Lion Band advances to region contest

By Ann Trull

is $2.00 per person.

The Pride of Crockett County certainly proved themselves worthy of this proud name. The Ozona Lion Band garnered yet another award as they received a Division I at the District VII marching contest Oct. 27 in Brady. The band also received one of the two spots from the district to advance to the University Interscholastic League Region A Marching Contest.

The AA Class was the largest with 14 bands competing and only two places available to advance to the region contest. Judges for district were: Barry Hurt, director from Sundown; Lewis Thornton, director from Abilene Wylie; and George Strickland, director from Henrietta. All three judges commented on the extreme amount of pride and spirit that exuded from the band.

"I am extremely pleased with the performance," said Director Kelly Glaze. "They performed exactly the way they were taught. I have faith in them to do a super show at the region level."

This year the region will contain six bands as opposed to the larger eight bands last year.

"I could not have been happier with the performance. It was great to see all the community support at Brady," said Normal Carroll, assistant director.

The regional contest will be Nov. 3 at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls. The tentative slate for the AA bands will be: 1 Eldorado, 2 undetermined, 3 Henrietta, 4 Ozona, 5 undetermined, 6 Olney. The AA bands begin their performances at 2:45 p.m. Ozona will march at 3:30 p.m. Admission charge Wichita Falls is located approximately 330 miles from Ozona, requiring six hours driving time. The band will leave Ozona at 5:30 a.m. Saturday and should be home about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

"We really need to work hard because the competition will be very tough," said sophomore bandsman Christi Wooten.

The adjudicators for the contest will be: Tom Caneva, assistant director of bands, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO; Richard Crain, supervisor of music, Spring ISD, Spring; Malcolm Helm, director of bands, Lake Highlands High School, Richardson; Charles Traylor, director of bands, Dalhart High School, Dalhart; and Jack Williamson, director of bands, Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

"We've got to give it our all. There is nothing stopping us from going to state," said sophomore percussion player Mark Perez.

"It felt good to be the best band in AA. I think this was a good opportunity to prove the quality of our band and make our community proud to have us in it," said senior flag corps member Kelley Porter.

OHS twirlers Misty Fowler and Sylvia Pena-Alfaro earned a Division I rating on their solos in Brady and will compete at the state level in June.

"We invite you to view the mighty Lion band on Saturday, Nov. 3, at 3:30 p.m. in Wichita Falls at Memorial Stadium," said senior flag corps member Ann Trull. "There was a tremendous amount of community support displayed in Brady, and it was greatly appreciated."

Hawks drive the Lions up the wall 49-22

by Scotty Moore

The Wall Hawks stacked up 340 total yards rushing and passing compared to Ozona's 196 to drop the Lions to a 4-1 record in district play Friday night in Lion Stadium.

Wall's superior weight and speed was more than the fired up Lion team could overcome, which was reflected in the beginning kickoff return of 91 yards for the Hawks first score of the game.

The first half of play was disastrous for the Lions as the Hawks scored 42 points in 281 total yards.

The Lions' first score in the contest came with 8:42 left in the third quarter from a 1-yard keeper play by Danny DeHoyos. Ruben Borrego's P.A.T. was good, making the score 42-7.

Ozona once again found pay dirt and a new lease on life early in the 4th quarter from a 15 yard sprint by Adam Alba. Danny DeHoyos' 2-point conversion pass to Michael Ybarra was good, improving Ozona's side of the scoreboard by 8 points.

The last two scores of the ball game came within 15 seconds of each other as Wall's kickoff after scoring on a 7 yard run was returned by Adam Alba for 93 yards for a Lion T.D.

Ruben Borrego's P.A.T. was good for a finale on the scoreboard of 49-22.

The Lions, in a desperate attempt to regain possession executed an on-side kick, but failed to come up with the ball, giving the Hawks good field position at their own 44.

Both teams regained possession of the football from recovered fumbles before the Hawks downed the ball in three plays, running out the clock.

The Lions match up with the Iraan Braves Friday night in Iraan after their 41-0 victory over McCamey.

Gene Castro takes home the money on tie breaker

Gene Castro will be stuffing his britches pocket with a twenty dollar bill this week defeating H. O. Hoover and Dolores Ramirez, all of whom had 17 correct picks, but were shy on the tie breaker total.

Gene came within one point with a score total of 51 compared to H. O.'s 38 and Dolores' 32.

Gene missed the Jets-Houston and Ozona-Wall games, H. O. missed the Jets-Houston, and Cincinnati-Atlanta games and Dolores missed Detroit-New Orleans and Jets-Houston games.

Second place pickers with 16 right checks were A. D. Cox, Dolores Ramirez, Steven Pagan and the champ Keith Miller.

Some of you pickers got your hopes up for the late-great Cowboys and picked 'em to win again this week. Some people just never learn.

Centennial plans continue

Plans for 1991's centennial celebration continue to develop according to Nancy Moore of Ozona Chamber of Commerce.

Ozona schools, civic and social organizations were encouraged to adopt a centennial theme this year to build interest for the July 1991 event. Crockett County Arts and Crafts Guild will use the theme at its annual show Saturday, Nov. 3. Ozona Garden Club has also agreed to use a centennial theme for its annual flower show scheduled for April 18.

Any club or organization planning special events in connection with the centennial is asked to contact the chamber so these events may be included in the official schedule.

Former resident Robbie McDaniel Ferguson of Austin is winner of the logo design competition. Receiving honorable mention in the contest are Tanya Amaya, Tammy Bunker and Leticia Dominguez. The logo will be used on a special post office cancellation and other items.

Becky Childress is coordinator for the 1991 centennial celebration. Jim Wilson will head up the trail ride, Cathy and Billy Carson the all school reunion and Totsy Haglestein and Lucile Harrell the settlers' reunion. The Historical Society will be in charge of a pageant.

A schedule of events for the July 3-7 festivities includes:

- July 3 - Miss Firecracker Pageant - Women's League and Chamber
- July 4 - Parade and activities on the square, Chamber of Commerce
- July 5 - Trail ride
- July 6 - All school reunion, settlers' reunion, pageant
- July 7 - Community religious service - Ministerial Alliance.

Halloween brings out spooks, goblins and ghosts, and they seem to be having a party on Blas Street. The lawn of Charlie Ramos is a gathering place for an unusual assortment of gremlins. Don't miss it, it's a treat not a trick.

Crockett County Care Center News

By JoAnne Marshall

On Monday residents had the opportunity to do all those little things that there never seems to be enough time for. No activities were scheduled, but they were far from idle.

Lots of residents added money to their piggy banks during Tuesday morning's bingo. Winners were: Florencia Porras, Frances Davis, Hazel McDaniel, Manuela Perez, Moriana Perez, Minnie Karr, Elvira Pena, Bertha Miller and Santos Martinez. Volunteers assisting residents with their cards were Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby. Thank you, ladies.

Tuesday afternoon a sing-a-long was led by Maxine Brown of the First Baptist Church. Some of the hymns Maxine played on the piano residents hadn't heard for years. Thank you, Maxine. We loved it.

Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Frances Davis, Chata Tambunga, Florencia Porras, Moriana Perez, Juana Hernandez and Joe Connolly were kept busy in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop. Volunteers keeping things running smoothly were Ruth Hester, Ruthie Dorris and Jeanne Fuller. We would like to thank our volunteers for their time and energy.

Wednesday afternoon the following residents helped design a Jack-O-Lantern: Juana Hernandez, Jim Luckie, Jean Beardmore, Monnie Boyd, Norma Hines, Virginia Hoover, Nellie Harp, Moriana Perez, Olive Berry and Myrtle Post.

Residents were beautified and pampered by beauty shop volunteers Vivian Hughes, Audrey Smith and Marsha Tomlinson Thursday morning. The jokes they heard while sitting there getting their hair done weren't bad either. Each lady left the shop feeling much better than they did upon arriving.

The Spanish Hour of Praise was held Thursday afternoon with the following volunteers attending: Chele Fuantoz, Anita Fierro, Paulita Leal, Germana Hernandez, Herbierto and Lorenza Gutierrez. Communion was offered and a short Bible study was conducted by Chele. Herbierto added to the singing by playing the guitar. We would like to thank the members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church for sharing this activity with us.

Friday morning's bingo games produced three two-time winners, Florencia Porras, Tomasa Ramos and Theo Burns. Residents winning one game each were: Jeff Owens, Hazel McDaniel, Elvira Pena and Joe Connolly. Jeff waited until the last game to show everyone he had beginners luck. Popcorn was served as an added treat to the games.

A challenging game of dominoes was played Friday evening.

Sunday worship service was presented by members of the Church of Christ congregation. We would like to thank them for sharing their inspirational message with us.

A Preacher's Pondering

By Ralph O. Moore
Minister
Ozona Church of Christ

Any Time Left?

The football game was tied, and time was running out. The players were exhausted - yet excited. The outcome of the game hung in the balance of the next few plays. The favored team had the ball near mid-field, the quarterback called the play, and the team broke from the huddle. The ball was snapped and a pass was thrown. An opposing linebacker, displaying natural talent and uncommon desire, made a spectacular interception.

Almost immediately he was hit - he spun around, he was not down. He saw a maze of players before him. He twisted and turned, first one way, then another. Around and around he went. He heard the roar of the crowd and felt hands grabbing at his jersey. He stooped low and ran hard. In a moment he saw a clear field and darted for the goal line. He crossed it, and rejecting the urge to spike the ball, he sat down. He was exhausted but elated that he had scored.

The young linebacker looked up expecting to see his teammates congratulating him - but, he saw the other team in jubilant celebration. His teammates had their heads down. His coach had his hands over his eyes. In the fervor of play, in the twisting and turning, he had gotten turned around. He had run the wrong way. He had crossed the wrong goal.

You know in the turmoil of life it's easy to get turned around. We often play to the point of exhaustion, even make spectacular efforts, only to find out that we have crossed the wrong goal. Pride turns to pain as we hear the laughter of the adversary. We hang our heads in despair and try to forget the shame of the moment.

That young linebacker, along with his coach and team, had to forget the shame of the moment. They had to refrain from casting blame and use the remaining time to play even harder. They were behind because of their own mistake. They could overcome the dishonor if there was enough time remaining.

I guess that is the key: If there is enough time remaining. You and I can correct wrong-way living if there is enough time left. Once we realize that we crossed the wrong goal, we have a choice: pout and blame others or regroup and play again. We can turn shame into victory if we use the remaining time wisely.

Benjamin Franklin said, "If you love life, don't squander time, because time is what life is made of." If you make a mistake, cross a wrong goal, don't cry and quit - use your time to redeem the mistake. The Apostle Paul put it this way, "Forget what is behind, strain toward what is ahead" (Phil. 3:13). I like the challenge of Scripture that calls one to "not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we shall reap, if we do not grow weary."

We all make mistakes. But, thank God, errors, even serious ones, can be corrected if we have time. While we don't know how much time remains for us, we do know that God is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him. If you find yourself sitting in the wrong end-zone, don't despair. Get up and try again while you have time.

Think about it.

Children of Promise

By Rev. Miguel Jimenez
The Church of God of Prophecy

"Tell me, ye that desire to be the law, do ye not hear the law? For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a free woman. But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; but the free woman was by promise. Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants. Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of Promise." - Galatians 4:21-24, 28.

Over the years some have insinuated that a mere profession of faith in God is an adequate means for laying claim to God's promises; yet, James says that faith without works is dead. Our faith must be accompanied by godly living in this present world.

Others have taught that a simple adherence to a set of rules was the method of securing God's favor. Yet, Paul states, "For what the law (or rules) could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh: God sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: That the righteousness of the law might be in us, who not after the flesh, but after the Spirit." Romans 8:3-4.

It is the Spirit working in the hearts of individuals that gives us life. Without the Spirit's control, rules become only a yoke, a bondage. The law had no power to save but only to reveal man's sinful condition.

One writer said, "The law in its weakness says 'do and live', but grace, through the power of Jesus Christ, says 'live and do'." Christ declared, "come unto Me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me...For My yoke is easy, and any burden is light." Matthew 11:28-30.

There is no place in God's order for the flesh to have preeminence over the Spirit. In fact, our only hope today is through submission and obedience to God's will. Paul reflected this thought when he was attempting to enlighten the Galatians' understanding of God's principles. His epistle was written counteracting the Judaists that were attempting to destroy and corrupt the gospel.

In Paul's letter to the Galatians, from which our text is taken, Ishmael was a product of the flesh. Isaac might never have been born were it not the promise of God. While both were sons of Abraham, unity could not prevail in his household until the son of the flesh was removed so that the son of promise could be heir to the inheritance. The spiritual concept that Paul was trying to bring to our attention is that the works of the flesh have no place in the household of the living God.

You and I have been bought with a great price, the blood of Jesus our Lord and Savior, and this redemptive factor has stood the test of time to prove to us that His blood is sufficient for our salvation. Circumcision of the flesh can never effectively replace a circumcised heart. We are not of that earthly Jerusalem but of the heavenly. We are free in Jesus Christ today. We, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

Gambling is the child of avarice, the brother of iniquity, and the father of mischief.

Giving until it hurts is not a true measure of generosity. Some are easier hurt than others.

One of life's mysteries is why a girl who has done baby-sitting ever gets married.

Blessed are those who can give without remembering and receive without forgetting.

Having a great aim in life is important. So is knowing when to pull the trigger.

Life is a game - but how can we play it if we don't know where the goal posts are?

Enthusiasm is apt to breed more action than accuracy.

Keep your head and your heart going in the right direction and you'll not have to worry about your feet.

There's one thing you should be thankful for - only you and God have all the facts about yourself.

God gave to man five senses: touch, taste, smell, sight and hearing. The successful man has two more - horse and common.

Golf is a lot like taxes - you drive hard to get to the green and then wind up in the hole.

A gossip always creates the smoke in which other people assume there is a fire.

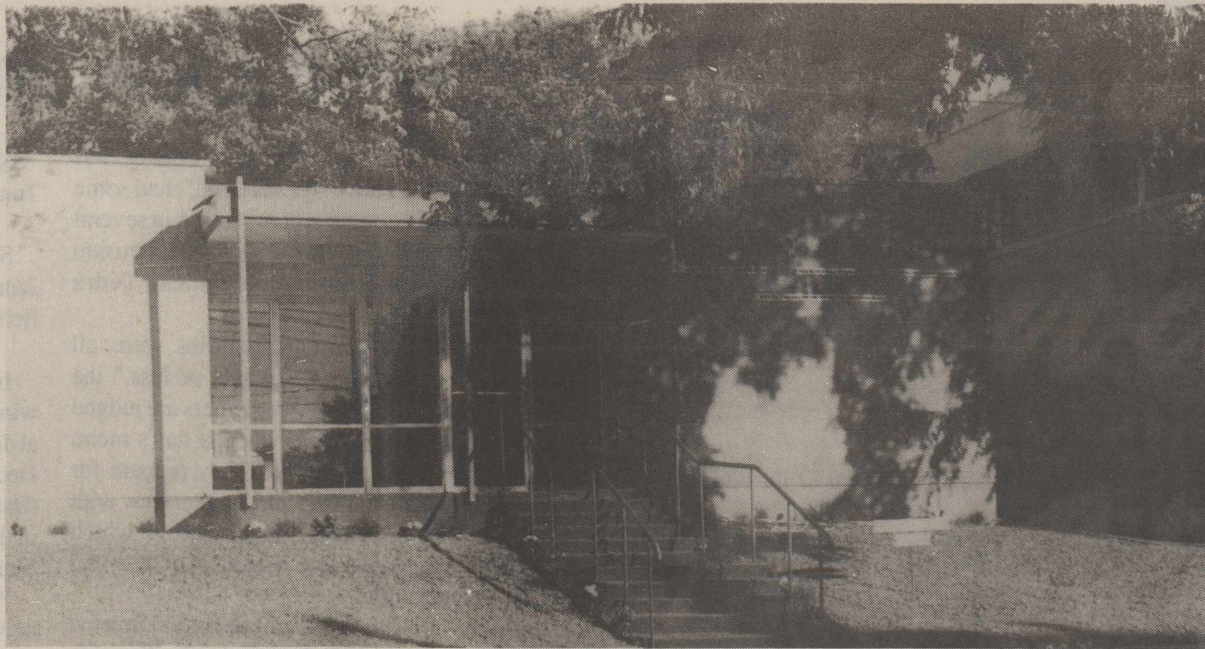

A scandal is a breeze whipped by two windbags.

Never before has the fate of so many been at the whim of so few.

The real trouble with government is that we have too few ideals and too many deals.

Our government has operated in red ink so long that the federal ledger looks like a slaughterhouse.

Food show draws tough competition

This year's Crockett County 4-H Food Show, "Texas Gold", had some of the toughest competition in several years according to County Extension Agent-Home Economics Tedra Ulmer.

"Our senior categories were all decided by two points or less," the agent noted. 4-H members are judged on their project work, a day's menu containing the dish they prepare for the food show, and an interview with out-of-county judges during which the food is also judged on quality and nutrition.

Each 4-H member has completed at least six lessons under the direction of an adult or teen leader. This year, 394-H members completed all phases of the competition. The 4-H members and results are:

Junior Main Dish - Leana Baggett, 1; Chad Myers, 2; Christy Vasquez and Camelia Williams, tie for 3. Also competing in this category were: Patricia Garza, Audry Young, Melanie Lozano and Nicole Perez.

Junior Breads and Cereals - Sara Mayfield, 1; Helena Williams, 2; Jacque Aldridge, 3. Also competing were Roberta Ortiz and Kandice Ortiz.

Junior Fruits and Vegetables - Ty Porter, 1; Natalie Ybarra, 2.

Senior Fruits and Vegetables - Jennifer Davidson, 1; Martha Mayfield, 2.

In all other categories, the first place winner will represent Crockett County at district competition at McCamey in December. Senior members who win first at district are eligible to compete in the state 4-H Food Show at College Station in June.

Special appreciation goes to Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative for providing ribbons and rosettes, WTU for loaning a microwave to heat contestants' dishes, and to Penn Baggett for producing a "mini-derick" for the awards table.

Without 4-H leaders, the project would not be possible. Special recognition should be given, says Agent Ulmer, to Kathryn Mayfield for preparing the awards program, Sadie Davidson for decorations, Lara Sue Baggett for obtaining donations, Shelley Conner for picking up paper goods and assisting in many ways, Carmen Sutton, Rebecca Young, Nancy Vannoy, Debbie Phillips, Juanita Delgado, Kathy Aldridge for helping during the show, Helen Kenison and Sandra Childress for tabulation.

Lake Amistad hosts Festival of Lights

The Lake Amistad Festival of Lights, a water-borne parade of vessels decorated in the spirit of the Christmas season, will be held along the south shore of Lake Amistad on Sunday evening, Dec. 2. The inaugural event last year, patterned after that held on Lake Powell in Arizona/Utah, was viewed by thousands who gathered in the park sites overlooking the parade of vessels.

Vessels range in size from 18 feet to over 50 feet and consist of pleasure, sail, cruiser and houseboats. Entrants, who pay a nominal entry fee, will begin assembly of their displays on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at the courtesy dock space made available by the sponsor, Lake Amistad Resort & Marina. The public can view the assembly. A number of entrants will have their decorated vessels on static display Monday evening, Dec. 3, at docksides for the public's viewing.

The best viewing will be at the Black Brush park site; Diablo East park site, The Cliff area within Diablo East park site and Governor's Landing park site, all along the south shore of Amistad International Reservoir near Del Rio.

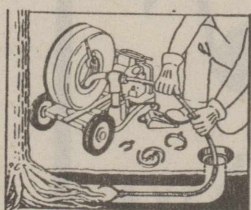

The parade route will begin near the Black Brush park site soon after sundown and proceed as close as navigationally possible along the south shore in a westerly direction to the Herb C. Petry Bridge (US 90) and then return to the Diablo East Marina for awarding of prizes.

Entry forms may be obtained at Lake Amistad Resort & Marina, Del Rio Chamber of Commerce or from Amistad Navy members.

Ruth and George Hester have lived in Ozona all their married life. They are members of Ozona First Baptist Church. George retired after 34 years with ARCO. He now enjoys the get-togethers where he plays his guitar. Ruth is a homemaker and enjoys her volunteer work at the care center and church and work on ceramics.

Guests arrived at the entry to Hoover Hall after passing along a pathway decorated with pink and white streamers. Susan Hester welcomed everyone to her grandparents' party from a registry table containing a memory-filled photo album.

The fellowship hall was decorated with an arch of white and gold balloons over the serving table. Gold lettering spelled out Happy 50th Anniversary on the wall behind the table.

Photographs of the couple were placed on the bride's table before a centerpiece of pink and white carnations interspersed with baby's breath and greenery.

The bride's three-tiered cake was covered in candlelight icing and decorated with delicate pink confectionary roses and gold leaves. Moca punch was served from a crystal bowl. Granddaughters attended the table with Casey Henderson of Sonora serving cake and Janice Hester of Austin pouring punch.

The bridegroom's chocolate cake was placed on a side table which also held the silver coffee service.

Both tables were covered with white organdy cloths caught at the corners with golden bows.

Guests enjoyed refreshments at tables centered with white bags tied with pink ribbon attached to white, gold and pink balloons. Balloons, pink and white streamers and honeycomb wedding bells decorated the walls.

Entertainment for the afternoon was provided by Bob Hartman, Jim Wilson, Bill Fuller, Marsha Tomlinson, George Hester and Jamie Knox.

Lady Lion basketball begins

By Ann Trull

It's that time of year again. Yes, it's almost basketball season. The Ozona Lady Lions started practice on Monday, Oct. 22.

The program is off to a running start with a total of 38 girls. The Lady Lion varsity returns with five players, and of the girls returning, many have garnered district honors. The varsity team will travel with 12 girls, the J.V. with 14 and the freshman team with 10.

The outlook for the upcoming season is promising with the Lady Lions having good practices and experienced veterans, but also there is a very tough schedule and district. The district schedule will be especially tough with four of the seven teams previously qualifying for post district play.

Leadership program for Abilene students

Shannon Curry of Ozona is one of 85 students participating in the inaugural class of service leadership at McMurry University in Abilene.

The course involves a free one-hour credit in the fall semester that includes a lecture series, small group discussions and exercises exploring the nature of leadership and the various styles and skills involved in being a servant leader.

A field exercise at an Abilene nonprofit organization and a bi-weekly small directed discussion group constitutes the spring semester program.

The service leadership program was developed at McMurry University to allow students to learn how to assume positions of responsibility, to lead, to make moral and ethical decisions, and to serve society. Dr. Robert Sledge, one of the professors team teaching the course stated, "We are trying to show our students that a person should become a leader and an influence in society not for his or her own gain, but for the gain of mankind."

Ozona Lion Band twirlers Sylvia Peña-Alfaro (l.) and Misty Fowler will compete in the state solo and ensemble contest in Austin.

Coppell fourth graders begin newspaper

Students at Coppell Intermediate School are proud of their newspaper which debuted this month. The Eagle Express is the brainchild of fourth grade teacher and former Ozonan Erika Adams.

Response to the idea of a school paper was overwhelming. The 76 students who applied to be on the staff were required to submit a one-page essay explaining why they wanted to work on the paper, a teacher recommendation and a parent's consent.

Mrs. Adams and another fourth grade teacher who works with the project, Myrna Allison, reviewed applications for seven hours before selecting a staff of 24, double that originally planned.

In addition to teaching students about writing and composition, the paper will stress responsibility. Before beginning the project, students were told they would be let go from the paper if they didn't make deadlines. The students accepted the law and took an oath of office at a meeting where they were issued press buttons to wear during interviews.

Mrs. Adams, wife of Jon Adams and daughter-in-law of Jack and Terry Adams of Ozona, has a degree in graphic arts and worked on a newspaper in college. She writes a newsletter for the Coppell Parent Teacher Organization. The PTO encouraged the beginning of the school paper in addition to the newsletter.

The paper contains a student researched lead story, comments from the principal, general news, a swap shop, and sections for editorial comment features, entertainment and sports.

FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

protects our interests in the Texas Legislature

Looking out for taxpayers

In the current two-year budget, our state government will spend $43 billion of the people's money. So Harvey Hilderbran knows his first job as our State Representative is to make sure our money is spent wisely, keeping waste down to a minimum. For his efforts, Harvey was awarded an "A" rating by "Texans for Financial Responsibility," which is a coalition of over 5,000 Texans monitoring and pushing for better management practices in state government.

Looking out for elderly citizens

Speaker Gib Lewis recognized Harvey's leadership abilities when he appointed Harvey to the Retirement and Aging and Public Health Committees. Harvey also serves on the powerful Budget and Oversight Subcommittee for Public Health. In these positions, Harvey makes sure the interests of the many elderly citizens who live in District 67 are protected.

Helping to strengthen our economy's future

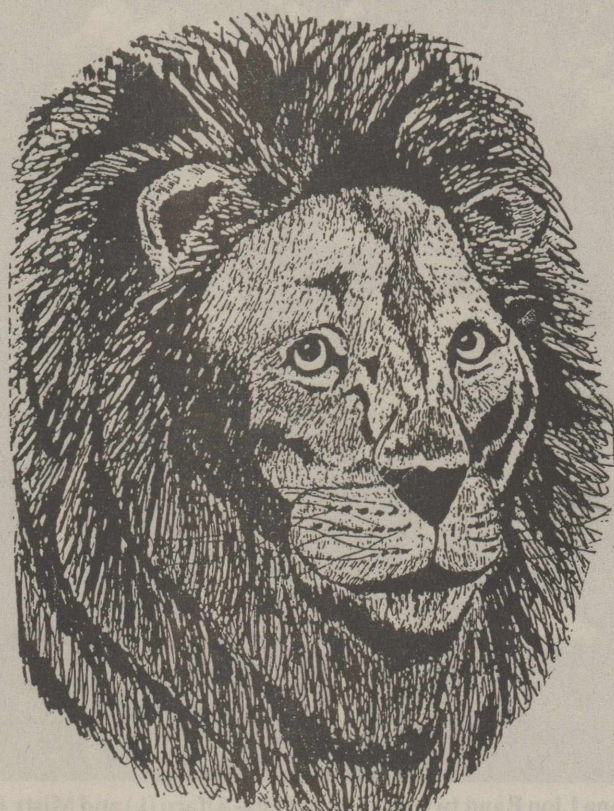

As someone who grew up on his family's ranch inside the District, Harvey appreciates the core strength of agriculture in the economy. As always, however, the future of our economy will greatly depend upon the availability of water. As an appointee to the Natural Resources Interim Study Committee dealing with the Edwards Aquifer, Harvey is working to ensure a fair resolution in any legislation which concerns that critical source of water.

Cubs make Hawk stew

by J. L. Tucker

The Ozona eighth grade Cubs moved their record to 6-0 with a versatile running attack and an outstanding defensive performance by Julio Martinez leading to a 20-6 decision over the Wall Hawks last Thursday at Wall Stadium.

Anthony Sanchez led the Cubs' rushing attack, gaining 52 yards in four carries, while Martinez, J. J. Lozano, and Joe Esparza added similar yardage and scored a touchdown each as the Ozona offense racked up an impressive 215 yards on the ground. Travis Davidson completed two of five passes for 29 yards and the Cubs defense held the Hawks scoreless.

It didn't take the Cubs long to put points on the board as they scored on their first three possessions in the first half.

After Anthony Sanchez returned the opening kickoff to the Cubs' 37 yard line, Martinez picked up a first down behind good blocking. Facing a crucial third and 14 situation, Davidson found his split end, Chris Sanchez, on a look-in pattern for a big 13 yard gain. Martinez plunged for eight yards and a first down to the Hawks' 34 yard line. Esparza added another first down over right tackle, and Anthony Sanchez tackled on four yards off left tackle. Three plays later Martinez scored from five yards out. Andres DeLaGarza added the extra point for a 7-0 lead with four minutes remaining in the first quarter.

The mighty Cub defense held, and a bad punt snap gave the young Lions great field position on the Hawks' 18 yard line. Esparza took the option pitch from quarterback Davidson and ran around right end for a twelve yard score. DeLaGarza's kick was wide but the Cubs led 13-0 as time ran out in the first quarter.

Ozona's third drive began on their own 23 yard line with 5:43 to play in the first half. The ten play 87, yard dive took four minutes off the clock as Lozano scored from one yard out. DeLaGarza's kick was good, and the Cubs took a 20-0 half time lead.

Linebacker Martinez, who racked up 14 Wall ball carriers, and a tough Ozona defense kept the Hawks offense out of the end zone. DeLaGarza, Davidson, Anthony Sanchez, and Eddie DeLuna contributed five tackles each.

Wall was able to score in the fourth quarter on a defensive play after the Cubs were forced to punt from their 19 yard line. Chris Sanchez's kick was blocked and fielded in midair as the Hawk's defender ran in for the score.

The Ozona victory celebration was dampened by the loss of Joe Esparza, who was taken to the hospital for treatment of a broken leg. Esparza was one of the three Ozona ball players injured at Wall last Thursday. Seventh grader Adam Carroll received treatment for a broken arm, and the junior varsity lost the services of Joe Hernandez, due to a pinched nerve.

The Cubs will be hosted by the Iraan Braves for their last away game of the season. The eighth grade Cubs will play after the seventh game about 6:30 P.M.

Seventh grade Cubs tie with Hawks

J. L. Tucker

The Ozona seventh grade team played some great goal line defense, rushed for over 100 yards, lost their big running back (Adam Carroll) due to a broken arm, but could only come up with a 0-0 tie against the Wall Hawks last Thursday.

Running left and right end sweeps and the option play, the young Hawks moved the ball down field during the second quarter. Facing a first and ten at the Cubs' ten yard line, Wall picked up two yards on an end sweep left. But the Cubs jarred the ball loose on the next play and recovered the fumble with 1:06 remaining in the half.

Casey Upham took the ball on a reverse play around left end and picked up some fine blocking and sprinted up the side lines for a 44 yard gain. But time ran out before the Cubs could take advantage of their good field advantage.

In the second half of play the Ozona team found some offensive punch behind the running of Joby Sanchez and Dario Porras. Porras was able to prove his running style in the third quarter after Adam Carroll went down in a pile and came up with a broken arm. Facing a second and seven from Wall's 29 yard line, Porras powered over right tackle for a first down and added six more yards on the next play, giving Ozona their best scoring threat of the evening on the Hawks' 16 yard line. But the Cubs' drive bogged down, and Wall took over with one minute left in the third quarter.

"I was scared because it was my first time to break my arm," said Adam Carroll. "I just walked off the field, and told coach that I thought I had broken my arm. I was also worrying about my hamburger that I was going to eat after the game."

The Cubs put together another scoring threat in the fourth quarter with Porras and Sanchez picking up good yardage and two first downs to the Hawks 22 yard line. But two penalties and a fruitless passing attempt foiled the Cubs last chance for a victory.

Defensively the Cubs were led by Upham, Lupe Llanos, John Usner, and Chad Bruns.

Next week the Cubs will travel out of town for their last away game of the season. They will be hosted by the Iraan Warriors. The seventh grade Cubs will begin at about 5:00 P.M.

Don Smith of Ozona, (right) and his brother Ralph of Westland Michigan had a happy reunion this week. The brothers had not seen each other for 35 years. They spent twenty years in the Air Force, being stationed on opposite continents during that period. Employment with Bell Telephone and raising six children with wife Shirley in Michigan kept Ralph from seeing Don all these years. Ralph and Shirley plan on traveling to Amarillo from Ozona for a reunion with another brother, Daniel, whom he hasn't seen in 30 years.

Meador tops in sales increase

Barbara Meador, a local Avon representative, was honored last week in Kerrville as the district salesperson with the greatest increase during the year. Mrs. Meador was also lauded as number five in increase for the 3,600 plus division, which covers almost half the state.

A Mrs. Albee statuette, named for the woman who founded Avon in the 1800's, was presented to Mrs. Meador at the President's Club Banquet Oct. 23. Only 15 percent of all Avon representatives are named to the President's Club.

"I'm a shy person; it's hard to get out and do this," said Mrs. Meador of her sales. She shares credit for the achievement with her customers and her product. "I never thought I could sell," said the successful and recently turned full-time sales lady.

Accompanying her to Kerrville for the awards banquet at the Sunday House was her husband, Doug Meador.

Mrs. C. W. Taliaferro and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taliaferro have returned from a month-long stay in Arkansas and Missouri where they have business interests. While away they visited with Steve Taliaferro and his family at Cassville, MO.

The beautiful leaves are just now beginning to turn according to Mrs. C. W. Taliaferro.

Not everyone traveling through West Texas along the interstate feels about the area as Elroy Bode does in This Favored Place.

An article titled "Freeway from Hell" in the Oct. 14 issue of the Houston Chronicle focusing on the stretch of I-10 between El Paso and Sonora portrays travelers as desperados and law officers as an endangered species authorized to shoot at the drop of a hat.

While it is true there are many hardcases traveling the interstate and our law officers do lay their lives on the line each time they go on duty, the article does nothing but harm to this part of the state. Impressionable city dwellers reading "Freeway from Hell" would fear for their lives whether on or off the interstate should they somehow land in these parts.

I-10 is a lifeline, not only for West Texas communities, but for the nation's commerce.

Congratulations to the regional qualifying cross country track team and Lion Band. These two groups will compete Saturday with the tracksters in Lubbock and the band in Wichita Falls.

One of the pluses of living in the wide open spaces sometimes turns into a minus when you have to travel such great distances.

Small percentage of children experience night terrors

Scary Halloween costumes may give some children nightmares, but more frightening for parents are a child's night terrors.

Unlike nightmares, which are emotionally caused, night terrors are a physical condition that causes children to abruptly "awaken" in the first half of the night. Although their eyes are open, children with this problem are still asleep. Symptoms include screaming, rapid heart beat and breathing, dilated pupils, goose bumps, confusion and disorientation.

"During a night terror, a child is not in a state to be comforted," said Dr. Letha B. Cole, clinical associate professor of psychiatry at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "A parent should stay with the child and wait until it passes."

There is no known cause for night terrors, although they are linked to brain processes during sleep and growth. Onset of night terrors usually occurs between ages 4 and 12 and disappears in early adolescence.

Cole stresses that if the night terrors continue beyond age 12, then the child should be evaluated by a mental health professional.

Only one to four percent of all children experience night terrors, and in 96 percent of these cases, someone in their family had them.

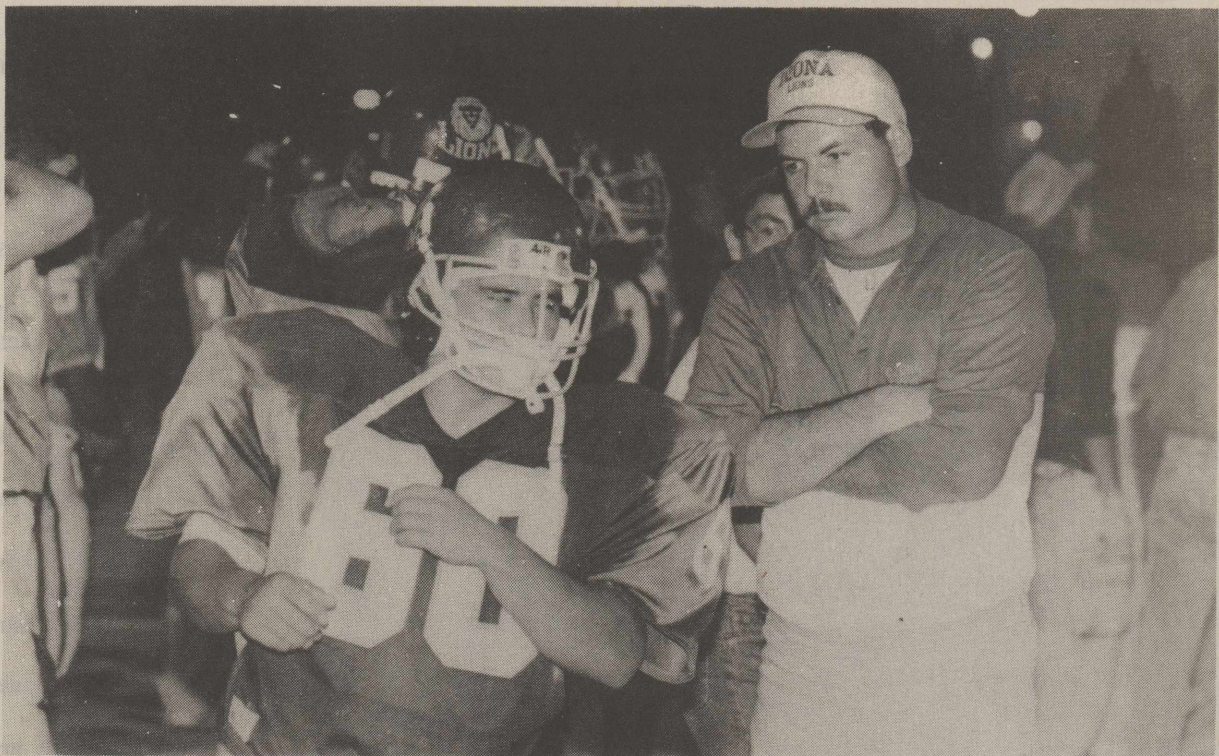

Nightmares, on the other hand, are bad dreams from which the child awakens distressed, but not confused or disoriented.

Overstimulation, such as frightening costumes or horror films often seen at Halloween can cause nightmares.

"Be aware that young children cannot differentiate between what is real and what is not," Cole said. "Ask the person in costume to remove the mask so that the child can see the difference."

Frequent nightmares are a sign that the child is worried about something. If there are other changes in behavior, then parents should seek professional help for their children.

"Parents need to realize the difference between night terrors and nightmares," Cole added. "They shouldn't worry about an occasional occurrence of either because they are part of a child's natural growing process."

Bentsen urges everyone to vote

Democracy is not a spectator sport. As Texans vote on their future this Tuesday, Nov. 6, don't be caught reading about the results from the sidelines and regret that you were not one of the participants.

Each vote makes a difference. Yes, millions of people will go to the polls on election day, but only the vote you make ensures that you have a say in your government.

Consider these results from past elections:

If one voter in every precinct across the country had stayed home on election day in 1960, John F. Kennedy would not have been elected our 35th president. The same was true of Harry S. Truman's election in 1948 and Woodrow Wilson's in 1916.

In 1962 Karl F. Rolvaag was elected Minnesota's governor by a margin of 91 votes. The closest governor's election in American history occurred in 1801 when David Hall was elected governor of Delaware by a margin of only 18 votes. More than seven congressional elections have been decided by one vote.

Of the 69,694 votes cast in New Haven, Connecticut's 1954 mayoral election, William Celentano won by the switch of a single voter. The same thing happened in Huron, Ohio in 1955.

In a 1953 town council election in University Park, Maryland, Walter Jeffers literally elected himself by casting the only vote in the contest.

Among the more colorful tales told on Capitol Hill is the one about the congressman from California who was seeking his party's renomination a few years back. He and his opponent each received 10,429 votes. In accordance with state law, they drew lots to determine the winner and the challenger won.

Gatlin receives degree

Tracy Gatlin, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Phillips, received an associate degree in mortuary science Oct. 18, 1990, from Commonwealth College of Funeral of Houston.

He is now employed by Foley's Funeral in Houston.

Mrs. Gatlin is the former Deena Phillips.

The loser of that race sank into political oblivion, the story goes, because his secretary was so busy on election day that she didn't take the time to vote.

No country or people have been given the right to vote without a struggle. Around the globe this year, many people have been discovering democracy for the first time, marching, hunger striking and even revolting to gain the right to choose their leaders, a right that we Americans often take for granted.

The people of Texas deserve the best leaders they can get. Only through voting will they get the leaders they deserve. The polls will be open across Texas from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. If you'll be out of town on Tuesday, Nov. 6, or if you just want to beat the crowds, you can vote before the election.

Voting is not only a right that American citizens enjoy, it's a duty. We owe it to those who have given their lives to defend that right to make sure that the dreams they died for live on with us in our hearts, in our minds, and at the voting booths next Tuesday.

Happy Birthday!

WIC participation increases birthweight, reduces medicaid costs

A new study demonstrates that Medicaid costs are lower and infant birthweights are higher for pregnant women who receive healthy foods and nutrition education during their pregnancies from the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC). The Crockett County WIC program directed by Karen Huffman, RN, provides food and nutrition services for approximately 100 local women and children each month.

The new findings, released Oct. 1 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, reaffirm the positive impact of the federally-sponsored WIC program for low-income women and infants, according to Debra Stabeno, Chief of Texas Department of Health's Bureau of WIC Nutrition. The one-year study sampled five states including Texas which serves more than 300,000 WIC participants each month. "These results are exciting," said Debra Stabeno, "They show that Medicaid eligible pregnant women who participate in WIC have healthier babies. These babies require less Medicaid assistance after birth than do babies of low-income pregnant women who don't participate.

"Unfortunately, WIC is only able to serve 25 percent of the people who are potentially eligible for the program in Texas. Maybe this study will help us secure additional funding to serve more people," she said.

For every dollar spent on prenatal WIC participants eligible for Medicaid, there is an associated savings in Medicaid costs during the first 60 days after birth for newborns and their mothers.

In Texas, prenatal participation by Medicaid recipients in the WIC Program resulted in estimated Medicaid savings of $573 for each newborn. Other outcomes attributable to prenatal participation in WIC include: an average overall increase in birthweight of 77 grams; an average increase in birthweight of 165 grams for premature infants; a 3.4 percent reduction in the incidence of low birthweight, a .4 percent week increase in gestational age; and a 4.2 percent decrease in premature births.

"The WIC Program is a sound investment of taxpayer dollars. We now have additional proof that money spent on WIC saves Medicaid dollars," said Stabeno.

In Texas the WIC program is administered with $150,004,058 in federal funds which accounts for 96.4 percent of program's annual budget.

Gas. It's A Natural For Reliability.

America's reserves of natural gas are vast. Unlike oil, which increasingly comes from foreign sources, virtually all of our natural gas is produced right here in North America.

From an environmental standpoint, gas is the cleanest burning of all fossil fuels. Increased use of gas can help reduce atmospheric pollution such as acid rain. So, gas can be relied upon to help clean up the environment.

What's more, gas is a reliable way to save money on heating your home and providing other forms of household energy. For example, over five years a gas water heater saves on average, hundreds of dollars in energy costs. In addition, natural gas heats water faster than electricity.

Finally, gas is always readily available. Think about it. When is the last time your natural gas went off?

Gas. For cleanliness and cost-efficiency, it's a natural for reliability.

Meet the teach

By Ann Trull

We at Ozona High School would like to take this opportunity to welcome Mr. Rod Miller to OHS.

Mr. Miller is a former graduate of Ozona High School, moving here from Odessa when he was a sophomore. He graduated from Angelo State University with a degree in computer science. His current duty at OHS is teaching the data processing computer class. Mr. Miller began his service on Oct. 8.

Outside interests for this new faculty member include being active in church, rodeoing and roping steers. He and his wife Kim have a daughter, Victoria. He is the son of the late Jay Miller and Sue Love.

"So far the faculty has been very good, and the students are really cool," commented Miller.

ChemSolv strikes merger agreement with Quaker Petroleum Chemicals Company

ChemSolv Corporation of America, a Fort Worth based oil field chemical company, recently merged with Quaker Petroleum Chemicals Company of Houston to create one of the top four oil field chemical companies in the Southwest. The two intermediate-sized chemical companies have joined personnel and assets to form a significantly larger corporation under the new name of Alpine Labs, Inc. Alpine Labs' new management team will include Robert Borgers as president and Ray Walsh as general manager. The new corporate headquarters will be based in Fort Worth, Texas and will now cover a seven-state area with blending plants centrally located in Fort Worth and Odessa and Great Bend, Kansas. The company will have 41 distribution centers and eight strategically located analytical laboratories to service a variety of petroleum industry needs.

ChemSolv had been in business since 1954, then Borgers purchased it in 1975. It grew from a total of one salesman and one secretary to a sales force of 24 with a total employee count of 65.

Quaker Chemical Corporation of Conshohocken, Pennsylvania, entered the oil field chemicals market in 1983 by purchasing and combining three small companies into Quaker Petroleum Chemicals. They are headquartered near Houston and have about 40 employees.

Borgers said that in addition to doubling sales and distribution of oil field chemicals, a significant part of the merger is that Alpine Labs will have exclusive rights to market Quaker's product, Sulfa Scrub, a newly patented hydrogen sulfide scavenger for natural gas and other petroleum industry applications. "Sulfa Scrub is the only product on the market that doesn't leave an insoluble sulfur residue which causes plugging and disposal problems," Borgers said. "Not only is Sulfa Scrub cost effective, its hydrogen sulfide reaction product is classified as non-hazardous according to EPA regulations".

Election Day Nov. 6

Absentee voting in the Nov. 6 General Election continues through Nov. 2 at Crockett County Courthouse. A total of 264 votes had been cast by 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Nov. 6. Voting locations are: Pct. 1 - courthouse; Pct. 2 - junior high; Pct. 3 - civic center; Pct. 4 - primary school; Box 36 - WTU Power Station.

"Hunters for the Hungry" help others

If you have always wanted to help the hungry but didn't know how, there is an affordable way that you can help low-income Texans through hunting.

"Hunters for the Hungry" is a cooperative project by state agencies, state associations and other people who care about fighting hunger in Texas.

The program's goal is to provide hungry Texans with a source of low-fat red meat. It works through the combined efforts of hunters, cooperating processing plants and Texas food banks. Hunters harvest deer that are then properly tagged and take them to participating processing plants.

The hunter is responsible for a $15 processing fee ($25 if the hunter asks the plant to cape out the deer for a trophy mount and keeps the trophy). All animal skins will be the property of the processing plant when the animal is donated, unless it is a trophy animal, in which case the trophy's hide and antlers will be returned to the hunter for mounting.

The meat is ground and packed into two-pound packages to be picked up by food banks. The food banks make arrangements to distribute the venison to the needy through their network of qualified charitable agencies.

If you have any questions about the program or if you wish to find out more about food banks or participating processors, call 1-800-9929-SOS.

Start planning for healthy holiday eating

From now until the New Year, tempting high-fat, high-calorie dishes will be the common denominators at parties and get-togethers.

It's easy to excuse holiday indulgence - the food looks and tastes so good; everyone else is eating; it's a special occasion; no one wants to offend their host by not eating; and - there's always tomorrow.

Just remember that calories are influenced by portion sizes and the way food is prepared. Here are some calorie-cutting tips:

-Watch serving sizes. For example, cutting meat portions from six to three ounces can reduce calories by one-half. Remember, most foods are okay once in a while - just don't make them a habit.

-Use turkey or chicken broth instead of fat when making gravy. Fat can be reduced by a third in gravies, sauces, puddings and quick breads without any noticeable changes in flavor or texture. Substitute nonfat yogurt or cottage cheese for sour cream in many recipes.

-Have baked or mashed potatoes with plain non-fat yogurt or cottage cheese instead of a lot of butter, margarine and sour cream.

-Cut down on high-fat foods such as butter, margarine, sour cream, salad dressings, fried foods, fatty meats, cream sauces, gravies and whipped toppings.

-Cut down on sugary foods like candy, soft drinks and other sugar-sweetened beverages, jams, jellies, syrups, honey, fruit canned in heavy syrups, etc. Sugar can be reduced by a third in many holiday desserts. If a recipe calls for a cup of sugar, for example, use two-thirds cup. This works best in fruit-based recipes and in making puddings and custards. The sugar in cookies and cakes may also be reduced, but it will take some experimenting on your part to find the right amount.

-For holiday parties, make hot chocolate with skim milk and sugar-free cocoa mix. Limit the eggnog; try hot apple cider for a no-fat, no-cholesterol warm-up.

-Select cooking methods to help cut calories. Cook food with little or no added fat and avoid deep-fat fried foods. For meat and poultry, trim off visible fats, either boil or roast on a rack, if braised or stewed, drain meat to remove fat. For fish, broil or bake, and for vegetables, you need to steam, bake or broil.

The Extension Office welcomes new secretary Peggy Dickerson

And don't forget to plan in some exercise to burn off extra calories. If you can't deny yourself some special holiday goodies, try extra exercise!

Walking briskly for 30-40 minutes per day, riding bikes or playing basketball with the kids, or following a toddler around the Halloween Carnival should do the trick.

Anyway, have a safe holiday season--from now till 1991--and remember to call the Extension Office for information on foods and nutrition, safety and many other topics affecting home and family. Our number is 392-2721, or you can come by our office, located on the second floor of the courthouse annex.

Educational programs and information provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.
