Graf Zeppelin Covers 2,800 Miles Toward Germany

Series of Radio Messages Report Dirigible's Trip

Steamships Sight Giant Ship Nearing Ireland; Covering Nearly Twice As Much On Return Trip

Avoid Storm Area

Crowds Assemble at Landing Place of Ship; Is Expected to Arrive Late This Evening

(By Associated Press)

The Graf Zeppelin last night was well along on the second half of her homeward flight from Lakehurst, N. J. to Friedrichshafen, Germany.

A series of radio messages to the Associated Press from masters of steamships which had sighted her sent at intervals from early afternoon to nightfall over the north Atlantic, charted her course accurately for the first time since she left the shores of the United States early Monday morning.

Nearing Irish Shores

The steamships were in mid-Atlantic, the first about 730 miles from Cape Race, N. F., and the latest about equidistant between that point and Fastnet, Ireland.

Makes Better Time

German experts estimated that the Graf Zeppelin had covered 2,800 miles in her first 34 hours of flight. This compared with 1,900 miles covered in the same number of hours during her test flight over Europe. A part of this distance had been used to avoid a storm. It appeared that the Zeppelin had out-got slightly more than 2,000

Death Sudden For Mrs. W. A. Whatley

Young Wife of Tech Professor, Former Katherine Sowder Dies From Attack Of Acute Appendicitis.

Mrs. W. A. Whatley, wife of Professor Whatley, of the Spanish department at Technological college, and herself a student at the college, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. She had attended classes at Tech Monday and was suddenly taken ill, going to a local hospital, where an operation for acute appendicitis was performed Monday night.

Tuesday morning it was thought that she was recuperating and Professor Whatley assumed charge of his classes at the college, being there when she died, the only relative present at the time being her mother, Mrs. Eppie Sowder, of 1616 Avenue O.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Whatley was Miss Katherine Sowder. She was born and reared in Lubbock. She was a graduate of the local high school and had attended Kildg-Key college at Sherman about three years ago. She was just a few months past 30 years of age and was married to Professor

Navy Flier Gets Impromptu Bath

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 30. (P)—Thrown from his plane when his safety belt broke while more than a mile above the waters of San Diego Bay, Ensign R. K. Gaines, naval flier, made a successful descent by parachute today and was rescued by Lieutenant Ray Taylor a few minutes after he had landed in the water.

Ensign Gaines, who is attached to the aircraft squadrons battle fleet, suffered no ill effects from his impromptu bath, and had no opportunity, as he slowly descended, to see his pilotless plane plunge downward at terrific speed and reduce itself to a mass of wreckage in the bay.

Plan Quick Trial Of Fritz, Charged In Hamilton Death

Alleged Murderer of Youth To Face Trial Friday; Venire of 100 Men Is Selected For Case.

(By Associated Press) HASKELL, Oct. 30.—Bill Fritz, indicted for murder in the slaying of Earle Hamilton, 17, near Rochester last Wednesday, will go to trial here Friday.

The murder indictment was returned by a grand jury here today, the trial was set for Friday and a special venire of a hundred was ordered summoned.

Delay Second Charge. The grand jury late today had not acted on the death of D. W. Hamilton, Earle's father, who was shot and killed by a man who went to the Hamilton home to demand that Earle "leave the country" before he could testify in a liquor case. Earle was shot as he ran into the house.

Charges were filed against Fritz, and he was captured two days later. Officers said he had made a statement.

Rain Halts Crop Gathering Here

Not only did the rain and resultant muddy roads slow down the business of picking cotton, but it halted the influx of scores of pickers who were headed this way from down-state, according to R. F. Nelson, United States farm labor bureau representative stationed here by the government.

Mr. Nelson stated that a hard freeze might result in considerable damage to the cotton crop, but that frost would not do very much harm. There are yet many pickers needed for farmers to gather their crop throughout the South Plains, he said, and the last few days has witnessed a fairly steady stream of them arriving and being put to work.

Texas Man Is Radio Ticker For Democratic Ticket

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (P)—Col. Clarence Ousley, of Texas, former assistant secretary of agriculture of the United States, spoke over a hookup of 25 radio stations tonight, appealing for the election of Gov. Alfred E. Smith for his stand on agriculture and prohibition and pleading religious tolerance.

Colonel Ousley said Governor Smith's stand on prohibition offered a hope of remedying "the present liquor evils and could be no worse than prohibition has been under Coolidge, Harding and Wilson."

Four Hundred Lubbock Housewives Hear Ways To Prepare Five Table Delicacies Tuesday.

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN

Avalanche Woman's Editor

When Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan opened her second lecture in the free cooking school yesterday afternoon, approximately four hundred women were seated in the hall of the U. T. Town Dance Palace and some fifty others came within a few minutes after the opening.

Mrs. Dougan, culinary artist, is conducting this school for the Avalanche-Journal company, which has sponsored five previous free exhibitions for the housewives of Lubbock and the surrounding territory.

Working steadily throughout the two hours Mrs. Dougan yesterday afternoon demonstrated the making of five dishes, giving her hearers recipes and telling them easy ways of preparation. These foods were cooked and passed through the audience for inspection and to be eaten by those attending.

A dish of scalloped oysters and one of deviled chill meat and cacciatore-baked-in-the-casserole were luscious foods and were highly praised by those attending the lecture. Yesterday's lecture was on vegetables and miscellaneous foods.

Today Mrs. Dougan is to demonstrate the making of yeast and quick breads, showing fancy and plain loaves and giving her hearers a valuable and interesting lesson.

Mrs. Dougan's voice carries well in the dance hall and she is heard

(By Associated Press) LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Oct. 30.—Miss Ethel Knack, 26, attractive saleswoman for a Chicago publishing company, was found today in the furnace room of the Lake Bluff police station, apparently either the victim of an assailant who tried to burn her alive in the boiler room of the city hall or the dupe of hallucinations which caused her to inflame the furnace on herself.

Weather Prevents Plane's Take-off

ROOSEVELT FIELD, L. I., Oct. 30. (P)—Weather balked the transatlantic monoplane Columbus from taking the air in a chase of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin on a flight to Europe.

All was in readiness for a start, with tanks full and Roger Williams and Peter Bonelli, the crew, on hand when an adverse report from the weather bureau caused postponement.

Williams said he and Bonelli would be back on the field at 9 o'clock in the morning ready to take off for Rome if the ocean weather had improved.

Dr. Blasinger added he did not believe she could have inflamed such serious burns of her own will. He said she had not been criminally assaulted, but probably would die of her injuries.

Police Captains In Philadelphia Are Disqualified

Disruption of Entire Police Force Is Echo To Grand Jury Probe Into Racketeering.

(By Associated Press.) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Nearly one third of Philadelphia's police commanders have been declared by a special grand jury investigating bootlegging, gang murders and police corruption to be "unfit to hold any municipal office."

And there are more in the same category, the grand jury said in its presentment to Judge Edwin O. Lewis recommending that three of the seven police inspectors of the city and 18 of the 43 captains be dismissed from the service because of "unexplained personal wealth which we believe was either all or substantially all dishonestly acquired."

The presentment, which came at the beginning of the eleventh week of the inquiry, listed back deposits of more than $400,000 as having been by the 21 police officials within the last four years.

Deposited $328,794. The three inspectors, John J. Carlin, William J. McFadden and John Buckert, were declared to have made total deposits of $328,794.

District Attorney Monaghan, who is directing the inquiry, said the presentment had created a situation probably without a parallel in the history of American cities, while Judge Lewis declared that the "astounding record of bootlegging and gunmen had been able to separate with impunity."

Police Credits Allies. Asserting that the "commanders of our army of defense" had become allies of lawlessness, Judge Lewis told the district attorney and the grand jurors that if "politics won't voluntarily separate from the police force, some pressure must be brought." The judge did not indicate what form this pressure would take. He suggested that a copy of the presentment be sent to Mayor Mackey, who had announced that he would support further with any police official cited by the grand jury as unfit.

Four of the captains mentioned in the grand jury's presentment were already under suspension. Two of them, Charles Schoenleber and William G. Knoell, are awaiting prison sentences. Schoenleber was convicted of conspiracy, extortion and bribery for taking money from saloon-keepers. Knoell pleaded guilty to similar charges. The others are Charles Cohen and William G. Wurst.

A new all-steel cottonseed warehouse, of 12,500 tons capacity, and also other improvements have been completed, giving the plant the necessary equipment to handle the largest volume of seed in its history. The mill was erected in 1925, costing originally $100,000.

Marland Vacates Post In Favor Of Younger Official

Oklahoma Oil Magnate Made Spectacular Rise To Fortune Through Success At Ponca City.

(By Associated Press.) PONCA CITY, Okla., Oct. 30.—E. W. Marland, whose spectacular rise to national financial power in a comparatively short time is one of the romances of Oklahoma oil, is stepping aside from leadership of the company bearing his name in favor of a younger man. Physical inability to continue his work was given as his reason for retirement. Mr. Marland's resignation as president of the Marland Oil company was presented and accepted yesterday at a meeting of the directors in New York. Daniel J. Moran was elected president, effective November 1. Mr. Moran resigned as vice president of the Texas corporation to accept the position. Resignation of W. H. McFadden as a member of the board of directors and the executive committee and succession of Moran to these positions was announced simultaneously.

Reorganization and refrenchment within the Marland company started about a year ago, after the organization had shown a series of financial reverses. It was explained, however, that these were merely paper losses caused by the institution of an "intangibles drilling reserve" and did not mean a direct drain on the finances of the company.

Starting with a borrowed drilling outfit, Marland entered the oil game in Oklahoma fifteen years ago in the Ponca City area.

Smith Rests And Prepares To Make Last Speech Tour

Nominee Takes Stock Of Progress To Date And Seeks To Ascertain New York and Jersey.

By WALTER CHAMBLIN (Associated Press Staff Writer.) NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Removed for a time from the shouts of the thousands upon thousands who welcomed him along a route which zigzagged for 11,000 miles through the heart of the nation, Gov. Alfred E. Smith spent today getting ready for the intensive speaking drive with which he will climax his campaign.

The Democratic nominee also had an opportunity to take stock of the work up to date and to ascertain for himself something about conditions in his home state of New York and the neighboring state of New Jersey—the territory he has selected in which to close his drive for the presidency.

Form Debatable Territory. From the first these states have been regarded as debatable ground with both parties claiming them as their own. Until now, the governor has been forced to a large extent to rely upon reports brought to him as to the situation in each.

Tonight, however, he is in a position to cast his own eye, seasoned by a quarter of a century experience in New York politics, over the two states which alone, have a total of 59 electoral votes at their command. To Invade Jersey. The governor's program calls for an invasion of New Jersey tomorrow with a speech at Newark that night. This is one of the cities visited by his rival, Herbert Hoover, in his bid for the Atlantic seaboard vote.

During the governor's swing into Maryland, many of the local Democratic leaders who joined his party said that religion was one of the foremost issues. In view of this, there are some who think he will hit at intolerance in his Newark address and again make reference to it in his closing speech in Madison Square Garden in New York Saturday night.

The governor, despite an arduous campaign, is in the best of condition for the concluding stage of the fight. His voice apparently has withstood the wear and tear to which it has been subjected and has shown no signs of giving away under the burden. This was one of the concerns of the nominee at the outset of the campaign and for that reason, with few exceptions, he has refused to speak in the open air—even though amplifiers were installed.

The Woman's Day

By Alice Sumner

Governor Al Smith's baby grandsons, little curly-headed Arthur Smith, aged two and a half, did his bit for his granddad's campaign the other day by singing "The Sidewalks of New York," for the talking service.

GRANDBABIES, TOO! To be sure he has been frequently photographed with Mrs. Hoover, but I haven't seen a single campaign picture of him with his two baby grandchildren.

HOW D'YE BET? One wonders who is doing the scurrying thing—Al Smith who believes that the way to a nation's vote is via the reminder that, after all, even the great are only husbands and fathers and grandfathers, or whether Hoover's unspoken but practiced belief that a candidate is a candidate and his personal life has little or nothing to do with the matter, is the wiser way of approach.

WHERE'S YOUR HUSBAND? Even in this modern world no woman with a "Mrs." handle to her name escapes the spoken or merely thought question of "where is your husband?" when she emerges in public life but gives no explanation of why she isn't home darning said husband's socks.

ARE WE DEMO? The staid New York Times gets quite agog all over its front page because some scion of an old and prosperous family, one Samuel Thorne, 3rd, to be exact, married his sister's governess, one Mme. Vera Sokoloff Dobrowsky.

BEAUTY BUILDS A HOUSE.

I have often mentioned that I believe the French woman's reputation for cleverness, beauty and chic lies not in any racial beauty characteristic, but in her aptitude for making the most of her every opportunity.

Smith Election Is Sure Parrish Told

Following a long distance telephone conversation, held Tuesday afternoon between Senator Ezek L. Parrish of the South Plains Democratic club and C. C. Renfro, of the Texas Democratic campaign headquarters at Dallas, the senator declared that information gained from Dallas was very cheering news to democrats of the South Plains. "Mr. Renfro told me," Parrish stated, "that if the part of Texas lying above the cap rock would just break fifty-fifty with votes next Tuesday for Smith and Hoover, the state will roll up a majority of 200,000 for the democratic ticket. "And he said that reports coming from national democratic headquarters are to the effect that the republicans have already conceded a sufficient number of states to Smith to assure him being elected. "Because of bad weather and impassable roads the rallies scheduled by the Democrats for various communities throughout Lubbock county could not be held. Until the weather clears up, or roads become passable, no attempt to make these rallies, as scheduled, will be made. It is thought that it will be possible to hold the rally scheduled for Crosbyton on next Saturday afternoon, and at Balls Saturday night when the Band Wagon will make its appearance, will be as scheduled. "In the meantime the South Plains Democrat campaigners are distributing lots of literature to citizens of Lubbock and Lubbock county and the same process obtains in every other county of the section.

Matadors Wind Up Training Today For Hill Billies

Hill Billy Tilt Set For Friday By Late Change

Team To Leave Lubbock At Noon Thursday With Only Two Days Training For Hard Encounter.

With their clash with the Daniel Baker Hill Billies set up a day by request of Brownwood authorities, the Matadors have but one practice session remaining in which to round off training for the tilt with the T. I. A. eleven Friday in Brownwood. The game originally scheduled for Saturday, November 3 has been moved up to Friday to comply with the situation in Brownwood and will force the squad to leave Lubbock at noon tomorrow. This will deny the Tech gridsters an extra day's practice which is badly needed after several days of inclement weather.

With one possible exception, the entire Matador squad will be in condition to see action in the game. Doc Barfoot, end, will likely see the contest from the sidelines, but in his place, Coach Payne will have a number of capable wingmen to call upon in Vinson, Hempel, Payne, and Tadlock. The center of the Matador forward wall will probably remain intact. Cowley at center, Reed and Dewitt at guards, Carpenter and Knowles at tackles, are the likely starters against the Hill Billies.

Morrison Grooms Phantom For Tilt

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Keenly alert to the fact that Redman Hume, Southwest conference scoring pace setter, will be a marked man in the approaching meet with Texas, Southern Methodist coaches started today to groom another ball-carrying ace for the most important tilt on the Ponies' schedule. Campus gossip had it that Head Coach Ray Morrison had selected a reformed line-man, whose identity has been kept a dark secret, to carry on when the huge Orange line centers their attention on the youth dubbed the "Galloping Gazelle." The back in question has been little action in recent games, although he participated in the Army clash, and followers of the team interpreted that Morrison had wisely saved back this phantom player for the crucial game of the season.

Strolling Down Sports Lane

With Allan Carney, Avalanche Sports Editor

Coaches Blair and Clark of Daniel Baker have developed one of the strongest defensive football eleven ever to represent the Brownwood institution. Games with T. C. U. and Simmons indicate that the Hill Billy forwards are just about as powerful as the Matadors. The Frogs defeated the Hillies by practically the same margin that they did Tech. Frank Bridges' Cowhands of Simmons university, who started out to do things in a big way this season, were hard put to score their lone touchdown against them.

Daniel Baker's forward wall has been noted for its strength. There are five veterans in the line who are making serious bids for all-T. I. A. A. honors. Frank Boddie, playing his second year at tackle, "Boddie" Reed, all-T. I. A. A. guard playing his fourth year on the Hill Billy team; "Mule" Moore, center, another fourth year man who is sure to make a serious bid for all-conference honors this season; Mac Miller, another all-T. I. A. A. guard, and "Tom" Cobb, tackle, who is playing his fifth year on the squad. These five men can be counted on to make themselves felt when the Matadors invade Brownwood Saturday.

The choice morsels on the football field for this week appear to be the Mustang-Longhorn clash in Austin and the Baylor-Frog encounter in Fort Worth. While critics are up in the air at the present time as to which team to pick, the results of these two games will give them plenty to talk about. Austin and Littlefield has been pointing his charges to the S. M. U. tilt throughout the current season and a Texas victory would not be surprising.

These Bears of Baylor "who walk like men" have made a decided reversal of form since their initial conference engagement with the Arkansas Razorbacks and may be the team to send the T. C. U. Frogs hurtling down the conference ladder. Masty Bell, however, not only has a powerful defensive club but one which has shown plenty of punch in its games up to date. The 1928 Horned Frog eleven is undoubtedly the strongest team the Matadors have met from T. C. U. during the three years of relations.

A football classic is to be played on the Tech gridiron next Saturday between the Westerners and the Amarillo Sandies. Lubbock High will be fighting against heavy odds to down their rivals from the upper Panhandle and take the lead in the district race, while the haughty Amarillo eleven will enter the fray as the decided favorites with the determination to thrust aside the Westerners in their march toward the state championship.

As the Sandies have yet to meet a strong team in this district, the game Saturday will be closely watched by high school football fans the state over. In piling up overwhelming scores on their opponents in previous games this season, the Amarillo gridsters have caused all eyes to turn to the Panhandle district. The outcome of the game Saturday will determine much.

Amarillo is coming 500 strong to the game here Saturday. The special train bearing the Sandie delegation will bring a host of football fans who are headed for the high school stadium to see the contest. Lubbock stands something of how a winning team should be supported. With the local high school pep enthusiasts strutting their stuff in competition with the visiting crowd, the contest promises to furnish an unusual exhibition of school spirit and rivalry.

Seems rather strange that Coach Smith should be worried over the showing of the Sandies in the comedy staged last week with the Quana Indians. His team buried the Redskins under a deluge of touchdowns and won, 10 to 0. We are just wondering what he expects from his football eleven. The Westerners defeated the Indians, 25 to 0, several weeks ago. This would lead one to believe the Sandies could easily overpower the locals, but that will be settled ere the sun sinks over the western horizon Saturday evening.

Yes, Amarillo had better wait until the district title is won before starting any talk about the Amarillo-Cleco or Amarillo-Arlene games. Lubbock, Vernon, Wichita Falls and Electra must first be convinced of the superiority of the Golden Sandstorm before any definite plans for bi-district encounters can be arranged handily.

Frogs Face Stiff Schedule In Four Remaining Games

Baylor, Rice, Texas and S. M. U. To Furnish Opposition For Purple In Games - To Come.

(Special to Avalanche)
FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—With their last non-conference game past, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs began work this week in preparation for their tough schedule of four remaining games. The remainder of the Purple season will be a series of hard games with Baylor, Rice, Texas and S. M. U. furnishing the opposition in which the Purple center will be played on their home field while two will take place on foreign fields.

November 3, the Baylor Bears will journey to Proglard for one of the deciding contests of the season. While the Bears have lost one game they are still very much in the competition and their 28-6 victory over the strong Centenary Gentlemen on the latter's home field, stamp them as real opposition. The Frogs 6-0 victory over the Texas Aggies last Sunday in the Purple's home field, was a surprise. The Purple crushed the Arkansas Razorbacks 26-12 verdict over the same team. It looks as if the Farmers will not be in it this year.

Rice May Give Trouble
November 10 the Frogs will journey to Houston for a game with the Rice Owls. The Wise Birds flashed unexpected strength to hold the strong Texas University Longhorns to a 13-6 score last Saturday, and while the Frogs are figured to win the tilt, a hard game is expected. The Owls will have the advantage of performing on their own field with student body behind them while the Frogs will go into the fray practically unsupported.

Texas University Longhorns will be the "guests" of the Purple November 17 at their own Clark field. The Longhorns are the question mark in the conference this year, with anything liable to happen when they take the field. They are as yet undefeated in the conference and Rice to give them the top of the flag chase. Both T. C. U. and S. M. U. are also undefeated, although each team has only one victory to its credit. The Frogs crushing 28-6 victory over the Texas Tech Maadors while the Longhorns pushed to get a 13-0 decision against the same club may offer some basis of comparison.

However, dope is an uncertain thing in football and not too much emphasis should be placed on comparative scores.

The Frogs have a "smart" schedule this year, with a two weeks rest between the Texas contest and the fray with S. M. U. on Thanksgiving. Many predictions are now being heard that the tilt on Turkey day will decide the championship of the conference.

Jinx Follows In Fighter's Steps

Welterweight Champion Has Tried to Defeat Title For Full Year; Jinxes Are Persistent.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Joe Dundee's efforts to defend his welterweight championship in the ring at Madison Square Garden still are frustrated by one of the most persistent jinxes in ring history.

For a full year, now the Baltimore Italian has been under contract with Tex Rickard, to risk his laurels. For months Ace Hudkins was picked as the battler—and then the Nebraska withdrew to mingle with middleweights. Joe hurt but his arm and couldn't fight Sammy Baker, Nick Testo, of Troy, N. Y., and Young Corbett, California southpaw, failed to survive acid tests.

Now definitely slated to meet young Jack Thompson, San Francisco negro who knocked him out in a non-title fray, Dundee notified the New York State Athletic commission today that he cannot go through with the match on November 16 due to an infected elbow.

In Dundee's place, the Garden management hopes to sign the winner of the match in Los Angeles tonight between Jackie Fields and Sammy Baker to meet Thompson.

Return of Firpo And Dempsey May Save Tex Rickard

Lure of Squared Circle Is Having Effect On Mauler And Argentine Bull; Jack Sets Price.

(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Ears that listen at cauliflower keyholes are tinling these days to whispermings that indicate the return of Luis Angel Firpo, prosperous business man of Buenos Aires, and William Harrison Dempsey, actor and California real estate magnate, to the more rugged lines of endeavor they knew before affluence set in.

Dempsey, led to believe that he possessed the qualities of a great Thespian and convinced that he never could who Gene Tunney in a disen comebacks, announced last spring that he was "through" with the prize ring forever. Today his stage bubble has burst, the contract he signed for $5,000 a week for 30 weeks in a Broadway play has been cancelled. Tunney has passed from the ring picture and Dempsey, twice whipped by the big marine, is listening to daily advice and pleas that he don the padded mittens just once more to save the heavyweight ranks from utter stagnation.

The old man mauler, despite his 33 years, is wavering. Tex Rickard won't talk but Jack is believed to have set a $50,000 price tag on his services for one more battle. The mogul of Madison Square Garden is gun-shy now when requests for guarantees of that kind are shoved in his face. Tex still is a bit punch drunk from the financial beating he took when he guaranteed Tunney $50,000 for blinding Tom Mooney before a crowd that paid little more than that to view the libid of the summer season.

The Nut Cracker

By Joe Williams

Charges that athletes in Ohio colleges were taking money for their services were aired the other day. Maybe the professors are beginning to feel that they should have a little money for their.

Parents of many a budding young college cut-up know that students have been getting money for their services for a long time.

The athletes don't mind the football—they're willing to play for nothing, but really they ought to have some remuneration for attending classes in trigonometry.

Alumni might explain away this ugly suggestion. The athletes are really getting paid for studying language. And if the Ohio coaches are "the sons of those we've met, such language!

A little geometry is almost necessary, though, to understand some of the things a coach can draw on a blackboard.

Maybe the college athletes figure they have as much right to take money as any of Bill Carrigan's Red Sox have.

Lubbock High School Gridsters To Meet Heralded Sandstorm Eleven In Classic Battle Here Saturday

WILL REVEAL STRENGTH Texas Conference Games For Week To Be Decisive

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Actual strength of Texas conference football squads, which have spent the first part of their schedule in brushes with opponents ranging from the Southwest's best eleven to comparatively obscure rivals, is due to be revealed during the coming week-end.

Two conference clashes bringing together Howard Payne and Trinity at Waxahatchie Friday and Austin College and Simmons at Abilene on the same day may furnish the basis on which the fate of members of the "big six" may be reckoned.

Howard Payne, a co-leader in the standing column with St. Edwards by virtue of their one victory, meets there a scare into S. M. U. by holding the Mustangs to one-touchdown margin earlier, has an easier foe in the Austin Kangaroos. It is the Cowboys first conference nature, but likely will attract little attention. Austin College has dropped both its games with teams in the look and looms as the stepping stone for other elevens.

MAY JOIN TIGERS
CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Ray Schalk, former manager and catcher of the Chicago White Sox, intimated today he might join the Detroit Tigers next year.

Schalk said he had been negotiating with several major league clubs and had discussed the subject with Stanley Harris, new manager of the Tigers.

Locals Believe Report That Sandies Fear Lubbock Is All Bologna; Westerner Eleven Determined.

Keenly alert to the fact that they are facing the crucial game in their 1928 schedule, the high school Westerners are waging a bitter fight this week against the overwhelming odds under which they are working to prepare for the clash with the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm here Saturday. With the gridgers on the hospital list gradually increasing, the outlook for the local eleven was anything but bright as they took the field Tuesday afternoon determined to make all remaining practice hours count.

Faced with the prospect of playing the powerful Sandies with a number of their mainstays on the sidelines, Coaches Frnk and Morgan were driving their charges at a terrific clip at Merrill Park yesterday. With the district championship practically at stake, the golden-jerred warriors were putting their whole heart and soul into their workout. No new formations will be used against the Amarillo aggregation. Continued drill on the old plays will give the Westerners a varied attack to use against the invaders. The Sandies already on hand will give the gridgers plenty to worry about if the Lubbock eleven is prepared to execute them satisfactorily.

Although Coach Dylch Smith of the Amarillo team has come out with the statement that he is warning his gridsters against overconfidence, local football fans are led to believe that the Sandies are counting on another one-sided victory.

tery. An ardent supporter of the Amarillo segregation was asked yesterday what he thought of the coming game from the Amarillo standpoint. The reply was, "duck soup." This may be taken as an indication of the attitude of the majority of Amarillo fans.

The game promises to be one of the most colorful contests ever staged on a West Texas gridiron in a high school encounter. The fanatics, with their steam roller offense and the Westerners, fighting against bewildering odds, are certain to give football fans of this section a thrilling exhibition of football strategy.

Sandies Training Hard For Clash AMARILLO, Oct. 30. (Special to Avalanche)—With all their early games behind them, the Amarillo Golden Sandies football players have gotten down to serious business this week in preparation for the heavy schedule of games facing the team. The first of these is with the Lubbock Westerners this Saturday.

The Sandies have played two conference games so far and both of them have been easy to win. Plainview was trampled 95 to 0 and Quahah was crushed 102 to 0. The Sandies didn't have to push themselves to win, as the score indicates, but they realize that it is a rocky road from now on. None of the other teams in this district are being considered as easy.

They started training with a new attitude Monday afternoon. The day was cold and the smiles were missing from the faces of the Amarillo crew. They are serious. They barked and snapped at each other, gave one and all the razz—for not training seriously and for the lack of fight which was shown in the first quarter of the Quahah game.

Sandies Know Lubbock Strength Amarillo realizes that the Lubbock Westerners under the tutelage of Henry Frinks and Del Morgan are planning their campaign for Saturday's game so as to put up as stiff a battle as possible. They realize that even a fair Lubbock team is hard to beat in Lubbock and they will not be out for a good time when the Westerners are met on the field of battle.

Amarillo fans will make their team feel as much at home as possible by turning out 500 strong on a Santa Fe special for Lubbock. The high school band and pep squad will make the trip and Lubbock will see one of the most impressive demonstrations when the pep squad and band swing into action before the game. The fans will parade through Lubbock as soon as the special arrives according to present plans.

Textbook Battle Echoed At State Education Board

Near Deadlock On Issue Of Geography Books Is Averted In Session At Austin Yesterday.

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Fights in the courts and in the State Textbook Commission over geography textbooks for the State's public schools, echoed again today when the commission, after a final round of discussion, about the lucrative supply contract, compromised and adopted two texts for the next six years at substantially reduced prices. The substitutions are in a list of 44 books for 38 courses which the commission chose to let contracts for one year, ranging from three to six years. Cost of all may run nearly $2,000,000, as nearly as it can be estimated.

Although the commission failed to renew the American Book Company geography contract, which was attached to a final round of discussion, about the lucrative supply contract, compromised and adopted two texts for the next six years at substantially reduced prices. The substitutions are in a list of 44 books for 38 courses which the commission chose to let contracts for one year, ranging from three to six years. Cost of all may run nearly $2,000,000, as nearly as it can be estimated.

The McGraw-Hill complete elementary geography, Macmillan company, 90 cents, and the Dodge Lasky complete advanced geography, with Texas Supplement, Rand-McNally Company, $1.15 were adopted.

State School Supt. S. M. N. Marrs, secretary of the commission, estimated that the savings on geographies under the new contract as compared to the old, will be about $200,000. The change will be gradual. New texts will be bought as they are needed under the three-year gradual introduction feature of the new textbook law.

The fact that books are ordered in lots only as they are needed precludes any definite estimate as to what any given adoption will cost the State. An entire new list of 21 supplementary readers was adopted.

Corned Beef

Croquettes

Same old corned beef hash? Perhaps—but try cooking it the French way, and see how crisp and brown the outside is and how moist and well cooked it is inside.

1 tablespoon chopped parsley	Salt and pepper to taste
2 cups mashed potatoes	2 tablespoons Crisco
3 cups finely chopped cold corned beef	1/4 cup cream
	1 egg

Mix Crisco in a saucepan. Add the potatoes and cream and stir until well mixed and heated. Add the meat, salt and pepper. Take from the stove, add the chopped parsley and egg beaten light without separating. Mix well and put away to cool. When cold, form into croquettes, cover with egg and bread crumbs and fry in deep hot Crisco from 375-385° F. Serve hot, with poached egg on round of toast.

Wouldn't you hesitate to fry foods in a fat that you would be unwilling to taste? Of course you would! A cooking fat should be as fresh and sweet as milk or butter—and every good cook judges these foods by tasting them.

Just make this interesting test: Put a little Crisco on the tip of a spoon. On the tip of a second spoon place a little of another shortening. Taste Crisco first, then the other shortening.

Doesn't the sweet, fresh taste of Crisco make you confident that it will improve the flavor of any food you prepare with it?

1923 By NEA Service Inc. RUTH DEWEY GROVES "WHEN A GIRL LOVES" LOVE FOR TWO

THIS HAS HAPPENED JERRY HAY decides that here he is a wrecked love mariner in her own circle, cabin to her room-mate, MYRTLE, that she intends to marry for money. Jerry drinks herself all the life-time luxuries and saves her money carefully for a vacation at Atlantic City, in "the best hotel," she confides to Myrtle. But the money is stolen from her room the night she drew it from the bank before her departure. Jerry is stunned at her loss! All her plans for the wonderful two weeks at the shore resort are spoiled, but Myrtle finally persuades her to go camping with her on the north shore of Long Island. They get a cheap camp site and Myrtle's sweetheart, GEORGE, drives them out and assists in getting their tent and equipment arranged before he has to return to the city. Left alone, the girls take a swim and then are busy enjoying their evening meal when Jerry is startled at the sound of an airplane whirling over their heads. She looks up, cries for Myrtle to run and springs backward, but too late. When Jerry came to she found herself held in strong arms and an unfamiliar but kindly face was watching her with concern. She tried to get up, but her head hurt, Jerry manages to get up and says she is not in need of the doctor that DAN HARVEY says he is going for. Jerry learns that the plane is not seriously damaged and that it is owned by young ALESTER CAREYFAIR—the nephew of members of the informal callers, who apologizes for wrecking their camp and promises to replace everything.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER III "Thank you," Jerry said very quietly, looking at Alester. Dan Harvey turned abruptly away. He started toward the car in which he had brought Dr. Beldon to the scene. Half way to it he halted and came back for a word with Myrtle. "I was piloting the ship," he said "and I'll be glad to pay for the damage to your tent and things. I'll come back after I've taken Dr. Beldon to his office and help you get fixed up for the night." Myrtle looked about her. "Gee, where'll we sleep? This tent's torn to pieces." "We'll rig up a shelter for you on the porch," Dan offered. "And tomorrow, if you care to go to town with me, I'll replace the things that were destroyed." "That won't be necessary," Alester broke in. "Let us know what the damage is and we'll pay it but I think you and Miss Ray will be more comfortable in the house." Jerry saw Dan throw him a glance that she was almost certain was touched with contempt. But he made no reply beyond a brief, "all right" and strode away.

A few minutes later it was apparent that nearly everything belonging to the camp was in ruins. "Go back to Carmoor and get a couple of cots, a bridge table or two, three or four folding chairs, some lawn seats and anything else you think these young ladies can use," Alester instructed the worried-looking butler. Jerry listened wide-eyed. "Gee, wasn't he generous? Myrtle was busy getting their personal belongings together. She felt cold in her damp bathing suit. And hungry too. She hadn't got farther than a cheese sandwich when their callers stepped from the sky. "Bring along something for their breakfast too," she heard Alester telling Marsh. Well, if he was that considerate he'd probably be glad to know that they hadn't anything left for supper either. She walked over with firm purpose. "And you might pick up a couple of chickens while you're over there, Mr. Marsh," Myrtle said firmly, but quessing a little in awe of the man. He reminded her unpleasantly of Mr. Gear, the aisle man in the lace department at Fane's. Jerry gasped. "Mr. Marsh!" Holy haw, Mr. Gearstair would think they were a couple of boobies who'd never seen a Broadway show in their lives. But all the butlers on Broadway were named Meadows. "Never mind, Meadows . . . or is it Marsh? We've had our supper," she said nonchalantly. Myrtle barely suppressed a squawk as Jerry bent a forbidding glance upon her. Alester caught the little gyp. It amused him. "I'm frightfully hungry myself," he remarked earnestly. "You might just collect a little snack for supper while you're about it, Marsh," he added, to Myrtle's satisfaction. "I'd like to get out of this wet bathing suit," Myrtle complained a little later. "Who'd have thought it would be so cool when the sun went down?" "I'll break open a door or window," Alester volunteered, "and you can dress in the house." In a few minutes the girls were making use of an improvised dressing room in the corner of the musty living room. Before they came out wearing the little high-belted flapper dresses they'd put on that morning, Dan had returned. He was engaged in low-voiced conversation with Alester when Jerry stepped out on the open porch. She caught a word of the latter's impatient, quick word. Dan snooted talking as Jerry approached them. She welcomed him with a smile to make up for her earlier partiality. "We've already broken into the house," she said. "So I see." It was said almost surlily. Jerry wondered if her first impression of him hadn't been too favorable. "Dan's been reminding me that there's company at our house tonight," Alester grinned. "He thinks and political associates for several days have constantly brought him messages of assurance of victory. Among the callers at headquarters today was James A. Garfield, of Cleveland, son of the martyred president, who reported that sentiment in the Middle Western states he recently had visited, was strongly favorable to the Hoover - Curtis ticket. Garfield issued a statement in which he charged that the democratic standard bearer had misrepresented Hoover's attitude on several of the leading issues of the campaign. "Governor Smith is dealing with several important questions in dishonest fashion," Garfield said. "He is resorting to the old and time-worn trick of distorting his opponent's statements at every opportunity, lifting a sentence here and there, from the context, then twisting it to give an entirely different meaning from that which Mr. Hoover intended. "Many of the men I have talked to in the middle west are opposed to the present prohibition law, but they do not regard that as a paramount issue, and they will not allow their votes to be influenced by it. "There seems to be a general feeling among both west and dry that federal enforcement conditions would be chaotic under Smith, and that the national situation in that respect would be worse instead. I doubt that Governor Smith is going to gain many votes on the prohibition issue."

Trip Will Be Made Into Border States As Nominee Travels West to Home On Coast.

BAGSDALE (Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — With the air filled with the clamor of the last week of the campaign, Herbert Hoover, in characteristic fashion worked quietly today at his general headquarters and his S. For all intents and purposes, Mr. Hoover's activities in Washington are almost ended so far as the 1928 campaign is concerned, although his personal headquarters will remain open until the night before election with James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican national committee in charge. Mr. Hoover is leaving for the west Thursday confident that he will return here to be inaugurated as president March 4. His friends

The new Buick is the new Style

Men and women on every street -- in every city and town -- are pronouncing the new BUICK, with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day.

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick. Sweeping into the market when motor car lines were practically standardized — when imitation was destroying individuality — these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode — A mode of body symmetry — of size and magnificence — of soft contours instead of straight lines — of body panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car. And as the weeks have passed — and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent — public enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions. Buick sales records have been broken! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand. The new Buick has become the ruling vogue! Men and women on every street . . . in every city and town . . . are pronouncing it the most beautiful automobile of the day!

NEW YORK FUTURES Month Open High Low Close Dec. 1928 1901 1907 1872 1872-73

LIVERPOOL FUTURES Close: Dec. 1928; Jan. 1929; May 1929; Oct. 1929. Due seven to 11 penny points lower Wednesday.

SUMMARY Market down 20 to 25 points in New York trading, 40 to 45 points in New Orleans trading. The failure to materialize of the predicted freeze caused long liquidation and new short selling that sent prices tumbling from $1.50 to $1.00 a bale.

Liverpool cable. "Bombay liquidated long cotton."

Boston: The Customs Bureau estimates the world consumption of American cotton for the first two months of the season at 2,363,000 bales not including liners against 2,564,000 bales the same time last year.

Cleveland said: "Fair business reported in Worth Street. Sales at southern spot markets yesterday 30,000 bales against 37,000 bales same time last year. Domestic contracts were adopted by women workers in the Firestone mills at New Bedford. The cotton textile figures for this month are expected to be bullish. Hedge selling orders on the close eased prices at the finish yesterday."

Dallas: Spot bags stiffening with more demand and expectation of further important buying after November 1.

New Orleans: Domestic cotton goods markets firm with moderately good business. Yarn sales second production.

Macon, Miss: Ninety per cent of cotton picked and 90 per cent ginned.

in the belt induced some trade buying on the scale down, causing insignificant rallies, prices at noon had sold off to values 29 to 32 points under the previous close with December at 19.94, January 18.99 and March 18.53.

Around noon there was another rally of a few points on some covering but the liquidation by long who purchased yesterday on the predictions of freezing weather in the belt was renewed and there was also some selling by ring traders attributed to expectations of increased crop ideas as a result of the heavy movement of the crop to market.

The market continued downward all during the afternoon session, reaching the lowest point at the end when December sold at 18.99, January 18.73 and March 18.70, or 42 points net down. Final prices were at the bottom.

A private crop estimate of 14,400,000 bales was issued during the day but failed to influence trading. Receipts, 129,451; for week, 511,906; for year, 4,008,428; last year, 3,719,405. Exports, 116,094; for week, 207,597; for year, 2,121,633; last year, 2,107,568. Stock on shipboard, 322,434; last year, 143,828. Spot sales, 46,237; last year, 30,742.

NEW YORK TRADING NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (P.—U. S. D. A.) Cotton markets just about yesterday's advances during today's trading owing to liquidation of reselling by recent buyers influenced by better weather reports than expected...

Chicago scored $17.50 on choice yearling steers and realized $17.45 on choice weight steers. Aggregate receipts were around 48,100 as compared with 46,498 last Tuesday and 59,678 for the same day a year ago.

Most received a price setback of 10 to 15¢ with closing trade at most points for or more than Monday's average market. The day's extreme top of $9.25 was paid both at St. Louis and Chicago. Total offerings were estimated at 103,100 a decrease of 8,500 from a week ago but an increase of 35,000 over the corresponding day last year.

Although values on fat lambs were little changed trade was marked by less activity. Aged stock held fully steady. Choice native lambs in Chicago reached $14, while choice ranges at Kansas City brought $13.85. The supply was around 11,000 against 66,320 a week ago and 43,130 a year ago.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30. (P.—U. S. D. A.) Cotton prices declined nearly 20 cents a bale here today under liquidation...

Some stop-orders were uncovered on the afternoon.

FORT WORTH PRICES FORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (P.—U. S. D. A.) Better trading conditions than have prevailed for some time were noted in the cattle market here today. Steers sold at steady values at $10.50 to $12.50. The stock was active, an increase of from 15¢ to 30¢ being recorded. Cows brought from $7.25 to $8.00. Calves averaged 25¢ to 30¢ higher, the bulk selling from $10.50 to $11.50.

Hogs were steady to strong. The top was $9.25, with the bulk trading from $7.25 to $7.75. Pigs sold from $7.25 to $7.75, and sows from $7.50 to $8.00. The sheep market was steady, lambs bringing $11.50.

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER (Associated Press Financial Writer) NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (P.—U. S. D. A.) Prices worked lower on the stock market today as pool support was withdrawn from a number of active issues and commission houses were inclined to recommend lightening of accounts in anticipation of a possible pre-election "scare."

The week before election is normally a week of considerable tension in Wall Street, when wild rumors are likely to cause flutter on the market. This year the unsettling influence has been less marked than in previous national election years, and has had but a negligible effect upon business.

Today's sagging of prices was in the face of a number of favorable developments. Better conditions in the money market were forecast in a slight easing in 100-day bankers' acceptances, and a number of corporations reported highly favorable earnings. Call money held at 1-1/2 percent all day and was available at 7 percent in the convertible market.

U. S. Steel reported total earnings for the third quarter of $4,000,000 while not more than $50,000,000 had been generally expected in Wall Street.

Oils were inclined to heaviness although Standard gained a point on publication of the highly favorable earnings report.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (P.—U. S. D. A.) All grain went lower in price today, headed by wheat. Big figures on wheat crop production south of the equator in particular, together with a halt in export demand for wheat from North America, tended to increase pressure to sell, and to weaken the market.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady at 10 to 1 3/8¢ net decline, with corn 1-1/4 to 1-3/8¢ off, oats 1-1/4 to 1-1/2¢ down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 4¢.

Bread and grain and feed grains alike finished at nearly the day's bottom prices. Traders took special notice of unofficial but authoritative estimates that Argentine and Australia, the two chief wheat-producing countries of the Southern Hemisphere, would have a probably yield of 280,000,000 bushels based on present conditions, as against 244,000,000 bushels actually shipped so far this season.

In addition to the bearish crop outlook for the approaching harvest in the Southern Hemisphere, revised estimates of the wheat crop in the Northern Hemisphere pointed to a total world crop of 285,000,000 bushels more than last year. However, the yield of other cereals in Europe, aside from wheat, is smaller.

COTTON OIL PRICES NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30. (P.—U. S. D. A.) The market for cotton oil futures was easier today, lower prices for cotton and lard as well as prospects for better weather influencing prices to lower levels. Prime summer yellow oil closed at $7.00, down 5 points and prime crude closed at 7.75 to 8.00. Futures closed easy. Nov. $7.70; Dec. $8.00; Jan. $8.27; Mar. $11; May $2.26.

BOOST RAIL DRIVE Subscriptions Beyond $100,000 Mark

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 30. — With subscriptions passing the $200,000 mark, committees in San Angelo were preparing to close the drive this week for the Gulf West Texas Railroad.

"With the interest in the new road manifested so far and the relatively large subscriptions, we feel sure that the campaign will be closed successfully," said Charles W. Hobbs, vice-president of the San Angelo National bank and general chairman of the drive.

TO GREET AIRCADE SAN ANGELO, Oct. 30. — San Angelo is making preliminary preparations to greet 20 planes carrying nearly 40 Fort Worth business men at the municipal airport some time between November 8 and 11.

Extensive plans can not be made until the exact hour of arrival is announced, but the aviation committee is considering who should make the welcoming address. During the stop here, city officials will be taken for courtesy rides by the visiting planes.

LIBRARY FUNDS Plan to Equip Tom Green Library

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 30. — The drive for funds to equip the Tom Green county library, for which space has been furnished in the basement of the new $200,000 courthouse, will likely start around November 15.

Mrs. Helen L. Clutter, State library organizer, has been in San Angelo for more than a week, returning to her office Sunday after making extensive preliminary plans. After the books for the library are first installed, the county has assumed the obligation of maintenance.

mal again. "Inverted frequencies," he explained.

"Crinkanope," said Dr. Grace, and out of the loud speaker came the word company. "Vice versa the word 'company' spoken into the transmitter came out 'crinkanope'."

It was explained that words are expressed in vibrations. The number of vibrations per second determines the word. The instruments used, inverted the frequency of each sound so that totally unintelligible words issued from the speaker or by passing these letters back through the apparatus the reverse process occurred.

Trans Atlantic telephony, it was explained, may be coded so that it will be intelligible only to the person on the receiving end. In case of war it would be possible to obtain hundreds of combinations for use as a secret code in transmission of orders.

Petitions Signed By Eight Hundred Citizens Reviewed And Accepted By Commissioners in Meeting Tuesday

Commissioner N. A. Payne, of Precinct Four, joined with their colleagues and the vote was unanimous in favor of calling the election.

Following a short discussion it was decided that Saturday, December 1st, would be the best available date for the county-wide ballot and that the Sunday Avalanche-Journal, having the largest circulation of the newspapers of the county, be designated as the official publication for the election notice. The vote on the date and the selection of the official publication, based upon a motion by Mr. Denton and a second by Mr. Payne, was also unanimous. County Judge Charles Nordyke was in the chair.

Local Directors Present Every one of Lubbock's six directors of the Lubbock County Good Roads association was present at the courts meeting throughout the time the question was under discussion. They are J. A. Rix, chairman, B. Sherrod, president of the Board of City Development; Roger Q. Pierce, George P. Kuykendall, Emil L. Klett and Spencer A. Wells, A. B. Davis, manager of the Board of City Development and Secretary of the good roads group, was also present.

Immediately after the election had been formally called election orders were drawn up. Presiding officers at the county's 32 polling places will be announced by the commission in the near future. The election order as signed by members of the court, reads as follows:

On the day after Herbert Hoover, Republican party nominee for president, attended the homecoming celebration at his home town, West Branch, Iowa, The Davenport Globe Daily Times carried a picture and news article about Mrs. C. J. Ruymann of the latter city, who is a sister to E. McElroy, of Lubbock. Both are second cousins of Mr. Hoover.

Mrs. Ruymann, wife of a Davenport attorney, met Mr. Hoover in the morning and the former commerce secretary expressed his pleasure at the meeting. The Davenport woman was one of the group of relatives who attended the reunion with Hoover and his family at the Ralph W. Branson home at 3 p. m., where a buffet supper was served and an hour spent in exchanging reminiscences. Mrs. Ruymann is in Iowa City today attending the celebration there in Hoover's honor. The article quoted appeared on September 22.

Charge Democrats Deceiving People

Baughman Says Leaders are Trying to Make People Believe They Must Stand For Party Ticket.

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Charges that the Democratic campaign organization in Texas is "trying to make the people believe that every voter who went into the July and August primaries is under solemn obligations—moral and legal—to support Al Smith for president" was made in a statement Tuesday by Charles E. Baughman, regional campaign manager of the anti-Smith Democrats of Texas.

Counter Bolting Charge. "If they denounce us as bolters," he said, "let us counter with the statement that the Democrats have elected a man to the presidency since the war between the states who was not a bolter."

The opinion of the attorney general of Texas is that we may vote for the Republican electors and at the same time vote for the regular Democratic nominees for state, district and county officers if we so desire."

In the theatrical program, to be presented as a prologue to Hoover's address, entitled "Men of Destiny," nine periods of American history will be portrayed, with its distinctive characters and music, ending with a Hoover episode.

Lansing Dies

Wilson and William J. Bryan, the predecessor of Mr. Lansing as head of the state department, having preceded him.

Like Mr. Lansing, Mr. Bryan also had retired from the Wilson cabinet because of differences with his chief. Mr. Bryan objected to the Wilson foreign policies, while Mr. Lansing obstinately incurred the president's disfavor because he called cabinet meetings while the war president was still.

Branch Opened in 1917. Those familiar with the activities of the government in the trying period of the war, however, declared the breach between Lansing and Wilson almost reached the breaking point in 1917, when the secretary of state issued a statement saying America was daily being drawn nearer and nearer to the conflict. There were other differences over details of the Paris peace treaty, including the League of Nations covenant, but the break at that time was averted.

Toward the end of his administration Mr. Lansing dealt with his chief entirely in writing, and the action of the secretary of state in calling a cabinet meeting without orders from the president proved to be the breaking point.

Talked of Removing Wilson. At the time this cabinet meeting was called, the air was filled with alarming rumors as to Mr. Wilson's condition and there was even talk of what Congress might do to turn over the executive duties to Vice President Marshall. There was gossip of action by senators to determine whether the nation actually had a president capable of performing his constitutional duties. These rumors, all of which were quickly disposed of, nevertheless were widely credited when Secretary Lansing called the celebrated meeting of the cabinet.

There was also talk that Mr. Lansing disagreed with his chief over the United States' policy toward Mexico. In the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he was regarded as a trained diplomat and was held in high esteem. Even in calling the cabinet conferences during the Wilson administration he believed he was following precedent set during the time President Garfield was hovering between life and death after being shot by an assassin.

Mr. Lansing was 64 years old. He was born at Waterbury, N. Y., and entered the State Department in 1914 as a counselor, but before this he had represented the United States on various arbitration treaties for more than 20 years. He was a graduate of Amherst and a lawyer by profession.
