Colorado City is recipient of $275,000 grant

Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum got the call last week; a call bringing good news to city officials deep in the middle of making significant infrastructure expansions. The City of Colorado City is the recipient of another grant from the Texas Department of Agriculture in the amount of $275,000, according to Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples.

The city's Director of Operations Michelle Guelker said the grant money will help fund water well projects that are already in the works.

The city has drilled two wells on property deemed the Mitchell Lease, located about three miles southeast of town off of County Road 412. Another has also been drilled on the Wallace Lease, located about 1 1/2 miles south of Loraine.

The drilling of all three wells has been completed and pumps have been installed, but there is no electrical service as of yet. Guelker said city officials are waiting on Sharyland Utilities to run electricity to the pumps.

As soon as electricity is supplied, the pumps can be turned on and testing for the Texas

The UIL re-alignment and classification changes last year put the Wolves in 3A District 3 DII with Post, Coahoma, Ballinger, Stanton and Coleman. Post has been picked to win the district while the Wolves have been picked to finish in 4th place. The district again will send

Chaney speaks to local Lions Club

Local pharmacist and business owner Jody Chaney came to speak to the Colorado City Lions Club last Friday and share with members her life with her husband, John, their four kids and two pharmacies.

RETURNING TO WHAT THEY LOVE — John and Jody Chaney were special guests at the Lions Club meeting. Jody presented the program to local Lions, speaking about the Chaney's recent purchase of Perkin's Apothecary and City Discount pharmacies.

The Mitchell County natives, John and Jody, were born in Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City. The two grew up here and eventually graduated from Mitchell County schools and went off to college. In October, the couple will have been married 20 years and are the parents of Seth, and his triplet siblings Ethan, Sadie and Mayson.

Jody said that she and John met in driver's education class in 1990, and she knew he must be the one when he was willing to travel the state of Texas, switch colleges and move around while she finished pharmacy school.

First hired at Perkin's Apothecary & Mercantile as a gift wrapper, when Jody got her pharmacy degree, she returned to work there as a pharmacist. She said she received good training from Jerry Muñoz who was well-versed in insurance requirements and working with a common computer program helped her land a good job while she finished her education.

John is a member of the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department and Loraine school board. He has worked in several customer service-type jobs, beginning his career delivering appliances and furniture for Ramage Furniture & Appliance. He is now a certified diesel mechanic.

John and Jody recently purchased Perkin's Apothecary and City Discount Drug from Rick and Patty Perkin and Muñoz.

Perkin's began as Corner Drug by Mr. Bilberry in 1938. Besides serving as a local pharmacy, the store had a lunch counter and fountain.

Bilberry had the building at 501 Walnut constructed and sold the business to Perkin in 1970. Rick and his brother, Jack, also owned other gift stores in the area. An addition was built on to the building and the fountain and lunch counter were taken out.

In 1985, Raymond Fuller, the late owner of Fuller Foods, expressed an interest in putting a pharmacy inside the grocery store. Rick agreed and the new branch pharmacy opened in the fall of that year.

Muñoz came to work at the business in 1990, and became a partner in the drug store. "Rick has been very fortunate to have Jerry. He's been very devoted to the business," Jody said.

When City Discount was opened, it was a 5,000 square foot store with its only entrance located on the outside of the grocery store. There was no entrance from inside the store. Produce now fills the space that was once City Discount Drug.

One thing remained consistent at both pharmacies, City Discount and Perkin's customers have always received excellent customer service. "That's very important to us," Jody said.

When Lion Murray Hall asked if a name change was in the works, Jody answered affirmatively. "We are going back to Corner Drug," she said, adding that the paperwork is being processed now.

Jody has worked at several locations, such as Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater, Scenic Mountain Medical Center in Big Spring and eight years for Cardinal Health. Her position she is most remembered for is the pharmacist at Mitchell County Hospital District, where she worked for 12 years.

While there are a few changes coming for customers, Jody said that she and John will still provide the best customer service as possible. "There are more changes coming, but it will benefit both the staff and our customers," she said.

Two die in oilfield accident

Two men were fatally injured and one was sent to a Lubbock hospital in critical condition last Wednesday, as an oilfield work crew was accidentally electrocuted while installing a pump jack.

According to Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs, 35-year-old Harvey Ray McKinney and 24-year-old Laban Michael Robokoff died as a result of injuries sustained when their work truck struck a live electrical wire north of Westbrook just before noon Wednesday, August 20th.

McKinney and Robokoff were transported to Mitchell County Hospital but died as a result of their injuries.

McKinney's brother, 32-year-old Steven Ray McKinney, was flown from County Road 308 to a hospital in Lubbock where he was initially listed in critical condition. Fortunately, Steven's condition improved greatly in a short period of time and he was released from the hospital.

All three of the men were from the Midland area.

Loraine man indicted on drug charges in Abilene

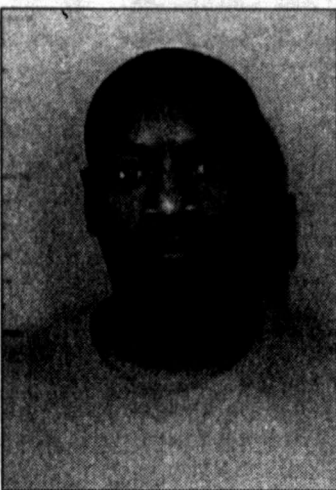

According to a story by KTXS News, a Loraine man was indicted Thursday, August 21st by a Taylor County Grand Jury on drug possession charges.

Allen Ty Stanford, 43, was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana on December 16, 2013, according to police.

Fed-Ex employees reportedly notified police about a package containing 13 ounces of marijuana that was to be delivered. Stanford allegedly arrived at the location, presented identification and signed for the package.

Because the amount of marijuana in the package weighed more than two ounces, the charge is a State Jail Felony. Such an offense can result in penalties of up to one year in jail and fines of $4,000.

Commissioners set tax rate

Mitchell County Commissioners' Court convened at 9 a.m. Monday morning, and county officials adopted a tax rate and approved a $9.8 million budget during the meeting. County Auditor Heidi Harris presented a budget, which has been the subject of many workshops in past weeks, to Commissioners Jeremy Strain, Jesse Muñoz, Bill Preston and County Judge Ray Mayo.

Harris said that expenses in the new budget are estimated at $9.8 million, with revenue estimated at $8.9 million, a shortfall of more than $838,000. While the deficit may seem shocking, it's considerably lower than last year's deficit of $1.7 million.

The budget, which will go into effect January 1, 2015, includes a 5% increase in salaries of all county employees.

Strain expressed his satisfaction with a balanced budget, he had words of encouragement for the auditor. "You did good working with me, Heidi. I appreciate your hard work," he said.

The county's proposed tax rate of .489200 per $100 value was adopted and will fund the 2015 budget. Preston moved to adopt the tax rate, Muñoz seconded and the motion passed unanimously.

County Treasurer Jennifer Rivera brought information on a renewal of a $1 million Certificate of Deposit, currently held at First National Bank. The 30-day CD is earning .25% interest, and commissioners voted to renew it for another 30 days. Rivera estimated that the county earns a little over $200 per month in interest on the CD.

A bid of $250 made by Spencer Cannon for lots in town, formerly used by the City of Colorado City as a recycling collection center, was approved. Now that the city has moved the collection center to the City Barn, the lots are no longer being used.

In other business, court members approved the payment of bills in the amount of $294,402.30, as presented by Harris.

Also, commissioners voted to keep archive fees at $10 for the County Clerk's office. County Clerk Debby Carlock thanked the court for its support.

Hunters' course to be held August 30th in time for dove season

Local game warden David Hopkins is planning hunters' education classes just in time for the upcoming dove season. The one-day class will be held Saturday, August 30th, and anyone interested should make plans to attend.

TPWD Game Warden Hopkins will serve as the instructor for the class which will start at 1 p.m. on Saturday at the First Baptist Church Activities Building in Colorado City. He said space will be limited, so he encourages anyone planning to attend to RSVP as soon as possible by calling him at 325-207-7894.

Anyone born on or after September 2, 1971, must take part in a hunters' education class to hunt legally in the state of Texas.

A variety of subjects will be covered in the six-hour course, including hunters' safety, hunting ethics, shot placement, outdoor stewardship and Texas laws and regulations. While everyone is welcome to attend, only hunters nine years and older can be certified through the class.

Hunters who are 17 and older have the option of taking the course online through several private vendors. Prices differ depending on the source.

For those attending the local class, cost is $15 per hunter and includes all educational material. Hunting licenses are also required to hunt in Texas. Even the youngest hunters have to have a hunting license to hunt legally in the state. Hopkins said licenses start at $7.

For more information or to sign-up, call Hopkins at 325-207-7894.

Kayaking tour Saturday

Spots are still open in the state park tour by kayak which is set to be held Saturday, August 30th. Anyone interested in taking a tour of the Lake Colorado City State Park by kayak should call the state park to sign up immediately.

This Saturday, local kayakers will have the opportunity to go on a three-hour tour of the state park by kayak. Superintendent, Kyle O'Haver said the trek is designed for those who have some experience kayaking and are interested in putting their basic skills to use.

Two tours will be led that day, with the first one beginning at the boat ramp at 9 a.m. that morning. Those participating should be finished around noon. Then, O'Haver and Martinez will take another group out from 4 to 7 p.m. that evening.

Martinez said the morning group is almost full, but there are still spots open for the evening tour. Those planning to join in the adventure should arrive at the park and check in at least 15 minutes early.

O'Haver suggests that participants prepare to spend a lengthy time in the sun on water. Sunblock, weather and water-appropriate clothing are a must, as is water for drinking and snacks as needed.

While the tour will be longer than the beginner courses, O'Haver said that the groups will stop and take a break to allow for some rest time.

For more information, or to sign up, call the park at 325-728-3931.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH San Angelo's Sealy Flats: a blues hotel

Rod Bridgeman of San Angelo has long gray hair and a big smile. "I'm just an old man having fun," he says. And he really is. Why not? He's got his wife, his business and his blues collection.

I first heard of him in connection with his bed and breakfast in downtown San Angelo known as Sealy Flats. Interesting enough name, I thought, so a little after 8 o'clock one morning I started hunting for the man who owns the place. The hunt didn't last long. I knocked on the front door and heard a voice from above say, "I'm up here." He was on the second story balcony of Sealy Flats and I yelled up to him, "I'm Tumbleweed Smith and want to do an interview with you." He replied back, "And who might Tumbleweed Smith be?" I told him I did feature stories about interesting stuff in Texas and he came right down.

We went to the restaurant next door, which he used to own and I found out about Rod Bridgeman. He had a career as a commodities trader and worked in Texas and California. He retired to South Padre Island in 1997, and after a year and a half found it was not to his liking. He told his wife they needed to move somewhere and she could pick the spot as long as it was in Texas. He doesn't like a state income tax. She took a very scientific way of choosing a destination: pulled out a map of Texas, closed her eyes, stuck out her finger, made a circle with it and put it on the map. It landed on San Angelo. "I had heard of it before and thought it was a small town about fifteen hundred, maybe two thousand people," says Rod. "So we took a driving vacation through the hill country and pulled into San Angelo."

The first day they were there his wife saw an old downtown building that was on the verge of falling down. It had been vacant twenty years. She told Rod, "I want that." They bought it as a place to live and spent ten years restoring it. Then they started the bed and breakfast. "In the 1912 City Directory we found the building listed as a hotel and it was called Sealy Flats," says Rod. So we resurrected the name.

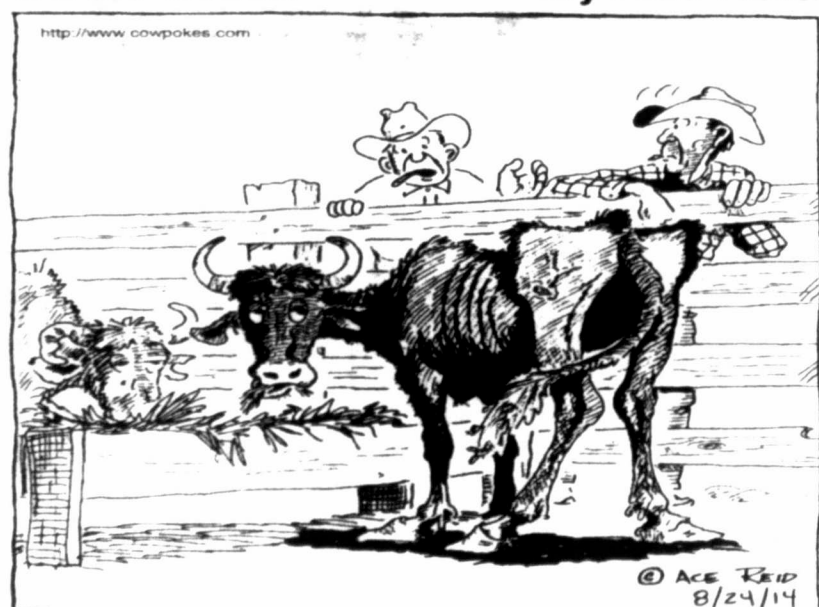

Rod is a blues music fanatic and has turned his building into a blues bed and breakfast. All the doors have names of blues artists. The public bathroom is called Muddy Waters. Names on other doors include T-Bone Walker, Sonny Boy Williams, Freddy King and Etta James. The big suite (which he says is the nicest place to spend the night in San Angelo) is Howling Wolf. "We only have three rooms but all the doors have names on them."

It's kind of a blues museum. Rod has all kinds of blues memorabilia. "We have a lot of local art work, posters from the 1920's to the present, album covers, old 78 records from the 1940's, some instruments and all kinds of stuff hanging on the walls. When he bought the café net door he turned an outside patio into a blues club and started having monthly concerts, which attracted some big names. "Excuse me for my arrogance, but there's not a club anywhere in the southwest United States, including Houston, Austin and Dallas, that has had more big name entertainment than we have had."

Many of the well-known performers played for tips and were given a few nights' stay in Rod's place. "They come here, relax, then get on their way. Some have spent their honeymoon here. It's all about having fun and I'm having the time of my life." Rod is kind of the Pied Piper of blues and the artists seemed happy to be playing there. Now the place has blues every weekend and San Angelo has a big blues festival every May that is practically non-stop music for twenty-four hours. Downtown neighbors don't seem to mind all the activity. "We're downtown," says Rod. "Church bells go off at six in the morning. The dumpsters start at 4:30 AM. If you want quiet, go someplace else."

Are these things the same?

By Charles Earnest Porter

If you look at your wrist watch, you will see that the hours have 60 minutes and the minutes have 60 seconds. Then, if you look at a map, you will see that the degrees have 60 minutes and the minutes also have 60 seconds. Which leads to a question -- are hours and degrees the same?

Come to think about it, numerous of the people in Colorado City may never have seen an ocean "for real", except in a movie or on TV. And, as a result, they have really never actually had any reason to think about degrees of latitude (angles from the earth's equator center toward the poles) or of longitude (angles around the earth parallel to the equator and perpendicular to the degrees of latitude).

Although most of us think of the Earth as being totally round, we actually know that it is a bit flat toward the poles and bulges a little at the equator -- its rotation causes that off-round effect. But, giving ourselves a bit of leeway, we can say that the Earth is round and about 25,000 miles in circumference.

Now we are on firm ground. That means that at the equator, the length of ground covered by a degree of longitude is equal to the length of ground covered by a degree of latitude. Right?

Wrong! Look at it this way. Take two very thin planes of glass, slide one of them through the earth at the equator and one of them through at the 1° N latitude line, just above it. The circular line of the 1° N line is inside the equatorial line. It is just barely shorter -- by 273 miles (25,000 / 90). And think about it -- the 59° N latitude line makes a circle 273 miles in circumference around the North Pole.

Now we can look at Colorado City in a different light. Our North latitude reading is 32°.

You call that a strike? Conflicting judgments

By Monte Wike

We've just been through the baseball World Series and many calls were questioned. When they were, then the game changes, tempers flare, and there is general discontent. Thankfully, there is a TV and computer replay so that we can better understand or challenge the call.

We are prone to question judgment calls in general. It might be the local sports teams from the middle or high schools, it might be from a boss or supervisor. It could be from law enforcement or a judge. It could be in the home or at the work place. It could even be in church. It just seems built-in to question or challenge authority. How could they be more right or better-informed or smarter than we are?

When authority is put to the test, sometimes it will relent or change or see things our way. Opinions can be reversed. But usually the judgment stands and we are compelled or committed to that call. We then have the freedom of choice to follow or reject that decision, but it is always with consequences. We can be struck out, the ball may land foul, or the slide to base just in the nick of time. But there it stands.

When God puts a call on our lives, changes our direction or comfort zone, we need to pay attention. When He rules in judgment against some of our actions or beliefs, then His call is all-wise and irrevocable. We may cry or argue, refuse or get angry with Him, but, like an umpire, He sees things that we do not. If there is a review, then He wins.

Jesus had the religious authorities questioning his calls and actions many times. They saw things their (the only) way, He said, "Here's what I say." Tradition and set ways were challenged. When they refused to listen, He traded them off and got a different team.

"You call that a strike?" Yes, and the decision stands!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,

Deeded land is a portion of the surface of the earth along with the ground there under -- both diminishing to the center.

The pre-eminent, supreme law of the land is the constitution. Private property rights and the liberty to exclusively enjoy them are vital constituents.

The state-patented private property parcels of land -- surface and subsurface -- along with oil, gas, water and minerals, in the ground, as well as the ground. Fluids and gas are subject to the legal rule of capture.

The majority of the late, great America has been convinced by politicians that "god" entitled them to enjoy the property which exists. That private property is rightfully confiscated through taxes and regulation and distributed to citizens who, earned, saved and invested less. Thusly, the majority elects representatives who routinely violate the law of the land.

As a pilot of old, my gyroscope compass had natural drift; it was necessary from time to time, to correct the drift to true magnetic north which was stable. The majority of the late great America has drifted from the constitution so far that it is irrelevant. This always ends in a socialist tyranny. America and most of the world, has lost its rudder and its compass, the constitution.

Our water boards are conceived out of the notion that everybody is entitled by "god" to enjoy anything which exists. And that privately owned ground water must be saved and protected for the public.

To this end they have imposed a "10 year plan". This is a plan to expand tyranny -- not water. A plan based on incompetent geology (expensive as it is) and legal gibberish piled higher than the IRS code. The private property rights of landowners do not exist, nor is the protection from search and seizure.

Five sixths of the earth is under water. It will become expensive, but we will have water.

The only obstacle is the very tyranny which rationed and regulates our water supply while it diminishes. It means more and more tyranny and less and less available water.

In communism everybody is equal, but "some of us are more equal than others". Irrigation farmers are equal but less equal. But your property rights may be next.

Time to dust off that compass and get feet on the rudder!

Tea anyone?

"One thing about Albany is their execution. They really execute their offense and defense really well", Head Coach Dan Gainey said.

The Lions have nearly every skill player returning from a 13-1 2013 season.

"We scrimmaged Albany the past few years because we have a lot of respect for coach Faith and the successful program he has," Gainey said.

Coming off a good scrimmage against Snyder coach Gainey said the Wolves "showed a lot of improvement from the Anson scrimmage."

Foundation's 'Casino Night' offers unique entertainment

A night of unique entertainment is in store for those planning to attend the Roaring 20s Casino Night, a fundraising event that will benefit the Mitchell County Hospital District Charitable Foundation. The evening of fun is set for Saturday, September 6th, and it promises a casino-type experience in an elegant atmosphere.

Everyone planning to attend the event, which will be held at The Copper Press on Oak Street, is encouraged to dress in costume or elegant attire. MCHD Community Relations Director Audra Hoback said that dressy, nice banquet attire is suggested, and they welcome anyone who would like to dress in 20s fashions as well.

The action begins at 6 p.m. and lasts until 10 that night. There will be casino favorites such as Texas Hold 'Em, Blackjack, Roulette and Craps. Additional chips can be purchased should players' luck run out. A casino company out of Lubbock will provide the gaming equipment and professional dealers.

Tickets for the themed event are $75 each and include a hors d'oeuvre buffet, two beverage tickets (beer or wine) and $2,000 of playing chips.

Hoback said that Linda Clay and her jazz band will provide musical entertainment for the evening. The band will be set up outside in the courtyard, and the doors will be opened to provide a "Great Gatsby-ish atmosphere."

At the end of the evening, guest may cash their chips out for raffle tickets that can be used to enter them in drawings for prizes donated by several local merchants.

"We have some terrific prizes," Hoback said Tuesday. Drawings will be held for a 24" Visio Smart TV, a DeWalt tool set, gift certificates, a food processor, knives, and much more.

A silent auction will also be held with hospital officials expecting to raise funds with fantastic items such as a handmade quilt, a spa day for two, tickets to see The Nutcracker performed by the Moscow Ballet in Dallas, and two great seats for the Texas Tech vs. University of Texas game.

"The MCHD Charitable Foundation was established to support special projects of the hospital and all proceeds from this event will benefit the new building and expansion of Family Medical Associates, MCHD's Rural Health Clinic," said Robbie Dewberry, MCHD CEO.

Tickets are limited, so those interested in attending should contact Audra Hoback at the hospital as soon as possible by calling (325) 728-3431 ext. 7602 or emailing ahoback@mitchell-countyhospital.com.

The first TDA grant, in the amount of $750,000, was issued to help pay for the extension of sewer and water lines east to the site of the planned Stripes Travel Center. Engineers are seeking bids to begin the project which will bore under I-20.

Another $460,000 was granted to the city to extend lines west under I-20 to provide for the construction of the Studio 6 and Super 8 motels. While the city still does not have cash in hand, official notifications has been made and city officials have signed agreements stipulating the receipt of the grants.

ballot as he was seeking re-election to the office of House Representative of District 83.

Since Charles Perry withdrew from the race, it fell on members of the District Executive Committee for House District 83 to appointment a candidate to be named on the ballot. Teresa Beckmeyer, county chair for Mitchell County, represented Mitchell County on the committee.

The committee met last Thursday in Brownfield to interview prospective candidates.

Committee Chair Bradford L. Moore announced last week that Dustin Burrows has been selected as the replacement Republican nominee.

Delwin Jones, John Key, Steve Massengale and Sondra Ziegler also interviewed for the nomination.

Because Charles Perry was running unopposed, Burrows will also run unopposed and will represent District 83 in the upcoming legislative session in January.

Plans underway for goat cook-off

Colorado City Firefighter Tom Carlock was in the Record office Tuesday morning making an effort to remind citizens that it is almost time for the annual CCVFD fundraiser boer goat cook-off. Preparations have already begun, and applications will start being taken on September 1st.

Carlock said the cook-off is set for Friday and Saturday, October 3rd and 4th and will be held, as usual, in Ruddick Park. This will be the 19th consecutive year for the cook-off and all proceeds benefit the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department.

Those wishing to enter may pick up an application form at the C-City fire station on or after Monday, September 1st. Out-of-town residents needing an application should call the fire station at 325-728-5252 and forms will be mailed out.

VOTE NOW – C-City native Freddy Salazar (right) is part of the Tejano band, Los Banger Broz, which is up for the Best New Artist-Group award at the Tejano Music Awards. Lead singer Martin Hernandez Jr. has also been nominated as Best New Male Artist. Votes are being cast at www.tejanomusicawards.com/awards-show/2014-general-ballot until August 29th. Salazar looking for local support for music awards

Colorado City native Freddy Salazar, along with band members of Los Banger Broz, have an opportunity to win an award, and he is counting on support from his hometown. Los Banger Broz has been nominated for two Tejano Music Awards, and the public has the chance to vote for the band, as well as the lead vocalist of the group.

Los Banger Broz, hailing from San Antonio, is made up of Salazar, Martin Hernandez Jr. and Mark Hernandez. They have been nominated for Best New Group and Martin has been nominated for Best New Male Artist.

The band's sound is described as being unique, as it crosses over the lines of Tejano, Rock, Conjunto and more.

Salazar is excited about the opportunity to win in two categories. "Very few people get to live their dreams. Less of those people are blessed with the opportunity to win an award for chasing them," he said Monday morning.

The band needs all the support they can gather, as votes are being cast now to decide the fate of those nominated. A Facebook page devoted to Los Banger Broz sports a link to voting.

Ballots can be cast at www.tejanomusicawards.com/awards-show/2014-general-ballot. Voting ends at midnight on Friday, August 29th, and Salazar would like to urge his friends in his hometown to vote for Los Banger Broz and Martin Hernandez Jr.

Volunteers needed for Main Street

With the city council's recent decision to maintain Colorado City's title as a Texas Main Street City, comes an obstacle of a different variety. In order for the Main Street program to benefit downtown businesses, much work has to be done and funds must be raised to accomplish the tasks at hand.

Following a public hearing regarding the 4% tax increase last Wednesday, the council discussed the Main Street Program and what it will take to re-energize it.

Councilman Ed Blake said that he is already serving on the Main Street board and expressed his intention to continue. More board members are needed to fill open spots, and City Secretary Donna Madrid said there can be as few as five.

City Manager David Hoover said that he is looking, especially, for people who own businesses downtown to serve, as they are the ones most directly affected by Main Street.

According to the Texas Historical Commission website, there are 87 official Texas Main Street communities across Texas that range in population from 2,000 to more than 20,000. The nationwide program began over 30 years ago, and Texas has been participating since that time.

The mission of the program is "to provide technical expertise, resources and support for Texas communities in the preservation and revitalization of historic downtowns and commercial neighborhood districts in accord with the National Main Street Four Point Approach of organization, economic restructuring, design and promotion."

While that may sound good, what it really takes is some community-spirit and good, old-fashioned elbow grease. "Unless you have some volunteers working on things, it (Main Street) is virtually useless," Hoover said.

Former Main Street coordinator Amie Wood left her post in May, and the program has been without a director since that time. Newcomer Carla Kern has been named as Wood's successor, a first step in revitalizing the program.

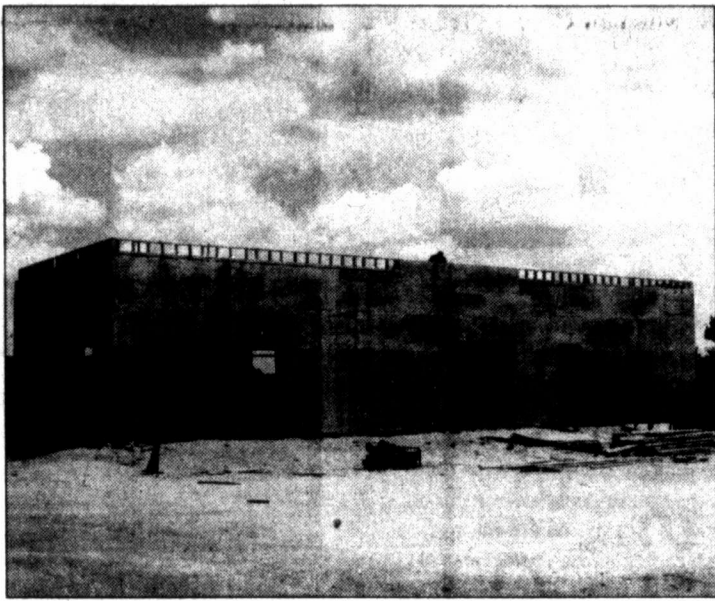

City employee Denna Dickard had many good things to say about Kern. "She's very outgoing, energetic, and likeable," she said. "She also said that she's detail-oriented, so that's a plus."

While the state provides "support" of sorts, Main Street cities are left with the Herculean task of raising enough funds to issue sign and façade grants, as well as paying the salary of a director, along with other tasks. Hoover said that some of the funds needed may come in the form of grants, and that's something Kern will be learning about in the first few weeks of the job.

Hoover also said that a set of written rules needs to be drafted, approved and put into place by the board. He suggested that board members meet with downtown store owners to get their suggestions.

Anyone interested in serving on the board or volunteering on any level is encouraged to call Madrid at City Hall at 325-728-5331.

COOKING SOON - Construction of the new Golden Chick Restaurant is progressing quickly. Owner John Hagan said that once construction begins, it usually takes about 90 days to complete.

Friends of Lake C-City elect officers

Officers were elected and initial plans were made, as the growing group forming the Friends of Lake Colorado City State Park met again last week. Friends met at the park's recreational hall at 7 p.m. last Thursday evening.

Officers of the organization were elected during the meeting. Cheryl Johnson will serve as president, Scooter McGaha will be vice president, Debbie Mace will take on duties as secretary, and Ryan Fime will be taking care of the treasurer duties.

After officers were elected, Park Superintendent Kyle O'Haver split up and passed around various sections of articles of organization that members will be looking at and tweaking to make them applicable to the local state park group.

Once all changes have been made and the articles are adopted by the group and O'Haver, the organization will be ready to apply for nonprofit status.

The troupe has applied for a $400 grant from Texans for State Parks which, if awarded, will be enough to apply for nonprofit status and open a bank account for future transactions.

The Friends of Lake Colorado City State Park is new but is growing. While only three supporters attended the last meeting, Johnson said that there were seven supporters and three park employees, O'Haver, Martha Martinez and George Lytle, attending the most recent meeting.

Johnson expressed an interest in seeing the organization grow, as its purpose is to help keep the park in good repair, as well as funding special projects, improvements and enhancements. She said that while park maintenance is supplied by the Texas Parks and Wildlife agency, supporting groups can by-pass much of the red tape if they can supply funding for things that are needed.

While the assembly will be raising funds and awareness about the local park, O'Haver will be responsible for coming up with projects, programs and potential improvements.

On Saturday, August 30th, a three-hour tour of the state park by kayak will be held, and Martinez is working on holding a 5K walk/run at the park as well.

For more information about the Friends of Lake Colorado City State Park or any programs, please contact the park by calling 325-728-3931.

Main Street director named

A change in leadership of the Main Street program is in the works for Colorado City, and a new Main Street Director has been named as part of the forward progress. Carla Kern, a relative newcomer to the area, has been selected as the next captain of the downtown revitalization program.

Kern moved to Colorado City a little over a year and a half ago, as her husband, Chris, was transferred to the Morgan Creek Power Plant as part of his job with Luminant Energy.

Kern has been working at Hutchinson Elementary and will continue to do so until September 3rd. She will take over the Main Street reigns on September 4th. She is filling the position once held by Amie Wood, who has pledged to help Kern when she needs it.

The Kern family moved to Mitchell County from Georgetown, and Carla had worked in the natural gas industry for 20 years. When she moved here, the plan was for her to stay at home, but it became evident pretty quickly that she would need to find something to do.

Being an outgoing, energetic people-person, she went to Hutchinson Elementary and asked if she could volunteer.

Though school officials were surprised by her charitable spirit, they put her to work, and it wasn't long before they suggested she join the substitute teacher list.

She has been "subbing" at Hutchinson for some time and recently took on a part-time position helping with P.E. classes at the school. When she saw that the city needed a director for the Main Street program, she thought it would fit her personality and she applied.

Living in big cities or in the suburbs of bigger cities for most of her life, Kern did admit to a certain amount of culture shock. When asked what she found shocking, she said it has to be "the critters" she finds in and around her home out here in west Texas.

"I hate snakes, and I'm always looking for critters," she said.

She also said that the lack of shopping options concerned her and her daughters when they first moved here. However, she's found that though the mileage is much further, she doesn't spend much more time in the car on her way to the mall than she did living in Georgetown.

Carla and Chris are the parents of two daughters, Makenzie, who is attending school and playing sports at Colorado High School, and Mallory, a 5th grader at Hutchinson whose "life is softball." As far as activities are concerned, Carla says they do what the kids are doing.

As Main Street Director, Kern will be planning events, learning to write grants and reporting to the state, as part of her job duties. She said she is especially looking forward to getting to know the community.

"Sometimes as outsiders, it's hard to learn everything," she said, "so this should help."

Now that the revitalization program has a director again, volunteers are needed to help get things going in the right direction. Anyone wishing to volunteer their time, talents or money is urged to contact City Secretary Donna Madrid at City Hall by calling 325-728-5331.

Sales tax revenue up for year

While Colorado City's sales tax rebates saw a slight decrease, overall sales tax allocations are up over 19% for the Mitchell County seat in 2014. The county saw a 5% drop in sales tax payments, which are based on sales made in June.

Colorado City is scheduled to receive $67,325.77 from the Texas Comptroller's office, down from $75,342.05 in July. However, payments received for the year this far, show that sales tax collections are up almost $100,000 from this same time last year.

Loraine, like Colorado City, saw a small decrease in sales in June. The city to the east expects to receive over $2,100, as compared to the $2,200 received in August 2013. Loraine's sales tax payments are up over 6% in 2014 as a whole.

The story looks a little brighter for Westbrook, as the city saw a sharp rise of almost 27% in sales tax allocations compared to last month. The increase comes to almost $1,000 more for the city, which has seen a 1.6% decrease for the year.

According to a story in the Snyder Daily News, Snyder recorded its best sales month of the year in June. The 16% jump in rebate payments amounts to $392,871.49 this month. Overall, sales are up for the Scurry County city, as the town has received over $320,000 more in 2014 than last year.

State Comptroller Susan Combs said state sales tax revenue totaled $2.34 billion, up 6.3% compared to 2013.

"The growth in sales tax revenues reflected strength in both business and consumer spending," she said. "The increase was led by remittances from the construction, services and oil and natural gas-related sectors, as well as from retail trade and restaurants. Fiscal year-to-date, state sales tax collections are now up 5.3%.

WALK AROUND THE TOWN

By Ginny Harmon

It has been a great month for me. There is coffee for everyone on Wednesday mornings at the apartments where I live, and Joyce Morton, manager, had a great meal for everyone the 18th at 11 a.m. We played bingo at 10 a.m. with Sharon Dockrey doing the calling. What fun! And she had some candy gifts for whoever won.

I laughed at Bess Lamb who said she had a sore neck looking out her door at the people outside. She really can see a lot where she lives.

Jim Bo Morgan tells us stories of his mom doing different things, and he can remember it all.

Judy Walker talked about growing up in Breckenridge. She said she had 58 in her class when she graduated.

Gert Kartvedsky was walking after taking a fall.

Connie Rodriguez's great-grandson was visiting her. He lives in Comanche and his name is Nate.

Now my troubles: My air conditioner went out last week and when it got fixed, then my TV went out overnight. In the morning the phones were dead. Then I was cleaning my commodes and when I flushed, sand came back up. All is fixed now, but do you think someone is telling me something?

Now what great news I have! Linda Baum came back to my now-destroyed home last week. I went to see her at Vickie's and she came running and tried climbing up my pants.

We loved each other and I cried, she cried, and I sat with her a long time. I could not take her with me, but I will be back to see her as much as I can. She was so thin.

Saw Brenda and Charley Shiflett at church. She is really doing good. I also saw Charlotte Clemmer, Maxine Dannheim, Ellen Newby, Tommie Williams, Wanda Lowry, Bess Lamb, Glenda, Jim Bo, Sharon and Ron Mayberry.

Debby Mitchell played the piano and Crystal sang a beautiful song. Thanks, Crystal. Pastor James gave quite a sermon at New Life Bible Ministries.

Ok I named the two squirrels. The big one is Mercy and the small one is Sakes. Doree (terror dog) tries to go after them. She sees a grasshopper and goes nuts chasing it.

Am I happy? Yes, I don't drive much anymore, but I have a good routine each day.

Jim Baum, what a miracle. You have done so good. I think of you and Linda often.

Charleen Hayes (I heard) was a little under the weather. When you listened to her sing it was remarkable. Hope she gets better and better. Keep singing, Charleen. What blessings she gives us.

I saw Bill and Doris McClellan, what a wonderful couple.

Glenda Stinson brought me the most beautiful plant. Thanks Glenda. Also, Sendia and Ed Blake, Kiefer and Aubry Nell Cauble came by and I loved every minute.

I saw Sharon and Ron Mayberry's donkeys. JJ, Jack and Jill are actually beautiful. They heehaw for Sharon like she is there mom. JJ jumps all over Jack.

Oh yes, at this senior citizens apartment, there is a woman who is so kind and caring and her name is Brandie. She is our maintenance person. I hope she never leaves.

ing at 2 p.m. It's a day of cheap entertainment, with adults admitted for $5 each and kids 12 and under for $2. There's a $30 entry fee for anyone wanting to fly through the mud pit, and there will be a 100% payout.

Wolves look to improve on last season's record

For Colorado City and second year head coach Dan Gainey, most of the pieces seem to be in place to improve on last season's 2-8 (0-5 district) record.

The Wolves return 9 starters on offense and 6 on defense including 5 All-District players from last season.

Working in the Wolves' favor is the fact second year defensive coordinator Ray Carroll now has a year of his system under his belt, which should allow the defense to get more practice reps and not spend time learning a new system.

Staying healthy will also be crucial. Last season in game 2, wide receiver Jonathan Jackson tore his ACL and was lost for the season. Jackson was a first team All-District receiver as a sophomore in 2012. While the Wolves are bigger, stronger and more experienced this year, depth will be a problem if injuries start piling up.

The Wolves are in Class 3-3A DII with several old familiar foes. Post has been picked to win the district, followed by Coleman, Stanton, The Wolves, Ballinger and Coahoma. Four teams will advance to the play-offs.

Last year's All-District selections returning for the Wolves include senior quarterback Dillion Gainey, the district's returning passer with 1,916 yards and 12 TDs last season. Junior Trinnon Jackson was a first team selection at wide receiver and David Sanchez, a senior, was a second team running back selection. Isaiah Jennings, was also a second team selection at wide receiver and will be a junior this year. Junior Mark Munoz a second team defensive back and senior kicker Alan DeSantiago also returns for the Wolves.

Also, a major factor in the team's success will be senior leadership. Seniors this year are Alex Salinas, Austin Brown, David Sanchez, Dillion Gainey, Emanuel Ventura, Israel Beltran, Jeremiah Salazar, Jonathon "Pip" Jackson, Nick Palacios, Keandre Malveaux, Olivar Sosa, Alan DeSantiago and Tom Rivera.

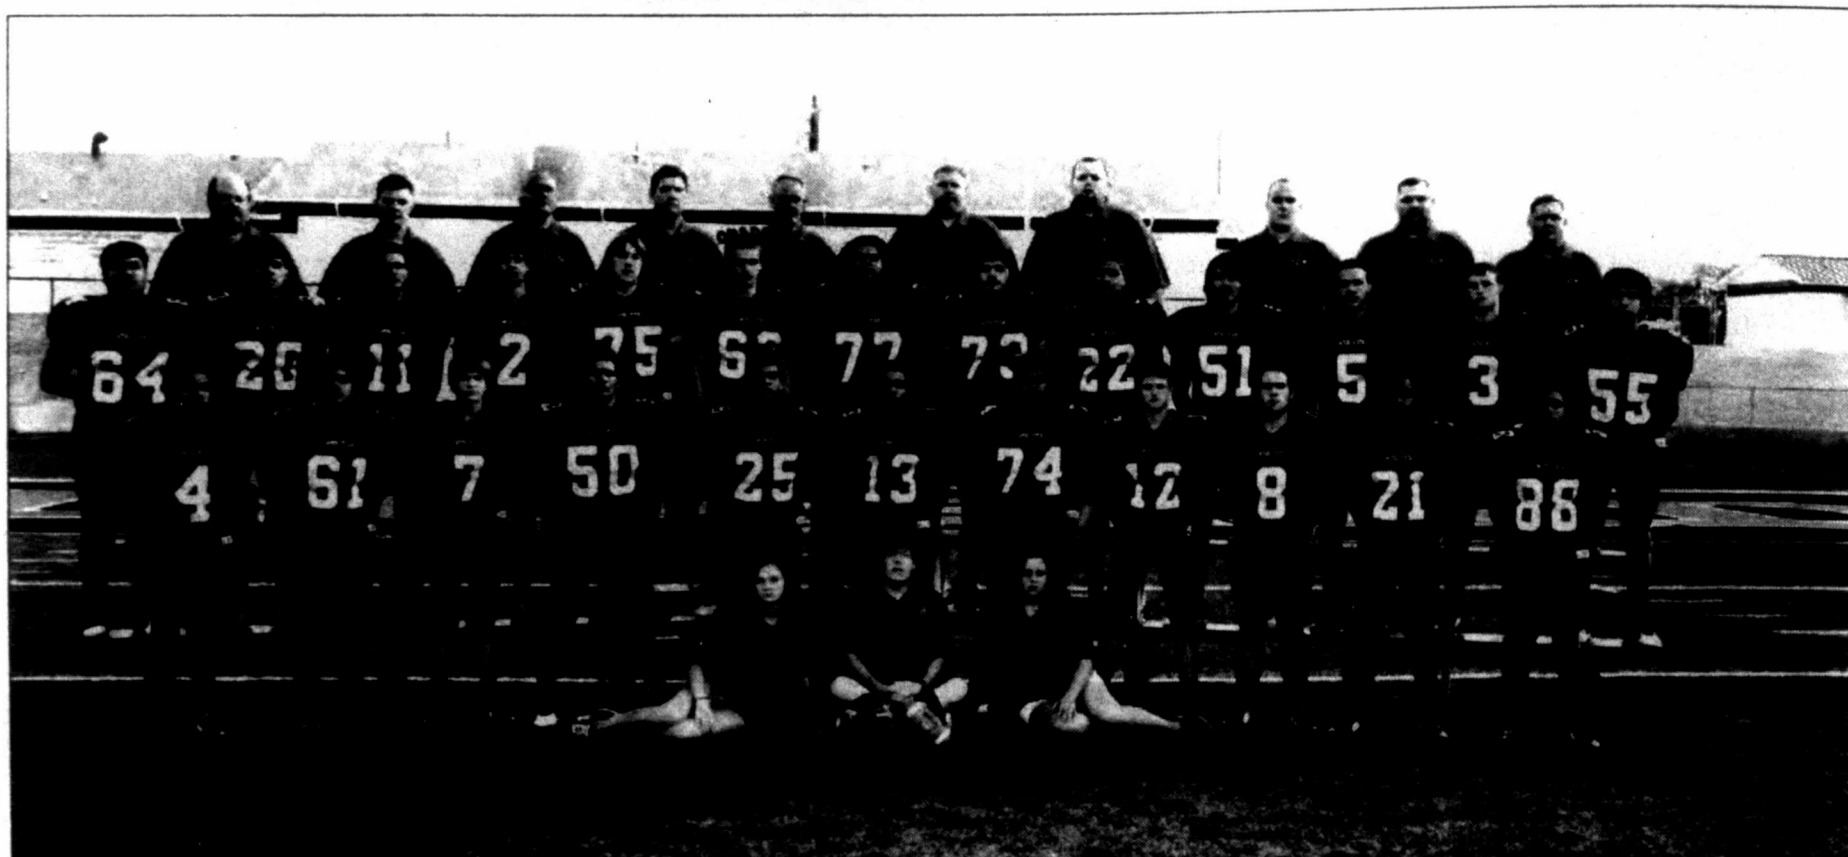

TIGERS ON HIS TAIL - Colorado City's Trinnon Jackson (5) ran for a first down during the Wolves' scrimmage against Anson at Wolf Stadium. The Wolves open the season on the road Friday night against Albany, on the the state's best 2A football programs.

Coach Kyle Hauk

Bulldogs ready for next great season

The Loraine Bulldogs enjoyed their best season as a six-man team last year, posting a 9-1 regular season record and a District Championship, Bi-District Championship, and Regional Championship.

A loss to Grand-Falls Royalty in the quarterfinals ended an outstanding season. With six seniors graduating, one might think this is a rebuilding year after an 11-2 season.

How about just reloading as a talented group of players return including the District's offensive MVP in junior Patrick Tillis and Dakota Delgado, a junior first team All-District selection at wide receiver.

Leading sophomores returning include Oscar Gonzalez, utility player and safety

J.T. Cooper, both 2nd team All-District picks last year.

No seniors are on this squad but lots of experience returns from the sophomore and junior classes.

"Our depth is not what it was last year, and we're concerned about that," third year Coach Kyle Hauk said this week. "Several young players saw a lot of playing time last year and that will help."

The Bulldogs are in District 7-1A DII six-man with Trent, Blackwell and Moran.

The Bulldogs are coming off back-to-back district championships and have lots of momentum as the 2014 season kicks off Saturday night in Midland against Midland Trinity.

Kick-off time is 8 p.m.

Pigskin Preview set September 1st at Wolf Stadium

The annual Labor Day Pigskin Preview is set for Monday, September 1, at 7:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

Football player introductions will be made, along with volleyball, cheerleader, and flags.

The Wolves varsity, JV and 7th and 8th grade teams will also be introduced.

Wolf Stadium named one of Top 10

A list of the top ten football stadiums in the Big Country according to ARN Sports Staff was published recently.

Wolf Stadium was rated number 7. The number 1 venue to play football was the Mustang Bowl in Sweetwater, followed by Gordon Wood Stadium in Brownwood, Shorwell in Abilene, Buckaroo Stadium in Breckenridge, Tiger Stadium in Snyder, Wylie Stadium and number 7 Wolf Stadium in Colorado City. The 8th, 9th, 10th are Cisco, Albany and Gorman.

Here is what they said about Wolf Stadium: Similar to Sweetwater's Mustang Bowl in design, but much smaller in scale, Wolf Stadium is a beautiful West Texas venue and a popular spot for teams to schedule postseason games.

With a "sunken bowl" look, excellent turf and spacious field-house and press box, Wolf Stadium is one of the premiere small school venues in all of Texas.

"Growing up in Ballinger, I remember going to Colorado City and watching the teams come down the field and thinking it was like watching a game at Clemson," Ballinger coach Justin Wiley said. "I always thought that was a really cool part of playing there."

WOLF STADIUM STATS

Playing surface: Artificial

Capacity: More than 4,000 seats plus limited standing room

Opened: 1951

Unique feature: A large flight of steps from the field house to the playing surface, by which both teams enter the field.

Wildcats start season with experience

Westbrook enters the 2014 season with a group of juniors and seniors that have gained a lot of valuable experience the last couple of years.

Lessons learned the past two years should improve the chance for success this season.

Re-alignment last February sent the Wildcats from DII to Division I with powerhouse teams Ira and Highland. Rounding out District 7 1A will be Hermleigh. Ira is picked to win the district title.

The Wildcats will be lead by last year's All-District utility player Jay Williams. He was also selected the All-District punter last year. Williams is expected to be a receiver, tailback and quarterback in certain situations this year.

Junior Bryson Dominguez will quarterback the Wildcats this year.

Also returning is the districts "Newcomer of the Year" in sophomore Robert Booth. Also, All-District receiver Donovan Harvey and Andrew Fuentes return this season.

The Wildcats are coached by Randall Petty, now in his third season at the helm with help from assistant coaches Homer Matlock and Jake Diggs.

Twenty-two Wildcats suited up for pre-season drills that should up see a Wildcat team much improved over last year.

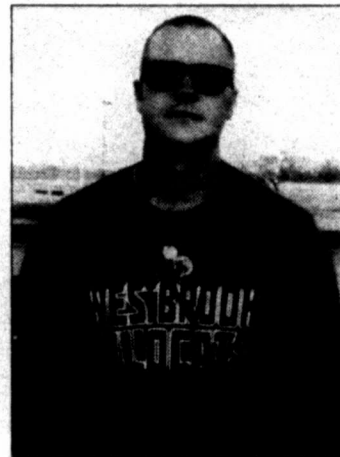

WESTBROOK JUST COMPLETED two successful pre-season scrimmages as they prepare for the regular season opener Friday night.
