MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

District Judge P. A. Martin is southern born, southern in his education and no doubt southern in his sympathies as well as his political affiliations. His father was a gallant Confederate soldier; the judge holds a membership in the organization known as the Sons of Confederate Veterans. Just now there is an organization which calls itself the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, makers and rulers of the Invisible Empire very much in evidence. Governor Neff has sent a message to the lawmakers of Texas concerning these knights of the Invisible Empire. Representative Patman of East Texas has introduced a bill aimed at the organization and if it should become a law Patman and those who are in sympathy with him hope to crush the Invisible Empire, its masked riders and its program of law eforcement without the pale of the written law of the land. Judge Martin was the principal speaker Thursday at the Rotary Club luncheon. His address was masterful, although neither spectacular nor malicious in tone or motive. He reviewed the history of the Ku Klux Klan, whose chieftain was General Bedford N. Forrest and whose birth came at a time when the intelligence of the south was disfranchised and the ballot was in the hand of the former slave, who was both incompetent and incapable of making intelligent use of it. Admitting that the secret organization of reconstruction days had an excuse for existence in those dark and memorable days and many knightly acts and deeds to its credit, Judge Martin said that a congressional inquiry showed that many crimes had been committed against life and property by men who claimed to be members. His remarks received the closest attention and that part of his speech dealing with the recent birth and the rapid spread of the new Knights of the Ku Klux Klan held the rapt attention of his listeners. He gave a brief yet forceful review of the growth of the Invisible Empire Klan under the leadership of William J. Simmons of Atlanta, and his caustic references to the perpetrators of many outrages in certain sections of South and East Texas won for him approval of the Rotarians and their invited guests. His denunciation of the masked mob claiming to be members of the Ku Klux Klan who in an East Texas town had dragged a woman from her home to the woods, stripped her of her clothing and covered her with tar and feathers, was blistering to say the least. No matter how bad the woman may have been, he said, this shameful outrage and the indignities inflicted upon her should bring the blush of shame to every citizen of Texas who loved decency, a fair trial by jury and law and order. Referring to the deplorable conditions at Goose Creek in South Texas, he said that the organization and depredations of a lodge of the Ku Klux Klan had lead to the organization of an Anti-Ku Klux Klan, all operating without the pale of organized government or written law and constituting a grave menace to society and representative government. Object lessons, he said, were appealing lessons. Men follow their leaders. Men emulate the examples of others in the higher stations or walks of life. If leading citizens of Wichita Falls organized a branch of the Ku Klux Klan, then all other citizens of lesser note, in the eyes of the community, would deem it proper for them to become members of the Invisible Empire organization, which sets aside the written laws of the commonwealth and substitutes penalties such as whippings, rail-riding, tar and feathers or notices to leave the community under pain of death. Not only the men, but the boys of the community following in the footsteps of their fathers would organize junior klans and wreak vengeance upon their youthful fellows who had aroused their ire or won their displeasure. Judge Martin was cool and without passion in the delivery of his address. He appealed to the Rotarians and the guests of the Rotarians present to look upon the Invisible Government and its chiefs and its rank-and-filers as a menace to law and order, a breeder of strife and bloodshed, an invitation to the criminals of the communities of the state to organize and masquerade as invisible agents of law and enforcement for purposes of pillage and arson and to expell those of their neighbors whose goods and chattels they coveted or whose presence they deemed undesirable. He admitted that the spread of the klan in South and East Texas was alarming and he unhesitatingly declared that the Texas Legislature should enact a law which would compel all organizations of a secret nature, organizations which conceal the names of members as well as the headquarters of these masked knights of the night to furnish and file with the county clerk of each county a full list of its membership, its aims and its purposes, its local meeting place, its oficers and its state and county headquarters. He warned the large number who had assembled for the Rotarian luncheon, that drastic action was necessary on the part of the legislature or else they may come in Texas days of violence and bloodshed such as marked the annals of Lone Star history when the Regulators and Moderators in St. Augustine and other historic spots maintained rival armies and rival camps, the Regulators bent on regulating the Moderators with gun and knife and rope and the Moderators in their turn determined upon thinning the ranks of the Regulators down to the last man by the same weapons, and all in the name of law and order and law enforcement. Readers of Texas history, the judge reminded his audience, need not be told the course Sam Houston pursued to vindicate the City Council At Adjourned Meeting Agree On Levy to Net $564,000 In Revenue.

Municipal Administration Will Issue Short-Term Warrants to Meet Present Deficit.

A city tax rate of $1.66 was agreed upon for the current year at an adjourned session of the city council, held Thursday at noon.

This rate, according to City Tax Collector H. J. Anderson will bring the city a revenue of approximately $564,000. The rate for 1920 was $1.45 on the hundred dollars valuation and brought in a total revenue of $452,000, according to Mr. Anderson.

A resolution was passed by the council ordering City Clerk George Thornburn to advertise for short time loans to cover the city's present deficit of $200,000.

According to Finance Commissioner Shephard the city will issue time warrants to the lenders, which will be taken up as soon as the 1921 taxes are collected. An effort is being made, Mr. Shephard said, to have the paper all taken up by local banks and citizens.

The $564,000 which is expected to be collected in taxes by the city is expected to cover the present deficit and carry all expenses through the year 1922, according to councilmen.

According to estimated tax rates for schools, county and state, officials at the city hall Thursday estimated that the total tax rate for residents of the city for this year will be in the neighborhood of $3.65 on the hundred dollars valuation, exclusive of taxes for the irrigation district which has not been yet determined.

REFUSES TO CUT PAY OF C. I. A. STAFF

House Declines to Adopt Amendment Reducing Denton School Instructors' Salaries.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—The house late today refused to reduce the salaries of the professors and instructors of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton as proposed in an amendment offered by Representative Bryant. The amendment was similar to those added to the University and A. and M. budgets of the educational appropriation bill which placed the salaries back to their original sums which were raised by the thirty-sixth legislature. It proposed a gross reduction of $16,694 per year for the next two years.

When the reading clerk finished calling the roll on the vote and before the speaker had announced it the members broke into cheers and applause which lasted several minutes. They finally quieted and after Speaker Thomas announced the vote the cheering started with renewed vigor and continued for several minutes.

Although the vote is taken by leaders of the anti-reduction move as meaning that the majority which has been reducing salaries has lost considerably in strength they expressed opinions later that the retrenchment and reduction move might be reinstated when the normal colleges and other state educational institutions come up for consideration. It was pointed out that the majority had been weakening for the past several days while the minority was gaining and the question now is whether the minority will be able to hold the votes gained.

The Burkett law enforcement bill providing for methods of removing officers was killed outright in the senate today when it came up for final passage. The bill was engrossed yesterday by a 13 to 11 vote and on final passage was defeated by a vote of 14 to 10. This bill was substituted for the original bill introduced by Senator Burkett at the request of Atticus Webb, superintendent of the anti-saloon league and which was sponsored by Governor Neff. There was no debate when the bill came up today and the defeat was somewhat of a surprise as it was engrossed yesterday after heated debate and discussion.

The senate by a vote of 21 to 5 adopted the majority report of the penitentiary investigating committee. The minority report opposed the removal of the penitentiary which the majority report proposed.

The senate also heard the report of the board authorized at the regular session to dispose of the Texas state railroad which runs from Palestine to Rusk. Lieutenant Governor Davidson, chairman of the board, in the report showed that the road had been put in shape and was now paying revenues to the state, that the appropriation of $25,000 of the regular session had been repaid with approximately $5,000 additional.

The house refused today to exclude lobbyists and persons not entitled to admittance from the privileges of the floor when granted passes by the speaker. Perkins of Lamar introduced a resolution to that effect and on motion of Morris of Medina, was tabled. During the debate Representative Satterwhite charged that such a resolution was a reflection on the house and the speaker while Representative Merriman charged that it was a bid for publicity. Representative Perkins said that he merely proposed to ascertain the opinion of the house as to lobbyists and meant no reflection on either the house or the speaker.

The house operated undera call today which was automatically called off when the house adjourned tonight.

POLICE STILL WORKING ON ATTACK CASE

Victim Continues Belief That Negro Man and Not White Assaulted Her Monday.

Continuing their probe of the mysterious attack on Mrs. W. D. Bennett on Monday afternoon, as she slept in a rear room of her home at 1309 Sixteenth street, city and county officers late Thursday expressed themselves as still mystified concerning the real perpetrator of the attack, despite the fact that Mrs. Bennett continues in her belief that a negro attacked her, and that she can identify her assailant.

Mrs. Bennett again, on Thursday afternoon identified Hamie Washington, who was returned to the city by officers as her assailant. Assistant County Attorney Wayne Somerville admonished Mrs. Bennett to be careful and sure in her identification, adding that it will be upon her evidence that the state hopes to convict.

After the negro was taken before Mrs. Bennett and re-identified he was removed to a place of safety in a distant city.

The negro maintained his innocence declaring that he was at work at a barber shop on Seventh street during all of Monday afternoon and can establish the fact.

Constable Frank Morgan who in company with his deputies arrested the negro and placed him in a distant city for safe keeping, declared that a full investigation will be made of the negro's whereabouts on the afternoon the attack was committed.

The nature of the attack and the briefness of Mrs. Bennett's period of consciousness during the attack is said by officers to leave the attack still surrounded by mystery, despite the woman's belief that she can identify her assailant.

BEGIN FIGHT TO STAVE OFF DEATH PENALTY

Attorneys for Henry J. Toussaint Move for New Trial Thursday; Means Six Months Delay.

Prisoner Expresses Surprise at Verdict to Fellow Inmates of Jail; Demeanor Unchanged.

A motion for a new trial was filed Thursday afternoon in the case of Henry J. Toussaint, who was found guilty and condemned to die by a jury in the 30th District court late Wednesday afternoon. The motion merely sets out that the verdict of the jury was contrary to the law and evidence in the case and for that reason a new trial is asked. According to defense attorneys an amended motion will be filed later setting out in detail the causes which a new trial is asked.

The action in filing the motion for a new trial practically assures that it will at least be six months before the death sentence could be carried out. Judge H. F. Weldon, before whom the case was tried has until September 1, the close of the present term of the 30th District court to pass upon the motion for a new trial.

In the event the motion for the new trial is overruled, Judge Weldon will set the date for execution at that time.

The case then goes on appeal to the criminal court of appeals at Austin, the court of last resort in criminal cases in this state. The appeal automatically stays the day of execution until the higher court passes on the case. The court does not convene until November and probably would not be passed on for several weeks after the term opened. The higher court can remand the case to a district court here for another trial, reverse the verdict of the local district and render a verdict in favor of the condemned man or affirm the verdict and sentence given Wednesday.

Local attorneys expressed the opinion that should the local district court refuse a new trial final decision by the higher court would not be obtained before the first of the year.

The condemned man, according to jailers, has taken up his life again at the county jail without any change in his conduct. He has always maintained a reserved demeanor toward other prisoners. He has expressed surprise to fellow prisoners regarding the verdict.

FIGHT ARENA BEING USED AS CHURCH

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A boxing arena in Seaside, Rockaway, Long Island, is serving as a place of worship for thousands of Catholic summer vacationists.

The Rev. Joseph B. Brady, pastor of the parish, obtained permission to use the arena when he learned the Catholics in the summer colony numbered more than 15,000. The little church of St. Camillus could not seat so many even though seven masses were held each Sunday.

And now, after the fistic encounters of the week days, the ropes are taken from the ring and an altar placed in the middle of the resined canvas. The seating capacity of the arena is 4,000.

St. Camillus' Church anex, as the arena now is called, affords a picturesque scene on Sundays. It walls, plastered with fight posters and sport pictures are in sharp contrast to the center of the ring where Father Brady, in his ecclesiastic robes, offers the mass.

TELLS SENATE CONDITIONS AT HOSPITAL BAD

Doctor Asserts Deplorable Situation at Old Soldier's Home in Tennessee.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Conditions at the Johnson City, Tenn., old soldiers' home, where former service men are receiving hospital treatment, are so deplorable that unless congress acts immediately the casualty there will be proportionately higher than occurred in the world war, Dr. Forbes of the bureau of war risk insurance declared today before a senate committee.

Agents of the bureau have just completed a secret investigation of the institution in which are quartered nearly 850 former service men and who Colonel Forbes declared were living under astounding conditions of vice, corruption and immorality.

The war risk head brought as witnesses M. P. McInery, the agent who made the investigation and who lived for a week as a "patient" at the home. The latter told the committee of having bought morphine, moonshine whiskey and extract of ginger containing 95 percent alcohol on the home reservation; declared that immoral women overrun the grounds on which the institution is located.

The witness said he had encountered many patients who carried guns and defied the guards to take the firearms away. There was absolutely no discipline, he added and the patients "ran the place to the extent of forcing the executive officers to withdraw the guards from the dining room." Loaded dice and marked cards, he declared, were supplied by "Parasites" from the outside and the patients "drained" of the money given them by the government.

DES MOINES TO OPEN MUNICIPAL OBSERVATORY

By Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 4.—The only municipal observatory in the world, according to Dean Daniel W. Morehouse of Drake university, its chief promoter, wil be opened to the public here during this month. The city council voted the funds for the erection.

Dean Morehouse was led to work for the public telescope by his experience as head of the department of astronomy at the local university for twenty years, in which he came to the conviction that the great majority of newspaper readers are interested in astronomical phenomena. They desire information in this field upon which they can depend and which "will give them a wider knowledge and will be of real benefit in shaping their ideas and concepts in the realm of the oldest and grandest of the sciences," the deal says.

The observatory building is to be equipped by Drake university with a fine nine-inch equatorial telescope. It is to be under the control of the university and open to the public at least three times a week, and at any other time when occasion may warrant.

"The city of Des Moines has erected one of the most beautiful observatories in the loveliest public park to be found in the entire Missouri valley," said Dean Morehouse. "I know of no other city in the world that can boast of such an institution. There are a few observatories supported by municipal universities and therefore open to the public, but I know of no one that is supported directly by the municipality."

PRESS DELEGATES TO SEE LEPROSY ASYLUM

By Associated Press.

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 3.—An opportunity to inspect one of the most modern leprosariums in the world, where the disease actually has been checked and from which leper patients constantly are being liberated on parole, will be given delegates to the press congress of the world, which meets here next October, if plans now under way materialize.

Sixty-five per cent of the patients at the Kalaupapa leper settlement will be discharged on parole within two years, in the opinion of Dr. W. J. Goodhue, for 19 years resident physician there. This estimate is based on results already obtained with the chaulmoogra oil specific, prepared in the laboratories of the University of Hawaii.

At the Kalaupapa colony, which is situated on a promontory of the island of Molokai, connected with the main portion of the island only by a single pass through precipitous cliffs, life is anything but what might be expected. TYLER HERE FOR HEARING ON BOUNDARY

Commissioner Will Sit as Master of Chancery in Claims Against Federal Receiver Delano.

Proceedings Scheduled to Begin Monday and Expected to Continue Thru Wednesday or Thursday.

Claims of operators owning holdings in the federal receivership area against funds in the hands of Frederic Delano, receiver, will be opened Monday at the Wichita County court house, according to an announcement Thursday by Frederick S. Tyler of Washington, who will conduct the hearings as special master of chancery in this instance. The hearings are expected to last two days.

Hearings in the boundary controversary, at which time evidence will be introduced relative to the location of the south bank of Red river will open in Hollis, Oklahoma on Monday, August 15—a change of plan from the opening in Oklahoma City as originally expected—according to a further announcement by Mr. Tyler. Mr. Tyler is a special commissioner for the purpose of taking this testimony on which the United States supreme court will base their final decision in the boundary controversy. After concluding the opening hearing at Hollis, Mr. Tyler will go to Oklahoma where the expert testimony for the state of Oklahoma will be introduced. Following the conclusion of this hearing, additional hearings will be held in the county seat of each Oklahoma county bordering on Red river. Hearings on the Texas side will be opened at Texarkana, and will be held in each border county seat from Texarkana to Childress. The closing hearing will be held at Austin.

Testimony of old residents as to the position of the stream with reference to the bed and banks is expected to feature the hearings at the county seats, with the expert testimony at the hearings at the state capitals.

The recent decision handed down by the supreme court held that the south bank of Red river was the northern boundary of Texas. Contention as to what constitutes the south bank, and to decide which the present hearings are being held, ranges from that of Oklahoma, and of the federal government, that it is on the bluff which lies a considerable distance south of the actual stream at its mean average flow, to that of the state of Texas, that it is at the edge of the water at its average level.

VETERAN BURIED BEFORE CHILD HE NEVER SAW

ANNISTON, Ala., Aug. 4.—While men shoveled earth on the casket which contained the body of James Leroy Disspain, Alabama war hero, who was killed in France, and a bugler sounded "taps" the three-year-old son of the dead soldier, who had never seen his father alive looked on with big, wonderous eyes.

"Why do they shoot those big guns, mamma?" inquired the little fellow of his mother as a squad of former soldiers fired a salute over the dead hero's grave. Disspain's body arrived here several days ago from overseas. He was a member of Company C, One Hundred and Sixty-eight Infantry and was killed in France shortly before the armistic was signed.

HARDING SAYS CONFERENCE TO END ALL WARS

President Thinks Other Nations Will Follow Lead of United States in Move for Peace.

Asks Support of People in Government Trials Over Period of Reconstruction.

By Associated Press.

LANCASTER, N. H., Aug. 4.—Confidence that American institutions are more firmly implanted than ever before and that in the near future America's example will lead all nations to permanent peace was expressed by President Harding today in an address at a welcome demonstration in Lancaster.

The coming disarmament conference, the president said, gave promise of an international agreement that would end wars and turn the attention of mankind to constructive and beneficial pursuits.

He asked for support of the American people in the government's trials over the reconstruction period, and pledged in return that the administration would serve the nation to its highest ability.

The president's speech was delivered from his automobile in Continental square here. After he concluded the crowd broke police lines to crowd about him and shake his hand.

Pays Tribute to Country.

"I am glad to pay tribute to the inspiration of the grandeur of these great natural scenes of beauty among which you live," the president said.

"Today I stood on Mount Pleasant and saw a wonderful picture. In some of the valleys there were clouds and signs of storm bedimming our vision, but above, the peaks rose serene and untroubled. And while I gazed and my mind turned to the affairs of man I said, with some comfort to myself, that though the clouds may bedim we need not lose confidence, for I believe, with all my heart that no matter what bedims the picture, we of America have a god-given destiny to perform which nothing on earth will ever prevent.

"In a century and a third we of the United States have outstripped every record of civilization in the history of this world. To this republic, which had its beginnings in a little group of colonies, now is conceded the leadership of the world.

Witness Gigantic Conflict.

"The story of the world is one stage after another of developing warfare until we of this generation have witnessed the most gigantic conflict of the time. The cost of the conflict was so great that we are coming to have a consciousness and determination that the whole development has been wrong and that acquisition by might is unjust.

"We of this country and all the world are resolved today that warfare ought to come to an end.

"I'm happy to bring you word that your government is doing all it can to have a conference at which the representatives of the nations can look each other in the eye and work together for a way to remove the causes of war and put an end to costly armament. I believe we shall succeed.

"I'd like to have in this country less of toil to maintain armies and navies and more of play to hearten the American mind. I'd like to have a land where there might be more opportunity for wholesome play, not for the fortunate alone, but for everyone."

Referring to his conference at Washington with leaders of various national groups, the president asserted that his contact with these men had deepened his confidence in the soundness of American public opinion. He told how he had received a letter here suggesting that he "behead" all those who had more than their share of wealth and continued:

Leaders Not Wealthy.

"I have never believed that to be the mission of this republic. I wonder what wealth is; I like to think of the leader in the community, of the man to whom those about him turn for counsel and advice. That's the great man of America no matter how you measure his wealth.

"In the past few weeks I have had an opportunity to meet many such leaders—leaders of capital, of labor and of the other groups that make up the nation. And I want to say to you that there isn't one in any group who deep in his heart doesn't want to preserve our America and continue its onward course. Those who are suspected most sometime are the most generous of all, in their tenders of help to those in authority.

"Sometimes you think your government is not alert, but let me tell you—and I care not what party is in power—your government is always trying to serve you as best it can. You can't be told everything that's going on—that's not a practical plan—but it's fair to tell you that your public servants are honestly, and to the best of their ability, trying to promote the fortunes of our common country.

America Firmly Founded.

"And I believe with all my heart this day, though we have our discouragements and our depression, that America is more firmly founded than ever and that the things for which we stand have come to have the approval of all mankind; and I hope that before the next four years shall have expired these things for which we stand will be so firmly rooted that mankind will give its attention to permanent peace and to the higher purpose for which we were created."

WORKMEN LAYING PAVING SURFACE

Workmen began Thursday morning to lay the bithulithic covering on the stretch of Eighth street paving from Bluff to Brook streets.

This stretch, which opens another route to the city business district for citizens of the western section of the city, is expected to be completed by the end of the month, according to the announcement of officials.

ESCULATOR CLASS TO HAVE PARTY TONIGHT

Love for Erring Wife Leads Father On Two Months' State-wide Search

How the love of a penniless father for his two year old son, led him on a two months search over two states after a runaway wife, how he sometime barely escaper starvation and how he forgave the wife to regain his child were all told Mrs. C. E. Ousley, secretary of the Welfare Council Thursday by a 38 year old man as he asked for assistance to get back to his home and job at Pueblo, Colo.

The man declared that his wife ran away with another man two months ago, leaving no indication of her destination. Having barely any funds, the man said that he 'beat' his way to Texas on freight trains. He visited numerous towns and cities, he said, seeking the woman and child.

Without funds and without food for twenty-four hours for either himself or the child, the man asked that he and the boy be fed and assistance be given that he might return to Pueblo.

"I have a job there and can feed and clothes myself and boy, if only I can get there," the man almost sobbed.

The boy was covered with grease and grime and sobbing with hunger. He had accompanied his father, 'riding the blinds' from Abilene to Fort Worth and from Fort Worth to Wichita Falls.

The man was provided with meals, given railroad fare to Amarillo, where he said that he had friends, who he believed would advance him funds to buy transportation to his home in Colorado.

Legionnaires Sail for France as Envoys of American Good Will; To Revisit Historic Landmarks

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—With the banner of the national commander of the American Legion fluttering at her masthead above the flags of all nations, the liner George Washington sailed from New York this morning, bearing a party of 250 Legion members, who will revisit old landmarks at the official invitation of the French government.

The Legion party is headed by John G. Emery, national commander and among the delegates from all states and representing every arm of the service are Franklin D'Olier and Henry D. Lindsley past nations commanders.

A direct passage will be made to Cherbourg, where officials of the French government and a color guard from the American forces in Germany will greet the Legion party. President Millerand and Premier Briand will receive the tourists in Paris, and Marshal Foch will join the m Flirey, where a monument will be unveiled, a token of esteem to America, given by the citizens of America, given by the citizens of liberated Lorraine. Major-General Henry T. Allen and a company of infantry from Coblenz will attend the unveiling ceremony.

Cablewrams from Legion men already in France assure the pilgrims that the French are prepared to do their utmost to entertain the representatives of their former brothers-in-arms. The official itinerary includes visit to Blois, Verdun, Rheims Chateau-Thierry, Toulouse, Lyons, Strasbourg, Metz and Bordeaux. The tour will be made in special trains.

At Blois the Legionnaires will attend the dedication of the statue of Joan of Arc, presented to the French city by the Joan of Arc committee of New York city. At Verdun the party will spend a night in the famous citadel, and at Rheims they will take part in the ceremony surrounding the presentation by President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia university of the three-million-franc gift of the Carnegie Foundation of the Rheims Municipal Library.

To Lay Cornerstone.

At Chauteau-Thierry the Legion party will witness the laying of the cornerstone of the "Pont Roosevelt," which will replace the wrecked bridge across the Marne defended by American machine gunners.

The visit is expected to do much toward promoting the interests of the Interallied Veterans' association designed as a small—but effective "League of Nations." This was a project initiated by the late F. W. Gaybraith, Jr.

"That we are making this pilgrimage," said Mr. Emery, "is proof that the war-alliance of America and France was based on righteous concepts. More than two years have passed since we fought side by side and many friendships have been broken in that time, many agreements and associations repudiated. But the friendship of America and France pesists. It endures because it rests on something more binding than the formal agreements of a statesman. It is based on a common understanding and a oneness of aspiration that live deep in the hearts of the two great democratic peoples.

"This representative group of Americans, coming from every part of our country, goes to France to receive the tribute that the French pay to America through us. We go, not as individuals, but as envoys, representing not only the war veterans but, I am assured, the whole nation. Mindful of this, we shall bring back the good wishes of the French to all Americans."

NO. 6 GOSE REPORTED AT 300 BARRELS

Drilled into the sand at 1625 feet, Chandler & the Texhoma Oil and Refining Company's No. 6, Gose, was reported Thursday night as showing up for a 300 barrel producer.

The same company's No. 2 Taylot has also been drilled in, and is estimated at a 200 to 250 barrel well. The limited capacity of the pipeline in this new pool makes it impossible for wells to be operated at capacity, and for this reason an exact test of the new completions is not possible. Storage capacity is also limited.

The Texhoma's runs during the past week has averaged around 900 barrels, the other producers bringing the total for the new pool up to 1600 to 1700 barrels daily.

The completion of the Texhoma's line from the field to the refinery in North Wichita, will not be possible before the first of September, according to present estimates. Failure to receive the pipe on schedule time is responsible for this delay, it is stated. Some of the pipe has been on hand, and on the ground for several weeks but a couple of car loads are yet due.

CONNER WELL HAS 350 BARREL SHOWING

With a showing of 350 barrels, from the present depth in the sand, the W. E. Conner No. 5, McCluskey, offsetting the North American Roxana No. 1 Ford, a sensation of two months ago, has been drilled into the top of the 2170 foot sand, according to Thursday's field reports.

A second good well reported for this district Thursday was the Oklahoma Petroleum and Gasoline Company's No. 5, McCluskey, a 300 barrel well in the 1900 foot sand.

PRISONER IS HANDED THE RUBBER ICE PICK

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 4.—As a mathematician James May wins the rubber ice pick, says Prosecutor Tate, of the Criminal Court bars. May is in jail awaiting trial on two charges of forgery. He was recently convicted on a similar charge and appealed the case to the Supreme court.

Recently May admitted to Tate that he is an escaped convict from the Missouri state penitentiary and that he has four more years to serve in the latter institution. While awaiting the action of the Supreme court, May wants to be returned to Missouri in order that he may begin serving the unexpired portion of his sentence there.

"I'm serving time here and am getting no credit for it," he told the official. Tate is investigating.

Meanest Husband Found

Crippled by rheumatism until she is barely able to move the length of her tiny one-room shack and with three naked pickaninnies to feed a negro mother who was recently referred to the welfare council for care is declared by Mrs. C. E. Ousley, secretary, to be the victim of what she believes is the meanest husband in the world.

The negress, according to her story to Mrs. Ousley, was forcibly ejected from her home, on a farm near Rotan, and forced by her husband to come to Wichita Falls. The negress declared that her husband said he would kill her if she attempted to return or failed to ride to the destination he had chosen. She said that her illness and inability to work were the chief reasons that prompted her husband to eject her. She also declared that her husband gave her tickets for herself and brood to Wichita Falls, but allowed her no money to purchase food.

She also declared that her husband was paying marked attention to a negro woman in the community where they lived and that it is her belief that he had placed the other woman in his home.

After a consultation with Police Chief Morgan, Mrs. Ousley, announced that it is expected that the woman will be sent back to Rotan and officers there asked to force the husband to provide for his sick wife and young children. The children have practically nothing to cover their bodies according to the report of persons who have investigated the case.

CONDITIONS IN DISTRICT MUCH BETTER

Unemployment Situation In Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas Easier Following Business Revival.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS,
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—Optimistic reports with regard to the unemployment situation were given out today by the department of labor for the seventh district, which includes Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

With regard to the general business situation in the entire country, the report says: Despite an obscure outlook there is manifest a very general opinion which everywhere agrees as to the certainty of an approaching business revival and varies only in the predicted time it is destined to arrive.

Agricultural demands have eased the unemployment situation in some of the larger cities, says the report of the seventh district, while general conditions are expected to show betterment as a result of extension of credits by the Federal Reserve Board for handling the coming cotton crop.

Much Construction.

There is a large amout of residence construction, road work and other public improvements under way. Mercantile trade is steady, oil, railroad repair shops and packing houses are quiet. Lumber, with a falling off in the foreign demand, is dull, a number of mills being closed and others operating on reduced schedules.

General business improvement is looked for after all crops are harvested. With regard to Texas specifically, the report says: Much unemployment and part time continue in oil, packing houses, railroad repair shops and cottonseed produce, though in some respects the industrial situation has improved. Building is active and the housing situation is easier; jobbing and retailing are quiet. Business men do not anticipate any great improvement until all crops are harvested.

Bad in Fort Worth.

In Fort Worth unemployment is greatest in railroad repair shops. The oil industry, packing houses, which are on a 50 per cent basis, and among unskilled labor though the situation has been improved by the demand for farm help and the repatriation of a number of Mexicans by the Mexican government. An automobile plant and a packing plant, each employing 300 have shut down. Housing is easier, though the building trades are slack. Retail trade is active for this time of year.

In Houston unemployment is greatest in unskilled labor, railroads repairing. Packing houses, cottonseed products and oil are quiet with metal trades on a 35 per cent basis.

Await Lower Prices.

The housing shortage continues, though there is much building activities. Several large buildings projects are held up in expectation of further reduction in costs. The general tendency is to await expectation of further reduction in costs. The general tendency is to await lower prices in all lines. No marked improvement is looked for during the next three months.

Conditions are reported much the same in Dallas, Galveston and San Antonio. Unemployment is confined principally to unskilled labor in Galveston, while Dallas and San Antonio report much unemployment particularly among unskilled laborers.

Miss Wilton Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wade, at 1907 Elizabeth street, has returned from Abilene, where she was the guest of Miss Catherine Hodges. A report of a party given Saturday is contained in a clipping from the Abilene Reporter, as follows: The occasional visits of Miss Wilton Wade of Wichita Falls are always the source of much pleasure to her friends and her stay here the past week was made a very happy one for her by her many little friends. One of the most delightful affairs planned in her honor was the swimming party of Saturday afetrnoon with Miss Catherine Hodges the hostess.

STYLE SCANDALS

Of all the inconsistencies of which we consist, the most ridiculous are to be found in our manner of array. In winter we pride ourselves in low, furless neck. When the thermomstor registers ninety degrees, we don "summer furs" and bright sunshiny yellow colors. Last February we kept cool-headed in our straw hats and in July we are struggling to popularize felt as a material for hot weather headgear.

At this stage of civilisation we are boasting our athletic prowess, and at the same time adopting a new mode—the narrow shoulder effect. It is made by lines of rimming in the back or by humping over in front, stimulating the hollow chest and protuding abdomen—anything but the soldiery bearing we admired so much a year ago.

When ye were a pedestrian people, we hobbled tipsily on exaggerated French heels; now that we ride in autos, we make ourselves comfortable in wide, low heeled shoes.

When swimming was only the accomplishment of the elect we had bathing suits so homely that they could not be made more so by oceans of witer; but now that everybody swims, o tries to, we bedeck ourselves in swimming suits so ornate, filmy and, bruffled as to be fit only for beach romenade. Materials for bathing suits range from gingham and chambray to satin and crepe de chine, the later fortunately prohibitively high priced and not likely to become popular.

For the mermaid who means business, there is the sensible black and white, gray, or navy wool suit much like her brother's. It is sleeveless, short skirted and plain. With it she wears a bewitching gay cap, and with the waves she can do things which make her the envy of the beach promenaders.

Swimming is exercise de luxe. It strengthens the whole body as no system of physical culture can. It reduces the over-fat and hardens flabby muscles.

To swimming is the saying true. "Well begun is half done." It is much easier to learn that is realized by the novice and once the fear of trying it is conquered the battle is half won.

THE MODERN MOTHER

Honor to the lovely mothers
Of the days of long ago,
With their shoulder shawls and knitting
Dainty caps and curls of snow!

We revere the faithful mothers
Of the days but shortly past,
Homekeeping, and aged at forty,
Kind and gentle to the last.

But we love the modern mother,
Who can share the life and joys—
Understanding well the problems
Of her growing girls and boys;
Who can face the world undaunted,
Active, pretty, strong and sweet,
Never old, but merely—someday—
Stopping—one task incomplete.

WOMAN-I-TORIALS

The Meditative Mood.

In his poem about Daffodils, Wordsworth says:

"For oft, when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that inner eye
Which is the bliss of solitude."

We who are always up and doing miss much of the sweetness of life which appears to "the inner eye" and comes only to those who sometimes are "in vacant or in pensive mood." Bunyon, with he world shut out from his prison gave us "Pilgrim's Progress." Milton, seeing only with "the inner eye' wrote "Paradise Lost" and we have now Miss Florence Golson of Stumpka, Alabama, the blind girl, composing a winderful "Spring Symphony." It is not necessary to be imprisoned or blind to catch soul visions, but it is necessary at times to shut out sense distractions. It is this which frequently makes a hospital bed a vehicle to the festive land of dreams.

To Mothers of Boys.

The government of the United States, through its war department, will conduct nine summer camps, each accommodating about a thousand boys over sixteen years of age. Through a month of military training it will prove that it can do much to develop them physically, mentally and morally. Since it is patriotic service to attend, the government will pay all expenses, including transportation, and furnish everything needed. This will make available to the poor boys of the country such fine camp training as has for twenty years been enjoyed by rich boys.

Are We "N. G.?"

The census taker has a pernicious habit of cataloging the home-keeping woman "N. G."—by which he means non-gainful. We think of the slang meaning of "N. G." and don't like it. The University of Nebraska estimates the farm woman worth $4,000 a year. At least the rural sister should be classed "G." The worth of us urbanites has yet to be discovered.

It's a Sign They Mean Business.

In the Cleveland Convention of the League of Women Voters, the committee brought in a budget of eighty million dollars and raised it in a few minutes ! ! !

THE PICNIC PARTY

The auto has brought "Birnam Wood" near to "Dunsinane." What was a prohibitive distance in pedestrian days is noy only seven minutes by flivver; and frequent picnic parties are expressing our idea of "the pursuit of happiness."

There are two kinds of picnics: the lady-like kind, where you have service and silver; and the roughing-it kind, which appeals to men, and to children and to vigorous, out-door women.

The fun of the near-to-Nature picnic is the little preparation it takes—far different from the old-time kind for which we baked and brewed and worried our tempers the whole day before. We used to choose for our menu chiefly "trimmings." Being cold, they failed to satisfy; and being knick-knacks, we over-ate and made a childish celebration of it.

Now we choose real food, a balanced ration, pack it into the auto and, all together, have the fun of cooking it in theopen.

The menu is something like this: Buns, between the halves of which we slip a wienie, roasted on a stick, or hot hamburg, or bacon and eggs. We have a salad which we assemble while the men fry the eggs, and while Tom and Jenny make the lemonade. If we feel that our appetite is to be very hearty, we bring along hot baked beans or creamed potatoes from home. We carry these in a thermos outfit which consists of one can inside a larger one with a layer of shredded newspapers between. With the addition of merevxGltilyn,aDan Uwersoul—kceeo less cooker ehis will keep hot for hours. I'erhaps we make coffee in a pail over the fire or bring it from home in a thermos bottle.

With care we have found in the shops cookies and cakes "like mother used to make." These we eat with ice cream brought packed or with tapioca pudding, or with delicious fresh fruit. We utilize the dying embers of our fire to roast marshmallows on our wienie-sticks from which the men have shaved the wienie flavor.

A large lard can into which to pack the lunch suits us better than a basket. Liquids we put into milk bottles with their paper caps on. They pack easier and are less liable to be broken than fruit cans, and can be arranged so they will not upset in the lard can. A damp towel should be wrapepd around the buns to keep them moist. After the milk bottles are in the lard can we pack all the small things around them and fit the lid on tight to keep out the dust. A child may sit on this can while we ride to the woods. When unpacked we use it as a receptacle for water.

Unless we are certain of good drinking water we carry it from home in a thermos bottle. The coffee water, being boiled, gives no danger from typhoid contagion.

After we have burned our paper plates and napkins, we put out our fire with sand and water to be sure it can do no damage. And, we promise you this, Mr. Land-owner, we will not leave you empty sardine cans, olive bottles, or soiled papers, for we always gather up the refuse and take it home to dispose of in the regular way.

When the picnic is over, we put all our outfit of utensils together in a convenient place where they may be picked up quickly when someone honks the horn for the next joy-ride.

SMILES

Smith has "money to burn"
And he'd be a fine catch;
And the best of all is—
He is hunting a match.

She beat him with the rolling-pin
Just every day or two;
And so he got divorced from her,
As was his rightful due.
He has my earnest sympathy—
And this is why I soften:
She "beat him every day or two"—
That really was too often!

The Nile gradually gets narrower toward its mouth.

LINEN LINGERIE

It is ard to tell which pleases women most in fine linen, the luxurious feel of it, or the distinguished look of it. Linen is, of course, the coolest and most delightful thing one can wear against the skin in hot weather, and it has a knack of looking more satiny and lustrous every time it comes from the laundress. These linen undies are never starched—perish the thought! That would spoil the silky softness entirely. The linen is ironed while quite damp; and is ironed and ironed until perfectly dry—that is the secret.

The linen garments are made up simply, with a bit of hand embroidery and narrow, edging of filet lace or hand-scalloping. There are elaborate sets of cobwebby linen honeycombed with lace insertions and motifs, but the average woman prefers, for ordinary use, very simple styles. Handkerchief linen is used for this exclusive lingerie, and hand-made garments are, of course, the most distinguished.

Linen is coolest for summer wear because of its smooth surface, which seems to slide from the skin, and because of its capacity for absorbing moisture. There is no fabric so absorbant as real linen. Many women test linen handkerchiefs and lingerie garments in the shop by touching the fabric with the tip of the tongue, and then turn the material to see how quickly the moist spot shows through. It will show immediately if the fabric is of pure linen threads, and the wet place will spread very rapidly also.

Ashkelon, the ancient city often mentioned in the Bible, is now being explored, one recovered relic being the foot, a yard long, of a gigantic statue.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Cornflake Macaroons—Whites of two eggs, three-quarters cup sugar, two cups cornflakes, one cup grated cocoanut, one-half teaspoon flavoring. Beat the egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually while beating. Fold in cornflakes and cocoanut. Add flavoring and drop by spoonful onto an oiled pan. Bake in a very slow oven.

Note: Bulk cocoanut will be found less expensive than the package cocoanut, if one can be sure of the cleanliness of the supply.

Cucumber, Green Peas Salad—Pare the cucumber and cut in sections crosswise to make cups. Scoop out the center, saving this to mix with the peas. For every cucumber add half a cup of peas, either fresh ones crooked and chilled or canned peas, drained from the liquor. Add a teaspoon of grated onion, salt and paprika. Marinate with French dressing and let stand an hour while the cucumber cups are standing in ice water. Drain and dry the cucumber cups arrange on lettuce leaves, fill with the prepared mixture and top with a spoon of mayonnaise. A strip of pimento makes an attractive garnish, or lacking this rounds of green pepper placed on top of the mayonnaise with a dash of paprika in the center gives a suggestion of contrasting color.

PICNIC SANDWICHES.

Picnic season is in full swing. Better lay in a supply of paper plates, napkins and oiled paper, so they'll be on hand at a moment's notice.

Take equal parts of pineapple and banana pulp, two tablespoons of honey, a little grape juice and juice of one lemon. Mix well. Cut bread thin, spread and serve with ice cream.

One cup ground mutton, one tablespoon ground mint, two tablespoons chopped pickles, two tablespoons lemon juice, one tablespoon chopped onion; season, mix and spread.

Half cheese and half bean pulp, salt and pepper, mix with mayonnaise.

Half pea pulp and half cheese; season; mix with mayonnaise.

Chopped celery and half nuts chopped fine, season, mix with mayonnaise.

Parsley and pimentoes chopped fine, season, mix with mayonnaise.

Butter, green peppers chopped fine, and demon juice, season.

Half cup baked beans, one tablespoon tomato sauce, olive oil to soften, season.

If you're up on your "Alice In Wonderland," as you suttinly should be, you know why they called Lizbeth Ann Palmer "The March Hare." Because she was so crazy. Always doing, saying and thinking things that nobody 'else ever did or said or thought.

The story starts with Lizbeth Ann all scheduled to visit her aunt who lives in another city. En route she decides she'll take a week off and, with her chaperone, explore. She wires her aunt, but the wire is withheld by a rascally butler who conceives a brilliant idea. She changes her mind, but fails to telegraph the change. Once in the city she decides that, as she hasn't told her aunt of her new decision, she will take the week and see the town.

At the station her enraptured eyes rest upon a tall westerner greeting a pair who are evidently his father and mother and who bear evidences of wealth and culture.

"He's a wonderful man," she tells her chaperone. "I feel myself slipping." The crowds separate them. When they meet again the lady is acting as flower girl in a cafe where the young man is having dinner with his father and mother.

In the meantime, at auntie's, a Lizbeth Ann has appeared. Auntie, you see, has never seen this particular niece, and only knows that she is to expect somebody queer and unusual. The Lizbeth who appears is a friend of the butler and has her instructions (instruction):

"Act like a nut."

She does. Of course, you have guessed ere this that there is a plot to rob auntie of the family jewels?

But soon the different paths start in to cross. Follows much confusion. From the melee emerge the false Lizbeth and her butler in the arms of the police and the real Lizbeth in the arms of her westerner.

There are a number of little flaws of direction. You find yourself saying now and then: "Oh, she wouldn't do that," or, "It wouldn't be like that." But the picture, as a whole, does give you a number of hearty laughs and lil' Miss Bebe Daniels cuts another notch in your hearts.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

ARLINE WINS HER MOMENT.

The two of them wandered out into the white night and Arline's laugh was the low one of a woman who knows that she is loved. She let Ned know in every way that she was alive to his sudden need for her, that there was nothing that she loved better than to be the object of his admiration.

Tingling with new-found happiness, she flew away from him, hovered like some gauzy bird of the night just a few feet in front of him, then teasingly told him to catch her if he could.

The night, the music, the moon were all in Ned's senses as with a bound he started after the girl. After all he was a young man and as such claimed a young man's privileges. His own wife did not want him particularly. Well, other women did.

Arline fluttered down the road, laughing as she went and waving to him enticingly every now and then. She disappeared in a small clump of trees, was lost to sight, then Ned came upon her suddenly with a last successful sprint. He had her in his arms, was holding her roughly to him as he pushed back her head and kissed her. Again and again he kissed those soft, willing lips of hers and once or twice she opened her eyes long enough to express to the man her complete delight. She was a witch-woman, a Lorelei, this Arline. And Ned seemed intoxicated by the closeness of her.

"Never stop holding me, Ned," she whispered to him as he pulled her down beside him on the ground. "Never stop loving me."

Again her lips were pressed to him. And again she clung to him gladly.

"Ned, Ned, why did we ever break up. I want you as much this minute as I did back in Kansas City two years ago. I want you much more, oh, much more, my dear." And here she buried her face in his coat sleeve.

"Arline, little girl, look up; don't cry. I guess we've made a mess of things all round, you and I. But it's too late now, and I did think that I was loved by Cherry," he finished with a sigh.

"No one could ever love you as I have done and do. No one. That wife of yours is living for herself only. She'll never give you what I would gladly have given you every minute of the night and day. Look into my eyes, Ned, and see what I mean, look."

And Ned did look until he forgot everything but the fact that this girl loved him better than life, wanted him more than her father's wealth, or the most wonderful career in the world, trust him! Ned Randall, an ordinary man. Well, Cherry didn't, that was sure. The moon winked down at them blandly as they sat forgetting time and space.

Open Doors In Business

The Advertising Designer

This is a business which is growing. It consists in making designs for show card, window card, newspaper and magazine advertising, catalogues, letters, post cards and circulars.

It requires artistic taste and ability, a certain inventiveness in ideas; a knowledge of the line of goods to be advertised, and the people to whom they are to be sold. This requires a knowledge of human nature and the styles. It also requires information as to colors, the printing art, type and paper and what will print and combine well. Usually the designs are accompanied with a few concise and snappy remarks which the artist will write.

This business should be learned by one educated in the high school, at least, and in the art school. The particular branch of it one enters must be studied and this is best learned by working as an apprentice for a time with wages at from $5 to $10. The skilled worker receives pay mounting into the thousands but depending entirely upon her ability. A good living is assured to the expert. This is a step into the advertising agency business.

SPEAKING OF THE WHITE METAL.

W. J. B. made the free coinage of silver a paramount issue in 1896. W. J. B. said its demonitisation was the crime of history and that it had led to the impoverishment of the masses the world over. W. J. B. went down in defeat. He has been going down in defeat most of the time ever since. Richard Spillane, the noted writer on economics, writes for his newspapers that one business in America is booming. That is silver. There is great activity in its production. The world is silver hungry and likely to continue so. Today the United States government virtually establishes a subsidy for its production for, by the Pittman Act, it is to buy from American producers the metal as offered and to pay $1 an ounce.

Silver has a way of disappearing. Asia is known as the Silver Sink. The natives hide and hoard the metal. They hide and hoard gold, too, but there's no such quantity of gold as silver.

While he American price for silver has been established at $1 an ounce the foreign price is about 61 cents.

There has been a shortage of silver for years. This shortage threatened trouble in India in the war period. The jute trade expanded greatly, but suddenly there was alarm. The German government discovered there was only 25 per cent in actual bullion behind the silver certificates used in settling trade balances. They prepared to use this knowledge to bring on a panic. The British appealed to the United States for aid. One of our first acts was to melt down 278,000,000 silver dollars for shipment to India.

That was sufficient for the occasion, but it didn't do for a permanent cure. Moreton Frewen, the British economist, estimates, estimate the world's annual demand for silver at 600,000,000 ounces, while the production has been about 165,000,000. A tremendous amount of silver is used in the arts, trades and sciences. The largest user of commercial silver in America is the Eastman Kodak Company. Silver is used in nearly all photographic work. The "movies" too, eat up silver, the metal being used to coat films.

While there is a five-year limit to the operation of the Pittman Act, mining men expect it to be made a permanent policy of the government, as the world has been runing into a greater and greater shortage of the metal every year.

This New York specialist on economics tells his readers that such a thing as a straight silver mine is rare. About seventy-five per cent of the silver of the United States is derived from copper and lead mines and from complex ores of lead and zinc. Silver has been a by-product, so to speak. With the drastic curtailment of copper and lead production the burden of silver production has been thrown upon the 25 per cent of silver and silver-gold mines.

Before the passage of the Pittman Act there were many gold and silver mines that it did not pay to work on account of high labor costs. Now, with the reduction in labor costs and in commodity prices, together with the establishment of $1 an ounce for all the silver produced in America, conditions have been created almost without precedent in the history of silver mining.

Hamilton W. Baker, mining engineer of Boston, who has been developing silver properties in the Far West, says he expects gold mining will take on greater activity also as labor and other costs are reduced still more.

Nevada, Utah, Arizona, California, Colorado—all the copper-gold and silver states—are reflecting the change in the situation as to the precious metals. The more the margin of profit is increased the greater the production will be. There is no fear of overproduction even when the great copper properties come back into full production, which is not likely to be seen for a long time.

The public had better be wary, however, of all stock schemes based on the new condition in regard to silver. As said before, silver practically is a by-product. The bulk of the metal will come from established copper, lead and zinc properties.

Speaking of revenues, the net income of the Great Northern railway in 1920 was nineteen million three hundred and four thousand dollars or equivalent to seven dollars and seventy-three cents a share. This for the pessimist; this for the growler; this for the bungalow-brained individual who is of the opinion that his country is on the road to hades.

Koreans went on strike at Kobe. Japanese troops shot them down as fast as pigeons are shot by the fat headed hunter. Korea was taken over by Japan for purposes of benevolent assimilation. To keep the natives in the best of temper, they are given the sword and the gun treatment when their manifestations are a bit noisy. It is said to be a very effective treatment.

MELLON AND THE POLITICIANS.

Secretary Mellon has alarmed some of the politicians of his party. They say his tax proposals will "infuriate the people." There are democratic lawmakers who say the same thing.

Regardless of this public confidence in Mellon is growing. He is an astute financier, and hard headed business man. He was called to the Harding cabinet because an astute financier and hard headed business man was needed to pull the financiers of America out of the hole, so to speak.

He is for the repeal of the excess profits tax. He is opposed to a sales tax at this time. He would place a flat tax of ten dollars a year on motor vehicles. It is said there are ten million motor vehicles in the United States. He would increase letter postage from two to three cents. This would be a large revenue producer.

Politicians who are senators or representatives may feel the wrath of the people at the polls but Mellon, does not care the snap of a finger for the wrath of the people.

They demand the repeal of the excess profits tax and a reduction in the surtaxes. There must be revenue produced to meet the expenses of the government, and Mellon is the man who must produce it. He is the head of the finance department of the government and he must provide or rather suggest the best methods for revenue raising.

Mellon did not provoke the war.

He did not precipitate the war.

He did not pile up the war debt.

He is for the funding of the loans to foreign governments.

He is for the funding of the war debt, in order to spread it over a long time. He does not believe that the generation that did the fighting should do all the paying.

He is for the repeal of the excess profits tax. He is for sweeping reductions in appropriations.

Having contracted the war debt, the people must pay. Regardless of political affiliations the safe and sane men of America demand a return to the business prosperity of pre-war years and if Mellon's program produces results, the safe and the sane men of America are not losing sleep over what happens to senators or congressmen regardless of party in the elections of the future.

PENROSE MAY HELP SOME.

An effort will be made in the senate finance committee to revive the amendment to the Fordney tariff bill which the house rejected, placing an ad valorem duty of fifteen per cent on hides and a ten per cent compensatory duty on boots, shoes and leather.

Republican congressmen helped to vote down the amendment on the ground that these proposed duties would benefit shoe manufacturers and the packing kings of America.

Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee, it is said, favors the rejected amendments. Twenty-four western senators are urging the finance committee to put a duty on hides. Senators from New England and the middle states demand duties upon shoes and leather.

It is certain to be an interesting contest, and the hide producers of the southwest are very much concerned. All the tanneries are in New England, thousands of miles from the cattle producing country. All the big leather merchants are in New England and the city of Chicago. All the big shoe manufacturers are in the north and the east.

Shoe manufacturers are not asking for a duty on shoes or leather unless a duty is put on hides. Be it known that there are millions of hides in the warehouses of New England for future use.

This may interest people who wear shoes. There is an over production of hides and shoe wearers are taxed all that the traffic will bear. Don't blame the retailer, he doesn't fix the price.

HARDING AND HIS SLOGAN.

President Harding has a slogan: "The only way to reduce taxation is to reduce expenditures." Slogans are easily made. Tax experts say that the new revenue bill must produce four billion dollars. There is bitter opposition to a sales tax and yet this is the only way to reach millions who do not pay an income tax. There is bitter opposition to a flat tax on automobiles. There is bitter opposition to what is known as the luxury tax and a demand for its repeal. There is opposition to a three-cent letter postage tax.

Well, the American people demanded war; the American people or their government waged and won the war. Now the American people must pay the cost of the war.

"Enormous numbers of buyers are overrunning the leading cities, most of them in search of goods for immediate or very early delivery," writes B. C. Forbes. "All admit that stocks of merchandise held throughout the country are abnormally low. Already the keenness of the demand has raised prices for certain woolen goods and for cotton goods in the primary markets." Dun's review concludes with this sentence: "Without departing from conservative and prudent policies, some interests are beginning to anticipate forward requirements, especially in textiles, and producers are benefiting from the change of buyers' attitude." Sentiment in high places is at least veering away from pessimism, although no great amount of courage is yet manifested in action." Read the signs of the times. They are most encouraging.

Prime Minister Lloyd George insisted that Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, should go to London to arrange the preliminaries for the disarmament conference. This American descendant of Welsh forebears, politely notified the Welsh prime minister of Great Britain that there was nothing doing; that Washington must be the place. And the Welshman in Wales and London saw the point and dismounted. He may come to America for the very substantial reason that Hughes refuses to go to London. Washington is the semi-official capital of the world. Mr. John Bull has been given an inkling of that fact.

London looks for a fair fall trade, but competition with the continent of Europe is said to depend largely on the cheapness of fuel. It is said to be apparent that British purchase of American coal during the great strike played an important part in depressing sterling. Now the British miners are busy and the price of fuel is cheapening. John Bull isn't a pessimist. He may have a crushing load to carry but he makes the best of it and seems to be growing fat on it.

We gather from magazine fiction that it isn't really romance unless one of the parties has a superfluous wife or husband.

With all the states having different laws, it is almost impossible to tell when you are divorced and when you are speeding.

Europe need waste no sympathy on the American proletarit. A bleacher seat is more enjoyable than the grandstand, anyway.

Nature required centuries to transform grass into corn, but mere man needs only a few weeks to transform corn into wild oats.

The statisticians tell us there are more males than females in America, but it must be remembered that the practice of killing husbands has grown rapidly since the census was taken.

On the last day in July hogs advanced to $11.75 as the top price, the highest since last March and the rush of new wheat broke all records. July receipts were 65,000,000 bushels as against 29,000,000 bushels last year. Russia bought five thousand tons of flour in the western American market. Kansas farmers are said to have liquidated part of their indebtedness through early sales and now they are holding their wheat. Prosperity isn't coming to the Kansas wheat growers. It is with them.

"Our railroads, the country's largest buyers, are employing more men now that wages have been lowered," writes B. C. Forbes. "They contemplate early purchases of materials with part of the half billion dollars coming to them from the government. June reports already issued show net income of $30,000,000, against a deficit in the same month last year of more than $10,000,000—the largest system, Pennsylvania, reporting an increase in net operating income of approximately $9,000,000 for the month. Financing by railroads is becoming distinctly easier, so that new railroad issues for the second half of 1921 are likely to exceed $370,000,000 bonds and notes issued during the first half of the year." Sounds good.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

STEPPING HIGHER.

I'm strong for things uplifting, I'd see the world improve; I'd hate to see it drifting into a punker groove; I like to see men striving to gain the heights ahead, but few will stand for driving, though many may be led. And nowadays reforming is driving in disguise; we see reformers swarming with fury in their eyes. When wearied by my labors, and jaded in my soul, I like to join my neighbors in games of crokinole. And though these games be sinful, as moralists declare, they soothe, when I've a skin full of trouble, grief and care. And if reformers sought me, with gentle dance and song, if patiently they taught me wherein the games are wrong, and if I heard them saying their protests calm and meek, no doubt I'd quit my playing, and other pastimes seek. But no, they rant like thunder, and make their noisy raid, and rend the board asunder on which the game is played. They break the grape juice bottles and spoil my prized cheroots, and maudlin anger mottles the maps of these galoots. They talk of jails and fetters, and statutes they invoke, and thus annoy their betters, and make their cause a joke. And if they'd meet me kindly, and say to me, "Old Sox, the game you're playing blindly will land you on the rocks," I'd think them sane and able, I'd listen with respect, and laying board and table quite romtly would be wrecked.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

WE'LL SAY SO

The feminine mind is something
We have never been able to fathom,
Especially in regard to steamboats,
Railroad trains, automobiles
And other pieces of machinery.
The Atlantic fleet anchored
In New York harbor the other day
And among those who went down
To the river's edge to see
The battleships and destroyers
Was a sweet young thing.
She was leaning on the arm
Of a young gent of tender years.
He pointed out the various ships
And the airplanes, etc.,
And she pointed to a large vessel
And asked, "What is that boat?"
"That," said he, "is a battleship."
She gazed in awe upon the turrets
And the frowning guns
And then she said:
"My goodness! Henry,
Ain't it cute?"

So long as we live we shall hold the summer of 1921 in loving memory. We wouldn't take a million dollars for this summer, but we wouldn't give a nickel for another one like it.

They are all wondering what is the matter with the railroads. It is no secret at all. The trouble is that the upper berths are too far from the floor.

DISARMAMENT

If all the nations should disarm
And every fort were made a farm,
If all the battleships were sunk
And all the guns were turned to junk,
Would lack of weapons banish war?
Would we have peace forevermore?
Or would men fight as best they could?
You bet your last two-bits, they would.

HOW DO THEY GET THAT WAY?

New Jersey man went into a restaurant the other day, took another man's clean, new straw hat and walked out without buying even an egg sandwich.

Man went to sleep in Fort Washington park. During the night a breeze sprang up and awakened him. "Hey," he yelled at nobody in particular, "close that door. There's a draught in here."

The mystery hootch boat floats around off Atlantic City outside the three-mile limit and men in motor boats go out and get the cargo. Looks as though Uncle Sam would have to raise the limit.

Man went crazy with the heat and specialist said it was because he insisted upon wearing a derby hat in the summer.

Does anybody on earth know why a taxicab meter always starts with 30 cents registered? No, not even the driver.

New England woman chased a burglar by throwing dish water over him, but you can't always have a pan of dish water handy, as it is too large to carry around.

In these days of adulteration, the first thing we know they will be running milk trains without cowcatchers.

A man with 1,000 Russian rubles the other day blew the whole roll for an egg sandwich.

Breakfast Stories

Mrs. Blank, entering her kitchen one morning, saw a plate and knife and fork that had recently been used. Suspecting that Norah had been treating the good looking ash man, she said, "Norah, what became of the cold chicken that was left from dinner last night?"

"Sure, mum, I didn't think you wanted it, so I gave it to the dog."

"Does the dog use a knife and fork, then?" inquired her mistress, sarcastically.

"Not very well yet, mum, but I'm teachin him to," was Norah's ready reply.

"Alphonse," said the heiress, "I have been thinking."

"Thinking of me, precious?" asked Alphonse.

"Indirectly, yes; I have been thinking that if you married me, everybody would say you only did so to get my money."

"What care I for the unthinkable world?"

"But, Alphonse, I will marry you."

"My own dar——"

"And I will not have people say unkind things about you, so I have arranged to give my fortune to the missionaries. Why Alphonse, where are you going?"

Alphonse paused long enough on his way to the door to look back and mutter, "I'm going to be a missionary."

A couple of young fellows who last year graduated from college were talking of the value of a university education when one asked:

"Do you think Greek has any value in modern education?"

"Certainly," said the other youth. "The Greek alphabet enables a man to know what frat he belongs to."

NO TURNING BACK.

Keep me from turning back!
My hand is on the plough, my faltering hand;
But all in front of me is untilled land,
The wilderness and solitary place,
The lonely desert and its interspace,
What harvest have I but this paltry grain,
These dwindling husks, a handful of dry corn,
These poor lean stalks? My courage is outworn,
Keep me from turning back,
The handles of my plough with tears are wet,
The shares with rust are spoiled—and yet—and yet—
My God! my God! keep me from turning back!

DOGHILL PARAGRAFS

A large cow got after Raz Barlow this morning and pursued him for some distance. He is at a loss to know what the cow has personal against him, as he never harmed a hair on her head in his life.

Poke Eazley's foot, which the cow stepped on a few days ago, is now almost well, and today he caught himself limping in the wrong foot.

DEMOCRATIC CHANGES FORECASTED FOR JAPS.

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, Aug. 4.—Changes, democratic in nature, will probably be made for the court life of Japan and in the relations of the imperial family to the people, as a result of the visit of Prince Hirohito to Europe. It is likely that the printing of photographs of members of the imperial family in newspapers and magazines will be permitted. The military guards which are always established on the occasion of a visit of a member of the imperial family to any place outside the palace will also be simplified, if the suggestions which have been formulated by officers of the imperial household are accepted.

According to one report, the household department requested the crown prince to inquire what he is abroad as to the customs which are followed in the royal family of Great Britain and as to the social works which are undertaken by them. It is assumed that these customs and practices which exist in Great Britain will be adopted here following the crown prince's return to Japan.

TURKS SAY FULL MOON AT NOON GOOD OMEN

By Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 4.—The occulation of Venus with the crescent moon, which was seen here at full noon on July 2 was hailed by the Turks as a good omen in their campaign against the Greeks, for the crescent moon, with a star between the horns, has been used by the Ottoman Turks as their military and religious emblem since the 13th century.

The crescent itself has played a conspicuous part in the history of that part of the world for over 2,000 years. It was made the badge of Byzantium in 320 B. C. when the sudden appearance of a crescent moon revealed the approach of a Macedonian army.

Carlsbad, the famous health resort, is built on a crust, underneath which is a subterranean lake of boiling water, and all the hot sulphur springs have to be ceaselessly watched and the pressure kept down lest the town be destroyed.

PARENTHOOD OF STATE.

From a different angle, but a no less important one, than that of natural parents, is the "Parenthood of the state to the child," Judge Ben B. Lindsey says. "Texas was forced, in the struggle for acknowledgment by the state that it was its duty to educate the child," Judge Lindsey added. "No one today seriously questions this responsibility. Since that acknowledgment the state is becoming more and more the over-parent of the child.

"The 'Parenthood of the state' includes its duty to see that the child is well born. By strictest kind of marriage laws, the state must forbid, as far as possible, the bringing of children into the world unless they come from healthy parents. The child must no longer be the victim of conditions over which it has no control but for which society and the state itself is to blame. When the state is imperiled, it calls the child of 18 to defend it with its life. When the child is imperiled, it has a right to call on its over-parent, the state, to protect it with its wealth.

"The time will come when it will be regarded as a crime against childhood if the state permits that child to suffer undernourishment, due either to poverty or ignorance. Since it is the accepted duty of the state to educate the child, it is far more its duty to feed the child.

"The time to save many a boy bandit is in the nine months before and the nine months after his birth. We must have maternity laws. We must have laws to see that the child does not suffer for the lack of proper nourishment if the parents are able to perform that function, and if they are able to perform it, to see to it that it is performed.

"If this is 'paternalism' then all of your free school system is paternalism, and if free schools are paternalism, then give us more of it. We have the common experience in every city of five children of a wealthy family for whom the state has paid over $25,000 for their free education, and the five children of a poor widow who need to be fed even more than they need to be educated and for whom the expense of education is wasted because of this neglected condition which makes them incapable of receiving its full advantages. Undernourished children are more dangerous to the state than under-educated children.

"It is not the purpose of the 'Parenhood of the State' to usurp the function of the home or to permit the natural parent to shirk, but rather to see that the home performs its function where it is careless, and to see that no child suffers because of poverty where the home is helpless. The state must preserve the home for the child."

MEN ARE "INTERESTING BUT TIRESOME" SAYS.

By Associated Press.

FOLKESTONE, Eng., Aug. 4.—Every woman knows that men, "though interesting creatures, are tiresome, hard to control and are prone to seek their own way in spite of warnings, according to Mrs. H. A. L. Fisher, wife of the president of the British National Board of Education. She told an audience at the Royal Sanitary Institute Congress that most men become ill entirely through faults of their own and "sowed seeds of trouble for themselves by eating too much, eating the wrong things, drinking too much, being lazy, keeping late hours or living in hermetically sealed rooms."

SOFIA POLICE GOVERN WOMEN'S FASHIONS

By Associated Press.

SOFIA, Aug. 4.—A new police regulation just issued makes policemen arbiters of women's fashions. The punishment for the indecent appearance is a fine in proportion with the "crime"—i. e., the dimension of the uncovering of the neck and the shortness of the skirt.

But it is chiefly the moral penalty that frightens the smart beauties—to be escorted to the police station.

Since this regulation was put in force the police of Sofia has thus punished about 20 women.

Who's Who

LADY MARJORIE DALRYMPLE.

LADY DALRYMPLE

Lady Marjorie Dalrymple, six foot three in stature, has arrived in America to embark upon a business career in New York, and to establish branches in the United States for a large concern dealing in all classes of suede goods. She is the only unmarried sister of the present and twelfth Earl of Stair, and was decorated by King George last year with the Cross of Officer of the Order of the British Empire for her work in the war hospitals.

Contrary to popular belief, neither her brother, the present Lord Stair, nor yet his sister, is descended from the so-called Glencoe Earl who is on record as having been the principal instigator of the terrible massacre of Glencoe. Lady Marjorie may therefore consider herself as quite immune from the historic Curse of Glencoe. The curse was a long one, covering much ground. But it provided, among other things, that King William III, who signed the decree for the massacre, and that Campbell of Cenlyon, leader of the band who perpetrated it, should die childless, and that with regard to Lord Stair, no succeeding earl should have three sons until his wickedness in countersigning the decree and ordering the massacre, as secretary of state, had been expiated.

The Glencoe Earl's eldest sister, the Hon. Janet Dalrymple, was the heroine of Sir Walter Scott's popular novel, "The Bride of Lammermoor," and according to Sir Robert Dalrymple-Elphinstone's letter, printed in the Edinburgh Evening Post, dated 21 September, 1820 (apropos of the then recent publication of the novel in question), she had been forced by her mother, Lady Stair, to relinquish Lord Rutherford, to whom she had solemnly plighted her troth, and to wed instead, against her will, David Dunbar, eldest son of Sir David Dunbar of Baldoon. It is on this account that the heroine of the story has always been known in the family annals of the house of Dalrymple, not as the "Bride of Lammermoor," but as the "Bride of Baldoon."

The annals of the house of Dlrymple have furnished the theme for many other romances besides Sir Walter Scott's novel, "The Bride of Lammermoor." Indeed, the matrimonial experiences of the seventh earl, who died a little over a century ago, have proved a perfect gold mine to playwrights and authors for having married the young and lovely daughter of the then Countess of Dysart, the union was dissolved a couple of years later, on the demand of a woman of evil reputation, with whom Lord Stair, while still a bachelor, had been unfortunate enough to spend a few days as man and wife at an inn at Perth. This, according to Scotch marriage law was sufficient to constitute a common law marriage. Nor was it until ten years afterward that the earl was able to secure freedom from this woman, on the tardy discovery that she had already a husband living at the time that she stayed with him at Perth. Before this, however, Lord Stair's real wife had died.

GAME AT 11 A. M. TODAY—PLEASE REPORT

OH, HAPPY DAY! DOROUGH HURLS SPUDS TO ANOTHER WIN, WHILE EXPORTERS ARE BEATING CATS

By C. F. CARTER

You must hand it to a rabbit
When he licks a grizzly bear;
It's a cinch for "Rabbit" Dorough,
For the little feller's there.
He chased that bear from San Antone
To the entrance of his lair,
And the "Rabbit" kicked him for a "gool,"
And never mussed a hair.
And this verse is rather sour,
But we won, and I don't care!
—By the Kopy Kid.

When the Kopy Kid handed in the above, he said rather wistfully: "Could youse use that.? It ain't as good as the stuff that youse use, but could youse use it? It's the truth, whether youse use it or youse don't use it."

"Why, sure, Kid, we'll use it," we cheerfully told him. "That's a better bit of verse than Keats, Shelley, Byron or any of those .300 hitters in the Poetry League ever wrote. That's great, Kid; simply great!"

You see what one victorious ball game will do to a man, don't you? Make a liar out of him, that's what. Of course, the Kid's verse ain't so gol-durn wonderful, but the Spudders smeared the Bears again, 7 to 3 this time; took a firmer grip on first place—and Beaumont kicked the Cats down the ladder on the same day—so we're sufficiently happy and contented to give any kid a chance to break in as a reg'lar author; that's us, Mabel, all over.

Rabbit Dorough pitched a sweet game of ball out at that well known park yesterday p. m. He scattered the Bears' eight hits through seven innings, had only one little flurry of wildness, and pulled gracefully out of that, and performed throughout as a pitcher for the future Dixie Champions should perform.

Behind him, the Spudders failed to play errorless ball—but they played good enough ball to win, which, according to our understanding, is about the sum total of what is expected of a ball club. And they socked the horsehide on the seams with sufficient enthusiasm to send one run after another gently pattering o'er the plate.

Buddy Tanner, who had charge of the team during the temporary absence from the city of Skipper Salm, promised us before the game to win by several runs. He gave strict orders for the boys to get two runs in the first inning—so they did.

Get An Early Start.

Bescher singled to center, and went to second and then on to third when Hruska pegged wild on Danny Gross's sacrifice, Danny also reaching the halfway station on the play. Tex McDonald brought Bob home with a sacrifice fly to center, Gross taking third and also scoring a minute later when Danny Clark poled another sacrifice blow out to Bowen in right. Jake Miller singled to left, but died attempting to pilfer second.

In the third the boys handed Rabbit another run to work on, when Danny Gross, first man up, romped breezily to second on a wild heave to the club house by his brother Ewell. McDonald was thrown out by Tullos, Danny going to third and then scoring when Clark singled to left. Jake Miller forced Clark, and Jake in turn again fell victim to Hruska's good right arm when the Spudder outfielder tried to steal.

Two more runs came home in the fifth, when Tex McDonald led off with a freak two-bagger through short, the bull taking a bad hop past Ewell Gross but stopping dead in the outfield, and Tex reaching second before Connolly or Couchman could retrieve the pill. Tex went to third on a passed ball, and loafed home when Clark belted a hefty double to left. Jake Miller laid one down, but Tiner grabbed the pill, whirled and got Danny at third by a hair. Griggs popped to Hruska; Works singled to left sending Jake to third—and Jake meandered home while the San Antonio outfield and infield was trying to run down Caddy between first and second. Henry finally hit Works in the shoulder with the pill, and he reached the second sack in safety. Kitchens walked, and Dorough struck out.

Bears Finally Score.

The Bruins grabbed a couple of unearned runs in the sixth through an error and a boner by Danny Clark. Tullos lofted to Bescher, and Bowen walked. Connolly hit to Danny Gross, who threw to Clark on second. Clark dropped the throw, and both runners were safe. Henry then smacked one at Clark, and Danny, with a cinch double play in sight, forgot how many were out apparently—and merely tossed out Henry at first, Bowen going to third and Connolly to second. Ewell Gross brought 'em both across the plate with a hard-hit single to right, the inning ending when Couchman forced E. Gross at second.

But the Spudders kept up the bombardment, and gathered two more in their half on a brace of hits, a walk and a hit batsman. The Bears made another lonely unearned marker in the eighth, but they couldn't find the Rabbit for enough hits at any stage of the entire game to be really dangerous.

Today the Spudders will make it four in a row—we anticipate. The game will be played at 11 o'clock this morning, in order to permit the Bears to grab an early train. Let's go out to the park this morning, and wish 'em God-speed, the poor, luckless devils!

PRESS BOX PATTER

God bless you, Beaumont; God bless you!

Far, oh, very far, be it from us to rejoice over the sufferings of a neighbor—but was it not sweet music when the Beaumont bats smote that ball in the eleventh inning, and the dangerous Cats plunged down to defeat? Yea, verily, verily.

Walter Salm departed in a hurry for Oklahoma City Wednesday night, leaving Buddy Tanner in charge. Walter is again on the trail of a twirler—but gosh-darn if we're not afraid to hope, there have been so many disappointments.

Buddy did everything that should have been done in the Skipper's absence—just stepped out and drove the boys rollicking over the Bears' punctured carcass again.

Caddy Works, Danny Clark and Rabbit Dorough are tough guys. Tiner soaked each one of 'em with the ball—but they were as lively as kittens when they took the field again.

Rabbit turned in a rather neat exhibition by striking out four batters in a row in the fourth and fifth frames. He got Ewell Gross and Bob Couchman the last of the fourth, and fanned Hruska and Tiner to start off the fifth.

BEAUMONT-CATS GAME TODAY AT PLAZA AIRDOME

After the Spudders again defeated the Bears today (Please note the large gobs of confidence), Carl Stoecker is going to dish up a little more excitement for the fans by retailing the Beaumont-Fort Worth fracas at the Plaza Airdome at 4:00 p. m.

That some of the other Texas league clubs will hold the Fort Worth Cats in check is the prayer today of every Spudder rooter. The Exporters turned the trick yesterday, and have a good chance to repeat today.

The game will be shown on the Star board, play by play, and should be a battle worth watching. The probable batteries are Meine and Alexander for Beaumont, Johns and Moore for Fort Worth. If Meine shows the stuff he had here recently, the Panthers will have to fight hard to grab the gravy.

TIGERS BEAT POND LAUNDRY NINE IN BATTLE OF BATS

The Wichita Tigers, one of the city's fastest independent teams, defeated the Pond Laundry nine of the Twilight league 7 to 6 last evening. The Tigers overcame a three-run lead in the fourth by hammering the offerings of Stone to all corners of the lot, and piling up six runs. The laundry nine rallied in the last inning, but needed one run to tie when the third man was retired.

SUPERB PITCHING AIDING PIRATES IN RACE

Superb pitching has helped the Pittsburg Pirates in their spectacular attempt to cop the National league pennant. Above are three of the hurlers who are strange to most folk who have been following the Pirates from a distance. Whitey Glazner, in his first year, for weeks led the league in percentage of victories.

RECEIVERS STAGE BOUT IN ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—St. Louis made it three straight over New York today, winning 1 to 0, after a pitcher's battle between Pertica and Nehf. Catchers Snyder and Dilhoefer were put out of the game following a fist fight resulting from Schultz' being rendered unconscious when hit by a pitched ball in the eighth inning. While Schultz was being revived from the blow, the effects of which were not considered serious, a remark by Dilhoefer angered Snyder and umpires and players separated them after several blows had been exchanged. When Snyder left the New York bench shortly afterward he was greeted by a shower of pop bottles from the stands and police were called upon to restore order and see the New York players safely off the field. GUN CLUB SHOOT WILL BE HELD AT 4 O'CLOCK TODAY

Owing to the morning ball game between the Spudders and San Antonio Bears, the regular weekly shoot of the Wichita Falls Gun club will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Considerable interest has been added to the shoot this week by a number of prizes offered for high and low gun in the two events. W. O. Winston has contributed a box of cigars as a prize to the man shooting high gun for the day; the Little Sporting Goods company will supply the low gun men with a box of shells, and the gun club also will furnish the targets for the low man.

The usual events are on the program, 50 singles and 24 doubles.

French war experts have developed a sky rocket which is sent into the air with a time fuse calculated to bring it as close to the invading air squadrons as possible before it explodes. The rocket then releases liquid fire and poisonous gases.

JOHN EVERS "FIRED' FROM CUB HELM

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Johnny Evers today was deposed as manager of the Chicago Nationals. Catcher William Killifer was chosen to succeed him.

Evers, a member of the old famous Cub machine, in the days when Frank Chance was manager of the club, assumed the management of the club this season, succeeding Fred Mitchell. Evers began the year with brilliant hopes and the team started the race well. Then upsets came and instead of being championship contenders, the team had to fight to keep in sixth or seventh place.

Evers, who is ill, will be paid his salary in full until the close of the 1921 season, according to announcement by President Beeck of the Cubs.

HISTORIC IDOL OF GERMANY IS MEMORIALIZED

By Associated Press.

KELBRA, Germany, Aug. 3.—German militarists won't let the spirit of Friedrich Barbarossa rest in peace. They are worse than the patriotic Americans who have trundled poor old John Paul Jones around so unceremoniously in recent years.

Hindenburg and 10,000 other soldiers who fought in both the Franco-Prussian and the recent war, journeyed to this part of Germany and participated in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the dedication of the gigantic Kyffhaeuser memorial erected to celebrate Germany's victory over France and the restoration of the German empire.

This location in the hills between the Thuringian and Harts mountains was selected for the memorial because it is here that legend insists Friedrich Barbarossa, Germany's first great warrior, lived for eight centuries and awaited the opportunity to restore the empire which he founded in the 12th century. Under his son, Friedrich II, the empire went to pieces. But the red-bearded monarch, so the tradition runs, refused to accept the dissolution of the empire as final.

When Bismarck finally managed to re-establish the German empire, the spirit of Friedrich Barbossa is supposed to have risen from the cavern where he slept for centuries and assumed the direction of Germany's destiny. A gigantic statue of Friedrich Barbarossa stands beneath the great Kyffhaeuser memorial and represents him leading Germany on to victory.

Until the defeat of France made Friedrich Barbossa's resurrection possible he is supposed to have lived in a cave beneath the eminence on which the great memorial was erected. A statue of the old emperor within the cave represents him as sleeping with his head resting upon a marble table through which his red beard grew.

Friedrich Rueckert and many other German poets have sung of the red-bearded emperor who refused to die but merely went to sleep, after descending into the enchanted cavern and taking the glory of the empire with him. Ravens were supposed to fly over the hill surmounting the cavern and when they stopped flying the sleeping monarch was to awake and resume leadership.

Like Rip Van Winkle, Fredrich Barbarossa had pygmies for his companion and these droll folk were supposed to keep continually on the watch that they might arouse the sleeping emperor when the ravens gave the signal for him to arise.

Military events in 1918 again upset the dreams of Freidrich Barbossa, and disturbed the peace of Wilhelm II. The perfected legend as typified in the great memorial pile and the resurrected spirit of Barbarossa is again turned back to the 18th century. The ravens still fly about the hill where Hindenburg and his comrades in arms gathered to do honor to the regime which has given way before democratic forces.

Barbarossa's statue still remains in the enchanted cavern and perhaps future poets will extend the legend, or alter it so as to have the restless spirit of Wilhelm I await the opportunity to revive the empire which went to pieces under his grandson.

Waive Honesty Qualifications; Accept Reporter

The court house, after a several day period in which it had been mecca for hundreds, was a quiet place Thursday.

Even the jurors for the week stayed away and caused a situation which is said to be without precedent in local court history.

Some cases were set for trial in one of the courts and one of the accused men expressed a desire to plead guilty. With no regular jury on hand it appeared that the man could not have his unusual wish for immediate sentence gratified.

At the suggestion of the defendant's attorneys an emergency jury was decided upon and a deputy sheriff was ordered to pick up anything that were trousers in the court house.

The usual qualifications as to honesty were waived and four lawyers and two newspaper men were sworn in. A federal official came in with an auto-theft detective and they took their places in the jury box.

A Texas ranger was found on the lower floor, and he was brought up. The two newspaper reporters desired to resign at this point but were compelled to allow the walking arsenal to sit down between them. A court house reporter, a janitor and a regular citizen completed the jury.

Under agreed instructions both from the state and defense the jury returned a verdict in five minutes, four minutes having been wasted in the selection of a foreman. The verdict, needless to say, was for the state.

LEMON DROP CONTINUES IN LOCAL MART

Lemons declined again in the local wholesale markets, making the present price $7.50 a box instead of $8.50 and $9.00. The recent fall of the lemon market has been as spectacular as the rise over a month ago. This makes the total drop in the past few days $4.50 a box.

This drop, following so closely on the heels of the first fall, is said to be caused by general drop in the lemon market outside of this city. The supply here is not said to be excessively large, in fact the continuing warm weather has kept the demand well up to the supply.

No other changes have been reported nor are there any developments worthy of notice in the market here.

CROP DAMAGE IN TEXAS IS BULL FACTOR

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.—Sensational reports of crop damage poured into the cotton market today from Texas causing higher range of values practically from the opening. In the early part of the afternoon the market was at its highest, showing net gains of 25 to 27 points. October went as high as 12.76 and closed at 12.66. Recessions came about every now and then and appeared to be almost wholly due to realizing of profits on the long side. In the last half hour of the day considerable of this sort of selling was in evidence.

While the market hesitated on the first call, it soon got its stride and by the end of the first hour of the day, was 21 to 23 points up. Then followed a period of profittaking by recent buyers and prices eased off to net gains of about ten points. Texas continued to send in highly unfavorable reports on the crop and they had their effect in the later trading when the market went to new high levels for the sessions.

Texas reports related mainly to the effect on the plant of the spell of hot and dry weather which set in a short time ago. Important counties in several sections of the state noted unusual deterioration as the result of weather conditions and localities in Western Texas complained of hot winds.

NEW YORK COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Renewed average of private crop advices and favorable trade reports met increased offerings above the thirteen-cent level for October contracts again today. On the whole, however, the selling was less active than on previous bulges since the bureau report and was absorbed on smaller reactions. October made new high ground for the movement, advancing to 13.17 and closed at 13.12 with the general market closing barely steady at a net advance of 15 to 29 points.

Early cables from Liverpool were lower but prices there rallied before the local opening and the start here was firm at an advance of 12 to 15 points on the very bullish character of crop advices from the southwest. These included a telegram from the traveling representative of a prominent local spot firm claiming that the Texas crop would not reach 2,000,000 bales if conditions did not soon change for the better. There were also scattering complaints of unusually severe deterioration particularly in Central and Northern Texas and unfavorable reports from eastern belt sections on which December soon sold up from 13.48 to 13.60 cents. Reactions of nine or ten points followed this early advance but the best levels of the day were reached in a later trading on reported hedge selling had become less active and that the spot basis was firmer in some parts of the south. December sold at 13.62 and January at 13.56 with last prices only a few points off from the best under realizing. The advance was encouraged by reports of increased activity in the goods market, exporting interests being quoted to the affect that more than 100,000 bales of goods have been sold since the first of the year and that business would be done were goods available for prompt shipment at present prices. Liverpool cables attributed early decline to liquidation and the later advance to poor crop accounts from the south and a moderate spot demand. Exports today 25,343, making 50,724 so far this season. Port receipts, 11,287; United States port stocks, 1,314,987.

LIQUIDATION SENDS WHEAT PRICES DOWN

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Liquidation sales that were ascribed to a prominent New York trader had much to do today with bringing about a material setback in the price of wheat. The market closed unsettled 1¾ to 2¼c net lower with September 1.21¼ to 1.21½ and December 1.24¼ to 1.24½. Corn lost ⅛ to ⅝ to ¾@⅞; oats, ⅝ to ¾c and provisions 5c to 40c.

Persistent slowness of export demand counted as a notable factor in developing bearish sentiment and so too did gossip that spring wheat farmers were likely to sell heavily as soon as threshing allowed.

Increased rural offerings had a bearish affect on corn. Continued heavy receipts weakened oats. Provisions were pulled down by sympathy with grain and hogs.

CROSBYTON HAS WORLD'S FINEST HERD OF JERSEYS

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 4.—According to W. K. Whipple, publicity manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, West Texas, now has the finest Jersey eerd of acttle in the United States, if not in the world at Crebyton where S. A. Guy, formerly of Shreveport has equipped a ranch and purchased over 100 head of the finest cattle that can be secured. His latest purchase was made a few weeks ago from Bull & Sons of New York when he became the owner of "Masterman", champion Jersey bull at a cost of $25,000.

A sub-irrigation system is being installed on this farm for the purpose of producing green pasturage at all times and a 50,000 bbl. tank has been erected. Several new buildings are now in the course of construction, including a large dairy barn where every cow will have an individual box stall with porcelain drinking fountain and a wash bowl for the milker, cork floors and fine wire netting to keep out flys. Another building is being constructed for the employes and will be equipped with shower baths, locker rooms and reading room. A lighting plant of 200 horse power is being erected and electric power will be supplied the town of Crosyton.

Although work has only been in progress for the past few months the Cap Rock Jersey Farm is fast becoming a show place and an asset to West Texas.

Special to the Record News.

The child was rushed to the emergency hospital for treatment, from where it is announced that it will recover.

MOVEMENT ON STOCK MARKET HESITATING

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Movements on the stock exchange today were narrow and hesitating. Trading was light, and tentative efforts to bring about a resumption of yesterday's decline met with no greater success than attempts toward a renewal of the recent upward swing.

The opening was irregular with an easier tendency which soon developed into a definite downward movement. Further profits taking in railroad shares which were marked up earlier in the week was accompanied by pressure at other points, including American sugar, Central leather, General Electric, United Drug and American Locomotive. There were no large offerings as the market eased off, and the decline was soon checked. Short covering and renewed buying of rails brought about a stiffening of the list. The closing was heavy.

Motor shares were bid up confidently on the early rise achieving some substantial gains. After renewing at 5½, call money advanced at 6 per cent. Sterling advanced nearly four cents.

In the bond market there was some slackening of the demand for railroad and industrial issues. Various lines reflected profit taking but there was a good absorption of convertible issues.

The bonds of George Allison, charged with theft by bailee, B. W. Acutt, receiving and concealing stolen property, J. P. Joplin, theft over $50 and J. P. Long, theft over $50 were all ordered forefited by Judge H. F. Weldon of the 30th District court, Thursday morning. The cases were called for trial at the opening of court and when defendants failed to report the bonds were ordered forfeited. The bonds were $750 and $1,000 each.

Upon the request of the district attorney's office, Judge Weldon dismissed the indictments against M. M. Faulk and Paul Bergfeldt. The men were indicted at the recent session of the grand jury of the 30 District court for arson in connection with the burning of a tent at Newtown. Investigations since the session of the grand jury led to the dismissal of the charges.

DALLAS TO HALT BUILDING UNTIL WAGES ARE CUT

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, Aug. 3.—Suspension of building activities until wages are materially reduced probably will be made in this city, it was announced today following a meeting of over 100 business men, contractors and Chamber of Commerce officials.

It was announced that buildings, now being erected, where bricklayers and plasterers are employed, probably will be stopped. Resolutions showing the essentiality of reducing wages were passed at the meeting.

Eppa G. Knight, announced at the meeting, that a story in a local newspaper saying that a contract had been let for the erection of the 25-story building is erroneous and that he would not let the contract until material reductions are made in wages.

CHAULMOOGRA OIL MAY END NEED FOR LEPER SETTLEMENT

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Aug. 4.—Complete abandonment of the famous Kalaupapa Settlement, Island of Molokai, as a deprosarium may be effected within a few years in view of the remarkable results that are being obtained from the use of a new chaulmoogra oil specific, created by Dr. Arthur L. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, in the treatment of leprosy.

No more patients are being sent to the Kalaupapa Settlement because of the success of the specific, all new cases being treated at the Kalihi Hospital, Honolulu, from which patients are often released as cured in less than a year. It has been estimated that within two years from 65 to 75 per cent of the patients at Kalaupapa will have been released as cured. As a number of patients will undoubtedly not desire to leave Molokai, they may be allowed to take up homesteads there.

If present plans materialize, the 450 or 500 newspapermen from forty countries who are coming to Honolulu in October to attend the session of the Press Congress of the World will be taken on a tour of inspection of the settlement and given an opportunity to see what a really modern and efficient institution it is. So impressed were members of the 1921 Hawaiian legislature with the settlement that they granted substantial additional appropriations for it and increased the allowance to and gave other concessions to the patients.

Instead of being downhearted, as they once were, when hope for relief seemed unthinkable, the Kalaupapa patients have taken a new lease on life and have the utmost faith in the new specific, looking forward to the day when they will be cured and allowed to return to their homes.

N. Y. COFFEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The market for coffee futures was lower today under liquidation which was somewhat scattering at the start but later appeared to come chiefly from one of the houses with cotton trade connections. The somewhat irregular ruling of Rio exchange rates may have been a factor but otherwise no news feature was mentioned in connection with the decline. The market opened three to six points lower and sold off to 6.55 for September and 7.08 for December late in the afternoon, with the close showing a net decline of 12 to 19 points. Sales including switches were approximately 61,000 bags. September 6.59; October 6.75, December 7.05; January 7.17; March 7.42; May 7.62; July 7.75. Spot coffee was reported in good demand at 7 1-8 to 7 1-4c for Rio 7's and 9 3-4 to 10 1-2 for Santos 4's.

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The raw sugar market was firm and unchanged at 3 1-4c for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 4.85 for centrifugal. Late last night there were sales of 10,000 tons by the committee United Kingdom. Today local refiners purchased 74,000 bags of Cubas from the committee for August shipment and there were also sales of 18,000 bags of Porto Ricos, all at equal to 4.85 for centrifugal.

There was only a moderate trade in raw sugar futures, but the undertone was firm and prices advanced on covering and commission house buying, closing unchanged at four points net higher. September closed at 3.31; December at 3.13 and March at 2.89 all bid.

The market for refined sugar was irregular. One refiner entered the market at 5.85 for fine granulated while several advanced list prices 15 points to the basis of 6.15 for fine granulated.

The demand was less active and business went mostly to the lower priced refiners who were in a position to make prompt delivery.

Business in refined futures was confined to the August delivery and represented covering but the undertone was firm and closing quotations were unchanged to 12 points net higher. August showed the maximum gain. September closed 6.20; December at 6.15 and March at 5.80 all bid.

DEMAND PRESERVATION OF JOHN ADAMS' HOME

QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 4.—Sentiment temporarily triumphed over modern progress when the Quincy city council delayed action on an order to take a few feet of the John Adams lawn in Quincy for the widening of Franklin street.

Charles Francis Adams, the Quincy historical society and the Daughters of the American Revolution fought the annexation. Adams said that to desecrate the dwelling in which two presidents of the United States were born would be comparable to building a street through Mount Vernon.

Proponents of the order declared it would not affect the John Quincy Adams house and would take but a few feet from the John Adams lawn. Opponents, howeve,r held it would destroy a tree which has long been a landmark. The order was recommitted.

PASTOR FORCED TO RESIGN BECAUSE HE WORE HOMESPUN

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 4.—"Forgive them, for they know not what they do," was the text of a sermon preached in the Jamesville Baptist church by the Rev. Edward MacPhee, just after he had tendered his resignation as pastor, effective at any time his congregation sees fit. The resignation was accepted,, after a stormy debate lasting two and one-half hours.

Mr. MacPhee's resignation was demanded by one faction of the congregation because he was "not up to the social standing of the church and wore homespun clothes in the pulpit, instead of a Prince Albert." Another group insisted that he stay, declaring that, although he does wear homespun, he is "delivering the goods." The resignation is to take effect September 15. Deacon William F. Spring, who led the opposition, declared that Pastor MacPhee never stayed after church to attend Sunday school sessions and failed to make enough pastoral visits among his flock.

Pastor MacPhee lives at No. 610 Park street, Worcester. His wife takes in boarders to eke out an existence, her husband's ministerial salary being on $30 a week. He was ordained while working at the Osgood Bradley shops as a mechanic, and, although he made much more money there, he gave up making trolley cars to preach the Gosper. He has been at the Jamesville church here for several years. After he was ordained he had trouble with his throat and was unable to preach. Until his voince was restored he worked in the car shops.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon Laura A. Atchley by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Seventy-eighth District court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1921, the same being the 5th day of September, A. D., 1921. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 11280-B wherein, J. W. Atchley is plaintiff and Laura A. Atchley is defendant and said petition alleging, that plaintiff and defendant were married on or about the 10th of January, 1895; that they continued to live together until on or about the 5th day of June, 1921, that plaintiff during their married life has endeavored to make defendant a good and faithful husband, working hard at all times for the maintenance and support of defendant and their family; that he has at all times provided defendant with all the necessaries of life to the best of his ability. That defendant unmindful of her obligations towards the plaintiff began a course of cruel treatment towards plaintiff many years ago. The defendant would become mad and angry at the plaintiff for no just cause on his part and would for weeks and months live in a disgruntled state of mind and put and refuse to speak a kind word to this plaintiff during said time; that such conduct continued from year to year until it finally culminated in their permanent separation on the date above alleged; that plaintiff was compelled to sleep away from home some time before their final separation That on account of the cruel and outrageous conduct of the defendant towards the plaintiff their further living together has been rendered insupportable.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays for citation to issue to defendant by publication as the law provides, citing her to appear and answer this petition and on trial hereof he have judgment against defendant, dissolving the bond of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant and that he be awarded absolute divorce from the defendant, and for all costs in this suit expended and have whatever further relief, in law and equity, he may show himself entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1921.

A. F. KERR, Clerk
District Court, Wichita County, Texas.
By EUNICE JACKSON, Deputy.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon Tom W Gresham by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Seventy-eighth District court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1921, the same being the 5th day of September, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 11279-B wherein Roscoe Homan and Manhattan Texas Petroleum Company are plaintiffs and Tom W. Gresham is defendant and said petition alleging that on January 1st, 1920, and now plaintiffs were lawfully seized and jointly possessed of the 7-8 working interest in and to the oil and gas lease and leasehold estate covering the following described property: Beginning at a point which is 799.4 feet south and 330 feet west of the northeast corner of Block 88 Red River valley land subdivision, for the place of beginning; Thence west 330 feet thence south 2.6 feet, west 330 feet thence south 25.6 feet, north to the place of beginning. That defendant Tom W. Gresham unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom and now unlawfully withholds same from plaintiff to their damage of $5000.00. The plaintiff further shows to the court that their assignors and vendors, the then owners of the lease-hold estate above described on or about the 1st day of May, 1919, entered into a conditional contract with H. C. Bluhm and the Missouri Oil Co. for the development of the above leasehold, wherein said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. were to have an undivided interest therein conditioned upon the faithful compliance of said contract; that after drilling said well to the approximate depth of 200 feet, they abandoned same and surrendered all their right to same. That during the time said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. were at work on said lease with full knowledge of said contract, the defendant, Tom W. Gresham contracted with them to render certain service and labor whereby said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. became indebted to him in the sum of $117.00. That account of Gresham was thereafter fully paid by said Bluhm and Missouri Oil Co. but that in the meantime said Gresham made and filed his affidavit together with said account with the County CVlerk of Wichita County, Texas, whereby he sought to fix a laborer's lien on the aforesaid premises to secure said indebtedness, but all of said items in said account had been incurred more than 30 days before the filing of said lien. Wherefore same is voide that said account and affidavit although void constitute a cloud upon their title to said premises.

Wherefore plaintiffs pray that defendant be cited by publication to appear and answer herein as the law directs, for judgment for title and possession of said premises; that the affidavit and account herein be cancelled and the cloud removed from their title for cost and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 3rd day of August, A. D., 1921.

A. F. KERR, Clerk
District Court, Wichita County, Texas.
By EUNICE JACKSON, Deputy.

POLICE TO WATCH PARKS HEREAFTER

Regular police surveillance of all city parks was ordered Thursday by Police Commissioner Fitts. Commissioner Fitts declared that this step is taken to insure keeping the city parks a pleasant spot, in every respect in which to spend their leisure hours.

The officers were instructed to not only afford ordinary protection from suspicious characters, but to watch that no rowdy or boisterous conduct is permitted to annoy patrons of the parks.

EXPERT MARKSMAN FREED OF ASSAULT CHARGE

PROSSER, Wash., Aug. 4.—Because he can kill jackribbits on the run with a six shooter Edward Behn was freed on a charge of second degree assault by Judge James Boyle. Behn was accused of attempting to kill Ed Gordon, but when the bullet he fired at Gordon from a distance of two paces missed its mark the judge decided the shot was only intended to frighten the complainant.

Gordon had bestowed attentions on Behn's niece. Behn objected and followed the couple to their "love nest" about 11:30 p. m., drew his six shooter and told the young man to "beat it while the beating was good," according to one witness. Gordon demurred and Behn fired a shot which started the youthful wooer on a record-breaking sprint. He swore out information charging Behn tried to kill him.

A number of witnesses testified they had seen Behn pop over jackrabbits on the run with his revolver; that Behn could toss nickles in the air and plug them every shot, and that he always led marksmen at shooting matches or in quest of wild geese. One witness swore he had watched Behn while riding a running horse sink six successive shots in as many fence posts.

Judge Boyle decided that a man who was such a good marsman as Behn was not guilty of attempting to kill a man when he missed him at a distance of two paces.

Fire Chief Kenlon of New York City has ordered that the kiddies of the city are not to be the only ones who may enjoy the street shower baths from the fire hydrants. From 9 to 10 p. m. adults may use these shower baths and there are 600 of them in the city.

SWORN LOGS REQUIRED OF CONTRACTORS

Oil operators are warned to require drilling contractors to file a sworn formation and casing record with them after the drilling of a test has been completed in a statement issued.

Thursday from the local office of oil and gas supervisor for this district. The order originally came from the state headquarters of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission.

The statement issued is as follows:

Heretofore the railroad commission has experienced some trouble in getting the proper reports filed on the plugging of wells, more especially in the townsites and congested districts, by reason of the fact that in so many cases the wells are plugged by contract and the work paid for without the owner of the well requiring the contractor to file with him the proper information as to the plugging of the well.

The owner of the well is responsible to the state for the plugging of the well and the filing of proper reports. In order that all reports may be filed promptly with the railroad commission we would suggest that in all cases where wells are plugged by contract, that the owners require the contractor to file with them a sworn statement as to how the well was plugged before final settlement is made for the work. This entails no hardship on the owner of the well and will likely save him considerable expense later on in finding the contractor and securing detailed information as to how the well was plugged so that he may file the proper reports. If the owners will require the contractors to furnished them this information before final settlement is made it will be an easy matter for them to file their reports at the proper time.

The same is true where wells are drilled by contract. In all cases owners should require contractors to file with them a sworn formation and casing record before making final settlement. Once the work is paid for the owner may experience considerable difficulty in getting a correct log of his well.

FIVE-YEAR SENTENCE FOR MUSE

Wade Muse, former motorcycle officer, was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary Thursday morning by a jury in the 30th District court, following his plea of guilty to a charge of statutory rape.

A large number of witnesses were present in the court room when the accused changed his previous plea of not guilty. A jury was hastily sworn in to accept the plea of guilty. State attorneys recommended the sentence of five years the minimum penalty allowed by law for the defense.

Muse was indicted at the recent session of the grand jury of the 30th District court. The complaint against him was made by a fourteen year old school girl a resident of this city.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, on June 9, 1921, death called from the ranks of our organization in the person of James Calvert, one of its most consistent and faithful members, one who not only was loyal to the principles of unionism while engaged at the trade, but who retained his membership in the local when engaged in other business, be it

Resolved by Wichita Falls Typographical Union No. 505, that we recognize in the death of Mr. Calvert an irretrievable loss, not only to the printing craft, but to the city, wherein he was recognized as one of its leading and most dependable citizens, loyal to the community, faithful to his friends and ever battling for what he conceived to be right. Be it further

Resolved, that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the wife and son upon whom this deep affliction has come, assuring them of our appreciation of the one who was so dear to them, formed after a long association, in which we learned to cherish a deep regard for his worth, both as a fellow employe and a man.

Resolved, further, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the local, that a copy be furnished the family, and one be given to each of the local papers for publication.

Chairman Committee
Wichita Falls, Texas, July 31, 1921

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

courts of that period and the written law. Houston journeyed to St. Augustine as governor. He was commander in chief of the army of Texas and a fine fighting man. He called into conference the chiefs of the Regulators and the chiefs of the Moderators. Houston called a spade a spade. He told these warriors that unless they bowed to the constituted authority of Texas, made a treaty of peace, disbanded their forces and lived up to the truce or treaty of peace, he would shoot every mother's son of them. On the other hand, if they agreed to sign a treaty, if they followed his instructions to the letter, as governor of the commonwealth, he would grant them full pardons for the crimes they had committed and restore them to full citizenship. This ended the bloody reign of violence precipitated by the Moderators and Regulators in the early days of Texas history when the conqueror of Santa Anna and hero of San Jacinto held reins of power. Judge Martin made a powerful appeal for the reign of the written law, the trial of a person charged with crime by a jury of his peer, the safeguarding of the presumptions of innocence of the accused until the state has established guilt and for the penalty to be meted out through the regular channels of justice as directed and provided by he criminal statutes and administered by the constituted authorities. He declared mob violence of any sort and appealed to all good citizens everywhere to lend their support to the cause of law enforcement in order that there shall be no excuse for night riders posing as agents of law enforcement, secret organizations claiming to be righteous guardians of public morals and protectors of life and property and yet ashamed to acknowledge either headquarters or membership and responsible for the bold outrages which have been perpetrated against law and order in the southwest during the year. Wichita county has narrowly escaped mob violence on several occasion and within the week ugly manifestations on the part of those who would take the law into their own hands and wreak vengeance upon persons suspected of crime, have been chronicled in the public prints, declared the speaker, and later these suspects who were threatened with lynching by men who called themselves champions of law enforcement, had their innocence established by police officials or other agents of the law. Had mob violence prevailed and negro suspects executed by the lynchers, another Tulsa carnival of blood and fire pillage and murder of innocent persons might have taken place and Wichita Falls would have stood disgraced and dishonored before the world. Judge Martin is wel known to the newspaper fraternity of Texas. He was a young lawyer at Graham when he wooed and won the daughter of the editor and publisher of the Graham Leader, a weekly newspaper. After his marriage his wise old father-in-law decided to shift the editorial work to the shoulders of son-in-law and the arrangement worked splendidly. Judge Martin's name appeared at the masthead of the Leader as associate editor and for fifteen years he supplied the editorials every week for the Leader. There were free passes in those days. Editors and associate editors were eligible. All of the fraternity carried pocketfulls of annuals on all the state railways. As associate editor of the Leader the judge attended all the gatherings of the Texas Press association, accompanied the gang on all their pilgrimages and played a part in all the programs or festivities. He had a message concerning the Invisible Empire and its hidden builders and operators and he sent it home in his address before the Rotarians of the city that faith built, true to his newspaper training when he was a moulder of public thought in the county of Young in its pioneer days.

"This is the thirty-fifth anniversary of my wedding day," said W. A. Freear. "I had been in business at Weatherford, Parker county, nineteen years and at the end of the nineteenth I couldn't see anything in the future but a mere living, regardless of my daily labor or the financial investment I had made. Twelve years ago I sold out all I had, sold at a sacrifice, and started out on a prospecting tour. Finally I landed at Wichita Falls. It looked good to me. I hung my hat on a peg and announced to myself that I had found the place and was here to stay. Wichita Falls had less than five thousand people at the time but it was a hustling little city and a great future awaited it. All those who came before me said so. All those who came after me said so, and the census returns of 1920 with a population of forty thousand for the city that faith built gave notice to the world that faith such as mine has its own reward." Men of faith are men of vision and likewise they are men who take their medicine or their losses cheerfully, and more onward and upward without grimace or groan. Some men are born lucky; others are born plucky and the plucky men of vision is the man who gets there in the long run. He takes his ups and his downs philosophically and moves onward with the procession."

DODSON WARNS CALOMEL USERS

It's Mercury! Attacks the Bones, Salivates and Makes You Sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid, which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.
