Babe Ruth Ball League Begins Play Tuesday

Sheppard AFB—The Texoma Babe Ruth Baseball League, comprised of two Burk Burnett teams and the Sheppard Falcons and Bombers, initiates play at 6:30 Tuesday evening at Sheppard's Haynes Field.

In this scramble for supremacy among the 13-15 year olds, the Falcons vie with the Bombers, both base contingents, in the first of two games at Haynes Field. In the second encounter, the Burk nines face off at 8:30. All four teams meet Thursday evening in Burk Burnett, same times, but different opponents.

The Babe Ruthers will play every Tuesday at Sheppard Air Force Base and contend at Burk on each Thursday until the league action is finished in July.

In other games (besides Little League) which is played on the field at 1st and J, the Raiders and Mets who compete in the Boys Club League, will be attempting to improve their present cellar positions in the Mid-Get and Junior Leagues respectively. Both teams, winless through last week, play twice this week.

If pre-season skirmishes are any sign of anticipated standings in the Babe Ruth competition, all four teams will finish in a dead heat. Practically every team has halved the practice games with the other team.

Bob Johnson, rein puller for the Bombers, has a well balanced team, blending youth, speed and determination into an outfit without a star. Scott Taras, Gary Newkirk, David Babb, Jim Tice and Mike Shipman are just a few individuals to watch, however. Assisting Johnson to plot strategy will be Don Hurst and Raymond Anderson.

Jim Oakley, headman of the Falcons, has a formidable pitch-

Kiwanis Planning For Club In Burk

"We Build" is the motto of Kiwanis. More than a quarter million community leaders wear the Kiwanis K. Kiwanis is a service organization for men. It's members are motivated by a common desire to serve, plus a desire for fellowship.

Kiwanis Club organizational meetings are now being held in Burk Burnett each Thursday noon at Sloan's Restaurant. The sponsoring club is University Kiwanis, Wichita Falls, Paul Robb, committee chairman. Meeting with the group is Lt. Governor Howard Freeman of Lawton.

A classification organization, with two men from each occupation or profession (or subdivision thereof) are eligible to join local Kiwanis Clubs.

All persons interested in Kiwanis Club work or who have been in club work before are urgently requested to attend these meetings.

ing trio, experience behind the plate and a few dandy swat-smiths with whom he expects to top the league. Assistant Jess Thornton, who is starting his fifth year as coach or manager of youth teams, is helping ace pitcher Jack Taber who may be one of the top 15-year-olds in the area. To back up Taber, Oakley has offsprung Bim, another 15-year-old and Bruce Wolbrette. Other potential headliners are Tom Thornton, and the Griffiths, Steve and Bob. Then there's Danny Padron, a smooth-fielding second baseman.

Among Other Matters

LaWANDA HENRY

This time of year is when we wonder . . . how did a few buildings contain all that energy all winter? School is out you know.

We think Harry Mullins, his wife Rita and little daughter, Kay Lynn are very nice additions to our town. Young Harry is on the Burk Star staff.

Maybe you should check the Palace Theatre ad today. Something free!!

Art Show Slated At Vernon June 2

The Vernon Art League is sponsoring its Twelfth Annual Sidewalk Art Show on Thursday, June 2, 1966 from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. The show will be in downtown Vernon at Main and Peace across from the County Courthouse. Registration will be from 8:00 a.m. until 10:00 on June 2, and the fee will be three entries for $2.00 and 50c for each additional entry. Fifty dollars in prize money will be awarded.

Entry classification includes oil, mixed media and crafts. Mr. R. K. Hillis, instructor in the art department at Midwestern University, will judge the show. Mr. Hillis holds a B.F.A. and a M.F.A. from Ohio University.

Local Girl Selected For Position With National Airlines

Miss Darrellyn J. Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell J. Edwards of Burk Burnett, has been assigned to the position of Reservations Agent for National Airlines. She will be stationed in New Orleans, La.

Miss Edwards is a graduate of Burk Burnett High School. She had completed the Weaver Airline Personnel School's home study extension course and was attending the resident school in Kansas City, Mo., when selected for the position.

Piano Recital Is Set June 3rd

Blanche Butler will present her piano students in recital "Operation Sparkle" Friday night, June 3, 7:00 p.m. at the Town Hall.

The public is invited to attend. The Lord compensates those who aren't important by making them feel important.

Lions Club Gains Two Members At Tuesday Meet

Two new Lions were welcomed into the Burk Burnett Lions Club Tuesday night. They were P. J. Civileto and Dick Johnson. Lion Blake Browning instructed the new members.

Frank Kelly introduced speaker Lamoin Champ. His subject was "Keys of Life." Three keys he named were: Attitude, Compassion and Courage. "Attitudes should be positive. The man whose negative attitude prompts him to say a thing can't be done, may be run over by people doing it", Champ said. "Compassion is our ability to 'walk in the other man's moccasins,' to know and understand how he feels, and to care about his feelings, and the key, 'Courage', said Champ, 'is what we must have to grow, because we grow by doing the things we have never done before. This requires courage.'

Burk Boy Forms Popular Band

A former Burk Burnett boy, Dennis Smith, and his wife, Angel, have formed a popular rock and roll band known as "Angel and the Heaven-Sents," and are touring in Florida at the present time.

Dennis is leader of the band, plays drums and is lead singer. Angel, a diminutive young lady four feet, eleven inches tall, sings with musicians and performs a gone go-go in a cage on the stage.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith reside in Chicago, Illinois, when not on tour.

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Smith of 710 West 3rd St., Burk Burnett. His wife is formerly of Tampa, Florida.

Jess H. Whatley Resigns As City Manager Here

Burkburnett's city manager for the last four years, Jess H. Whatley, has resigned his position effective June 15. Mayor C. J. Lippard announced Saturday.

Whatley said he would retire and continue to live in Burk Burnett. No announcement was made as to his successor.

A native of Wise County, Whatley came to Burk Burnett June 13, 1962 from Bowie where he had held a similar post for four years. Prior to that time, he was associated with a civil-engineering firm at Bowie. He graduated from high school in Iowa Park.

According to former Mayor James Frye, the city was operating on deficit financing of about $40,000 when Whatley became city manager in 1962. During his tenure, the city paid off the last of its tax-supported bonds, invested $30,000 in capital improvements, set aside $45,000 for a new library and $15,000 for remodeling the city hall. The city also maintained its revenue bond payment, reduced city taxes, and at the end of its fiscal year in April had over $135,000 in operating funds.

"It has been a challenge and a pleasure to work with so many people toward the many projects that have been accomplished in the last four years," Whatley's letter of resignation stated. "And I heartily suggest that the forward look toward the future development be continued."

Whatley and his wife reside at 418 Elm Street.

Letter Of Resignation

The following is the letter of resignation submitted to the Mayor and Board of City Commissioners of the City of Burk Burnett, by City Manager Jess H. Whatley:

May 23, 1966

Honorable Major C. J. Lippard and Board of Commissioners:

I hereby respectfully, and officially submit my resignation as your City Manager to become effective June 15th, 1966.

This has been a very difficult decision for me to make, as the four years that I have served, I have met and worked for and with so many wonderful people, and have been extended so many courtesies, it has been overwhelming.

I wish to say, that I hold no ill will toward anyone, but it is reasonably clear that I have used up a big percent of my usefulness to the citizens of our city.

This is our home, and my wife and I wish to continue to live in Burk Burnett as citizens on a retired basis, and be a part of Burk Burnett.

It has been a challenge and a pleasure to work with so many people toward the many projects that have been accomplished the past four years, and I heartily suggest that the forward look toward the future development be continued.

Again, my wife and I want to thank God for the many friends we have made here.

Respectfully submitted

JESS H. WHATLEY

THE STAKE INVOLVED

The U. S. is a world leader in medical and health progress. Up to the present time, this was brought about by freedom of opportunity in the medical profession and pharmaceutical industry. But, both these roots of health progress are now being regimented under political controls, paper work and restrictions. Only time will tell whether this will bring medical progress such as we have enjoyed in the past.

For example, there is now bitter controversy over the rights to inventions following research and development financed, even in part, by the federal government in which private enterprise participates. A measure introduced in Congress would give the government exclusive rights to all such inventions. It would also provide for a Federal Inventions Administration to develop inventions and promote their use.

Such policies discourage private initiative and enterprise which risks vast sums on research to develop the new drugs that makes possible our remarkable medical progress.

Patent protection has gone hand in hand with industrial and medical progress in the U. S. If it is denied the drug industry, the people may have political doctors to thank for some lifesaving drug that isn't there to cure some disease that is not yet conquered.

Why must the lawmakers discourage rather than encourage research and incentive? It is dangerous business when the public health is the stake.

WHAT DOES FREEDOM MEAN?

Coercion of any kind is repugnant to Americans. Our unalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness means as much to the individual today as they did two centuries ago. Therefore, it is not surprising that a recent public opinion poll, conducted by the Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, New Jersey, on the right-to-work issue came up with some answers that indicate hard sledding for compulsory unionism.

By more than a 4.5 to 1 margin, the American people believe that Congress should keep section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. By a 2.5 to 1 ratio — including support from 35 per cent of union members — the American people prefer that Congress should pass a law making all union membership voluntary, rather than compulsory.

By better than a 2 to 1 ratio, the American people reject the union's "free rider" argument, believing that even though a worker may benefit from the union, he should be allowed to decide for himself whether or not to join. By better than a 3 to 1 ratio, the American people believe that companies should not be permitted to discharge workers who refuse to join the union. A like ratio believe that states should be allowed to decide the right-to-work issue themselves. By almost a 2 to 1 ratio, the American people favor an open shop (voluntary unionism) rather than a union shop (compulsory unionism). The right-to-work should not be subjected to recurring debate any more than the right to vote.

END COMPETITIVE DISPARITY

There has been substantial comment in the press — much of it favorable — following President Johnson's proposal for a Department of Transportation. More will be heard concerning this new department as it is considered by Congress. But while the question of creating a Department of Transportation is pending, Congress should not permit other Presidential recommendations in the transportation field to be shelved.

As the burden of war costs rise in Viet Nam, the government must of necessity look to every possible source of revenue. One of the most disruptive influences in the transportation industry has been the competitive disparity between the railroads which pay their own way and pay heavy taxes to boot, and other forms of transport which benefit from government-financed facilities. For example, highway costs have been soaring to astronomical levels. To meet these costs, the President has said that: "... the use tax to heavy trucks should be levied according to a scale graduated by weight. These increases would move the contributions by truckers closer to their share of highway costs."

Equitable user charges would bring in needed revenue to government and would assist in putting all forms of transport on an equal competitive footing. One of the stated objectives of the President's Message on Transportation was to "coordinate the principal existing programs that promote transportation in America." User charges aim in this direction.

CARPETS—Then and Now

IN THE 16th and 17th Centuries, beautiful wool carpets became status symbols in Europe. Ninety magnificent wool carpets were commissioned for the palace of the Louvre, keeping the looms busy for most of the reign of Louis XIV.

CARDINAL WOLSEY was possibly the first Englishman to use wool carpeting to a great degree. With his love of luxury, he ordered 100 Damascene carpets to beautify his historic Hampton Court palace.

TODAY, beautiful wool carpets are no longer the exclusive privilege of royalty and the very rich. Due to modern shearing and carpet-making methods, millions of families are able to enjoy the comfort and beauty of wool carpets—still the most coveted for their rich colors, luxurious look and money-saving durability.

Wage Survey To Be Held In Area By Military Group

Sheppard AFB — The Army Air Force Wage Board in Washington, D.C. has authorized a Wage Survey to get under way in the Wichita Falls area on May 24, 1966 according to John F. Houser, Sheppard Air Force Base Civilian Classification and Wage Administration chief.

This survey will be conducted by personal contact to determine the Wage rates paid key "blue-collar" jobs by various firms in the community. The last survey was conducted in May of 1965, by telephone. Conducted annually, these surveys provide a comprehensive wage-pay picture of rates paid blue-collar employees in the Wichita Falls area. The Army-Air Force Wage Board uses this information to establish the wage schedule for Air Force and Army blue-collar employees in the Wichita Falls area.

Mr. Houser is this year's survey chairman and is being assisted in data collection and analysis by Mrs. Mary Helen Sanders and Messrs: Leon T. Little, Charles L. Shinn, E. D. Potter, Charles T. Skidmore and Glen C. Montgomery.

Letters have been mailed to industrial and laundry firms who regularly participate in these wage surveys and to several new firms expected to be added. Each firm will be contacted by data gatherers in the next several days.

Houser pointed out these surveys insure that the Base does not compete unfairly with the rest of the Wichita Falls community and at the same time, provide a basis for paying Sheppard blue-collar workers a fair wage. Additionally, these surveys provide the entire community with valuable information as to the going rate for a number of different types of skills found in this area.

In announcing the survey, Houser expressed appreciation for the cooperation of the participating firms and pointed out the fact that this joint effort is another example of how, through mutual interests and by working together, the military and civilian industries in this area can be of service and benefit to one another.

Freeze-Brand Being Used In Texas

Reports from over the state indicate that Texas stockmen are already using the newly developed freeze-branding technique. The new method of branding, says L. A. Maddox, Jr., Extension animal husbandman at Texas A&M, is still an experimental procedure and no recommendations for its use have been made. Copper branding irons, chilled to 94 degrees F. below zero by a mixture of dry ice and alcohol, are used. It is supposedly painless, is permanent and leaves no scars to thicken areas to cause a dock in the price of hides. It destroys pigment producing hair follicles and the hair grows out a permanent white in color.

OUTLOOK FOR WHEAT

Total disappearance of wheat, domestic use and exports, is expected to be production for the fifth consecutive year, reports John Haney, Extension economist, Texas A&M University. Over stocks on June 30 may total no more than million bushels, he said. Domestic use may reach 1.5 billion bushels, the highest year and exports may be 1.5 billion bushels.

MOTHS CAN'T PULL WOOL OVER WISE PRIVATE EYE

You don't have to be secret about it to know the villain in your home is Mr. Moth. He's the unwelcome guest who will eat you out of closet and clothes. Contrary to popular belief, he's not the man who comes to dinner only in the fall. He's hungry all the time and he'll satisfy his appetite at your expense. He thrives in warm, dark places and is specially fond of wool.

Wool and wool blends may be the main dish. But he'll also devour fur, hair (think of those wigs, hats, and some man-made fabrics).

Both eggs can lie dormant in woolens for eighteen months or more. When hatched, moth larvae immediately do their best to make a meal of your clothes.

How do you keep Mr. Moth from becoming a permanent guest in your home? Make like James Bond. Buy into your car and dash to the nearest drug store or supermarket for the secret formula—paradi-chlorobenzene. It's better known to housewives as para crystals. What's more, it's inexpensive, too!

Sold under many different brand names, para crystals or nugs create vapors that kill moths and their eggs while doubling as a rodent repellent. (There's nothing like getting rid of two villains at the same time.)

Once you've bought the crystals and smuggled them into the house, place the para near the top of a tight enclosure. Vapors drifting down from the para onto the clothing will do the rest. How devious you become is only a matter of how many holes you find in the woolens.

The best temperature for the most effective use of para, according to experts at Allied Chemical Corporation's Solvay Process Division, producer of the chemical, is 65-70 degrees F. Two pounds of para per 100 cubic feet of confined space will rid you of the pests. With three pounds of para per 100 cubic feet you provide mildew protection as well. Costing only pennies per pound, para can be purchased at your local drug store or supermarket.

Good news, too, for the home-maker, is the fact that you not only make Mr. Moth disappear, but also the moth ball odor. The para vapors disappear from the clothes with just a short airing on the clothes line. Dry cleaning isn't necessary.

The best defense against weed invasion in lawns is through good lawn management which includes proper fertilization, watering, mowing, and disease and insect control. A vigorous, healthy lawngrass will crowd out most weeds. A thin, weak grass will be invaded by weeds. Killing the weeds with chemicals will not keep them out unless followed by lawn management practices that encourage grass to grow vigorously enough to compete with the weeds.

Weedy grasses which invade lawns, such as dalligrass, crabgrass, sandburs, nutgrass, and others are not controlled by 2,4-D and similar chemicals. Organic arsenical herbicides, commonly referred to as methylarsonates, when properly applied, have given good control to these grasses. These arsenicals come in various forms and concentrations. The most common form perhaps are disodium methylarsonate (DSMA) and amine methylarsonate (AMA). The methylarsonates should be applied as a broadcast treatment to bermudagrass and bluegrass lawns only. This material will kill St. Augustine, if applied as a broadcast treatment. If weedy grasses are to be controlled in St. Augustine, then the methylarsonate should be applied as a spot treatment to the weeds only. When applied to bermudagrass, the leaf tips of the grass may turn brown for a few days, but will rapidly recover and not be damaged if the chemicals are used properly.

Most weedy grasses can be satisfactorily controlled with one treatment with methylarsonate. An exception to this is nutgrass, which is correctly called nut-sedge, Cyperus rotundus. It is difficult to eradicate in any situation because of its extensive root system. In preparing seed-beds for turf and ornamentals, nutgrass may be controlled by fumigating with materials such as methyl bromide or chloropicrin. These chemicals are extremely toxic and should be applied with extreme care and preferably by a commercial operator.

The methylarsonates, when properly applied, can greatly reduce the nutgrass population. The material is particularly effective when used on nutsedge in bermudagrass. The bermudagrass is not affected by the chemical and competes with the nutsedge, thus reducing the weed population more rapidly. The material must be applied at a rate so as not to kill the top growth before it has had an opportunity to translocate some of the chemical to the underground tubers. Several treatments will be necessary to get near eradication of the nutgrass.

The weedy grasses should be young and growing well when treated, or the lawn should be mowed and watered three to four days before treatment then the young regrowth treated. Use 10 tablespoons of liquid amine methylarsonate (16 percent active ingredient) or 3 tablespoons of disodium methylarsonate wettable powder (100 percent active ingredient) per gallon of water. Add 1 tablespoon of liquid detergent or commercial wetting agent or 3 tablespoons of dry household detergent per gallon of methylarsonate-water mixture. Apply 2 to 3 gallons of the mixture per 1000 square feet of lawn areas as a spray, or spot treat to thoroughly wet the stems and leaves of the weedy grasses. Other concentrations and forms of methylarsonate are suitable and should be used according to label directions. Treated areas should not be mowed or watered within 48 hours after application of the chemical.

Observe label precautions in the use of the methylarsonate compounds, as they can be dangerous if improperly used. Do not apply to flowers and shrubs and in vegetable gardens. Bulletins on the home lawn are available from Taelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, 305 Federal Building.

Yard improvements completed by three demonstrators to date include: Mrs. Hugh Lee has established plantings and has worked on soil improvement; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wyatt have excellent outdoor storage for summer work and play; and Mrs. Fred Maloney has begun work according to a plan made early in the year.

Mosquitoes are a problem in all parts of Texas and attack both man and animals, says county agent B. T. Haws.

Besides the annoying bother to man, the persistent attack of mosquitoes can cause farm animal to lose weight through continual biting and annoyance. Some species transmit disease such as malaria and yellow fever to man, encephalitis to man and horses and heartworm to dogs.

All mosquitoes pass through four stages of development: egg, larva, pupa and adult. All require water to produce their young. The females lay their eggs on water or in places that later become flooded.

In warm weather, the eggs of most species hatch in 2 or 3 days. The larvae that hatch from eggs change to pupae with a week. Then, the pupae become adults in about two days. In another year or two, the female adults are ready to feed — about 14 days from egg to a biting adult. One interesting note: only the females bite, the males do not bite.

As a homeowner, you can reduce breeding on your premises by eliminating standing water. Some of the more common sources of standing water are: dripping outdoor faucets and leaky pipes, puddles from evaporative cooler drainage, tin cans and other articles which may trap and hold water. Proper use of insecticides around the home also aids in control of mosquitoes. People in agriculture and industry can help the mosquito problem by watching drainage which may offer breeding places, concludes Haws.

All indications are that Texas is going to have a bumper crop of peaches and plums this year. To insure high quality fruit, Haws says growers should begin to thin out peaches and plums. Peaches should be thinned out to have a space of about six inches on the limb between fruits, according to present soil moisture conditions. Plums can be carried with a closer spacing.

If you plan to handle guns a great deal, wax both stock and metal parts. The wax will keep finger oils from rusting guns.

AT INSTALLATION

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS — MRS. CARL J. MORRISON POSES WITH MRS. SAVELL SHARP, CHAIRMAN OF THE SHEPPARD OFFICERS WIVES GARDEN CLUB, IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING INSTALLATION OF MRS. SHARP AS CHAIRMAN. MRS. MORRISON OF BURKBURNETT WAS THE INSTALLING OFFICER.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED BY OFFICERS WIVES

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — Mrs. Carl J. Morrison of Burkburnett, installed new officers of the Sheppard Officers Wives Garden Club during a dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Sheppard Officers Open Mess in the Contrail Room.

Mrs. Savell L. Sharp took office as chairman. Officers installed with Mrs. Sharp were Mesdames William Bean, vice chairman; Edgar Briggs, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Lind, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Sharp announced the appointments of Mrs. Darrell Wienman, historian; G. T. Wainwright, membership and telephone chairman; and Robert Lind, publicity; Douglas Hammond, projects.

Mrs. John Banovetz, retiring vice chairman, was presented with an engraved silver charm by Mrs. Sharp. This charm, with the official emblem of the Texas State Garden Clubs, was given on behalf of the membership, in appreciation for her dedicated service during the past year. Mrs. John Chandler led the invocation.

Fresh cut flowers and potted plants grown by the members were used for the table decorations. Gold napkins and tapers completed the setting against the white table coverings.

Doctor and Mrs. Morrison, members and their husbands, and guests, attended the dinner and installation.

WINCH CAUTION

Before putting a strain on your boat trailer winch be sure the anti-reverse gear is engaged. A wildly spinning winch handle can badly bark knuckles and even break fingers.

Boomtown Chapter ABWA Has Meeting, Hears Guest Speaker

BETH BYARS

Boomtown Chapter, ABWA met at Sloan's Restaurant at 7:00 p.m., May 16th, with 31 members and 7 guests present.

Mrs. Nancy Sherill was guest speaker on the subject, "Framework of Beauty."

Beth Byars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Byars, was presented a Scholarship Award to Midwestern University, by Educational Chairman, Mrs. Mary Louise Lacy.

The chapter also voted to send a check to the Stephen Bufton Educational Memorial Fund. This is a fund well known among ABWA members, that one of the greatest desires of Mr. Hilary Bufton, Jr. was to adopt an Educational Project, in memory of his youngest son, such as the sponsorship of scholarships to help women desiring to become proficient in other fields. In this way he feels the American Business Women's Association can best fulfill its purposes—that of helping in the education and advancement of women in business.

"Woman of the Year," Mrs. Laura Powell was presented a trophy by the President, Mrs. Nita McNish.

Plans were made for members to attend the ABWA National Convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma, October 14-15 and 16. All members of Boomtown Chapter are especially looking forward to this convention, as their bulletin will be in competition with other bulletins. They were one of the top five winners, out of 106 at the Southwestern District, in Fort Worth, April 15th, 16th and 17th. Bulletin editor, Mrs. Cosper Sanders.

Boomtown Chapter was happy to welcome three new members to the roll. Mrs. Audrey Tibbets and Mrs. Rita Hudson from the Burkburnett Bank, and Mrs. Ruth Lawley from R&L Shoe Repair.

Plans are underway for a garage sale to be at 210 West College Saturday, June 4th from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Proceeds to be donated to the Burkburnett Library Fund.

ICE FOR YOUR CAMP COOLER

Campers often are faced with the problem of not having enough ice. Usually this is because the cubes they brought with them were soon melted. Ice can be made to last much longer if, instead of filling the chest with conventional cubes, you freeze water in 2-quart, or gallon, milk cartons. These king-size ice cubes melt much more slowly. And they will last much, much longer if refrozen in the deep freezer.

UNTANGLING HOOKS

One way to separate a tangled cluster of treble hooks is to drop the mass on a hard surface. Several will bounce free on each drop. It saves punctured fingers from trying to untangle the mess by hand.

Very Bad Advice

DR. MORRIS CHAFETZ, professor of psychiatry at Harvard, is director of the alcoholic clinic of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. He is author of two books about drinking, "Alcohol and Society," and "Liquor, Servant of Man." He has proposed that children in the early grades at school, be given group instruction in social drinking. He says this should begin with very weak drinks such as a little sherry in water in the elementary grades, and continue through college. The amount of alcohol in this "practice drinking" should be gradually increased. The children should be taught to drink slowly in small amounts, and with other persons. He believes this would facilitate social relations, relaxation and a feeling of well being. He thinks they should also be instructed on the hazards of the improper use of alcohol.

Dr. Chafetz says that "alcohol is here to stay and people must learn to develop a healthy attitude toward it." Sex is here to stay too, and children should be taught about it, but certainly not experimentally, beginning "in the early grades at school." Dope is here to stay, but surely small children should not be given small shots of heroin. Stealing and cheating are here to stay but should children be given lessons in these evils as a means of promoting temperance in their use of them?

We believe the professor is wrong. Children, and adults as well, should be taught to abstain from anything evil and not merely to be temperate in the use of it. It is silly, in my opinion, to advocate narcotizing one's self in order to promote social relationships. A normal, properly adjusted adult can relax and enjoy friendship without the use of alcohol or any other drug to suppress his higher nerve centers. To resort to drugs to control emotion is to come down from the spiritual plane, where proper control is, into the physical plane to partly paralyze one's nerves. Inhibitions, judgment and restraint are proper attributes of man. We all need them. To knock them out with the use of drugs so that one feels well because he has paralyzed his sensitivity to the delicate shades of the proper and the improper, and by the throwing off of restraint is for man to abandon his spiritual being in part, and to retrograde toward his animal nature. That is easy enough for any of us to do, without the help of alcohol.

Hardin HD Club Meets Wednesday

The ladies from Hardin Home Demonstration Club met at The National Room for a covered dish luncheon, Wednesday, May 25th. Mrs. Jacobs and Mrs. Howard instructed a class in knitting.

Mesdames Howard, Jacobs, Roderick, Hagaman, Lawrence, Goins, Enderli, Mahaffey were members present and Mrs. Ruby Lange, Mr. Mahaffey, Kenneth and John and Gary Roderick were guests.

At the business meeting the club voted to disband until Sept. 14. The meeting will be with Mrs. Howard at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Lange will be hosts to the club members and their families for a picnic supper on their back lawn the last of July.

The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Enderli on her 84th birthday. Ruby Lange was welcomed as a new member.

Education Is Key To Change

Science, business and politics are moving ahead at a faster pace than ever before. Today's students must prepare themselves to adjust to the ever-changing world as they study for leadership roles, says Mrs. Elsie Short, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

SCOUTING NEWS

METHODISTS HELP SCOUTING

The Northwest Texas Council Executives meeting was held the first week in May and many news items now appearing in the local presses are a result of that group. The Rangers permanent residence at the Bowie Camp site was discussed and the Downtown Kiwanis two weeks later underwrote the cost of it. The Big Story was the good news that the Methodist Foundation had agreed to purchase the original 400-acre Bowie camp paying $20,000 cash and the remaining $36,000 over a period of five years. On April 16, the Foundation invited four scouts from all Methodist-sponsored Scout troops to the Bridwell Ranch for a barbecue. From this contact and interview with these Scouts, they agreed that Scouting was a wonderful way to invest their money. Scoutmaster Tom Evans of the local church-sponsored troop and four of his Scouts attended this. You may wonder how this Foundation has access to this kind of money and Phil Bolin, the finance chairman, pointed out that the group will put a calf in a herd of a rancher and at market time the proceeds go to the church. No doubt there is a bigger story than that, and I'm sure Mr. Bolin played a most important part in obtaining these funds for the Scouts.

Now the Council has the adjoining 408 acres under consideration and this will not be acquired easy either. But some of the best brains in Northwest Texas are working on this, and before long will be a reality.

It would be nice to look on the National level to see who sponsors Scout troops: PTA, 22,707; Methodist Churches, 14,558; Catholic, 12,417; Baptist, 7,865; Latter Day St., 7,743; Presbyterian, 7,241; Lutheran Church, 6,040; Public Schools, 5,239; Lions, 5,063; and American Legion, 4,062. This is compliments of Scouting Magazine. Phil Bolin left a statement for the assembly to ponder. He said, "I am more concerned about our thinking too small than too big in planning for our Scouts' future in Northwest Texas."

From An Old Church

BY THE SCRIBE

The yearly service on Pentecost was held at 9:00 a.m., Sunday the 29th of May. Easter Day, both by origin and by right, is the primary festival of Christians. The fifty days from Easter to Pentecost was the only festival observed by the universal Church during the first three centuries of its history. The account of the first Pentecost is in Acts 2:2-4.

Newly elected officers of the Women of the Church are Mrs. Claude Trenholm as president; Mrs. Roger McCullum, vice-president; Mrs. Phillip Sturdevant, secretary; and Mrs. Merriweather Lewis as treasurer.

About 40% of the American people are in a church on a Sunday. That means 60% are not in church. How can one hour a week—even if a child goes to Sunday School—how can that influence overcome all the television and all the other influences in the life of that child? You must train a child up in the way that he may grow.

The mid-weekly Forums are drawing large crowds. People are very much interested in the complete history of the Church. Remember the time is 7:30 p.m. at 1000 S. Berry St. on each Wednesday of the week.

Food Processing Progress Reported

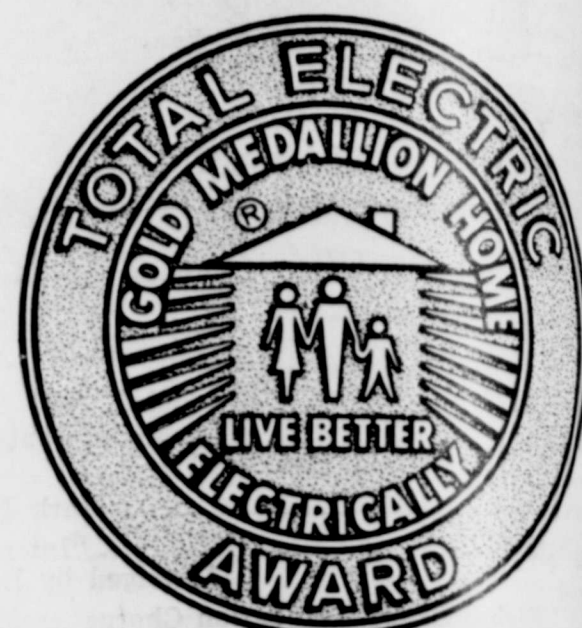

Explosion puffing of fruits and vegetables, a process devised by scientists with the Agricultural Research Service, makes it possible to dehydrate whole pieces of these fruits and vegetables so that they require only five or six minutes of a homemaker's time to reconstitute. Says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist. The counterparts of the explosion puffing process—those foods that are dehydrated conventionally—require approximately 20 minutes to cook. Nutritive values of foods processed by explosion puffing is not affected, and the cost of the process is about the same as for conventional dehydration, the specialist says.

Triumph OVER THE SEAS

"What is man . . . Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands"

God has blessed man and given him the right and power to rule over his creation. As man has needs, God has given him the knowledge and ability to meet these needs. Pictured here is only one of many such triumphs. Our nation has particularly been blessed. Let us each Sunday attend worship services and give thanks to our Lord, who is so generous.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Clara-Fairview

HD Club Meets

The Clara - Fairview Home Demonstration Club met at the Texas Electric Auditorium on Tuesday, May 17 at 2 p.m. Mrs. Rose Griffith was the hostess. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Ray Stimpson. Mrs. James Ludeke read a short prose about a Happy Housewife for the opening exercise. Roll call was answered with a tip to save time, temper and money. A motion was made to have an ice cream supper in July. Mrs. R. C. Gilbow and Mrs. Newt Crane were appointed to plan this event. Mrs. E. J. Simons gave the County Council report.

Mr. Young of the Singer Sewing Machine Company of Wichita Falls brought an interesting program on Basic Wardrobe. He showed a film on how to make your figure appear larger, taller, shorter or thinner, by using different patterns and fabrics. He explained how narrower lines make a figure appear thinner and large patterned materials make the figure look smaller. This program was very informative and most enjoyable.

Pamphlets were passed out to the members on Fire preven-

Local Man Calls
At State-Wide
Square Dance

Sheppard AFB—The popular caller of the Service Club's "Swing-A-Long's," a square dance group, was a featured caller at a state-wide dance in Austin Saturday.

Cecil Curtis represented the Sheppard Club at the Fourth Annual Square Dance Festival which began with a coffee at 9:30 a.m. and continued into the wee hours of the morning. The Service Club's award-winning blue and gold banner was on display during the festivities.

Curtis first became interested in square dancing as a master sergeant in Amarillo, prior to his leaving for Japan in 1959. While stationed there, he created local interest and succeeded in forming two clubs.

Upon returning to the states and his retirement from the Air Force, he settled in Burkburnett, where he and his wife, Lena now live.

Officers of the dancing group are, MSgt. Jesse Hobbs, President; S-Sgt. Jimmie Caldwell, vice president; and Mrs. Ronald Azere, secretary.

This group meets every Tuesday night at the Service Club. The "Swing-A-Long's" dance under the gay banner of blue and gold which was designed by Mrs. Barbara Tousignant. It was hand-made and presented to the club by the "Y" Promenaders, a square dancing group from the Wichita Falls area. This banner was also named "Banner of the Month" by Shasay magazine.

Curtis is also the caller for the Burkburnett Sandowners Square Dance Club.

4-H Club Food
And Nutrition
Projects Popular

Special — The national 4-H Food-Nutrition program involving more than 675,000 club members is one of a half-dozen major home economics programs offered by the Cooperative Extension Service.

The nutrition program is particularly attractive to teens who are acutely aware of face and figure, observed Emmie Nelson, former home demonstration agent and now a field representative for the National 4-H Service Committee.

"They are interested in calories, vitamins, balanced meals, food science, selective buying, convenience dishes and new cookery," Miss Nelson said. "During the last few years scores of projects have been undertaken by teen-agers wanting to learn WHY certain things happen. For example, why does yeast make bread rise?"

Club members are encouraged to learn and then demonstrate tested methods. The scientific approach to nutrition is often the basis for dietary experiments with rats and other animals.

Activities are recorded, progress noted, and when the 4-H project is completed, Miss Nelson explained, the member can compete for one of several awards provided annually by General Foods Corporation through the National 4-H Service Committee.

Records will be evaluated at the county, state and national levels. Awards consist of county medals of honor; a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress for the best in state, and $500 scholarships for the top six selected from all 50 state winners. In addition, General Foods is host to the trip winners during the 4-H Congress.

Miss Nelson observed that 4-H experience in carrying out home economics projects has often led girls to major in the subject in college. Surveys taken of former national scholarship winners showed this to be true. Of the 12 scholarship winners for the last two years, 11 in college, and the 12th was in high school this June.

Local Optimist
Named To Post

At the district convention in Abilene, Ken Blankinship, Burkburnett, was elected to the Texas District of Optimist International.

Thomas J. Terputac, Washington, Pa., vice president of Optimist International was the principal speaker for the convention which drew an attendance of over 400. He praised the National 4-H Service Committee as being one of the largest in membership.

The North Texas District includes part of New Mexico as well as North Texas and 11 zones. Zone A extends from Vernon to Gainesville and includes six clubs. Blankinship was one of the charter members of the Burkburnett Optimist Club, and past president. His new duties include serving on the board of governors under Dick Morton, Denton.

4-H Roundup

Some 1,400 4-H boys and girls from every section of Texas will be on the campus of Texas A&M University, June 7-8, for their annual Roundup. On June 8 winners will be determined in 30 different demonstration and project events. Speaker of the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, will speak at the quiet honoring contest and donors on the evening of June 8.
