Snooter Knows

By JAMES E. KELLY

BACK AGAIN ON THE JOB. This time we hope to stay. The GM of The Reporter came to the rescue by voluntarily adding SK's job to his own and writing the material for the column during our absence.

The vacation we took away from our job was anything but a pleasant one. It required six weeks of visiting a doctor for treatment of an ailing right foot, and finally, a period of six days confinement in a hospital recovering from surgery.

This is our first time in our 81 years of life we have ever had anything wrong with us necessitating the services of a doctor or with the exception of one time in our life having ever had to submit to a surgeon's knife for relief of an ailment and spend time in a hospital.

But for fear we will be numbered by the readers as a member of that association who love to discuss fluently their operation, we sign off.

One more thing we wish to add to our confinement in the hospital is something of importance to the operation of the Midland Memorial Hospital, is that which we saw with our own eyes and felt the services rendered on our last day (Saturday), in the hospital. On this day the members of the Women's Auxiliary, an organization of the women of Midland who lend their services to looking after the welfare of the patients, doing nursing duties, and attending to other jobs on all the three floors of the hospital. One of the Auxiliary ladies was assigned to my room to attend to any of my wants, and then to see that I was safely wheeled from my hospital bed to the elevator and down to the exit on the first floor and saw that I was safely loaded in the car to be whisked away home from my duration in ths hospital. These Auxiliary ladies were all over the hospital engaged in duties aiding nurses and rendering other valuable services for the operation of the hospital. All free. They are also engaged in giving social affairs, entertainments, etc., to raise money for the hospital. These ladies are the Florence Nightengales of the Midland Memorial Hospital.

IT CAN BE SAID THE GOOD that the continued hot weather has brought to Stanton. It has removed the loafer from a downtown seat on the pavement curb. The hot rays of the sun has charged the curb with a blistering fire that anything else but comfort it brings to the curb "squatter." It sends the victim racing to the apothycary shop for treatment to soothe the pain of a sunburn on the seat of his pants.

Supporting Your Community

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give you a new slant on business, your business, as well as the matter of building your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is being represented in a town by looking at the paper. That is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising man."

A Worthy Profession

We are indebted to the West Texas Register for this part of an editorial on the nursing profession:

"Nursing is a 'top priority' profession in wartime or peacetime. It is a job that is important to the national welfare.

"Women in white all over America help heal the sick and comfort the dying.

"The nursing profession provides women with a camaraderie, a sense of sisterhood, that few professions can match. Nurses have in common the desire to help their fellowman and to relieve pain and suffering, which desire inspired the 'lady with the lamp,' Florence Nightingale, whose members are still guided by her pledge:

"I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly;

"To pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully.

"I will abstain from whatever is delertious and mischevious, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug.

"I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my profession.

"With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care."

Think It Over

As the hot weather continues with us more is the growing increase in water consumption. The decrease in the water supply is demanding of officials of the towns and cities of West Texas to look around pronto to locate areas where more water may be obtained to add to the deminishing supply in case it was needed.

At Brownsville the city has placed a ban on the use of water in the city for lawn sprinkling or irrigation.

Last week in Lubbock on a speaking tour in behalf of his candidacy for the re-election of Lieutenant Governor of Texas, Ben Ramsey stated if the next Legislature didn't enact a comprehensive water program he would ask the governor to call a special session to deal with the problem.

Ramsey told the South Plains farmers that legislation for conservation of underground water should be recommended by irrigation farmers and others with knowledge of the problem.

The mention of underground water is striking right at the core of the water supply in Martin County. It is from an underground reservoir that the citizens and the utilities of this county obtain their water supply for irrigation purposes, watering livestock, and for household needs. This reservoir of water we are told originated from water seeping down through the earth into the basin over a period of several thousand years. No information otherwise has come than the water taken from this underground basin must be restored through the same channel it was put there in the first place—trickling down through the earth into the reservoir.

The many, many thousands of barrels of water that have been drained from this Martin County underground reservoir by the citizenship alone, coupled with the added hundreds of barrels by the Colorado Municipal Water District to supply Odessa and Big Spring, even through this six year period of drouth, would lead one in his most sober moments of thought, to wonder how long will this underground basin of water supply the demands.

With other towns and cities in the state restricting their water supply, Stanton and Martin County citizens are free to use all the water they need. That is the main reason why every patron of the Martin County underground water supply should delegate himself as one who will set up his own strict conservation rules and abide by them.

Philosopher Ready To Join Soil Bank After Long Study

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Mustang Draw will get about as far with his idea this week as he does with a lot of others he's had.)

Dear editar:

Since Congress was nice enough to provide us farmers with a soil bank, I have been studying every angle I can find to figure out a way to get in on it. It's not going to look right if we sit back and drag our feet.

Therefore, I've been reading everything I can lay my hands on in this connection, and last night I believe I ran on to the idea I've been looking for.

It was a statement by Sec. Benson, who I guess you'd say is president of this bank and is the man to look to. According to him, he is going to be as generous as he can in getting the bank going and will even let a farmer put some land in it this year that's already been planted provided "the crop isn't too far advanced."

Now I haven't got time to take this to the Supreme Court to find out what "too far advanced" means, but if Sec. Benson will place a generous, liberal interpretation on it, he and I can do some business.

For example, I've got some crops not only this year that aren't too far advanced, I've got some from 1955, 1954, 1953, 1952, and 1951 that could be classified in the same category. What I would like to do is put 50 acres of not too far advanced crops in the bank this year and also for the years just mentioned, using the same 50 acres multiplied by payments for six years. After all, this big surplus we've got staring us in the face wasn't created in one year, and a man ought to be entitled to payment not only for not contributing to it this year but for past years too.

A long-range, far-sighted program ought to have the virtue also of looking back as well as forward. Of course, I understand to get land in the bank with a crop that's not too far advanced, you'll have to plow it up, but the payment is not for plowing up, but for dodging a surplus, and what difference does it make to Sec. Benson whether I plow up this 50 acres six times, one for each crop that never got too far advanced since 1951, or just once?

If something can be worked out along this line, let me know. I'm a specialist in producing crops that never get too far advanced.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BIBLE COMMENT

Church Grew From Experience Of New Life

The Christian Church did not arise out of plans of some promotional organizer. There was no advance prospectus or blueprint of a proposed organization. The Church definitely grew out of an experience. It was not a matter of organization awaiting or developing life; it was life leading to organization.

Although Jesus did not formally organize the Church, there was more organization associated with his ministry than is commonly supposed. He gathered about Him the apostles, to whom were committed special privileges and responsibilities, and with whom He communed concerning the deep things of the Kingdom, so that he developed an inner band of disciples — a sort of Christian cabinet — to carry on His work. Also, He organized the "seventy" who went through the villages teaching and preaching, two by two.

The Church, as I have said, had its origin in the experience of the new life. It began as these experiences found expression in the remarkable events on the Day of Pentecost. Here, as the disciples were gathered together in one place, there came a strange outpouring of spiritual power. Peter, who formerly had denied his Lord, preached with great boldness and courage about the reality of the Christian way, and brought home to the hearts and consciences of his hearers the realization of their sins. The result was that many were brought into the Christian way.

In his letter to the Ephesians, Paul sets before us a noble ideal, that of the Church as a body incorporating the spirit of Christ.

The Church is still waiting for the fulfillment of that ideal, and the world itself will never find peace until the unity of love becomes the dominant mark of human society.

County Agent Issues Warning On Pest Control

County Agent Gerald Hanson said this week that meat and milk production can be cut by inspect pests which attack livestock during this time of the year.

The worst insect offenders are hornflies, spinose ear ticks, and stable flies. Unless controlled, they will rob Texas meat and milk producers of several million dollars.

These pests can be controlled by pesticides applied as smears, dips or sprays. Breeding centers should be eliminated where found.

County Agent Hanson pointed out that DDT should be not used for lice, tick or fly control on cows producing milk for human consumption. Neither should this material be used for spraying inside of dairy barns and buildings, he continued. He advises using only recommended insecticides for treating livestock and barns and urges care in mixing and applying the materials.

Hanson has a copy of L-256, Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry for anyone interested in his office.

Mrs. Annie O'Dell has returned from Pecos where she visited two weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller and family were to leave Tuesday afternoon for a trip to South Texas. They were to visit friends and relatives in Houston, Beaumont and Dallas.

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford

. . . dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

Ford's record was timed and certified by the United States Auto Club

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of tough and testing Indianapolis Speedway . . . whirling through the tight turns and flashing over the straight stretches . . . to set a mark that no stock car ever reached before!

Previous to Ford's record run, no other stock car had gone even one lap at Indianapolis at 100 m.p.h., but one of Ford's laps was timed at the electrifying speed of 113.7 m.p.h.! And Ford averaged 107.126 m.p.h. for the full five hundred miles . . . close to the average set by the extremely costly, specially-built racer which won the Memorial Day "500"!

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel this cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

Peter de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have equalled this performance!" And Pete de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Yet, this was no mere race against the stop watch. Ford's alert responsiveness and sheer roadability proved more than a match for the treacherous turns . . . taking them smoothly and giving the great Ford V-8 a chance to use its blazing acceleration in the straightaways.

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it has what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you. so come in and see us soon.

District Manager Answers Queries On Farmers, Ranchers

"How does social security cover farmers, ranchers, farm and ranch hands?"

This question is asked many times every week at social security district offices all over the country. The answer to that question is contained in a booklet available from your Odessa social security office, Jack Calvert, district manager, announced today.

Farmers, ranchers and farm and ranch hands, and their families, should have a copy of this booklet, Calvert said. Since social security is "something new" for most of these people, they need to know more about how social security covers them and gives old-age and death benefit protection for them.

This booklet is free for the asking, Calvert stated.

For the convenience of our readers who would like to have a copy of this booklet, we are publishing the coupon below. This may be clipped out and attached to a post card, or mailed in a letter, to "Social Security Administration, Odessa, Texas."

Big Torque of the Best Sellers

IT WOULD stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

You find that any '56 Buick with advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow delivers a higher torque ratio than any standard-production car in America.*

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from. For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflow, for example, brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The new V8 engine is 322-cubic-inches big, and packed with the highest horsepowers, the highest compressions in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—a new steering magic—a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do is come see for yourself. That way you can also look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Bandage Clings to Itself and to Jayne Mansfield

New York, N. Y.—Broadway star Jayne Mansfield set Toots Shor's restaurant buzzing when she wrapped her celebrated curves in Johnson & Johnson's new KLING conform Bandage to demonstrate how well this self-fitting bandage conforms to all body contours. Jayne helped Johnson & Johnson introduce the new roller gauze bandage at a "Do-It-Yourself Bandaging Party" for the press. More than 100 editors bandaged each other with KLING and noted that the new gauze clings to itself and stretches up to 40%, permitting complete freedom of movement for bandaged elbows, knees, ankles and other joints.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Next month, for the first time in 24 years, Texans will be asked to vote—not only on men—but directly on issues.

State Democratic Executive Committee members have approved the placing of three questions on the primary ballot. Voters can express their desires for or against.

1. Legislation exempting a child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools.

2. Legislation "perfecting" laws against intermarriage of negroes and whites, and;

3. Use of interposition to halt federal encroachment on states rights.

Majority approval presumably would constitute a mandate for action by the next legislature.

Historically, such voter referendums seldom have been used. And not too successfully. Present procedures, still substantially unchanged, were set up with the passage of the Terrell Election Laws of 1907.

In the nearly 50 years since then, referendums were held only three times. And failed to pass twice. In 1908 a prohibition proposal was voted down more than two to one. In 1919 the people rejected three to one a proposal to call a constitutional convention.

But, in 1932 Texans voted overwhelmingly in favor of repealing the federal prohibition amendment. A year later the legislature followed suit and ratified the repeal amendment.

This was the last referendum submitted until this year.

In other action the State Executive Committee certified a list of 31 candidates for statewide office. It ignored a charge by Reuben Senterfitt that Price Daniel's name was ineligible to appear on the ballot because he had not resigned his U. S. Senate post.

Fort Worth was selected by the committee as the site for the September 11 state convention. Principal business at that time will be naming new party officers and deciding on a general election platform for the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

GOP Chooses Corpus — Texas Republicans will hold their August 28 state convention in Corpus Christi. GOP nominees for state office, presidential electors, a new state chairman and a general platform will be decided upon at that time.

Selection of the convention site was made at the party's state executive committee meeting in Austin.

Committee members sent Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower a telegram asserting their confidence that he will carry Texas and be re-elected in November.

Redistricting Urged — Demands that Texas congressional districts be realigned were heard at both political party meetings.

Texas was allotted an additional congressman after the 1950 census. Since the legislature has rejected redistricting bills for the past two sessions, the extra man is elected by the entire state.

Bill Elkins, candidate for congressman-at-large, told the Democratic executive committee the main plank in his platform is to have the office he seeks abolished.

Republican National Committeeman Jack Porter said the GOP legal committee might seek federal court action to force the legislature to redistrict.

"It's not fair to have the same representation from districts of 100,000 as you do from areas with more than a million," Porter charged.

Pearson Blamed Again — In a report made public by the Insurance Commission, TVman Drew Pearson received the brunt of the blame for luring Texans into investing money in the now defunct US Trust & Guaranty Co. The report was based on answers to questionnaires sent draft purchasers by the state liquidator's office.

Questionnaires were answered by 3,608 purchasers. They represented investments of $4,711,132. Nearly half of them charged Pearson with influencing them into buying. This because of his personal, oft-repeated statement that "You can put your trust in U. S. Trust."

Because Pearson personally recommended the purchase, the TV broadcaster several months ago pledged to refund all "profits" made on his commercial. As of this writing the Insurance Commission's records do not reveal any such repayments by Pearson.

Civil Immunity Denied Officials — Public officials are not immune from civil liability for acts in connection with their duties. An Austin district judge so ruled in a case involving two former employees of the Insurance Commission.

Examiners Larry W. Blanchard and Robert R. Butler are among more than 50 defendants in a $6,390,000 damage suit. It was filed by the state liquidator against those allegedly responsible for the 1954 collapse of the big General American Casualty Co. of San Antonio.

Parr Trial Delay Expected — Another six months delay seems likely before the trial of George B. Parr on income tax evasion charges takes place. Parr's plea to have the trial in Laredo, rather than Austin, was rejected by the U. S. Supreme Court. U. S. Attorneys promptly asked Judge Ben H. Rice of Austin for an early setting, preferably in July. But Parr's attorneys said they will file for a rehearing before the Supreme Court. Such action could keep the case from coming up until January of 1957.

Parr was first indicted in 1954. He is charged with filing false returns in 1949, 1950 and 1951 and failing to pay the government $86,000.

Birth Certificate Bottleneck — State Health officials are urging parents of children who will enter school for the first time next fall to avoid the "birth certificate bottleneck." In past years thousands of requests have swamped the department in September. An estimated 260,000 children will be eligible to enter first grade this year.

Short Snorts — Soaring heat and lack of rain in withering Texas crops and pastures in all areas except the high plains, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The high plains still are green after three consecutive weeks of showers . . . . May was one of the best contract award months in Texas construction history. The $168,102,823 contracted in May brings the 1956 total to $572,000,000. That is better than the record year of 1953 . . . . Eleven South Texas counties have been quarantined against shipments of citrus fruits from Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana and Alabama. Purpose of the State Agriculture Department's ban is to prevent a possible infestation of the Mediterranean fruit fly into Texas groves.

THEY JUST MARCH AWAY—Resplendent in tri-corner hats and medal-bedecked uniforms, Chelsea Pensioners march with a smartness belying their average age of 77. The event was the annual Founder's Day parade at the Royal Hospital in London, England. Each Pensioner wears an oak leaf for the celebration traditionally held on the birthday of Charles II, founder of the old soldiers' hospital.

Choice Of Three Stones Given For Birthday In June

June is the month of the pearl, the alexandrite and the moonstone—all signifying health and longevity.

The pearl has been described as one of the most exquisite of gems. Long before they realized what it was, the ancients were enchanted by its delicate beauty and subtle sheen.

Though pearls have been found in all colors of the rainbow, the Jewelry Industry Council reports that the most sought-after are those with a creamy roseate tint. All colors, however, have been highly prized from the earliest times.

The pearl is important in Oriental legend as a symbol of health, energy, beauty and thought. It was a favorite symbol of Diana, the protectress of young girls.

The alexandrite, found only in Ceylon and the Urals, has the remarkable property of living two lives in color—a splendid green by day, an amethystine red by candlelight. The depth and strength of the alexandrite's colors make it an exceptionally attractive ring stone for men.

The moonstone, a gem showing a moving, billowy cloud of light, was once regarded as a love charm during the waxing of the moon, and during the moon's waning as a talisman that enabled its wearer to foretell the future.

Usually cut cabochon, or dome-shaped, it is a favorite ring stone, both as an individual gem and in combination with other gems. Moonstones are found in Ceylon and Burma.

CLASSY GAS SAVER—World motorcycle racing champion H. P. Mueller holds up a measure with a little more than a quart of gasoline—the amount he needs for each test run of the new, streamlined German NSU racer. That small amount of fuel took the vehicle 100 kilometers (about 60 miles) at a speed of 100 kilometers per hour in an initial test. Top speed by Mueller in his "racing chair" was about 90 miles per hour. During the special run, Mueller was lying almost flat on his back in the machine.

CROP Buys Peanuts For Korean Relief

The Southwestern Spanish Peanut is going into relief work.

Texas CROP Headquarters in Austin have announced that 50,000 pounds of shelled peanuts have been purchased from the Commodity Stabilization Service, USDA, for export to Korea.

The 25 tons of peanuts are now being shelled in Fredericksburg, Texas, and will be transported by truck to Houston. The peanuts are scheduled to sail for Korea on June 20 from Houston aboard the S. S. ALMERIA. They will be distributed on a person-to-person basis through various Korean church agencies.

John Gillies, Texas CROP Director, points out that the first purchase of Southwestern Spanish Peanuts represents a desire on the part of his agency to export as many peanuts as possible, particularly in view of their high nutritive value.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) plans to canvass for peanuts later this year in several Texas and Oklahoma counties in order to replace funds used to purchase the current 25-ton shipment and to make available additional peanuts for future export.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shipp and children, Dolores and Wayne, spent Sunday in Sweetwater visiting with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crittenden.

Texas Bankers To Aid 4-H Foundation

Four-4 Club work throughout the nation will benefit from a special fund now being raised by Texas bankers. These longtime friends and supporters of 4-H under the leadership of Art P. Bralley, vice president of Amarillo's American National Bank have joined in a national fund raising effort in behalf of the National 4-H Club Foundation.

Bralley is state chairman and J. W. Tapp, Chairman of the Board of the Bank of America, is the national chairman for the program.

The state chairman has told Texas bankers that the National 4-H Club Foundation is a non-profit, educational organization which not only helps improve and expand 4-H club work in the United States but also provides an opportunity for our young people to promote world understanding and peace.

Currently, Bralley said the Foundation is supporting the International Farm Youth Exchange program which exchanges rural youth between the U. S. and other countries; is engaged in establishing and operating the National 4-H Club Center; conducting a citizenship improvement study in which Texas is participating as a pilot state and sponsoring a workshop program in human relations training for youth leaders. Bralley said 10 Texas 4-H leaders have attended one of the workshop sessions.

The Amarillo banker said that many banks are supporting 4-H club work on the local level but urged all banks to give consideration to the support of the National 4-H Club Foundation.

HANDLING EASE? You don't know what it really means until you...

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

Think all power steering is the same? It's not. There's far less effort with Dodge Power Steering because it works full time—not just part time.

Dodge Power Brakes are different, too! Dodge engineering provides two control cylinders in each front wheel for positive, predictable stops.

Push-button driving makes all others old fashioned! It's that easy, that sure, that safe! A mere touch of your finger selects the driving range you want. And it's mechanically perfect, too! Women will love its ease and simplicity.

Even the shock absorbers are different in design! Only Oriflow shock absorbers adjust so completely to all types of roads. They're activated by a flow of fluid—give a smoother ride.

Mary Beth Ory Becomes Bride Of Burley Ray Polk Friday

Mary Beth Ory and Burley Ray Polk were married at 8 p.m. Friday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ory.

Rev. Wallace Kirby, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read the double ring ceremony before a picture window flanked by baskets of white gladioli and white tapers in candelabra.

Jan Nichols lighted candles and also sang "Walk Hand In Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. James Jones.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of white Chantilly-type lace over taffeta. It was fashioned with a long torso, a full gathered skirt and featured a low round neckline and short sleeves.

Her shoulder length veil of tulle was attached to a white Chantilly lace tiara trimmed with iridescent sequins. She wore a cameo ring belonging to her mother's mother as something old. She carried a bouquet of Dendrovian orchids on a white Bible.

Janelle Jones was maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of lime green embroidered organdy. It was designed with a full gathered skirt, a low round neckline and short puffed sleeves. It was trimmed with a green velvet ribbon at the top of the high waist line. She wore a white flower hat and carried a bouquet of salmon pink gladioli.

Jimmy Henson served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the home. Mrs. Jimmy Henson, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Reggie Myrick served pink punch and the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bridal couple.

A white net floor-length cloth covered the bride's table. Pink ribbon draped and tied in bows decorated the sides of the cloth. Miss Jones' bouquet of salmon pink gladioli was placed on the table. White candles flanked the bouquet. Crystal and silver appointed the table which was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of pink and silver.

Mrs. Henson was at the register. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Dean of Wingate, Mr. and Mrs. Truman E. Bodine of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Griffith of Big Spring and Johnny Jones of Sundown.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a pink disciplined cotton dress trimmed in white lace. She wore white accessories.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Polk of Stanton. He is a graduate of Stanton High School and is attending Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. The bride attended Stanton High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Polk will be at home in Stanton until September. They will then make their home in Abilene where he will attend school.

Mrs. G. B. Pollock of Lorenzo is visiting her children, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey White, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Henson and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pollock.

Plentiful Foods Announced For July Consumption

COLLEGE STATION—Feature foods for the month of July are listed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as broilers, and ice cream. Production of both is expected to reach record highs during the month.

The total list includes more than a dozen foods. Cantaloups and watermelons are expected to dominate the fresh produce markets along with fresh summer vegetables. Movement from the areas of heavy production is stepping up and supplies increasing, say the marketing experts.

Fresh and processed lemons and limes are the only fruits listed on the July plentiful list.

Milk production is still running far ahead of last year and all dairy products are just about as abundant this month as last.

Turkeys, canned cranberry sauce, peanut butter, canned tuna in oil and pinto beans round out the list for the Southwestern area.

For the family picnics and weekend outings, you can't beat a menu made up of foods which are now in heavy supply—fried or barbecued chicken, fresh vegetables, iced watermelon or cantaloupes plus dairy products.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Tunnell had their children as guests Fathers' Day. They were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Myers of Knott and Jay Tunnell of Midland.

ROSS CARLTON

Ross Carlton To Open Campaign In Big Spring Friday

Ross Carlton of Dallas, candidate for Attorney General of Texas, formally opens his campaign Friday night at 8 o'clock on the courthouse square at Big Spring.

The candidate said he chose Big Spring for his opening because it was there, on August 15, 1955, that he launched the first legal effort to prevent integration in Texas public schools.

His speech will be broadcast but not televised.

Carlton, a native of Dallas, attended public schools in Dallas and was graduated from the University of Texas law school in 1934. Since then, he has been engaged in the general civil practice of law, except for two periods of service in the state government.

These were with the Department of Public Safety, in 1935, and in the office of Attorney General, where he served as assistant to Gerald C. Mann from 1939 until 1942.

Carlton resigned as president of the Texas Citizens Council, and as chairman of the executive committee of the Associated Citizens Councils of Texas, to make the campaign for Attorney General.

He has campaigned from the first on a pledge to maintain segregation in Texas, and has held luncheon gatherings and other groups that he is opposed to integration "on a gradual or any other basis."

He recently expressed his gratitude that the State Democratic Executive Committee had, in effect, made his platform a part of the official ballot for July 28. The Committee did this by placing on the ballot a referendum on the questions of stronger laws against intermarriage, laws against forced integration of white and negro school students, and the issue of interposition, which means interposing state law to prevent Federal encroachment.

Carlton describes himself as an uncompromising battler for states' rights, and against integration. He has promised to use every legal means at his disposal, as Attorney General, to prevent integration, and any further Federal encroachment on the rights of Texas.

Highway Accidents Mount With Increase In Summertime Travel

Take safety with you and enjoy your vacation.

Toss caution to the winds and there may never be another vacation trip, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. For they point out as motor travel booms, traffic accidents, especially in rural areas, also zoom upward.

The Council offers a few suggestions for cutting the summer accident toll. Give the car a thorough check-up before starting on the trip and watch for signs of trouble along the way. Don't block vision by improperly loading the car for good vision is a must for safe driving.

Be prepared for emergencies. A first aid kit, maps, permits if needed, identification, a flashlight, a tool kit and maybe a few spare parts should be carried along.

Much of the responsibility for a safe trip rests with the driver. Fatigue greatly reduces his efficiency. Plan the trip, urges the Council, to allow for rest stops during the day and a good night's sleep each night. Don't, they caution, try to drive and take in the sights at the same time.

Know the laws of the states in which you expect to travel for ignorance of the law is only an excuse. Use traffic signs as a guide for safe driving. They are for your protection.

Traffic will be a problem during the vacation season in all parts of the country. Don't get in a hurry nor drive faster than conditions justify, warns the experts. Be adaptable and fit your driving to the peculiarities and conditions that exist in the areas where you drive. Respect the rights of others and remember, if safety rides with you, you and your family can look forward to next year's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Wilson and children of Seminole visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cook.

Gloria and Rhonda Reid, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Juil Reid, will visit the last of the week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reid in Big Spring.

Visiting in the J. J. Cook home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McDonald and children of Florey.
