Arguments slated on 'thumbs-down' juror

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A prosecutor said today it would be outrageous to disrupt jury deliberations in the racketeering trial of Gov. Edwin Edwards by removing a juror who had flashed a thumbs-down sign at television cameras.

Defense lawyers had asked that juror Clifford West be removed, arguing that his gesture Saturday was an illegal attempt to communicate with the outside world while the jury was sequestered. They said they were willing to let 11 jurors decide the case.

"You're asking me to do an awful lot of speculating" on the meaning of the gesture, U.S. District Judge Marcel Livaudais told defense attorneys. He said he would rule on the motion later today.

The jurors, in their fifth day of deliberations in the 13-week-old trial, were not present for the arguments and apparently were unaware of the controversy.

West, 31, made the thumbs-down gesture at television cameras Saturday morning after he boarded a van that carried jurors from their hotel to the courthouse.

Defense lawyers, prosecutors and Livaudais all viewed videotapes of West's gesture Saturday. All said they had no idea what the gesture meant.

William Jeffress, one of the defense team, said it could have many different interpretations.

Investigators report on flight's takeoff

GANDER, Newfoundland (AP) — The chartered DC-8 carrying 248 U.S. soldiers and eight crew members to their deaths reached an adequate speed for takeoff, then suddenly veered right and lost speed steadily until it crashed, Canadian investigators said today.

Peter Boag, investigator-in-charge for the Canadian Aviation Safety Board, told a news conference that analysis of the Arrow Air plane's flight data recorder showed the four-engine aircraft reached a peak speed of 190 mph during the one minute and 40 seconds that elapsed from the time it bagan rolling down the runway until the crash.

Flight arrangements were made with military transports to take the first 20 flag-draped aluminum transfer cases to Dover Air Force Base in Delaware this afternoon. The soldiers, members of the 101st Airborne were bound for Fort Campbell, Ky., and home after peacekeeping duties in Egypt's Sinai peninsula when the crash occurred.

Boag said the flight data recorder provided more detail on what happened during takeoff, but did not explain why.

"It will help us in determining the cause, but certainly at this stage it doesn't tell us the cause," he said.

The investigator said he had not pinned down exactly at what point during the brief flight the jet began slowing down and changing direction about 20 degrees to the right of its normal path. He also said he was not yet sure what peak altitude was achieved before the plane fell to a rocky hillside half a mile from the runway's end.

Boag said his 40-man team was still pulling important pieces of the shattered aircraft from ankle-deep snow to be sent to Ottawa for examination.

Hundreds in Gander attended a Sunday memorial service where a lone bugler sounded "The Last Post" for the dead soldiers.

At Fort Campbell today, President and Mrs. Reagan were attending a memorial service and meeting with the victims' families, many of whom first learned of the disaster as they assembled to give their loved ones a brass-band welcome home for Christmas.

FINAL REHEARSALS — Members of the 136 voice Snyder Community Chorus joined the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra under the direction of John Giordano for a brief rehearsal Sunday evening. The chorus will be performing excerpts from Handel's "Messiah" with the orchestra in this evening's "Prelude to Christmas" concert sponsored by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Cultural Affairs Committee. Curtian time for the concert is 8 p.m. in the Worsham Auditorium at Snyder High School. (SDN Staff Photo)

Tickets at door...

Christmas concert on tap for tonight

Chamber of commerce staffers say tickets will be available at the door Monday night for the appearance of the internationally acclaimed Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra.

The orchestra's "Prelude to Christmas" will begin at 8 p.m. in Worsham Auditorium at Snyder High School.

The facility seats more than 1,000 and as of Monday morning more than half of the seats had been reserved.

General admission tickets are priced at $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens.

Patrons who paid $25 for reserved seating and parking privileges should go to the parking lot area north of the auditorium. Individuals will meet them there to park their vehicles.

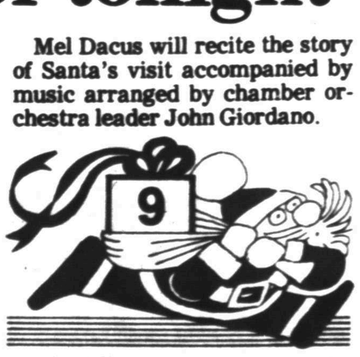

The appearance by the orchestra has been arranged by the chamber's cultural affairs committee.

In addition to the 34-piece orchestra, the program will include performances by an 136-voice choir comprised of local vocalists.

Featured will be solo performances by former Snyder residents Kathleen Kaun and Dr. Robert Clinton. Also featured will be Dr. Eldon Black of Angelo State University.

For the youngsters, a puppet show illustrating "The Night Before Christmas" will be performed also.

Mel Dacus will recite the story of Santa's visit accompanied by music arranged by chamber orchestra leader John Giordano.

DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

Yule slate 'busy'

Beginning Monday night with the appearance of the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra, Scurry County residents can look forward to a full week of Yuletide activities here during the week before Christmas.

The orchestra's performance of "A Prelude to Christmas" will be at 8 p.m. in Worsham Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber will be sponsoring a variety of Christmas-related events, as will several local civic clubs. Two concerts are scheduled by school students also.

Tuesday beginning at 5:30 p.m., the chamber will be holding Christmas open house at its offices at 2302 Ave. R. Refreshments will be served.

Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Worsham Auditorium, the Snyder Junior High School Choirs — seventh and eighth grade girls and boys — will be presenting their annual Christmas Concert.

Thursday, the chamber-sponsored Christmas parade is scheduled beginning at 6 p.m. Some 15 float entries are expected, each featuring both lights and music.

Spectators can view the parade as it goes down College Ave. from 30th St. and around the downtown square.

Thursday also, the high school girl's and boy's choirs will be presenting their Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. in Worsham Auditorium.

Friday will be the cutoff date for entries in the Jaycee-sponsored home and yard decorating contest.

Jaycee judges will be viewing the entries Sunday night, and local residents are invited to tour the city to see the lights also.

Work that has been progressing since before Thanksgiving will also culminate here this weekend as two local goodwill efforts conclude.

Deliveries announced for phone directories

The 1985 Snyder telephone directory is to be distributed here through Thursday, according to Jim West, community relations manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone.

West said a total of 10,179 directories will be delivered to area residents. Each residential customer is to receive one copy.

For additional copies, customers may call their Southwestern Bell Telephone business office during business hours Monday through Friday.

"If your friend across town gets a directory before you receive yours, please be patient since all directories are not delivered on the same day," West noted.

This year's edition contains 54 white pages and 114 Yellow Pages. There are 8,333 white page listings.

Emergency telephone numbers have been placed on the inside of the front cover of the new directory. Also, in the "Customer Guide" at the front, customers will find tips on how to save money on their phone service and a new map illustrating long distance service areas.

Teenager injured

A 17-year-old Irving girl was listed in critical condition Monday after a one-vehicle rollover Sunday which occurred near Inadale southeast of Snyder.

Leah Marchelle Thompson was injured in the accident. A passenger with her — Douglas Bryan Johnson of Irving — was examined for possible injuries at the local hospital and released.

Thompson is now undergoing treatment at Lubbock General Hospital.

According to Department of Public Safety accident reports,

Knife threat reported during highway stop

A 23-year-old Snyder man was jailed for aggravated assault of a peace officer and escape Sunday evening following a confrontation with highway patrolmen south of Snyder.

Gilberto Martinez of 805 27th St. — a passenger in a car stopped on suspicion of DWI — is alleged to have attempted to cut DPS Trooper Larry Brown with a knife.

The incident occurred during his arrest for suspicion of public intoxication near the intersection of Texas Highway 208 and the Brick Plant Road around 6:43 p.m.

According to DPS Trooper John Land — who was with Brown at the time — Brown was in the process of placing handcuffs on Martinez when he got a hand free and produced a knife with which he allegedly slashed at Brown.

Brown was, however, not injured in the attack and succeeded in subduing the suspect and placing him in the cuffs.

According to Land, Martinez was then placed into the back seat of the patrol car along with

Q. — When can you legally file or announce as a candidate for the May primary elections here?

A. — A candidate can announce any time assuming they have first signed a campaign treasurer's designation at the county clerk's office. To legally file, this must be done during a 30-day period beginning this year on Jan. 6 and ending Feb. 3. This filing is done through the county chairman of the candidate's political party.

In Brief

Nuke group

WACKERSDORF, West Germany (AP) — Hundreds of nuclear protesters have built temporary huts on the site of a nuclear reprocessing plant seeking to prevent workers from clearing more forest for the project, police said.

About 1,500 riot police watched without intervening Sunday as the protesters built huts from trees already felled, erected tents and made tree-branch barricades on the road to the site.

More than 1,000 more protesters filtered onto the site, but no disturbances or arrests were reported.

Death toll

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A cyclone that lashed southern India killed at least seven people, caused flooding and forced thousands to evacuate, the United News of India said.

The cyclone, with winds gusting up to 75 mph, struck Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu states early Saturday with strong winds and heavy rains, the news agency said Sunday.

Pentagon receives gas weapons okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon finally has won approval to build new chemical weapons for the first time since 1969, a green light granted as part of a congressional deal which halted tests of the U.S. satellite-killer missile.

The agreement cleared the way for Congress to approve the Pentagon's budget as part of a huge catch-all appropriations bill providing money for a variety of government agencies.

House and Senate negotiators approved the defense package late Friday following hours of closed-door meetings, conferees told reporters after they emerged from the session.

In deciding to halt the anti-satellite (ASAT) program, the conferees turned down an appeal from President Reagan, who said more tests were needed in order to convince the Soviets to bargain for a ban on the weapons.

The Democratic-run House had voted against chemical weapons and proposed a limit on ASAT tests, while the Republican-controlled Senate wanted to go ahead with both programs.

Nerve gas had been the only weapon denied President Reagan as part of his defense build-up. The Senate had supported the program, but the House had opposed it for three years and the House position always had prevailed in the conference sessions until this year.

This time, it was different as House negotiators concentrated on the ASAT ban.

"That ban was what we really wanted," said Rep. Norman Dicks, D-Wash.

"They were insistent," said Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, chief of the Senate team, implying that House negotiators wouldn't budge on the ASAT ban. "But we got chemical weapons."

Under the agreement, the Army would get about $140 million to build production facilities for chemical weapons and chemical shells for 155mm artillery guns.

But another chemical program, the "Bigeye" bomb, was dropped by the negotiators. That decision came after release of a General Accounting Office report last week which said the aircraft-carried bomb — named after its guidance system — still was beset by technical problems.

The agreement bans the spending of any money for chemical weapons until the start of fiscal 1987 next Oct. 1 and says U.S. allies in NATO have to agree that such weapons are needed. But an earlier House demand that NATO agree to store the weapons in western Europe was not made part of the package.

The agreement to halt ASAT tests came only a day after the Air Force launched two target satellites in preparation for the next round of tests. The agreement will prevent those tests from taking place.

The first test of the ASAT destroyed an aging scientific satellite high over the Pacific Ocean on Oct. 13.

The administration says the U.S. ASAT weapon is needed to offset a Soviet satellite killer, although Dicks and other critics contend the Soviet system is far more crude and less accurate than the American weapon.

Reagan planning base visit

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — The family and friends of the 248 Army troops killed along with eight crewmembers when a chartered DC-8 crashed in Canada mourned their loss and prepared to share their tears with President and Mrs. Reagan.

"Seeing the president, the chief of staffs, all our chain of command, all the billboards outside — it's helping somewhat," said a mourning soldier whose best friend was among those killed in Thursday's crash.

About 1,000 mourners, many weeping, gathered Sunday in the nearby town of Clarksville, Tenn. to pray for the victims of the crash at Gander International Airport in Newfoundland. Many were to come to the fort today for a memorial service with President and Mrs. Reagan.

The Reagans were to meet with several families of the soldiers from the 101st Airborne Division, based here, who were returning from a six-month tour of duty with an international peacekeeping force in the Mideast when the chartered Arrow Air DC-8 crash occurred.

Killed were 245 men and three women of the 101st Airborne and eight crew members. Family members and some soldiers who had returned earlier from the Sinai were at Fort Campbell early Thursday morning to greet the soldiers when they heard news of the tragedy.

Spec. John Bishop said he lost his best friend, Scott Gerdes, but that the community's drawing together has helped him with his personal grief.

Because the hangar accommodates about 500 people, only immediate family members and soldiers who had served in the Sinai would be allowed to meet with Reagan, said Maj. Jim Gleisberg, a public affairs officer for the base.

The president's visit highlights the outpouring of concern from the local community as well as the rest of the nation for the families of the victims.

Food and money were being collected to assist the widows and parents of the dead soldiers, a base spokesman said. Many people donated toys for the soldiers' children in time for Christmas.

"All welcome the sharing of love and affection and prayer," said Army Chief of Staff John A. Wickham Jr. during a weekend visit to the base.

Medication can ease cold sores

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — For years I've been getting cold sores or fever blisters inside my nose. Can cancer develop from this? What can be done to prevent the sores? What medications can be used on them?

DEAR READER — Cold sores are painful nuisances but do not lead to any serious condition. Get a prescription for acyclovar (Zovirax) and use the medicine as directed. It may help.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a 62-year-old grandmother and have had Reynaud's disease and scleroderma for 25 years. I know there is no cure, but is there any medication I could use? Sometimes I get so dizzy I feel like I'm going to pass out.

DEAR READER — Cortisone may remove many of your symptoms that result from scleroderma. Apparently, your doctor wisely deferred using it because of its side-effects and complications. Perhaps your doctor would consider referring you to a rheumatology clinic at a teaching hospital, where the experts might be aware of something new.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm 54, and three months ago I had vaginal surgery to repair a cystocele and a rectocele. Until that time, my husband (60) and I had enjoyed a fairly active sex life. The pain is now is too great to permit intercourse. I take Premarin (0.125) and have tried K-Y Jelly. Is our sex life over as far as intercourse is concerned?

DEAR READER — Following the type of surgery you had, normal relations may be impossible until healing has been completed. By three months, most of that healing should have taken place, so I'm concerned that there you may be having some unforeseen problem. Ask your gynecologist for an appointment to discuss, in depth, your unusually severe discomfort. In theory, there is no reason why you may not eventually enjoy a satisfactory sex life.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am only 21, but my hair is extremely thin on top. My father and both grandfathers had almost nonexistent hair, but my uncle kept his until he was in his 40s. Would the drug minoxidil help? Is it available in the United States? It probably has side-effects, but I can't imagine the thought of going bald.

DEAR READER — You may be the recipient of some unwanted genes in the form of hereditary baldness. Minoxidil is available in the United States and has been shown to promote hair growth in certain individuals. However, get a dermatologist's advice and approval before using it.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 16-year-old son brought his high school newspaper home, and an article titled "Have a Little Drink?" appeared on the front page. It was from your booklet, "What Every Teen-Ager Ought to Know," and printed with your permission.

My husband agrees that it should be run in your column so that children all over the country can read it. Please do, Abby.

JIMMY'S PARENTS, MILWAUKEE

DEAR PARENTS: Here's the piece:

HAVE A LITTLE DRINK?

Now about drinking:

Are you afraid to say no when someone in the crowd says, "Aw, come on, have one..."? Don't be. If someone offered you a Coke, and you didn't like Coke, you wouldn't hesitate a second to say, "No, thanks."

It's just as easy to turn down beer, wine or liquor, and far, far wiser. Those in the crowd who really count will respect your refusal. Why should you care what the others think?

Alcohol dissolves almost anything—including your judgment. Under its influence, you may do things you shouldn't and wouldn't do normally.

Most people think of an alcoholic as a smelly old bum sleeping it off in a doorway.

But would you believe there are alcoholics as young as 10 years old?

Or that automobile accidents caused by drunken driving are the No. 1 cause of death among teen-agers?

Or that teen-age alcoholism is so bad a problem that many states are upping their drinking-age limits?

It's true.

Alcoholism is now considered a disease, not a character flaw to be ashamed of. Just why one drinker becomes an alcoholic and another doesn't is still a puzzle. But one thing is certain: Alcoholism is self-induced and self-destructive.

This is not to say that a can of beer or an occasional cocktail will start you on your way to skid row. For the vast majority, it won't. But for a few, alcohol can be a bomb, a time bomb.

How can you tell? There are clues: If ...

You're having three while others are having one ...

You need a drink to make you feel more relaxed, comfortable and at ease with people ...

You drink because it gives you self-confidence and courage ...

You turn to alcohol in times of stress or trouble—to "forget" ...

You drink alone ...

You take a drink to help you get over the effects of the night before ...

Then you could be an alcoholic, and shouldn't drink at all. Even if you drink only beer, you can become an alcoholic. It's not what you drink, but how much.

If you think you've got a drinking problem, help is as near as your telephone. In every city, even in small towns, there's an organization called Alcoholics Anonymous (better known as AA) whose members—all ex-alcoholics—are ready to help you night and day.

And it's free. It's also "anonymous." No one will say he saw you there.

You don't have to sign up or "join" anything. In fact, you don't even have to give your name.

All right, let's assume you are not an alcoholic. You're a normal, healthy teen-ager who has just discovered that a beer or two (or maybe a shot of vodka from the old man's liquor cabinet) gives you a "lift." It makes you feel "good, happy, exhilarated." It adds to your self-confidence, removes your inhibitions and makes you much more sociable.

Maybe so—for a while. But the effects of the "high" are bound to wear off, and when they do, you'll feel let down, depressed and blue. Alcohol is not a stimulant. It's actually a depressant.

Add to that the knowledge that the removed inhibitions may cause you to say and do things you would never have done otherwise. If you're really unlucky, you can pass out, and when you come to, you'll have to ask, "What did I do?" Now, who would want to be in a mess like that?

I realize that a few lines in a booklet will not keep you from having a drink or two if that's what you want to do, but if it is, I can only implore you to know your limit and don't ever exceed it. And don't drive while you are under the influence.

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Dec. 17, 1985

Two old involvements that you have been thinking about giving up on will start to yield a bounty in the year ahead. Your time and efforts weren't wasted.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Things must not be taken at face value today. Probe a bit beneath the surface and you'll come up with information that isn't obvious to others. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have a marvelous faculty today for drawing out others. People you talk to might tell you things they dare not reveal to anyone else.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Career and financial conditions are apt to be more favorable for you today than they will be tomorrow. Act while you have the advantage.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Experience is an asset that you can use to your benefit. Look into your past for the key to unlock today's door to success.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Important business affairs should be conducted in a confidential atmosphere today, screened from interfering outsiders. Shoo away busybodies.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Make it a point to share fun happenings today with old friends. They'll be pleased you thought of them, and their presence will add to your enjoyment.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take measures today to get closer to people who can help advance your career goals. You'll move ahead more rapidly once you have their cooperation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your managerial and organizational skills will be pronounced today. If those with whom you're involved start fumbling, step in and lend a helping hand.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There is something important you can do today that will benefit your family. Don't waste anymore time; just do what needs to be done.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Success is likely today in situations where you and your mate are aiming for the same objectives. What neither can do alone can be accomplished together.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Increase is now likely from something already providing you with a source of income. The flow of this greater yield might start today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) You'll sparkle and shine today if you're involved in social activities. Everyone at the gathering will be aware of your presence.

Scurry Charter members name new club officers

Members of the Scurry Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association elected new officers during their December meeting.

Gathering in the Martha Ann Woman's Club Thursday, the group chose Judy Bynum, president; Sharon McCarty, vice president; Barbara Williamson, recording secretary; Jessie Scarbrough, corresponding secretary; and Sharla Williamson, treasurer.

The 29 members present installed Jean Birdwell as a new member. Sponsored by Vern Beasley, Birdwell owns Chaparrel Answering Service and is co-owner of JM's Fashions Unique.

Pam Murry informed members about the organization's spring region meeting set for April 4-6, 1986, in Lubbock.

Following the business session, members enjoyed a gift exchange. Chrystal Franklin closed the meeting with the benediction.

Cover the East-West hands with your thumbs and decide how you are going to play today's six-heart contract.

You will make it, won't you, if either the club king or the spade king is favorably located? So what's wrong with taking a club finesse? If it works, you're home. If it doesn't work, there is still a chance that opponents' clubs will be 3-3, letting you throw dummy's small spade on your fourth club to avoid having to take a spade finesse. Finally, if clubs do not divide, you can always fall back on that spade finesse. All this is true, and six hearts is certainly a good contract, but you should always search for ways to make a good contract even better.

Try drawing two rounds of trump. Cash the ace of clubs. Then play king and ace of diamonds, and ruff a diamond. Next lead a heart to dummy and a club to your queen. West will win that trick, but what next? West has no more clubs; if he leads a diamond, you will discard a spade from dummy as you trump in your hand. If he leads a spade it will be into your A-Q. What if West doesn't even have the king of clubs? Then you win the club queen and return to dummy with the last heart in your hand to lead up to your guarded club jack. You make the hand whenever East holds the club king, or (the extra chance) whenever West holds the club king guarded only once.

Post to hold annual party

VFW Post 8231 and Ladies Auxiliary will host their annual Christmas party at the Post Home Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Members of both groups are asked to attend.

This year, organizers of the affair plan to include area Vietnam veterans, military reserve personnel and active duty personnel.

For the gift exchange, men are asked to bring a gift suitable for a man and ladies should bring something for women. A juke box dance is scheduled following the meal and gift giving.

Members will also host a party for their children at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Post Home. Santa will distribute gifts.

BEAUTY BRIEFS

Florence De Santis

Stress and acne

Acne sufferers claim that periods of stress, such as school, job or home problems, appear to make their acne worse.

New studies indicate they may be right. Researchers have focused on hormones known to be involved in causing acne, particularly those produced by the adrenal gland, which in turn stimulates oil glands.

Since stress activates the adrenal gland, researchers found it more active in producing hormones. Medication could reduce adrenal hormone levels and thus treat a cause of acne, some researchers say.

Tips for a cold

Some simple home beauty aids can help you look better when fighting a cold, says salon skin expert Livia Sylva.

For puffiness around the eyes, rest for 10 minutes after placing thin slices of raw potatoes on eyelids.

Liven your complexion with a mask of mashed banana with honey. Slices of orange or grapefruit can also freshen skin. Hold them on with a towel. Remove natural complexion aids and rinse with warm water. Gently pat face dry.

Hats and Hair

You may have noticed some hair loss if your wear knit hats. The loss is not due to pulling a hat on and off. It's really breakage caused by rough handling.

Bats and radar

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Many bats use a natural kind of radar — called "echolocation" — to navigate and hunt in the dark.

Researchers at the University of Rochester say they are learning how bats use echolocation and are learning something about human brains as a result. By "listening" to brain activity in a bat while simultaneously producing sounds that mimic those made by the bat, scientists can learn whch parts of the bat's brain respond to the sounds.

Different kinds of sound have been found to stimulate specific kinds of brain cells — a kind of neural specialization thought to take place in human brains as well.

Open district play Tuesday...

Girls claim tourney crown

MIDLAND – Snyder's Lady Tigers are still unbeaten. They've won their second straight tournament championship. More importantly, they open District 2-4A play Tuesday night.

"I think we're ready. I hope we are," quipped Coach Ken Housden, whose Tigers snapped Midland High 43-33 and cracked Midland Lee 64-53 in the Midland Tournament here Saturday to pop an 11-0 season record.

It was an impressive Saturday for the Lady Tigers, who were forced into action with only seven players - one was injured, another missed the bus.

"We only had 7 players the last two games and everybody did a good job," said Housden. "We didn't foul, we played good defense and good offense. We rebounded well. We shot 50 percent from the field and 60 percent from the line against Lee, which is one of our better shooting games."

Snyder continued to get howitzer-type points from 5-7 senior Karlene Thompson. Saturday, however, she got a lot of help.

Thompson bagged 28 against Lee while Stephanie McKnight racked up 14 and Teri Sue Henry tossed in 12. Donna Anderson added 8.

Snyder won the rebound game 27 to 23 with Anderson getting 10 boards and Thompson 6.

"We had four girls contribute three assists each. That's the kind of teamwork we had," smiled Housden.

The girls were McKnight, Christi Comer, Angie Housden and Jill Roemisch.

Midland was led by Fonda Fields' 15 points. Rose Eaden had 10.

Snyder led by 2 points at halftime and outscored the Lady Rebels 36-27 in the second half.

"I feel like Lee was probably the strongest team we've played this year," said the coach. "It was a good game for us before we open district."

Lee is now 9-2 for the season.

Snyder had defeated Midland High 43-33 in the semifinals of the tournament. Thompson scored 19 and had 12 rebounds while Henry got 7 points and McKnight and Comer added 6 apiece.

Amy Cummings got 10 for the Bulldogs, who stayed close before being out-tallied 12-4 in the final period.

Snyder's contest in Andrews is slated for an 8 p.m. start. A junior varsty tilt is set for 6:30.

SHS Tigers win sleepwalk; Reese AFB tourney is next

It was the kind of game where you could picture the fans leaving wake up calls at the scorers table. Not real exciting.

"I had the team get up and watch the game this morning," said Coach Larry Scott. "I didn't want them laying around."

The Tigers did pretty well, considering. They slammed an Abernathy squad 62-32 here Saturday evening after watching the same team lose to Lubbock Estacado earlier in the day. And Snyder had beaten Estacado 80-60 Friday.

"They (Snyder) knew it wasn't going to be real tough," admitted Scott. "I guess we played pretty well, considering."

It wasn't the Abernathy team Snyder fans are accustom to seeing at the Canyon Reef Tournament, but there was a reason. Abernathy had still been talking football playoffs up until a couple of weeks ago. They simply hadn't made the transition from gridiron to basketball court.

Snyder took an 18-12 lead early, made it 22-12 on a William Foree free throw with 5:25 left in the half, and went up by 32-16 just before intermission when Don Osborn, Todd Pollard, Jeff Rose, Bobby Scott and Chris Garrett put up 10 consecutive points.

Snyder also scored the first eight points of the third quarter, posting an unexciting 40-17 advantage.

As in Friday's game with Estacado, nine players saw action against Abernathy. Eight of them put points on the scoreboard.

Chris Garrett was the lone eye-opener for the team. The 6-3 junior scored 18 points and foraged 8 rebounds.

"It was one of Chris' better games," agreed Scott, who said special attention has been given to Snyder's inside game this season.

"Coach Bud Birks has been working with our posts a whole lot, about 30 minutes a day," explained the coach, who directs the guards during the same time. "Our posts this year are big, strong kids and we realized we needed more out of them. They are starting to make a big contribution."

Osborn lent a hand inside with 10 points. Foree had 8 points and 7 rebounds.

Snyder also got 9 points from Pollard, 7 from Scott, 4 each out of Jackie Anderson and Trey Tippens and 2 from Rose.

Abernathy was led by Rob Givens' 11 points. Steve Boyd added 7.

Abernathy got off just 39 shots from the field and made 13. Snyder bagged 20 out of 60. Part of Abernathy's ineffectiveness came from that fact that Snyder ripped off 13 steals. Scott, Tippens and Reynaldo Gomez liberated four balls apiece.

Most of the steals came off of a press defense by the Tigers.

"The game gave us an opportunity to run a press we wanted to look at," said Coach Scott. "We need a lot of work on it still, but this was the first time we've run it this year."

The win lifted Snyder to a 7-2 season record. The Tigers are idle Tuesday but play Clovis, N.M. at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the Reese Air Force Tourney in Lubbock.

Jayhawks run wild; Arkansas victorious

by The Associated Press

While many of the nation's top echelon in college basketball continue to beat up on patsies, the seventh-ranked Kansas Jayhawks posted another meaningful victory.

Saturday night's 83-66 triumph was the first for Kansas over Kentucky since 1973 and marked only the second time in 18 meetings that the Jayhawks beat the No. 9 Wildcats.

"They are a special program with a great tradition," Jayhawks Coach Larry Brown said after the homecourt victory brought Kansas' record to 8-1 and dropped Kentucky to 5-1. "It means a lot for us to beat them."

In Saturday's other games, No. 1 North Carolina downed Ohio University 88-57, No. 2 Michigan whipped Western Michigan 74-54, No. 4 Syracuse ripped Brooklyn College 102-61, No. 5 Georgetown routed Florida A&M 86-56, No. 8 Oklahoma nipped Texas 93-92 in overtime, No. 10 Illinois tripped Houston 102-92, No. 11 Louisiana State beat Hardin-Simmons 87-71, No. 12 Memphis State stomped South Carolina State 119-73, No. 13 Nevada-Las Vegas belted Nevada-Reno 74-52, No. 14 St. John's defeated UCLA 69-65, No. 15 Louisville got by Western Kentucky 73-70, No. 16 Alabama-Birmingham knocked off West Texas State 65-56, No. 18 Indiana stomped Texas Tech 74-59, and Arkansas posted a 79-70 overtime win over Ohio State.

Tim McCalister's two free throws with one second left earned Oklahoma its victory over Texas, which was picked to finish seventh in the Southwest Conference this season. "If that's the seventh-best team in that league, I'm glad we don't play there," said Coach Billy Tubbs of the 8-0 Sooners.

Illinois, 6-2, won its 29th straight at home as Ken Norman's 24 points led four Illini in double figures. Alvin Franklin had 26 points and Greg Anderson 22 for Houston.

LSU, 7-0, which led 43-35 at halftime, got 26 points from sophomore John Williams. Craig Sladek scored 22 points for Hardin-Simmons.

Host Indiana won the Indiana Classic over Texas Tech as Daryl Thomas scored a career-high 29 points. The Hoosiers boosted their record to 4-1.

William Mills scored 28 points and grabbed 12 rebounds in Arkansas' victory over visiting Ohio State, 5-1. Mills, who scored 21 of his points in the first half, sent the game into overtime with a free throw and scored five points after that to improve the Razorbacks to 6-1.

Fresno dismantles Bowling Green, 51-7

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) - Fresno State's defense put on a strip show to lead the way to a 51-7 victory over 20th-ranked Bowling Green in the California Bowl.

The Falcons turned the football over eight times Saturday on five fumbles and three interceptions. Four of those turnovers led directly to Fresno scores.

The touted matchup between two of the top yardage-producing passers in college football history faded in importance because of the lopsided score.

The California Bowl, the only post-season game matching undefeated teams, left Fresno State of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association at 11-0-1.

Bowling Green of the Mid-American Conference finished 11-1.

In other post-season college football action Saturday, Furman and Georgia Southern advanced to the championship game of the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs. Furman lashed Nevada-Reno 35-12 and Georgia Southern outscored Northern Iowa 40-33.

Two NCAA titles were decided Saturday. North Dakota State smashed North Alabama 35-7 for the Division II crown while, in Division III, Augustana won its third straight title - and 37th consecutive game - by stopping Ithaca 20-7.

JV girls are defeated

MIDLAND – Snyder junior varsity girls were defeated by Andrews in the Midland Tournament here Saturday, 47-38.

The Tigers, 3-6, will play Andrews again Tuesday, in Andrews, at 6:30.

Rhonda Echols scored 12 points for Snyder. Melody Pickering added 8 and Patricia Casias had 7.

Andrews 47, Snyder 38

SNYDER– Casias 2 3 7; Williams 3 1 6; Echols 6 0 12; Fuller 2 0 4; Pickering 2 4 8; Alanis 0 1 1; TOTALS 15 8-18 38.

Coahoma stops sophs

COAHOMA -- Snyder sophomore boys were knocked out of the Coahoma Junior Varsity Tournament by the hosts here Saturday, 60-45.

Van Echols put up 20 points and Juan Escobedo added 10 for the Cats, who are now 6-2 on the season.

The game was determined at the foul line, where Snyder was 7 of 14 and Coahoma junior varsity was 20 of 32.

Snyder sophomore boys are not scheduled to play again until Jan. 7, when they entertain San Angelo Lake View at 4:30 in Scurry County Coliseum.

Coahoma JV 60, Snyder 45

Roger Maris dies at 51

HOUSTON (AP) - Baseball slugger Roger Maris, who lost a two-year battle against cancer over the weekend, was a team player more concerned about winning the game than breaking one of Babe Ruth's most revered records, friends and former teammates said.

"He was a modest guy," said Ralph Houk, a former manager of the New York Yankees. "I think he would have just loved to play the game and not get all the attention. He really didn't care about the limelight."

Maris, who hit 61 home runs in 1961, surpassing Babe Ruth's single-season record of 60 but earning only an asterisk in the record book, died Saturday at M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Insitute.

The 51-year-old Maris had been undergoing treatment since Nov. 20 for lymphoma, a cancer that attacks the body's lymph system.

Gordon Wood retires

BROWNWOOD, Texas (AP) - Gordon Wood, whose 405 victories in 43 years of coaching make him No. 1 in the world in football wins, found it tough to finally call it quits.

A press conference at which his decision - yes or no - was to be announced drew about 100 people on Saturday, including more than a dozen reporters, TV crews, present and former players, and Brownwood Lions boosters.

Wood, 71, told the throng he was retiring, but said it was an agonizing decision he had reached only in the last 24 hours.

"Actually, if I did what I wanted to do, I'd go after Alonzo Stagg's record. I think he coached 72 years, or something like that. I really would. I think that would be a challenge," Wood said.

He had a record of 11-9 at Rule, 17-2-2 at Roscoe, 20-9-2 at Seminole, 7-3 at Winters, 81-6 at Stamford, 12-7-1 at Victoria, and 257-52-7 at Brownwood.

Over his career, his teams won 25 district titles and nine state championships. Two of the state titles came at Stamford and the last seven at Brownwood, where he spent the past 26 years as head coach and athletic director.

His record of 405-88-12 - a winning percentage of .814 - is one that will be out of reach for many years, perhaps forever.

Rams, Raiders clinch, too...

Cowboys wrap up NL East

by The Associated Press

Call Los Angeles the City of Winners - at least for this week.

Throw in Dallas and, of course, Chicago.

That's where four of the National Football League's six division titles sit after the 15th weekend of action. Another crown - the AFC East - could be decided tonight if New England wins at Miami.

Other than that, things remain somewhat muddled heading into the final weekend of the season. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Denver and the New York Jets still hold playoff hopes in the AFC, while the New York Giants, Washington and the defending champion San Francisco 49ers are alive in the NFC wild-card scramble.

A couple of rookie quarterbacks and the league's leading rusher were among the heroes Sunday as the Rams, Raiders and Cowboys clinched their respective division championships. Dieter Brock, the 34-year-old refugee from the Canadian Football League, had his best day as an NFL quarterback by tossing for four touchdowns in a 46-14 rout of St. Louis that gave the Rams the NFC West title, their first since 1979.

Marcus Allen grabbed the NFL rushing lead with 109 yards on 27 carries, including on a 7-yard run with 6:09 to play for the only touchdown, as the Raiders took the AFC West with a 13-3 win over Seattle, eliminating the Seahawks from playoff contention. It was the eighth consecutive 100-yard rushing game for Allen.

Steve Pelluer, Dallas' third-string quarterback, took over when Danny White and Gary Hogeboom were injured and engineered a 72-yard drive in the fourth quarter for the winning TD as the Cowboys knocked off the Giants 28-21 for their first NFC East crown in four years.

The other division champ, the Bears, upped their record to 14-1 by stymying the New York Jets 19-6 on Saturday. Chicago has the homefield advantage throughout the NFC playoffs.

Cleveland took sole possession of the top spot in the AFC Central with a 28-21 win over Houston, while Cincinnati was beaten 37-24 by Washington. The Browns will win the division if they beat the Jets next Sunday or if either Pittsburgh or Cincinnati loses next weekend.

Denver remained in the wild-card hunt on Saturday when it edged Kansas City 14-13.

Also on Sunday, it was Pittsburgh 30, Buffalo 24; Green Bay 26, Detroit 23; Indianapolis 31, Tampa Bay 23; Atlanta 14, Minnesota 13; San Francisco 31, New Orleans 19, and San Diego 20, Philadelphia 14.

Cowboys 28, Giants 21

The Giants had all the stats but the Cowboys walked off with the division thanks to some big plays. The biggest was Jim Jeffcoat's 65-yard jaunt with a Phil Simms pass Ed "Too Tall" Jones deflected right to Jeffcoat.

That tied the game 14-14 and Dallas took the lead for good with its second score in 46 seconds, a 12-yard pass from White to Mike Renfro after Giants punter Sean Landeta failed to get off a kick in the face of a fierce rush and threw an incomplete pass deep in New York territory.

Rams 46, Cardinals 14

Brock was helped by Eric Dickerson, who ran for 124 yards and two scores, as Los Angeles broke the game open with a 36-point first half. Brock threw touchdown passes of 13 yards to Ron Brown, 47 to Tony Hunter, and 43 to Henry Ellard as the Rams' topped their previous game-high this season of 35 points with their big opening half. Brock also hit Hunter on a 3-yard TD toss.

Raiders 13, Seahawks 3

The Raiders won their fifth straight game as Allen continued to motor through opposing defenses. Allen's touchdown run came on the first play after Marc Wilson connected on a 49-yard bomb to Dokie Williams.

Christmas tree prices said holding steady

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christmas tree sellers — no Scrooges they — are raising prices only modestly this year.

But, there is a premium on perfection. Some full-bodied firs may be a few bucks extra.

Growers are holding the line, said Keith E. Jacob of the Minnesota Christmas Tree Growers Association, because they believe consumers just don't have the number of dollars available to buy expensive trees.

"Every Christmas tree is unique, and has it's own personality, so the price may vary from tree to tree. But generally the price is up only 2 to 3 percent," Jacob said in a recent interview.

For instance, in Minnesota, a 6-foot Scotch pine could go from $18 to $25.

The price of trees also fluctuate by areas of the nation.

A 5-foot Scotch pine shipped from Canada to suburban Maryland was tagged at $34. On the average, small Nova Scotia-bred trees sold for $20, while the average 8-to-15-foot trees were priced $35 to $45.

Eric and Gloria Sundback, Pennsylvania growers, raised their prices about $1.50 a tree, although they ship their trees to affluent Chevy Chase, Md., neighborhoods. An 8-foot Douglas fir sells for $49.59. A handsome Fraser tree — best for hanging ornaments on because of wide spacing of branches — goes for a pricey $65.72.

Sundback, 57, a stocky, white-bearded grower whose jolly spirit befits the season, says he is making a good living off the sale of holiday trees. But he points out it takes up to 15 years of babying the trees before they are felled — usually when the trees are only halfway to their prime.

Hechinger's, an eastern chain of hardware stores, is advertising fresh cut trees from nearly $13 to $30.

People in Florida and Texas probably will pay $35 for a tree that will be sold for $25 in Milwaukee. Some of that added cost will be about $2.50 for shipping and the extra care required to keep it away from warm breezes.

"We are observing that retailers and wholesalers are charging virtually the same prices as last year for the popular 5½- to 7-foot trees," said Don McNeil, executive director of the 3,000-member National Christmas Tree Association based in Milwaukee.

"The inflation factor has leveled out tremendously and producers and retailers want to sell more trees," McNeil said of a recent survey of 200 member producers. They are hoping to sell 700,000 more trees than the 31.5 million put on the block last year, he noted.

Board tentatively oks isolating AIDS victims

AUSTIN (AP) — Over the opposition of gay organizations, the Texas Board of Health has given tentative approval to a plan that would allow the "isolation or separation" of AIDS victims who refuse to curtail sexual activity or drug use that could spread the disease.

"We have a moral obligation to protect the people of Texas against a disease that is 100 percent fatal," said board member Dr. Barry Cunningham, a Round Rock dentist.

The board voted 12-5 Saturday to publish the proposed rule and take public comment. A hearing was set in Austin for Jan. 13.

The proposal was sparked by a Houston case in which an AIDS victim refused to stop working as a prostitute. The man later died.

"This does not deal with the average AIDS patient. This is not aimed at a disease, it is aimed at individuals who have the disease and might be incorrigible in a public health way," said state Health Commissioner Dr. Robert Bernstein.

The quarantine power would be used only as a "last resort," Bernstein said. Local health officials would have to get the state commissioner's approval to isolate an AIDS victim.

The rule would add AIDS to the list of diseases for which a Texan can be quarantined.

Bernstein said "isolation or separation" is a more appropriate term than "quarantine," but the applicable state law uses "quarantine."

Acquired immune deficiency syndrome cripples the body's immune system, leaving the victim vulnerable to infections and other diseases, including cancers.

Researchers say AIDS is most likely to strike homosexuals, abusers of injectable drugs and hemophiliacs. It is spread by sexual contact, sharing of contaminated needles and contaminated blood transfusions, but not by casual contact.

Several health professionals spoke against the proposal.

"The law is clearly outdated and inappropriate," said Dr. Philip Richardson, an Austin physician who said 60 percent of his patients are homosexual.

"It's not really scientifically what will help us very much," said board chairman Dr. Ron Anderson of Dallas.

Gay organizations have voiced opposition to the proposal, but none made public comments Saturday.

Toby Johnson, a San Antonio psychotherapist whose clients include homosexuals, said the rule could increase the AIDS rate.

"You're going to scare a huge population away from seeking timely medical services," he said.

The board also tentatively approved a rule that would require tags on the bodies of people killed by AIDS or certain other contagious diseases, to serve as a warning for medical personnel and funeral home workers.

Virtually all anti-Soviet sanctions now off

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the aftermath of last month's superpower summit at Geneva, nearly all the sanctions imposed by the United States against the Soviet Union because of its invasion of Afghanistan and other international misdeeds have been lifted.

Their elimination reflects both the passage of time and an improving political climate, U.S. officials say, even though the Soviet aggression in Afghanistan has increased rather than diminished since the sanctions first were imposed.

In addition, American banks, for the first time in five years, have resumed lending to the Soviet government to buy American grain. The amount of the recent loan, $400 million, was at an especially favorable rate of interest, just less than 8.5 percent.

The cutoff in bank lending following the 1979 Afghan invasion was a purely commercial decision by American banks, according to a State Department Soviet expert. But he said banks are sensitive to the political climate in deciding on loans and undoubtedly took the warming of ties into account.

"I don't think anything is just happenstance," he said. "In relations with the Soviet Union, politics and economics are inevitably related." He asked not to be identified.

In another reflection of the improved climate, a major trade delegation headed by Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige was in Moscow last week to promote increased trade.

One of President Reagan's first foreign policy decisions after taking office was to lift the embargo against grain sales to the Soviet Union imposed by President Carter after the Soviet move into Afghanistan. Reagan overruled then-Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., who thought the timing was bad because of a Soviet threat to Poland.

The only major sanction still fully in place is continuing restrictions against exports of high technology equipment, such as advanced computers. Those restrictions were imposed jointly by the United States and its allies.

The Soviets also have not had restored their full pre-Afghanistan quota for fishing in American waters, and probably never will because of other considerations not relatedso the Afghan invasion, the State Department official said. The current quota is 50,000 tons, compared with the pre-invasion quota of 400,000 tons.

Not only have the sanctions stemming from Afghanistan been lifted, but so have the sanctions imposed against Moscow following the martial law crackdown in Poland in 1982, and the shooting down of a South Korean airliner that strayed into Soviet territory in 1983.

Sanctions that have been lifted include the grain embargo, the fishing ban, the ban on direct air service by Aeroflot airlines, restrictions on social contacts and the halt in negotiations for a new cultural exchange agreement and new consulates.

But although virtually all sanctions have been lifted, in none of the three instances in which they were imposed have the Soviets met American demands.

Soviet troops remain in Afghanistan in greater numbers than before. Moscow continues to support the Jaruszelski government in Poland, and Moscow didn't meet American demands for an apology for shooting down the airliner or providing compensation for its victims.

Wrap it up for Christmas?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is making an 11th hour attempt to revive his tax overhaul bill while Congress, also facing deadlines of its own making, trie co finish a massive appropriations bill in time for the yearend recess.

Most of the major roadblocks preventing passage of the huge spending bill to finance most of the government have been cleared. But both the House and Senate need to act by tonight, which is the expiration date for the latest in a series of short-term spending bills approved last week and signed by President Reagan.

The new spending bill is necessary because Congress has been unable to agree on separate legislation appropriating money for many government agencies.

The catch-all appropriations bill will be the major focus as Congress tries to adjourn for the year, but the spotlight also will be on Reagan's lobbying attempt to revive tax reform.

He was scheduled to make a final pitch for tax reform in a visit today at the Capitol with House Republicans who joined with some Democrats to scuttle the tax measure last week.

"I'd like to make a personal request to the House of Representatives," the president said Saturday in his weekly radio address. "You have the opportunity to provide the relief that millions of Americans demand."

Last Wednesday, all but 14 House Republicans voted to block consideration of the bill, leading guggestions the issue was dead for this year and perhaps for the remainder of Reagan's term.

Meanwhile, both chambers are scheduled to vote on a comprehensive farm bill that was worked out Saturday night by House-Senate negotiators who broke a bitter impasse over future dairy subsidies.

If the bill makes it to the president's desk, it is uncertain if he will sign it because of its cost.

Bills in the House and Senate to restructure the nation's primary farm lender, the $70 billion Farm Credit System, also were to be taken up. It appeared that rather than send the separate, but basically similar bills, to conference committee, the Senate would amend the House version and then send it back to the House and on to the president.

House-Senate negotiators on the appropriations bill agreed late Friday on a Pentagon spending package that provides $298.7 billion for defense — far less than the $322 billion originally sought by Reagan as part of his defense buildup. It includes new chemical weapons for the first time since 1969 but blocks any more tests of the Air Force anti-satellite weapon.

Still dividing the budget bill conferees are several energy issues, including whether to provide money for so-called "clean coal" technology to develop nonpolluting coal burning systems and how much to spend on the troubled Synthetic Fuels Corp.

Shultz meets leaders

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz, eager to stimulate Hungary's economic independence from the Soviet Union, held trade talks today with government leaders.

Surrounded by evidence of Hungary's relative prosperity compared to the Soviet Union — streets filled with holiday shoppers and stores abundantly stocked with consumer goods — Shultz began a busy day that mixed official business and symbolic ceremonies.

He placed a wreath at a memorial to Hungarian heroes and held discussions with Foreign Minister Peter Varkonyi.

the driver of the car — 39-year-old Luciano Martinez of 1310 29th St. — who was arrested for suspicion of felony DWI.

While Land and Brown were searching the vehicle, Gilberto Martinez managed to free himself from the seatbelt and fled into a brushy field.

He was taken into custody about 20 minutes later by police called to the scene to assist.

Gilberto Martinez remained in the Scurry County Jail Monday morning in lieu of bonds set at $1,500 each on separate charges of assault and escape.

Luciano Martinez was released from custody after posting a $500 bond on a charge of felony DWI filed against him.

The accident occurred around 11:43 a.m.

Yule concert set tonight

The Snyder Goodfellows have scheduled their annual food distribution for the needy Saturday morning. Cards are to be mailed this week to county families who qualify.

Donations toward the Goodfellows effort are still being accepted at local financial institutions.

The distribution of food will be from 10 a.m. until noon at the ag annex of the Scurry County Coliseum.

In addition, the local Toys for Tots effort will conclude this weekend. The toys will be distributed Saturday and Sunday to local youngsters whose family made application. These will be given out at the old newspaper building, 2103 25th St.

Saturday, times of distribution will be from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. On Sunday, the toys will be given from 1 until 4 p.m.

Both the Snyder Fire Department and the local Snyder Police Association have been assisting with the toy effort.

Individuals with toys that do not need repair may still bring these by the police station.

Domestic assaults top police activity

Snyder police officers were called to investigate a variety of misdemeanor complaints over the weekend including two domestic assault incidents and two misdemeanor thefts which were cleared when the missing property was found.

Two Snyder women reported having been assaulted by their husbands Saturday night.

Both filed formal complaints with police but no arrests have been made in the cases.

Barbara Hull of 1801 Ave. I filed a misdemeanor theft report at 11:02 a.m. Sunday.

She told police that two 20-inch BMX type bicycles had been taken from outside her residence between 9 p.m. Saturday and 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Those were later found by a citizen in the 400 Block of 31st and returned to Hull around 3:30 p.m.

A Honda three-wheeler reported stolen by H. B. Matthews of 811 17th St. was also recovered and returned.

Matthews had reported the vehicle stolen at 1:16 p.m.

It was reported found in the yard of a residence in the 1900 Block of Coleman Ave. at 3:46 p.m.

City officers also logged 13 misdemeanor arrests over the weekend.

One suspect was charged with driving while intoxicated while four others were jailed for public intoxication.

Five suspects were arrested for being intoxicated on a premisis licensed to sell alcohol with one of those additionally charged with possession of a quantity of marijuana less than two ounces.

Police also jailed one local man for disorderly conduct and two juveniles on warrants issued for failure to pay fines previously levied for being minors in possession of alcohol.

Living Word sets revival

The Living Word Church in Snyder has scheduled a revival Tuesday through Sunday with the Rev. Eddie Macias of San Antonio, noted doctor and author.

Services begin nightly at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Pastor Alfred Guzman invites everyone to come.

Van fire occurs in Hermleigh

Snyder firemen were dispatched to a vehicle fire in Hermleigh at 1:45 p.m. Sunday.

According to fire department reports, a 1976 Ford van owned by Hollis Ward of Hermleigh sustained extensive damage from the fire which apparently broke out in the vehicle's engine compartment.

No injuries resulted from the incident.

Minor parking lot wreck is reported

A single minor traffic accident was reported in Snyder over the weekend.

Involved in the 3:09 p.m. mishap on the Kmart parking lot Saturday were a 1983 Oldsmobile driven by Oleta Kelly York of Jayton and a 1879 Ford driven by Tracey Jo Marvin of 207 30th St.

No injuries were repoted in that incident.

Recovery monopolized the holidays

By Gail Robinson

America was still gripped by the Great Depression in 1935 but on Christmas Day many families bought railroads, utilities and beach-front property — and paid for them in cold, hard cash.

They were playing Monopoly, which debuted that year in four editions, ranging from a $2 budget set (no box for the board) to the $10 club edition with ivoroid playing pieces.

Monopoly was inspired by a turn-of-the-century game designed to show that capitalism would work only if no one profited from owning land. But times had changed and the 1935 ads trumpeted: "Build a chain of great hotels and charge them plenty to stop there. It's hard business... brings out the SIMON LEGREE in you... but it's the way to win at MONOPOLY."

DEPRESSION-WEARY Americans could play out their fantasies of wealth by playing Monopoly, which Parker Brothers introduced in 1935.

HOW WE CELEBRATED

CHRISTMAS 1935

In reality, of course, few Americans could buy the Boardwalk, although things were looking up economically. President Franklin D. Roosevelt's commerce secretary, Daniel Roper, declared 1935 the second year of "sustained recovery" from the Depression, as national income increased by 11 percent.

At Christmas, this meant more spending, more traveling — and the return of the Christmas bonus. The New York Times reported, "In volume of travel to and from the city, in volume of last-minute shopping, in the gaiety and spontaneity of the charitable activities... New York appears to be approaching one of the gayest Christmas celebrations since the Depression."

Cigarettes, pipes and various other smoking accoeterment were popular presents. Ronson presented lighters in various guises and Santa Claus smoked Luckies. Perhaps not coincidentally, throat medications did a booming business.

For children, there were sleds and dolls — selling for a couple of dollars each. And there was the New York visit of the real St. Nick — one "Santa Claus" of Missouri. A press agent brought the fourth-grade dropout to the Big Apple, but, with his green hat and loud tie, Claus was hardly a miracle on 34th Street.

Christmas pies were 35 cents, but two Saskatchewan experts warned against overindulging. "For a laboring man, digging ditches, there would be no harm in a meal of turkey, plum pudding, nuts and candy. The man who can afford these things is the man who should not eat them and those who cannot afford them are those that should," they cautioned.

Movie studios introduced new films as Christmas gifts to their audiences. Ronald Coleman starred in "A Tale of Two Cities," Wallace Beery appeared in the screen adaptation of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness," and Barbara Stanwyck was Annie Oakley. Yet the biggest star of the year at the box office was little Shirley Temple.

Works by America's literary luminaries, including Ernest Hemingway, William Faulkner and Thomas Wolfe, were recommended gifts. Earlier in the year, Lawrence of Arabia had died in a motorcycle crash in England, and at Christmas his "Seven Pillars of Wisdom" was a non-fiction best-seller.

Sinclair Lewis was also on the best-seller list — with "It Can't Happen Here," a novel describing a fascist takeover of America. It was a timely topic. Adolf Hitler and the Nazis had come to power in Germany two years earlier. In 1935, the Germans continued to rearm and enacted the Nuremberg laws, which deprived Jews of German citizenship and made sexual intercourse between "Aryans" and Jews a capital offense.

On Oct. 3, Mussolini's Italy had invaded Ethiopia. The League of Nations protested and imposed sanctions and, to celebrate the Ethiopian resistance, Time magazine named Ethiopian emperor Haile Selassie man of the year.

The fighting eventually cost hundreds of thousands of people their lives, but on Christmas the Italian soldiers took a break. And while it may not have been part of the festivities, their government provided French and Italian prostitutes — to prevent Il Duce's troops from consorting with Ethiopian women.

During the holidays, Charles Lindbergh overshadowed the international scene on America's front pages. Eight years after the flight that had made him a hero — and months after Bruno Hauptmann was found guilty of murdering his son — the Lone Eagle and his family were fleeing to England to escape death threats and publicity.

In other news, FDR was seeing parts of his New Deal thrown out by the courts and was a year away from his drubbing of Alfred Landon at the polls. Social Security had just been enacted and one of the New Deal's staunchest opponents, Louisiana's Huey Long, had been gunned down by an assasin.

The weather did not provide holiday revelers, weary of conflict in Europe and the Depression, with much relief. England was wracked by fog and snow, and British shoppers and travelers suffered from "fuzzy tongue," a condition apparently caused by breathing in fog mixed with smoke and soot.

The American Midwest may not have had the soot — but it did have snow. A Christmas Day blizzard snarled traffic and temperatures in many cities dipped below zero, with Devil's Lake, N.D., setting the holiday low of minus 22.

It reportedly looked a lot like Christmas in Moscow. But newspapers reported that, with Stalin in charge, there was little holiday merriment.

Arson trial begins in one Texas town

EMHOUSE, Texas (AP) — Emhouse is a small Navarro County town with only 197 people, but it has suffered through a virtual epidemic of arson fires that created a virtual reign of terror and destroyed the town's only store.

The fires and accompanying threatening telephone calls to residents caused residents to live in terror for almost two years.

One of three men arrested in connection with some of the 15-16 arson fires here during the past two years was scheduled to go on trial at Corsicana today. Two other men are awaiting trial following their indictment on arson charges.

Fred Reed, 45, of Corsicana, was to go on trial today, according to Navarro County Assistant District Attorney John Jackson. Trials for Thomas Frye, 17, of Emhouse, and Thad Watts, 29, of Corsicana, are expected to be held sometime after the first of the year, he said.

The three were arrested and indicted after Reed's 14-year-old son was caught setting fire to a house in Corsicana, according to Douglas Fogg, assistant fire chief at Corsicana.

Fogg said officers made the other arrests based on information learned during their investigation of the Corsicana fire.

Some of the town's residents claim that on May 4, the night that the only store in town burned, a young man was standing alone on the porch, playing the guitar and singing an eerie song about the fire.

The store fire was the latest in a string of at least 15-16 fires. Some people claim there were several fires in the town before anyone realized there was an arsonist or arsonists on the loose.

The fires caused so much panic in the small town that town meetings were held and some men took turns driving the street at night in threes in hopes of catching the arsonist or arsonists.

Federal authorities joined in the investigation of the store fire since the town's post office was located there.

There have been no other fires in the town since the three men were arrested, officials say.

Kenneth Ray, 48, a volunteer firefighter battled the blaze that destroyed the store store he and Charles Carroll had just bought. He said the store was not insured and estimated their loss at about $7,500.

The town has two firefighting units and uses firefighters from other towns, Ray said.

The store was moved to a portable building and Ray says he and Carroll plan to rebuild a permanent location later.

Authorities say each arson fire involved the use of gasoline and each probably was set to cover up evidence of a burglary.

"There's really nothing you can do about it," Ray told the Dallas Morning News. "They broke into the store and got some groceries and stuff, but they didn't find money, so they just set fire to it."

"Everybody was pretty well disturbed over it because it was the only store that was in Emhouse," Ray added. "The post and everything was in this store. The fire wiped out the town's gasoline supply, the grocery supply."

Mayor Joe Johnson recalls that the fires had the town's residents in "panic."

Many Depend on McDonald's for Supplies

McDonald Welding Supply has gained a reputation for service, and for good reason. The staff at McDonald Welding Supply comes early and stays late. This is especially important to the area's busy oil fields, and this is why so many companies have depended on McDonald Welding Supply for their supply needs.

The firm serves an area bounded by Sweetwater to Loraine to Colorado City and Big Spring and back to Snyder. The company has three 18 foot bobtail trucks for delivery to farms, businesses and well locations.

In stock at McDonalds Welding Supply is the Miller Big 20 D.C. welder for the oil patch. It has a built-in A.C. power plant and can furnish electricity for any device that runs on household current. The welder runs on regular gas or can be purchased to operate with a diesel engine. They also have a Lincoln Machine available. McDonalds Welding Supply also has a large stock of smaller welders. They vary in size and can fit in the rear of a foreign truck as well as a two-ton truck.

If you need steel for oilfield fabrication, you can find exactly what you need at McDonalds Welding Supply. In addition, the firm has a complete line of Milwaukee heavy duty electric tools and grinders. They have Williams hammer wrenches and havy tools, Victor and Uniweld welding and cutting equipmnt and Wilton vises.

Saftey equipment of all types is stocked including goggles, first aid kits and refills, arm guards, hard hats, liners and fire extinguishers. This popular business also stocks chains, cable, tubing and chain hoists. Blocks as well as all types of pulleys may be added to the list.

The available list of supplies is almost endless, just ask for it. Stop by and see Gayle McDonald and the staff at McDonald Welding Supply, 1110 College Ave.
