Mainly About People

A New Davidson—
He's Like the Old—
A Constructive Builder
Watch Him Operate—

THERE IS A NEW POLITICAL Richmond in the field and he hails from Old Harrison in east Texas. State Senator T. W. Davidson, running for the office of lieutenant governor, as a democrat of the old school and a champion of constitutional government, won by the largest majority given to any candidate for a state office this year. He is a native son. He is a Wilson democrat. He stands for all the Wilson policies of government.

He is for the constitution as it was written and the gospel of the fathers as it was spoken in the days of Washington and Jefferson and the heroes of old. His vote came from all classes and all creeds. He considers it a victory not only for his friends but a victory for the conservative, thoughtful people of Texas and a victory for clean cut issues frankly stated. This man from Old Harrison is proud to be able to say that he misled no man to get his vote. He is as broad as he is democratic. He believes in the democracy of the fathers and the reign of impartial government. He faces the future with malice toward none and charity for all. Senator Davidson never evaded an issue during the campaign. He never hurled barbs with poisoned arrows. He never descended to the gutter for argument. He is built on different lines.

Now he says the coming state democratic convention should map out a real conservative program for the next legislature and give the people an opportunity to lay aside any political issues that do not tend upward and forwarding the advancement and upbuilding of the state and its institutions. And the state convention should map out a real constructive program.

GOVERNOR NEFF HAS ONE. It should be submitted to the committee on platform of the state convention. There are other issues which should be met and the constructive democrats who attend the convention as delegates should face these issues. This should be the building age or era of the people of Texas. We have an empire here whose surface hasn't been scratched.

We have latent wealth that is dazzling in its possibilities. We have natural resources that are almost staggering to the mind. We have millions of acres of fertile land which should be reclaimed. Why the oil wealth of Texas already taken from the bowels of the earth has made hundreds of millionaires. In the administration of impartial justice to all men, Texas should be first.

In the appropriation of money for the support of the public schools and the higher institutions of learning. Texas should not be thirty-first. In the conservation of flood waters and reclamation of idle lands, by the use of water or the drainage ditch, Texas lawmakers can add largely to the population of the state in coming years and add a billion dollars to its taxable value.

In law enforcement, justice for all alike, regardless of creed or color, Texas should take first place and if a removal act is necessary where officers are derelict, there should be no objection on the part of the people or the lawmakers to its enactment.

IF A SHERIFF FAILS TO DO HIS duty, why shouldn't he be removed for cause? If a judge fails to do his duty, why shouldn't he be removed for cause? If any servant of the people is false to his oath of office, why shouldn't he be removed for cause? Oklahoma has a removal law. Ohio has a removal law. Many southern states have removal laws. All the leading states of the union have removal laws.

Why, the governor of the great state of New York, a state having a population of ten million, has the power to remove the mayor, the district attorney, the sheriff or any other municipal officer elected by the people of that imperial state. Governor Neff submitted his constructive program to the people. State Senator T. W. Davidson advocated constitutional government and constructive legislation wherever he appeared during the campaign. Governor Neff had a handsome majority over all in the July primary. Senator Davidson had the highest majority in the runoff, given to any candidate for a state or any other office this year. Senator Davidson has views of his own concerning the penitentiary and its management.

HE WOULD JUNK THE plants. He would sell the prison farms. He would make road builders of the convicts. He would establish state cement plants to get out material for the roads. He would forever do away with prison horrors and prison scandals. It goes without saying that the name of Davidson is a historic one in Texas and appears in every page of Texas history for many years.

There was a Davidson who ornamented the court of criminal appeals for 30 years. W. L. Davidson, peace to his ashes, was a model jurist and the noblest type of an American citi-

ELECTRA HEARS THREATS OF NEW WAR ON NEGROES

Nothing New Turns Up After Night's Watch

Special to the Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 30.—Electra went through another night of excitement tonight, following persistent rumors that a group of men were forming in the oil fields to "handle certain marked individuals and places."

Mayor Calvert got in touch with Sheriff Fred K. Smith immediately upon learning these rumors and was advised to "deputize the whole town" if necessary or to even "put the town under martial law in case of an emergency situation."

Mayor Calvert promptly issued commissions to 25 more citizens and these, with half of the 90 already on duty, patrolled the city throughout the evening.

At midnight tonight the situation was quiet, as it had been all night, with the exception of two minor occurrences which had taken place earlier in the evening. The first of these was the explosion of a number of torpedoes on the railroad tracks, as a freight train passed.

Thinking that another outbreak had started a citizen stepped to his back door and emptied his revolver.

"I thought that was shooting and wanted to frighten them away from my house," he told deputies.

The arrest of seven men, none of whom have been specifically charged with an offense, was reported to the Record News correspondent at midnight by Captain Bonds of the night shift. It is reported that these men

Offer of Coal Supply From "Bootleggers" Is Turned Down by Ford

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 30.—Henry Ford refused today to avert a shutdown of his automobile plants here September 16, at the expense of the domestic coal users of the northwest, it was learned by the Associated Press today from a reliable source.

Acording to this information Mr. Ford charges that priority coal consigned to the northwest has been offered to him by coal brokers in telegrams reaching his office here. The manufacturer refused to purchase the fuel, holding it would not be a humanitarian act to take coal intended to relieve the suffering of men, women and children during the coming winter.

Mr. Ford was quoted as saying that "coal bootleggers" had offered to "steal this coal" and sell to him.

Despite the often repeated determination of Mr. Ford to close his factories here unless he can obtain the kind of coal he needs at normal prices, the General Motors corporation enheart today when it was announced the general motors corporation, employing between 75,000 and 100,000 men, had a 30-day supply of coal available.

C. and A. Goes in Hands of Receiver

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The Chicago & Alton railroad was placed in the hands of receivers in federal court today by Judge Carpenter. W. G. Bierd, president, and W. W. Wheelock, an attorney, were named as the receivers.

Acording to a statement by Silas H. Strawn, appointed counsel for the receivers, the receivership was precipitated principally by the great falling off in the earnings of the company due to the coal strike and by the extra expenses due to the shopmen's strike.

The suit resulting in the receivership was filed by the Texas company of New York and Chicago, a creditor with a claim of about $33,000. At the offices of Mr. Strawn, it was stated the receivership will not in any way change the operation of the road's trains.

JEWELL ELATED AT DECISION OF RAILROAD BOARD

Says "Living Wage" Decision Justifies Strike

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The decision of the United States railroad labor board on the principle of a "living wage' 'for maintenance of way employes fully justifies the shopmen's strike, B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts organization said in a statement tonight. He asserted this decision tended to perpetuate the lack of confidence which he said had been endangered by other decisions. The labor board in making the decision he charged either proved itself incompetent or definitely committed to the "financial powers."

"Either a living wage is just and reasonable or it is unjust and unreasonable," Mr. Jewell's statement said. "The board cannot postpone or sidestep the issue, and retain the respect of the employes."

The board recently destroyed the faith of about a million railroad workers, the statement said, when it established a 23 cent minimum hourly wage scale for track men and an average of 32.7 cents. "Neither wage," the statement said, "will come within reaching distance of a subsistence standard." The higher wage, he said meant $800, for a full working year, which is $400 less than the minimum of the national industrial conference board.

"Why should these employes be required to expected to waste the time and money consumed in rehearings without some evidence that the board has mended its ways?" Mr. Jewell asked.

"Railroad employes are still self respecting Americans. Their faith in the determination of the board to follow justice has been severely shaken.

France Determined To Force Reparations From Germany

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Grim determination to obtain reparations from Germany, seize guarantees and enforce such payments in the event that the reparations commission's decision tomorrow should grant a moratorium to Germany without exacting the securities demanded by France is everywhere evident in French official circles tonight.

While official announcement is withheld, in order not to interfere with the work of the commission and owing to the desire of the French government to allow the German delegates every possible opportunity to make a final proposal which might be acceptable to France, French officials talk and act as if the plan were adopted and France's decision to take coercive measures against Germany had already been decided upon.

Herr Schroeder's propositions to the commission are described as "absolutely unacceptable."

Premier Poincare had a long conference tonight with M. Viviani and the minister of finance, M. De Lasteyrie. Later he received Andre Lefevre, former minister of war, a most persistent advocate of the adoption of strong measures toward Germany.

M. Lefevre appeared in great spirits as he emerged from the Poincare cabinet.

ORATORY HALTS VOTE ON BONUS

May Settle the Bill Thursday

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—All pending amendments to the soldiers' bonus bill were disposed of today by the senate, but whether a final vote would be reached tomorrow depended upon the number and length of speeches.

With favorable action assured the paramount question in the minds of friends and foes alike was the reception the measure would receive at the white house. There was still no official word from the president but callers who discussed the subject with him today said they gained the impression that the addition of the land reclamation project and the provision for the payment of the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt had made the bill even more objectionable than it was in its original form.

M'CORMICK TO STAY AS CHIEF

Council Asks Him to Reconsider

Following a called session of the city council held yesterday morning, Commissioner J. B. Fitts announced that the resignation of J. W. McCormick from the office of chief of police of Wichita Falls had been withdrawn at the request of the council, and that Mr. McCormick would retain his title as chief.

The news was accepted favorably on every hand here during the afternoon, when it became known that Chief McCormick would stay here and direct the affairs of the police.

Commissioner Fitts made only a short statement concerning the withdrawal of the resignation, asserting that "the council left the matter of salary adjustment in my hands, and I have arranged that satisfactory to all parties concerned."

Although the exact amount of the salary raise which Chief McCormick received yesterday was not learned, it was stated at the city hall unofficially that he will receive $300 per month, his former salary having been $250 a month.

Chief McCormick announced his resignation Tuesday, declaring that he had accepted his former position as ranger sergeant in Company B, Texas rangers, under Captain Tom Hickman at Sherman, Texas, "to better himself." The official papers and the oath of office that would have placed him in the ranger service again reached him late yesterday afternoon, after he had already changed his mind and had withdrawn his resignation at the request of the council and Commissioner Fitts.

Just what occurred during the called session of the council is not known, the commissioners going into executive session shortly after they had convened, excluding both newspaper men and visitors from the meeting. Chief McCormick was called before the council soon after it had gone into executive session, and it is learned unofficially, that he informed the members that he could not afford to remain here as chief of police under present conditions at the same salary when he had an opportunity to better himself.

He acquiesced to the demands of an insistent public and the commissioners only at the instance of Commissioner Fitts, who held a short conference with the chief after the council meeting, the discussion of which is not known.

Several Wichitans are understood to have addressed the council yesterday morning in the chief's behalf, and it is understood that they urged that his resignation be rejected, and that he be urged to remain at his post.

It is not believed locally that the matter of salary is what caused Chief McCormick to announce a resignation at all, many expressing the belief that he felt hampered for a considerable length of time due to a diminished police department, and, that unable to do the citizenship of Wichita Falls justice in the way of protection as he would like to do, that this prompted his decision to reunite with the rangers.

"We are glad to have you back as chief again," Commissioner Fitts told him yesterday morning, and he was given the "regular glad hand" by all of his aides.

From the statements made by numbers of persons around the city hall yesterday, it is believed that 90 per cent of the city officers would have resigned had the chief not have withdrawn his resignation.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

ren. There was another Davidson who was a state senator for many years, who was thrice elected lieutenant governor of the state and who was like unto that Payard of France, who was without fear and without reproach. There was another Davidson who was a state senator and who was called to the office of attorney general three times in succession.

A. B. DAVIDSON WAS THE first lieutenant governor ever nominated and elected for a third term. Robert Vance Davidson was the first attorney general ever nominated for a third term. Two of the Davidsons, the illustrious jurist and the lawmaker and lieutenant governor, have passed on to their rewards. Robert Vance Davidson is in the land of the living.

Now T. W. Davidson is the nominee of the democratic party for the office of lieutenant governor which will call for his resignation of the office of state senator and the election of a successor by the democrats of his district. It has been said by a chronicler of the public men of the Davidson tribe that wherever you find a Davidson holding an office there you will find a Jeffersonian democrat. There is another Davidson in official life who is the connecting link between the Davidsons who have gone and the new political Richmond of the democratic party.

LYNCH DAVIDSON IS A NAtive Texan, a man of affairs, a man of integrity and achievements, who carved out his own career and worked from the bottom of the ladder of success to the top. He is in the prime of life, is the possessor of a comfortable fortune; he has been a state senator and lieutenant governor and in the campaign of 1924 he has promised the people to be out on the firing line a candidate for the office of governor or United States senator. There appears to be an unbroken line of Davidsons in the political history of Texas. When one departs, another steps to the front and takes his place.

TWO AT ELECTRA CHARGE ROBBERY

Pair Say $30 Taken From Them

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Aug. 30—Two men arrested as suspicious characters last night by deputies appointed during the race crisis complained that they had been robbed of approximately $30. According to their statement they were riding a west bound freight when they were attacked and robbed by some other "free passage" men and one of their number pushed from the train. Local officers went with them to the spot where they claimed their comrade fell but could find no trace of the missing man.

The entire city was patrolled all night by two shifts of deputies but no disturbance was reported. The personnel of the shifts numbered about 40 men each. The first watch, continuing until 12 o'clock was under the direction of R. S. Vanhoove. Ross Sleigh had charge of the deputies during the latter part of the night. The legionnaires were assisted in their guard duties by some of the most prominent business men in town.

Nine arrests were made, some of them mere youths, and the prisoners are being held for investigation.

Pratically every negro has left Electra. There was no train south during the day yesterday but a large number caught the north-bound Denver. Others left by automobile. It was reported here this morning that about seventy-five Electra negroes are in Vernon.

Everything is quiet here and no further trouble is expected.

senator from California in yesterday's primary stood at 62,711 tonight with about two-thirds of the votes in the state counted. His vote in 4,325 precincts out of 6,695 was 218,013 to 155,302 for Charles Moore, San Francisco, engineer and president of the Pan-American Pacific exposition in 1915.

At the November election, Johnson will be opposed by J. W. Pearson of Los Angeles, democrat; Upton Sinclair of Pasadena, socialist and H. Clay Needham of Newhall, prohibitionist.

Stephens Falls.

Governor William D. Stephens apparently has failed of renomination in the republican party, his opponent, State Treasurer Friend W. Jones, Los Angeles attorney, in the contest for the democratic nomination for governor.

Today's inquiry took on somewhat of an international aspect when it was learned that an effort was being made by the grand jury to determine whether Mexicans were among the victims of the mine war, but it was said by officials in touch with the inquiry that thus far nothing tangible had been revealed showing that Mexicans were killed.

The denial that Mexicans had been among the slain men is said to be based on the testimony given yesterday by A. P. Findlay, the then timekeeper of the strip mine, and by Coroner William McGowan, one of the first witnesses examined after the beginning of the investigation.

Father Renounces Children In Favor of Servant, Filing of Will Reveals

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The children of Park Benjamin, with the exception of Mrs. Enrico Caruso, who is in Italy, will confer here this week to decide whether to attempt an upset of the will of their father, which cut them off with $1 each and denounced them as having "acted less as children than as parasites."

Mrs. Caruso, who went against the wishes of her father in marrying the famous tenor in 1918, will return next month from Italy. She is in accord with her brothers and sisters and their attitude toward the father's will, it was said. It is to Mrs. Caruso's former companion and governess that most of her father's estate, estimated to exceed $500,000, would eventually go under the terms of his will. The former governess, Anna Bolchi Benjamin, was adopted as a daughter by Mr. Benjamin in 1909 and his will, spread upon the public records yesterday, said she had given him the filial devotion denied him by his own children.

The father's adoption of Anna Bolchi, described as a young woman of striking appearance with black hair and an olive complexion, was said to have been the cause of estrangement of Mr. Benjamin, who was a noted patent lawyer, and his children. The adopted daughter receives the largest cash bequest, $60,000 provided for in the will and in addition, gets all of Mr. Benjamin's furniture, most of his paintings, books, personal effects and jewelry. The residue estate was left to the widow, who is in a sanitarium, but upon her death that, too, is to go to the adopted daughter.

Spokesmen for the Benjamin children said that Mrs. Benjamin had never learned of Miss Bolchi.

Miss Bolchi, it was said, came to the Benjamin home as a companion for Miss Dorothy Benjamin, now Mrs. Caruso, and in the succeeding years the friendship between Mr. Benjamin and Miss Bolchi was exceedingly close. The heirs, it was reported today, would take the position that by virtue of such friendship she was able to exercise an influence over Mr. Benjamin which militated against his children.

are charged variously from signalling unknown persons to plotting against the blacks.

When Sheriff Smith learned of the reports that a second attack was to be made to "drive the blacks from Electra," he sent two deputies over immediately on motorcycles. He said that he would go over himself if the situation grew worse.

Mob Fails to Show Up

Whatever became of the alleged group that was supposed to be forming in the oil fields, it is not known, as it didn't show up in Electra. One man told Mayor Calvert, according to reports, that he had seen a written agreement where a number of men swore to wreak vengeance upon certain individuals in Electra, who, they charged were sheltering negroes.

One of these was said to be a white woman, the proprietor of an establishment, who is alleged to have discharged a couple of white girls and to have employed negroes. Another is supposed to be a man who made the statement that if his negro help was driven off it would be over his dead body.

Ice Chest Wanted

Anyone with a small ice chest that has been retired from active service can put the article to good use by communicating with the Salvation army. The attention of army officials was called Wednesday morning to a local family consisting of a mother and several small children that was in dire need of an ice container of some sort.

A supply of ice itself has been assured, but no ice box is on hand and Salvation army officials are requesting that any one able to provide one get in touch with the proper persons.

THERE'S A MORAL IN THIS STORY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 27.—Joseph W. Oheim, who complained to the police that he was held up by three bandits while he was driving in his machine, is not grieving over the loss of $12 taken from his pockets but the bold robbers drove away in Oheim's car with his girl.

His car was later found by the police. Oheim could not give the girl's name to the police, as he had known her only a "short while."

Old Gladiolus Boundary Suit Is Settled By Compromise

PLANET PAYS $175,000 CASH

Haskell Gives Quit Claim to Strip

Settlement of the most famous bit of oil litigation in the history of North Texas the Planet-Gladiolus boundary suit, has just been reached, with the payment of $175,000 in cash by the Planet Petroleum company to the Haskell-Middle states interested, for a quit claim to all rights on the narrow 20-acre strip of land, for which legal battle has been waged for three years.

The Gladiolus interests, now the Haskell, the ex-governor of Oklahoma acquiring the lease as a part of his middle states properties, received the court decision in March, when the case was tried in Wichita Falls, the Planet immediately appealing. The appeal had not yet been heard when the compromise was decided upon.

Oil held in storage by the Texas company, amounting in value to $450,000, 23 wells, with a daily production of 1,700 barrels and a strip of land 330 feet by 3,750 feet, becomes the property of the Empire Oil & Gas Co., by this act. The sale of the Planet last week and the final details of the sale are now being worked out. Pipeline runs were taken over in the name of the Empire on August 23, the production at that time amounting to more than 4,000 barrels.

All court costs are borne by the Planet, according to the agreement out of court. These will run high into the thousands, it is believed.

The litigation was brought about by a discrepancy in survey lines. The Gladiolus lease called for 80 acres out of Section 6, H. & T. B. survey on the Burnett ranch, three miles south of Electra.

Compromise Made.

Suit was originally filed against all three of the neighboring companies by the Gladiolus, which contended that the company had 80 acres coming to it, out of one side or the other.

Early in the game, the neighbors on the east side made a compromise, which named the disputed strip on the east side "no man's land," and gave each company the right to drill across the line far enough to give offset protection. By the agreement no wells will be drilled in this strip, this giving each company, as far as oil bearing sand and protection is concerned, amount of acreage that their lease calls for.

Case Hard Fought.

When suit was first begun only the shallower sands were developed. But even at that time the contested property was recognized as being immensely valuable. A large amount of legal talent was arrayed on both the Planet and Gladiolus sides, and the case was hard fought.

Even since the March decision was given in favor of the Gladiolus, the value of the property has been considerably enhanced by the discovery of the 1900-foot sand, with the largest production of any sand in the entire field. Offsets in the 1900-foot sand were drilled along either side of the strip, and several weeks ago an agreement made to put down five 1,900-foot wells by the two parties interested.

All Troop Units Leaving Austin

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 30.—The last troop units attending the annual cavalry encampment were moved out of Austin tonight by special trains. The final units went to Houston. Four special trains carried the 900 troopers back to their home stations. Adjutant General Barton and camp officers declared the encampment to be the most successful cavalry camp held in Texas.

SHALLOW ACTIVITY STIRS EASTLAND

Special to the Record News.

EASTLAND, Aug. 30.—There has been unusual excitement attached to the recent shallow development in this section, one well located three miles southwest of the city, the other that distance north of town. The Plateu Oil company's Owens No. 1 reported in last Friday when it touched the shallow pay sand at 1,370 feet, and showed for 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas, has not been drilled deeper but has gradually increased its flow. Today's gauge showed that it had made ninety barrels in the last twenty-four hours.

200 BBL. WELL IN ARCHER COUNTY

Good Producer on Kemp Lease

Drilled into the sand Tuesday night at 1435 feet, the J. I. Staley No. 1 Kemp et al, new Archer county pool, is showing up for a 200 barrel producer, according to Wednesday reports received in the Staley office from the field. The well will be drilled in tonight, and completed as soon as possible.

The new well is a short distance east of the discovery well of Hampton and Freeman on the Ferguson, and is the third completion in the pool.

The Hampton and Freeman No. 2 drilled in last week, has been put on the pump, and is reported making between 75 and 100 barrels.

The White Oil corporation's No. 1 Kemp et al is drilling around 1,000 feet.

Old Burk Pool Gets Good Well

The Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 3 Holtzen, flowing at the rate of 250 barrels from the 1830 foot sand, has just been completed, and is the best well reported from the old Burkburnett district in months. The new well is about a mile east of Clara, in the general vicinity of the old Clara-Ramming pools, but is of particular interest because of its size, and the fact that it is practically offset by dry holes to the west. On the east Staley et al have completed some fair sized wells in the past several months.

The Magnolia well had about 40 feet of sand, some of it proven formation. This depth of sand is one of the outstanding characteristics of the producers on the old Burkburnett pools.

"Oil Day" to Be Held at Fair

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 30.—Texas oil men, as well as those in Louisiana and Oklahoma, are informed that Friday, Oct. 13, has been designated as Oil Man's day at the state fair of Texas, and that in connection with the day, there will be a meeting of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association in Dallas on that date. Frank Cullinan is president of the association, and Frank Bennette, secretary, and there are some 1,100 or more members, representing various lines of activity in the oil business. Entertainment arranged includes a meeting between the Tulsa (Okla.) high school football eleven and the Waco high school team Friday afternoon, and on Saturday a contest between S. M. U and Louisiana State university.

PRESHELL WILDCATS

BURBURNETT, Aug. 30.—Walter Preshell is drilling a wild cat well at Nocona, and is reported to be down over 600 feet. The location of the well is about six miles from that city.

W-K Spark Plugs in a Cadillac Car 4000 Miles

El Paso, Tex., 8-10-22.
Self Cleaning Spark Plug Co.,
Wichita Falls, Texas.
Gentlemen:

Thought it would be of interest to you gentlemen to know of the performance of my Cadillac automobile on a long run with W-K Spark Plugs installed.

I had them put in my car in Santa Ana, California, leaving early in July for the east via the northern route through Colorado, seeing the sights as we came along. We reached Amarillo a few days ago, having made approximately four thousand miles with an average gasoline consumption of fourteen miles to the gallon. I call this some saving, and will use nothing but W-K Plugs in the future. You may use this letter if you so desire.

They are all that you claim and more, are a real investment.

Yours truly,

Farmer Who'd Traded In Kosse 28 Years Kicks About Its Boom

By Associated Press.

MEXIA, Texas, Aug. 30.—"I've been coming to Kosse for twenty-eight years and this is the worst thing I ever saw in this man's town," said a farmer Friday. Whether he was speaking of the jam and the dust and the congested stores where he could not get his usual attentive service from the clerks, or whether he was just naturally thirsty and could not reach the water with the same old rope and caken bucket in the town well where the reporter and the man met for a drink is not known.

If it was his thirst that brought forth such revelations, the crowd at the well at all hours of the day might easily sympathize, for it is difficult to find cold, wet water in Kosse. The town well is not dry, but the rope won't reach the water any more and one has to climb upon the curb and unhook the pulley and reach down a few feet while someone gives him a lift.

Jos. Danciger of Mexia gave us a random shot. "If the oil producers in the United States would just quit producing for a while, I'd sign, and give $10,000 to head the list, that nobody bring in another oil well for twelve months." With the oil men, it is kind of a self-defense proposition—get it quick or the other fellow will beat you to it. With the farmer coming to a boom oil town it is just one thing right after another, and it looks like the town has gone to.

Dutch Shell Investing Heavily After Gusher Boom at Kosse

Special to the Record News.

KOSSE, Texas, Aug. 30. — The Dutch Shell interests who refused to become excited even after Desenberg gusher came in at Mexia are investing nearly half a million dollars at Kosse.

The Atlantic is loaded with acreage, blocking up the north end of probable structure almost solid. This doesn't mean, however, that Humphreys and the two named companies above represent all the big holders of promised production, for the Gulf, Texas and Humble boys are buying today.

The Magnolia is also getting in bag, and men like Hughes, Danciger, Thompson and Winans of Mexia are sitting "on top," as saying goes. The T. C. Oil corporation, the Sun company, and, in fact, all of them without exception, are represented at Kosse, with the E. L. Smith Oil company of Mexia pioneering just as they did at Mexia.

All Humphrey Kosse Production To Sell at Dollar And Half

Special to the Record News.

MEXIA, Aug. 30.—All of the Humphreys' production at Kosse will go at a price being paid by the Standard Oil company when they contracted last year for 33,000,000 barrels at $1.50 until the Standard is supplied with that amount, according to officials of the Humphreys company, who have turned the task of piping the oil to Mexia over to the Pure Oil company, pipe line department.

The new pipe line from here to Mexia will be completed within the next 30 days, and oil from the Jones well here will be on its way to the gulf through the big trunk line completed some months ago from Mexia.

Two 55's are under construction in the vicinity of the Jones well now in order to care for the production until the pipe line is completed.

The first published reports of the depth of the Jones well were corrected this morning, when the exact figures were given out as being 3,757 feet instead of 3,025.

The gravity of the Kosse oil is about 30, somewhat less than the Mexia oil, though the Humphreys company states that recent analyses shows a very heavier lubricating content than that found in the Mexia oil, making it, if anything, more valuable.

Officials of the company state that it will be about 15 days before another well is started, and no location for additional wells.

BUILD GAS PLANTS

PONCA CITY, Aug. 30.—The building of additional casing head or natural gas gasoline plants in the western Osage, the past year and at the present time, has been one of the great activities of that section, and with the completion of the fourth plant about Nov. 1 by the Sinclair Oil company, the total amount of gas put through these plants daily will be 47,000,000 cubic feet.

WHY PICK ON HARRELD?

SENATOR CHARLES L. McNARY of Oregon is acting chairman of the senate committee which is investigating the petroleum industry, the petroleum kings, their business, their methods and their resources.

Remember, charges have been made that a monoply for the control of prices exists in the petroleum ndustry. Now Senator McNary says that W. C. Teagle of the Standard, Edward L. Doheny of California and representatives of the other big companies alleged to be identified with a gasoline trust will be summoned to appear before his committee and tell all about it. Senator McNary must be a humorist. W. C. Teagle is as suave and as shrewd as any lawyer in the senate; Doheny is not a dead one and the other heads of big oil companies are too wise to be caught in any senatorial trap.

Senator J. W. Harreld of Oklahoma declined an invitation to appear before the McNary committee. Harreld fought to have oil taken off the tariff free list and some of his righteous fellow senators were horrified. They said he owned oil wells, that he would personally profit by an oil tariff and it was a shocking example of bad form for him to advoate a tariff of oil importations. Senator Kendrick is a sheep man. He voted for a tariff on wool. There are republican senators who are largely interested in business enterprises. These gentlemen did not faint or fail to vote when the tariff affected their business.

There are cooper kings in the senate. There are steel kings. There are kings who are interested in coal mining and railroading. Why pick on Harreld? He is a political accident. He is a life-long protectionist from Kentucky. He doesn't see why steel and iron and coal should be protectd and Mexican crude kept on the free list. Give a greezy man a chance. Why condemn Harreld because he is the owner of producing wells?

WEEKS FEELS BETTER

SEC. OF WAR JOHN W. WEEKS is in a happy frame of mind. Two months ago he declared there was a popular demand the country over for the restoration of light wines and beer. Dr. Atticus Webb hurled a bomb in the direction of Weeks and warned President Harding that the mud sills of the republican party would be torn up by the roots unless Weeks was chastised. Now that the Literary Digest reports that not only a majority of the men heard from but a majority of the women favor light wines and beer, the secretary of war feels that his position has been vindicated.

This straw vote taken by the Literary Digest has produced a sensation nationwide in its proportions. There is a heavy majority against the return of the saloon but those who voted for the returns of light wines and beer constitute a heavy majority. It goes without saying that the Literary Digest is not a liquor newspaper; neither is it controlled by the wets. It has a tremendous circulation and the claim is made that the intellectuals of the country read it.

COAL GOING HIGHER

NOW official Washington says that coal prices are going higher even under federal control. Of course they are going higher. Herbert C. Hoover is not all powerful. If congress would clothe him with the authority he would make the coal profiteers toe the mark. But this is peace time and the men who own the coal mines are opposed to governmental interference with their business. They say so and they mean it.

To a man they voted the republican ticket in 1920. They branded Wilson as a socialist and the federal trade commission as the creation of a socialistic administration. President Harding is in behind Secretary Hoover, but there are senators who are all powerful and these senators do not believe it the province of congress to fix coal prices, famine or no famine. They are for the constitution, right or wrong, when the constitution is on their side. When it isn't on their side they interpret its provisions to justify their votes and the legislation they enact.

WHY MOCK CHINA?

CIVIL WAR in China has been ended by proclamation. There were more men shot and killed in America last year than were slain in all the battles fought by the Chinese army in the war that has just closed. And America is on a peace time basis

WHY SHOULD LABOR GROWL?

CONGRESSMAN HUDDLESTON of Alabama has branded President Harding as unfair to American labor. What has the president done now? Samuel Gompers made the same charge against the president last spring. There is a rail strike on. President Harding did not precipitate it. There is a coal strike. President Harding did not force it.

President Harding is not responsible for the Esch Cummins act. He is not responsible for the Texas open port law. He is not responsible for the mine owners and their private gun men in the mountain regions of West Virginia. He is not responsible for the massacre of strike-breakers by strikers at Herrin. Why should organized labor or unorganized labor throw rocks at Harding?

All the industrial cities rolled up huge majorities for Harding and Coolidge. All the industrial centers of the north Atlantic states and the middle west rolled up large majorities for the republican standard-bearers. Labor, farm and city labor, furnished the seven million majority which was rolled up for the republican team and a national administration.

Thousands of miners voted the republican ticket. Thousands of steel workers voted the republican ticket. Thousand of textile workers voted the republican ticket.

They damned Woodrow Wilson; they damned the democratic party and they kicked the democratic party out of power. Why should they growl? They got just what they wanted. They voted for a change. They have been given a change. Now why find fault with the editor of the Marion Star?

DON'T WORRY, TOM

HON. THOMAS RILEY MARSHALL said he would not accept the 1924 democratic presidential nomination if it was offered to him, when asked concerning his future political aspirations. This former vice-president of the United States should not be thrown into a fit of nervous prostration. The presidential nomination will never be offered to him, although he would make a very passable president.

He is a humorist; he has a backbone; he is for the Jeffersonian principles of government, but the American people have never taken him seriously. In addition to this although a strict Presbyterian churchman, he never did take kindly to the eighteenth amendment. He never did believe in sumptuary legislation and he is firm in the belief that it is possible to govern a people almost to death or to the point of organized revolt. Thomas Riley Marshall never did accept the political views of the very Rev. Dr. Atticus Webb. He is of another school of democracy.

COMMUNISM WANING

SOVIET RUSSIA is on the road again. Lenin and Trotsky have re-established property inheritance and the government has issued a decree legalizing inheritances and giivng heirs a maximum of $5,000 from an estate. The remainder going to the state. Capitalism is coming back in Russia; communism is on the wane. This is not all.

Soviet Russia, autocratic Japan and republican Siberia are going to re-establish trade relations and stand or fall together. After the compact has been signed and Germany and China are admitted to the charmed circle, there will be an alliance of nations that will make the world shivver a bit. It will not be an alliance for war for years to come, but it will be a business or economical alliance and it will effect the lives and fortunes of eight hundred millions. This old world isn't standing still and the traders of the far east and the slavonic and the teutonic worlds are not asleep.

There is no scandal attached. Two-Gun William never loved another. Winnie is his first and his last love. Should he lose her it is hinted that he may retire to a monestary. Gen. Uplifter Hays is making the movie world as chaste as an Alaskan glacier. He gets $150,000 a year and pickings for doing it and no doubt he is worth the money.

GOOD CREDIT

To have good credit in your town! There is no orthier renown; to have the merchant princes say, "That delegate is splendid pay!" When you have won so high a fame you are a winner in life's game, and when you've found your last repose, from 12 to 1 the stores will close. Good credit has its drawbacks, too; I have discovered quite a few. Now, all our merchant princes know I pay up promptly as I go, and when I drift into their stores, they and their clerks are simply bores; they want to sell me all they have, from anvils down to beeswax salve. They hate to see me get away; they want to sell me bales of hay, and suits of clothes and pairs of shoes, and stovepipe hats and liquid glues. They want to show cane-seated chairs, stuffed crocodiles and pickled in imported brine. They grab my coattails when I'd go, and yank and pull me to and fro, to show me corn beef in a pail, and tripe and prunes and shredded whale. They grab my sideboards in their haste to show me pots of rancid paste. At last when haply I escape, my form is pulled all out of shape, my coat is split, my collar spoiled, my temper and my whiskers soiled.

The Once Over

DUMM AND DUMMER ON THE WOOL TARIFF.

"Well, what do you think of the wool tariff?" asked Senator Dumm, as he threw aside his paper and sipped his coffee in the one-armed lunchroom.

"It looks like a plot to me," replied Representative Dummer.

"How so?" asked Dumm.

"Well, just reason it out yourself; the coal strike will prevent the public from getting heat this winter, and, just to make it more certain that the people freeze, woollen underwear, woollen clothing, and woollen blankets are to be made so expensive nobody can afford to buy 'em," replied Dummer. "I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see the pajama and night-gown makers go out in sympathy with the coal miners very soon."

"The Senate certainly seems to be trying to pull the wool over our eyes" confessed Senator Dumm.

"Yes, and over our ears, mouths, and noses," declared Dummer. "It's such a hold-up that the sheep haven't the nerve to look an ultimate consumer in the face."

"The ad valorem duties are most exorbitant, it seems to me," said Dumm, seriously.

"Who is that bird, anyhow?" asked Dummer disparagingly.

"Who?" asked Dumm.

"Ed Valorem," replied Dummer. "I hear him mentioned every time there's any discussion of the tariff. Is he Ali Baba's successor, or just a plain domestic bandit?"

"It isn't a person," corrected Dummer. "It's ad valorem not ed valorem and it is a Latin phrase meaning 'all you can get.' For example, this cup of coffee I am drinking is ten cents a cup ad valorem. It isn't worth two cents, but poor boobs like you and I will stand for a ten cent charge without a battle."

"Well, anyhow," resumed Dummer, "all ads and valorem aside I can't see why tariffs of from 35 to 56 per cent, should be put on fine wool and from 77 to 137 per cent. on coarse wools. You can bet that the coarse wools will go to the working classes. A coarse woollen suit, thanks to the coarse woollen senators, will cost the coarse consumer so much he'll have to patch up last year's suit or go around with his head through a tablecloth."

"I suppose you know quite a few senators are in the sheep-raising business," remarked Dumm.

"I understand there are a number of Congressional Little Bo Peeps blowing their horns for the higher tariff rates," admitted Drummer. "They have found that there is a curious similarity between the habits of sheep and voters. The sheep follow their shepherd wherever he goes and the straight ticket voters generally follow their senator whenever he runs."

"I have a hunch that many senators will find at the next election that it is a dangerous thing to shear the sheep and the voters at the same time. They don't seem to be losing any sleep over it now, I'll admit," said Dumm.

"Why should they lose any sleep?" ventured Dummer. "A sheep-raising senator can always go to sleep by the simple process of counting sheep as recommended to all sufferers from insomnia. If he doesn't go to sleep counting sheep he can do so counting the profits."

"They're wolves in sheep-raiser's clothing," declared Dumm. "The conduct of the sheep-raiser of today takes all the poetry out of the old songs of the shepherd and his crook."

"What do you mean 'the shepherd and his crook?'" asked Dummer.

"The shepherd and his congressman," answered Dumm.

"Is there a crisis in the domestic wool business or something? How do you explain the anxiety of the sheep-raisers to grab all they can at one grabbing," asked Dummer.

"I have a suspicion that the wool business is threanteded somewhat by the hair-bobbing craze," said Dumm.

"Hair bobbing?" asked Dummer, raising his eyebrows.

"Exactly," replied Dummer. "More girls and women were sheared in the United States the past year than sheep. Now the question is, what became of this class of wool? I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the barbers and hairdressers had pooled the crop. There is no good reason why it should not be made up into very durable clothing. There is some question whether the locks of a blonde or brunet make the best fall and winter suit, but it is unimportant."

"The sheep-raisers have nothing to fear from the hair-bobbers, declared Dummer, solemnly.

"And why not?" asked Dumm.

"There are not enough hairdressers or barbers in congress to look out for their interests," concluded Dummer.

It takes a pretty sharp remark to cut a slow man to the quick.

SAVING LIVES BY RADIO

Disastrous Wreck of London-Paris Airplanes

(All rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

The first collision of express planes in the air and the resulting loss of lives in the flaming wreckage, brings vividly to mind the necessity of radio equipment in air transportation to safe-guard the lives of the passengers and pilots.

Seventy miles north of Paris, over the village of Thieulloy, a British plane manned by a pilot and carrying mail, crashed into a French airplane in which was a pilot, mechanic and three passengers. The planes had been traveling at terrific speed, completely engulfed in a sea of fog, and after colliding, both fell to earth, the aviators and passengers perishing in the burning remnants of the luxurious airships.

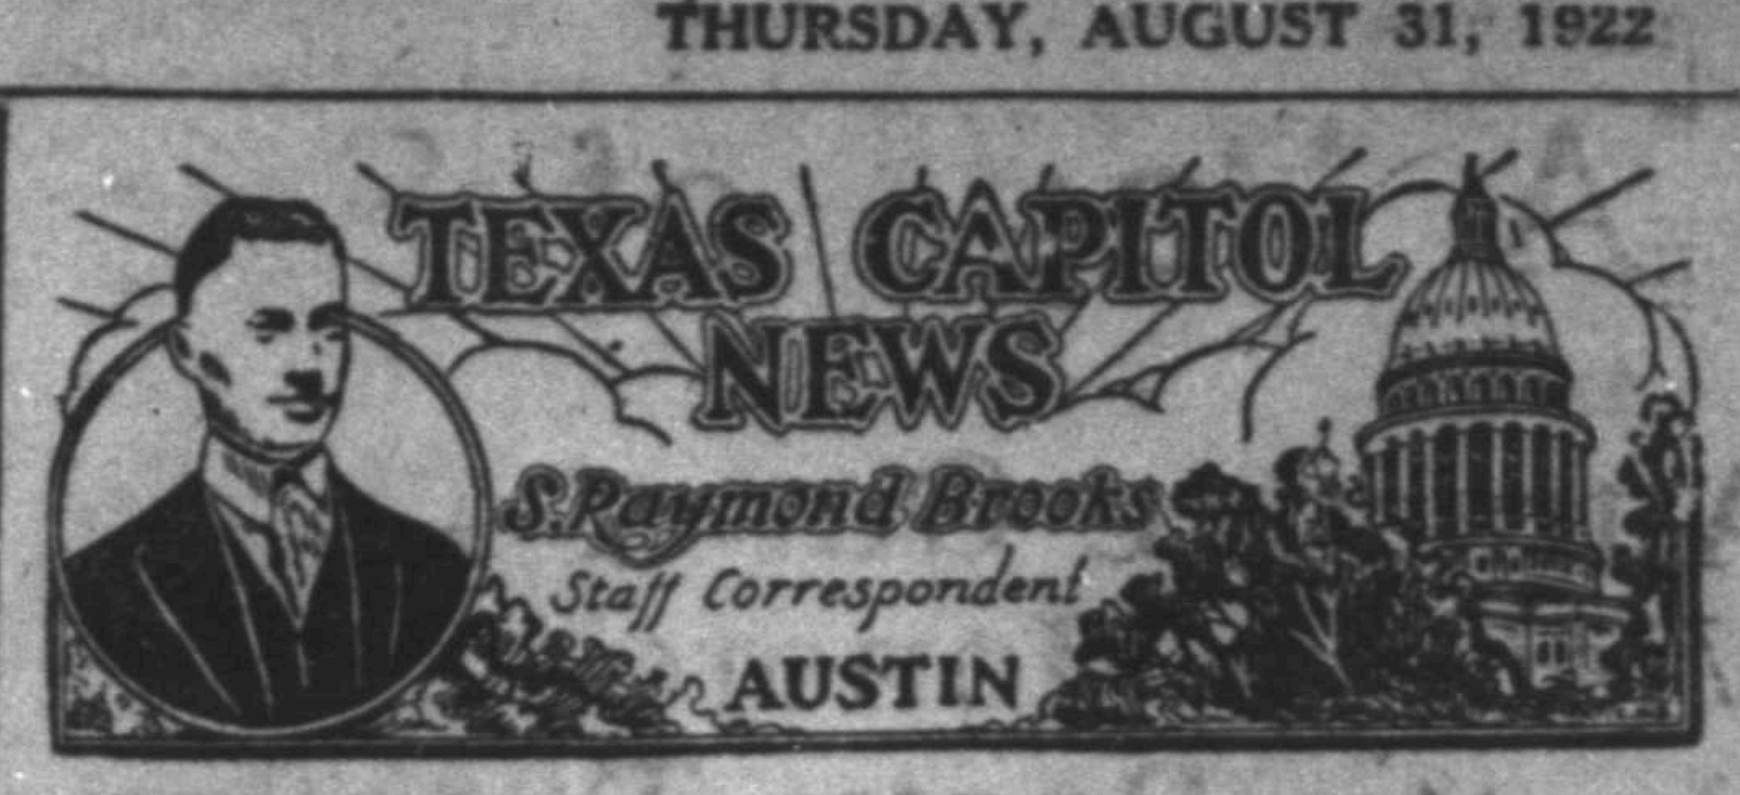
Disasters in fogs are not unusual, but in operations on sea and land the use of sound signals and powerful lights prevents to a great degree such unfortunate happenings and their consequent loss of lofe.

The high speed of airplanes, commonly 100 miles an hour, places them outside the range of sound instruments or brilliant lights which penetrate fog but a short distance. Radio waves, however, travel at a speed of 300 million meters or 186,000 miles per second, their action is instantaneous and they radiate in all directions like ripples resulting from the impact of a stone on the surface of a quiet pool of water. A few lengths of wire stretched from end to end of the airplane, small adjustable coils and condensers connected to that radio marvel the "vacuum tube" form a combination by which the pilots of passenger carrying airplanes can sendout radio signals in all directions through an impenetrable fog. Powerful land stations sending warnings of dangerous storms will enable the pilot to alter his course and bring the plane and air voyageurs to a safe landing at their destination.

Train Wrecks Can Be Prevented by Wireless

The marvelous developments in radio are logical grounds for a prediction that in the near future terrible collisions on our railroads will be eliminated through the constant and direct communication by Radio between the train dispatcher and the locomotive engineer. The installation of a delicate instrument which responds only to a certain electrical wave length would allow the dispatcher to single out any locomotive on the system. Only a short time ago the Interstate commerce commissionordered the installation of automatic stops on some of our eastern railroads, to prevent the passing of danger signals. It it not possible that through the recent wonderful developments in wireless that the government will order railroad trains to be provided with radio equipment so that, day or night, the dispatcher's voice, carried on the wireless waves, can warn the engineer of a danger toward which the train is rushing at mile-a-minute speed?

To the uninitiated a reference to wave length in radio is a vague electrical term. As in water waves, it is the distance from crest to crest of the electrical oscillations. The rapidity with which short waves vibrate is almost incomprehensible, for example, waves of 200 meters in length used by amateurs, oscillate at the rate of 1,500,000 times in one second. The length of waves is expressed in meters one meter having a length of three and one-quarter feet. Long waves vibrate more slowly, at a rate of 20,000 times per second. Long waves are generally used for transoceanic communication, while short waves are used by amateurs and for broadening the popular concerts and speeches.



RIO GRANDE AND GULF TO BE CHANGED IN FUTURE

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—Dave A. O'Brien of Brownsville, president of the Rio Grande and Gulf railroad, between Brownsville and Point Isabel, conferred with Engineer R. D. Parker of the state railroad commission concerning plans of rebuilding the road to standard gauge. Mr. O'Brien reported everything is in readiness for relaying the road now, including detours which be made to follow a route avoiding swampy land.

A valuation of the new property will be asked at the hands of the railroad commission in the near future, it was indicated.

Mr. O'Brien's road is the railroad line over which President-Elect Harding came out of Point Isabel to Brownsville by motor car in November, 1920, after having tried several unsuccessful attempts at an automobile trip, and on which motor car the president's party was "held up" for several hours when the car developed engine trouble.

Interest in rebuilding of the road has been quickened because of the war department's decision to establish a deep-water harbor at Point Isabel, and to dredge a deep channel to Point Isabel through Santiago Pass.

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—Ranger Captain Jerry Gray, commander of rangers in charge of open port law enforcement at Palestine, conferred with Attorney General W. A. Keeling Monday. While here Captain Gray called attention to the fact that the negro, killed Saturday at Tyler while at work on railroad property, under guard, was in charge of a United States deputy marshal, rather than a ranger, as had been reported. Captain Gray returned to Palestine Monday.

FASHIONS

Somewhat on Grecian lines is this popular dinner gown of rose colored Georgette embroidered in silver and crystal, with silver ribbon caught underneath the drapery at either side. The dress is ankle length, indicating the continued leaning to increase skirt length. The Grecian suggestion is also carried out in the hair ornament—a simple wreath of silver leaves.

This frock might be made over a slip of white or self-colored satin, or over a cloth of silver slip with equally good effect. Silk and metal brocades and plain metal cloths are prominent in the array of fabrics used for formal evening and dinner gowns. The fancy for metal effects is also evidenced in the embroideries applied to many of the plain fabrics. Rhinestone embroideries are also featured on many of the more elaborate and costly evening gowns, and very effective they are.

A very lovely dance frock recently seen was made of turquoise blue chiffon quite heavily embroidered with gold thread. A wide girdle of cloth of gold held the frock in at the normal waist line, long ends simulating a flying panel or side train. The frock was worn over a cloth of gold slip.

Metal brocades and metal cloths are very popular in the fashioning of evening gown wraps. Many deep fringes of metal thread also appear on evening wraps of velvet or brocade.

Generally speaking, the styles most approved for the coming fall and winter season are quite conservative, but sufficiently different from last season offerings to be decidedly interesting.

The best dressed women do not go in for bizarre or extreme things so that styles of the bizarre and extreme type are usually short lived.

Disdaining truths that are well known;
Believing things we cannot prove;
Affecting manners overwise;
Assuming fanciful attire,

Each thinking that the rest admire;
Applauding follies as they pass,

Little Stories For Bedtime

SAMMY JAY'S MESSAGE TO OLD MAN COYOTE

While Farmer Brown's Boly was doing a lot of hard thinking about those traps he had set for Old Man Coyote Sammy Jay was making a call on Old Man Coyote. Yes, sir, Sammy was calling on Old Man Coyote. You see he had been sent with a message from the little people of the Smiling Pool and the Green Meadows. The message was a vote of thanks to Old Man Coyote for leading Bowser the Hound into a trap and so teaching Farmer Brown's Boy a lesson. You see they all felt what was really true, that Farmer Brown's Boy would almost rather have been caught himself than to have had Bowser caught.

Sammy found Old Man Coyote at home, and what do you suppose he was doing? He was digging out and uncovering every one of the traps that Farmer Brown's Boy had set so carfeully. And as he worked he growled and grumbled to himself, for those rtaps made him very angry. Sammy stopped to listen, a very impolite thing to do, and he grinned as he heard Old Man Coyote say all kinds of unpleasant things about Farmer Brown's Boy. You know Sammy is always willing to believe the worst of any one. When Old Man Coyote looked up and saw Sammy he snarled at him. You know no one likes to be overheard talking to himself ,especially when saying unpleasant things.

Sammy pretended that he had just arrived and that he didn't notice Old Man Coyote's bad temper!

"Good morning, Mr. Coyote," said he, making a grand bow and speaking as pleasantly as he knew how. 'I have the honor to bring you a message from the little people of the Green Meadows and the Smiling Pool."

Old Man Coyote pricked up his ears and grinned. "What's worrying them now?" he demanded. "You can go straight back and tell them that I like the Green Meadows and that I intend to stay here. If they don't like it they can go themselves."

You see he knew very well that he was the most feared of all the little people living on the Green Meadows, and that no one had any love for him.

"You've guessed wrong this time," chuckled Sammy. "You've guessed wrong this time ,Mr. Coyote. It's a vote of thanks."

"What?" exclaimed Old Man Coyote, looking very foolish and very much as if he thought Sammy Jay was making fun of him. Probably this was the first time in all his life that he had ever been thanked for anything, and it gave him a queer feeling.

"I said it's a vote of thanks," replied Sammy.

"What for?" asked Old Man Coyote gruffly, and looking very much puzzled.

"For leading Bowser the Hound into a trap and so teaching him and his master what dreadful things traps are," replied Sammy.

"Pooh, that's nothing!" said Old Man Coyote. "I guess that silly dog has learned a lesson, but that doesn't look as if his master has, does it?" He pointed to the traps he had just uncovered.

Sammy scratched his head thoughtfully. "No-o," said he slowly. "No-o' I can't say that it does. What a pity it is that some one doesn't trap him. Then you people wouldn't have to worry. I'm glad I live in trees and not on the ground. I don't have to worry about traps."

"Do you notice that I am doing much worrying?" grunted Old Man Coyote. "Traps don't bother me. It will take some one smarter than Farmer Brown's Boy to set a trap that will catch me."

Sammy looked at Old Man Coyote in admiration, for it was very plain to see that he was not bragging. He was just stating a fact.

"My how smart you are!" exclaimed Sammy. "I've always said that you were the smartest person on the Green Meadows. Nobody else, not even Granny Fox, would have been smart enough to have found those traps."

Old Man Coyote looked very much flattered, Sammy's quick eyes saw it. 'I mean it," he said. Old Man Coyote looked at him with a kinder expression in his yellow eyes than Sammy ever had seen before. It began to look as if they were going to be friends.

BUILDING LAW PASSED HERE

Stores in Residential District Barred

An ordinance regulating the erection of business houses in the residential districts of Wichita Falls and prohibiting the same was passed by the city council during a special called meeting held yesterday morning.

The ordinance varies from the old ordinance referring to this practice, this law having been held unconstitutional by the higher courts; the new law asserts that business structures cannot be erected in residential districts when they are shown to be "harmful to the morals, good order, convenience, comfort, prosperity or general welfare of the residents in the neighborhood in which the proposed building is to be erected."

The law, it is understood, was passed as an emergency act, following a wrangle which arose in a certain neighborhood here when it became known that several buildings were being erected, and objected to by the neighbors. The argument was brought before the city council during its regular meeting Monday night, and the mayor, Frank Collier, informed the contestants that the city would give its opinion "within the next few days."

The new ordinance is taken to be the "opinion" of the councilmen.

SPUDDERS OUTHIT CHAMPS BUT FAIL TO MAKE THEIR BLOWS COUNT IN PINCHES

Champs Take First Lap In Race For Dixie Pennant; Purdue Hurls Good Game Until Pulled In Eighth; Edmondson Makes His First Appearance In Spudder Uniform.

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, August 30.—Hub Perdue pitched baseball here today—but he didn't pitch enough.

Wichita Falls' fast stepping Spudders slammed Wachtel gleefully—but the slams came at inopportune times.

Several hundred rabid rooters from up the Denver howled vociferously—but their lung-power couldn't hold out, and as a result several things happened.

First and foremost the highly touted Cats made good a long standing threat to eject from first place the Wichita entry in Doak Roberts' celebrated pennant race, and, of equal importance, they walked off with the first game of the series that is to have an important bearing on the future home of the 1922 Texas league flag. The final score was 6 to 2.

Fort Worth ..... 010 100 22x—6

Sacrifice hits, Beck, Summa, Sears, Tavener, Haworth, White; stolenbase Bischoff, Kraft 2; two base hit, Kraft; home run, Kraft; innings pitched; 4 runs 4 hits off Perdue in 7 innings; 2 runs 2 hits, Mokan in 1-3 innings; struck out, Wachtel 3, Perdue 1; base on balls, Wachtel 5, Perdue 2, Mokan 1; time 2:10; Umpires, O'Toole, Kane and Daly.

It was quite a ball game even if the home crowd did annex four more counters than the invaders and it was only through some unexpected breaks that the scrap was ultimately decided. Wachtel was touched up for 9 bingles, whereas Perdue, Mokan Edmondson yielded 7, but runs are what win ball games and the Cats were more fortunate in producing hits when hits meant runs. Added to this was a class D fielding exhibition by White and Miller in the fourth which allowed a run to count.

Wachtel was in hot water almost from the start, but the great God, Application, and the greater God, Luck, pulled him out safely. Bob Bescher started things in the first by beating out an infield hit, but Tanner forced him at second. Buddy was a victim of Homer Haworth's throwing arm and Adams, who was given a life when Kraft politely messed up a peg, was left stranded. The Cats were passive in their half.

In the second Beck blazed a single to right, took second when White duplicated his blow, and went to third when Bischoff was being tossed out on an infield blow. Perdue slammed a hot one at Hoffman and the slow moving Beck was run down on the line. Kraft did the only Cat damage of the frame, but it was damage enough, amounting to a circuit wallop that dropped gracefully over the left field wall.

Spuds Threaten

The Spuds didn't threaten seriously in the third and neither did the Cats, but in the fourth the latter added another to their string when Miller and White pulled the Alfonso-Gaston act and watched Dutch Hoffman's fly drop between. Kraft had previously walked and worked around to second from where he scored on the misplay.

Bescher put his mates in the run column in the fifth by singling, making second while Tanner was being thrown out at first, taking third on Adams' infield hit and scoring on a long sacrifice fly from Summa's bludgeon. The only other Spudder tally came in the eighth when two hits and some sacrifice flys enabled Summa to scratch home plate.

As for the Cats, they sewed things up for fair in the seventh and eighth by scoring twice in each frame. Phelan slammed one to left for one base in the seventh and was helped along to second when Beck hit him in the back with the ball while playing Tavener's grounder. Both players advanced on Hoffman's out and scored when Wachtel cooled one for one sack. In the eighth a base on balls and two hits produced two more tallies.

Perdue was derricked in the eighth in favor of a pinchless pinch hitter and Mokan, who took up the mound duties, was relieved before the inning was over when the Cat artillery took kindly to his offerings. Edmondson finished the embroglio.

VERNON PLANS LABOR DAY SHOOT

Special to the Record News.

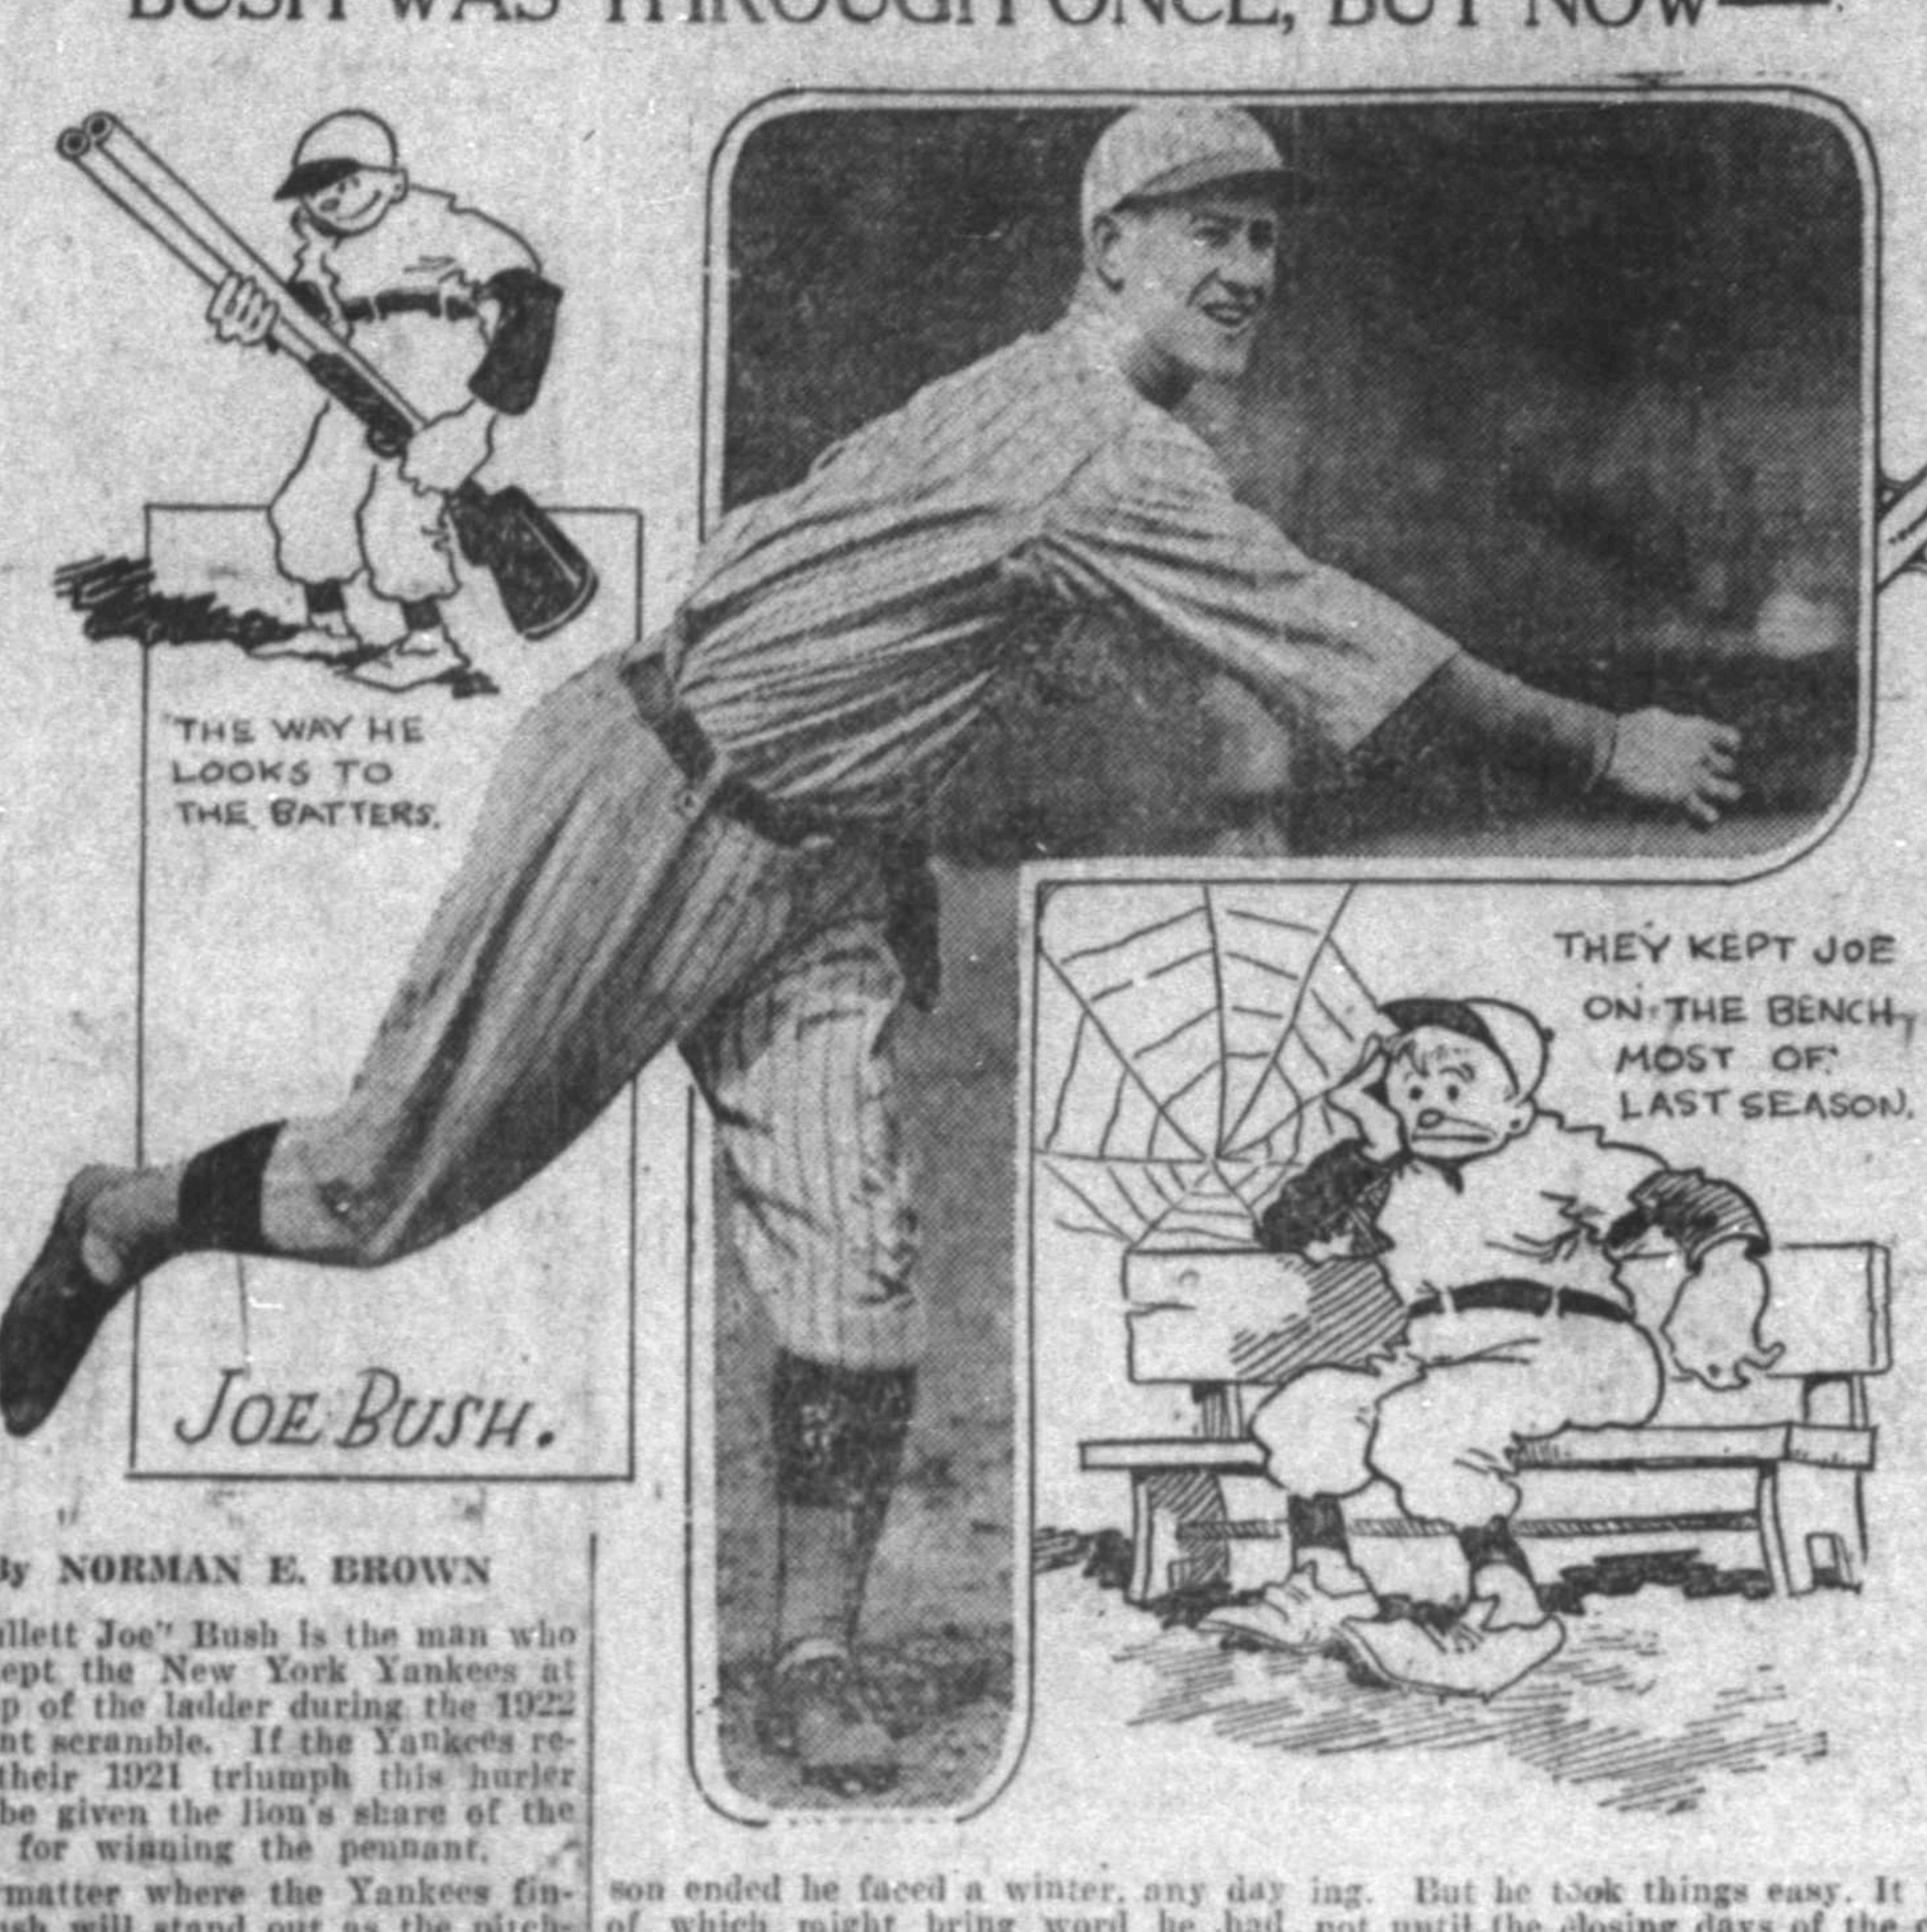
VERNON, Texas, Aug. 30.—An all day gun shoot, heralded as a 200-target event, has been planned at Vernon for Labor day and will be conducted at the fair park on the west edge of town. Contestants from towns in all directions from here have indicated their intentions of attending the affair, and an especially [illegible] delegation is expected from Wichita Falls.

There will be eight events with 25 birds in each at a range of 16 yards. Lunch will be served on the ground. The meet is not registered and will be a strictly amateur affair. Several local citizens, notably B. Daniel, have made excellent records in previous shoots, and competition promises to be of the most spirited sort.

SPUDS GET ABILENE BACKSTOP

Reports from the battlefield state that Lyall, star catcher and utility man, will report to the Spudder manager tonight from Abilene. He will possibly be used in the present series. It is also rumored that Al Freeman, who held out at the beginning of the season, will report within a few days to help the Spudders take the pennant. Sport scribes were unable to get a statement regarding this rumor from Walter Salm yesterday.

BUSH WAS THROUGH ONCE, BUT NOW—



THE WAY HE LOOKS TO THE BATTERS.
JOE BUSH.
THEY KEPT JOE ON THE BENCH MOST OF LAST SEASON.

By NORMAN E. BROWN

"Bullett Joe" Bush is the man who has kept the New York Yankees at the top of the ladder during the 1922 pennant scramble. If the Yankees repeat their 1921 triumph this hurler must be given the lion's share of the credit for winning the pennant.

No matter where the Yankees finish Bush will stand out as the pitching star of the year.

And just three campaigns ago this courageous flinger faced the dreary journey down the long trail to oblivion. His major league days appeared ended. The fans at large said they were and Bush almost got to believing the same thing.

He reported daily at the Red Sox ball park with an arm so lame he couldn't even pitch an inning or two as relief hurler. When the 1919 season ended he faced a winter, any day of which might bring word he had been shipped to minor league club.

All known remedies for taking the kink out of and putting snap back into lame arms had failed. So in desperation Bush took up boxing. He found an instructor and worked out daily. He practiced hitting with his right. He forgot about pitching until the 1920 spring trip began. Then, to his great joy, he found that his arm was limber and apparently strong enough to stand the strain of pitching. But he took things easy. It was not until the closing days of the campaign that he extended himself in the box.

Last year he began to take his turn in the box in the midseason and when the waning days of September came he "let her out" and won nine games in 10 starts.

This year he has won consistently. If he continues to hit his present gait he will hang up the best record he has made in the big show.

The social hour was given over to informal "get acquainted" exchange, and a treat of iced watermelon by the refreshment committee.

The appearance of several brother members in the cantonement uniform was interesting and educative feature of the Monday evening session.

Auto Thieves Raid Wichita Tuesday

Car thieves took advantage of the night again Tuesday, late, and raided Wichita Falls successfully.

A seven-passenger Chandler touring car was reported yesterday morning as having been carried off during the night, while later in the morning, W. B. Larkin of 1112 Alma street reported at the station that thieves had stolen his extra casing and cover from the rear of his Buick machine while it was parked in front of the Olympic theater.

The officers have been unable to locate any of the reported stolen articles thus far, according to Chief of Police J. W. McCormick, who said yesterday however, that renewed efforts to run down the clique believed to be working here would be put forth.

All but a few hundred yards of grading on this side of the river is said to be completed. One outfit on the Oklahoma side has done a whole lot of grading and with the additional teams the work will be rushed to completion.

PRIZE FIGHTING MAY BE BARRED

Schenck Promises an Investigation

"An investigation of the recent prizefights which have occurred in Wichita county will probably be made by the grand jury, which is now in session," Walter F. Schenck, district attorney, said yesterday afternoon.

"The fights have been called to my attention," Mr. Schenck continued, "and it is my opinion that according to the law the American legion nor any other legion, or any kind of an organization can put on exhibitions of any nature that are contrary to the letter of the law."

The district attorney declared that "it has been against the law to hold prize fights in the state of Texas ever since the time when Charles Culberson was governor in 1895."

He referred to article 1507 of the penal code, passed by an act of the legislature October 3, 1895, which declares in its essence that to hold a prize fight or to abet one in this state, where compensation is received by the fighters participating, or where a prize of any kind is given, is against the law.

Whether an indictment will be the outcome of the recent exhibitions that have been held in this county, or whether any of the participants of the bouts held in Electra and Burkburnett recently will be called here to appear before the 30th district court grand jury which is now in session, as an outcome of the declaration made by the district attorney yesterday in the presence of fight fans, is not known.

Not a single fine was assessed during the short sesion, depite the fact that three defendants appeared before the bar for trial.

Two men charged with fighting were discharged by Judge John Marrs, while a speeder who told the court that he had violated the city traffic ordinance because he was in a hurry to reach his home in answer to a sick call he had received, was discharged by the court.

Father and Son Are Caught in Booze Net

Two men who said they were father and son, spent the night in the city jail here Tuesday night following a quiet raid conducted a mile north of Burkburnett late Tuesday afternoon by Prohibition Enforcement Officer Archie Tyler, aided by Tom Shook of the city plain clothes department.

The two officers raided a farm north of Burkburnett, they said yesterday when the two prisoners arrested at that place were turned over to the United States commissioner.

Thirty-seven pints of "chock" beer and 16 gallons of the same drink were found on the farm, all of which the officers destroyed, they reported.

Their two prisoners were yesterday morning formally charged with having intoxicating liquors in their possession.

DOKEYS TO PUT ON INITIATION

75 Will Make Up Big Class Monday

Wichita Falls Dokeys are dusting off their fez and getting ready to entertain in true Wichita style some 75 members of the D. O. K. K. order who'll flock into town Sunday and Monday to take part in the big initiation here Labor Day.

"We're going to have a parade, banquet, a dance and everything that'll help entertain these fellows," Deputy Grand Chancellor J. W. Bradley said last night.

A class from Grandfield, Okla., was put through the preliminary steps of initiation here Sunday night, preparatory to the royal order of final induction on Labor Day.

Other tyros from Burk, Electra, Frederick and other towns throughout this domain will be put through the initiation ceremony and take part in the parade through the streets Monday.

The degree team from Fort Worth accompanied by the drum corps, will be here to conduct the ceremonial.

GOOD CROPS REPORTED IN CALLAHAN COUNTY

Crop conditions in Callahan county are much better than they are in Wichita county, according to I. B. Roberson of Putnam, who, together with his wife and children, is here visiting his brother J. M. (Jim) Roberson.

"Especially are crops good around Putnam," Mr. Roberson said yesterday in speaking of the conditions in his home county. "The cattle there appear to me to be more healthy and more numerous than they are in this section."

"The only trouble we are having in Callahan county at this time," he said, "is a threatened wather shortage." He intimated, however, that a good rain would offset this.

Mr. Roberson is a deputy sheriff in Callahan county, and has been for a number of years, traveling over the county extensively and learning the status of conditions there. The bootleggers, he said, "is about the only only scarcity we have."

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The sharp break in Chicago and Alton bonds, the 3s declining 5 1-2 points and the 3 1-2s featured today's irregular bond market.

The precipitous drop in these two issues was ever greater than the decline in stock prices and was occasioned by unconfirmed reports that the road was to be reorganized. Most of the bonds of the Alton railroad are reported to be held were said to be in conference here today.

Local traction issues, which advanced two points or more on announcement that sufficient Manhattan stock had been deposited to insure the carrying out of the new agreement for the Manhattan lease, thus virtually obviating any possible chance of receivership for the Interborough Rapid Transit company provided the strong spot in the domestic list.

American Telephone & Telegraph convertible 4s were up nearly 3 points in sympathy with the rise in that company's stock, while Cerro de Pasco 8s and Bethlehem steel refunding 5s also made substantial gains.

High grade railroad mortages also showed slight mprovement while some of the speculative lines, like Seaboard consolidated 6s and adjust 5s, Rio Grande refunding 4s and 5s and "Katy" adjustments advanced moderately in response to a better and more widespread demand.

French issues continued to recover from their recent heaviness, gains of a point or more being recorded by the French 7 1-2s, of the Framerican 7 1-2s and the 6 per cent issues of Bordeaux, Lyons, Soissons and Marseilles Mexican 5s advanced 1 1-2 points. Liberty issues were slightly lower. Total par value were $13,100,000.

Two $2,000,000 bond issues were offered during the day. They were an issue of 30 year Pacific coast joint stock land band 5s, which were sold at 103 1-4 and accrued interest, to yield 4 per cent to 1932 and 5 per cent thereafter and an issue of 15-year first mortgage 7 per cent convertible gold bonds, series A, of Martel Mills Inc., which were sold at 95.55 and interest to yield about 7 1-2 per cent.

LITTLE CHANGE IN COTTON MART

Prices Show Small Declines

By Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS Aug. 30.—No very decided treno was shown by cotton today, although prices were at small net declines the greater part of the session. Belief in a low condition reporting goevrnment Friday preprevented aggressive selling but at the same time the complaints of fuel shortage among southern cotton mills seemed to restrict operations on the long side. Some little selling came from liquidating longs and helped to hold the market down. The close was at net losses on the day of 8 to 13 points with October at 22.16. In the early trading there was a drop to levels 9 to 14 points under the close of yesterday as the result of poor cables and complaints from points in both South Carolina and Georgia that many mills were without coal and that some were being forced to burn wood. The decline was checked by weather reports, showing that the drouth still continued over Texas and Oklahoma, and by a private bureau report on condition of 56.7 indicating deterioration for the month of 16.4 points.

NEW YORK COTTON

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Further bullish crop reports and rather a more optimistic view of general conditions led to rallies from an opening decline in the cotton market today. After selling up from 22.62 to 22.85 for December, for about 13 points net higher, however, the market eased off again under realizing, and closed within 3 or 4 points of the lowest with the tone steady at a net decline of 5 to 10 points.

The market opened steady one point lower to five points higher, but the Liverpool cables were slightly disappointing, while there was scattered southern selling, and further realizing or liquidation by old longs. This eased the market off right after the call with October selling down to 22.53 and January to 22.47, but prices rallied later in the morning on the bullish weekly review of the weather bureau and a private crop report making the condition only 56.7. Another private crop report published during the afternoon made the condition 59.6 and the indicated yield 10,990,000 bales.

WHEAT PRICES AVERAGE LOWER

Aggressive Buying Is Lacking

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30—Wheat prices averaged lower today. Sentiment was bearish and there was a lack of aggressive buying. Short covering furnished the bulk of the support. At the finish wheat showed a net loss of 3-4c to 1 1-8c, with September 1.01 to 1.01 1-8 and December 1.01 3-4 to 1.01 7-8; corn was 1-4c higher on a like amount lower; oats were unchanged to 1-4c off and provisions were unchanged to 12½ down. Substantial buying power was lacking in the wheat market, while increased selling was noted on all rallies.

Corn averaged lower with September showing the most weakness because of scattered liquidation.

Country offerings were smaller of new corn but fair of old corn, and complaints of car shortage were few.

Oats followed the trend of other grains.

Provisions were irregular.

Young County Coal Mines Run Full Force

By Associated Press

GRAHAM, Texas, Aug. 30.—The coal mines in the different sections of Young county have begun operating in the last few weeks. At Newcastle, in the center of the county, the Belknap Coal company has opened under the open shop. J. J. Perkins, president of the company, made public a statement at Newcastle that they would never again employ union miners.

Near Eliasville, in the southern portion of the county, the Eliasville Coal company is operating. This company was organized among the union miners at Thurber, and the stockholders are working the mine.

At Loving, north of here, two mines are operating. The Plains Coal company is employing union labor and paying the scale, while the other mine is operating under open shop.

Public Takes Big Interest in Stocks; Prices Start Climbing

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—Active and widespread public participation, apparently induced by marked improvement in the industrial and railroad strike situations, was largely responsible for the continued rise of prices in today's stock market.

Floor traders and professional speculators were inclined to be bearish but the flood of outside buying orders scared many shorts into covering, which accelerated the advance. Nearly two score issues established new peak prices for the year.

Reports of increased car loadings, indications that bituminous coal production was nearing normal and expectation of unprecedented freight traffic this fall resulted in a broad inquiry for the standard rails. Canadian Pacific was especially strong, advancing 2½ points with gains of a point or more being recorded by Atlantic coast line, Chicago and Northwestern, Illinois Central, Louisville and Nashville, New Haven, Reading second preferred and Frisco preefrred. Renewed hopes for an early settlement of the anthracite strike also imported buoyancy to the shares of hard coal carriers, especially Lackawanna and Lehigh valley.

Chicago and Alton issues were under heavy pressure because of disquieting reports concerning impending recognization. The common receded 1 5-8 points and the preferred dropped 3 5-8.

Independent steels also suffered a severe setback upon circulation of reports that the federal trade commission was about to render an unfavorable decision on the two pending independent mergers but later Washington advices indicated that no complaints had been filed against the proposed Midvale, Inland, Republic combination. Republic steel closed with a net loss of 3 1-8 points. Lackawanna was off a point and Midvale 5-8. United States steel closed fractionally higher on a fairly extensive turnover. Sales managers of the steel corporation are now in session here and Wall street expects an announcement of higher prices upon the return to this city next week of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board.

Public utilities issues continued to be active participants in the upward swing of prices. Several high records for the year were made in this group, notably by Detroit Edison, Brooklyn union gas, Columbia gas, American telephone, Pacific gas, Montana power and Mackay company.

Endicott Johnson advanced nearly two points today in expectation of an extra dividend disbursements when the directors meet on Thursday. Postum cereal established a new high price for the year on reports of increased earnings. United States cast iron pipe broke over two points on the announcement of an official of the company that contradicted current reports of substantially improved business conditions.

OATES ADVISES BIG WHEAT CROP

Predicts Big Gains for Farmers Here

Declaring that a big wheat crop planted this fall will replenish the depleted pocket books of the farmers caused by the drouth in northwest Texas which ruined the cotton fields, M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver, said yesterday afternoon in speaking the only consistent crop to plant this fall.

The short cotton crop, he said, has been reduced by dry weather from a $5,000,000 production to a $3,000,000 prduction in northwest Texas. "The result is," Mr. Oates said, "the farmers will be unable to settle their accounts with the banks, and the bankers and merchants in turn will be affected."

Wheat, he said, is the next big staple crop of northwest Texas, and a normal wheat production here next summer will mean a collection of $20,000,000 to the farmers.

"A general planting of wheat," he continued "is also needed to supply feed stuffs and grazing this winter, the feed crops having been already reduced because of a reduced acreage and drouths."

3 CHARGED WITH ARSON

T. A. Dunn, Henry Day and Clyde Swinburn were formally charged with arson yesterday, when they appeared before District Attorney Walter F. Schenck, at the instance of Mayor Calvert of Electra, as a result of the alleged incendiary fires started last Sunday night at Electra during a race riot.

The mayor of Electra, it is understood, has been conducting a silent invesigation into the leadership of the rioting there ever since Sunday night, and it is understood that other charges will follow.

Several places were destroyed by fire during the depredations.

WICHITA PLANT CONSOLIDATES

Oklahoma Branch Is Brought Here

Consolidation of the Oklahoma City factory of the Wichita Motors company with the home plant in Wichita Falls is being rapidly effected, several carloads of materials and equipment having been already received, while the Oklahoma City branch was closed this week. The movement of the remainder of the material will possibly require two or three weeks, according to information received Wednesday from the local office.

Three years ago the Wichita Motors company acquired the property of the Midland Motor company, and used this plant for a branch factory. The slowing up of the demand for motor trucks, and relief of other conditions which made the second plant advisable, has led to the present consolidation. There will be no change in the factory personnel, it was stated Wednesday, by this change.

The Oklahoma City sales department, and several other Oklahoma branches will be continued, it was also stated. Bert Fornicari is the Oklahoma sales branch manager.

Kell to Attend Big Commerce Meeting

The fall directors' meeting of the United States chamber of commerce, which is to be held in Omaha Sept. 29 and 30 is to be one of the most important in the history of the organization, according to Frank Kell of this city who is a director in the organization. Mr. Kell will attend the meeting and take an active part in the proceedings.

The directors of the United States chamber of commerce generally meet in Washington, but are meeting this fall in Omaha in honor of Carl Gray president of the Union Pacific railroad, who has been elected as the railroad member succeeding Howard Elliott, whose term has expired and who found the pressure of private business such as to prohibit his serving again.

Mr. Kell is enthusiastic over the work of the United States chamber of commerce and says it covers a large field of splendid activity. With 1922 being such an eventful year he anticipates that the meeting in September is to be one of the most interesting the directors of the organization have held.

At that time those who can make the trip will be given a general outline of the event which will follow the next day. Before the series of trips is over, the Texas-Oklahoma fair will be on the minds of several thousands of people in Oklahoma and Texas towns for the boosters from this city are going strong on the publicity.

Armed Guards And $50,000 Policy Protects Film to Show at Strand

For the first time in the history of local insurance agencies the film print of a motion picture has been insured during its presence in the city.

This was learned today through the offices of Jack Price, the insurance having been written by H. F. Hanes. Negotiations for the insurance of the film "Monte Cristo," which is being shown here at the Strand theater, starting Monday, Sept. 4, were entered into by the management of the Strand prior to the arrival of the film from Dallas. The film, which is 10 reels in length, has been insured for $50,000; the policy covering every possible angle to prevent harm to it. "Monte Cristo" is a film masterpiece produced by William Fox under the direction of Emmett J. Flynn. It is said to be the most costly production ever produced and to surpass any other film ever produced by Fox.

The decision to insure the film was made owing to the fact that many producers have lost valuable films through theft. Such films, it is said, are often sold on the independent market as originals. One of the novel features of the policy issued on "Monte Cristo" is the condition stipulated that the policy is effective only through the maintenance of an armed guard, day and night, over the film. The film now reposes in the burglar proof vault in the Strand theater with two men guarding it.

VIOLA DANA AT STRAND

If there is anyone who does not enjoy every minute of "They Like 'Em Rough," Viola Dana's new picture which opens today at the Strand theater, it is hard to imagine what sort of movie fare would please him. For this little Metro star has another of those roles in which he has so many times shown that she is a past master of the art of portraying the impulsive, vivacious, fun loving girl—the modern flapper.

MISS ANNA BELL FARQUHAR will open her kindergarten and primary school Monday, September 11, at Floral Heights Baptist church. Phone 5189.—adv.

RIVER PILING WORK RUSHED

Dredge May Begin Work Sept. 5

Work on the closing of the Wichita river with steel sheet piling is progressing so rapidly that the gap is expected to be closed by Thursday night, according to information at irrigation headquarters Wednesday. In the absence of R. A. Thompson, chief engineer of the project, Capt. W. P. McFarland has charge of the work at the damsite and the entire project.

According to the report Wednesday, if the steel piling cuts off enough undercurrent and raises enough water to the surface, the big dredge may start to work Sept. 5, as scheduled. It was thought for awhile that it might be Sept. 15, before the dredge would start work. At this time, however, it is said that indications are the underground flow of water which will be brought to the surface by the sheet piling may be sufficient to raise the required eight feet of water in the river by Sept. 5 and allow the dredge to start work.

OLYMPIC PUTS ON RADIO SHOW

The Olympic theater is presenting a two reel subject today which will be of great interest to the public and radio fans in particular. The film is entitled "Make It Yourself," and shows every step to be taken in the construction of a radio receiving set. The film was prepared by one of the best radio experts in the country and is shown in a simple, detailed way, making it possible for any child or adult to thoroughly understand the making of a set.

The Olympic theater has purchased a large commercial radio receiving set, a De Forrest type, which it will shortly install and will entertain its patrons with nightly concerts. The set is said to be the biggest and most complete in the state and Wichitans are no doubt due to hear many splendid concerts during the coming fall and winter.

We wish to thank our kind friends for their condolence and assistance rendered us in our late bereavement, and for the beautiful florial offerings and especially Rev. Pinkston for his kind words. May God bless you and keep you.

Motorman Mistakes Boy Stealing Ride For Hold-Up Man; Fires at Him

It's dangerous to attempt to steal a ride on a local street car, and this information, given out by the local traction company yesterday, became public knowledge when it was learned that Willie Nettle, a 16-year-old boy was almost the victim of a shot early Tuesday evening, fired at the hands of Motorman Fundenburg.

Chief of Detectives Jack Miller, investigating a reported shooting affray on Ninth street said to have occurred early Tuesday evening, learned yesterday morning that the lone shot had been fired by the street car motorman, who mistook Nettle for a hold-up man, he said, when the latter had pulled the trolley pole off the wire of the Ninth street car.

Nettle, it was learned, was stealing a ride on the rear of the car, and accidentally pulled the trolley off when he jumped off the car. The youth fled into the darkness when this had occurred, but the motorman mistaking him, as he told the officers, for a hold-up man, fired at him as he ran, the bullet passing through the lad's shirt but failing to strike him.

The shot went on through a window pane in the Pohn Warmuth home at 1717 Ninth, and lodged between two pictures on a wall of the house, creating considerable excitement for a few minutes in that neighborhood.

No charges in connection with the affair were filed.

Fair Booths to Be Allotted Friday

Wholesale dealers and manufacturers will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms Friday morning at 10 o'clock to select their space for exhibits at the Texas-Oklahoma fair. George L. McGhee, assistant secretary, said Wednesday that there is every indication that all the allotted space will be taken.

BLACK NOT TO BUILD

Roy Black denies that he appeared before the city council Monday night seeking a permit to construct a grocery story at Fifteenth and Broad streets. Mr. Black says he doesn't know how his name came before the council.
