Children Meet Fair Boosters

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

APPROXIMATELY 7,000 school children in five South Plains counties turned out Tuesday to greet members of the third Panhandle-South Plains fair booster tour.

A total of 20 boosters left Lubbock at 7:20 a. m. Tuesday, with large crates of balloons, rulers, free admission tickets, copies of a special fair newspaper, pencils and other favors, and were hard pressed to keep from running out before their last call at Idalou at 5:15 p. m.

Weather Mostly Fair

Skies were gray with a low overcast when the special bus pulled away from the Chamber of Commerce building, but began clearing before the boosters arrived at Plainview. From there, the tour was conducted in sunny weather until the boosters arrived home at 5:35 p. m. Only at Abernathy, first stop on the day's itinerary, was there any threat of rain. A heavy mist was settling there as the Lubbockites arrived at 7:40 a. m.

Plainview and Floydada both accorded the boosters a rousing welcome with police cars escorting them through the business sections of the towns.

On hand to greet them at Plainview were Ray Pritchett, president of the Chamber of commerce, Charles Signor, director, and Raymond Lee Johns, manager. After stopping at the junior high school and the high school, the boosters were escorted to town, and then out Highway 70 toward Floydada.

Stop At Schools

In Floydada, Guy Ginn, vice-president of the chamber of commerce, and Bob Crowell, manager, were among those who met the fair boosters at the city limits and escorted them through town.

In following the precedent set by the first two booster trips, which were plagued by bad weather, the main stop in most of the towns was made at the school,

UN Opens On Hopeful Note

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Sept. 20—The fourth UN assembly opened on a note of hope today despite the world devaluation crisis and Yugoslavia's defiance of Russia in deserting the Soviet bloc in the balloting.

The world body elected Carlos P. Romulo president on the first ballot, an unprecedented distinction. He called on the 1,000 delegates to make this the "peace assembly."

An array of 18 foreign ministers, led by the Big Four representatives gave special emphasis to the annual gathering of the delegates from 59 nations.

Romulo Gets 53 Votes

Norman J. O. Makin of Australia was in the president's chair in the former world's fair auditorium as spokesman for former President Herbert V. Evatt, who was unable to attend. Makin opened the fourth session by reading Evatt's message hailing the UN as the world's foremost champion of peace and justice.

In the balloting for president Makin counted 53 votes for Romulo. The Soviet group, minus Yugoslavia, cast its five votes for Foreign Minister Vladimir Clementis of Czechoslovakia. One of the 59 votes was declared invalid.

The roar of applause which greeted Romulo's election was not shared in by either the Soviet bloc or Yugoslavia. This led observers to believe that Yugoslavia purposely cast the invalid ballot.

Slav-Soviet Split Apparent

But the subsequent elections of other chairmen of the six main committees quickly confirmed that Yugoslavia had totally deserted the Soviet bloc.

In the election for chairman of the all-important political committee, Russia lost the first skirmish to the West when Lester B. Pearson of Canada won that post. Poland had put up Czechoslovakia's Adolf Hoffmeister. Pearson drew 49 votes, Hoffmeister five and Josef Bech of Luxembourgh got one. The rest were abstentions or invalid.

Hernan Santa Cruz of Chile was elected chairman of the economic and financial committee, defeating S. Kiselv Byelo Russia's foreign minister.

The third committee chairman

Steel Plants Bank Furnaces In Anticipation Of Major Walkout

BY GLENN M. GREEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. — CIO President Philip Murray agreed today to a 35-hour extension of steel peace talks as steel plants across the nation banked furnaces in anticipation of an industry-crippling strike.

Murray, who heads the million-member Steel Workers union, warned that it is not abandoning its Saturday strike deadline or its demand for a 10-cents-an-hour penson-insurance program.

Plants Prepare For Strike

Meanwhile, the Bethlehem Steel Co., America's second 'argest producer, announced that it will begin shutting down operations Wednesday morning in anticipation of a walkout.

In Pittsburgh, the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation and officials of its local of the union discussed the procedure to be followed in event of a strike.

The Wheeling Steel Co., in Wheeling, W. Va., reported that it had curtailed coke production and banked one furnace. Wheeling said it probably would put out another blast furnace by the end of the week. The Wheeling closedown was blamed primarily on the coal strike but had a direct tie-in with the threatened steel walkout.

Murray, postponed from Wednesday until Thursday the Pittsburgh meeting of his wage policy committee and agreed to remain in Washington for further government mediation conferences tomorrow.

No Progress Made

Federal meditation Director Cyrus S. Ching said no progress has yet been made toward averting the scheduled Saturday midnight walkout but he asked both sides to try again tomorrow to find a peace formula.

His statement came after the fourth federal parley with union and industry leaders in the last two days.

The statement was seen as further removing possibility of imminent White House intervention. A presidential aide said earlier President Truman has no immediate plans for stepping into either the steel dispute or the coal strike, which already is in full swing.

Steel Firms Warned

John A. Stephens, vice president of United States Steel, told newsmen:

"The fact we are coming back" means we haven't given up hope.

A top union spakesman warned that unless the steel industry agrees to the 10 cents an hour, industry-financed welfare program recommended by President Truman's fact-finding board ten days ago, the union will revert to its original demands.

Steel warkers at the start of negotiations on a new contract months ago sought a 30-cents-an-hour "package" increase composed of a 12½-cent pay boost, 11 cents on hour plus for pensions and six cents an hour for insurance.

The union dropped its 30 cents demand, however, and accepted the fact-finding board's report. Murray agreed to take 10 cents an hour for pensions and insurance and scrap the union's demand for a fourth round wage increase as the panel suggested.

Ching told newsmen he had submitted no proposals to the parties as yet and added:

"We are exactly where we were I wouldn't say we have made progress so far.

"I asked both sides to do some soul searching tonight, realizing

Attlee Orders Economy Cut

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 20. — Prime Minister Attlee has demanded an immediate five percent economy cut in the administrative expenses of the British Labor government to bolster its fight to stay in power.

This was disclosed tonight as the shaky position of the government became more apparent with attacks from the political opposition and demands for higher wages by some segments of labor.

The powerful Trades Union congress, whose support for wage-stabilization is being avidly sought by the government, jumped on the fence on the devaluation issue. Its general council announced after a meeting that judgment could not be passed on the devaluation move until a further study is made of all factors involved, including its effect on workers' earnings.

Currency Shifts Continue

The impact of the British government's devaluation of the pound continued to be felt around the world.

Greece and Indonesia became the 20th and 21st countries to slash exchange rates and Belgium moved to become the 22nd nation on the devaluation list.

Brazil, Iran and Poland led the parade of other countries adusting their currencies to the new level of the pound sterling.

The Netherlands, which announced devaluation Monday, set the new rate of the guilder at 3.80 to the dollar compared with the old rate of 2.65, and Indonesia followed suit.

In Greece the drachma rate of 10,000 per U. S. dollar was changed to 15,000 and the drachma rate of 32,000 per pound sterling was changed to 42,000.

Iran revised the old rate of 128 rials per pound to 89 rials, 40 dinars.

Reliable sources in Brussels said the government decided to devalue the Belgian franc 15 per cent from the present 43.82 to the dollar.

The London and South African stock markets went wild. Prices, led by gold shares, advanced at the opening of heavy London trading but eased off as a result of profit-taking, and some industrials slipped back to pre-devaluation levels.

In Johannesburg the market was

MORE RAIN IS POSSIBLE

New Cold Front Threatens To Move In Over South Plains

ANOTHER cold front hung on the edge of the Rocky Mountains early today, apparently poised before moving down in the general direction of the Panhandle and South Plains.

The Weather Bureau station north of Lubbock early this morning said indications were that the cold front, third of the pre-fall season, likely would move into the area sometime Thursday morning although it had slowed up momentarily. There is an outside possibility the new front may slide off to the east and miss the area completely.

More Rain Possible

Possibility of additional rain for the area's maturing cotton crop was foreseen by the Weather Bureau, although not heavy nor general rains seemed to be in prospect, it was said.

The front, if it moves in early Thursday as forecast, will bring fall to the South Plains 24 hours ahead of schedule. The new season officially starts as of 3:06 a.m. Friday morning, records show.

Two previous cool spells already have brought the South Plains and much of Texas a preview of what is in store for the next several weeks. Heavy rains accompanied both previous cool fronts. But extent of showers in the latest mass of cold air was still undetermined.

Readings Still Low

Panhandle-South Plains Fair officials, making last-minute preparations for next week's six-day event at the fairgrounds near Lubbock, kept an eye on weather conditions.

Temperatures today are expected to be little changed from those of Tuesday, the Weatherman said, when the maximum hit 82, the low 65. A drop of 20 degrees in nighttime readings and 10 in daytime readings were seen if the cold front moves in.

Meanwhile, scattered light rains fell in South Texas Tuesday, the Associated Press said.

U. S. Atom Policy Is Under Fire

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—Britain and Canada complained today that the United States is refusing to share postwar atomic discoveries with its partners in the wartime development of the atom bomb.

This was disclosed as U. S. experts, by direction of the President, began a series of top secret talks with British and Canadian scientists in an attempt to work out a new agreement for exchange of information and allocation of uranium.

Lengthy Conference Foreseen

A communique on today's meeting said the talks "are expected to continue for some time" and repeated Mr. Truman's earlier statement that no agreements or commitments will be involved.

The statement said the meetings "will furnish the opportunity for a full exchange of views, which will be of value to the President and Congress in determining how to meet the problems involved."

A number of the American scientists were inclined to broaden the scope of informational exchange for one reason:

There is considerable conjecture that Britain, even without the tremendously expensive manufacturing operation, may be ahead of the United States on latest developments.

Uranium Supply Involved

Also involved is the supply of critically scarce uranium. The bulk of it now comes from the Belgium Congo. Britain reputedly has a secret agreement with Belgium concerning control of the ore. Canada is the prime producer of uranium in the Americas.

No decisions can be made with-

Two Dead, Nine Hurt In Fort Worth Blast

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20. (AP)—An oil refinery blast jarred Fort Worth today, set off a raging fire and killed at least two men. Nine others were hurt.

The explosion was at Magnolia's Refinery No. 1. Firemen climbed up on the refinery's superstructure to bring under control the fire which threatened for a time to set off another blast.

Those killed were George Aston, 42, who lived in a company cottage near the plant, and E. R. Harris, refinery worker.

Most of the injured suffered burns.

Plant officials did not estimate the damage. They have not been able to enter the area.

The explosion occurred in a combination cracking unit at the plant at 8:55 a.m.

The most seriously injured was Lloyd Jamar, 26. He was bandaged from head to foot. A fireman, G. H. Sanford, 44, was reported "resting fairly well" after suffering a heart attack while battling the flames.

Vandenberg Urges Approval Of Arms Bill As 'Peace Insurance'

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today called the $1,314,010,000 anti-Communist arms-aid bill a "discouragement to war, a prime and vital peace insurance" but two Democratic senators sharply criticized the program.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) challenged Vandenberg's statement that the arms bill is a "one-year program." Byrd said that such an assertion is "perfectly ridiculous" and that he believes the program could "last 20 years."

Sen. Johnson (D-Colo.) declared that the military aid plan means that the United States is "meddling in World War III" and that it may "result in the destruction of the civilization of the countries of Europe."

Vandenberg, GOP foreign policy leader, told the Senate that the measure as revised from the administration's original proposal, is "definitely and specifically in the interests of our own national defense."

Vandenberg's all-out plea for the bill to arm Atlantic pact nations and bolster defense funds of Greece, Turkey, Iran, Korea and

Coal Strike Hits Other Industries

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20 (INS)—The two largest coal producers in the world made royalty payments to the United Mine Workers welfare fund today but the "unofficial" strike of nearly half a million miners continued with ever-widening effect.

Coal-carrying railroads reported that at least 28,500 operating and maintenance workers will be furloughed by the end of the week. More than 500 Pittsburgh district rivermen also will be idled when the last barge-loads of coal are delivered to steel mills.

Meanwhile, the first strike violence in Pennsylvania fields was reported near Coupom where roving pickets forced the dumping of coal along the highways. State police said no one was hurt.

Checks Reported In Mail

Both the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., largest commercial producer, and U. S. Steel Corp., whose subsidiaries comprise the biggest group of "captive" mines, said they had put checks in the mail.

Other northern and western operators have said they intend to make payments totaling $3,000,000 at the rate of 20 cents for each ton mined.

Miners in 20 states refused to work when John L. Lewis and other welfare fund trustees suspended payment of welfare benefits because some operators had stopped paying royalties. Those

Senator Lucas To Call Farm Bill Before Senate Monday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (INS) Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill.) revealed today that he expects to call the farm bill up before the Senate Monday, following passage of federal pay legislation this week.

Lucas revealed the schedule after a meeting of the Senate Democratic Policy committee and while Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.) was filing a formal report on his compromise farm program in the upper chamber.

The Democratic leader said he thought the Senate would spend "only one day" on the farm bill, which was reported with the committee's unanimous approval.

Farmers May Sign Bonds For Mexican Labor Here

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A DEVELOPMENT expected to save South Plains cotton farmers many thousands of dollars as well as much time was announced here Tuesday.

Officials of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce advised by the U. S. Immigration service that a representative of that agency will be assigned temporarily to the South Plains to accept bonds from farmers who obtain cotton pickers from Mexico.

Such farmers now have to travel to El Paso or Chihuahua City, Mexico, to sign such bonds. The assigning of an immigration agent to this area will save each farmer getting Mexican labor the time and expense of at least one round trip of 700 to 1,000 miles.

Farmers Should File

There were other developments Tuesday of importance to the cotton and labor prospects on the South Plains.

One was the suggestion by O. T. O'Connell, manager of the nine-county Lubbock area of the Texas Employment commission, that farmers wanting Mexicans to harvest their cotton should file their applications without delay. It usually takes a minimum of three weeks from the time the application is filed to get labor, he explained.

Another development was the report, still lacking official confirmation, that Dawson county, of which Lamesa is the county seat, has been removed from a blacklist which made farmers there ineligible for labor from Mexico.

Technicalities Involved

The blacklisting, according to information received in Lubbock, resulted from charges of discrimination against Spanish-speaking people in Dawson county.

The removal form the blacklist, according to reports Tuesday, followed an investigation by a representative of the Mexican government which either failed to sustain the charges or ascertained

Clovis Polio Victim Ends Wheel Chair Trip To New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (INS)—A 43-year-old polio victim wound up a 2,460-mile trip by wheel chair in New York today six and a half months after he left Clovis, N. M.

William C. LeBow, who made the tour to raise funds for the battle against polio and to show other polio victims that "you really can get around in a wheel chair," received an official welcome at city hall.

Grinning and wise-cracking, LeBow waved his "give dollars for polio" sign at spectators and exhorted:

"You really pile the bricks up high in this here town. Let's see you pile up the dollars for polio."

LeBow will remain in New York a few days assisting the polio fund-raising drive and then go back to Clovis — by plane. (Lebow stopped in Lubbock when he first started his trip).

Water Meeting Set Here Today

Discussions will c[illegible] this morning at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce on a permanent Canadian River Water conservation project, with leaders from throughout the Panhandle-South Plains in attendance.

Several officials from towns affected by the program had arrived in the city Tuesday night and all such officials from several towns over the area were expected to be on hand when the meeting convened at 10:30 a.m.

The meeting will shift to the Hilton hotel for a luncheon and a closing business session at noon, according to Clarence Whiteside, Lubbock city commissioner who is chairman of the temporary organization.

Borger Group Here

Early arrivals Tuesday night included a delegation from Borger.

Col. E. V. Spence of Austin, interstate compact commissioner of Texas, also is expected to be here for the meeting.

Members of the Borger delegation included Joe Cooley, manager

Storms Developing Off Coasts Of U. S.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 20. (AP)—Two potential storm areas slowly increased in intensity today.

One, in the Gulf of Mexico south of the Louisiana coast, contained squalls of 30 to 35 miles an hour. The other, 1,300 miles east southeast of Florida near the Lesser Antilles, had winds of 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather bureau, said both "areas of suspicion" are "watch and see propositions."

The gulf area needs close watching because any sudden development might put a storm rather close to land, said Norton.

"There is quite an area of unsettled weather there," he reported. "The winds are not particularly strong and there is no storm formation at present."

Terry Man Killed In Arkansas Plane Crash

MCGEHEE, Ark., Sept. 20. (Spl.)—Hoyt B. Willingham, 33, Brownfield cotton duster, was killed instantly at 6:15 p.m. today when his plane hit the smoke stacks of the McGehee Hoop Mill company here and burst into flames.

Willingham has been a resident of Brownfield for the last 15 years. He was a member of the Baptist church, American Legion, Masonic lodge and Odd Fellows.

The body will arrive in Lubbock Thursday afternoon enroute to Brownfield. Funeral services, under direction of the Brownfield Funeral home, will probably be held Friday.

He is survived by the wife; four children, Fred, Joyce, Ralph and Phillip; his mother, Mrs. Ora Willingham of Brownfield; and a brother, R. A. of Austin.

Austin Collie Is Winner In Show

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

An 80-pound tri-colored Collie took top honor in the first annual All-Breed Dog show at Lubbock Municipal airport Tuesday night and shortly afterward was surrounded by a throng of children and adults as the show came to an end.

"A bang-up show" was the description given by Mrs. Emma Loest of Kansas City, superintendent of the show.

Entries Exceed Expectations

Handlers came from across the nation to bring some of the most famous animals in dogdom to the show here and the show held in Amarillo Sunday. Entries have exceeded expectations in other shows to be conducted this week in the new West Texas circuit, said Mrs. Loest. Shows will be held in Odessa, Thursday; San Angelo, Saturday, and Abilene, Sunday, and many of the dogs shown here will be exhibited.

"It was a wonderful success," said W. C. Boyd, president of the Heart of the Plains Kennel club, which sponsored the all-breed show held Tuesday from 8 a.m. until selection of the best in show about 10:30 p. m.

Champion Carrico's Clipper, a brown, black and white Collie, owned and shown by Louis Carrico of Austin, was named best in show after the best in each of six groups

Televised Surgery Is Adopted At Kansas U. Medical School

By CHARLES NETHAWAY
United Press Staff Writer

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 20 —Televised surgery became a regular teaching method today at the University of Kansas school of medicine.

An audience of more than 200 students, internes and surgeons saw two operations performed under normal conditions but this time transmitted to a five-by-seven-foot screen in an auditorium five floors below the operating theater.

Transmission Near-Perfect

Every move made by the skilled hands of the surgeon was transmitted by the Vericon television equipment, first developed by Remington-Rand, Inc., for the armed forces during World War II.

And along with the movements of the swift hands there was a running commentary on first a gallbladder operation and then a hernia repair, made by the surgeon in each case.

Transmission was near-perfect. It appeared certain to the spectators that viedo would solve one of the most difficult problems confronting faculties: How to get more than a handful of students next to the master surgeon for study of his technique.

Patient Is "Thrilled"

The size of the auditorium crowd was contrasted to that of the operating theater, where not more than 30 persons could have viewed the surgery. Half of those 30 would have had a poor view.

Dr. Paul W. Schafer, professor and chairman of the department of surgery of the university's school of medicine, performed the gallbladder operation on a woman patient.

Schafer and his assistants made no concession to television, other than to clothe themselves in green gowns and green scrub caps to cut down glare on the video image. Even the towels were green.

The patient was thrilled with her role. It gave her confidence she said.

New Technique Praised

"With so many doctors and students watching," she said, "my surgeon will have to do his best."

Schafer worked beneath a dome which contained a camera and a series of extremely powerful lights. In his ear he wore a tiny receiver which kept him in contact with the auditorium in the mammoth University of Kansas hospital here. The receiver enabled him to answer questions as he operated.

The hernia repair was performed by Dr. Thomas G. Orr, sr., professor of surgery. It was a superb job, excellently described in detail. The patient was a 10-year-old boy.

Orr predicted that "on the basis of today's experience, television will quickly become one of our most important aids in the teaching of surgery."

Schafer said it was "strange but gratifying" to instruct several hundred "close-up" television observers instead of working with small operating teams as has been the custom.

An interne said: "This is the break medical students have been waiting for."

Dr. M. Norvel Young Speaks To Lions Club

A brief but informative talk on Germany by Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of Broadway Church of Christ, featured the noon luncheon of Lubbock Lions club in Hilton hotel Tuesday.

Dr. Young, who returned recently from a three-months tour of points in Europe, Egypt and Israel, expressed the belief that there is no danger of Communism or a resurgence of Nationalism in the U. S. zones of occupied Germany.

Too many people in the western zone are escapees from Russian "culture," and the people as a whole are too well satisfied with progress toward rebuilding under the Marshall Plan, Dr. Young explained.

The principal speaker was introduced by Capt. Tom Gregory, local Salvation Army commander.

Six out-of-town visitors were introduced by Ray Wells. They were George Stewart of Turkey, Shelby Hammack of Dallas, Wendell Sparks of Ardmore, Okla., Harry Murdough of Greenville, C. O. Fox of Spur and Col. McGregory of Temple.

Groves Denman, president, presided. Invocation was given by Rev. David Zacharias, and Dick Richards led the singing.

Civil War Veteran Dies In California Naval Hospital

LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 20. (AP)—Peppery 102-year-old Charles L. Chappel, who failed to become national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic "the last 15 minutes of my life," died in the naval hospital here late last night.

Chappel, Civil War veteran, who had suffered several fainting spells since he returned from the final GAR encampment at Indianapolis, refused several times to go to the hospital. While he was semi-conscious during one of the spells, he was taken there by ambulance.

Death was caused by hardening of the arteries.

As GAR senior vice commander, he was scheduled for promotion to commander — an office he coveted. But the six feeble survivors of the Union Armies decided that the Indianapolis encampment would be the last and no successor would be elected to succeed Commander Theodore Penland, 100, of Portland, Ore.

Crowd Of 50 Attends Farm Demonstration

Approximately 50 farmers attended a demonstration of bench-levelling and underground pipe irrigation on land belonging to J. P. Steele, four miles northeast of Lubbock on the Idalou highway Tuesday afternoon.

Steele has 32 acres, which he is seeding to permanent pasture with Perrenial Rye, Orchard grass, Brome grass, Kentucky 31, Ladino clover and Alfalfa. He plans to graze approximately 100 head on the pasture, alternating them on various plots through use of charged fences.

He has 975 feet of 10-inch concrete pipe buried four feet in the ground, with risers so arranged that they can irrigate the various plots advantageously. The pasture is arranged so that the pipe runs through the middle south to north. Each riser can flood four plots by the use of canvas hose.

Steele is cooperating with the Soil Conservation district in the project and received technical advice and engineering aid through the district.

The demonstration was sponsored by County Agent D. A. Sherrill and the Soil Conservation service. P. R. Walker, conservation agent; R. E. L. Pattillo, work unit conservationist; H. C. Norman, engineer; and R. L. Weems, district supervisor, attended the demonstration. Assistant County Agent Joe Jones and Irrigation Specialist Ed Bush, also assisted in the demonstration.

TRIAL ENTERS WINDUP STAGE

Final Prosecution Arguments Presented In Tokyo Rose Case

By CONSTANCE HITCHCOCK
INS Staff oCrrespondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20—The long-drawn Tokyo Rose treason trial entered the windup stage today with the government presenting its final arguments in the case against Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino.

U. S. Attorney Frank Hennessy began his summation by reminding the federal court jury of the gravity of the charges against the 33-year-old Los Angeles-born defendant. He told the six men and six women jurors:

"Treason is the most serious, heinous, wicked and atrocious crime known to law. It is the only crime defined by the Constitution of the United States.

Claimed U. S. Citizen

"As a safeguard for the defendant, the law provides that each specific act of treason must be proved by the testimony of at least two witnesses. But the government needs to prove only one specific act by two witnesses beyond a reasonable doubt."

He made this point because Mrs. D'Aquino has been indicted for and is standing trial on eight allegedly "overt acts" against the government of the United States.

Hennessy insisted there can be no doubt as to the defendant's American citizenship despite defense contentions that she became a Portuguese national when she married Felipe D'Aquino, a citizen of that country.

Charges Are Made

"The United States," he said, "can and does keep track of its citizens. We are not concerned with what the Portuguese consul (in Tokyo) says. The defendant is an American citizen and she even claimed citizenship after her marriage in an affidavit filed in 1947."

He said that six of the eight acts of treason listed in the indictment were committed before her marriage in Tokyo and only the last two were committed after she married D'Aquino.

All eight treason counts against the defendant revolve around the preparation and broadcasting of propaganda scripts on Radio Tokyo's wartime "Zero Hour" broadcasts.

Prosecution Builds Case

Hennessy told the jury that government witnesses have testified that Mrs. D'Aquino helped to prepare such scripts and then gave voice to them on Tokyo microphones.

"The 'zero hour' program," he insisted, "was controlled by the Japanese government and the Japanese army. The broadcasts were beamed to American troops in the South Pacific for the purpose of lowering morale, causing discontent and possible insurrection."

The prosecutor charged that Mrs. D'Aquino was "the regular woman's voice on this vicious program beamed to the South Pacific.

This was designed to counter the defense claim that any one of five or six Japanese girls who appeared on the program could have made the treasonous utterances credited to Mrs. D'Aquino.

Testimony Hit

"She knew the purpose of the program," Hennessy declared "and after she learned its purpose from Major Cousens she continued to broadcast for 21 months."

Maj. Charles Cousens, to whom Hennessy referred, was an Australian army officer captured by the Japanese at Singapore. He appeared as a defense witness for Mrs. D'Aquino and testified that she never broadcast material designed to undermine American morale.

Cousens met Mrs. D'Aquino when he was brought to Japan to prepare scripts for Tokyo radio programs built around Allied prisoners held by the Japanese. He testified that he and Mrs. D'Aquino conspired to sabotage Japanese efforts to make the program one that would instill homesickness in American fighting men.

Cleveland Firemen No Help In Putting Out Los Angeles Fire

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (U.P.) — Firemen in Cleveland, O., are no help at all in putting out a Los Angeles blaze, fire dispatcher F. J. Spainhower decided today.

"Battalion Chief 11," he called over the short wave radio yesterday. "Fire reported at 2620 Lake View Terrace."

"There isn't any such address," was the quick reply from battalion chief 11.

"You mean to tell me I don't know my Los Angeles?" Spainhower barked.

"Maybe so, but this is Cleveland, O.," he was told.

An atmospheric quirk had brought together the two departments, which operate on the same wave length.

Spainhower then dispatched local firemen who put out the small kitchen fire.

The temperature of the sun's core has been computed to be 25,700,000 degrees centigrade.

Houston Doctor Quits Post On State Board

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—Gov. Allan Shivers announced today the resignation of Dr. Denton Kerr of Houston as a member of the State Board of Medical examiners and the appointment of Dr. Charles D. Reece of Houston.

Dr. Kerr, named to the board last spring, wrote that he was resigning from the board because of his connection with the Baylor University Medical school.

He said he had learned since his appointment that a member of the board could not teach at a medical school at the same time.

"I feel it impractical," Kerr said, "and inconsiderate to resign from the faculty with which I have been so pleasantly connected for the last few years."

He was an appointee of the late Gov. Beauford Jester.

Dr. Reece, a member of the board of health of the City of Houston, is a native of Sherman.

He is a director of the Houston Heart association, secretary of the South Texas Post-Graduate Medical association, fellow of the American College of physicians, and a charter member of the Houston Society of Internal medicine.

He was graduated from the University of Texas medical school in 1931 and has been in Houston since 1936.

Pallbearers and ushers at All Saints Episcopal church included Clark Gable, Pat O'Brien, Ward Bond, Reginald Owen and Frank McHugh. The actor's body will be sent by air to Brooklyn, N. Y., for interment in Greenwood cemetery next Friday.

Army, ORC And Guard Groups To Meet In Austin Today

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (Special)—Approximately 60 officers of the Regular Army, Organized Reserve corps and representatives of the National Guard and ROTC will meet here today for a three-day conference on Organized Reserve corps affairs, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, executive of the Texas Military district, has announced.

The purpose of the conference is to prepare recommendations pertaining to all aspects of Reserve summer training to be conducted in 1950. There will also be committees working on improving the operating efficiency of the Organized Reserve corps instructors' offices throughout the state.

Col. Abbott said this is the first time that Organized Reserve corps instructors have been called together since December, 1948.

Major James R. Samsel, Organized Reserve corps instructor at Lubbock, will be among the officers attending this week's conference.

Vet, Believed To Be Amnesia Victim, Returned To Home

TYLER, Sept. 20 (AP) — A World War II veteran who was believed to be an amnesia victim was returned home yesterday.

Charles A. Mase, 36, was found in the Union Bus depot at Dallas. He had called his wife and told her where he was.

Sunday, Mase called his wife and told her he could see "lots and lots of buses," but did not know where he was.

Dallas police searched bus stations then but could not find the veteran.

Mase said he spent Sunday night in a Dallas park.

Britain's unemployment still drops.

Magnolia Asks Permits To Drill Two Scurry County Tests

Magnolia Petroleum company has filed applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to drill two projects on the southeast side of the Kelly Canyon field in Central Scurry county, both of which will drill to 6,850 feet with rotary tools.

The company's No. 1-A Winston Brothers will be 660 feet from west and 890 feet from south lines of block 66, survey 38, Kirkland & Fields survey. That makes it four miles southwest of Snyder.

Magnolia No. 1 Ads Martin will be located 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 190, block 97, H&TC survey and four miles southwest of Snyder.

Both are to explore the Canyon lime zone.

Rate Hike By Phone Company Is Denied By Oklahoma Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 20 (AP) The state supreme court today denied a second temporary rate increase to Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Oklahoma.

It ordered the company to stand on its present rates, including one $3,000,000 annual temporary increase, until the corporation commission rules on a permanent increase application.

At the same time the court continued in force the first increase granted on July 16, 1948. Tse second increase also would have amounted to an additional $3,000,000 a year.

PROVE TO YOURSELF
NO CIGARETTE HANGOVER when you smoke PHILIP MORRIS!

HERE'S ALL YOU DO!

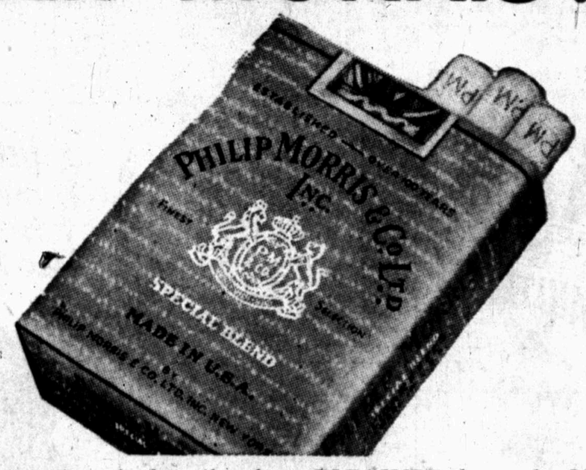

In just a few seconds you can prove PHILIP MORRIS IS DEFINITELY LESS IRRITATING than the brand you're now smoking!

1 . . . light up a PHILIP MORRIS
THEN, just take a puff—DON'T INHALE—and s-l-o-w-l-y let the smoke come through your nose. Easy, isn't it? And NOW . . .

2 . . . light up your present brand
Do exactly the same thing—DON'T INHALE. Notice that bite, that sting? Quite a difference from PHILIP MORRIS!

NOW YOU KNOW WHY YOU SHOULD BE SMOKING PHILIP MORRIS!

Everybody talks about PLEASURE, but only ONE cigarette has really done something about it.

That cigarette is PHILIP MORRIS!

Remember: less irritation means more pleasure.

And PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE cigarette proved definitely less irritating, definitely milder, than any other leading brand.

NO OTHER CIGARETTE CAN MAKE THAT STATEMENT.

YOU'LL BE GLAD TOMORROW—
YOU SMOKED PHILIP MORRIS TODAY!

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

IT was a distinct treat to hear a beautiful woman review a well written book, as was the case when we heard Mrs. Charles White of Dallas Tuesday present the characters in Sterling North's book of a bygone era, "So Dear To My Heart."

Perhaps other women thought that Mrs. White has a phenomenal memory, as indeed one would who could hold an audience spellbound for over an hour as she changes from the tones of a small boy to a querulous old woman or a kind hearted old man, all unlettered, all roots of the earth folk. But Mrs. White has no tricks when it comes to memory work; she does know the art of concentration and, being able to blot out the rest of the world when she sits down to study, she memorizes what she has written and it is hers.

We are sure it will be a great source of satisfaction to Dr. Albert C. Cunningham to hear pretty Mrs. White review his latest book, "After The Storm," at the Country club Thursday night.

TEXAS TECH

A former faculty member of the University of Texas, who recently paid a visit to the Staked Plains, Dr. J. Frank Dobie, writes these paragraphs in a recent column:

"Without being a prophet, I can see the day when by virtue of sheer population, of developed resources, and of its representation of a vast territory, the Texas Technological college at Lubbock will be to the University of Texas what the Los Angeles branch of the University of California is to the original University of California at Berkeley.

"Texas is simply growing too populous and rich to have but one university. Of course, it takes a great deal more than a name and mere numbers to make a real university. It takes more than laboratories, buildings and a pay roll. It mainly takes an outlook that transcends the provincial, the political and the commercial. This outlook comes slowly, but it comes with developing civilization."

HOW IT STARTED

ONE of the first terms we learned when we started in the newspaper world was "haywire" and while we always knew it meant that everything as in a mess, whether it be from illy written notes to a broken teletype message, we didn't wonder about its derivation.

The word seems to have first become popular in the logging camps of the North woods. Many of these camps were located in out-of-the-way places. The teamsters would keep the wire from the bales of hay to mend quickly a broken hame-strap or put a link in a broken chain, thereby saving time that would have to be spent traveling to town for repairs.

In time, a camp that was notoriously poor in its equipment, and seemed to be held together by wire from hay bales, was called a "haywire" camp. From this usage the term came to mean "broken," "sick," "crazy" and a score of other things, none of them praiseworthy.

The term now commonly means "mixed up."

UN Agenda To Put Acid Test To Russian 'Desire' To Cooperate

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The agenda of the United Nations General assembly which convened yesterday contains an ideal spot for a small test of the statement of Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky that Russia wants to cooperate in the U. N.

"There can be no doubt that the General assembly would be able to solve the important problems before it providing the nations of the U. N. show a sincere desire to cooperate with each other and in accordance with the principles of the U. N. charter, the former Soviet prosecutor said on arrival.

"Little Assembly" Boycotted

The U. N. has an instrument especially designed to find the means of international cooperation. It is the committee of the whole, or "little assembly," which the Russians have boycotted.

The little assembly was established with the announced idea that all delegations should be represented the year-round. Its prime use has been as a forum for mobilization of world reaction on any subject. And especially on the subject of non-cooperation. That means, of, course, that it does not exactly operate in favor of Russia, the prime non-cooperator. Whether it is to continue on a permanent basis is the question up now.

Russia opposed this addition to the U. N. organization on the grounds that it invaded the field of the Security council. Russia has the veto right in the Security council, but not in the General assembly, or its committee of the whole. But the assemblies can only recommend and discuss the principal issues of international disagreement. Their decisions are not binding on the Security council.

To produce true cooperation in the United Nations would require Russian renunciation of her entire effort to make Moscow the capital of a Communist world.

Distribution Course Given At Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 20. (Spl.) A course in distributive education stressing window display has just been completed by the Retail Merchants committee of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Actual demonstrations of correct display techniques in various types of merchandise were included in the 10-hour course sponsored by the extension division of the University of Texas.

Techniques of display covering principles of arrangments, balance, illumination, background, and color were taught those taking the course. Twelve miniature display windows with hundreds of fixtures were used in giving the demonstrations.

Actual practice in the arrangement of displays was provided by the extension service. W. G. Bohannon, instructor, described the course as "definitely not a lecture class." Bohannon was assisted by Elmer McKinney, instructor of distributive education in the Littlefield high school.

Dan Berg was chairman of the retail merchants committee sponsoring the course. Co-operation was given in the studies by the state board for vocational education.

The course was open to any person responsible for merchandise display in a store.

Inacessible spaces in walls and other areas are insulated quickly by blowing mineral wool in nodulated form through a hose under pneumatic pressure.

HIZZONER, THE MAYOR: DENVER CITY — John J. Wise has been mayor of Denver City since April of this year. He owns and operates the Wise Cleaning company. Born in Garvin county, Okla., Nov. 23, 1905, Wise came to Texas as a youth. He lived for a time in Estelline and Clarendon. Wise arrived in Denver City in 1945. His schooling was received in Healdton, Okla. He married Joy Clark, Hollis, Okla., on April 4, 1936. He has one daughter, Mona Dell, 12, in the eighth grade of school. Wise has for his hobbies "watching football and baseball." Fence Along Mexican Border Suggested By U.S. Official LAREDO, Sept. 20 (AP)—A U. S. official thinks a fence should be built along the Mexican border. The U. S. now patrols the frontier at an annual cost of about $2 million.

The fence, said Dr. Donald Miller of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, would keep out foot-and-mouth diseased cattle.

Dr. Miller is one of a team of bureau officials now inspecting the border quarantine program. They will spend tomorrow night in El Paso. Thursday they will follow the border into Arizona.

He pointed out the $2 million spent yearly on the patrol is about the same amount spent monthly by the U. S. in Mexico on the foot-and-mouth disease eradication program.

About 600 men are in the quarantine patrol.

"The range riders have certainly prevented the possibility of animals susceptible to the disease coming into this country," Dr. Miller said.

The golden-eye fly is so-called because the eye in some lights appears to be of burnished gold.

New Home Teachers Will Be Honored

New Home Parent-Teacher association has planned a meeting and reception for teachers and newcomers for Thursday, Sept. 29, at the school.

The meeting, originally set on this Thursday, was postponed because of a Training Union revival which is in progress at the New Home Baptist church.

Arnett-Benson Club Sews For Red Cross

Plans were made to meet at the Presbyterian chapel Oct. 4 for an all-day program with Mrs. Ethel Hulsey and Mrs. E. L. Wallace as hostesses.

NEEDLE CLUB ELECTION

HALE CENTER, Sept. 20. (Spl.) New officers elected by the Hale Center Needle club are: Mrs. R. C. Bird, president; Mrs. J. F. Miles vice-president; Mrs. Lela Wilhite, secretary, and Mrs. J. L. Nivens, reporter. The Needle club is the oldest women's organization in Hale Center, having been started here more than 30 years ago.

New Pipe Line Expected To Boost Chico Field Activity

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20. (AP)—Oilmen here today foresaw "a tremendous increase" in activity around the Chico field area in Wise county at the end of September when the field is linked with Gulf Coast refineries by a 12¾-inch pipeline.

At that time, the 131-mile crude oil line from Chico to Corsicana is expected to be completed by a Fort Worth contracting firm, and will connect with existing lines to the Gulf Coast.

Slow and costly operation of selling oil by truck has more or less retarded production in the area for several years, an official of Signal Oil & Gas Co., here said.

HALE CENTER CLUB ELECTS

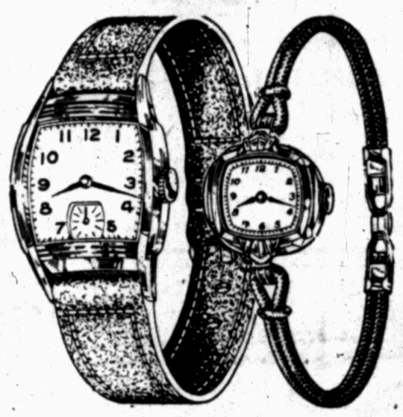

HALE CENTER, Sept. 20. (Spl.) New officers of the Hale Center Pioneer Study club have been elected as follows: Mrs. A. Dickson, president; Mrs. R. C. Bird, vice-president; Mrs. A. M. Geyer, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. W. Agnew, Mrs. O. L. Damron, Mrs. T. W. Powell, advisory board members. Theme of the club's study for the new season is "These United States of Ours."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER SLATED

Truman To Lead Democrats In Honoring New Party Chairman

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 — President Truman and other big administration figures will go to Kansas City next week for a homecoming celebration honoring the newest member of the Democratic high command.

The honor guest will be Chairman William M. Boyle, jr., of the Democratic National committee. Vice President Alben W. Barkley, speaker Sam Rayburn and other Democratic big shots are on the program with Mr. Truman. The date is Sept. 29.

Testimonial Dinner Set

There will be a $15-a-plate testimonial dinner for Boyle. Its sponsors already are fearful that Kansas City's big Municipal auditorium will not hold all those who want to dine with the new chairman.

Boyle is the 47-year-old, handsome, 190-pound Missourian who took over control of White House and national committee patronage last February. He succeeded J. Howard McGrath last month as national chairman when the latter left the Senate to become attorney General. Boyle is counted among the most practical politicians in the United States.

He entered politics in the organization of the late boss Thomas J. Pendergast of Kansas City who went to prison about 10 years ago and died in shame and disgrace. Pendergast was convicted on charges of cheating the government of $265,465.15 in income taxes. No more than that ever was proved on the old man in court.

Jobs Prove Precarious

Elmer T. Irey, former head of the Treasury department intelligence unit which got the evidence on which Pendergast was convicted, says in his memoirs that boss Tom "brought to the (Kansas City) organization a genius for political larceny unsurpassed in our times."

Boyle rose from Police clerk to police lieutenant in the organization created by old Tom. When Kansas City Police Director Otto P. Higgins also was indicted on income tax charges, Boyle was named director of police. He had been serving as Higgins' secretary.

Reform wherein the state of Missouri in 1939 seized control of the Kansas City police department soon hoisted Boyle out of that job. Mayor Bryce B. Smith then named Boyle commissioner of street cleaning. But in 1940 the voters of Kansas City blasted the existing organization out of the city hall, costing Boyle another job.

He became an assistant Jackson County Prosecutor in 1941. His luck continued to improve when he was recommended to Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri as an investigator for the wartime Truman committee. Boyle got the job.

At that time, Mr. Truman's secretary was Harry H. Vaughan, a years-long crony and World War I comrade in arms. When Vaughan gave up the secretaryship for a spectacular new military career, Boyle became secretary to the Senator from Missouri.

In 1944, when Mr. Truman was a candidate for vice president, Boyle was named executive assistant to Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the Democratic National committee. Boyle was closely associated with Mr. Truman in that campaign. Upon Mr. Truman's election, Boyle opened a law office here.

Four years later, Boyle again was advising Mr. Truman. He is credited with some of the strategy which paid off in the President's triumph last November. That led Boyle finally to the National committee chairmanship and a position of great power in this country.

It is not likely that there will be any reference to old Tom at the homecoming party in the city where he used to be the boss.

THIS "DECK" IS LOADED — The Lou Gehrig gymnasium in Rochester, N. Y., where once 5000 Naval reservists trod "the deck," is now filled with mountains of grain. This is one of two similar structures used to house some half-million bushels of wheat under the government's price support program. Having all the appearance of wind-blown desert sands, the wheat seen here is valued at over $200,000.

PERRYTON CHILD DIES

PERRYTON, Sept. 20. (U.P.)— Delmar Lee Monger, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Monger of Perryton, died last night upon arrival at an Amarillo hospital. Doctors believed he died of polio. He was being removed to the Plainview polio clinic when he died.

San Antonio Butane Dealers Are Accused Of Price Fixing

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)— Price fixing on butane gas sold in Bexar county was alleged today in a suit filed by Attorney General Price Daniel in 126th District court.

The suit named six San Antonio butane gas distributors. It sought an injunction to halt alleged violations of the state anti-trust laws in increasing, fixing and maintaining a uniform retail price.

Named as defendants were W. G. Ellis, doing business as Vapo Butane Co.; A. W. Kroesche, doing business as Butane Gas and Equipment Co.; Ellis Transport Corp.; Hydrogas Co.; Butane Sales Co.; Perfecto Gas Co.

The suit asked for penalties of of between $50 and $1,500 per day for each day of alleged violation.

The state claims the prevailing price of butane in the San Antonio area before June 8, 1949, prices as low as seven cents. It alleged that as a result of the claimed agreement, the price was set at 15 cents per gallon to tanks holding 70 gallons or less and ranging down to 11 cents on deliveries to 300 gallon tanks or larger.

Iced tea now consumes about a quarter of all the tea that Americans use. Before World War II, the figure was only 13 per cent.

The United States produced more than 3,500,000,000 bushels of corn in 1948, about a billion more than were produced in 1938.

Court Okays $12,500 Damage Suit Award

A compromise agreement whereby plaintiffs receive $12,500 in damages was approved Tuesday afternoon by 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue in the case of Ray Melchor and others against United Geophysical company, a corporation, and others.

Judge Pardue acted for Judge Dan Blair, since the 72nd district judge was holding court in Cochran county.

The recovery was prorated between Melchor and his wife and four minor children, and to the plaintiffs' attorneys, the firm of Brummett and Brummett. A. W. Salyars was appointed guardian to represent the rights of the minors in the hearing.

The recovery was one of the largest in such cases here in years, court officials indicated.

The suit grew out of a June 19 accident 10 miles southeast of Post. A car driven by Oscar Balderrama and occupied by the plaintiffs was struck from the rear by a truck belonging to the geophysical company and driven by its employe John Henry Shaw of Snyder.

The plaintiffs all live in Garza county.

POAGE CHECKS ON BUYING

Texas Congressman Makes Study Of Finland's Export Policy

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

HELSINKI.—A Texas congressman visited Finland recently and discussed the international situation.

Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, delegate to the Inter-Parliamentary union in Stockholm, Sweden, and a member of the House Agriculture committee, came here for a brief visit with his colleagues in the delegation for a visit with American Minister Avra Warren.

In addition to the international political situation, Poage delved into the question of export policies. He was particularly interested in the fact that Finland has said she can not afford to buy more American cotton to make consumer's goods inside Finland because she doesn't have the dollars.

Paper Production Delayed

He also was interested to hear that many Texas newspapers are getting their newsprint from Finland, and that a Communist strike which recently delayed production, might have had its far-reaching effect on Texas newspaper production.

Poage was also curious to hear speculation as to why the Russians cancelled orders in reparations for copper cable which had previously been placed with the Finns. Knowing how well the U.S. rural sections want copper cable for rural telephone lines, he wondered what prompted the Russians to cancel their orders for it.

Poage and Rep. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) asked Prime Minister Fagerholm of Finland how he accounts for the miracle that Finland, a little country, has not been swallowed up by the Russians. The prime minister's reply was: "Because we do not will it."

Both Congressman Poage and Congressman Cliff Hope, (R-Kan.) former chairman of the House Agriculture committee, were much impressed by Finland's small farms and the efficiency by which Finnish farmers get so much production from extremely thin soil and short growing periods. The terrain is frequently covered with stone.

The congressional party left with the statement that: "We are going away from here with great admiration for the Finns."

Their sentiment was echoed by a party of six American newspaper women who have spent three weeks studying Finland.

Greeting the Poages and others at a luncheon given by Minister Warren and his wife were the newspaper women who included two from Texas, Hope Ridings Miller, formerly of Sherman, magazine writer, and Sarah McClendon, Washington correspondent for the Avalanche-Journal.

The Warrens have a son, Geoffrey Warren, employed by Sears-Roebuck, Dallas.

While here, Mrs. Poage toured Children's Castle, the famous Finnish hospital which was pronounced by a U.S. Public Buildings administration inspector recently as far ahead of anything else he had seen in a tour of Europe. From it, he picked up ideas to incorporate in hospitals which may be built by the U.S. The architecture of the hospital is extremely modern and functional, designed to let sick children live as much as possible out of doors, through balconies which adjoin sickrooms.

WAR CORRESPONDENT DIES

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 20 (INS)—Robin Coons, former war correspondent and Hollywood columnist for The Associated Press, died at a Santa Monica hospital today following a heart attack. Coons, who wrote a daily Hollywood column from 1928 until 1945, when he was assigned to cover the war in the Pacific, was stricken two weeks ago at the Grand Canyon. He had remained in a coma.

Funeral To Be Held Today For Herman S. Weiss, 48, Lubbock

Funeral services for Herman Sims Weiss, 48, who died Monday in his home at 3412 Twenty-first following a heart attack, will be held at 10 a.m. today in Westminster Presbyterian church. Rev. David Zacharias, pastor, will officiate at the services. Dr. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist church, will assist. Burial will be in Tech Memorial cemetery

Weiss, who had been ill since February, returned recently from Dallas where specialists pronounced his condition hopeless.

The body has lain in state at the family residence since Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Weiss has been a Lubbock resident for the last 22 years. He was the owner of the Downtown Motor company. Before going into business for himself, Mr. Weiss was a longtime employe of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company.

Mrs. Weiss and the family have requested that friends who planned to send flowers contribute instead to a Westminster Church Scholarship fund, started by the family. The family said in this way the gifts would be used to carry on Mr. Weiss' work in the church.

In addition to survivors already announced, Mr. Weiss is survived by his mother, Mrs. G. W. Weiss of Nocona.

Active pallbearers at the funeral will include J. E. Maisen, George J. Young, W. B. McMillan, E. E. Greve, Charles Galbreath and E. C. Pool.

Honorary pallbearers will be W. L. Hester, Murray Fentress, Dr. J. C. Porter, George Kuykendall, O. A. Goodart and Yancy Price.

Sponge-Like Material Replaces Tissue

New Plastic Is Developed To Aid Tuberculosis Treatment

DENVER, Sept. 20 (INS)—A new plastic which may be the ideal replacement for lung tissue of tuberculosis victims was shown at the convention of the Colorado State Medical society in Denver today.

The white, sponge-like material was developed by Laurence Heightshoe, a Denver plastics company manager interested in medicine as a hobby.

It is used at Denver's National Jewish hospital when part of a lung is collapsed in treating tuberculosis. The convention exhibit was arranged by Dr. Allan Hurst, medical director of the hospital.

Replaces Lung Tissue

The plastic is soft and porous, with thousands of fine holes resembling real lung tissue. It is odorless, non-irritating and permanent.

It is an answer to one of the pressing problems of medical science. In thousands of cases of tuberculosis, and other diseases as well, a lung collapse is essential procedure.

Without something to replace the lung tissue, there is a tendency for deformity. One side of the chest becomes hollow instead of bulging, affecting posture and appearance.

Muscle tissue, paraffin, rubber balloons and sponge rubber are some of the materials which have been used in an attempt to solve the problem.

Preserves Natural Shape

Some degree of success has been noted with use of lucite bubbles, about the size of golf balls. But the hard surface of the plastic spheres does not adhere to the tissue.

Heightshoe learned of the problem and began experimenting. He made the first batch of the new lung filler in his wife's kitchen stove.

When inserted in the collapsed lung, natural tissues grow into the synthetic fiber and anchor it in place. The result is a repair job that fills the chest to its natural shape.

Dr. Hurst, in another report before a group of specialists at the meeting today, was less optimistic about another recent development in the field of tuberculosis.

Development Fails

He said research at the National Jewish hospital demonstrated that the new anti-histaminic drugs are not useful as a cure.

The new drugs were developed as a treatment for hay fever and asthma. A report before the American College of Allergists in Chicago last April indicated they might be effective against tuberculosis.

Much of the research was done in France, and Dr. Tory Milner, of Paris, who worked with some of the originators, has been experimenting with the drugs at the Denver hospital.

Dr. Hurst said the anti-histaminics were helpful in relieving symptoms of tuberculosis, but not as a cure for the disease.

Commerce Application For Federal Housing Approved

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—The Public Housing administration today approved applications of local housing authorities in Commerce, Texas, for initial participation in the new national low-income housing program.

Commerce proposes to build 50 units, all in the first year. It requested $20,000 in loans to pay development-planning costs of the new project.

Planning loans must be approved by President Truman before they are made.

Under terms of the long-range housing program, the government may make loans up to 90 per cent of the construction cost of the projects.

Ducks Killed When Flight Hits Oil Derrick Near Hale Center

HALE CENTER, Sept. 20 (Special) — A flight of ducks crashed into the wildcat oil well test derrick, known as the Nick Alley No. 2, one night last week, killing several.

Drillers on the job reported they believed the ducks were attracted and blinded by the derrick's lights during a heavy mist. Dead ducks covered a large area about the derrick, located seven miles northwest of here, the drillers said.

Albuquerque Dukes Defeat Amarillo In Playoff, 16 To 4

Ferrarese Hurls Four-Hit Game

AMARILLO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Albuquerque Dukes moved to within one victory from the championship here tonight, battering Amarillo's Gold Sox, 16-4, in the fourth game of the WT-NM league Shaughnessy playoff finals.

The Dukes had a four-hit pitching job from southpaw Don Ferrarese and backed that with a 19-hit assault against Jim Reynolds, Amarillo righthander who just didn't have it. 3,929 fans saw it.

While winning their third victory of this title series, the Dukes combed Reynolds for five doubles and four homers, getting nine runs in the last two innings.

Albuquerque will bring back Frank Shone, who won the series opener in the fifth game here Wednesday night. Ray Faust, hard-luck 8-7 loser of the 13-inning second game, will be the Amarillo nominee.

Amarillo presented Reynolds with a one-run lead in the first inning after two were out when Paul Halter had Dick Gentzkow singled to score Doug Lewis, on base by a fielder's choice. The Sox managed only two other hits against Ferrarese, both by Halter.

The Sox third sacker doubled in the third, sending Crawford Howard, who got life on Ferrarese's bad throw, around to third. The run scored on a wild pitch. Ferrarese walked Doug Lewis in the fifth and Halter followed with a homer over the score board in left. That was all for Amarillo.

All of the Duke's knocks came in bunches and Ferrarese supplied his share of the slugging, getting a double and three singles in five turns.

The big explosions were a grand-slam homer by Len Attyd in the Dukes six-run eighth and a three-run circuit smash by Dick Gyselman in the ninth.

Cliff McClain hit a homer in the second with Dick Dawson ahead for the third and fourth runs of that round. Allan Maul battered one over the rightfield wall in the third to lead the inning after which Les Mulcahy's double and singles by Ray Hamrick and Ferrarese added two more.

Gladewater Wins East Texas Loop Title By Downing Kilgore

KILGORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Gladewater won the East Texas league championship tonight, beating Kilgore, 4-0, for the fourth straight time in the champoinship playoff.

Tomorrow night, Gladewater and Hammond, La., champion of the Evangeline league, open a best four-out-of-seven game series. The first three games will be at Gladewater, the remainder at Hammond.

A. B. Cross' two run error in the ninth inning on lefty Loyko's bunt enabled Gladewater to score runs and win the championship.

Pennant-Hungry Cards Down Philadelphia Phillies, 7 To 5

Brooklyn Blanks Chicago Nine, 5-0

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20. (AP)— The pennant-hungry St. Louis Cardinals won an important game from the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 today, but it may prove to be a costly one in their stretch battle with the tenacious Brooklyn Dodgers.

Stan Musial, the most important member of their cast, hammered a single and triple for the Card cause, but in running out his three-base hit in the fifth inning, the mighty mauler pulled a muscle in his left leg, and was forced to leave the game.

A club spokesman announced the injury was not serious, and "Musial is expected to play against the Dodgers tomorrow." However, the club trainer immediately went to work and applied a cold compress on the injured leg. Stan was limping noticeably in the clubhouse and almost certainly will not be in A-1 shape for the highly important three-game series with the Dodgers that opens tomorrow with a day-night doubleheader.

BANTA HURLS DODGERS TO 5-0 SHUTOUT OVER CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)— Jack Banta, a lean righthander from Kansas, won the most important game of his brief career today as he pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-0 triumph over Johnny Schmitz and the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Dodgers, who invade the lair of the leading St. Louis Cardinals for the opener of a three game series tomorrow, only a game and a half back of the Red Birds.

Banta's side arm fastball and sinker had the Cubs in complete subjection. The lanky youth granted only five hits, fanned five and walked none in besting Schmitz who had scored four of Chicago's five triumphs over the Dodgers this year.

Tulsa Gains 2-0 Win Over Indians

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 20. (AP)— Tulsa made a four-game sweep count against Oklahoma City tonight, 2 to 0, to meet Fort Worth in the Texas league playoff finals.

It marked a gallant comeback by the Oilers after dropping two straight to Oklahoma City at the opening of their semifinal series here.

Slim Jim Avrea, knocked out by the Tribe in last week's opener, overcame early-inning wildness and pitched Tulsa to a three-hit shutout. A near capacity crowd of 5,633 cheered him on.

George Zuverink, Oklahoma City starter, was almost equally effective. He permitted only four hits, but they were enough. The Oilers reached him for single tallies in the third and seventh frames.

Tulsa opens the pennant series against the Cats in Fort Worth tomorrow night.

Lubbock Schools To Play Five Football Games During Week

Football has the spotlight this week in the Lubbock school system, with five games scheduled the latter part of the week.

Opening play Thursday are the Pioneers with a game at Meadow. In their only previous start, last Saturday, the Pioneers ripped Wolfforth for a 32-0 victory. Meadow, meanwhile, was downing Cooper, 32-7.

Friday's activity is highlighted by the clash between Lubbock's Westerners and North Side of Fort Worth. Lubbock defeated Childress 47-0, in its first game of the year, and North Side fell before a strong Reagan eleven of Houston, 12-25, but the Steers are rated as a tough team.

Littlefield meets O. L. Slaton Junior High school here Friday afternoon.

Saturday night the Cowhands go to Lamesa for a tilt with the Lamesa "B" team. In their first start the Cowhands dropped Plainview's Bees, 31-0.

In a Saturday night tilt here, Plainview Junior High school meets Carroll Thompson, the first game for either of the schools.

O'Dowdy, Weber In Main Event

Vic Weber moves up to the main event of a two-bout card at Sled Allen's wrestling arena tonight, taking on the always tough Pat O'Dowdy, the terror of Big Spring.

Both O'Dowdy and Weber have gone far since entering the ring wars many years ago and have picked up friends and supporters everywhere they have appeared.

These two will follow a quartet of grapplers into the ring, a special Australian tag team match lifting the curtain on the night's activities. And a good match is anticipated, with O'Dowdy expected to bring his bag of surprises into the ring with him and Weber attempting to outsmart his opponent. O'Dowdy will be trying to avenge a defeat last week.

Appearing in the team match are Bill Brooks and Dory Detton against Rod Fenton and Gorilla Pogi, which promises to be a crowd pleaser.

Last week Brooks took care of Billy Sandow and looked impressive with his victory, demonstrating clearly his ability to take care of himself in tight places. Detton is a favorite with the arena wrestling fans and will give the set-to plenty of action.

Never worrying about the methods of winning, Fenton and Pogi believe that to win is the main reason for being in the ring, and these two will put up an attack worth watching.

Matches get underway at 8:30 p.m., and tickets will be on sale at the arena from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today.

COTTON BOWL ENLARGED

DALLAS, Sept. 20 (AP)—There'll be more room for spectators and more comfort for players when the football season opens Saturday night in the Cotton Bowl. Wake Forest plays Southern Methodist in the opener. Today a $470,000 addition, enlarging capacity to 75,347 seats, was being completed. There will be new locker rooms, showers and quarters for teams.

Pep Halts Compo In Seven Rounds

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 20 (AP)—Willie Pep, calling his shots like a champion should against an old sparring partner, stopped Eddie Compo of New Haven tonight in 41 seconds of the seventh round to successfully defend his world featherweight crown at Municipal Stadium. Referee Bill Conway halted the uneven contest at the request of Compo's chief second, Goldie Goldfarb. The crafty Pep, risking his crown for the first time since he recaptured it from Sandy Caddler last February, was in complete command at all times.

Most of the crowd which braved the chilly weather to see the bout pleaded with the referee to stop the contest before he did. Compo, willing and eager but overmatched was floored for nine count twice in the fifth and once in the seventh before the end.

A bulls eye left hook to the jaw dropped Compo, who weighed 124½ to 126 for the champ, midway in the fifth heat. He got up to run smack into another furious barrage from wily Willie. This time a right hand shot, flush on the "bottom" sent him sprawling for another nine.

Willie hitting the Kid at will, looked over his shoulder as if to ask the referee if he hadn't seen enough. It was allowed to continue.

In the sixth Compo's left eye started to close. Willie had almost closed the right eye in the second round. It was obvious that the end was near.

Pep, the Hartford, Conn., vet., who celebrated his 27th birthday yesterday, came out to put over the finishers in the seventh. Compo looked weary as he walked slowly from the corner, a left hook dropped him on his back. He rolled over and waited for the count to reach nine, as he got up the referee heeded the shouting from the challenger's corner.

Goldfarb was waving a towel and yelling that the Kid was finished. Referee Conway agreed.

Softball Game Aids Lockney High Band

LOCKNEY, Sept. 20. (Special)—The Lockney High school Band Parents association netted $150 from a benefit softball game played here last night by the Builder's Mart nine of Floydada and The Avalanche-Journal softball team.

Builder's Mart evened the series between the two teams at one victory each by blanking the newspaper club 2-0 before a crowd of between 150 and 200 persons. The game was played on the Lockney High school football field.

The only scores in the game came in the bottom of the sixth inning when Earl Cooper, Builder's Mart catcher, slammed a long home run to left centerfield. Cooper chased a mate around the bases and easily beat the attempted throw to the plate.

The Avalanche-Journal team had won the opener in Floydada recently 1-0. As a result of tonight's victory, a third game between the two teams probably will be played.

Lindell Bailey almost scored for the Lubbock nine, but was caught at the plate on a fine throw. It was the closest the Hub City team came to scoring, although they had men on bases in several innings.

It was a real pitcher's duel from start to finish until Cooper broke up the game. Builder's Mart picked up only four hits off Albert Jones, while Lubbock was garnering only five off James Robinson. Each team committed a pair of errors.

The game was close all the way, with some spectacular ball being played. Both teams threw up a tight defense with men on the sacks and the crowd enjoyed the game, played on a cool night.

Westerners Hold Heavy Drill In Preparation For North Side Tilt

Game Conditions Scrimmage Held

Coach C. R. Pattison sent the Lubbock Westerners through a two and one-half hour drill last night at Chapman field in preparation for the coming game with North Side of Fort Worth Friday night at Jones Stadium.

The climax of the long workout was a 15-minute scrimmage under game conditions, and Coach Pattison seemed pleased with the showing, a vast improvement being made over Monday's dismal practice when everything looked bad.

The first team racked up three touchdowns in short order, two on the ground and one through the air. The second scoring drive carried 90 yards in two tries, with Charlie Williams breaking loose on a 60-yard gallop and Wayne Stroud going 30 yards for the tally. Bobby Brown passed to Billy Wright for the first score, and Williams scored the final touchdown from 10 yards out.

Sharp On Defense

The second team could not get started as the defensive linemen broke through to throw the ball carrier for losses, with Wright looking especially well from his left defensive end post and Garnet Reeves making good stops at right end.

Heads-up work in the backfield resulted in two pass interceptions which started touchdown drives, with Douglas Ross and Brown intercepting.

Stroud and Williams continued to sparkle on running plays for the first team, with Brown unleashing two nice passes to Wright, one on a play that carried 40 yards. For the second team Don Rawls made a couple of good gains, as did Tommy Fisher.

Strong Against Childress

In last week's Childress tilt, the Westerners displayed a crushing ground game which worked for 11 first downs and 414 net yards rushing. Not a single pass was thrown the entire game, and the Westerner passing attack is still a secret weapon in schoolboy circles.

It was interesting to note that no Lubbock first downs were made in the second quarter when two touchdowns were made, and only one was recorded in the last period when two scores were added.

Lubbock was forced to punt only once, that a 42-yard kick by Stroud which rolled dead, and the ball went over on downs one time—in the fourth quarter. Childress punts were returned 136 yards.

Eleven penalties cost the Westerners 120 yards which could easily mean the difference in victory in a close game.

Childress was unable to get started, ending with six net yards gained from scrimmage and 31 through the air. Lubbock defense was tight, especially at end, with Reeves doing yeoman service there, and Joe Brock was a tower of strength from his tackle position. Childress returned seven Lubbock kickoffs a total of 121 yards.

HOSPITAL LIST ON DECLINE

Tech Wingmen Given Rough Drill To Correct Defense Weaknesses

It was a rough day for ends at Texas Tech yesterday.

The wingmen, especially the defensive ones, caught plain, unadulterated harsh treatment in an effort to correct the weakness of play obvious at Austin Saturday. Coach Del Morgan was in no mood to tolerate shortcomings, but patiently worked with his crop of end men, explaining carefully the way they should play.

Armed with an offensive scrimmage line of a center, two guards and two tackles, and a defensive line of two ends and a center, the varsity received a long drill in both offense and defense, and as time went on and the offense showed signs of weakening, the wrath of the coaches turned on the offense.

Fundamentals Worked On

It was one of those days. The instruction in fundamentals extended to the guards, who were blocking, the offensive centers, who also were blocking, and the defensive centers, who were trying to break through.

While part of the squad went through offensive drill at the other end of the field, including use of blocking dummies, the remainder of the linemen were sent through an intensive blocking drill. At the end of the session, there was noticeable improvement in the ability of the ends to play their positions better.

Coach Morgan worked the varsity until almost 6 p.m. on blocking and then called over a freshman line for heavy scrimmage. Most of the scrimmage was designed to test the blocking ability of the Red Raiders and holes were being opened consistently in the first year men's defenses. All the players were given a chance to perform and there were some good showings.

Thompson Has Injury

The hospital list gradually is being shaved down. Tackles John Andrews and Rex Pinson took part in the scrimmage and blocking sessions yesterday. End Jack Davis, injured in the Texas game when he sprained his right ankle, was off crutches and hobbling around. Halfback Herman Bailey was runnig with an only slightly obvious limp, although he didn't get in the scrimmage.

Fullback J. W. Thompson probably is the only injured player at present not likely to make the San Antonio trip. Thompson will not be available until the West Texas State college game. Davis is hoping to be ready for Saturday's game, but Trainer Mason Gorby had grave doubts that the Littlefield offensive end would be ready.

Further work on defensive ends, another heavy scrimmage and drills against Texas A & M's attack are expected to occupy the Raiders' time this afternoon.

White Drills Frosh

Meanwhile, on the practice field, Coach Allie White was sending his freshman squad through a steady drill that included scrimmage. Coach White is attempting to whip the initial year men into shape for the first game of the year the night of Sept. 30, when West Texas State college's freshmen visit Lubbock.

Outstanding for the Picadors so far have been Don Seale of Idalou, probably the finest passer on the squad, along with Carl Madison of Albama and Ken Cochran of Fort Worth. All three are quarterbacks. Waldo Young, W. H. Barker, Ronnie Miller and Gene Doss, other backfield men, have been showing up well.

Several Good Performers

Along the line, Coach White has several fine performers, James Clark of Sundown, Alton Linnie of Monahans and Ned Wallace of Lubbock have sparked the ends. Marland Ribble, August Meynig and Joe Harris have been leading the tackles. Neil Rogers has looked good at guard, while Sam Jones of Temple has been doing a good job at center.

Yankees Retain Lead Over Red Sox With 3-1 Win Over Chicago

Red Sox Eliminate Tribe With 5-2 Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP) — The New York Yankees held their three-game lead over the Boston Red Sox today by squeezing out a 3-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The Yanks got only three hits off lefty Bob Kuzava but they needed only two in scoring their runs. Reliable Allie Reynolds and Joe Page held down the White Sox with seven hits.

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

It was exactly a year ago tonight that Tony Zale, one of the gamest champions the fight game ever had, lost his middleweight title to Marcel Cerdan, the Frenchman.

I saw that fight, at Jersey City's beautiful Roosevelt stadium, and a look at the calendar today brought the reflection that—for the individuals featured in that battle—a lot of water has gone under the bridge during the last year.

Tony is through. Under his contract, he could have demanded, and gotten, a re-match with Cerdan. But Zale knew, and his managers knew, that it wasn't the thing to do. Tony had been at peak form for that first Cerdan bout, and if he wasn't good enough then—well, he never would be. So the "Man of Steel from the Steel City" (Gary, Ind.) wisely gave up the gloves for keeps, to settle into retirement with his family. Only it didn't work out that way, for now Tony's wife is divorcing him.

And Cerdan no longer is the champ. He lost the crown to Joltin' Jake LaMotta, the Bronx toughie, and now faces the task of recapturing it in a match with LaMotta next week. It's doubtful that he can do it, and even more problematical that he could keep it if he did—since Sugar Ray Robinson has entered the middleweight picture.

Unlike Zale, Cerdan is not through, but he seems to be slipping. And, great ringman that he is, he won't be around much longer.

But whatever their eventual fate, these two will be long remembered by metropolitan fight fans for that Jersey City encounter.

It wasn't a good fight, because Cerdan won by a mile. But there has never been a more dramatic finish of a champion's career. Zale, even in defeat, showed magnificent courage that made him the real hero.

As one New York sports scribe put it the next day, "Tony, the fallen champion, was carried out on his shield."

For 11 rounds, Zale took a merciless beating from the canny Cerdan. I had seen Tony in his final pre-fight workout, and had talked to his handlers. They made it plain that he would "shoot the works" trying for an early-round knockout, for they seemed to realize that he could not match the challenger's superb condition.

They had figured right, but the champ never landed that KO punch. Several times in the first two rounds he sent piston-like rights whistling past Cedan's bobbing head, missing only by inches. Meantime, the Frenchman chopped away, battering Zale with vicious hooks to the head.

Finally, midway through the fourth, Zale connected. As Cerdan stepped in, Tony fired a perfectly-timed right straight to the chin. The blow buckled Cerdan's knees, and he threw his arms about Zale in a tight clinch that lasted nearly 15 seconds before Referee Paul Cavalier could pry him loose. But the blow had come too late. It lacked the full power of Zale's earlier punches, and Cerdan had had time to "warm up." Once out of the clinch, he was never again in serious trouble.

The end came unexpectedly, just at the close of the 11th round. Cerdan was hammering away at Zale on the ropes when the bell rang. The Frenchman turned and headed for his corner, but Tony stood motionless, his head bowed as though in shame. He was, literally, out on his feet.

Slowly his knees buckled, and he folded forward toward the canvas. The alert Cavalier jumped in to catch him, then lowered him gently.

Ray Arcel and Art Winch, Zale's handlers, jumped into the ring and worked desperately over their battered battler, but to no avail. Zale still was out in his corner when the bell opening the 12th sounded, and Cerdan was the winner on a TKO.

The fight was over, and a great champion's reign had ended. They come and they go.

West Texas Open Golf Tourney Set

AMARILLO, Sept. 20. (Special) Plans are being completed for the fourth annual West Texas Open golf tournament, to be staged Sept. 29 through Oct. 2 at Ross Rogers Municipal course here.

Prizes totalling $2,000 in cash and merchandise will go to low-scoring professionals and amateurs in the tourney, which will be on a medal play basis.

There will be five divisions—the professional division and four amateur divisions designated as Classes A, B, C and D. Handicaps will apply in the amateur competition.

The low-scoring professional will receive $250 cash, with 14 other cash prizes ranging down to $25.

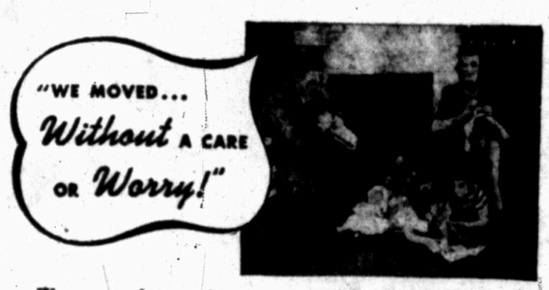

Amateur awards will be in the form of merchandise, with prizes going to the five low net scorers in each of the four simon pure divisions.

A pro-amateur best ball event is scheduled Sept. 29, with tournament play to begin the next day. The last two 18-hole rounds will be played the following Sunday.

The event, sponsored by the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf association, has an entry fee of $10. All out-of-town golfers planning to compete are urged to make hotel reservations early, at either the Herring or Capitol hotels here.

WTSC Preps For McMurry Tussle

CANYON, Sept. 20 (Special)—West Texas State's Buffaloes went back to the practice field today to iron out wrinkles found in last week's game and ready themselves for the invading Indians of McMurry Saturday night.

Although Coach Frank Kimbrough's Thundering Herd rolled over the East Texas State Lions 41-7 last Saturday night, many mistakes cropped up which must be corrected if the Buffs expect to hang up a victory over the powerful McMurry squad. McMurry scared the pants off of Tulsa Saturday night before falling 27-26.

One of the prime factors for practice sessions this week will be the construction of a defense capable of holding McMurry's famed back Brad Rowland. Hailed as one of the best backs in the Southwest and being boomed for Little All-American honors, Rowland has churned the McMurry turf for two seasons and landed on the All-Conference berth in the Texas loop for as many years. Last year Rowland carried the ball for McMurry 168 times and gained 1164 yards which is 6.8 yards per try. He also threw 10 passes, completing 6 of them for 190 yards.

Not to be satisfied with running and passing, Rowland had a punt average of 41.6 which is good in anyone's league. Other than these accomplishments Rowland plays a whale of a defensive game.

To back this supercharged speed demon, the McMurrians will confront the Buffs with the largest line the Herd will have to face all season.

One of the most encouraging signs to come out of the West Texas-East Texas fracas was the quarterbacking of Gene Mayfield, 170-pound Quitaque junior. Other than calling plays directed at ripping the Lion forward wall apart, Mayfield passed for two touchdowns and ran 25-yards for another. His passing antics in the game have tabbed him as the greatest passer to play for the Buffs since Flippin' Foster Watkins who tossed for the Maroon in the late thirties. Some fans rate him as better than Watkins.

Other standout performances were turned in by backfielders: Jimmie Draper, Spur; Bill Cross, Canadian; Charles Wright and Tom Airhart, Canyon, Junior Melton, Wellington; Frank Wise, Coleman; Vic Bates, Childress and Wayne Sullivan, Phillips.

1949 Line Is Relatively Inexperienced

New Deal Lions Are Fielding Well-Balanced, Spirited Team

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

MONROE, Sept. 20. — The New Deal High school Lions, off to a roaring start on the gridiron this fall, aren't letting early-season success go to their heads.

The Lions opened two weeks ago with a stunning 7-6 upset of Class A Abernathy. Then they rolled to an impressive 45-0 victory over Plains, a District 4-B conference foe.

But Lion Coach H. T. Pior isn't paying much attention to the "Watch New Deal" talk that's buzzing about the circuit.

"We are playing our games as they come — one at a time," he insists, pointing out that District 5-B has at least four other clubs fully capable of copping the championship.

Pior, who came here from Lubbock's J. T. Hutchinson Junior High to continue a coaching career that included earlier stops at Karnack, Monument, N. M., and Sherman, seems fairly well satisfied with the progress of his team so far this fall.

"We have a well-balanced attack," he says, "and unusually fine spirit. Against Abernathy, our running was good, and we hustled all the way to take advantage of the breaks."

While the triumph over Abernathy was as close as your next breath, the fact remains that New Deal barely missed scoring a second touchdown, once losing the ball less than a foot from the Antelope goal line. So it wasn't a "fluke" win, by any means.

New Deal's 1949 line is relatively inexperienced, with only two lettermen. Aside from two small starting guards, it is of above-average size for Class B ranks. In discussing his team's performance to date, Pior was careful to emphasize that the linemen have had a big hand in both 1949 victories.

Five Backs Are Lettermen

The backfield, operating from the T formation, is a well-balanced unit, with four starters who have proved themselves to be capable runners. Capt. Robert Gentry, the quarterback and signal-caller, and Marlin Bumpass share punting and passing duties, with "fair" results in both departments, according to Pior. Bumpass, who booted the deciding point against Abernathy, is the team's extra point specialist.

Five backs are lettermen.

To date, the squad has escaped serious injury on the playing field, and Pior hopes the hospital list still will be clear when the Lions journey to Whiteface for a conference game Friday night. After Whiteface comes Idalou, the only 4-B team to defeat New Deal last season, when the Lions had an overall record of six wins and four defeats.

Assistant Coach Elbert Bartley is, like Pior, a graduate of East Texas State college.

The Lions' remaining schedule: Sept. 23, New Deal at Whiteface (conf.); Sept. 30, Idalou at New Deal (conf.); Oct. 7, New Deal at Hermleigh; Oct. 14, Cooper at New Deal (conf.); Oct. 21, New Deal at Ropesville (conf.); Oct. 28, open; Nov. 4, Frenship at New Deal (conf.); Nov. 11, New Deal at Petersburg (conf.); Nov. 18, New Deal at Meadow (conf.).

The complete New Deal roster, with respective weights, classifications and years — if any — as lettermen, includes:

ENDS — Co-Capt. Freddie Harkey (150, Sr. 1L); Otis McMenamy (140, Jr.); Dewey McCollough (150, Sr.).

TACKLES — K. Don Shinn (200, Sr.); Loyd Jeffcoat (150, Soph.); Billy Joe Scarborough (160, Jr.); Tom Brogdon (180, Jr.).

GUARDS—Franklin Dunn (132, Sr.); Clayton Shipp (138, Jr., 1L); C. W. Wales, jr. (140, Jr.); Frank Gobel (138, Sr.).

CENTERS — Lonnie Brownlow (160, Jr.); Judge Young (135, Jr.).

FULLBACKS — Hubert McFarland (165, Jr., 1L); Clifton Wilkins (140, Soph.).

TIL Pleads For Safer Football

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (AP) — A plea to make football safer for Texas schoolboys went out today from Interscholastic league headquarters.

Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director, sent officials of all football schools a six-point guide with practical suggestions on how to do it.

These were his suggestions to make football safer:

"1. If in doubt as to parent's willingness for the boy to play, call for a written consent.

"2. See to it that the boys are properly equipped with adequate protection such as shoulder, hip and kidney pads, helmets, etc. It is positively criminal to send a team on a rough field improperly equipped, to meet the natural hazards of a vigorous game.

"3. Give immediate attention to all injuries, even seemingly unimportant scratches and bruises.

"4. Have a physician on hand at every game.

"5. Secure officials who will enforce rules designed to protect the players.

"6. See to it that the playing field is well sodded and in the best possible condition."

British Economy Cut Is Demanded

reminiscent of the pre-war boom, with some quotations up as much as 50 per cent in the first few minutes.

Leaders in the New York stock market slipped sharply, due mainly to labor disputes.

Spending Slash Demanded

Attlee's demand for a five per cent slash in government expenses was made personally and secretly to all ministries recently. Ministry heads were called upon to submit plans for cuts by the end of this month at the latest.

This was separate from the recent demand for a five per cent economy slash demanded by the treasury recently in connection with the new April budget.

Attlee made his move as opposition to the government's handling of the financial crisis hardened.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps said Monday that there would be no cuts in the defense and social service appropriations.

'Slowdown' Strike Threatened

Attlee's advisors were declared to have approved his economy move.

Meanwhile the government faced a new threat in the form of "slowdown" strike plans of London rail workers to enforce wage increase demands.

Leaders of the "slowdown" drive, scheduled to start at midnight Wednesday, admitted it would "bring chaos and let the government know we mean business."

Spread of this strike would threaten the government's vital export program and tend to raise export production costs, which officials hoped to reduce through devaluation.

In Paris Communist leader Jacques Duclos called for the convocation of parliament to debate devaluation of the French franc. He charged that the devaluation last night was "contrary to the national interest."

The Paris financial market opened on an active note after being closed on Monday.

At Bonn, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced the necessity of devaluing the deutschmark and a finance ministry spokesman indicated this will come in a few days.

The Austrian cabinet voted unanimously against currency devaluation as did the government of Pakistan.

Early Filing Urged

that the causes for them had been corrected.

Several technicalities are involved in trying to get labor from Mexico for the picking season.

The starting point, as explained by O'Connell, is the filing of an application with the Texas Employment commission.

Area offices where this may be done are at 1114 Tenth street Lubbock, Lamesa, Littlefield, Plainview and Childress.

These applications can be filed by a single farmer for his own needs, by a pool of farmers, or by ginners for the farmers they serve.

Plan Reduces Travel

The application finally gets to the Mexican government and, if approved there, the farmer signs a bond for the number of laborers allotted to him. Then he waits for notification that the labor is available and has to get the workers. Several days, at the least, elapse between the signing of bonds and the notification that the labor is ready.

Heretofore, South Plains farmers seeking such labor have had to make at least two trips to El Paso — the first to sign bonds and the second to get their workers.

Under the new arrangement, they will have to travel no further than Lubbock to sign bonds. But, presumably, they still will have to go to El Paso, or some other point on the U. S.-Mexican border, to get the laborers.

The new arrangement was announced after a good deal of fast work Tuesday afternoon. Cooperating were the Lubbock and Lamesa chambers of commerce, the employment commission and the immigration service.

A long distance call from Lubbock chamber to immigration service officials in El Paso obtained assurance that an immigration agent would be assigned here if enough farmers could qualify for Mexican labor. Another call ascertained that enough farmers — 10 to 20, at least — were qualified at Lamesa alone.

A third call to immigration authorities in El Paso with this information, brought the assurance that a man would be sent here.

It still is uncertain as to when he will arrive, but the expectation is that it will be late this week or early next.

Meanwhile, O'Connell said that approximately 100 area farmers have filed applications for about 6,000 Mexican workers. All of these applications now are "in the mill." Authorities here, of course, have no way of knowing how many of them will be approved.

But officials here agreed that several hundred other South Plains farmers could use many thousands of additional cotton pickers from Mexico.

If these farmers hope to get labor from that source, O'Connell said, they should file their applications at once.

The full details of the requirements which must be met to qualify for such workers are available at any of the commission offices, O'Connell added. But most farmers can comply with them either as individuals or by forming a pool with others needing pickers.

In a general way, the farmer must post a bond, starting at $25 a head, for each worker allotted to him. He, or his pool, also must be in position to guarantee a minimum of 90 days work.

Those unable to visit the commission office in person can obtain information by telephone, O'Connell said. The number of the Lubbock office is 4661.

NEWS BRIEFS

A group of friends of Sam Lightfoot, 1512 Main, who has been an invalid 14 years, gathered at his home Tuesday and presented him with a $100 purse on the occasion of his 60th birthday. Lightfoot, formerly a pharmacist, is a victim of arthritis.

A district conference at the Congregation Methodist church, Avenue C and Fifth street, will begin at 8 p. m. today, Rev. R. H. Bullock, pastor, has announced. The public is cordially invited to attend services which will be held each night through Sunday. Others participating in the services, besides the pastor, include Louis Pearl, evangelist, of Little Saline, and conference president, Rev. D. Cox, minister of Coleman.

Bill Shearer, son of Mrs. Verlie Shearer of 1614 Ave. L left Tuesday morning for Austin, where he will resume studies in the University of Texas. He will register as a junior. Mrs. Shearer is an office deputy of the sheriff's department.

Charles Edward Whatley, 21, of Lubbock route 2, was arrested late Tuesday night by the Lubbock county sheriff's department on a warrant issued at Plainview charging burglary.

10 Witnesses Heard By Alice Grand Jury

ALICE, Sept. 20. (AP)— Ten witnesses appeared today before an Alice grand jury investigating the , bitterly - contested Texas Democratic primary of Aug. 28, 1948.

The witnesses included Clarence Martens, chairman of the Jim Wells county Democratic executive committee at the time of the primary.

In the million-vote primary, Lyndon Johnson won the U. S. Senate nomination over Coke R. Stevenson by a margin of 87 votes. Stevenson charged 200 votes were added fraudulently at precinct 13 in Alice after the polls closed.

Nine of the witnesses were identified as "voters."

The grand jury was waiting for the testimony of Hector Cerda of Alice, now a student at A.&I. college, Kingsville. A subpoena has been issued for him and efforts were being made to reach him in Kingsville.

Cerda testified at a federal investigation into the box 13 controversy at Fort Worth last September. Sevenson supporters contended at the hearing that he had been listed as voting at Box 13. But Cerda said he was in Kingsville during the election and did not vote.

Arms Bill Pushed

the Philippines enhanced administration hopes for Senate approval of the measure by Thursday night.

Sen. Langer (R-N.D.) blocked the attempt of majority leader Lucas (D-Ill.) to get agreement for a vote at 3 p.m. Thursday.

Minority leader Wherry (R-Neb.) then suggested that Lucas renew on Wednesday his proposal for a final vote on the arms bill Thursday and couple it with an agreement to vote Monday on the military pay bill.

However, Lucas said he refused to be "bludgeoned" into a double agreement.

The Senate quit until noon Wednesday instead of holding a night session on the bill.

Earlier, Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.) congressional atomic committee chairman, urged passage of the arms bill. He warned that when Russia begins producing atomic weapons America will need the aid of her western European allies.

The Michigan Republican, one of the chief architects of the nation's bipartisan foreign policy, declared that objections to the administration's original arms-aid program had been overcome by numerous revisions. He said:

"The far-flung changes upon initiative provided from both sides of the aisle make it the finest possible example of constructive bipartisan co-operation and congressional responsibility."

Proposal Draws Fire

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) who voted against the Atlantic pact, said that the Senate assumed "moral obligation" to provide arms to treaty nations when it ratified the mutual defense agreement.

Flanders criticized the arms program as failing to provide an "over-all plan" which, he said, America should have.

Vandenberg, while praising the revised bill, criticized the administration for having submitted proposals which he called "unsatisfactory and unacceptable."

He said these included provisions which would have given the President power to "decide for himself" where to give aid and cash and gave him authority to "go outside" the pact in giving aid.

U. S. Atom Policy

out approval of the U. S. joint congressional committee on atomic energy.

The British and Canadians went into today's opening session feeling their wartime partner was being "a bit sticky" in withholding new information regarding use of the atom as a weapon.

The talks obviously were of a top secret nature and little beyond generalities could be announced.

It is reported, however, that the British—while willing to let the U. S. continue manufacture of the A-bomb—want a full exchange of military know-how plus a stockpiling of bombs on their own soil.

Fair Booster Trip

and a wild scramble for balloons, rulers, and other favors ensued in most places.

At the junior high school in Plainview, boosters had difficulty getting out of the bus, with the children packed up close and fighting for the balloons and pencils thrown from bus windows.

Souvenirs In Demand

At the Matador school, where the boosters stopped after lunch in Matador, the Plainview situation was reversed. The boosters had little difficulty getting off the bus, but when the balloons and other items began to appear, they were engulfed by the youngsters, and had difficulty returning to the bus before they had given away every souvenir they had.

School had dismissed when the Lubbock group arrived in Ralls at 4:25 p. m., but the youngsters waited for the boosters downtown.

Most sought after items by the majority of the youngsters were the pencils, with balloons a close second, and rulers and free tickets next in that order.

Other Towns Visited

Other school stops included Lockney at 9:40 a. m., Roaring Springs at 12:45 p. m., Dickens at 1:40 p. m., and Spur at 2:20 p. m. Stops in the business districts for distribution of window placards were made at Hale Center at 8:10 a. m., Crosbyton at 3:45 p. m., and Lorenzo at 4:50 p. m. in addition to those already mentioned.

Randolph Rampy and Jerry Brooks were co-chairmen for the trip, and George Bond, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of distribution of the favors.

The final good neighbor tour which will be made Thursday, is routed west to Levelland and Morton, and then south to Hobbs, N. M., after which the boosters will return to Lubbock. W. D. Rogers and Vernon Peters are co-chairmen for the Thursday tour.

95 Reservations Made

Bond said about 95 reservations have been made for the final trip, which includes 30 by the Lubbock county Sheriff's Posse. Itinerary for the trip follows: Leave Lubbock at 7:15 a. m.; Levelland, 8 to 8:20; Whiteface, 8:40 to 8:55; Morton, 9:15 to 9:35; Plains, 10:20 to 10:45; Tatum, 11:30 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.; Lovington for lunch; 12:50 to 2:20; Hobbs, 2:50 to 4:30; and return to Lubbock by 7:30 p. m.

Boosters who made the trip Tuesday were Travis F. Melton of the West Texas Gas company, Norman Montgomery of the Commercial Credit corporation, George S. Lemon of the Pioneer Cookie company, H. B. "Jack" Golding of the Santa Fe Railway company, Cliff Elliott of the Baldridge bakery, Thomas George of the Altee Shoe store, Lloyd Smith of the Lubbock Hardware and Supply company, Troy Bowers of the Nunn Electric Supply corporation, James Metts of the Burlington lines, Ted Waldrip of the Dryer and Lee Oil company, Jeff Pirtle of Hanna-Pope and company, Jim Bennett of the Bennett Auto Supply, Randolph Rampy of the Texas Roofing company, W. B. Sylvester of the Lindsey theater, E. B. McNeill of the Behrens Drug company, A. S. Meinecke of Meinecke Brothers, A. B. Hunt of T.N.M. and O. Coaches, Ernest Downing of the People's Finance and Guaranty company, and George A. Bond, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Buddy Hatton was driver of the chartered bus, and Lawrence Haynes drove the Baldridge bakery sound truck, which led the bus through the towns.

operators contended the contract requiring royalty payments had lapsed.

Railroads Cut Forces

The Pennsylvania railroad, in announcing that 15,000 workers would be furloughed Friday, said:

"The disappearance of coal traffic from the railroad, combined with generally low level of business, forces this situation."

Baltimore and Ohio railroad layoffs will total 3,758.

Other railroads scheduling furloughs were:

Chesapeake & Ohio, 6,215, Reading Railroad, 1,000; Illinois Central 150 Norfolk & Western, 1,650, Central of New Jersey, 825, and Louisville & Nashville, "several hundred."

The river layoffs will affect boatmen of the U. S. Steel Corp., Jones and Laughlin and the Hillman Transportation Co.

Pittsburgh Faces Depression

The steel industry, although its "captive" pits have been closed, reported no immediate production curtailments.

But steel is facing an even more ominous threat in its pension and social insurance dispute with CIO United Steel Workers President Philip Murray, which may result in a strike midnight Saturday.

In event of a steel strike, Pittsburgh, heart of both the coal and steel industries, would be seized in a grip of industrial paralysis.

Some coal observers expressed hope, however, of a settlement of the coal dispute for the north and west at least, when Lewis meets with the northern and western coal operators at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

They argue that the miners, who laid down their tools because southern operators stopped contributing to the union's welfare fund, can have no controversy with northern and western operators who have made their regular $3 million payment into the fund.

They pointed out that by striking the miners are hurting themselves by cutting off future badly needed payments by northern and western operators into the fund.

Southern producers met today with Lewis aides at Bluefield, W. Va.

PUZZLED BUT HAPPY — "What is all this?" four-year-old Curtis Wayne Johnson seems to say in Crosbyton Tuesday afternoon as balloons, rulers, and other fair reminders suddenly appeared with the arrival of fair boosters from Lubbock. Loss In Three Burglaries Small

Three burglaries and two attempted burglaries were reported to the police department Tuesday.

Losses were summed up by complainants as:

From Students Service station at 405 College, approximately $15 from a marble board machine, about $2 from a cigaret veding machine, a $12 tire, $12 worth of antifreeze, and a "few" packages of cigarets;

Check Being Made

From T. R. Prideaux Lumber company, 1116 Seventh, 50 to 75 pennies that had been left in a cash drawer.

C. A. Ferguson, employe, reported that Acme Fast Freight, at 225 Ave. M, had been broken and entered, but that nothing apparently had been removed from the ransacked place. A padlock had been forced by intruders, he said. A check of freight was being made to determine whether any of it had been taken.

Nothing had been reported missing from Bo-Peep Baby shop, at 1712 Broadway, or from Peters jewelry, at 1013 Main, where attempted burglaries were reported.

Someone shot 42 holes in a window with a bb gun, Vernon Peters, owner of the jewelry, informed police. But, he said, a hole made by the air-gun pellets was not large enough to allow anyone to rech in and manipulate a catch and gain admittance.

The lumber yard burglary was reported by Tom Everheart, yard employe who resigned last week after five years with the police department. Everheart said the building was entered from the rear after a screen had been removed from a window and glass had been smashed.

Theft of a .38 pistol valued at $50 from Stacy Ashley of 2319 Thirty-first was reported to investigators.

Recovery of three automobiles within a brief period was announced.

Owners are Curtis Collins of 1519 Fifteenth, W. J. Wilkerson of 2005 Seventh, and E. Wright of 1420 Ave. E.

Police arrested nine women in the night and charged them with vagrancy by prostitution. One man also was charged with vagrancy.

Rank Of Page Conferred At Knights Of Pythias Meeting

About 50 members of the Knights of Pythias attended a regular weekly business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in their lodge at 1107½ Ave. K to witness Freeman Paschall receive the rank of Page in the organization. The rank was conferred by Frank French chancellor commander of the lodge.

Two other members, French said, were to receive the same rank at the meeting but were out of town. They will be given the rank at the next weekly meeting.

A special meeting was called for Wednesday, Sept. 28, due to the presence of Bryan E. Thomas of Electra, grand chancellor of the lodge, in Lubbock at that time.

Plainview Girl Is Victim Of Attack

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 20 (Special) —A 16-year-old high school girl told officers here today that she had been raped by two men after they dragged her into a car in the Plainview residential district and took her into the country.

Ted Andrews, Hale county sheriff, said the reported attack came around 5:30 p. m. as the girl was on her way home from school.

The girl said she was taken to a point about three miles southwest of here, attacked and then forced from the car to make her way back to town.

A radio alarm went out over the South Plains for the two men, both described by the girl as between the ages of 30 and 35. Officers were told to look for a black 1942 four-door Ford with a dent in the rear on the left side near the bumper. Only the letters AL were secured on the license number.

El Paso Man To Seek Legislative Post

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—A former El Paso representative said today he would seek the legislative post left vacant by the resignation of Rep. William R. Jameson of El Paso.

He was Woodrow Bean of El Paso, a hard-hitting, outspoken member of the 50th Legislature, active in far West Texas politics. Bean is now a law student in the University of Texas.

Bean indicated some time ago he would seek Jameson's place if the latter resigned. Today he formally announced.

Jameson resigned to enter the practice of law in San Saba.

Mahon Returns To Washington For Appropriations Bill Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (Special)—One of the first questions facing the reconvening House of Representatives Wednesday is the military establishment's appropriations bill.

Rep. George Mahon, Lubbock, is hastening back to Washington to be here for the bill's consideration. He is chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee on Army, Navy and Air Force.

The bill has been ordered to go to conference with the Senate version, but the conferees have not yet been named. Mahon is almost positive to be one.

The Senate cut the nearly $15 billion bill down by $1,300,000,000 and gave the air arm a 48-group force instead of a 58-group force.

Son Of Senator Connally May Be Nominated For Judgeship

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Ben Connally, Houston lawyer and son of Sen. Connally, is considered on Capitol Hill a likely nominee for one of two newly created federal district judgeships.

Mentioned for the other post are James V. Allred, 50, of Houston, former Texas governor and once a federal judge; and Dudley Tarlton, 60, and Henri Warren, both of Corpus Christi.

Senate and Justice department action on two of the men appeared today likely within the next week.

O. Sparks; Sunray trophy for best in non-sporting breeds, presented by Mrs. H. A. Allen; $10 in cash given by Heart of the Plains Kennel club for best in each of the six groups.

Lubbock Youngster Wins

Phillip Paschall, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Paschall, of Lubbock, won first place in the 10 to 16 years age group Tuesday night in the Children's Handling class. He showed Coleta's Little Sir Echo, owned by the Paschall family.

James Adams, jr., of Dallas won first in the 6 to 10 years age group, with Sharon Lynn Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Butler of 3010 Twenty-sixth in Lubbock, winning second place.

Crowd during the Children's Handling class and later judging was by far the largest during the day. Many persons stayed during the entire evening and others attended portions of the show.

Chris Shuttleworth of Sun Valley, Calif., and J. H. Johnson of Denver, Colo., judged dogs and T. A. Ayers of Odessa judged the Children's Handling class, in which judging was based on ability of the children to handle the dogs and not on quality of dogs.

Best in breed awards, with the owners name and address and dog's name listed, were:

Steel Strike Looms

the importance of this thing, and come back tomorrow. If you can keep going, you can always develop new angles."

Ching said none of the 36 companies attending the mediation parley have indicated any willingness yet to meet Murray's terms — primarily his demand for a pension-insurance program paid for entirely by industry with the employes making no contribution.

Senator Makes Appeal

Murray was asked whether the postponement of his policy meeting was an encouraging sign but answered with a curt "no comment."

Meanwhile, on Capitol Hill, Sen. Martin (R.-Pa.), whose state is most greatly affected by the coal and steel deadlocks, warned that "every home in America will suffer" unless the differences are ironed out. He said:

"I appeal to both sides to remember that their long-range benefits are derived, not from selfish concern with immediate gains, but from the public welfare which should be the paramount concern of every American."

Ching conducted no joint sessions today but shuttled back and forth for private conferences with both sides. He said:

"I am trying to get them back into collective bargaining and I am not trying to resolve the merits of the dispute."

Murray remained firm on his demands that industry accept a presidential board's 10-cent-an-hour pension and insurance package proposal as a basis for negotiation. Management was just as determined not to bargain for a new contract on those terms.

Spokesmen for both the leading steel companies and the CIO-United Steel Workers headquarters in Pittsburgh said no action has been taken on the theory that a strike is inevitable.

Management representatives said no orders will be sent out at least until today's Washington talks are completed. It requires 36 to 48 hours to bank steel mill furnaces.

Union strike instructions were issued last July. They will go into effect at the end of the current truce at midnight Saturday unless a settlement is reached.

Ching pointed out that the crux of the dispute is whether the companies will pay the entire cost of the welfare program. The President's three-man board recommended this solution.

But Big Steel, led by U. S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless, opposes a program financed entirely by the companies. Murray says he will not discuss a contract on any other basis.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH

HOLLISTER, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP) — A truck which state highway patrolmen said had no brakes plunged into a river today, killing five and injuring 24 transient farm laborers.

Littlefield Road Group Formed

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 20. (Spl.)— A crowd of more than 200 persons packed the district court room of the court house here tonight to complete plans for a local rural road association at a meeting called by Col. Joel I. McGregor, vice-president of the Texas Rural Road association.

The meeting, the sixth stop in the county-to-county campaign of Col. McGregor to improve Texas' farm roads, saw the election of George C. Brown of Olton as president of the newly-formed organization. Pat Boone of Littlefield was elected vice-president, Rudolph Shockley of Spade selected as secretary and County Attorney Bob Kirk chosen as treasurer of the county road group.

W. C. Foote, Petersburg rural mail carrier, and County Judge Otho Dent of Littlefield presided over the meeting.

The meeting here tonight was unique because for the first time in the area all plans for the organization were completed the first night.

Twelve directors were also elected tonight for the various districts in the county. They include Wallace Hackler, W. O. Watson, Frank Bozeman, E. C. Clayton, Sam Cearley, Jarvis Angley, Buck Friederickson, Curtis Lee, Mancil Hall, Hugh Vincent, Vic Diersing and Jack Yarbrough.

The Rural Road association seeks to improve the condition of the state's farm roads by using money gained from a severance tax on all natural resources for permanent improvements.

Col. McGregor plans to address county-wide meetings in Tahoka Wednesday night and Levelland Thursday night.

of the chamber of commerce and secretary of the temporary Canadian river organization, A. A. Meredith, city manager, R. V. Latimer, city commissioner, and Fritz Thompson, county commissioner.

Representations also are expected from Amarillo, Pampa, Canyon, Tulia, Plainview, Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa.

Participants in the meeting from Lubbock are to include city officials, the city water resources board and directors of the chamber of commerce. All are invited to attend, Whiteside emphasized.

The meeting also will be open to cities other than those listed which might be interested in a Canadian river dam and reservoir as a source of domestic water supply, he added.

A permanent authority is needed, Whiteside explained, to provide a contracting agency to deal with the U. S. Reclamation service if the bill authorizing the $85,000,000 project is approved by the U. S. senate and signed by the president. The measure was passed by the house of representatives several weeks ago.

The creation of the permanent authority will require the formation of water districts.

The several methods of procedure in doing this, Whiteside said, are to be explained to the meeting here by Spencer L. Baird, of Amarillo, reclamation service attorney. Several other officials of that service also are to be here, Whiteside was advised.

Whiteside explained, however, that any plan of organizing water districts will require approval at elections by the people residing within them.

The chamber of commerce is to be host at the luncheon.

UN Opens Session

is Carlos Eduardo Stolk, who was chosen by acclamation. The Yugoslav delegation was the only one in the assembly hall that did not joint in the applause.

Dimitri Manuilsky, the aged foreign minister of the Ukraine, was nominated for chairman of the trusteeship committee, but lost to Hermod Lannung of Denmark, 50 votes to 7.

Greece's Alexis Kyrou was elected chairman of the administrative and budgetary committee, and Dr. Manfred Lachs of Poland was nominated by acclamation as head of the legal committee.

The assembly then elected as vice presidents for the fourth session representatives of France, United States, Britain, China, Russia, Brazil and Pakistan.

A few moments before the opening, Andrei Vishinsky walked into the auditorium and took his seat two feet in front of Tito's foreign minister, Edvard Kardelj. Vishinsky stonily ignored the Yugoslav group behind him but displayed a cheerful face.

Amidst blazing photographers' lights, Vishinsky rose and heartily shook hands with Britain's Bevin. He was all smiles when Secretary of State Dean Acheson walked over and shook hands warmly.

After the election of committee chairman and vice presidents, Romulo adjourned the assembly until 8:45 a. m. (CST) Wednesday.

FAMILY FINDS HOME IN AMERICA

White Russian Princess Is New Student At University Of Texas

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP) — A White Russian princess who has never set foot in the Soviet arrived in Austin today, became a University of Texas student — and for the first time in her life she really felt like a princess.

A score of Gamma Phi Beta sorority girls, who will sponsor France-born Mary Engalitcheff's education, welcomed her royally at the train depot, rushed her into an English-made car, and honked down the drag to deliver her to her Texas home, the sorority house at 2622 Wicchita.

"It's so good to feel like this—like a princess," the pretty blonde girl smiled, "but I quite hate to be called like that."

Signs Loyalty Oath

Mary is the 19-year-old daughter of Prince and Princess Constantine Engalitcheff, White Russians who fled after the Russian revolution in 1917 to France, where Mary, a brother and sister were born.

The family came to the United States in September, 1947 — to become American citizens and residents.

Her first step in registration at the university was signing the non-Communist loyalty oath, required of her since she has taken out her first papers toward naturalization.

"How could anyone want to overthrow this government?" she wondered aloud as she carefully read the oath before writing her signature.

She was amazed to learn a student admittedly a Communist was allowed in the university.

Mary comes to the university as a displaced person — one who has no country to which she can return. Actually, Mary has no country at all, is "stateless" since Russia does not recognize citizenship of her family and France does not count children born of Russian parents as citizens.

But she and her family are wasting no time in getting a homeland. They've all taken out their first United States citizenship papers.

"Never will I go to Russia," Mary declared. "At least not so long as it is under the present regime."

First Real Home

In Austin, Mary will have her first real home. Life in France she described as "not gay like it is here."

It couldn't have been gay for the Engalitcheff family. Unable to get working papers, Prince Engalitcheff was forced to support his family on meager earnings of a gardener. His wife helped out by painting miniatures.

Since their arrival in Long Island, N. Y., her parents' occupations have been the same. Difficulties with the English language made job-hunting hard.

But from these earnings, the family got together enough to send her brother to Syracuse university. The sister works as a secretary.

To Seek Part-Time Job

"My parents — they work hard to keep my brother in school. I could not have gotten an education if American people were not so fine."

Mary knew only Friday that she would be a student at the university, that the local sorority would take care of her room and board and that a scholarship would be granted to cover cost of registration.

And she will be helped by foreign students advisers to find a part-time job — to give her a feeling of independence while she studies languages and art.

She learned to speak English at Sea Cove High school in Long Island, where she graduated. Already she spoke French and Russian fluently.

Her education here was made possible by a university student committee working with a New York group which provides opportunities for displaced persons.

A little bewildered this afternoon, Mary was ushered through registration proceedings by sorority members and Joe Neal, foreign students adviser.

Shortage Of Funds May Halt Whitney Dam On Brazos River

WHITNEY, Sept. 20 (AP) — A lack of money may force a ten-month stoppage of work on the multi-million dollar Whitney dam.

Pouring of concrete may cease in December and not resume until next July 1, Rep. Olin Teague (D-Tex) said here last night.

Teague told a public meeting that the appropriation for this fiscal year, expected to be about $10,500,000, is tangled up in a congressional committee squabble.

Even if the committee approves the money, L. P. Reed, Inc., contractors for the concrete portion of the dam, will have their share of the money spent by December, and concrete pouring will stop.

The huge concrete dam is being built on the Brazos river near here, 38 miles upstream from Waco and 19 miles southwest of Hillsboro. Designed principally for flood control and power production, it will back up a lake of more than 2 million acre feet and covering almost 50,000 acres.

Teague explained that the original amount of $14 million which the Army engineers had sought for the Whitney project had been slashed to $10,417,000 figure by the House because construction costs were expected to decline.

NEW O'DONNELL THEATER — H. T. Gardenhire, manager, left, and C. C. New $65,000 Theater Will Open Tonight In O'Donnell; Building Has Modern Equipment

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

O'DONNELL, Sept. 20 — C. C. Caldwell announced today that his new $65,000 Rex theater will be opened to the public Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. A special crew of men have been working day and night to apply the finishing touches to have the building ready for its scheduled premiere.

The new Rex is entirely fireproof. It seats 635 in the main auditorium and 50 in the balcony. A special smoking section is designated on the left side of the theater where silent exhaust fans carry off the smoke.

Has Several Innovations

The theater has several innovations in addition to the smoking area. There is a "cry room" where seven mothers with crying infants can see and hear the show without disturbing the rest of the audience.

A special snack bar is an integral part of the theater. It is located to the right in the lobby.

Two large air conditioners run along the sides of the building and a third is located in the ceiling. Each is rated at 12,000 cubic feet of fresh air per minute. The theater is heated by a thermostatically controlled blower system.

Operates Other Theaters

All seats are of the folding type and the floors are carpeted to control sound effects. The screen measures 13 by 17 feet. Projectors are the latest type Simplex automatic switchovers. Sound equipment is Western Electric high fidelity.

Contractor for the masonry building was Waller and Allen, Lamesa. Harvey Allen, Lamesa, was the architect.

H. T. Gardenhire is the manager of the new Rex. He has been with Caldwell theaters at O'Donnell for 15 years. J. B. Stone is the assistant manager.

Charles Pierce will be projectionist. Glenn Harper will act as doorman and assistant projectionist. Mrs. Joe Kirkpatrick will manage the box office.

Caldwell also owns and operates theaters in Denver City, Texas; Jal and Eunice, New Mexico.

Premiere show for the Rex will be "It's A Great Life" with Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson.

Philippines Oppose Japanese Participation In Conference

MANILA, Sept. 20 (INS) — The Philippine government expressed unqualified opposition today to Japanese participation in the current UNESCO conference in Paris.

Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs Felino Neri said he has instructed Filipino delegates to the conference to take a stand against admitting Japanese representatives.

He said Japan is not yet ready "to participate with peace-loving states in international conferences."

Neri said the government would continue its opposition until Japan proves that:

Her intentions are "peaceful."

She is building "sound Democratic institutions."

She is willing to fulfill "her obligations toward a victorious power."

Trustees Name New Teachers

A called meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent School district was held at the school business office at noon Tuesday to approve the election of 10 new teachers and to attend to other routine business, A. C. Jackson, business manager, announced.

40 Persons Attend Initial Hub City Kiwanis Luncheon

Approximately 40 persons attended the initial luncheon of the newly-organized Hub City Kiwanis in the Junior ballroom of Hotel Lubbock Tuesday noon.

W. C. Rylander, secretary and charter member of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, was principal speaker at the luncheon, explaining the origin of Kiwanis and outlining its growth during the past three decades.

Jason Gordon, club president, presided. Invocation was by Howard Golden and Harry Delaney led group singing.

Man Found Innocent Of Drunk Driving

Calvin William Drury, 21, was adjudged innocent of a charge of drunk driving, in a jury verdict returned to Judge Walter Davies Tuesday afternoon by a county court jury.

The verdict was signed by C. C. Burns as foreman.

The jury was out approximately 45 minutes, court officials said.

Attorney Robert Porter represented the defendant.

The jury otherwise was composed of J. T. McFarland, T. O. Lesley, J. K. Box, William Doyle, and Lloyd Benson.

Trials Planned Today

It was indicated that the state would try either Robert L. Hagan, charged with drunk driving, or Homer Ferguson, charged with illegal possession of a pistol, at today's session.

Judge Davies also had filed the following judgments, court officials said:

William Luther Chappell, 47, $100 and costs on a plea of guilty of liquor law violation; Horace E. Parrack, 34, $75 and costs, drunk driving; Norman Odell Cooper, $75 and costs, drunk driving; J. B. Couisins, 60 days in county jail, violation of liquor law.

Samuel R. Dickinson, 39, of Lubbock pleaded innocent of drunk driving and posted $400 bond for trial appearance.

More Than 200 Tech Students Reported Seeking Work Here

Over 200 Texas Technological students who have applied with the college for part-time work were still unemployed Tuesday, according to Troy Enis and Virginia Keehan, assistants to the deans of men and women.

Students trained or experienced for jobs ranging from soda fountains to dairy barns are included in those still looking for work. The number is about evenly divided between men and women students.

"We have applicants that can fill almost any part-time position which may be open," Enis declared. He added that there are about three applicants for each job available.

Include Numerous Jobs

Students are seeking work baby sitting, jerking sodas, washing cars, driving busses, typing, bookkeeping, and even doing such specialized work as architectural drawing. Some of them want semi-professional jobs while others "just want work in order to stay in school."

The employment service was originally set up as a clearing house between businessmen who needed helpers and students who needed work. Enis disclosed that he placed or kept a record of 735 male students who worked on the side last spring. Average earnings was 74 cents per hour.

Employers may contact the employment service by phoning the college and asking for either Enis or Miss Keehan, depending upon whether they want male or female help.

EXPERIENCE DEFINES POWERS

New President Of UN Calls For Reconciliation Between Powers

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (INS)—Carlos P. Romulo, president of the United Nations General assembly, declared tonight that the world organization can insure peace by reconciling differences between the major powers and furthering international understanding.

The Philippine hero of Bataan and Corregidor, who earlier today was elected president of the 59-nation General assembly by an overwhelming vote, reaffirmed his belief that the fourth assembly session "will go down in history as 'the peace assembly'."

Realistic Attitude Attained

Speaking at a dinner given by New York Mayor William O'Dwyer for UN delegates at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, Romulo added:

"We have no illusions about the power of the United Nations.

"The effervescence of optimism that accompanied the birth of the United Nations four years ago has settled down to a more sober and realistic attitude. Four years of trial have defined for us its many shortcomings and limitations.

"We know by the test of experience just what it can do and what it cannot accomplish."

UN Site Approved

"The United Nations is not endowed with the miraculous power to move or level mountains—the mountains of misunderstanding, suspicion and rivalry that divide the nations and bar the way to world peace.

"But it can build passable roads of conciliation to the other side."

Romulo told the distinguished gathering that it is "altogether fitting" that the future permanent home of the UN should be in New York City.

He noted that many sites were suggested, including San Francisco, but that the final choice was New York, adding:

Structure Still Incomplete

"No one, so far as I know, has regretted it."

Stressing that the UN "is here to stay," Romulo went on:

"In a sense, the United Nations is like its permanent home as it now stands.

"The blueprint for the whole edifice has been drawn. The foundations have been laid. But only part of the structure has been built so far. A great deal more remains to be done."

Romulo declared that when he spoke of the fourth assembly as being the "peace assembly" he had in mind "not only the solution of international disputes that constitute a threat to peace, like the problems of Greece, or of Jerusalem or Korea."

He said:

"I was thinking also of the constructive, long-range projects which, properly implemented, can go a long way towards eliminating such chronic causes of war as poverty, political inequality and social maladjustment."

Memphis Attorney Ordered To Pay Court Costs In Libel Suit

AMARILLO, Sept. 20 (U.P.) — Otho Fitzjarrald, Memphis, Tex., attorney, was ordered yesterday to pay court costs of a libel suit he brought against the Amarillo Times.

Fitzjarrald sought $40,000 from the newspaper and had been awarded $14,333 in a trial earlier this year.

But the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals reversed the Hall county court decision and ruled that he was not eligible for the damages.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Wednesday, Sept. 21, 1949

SCHOOLMATES FIFTY YEARS AGO — Despite inclement weather, 31 students of Hale Center schools from 1895 through 1906, and one of their teachers, recently attended the 16th annual reunion of the "Ole Schoolmates" at the home of Mrs. W. A. (Sallie) LeMond at Hale Center. About 25 other persons were also on hand for the covered dish luncheon and afternoon program. Pictured above are one group of old schoolmates who attended school at the same time, but in various grades. They are, front row, left to right: Dan Allen, Denver City; Mrs. Ola Moody, Hale Center; Mrs. Clara Dent, Hale Center; Mrs. H. H. Tracy, Lubbock; Mrs. Blanche Maggard Spencer, Plainview; back row: Mrs. Lulu Doran, Lubbock; Mrs. LeMond, Hale Center; Mrs. G. E. Ritchey, Hale Center; Mrs. Minnie Hooper, Plainview; Guss Winn, Willard, N. M.; Mrs. J. E. Cox, Hale Center, and Mrs. Bonnie Phelps of Hale Center and El Paso. (Photo by Vic Lamb.)

NEA Claims Civil Rights Violated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)— A National Education association commission today accused the Grand Prairie, Texas, school board of "an unwarranted attempt" to deny teachers their civil rights in the firing of five teachers there last month.

Further, the commission said the board had acted in "direct violation of sound professional practices" in the methods by which contracts of the five teachers were not renewed.

Previous Probe Cited

In Grand Prairie, W. C. Hardman, president of the school board, said the board will take no action on the commission's recommendation that the teachers be rehired immediately.

"The State Board of Education investigated us last spring," Hardman said. "They didn't exactly approve, but they said we were within our rights. Nobody else makes any difference to us."

In its report, the commission asserted anew NEA's position that teachers have a full right to vote and take part in public affairs.

Public Opinion Sampled

The NEA commission for the defense of democracy through education investigated the controversy in Grand Prairie last May. It did so after reports from the Texas State Teachers association indicated the firings took place because the teachers had taken a hand in school board elections.

The commission said its inquiry showed a substantial cross-section of public opinion in the Texas city, 10 miles west of Dallas, "believed the non-renewal of contracts was based on activity of the teachers in school board elections there."

Hardman said in Grand Prairie, "we're not denying anything."

He said the action was taken because "we felt like it was better for the school, and that they (the teachers) would be better off elsewhere."

Thought-Control Denounced

In a foreword to the report, Dr. Harold Benjamin, dean of the College of education, University of Maryland, and commission head, said:

"In the United States it is unthinkable that a school board should seek to exercise political thought-control over the members of its professional staff. In a totalitarian state, the complete control of a teacher's mind, as of the mind of every other subject-slave, is a number one objective of government."

The report said:

"The integrity and often the very existence of schools depends upon the political activity of members of the teaching profession. It is part of their professional

Federal Suit May Go To Jury Today

A government suit against Raymond Grindstaff of Fort Worth, involving 218 bales of cotton, is expected to go to the jury today in U.S. District court after Judge Joseph B. Dooley rules on a motion for an instructed verdict.

Presentation of evidence was completed Tuesday afternoon in the case, styled United States of America versus Raymond Grindstaff.

Three other defendants were represented in the case involving Grindstaff, a Morton warehouseman in 1941, Bailey and Henry and J. P. Williams, Lubbock cotton brokers, and the St. Paul Mercury Insurance company, bonding company for the warehouse.

However, the court took action on a motion Tuesday, issuing a summary judgment releasing the insurance company.

It is the government's contention, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, that the cotton had been removed from the warehouses at Morton before they burned on April 6 and 8, 1941, and that the Lubbock cotton men were purchasers of the cotton. The government is suing for recovery of the cotton and all persons involved are participating in the suit.

W. A. Christian, Dallas; and Lee P. Pierson, New Orleans, are representing the government. Benjamin Kucera, Lubbock attorney, is counsel for Grindstaff. L. A. Howard and Geo. W. Gibson, jr., are representing Bailey and Henry; and J. Edwin Fleming, Dallas, and R. A. Sowder, Lubbock, are counsel for Williams. Ralph Malone of Dallas represented the bonding company.

Forty-Four Candidates Seek State Posts

Three Disqualified For Education Board

BY BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)— Three candidates for election to the State Board of Education were disqualified for a place on the ballot today by Secretary of State Ben Ramsey.

Scratched from the list were Millard Matkin of Center, who had planned to run from the Second congressional district; Vernon D. Singleton of Dallas, Fifth district; and Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, Seventeenth district.

Matkin was disqualified for failure to file a loyalty affidavit.

Three Unopposed

Mrs. Perkins and Singleton's names were left off the ballot because they had not resigned as members of the present state board. Ramsey said general election laws and a provision of the Gilmer-Aikin education law made the two ineligible to run while holding a state office.

Three of the 44 candidates whose names will be on the Nov. 8 special election ballot are unopposed. They are Thomas B. Ramey of Tyler, Third congressional district; Leslie Huff of Waco, Eleventh district; and E. J. Woodward of Sweetwater, Seventeenth district.

The new board, first in Texas history to be elected instead of appointed, will be made up of one member from each of the 21 congressional districts. They will receive no salary from the state.

Candidates Listed

Drawings for places on the ballot were conducted by the Secretary of State.

The complete list of candidates, in order of appearance on the ballot, by districts:

1—Leon Coker, Naples; Grover Sellers, Sulphur Springs.

2—W. W. Bennett, Beaumont, A. D. Moore, Beaumont.

3—Thomas B. Ramey, Tyler.

4—Roy G. Baker, Sherman, Paul Mathews, Greenville.

5—William C. Graves, Dallas, Dr. J. F. Kimball, Dallas.

6—Jack R. Hawkins, Groesbeck, George E. Adams, Bryan.

7—Mrs. T. G. Tilford, Nacogdoches, Emerson Stone, Jacksonville, Hulen N. Anderson, Conroe.

8—Jack Binion, Houston, Virgil E. Arnold, Houston, Roy J. Beard, Houston, T. N. (Tom) Edmonds.

Murder Trial Jury Selected

Presentation of evidence in the murder with malice trial of Elias Garcia is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. today in 99th District court with Judge G. V. Pardue presiding.

The trial was recessed at 5 p.m. Tuesday after the jury had been selected and impaneled.

Garcia, 22, is charged in the Aug. 8 shotgun slaying of Antonio Urtado, jr. He is represented by the law firm of Berry and Ball. George Berry, in waiving a special venire, had reserved the right to examine prospective jurors individually.

Jury Is Named

Roy Carpenter is a special prosecutor who is assisting District Attorney Lloyd Croslin in the case.

The jury was completed at 4:05 p.m.

Earlier, the court excused one juror, James Graham, upon agreement of both sides. Graham explained to Raymond Land, a bailiff, that he was under care of a physician for a stomach disorder and would require special food. Six jurors had been accepted at that moment. Judge Pardue, informed by Land, struck the name of Graham, juror number 3, from the list, and examination of the other prospective jurors was continued after the noon recess.

Ground Breaking Set For Palsy Center

A ground breaking ceremony wil be conducted today at Thirty-fifth street and Ave. N. to herald opening of construction of a building for the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center

The building will enable the center, which now is operated at 1317 Tenth, to expand its work with cerebral palsied children from a wide area of Texas and some towns in New Mexico.

The groundbreaking ceremony an dprogram, which will be open to the public, will be conducted about 12:30 p. m. .

Joe H. Bryant is chairman of the program committee. Appearing on the program will be Dr. Edward T. Driscol of Plainview, Dr. W. T. Gordon of Lubbock and Alex McDonald of Lubbock.

Robert Maxey, Lubbock contractor and a member of the executive committee of Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, will be contractor for the building.

Money spent on the structure probably will amount to about $42,000, but some material will be donated or provided at cost or below cost. Cost probably would be $60,000 to $65,000 if the center were paying all costs of construction.

HOUSTON GRANTED HOUSING

HOUSTON, Sept. 20. (AP)— Houston today was granted 2,500 public housing units by the Public Housing administration. The units are expected to cost about $22,500,000 and, combined with 340 units approved earlier, give the city a $25,560,000 public housing program.

Happiness Restored To Lonely Children By Child Welfare Unit

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

"Mary was our first case after we opened here June 1. Since then there have been many more, a lot of them just like Mary. We do the best we can to make them happy and only hope that we succeed with at least a few of them."

Miss Mary Lou Hawkins, director of the Lubbock child welfare unit, was talking. She had just finished telling about a little girl she called Mary. That wasn't the girl's real name, but just what Miss Hawkins referred to her as.

Girl Found In Station

Mary came to the attention of the Child Welfare Unit indirectly through the alertness of a taxi driver. He spotted her alone and crying in the Lubbock bus station, learned she had run away from home, and took her to the Salvation Army for food and sleep. The Salvation Army in turn handed her over to the child welfare unit.

Mary was only 12 years old. She had run away from her home, 200 miles away, because she felt her mother and stepfather didn't love her. It was only after she had gotten this far that she began to feel alone and frightened and hungry.

After the Child Welfare Unit had fed her and let her sleep, members of the group went back home with Mary and attempted to bring about a better understanding between the parents and the child. At last reports Mary was much happier than she was previously and didn't mind living at home.

With that case the child welfare unit here, which had been sought by civic-minded Lubbockites for many years, established itself firmly on its own feet. Since that time many frustrated children, as well as adults wishing to adopt a child, have visited their offices in the courthouse basement.

Child adoption is probably the biggest service rendered by the unit. Orphaned children or those belonging to estranged parents must be found a home in which they can readjust themselves and become happy and useful citizens. To find those is the problem for the welfare workers.

One of the biggest problems confronting the local office is finding temporary boarding homes for children to be adopted. Such homes must be carefully chosen from the very few who are willing to accept a youngster for the low sum of $10 weekly plus clothing that the unit is able to pay.

There are a few homes available, however, Miss Hawkins declared, and the children and housemothers often become quite attached before a permanent home is chosen. Only one child is sent to each home at a time.

"Barbara was a little girl who

W. C. Rau, Father Of Lubbock Resident, Dies In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 20 (AP) — W. C. Rau, 70, retired hardware merchant, died today.

Funeral arrangements awaited arrival of two daughters, Mrs. Merle Crane of Lubbock and Miss Nettie Rau of Del Rio.

Rau operated a hardware store at Del Rio for 20 years and moved back to San Angelo, his former home, about 18 years ago. He was a veteran of the Spanish American war and adjutant of the local post. Survivors include his widow, three daughters, two brothers and two sisters.

Special Field Trip Set For Area Farmers

A special field inspection tour will be staged for farmers of the entire South Plains area at the Lubbock experiment farm Thursday at 2 p. m., it was announced Tuesday by county agricultural agent D. W. Sherrill.

The inspection is being held because muddy fields halted tours on three field days at the station last week, Sherrill stated.

Farmers will have the oportunity of observing different varieties of cotton and sorghums under dry and irrigated land conditions and will be shown a block of cotton chopped with a mechanical chopper.

Demonstrations will also be given on the value of defoliation and on the use of fertilizers and legumes in crop rotation. Other phases of work currently being conducted by the experiment farm will be included, too.

Those attending the inspection tour will be taken around the farm in trailors pulled by tractors, Sherrill added. Don Jones, director of the farm, will be in charge of the program.

Barring Of Communist Teachers Favored By Big Vote In Survey

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Pub Op

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 20—Reopening of the nation's schools and colleges focuses attention on a sharp and as yet unsolved controversy in the teaching profession, namely, whether teachers who are members of the Communist Party should be barred from teaching.

The American Association of University Professors in July upheld the right of teachers to belong to the Communist Party. "So long as the Communist Party is a legal political party, affiliation with it should not be regarded as a justifiable reason for exclusion from the academic profession," the professors' statement read.

The National Education Association, on the other had, recommends that Communists be barred from the teaching profession.

Balanched Cross-Section

In order to see where the public stands in this controversy, interviewers for the American Institute of Public Opinion put the following question to a balanced cross-section in all the 48 states:

"Some people say that, as long as the Communist Party is permitted by law in the United States, college and university teachers should be allowed to belong to the party and to continue teaching. Do you agree or disagree?".

Agree	15%
Disagree	73
No Opinion	12

A second issue which agitates the teaching profession today is the question of whether teachers should be required to take non-Communist oaths, similar to the oaths required of labor union leaders under the Taft-Hartley law.

The University of California recently said that its faculty members would be required to swear that they do not belong to subversive organizations.

Harvard Rejects Oath

Harvard University, on the other hand, has rejected such a proposal on the ground of invastion of academic freedom.

The average American, however, leans toward the position taken by the University of California, judging by the results of an Institute survey on the following:

"The University of California recently said it would require all its teachers to take an oath that they are not Communists. Some other colleges oppose this idea because they feel it is an insult to teachers to require them to take such an oath. How do you yourself, feel about this?"

A substantial majority of those questioned—70 per cent—said they agreed with the position taken by the University of California.

Oath "Won't Help Much"

Another 2 per cent said that everyone, not simply teachers, should be required to take such an oath, and 2 per cent said that the taking of an oath was a good idea but "won't help much."

A total of 20 per cent said they disagree with the University of California, and the remaining 6 per cent expressed no opinion.

San Antonio Man Found Shot To Death Behind Bar By Son

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Fidel Barrios, 58, was found shot to death behind the counter of his bar shortly before noon today.

Justice of the Peace M. D. Jones returned a verdict of homicide.

The body was discovered in the establishment by the owner's son. Invesigators said he had been dead about 12 hours.

British Woman Is Fined For Frightening Small Child

SUNDERLAND, Eng., Sept. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Violet Geldert, 53, was fined one pound ($2.80) yesterday for saying "boo."

Two-year-old Ian Park's mother told the judge little Ian was so frightened by the "boo" from over the back fence that he no longer sleeps at night.

"He thinks Mrs. Geldert is in every room," said Mrs. Park.

Tech Signal Corps Instructor Speaks At Optimist Luncheon

Capt. William C. Neubauer, Army Signal Corps instructor at Tech, Tuesday told fellow Optimists at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock his experiences at the ROTC summer encampment at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

He said 19 reserve officer cadets from Tech attended the camp along with some 600 other students representing 36 American colleges.

Captain Neubauer was particularly proud of the fact that two Tech students, Charles Pendergraft and D. A. Wilson, secured two of the 25 positions open as junior scientists at the Fort's laboratories.

President G. C. Stewart introduced J. C. Armstrong, new club treasurer replacing H. P. Watkins. Watkins resigned the post because of pressing business duties, Stewart said.

The "Pledge of Allegiance" to the American flag was written in 1892 by Francis Bellamy.

EEL BOARD'S PLAN STUDIED

UAW Official Claims Ford Has Made Offer On Pension Proposal

)ETROIT, Sept. 20 (AP)—A CIO-ited Automobile Workers ırce said tonight the Ford Motor , has submitted an offer in current contract negotiations line with the President's steel t-finding board recommendation pensions.

The Union source said the Ford oposal would give workers pen-ns of $50 a month or more at e age of 68 exclusive of social curity benefits and without em-oye contribution. The union urce estimated the value of the fer at about 8 3/4 cents an hour. An insurance plan to which the mpany contributes an estimated 4 cents an hour additionally al-ady is in effect at Ford.

UAW Reported Holding Out

Thus the total of the two plans ould be worth just about the)-cent "package" recommended y the steel panel.

The UAW reportedly is hold-ng out for either a better pen-ion offer or more in the form of ealth insurance.

If Ford follows the steel board ecommendation it would be the irst large company to do so.

Thus far, United States Steel Corp., the leader of that industry as refused. A national steel strike s set for 12:01 a. m. Sunday. Other heavy industries also have refused to go along.

Ford has been in contract negotiations with the CIO-United Auto Workers since June 2. The so-called "intensive" stage of bargaining started last Thursday. Since then, said the company in a statement, Ford has been "reviewing our situation in the light of the board's recommendations, and their inescapable national effect whether we agree with them or not."

Progress Reported

"We believe," Ford added, "that real progress has been made."

Any settlement reached between Ford and the UAW might well set a pattern for all heavy industry.

Steel fact-finding recommended the equivalent of up to a 10-cent an hour "package" increase to cover pensions and health insurance. Not even the steel firms were forced to follow the recommendations.

There was no immediate comment from the UAW, which handed Ford the equivalent of a 10-day strike notice yesterday.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP) — Prices sagged at the board of trade today under the impact of foreign monetary devaluation, and the threat of serious labor trouble.

The market carried a nervous undertone and although a rally developed during the morning, there was not enough buying power to sustain the advance.

At the close wheat was unchanged to 2⅛ lower than yesterday's close. September $2.03⅜-⅝. Corn was ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, September $1.26⅝-⅞. Oats were ⅝ to 1⅞ lower, September 66-65⅝.

MARKET HITS SLUMP

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Relentless selling hit the stock market one of the worst wallops of the year today.

Key issues were knocked down fractions to 3 points and $1,000,000,000 more was wiped off stock market values.

The general price level was forced back to the lowest point since Aug. 31.

Bad coal and steel labor news and second-day thoughts on devaluation were the main reasons behind the selling.

Contract troubles are boiling to a head at the Ford Motor Co. and 16,000 workers are still on strike at Goodrich.

Only the gold stocks made any sort of showing.

Selling never got out of control but the steady retreat met with little resistance. In the last few minutes some leaders made a stand and managed to creep up ⅛ or ¼ point from lows. Business was brisk, 1,350,000 shares.

The Associated Press average plunged 1.2 points to 63.9. Industrials took the worst beating, followed by rails and utilities. Of 1,112 issues, 862 declined. Only 86 advanced.

Devaluation was touched off by the British pound and swiftly followed by 19 other nations. In Wall street the fear gained ground that fiercer foreign competition may eat deeply into profits of U. S. concerns operating abroad.

Several golds hit new peaks in early trading but later tended to back down.

Benguet Consolidated Mining, third most active issue, finished ⅛ lower at 2¼. Dome Mines slipped ⅛ to 18, and South American Gold and Platinum dipped ⅛ to 4¼.

Ending higher were Homestake Mining at 44¾, Howe Sound 38¾, McIntyre Porcupine 58, and Natomas 11½.

The largest losers included General Motors off 2⅜ at 60⅜, Chrysler 1⅞ at 50½, U. S. Rubber 1⅛ at 32¾, Youngstown Sheet 2⅛ at 63¼, U. S. Steel ¾ at 22⅜, Coca-Cola 2½ at 163, Phelps Dodge Cooper 1⅛ at 41, Du Pont 2 at 50⅜, International Paper 1¼ at 54¼, Santa Fe 2¼ at 89¼, Standard Oil (NJ) 1⅛ at 68 and Gulf Oil 2⅜ at 68¾.

On the curb, some golds were also balky with minus signs posted for Lake Shore, Mining Corp. of Canada and Giant Yellowknife Gold. Also down were Humble Oil and Cities Service.

Corporate bonds tended lower. U. S. governments strengthened again.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in dull trading today. With the peak crop movement coming up next month and spot prices easing, traders did not show much buying enthusiasm. Hedge selling was light, reflecting the continued active mill demand for immediate shipment cotton to build up depleted raw stocks of cotton. The principal support in futures came through mill covering.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP) — Cotton futures declined here early today but reacted upward later on trade buying to fix prices and short covering.

Closing prices were steady 5 cents to 20 cents a bale higher.

Second Child In Clovis Family Dies Of Infantile Paralysis

Darla May Dahinden, three-year-old Clovis girl, died of polio at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Lubbock Memorial hospital. She was admitted late Sunday night—the same day her 18-month-old half brother, Rodney Paul Starr, was buried after succumbing to the disease on Saturday.

Her father, Delbert Dahinden, an Air Force pilot, was killed in a plane crash in Kansas several years ago.

She would have celebrated her next birthday in October.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Elda Starr; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deavours of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dahinden of New York City, and her great-grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Deavours of Shallowater.

Sanders Funeral home attendants said the body was returned to Clovis Tuesday. Time for services is not definite. But she will be buried in the Clovis cemetery alongside her half-brother.

Thermometers frequently register 120 degrees Fahrenheit in Eritrea.

LITTLE FEDERAL AID EXPECTED

Oil Industry Must Solve Import Problem, Official Tells Meeting

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (AP)—A member of the National Petroleum council's import investigation committee said today the industry must solve the "terrifying" problem of mounting oil imports to stay healthy.

Jake L. Hamon, Dallas independent oilman, added the industry can't expect much help from the federal government in working out a solution.

Import Hike Expected

Hamon said oil imports already are rated at around 600,000 barrels daily and an increase of more than 100,000 barrels daily is expected during the year.

Hamon suggested, by way of a solution, that the proposed Anglo-American oil treaty be given another look. This treaty, ratified by the British, is holed up in the Senate Foreign Relations committee. In its first stages it was found hard by the independents.

"It is perhaps unfortunate that attempts to get ratification of the treaty came during a period of heavy oil demand," Hamon said. "I doubt if we can go back now, however."

Hamon cited the National Petroleum council's policy calling for imports to supplement domestic production. Domestic and foreign producers have subscribed to the policy.

Next year's officers will be installed tomorrow, last day of the three-day convention. The new president is Warren S. Churchill, Arrow Drilling company, Dallas.

New vice presidents include: J. F. Postello, Odessa, Texas, West Texas and New Mexico.

obligation to keep the needs and problems of the schools before the voters of their communities and states."

NEA Position Endorsed

The commission said Congress endorsed the NEA position in 1942 when it amended the Hatch act. It said the act had been construed so as to prohibit many teachers paid in part from federal funds from taking any active part in political campaigns. The 1942 amendment excluded teachers from the act which bars federal employes from political activity.

The five teachers discharged at Grand Prairie were: Mrs. Cora Speck, President of the Grand Prairie Teachers' unit, 26 years service; Mrs. Elizabeth Crabtree, president-elect of the unit, Mrs. Dale Woods, each with 13 years service; and Mrs. Myra Holley, six years.

The report said, however, that the board was "within its legal rights" in refusing any explanation or prior hearing, due to the absence of any fair dismissal legislation in Texas.

Child Welfare Unit

had never known loving parents," the child welfare head was saying. "We learned of her case and she was placed with one of our mothers. After a few weeks the temporary mother accompanied her to school and stood when all the mothers that were present were asked to rise.

"On the way home, Barbara said, 'That is the first time I ever had anyone stand up for me. Thank you, mother'."

Choosing Home Difficult

Choosing a home for a child is an intricate and thought-demanding task, Miss Hawkins believes. Temperaments of the child and prospective parents must be suited as well as certain economic, racial, religious, and emotional backgrounds. Many persons who think they want to adopt a youngster really do not, the child welfare officer declared.

On the other hand, there are frequent rumors that children are up for adoption when the real parents have no intention of losing them and are doing all within their power to provide for them, Miss Hawkins continued.

She cited the case of a family which was extremely poor and which was harrassed by many persons seeking to buy their small boy and girl. Some of them threatened to turn them over to the child welfare unit, saying "They'll take them away from you."

Unit Helps Couple

Miss Hawkins asserted that the child welfare unit never takes a child away from its parents if they are doing their best to provide a happy home. In this case, the unit helped the young couple to keep their children.

Persons wishing to make a legal adoption through the child welfare unit make formal application, are jointly interviewed, and have their backgrounds and livelihood thoroughly studied. No applications are accepted for a specific child, but every effort is made to match children and foster parents suitably.

The child welfare unit enters any case in which an orphaned, underpriviliged, handicapped, emotionally upset, or otherwise mistreated child is involved. Its work ranges from helping place deaf youngsters in the state school, to adoption, to mediation between unhappy children and their parents.

Mother Readjusted

For instance, a 15-month-old child was mistreated by its mother. The welfare unit was able to learn that the mother had wanted a girl because her parents had wanted a boy when she was born. All her life the mother had tried her best to act like a boy and had finally taken out the resentment in her mind on her son. When the problem was discovered, a solution was soon effected by the mother with the aid of the welfare unit.

There are 19 child welfare units in the state of Texas, the nearest to Lubbock at Sweetwater, Odessa and Midland. Aid is often given by the units to domestic relations courts when sought by the judge.

Local Citizens Help

The Lubbock unit itself has been manned during the summer by Miss Hawkins and two men helpers, but the latter are leaving this fall. Replacements will come through the state office. A board of local citizens helps to administer the office and funds are provided by the state for salaries and by the city and county for aid to children.

"We are not an all-powerful organization," Miss Hawkins asserts. "We just do our job and hope that somewhere along the line we make a child happier or aid a deserving mother in keeping a baby she may be about to lose."

German Shepherd Adopts Ennis Motor Company As Home

ENNIS, Sept. 20. (AP) — A German shepherd dog has adopted a motor company at Ennis.

For six years she has been arriving at the Frankie Davis Motor Co. early — and she always stays late.

"She puts in more man-hours than any other employe," Davis says.

One of Esso's self-imposed duties is to keep watch for her employer. Mrs. Eunice Vanderslice, company bookkeeper, says it sometimes takes tall talk, or even bribery, to get Esso to move far enough away from the office safe for it to be opened.

Steaks Cheerfully Accepted

Bologna is a winter time favorite on Esso's diet list, but, as long as the weather remains warm, she prefers "dixie cups." These she holds between her paws and does away with in short order. A steak dinner is acceptable regardless of the temperature.

Esso belongs to Fred Newton. The history of her name goes back to the time when Newton operated a filling station. She lives with her owner's mother, Mrs. Lena Newton. As all good girls should, she goes home every night as soon as she gets off the job.

"Esso was twelve years old, May 17th, and she has worked for me half her life" Davis says.

National dog week, Sept. 18th to 24th, may have significance for some hounds, but it's just another week for Esso. She gets special attention all the time.

One-Man Crusade Ends In Fines For Galveston Establishments

GALVESTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—A surprise one-man crusade against gambling by a former Galveston Tribune reporter resulted in fines today for four local establishments.

All four establishments against whom newsman Ira Taylor had filed complaints pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace Orra M. Richmond. They were fined $25 each.

When the cases were called, L. M. Gernsbacher, attorney for the four defendants, entered the pleas of guilty to charges of permitting intermittent gambling.

The defendants were J. A. Pianchio of the Port, Christie Mitchell of the Omar Khayyam club, Hal White Catching of the Imperial tavern, and Jack Sparks of the College inn.

Charges aaginst a fifth person, Bonnie Holmes, were dismissed.

Court attaches said Taylor agreed to the $25 fines and costs assessed each defendant.

Mock Trial Staged To 'Test' Proposal Of Women Jurors

ORANGE, Sept. 20 (AP) — A murder case was heard by three juries here last night.

It was a real murder case—lifted bodily from court records of some time ago.

But they were mock juries. One was all women, the second half women and half men, and the third all men.

The triple-juried mock trial was staged by the Orange Business and Professional Women's club. Its announced purpose was to help voters decide how they should vote Nov. 8 on a proposed constitutional amendment to allow women to serve on Texas juries.

The all-female and mixed mock juries returned a verdict which agreed with that brought by the real jury which tried the case lifted from the record. They voted guilty.

The all-male mock jury returned a verdict of innocence.

The case taken out of the records was that of a man accused of murder without malice in the saloon slaying of a companion. Testimony—which was read verbatim to the three juries—was highly contradictory. Two state witnesses said it was a cold-blooded murder committed in a moment of passion. Two defense witnesses called it self defense.

County Judge Sid J. Caillavet, who presided, has this comment for the audience of about 300 persons attending the trial:

"I believe the women have proved their point. In view of the conflicting testimony in this case and the absence of a clear-cut basis for arriving at a verdict, no criticism of either of these three juries is due for the manner in which it evaluated the testimony."

Mrs. J. Cullen Browning, president of the womens group which sponsored the trial, said "we are more convinced than ever of the justice of our case for women on juries in Texas."

Polio In Texas Hits New High

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Polio incidence in Texas broke last year's record high today.

The State Health department reported 1,801 cases so far this year. This compared with the total of 1,765 cases reported for the entire year of 1948.

New cases last week totalled 52 compared with 65 for the previous week.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, cautioned against false optimism.

Just because there has been a slight decline, and just because the cool months are ahead, there should be no let - up in efforts to control the disease through universal health sanitation, he said.

"Now is the time to plan against next year's outbreak," he said. "It is true there are fewer cases now and cooler weather is ahead. But almost every week, summer and winter, brings polio in Texas.

New Cases Reported

"If we don't relax and if we practice year-around basic sanitation, we may stop a resurgence of the disease next summer."

Counties reporting more than one case to the health department were Bexar 4, Dallas 5, Harris 9, Potter 3, Tom Green 5, Upto 2.

New Mexico Old Timers To Be Guests Of Honor At State Fair

ROSWELL, N. M., Sept. 20 — (Special) — Old timers in New Mexico will be special guests of honor Oct. 7, at the Eastern New Mexico State fair which starts Oct. 5. And this year—say the old timers—you must beyond question have lived in New Mexico 30 years or longer to be among the elite.

"The young upstarts who have been in the state only 25, 28 or even 29 years cannot travel in our company on that day," says former governor James F. Hinkle, honorary president of the association. "Some of us think even a 30 years minimum is little enough when we look back on what we were doing in New Mexico 50 years ago."

There'll be tall tales of the old days at the open air down town ceremony in the morning—along with songs of the early days sung by the old timers themselves. Toward noon—these old timers never operate on a definite preplanned schedule—the crowd will move to Cahoon park where the barbecue will be served. And the entertainment will continue there.

Old Timers day is only a part of the big four day Eastern New Mexico State fair which will feature a large parade of floats, military units, and bands on the opening morning. Sheriff's posse rodeo, with Beutler's Brothers stock, will present shows Wednesday and Friday afternoons, Thursday and Saturday nights. Circus of Thrills will provide the big entertainment on Wednesday and Friday nights.

Man Is Burned To Death In California Fire And Blast

HAYWARD, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP) One man was burned to death and two persons injured today in explosions and fires which destroyed two small buildings in the business district.

The victim was tentatively identified as Fred Newburger, 70, a resident of the second floor rooming house in one of the buildings.

SAVING AMERICA MONEY FOR OVER THREE-QUARTERS OF A CENTURY!

GAMBLE FOR U.S.

Currency Devaluation

THE AVERAGE John Q. Citizen will admit frankly that he has no more than a vague understanding of what happens or what might result when great nations "devalue" their currency, as Great Britain and numerous other nations did this week. His ignorance should not embarrass him. Judging from results of similar financial maneuverings in the past, the so-called experts are more than slightly vague on the subject themselves.

But there is one thing about the latest epidemic of devaluations which is crystal clear. It is Uncle Sam's baby. It was adopted for Great Britain with professed reluctance because U. S. financial leaders, headed by Treasury Secretary Snyder, insistently urged that it be done.

If the step eases the financial crisis in the devaluating nations, Mr. Snyder and Uncle Sam may get a little credit for foresight and wisdom. If the plan does not work out, it is a leadpipe cinch that Uncle Sam will get all the blame.

Perhaps the risk is justified, even necessary, in the effort to relieve American taxpayers of some of the foreign relief burden they now are carrying. Possibly the devaluation procedure will work to this end.

But it would be absurd to try to deny that the whole thing is a gamble. If the financial positions of the affected nations are not improved, they almost certainly will demand more American aid. Regardless of the reasons for their condition, they will charge that currency devaluation was responsible.

They will charge the United States with responsibility for their plight, and will expect and demand whatever American efforts are necessary to try to get them back on their financial feet.

The "Noronic" Disaster

THE usual promises of "thorough investigations" have followed the destruction by fire of the Canadian Great Lakes excursion steamship "Noronic," with the loss of more than 200 lives. These promises invariably follow major disasters.

Operators of the ship lost no time in trying to classify the tragedy as an "act of God" which could not have been prevented by the exercise of reasonable precautions. While flames still raged in the ship, the officials of the line tried to whitewash their own responsibility.

It is barely possible, of course, that officials of the line and those in command of the ship were not at fault. But the present evidence is against any such supposition. The speed with which the fire spread and its belated discovery appear convincing proof that protections against such a disaster were inadequate. They suggest that passengers were exposed to deadly dangers in order to save a few dollars of operating expenses. This is not unusual of ships which cater to the excursion patronage.

If the owners and operators of the "Noronic" were guilty of negligence, investigations now in progress may disclose them. And, if guilt is established, it is to be assumed that punishment will follow.

This procedure obviously would not help the victims of that tragedy.

But it should be effective in setting an example which will reduce the dangers to those who go on similar excursions in the future. Thorough investigations now cannot bring back the dead or ease the suffering of the "Noronic" disaster. They might save lives in the future.

It isn't the conviction that the worst is yet to come that is giving the jitters to mounting millions; it's the uncertainty as to when it may arrive.

"Poker playing is hard on the heart," asserts a physician. That would depend, we should think, upon how near to his heart the poker player wears his pocketbook.

Before indulging in the pleasant sport of chasing a woman, a man should learn how to shift to reverse quickly and without falling into the hands of some woman who is chasing him.

And Who Furnishes The "Govt. Money"?

Steps To The Moon

By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Gaynel Tears has accepted Fritz Freyman's proposal of marriage. She is wildly in love even though she knows there are many problems to be settled. Gaynel's family, which she has supported since her father's death, must now get along on a moderate income and not rely on Gaynel's salary. Gaynel's hardest task is to tell Barry Bainbridge, a wealthy young man, who is in love with her. Barry had asked her to marry him and Gaynel promised to give him an answer later. In the meantime she had fallen in love with Fritz. Now, as Gaynel and Barry return home from a football game, Gaynel decides to tell Barry her plans. She starts to break the news, and Barry asks her, "What are you trying to say?")

BARRY looked at her now for a long moment. "If you're trying to give me that answer I asked for, you needn't hurry. I don't want to rush you. Perhaps that was taking you too much for granted. But I see it differently now. I want you to take all the time you want to decide. I want you to be sure, as you said."

"That's dear of you Barry," she wished he weren't such a dear. He did not make it easier by being like that. "I told you I'd tell you as soon as I was sure. I am sure now, Barry. And I'm so terribly sorry I can't give you the answer I'd like to give—"

He had not looked at her, or said a word; but she had seen his hands tighten on the wheel, the knuckles white. "You'll wonder why I'm so sure—now," she said. 'I promised I'd tell if ever there was someone else. . . Oh, I hate myself for having to tell you this, truly I do. I wouldn't tell you, Barry, if I weren't so sure."

"That's all right," he said. And still without looking at her: "It's Freyman, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"I think I've known it all along. I told you I felt some sort of change in you—after you met him. I guess I woke up—too late."

"You mustn't say that. Or feel it. As I told you, I don't believe you love me—not in the way I love Fritz. Why, Barry, it simply turns your whole world upside down! It makes you giddy—silly—and so ridiculously happy you scarcely can bear it. You don't really feel that way about me."

"Never mind that," Barry said. "Please." He looked at her now. He did not try to hide the hurt in his eyes. "It's a bit too soon for condolences. Right on top of a death sentence."

"You mustn't take it like that, Barry." He did care. In the way she felt about Fritz. But he would get over it. "I'm so fond of you, Barry; you're so much a part of my life. I want you always to be that part. I owe so terribly much to you, more than I ever can repay in any way."

"NEVER mind that, either," Barry said; but not so shortly. This had been a blow; but he would not give up yet. He still had too much to offer her. It still seemed too right—and sure—that he and Gaynel belonged together; always had and always would. He could afford patience. "You don't owe me anything, Gaynel. . ."

"Indeed, I do!"

"Are you—and Freyman planning anything definite—in a hurry?" Barry's eyes were on the road again; but there was a good deal back of his light question.

"Not in any big hurry," Gaynel said. She felt as though a tremendous load had been lifted from her. Barry really had taken it very well. As she might have known he would. "Fritz wants me to tell the family. That won't be much fun." She laughed. "I owe them so much, too. I can't just walk out. Fritz understands that. We . . . we're going to work it out somehow together." Yet saying this now to Barry it did not sound so very simple. That dreadful doubt caught hold of her again; those cold sober facts.

"That's good." He did not sound as though he thought it would be simple, either. Barry knew Gaynel's family.

GAYNEL said proudly, as though meeting a challenge, "Fritz has a grand new job. With a newspaper syndicate. He can take care of both of us nicely. Of course I wouldn't want him to take on my whole family—even if he could afford it."

"Of course not," Barry said.

"I don't believe he'd do it, either," Gaynel mused. "He'd think it wasn't his job. Fritz has all sorts of ideals; he's a serious person—and stubborn. Though you'd never guess it, because he's always clowning so. I wish," she turned appealing toward Barry's set profile, "you knew him better, Barry. I hope you will."

"I hope so, too." Barry was polite, nothing more.

Barry swerved the car, with a twist of lean wrists, out of the way of another that almost sideswiped them in trying to pass. "That was a narrow one," he said.

"You handled it beautifully." She had had a bad moment. "But you will be friends?"

"Of course." Barry could handle other things as well as he could a car. His tone begged apology, as well as his eyes, "you must remember this isn't exactly—simple—for me. But I don't count. All I want is for you to have what you want—your happiness. I know that sounds like the set speech for the losing rival, but it comes from the heart, Gaynel. You know that."

"I know," Gaynel said. She put her hand over his on the wheel; a brief gesture of thanks, of sympathy and affection, that came from the heart, too.

Barry said, "There's one thing more. If you ever should change your mind—I'll always feel the same; you'll always be the one and only; you were mistaken about that. I told you that even if there was someone else, I'd take that chance."

She said, "I'll always remember, Barry."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

ALL over the country—or rather all over the world—there are labor troubles and strife these days.

BRANDEIS

You would think that management and labor are two different species of human beings.

You would wonder whether employers are engaged only in predatory conquest of all the money, all the power, all the treasures, while the laboring men are weak, defenseless things, to be devoured at will.

What is the difference between one and the other?

Haven't they both the same feelings, the same instincts, the same virtues and vices?

Aren't they all members of the same human race?

There MUST be a remedy—there IS a remedy, a simple remedy, as you will see, if I may repeat an old, old fable by the wise Aesop.

Aesop lived in the sixth century B. C., yet, from his philosophy, it seems that even in those ancient days human beings were not much different from what they are today, and that their problems were quite similar to today's problems.

Aesop called this particular fable "The Belly and The Members." Here it is:

One fine day it occured to the Members of the Body that they were doing all the work and the Belly was having all the food.

So they held a meeting, and after a long discussion, decided to strike work till the Belly consented to take its proper share of the work.

So for a day or two, the Hands refused to take the food, the Mouth refused to receive it, and the Teeth had no work to do.

But in a little while the Members began to find out that they themselves were not in a very active condition: the Hands could hardly move, and the Mouth was all parched and dry, while the Legs were unable to support the rest.

So thus they found that even the Belly in its dull quiet way was doing necessary work for the Body, and that all must work together or the Body will go to pieces.

THERE is another Aesop fable that one might apply to this constant struggle between Labor and Capital, and by referring to it, I am not taking sides, one way or the other.

It is the fable about the fox who tried to get at the grapes but couldn't reach that high, no matter how he tried.

He finally gave up, with his nose in the air, and said: "I am sure they are sour."

Mr. Aesop ends his fable with this moral:

"IT IS EASY TO DESPISE WHAT YOU CANNOT GET."

NO PLOT AGAINST NAVY

War Tactics Change

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON; — "Do you believe that there is a conspiracy among Army-Air brass to scuttle the United States Navy, as several responsible officers of that arm have charged?" ask several retired rankers of all three services living far from Capitol Hill and the Pentagon Building.

Answer: I do not. For one thing, I have too great respect for such distinguished Americans as those in charge of national defense to believe that they would permit jealousies and rivalries to jeopardize national security. Secretary Johnson, George Marshall, "Ike" Eisenhower, Omar Bradley, Hoyt Vandenberg, et al are not just that kind of men.

TUCKER

CHANGES: What is happening is that the Navy's organization, assignment and structure is undergoing changes seemingly necessitated by new developments in warfare.

Although we still have cavalry units, so-called, they charge into battle on tanks instead of horses. Although we will always need a Navy, the type of fleet will be different.

Another compelling reason for a shift in emphasis among the services is the identity of any possible enemy. When Germany and Japan were first-class powers, we had to have a large, surface force. Facing a land power like Russia, which is concentrating largely on submarines and destroyers, it is felt that battleships, cruisers and carriers will play a secondary role.

But, inasmuch as the United States is really an island, we must have a far-ranging fleet. We will always need submarines, destroyers, possibly faster and more powerful cruisers, landing craft and transports, supply and repair ships etc.

QUESTION: Despite all the confusion, commotion and countercharges here, the principal question in the controversy appears to be a technical one that should be decided by the experts, not in an atmosphere of politics and publicity.

It is this: Will super-carriers or even those of present size — 45,000 tons — togther with a great naval air fleet, be needed for strategic bombing or naval operations in a conflict with such a land-locked power as Russia?

The Admirals answer in the affirmative, insisting that they can give protection to these floating and mobile islands. But the Joint Chiefs of Staff have decided that land-based planes must be depended on to handle this assignment. Insofar as possible, we are even now rimming Russia with airfields for possible use in a World War III.

I do believe, however, that this key question should be discussed and fought out openly before the Congressional Committee charged with investigating the exploded "B-36 scandal."

There should be no hush-hush consideration of a problem so vital to national defense.

Moreover, a full and frank discussion might tend to remove soreness within the services and restore public confidence in our top war planners.

POLICE: "Why doesn't the United Nations organize the international police force it was supposed to form?" asks H. L. W. of Warren, Mass. "A small body of aviators with the A-bomb could cover the earth in a few hours. If the U. N. had had such a power when Russia began her veto policy and played dog-in-the-manger, it could have prevented the rape of Poland, Czechoslovakia, China etc."

Answer: Military and diplomatic representatives of U. N. members labored for months to establish such a force, as provided in the U. N. Charter. But agreement was impossible, and there has been no renewed attempt to attack the problem. Nor was Russia the only objector to creating a police unit which would constitute an infringement on the members' sovereignty.

Such a force would be an ideal weapon for peace if all the great powers sincerely wanted peace. Otherwise, it could only prevent minor clashes between weak nations, and would eventually become as futile as is the United Nations itself.

EXPLANATION: "Can you tell me," queries F. R. of Brooklyn, N. Y., "why General Waitt was forced to retire as head of the Chemical Service merely for doing something he was ordered to do by General Vaughan, the President's military and administrative aide?"

Answer: The only explanation is that there seems to be a double standard at Washington for Generals. President Truman told a recent press conference that, even though General Vaughan is on active duty and supposedly amenable to Army discipline and regulations, he could not be touched by his military commanders.

Vaughan's usefulness has ended, however. Henceforth, whenever he makes a request or gives an order to a government official, they or their superiors will check back with the White House to discover whether he was acting for Lobbyist Vaughan or President Truman.

FAMILY: "How many members of F. D. R.'s family are now in public life?" asks T. F. of Auburn, N. Y.

Answer: Only Franklin D. Roosevelt jr., who is a member of the House from New York City. It is understood, however, that James may seek the nomination for Senator from California in the fall. Barring miracles, it is doubtful if any other members of the family will ever seek public office anywhere.

We can't imagine how a psychologist arrived at the conclusion that a person reaches the peak of intelligence at age 17, unless he gave 17-year-olds credit for being as smart as they think they are.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, September 21, 1929.)

Work has been practically completed on a postoffice room in the east lobby of the administration building at Texas Technological college, and the former office will be moved into the location.

Additions to the office include two sections of boxes, a dispatch case, a new stamping table and safe. There is a letter drop and a paper drop. More boxes now will be available for students.

Mrs. Lucille Barr Smith, former Tech student, is postmistress.

Charles Whitacre, post commander, with Glenn Hess as alternate, was elected by the Allen Brothers post, American Legion, Thursday night as its official delegate to the National American Legion convention in Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1 to 5, inclusive.

During the business session consideration was given the building of an American Legion home in this city. Final plans and estimates are to be submitted at the next meeting. A committee, composed of Harley D. Woods, chairman, J. A. Raley, and H. L. Allen, will arrange for the plans.

Believe It Or Not -

SCHEDULE NOT OBSERVED

Long Session Has Solon On Spot

By Sen. Margaret Chase Smith
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The unexpected continuous session of the Senate this year has really put many of us on the spot. We were supposed to close this year's session not later than July 31, the date set by the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946. But that regulation failed to cope with filibusters and unlimited debate—the major factors for keeping the Senate in session months beyond the deadline.

SEN. SMITH

There were some of us who anticipated the possibility that we would not be able to close business by the end of July. We planned our future schedule with some allowance. I decided to postpone my speaking assignments until October and November, reserving the entire month of October for speaking in Maine. I was anxious to cover the entire State and to see my friends. Staying on the job in Washington makes it difficult to keep the desired touch with your constituents and know how they feel on major issues. Keeping that touch with the people is not only politically important—it is a primary responsibility of a legislator.

Puts Solon On Spot

But even with my conservative allowance of two months beyond the scheduled adjournment, I am now on the spot, for it looks as though the Senate will stay in session at least until the latter part of October. Like others, I now must decide between staying in Washington as long as the Senate is in session and cancelling my speaking engagements.

It's a very hard decision. The people expect a legislator to stay on the job in Washington. Yet the people also expect their representatives to keep their speaking commitments. Many don't realize a Senator's position when he has to cancel a speaking commitment in order to be on the Senate floor to cast his vote on an important bill. All they know is that he didn't show up when they expected him.

THE ONLY solution to my present problem is being absent from the Senate on those days when important bills are not being voted on—when the Senate is debating and not voting. But that is risky. The Senate can be like the weather and change suddenly. Debate that has been scheduled for three or four days can stop without warning and the voting can start.

One of Maine's foremost citizens recently discounted my concern by saying, "You can always pair." Pairing is done by getting some other member who desires to vote the opposite way that you do to be recorded as "paired" with you—that is, if you are recorded as for the bill, he will be "paired" against the bill.

Plan Is Opposed

There are two kinds of pairs—"live" and "dead." When the other pairing member is present, it is a "live" pair and cuts down the vote by one on the opposite side. Seldom will a present member agree to a "live" pair and to abstain from voting.

When the both pairing members are absent it is a "dead" pair and is not counted. A "dead" pair merely records how you would have voted if you had been present and you can't be accused of dodging an issue.

I don't like "pairing." I use it only in an emergency when I know that the voting is not going to be close and a few votes either way would not affect the final outcome on a bill.

SO I'LL try to walk a tight rope in October. I'll keep as many of my speaking commitments as I can on those days when the Senate is either not in session or not voting—and perhaps "pairing" for the record when I judge the voting won't be close.

This is just another "you can't have your cake and eat it" headache that goes with the job of being a conscientious Congressman.

Monkeys Escape From Animal Hospital, Flee Into Tree Tops

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (AP)—Instead of being vaccinated as scheduled, two monkeys from Bangkok, Siam, are running wild today after their escape from an animal hospital.

Dr. Noble Hamiter said the gibbons, valued at $150 each, fled down the hospital driveway when they were being unloaded.

"They jumped in a window of a print shop, bared their teeth at a janitor, ran around the shop and disappeared," the doctor said.

Louis Goebel of Thousand Oaks, Calif., owns the beasts. He sent the twins here to be vaccinated against a monkey sleeping sickness.

The letter "S" is said to be the most frequently used capital letter in the English language.

USDA Reports Sharp Hike In Texas Chick, Egg Production

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Texas is increasing production of chicks and eggs.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported today that commercial hatcheries produced 1,950,000 chicks in August. This was 23 per cent greater than in August a year ago and 39 per cent above the average.

Egg production on Texas farms in August was estimated at 207,000,000 or three per cent higher than August a year ago.

Jimmy Stewart May Get Role In 'Harvey'; Cathy O'Donnell Offered Part In New Film

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20. — One bill get you ten that Jimmy Stewart will be present when the roll is called early next year for "Harvey." I hear from a reliable source that Jimmy has already put his name to a Universal-International contract, but Bill Goetz won't talking yet.

Bill does admit that he wants Jimmy both for "Harvey" and "Winchester 73," an outdoor western.

New Role Offered

Cathy O'Donnell, one of the best of our younger actresses, who parted from Sam Goldwyn and Farley Granger at the height of her career, has been offered the role of the girl in "An American Tragedy," by George Stevens.

Cathy would be simply sensational. The only thing that stands in the way of her saying "yes" so loud the world would hear it, at the chance of being directed by George Stevens and having Montgomery Clift as her co-star, is a previous commitment. She has a tentative deal to go to England to appear with Greer Garson in the "Mrs. Miniver" sequel.

Don't think for a minute that the dinner dance Charles Feldman and Jerry Wald gave honoring Tennessee Williams was just another press party to announce what we all knew—that Gertrude Lawrence had been signed to play the mother in Tennessee's play, "The Glass Menagerie." Seldom have I seen so many stars under one roof as there were at the Chanteclair.

Hollywood Couples Sighted

Clark Gable, with Lady Sylvia Stanley, sat at the Jack Warner table. Another interesting combination was Ann Sheridan and George Raft. Of course, Ginger Rogers was with Greg Bautzer. Esther Williams and Ben Gage, telling everyone of plans to make a champion swimmer of their baby.

Loretta Young, fully recovered, having a good time with Tom Levis. Farley Grainger with Evelyn Keyes, and on the opposite side of the room from her ex, John Huston, Ava Gardner, with Howard Duff, was so beautiful that Mike Curtiz asked when her M-G-M contract was up so he could get her for "Serenade."

Clifton Webb chatted with Fieldsie and Walter Lang, his director of "Sitting Pretty."

Maureen O'Hara and Will Price were having a wonderful time. So was Mervyn Leroy, Sid Grauman and Mr. and Mrs. David Niven. Dorothy McGuire and John Swope with the Mel Ferrers (Mrs. Ferrer is just back from her vacation).

Signe Hasso To Return

Pleasant news that Signe Hasso is coming back to Hollywood to make a picture. Signe, a swell actress and a grand gal, hasn't been on the screen since "Double Life," which won Ronald Colman an academy award.

She reports to Universal-International for "Inside the Wall" with Marilyn Maxwell and Richard Basehart. A friend of Signe's told me she has been very much discouraged and been playing in stock in the East for the past six months — So I know how glad she is to come home. We're all glad to have her back.

Condition Of Lubbock Car Wreck Victims 'Improved'

W. M. Ryan and Frank Bass, Lubbock cotton brokers, are still confined to a Lamesa hospital but have shown "definite improvement" since they were admitted last Thursday following a two-car collision near O'Donnell, wives of the two reported Tuesday.

The brokers were injured late Thursday morning in a wreck which killed Rodney C. Strickland of Phillips when the latter apparently attempted to pass a truck. Ryan suffered chest injuries and Bass broken ribs in the wreck.

Mrs. Bass returned to Lubbock Tuesday and Mrs. Ryan was to arrive here today.

Wink Resident Dies Of Burns Received In Oil Field Accident

KERMIT, Sept. 20. (AP)— Melvin Riley Robison, 32, of Wink died today of burns received in an oil field accident yesterday.

Sparks from an electric drill were blamed for the accident. Robison was drilling a hole in a suction pipe. While pulling out the drill, he accidentally hit the trigger. His oil soaked clothing ignited.

The Gulf Pipe Line Co., owns the line. Robison was a world war Marine veteran of Guam and Iwo Jima.

Services will be held Friday in Brock near Weatherford.

Ennis Company To Establish Eastern Division In Virginia

ENNIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—G. G. Dunkerley, founder and president, of the Ennis Tag and Salesbook company announced today that an eastern division factory will be opened in Chatham, Virginia, on November 1st.

Homer McElroy is being transferred from Ennis to Chatham where he will be vice president in charge of the new plant. S. D. Denny, salesmanager, will assist in establishing the eastern factory.

"Proximity to metropolitan areas in the East is the greatest advantage to be derived from the new location," Mr. Dunkerley said.

Since its foundation in 1909, when half a dozen employes wired tags by hand, the Ennis Tag and Salesbook company and its subsidiary, the American Carbon Paper Manufacturing company, have grown to an organization of 400 employes requiring more than five acres of space.

LITTLE OPPOSITION EXPECTED

Full Hearing On Appointment Of Minton To Supreme Court Urged

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 —(AP)— Full hearings by the Senate Judiciary committee on the appointment of Judge Sherman Minton to the Supreme Court were urged today by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich).

Ferguson told reporters, before the first committee meeting to consider the nomination that he doesn't know of any current opposition to Minton's elevation to fill the vacancy created by the death of Justice Wiley Rutledge.

"But I think we should have full hearings to develop information about Minton's legal ability and about his background," the Michigan senator said. "I don't know the man nor much about him."

Friend Of Truman

Minton, former Indiana senator, is now a federal judge in Chicago. He and President Truman developed a close friendship in their Senate days and Republicans may revive their attack on what some of them have called "government by crony."

Beyond that, however, there seemed little likelihood that opposition to Minton would develop the heat aroused, for instance, by the President's nomination of former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington to head the National Security Resources board. Wallgren's appointment was withdrawn after it was blocked in the Senate Armed Services committee.

But some objections may be raised to Minton on the basis of his Senate record. As an active New Dealer he supported President Roosevelt's ill-starred Supreme court reorganization plan and once sponsored a bill his critics contended would have gagged the press.

Indiana Senator Silent

Senator Jenner (R-Ind), designated by the Republicans to call signals for them on the Minton nomination, wouldn't say whether he would make an active fight.

Jenner said he has received some letters protesting the appointment and probably will lay these before the committee if it orders public hearings.

With Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) presiding in the absence of Chairman McCarran (D-Nev), the committee was expected to name a subcommittee to look into the appointment. There were indications it would be composed of Kilgore, and Senators Eastland (D-Miss) and Donnell (R-Mo).

Senate action on the nomination may be delayed more than two weeks by the routine of hearings. The court is due to open its fall session October 3.

Other Action Slated

The Senate may get around later this week to voting on another nomination that has been pending before it since June 22, that of W. Walton Butterworth to be assistant secretary of state.

Republicans are ready to tee off on Butterworth because they contend he helped shape the administration's foreign policy toward Nationalist China, a policy under continual GOP fire.

Some of the force may be taken out of this criticism by a provision of the pending foreign arms bill making $75,000,000 available for military aid to the Nationalists, if the President chooses to use it.

The Senate gave 45 to 28 approval yesterday to another Truman appointee — John Carson, named to the Federal Trade commission.

In the showdown, the only Democratic senators voting no were Byrd of Virginia and McClellan of Arkansas. Four Republicans voted for the nominee; Senators Langer and Young of North Dakota, Thye of Minnesota and Watkins of Utah.

San Angelo Man Held On Charge Of Transporting Stolen Auto

LAREDO, Sept. 20 (AP) — Laredo police are holding William Lincoln Bales, 28, of San Angelo of a federal complaint charging foreign transportation of a stolen automobile.

Bales was arrested after the present Mexican owner of the automobile was stopped Saturday afternoon for questioning by a policeman who noticed the car bore out-dated license plates.

The complaint against Bales was filed yesterday before the U. S. commissioner in Dallas.

Bales was free on $2,500 bond on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen cattle and a $5,000 bond on a charge of intimidation of a witness. He was indicted on those charges by a federal grand jury in Lubbock.

Three Persons Are Injured In Auto Collision Near Waco

WACO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Three persons were injured, one critically, in a head-on automobile collision near here last night.

Seriously hurt was Sgt. Stephen Vickers, 28, of San Angelo. He is stationed at Connally Air Force Base.

Richard Dix, Former Movie Star, Claimed

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20. (INS)—Richard Dix, once the highest-salaried star in Hollywood, died today from a heart ailment.

The 54-year-old actor passed away at Hollywood Presbyterian hospital where he had been critically ill for nine days.

Mrs. Dix, his former secretary whom he married in 1934, was at his side when death came.

Dix, known in his heyday as one of the most virile he-men of the screen, was a native of St. Paul, Minn.

He was the second celebrity to pass from the Hollywood scene this week. Actor Frank Morgan died in bed last Sunday.

Dix, whose real name was Ernest Carlton Brimmer, was one of the best known actors in Hollywood during the late 1920's when he starred in such screen epics as "The Vanishing American," "The Quarterback," "Redskin" and "Cimmaron."

He had not been active in films for several years because of his heart condition. Several months ago he was stricken while vacationing in France with his wife and their twin sons.

Belated Congratulations On Election Victory Given HST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—President Truman received very belated congratulations on his November election victory today from Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho.

Taylor, who ran as vice presidential candidate on Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party ticket, paid his first call on the President since the 1948 voting.

"I called to congratulate the President on his victory," he told reporters.

When they asked why he waited so long, Taylor replied:

"I didn't want it to look like I was trying to jump on somebody's bandwagon."
