Truck Driver Killed

Crushed When Truck Load of Casing Overturns on Hill West of Old Hansford

Ernest C. Bowlin, age 20, was instantly killed, Saturday afternoon, when the truck load of casing he was driving overturned on a hill, west of old Hansford, the body being shipped to his home in Bristow, Oklahoma, Sunday morning.

Bowlin was working on a truck line, belonging to H. L. Beonaugh, Bristow, and was driving from Guymon, Okla., to Pampa. Just before his death he was heard to say to a companion driving another truck, "The brakes are not good, will have them fixed at Spearman." The accident occured when he lost control of the truck on the last hill before reaching Spearman and the machine turned over on a sharp curve, crushing Bowlin under the load.

Wreck Pontiac Coupe

Car Turns Over While Traveling at High Rate of Speed in Soft Dirt

Hitting the soft dirt at the edge of the road while traveling at a high rate of speed and trying to dodge a car coming in from a side road, the Pontiac coupe belonging to J. A. McWilliams was turned over Saturday night and wrecked, on the road west of town.

Harold McWilliams, Horace Mann, and Berl Messerole were in the car when the accident occured, but outside of being scratched and bruised, received no serious injuries.

The Revival meeting held at the McMillen school house by Rev. E. G. Pennington closed Sunday night, after a very successful week. The house was filled to its capacity Sunday night. Three services with well filled lunch baskets was the program of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Barber, of Spearman were shopping in Perryton Wednesday.

TO COVER PRACTICALLY ENTIRE CITY. WILL COST ABOUT $70,000

PETITION WILL BE PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL AT NEXT MEETING ASKING THEM TO CALL ELECTION FOR BOND ISSUE

The Devlin Engineering Company of Amarillo, the firm commissioned by the city coucil to draw up plans and estimates for a sewer system and disposal plant for Perryton, have completed their survey. They made their report at a recent meeting. The estimate calls for a sewer system which will cover practically all of the city. It will extend several blocks east of Main street and west to one block west of the school house, taking in everything south of the Santa Fe tracks

The estimated cost is $70,000. This estimate ihcludes the installation of an Imhoff disposal plant which is one of the very latest and best on the market. Mr. Ryan, a represntative of the Devlin company, informs us that the system proposed by them for Perryton will take care of a city three times as large.

A petition will be presented to the council at their next meeting requesting them to call an election for the purpose of approving an issuance of bonds to install the plant as proposed. There is little question but what that this election will carry. Perryton needs a sewer system and needs it at once. Sanitary conditions are becoming worse every day with the rapid growth and congestion.

The city now has $60,000 which was received from the sale of the light plant. We understand that approximately $30,000 of this amount will be used for the purpose of providing additional water supply, a large underground water storage reservoir and the building of a city hall. This leaves about $30,000 which will be used for the purchase of sewer bonds, leaving only about $40,000 to be sold.

MARSHAL'S RACE DECLARED A TIE

COUNCIL SETS NEXT MONDAY APRIL EIGHTEENTH, FOR RUN-OFF ELECTION

The members of the city council at their meeting on Tuesday evening, declared that a tie existed in the race for city marshal between J. B. Nash and Frank Caradine. At the regular city election, which was held on Tuesday, April 5th., Mr. Nash received 100 votes, while Mr. Carradine got 101 but it developed that one vote for Mr. Nash was not counted by the election board, they deeming it an illegal vote.

It is expected that considerable interest will be developed in this run-off contest. Both of the candidates are worthy men and they have many friends who will be working for their favorite.

On the same ballot will be a place for the lection of an alderman to succeed Ed Littleton who has resigned as a member of the city council. Mr. Littleton has one year longer to serve but in view of the fact that he spends a greater part of his time in the lower Rio Grande valley, he has tendered his resignation.

Judge George M. Perry has been appointed an election manager.

Mrs. M. R. Coffee, who has been ill for a couple of weeks, went to Shattuck, Oklahoma, Tuesday where she will be given medical treatment.

Miss Dorothy McLarty, daugther of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McLarty, took seriously ill the fore part of the week and was taken to the Liberal hospital Friday morning. She is improving and will soon be able to return home.

C. M. Tepe, who is connected with the White House Lumber company, Canadian, Texas, was here Friday and Saturday looking after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Whippo were Shattuck vistors last Saturday.

Allen M. Wilbanks Jr., Amarillo, was attending to business here the middle of the week.

The Perryton club has been playing good baseball this season, but is apt to run up against stiffer competition than met so far, when the Goodwell college team plays the locals here Saturday.

Both games will no doubt be good ones and well worth attending.

WHAT PRICE EDUCATION?

Foot ball looms large in the interest of the nation. It is associated almost wholly with our institutions of learning and is conceded the leader of sports, both in college and high school.

This leads to a speculation as to the relative position of the country's sports and its education. Education is the very life of the nation—sports its pastime. The former, like our water and air, is taken for granted and almost considered routine; the latter is dramatic, impulsive and full of motion.

We are not belittling the value of sports in the life of people. We recognize their unifying influence in our institutions. It is a healthful sign when our citizens grow in their love for outdoor play. There is a tendency, however, to indulge in these exercises and sports purely by proxy.

It is a fact that the nation's expenditure for spectacular sports makes the outlay for education look insignificant. We have recently completed the World Baseball series which approached a million and a quarter gate receipts; our last big prize fight, two million dollars. This latter figure is but a fraction of the cost of the fight when the other expenses of the fans are estimated. The American public paid this price for a two-man combat that lasted a total of thirty-nine minutes, and yet in this country we spend but a million and a half dollars yearly to train twenty-three million boys and girls for a fight that lasts an average approximately thirty-nine years.

There is another angle to this viewpoint of relative values.. A middle western metropolitan newspaper sold 50,000 more copies the morning after the Dempsey-Tunney fight than it did the morning after the election of November 2nd. Sport news is, therefore, looked upon as a matter of great importance by the newspapers, and, based upon public demand, naturally so. As a specialized subject it increasingly outranks the space of any other department in the day"s news. When the Corbett-Sullivan fight took place in 1892 a newspaper not overly devoted to sports printed more than seven columns about it during the two weeks immediately preceding the contest. In 1923, for a like period previous to the Dempsey-Firpo battle, the same paper used thirty-eight columns. In the Dempsey-Tunney fight this year the same paper used ninety columns.

No process of thinking can lead us to conclude that education has gained a corresponding emphasis. Nor will it, until we have a shifting of demand on the part of the public.

We believe in the manly art of self-defense. Our conception of the greatest self-defense, either for the individual or the nation, is education. It costs less and gives more.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas is the chief beef cattle producing state.

The original Longhorn cattle that used to cover the ranges of Texas are practically all gone through introduction of good stock.

Longhorn cattle came from Mexico and Spain at the time of building of the old missions that are still to be seen in Texas.

Texas cattle were marketed prior to the late seventies by driving over long trails which have become historic. These trails generally led to railroads in Kansas.

About 1890 barbed wire fencing began to restrict the open cattle range in Texas and this marked the beginning of improvement in cattle breeds.

SQUANDERING OIL WEALTH.
200% MORE BABY SHOES.
USELESS RECORD BREAKING.
TILL SHE DIE?

Mr. Teagle, president of New Jersey Standard Oil, warns oil men that they are cutting their own throats. This country is treating the nation's oil wealth as unintelligently as frontiersmen treated the herds of bison. The bisons soon vanished.

Oil is actually being sold for less than it costs to produce, cheerful for buyers, but it will not last.

Millions are spent developing new wells to increase competition while oil companies are carrying 530,000,000 barrels of oil stored above ground at an annual cost, loss and waste of $30,000,000.

The country's national oil wealth is not merely private wealth.

It is a great national asset and the way should be found to give oil production some national control and stop waste.

You are told many things about prohibition, for and against. R. H. Davidson, writing from Coronado Beach, California, asks, "Do you know to know that the sale of children's shoes has increased 400 per cent per annum since prohibition came?"

Everybody will agree that 400 per cent more shoes for children, combined with larger savings bank deposits, is a strong argument for prohibition, assuming those things to be results of prohibition.

Those that would modify the Volstead Act say the average man is earning about twice what he earned before the war, and increased earnings, not the absence of beer, explain better savings and more children's shoes.

A coal strike of a sort was started last week in what is called "the natural competitive field." Union men in the North cannot compete with non-union men farther South.

The alleged attempt to reduce wages in the North would cause still further reduction of wages in the South. Industry and business are not civilized while it is necessary for employes to engage in periodical battles, at the expense of the workers' wives and children, to decide what is fair pay. Some impartial third party should fix wages. The public pays in the price of coal.

Segrave, British beat the world's automobile record last week, flying over the sands of Daytona Beach in Florida at a speed greater than 166 miles an hour. His racing car, the "Mystery S," looking like a submarine on land, broke the American record by ten miles an hour. It's an achievement interesting, but not useful. No automobile can go USEFULLY 166 miles an hour, or 100 miles an hour.

Up in the air, where the road is wide, is the place for real speed.

At Lyons in Georgia, men on trial for kidnaping and flogging the Rev. E. J. Jones, Jr., wore hoods. One had a pistol, another waved a sword. They told Mr. Jones they did not approve his moral conduct, drove him off in a car, held him down, beat him with a leather strap.

The clergyman testifies "After I was set free I started off down the road singing 'How Beautiful Heaven Must Be'." During the beating he had prayed aloud. Such fortitude is MOST unusual.

Now New York may have to decide about executing Mrs. Ruth Snyder, young, blond, curly-haired widow, aged thirty-two, who recently confessed she helped another man murder her husband.

She says she now loathes the man that did the killing. He seems to have borrowed a suggestion from his original ancestor, Adam. Friends say he was hypnotized by the woman whose husband he killed.

If human nature, public opinion and the course of events work as usual, the man will be executed and the woman sentenced to life imprisonment. There seems to be a psychological objection to strapping women in the electric chair.

We do not need war with China, and it would not be a righteous war, once we have rescued our nationals.

Having told Asiatics that they may not live here, it would be playing the hypocrite and bully to object to China's decision that she does not want us, or Europeans, on her soil. If we may exclude Asiatics justly, China may, with equal justice, exclude us.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas has ranked fifth among the states in population for the past three federal census periods.

The average population per square mile in the United States is 35.5 which lacks only one-tenth of being double that of Texas which is 17.8.

Potter county has the largest percentage in Texas of population living in towns and cities with 92.7 per cent.

Ninety-four and eight-tenths per cent of the population of Hartley County lives in the country, that county leading in Texas percentage of rural population.

Twenty states have a larger per centage of rural population than Texas.

WILL MAKE U. S. LEARN. WE'RE GETTING MORAL. BUYING FORGIVENESS. CHINA'S AWAKENING.

For one thing we should be grateful. Our cousins in Europe will teach us to fly, whether we want to learn or not. The British expect to send to New York next fall an airship "as big as the Mauretaina," with room for 100 passangers. That will be one good lesson.

The French Academy of Sciences, a most serious body, says that Margoulis, a French engineer, has perfected a helicopter flying machine. Such a machine, enabling you to fly and rise directly from the ground, would give the inventor wealth unlimited and would be the best invention since the start of the Wright Brothers. With a hielcopter in good order you could start from the roof of your apartment house or office building, go where you like, and land on any other roof or office building..

The jazz period in dances and in morals is passing in Christendom and pagen lands. Turkey is suppressing immoral dances; Japan is dealing seriously with the social evil; "all governments," says a report, "are occupying themselves with the task of checking immorality."

That is gratifying, important news, and then more important is news that tells of the discovery by British scientists of a new vitamin, 1,000 times more powerful than any known hitherto. It will cure rickets, and, most interesting, it seems to have the effect of ultra-violet light.

The new health food is called "chlosterol" and contains what is practically the pure vitamn D, a substance called ergosterol. It can be made cheaply, and an ounce of it would be enough to keep you healthy from birth to death.

Health news and educational news are the really important kinds of news. "Give LIGHT ad the people will find their own way," Dante said. Give HEALTH and they will have energy to work well.

morals change and return to normal with time. Health and knowledge are what count.

Some General Electric genius has invented a searchlight gun that will write on clouds, buildings, banks of smoke five miles away. This opens up a marvelous advertising field. But the Government should protect it, and the heavens should continue to decare the glory of God, and the firmament to show forth His handiwork. They should not be used to declare the glory of suspenders, tooth paste or automobiles.

An old man in Illinois sends one dollar to a woman in Indiana, saying, "I stole half a watermelon from your father sixty years ago, when I was thirteen. I am on my way to heaven and do not want that melon standing in my way. Here is the money; forgive and forget."

The question is, can you buy forgiveness from heaven at the last minute, when "on your way?" A Mohammedan writes that his co-relegionists do not pray for heaven. They say in their prayers to Allah. "We pray to you because we know you are great and good deserving praise. We ask nothing in return." That seems more dignified than everlasting begging, and more tactful.

The Middle West fights the corn borer with a machine that squirts blazzing oil over the fields. Huge stubble pulverizers will help the work. Blazing oil will dispose of corn borers, and part of our surplus oil at the same time.

General Mah, formely in the Government of Canton, tells reporters that "China will be a true democracy," not a Soviet Government.

Everybody hopes that China, exploited, despoiled and bullied by European nations, will succeed in self-government as a gigantic nation, not breaking into small pieces fighting each other.

But it is all guesswork. It is hard for a jellyfish to change into a vertebrate over night.

The Hornet's Nest Tragedy

cool summer day, my goat were playing football together. His name was Billie. He was quite mischievous, getting into trouble as often as possible.

At times he kicked my football, kicking it into a cactus, puncturing it and then run to find refuge. One day he knocked it into a tree. The ball hit a hornet's nest, arousing a few drones and many workers. The nest fell to the ground sending forth hornet after hornet.

I ran and picked it up, thinking it was my ball and started for the house, the goat after me. Into the house I ran stumbling on my toys. I let the nest drop, it bursted. I, with Billie after me ran for the barn and hid in the hay in the loft. As soon as Billie was in and the hay was quiet, we could hear a screaming and yelling from the terrified cook. The goat pricked his ears, he realized.

That was the last time I played a joke on the cook. I was tamed by the proceedings. —Oliver Carter.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Morgan was thrown wide open to all members of the Epworth League last Thursday evening, and a large crowd of young people gathered for a few hours of fun and entertainment. A very clever flower contest was carried out by the League President, Miss Nora Richardson, in which Bonnie and Vance Apple received the Easter Lilly as prize winners.

A dainty lunch of sandwiches, salad, wafers, and Perryton Coca Cola was served after which all guests departed assuring Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and little daughter of their appreciation of the whole-hearted hospitality shown.

JOHN LINUS TAYLOR

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Linus Taylor, who live in the Wawaka neighborhood, passed on to a better world, Friday April 8, 1927, at the age of 3 years and 1 day. Little John Linus took sick about twelve days before his death and was taken to the Shattuck hospital for treatment, where he died of bronchila pneumonia. He was unusually bright and was the pride of the home, being the only boy. He leaves to mourn his untimely death his father and mother and six sisters, five of whom are older. His little friends will miss him, as well as his relatives. Father's and mother's loss is God's gain, so let us all live for God that we might meet this little one in the Great Beyond.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternon at 2:30 at the Methodist church with Bro. Parham in charge, and the little body was laid to rest in the Ochiltree cemetery.

MOTORISTS who drive the year 'round with Conoco Gasoline know they are getting their money's worth. They know it because Conoco never fails in any of the three important tests upon which Gasoline should be judged.

Conoco starts without overtaxing the battery; it delivers a snappy pick-up for traffic driving; it releases full power to the pistons with the resulting extra mileage.

Is it any wonder that car owners who know invariably fill their tanks at the Conoco sign.

IS HE A FARMER?

The question has been asked, "Does a man engaged in agriculture resent being called a 'farmer' ?" Many are of the opinion that he does. They believe that he prefers being called an agriculturist, a ranchman, a rural resident, or what have you?

This mistaken idea is the result of characterizations of the farmer, on stage, screen, and in fiction, as a "hayseed." However much this type may have been true to life in the past, it is evident that this period has passed, for certainly with the autombile, the radio, the daily newspaper, and other modernisms, the opportunities are as great for the man in the country being well informed as the one living in the town or city.

Then let us consider. Agriculture is the art or science of cultivating the ground, including harvesting of crops and rearing and management of livestock. An agriculturist is one ENGAGED or SKILLED in agriculture. Notice the difference. The farmer is always a practitioner, the agriculturist may be a mere theorist.

The mistake lies in picturing the old-time farmer in our modern age. This does not exist. The farm of today is perhaps more completely modern than many other industries. It is equipped with motor transportation, tractors, and labor saving devices of all kinds.

It is our preverted intellect that places farming in a lowly position. Agriculture is a dignified profession. It is taught in colleges, the same as law and medicine. The farmer is the man who practises the art and science of agriculture. If agriculture is a profession, the farmer is a professional man.

The farmer occupies the most important role in the make-up of all things. The world could do without motor cars, without radios, without many of our modern conveniences, if it were necessary, but the world must always eat and be clothed. That is the farmer's job. Should he be ashamed of it? Should he try to hide his real profession behind some high-sounding name? He is not trying to and does not want to. He has not asked to be called an agriculturist, a husbandman, a rural resident. He is a farmer—and proud of it!

LET YOUTH ALONE

Dr. W. B. Fleming, president of Baker university, Baldwin, Kansas, is a rather blunt, out and out speaker. Seemingly, he says what he thinks, and thinks before he talks. That his judgement, when passed, carries some weight and authority, is vouched for by the position he holds, at the head of a university.

Anyway,, Dr. Fleming has this to say of the much talked about present day conditions and the relations of youth and their elders:

"Nothing is the matter with youth except what is caused by the example of their elders.

"Our bald-headed derelicts are flooding literature with rotten views on marriage and every other established institution of life. It is not much wonder that high school and college boys throughout the country are blowing out their brains. The preachers thrw their brains.. The preachers throw

"When I was a boy the goal of every young man was to be president some day. Now the goal is to keep out of jail."

Give Them Credit—These Flappers

Dr. Frank Crane

Mr. Bruce Findlay, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles schools, in an address the other day asked:

"Why should we assume that the flapper of 1927 will make a poorer mother than the "flapper" of yesterday, who has been her mother?"

There is just as much to the modern girl as there ever was to her ancestor. The fact that she wears short skirts and bobs her hair is not against her. She wears less clothing than her ancestors and is consequently healthier.

She is more addicted to out door sports with beneficial results.

Altogether the modern flapper of today is just as well prepared for motherhood as was her mother, and better than she.

There is no more danger to a girl from taking an automobile ride than there was from taking a buggy ride.

Of course dissipation and late hours are bad for anyone and in proportion as a woman indulges in this is she endangering her health and endangering posterity.

But take it all in all the girl of today is quite as sensible as her mother of yesterday and we may look forward with confidence to the future of the race.

It was never in better hands. Those of today are just as serious-minded as their mothers were the day before.

Virtue is not to be founded upon ignorance but upon knowledge, and if the girl of today knows more than her mother did it helps her and does not hinder her.

She is prepared to be man's partner and equal and not his slave and plaything and in this respect she has the advantage over former years.

As far as I am concerned, the girls of today are healthier, better-looking and more desirable as companions than were the girls of yesterday.

This old world is bumping merrily along and some things about it some people don't like, but on the whole it is improving.

THANK YOU;

Last week was the first time the Herald ever appeared with a seven column page, the change being made from a six column short. With the change was also made a change in the size of the type used in the body of the paper, a smaller size being introduced, yet of such a design that it is much more legible than formerly used.

Among many congratulations received was a letter from R. N. Eaton of the Western Newspaper Union, Wichita, Kansas, in which he says:

"I was certainly happy to receive the first copy of your new 7-column sheet and you are certainly to be congratulated on your make--up. Without a doubt, this is one of the best make-ups that has come to our files.

"You are certainly giving Ochiltree county and its trade territory a wonderful newspaper and a wonderful advertising medium for the merchants of Perryton.

"I know that your readers will appreciate this paper very much."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

HARDENED ARTERIES

Many people make inquiries about their blood-vessels, which they believe are becoming "hardened." Of course, in the great majority of instances, they are wrong, as most non-professional diagnoses are.

Hardened arteries are almost as common to advanced age as is gray hair. When I discover hardening of the arteries in a patient over sixty-five years of age, and of normal build, I advise him to forget it. By "normal build" I mean one who has not accumulated abnormal weight, with consequently burdened heart. Fat old customers do not need treatment for the arteries, but need advice in diet and exercise. It is only in the comparatively young patients, that I look on hardened arteries as a diseased condition.

In such cases, violations of the law of right living make up the chief causes of arteriorsclerosis. Too much tobacco, tea, coffee, alcohol, and highly-seasoned foods, poison the blood-vessels, either hardening them, or literally rotting them out—if they give way under the strain, instead of becoming hard in an effort to resist the overloading—just as the blacksmith's right arm grows harder from its increased labor. In such a case, I'd rather have the vessels harden than to become soft and more liable to rupture under strain.

The treatment must depend upon the judgement of the experienced physician. A case of syphilis ,demands specific treatment; the alcoholic must change his habit or pay the extreme penalty; remember, alchol is a good servant, but a dangerous master. I am convinced that there has never been a time in the history of mankind when perfect elimination and strict temperance in eating are so essentinal as now! Blood-pressures should be studiously watched.

Veal Birds

Try veal birds once, and you'll want to cook them often in the way suggested by Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, director home economics department, Los Angeles Evening Express.

6 slices veal off loin cut thin (1½ lbs.)
Flour, salt and pepper to taste
6 tablespoonfuls bread crumbs
Savory Dressing
1 tablespoonful lemon juice
½ onion
2 tablespoonfuls butter
⅓ cup cream

Brown well on one side. Dredge with flour, salt and pepper and put in the center of each a tablespoonful of bread crumbs seasoned with savory dressing and a few drops of lemon juice and onion (½).

Bring the birds together as nearly in the shape of a bird as possible and tie with a strong string. Fry slowly until a golden brown in two tablespoons butter in a pudding pan.

Then cover with ⅓ cup cream. Place in hot oven for 20 minutes (450° F.). Remove the cover from the vessel and allow to brown for seven minutes. The drippings in the pan may be used for gravy, if liked.

¼ cup vinegar
¾ cup raisins

Place slice of ham in oven 400 degrees F. in a small baking pan. Mix sugar, cornstarch in saucepan and add water and vinegar slowly, stirring until thick. Add raisins. Cook ham for 40 minutes, pour the raisin sauce over ham and continue to cook for 10 minutes longer.

Chamber of Commerce

E. A. HILDERBRAND, Secretary

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

When a city attains to any size it must have in it's makeup not one but many men of the proportions to measure to its civic success, men whose measure of character and value of worth may be estimated by looking back over their record of achievments in relation to their city, community and country. Many things have taught us that competition and individual action must yield to co-operation and co-ordinition; we should likewise recognize that freedom includes the liberty to combine as well as compete.

There is in business as well as in politics those individuals who believe themselves either too busy or their time too vabuable to be interested in business development who sit with their hands folded, taking no part in general business affairs, expecting everything to prosper, while they share no part of the burden in the effort to make them so. By some it is looked upon as passing strange, indeed, that these business men have to be urged to join organizations such as Chamber of Commerce, boards of trade, and commercial clubs etc; which are such vital concern to their material welfare.

There has never been a time in the history of America when a Chamber of Commerc was as necessary as it is today. Whoever co-operates in that direction is a real asset to the nation. The work of a Chamber of Commerce opens paths of usefulness limited only by the degree of active interest which is shown in its activities by the community it serves.

The Chamber of Commerce is a component of the great peacetime army of citizens of the nation, and its members all have an important part to play in achieving its objective-that of the welfare, prosperity and progress of the country.

The man who, expands his energies wholly in private matters, refuses to take part in public affairs, pluming himself on his wisdom in minding his own business, is blind to the fact that his own business is made possible only by the prosperity of all.

Unselfishness, co-operation, willingness to give your time and effort can and will do much toward the upbuilding of this community and country in which all should be very vitally interested.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

JOHN ELMER, PUBLISHER OF THE BALTIMORE AMERICAN, SAYS:

THAT consistency and persistency are the most important qualities of a successful advertiser.

Millions of dollars are literally wasted every year by small and moderately large merchants buying space irregularly; perhaps a large advertisement this week followed by lack of representation for another month, or perhaps several smaller ads over a period of a few weeks followed by an equal period of no advertising.

A well known man tells a story that illustrates this point very well. Accompanied by a friend he was journeying from Washington to Chicage on one of the 18 hour trains The friend opened the conversation with the remark—"Now that your product is recognized as the foremost of its kind in the world why do you continue spendingmillions each year advertising it?" The business man replied: "My friend, this train which is carring us to Chicago is traveling at the rate of about 60 mies per hour; how long do you think it would maintain that speed were the engine removed?" Naturally the friend conceded that the train could not continue to progress without the engine. Whereupon the business man remarked that advertising was the engine of his business train without which the great enterprise he had created would slow up and eventually stop.

AS IN GOLF, THE WHOLE SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING LIES IN THE " FOLLOW THRU." TO EVERY POTENTIAL ADVERTISER THE SOUNDEST ADVICE THAT CAN BE OFFERED IS: "BUDGET YOUR ADVERTISING TO PROVIDE FOR A PERSISTENT PRESENTATION OF YOUR MESSAGE—DON'T ALLOW YOUR BUSINESS TRAIN TO SLOW UP A MOMENT FOR LACK OF AN ENGINE."

WOOD ROT

Wood rot is causd by low forms of plants, of which the punks or brackets sometimes seen on trees logs, or timbers are the fruits. They produce millions of spores or seed so small they may be carried far by the winds. When a spore drops into a crack in wood and finds conditions favorable it developes. Tiny, hair-like growths spread from the rot plant in all directions. They feed on substances in the wood, thus breaking down its structure.

The Resurrection of the Lord Jesus
Lesson Text—Matt.28: 1-10

MATTHEW'S account of the resurrection properly begins with v. 57 of chap. 27. Joseph of Arimathea, a secret disciple (Jn. 19:38), is seen taking the body of Jesus for burial, after having secured permission from Pilate.

Extraordinary courage somenow possessed him at this time, that he should come out from under cover and boldly go to Pilate on such an errand. Perhaps, like many another since he was emboldened by the cross of Jesus to do what otherwise he would never have dreamed of attempting.

The body was laid in Joseph's new tomb (27:60), which was securely sealed. "There was Mary Magdalene and the other Mary sitting over against the sepulchure" (v. 61). Not a single record do we have of any unkindness to our Lord from women. There are many records of their loving ministrations. They edged their way to the very cross. They clung to Him when He and His cause seemed forever dead and buried.

The next day, that followed the day of preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilat (v.62). The Gospels seem to agree that Jesus was crucified on "the preparation," 14th Nisan (Jn. 19:14; Lk. 23:54). The day after the preparation was Passover Sabbath, wherever it might fall in the week.

Unless it can be proved that Passover Sabbath that year happened to coincide with the Jewish weekly Sabbath (Saturday), we have no right to say that Jesus was crucified on "Good Friday."

Matt. 12:40 gives us our Lord's own word that He would be in the realm of the dead "three days and three nights"—not two nights and one day, as would be the case if He were crucified Friday afternoon. (The Sabbath began at sundown Friday.) He arose at the begining of the first day of the week (some time after sundown Saturday, appearing early on Sunday).

Many good authorities agree that the 14th Nisan of that year fell on Wednesday. The "High Sabbath" (Jn. 19:31) would fall on Thursday. Jesus was crucified the afternoon before this Passover Sabbath (Mk. 15:42). From Wednesday evening to Saturday evening allows exactly three days and three nights. The sign of Jonas was literally fulfilled.

The plotters suddenly remembered that Jesus had foretold His resurrection (v. 63). It had made a deeper impression upon the Lord's enemies than upon His own disciples. Their words showed that they really had understood His words about "destroying this temple," although they professed another interpretation (Jn. 2:19-21).

The sepulchre was therefore "made sure" (v. 64). We should be glad that it was done. It furnishes a stronger foundation for all believers. There was no chance of fraud. Every possible precaution was taken by the authorities (v. 65).

"In the end of the Sabbaths (plural—there were two that week) as it began to dawn (28:1). It was a new day for the world. The blackness of night was in the desciples' hearts. Their lives were waste and desolate until the glorious truth of the resurrection dawned.

The resurrected Lord manifested Himself on the first day of the week. On that day our present order of creation began with the calling forth of light. Now, by His resurrection, the Lord brought life and immortality to light (2 Tim. 1:10). Natural light and spiritual light now have a common birthday.

From the resurrection forward, the first day has been "the Lord's Day." The charge that the Sabbath was changed by the Romish Pope is ridiculous. We now have abundant testimonies dating back to the apostles themselves that the early Church kept the first day, while unbelieving Jews continued their forms on the seventh day.

Bright and early the two Marys were there ((v. 1). First in transgression, woman is also first in witnessing of complete redemption. They, too, had failed to grasp our Lord's prediction. How shall we account for the stubborn view many take of death?

Behold, the strong heavenly and the weak earthly lovers of the Lord met at the tomb. An angel was there (v. 2). He rolls back the stone. What for? To let Jesus out? Nay, He had already gone. Did you hear the preacher say that Jesus "burst the bars of the tomb?" He did not have to. An angel removed the bars to let two women see in.

The angel "sat upon the stone." What a picture of God's easy and complete triumph over Satan and his hosts!

The police officers saw the angel's shining countenance, and they went into chills from fright. They became unconscious (vv. 3, 4). God laughs at all man's vain efforts to prevent the fulfilment of His Word. The very men who berate the Bible are themselves fulfilling it.

"He is not here—He is risen as He said (v. 6). That is the word of this heavenly messenger. Was it simply our Lord"s spirit that was gone? What does the open tomb proclaim if not a risen body? "Come and see the PLACE where the Lord lay."

These are days of new definitions for old doctrines. We hear now of the "objective vision hypothesis." They say there was some kind of an appearence of Jesus, but it was not in body. The body, they say is not essential. It was a spiritual resurrection (whatever that is).

Anyway, it was His Body that was gone from the tomb. His spirit needed no resurrection for it went immediately to Paradise the moment of death. If it was not a bodily appearance, there is no such thing as a resurrection.

Did you get the angel's word—"as He said?" A pure faith would have gone to the sepulchre carrying no spices for embalming. It would have gone in the assured certainty of meeting Him alive! "Go quickly tell the desciples" (v. 7). Why did not the angel himself bear them the news? Ah! this is for the best witnesses of His salvation.

Mark adds (16:7) "and Peter." had been under a black cloud. He got a special word from the One he so lately denied. That forenoon he had a talk with Jesus. Before the Lord hastened to meet others to speak peace, He met Peter to speak pardon.

The departed with fear and joy (v. 8). It seemed of little use for the angel to say, "Fear not." When these two possess one at the same moment, they make his feet travel.

"Behold, Jesus met them" (v. 9). He, too, sends them on a mission. "Go tell my brethern" (v. 10). The sight of the risen Christ is sure to give a man something to say to others. If Christ had remained in some nameless tomb, the Gospel long ago would have lost its power and impetus.

In Galile He would meet His brethern (v. 10)—Galilee of the Gentiles. Why make the appointment there? Why give there the main evidences of the resurrection? It was the scene of their common labors. To all nations they were to be sent with the glad tidings. There they were called and set to work on a world task.

Pith and Point

The resurrection is the Father's "Amen" to Jesus "It is finished."

We can come to the vacant sepulchre and sing joy. Death is abolished. "Joy cometh in the morning."

As empty as was Christ's tomb will be every Christian's grave when another angel comes to sound the trump.

If it was a glorious morn that dawned upon the empty tomb at Calvary, more blessed will be that coming morn, when the graves of all who died in Christ open up.

The first office of the risen Saviour was to wipe away the tears of a penitent.

It was the resurrection that put GO in GOSIPEL.

The light which is the life of the created world now has a birthday corresponding to the Light which is the life of the redeemed world—the first day of the week.

Suggestive Questions

What detail do we have in Matthew's account of the resurrection not found in other accounts? (28:2).

Will angels have anything to do with the resurrection of saints? (24: 30; 25:31; Jude. 14:15; Rev. 1:7).

What did the resurrection of Christ prove? (Rom. 1:4).

How does God show us that He has accepted the sacrifice Christ made on Calvary as atonement for sin? (Rom. 4:25).

How are we assured that death, the last great enemy, will be finally conquered? (1 Cor. 15:55-57).

When will the resurrection of saints take place? (1 Thess. 4:14-18).

When did Jesus first call His disciples "brethern," and why? (v. 10; Heb. 2:11).

Golden Text Illustrated: "He has risen, as He said" (28:6).

A traverler stood one day at the costly tomb of Napoleon. There he was buried at his request among his beloved men. An old man approached, leaning over the balustrade down into the tomb with eyes with tears. "There rests a conqueror," said he, "but his will not abiding. Death stained the of his achievements and the shed at his grave are but acknowledgment of his defeat. different the work of Christ His kingdom! His is an abiding dom. He too found a sepulchre earth and the Syrian stars down on the place where He but of Him we can say: "He here; He is risen as He said."

In contrast with that solitary weeping at Napoleon's tomb may place the names of many faithful witnesses who have testimony of the Spirit to them that they have a living iour, ever making intercession them at the right hand of throne.

BREAKS GROUND FOR BUILDING

ANOTHER FIREPROOF STRUCTURE STARTS IN BUSINESS DISTRICT HERE

Actual construction work was started this week for a new fireproof building in the down town section of Perryton, the new structure being built on the vacant property just west of the present city hall.

The building is being put up by Jno. N. Stump and will be forty feet by sixty feet and will be of brick and tile construction. The ground was broken the fore part of the week for laying the foundation and most of the sand and other material is already on the location. It is reported that the building will be leased to the Inland Utilities company to be used for an office building.

KANSAS FEELS THE NEW STATE URGE

We are in favor of creating a new state to be composed of territory taken from Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado. This territory embracing the great plains section has nothing in common with the rest of either of these states, but is dominated largely by those sections that are out of touch and have no sympathy or regard for and are not interested in this great sweep of country. Legislation for and on behalf of this section is neglected. Its representatives are ignored. It remains an "ophan" that no one cares for. If this is to continue it would be for the best interests of all concerned for the "Plains Section" to set up housekeeping for itself.—Hugoton Hermes.

GRADING CITY STREETS TODAY

STREET COMMISSIONER J. B. NASH IS PUTTING CITY THOROUGHFARES IN SHAPE

J. B. Nash, marshal and city street commissioner, will grade all of the city streets today, following the shower received last evening. The dirt is in excellent condition to work, and is grading up in nice shape.

Taking advantage of last evening's rain, Mr. Nash is rushing the work in an effort to put the Perryton streets in the best of shape. Heavy traffic and hauling has kept the streets badly torn up, even though they are worked quite frequently.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The pastor has just closed a weeks meeting at the McMillen school house. On account of the school there were no day services. The attendance was good and the spirit of the meeting fine all the way through. The service on Sunday morning was one that will tell for many a day.

There will be no preaching service at the church on next Sunday morning. Brother Pope is holding a Pre-Easter meeting at the Christian church. The pastor will be away at the morning hour at Canadian for the Easter service of the Knights Templar. On account of the meeting there will be no service at the Bantist church at the evening hour.

The annual meeting of the Amarillo district W. M. U. will meet at Canadian, Thursday evening, and Friday of this week. This district embraces six associations in the Panhandle. A splendid program has been arranged and some of the best speakers in Texas will be on hand that day. Mrs. Dawson is an unusually strong speaker. Dr. Hardy of Baylor college will be there, too. It is the hope of the pastor that a large number of the women of the Perryton church will go to Canadian for this meeting.

Some progress is being made on the basement for the new church. Quite a bit of the material is already on the ground more ready to be unloaded. Those who have made pledges to this work will confer a great favor on the building committee if you will hand in your unpaid pledges at an early date. We hope to go on as rapidly as possible now until the building is finished.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7 p. m.

NEW $25,000 COCA-COLA PLANT TO BE OPEN FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION

EXPECTING CROWD OF 5,000 PEOPLE TO GO THROUGH PLANT—DRINKS AND FAVORS TO ALL VISITORS ON THE OPENING DAY

According to Jack Lusher, manager of the Perryton Coca-Cola Bottling company, Perryton's newest industry, all preparations have been completed to care for the 5,000 guests expected to visit the plant on the day of the formal opening, Saturday, April 16th.

At least 400 cases of Coca-Cola and pop will be given away free during the day in addition to hundreds of sample candy bars, balloons, skull caps, puzzles and many other novelties.

Demonstrations will be conducted at all times and the machinery and equipment explained by factory experts who will be in Perryton for that purpose.

The program for the day has been arranged as follows. The period from 10:00 to 11:00 has been reserved as the Perryton merchants and business mens hour and it is hoped that every business house in town will be represented. Between 11:30 and 2:30 special arrangements have been made to entertain out of town merchants who will be in Perryton for the day. From 2:00 until 4:00 a special childrens hour wil be held. It is hoped that the children's parents will accompany them to the opening. From 4:00 until 10 in the evening will be the grand opening, to which everyone is invited.

The Perryton Coca-Cola Bottling company has one of the best equipped plants to be found anywhere. The equipment used in the bottling plant is of the newest type and the very latest design. All of it was purchased new. The plant has a capacity of 600 cases in a ten hour day, bottling soda water at the rate of twenty-seven bottles per minute.

A whole carload of bottles is part of the equipment put into the plant, containing 34,560 bottles. It takes 2,200 cases to hold these bottles.

A sanitary soaker which thoroughly cleanses the bottles and sterilizes them before filling is used. The bottles are placed in the soaker and run through a process of sprays and hot alkiline solution and through sprays again for rinsing, requiring five minutes in the washing process.

The whole process of bottling soda water will be demonstrated and explained at the opening Saturday.

RAIN FALLS ON WHEAT FIELDS

NICE SHOWER WEDNESDAY NIGHT ADDS .21 INCHES TO FIELDS OF THIS DISTRICT

Light showers during the week resulted in an easy rain early Wednesday evening falling generally over this section of the Panhandle which added .21 inches of moisture to the wheat fields.

Spring weather has been very much in evidence during the past few days and with bright sunshine early Thursday morning gave no evidence of the before Easter storm, that is usually to be expected.

A general inspection trip taken over the Perryton district, Sunday, proved to the satisfaction of all that wheat fields here are in excellent condition and are not suffering from lack of moisture. Although there is a slight touch of yellow in some fields, it was the sentiment of all in the party that the color was caused by the recent freeze instead of from need of rain.

The shower received Wednesday evening will prove a great help to the growing grain. Although a heavy rain could be used to good advantage and would prove very beneficial, yet the wheat could do without moisture for some time and still make a good crop, should it be necessary.

DONLEY-PATTON

Miss Jessie Donley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Donley of this city, and Mr. Otis Patton of Silverton, Texas, were united in marriage in Liberal, Kansas, on last Tuesday. Tuesday's marriage was the culmination of a pretty little romance which started last summer when the groom was a resident of this city and an employee of the Panhandle Lumber company.

Mrs. Patton is a very accomplished young lady. She was a member of last year's graduating class of the Perryton High school. She has been a student at the West Texas Teachers' college at Canyon this winter. She numbers her friends by her acquaintances. Mrs. Patton has always taken a leading part in the social activities of the younger set of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton left immediately after the wedding for their home at Silverton, where Mr. Patton is engaged in the automobile business. The best wishes of their many friends here go with them to their home.

Louis Wood and family, El Paso, Texas, were through Perryton Wednesday, enroute to their ranch in the southeast part of Beaver county. Mr. Wood and his associates, for a number of years, have been among the largest growers of broom corn in the world but much of their land is given over to wheat this year.

---

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Russell took their small son to Shattuck, Friday, for a consultation with Doctor Newman. A serious attack of measles left the boy quite deaf, but advice from the doctor indicates that the trouble can be removed with treatments.

The Question Isn't So Much "Whether or Not To Buy A Combine" As It Is "Which Combine To Buy"

IT IS USLESS to talk to the farmer of today and try and tell him why he should buy a combine. It is unnecessary. He knows the merits of the combine method over the old methods of harvesting and threshing. He knows that it saves grain, saves time, and saves labor. Why take up his time with useless explanation. He is a busy man.

Every farmer knows he needs a combine. Every farmer who does not own one is planning on buying a combine. It isn't so much the question, "Whether or not to buy a combine," as it is the question, "Which combine to buy."

In this connection there are three main points to be considered. They are CONSTRUCTION, PERFORMANCE and MAINTENANCE. In all three of these points the "HOLT" combine proves it's desirability.

Construction

The frame, body, header and other metal parts of the HOLT are practically indestructible and with ordinary care, will last a lifetime. Scores of HOLT combine harvesters of the old style, 25 years old, have been in yearly use and are still operating each harvest season; hundreds 15 to 20 years old are good for many years to come. It is only logical to assume that the life of the present perfected models will be materially greater.

This construction is strengthened by the use of Hyatt roller bearings throughout the whole combine. The word Hyatt is guarantee enough to insure proper working and wear.. The HOLT is lubricated throughout with the Alemite pressure system.

Performance

The name HOLT for nearly half a century, has been closely associated with every important achievement in the combine industry. HOLT, the pioneer, has through the years been HOLT, the leader.

For forty years HOLT machines have been cutting and threshing with one operation. The HOLT machine is not in the experimental stage. It has been tried and proved. Its performance record is backed by forty years of experience. The best recommendation that the HOLT can secure is from the man who owns one.

Maintenance

Over a large number of years the maintenance cost of a HOLT combine is shown to be very small. The strength of its construction, combined with the quality of the Hyatt bearings and other running parts make it practically indestructible.

Every machine we sell is backed by this concern. A large stock of repairs is kept on hand at all times, ready to give instant service. Should a serious breakage occur and parts be required that cannot be supplied from our large stock, they can be obtained on twenty-four hours notice.

Price Schedule of Holt Combine

These prices are for machines, set up, fully equipped, delivered in Perryton, Texas.

15-foot HOLT Combine ..... $2,345.00
16½-foot HOLT Combine ..... $2,675.00
20-foot HOLT Combine ..... $2,750.00

A Silver Tea

* * * *

The Perryton Sorosis Club gave a "silver" tea from 3 to 5 o'clock on last Wednesday afternoon, March 30, at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. M. Bull. The purpose of this was to raise funds for building a club house.

The reception room was decorated with various colored geraniums and other beautiful potted plants. The tea table, covered with pure white linen, was arranged with a huge bowl of tulips and fern, the latter forming an arch in the center of the table. On each side of this was a lighted candle placed in a silver candlestick. Four silver trays, filled with as many different kinds of sandwiches, adorned the table. At each end of the table sat the tea-pourers, Mesdames Sims and Wilson, who poured the tea from silver tea urns, cream from silver creamers and served lumps of sugar from silver bowls, and the sandwiches from the silver trays.

A silver dish, placed on a small table near the entrance, was used as the receptacle for the pieces of silver coins, which the guests donated. A neat little sum was realized form this little affair, and the club hopes to give more good socials in the future.

The club house committee, composed of Mesdames Bray, Bradshaw, Brillhart, Nash, Sims and Allen, were the hostesses for the afternoon. Tea and sandwiches were served to the following: Mesdames J. M. Grigsby, Beaufort Wallace, J. H. Woodward, Leon Roembach, Jack Allen, J. W. Wilson, J. H. Sims, I. S. Bradshaw, A. C. Brillhart, J. B. Nash, W. B. Lilly, B. H. Murphy, Geo. Cutter, Henry Cutter, L. ### CHAPTER XI

A BARGAIN FOR A WOMAN

At last Edna spoke in low, even tones.

"What do you expect to do with me, please?"

"We shall have to do whatever is best for yourself," I managed to answer. "That will be determined when we reach the stage line, I suppose."

"Thank you! Once at the stage line I shall contrive. You must have no thought of me. I understand very well that we should not travel far in company—and you may not wish to go in my direction. You have plans of your own?" Everthing has failed me, to date. There is only the one place left: New York State, where I came from."

"You have one more place than I," she replied.

Her voice had a quality of definite estimation which nettled, humbled, and isolated me, as if I lacked in some essential to a standard set..

"Well at home you will live comfortably. You will need to wear no belt weapon. The police will protect you. You can marry the girl next door—or even take the chance of the one across the street her parentage being comme il faut. Your children will love to hear of the rough mulewhacker trail—yes, you will have great tales but you will not—mention that you killed a man who tried to kill you and then rode for a night with a strange woman alone at your stirrup! Your course is the safe course. By all means take it, Mr. Beeson."

"That I shall do, madam," I retorted. "The West and I have not agreed. I wish to God I had never seen it—I did not conceive that I should have to take a human life—become like an outlaw in the night, riding for rfuge—" And I choked passionately.

"You deservt much sympathy," she remarked.

I lasped into a turbulance of voice less rage at myself.

For a time our mules plodded with sundry snorts and stare as if they were seeing portents in the moonshine. Eventually their imaginings dulled, so that they now moved careless of where or why.

I could not but be aware of my companion. Her hair glinted palely, for she rode bareheaded; her Mormon gown tightened under her as she sat astride revealed the lines of her boyish limbs.

She was a woman, in any guise; and I being a man, protect her I should as far as necessary! I found myself wishing that we could upturn something pleasant to talk about!

The droning round of my thoughts revolved over and over, and I dozed and kept, dozing, until she spoke.

"Hadn't we better stop?"

That was a curious sensation. When I stared about, uncomprehending, my view was shut off by a whiteness veiling the moon above and the earth below except immedi-taly underneath my mule's hoofs.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"The fog. I don't know where we are.."

"Oh! I hadn't noticed."

"I don't think there's any use in riding on," she said. "We've lost our bearings."

"Yes, we'd better stop where we are." I agreed. "Then in the morning we can take stock."

She swung off before I had awkwardly dismounted to help her. Her limbs failed—my own were clamped by stiffness—and she staggered and collapsed with a little laugh.

"I'm tired," she confessed "Wait just a moment."

"You stay where you are," I ordered, staggering also as I hastily landed. "I'll make camp."

But she would have none of that; pleaded my one-handedness and insisted upon cooperating at the mules The animals were staked out, fell to nibbling.

I sought a spot for our beds; laid down a buffalo robe for her and placed her saddle as her pillow. She sank with a sigh, tucking her skirt under her, and I folded the robe over.

Her face gazed up at me; she extended her hand.

"'You are very kind, sir," she said, in a smile that pathetically curved her lips. There, at my knees, she looked so worn, so slight, so childish, so in need of encouragement that all was well and that she had a friend to serve her, that with a rush of sudden sympathy I would—indeed I could have kissed her, upon the forehead, if not upon the lips themselves.

It was an impulse well-nigh overmastering; an impulse that must have dazed me so that she saw or felt, for a tinge of pink swept into her skin; she withdrew her hand and settled composedly.

"Good-night. Please sleep. In the morning we'll reach the stage road and your troubles will be near the end."

Under my own robe I lay for a long time debating over what she might have done hat I actually kissed her to comfort her.

Daniel had been disposed of, Montoyo did not desere her; I had won her, she could inspire and guide me if I stayed; and I saw myself staying, and I saw myself going home, and I already regretted a host of things, as a man will when at the forking of the trails.

When I awakened we were still enshrouded by the fleece of fog. As I gazzed sleeply about I could see Edna's eyes were open. She looked at me.

"Sh!" she warned, with a quick shake of head. The same warning bade me listen. In a moment I heard voices.

They were indistinguishable except as vocal sounds.

"I've been hearing them for some little while," she whispered.

"Adam's men trailing us?"

"I hope not," she gasped, in sheer agony. "If we might only know in time!"

Suddenly the fog was shot with gold, as the sun flashed in. Gradually the earth appeared in glimpses.

"There!" she whispered, pointing, "Look!'" They are Indians. We must get away before they see us."

We worked rapidly, bridling and saddling while the fog rose with measured steadiness.

"Hurry!" she bade.

The whole desert was a golden haze when having packed we climbed aboard.

The fog lingered in patches. From patch to patch we threaded, with many a glance over shoulder.

At last we came to a rough outcrop of red sandstone, looming ruddily on our right. Edna quickly swerved for it..

"The best chance. I see nothing else," she muttered. "We can tie the mules under cover, and wait. We'll surely be spied if we keep on."

In a moment we had gained the refuge. The sculptured rock masses detached one from another, several jutting ten fet up, received us. We tied the mules short, in a nook at the rear; and we ourselves crawled in until we lay snug amidst the shadowing buttresses, with the desert vista opening before us.

We had just been in time. Round ing a knoll there appeared a file of mounted figures, Indians unmistakably.

"A war party! Sioux, I 'think,' she said. "Don't they carry scalps on that first lance? They'e been raiding the stage line. Do you see any squaws?"

"No," I hazarded. "All warriors, I should guess."

"All warriors. But squaws would be worse."

On they cantered: indeed, seemed to be diverging from our ambush and making more to the west. And I had hopes that, after all, we were safe.

Then her hand clutched mine firmly. A wolf had leaped from coer in the path of the file; loped eastward across the dessert, and instantly, with a whoop that echoed upon us like the crack of doom, a young fellow darted from the line in gay pursuit.

Away they tore, while the file slackened, to watch. Our trail of flight bore right athwart the wolf's projected route. There was just the remote chance that the lad would overrun it, in his eagerness; and for that intervening moment of grace we stared, fascinated , hand clasping hand.

"He's found it! He's found it!" she announced, in a little wail.

In mid-career the boy had checked his pony so shortly that the four hoofs ploughed the sand. He wheeled on a pivot and rode back for a few yards, scanning the ground, letting the wolf go.

The youth flung up a glad hand and the band galloped to him.

"Yes, he has found it,'" she said. "Now they will come."

"I'll do my best, with revolver," I promised.

"Yes," she murmered. "But after that—?"

I had no reply. This contingency—we two facing Indians—was outside my calculations.

"Shall we make a break for it?" I proposed.

"It would be madness on these poor mules." She murmured to herself. "Yes, they're Sioux! I must talk with them."

"But they're coming," I rasped. "They're getting in range. We've got the gun, and twenty cartridges. May be if I kill the chief—"

Ere I could stop her My Lady had sprung upright, to mount upon a rock and, all in view, to hold open hand above her head.

The sunshine glinted upon her hair; a fugitive little breeze bound her gown close about her slim figure.

They had seen her instantly. The chief rode forward, at a walk, his hand likewise lifted.

"Keep down! Kep down, please," she directed to me, while she stood motionless. "Let me try."

The chief neared until we might see his every lineament—a splended man, his eyes devouring her so covetously that I felt the gloating thoughts behind them.

He called inquiringly: a greeting and a demand in one, it sounded. She replied. And what they two said, in word and sign, I could not know. Then he cantered back to his men, while Edna stepped lightly down; answered my queryiing look.

"It's all right. I'm going, and so are you," she said, with a faint smile oddly subtle—a tremulous smile in a white face.

"Where? We are free, you mean? what's the bargin?"

"I go to them. You go where you choose—to the stage road, of course. I have his promise. No, no," she said checking my indignant cry. "Really I don't mind. The Indians are about the only persons left to me. You can go home, and I shall not be unhappy. Please believe that! The wife of a great chief is quite a personage—he won't inquire into my past. But if we try to stay here you will certainly be killed, and I shall suffer, and we shall gain nothing. You must take my money. Please do. Then good-bbye. I told him I would come out underhis promise."

Improve Two New Farms

Pampa Men Are Getting Ready To Improve and move To Farms Near Perryton.

G. M. Cooper and H. C. Grahm of near Pampa were here last week makking arrangments for water wells to be drilled on the land which they recently purchased near here. As soon as the wells are completed they expect to build homes and move in time to put out a wheat crop next fall.

Mr. Cooper owns land just south of the W. B. LaMaster home place and Mr. Graham's place is a few miles west of town. These gentlemen are the kind of farmers that we are glad to see come in. They are experienced in farming the same kind of soil that we have here under similar climatic conditions.

Our schools have moved forward and kept pace with general progress. Shall we remove the appendix which thus has produced the tremendous holding power of the schools? The clock of educational progess is set back a generation when short-sighted civic bodies set out to rob education of its finer side. This process undermines and emaciates it. It brings education back to its bare skeleton, to its kindergarten days.

Operation on the appendices of education—the removal of those factors in cultural and practical development—on the pretext of retrenchment in public support means physical, social and mental retardation of the community that performs the operation.

FACULTY VS. HOME EC

The baseball game between the faculty and Home Ec club was a matter of interest for several days before, and to the women on the faculty team, a matter of feeling for several days thereafter. This most wonderful game was played Thursday at Lilly's Park and 10c admission was charged. There was quite a crowd present and everyone seemed to enjoy it. The score was 10 to 3 in favor of faculty. There was good playing on both sides.

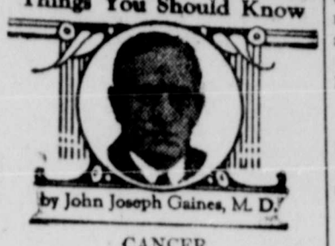

On the Home Ec side Lorene Thrush, Elizabeth Richardson and Mildred Jacobson made scores, but excellent playing was done by Odessa Trollinger, Mildred Jacobson and Lorene Coffee. The best players on the faculty team would be hard to choose, there were so many good ones. The line up for the Home Ec was as follows: Coffee,p; Jacobson,c; Trollinger, 1b; Hammon 2b; Richardson,3b; Jacobson, ss; Barbour, lf; Thrush, cf; and Guthrie, rf.

SOPHOMORE PICNIC

The Sophomores had a picnic and weenie roast at the springs Friday night. We met at the school house at five and all went in a truck. The ride was enjoyable, especially to those who sat on the bottom of the truck. The girls played the boys a game of ball, and the boys won with a score of 5 to 0. After the game we roasted weenies and we played games unail time to go home.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

CANCER

We cannot know too much about things that concern life itself. This terrible disease always strikes terror in the heart of its victim as well as in the minds of those who love, or are called to minister to him. Hence, this brief article.

We know that cancer is not communicable—and that it is not distinctly hereditary, though the "tendency" may belong to certain families. I have noticed that florid complexions are more liable to skin malignancy than the medium; and that the very dark individuals are more often afflicted with malignant growths of the internal organs. In either instance, continual irritation is the thing that brings cancer into activity. Hence, people with cancer-tendencies must avoid all things that set up continual irritation; a pipe-stem or cigar; a stiff, hard hat; a corset that exerts pressure in some particular locality; a rectal growth, simple at first, may become malignant by constant irritation; the eating of strong condiments, pepper, catsup, or other active irritants of the gastric membrane lining, continued for years, may hasten a malignant condition.

In this terrible disease, an ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. May I insist upon the well-known axiom that, success with cancer depends upon its early recognition. Treatment here may well begin when a suspicion of the disease is aroused. Often to await the positive diagnosis is too late. Instant removal is the only safe way, if removal be possible. No matter what faddists may declare, we know this is the best possible advice. After removal, the X-ray or Radium becomes a God-send. I know of many cases happily cured by this line of action; I have never known any other way for a cure to be possible.

FRESHMAN PICNIC

Friday, April 8, the freshman class spent a delightful evening from five to nine. We met at the school house at the given time and made our destination, which was Horse Shoe Bend. Our chaperones were Misses Athins and Landers and Mr. Carver. We had quite a time amusing ourselves in romping over the hills and exploring caves etc. when it grew dark we went back to the cars, and after a warm game of run, sheep, run we ate our lunch, and started home.

NINTH GRADE

Dorthy McLarty, who is seriously ill in the Liberal hospital, has been absent from school for a week. We all miss Dorothy and will be glad when she returns.

Georgia Beasley has the measles and has missed school for some time.

CONCERT AND PLAY

The combined program presented by Mr. Hyde and Miss Abramson Monday evening, April 11, was well rendered and very enjoyable The orchestra gave several very good selections. The one act play presented by the dramatics club was well rendered and very humorous. Jay Massey was very good as the playwright, while Horace Mann made a presentable father.

TEXAS LEADS IN WHAT?

WE CAN POINT WITH PRIDE TO LEADERSHIP IN SOME THINGS BUT WHAT ABOUT OTHERS?

Texas leads! First in agriculture, number of farms, railway mileage, production of cattle, production of cotton, production of wool, production of mohair, and production of mules and goats. Wonderful! Wonderful! Wonderful!

But look at this! Why don't we admit the whole truth and stop kidding ourselves on our marvelous records. It is not records but results that count in the final analysis.

Texas leads in the divorce courts of the whole world. The United States leads the world and Texas leads the United States. More wrecked homes in Texas than any other land or state on the earth!

Texas stands 34th instead of FIRST in the education of her children. Shame on Texas for raising so much cotton, corn, cattle, wheat, goats, sheep and wool, mahair and mules that she does not have time to educate her children. And shame on Texas for producing twice as much as any other state in the nation and selling it so low she can not afford to build schools for her children or clothe thousands of them decently to go to school. Shame on Texas for bragging so much of her sheep and goats and cattle and cotton with never a mention of the boys and girls who stay out of school to produce these records, because Texas is ashamed of her educational record.

Texas leads in robbing her children to furnish food and clothes for the rest of the world, and raw materials for the speculators to get rich on quickly.

Texas leads in one room schools.

Texas leads in mothers in the field dragging cotton sacks around at ten cents a pound for cotton.

Texas leads in insane asylums and crime.

She produces more and gets less for it than any other state. What will it profit a state if it produces enough to feed the whole world and starves to death itself?—Phebe K. Warner in "The Texas Wheat Grower."
