WEST TEXAS: Sunday mostly cloudy, local showers in south portion, warmer in north and west portion; Monday probably showers.

The Weather You, at least, can remember all your friends in your good will.

Homers By Ruth And Gehrig Let Yanks Nose Out A Win

Hooks and Slides

One of the magnates of a western American league club that did very well in the opening weeks was offered some sympathy a few days ago.

"You have to go east and play some real ball clubs now," he was told.

"There's only one ball club in the league," he answered. "And he would allow you only one guess. You're right."

Reason for Position.

If you don't know the reason for some of the funny looks of the early season standings, listen to the comment from the rival camps.

"Tigers—Underdogs," runs by the other fellows. "Ain't hittin' or fieldin'."

Cubs—Cuyler's got a sore hand and we feast one day and starve the next.

Giants—The Phils and Braves are lovely fellows.

Yanks—O. K.

Cards—Hittin' slump.

Indians—Ain't it nice.

Senators—The doctors are getting rich.

Brooklyn—Fair. Hendrick lets in four runs but he knocks in five.

Reds—Donohue's going to pitch now.

Red Sox—4-17.6 for a shortstop.

Athletics—Warm weather for old men.

Phillies—Jimmy Ring sure can pitch.

Pirates in Poor Condition.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, of all of them, have a real good alibi. Everyone knows that the Pirates are a good ball club. And a lot of people know that they are the poorest conditioned ball club in the big leagues.

It isn't their fault that they had such bad weather after they left the training camp. The schedule was also against them because in the first two weeks they had only three days at home and they couldn't practice then because of bad morning weather.

When the Pirates get home for a special game he will have to start all over again with regular training camp stunts.

Source of Gene's Talk.

Everyone wondered what Eddie Egan was doing around the Tunny training camp before the Philadelphia and Chicago fights. Egan was the Olympic light-heavyweight champion of 1920, captain of the Yale boxing team and an Oxford man who came by big words naturally.

The mystery is solved now since Egan's next to Yale and let the boys in on the secrets about Shakespeare Egan apparently was the champion's ghost speech writer. He's in India now with some millionaires hunting tigers and he's sure to get some distance between him and that speech.

They Say That—

All the throwing boys in the big leagues are heaving bean balls under bench orders to dust of the timid quick before they do harm.

The wise money likes Sammy Mandell to beat Jimmy McLaughlin. Billy Walker and Jackie Fields, fighters, tag Mandell also as the winner.

One rainy day down south the New York newspaper boys wrote that Stoney Jackson could hit longer than Ruth. McGraw threatens to fine him if he doesn't stop trying to outdo Babe Ruth.

Berg, the White Sox catcher, is also Jewish and he speaks seven languages. Rickard wired Dempsey he could get the right judges and a referee in New York.

Tunney is trying to avoid a contract he signed with Doc Ebo Hoff and Abe Attell in Philadelphia. Explorations coming.

Wells Forfeits to Daniels So Bussey Gets a Chance

As Spencer A. Wells was called out of town on account of business matters his semi-final match with E. T. Daniels of the regular monthly tournament for Lubbock Country club members and associate members was forfeited to Daniels.

Gilston Bussey, Tech student and youthful member of the country club, will meet with Daniels tomorrow afternoon for the championship of the monthly tournament, in the event that weather conditions will permit.

In the tournament finals it will be age against youth since Daniels is one of the oldest tournament players of the club while Bussey is the youngest.

Sharpshooters Out To Take Goodin's Lead from Him

With Cy Goodin holding high score towards the gold wrist watch, offered to the member of the Lubbock Gun club who makes a high score for three consecutive weekly shoots, the other members of the club will be on hand this afternoon in an effort to take a higher count in the shoot.

Goodin recently took part in an all-state invitation shoot at Sweetwater and scored in money all the way through the shoot. Goodin shot 95 out of 100 pigeons in the Sweetwater meet.

Byron Brown, president of the local club, held the club prize until last Sunday's shoot when Goodin copied the prize.

Five Records Fall As Rice Wins Track Meet

Longhorns Finish Second In Annual Conference Clash

Superiority In Running Is Reason For Owl Triumph; Texas U. Loses for First Time In Five Years.

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 12.—Superiority in the running events, in which Bracey and Brunson starred, gave Rice first place in the Southwest Conference annual track meet Saturday.

Texas University, winner for the last five years, was second with 46 points and Texas A. & M. College third with 32 1-2. Five records were broken and two tied.

Brunson of Rice institute carried off individual honors with 12 points. Baldwin of Texas got 11 points and Bracey of Rice 10.

Arkansas University barely outdistanced Southern Methodist University to fourth place, scoring 13 3-4 to the Methodists' 13 1-4. Baylor got 5 1-2 points and Texas Christian University failed to register.

The oldest mark in the conference, the half mile run at 1:57.7, held by "Long Jim" Reese, former Texas, was broken by Brunson, who did the distance in two-tenths of a second better.

Better Own Records.

Smith of Texas and Brown of Southern Methodist University bettered their own records in the broad jump and 220 low hurdles respectively.

The most thrilling event in the meet was the mile relay, which O'Neal, as anchor man for the Aggies, seemed about to win. Greer, Rice captain, overhauled him in the last 30 yards, however, and captured another five points for the Aggies school. This and Boone's first place with the javelin, added to eight points in the two-mile run, spelled victory for Rice.

Bracey Is Dash Star.

Bracey established himself as the outstanding dash man of the conference if there was any doubt as to his best in equaling the world 100-yard dash record at 9.5 at the Texas relay games some weeks ago. He was only two-tenths of a second slower than this in setting a new conference 100-yard record.

Likewise, Baldwin of Texas clinched his rights to honors as the conference best 220 low hurdles runner in a new record and taking first in the shot put. His first discus heave was 2 3-8 inches better than his final mark, which replaces the 1926 record of Taylor of Baylor.

Rain hampered the meet and at times threatened to break it up. The broad jump ran 30 minutes after the last scheduled event, the mile relay was run, and delayed the final accounting of points.

New records, with old mark:

100-yard dash: Bracey, Rice, 9.7 seconds (9.9); 800-yard run: Brunson, Rice, 1:57.5 (1:57.7).

Discus: Baldwin, Texas, 144 feet, 4 5-8 inches (143 feet 10 inches).

220-yard low hurdles: Brown, S. M. U., 23.5 seconds (23.7).

Broad jump: Smith, Texas, 23 feet, 5 inches (23.4).

Records tied: 220-yard dash: Bracey, Rice, 21.6 seconds.

300-yard run: Brunson, Rice, 4:21.2.

Pole vault: Won by Cabaniss, Rice; Hammond, Texas, second; Strepp, Arkansas; Sullivan, S. M. U.; Sanberg, Texas; Courter, Texas, all tied for third. Height 12 feet, 8 1-2 inches.

Discus throw: Won by Baldwin, Texas; Bartlett, A. & M., second; Mitchell, Baylor, third; Ficker, Arkansas, fourth. Distance, 144 feet, 4 5-8 inches (new record).

300-yard dash: Won by Bracey, Rice; Weichert, Rice, second; Bait, A. & M., third; Mahaffey, Baylor, fourth. Time 21.6 (ties record).

120-yard high hurdles: won by Tillman, Arkansas; Kennedy, A. & M., second; Ficker, A. & M., third; Baldwin, Texas, fourth. Time 15.4 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles: Won by Brown, S. M. U.; Kennedy, A. & M., second; Tillman, Arkansas, third; Mondrick, Texas, fourth. Time 23.5 seconds (new record).

Mile relay: Won by Rice (Hamilton, Reynolds, Lanikin, Greer); A. & M., second; Texas, third; S. M. U., fourth. Time 3:21.4.

High jump: Won by Sheppard, Texas; following tied for second: Moore, Baylor; Davidson, S. M. U.; Mills, A. & M.; Howe, Texas. Height, 6 feet, 1 3-4 inches.

Javelin throw: Won by Boone, Rice; Kennedy, A. & M., second; Tillman, Arkansas, third; Mondrick, Texas, fourth. Distance 188 feet, 8 1-4 inches.

Broad jump: Won by Smith, Texas; Mills, A. & M., second; Sheppard, Texas, third; Farmer, A. & M., fourth. Distance 23 feet, 5 inches.

Two mile run: Won by Chitwood, Rice; Willis, Rice, second; Brunson, Rice, third; Goode, Texas, fourth. Time 10:22.

Shot put: Won by Baldwin of Texas; Hargis of Texas, second; Pickel, Arkansas, third; Grace, Baylor, fourth. Distance 46 feet, 1 7-8 inches.

Mile run: Won by Brunson, Rice; Greenham, Arkansas, second; Willis, Rice, third; Blanton, Texas, fourth. Time 4:21.8 (ties record).

The prize offered to the best league attendance was given by A. T. Jones of Abilene.

Jonnard, Houston Catcher, In Lead In Texas Hitting

Worthington, Also Houston Player, Is Second; Waco Star Third; Riviere Is Hurling Pacer.

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 12.—Catcher Jonnard of the Houston team, although out of the lineup at present because of injuries, maintained the batting lead of the Texas league through the games of Thursday.

His percentage had dropped from .545 for the week previous to .488. "Red" Worthington, outfielder on the Houston club, headed the batting list among the players who have been in practically every game since the season opened, and was next to Jonnard.

Grimes of San Antonio who was one run behind Blackerby of Waco, a week ago, had tied Blackerby, and each had 24 to their credit. Shires of Waco was pushing them hard, however, with 22 Grimes maintained his team lead with six hits in his last game, adding any in the week. Shires of Waco had 5.

Blackerby Faces Hitters.

Blackerby had 46 safe hits to his credit, while Shires and Selph of Houston had 45 each.

The leading base stealing game since the season began was that of Moore of Fort Worth with 19, two more than a week ago. Schube, Houston, 6, and Watkins, Houston 5.

Six consecutive games won without a defeat was the record pitcher Riviere of San Antonio. Barnes of Houston has four wins, three of several pitchers who had been undefeated in fewer games. Callahan of Houston led the record for causing strike outs, having increased his number from 26 to 37.

The standing of the ten leading batters:

Jonnard, Houston, 48; Worthington, Houston, 39; Shires, Waco, 39; Bischoff, Fort Worth, 30; Blackerby, Waco, 32; Moore, Fort Worth, 27; Gibson, San Antonio, 36; Snyder, Houston, 36; Selph, Houston, 36; and Stanton, Wichita Falls, 35.

Handicap Is Won By McLean's Jock

Derby Candidate Gets Over In Clark Race; Cartago's Late Rally Brings Honor Of Second Place.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12.—(AP)—Frazee, San Angelo, won the Clark Derby handicap, won by the Clark handicap, $10,000, added, at Churchill Downs, today, with R. E. Lechler's Derby horse for this year, Cartago, second; Flat Iron, owned by Stuyvesant Peabody of Chicago, was third.

Jack's time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:45. Jockey E. Ambrose was up.

Bonivan, the only other Derby candidate entered in the handicap, scheduled for three year olds and upward, set the pace for the first half, but dropped back under Jack's drive in the back stretch.

Cartago Comes Through.

Cartago, lagging until the turn into the stretch, came through in a drive from the inside to nose several Iron out for second position.

Helen's Babe, winner of the Clark handicap, and coupled with Mike Hall as an entry, failed to hold up and was outdistanced in the stretch. Jack paid $6.25 to win, $4.25 to place and $5 to show on each $2 pari-mutuel ticket. Cartago rewarded his backers with a price of $19.25 and $9.65, and Flat Iron paid $5.56 to show.

Marty Flynn, a Derby candidate, and winner of the inaugural handicap, opening event at the Downs, came through in the sixth to win the Seelbach hotel handicap; six furlongs, in 1:12 4-5. King Nadi was second and Don Diego third.

Germany borrowed nearly 2,000,000,000 marks from the United States last year.

Garrison Finish Enables Pirates To Grab Another

Brooklyn Robins Are Taken Down A Peg By 9th Inning Rally Of Champs; Hitters Turn The Trick.

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, May 12.—A ninth inning rally which netted two runs enabled the Pirates to nose out Brooklyn, 5 to 4, here today in the first game of the series.

Brooklyn suffered his second reverse of the season.

West Texas League Statistics

Fraze, San Angelo Outfielder, Is Out In Front In Hitting; Lubbock Looks Good

(By Blundy Cross League Statistician)

Don Fraze, San Angelo outfielder, through Wednesday led the West Texas league in batting with a phenomenal mark of 500 over a 15-game span. Fraze hit safely in every game. Adams, of Lubbock, who had participated in only eight games, was Fraze's nearest rival with an average of .478. Scalling of Lubbock had 435 in 14 games.

Garland Orr of Abilene is the home run leader, plunking nine for the circuit in games played through Wednesday.

The league-leading Abilene team led in home runs with 28, but was fifth in team batting with 300. Coleman led the league in team batting with a figure of .327.

Some Figures Lacking.

The Hamlin-Coleman game of May 6 is not included in the figures. Due to poor co-operation between several of the league's scorers and the statisticians office the past week, complete and accurate stolen base and pitching statistics are not available at this time.

Batters in five or more games who have hit 300 or better and team batting follow:

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Jack Sharkey knocked out his man in a pound. We're laying our world series dollar on the Philadelphia Nationals.

The New York boxing commission is investigating the bout. After they get through with that one, the astute commission ought to look into the battle of Geysburg.

The only thing longer than the Olympic games, as the moderns play them, is a chess contest.

O'Goofy is horrified at the idea of a barless dog. Even an umpire, he says, has the privilege of defending himself with his voice.

It's almost time for the summer to start crossing the seven seas. Which reminds us that woman's place is in the foam.

The sheriff at Springfield, Ill., tried to serve a writ of attachment on O'Goofy's pants. He said, "I'm O'Goofy. It's what you call putting a plaster on the bunion derby."

Criminal Docket For Both Courts Here Announced

Berry Sooter and N. Stevens Listed for Trial on Murder Charges During June Term of Court.

Criminal cases for the June term of court in both 99th and 72nd courts were announced yesterday. Criminal court will hold the weeks of June 3rd and June 23rd in 72nd court, and the week of June 11, in the 99th district court.

The list to be tried in 72nd district court with the charges follows: Berry Sooter, murder; Harry McKee and Walter Oliver, robbery with fire arms; A. J. Schroeder, Ellis White, Hayed Davis and Freeman Northcutt, theft of more than $50; Bill Coon and R. L. Dale, burglary; Fred Hewitt, fraud; John Bailey, fraud; Chester Easter, seduction; R. A. Brown, driving while intoxicated, and the following charged with violation of the liquor laws: C. L. Jones, S. F. Gentry, George White, Ed Stovall, B. G. Bailey, Fred C. Smith and Berry Sooter.

The following will be tried in the 99th district court with the charges as named: N. Stevens, murder; Clint Young, bigamy; W. C. Brigham, forgery, and George Roberts (three counts); R. B. Lesler (three counts); W. A. Duke (two counts); violation of the liquor laws.

Farm and Marine Bills In Shape

Two of Outstanding Pieces of Legislation Bothering Congress This Season Are Now Ready.

WASHINGTON, May 12. — Two outstanding pieces of legislation troubling Congress this season—farm relief and merchant seamen—were ready to go into final form today ready to go to President Coolidge as the Senate and House agreed on compromises reached on differences on these bills.

Such measures are regarded as more or less in conflict with the administration program, although modifications finally made in the Senate government ownership shipping bill are believed to make it acceptable at the White House.

Agreements announced today by the Senate and House confer on the two measures showed virtually unanimous approval of the bills as finally worked out in conference. House approval is required first on both bills and this will be sought probably on Monday. The Senate then must act and no contest is looked for there on either proposition. Leaders are confident the two pieces of legislation can be put in the president's hands by next Wednesday.

RECITAL AT IDALOU Presentation To Be Made On Wednesday Night

IDALOU, May 12.—Pupils of Miss Vesta Henriette Brownlee, music teacher of the public schools here, will be presented in piano recital at the Club house next Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. No admission will be charged.

SCOUT NEWS
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

TROOP NO. 2
Some of the members have been working on their bowdrills. We adjourned early last Friday to enable some of the boys to take a B. Y. P. U. study course that was in progress at the church. Mr. Kuykendall, our scoutmaster, and Dr. Malone, one of our committeemen, were not able to attend due to sickness.

TROOP NO. 4
Meeting opened with usual flag ceremony and inspection. Next came firebuilding by flint and steel and bowdrill. In these contests the Lions won the pennant from the opposing patrols. Individual medals were awarded to Thomas Everheart, for his victory with flint and steel, and Chico Eaton for his successful use of the bowdrill. After the contests, we played several lively games; then dismissed with flag ceremony and taps.

TROOP NO. 5
Troop Five assembled at the usual meeting place with each of the three patrols well represented. A long track was laid by our leaders and it was with difficulty that many scouts were able to follow this trail. The signs were made mostly with small rocks, sticks and marks made in the sand, and led over a large part of the south and east part of the city. Drill work in knot tying was practiced. Fire building with bowdrill was also practiced. Our troop is not at its best now, as some boys have resigned and moved away, while others are too busy with school work to get merit badges, but we expect to become stronger as the boys who are doing nothing in the troop resign and their place is filled by new boys.

TROOP NO. 6
Troop Six held the first part of their meeting outside the church, where several scout games helped the energetic ones to escape the grip of too much reserve energy. Next came the inside work—school building, signaling and games. Following—swift on the heels of this came the routine business of the troop. Plans were laid for the re-election of new troop officers, while the new scout joined our ranks.

TROOP NO. 8
Troop Eight Boy Scouts of America met at 7:30 in the basement of the Temple-Ellis building with 14 boys and three officers present. With knot boards and totem poles growing in every patrol corner, our troop quarter looked lovely. The troop is organizing a ball club and has challenged the American Legion for a tilt on July 4. Most of the boys of Troop Eight have their uniforms. We cordially invite our troop committee and parents to visit us any meeting. With our spirit of scouting the big reason, we are a fast growing troop.

JOINS SANITARIUM
Miss M. McMillan, formerly of Oakland, Calif., has joined the staff of the Lubbock sanitarium, it was learned yesterday. She is to be the new superintendent of nurses left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Tina Holcomb.

FIVE CARS A DAY

Total of 7384 Cars Are Registered Here

More than an average of five new cars each day have been registered in Lubbock county during the month of May, records of the county tax collector show.

Licenses for six new cars and four old ones were issued yesterday, bringing the total number of cars registered this year to 7384. Sixty-three new cars have been registered here this month, boosting the new car registration for the year to 548.

If the present rate of new car registration continues for the remainder of the year the total will be more than 1750. Licenses for new cars yesterday were issued to: V. A. Hansen, L. G. Haynes, D. R. Harper, Mrs. A. C. Walker, W. T. Finney, M. C. Kinser.

GRAND JURY

Inquisitors Will Gather Here May 21

Personnel of the grand jury for the May term of the 72nd district court was announced yesterday from the district clerk's office.

The jurors will meet here the twenty-first of the month and serve for the remainder of the May term. The list summoned follows: D. H. Hatchett, Idalou; A. J. Payne, Slaton; S. D. Pate, Lubbock; L. Hardy, Shallowater; J. T. Lee, Idalou; Sam C. Arnett, Lubbock; L. B. Wooten, Slaton; Homer D. Grant, Lubbock; Frank Bledsoe, Idalou; Perry Wolf, Slaton; R. O. Russ, Lubbock; J. W. Lamb, Slaton; W. A. Myrick, Jr., Lubbock; A. R. Jackson, Wolfarth; T. J. Davis, Slide; F. T. Lea, Abernathy.

ANTON WOMAN DIES

Definite Arrangements Not Made for Mrs. Kennedy

Definite funeral arrangements for Mrs. J. E. Kennedy, 53, of Anton, who died in a local hospital yesterday, had not been announced last night. Funeral services will be held sometime this afternoon at Anton. The body was prepared for burial by Rix undertakers.

Mrs. Lee Portwood and Mrs. Boyer Kee, of Lamesa, were shoppers in Lubbock yesterday.

MELLON CHAIRMAN
 Heads the Pennsylvania Delegation
 PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—Accepting the chairmanship of the Pennsylvania delegation to the republican national convention today, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon told the delegates that of all the candidates for the presidency, Herbert Hoover "seems to come closest to the standard that we set for this high office."
 "However, between now and the convention," Mr. Mellon added, "I recommend that we hold ourselves unpledged and uncommitted to any particular candidate, so that when we meet in caucus in Kansas City before the convention we will have the fullest liberty of choice to do as we see fit for Pennsylvania and the nation."
 Mr. Mellon unanimously was elected chairman by the caucus of delegates who also completed their organization for the convention.

Expectancy Fills The Air As Derby Day Draws Near

Field of Finest Three Year Olds Will Be Classy And Fast With Many That May Win Race Laurels.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12.—For the fifth-fourth time historic Churchill Downs, charged with the subtle expectancy known only during the last week before Derby Day, is being set in order for America's premier test of speed and stamina of the country's finest three-year-olds.

While a record number of fleet sets of blue-blooded sties may not face the barrier on May 19, the 1929 Derby field will not lack in class. Few seasons have produced more promising colts than a number of those nominated for the classic and none has known a more successful training period, free from all kinds of mishaps.

All Well Trained. All of the outstanding eligibles have trained well. Mrs. John D. Hertz's splendid pair of racers, Bright Count, favorite in the winter books, and Anita Peabody, outstanding filly of the season are at top form. The latter is being pointed for the Oaks and may not run the Derby, but there are those who think she will. The pair will be hard to beat.

Other horses will not lack a following. Misstep, out of St. Theresa's topset, which stepped a mile in 1:40 4-5 in a trial run this morning and then finished out the Derby distance in 2:07 3-8, and Victorian, winner of the Freshness, are encouraging rapidly upon the popularity of the Derby race. The Le Mar hopeful, between the legs of Joe Kesteris, opened up the eyes of work watchers with one of the best trials of the season this morning and set the tongues of railbirds swarming. Misstep undoubtedly will be in the running when the field gets off. As for Victorian, Harry Payne Whitney's entries always are dangerous.

Light Harness Racing Is Still Popular

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 12.—Light harness racing is losing none of the lure once fascinated men like "Pop" Greers and still holds the interest of many enthusiastic followers of the track. Fairbury lists of the Kentucky Trotting and Horse Breeding association disclose that 780 blue blooded mares of the country, have been named by eighty-eight individual breeders in Kentucky's historic $26,000 colt race. The purse is offered in four divisions, $1,000 for two year old trotters, $2,000 for two year old pacers, $14,000 for three year old trotters and $3,000 for three year old pacers.

Lead Campaign At Baptist Church

REV. L. L. COOPER

Inaugurating an evangelistic campaign for the First Baptist church here Wednesday night will be Rev. L. L. Cooper, of Ft. Worth, and members of his group. Mr. Cooper will do the preaching and Mrs. Cooper will conduct chime talks. Special services will be held each night throughout the campaign.

Over The Coffee Cups

Small Items Of Real Interest

Today is Mothers' day—that one day of the year set aside to revere the most tender of all earthly passions—a Mother's love. Indeed appropriate is it that there should be one day in the year in which those of us whose Mothers are living might pause, amid the rush and hurry of our every day activities, in tribute to Mother, and that those whose Mothers are missing may freshen that eternal memory.

Thousands of pounds of candy done up in boxes adorned with a Mothers' day theme, and enough flowers to cover a space the size of the court house square, were sold in Lubbock this week. All to go to Mothers.

A very stubborn and headstrong Chevrolet Friday mounded the sidewalk in front of the J. C. Pomeroy store and didn't stop until its bumper and radiator had buried a section of stone from the wall of the store and shattered a section of plate glass. The lady (of course it would be a woman) who was driving the automobile, had made a mistake in putting the car in gear, bystanders said.

Several cars went into the ditch along the Slaton road early Saturday morning.

BUILD NEW THEATRE

Robb Begins Construction On Big Spring Plan

BIG SPRING, May 12.—Concrete is being poured for the foundation of the $100,000 theater being erected by Yuell Robb of Big Spring. This building is located at the corner of Main and 4th streets. The building will have a seating capacity of 1,400, according to J. M. Morgan of the Morgan Construction company. The organ purchased for this new entertainment house is the latest in musical equipment, according to Mr. Robb and cost $25,000 complete.

TO SCORE ENTRIES

Miss Virginia Camp A. and M. Agent, Coming Here

Miss Virginia Camp, district home demonstration agent from College Station, will be in Lubbock during the coming week-end to score the two Lubbock contestants in the State Better-Living Room contest. They are Mrs. A. C. Woodruff and Mrs. R. Middleton, of the Hardy community.

Many Bands Plan To Attend Session

Heart Of Texas Association Offers 600 Musicians At Annual West Texas C. C. Fort Worth Meeting

BROWNWOOD, May 12.—The eighteen counties included in the Heart of Texas association expect to send 600 musicians, composing 12 to 15 bands, to the Tenth Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Fort Worth, June 18, 19 and 20, accompanying a mammoth delegation from the entire section.

Tentative plans for the group delegation include a special train from San Angelo and another from Brady. The San Angelo train will take on additional coaches at Coleman and Santa Anna on which will be bands and delegates from Rowena, Miles, Winters, Eden, Talpa, Paint Rock, and other towns. The Brady train will carry Menard, Brownwood and other delegations from that section.

The Heart of Texas group will have headquarters uptown in Fort Worth and a regular Heart of Texas program will be offered, with every county in the section represented. There will also be a sponsor from every town with a delegation to the convention.

That Sydney has men with more remarkable physique than can be found in any other city of its size in the world, was the statement of Sir Robert Horne, of England, on a recent visit to the Australian city.

Folklore Head

Prof. Newton Gaines, head of the department of physics at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, was elected president of the Texas Folklore society at the recent meeting of that organization in Austin. Gaines has specialized in Texas cowboy ballads, and gives programs in which he sings these, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Plans Are Laid For Annual Camp Fire Girls' Drive

W. Gamel Heads Organization Of Lubbock Sponsors; Educational And Financial Campaigns To Be Linked

Plans Here Hopes To Raise Money To Carry On Camp And To Bring Worker For Girls Of Section

Lubbock is alive to the needs of her youth as displayed in a conference yesterday of Lubbock fathers and business men with W. Gamel, president of the Lubbock Camp Fire Girls council. Plans were laid for an educational campaign for the girls to be carried during the next few weeks to provide for recreation and development of the group during the vacation period. Further preparations for the drive were made at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 in the First Presbyterian church in which the Camp Fire council, business men and Lubbock women are to be present. Every woman of Lubbock is extended an invitation to the meeting. A meeting of the Camp Fire council has been called for Tuesday at 1:30 p. m.

$1,500 is Goal Set. A hundred dollars was set as goal for the Camp Fire fund which will provide for recreation of the girls. It was decided in the meeting that the campaign for the fund will start on May 18. Money will be used; first, to purchase for the Camp Fire field house at least two weeks of camp for the girls; second, to purchase for a camping period for the girls during the summer at the beauty spot and to see that the girls are supplied with the necessities of life. The campaign for the fund will be conducted in June. The girls of the city have been asked to contribute to the fund. The campaign will be conducted in June. Lubbock County Is Wet

Lubbock county is wet, and farmers will begin planting cotton as soon as the weather clears. In fact considerable cotton has been planted during recent weeks, and in some instances a good stand is now up. On the Lubbock-Slaton highway a number of fields of growing cotton were noted by the writer as early as Thursday of last week, and since that time at least an inch of rain has fallen.

Crops this year will be from 45 to 50 days earlier than last, and even though we have early frost a fair cotton crop may be expected to mature. Last year many farmers planted cotton as late as the first week in July—this year all cotton should be in the ground by May 25th. This means an additional growing period of about six weeks over last year.

Land in Good Shape

Land on the South Plains is in good shape and all the moisture is being retained. Cotton planted now may be expected to come up without additional rain, say farmers who have watched conditions for a number of years. A few showers will push it along to early maturity.

There is no way to estimate the acreage this year, but it is safe to say it will be considerably larger than that of last year.

Farmers do not claim that there is a perfect season in the ground, for there is not. There was no moisture in the ground three weeks ago, and recent rains will only make planting possible and give temporary aid. More rain will be needed if crops do their best, and the rain must fall during this month. The present season is sufficient to bring up the seeds and that is all. Quite a few people have planted seed, and these crops look well. Very little rain will be needed to mature them.

Doing away with the dangerous job of the tender, a new target being tried by the French army has an apparatus for displaying signals showing exactly where the projectile struck.

General Rains Over Panhandle And Plains Territory Enable Planters To Prepare Land For The Coming Crops

Lack of Underground Water Temporarily Offset; 1928 Crop Expected To Be 40 To 50 Days Early

Following a general downpour of rain over the Panhandle-Plains section, farmers may be expected to enter their fields this week with a desire to get "cotton in the ground" as quickly as possible. In another week tens of thousands of acres will be planted, and indications are very favorable for a bounteous crop. Showers of a more or less local nature began falling several days ago, but Thursday and Friday they changed into an old time soaking rain, and so far as is known there is very little dry dirt on the South Plains at this time. The rain covered an area of 100 by 175 miles, taking in a major portion of the cotton belt. It will not only aid the cotton farmer, but the wheat farmer and stockman.

In contrast to modern dress are costumes for the Technological college annual pageant when the queen and her attendants will emulate dress of the seventeenth century Spanish court.

Pageant Dresses Emulate Spanish Period Costumes Tech Queen and Ladies of Court Wear Seventeenth Century Copies; Contrast With Modern Frocks In contrast to modern dress are costumes for the Technological college annual pageant when the queen and her attendants will emulate dress of the seventeenth century Spanish court. Yard after yard of material went into the making of these white gowns—skirts of which billow over tops more than a yard in diameter, lending to the dress a dignified and stately with the occasion. The ladies are to wear short trousers and doublets of the same period. Elaborate Dress Most elaborate of the gowns is that to be worn by Miss Marie Williams, queen of the Tech, whose white mantilla draped gracefully from a high comb in her hair. Her low-cut basque is completed with a scalloped skirt that falls over elliptical hoops to her ankles and is embellished with sparkling tinsel. With this she carries a white staff, brilliant with sequins. Less studied, yet courtly are gowns of other court members, whose dresses are similar to the queen's without the tinsel. Black hats, having some flare, are worn by attendants and black veils which fall from one side of the crown are caught under their chins. Large feathered fans in black complete the costumes. The Attendants The queen's attendants are Misses Agnes Brown, Estelle Shepherd, Maye George, Vida Anderson, Nell Goddard, Nora Cooke, Ivo Burleson and Ruth Starnes. Their attendants: Percy Denton, Carroll Clement, W. W. Wigginton, Cecil Hilley, Ralph Carpenter, Manell Hall, A. Weaver, Jr., and Al Van Dyke. Miss Wallace escorts the queen. Approximately seventeen yards of material went into the making of the attendant's skirt with additional yards in the queen's.

Fur Trimming, Will Find A Place In New Designs For Wraps BY JEAN PATOU For NEA Service PARIS, May 12. — Whereas velvets figure for a large part in any winter collection, until quite a short time ago they were wont to disappear when summer came. As far as summer evening wraps are concerned, however, I always was a partisan of velvet and always shall be. Velvet, together with lame, are the only two mediums to use. From the point of view of richness of appearance, I consider them equal. Many women, as a matter of fact, find it difficult to choose between these two materials. Some prefer lame, because it is glittering, scintillating and perhaps looks more opulent. Others prefer velvet as softer, more becoming to both, face and figure. Likes Artificial Velvets If, on principle, I think silk velvet is the only possible velvet to use for winter afternoon wear, I have to admit that such great strides have been made in the manufacture of artificial velvets as to reconcile me to its use. Nowadays most of my evening wraps for the summer are of artificial velvet. It has reached such a point of suppleness and beauty of coloring that all the models created with it have been a source of great satisfaction to me. Evening wraps follow the general lines and movement of daytime coats. They generally are irregular of hem, so as to allow a glimpse of the gown worn underneath. An irregular neckline is easier to achieve in velvet than in a stiffer fabric and this often is accentuated by a deep head of fur, which contributes to the richness of the garment. Color Harmony I always make a special study of the furs which are destined to accompany these wraps and find that some are better suited than others. Chinchilla is better set off and turns off a ruby red velvet to better advantage. Mink looks best on any shade of green; blue fox on a deep shade of red. Foxes dyed to match a wrap also look well, provided the shade chosen is not a loud one. For the latter, I prefer all the shades of rose being beige and grey. Just as years ago a woman never would have thought of wearing a felt hat with a summer dress, nor furs of any kind on a hot, sunny day, velvet was another thing.

Madame Fernand Bouissen, left, wife of the president of the Chamber of deputies, wears this gray-green woolen coat trimmed with squirrel. The dress is of green satin and crepe de chine to match. Right is one of Patou's evening wraps in beige velvet with fur trimming, dyed, to match.

Miss V. Pendleton Is Party Honoree Marriage On June 10 Is Announced and Gifts Are Presented To Miss Pendleton Announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Veima Pendleton and John Foster and showering the bride-elect, five hostesses entertained Friday afternoon in the J. Woman Added To Faculty At Tech

Miss Dysart, Specialist In Primary Education Is New Instructor In Capacity Of Social Professor

Miss Bonnie K. Kysart, a practical education psychologist of wide experience, has been added to the faculty of Texas Technological college, according to Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the department of education.

Her special work in Tech will be social professor of primary education and psychology. Dr. Evans says that Miss Dysart is one of the leading teachers in the field of primary education and that her coming to Tech will add much to the prestige of this phase of the work.

Miss Dysart has been primary supervisor at Roswell, N. M., Amarillo, and for years was head of this work in the San Antonio schools.

During the past year she has been in charge of primary education in Williamson county under the new state law making the county an educational unit.

The state authorities were very reluctant to release Miss Dysart from this important work.

Miss Dysart has an M.A. degree from the University of Texas, and has done graduate work in the University of Chicago. She is a practical educational psychologist and not primarily a psychiatrist, according to Dr. Evans.

She has made a special study of comparative, experimental, social, abnormal, educational child psychology.

She is a member of the American Psychological Association, the American Educational Association, the American Child Psychology Association, the American Child Welfare Association, the American Child Health Association, the American Child Labor Association, the American Child Labor League, the American Child Labor Union, the American Child Labor Congress, the American Child Labor League, the American Child Labor Union, the American Child Labor Congress.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST—Grape fruit sections, cereal, cream, hashed liver and bacon, whole wheat pop-overs, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked macaroni and meat, pear salad, graham bread, cookies, milk tea.

DINNER—Stuffed breast of veal, baked cabbage and tomato, head lettuce, cream pie, milk, coffee.

The luncheon dish of macaroni and meat is well keeping in mind for a company "plate" luncheon. Served with buttered asparagus or carrots and a salad the "plate" is well balanced and nourishing as well as attractive.

Baked Macaroni and Meat. One cup macaroni broken into inch lengths, 4 eggs, 1 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup cold diced chicken or veal, 1-2 cup finely diced cold ham, 4 tablespoons grated cheese.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender.—Drain and blanch. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Add cream and fold in whites of 2 eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Season with salt and pepper and add macaroni. Add meat, ham and cheese and turn into a well-buttered baking dish. Bake forty minutes in a moderate oven. When firm to the touch the confection is done. Serve at once. (Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)

One-Minute Interviews. Ruth Elder Would Fly Again.

Thrills, according to Ruth Elder, famous trans-Atlantic aviatrix, are as much a heritage of women as men. She says, "Dr. Henry Van Dyke, in an interview, said that 'Men should fly the Atlantic, but women should not.'"

"I take umbrage with this. Since, when in the history of the world has man had a monopoly on adventure, thrill and experience? In proportion to the number of men and women engaged in the world war, I venture to say the female Red Cross workers took as great hazards as men.

"Stories were legion of American officers being forced to command Red Cross nurses to retire during the height of action on European battle fields.

"Why, then, in times of stress when women were permitted to perform function calling for extreme heroism, should they not in times of peace add to scientific research, explore unknown lands, and seek the thrill that comes with adventure?"

Executives Plan For C. of C. Meet

Big Representation of South Plains to Go To Annual Session in Fort Worth by Present Plans.

LAMESA, May 12.—Plans were advanced here at the meeting of the South Plains Executives this week to have the entire South Plains of Texas represented at the Fort Worth meeting June 18, 19 and 20th in an organized body. A committee was appointed consisting of Mr. Paul Miller, secretary of Tobacco chamber of commerce, Ed Bishop, secretary of Floyd county chamber of commerce, B. D. Bird, secretary of Ralls chamber of commerce and Wm. A. Wilson, secretary of the Lamesa chamber of commerce to work out the details of the plan. This committee will meet at an early date and formulate the details pertaining to such plan according to Mrs. Paul Miller, chairman of the committee. It will possibly be practical to secure a large headquarters at some place in Fort Worth that will be easily accessible to the main part of the city and the convention halls which is to be occupied by the South Plains delegations. All South Plains delegations will have their own banners, ribbons and dress regalia, but will also have, if present plans materialize, special South Plains streamers and banners as well as South Plains badges.

Miss Wells Honored by S. S. Class
Miss Ethel Wells, one of the grammar school teachers who will be leaving for her home at Lockney at the close of school next Friday, was the honoree at a pretty social affair Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Williamson, when her Sunday school class of the Methodist church, gave her a handkerchief shower. Miss Wells teaches the young people's class and this courtesy to her was to show their appreciation of her faithful and efficient work among them. After several contests and the awarding of comical prizes it was contrived that Miss Wells should win in the last contest and to her surprise the prize was a box-full of beautiful handkerchiefs from her pupils. Brick ice cream and cake were served to the guests by Mrs. Williamson, assisted by Mrs. Ed Hair and Mrs. Bessie Houston. The personnel of this complimentary affair included Misses Nannie Marie Pearson, Earle Jeanne Suits, Lillian and Ada Beaty, Jewel Aubrey, Margaret Cannon, Ethel Wells, Nancy Hale, Mrs. Bessie Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hair, Messrs. Dick Linn, John Francis, Bert Andrews and Tom Ellis Suits.

Lamesa Landmark Placed By New Office Building

Building Goes Down
Owner's Plan to Construct Modern Brick
Other Buildings Planned.

AMESA, May 12.—The Kelly building which has stood in Lamesa for the past twenty years is being razed to give place to a new brick structure on South and Austin streets. The new building will occupy almost a quarter of block and is located in one of the best sections of the city. It is being erected by the T. C. Brannon contracting Co. and the Acorn Co. For twenty years W. R. Kelly, pioneer of this section, owned the building. He has planned and progress for Lamesa and Dawson county, and is contributing much by causing the last of the wooden structures in Lamesa to be replaced by a building which holds sentimental memories for Mr. Kelly yet sentiments do not stand in the way of a forward movement so he is concerned. He contemplates still another improvement in Lamesa in that he is to take over the building hotel and bring same into a modern tourist hotel for the city. The new building is expected to be completed within next two months. The new building in Lamesa is the completion of two churches which will be outstanding for the city when completed. The Methodist are adding the main structure to their large and commodious church which is to cost some $20,000 when completed, and the church of Christ is building a $20,000 edifice starting the work this week. A. Stewart has just completed a nice modern stucco residence on Bryan street. The West Gas Co. company is constructing two buildings and dwelling for permanent. There is plenty of work here to take care of the building.

OIL OPERATIONS

Thirty Companies Active In Howard County Pools

SPRING, May 12.—Thirty companies are actively engaged in developing the Howard county territory. According to Fred Stewart, representing the highest of the 101 Ranch in West Texas, Spring has an opportunity in population in a remarkably short time. Due to the different oil sands from which it is now being produced, together with the vast amount of territory that is being developed within its present trade territory.

New Bus Line To Lubbock Starts

Will Run From Odessa To Andrews, Brownfield and Then to Lubbock and Amarillo.

(Special To The Avalanche Journal.)
ODESSA, May 12.—A new bus line between Odessa and Lubbock was inaugurated in this city this week when the final order to the project was granted by the Ector county commissioners and Odessa city officials.
The new line will traverse the road north connecting Odessa with Andrews, Brownfield and thence on to Lubbock and Amarillo. It is the route which state representative Henry E. Webb, of Odessa has been endeavoring to have designated as a state highway, and on which he has already made and filed his argument. Highway commissioners and state engineers are expected to be here next week to inspect the road and their approval of it as a state highway is confidently expected.
The new route will cut approximately 100 miles off the present western route to St. Louis and is expected to become very popular. It will divert a substantial amount of tourist traffic through Odessa.

DEATH

Imogene Sledge, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor died at the home here Friday following a short illness. The funeral was held at the Baptist church Saturday afternoon. Rev. B. G. Holloway officiating.

Many apartments being constructed in Sicily have modern bath rooms, but no arrangements for heating water.

DAILY MARKETS

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, May 12. (AP)—(United States Department of Agriculture)—Moderate activity prevailed in killing classes of cattle this week around the 11 midwestern and southwestern market circuit. Light receipts more than offset the depressing influence of a low and lower dressed beef trade. Prices on most killing classes ruled firm to unevenly higher. Finished light weight steers, which were in broad demand, showed upticks of as much as 50c at some points. Heavy steers opened the week sharply higher, but closed with most of the advance lost. The supply of good 86,500 showed a decrease of 5,000 from last week and 21,000 from the same period a year ago. Spring lambs of California and Arizona origin were marketed in liberal numbers this week and a general decline of 25-50c was put into effect. Aged stock also was under pressure and shared the decline on spring lambs. Although mature lambs were uneven, the undertone at most points was weak to lower. Receipts, including today's estimate were 253,250 against 252,792 last week and 233,500 the corresponding week a year ago.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, May 12. (AP)—Cotton prices were decidedly reactionary today under heavy selling promoted by poor Liverpool cables and more favorable weather. July contracts opened 18 points down at 20.88, and continued to ease during most of the brief session reaching the low point of 20.78 in the final trading. This price was 30 points or approximately $1.50 a bale under the previous close, and the option closed at 20.83, or 25 points net lower for the day. The general market closed steady at net declines of 25 to 32 points.

COTTONSEED OIL
NEW YORK, May 12. (AP)—The cottonseed oil market today ruled quiet and distinctly easier, breaking 17 to 25 points under liquidation and stop loss selling promoted by the reaction in cotton and surrounding market as well as the bearish April consumption report. The actual consumption last month was 274,168 barrels, sharply below expectations. Price crude nominal; prime summer yellow spot, 10.50; May closed 10.50; July 10.55; Sept. 10.83; Oct. 10.88; Dec. 10.70.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK
FORT WORTH, May 12. (AP)—The butcher hog trade here today was strong with prices ranging from $7.50 to $9.70. Sows and pigs were steady from $7.75 to $8.25 and $6.50 to $7.50, respectively. The cattle and sheep trades were nominal.

C. E. RALLY TODAY

Representatives Expected From Plains Towns

Members of Christian Endeavors from a number of Panhandle towns are to gather at the First Presbyterian church here today for a rally anticipating the state convention in Amarillo June 13 to 17. The meeting is to open at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Representatives are expected from Post, Slaton, Brownfield, Littlefield, Crosbyton, Lorenzo, Plainview, Amarillo and Friona.

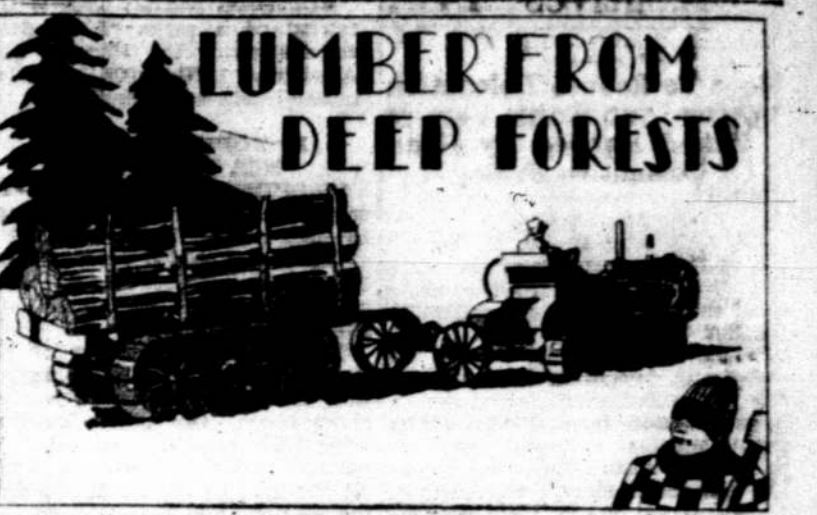

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, May 12. (AP)—The cotton market was lower today under week-end liquidation and some trade or commission house selling evidently inspired by reports of rains in Texas. July sold off to 21.05 and closed at that figure, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 25 to 34 points.

The opening was steady at declines of 3 to more points, with a five months soon showing net losses of 28 to 30 points on the Texas rain reports and the failure of Liverpool fully to meet yesterday's local advance. This decline brought in considerable covering, some trade calling and a renewal of commission house demand. Prices steadied in consequence, showing rallies of 10 or 15 points during the middle of the morning, but reports of rains in the southwest continued to come in, and the market weakened in late trading under renewed selling. May sold off to 21.32 and October to 21.02 late in the morning, and the close was within a point or so of the lowest.

Trading was fairly active at the start, but became comparatively quiet during the middle of the morning. There was another court toward the close probably on liquidation by early buyers.

English women are said to be heavier smokers than those of any other country.

OPEN MIDLAND HOTEL
ODESSA, May 12.—Mayor Sam McKinney of Odessa headed a large delegation of Odessians well wishing to Midland last night for the opening of the new Scharbauer Hotel in the race occasioned by the rapid development of this section of West Texas; a great deal of friendly rivalry has developed between the two cities.

Poll Starts On Dallas County's Delegate Group

Move To Reduce Delegation After Anti-Smith Vote Is Passed Rapped By Head Of Committee Friday

(By Associated Press.)
 DALLAS, May 12.—W. L. Thornton of Dallas, member of the state executive committee Friday, wrote other members of the committee as follows:
 "Since Dallas county elected an anti-Smith delegation on last Tuesday to the Beaumont convention, the state dispatch from Austin states that a proposal is being considered to have the state Democratic executive committee change the basis of representation in the state convention, which it adopted at its last meeting in Austin, so as to reduce Dallas county's convention vote eighty-six to fifty-two.
 "It has also been stated by the vice chairman of the committee that the state Democratic executive committee would remove from the temporary roll of the Beaumont convention all delegations from counties which did not comply with the pledge resolution adopted by the state committee. You will recall that certain newspapers reported that the state Democratic executive committee expressly declined to provide that delegation from counties not taking the pledge should not be seated.
 "Dallas county complied fully with the pledge resolution both in the precinct convention and the county convention and in selecting its delegates complied strictly with the rule laid down by the committee.
 "Law Requires Seating
 "It seems clear that the law required delegates duly and fairly elected by county conventions to be placed on the temporary roll regardless of pledge compliance. I think the members of the party of each senatorial district are entitled to know the attitude of their committee toward each of these proposals before the convention assembles and that each committee member should know the attitude of the people of his district. I am therefore taking a poll of the committee to ascertain the position of each member and will very greatly appreciate it if you will wire me immediately your position on each of the foregoing proposals.

Public Lands, Under Old Law, Paradise For Speculators, Rodney Dutcher Says

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of six daily articles giving the story of how America's 1,800,000,000 acres of public lands has dwindled.
 By RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer
 WASHINGTON, May 13.—The original public domain was created through the original 13 states of 260,000,000 acres of their land holdings between the Allegheny mountains and the Mississippi.
 The Louisiana Purchase of 1803 and subsequent territorial acquisition increased that acreage about seven times. Our public lands always have been in "the west," for before the government was formed all the land in the north and eastern sections had been divided.
 Earliest laws governing the public domain permitted speculators and large investors to obtain huge tracts for small sums. There was no qualification requiring that the purchaser be a bona fide settler and the absentee landlord system soon spread over a wide area of what had been the domain.
 It appears from available records that speculators and land companies bribed congressmen, state legislators and land office officials from the very start. In 1795, for instance, the Georgia legislature sold several million acres of land to four large companies and so land and wide spread was the accusation of bribery that the people of Georgia elected an almost entirely new legislature which rescinded the sales. After Georgia later ceded this land to the federal government, land companies lobbied for 20 years for federal reimbursement—and got it!
 Meanwhile in Washington, the Ohio Land Company had received 100,000 acres by act of Congress in 1792. It bought some 300,000 acres for $650,000 and instead of paying in money tendered at face value government certificates and army land warrants purchased at very heavy discounts.
 Ohio being directly in civilization's westward line of march, the company was able to sell to settlers with enormous profits. Meanwhile some state legislators and individuals were complaining at this practice of delivering choice lands, with their timber minerals and farm sites, into the hands of such land companies.
 In 1796 Congress "reformed" that policy with a law providing for sale of public lands on credit. This law was held would enable the poor settler to get land on equal terms with the big fellows.
 But the speculators went right on obtaining vast tracts by the simple process of bribing land officials to withhold the best areas and to allow "dummy" settlers first choice. Later, when these lands came into great demand they were sold at greatly advanced prices. The speculators then paid the government out of the profits or evaded payment altogether. In 1824 the Illinois legislature complained that non-resident speculators had the best land.
 There was a Senate Public Lands Committee in those days, too. It reported in 1834 that combinations of speculators had united at public sales to drive away competitors and discharge poor men from bidding. Buying at $1.25 an acre, they sold later at exorbitant profits. In 1820 the minimum price for government land was lowered from $2 to $1.25 where it remains today.
 The committee said that registers and receivers of the U. S. Land Office had been bought up by the speculators and had been receiving portions of the profits of the defrauders. It pointed to Ohio, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana as "the principal theater of speculations and frauds in buying up the public lands."
 In southern states speculators were to be seen leading mobs of negroes, half-breeds and vagrants to justices in remote counties, where lands were granted on affidavit to each man, all to be turned over to the spec.

MISS EFFIE SMITH ENTERTAINS
 Members of the home economics department of the Crosbyton high school are busily engaged in finishing their home project work before the closing of the school term. A certain number of hours are required in home work to complete the course as house cleaning, preparing and serving meals for the family and similar work. Miss Effie Smith recently entertained the Wednesday Bridge club for her mother, Mrs. Sep Smith, for her home project work. She planned and served the refreshments in a very creditable way. A color scheme of pink and green was carried out in the decorations and table appointments. Pink carnations were used as plate favors. The pink and green motif was also used very effectively in the menu consisting of shrimp wiggle, perfection salad, toast squares, angel food cake, sherbet with mounds of mint ice and iced tea with cubes of pink ice.
 Those present and enjoying the pleasant occasion were Mesdames J. A. Parks, J. T. Carter, G. M. McKee, E. M. Perkins, F. A. Green, Frank Corn, J. A. Buck, R. C. Carter, Robert Webb, members, and Mrs. C. R. Owen and Mrs. Harvey Allen, of Amarillo, guests.

MRS. CHASE HOSTESS TO BOOK CLUB

Mrs. W. C. Chase was a charming hostess to the Book club Friday afternoon, May 4. Vases of fragrant amaranths made the reception room a pleasing setting for three tables of progressive 42. After the games and exchange of books, the hostess served a delightful two-course luncheon consisting of a salad and ice course to Mesdames J. W. Scarborough, Sep Smith, R. D. Shaw, V. R. Plummer, C. R. Owen, B. W. Mitchell, A. K. Lackey, S. J. Dendy, I. W. Collier, R. S. M. Carter, J. W. Aynes, members and Mrs. H. C. Oldham, guest.

SIEBER-MEACHAM

Charlie Sieber, a prominent farmer of Crosby county and Mrs. W. M. Meacham were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the Methodist parsonage. Rev. T. M. Johnson, officiating. Their many friends extend congratulations and good wishes.

PERSONALS

Miss Pauline Buck spent the week-end in Plainville as a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Wayland. She has been invited to play a piano number at the last meeting of the Travel Study club which was held Saturday evening in the Wayland home with the year book committee as hostess.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Smith, of the Smith House, left Wednesday, for Dallas on their summer vacation. Mr. Smith expects to return in about ten days. Mrs. Smith will likely be away for about three weeks.
 Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter and children of Wichita Falls spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Simpson, and sister, Mrs. Herbert Davis and family.
 Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lamar, and daughter, Marie, spent Sunday visiting the railroad tunnel near Quitaque. They carried a picnic lunch and enjoyed a delightful outing.
 Sheriff Elmer Reed left Wednesday morning for Abilene to attend the States Sheriff convention which convened there on Thursday and Friday.
 Miss Eloise Cook and Norma Lee Kaye, of Lubbock, visited the Presbyterian church of Crosbyton Sunday morning in interest of a pep rally of the Presbyterian Endeavor Society to be held at Lubbock next Sunday.

Ghost Of Ku Klux Klan Appears In Texas Politics

With Control Of Dallas, Harris And Tarrant Counties Members Are Busy Forming Old Organization Is Claim

Moody-Davidson Faction Is Faced With Deep Problem And Must Play Carefully Writer States

By C. D. WAIDE (Special Correspondent) LUBBOCK, May 12.—The Ku Klux Klan has bobbed up again in Texas politics after a dormancy of four years, and will be very in evidence at the Beaumont convention. Probably the official organization is not active, but its members are busy forming a new organization. The new organization is being formed in Dallas, Tarrant and Harris counties. The new organization is being formed in Dallas, Tarrant and Harris counties. The new organization is being formed in Dallas, Tarrant and Harris counties.

Europe To Gain By Motor Tourists

By NEA Service WASHINGTON, May 13.—Europe will be several million dollars richer at the end of the present touring season when more than 4,000 American motorists will take foreign trips. It is estimated by the foreign division of the American Automobile Association that these tourists will spend more than 30 million dollars over there this year.

Foreign governments are cooperating with the A. A. A. to help the tourists. Steamship lines will ship autos uncrated at a "flat rate" according to weight.

They were the same men who, with the aid of the Klan, dominated the convention at Waco four years ago.

Tom Love, Lynch Davidson, T. W. Davidson, General M. M. Crane, Steve Pinckney, Charley Francis, Connie Renfro and all the other organizers of the Democrats of Texas have been outstanding anti-Klan men. There, in a nutshell is the difference.

In other words, the Democrats of Texas represent the anti-Klan faction of the Texas prohibitionists, while the Constitutional Democrats represent the Klan faction.

Here is the danger to the Moody-Davidson element. Seemingly a large majority of delegates have been uninstructed, in accordance with their program. But if a hot fight develops at Beaumont, with Tom Love directing the forces of the Klan element, the situation may become too hot for Moody and Davidson to hold their forces intact without a rallying point—and they have none.

May Host Tolerant Drys Consequently, it is possible that the dry faction of the uninstructed delegation, such as the Harris county delegation, for instance, will swing to the Love group, while the liberal, anti-Klan faction of uninstructed delegates, preferring Al Smith to Tom Love's domination, will join the Smith ranks, leaving nothing for the liberal, tolerant drys.

In that event it is a good guess that the difference was over the issue of the ticked and subscribed pledge.

Under the surface there was a bigger difference. Tom Love, Collins, Frank Davis, Marshall and Come Johnson, some of the ring leaders of the Constitutional Democrats, are all men who have been working with the Klan for many years, although Collins probably is the only ex-member of the Klan.

Automobile Association Eliminates Red Tape for Tourists Taking Their Cars Abroad

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Once all preparations are made it is easy for an American to tour Europe in his own automobile.

The preparations are quite numerous and complicated. But even these have been reduced to a minimum through a special service for this purpose maintained by the American Automobile Association.

In a valuable booklet, "Motoring Abroad," the A. A. A. details complete information as to how an American tourist may ship his car abroad and tour the European countries without difficulty or fear of being molested.

Nowadays automobiles are shipped uncrated, and the steamship companies have gone so far as to take the entire responsibility for this job out of the hands of the car owner. All a motorist need do is ride up to the ship, leave his car there and forget about it until he lands at the European port.

At the other end, an agent of the A. A. A. sees that the car is supplied with fuel and oil and is passed through customs for the owner.

Passport and Visa First Obtaining the necessary papers for touring abroad is a more complicated task.

First comes the passport. This is needed whether a car is taken along or not. It is obtainable from the clerk of the local U. S. district court at a cost of $10. Applicants must present two small, unretouched photographs of themselves, one signed, but it is advisable to keep a dozen more, for these are frequently demanded during an European journey.

After the passport comes a visa for each country to be visited. These are obtainable in New York at the various consular offices.

That is the regular requirement for all tourists. Those taking their automobiles, in addition, have to have three additional documents, besides going through other forms of red tape. All this is made easy for the tourist if he will merely write to the foreign touring department of the A. A. A. in Washington, and have it prepared the necessary papers and formalities.

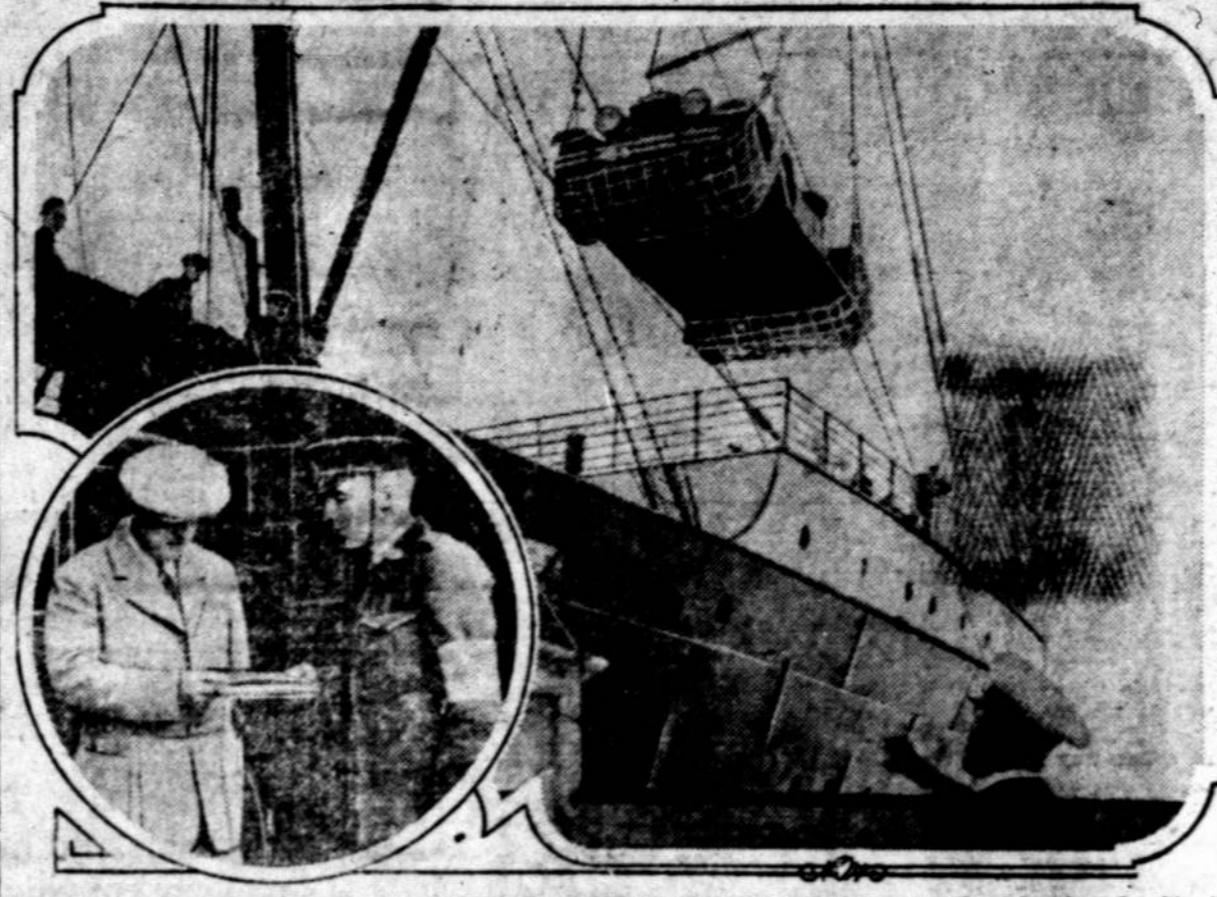

Paper for Car Owner The papers include: 1—A "triptique" or customs pass for the temporary importation of a car into one country only.

2—A "carnet de passage en douane" or international customs pass for passage into 12 of the most important countries in Europe, thus taking the place of 12 triptyques.

3—An "international traveling pass" or driver's license for each person intending to drive in Europe. This document requires five metal shackles; self-equalizing hydraulic 4-wheel brakes; 7-bearing crankshaft with interchangeable shimless bearings; saddle spring-seat cushions; balanced front wheels for utmost safety in driving at higher speeds; etc., etc.

Examine the Great "62" with utmost care. Ride in it. Drive it. Only in this way can you learn just how far superior it is—not only to cars of equal price, but to cars costing many hundreds of dollars more.

Uncrated, automobiles are hoisted aboard the ocean liner like this and stored for the trip abroad. At the port of entry an agent of the A. A. A. hands the tourist his necessary papers, as in inset.

photographs of the driver, passport size, with a photostat copy of the home state driving license or, where there is no such license, a certificate from the local chief of police certifying the driver's ability to drive a car.

The A. A. A. has all this ready for the motorist when he arrives at the port of entry. All the motorist does is fill out a form provided by the association and send it in with a deposit of $50 toward expenses for the various papers and licenses to be obtained. Whatever additional sum is due is collected by the A. A. A. after the trip.

Insure Your Car In addition to the official papers, the A. A. A. advises tourists to obtain marine insurance for their cars and foreign touring insurance. These also can be obtained through the A. A. A.

Since American license plates are accepted only in Italy, the A. A. A. representative also obtains the necessary plates for the car in each of the countries to be visited and has them ready on the tourists arrival from America.

In order to be prepared for emergency repairs while abroad, it is advisable to get a list from the manufacturer of European agencies handling the particular car to be shipped abroad. There are thousands of American cars in daily use in Europe, so there is good chance of finding a mechanic who knows that particular car for its repairs.

As little baggage as possible should be carried, for much inconvenience is encountered especially when entering or leaving a country.

Every motorist is stopped at the "douane" or customs house, and his luggage inspected. And there are many "douanes" in Europe. In addition to these suggestions, the A. A. A. offers the following tips:

- 1—Sign all documents in places indicated.
- 2—If the chauffeur is traveling alone with the car, provide him with written authority to sign on your behalf and with sufficient cash to meet all emergencies.
- 3—Declare all spare parts and other objects of value before leaving the United States.
- 4—Keep all papers together, including freight receipts, and on your

Tahoka Enjoys Substantial Growth With Many New Residences, Business Houses Completed Or Being Erected

Texas Utilities Extending Lines And Gas Main Now In City; Farmers Take To Diversification Plan

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal) TAHOKA, May 12.—With new residences and business houses going up all over town, the city of Tahoka is now enjoying one of the best and most substantial growths ever had by any town on the South Plains. Though much building is under way here, everything that is being erected is for permanency and in keeping with Tahoka's old motto: "Never a boom, but always growing."

Five new brick business houses are under construction or have just been completed within the past few days.

Sales Building Finished S. W. Sanford and I. S. Doak have just completed a 50x100 brick on the east side of the square, which has been occupied by the Snowden-Bayburn Chevrolet company as a show room and garage.

Belton Howell will complete a 40x50 garage building on the northeast corner of the square this week, which is being occupied by Laullin and Swan and the Texas filling station.

Oscar Roberts recently completed a brick on the west side of the square for the Texas Utilities company, who are using it as their local sales rooms and offices. This building is 25x50.

Thomas Brothers is erecting another brick on the west side 25x50 feet in size, to be occupied by the Stricklin barber shop and the Goodnough shoe shop.

F. O. Greathouse is just completing a new brick on Main street.

Modern Tourist Camp S. N. McDaniell has just started erection of a modern tourist camp on highway No. 84, just two blocks from the business section of town.

Sufficient acreage has been signed by the Farm Bureau Cotton association to assure the erection, at an early date, of a $30,000 cotton gin. This will be Tahoka's seventh gin.

Bill Hibdon is erecting a swimming pool on his place north of town.

Texas Utilities company has just completed the setting of poles from Station to Tahoka and are now stringing wire. Work will soon start on the sub-station at the local plant. These improvements are reported to have cost $50,000 in round numbers, and another amount of approximately $15,000 will be spent in an early date by the company in rebuilding the city lines.

Gas Main is Laid The mains of the West Texas Gas company have been laid through Tahoka and on to O'Donnell on the Lubbock-Midland extension. Work started this week on the city mains and Tahoka has been promised gas within 30 to 30 days.

Permit for a sewer system was recently let by the city council to a Dallas firm, and work on this project is expected to start immediately.

Belton Howell, formerly of Lubbock, has bought the old Jones laundry and are converting it into a modern steam laundry.

The Church of the Nazarene has recently completed a new frame and stucco church building in the west part of town, and the Church of Christ is now erecting a large building of like construction one block east of the public square.

Streets Being Improved Streets are being improved, highways are being worked, minor extensions being made to telephone and electric lines, and dozens of other such improvements made.

New homes are going up all over town, with scarcely a one below the $2,000 class, most of them being in the $2,000 to $5,000 class and upward. Among those recently completed or now under construction are the following: Guy Lemons, Clay Hughes, L. F. Craft, A. D. Sanders, Jr., Chas. F. Shook, Jess Eubanks, M. L. Handley, A. J.

Ultimate Possibilities Of Texas Are Yet Undreamed-Of, E. T. Strong, Buick Head Says After Visit Here

State Is In Better Condition Than Ever, He Says And Vastness And Staple Products Impressive

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal) FLINT, Mich., May 12.—The vast agricultural empire of Texas is figuring more and more prominently among the factors on which the nation's general prosperity depends, and its ultimate possibilities are yet undreamed-of. This is the report of E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor company, who has just returned from an extended trip through that state, with investigation of the automobile market as his mission.

that the Love forces would outnumber and outgeneral the Smith forces, which probably would lead to a rump convention and contesting delegation. In that event a favorable Smith majority on the credentials committee of the national convention would seat the Smith group, thus giving Texas 40 votes to Smith on the first ballot.

Moody Has "Best Bet"

Moody's best bet is to disregard the trade between his forces and those of Collins, since the other side has already done this in several instances, and declare war to the finish on them along Klan lines. This would hold most of his organization intact, and give him the solid backing at Beaumont of the Smith minority. It would give his side something to fight for, while now they are simply fighting "termites."

Entertaining guests together and using the street as the ball room is the plan being worked out by residents of one side of North Street, London. Under the shadow of Westminster the neighbors of the small and ancient street have become well acquainted, and as their homes are too small for entertaining on a large scale, they propose to cover the pavement with an awning and throw open their respective houses, which will be used as places for sitting out. Dinner will be served in each house so that the guests will have the choice of at least a dozen meals.

Third Marmon Is Entered For 500 Mile Speed Race

Last Minute Decision Is Made By Earl Cooper And Marmon Head In Memorial Day Classic

A third Marmon 68 Special has been entered in the 500-mile speed classic on the Indianapolis speedway May 30 as a result of a last-minute decision by Earl Cooper, veteran driver, and Col. Howard Marmon, vice-president in charge of engineering of the Marmon Motor Car company.

Two special racing cars were previously announced by Marmon as entries in the annual event for the purpose of testing, under actual conditions, new engineering ideas developed by Cooper and Marmon. Another car, incorporating ideas that are unusual even in racing cars, has been in the course of development at the Marmon factory for some time, but it was not until shortly before the zero-hour for filing speedway entries that it was certain the car would be complete in time for the race.

Speedway entry lists closed at midnight May 1 and just one minute previous Earl Cooper, captain of the Marmon racing team, handed his third entry to T. E. "Pop" Myers, general manager of the Indianapolis speedway. Cooper made a flying trip to Myers' home in order to satisfy a superstitious whim of the race track that the "last shall be first."

Simultaneously with the filing of the additional entry, Cooper announced that Peter Kreis and Johnny Seymour had been nominated as drivers of the first two cars. No driver has been selected for the third Marmon special and it is not likely that additional driving talent will be selected immediately since Cooper himself is working with the other members of the Marmon team to prepare the cars for the 500-mile event.

Large Territory Served By Truck In Nevada School

Eleven Graham Brothers Busses Serve District 245 Miles Square With 600 Children

A territory of 245 square miles is just a "neighborhood" out in Nevada. It forms what is claimed to be the largest consolidated school district in the country. Six hundred children live in this area about Fallon, Nev., and eleven Graham Brothers busses travel nearly 300 miles daily on a regular schedule to transport them to and from their school.

Replacement of busses at the rate of one or two a year, operating and maintenance costs total approximately $9,000 annually. In return, the busses of the rural community provide their children with advantages of a city school. Three modern brick buildings and 19 teachers are required to take care of the pupils. Complete departments of home economics, manual training and music are a part of the grade school work. Good roads, level country and no winter weather are factors that make operation of our school so low over such a large territory," said E. C. Best, superintendent of the consolidated school district.

"We are careful in selecting equipment and keeping it in repair, the interest parents exhibit in school has made this transportation system possible."

To keep the trucks in efficient and dependable running order, the school district employs a skilled mechanic and operates a maintenance shop. If repairs are necessary on the road, an extra bus, retained for emergency calls, is sent out to get the children to school on time.

Air Mail Week To Be Observed Here Under C. C. Plans

Efficiency Of Securing An Extension For City Is Expected As Reason To Observe

Knowledge of the fact that May is Air Mail Week and that it is being developed for a national airport here, George Benson, chairman of the airport committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, made an appeal to the citizens for whole-hearted observance of the week. Yesterday, May 12, marked the second anniversary of the line from Dallas to Lubbock during the week will not only give the town much publicity but is likely to determine largely the postoffice department's attitude regarding air mail lines out of Lubbock in the future.

Extensions Planned

Lubbock may be one of the points along the proposed air mail line extensions which have been projected for the near future in the state, Mr. Benson said and using the air mail facilities this week will likely determine the department's attitude for a line here.

There is nothing mysterious about sending air mail, Mr. Benson said. While the postal clerks would prefer that the mail was in the regular air mail envelope, so that it could easily be distinguished from other mail at a glance, still it is not necessary that an air mail stamp or envelope be used. Just put ten cents in stamps on the letter and write on it "airmail," and it will get the required service, he said.

In the absence of a line here, the mail here for air mail service goes to Fort Worth where it is put on the air mail line.

Negro Graduates Plan Exercises

Five Students, Two Girls And Three Boys, Complete High School Course Here In Dunbar School

The Dunbar school, Lubbock's negro high school, will present its first graduating class on Friday night, May 25, announcements of the program sent yesterday stated. Five students are to graduate, two girls and three boys.

The students finishing are: Alma Ora Williams and Lena Marie Robinson and James Roy Lewis, Burton Garfield McCutcheon and Elmo Robinson. Burton Garfield McCutcheon is president of the class and Lena Zora Robinson is secretary.

W. M. H. Wilson is principal of the school, Mrs. S. L. F. Wilson Mrs. R. H. are teachers.

A special program has been prepared with Dr. E. R. Gravelly making the class address. Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the Lubbock school board, will present the diplomas.

THREE-HOUR DAY FOR BEGGARS

Because of the great number of beggars in Asakusa Park near Tokyo, Japan, they have drawn up an agreement specifying the number of hours they may "work" each day. To beggar may ply his "trade" more than three hours in 24. The agreement has greatly lessened the confusion caused by the alms seekers here, who, despite the short hours, collect nearly $35 a month, which are considered high wages in Japan, especially as the beggars sleep under the floors of the temple.

Day" too—but somehow or other that day has not become as widely known as is "Mother's Day."

Today is Mother's Day. Let us all prepare to do honor to our mothers—and blessed are those of us whose mothers are still among the living. It seems to us that though "Parents' Day" may be a pretty good idea, mother certainly deserves a day to herself! The argument, in our opinion, should not hinge on changing the designation of the day, but on the necessity for a closer observance of "Father's Day."

There is something about the very words—"Mother's Day"—that creates a noble, inspiring emotion within us and engulfs us with reverence and love.

On this day we express our respect and adoration for our mothers by bringing them thoughtful gifts and going out of our way to be especially pleasing to them. Every day in the year we should do things to make our mothers happy—this day we pick as the one on which we are to be more considerate even than on any other. It seems to us as though Mother's Day must remain, if it officially becomes Parents' Day, it will still be Mother's Day to us in our heart of hearts—and father will feel the same way about it!

Our Sunday Morning Sermon
By REV. R. F. DUNN

THE SECOND COMING OF CHRIST
The Olivet Discourse (Matt. 24-25)

"And as he sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, 'Tell us when shall these things be, and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and the end of the world?'"

We begin this sermon by selecting the three fold question of the Olivet discourse of Christ, spoken shortly before He submitted Himself to His enemies, to be put to death. Those who are familiar with the Bible will remember that the thirteenth chapter of Mark and the twenty-first chapter of Luke give parts of this discourse but neither they nor Matthew give all of it. I am sure that all three of them together do not record all that He said about His coming again in this discourse.

Jesus frequently alluded to His coming again during His earthly ministry, but the most lengthy discourse on any subject is that given by Matthew on the subject in the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth chapters of his Gospel.

For this reason, we have chosen Matthew's record, because it is the fullest and most extensive in detail, and is illustrated by parables that present the subject in a stronger and clearer view than either of the others.

We should remember that each of the others have some parts that Matthew does not give, and all of them should be studied together.

Luke records parts of this discourse in the seventeenth chapter of his Gospel, not being with Christ, and getting his material from eyewitnesses, who were with Jesus during His earthly ministry; his record of the things that Jesus said and did, is not so nearly in consecutive order as in the others. This makes it necessary that we study carefully these parts of the Olivet discourse of Jesus so that the parts may have their proper place in answer to the three-fold question of the text.

The reader may recall the occasion which suggested the question: Jesus and His disciples were returning from the city to the Mount of Olives, for the evening and as they were passing the Temple, the disciples called the Master's attention to the great stones in the building.

He told them in reply that the time was coming when not one stone should be left upon another.

When they had come to the Mount of Olives, they asked him privately, "When shall these things be; and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and the end of the world?"

By close study, we shall find that only a small part of the discourse is taken up with a description of the destruction of the Temple and most of the twenty-four and fifth chapters of Matthew are taken up with a description of His coming again, and the end of the world (or age).

Some have made the serious mistake of contending that "all the things" in the New Testament do not always mean those who were living when those words were spoken. Its primary meaning (Greek) is "Race, kind, family stock; breed," as other lexicons (Schaff) have it. Please do not use violence to these Scriptures elsewhere as in the following: "faithless and perverse generation... how long shall I suffer you, O generation of vipers."

So, also, in the Old Testament as in Psalms 24:6. This is the generation of them that seek him, they seek thy face, O Jacob." It would do violence to these Scriptures to force the meaning we usually attach to the word, into these texts just quoted; because it would limit on them that is contrary to their meaning, as can be seen from their connection.

Now, when we examine the statements, "This generation shall pass till all these things be fulfilled" (v. 34), we find that a number of "these things" have not yet come to pass, after nearly 19 centuries have passed; and this eliminates the contention that all the things were fulfilled when Jerusalem was destroyed in A. D. 70.

But let us carefully examine the following "Things" that shall take place in connection with His coming again, and the end of the world. "And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the world for a witness unto all nations." This had not been done in A. D. 70.

That great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, nor shall be." (Matt. 24:21); there had been tribulations since and there was one when Jerusalem was destroyed.

CLEAN FROM THE HEART
A certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat. And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner. And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness. Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?—Luke xi. 37 to 40.

IN THE LIGHT OF THE BULLITT COUNTY ATROCITIES

Long before the Eighteenth Amendment was even thought of, moonshiners plied their trade in remote Kentucky hills and ravines, waging ceaseless war to the death with the hated "revenooers." Since the city bootlegger organized his traffic on a large scale, however, the mountain distiller has become almost respectable by comparison. At any rate the latter has not sought to corrupt public officials, and he has scorned to use wood alcohol in his "corn likker" or to label it falsely as "bonded goods." All he ever has asked is to be let alone in pursuing an industry which, according to his crude conception, is legitimate. Because of those circumstances and the glamor of romance about his calling, the moonshiner has been accorded a certain extenuation, even sympathy, from some quarters. That sentiment should be wiped out when this despicable type of lawlessness is revealed in its naked hideousness, by such a horror as that lately reported from Bullitt County. Dispatches relate that from 30 to 50 men surrounded the Brownings' one-room home near Shepherdsville, under the cover of darkness. The cabin was set on fire and, as they fled, the occupants were met with bullets. Mrs. Kate Browning, aged 60 years, was killed and five members of her family were wounded. Officers said that the victim had incurred the moonshiners' wrath by informing the authorities of their activities. According to the slayers' primitive code, that was a capital offense. The manner of executing this rude backwoods law affords a horrifying example of reversion to elemental type—a breaking out of the most brutal instincts in man. That phenomenon is not confined to illiterate moonshiners or to any particular section or group. A terrible crime—almost identical in details, though different in motive—was perpetrated in Fort Bend County, Texas, last year. Such revolting, extravagant cruelties are likely to be committed whenever and wherever the mob mind detronizes reason. The rabble knows no humane sentiment; it is amenable only to fear. Mob murder can be discouraged effectively by making an example of the perpetrators. Less drastic measures will not suffice.

MOTHERS DAYS
"Her children arise up and call her blessed"—Prov. 31:28.

Today will be celebrated throughout the United States as Mother's Day. This is the one day of the year when mothers of this country will be accorded recognition commensurate with their exalted station in life. All the tribute man is capable of offering will fall far short of a just appraisal of a mother. An artist may paint a landscape and make it a thrill and pulsate with life and color; a sculptor may create from cold marble the features of the great; a poet may fashion with words the substance of years and the fabric of immortality, but it is not permitted of any man to describe or interpret motherhood.

The pages of history are replete with the great sons and great daughters of greater mothers. Unostentatious, unpretentious, keeping always in the background, mothers have guided the destinies of many nations and many peoples. They do not seek acclaim; they shun notoriety. Their scheme of existence is built upon the theme of love; love that is undying, love that is forgiving, love that is unsmirched and untainted by the blemishes of selfishness and coercion. Is it strange then, that so many of their sons and daughters reach high and exalted stations in life? It is no wonder that their children arise up and call them blessed.

From the cradle to the grave, it is mother who makes the home. Tired eyes, tired hands, willing always, striving diligently to keep the home intact. When wanderlust makes an entrance into a home and children become scattered in far places, there is always one haven of refuge left to them. Mother exemplifies that haven and is the most sacred part of it. When they become tired of strange scenes and strange faces, they turn their steps homeward, sure of the welcoming smile of gladness which awaits them.

Mother's Day has an added significance for those whose mothers are no longer with them. They wear a white flower to keep alive, and freshly sweet, her memory. Many an old and faded photograph will be taken out this day for another look at the face so well remembered. How kind were the eyes and how gentle the smile! Do not put the picture back in the "lavender and old lace" which has surrounded it, but keep it out on this day to renew again the promises made to that dear face by those little boys and girls who now have older grown.

Those who are so fortunate as to have their mothers still with them will wear a red flower on the day set apart to do her honor. Gifts will be given her that she may know the love and respect in which she is held. Letters will be written to mothers in other states, other cities and telegrams sent her. What a day this will be for many mothers! Some have been neglected through carelessness, but on this day of days, none will be forgotten.

What does it matter if her forehead is wrinkled or that gray has entered her hair? She is the same as always, that wonderful, wonderful person we call mother. If, by chance, she has reason to ring one of the old songs on this day, and if that song should be "Silver Threads Among the Gold," we can do our part to make her voice sweeter as she sings: "Darling, I am growing older, Silver threads among the gold; Shine upon my brow today, Life is fading fast away."

There has of late been a movement to change the designation of "Mother's Day" to "Parents' Day."

Those in favor of this change believe that the fathers are being neglected. The fact is that there is a special "Father's

SO THINK WE

We think it used to be that the people of this section did not have to lock up their houses, for fear of being robbed, but you will remember that hardly ever anybody found where you lived then either. There are more people in this section now than ever before, and it might be a very good idea to play safe.

We think about the best safety first sign that we have seen was one pasted on the windshield of an automobile accident writer which read: "Keep your hands on the steering wheel and let your girl hug herself."

We think that some men marry and then find their wife out later. We are of the opinion that this finding out should be done before and then there will be more happy marriages. There may not be so many, but we think happy ones.

We think that Come Johnson is about right in his idea on highways. He believes that the highways should be built by the state and built with bonds, to be paid for by tax on gas, and paid by the people who use the gas and also the roads.

We think that all it will take is a few more years of money to put the Texas Technological college in the lead of any institution of its kind in the United States.

We think it may never be too late to do good, but we think it is late day to begin now to plan Lubbock. This should have been done twenty years ago. Ten years ago we advocated city zoning, in these columns, but no one seemed to think that Lubbock would ever need it, but now they know something about it.

We think that if Congress does not adjourn too soon we may get the appropriation through for a federal building in Lubbock, but a lot of those fellows up there in Washington are very anxious to get out among the people and make a million or more promises about the tariff and other things.

We think a great many people do not know much about the tariff, and we will admit that we do not know so very much about it, but if that is to blame for the high cost of living we are again it.

We think when people confess their sins and quit committing them they are in a pretty good mood for improving their way of living. If these lazy folks who are all the time complaining of spring fever would get out and sweat a bit in the garden or cutting the weeds about the home, they would soon get over that lazy tired feeling and would be useful citizens and make pretty homes.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that Pampa will put on a charity investigator, one who will investigate all cases of appeals for aid, and spend the people's money where it is deserved and no other.

It is reported that the fellow who put Brownfield in nomination for the district Chamber of Commerce meeting for 1924, told some secrets out of school, and informed the people that Terry county was not a dry county by any means, that it had more corn than any other county in the South Plains, but from the way the convention voted corn was not what they wanted. The fellow from Tahoka seemed to have hit the keynote when he promised every man delegate to the convention a lady escort. Tahoka got the convention.

It is reported that there are several thousand last year's summer hats in Lubbock that have not yet been worn, and the same might be said about the suits. Wonder when the weather will ever get warm enough to put 'em on.

It is reported that married men are much better listeners to conversation and to speeches than single men. There's a reason. Practice makes perfect.

It is reported that some one has started a question around that is likely to worry some folks a lot and that is, "what is this generation going to tell the next generation what they did not do."

It is reported that a Broadway wife says she never asks her husband to do any more old jobs about the place for they always look that way, and she has to do it all over.

It is reported that there is one Lubbock man who says that he does not want to be rich, for he noticed where a certain rich man had to wear his coat all day, no matter how hot the weather was.

YOUR HEALTH

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE KILLS ONE IN FIVE DYING IN 1924

By DR. MORRIS FISHER (Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.)

During 1924 one in five of the persons who died in the United States died as the result of one of the complications of high blood pressure, either heart failure, brain hemorrhage or uremia.

Of persons dying after 45 years of age, approximately one in three dies of one of the terminal complications of high blood pressure. Methods of recording the blood pressure accurately have been used during the last 25 years. During that time many attempts have been made to determine the cause of high blood pressure, but without success.

Cause or Result?

There has been much discussion as to whether chronic inflammations of the kidneys cause the high blood pressure or result from it. Even today there are many adherents to both sides of this question. However, there is a vast amount of evidence to indicate that high blood pressure is not always associated with chronic inflammations of the kidneys, and the great number of cases in which the blood pressure is high without any apparent inflammation of the kidneys is sufficient to cancel the kidney disease as the universal cause.

It is known that persons who are considerably overweight after middle age also tend to have high blood pressure. At least a reduction of weight in such persons is frequently accompanied by a drop in the blood pressure. Many other conditions are likely to be associated with the increased blood pressure. Current views tend to the belief that the exciting cause is some substance circulating in the blood and associated with changes in the tissue structures.

The most common method of treating the condition is by diminishing body activities, including exercise and mental activities, and lowering the diet so that less stress will be placed upon the tissues.

High blood pressure is one of the conditions which comes on insidiously, but is found frequently for the first time during the course of a life insurance examination or a periodic physical examination.

Correcting Defects

The physician who discovers the presence of an increased blood pressure is likely to make a complete physical examination of the patient to determine any other defect which may exist in the body, and his first will be to correct such defects.

Attention is paid particularly to infections of the teeth, of the tonsils, and of various organs in the body which may be the source of chronic irritation or for the dissemination of infection to other portions of the body.

Today the aphorism in the treatment of high blood pressure is regular hours of work, regular hours of play properly supervised, regular hours of rest and plenty of rest, and a low diet.

Made Shakespeare Famous
Noel Coward, English actor, contributed another to the Shakespeare stories that have recently been going the rounds.

Mr. Coward's story was about an actor who had been staying for a few days at Stratford-on-Avon, and who one day, said jokingly to his landlady:

"Who is this Shakespeare I hear so much about down here? Was he a very great man?"

To which the landlady replied, quite seriously:

"Lor, sir, 'e wozn't thought nothing of when I was a girl. It's the Americans as 'as made 'im what 'e is."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

American Parties And The Electorate
A Series of Articles on an Important Subject, Written Exclusively for the Sunday Avalanche-Journal by Dr. W. A. Jackson, Head of the Department of Government at Texas Technological College.

Article VI—CAMPAIGNS

Each political party carries on a campaign. The object of the campaign is to win votes for the party nominee. If all voters are pledged beforehand, as the Democratic Party of Texas seems to think they ought to be, there would be no election in spending several million dollars on a campaign, unless voters could be induced to violate their pledges. This view is most logical and little short of ridiculous. If the Democrats cannot shift party allegiance we must grant that the same will apply to the Republicans. Then, according to election returns of the last presidential election, we should concede victory for the Republican nominee, "big dog" away with the necessity of an expensive campaign. It is granted that a number of voters might change their views between the last election and the next nominations, but the greatest period of shifting is between the nominations and elections, during the period of the campaign. In fact, the whole object of the campaign, aside from keeping the loyal members in-line, is to get others to shift their party allegiance.

Presidential Years Differ

During presidential years, a campaign is managed by the National Committee. As soon as nominations are made and the committee personnel is determined, each national committee gets busy with its plans. Each sets up a central headquarters, generally in New York City. Other tries to get as close to the other as it can for the sake of keeping up with its opponents. Sub headquarters are set up in all of the principal cities of the doubtful states and each begins to hum with a maize of activity that is bewildering to any but the experienced campaigner.

It is quite evident that a national campaign should be better in a million dollars. Both major parties get into them in full force. Each is fully organized for the work. The basic unit is the precinct, with precinct committeemen or captains under him is the "rank and file." His immediate followers and his want to get into politics, temporary workers who are excited about issue, loafers, ward heelers, militia office holders and employees, clerks and corruptionists. The corrupt lists are not controlling factors. They are always played up by the newspapers, during the investigation of the campaign. Conducting the campaign is a man-sized job and involves plenty of work.

County Organizations Fixed

The county organization is directed by the county chairman who has working with him the various precinct committeemen of the county. The state organization is controlled and directed by the central executive committee. Where there is no direct connection between the state and county committees, each county organization is itself subordinate to the state committee. This committee may be composed of one member from each congressional district of one from any other, such as the state territorial district. From the top, the entire campaign is directed by the National Committee, the completion of which was explained in previous article.

The state organization is divided into several sub-committees, which one of the most important is the finance committee. It is charged with raising the money for the campaign.

MOTHER'S PIE

We may sing of the cake That our mothers can make, An' the cookies they bake an' the tart, An' the doughnuts divine, An' the goodings 'n' my fine, An' I'll fill a warm place in our hearts. But now, homestly, boy, When it comes to real joy, An' your appetite's soaring 'on high, Was there ever a treat, Among good things to eat, That could equal, or beat, mother's pie?

When you see your ma roll Out the dough from the bowl, An' then pick up the 'ol rollin' pin, An' revolve it about, 'Til the dough's flattened out, On the board 'til it's razor-blade thin, When she cuts it to fit,

The 'best pans, doesn't it, 'Sort of make you fell funny side? When it's ready to bake, Would you rather have cake Or a slice of that pie, big or wide? When you sniff the sweet scent Of the seasonings blent With the luscious content 'n' the crust, An' the smell of the juice On the air is let loose, Don't you feel you could eat you 'bust?

You may sing of the cake That your mother can make, An' the doughnuts divine she 'n' the crust, An' the goodings 'n' my fine, An' the 'ol rollin' pin, But don't deep in your heart, Could they ever replace mother's pie? —James Edward Hungerton

IN MEETING THE DEMAND FOR MORE AIRWAYS

From almost every part of the country comes a demand for more airways. Secretary Hoover states that commercial aviation development is much greater than the Government had expected when it formulated the program for lighting and marking such facilities, and he evidently is satisfied with the prospects.

Air mail routes now aggregate more than ten thousand miles and are receiving ever-increasing attention. Many enterprises today carry passengers and express, as well as mail; and some companies also find profit in operating freight lines.

This year will bring air mail service between the United States and Mexico, and it would not be surprising should Canada extend its system to its southern border at several points.

Within a comparatively short time north-and-south airways doubtless will be in operation between Winnipeg (Manitoba) and Panama, via Chicago, Dallas, San Antonio, Monterrey, the City of Mexico and the principal cities in Central America. Here it should intersect a southern transcontinental route from Jacksonville (Florida) to San Diego (California).

That line, which has been suggested often, would cover 2,200 miles; and for 132 miles it would coincide with the airway just opened between New York and New Orleans. The latter service soon will be extended to the Rio Grande, there connecting with a 675-mile route to the City of Mexico.

Asked if he ever read Shakespeare, Dempsey told a New York reporter, "No I've never gotten around to reading Shakespeare." The champ is slow on his foot-note work.

Defense of a lot of gentlemen in Washington "without visible means of support" must be that they are confirmed tennis fans—have to do a lot of lobbying, to gain their point.

When A Girl Loves

CHAPTER I

"If you marry that girl I'll jump in the river."

The man at whom the reckless speech was directed smiled his disbelief.

"But I mean it, Niel," the girl persisted.

"Yes, of course you do. Just as you meant it with Bertie last year and Harry the year before and—"

"Oh, shut up! I never pretended to care about them, but you are different. I'm crazy about you, Niel. The whole village knows it."

The young man made a gesture of weariness with one hand. His other was busy at the table before which he stood, arranging the decorations for a buffet supper.

"Please stop being childish, Chiri," he said, "and help me with these flowers."

Chiri sniffed. "Orchids! I suppose SHE sent them."

This time the man paused in his work to regard her seriously.

"Why not? She sent this cloth, too," touching the fine lace and linen cover, "and these," lifting a piece of sterling silver tableware.

In fact, she sent all this stuff. Chiri, but what does it matter if she wants the things she's accustomed to? It's her party, too, you know, and if I hadn't won the mural competition and used it as an excuse to celebrate down here we would be announcing our engagement upstairs."

Across the richly appointed table the girl called Chiri, drew back and looked at him scornfully.

"You... poor... fool," she said slowly.

"For heaven's sake," he returned impatiently, "stop trying to quarrel with me. I beg your pardon, can't you stick these candles up straight?"

"I didn't come here to straighten candles! Everyone's talking about you, Niel, and this... what's her name? ... Brewer's girl. We all think you're mad. Why, Niel, dear, she changed her voice suddenly from anger to tender pleading—can't you see it will ruin you to marry an outsider such as she is? Look, Lillian! And we are used to bare boards, or Italian brocade when someone is lucky. How will you like to sit down day after day at precisely the same hour to precisely the same correct table? The butler will sneer at you if you touch anything when you shouldn't, and pretty soon you'll want to kill him, and what will you do when they call you to dinner just when you've caught the thing you couldn't get into your work for weeks and weeks."

"Good lord, Chiri, you don't know what you're talking about. I doubt if you've ever seen a butler off the stage, and besides, we aren't going to live on Park avenue. I hope to take Virginia to Rome next year and I imagine we'll be able to find a common meeting ground for our tastes."

"That kind of imagining has ruined many artists, Niel, and you know it. Oh, I can't let you do it, I can't."

Chiri came like a whirlwind round the table and threw himself into his unwilling arms. Her hands clung round his neck and her ragged hair brushed his lips. He disliked her perfume. It was a sweet to fresh lavender without hurring her.

"Chiri, he began firmly, "I want you to stop this. You know you're only acting and that you aren't worried about my career."

Chiri smiled straight at him and then pretense to the four corners of the big dining room.

"Well, what if I'm not? I don't want to marry, and one reason's as good as another."

"Then please save your acting for a better occasion. The only thing I've ever asked about you, Chiri, is your defiant trustfulness."

"But you don't like it when I say I love you."

"Because you're lying. But I'd be sorry if it were true, as I honestly believe I'm monogamous. Anyway, I've never loved any girl but Virginia, and I have an idea that I never will."

Chiri let a peculiar little sound that meant "too bad" escape her lips.

"You're talking like a bourgeois already," she declared reproachfully. "That's what her influence has done for you. Monogamous! My God! Ain't nature wonderful!"

"Must you be vulgar," Nathaniel asked quietly.

"Oh, I don't care what I am. Chiri cried with genuine tears in her eyes. They were however, tears of exasperation. "You're the only man I love and you have to go monogamous."

Nathaniel laughed. "You talk as if that were a political platform, Chiri, I'm ashamed of you, honestly I am. Do you think even if I loved you I'd let myself be just another scalp at your belt? I'm beginning to be afraid of you."

"The trouble with you, Niel, you ought to have more conceit. Why should you care what brand my affections bear? It's my love, I'm talking about and I guess I know more about it than you do. I'll guarantee it's interesting."

"Not to me, Chiri, please believe that. And there's the doorbell. A nice mess if it's Virginia. If it is, she heaven's sake behave yourself!"

He moved off to answer the summons and the girl looked after him with curious eyes. She could not have him. Not now. She knew that. But men change. Things change. And nothing could make her stop crying. There hadn't been another man like Nathaniel. Dana. If only she could make him say, just once, "I love you!"

Suddenly, like a cat springing, she reached out and grasped a beautiful purple and white orchid in her slim, nervous fingers and crushed it spitefully. It gave her the feel of hurting the girl who had won forever what she desired and could not have for even one hour.

Between her and the door stood a screen. She glanced at it with eyes made X-ray by her obsession. Nathaniel was kissing his love—she knew that, and if she hadn't known already she would have when she saw the girl's face. It was radiantly beautiful as only the face of a woman happy in love can be. Her kisses seemed to linger in the shining tenderness of the clear gray eyes and the curves of the smiling lips.

Chiri hated to look at it when Nathaniel introduced her to Virginia. And the voice that greeted her afforded further irritation. It held notes like those that Nathaniel coaxed from his violin when he played under the stars on light nights.

any time?"

"Anytime," she said.

"Well, if life attacks aren't too close together we might arrange to have them together in privacy. Do you think you will have another one tonight?"

"Right now."

The malady was cured for the moment by the ringing of the doorbell. "Is it your father?" Nathaniel asked.

"No, it must be the first of your guests, Niel. Dad's terribly disappointed. He said he must see someone in very important business tonight."

"I'm sorry," Nathaniel said, and meant it. He genuinely liked Virginia.

connection had been broken. He stepped to the door, uncertain of the best thing to do. He might beckon her... but she was not looking his way. Then he saw her dancing. A slight tremor shook him and left his flesh cold. Dancing! Laughing, too, and he could see the gray shadow of the reaper over the girl's head, dimming the joy, mocking ambition and hope.

Would he have to go and take Virginia from her partner's arms? He drew upon the courage that must never fail her, took a step forward and was halted by a touch on his arm.

"Niel, what is it?"

first time, was dead. Until then his grief at losing her mother had driven him to fast screams of the earth, fighting his unnatural reluctance to look upon the child that had cost him the life of the only woman he ever had loved.

Then one day he came home to take up the responsibility of rearing his motherless daughter, and with the first grip of her chubby little fingers around his own, which trembled, and her first friendly smile, he experienced a poignant regret for the two lost years.

Virginia had grown up, nurtured and protected by a great love. With no brothers and sisters to share it, there was developed between father and daughter a companionship that narrowly missed being a complex in the life of both.

Richard Brewster had made no secret of his affection for Virginia's choice of a husband. "Niel, did you notice the awful expression on his face?"

Before he could stop himself Nathaniel had said yes.

"Do you... suppose someone did something to him?"

Nathaniel read the fearful thought behind the stumbling words.

"Certainly not," he replied earnestly. "Didn't you hear what Dr. Meyerling said? It was his heart, Virginia. He couldn't have suffered much; he died quite quickly."

"I can't help thinking that something terrible happened to him," she persisted. "Oh, Niel, think of it... he might have been calling the

For a while no one dared touch her, so piteous were her efforts to reclaim her father from death. Then the doctor's hands fell firmly upon her shoulders and he nodded to Nathaniel.

Nathaniel half-led, half-carried her into the drawing-room, where she lay on the sofa shaking with heartbreaking sobs. He tried to talk to her but she seemed not to hear him.

It caught him unprepared with an evasion when she drew herself up and cried, "Niel, did you notice the awful expression on his face?"

"Virginia, you must not talk like that. Your father was not dead. I can't help it. It's so ghastly to think of his going like this while we were so happy."

"Virginia, please. Here, Doctor, thank heaven you came in. Miss Brewster needs looking after."

"Send in the housekeeper," Dr. Meyerling directed Nathaniel. "We'll get this young lady to bed."

"I've given her an opiate," he told Nathaniel later.

Nathaniel looked at him oddly, then spoke as though he were somewhat ashamed of his words. "Was it altogether a... natural death, doctor?" he asked.

And nothing could make her stop crying. There hadn't been another man like Nathaniel. Dana. If only she could make him say, just once, "I love you!"

Suddenly, like a cat springing, she reached out and grasped a beautiful purple and white orchid in her slim, nervous fingers and crushed it spitefully. It gave her the feel of hurting the girl who had won forever what she desired and could not have for even one hour.

Between her and the door stood

Chiri loved poetry, beauty in light and sound. She knew that Nathaniel loved it too. And here he had found his dream girl. Chiri could see that.

For a moment she felt defeated, without hope. But having her way with Nathaniel had become like the battle of life itself to her. She could not give up.

But she knew she could gain nothing by creating a scene, and her passion being what it was—a flame which she led with conquests and fleeing satisfaction—she was able to control it, to speak calmly and act with ease. She might believe herself desperately in love with Nathaniel, but she would never be swept into an unguarded demonstration of feeling. What she did, no matter how unconventional, was done with purpose. Only true love makes one forget oneself.

What did you say her name is? Virginia asked Nathaniel when Chiri had left them.

"Chiri, as though you spelled it cheery. Odd, isn't it? Says it is part of the name of a South American fruit. Must have had strange parents, poor little kid."

"She seems... sort of... tropical. Who is she, what does she do?"

"Well, she calls herself a student-model. Really gets serious now and then and tries to work, but mostly she models."

Deliberately Nathaniel watched Virginia then. Chiri had not been the first to plant the seed of doubt in his mind about the success of the marriage of an artist to one who might be presupposed not to understand art.

Would she be common-minded about models?

"I've used her quite a lot lately," Nathaniel went on still watching.

Virginia lifted calm eyes and spoke. "For your illustrations, I can see she was the woman's figure."

Virginia did not know why he did it. He came and took her in his arms and said, "Virginia, you are sweet."

She hadn't even thought about nudity! The figure she mentioned was clothed. He had sought to make her think Chiri was the lovely figure in the mural drawings, to get her reaction. And she hadn't let any. No more than an artist visiting him and discussing the same subject would have had.

No, certainly Virginia wasn't so going to be cheap about his models. He had known that all the time. He felt he couldn't have loved her if he'd been less sure of her fine mind.

"What made you do that?" she asked when he released her.

"You came over me some times like a wave of something I can't resist. I'll always have to kiss you, Virginia, when I feel like that."

"Good gracious. If it happens stop playing."

It was like Chiri, so unbalanced in her way with men, and yet so understanding and quick to grasp the essential elements of any situation, to move off swiftly and without comment to do as Nathaniel bade her.

As the music came to an unmelodious end Nathaniel reached Virginia's side.

"Please excuse her, Lionel," he said to the man she had been dancing with; "there's been something happening at her home and we'll have to go at once. Will you tell the others?"

Purposely he had given Virginia a few seconds to realize that trouble was impending. When he turned to her he saw that already fear was charging her features.

"Let's get your wraps. Is your car downstairs?"

Virginia grasped his arm with both hands. People were gathering round them now but she did not notice. "Tell me," she demanded; "tell me, Niel, what has happened... my father..."

"I don't know... for certain. We'll go at once."

He was leading Virginia toward the door now, where he saw Chiri standing with Virginia's blue and silver wrap.

In the car Virginia made him tell her of the message from Pounds, her father's valet. One moaning, protesting "no" burst from her lips when Nathaniel said Pounds feared the worst, and Nathaniel then tried to tell her that the man could not have been sure; he had not yet called a doctor when he telephoned the studio.

Virginia accepted his words in stricken silence. The drive home was a nightmare of tortured uncertainty.

A man, evidently a physician, lifted his head and looked solemnly at Virginia and Nathaniel when they entered her father's library.

That one look answered Virginia's question. The father she loved, the parent who had been both mother and father to her since the time, two years after her birth, when he had looked upon her face for the

Oakland Is Ahead in Car Production

Four Month Total of 1004 Cars Not Attained Last Year Until Mid Of July

PONTIAC, Mich., May 12.—Oakland Motor Car company is and one-half months ahead of factory officials.

The first of April marked the fourth consecutive month of production which brought the year's total for this year to 10,004 cars and Pontiac Sixes, a record which in 1927 was not attained until the middle of July.

The 1928 four-month total of 10,004 cars is an increase of 600 cars over the 54,633 cars which company built during the first months of last year.

Although the percentage of production was somewhat higher during February and March, the production of 27,861 cars runs 7,135 ahead of April, 1927. The advance was scored despite the fact that production of the Oakland American Six was hampered during the early part of April by the erraticness from the old assembly to the recently-completed new assembly building.

According to an official of the Oakland automobile manufacturing company, that country is scheduled to pass both Great Britain and France in the ownership of cars, predicts an increase from the present number from four to eight million.

Conditioned Cars Form Important Part In Motor Sales, Chevrolet Records Indicate

TROIT, Mich., May 12.—An entirely new slant on the used car market is its rightful place in the industry, was taken here by Mr. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor company, in an interview prior to sailing for a month's tour of Europe.

Form Important Part

There the automobile dealer very paid little attention to the car. Mr. Grant declared, "the used car market is now an important part of the business. Today, practically all the direct dealers in the Chevrolet organization have Ducothe supernatural in the Bible, and try to reduce the Son of God to the level of humanity. Such are blind with their own conceit and accept nothing that does not agree with their obsessions.

One of the difficulties we must face in this discussion is the notion held by some good people that it is of no importance to us to study the subject of the second coming of Christ for "when we die, that ends all for us here; and the chief thing is to get ready for death."

This objection or unscriptural notion ignores the emphasis that Christ attaches to it, as may be seen by the place He has given it in His teaching. As we have before shown, no one subject has so large a place in His teaching as this has. If it were of no importance to us, why did Jesus have more to say about it than any other in all His recorded teachings? Can we think of Him spending more time on a subject of no consequence than on others of supreme importance? Surely it could not be so. Again, our Saviour had very little to say about "getting ready to die," but He had much to say about being ready for His coming again. If any one doubts this, let that one read carefully the Olivet discourse, as recorded in Matthew, Mark and Luke; and elsewhere as well, when He spoke of His coming to give every man according as his work shall be. It is true that death cuts short our activities, and ends our opportunities for service in this life; and we do not know when death may take us away.

In these respects, it resembles the coming of Christ; but since it is appointed unto men once to die, everybody that thinks at all must know that we should be ready for such a solemn and serious time as this. No one knows this better than did Jesus, but He with great emphasis urges His disciples to watch and be ready because they knew neither the day nor the hour when the Son of Man should come. Another thing that must occur before Jesus comes to earth again is the gathering out His elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. Matt. 24:31-42; Mark 13:27.

This is evidently identical with the rapture of the saints as described by St. Paul: 1 Thes. 4:13-18; 1 Cor. 15:51, 52. At which time, the dead in Christ shall arise first, and together shall be with Christ during the great tribulation that is to come upon all that dwell upon earth at the time when we are prepared for it, as the five wise Virgins were (Matt. 25:1-13) in deliverance from the terrible conditions that will prevail on "all the earth." Let Jesus Himself speak of these things and times. After having described the awful tribulation that was coming to pass "on all that dwell on the face of the whole earth," He adds these words to His disciples: "Watch ye, therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man." Luke 21:36. To the church at Philadelphia, who had kept the word of Christ and had not denied His name, "He made this special promise: "I also will keep thee from hours of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth."

If one thinks it is a small matter to be left here upon the earth, when this awful trial comes, let one read II Thess. 2:1-12, when "that man of sin," the lawless one, the anti-Christ, whose coming will be "after the working of Satan, with all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish because they receive, not the love of the truth that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusions, that they should believe a lie, that they all might be damned who believed not the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness." Fuel Economy Scientifically Tested

A measuring bottle of one gallon capacity is connected to the fuel line. Vacuum tank and carburetor are drained. Then the line is opened to the carburetor and the fuel flows directly from the bottle. Thus the driver has all the facts of fuel consumption "right in his lap." Tests have shown Hudson averaging 15 to 18 miles a gallon. Essex models exceeding more.

BIRD TOO FAST FOR FILM

Efforts of the Air Ministry of Great Britain to film the wings of a hummingbird proved a failure recently because the slow motion picture machine taking 300 pictures a second was too slow. The bird's wings traveled so fast that they showed only a blur in the pictures. The films were made with the hope of revealing the character of the bird's flying so that the principle could be used in perfecting a flying machine that could stand still in the air as does the hummingbird when gathering food from flowers.

PAVING IS STARTED

34 Resident Blocks In Big Spring To Be Paved

BIG SPRING, May 12.—The Carl Pleasant Construction company who holds the paving contract in the city of Big Spring is assembling material. A mammoth rock crusher is stationed in the southeast part of the city and is crushing rock for the cobblestone and concrete foundation. Several car loads of material have been crushed and is being distributed to points of contemplated use. The contract calls for paving 34 blocks of residential streets.

An invasion of gypsies into Cannes, France, recently caused a protest to authorities that the unwelcome visitors were "too dirty."

these averages vary with different drivers, operating the same cars over the same routes. Dealers report that driving skill is almost as important a factor as varying road or traffic conditions.

"The high compression motor now used in both Hudson and Essex," said Hub Motor company, Hudson-Exsex dealer, "has brought to them the highest standards of fuel economy they ever have known. Both motors are designed to bring the best drop of effectiveness from their fuel supply. For its size and power the Hudson is now particularly light in its demands for more gasoline.

Real economy comes in freedom from repairs and in the ease with which Hudson-Exsex cars are serviced. But owners are interested in gasoline mileage, a minor factor though it is, and fortunately it is a quality of our cars which can be visually proved to any owner or prospective buyer.

Hupmobile Breaks Record Once More

Demand For New Models Keeps Plant At Capacity; 8082 Cars Shipped In Month Of April

Passing the 8000 mark for the second time in the company's history and setting the third new all-time monthly record registered in three successive months, Hupmobile shipments in April continued to reflect the unprecedented demand which the new Century Six and Eight have been meeting ever since their introduction.

Shipments for April, it is announced by R. S. Cole, general sales manager, were 8082. The figure exceeds even the previous high total attained in March, when for the first time Hupmobile shipments crossed the 8000 level. It is an increase of 96 per cent over the figure for April, 1927, when 4111 cars were shipped and exceeded by 74 per cent the previous largest April in the company's history—in 1923, when 4627 cars were shipped.

Shipments since January 1, now amounting to 24,952 cars, are the largest for this period in Hupmobile history from January 1 to April 30, 1927, the total number of cars shipped was 15,915, a figure which the 1928 shipments exceed by 57 per cent.

POISON GAS AS RAT KILLER

Rats, the pest of many parts of Europe, are to be fought with poison gas. A Dane has invented a gas which is harmless to man but fatal to the haunts infested by the rats. A thick smoke when blown into a room is fatal to all rodents within range.

NEW BRICK HOUSE

Big Spring Gets Two-Story Levy Building

BIG SPRING, May 12.—A Levy of Big Spring and Streetway is erecting a two story brick building in Big Spring at the corner of East Second and Rummels streets. The first floor will be utilized for mercantile purposes and the second story will be made into offices. The demand for both office space and business quarters exceeds the supply but ten houses now under construction will be some temporary relief.

Tahoka's Growth

Stricklin, A. B. Swan, Nat. Williams, Clarence Crouch, Rubie King, A. B. Seroyer, D. A. Childers, J. R. McIntire and A. J. Mullin. Many other new homes are expected to be built before the summer is over. Diversification is proving a big factor in making business conditions in Lynn county in such excellent shape thereby making necessary the many improvements now going on. More and more interest is being taken in dairy cows, chickens, hogs, etc., and feed for them than ever before in the county's history. And, although Tahoka is growing at a rapid rate, there are many other industries needed, such as a cream plant, a cold storage plant and a cream plant. More farmer citizens who believe in diversification are needed to settle the thousands and thousands of virgin and fertile acres of Tahoka and other ranches near Tahoka. Tahoka is improving at a rapid rate, but it does not have on a boom.

"This new Hupmobile saves me $1000"

THUS remarked the motorist who had planned to spend from $2500 to $3500 on a personal car for his wife—and then saw the new Hupmobile Century Six. He purchased immediately, saying that the car fulfilled every requirement in luxury, style and power that he could have desired. Time after time, men and women long accustomed to making their selection from the higher-priced fields, are coming to the brilliant new Hupmobile Century Six and Eight, and gratefully pocketing the difference. Hupmobile quality and Hupmobile performance are known to all. Now to these are added beauty and distinction of line unsurpassed at any price. You have only to see the new Hupmobile Century models to realize how far these cars are destined to go in invading the higher priced field. You have only to drive and ride in them to know how completely they meet every wish for the highest conceivable type of performance.

50 standard and custom-equipped models on three different wheelbases—the Six of the Century, the Century Eight and the Century 125 Eight.

IMPORTANT Announcement by Super Service Station, Inc.

By special arrangement with The McDonald Auto Supply Company we become exclusive wholesale distributors for the famous Pennzoil motor oil and greases for this locality.

Many years of experience and observation in selling and using various oils and greases have taught us a great deal about the performances of these products. As a result, we have chosen Pennzoil (100% Pure Pennsylvania) as the oil we can unhesitatingly recommend to our many valued customers and their patrons.

Experience has proved to us the superiority of Pure Pennsylvania motor oils, but we have been particularly impressed with the exceptional lubricating value and sturdiness of Pennzoil.

Pennzoil is refined in the very heart of Pennsylvania's famous oil fields by the special Pennzoil process. This accounts for its high resistance to grueling motor-punishment—why it comes out of the crank case after more than 1000 miles of hard service with lots of life and lubricating ability still remaining. Take our advice. Next time, fill up with Pennzoil and get safe, economical lubrication. Look for the Pennzoil sign—displayed by up-and-coming motor-oil dealers and garages.

Vote As You Please—You'll Have To Keep On Working For A Living Just The Same—Is Major Hoople's Advice

The Common Folks Do As Well Under One Party As They Do Another Says Philosophic Writer

By MAJOR HOOPLE McCORKLE

Avalanche-Journal Philosopher

One of our customers—a man who reads this dope regularly every Sunday, whether his mood is good or indifferent, has been after us to tell all we know about the "density of mankind." Well, in the first place we don't know very much about mankind, and if we did we wouldn't care to write about its density—it is entirely too personal. All this customer is "aching" about is his phone. He happens to have a phone number that corresponds with the Avalanche-Journal street number, and busy people who haven't time to consult a watch or clock but insist on asking us for the time, make the mistake of calling him about every fifteen seconds. Naturally the man thinks they can not read and has an idea they are dense. Maybe he is correct.

But there are a lot of things that mean more to us than density. For instance, it becomes our solemn duty this year to supply the United States with a full corps of officers—everything from constable to president. It is a difficult task and democrats of all the various varieties must do their best, and even then it is doubtful if they can save the country from the ravages of the awful republicans.

Too Many Branches

Just now it appears there are too many kinds of democrats, and unless there is a little harmony in the camp they are going down in defeat. We have the wet-drys, the dry-drys, the wet-wets, and the dry-wets. We have the pro-Smith, and the anti-Smith, and according to newspaper reports there must be a few of the old time Jeffersonian democrats over in Georgia. A Jeffersonian democrat differs from the other varieties in many respects. They demand state's rights, and never kick about "government inspection" so long as it is 100 proof and the price is right. They figure a white man is a god—maybe better than a "nigger," even if he is a sorry white man. They are good people, but are hopelessly in the minority.

In Texas, a democratic stronghold, we have just two kinds—the wet and the dry. The dry ones will vote for any kind of a candidate if by so doing they think they can keep the price of liquor up to $10 a shot—an almost prohibitive price. The wets will stand by any candidate who advocates home-brew and modification. What he really wants is strong wine and heavy beer, but is willing to take anything that has a "kick" as a compromise. He really desires an open saloon, but he knows that the drys would drop a blotter on it, so he satisfies himself with bootleg "licker" a la livery stable.

Split Over Refreshments

So you see about the only difference in the various types is the "refreshments." Some want soda and whisky and others want soda and water.

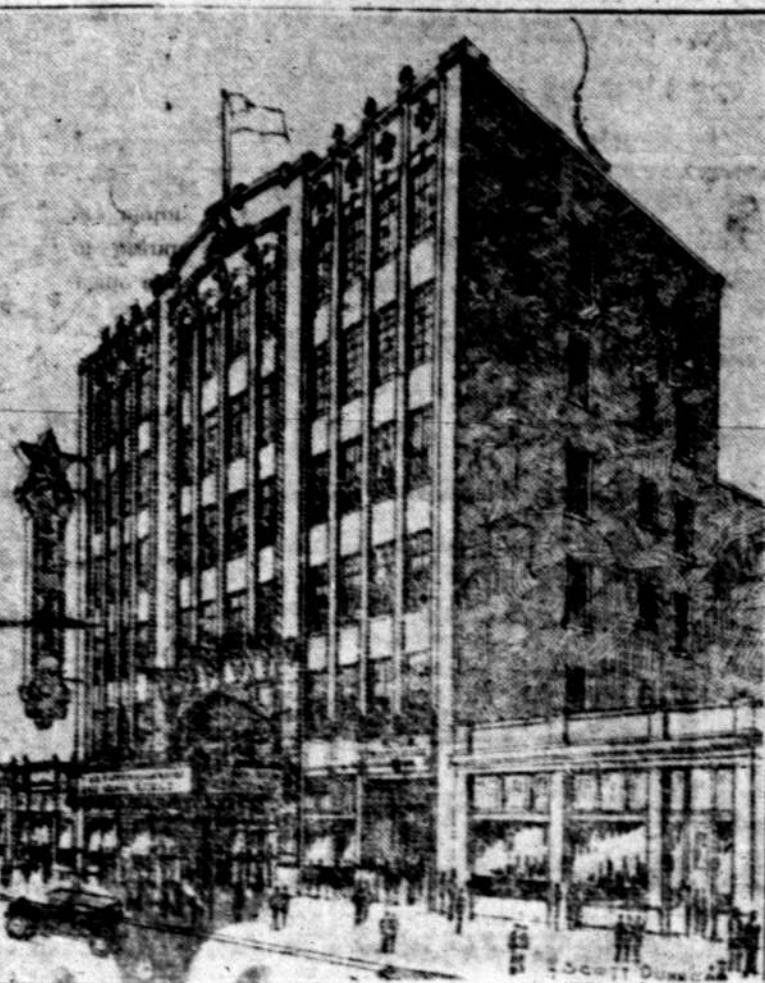

This is going to make it easy on the republicans, for there is nothing that gives them more joy than to see a drunk democrat stagger through a dry convention hall—means "division" and fighting among themselves. We talk about harmony and are harmonious so long as everybody agrees with us. But when you run across a red-eyed demo whose breath smells like hair tonic or sheep dip don't think for a minute he is going to vote for a lily white pro who carries a parasol under one arm, a new testament under the other, and wears a white ribbon in the lapel of his coat. No, he may not say anything, but when he goes to the polls he will wear out three pencils blacking the names of such candidates. He may have to vote for a republican or a socialist—maybe a buck nigger, but never the "harmonious pro."

Scenery May Switch

Texas has ever been democratic. We don't know why unless it has been because they didn't have the clover and cash to do otherwise. Poverty makes us all democratic. But if Al Smith is nominated you are going to see a lot of switched scenery. Al stands a good chance to get the nomination, and if he does the world is going to find out just how democratic Texas really is.

Really there isn't very much difference between a democrat and a republican. You can use the sense of smell and separate them. If a candidate smells city he is a republican—if he smells like calf-lot

Big Theatre To Be Built In San Angelo

Fifteen years ago Ed Rowley and H. M. Robb bought a small picture show in San Angelo. Today they operate 77 shows in Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. "Now they are coming back to the 'old home town' and erecting a big story office building and theatre that will have a seating capacity of over 2000 and will bring to San Angelo the first big time vaudeville in West Texas. The stage will be larger than the Majestic Theatre in Dallas. The playhouse will be known as The Texas and will cost $450,000. It will be the largest in Texas west of Ft. Worth. John D. Jones, San Angelo manager for the R. & R. Enterprises, is a partner in the new theatre.

or cotton patch he is a democrat. Democratic statement wear long coats and bee-gum hats, while republicans wear clothing that resembles the uniform of an English cab driver.

If the democrats take over the government we may expect a lot of high grade, but low priced cotton, for the republicans will call in all their money and store it away until the jack-ass party abandons the throne. If the republicans continue to hold the governmental reins we will have a lot of high priced coming from a bread and water diet to food injections a la hypo. But regardless of whether we have a president or not we have an opportunity to fuss and "chew the rag" for a few months. If we work it right we may make most of our friends sore, but not for any great period of time. As soon as we put our man in office and learn that he is not going to do all he promised we will get peeved at ourselves, cuss him by sections and then go ask our friends to forgive us. A candidate's promise is good during the campaign only—after that he is a privileged character and can do as he pleases. This, we should remember.

Should Have Some Kind

We suppose we should have a president of some kind, though we figure we could manage to get along pretty well without one. All he can do is draw his salary, hand out political pie and urge with the senate, and the senate usually wins. Coolidge has been just itching to veto one certain bill for more than a year, but the playful boys in the senate have kept the scrap of paper in their possession, and if Cal isn't careful he will leave office without having an opportunity to sign the document or drawing a blue pencil through it.

Politics may be all right—it is a wonderful game, but so far as we are concerned we are not interested. Our daddy was a democrat and in a way we followed in his footsteps, yet we certainly admire Dawes even if he is a republican. There is little reason to hope that he will get the nomination, but if he does and he is elected he will give the boys something to worry about. He would open office ten minutes before eight every morning—call the senate roll, and if the boys failed to answer he would go after them with a horse whip. If they refused to buckle down to business and earn their salary he would ask for their resignations and put in people who would work. He would crack a bottle of champagne over the head of the "oil scandal" and clear the situation in ten minutes even if it killed a few honest-to-gosh republicans outright. He would show a little action and demand some. But why talk about Dawes—he isn't going to get anywhere—it will be Hoover and Smith—or maybe a dark horse.

Vote as you wish—the result will be the same—you will have to continue working for a living anyway.

BAND AT SESSION

McLean Musicians Plan Attend C. C. Meeting

McLEAN, May 12.—McLean high school band will be in charge at the Tenth Annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Fort Worth June 1, and will be in brand new uniforms. The suits will consist of black gold-lined capes, white shirts and black trousers. Caps of black shape style with gold aigrettes complete the outfit. The McLean band is tax-supported, and the uniforms, with the exception of the trousers, are to be furnished by the city.
