NATURAL DOCK FOR ICEBREAKER

The Coast Guard icebreaker Eastwind rests in a natural dock of ice in Baffin Bay while crew members attempt to satisfy an urge to build an Eskimo igloo out of blocks of ice. The Eastwind waited in the ice while dog teams carried members of a hydrographic mission to the ice-bound Baffin Island in the Canadian Northwest Territories last summer. The Eastwind was blocked by ice too heavy for it to break through 25 miles from the Baffin Island shoreline.

Bail Bonding Co. Goes After Bond Jumper

COLUMBUS, O., (AP)—The strange story of the shanghaiing of an Alabama Negro at pistol point from Detroit and his lodging in an Ohio jail was disclosed last night as Michigan state police attempted to prevent the man's return to the South.

Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams telegraphed Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche imploring his aid. But the telegram reached Dausche after Gerdis Hill, 21, an auto plant worker, was released from the Toledo jail in the custody of the man who transported him there.

Toledo Police Chief Ray E. Allen said a man who identified himself as Birmingham Deputy H. Batson had placed Hill in the jail. Batson had explained they were "in transit." He produced an Alabama warrant charging Hill with bond jumping.

Hill told the police he was accosted on a Detroit street at pistol point, handcuffed and shanghaied across the state line.

At Birmingham Chief Deputy Wilton E. Hogan said Batson was not a deputy sheriff. A Birmingham bonding company said one of its employes, H. Brady Batson Jr., had gone to Detroit to pick up a bond jumper.

The Negro reportedly had jumped a $300 bond after he was arrested for driving without a license.

Michigan had not authorized Hill's extradition and sought his return to the state. Ohio highway patrol said the men had ample time to get out of the state.

Truman's Budget Said To Be Over $73 Billion

Not As High As Previous Estimates

WASHINGTON (AP) — An informed administration source said today President Truman will call upon the new Congress to vote about 73½ billion dollars in new appropriations next year.

He predicted government expenditures of "somewhat under" 80 billion dollars — subject of course, to changes by the incoming Eisenhower administration.

Spending in the present fiscal year, the source said, will probably fall between four and five billion dollars below the latest official estimate, due to lags in defense expenditures, but tax collections will be about what was previously estimated.

That would mean a five to six billion dollar budget deficit at the end of next June in place of the present official estimate of $10,300,000,000.

On a cash income and outgo basis, the deficit, according to this information, from a man who asked that he not be named, would be from two to three billion dollars instead of the present estimate of nearly seven billions cash deficit. Actual government spending always varies from the amounts voted by Congress because of delivery time lags.

The present fiscal year—fiscal 1953—ends next June 30; fiscal 1954 begins July 1, and ends June 30, 1954.

President-elect Eisenhower can make any changes he wishes in the budget program which the law requires Truman to lay before Congress only a fortnight before he leaves office.

Congress can also make changes.

The Truman administration source said defense spending this fiscal year will not exceed 47 to 48 billion dollars, instead of the presently estimated 51 billions and that total government outgo will be around 75 billions, instead of 79 billions.

Truman will call for foreign aid and atomic energy expenditures of one to two billions above this year's figures, according to this information.

Mother Who Had Son, Died Given Praise

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (AP) — Doctors today praised the courage of Mrs. Mary Decelle, 32, who didn't let the knowledge of sure death spoil the birth of her fifth child or the family's Christmas observance.

Mrs. Decelle gave birth to an apparently healthy 5 pound 7 ounce boy last Saturday, then died of cancer less than 24 hours later.

The brave mother had pleaded with doctors to be permitted to leave Kerbs Memorial Hospital so she could spend the holiday with her family at home.

Doctors let her go home about 10 days before Christmas and on Dec. 26 she kept her promise and returned to the hospital to face the death she, her husband and her parents knew was inevitable.

Dr. Walter Rath said last night, "Mrs. Decelle was one of the most courageous women I've ever met in my life. She held the child long enough for us to take it and then she died."

Dr. Rath said permitting Mrs. Decelle to leave the hospital so she could be home for Christmas was "a big chance" because surgeons knew she was then living only from day to day.

Texans Being Knocked Off At Rate Better Than One An Hour

By The Associated Press

Texas' violent death toll for the Christmas-New Year's holiday period continued to mount Tuesday at better than one fatality an hour.

At 6 a. m. the toll stood at 115. At noon it had increased to 125.

Of this number, motor vehicles accounted for 70 deaths.

The latest traffic victims were Mrs. Pearl Smith, about 50, struck down in front of her home near Pittsburgh; Johnny Delton Burgay, 28, killed in an auto-trunk collision at La Porte; William Kerr, 71, struck by a car in Dallas; Joseph Dowell Carrico, 52, Denton, struck down near Monahans after his car had stalled on the highway.

Other types of mishaps accounted for 24 deaths. Homicides and suicides numbered 30.

The State Department of Public Safety, before the holidays started, had predicted a total of 202 violent deaths in Texas with 105 by traffic. There were three days left to match the prediction...or exceed it.

Joint funeral services were set in Houston today for two persons killed in an auto-train crash near Ragley, La.—Mr. and Mrs. Huey P. Francis. Their deaths were not counted in the Texas total because the accident happened outside the state.

In Abilene, Tex., a New Jersey government inspector — Stanley Blender, 58—was charged with aggravated assault with a motor vehicle after a Sunday collision that killed three persons.

Blenden's was the first of five cars that figured in a collision with a loaded oil truck on a bridge 11 miles north of Abilene. The three women killed were Mrs. Mack Merchant, and Mary Muse, Abilene; and Mrs. Single Weisman, Oklahoma City.

Rotation Of Korea Troops Slowed Some

TOKYO (AP) — Behind-the-lines troops in Korea will need two additional points for rotation home after Jan.1.

Gen. Mark W. Clark's headquarters today gave lack of replacements from the U. S. as the reason.

There was no change in the rotation requirment of nine months service — 36 points—for soldiers at the front. Rear area troops will need 40 instead of 38 points.

Troops at the front get four rotation points a month. Those near the front get three and soldiers far to the rear get two.

Soldiers in Japan whose families are with them get one point monthly. Others get 1½.

Clark, Far Eastern commander, and Washington have disagreed in recent months on the problem of adequate replacements. Pentagon pressure forced Clark on Oct. 22. to withdraw an order increasing the battle-line rotation requirement from 36 to 38 points.

There was no comment on Clark's latest order from the Defense Department or the Army.

Saturday the Army's February draft call was upped to 53,000 men —the highest quota since early in the Korean War.

By The Associated Press

Most of Texas was dampened by overnight showers but a low pressure area moving eastward from the Gulf was expected to clear the skies during the day.

Syrian Army Officers Are Without Jobs

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Seven high-ranking Army officers have been retired and 18 others dismissed by decrees signed by Gen. Gawzi Selo, Syria's Premier and chief of state. The decree, announced yesterday, gave no reasons for the move.

(In Cairo, Egypt, the newspaper Al Ahram, said yesterday that 42 Syrian Army officers and civilians had been arrested in connection with a plot to overthrow Col. Adib Shishekly, chief of staff and "strong man" behind the Selo regime.)

Mystery Woman Brought Into Death Of Sweetwater Rancher

A mystery woman became the latest in a chain of events surrounding the death of Ollie William (Billy) Cox in his Double Heart Ranch plane near Sweetwater, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported this morning.

The death, called a suicide until yesterday, was ruled as accidental by Justice of the Peace M. C. Manroe after Cox's father, Marathon Rancher Ollie Cox, Sr., denied reports that his son killed himself by deliberately crashing his plane into the ground four miles southwest of Sweetwater.

The "Brown-haired, attractive mystery woman" was reported as turning up at the Sweetwater Municipal Airport shortly after Cox took off on his flight at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Airport manager Otto Beinhauer said the woman appeared at the airport in an "excited state" about 7 o'clock that morning.

"She asked me what Cox was doing up in the air," Beinhauer told the Star - Telegram. "While she was hanging around she also came over to the Pioneer Airlines ticket counter and seemed to be trying to listen in on what Cox was saying over the radio."

The Sweetwater airport does not have two-way radio in its control tower, but Pioneer does have a radio with which it contacts incoming flights.

Beinhauer added that after the woman left the airport she called him "four or five times to ask what Cox was doing. When I asked who she was, she wouldn't tell me," he continued.

Beinhauer said the last time she called him was shortly after Cox plunged to his death at 9:50 o'clock that morning.

"When I told her, she broke down crying," Beinhauer said. He added that he knew Cox's wife "real well" and that the woman was not Mrs. Cox.

The elder Cox told the Star Telegram that his son was "just teasing those boys," when he said he planned to crash his plane. He was referring to the younger Cox's conversation by radio with Earl Critz and L. M. Hubbard of Sweetwater, close friends of Cox who had been at the Abilene Airport control tower attempting to talk Cox into landing his plane and not crashing into the gravel pit.

"If I come down, I'll lose my wife—lose all my friends— I'll lose everything," Cox told his friends on the radio.

J. F. Buckman, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator' said the wreckage indicated the plane hit the ground with about twice the force of normal landing speed, but Peace Justice Manroe said one of is reasons for reaching the verdict of accidental death was that "there was no hole where the plane's nose hit the bank of the gravel pit.

The JP added "How do we know he didn't change his mind 10 seconds before he hit the ground?" and "How do we know he didn't black out before he hit the ground?"

Spies Got On Training Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Paul W. Tibbets, pilot of the plane which dropped the first atomic bomb on Japan, said today foreign agents penetrated the secret B29 base in Utah where the first A-bomb crew was trained.

Tibbets said agents of two foreign countries were arrested within the closely guarded airbase at Wendover, Utah, at a time when only a handful of scientists and high military men knew about the bomb.

He did not name the countries nor say whether the agents had had an opportunity to learn any secrets. He said he did not know what became of the agents, that the Manhattan District took charge of them. The Manhatten District was the Army code name for the A-bomb development project.

There was no immediate opportunity to ask him about these details, and no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

Tibbets made the statement while chatting informally early today with Air Force officials and others following a private showing of a new motion picture based in large part on his experiences.

Among those in the small group with which he talked was secretary of the Air Force Finletter, who showed signs of incredulity. Finletter asked how it could have been possible for spies to get into one of the most carefully guarded spots in the United States.

Fast Work To Cut Filibuster

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) conceded today he and fellow civil rights backers must win fast, if they are to win at all, in a fight to muzzle filibusters against such legislation.

Douglas is a leader of a group of senators planning a new move to change the Senate rules under which Southern Democrats have talked to death civil rights bills. They include anti-lynching and anti-poll tax measures and a proposed ban against racial discrimination in employment.

Douglas and other civil rights backers planned to meet this afternoon to appraise their chances of winning, with none of them talking very hopefully.

Douglas told reporters he is backing a plan to pull the rug from under filibuster enthusiasts by a swift rules change when the Senate goes back to work Jan. 3.

He declined to appraise the group's chances to win such a move, but said he believes the issue will have to be settled in a matter of not more than several days. "We can't wear down a filibuster," he said.

UN Fighters Win Back Hills

SEOUL (AP) — Counterattacking Allied troops today regained frozen outposts near Chorwon on the Western Front. The posts were captured by a reinforced Chinese Communist company last night.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said about 30 Communists were killed and 100 wounded in the vicious Red attack by about 225 men. Allied defenders withdrew after an hour of fighting but stormed back with reinforcements to reoccupy the positions.

Allied air activity was hampered by heavy clouds over most of North Korea. Marine and Air Force planes hit Communist positions near the West and West-Central Fronts, but results were unobserved.

Snow, rain and sleet fell along the fringe today. Temperatures ranged from 6 to 13 degrees above zero.

The Reds hurled five minor attacks on the Kumhwa Ridge area of the Central Front last night but the remainder of the 155-mile battlefront was relatively quiet.

Allied troops beat back about 40 Chinese who attacked Pinpoint, key height on Sniper Ridge near Kumhwa, in a 10-minute battle late yesterday.

The Communists hurled other light attacks on the south slope of Jane Russell Knob of Triangle Hill and on Rocky Point, jutting east of Sniper Ridge. Allies repulsed both jabs.

Safety Council Says 410 Will Die Over New Year's Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council today estimated that 410 Americans will die in traffic accidents during the four-day New Year holiday period.

The organization last week estimated that 590 would be killed in motor vehicle accidents in the four-day Christmas week end. The total in an Associated Press survey was 556, an all-time record. The prevous record was 555 in the four-day Christmas holiday of 1936.

Accidental deaths in this year's Christmas holiday were 744 as compared to last year's record 789. Included were 82 persons killed in fires and 106 others who lost their lives in various types of accidents.

May Call Acheson To Tell Of Interference In Red Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee today pushed its search for government interference with a Red-hunting grand jury in New York amid indications it might question Secretary of State Acheson.

The secretary's name figured yesterday as members of the jury testified that efforts were made to block their recommendation for a continuation of the hunt for Communists on the United Nations staff.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) told reporters Acheson may be summoned tomorrow. The State Department has categorically denied attempting to interfere with the grand jury.

Meanwhile, four Justice Department officials — Roy Cohn, Myles Lane, Charles Murray and William Foley—were called to give their version of the case.

The committee, which has been investigating the Justice Department for almost a year, yesterday heard from five jurors: Joseph P. Kelly, Joseph A. Cahli, Charles J. Harsany, Corinne L. Geist and Max M. Zimmerman.

They told about calling approximately 100 U. S. citizens employed by the U. N. and questioning them about their loyalty or Communist affiliations.

About half of the witnesses refused to answer their questions. The jurors reported, claiming the guarantee of the Fifth Amendment which says no one has to testify against himself in a criminal case.

The jury failed to indict anyone, the committee was told, but the jurors became "indignant" and, they testified, voted unanimously to report the conditions they found "so the U. S. public would be startled out of its lethargy."

The presentment filed by the jury said "an overwhelmingly large group of disloyal U. S. citizens" had infiltrated the U. N. staff. Since then, 18 have been fired as security risks.

Kelly, the jury foreman, said that Cohn, a special assistant U. S. attorney, and Lane, the regular U. S. attorney, co-operated with the jury's probe. But on Dec. 2, when the jury was preparing to make its report to the court, Kelly testified, an effort was made to block it. He said he was told Atty. Gen. McGranery sought a delay. There was no comment from McGranery.

Truman Raps Oil Companies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—President Truman agrees with the Federal Trade Commission chairman that an "organized campaign of misrepresentation" is being waged against a commission staff report on alleged oil cartels.

This campaign, the president said yesterday in a letter to Commissioner Stephen J. Springarn, "is a good illustration of attempted coercion and intimidation." Truman added that "it does not contribute to the nation's security for propaganda of that kind to be spread all over the world in an effort to discredit the government of the United States."

Draft Dodger Fighting Deportation Order

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 P—Serge M. Rubinstein, Russian-born financier and convicted draft-dodger, today asked the U. S. district court to prevent his deportation.

His attorney filed a suit seeking an order barring Atty.-Gen. McGranery from taking Rubenstein in custody or deporting him.

McGranery yesterday ordered Rubenstein taken into custody by 3 p. m. (CST) today for deportation.

Rubenstein, 44, has been fighting deportation for nearly 10 years.

Parr-backed Judge Indicted On Two Counts By Grand Jury

ALICE, Dec. 30 (AP) — Woodrow Laughlin, the county judge who beat 79th Dist. Judge Sam Reams for the latter's office, was under indictment here today on charges of swindling and being financially interested in county contracts.

Laughlin, with the backing of South Texas political kingpin George Parr, defeated Reams in the Democratic Primary and then stood off a write-in campaign for Reams in the Nov. 4 general election.

Yesterday the Jim Wells County grand jury returned two indictments against Laughlin, one charging he misrepresented his law library when he sold it to the county for $2,185.70, the other that he was financially and illegally interested in county contracts.

The indictments were returned to Dist. Judge Paul Martineau of Corpus Christi, sitting on the bench here in the absence of Judge Reams. Bonds of $1,500 each were set on each of the two indictments.

TURBULENT REGION

The 79th Judicial District covers the politically turbulent area of Duval, Jim Wells, Starr and Brooks Counties. The Parr family has dominated politics in the area since 1911.

What was at first thought to be a serious challenge to the Parr regime developed this year after Reams in public statements called for an end to "one-man political rule." The Freedom Party was formed and the group waged intensive campaigns against Parr-backed candidates.

The campaigns became unusually bitter in September after Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd Jr., son of an arch political foe of Parr, was shot and killed from ambush.

RENDEZVOUS REVEALED

The elder Floyd testified at examining trials for Nago Alaniz and Mario (El Turko) Sapet that he was meeting with Alaniz at the time his son was shot to death.

Alaniz told him, Floyd said, that he had been marked for death because it was feared he would lead a write-in campaign in an effort to defeat the Parr-backed Laughlin.

Reams, too, was marked for death, Floyd said, and the shooting of the younger Floyd was a mistake. The bullets, he testified, actually were meant for him.

Alaniz, law partner of Raeburn Norris, Parr - backed district attorney-elect, and Sapet, a tavern owner, both were ndicted for murder in the Floyd killing. Whereabouts of Alaniz, free on bond after months in jail, is unknown. Sapet recently was moved to Brown County Jail at Brownwood where he is held awaiting trial set for early in February.

RANGERS REQUESTED

Texas Rangers were sent to some parts of the 79th Judicial District during elections after both sides in the policical fight requested them.

Election results were ordered impounded after both sides charged irregularities in the voting. It was Laughlin who charged the irregularities in Jim Wells County.

An official of the Humble Oil & Refining Company yesterday said Judge Reams would join the staff of the firm's legal department.

Ike Working Out Program For Legislation With Sen. Taft

NEW YORK (AP) —President-elect Eisenhower hopes to round out a preliminary draft of his legislative program at a conference today with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate Republican leaders.

The senators are those who will have a key role in how far the general's legislative program gets in Congress. Besides Taft, slated to be Senate majority leader, those scheduled to sit in at today's conference include:

Senators Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, prospective president pro tempore of the Senate—its presiding officer in the absence of the vice president; Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Conference of All GOP Senators; and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Milton R. Young, members of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Eisenhower discussed on Dec 18 with House Republican leaders the new administration's legislative program which the general will outline to Congress shortly after his inauguration Jan. 20.

Aides said much preliminary work already has been done on the program and that Eisenhower hopes the first stages can be completed at today's meeting. Additional conferences with congressional leaders are planned for study of the final draft.

Eisenhower announced yesterday that after his inauguration he will appoint Robert Cutler, president and director of the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston, as an administrative assistant to the president.

Cutler, 57 and a Republican, served as an adviser to Eisenhower during the election campaign.

As an administrative assistant, he will deal especially with the National Security Council, co-ordinating its work with that of other agencies and departments.

Eisenhower discussed international economic problems at a luncheon meeting yesterday with Paul G. Hoffman, former chief of the Marshall Plan foreign aid program and now director of the Ford Foundation; Milton Katz, former U. S. special representative in Europe and now associate director of the Ford Foundation, and John. J. McCloy, former U. S. High commissioner to Germany. Cutler also attended.

Chickens Found To Have Set Signals For Communication

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chickens talk, in a cluck-and-squawk code of remarkable meanings, two scientists reported today.

They can say, "Hawk coming," or in a different sound, "Dog or danger around." The baby chick says an equivalent of, "Hey, mom, I'm lost," and the hen can say, "Come here," or "Dinner's ready."

The study of chicken language even suggests a scientific method of chicken stealing—of which more in a moment.

The sound signals of chickens were analyzed by Dr. Nicholas Collias, zoologist now at Cornell University, and Prof. Martin Joos of the University of Wisconsin, in research at Wisconsin.

The chicken "talk" was recorded by an electronic machine, the spectrograph, which translate sounds into wavy lines on paper. The lines give an objective record of the frequencies and intensity.

Prof. Joos made the recordings and Dr. Collias made the interpretations, described today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Wavy lines show when a chick is chirping in pleasure, or in distress at being alone, hungry, cold or thirsty or hurt. The frequency or timing of the chirps is different.

The brood hen clucks as she walks, summoning her chicks to follow her, Dr. Collias said. She gives about two clucks per second.

When the hen discovers food, she clucks rapidly, about four clucks a second, to call her chicks to join the feast.

At night, when she roosts, she gives a purring sound, lasting about 1½ seconds to bring all chicks under her wing.

If a hawk appears, chickens have an alarm scream, loud and raucous, that sends chicks running to shelter.

But if it's danger from the ground, a dog or a man, the warning is loud, repeated calls of a bit different frequency. The hen also seems to give an alerting call, low and rather brief and harsh, that makes chicks stop and freeze, Dr. Collias said. This is a rapidly pulsed call.

As tests of the meaning of the various calls, the experimenters used recording or artifical sounds that showed the same spectograph lines as did different signal calls of real chickens.

Tapping a pencil on a wooden table or cardboard box was like the "come here" clucking call, and attracted young chicks.

And that is your tip on how to proceed with some scientific chicken stealing.

Bond Is Not Forfeited Here

An appearance bond of $250 for Ralph Ford Bridges, 44, Snyder, charged with driving while intoxicated, was reinstated by the county court after it was ordered forfeited when the defendant failed to appear for trial yesterday.

Re-instatement was made when it was discovered the court had previously granted continuance of the case by verbal agreement with the defense. The case is set for next term of court in January. Sureties on the bond are Gordon Goss and James Clark.

Selling Coupon Books In Areas Against Law

A city ordinance was violated here this year by promoters selling coupon books, according to W. W. Park, city attorney.

Park said the promoters, who printed books of coupons to be sold for $1 each and hired young boys to sell the books, had the boys selling in the residential areas.

The books included coupons to be exchanged for merchandise in local businesses. The coupon book business this week was branded as fraudulent by the American Better Business Bureau because many promoters sell the books in a city by an agreement with participating merchants, then return several weeks or months later with additional books to sell without the merchants permission, putting into circulation many more books than were agreed upon.

Park said the city ordinance covering solicitors and peddlers prohibits house-to-house solicitation.

The bureau warned merchants in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce this week that if a person holding a coupon attempts to redeem the merchandise guaranteed on the coupon even months after it was first printed, the merchant is subject to suit if he does not give the holder the merchandise.

Water Bills Are Being Paid More Promptly

All but about 90 water customers had paid their water bills to the city before they became delinquent this month, Ralph Eades, city water superintendent, said.

Eades stated that the city council's action to begin enforcement of an old ordinance which states that no second notices be sent out, and that water be cut off when the bill becomes delinquent, was having the desired affect.

"We are having only a few delinquencies now compared to hundreds before the quick cut-off's were authorized," he said.

Water bills are sent out and are due on the twenty-fifth day of each month. If not paid within 10 days they become delinquent, he said.

Woman Charged With Death Of Son Ruled Insane In Colorado

COLORADO CITY, Dec. 29 —A jury in thirty - second district court today ended a baby poisoning case by ruling Mrs. Olevia E. Gunn insane.

The 24-year-old housewife had been charged in grand jury indictments with murder and attempted murder after an autopsy on the body of her 11-month-old son, who died Oct. 8.

The indictments alleged that Mrs. Gunn mixed arsenic with tea, Coco-Cola syrup, and milk of magnesia and gave the mixture to the son.

The indictments also alleged she gave the mixture to her small daughter, who has now completely recovered, and her husband, Earl Gunn, 24-year-old Colorado City policeman who is still under treatment in the veterans hospital at Big Spring.

Testimony In Liquor Case

Testimony was completed for both prosecution and defense this morning in the county court criminal case of Anderson Davis, Sr., Snyder Negro bootlegger charged with illegal possession of whisky.

Witnesses for the state testified of a raid on the defendant's cafe Nov. 22, when five half-pints of whisky were confiscated, one bottle being found in the cash register, four found under a mattress in a garage.

The case is the first prosecuted by Wayland Holt, county attorney-elect and acting county attorney.

State's witnesses were Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, Walter Morgan, deputy sheriff, and Earl Strawn, former sheriff who said he was with the officers on the raid. Pat Johnston, county clerk, testified that records showed Scurry County to have been legally dry continuously since May 10, 1902.

The defendant was the only defense witness. Put on the stand by his attorney, Pat Beene, Davis testified he did not know of the liquor being on his premises and that he had three boarders renting rooms in the building and that the liquor could have been theirs. He said the liquor in the cash register could have belonged to a girl he had employed.

Davis has been convicted numerous times on bootlegging charges.

Trial of Fred Hoyt Eagleston, former operator of the Hut Drive Inn and later operator of a cafe formerly known as Sage & Sand, was continued in county court this morning until Jan. 19. He is charged with bootlegging.

Eagleston, previously convicted numerous times on bootlegging charges here, was reported by his attorney, Pat Beene, to be in Wichita, Kan. Beene presented the court a telegram from Eagleston, in which the defendant claimed illness of acute indigestion.

Wayland G. Holt, county attorney - elect and presently acting county attorney, agreed to the continuance but said he believed the defendant should be required to show doctor's certificate of illness. The case has recently been called twice previously. Eagleston is on bond of $500.

More money for you!

NOW YOUR MATURING SERIES E BONDS CAN EARN INTEREST TEN YEARS LONGER—AT 3%!

Have you given any thought to what you'll do with those maturing Series E Defense Bonds you patriotically bought ten years ago? Well, here's real good news for you. You won't have to do a thing with them and they'll continue to earn interest for ten years longer at 3% interest, compounded semiannually! Just hold on to your bonds as you have been doing and allow them to go on earning!

Of course, if the necessity arises, you may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've held it for two months. But the wise thing to do is to hold your bonds, just as it's wise to hold on to savings in any form. And to go on saving with more!

So why not start now—join the millions of thrifty Americans who are investing in a secure future with Defense Bonds bought regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan. Thousands say it's the one sure way to save.

The sum you set aside each week may be as little as 10c—or as much as $275. If you can save $3.75 a week regularly through the Plan, in five years you will have $1,025.95! In 9 years and 8 months you'll have $2,137.30 . . . in 19 years and 8 months, $5,153.72!

No matter how small your income, you can't afford not to put something aside for yourself. So join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work today. Strengthen your own future and that of your country by saving your money through U. S. Defense Bonds.

3 new money-making opportunities for you!
New Series H, J and K Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!

If you want to get the interest on your bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at your bank for descriptive folders about these new bonds:

SERIES H. A new current-income bond, available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years and 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000 maturity value.

Ten Top News Makers In Hollywood Found In Poll

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Who were the top headline makers in Hollywood during 1952?

My private poll has sampled opinion among the news gatherers in Glamorville and has come up with a list of the 10 biggest space grabbers. They figured in the news for widely different reasons.

One possessed a heavenly frame. One achieved fame by crying in public. Several were in and out of marital troubles. One was in jail.

Here are the top 10, not in any particular order of importance:

1. Marilyn Monroe. Just about everything she did seemed to make the papers. Of course, she was aided by her fabulous figure.

2. Charlie Chaplin. He got back in the news by starting his first film in five years. But the big news came when he decided to visit his native England. The U. S. Justice Department said he would have to apply for a clean bill of health before getting back into this country.

3. Walter Wanger. Having shot his wife's agent in 1951, he paid for it in 1952 with a four-month jail sentence.

4. Mario Lanza. He started out the year as the top attraction in show business. Then he ran into difficulties with his studio and refused to report for a picture. At year's end, he was unemployed, incommunicado and faced with a multimillion-dollar suit brought by his studio.

5. Johnny Ray. He rose to fame on the basis of perpetual emotion.

6. Lana Turner. As usual her romantic involvements were in the news. She busted up with Bob Topping, got a mysterious cut in a shower accident, had a much-publicized romance with Fernando Lamas. By the end of the year, both Topping and Lamas were out of her life.

7. Howard Hughes. His maneuverings with RKO made the financial news of the year. He wanted to sell out but ended up with the company again, plus the down payment of the reluctant buyers.

8. Rita Hayworth. Her on-and-off marriage with Prince Aly Khan was milked of its news value throughout the year.

9. Humphrey Bogart. He finally got his just reward from the Academy — an Oscar for "The African Queen."

10. Lucille Ball. She was the hit of the year on TV. Now she is having one of the most publicized babies in history.

We have been given some frozen venison and I have been told to marinate it before cooking. What should I use for a marinade? S.R.

One combination for a marinade is to mix ¼ cup salad oil, 1 cup wine or vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, bay leaf, 1 clove garlic, pinch thyme, sliced onion and pepper. Let the meat stand 24 hours in this.

* * *

Please give me a recipe for curried shrimp. V. K.

You'll need the following ingredients: 6 teaspoons butter, ½ teaspoon curry powder, ½ cup coarsely chopped blanched almonds, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ cup non fat dry milk solids, 1½ cups water, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ clove garlic (crushed), ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 pound of cooked shrimp, deveined.

Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in small saucepan. Add curry powder and almonds; cook gently until almonds are golden brown. Set aside. Melt remaining butter in top of double boiler; add flour and cook gently. Remove from heat. Add dry milk; mix well. Add water slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth and thick. Add remaining ingredients; cook long enough to heat shrimp thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carroll entertained during the holidays with an open house at their home in the Lemons Lease Camp.

Women To Be Pace Setters During The Coming Year

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Since this is the season for retrospect and forecast, I will join the parade and predict for 1953...

That bangs will be the most popular hairdo of the year.

That a number of baby girls will be named Mamie, and lots of baby boys will be called Ike.

That just plain Americanism will become fashionable, and that parlor pinks will seem a little out of date.

That there will be a Marilyn Monroe sweater and a Rosemary Clooney bathing suit.

That an increasing number of jalopies will be decorated with the words "Little Mo" and that all feminine teen-age skaters will try to look like Barbara Ann Scott.

That Vivien Kellems will declare an armistice with Uncle Sam's income tax collectors and will become a television star.

That Oveta Culp Hobby will set the millinery trend for 1953, and that Ivy Priest will inspire several thousand college girls to major in economics.

That tiaras will be worn by 1953 debutantes, with a bow to Queen Elizabeth, though the common garden variety will be made up at home from such rhinestone and pearl necklaces as happen to be at hand.

That coronation white will be the color of the year, closely followed by Mamie blue.

That the new girl favorites of TV will be wholesome, Betty Furness types, with modest necklines and well-modulated voices, suitable to well-bred U. S. living rooms.

That America still will be the best place in the world in which to live and enjoy it.

Important Link In Evolution Is Discovered

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — A South African fish expert has announced "one of the most important discoveries made in science"—a good specimen of a type of fish that scientists once believed had died out at least 50 million years ago.

Prof. J. B. Smith, a noted ichthyologist, arrived here last night by plane from a tiny islet in the French-owned Camoro group between Madagascar and the East African mainland with a carefully guarded crate which he said contained a coelacanth. He had made a 3,000-mile dash to collect the fish—caught more than a week ago by an African fisherman—before it decomposed.

The coelacanths—which bear the scientific name of latimeria chalumnae—were the first family of bony fish. They are believed to have evolved between 200 and 350 million years ago and until recently were known to man only by fossils.

Earlier fish had skeletons composed of something like cartilage, as sharks do today. The coelacanths are believed to have been an important link in the evolution of sea vertebrates (creatures having a bony structure) into land vertebrates—including man.

The coelacanth specimen is a five-foot, blueish-colored creature.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bryant, 2511 Avenue C, have had as guests Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Teague and family of Plains, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Eubanks of Bowie.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Vol Coach Fears Feats Of Gib Dawson As Cotton Bowl Nears

DALLAS, Dec. 30 (AP)—Acting Head Coach Harvey Robinson of the Tennessee Vols let it be known today that he fears Gib Dawson, a halfback who does everything, above all other offensive performers for Texas.

With the Cotton Bowl game just two days away, Robinson discussed the terrific Texas offense and pointed the finger to Dawson as the fellow "who can beat you in so many ways."

Dawson is a runner, field goal kicker, point after touchdown booter and can pass if necessary. He made 71 points the past season with six touchdowns, 26 conversions in 30 tries and three field goals.

The Gibber played against Tennessee in the 1951 Cotton Bowl game when the Vols upset the Longhorns, 20-14. But it wasn't Dawson's fault. He made both of the Texas touchdowns, one on an end run and the other on a 35-yard pass.

UT OFFENSE

But Robinson thinks the entire Texas offense is terrific. Dawson isn't the leading Texas scorer. That honor is held by Billy Quinn, a sophomore who is considered the best back for the longhorns by Gen. Bob Neyland, the Tennessee head coach who isn't coaching here because of ill health. Neyland plans to be here to direct the team during the game, however.

Quinn racked up 78 points while gaining 629 yards carrying the ball the past season. Dawson gained 649 and Dick Ochoa, the Longhorn fullback, led the Southwest Conference with 819. And T Jones, the Texas quarterback, was the conference's leading passer with 1,018 yards.

Against this brilliant offensive array, Robinson plans to use this backfield, he said today as he prepared to send his team through its second workout on Cotton Bowl soil: Jimmy Wade, a sophomore, at the vital tailback spot; Hal Hubbard, blocking back; Ed Morgan, Wingback, and Ray Byrd, fullback. Byrd will be playing for the great Tennessee fullback, Andy Kozar, who is here but won't get into the game because a late season injury hasn't healed sufficiently.

SPIRITED PRACTICE

Wade played only one full game during the season but it was a brilliant showing as he teamed with Kozar to lead the Vols to a 20-0 victory over Alabama. But Wade was just one of four Tennessee tailbacks Harried by injuries during the campaign. Only in the Alabama game were all four tailbacks ready at the same time.

Texas went through a spirited practice session yesterday and Coach Ed Price pronounced the team in top physican condition except for Linebacker Hugh Reeder, who was the victim of a strange accident. He "pulled a crick" in his back while putting on his uniform. But Trainer Frank Medina said the injury was nothing serious and Reeder would be able to play.

ACC Wins As H-SU Loses

PORTALES, N. M., Dec. 30 (AP)—Eastern New Mexico's Greyhounds will try tonight to check the rush of the Southwestern State Bulldogs toward a second straight championship in the Sunshine Basketball Tournament.

The Vikings of Missouri Valley College will battle Abilene (Tex.) Christian College for the other final's berth in the fifth annual year-end tournament among smaller college fives.

Yesterday's opening round in the eight-team tourney saw Abilene Christian set the pace with a 73-61 victory over the Central State Bronchos from Edmond, Okla., runners-up to Southwestern State in last year's meet.

Missouri Valley's Vikings nudged the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys from Abilene, Tex., 64-63, in the closest of the openers. Southwestern State of Weatherford, Okla., took out the Howard Payne Yellow-jackets of Brownwood, Tex., 62-56, and Eastern New Mexico eliminated the Westminster College Blue Jays of Fulton, Mo., 66-57, in the others.

Central State is matched with Hardin-Simmons (2 p. m. MST) and Howard Payne with Westminster (3:45 p. m.) in consolation games this afternoon. Pitted in tonight's semifinals are Abilene Christian vs Missouri Valley (7:15 p. m.) and Southwestern State vs. Eastern New Mexico (9 p. m.)

Temple Coach Being Considered As Aide To Baylor's Sauer

WACO, Dec. 30 (AP)—Ted Dawson, coach of Temple High School, may become an assistant coach at Baylor, succeeding Mike Michalske, who resigned several weeks ago.

Athletic Director George Sauer of Baylor said he had "been contacted in Dawson's behalf" about the job. Dawson has indicated that he is interested and has talked with Sauer, the Dallas News said it had learned.

Sauer, who has returned from Florida where he helped coach the South in the North-South all-star game, said he had about 15 applications for the position.

Dawson, former star lineman at the University of Texas, has had his Temple team in the Class AA state schoolboy football finals two years in a row.

Tigers Win In First Game Of Tournament

Advancing to the second round, Tiger cagers were scheduled to meet Arlington Heights at 3:10 o'clock this afternoon in the Howard Payne tourney in Brownwood.

The Tigers edged out Comanche 51-48 in a game that was very close during the last two minutes. Snyder led 12-11 at the end of the first period, 24-19 at the half, and 39-36 at the last quarter began.

Ned Underwood, 6-2 center, paced the Tigers with 20 points, while Forward Reagan White scored 17, as did Dalton Hicks, Commanche's top scorer.

Also moving into the second round toward championship are Carter Riverside, which downed Ballinger 62-46, matched against Sweetwater, which defeated Stephenville 64-50; San Angelo, which beat Cisco 71-37, against Temple; and Brownwood against Fort Worth Tech.

ALBUQUERQUE, Dec. 30 (AP)—College ropers and riders will hold their national championship rodeo next May 14-16 at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Tex.

The event was scheduled yesterday as the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association wound up its business in a single day and adjourned a convention originally scheduled for two days.

Delegates decided also to engage Don Norris, a Hardin-Simmons Student, as publicity director for 1953.

Represented at the convention were colleges and universities in Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington.

Predictions In Memphis For Rain In Dallas During Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Dec. 30 (AP)—There was a sprinkle of rain last night in Dallas and it made a prophet out of acting Head Coach Harvey Robinson of Tennessee's football team.

Robinson said Saturday night when he arrived here with his team for the Cotton Bowl game that the weather observer at Memphis, Tenn., had told him there would be rain in Dallas Monday.

The observer also predicted that there will be no rain Thursday when the Cotton Bowl game is played by Tennessee and Texas.

Robinson said the Memphis weather man, who predicts for the Southeastern Conference during the football season, had been about the most accurate person he'd ever known.

Doak Walker To Play Pro Another Year

DALLAS, Dec. 30 (AP)—Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's All-America who made good with a bang in pro football, said today he would play "at least one more year" in the professional ranks.

Walker had been quite uncertain about whether he would take a third year until now. But he explained it like this:

"I want to play in the Chicago All-Star game as a pro. I played in it as a collegian and it's always been my ambition to play in it as a professional."

Walker, ace halfback of the National Football League Champion Detroit Lions, came home to Dallas yesterday but will leave tomorrow for Honolulu where he will appear in the Hula Bowl games, Jan. 5 and 11.

Walker and Bobby Layne, former Texas star who played high school football with Walker in Dallas, were the big guns in Detroit's 17-7 victory over Cleveland Sunday in the league championship game. Layne scored one touchdown and Walker the other.

SCORED TOUCHDOWNS

Doak Walker (left) and Bobby Lane, Detroit Lions backs, whose football prowess has been a by-word in Texas since they played together on Highland Park High School team in Dallas, Tex., pose in the dressing room after the Lions trounced the Cleveland Browns, 17-7, to win the National Football League championship in Cleveland. Both Walker and Layne scored touchdowns. It was Walker's first touchdown of the season and he did it on a 67-yard run.

American Tennis Stars Driven From Court By Aussie Players

By GAYLE TALBOT

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—America's Davis Cup debacle became complete today when Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert collapsed under the fierce pressure applied by Ken McGregor and Frank Sedgman and lost the deciding doubles match by scores of 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

The blistering defeat will go down as one of the most onesided in cup history.

Numerous times in the past teams have dropped the first three matches in the Challenge Round but research fails to uncover when one side was able to win only one set in two days.

Seixas and Trabert really never had a chance against the brilliant Aussie pair today. From the moment Trabert dropped his opening service to give the Aussies a 3-0 jump it was completely obvious to the capacity crowd of over 15,000 that they were sitting in on a slaughter.

For the second straight day McGregor played probably the most brilliant tennis of his career. He so dominated the court that there was no place for the Americans to go but out.

The losers managed to break Sedgman's service twice during their one brief victory in the third set but then never got to his long-legged partner.

The Americans were wild as hares at the start and by the time they settled down to something approaching their normal games it was too late.

In the first set Trabert was netting the ball and Seixas was knocking it out. In the second set, they reversed the procedure with the same sad results.

In those two sets Sedgman and McGregor scored clean winners—the majority of them on McGregor's volleys. In these two sets, the Americans scored only nine placements—six of them by Seixas.

Trabert's erratic form might be largely attributed to the exhaustion he suffered in losing his singles duel with McGregor in Yesterday's killing heat.

The weather today was almost cool by comparison but the change came too late to do Tony, the sailor boy from Cincinnati, any good.

Seixas said he would make up his mind later whether he and Trabert would play in tomorrow's concluding singles or perhaps turn one match over to Ham Richardson, the youngster from Baton Rouge, La.

French Head Looking For Coalition Support

PARIS (AP) — Premier-designate Georges Bidault stepped up his efforts today to forge wide support for a coalition government that would push for harsh tax reforms at home and swift ratification of the European army to bring German troops into the Western defense system.

After conferring all day yesterday with leaders of France's major parties, Bidault agreed to try to form a government. He must assure himself of a strong majority in the Assembly before he can be invested in the job vacated by premier Antoine Pinay.

Kansas State Takes Over As 1st In Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Kansas State took over first place in the Associated Press basketball poll today as La Salle of Philadelphia, upset by DePaul, skidded to third. Seton Hall moved up a notch to second.

The top 10 generally underwent a good shaking up but there were only two new faces in the group—Tulsa, No. 8, and Minnesota, No. 9, who moved in to oust Louisiana State and North Carolina State.

LSU was soundly thrashed by Tulsa last week, 84-58, while N. C. State took an unexpected lacing from St. John's of Brooklyn, 67-56. Minnesota beat second-ranking Illinois, 77-73.

Kansas State's chief exploit of the week was a 93-69 triumph over Oklahoma. One hundred and one sportswriters and broadcasters, participating in the poll, were sufficently impressed to move the Wildcats from fifth to first place and give them 512 points.

Seton Hall had 507 points and La Salle 381.

Here's how the new top 10 stacks up: Kansas State, Seton Hall, La Salle, Illinois, Washington, Holy Cross, Oklahoma A&M, Tulsa, Minnesota and Western Kentucky.

Illinois fell from second to fourth as a result of its defeat by Minnesota. Washington, twice winner St. Louis, climbed from seventh to fifth. Idle Holy Cross dropped two notches to sixth.

The rankings are based on games through last Saturday night and do not include last night's contests.

Kansas State won its sixth game in seven starts by trimming Yale, 79-70, in the Big Seven Tournament at Kansas City last night.

The leaders in order are:

1.	Kansas State (11)	512
2.	Seton Hall (13)	507
3.	La Salle (10)	381
4.	Illinois (4)	378

McCarthy Gets War II Medals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) received six decorations for his World War II service from the Marine Corps yesterday, almost eight years after his discharge.

The presentation, in the senator's office, was made by Col. John R. Lanigan, commanding officer of the Fifth Reserve Marine District. McCarthy, an air combat intelligence officer, flew 30 combat missions in the Pacific.

The citations—for the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and four stars in lieu of additional air medals—were signed by Secretary of the Navy Kimball. The Distinguished Flying Cross was awarded, in the words of the citation, "for heroism and extraordinary achievement...."

Lanigan said the long delay in formal presentation of the awards was not unusual.

'Silent Night' Remark Finishes G. S. Kaufman

NEW YORK (AP) — Playwright George S. Kaufman has been dropped from the CBS television program "This Is Show Business", because he remarked: "Let's make this one program on which no one sings 'Silent Night.'"

He made the remark on the Dec. 21 show.

"This was not wittingly an anti-religious remark," Kaufman said. "I was merely speaking out against the use and overuse of this Christmas carol in connection with the sale of commercial products."

Processing Taxes Talked Of As Price Support Cost Cutter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The incoming Eisenhower administration probably will seek ways of returning to the "self-financing" features of early New Deal farm programs.

The Republicans are committed to broad price support programs which over the last 18 years have cost taxpayers slightly more than a billion dollars.

But President-elect Eisenhower, as well as Ezra Taft Benson, his choice to be secretary of agriculture, have made known a desire to reduce the cost of price support programs.

Early New Deal programs were financed in part by what were called processing taxes—that is, taxes levied on the first processing operation of a farm product, such as the milling of wheat into flour, slaughter of hogs for pork, and so on. This tax was knocked out by a 1936 Supreme Court decision which declared the then existing Agricultural Adjustment Act to be unconstitutional.

Since that time, costs of supporting farm prices have fallen on the Treasury.

Methods of self-financing price guarantee programs discussed by farm leaders in recent years include two-price systems, processing taxes and price insurance.

Under the two-price system, farmers would contribute to a fund to finance export of surpluses at cut-rate prices. They would get the benefit of a high-level supported price on products consumed domestically—minus a deduction for the export fee.

Under the processing tax plan, the government would collect fees from processing of farm products. The money obtained would be used to pay costs of supporting prices of affected farm commodities. Such a tax now pays the cost of supporting grower prices of sugar cane and sugar beets.

Under the price insurance plan, growers would take out government insurance policies to protect them against price declines below designated levels.

The price insurance and the self-financing type of two-price plans differ from the processing tax in one major feature. The cost of the former would be borne by farmers while the processing tax would be borne, in the final analysis, by consumers of the farm products involved.

Parents Aren't To Blame For Everything Wrong With Kids

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—A woman psychologist today lambasted the idea that "mom is to blame" for all of a child's troubles and ills.

Psychologists write a lot about childhood psychology, but practically nothing about the psychology of parents, she said.

Parenthood is just a developmental stage "between childhood and old age," declared Dr. Jane Loevinger of Washington University, St. Louis, in an address to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Coming to the defense of sometimes over-criticized mothers, Dr. Loevinger cited five statements buttressing her argument that there's too much emphasis on a mother-blaming complex:

1. "Parenthood has never been recognized officially as a branch of psychology, nor as a normal developmental stage."

2. "Child psychology is one of the most intensively cultivated branches of psychology; the 'psychology of parents' is virtually nonexistent." She quoted one psychoanalyst who says that "babies control and bring up their families as much as they are controlled by them; in fact, we may say that the family brings up a baby by being brought up by him."

3. "Research on parents has been concerned almost exclusively with their goodness as parents, as if to say that parents are of interest only for the sake of the child."

4. "In the study of mothers, there has been extraordinary preoccupation with the concept of 'maternal rejection'."

But, she added, "almost every child believes, at some time or other, that what is wrong is that 'mommy doesn't love me enough.'"

5. "Literature written by psychologists for parents emphasizes 'the rights of infants,' the obligation of mothers to satisfy their children's needs," but without telling the difference between the child's rights and needs.

Dr. Loevinger said there ought to be a study of the potentialities for evil of the "how-to-be-a-perfect-parent" books, lectures and articles.

Too often, she said, "each parent chooses that advice on how to raise children that is least appropriate for him."

She said much of the advice to parents from psychologists may have an opposite effect from that intended, that many mothers who read books and articles on child-rearing "are those who are already overburdened with conscience" about it and only draw trouble.

Talk of the bad effects of maternal rejection may well result only in making parents afraid to face their temporary and innocent moods of hostility toward their children, moods that are normal in all parents at times, she said.

Smog Fighting California's Worst Job

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30 (AP) — "The most awful job you could possibly wish on your enemies."

That's the way a coworker pictures the task of Gordon P. Larson, the man charged with responsibility for banishing smog from skies of Southern California.

Larson, gray-haired at 41, has been director of the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District for three years. He has worked hard. He has accomplished much. Nevertheless he is possibly the most maligned and frustrated public servant in the land.

Trouble is, despite all he's done and nearly 50 million dollars spent on research, prevention and control, smog still lies like a blight on the land, making millions weep and cough, dimming the prized sunshine, ruining crops, even cracking the white sidewall tires on movie stars' limousines.

Larson, as the guy who's supposed to do something about it, is the most obivous and convient target for any and all with a beef. He has been charged with being "too lax" in enforcing smog control laws, and with being "too strict." He has been accused of "whitewashing" the oil industry, and of making it a "scapegoat."

During the smog season — July through November—his office is swamped with letters protesting "delays" in abatement.

Larson is resigned to occupyong a hot seat for years to come.

Most of his public relations headaches, Larson feels, are attributable to the confusion, misinformation and lack of information about the peculiar problems facing smog fighters in Los Angeles.

For one thing, the solution here is not as simple as in the big eastern industrial cities. In the coal-burning East the problem is solid particles—smoke, soot, fly ash, which are relatively easy to control.

In Los Angeles the irritating ingredients are incredibly small and mostly ivisible—chemical crystals, gases, fumes and liquid droplets.

In the last 4½ years researchers have spent a million and a half dollars studying these contaminants and though they have learned much, they have only made a beginning.

The greatest research handicap has been a lack of instruments to trap identify and study the particles. Researchers found their average size is less than 1-50,000 of an inch. Their concentration in the air is often less than one part per million.

There's an even greater complication. Scientists are fairly sure how the irritants in smog are formed by mysterious chemical reactions in the air, hours or days after the raw materials are loosed from such sources as auto exhausts, refineries and incinerators.

One scientist, Dr. A. J. Haagen Smit of the California Institute of Technology, says smog is made like this:

Gasoline fumes, 2,000 tons daily, are sent into the air by autos and oil industry facilities. Some 10 per cent of these fumes, known as hydrocarbons, react in the air with nitrogen oxides and ozone. The oxides come from the burning of an estimated 50,000 tons a day of fuels and rubbish. How the ozone—the stuff that cracks rubber, including tires—is formed is not certain.

BlackHomburg Is Just Like Fraternity Pin

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The black homburg is like a fraternity pin. Diplomats wear it like a sign which says "I am a diplomat."

The hat with the unrolled edge and the deep crown is in such general use among diplomats that it is practically a tribal headgear.

But at least diplomats have been considered a gentlemanly group whose language, while not always clear, has been extremely restrained even when threatening the most frightening reprisals.

Then the Russians got in on the act and, as usual, caused considerable confusion.

They have come to be regarded in world capitals as the bully boys of diplomacy, the dead end kids of statecraft.

Since they seem to have worked hard at perpetuating this roughneck image of themselves, it comes as a shock to see their main man, Stalin, switch to a method which seems almost kittenish. It was just a little too cute.

He is either sick of the Korean War and wishes he hadn't let it start, or he isn't. He either wants to come to an understanding with the West, or he doesn't.

In any event, he could have done business, if he wanted to, through normal channels.

Instead, when he wanted to say he'd look favorably upon talks with President-elect Eisenhower, he did it by responding to some questions on his attitude toward world peace submitted by the New York Times.

This was such a pussyfooting way to operate, it's no wonder John Foster Dulles, who will be Eisenhower's secretary of state, gave him the answer he did.

Although Stalin is suspected of replying to the questions just to get publicity that he can use for propaganda, Dulles told him if he really wants to do business, to do it through the regular diplomatic channels.

This batted the ball back to Stalin. In the end, all that may be remembered of this episode is that, for a moment anyway, Stalin switched from the usual Communist tactics of tearing the house down to a kitten caper.

Good Business During Coming Year Predicted By Economists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and a team of government and private economists predict good business in the new year, a possible downturn in 1954 and a sharp economic test in 1955.

The economy has strong built-in safeguards against a depression in the coming years, Sawyer said, expressing the view that the chief peril, as defense spending slacks off, is fear and uncertainty, not economic weakness.

"The situation is sound," Sawyer said in a personal preface to the 80,000-word report on "Markets After the Defense Expansion."

The report, made public last night was prepared as a guide to business conditions in the final stages of the defense buildup and after spending for military purposes turns down. The crucial year will be 1955, it said.

It predicted defense spending will reach a peak of 55 to 60 billion dollars late in 1953, will run at peak levels through 1954 and will fall off in 1955 to 50 to 55 billions. Defense expenditures would then go on down toward a more or less permanent level somewhere between 40 and 50 billion dollars a year, it said.

Meanwhile, it said, spendable income may go up 7 per cent.

The report was written by the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics after a six-month study in which other government agencies and the Committee for Economic Development (CED) co-operated.

The report said businessmen plan expenditures in 1953, 1954 and 1955 for new plant and equipment close to this year's record level of nearly 27 billion dollars.

The report cited this—plus continued population growth, unfilled needs for schools, hospitals and highway building, modernization and replacement, possible tax reductions, sizable individual savings, and social security benefits—as major offsetting factors to slackened defense spending and any tendency toward recession.

But the report came up with the conclusion that bigger production and purchasing power are the keys to locking out depression.

The survey assumed international conditions and U. S. military goals in the next three years would not appreciably change.

Because the economy is now more or less keeping pace with both civilian and military requirements, the report said, there will be neither a backlog of demand nor a letdown in 1955.

In the present national security program, military spending is expected to reach a peak at about 15 to 17 per cent of the gross national product and to drop to a maintenance level of about 12 per cent.

Among principle points in the report were these:

1. "The strong probability, though of course no certainty, of another year of good business in 1953."

2. "A downturn in 1954 is a real possibility...."

3. "The projected decline in defense spending in 1955 would provide a serious test of the economy.... Thus, 1955 appears to be a year in which it will be of major importance sizably to expand private markets."

4. Personal income after taxes in 1955 may be 240 billion dollars, an increase of 7 per cent over 1951.

5. No major price raises are indicated in the near future.

6. A timely year for tax cuts would be 1955, when both government and private spending may be slacking off.

Citizenship Is Granted Thugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee today demanded from Atty. Gen. McGranery "all the circumstances" of the immigration and naturalization of the Anastasia brothers — Albert, Anthony, Joseph and Gerardo.

All four are waterfront figures in New York.

Chairman Walter (D-Pa) of a House judiciary subcommittee investigating immigration said in a statement he wrote McGranery that the four brothers originally entered the U. S. illegally by jumping ship and "have subsequently, through various procedures, obtained a readjustment of their immigration status to that of permanent residents."

Albert Anastasia has often been described as a major figure in Murder, Inc., reputedly a kill-for-pay mob which operated in Brooklyn in the 1930s.

He refused to answer many questions when he was questioned recently by the New York Crime Commission during its investigation of the New York waterfront.

"What surprises this committee (the House group)," Walter wrote McGranery, "is the fact that according to information now available, all four of them (the Anastasias) had extensive criminal records before they were admitted for permanent residence and had allegedly committed certain crimes between the time of their admission and their naturalization."

Stamford Pioneer Dies

STAMFORD, Dec. 29 (AP)—Mrs. V. Colbert, 82, pioneer Jones County resident, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Cost Of Outing On New Year's Is About Same

NEW YORK (AP)—What will it cost a couple to go to a hotel or night club and there doh paper caps and blow horns and yell "Hap-py new year" at the stroke of midnight?

In terms of money it will be just about the same as last year from coast to coast.

Speaking of advertised prices only, here are a few from the nation's larger cities:

New York—Minimum checks of $27.50 a person in a few of the best-known night clubs are the top. Such hotels as the Waldorf-Astoria and Plaza are charging $20 minimums per person. Plenty of others are charging lower prices. There also are about 1,500 bars in the city where you can walk in, buy one drink and yell "Hap-py new year!" at midnight if you're determined to do it.

Greater Miami area—A dozen or more beach hotels now have supper clubs and are reported offering keen competition to night clubs. In the latter, prices will range from $12.50 to $25 per person. One big hotel is charging $20 a head. Night clubs and hotel supper rooms report heavier bookings than last year, with prices about the same or a little less.

Kansas City — From $6.50 to $12.50 a person for a seven-course dinner, favors and entertainment. Drinks are extra.

Chicago—From $6.10 to $15.56 at principal night clubs and hotels for dinner, dancing, entertainment, favors and noisemakers.

Boston—$10 to $12 apiece for the works—except liquor.

New Orleans—Like New York, a big range here — $2 to $20. But for $20 they give you a highball and a pint of champagne with dinner and entertainment. After you've consumed those, you're on your own.

San Francisco — From $12.50 a person down, with liquor extra.

Dallas — From $15 down. No liquor by the drink is sold in Texas public places, but you can bring your own jug and buy setups.

Los Angeles—Prices in the well-known Hollywood and Los Angeles nightspots start at $31.95 (tax included). At Ciro's and the Cocoanut Grove this price includes breakfast and hangover cures furnished by a thoughtful management.

Atlanta — One hotel is offering dinner, an ice show and dancing for $8.23. Other club and hotel prices range from $5 to $7.50 apiece.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Columnist Gives Prediction Of What's In Store For '53

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is time for our annual fuzzy forecast of what lies ahead in the coming year. Yes, what's to be in '53

It isn't an easy question to answer. The old crystal ball is more clouded than usual this season. However, you can bet right now that:

The Korean police action will change from the present stalemate in which the robbers are arresting the cops.

A new cure for the common cold will be trumpeted in February—and abandoned by April. Most people will decide the best way to get well is to go to bed.

As most women will become a year older, the number of blondes will increase remarkably.

Somewhere in Florida a motorist, annoyed by a buzzing in the engine, will lift up the hood of his car— and find an angry rattlesnake, coiled to strike. (For some reason this has happened somewhere in Florida every year since the invention of the motor car, except in 1927, when it happened somewhere in North Carolina.)

In late spring, Coach Frank Leahy will announce the football situation at Notre Dame is hopeless. His team will end the 1953 season undefeated, untied, hailed as one of the greatest in history.

The cost of living will rise slightly and so will skirts. So will men's interest.

The literary world will be flooded by the published memoirs of 1,312 ex-Democratic officeholders, all giving the "only true inside story" of what has been going on in Washington.

Some 1,312 new Republican officeholders wil begin keeping secret diaries as an investment against the day of their own unemployment.

The calls for a cut in taxes will become louder, but remain as academic as ever. Five cities will adopt a municipal income tax, but reject attempts to force the licensing of cats.

And the average human being in 1953 will go right on holding his job, living in faith with those he loves —" and desperately hoping that no one will blow apart the little world that, for all its faults and failures, is the best world he knows.

Russians About To Shut Out Radio 'Voice'

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Russians are planning a gigantic radio offensive against the West in 1953.

It's designed to black out stations still piercing the Iron Curtain and to extend the Kremlin's "hate the West" propaganda broadcasts to new millions in free Europe.

Allied officials here have reported this to their governments after studying intelligence reports on radio developments in Soviet-occupied East Germany.

Until recently the Voice of America, RIAS, the powerful American station in Berlin, and the British Broadcasting Corporation could be heard by East Germans without interference from the Russian jamming system.

Now Russian technicians and German workers are feverishly building a chain of high-powered transmitters in East Germany from the Baltic to the Czechoslovak border.

Allied officials believe the Russians first will use this new radio chain to jam these Western stations and then to hurl a barrage of vicious propaganda broadcasts to Western Europe.

Move To Merge Big Unions Is Said Sure

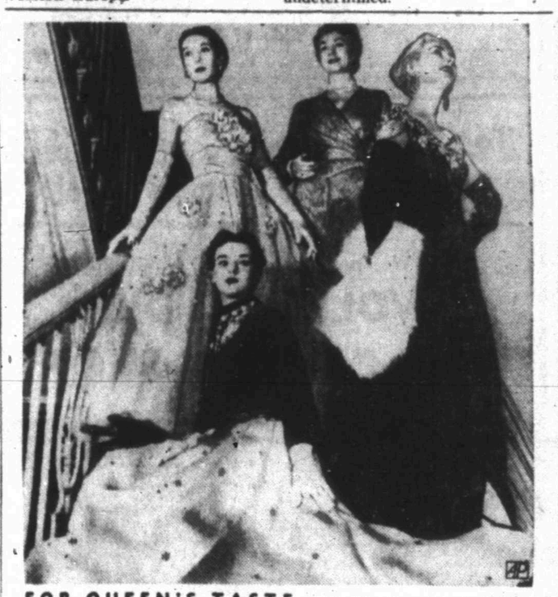

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL President George Meany says he and CIO President Walter Reuther have arranged to meet in Washington to discuss proposals to merge the two labor unions.

Meany, appearing yesterday on television, said the negotiations will start after the New Year holiday and are sure to be "long winded."

Fire Damages Home Of Mary Pickford

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Pickfair, the mansion where Mary Pickford and the late Douglas Fairbanks once held court as king and queen of silent films, was damaged by fire yesterday.

Miss Pickford and her present husband, Buddy Rogers, were in the home at the time of the fire, which caused several thousand dollars damages in the servants' quarters. The cause of the fire was undetermined.

FOR QUEEN'S TASTE — Models show latest styles in advance of Queen Elizabeth's visit to Norman Hartnell's salon as London fashion world girds itself for coronation year.

'High Noon' Picked As Best 1952 Film

NEW YORK (AP) — "High Noon" has been selected as the Best Film of 1952 by the New York Film Critics.

The critics yesterday also made these choices:

Best Actor—Sir Ralph Richardson in the British film "Breaking Through the Sound Barrier."

Best Actress—Shirley Booth in "Come Back, Little Sheba."

Best Director—Fred Zinneman for "High Noon."

Best Foreign Film—The French "Forbidden Games."

Singer, Actor To Wed

NEW YORK, (AP)—Joan McCracken, 30, who sang and danced in such Broadway musicals as "Oklahoma" and "Bloomer girl," will marry Robert L. Foss, a 25-year-old actor from Evanston, Ill.

The two, both of whom have been married once before, took out a license yesterday. No date was announced for the wedding.
