Cpl. R.O. Burns Will Help Occupy Japan

Sept, 5, 1945
Tacloban, Leyte
Philippine Islands.

Dear Mom and All:

Well, we can write tonight anything we want to. We are very proud of that . I am at Tacloban, Leyete Island. Tacloban is the capital of this Island. We have been here all the time. We left Frisco on January 4th and arrived here on the 27th. We had a pretty good trip coming over. We were followed by a Jap Submarine for about 12 hours on our way over. He fired one torpedo at us, but it missed. Shortly after that we got away from him. We had several air raids when we first arrived, but they didn't ever amount to any thing. We have one bronze star for the Asiatic Pacific Campaign, that counts five points. By the way have 45 points to date, so you see they have to come down quite a bit before they get to me. I have told you a little about the past, now I'll tell you a little about the future. When you get this letter, we will prabably be on our way to Japan. We are attached to the 6th Army, and we are going to set up a hospital somewhere in Japan. I think it will be somewhere on Kuyshu Island. I don't think our going to Japan will hinder our coming home. I think we will come home as a unit sometime next spring. However, no one knows, it might be sooner, and it might be longer. I think they will send someone from the States to replace us by then. As we will have to stay over here for awhile anyway, I think going to Japan will be very educational. We will learn a little about the country, and the people there. So Mom, please don't be expecting me home for a few month.. We will soon be over here 9 months.

Now for some good news. I got a call from Dwight today, he wanted me to come to see him. I went down to the 44th General Hospital, and what do you think? Yes Mom , he is starting home tomorrow. He was really thrilled. He wouldn't have gotten to come home this soon, had he not been ill. He will have to have an operation when he gets to the States.

If you see grandmother and them, tell them I am going to Japan, and not to worry about me. You might get your letter before they do. Send all the film you can get. I hope to make lots of pictures in Japan.

Well Mom, I guess I have told you enough for tonight. So good night, and write often.

Oceans of Love,
Ray.

Slaughter Controls On Meat Lifted

All slaughter controls on the amount of meat anyone may slaughter and transfer have been abolished, the District Office of Price Administration has announced.

On September 8 OPA ended controls over how much livestock could be slaughtered and where the meat was to be shipped. The pricing order limiting the maximum percentages of good and choice cattle that a slaughterer may kill during an accounting period was revoked September 12.

Farmers and other slaughterers may now slaughter and sell the meat they care to without regard to quantity. However, they are still required to observe the rationing and price control requirements which still remain in effect.

Cpl. Ladd Brownfield arrived home Sunday from San Francisco, for a thirty day furlough. He has suffered two battle injuries and has been stationed on Guam for the past several months.

The OPA stated this week that all restrictions on building material would likely be removed by October 15. If our material men can get the material, things ought to hum in a building way here for awhile.

Cubs Find Slaton Tigers Easy Prey Lamesa Here Tonight

In the opening game of the season last Friday night at Cub Field the Brownfield Cub Football team ran rough shod over the Slaton Tigers to the tune of 44-0.

The game was rather slow, but was witnessed by a very fine crowd, both from Brownfield and Slaton.

The Cubs had many penalties called against them, but in our opininon it was very beneficial and educational to those boys who were under fire for the first game in their lives. There were several outstanding Cubs, but it is almost to early in the season to start picking out the stars, for Coaches Brannon and Bishop were trying several combinations, however, we are of the opinion that by the time the date for the first AA conference game arrives that the Cubs will be a very much improved team and unless we miss our guess will give the other teams in the AA class a run for their money.

Today, no doubt the Cub starting lineup will be much stronger than last week when Lamesa comes here for a game. Last week saw the Levelland team hold the Lamesians to a 0-0 tie.

Slaton had a very good squad, but of course were out of their class against a AA team, but they put up good competitioin and were in the game from start to finish.

Let's all go out tonight and see the Cubs in action against Lamesa.

TOMMY ZORNS APPOINTED CITY CLERK

The Board of Aldermen, last Friday evening, selected Tommy Zorns, well known young business man and recently discharged veteran, as City Clerk, succeeding Herbert Chesshir, resigned.

He will take over October 1st. This office also assesses and collects taxes as well as water and light bills, which are municipally owned.

FFA Canning For Starving People

Tom Neeley, Ag. teacher in the local schools, and supervisor of the FFA of Terry county, advised us this week that each Future Farmer would donate at least one can of food each for the starving people of what was occupied Europe under Nazi domination until freed.

Mr. Neeley stated that there would be no canning at the school this year as their room had to be used as a class room on account of the crowded condition.

Willie McDonald, acting County Agent, stated that as he had held no meeting with the 4-H boys, he could not state whether or not they would follow the plan of the FFA boys.

State Guard Could Train Boys at Home

Much has been said pro and con military training for our young men soon after their high school years. Many people are opposed to it, while others contend just as strong that if we always have a large trained military, no nation on earth will want to jump us.

Many folks don't want their young boys to be sent off to some military camp. Others don't choose to have a college do the job. So about the best compromise suggestion we have seen was by the State Guard company at Tahoka.

Their suggestion was that they be permitted to train young boys of each community one or two nights a week, which would in no way interfere with their school work. One great trouble with waiting till we have war to train them is that they are rushed throught in three or four months of very rigorous training, and then sent overseas.

He has not decided what his immediate future will be, only to rest up a few days. He is with his mother who lives at Meadow. Their father, H. C. Zorns well known pioneer teacher of this county, passed away a few years ago.

District Court Continues Cases

Ending a busy week in Court, the case of Kennedy versus Little, growing out of sale of land on crop payment, was, in the midst of trial Friday morning, continued until Sept. 25th, because of illness of defendant.

The case betweena group of west side resident and owner of local slaughter pen, was re-set for Sept. 26th, because of previous setting of court at Seminole, for Friday and Saturday,

The draft board are re-classifying all men over 26 years of age not in service, in Class 4-A, regardless of occupation.

Brownfield Cubs Play Lamesa Here Tonight

The Brownfield Cubs meets the Lamesa Tornadoes here tonight, in the seasons second football game. Lamesa usually produces a formidable team, and gives our boys a hard task.

In last weeks opening game, Lamesa and Levelland played a scoreless tie. Spurred by their victory last week over Slaton, and the excellent team work displayed in their opening game, the Cubs are expected to win.

E. D. Crouch, 45, Lynn county farmer, commited suicide Wednesday by throwing himself on the Santa Fe railroad track in front of a moving locomotive, a mile north of Tahoka.

Local Employment Office Busy Place

T. O. Harrell, manager of the local US Employment office, announced this week, that during the month of August, he filed 92 applications for jjobs, and about 80 in September, and has made 107 placements, most of whom was in oil field work. 54 veterans of World War II, and 2 of War I, the rest were civilians.

Fourteen veterans have been sent back to school to finish their college education.

He had 621 window shoppers in September, persons mostly passing through, just inquiring as not ready to take jobs, or undecided what to do. Many are taking a month or so vacationing from return of service, while many are ready to go to work. It was noted a slight decrease in applications in September from August, for unknown causes.

Mr. Harrell had 50 applications under the Service Readjustment Act, that is for weekly employment compensation. and most of them were farmers. Only three, two of them women, are drawing such compensation.

The service, so far, has not encountered much difficulty or delay, in finding jobs for those willing to work.

SAILOR JIM COUSINEAU LANDS IN JAPAN

Mrs. Cousineau stated this week that her son, Jim, had landed with the occupation forces. His rating is EM 1-C.

Jim is doing fine and his Mom looks for his home in October.

All Terryites Proud Of Our Tokio

J. W. N.

We are not jealous, of but proud of the national note achieved by our baby sister, Tokio, because of her name. The Sunday Star-Telegram, with a nice feature story of this quiet little town, published the picture of Mr. and Mrs. Green, the Postmasters, who recently placed their post office mark on a thousand letters for souvenir fans over the nation, and their store and postoffice, also of the flattery likeness of its august mayor, Lee O. Allen, who may later achieve the sobriquet of Tokio Rose.

Most of the hundreds of inquiries, are as to why, or how come its name. None of the old timers here, seem to know any particular reason for it, just a name weeded out of several submitted. Perhaps too, at the time about 1908, soon after the Russo-Jap war in which most Americans sympathized with Japan, the name then sounded better than now. It is thought that Gomez was named for the hero Cuban General Gomez, only four years after the Spanish-American war. Maybe Congress will appoint an investigation committee to fix the blame.

As this town is not on MacArthur's itinery, and has no military objectives, it will escape the fate of its ancestor. Mayor Allen, after assuring the bomber fleets of the nationality of the inhabitants, will invite MacArthur to stop by on his way to Washington.

Capt. J. J. Kendrick Home on Leave

Capt. J. J. Kendrick, with 18 months service in the Air Corps over India-Burma and China area, returned home early this week, with a few days leave. He has to report to San Antonio for further assignment, which under present conditions may mean final.

Capt. Kendrick gave an interesting account of his service over Burma, at the Wednesday luncheon of the Lions club, as their guest.

He was employed by the First National Bank before entering the service.

Cpl. O. L. Darden Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L Darden, of Lubbock, was liberated Thursday of last week from a Japanese prison camp, and was in Calcutta India, awaiting transportation home. He is the brother of Mrs. Walter Hord, and was a member of the "Lost Battalion."

Mrs. Walter Hord and Miss Gloria Bess Darden of Lubbock, attended the funeral of Mr. William Alexander, in Big Spring, Monday.

TO LIVE HERE—HUSBAND AND DAD IN SERVICE

Mrs. Homer Johnson and two children came in from Kansas City this week to make their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thomason, while their husband and father is in the service.

He is located at Camp Lee, Va., for training, and was inducted just 2 1-2 hours before the Japs decided to quit.

The Browns to Put In Jewelry Store

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown, proprietors of the Grill Cafe, will put in a jewelry store in the south half of the Randal Building, in the near future, perhaps by the middle of October.

The building will be remodeled, and a partition separating it from the beauty parlor moved back. Plate glass windows will be put in, also tile floors, and the building completely remodeled.

It is their intention to sell the cafe.

"Home Sweet Home" Claims Half the Accidents

College Station, September 18, —"Oh I've heard all this before," Mrs. American Housewife is likely to say when you try to talk to her about home accident prevention. Yet nearly half of the accidents that occur in the United States happen at home.

"They don't just happen, either," says Mrs. Berneice Claytor, Home Improvement Specialist for the A and M. College Extension Service. "Most of them are caused by carelessness, dangerious economy, poor housekeeping, haste, or bad judgement.

Last year 4,650,000 persons were injured at home, and 130,000 of these were put permanently out of the running. Fatal accidents at home claimed 31,500 lives.

"Cluttered cellar stars, children's toys left scattered about on the floor, dangerous drugs not under lock and key—all these conditions are widespread among American homes. And each of them can be the cause of a serious injury," says Mrs. Claytor.

Some people forget that babies are no match for pillows in a tussel. Next to burns and scalds, smothering causes most of our accidential infant deaths. Other people can't seem to remember that carelessness with matches is arson of the worst order. Keep matches, especially the kitchen variety, away from small hands.

'Opening cans with a bread knife may open a gash in your wrist," Wrong use of tools causes one out of ten home accidents.

Stew pans on the stove with handles turned out invite curiosity—and perhaps tragedy if your youngster grabs at them.

Remembering to do the simple things—like wielding a knife away from you, and buying new fuses instead of replacing old ones with pennies—will create the amazing difference between a safe, reassuring home life and one filled with lurking dangers.?

The Rodgers Put In a Green House

Representatives of the Herald called this week to see just what was going on at one of the newest enterprises in Brownfield. For some time, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rodgers, of Lubbock Ave., have been agents for flowers, representing a Lubbock firm. Recently they decided to raise their own flowers.

Rapid progress is veing made on their green house near their residence, the first unit of which is 24X40 feet, and they'ev plenty for more units as needed both in the rear and to the side of the present building, which is nearing completion. In fact all the frame work is done, but some glass for the top and sides are to be placed.

Already plants, some blooming are up and growing in the center tier of racks or tables, and more than half of the north tier is now planted out. The one on the south will' be utilized just as fast as possible. The green house will be heated with the latest heating facilities made especially for floriculturists.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers are to be congratulated on starting a new industry for our fast growing little city. They also already have a nice selection of gift goods in an especially constructed addition to their home.

Prospects For New Hotel Favorable

Much interest is being taken in a new hotel for Brownfield. Some local capitalists are getting busy on the project.

A member of the Board of development, stated this week, while nothing definite is ready for announcement, they are in contact with three different prospects, and expect definite announcement next week.

Seaman Karr Steams Into Tokyo Bay

Archie B. Karr, R/M 2-C, recently wrote his wife, Helen, who works at Nelson-Primm drug, a very interesting letter, and leaving out the purely personal touch, which of course the readers do not care for, we derived the following:

Archie is on the battleship Mississippi, and he thinks it one of the best afloat, being a 40,000 ton dreadnaught. Archie also explains that their Skipper,, (Commander) is Capt. J. F. Crowe Jr. and that this old battlewagon was commissioned, Dec. 18, 1917, and of course took some part in the other world war. By the way this is the third battleship by that name in the past 92 years, the first one being the flagship of Commodore Perry, when he forced Japan to do business with other nations way back in 1888, when the American navy forced its way into Tokyo bay.

The one that Archie is now on, was one of the several that was severely pounded in Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, when he, as he states, was just a civilian. It has played a part in this war in both the Atlantic and Pacific, and from the cold, fog bound Aleutians to the steamy south seas. It has helped to cover the landings at numerous island strongholds of the Japs, and was the flagship on the night that the American navy practically eleminated the southern part of the Nip navy at Surigao Straits.

Archie says they have a fine view of Japan and especially of famous Fujiyamma mountain, 12,464 feet, and most always topped with snow. Crowds on the beaches he said could usually be seen early morning and late afternoons. Several large factories could be seen from where they were anchored.

He rates the Asiastic-Pacific ribbon with seven stars and the Phiippine Bar with two stars.

This letter was written August 29, and while the censorship had not been eleminated at that time, nothing was missing from his letter, and Toyko Bay was stamped on the air mail stamp.

Editor's Note:—Seaman Karr's picture was to have been shown with this article, but evidently it miscarried in the mails at some point. The Herald will show the picture next week.

Denver City to Re-Organize Veterans

Vets from both wars are to reorganize their Chapter of American Legion Post, at Denver City, Monday September 24th, and on Oct. 8th, C. L. Lincoln, Service Officer for Terry and Yoakum counties, with Tommy Harrell of the Employment Bureau, are to hold open house meeting in the school auditorium there at 8 o'clock p. m., to render aid and instructions to service men or their dependents.

It is expected a large number from Yoakum, Gaines and eastern New Mexico, will be present.

It don't make sense. We have all been hearing about the reduction in the army and navy personnel, but some one with a flare for figures come to the front with the assertion that while 18,000 enlisted men were discharged in August, 55,000 were inducted. If those figures are true, some one please tell us how long it will be till all us oldsters, 65 and above, are in the service.

If there is nothing done to try to stop the multiplicity of strikes while the country is trying to get back to normal, following a three and a half year war, there is going to be a lot of new faces next year in congress, especially those from the agricultural districts. We are in a very critical period of our nation, and those who trifle with our existance as a free nation are nothing short of traitors.

* * *

Maybe the boys who are coming home from this and that front, think they are getting advice on every side; some good, some bad, some indifferent. Here's our dime's worth. Boys, watch for the sharks that would separate you from that little stake that Uncle Sam will allow you upon discharge under he GI bill of rights. Don't buy a gold brick with this hard won, fought for money. Consult a friendly lawyer, a banker you know, or your Vet. Administrator before you buy anything you are not familiar with.

* * *

Some one may classify us as a materialist or atheist because we don't approve of teaching the Bible in the public free schools, or an irreligionist, to say the least. As long as we do not allow Catholics and Jews to have any public monies to run their private schools, let protestants beware of religious teachings in the schools. Most of us have and maintain churches with a corps of teachers, devoted to dispensing knowledge of the Bible as we believe it to be right, to our children; let's lay off any sectarian teachings in our public schools. Let's be consistant if it kills us.

* * *

For the first few months of honeymoon following the death of President Roosevelt, most writers placed HST at least a middle of the roader. Now, some of the same folks are saying that he out new deals FDR. As a matter of fact, Mr. Truman may just be passing a hot potato back to congress. Take the 65c per hour wage scale for instance: Some are worth that and more, while some are not worth 25c per hour at anything. Some are not even worth the salt that goes in their bread. It is like putting the same price on calico that has been placed on silk and nylons. Of course, all understand that 65c is to be the minimum, and if so, some folks will always be hunting jobs that no one has for them.

* * *

Many conservative people, some with land of their own to sell, and others that are agents, joined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are advising people about buying farms as well as other real estate at inflated prices. Some farms are worth all that is being asked for them, perhaps, and the balance after the initial payment and improvements, may be handled nicely. But if one doesn't know farms and what they will yield, they'd better lay off too high prices. Many of us remember the "hollyhock" day that followed the other war, with 40c cotton and $2.50 corn, to be followed in the fall of 1920 with 5c cotton and 30c corn. Many good people lost their farms as well as the initial payments. They were ruined. Watch your step, folks.

England has sent her top diplomats over to try and persuade President Truman that he was wrong in ending lend-lease. The plea will be made that England is not yet in position to terminate this agreement. It will be proposed that England pay for what she gets—sometime—maybe. As a matter of fact, England has proved a very poor credit risk. Truman knows this. We were never able to collect on lend-lease for World War I. We have been forced to pay cash for the use of Suez Canal, and to pay an exhorbitant rate for the transportation of our soldiers back home from Europe. We guess that England believes that she has the right to rifle the pockets of Uncle Sam as long as there is anything left. That is the way she has treated her colonies—and the reason America revolted and whipped England in 1776.—Canyon News.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Gifts of God

Draw on your imagination for a moment and consider with me an altogether improbable circumstance. Suppose a well-groomed gentleman with an easy flow of language should mount an improvised platform in the public square of an agricultural county-seat town next Saturday afternoon, play a phonograph record through a loud speaker to get an audience, and then should say:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—there is just so much water in the entire universe; so much and no more. Any time you drink more of it than you need to quench your thirst, you are greedy because some unfortunate person somewhere on earth wants water. He is thirsty. His throat is dry and his lips are parching. And it is all for want of the water which you so wantonly swallow."

It Is Not True

Such a speaker would soon lose his audience. People would walk away and leave him. Some of them might think about having his head examined because they know his ideas are out of joint. There is no connection whatever between one man's abundance of water and some far-away stranger's thirst. The need of the sufferer, even if he were a victim of cruelty, is apart from the owner of a good well.

But the speaker might hold his audience if he said something like this: "Ladies and Gentlemen—there is just so much wealth in the world; so much and no more. Anybody with more than he needs for food, clothes and shelter is greedy because there are many people in China and India who never had a square meal in their lives. They are poor because a few people get very rich."

Another Fallacy

This speech is no nearer true than the one about the water. Both have some facts in them but they are not related facts. I am not trying to say that wealth is free and cheap like water, but I am saying this: My neighbor's fine home and big car have cost me nothing. He has more than I have because he (or his father maybe) has more wealth-creating ability than I have.

There is such a thing as oppression of the poor. There is such a thing as exploiting labor. It is a crime which Jesus decried openly. It is also a short-sighted vice because it leads toward poverty and not toward wealth. "Good money in circulation" is a manifestation of prosperity and it occurs only in lands where workers are well paid and thus permitted to maintain good homes and live in comfort.

America's Blessing

Workers are paid well in America, twice as well as in England and six times as well as in Russia, and America is a rich country. Families live on $1 a month per person in China—China is a poor country. Is China poor because America is rich? No! Without the United States as a customer, and supplier, the Orient would be poorer still. The difference is that we have liberty, and they have oppression.

We Americans receive countless benefits from God's hand that people in other countries never heard about. Is God partial to America? Certainly not! Our benefits come through a channel that the rulers of other countries have blindly and selfishly closed by exploiting labor. Our God-fearing ancestors opened it for us long ago. The channel is personal freedom, protected by representative, constitutional government.

Century Book About Texas On The Press

"A Centur of Texas Statehood,' will off the press within the next 90 days, in plenty of time for the book to be a Christmas gift to lovers of the stirring story of Texas, according to a statement issued today by its author, A. Garland Adair, Curator of History of the Texas Memorial Museum, located on the campus of the University of Texas.

Chapters, he says, have been given to such subjects as, Texas Under Six Flags, The capitols of Texas, a Century of Texas Governors, United States Senators and other elective state officers, and other matters of historic value. The chapter on the Governors of Texas is illustrated with pictures of the chief executives of the Lone Star State as found in the rotunda of the present capitol. There are other illustrations taken from collections in the Texas Memorial Museum which will be found to be most timely as they relate to the subjects discussed.

Many who have seen the advance prospectus of the work declare that it is a book that should be found in every Texas home and school library.

Orders at $2.00 per copy are now being solicited, in order that the publisher may know just how many books to print. During the stress of the post war area with its limitations on book paper, it is almost necessary to know in advance just how many will be required, Adair said.

Distribution is through the Texas Authors Guild, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas. The Guild advises "Send no money, but state the number of copies you desire and your order will be sent to your address, C. O. D.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bechtel left Wednesday of last week for a two months vacation in British Columbia. Mr. Bechtel will spend some time hunting.

The Woman Listener

By Sally Welles

ALICE REINHEART is so thoroughly identified in the minds of the radio audience as "Chichi", heroine of "Life Can Be Beautiful" on CBS, that her listeners are apt not to realize she has a definite personality of her own. Petite and brunette, she has a flair for clothes, simple for the most part, but stepped up with unusual accessories such as very high platform - soled clogs, to add to her height, and combs or flowers in her hair, to do the same thing. She is always on the go, even to knitting between turns at the mike. Her varied interests range from gardening on her terrace to extensive traveling. She speaks familiarly of most of the European capitals, and is obviously the kind of girl who goes through life with her eyes well open, in order not to miss a single trick.

Jack Manning, who plays the part of David Crawford on the CBS "Young Dr. Malone" show, is a gentleman whose appearance doesn't frighten small children, except in Jackson Heights, Long Island! Last year he was playing Roderigo in Paul Robeson's Othello, on Broadway, for which role he grew a mustache and beard. During the run of the play the Mannings moved to Jackson Heights, which meant that Jack had to work out a split second schedule in order to get to the theatre on time. The taxi shortage was then at its most acute stage, but Jack solved the problem, and each evening could be observed sprinting on roller skates from his house to the subway station, his beard waving in the breeze, his passing followed by the soft voices of mothers soothing their startled young.

Followers of the trials, tribulations and enmities which occur on NBC's "Road Of Life" might be surprised to see "mike enemies" sharing a friendly table in a nearby coffee shop after the broadcast. It's a regular thing to see Dr. Brent and Dr. Koenig (Matt Crowley and Gregory Morton), who have just battled over the Sinclair case; and Carol and Carson (Marian Shockley and Charlotte Manson), who wage[illegible]an's war over Jim Bren[illegible]iably enjoying a second breakfast together.

"Meet Margaret MacDonald" is the new title for CBS's "Crisco's Radio Newspaper." And we hope you will meet her at 1:30 each Monday to Friday afternoon. Newest feature of her show is the frequent guest interviews with well-known personalities.

"Truth Or Consequences" will be back on the air the night of September 8th at 8:30 on NBC. Everyone is waiting to see and hear contestant Sid Cowles whose beard has been growing all Summer. You'll remember that last July Ralph Edwards promised him a $500 reward if he would go without shaving until the next program. Cowles unwittingly agreed, not realizing that the next broadcast was nine weeks off.

New to the cast of NBC's "Right To Happiness" is Alice Yourman who plays Emily Norton. Many radio listeners may know Miss Yourman well and still not recognize her name, for she is the pleasant voice behind many a commercial on leading radio programs. Alice admits that her present role of mother to Jane Norton in "Right To Happiness" comes easily because "You just have to remember what happens at home"—her own daughter, Ann, is 14, almost the same age as her "radio daughter."

"The Jack Kirkwood Show" and the new "Mommie And The Men" program are sharing the honors during the Monday to Friday 7:00-7:15 P.M. spot on CBS this season. Starting August 20th, "Mommie And The Men" has been carried in some Eastern cities, while Kirkwood has returned to the balance of the stations over which he was heard last year.

Another favorite program returning to the fold is "Information Please." This show is scheduled to go back on the air September 10th over NBC. Fred Allen has been invited to the "guest board" for this first broadcast.

HOME ABOUT MOST DANGEROUS PLACE

Austin, Texas, Sept.—For many years the ultimate in safety has been conveyed in the expression, "He is as safe as if he were in his own home." Statistics have disproved the truth of this assumption and tend to show that home, far from being the safest place, is often quite the opposite.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, commenting on the annual casualty totals from accidents in the home throughout the United States, said today such accidents are the cause of more deaths than diptheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and measles combined; of over two-thirds as many as automobile accidents; and of over a third as many deaths as tuberculosis.

Slippery floor surfaces, lack of handrails on cellar steps, absence of protective gates at the top of stairs in homes where there are small children, toys left on stairs, unanchored small rugs on polished floors, poisons in medicine cabinets accessible to children, and the careless storage of sharp tools and firearms are some of the more prominent hazards resulting in home accidents, Dr. Cox said.

"However," he added, "in the last analysis, the problem boils down to one of reasonable individual caution. We cannot view complacently the more than 30,000 deaths in the United States annually due to home accidents. These deaths, chargeable to remediable carelessness, can and should be reduced."

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know, if I was to pick somebody that I could feel most sorry for, I kinda think, today, that it would be the pickets walking up and down outside of stores, and shops, etc. Husky fellows—not working—but looking kinda sheepish. Put on the picket line by a guy who will hold to his nice soft job even if the picket don't work, or eats scanty.

These fellows walkin' up and down have just been out-talked and out-smarted. That is why I feel sorry for them. Just why they should be a sucker for the wise-guys bossing labor, is hard to savvy. Maybe they had a teacher in the grade school who never told 'em any stories by AEsop Maybe their mama and papa didn't see to it that they did their home work. It is a cinch that their Mayflower blood has thinned.

But in conclusion, I am still sorry for the pickets. And if any one of them should cast an eye over this essay, I say to him, buddy, you won't get to first base by ruining your boss' business—and also, you might have a business of your own some time.

It is never too late to be somebody—in America.

Yours with the low down

Southern Boys And Girls Canning For Hungary Europe

New York, Sept.—Southern dishes including okra, turnip greens, and black-eped peas are among the foods now being canned for the hungry people in liberated Europe, Dan A. West, Executive Director of the Community Canning Program for War Relief, announced today.

He pointed out that Southern boys and girls who are members of the Future Farmers, New Farmers, and Future Homemakers of America are the pace-setters in their states in the canning program. In Georgia, for example, members of these organizations have pledged to contribute more than half the food now being canned in tin for overseas relief at the 449 school-community canneries in that state. Georgia's contributions of canned food are expected to exceed 194,400 cans, or enough to fill nine freight cars, according to a report by T. G. Walters, Georgia State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture.

In Pennsylvania, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers chapters in Wyoming and Sullivan Counties are taking the lead in the canning program. The entire crop of a large field of beans grown by Future Farmers in the small community of Tunkhannock, Pa. will be canned for war relief. This will be a 2,500 cans.

Negro teachers in North Carolina report that 10,000 cans of food put up at their school canneries will be donated for overseas relief.

Reports from other local committees who are supporting the nation-wide canning campaign indicate equally gratifying results, Mr. West declared. The response, he said, is particularly good in the smallest state in the union. Users of 25 Rhode Island community canning centers are not only stepping up production of canned food in order to donate the surplus above local needs for overseas relief, and will contribute a large percentage of the food which has been canned earlier in the season. At least 1,500 cans will be donated by groups using the community canning center at a baking powder plant in that state, the Rumford Chemical Works. In Florida, the canning program for overseas relief will be undertaken during the winter months when new crops of fruits and vegetables will be harvested.

UNRRA will ship the donated food to liberated Europe where it will be distributed free without any discrimination whatever. The supervised neighborhood canneries where the program is underway include many church social rooms and home demonstration kitchens of public utilities, as well as custom canneries and school-community centers.

Sgt. John M. Hare Calls On Herald

"Mister" John M. Hare is no longer Sergeant Hare. He had on his civvies last week when he visited the Herald with his dad, and he was so use to a uniform for the past three years, that he seemed obliged to keep his coat buttoned to his throat, but is was a rather cool day.

John has been about every place worth mentioning in the south and west Pacific, and stayed over there long enough to claim citizenship if he had so desired, but of course he did not. He looks well, but like his dad, it cannot be said that he is portly. Just a raw-boned young man that appears to be in prime health.

Like most of the other boys, he don't talk much. Whole heap rather talk about what is happening right here at home now.

Stay At Home See Him Sooner

The quickest way to see your son or husband being returned from overseas, to be discharged from the Navy, is to remain at home.

That was the sage advice offered today by the Navy Department to relatives who are anxious to wecome their "boys" coming back to the States from release.

In the first place, if relatives travel to debarkation ports it is highly improbable that they will even see their sailors because the Navy demobilization plan calls for returning men to separation centers in their own Naval Districts. In consequence, men will not be free to visit their families at coastal ports, but will move without delay to their own districts.

Secondly, travel by dependents will only crowd the already overcrowded transportation system and hamper the orderly operation of discharge.

And last, living accomodations in coastal ports are not and will not be available.

Oil Field Lexicon and What it Means

The oil industry is peculiarly an All-American one and in the course of 85 years has developed many picturesque and descriptive terms. Here are some of the unusual terms used by oil men, together with their definitions:

Headache Post— An upright timber on a cable tool derrick used to keep the heavy walking beam from coming down on the driller's head when not in operation. Gripers on a drilling crew are advised to "go tell it to the headache post," which is really an anti-headache post.

Whee Whaw—same as the soldiers' snafu, "situation normal, all fouled up."

Antigogglin'— Any deviation from the straight or normal, or crosswise. Thus a twisting road is antigogglin' and drillpipe placed crosswise over other pipe is piled antigogglin'.

Latch On—To take hold of, and by the same token to rush a girl at a dance or to "borrow" without permission needed equipment from an adjacent well.

Christmas tree—A complicated system of pipes and valves at the mouth of a flowing well to control its flow and prevent the well from running wild.

Tool Pusher—An on-the-ground overseer at the drilling of a well. Among his duties is the procurement of necessary materials and supplies. A tool pusher generally is in charge of several operations in the same locality.

Calf Wheel—A drum used to raise and lower heavy strings of casing in cable-tool drilling.

Lazy Bench—A small wooden bench on a drilling platform designed as a resting place for members of the crew, but generally occupied by oil scouts, idle drillers and other visitors.

Flogging Iron—A sledge hammer.

Chas. W. Coats, with 28 months service as mechanic on the air force, at Bryan, Texas, is back in civies at his home 721 West Broadway, after discharge, early this week.

Pvts. Clinton N. Kempson, Glen D. Hill, Harley B. Starnes and Harold Parish, were here from Camp Wolters visiting their parents, over the weekend. They formerly were stationed at Camp Maxey, but were moved a few days ago.

Apparently most bathing beauties believe in keeping their powder dry.

Ferninst— In the immediate vicinity or close.

Roughneck—Semi-skilled laborer on a drilling rig.

Slips—Toothed circular wedges for suspending pipe. (They are not supposed to let the pipe slip.)

Thief—A device for taking samples of oil and mud.

Cat Head—A wide, flanged pulley around which rope used for hoisting or pulling is wrapped to gain more pull.

Morgenthau Praises Help Of Newspapers

Since his retirement as Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr. has expressed through Frank Tripp, Chairman of the Allied Newspaper Council, his appreciation of the efforts which American newspapers put into the war financing programs. Mr. Morgenthau's letter to Mr. Tripp follows:

My dear Frank:

I want to thank you most sincerely for the splendid support the newspapers of America gave the vital war financing program during the critical war years when we were all facing so many difficult problems.

The press of America deserves high praise for the leadership it has taken in promoting the War Bond Drives. Such magnificent cooperation could only have been possible in America where a free press has voluntarily accepted its responsibility to do a job for the common good of all the people. It is just such devotion to high principles that has made, and is keeping our great nation the stronghold of democracy and freedom.

Thanks and best regards.

Sincerely,

Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

No New Cars For Anybody For A Long Time

Well, you guys that had your heart set on a new car in the next few months, or a year or two, as well kiss the idea goodbye, unless the present congress has a lot more backbone than now appears on the surface. And this goes for new electric refrigerators, vacuum sweepers, radios, and perhaps clothing and other needs.

While many were expressing the thought that maybe President Truman was at least a middle of the roader, it now appears that he is even more sold on Sovietism than FDR. In fact he is tracking just a bit further to the left, it would seem. We are seting up a union labor distatorship here in America just as fast as we can travel toward it.

There is no one that we know of that is opposed to collective bargaining, nor even strikes, but when all the law goes to the side of labor, and it becomes against the law for the employer to set up any organization to oppose outlaw strikes, we are headed for trouble. In fact we already have penty of it.

On the other hand if the employer don't track the law he can be thrown out of his own business building bodily, just as the president of Mongomery Ward was thrown out on his ear, and there is nothing you can do about it. In the meantime we have taken millions of the cream of our young men from their homes and families to fight dictatorships, and at the same time we are setting them up here in the United States just as fast as we can.

Where will all this lead? These unionist want the 30 percent increase in pay. They will oppose this being added to the cost of what you or they buy. In the meantime, they'll oppose any increase in cost of stuff they have to buy that comes off the farms. Watch and see.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON

President--Harding College

Searcy, Arkansas

Vinson

Shortly after Fred Vinson was named Secretary of the Treasury he was quoted in the press as saying "the American people are in the pleasant predicament of having to learn to live 50% better than they have ever lived before." When he made this remark he was talking about a future day, one that had not come then and has not come yet, but a completely possible future day.

Hitler was no longer a menace, when the new Secretary spoke of a 50% higher living standard in America, but Japan still clouded the Pacific. Now that has cleared up also and today's national problem is economic rather than strategic. The strain is no less, but in a different place. Ease felt in America as firing ceased was like the relief of changing hands with a heavy burden.

Load is on Vinson

About a month ago this column carried an outline of Mr. Vinson's tax policies which I frankly consider sound. Now, in view of the changed international picture, it is high time everybody knew more about this generalissimo of post-war finances, czar of economics in the world's most important country. He is a key man on the team that has to win if liberty, civilization and enlightenment survive.

Fred Vinson is 55 years old. Half a century ago he was playing in the yard of the jailhouse in Louisa, Ky. His father was county jailer. The next year he started to school. . . . His coarse hair is half gray now and he has some loose skin under his chin but he's recognized as the "best in his line" and on a job where everybody wishes him well, if that's success.

A Serious Student

Louisa, with some 2,000 inhabitants, is across the Big Sandy river from West Virginia. There young Vinson entered school, there was elected district attorney and from there went to Congress in 1922. At Center College, Danville, Ky., he worked in the library to help pay expenses, took a leading part in athletics and averaged above 95 in grades all through college and law school.

Mr. Vinson is a penetrating thinker. He has years of experience in government and he knows taxes. He is a recognized fiscal expert. That's what put him on the Ways & Means committee and here his ability is still respected. He has been a Federal judge, the successful economic stabilizer of this country, also director of war mobilization and reconversion—the job that's known as "assistant president."

To Make More Jobs

Vinson has many prime qualifications for his present job. Anent his thoroughness, it came out a time or two in connection with his work as chairman of the tax section of the Ways & Means committee that he knew more than his witnesses themselves about testimony they submitted. Recollection of these incidents naturally tends to keep alive Vinson's influence among congressmen which is a big asset.

It is told that he studied beforehand the financial statements of big corporations whose officials were to testify, and his questioning them proved repeatedly that he knew more about certain aspects of a corporation's business than did its president. This is the man who planned a tax program to create the most jobs, instead of merely raising revenue for the government, something I have been shouting from the housetops for four years.

Japs and girdles are much alike. Both creep up on a body and it takes a yank to get them down.

We'd rather serve a lot of people than to have a lot of servants.
