candidates	20
Poor platform, indefinite, no liberalism, copy Democrats	13
Lack of drive, don't work hard enough, poorly organized	8
Not united	4
Nothing wrong	5
Miscellaneous	16
Don't know	16
	102%*

(*The table totals more than 100 per cent because some voters named more than one factor.)

Independent voters in the survey put the criticism of "big business party" in top place and also feel that the party leadership is unsatisfactory. The Independents hold the balance of power in national politics, and a Republican victory in 1950 would be virtually impossible without strong support for the party from the Independent group.

The Republican View

Republican voters themselves put emphasis on lack of leadership, but consider that alleged ties with big business are not a problem of the first order.

They put the platform and more energetic party organization ahead in importance.

Here are the criticisms voiced by the Republican rank and file:

Republicans Only

Poor leadership	24%
Poor platform	13
Lack of Drive	12
Big business party	12
Not united	7

Omen Of Recent Elections

The nationwide Democratic sweep in last week's elections, which had been foreshadowed repeatedly in Institute reports on party strength during the past year, started widespread speculation about the future of the Republican party. Republicans saw their brightest omen in the gubernatorial election in New Jersey, where the Republican incumbent Alfred E Driscoll won.

A program for the Republicans was recently set forth by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., of Massachusetts, who has become famous for his proposals to reform and improve the electoral system.

Senator Lodge sees a need for the Republican party to stress governmental efficiency, civil rights, and a broad program of social legislation.

Father Seeks Degree After Sending Four Children To College

ABILENE, Nov. 17 (Special) — Victor Ortiz, 58 year old sophomore ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons university from San Antonio, has sent four of his children through college. Now he is working for a diploma himself.

Until ofter 1935, Ortiz was not able to read and write. So, from '35-'40 he went to night school for three hours every night, after working all day.

Night School Urged

Ortiz had circulated the petition to start the night school in that section of San Antonio, and by 1940, there were 937 adult students enrolled.

Not content with their high school diplomas, Ortiz helped send his children to receive their college degrees. A daughter, Mary, went to Southwestern and is now a registered nurse; a son, Joe, graduated at Texas university as a mechanical engineer; another son, Arthur, received his architectural engineering degree from Texas A. & I. From St. Mary's university in San Antonio, his other daughter, Vera, received her lab technician rating.

The twins, Stella and Evangeline, who decided to go to beauty school, now have a beauty shop in San Antonio. All are married but the twins.

Long Gap Bridged

It was a long gap to bridge for Victor and his wife when they started to college at Hardin-Simmons in 1946 on a scholarship, and Ortiz is determined nothing shall stand between him and that longed-for sheepskin.

For several years, Ortiz and his wife worked from twelve noon to 9:30 each night at one of the local hotels, then came home to sit up late preparing for the next day's assignment. This year Mrs. Ortiz was unable to continue her college career.

Taken out of school in the third grade, Ortiz was brought to Texas as a baby. It was so long that he thought he was born an American citizen until it was painfully brought to light that he wasn't in 1935 after he had fought in the first world war as a U. S. citizen. After special consideration, the federal judge granted Ortiz his citizenship papers so he could become a dynamite blaster for the government.

Canadian Fireman Inherits $600,000 From Hotel Owner

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 17 (INS) — Gilbert Campbell, Vancouver fireman, awoke today to find that he had inherited no less than $600,000.

Campbell's fortune came under terms of the will of James Thomson, former hotel owner, which had been sought for 11 months. Thomson, died a year ago, leaving $900,000

A lawyer dug up the will in old papers at a Vancouver real estate office. The courts already had been asked to order the estate split between two woman cousins of Thomson in Alberta on the grounds that he had died without leaving a will. Finding of the document changes that.

Campbell was a long-time friend of Thomson. Former employes of Thomson's hotel all will receive legacies, as will several other friends and several Vancouver charities.

Begging is considered a legitimate occupation in Chine. The Chinese even have a Beggars Guild with thousands of members.

Levelland Jaycees Plan Annual Follies Presentation Monday

LEVELLAND, Nov. 17. (Special) —Final plans are being made this week for presentation of the second annual "Jaycee Follies" here at 8 p. m. Monday in the Levelland High school auditorium.

Mrs. Bill Scott is director of the show, which will be primarily of a musical nature.

Much of the show is built around 12 "calendar girls" who are as follows:

Girls Are Listed

Donna Stevens, January; Lela Hill, February; Angie Flanagan, March; Christine Schrum, April; Helen Starr, May; Jackie Lowry, June; Betty Griffice, July; Maurine; Nunley, August; Mary Burks, September; Mrs. Jack McMillan, October; Hattie Collier, November; and Peggy Lowry, December.

Following the show, one of the 12 young women will be named "Miss Jaycee of 1949." Judges will be representatives from the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Shannon Rutherford will be a featured vocalist of the show. John R. Potts is to give readings, and Wanda Joy McDermett will be narrator.

Various members of the Levelland Jaycees will present a skit entitled "I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded."

Miss Mary Nell Lea is pianist for the production and Mrs. C. D. McKay will present several dance numbers.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Prices include federal tax.

One tree may have as much as 80 gallons of water evaporated from its eaves in a single day.

TURKEY SUPPLY BOOSTED

Bumper Crops Promise Lower Prices For Thanksgiving Foods

(By The Associated Press)

The harvest horn of plenty is overflowing with bumper supplies of good foods this Thanksgiving time. And with a few exceptions, prices are substantially lower than a year ago.

Shoppers planning for the big feast day next week will find turkeys, cranberries, celery, and chestnuts for stuffing all plentiful and cheaper. Vetgetables are abundant everywhere. And markets are groaning with other foods to round out the menu following bigger-than- average crops of apples, grapes, pears, raisins, almonds, walnuts, filberts and pecans.

Strawberries Are Available

This year there are even fresh strawberries and raspberries from California, available later in the season than usual in many stores across the nation. Honeydew and casaba melons, too.

The turkey crop is 29 per cent bigger this year than last, when retail prices reached an all-time high. Those high prices, combined with much lower costs for feed earlier this year, led farmers to boost their gobbler production considerably. The total is expected to reach 41 million birds—second biggest turkey crop on record.

A survey of several major cities shows retail prices for turkeys in the family sized weights—around 15 pounds—selling this week at an average range of 59 to 63 cents a pound. That's around 15 cents a pound cheaper than last year. Bigger turkeys average around 54 cents.

Price Somewhat Lower

Cranberries, about one-fifth more plentiful than in an average year, were retailing at 19 to 23 cents a pound this week, or about six cents below last year.

Meat dealers were clearing their coolers this week for the big pre-holiday flood of turkeys. And with trading in red meats slowing down prices were beginning to ease slightly also. However, retail price changes were narrow and irregular in most places compared with last week. Top grade eggs were up two cents a dozen in many places.

Poultry other than turkeys held about unchanged.

Coffee prices at the wholesale level took another spurt early in the week as roasters continued efforts to bring their selling prices into line with recent boosts in coffee bean quotations. The advances ranged from three to seven cents a pound—and one nationally advertised brand was hiked 13 cents in one move. Retail changes lagged well behind these wholesale increases.

Fort Worth's Traffic Toll For Year Given New Boost

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17 (AP)—Death in a hospital here today of Claude Smith, 44, formerly of Corsicana, brought to 36 the Fort Worth traffic fatality toll for the year.

He was injured in a collision here last Friday. Relatives said Smith refused treatment at a hospital for head injuries. He was found unconscious Sunday in his tourist cabin and taken to a hospital. He never regained consciousness.

BEES BEND ELBOW

After policemen at Alexandria, South Africa, dumped out the dregs of illicit liquor containers, following a raid on backyard "shebeens," thousands of bees, attracted by the odors, sipped the dregs, buzzed away drunkenly, collapsed on the ground and died.

A-Bomb Resistant House To Be Shown

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP) — Construction of an atom bomb-resistant house is one of the treats awaiting 4,500 real estate men who began arriving today for a six-day business and recreation session.

The big meeting will be that of the National Association of Real Estate boards which will hold its 42nd annual sessions Monday and Tuesday. But a number of affiliated groups are holding their conventions starting today.

The discussions will range from evualations of mortgage paper to a critical study session on city planning policies by 25 leaders in that field.

The modern home construction exhibit will be staged on a northwest side lot under sponsorship of Chicago realtors and AFL building trade unions. The house, an example of medium priced building, will feature new materials and construction methods.

It will be topped with a cement plaster roof, to be poured on wire lath. The mix will be pumped through a hose to the masons.

Sponsors of the project mentioned that this roof may be expected to give some protection against atom bombs, but they admitted the protection feature is relative and most effective when the bomb bursts are a considerable distance away.

Electra Residents Find Phone Useful

ELECTRA, Nov. 17. (AP)—Electra folk talk longer than most on the telephone.

D. M. Robb, manager of the Electra Telephone company, an independent concern, said a survey of the use of this city's 1,600 phones show that users here talk longer—when they get on a phone—than the national average.

The average call at Electra was 1.23 minutes, Robb said.

"But some calls," he added, "were clocked at a full hour."

Robb said a check of the hours of phone calls shows that Electra residents "get up early and stay up late."

SPELL CAUSES DEFEAT

Failure of the New Zealand All Blacks rugby team to impress in some of their games in South Africa was attributed by New Zealanders to a Maori spell cast on the team before it left home — because of a decision to exclude Maoris from the team.

Salvation Army Prepares For Annual Christmas Drive Here

BY CLIFF BLACKBURN
Avalanche Staff Writer

Final plans are underway here for the annual Salvation Army Christmas offensive.

The Salvation Army in Lubbock expects to help more than 300 families during the holidays with gifts of cash, clothing, food and toys, said Miss Jean Wilhite, 21-year-old secretary of the organization. More than 400 dolls have been ordered for the offensive.

"We are busy now preparing food baskets and repairing used toys to be donated to those who otherwise would find Christmas just another day of the year, only a little colder than most," Miss Wilhite explained. "Those we help do not have to be of any special religion or have to join our religious group," she said. "They just have to be poor."

Lubbock's "Army" takes care of the impoverished and needy of the surrounding 10 counties. The 15-man group is headed by Capt. Wesly T. Gregory, a minister in the Salvation Army. Most of the members are Lubbock residents with the exception of Bill Robertson of Waco, the Army's case worker.

The Army gets its financial ammunition from donations and an annual slice of the Community Chest. The money is used to help anyone in need. Last year, Miss Wilhite revealed, 881 individuals were given financial assisstance by the Army. Of these, 68 persons were Lubbockites.

The group, founded in 1865 by General William Booth, a Methodist minister, in London, is primarily a religious organization. "We believe in helping a person physically before trying to give him spiritual aid," Miss Wilhite said. "Although," she hastened to remark, "we make no moral demands of those we help. They can be of any religion and there are no strings attached to any benefits they receive."

The employes or "soldiers" in the Salvation Army are salaried, but their wages are far from extravagant. Miss Wilhite, a com-

MARCH OF DESPERATION — Thirty-five men, women and children who had been ordered to return from Western Germany to the Soviet zone after an illegal border crossing, march along a road near Celle, Germany, as they set out on a 250-mile journey to Bonn where they hope to win government permission to remain in Western Germany. Soon after the marchers started toward Bonn three women collapsed along the road and were taken to a hospital at Uelzen. The others said they hoped to obtain food during the trip by working for farmers en route. (AP Wirephoto.)

Crosbyton Soldier Participates In Joint Army-Navy Maneuvers

Cpl. Roy L. Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ellis of Route 1, Crosbyton, is participtating in exercise "Miki," a joint Army-Navy amphibious maneuver involving more than 50,000 troops.

Under the command of General Mark W. Clark, the operation, which will continue through November, is designed to maintain the armed forces at a high degree of efficiency.

Cpl. Ellis entered the Army in August, 1948, after attending Crosbyton High school.

Thirty Officers Seek Man Suspected In Station Robbery

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 17. (AP)—Thirty officers of Denton and Cooke county were searching the rich farm section of Cooke county near Era, 15 miles southwest of Gainesville today for a man suspected of staging an armed robbery of a service station at Denton.

The suspect escaped afoot after he had wrecked his automobile while being chased by Texas Ranger Lewis Rigler of Gainesville. A .38 revolver and a brown hat were found in the car.

Jack Hill, night attendant at the Denton station, said an armed man took $60 in money from him at gun point and forced him to lie on the station floor. Hill said the man was driving a 1936 or 1937 model black car.

Rigler, alerted shortly after the robbery, encountered a car answering the description on U. S. Highway 77, south of Valley View, and gave chase. The driver failed to negotiate a curve two miles northeast of Era and the car overturned.

Hill said the robber was five feet 10 inches tall, weighed about 140 pounds and appeared to be about 25 years of age. He wore a brown hat and brown leather jacket.

A man answering the same description robbed a service station on Harry Hines boulevard in Dallas about an hour before the Denton robbery, and stopped at two other service stations on the highway near Denton but made no robbery attempt at either.

Building Underway On Seminole School

SEMINOLE, Nov. 17. (Special) Construction is well underway on the new primary department and cafeteria for the Seminole schools and Supt. J. E. Edwards said this week that school officials hope to occupy the new building in time for the next September term.

The building is being built in three sections. The center unit will include two large dining rooms and a large central kitchen which will be fully equipped with the latest facilities to easily prepare meals for all school children.

One of the other wings will house children of the first grade in six classrooms, all of which will have about 1,000 square feet of loor space. Each room in this wing will be self contained with restrooms, work(AP) cabinets and wardrobes.

The third wing will include 11 classrooms and will be used for second and third grade students only.

The entire biulding will have special lighting facilities.

The unit is being built at a cost of about $485,000 which was provided for in a special bond issue voted by local school patrons. Gilstrap Construction Co., of Lubbock is the general contractor.

PRESSURE GROUPS ASKED TO CURB DEMANDS

Senator Urges 'Mass Movement' Of Americans To Encourage Greater Economy In U. S. Government

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—The chairman of a congressional economic subcommittee today urged a "mass movement" of Americans to dissuade the government from spending so much money and prevent a tax boost in 1950.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), who supports most of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program, called his proposal one for a "crusade of renunciation" by people wanting to get the government out of debt.

Spending Study To Start

Douglas made his proposal in an interview as the subcommittee began hearings aimed at breaking ground for charting the government's spending and tax course for next year. The senator declared:

"Let's have a great mass movement of not wanting the government to spend so much. We can reduce the federal deficit to the vanishing point and prevent higher taxes if various pressure groups put the national interest first.

"Let the rivers and harbors people come forth and say they will forego improvements this year. Let local chambers of commerce, road contractors, builders, federal employes and others come to the altar bearing their specific gifts (of renunciation)."

Douglas contended his plan would make it possible for the government to "get out of the red" in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. He said:

"After all, Congress can only be about as good as the people will let it be."

$6 Billion Deficit Seen

He estimated that the federal deficit will be more than $6 billion by the end of the present fiscal year, which is next June 30.

Senate GOP policy chief Taft, Ohio, has warned that this deficit would jump to $16 billion if the entire Truman program is put into effect next year.

But Douglas said the deficit could be wiped out if the federal budget now under preparation, would make the following cuts instead of calling for increases:

Military spending, $2 billion; foreign aid, $750 million; government personnel reductions, $750 million; Interior department restrictions, including roads, $100 million; greater post office efficiency, a $100 million saving.

Douglas recommended a boost in postal rates on second, third, and fourth class mail, to add $300 million to the federal purse.

The senator, a former college economics professor, pointed out the economies he proposed would bring savings to $4.3 billion.

Europeans Working Hard For Recovery, Morrow Reports

PARIS, Nov. 17 (AP)—Wright Morrow of Houston, Democratic national committeeman for Texas, said today he thinks western Europeans are working hard for their own recovery.

Here on a semi-official swing through some Marshall plan countries, Morrow said he was investigating the United States information service.

He added he thought the agency and the Economic Cooperation administration were working together very well.

"Europeans seem to be doing as much as they can for their own rehabilitation," said Morrow.

Morrow is accompanied by his wife and 19-year-old daughter, Nancy. He came here from Belgium after visiting Britain, Holland, western Germany and Luxembourg. In Belgium he saw Foreign Minister Paul Van Zeeland and Former Premier Paul-Henri Spaak. In Paris he saw Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, U. S. Ambassador David K. Bruce and W. Averell Harriman, special ECA representative in Europe.

Morrow and his family are to leave Sunday on a motor trip to southern France, Spain and Italy before returning in mid-D[illegible]ber to sail for the United States. He said there was no poli[illegible]nificanse in his visit to Spain, and he stressed that the whole swing was more a private family vacation.

"The State department merely asked me to look into the USIS and ECA relationship from an ordinary citizen's point of view," he said.

Goal Of Six Million Cars Still Possible For U. S. Producers

DETROIT, Nov. 17 (AP) — U. S. auto plants still have "a good chance" to reach a production goal of 6-million cars and trucks this year, Automotive News said today.

The automotive publication made the forecast despite indications still more auto plants will close down this week and next because of depleted steel supplies not yet restored.

This week's U. S. output was estimated at 92,266 cars and 17,395 trucks for a total of 109,661 vehicles. This compares with last week's production of 91,657 cars and 19,189 trucks—a total of 110,846.

So far this year, the industry newspaper estimated, U. S. plants have built 5,753,911 cars and trucks.

High Ranking Red Leader In Mexico Taken Into Custody

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—A prominent Communist labor leader was held incommunicado by federal agents here today after being arrested on year-old charges of misappropriation of union funds.

Valentin Campa, former secretary general of the railroad union and an avowed Communist, was captured at his home here by federal police. They had been hunting him almost a year.

Campa went into hiding when the union's current secretary general, Jesus Diaz De Leon, began a purge of Communists inside the union. De Leon brought charges against both Campa and his right hand man Luis Gomez Z. Gomez Z., jailed at the time, was released recently on bail.

The union purge was regarded originally as being government inspired. Campa is said to be Mexico's No. 2 Communist and some sources believe his arrest signals a renewal of the government's campaign against Communist labor leaders in Mexico.

Most people needing help apply directly at the Salvation Army headquarters, but sometimes when donations are received, information of people in need is included.

As Lubbock has grown in the last few years, so also have the poor of the city. "Our Army has shown an amazing growth in the 28 years it has been in Lubbock," Miss Wilhite said.

Not only those of Texas and the United States are given help, but anyone else that asks, Miss Wilhite stated. "We have helped many of the Latin American cotton field workers since they have arrived. Mostly by giving them shoes and clothing."

The Salvation Army is an international group. "We have members in most foreign countries, including Russia," Miss Wilhite said. "But, we have heard very little from our Russian branch lately," she said thoughtfully.

Army Gives Concerts

The Salvation Army gives "open air concerts" three times weekly, twice on Saturday nights and once on Sunday. "Capt. Gregory plays his accordian and one of us beats the drum while the others sing," Miss Wilhite said. "We average a financial collection of about $8 on a good Saturday night but make few converts out on the street."

The uniforms the Army wears are furnished by the individual members. They can be of any design but must be predominately blue and red as far as color goes.

Slight Drop In Feed Prices Caused By Weakened Demand

DALLAS, Nov. 17 (AP) — Most feed prices turned slightly weaker as demand continued to slow in the Southwest this week, the production and marketing administration of the U. S. Department of agriculture said today.

Warm weather and plenty of pasture food were influencing factors in the slower demand for feed. With an abundance of relatively cheap corn and grain sorghums and weak markets for eggs and hogs, commercial sales of feeds declined sharply.

Easy and delicious!
sweet potato puffs on ham
and really super coffee

Hills Bros. Coffee brings you a special, wonderful goodness. And you can enjoy this goodness every day, for Hills Bros. Coffee is deliciously uniform. It's a skillful blend of the world's finest coffees . . . and "Controlled Roasting," an exclusive Hills Bros. process, roasts the blend a little at a time—continuously—for flavor-perfection. Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed for utmost freshness.

SWEET POTATO PUFFS

3 cups riced cooked or canned sweet potatoes
1 teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 egg 1 tablespoon water
1 cup coarsely crushed corn flakes
4 to 6 slices fried ham, pressed ham, or Canadian bacon 4 to 6 marshmallows

Blend riced potatoes with seasoning and melted butter or margarine. If very stiff, add a little milk. Form into 4 to 6 balls. Beat egg with water. Dip balls first into egg, then into coarsely crushed corn flakes. Place ham slices on baking sheet and on each place potato puff. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 10 minutes until slightly browned. Then top each puff with a marshmallow and return to oven for about 3 minutes until marshmallow has melted and browned slightly. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Serve with Hills Bros. Coffee

PROVISIONS ARE GIVEN

Schools Affected By Government Activities May Obtain Funds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. (AP)—School districts in which federal government activities may have become a burden or an expense now have a chance to split up $7,500,000 in government money to help square things.

The General Services administration said the money is available to aid school districts which:

1. Serve children living on federal reservations or other federally-owned property.

2. Have been overburdened financially by defense-incurred enrollments.

3. Have suffered reductions in school revenues because of the removal of taxable resources through U. S. acquisition or ownership of land.

Curbs Are Given

Jess Larson, General Services administrator, said in a news release that the aid will be restricted to:

School districts which received help during the last school year and are still in need;

Additional schools seriously in need as a result of federal activities, and not eligible for federal assistance from any other source.

The money will be used for maintenance and operation costs. None of it may be used for school construction.

During the past school year 147 school districts received federal contributions to meet deficits. The appropriation for such aid was $3,000,000.

Applicatoins for aid will be handled by the agency's bureau of community facilities, through field offices at New York City, Washington, Atlanta, Chicago, Kansas City, Mo., Fort Worth, Denver, San Francisco and Seattle.

Fort Worth Girl Dies After Collision Of Auto, Bicycle

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—Kay Maxine Rodgers, 10, seriously injured when her bicycle collided with an auto here yesterday morning, died today in a local hospital without ever regaining consciousness.

The accident, which occurred a few minutes after the little girl had delivered her mother's Christmas present to her dad for safekeeping, brought the Tarrant county death toll for the year to 70.

Kay Maxine was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Rodgers of Fort Worth.

NEWS BRIEFS

Pete Hubbard, a police patrolman for several years, has been transferred to the city detective bureau, it was announced Thursday afternoon. He qualified by examination. Hubbard for months has been assigned to occasional investigations similar to those he will work on under his new duties. Robert West, who had worked in the detective bureau the last several months pending the naming of another detective, returned to duties as a radio car patrolman.

The Civil Service Commission announces examinations for the position of construction inspector at entrance salaries ranging from $3100 to $3825 per annum. Employment will be with the Bureau of Reclamation in the states of Oregon, Washington, California, Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. Application forms and additional information may be obtained from the post office; the Executive Secretary, Central Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Bureau of Reclamation, Denver Federal Center, Denver, Colo.; or from the Regional Director, Fourteenth U. S. Civil Service Region, 210 South Harwood Street, Dallas 1, Texas.

Wade Cooper, former vice president of the Lubbock National bank and now a vice president of the City National bank in Houston, returned to Houston last night after spending the past four days visiting on the South Plains.

Postcard Attack On Los Angeles Called 'Utter Balderdash'

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17 (AP) — A postcard attack—apparently distributed nationally—on the city of Los Angeles as a crime-ridden, unsafe place was labeled "utter balderdash" today by Harold W. Wright, general manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Wright has been advised of receipt of the printed postcards by chambers of commerce in Portland, Ore.; Garden City, Kans.; Elko, Nev.; Rock Springs, Wyo.; Prescott, Winslow and Flagstaff, Ariz.

The card was in the name of the "public relations committee of the Los Angeles citizens safety council in cooperation with the national tourists and travelers association." Wright said neither is known as a bona fide organization.

The card said Los Angeles no longer has law and order; the police department is in control of thieves, criminals and murders; homes are being entered and ransacked; streets, parks and public places are unsafe; business is at a standstill and unemployment has mounted to 500,000. It warned tourists and travelers to stay away until law and order are restored, and asked publication of the warning in local newspapers.

The cards were postmarked in San Diego.

Cards Called Vicious

"It is one of the most vicious items that has come to our attention in recent years," Wright said. "Unhesitatingly we can assure the touring public that Los Angeles is not less safe than any other major city in the country."

(Actually, the record isn't that glowing. On the basis of the latest FBI reports nationally, covering the year 1947, Los Angeles on a population ratio basis had the worst crime record in four of five major categories—murder, burglary, auto theft and robbery. In assault it was second to Detroit).

Police Chief William A. Worton said he had not seen this card, "but we get lots of crackpot literature, condemning and praising us."

Bake Crisco's Prize Peach Pie

Crisco—the one and only—discovered this sure way to perfect pie crust!

Just follow Crisco's sure-fire pastry method (given below and on every Crisco label) and your pie crust is bound to be perfect . . . as digestible as it is delicious! With pure, all-vegetable Crisco and Crisco's "can't-fail" pastry recipe, even a beginner can be sure of flaky, tender pie crust every time!

CRISCO'S PRIZE PEACH PIE
(Makes one 9" pie)

CRISCO SURE-FIRE PASTRY METHOD:

1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Crisco
3 tablespoons water

All Measurements Level: Sift flour and salt into bowl. Remove ¼ cup flour. Cut Crisco into remaining flour until the pieces are the size of small peas. Mix water with flour to form a paste. Add flour paste to Crisco-flour mixture. Mix, shape into a ball. On a floured board lightly roll a circle of dough 12" in diameter and ⅛" thick. Line pie plate; fold edge under and flute. Prick closely. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 12 to 15 mins. until lightly browned.

PEACH FLUFF FILLING:

2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup peach juice
16 diced marshmallows (¼ lb.)
1 egg
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1½ cups canned, sliced cling peaches
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup heavy cream

Combine sugar, flour, salt and juice in double boiler and heat over hot water. Add marshmallows; cook until thick (about 15 mins.). Stir in beaten egg and cook 2 to 3 mins. Add gelatin dissolved in water. Cool slightly, pour over drained peaches. Add lemon juice and rind. Whip cream; fold into cooled mixture. Fill pie shell. Chill and decorate.

U. S. Builds Up Heavy Bomber Base 1,582 Miles From Moscow

By LEE VAN ATTA
INS Staff Correspondent

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov 17—A windswept tundra peninsula, barely 30 square miles in area, constitutes America's most important military air entry in to Europe today.

For that peninsula is the site of Meeks field, laboriously carved from the sub-Arctic rock and tundra of Iceland by U. S. troops in World War II, and now being extensively enlarged in line with America's great circle defense policies.

It is 1,582 miles from Meeks field to Moscow.

Reds Exert Pressure

No one better appreciates that geographical fact than the Russians themselves. Through their Communist party in Iceland, they have exerted every effort short of force itself to abrogate the U. S.-Iceland treaty providing for the leasing of the Meeks field area.

The Russian consulate in Reykjavik is larger than all the consulates of all the other nations combined. And, quite significantly, there has been a population build-up in the immediate Meeks field area which today finds nearly 90 percent of the adjacent inhabitants pro-Communist in political sympathy.

Russia is interested indeed in American operations in Iceland.

The Oct. 24-25 elections, however, which returned the rightist party to power after a turbulent pre-election battle, marked a major defeat for Russian policy and a victory for pro-American elements in Iceland. The Communists were left substantially as before. About twenty percent of the total vote cast.

American Aids Victory

Responsible at least in part for that victory has been the relatively small American operating party charged with the development of Meeks field and the maintenance of warm relations with the Icelandic government. The party is headed by Terence May, an affable ex-Air Force major of Rome, Ga., and New Castle, Penn. May, a veteran of nearly three years' duty in the Iceland area, is a private contracting officer working under the Air Force in concert with the State department.

His task has not been easy. For if Icelandians have no strong Communist leanings, they are stoutly nationalistic by nature and resent the presence of any foreign power on their soil even on the basis of altruistic sufferance.

The U. S. stay is officially scheduled to end in 1951, but the return to power of the Social Democrats almost assures that a new contract will be negotiated to provide for the continuing build-up of the Meeks operation. At the present time, America pays an undisclosed rental figure for the 30 square miles which constitute the Arctic entrance into Europe.

Field Expense Saved

In addition, since Iceland is an increasingly air-conscious nation anxious to tap world tourist trade, they have countenanced the Americans' presence for a second reason. To duplicate the Meeks field operating expense would cost Iceland some $20 million annually now being paid by the U. S. Government.

The importance of the Meeks operation to the U. S. cannot be overestimated in the opinion of those responsible for its maintenance and development. It sits atop both the sea and air routes into Europe. Its strategic position in relation to Russia and Scandinavia is not equalled by any other base operated by the United States except the highly vulnerable American positions in Germany and under lease on the continent of Europe.

Should Meeks field be lost, the infinitely longer route of Bermuda or Natal, the Azores and Africa, would have to be used to pour U. S. air reinforcements into Europe.

New Sister Ship Of B-36 Gets Stiff Check By Special Board

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—Convair's RB-36 reconnaissance plane, sister ship of the huge B-36 bomber, is facing its stiffest test this week—examination by a special board, company officials announced today.

The board, composed of a group of Air Force officers and civilian specialists who inspect all new Air Force planes, has started a five-day inspection of the plane designed for long-range, high-altitude strategic reconnaissance.

Headed by Brig. Gen. George W. Mundy, of the Air Materiel command, the men carefully consider each part and the equipment in it, and either approve each item or recommend design changes.

Outwardly the RB-36 resembles the B-36 bombers, but its equipment, much of which is classified secret, will differ markedly from that carried by the bombers.

There's nothing quite so good as Fried Chicken—
Fried Right with BAKE-RITE

Chicken fried in Bake-Rite comes out crisp and temptingly brown on the outside, yet juicy and tender on the inside. There is no sputtering fat, no black charred spots, just clear hot Bake-Rite (365°F.).

Try this simple 3-step Bake-Rite way of frying chicken. Your family will love that tasty outer-crust that crisps so beautifully in Bake-Rite. Some cooks like to add a bay leaf and a pinch of curry powder to the hot Bake-Rite for extra aroma and flavor.

Clip this advertisement so you can follow the three simple steps given—the Bake-Rite way to the best fried chicken you've ever made. Eleanor Lee Wright

1 In a paper bag, blend ¼ cup flour, 1 tsp. paprika for color, ½ tsp. salt, and ⅛ tsp. pepper. Dry the sections of chicken, drop in bag and shake bag until coated with flour mixture.

2 Gradually heat skillet, then add Bake-Rite to come ½ inch deep when melted. When fat is sizzling hot, brown the floured chicken over a low heat. Leave space between pieces so Bake-Rite can cook sides of meat. Start cooking larger pieces first. Turn to brown all sides.

3 Serve Bake-Rite Fried Chicken with pride. It will be the best you have ever made. Crunchy crisp on the outside. Sweet, tender and juicy on the inside.

TEXAS GROWERS INCREASE OUTPUT

Turkeys Expected To Be More Plentiful As Well As Cheaper

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Turkeys for those Thanksgiving feasts will be a lot more plentiful this year. Cheaper, too.

Cranberries also will cost less, despite the summer droughts which trimmed supplies.

Every state in the union is believed to be raising more gobblers than last year. And the crop as a whole is estimated to be 29 per cent bigger.

The U. S. agriculture department in its latest forecast said all indications point to the second largest turkey total on record—around 41,000,000 birds, which is not far below the peak of 44,221,000 four years ago.

Spokesmen for some of the largest store chains in the country say turkey prices aren't likely to change much between now and Thanksgiving, barring some unforeseen development. If they're right, you can expect price tags to be about 15 cents a pound below last year in most places.

Last Thanksgiving when supplies of the holiday bird were the smallest in 10 years, choice family-sized hen turkeys averaged between 75 an d80 cents a pound. Prices vary from place to place, of course, depending on how far the turkeys have to be shipped, local labor costs and so on.

This year market experts say the smaller turkeys should be priced in the neighborhood of 60 to 65 cents a pound, with the heavier toms around 10 to 12 cents below that.

Texas Crops Larger

Back of the steep boost in turkey population this year was the low cost of feed grain and the record high prices farmers received for their birds last fall and winter. Many growers who had gone out of the turkey business saw their more persistent neighbor net two to three times as much profit per bird as in an average year—so they stocked their pens heavily last spring.

The nation's biggest turkey-producing state, California, was recently estimated to have increased its turkey production 35 per cent over last year. Texas, the next biggest producer, reported a 40 per cent increase and third-place Minnesota's boost was believed to be around 36 per cent.

As for those traditional cranberries to accompany the feast bird, they're expected to average between 19 and 23 cents a pound this Thanksgiving time, or about six cents cheaper than last year.

Last year was a bumper one for cranberries, though—922,500 barrels—and a good portion of those went to processors. That left more of this year's crop available for the fresh market. The result: plenty of good quality berries for cranberry sauce.

Leading U. S. producers of pumice and pumicite are California, New Mexico, Oregan and Idaho.

Chiropractor Gives Elk 'Adjustment,' Prize Runs Away

(By The Associated Press)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 17 A local chiropractor swears he gave a bull elk an "adjustment" recently and lost his prize by so doing.

Says M. H. Combs:

"I shot and wounded the elk about four miles from our hunting camp. When I got to him it seemed his legs were paralyzed.

"I decided it was a long way to carry him to camp and that it'd be better if I could lead him, so I gave him a spinal adjustment, the same kind I give human beings in my office.

"And you know, he got up and ran away so fast I didn't get another shot at him."

Trappers Begin Harvesting Muskrat Crop On Gulf Coast

ORANGE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Thousands of trappers have begun harvesting the multi-million dollar muskrat crop on the Gulf coast.

But they know it will be a poor season.

Sam Barton, one of the area's largest fur buyers, blames the 1948 drought and Russian competition.

As he set up his headquarters here for his 18th season, Barton said last year's extremely dry weather heavily damaged breeding places and food supply.

"To make matters worse," the buyer declared, "the Russian government was permitted to dump 3- million muskrat pelts on the market after last season on a 'name-your-own-price' basis."

Prices are down from 1947's $1.80 average to $1 per pelt. He estimated the yield for this season will be about the same as last season's 6 million pelts, compared with 8,029,000 in 1946 and 1947.

Chicago Heiress Charges Man With Selling Worthless Stock

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (U.P.) — "Madcap" Merry Fahrney, much-married Chicago heiress, charged the son-in-law of a former president of Mexico today with selling her $100,000 worth of stock in a non-existent shrimp company.

In a supreme court suit filed in absentia, Miss Fahrney brought action against Dr. Joseph J. Eller of New York for $71,668 representing half her investment, interests and costs. The said Eller already had returned $50,000 of her money.

Eller, husband of President Plutareo Calles' daughter Artemisa, replied that the shrimp company was the business of his Mexican relatives and not his "personal affair." He said the company had brought counter suit against Miss Fahrney "for a much larger sum than she is suing me for."

The cough syrup heiress, whose complete name is Mrs. Fahrney Pickering Van Eiszner Berlingiere Cassini Holm Ojeda, has lived in self-imposed exile in Mexico City for several years. Her last reported visit to this country was in 1947.

Virginian Claims Legitimate Excuse For Getting Drunk

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 17. (AP)—Marshall (Shotgun) Leftwich, 49, told police court Justice S. R. Price today why he got drunk on a mixture of shellac reducer and water.

"You see, judge," said Leftwich, "a woman told me to build her a new henhouse out of an old henhouse, and not to tear down the old house until the new one was built.

"Judge, I had to get drunk on that."

The case was dismissed.

Russians Throw Up Temporary Road Block Against Americans

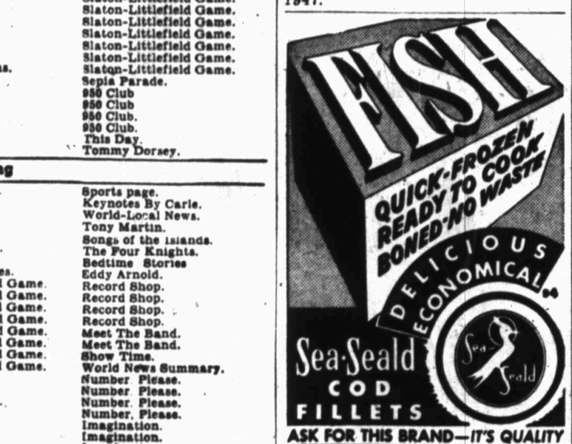

VIENNA, Nov. 17 (AP)—The Russians unexpectedly established a road block today on the highway leading to the American airbase at Tullin and then, just as unexpectedly, abandoned it.

During the hours the block was in effect, Russian sentries demanded special passes from American personnel moving to and from the airbase, which is about 20 miles outside Vienna in the Soviet Occupation zone.

American sources said they thought a Russian junior officer had the block erected after reading some old regulations which may have been in effect when the last roadblock was established 18 months ago.

'Run-Around' Given Stand For Civil Rights, Young Demos Claim

BY ROBERT H. DENLEY
INS Staff Correspondent

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 17. — The chairman of Michigan's delegation to the Young Democratic clubs of America convention today charged his group has been "given the run-around" in its attempts to have the YDC take a stand on President Truman's civil rights program.

Selig Harrison, of Detroit, said that he plans to present on the floor of the convention in Chattanooga a resolution calling for "the creation of a national fair employment practices commission and other civil rights."

The four-man Michigan delegation wants the 2,000 young Democrats attending the meeting to "go on record wholeheartedly endorsing the 1948 platform of the Democratic party and commending President Truman for his courageous and energetic attempt to carry this program into action."

The Michigan group charged that Southern delegates are trying to dodge the issue of civil rights. YDC President Roy Baker, of Sherman, Tex., is reportedly leading the fight to kill any expression on the civil rights program.

Harrison claimed that leaders of the Young Democrats also are trying to prevent endorsement of federal control of oil-rich tidelands.

Another resolution was prepared by the Michigan group asking that the next convention "be held in a city where delegates may enjoy accommodations on an equal basis."

The dispute over civil rights at the convention was extended to the seating of a South Carolina delegation.

Accreditization of the group headed by State Rep. Joe Wise, of Charleston, brought accusations from the attorney of the rejected delegation that the national committee of the Young Democratic clubs was aiding States' Rights Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina.

John B. Culbertson charged that Wise's group was sent to Chattanooga to make it "appear that everything is happy" between Thurmond, who opposed President Truman in 1948, and the Democratic party.

The national committee also seated a California group supporting James Roosevelt, recently-declared candidate for governor of the state

Gaines County Officers To Get Two-Way Radio Service

SEMINOLE, Nov. 17. (Special) Gaines county law enforcement officers will soon enjoy the advantages offered by two-way radio communication sets in sheriff's department cars and a stationary set in the county jail, if approval is made for an operating permit by the Federal Communications commission.

County Judge Arzie Kirk said that approval of the application is almost certain and should be forthcoming within the next two months. The commissioners court has already okehed the purchase of equipment for two cars and the jail.

The sets would operate on FM range. The mobile units would have a range of about 25 miles and the stationary unit would be able to reach Lubbock, Hobbs, Midland, Odessa and other West Texas points.

Christopher Award Novel Bought For Film By Twentieth Century; Director Is Chosen

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17—"Call It Treason," the novel that won the $15,000 Christopher award, now belongs to 20th Century-Fox, Darryl Zanuck bought it through Famous Artists, as Anatole Litvak's first when he returns to fulfill a new seven-year contract in January. Anatole, who directed the prize winning "Snake Pit," will change the story to meet the requirements of the screen. But he will keep the part that inspired the Christopher award.

The Christopher is the organization headed by Father James Keller which is doing such magnificent work.

Signs Double Contract

Jose Ferrer, who, I told you, signed a doubleheader contract with the MGM for "The Crisis," and with 20th Century-Fox for a picture to be selected later, is on his way to Europe.

He goes to meet Marcel Pagnoll to discuss starring in "The Baker's Wife." That is the classic that brought the late Raimu fame. Before Jose sailed he said he figured he could make "The Crisis" in Hollywood in January, and then return to France for "The Baker's Wife," which this time will be made in English, before he goes to 20th.

But when I think of Gladys, my mind always goes back to her two great starring roles, "Valiant Is The Word For Carrie" and "Personal Appearance." Correct me if I'm wrong—but wasn't she up for an Oscar for her performance in "Valiant Is The Word For Carrie"?

A GUESS, SO FAR

Our Cotton Acreage

ACCURATE estimates of the acreage likely to be planted in cotton on the South Plains next year will be impossible for some time.

Figures reported recently pertaining to this subject can be considered nothing better than probable good guesses, based on the assumption that farmers will approve restoration of acreage controls in 1950. Whether this assumption is justified remains to be seen.

Controls cannot be put into effect unless farmers approve them by a 2-to-1 vote. Our farmers may do this, but support of controls is far from unanimous. If enough farmers should feel that proposed allocations of acreage discriminate against them and their areas, they might vote the whole plan down and continue to plant as much cotton as they choose.

But, regardless of what finally may be done, one statement can be made with confidence. It is that the South Plains of Texas will continue to be one of the most important cotton-producing areas in the United States and in the world. Naturally, the cotton acreage of this region would be much larger without controls than with them. But, with controls, the probability seems to be that this region will produce a larger percentage of the total U. S. crop than without them.

This year, for example, the South Plains will produce about 10 per cent of the nation's cotton, and 25 to 30 per cent of that in Texas. Under controls, and with an equitable acreage allotment, these percentages might be raised to around 12 per cent of the national and about one-third of the State production.

These figures, however, are entirely speculative. There is no guesswork involved in the prediction that cotton production is almost certain to be huge business on the South Plains as far into the future as anyone could pretend to see.

Warning Signal?

UNEASINESS is being expressed in a good many conservative quarters because of the rapid increase of installment plan buying during the past year. The installment debt totaled $9,888,000,000 last Oct. 1, according to recent government reports, and undoubtedly will go over 10 billions by Christmas.

Analysts say the average wage-earner now owes approximately 5 cent out of each dollar of his "take home" pay on merchandise bought on an installment basis. This is less than the 7 cents owed in 1941, but is larger than the 3.8 cents just before the depression started in 1929. It is the comparison of the present indebtedness with that of 1929 which causes uneasiness.

Observers are practically unanimous in agreeing that an important contributing factor to the economic collapse of 20 years ago was the heavy installment debt. Too many people had bought more merchandise than they could pay for.

But there are two important differences between the present and 1929. That is the fact that earnings are larger and people generally have more in reserve if a 'rainy day" should come along.

So the outlook, because of installment buying, probably is not as serious by far as it was in 1929. But the trend suggests that business might be wise to begin applying the brakes to some of their credit selling. Otherwise, installment debts might get away from them and the government will do for the dealers of many kinds the job they would prefer to attend to themselves.

The recently reported installment figures, in short, are not necessarily a cause for alarm. They do sound a warning for caution.

America's total debts, private and public stand at a record peak. The only people worrying about it are those who think they may have to pay it.

It's a fast world. Just as winter rears its head, they begin showing spring clothes.

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: A rare cameo, worth $10,000 or more, has been offered for sale by Martin Falter, one of Dolorosa's artist residents. Hagar Blair wants it, but can't afford it. Stephanie Smith, who works in Hagar's gift shop, also seems to want it. Arnold Pfieffer, a weaver, who is being blackmailed by Falter to take the cameo to a San Francisco art dealer, is afraid Falter stole it. Nell O'Neill, and her husband, Tom O'Neill, meanwhile have taken Andrey Yakov, a Russian artist, to see Falter, but find him not home.)

V

NELL O'NEILL'S voice commenced a low staccato of words. Tom interrupted her angrily. Andrey Kakov strolled into the next room, closing the door quietly. Martin Falter's bedroom was quiet different from the outer one. Most significant was the fastidious order here. The low, wide couch-bed with its heavy linen spread and bolstered pillows, smooth and precise.

A handsome desk clock set in pigskin registered the time, 4:35. Beside the clock was a letter. Yakov picked it up and looked at the San Francisco postmark. In the upper left corner he saw a small engraved crest above the address of a well-known art dealer. Slipping the letter from the envelope, Yakov began to read. Halfway down the page, he gave a surprised grunt—his eyes raced through the remainder of the letter. Hurriedly, he returned the paper to the envelope and placed it where he had found it. His attitude had abruptly changed, his next movements were quick and smooth like those of a hunting cat.

But he was gazing out the window, apparently in idle contemplation, when Nell opened the door.

HE turned to her, smiling, "The delicate colors of the western ocean at sunset, I shall never tire of them."

He turned and continued talking casually: "I look forward to seeing Miss Blair's cameo collection. It may be that we can negotiate an exchange of pieces, perhaps she has something that will ease my disappointment concerning your wonderful cameo."

Nell's eyes focused on his face "You'll see my cameo."

"Aha! You have then remembered where it is?"

"Yes. Yes, I have remembered."

He looked at her intently, folding his lower lip between thumb and forefinger: "Then, perhaps, if it should be the piece I am looking for, you will consent to sell it"

"Perhaps."

Yakov's eyes narrowed, but he was still smiling as he said: "It would be to your advantage—in many ways."

As they left the bedroom, Yakov looked around for Tom: "Your husband? He is waiting outside?"

Nell's lips tightened: "No. He's down at Bob's, drinking again."

Yakov looked concerned. "A pity."

They had closed Martin's front door and were descending the steps when Nell stopped abruptly. She gripped Yakov's arm and pointed down the hill to the corner on the opposite side of the street.

He saw the figure of Tom O'Neill. Standing opposite him, feet apart, in a careless attitude, was a tall man.

Nell exploded. "He's got hold of Martin. No telling what he'll say to him."

Yakov, noting the creases of worry and annoyance around her large blue eyes, suggested soothingly: "Perhaps he will tell our friend Martin Falter that we are here seeking his company."

Nell, staring intently down the hill, did not answer. As she watched, Martin turned from Tom as though to start up the hill. Tom followed and grabbed Martin's arm, the two men faced each other once more and seemed to be arguing. Martin turned his face toward the top of the hill and lifted a hand in salute. He gave no further sign of recognition, however.

"Do we go in pursuit" Andrey Yakov asked with a half-smile.

"No!" she answered with suppressed fury. "It would only give Tom a chance to make a big scene. We'll go on to Hagar Blair's."

NELL kept silent as they drove to the Three Wishes Shop. She was reviewing, bitterly, the many other occasions when Tom had made an ugly issue of certain friendships of hers. She cringed inwardly as she recalled the lashings he'd given her with that fiendish tongue of his. Always, during their violent quarrels, he'd bring up her former career, taunting her with his favorite epithet, "stag party prima donna." She'd been serious about her dancing, had tried to be artistic about it. She might have made something of herself, if she hadn't given up her career to marry Tom. At that time, however, marrying rich Tom O'Neill hadn't seemed a bad idea. She needed money desperately at the time they met and had sold him the cameo, weeping pathetically and telling him it was a precious family heirloom. Tom had wept into his champagne and had given her a large sum for the brooch. Then, on their wedding day, he'd made a great ceremony of giving it back.

He told her it had been a lifelong ambition to install a beautiful wife in a cozy studio home and live out his life among sympathetic creative friends. He qualified himself for this group by calling himself a "ceramist."

Once she had hoped to persuade Tom to give up Dolorosa. But right at the crucial moment, one of his miserable clay pots had won a minor prize at the Laguna Beach Festival of Arts. He had conducted a three-day celebration and had vowed to dedicate the rest of his days to "his art." In Dolorosa!

So now the cameo was her only means of escape. Provided it turned out to be the rare piece Yakov was looking for. And, provided she could get it back, somehow, from Martin Falter.

(To Be Continued)

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

"I EXPECT to be vilified for my statements," said Arthur Garfield Hays, international lawyer and author to a recent meeting at which the subject of intolerance was being discussed.

BRANDEIS

Likewise do I expect to be vilified for the statements I am about to make on the same subject.

However, this matter of tolerance and intolerance has become such a tremendously important factor in our national life that it should be discussed openly and without fear.

Pussyfooting has never yet been the cure for any disease or any evil.

Mr. Hays expressed the opinion that laws and organizations seeking to curb the growth of intolerance of minorities do more harm than good.

He said he favored fair employment practices brought about by persuasion and publicity rather than compulsion on employers to hire persons they don't want.

When stating that he expected to be vilified for his opinions, he remarked, "That is another objection I have to these organizations. They vilify people who dare say anything about intolerance different from the organization viewpoint. Their purposes are laudable, but I disagree with their methods."

I have always maintained that the word "tolerance" is a misnomer.

To tolerate something means "to put up with, to bear up under, to endure."

I am sure that is not what those who plead for tolerance, and try to enforce it, have in mind.

What they want is mutual respect, equality, not only under the law, but in spirit, affection and brotherhood.

THOSE objectives can be accomplished only by BEHAVIOR.

SUPERFICIAL equality can be enforced by law. But no law passed against people's natural inclinations can ever be made effective. Prohibition was proof of that.

Frankly, I have noticed that there is much intolerance among the very people who decry its lack toward them.

Many minorities refuse to become fully acclimated members of the American family, and insist on maintaining their original racial and national characteristics and customs.

You can't have your cake and eat it, too.

Either you are an American—and nothing but an American or you are no American at all.

In the first world war we spoke of "hyphenated Americans" and condemned them. I would call them "Hyphenates" and leave out the word "American" entirely.

ON COURT LINEUP

New Policy Started

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A prominent Catholic layman and member of the second highest judicial body in the United States recently commended President Truman for not appointing a member of that faith to the Supreme Court as successor to the late Frank Murphy of Michigan, who belonged to that church.

In view of the threat that New York City Catholics might line up against Senator - elect Herbert H. Lehman in his recent contest with John Foster Dulles because of the former's support of Eleanor Roosevelt in her school controversy with Cardinal Spellman, the unpublished incident is interesting and significant.

TUCKER

It may help to erase the issue of bigotry from current American politics, especially in the 1950 campaign.

QUALIFICATIONS: The jurist who made a special trip to the White House was Harold M. Stephens of Salt Lake City, chief judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. He has had a distinguished public service in Utah and at Washington since the advent of the New Deal. He is a devout Catholic.

In his talk with Mr. Truman, Judge Stephens expressed agreement with Mr. Truman's scrapping of the theory that a certain Supreme Court seat should be assigned, by politics and custom, to a Catholic, one to a Jew and the rest divided among other faiths. The judge took the position that a man should be named only on the basis of his judicial experience and qualifications.

The President said he had reached the conclusion it was time to depart from the system of religious appointments that had been followed since Theodore Roosevelt's day, with the selection of such men as Justices White, Butler and Murphy to the high tribunal. The three were Catholics.

As evidence of Judge Stephens's unselfishness and sincerity, there is the fact that many judges and lawyers thought him qualified for the post, not as a Catholic, but as one of the nation's ablest jurists.

BUDGET: Although President Truman will not admit publicly that he erred in demanding a $4 billion tax boost at the recent session of Congress—he is allergic to admissions of that sort—he has instructed his budget experts to trim their requests so as to retain the present rates.

National Defense Secretary Johnson has been told to ask for about $13 billion instead of the current $15 billion for the armed services, and Congress may reduce the total to $12 billion for a $3 billion saving. Unless Europe shows more signs of helping itself and forming an economic union to increase trade, Marshall Plan funds may be cut by $2 billion.

The White House will take no chance on losing the farm vote, but it is probable that the new parity law will permit a reduction in payments of at least $500 million. Those cuts should eliminate any need for higher taxes, and possibly permit repeal of the so-called luxury levies.

RECOVERY: Three factors lie behind the new move. Business and industry will still be struggling toward recovery from the strike setbacks, and heavier tax burdens would be inadvisable.

By 1951 there may be a slight deflationary trend, in foods, clothing and building, and withdrawal of an additional $4 billion from the money and credit stream would be dangerous.

Most important of all, a tax boost on the eve of the 1950 Congressional elections might hurt the Democrats. Indeed, it is doubtful if Congress would agree to an upping proposal.

PLAN: The ingenious and politically shrewd Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, has come up with another farm plan that endears him to President Truman.

It is designed to answer charges that the Administration's price support program is chiefly responsible for the high retail costs of food. It will be one of the most important political documents of the 1950 and 1952 campaigns.

The Denver lawyer's formula is simplicity itself. He proposes that the various government bureaus which keep books on living cost — Labor, Commerce, Agriculture etc. — break down into their various components the urban consumers' shopping basket dollar.

In his opinion, it would direct buyers' animus against the railroads, middlemen, distributors and retailers instead of the Administration and the farmers.

STRATEGIST: It would show, he maintains, that the growers in California, Oregon, Washington, Florida and other states receive less than twenty-five per cent of the retail price for their fruits and vegetables.

It would disclose that the same proportion applies to producers of dairy products and livestock.

It would demonstrate that, even if the farmer gave away his wheat free, it would knock down the price of bread by only a fraction. It is, he wants to advertise, other intermediate groups which swell the eventual cost of food.

These facts and factors, of course, are old stuff to the producers themselves and to the economic experts. But Mr. Brannan means to make a political issue and victory out of them.

Again, the man who was reared in Agriculture's "lady bountiful" bureaus — Dr. Tugwell's Farm Resettlement and Aubrey William's Farm Security Administration — turns up as one of the cleverest political strategists in Mr. Truman's Cabinet.

Even insane people must have talent, or else who could be painting some of these modern pictures.

Life was simple in the old days. All one had to do was to place the woes of the natinn on Wall Street.

NEW OFFICIAL KNOWS WEST'S AIMS

Chapman Appointment Deserved

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It was appropriate that as a follow-up of another election victory — that of November 8 — President Truman should find occasion in the resignation of Secretary of Interior Julius A. Krug to elevate Oscar Chapman, the under secretary, to this increasingly important cabinet post.

The November 8 election, in its scattered results in representative areas, merely reiterated that the people still want the things for which they spoke out in the national election a year ago, a sort of postscript. For those things Oscar Chapman has fought and stood four - square in the Interior department and in the councils of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations for 16 years since the beginning of the New Deal. It is, consequently, fitting that this most recent expression should be reflected in his promotion to the cabinet.

STOKES

West Assumes Role

Mr. Chapman, who is from Denver, also symbolizes something else that perhaps is too little noted here in the East. That is the rising importance of the west in our national life and economy and, by the same token, in our politics and our government. Of all our government departments Interior is closest to the west because of its supervision of the great natural resources of river, mountain, plains and forest in that vast empire.

It has been active in utilization and development of those resources to push the West to the fore in recent years. In all that, in all the changes that make for progress, Oscar Chapman has had a part since he became assistant secretary of the department in May, 1933. He knows the West, its people and their aspirations. He knows the immense potentialities of that region, and what a fully developed West can mean to our whole nation.

WHAT has been done for the West in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations — the mammoth irrigation, reclamation and public power projects which, in themselves, constitute a series of wonders of the world, the measures for conservation—was reflected not only in successive Roosevelt election triumphs, but was responsible for turning the tide of victory to President Truman a year ago. Any analysis of the returns demonstrates this.

In a bold and brilliant way the resources of that region have been utilized in a policy of expansion that has started new industries, opened new opportunities for agriculture, and has attracted a wave of migration that way which compares with some of the great movements of our history. That, of course, has its effect on national politics, for citizens looking for opportunity are also voters who go to the polls.

Appointment Termed Reward

In comment on Oscar Chapman's elevation to the cabinet it has been customary to speak of this as "a reward" for his yeoman work for President Truman's re-election. He did perform most effectively, as an observer of that campaign can attest. But he was likewise effective politically in the West in successive Roosevelt elections, as is also well known among observers of those campaigns. He has exceptional political talents, including organizational ability.

But it might be pointed out that he was effective politically also because the people of the West know and trust him. He knows their needs and has done much to meet them. All this proves what so many political leaders and political parties often overlook, which is that what is best for the people is, in the end, the best politics.

OSCAR CHAPMAN is originally from Virginia and has his roots in the South. He has the amiable personal charm typical of his native land. Like many southerners who have moved away and can take the long look, he is keenly conscious of injustices done to negro citizens often in the South, as elsewhere. He has been active in their behalf, oftentimes in ways that are not known publicly. He is an effective champion of civil rights for all minorities and has won their confidence.

In this, as in his consistent stand against exploitation of our natural resources by selfish private interests contrary to the general public interest, he has constantly shown courage. But he wears his courage pleasantly, and with humility, as if it were just every day's business.

A true American, an American entitled to what we, for lack of a better word, call "tolerance" must, in thought, in action, in spirit, in behavior, adjust himself to the ways of those of whom he expects to be an integral part.

No organization can bring that about. No law can enforce it.

True tolerance is brotherhood, and brotherhood, to quote from the 12th chapter of Romans, is to "be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another."

Trend Toward Socialism Scored

Amarillo Editor Speaks At Meet

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 17 — An appeal for Americans to cast off the trend toward socialism in our government was made here tonight by Wesley Izard, editor of The Amarillo Globe-News.

Izzard spoke at the Texas-Pioneer dinner given by the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in annual convention.

The convention went through a crowded program during the day with a general business session in the morning, a program for the junior federation in the afternoon, and a reception at the governor's mansion before tonight's dinner. Tomorrow attention will turn to election of officers.

Describes European Trip

Izzard described conditions in Europe as he saw them in his travels there last summer.

"You hear a good deal about security in Europe," he said, "but few have the opportunity to earn it. They want it handed to them. If this way of thinking could be confined to Europe, it might eventually be corrected. But it has spread across the Atlantic in a nation that is not worn out and weary—to a nation where opportunity and ambition are still young.

"There may be an excuse for Europeans to look to their governments for security; but there is none for Americans," he said.

The convention was presented with the nominating committee slate of candidates for TFWC state offices for the next year at a morning business meeting, Mrs. Howard Hodge of Midland was the committee's nominee for president.

Other Nominees Named

Other nominees are Mrs. T. M. West of San Antonio for first vice-president, Mrs. John O. Douglas of Houston for second vice-president, Mrs. U. L. White of Matador for treasurer and Mrs. W. E. Cantrell of Lometa for secretary.

Delegates were guests this afternoon at a formal reception at the governor's mansion.

Assisting with the hostess duties were a group of Austin women. Assisting in the receiving line were Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater, president of TFWC; Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, First vice president of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Lyndon Johnson; Mrs. Hodge; Mrs. Price Daniel; Mrs. West, second vice president of TFWC; Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood of Roswell, N. M.; Mrs. H. B. Gillette of Houston; Mrs. Sam Levy of Natchitoches, La., president of the Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. O. B. Jackson of Plainview; and Mrs. Douglas.

The house party included all

Noted Minister To Speak Here

The "old time faith" is needed in America, Dr. J. Frank Norris, noted preacher and revivalist, said in Lubbock Thursday afternoon.

"The one thing that all denominations agree on is that we need to repent," said the minister. The great revival in which he believes will take the form of "the one call to repentence," with all denominations observing it with different methods but the same aim, he believes.

To Speak Tonight

Dr. Norris, widely known and quoted Fundamentalist minister, said he would preach on "Why I Believe that the World is Headed for a Great Revival" in his sermon at 7 o'clock tonight at Tabernacle Baptist church, 1501 Ave. N.

We've tried everything else and we're in confusion," he said. "We've built skyscrapers, great churches and great universities. I'm for these, but man cannot live by bread alone. God can do without us, but we can't do without God. I have recently talked to the top industrialists of America and the outstanding labor leaders and they agree we must have a coming back to the old time faith.

"The old time is the faith of the Bible, and we've come far away from it."

Immediate Drilling To 2,600 Feet Planned

Wildcat Is Planned In Southeast Garza

Drilling is to be started at once on a 2,6060-foot wildcat in Southeast Garza county, two and one-half miles southwest of Justiceburg.

The venture will be P. W. and R. S. Anderson of Midland No. 1 R. Clyde Miller. Location is 330 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines of the north half of section 29, block 6, H&GN survey.

Cable tools will be used to dig the project. It will be one-half mile east of the Proven Oil company No. 1 Herd, which pumped about five barrels of oil per day from the San Andres for a considerable time before being depleted and abandoned.

The Anderson prospector is projected to the San Andres.

WILDCAT TEST SLATED IN GAINES COUNTY

Amerada Petroleum company No. 1 W. M. Breckon is to be a 6,500-foot wildcat in Southwest Gaines county, five miles east of Hobbs, N. M.

The drillsite will be one and one-quarter miles northwest of Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation No. 1 Nichols, wildcat which has had some shows in the Glorieta and Clear Fork sections.

No. 1 Breckon will be 467 feet from the south and 1,113 feet from east lines of section 25, block A-9, psl survey.

Mid-Continent No. 1 Nichols was drilling below 6,853 feet in lime toward its contracted depth of 8,500 feet.

Some sources say that the Amerada operation will be carried on down to at least 7,500 feet. Drilling on the venture is to begin in the near future.

Newman Brothers Drilling company of San Antonio and associates, No. 1 Hugh Boren, Central-West Scurry county wildcat one mile west and one mile north of the closest completed oil wells in the Kelley-Canyon field, topped the Canyon lime reef at 6,630 feet to give it a datum of minus 4.187 feet on that marker.

On that top the prospector should have at least 216 feet of Canyon pay above the water level in that formation. It was drilling below 6,767 feet and was to go on to 6,796 feet and then set casing to complete.

The section of the reef so far drilled has not yet been tested but samples show that it will make a producer.

PERMIT SOUGHT FOR WILDCAT NEAR SNYDER

R. C. Lipscomb of San Antonio has filed an application with the Railroad commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill an 8,000 foot wildcat in Southwest Scurry county, 12 miles southwest of Snyder.

The project, No. 1 N. C. von Roeder, will be one mile south and one mile west of the nearest production from the Canyon lime reef on the southwest side of the Sharon Ridge field. Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of the east half of section 75, block 25, H&TC survey.

The projected depth should carry it into the Ellenburger.

Drilling is to begin by November 25.

Drilling on an 8,200-foot wildcat to find and test the Ellenburger is to begin at once in Central-West Scurry county, 12 miles west of Snyder.

The prospector, Spartan Drilling company, N. 1 J. H. Langford, is to be located 467 feet north and 660 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 240, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is three and one-half miles northwest of Canyon production in the Diamond-M field, and one and one-half mile south of Arah.

This wildcat is on a 445-acre lease which was turned to Spartan by A. P. Barrett, jr., and J. C. Ratliff, jr., both fo Midland. It is understood that these operators received some cash and an override in the deal. This transaction was reported about 10 days ago.

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 17 (AP) — After long and careful planning and much hard work, 22-year-old Tom Willett completed his version of a folding rowboat.

Today was the big day. He was going to test it.

The folding boat functioned perfectly.

It folded.

Lifeguards fished Willett out of the breakers.

Planes, Boats Continue Search For Boys Drowned In Lake Kemp

ELECTRA, Nov. 17. (AP)—Eleven planes, seven of them helicopters, and about 30 boats unsuccessfully searched today for the bodies of two high school boys drowned Saturday in Lake Kemp.

Jackie Parr, 17, and Bert Brown, 16, both of Wichita Falls, drowned when their small boat capsized.

The planes came from Sheppard Air Force base near Wichita Falls and Post field at Fort Sill, Okla. They will return tomorrow to continue the search.

Newspapers and radio stations throughout the area are carrying an appeal for a new shift of searchers tomorrow, enough to man 70 boats if possible. Some of the present searchers have been working at the lake for four and five days.

Today the search included about 75 military men—National Guard, Navy and Army.

Mirrors have been installed in police stations at Colombo, Ceylon, so that policemen can take better care of their appearance.

PANEL DISCUSSION SCHEDULED

Ice Cream Flavoring To Keynote Tech Dairy Short Course Today

More than 100 persons from throughout the mid and southwest will get a good taste of flavoring that goes into ice cream today as final sessions open in a three-day dairy manufacturers' short course at Texas Tech.

Leading off the day's program and setting its theme will be Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of the DM department at Tech, speaking on "Getting the Most From Ice Cream Flavors." Other noted speakers will follow him, while a panel discussion will conclude the short course this afternoon.

Registration mark of 102 was set Thursday afternoon at the conference. A barbecue was given for all those attending in the college pavilion Thursday night, following a day of discussions on latest methods of plant cleanliness and sterilization. Opening sessions Wednesday dealt mainly with laboratory methods of dairy manufacturing.

Dr. G. M. Trout of Michigan State college will furnish one of the highlights today with an address at 10:30 a. m. on homogenized milk. The panel discussion this afternoon is designed to round out the activities by allowing all those present to ask the speakers any questions which may have occurred to them during the three-day meet.

Dr. Willingham's opening remarks at 8:30 a. m. today will discuss the methods in which flavoring may be placed into ice cream so that the customer gets the greatest benefit for his money. Dr. M. W. Lamb, associate professor of foods and nutritions at Tech, will follow him at the speakers' stand with an address on the problems of processing in milk and ice cream plants.

Doctor Has Takers On Blood Offer Here

Dr. G. G. Porter, Lubbock osteopath who wishes to donate some of his blood to anyone in need of it, has had several takers this week.

Two pints have been given by Dr. Porter to Mrs. Sam Womack, of 3007 Walnut street, who is ill in West Texas hospital. She has had several transfusions of blood donated by the Red Cross, and relatives have given additional blood.

The two pints of blood were obtained from Dr. Porter Thursday. More blood is in storage for use if needed.

And it looks as though there will be other calls for blood from the Lubbock osteopath. One mother and her daughter made arrangements Thursday to have their blood typed to see if it matches that of Dr. Porter.

The local man suffers from hemochromatosis—a disease in which there is too much iron in the blood stream. As part of the treatment of the disease, Dr. Porter must have blood removed from his blood stream, after which a like amount of plasma is pumped back into his system.

Since August, he has had more than 23 pints of blood removed.

Area Women Attend State P-TA Meeting

WACO, Nov. 17. (AP)—Four new Texas vice presidents were introduced tonight to the state convention of the Parents and Teachers association.

They were Mrs. C. A. Cawthorn of Paris, region two; Mrs. I. M. Smith of Elsa, Hidalgo county, region four; Mrs. C. N. Bustin, jr., Austin, region six, and Mrs. E. M. Pittman of Anson, region eight.

Mrs. H. F. Godeke, vice president from Lubbock, introduced them.

Delegates at the dinner session heard Maurice T. Moore, New York City attorney, say the economic health of Western Europe is necessary not only as a deterrent to the growth of communism and the preservation of freedom and peace, but also to the economic health of the United States.

Moore, who served with Paul Hoffman in first five months of operation of Marshall plan, said the plan has worked and has paid off handsomely, irrespective of whether it will solve all the problems it was hopefully set up to solve by June, 1952.

"The fact is that it was and is cheap at the price. A free and united Western Europe, a reviving and more prosperous Western Europe, is more important as a deterrent to war than many more billions spent on our own military effort here," said Moore. He added that rebuilding our military strength also was important.

Earlier today, delegates met for forum discussions.

Mrs. H. G. Stinnett, jr., of Plainview and Mrs. N. H. Keller of El Paso led the discussions.

Moore is the son of the state P-TA president, Mrs. J. H. Moore of Deport.

'Titoism' Puts Iron Curtain Nations On Hot Spot

BY PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 17.—"Titoism" is biting into the Iron Curtain countries and Soviet bloc delegates to the United Nations are feeling the pain.

It is downright unpleasant for a Russian dignitary such as Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky to meet the quizzical glances and not infrequently the grins of non-satellite delegates when the headlines report a new purge or upset in Cominform ranks. Even more flustered and embarrassed on such days are satellites such as the Poles and Czechs.

Another irritant nowadays for the Cominform teams is the studied habit the Yugoslavs have acquired of parading their "independence" by every means and manner.

Now Talk With West

Aside from the entirely different policy line of "national Communism" preached and practiced with zest by Tito's representatives here, they have dropped their former hush-hush and untouchable attitude and plainly enjoy talking with western "democrats."

A third factor apt to spoil the morning coffee of a Soviet bloc member is the worry and nervous qualms frequently spread by factual reports or rumors from European listening posts that some top favorite in cominform governments has fallen into disgrace and along with his key supporters is slated for the unknown.

Shakeups in the Kremlin Hierarchy, in the ranks of the Moscow Communist party leadership, in the armed forces of anywhere behind the Iron Curtain are quickly reflected in the harrassed faces of the Soviet group or satellites at Lake Success.

No Official Immune

An old-timer from Lenin days like the Ukraine's Dimitri Manuilsky may have less to worry about because of Stalin's protecting hand than the dull, unimaginative Kisselev of Bielo-Russia. But nobody from Vishinsky down to the most unimportant satellite employe is immune to the sword of Damocles suspended above the Hammer & Sickle.

As an example of the dust which can be stirred by a sudden Moscow move, there was the announcemnet a few days ago that Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky had been sent to Warsaw as Polish minister of defense and commander of Poland's armed forces.

The Western delegates shook their heads and scanned Polish delegation faces with an "I told you so" look. The Yugoslavs laughed in plain hearing of delegates from Soviet satellites and said audibly: "That's what happens to anyone who sticks to Moscow."

Polish delegate Julius Katz-Suchy is an old hand at the game of give-and-take, and has sometimes risked Soviet wrath by playing around in the forbidden western camp.

But the Rokossovsky move caught him unprepared and left him for once without an immediate comeback. Any experienced eye could see around U.N. that there was nothing less than consternation in the Polish delegation.

After a few hours, Katz-Suchy as spokesman somewhat lamely explained that Rokossovsky had merely decided to resume his Polish citizenship and that such a decision was similar to that of thousands of Poles who were integrated into the old czarist empire prior to World War I. But the pained expression made the words unconvincing.

Among the animals which have been domesticated since before recorded history are the dog, ox, sheep, goat, horse, humped cattle, elephant, cat, goose, honeybee and ass.

RUSSIANS 'READY' FOR REVOLT

Dream Of Freedom To End Rule Of Soviet Reds, Refugee Says

(EDITOR'S NOTE: "The Russians dream of only one thing—freedom," declares Alexander F. Kerensky, president of the Russian provisional government which overthrew the czar and was itself later destroyed by the Bolsheviks.

Kerensky, on his first postwar visit to France, predicts in the following article that Communist domination of Russia will be shattered and the country will become a democratic "federation of free and equal sovereign nations—some kind of commonwealth."

Kerensky, who now is a resident of the United States, envisions the future Russia as one of the world's "most peaceful countries.")

By ALEXANDER F. KERENSKY
(As Told To David G. Tyson, INS Staff Correspondent)

PAIRS, Nov. 17—If there is an underground movement in Russia today nobody has the right to speak about it because any under ground movement is a secret movement. But I think—after contact with the new generation of Russians—that psychologically all are ripe for a change in government there.

In recent years I have had personal contact with many refugees escaped from the Soviet Union, most of them members of the new generation which has grown up since the Bolshevik revolution.

The Russians dream of only one thing: Freedom!

The essential problem in Russia's tragic conflict between her government and her people is this question of human liberty.

Love Of Liberty Grows

The love of liberty in this new generation which has grown up under the present Communist regime is the result of tradition.

The movement for constitutional and democratic freedom in Russia is very old, beginning as early as the end of the 18th century. All Russian literature is imbued with these ideas, not only of human freedom but also social justice.

So the young generation got these traditions from their parents and from conversations about times before the Bolsheviks.

And then, of course, there is the experience of life itself under the present regime. This is the best proof that the love of freedom is imbued in the human soul. Even in the Komsopols, the Soviet youth organizations, the young people have the same desires our forefathers had.

Refugees I have spoken to from countries recently fallen under Communist domination relate how the Communist system of dictatorship is well organized and that after five years the machine of terror is so terrible there is no possibility of restoring democracy. And five years is not so long as the 30 years Russia has lived under communism. But I am certain democracy will come to Russia and to all European peoples now under Communist tyranny.

I have been asked how it will come without a third world war. I cannot predict but only observe historical tendencies, and in Russia this means the restoration of democracy by what means, nobody knows.

Perhaps there will be some internal conspiracy in the government, or some kind of large popular movement, or a new international conflict.

Russian Problem Isolated

Between the two wars public opinion thought it would be possible to create a democratic world ignoring the situation in Russia. They thought they could isolate this enormous mass of land population. They treated the so-called "Russian problem" as some isolated fact.

Now the Russian problem is the world problem, that of two irreconcilable ways of life. And victory for the democratic forces in the world without the victory of the same forces on the other side of the iron curtain is absolutely impossible.

The recent note in which Stalin hailed the leaders of the East German republic virtually as equals is a development in the strategic line of enlarging the Communist area in Europe.

To dissipate fear among Germany's neighbors, such as Poland and Czechoslovakia, the East German government formally accepted the condition that there would be no future German aggressions. It pledged no further drang nach Osten—drive to the east.

Red Policy Protested

I notice that U.S. delegate to the United Nations Benjamin Cohen recently stated Russia is a country of aggressive imperialism. I must formally protest against this policy of the Kremlin and the Cominform, because the Russian people do not like any imperialistic policy.

The unanimous opinion of all refugee members of the new Russian generation is that the future Russia will be a federation of free and equal nations — some kind of commonwealth. For that future Russia they accept the same policy as the government of free Russia in March, 1917.

In the 19th century, not only Russia had an imperialist government, but all other large nations maintained empires and imperial policies. Now all this is past. The Soviet government, however, is dictated by the policies of the international communistic movement which is not representative of the Russian people.

I have the right to declare formally that after the overthrow of Communism, Russia will be one of the most peaceful countries, in complete accord with the essential ideas of the United Nations.

Unsatisfactory parents are no bar to baptism, says Britain's Bishop of Rochester.

NEW FORDS ON DISPLAY FRIDAY — New styling of the 1950 Custom Deluxe Fordor sedan, pictured above, which will be on display along with other body types Friday at Lubbock Auto Co., includes features which add to the performance, economy, safety, comfort, and appearance of the new cars.

Eleven 1950 Ford Models Will Be Shown To Public By Lubbock Auto Company Today

Showing simultaneously in the showrooms of 6,400 Ford dealers throughout the nation, the 1950 Ford line of passenger cars, with scores of improvements, will be on display at Lubbock Auto Co., 820 Texas avenue, today.

Eleven body models of the new Fords have been received for the showing here.

"All improvements in the 1950 Fords have been geared to offer even greater quality than offered in the high quality 1949 cars," Harry Morris, president of the Lubbock Auto Co., said.

The new features embody improvements throughout the entire car—in the engine, the body, the seats, doors, frame, trunk, fabrics, instrument panel, brakes, floors and elsewhere.

Engine Choice Offered

The '50 Fords will be offered in two lines—the Custom Deluxe and the lower-priced Deluxe series. A full range of body styles will be available, including station wagons and convertibles. Ford will continue to offer the choice of two engines—the 100-horsepower V-8 and the 95-horsepower Six.

Styling of the 1950 car, although not radically changed because of the wide public acceptance of the modern design of the Fords, nevertheless includes several distinctive features to enrich the appearance.

A colorful new crest, derived from an authentic coat of arms dating back to 17th century England, appears on the front of the hood and center of the trunk lid. This is the first crest that has ever appeared on Ford cars.

Other styling features include a new hood ornament, re-styled parking lights in new positions and a new ornamental deck lid handle.

Economy Keynote

Engine improvements include the latest developments in engine design to give 1950 cars the quietest and smoothest running V-8s and 6-cylinder engines ever produced by the company.

Some of the engine features are a new timing gear, autothermic type pistons, new design camshaft lobes, new fan and reduction of fan speed on the V-8s and many other improvements adding to the life and quietness of the engine.

Economy is keynoted through all of the many engine changes highlighted by still greater economy of oil consumption. The enhanced oil economy results from an addition of an oil squirt hole in the connecting rods, new cylinder wall finish and a rubber seal ring on the intake valve stem guide of the V-8 engine.

Comfort features offer a new non-sag front seat spring, new sponge rubber front seat cushion, improved front-end suspension, additional headroom and increased areas of sound conditioning for quieter operation.

Safety factors include the strengthening of Ford's famed "Lifeguard" body, new bumper guards, a ribbed rear bumper and bumper supports for added strength, easier operating handbrake, wider sun visors and improved steering linkage for easier control.

Colors are offered in a brilliant new array of 11 choices. There are new colors of broadcloth and mohair for interior finishings.

Doors will be equipped with new rotary locks as in the costliest cars. The exterior handle will have a touch-button latch and there will be arm rest door closers.

Overdrive Optional

Luggage compartments, which are the roomiest in the Ford-priced field, offer a new deck-lid latch and an automatic releasing support arm for easy operation together with attractive compartment lining.

Other features include an attractive new three-quarter horn ring, new gas filler tube and cover, new rigid regulators for windows, new double-walled glove compartment door, new automatic courtesy lights which go on when front doors are opened, new durable floor coverings and increased openings for defrosters.

Overdrive, which improves gasoline economy up to 15 per cent, will continue to be sold as factory-installed optional equipment on all models.

CAUGHT ON THE RUN

CORSICANA, Nov. 17 (AP)—Kelly Myers, filling station mechanic, brought home a Canadian goose today. Myers was driving to work when he noticed the goose limping down the highway. He got out and had to chase it across a field before he caught it. One of its wings had been broken by a shot.

'Passion Flower' Of Spanish War Fame Believed Red Victim

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, Nov. 17—Spanish republican informants said tonight they have received reports that Dolores Gomez Ibarruri, the "La Pasionaria" of Spanish civil war fame, has been arrested as a "Titoist."

A Moscow report said that Ibarruri, the "Passion Flower," was named a vice-president of the council of the "Women's International Democratic Federation" which opened in the Soviet capital today.

Arrest Believed Likely

But Spanish informants in Paris as well as non-Spaniards, maintained that she has been arrested and the Russians might be temporarily continuing to use her name in a so-called Communist front organization.

They said she already was a vice-president of the women's group and that it is conceivable that the Russians will keep recognizing her in public announcements pending the possibility that she may recant her views.

One report said she was arrested in Prague, where she was known to have been recently.

Spanish Reds Split

Despite her exact status all the informants told International News Service that there is a widespread split in the Spanish Communist party involving other figures besides La Pasionaria.

Dolores Ibarruri, now in her early 50's, fled to Russia when the Communist - aided republican struggle against the Franco Nationalists ended in defeat.

Her son was killed at Stalingrad fighting against the Germans. The mother was quoted as saying before he died that "it is better to die on your feet than live on your knees."

The report on the famous Communist woman marks a climax in a grave crisis which Spanish republicans-in-exile said opened months ago.

Some 60,000 head of natives' cattle, reduced to skeletons from lack of grazing, are slowly recovering since recent heavy rains in Kenya, Mombasa reports.

New York Christian Service Worker To Speak Here Friday

MINISTRY OFFERS MODEL LAWS

British Officials Launch Drive To Clean Up Lax Food Handling

By DON SCHWIND
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 17. — Disease-conscious authorities want the waiter's thumb taken out of Britain's soup.

In a drive to clean up free and easy food handling, the food ministry has offered local councils a set of model laws to toughen national legislation covering the restaurant, hotel and food trades.

The food and health ministries worked out the models after widespread newspaper protests said the Britton sometimes is getting mice in his meat pie, old razor blades and cigarette butts in his bun and a wide range of infectious diseases from his carelessly washed tea-cup.

House Members Wince

Loudest complainer in the House of Commons was Laborite W. C. Skeffington-Lodge who made members wince at his figures in a demand for a crack down on waiters, cooks, butchers and fishmongers with dirty habits.

Britain had 56 food poisoning cases in 1938, but 964 last year, he said.

He added "fly-blown fish, poultry and meat are all too often exposed openly in shops or wrapped in newspaper and other unsuitable wrappings.

"Dogs are allowed into food shops. Cats sun themselves among the sweets (candy), sit on counters, or rummage among vegetables and other eatables."

Slovenly Habits Attacked

He attacked "slovenly habits" in Britain's "ordinary kitchen on the one hand and our luxury hotels on the other."

Skeffington-Lodge warned that "spitting, dirty fingernails, finger-licking, unguarded coughing and sneezing, and dirty hands" must be checked.

Dr. Edith Summerskill, parliamentary secretary to the food ministry, supported him: "The curious thing is that these are things we all know about and see in our daily life when we go into any small cafe. Unfortunately the public conscience is not sufficiently aroused to demand an alteration."

The parliamentary spotlight focused on the dirty food problem only a few hours after Bristol health inspectors found half a razor blade in a loaf of bread. "The rest of the blade has probably been eaten," the city's chief sanitary inspector observed.

In the Lancashire agricultural area of milk short Britain, a health officer said dirty habits among farmers and farmhands are causing spoilage of big quantities of milk." It is time," he added "that elementary principles of personal hygiene were more widely understood and enforced."

The remains of a mouse recently turned up in a Londoner's meat pie and health cases involving cigarette butts, cigar ends, and assorted small objects in bread and buns are frequent in British courts.

Strongest newspaper pressure is directed at badly washed and cracked crockery in restaurants. Restaurant and hotel operators retort however that the Nazi blitz smashed a large part of prewar crockery and the export drive limited the flow of new cups, saucers, and plates into the home market.

Papers Launch Drives

Full scale campaigns for less dirt have been carried on by the Laborite Daily Herald, Liberal News-Chronicle, and the Independent Daily Mirror. Even the August Times made editorial pleas for cleaner hands and dishes.

Britain's restrictions on bread-wrapping—set up early in the war to save labor and paper—were lifted Nov. 1.

In many British towns and cities, cleaner food campaigns have been launched, partly as a lure to dollar-bearing American tourists and partly because a wave of public complaint swept across Britain in the last two or three months.

In the St. Pancras borough of London, sanitary inspectors check-on "pub" lavatories found only 33 clean ones in 238. They found 75 sanitary defects in kitchens, 188 in cellars, 118 in bars, and 68 behind counters.

Bacteria Found On Utensils

A health inspector touring 25 hotel and restaurant kitchens found 201 out of 615 utensils bearing potentially dangerous bacteria.

British railways restaurants and tearooms, where slovenly waitresses with dirty hands and grimier clothing serve buns in their fingers, have long been a favorite target of clean food campaigners.

If Britain's city, town and rural councils adopt the food ministry's model laws, a food ministry spokesman said, a sharp cut in food poisoning cases is hoped for.

Adoption of the laws may also see the end of one tourist point of interest that hasn't changed much since William the Conqueror—open-air fishmonger's and butcher's slabs alive with flies in mid-summer.

U. S. Representatives In Far East To Study Rising Asiatic Problems

J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United States has called a meeting of its representatives in the Far East as a prelude to ending the "wait and see" policy pursued since Nationalist China began to collapse.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, the State department's top trouble shooter, will probably carry to the meeting some broad general ideas of what the United States would like to do. He will ask the on-the-ground men how it can best be accomplished in their respective areas.

Some of the major questions involve specific action—negative or positive—in individual areas.

Must Decide Course

For instance, the Communist threat toward Formosa is developing. The U. S. has said that no more military aid would go to Chiang Kai-Shek. But Chiang has made Formosa his hold-out base. And Formosa, lying across the southeastern shipping lanes from Japan and only a short hop from the Philippines, is in a vital strategic position. Should the United States do for Formosa what it did for Greece?

This ties in with the question of Okinawa, and the extent to which it should be developed as the permanent American military base for the area, which seems to be its destiny. Formosa in hostile hands would be a threat here, too.

Jessup, for his part, may receive first hand information about Far Eastern desires regarding a peace treaty for Japan. American actions in connection with this treaty will have an important bearing on the attitude of all Southeast Asia toward any anti-Communist front which America proposes.

It seems logical, too, that the question of recognition of the Communist government in China should remain open until its political effects in Southeast Asia can be discussed at this session.

Korea Also Issue

The position of southern Korea vis-a-vis the Communist-ruled northern section is another vital Asian question, involving American aid and the desire of the southern Koreans to take drastic steps—perhaps even invasion—to secure unification of the country.

There is also the delicate case of Hong Kong, and how far the U. S. should go in supporting the British position there despite the fact that to many Asiatics besides the Chinese, it still represents a thorn of imperial penetration.

France, enjoying American support in Europe, is thereby enabled to spend a million dollars a day in an effort to preserve her position in Indo-China. This goes against the grain of growing Asiatic nationalism, yet it seems that France out would mean Communists in. Another of the Asiatic questions which, like Indonesia, seem to have no immediate definitive answers.

The very fact that the meeting is to be held in Thailand, rather than in one of the centers of direct Aemrican connections in the Orient, suc has Manila or Tokyo, stresses the American desire to establish a community of interest—a partnership rather than a string of dependents—in Southeast Asia.

The objective is to extend the line of Communist containment from Europe and the Middle East around the world. Policy toward the specific problems—establishment of trust in the American attitude—will have everything to do with that.

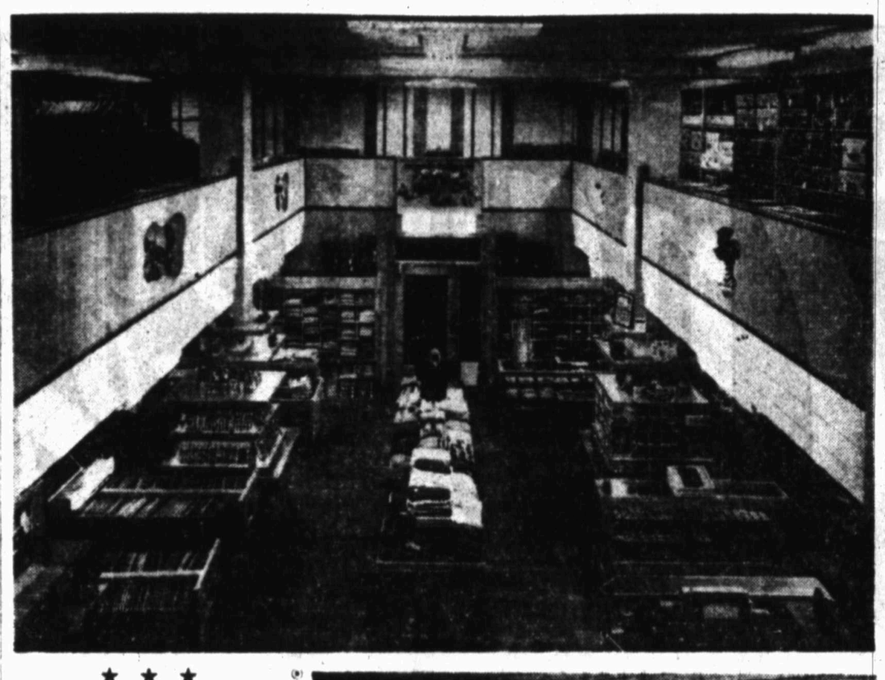

Three Paratroopers Killed When Car And Train Collide

DUNN, N. C., Nov. 17 (INS)—Three paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne division stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., were killed instantly near Dunn today when an Atlantic Coast line passenger train rammed into the car in which they were riding.

The victims were identified as Private Harlan Lewis Ray, of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Corporal David Ralph, of Glendale, Calif.; and Private Richard McCormick, from Ingalls, Kansas.

ALTO MAN CLAIMED

ALTO, Nov. 17. (AP)—E. P. Palmer, 64, landowner and stockman, died in a Dallas hospital today. Palmer served as a state representative in 1931. He was mayor of Alto from 1924-29 and in 1933 and 1939. Services will be held here tomorrow.

New Hub Will Open In City

After having undergone remodeling and redecorating for the past several months, the New Hub Clothiers store at the corner of Broadway and Texas avenue will be formally opened to the public this week-end.

Louis Greenberg of El Paso, the new owner, who also owns stores at El Paso and Wichita Falls, has announced that Sylvan Skibell is new general manager of the Hub and Jean Wages, assistant manager.

Skibell, who has had 25 years experience in the clothing business, has been in Lubbock ten years. Wages, in addition to assisting Skibell, is in charge of the store's clothing department.

A thoroughly experienced sales staff has been employed to carry out the store's slogan of "Our Idea of fair treatment will always be the same as yours."

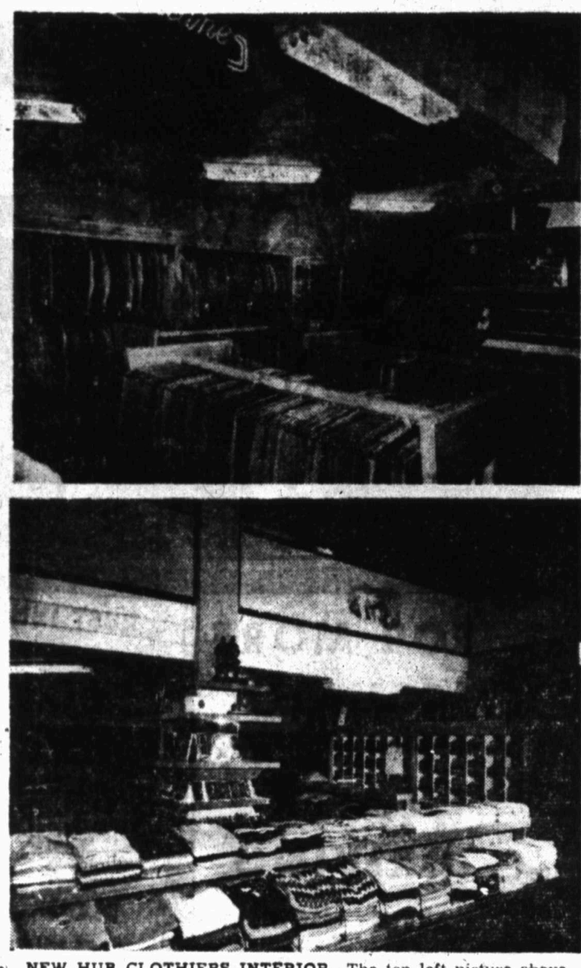

The store has been completely reconditioned throughout in pastel colors with fixtures and furnishings in Weltex and knotty pine. The store's fixtures were built by expert craftsmen right in the building and made to conform with the needs of the various departments.

The mezzanine floor has been utilized as a suit den and sports wear department. Other departments in the store include luggage, hats, furnishings, shoes, jewelry and novelties and outer wear.

The crew of the Aberdeen, Scotland, trawler Viking Star hauled in their nets at sea to find only one fish—an 826 pound tunny.

Show Slated In Gaines County

SEMINOLE, Nov. 17 (Special)—A full slate of officers for the Gaines county Fair and Livestock Show association has been named and final plans are being completed for the livestock show which will be held in Seagraves in February. The fair is held each fall in Seminole.

A. G. Ward is president of the association and three vice presidents represent the three towns of the county. They are Joe Anderson, Seminole, M. E. Brewer, Seagraves and Mark Allen, Loop.

Open To Club Boys

Two directors from each town complete the governing body. They are Jeff Shipp and Reaves Cothes of Seminole, Jeff Singleton and Nig Moore of Seagraves and J. C. Freeman and T. O. Hunt of Loop.

Moore has been named manager of the livestock show and officials hope that the new Gaines county road maintenance building will be completed in Seagraves in time to house the show. A definite date has not been set.

The livestock show will be open to 4-H and FFA boys only. Divisions for dairy calves, beef calves, hogs and sheep are expected to attract a large number of entries. Winners will receive trips to Fort Worth for visits to packing plants, mills and other industries related to farming and ranching as prizes. Their prize winning stock will be marketed at Fort Worth and no local auction will be held with the show.

BIG EXPANSION Program underway. Our New Memphis six-story addition soon to be completed. Rawleigh Products more popular than ever. Seven successive years of increases. We need a good man or woman to sell this well known line to Consumers in City of Lubbock. Write Rawleigh's, Dept. TXK-890-216, Memphis, Tenn.

SALESMAN wanted! Permanent, full-time job with exclusive product in Lubbock. Salary and commission. Contact H. J. Mitchell, 210 College

WILL TAKE applications for first class salesman. Must have selling experience and willing to work hard. Excellent opportunity to party selected. Send experience and reference to H. E. Thomas, Mgr., Abilene Candy Company, Lamesa, Texas.

WILL HAVE OPENING FOR SALESMAN

in the near future, selling building products in Lubbock territory. This is strictly a commission job, but a good one. Pays to $4000 to $6000 per year. Write immediately to

BOX 25, AVALANCHE

CAN YOU STAND PROSPERITY?

We would have no opening in our organization were it not that a number of representatives who came to us from other fields are not used to easy earnings of $600 to $1200 monthly. They have to take time off to spend the surplus. We would like to interview a few sober, industrious salesmen with family income. To those selected, we can offer unlimited immediate earnings and an opportunity for executive responsibilities.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. (AP)—Wheat and corn managed a timid advance on the board of trade today. Although they did not gain much, they did better than other cereals. Oats and rye eased while soybeans were mixed.

Approval of grants to France and Turkey by the Economic Cooperation administration backgrounded the gains in these cereals.

Wheat closed ¼-¾ higher, December $2.09⅞, corn was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, December $1.25⅜-¾, oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 74, rye was unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.30½, soybeans were ½ lower to ¾ higher, November $2.21, and lard was 3 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $9.55.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17. (AP)—Wheat No. 1 2.30-36.
Oats No. 2 white 90¾-91½.

AUTO'S LEAD STOCK ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. (AP)—Automobile issues paced the stock market in another advance today.

A fresh rise on top of Wednesday's advance just about wiped out the fairly substantial losses of Monday and Tuesday.

Gains approached 3 points in the case of Chrysler, with most one point or less. Closing quotations generally were the best of the day.

The trading tempo quickened as the price curve rose. Turnover totaled 1,410,000 shares, a bit above the average for recent sessions, and compared with 1,210,000 yesterday.

Popularity of the motors appeared to stem mainly from the belief that auto makers still have a huge market before them, with consequent rich earnings and the prospect of generous dividends.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .5 of one point to 67.8. The industrial group showed the widest gain, with rails and utilities trailing far behind.

Today's closing average compares with 68.7 touched on Nov. 2, highest in a year or so.

General Motors took top place in the active list, rising 2¾ to 65¾. Chrysler, also actively traded, jumped 2⅞ to 58⅛. Studebaker gained 2¾ at 26⅞ and Hudson ¼ at 12⅞.

Low-priced Packard slipped for a while but ended unchanged at 3⅛.

Up a point or so were Du Pont at 61¾, Douglas Aircraft 65¼, Coca-Cola 161½, American Smelting 49¼, American Cyanamid 46⅜ and Allied Chemical 201.

Others higher included Greyhound, Northern States Power, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Phelps Dodge, Westinghouse Electric, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil of California, United Air Lines, and Certain-Teed.

Unable to make the grade were Sears Roebuck, Consolidated National Gas, Dow Chemical, and Standard Oil (NJ).

Higher in the curb were Babcock and Wilcox, Cuban Atlantic Sugar, Pancoastal Oil, Winnipeg Electric, and Imperial Oil.

Cities Service jumped 2⅛ to 64⅜ on word of an increased and extra dividend.

Lower were Creole Petroleum and Rotary Electric Steel. Sales of 470,000 shares compared with 390,000 yeaterday.

Selective demand appeared for railway bonds. Long-term U. S. governments moved 70 1/32 to 3/32 of a point in over-the-counter dealings.

Generosity Leads Bostonian To Jail For Illegal Hunting

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Nov. 17. (INS)—H. Warren Beard, 48-year-old Bostonian, is a good sport, and that's why he's in jail today.

Beard was out hunting with five companions in Pickaway county, Ohio, and between them they bagged 15 pheasant hens, six quail and a Hungarian partridge.

What Beard did not know is that such hunting is illegal in Ohio.

When arrested Beard generously volunteered to "take the rap" for the entire party.

The fine came to (groan) $4,684.01 in all—$200 for each bird and levied court costs of $5.80 on each. It cost an additional $56.41 to place Beard in jail.

And there he remains until his friends can dig up the money. The magistrate refused to accept personal checks.

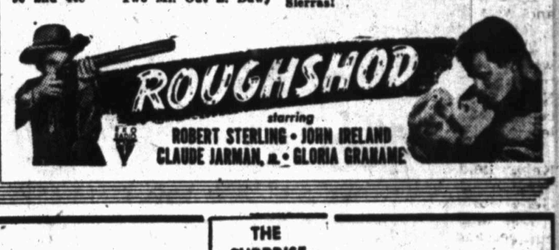

Those hunting for money are: Arthur Sharp, and George Dean, both of Columbus; Beard's brother, W. T. Beard of Huntington, W. Va., and Hugh and Robert Gillan of Chesapeake, O.

ields, has been completed for a 4-hour calculated potential of ,124 barrels of 43-gravity oil. Gas-il ratio was 716-1.

No. 1 Von Roeder was completed rom open hole between the 5½ ich oil string cemented at 6,630 eet and the total depth at 6,735 eet in the Canyon, topped at 6,625 eet.

The flow was natural through a hree-quarter inch tubing choke. o formation water was reported.

Location is 660 feet from north nd west lines of section 16, block , J. P. Smith survey.

Standard-Fryer No. 1 Wilkinson as completed as a discovery be-ween the Kelley-Canyon and North Snyder fields, but has re-ently been designated in the Kel-ey field.

Another new producer for the Kelley field has been completed at Spartan Drilling company and Gene Goff No. 1-A Hardy.

The well was finished as a pumper and made an initial daily production of 92.30 barrels of 42-gravity oil, plus 33 1-3 percent water. Gas-oil ratio was 800-1.

The production was from open hole between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,863 feet and the total depth at 6,883 feet. That interval was treated with 3,000 gallons of acid.

The new pumper is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 207, block 97, H&TC survey.

EXPLORATION PLANNED IN NORTH SNYDER FIELD

L. M. Lockhart of Corpus Christi has filed an application with the Railroad commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill his No. 1-A H. E. Rosser as a 6,900-foot exploration on the southeast side of the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county.

The venture will be 467 feet from north and west lines of section 178, block 3, H&GN survey, and three miles north of Snyder.

In the Diamond-M field of Southwest Scurry county, Lion Oil company is to begin drilling in the near future at its No. 34 McLaughlin, slated 6,900-foot exploration to test the Canyon reef lime.

No. 34 McLaughlin will be 1,996.9 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 196, block 97, H&TC survey. That puts it ten miles southwest of Snyder.

Youngblood & Foree of Dallas No. 3 Wilkirson is to be a new project on the northeast side of the Kelley field in Central Scurry county.

The exploration, slated to drill to 6,800 feet, will be 467 feet from south and west lines of section 40, lot 19, Kirkland & Fields survey and four and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

Operations are to begin immediately.

WILDCAT NEAR LAMESA REPORTED IN SANDY LIME

Reagan J. Caraway No. 1 Loe, Northwest Dawson county wildcat to 10,700 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian lime, seven miles northwest of Lamesa, is reported by unofficial sources to have entered the Spraberry sandy lime of the lower Permian at 7,404 feet.

In drilling to 7,411 feet the project is credited with having had soft drilling and to have logged some oil stains and some flourescence.

Unofficial observers report that the operator was slated to drill to 7,454 feet and run a drillstem test.

No official geological information is available on the structural position of this venture.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 12, league 3, Taylor county School Land survey. The above report has not been officially verified.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Whatley, Central-North Scurry county wildcat, over a plugged back total depth of 7,775 feet, after failing to get any shows of commercial production.

The prospector was drilled to a total depth of 8,340 feet in the Ellenburger, but that horizon made only salt water, with no shows of oil or gas.

Operator then plugged back to its present bottom of 7,775 feet in the Strawn. That section showed 7,400 feet of salt water.

The dry hole is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 548, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles north of the North Snyder-Canyon field and 12 miles north of Snyder.

"The biggest issue this year has been the official action of the United Nations in giving Palestine back to its rightful owners, the Jews," he said. "It's the first time in 1,879 years that land has been under control of its rightful owners."

Dr. Norris said he believes that when the "great revival" comes, ministers will lay aside their planned sermons and call for repentence of sins. "Churches need to repent, preachers need to repent, laymen need to repent," he said. Every great revival in history has had the characteristic of repentence from sin, he said.

Dr. Norris is pastor of the First Baptist church in Fort Worth and Temple Baptist church in Detroit. He is to return to Fort Worth following his sermon here.

Marriage Proves Temporary End To 43 Year Separation

BRISTOW, Okla., Nov. 17 (AP) — Ella Mershon-Burris and Barkeley Burris, who were married last February after 43 years apart, are separated again.

Mrs. Burris, 65, filed suit for divorce today.

"He wasn't the same man I married 45 years ago," she said.

The two lived in Corsicana back in 1904 when Burris left to go job hunting. He didn't come back and after a few years both came to believe the other dead. Mrs. Burris married C. M. Mershon, who died four years ago.

Then after four decades, Burris learned from his wife's brother, Frank Owens, in Plainview that she was alive and lived here. He visited her and they were remarried last Feb. 8.

Federal Policing Of Newspapers Feared

Journalism Group Postpones Action On Press Ethics Code

DALLAS, Nov. 17. (AP) — The 30th annual national convention of Sigma Delta Chi voted today to take no immediate action on a proposed code of press ethics.

The professional journalism fraternity sent the proposed code back to a committee for more study.

Professor Floyd Arpan of Northwestern university told the session that critics of newspapers, magazines and radio are trying to pass laws which would undermine the freedom of the press.

Strong Code Needed

"We need some sort of a code before the government steps in and starts policing us the way the government did the oil and railroad industries," Arpan said. "We need a code with teeth in it, but the question here today seems to be do we want those teeth."

Bernard Kilgore, president of the Wall Street Journal, led the fight on the proposed code.

"I'm for ethics but not for this code," Kilgore said. "The code could become a weapon through which some outsider could use to beat our brains out."

Kilgore said that "when you set up codes based on various standards of respectable opinion, you're tampering with freedom of the press."

Mason Smith, newspaper publisher from Gouverneur, N.Y., spoke in favor of the code.

Public Relations Urged

"A code of ethics would be good public relations for us," he said. "We do a good public relations job for other people, but we're the worst in the world when it comes to selling ourselves to the public."

Bill Taylor of the University of Texas told the convention that "there is a rising feeling among the public that the press is not fulfilling its obligations."

"So we need a code of ethics just like doctors and lawyers before the government starts policing us," he said.

In an interview after the meeting, Arpan said that some publishers with their "I can print anything I please" attitudes are breeding legal restrictions on the press.

INTERMINGLING OF RACES OPPOSED

Millionaire Aiming To Make Money Talk On Racial Issue

By JAMES McLEAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NATCHEZ, Miss., Nov. 17 (AP)—Said, rugged George W. Armstrong, sr., is determined to make his money talk loud and long against "racial mongrelization."

That's a term the 84-year-old millionaire uses often in voicing opposition to intermingling of Jews, Gentiles and negroes in the same schools.

Armstrong, who says he isn't sure how much money he has, splashed into headlines when money-poor Jefferson military college spurned his $50,0000,000 endowment offer (in mineral land rights) to teach "superiority of the Anglo-Saxon and Latin American races."

Later he dismissed the furore his offer created as a "tempest in a teapot," said the value of his holdings had been exaggerated, and that although he approves the doctrine of white supremacy, he had not made a formal request that the college teach it.

New College Planned

However, he said in an interview here, "if I have the estate I think I have, I'm going to organize an Armstrong university in Texas, either at Fort Worth or Port Arthur."

His proposed university would be for "white Christians only."

Armstrong mushroomed his wealth from oil ventures, banking, cattle, utilities, steel manufacturing in Texas and land buying in Mississippi.

Three years ago, he said, he established in Fort Worth the "Judge Armstrong foundation," which siphons off about 15 per cent of his income for "tax exempt charitable and educational purposes."

Armstrong says the foundation has been under attack by the "Truman new deal administration," and that internal revenue agents had been prying into some of the foundation donations. They contended some donations were "propaganda contributions," he said, and not entitled to tax exemptions.

Institutions His Hobby

Among others, Armstrong said, his organization had contributed to Gerald L. K. Smith, but "not over $600 or $700" (Smith now heads the Christian Nationalist crusade with headquarters in St. Louis); Emory Burke of Atlanta, Ga. (Burke was president of the Columbians, an anti-negro and anti-Jewish group stamped out in Atlanta in 1947); and R. H. Best of Boston (Best, a former American newsman in Germany, was sentenced to life after conviction of treason for nazi propaganda work).

"I can contribute my money to anybody I want," Armstrong said. He called Smith, Burke and Best "persecuted persons."

But he's ready if the government decides to question in court the tax exempt nature of some of his donations. "I'll start another institution," he said. He toys with ideas for new institutions as other men dabble in hobbies.

Although he pictures himself as a Jeffersonian, constitutional Democrat, Armstrong says he took little part in the states' right presidential campaign last year.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, the states' rights candidate, repudiated his support, he explained.

Votes In Texas

"I'm not anti-semitic," Armstrong said, in his slow, lip-pursing way of talking. "We've got some awfully good Jews here in Natchez and I like them." But he assails Jews, whites and negroes going to school together because it "mongrelizes the American race."

As for socialists or communists, his opinions sizzle.

Armstrong keeps a Fort Worth hotel residence for voting purposes, but prefers the quiet atmosphere of "Woodstock," his ante-bellum plantation south of Natchez.

He picked up the courtesy title "judge" from his younger days in the lone star state. Born in Jasper county, the son of an itinerant Methodist preacher, he tasted politics as a Tarrant county judge.

Tall and trim, Armstrong talks quietly, with few gestures. His solid row of gold teeth glitters when he smiles. He hears well and sees well, but carries two pairs of glasses just to be sure. One is a plastic frame pair, another dangles from a black ribbon around his neck.

Owns 38 Plantations

Seated on the wide, chair-studded verandah of his plantation home, he swept his hand toward the distance.

"I've got three oil fields in three counties and possibilities in two others," he said. He owns 38 plantations in Mississippi.

"I own 18 oil wells, including six of the biggest distillate wells in the world," he continued. "If turned loose, they could produce 10,000 barrels a day."

Many years ago Armstrong sold his interests in a string of private south Texas banks when the Spindletop oil field in southeast Texas came in.

He became a Fort Worth bank president in 1905, and later president of a small independent utility which he helped consolidate with several others to establish utility which he helped consolidate with several others to establish the Fort Worth Gas Co. He bought a small bolt works in 1907 and built it into the present Texas Steel Co. and Texas Steel Manufacturing Co. He is chairman of the board and holds a majority interest.

He skidded at least once, however. He was adjudged a bankrupt in Fort Worth's U. S. district court in 1923.

Three people attended a music lecture at Wisbech, England.

HIS HOBBY IS JUNK—Carving Chinese junks is the hobby of Hollywood actor Milburn Morante. He makes them from sugar pine. Sails are made of silk, then varnished.

Shivers Names Formal Day For Anti-Communist Display

AUSTIN, Nov. 17 (AP) — "Democracy beats Communism" day was formally set today for Dec. 7 by Gov. Allan Shivers.

American Legion posts over the state have planned daylong programs labelled by them and the governor as "operation democracy."

Heritage breakfasts will be held in hundreds of communities, followed by meetings of civic leaders, womens organizations, and school children. There will be afternoon parades and night meetings in churches with the theme "Christianity beats Communism."

State Legion Commander Joe Spurlock will make a statewide breakfast broadcast, and Gov. Allan Shivers will give a statewide radio network speech at 12:30, with all luncheon meetings cut in.

New Zealand barbers insist on a price raise for haircuts to 50 cents from 40 cents.

Italy claims to lead all other countries in exports of almonds —22,377 tons in 1949.

Motorist Asserts Silent Faith In Co-operation Of Pedestrians

WICHITA, Kans., Nov. 17 (AP) — The note was unsigned. Several coins held it on the running board of the car, left at a parking meter in the heart of the business district here today.

With full faith in the author's fellow men, it said:

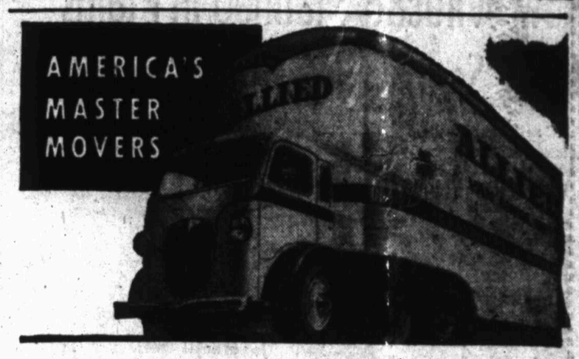

"Dear pedestrian:

"If this meter is red, please deposit one or more of these coins. I have gone to a show."

RICK LAUNDRYMAN DIES

Michael Tsea Timm, who became the first Chinese laundryman at Durban, South Africa, 53 years ago, when he arrived with few possessions after fleeing from Canton during China's Boxer Rebellion, died recently, leaving $44,428.
