Soviet Plane

Russian Taken Off

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard detectives halted a Moscow-bound jet moments before takeoff Saturday and wrestled with Soviet personnel to free a young Russian physicist who had been dragged aboard the plane, apparently against his will.

Forced Into Car

A Scotland Yard statement said a man answering the Russian's description was forced into a car on a busy London street and his calls for help set off a police alert.

The car was identified as belonging to the Soviet Embassy. Then came a report that a man answering the abducted man's description was being escorted aboard a Soviet jet, Scotland Yard said.

Just as the Aeroflot TU104 was about to taxi for a takeoff, British police cars ringed the plane and Scotland Yard officers and immigration officials rushed aboard.

Heated Discussion

After a heated discussion and a struggle aboard the plane, the officers emerged with the Russian.

There also was a tussle on the steps of the plane with the captain of the airliner and the young Russian's wife trying to keep him aboard. The police won and the man was taken back to the airport buildings.

The Soviet consul identified the man as Vladimir Kachenko, about 25, who had been in England for eight months taking a post-graduate degree in engineering at Birmingham University.

But a university spokesman said he was a physicist specializing in low temperature physics.

Claims He Was Ill

A Soviet official said, "He had become very ill and was going back to Moscow for urgent treatment. An airport police officer said the Russian "appeared to be very ill or under sedation."

Meanwhile, there was no confirmation of reports that Kachenko had asked for political asylum in Britain.

A Home Office spokesman said: "He is now being interviewed but he is not very coherent. He seems to be in a daze. His wishes, therefore, are not clear."

The Home Office, which has prime responsibility for the nation's security, said later the Russian had received medical attention and had "retired for the night."

Espionage Ruled Out

British authorities, apparently on the basis of first reports from security and police officials who had interrogated the Russian, were inclined to rule out espionage in the airport drama.

There was speculation that the Soviets might have been trying to ship Kachenko back to Moscow to forestall what might have been a defection.

Brown Hearing Monday

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Robert H. Merhige Jr. ordered Virginia authorities Saturday to bring Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown into his court at noon Monday for a habeas corpus hearing.

At that time, it is expected Merhige will decide whether Brown shall be released under bond from state custody, pending the outcome of his legal fight to avoid extradition to Maryland.

For a moment, it appeared as if it would be that

Three Blind Furies Aim Deadly Paths

Killer Doria Hits N. Carolina Coast

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Hurricane Doria, who turned killer as her course became more erratic, continued her fickle ways Saturday night but finally hit land for the first time on the North Carolina coast just south of the Virginia line.

MIDNIGHT

At 8 p. m., the Norfolk Weather Bureau located the center of the 75-mile-per-hour storm about 35 miles southeast of Norfolk and over Currituck Sound in North Carolina. The storm was expected to hit the area around Elizabeth City, N. C., around midnight.

The bureau called for immediate evacuation of low-lying sections in the Hampton Roads area, warning of tides expected to run 3 to 6 feet above normal.

It also warned of moderate flooding along the Virginia coast and as far south as Oregon Inlet and on the Albemarle Sound in North Carolina with tides 2 to 3 feet above normal.

POUNDS COAST

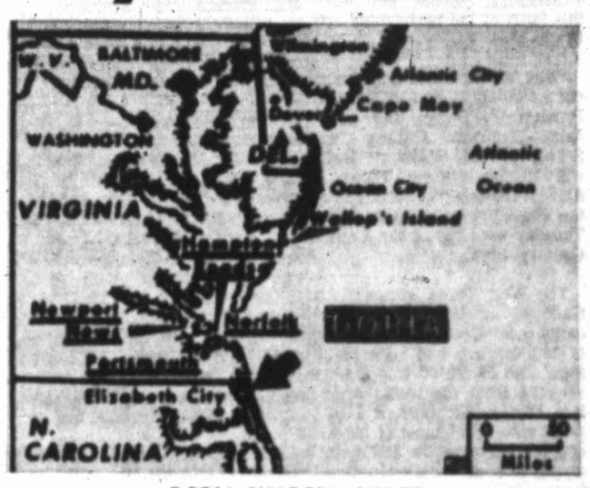

One woman was dead and two children were missing as Doria pounded the coasts of New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland before continuing her off-shore path leading to southeastern Virginia and northeastern North Carolina.

Meanwhile, two sister storms moved toward other areas of North America. Hurricane Beulah with winds of 115 m.p.h. in the Gulf of Mexico was aimed at Yucatan, while Hurricane Chloe was 525 miles south southeast of Newfoundland and headed north with 105 m.p.h. winds.

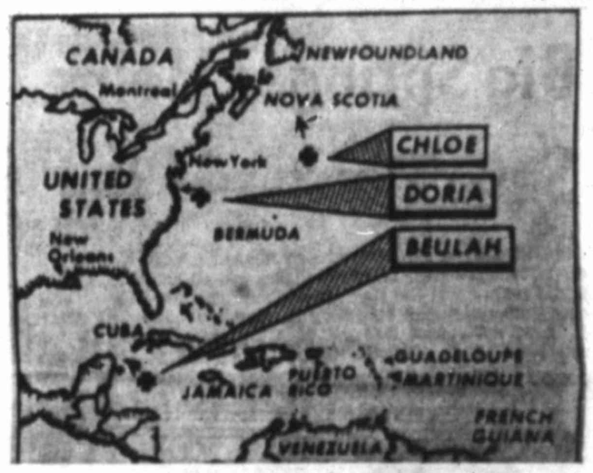

It was the first time since 1961, said the Miami Weather Bureau, that multiple hurricanes had headed toward land at the same time.

BARRICADED

On Cozumel, Mexican Independence Day vacationers barricaded themselves on the resort island's beachfront hotels on high ground early Saturday as rain, winds and high tides of Beulah struck. The 20-by-8-mile island, some 12 miles by boat from the Yucatan Peninsula, has about 5,000 permanent residents. An estimated 1,000 tourists were reported on the island for the holiday weekend.

U Thant Favors End To Bombing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant Saturday bolstered a new Vietnam peace appeal with a report that Hanoi's Communist allies had agreed to send more military aid to North Vietnam, including air crews, pilots, gunners and engineers.

HALT BOMBING

Thant told a news conference that he still felt that the key to Vietnam peace is a halt of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, that negotiations would follow within three or four weeks and that the risk was worth taking without waiting for any commitments from Hanoi.

His reference to possible increased aid to North Vietnam appeared to carry the implication that the escalation might reach dangerous proportions unless quick action is taken to end the fighting.

Thant noted that the reported military agreements between Hanoi and its allies were unconfirmed but he said there were definite indications that North Vietnam is receiving increasing aid, both military and economic, from friendly countries. He declined to say which countries were supplying the aid.

RESUME EFFORTS

The main point stressed by the secretary-general was that the end of the bombing must be the first step toward peace. He said he did not feel any new initiatives on his part would be of any use until this happens, but he said he was ready to resume his efforts if conditions change.

Thant discounted reports that recent statements by North Vietnamese officials indicated any softening of their position. He said he was convinced Hanoi would not agree in advance to match any U.S. moves, such as a bombing halt, but that they would be ready to talk if the bombing stops.

"If Hanoi is asked to do something as the price for an unconditional halt to the bombing, Hanoi will not pay the price," he said.

DISCUSS VIETNAM

Thant said the forthcoming session of the 122-nation General Assembly would discuss the Vietnam problem, as it did last year, without actually placing the issue on its agenda. He noted that a majority in 1966 favored a cessation of the U.S. bombing and said he believed the same views would be expressed this year.

FOUR-DAY FIGHT

Joint Forces Rout Cong Guerrillas

SAIGON (AP) — A combined U.S. Army and Navy river force routed a hard-core Viet Cong battalion from entrenched positions in the Mekong delta Saturday after a running four-day attack aimed at loosening the Communist grip on the rich rice bowl south of Saigon.

WORST LOSSES

The guerrillas faded into adjoining marshes and bamboo forests after losing 204 dead, killing 15 Americans and wounding 125 others. But the action—Operation Coronado 5-cost the Navy its worst combat losses of the war: Three men killed and nine wounded; nine troop-carrying vessels, three gunboats and the command vessel damaged. All remained afloat and left under their own power, however.

Operation Coronado drew attention away—for the time being at least—from the continuing action along the demilitarized zone which divides the two Vietnams. The U.S. Command reported only light and scattered fighting in that sector as U.S. B52 bombers and fighters hit once more at North Vietnamese gun positions in and around the buffer zone.

JOINT FORCE

U.S. Marines are holding the line south of the DMZ against the possibility of a heavy North Vietnamese push southward.

Clear skies over the area between Hanoi and Red China brought U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers into action against North Vietnamese targets. Cloudy skies south of Hanoi limited U.S. Navy air operations in the southern panhandle and along the coast.

In the delta, the Navy operated with the Army in a joint task force, ferrying infantry troops on gunboats up the muddy Rach Ba river.

It began last Tuesday and reached a climax with a landing of U.S. infantrymen at dawn Friday on the banks of the Rach Ba.

HEAVILY HIT

The gunboats were heavily scored by B40 rockets, machine gun and recoilless rifle fire from guerrillas in deeply dug riverside bunkers.

U.S. officers said the bunkers were so sturdy that U.S. 105 Howitzer shells "only rattled them." The Viet Cong operating out of the bunkers were members of the 263rd Battalion, which has used the delta area, 45 miles southwest of Saigon, as a stronghold and a training center for many years, the U.S. Command said.

In the final fighting Saturday the task force lost 9 dead and 104 wounded. The guerrillas lost 70 dead, the command said.

TRANSPORT TROOPS

The Navy carried troops of the Army's 9th Infantry Division up the river in transports called barracks ships. For the attack the troops transferred to combined landing craft-gunboats bristling with mortars and small cannon. The Navymen call the smaller craft monitors since they resemble the Civil War ironclad. After landing the troops, the monitors provided fire support.

State Pelted By Rain, Beulah May Be Coming

By The Associated Press

Widespread showers continued to pelt much of Texas Saturday while far to the southeast Hurricane Beulah threatened to move into the Gulf of Mexico.

INTO GULF

The hurricane, which Friday was headed toward the Yucatan Peninsula, appeared to be shifting to a more northerly course that would take it through the Yucatan Channel into the Gulf.

The Weather Bureau advised all persons in the Gulf Coast area to keep themselves posted this weekend on the storm's movement.

The new round of rains Saturday followed Friday's torrential downpours that sent a number of South Texas streams surging over their banks to block highways and farm roads.

Only the far western tip of West Texas around El Paso had clear skies as heavy clouds covered most of the state. Fog was reported at a number of points.

The principal shower activity was along a stalled cool front that extended from the Mexican border northeastward through San Antonio and Waco to Texarkana, but by early afternoon scattered rains were being reported in most sections.

MILD

The heavy clouds and the showers kept temperatures mild over most of the state Saturday. Early morning minimums ranged from a chilly 46 degrees at Hereford to 76 at Brownsville.

Afternoon temperatures were in the 60s in the Panhandle-Plains and West Texas, in the 70s across the central portions, and in the 80s along the coast.

Bible Fund Short, Appeal Ends Today

Today brings to an end the formal appeal for 1967's High School Bible Fund. Although the fund is short of needs by a few hundred dollars, perhaps unreported gifts, together with those by Sunday School classes and others today, will push it near the total needed.

Saturday was a good day with $215 raised, making $2,920.76 the amount brought in from the brief appeal for voluntary contributions.

And voluntary contributions are the mainstay of the Bible Class, for tax funds cannot be used to pay for instruction.

Those who have delayed having a part are encouraged to do so promptly, and The Herald will pass these funds on to the Big Spring Pastors Association, which administers the fund. Thanks go to everyone who has had any part whatsoever; there is no telling what dividends this will pay.

Nasser Delays Announcing Suicide, But All Is Quiet

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Nasser government in Egypt delayed announcement of the suicide this week of Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer for more than 24 hours apparently to head off any public upheaval.

NO. 2 MAN

But all indications from Cairo Saturday were that the nation was quiet. One Beirut newspaper reported from Cairo that there was not even a sign of public grief, although Amer, No. 2 man under President Gamal Abdel Nasser, once had been a popular figure.

Hours after Cairo's announcement Friday night rumors spread in foreign capitals that, in a follow-up to the death, Nasser had resigned. The rumors were quickly denied by an Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo.

Radio Cairo broadcast its usual Saturday programs and airline flights continued into the Egyptian capital.

The Cairo announcement said Amer, 47, had taken his life with poison Thursday after several previous attempts at suicide since the Middle East war in June. In Beirut's first editorials on Amer's death, censors carefully crossed out all references that appeared to question whether Amer's death was actually a suicide.

MARSHAL AMER

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported the death without comment. Amer was a frequent Kremlin visitor.

Replaced as army commander after the Israeli victory over Egypt in June, Amer had been under house arrest in Egypt for plotting against Nasser.

Amer had been Nasser's chief confidante since the beginning of the Egyptian revolution, and his main characteristic was his unswerving loyalty to Nasser.

Amer's daughter was married to Nasser's youngest brother, and Nasser's second son was named after the handsome, mustachioed marshal.

Amer was generally liked in Egypt despite an erratic record as a politician and military man.

SAME PART

He was born Dec. 11, 1919, in the upper Egyptian village of Astal in the Minyah district. Nasser is from the same part of the country.

As a military leader, Amer handled Egypt's defenses in 1956 and this year's six-day war against Israel.

Theatre Group To Meet Tuesday

By WINNIE UNGER

Will there be a Big Spring Little Theatre group this fall? A meeting of board members and all interested in participating in any phase of little theatre work are asked to attend a meeting at the John H. Lees Service Club at Webb Air Force Base Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. David Haas will direct an informal discussion among those attending to see if there is interest in maintaining a theatre group here.

Drama is an important part of cultural activity in a city, and Big Spring, with its college and high school drama departments and many talented citizens, from both Webb AFB and the community, should not allow this facet of the performing arts to die from apathy.

The West Texas Museum Art Gallery on the Texas Tech campus is offering an exhibition of Indian cave and rock paintings. The 50 water colors were selected from the works of the late Forrest Kirkland, a Dallas artist who spent most of his life copying pictographs and petroglyphs at some 80 sites in Texas from Paint Rock to the Big Bend and from the Canadian River Valley in the Panhandle to the Hueco Tanks near El Paso.

The works will be displayed for a month in the museum beginning today when, from 2-5 p.m., the director of the Texas Memorial Museum and professor of anthropology at the University of Texas, Dr. W. W. Newcomb Jr., will be on hand. Dr. Newcomb wrote the book, "The Rock Art of Texas Indians," which contains reproductions of Kirkland's works.

Mrs. Arthur D. Violette, who recently moved from Big Spring to Marshall, is currently being honored with a one-man show at the Marshall National Bank. The exhibit represents work she has done in the last 18 months, and includes about 25 paintings in collage, oils, polymer and glass. Mrs. Violette is teaching science and English at a small country school near Marshall.

Big Springer Helps Save Downed Pilot

A pilot downed by enemy aircraft 300 miles west of Manila in the South China Sea was rescued July 28 through efforts of Lt. I. W. Williams, a 1960 graduate of Big Spring High School.

According to a report by his commanding officer, Lt. Williams was flying a routine surveillance mission when a crew member spotted a red smoke flare and a missing pilot who had bailed out with two other crewmen during an attack the night before. When the sighting was reported to Lt. Williams, he made a low sweep over the pilot and dropped a raft until rescue ships could be contacted.

LT. I. W. WILLIAMS

There were no naval ships in the area, but an American merchant vessel 15 miles away was spotted. Radio contact failed and Lt. Williams made several low passes to draw attention to the downed pilot. Within an hour rescue operations were complete. The search continued for the other missing crewmen, but failed to locate the men.

Lt. Williams with his wife, Lillian, 1961 graduate of Big Spring High School, is stationed in the Philippines. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Williams, formerly of Big Spring and now residing in Mineola. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burnett, 1112 Main.

Jobs Needed For Youngsters

Afternoon jobs are needed for six of the 23 high school seniors enrolled in the Vocational Office Education program this fall, according to Mrs. Vonna Swim, VOE coordinator.

"Students in the program attend classes half a day, then receive on-the-job training in office work the other half," said Mrs. Swim. Those in the program must work a minimum of 15 hours each week and may not exceed a 25 hour maximum.

The student workers must be paid for their work, but Mrs. Swim pointed out that student permits issued program enrollees would require the employer to pay only 75 per cent of the minimum wage if the job is under the federal wage and hour law.

To qualify for the program, students must have at least one year of typing and another year of either shorthand or bookkeeping.

Any employers interested in helping with the program this year by employing a student for part-time office work should call Mrs. Swim at the high school, ext. 52, 267-7461; home, 263-6804.

Horoscope Forecast

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day for Sunday pursuits and to get yourself organized for the coming weeks by ridding yourself and your surroundings of whatever has become obsolete or unusable and for quietly renewing your mind in the finest consciousness to which you can aspire. Excellent for spiritual, artistic or cultural interests.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Refrain from going off on some tangent and do your utmost to assist those who are in trouble, worried. Be with your closest tie in p.m. Show that you are very devoted and really great happiness ensues.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be with good friends socially but don't feel that you have to spend a great deal of money on them. You are able now to ingeniously figure out how to gain some particular wish that you have. Do so. Follow your intuition.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show courtesy to everyone for best results today, especially persons in public authority. Be sure to do something about making your credit more as it should be. Then you find that all of your affairs are improved.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) This day of leisure will afford you an opportunity to garner the information that you need and has been unavailable before this. Be wise and get in touch with new friends. They pave the way for you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take time to tap your subconscious today and find the answers to certain problems that have been troubling you. Be more affectionate with loved one if you want true devotion in return. Be generous, also.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find out what associates expect of you in the days ahead and you really cement fine ties. Be out with congenials socially and relieve tensions that have been building up within you. Have a cheery attitude.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take time to make your home more comfortable and aesthetically beautiful. Then do something thoughtful for your buddies. Evening is the best time for enjoying yourself at whatever suits you most.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Avoid those drips who want to hang on to you like barnacles and be with interesting, fascinating persons you like. The one you love wants to be sure you are truly devoted. Be highly romantic in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Look about you and see if furniture needs changing around, other improvements need to be made in your home. Then sit down and plan how to become more affluent in the days ahead. Study your papers well for opportunities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Getting together with kin, neighbors, friends can start you on a new course of action that is mutually beneficial. Be sure you take time to handle correspondence wisely. Be brief, but kindly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Thinking over how to increase income is good, since you have a great deal of initiative. Think of some important and successful person you know in business. Then contact him for right advice.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal day to make those social calls that will further ingratiate you into the good graces of those you like. First be sure you get your appearance ideal. Then saunter off in a happy frame of mind.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will early in life, need to have a proven way of life to go by and cling to that will lead him, or her, up the ladder of success gradually and surely. Slant the education along humanitarian lines, since the heart is a tender one here and the need for such is great throughout the world. College is a must in this chart.

SUNDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a real chance now to tune in on whatever is best for you and this applies to both business and romantic interests plus an ability to gain through matters that have to do with cultural activities in the community in which you live, so be open-minded to what your prophetic insight tells you about any of these.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Follow that intuitive hunch you have that will assist you in improving the whole earnest endeavor of your life. This is also true in your romantic life. Be truly sincere with loved one; do not merely act a part.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Good day to contact close allies and show them where you feel they can be of the greatest assistance in your scheme of things. Accept a very worthwhile social invitation extended to you. Be smart, look smart.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You know what is expected from you by higher-ups, so don't wait to be told again but go ahead and execute your duties quickly and well. Partners can then give you a boost in the right direction. Be happy in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Others have data you need but will not relinquish it unless you show how much you will appreciate it. Contact that one of different background to yours and you get fine benefits. Show courtesy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keeping promises you have made to others scrupulously will gain you their cooperation and support in the future as well. Mate can be very understanding at this time. Go to him, or her, with your problems.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) By having long talks with others who are important in your life, you come to a real meeting of minds, gain stature. Then out to some place where you can have a wonderful time socially. Be charming.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is important that both your home and place of business are in clean and perfect order. Find some better system of operating. Doing more than your share of work can increase the harmony around you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Ideal day to plan social events of note, doing something really spectacular. You have some very fine talent that can be expressed now to your benefit. Get busy with it and really grow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A little time away from business to attend to family matters is wise since you increase harmony in that important sphere of your living. Then delve right into that vital project that brings big benefits. Keep busy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make those contacts that can bring you more income and happiness in the days ahead. Put in an excellent day's work. Then plan the evening with those you like the most for a delightful hour or two of fun.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be sure you get bills out so that you can collect checks very soon and put your affairs in better order. You have more than common sense right now. Use it to your fullest advantage. Be happier.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Planning for the future more intelligently is what you should do today, so get busy contacting the right people. Show ingenuity where social matters are concerned also. Cultivate new and fine acquaintances.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those persons who will comprehend the desires of others and will quickly give them assistance in their aims, so be sure to slant the education along lines of humanitarianism, since great success can come because of this wonderful quality in this nature. Pride Due For Elks Benefit Here

Appearing for the first time in Big Spring, under sponsorship of the Big Spring BPO Elks Lodge, will be Charley Pride, headlining "The Pride of Country Music Show."

Considered by many as the "hottest thing in country music" this season, Pride will star in the show scheduled for Monday, Oct. 2 in City Auditorium for one performance beginning at 8 p.m.

With the Elks proceeds going to the Texas Elks Crippled Children's Hospital, several advance ticket locations have been set up and are located at Gibson's, The Record Shop, Hull and Phillips No. 1 and No. 2, and at Prager's Men's Store. Advance prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

A recording star for RCA Victor in the infancy of his career, Pride appeared as a guest on the Grand Ole Opry and the nationally televised Lawrence Welk Show, among many other syndicated television programs. He has traveled the world appearing with some of the biggest names in country music.

Damage Suits Are Filed

Two damage suits were filed in 118th District Court Friday.

One of the suits stems from the incident of July 22 on Ninth Street, when a parked oil field truck rolled down a hill striking several cars in the course of its unguided journey.

The other suit is the result of a traffic collision at an intersection on July 29.

In the first petition, James T. Cypert, one of the owners whose auto was crushed by the truck, sues for the value of his car, the loss he claims of its services, and the rental he paid for a car to use until his own vehicle could be put back in service. The defendant is identified as Jack Taylor.

The second suit asks a combined total of $91,000 for injuries allegedly suffered by four plaintiffs. The plaintiffs are George W. King and his wife, Floydia; George Kelley and his wife, Stella. The defendant is Fred D. Null.

The petition alleges the four plaintiffs were in a car stopped at a light at Third and State Streets. They allege they were struck by the defendant's car.

DIABETICS ENDANGERED BY FOOT PROBLEMS

Infected corns, callouses, problem ingrown toenails, thickened toenails with ulcers at shoe pressure points, fungus and bacterial infections are the most common foot problems associated with diabetes.

To help overcome the lesser healing powers of most diabetics, strict cleanliness is a must. Strong antiseptics, and the usual patent corn and callous remedies should be used only with the approval of a physician or podiatrist. Ulcers and infections require immediate attention by a physician. We can cooperate with your physician and podiatrist by supplying any product they may prescribe or suggest.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Scout Night Plans Made

More than three score adults took part in a planning session Thursday evening for the impending Boy (and Cub) Scout night at all elementary schools on Sept. 26.

Leon Miller, Scout executive, and Joe A. Moss, chairman of the special recruiting effort, explained to the coordinators and commissioners how they can help the event be successful.

Letters are going out to boys of Scout age (11 years and up) and to parents of those of Cub age (8-9-10) urging them to be at their elementary school at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 26. Representatives from the various units will be present to enroll Scouts and Cubs, and to talk with parents who might be interested as helpers or leaders.

At the planning session at First Federal Savings and Loan Association's community room were these school coordinators: Airport, E. M. Boyd; Bauer, Hubert Huibregtse; Boydstun, Herman Smith; Cedar Crest, Tom Henry; College Heights, J. A. Beam; Gay Hill, George Archer; Kentwood, J. C. Holmes; Lakeview, E. S. Morgan; Marcy, W. R. Dawes; Moss, W. M. Irwin; Park Hill, Wendell Huddleston; Washington, J. W. Cushing; also Immaculate Heart of Mary School, Bill Snead.

Ackerly Church Slates Formal Plant Opening

Formal opening and consecration services will be held next Sunday for a new educational unit and remodeled sanctuary at the First Methodist Church in Ackerly.

A full program of afternoon events is scheduled after lunch is served at the church. Dr. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor at the time the present structure was built, will deliver the sermon at consecration services at 3:30 p.m. Now serving the Austin Avenue Methodist Church in Waco, Dr. Hollowell will fly to Big Spring after the morning services in time to reach Ackerly for the afternoon service.

Also on the program is Dr. Hubert Bratcher, district superintendent; the Rev. Raymond Riley of Meadow, former pastor under whose leadership the building program started; the Rev. Roy Patterson, present pastor of the church; other former ministers.

Members of the building committee are V. J. Coleman, O'Brian Bowlin and Joe Moore. Mrs. Joe Lemon is in charge of compiling a complete history of the church and those on the arrangement committee are Mrs. V. J. Coleman, Lester Brown and Mrs. O'Brian Bowlin.

Orientation Set At VA

An orientation and training session will be held Tuesday at the Veteran's Administration Hospital for adult volunteers. Registration will begin at 8:45 a.m. in the hospital's second floor recreation hall, followed by a welcome by Donald D. Van Meter, director.

Presiding at the session will be Mrs. Ara Cunningham, director of voluntary service. Other staff members in charge of parts of the program are: Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff; Henry Dirks, biochemist; R. W. Waters, assistant chief, medical administration service; Francis Branch, business services division; Martin Staggs, engineering division; Mrs. Florence Dickerman, assistant chief dietetic service; C. O. Hitt, hospital chaplain; Rex Bishop, coordinator of PM&R service; Harold Lyles, chief of social work service; Mrs. Joyce Probst, acting chief of nursing service; Mrs. Josephine Smith, clinical nursing supervisor.

A tour of the hospital and interviews for work assignments will conclude the session. For further information, call Mrs. Cunningham at the hospital, 263-7361.

Teacher Guides Seals Work

Mrs. Alton (Vernay) Cook, a teacher in the Moss Elementary School who lives in Garden City, was named the Easter Seal representative for Crippled Children and Adults of Glasscock County, according to Robert N. Eastus Jr., West Texas representative for the Easter Seal Society of Texas.

Mrs. Cook will refer cases in Glasscock County that are in need of treatment to the State Easter Seal Society and will serve as treasurer of the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

ANNOUNCEMENT EXPECTED; TO GUARD AGAINST RED CHINA

'Thin' Antimissile Defense System Being Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has informed key Pentagon and congressional officials of President Johnson's historic decision to deploy a "thin" antimissile system to guard against nuclear attack by Red China, it was learned Saturday. McNamara gave the word at a secret Pentagon meeting on Friday, sources said. He swore all those present to remain silent until a formal announcement is made.

MONDAY

The announcement may come Monday in a speech McNamara is making to an editors group in San Francisco. But some authorities suggested there is a possibility that Johnson may order the announcement delayed.

However, Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., gave a tipoff that it is coming in a speech prepared for the Reserve Officers Association at Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

Bennett said the Defense Department "appears to have finally broken the logjam which has held up the much needed development of an antiballistic missile system."

Bennett, a senior member of the House Armed Services committee, said "It has just been revealed recently that funds have been spent on hardware items for the deployment of an ABM system from the $167.9 million Congress provided for this but which the Defense Department has heretofore refused to use."

DEVELOPMENT

"This is an apparent indication that our nation is finally about to embark on the full development of an ABM system," Bennett said, adding: "I expect Secretary McNamara will soon make a statement on this subject."

Sources said the decision is to deploy a screen of missile-killing Nike-X batteries at a cost of from $3 billion to possibly $6 billion. Construction would take an estimated five years.

Such a system could be the base for a thicker defense later on, with additional batteries of long-range Spartan and short-range Sprint missiles installed to protect some 25 major U.S. cities. This would cost about $10 billion.

McNamara has said that what he calls an "austere defense" against a Chinese-type threat probably could "preclude damage in the 1970s almost entirely."

CLEAR

However, he has made it quite clear that he believes the expenditure of up to $40 billion to guard the United States against the kind of sophisticated saturation attack which could be mounted by Russia would fall short of doing the job.

Regardless of how extensive such a defense was, McNamara believes the Soviets could inflict millions of casualties on the American population.

So his strategy is to emplace so many U.S. offensive missiles in underground silos and submarines that a Soviet defensive system would be overwhelmed. Knowing this, McNamara and his experts believe, the Soviets would be deterred from attacking the United States.

But the Chinese present a different case. McNamara has estimated the Red Chinese could have a significant intercontinental missile force in position by the mid-1970s.

Considering the relative primitiveness of such a late-starting Chinese missile force, McNamara believes the Nike-X system could effectively thwart a Chinese attack.

BY 1972

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said Friday night that it believes the Chinese could have an intercontinental ballistic missile threat in place by 1972—somewhat earlier than McNamara's estimate.

JERRY MANCILL

CLU Award Given Mancill

Jerry Mancill, Big Spring representative for United Fidelity Life Insurance Co., was awarded the Chartered Life Underwriter designation during the National conferment exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters in Chicago, Ill., recently.

The college grants the C.L.U. designation to persons engaged in insuring human life values and who pass a series of professional examinations and meet experience and ethical requirements. This year 1,775 men and women will be awarded the designation, bringing to 17,391 the number of people who have received it since the College was founded in 1927.

Mancill took special courses over three years to earn the designation, taking his exams at Abilene Christian College.

He entered the insurance field at Dallas in 1949, coming to Big Spring in 1955 and has been associated with the Stripling-Mancill Insurance Agency since, with offices in the Caylor Building, 600 Main. He has been active in numerous civic enterprises here.

Mr. and Mrs. Mancill make their home at 603 Colgate. They have four children: Dana, 12, a student at Runnels Junior High School; Vanessa, 9, and Kirk, 6, students in Washington Place School; and Chris, 5, in kindergarten at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

The C.L.U. program was established to meet the professional education needs of the men and women who provide life and health insurance service for the public. The courses cover such areas as: fundamentals of life and health insurance; group insurance, health insurance and pensions; law, trusts and taxation; economics and finance; and business insurance and estate planning.

The typical candidate for the C.L.U. designation enrolls in a special study class at a college or university and spends four to five years in the program.

Fiesta Today At Hospital

An estimated 250 persons are expected to participate this afternoon as the Big Spring State Hospital observes Mexican Independence Day for the first time.

Volunteers from St. Thomas and Sacred Heart Catholic churches are in charge of a program of songs, dances and games in the Allred building of the hospital's auditorium.

"Since almost 25 per cent of our patients are Latin Americans, we hope the observance will be well attended—even if the celebration will be a day after the actual holiday," said Mary Thomas, director of personnel.

The fiesta will be held from 2-5 p.m., beginning with the American and Spanish national anthems. Songs will be sung by Lydia Molina and Chico Rubio, while a dance group will provide later entertainment with music by the Tommy Ologue orchestra. Bingo will be played under the direction of Tiny Molina.

Martin Farmers To See Results Of New Chemical

STANTON — Midland and Martin County farmers are to be guests of the Dow Chemical Co. on a tour of a number of Martin County cotton farms Tuesday.

They will inspect the results achieved by the treatment of the land with a chemical to fumigate it against nematodes. The tour will begin at 9 a.m. in the Stanton City Park and will terminate at 2:30 p.m. at the park where a barbecue dinner will be served.

The tour will take the farmers to the farms of Roy Koonce, Homer Hinson, Eddie Cook, Darrel Quaid and Pete Morrison.

At each of these farms, certain parts of the land planted to cotton were treated by the owners with Fumazone, a chemical designed to destroy nematodes. Spokesmen for the company said that nematodes are an insect pest which is credited by the USDA with damaging the nation's agricultural production by 10 per cent.

The pest is so minute that 8,000 can be placed on a man's thumb nail.

The tour will show cotton treated against the pest adjoining other fields where the fumigant was not used.

Representing Dow on the tour will be A. Charles Fischer, Lubbock, and Kirt Skinner, Houston. All farmers are invited to attend the tour and take part in the luncheon.

Milwaukee Marchers Get Little Attention

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A group of some 650 civil rights demonstrators, including more than 200 visiting clergymen and nuns, circled safely through the virtually all-white South Side Saturday night while white counter-demonstrators were rallying at a park.

The marchers carrying the campaign for an open occupancy law through its 20th consecutive day were led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory and Mrs. Dale Phillips, only Negro member of Milwaukee's Common Council and author of a four-times-rejected housing bill.

Rev. James E. Groppi, the white priest who has led the NAACP's Milwaukee Youth Council on most of its marathon processions, remained at St. Boniface Church to rest.

Participants in the march said it included 40 representatives from Kansas City, 45 from Minneapolis and St. Paul and groups from Omaha, Neb., Jackson, Miss. and Davenport, Iowa. They came as three powerful Lutheran groups in Wisconsin joined an increasing number of religious organizations voicing support of Father Groppi's campaign.

Police called for reinforcements Saturday night as the march crossed the 16th Street viaduct into the South Side area where white crowds have battled police repeatedly in past days, but the demonstrators moved south, then went east and returned to the North Side on the 6th Street viaduct, a traffic route through largely industrial areas.

However, they attracted only mildly curious spectators and no manifestations of hostility on the route, with the by-standers attention apparently drawn to the comparatively large number of white marchers in clerical garb.

Meanwhile the articulate opposition was attending a rally at Kosciuszko Park, only a few blocks from the line of march.

NEWS BRIEFS

Named In Murder Of Three Girls

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A former college student charged with murdering three girls in Alabama was arrested Saturday in a Miami home where he was employed to care for an invalid.

Eward Albert Seibold, 21, had taken the job the day before FBI agents entered his room while he was asleep. He surrendered without resistance.

Seibold is accused of fatally stabbing Elizabeth Sinclair, 18, and killing her sister, Mary Lynn, 9, and a neighbor, Mary Durant, 8, with shotgun blasts. The killings occurred at the Sinclair home in Auburn, Ala., shortly after midnight Sept. 7.

Seibold was placed in the Dade County jail. He will be given a hearing Monday before a U.S. commissioner on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

Typhoon Rakes Wake

WAKE ISLAND (AP) — Seashore areas of low-lying Wake Island were flooded Saturday by high waves whipped up by the 140-mile an hour winds of Typhoon Sarah.

The powerful storm blew off some roofs, smashed windows and stopped power generation, but only two minor injuries were reported.

Between 500 and 600 dependents of Federal Aviation Administration personnel stationed on the island 2,300 miles west of Hawaii, may be evacuated from the tiny island, a spokesman for the FAA said.

The storm damaged communication facilities, smashed windows, flooded equipment with wind-driven rain in the airport tower.

The typhoon lifted the roof from the island's power plant, putting the plant out of action.

LBJ Using Barry's Policies?

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Barry Goldwater says President Lyndon B. Johnson today is following "almost to the letter" the policies in Vietnam that he advocated in 1964 as the Republican candidate for president.

Robert S. McNamara, Goldwater also asserts, "can't do a good job" as Secretary of Defense because "he doesn't have the knowledge."

Goldwater's comments are published Sunday by the Arizona Republic in an interview ranging over current questions and his reflections on the presidential campaign in which he was badly defeated by Johnson. The interview is captioned: "Goldwater, three years after."

The Arizona Republic published the interview in the form of question and answers. The highlights:

Q. Do you feel that President Johnson is in any way following the 'Goldwater position' in Vietnam?

A. I wouldn't call it the Goldwater position, but it is the position I advocated in my campaign and he is following it almost to the letter.

When asked to specify the meaning of "almost to the letter," Goldwater replied: The only thing he's not doing, which we advocated then and still advocate, is destroying the piles of supplies lining the port of Haiphong."

Giant GM Is Target

WASHINGTON (AP) —. The giant General Motors Corp., and not the strikebound Ford Motor Co., is said to be the main target of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers.

This was reported Saturday by sources close to union President Walter Reuther. They indicated that although Ford was picked for first strike action, the battle with GM could make the Ford struggle pale by comparison. The Ford strike of 160,000 workers is now in its second week amid predictions for a long walkout. But the union is girding for an even tougher expected battle involving more than 400,000 workers at General Motors.

The Auto Workers will take on GM as soon as the Ford strike is settled, sources said.

"If there is not a substantial change in the attitude of General Motors' bargaining, we will most certainly have a strike," Auto Workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock said last week.

The union struck Ford first in order to set an industry pattern on wages and other money items so it can concentrate on working conditions and union practices at General Motors, regarded as the toughest employer, sources said.

The union was described as particularly angry at General Motors policies in some plants which the Auto Workers charge are designed to "corrupt" union officers.

Union sources said this involves individual plant managers giving union grievance officials eight hours a day to work on union business, rather than the three hours provided for by official agreement.

The Auto Workers say they also want to win the right at General Motors for workers to go directly to union officers with grievances during working hours, instead of first getting permission from a foreman.

Condemnation Hearings Set

Hearings looking toward the condemnation of 4,014 acres of land in Coke County for the new lake reservoir on the Colorado River will begin Monday at 10 a.m. in Robert Lee.

Mrs. Helen Harris Willcockson, joined by her husband, J. R. Willcockson, and others who have minor interests, are named in the suit by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The hearing before a jury of view commission of three men may require most of the week.

If and when the district obtains this tract, it will leave less than 100 acres not in the process of being deeded or under agreement.

Population Up

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's population increased to 20,450,000 by last June 1, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced on the basis of its annual estimate. Largest provincial percentage increases were 3.9 reported in British Columbia and 2.7 in Ontario.

Lottery Planned

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies has approved and sent to the Senate a bill to set up a national lottery to help promote Chilean sports. It would be Chile's third national lottery.

Small School Study Planned

Roy Thruston, superintendent of Garden City Schools, and M. B. Maxwell, superintendent of Sands, joined with heads of other neighboring county schools in an executive committee meeting Thursday afternoon in the Student Union Building of Howard County Junior College to make basic plans for the recently formed Region XIII Pilot Study Group of the Texas Small Schools Association.

Charles Bitters, educational program director of Texas Education Agency, and director of the Texas Small Schools Project, discussed the possibilities and benefits of such an organization.

Officers heading the executive committee are: chairman, L. M. Dawson, superintendent of Fluvana school; vice chairman, James McLeroy, superintendent of the Borden County schools; secretary, E. A. Deering, county school superintendent of Dawson County.

Region XIII Pilot Study Group is made up of the teachers, board members, county superintendents, interested civic leaders, and the superintendents of the member schools. Its purpose is to study problems and situations unique to schools with an enrollment of less than 500, and offer in-service training, workshops and planning sessions to meet the desires and needs of these school systems.

Each member school will select an advisory committee of five persons, who will work with their individual schools as well as with the executive committee in making plans for each meeting session. This committee will consist of the superintendent, the county superintendent, a teacher, a board member, and a civic leader.

College May Break Records

Howard County Junior College stands in a fair way to break enrollment records.

Saturday at noon the total had reached 1,017 and there were several yet to be finally processed.

Registration continues Monday, when classes will begin.

The previous record was established in 1965 when 1,026 signed. This figure included 575, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, said that HCJC may exceed this figure also.

Only those who have signed in semester-hour programs have been counted. There are 60 or more who are in other classes, but which are in effect short term courses, and these are not counted in the totals.

Last year the final enrollment showed a head count of 978. The decline was due in a large measure to the Vietnam war, which cut sharply into the number enrolled from Webb AFB and also into the number of beginning male freshmen. This disparity has been more than made up, said Dr. Hunt.

DEATHS

Mrs. Marguerite Smith, Veteran Cosden Employe

Mrs. Marguerite (Maggie) Smith, resident of Big Spring for more than 25 years and a long-time employe of Cosden, died Saturday morning in a local hospital. She had suffered an apparent stroke Thursday evening at her home in Sand Springs and was taken to the hospital then.

Funeral services are to be Monday at 3 p.m. in the River-Welch Chapel, with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be in the City Cemetery.

Mrs. Smith was born in Leavenworth County, Kans., and was educated in Missouri. In Kansas City, she worked for a time for the Taxman Refining Co., which handled products from the old Cosden refinery at Tulsa. She later worked for Rock Island Refining Co., then came to Texas in 1937, living first at Midland. She came to Big Spring in 1941, joining Cosden in the sales department, later was in sales accounting, until her retirement in December, 1964.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and for many years was active in her Sunday School class there. She was a charter member of both the Desk and Derrick and the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and had served on the board of the Crippled Children's Society here.

Survivors are an aunt, Mrs. Rachel O'Cobbell, Alto Loma, Calif.; two cousins, Mrs. Margaret Dinsmore, Galesburg, Ill., and Miss Mary Beth O'Connell, Paris, France. Mrs. Smith made her home for 17 years with an intimate friend, Zudora Peterson.

It was requested that memorials be made to the Big Spring State Hospital chapel fund.

Nixon Warns GOP Hopefuls

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon Saturday warned fellow contenders for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968 not to run on a platform of "peace at any price" in Vietnam.

"This would be a Pyhrric victory—the candidate might win, but the Republican president would soon have another war on his hands," Nixon said in an interview with The Associated Press.

Nixon didn't mention him, but Michigan Gov. George Romney, one of his rivals, has said that during a 1965 visit to Saigon he was "brainwashed" to support administration policies on Vietnam. Romney has questioned the need for the original U.S. involvement in Vietnam, has not suggested that the United States pull out now.

Nixon appeared closer to the position of Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, another possible candidate for the nomination Reagan has called for intensification of the war, aimed at a quick victory.

Scouts Hold Training Class

Upwards of 60 boys and leaders are taking part in the Boy Scout junior leader training course this weekend.

The session at the Roundup grounds began at 4 p.m. Friday and will break up at 11 a.m. today following church services.

Fifty-eight senior patrol leaders, the patrol leaders, assistants, scribes, quartermasters and other troop officers signed for the course.

Arrangements were in charge of Ben G. Crocker, district training chairman, and Lt. W. M. Harken, Big Spring training chairman.

The boys organized into patrols and they furnished their own food and did their own cooking during the weekend school. Each boy successfully completing the school will receive a green bar patch.

James Bailey, Former Resident

COLORADO CITY (SC) — James F. Bailey, 53, long-time Mitchell County resident, died Wednesday in Sacramento, Calif.

Services are pending at Kiker and Son Funeral Home in Colorado City.

Mr. Bailey was born Nov. 4, 1913, in Smith County. He lived in Colorado City from 1921-1952 and had lived in Sacramento for several years. He was a World War II veteran.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Lillian Bailey, Colorado City; three daughters, Misses Vivian and Sandra Bailey, Abilene, Mrs. Maxine Rogers, Los Angeles, Calif; one son, Henry Bailey, Los Angeles, Calif.; three sisters, Miss Vivian Bailey, Colorado City, Mrs. Ben Foster, Amarillo, Mrs. Thelma Willis, Louisiana; two brothers, Woodrow Bailey, Oakland, Calif., and Matthew Bailey, New Mexico.

Robert G. Page, Former Resident

Robert G. Page, 45, former resident of Big Spring and manager of Barnes - Pelletier Shoes in 1955-56, died last Sunday in a Lubbock Hospital.

Services were held Wednesday in Lubbock.

At the time of his death, Mr. Page was manager of a Lubbock shoe store. He had previously operated stores in Odessa and San Angelo.

He is survivied by his wife, Elizabeth, and one daughter, Toinette.

Frank P. Rubio, Monday Rites

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in St. Thomas Catholic Church for Frank Parras Rubio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benito Rubio. The infant was stillborn Saturday morning.

Officiating at the service will be the Rev. Leo St. John, O.M.I. Interment will be in city cemetery under the direction of Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors are his parents; three brothers, Benito Rubio Jr., Rudy Rubio, Oscar Rubio; two sisters, Maria Rubio, Margie Rubio; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Santos S. Paris; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rubio. All are of Big Spring.

Would Risk Involvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said Saturday the United States must take the risk of Chinese and Russian involvement if intensified bombing of North Vietnam promises to end the war more quickly.

'GREAT CONCERN'

Case, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he thinks President Johnson has decided to intensify the bombing of military targets in an effort to end the war sooner.

He said he has "very great concern about this risky business" because no one knows what might trigger the Chinese or Russians to enter the conflict.

But he added: "I have not felt that the risk should not be taken to the extent that the bombing is important in reducing the supply of materials and men into the South.

"My own judgment is that if we are going to have a war, we have to do everything that's reasonable to support our forces and if the supply of materials and men into South Vietnam from North Vietnam . . . is being significantly reduced, then this is a risk we must take."

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, complained that the Johnson administration "has led us into a no-win policy which refuses the use of American power to end the war and promises us instead only unending casualty lists."

Case recorded his views in a television program taped for New York stations. Tower expressed his view in the prepared text of an Owensboro, Ky., speech.

CITES FAILURE

Case said the "great failure" of the Johnson administration has been an unsuccessful effort to get the South Vietnamese government to make social reforms that would give it wider support among the people.

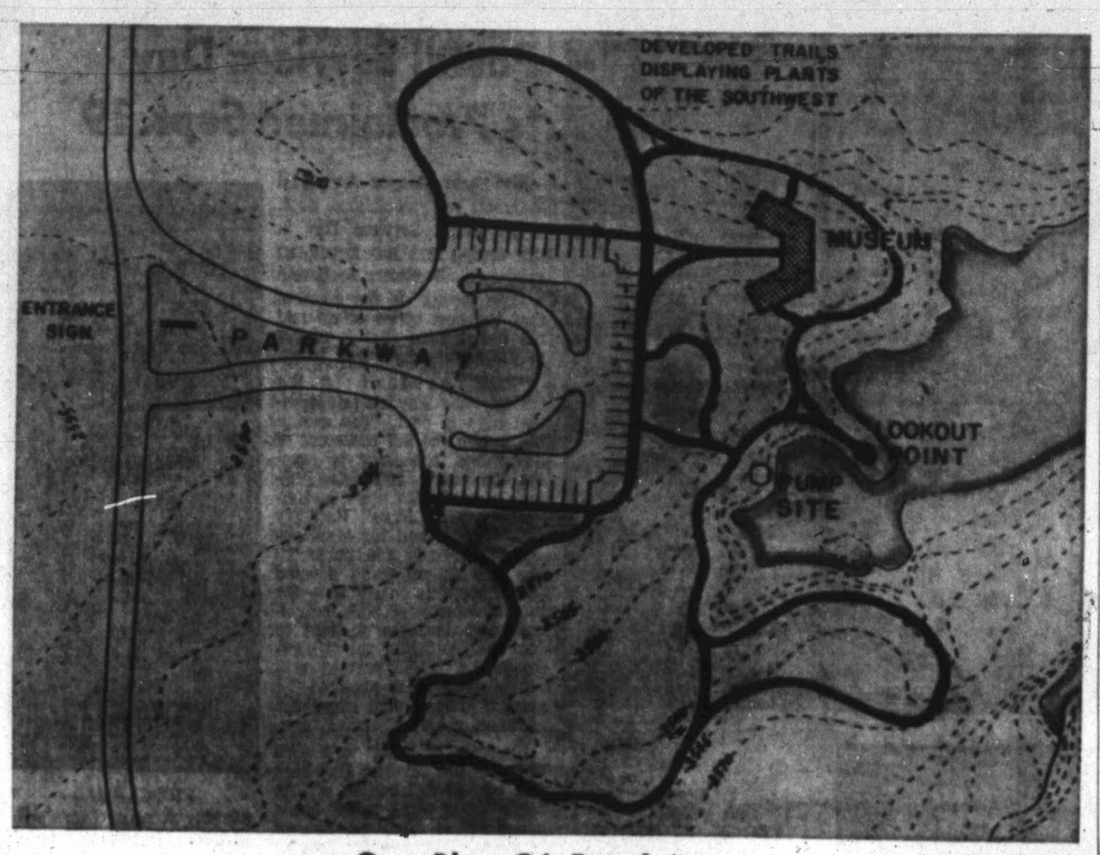

New Prison

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek minister of public order, Paul Tomotis, reported 2,000 political prisoners on Yioura island are being transferred to more suitable winter quarters on the Dodecansese island of Leros, about 200 miles away. Leros, five miles off the Turkish coast, held political prisoners during the 1947-49 Green Communist uprising.

Weather Forecast

Rain and showers are expected in the central Appalachians and the southern portions of the Middle Atlantic states Sunday. A band of showers and thundershowers is forecast for the South and Central Plains and the Rockies. Some snow is expected in the higher elevations of the Rockies. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

One Plan Of Development

When development of the original "big spring" was first talked during the Master Plan discussions, Marvin Springer, Dallas city planner, made this presentation to a group of residents. More discussions on the development will be forthcoming by a mayor's committee soon, and Springer is expected back to offer his suggestions. The eventual plan might follow this outline. The road at left is close to the present roadway to the site.

RJHS Elects Cheerleaders

By ZONELL MIEARS

Runnels elected seventh grade cheerleaders Wednesday. They are Dana Mancill, Laurie Fort, Ann Nicholson, Janell Wright, and Deanna Wilderson.

The new gym was opened Friday for the girls P.E. classes. The new activity room was completed last week.

Elections of class officers of both the seventh and eighth grades will be held next Tuesday.

The band twirlers for this year are Joanie Arrick, Carol Nanny, and Sherry Wickline, feature twirler.

The library has announced that each student must have an activity card to check out books. There will be 29 student assistants working in the library to help all students.

The eighth grade football boys went to Snyder Thursday night. A pep rally was held that afternoon at which the band played and Mr. Bobby Zellars gave a pep talk.

Funnels Seen All Over County

Five funnel clouds throughout Howard County were reported sighted Friday evening. Police received a report at 6:21 p.m. from Webb Air Force Base and Ike Rupard, caretaker at Moss Creek Lake, saw a funnel cloud in the Sand Springs - Coahoma area.

Three others were sighted near Flower Grove, although none touched ground. The fifth was reported near Ackerly.

First Steps Taken For Development Of 'Spring' Site

The first steps of a race against time has started for the development of the original "big spring" site here, from which the city has taken its name.

The City of Big Spring last Tuesday approved accepting the acreage surrounding the site, and the mayor immediately began naming a committee to make plans for the development. Some members of the committee have already given the matter considerable thought, having previously met with City Planner Marvin Springer, who made his suggestions in the form of the accompanying map.

Once the committee is organized, Springer will return for more talks and the work on the site will probably begin as quickly as possible. The City Commission is working toward having the site ready in order to attract travelers expected through here next year.

"In addition to the normal traffic on IS 20 and US 87, next year these highways will be carrying additional traffic headed for the HemisFair in San Antonio and the Olympic Games in Mexico City," City Manager Larry Crow pointed out.

"We would like to have as much done as possible, to make it attractive and pleasant, in order to give the city a good image in the minds of these visitors," he added.

He pointed out the difficulty in completely developing the site in so short a time but he said there is ample time to get signs erected so that a stranger can find his way to it; some road development can be completed; and a general clean-up of the area—eliminating brush, etc.—can be accomplished.

Crow made another point concerning the spring:

"Although it is important as a tourist attraction, the development also should be done in order to point up the background and heritage of this area for our own community."

Knott To Seek One Of Trucks

Residents of Knott, meeting Thursday in the community center, voted to ask the Howard County Commissioners Court to station one of the four fire trucks, recently purchased for county fire fighting, at Knott. John Jones agreed to furnish water, and a committee of Robert Brown, Jerry Roman, and Claude Nichols will make the request.

Martha Couch and David Adkins, who recently made a trip to Washington, D.C., told about their trip and screened some color slides.

In other business, residents were urged to use the local post office, and "slow" or "stop" signs were urged to be placed at the edge of the city.

Corrosion Tour Planned

Final plans have been made for the 12th Permian Basin corrosion tour which will headquarter at the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa. Dates for the tour will be Sept. 20-22.

Registration will begin at 5 p.m. Sept. 20. At 8 p.m., W. H. Chapman, chief systems corrosion engineer for El Paso Natural Gas Company in El Paso, will present a talk entitled, "Ten Ways to Combat Corrosion." Following this, Paul Bansbach, with Tretolite Company of St. Louis, will present a paper on corrosion inhibition.

Registrants will tour exhibits by chartered, air - conditioned buses on Sept. 21. During the morning, El Paso Product Company's Petrochemical Complex and Shell Oil Company's Refinery will be toured. Following lunch, Shell Pipeline's El Capitan Reef Water Line will be inspected, plus the following waterfloods: Continental Oil Company's Gist Unit, Gulf Oil Corporation's Goldsmith 5600' Unit, and Pan American Petroleum Corporation's Landreth Unit.

Following breakfast on Sept. 22, Joe Rench, executive vice president for Napko Corporation in Houston, will present a paper on protective coatings.

Lubbock Couple Hurt In Car Mishap Here

A Lubbock couple is in good condition at Medical Arts Hospital after receiving lacerations and bruises in a two-car collision at noon Saturday at 808 Lamesa Drive.

Injured were Ector Eugene Saunders and his wife, Margaret Jo Saunders, Lubbock. Saunders drove one of the cars involved in the collision; driver of the second car was Hinio Moreno, 100 NE 10th.

Robert Leon Callihan, 4220 Hamilton, is listed in good condition at Hall - Bennett Memorial Hospital from injuries received Friday evening when his car and a fence at Seventh and Lancaster were in collision.

Six other traffic mishaps dotted the police report for the same 24-hour period. Fourth and Lancaster was the scene of an accident between Aurora Sanchez, Stanton, and Eddie McLain, 713 Lorilla. Later the same location was the scene of another accident involving a car driven by Chester L. Hill Jr., WAFB, and another which left the scene.

John Merwin Beal, Ackerly, and Judy Diane Mitchell, 1623 E. 3rd, were in collision in the 1600 block of East Third. Catorino M. Nunez Jr., 907 NW 5th and another car which left the scene were in collision at 411 NW 7th.

Saturday, Richard Regdow, 1519 Tucson, and Mary Mosser, 3214 Cornell, were in collision at Grafa and South Monticello. The Safeway parking lot was the scene of an accident between the parked car of Dr. M. A. Porter and another which left the scene.

kind of flood. The 4.11 measured at the U.S. Experiment Farm was the third greatest for a 24-hour period in nearly 70 years of measuring here. Countless low streets and intersections were flooded, stalling scores of cars. It appeared several times that downtown stores would be swamped, but then the rain would slacken enough to let the water run down a bit. All that saved us was that the near-cloudburst came in waves. Oddly, most of the rain was concentrated within a few miles radius of Big Spring, although much of the county did get an inch or more, which will be helpful to the scant crops.

The new medical facilities project for Webb AFB cleared another major hurdle last week when the Senate Armed Services Committee authorized $2,121,000 for the hospital to replace the 25-year-old rambling, frame plant. Two other Webb projects brought the total authorization to $2,292,000.

Gabe Hammack, county ASC manager, confirmed a hard fact—that Howard County this year has but 27,079 acres of cotton. That means we are looking at a 10,000-bale crop (or only slightly better if everything goes right), far off the 57,000 bales last year. But then our producers will receive $1,400,000 in government checks for the 45,557 acres they turned back.

The Big Spring Steers, which could never be faulted for effort from the beginning, looked substantially better in their second game of the season against Plainview. They won't face much more glazing speed than they saw in a couple of Plainview backs, but they ground out an impressive win nevertheless. A couple of key injuries could make the victory a costly one, however.

Vandals struck the FFA livestock feeding barn again last week, this time slashing up several hogs, carrying off one and inflicting such grievous wounds that two others had to be destroyed. This is the sort of thing that makes you wish you could get your hands on those weird characters.

Howard County Junior College finished its registration week with more than 1,000 signed up in its various courses. Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, is looking for a substantial number of others to enroll this week before the deadline falls.

The Big Spring Independent School District got final word last week that the Head Start program had been budgeted for another year. An allotment of $155,035 has been made to finance this pre-school program to help get children with language and other handicaps ready for regular first grade work.

Col. C. B. Estes has been named as the successor to Col. George E. Franks as the Air Base commander at Webb when Col. Franks retires next February. And when that happens, it will seem like one of the cornerstones has been chipped out.

The past week had its quota of violence, and then some.

Alfred Uribe went wading in Moss Creek Lake, stepped into a hole and drowned. In Dallas, James Darrell White, formerly of Big Spring, was killed, and his body was brought back here to be laid to final rest. Then the Howard Loyd family — all five members—was found dead in the wreckage of his plane on a lofty and lonely mountain peak in Mexico. Last rites were held here Friday, writing finis to the most tragic chapter in mishap for Big Spring people. In another plane at the same time the four members of the John C. Polone family died.

About the most bizarre accident in a long time occurred when the motorcycle driven by Ron Lee Fuson went out of control, missed a concessions stand but hit a ladder. This plopped down over the driver's head, who sailed out of control for another 250 feet before it all ended up in a pile. Fortunately, almost miraculously, he was not badly hurt.

Downpour Places Fourth In History's Rain Here

Speaking of rain (which nearly everyone was Saturday), Bill Fryrear, superintendent of the U.S. Experiment Station, has been doing a little research into the subject.

He has been digging into the old files to find out about rains in September in this community and how they compare with the clodbustin' downpour of 4.11 inches which was enjoyed here Thursday afternoon and night.

"Our rain was dandy," says Fryrear, "but the books show it will have to take fourth place as to size compared with three other September rains of the past."

The granddaddy rain of all, his records show, was 48 years ago on Sept. 15, 1919. It rained 5.45 inches in that 24 hour interval.

Second high was of more recent history — Sept. 4, 1962. The rain gauged at the station that day totalled 4.92.

No. 3 was Sept. 6, 1932, when it rained 4.86 inches.

Thursday's welcome rains, with 4.11, drops into fourth spot he figures.

Scuba Class Starts Thursday

The YMCA's Scuba Diving course is scheduled to start Thursday evening, and persons 16 years or older are invited to make inquiry at the Y.

Thursday's session will be given over to organization, and no equipment is needed at the outset. The class will meet twice weekly until the course of instruction is completed, probably toward the end of November.

Fee for members is $17.50, to help cover expenses, and for non-members it is $30.

Dr. J. P. Darby and Dr. Floyd Mays will head a staff of five instructors, all experienced in this field.

During the course, there will be at least a couple of field trips to large lakes.

Heroes Honored

Medals Given Survivors Of Soldiers Killed In Vietnam

The widow of a Big Spring man, killed in Vietnam, and the mother of another casualty of the same war, Thursday morning received decorations of a grateful nation and the nation where they died for the soldiers' contribution to blocking the spread of communism.

The men honored were S. Sgt. Reymundo Gomez and Spec. 5 Richard Spangler. Making the presentations, at two separate ceremonies, was Col. Philip Moore, Albuquerque, N.M., and Sgt. B. E. Thomas.

Accepting the medals were Mrs. Ursula Gomez, widow of Sgt. Gomez, and Mrs. Walt Davis, mother of Spec. 5 Spangler.

The presentation of the Vietnamese Military Merit Medal and the Vietnamese Gallantry Cross was made to Mrs. Davis in the Carl Street Church of Christ. Spangler died of wounds received last Nov. 5. Since his death his mother has received half a dozen decorations, including two Purple Hearts, honoring her son.

Mrs. Ursula Gomez, 2606 Cindy, and her three children, Michael, 6, Daniel, 8, and Connie, 10, accepted the medals and decorations honoring Sgt. Gomez at their home.

Sgt. Gomez was killed in action in Vietnam April 1.

His widow and children received from Col. Moore, the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star, both from the U.S. Army; the Military Merit Medal and the Gallantry Cross with palm from the Vietnamese government.

Citations reciting the story of the two mens' courage and lauding their leadership, accompanied the medals and were read by Col. Moore.

Test Dates Announced

The test date for the 22nd annual national competitive NROTC examination has been set Dec. 9. Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit applications before Nov. 17.

The regular NROTC program offers an opportunity for a young man to gain a regular commission while studying at one of 52 NROTC colleges and universities. The Navy furnishes tuition, fees, books, and uniforms, plus a subsistence allowance of $50 per month to NROTC midshipmen. Each summer NROTC midshipmen go on at-sea training periods. After completing his college course and all military requirements, a midshipman is commissioned as a regular officer in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty.

The program is available to male high school seniors and graduates who will have reached their seventeenth but not twenty-first birthday by July 1, 1968. Those who make a qualifying score on the Navy College Aptitude Test will be interviewed and given thorough medical examinations early in 1968. Approximately 1,700 young men from those remaining in competition will be selected to attend college next September to prepare for naval service.

NROTC bulletins of information and application forms are available from the local Navy recruiter, Jerry Waggener, located in the Post Office Building, phone 263-3851.

Postal Services Day Is Proclaimed Sept. 19

Big Spring Mayor Arnold Marshall has proclaimed Sept. 19 as Postal Services Day in Big Spring and has issued an appeal to all citizens to devote a little thought to the services that the post office offers and the contribution that it makes to the community's well being.

"Each resident of Big Spring," the Mayor's proclamation says in part, "has available to him the full resources of advancing technology to process the ever - increasing volume of mail with speed and efficiency . . . Frank Hardesty (postmaster) and his employes are our friends and neighbors in addition to being devoted public servants . . . it is to the mutual interest of both individuals and business mailers to cooperate with the postal service in its public service programs designed to promote the general welfare and serve the common good."

Hardesty said that a feature of the Postal Services Day here will be the distribution of kits made up of eight postal cards which will enable Big Springers to update their mailing lists by having ZIP codes added.

Each completed card, Hardesty said, will be sent to the post office which serves the address needing the ZIP code. There the proper five digit number will be listed and the form returned to the mailer. No postage is needed, he said.

"I feel that a day dedicated to the importance of the postal system in our city will be of considerable public value. Unfortunately, many of the services we offer are little known to the public. Many of the advantages of our city have been advertised often, but rarely have we directed attention to the postal facilities that Big Spring provides," Hardesty said.

"Locally the Big Spring post office today serves over 20,000 people, with 75 employes," Hardesty added. "Mail volume has now reached a total of more than 30 million pieces annually at the Big Spring Post Office."

During the past year one new city delivery route has been added, and parcel post delivery restored to six days a week delivery.

"I feel," the postmaster said, "that this will be an appropriate time to call attention to the dedicated services of our employes, whose performance day in and day out is largely taken for granted."

It's Same Old Story, Green Bay Favorite

By The Associated Press

The National Football League begins its 48th season Sunday with new divisions, three new coaches and a new team, but the same old Green Bay Packers favored to finish on top in December.

The world champion Packers, undefeated in six pre-season games, open defense of their title and seek another shot at the Super Bowl when they host the improved Detroit Lions and their new coach, Joe Schmidt.

FACE TOUGH RAMS

New Orleans makes its debut along with Coach Tom Fears against the tough Los Angeles Rams, the only team to beat the Saints in six exhibition games.

Bud Grant, after 10 years in Canadian football, begins his NFL coaching career at Minnesota when the Vikings entertain San Francisco.

In other games, Dallas is at Cleveland, Atlanta at Baltimore, Chicago at Pittsburgh, Washington at Philadelphia and New York at St. Louis in a full slate of games.

The American League's third week features three games Sunday with Houston at Buffalo, Boston at Oakland and Denver at Miami.

Under the new NFL setup of four four-team divisions, the games at Green Bay, Baltimore, Philadelphia and St. Louis take on the added importance of matching teams in the same division.

The veteran Packers rule a strong favorite against the Lions with their tight-fisted defense, Bart Starr at quarterback and Donny Anderson, Jim Grabowski, Elijah Pitts and Ben Wilson alternating in the backfield where Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung starred for nine seasons.

SWEETAN IS QB

Karl Sweetan is likely to call the signals for the Lions, who will be missing injured rookie running back Nick Eddy, but will have freshman Mel Farr carrying the ball in the Central Division game. Gone via trade is defensive tackle Roger Brown.

John Unitas, bothered by injuries in recent years, gives Baltimore an edge over the Falcons after hitting 67 per cent of his passes as the Colts won four of five pre-season contests.

The Falcons will start Randy Johnson at quarterback with Tommy McDonald, acquired from the Rams, a new receiver in this Coastal Division meeting.

Sonny Jurgensen of Washington and Norm Snead of Philadelphia are expected to hook up in a passing duel between contenders, along with Dallas, in the Capitol Division.

St. Louis, a pick in the Century Division until quarterback Charley Johnson was called into the Army, pins its hopes on rookie Jim Hart against the Giants.

The Giants, the worst team in the NFL last season at 1-12-1, look for improvement with Fran Tarkenton at quarterback and running back Tucker Frederickson returning after missing 1966 with a knee injury.

LOS ANGELES FAVORED

Los Angeles, a favorite in the Coastal Division, is favored to duplicate its 16-7 exhibition victory over the Saints, who break in with Bill Kilmer at quarterback and Jim Taylor in the backfield.

The Dallas-Cleveland game matches contenders in last season's Eastern Division with Don Meredith still throwing to Bob Hayes for the Cowboys and Frank Ryan throwing and Leroy Kelly running for the Browns. Both clubs slumped in the exhibition season.

Grant has a choice of Ron VanderKelen, Bob Berry or Joe Kapp at quarterback to replace the traded Tarkenton against the optimistic 49ers and John Brodie, Ken Williard, Dave Parks and Co.

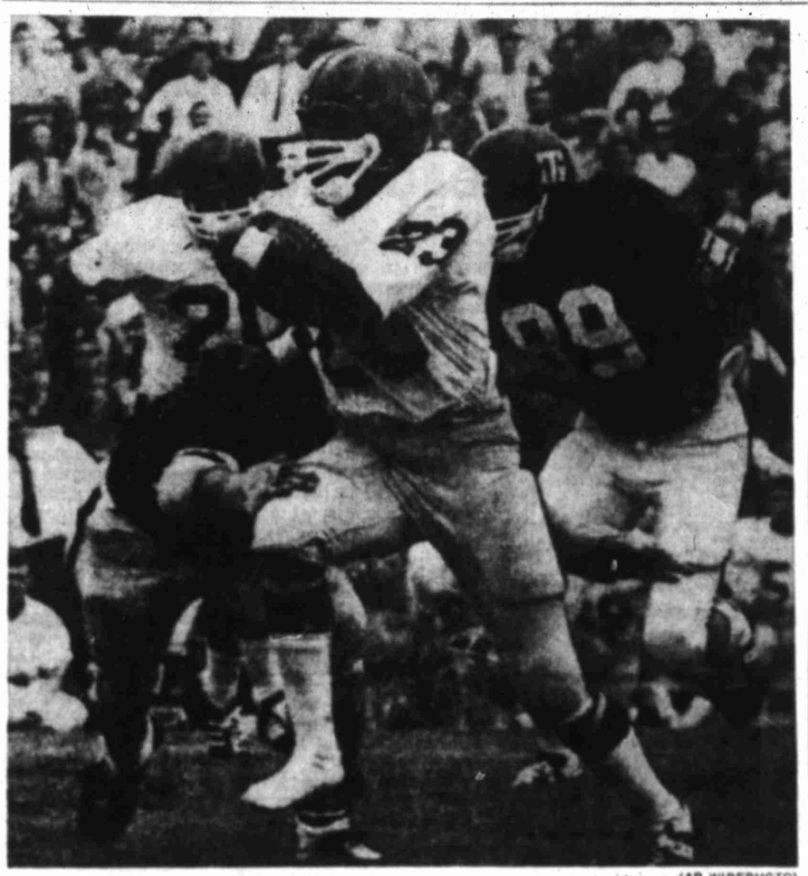

Gale Sayers and either young Larry Rakestraw or veteran Rudy Bukich carry Chicago's hopes against the Steelers, who are counting on a good year from quarterback Bill Nelsen.

KEMP TO START

In the AFL, Buffalo, coming off a fourth quarter 20-17 victory over the New York Jets last Sunday, are expected to start with Jack Kemp this week against the surprising Oilers, who battled Kansas City before losing 25-20.

Boston still seeks its first victory after two defeats by bringing alive its running game, led by Jim Nance. The Raiders come off a 51-0 balloon-breaker over Denver.

The Broncos will try to put more air into the balloon against the Dolphins, despite the loss of Cookie Gilchrist to injury, Steve Tensi of Denver and John Stofa of Miami trade passes.

JERRY LEVIAS THROWS A SHOE
But SMU star still picks up eight yards

SMU Rallies To Tip Texas A&M, 20-17

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Little Inez Perez, a 5-foot-4 ball of fire, passed Southern Methodist in a 58-yard touchdown drive and threw to Jerry Levias from the Aggie six-yard line for the score that beat Texas A&M 20-17 Saturday in the opening Southwest Conference football game.

There were only four seconds to play when the little fellow, former junior college star subbing for the injured Mike Livingston, sent the Mustangs flying toward one of the conference's upsets.

The Aggies had been heavy favorites to win over the defending conference champions, who had lost virtually all of their defense corps this season.

Perez' heroics came right after a similar performance by Edd Hargett, the Aggie quarterback, who passed Texas A&M along an 83-yard drive to give the Aggies a four-point lead with only 43 seconds left in the game.

Hargett threw to Bob Long in the end zone for what seemed to the crowd of 33,000 to be the winning score. Then Perez, performing for a nationwide audience on television, speared the Mustangs to victory.

Dennis Partee, who has already won three conference games with his kicking, shoved SMU ahead in the fourth quarter with a 25-yard field goal. It was his second field goal of the game.

The winning drive was a personal triumph for Perez who seemed destined to spend his college career at SMU as backup man for Mac White last year and his successor Livingston.

Levias returned the kickoff 24 Mustangs on the way. Perez passed to Levias for 29, to Harold Richardson for 11 and to Sam Holden for 12 and a first down on the Aggie six.

Perez failed on his next pass to Richardson and then he pitched to Levias in the end zone with only four seconds showing on the clock and the crowd gone slightly mad.

Livingston and Levias had teamed to put the Mustangs ahead 10-7 at halftime.

Levias took the kickoff back 46 yards to get SMU on its way with a field goal the first time the Mustangs had the ball. Livingston gambled on fourth down to get a first down to keep the drive moving but just when it seemed SMU was ready to score a touchdown, Grady Allen broke through to drop Livingston on the Aggie 17, and he had to call for Partee to kick a field goal from the Aggie 12.

Dogies Decision Snyder 36-0, For First Success

By NATE MITCHELL

The Big Spring Shorthorns overwhelmed the Snyder Jay-Vees in a one-sided grid battle here Saturday night — routing the visitors by a 36-0 count. The win evened the young season at 1-1 for the locals.

The Big Spring team collected three touchdowns and three two-point conversions in the first quarter of play. Ricky Ray Thomas scored the initial TD on a 15-yard run, with Herman Evans sweeping the end for the two-point conversion.

Gary Hughes, alternating at quarterback for the Shorthorns, dived in from two yards out for the second six-pointer. Ronnie Wrightsil converted with an end sweep.

With seconds remaining in the initial stanza, Jimmy Wilson hit a trap up the middle for 45 yards and a TD. Leonard Basco ran in for the two-point bonus.

Opening the second quarter with a 24-0 edge, the locals counted again when Basco swept the end from two yards out. For the first time in the contest, the point after attempt failed.

Snyder's defense tightened up in the third frame, holding the home team scoreless.

In the waning minutes of the game, alternate quarterback Johnny Rutherford fired a 20-yard strike to Charlie Lewis for the final touchdown. The PAT was blocked by a hard-rushing Snyder line.

The Shorthorns travel to Andrews next Saturday for a 7:30 engagement with that school's junior varsity squad.

Score by quarters:

Big Spring	24	0	0	6	— 36

Colorado Buffs Deflate Baylor Bruins, 27 To 7

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Bob Anderson, poised and talented in his first varsity football game, scored three touchdowns with nifty ball hawking and pitched out for a fourth to send Colorado winging to a 27-7 victory over Baylor Saturday.

Colorado linebacker Kerry Mottl stole two passes deep in Baylor territory that opened the way for Anderson to use his scoring magic on keeper runs of seven, five and two yards. They came at the end of drives covering 73, 25 and 21 yards.

Anderson's feint on a pass-run option followed by a pitchout to William Harris broke him loose for a 34-yard touchdown run. That atoned for Harris allowing Baylor linemen to steal the ball from him twice.

With Colorado reserves playing behind a 20-0 lead in the fourth period, Baylor quarterback Alvin Flynn connected on a 29-yard scoring pass to end Bobby Green, who took the ball over his shoulder as he crossed the goal line.

Until then, Colorado's alert linebackers and furious defensive linemen had allowed the Bears to cross midfield only twice, once in the first half.

Joe Ward, junior tackle from Waco, Tex., halted Colorado threats in the first half with two fumble recoveries.

Falcons Battle Cowboys To Tie

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma State and Air Force, both unable to collect an offensive punch to go with top defensive efforts, struggled to a 0-0 tie Saturday in the season football opener for both clubs.

Giants Upended By Bucs, 5-4

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Manny Mota's run - scoring single against Mike McCormick in the 16th inning gave Pittsburgh a 5-4 victory over San Francisco Saturday.

The Pirates, who led 4-0 until the eighth inning, finally won with the help of a ball that Willie Mays lost in the late afternoon sun. Matty Alou hit the fly, and it fell for a single in short center field.

McCormick, who started the inning as the Giants' seventh pitcher, got Roberto Clemente on a line drive to Mays.

But then he walked Donn Clendenon, and Mota followed with the single that won the game and gave McCormick his 10th loss against 19 victories.

The Giants tied the game 4-4 in the eighth on a three-run homer by Mays, his 19th of the season and 561st of his career. Mays' blast followed a bases-loaded sacrifice fly by Willie McCovey.

George Archer Has Four-Shot Lead

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cowboy George Archer came on like a herd of steers Saturday with three birdies on the last five holes for a three-round, 12-under-par total of 204 and a four-stroke lead in the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The 6-foot-6 Archer fired a two-under-par 36-34—70 over the 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course, recovering from a case of putting jitters on the front nine which threatened to carry him back to the field.

Dan Sikes, a 36-year-old veteran of six years on the pro tour, surged past Billy Casper into second place on the wings of a 35-34—69 and a 54-hole total of eight under-par 208.

The poker-faced Casper scored a third round 36-37—73 and slipped into a two-way tie for fourth, one stroke behind Mason Rudolph, who was at 209.

The 33-year-old Rudolph burned up the course with a 34-33—67, including successive birdie putts on the first two holes of 60 feet each.

The dark-haired Archer, who looks more like a basketball player than a golfer, started the day with a 10-under par, 36-hole total of 134, three strokes ahead of Casper and six up on Australian Bruce Devlin.

The nine-year pro from Tennessee also carded a birdie with a 50-foot ship shot.

Casper, who wound up tied for fourth with Bob Charles at 210, started out with 10 straight pars and got his only bird on the 11th, where he sank a 40-foot, seven-iron chip. He bogied the 12th and 16th. Charles shot 36-35—71.

Other scores included a 35-36—71 by Jim Colbert, who tied with Dave Marr, 35-37—72, at 212. First round leader Bruce Devlin blew to a 78 and out of contention. Arnold Palmer, who said, "It takes putts to score and I didn't," carded a 37-35—72, for a 54-hole total 214.

Mildenberger Is Upset By Latin

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Brute strong Oscar Bonavena of Argentina floored West Germany's Karl Mildenberger four times and hammered out a unanimous 12-round decision Saturday to go into the semifinals of the World Boxing Association tournament to pick a new heavyweight boxing champion.

Referee Harry Krause of Las Vegas, Nev., declared Bonavena the winner by the imposing margin of 56-47. Dr. Jose Stern of Argentina, one of the judges, had it 58-53 and Rudolph Drust of Germany, 57-53.

The Associated Press scorecard had it 57-48. The fight was scored on a five points to the round system.

The stocky pride of the Pampas sent the southpaw Mildenberger to the canvas with a vicious left to the head in the first round, and the German never fully recovered although he staged a rally in the later rounds.

The Argentinian belted the German into the lower strand of the ropes with a left in the fourth round, knocked him to his knees with a chopping right flush to the face in the seventh and sent Mildenberger flopping on the seat of his pants in the 10th.

The upset victory—Mildenberger, as No. 1 in the WBA ratings was a 4-1 choice—put the rugged Bonavena into the semifinals of the WBA elimination with Thad Spencer of San Francisco and Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., who won bouts at Houston, and the winner of the Oct. 28 bout in Los Angeles between Floyd Patterson, former two-time champion of New York, and Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles.

The result was a disappointment to a pro-Mildenberger, SRO crowd of 18,000 which packed Frankfurt's outdoor cycling stadium for the fight.

Bonavena, a pound heavier at 204 pounds but shorter at 5-11 than the tall German, 203 pounds and 6-1, dominated the bout except for the fifth and sixth rounds.

The Argentinian lost the fifth round on a low punch and lost the sixth when Mildenberger unleashed a swirling attack that sent Bonavena into temporary retreat.

Mildenberger staged another rally in the ninth, rocking Bonavena with a series of right jabs and jolting him with a straight left, but after being dropped in the 10th he was on the defensive all the way. The Argentinian finished on a strong note.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ray Washburn scattered five hits in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-1 victory over Cincinnati Saturday night.

The National League leaders scored a run in the first inning on singles by Lou Brock, Curt Flood and Roger Maris, then pulled away with a three-run burst in the eighth.

Tim McCarver's double, a walk, Julian Javier's run-scoring single and a two-run double by Dal Maxvill in the eighth gave St. Louis a 4-0 lead.

Washburn, 10-7, didn't allow a runner past second base until the ninth, when Lee May singled and scored on a double by Tony Perez.

The victory gave the Cardinals an 11½-game bulge over the secondplace San Francisco Giants, who bowed to Pittsburgh 5-4 in 16 innings Saturday.

The Bulldogs of Plainview functioned like a gang of kamikase- pilots in trying to gun down Big Spring here Friday night but the Steers parlayed superior physical condition with sledgehammer punches to destroy the visitors, 30-6.

The provincials, however, paid dearly for the success. Ace guard Chuck Smith suffered a shoulder separation and Lonnie Clanton, the locals' thunderous runner, was carried to the sidelines with a battered knee.

BACK BLOSSOMED

They say that into each life some rain must fall and a cloud seemed to follow the Big Spring coach, Spike Dykes, around all night; but the sensational play of halfback Roy Lee Warren—who has been one of the spear carriers up to now—helped to neutralize Dykes' sorrows.

Warren's mad gambols across the football commons were never quite solved by the Big Red from Plainview. Roy Lee, who is only a junior, scored three touchdowns and wound up as the leading ground gainer for Big Spring.

Big Spring receipted for one touchdown in the 'hello' round, two in the second and two more in the third. Warren crossed the goal line again in the fourth, at a time Plainview was playing on raw nerve alone, but that one was erased by a major penalty.

One disconcerting thing about the game was the file on infractions with which Big Spring wound up—a total of 135 yards were stepped off against the locals. In two games now, 302 yards have been inflicted against the Black and Gold for conduct officials consider unbecoming to a team.

That sort of frustrating legislation can get a team beat in stickier situations.

Plainview achieved its only TD with ten seconds left in the half and it would not have come had not a major penalty been marked off against the resident eleven on a third down play.

TRY THE SHOTGUN

The Bulldogs, operating from the shotgun formation at the time, hooked up when quarterback Tommy McBee passed 13 yards down to Lawrence McCutcheon on a screen pass and the elusive Negro halfback danced another 20 yards across the double stripes.

Plainview trailed by three touchdowns at the time and the situation was to get worse for the invaders after the intermission.

Clanton made it look astonishingly easy the first time the Steers had the ball in the opening period when he flitted 33 yards for a score slanting to the left behind splendid blocking at the line.

The score materialized after McBee had failed to get a punt away only to be hit down by a concentrated piece of energy named Johnny Hedges. Clanton failed in his efforts to boot the extra point and that set a pattern for the evening — not a conversion was made by either team.

In the second, quarterback Billy Burchett culminated a 79-yard march on the part of Big Spring by knifing through from the one. The Steers continued to roll despite a 15-yard penalty walked off against them. The score came with four minutes left in the half.

Not long before that touchdown march, Snake Tucker had blunted a dead - serious Plainview march by intercepting a McBee - thrown bomb at the Steer seven and returning it to his 21.

McBee threw erratically after great pressure had been applied by Big Spring linemen who had filtered through the Bulldog blockers.

BAKER HELPS

Big Spring scored again with 48 seconds left in the second when Warren counted from one yard out on a dive play. The drive ate up 69 yards and was sparked by a 34-yard pass from Burchett to Joey Baker. Baker caught the ball off balance after getting behind the defenders, or he would have gone all the way.

Big Spring tried an onsides boot on the ensuing kickoff but Plainview took over on the Steer 49 to set the stage for its lone TD drive.

Big Spring scored again in the third when Burchett hung a pass on a clothes-line to Warren, the play covering 22 yards at the end of a 43-yard offensive. Major penalties were exacted against both elevens in that series. The touchdown occurred with 5:25 left in the canto.

With only 18 seconds left in the third, Warren contributed perhaps the most dazzling run of the night by fleeing 39 yards up the middle for a tally. The Steers had kept the drive alive by gambling for a down renewal on a fourth down situation at midfield, handing the ball to old reliable, Rocky Wooley. The drive covered 63 paces and Big Spring got a break when Plainview was penalized deep in Steer territory for roughing the kicker.

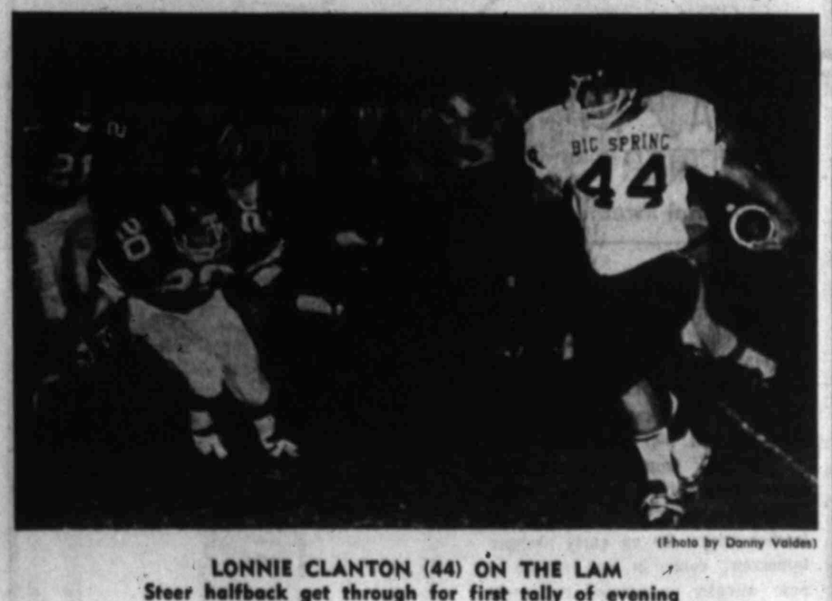

In the fourth, the Bulldogs made a bid for respectability by pushing to Big Spring's 23 but Gary Don Newsom backed up to intercept an enemy pass at the eight and Plainview's final opportunity went down the drain.

The Steers had trouble keeping Plainview's mercury - heeled backs inside but the Longhorn line began to read the enemy plays better as the game wore on and Coach Don Williams of the Bulldogs ultimately turned to his reserves. It was obvious by then that he had written off the whole adventure as ill-starred.

Mike Gartman contributed a terrific catch of a Johnny Patton-thrown aerial late in the game but that, too, was deleted from the records by an ordinance enactment.

Lay Minister Is Coach Of Darkhorse Cincy 11

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Passminded Tulsa, Louisville and North Texas rank 1-2-3 this season in the Missouri Valley conference football picture, but in the near future, look out for Homer Rice and his "Red Room" at Cincinnati.

Rice, 40, is a lay minister known as an offensive genius as an assistant at Kentucky and Oklahoma. He has made big strides in organizing the alumni and a record season ticket sale improved the outlook.

The Cincy players liked his self discipline program started last spring. Rice's formula included a shirt with collar, no long hair, no profanity and church once a week. The players themselves set a curfew and banned smoking and drinking.

Just going to practice was quite a chore for Cincy in the spring, while facilities were being rebuilt. The squad dressed at an orphans home 40 minutes from the campus and practiced at a seminary another seven minutes from the orphans home.

Meanwhile, the old freshman locker room at the stadium was revamped with paneled walls thick red carpets, indirect lighting, tiled showers and wide benches—45 of them. It also has a private entrance.

"The Red Room will be limited to those who want to play," Rice said.

It may not be filled soon, so Rice had the regular locker room redone.

Rice's high school coaching record was 101 victories, 9 losses, 7 ties. He is shooting for the top at Cincy and the city's proposed 55,000-seat stadium won't hurt his chances. He inherited a few excellent players this season, but it's a thin squad.

Tulsa has a solid defense, will pass about 70 per cent of the time and has a good shot at its sixth straight NCAA passing crown. It isn't likely, however, the Valley will have four of the nation's top 10 passing clubs, as it did in 1966. For one thing, two top quarterbacks graduated.

For another, new coaches Rice, Boyd Converse at Wichita and Rod Rust at North Texas don't believe in throwing 40-50 times a game.

Converse may spring some surprises with a large group of talented junior college transfers, many from Kilgore, Tex., his last coaching job, plus John Eckman, NCAA passing champ in 1966, and Glenn Meltzer, NCAA receiving champ. Wichita opens at home with Utah State Saturday night.

Louisville's Frank Camp must decide among four green quarterbacks, but he admits he has the most depth and talent in 21 years. Linebackers Ed Harmon and John Neidert and split end Jim Zamberlan are top pro prospects. The Cards open at Drake Saturday. Cincy, Tulsa and North Texas are idle.

Rust has an outstanding defense led by tackle Joe Greene, 267, but a green offensive line and rookie backfield may take awhile to jell.

Cougars Shock Galena By 28-0

GALENA PARK — Abilene Cooper scored a resounding 28-0 pre-district victory over Galena Park here Friday night.

Randy Allen highlighted the first period when he snared a Galena Park pass and returned it 70 yards for Cooper's first TD. Kenny Stephens ran the two points after.

In the second period, Cooper's signal caller Jack Mildren plunged over from the one-yard stripe for a second score. Don Shahan kicked the bonus point.

Mildren scored again from one yard out in the final period, before relinquishing the piloting chores to Andy Duvall. Shahan again booted the ball through the uprights for the PAT.

Duvall, on a roll out from the three, scored Cooper's final TD but the try failed.

Recording 99 yards in 19 carries, Stephens hogged rushing laurels for the Cougars.

Mexico City Braces For Fans' Invasion

MEXICO CITY (AP) — This sprawling city of 6.5 million persons is bracing for the biggest sports invasion in its history — an invasion to be surpassed only when the 1968 Olympic Games unfold here.

The spectacle will be a repeat — only this time twice as big and twice as important as the sports spasm which gripped Mexico City a year ago.

Between the first week in October and the first week in December Mexico will be host to two international golf tournaments, more than 2,500 pre-Olympic athletes, the world's top racing drivers, the annual baseball meetings and at least one championship fight.

A break of sorts in this deluge of sports will be provided by the Acapulco review of film festivals in that famous resort between the end of the World Cup Golf Tournament and the start of the baseball meetings.

The spectacle starts with the American Cup Golf Tournament Oct. 7-8 in Guadalajara. This brings together top amateur players from the United States, Canada and Mexico.

By late September, however, the first delegations from countries as diverse as Mongolia and Mail, China and the Ivory Coast will begin arriving to compete with such known international sports powers as the Soviet Union and the United States in the third international sports week.

The sports week — actually a misnomer because the competition lasts two weeks — runs from Oct. 14 through Oct. 29. It is shaping up as the biggest sports event in the world in 1967 with twice as many participating nations as took part in the Pan-American Games earlier in the year at Winnipeg, Canada.

Sports week started in 1965 when the Mexicans, at the request of several worried countries, arranged competition in a few sports to check the results of high altitude competition. More countries were interested last year, and 22 nations sent almost 500 competitors to test the 7,400 foot altitude here.

The week this year is to be a shakedown for the 1968 Games and offers competition in all Olympic sports except soccer.

The night of Oct. 14 world featherweight champion Vicente Saldivar will defend his title for the third time against Howard Winstone of Wales in the 100,000-seat Aztec Stadium. Promoters are trying to put together another title bout to share the Saldivar-Winstone card.

Smack in the middle of the pre-Olympic competition the sound of powerful automobile engines will echo through the Magdalena Mixhuacan Sports City, probably startling the cycling and equestrian competitors scheduled to compete nearby.

The sixth Grand Prix of Mexico, last race on the Formula One world championship circuit, is scheduled for Oct. 22 at the three-mile track which winds through the Sports City. Practice is set for Oct. 20-21.

By the time the pre-Olympics grind to a halt Oct. 29, the world's top professional golfers will be arriving for the 15th World Cup tournament.

This tourney, formerly known as the Canada Cup, now has two entries each from 41 countries — the largest entry list ever. The pros swing for national honor and personal pride Nov. 8-12.

The Acapulco film festival, while not strictly a sports event, does attract some pretty sport types. It is scheduled for Nov. 14-28. A visitor would have to shake the sand out of his shoes quickly to make it back to Mexico City in time for the next event on the calendar — the Major-minor leagues baseball meetings Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

Hirt, Chandler Lead Kat Surge

GARDEN CITY—The Garden City Bearkats shut out the visiting Loop Longhorns by a convincing 35-0 score in a gridiron clash here Friday.

Ronnie Hirt and Tony Chandler scored all of the Kats' touchdowns, with Hirt accounting for three TDs and a point after for 19, and Chandler recording the other two touchdowns plus a two-point PAT.

Holding the visitors to minus-5 yards total offense in the first half, the Bearkats counted on Hirt's seven yard run in the first period, with Chandler's run for the two-point play; and Chandler's one yard dive for the second TD.

In the second frame, Hirt exploded over from 10 yards out for his second score in the clash, then romped 32 yards later in the same period for his third. Bob Hilliger ran over for the conversion following Hirt's third score.

Neither team struck paydirt in the third frame, although the home squad had a 45-yard touchdown run nullified due to a clipping penalty.

In the final frame, Chandler intercepted a Steer aerial and returned 33 yards for a score. Hirt booted the extra point—rounding out the one-sided tallying.

Coach Jack Woodley used his B-team offense throughout the second half, although the defensive unit remained mixed with members from both squads.

Second string quarterback Steve Hirt completed two-of-two passes for Garden City's only aerial offense.

With Ron Hirt and Chandler sewing up laurels for outstanding offensive effort, Coach Woodley pegged Hillger, James Dubose and Melvin Robinson as standout defensive players.

Garden City, now 2-0 on the year, hosts Rock Springs next Friday.

CHARLES RAY BRANTLEY

New Pro Assumes Charge At Muny

Charles Brantley, a native of Kansas who grew up near Longview, Tex., has moved in as pro and manager of the Municipal Golf Course here.

A golfer for the past 17 years, Brantley recently completed his fifth year as a working pro, which means he will not be required to attend a PGA school in order to obtain his Class A certificate.

He will appear before PGA boards in Lubbock this fall and in Waco Jan. 9 on behalf of his request for full privileges as a pro.

Brantley succeeds J. B. Wetsel as Muny pro. Wetsel departed earlier this month for Jal, N.M., where he is affiliated with a country club.

Charles served with the Air Force on two different occasions He has resided in Big Spring the past eight years.

Until he accepted employment with the City, he was head pro and manager of the Webb AFB course. His family consists of his wife, Wilma Joyce, and a nine-year old son, Stephen Michael.

The equipment Brantley has ordered to outfit his pro shop will be shipped here shortly. He says he will not be in a position to repair golf equipment for the present but can send off such gear for mending.

Brantley now has three golf carts in operation and shortly expects to have three more available for rental.

He teamed with Ronnie Hill to play in the last Odessa Pro-Am. The best round of golf he ever achieved was a 63 at the Longview Country Club several years ago. He's never been lucky enough to score a hole-in-one.

At one time, he was a route salesman for the L. W. Owens Auto Supply Company in Longview but quit that to return to the Air Force.

He says he hopes to have as many as two pro-ams a year at the course.

His immediate objective is to see that the 18-hole layout gets suitably irrigated and to serve the many golfers who patronize the course.

Wolves Roar By Roscoe

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Wolves smashed the Roscoe Plowboys Friday night by a lop-sided score of 62-0.

A bruising Cee City defense limited the Plowboys to a total of 28 yards rushing on the ground, while the Wolves' offensive unit, led by Dan Steakley and Randy Parker, racked up 484 yards.

Scoring for the Wolves were: Randy Parker 12, Dan Steakley 12, Ralph Lindsey 8, Rusty Steakley 6, Mike Mains 6, Keaton Grubbs 6, Sam Majors 6, and Benny Lamb 4.

The highlight of the evening's scoring was a 90 yard run from scrimmage by Dan Steakley and the first career touchdown by Majors, a guard, who recovered a Roscoe fumble for the TD.

Colorado City, who captured the season's opener from Coahoma, now stands 2-0 in preloop competition.

Juarez Opens Five-Week Racing Season Sept. 30

JUAREZ — An experienced lineup of officials headed by the veteran Norris Royden, director of racing and presiding steward, will command key posts at the Juarez Race Track when it opens its first fall meet Sept. 30 for a run of five weeks.

Demetrio Sotomayor, general manager of the beautiful Mexican plant, announced today that Royden, widely known in major racing centers not only as a highly-qualified official but also as a writer and editor for turf publications, is returning for his second successive season.

Royden's background embraces thoroughbred and quarter-horse racing, both of which will play prominent roles in the elaborate stakes schedule planned for the forthcoming session. Working closely with him will be Jimmy West, who has served as racing secretary since the track's inaugural meet in 1965.

West returned last month from Evangeline Downs in Louisiana where he also was racing secretary, on loan from Juarez, and since taking over his desk again he already has screened more than 600 stall applications.

In the steward's stand with Royden will be Bernardo Cosio, representing the Mexican National Racing Commission, and Oscar Bermudez, judge for the Jockey Club of Mexico City.

Aiding West as assistant secretary is Jim Bayes, who also continues as jockey room custodian, while Manuel Padilla Jr. will be the starter, as he has been since the track's inaugural meeting.

Ray Camp has been named clerk of scales, while John E. Johnson takes over as paddock judge, and duties of placing and patrol judges will be assumed by Joseph Zelick, Wiley Porterfield, Juan Rosas Velez, Bayes Camp and Johnson. Assigned the dual chores of identifier and timer is Don Muzzy; Robert Freeman heads the mutual department; Dr. Modesto C. Saenz is back as veterinarian and Daniel Minjares Jr. again will command the public address system.

Juarez now is undergoing final grooming for the 10-day season of Saturday and Sunday programs which will continue through Oct. 29 and be highlighted by its usual thoroughbred stakes topped by the $7500 Juarez Gold Cup Handicap and the first running of the estimated $50,000 Chamizal Futurity for 2-year-old quarter horses.

Stamford Blanks Snyder Tigers

STAMFORD — The Stamford Bulldogs took advantage of three Snyder fumbles and a wet field to whitewash the Tigers by a 26-0 marker.

The Bulldogs struck twice in 17 seconds in the second quarter to open the scoring. Rene Alvarez, the game's leading ball carrier, broke off left guard on a 65-yard scoring play. An intercepted pass and a 24 yard TD pass made the score 14-0 at the halfway mark. The 'Dogs scored once in each of the last two quarters to round out the scoring.

A wet field caused by soaking rains slowed the runners down considerably and held passing almost to nil.

The Tigers return home after two losing road trips to face the Big Spring Steers who stand 2-0.

Tigers Claim First Place In American

DETROIT (AP) — Pitcher Earl Wilson singled in the go-ahead run in Detroit's three-run fourth inning and gained his 21st victory as the Tigers took over sole possession of first place in the American League by defeating Washington 5-4 Saturday.

The victory, their fourth straight and ninth in the last 11 games, moved the Tigers one-half game ahead of Minnesota, which played Chicago in a night game, and one game in front of Boston, which lost to Baltimore 4-1.

Wilson, who has lost 10 games, gave up a run in the third, but the Tigers rallied in the fourth and went ahead to stay. A two-run Washington rally in the ninth fell short.

Singles by Jim Northrup, Norm Cash and Bill Freehan tied the game in the fourth before starter Bob Priddy could get an out in the inning.

Priddy retired Don Wert on a grounder, the runners advancing to second and third, but Wilson followed with a single through the legs of third baseman Bob Saverine, driving in Cash and driving out Priddy.

Dick Lines came on for the Senators, and Freehan scored as Dick McAuliffe forced Wilson at second.

Kemp Is Due Back Today

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Jack Kemp, who lost his starting quarterback job to recent acquisition Tom Flores, will be back at the controls when the Buffalo Bills tangle with the Houston Oilers in an American Football League contest Sunday.

Bills coach Joel Collier so decided Saturday as the team went through a final practice session for the nationally televised game.

Kemp, the Bills' starting signal-caller since 1962, lost the spot to Flores, formerly of the Oakland Raiders, during the exhibition season.

He replaced the injured Flores last Sunday in the second half and led the Bills to a 20-17, come-from-behind victory over the New York Jets here in the season-opener for both clubs.

In other changes, Collier said Dudley Meredith would play at defensive end in place of Remi Prudhomme, who has a sprained left ankle, and Wayne Frazier, a recent acquisition from Kansas City, would be at center, replacing Bob Schmidt.

Both Frazier and Schmidt are former Oilers.

Fullback Bill Bailey, a rookie from Cincinnati, has been placed on waivers, while end Bob Petrich, a free agent cut by the Miami Dolphins, will be activated, Collier said.

The 6-foot-4, 252-pound Petrich was a starter for the San Diego Chargers for four seasons.

A capacity crowd of more than 45,000 is expected at War Memorial Stadium.

IMPERIAL — Forsan roundly outplayed Imperial here Friday night but had to settle for a 0-0 tie.

The Buffaloes mounted their most serious threat late in the fourth quarter but yielded possession of the ball on a fumble inside the enemy one-yard line.

Imperial maneuvered as far as Forsan's 25 early in the game but the Bisons dug in to hold.

Forsan outgained the Imperial team by a margin of nearly four to one in the contest but couldn't crank up for a score. On three occasions, the visitors were inside Imperial's five yard line.

Clayton McKinnon stood out both on defense and offense for Forsan. He earned a "star" for his headgear by blocking an enemy punt and made seven tackles from the middle linebacker's position.

Guard Alton Callihan contributed 11 tackles to the Buffs' defense and distinguished himself in other ways while Johnny Dolan and Gayland Reed were others who were impressive for Forsan.

McKinnon carried the ball 20 times for Forsan and gained a net of 100 yards for a five-yard average.

The Bisons will be at home next Friday night to Wall.

Orioles Drape Loss Around Sox's Necks

BOSTON (AP) — The lowly Baltimore Orioles derailed Boston's American League pennant charge by defeating the Red Sox 4-1 Saturday on rookie Jim Hardin's nifty three-hitter and Boog Powell's three-run homer.

The Red Sox, defeated twice within 24 hours by the Orioles, were knocked out of a three-way tie with Minnesota and Detroit in the hectic pennant scramble.

Hardin, a 24-year-old right-hander drafted from the New York Mets' organization for $12,000 last November, was in command all the way in hurling his seventh victory against two losses.

The Orioles picked up a run in the fourth, but were frustrated for the most part of six innings, leaving nine runners stranded as Boston starter Jim Lonborg bore down in the clutch.

Rico Petrocelli sent Boston off to a 1-0 lead in the second inning with his 16th homer, a hoist over the screen atop the high left field wall.

Sophs Defeat Forsan Bees

FORSAN — The Big Spring Sophomores combined a staunch defense and a roaring offense to roll to a 30-0 victory over the Forsan B-team here in a game played Saturday morning.

The defense, led by guards Randy Morgan and Robert Dennis, never yielded any territory past the Big Spring 40-yard line to the Buffs. Morgan and Dennis were the key figures who constantly broke through the Forsan line to drop the Buffalo ball carriers for losses.

The Soph's offense moved the ball at will and scored five touchdowns but were unable to pick up the extra points.

Gary Hines and Charlie Rodriquez connected on a 10-yard aerial to open the scoring early in the first quarter. After Forsan gave the ball back up on downs, Hines faded back and hit Fernando Mendoza on the 10. Mendoza proceeded to dance into the end zone for the second Big Spring TD.

The substitutes took over and handled the Buffs with the same ferocity that the starters had shown. Rick Peurifoy scampered around right end for 25 yards and the third Big Spring touchdown.

Mike Barnes then electrified the meager crowd with a 60-yard jaunt around the right side. Kyle Rosene closed out the scoring with a 2 yard plunge off-tackle for the final TD.

The Sophomores journey to Andrews next Saturday for a 6 p.m. contest with the Mustang Sophomores.

Buffaloes Defeated By Iraan, 27 To 8

By NATE MITCHELL

STANTON — The Iraan Braves attacked the Buffalo fort of Stanton High School in the second start for both football teams this season, running away from the host team, 27-8, Friday. Each squad is now 1-1 for the season.

The Warriors struck paydirt in each period after the first—scoring two TDs in the second and one each in the remaining two. Iraan led 12-0 at the intermission.

Stanton scored its only touchdown in the third frame, when quarterback David Jones hit halfback Jimmy Jones for a 42-yard pass and run thriller. David converted the bonus by running over from the three on a keeper play.

Wielding the mightiest tomahawk for the Warriors was ace signal caller Pat Gladden who stayed just one step ahead of Stanton's defense all evening. He threw TD strikes to end James Sullivan — a five yarder — and halfback David Wilson, a play which covered 48 yards.

For Iraan's other two scores, Gladden sent workhorse fullback Roger Wortham over from ten yards out in the third period, and again from six yards out in the waning seconds of the final period. Wilson caught an aerial for the conversion in the third and Gladden booted the PAT through the uprights in the final quarter.

Unlike the spirited, polished squad which tripped Roscoe 14-6 a week earlier, the Stanton team fell apart at the seams after receiving the opening kickoff and running into a stall which gave Iraan the pigskin.

Iraan quarterback Gladden kept his attack on the ground—driving within five yards of paydirt in 14 plays his initial time with the ball. On fourth down, Gladden attempted a field goal, but missed. This field goal attempt was to prove the disception necessary to get the Braves' first touchdown later, when Gladden faked such a feat, picked up the ball and fired a strike to end Sullivan to initiate the scoring in the second period.

Gladden took to the airways 17 times and completed 10 of these for 143 yards and two touchdowns. Stanton's Jones completed 10 of 22 for 156 three-footers. Iraan overwhelmed the Buffaloes with its rushing—picking up 234 yards to Stanton's 43.

Steve Hall and Johnny McMeans provided the bulk of the defensive effort for Stanton — making six and 10 stops, respectively, in the contest.

Trailing 20-8 in the third frame, Ricky Corbell electrified the home crowd with a juggling act with a David Jones aerial which covered nearly 40 yards. Having tipped the ball from hand to hand during the romp, before finally dropping it, it was ruled incomplete.

Perhaps the greatest hustle for the evening was turned in by pint-size Ricky Rylander, a 125 pound Braves halfback, who shared the straight - ahead toils with Wortham. The nifty little ball carrier not only rushed for 43 yards but looked impressive on punt returns.

Iraan's single best ground-gainer for the contest was halfback Wilson who racked up 125 yards for the night.

Grid Shoe May Be Changed

Following his opening game with Big Spring, Lamesa coach Donald Jay told intimates "I'm thankful none of our boys got hurt" . . . Despite that 29-0 debacle suffered here, Lamesa figures to play .500 or better ball over the year . . . Ysleta made only five yards rushing in its recent game with Midland, which would indicate the Bulldogs have quite a defensive unit . . . Buddy Barron, a Lubbock insurance man, finished refereeing the recent Plainview-Littlefield game before discovering he had broken his leg on the opening kickoff . . . Former boxing champion Cassius Clay compares Negroes who riot to a bull charging a train . . . "He is a brave, brave bull," Clay said, "but his tracks are his only monument" . . . More and more football teams are working out in shoes with soccer cleats, which lessen the chance of knee injuries . . . For that reason, the football shoe industry may shortly undergo a revolutionary change . . . In 1962, when SMU won only two of ten football starts, 16 high schools fielding teams in the Dallas area boasted bigger starting lineups than the Ponies . . . The Mustangs' defensive line, which includes Don White of Big Spring, averages only 192 pounds per man this fall . . . Some think that Mike Irons, youngest of three brothers to play football here, can become the best of the clan . . . Both Jack Ed and Dick Irons were all-district . . . Needless to say, the schools ran out of equipment.

Coach Spike Dykes of the Big Spring Steers said more seventh graders turned out for football than was expected but that he was delighted with the number of boys who wanted to be a part of the program . . . He said that no one would be turned away, adding that the Athletic Department was in the process of finding equipment for all the boys.

More than two million fans watched NFL teams in exhibition games this year . . . I don't think the attendance would be half that, if the clubs charged 75 cents for admission . . . The fans feel like they're going somewhere if they're hit with a $5 fee for tickets . . . Randy Stout, the San Angelo grid great, will pass up football at the University of Texas this fall due to a leg injury he suffered in the Big 33 game at Hershey, Pa., in August . . . The odds against picking all ten winners on one of those football betting cards are 1,024-1 . . . The payoff for such a feat is usually 100-1 . . . Bobby Nichols, who was depending upon handouts when he playing golf out of Midland a few years ago, recently signed a $50,000-per-year pact to serve as pro of a Florida golf club that is not yet in existence . . . In fact, the club (the Shangri-Isle) in Florida is just a dream . . . His sponsoring group purchased a very small island in Saratoga Bay, Fla., and is still dickering for permission to begin a major land-fill job that would produce the 150 acres needed for the planned 18-hole golf course, a lighted landing strip for airplanes, a string of beach houses, a club house and other refinements . . . Nichols received a cash fee for inking his contract, but will not start drawing his $50,000 salary until the place is in operation . . . The contracts for membership being distributed say that will be no later than Dec. 31, 1969.

COAHOMA—Coahoma tallied three touchdowns in the final period to drop the Wink Wildcats by a 20-14 count here Friday night.

The Bulldogs scored what proved to be the winning touchdown on an 18-yard jaunt by fullback Ken Gregory with just 90 seconds to go in the game. Gregory, who played an outstanding game on both offense and defense for the 'Dogs, carried the ball a total of 30 times throughout the game. His greatest contribution was 53 yards in nine carries in the third quarter.

"It was a supreme effort on the part of the boys" was all Coach Bernie Hagins could say. "They just wanted it more and whipped 'em."

The first half was routine, with just one TD being scored. The points came the first time that Wink had the ball in its possession. Wally Shifflett, Wink tailback, took the ball and danced for 47 yards and six points. Shifflett then broke through for the points-after-touchdown.

The third quarter saw no change in the score, but near the end, the Bulldogs began to move. Ricky Evans capped the 73-yard drive with an 8-yard scoring effort. PAT attempt failed.

Following another Wildcat punt, the Coahomans were on the move once again. They captured the lead on a 25 yarder by Dean Richters. Evans then swept in for the extra points.

The ball exchanged hands once more and left Coahoma with a third down and long yardage situation. Evans tried a quick kick which was blocked by a rushing Wink line. From the 44, the Wildcats scored quick on a pass from quarterback Bob Rowe to Danny Tidwell. A fired-up Coahoma defense dropped Rowe on the extra point try, deadlocking the score at 14-14.

Then came Gregory's winning touchdown. With less than a minute to play, Wink tried to get back in the ball game but failed when Shifflett was knocked loose from the ball by a host of Wildcats at the 44 of Coahoma.

Gregory, Richters and Evans were outstanding on offense as they repeatedly picked up needed yardage for Coahoma.

Lynn King, L. D. Bender, Lepard, and Gregory were prominent in a tough defensive unit that allowed Wink but 10 yards rushing in the second half.

It was the first victory for the Bulldogs in pre-loop play after suffering an opening defeat at the hands of Colorado City.

Cougars Romp To 33-13 Win

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston, led by the running of Paul Gipson and Warren McVea, opened its 1967 football season Friday night by crushing Florida State 33-13 in the Astrodome.

Gipson scored two touchdowns and McVea one, and fine gains during the night by the two speedsters set up most of the other Cougar scores.

Gipson and McVea both turned in 10-yard touchdown runs and Gipson added another from the three. Starting Houston quarterback Dick Woodall and his substitute, Ken Bailey, scored the others. Woodall scored on a seven-yard keeper and Bailey plunged one yard.

Florida State's touchdowns came late in the final period—the last in the final second. Both came on passes from substitute quarterback Kim Hammond, one a seven-yarder to Lane Fenner and the other a six-yarder to Thurston Taylor.

Gipson gained 103 yards on 19 carries and McVea, who was in for only one play in the second half, picked up the same amount in 15 attempts.

Permian Drops Lubbock, 21-14

LUBBOCK — The Panthers of Odessa Permian continued their unblemished season with a 21-14 victory over Lubbock Monterey's Plainsmen here Friday.

Holding the Lubbock squad to only 20 yards total offense at the half, Permian had gone out front with a 14-0 tab.

Halfback William Stewart accounted for both Panther scores in the first half — romping 54 yards for the initial one and driving over from the three yard line for the other. Roger McGraw kicked both PATs.

Quarterback Melvin Billups fired a TD aerial which covered 52 yards to Homer May in the third period for Monterey's first score, with Phil Gamble toe-ing the point after.

Lubbock counted again in the fourth period when halfback Chris Bernard hit up the middle to score from four yards out. Gamble again toed the extra point.

Stewart fired a 24 yard strike to end Garland Childers in the final stanza to cap off Permian's final TD. McGraw converted.

Top Elevens Impressive

By The Associated Press

Abilene Cooper justified its No. 1 rating in the top division of Texas schoolboy football Friday night by smashing Galena Park 28-0.

But the other top ranked teams also won and two of them were as impressive as Abilene Cooper.

Brownwood, the No. 1 team of Class AAA, whammed Gatesville 35-0 while Seagraves, called the kingpin of the A teams, swept over Frenship 60-8.

Jacksboro, No. 1 in Class AA, beat Olney 19-0 with a solid exhibition.

But none was more impressive than Dumas, which is among the ranked outfits of Class AAA. The Demons crushed Class AAAA Pampa 69-6.

The glaring upsets came when Lamar Consolidated, rated No. 5 in Class AAA, took a 21-6 hammering from unranked Alvin.

And Denver City, the No. 2 team of Class AA, took the plunge before Class AAA Seminole 25-6.

Port Arthur won an important victory for the state when the Yellow Jackets crushed Broadmoore of Baton Rouge, the Louisiana champion, 42-14. Port Arthur is No. 2 in Class AAAA.

Odessa Permian edged Lubbock Monterey to show its No. 3 rating in AAA was no fluke.

In Class AAA Ennis rolled on by socking Class AA Plano 14-2. Ennis is No. 2 in Class AAA. Plano No. 9 in AA.

Abilene Cooper was beating a good team when it shut out Galena Park. This one had whipped Texarkana 38-0 the preceding week.

Archer City, placed No. 4 in Class A, whipped Henrietta 19-6 but it may have been a most costly victory. Archer City lost its ace quarterback, Bob Gaines, with a shoulder injury that will require an operation.

George West, the pre-season championship favorite of Class A, beat Class AA Freer 6-0 and stayed in the eye of the rankers. Three Rivers, another rated A team, also trampled an AA outfit, beating Karnes City 19-13.

Odessa Is Tied By Westerners

ODESSA — Odessa's Broncos and the Westerners of Lubbock settled for a 14-14 deadlock in a pre-district grid meeting here Friday.

Lubbock's first score came when Travis Horne hauled in a three yard pass behind the goal line. Jim Easter converted with a kick.

Ron Peoples scampered 23 yards for Odessa's initial six-pointer, but the conversion attempt was vain.

With Easter again kicking the PAT, Lubbock scored in the final period when Jerry Yates cracked over from the two yard line.

After Peoples scored Odessa's second TD, David Taylor passed to Peoples for the two-point conversion and a deuce game.

Lee Turns Back Tascosa Rebels

AMARILLO — Visiting Midland Lee edged Amarillo Tascosa 10-7 in a non-district gridiron battle here Friday.

Leading right up to the final minute of play, the Lee Rebels had to stand off a Tascosa rally led by fullback Kim Malone which was aborted when the field goal attempt went wide.

The surprising Lee team racked up its second consecutive win for an unblemished record, while Tascosa has yet to taste victory.

Andrews Shocks Lamesans, 19-0

LAMESA — Chalking up its second consecutive shutout victory of the season, Andrews High School defeated Lamesa 19-0 in a football game here Friday.

Coy Watson scored two touchdowns — romping 52 yards for one and 53 yards with an intercepted pass for another. Larry Martin kicked the only successful point after attempt in the clash.

Rounding out the scoring, tailback Charlie Lopez sprinted 25 yards in the fourth frame for Andrews' final touchdown.

Astroworld Model Shown, To Be Ready Next Year

HOUSTON (AP) — Astroworld, a multi-million dollar family amusement center, is being built on a 56-acre site near the Astrodome.

An architectural model of the entertainment complex that will carry a slogan of "The Wonderful World of Fun" was shown Saturday by Roy Hofheiz, who conceived the idea for the Astrodome and who holds a 40-year lease on the domed structure that opened in April of 1965.

The Saturday ceremonies in the Astrodome ended months of speculation that Hofheinz has been developing plans for an Astroworld with facilities similar to those of "Disneyland" and "Six Flags over Texas."

The designers also designed Six Flags. They are Randal Duell and Associates of Santa Monica, Calif.

More than 600,000 cubic yards of dirt have been moved onto the site to form mountains, lakes and rivers required by the more than 50 features that also will make use of 2,000 tons of air conditioning. Informed financial circles estimated the Astroworld cost at $25 million.

The Astroworld is to open next summer.

By indirection, Hofheinz indicated he believes the national Democratic convention will be held in the Astrodome next summer.

"We hope Astroworld will be completed next summer in time for what will be the greatest convention ever held in this part of the country," he said without direct reference to the Democratic party.

Hofheinz said the entertainment will be owned and financed only by the Hofheinz family. Participating in the construction now under way and planned over the next decade are Houston Bank and Trust, Mercantile National Bank of Dallas, Chemical Bank of New York and the New England Mutual, Prudential and Great Southern Insurance Companies.

A specially designed bridge over a freeway will link the Astroworld with the south parking area of the Astrodome. The parking area also serves the Astrodome and the Astrohall will provide the greatest complex of family enjoyment, sports entertainment, and convention and show facilities in the world," Hofheinz said. "This complex is destined to become the world's greatest tourist attraction and bring untold millions of dollars into the Houston area economy."

The Astroworld is owned by Hofheinz, his three children, and his five grandchildren.

Hofheinz is president of the Houston Sports Association which owns the Houston Astros of the National Baseball League, Houston Stars of the North American Soccer League, and the Houston Apollos of the Central Hockey League.

The general manager of Astroworld is Stan McIlvaine, a former Six Flags executive and former baseball executive in Cleveland, Dayton, Ohio, San Antonio, Houston, and Dallas.

An additional 60 acres are available for future expansion of Astroworld facilities.

The 11 sections for entertainment have been designed to accommodate 20,000 people an hour on rides and attractions.

The sections include the bridge and center mall, Americana, Modern, Alpine, French, Western, Astro-Needle, children's lost world, fiesta plaza, and oriental.

The Alpine thrill ride will offer a trip through snow storms, glaciers, and water falls.

The Astro-needle includes a ride to a height of 340 feet. The children's section will include the crystal palace, an 800-seat theater, that will have 10 live shows daily.

Thefts Reported

Two thefts reported to police Saturday are under investigation. Dr. Floyd Mays, 602 Highland, told officers a pistol and holster were taken from his car. Manuel Correa, 1006 W. 6th, said a carburetor was taken from his car and the interior of the car damaged. He valued the carburetor at $30 and the damage at $15.

Meeting Held For Heart Assn.

Directors of the Howard County Heart Association attended a brunch hosted by the president, Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter, at the Webb AFB Officers' Club Saturday. Mrs. Neil Norred, Heart Sunday chairman for 1968, was introduced, as was Kim Coffee, Howard County Heart Child for 1968. Kim, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Coffee, recently had open-heart surgery.

Highlights of the Texas Heart Association meeting to be held in Dallas Sept. 22-24 were discussed. Mrs. Van Meter and Mrs. Norred will attend.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Pet Owner Deplores Putting Out Poison

To the Editor:

Have you ever seen a heart-broken child? While it is hard to do, a broken heart can be soothed by explanation and reasoning. I had three broken hearts tonight, but I had no explanation or reason.

I feel children need pets, as much as pets need children. Yesterday we had two small dogs, today they are both gone. Today when my third grade child came from school, she found her playmate dead in the driveway, poisoned! The other dog has not been found.

It must be a big (or small) person that feels he can take the responsibility of all the children not to get poisoned as well as the dogs.

I hope the person responsible for this . . . can realize the pain my 12-year-old boy felt when he came home from school. The two of them have been inseparable for over a year.

It is too bad the young people have to learn such lessons from grownups. Our dogs make four in the neighborhood this week. What reason can I give my children for such a cruel act?

A personal note to the poisoner. Think of the danger. If you have something against my dog, tell me. If you have something against someone else's dog, tell them. Don't put the danger of poison out in our neighborhood.

JOHN BENNETT

Bennett Given CLU Honors

John H. Bennett, agent with the Prudential Insurance Company of America, has been awarded the Chartered Life Underwriter designation at national conferment exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters in Chicago, Ill., last week.

The American College of Life Underwriters grants the CLU designation to persons engaged in activities relating to the insuring of human life values and who pass a series of professional examinations and meet the stringent experience and ethical requirements of the college. This year 1,775 men and women were awarded the designation, bringing to 17,391 the number of people who have received it since the college was founded in 1927.

Bennett retired from the Air Force in August, 1960, terminating a 23-year career as a major. As soon as the family settled in Big Spring, he began his new career in life insurance. His efforts earned special quality awards from his company every year since 1964. He is a current member of the Southwestern Leaders Roundtable with Prudential.

Bennett is a charter member of the Big Spring Association of Life Underwriters, which he served as president for 1965-66. He lives at 2705 Clanton Street with his wife, Ruth, and four children, John Jr., 20, Sarah, 18, Bill, 17 and Charles, 9. John Jr. is currently a pre-law student at Texas University; Sarah a freshman at Baylor; Bill and Charles are still in Big Spring schools. Bennett is a 1932 graduate of Spur High School and attended the University of Maryland.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Pike Of 'Peak' Fame Also 'Found' Texas

By ED SYERS

"A Colorado peak bears his name, as does a Canada monument where he fell (War of 1812)," says Zebulon Pike's sixth generation descendent, Weatherford's Ed Stevenson. "Where does Texas recognize his greatest work—here, American trailblazing southwest?"

This indignant kinsman knows his history and Pike's journal, London-published, 1811. In mid-July, 1806, the handsome 27-year-old New Jersey officer trailed a thousand miles west from St. Louis, deliberately to pierce a hostile iron curtain for U.S. routes to New Spain.

A year later, he was back in American Louisiana, via Spanish Santa Fe, El Paso, Chihuahua City, and up Camino Real: Saltillo, Monclova, San Antonio and Nacogdoches. For a man who told Santa Fe officers he was "lost"—even as they took his careful maps and notes—he memorized an incredibly detailed analysis of all North New Spain, with particular emphasis on the Texas that Jefferson's America felt was, in fact, Louisiana-purchased.

ORDEAL IN SNOW

Another story, seldom equalled, was his 15 man party's ordeal, waist to knee deep in snow, down the Rockies from Pike's Peak to Santa Fe. They struggled those empty, frozen mountains, mid-November to March, 'living off the land,' saw no human and little game until the Spaniards that Pike hunted, 'found' him where Rio Grande cuts Colorado's soaring Continental Divide. Spain escorted him, guarded, to Santa Fe, Mexico, questioning, finally home.

State by state, Northern New Spain was detailed in Pike's army report—geography, produce, trade, manufacture, transportation, climate, timber, wildlife . . . even dress, customs, public opinion . . . and, with great care, Spain's ports, military, and treasure.

PRAISE FOR TEXAS

But it was gateway Texas that most intrigued his summary: "One of the most delightful climates in the world," coastal ports "equal to any on the continent," beautiful rivers, with Brazos and perhaps Colorado navigable to keel boats. Texas soil? "One of the richest, most prolific, best watered in North America (and so few colonists using it)!" Game and timber! Here, man couldn't fail to make it!

Missions to troop - quartering Alamo, he found San Antonio "laid out on grand scale," though with "many miserable, mud-walled huts with grass-thatched roofs." El Paso had impressed him similarly. He saw little to Nacogdoches except troop outpost. As for troops, he calculated 23,000 regulars ("militia of no consequence") for all New Spain. Texas, he noted, could muster 1,200 . . . and many of them sick.

Though ordered by U.S. Army top command, the Pike report drew officially from Washington City, an almost 'Now, how did this get here?' reception. But it reads like precise reconnaissance for a people inexorably headed southwest.

Zeb Pike never saw them, surging, three decades later. He just marked the trail.

His kinsman figures we ought to note his.

MORE OLD TOWNS

Hunted here recently, old Spring Hill, near Dawson and Waco, is traced by Navarro County historian L. L. Wilkes of Hubbard. "It was founded by Dr. George W. Hill, psysician appointed Indian agent by Sam Houston (later, Secretary of War). First colonist in this undeveloped region, Dr. Hill came, 1837-38; his post was in operation at the time of nearby 'Battle Creek Massacre,' when 300 Kickapoo Indians killed all but seven in a 25-man surveying party. First named Indian Springs, the community changed to Spring Hill to identify founder and its water supply. Railroad's 1881 bypass, three miles south at Dawson, began its end.

Unknown to ghost town and visitor alike, Spring Hill's site sees heavy traffic today, adds historian Wilkes. It sleeps close beside sportsman's big Navarro Mills Reservoir.

OFFICER PLEASED WITH GIFTS FROM HOWARD COUNTY FRIENDS
Sheriff Dan Saunders of Martin County displays Western prints given him by admierrs

Sheriff Plans To Take Gifts Home For Hanging

STANTON — Sheriff Dan Saunders is a natural born collector. A visit to his office in Martin County's venerable old courthouse is like a trip to a museum.

Dan goes in primarily for things western and southwestern with a special bent toward items associated with his lifetime career — that of a peace officer.

Friends know of Dan's penchant and are constantly bringing him items to add to his supply.

One wall in his office has a somewhat grim display of weapons, some definitely away out and off-beam but all certainly lethal which he has taken from prisoners in his years as sheriff.

The most recent gifts are two eyecatching western prints. They were presented to the sheriff by Mrs. J. C. Eudy, 606 State Street, Big Spring.

She joined with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brasher, who live near Ackerly, to provide Saunders with the pictures.

"They knew my liking for pictures like these," observed Dan. "However, I am sorry to say the pictures will not be on display in my office.

I think they're too nice for that.

"I have them framed now and I intend to hang them in my living room at home."

Gra-Y Meeting Set Saturday

An organizational meeting is slated for 10 a.m. Saturday at the YMCA for the Gra-Y football league. All persons interested are urged to be on hand.

This is for boys in grades four, five and six, and the first game is due to be played Oct. 7. In Gra-Y ball, a flag is stuffed in the rear pocket of the backs or receivers, and they are considered tackled when someone is able to snatch out the flag.

Dear Abby

On Drinking Wine

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor and I had a disagreement which I hope you can settle for us.

I said Jesus drank wine, and my neighbor said it was grape juice.

She said back in Biblical days they didn't have wine — only grape juice. But in the Scriptures it mentions "drunkenness," and people can't get drunk on grape juice, so now about that?

Also, how come grape juice is used in communion instead of wine? And does a good Christian ever drink wine? Hoping to hear from you soon. I am, very truly yours. MRS. H. C.

DEAR MRS. H. C.: Grapes, left standing, become fermented, and fermented grape juice IS wine. In the Catholic church, wine, not grape juice, is used. But in churches where alcoholic beverages are forbidden, grape juice is substituted for wine.

Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish clergy agree that some "good" Christians drink wine, but a "good" man of any faith knows when to quit.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: There is something I have always wondered about. When a woman takes a married man away from his wife and family, is she ever happy with that man?

SEATTLELITE

DEAR SEATTLELITE: Sometimes. She's like the woman who buys a secondhand vacuum cleaner. She doesn't care where it come from—as long as it works.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law belongs to a luncheon-poker club, of which I am not a member.

She has no confidence in her own cooking, so whenever it's her turn to entertain her club, she asks ME to plan the menu, prepare the food, and take it to her home. Then she invites me to be a "guest" so I'll be right there to help her serve it.

I normally wouldn't mind, but her turn to be hostess usually comes at a very inconvenient time for me, as I have a family of my own to do things for. Doesn't it seem to you that if my sister-in-law didn't feel competent to entertain her club, she never should have joined in the first place? USED

DEAR USED: It seems to me that your sister-in-law has known all along that she's had an ace in the hole. (You!) You can't be "used" in this manner without your consent and cooperation, so if it's not convenient to accommodate her when she asks, decline.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I just attended the funeral of a relative. She had been ailing for many years and the family was aware of it. She mentioned many times during her illness that she wondered why some members of her family had not come to see her. She had never quarreled with any of them or had any misunderstandings.

After she passed away, these very relatives who had ignored her during her illness were the first to arrive at her funeral, looking very sad and grieved.

Can you tell me why some people don't have the time to visit a sick person when he's alive, but they find time to go to the funeral. When I die I don't care if anyone sends me flowers or comes to my funeral or not because I won't know the difference.

But if I am ill, I'd like to see a few visitors, and I'd also like to have a few flowers while I can smell them.

"New Look To Education"

—BIG SPRING SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL—

THE SPACIOUS PATIO in Big Spring Senior High School's new plant offers students a protected area where warm sun and fresh air can clear the mind and refresh the spirit. Taking advantage of the quiet spot to discuss plans for the school paper and annual are Karla Wadsworth, Becky Bright, Linda Hughes and Linda Lu Liles.

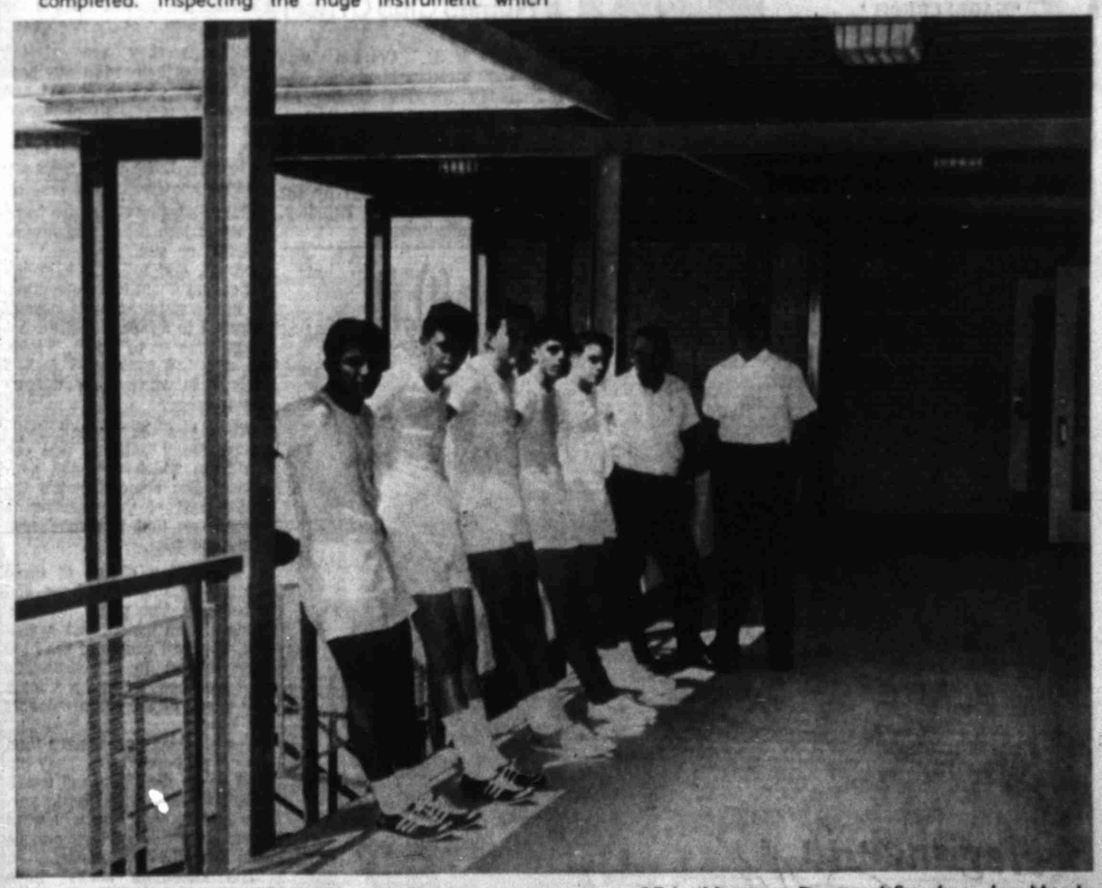

SOON THE CURTAIN will go up on dramatic and musical productions which can literally celebrate 'first nights' in the well-designed auditorium. Finishing touches are being put on the modern lighting and sound equipment here being inspected by Dwight Fortson, Gordon Marchant, Teresa Conner and Joan Robertson.

THE SPACE AGE ARRIVES at Big Spring Senior High School and students will be able to learn astronomy in the impressive planetorium now being completed. Inspecting the huge instrument which centers the circular room are Judy Purser, Charles Thomas, Anne Robinson, Bobbie Harris and Eddie Cook.

PLEASED AS PUNCH TO PRACTICE in a large, comfortable band hall are Brenda Smith, Paula Stuteville and Larry Abbott, part of the over 200 students who will also be marching in new uniforms this year. Looking over their shoulders is "Barney Schultz", a musical mascot made by Mrs. Tommy Hubbard.

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM at the high school will benefit this year from new coaches, gymnasiums and practice fields. Shown on the covered walkway leading to the upper level of the two-story PE building are Raymond Sanchez, Joe Meads, Mark Shaver, James Shaw, Robert Sanchez and their coaches, Joe Crousen and Doyle Parker.

Howard County HD Members Slate Highland Center Exhibit

Home Demonstration clubs throughout the county held meetings during the week. Club officers were elected, plans were completed for an exhibit to be held Oct. 18 in Highland Center, and programs were planned. One group hosted a get-acquainted tea and another held a craft's day and outing on the Colorado City lake.

LEES HD CLUB

A get - acquainted tea for members of the Lees HD Club and their guests was held Tuesday in the clubhouse where a fall motif was used in decorations. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with seasonal flowers and oak leaves arranged in a white miniature bowl and pitcher set. A yellow cloth and basket of fall flowers accented another table where members displayed handwork.

Mrs. V. E. Phillips, vice president, presided for a brief business session and introduced four guests, Mrs. W. G. Bingham, Mrs. N. L. McDonald, Mrs. Bennie Blissard and Mrs. Mack Alexander.

The new program topic is "The New Focus on HD Clubs," and the county HD agent, Mrs. James Eiland, led a discussion on interior decorating.

Mrs. E. B. Low and Mrs. J. L. Overton will leave Monday to attend the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting in Fort Worth.

The next meeting will be Sept. 26 in the home of Mrs. Phillips.

KNOTT HD CLUB

Mrs. Joe Myers was elected president for the forthcoming year at the Tuesday meeting of the Knott Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Emmett Grantham.

Other officers were Mrs. Grantham, vice president; Mrs. O. B. Gaskins, secretary - treasurer; and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, council delegate. Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county HD agent, spoke on the topic, "Be A Smart Consumer." Mrs. Billy Gaskins gave the council delegate's report, and roll call was answered with "A good book I have recently read."

The next meeting will be Sept. 26 at the Knott Community Center, with Mrs. W. C. Fryar serving as hostess. A cancer education film and program will be given by Mrs. Neil Norred.

CENTER POINT HD CLUB

Mrs. Alden Ryan was appointed historian at the Tuesday meeting of the Center Point HD Club in the home of Mrs. J. R. Petty, 1013 Sycamore.

Mrs. L. J. Davidson presided and announced the club will contribute $10 to the state hospital Christmas fund for patients, and $5 was given to the Bible Fund.

Mrs. D. H. Griffith and Mrs. G. W. Trantham will serve as workers at the fall exhibit, Oct. 18.

New officers were named. They are Mrs. Francis Melton, president; Mrs. L. J. Davidson, vice president; Mrs. Johnny Welborn, secretary - treasurer; and Mrs. J. R. Petty, council delegate.

The next meeting will be Sept. 26 with Mrs. G. R. Simmons, 412 Dallas, as hostess. Mrs. Delaine Crawford will present the program.

COAHOMA HD CLUB

A craft day and outing was combined by members of the Coahoma HD Club when they met Friday at the lakeside home of Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Sr. at the Colorado City Lake.

The program was on making exotic paper flowers. Lunch and supper were served. Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Jr. was elected president, and Mrs. A. C. Hale presided. Plans were completed for a quilt and bake sale Nov. 19 in Coahoma, and the group will assist with the exhibit Oct. 18. The club will decorate a Christmas table for the exhibit.

Members were asked to sew garments for a style show to be held in conjunction with the exhibit. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Ray Swann. Seven members and two guests, Miss Minnie Murry and Mrs. Mary Brown, attended.

LUTHER HD CLUB

Mrs. Frances Zant was elected president of the Luther HD Club at the Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. W. E. Hanson.

Mrs. A. L. James presided and Mrs. Frances Zant gave the council report. Work was completed on four ditty bags to be given to the Red Cross for Christmas presents to servicemen overseas. Also a Christmas box will be given to patients at the state hospital.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Louis Underwood, vice president; Mrs. Regis Fleckenstein, secretary - treasurer; Mrs. John Couch, council delegate; and Mrs. J. L. Loyd, reporter.

Eleven members and one guest, Miss Juanita Hanks, attended. The next meeting will be Sept. 28.

Tells Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Little, 1710 Young, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Geraldine, to James Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Buchanan, Gail Rt., Luther. The couple plans to be married in January.

Gardeners Hear Talks

Mrs. John Edgar talked on "Garden Sculpture" at the Wednesday meeting of the Four O'Clock Garden Club in her home at 4109 Muir.

Mrs. Edgar told the members how to use plants as a focal point in decorations, how to combine different species so that interesting patterns could be noted at different hours of the day, how to plan formal sculpturing and the advantages of yard lighting.

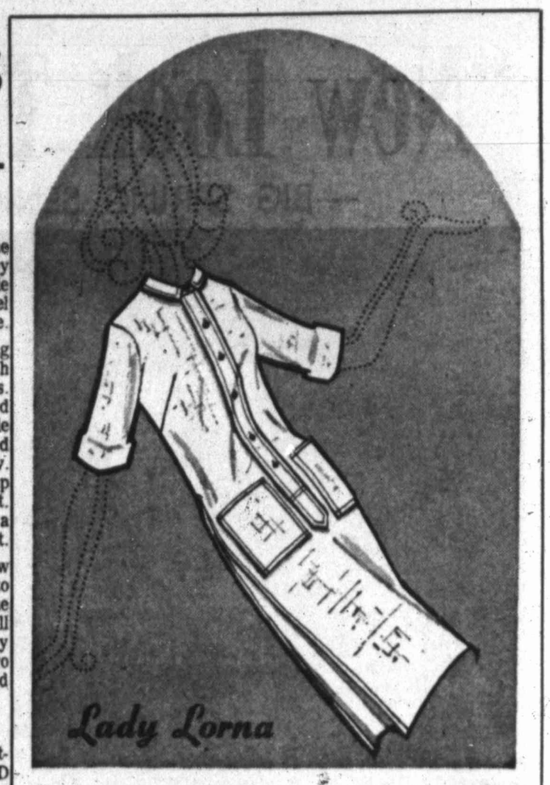

Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr. presided and gave a short talk on "Hazardous Plant Life," and discussed some of the poisonous plants that might endanger children or animals.

The flower show, originally planned for this fall, was changed to May. Nine attended.

TOPS Change Place

The TOPS Pound Rebels has changed its meeting place Monday to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. The program will be on hobbies and the making of paper flowers. Interested persons are invited to attend.

BUYING TIPS

Get Values In Hose

BY GENEVIEVE SMITH WOOD

The revolutionary new fashions in hosiery are bringing with them not only new methods in buying stockings but also new values.

Instead of 15-denier smooth nylons you'll find yourself face to face with nylon yarns as heavy as 90-denier. The hose pattern or design will be described as bubbles, diamonds, lace, window pane, fishnet, textured, crocheted, plus a dozen other terms. Some of these patterns by their very nature are run-resistant. So much so that in some cases manufacturers guarantee that the hose will last a year without a run. Occasionally there is reinforcement at the knee, as well as at the heel and toe.

In addition to the use of heavier nylon yarns, other long-wearing fibers also are used in the new hosiery. Very important are the acrylics, a wool-like man-made fiber hitherto widely used in the pile of simulated fur fabrics, in sweaters, coating and other fabrics where warmth retention is wanted. In the new hose these yarns are generally combined with nylon. Cotton also is used.

Besides being made of these sturdy, long lasting fibers, the new hose are stretch knits, which also adds to their service.

The new hose, designed to give unity to the short skirt costumes of the day, carry considerably higher price tags than the smooth, sheer nylon but these are offset by the long service they give.

WHEN YOU BUY

You'll have to change your buying methods when you select your new hose.

First is the need for careful matching, harmonizing, or contrasting the color of the hose with the costume. This will take more time and thought than choosing the neutral tones of the sheer nylons.

Although they are stretch knits, nevertheless the new hose are sized. Stretch hose and knee-highs for girls and women are usually grouped as medium, sizes 8 to 9½, and large, 10 to 11½. Little girls' sizes are classed as small, 6 to 7½.

Panty hose or tights are broken down into three size groups —petite or small, average or medium, and tall. Each grouping covers about two conventional hose sizes. Small usually means 5 to 5 feet, 5 inches. Average runs up to 5 feet, 7 inches, and tall runs to 5 feet, 9 inches. In each case, weights are average.

When you buy you'll have many, many patterns and colors from which to make your choice. But remember it's the better part of value-getting to choose one that has reinforced heels and toes.

You have a choice of three lengths — panty hose, hose, and knee-highs. The panty hose extends to an elasticized waistline. The knit design of the hose may extend to the waistline or it may convert into a smooth knit panty of the same color as the hose.

The stockings are longer than the conventional hose. They extend up on the thigh and usually are finished with elastic garters and weling. You will want to examine this gartering to be sure it meets your needs.

The knee-high socks have been on the scene for years for spectator sports and casual wear. This season there's more choice in color and pattern. All are made with sturdy elasticized tops that stay in place.

GOOD CARE, GOOD WEAR

Much of the service of these hose depends on the care you give them. Best bet is a careful hand laundering after each wearing. Until you know whether they will "bleed" (lose the excess dye that is in even fast color materials) in the first washing, better wash them alone.

In cases where particularly sturdy knits are labeled machine washable, it's wise to wash them in net bags to prevent snagging and stretching. Also, if the color is dark, better turn the hose inside out so that any lint will be on the wrong side. If the label recommends water of moderate temperature, stick to that, whether washing by hand or in a machine.

MRS. WILLIAM W. HODGES

Wedding Solemnized In Webb AFB Chapel

The wedding of Miss Lydia Cagle and Airman 2.C. William Wayne Hodges was solemnized Friday evening at six o'clock in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base with Chaplain Robert T. Deming officiating for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of S. Sgt. John W. Cagle who is now serving in Vietnam, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hodges of Clute.

The altar was enhanced with arrangements of white stock and greenery, and Airman 2.C. David McMurray, pianist, played "O Promise Me" and the traditional wedding processional by Mendelssohn.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by S. Sgt. Eusabio S. Martinez. Her white satin gown was styled with fitted bodice and circular, waltz - length skirt. The gown was overlaid with white lace, and the sleeves extended to petal points over the hands. The front featured a scalloped panel of lace from waist to hemline and scalloped lace peplum topping the full skirt. The back and sleeves closed with tiny satin buttons.

The bridal bouquet was of white gardenias encircled with Frenched carnations and carried atop a white Bible.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Carolyn Tanis, and best man was Airman 1.C. Louie D. Gammel. Wallace C. Stuart II served as usher.

RECEPTION

The couple was joined by members of the wedding party in receiving guests during a reception held in the home of Mrs. Emma Davis, 514 Washington Blvd. Miss Reba Nell Davis presided at the guest register, and friends served in the house party.

The refreshments were served from a table covered with a white floor - length satin cloth overlaid with tulle tied at the corners with white wedding bells and satin streamers. Centering the table was the white wedding cake which was encircled with white carnations, and appointments were of crystal and silver. Topping the tiered cake were bridal figurines.

WEDDING TRIP

Following a trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside at Southland Apartments. The bride graduated from Stanton High School and attended Midland Commercial College. She is employed in Base Supply at Webb AFB. The bridegroom was graduated from Brazosport High School where he was president of the Distributive Education Club. He is attached to the 3560th O. M. Squadron, Webb AFB.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If the Big Spring High School Band had played only one song, the beautiful Lara theme, at Friday night's football game I probably would have been happy, but all evening they played enthusiastically and well. If you haven't heard them, make a point to at the very earliest chance. They've a new arrangement on the school song and play Dixie with a beat that even the old folks tap their toes and clap their hands to. And they can march and play which has always seemed a feat bordering on genius to me. They look fine in their black and white but when the new uniforms come in I look for my cup to run over with pride in them.

Forum Unit Views New Fashions

Hemphill - Wells Company sponsored a fashion showing at the Thursday luncheon of the Junior Woman's Forum at Cosden Country Club. Mrs. B. L. Read, head of the millinery department, served as narrator, assisted by Mrs. M. C. Knowles.

Models were Mrs. Louis McKnight, Mrs. Wayne Henry and Mrs. Jerry Barron. Mrs. Read demonstrated the correct method of putting on a hat, flattering hairstyles worn with a hat and 'fall millinery styles. She said that brown shades were top fashion, hats with chin straps are definitely "in", the derby is fashionable and the soft beret with high crown is high style.

Mrs. Wayne Henry was presented with the attendance prize of a mink hat. Four members selected hats to wear with their costumes at the luncheon and one was presented a gift certificate.

Decorations were colored flower pots holding miniature trees with tiny hats on the branches. Fifteen members and four guests, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Knowles, Mrs. Don Williams and Mrs. L. K. Gladden, attended.

Theater Team Enacts Play For Hyperions

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Meikle of Midland, enacted the one-act play, "Village Wooing," from George Bernard Shaw's collection, "Seven One-Act Plays," at the Thursday luncheon of the Hyperion Council. The group met at the Big Spring Country Club, and Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr. introduced the guests.

Meikle is assistant director of the Community Theatre in Midland.

Mrs. R. W. Thompson, council president, urged members to support the Big Spring Concert Association ticket sales. Mrs. Leo K. Gee gave the invocation. Roll call was answered by representative club members, and the first prize was presented to Mrs. Wilson, president of the 1955 Hyperion Club for having the largest number present. Other floral arrangements were given to Mrs. B. M. Estes, president of the 1953 Hyperion Club, and Mrs. Ross Boykin, 1948 Hyperion Club president.

The three dining tables were covered with white cloths and centered with mass arrangements of fall flowers and autumn leaves.

Fifty-four members attended.

First Baptist Church Setting For Petterson-Coker Rites

The sanctuary of the First Baptist Church was the setting Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Gloria June Coker and Paul Richard Petterson.

The Rev. Robert F. Polk officiated as the couple repeated vows before an altar enhanced by baskets of white chrysanthemums, palms of emerald foliage and seven - branched candelabra. Brass candle holders and topiary trees flanked a white prie dieu, and the bridal aisle was illuminated by wedding tapers held by white standards entwined with boxwood foliage.

The musical prelude was presented by Mrs. John Birdwell, organist, and Glenn Faison, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Take Thee, Dear."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie A. Coker, 612 Highland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Petterson of Colorado City.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal white peau de soie wedding gown styled as a modified tent with scalloped bodice and sleeves overlaid with re - embroidered French lace. The cathedral train, with center pleat, extended from under the lace bodice. Her headpiece of seed pearls was formed into flower petals and anchored an elbow - length veil of layered maline. Her traditional items were the new dress, blue garter, borrowed silk handkerchief and six pence in her shoe.

The old article was a white Bible given to the bride at birth, which she topped with a cascade of stephanotis and English ivy.

MRS. PAUL RICHARD PETTERSON (Howard's Studio)

Mrs. Wayne Henry, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and the maid of honor was Miss Sharron Creighton Mrs. Tony Starr of Dallas served as bridesmaid. They were identically attired in long, green peau de soie gowns with squared sleeveless bodices and standing rolled collars. Their headpieces were green silk organza flowers, briefly veiled, and with streamers accented with small fluted organza flowers. Each carried an orange Mexican paper flower.

Clark Hutchinson of Dallas was best man, and groomsmen were Jerold Spivey and Wayne Henry. Guests were ushered to their places by Lt. Michael Dunn, Sulphur, Okla.; George Furqueron, Dallas; Larry Coker and Melvin Fryar. Greg Henry was ring bearer, and the flower girl, Shawna Henry, was attired in an orange velveteen dress and orange grosgrain headpiece. Identical dresses were worn by Kay Archer of Ackerly and Donna McDaniel who lighted the altar tapers.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado and New Mexico, the couple will reside at 1512 Stadium. For traveling, the bride wore a black and white striped wool dress with high black belt and stand-up collar. She used black accessories and chose a cranberry Aussi hat.

SCHOOLS

Mrs. Petterson is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College before earning a BS degree in Home Economics at Texas Tech. Also, she attended Nyckelvikkskoian in Sweden and the University of Stockholm for English-Speaking Students in Stockholm, Sweden. She is a substitute teacher in the local district. The bridegroom, also a graduate of BSHS, attended HCJC and Wayland Baptist College. He received a degree from the Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science and is associated with the River - Welch Funeral Home.

RECEPTION

The parents and feminine attendants joined the couple in receiving guests in the fellowship hall of the church. The reception guests were registered by Mrs. Jake Coleman of Lubbock.

Members of the house party were Mrs. George Furqueron and Mrs. Dwaine McRorey, both of Dallas; Mrs. Dude Cluck, Mrs. Rick Terry, Mrs. Fred Overton, Mrs. Rodney Brooks, Mrs. William Droke, Mrs. Larry Knight, Mrs. James Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hagood, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. Buel Fox, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Zack Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coker and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Marshall.

The bride's table featured a white tulle cloth with Chantilly lace border and flounced overlay. The centerpiece was a large white floral arrangement, and appointments were of silver. The three-tiered cake was separated with columns and topped with satin bells and bridal figurines which had been used on the bride's parents wedding cake. It was decorated with yellow confection roses and based in yellow tulle. On the bridegroom's table, an orange burlap cloth was used with a brass coffee service. Accenting the table was a brass candlestick used in 1863 at the bride's great-grandfather's wedding.

Guests from out of town were Wayne Davis, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howard, all of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bell, Pecos; and Walter Brunson, Lubbock.

REHEARSAL

Parents of the bridegroom hosted the rehearsal dinner at Coker's Restaurant Friday evening which was attended by 40 guests. The U-shaped table arrangement was accented with small paper flowers in amber snuff jars, and the main table held a centerpiece of yellow and green flowers. Orange yarn napkin holders were used.

The couple presented gifts to their attendants.

ABWA Has Tea Today

The Scenic Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold its "Hand of Friendship" tea today from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Semi-annually, all chapters in the organization hold such a tea on the same dates. The purpose is to offer business women an opportunity to join the ABWA.

The organization encourages women to prepare themselves for business careers and sponsors scholarships for women who need financial aid to prepare themselves for jobs. In addition to the local program, there is also the Stephen Button Memorial Educational Fund to which all chapters may contribute.

An invitation to the tea is considered an invitation to join the association. Today's tea chairman is Miss Shirley White, and hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Eslinger, Miss Shirley Lee, Mrs. Floyd White, Mrs. Harvey Wooten, Mrs. L. A. Rose, Mrs. Leonard Burks and Mrs. J. D. Kendrick.

The refreshment table will feature a red linen cloth, crystal punch service and gold candleholders. The centerpiece will be an arrangement of fall flowers and foliage. Approximately 75 are included on the guest list.

Gavel Club Hosts Supper Meeting

Mrs. M. C. Lawrence hosted a salad supper and meeting Thursday for the Past Matron's Gavel Club, Laura B. Hart Chapter No. 1019, Order of Eastern Star, in her home at 711 Aylford. Mrs. Gordon Hughes was cohostess.

Mrs. Ollie McDaniel brought the devotion, and Mrs. Dick Mitchell worded the opening prayer. Mrs. Hughes presided and announced the new project of a traveling gift basket. Proceeds will be used for the Christman fund.

Hostesses for the October meeting will be Mrs. R. E. Mitchell and Mrs. Bill Smelser. Mrs. McDaniel was appointed card chairman.

The Evolution of Pharmacy

By Bill R. Spain, R. Ph.

Another very popular and particularly interesting treatment employed by the ancient Babylonians was a means of fumigation to drive the evil spirits from the body.
Here some very unusual combinations were mixed together and either heated to a high temperature or burned; then the fumes were inhaled by the patient.
Fumigation, plasters, lotions, ointments, poultices, and medicated wines are among the early cures used by the Babylonians, 3000 B.C.

High Tallies Announced At Bridge

Mrs. Robert Tinley won high score during the Newcomers Club bridge luncheon held Wednesday in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club. Other winners were Mrs. Nan Salyer, second; Mrs. Curtis Compton, special, and Mrs. W. H. McMullan, who received the attendance prize. Mrs. McMullan was hostess with Mrs. R. G. Sinder.

Guest speaker for the luncheon was Mrs. Ennis Cochran, volunteer coordinator at Big Spring State Hospital, who took the group on a 'tour' of the hospital by showing slides and describing the facilities and activities in each department.

Mrs. Dean Line and Mrs. Lloyd Privett were welcomed as new members, and Mrs. Ed C. Parker Jr. was a guest.

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Sept. 27, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Cactus Chapter Holds Tea Today

The Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, will hold its semi-annual "Hand of Friendship" tea today from 2 to 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. J. B. Price, 1109 Ridgeroad. A Western decor is planned as the members "toss out a lariat" for new members. Hostesses will be dressed in informal attire.

Married Life Chosen For Club Discussion

"Married Life" was the topic of discussion when Mr. and Mrs. John Leary of Midland were guest speakers Thursday evening for the Immaculate Heart of Mary Mothers Club. Mrs. Maurice Took presented the devotion, "God Is Love."

Mrs. Frank J. Martinez presided as Mrs. T. M. McMickhen announced plans for a rummage sale Oct. 7 on North Gregg. The Rev. Frances Beazley told of the purchase of a school bus, and proceeds from the sale will be used to help defray this expense. The school library extension was described by Sister Mary Bernard who asked for a volunteer library chairman. Mrs. Dan Bustamante was named vice president of the club.

The attendance prize went to Mrs. John Echley, and refreshments were served by the hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Thomas Mullen.

Amoung the 45 attending were six new members, Mrs. Jerry W. Osgood, Mrs. B. J. Dromsky, Mrs. James J. Malone, Mrs. Edward C. Parker Jr., Mrs. William T. Daron and Mrs. Henry Holguin.

The next meeting will be Oct. 19.

Contribution Goes To Bible Fund

A $10 contribution to the Bible Fund was made Tuesday by the Opti-Mrs. Club which held a luncheon meeting at Coker's Restaurant. Ten attended.

As Mrs. Van Perry presided, yearbooks were distributed and committees appointed. It was noted that all Optimist wives are eligible for membership and should be encouraged to participate.

Mrs. Harold Bentley, a beautician, will be guest speaker at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 26, when the group will meet in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Weights Preserve Garments

Use weights in hemlines to add a professional touch to home sewing and to preserve the garment's shape, suggests Rheba Bayles, extension clothing specialist with Texas A&M University.

You can use several types of weights for different purposes. Keep in mind that the weights shouldn't distort your garment, however.

Single lead weights, either round or square, range from ½ inch to 1¼ inches in diameter. Weighted tapes, made of separate pieces of lead in a continuous strip of tape, also come in several sizes.

The chain weights, which are links joined together, can be fastened to hems of jackets and overblouses. The chain weights are available in two sizes and can be purchased by the yard or in prepackaged lengths.

Before you sew a weight into a garment, pin it to be sure you have placed it where it is needed. Make a covering for the weight out of linen fabric. Then fasten the weight to the of the garment.

Say Vows In Service At Clyde

CLYDE — Kay Hill and Leon Morgan Oerline pledged marriage vows Saturday afternoon at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Oerline. He is the grandson of Mrs. D. C. Duncan, 310 Austin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Hill of Midland.

A graduate of Clyde High School, she is employed by U.S. Time Corp., Abilene.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Washburn High School, Topeka, Kan., and served four years in the U.S. Navy. He is employed by R&R Electronics, Abilene.

The Rev. Wendell B. Shirey, pastor of Southside Baptist Church at Clyde, read marriage vows.

Mr. Hill presented his daughter in marriage. She wore a lace dress with veil attached to a rosette cluster. She carried carnations.

Airman 2.C. and Mrs. Richard Tipton of Abilene were honor attendants. Mrs. Tipton wore a turquoise linen dress and matching hat with brief veil. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After Oct. 1 the couple will live at 127 Bryant Rd., Clyde.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Did you know that those oversize, decorative brandy snifters also make excellent punch bowls?

I bought a plastic ladle at the dime store and some smaller brandy snifters to use as punch cups.

HELOISE

* * *

That is really a nifty idea — especially when we don't need a real large punch bowl.

I'll bet lots of women who can't afford expensive punch sets are going to love your idea. I do . . . Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

To get the musty, damp smell out of closets, drawers, overstuffed chairs, etc., I use whole cloves. I just slip some under the chair cushions, into drawers and on top of closet shelves.

It's surprising how clean-smelling everything is in no time at all . . . Mary Nartowicz

* * *

Dear Heloise:

The best way I know of to clean an enameled sauce pan that has been burned is to put four tablespoons of salt in it and fill with cold water. Let it remain overnight.

The next morning, I just bring the salt water to a boil and my pans come clean everytime. Mary Farnsworth

* * *

Dear Heloise:

All summer now I have been ruining the heels of my pastel shoes on the rubber flooring under the driver's seat of my car. That dirty black rubber has left marks on every pair I own and cleaning them isn't easy.

I finally got good and mad and decided to use a piece of leftover carpeting to cover that whole area, extending it up a little under the heel of the gas pedal.

Well, I'm just writing to let you know that it's the best idea I've ever had. Not one pair of shoes has been damaged since. And it makes for a more comfortable heel rest, too! . . . Eileen

* * *

I hope to smoke a pickle, I don't. So you won the bet!

I consider that ironing dish towels is a waste of time.

If you don't have a dryer, pin your dish towels on your line and pick up your garden hose and turn it on strong spray, wetting them thoroughly. Give your sheets and other flat work the same treatment.

The water will remove nearly every wrinkle. When dry, fold them as you remove them from the line.

Who is going to know? And who would care if they did?

I do NOT believe in wasting energy in ironing dish towels.

Now . . . go kiss that husband . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have found that a one-pound coffee can saves me time and undue work when I prepare that new whipped dessert mix.

After putting the ingredients in, I use only one beater on my mixer and it doesn't spatter at all.

Then I put it in the refrigerator to chill right in the can . . . Mrs. Frances Craver

Guest Advises On Teenagers

"You, and Your Teenager" was the program topic discussed by Mrs. Robert T. Deming at the Wednesday meeting of the Child Study Club. Mrs. Glenn Allen, 805 Dallas, was hostess.

Mrs. Deming said the most important ingredient in handling teenagers is love, and second, to keep lines of communication open between parent and youth. Mrs. Deming stressed that parents should let children know about the family finances, about the rules for entertaining and the hours that they may be away from home. She pointed out that most teenagers readily accept rules and circumstances when they are presented by parents.

Mrs. Jack Burnett and Mrs. David Elrod reported on the Howard County Child Welfare officer project. The women met recently with the City Commission and were informed that the commission will pay one fourth the cost of maintaining an officer. The state will pay one-half, and the county has been requested to pay the remaining cost.

Mrs. J. K. Hatch, president, is moving to El Paso, and a new president will be elected in October.

Bible Fund Gets Class Donation

The Bible Fund was enriched by $5 when the contribution was made Tuesday during a meeting of the Golden Age Class of Berea Baptist Church. Mrs. I. E. Norrell, 2202 Warren, was hostess, and Mrs. Clifford Fowler presided. Prayers were led by Mrs. E. Y. Thompson, Mrs. J. T. Gross, teacher, and Mrs. Clifford Howell who also gave a reading.

Mrs. R. E. Dolan brought the devotion.

Other offices are filled by Mrs. R. I. Tuckness, president; Mrs. R. Blankenship, secretary; Mrs. Howell, treasurer; and Mrs. Thompson, reporter. Games completed the meeting.

Tall Talkers Hold Study Of 'Leader'

Mrs. M. A. Porter spoke on "Profile of a Leader" in conjunction with the study theme "United States' Image in Today's World," at the Tuesday dinner meeting of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club. The meeting was held in the Officers' Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base.

Toastmistress for the evening was Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, who also served as valuator. Mrs. Lowell Grabeu and Mrs. Herman Smith were inducted as new members, and Mrs. Ralpa Barris was introduced as a guest. Mrs. Porter presided.

A LOVELIER YOU

'Talking' With Hands Distracts Listeners

By MARY SUE MILLER

Young ladies were once taught to keep their hands folded in their laps. They were warned: "Don't ever talk with your hands." It was thought very bad manners to make any sort of unnecessary manual gestures.

If a teen were to follow that advice today she would seem a stiff, shy child. Yet it would be better to clench your hands in tight fists than to let them fidget with your hair or jewelry. Fidgeters really show a childish lack of poise, and drive other people crazy.

There is a vast gulf between fidgets and meaningful gestures. Punctuating a remark with a movement of the hand appears natural and charming. But do be sparing of your gestures. Wildly flapping hands divert attention from your ideas. They catch the eye, not the ear.

But, whether or not your hands are in motion, they still talk. They have a sign language all their own. When they are well-groomed they tell the nicest things about you. When they are grubby they tattle of unattractive qualities.

For happy talk, hands need to be sudsed clean and lotioned smooth. Nails should be filed in neat ovals; cuticles should be tidy; polish, if used, should be pale perfection.

Given just that much attention, the hands respond with the kind of looks that bring "ahs" of admiration. Otherwise the word is likely to be "ugh!"

TIPS FOR TEENS

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural make-up for young adults—ages 13 to 19—are detailed in my booklet, "Model Tips for Teens." Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use make-up to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model make-up tricks. Fort Worth To Draw Texas Homemakers

Representatives from Howard County join 1,000 other Texas homemakers Sept. 19-20 for the 41st annual convention of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Fort Worth.

Attending the state meeting from here will be Mrs. Alton Underwood, Mrs. Frances Zant and Mrs. W. L. Eggleston.

Walter Richter, director, Southwest Region Office of Economic Opportunity, will keynote the conference on Tuesday, telling of "The Significance of the Other War." Mrs. Florence W. Low, assistant director for home economics, Texas A&M University, will introduce the executive officer.

Welcome notes will come from L. F. Peterson of Fort Worth, member of the Texas A&M University board of directors, and Mrs. J. E. Waggoner, THDA chairman, Tarrant County.

Other talks and topics include Mrs. Wilmer Smith of Wilson, president of the National Extension Homemakers' Council, speaking on "The Home a World of Concern," and Dr. Alice Wonders, chairman, Division of Philosophy and Religion, Texas Wesleyan College, telling of "Family Portraits from the Middle East."

Dr. Carl S. Winters, guest lecturer for General Motors, will close the conference, speaking on "Today's Youth and Tomorrow's World" at a Wednesday evening banquet.

The two-day session will feature training workshops on 4-H, family life, safety, citizenship, health and recreation. Recommendations from these meetings will be taken back to the counties by those attending the state convention and carried out by the approximately 36,000 THDA members throughout the state.

Examples of proposed recommendations include home demonstration club members assuming citizenship responsibilities through study of new state legislation, clubs' studying the services for the mentally retarded, clubs' encouraging and supporting community and state agencies whose programs assist families, and clubs' emphasizing driver education for youth and improved traffic safety legislation to legislators.

In citing the accomplishments of the THDA, Mrs. Low pointed out that "during 1966, the 36,000 club members in 1,709 different clubs provided help in the development of homemaking skills to 265,395 homemakers not enrolled in clubs — an average of about eight assistances per club member."

Mrs. Low also emphasized that 74 outstanding 4-H Club girls have received THDA scholarships in the past 41 years.

"These recipients now serve in leadership capacities throughout the state," Mrs. Low states, a tribute to the leadership of this organization.

Lists Bulbs For Spring Planting

Bulbs which should be planted now for spring bloom were described by Mrs. J. A. Andrews, 1603 Jennings when she was hostess for the Wednesday meeting of the Planter's Garden Club.

Plants recommended were the iris, tulip, hyacinth, snowdrop, lily, amaryllis, crocus, and a new bulb, the alium. She also suggested orchids for Christmas blooms.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Guy Cook who offered advice on how to attract birds to feeders and baths. She noted that feeders should be placed about five feet off the ground and could be filled with grain, seeds or bread.

Mrs. Frank Wilson presided and introduced the guests, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Roy Seiler. Refreshments were served to eight.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10 in the home of Mrs. C. Milton Brown, 401 Westover.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morgan, 406 E. 22nd, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lynda Faye, to Michael Stephen Faulkner. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Faulkner Sr., 1415 Wood. The couple will marry Dec. 22 in the Baptist Temple, and the Rev. James Puckett will perform the ceremony.

Party Theme Accents Paper

The Woman's Forum began a course of study, "Let Us Take Time for All Things," at a Thursday morning Coke party in the home of Mrs. Marshall Cauley, 524 Scott. Members of the hospitality committee served at cohostesses. They are Mrs. W. N. Norred, chairman, Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh and Mrs. Paula Kionka.

The party carried out a "paper" motif, and paper dresses were made and worn by the hostesses. The table was covered with a paper cloth and was centered with a styrofoam clock featuring miniature orange and yellow flowers and gold braid trim. Copper and avocado colored china appointments completed the setting.

Large Mexican paper flowers in orange, yellow and cyclamen pink were placed at focal points in the entertaining rooms.

A paper placard enscribed with "Take time to be friendly" was displayed over the serving table.

Mrs. L. B. Maulden, president, attended the refreshment table and was presented with a paper corsage. Yearbooks were distributed, and 22 members and 18 guests attended.

Guests were Mrs. G. E. Anderson, Mrs. W. R. Holcombe, Mrs. Ted Hull, Mrs. DeWitt Bunn, Mrs. Warden Mayes, Mrs. John Stanley, Mrs. Van C. Hale, Mrs. Julian B. Baird, Mrs. Allen Horbarger, Mrs. Clifton C. Nieland, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. Chester F. Barnes, Mrs. R. B. McAfee, Mrs. Bob Satterwhite, Mrs. Walter Moore, Mrs. Leslie McNeese, Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. James H. Wilkins.

Paper aprons were presented as gifts to Mrs. T. H. McCann and Mrs. Mayes.

Speaks On Counseling Teenagers

Mrs. Harold Rosson, senior guidance counselor at Big Spring Senior High School, was guest speaker at a Thursday brunch held by the Progressive Woman's Forum at the Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Rosson told of her work in counseling the senior students in planning their vocations and college courses best suited for them.

Mrs. Horace Rankin Presided. The table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a mass arrangement of fall flowers.

The next meeting will be Sept. 28 in the home of Mrs. Hugo Campbell, 2609 Clanton.

Seamstress Club Sews On Quilts

Work on quilt blocks was continued when the Sew and Chatter Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Marvin Sewell, 407 Washington. The quilt will be given to a needy family at Christmas.

Also, the women completed the filling of ditty bags which they constructed for the Red Cross to send to servicemen who are overseas.

The birthday of Mrs. Herbert Johnson was celebrated, and she was presented a gift from the 12 attending.

The next meeting will be Sept. 28 in the home of Mrs. H. V. Crocker, 1707 Benton.

BRITISH FASHION ORACLE SAYS:

Pink: The Shade For Men

By NADEANE WALKER

LONDON, England (AP)—Sir Mark Palmer, Baronet, looked into his crystal ball and predicted that pink will be the popular shade in menswear next season. Not only pink shirts, but pink hats, shoes, maybe pink Arab robes.

Don't laugh. As founder and head of the English Boy model agency, Mark is something of a fashion oracle. He set up shop in Chelsea in March, and has since revolutionized the image of the male fashion model.

A staff of 35 English boy models are kept busy at $15 an hour. Their physical structure must be: height, 6 feet tall, weight, about 140 pounds, and chest, not more than 36 inches around.

MALE 'TWIGGY'

It's no surprise that the star of the English Boy stable, Bill Chenail, 20, is known as "Master Twiggy." (His measurements are close to those of Twiggy's.)

When we met Mark Palmer, 24, he was wearing a sky blue flat felt hat, blue striped red blazer, flowered Moroccan vest with striped tie around the waist, and sure enough, pink pants and pink shoes. Incidently, Mark, an ex-Oxford man, omits his title from his pink business cards.

"Painted the shoes myself," he said with pride. The shops have an annoying habit of being one step behind Mark. Just the other day we saw some green shoes in the window of a sedate men's shop, but Mark has already run through the green phase.

"We're riding the crest of the wave," says Mark Palmer. "The shape of men's bodies had already changed before we pointed it out, but nobody had noticed. Now other more conventional male model agencies are taking this change into consideration. Male models should look like poets."

Partners in the venture with Mark are Trisha Locke, who is still young enough to wear very short mini-skirts and purple lipstick, and Kelvin Webb, 21, a dead ringer for Bob Dylan, and delighted when you remark the resemblance.

MUSCLES 'OUT'

"I hate to say anything bad about anybody," says Kelvin with obvious sincerity, "but who wants to look like the 35-year-old muscular Australian male model you see in the glossy fashion magazines? Young girls don't want to be seen with that type any more. The glossies have lost touch with fashion, they just don't know anything about it."

According to Mark Palmer, the new wave was started not by Carnaby Street ("badly made stuff, that") but by Mary Quant in Chelsa. "Actually, the originators of fashion are the layabouts and scrubbers who haven't got any money, so they cut things off, make over, invent for themselves." Layabouts may be a dirty word in some people's vocabulary, and the term "scrubbers" for their feminine equivalent usually starts a hair - pulling, nail-scratching fight when applied to a girl in television's "realism" plays. Coming from Mark, they sound complimentary.

SOME BUMS

"Some of our models we got from drama schools, shops and photographers studios," he explains, "but others were just bums. They were just hanging around." Now some are making over $600 a week modelling, but they don't boast of the money. "We hate money," Kelvin Webb says flatly. "But sad though it may seem, one must make money to do anything."

The English Boy model agency is not just a supplier of new style clothes horses. "We want to influence young people to think for themselves," says Kelvin Webb. "Why should a quarter of the population tell the other three - quarters what to do? Some young people have been conditioned against thinking. It's wrong that they should be taught by people of 65 in the universities. Our philosophy is love each other and quit fighting."

From Mark's point of view, our minds have moved ahead and our bodies are just catching up with them. Besides flowing Arab robes and pink for men, he foresees more male jewelry, scarves, bright colors, and a movement away from neatness. English Boys may be kookie, but they are not scruffy.

"A lot of people have been writing me from America asking advice on how to set up an agency like mine," says Mark Palmer. "But I'm not telling them, because I hope to set up my own New York agency quite soon."

Chamber Lauded For Success Of Convention

Jeff Brown, Big Spring realtor who was official host for the recent fall meeting of Texas Realtors here, praised the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club, and credited chamber tips on convention planning for the success of the realtor meeting.

Before leaving Big Spring, President Pleas Naylor, of TREA, said, "We were warmly received and hosted in a manner as fitting as that planned by groups in much larger cities. Big Spring is to be congratulated on its efforts to make our meeting here worthwhile and pleasant." Naylor was particularly impressed that Big Spring could handle this meeting while playing host at the same time to some of the nation's outstanding military leaders here for the 25th anniversary of Webb Air Force Base.

Brown explained that he had used Chamber suggestions beginning as early as December of last year in seeking the host bid for TREA's fall meeting.

"If all members of professional groups would avail themselves of the excellent Chamber ideas for acquiring meetings, they might host many of the medium size meetings of their trade, professional, or social groups." Brown estimates that realtors spent over $25,000 in Big Spring as they utilized the motels, restaurants and generated air and surface travel expenditures."

The Ambassadors Club, the chamber's membership and good will arm, managed to roll out the red carpet for both the realtors and guest dignitaries of Webb Air Force Base.

Wilson Sheds 'Old-Guard' Leadership

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson, quietly shedding old-guard leadership, is counting on four youngish intellectuals to get Britain moving—or else.

Wilson is 51. The four men he has placed on commanding heights of the nation's economy average 43.

Their mission, under Wilson's personal direction, is clear: to transform the country's dated institutions, methods and systems, at the centers of real power, to the demands of a second industrial revolution.

EX-PARATROOPER

Anthony Crosland, 49, is president of a strengthened Board of Trade aiming to promote British exports and to control imports by all methods short of formal quotas.

Trained as an economist, he served as a paratrooper in World War II and, under Wilson's management, has moved from the right toward the middle ground of Social Democratic politics.

His special responsiblity will be to insure that Britain earns much more abroad than she spends, so underpinning the country's precarious solvency.

Anthony Wedgwood Benn, 42, controls an annual budget of $2 billion as minister for technology. His empire has 23,000 scientists, technologists and aides on the payrolls of 18 state agencies.

TOUGH TASK

His job is to modernize British industry to compete more effectively with other countries.

Richard Marsh, 39, is in charge of Britain's steel, gas, oil and nuclear energy programs as minister of fuel and power. This puts him in the middle of national political and economic affairs where he can influence industries that will decide Britain's future in the world technological race.

Twenty years ago, under a previous Labor regime, a disastrous coal shortage during a freezing winter crippled the country. Marsh was a serving soldier. He has described how he and his chums kept warm: "We used to pinch the coke we needed."

COL. GORGAS WAS THE PIONEER

Conquering The Mosquito Brought The Panama Canal

By HOUSTON HARTE

PANAMA CITY — After 30 years of effort on the Panama Canal the French were unable to sell any more stock in the enterprise. The graft and bribery, which had been a major ally of the promoter, Count Ferdinand of De Lesseps, brought failure to the enterprise.

Bad luck became De Lesseps middle name. He hired the American Col. George M. Totten, president and builder of The Panama Railroad which crossed the isthmus in the 1950s and was successful enough to pay for itself in a single year of operation.

UNINHABITABLE

Totten reported to De Lesseps the $80 million he had raised in stock sales was just one-third that required for digging the canal. But despite all this and the extravagance of the Paris office and the Panama office at Colon, the venture might have succeeded except that the mosquito made the area the canal was to cross uninhabitable.

When the United States bought the French claims, its railroad and excavation from the French, perhaps we could not have completed it had not the army had a sanitary engineer named Col. (Dr.) William Crawford Gorgas. He had solved malaria and yellow fever in Havana during the Spanish-American War. Upon Col. Gorgas rested the key to the success of digging the canal.

THE MONEY

True, the United States had the money, which De Lesseps did not have. It had dedicated and patriotic engineers and administrators. It had advanced equipment and the desire to perfect machines which would do the job. But the thing the United States had that no one else apparently possessed was a sanitary engineer who felt he knew how to control the jungle disease by killing the mosquito which spread the disease. This was the essential difference between the French and the American effort.

Col. Georgas, with a small staff, arrived at the Ancon Hospital on the Isthmus in the spring of 1904. Despite what Gorgas had done in Cuba a few years before there were many doubters of his theories and of him as an official.

Americans sent to Panama died like flies. Within a year 90 per cent of the men sent to dig the canal left by every method possible. It was a pestilence-ridden land.

Although Gorgas was laughed at and ridiculed he stuck to his plan. From July until December of 1905 only 13 cases of yellow fever developed. But "prevention" measures were thwarted by those who thought Gorgas was a freak. Soon the number of cases mounted.

When President Theodore Roosevelt heard that even members of the first Isthmus Commission did not believe the mosquito caused yellow fever, he appointed a new commission. But neither the chairman of the new commission nor the new governor were sold on the Gorgas theory. Finally a new chief engineer of the canal sided with Gorgas and notified the President he would resign if Gorgas was not assisted in his sanitation work. The President then sided with Gorgas. There was never a time from that day on that those in the know doubted the canal would be finished.

BLESSINGS

Gorgas' record was uncontestable. In 1906 there were 821 cases of malaria for each 1,000 government employes in the Zone. By 1913 there were 76 per 1,000. Now even the doubters knew the canal could be built.

In a speech in Gorgas, Ga., paying tribute to Gorgas, Maj. Gen. Robert E. Noble said: "He was a soldier, a doctor, a humanitarian. The good he did will live to bless the peoples of the world in generations unborn."

Yesterday Maj. Gen. W. P. Leber, the present governor of the Zone, said malaria is not unknown on the Isthmus, but as of today cases of malaria or the few of yellow fever, are usually contracted by persons who violate instructions, leave the Zone and wander in the jungle.

"We keep the flies back," he said, "but the Zone is now one of the healthiest parts of the continent. We can and will keep them back."

This appears a good deal like the flies that spread screwworms in Texas. We have seen it demonstrated we can keep our cattle free from this pest if we can kill off the flies. Now an effort is being made to free a couple of hundred miles south of the northern border of Mexico in order to protect Texas.

'Choochoo' Grab Gains Support

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Mayor Ralph Kelley, who directed Chattanooga's seizure of the famed civil war locomotive, the General, says he has received letters of support from all over the nation. One letter, Kelley said, read:

"Legal schmeagal, we're with you, baby. Even if you lose, you got class."

A Devotional For The Day

(Jesus) taught them as one who had authority, and not as their scribes. (Matthew 7:29, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, enlighten our hearts and illumine our eyes to see and feel the great joy of obeying Thee in our daily lives. Teach us to test the truth that we are free indeed when we submit to Thy fatherly authority and fulfill Thy commands. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Keep The Ball Rolling

Last week the Big Spring City Commission gave its blessing to an agreement which would make acreage available to the city for the beautification and development of the site of the historic "big spring." The city is now engaged in naming a committee to advise on the improvement of this spot, provided the Cosden Petroleum pension trust gives its approval, as is expected.

This could be a historic development, provided we maintain the impetus the project has now gained. This long has been something that most people agreed should be tackled, but it was everybody's business and therefore nobody's. Back in 1949 when the centennial of Capt. R. B. Marcy's visit to the spring was observed, the spring was cleaned up, made more or less accessible and made to "flow" slightly. Later, when the property was acquired by the Cosden pension trust, the Big Spring Hunting and Fishing Club set off a plot where the spring was located, and thoughtfully made it available for the public. Still, few people knew about it.

Now, if plans materialize, the site will become a part of the city park system, which will give it stability. One thing it has lacked in the past is security and maintenance.

While the spring may be a point to attract tourists, it must be remembered that it is primarily a historical shrine. Development should stem from a recognition of this fact first of all.

Accessibility is important, both for local people, and certainly for tourists, if we hope to stop and hold any of these; so this is another factor to consider.

Beautification is important, but this should be in keeping with the natural setting.

Utility also is to be desired, and this may mean certain structures will be needed.

There are many other angles which the committee will want to consider, and possibly will seek ideas. The important thing now is to keep the ball rolling.

Frosting For The Cake

Our town is ably represented by two organizations from the high school this year—one is the football team, the other the band.

The gridders are showing an even greater degree of enthusiasm and tenacity, which hasn't exactly been lacking before. With steady improvement and a fair amount of fortune, they will give a fine account of themselves. We believe that the aim of Coach Spike Dykes will be achieved, namely that fans can leave the stands each week with their heads up, win or lose.

The band, 200 strong, is a sight few of us dared dream to see. In the first appearance with the size of the marching contingent almost doubled, the band did an exceptionally good job, considering the number of first-year hands. Who can help but have pride in these young people under direction of Bill Bradley?

There is a third ingredient which should go with this, and naturally this is the good and loyal fan. This week Big Spring goes on the road for the first time, and the team should have a fine following. More than that, our people, when away from home, should display good sportsmanship and gratitude to our hosts; at home we should be hospitable, gracious and should be generous in our applause for our visitors. This is good manners, and this is what we need to put the frosting on the cake.

A Future For Captain Robb

WASHINGTON—Everyone in Washington was thrilled to hear about Lynda Bird Johnson's engagement to Capt. Charles S. Robb of the U.S. Marine Corps. Capt. Robb said that he had formally asked President Johnson for Lynda Bird's hand, but he refused to reveal what was said at this momentous conference. Unfortunately, things like this are bound to leak out. Here is one version of what took place.

First, Lynda Bird went in to see her father.

"Daddy, I'd like you to meet a boy I want to marry."

"Don't tell me it's whatcha-ma-callit."

"NO, DADDY, it isn't. Whatcha-ma-call-it wants to pursue his movie career and I just could never be married to a movie actor."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, Lynda. I'll telephone whatcha-ma-callit's draft board in the morning. Well, who is this lucky fellow?"

"He's standing outside your office now, or, rather, he's stationed outside your office now. He's one of the White House aides, Daddy."

"WELL, I'LL BE danged. That was good thinking, Lynda. We won't even have to get a security clearance on him."

"May I send him in?"

"Why don't you do that?"

"Daddy, this is Capt. Charles Robb."

"Lynda, you may leave us alone now. Captain, what can I do for you?"

"Sir, I would like to marry your daughter."

"Well, Major, that's mighty nice of you."

"I'm in love with her and I feel I could make her a good husband and a wonderful father for your grandchildren."

"I'M GLAD to hear you say that, Colonel. Lynda's very dear to me and all I want is for her to be happy. If she feels she wants to marry you, then I have no objection—providing I announce it, of course."

"Yes, Sir, Mr. President. We have no objection at all."

"If something like this leaked out I would be forced to withdraw the appointment. Now, let me ask you a few personal questions since you're going to be my son-in-law."

"Yes, Sir."

"What do they say about me in the Marine Corps?"

"EVERYONE LIKES you, Sir, from the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli."

"Of course, I won't be able to show you any favoritism merely because you're marrying my daughter."

"No, Sir. I wouldn't expect it."

"At the same time, however, we are looking for a new commandant for the Marine Corps when Gen. Wallace M. Greene's term is up."

"IF IT'S ALL the same to you, Sir, I'd like to remain just plain old Capt. Robb, USMC."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, Charlie. I just wanted to test you to see if you really loved my daughter."

"I do, Sir."

"Well, then, it's settled. Now, all you have to do is get approval from the House Armed Services Committee, the Senate Preparedness Committee, do well in a Lou Harris Survey and you're my boy."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Somewhere on the Rock of Gibraltar are 44 lonely persons who voted to return the Rock to Spain, in a plebiscite which turned out 12,138 opposing votes. The 44 would probably be as difficult to find as the 40 who voted in 1948 for Coke Stevenson in Duval County in the runoff primary, while 4,622 voted for Lyndon B. Johnson.

The plebiscite was Britain's answer to mounting pressure from Spain to return the crown colony to Spanish control after 137 years as a British possession. The Spanish majority on the isthmus said, among other things, that they had no desire to come under the rule of dictator Francisco Franco.

It is quite possible that Franco will pay no heed to the plebiscite, but continue economic and other sanctions against the colony. Nevertheless, the results of the vote provide Britain with a clear mandate to retain control of Gibraltar, resisting to the utmost any move to turn it over to Spain. —CORPUS CHRISTI TIMES

Billy Graham

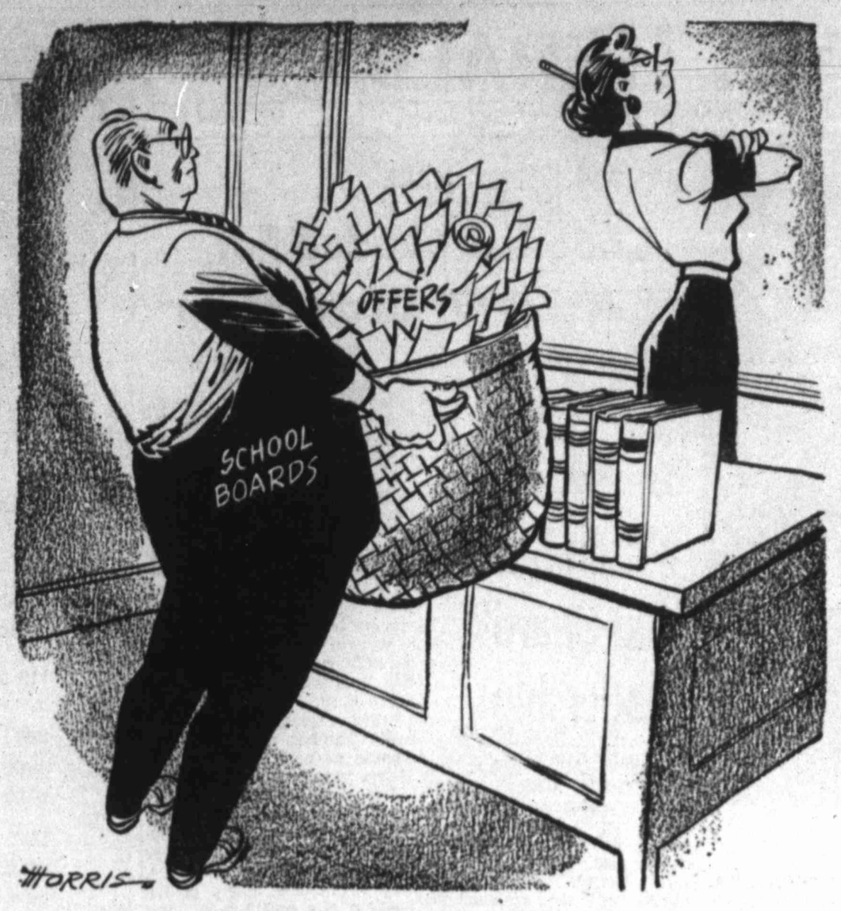

When we pray, "Thy will be done," what's the use of asking for anything specific if God's will is to be done, when it may not be in accord with our request? J.C.

Demanding, arrogant children don't have their requests granted as promptly as children who ask mannerly and humbly. The "thy will be done" is to show that we don't want our way, whether or no, but we want it only if an all-wise Heavenly Father deems it for our good and His glory.

There are so many "unknowns" in life, and the aid of Him who knows the unknowable should by all means be sought, humbly and prayerfully.

It is all right to pray for specific things, for our Lord said: "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you."

If He abides in us our wills are aligned with His will, and we can then well pray, "Thy will be done."

Pressures Blowing Off The Price Lid

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A wave of price increases spread this past week over more consumer and industrial products.

It covered automobiles, appliances, sugar, carpet materials and a wide range of chemicals.

The boosts were a continuation of a trend that in recent months has spread through selective steel products, aluminum items and color television sets.

These indications of inflationary tendencies and mounting congressional opposition to President Johnson's proposal of a 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes spurred the stock market on Wednesday to its biggest rally in several weeks.

A major development on the price front this past week was an announcement by Chrysler Corp. of an increase averaging $133, or 4.6 per cent, on its 1968 models, which went on sale in dealers' showrooms Thursday.

CARS AND APPLIANCES

All of the automakers had indicated earlier that prices of the new models would go up because of additional safety and antismog equipment required by the government.

Another factor—although less openly discussed—was the new contract which sooner or later will be agreed upon with the United Auto Workers Union.

Consumers also will be hit directly in the pocketbook by higher prices for household appliances.

General Electric Corp. announced it would go along with other appliance manufacturers and raise prices on its G.E. and Hotpoint lines by 1 to 4 per cent when the 1968 models are introduced next month.

Increases were announced earlier by Admiral Corp., the Kelvinator Division of American Motors Corp., Maytag Co., Philco-Ford Corp., and Whirlpool Corp.

Carpets are another consumer item on which prices are going up. Du Pont boosted its price of Dacron polyester staple for use in carpets by 5 to 8 cents a pound. This raised one type from 63 to 68 cents a pound and another from 65 to 73 cents a pound.

SUGAR, TOO

When the housewife goes to the supermarket at the end of this month she is going to find that sugar costs more. A number of cane refiners raised wholesale prices of industrial grades and consumer-packaged goods 15 cents per 100 pounds.

Many companies raised prices on a wide variety of chemicals used in industrial processes. It seemed likely that these boosts would seep down to the consumer level.

In another development related to consumer prices, the Federal Communications Commission ordered the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to cut its long distance rates by $100 million effective Nov. 1. This was a modification of an earlier order for a $120-million cut. The additional $20-million reduction will be effective next May 1.

"Prices are rising all around us and, coupled with the possibility of a substantial tax increase, will confront our business with an added burden of costs at the very time we are called upon to make price reductions," AT&T said.

RETAIL SALES UP

The Commerce Department reported this past week that retail sales increased one per cent during August to their third straight monthly record.

Sales totaled $27,016,000,000, the first time they have topped $27 billion.

It was expected this steady climb would give the government another argument in its attempt to win congressional approval of a 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes as a means of curbing inflation as well as reducing the federal budget deficit.

Another Commerce Department report showed that inventories of manufacturing and trade firms declined for the second straight month during July. The drop was only $40 million, compared with $280 million in June, the first in six years in over-all business inventories.

STRIKE GOES ON

The United Auto Workers Union strike against Ford Motor Co. dragged into its second week without significant developments. Although their union contracts had expired along with Ford's on Sept. 7, General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. continued to operate on a day-to-day basis.

General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors Corp. stepped up their output of 1968 models and turned out an estimated 132,900 cars this past week, compared with 116,628 the previous week.

New car sales for the first 10 days of September totaled 89,826 units, off 48,224 for the like period in 1966.

Steel production last week edged up 0.1 per cent to 2,431,000 tons from 2,428,000 tons the previous week.

MOSTLY UP

- Chrysler takes lead on higher price for new models
- Ford still struck, others boost output but sales off
- Appliances, carpet, chemicals, sugar join price parade
- But government racks back AT&T long distance charges
- Retail sales edge up for third consecutive month

Dyslexia, A Difficulty With Reading

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss dyslexia in highly intelligent children. What can be done for these children and where should we turn for help?

There seems to be a lack of acceptance, knowledge, advice or training for this problem in my city on the part of both educators and physicians.

It is difficult for us to decide what is best for our son, 11, now that the problem is finally diagnosed. — Mrs. F.P.

Dyslexia is an inability to read understandingly or easily. Since the problem has been diagnosed, I am surprised that appropriate referral has not been made —you live in a metropolitan area that should have suitable facilities.

Perhaps if I knew more of the circumstances of this case I could do more to resolve the question. As it is, I must rely on conjecture. Is it possible that you have a diagnosis of dyslexia without yet having had the causes of it analyzed? This is a must.

Dyslexia, you see, is not a specific "disease" for which a specific treatment can be applied. It is, rather, a problem which may be resulting from one of a number of causes, or even from a combination of causes.

Study of the case would involve analysis of eyesight, hearing, IQ or other evaluations of intelligence, and sometimes other tests.

Since you specify dyslexia in highly intelligent children, I would take it for granted that this boy's IQ has been tested and it is high. Knowing that would limit the possibilities. Is there a physical condition involved? Tests must be made to find out.

Or, alternatively, is an emotional, neurological or "mental" condition involved? There is no reason why a person of high intelligence cannot develop an emotional illness. It happens. Psychiatric treatment is, therefore, the answer in such a case.

Either your physician or the school system should be able to make arrangements for further analysis of the boy's problem, and only after that has been done can you or anyone else know what should be done for him.

A child guidance center would be one obvious place to go for help in accomplishing such tests. It is possible that a rehabilitation institute might be equipped for a problem such as this.

You must not be satisfied to accept a "diagnosis of dyslexia," and expect treatment to follow. The cause of the dyslexia has to be discovered.

Relaxed Experts Fly Their Planes

The guys who may have had the most fun at the Webb birthday shindig last week—and who provided a colorful part of the show — were those in the Confederate Air Force.

As must be known generally by now, these are men, competent flyers, who have dedicated themselves to rounding up, rebuilding and keeping in operable condition the aircraft that were used during World War II. This hasn't come easy, and they spend much time and money at their task. They haven't located all the airplane types yet, but they're trying.

BUT WHILE at the serious business, they make quite a game of it. An evidence was a sort of "checklist" put out at the show here. There is not space enough to go over the whole "instructions for show of daring," but here are some sample paragraphs:

"At takeoff time, approach the aircraft in a reckless, devil-may-care manner as this makes a big impression on bystanders. Be sure to kick vigorously at all the tires. When you come to a complicated part of the airplane, stare at it seriously for several seconds before going on. This creates a favorable impression on your crew chief and makes the bystanders think you know what you are doing.

"TO ENTER the aircraft, approach it from the left side and leap lightly on to the access ladder without looking.

"Pick yourself up off the ground in a casual manner, locate an access ladder and climb the steps. Enter the cockpit in any manner you choose. If at all possible, avoid going in head first.

"NEXT, CHECK stick and throttle positions. If stick is in your left hand and the throttle in your right hand, you are in the cockpit backwards. Don't panic! Smile at the crew chief, wave at the bystanders and rotate your body 180 degrees. Now rearrange all the shiny, well - used switches, levers and buttons in the cockpit in a pleasing and eye-catching manner. Don't bother the dull, corroded ones.

"When signal is given to taxi, advance the throttle smoothly, hit the "high-blower" switch and jump smoothly over the chocks. Retard the throttle to military power and try to avoid further use of the high-blower as this irritates ground personnel.

"WHEN TAXIING, an effort should be made to avoid collision with spectators as this causes damage to the propellor and creates an untidy condition on the ramp.

"If, after turning out of your parking spot, you see a large gray wall, stop quickly, turn around and taxi back to the hangar. You have committed a rather serious error.

"After arriving in the general vicinity of the runway, immediately begin calling the tower at frequent intervals in a loud, authoritative voice. Do not take negative for an answer. This will accelerate the launching process. If you are on a downwind runway, take off anyway. This will demonstrate your self-confidence.

"AFTER LEAVING the ground, pull the nose up smartly to a 50 degree attitude, close your eyes and count to 10. If contact with the ground has not occurred by that time, continue the mission as briefed.

"Carry on, colonel, in the highest tradition of the Corps."

If you saw these fellows maneuver their 25-year-old flying machines, you know they are really experts. Relaxed experts, I would say.

Anti-Missile System Coming?

WASHINGTON — A momentous decision is about to be taken, with consequences reaching far into an unforeseeable future. All the signs indicate the Administration is about to give the go-ahead to construction of an anti-ballistic missile defense system.

How extensive the system will be is still in the discussion stage. It is likely to be a beginning phase, intended as a barrier against Red Chinese nuclear warheads in the early '70s. The price tag on such a limited ABM system has been put at $10 billion.

BUT, LIKE ALL initial Pentagon price tags, that is only a rough guess and it could be twice that amount. An all-out system built to stop warheads from the Soviet Union would cost not less than $30 billion and probably much more. What this would do to the defense budget — even that record $70 billion budget — and to the need for more and more taxes hardly needs expounding.

HERE, ALONG with the controversy over bombing targets in North Vietnam, is another and even more striking instance of the gap between civilian authority represented by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the solid phalanx of the military speaking through the Joint Chiefs of Staff. McNamara is making what is billed as a most important speech on the whole nuclear issue in San Francisco on Monday. He could use this opportunity to indicate the ABM decision.

FOR MONTHS, both publicly and privately, Moscow has been prodded to begin talks aimed at an agreement to forgo construction of an ABM system. Public hints have come from Administration spokesmen and from senators believed to have been inspired by the White House that Washington cannot wait much longer and particularly since the Soviets were known to be installing parts of a system.

In his posture statement at the start of the year McNamara made a powerful case against an ABM development. He argued that America's nuclear capability was so great that it could never be crippled by a Soviet first strike. As double-insurance he proposed to increase the capability, even though it was put at anywhere from two to four times that of the Soviet Union.

THE CASE OF the brilliant logician was, in short, that the billions for an ABM would be thrown down the drain. In private he was even more emphatic than before Congressional committees.

But pressures began to mount. The Southerners who dominate the military committees in the Senate and House came down on the side of the JCS. If the Soviets were going ahead, said Sen. Richard Russell, then the United States should not wait.

MORE RECENTLY McNamara has modified his stand. He has said that a limited ABM designed against China's potential might be useful. China's success in exploding a hydrogen bomb considerably in advance of most estimates may have had something to do with this.

On the basic issue, however, of the usefulness of an ABM system the difference of view between McNamara and the Joint Chiefs is clear. It is as clear as the difference over the bombing of targets such as the port of Haiphong.

FOR THE LONG future the issue of the ABM may be far more important. And the question is whether if the military has a foot in the door with a limited ABM the pressure will not eventually compel the full system with its fantastic cost.

Bombing Of The Port Of Haiphong

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has at last recognized the wisdom of the unanimous recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, urging that the Haiphong area be bombed so that weapons and supplies brought in by ship would pile up at the port and could not readily be transported by rail and highway into South Vietnam.

The puzzle is why the decision was so long in coming. Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee have exposed to public view the facts about the military attitude, but much of this was recently deprecated by Secretary of Defense McNamara. The President finally had to step in, examine both sides of the argument, and issue the order which has just been put into operation.

THE COUNTRY may well wonder why there has to be such a delay in taking the action that military men, on the basis of their long experience and training, earnestly endorse.

If it had not been for the courage of members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, the change which has just been made in military policy might not have developed. The Joint Chiefs of Staff testified in closed sessions nearly four weeks ago. The Senate committee was restive, and wanted to see the matter clarified. But the testimony of the military chiefs wasn't released by the Defense Department. The Senate committee, therefore, issued its own analysis.

IN PUBLISHING its conclusions, the committee indicated plainly that if the statements of the Joint Chiefs were made public, these would support the senatorial views. There was no option left to the President but to order that the testimony itself be cleared for publication. The American people will soon learn in detail just what the Joint Chiefs did recommend and the reasons they gave for requesting action to paralyze the port of Haiphong.

In the latest bombings, pilots from naval carriers have smashed the railroad yards and major warehouse areas, demolished rail and highway bridges, and thus delayed for a long time the movement by land of supplies out of the port of Haiphong.

THE ARGUMENT hitherto offered was that the bombing of Haiphong might possibly cause damage to Soviet, Chinese and other foreign ships. Efforts still are being made to avoid this, but in wartime it is strange to find such concern about enemy ships. For there is no question about the military aid being furnished by Red China and the Soviet Union to the North Vietnamese.

UP UNTIL NOW it has been believed that peace negotiations could be brought about if the military forces of the United States exercised restraint. But since there has not been the slightest sign from Hanoi that there would be peace parleys, it has become evident that only if the United States presses the war and bombs all targets would the North Vietnamese see that they couldn't possibly win. For the damage would continue to be so great that it would be unwise for Hanoi to shun a peace conference any longer.

WHILE "CIVILIAN control" is theoretically important, it can be costly when it interferes with the fighting of a war and causes the loss of the lives of many Americans as well as the drafting of tens of thousands more young men to go to Vietnam.

Welcome To Big Spring Webb's New Pilot Training Class 69-02

All Big Spring joins in a hearty West Texas welcome to the new class at Webb Air Force Base. While they are citizens of our city for the next year, it is our hope that they will find a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere. We hope the new students can become acquainted with our town, and find a "home" here. They are asked to drop in and see us at any time and let us extend, in person, the hand of welcome.

A "HOSPITALITY GIFT" For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

Future Nurses Club Will Be Organized At BSHS

By BECKY BRIGHT

A Future Nurses Club is being organized for those interested in nursing by Mrs. Nellie Mathis, school nurse. The purpose of the club is to bring together high school students interested in nursing and health and to explore opportunities in these fields. Those wishing to join should attend the meeting tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in room 132.

The district meeting of the Future Teachers of America will be held at BSHS later this fall with the BSHS chapter of the FTA hosting the meeting. FTA girls served coffee at the district Texas State Teachers Association workshop yesterday. The next meeting of the FTA is scheduled for Monday after school. Officers this year are: Linda Massey, president; David Vasquez, vice president; Linda Lu Lile, secretary; Ann Heith, treasurer; Jeanie Johnson, historian; Lea Spiller, parliamentarian; and Martha Jordan, chaplain.

CHOIR OFFICERS

A cappella choir officers elected this past week are: Richard Macklin, president; Danny Johnson, vice president; Cheryl Colclazer, secretary; Ann Garrett, historian; and Dona Yater, reporter.

Pictures of the underclassmen will be taken starting tomorrow. The pictures will be in color and boys must wear a tie and coat or sweater. Students should check and see when they are to report to the journalism lab for the picture taking.

The Slide Rule Club, which meets after school on Thursdays elected officers last week. Don Hickson is president, Tom Conway is vice president and Elizabeth Moore is reporter.

KEY CLUB

Officers for the BSHS Key Club are David Vasquez, president; Danny Johnson, vice president; Steve Anderson, secretary; Mike Graves, treasurer; and John Choate, bell custodian. The Key Club takes care of the BSHS victory bell and took charge of the San Angelo game bonfire last year.

The Radio Club elected officers last Thursday. They are Teresa Conner, president; Janet Perry, secretary; and Sue Fannin, treasurer. Anyone interested in joining or anyone having ideas for the Campus Caravan show should attend Tuesday's meeting in room 239.

Seniors wanting to graduate at mid-term should make application to Mrs. Harrington in the general office before Oct. 1.

SCHOOL STORE

The school store, operated by the student council, is now open before school and during the lunch hour. It is located beside the nurse's office, but supplies may also be bought through the store's window opening onto the patio.

Students wanting to read prose or poetry in the Interscholastic League contest may meet with Mrs. Leah Ann Gindoff in room 239, Monday afternoon.

The FHA officers sponsored an ice cream social last Tuesday in the City Park for girls interested in becoming Future Homemakers.

PLANETARIUM

The planetarium is almost completed and demonstrations were given to the physical science classes last week. It is equipped to show the stars and their movements as they are now and as they were thousands of years ago. Special light controls can show the different times of day, from midnight to noon.

A course may be given in astronomy if a teacher for the class can be found. If not, it is probable that the science classes and the Science Club will use it.

SANDS

Sands 'Hoofbeat' Issued This Week

By SARA BLEDSOE

ACKERLY—The first publication of the "Hoofbeat," the Sands High School paper, will be issued this week. Brenda Ingram was elected editor and she will also be the president of the journalism club. Vice president and assistant editor will be Sara Bledsoe. Treasurer is Sandy Sikes. The issues will be 10 cents apiece.

Mr. Bill Underwood, high school principal, and Mr. Raymond Stevenson, elementary principal, attended the Educational Service Center Workshop, Region VIII, Wednesday, Sept. 13. The workshop was held at Texas Tech in the Student Union Building.

The Pep Squad drummers for this year are Sandra Wells, head drummer; and Janie Fox, assistant. The club has a bass drum and has decided to work toward the purchase of a snare drum.

The co-editors of the Sands Mustangs annual for the 1967-68 school year are Larry Newcomer and Sara Bledsoe. They were elected by the senior class at the end of the school term last year.

The seniors sold ads for the annual Wednesday and plan to sell them for the remainder of the month.

Officers for the FHA were elected at the end of the school term last year. They are Sara Bledsoe, president; Paula Woods, vice president; Shara Dee Hambrick, secretary; Vicky Grantham and Sandy Sikes, parliamentarian. Installation of these officers was held in the homemaking room last year. The first meeting for the year is scheduled for Sept. 28. A new song leader will be elected, and plans for the year will be discussed. The officers have been working on a yearbook, but have not as yet completed it.

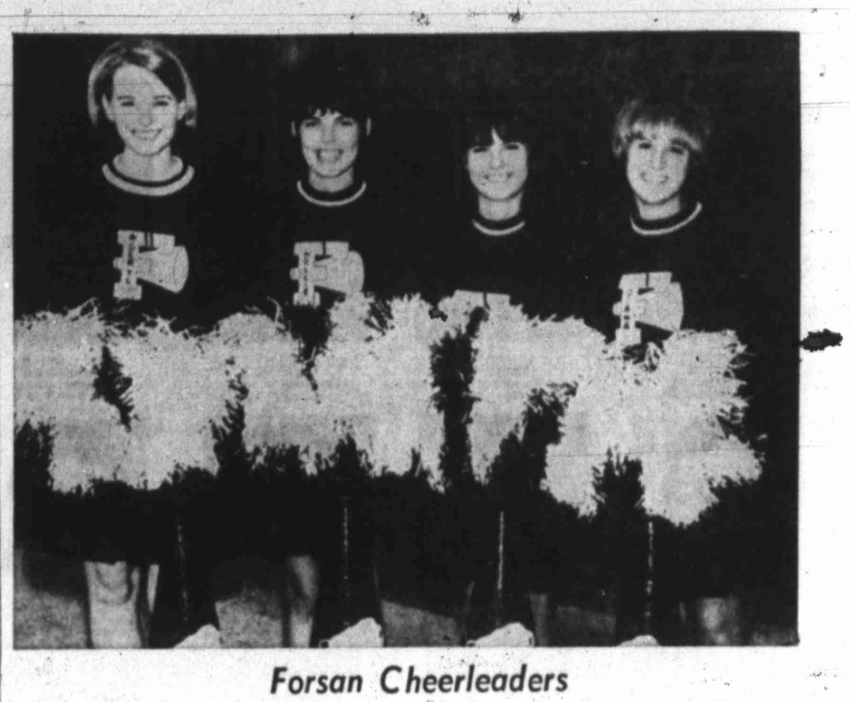

The P-TA held its first meeting Thursday, Sept. 7, in the school cafeteria. The officers this year are Mrs. Dan Brasher, president; Mrs. Howard Armstrong, vice president; Mrs. Aaron Burns, secretary; and Mrs. Derwood Blagrave, treasurer. The P-TA will give a $100 scholarship to a deserving senior in May. New playground equipment, a fund for new stage curtains and providing needy children with school supplies at Ackerly were discussed. The next meeting will be Oct. 5 at 3:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

The Mustangs had a welcomed victory against Threeway Friday night, Sept. 8. One of the boys, Gary Romine, was injured during the game. His right elbow was dislocated, but he is better now. Last Friday the Mustangs had an open date.

Bonnie Simpson Completes Class

Bonnie Sue Simpson has recently completed a 12 months course of training in Medical Technology at Northwest Texas Hospital, in Amarillo. She will be working at M.D. Anderson Tumor and Cancer Institute in Houston in the Special Chemistries Laboratory.

Miss Simpson attended high school at Forsan and is a graduate of Howard County Junior College and Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

Forsan Cheerleaders

Forsan Annual Staff Directs Photo Taking

By DIANA RODMAN

FORSAN — This week Mr. Oscar Singleton, photographer from Fox Studio, was at Forsan. Monday, elementary individual pictures were taken. Also, junior and senior high football pictures were made. Tuesday, junior and senior high individuals and all group and club pictures were made. The annual staff directed all picture-taking activities. Members of the staff this year are Carolyn Ford, editor; Marlin Medlin, Deryl Dunagan, Ronny West, and Diana Rodman. Mrs. Oscar Boeker is the sponsor.

Omitted from last week's column were two new additions to the school building. One is a shop, with facilities for welding. The other is a homemaking department with a lab, living room, and dining room. The furniture for the living and dining rooms arrived this week.

The Buffalo Gals, the pep squad, has been organized. The cheerleaders are serving as directors. Mrs. Jann Stevens is the sponsor. Uniforms will be black skirts, black sweaters with white dickeys, white knee socks, and black shoes.

An FHA meeting was held Thursday during fourth period in the auditorium. The officers explained each part of the organization to new members.

The Coin and Stamp Club was organized and officers were elected this week. Officers are Johnny Dolan, president; Bill Crutcher, vice president; Angie Tidwell, secretary; and Clayton McKinnon, treasurer. The first meeting was held Wednesday during fourth period.

Officers for the Student Council are Steve Park, president; Deryl Ann Dunagan, vice president; Karen Moore, secretary; and Gloria Dodd, treasurer.

The "A" team traveled to Imperial Friday night. The "B" team played Big Spring Sophs at Forsan Saturday morning. The pep rally was held at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Coach Don Stevens and Clayton McKinnon gave speeches.

Sept. 1, the senior class sold annual ads for the 1968 Buffalo Trail.

Sheela Armistead Edits 1967-68 Goliad Yearbook

By SUSI WHITTEN

Sheela Armistead will edit the 1967-68 yearbook for Goliad. Her assistant editor is Bobby Carlile and the photographer is Bennett Fletcher. Staff members for the coming year are Denise Abbe, Julie Allen, Ruth Payne, Lila Phillips and Susi Whitten. Class pictures were made on Tuesday and Wednesday, and the cover has been selected. Sales will begin some time in early October. Mrs. Cornelia Gary is advisor for the annual.

National Junior Honor Society meetings were held Tuesday and Thursday at which time parts of the constitution were read and officers were elected. Serving for the coming year are Mark McCraney, president; Ike Robb, vice president; Patricia Cherry, secretary; and Lydia Hayworth, treasurer.

Mr. Lee Freeze, counselor, encourages all students who are experiencing difficulty in adjusting to school life at Goliad to come by his office for help. Guidance handbooks will be issued to all seventh grade students and new eighth grade students Monday.

Eighth grade students chose Marcia Staggs, Carol Lyster, Patricia Cherry and Lila Phillips as cheerleaders Thursday. Terri Lewis was named alternate. Seventh grade elections for cheerleaders will be held this week.

Goliad's band is making preparations to play at the first pep rally of the season to be held Thursday. Band uniforms will be issued Monday, according to Mr. R. E. McKiski, band director.

Advanced Choir officers were elected Tuesday. Chosen were Ann Morton, president; Marsha McCraney, vice president; Martha Lewis, secretary; and Cynthia Gray, treasurer.

Eighth Grade Mavericks will play Snyder-Travis at Snyder on Thursday, Sept. 21, at 6 p.m. In a hard-fought game the Mavericks lost their first game of the season Sept. 8 to Snyder-Lamar with a score of 2-0.

JUNIORS TOO

Officers Elected At Flower Grove

By ANN HAGGARD

Class officers were elected last week at Flower Grove. Senior officers are: Jimmy Walker, president; Max Fly, vice president; Mary Pribyla, secretary; Ann Dennis, treasurer; and Joy Oakes, reporter.

Junior officers were selected also. They are Gregory Gonzales, president; Neta Hightower, vice president; Ann Haggard, secretary; Roy Oaks, treasurer; and Elvis Burton, reporter.

Sophomore officers include Jerry Welch, president; Jim Coker, vice president; Bonnie Hill, secretary; Brenda Graves, treasurer; and Virginia Pribyla, reporter.

Selected as freshman officers are Frank Fleming, president; Rita Pribyla, vice president; Debra Huse, secretary-treasurer; and Jackie Cave, reporter.

Officers were also elected in the junior high and elementary grades. Eighth grade officers Nancy Seely, president; Judy Simmons, vice president; Judy Cave, treasurer. Candidates for the Halloween carnival have also been chosen. They are Archie Dennis and Janie Martin, seniors; Roy Oaks and Rita Hightower, juniors; Ferry Welch and Bonnie Hill, sophomores; and Danny Howard and Rita Pribyla, freshman. Eighth grade nominees are John Rios and Valentina Silva, seventh grade, Celso Garza and Jan Simmons; sixth grade, Renee Fly and Wesley Cockrell; fifth grade, Vickie Losoya and Mario Guajardo; fourth grade, Cydne Mullins and Montie Foster; third grade, Deana Arce and Larry Foster; second grade, Lylvia Cortex and Dennis Heald; and first grade, Elonna Airhart and Douglas Cockrell.

Student Council representatives are Jimmy Walker and Ann Dennis, seniors; Gregory Gonzales and Brenda Hopper, juniors; Jerry Welch and Beth Holcomb, sophomores; and Frank Fleming and Rita Pribyla, freshmen.

Homecoming date has been set for Flower Grove on Oct. 6. The Dragons will play Loop.

Robert Halfmann Elected President Of Beta Club

By BONNIE GLENN

GARDEN CITY — Robert Halfmann was elected president of the Garden City Beta Club, Tuesday. Bonnie Glenn will serve as vice president, Kay Sawyers as secretary, and Bill Cook as treasurer. The Beta Club's year of activity began with the state convention as the main topic of discussion. Members were briefed on the location and the activities for the convention.

The Student Council met Thursday for the first time this year. The class representatives for the year are: Robert Halfmann and Beverly Jacob, senior class; Roger Lange and Sharon Pehachek, junior class; Diane Harris and Kenneth Schafer, sophomore class; and Floyd Schwartz and Karen Hoelscher, freshman class. The council decided to give a drivers test to all the students in the high school whether licensed drivers or not. A showboat theme was decided upon for the homecoming party sponsored by the Student Council.

Elections for class favorites, Mr. and Miss GCHS, Best All-Around and Friendliest are to be elected Wednesday, Sept. 20. Others to be elected are: Most Likely to Succeed, Most Talented, Most Athletic, and Neatest Student.

Friday was designated as Sadie Hawkins Day. The girls were supposed to play the part of a "gentlewoman" by opening doors and carrying books for their special guy. The girls also made the corsages for the boys to wear to the pep rally.

The pep rally was highlighted by a beauty contest with Ronnie Hillger and Larry Loso as contestants. They were dressed as women and were judged by a panel of teachers.

The football team played their second game of the season against Loop.

Fall Term Opened By Registration Of Students

By BARBARA DAVIDSON

HCJC spent a busy week registering students and selling books for the fall term. Orientation for freshmen was held Tuesday morning and registration began that afternoon starting with the sophomores. Sept. 25 is the last day for any student to register or change any subject on his schedule.

The book store was open all week for students during registration.

The Howdy Party which was originally scheduled for Friday Sept. 15, was moved to Tuesday Sept. 19. The party will begin with a hamburger fry for all students. Mrs. Star Warford, well known English teacher, will be on hand to sing folk songs and play her guitar during the fry. Later, a dance band will play for the dance. This party is given annually to break the ice for incoming freshmen and serves as a get-together for sophomores.

The convocation is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 20, during activity period from 9:45-10:25. This is the official welcome given by the president of the college, Dr. W. A. Hunt. The convocation will be opened by Gary Morris, student senate president, with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Dr. Dawson De Viney will act as master of ceremonies. Pat Thompson will introduce Dr. W. A. Hunt, who will address the student body and at that time introduce the members of the faculty.

Classes begin Monday and students are reminded to drive slowly and park only in places designated.

Future Homemakers Hold Initiation And Reception

By CINDY DAVIS

STANTON — The Future Homemakers of America held the informal initiation of their new members during school Monday. Among the things the girls had to do were wear paper napkins in their hair, wear a cute apron, carry a cookbook, and pay a fine of 10 cents if caught talking to a boy. The formal initiation was held in the high school auditorium that night.

Officers and guides taking part in the formal initiation were Cathy Hazlewood, Dianna Mims, Luan Louder, Mary Bradshaw, Melrae Angel, Cindy Davis, Cyndi Clements, Sheila Manning, Sharron Kuhlman, Deborah Hoggard, Connie Henley, Glenda Adams, and Cassandra Bridge. The new members initiated were Peggy Anastasio, Bonnie Morris, Judy Overby, Debra McMeans, Debbie White, Vickie Glynn, Marty McArthur, Sandra Chandler, Rhonda Kuhlman, Jackie Cook, Susan Vest, and Cathy Woodrow. Nealu Ferguson conferred the junior homemaker degree on Debbie Hazlewood and Deborah Holloway.

A reception was held in the homemaking department following the initiation. Hostesses were Paula Standefer, Deborah Hoggard, Trudy Powell, Joyce Inman, and Cassandra Bridge.

Class officer elections were held this past week. Senior class officers elected are Terry Franklin, president; Steve Hall, vice president; Sue Walker, secretary; Gene Hodges, treasurer.

Junior class officers elected are Claude Straub, president; Pug Deavenport, vice president; Dianna Mims, secretary; Doris White, treasurer.

Sophomore officers are Vic Bentley, president; Johnny McMeans, vice president. The other sophomore class officers have not yet been elected.

Freshman officers are Roy Kelly, president; Ricky Mims, vice president; Debbie White, secretary; Dennis Jones, treasurer.

Band officers have also been elected. They are Bob Wilson, president; Knox Bruton, vice president; Melrae Angel, secretary; and Rhonda Reid, reporter.

Top Beau, Sweetheart Chosen At Coahoma High

By ALICE DENNING

Charlotte Walker and Dean Richters were chosen as FFA Sweetheart and FHA Beau in recent meetings of these organizations.

Charlotte, daughter of Mrs. Lavinia Walker, is a senior at Coahoma High. She participates in basketball, is a member of the FHA and National Honor Society, reporter for the senior class, and typist on the school paper. She has been cheerleader and a nominee for football and track sweetheart in past years.

Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Richters, is left halfback for the Bulldog team. He is a sophomore and is a member of the Science Club, FFA treasurer, and also participates in basketball.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Charisa Meachum was elected parliamentarian of the FHA in their first meeting of the year. Committees were also appointed to plan the FHA homecoming float and organize the mum selling project. Those on the float committee are Glenda Thompson, Susie Weisner, Mollie McKinney, and Lucretia Drake. Marta Laing, Sue Reid, Sandra Kiser, and Mollie McBride make up the mums selling committee. A committee was also appointed to take charge of the cookbook sales. Those on the committee are Kaye Reid, Arlene Miliken, and Cathy Evans. Debbie Meeks was appointed leader of the November program, "Preview Vietnam," in which there will be a community speaker. Names of volunteers to serve at the Young Homemakers Tea which will be given Sept. 23 were taken. The tea is given in honor of Alice Denning, Coahoma Young Homemakers Little Sister. A deadline of Sept. 21 was set on paying FHA dues. The dues, $1.25, are to be paid to Kaye Wolf or Debra Eppler before that date.

CONTEST ANNOUNCED

A limerick contest with Rois Moore in charge, was planned for this week to promote school spirit. The person with the best limerick was presented a prize Friday in the pep rally.

Mike Duke was elected president of the FFA for the coming year. Other officers elected are Ricky Evans, vice president; Gary Roberts, secretary; Dean Richters, treasurer; Wylie Oliver, reporter; and Dicky Weaver, sentinel.

ELECT OFFICERS

Science Club officers for the coming year are Leslie Woods, president; Tim Winn, vice president; and Debbie Meek, secretary. The club met Sept. 13 to get projects underway. A membership card committee including Leslie Woods, Rob Shives, Debbie Meeks and Patti Sterling was appointed. Tim Whittington, Jimmy Sterling, Dean Richters and Toby Green were selected as the program committee to plan the activities of the coming year. Dues were set at $1 per member and Sept. 21 was set as the last date for the dues to come in. The members also voted to give Science Club pins to those with a perfect attendance.

Oct. 2 has been set as the club meeting in which Mr. W. L. Whittington, an engineer at Cosden Petroleum Refinery will be the speaker. They will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the science room. Molly McKinney and Kaye Reid will serve the refreshments.

PLAN FLOAT

The senior class held a meeting Tuesday Sept. 12, to plan the senior concession stand for the football game. All seniors were to bring food for the concessions or donate one dollar to the class. The senior homecoming float was also discussed and Iva Jo Brooks, Olive Cauble, Charlotte Walker, Larry Bennett, and Bill Warden were appointed to plan the float and decide on the supplies that will be needed.

Junior class magazine sales started Sept. 12. Anyone wishing to buy a magazine or renew their subscription should call any member of the junior class. The sales end Sept. 26.

The junior class won the spirit stick for having the most spirit last week at the pep rally.

Annual sales began Sept. 11 and will continue for several weeks. Annuals are to be bought from the class salesmen who are Rois Moore, twelfth, first and second grades; Vicky Wallin, eleventh grade; Leslie Woods, eighth and tenth grades; Sherry Lee and Cathy Wacy, ninth grade; Celia Cooper, seventh grade; Mollie McKinney, sixth grade; Sharon Roman, fifth grade; Billie Don Fishback, fourth grade; and Terri Anderson, third grade. The price is $4.10 or $3.00 down and $1.10 when the annuals arrive.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Here is an example of a one-sided battle! It's that same old battle between the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Study the rounding edges of this massive granite formation. The wind is winning—persuasively and very definitely.

Note the deep clefts where chips have fallen from the old block. Rain, snow, ice are the victors here.

And see the pines growing topside on this barren bulk. Each year their roots press deeper into the hidden faults.

What does this prove? Well, for one thing it shows that the lifeless rock is no match for the moving, living, growing forces in God's creation. So never overestimate the strength of that stubborn secularism that sometimes appears to dominate our world.

In worship and religious pursuit, millions are linking their souls with the vital spiritual forces which shall prevail!

JULIE ANDREWS STARS IN FIVE AWARD WINNER

'Sound Of Music' To Open Wednesday

Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music" is the film version of one of the most beloved stage musicals of the last decade. A tuneful, heart-warming story, it is based on the true story of the Von Trapp family singers, one of the world's best-known concert groups in the era immediately preceding World War II.

Julie Andrews, Broadway's original "My Fair Lady," plays the role of Maria, the tomboyish postulant at an Austrian abbey who becomes a governess in the home of a widowed naval captain with seven children, and brings a new love of life into the home.

Christopher Plummer, the Broadway and London actor, plays Captain Von Trapp and Eleanor Parker portrays the lovely baroness Elsa who wants to marry him. Richard Haydn plays Max, the family friend whose skill as an impressario leads the family into the world of music. The Broadway and television actress Peggy Wood makes one of her infrequent film appearances as the Mother Abbess.

"The Sound of Music," which opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, received five Academy Awards including Best Picture and Best Direction. This is Wise's first film since another musical, "West Side Story," which received these same two Oscars.

'THE SOUND OF MUSIC'
Talents of the Trapp family

On stage, "The Sound of Music" captivated audiences around the world with its warm, romantic story and its lilting score. In bringing it to the screen, Wise enhanced these qualities with sweep and scope and DeLuxe Color, to provide a new and exciting musical treat —and then took his cast and crew to Salzburg, Austria, to film his story against the authentic backgrounds of the world-famed "City of Music."

"Salzburg," Wise pointed out, "is more than just the city where this story took place. It is an atmosphere, and this is what we wanted to capture on film in order to make audiences feel the aura that surrounded the people with whom we are involved."

A major disappointment has actually turned out to be the best thing that ever happened to Julie Andrews.

Broadway's original "My Fair Lady" admits that it was a blow when she was passed over for the film version of her stage success. "But," she adds, "I see now that it was a blessing. If that had been my first picture, I might have been typed. And at the very least I would have been compared, oh screen, with my performance on stage. And since distance lends enchantment, most people probably would have thought I was better on stage."

But when it did come, Julie's first film role won her the highest honor the cinema world has to offer, an Academy Award as best actress for Walt Disney's "Mary Poppins." And so, for whatever reason film moguls have for casting decisions, the alternate opportunity quickly distinguished her as a film star of the highest order.

She was finishing up her Broadway run in "Camelot" with Richard Burton when she made the choice to debut in films as Mary Poppins. This was followed quickly by "The Americanization of Emily," in which she does no singing at all, and then moved directly into "The Sound of Music." Currently she is also being seen in another type film, a period drama, "Hawaii"; and Miss Andrews will soon start rehearsals, again with director Robert Wise, for "Star" portraying Gertrude Lawrence in her life story.

"Now," she laughs, "the wheel has come full circle. I've gone from the girl who didn't get to make the film version of her Broadway success to the girl who made the film version of somebody else's Broadway hit to the girl with enough gall to make a film version of her favorite star's life. I wish someone could have told me all this the day I learned someone else would make the My Fair Lady film."

WHY DID BILLIE JOE JUMP?

Bobbie Gentry Has Winner With Pop Music Quiz

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The late summertime question in pop music is "Why did Billie Joe jump off the Tallahatchee Bridge?"

The person who started everybody wondering is Bobbie Gentry, a girl we'd never heard from before, with a song she wrote and sings, "Ode to Billie Joe."

It's a real winner of a song, with the sound of a hit the first time you hear it. Billie Joe committed suicide (apparently) and teenagers go strong for a song of violent death about once a season. This song also has the ring of realism, some secrecy, never explained, adult lack of sensitivity and nonunderstanding of a teenage daughter, irony, poignance, a singable tune, country-western flavor and it's different—the story is told in something of a flashback technique.

It also has a memorable one-line line refrain. The Bee Gees exploited the latter this summer in their hit "New York Mining Disaster 1941"—"Have you seen my wife Mr. Jones?" But Bobbie Gentry has used it for the biggest hit of the summer, "Ode to Billie Joe"—"Billie Joe McAllister jumped off the Tallahatchee Bridge."

Since the single came out July 10, it has sold more than 1.5 million copies. It went to No. 4 in the nation three weeks later and has been solidly at No. 1 ever since. A long-playing record, also titled "Ode to Billie Joe," came out Aug. 21 and has sold more than 500,000 copies.

On it, Bobbie Gentry sings and plays guitar on 10 songs, nine of them her own compositions, reflecting rural life in Chickasaw County, Miss., where she was born 23 years ago. On the album cover Miss Gentry is pictured in blue jeans and barefoot. Since the "raisin' " on which she draws for songs, however, she has attended college and music school in Los Angeles, worked as an actress and danced in Las Vegas.

"Ode to Billie Joe" is Miss Gentry's first single. According go Capitol Records, she just walked in with a dub of the song. An a and r producer liked it and hired an arranger. He put six violinists and two cellists with Miss Gentry and her guitar.

On the LP, she also has arrangements which border on the elaborate, but her low-reaching voice has no artifice and her lyrics sound cornpone but true. It's obvious on one hearing which song Miss Gentry didn't write, since she has an immediately identifiable "sound."

"Chickasaw County Child," in fact, sounds almost like "Ode to Billie Joe." "Hurry Tuesday Child" has a slow folk sound; "Sunday Best" is the only one with a slickly "commercial" sound. They all tell about life on the Delta — "Bugs," "Papa, Won't You Take Me to Town with You," "Lazy Willie."

Not only are individuals buying "Ode to Billie Joe," but you hear it constantly on juke boxes and radio stations all over the country. Some radio stations have asked listeners to call in and say what they think Billie Joe and the girl singing had earlier thrown over the Tallahatchee Bridge. Some of the answers are wild, but there's no way to know what Miss Gentry had in mind. She's not telling.

'BONNIE AND CLYDE'
Robber gang of the 1930s

Clyde Barrow, Bonnie Parker Story On Film

"Bonnie and Clyde" revives the Depression-ridden Southwest of the 1930's. It was the time when bankrobber Clyde Barrow and his cigar-smoking sweetheart, Bonnie Parker, held sheriffs and bank tellers in terror and frequently captured headlines with their daring, reckless and often pointless crimes. The motion picture, opening today at the Ritz Theater, stares Warren Beatty and Faye Dunaway in the title roles.

Other cast members include Michael J. Pollard as C. W. Moss, the driver for the Barrow gang; Gene Hackman as Clyde's brother, Buck; Estelle Parsons as Buck's wife, Blanche; and Denver Pyle as the sheriff who hunted down Bonnie and Clyde in an obscure wood in Arcadia, La., May 23, 1934.

The "Bonnie and Clyde" unit spent 10 weeks in northeast Texas, in and around a series of small towns near Dallas—Rowlett, Maypearl, Venus, Ponder, Pilot Point, Garland, among them—which had been visited by the Barrow gang for their raids on banks, grocery stores and gasoline stations. The small communities had remained almost unchanged since the early 1930's.

With the company went a retinue of 20 period cars, 1930-34 models of Stearns-Knights, Hupmobiles, Star Durants, Jewetts, Fords, Chevrolets and Dodges. These were acquired on the location sites, refurbished with tuned-up motors and, after their "acting chores" were completed, they were sold at a profit to vintage-vehicle fans.

Three of the actual banks held up by Clyde Barrow and his gang—in Pilot Point, Red Oak and Venus — are still standing. All closed during the Depression, then re-opened for "business" as the movie cast went about looting them anew.

Cat Lover Steals Gems Worth $800

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The man who took about $800 in jewelry from the home of Mary Donahue wasn't exactly a cat burglar, but he was certainly a lover of felines.

Mrs. Donahue told police the burglar apparently fed her cat before he left.

Girls In Minis Pep Up Lottery

NEW YORK (AP) — To the surprise of hardly anyone, salesgirls in miniskirts proved to be quite a tonic for the lagging New York State Lottery sales.

"This is the first time I've bought one," said Edward Christman, "and the only reason I did it is because they're here and I'm here."

The state hired 20 young women in yellow miniskirts and blue stockings to hand out promotional material while 10 busy salesmen handled the tickets.

The entourage made nine stops throughout the city and everywhere they went people quickly lined up to buy the tickets. Lottery proceeds go to education.

Community Named For The Apeman

By SAM BLACKBURN

TARZAN—Only folk who live away from here pronounce it "tar-ZAN." Real Tarzanites, including the man who named it 43 years ago, say "tar-zun."

Just like "me Tarzan, you Jane" in the Edgar Rice Burroughs celebrated stories of the kid who grew up with the apes and made nobody-knows-how-many millions in novels, comic books, movies and now in television.

It should be pronounced exactly the way Mr. Burroughs meant it. It was named for his celebrated hero.

Tarzan is a small farming community and post office in the heart of Martin County. It is on SH 176, about half way between Big Spring and Andrews.

If you're out looking for a good collection of the Tarzan books, this is the place.

Young Keith Glaze, who operates Tarzan's biggest store and service station here has 10 volumes of the Tarzan tales. If all goes well, he hopes ultimately to get the entire set. If so, this community will have something to be proud of. Complete sets of Tarzan books, especially first editions, are worth a pretty penny.

Surely everybody knows about Tarzan. Edgar Rice Burroughs —who was never in Africa in his life—created Tarzan and sold his first story about the ape boy in 1912 and his first book in 1914. The first book, "Tarzan of the Apes," is the hard-to-find booger and a good copy is worth a pocketful of cash.

He kept on writing Tarzan stories until he had produced 21 in all and 25 million copies of the book had been sold through 1942. Mr. Burroughs died in 1954, but the paperback people have been turning 'em out in reprints since and the total issue is probably double the 1942 mark. At least a score of movie versions have been made of the books and comic books have produced a host of additional tales. Now network television has a big deal about Tarzan.

All of which is of academic interest to this Martin County community, in that it owes its name to Mr. B's redoubtable hero. Not too many folk read Tarzan books, but all 100 of the residents are familiar with the character.

"I began reading Tarzan books several years ago," explains Glaze. "I suppose I was about 18." Since Glaze is only 26 now, he hasn't been reading the books too long. His 20-year-old wife isn't quite so enthusiastic over the stories, but she does help Glaze collect his copies.

"I used to keep them in a showcase here in the store," explains Glaze, "but we needed the showcase for shirts. Now I have them in this box"—he was fishing under the counter of his general store at the time —"where I can get 'em when folks want to see them."

Last winter Frank X. Tolbert, roving correspondent for the Dallas News wrote a little story about Glaze and his books.

"He sort of over-did the thing," said Glaze. "Made me look like a big collector, which I am not."

However, he said that an appeal for Tarzan books in the Tolbert yarn brought him a lot of additional copies. He has a number of duplicates and is still after the rarer volumes.

The man who created the

NAMED TOWN
Tant Lindsey of Stanton

town Tarzan lives in Stanton. He is Tant Lindsey, a brisk 73-year-old youngster, who fishes, collects rare Mexican coins, and keeps a sharp eye on his grandchildren.

"Yep," he said, "I named the place Tarzan but it was in 1924 —not 1929 like that Dallas writer said."

Lindsey said that prior to 1924, the territory around Tarzan was the old Creek Ranch. The late R. L. Cook, Big Spring, and several other men, bought up the ranch and began selling it out as farms.

"They wanted me to put in a store there," says Lindsey, "and try to get a town started.

"At that time, the site selected was almost in the exact center of Martin County. Later on, Howard County got a mile of Martin County land across the border and changed the center but that hadn't happened in 1924.

"We had a sort of idea that maybe we could swing the county seat to our town, if we really got it going.

"Naturally we wanted a post office. The post office department was pretty finicky about the names we suggested."

One name offered and rejected was "Tant" — Lindsey's first name. No, said the post office department, it would be confused with Taft. South Plains was rejected—("they named a post office that later on, though").

"Finally," said Lindsey, "I sat down at the store one night and began writing a list of all the possible names I could think of.

"There was a Tarzan book—I like the stories—laying on the desk. So I headed off my list with 'Tarzan.' I wrote a letter telling the post office department to select any name they liked, just so we got a post office.

"They promptly named it Tarzan."

Lindsey was the first postmaster. He was succeeded by Woodford Sales after Lindsey sold out the store in 1944. Actually, according to Mrs. Nellie McMorries, the present postmistress who has held the job for 18 years, the "real" postmaster under Lindsey was Wilson George.

Mrs. McMorries became postmistress in 1949. She built the building where the office is now operated on the main highway to Andrews (SH 176) and is still in office. Last year the government overhauled the building, installed new furnishings and lighting. It's still owned by Mrs. McMorries, however.

"We serve about 800 patrons out of this office," she said. "About 100 perhaps live in the immediate vicinity and get their mail at the office or in the lock boxes I have."

She said that tourists passing through are attracted by the sign "Tarzan" and often stop and ask questions about the name. Many seek postal cancellations and others mail postcards and letters to friends from Tarzan.

If there is another Tarzan in the United States, Mrs. McMorries has never heard of it.

And if there is another it is doubtful if it was named for the hero of a widely improbable but highly romantic series of novels about deepest, darkest Africa.

Keith Glaze has a suggestion which would have even greater publicity reaction.

A few miles to the east of Tarzan is another small community called "Lenorah."

"They should change the name of Lenorah to 'Jane,'" suggests Glaze.

"Then we could tell tourists 'We Tarzan—that Jane.'"

Well, it's an idea.

She'll Don Tennis Shoes When First Lady Visits Home

LONE ROCK, Wis. (AP) — A Wisconsin farm wife says she'll be wearing tennis shoes when she entertains the wife of the President of the United States Sept. 22.

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will be in Wisconsin to attend a food exposition.

Her trip includes a stop at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson in the little community of Clyde, south of Lone Rock.

"We're farmers and we'll be dressed as farmers," the farm wife said Thursday.

"I'll just wear my tennis shoes as if I were entertaining friends who came in for coffee."

The farm was selected to show the First Lady and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman a successful example of participation in the American soil conservation program.

Centerpiece Axed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Contractor D. A. Canale complained to sheriff's officers that someone drove up to a house he is building, felled a red oak tree in the front yard, cut it into logs and hauled them away.

"We'd saved that tree as the centerpiece of the lawn," Canale said.

City Of Tucson Likes Checks Best

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Unlike most businesses who would prefer strangers pay cash instead of checks, the City of Tucson likes checks best.

Finance Director James Kay says it's easier and cheaper to process checks than to handle cash. Kay says he would like to refuse cash if it was lawful.

Kay says credit cards would be even easier, but the city won't accept them.
