Chemical
scam hits locally

Farmers across the nation are being cautioned against weed killer chemicals being sold by telephone by fraudulent dealers and a Colorado City couple can tell you first-hand how the scam works.

The chemicals are not what they are represented to be, and often, are no more than a diesel mixture for which unsuspecting farmers and landowners pay up to $70 a gallon.

Mrs. Carl Britton of Colorado City said she and her husband unsuspectingly purchased two gallons of a chemical that supposedly could be used to kill weeds in cotton fields without damage to the cotton plants.

However, when the chemical arrived, a warning label said the weed chemical was not to be used near cotton or any other crop.

Mrs. Britton said the company that sold them the chemical, for $69 a gallon, was from Florida. She said the same company called them back later, saying they had won a vacation trip to the Bahamas if they would purchase 10 more gallons. The company called back a third time Friday morning.

The Brittons have not purchased any more chemical, but have referred the matter to the Texas Department of Agriculture which contacted Florida officials about the scam.

LOOKING GOOD - Members of the Colorado City Noon Lions Club load eight boxes containing 2,500 used eyeglasses on a freight truck Friday bound for Houston where they will be sorted and graded and then taken to Mexico to be distributed. From left are Lions Tandy Curlee and Porter Richardson, Central Freight Lines terminal manager Milford Hackfeld and Lion J.O. Dockrey. Central Freight provided free transportation for the eyeglasses collected by the local organization. The eyeglasses will be distributed through Volunteer Optometric Services to Humanity (VOSH). VOSH gives it time and talent to deliver visual care to needy people throughout the world where eye care is unavailable.

STOLEN PROPERTY RECOVERED - Lt. Pat Taylor of the Colorado City Police Department shows some of items recovered following the recent burglary of a Southwestern Bell Telephone truck parked at the company's office on Walnut Street. Taylor said a 17-year-old male is a suspect in the case which will be referred to the grand jury. The items were taken Sept. 2. Some of the items were recovered the next day when a resident found them under his house. Since then, more tools have been recovered and officers are still trying to track down more items taken from the service truck.

New law prohibits burning

Loraine Mayor Catrino G. Martinez Jr. said that new state regulations which took affect Sept. 1 prohibits any burning inside the corporate city limits.

"This new regulation exempts no one from compliance or excuses any person from the consequences, and does not exempt or excuse anyone from complying with all other applicable laws or ordinances, regulations and orders of governmental entities or

Lone Wolf Electric
notes 50th anniversary

Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc. will observe its 50th year in operation with an open house from 1-5 p.m. Tuesday in the Medallion Room at the headquarters building in Colorado City.

Refreshments will be served and door prizes given. Also, there will be pictures displayed commemorating 50 years of service.

The cooperative's beginnings started in early 1939 when a group of interested people of the rural area of Mitchell County began to see if electricity could become a reality. Under the direction of REA, they formed an association with A.K. McCauley Sr. as president.

Funds for a pre-allotment survey were authorized by REA. These first lines were mapped to serve about 550 families.

A temporary office was set up in the Thompson Barber building. People were urged to come in and sign easements and pay membership fees.

The organization was granted a charter as "Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc.," a non-profit and non-capital body. The co-op was chartered on Aug. 2, 1939; and the first meeting of the incorporators was held on Aug. 7, 1939.

J.H. Carlock was elected president; L.A. Strain, vice president; and George Slaton, secretary-treasurer. Other directors were T.W. Daughtrey, B.T. Webb, E.B. Hale, H.A. Duncan, E.O. Mahon and James T. Nunn.

Dell Barber and Charles Thompson were project attorneys.

The first loan for $145,000 was approved and the project was bid to build the first 194 miles of line in November, 1939.

R.A. Brister was the project superintendent and was succeeded by O.I. Griffin as the first manager of the cooperative. Blanche McCauley was employed as the first bookkeeper.

In November 1940, the office was located in the Colorado Hotel, and later moved to 247 Walnut. In 1949, the new office building was built (present location) and the open house drew a crowd of about 1,500 people.

Following Tuesday's open house, there will be a business session beginning at 6 p.m. The public is invited to attend any or all of the activities. However, only the members are eligible to vote and enter the drawing for cash prizes.

Martinez said that anyone who has any question about the new regulation can call the Texas Air Control Board in Abilene at 698-9674.

"They will gladly verify any of these regulations for you, especially about the burning," he said.

"I know there will be some adjustment to everybody, including myself, but rules are rules and we must follow them regardless," he said. "This will also cause changes in our garbage collection and our landfill operations. Just keep in mind that there will be changes - this is only the beginning."

Letter to the Editor

Let's rebuild what has been destroyed

TO THE EDITOR and MITCHELL COUNTY: I would like to thank all the people who called and supported me about our home town.

I would like to discuss with you the pioneers of Mitchell County, the elderly people, who years ago built Colorado City and Mitchell County, the people that sometimes seem to be forgotten. I am talking about the ones in rest-homes and the ones that are still at home and the ones that live alone. Can you imagine all the years they lived what they have seen happen?

They have seen the first airplane fly and have watched men walk on the moon. They also have seen what they have worked all their lives for - their hometown and county - be torn down. Why? When they need help, there is no one to turn to. Why? They have to live on a limited budget. They try to reach out, but no one listens. Why?

They gave us something good and something for all of us to be proud of. And, all of this is almost gone. Why?

What have we done wrong? Think about it. I left home in 1955 and Colorado City was great. I came back in 1980 and it was almost gone. Why? Think of you know the answer!

To all you elderly people who built this town for us younger generation, I apologize for what has happened over the years and will do my best to help bring it back like you pioneers built it. You did it. We can do it with people that still care. We haven't forgotten you. God bless you and thank you for a wonderful childhood.

Jimmy Redwine

P.S. - Please help me bring her back to life. We owe her that much. We can not bring back the past! But we can rebuild what we have destroyed.

FmHA farm borrowers invited to meeting

Mitchell County farmers with loans with the Farmers Home Administration are invited to a meeting on Thursday, Sept. 28, on how FmHA's computer program is used in considering loan servicing options such as rescheduling and write-downs, FmHA County Supervisor Alton Pyburn said.

The meeting will be at 10 a.m. at the Royal Inn, 5695 South First in Abilene.

Pyburn said the meeting is particularly important for FmHA borrowers behind in their payments and those having difficulty with their loans.

"We will go over all the options available to those borrowers and explain how to go about finding one that will keep them in operation," said Pyburn. "We will be putting emphasis on the Debt and Loan Restructuring (DALRS) computer program that was developed just for this purpose."

Pyburn said DALRS does many mathematical calculations quickly and in a number of combinations in helping in the analysis of farm financial plans.

"If a restructuring plan exists that will keep the borrower on the farm, DALRS will find that plan, and that plan will minimize the cost of debt restructuring," he said.

DALRS was developed as a tool to help debt restructuring authorized by the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987. FmHA farm borrowers who are behind in their payments should, by all means, try to attend this meeting, Pyburn said.
