Negro Shot To Death Near Here Last Week End

McAllen Gilbert, 21, Negro laborer on the Buford Jones farm northeast of Central Church, is in jail here charged with murder as the result of the fatal shooting of W. W. Shelton, 27, also a Negro, whose home is at Arlington, on the Jones farm at about midnight Saturday.

Shelton died in Tahoka Hospital at about 4:20 a. m. Sunday. He had been shot in the stomach and chest with a 20-gauge shotgun.

Gilbert waived a hearing, and his bond was set at $3,000.

According to statements made by Gilbert and witnesses to Sheriff Roland W. Clem and County Attorney Mitchell Williams, the shooting grew out of an argument between the two Negroes over "whether or not a man should abuse his wife."

Gilbert and his wife had just come home from a show. Shelton, who works on the Kenneth Davies farm near Southland, and several other Negroes were at the row of laborer shacks on the Jones farms talking.

It was then that the topic of conversation over "wife treatment" came up, the original discussion arising over some trouble a Mexican and his wife had been having. Shelton is reported to have said a man should not abuse his wife. Gilbert answered that it would be none of Shelton's business how he treated his wife, and Gilbert left the house telling the occupants to stay there a minute. He returned a few minutes later with the shotgun and shot Shelton when the latter started toward him.

Two other Negroes and Mr. Jones were witnesses to the shooting. Mr. Jones is said to have been awakened by car honks and a racing automobile engine, and had gone out to the Negro houses to quiet this disturbance and had entered the room just before Gilbert came in and shot Shelton.

The body of Shelton was taken to Fort orth Monday and burial was scheduled for Wednesday.

Farm Bureau Plans Program

A change in the duration of Farm Bureau memberships and plans for an important January meeting were made at a meeting of officers and directors of the Lynn County Farm Bureau held at the County Agent's office in Tahoka Monday night, according to Guy Smith, publicity chairman of the local group.

In the future, all memberships will be on a yearly basis, beginning on April 1 and expiring on March 31 each year. Notices will be sent out in January, and memberships must be paid by March 31. Anyone wishing membership, however, may pay only for the three months remaining until April 1.

A meeting of officers, directors, service men, County Agent and H. D. Agent, and any other members who may wish to attend, has been set for January 3, 10 a. m., in the County Agent's office at which several state and district officials will be present to help the local Farm Bureau set up its 1952 program of work.

The Lynn County Farm Bureau is also making plans for setting up a full time office in Tahoka, through which the various services of the organization will be handled.

Jay Moore is the new president of the Lynn County Farm Bureau, having succeeded Wilmer Smith at the election of new officers and directors at the recent annual membership meeting.

BURN VICTIMS ARE REPORTED IMPROVING

Secundina Moreno and Jose Gerrero, who were seriously burned about the lower limbs ten days when they accidently fell into a burr pit at a local gin,, are reported to be improving nicely at Tahoka Hospital.

Cotton Ginnings Are Near 75,000

Lynn county ginnings for 1951 now total approximately 75,000 bales, reports gathered by The News indicate.

Tahoka had ginned 14,542 bales up to 11 a. m. Thursday, local ginners reported.

Some cotton is being brought into Lynn county gins from other counties to the north. However, one ginner told The News he did not believe this would amount to nearly as much as some people may think. His ginnings of out-of-town county cotton amounted to less than 11 percent.

J. F. Maxey, 82, Buried At Post

J. F. Maxey, 82, of Post and the Graham Chapel community of Garza county, died in a Lubbock hospital Thursday of last week.

Funeral services were held at the Graham Chapel Church of Christ at 10:30 a. m. Saturday with Minister Quentin Manning officiating, and burial followed in Terrace Cemetery at Post.

Joseph Franklin Maxey had ben a resident of Garza county since 1903, and was one of the first farmers on the lower South Plains. He was one of the very first cotton growers in this section, hauling his seed cotton to Snyder, and later to Tahoka, for ginning long before Post City was established.

He was one of the organizers of Garza county, and since that date has been one ofthe South Plains leading farmer citizens. He took an active part in almost every move for the betterment of this section, and was especially active in school and county affairs throughout his life in this area. He was an original director of Lyntegar REA co-operative, serving 13 years in this capacity. He resigned only last March because of age and ill health.

Several friends from Tahoka attended the funeral services.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Bryan and Quanah Maxey of Post, and Frost Maxey, Abilene; six daughters, Mrs. Pearl Graham of Bluffdale, Mrs. Ona Berdine of Weatherford, Mrs. Ruth Holland of Portales, N. M., and Mrs. Minnie Overton of Thorp Springs.

Also surviving are 30 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Police Work Is Getting Results

Police Cheif J. B. Florence told The News this week that the City's campaign for safer driving practices in Tahoka is definitely showing results.

Citizens as a whole have cooperated in a fine manner. As a result, fewer and fewer charges are being filed for speeding and reckless driving, there are fewer smash-ups, and motor vehicle drivers are noticeably being more cautious with their driving practices.

In the past three weeks, only four charges have been filed in Corporation Court for speeding, two for reckless driving, two for speeding and no drivers license, and three simply for operating a car with no drivers license.

Among other law violations, charges have been filed against six for drunkenness, one for disturbance, two for drunkenness and fighting, and one for failure to appear.

ARMS CASE WILL BE TRIED TODAY

The case against W. A. (Wig) Arms, Jr., charged with possession of whiskey in a dry area for the purpose of sale, is expected to go to trial in County Court here at 9:00 a. m. today, Friday.

The case was previously set for Wednesday, but County Attorney Mitchell Williams said it was postponed until today.

NEW AIRCRAFT CARRIER COULD ACCOMMODATE FOUR FAMOUS SHIPS ON ITS FLIGHT DECK

Plans for USS Forrestal Would Have Space for Frigates Hartford and Constitution and the Ironclads Monitor and Merrimac

Above is an artist's conception of the Navy's newest aircraft carrier USS Forrestal, the 59,900-ton flush deck vessel which will be built at Newport News, Va. The ship will have an over-all length of 1,040 feet, a beam of 128 feet on the waterline and an extreme width of 252 feet at one point on the flight deck. Some idea of the ship's immense size may be gained when it is realized that the old Constitution, 175 feet over-all; the Hartford, 226 feet; the Monitor, 172 feet and the Merrimac, 178 feet, could be placed side by side on its flight deck with room to spare for destroyers and other smaller boats.

The USS Forrestal will be the Navy's first carrier with a retractable bridge. Her four catapults, four elevators and a large flight deck will enable the ship to handle the heaviest carrier aircraft of latest design. Designed to accommodate approximately 3,500 men, including her air group personnel, more comfort and efficiency for her crew will be provided by air conditioned quarters, while escalators will quickly carry pilots to the flight deck from ready rooms below. The Forrestal will cruise at a speed of 30 knots plus and will be capable of remaining at sea for three months without replenishing.

Speaker Opposes Truman Policies, Favors Change In Electoral System

Representatives from most communities of Lynn county met in the Legion Hall in Tahoka Thursday afternoon to hear a discussion of "better government."

Principal speaker at the meeting was W. D. Bacon of the Bacon Contracting Co. of San Antonio and vice-chairman of the Texas Association of Employers. Also present was Joe Bacon of the same firm.

The meeting was called by a group of Lynn county Democrats, and its purpose was expressed as being the start of a move to back the Gossett-Lodge proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution and to prevent the nomination of President Truman for another term as president.

The Gossett-Lodge bill is a nonpartisan proposal sponsored by Democratic Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, a former citizen of Garza county, and Republican Senator Lodge of Massachusetts.

The Gossett-Lodge amendment is designed to break the hold of minority leaders in highly populated states by changing the Electoral system of electing a president. Under the present law, where a candidate receives a majority of the votes in a given state, all the Electorial votes go to that candidate. The Gossett-Lodge proposal would give each candidate Electoral votes in exact proportion to the popular vote in a given state. Most people in this section, the grass-roots country, favor the measure as a just one and our hope of competing with minority groups in concentrated areas.

Bacon is also backing the pro-

Child Recovering Polio Attack

Tahoka's latest polio patient was able to come home from the hospital Wednesday.

Randall Hasley, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon D. Hasley, who had been a patient in Lubbock Memorial Hospital since last Friday, is at home greatly improved and is expected to return to normal health in a few days.

Randall became ill Monday of last week with a high fever, spent two days under observation and treatment in Bronnenberg Clinic here and then was sent to Lubbock for further treatment on last Friday. His case was a light one, and it is believed he will suffer no permanent disability as a result of having had polio.

No other polio cases have turned up in Tahoka, but several cases have turned up at Lubbock.

Mrs. Hasley told The News they had no idea whatever how Randall contacted the disease. Mr. Hasley is with Shamburger-Gee Lumber company here.

Many Special Christmas Events Planned In City

Two More Bales Given To CROP

Six New Home farmers have donated two bales of cotton to the Christian Rural Overseas Program, the seventh and eighth bales reported so far, according to N. E. Wood, county chairman.

The bales were ginned, wrapped, and hauled free of charge by New Home Gin Co., J. B. Edwards, manager, from 4,710 pounds of seed cotton donated by the following farmers: B. A. Morrow, 1100 pounds; Lester Short, 610; J. R. Strain, 710; A. L. Armontrout, 320; Gene Roper, 610; and B. L. and W. C. Ernst, 1360.

Ginners of the county are being asked to assist CROP by setting up stalls at their gins and accepting full bales orbale remnants of seed cotton for ginning.

Cotton will be processed and shipped overseas free of charge, where it will be distributed to destitute peoples by the church denomination of the donator's designation.

Only one bale has been donated from Tahoka, one from Wayside, and four from Wilson so far. The Wayside and Tahoka bales were shipped to Houston last week, where the first shipload of cotton is being concentrated for shipment to Europe this week. Another shipload will go out early in January.

Baptists Planning 'White Christmas'

The Sunday School of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka has planned a unique Christmas celebration for the coming Sunday evening, December 16—unique at least as far as this church is concerned.

Every member of every class is requested to bring a gift, great or small, wrapped in white. These gifts will be brought and presented by each class member individually, after the program for the occasion has begun.

These gifts will be distributed later among the needy families and underprivileged children of the town and community, some of them will be sent to Buckner Orphans Home, some to the Childrens' Home at Round Rock, and some to other places if so designated, or if deemed desirable.

But it is hoped that the members of all the classes, from the oldest to the youngest, will bring some sort of Christmas present, properly wrapped, or they may be wrapped at the Church if brought early enough. Preferably, they should be wrapped before bringing to the church.

W. P. Hutchison is the Sunday School superintendent, and he or the secreatry, Miss Lillie Ragsdale, may be seen for further instructions.

Another Family Arrives At Wilson From Europe

Another refugee family from Germany arrived in Wilson Monday to take up a new life in this country.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kiesel and daughter, Roswitha, age one. Mr. Kiesel will work as a blacksmith for J. L. Hyde.

Another refugee family, Alfred Hoehn, wife and three children, arrived Sunday before last to make their home on the Roland Stegemoeller farm six miles northeast of Wilson. Still another refugee family at Wilson is the V. Grinsberg family, who came in 1950 and work for Edmund Maeker.

The Kiesels moved into their new home Tuesday which is being furnished by Hyde, and then took a tour of the machine shop to look over equipment. Later he was shown all of the points of interest in and around Wilson.

Mrs. Kiesel, accompanied by Mrs. Hyde and several other women of the community, went shopping. She selected a few pieces of furniture, just enough to set up housekeeping. The family will pay for the furniture out of Kiesel's income from the machine shop.

There are many refugee families available to farmers or businessmen if they will furnish a house and guarantee a reasonable salary, Rev. C. C. Ehlen of St. John's Lutheran curch at Wilson, said. Anyone interested in sponsoring one of these families should make the arrangements through a Lutheran pastor as did Hyde. This program is rapidly drawing to a close as the remainder of December and possibly part of January is all the time remaining.

Kiesel has had seven years of experience in blacksmith work He received his training in Poland before the war. Since he war he has been working on the railroads in Hamburg, Germany.

If allowed to remain on the fabric, mold growth will weaken and rot the material.

FORMER APPRENTICE SEAMAN NOW VICE ADMIRAL — When Charles Welford Fox graduated from grade school in his native Baltimore in 1913 he enlisted in the Navy as an apprentice seaman. He rose through all the grades and last week was appointed Vice Admiral. Naval records show that he is the first apprentice to reach that active duty rank. Already distinguished in his calling, Vice Admiral Fox has given the bulk of his 39 years in the Navy to the administration of Naval supply in every phase—from storekeeping as an enlisted man to the highest administrative responsibilities.

In three years the apprentice rose to acting pay clerk and by 1919 he won his first commission as Ensign in the Supply Corps. Twenty-four years later he reached the rank of Rear Admiral. In 1934 he pioneered in Navy land transportation and led the first transcontinental truck train from San Diego, Calif., to Norfolk, Va. When the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor he was serving on the carrier Enterprise and received a Presidential Unit Citation. For his services during the war received the Legion of Merit and other citations. His new post is that of Chief of the Office of Naval Material. His official address is Harrisburg, Pa.

Tahoka Bulldogs A and B boys team and the girls team play O'Donnell here next Tuesday night, and on Thursday night meet the powerful Brownfield Cubs here.

Last week end, the Bulldogs took third place in the Brownfield tournament. The team received a beautiful trophy, and Coach Jake Jacobs was presented an engraved cigarette lighter.

The Bulldogs won over the potent Muleshoe Mules 40 to 37 in the opener, then lost to a good Denver City Mustang team 42 to 28. Morton Indians failed to show up for the finals, and Tahoka won a forfeit and third place as a result. Brownfield took second place by defeating Denver City.

Tahoka opened the tournament against Muleshoe, supposedly one of the better teams in this area. The Bulldogs jumped into an early 6-1 lead, and led 13 to 9 at the quarter and 22 to 17 at the half. Immediately after the half, however, the Mules broke loose, and from then on the game was nip and tuck, with Tahoka leading 23-22, 25-24, 27-26, the latter score at end of the third quarter. The Mules knotted the count at 30-30 in the fourth quarter, and from then on the score ran 32-32, 33-34, 35-34, 35-35, 35-36, 37-36, 37-37. With thirty seconds remaining, Morgan Howle sank a free shot to make the score 38-37, and seconds later, Wayne Tekell iced the game away on a field goal. Lynn Halamicek had four fouls early in the second quarter and played only briefly in the fourth. Don Brice also had too many fouls early in the fourth and went out. Richard Havens, Morgan Howle, Earl Bartley, and James Foster also figured in the scoring.

Tekell was high point man with 17, and the Mules' Harlan had 16.

The Bulldogs looked good in this one, and the Mules were never able to break through Tahoka's defense.

In the game with Denver City the Bulldogs looked as bad as they had looked good against Muleshoe. They could do nothing right. Tahoka took a 7 to 5 lead in the first quarter, had fallen behind 12 to 20 at the half 21 to 37 at the three-quarter mark, and then played Denver City on even terms in the last to lose 28 to 43.

Seeing action were Tekell, Havens, Howle, Halamicek, Brice, Bartley, and Foster.

When Morton failed to show up Saturday night, Tahoka's B team defeated the Brownfield B team 34 to 24 in an exhibition game.

In other games in the tournament, Brownfield defeated Post 57 to 31, Morton 54 to 18, and Denver City 43 31.

Denver City defeated Dawson 72 to 32. Post defeated Brownfield B team 44 to 19, then lost to Muleshoe 82 to 24 in the consolation finals. Muleshoe had previously defeated Dawson 65 to 46, and Morton had nosed out Brownfield B 27 to 23.

Lose To Sudan

Monday night, the Bulldogs lost two more games at Sudan to the Hornets, always one of the Plains' stronger teams. The A team took a first quarter 11-10 lead, fell behind 26-16 at the half, and came out on the short end of a 52-32 score. Hogue of Sudan was high point man with 14, but Tekell was close behind with 13 points. Three Tahoka boys fouled out, two in the third quarter and one in the fourth.

In the B game, Sudan was winner 44-31, with Shannon scoring 14 points and John Foster of Tahoka had 10.

The Bulldogs are a little ragged largely because of the Tahoka's long football season. Too, most other teams have had a week or two longer to work out than have the Bulldogs, Coach Jacobs expects them to look much smoother by opening of the conference season in January.

Girls Team Loses

Thursday night of last week, the two High School girls teams played teams from Slaton here, Tahoka losing both games.

The girls' A team lost by a 42 to 15 score, while the B team loss was by a 23 to 18 score.

Coach of the Slaton girls' teams is Mrs. Jack Barkley, the former Miss Eva Jo Reid of Tahoka. She has been teaching at Slaton the past two years, while her husband operates a trucking company.

Principal Bob Rich coaches the Tahoka girls.

J. G. Rogers of Newmoore underwent an appendectomy at Tahoka Hospital Monday. He is improving nicely.

Safe Christmas Trees Are Urged

COLLEGE STATION, —The center of attraction in most homes from now until after Christmas will be the family Christmas tree. Most families, says C. W. Simmons, Extension farm forester of Texas A. & M. College, fail to realize that this tree is actually a fire hazard in the home. Every effort should be made, he adds, to cut down on the possibilities of a fire starting from the tree.

First try to buy a tree that is in good condition. Simmons points out that this means one with fresh leaves or needles. If the tree is placed aside for a few days before the decorating job can be done, Simmons says make a new cut above the original and place the butt of the tree in a container of water. This will keep it fresh. When the tree is moved into the house it should be left with the trunk in water. There is less danger from fire when the leaves or needles contain moisture. The water container will need an addition of water just about every day. This will also help prevent leaf or needle shedding, says Simmons.

Next he warns aganist decorating the tree with flammable material. Check the electric light cords that connect the tree lights and be sure that all poor connections are repaired. If cotton is used around the base of the tree, get that which has been treated for fire control. Candles should never be used to light a tree, says Simmons.

It is up to each individual family to make the holiday season a safe one, warns Simmons and those who fail to take into account fire and accident hazards may find their holidays marred by a serious fire or accident.

Cattle Prices Require Study

COLLEGE STATION, —"Selecting a market for his livestock is one of the stockman's most important decisions," points out Dr. John G. McNeely, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. McNeely recently made a study of comparative beef cattle prices at the three major Texas public livestock markets — Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio —for the period 1946-50. The findings of this study are given in Miscellaneous Publication 78.

In this bulletin Dr. McNeely compares prices for all grades of livestock in each classification steers, cows, bulls, calves, and heifers—at each market, and for each grade at the three markets.

Transportation costs by rail and truck are included in the bulletin also, so the producer can evaluate prices in terms of additional costs of shipment to more distant markets.

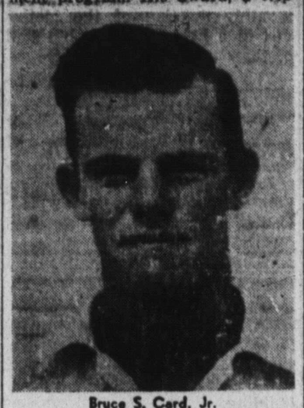

"The purpose of this publication is to give the livestock producers an analysis of recent price behavior on the three leading livestock markets of Texas," said Dr. McNeely.

Miscellaneous Publication 78 is available from the Publications Office, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

The record shows that Navy and Marine pilots accounted for 6,500 enemy troops in only 380 sorties during the Red spring offensive in Korea in 1951.

Work in 4-H Dairy Achievement ys Off for Texas Boy

Bruce S. Card, Jr., 18, of Cuero, is among the 12 sectional champions in the 1951 Dairy Achievement program. His award, a trip to 4-H Club Congress was furnished by Lederle Laboratories. The young farmer has earned a reputation in his community as the youngest successful dairyman in De Witt County.

He began with a Jersey heifer calf given him by his father in return for help in the dairy barn. Shortly afterwards he won a registered Jersey Heifer in a milking contest at the Houston Fat Stock Show. Bruce learned the importance of sanitation, proper feeding and accurate records. When his father became supervisor of the De Witt County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, Bruce took full charge of the dairy on their 80-acre farm. His father offered him 25 per cent of the profits with a promise of full partnership in the future. A many time winner of county dairy achievement awards, Bruce keeps all of the records, and does the milking, feeding, and grooming of stock.

A 4-H member for six years, he has been an outstanding leader and has participated in many other programs.

This activity is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Further increases in net farm income will likely have to come from added production and increased efficiency instead of higher prices, says Dr. T. R. Timm, Extension economist of Texas A. & M. College.

Blaze Destroys Local Building

A barracks building and all contents, located southeast of the square on Alley (H) street, was completely destroyed by fire at about 2:00 a. m. Saturday. Origin of the fire is unknown. Police Chief J. B. Florence states.

The building belonged to Fermin Selbera, who now lives in Saginaw, Machigan. Selbera bought the building about a year and a half ago from Tom Cloe. It was unoccupied at the time of the fire, but contained a lot of cafe equipment in the form and household furniture and clothing in the rear.

So far as could be learned here no insurance was carried on either the building or its contents. Loss of the building was estimated at $1,500.00 and of its contents at $1,200.00.

DAMAGED BY MIG FIGHTE. BUT U. S. JET STANDS UP

Communist jet fighter planes—those much flaunted MIG's that lurk out of their Manchurian sanctuaries—are much in the news. They come out in swarms and frequently outnumber U. S. Air Force jet fighters but usually are chased back to their ground roosts with loss. They are acknowledged to be excellent aircraft but thus far have not been handled with the skill shown by U. S. Air Force pilots, as indicated by MIG losses of 136 destroyed and 49 probably destroyed against a friendly jet loss of 22. These figures are as of November 8.

Capt. Curtis L. Utterback, USAF, in this picture gingerly fingers the sole remaining sliver of his shredded F-86 Sabrejet rudder after returning from a high-altitude dogfight with MIG-16 jet fighters over Northern Korea.

The pilot, a member of the United States Air Force's veteran 4th Fighter Interceptor Wing, was able to steady his crippled Sabrejet after it flipped over from the impact of an enemy cannon shell.

This photograph made at an advanced U. N. air base in Korea by Department of Defense cameramen about a month ago depicts typical scenes at the Wing's headquarters.

Do Away With Odors Of Fish

COLLEGE STATION, —Fish sometimes loses its popularity in the American home because the odor remains in the kitchen long after it has been eaten. Frances Reasonover, food and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has these tips for conquering that fishy odor.

Rinse hands in cold water before touching the fish. Afterwards, wash hands with hot water and salt. Soap won't do the job, the specialist warns.

Fishy odors can be removed from frying pans and dishes by soakig them in hot water and salt. Apply no soap until the salt has had a chance to do its work.

When fish is stored in the refrigerator, be sure that it is wrapped in a plastic bag or other air-tight material, so that the fish odor will not penetrate other foods.

KUM-DUBL CLASS WILL HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Kum-Dubl Class of the Methodist Church is having their annual Christmas party next Monday night at the church at 7:00 p. m.

There will be a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Also, a very interesting program has been planned. The Wesley Players from Lubbock will be on the program

All members and those persons eligible for membership are cordially invited to this party.

Upshur county farmers, despite the unfavorable growing season this year, demonstrated that when adapted corn hybrids and proper fertilizers are used high per acre corn yields can be made. Carl Loyd produced 145.5 bushels of corn per acre on his contest acreage.

Methodist Men Hear Mrs. Hegi

Mrs. Fred B. (Pete) Hegi presented a review of the book, "Honeymoon for Seven," by A. Toombs, as the principal number on the program at the regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men held in Fellowship Hall of the church Monday night.

The program was arranged by Ross Smith and Pat Patterson.

Preceding the program a dinner was served under the direction of V. F. Jones and W. H. Eudy.

President C. O. Carmack appointed Jack Fenton and Wynne Collier to arrange the program for the next meeting, in January and Happy Smith and A. M. Bray to arrange the meal.

The group discussed several projects for the organization, including Christmas decorations for the church and opening up of a parking lot adjoining the church building.

Research conducted by the Texas Experiment Station near College Station indicates that seedling grass in cotton may be controlled more economically by using chemicals than by hand-thinning and hand-hoeing alone.

Cotton Fertilizer Is Demonstrated

COLLEGE STATION, —A cotton fertilizer demonstration conducted last year by B. B. Ashley of Millsap, Parker county, shows the value of having soil tested for plant food and applying fertilizer on the basis of the analysis.

According to Parker county agent, H. G. Law, the demonstration was located on deep sandy loam soil in the Brazos River Valley. Cotton, corn and peanuts had been grown on the land for many years—with no soil building crops and little, if any, fertilizer used.

Soil tests showed the soil to be slightly acid and low in organic matter, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Four hundred pounds of 8-8-8 fertilizer per acre were recommended on the basis of the test.

Ashley set up 10 plots of cotton and used a different fertilizer treatment on each. These ranged from a check plot with no fertilizer applied to 400 pounds of 8-8-8 plus 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate as a sidedressing.

Best returns were obtained from 400 pounds of 5-10-5 and 400 pounds of 8-8-8. Both of these treatments returned nearly four dollars for each dollar spent for fertilizer, reports Laws.

A soil testing laboratory is operated at College Station by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Directions for taking and mailing soil samples can be obtained from local county agricultural agents.

Many Will Die On Highways

AUSTIN, —Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today released the prediction of his Statistical Division for the number of violent deaths which will occur in Texas during the eleven-day Christmas Holiday season this year.

According to Garrison, N. K. Woerner, Chief of the Department's Statistical Division, estimates that 222 persons will meet violent deaths during the period. Of these, 115 will die in Texas traffic accidents, 42 will be suicide or homicide victims and another 65 lives will be claimed by miscellaneous accidents such as fires, drowning, etc.

Director Garrison pointed out That Mr. Woerner's predictions for holiday periods and even for complete years have been consistently accurate in the past. He appeals to all citizens to furnish the utmost cooperation to the members of the Texas Highway Patrol and to their local police this year in an endeavor to prove the experts wrong.

"This," says Garrison, "can be accomplished by a strict observance of the traffic laws and by the exercises of the utmost caution with fires, firearms, and boating excursions."

The holiday death toll this year will be computed from midnight December 21st to midnight January 1st.

The week of November 3-11 was National 4-H Achievement Week. The 118,000 plus Texas 4-H members observed the week with special events in the local clubs and countywide activities. 4-H clubs are sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service.

Spears Tells Of School Needs

Supt. Otis Spears of the Tahoka schools was the principal speaker on the Rotary Club program Thursday of last week.

He revealed many facts and figures concerning the operation of the Tahoka school system, and outlined the program of work the school is trying to do.

The Tahoka schools have 53 employees on the payroll, and has a budget of a little over $200,000 for the year. The district covers 334 square miles, had 1223 scholastics enumerated in the census last year, has a total valuation of a little over $6,000,000 and a $1.50 tax rate.

Of the $200,000 required for operation of the schools, $90,000 is due to come from local taxes, $73,000 from the State Permanent School fund and the rest from the Foundation Program of the State. Thus, it is difficult to meet state standards and make both ends meet financially.

The average teacher in the Tahoka schools draws $191.00 per month take home pay, has taught 11 years, and spent 4½ years in college in preparation for teaching at a cost from $4,000 to $6,000.

Many people are prone to judge a school, he said, by what they see—such as the band and athletic teams. Athletics just about pay their way, but the board has had to put about $3,000 into the band for music and instruments the past year. What the average patron doesn't see is, for example, the work being done in an English classroom. Classroom work is the prime good that comes from school attendance, although the extra-curricula activities are necessary also.

He said Tahoka children are deserving of the best opportunity and training to be found anywhere, and he outlined some of the needs of the local system.

Among other things, he said the school needed a darkroom for visual education. Teaching by the showing of educational pictures is becoming very important in school. More can be told many times by a picture than in a thousand printed words—and made more impressive. More books, maps, films, and teachers supplies are needed, and Tahoka schools are unusually short on these.

Vocational agriculture classes need room and equipment for teaching shop work, including repair of farm machinery. More room is needed by the homemaking department, and he hopes some day Tahoka can have a homemaking cottage. More facilities are needed by the commercial department, so that finished secretaries, bookkeepers, and typists can be turned out by the local schools.

Further music training is needed, including a choral club.

Tahoka's school campus is an eyesore. The campus needs beautifying with more trees, shrubs, and grass. He thinks the School and City should be able to work out some deal of mutual benefit to the town on the water proposition. He said the school can not beautify its campus on the present water rates. Last summer, the school's water bill ran as high as $138.00 a month.

For protection of the boys against injury, the school needs a better sodded football field and also a practice field, as most schools now have.

Mr. Spears didn't say so in his talk, but the Tahoka gymnasium is rapidly becoming inadequate for the local system. Scores of students get no opportunity to use the gym for physical education at this time. Also, the local gym floor was built too small and the ceiling too low, and competitive schools who have large modern gymns—and all of them in this areaa now have them—are beginning to complain about having to play in the small, low-ceiling Tahoka gym.

The Rotarians gave Mr. Spears a big ovation at the end of his talk.

Maurice Bray spoke briefly in regard to the current Boy Scout financial drive.

Royce Blankenship of Lubbock, one of the owners of the Wallace Theatres, was present and explained that steps were being taken to improve the shows and the service at local threatres. He offered his firm's co-operation in any way it could help in making Tahoka a better town.

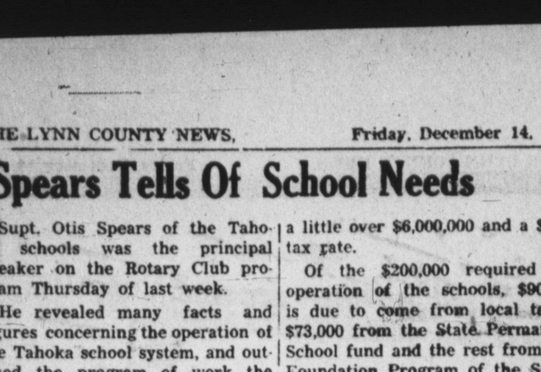

Dr. Emil Prohl announced the annual free Christmas show for Lynn county children will be held on Saturday morning, Dec. 22.

In answer to Mrs. Spears' statement on the school's water bill, Russell McGee of the City government stated that since voting the revenue bonds two years ago, the City's hands are tied on water rates by the bonding company.

Clayton Carter and Kay Waldrip, High School Seniors, were introduced as the Junior Rotarians for the month.

Dr. Prohl was in charge of the program for the day.

Texas Pair Win In 4-H Public Speaking

Delmar Lee Jaschke

Barbara Ann Place

Delmar Lee Jaschke, 14, of Victoria, and Barbara Ann Place, 14, of Crawford, Texas, have received recognition for a job well done. They are thrilled with the excitement of being chosen state winners in the 4-H Public Speaking program. Delmar and Barbara Ann do not underestimate the necessity for being well-informed and projecting their thoughts and ideas fluently and interestingly. Because of its interest in rural youth, the Pure Oil Co. provides merit awards in this program. Barbara Ann received a set of silverware, while Delmar was presented with a 17-jewel gold watch.

In his speech on "What 4-H Work Has Done for Me, My Home and My Community," Delmar showed how 4-H work had benefited every member of the family by teaching useful work skills and efficient methods and providing recreational outlets. Similarly, other families learned to work together, and all learned to function as a unified, productive, and cooperative community.

In "Speak Up for Freedom" Barbara Ann draws a parallel between America's fight for freedom in colonial times, and the fight our country faces today. The danger, Barbara warns, is not only from the outside, but from within ourselves. We cannot be apathetic about freedom, she reasons. We must work, perhaps fight for it. Certainly, we must speak up for it.

This activity is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

National 4-H Club Center

COLLEGE STATION, —Texas 4-H Club members and other interested individuals, as well as business concerns, are invited to participate in the "Share and Care" program for the National 4-H Club Center, said Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader.

A twelve and a half-acre campus with five buildings and adequate parking space for the center were purchased last February at 6410 Connecticut Ave., Chevy Chase, Md., which is only a 20-minute drive from the White House and U. S. Capitol building.

"The center will serve as national assembly grounds for many groups," Lynch said. "Priority will be given youth groups interested in rural life; the annual National 4-H Club Camp heads the list."

As planned, the center will have lodging, dining and conference facilities for groups of up to 300 persons. It will be operated the year-round on a non-profit basis.

The center was purchased at a cost of $375,000. An additional $290,000 is needed for repairs and remodeling. And a scholarship program is planned to help support the training programs. Lynch points out that this adds up to a million-dollar program.

"No government funds are available for the center," he said. "Contributions are needed now. They should be sent to local county Extension offices; to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station; or to the National 4-H Club Foundation c/o Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C."

Local 4-H Clubs are invited to "Share and Care" for the center by raising and contributing 10 cents or more per member. This will bring in about $200,000 if the 82,000 clubs in the nation do this.

Checks or drafts should be made out to National 4-H Club Foundation. Lynch said contributors should be sure to state that gifts are for use of the National 4-H Club Center.

Cities Service Well Testing

Testing of the Mississippian formation is underway at the Cities Service Oil company No. 1 Gregory wildcat oil test in the extreme southwest corner of Lynn county.

Shows of oil and gas had previously been encountered at 11,156-11,180 feet in the hole, located in section 12, block C-41 PSL survey.

Benedum & Trees Oil company has temporarily abandoned its No. 1 J. B. Moore Sprayberry test as a failure, when salt water was developed at a total depth of 7,860 feet. It originally was filed to go to 10,500 feet to test the top of the Pennsylvanian. Location is a mile northeast of O'Donnell in the southeast quarter of section 47, block 3, EL&RR survey.

Anderson Prichard No. 1 White, in the Latty community north west of Tahoka, was last reported drilling at about 5,000 feet. The test is in section 154, Certificate 708, HE&WT survey.

gram, and helping lay groundwork, started by Democratic Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia to prevent the renomination of Harry Truman next August and instead to nominate some other strong Democrat more sympathetic to democratic principles of government.

He advocated a three-fold program of work by grass-root Democrats:

1. A fight to defeat the current socialist trend of our government by defeat in Congress of all bills of such a socialist nature.

2. Cutting down on excessive taxes by eliminating wasteful measures and appropriations for unnecessary, socialistic proposals of the present administration. He said Truman had recommended 9 billion dollars such expenditures on the domestic front.

3. Passage of the Gossett-Lodge act at the first meeting of the new session of Congress in January.

WOMEN IN ARMED FORCES TAKE OVER IMPORTANT DUTIES —During the early months of 1951, there were over 35,000 women serving on active duty with the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps. Current enlistments are increasing the number and thousands more will be available through the Reserve.

In contrast to the service women of World War I, the modern woman in the service is not utilized only for clerical, secretarial and medical work. They are employed in various other phases of service operations. Today, women act as communications operators, teletype repairmen, aerologists, information and education specialists, dental technicians, electronics instructors and serve in many other technical fields. They have volunteered for overseas duty and have been assigned to posts in foreign lands.

He was taken to the West Texas Hospital adn the leg was amputated above the knee. Before his injury, the couple had planned to observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary in theirh moe. The injury made that impossible.

The Lubbock publications also carried a picture of him and Mrs. Manly in his room, properly celebrating the happy event, for pictured also, was a huge anniversary cake, flowers, gifts, and other evidences of the kindness and loyalty of their hosts of friends.

Fine Negro For Liquor Possession

Billy Bennett, about 20, a Hale Center Negro, was fined $100.00 and costs in County Court here Saturday on a plea of guilty to illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

Bennett was caught by Sheriff "Slick" Clem at about 11 o'clock Friday night on the highway five miles north of Tahoka. Sheriff Clem drove up to two cars parked in the barrow ditch, and found Bennett in the act of transferring a case of wine from his car to another Negro's car.

Roy Linkins of Big Spring was charged in County Court Monday morning of driving while intoxicated, after his car had rammed the rear end of a WT-NM&O bus in the city of O'Donnell at about 10:30 a. m.

Eight drunks were arrested in Tahoka and O'Donnell over the week end, by the Sheriff's Department, and assessed fines in Justice Court.

Mr. Samuel Norwood is reported to be in the Slaton Hospital following a heart attack.

Texas Driver Responsibility Laws Set Stern Penalties For Violations

AUSTIN, —Public Safety Director, Homer Garrison, Jr., reminded Texas motorists today that they will be subject to additional and much more stern penalties if they are convicted of serious traffic violations when the state's new Motor Vehicle Responsibility Law goes into effect on January 1.

If an operator's license is suspended or revoked for violating any traffic law carrying that penalty, under the new Safety Responsibility Law the Texas Department of Public Safety must also suspend the registration of all motor vehicles registered in the name of that person, unless he gives proof of future financial responsibility in the amount of $15,000. The same proof must be furnished and maintained before an operator's license can be reinstated, if it was suspended for violation of a traffic law.

Proof of financial responsibility is also required in the following circumstances:

1. For forfeiting any bail or collateral that was given to secure appearance in court for trial on a charge of violating any law provides for suspension or revocation of an operator's license upon conviction.

2. For operating a motor vehicle without being legally licensed to do so.

3. For operating an unregistered motor vehicle.

Proof of financial responsibility for the future may be furnished by depositing with the Texas Department of Public Safety a certificate showing ownership of an insurance policy that will cover damage claims resulting from a traffic accident, up to $15,000; by depositing $15,000 in cash or securities with the Department; or by posting bond with the Department in the same amount.

"I think it must be evident to the public by this time that our new Safety Responsibility Law really means business in assuring greater safety and security on our streets and highways," Director Garrison said. "The requirement of the penalties that are provided by the traffic laws themselves. This is one of the provisions of the law that is going to help us put chronic law violators and accident causers off of the road permanently."

New Church Planned Here

The Sweet Street Mission building was moved from its former site at the intersection of Sweet Street and South 3rd to a lot two blocks further east and one block north, in order to clear the Sweet Street site for the building of a new Mission on that lot.

The First Baptist Church just recently purchased from Higginbothan-Bartlett Lumber company the lot onto which the Mission building is being moved, and the building will be ready for the regular prayer service conducted by Rev. W. H. Scantling, pastor of the Mission, by tonight. The Mission work will continue to be carried on in this building until the new edifice on Sweet Street shall have been constructed.

Members of the building committee stated Monday that the work doubtless would be begun on the new building the latter part of this week or the first of next week. Its estimated cost will be about $22,000.

When this new building shall be completed, the Mexican Mission will move into the Sweet Street building at its new location. This Mission for the past two or three years has been conducted in a rented building just north of the Tahoka Cooperative Gin plant. A Latin-American minister preaches for them, and Sunday School and other services are held each Sunday. The new location, when available, will be much more convenient for them.

Agricultural Conservation Program Has Twin Objectives For Year 1952

To be eligible for assistance under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program, each cooperating farmer in Lynn county will be asked to develop a conservation plan for his farm that will make the greatest contribution to the Nation's present and future food and fiber needs and designate the practices to be carried out in 1952.

This double-barreled objective—conservation for present and future production—S. L. Walters, chairman of the county PMA committee, explains, is aimed at insuring production of the agricultural commodities needed in the current defense effort and at the same time protecting and improving the land so that continuing needs of the Nation's rapidly increasing population may be met.

In developing his plan for conservation under the 1952 ACP, chairman Walters advises ,the individual farmers should build on the conservation progress already made and should take advantage of any conservation plan developed for his farm with the assistance of a State or Federal agency.

Each cooperating farmer will be asked to designate from the county list of Agricultural Sonservation Program practices those which he thinks will contribute most to getting his program underway and which are most justified as a public investment in production protection.

Each cooperating farmer is urged to make the fullest use of the financial aid available under the Agricultural Conservation Program and of the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, or other State or Federal agency.

The chairman advises that every farmer in Lynn county will be contacted by letter and given an opportunity to cooperate in the 1952 program.

School Menus For Next Week

It has been announced this week by Archie Sims, Grade School prinicpal, that the school cafeteria will not be able to feed any outsiders, only school children, for Christmas. He states that they now feed approximately 500 students, and will not be able to handle any more, but when the new cafeteria is completed and in operation, they hope to be able to feed outsiders.

Next weeks menus are as follows:

Monday—Meat loaf, creamed potatoes, pork and beans, whole tomatoes, apple preserves, hot rolls, and milk.

Tuesday—Meat and cheese sandwiches, tuna sandwiches, french fried potatoes, pickles, cake.

Wednesday—Brown beans, salmon salad, macaroni and tomatoes, potato chips, apple pie, corn bread, and milk.

Thursday: Soup, cheese sandwiches, meat sandwiches, peanut butter crackers, cookies, and milk.

ERROR IN COTTON CROP ESTIMATES COSTS FARMERS MANY MILLIONS

A gross error made by the U S. Department of Agriculture in estimating the 1951 cotton crop has cost the cotton farmers of the South an estimated $100 million dollars, according to a front page story published in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Tuesday.

On August 8 of this year, the U. S. Department of Agriculture issued an estimate of the crop placing the figures at 17,266,000 bales.

On Monday of this week the Department issued another estimate after almost the entire crop has been gathered, "correcting" its August figures and lowering the same to 15,290,000 bales, thereby acknowledging an error of almost 2,000,000 bales.

In August, the Texas crop alone was estimated at 5,000,000 bales. Its estimate now is only 4,100,000 bales.

Within a few days after the publication of the Government estimate on August 8, the price of cotton dropped 10 cents per pound, or $50.00 per bale, it is asserted. The writer of the Star Telegram story declares that the error of the Department of Agriculture made in July and published on August 8 has cost the cotton farmers of the South at least $100,000,000.

Many people are asking why the Government should be in the business of making future estimates of any crop. It is well enough for the Government to publish the facts, the approximate acreage the number of bales ginned up to given dates, and other pertinent facts, but no man and no set of men in July can forecast what the harvest will be in December.

An error which costs a hundred million dollars is just too costly an error.

Evidences of graft and dishonesty among the higher-up officials of our government or their top employees has been popping up so steadily for the past year or more that many good, honest Democrats are becoming exasperated. President Truman is held responsible for much of this crookedness. While it is not believed that he himself has profited financially from any of it, yet he has appointed to places of great responsibility too many men whose crookedness has been exposed and others whose honesty is being questioned. A president should be more careful in making his appointments; and he should quit playing politics so much. There are many politicians and others who are yet saying that he can not be defeated at the next election except by General Eisenhower. If he is re-elected, that fact will reflect no credit upon the American people.

Senator Taft has shown himself to be so narrow and so little with respect to both the domestic and the foreign policies of this government that we do not believe that he is a fit man for President, but he is reputed to have declared in a speech in North Carolina the other day that the South should not be required to abolish segregation of the races. To us, that was a surprising attitude for him to assume, and we must commend him for his courage. We believe that the members of every race should be treated fairly, but that does not mean that the Government has the right to step in and undertake to regulate the social affairs of the white people of the South, except as the matter of morals may be involved. Senator Taft is right in that respect at least.

Attorney-General Price Daniel has been quoted as saying that he intends to run for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator next year. In spite of that Governor Allen Shivers keeps on saying that he also may run. Both are fine gentlemen and either, in time, could gain some prestige and become an influential member of the United States Senate but we already have a man in the position which they seek who stands at the very top in that body. They object to Tom Connally on the grounds that he is getting old and, they say, grouchy. He has had many years of experience and has learned more perhaps, about national and international affairs than either of these gentlemen can learn in another quarter of a century.

Connally, in fact, is recognized as one of the most brilliant men that Texas has ever sent to the Senate. These fiery ponies should wait until this big and strong old draft horse ceases to pull. Let's leave the harness on old Tom.

Some 25,000 physically handicapped persons are now employed by Naval and Marine Corps activities in the Departmental and Field services.

The Navy has authorized three battle stars for the Korean Service ribbon: North Korean Aggression; Communist Chinese Aggression and Inchon Landing.

ODDS AND ENDS

(By E. I. The Elder)

Last week I told you something about that big ingenious pecan shelling plant down on the banks of the Leon in Bell county, owned and operated by the Winklers. I intended to tell you this week something about the honey-making plant operated under the same roof by members of the industrious Bee family but I have changed my mind. The bees and the honey can wait until a later date. I will tell you now of an institution situated nearer home the Boy Scout Camp near Post There is a little story back of my change of mind, which you can read or skip just as you please.

* * * * *

It all happened in this way. While I was down in Central Texas in October and November, the Glory of the Lord was in the woods everywhere. There was so much of crimson and scarlet among the sumac shrubs and trees that lined many a roadside, so much of rich tan and brown and yellow among the elms and the spreading oaks in the valley and the little oaks on the hillsides and so much of deep, living, throbbing, glistening green in the perfectly-formed cedars that be decked so many hills and dales in the woodlands everywhere, that I could have shut my eyes and clicked my kodak almost anywhere and gotten a charming picture. But that was my trouble. With only eight colored films in my kodak, I kept saving my ammunition for some gem of beauty that might show up just around the corner or just over the next hill almost anywhere. So, actually, I took only five pictures, four of them in the scenic Cowhouse valley, and I came home wondering what I would shoot at with the other three up on these drouth-stricken, wind-swept, and frost-blighted plains. I knew that there was some wonderful scenery down in the "breaks" of the Brazos River in eastern Lynn and western Garza counties, but I had already taken a number of pictures along the headwaters of this noble stream. I was driving along racking my brain trying to think of something fit for another picture. Then suddenly something made me think of the Boy Scouts Eureka! I had found it. I would go down to the Boy Scout camp grounds and use up those three blank films. No thought at all of writing a column—just wanted those colored pictures; and so, on Friday morning, two weeks ago as you read this, I took off.

* * * * *

I had been over the highway several times that leads from Post up onto the plains, skirting the Boy Scout Camp grounds on the south, but I had never before gone through the gate and driven up to the camp site. As I approached the site, I met immediately with two delightful surprises. One was the rugged beauty of the camp site and its environs. Situated on gently rolling terrain with a background of lofty bluffs and precipitous cedar-covered hills, its setting is perfect.

I had used one of my films in taking a picture of the Tahoka-Post highway, where it goes down the picturesque Caprock from the level plains to the broken terrain surrounding Post, three miles east from the rim of the Caprock. Cars were speeding down the declivity when I threw the kodak switch. I hope the picture proves to be a good one, but the cars were so far away that I am afraid that they will be scarcely visible in the picture.

I took a second picture in the Camp with the rugged Caprock background, two miles south of the place where I took the first one. The towering Caprock here encompasses the Camp site on the north and west. This picture should be a beauty.

But I wanted still another picture. So, when I left the camp I drove on up onto the plains, parked my car, and took it a foot down, down, to the very rim of a deep, rugged craggy canyon and took another shot at the scene below me. Cedars as beautiful as those in Bell county filled a dozen gulches that had plowed their way through the soil 100 feet, 200 feet, aparently 300 feet deep in places, below my feet and between me and the perpendicular walls of the Caprock.

These pictures should rival the beauty of those I took down in the valley of the old Cowhouse in Bell county.

* * * * *

But the second surprise that I got was the building campaign that is now under way on the camp grounds.

Did you know, folks, that a building project costing an estimated $150,000 was launched on the camp grounds earlier this year and is already well advanced? Work is in progress now, but the project was planned and launched as a three-year building program.

As I drove up that day into the heart of the camp site, past the keeper's home, past the camp headquarters, I noticed a group of workmen doing some kind of work a hundred yards further on, on the crest of a low-lying sub-caprock hill just north of the other buildings. I turned my car to one side, and parked it near the swimming pool and then walked on up to where the men were. I accosted them, asked a few questions and got considerable information, but they told me that the big boss himself was right down there at the foot of the hill and between them and the great curving caprock, which really looked much like an honest-to-goodness mountain range.

The "Big Boss" was Chief Frank

Odds & Ends

(Cont'd. From Editorial Page)

Runkles, who is the Camp Ranger and Caretaker and general business manager. His duties are numerous and his responsibilities are heavy, but if I am any judge of men, he is equal to the task. Genteel and cultured, he showed me every possible courtesy and impressed me as being a man who possesses in a marked degree just those qualities of heart and mind that qualify a man to capably and successfully lead and train boys. Chief Runkles apparently is just the right man in the right place.

* * * * *

But now for a stanza or two about that big building project Chief Runkles gave me the following information. That building now under construction is to be a new dining room or mess hall, 70 by 40 feet in size with an adjoining kitchen 20 by 40 feet in size. The foundation had been practically completed and the walls will be going up soon, probably are going up already. The First National Bank of Lubbock generously donated the cost of that building, Chief Runkles says, and so the money for it is already in hand or is available in the Bank.

Money for the other buildings is to come from contributions made by friends of Boy Scout work.

Five winter lodges, furnished and equipped with steel cots and good mattresses, capable of lodging 32 boys, are also to be built soon. Four combination toilet and shower bath buildings will also be built to take the place of the the old out-door toilets which have served the boys up till this time.

These have been made possible by reason of the fact that three good water wells have been drilled on that portion of the camp grounds that extends up on the plains, which have been equipped with windmills and piping, and a 100,000-gallon storage tank is to be supplied. I believe that Chief Runkles stated that the wells, windmills, and piping for this new water system had been donated also.

Another building to be constructed is a new trading post and equipment storage house, 52 by 30 feet in size.

Included in the project also is an elegant home for the Camp Ranger and caretaker, which was completed last March and is now occupied by Chief Runkles, his charming wife and two fine boys. He showed us through this home and we may have a little to say about that a little further down the line, for it is really worth writing home about.

The swimming pool was completed in 1948. It is 80 feet long, 55 feet wide at one end and 35 feet wide at the other end. It has a sloping floor, the shallowest water being two feet deep and the diving pool compartment at the other end being ten feet deep. The shallow water is roped off from the deeper water, and boys who come to the camp and are unable to swim are taught to swim the first week they are there. There has never been a serious accident at or in the pool. Its water capacity is 133,000 gallons and the pool was built at a cost of about $30,000.

A small but neat health building is also on the building agenda, in which boys who may become temporarily ill while in camp may find rest and be cared for.

Now for fear that my two or three readers may decide that this Odds-and-Ends column has no end to it, I am going to saw off right here and give you some more dope about the Camp next week. There is the Chief's splendid new home that I have not yet told you about. Besides, the Chief has something about Indians, old-time ranchmen and cowboys, the era and activities of C. W. Post, the founding of the Boy Scout Camp and Rattlesnakes which still abound in the Camp but which have never bitten a single one of the hundreds of Boy Scouts who spend a week in the Camp each year.

All these things interested me keenly, and they may be of even greater interest to the parents of the Boy Scouts of Lynn county who will probably sojourn in the Camp for a week next summer. I promised Chief Runkles that I myself would try to visit the camp on the night when Lynn County Boy Scouts have their big "To-Do." I never belonged to the Boy Scouts myself. There was no such organization when I was a kid. The Boy Scout movement owes its origin to an Englishman, Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who started it in England in 1908. The idea was brought to America by a Chicago man, W. D. Boyce, and a society was organized and incorporated on February 3, 1910, a date which all Scoutdom through America now honors and celebrates. I get this data from the World Book. But the organization must have spread very rapidly, for my son Frank was an enthusiastic Boy Scout back in the 'teens of this present Twentieth Century down in Roscoe. I lacked just two days of being 35 years old when the first boy Scout organization in America was incorporated. I have been here longer than you might think, Boys. And now I often think of that fine poem which I first read long before any Boy Scout was ever born and which starts off like this:

"Backward, turn backward, O
Time, is your flight;
Make me a child again just for tonight."

And I can substitute "Boy" for "Child" without losing any of the sentiment of the poem. So, more about the Post Encampment next week.

During the early months of 1951, there were over 35,000 women serving on active duty with the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps. Current enlistments are increasing the number and thousands more will be available through the Reserve.

In contrast to the service women of World War II, the modern woman in uniform is not utilized only for clerical, secretarial and medical work. They are employed in various other phases of service operations. Today, women act as communications operators, teletype repairmen, aerologists, information and education specialists, dental technicians, electronics instructors, and serve in many other technical fields. They have volunteered for overseas duty and have been assigned to posts in foreign lands.

The elder Mr. Chastain is the father of Herman Chastain and Mrs. Elbert Parks. He reaches his 82nd birthday today—Friday—and is still hale and hearty.

Mrs. D. B. English is visiting in Memphis, Tenn., with her daughter, Mrs. Ed Bergfeld. She expects to be home before Christmas and to have all her family here for the holidays.

During the first year of the Korean war more than 70 million pounds of high explosives were dumped on enemy troops and positions by UN naval forces.

Evans - Phifer Service Read

Miss Barbara Jean Phifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Phifer of Route 4, and Milton Loyde Evans, son or Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Evans of Route 4, were married at 5:30 o'clock Saturday in New Home Baptist Church.

Officiating at the service was Denton Thompson, minister of Lazbiddie Church of Christ. Vows were pledged before an altar decorated with baskets of carnations, greenery and candles in candelabra.

Soloists were Boswell Edwards and Miss Peggy Hemmline.

O. R. Phifer gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly type lace with a scalloped neckline and yoke of illusion. Long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The full skirt was scalloped at the bottom. She carried a bouquet of pink roses centered with a white orchid. Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged with lace and fell from a tiara of seed pearls.

Mrs. L. H. Nettles was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a dress of winter blue satin with silver accessories and hat of satin matching her dress.

Bridesmaids were Misses Norma Lu Evans, Adrinna Evans, and Winona Armontrout. They wore dresses of bronze satin with silver accessories and hats of matching satin.

Charlotte Glenn Nettles, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of green satin. Attendants' dresses were fashioned similarly to that of the bride.

Misses Beth Belew and Bernice Fillingim were candlelighters. They wore dresses of beige satin.

Serving as best man was Harold Crooks. Ushers were Leland White, Carleton Davies and Cecil Bradshaw. Russell Balch was ring bearer.

At the reception which followed the ceremony in the church parlor, the table was laid with an ecru cutwork cloth with a crystal punch bowl and tiered wedding cake at either end. Flowers of attendants and candle in silver holders completed the decorations.

The couple will be at home on a farm in Petty community following a wedding trip to Mexico. They attended New Home High School.

Coming Marriage Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Jones are announcing the approaching marriage on Tuesday, December 18, of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Pfc. Don Dee Cowan of the U. S. Marines. The rites will be read at the Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Mary Ann is a Senior student in Texas Tech. Don Dee is in Marine "boot" training at San Diego, and expects to arrive home Saturday on leave.

How Well Does Family Read?

COLLEGE STATION, —Reading can be a pleasant pastime for the family if proper reading materials are selected for each member, young and old. Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, family life specialist with the A. & M. Extension Service, says that children always prefer picture and story books. These should be strong and durable, full of bright colors, simply and clearly written.

Each family member should have reading material suited to the individual interest. Fiction is always popular and subjects dealing with recreation, crafts, current news, farming and homemaking are general favorites. The Bible should always be easily accessible to members of the family, the specialist believes.

Family reading should take place in comfort, says Mrs. Johnson. For instance, the children should have chairs not too large nor too small and seating arrangement in the home should be available to each person. A place for keeping books and magazines will encourage neatness, too.

Each person should plan for some time each day in which to read. A regular reading hour allowing time for the group to discuss things they read will strengthen family ties, the specialist believes.

METHODIST HOME CHILDREN TO PRESENT CHRISTMAS RADIO PROGRAM

These five Methodist Home children will take part in the Christmas radio dramatization to be heard Sunday, December 16, at 8:15 a.m.

Christmas with 400 children will be the setting for the final radio broadcast of the series, "These Are Your Children," to be presented at 8:15 A.M., December 16, by the Methodist Home, Waco, Texas.

A visit from old Santa and Christmas songs by the Methodist Home chorus will highlight the portrayal of a typical Christmas eve and Christmas day as they are thankfully observed by the Home children, according to Hubert Johnson, superintendent.

"We have many children who have come to the home this year who have never known the thrill of a happy and joyful Christmas," Mr. Johnson explained. "To them Christmas is a dream which has never come true, and Santa is a fictional character who never keeps his promises.

"This year, however, thousands of friends in Texas and New Mexico will share in making Christmas come true for these 400 children of broken homes," Mr. Johnson said.

Activities of the Methodist Home at Christmas as well as every other day in the year are financed by thousands of small gifts from Methodists and other friends who have recognized the outstanding program of rehabilitation being carried on there.

Fifteen radio stations of Texas and New Mexico are cooperating with the Methodist Home in making the broadcasts possible. They are: WFAA, Dallas; WOAI, San Antonio; KPRC, Houston; KRIS, Corpus Christi; KRGV, Weslaco; KGNC, Amarillo; KROD, El Paso; KGGM, Albuquerque; KFYO, Lubbock; KFDM, Beaumont; KFRO, Longview; KVAL, Brownsville; KERB, Kermit; KTBC, Austin, and KBST. Salesman Deserve Break By Buyer

COLLEGE STATION, —Many shoppers consider their experiences wiht sales people distasteful and often they come away from the store without having made the purchase they came for.

Mrs. Florence Low, Home Management Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service points out that pleasant relationships in buying not only make shopping enjoyable but they add up to good business. Remember this, says the specialist, that the sales person is only responsible for one-half of the transaction. He or she may prove a valuable assistant in your buying or else cost you money!

State your wishes clearly to the salesman and ask for intelligent, reliable information. Don't be antagonistic about the price, says Mrs. Low. Instead decide for yourself whether it's worth that much in relation to other things.

Handling merchandise with care is a good way to make a favorable impression on the sales person. Although careful inspection of the goods is justifiable, soiling or damaging it is not.

A good customer will carry her small packages with her rather than ask that they be delivered, Mrs. Low adds. If the purchase turns out to be defective or unsatisfactory, the customer should be free to return it for an exchange or her money back. The buyer is at fault,she says, if goods are returned because a change of fancy after the purchase was made.

A Department of Defense has begun inscribing the word "Korea" on grave markers and headstones of U. S. dead returned from Korea to satisfy the National cemetery regulations requiring name of war served in.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflow Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.
