MANY TERRACING SCHOOLS CONDUCTED IN TEXAS

College Station—The series of the county-wide terracing schools which have been conducted throughout Texas almost continuously since last July will be concluded with an intensive West Texas schedule in March, according to M. R. Bentley, farm extension agent in the A. & M. College Extension Service. The schools are held in cooperation with A. K. Short, terracing and conservation agent of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, and local county agents have direct charge of arrangements.

"Terracing is relatively new in sections of the Panhandle," says Mr. Bentley, "but its value in making the most of a little rainfall is fast coming to be recognized by farmers. Increased yields of crops are usually obtained the first year after terracing but of course the larger gains come later."

Terracing schools have been instituted by the Extension Service in order to train farmers to run terrace lines so that the big job of saving Texas soil may proceed at a more rapid rate. In the schools scheduled in the Panhandle this month farmers who attend will be divided into small groups to learn how to set up and adjust the farm level, size up the situation in a field, and run and stake the lines. There will also be demonstrations of the correct way to construct the terraces with various kinds of machinery. Largely on account of this program adopted two years ago the annual acreage terraced in Texas has increased from about 400,000 acres to more than 600,000 acres.

The March schedule of these county-wide terracing schools, usually held near county seat towns, is as follows: March 7, Haskell county; March 8, Throckmorton county; March 9, Wilbarger county; March 11, Collingsworth county; March 12, Donley county; March 13, Childress county; March 14, Hardeman county; March 19, Lamb county; March 20, Hale county; March 21, Swisher county; March 22, Deaf Smith county; March 25, Randall county; March 26, Potter county; March 27, Sherman county; and March 28, Ochiltree county.

Fafurias—Forty-five acres of oats planted last fall for winter grazing by a local dairyman has increased the milk flow from his herd of 24 cows from 17 pounds butter-fat daily to 22 pounds butter fat. This is part of the county agent's program for reducing cost of producing milk and cream by better feeding and pastureage.

Shamrock—"It's a little trouble-some to cultivate curved rows of cotton," declares B. R. Lane who farms near here, "but it doesn't make my mules drunk to follow the curves and it's making me money." Mr. Lane terraced 26 acres of land last year with the aid of T. R. Brown, county agent, and from this land he gathered ed 18 bales. The same kind of cotton on similar land nearby yielded only 11 bales on 50 acres. This is a return of three to one in favor of terracing as reflected by yields in the first year after the work was done.

Columbus—"Better bulls build bigger bank balances" is a faithful slogan, so scores of farmers in Colorado county think after two years of intensive campaigning by county agent D. D. Clinton to build up beef cattle herds by better sires. Scores of well-bred Hereford bulls have been imported and bought by local cattlemen and the movement is only well begun, for as some cowmen estimate, 150 more good bulls could be placed here right now. One of these men gave the reason for the interest in good bulls by declaring that he made $5,000 more last year because of having used registered Hereford bulls.

College Station, Texas, March 30.—A total of 294 students at the A. & M. College of Texas are candidates for degrees at the forthcoming fifty-third annual commencement of the college to be held next June. Graduates last June numbered 275. The school of engineering with 155 leads in prospective graduates for the current scholastic year, the school of agriculture being second with seventy-nine. Other graduates are divided between the graduate school, school of arts and sciences, school of vocational teaching and school of veterinary medicine. Electrical engineering with forty-four shows the highest number of prospective graduates for any one course, agricultural administration being second with thirty-nine.

283 STUDENTS OF A. & M. MADE HIGH RECORDS

College Station, Texas, March 30.—A total of 283 students at the A. & M. College of Texas made sufficiently high scholastic records during the first term of the present school year to place them on the list of students eligible for distinction for the session, records from the office of the registrar of the college show. The college regulations require that in order to merit the distinguished rating, a student must fail in none of his work and must show at least sixty grade points, representing a high academic record, for the whole session. It is required that at least twenty-two grade points must be made during the first term.

a total of 47 grade points took the lead in scholastic rank for the term. A. D. Martin, Jr., of Bryan, was second with 43 1-2 grade points and M. Montemayer, a student from Mexico, and E. C. Langley, of Bullard, tied for third place with 42.

SERVICE PROTECTION NOW PLANNED FOR CHEVROLETS

Detroit, March 30.—In preparation for America's biggest motoring season, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced here today the development of a comprehensive program for the service protection of the millions of its cars that will be in use this Spring.

Surveys made by the company indicate that automobile travel this year will break all mileage records; they say that the automobile will be called on to shoulder an increasing portion of the nation's transportation requirements and they point out that the automobile will pioneer its way this year into uncharted spots and secluded recesses, where until but a few years ago, service was miles away and frequently uncertain.

It was with a view to making the Chevrolet service even more accessible, thorough, rapid and economical to the owner that the present expansion and perfection program was undertaken, J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division, explained.

So extensive has been the development of the service activities of the company, he said, that there are now 20,000 points in the United States where the Chevrolet owner may obtain authorized Chevrolet service or genuine parts. This is perhaps the fullest service coverage ever offered by an automobile manufacturer, Mr. Little declared, and assures the Chevrolet owner of the widest possible parts and service protection.

The program contemplates the opening this year of eleven new parts warehouses, in addition to the 26 now in operation. Several of these will be in operation in May, with others opening at intervals until October 31 when the last of the group will be finished. New warehouses are being built or will be constructed this year in the following cities: Indianapolis, Ind.; Birmingham, Ala.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Richmond, Va.; Great Falls, Mont.; El Paso, Texas; Wichita, Kansas; and Knoxville, Tenn. Surveys for the remaining three warehouses will be announced in a few weeks.

When completed this Fall, the parts warehouse program will provide the Chevrolet with 1,180,000 square feet of floor space for the actual warehousing and shipping of parts, exclusive of the necessary office space.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the new six cylinder car, adequate parts supplies were shipped to each of the 28 parts warehouses. In this connection, Mr. Little explained that more than 5,000 Chevrolet mechanics in various sections of the country have already attended the special Chevrolet service schools, where under the supervision of factory experts they make a thorough study of the new car and prepare themselves to offer the owner prompt and efficient service. Thirty-one of these schools are now in operation.

The same tremendous manufacturing facilities that are enabling the company to offer the new car at its price, Mr. Little pointed out, are permitting Chevrolet to offer parts at prices consistently low and well within the price range of the four. He called attention to the strategic locations of the large group of parts warehouses stressing the fact that sites had been selected with a view to getting parts closer to the customer. He further pointed out that the uniform flat rate system of charges that prevails in Chevrolet service stations gives the advantage of the lowest service cost and price guarantee the same time.

MEN:

TALL buildings, paved streets, fine schools, beautiful homes and spacious parks are all meaningless until they are filled with men and women.

All these things are but the result of men's vision and genius and courage. Every building that goes up, every institution that prospers is fertilized with life blood of men.

Men make cities. They dream, plan and act. Out of their efforts a city takes form. A city, then, is as great as its men.

Texas is a great State because it has great men. There is a group of men and women employed by the TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY who have caught the vision of Texas' greatness. They understand what Texas is striving toward. They are keenly ambitious to have a definite part in this program of progress, individually and as a group.

In all their words and actions they reflect a great pride in Texas. Their patriotism for Texas is not evident only on holidays; it is ever present. The very nature of their work brings them close to the heart of this splendid State. Their hands are constantly on its pulse. Some part of them are constantly at their post of duty twenty-four hours each day. Better electric service to the Texas cities and towns served is their watchword. Know these folks! They are pulling for Texas, and for you.

Pitcher Proverb.
 "The pitcher goes so often to the well that it is broken at last." This is a proverb in which the English proverb is generally quoted. It belongs to the folk sayings of several nations. The most famous expression of it is in Cervantes' Don Quixote. "So many times the pitcher goes to the fountain!" Meaning that it is broken. But the same proverb is found in centuries earlier in a French proverb, Le pichier qui va si souvent à la puits, se casse à la fin.

SCHOOL NEWS

One of the cleverest chapel programs we have had this year was rendered Thursday morning by pupils of the 5th grade. A mock faculty meeting with 100 per cent attendance was well acted by the youngsters.

Little Miss Sara Anne Hart introduced the following teachers:
Mr. Edwards—Harold Gibson.
Mr. Burkhalter—Earl Goye.
Mr. Dennison—J. B. Curtis.
Mrs. Burkhalter—Wilda Lee Burkett.

Miss Smith—Lavinia Austin.
Miss Rice—Thelma Parker.
Mrs. Gary—Jim Ellen Wells.
Mr. Martin—Vernon Cook.
Mr. Graham—J. D. Hunt.
Mrs. Graham—Maxine Munger.
Mrs. Martin—Thelma Williams.
Miss Sargent—Marie Greenwood.
Miss Gary—Modine McLauren.
Miss Rodgers—Louise Edwards.
Miss Harville—Theresa Stockton.
Mrs. Gooch—Geneva Bean.
Mrs. Edwards—Maudie Williams.
Mrs. Street—Doris McConal.
Mrs. Shaw—Grace Hasley.
Miss Millwee—Minnie Mae Williams.

Quite a number of visitors were present and apparently heartily enjoyed the program.

The pupils of Miss Gary's room
have made some very pretty class-rolls. In the booklets will be placed a picture of the class and themes written by the pupils.

The fifth grade has made some map books for their free hand maps.
Last Monday afternoon Mrs. Martin's pupils joined with Miss Gary's pupils in an Easter egg hunt south of town.

The low 7th and high 6th grades, enjoyed an Easter egg hunt with Miss Gary's room Monday afternoon.
The boys enjoyed a base ball game
while the girls were hid. The high 6th and low 7th have started a spelling contest. There are two sides the Reds and Blues. The Reds are one mark ahead at present. The winning side will be entertained by the losing side at the end of school. The following pupils that made a hundred per cent in spelling this week, are Marv Hart, Maye St. Clair, Earl Howard, Addie Williams and Johnnie
Edwards.

This morning in chapel each pupil in Mrs. Gooch's room (the fifth grade) imitated each teacher in Hi School and also grade school. In imitating Mr. Graham it was said
"I have a pain in my sawdust" and
"while I am talking about myself I am letting somebody else rest."

Many other teachers were also imitated.

The High seventh grade are going on a picnic April 4th to the breaks.

SENIORS TO HOLD CANDY SALE

Each Thursday at the noon hour
the Senior class will sell home made candy at the school building. The proceeds will be used for commencement expenses. Don't forget to bring your dimes.

An April fool social was Tuesday evening by the Intermediate B. Y.
P. U. at the church with Tahoka union as guests. Several interesting games were played, after which April fool refreshments were served, consisting of beans, onions, corn bread and sweet corn bread. Then more games were played. Punch and doughnuts were served to about fifty five.

An Intermediate B. Y. P. U. training class is now in progress at the church each evening at 8 o'clock.

MY TRIP TO SOUTH AMERICA

(Editors Note: These two themes are winners of first and second places in a contest in the Low 6th grade of our Grammar School.)

I got on a ship called the "Monaccia" at Galveston, Texas, and sailed through the Gulf of Mexico down to Cuba, I spent several days there,
then continued my journey to South America. We had some locked gates to go thru in Crossing the Panama Canal. Then we sailed through the Caribbean Sea, and landed at the Maracaibo Lake in Venezuela. We stayed there one week and went thru the Guiana and saw many interesting things, then went down to Brazil into what is called the coffee pot of the world. I saw them pick coffee, dry it, and pack it at Santos, Brazil, to send it to North America and other places of the world. I took a trip through the Amazon valley, I saw some of the queerest and funnest and largest animals of the world such as snakes, Panthers and other large animals. Then I went to Rio de Janeiro. I got on board, at Rio de Janeiro and sailed for Uruguay and saw cow boys with big hats and large herds of cattle. We saw the largest city of South America, which is Buenos Aires, there we saw many Spaniards, Portuguese and other foreign people.

We went to the Patagonia desert and we were told the reason for being there the Andes Mountains are on the west and when the moist winds blow over them they lose all their moisture and are dry winds. Then we sailed for Punta Arenas, the southern most city in the world.

Next we came to Chili and visited the capital Santiago, where they study astronomy. We visited the Nitrat of Loda fields. And passed through the Atacama desert of Chili where there has been known to have passed seven years without a drop of rainfall.

We saw oranges growing in Paraguay and discovered that the population are women and men and are men. They were driven out by a Bolivian army.

La Paz, the capital of Bolivia and is the highest capital in the world.
A piano costs three times as much there than in America, and only the wealthy people can have one.

Ecuador gets its name from the equator which crosses it. Here we saw people making Panama hats and selling them for as much as $75.00.
We frowned at the price, but when they tell us they have worked 4 or 5 weeks we don't mind it so bad.
Quito is the capital of Ecuador.

We visited Bogota the capital of Colombia and we saw them diving
for pearls.

Then got on board our ship and sailed for home.

—Irene Ellars.

MY TRIP TO SOUTH AMERICA

On the 20th day of November, which was my birthday my father
ask me what I wished for a gift.

I told him I wished to go to South America. He asked me if I had rather go by water or by air, of course since Lindbergh became such a great air pilot I wanted to go by air in the "Spirit of St. Louis" with Lindbergh as pilot. We got things ready to leave that night as Lindbergh was already going to South America in the future. We were soon off on our trip.

As we rose in the air I watched the city of O'Donnell disappear with a gleam between us.

We landed in Venezuela at the cheekered boardfield.

We saw many thrilling things.
We saw the negroes diving for pearls.
We went to Brazil, there we saw many uncivilized people. We saw schools in Rio Janeiro.

We took off for a country like our own. This country was Argentina. There we saw cowboys with horns and chaps on. We saw the desert of Patagonia and saw train loads of cattle.

Then we went to Chili the shoe string country. There we saw the Atacama. This desert furnishes us with gun powder.

We then took off for Bolivia,
where we saw the world's highest capitol building at La Paz. Then being tired of wandering we went to North America.

—James Monroe Hamilton.

New Road Is In Excellent Shape

(From Wilson Pointer)

The new road that has been opened to Slaton is in excellent shape since the rain of last week. Now only to Slaton but to Tahoka. In fact this is the best road that we have ever had to Tahoka. It looks like a state highway. Congratulations are in order for Commissioner Finley on this piece of work.

With the amount of roads that each Commissioner has to look after,
two sets of road machinery is not enough. Each Commissioner needs a complete outfit, then we would have better roads.

EXCELLENT CAST ASSISTS
HOLT IN ZANE GREY TALE

Jack Holt and Bacalova, the talented Russian actress, give such a spirited and convincing performance in the new Zane Grey picture, "Avalanche," which opens at the Lynn Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, that moving picture audiences are certain to demand more pictures using this combination.

Jack Holt alone has won universal favor with motion picture audiences in the Western roles which he plays so well. In "Avalanche" he outdoes his best and creates a character with a rare sympathetic appeal. Bacalova, in the strange Western setting, displays the versatility of the talent which brought her fame in the Emil Jennings picture, "The Street of Sin," and in the recent George Bancroft masterpiece, "The Docks of New York."

The theme of this Zane Grey story centers around the affection of two men for each other and the romantic problem which threatens to estrange them. The most spectacular scene in the picture provides the crisis of the story. A whole mountainside is shown in a great avalanche.

Limit to Train Speed

Under Best Conditions

When railway beds have been made as nearly perfect as possible; when the lines have been straightened and as far as practicable leveled, and when the best types of locomotives and cars have been devised, how fast will steam be able to carry us?

An answer to this question, based on a scientific examination of the conditions involved, is furnished by an authority on facts relating to railroads. One hundred miles an hour is about the limit of speed suggested.

Another very important question growing out of the first is: Within what distance can a train running 100 miles an hour, or but little less than 150 feet a second, be stopped? The reply is that under the most favorable conditions a distance of nearly half a mile would be required. A train running a mile a minute can be stopped, it is estimated, within a distance of 100 feet. By adding only two-thirds to the speed, therefore, the distance required for bringing the train to a standstill would be increased almost three times.

It is evident that when we are whirled across the country at the rate of 100 miles an hour "a clear track" will become a far more important necessity even than it is today.

Widely Varying Ideas

of Things of Beauty

Ways that are not our ways always seem funny. "Civilized" visitors to Papua, New Guinea, says the New Orleans Times-Picayune, are quite moved to laughter at the fact that in that "benighted land" dogs' teeth are used as money. It used to be the same when our own folks here in America found the "absurd" Indians carrying strings of shells (wampum) as a medium of exchange. In both these exotic cases the money tokens also were regarded as things of beauty and worn as such by the females of the species and sometimes by the more esthetic of the males.

But, after all, is it any more laughable to regard dogs' teeth as beautiful than it is to find charm in elephant or walrus tusks? Yet ivory, especially carved ivory, has been a civilized treasure perhaps since civilization began; not only ivory, but even plain bone. And how about our civilized admiration for turtle carapaces and the esteem in which we hold the shells of the pearl oyster and the esthetic vogue of the conch shell cut up and worked into combs? After all, is not "clever as a hound's tooth" one of the popular metaphors?

Hardy's First Employment.

The illustrious Thomas Hardy started his business career as an architect. He was associated as an employee with Sir A. Blomfield at 8 Adelphi terrace, London, the house now occupied by the British Drama League. To commemorate his association with the house, a panel has been placed in the library with this inscription: "Thomas Hardy, O. M." The first floor of 8 Adelphi terrace was formerly the office of Mr. (afterward Sir) A. Blomfield, and here Thomas Hardy, aged twenty-two to twenty-seven, was in his employment as an architect in the years 1892-1897. Here he saw the Thames embankment being built and wrote some of the poems that were to be published many years afterward.

Instinct of an Insect.

A wasp-like insect, called the ichneumonidae, has a tail like a slender hair from a horse's tail, with which it drills through wood with this hairlike drill and with such accuracy that hits the spot where wood-boring larvae lie buried. The drill is hollow, and down this hollow tube is shot an egg which lives on the wood-boring larvae.

Just how these insects know where to bore with such unerring accuracy is a mystery, but it is of great economic value, as it destroys many insects harmful to agriculture.

His Chance Small.

A commercial traveler calling upon a new customer produced by mistake a snapshot of his fiancée instead of his business card.

"That's the firm I represent," he said.

The customer examined the somewhat determined-looking features of the young woman and returned the photograph with the remark: "I'm afraid you'll never be manager of that firm!"—London Tit-Bits.

Wasn't Fooling Wifey.

The golf professional was giving his wife a few lessons. He was a very good-looking fellow, and an interested crowd of girls gathered round to watch.

"Now, dearest," said the pro, audibly, "you hold the club like this; and then, sweetheart, you take up your stance like this; finally, darling, you hit the ball like this."

"That's enough," snapped his wife. "You're not trying to teach me—you're trying to attract a few clients."

Pitcher Proverb.

"The pitcher goes so often to the water that it is broken at last." This is the form in which the English proverb is generally quoted. It belongs to the common folk sayings of several nations. Its most famous expression in literature is in Cervantes' Don Quixote: "So many times the pitcher goes to the fountain! Meaning that it gets broken. But the same proverb is found four centuries earlier in a French writer, Gautier de Coinci.

Service---

The Central Idea In Modern Business

Modern conception of business is SERVICE. And civilization moves forward under the impulse of this idea.

exchange your money for a commodity you would rather have—and in this exchange you are rendered a service. To change you that business is most successful which serves the public in the matter of exchanging merchandise for money.

Service is the central thought in the business of the West Texas Gas Company. Though large investment of capital and employment of man power this company delivers NATURAL GAS into your home for your service and comfort.

When you exchange your money for natural Gas you not only get a fair exchange, but you receive relatively more for your pay for, because were you to buy your fuels, you would pay more and get less in convenience and efficiency.

If you wish, a trained service man will come to your home to inspect and adjust your appliances. The service costs you nothing.

Spearman will be burning natural gas by August 1st. Six inch pipe lines are to be laid to the town from the Stinnett fields to supply the commodity. The price is to be reduced from $75 cents to 65 cents per 1000 cubic feet of gas.

Fort Stockton is experiencing a lively building boom. The new opera house when completed and furnished will represent an expenditure of $75,000. Brick business houses costing $20,000 are being built and plans for more made. Many substantial residences are going up.

Santa Anna, after completing a new school building and a modern city hall has now started excavation preliminary to paving five blocks of the town's main streets. Plans are being considered for additional paving to be done upon the completion of these five blocks.

Although having an adequate water supply at the present time Childress is preparing for the future by purchasing a tract of 280 acres of land at a price of $16,000 to be used in drilling water wells. A dam may be built later to make a lake.

Contract has been let for the new Silverton high school building to cost approximately $85,000.00. The building will be completed by September. It will be modern in every respect and will be built and equipped with the latest and most modern of conveniences and material.

Tulia will represent Swisher county at the Second annual Panhandle Plains Dairy Show in Plainview April 2 to 5 with three hundred citizens headed by the Tulia High School band of thirty-two pieces. Eighty six head of dairy cattle are being fitted for the show.

More than 500 car loads of maize, kafir, and other sorghums grains have been shipped from Tahoka this season. One hundred cars are yet to be shipped. A car load of heads consists of about 20 tons, and bring about $17.00 per ton.

Ten percent of the farmers in Dickens county took advantage of the poultry and dairy short course conducted by E. N. Holmgreen and E. R. Eudaly at Spur, and are putting into practice the knowledge gained. Many farmers have taken up the idea of diversification in farming around Spur.

The outlook for dairying in Haskell County is better now than ever before due to the various organizations in several towns boosting the establishment of a creamery. Farmers in this section realize that the cow is hard to replace on the farm when it comes to an income the year around.

Forty head of dairy cattle will be taken from Lockney and Floyd county to the Panhandle Plains Dairy Show. A Floyd County delegation, composed of farmers and business men of the county, are planning to attend the show in unison on Wednesday April 8th. The delegation will be lead by the Floydada band.

The South Plains District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Tahoka, on April 24th will sponsor a "My Home Town" oratorical contest, at which all high school children under 21 years of age will be eligible. Secretary C. C. Williams of the Chamber of Commerce has mailed out rules and regulations.

Two well known west Texas women will be on the Oil Belt District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which will be held on April 18. They are Lexie Dean Robertson, poetess of Rising Star, and Christine Carter, vocalist of Breckenridge.

Some of the recent charities of the Moran Delphin Club have been the buying of a memorial window in the new Methodist church for $75.00. The club started the piano fund for the high school with a contribution of $60.00. A window in the new Methodist church for $75.00 was also purchased.

THE POOR MAN'S COW

The goat may never entirely supplant the cow as a source of milk, but it might well be used more widely by families which want a small quantity of milk and do not have room enough or can not afford, to keep a cow, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The milk-goat industry in this country is handicapped by a comparatively small proportion of superior milk goats and is only in its infancy, but in Europe, where the goat is often called the "poor man's cow," it forms a flourishing branch of the livestock industry.

OAT SMUT CAN BE PREVENTED

Smut in oats causes a very large annual loss than can be almost wholly prevented by treating the seed with formaldehyde, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This material is easy to apply, is cheap, and is effective for controlling both loose and covered smut. One pint of formaldehyde will treat 50 bushels of oats and may be applied as a spray, sprinkle or dip. Add the pint of formaldehyde to 1 pint of water for spraying or to 40 gallons of water for sprinkling or dipping. The seed should be thoroughly cleaned and graded before it is treated and unless it is sown right away it should be spread out and thoroughly dried after treating. Bags or sacks that have been used for oats before should be soaked or sprayed with a formaldehyde solution before putting treated seed in them. Contaminated drills also should be disinfected. Formaldehyde should be handled with care, as it is irritating to the nose and eyes.

ON NEW PASTURE

Dairy cows should not be turned on early spring pasture until the grass is 3 to 4 inches high and then only for a few hours a day at first. Continue to feed hay and silage for a time after starting them on pasture. A gradual change of this kind will lessen the danger of bloat and will minimize the grassy taste in the milk. If cows that are producing moderately are in thin condition at the end of the winter, they may increase in weight on pasture alone. It is generally good practice, however, to continue feeding grain to cows on pasture because the milk production will be higher and will be maintained longer.

KNOW TEXAS

Cabeza de Baca was the first white man to enter Texas. He was ship wrecked on the Gulf coast in 1528 and reached Mexico City after crossing the southern part of this state.

Yaleta, near El Paso, is the oldest town in Texas. It was founded in 1682.

The first Spanish mission was founded at San Antonio in 1718.

The State capital of Texas at Austin was burned in 1881.

The reason young people and old people who remain young in spite of their years love the movies is because the movies are full of action. Better see a love scene on the screen than sit in stagnant pity murmuring at the world for spinning around. A dull preacher once complained that there were more people witnessed the dog fight Saturday night than there were to hear him preach Sunday. A deacon arose and said, "but, pastor there was something going on at that dog fight."

TAHOKA WILL BE HOST TO DISTRICT CONVENTION OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Many letters are pouring into the office of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce from various Chambers of Commerce and High Schools of the South Plains stating that plans are under way for large delegations to attend the South Plains District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here on April 24th. Lamesa has given notice that they will have their band, Choral Club and a double quartet here. Lubbock has promised the largest delegation of any city on the South Plains and the Lubbock High School Band. Crosbyton states that they will have the high school band, the Ukelele Club and a male quartet. Here, Abert, as fast growing and thriving city has served notice that they will have a band here and will ask for the convention for 1930. Word has come unofficially that other towns are going to ask for the Convention.

The people of Tahoka are making plans to entertain the largest crowd ever to attend the South Plains District Convention. Nothing will be left undone for the comfort and pleasure of the visitors on that date. A contract has been let for the decoration of every business house in Tahoka.
