

BEATING THE SUMMER HEAT--Bradley Durham, the four-year-old son of Jimmy and Katy Durham of Lockney, has found a fun way to beat the summer heat, by playing on his Slip-n-Slide. These neat cooling devices were quite popular several years ago and have now returned, like tie dyed shirts, to fascinate a new generation of youngsters. --Staff photo

Police report juvenile taken in custody following disturbance

On Saturday, July 23, at 8:30 p.m. the Lockney Police Department and the Floyd County Sheriff's Department responded to a disturbance at the M and I Cabins on east Shurbet Street in Lockney.

The disturbance resulted in one female being transported by private vehicle to Lockney General Hospital where she was treated and released with apparent stomach injury which she allegedly received after being hit with a pipe by a juvenile male.

One juvenile male was apprehended at the scene and transported to the Lubbock Youth Center where he remained until Monday.

Monday of this week he appeared in a detention hearing in Floyd County.

Investigation of the case continued at press time.

CAT BITE INVESTIGATED

The Lockney Police Department would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Ubaldo Ochoa for their help in locating a cat that had bitten 10-year-old Kory Harrison, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harrison, on the leg. Kory was bit on Wednesday, July 20, at West College and 5th Streets in Lockney.

After the police department and a number of concerned neighbors searched for the cat for approximately 24 hours, it appeared that Kory would have to undergo a series of painful rabies shots.

Fortunately, on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ochoa located the cat and called the police department who were able to destroy the cat, enabling Dr. Paul Glasson enough time to send the head of the suspect animal to Austin where it would be tested for rabies. The test results were reported Monday and found to be negative and Kory will not have to undergo the series of shots.

The police department would also like to thank Dr. Paul Glasson, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Widener, Red Carthel and David Norwood for their help in this matter.

Scarecrow contest to be among fair events

The time cherished tradition of making scarecrows and putting them in the garden is a tradition worth remembering and to that end, a scarecrow contest has been added to the slate of events at the 1988 Floyd County Fair.

The contest is open to anyone interested in making and displaying a scarecrow. Anyone, from the older more experienced maker to the youngest member of the household interested in making a scarecrow, is welcome to enter.

All scarecrows must be set up between 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, August 17 or between 9:00 a.m. and noon Thursday, August 18. Scarecrows will be set up inside the fair building and will be displayed throughout the three day event. Judging will take place at 1:00 p.m. Thursday.

Judging will be based on a point system which will include a possible total of 40 points for creativity (eye-catching and unique), 20 points for construction (ability to stand alone in a Southwestern garden) and 40 points for authenticity (scary to people and wildlife).

Prizes for the event will be 15 free carnival tickets for first place, 10 carnival tickets for second and five carnival tickets for third place.

Scarecrows must be picked up from the fairgrounds between 9:00 and 10:00 p.m. Saturday, August 20, the final evening of the fair.

Whether or not the old fashioned scarecrow actually does ward off critters and crows, they are certainly fun and challenging to make so plan your scarecrow now and have it ready for the annual Floyd County Fair.

Football physicals set

Shoes and socks to be issued

The Lockney High School athletic department will be holding its annual football physicals on Friday, August 5, beginning at 4:00 p.m. at the field house.

All Lockney Junior High and high school students who intend to play football should plan to be at the field house for physicals at this time. Physicals are free and will be given by Dr. W.J. Mangold, Dr. Gary Mangold and Dr. Elmo Prater.

Parents are encouraged to have the acknowledgement of rules and medical history forms completed and returned with athletes at the time of the physicals.

Also on August 5 at 8:00 p.m., a meeting is planned at Lockney Elementary School, in the cafeteria, to explain the insurance policy and coverage for athletes. Some changes, in this area, have been made by the insurance company and all parents and athletes are asked to please attend this meeting.

Prior to physical day, shoes and socks will be issued to all high school football players on Wednesday, August 3, from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. All athletes are asked to pick up their shoes and socks at this time.

Tech students to work with local staff for the summer

The Lockney Beacon will be helped out for the next few weeks by Lisa Head, a Texas Tech journalism major.

Lisa will be writing feature stories for The Beacon. You will notice her by-line on the Mary Lou Bollman story this week.

Born and raised in Orange, Texas, (just outside of Beaumont), Lisa moved to Lubbock to attend Texas Tech. She is majoring in journalism with a minor in sociology.

"I hope to pursue a career in broadcasting in T.V. news," said the 22-year-old student.

The journalism students are loaned out to any interested newspapers requesting help. The work is part of their internship program. It is possible through grants supplied by Readers Digest to the Texas Tech Journalism Department.

Lisa is joined by fellow student Sharon Thames who will be doing features for The Hesperian.

"We are very pleased to have these students with us," said Alice Gilroy, editor of the Floyd County newspapers. "They are energetic, enthusiastic and very eager to work. They bring new ideas with them which we always welcome."

Monday's lightning storm downs power

An early morning lightning storm moved into the city of Lockney in the early morning hours Monday. With it came destructive lightning which downed power for about three hours.

According to Southwestern Public Service manager Robert Webb, the lightning hit a substation at Aiken and also hit three poles northwest of the city.

The lightning which hit the Aiken substation burned up a resistor which knocked power out in that area. The three poles northwest of Lockney that left was a large pile of splinters."

Power was restored to the customers north of town by 8:00 a.m. Monday. Aiken substation area residents had their power back by 9:30 a.m. Crews from the Plainview SPS offices responded to the Lockney scenes.

The storm also dumped varying rainfall amounts as it passed through this area. Rainfall totals from .15 to 1-1/2 inches of rain were noted.

Mary Lou Bollman discusses favorite hobby

(Editor's Note: The following story was written by Texas Tech journalism student Lisa R. Head, provided to this newspaper by Tech's School of Mass Communications through a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

By Lisa R. Head

"It's the best hobby you can have, older people can get interested in it and go wild," said long-time Lockney resident Mary Lou Bollman about her favorite pastime, genealogy. Genealogy is defined as a recorded history of one's ancestry—the study of family descent. It has become the source of countless years of fun for this lifetime Lockney resident.

This hobby began during a genetics class attended by Bollman at Texas Women's College in Fort Worth. Although she earned a degree in home economics, Bollman was unable to teach upon her return to Lockney due to a lack of available teaching positions.

"It can take a lot of time," Bollman said. "Start with yourself and go from there," referring to lineage tracing. Those interested in genealogy should consult family records, family Bibles, and the library holds a wealth of information, she said.

Bollman could probably start her own museum with all of the history in just her living room. She treats collecting memorabilia as if it were a paying job. A major achievement through her genealogy work includes reuniting a mother and daughter following a 55-year separation.

But she stressed that her most significant contribution in life was having children, and following marriage to Henry Bollman, the couple had four of them.

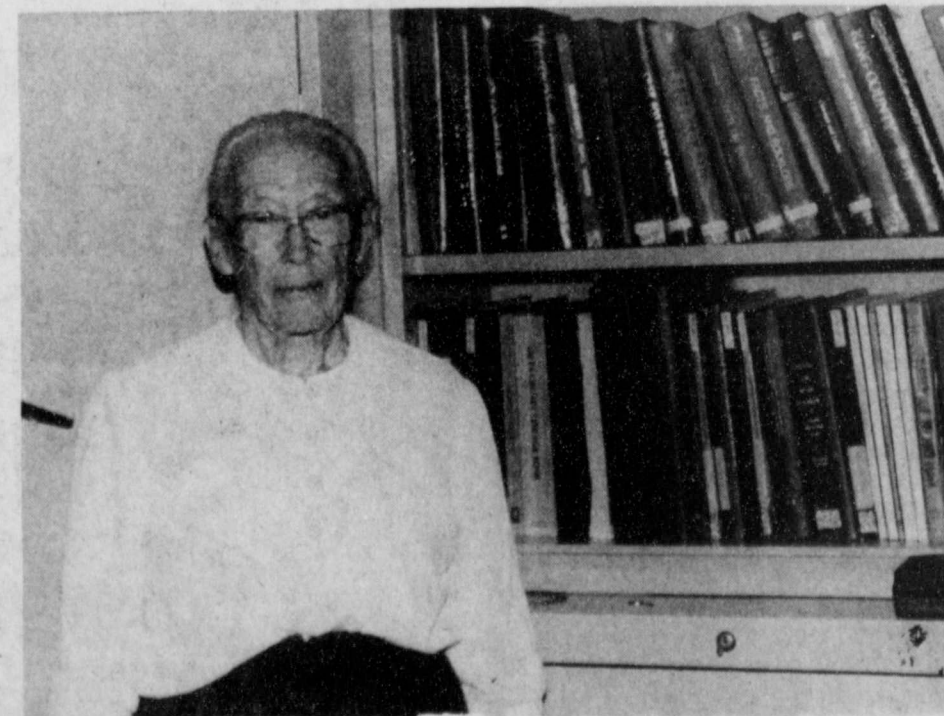

"Having kids out of state makes big long distance telephone bills," she said explaining that daughter Louise now resides in Delaware. Children, Nancy Graham of Floydada and Wiley Bollman of Lubbock did stay close to home, but youngest son Bill, who recently gave her a grandson, lives in Houston.

Another hobby Bollman enjoys is quilting. She is a member of the Lubbock Quilters Guild and has helped with the patchwork of several quilts donated to the Ronald McDonald House of Lubbock. The Ronald McDonald House is a place for terminally ill children and their families to stay during hospitalizations in the Lubbock area.

On occasion, Bollman can be seen at the local cemetery locating graves for curious friends. She was recently interviewed by Karla Leslie, a Lubbock news anchor, for finding the burial spots of many confederate soldiers.

All of the information possessed by this woman leads one to believe that if a person is unable to locate a dictionary or history book, just memorize the telephone number of Mary Lou Bollman.

Co-op members earn dividends

Members stockholders in the Lockney Cooperative were presented checks which totaled $25,535.49 in dividends during the 31st annual stockholders meeting on Thursday, July 21.

Hal Sandefur of Sandefur and Swindle, an accounting firm in Lubbock, reviewed the condensed balance sheet with members present for the meeting. The Coop showed a net profit for the 1987-88 year, which ended March 31, 1988, of $112,071.93. Sandefur told members "you have a very strong equity in your cooperative and as for the past several years, you have no long term debts. This business is in strong financial position."

Delton Stone, manager of the business, was then called on to present his report. Stone commented, "The patrons of this business are what make it work. Thanks to your support we are in good condition. I am proud of the patrons who use the Coop."

Stone also commended the board of directors for "their sound business judgement." He then introduced the board members which include Paul Schacht, Charles Huffman, Bill Bigham, Sterling Cummings, and John Lee Carthel. He also recognized board members wives, his wife, and the employees of the Coop.

Stone said in his report that "I had not expected 1987 to be a very good year, with the hailstorms which hit here on July 12 and 14, 1987. After those I was just about ready to give up, however, after a little time, we began to see that the cotton that was left would be very good, so good in fact that we did have to run the gin at South Plains. We had not planned on this. The gin department did end the year in the black."

"The elevator came out very well. We handled 52,862,000 pounds of grain last year. Also the pool on corn was very profitable for our customers. Storage was real good last year with most facilities full to capacity, however the prices paid for storage this year are going down."

The Coop sold all of its anhydrous rigs to customers and are carrying notes for those customers if requested. At the present time the coop has rebuilt the storage facility at Sterley, which collapsed about five years ago. They are also furnishing ammonia fertilizer from the Sterley facility. "We can now deliver it cheaper if customers are willing to go to Sterley for it. Due to the railway there we are able to accept deliver there and sell it to our customers cheaper," commented Stone.

Stone also told members that the liquid and dry fertilizers are selling well and that he is expecting the fertilizer department to end 1988 in the black. He also informed members that the warehouses at Lockney and South Plains are now stocking bearing and parts for various farm machinery and they have some spray parts. The Lockney Coop is also now a distributor for P and R Surge Systems in addition to handling various animal feeds, seeds, and fertilizers for lawn and garden.

Stone informed members that the gins will be in top condition by ginning season. "We are rebuilding the interior machines and we have added a new module truck which will give us four trucks. The crops are looking very good and we will be ready for harvest in all departments," said Stone.

Stone was able to report more good news to stockholders. "Plains Cotton Coop has decided to retire the 1987 stock and our members will be receiving 45% of $1 million or about $2.27 cash per bale. Also the oil mill has reported to us that we can expect some very good seed adjustment checks in September or October."

Stone concluded his report by saying that "1987 was a decent year and we are expecting 1988 to be very good."

Board president Paul Schacht then took the floor to comment, "We are appreciative of all the hard work Delton gives to the operation of the Coop."

NEW DIRECTOR ELECTED

Joe Cunyus, chairman of the nominating committee, reported to the membership that they had selected Larry Adrian to oppose John Lee Carthel on the ballot of the directors election. Carthel was seeking to retain his chair on the board and following tabulation of the ballots, his was returned to his seat.

A new nominating committee for the 1989 meeting was selected. They will include Danny Lambert, Ira Henderson and Buck Taylor.

There was no old or new business to be taken care of so door prizes were awarded.

Stacy Bigham drew the winning numbers and lucky winners received several 100% cotton towel sets, two pocket calculators, a head set radio, an ice cream maker, a wet/dry shop vac, a 35mm camera, a cordless phone, a VCR and a $400 Coop gift certificate.

All those attending enjoyed a catered chicken and steak finger dinner prepared by Danny's Fins and Hens of Lubbock.

Line Series, grades 2 and 3 (must have this tablet)

DON'T MISS IT!

A daily fun event will be a donkey caravan out into the Sierra Desert (the back sand dune) to visit the great storyteller. Sorry, we couldn't find a camel.

A marketplace of Bibletimes will be set up out-of-doors in the courtyard and lot next to the Lockney United Methodist Church. Shops will be under tents and the Well in the center of the Marketplace will be the site of many happenings. Small tents scattered around the grounds will be the home of the families of many Biblical tribes. THERE WILL BE NO CLASSROOM STUDIES.

Thompson's Pharmacy are softball champions

July 5 proved to be the day of victory for Thompson's Pharmacy as they became the 1988 Lockney Women's Softball Association's champions. Until the last game of the season, Thompson's record of 10-2 was tied with that of the Pretenders who were defeated by the Knights by the score of 10-7 in the season finale.

The Knights' win placed them in a tie for third place with Providence and the Pretenders claimed second place. The Knights-Providence tie was broken based on comparison of the team's records against each other.

Providence, having defeated the Knights twice in league play, was declared the third place winner.

Other teams finished as follows:

Knights, 7 wins, 5 losses

Thunderettes, 4-8

Cargill, 4-8

Asgrow, 1-11

All-Star team is chosen

Over 100 women from Lockney, Floydada, Plainview and Hale Center participated in women's softball while many more spectators enjoyed all 42 games.

Of those 100 players, two from each team were chosen by the coaches for All Star honors. These were Martha Torrez and Marva Salisbury from Asgrow, Lynda McCarver and Kim Wall from Cargill, Linda Cruz and Esther Garcia from Pretenders, Viviana Eguia and Lorraine Williams from Knights, Teresa Harris and D'Lyn Morris from Providence, Margie Cisneros and Sarah Hinsley from Thompson's, Toni Ibarra and Becky Mathis from Thunderettes.

This All Star team will represent
