

OVER $2 MILLION Funds Asked For Hospital At Webb AFB

A Department of Defense request for funding of a new, permanent hospital facility at Webb Air Force Base was announced today, through the office of Congressman Omar Burleson in Washington.

The DOD is asking $2,121,000 for the facility.

Next Fiscal Year

This, with other items for Webb, will be in the budget request for the government's fiscal year 1968, starting next July 1. The money requests, of course, will have to go through legislative authorization and appropriation.

Other items on the Webb agenda for the next fiscal year are $55,000 for a data processing plant, and $120,000 for an automatic sprinkler system for fire protection. This makes a total request for Webb of $2,296,000.

Cleared First Time

Efforts to bring a modern hospital unit to the Base have been going on for several years, and the request has now cleared the Department of Defense for the first time. The current hospital still functions in buildings erected for such a purpose when the Big Spring Bombardier School was opened during World War II. These buildings were later used as the first facility of Howard County Junior College, when it opened.

Just 10 days ago a special survey team was here to check on the Webb medical facilities and their relation to the community.

Studied One Site

This group was winding up a study of the needs of taking care of the Air Force family, and relating these to available facilities, plus existing federal and other installations. It was understood that the team also did study on a tentative site

Abolishing Office OK'd

Legislation to abolish the office of county school superintendent in Howard County was completed in Austin today, and the bill now awaits Governor John Connally's signature.

House Passes Bill

Rep. Temple Dickson advised The Herald that the House of Representatives passed the measure this morning, and that shortly thereafter, the Senate voted concurrence to a provision making the bill effective immediately. The Senate previously had passed the bill without this provision.

Dickson said it could be presumed that the governor might sign the bill some time next week. When this is done, abolition of the office becomes mandatory without delay.

What duties are left in the office would go into the administration of the county judge.

Political Issue

Last year, during political campaigning, there was considerable emphasis placed on closing out the office, since there are no common school districts left in Howard County. County Supt. Walker Bailey, long-time incumbent, announced his agreement for termination of the office as his Republican opponent, Mrs. Judith Spencer, advocated the same.

Gls Groan In Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — American servicemen in Saigon reacted with groans, sighs and occasional screams today to the news that they're losing $21-million a year in living allowances. The guys out in the boonies couldn't care less — they weren't getting it.

Short-timers whose tours in Vietnam are nearly over took it casually. Others said the Pentagon was fouled up, blind, crazy or an unprintable combination of these and other things.

Badly Inflated Economy

The Pentagon announced Wednesday that on May 1 it is ending the cost of living allowances paid to some 31,200 servicemen in the Saigon area. The allowances — ranging from $27 a month for privates to $84 for generals — were intended to help men who had to live partially on the badly inflated civilian economy.

Many men drawing the allowance were actually living in military quarters and eating at military messes. But others told a different story.

"Look around this town," said one Army sergeant who didn't want his name used. "There are hundreds of guys who miss meals and have to grab taxis and pay for all kinds of things they wouldn't have to if they were working on some regular base. It'll cost me about $2 a day and I will really miss it."

Plane With 21 Persons Aboard Crashes In Ohio

Several Bodies Found

URBANA, Ohio, (AP) — A Trans World Airlines DC9 with 21 persons aboard crashed today just 50 miles from the scene of a crash Sunday which killed 38 persons.

The sheriff's office said some bodies were scattered amid wreckage which landed near the resort community of Meadow Lake about five miles northwest of this central Ohio city.

SIX AMBULANCES

One report said six ambulances were dispatched with victims from the scene, but it was not known if there were any survivors.

TWA in Chicago identified the plane as Flight 553, which goes from New York to Chicago with a stop at Dayton, about 30 miles to the south. TWA said the 70-passenger plane had 21 aboard.

The crash scene was identified as not far from the Urbana Airport, which does not have regular airline service.

DAYTON BOUND

TWA said the plane had left New York's La Guardia field with stops in Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, Pa., en route to Dayton.

On Sunday night, a Lake Central Airlines Convair 580—a turboprop plane—crashed near Kenton, killing all 38 persons aboard. Civil Aeronautics Board investigators were still probing that wreckage when they received reports of the new crash.

Texas House Evenly Split On Drink Bill?

AUSTIN (AP) — A sponsor of Gov. John Connally's liquor by the drink bill said he has polled 140 of the 150 House members and finds them about evenly split.

Rep. John Fields of Dallas said he is "very gratified" by the results and is not discouraged by a poll that showed 14 of the 21 members of the House Tax Committee oppose the bill.

"I'm very encouraged, because with the firm yeses, those that would like a firm local option provision and those who are undecided but definitely leaning toward us, it is a firm 70-70," Field said.

He said he has not polled 10 other members.

"OPEN-MINDED GENTS" "I don't put much credence in the poll of the Revenue and Tax Committee because I know them to be fair, open-minded gentlemen who will reach a decision based on the testimony before the committee and won't make up their minds before hearing it," Field said.

Rep. Bud Sherman of Fort Worth polled all members of the committee except Chairman Ben Atwell of Dallas last week. He said the results were 14 against, three for and three undecided.

Field admitted that the local option provision of the bill might have to be changed to swing some votes to the measure. As written, the bill would automatically take effect in counties that have legalized "package stores and on-premise consumption of beer and wine."

MARCH 21 HEARING Such counties—about 122 of them—could ban public sale of mixed drinks only by a local option election. All other counties would have mixed drinks only after such an election.

He said some members have indicated support of the bill if it would require an affirmative local option vote in all counties before they could have liquor by the drink.

"A very few individuals would like it better this way," Field said.

Field is co-sponsoring the bill in the House with Rep. Dick McKissack of Dallas. A hearing is scheduled March 21 before the tax committee.

South Koreans Say 'Me, Too' To Guns Deal

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — America's South Korean allies are saying "me, too" in a big way after learning that the United States is selling neutralist Singapore 23,000 modern automatic rifles.

The Koreans want up-to-date guns for their troops along the frontier with North Korea as well as those in Vietnam who are still armed with World War II model weapons.

Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun told a news conference he will ask U.S. officials to issue modern automatic weapons to the 45,000 Koreans in Vietnam when he accompanies Premier Chung Il-kwon to Washington next week.

NO COMMENT

Kim refused to comment on the Singapore weapons deal, but he said it was urgent that "outmoded small firearms of our boys" in Vietnam be replaced with automatic weapons suitable for jungle warfare.

Kim, a former Marine officer, said modern weapons were also needed for his troops manning the 152-mile Korean truce lines with World War II MI rifles while North Korean troops across the line are armed with modern automatic weapons.

The Seoul newspaper Hankook Ilbo said the sale of automatic weapons to Singapore "makes us feel as if we had been betrayed by a friend."

OUTDATED RIFLES

It said the sale "demonstrates an excess in the U.S. capability of manufacturing and conveying such modern rifles badly needed in the Vietnam war, especially by our troops whose outmoded rifles are inferior to the enemy fire power."

"And yet the supply of automatic rifles to our troops on Vietnam duty has been delayed on the pretext that U.S. production and transportation capability is rather limited."

Teaching Hospital Bill Passes House

AUSTIN (AP)—House members passed and sent to the governor today a bill aimed at helping San Antonio out of its medical school troubles. One legislator asserted the bill "rapes the people of San Antonio."

The bill allows the Bexar County Commissioners Court to assess property in the hospital district that covers the county by as much as 50 per cent of market value.

Rep. Bill Fink of San Antonio said the measure would provide a way of getting the revenue needed to operate a teaching hospital in conjunction with the University of Texas Medical School in San Antonio.

LIKE BOY SCOUT

Bexar County voters recently rejected a special tax to operate and maintain the hospital.

"Let's not pass this bill that rapes the people of San Antonio," said Rep. J. M. Simpson of Amarillo. "It's like a Boy Scout helping a little old lady across the street and she doesn't want to go."

"We are voting, without a vote of the people of Bexar County, a tax they have already voted against and have told the people of Texas they didn't want."

122-17 VOTE

The final vote was 122-17. The House had to suspend rules to consider the bill, which passed the Senate Tuesday and was approved by a House committee Wednesday.

In another development Speaker Ben Barnes; Rep. Gus Mutscher, chairman of the House Redistricting Committee; and Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall prepared to leave today for a visit with Texas congressmen in Washington.

Barnes said the legislators will discuss congressional reapportionment with the state's congressmen. He also said they

Communist Retaliation Hikes American Losses

SAIGON (AP) — The highest American losses of the Vietnam war were announced today, reflecting the steadily rising U. S. military effort and Communist retaliation with heavier mortar attacks, mines, booby traps and hit and run assaults.

The total casualties last week were 1,617 killed, wounded and missing. It included 232 dead, 1,381 wounded and four missing. Most were in the small skirmishes and fleeting Red jabs that have characterized the recent fighting.

232 DIE

While the over-all total was the highest of the war, the total of 232 killed was exceeded by one week in November, 1965, when 240 Americans died. But most of that death toll came in the fierce Ia Drang Valley battle, not in engagements scattered the length of South Vietnam.

By unofficial tabulation, American combat losses in the war up to last Saturday midnight were 7,920 killed and 45,836 wounded.

The U. S. Command reported 1,736 Communists were killed last week, well above average but not a record. However, South Vietnam's "open arms" program to attract defectors dealt the Reds a hard blow. A record weekly total of 1,168 Communist soldiers and political workers came into allied lines waving the slips of paper granting them amnesty for turning on the Reds.

DOUBLE DEFECTORS

Allied statistics show the open arms program is attracting defectors at twice the rate of last year.

Another sign of the stepped-up war was the lifting of security wraps on the first major offensive operation in the Mekong Delta by troops of the U. S. 9th Infantry Division, the first big U. S. ground unit to be permanently assigned to that vital area which contains about one third of South Vietnam's 15 million people and grows 80 per cent of its rice.

DIGGING IN

The division's 3rd Brigade arrived at Dong Tam, about 40 miles southwest of Saigon, in late January and has been digging in. The U. S. Command announced that more than 1,500 men of the brigade began sweeping the surrounding Viet Cong-infested paddy land two days ago in Operation Plum Beach.

In a series of skirmishes, the brigade has killed 42 Viet Cong in the operation, a U. S. spokesman said. Communist retaliation cost the brigade nine dead and four wounded in ground combat and two dead and 10 wounded when the Reds mor-tared the Dong Tam camp Wednesday.

SECURITY SWEEP

The brigade's security sweep signals the beginning of stepped-up U. S. efforts in the delta, where 100 or more U. S. Navy small craft are also stationed to sweep into the narrow waterways with supporting fire. Three South Vietnamese divisions have borne the brunt of the fighting in the delta until now.

The U. S. Command also announced that American military forces in Vietnam now total 417,400 — an increase of 2,400 last week — enabling Gen. William C. Westmoreland currently to keep 15 ground sweeps going at one time.

SUPPLIES SEIZED

The biggest of these is Operation Junction City in which some 45,000 ground, air, communications, supply and other personnel have uncovered a mountain of Red supplies, bunkers and documents but relatively few enemy troops in Communist war Zone C near the Cambodian border. One U. S. soldier was killed there Wednesday, 21 were wounded and an American helicopter was forced down by ground fire.

Bullets Kill Plane Thief

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Hail Thomas Hansen, 20, Phoenix, was killed by a policeman's bullet today when he tried to take off a second time at Sky Harbor Airport in a stolen plane, officers said.

Police said the Cessna 172 valued at $12,000 was stolen about midnight and returned to the airport about 4 a.m.

Two squad cars approached the plane as it was taxiing along the runway.

The craft then picked up speed again as if it were going to take off and the squad cars flanked it, driving under the wings.

Sgt. Robert Kimm said just before the plane got airborne, it veered toward him, causing him to slow his car. He said he pumped four shots into the craft and the plane nosed over into a chain-link fence.

Hansen was dead on arrival at a Phoenix hospital with a bullet wound in his midsection. The aircraft belonged to Saguaro Aviation, Inc.

Houston Bank Bandit Nabbed

HOUSTON (AP)—A man wearing a red sports coat took $5,000 to $6,000 from a downtown bank today but was captured 10 minutes later in a nearby hotel.

Henry Dudley, president of the Main Bank, was among those who gave chase after the man fled on foot. Other bank employees also joined the chase.

The man was followed to an old hotel 3½ blocks away and he surrendered as the officers began checking rooms on the third floor.

Mrs. Lennie Holder, a teller, said the man handed her a paper sack on which "hand over money" had been written. Mrs. Holder said the man displayed a gun and told her "I want all of the money."

The money was recovered.

OFF BEATEN TRAIL

What Happened To London—Uno

By ED SYERS

Besides being also in England and once in East Texas, London is a bit of a place in the Llano River hills northeast of scenic Junction. More, it claims a little story showing folks can hassle when they decide whether to get wet, dry or just part-ways.

For his Kimble County Survey Committee, Historian Emmett Hensley tells it: "On May 8, 1905, there appeared before the Commissioners Court a petition signed by 62 voters of the London precinct, asking a local option election.

"The London saloon, a long unpainted building, was, of course, a man's club exclusively — the usual bar with mirror, brass rail, beer, wines and liquors... a pool table and kerosene hanging lamps." The proprietor was Jack Mack; with the town he waited upon public debate.

"That warm June evening, the ladies, dressed in their best, marched their families to the schoolhouse to be informed on this important political decision. "Dry" families wore white ribbons, "wet" families, red; otherwise, they all looked much the same." There were speeches on the evils of drink and a worried "wet" defense.

Came the election: the "drys" won 54 to 40, even though eight petition-signing husbands quietly had gone fishing. Ultimately Jack Mack would close up and leave.

But the election wasn't really the coup de grace. "For a time," recalls Hensley, "Mack kept his pool tables and added a non-alcoholic beer called 'Uno.'" And death blow came in the growing slogan customers picked for "Uno."

"You know and I know that 'Uno' ain't worth a dang!"

HURRIED HISTORIAN

These do-it-fast, pressured times, maybe this isn't too far off trail. Here's a query from a Plains country Junior Miss. It ought to tickle any parent and most teachers:

"For my theme, please send me as much important and interesting information on the history of the Panhandle as you can." (That's not asking too much, is it? Will he hurry?) "I need it as soon as you can get it to me." (Still not strong enough; I better level.) "I need this information to even pass my History at all so please send it." Honey, I sure hope we made it.

Special Elections Worry Laborites

LONDON (AP) — The Labor government tested its popularity at home in three special parliamentary elections today as it got word from highly qualified diplomats that French President Charles de Gaulle wants to keep Britain out of the Common Market for three years or more.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson completed visits to Common Market capitals Wednesday to seek support for British membership. He reportedly found only three of the six — Italy, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — wholeheartedly in favor.

But the government was buoyed by a Bank of England forecast that Britain this year will have its first foreign trade surplus since 1962. The National Institute of Economic and Social Research, a private group supported by foundations and government agencies, estimated the foreign exchange surplus at $440 million.

PROTEST VOTES

The institute said the government should be able to pay $500 million due the International Monetary Fund on Dec. 1 with the surplus and its $500 million in state holdings of dollar securities without touching the national reserves.

The House of Commons elections were to fill vacancies in the Welsh coal valley of the Rhondda River, the Pollok district of Glasgow, Scotland, and at Nuneaton, in the industrial Midlands.

All the seats had been held by Laborites. The loss of any could deal Labor a psychological blow but would have no effect on the party's control of Commons, where it has a majority of nearly 100 seats.

Wilson was said to be most concerned about Rhondda and Pollok, where Welsh and Scottish nationalist groups were likely to pull big protest votes.

WILSON RETURNS

Wilson returned Wednesday night from a day-long conference in Luxembourg as ambulances and fire equipment were mobilized beside the runway at London Airport. The pilot of Wilson's Royal Air Force Comet radioed his suspicion that the nosewheel tire had blown out, but the plane landed with its wheels undamaged.

Wilson said before leaving Luxembourg Britain now had to decide whether and when to apply for Common Market membership. Almost all of his Cabinet was said to favor an early application, with Douglas Jay, Board of Trade president, believed about the only minister likely to resign in protest.

But qualified diplomats said De Gaulle wants an extended delay as a test of Britain's loyalty to Europe. He reportedly wants to examine Britain's willingness to loosen its close political and economic ties with the United States and to give up its role as a world power.

British Censors Ban Jap Movie

LONDON (AP) — The British censors have banned a Japanese woman's experimental film which consists of rear views of naked men and women walking.

Miss Yoko Ono, 30, describes her 90-minute movie as "a clinical investigation of walking." She said she and 500 supporters will picket the British Board of Film Censors Friday to protest the ban.

The movie, titled "Number Four," was shot in London last month at a cost of less than $2,800.

Anthony Cox, 30, an American who directed the movie, said the censors saw 30 minutes of the film and told him "to remove it from our premises as soon as possible."

Exile's Success Is Castro's Loss

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Back in 1960 a Cuban mother and father put William Sabates and his younger brother and two sisters on an airplane for the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo Sabates didn't want the children to grow up under the Fidel-Castro regime. Three years later the parents fled Cuba and joined the children in Charlotte.

This week the 99 Morehead scholarship winners were announced and one of them was William Sabates.

A-MINUS AVERAGE

His A-minus average for four years had been rewarded with a $7,000 scholarship for four-years study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

An athlete as well as top student, Sabates, 17, has played football, basketball and baseball and is on the track team at Charlotte's Catholic High.

Which sports will he play at North Carolina?

"I want to study," he says. "Studies come first. I'll go out for baseball if I have time. I may try basketball."

'NOW I'M SURE'

His studies will be premedical, with a major in biology.

"I want to be an ophthalmologist and I hope to do well enough to earn some graduate help," Sabates said.

Recently he watched an operation at a Charlotte hospital because "I wanted to be sure that's what I wanted to be," the dark-haired boy said. "Now I'm sure."

The faculty at Catholic High is almost as elated as Sabates about the Morehead scholarship. It's the first for the school.

The scholarships are provided by a foundation established by the late John Motley Morehead, who has given millions of dollars to the University of North Carolina. Morehead was founder of the Union Carbide Corp.

Water Pollution Study Scheduled

HOUSTON (AP) — A $2.5 million study of water pollution in Galveston Bay and the Houston ship channel is expected to start Sept. 1.

Joe Moore, chairman of the Texas Water Pollution Control Board, said Wednesday the three-year program will require $175,000 a year. Moore spoke to industrial plant managers and the manufacturers committee of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce.

He said the program will be partly financed by federal funds matched by contributions made from a private foundation known as the Texas Air and Water Resources Foundation.

The foundation has started a campaign to raise money from industries in the area.

"We're actively seeking a project director and if we had one, we could start today," Moore said. "We've set Sept. 1 as a goal."

'Bonanza' Spin-Off Scheduled

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Time was in the television business when any package of programs who thought he had a good idea for a series would whip up a sample show to demonstrate to networks and sponsors.

But as costs climbed to where it sometimes reaches almost half a million dollars to put together one of these pilot shows, fewer gambles of this sort are made. But there has developed a new type of pilot called "the spin-off." This involves using an established series as a frame in which to show a new idea.

'ROAD WEST' START
NBC's "Road West" was born as an episode of "The Virginian." "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." evolved from "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." But anthology programs, like Bob Hope's Wednesday night shows, have been the most prolific spawning grounds for new series ideas, including "Run For Your Life."

Fans of NBC's "Bonanza" will see a potential new series March 26. But, unlike most other spin-offs, the idea did not occur to the show's producer until he saw the way one of last season's episodes turned out.

LAND BATTLE
That was a show about an immigrant Italian vintner who settled on Ponderosa land and became involved in a land squabble with the Cartwrights.

The next move was to order up a second script using the same characters and develop the format a bit further. The family has the ideal TV family — wife and two teenage children. And everybody in the cast is dreaming up all the story lines they can play out — if the lightning strikes next year or even the year after that.

'STAGE 67'
It now appears that NBC will give "I Dream of Jeannie" another season — it's fate had been in doubt — and move it to the head of its Tuesday night lineup. There is also talk of adding a second genre to live things up. It is also expected that the new Jerry Lewis variety hour will follow it on that night, with "Star Trek" moved into the Friday night column.

CBS is expected to replace Steven Hill with Peter Graves as the lead in "Mission: Impossible" next season.

Recommended tonight: "Trilogy: The American Boy," ABC, 10-11 EST, a "Stage 67" presentation of three short films showing the growing up process in three different parts of the country.

YMCA Schedule Is Moved Up

Because of the school holiday, the regular Saturday swim schedule at the YMCA will be moved up to Friday. This means that elementary age youngsters may swim from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.; junior high and above at 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday morning there will be no swimming because of the high school swimming meet, but boys and girls of all ages can swim from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Techniques Change For 'Early' Year Students

(This is the last of a series of articles on the occasion of Texas Public School Week—Ed)

Nearly two out of every three children in the Big Spring school system is in what once was called grade school. Today, as though a step in the right direction, these are known as elementary schools. Perhaps early school might be a better name, because from beginning through high school the trend is to bracket pupils but to train them to be worthy citizens in a democracy.

4,200 CHILDREN
The Big Spring system has a dozen elementary schools, and one for special education. Elementary schools, located over the city for convenience of neighborhoods, are: Airport, Bauer, Boydston, Cedar Crest, College Heights, Gay Hill, Kentwood, Lakeview, Marcy, Moss Park Hill, and Washington. The special education unit, housed in the Moss plant, is for youngsters with special physical or other problems. Altogether, these levels of education in the Big Spring system involve over 4,200 children.

Techniques are changing in elementary education, and to some extent philosophies. As children come into the school situation, an immediate effort is to encourage the child to respect himself (or herself), to have pride and confidence, to feel a sense of dignity and personal worth. The next step logically is to have respect for these attributes in others. Finally, there is the step toward participation.

PERCEIVE DIFFERENTLY
All of this may sound simple; actually it is frightfully complex, for every youngster is a different personality. Still, it is not accurate to say that the child is everything; rather it is the child learning how to get at and cope with his problems and challenges.

More and more, educational systems are putting into practice what long has been known — not all children perceive in the same way or at the same pace. Because a youngster does not grasp a certain presentation at once does not mean that he is stupid, lazy or indifferent. More than likely it means there is some block to learning, and this teacher's job is to search for the cause of the block, not to scold or condemn.

Out of this recognition has grown the plan of instructional levels, instead of grades. By testing, interviews, counseling, etc., youngsters entering the system for the first time are oriented toward an indicated level. This is part of the process of shifting toward development of self-directed study. Some call it the discovery approach in which the pupil explores for himself the meaning, the generalizations, the relationships of what ever subject area he is delving into. Out of this he learns to make choices and decisions as against the older philosophy of being spoon-fed well-regulated diets and doses.

RECOGNIZE HOW
One of the aims to use math as an example, is not to stuff a lot of rules into a youngster's memory, but to equip him—to recognize which basic approach to use when confronted with a new problem.

Instead of being an all-in-all within themselves, subjects become areas in which pupils move to discover basic principles and generalizations within a subject area.

The level approach (local

Loses County Probation

Pete Campos, who was given a probation sentence of 12 months just two days short of a year ago Wednesday, was ordered into the Howard County jail to serve the sentence.

Judge Lee Porter, for the first time since county court probations have been practiced, revoked the clemency granted the man and ordered him into the custody of the sheriff.

Campos was tried in Howard County Court on March 10, 1966, on a theft charge. The judge sentenced him to a year in jail and probated the sentence on good behavior.

On Oct. 14, 1966, Campos, under indictment for burglary, entered a plea of guilty and was given a three year probation sentence. This was possible because Campos had not previously been convicted of a felony.

His district court conviction, however, was enough for the county court to set aside the probated misdemeanor probation and send the man to jail for a year.

Probation has been widely used in the county court here since the law permitted such procedure by the county judge.

No Political Pull, But Gets Rocky Push

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The snowbound motorist had no political pull, but he got a big push from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Police said the governor and his bodyguard, Maj. Edward Galvin, stopped to help the motorist Tuesday while trudging through the 10-inch snowfall to the Capitol.

schools function on this plan through the first three to four grades and one for the first six) permits a child to proceed at his own speed and capability; he doesn't pass, he doesn't fail. He steps from one level to another at his own learning pace. Teachers thus have a chance for closer appraisal, even closer individual attention.

There are many aids. One is the central library, which is just now blossoming as it should in elementary schools. The pupil is stimulated to come here as a source for his discovery. Already — though not yet here — computers are being brought into the picture to individualize instruction — CAI (Computer Assisted Instruction) they call it. Pupils will go to a private library station, feed in their coded key, and the computers project the material on the screen (this may come from another school or a college or university across the nation). The material is upgraded as given; it branches into comparable levels for other approaches when wrong answers are given.

CONDUCTIVE TO LEARNING
This doesn't mean teachers are by-passed. It is another way of making instruction more personal, more effective. Counselors help too, whether in diagnostic work of placing youngsters or in pinpointing emotional problems, regardless of source, and making the classroom as compatible and conducive as possible toward learning.

The objective is to equip a child, so that when he goes from elementary to secondary schools, he will have some of the know-how and a lot more motivation to discover knowledge.

Winter Beats Quick Retreat From Texas

By The Associated Press

Winter beat another quick retreat from most of Texas today.

Clouds thickened from the central part of the state westward to the Lower Pecos Valley while skies were clear elsewhere.

It was considerably warmer at many points than 24 hours earlier and only a few saw temperatures dip below freezing.

Dalhart, which recorded four above zero the day before, was the coolest with an overnight low of 21. Perryton had a 27 compared to zero Wednesday and Lubbock 25 compared to 11.

Early morning marks in other sections ranged up to 59 at Corpus Christi.

Further warming was in prospect throughout the state. Forecasts called for occasional light drizzle by tonight or Friday in parts of East Texas but no moisture elsewhere.

Barney Toland Acquires Volkswagen Dealership

A change in ownership of the Volkswagen dealership here is being announced. Barney Toland, veteran automobile man, has acquired the assets of Western Car Company from Frank Winterhalter, and is changing the name of the firm to Barney Toland Volkswagen.

The dealership will operate at the same location, 2114 W. 3rd, and Toland said present members of the staff will continue as his co-workers.

In addition, Winterhalter, who announced he is selling his property for reasons of health, will assist Toland in an advisory and sales capacity. "My doctors have ordered me very positively to relieve myself of management responsibilities," said Winterhalter, "and this is the reason for the transaction. I want to help Mr. Toland all I can, because I appreciate the good business that people of the Big Spring area have given me."

Toland has moved here with his family from Odessa, and until they acquire a permanent home, they are residing in the Ponderosa Apartments. He and Mrs. Toland have a daughter, Janet, a sophomore in Big Spring High School.

Toland, a native of Sweetwater, has lived all his life in West Texas. He has been in the automotive business in Odessa for 15 years, the past five in the Volkswagen area. Joining him here is Tommy Nichols, a parts

College Couple To Aid Refugees

"We feel our experience was like a hand pointing and we are going to follow its lead," said Eleanor Dart, 20, of Eugene, Ore.

She and Ogden E. Kellogg Jr., 21, of Gold Hill, Ore., were lost for two weeks on the slope of Mt. Diablo in Baja California. They were rescued by helicopter a week ago.

"I'm convinced the hand of God played a part, so is Ogden," she said Wednesday. They have decided to join the American Friends Service Committee.

BARNEY TOLAND

"We are pleased with the reception we have had in the past few days," said Toland, "and we are going to make Big Spring our home and become a part of the community. We will be delighted to have old friends of the company to come in, and we, of course, want to make new friends."

New Satellite Circles Globe

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

— America's new "sunshine satellite" was working fine today as it whirled about the globe on its sun-studying mission.

The 627-pound payload carried nine scientific instruments into orbit from Cape Kennedy Wednesday to continue extensive solar investigations begun by two earlier satellites.

The new satellite is called OSO 3 for Orbiting Solar Observatory. A total of seven launches is planned to chart a full 11-year solar cycle during which solar activity ranges from quiet to a period of intense flare activity.

The satellite, built by Ball Brothers Research Corp., Boulder, Colo., will observe sun spots, X-rays, gamma rays and radio emissions from the sun so scientists can study their effect on weather, communications and manned space flights.

'Plain, Bald Faced Thief'

DALLAS (AP) — A jury resumed deliberations today in the case of James Owens, accused of taking funds from Lumbermen's Insurance Corp. of Dallas and using the money to buy that company.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Kenneth Blasingame in final arguments, called Owens a "plain, bald faced thief."

Defense lawyer Henry Klepac asserted Owens was the "patsy" in a high finance deal.

The tangled case involved more than $1 million. The state said Owens' manipulations gave him control of the company and the presidency of its board of directors.

Women Organize 'Safety Patrol'

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Women members of the Parent-Teachers Association of McMurray Elementary School here have volunteered to work as a "safety patrol" for their children going to and leaving school. The Department of Public Safety has furnished bright orange vests and signs for the women to use at street crossing.

School Costs Are Going Up

Education is a total community process, but a staggering part of the load traditionally falls on the school, according to Sam Anderson, Big Spring school superintendent.

Anderson addressed the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday at the Settles, pointing out that costs were rising rapidly as population explodes.

"It's enough to make us worry," he said, "but there is no easy way out if we exercise the only acceptable choice of educating our children so that they will be able to cope with the problems of making a democracy work."

Within the past eight years the national cost for public schools has risen from $14 to $28 billion, he said, and the trend is still up. Texas has boosted its annual expenditure per pupil to $533, but even so it ranks in the lower half of states in this respect.

One of the problems is getting and holding recruits in the teaching profession, he said, noting that "we are in a buyer's market for qualified people."

It will take a discerning public to screen the critical problems of public education so that time, money and energy can be spent fighting giants instead of windmills, according to Anderson.

Lions were favored by a number of selections played by the Runnels Junior High stage band under direction of Don Turner.

Police Check On False Calls

Police were pushing an investigation today into a series of false alarms and obscene telephone calls pressed into a two and a half hour period Wednesday evening.

Emergency runs were necessitated on several of the calls. It all started at 8:10 p.m. with a call of a gang fight on College Avenue, followed by one of a child being run over at 8:15, which necessitated sending an ambulance as well as a police unit. Next came a call at 8:38 p.m. of a fire at Fourth and Owens.

In rapid succession, a woman received an obscene call, so did the police station and fire department.

Then two women got calls that their places would be bombed at midnight, and finally at 10:47 p.m., police got a call of a gang fight on the post office steps.

CITY COMMISSIONERS

Agenda Prepared For Students

Students serving as city commissioners of Big Spring Friday during Student Government Day, will study a realistic agenda listing four complex problems for their decision.

Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, drafted the agenda, as well as some background notes giving the students the pros and cons of each issue. Some of the issues have been decided and are now law, but in each case the students will be encouraged to arrive at an independent decision.

The agenda includes these four items:

Consideration for support of House Bill No. 207 and calling a local election for adoption of a sales tax for Big Spring.

Application of the city's subdivision ordinance to areas within a two miles radius of the city limits.

Consideration of a city ordinance to permit the city to raze hazardous structures.

Hypothetical request for a permit to open a public dance hall and sell beer for on-premises consumption at the southeast corner of Third and Gregg street intersection.

The student commissioners are Robby Robertson, Debbie Douglas, Bobby Polk, Jack Cathey, and Bobby Ray. The City Commissioners, who will meet with the students, are Arnold Marshall, John Stanley, Jimmy Morehead, Walter Stroup, and Chester Cathey.

The "mock" meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Second Case Gets Started

A compensation case, styled N. T. Winn vs. Home Indemnity Co., is under way in 118th District Court today. A jury was being qualified Thursday morning and the initial evidence in the case was expected to start by early afternoon.

The case is the second on this week's civil jury docket.

The first case was a divorce suit, Ila M. Davidson vs. Lloyd Davidson, and came to a conclusion at 5 p.m. Wednesday. A jury, which had heard the evidence, returned a verdict at that hour. The case, to a considerable degree, hinged on the proper division of property and determination of property values.

From the verdict of the jury, in which seven issues were swayed, Judge Ralph Cator will prepare the judgment in the case and rule on the petition for a divorce decree.

Lions Plan Bulb Sale

Nex week the annual light bulb sale of the Downtown Lions Club will be staged as more than four score Lions knock on local doors in behalf of sight conservation and blind work.

Teams of Lions will visit homes and businesses during that evening, skip Wednesday and return Thursday and Friday to clean up the project.

John F. Smith heads one division and Don Shoemaker another. Both have some 10 teams of workers.

Proceeds from the sale of the bulbs — which come in an assortment of sizes — go to finance the purchase of glasses for children and adults who cannot afford them, to assist in other areas of sight conservation and blind work.

Connally Asks New Ag Board

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally asked the legislature today to set up a Texas Agricultural Development Board to create goals for Texas farmers and ranchers and to promote their products.

"To state the problem briefly, Texas has begun to fall behind in its relative growth in the field of agriculture, despite the fact that we are still one of the major agricultural states in the nation," Connally said in his fourth message to this legislature.

Fifteen years ago, Texas and California were equal in agricultural income. Today, California reaps some $1.5 billion more in agricultural income than Texas — and this in spite of the fact that California's physical assets are less than those of Texas."

The board would have 15 members, appointed so as to provide representation from all areas.

The governor's office said he would ask $228,000 for the board for the next two years.

BIG SPRING BUSINESS REVIEW

10-A BIG SPRING, (TEXAS), HERALD, THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1967 10-A

Home Real Estate Offers Immediate Sales Results

Home Real Estate is selling Big Spring — at least parts of it.

Now is a prime time to sell or trade your home; the money market is in your favor and equity sales have been good lately through Home Real Estate.

Take the case of the owners and employees of Gounds' Pharmacy, located at 900 Main.

In 1966, a young pharmacist Tejan Cunningham was employed by Gounds' Pharmacy. The new job meant moving his family to Big Spring, and with the assistance of Home Real Estate, he purchased a home at 2611 Larry.

Early in 1967 Wayne Gound, owner of Gounds' Pharmacy, sold his business. This meant selling the homes and relocating the families and owner of Gounds' Pharmacy.

All turned to Home Real Estate for assistance in selling their homes.

Home Real Estate first sold the home of Tejan Cunningham, the same home he had purchased from Home Real Estate a few months earlier. Then Home Real Estate sold the home of Norman Gound, pharmacist at Gound Pharmacy. Now Home Real Estate is showing, by special appointment, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gound, located at 1608 Osage. With two sales down and only one to go for the Gounds' Pharmacy employees, Home Real Estate expects to find a new owner for this beautiful home any day.

The relation of the home sales mentioned above points to the fact that Home Real Estate Co., now in its third year of operation, can help you sell your property now. Home Real Estate Co. offers the experience of trained people who sold over $1 million in residential real estate the past year. The licensed sales staff at Home Real Estate include Jeff Brown, Bill Crooker, Marie Price, Lee Hans and Sue Brown.

Just as you go to a doctor or lawyer for specialized work, a realtor knows how to sell homes. Home Real Estate can help you establish fair value. Home Real Estate can separate the "buyers" from "lookers"; technical skill, business experience, and contact with financial institutions can help you make the best sale.

Home Real Estate points out that the best way to market

ONE OF HOME REALTY'S CURRENT OFFERINGS
Lee Hans (left) and Marie Price are available to show it a home — probably a family's most valuable asset — is the professional way through a realtor.

Home Real Estate also reminds owners that it is possible to underprice a home, because of unfamiliarity with the market. "For Sale by Owner" signs are frequently checked by speculators who are anxious to pick up a profit on a bargain.

If the homeowner tries to sell his own home, it is commonly conceded he may price it far above its market value because of sentimental attachments or expenditures he has made through the years, or failure to recognize that houses no longer command scarcity prices.

Perhaps friends give the home owner an opinion on what the house is worth. Are they familiar with the current real estate market and trends in buying? A house, once it has remained on the market for too long because of over-pricing, frequently becomes a "white elephant." Frequently it is finally sold for a much lower figure than it would have brought originally — had it been priced right and listed for sale with a realtor.

The staff of Home Real Es tate encourages home owners to consider "trading up" if they are going to continue living in Big Spring and want a different home. Many times a home owner can recover a large equity he has in his home by effecting a trade through Home Real Estate.

If the owner is moving to another town Home Real Estate, through its connections with the state and national association, may be able to find someone who is moving to Big Spring from that town and arrange an exchange, giving the customer the protection of dealing with an ethical individual, not total strangers.

The entire staff of Home Real Estate are realtor - members through the Texas Real Estate Association and National Association of Real Estate Boards, by virtue of their being active members of the Big Spring Board of Realtors. Realtor Jeff Brown is currently serving as a director for the state association. Realtors subscribe to a strict code of ethics, and assures both seller and buyer moral as well as legal protection when transacting business.

McMillan invites all residents to come by the shop, 1712 Gregg, and see the different office supplies and office furniture available. You might also ask them about their new fire proof file cabinets.

He will be happy to serve you and "show you around the place."

McMillan Moves Printing Shop To A New Location

What goes on in a printing shop? How do the machines work? These are questions of many curious people, but only a few get their questions answered. McMillan's printers are not just printers, they are specialized printers.

Harry (Max) McMillan, known by many as "Max the printer," invites everyone to come and look at the new shop at 1712 Gregg. He had the shop at 302 E. 9th for several months until he realized the need for expansion.

When expansion became evident, Max went all out. He not only does printing but now he carries Hon and Hoosier office furniture, and Stencraft paper, plus other office supplies.

There are three full-time employees and two part-time workers. He has been a printer for 25 years and he is assisted by Jerry Rich, also a printer. Mrs. McMillan is taking care of the office supply and furniture section, while their son, Perry, helps his dad in printing. A daughter, Jo LaNae, and Marry Passey, work in the bindery department.

"No job is too big or too small for us," Max emphasized. "We will do any type of commercial printing."

A big item McMillan printers turn out are business and social cards. Social cards are for everyday needs. These cards include weddings, teas, showers, luncheons, and can be either engraved or printed.

McMillan invites all residents to come by the shop, 1712 Gregg, and see the different office supplies and office furniture available. You might also ask them about their new fire proof file cabinets.

Two Special Features Available At Thomas'

Two special features at Thomas' as Typewriter and Office Supply, 101 Main, are the new Royal 660 electric typewriter and the Norelco dictating and transcribing machine.

Eugene Thomas, manager, has the Royal 660 on display and demonstration now. The exclusive Royal magic monitor automatically senses and computes the right type with the impact, and assures clean, eligible results every time—whether single sheet or carbon pack. There is no imposing on the original copy either. Another space-age feature is the on-and-off action light to tell the typist when the Royal 660 is in operation, safeguarding against careless power loss or unnecessary motor wear.

Royal Typewriter Co., a subsidiary of Litton Industries, assures that the typewriters stay lively longer than other typewriters. The Royal 440 manual is one of the company's most recommended typewriters. Royal's years of research and testing have produced the only singer balance keyboard. Each key has an individual spring, especially adjusted to the strength of the finger that touches it.

The result The highest, most evenly balanced touch of any manual. The magic tab, another extra, works for you. On the Royal 440 you don't have to hold down the tab key to tabulate. Just a touch and it moves the carriage to the stop without wasted time, and you continue to type.

The Royal 440 is available in over 100 different styles to suit your requirements, and is made in a range of special keyboards. To serve you at Thomas' Supply are Mrs. Don Anderson, bookkeeper, Mrs. J. D. Cauble, sales clerk, Don Anderson, repairman, and Mrs. Eugene Thomas. For information, dial AM 7-6621.

The latest in electronics that is priced $100 less than most all heavy duty electronics is the 550. The sales clerk would be happy to show you this new machine and give the necessary information to save $100.

Champagne At End Of Long Stretch

Philadelpha 76'er Wilt Chamberlain passes freshly opened bottle of champagne in dressing room Wednesday night after his team defeated the Boston Celtics 115-113, in overtime, at Boston Garden, to clinch the eastern division title in the National Basketball Association. This is the second year in a row that the 76'ers have won the division championship. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Forsan And Quitaque Square Off At 8:50

The Forsan Buffalo Queens, Basketball tournament. and most of the community that supports them, are in Austin today for the State Class B Girls' Quitaque at 8:50 o'clock this

Larry Bennett Is Named To All 5-A Cage Quint

Larry Bennett, a 5-11 Coahoma junior, has been named to the All-District 5-A boys' basketball team chosen Wednesday night in a meeting of coaches at O'Donnell.

Coaches selected all-opponent teams rather than any one of their own teams.

Four Coahoma girls were named to the first team. They were forwards Linda Phiergo and Sandra Gross and guards Terry Edens and Linda Richers.

Tallest boy on the team is 6-2 Tim Blair of Seagraves. No member of the second-evening in Gregory Gym. The game will be aired over KBYG Big Spring, with Bob Bell at the microphone.

The Queens, who substituted aggressiveness for height this season, had to beat Gail on a last second field goal by Mollie Condron in the Region VI-B tournament in Big Spring last weekend.

Mollie successfully put the ball through the hoop as the buzzer sounded.

Quitaque's star performer is Pat Brunson, who bucketed 24 points to lead her club to a 48-46 victory over Vega in the finals of a tournament at Vega last Saturday night.

An all-tournament team was chosen at the conclusion of the tournament in Canyon and included Jill Johnson and Lynett Taylor at the guard positions; and Miss Brunson and Carol Myers at the forward spots. All are Quitaque players.

Quitaque reached the finals at Canyon by turning back Briscoe, 64-42. In that one, Brunson counted 26 points for Quitaque.

Coach Stevens will likely go with a lineup consisting of Condron, Sherry Walraven and Mary Jo Simpson at the forward positions and Valynia Conway, Wanda Albertson and Deryl Dumagan in the back court.

Forsan sailed through its District 67-B schedule without the loss of a game and knocked off Mertzon in bi-district competition.

Only three teams which have ever won state championships are among the 18 squads on hand for the three-day tournament.

Victoria won the Class AAAA title in 1965, Tulia won it last year, and Spearman took home the AA championship in 1966.

Class A and B at the three-day tournament have no former or current champions playing.

Victoria has probably the most impressive record in AAA, 32-3, but Tulia, which defeated Victoria 76-75 last year for the title, has the highest scorer in 5-foot-6 Freda Rousseau, who has averaged 35 points a game.

Miss Rousseau was all-tournament in 1966 as was Victoria's Jean Shumbara, who has averaged 31.7 points a game this season.

The other two AAA teams are Raymondville and Duncanville. Entered in AA, besides Spearman, are Rivercrest of Talco Bogata, Little-Cypress of Orange and Gregory-Portland of Gregory.

The Class A teams include George West, making its fifth appearance in the tournament but never a champion, and Springlake-Earth of Earth, which was runner-up last year to Jourdanton. Cross Plains and Brownsboro are the other entries.

Three of the six teams in class B are newcomers—Royal of Brookshire-Pattison, Celina and Quitaque, which has the best record in that division, 36-3. Rounding out the division are Forsan, High Island and Brock of Weatherford, which has never won a title in three previous tries to the tournament.

The Baltimore Orioles benefited from only 23 "complete" games thrown by starting pitchers last year but were first in team hitting (.258), first in fielding (.981), tops in slugging (.469), won 12 of 20 extra-inning games and won seven doubleheaders while losing only one.

They broke even in nine other twin bills over the year.

Kathy Whitworth, the Ladies' PGA top money winner last year, says the basic trouble with the women's professional tour is men.

"We're always being compared to the men pros," explained Kathy recently. "We don't want to compete with the men. We want to be recognized for what we are—women golfers."

Another member of the tour, Carol Mann, has another complaint. She laments that the girls travel around so much they have trouble getting dates.

"We're in so many small towns it's hard to meet guys," sighs Carol.

Mets Beaten Despite Fine Starting Nine

By The Associated Press

Perhaps the most solid line-up in New York Met history took the field in an intrasquad game. It lost.

The team, managed by Ken Boyer and including such veterans as Boyer, Tommy Davis and Ed Kranepool and talented youngsters such as Cleon Jones and Don Bosch, lost 5-0 Wednesday to Ed Bressoud's team of substitutes.

"We're better than we looked," said Boyer, whose team was held to four hits. "They just had the pitchers."

The pitchers "they" had were the same ones Boyer had. Each of the six hurlers worked an inning for both teams in the six-inning game.

The Cleveland Indians probably wished they could have used pitcher Ramon Arano of the Mexico City Red Devils. They got to Arano for 12 hits Wednesday night, but he struck out 12 in beating the Indians 4-0.

Arano's brother, Wilfredo, provided the big blow, a three-run homer off Indians' rookie Gil Downs in the fourth inning. Rookie second baseman Gus Gil got three hits in three trips and Lee Maye, went three-for-four.

Baltimore also played an intrasquad game, but the big news in the Orioles' camp was injuries.

Pitcher Eddie Watt suffered a broken nose, a fractured left optical bone and a slight hemorrhage of the left eye when he was struck by a ball thrown by catcher Vic Roznovsky during a base-running drill.

Rookie pitcher Bill Dillman suffered a pulled muscle in his right thigh during the drill, and in the intrasquad game catcher Charlie Lau received a spike wound of his left big toe.

In other developments: President Joe Cronin of the American League gave all 10 clubs in his circuit permission to use a pinch hitter twice in a game during the exhibition season. Previously, he gave permission only to the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore.

"Smoky Burgess, 30, of the White Sox, who holds the major league pinch hit record of 137, and pitcher Jack Sanford, who held out for two weeks before signing for a reported $30,000, arrived at their respective camps.

Philadelphia was leading 113-112 when Wilt Chamberlain fouled out in the bottom of the ninth. Russell with 21 seconds left. It was the 76'ers' fourth team foul of the overtime period, giving Russell two shots, but he sank only one to tie the score.

The 76ers then held the ball for the last shot, and Hal Greer hit on a 25-foot jumper to win the game with two seconds left.

"I yelled for Wilt to take that foul," Hannum said, "but I thought it would only give Russell one shot. If he'd made both shots and we'd lost, I'd be the goat, but I bailed out with luck."

The victory not only clinched the regular season title but also evened the season's series between the teams at 4-4 with one game left. It also established an NBA record of 63 triumphs in a season, breaking the old mark of 62 set by the 1964-65 Celtics.

Philadelphia trailed by as much as 15 points in the third period, but rallied behind the sharpshooting of Greer, who had a game high 37 points. Bill Cunningham scored 21 points for the 76ers, while Chamberlain had 17.

Sam Jones led the Celtics with 20, and said the injured hand, which forced him to sit out the previous night's game at Chicago didn't bother him at all.

In other games, the St. Louis Hawks edged the Lakers 106-104 at Los Angeles while the Pistons turned back the Baltimore Bullets 120-113 at Detroit.

The victory enabled the Hawks to move into undisputed possession of second place in the Western Division, one game ahead of the Lakers.

Len Wilkens sparked St. Louis with 37 points while Jerry West was high for Los Angeles with 34.

Dave Bing hit a career high of 47 points as the Pistons climbed back into a fourth-place tie in the West with idle Chicago in the battle for the last playoff spot.

It was the first victory for new coach Dennis Butcher, who took over Tuesday when Dave DeBusschere was relieved of his dual role as player-coach.

John Tresvant backed up Bing with 26 points for Detroit. Ray Scott led the Bullets with 37.

The Class A teams include George West, making its fifth appearance in the tournament but never a champion, and Springlake-Earth of Earth, which was runner-up last year to Jourdanton. Cross Plains and Brownsboro are the other entries.

Titlist Reasons He Needs Better Score

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) —

Lionel Hebert felt so good starting defense of his Citrus Open Golf Championship today that he was almost worried sick.

Last year the 39-year-old Louisiana cracked a four-year victory drought by capturing the Citrus crown while he was feeling lousy.

"I was so sick last year that if I had been given an early starting time on the first round I wouldn't have played," the stocky veteran of 17 years as a pro said.

"I wasn't playing very good, and I had just changed clubs and didn't even know what I could do with them," Hebert recalled before going out to try to turn back the challenge of all the big names in golf except Billy Casper, who passed up the $15,000 tournament.

"I feel great this year, and I'm playing a lot better than I was in 1966 at this time," Hebert said. "I don't know what that means — because when I felt lousy I wound up pretty good last year."

Hebert believes he will have to score much better this year to win, because last year he started with a 71 — five strokes off the lead — and won only when the early leaders faltered.

Hebert's biggest challenge was expected to come from Doug Sanders, who apparently is off to another Florida surge.

The flamboyant Georgian won the Doral Open crown last Sunday to pick up his fourth Florida title in three years, and he likes to play in the state.

By winning, Sanders could join Arnold Palmer as the only double winners on the tour. Palmer has won the Los Angeles and Tucson titles this year.

All of this year's tournament winners are in the field, including Bob Goaly, Jack Nicklaus, Tom Nieporte, Julius Boros, Palmer and Sanders.

Also battling for the $23,000 jackpot that goes to the winner is Gary Player, South African veteran making his 1967 debut in this country after two triumphs at home.

Palmer was the most impressive in the pro-am, winning pro honors with a five-under-par 66 with six birdies and a bogey. Nicklaus, Frank Beard and Al Geiberger turned in 70s.

"I wasn't playing very good, and I had just changed clubs and didn't even know what I could do with them," Hebert recalled before going out to try to turn back the challenge of all the big names in golf except Billy Casper, who passed up the $15,000 tournament.

"I feel great this year, and I'm playing a lot better than I was in 1966 at this time," Hebert said. "I don't know what that means — because when I felt lousy I wound up pretty good last year."

Hebert believes he will have to score much better this year to win, because last year he started with a 71 — five strokes off the lead — and won only when the early leaders faltered.

Hebert's biggest challenge was expected to come from Doug Sanders, who apparently is off to another Florida surge.

The flamboyant Georgian won the Doral Open crown last Sunday to pick up his fourth Florida title in three years, and he likes to play in the state.

By winning, Sanders could join Arnold Palmer as the only double winners on the tour. Palmer has won the Los Angeles and Tucson titles this year.

All of this year's tournament winners are in the field, including Bob Goaly, Jack Nicklaus, Tom Nieporte, Julius Boros, Palmer and Sanders.

Also battling for the $23,000 jackpot that goes to the winner is Gary Player, South African veteran making his 1967 debut in this country after two triumphs at home.

Palmer was the most impressive in the pro-am, winning pro honors with a five-under-par 66 with six birdies and a bogey. Nicklaus, Frank Beard and Al Geiberger turned in 70s.

80 Commies Are Killed In 'Battle'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian army troops wiped out a "Communist nest" in central Java last Sunday and killed a faith healer and about 80 of his followers in "a sort of battle," the official news agency Antara reported today.

The agency said those slain were part of the Sept. 30 Movement, the Communists that tried to take over the government on that date in 1965. A central Javan army spokesman said remnants of the movement "are known to be planning a counteroffensive."

LINKED TO COUP

Members of Congress meeting in Jakarta continued to demand the dismissal of President Sukarno, who has been linked to the coup attempt by witnesses at subsequent trials.

Most of the congressmen who spoke rejected appeals for leniency from military leaders, who have stripped Sukarno of executive power and reduced him to figurehead status.

The Army spokesman said special forces organized by the faith healer, Mbah Suro, fired on government troops when they closed in last Sunday morning on the healer's headquarters. An unspecified number of casualties were reported among the troops during fighting from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.

DECISION DEADLINE

The fighting was said to have occurred in the Biora region. The town of Biora has more than 18,000 residents and is a center of oil production.

The faith healer was reported killed and the buildings where he practiced in the village of Ningnggil burned.

The army spokesman said cadres from various parts of Indonesia were given military training and indoctrination at the faith healer's headquarters. As Congress debated Sukarno's future, increased forces of security troops were deployed outside the building. It was feared that students would attempt a mass demonstration in an effort to force dismissal of Sukarno, a move that could arouse Sukarno's followers and result in more bloodshed.

Congress was expected to reach a decision on Sukarno by Saturday night.

Judge Rules Railroad Can't Move From Tyler

TYLER (AP)—This East Texas city and the Cotton Belt Railroad still have each other—pending an appeal.

Dist. Judge W. C. Dowdy Wednesday turned down the Cotton Belt's effort to move from Tyler and end a relationship that began in 1880.

Dowdy also refused to approve a tentative agreement among Tyler, the railroad and the Tyler Industrial Foundation which would establish a 200-acre industrial district valued at $440,000 here.

APPEAL SLATED

Attorneys for the railroad said they would appeal.

The Cotton Belt announced it was moving its headquarters and the city filed suit. An injunction issued in 1906 by the State Supreme Court required the Cotton Belt to keep its shops and headquarters in Tyler, however, Dowdy ruled.

The 1906 injunction came from an 1880 agreement whereby the Cotton Belt got land and $4,000 from Tyler citizens in exchange for a promise to establish shops and offices here.

PINE BLUFF SHOPS

The railroad contended during the three-day hearing Cotton Belt then-President J. J. McKenzie met with the Tyler City Commission in 1953 and the city agreed it would not protest the railroad's application to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

New Land Chief

DALLAS (AP)—Atlantic Richfield Co. has announced formation of a new land and acquisitions department for its North American producing division. Louis F. Davis, senior vice president, named William C. Allbright head of the department. Allbright is a Buffalo, Tex., native and joined the firm in 1938 after being graduated from the University of Texas.

The Cotton Belt said it had asked the ICC to permit the Cotton Belt's Missouri company to lease its Texas affiliate and not limit them to keeping their offices and shops in a specified place.

Another part of the agreement, railroad officials said, indicated the Cotton Belt would move its headquarters from St. Louis to Tyler and build a $1.5 million office building here.

The Cotton Belt's main repair shops now are at Pine Bluff, Ark. Its headquarters functions are in several cities, including Tyler.

A choice of leads against a slam contract led to a substantial swing when the above hand was dealt in a recent team of four match.

The auction was similar at both tables. South opened with one heart and West made a distributional overcall of one spade. North's holding was worth 14 points in support of partner, and he was fully warranted in giving South a jump raise to three hearts. East's competitive bid of three spades laid the groundwork for a possible sacrifice against the opponent's eventual contract.

South's four-diamond call was a slam try and the bid would normally announce first-round control of the suit (inasmuch as hearts is the agreed trump), he did not want to get beyond the game level unnecessarily.

When North accepted partner's invitation by cue bidding the ace of clubs and thereby relieving South of his only concern, the latter proceeded directly to six hearts. West was willing to take his chances on defense, so he passed and East went along with his wishes.

At one table, West opened the three of spades and South won the trick with the ace. In the interests of safety, declarer did not bother with a finesse in trump. Instead he played the ace and another heart, conceding a trick to the king. Declarer had all the rest, announcing that he would discard three clubs from dummy on his long diamonds and eventually ruff out his remaining club.

At the other table, West was not optimistic about the prospects for cashing a spade trick. Partner obviously had length in spades and declarer appeared to be well prepared for an attack in that direction. West decided that the club suit offered the best chance. Altho North was marked with the ace, there was a chance that East had the queen.

The four of clubs was opened and the ace was played from dummy. South was unable to run his diamonds until trumps were drawn, so he led the queen of hearts for a finesse. West produced the king of hearts followed by the king of clubs to defeat the slam. The 50-point profit added to the 980 points scored by his teammates at the other table for making six hearts, produced a 1,030 net gain on the deal.

British Royalty Locked In Museum

LONDON (AP) — British royalty was locked in a London museum Wednesday. It turned out to be a mistake.

Shortly after Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Margaret had entered the Victoria and Albert Museum, an alarm rang and all exits were slammed and bolted.

Security guards scurried about. Five minutes later they discovered a red-faced student standing by an alarm phone and the search was called off.

"Apparently the student thought it was a public phone," said a museum spokesman. "He was highly embarrassed when he learned that he had caused the queen to be locked in."

Bob Hope Gigs GOP's Dirksen

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Bob Hope says there's room in the White House for a comedian if actor Ronald Reagan can become governor of California.

"We've already had quite a few," he joked Wednesday after arriving in Cambridge to receive the "Man of the Year" award from Harvard's Hasty Pudding Club.

Hope said some politicians seem to be entering show business and referred to a senator from Illinois who has recorded a record album of patriotic speeches in his deep baritone voice.

"Look at Everett Dirksen," he quipped. "He's in show business — sex and the single bullfrog."

MRS. JOSIE ATKINS COMBS

Recalls Events Of 92 Years

By JO BRIGHT

Mrs. Josie Atkins Combs, 92, was spry and talkative Tuesday as she left her home at Bennett House for a festive birthday dinner in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Atkins, 1301 Runnels.

Pearl combs holding back her silver hair and a yellow rose corsage brightening her navy silk dress, Mrs. Combs chatted animatedly as the dinner ended and the opening of gifts began. Nearby to help when the ribbons needed clipping were another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins, and a grandson, Richard Atkins and his wife, Linda. Mrs. Combs has a third son, Ernest Atkins of New York City, N. Y., and a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Bourignoff, librarian for the Corpus Christi Call-Times, who were unable to attend but remembered the day with gifts for their mother. In all, there are seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Combs was born March 7, 1875 in Denton County and was married 22 years later to a school teacher, the late T. R. Atkins, who earned his degree at the University of Mississippi. Determined to win her hand, he already had their home before March 14, 1897, the day they were married.

Dinner Held For Pastor

The Rev. and Mrs. Clair Wiederhott were honored Sunday evening with a farewell dinner attended by approximately 200 persons including guests from Midland and Odessa. With the Wiederhotts were their children, Cynthia, Jonathan and Timothy.

The dinner was held at St. Paul Lutheran Church where the head table was centered with an arrangement of yellow pom-pom chrysanthemums accented with silhouettes of Louisiana and Texas. The Rev. Wiederhott and his family will be making their home in New Orleans, La.

George Heckler spoke for the congregation in appreciation of the pastor's seven years with the church. He was presented a Stetson hat, and the couple received sets of china and silver.

Roy Peet Speaks To Green Thumb Club

Roy Peet of Estah's Flowers presented the program on dried arrangements at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Green Thumb Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, 300 Washington Blvd.

In his talk, Peet told of his visit to the White House, and of the arrangements used there. He said that most were mass groupings without special line or form. He showed a collection of containers from the Ori-

The couple moved three times during the first 15 years of marriage, but in 1913, they settled at Canyon in order to give the children a chance for an education at what was then West Texas State Normal.

"The early years in West Texas are memorable ones," said Mrs. Combs as she recalled living, at one time, in a log cabin built by her parents. "When we lived at Wildorado (which now has a population of about 200) I drove the team and wagon 26 miles to the post office, and later, when we lived near Little Elm, I answered any knock at the door with a pistol held under my apron."

Mrs. Combs led a full and interesting life as an active young matron in the Canyon and Amarillo area. She remembers the fun of being a charter member of the "Mother-in-Law's Club" which was founded in 1930 by the late Gene Howe, publisher of the Amarillo Globe-News, who wrote a widely-read column called "The Tactless Texan."

On one occasion, there was a big parade honoring the members and all were guests of the Herring Hotel for a festive affair attended by President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Combs was also a member of the "Pioneer's Club," and planned to return to Canyon this week in order to attend one of their meetings. Someone else will drive, however, since Mrs. Combs put away her driver's license when she reached the age of 90.

"When I stopped driving, I owned a 1950 Chevy and could make it from Canyon to Amarillo in 25 minutes," said Mrs. Combs, with just a trace of pride. She didn't make the trip often, for when she sold the car in 1966, the car had registered only 4,350 miles.

A member of the First Baptist Church in Canyon, where her husband was a deacon, Mrs. Combs taught Sunday school and played the old-fashioned organ for many years. During the visit there this week she is looking forward to seeing her pastor, the Rev. Straus Atkinson.

"The only reason I gave up some of my church work was because I felt I was robbing someone else of the work they should be doing," said Mrs. Combs slyly.

What is she most thankful for as her 93rd year begins? "I had the sweetest husband and best children in Denton County,"

Speaker Tells Cancer Signs

Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter was guest speaker when the Scenic Chapter of the American Business Woman's Association met Tuesday evening at Big Spring Country Club with the president, Mrs. Tony Barron, presiding.

Mrs. Van Meter distributed literature printed by the American Cancer Society and reviewed facts on cancer which were of particular interest to women. She stressed that thousands of women are being saved from cancer every year by having regular and thorough physical check-ups so that symptoms may be detected early.

She said that most cancer in women is not difficult to find, and if treated before it can spread, is usually curable. Most cancers start in one spot but often grow fast and, before long, spread elsewhere in the body. In closing, she urged all women to learn and look for the seven danger signals that may mean cancer. She was assisted by her husband in showing a film about cancer.

The second speaker was Mrs. A. J. McCowan who gave a vocational talk on her profession as a beauty operator and shop owner. She compared services offered years ago with beauty treatments available to women today.

The meeting marked the seventh anniversary of the chapter, and introduced as charter members still active were Mrs. Pauline Watts, Mrs. Geraldine Deitz, Miss Ila Mae Dunning, Mrs. Louise Hamilton, Mrs. Zillah LeFevre and Mrs. L. V. Misk. Receiving pins for perfect attendance the past year were Mrs. Deitz, Mrs. Herman Taylor, Miss Shirley White and Miss Hazel McCool.

A cake, topped with seven yellow candles, was featured at the speaker's table.

Mrs. Misk reminded members of the Hand of Friendship Tea which will be held Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Kyle Cauble, 1017 Bluebonnet.

Loudspeakers Battle Over The Straits From Quemoy

By JAMES ROWE
(Carroll County newspaper man on tour of the Far East and Southeast Asia—ED)

QUEMOY ISLAND — Here on this island fortress, only 1.5 miles from the nearest point in Communist China, one is forcibly reminded that the Chinese Communist revolution is an unfinished one.

In the bright sunshine, across the calm water, the narrow coastal plain gives way quickly to the hills of Fukien Province. All is peaceful save for the incessant blaring of loudspeakers directed toward the mainland. From there, in turn, came similar messages from loudspeakers on the mainland. For one who is unfamiliar with the Chinese language, the engagement appeared to be a draw.

When you lowered your eyes to take in the beaches of Quemoy Island, though, relatively peaceful illusion gave way to reality. Here in miniature was Omaha and Utah beaches on the coast of Normandy, a bit of Adolf Hitler's "Festung Europa." Every few feet were sharp-edged pieces of railroad iron set solidly in concrete. Sensed, but not seen, was the broad barrier of personnel and anti-vehicular mines, ready for the ships, the armor and the men who managed to survive those cruel iron stakes.

OPPOSING GUNS
Looking inland from our strongpoint you could glimpse the narrow slits of concrete gun points. Every inch of ground from the beaches inland was covered by light and heavy weapons.

U.S. F-4's low air cover for us all the way to Quemoy, flying at about 40,000 feet, and thus unseen by us.

When we landed, after flying a circuitous course for 224 miles in an elapsed flying time of approximately one hour and a half, we were met by Chinese Lt. Gen. Lu Fu-ning, deputy commanding general, Kimmen Defense Command, and U.S. Army Col. H. R. Kressin, chief of the Military Advisory Group mission to Kimmen. We were taken by bus on a tour of the island on an elaborate, well-paved road network.

We were shown tanks, ready for action, protected by revetments, or parked in tunnels. All types of emplacements were evident from those for machine guns to 105 millimeter and 155 millimeter artillery — there are only a few fixed guns, since the defense of the island is based on flexibility and mobility.

COSTLY TRY

The Communist Chinese last tried to take Quemoy in 1949, General Lu told us. But the landing ships, consisting of junks, were all set afire by the defenders, thus preventing either reinforcement or withdrawal. About 13,000 Communists were killed in that operation and approximately 8,000 were taken prisoner. Ever since the Communists have talked loudly about reclaiming the island, but have prudently avoided making any effort to do so.

Until 1958 Communist batteries, emplaced on nearby islands and on the mainland in a great crescent around the island, bombarded Quemoy with high explosives. But since then the bombardment consists of shells filled with propaganda leaflets which are scattered in a sort of air burst. The island batteries reply in kind — again the engagement appears to be a draw.

Last night 50 propaganda shells came in. Tonight is supposed to be a "free" night, if the everyday - day barrage schedule is maintained.

NEBULOUS FACT

There are place names which are evocative of history. Quemoy is one of these. For a time in the late Fifties the so-called offshore islands, of which Quemoy is one, were about to bring the U.S. and China to the brink of war. When the crisis faded, our commitment to Quemoy was, and remains, somewhat ambiguous. President Eisenhower said that if the Communists attacked Quemoy, and it appeared to be part of a campaign to recapture Taiwan (Formosa and the Pescadores), then we would intervene with the U.S. 7th Fleet and land and air units. The commitment is just vague enough to keep the Communists uncertain of our intentions. As for the opinion of this observer, the Communist Chinese would be much more likely to bypass Quemoy in any invasion of Taiwan. Tens of thousands of invaders could easily lose their lives in an invasion. The chief virtue of Quemoy to the Nationalist Chinese is that it immobilizes several hundred thousand Communist troops on the mainland and provides a jumping off place for secret agents who infiltrate the mainland.

Golden Reported In Good Shape

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Harry Golden, a best-selling author and editor of the Carolina Israelite, is looking forward to leaving Charlotte Memorial Hospital in about two weeks.

Golden, 64, was reported in "excellent" condition after an operation Wednesday to remove an obstruction from a duct of the liver. It was his second major operation in less than three months.

He has been hospitalized since Dec. 27 when his gall bladder was removed.

Boycott Leader Welcomes Showdown

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — A student leader of a class boycott at South Carolina State College welcomes a showdown with Gov. Robert McNair over an ultimatum ordering the students to return to class by Friday or face expulsion.

"This is just the spark the students need to keep the movement going," said Isaac Williams, senior class president and a boycott leader at the predominantly Negro school. He said the boycott would continue.

Also still planned is a bus trip to Columbia and march to the state house Saturday, substituted for a 42-mile hike from Orangeburg to the capital city.

Williams said original plans for a two-day protest march were abandoned because of fears of a possible incident along the route.

'LENIENT AND FAIR'
The ultimatum for a return to classes resulted from a meeting Wednesday between Gov. McNair and the school's board of trustees. McNair called the order "lenient and fair."

Following the meeting, B. C. Turner, college president, announced that all concessions made by the school to the striking students had been rescinded.

The school had informed three suspended students that they could reapply for admission in June rather than August, and had eased rules of dress and chapel attendance.

UNFAIR PUNISHMENT?
Turner said "the offers were rejected (by the students) and they no longer exist."

The students want the three who were suspended — John W. Stroman, Benjamin Bryant, and Joseph Hammonds — readmitted immediately. They say it is unfair for the school to single them out for punishment when about 200 students participated in a demonstration at Turner's campus home the week before.

The demonstration, allegedly led by Stroman, Bryant and Hammonds, was called to protest rules of dress and chapel attendance as well as the college's decision not to ask the return of two white instructors on associate fellowships this year.

Reuther Battles Rebel Auto Workers Walkout

DETROIT (AP) — President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers struggled today with the problem of a rebellion in local Ohio that defied officials and struck a General Motors plant for the second time in 18 days.

Reuther sought a method to enforce a trusteeship he slapped on UAW Local 549 after workers failed to report to their jobs Wednesday night at the GM's strategic Mansfield, Ohio, plant. The company said about 850 of 1,200 men today reported for the day shift.

STRONGEST BACKING
Wednesday night, however, some 90 per cent of the 300 workers on the overnight shift failed to report, indicating that the rebellion had its strongest backing on that shift.

The strike threat appeared momentarily ended Wednesday when day shift workers reported after a walkout by men on the overnight shift.

Some 1,500 of the local's 2,600 members voted to strike Wednesday night.

EMERGENCY MEETING
UAW officials called an emergency meeting of the union's national General Motors council to discuss the uprising. Reuther appointed an administrator to take over the reins from local president Robert Hall, who had been summoned to Detroit for talks with UAW executives. The UAW said Hall and other officers endorsed the trusteeship.

'OPEN WAR'
But Frank G. Petty Jr., a local shop committee chairman, ignored a similar summons to Detroit and called the strike-vote meeting after he declared "open war" on Hall and international officers.

The walkout was sparked by rumors that GM would fire Petty and four other workers who were among 20 suspended in the last strike. Neither GM nor UAW officials would say if this was true.

"We are the leaders here, not Reuther's men," Petty declared. Petty said he would send men to Detroit today to talk with Reuther.

PENALTIES PROVIDED
UAW officials declined to say what steps they might take against Local 549 members involved in the latest strike, but the union already had warned that its April convention would consider filing charges against persons who "knowingly and willfully forfeited and prolonged these illegal and unauthorized strikes."

Underworld Probe Slated

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The official investigation of possible American underworld infiltration into Bahama gambling casino operation will begin March 13, says Premier Lynden O. Pindling.

Pindling, in Miami Wednesday, said three of the four Scotland Yard investigators already have been named.

The probe, instigated by Pindling before his election last

Jan. 10, is officially an act of the British government in London at the request of its representative for the Bahamas, Gov. Sir Ralph Grey.

Officers of Bahama Amusements Ltd., who operate the only three casinos on the islands, have said they would welcome an investigation.

TEENS ASK FOR MORE Leggy Fashion Models Strut For Blind Girls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leggy fashion models strutted. The audience of teenagers clapped and sang. They let out breathless sighs and asked for more.

Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the vice president, was at the Fifth Avenue-like fashion show. So were three cabinet

They heard a yellow dress described as "warm as the summer sun" and red called "zippy as pizza."

When a miniskirt was introduced as "a full hand above the knee," they howled. Even Mrs. Humphrey blushed.

"I've got to have one," said Charlotte Rehder, 17, of Baltimore. "But my mother will kill me if I wear it."

The girls own attire showed every evidence they are style conscious. Most said their mothers helped them choose clothes, but that they made the final decisions based on texture and feel.

Go-Go Gal Mistake?

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Shirley A. Johnson, 24, says it was all a mistake — she didn't perform a topless dance at a tavern last month — a strap on her go-go costume broke.

But the Special Sessions Court Judge, Jack Brock, wasn't sympathetic. He found Mrs. Johnson guilty of outraging public decency and fined her $100 and court costs.

Hot Air Routs Snow In East

By The Associated Press

Welcome warmth spread across the Midwest today after a siege of winter cold, high winds and snow.

The Weather Bureau said the warm air would move into the east later in the day to put an end to the recent cold spell. In the South — after an early morning chill with lows in the upper 20s and 30s — temperatures

Georgia and Alabama were expected to warm up to the 50s and 60s under fair skies.

The mild weather appeared as Pacific air swept down the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains and south winds pushed up out of the Gulf.

In the Northeast, sub-zero cold moved across northern New England. In the West, warnings to stockmen and motorists were issued for heavy snow expected in the Montana mountains.

Some light snow continued from the eastern Great Lakes to the Appalachians. Showers lined the Pacific Coast.

Elsewhere, clear skies prevailed.

Texas Time, Taxes Trouble Lawmakers

AUSTIN (AP) — Three of the 60th legislature's most controversial subjects as they tried to complete the first phase of the regular 140-day session Friday is the deadline for free introduction of bills, causing a last minute rush of proposed legislation in both the Senate and House.

After the first 60 days legislators are required by constitution and their own rules to concentrate on debate rather than committee action.

UNWELCOME SPOTLIGHT — Texas found itself in an unwelcome spotlight after the Oklahoma Senate Wednesday at least temporarily killed efforts to keep that state on central standard time when most other states shift into daylight savings time April 30 under the federal Uniform Time Act.

The Oklahoma Senate action, if its one-vote decision becomes final, would mean that three states bordering Texas have decided against exempting themselves from the Uniform Time Act and crossing the Texas border in any direction would mean a time change.

A one-vote decision also was causing Texas senators plenty of trouble.

FOUR-YEAR TERM — The Senate body voted Wednesday afternoon, 22-8, to make the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee take another look at the controversial proposal of four-year terms for governors.

The committee approved the measure Tuesday by a 5-4 vote but several committee members immediately protested the quick gavel of Sen. Bill Moore, Bryan, kept them from voting.

Sen. Jim Bates, Edinburg, said the tally was taken so fast he did not have time to walk from a nearby room where he was serving on another Senate committee to record his vote as a member of the State Affairs Committee. Bates said he would have voted against the measure causing a 5-5 deadlock and its defeat.

COURTESY CLASH — "If the Senate has sunk so low that a senatorial courtesy doesn't mean anything, I want to know about it," Bates told the Senate in arguments when the proposal should be referred to Moore's committee.

"If that's the way the Senate is going to be I want to know about it now and not May 30 (when the session ends),"

Moore said he had no objection to sending the proposed constitutional amendment back for another committee vote.

Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston, who made the motion to recommit, said Bates and two other senators who were members of the committee in an adjoining room, should be given a chance to vote.

TAX DEMANDED — The third controversy keeping legislators upset was the continuing search for new taxes, with growing demands for an increased state sales tax.

Rep. Jack Hawkins, Groesbeck, introduced a bill that would hike the present 2 percent levy to 3 percent with cities sharing in the increase.

Hawkins said the state constitution forbids tax rebates by the state to cities but under his bill the state may contract cities for collection of the sales tax and permit the cities to retain one-sixth of the tax as payment for collection. He said this would give municipalities one half of the one cent added to the present tax.

The Senate Wednesday also amended and passed back to the House a bill authorizing the Parks and Wildlife Department to acquire and restore old forts. The amendment would require that appropriation requests name specific forts.

Also approved and sent to the House were Senate bills for establishment of regional education service centers and setting up the Upper Colorado River Authority.

Shrimp Boats Are Harassed

FORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — Texas-based shrimp boats are being harassed by Mexican gunboats in the Gulf of Mexico, a group of shrimpers charged Wednesday.

A shrimp boat operator fined $3,500 recently by the Mexican government, John Wortman of Port Isabel, said the State Department "should do something about this."

Others complaining about treatment by Mexico would not disclose their names, explaining: "They will pick us up as soon as we cross the mouth of the Rio Grande (into the Gulf)."

The Mexican government claims nine miles of territorial water and its officials have said they plan to extend this to 12 miles.

Wortman said the Mexican navy measures the limit from reefs offshore and not from the actual shoreline, causing confusion over the location of boats seized for violating Mexican waters.

ACT ONE BREAD

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk, scalded
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
 4 tps. salt
 1-3 cup butter or margarine
 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups warm water
 2 pkgs. active dry yeast
 5 cups (about) unsifted regular white flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup yellow cornmeal
 1-3 cup unsifted stoneground wholewheat flour
 1-3 cup unsifted stoneground rye flour
 1 cup wheat germ
 1 egg white slightly beaten with
 1 tablespoon water

Into the scalded milk stir the sugar, salt and butter; cool to lukewarm. In a large warm bowl, dissolve the yeast in the warm water; add lukewarm milk mixture, two cups white flour, cornmeal, wholewheat flour and rye flour; beat until smooth.

Add wheat germ and enough additional white flour to form a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic—eight to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled—about 1 hour. Punch down dough; turn out onto lightly floured surface.

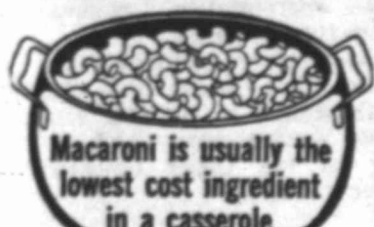

Divide into four equal pieces; shape each into a round loaf and place, well apart, on greased cookie sheets that have been sprinkled with extra cornmeal. Cover; let rise as previously until doubled—about 45 minutes. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 10 minutes. Remove from oven and brush tops of loaves with egg-white mixture. Bake five minutes more. James J. Finfingers Serve Aromatic Home-Baked Bread

By RHODA LEMONS

On Feb. 24, 1955, Miss Cathy Radmanich of western Pennsylvania first arrived in Big Spring for a dual purpose. One reason she came was to pin the wings on newly-commissioned 2nd Lt. James J. Finfinger, and the other reason was to become his bride. They were married that evening at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Having lived in five states and three years in England, the Finfingers returned to Big Spring two years ago. With them, they brought their daughters, Debra, 11, and Julia, nine. They also brought a large white cat named Fluffy, and later added a border collie, Davy Mae.

Other changes the years have wrought; Mrs. Finfinger, who says she couldn't cook at all when they were married, is now quite expert in that department, and Finfinger is no longer a lieutenant, but a major.

"I think that we enjoyed Europe more than any other place we have been stationed," says attractive, petite Mrs. Finfinger. "We made side trips all over the continent, and once engaged a babysitter for the girls, and had eight fantastic days in Brussels, Paris, Amsterdam and Heidelberg."

However, Mrs. Finfinger said the absolute highlight of her tour abroad was her audience with Pope John XXIII. She felt that this was one of the most moving moments of her life.

Other than suffering from allergies caused by the dust in West Texas, Maj. and Mrs. Finfinger are thoroughly enjoying their home at 2808 Calvin. Mrs. Finfinger said quite candidly, "The people in Big Spring are the nicest that we have met anywhere."

"I learned how to cook from my husband," admits Mrs. Finfinger, "but I encourage our daughters to assist in the kitchen." Debra, a sixth-grader, and Julie, a fourth-grader at the Immaculate Heart of Mary School, both make salads and simple desserts. Also, they keep their room tidy and help their mother with house cleaning.

YEAR IN ADVANCE

Budgeting their household expenses a year in advance, Maj. and Mrs. Finfinger plan their expenditures before they make purchases. They buy beef and pork by the side, and rent a locker downtown for storage. Mrs. Finfinger finds this more economical than owning a large deep freezer. She does make bread in advance for her small freezer, but likes to make desserts as they are needed.

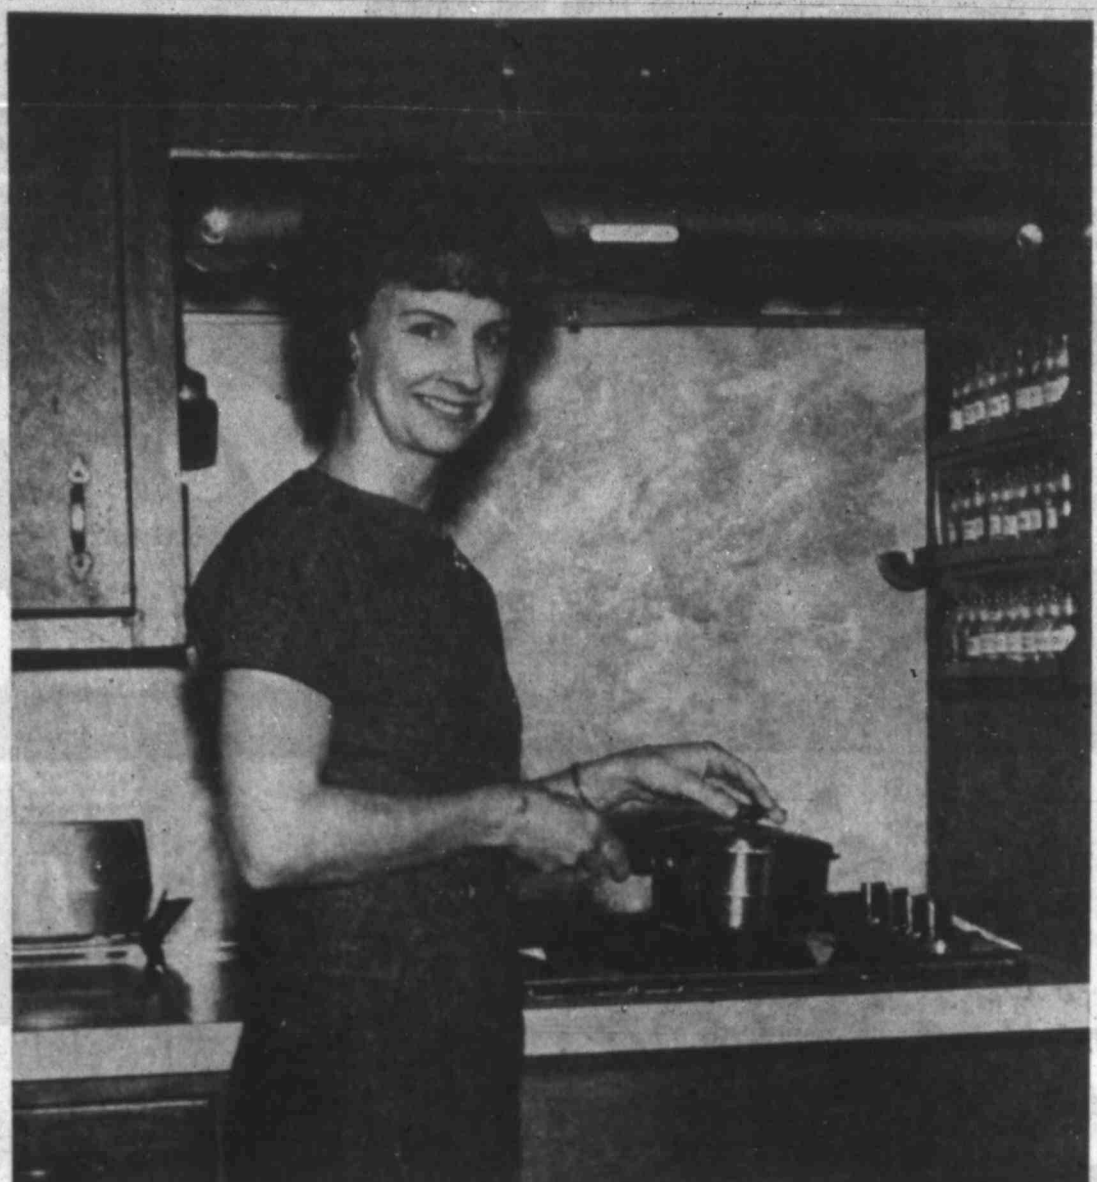

She bakes all the bread her family eats, and the only time they buy any is at Christmas for turkey stuffing. She usually bakes her bread one day a week and oftentimes does her other baking on the same day. She makes and packs three lunches each day for her husband and children.

Mrs. Finfinger shops at the base commissary every two weeks. She plans her menus, and other than picking up milk and eggs, does not buy groceries again.

Maj. Finfinger spends his spare time hunting and fishing; cleaning and preparing the catch when he returns home. He enjoys cooking but prefers warm weather, when he can barbecue and grill out-of-doors.

The Finfingers entertain friends in small groups with informal get-togethers. They usually find that on each transfer, other friends are moved with them. They also enjoy the "flexibility" of Air Force life, and the camaraderie offered by life in the service.

"I have one white thumb and one green one," said Mrs. Finfinger who likes gardening. Her latest hobby is knitting. She has had six weeks of instruction, and plans to take the course for six more weeks.

MRS. JAMES J. FINFINGER

PAINTINGS

The Finfingers collected several paintings on their trip to Europe, and found other interesting articles to enhance their home decor. Their favorite paintings are landscapes, and one that is particularly attractive was done by Koda of Germany.

Mrs. Finfinger reads, bowls, and plays bridge occasionally, but she and her husband have now become interested in dominoes and Mah Jong. She is a member of the Officer's Wives Club and the Mother's Club at Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

"I would rather be an Air Force wife than anything," says Mrs. Finfinger. "My home and family are the most important things in my life, and I enjoy making a home for them wherever we might reside."

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

From Mrs. James J. Finfinger

PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

4 cups sugar
 1 large can evaporated milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt
 2-3 cup cocoa
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup light corn syrup
 4 tps. butter
 2 tps. vanilla
 1 cup peanut butter

Mix first five ingredients together. Boil until it forms soft ball, or reaches 235 degrees on the candy thermometer. Let cool for 20 minutes. Add peanut butter, butter and vanilla. Beat and pour into greased pan.

BUCKWHEAT PANCAKES

1 pkg. dry yeast
 1 tsp. salt
 2 tps. corn syrup
 3 cups lukewarm water
 1 cup white flour
 2 cups buckwheat flour

Dissolve yeast in water. Add salt and syrup. Stir until dissolved. Add the two different flours and beat. Let rise to top of crock or large mixing bowl. Stir down until time to bake on hot greased griddle. Start batter four hours before meal time; it will rise several times. If pancakes stick to griddle, add a little flour; or if the batter is too thick, add a little milk or water. Hint: Brush griddle with strip of bacon to prevent sticking.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING

Served with roast beef and oven-roasted potatoes.
 1 cup flour
 1 tsp. salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper
 2 eggs
 1 cup milk

Mix together flour, salt and pepper. Make a well in the center. Drop in the eggs and stir until they have taken up about one-third of the flour. Slowly add the milk, beating constantly for at least one minute until mixture is creamy smooth. Cover and let rest for at least an hour.

Put eight to 10 tablespoons of beef drippings, including some of the browned, juices into an 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Place on lower rack of oven at 375 degrees. When drippings are smoking hot, about two minutes, pour in the Yorkshire pudding batter and bake for 35-40 minutes, until it is well-risen and richly brown around the edges. Cut hot pudding into squares and pile it around the roast.

OVEN ROASTED POTATOES

Render beef suet, about first size, in cake pan until one-fourth beef fat covers the bottom. Remove solid portion and add four to six potatoes cut in halves or quarters, coating all sides. Salt well and roast at 375 degrees, turning often until golden crust on the outside, about 50 minutes.

FRENCH BREAD

1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups warm water
 1 pkg. dry yeast
 1 tsp. sugar
 2 tps. salt
 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted flour

Mix yeast, sugar and salt into warm water. Add flour all at once. Stir with wooden spoon until well-mixed. The dough will be stiff and sticky. Cover bowl with damp cloth and let rise one hour, or double in bulk.

While dough is rising, grease a large flat pan. Sprinkle with corn meal or caraway seeds or sesame seeds if desired. Divide dough in two, and roll to about 10 x 14 inches, or you may make one large loaf. Roll up, seal seams and cut three diagonal slashes in each loaf. Let rise one hour, covered, or double in bulk.

Brush dough lightly with water. Bake 10 minutes at 425 degrees, brush with water again, and finish baking at 325 degrees for about 40 minutes. Remove hot bread from pan and place on a wire rack to cool, or serve hot. Brush tops of bread with butter.

BLACK CHOCOLATE CAKE

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
 2 cups sugar
 2 eggs

necessary to dissolve sugar. When you are ready to add the fresh peaches, remove their skins and slice fairly thickly; add 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ quarts to the cherry-brandy crock with an equal amount of sugar. Stir, cover and store in a cool place or in the refrigerator; stir at intervals as necessary to dissolve sugar.

When the fruit tastes sufficiently brandied to you, serve as a topping for vanilla ice cream. Keep any of the brandied fruit not used covered and stored in a cool place or the refrigerator for as long as you like.

HOW TO PIT CHERRIES

To pit cherries you can use a lead pencil with an eraser top tucked into a metal band. Remove the eraser with a small sharp pointed knife; use the open metal band to push the pits out of the cherries.

Good News In Market This Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Let them eat lettuce.

Lots of it. That is the plea of farmers in California's Imperial Valley and Arizona's adjoining Yuma Valley.

The weather has been ideal, the crop excellent, and green leaves are piling up in super-markets at low prices.

It is good news for everyone but the farmer, and points up one of the problems of food prices.

The 800 lettuce growers in the Imperial Valley may lose $21 million on the crop, estimates the Western Growers Association in Los Angeles.

Lettuce currently is selling for about 4 cents a head or $1 a carton harvested, trimmed, packed and delivered to shipping points. The association estimates growers must make $1.75 just to break even.

More than 1,000 acres have been abandoned without a head being cut.

"It is time the house wife was told bluntly that she can't expect food to be cheap while the cost of raising, processing and selling it keeps going up," said Robert L. Gibson, president of the California Canners and Growers.

"I have yet to see a consumer's picket line in front of an automobile dealership or a clothing store or a ski lift."

The militant national farmers organization is trying to bring meat and milk supplies more closely into balance with demand, urging members to sell bred cows and sows.

If it works, the number of calves and pigs this spring may be cut sharply enough to raise meat prices this fall. Milk supplies also may be withheld in the months ahead.

Good Hot Bread Makes Filling, Nutritious Meal

A variation on that old favorite—hot cross buns.

WHOLEWHEAT HOT CROSS BUNS

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk, scalded
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
 2 tps. salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or margarine
 3 tps. dark molasses
 1-3 cups warm water
 2 pkgs. active dry yeast
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup currants
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped citron
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups stoneground wholewheat flour, unsifted
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cups (about) unsifted regular flour

Off heat, stir the sugar, salt, butter and molasses into the scalded milk; cool to lukewarm. In a large warm bowl, dissolve the yeast in warm water; add lukewarm milk mixture, currants, citron and wholewheat flour; stir well to blend. Work in enough additional regular flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic—eight to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled—about one hour. Punch down dough; turn out as before. Divide into 18 equal pieces; form into smooth balls.

Place in two greased eight-inch square pans. Cover; let rise as previously until doubled—about 45 minutes. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Use confectioners sugar frosting to mark crosses on top of buns. Makes 18.

SOUP OR BAKED BEANS

This is a dual recipe. The boiling portion of this recipe is a soup, and when the remaining ingredients are added and oven-baked in a bean crockery, it makes a delicious baked bean dish.

1 pkg. navy beans
 8 cups water
 2 medium ham hocks
 1 large onion, diced
 $\frac{1}{4}$ large green pepper, diced
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. dry mustard
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. black pepper
 1 or 2 tps. salt
 1 tsp. parsley flakes
 3 drops liquid garlic, or $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. garlic powder
 2 tps. dark molasses
 2 heaping tps. dark brown sugar
 6 tps. catsup

Cover and soak beans in water overnight. Next day add all ingredients listed, except last three. Bring to a boil and simmer for two hours, adding water as needed. When tender, add molasses, brown sugar and catsup.

Cover and bake in 350 degree oven for two hours. Uncover last one-half hour of baking time.

Use Stale Cake With Ice Cream

Crumb pieces of stale white or yellow cake and mix with melted butter. Put a thick layer of applesauce in a pie plate and top with the buttered cake crumbs. Heat in a moderate oven and serve with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.

Meat Makes The Meal

Pork loin chops such as these are braised to a golden brown. Onion and tomato slices cooked with chops add a colorful garnish and vegetable to the platter.

Surround Chops With Onion Slices, Tomato

As the best natural source of thiamine, pork should be included in the menu regularly. This important member of the B complex of vitamins contributes to healthy nerves and helps the body use its digestive processes.

Since pork is good for you and difficult about including pork chops on the menu, say once a week?

It takes 45 minutes or a little longer to braise pork chops. Tomato and meat slices are cooked only during the last part of the period. They'll make the platter look pretty enough for a party.

Brandied Cherries Make Unusual Treat

For a family birthday party or your birthday, try putting red cherries and fresh peaches in a mixture of sugar and brandy. Let them mellow in a cool place for as long as you can keep from serving them.

BRANDIED CHERRIES AND PEACHES

Fresh sweet cherries.
 Sugar.
 1 pt. brandy

Ripe peaches
 Wash, stem and pit cherries, reserving a few pits. Measure $\frac{1}{2}$ quarts stemmed pitted cherries into a crock, glass jar or enameled container with a close-fitting cover. Add the reserved cherry pits, an equal amount of sugar and the brandy. Stir, cover and store in a cool place; stir at intervals as necessary to dissolve sugar. When you are ready to add the fresh peaches, remove their skins and slice fairly thickly; add 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ quarts to the cherry-brandy crock with an equal amount of sugar. Stir, cover and store in a cool place or in the refrigerator; stir at intervals as necessary to dissolve sugar.

When the fruit tastes sufficiently brandied to you, serve as a topping for vanilla ice cream. Keep any of the brandied fruit not used covered and stored in a cool place or the refrigerator for as long as you like.

HOW TO PIT CHERRIES

To pit cherries you can use a lead pencil with an eraser top tucked into a metal band. Remove the eraser with a small sharp pointed knife; use the open metal band to push the pits out of the cherries.

A Devotional For The Day

Let your minds be remade, and your whole nature thus transformed. (Romans 12:2, NEB)

PRAYER: How grateful we are to Thee, our heavenly Father, that Thou dost love all humanity regardless of race, creed, color or station in life. We are thankful for the power of the gospel and its redeeming effect in our hearts and on our behavior. Unworthy though we are, we pray for Thy mercy, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Savior. Amen. (From the "Upper Room")

A Cry That Could Haunt

One of the things Adam Clayton Powell had to say about his colleagues in the House of Representatives was that they were big hypocrites. This certainly did not endear him to his fellows when they came to deciding on whether to seat him.

In our view, the ouster was justified, particularly in view of his refusal to take the initiative in re-institution of funds in question; also his disregard in honoring the judgment of a court in his home district.

There is now speculation whether he will be elected by his constituents, and if so, what the result of this will be. This would present the House with a sticky situation.

However, the House faces an even greater problem, namely what to do about its criteria for members in regard to nepotism, junkets and several other matters which involves them and the way expenditure of government funds affects them directly. It seems to us that the House, in expelling Mr. Powell, propelled itself to the point that it must do something about an ethical code, lest the cry of an ill-tempered and wounded member come back to haunt it. And what applies to the House should also apply to the Senate.

One Way To Help Peace

Criticism of the disappointing limitations on the United Nations as a world peace-keeping organization too often obscures its many successes as a focal point for international cooperation. But the latter alone are enough to justify fully continuing its financial and political support by the United States.

How little is popularly known, for example, of the U. N.'s five-year old program of helping the low-income nations find and develop large untapped reserves of valuable natural resources. This is a program that not only is strengthening the economies of undeveloped countries but also is creating new sources of raw materials for the advanced industrial nations.

Under this program the U.N. sends mining experts to advise governments on mineral exploration and development. It also sends mining specialists to help countries with specific projects. It helps build mining schools and provide fellowships and seminars, so such countries can train their own manpower to use advanced technology in mining. It provides advice on how mining laws can be revised to attract foreign investment capital for resources development. And it provides financial aid to the poorer nations with mineral resources, to help them acquire the mining equipment and build the roads and power facilities necessary to such resources' development. The score so far is impressive. It includes copper zones found in Argentina; iron, gold and silver in Chile; coal and iron in Pakistan; phosphates in Syria; iron, nickel and copper discovered in Mexico; copper in Borneo and gold in Bolivia.

By channeling such technical, educational, advisory and financial aid through its international agencies, the U.N. can stimulate self-help in the underdeveloped countries without aggravating their fears of "economic imperialism" or "neo-colonialism." In the long run it may be recognized that it is through such programs as making its most important contribution to world peace.

Holmes Alexander The Apollo Tragedy

WASHINGTON — "They were riding with their hands off the handlebars" — that homily, in cyclist language is the best shorthand explanation of the Jan. 27 catastrophe at Cape Kennedy when the Apollo Space vehicle burst into flame.

The mishap took the lives of Astronauts Grissom, White and Chaffee. It set us back in the Moon Race at least a year, maybe more. The accident was preventable. It was caused by overconfidence of the NASA officials. These officials, notably NASA administrator James Webb and Deputy Administrator Dr. Robert Seamans Jr., have been refreshingly and disarmingly candid:

"... The probability of a spacecraft fire in flight was low," said Dr. Seamans. "Continued alertness to the possibility of fire had been dulled by previous ground experience and six years of successful manned experience."

But the Space effort is a $37 billion investment, a commitment of national prestige and an unprecedented human endeavor. Candor cannot expunge this tragedy of errors.

Billy Graham

Does a person have to be mentally ill to commit murder? D.M.

Many people who willfully commit murder get off with light punishment because they were judged insane. While many murders are committed by insane people, most murders are committed by people in full control of their faculties. The human family has a bloody record. Blood was shed in the first family when Cain became angry and jealous, and killed his righteous brother, Abel. From that day to this, a bloody, gory trail has marked the history of mankind. Why? Because of the disease of sin. Many philosophers and men of the law are inclined to overlook this basic fault in human nature, and consider a man insane who lies, steals, cheats, embezzles or murders. But the Bible is clear in declaring that we all possess this inclination toward evil. It says, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." It says, (speaking of man): "There is none righteous, no not one; there is none that understandeth, . . . they are all gone out of the way; they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no; not one." (Romans 3:10-12).

This doesn't mean that there is no fragment of good in human nature. There is much good in the natural man, but we make a mistake when we assume that it is natural for man to be good at all times. We are all a mixture of good and evil, capable of great evil, or noble good. That is why Christ came: to forgive our sins—to change our nature and to help us triumph over evil.

Around The Rim

Blood And Gore For The Nursery

Perhaps you have never been trapped into a babysitting situation with one of three years and the other of three months, thus forced into explaining to the elder of the pair what is going on during the interminable number of "cartoons" on TV of Saturday morning schedules. You are fortunate.

I AM OLD enough to define "cartoons" as comical, such as the Mickey Mouse and Bugs Bunny variety. Apparently, such cartoons went the way of the Dodo Bird, the five-cent-a-bag popcorn, and trolley cars.

For the cartoons I witnessed recently are in no way involved in humor. On one occasion, a bit of humor slipped in near the ending, but taking one with another, most of these programs aimed at the younger set are simply caricatures of adult programs, involving murder, implied rape, thefts, shootings, even torture.

TO CAP IT OFF, the miscreants invariably are allowed to slip away to fight another day against some ignominious hero, whose sole virtue is a fancy uniform and a tendency toward daffiness. After sitting through this carnival-one-morning, I learned where our three-year-old had picked up words and phrases, such as "I'll kill you," "murderous pig," and others of like calibre she could barely pronounce.

MOST SUCH words are not part of the normal family conversation she hears, and numerous times she has surprised and/or embarrassed us with such talk. I can only guess that the cartoons have provided her with this compromising vocabulary.

During the morning, the road-runner and a hungry coyote finally came around, and it has no dialogue. It also did not hold her attention. There was also one starring Porky Pig, charming enough for her, and with a dialogue, suitable to her parents' tastes. She enjoyed it surely as much as "Space Ghost."

I WONDER why more "cartoons" can't follow this pattern, rather than the theme of blood and gore?

Red China, Russia—Our Enemies

WASHINGTON — Millions of Americans have probably asked themselves these questions: How does it happen that a little country like North Vietnam can defy a powerful country like the United States and declare that there will be no peace talks until the American air force halts its bombing? What, moreover, is motivating the North Vietnamese and giving them the courage to resist all overtures from the American government unless terms of virtual surrender are offered by the United States and its allies?

ANSWERS TO these questions would already have been made by America's spokesmen if it were not for a mistaken belief that neither Red China nor the Soviet Union should be officially accused of aiding our enemies.

The North Vietnam government by itself is, of course, weak. It has, however, two strong allies — the Soviet Union and Red China. Neither one has bent a finger toward peace. This is why U Thant, secretary general of the United Nations, failed to get anywhere in his efforts to start a peace conference. For the fact is that Peiping is afraid of Moscow, and Moscow is afraid of Peiping. One side doesn't want the other to get the upper hand in Southeast Asia.

THERE APPEARS to be very little the United States can do to bring about peace, except to make the Vietnam war so costly that political considerations as between Russia and Red China will gradually become secondary.

The revolution inside Red China, however, is of such a nature that it would be difficult for the Peiping regime to organize any concerted military program against the United States. The nationalist government on Formosa, moreover, would be eager indeed to participate in any larger war that the Red Chinese might initiate.

THE REASON the House of Representatives treated Adam Clayton Powell so badly is because Powell refused to show any humility. How different everything would have been if the congressman (at least for the moment) had thrown himself on the mercy of the House and asked forgiveness.

Adam Clayton Powell, please step forward.

"Yassuh, boss."

IT HAS been charged that you have insulted this body of lawmakers.

"Ah'm a sinner. Amen."

"That you put your wife on your payroll although she did no work and received no checks."

"Ah did the taxpayers wrong. Lordy Lord."

"That you furthermore used an airline credit card for personal trips to Florida for yourself and your beautiful secretary and that you spent in excess of $40,000 of government money."

"Praise be the government and all its good works."

ADAM CLAYTON Powell, you have lived high on the hog for 29 years. Your absenteeism record is known to all of us, and your contempt of court citation in New York still hangs over your head."

"How could ah have done it after the white folks have been so good to me?"

"This House cannot allow anyone to violate its rules nor can it allow anyone to be guilty of unethical conduct, particularly if it gets in the newspapers."

"Ah have seen the light. May ah be struck down during a filibuster if ah sin once more."

IT ISN'T enough to say you're sorry, Adam. You must be made an example of or every congressman will be putting his wife on his payroll and taking his secretary to Bimini."

"Let me be punished; let the full force of this House crash down on my head; and then let me dwell in the House of Representatives forever and ever."

Adam Clayton Powell, this body is impressed by your humility and we want to do everything we can to make your punishment as light as possible.

"AH BEG TO differ with you, suh, itiate. So it can be assumed that the Red Chinese are virtually checkmated in any such effort.

AS FOR THE Soviet government, there is reason to believe that it, too, is divided. There are some within its ranks who may feel that the time has come for a better understanding with the United States, while there are others who believe that Communism is imperialism throughout the world will falter unless the hostility to the United States is maintained in Southeast Asia and elsewhere as vigorously in the future as it has been in the past.

UNFORTUNATELY for the American cause, the most discouraging factor is what is happening inside our own country. The people generally are not fully informed about the mischief being perpetrated by some of the spokesmen inside and outside of Congress who keep on talking about stopping the bombing and, in effect, proposing a surrender. This is encouraging the North Vietnamese to prolong the war.

As long as the United States is represented as disunited and as eager for appeasement and surrender, the war in Vietnam will be lengthened. The responsibility for this will be upon those inside the United States who have been stimulating the North Vietnamese.

THERE ARE reasons for a belief that some of the countries which have not been aligned with the United States may take a position in favor of conciliation as yet is coming from Hanoi. But to stop the bombing without any guarantees that the other side will not use the interval to build up its supplies is so obviously untenable that the sooner the "halt the bombing" cries are stilled, the quicker there will be a peaceful solution of the Vietnam problem.

Art Buchwald If Adam Had Been Humble

but ah think ah should get the full treatment. What ah have done is unforgivable. If you show me mercy then ah will not feel ah have been forgiven. You must purge me of my guilt, for only then will ah be able to shave and look at mahself in the morning."

"What should we do with you, Adam?"

"Let me pick a bale of cotton, pick a bale a day."

"That would be too harsh."

"Ah could tote a barge and lift a bale and if ah got a lit' drunk ah could land in jail!"

"I DON'T think that would be constitutional."

"But you don't understand, suh. Mah heart is weary and ah'm sick of tryin'. Ah'm tired of livin' and 'feared of dyin'."

"Sing it, Adam."

"But ole man river, he just keeps rollin' along."

"As you can see, Adam, there isn't a dry eye in the House. We're going to let you take your seat, because we're a forgiving people in this body, and when we see a man as humble as you, we can only say 'go forth, brother, and sin no more.'"

"Thank you, boss. Ah'll jes go and take mah seat in the back."

'Gator Poachers

MIAMI (AP) — South Florida game wardens say alligator poachers are their biggest problem.

The alligators are protected by law but their hides can fetch up to $6 a foot. Some poachers make up to $300 a night.

Wardens say the 'gator hunters have two-way radios to warn each other when officers approach. They use airplanes to spot concentrations of alligators by day, then visit promising locations under cover of night. Wardens in the Everglades area spend at least a third of their time trying to protect the alligators.

"We have to spend so much time slapping mosquitoes at night out in the 'glades trying to catch these fellows before they kill off every 'gator in America," says Game and Fish Commission area supervisor Tom Shirley.

U.S., Kremlin Sweat It Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — One generation sweats so the next one may merely perspire. The words mean the same but one sounds nicer than the other, which is the story of American-Soviet relations.

Fifteen years ago what is happening in the Senate now would have been unthinkable. Joseph Stalin was alive then and here Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Red-scare campaign was nearing its peak.

THE SENATE is debating and is expected to approve, despite some opposition, a treaty by which the United States and Soviet Union agree not to arrest each other's consular staffs when they are in each other's country.

And it is intended to give quick protection to American tourists traveling in the U.S.S.R. If one of them is arrested, American officials have to be notified within several days.

This kind of agreement may not seem much but the Johnson administration describes it as part of its effort to "build bridges" to the East. And some have been built, but slowly.

WHAT AMERICANS saw on the horizon in the Stalin-McCarthy era was a terrible sight: The twin shadow of two big Communist buddies, Moscow and Red China, which had been taken over in 1949.

Since no one could predict the American future in relation to those two giants, this country since then, and under four presidents, had to sweat it out, standing firm, hoping for a break, wishing common sense could prevent war.

IN TIME, Soviet-Chinese relations went to pieces, with the Soviets growing jittery as China, her next-door neighbor, worked on nuclear weapons. And in the process of this Communist disintegration, the United States and Soviet Union, both concerned about the unpredictable and more recently irresponsible Chinese, found it convenient to get a little closer together.

Any use of "close" or "closer" to describe American-Soviet relations is a little ludicrous, since they are both harsh antagonists, but the last 15 years' ordeal has made them a little more sophisticated in dealing with each other.

Hal Boyle

On, Womankind, On

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbsome comments of a pavement

plate:

The more a man matures, the more he secretly comes to admire the iron whims of women. Those whims are the real pillars of civilization as we know it.

It is always a shock to a man to find out shortly after the honeymoon is over that the soft, compliant creature he married has a will of unyielding steel.

"I THOUGHT my wife would go through life jumping every time I snapped my fingers," he confides to an older married buddy. "She may look like a little bunny, but inside her mind she has got claws like a tiger."

"They all have," replies the marital veteran. "What seems to be your main gripe about your bride?"

"Well, I don't know just how to say it, but she seems to want everything to be perfect."

"They're all that way."

"EVERY LAST one of them?"

"Every last one of them. And if you're smart, you'll start getting used to it right now. Otherwise you'll waste the best years of your life fighting her—and still wind up losing."

It is hard for a man to do this. He can't see why his bride gets angry if he comes home an hour late. He can't understand why she is annoyed if a restaurant headwaiter seats them at a table near the kitchen when, after all, the food tastes the same no matter where you sit.

HE CAN'T SEE why she wants to eat at home by candlelight, or why she gets in a blue funk if the new draperies hang an inch or two higher from the floor than she prefers, or why she squawks at the taxi driver if his cab isn't clean, or why she sends his shirts back to the laundry if the collars aren't properly ironed, or why she makes a big issue over half a hundred other matters which seem to him unimportant.

"BECAUSE I like things to be done right," she tells him firmly.

Sensibly, for his own peace of mind, he lets her have her way. Dimly, he gradually perceives the chief mental difference between men and women.

It is this:

Man is by nature a lazy compromiser. He is content to put up with second-best arrangements because he thinks it is too much of a nuisance to fight for anything better. Left to his own devices, he would still be carrying a spear in a forgotten forest, sleeping in the rain and scratching his back against the bark of trees.

To Your Good Health

No Worries—Except For Herself

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I have a close friend who has been taking phenobarbital, tranquilizers, chloral hydrate, etc., for seven or eight years to make her sleep.

She has reached the point at which she can't sleep with or without medication. She is in a very nervous state, shakes, is jittery and very depressed and complains all the time that she is afraid she will have a nervous breakdown.

She says she is not sick, but just can't sleep, and gets up all through the night. She has nothing to worry about, doesn't work, and lives by herself.

I urged her to see a doctor but she refuses to tell the doctor that she has been taking all this medication for so long, and is afraid the doctor wouldn't give her anything for her nerves.

What would you advise? Do you think she might have a nervous breakdown from not sleeping? Should she go to a nerve specialist or could most any doctor help her? Would she need to go to a hospital?

—O. H. G.

In nine words you may have summed up the whole problem: "Nothing to worry about; doesn't work; lives by herself."

Your friend sounds like a classic example of how some people behave. Believe it or not, it is part of living to worry. I don't mean jitters. I mean being concerned over something.

The lonely woman who lavishes affection on a pet cat may seem to us to be silly, but as long as she is sincerely concerned about that cat, it is good to her.

Or one fusses over mulching the rose bushes so they will survive the winter, or burns up energy wondering whether she can make enough aprons and pot holders for the church bazaar.

We all HAVE to worry about something, and the person who has "nothing to worry about" inevitably will end up worrying about herself — she'll imagine illnesses, or fret over not being able to sleep.

After years of depending on pills, it may take a little time for her to break the habit of restlessness and insomnia, but the answer for her is to get herself involved with life. Whether she takes up stamp collecting, becomes a volunteer hospital aide, starts an antique shoppe or any of a thousand other things, she needs to get so interested in doing something that she forgets about herself.

Clearly no pill will do it. No doctor can do it, except by convincing her that unless her mind and energies are chewing on some problem, they will turn inward and chew on herself.

Dear Dr. Molner: My father, 65, hospitalized last spring for pneumonia, is now at home but has night-sweats requiring two or three changes of clothing every night. Could you list some reasons for such sweats? —R. E. B.

Infection somewhere is the commonest — focal infection as an abscessed tooth, tuberculosis, lung abscess. Other possibilities are hyperthyroidism, excessive covering at night, possibly low blood sugar occurring at night.

Note to R. E. B.: Your surgeon was giving you straight facts. After certain prostate operations, the sperm is discharged in an opposite direction, into the bladder, but ultimately finds its way out through the urethra. It requires only one live cell to cause pregnancy.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coins to cover cost of printing and handling.

Negative Development For Guilty Car Thief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A camera held by a 17-year-old high school boy turned out to be a pretty negative development for Luis G. Macias.

Macias, 36, pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of "theft from auto" and was sentenced to 40 days in County Jail.

"I saw the kid taking pictures," said Macias, "but I never thought he would give them to the cops."

'WAVED AT ME'

The guilty plea came after Macias was faced in court with pictures by Robert Anderson which showed a man removing a coat from a parked car and walking away with it.

Anderson said he was in the downtown area taking pictures for his photography class.

"He waved at me and smiled like it was his car or something," the teenager said, "but I just kept taking pictures."

Anderson followed the man and flagged down a patrol car. "The two officers grabbed him and they put us both in the car," said Anderson. "They took us down to the station and I gave them the film."

'Freckles' Dies

LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP) — John F. Bothwell of Sea Bright, N.J., who played "Freckles" in the "Our Gang" movie comedies, died Tuesday at Monmouth Medical Center. He was 46.

From 1929 to 1931, Bothwell played in nine of the silent films which were produced in New Jersey by Hal Roach Studios.

Through the 1930s and 1940s, Bothwell worked in vaudeville and night clubs.

In the late 1940s, after Army service, Bothwell entered the restaurant management field.

These Pictures Triggered A Confession

Robert Anderson, 17-year-old Pasadena, Calif., high school student, made these pictures of a man identified as Luis G. Macias of Los Angeles taking a coat from a parked car on downtown Los Angeles. Anderson, on a school photography class assignment, hailed a patrol car and gave police his film. Officers arrested Macias, who confessed to "theft from auto" after seeing the pictures. (AP WIREPHOTO)

The routes include:

Near Gainesville, Stamford, Abilene and Burnet and Austin. Near Burnet, Sonora, Eldorado, Del Rio and Austin.

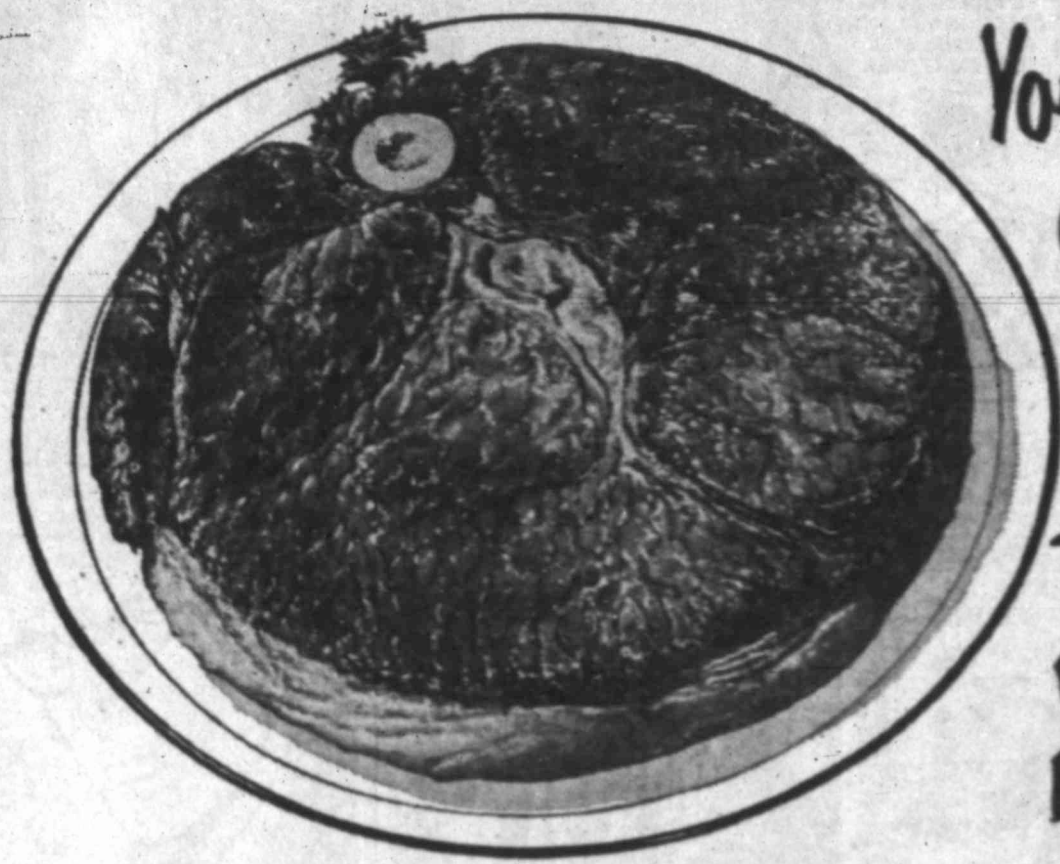

Near Austin, Junction, Del Rio and San Antonio. Near Waco, Marlin, Temple, Bryan, Taylor, Giddings, Schulenburg, Yoakum, San Antonio, Victoria and Beeville.

Very important to Kimberly-Clark's diversified business is to maintain leadership for such brand name products as Kleenex tissues, napkins, and towels and Kotex feminine products.

"Our Consumer Division knows the importance to us of Mrs. and Miss America," says Mr. Kimberly: "Because women make a habit of shopping newspaper ads for their household and personal products needs, we have always used newspaper advertising as a substantial part of our sales effort."

Twin Killing Charge Filed

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities charged Leo Arroyo, 39, with murder Wednesday night in the slayings of an elderly Houston couple for whom he had worked.

They said he would be returned here today from Alice, where he was arrested early Wednesday.

The complaints accuse him of killing Fred C. Davis, 72, and Davis' wife Alvada, 59. Bodies of the two were found Feb. 28 in their home adjacent to the motel-apartment complex they owned.

The couple's automobile was wrecked that same day when it collided with a truck east of George West, which is north of Alice. The driver of the car fled.

Alice Police Chief Ramon Falcon said Arroyo was arrested as he loitered near a used car lot.

Falcon said Arroyo gave another name and claimed residence at Torreon, Mexico. Falcon said Arroyo carried no identification but had about $150 in his pockets.

Houston police said Arroyo was a clerk at the Davis Courts, owned and operated by the slain couple, and he disappeared after the killings.

Falcon sent pictures of Arroyo and Houston detectives said these photographs were identified by three persons at the Davis Courts.

Suspect Held Without Bond

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — John W. Williams Jr., 17, has been ordered held without bond in connection with the execution-style slaying of two 14-year-old boys.

Williams, son of a former deputy sheriff, was ordered held by Circuit Court Judge John Ghent, who ruled Wednesday after hearing testimony that the youth boasted his father had bought him a new gun.

The bodies of Ronald Johnson and his first cousin, Wayne Mulendore, both of Rockford, were found a week ago in a park pavilion. They each were shot in the back of the head and the abdomen.

During the preliminary hearing for Williams, State's Attorney William R. Nash of Winnebago County indicated that more than one person may be involved in the slayings.

"We can speculate that there were other persons involved, and they may not have realized that this incident would go as far as it did," Nash told Judge Ghent. "Perhaps these people were seated in a car and heard shots."

Williams, who is being held for action of the grand jury, was acquitted in January of a charge of aggravated battery resulting from the wounding of a 15-year-old boy by a sniper's bullet.

Girls' Clothing Too Dangerous?

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) — The razzle-dazzle girls of this chic winter resort have been warned off the ski slopes.

Their outfits are considered too dangerous.

Instructors are refusing to take girls wearing gold and silver lame ski clothes or shiny, lacquered trousers.

"They're much too dangerous," said one instructor. "When a girl falls wearing such an outfit, she slides down the slope like butter in a hot pan. One instructor nearly broke his neck trying to rescue a girl who slipped down the full length of the Olympic run."

When news breaks anywhere in the far flung combat areas of Vietnam, you can pinpoint the exact places involved if you have this comprehensive and detailed new Hammond map, offered for sale now as a public service.

Families of boys in Vietnam will want it to hang on their wall, as will every intelligent newspaper reader who wants to keep in touch with the explosive situation in southeast Asia.

Printed in handsome full color on heavy paper of high quality, this 21x29 inch map folds compactly to fit in a handbag, desk drawer or glove compartment.

Da Nang, Hue, Chu Lai and hundreds of other places are shown, including major air bases, United States marine and army landings, roads, railroads, mountain passes, falls and rapids, rivers and other topographical features that help you understand the strategy of the fighting.

Besides the large detail map embracing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, there are smaller maps showing elevations, Communist dominated countries, and the continent of Asia as a whole; also an economic map of southeast Asia spelling out the agricultural, industrial and power resources of individual countries. Another "extra" is a chronology of events since World War II. An atlas type index lists and locates cities, towns and physical features in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The map is produced by C. S. Hammond & Company, a leading organization in its field. Get your copy today.
