Lloyd, Sears And Contella Win Election

..Three new councilmen were elected here yesterday. They are Claud Lloyd, 29, place No. 1; R. B. Sears, 49, place No. 2; and Jack Contella, 40, place No. 3.

The three defeated incumbents are A L. Martin, R. L. Terry, and C. L. Williamson in places 1, 2, and 3 respectively.

Only 449 persons voted in the election. But that was almost three times as many as voted in the election last year for mayor and three councilmen, when 183 votes were cast.

Abilene Record Stands Out In State's Voting

By The Associated Press

Texans knew who to call "Mr. Mayor" in scores of towns today and they knew who'd see any petitions they might send city councils.

They voted for the men and women to run their home town Tuesday—in fairly light numbers as a whole, but in record turnouts in a few instances.

The vote at Abilene — where a hot dispute over student dances in city schools spiced the campaign—was 5,691, a record.

It looked like two "anti-dance" candidates had been elected to the school board. A "pro-dance" candidate led in another school race.

Ernest Grissom built a big lead over John W. Burks in the race for mayor.

MIDLAND SETS RECORD

A record turnout of 2,657 at Midland put Perry Pickett, one time grid star as Masonic Home (Fort Worth) High School, in the mayor's chair. He defeated P. F. Bridgewater. J. B. McCoy, R. B. Cowden, and J. W. Star were elected councilmen.

At Fort Worth, just two councilmen — T. L. Martin and Robert McKinley — were opposed. They won easily.

J. B. Adoue, Jr., Dallas banker, piled up a huge margin to step into the mayor's office being vacated by Wallace Savage.

For the first time in 20 years Dallas voters had balloted directly for a mayor.

Adoue's running mates — Citizens Charter Association candidates — won every council spot.

RESULTS LISTED

Elections, briefly, went like this:

Wichita Falls: Three new councilmen — R. P. Willis, Francis L. Harvey, J. Paul Montgomery — elected; one unopposed incumbent, Lloyd Thomas, returned. Total vote 4,906.

Marshall: E. N. Power returned as city commission chairman; two new commissioners J. B. Zachry, A. C. Johnson. More than 1,300 votes as for the first time in 75 years citizens voted on city offi-

In place No. 1 there were five names on the ballot and one write in candidate. One-hundred sixty-three votes there made the highest total vote for any single ward.

The vote was
Claud Lloyd 70;
Wayland Holt 26;
Marion A. Cochran 17;
A. L. Martin 14; and
B. J. Jernigan 14.

SOUTHWEST WARD

In place No. 2
R. B. Sears 103;
R. L. Terry 49; and
Jay Rogers 1.

Rogers received the one write-in vote even though he had not announced for the office.

In place No. 3
Jack Contella 56;
C. L. Williamson 47; and
Albert Buchanan 30.

Wayland Holt, a lawyer, ran second in place No. 1 as a write-in candidate.

Interviewed after the election last night, all the winners said they wished to express their thanks to voters who helped them to win.

None of them indicated that they would advocate any immediate changes in the administration of the city. All stating that it would probably take some time to learn how the city is being run, and what changes if any, are needed.

"As soon as I can learn the present status of the city, I will try to bring about the things I advocated in my platform for the election," Claud Lloyd said.

Things Lloyd stressed in his platform were extension of the city limits as an aid in equalizing taxes and providing city benefits to more people; a public audit and financial report to the citizens of Snyder on city finances and a report on the expenditures of all monies and bonds voted; a city ordinance that no individual member of the city council may bid on public or civic projects sponsored by the city; improvement of dirt and caliche city roads.

"If it is financially impossible for citizens to have paved streets, they should at least have smooth streets," he stated. He also advocated greater city and county co-operation between law forces; fair and equal treatment for all citizens; encouragement of stable industries to locate in Snyder; beautification of Snyder by its citizens.

"One of the first things we need is the city audit," Lloyd said today.

Lloyd lives at 2309 Avenue I and has lived in Scurry County for 25 of his 29 years. He is married and has one 14-month-old child.

"I believe that a city manager could tighten up enough of the loose joints—eliminate enough of the overlapping effort—to pay his salary and give us a more efficient government at the same time," Lloyd said on the question of a city manager form of government for Snyder. "I believe that we should retain the council so that we could have a system of checks and balances on the manager, however," he said.

R. B. Sears, new alderman for place No. 2, said "I realize it will take some time to learn what is going on in the city council, and I will not advocate any changes until I know what I am doing."

Sears is owner and manager of the R. B. Sears Motor Co., Oldsmobile G.M.C. dealer here. He was born in Snyder 49 years ago, and is a member of the American Legion-V.F.A. Club here.

Sears announced a platform that was almost identical to that of Lloyd. Contella, the other winner in yesterday's election, announced the same platform.

Jack Contella, alderman elect for Place No. 3, has lived in Snyder five years. He moved here from Colorado City where he had lived five years during which time he was in the armed services.

Contella was born at Smithana, Burleson County, Texas, and was reared at Bryan. He is a member of St. John's Catholic Church, Hermleigh, and the American Legion-V.F.W. Club here.

Contella owns and operates Contella's Cafe on the East Highway. He has two children, Tommy, 5, and Elnora, 7.

Devonian Oil Flowing From Dawson Well

Flowing oil has been found in the Silurio-Devonian in Central North Dawson County.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Adcock wildcat, which had failed in the Spraberry, Pennsylvanian and Mississippian, flowed 141 barrels of oil during four hours of a five-hour and 40-minute drillstem test of the deeper formation.

A 1,635-foot water blanket was used. Fluid was at the surface in one hour and 20 minutes. It was flowed to pits for 20 minutes to clean and then turned to tanks.

The Silurio-Devonian was topped at 10,614 feet. No elevation was available.

Gravity of the petroleum recovered on the drillstem test is 41.2 degrees. No water was made.

A core taken prior to the test showed six feet of pay from 10,615-10,621 feet. The test was taken over the interval from 10,584-10,647 feet. The project is now being cored below 10,647 feet.

Location is 467 feet from south and 1,530 feet from west lines of section 166, block 34, D&SE survey, T-7-N, four miles south of O'Donnell.

STRAWN DISCOVERY

Cities Service Oil Co., Signal Oil & Gas Co. and Lone Star Producing Co. have completed their 1-161 Flat Top as a discovery from the Strawn sand in Southeast Stonewall County.

The new oiler, five miles east of the Moutray-Moore Swastika pool, was completed on the pump for 35 barrels of 42.5 gravity oil daily after treating the sand with Hydrafrac through perforations from 5,258-5,275 feet.

Location is 2,150 feet from north and 100 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 161, block BBB&C, and wight miles south and one mile east of Old Glory.

KENT STEPOUT

Sun Oil Co. No. 1-C Bilby Wallace is to be a three-quarter of a mile southeast stepout from the Lower Pennsylvanian field in Central Kent County.

Bell's Awarded Contracts On School Plants

The school board last night awarded contracts after opening sealed bids regarding the preparation of the new high school site and landscaping the grounds of the central elementary and northwest elementary schools.

The board voted unanimously on each of the issues, the first being the granting of a contract to the Burleson-McWhirter Co., of Midland, dirt contractor, for the preparation of the high school site. Jimmy McWhirter, partner in the firm, was present, and expressed thanks to the board for the $22,000 contract.

The only other bid for the dirt contract was presented by the Durcott Bros. Dirt Contractor Co., of Dallas, for $26,113.13. The acceptance of the low bid was approved after a motion and second by J. B. Turner and Bob Dupree.

LANDSCAPE CONTRACT

Bell's Flower Shop, of Snyder, was granted the contract for landscaping the elementary school campuses for a total of $5,200. The bid, extremely low as compared with those of the other three bidding, was presented in person by Roland Bell who did not wait at the meeting for the opening.

Bell presented two sealed bids, one for planting of small shrubs and the other for larger shrubs, but both bids including the work on both campuses. The board passed the motion of E. J. Mills, seconded by Paul Keaton, to accept the bid for the larger plants, and not to put out smaller shrubs. The bid on the smaller plants was for $4,200.

BIDS HIGHER

The highest landscape bidder was Lambert Landscape Co., of Dallas, who presented separate figures for each of the two schools and separate figures fr two sizes of plants. For large plants at the central elementary campus, the bid was $6,716.67, and for similar plants at the other campus, $14,205.73. For the smaller plants, the Lambert bid on the Northwest campus was $11,608.81; and for the other school, $5,677.41.

McGinnis & McGinnis, of Dallas, submitted one bid on the entire project for $7,412 based on small shrubs, stating that larger plants were not available to them.

House's Gardens, of Dallas, presented large plant bids of $5,805 for the northwest campus and $4,150 for the central campus. Their small bids, respectfully, were $3,705 and $3,497.40.

All bidders guaranteed plants for one year.

FORT WORTH, April 4. (AP) A business session this morning closed the State Convention of the Woodmen of the World.

Mrs. Claudia Jones of San Antonio was named state president of the State Supreme Forest.

Abilene Killing Verdict Voided

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP) — Conviction and sentence to 50 years imprisonment for S. C. Couch of Abilene were reversed today by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Couch was convicted by trial court on a charge of murder in the Abilene shotgun slaying Nov. 10, 1948 of J. F. Tennyson.

The Appeal Court ruled the state utilized four former convictions of felonies less than capital to enhance the punishment of a capital case.

"This is not authorized by law," the appeal court said. ". . . The judgment of the trial court must be set aside."

The ruling demands the ease for new trial.

Grant May Be Necessary For New Hospital

Edgar Taylor, county judge, and two of the commissioners, Walter Grant and Doyle Parmer, returned last night from Dumas where they inspected a county hospital in view of authorizing the drawing of plans for a similar one here.

M. C. Butler, of the Lubbock firm of Butler-Brasher Engineering Co., in charge of the plans, accompanied them on the visit after requesting they see the Dumas hospital before planning.

FEDERAL AID

"The hospital at Dumas is similar in construction to what Scurry County needs, but is slightly smaller," Judge Taylor said. "It is a 40-bed hospital built four years ago for about $400,000.

"The same hospital built now would cost more than $400,000 in all probability, and the county here needs a 50-bed hospital. For these reasons, I think it is apparent that the county will have to use federal aid through the state hospital board."

Judge Taylor, in the Monday meeting of the Commissioners court, said federal aid—promised in the amount of 50 per cent of the total hospital cost—would probably not be available before July 1.

The grant through the state hospital board, however, was virtually promised recently by state officials confering with Judge Taylor. The court has taken no definite action on drawing of plans or choosing a hospital site.

Two sites have been offered the county free of cost by M. L. Andress and Joe York. Another has been conditionally offered, but has not definitely been promised.

TO AUSTIN

The commissioners and Judge Taylor are to meet tomorrow morning with D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, to discuss plan for construction and engineering procedure in the paving of the county's roads.

Also to attend the meeting is Coleman Hasie, a partner of the Lubbock firm of Hasie & Green, which holds a contract with the county for engineering on all road projects.

Vigilantes May Chase Gamblers

ODESSA, April 4. (AP) — State Police Director Homer Garrison told a group of oil men here Tuesday night that big time gamblers won't stop trying to come into Texas — vigilant citizens will have to stop them.

Garrison spoke at a meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

He urged citizens to get behind law enforcement officers.

Kidnaped Girl, Escort Freed By Ex-Convict

McALESTER, Okla., April 4.(AP) —Sixteen-year-old Jackie Parris was liberated early today from a 23-year old ex-convict who admitted to officers he abducted the girl and her high school skating date Sunday night.

The girl was found about 1 a. m. huddled beside a fire under a rock ledge atop Blue Mountain nine miles south of Kinta, in Eastern Oklahoma.

On the other side of the fire, his head buried in his hands, sat Robert M. Phillips. Pittsburg County Sheriff Bill Alexander had issued a warrant for his arrest on suspicion of kidnaping.

POSSE FINDS PAIR

Phillips made no attempt to escape when a posse of 13 men led by Chester Palmer, Kinta sawmill operator, surrounded him. Phillips was unarmed except for a penknife.

"I told him to stay where he was and not to make any trouble or we'd save the state some money," Palmer said. "The girl started crying and said she sure was glad to see us.

"I guess we got there about two hours too late. She said he took her into a tin pipeline shack about 200 yards away and raped her about two hours before we got there. Up until then he hadn't bothered her."

Phillips admitted to Police Chief Roy Anders that he took the girl to the shack and molested her. But he said he never actually harmed her.

SUSPECT ON PAROLE

Seventeen-year-old Bill Coghill, the girl's high school sweetheart, swung at Phillips but was restrained by officers when the two came face to face at the Pittsburg County Jail here.

Coghill was parked with the girl outside of McAlester's skating rink Sunday night when a man forced himself into their car and made them drive to Kinta.

The car was stuck in a creek south of Kinta several hours later and the abductor walked away with the girl, threatening Coghill, who did not follow.

Phillips was on parole from a 3-year sentence in the El Reno (Okla.) Federal Reformatory for car theft.

He had been arrested several times by McAlester police. The last time — about two years ago —he paid a $20 fine for molesting women.

Stamp Shortage May Account for Drop In Postal Receipts Here

For the first time in more than two years receipts at the Snyder Post Office showed a drop from the previous year, H. D. Moreland, postmaster, said today.

Total post receipts for March were $8,725.65 as compared to $9,[illegible] stated.

The decrease was $308.79 or about three per cent.

The decline in receipts can be laid partially to the shortage of three-cent stamps for bulk sales, said the postmaster.

"But it was our first decrease in over two years, as all previous months have continually showed gains over the comparative months," he said.

Value Days Planned By Chamber Committee

'That Damned Bridge' Hailed By GI's with Chicken Fry Fete

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, April 2 (Delayed), (AP) — That Damned Bridge" has finally been completed and it was a wonderful fried chicken dinner some U. S. Engineers had in celebration.

As envious infantrymen crossed the new bridge over the Soyang, the engineers sat on the river's bank and waved drumsticks.

Long before it was completed, the low-level bridge became known as "That Damned Bridge." Hard luck jinxed its construction all the way.

"We built it from scrounged materials and we had a time with the swift current," said Capt. George W. Skanse of Soledad, Calif. "The river rose about two feet from the time we started the bridge."

The fire of Chinese Communist mortars and artillery was another hazard.

On two nights the current, which was clocked at 15 miles an hour, washed away the vital steel pillar beams. Once a cable knocked an engineer into the swirling water and he barely made it to shore.

"We took poles and timbers where we found them and we even used railroad rails to make it solid," said M-Sgt. James R. Morris of Eufaula, Okla.

"Our boys turned into Abraham Lincolns to split wooden rails for decking," Skanse chuckled.

Young Farmer Slays Family Of 4, Holds 4 Neighbors At Bay

Allies Plunge 4 Miles North Of Red Border

TOKYO, April 4 (AP)— An Allied task force drove four miles north of the Red Korean border today against heavy Communist resistance.

A field dispatch said the task force met heavy Red mortar fire and some artillery fire near Taepyong, four miles north of the border on the Western Front. But it drove ahead.

Another Allied force nearby punched two miles into Red Korea in the Yongpyong area.

Earlier reports said an American patrol had crossed parallel 38 on the Central Front and routed Chinese Reds from two hills. The patrol was probing the outer areas of a huge Red buildup where one-half million Communist troops were massed for an expected Red offensive.

The strong force which crossed on Tuesday along a 10-mile stretch withdrew by nightfall under heavy fire.

In the air, American Sabre jets destroyed one Russian - type MIG-15 jet fighter and damaged two others Wednesday in a swirling dogfight near the Manchurian border.

Other Allied planes ripped into Communist ground forces and supply lines. They destroyed four tanks, six trucks and five railroad cars in 27 sorties flown by noon.

In the long - expected offensive, Korea's rainy spring weather and glue-like mud will favor the Reds. They may launch their greatest attack of the war any day now.

For the second straight day the big air battle was fought near Sinuiju south of the Yalu River. Twelve F-8 Sabre jets tangled with eight red-nosed MIGS. The Communists broke off and raced to refuge on their Manchurian sanctuary.

In two days the Sabre jets have knocked down four MIGs and damaged seven others. No Allied losses have been reported. Official pictures raised Tuesday's tool to three destroyed and five damaged.

There was scattered ground fighting southwest of Yonchon and another eight miles southeast of Yonchon. Yonchon is six miles north of the border and 35 miles north of Seoul.

Farther west, South Korean forces crossed the cold Imjin River at two points and met heavy Chinese resistance. A Chinese counter-attack pushed one group back.

Grand Jury Sessions Continue Third Day

The Scurry County grand jury, which convened Monday, is still in session, being assisted by Bob Davie, district attorney; Keith Merrick, county attorney, and Eldon Mahon, district attorney for the 32nd district court.

Mahon is assisting the grand jury with cases that were pending when the old grand jury was discharged.

OUT—Pickup truck —2-14 . . . .

A 1950 Chevrolet pickup truck, was stolen from the Barrow Furniture Co. 2200 Twenty-fifth Street, about 8:40 o'clock this morning, according to a report made to the sheriff's office by Jack Alford, manager.

The vehicle was painted red, but had no painted signs on it, Alford told the officers.

"The truck is used by our employees, and was parked at the rear of the store," Alford said.

Warm Weather Here

Snyder basked in warm weather under clear, sunny skies yesterday, with a high of 78 degrees reached by late afternoon. The minimum recorded before dawn this morning was 46 degrees.

Kidnap Witness

Bill Coghill, (above) 17, is being held in McAlester, Okla., in "technical custody" after he reported his date, 16-year-old Jackie Parris, was kidnapped. The McAlister high school young people were on a skating date. Searching parties are seeking the girl in the rugged hill country of eastern Oklahoma.

Mickey Cohen Coming Back to Turn New Leaf

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—County Attorney James Ware today issued a warrant for the arrest of Los Angles Gambler Mickey Cohen for contempt of the Texas House of Representatives.

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP) — Gambler Mickey Cohen — who says he is retiring as a racketeer — wants to settle his score with a Texas crime probe before settling down to the peaceful life.

The Travis County, Grand Jury here indicted Cohen Tuesday for contempt of the Texas house of representatives. The pudgy West Coast gambler failed to appear last week when summoned before the House Crime Investigating Committee.

In Los Angeles Tuesday night Cohen said he was turning over a new leaf and asked citizens of Tucson, Ariz., to accept him as a law abiding citizen. He has purchased part interest in two drug stores there.

OFFERS MEETING

Then Cohen offered to meet Texas Rep. Fred D. Meridith, head of the investigating group, at a point "outside of Texas."

"I'll pay his way to Tucson; that would be a good meeting place," Cohen said. "Now let's see whether they really want to ask me questions or whether they are using my name for publicity purposes."

Cohen pleaded poverty as the reason he did not appear for the Texas investigation.

He said he could afford to finance Meridith's proposed trip from the $12,000 he received for an armored Cadilac — which California wouldn't allow on its high ways. The custom - built vehicle was purchased by the Texas Stock Car Racing Association to be exhibited at race meets.

ARREST SOUGHT

If Cohen is brought to trial and convicted on the contempt indictment he could be fined up to $1,000 and imprisoned for as much as a year.

Travis County Attorney James Ware said an order will be issued to the sheriff here for Cohen's arrest.

Ozark Madman Then Turns Gun on Others

Seized at Dad's Home, Mad Killer Refuses To Give Cause for Crime

CONWAY, Mo., April 4— A 23-year-old farm boy admitted pumping a volley of shots through an Ozarks farmhouse window and killing four persons.

Sheriff E. I. Cunningham identified the farmer as Kenneth Essery who lives near the scene of the slayings.

Essery was arrested early today at his father's home in Conway.

The slayings occurred Tuesday night about four miles southeast of here in the Ozark Hills of Southern Missouri.

Four persons who responded to a call for aid from the farm family also were fired on. One of the four was wounded.

NO REASON GIVEN

The Prosecuting Attorney said Essery declined to give a reason for the shootings.

No charges have been filed.

The dead were William Shockley, 43; his wife, Clara, 44; their daughter, Helen, 16, and Shockley's mother, Mrs. Gus Shockley, 73.

Six other Shockley children ranging in age from 10 months to 14 years were asleep in upstairs rooms. Awakened by the shots and screams, 10-year-old Mary Ellen Shockley ran downstairs and called a neighbor for help.

OTHERS FIRED ON

Cunningham said that when the neighbor, Luke O'Connor, and his wife drove into the farm yard in their pickup truck, 11 or 12 shots were fired at them. O'Connor suffered an arm wound. The car's windshield shattered, cutting Mrs. O'Connor on the face.

The O'Connors sped to Conway to report the shooting.

A short time later two of Shockley's brothers arrived at the farm and entered the house. They, too, were fired on but both escaped injury.

Wilson Pleads Inflation Curb Be Clamped On

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP) — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson said today inflation is the nation's greatest problem, but it "can be controlled."

Wilson made a statement to the Senate-House "Watchdog" Committee on Mobilization at the start of a public survey of the defense program.

In advance of the hearing, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) said a "terrible" inflation plight confronts the country and that Congress "certainly is partly to blame."

Meanwhile, the administration was reported ready with a tentative new master plan to smother inflation with interlocking business, farm and labor price controls.

LABOR TALK SET

Simultaneously, President Truman appeared set to take personal charge of the effort to woo labor back as an active element in the mobilization command.

Mr. Truman arranged to meet with the United Labor Policy Committee, representing most principal unions, at the White House Thursday.

Wilson reviewed the highlights of the week-end report he made to President Truman on building America's might.

He reiterated that the task of whipping inflation is in many ways "a tougher test of our ability to survive" than attaining high production.

Wilson also said that with "the wholehearted [illegible]" one it may be possible to remove wage-price controls and other emergency curbs "sometime in 1953."

NEW LAW GOAL

Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the Joint Committee, said his group is after "all the enlightenment we can get" on how Congress can push the defense program.

The present Defense Production Act, which includes wage-price control authority, expires June 30. Maybank's Committee will advise Congress regarding any changes in the measure when it comes up for extension.

Tobey Wants Probe Reopened To Question Fischetti Pair

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP) —Senator Tobey (R-NH) urged todav a prompt reopening of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee's public hearings to question Charles and Rocco Fischetti.

The two Fiscmetti brothers, named by the committee as top leaders of the Capone Syndicate in Chicago, were placed under bond Tuesday after they surrendered to Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Joseph C. Duke.

"They are kingpins in the gambling world and could contribute a lot to the committee's information," Tobey told reporters.

Another top figure in the Capone mob, Murray L. (The Camel) Humphreys, also surrendered to Duke.

Tobey, a member of the committee who has been urging continuation of the investigation until next Jan. 15, said witnesses "should not be allowed to escape questioning just because they have successfully eluded the committee for so long."

While he strongly advocated that the committee call the Fischetti brothers without delay, Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) said it first must complete a final report on its findings.

The committee has been given until the end of this month to submit its report and wind up its affairs — 30 days longer than the deadline originally set.

Kefauver has opposed any further extention of the committee's life, but Tobey and Senator Wiley (R-Wis), another committee member, have said they will offer a resolution to continue the nation-wide probe until next January.

"MANY OF MY CUSTOMERS have actually gone out of their way to thank me for servicing their cars with new Conoco Super Motor Oil, because it has reduced their repair bills by a good margin," says T. S. Young, Young Motor Company, Waisenburg, Colorado. "I know Conoco Super is the finest motor oil on the market."

"I'M ON CALL 24 HOURS A DAY and my car must be ready to roll over the roughest roads in any weather," states B. P. Bryant, Oil Field Engineer, Abilene, Texas. "That's why I changed to new Conoco Super Motor Oil. Never have I had such good gasoline mileage and cost-free operation."

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, use less gasoline and oil.

The Half Circle Block was registered by M. V. Brownfield in Taylor County in the '70s. It was later moved to Nolan County and since 1898 has been known as the "Saucer Block".

The brand is still being used by A. R. Brownfield, son of the original owner, who purchased it from his father in 1911. In 1900 there were about 5,000 or 6,000 head of cattle on a range of about 180,000 acres. These are now about 3,000 head of cattle on 35,000 acres in Terry County.

BY JOHN M. HENDRIX

The Crooked F was registered in Runnels County by the Coggin brothers of Brownwood and registered by Thomson brothers of Sutton County in 1900, the Thomson brothers having purchased the Crooked F cattle from the Cogginses in 1890. In 1905 there were 3,500 head of cattle on the 60,000 acres owned by the Thomson brothers who lived principally in Austin, Texas.

Today the brand is being worn by approximately 1,000 Hereford cattle on 25,000 acres in Schleicher and Sutton Counties. It is a well-improved and managed ranch, lying along the road from San Angelo to Del Rio. The older Thomsons have passed away and administration of the ranch is in the hands of Rex M. Thomson of Austin, Texas.

BY JOHN M. HENDRIX

The Lightning Brand was registered in 1886 and in 1890 to Alfred S. Gage in Brewster, Presidio, and Jeff Davis Counties. Gage came to Texas from Vermont to enter the cattle business. In 1928 the brand was registered in the name of A. S. Gage ranches. Since Mr. Gage's death, the ranches have been continued under the direction of Mr. J. J. Roberts as manager.

The Lightning cattle were of the largest number from 1912 to 1920. During that period the cattle were distributed as follows: Marathon ranch, Brewster County, 10,000 head on 300,000 acres; the Paisano ranch, Brewster and Presidio Counties, 2,500 head on 60,000 acres; the Mulhurn ranch, Jeff Davis County, 1,000 head on 20,000 acres; Moore and Allen ranch, Uvalde and Kinney Counties, 2,500 head on 30,000 acres. The ranch usually runs now about 5,000 head of cattle on approximately 400,000 acres of land. Headquarter offices for the estate are in San Antonio, Texas.

BY JOHN M. HENDRIX

The 06 brand was started in the early '50s and was originally registered in Gonzales County by Captain W. E. Jones, and was sold to L. M. Kokernot of Gonzales in 1873, after which it was registered in several South Texas counties. It is now being used by H. L. Kokernot and son in Brewster, Jeff Davis, Pecos, Zavals, Maverick, and Ellis Counties.

Probably the greatest number of cattle in this brand at any one time was 35,000 head. In 1936 the ranches had about 25,000 cattle in the brand and were using approximately 400,000 acres for range purposes. The ranches are stocked with high grade Hereford cattle.

Kokernot Senior died a couple of years ago as the result of a fall in the San Antonio hotel. The ranches are being continued under the management of a son who makes his home at Alpine, Texas. The Kokernots are rated high among families who have been continuously in the cattle business on a large scale over a great many years.

Suppliers Cut In Hardware Metal Items

Snyder retail firms dealing in articles made of critical materials are still on pins and needles about cut backs in orders.

Symptons of this are just now beginning to show, according to J. W. Phillips and Buster Phillips of Phillips Brothers Hardware.

MAXIMUM STOCK

At present the store has the largest stock ever to be assembled in the store, the owners said.

This condition is due in part, they stated, to suppliers who advised retailers to buy heavy several months ago. By now these orders have been filled.

Some suppliers have recently indicated that in certain merchandise there can be no promise of orders being filled. Orders can be left with suppliers on an "if and when" basis, but there is still no guarantee of getting them filled, one of the brothers said.

Steel lawn furniture is an example, Buster Phillips pointed out. The store does not have any in stock, and instead of the order being filled a letter came back stating regrets. If the order is left with the manufacturer it may be filled within 90 to 100 days.

Phillips says Revere Wear is off the market so far as he can tell. Aluminum ware is coming in slowly, however. The supply of Revere Ware that the store has on hand should last for some time, Phillips said.

TOOLS IN STOCK

Another catagorie which Phillips believes will become short, but which the store has a good supply at present is tools. The brands of tools carried are Bluegrass, Lufkin, Stanley and Disston.

The supply of new guns has been short for some time now, Phillips said. Ammunition has been trickling in from time to time, and the stock there is fairly good.

Copper and copper goods are the biggest headache of the store, Phillips said. Certificates have to be signed on all copper goods, even copper tacks.

At present the store has a good stock of appliances of all types. The store should be able to maintain this supply for several months at least, Phillips said.

In the overall picture of hardware business, supply seems to be barely holding its own against demand.

Man Held in Two Burglaries Will Go Before Grand Jury

A suspect was being questioned today by city police in connection with burglary of two Snyder homes a few hours before dawn Monday from which money and property valued at $265 was taken.

Police believed the suspect to be the same man who twice before had struck in certain neighborhoods of the city, once entering four homes in one night.

EARLY MONDAY

About 3:30 o'clock Monday morning a pair of trousers containing $165 was taken from the Jesse King home, 805 Twenty-eighth Street, and a few minutes earlier the R. A. Schooling residence on Peach Street, Von Roeder addition, was entered and items valued at $100 were taken.

Police said it was probably the same man forced entry into both houses, although in one case it was reported he was a Negro and in another case that he was a white man.

First report of the burglar's activity Monday came to the police at 3:03 o'clock from Schooling, who said that a white man wearing a white "T" shirt had been seen in his house by his daughter, Miss Ruth Schooling, 17 years old.

The burglar ransacked the house after entering through a northwest window. He used a garden hoe to pry open the screen, raised the unlocked window, and entered the room.

The burglar took $15.80 from a purse, a gray hat, one blue wool blanket with satin edges, and one pink comforter. Total value of the stolen property was estimated by Schooling at $100.

HID SHOT GUN

A shotgun in the Schooling pantry was moved by the burglar to the living room and hidden under the sofa.

Schooling told police the burglar entered his daughter's bedroom and turned on the lights, which awakened her. Miss Schooling screamed and the intruder fled the house, Schooling said.

A few minutes later police received the second call from the same part of town.

Jesse King told police that the burglar had entered his house through an unlocked bathroom window. He went across the hall to King's bedroom and took a pair of King's khaki trousers which contained a wallet with $165 in it.

About two weeks ago a burglar who operated by similar methods entered four homes in one night, taking a variety of property which included two pairs of trousers with the owner's billfolds.

Earlier this year a similar house burglary was reported to police from another part of Snyder, Chester Bairrington, chief of police said.

Police said that the suspect in the cases, involving a total of nine house burglaries committed while most of the occupants were asleep, would be taken before the grand jury now in session.

Salvation Army Drive Planned

Campaign plans for a Salvation Army funds drive here were made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Salvation Army service unit.

Meeting with the group were J. D. Williams and A. A. Champert, field representatives of the state Salvation Army offices in Dallas.

Chester Bairrington, chairman of the local committee, announced that a goal of $2,500 had been set for the drive which is to begin Tuesday of next week.

C. E. McGaw, lawyer, was selected as the drive chairman.

Bairrington explained that the need for this type of welfare work in Snyder is great. Its advantages are, he said that money from the Salvation Army funds can be disbursed immediately to the point of need, without red tape.

A similar drive was held here last year, but funds collected at that time were not enough to carry the town through the year. The State headquarters has had to furnish funds for local work since last January.

Members of the committee that met yesterday besides Bairrington and McGaw were Mrs. Mollie Pinkerton, treasurer, Nolen Watson, Bob Davie, Mrs. Vertna Gartman, Ford Caperton and Forrest Beavers.

Officers For New Optimist Club Elected

Carl Herod was elected first president of the recently organized Snyder Optimist Club at a meeting held last night. The club was officially recognized as a member of the district No. 7 and Optimist International at that time.

Other officers elected were Herman E. Trigg and Roy Crim, vice-presidents, and James F. O'Neill, secretary - treasurer. Douglas Solsbery, Dell Bynum, Claude Kenner, William T. Long, and Robert D. White were elected to the board of directors.

Fred Y. Becker, San Angelo, district governor, was guest speaker for the evening. J. Branch Donelson, St. Louis, field representative of Optimist International, was also present.

Becker described the Optimist Clubs as "civic organizations with ideals for achievement."

"It challenges the best that is in its members," he said. "Both the Optimist creed and the objects of the Optimist International are applicable in the life of every right-thinking man, and when sincerely followed, their influence and inspiration are dynamic."

In accepting the presidency of the new group, Herod pledged that the Snyder chapter would take an active part in civic welfare and would soon engage in a definite youth activity program.

Formal chartering ceremonies for the club will be held at a later date. Regular meetings will be held at 7:30 each Tuesday night at the Village.

Two Men Charged Here Held in Fort Worth

Two men, Albert Higgins, 42, and James O. Bates, 26, arrested by Fort Worth police in connection with a burglary here, were being returned to Snyder today by Homer Whisnand, and O. O. (Red) Dever, deputy sheriffs.

Felony warrants were issued against the pair, charging that they burglarized the home of J. T. Trice, Camp Springs, last Saturday night, obtaining two shotguns and a rifle. The complaint was signed by L. E. Haynes, duputy sheriff.

The guns were recovered.

Here's Why Cocktail Parties Have Become So Very Popular

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Once upon a time Wilbur Peeble and his wife Trellis Mae decided to throw a cocktail party.

Naturally they dreaded it. Everybody dreads giving a cocktail party. Everybody dreads going to one. That is why cocktail parties are so popular.

Trellis Mae sat down and scribbled out little notes to the guests.

"Us Peebles are having a free-for-all at our barn from five to seven p. m. Come at your own risk—but do come. First aid kits and minor repairs provided by the management."

Wilbur read the notes approvingly.

The day of the party Trellis Mae worked like a beaver polishing, dusting, and scrubbing up the apartment until it shone. She spent the afternoon making canapes and thought all the while "It'll take me a week to clean up all the caviar they'll spill on my sofa."

Wilbur pitched in to help. He piled a kitchen table high with rye, scotch, bourbon, sherry, soda and ice.

At that moment the bell rang. The first guest arrived. Soon the room was swarming with them. They clustered around the television set. They stood in corners and told each other the latest witty remarks of their children. They sat on the floor and discussed the structures of atom bombs and stenographers.

The Peebles rushed plates and glasses around to fuel the merry babble. When the last guest had gone and the hubbub had died, they sat down on the sofa.

Just then the clock on the mantle began to chime.

"Seven o'clock," said Wilbur uneasily. He got up and went over to the television set. He turned the switch. It was working. He went out to the kitchen. Nothing wrong there. Still plenty of canapes and drinks left.

WIFE IN TEARS

When he came back, he found Trellis Mae in tears.

"Everybody must hate us," she wept. "What did we do? Nobody ever heard of a cocktail party ending on time. Never."

"Aw, it was just an accident," said Wilbur. "History is full of them."

But as he glumly patted her hand he wished this one hadn't happened to them.

Michigan's Bennie Oosterbaan (left) and Alabama's Don Hutson (right) received most votes as the greatest ends for the All-Time All America eleven being selected by newspaper and radio sports editors in a nation-wide poll by The Associated Press. Top pictures show them in their playing prime, bottom views as they look today.

Battlefield Gets Derby Test Today

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—Will Battlefield be as good a three-year-old this racing season as he was last year when he was voted the champion two-year-old?

The answer may be forthcoming today at Jamaica Racetrack where the bride of the George D. Widener Stable makes his 1951 debut in the $20,000 - added six furlong experimental handicap No. 1.

FIRST DERBY TEST

This is the first big eastern preview of Kentucky Derby eligibles and has drawn an overnight field of 17 three - year - olds, of which Battlefield and 10 others have been nominated for the Kentucky Classic at Churchill Downs next month.

Winner of $198,677 as a juvenile, Battlefield ruled a solid overnight choice at little better than even money. He will carry top weight of 124 pounds. Eddie Arcaro was slated to ride him.

Battlefield won his last five 1950 starts, but oddly ran fourth in his last start at Jamaica. That was July 12 in the East View Stakes when he was beaten by Win or Lose, Nullify and Iliad. Win or Lose was disqualified the next day, officially making Battlefield third.

OTHERS LONG SHOTS

Long shot bettors may shop around among the other Derby eligibles, To Market (121), Lord Putnam (120), General Staff (114), Court Turf (112), Jumbo (110), Repetoire (113), Black Douglas (110), Pur Sang (110) Sickle's Image (110) and Hall of Fame (106).

The non-derby eligibles are the entry of Nullify (119) and Father Tiber (102); Pictus (115), Iswas (110); Hit Back (108) and Platoon (104).

Oosterbaan, Hutson, Live Long in Fame

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 4. (AP)—One of them now is coach at his alma mater, Michigan. The other is an automobile dealer at Green Bay, Wis. The names are Bennie Oosterbaan and Don Hutson — names that will linger in the minds of football fans so long as there is football.

Hutson, the sensational pass catching end at Alabama and later the professional Green Bay Packers, and Oosterbaan, one of Michigan's greatest athletes, have been chosen ends on The Associated Press All-Time All America Team.

Oosterbaan and Hutson thus qualify for top consideration for election to the Football Hall of Fame, which is planned for Rutgers University where the first game was played in 1869.

NATIONWIDE POLL

"I'm delighted with the honor," said Oosterbaan at Ann Arbor, where he is head football coach of the Michigan Wolverines.

Hutson, visiting in Hollywood, Fla., expressed the same sentiments when advised of the nationwide poll of sports writers and sportscasters by The AP in conjunction with the Hall of Fame.

"I guess the Rose Bowl game against Stanford, Jan. 1, 1935, was the highlight of my college career. I caught quite a few passes, and we won. I think the score was 29 to 13."

Oosterbaan, too, can tell about the Rose Bowl. In his last two seasons his teams have won two Big Ten Titles, and Michigan beat California last Jan. 1 in the Rose Bowl, 14-6.

FOOTBALL IMPROVES

Now lean, tanned and 38, with his hair thinning slightly at the temples, Hutson has a lot of ideas on present - day football.

He's convinced football is better than ever. And the two platoon system is here to stay.

Hutson received 883 points in the poll for ends. Oosterbaan got 349 to beat out Frank Hinkey, Yale, All America of the early 1890's, and California's Great Brick Muller, 1922 All America.

Sales of Texas hay, grain and feed stores total more than 138 million dollars a year, according to the Census Bureau.

Baylor Baseball Club Gets Winning Start

By The Associated Press

Baylor started off on the right foot in the Southwest Conference baseball season.

In the first conference game for both Baylor and Texas A&M at College Station Tuesday, Baylor downed the Aggies 3-2.

Southern Methodist blanked Tulsa University 2-0.

Baylor cut loose with a three-run rally in the first inning and then hung on.

The Aggie scores came when Yale Lary homered with one on.

Fred Benners pitched SMU to victory, allowing only two hits.

Texas plays Brooke Medical Center at Austin today in an exhibition.

Training Camp Notes

By The Associated Press

BEAUMONT, April 4. (AP)—Lefty Warren Spahn and Righthander Dick Donovan will pitch for the Boston Braves today as the Tribe attempts to avenge Tuesday's 10-8 loss to the New York Giants in Mobile, Ala.

HOUSTON (AP) — Southpaw Johnny Schmitz, who so far this spring has been a big disappointment, is scheduled to try a full nine inning chore for Chicago Cubs tonight against the Houston Buffs.

The Pirates downed the Cubs 1-0 Tuesday.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox has returned to his home at Waxahachie, Tex., for some personal business matters and the club is temporarily in charge of Coach Doc Cramer.

The Sox arrived here today to meet the Pittsburgh Pirates.

LAKELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers break camp here today to head north.

Manager Red Rolfe was hopeful Detroit's exhibition record (4-12) wouldn't be an indicator of the future.

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Boston's Red Sox play the first game of their homeward bound journey today against Jacksonville of the Class A Sally League.

SAVANNAH (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies and Brooklyn Dodgers clash here tonight in their fifth meeting of the spring campaign.

Dick Sisler's first homer of the training season Tuesday at Miami gave the Phils an 11 - inning 5-3 decision over the Dodgers.

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletic traveling northward to home base, play the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association today.

Billy Hitchcock came through with his only hit of the afternoon, a double in the tenth inning to give the Mackmen an 8-6 win over Atlanta Tuesday.

TUCSON (AP) — Cleveland's Indians broke camp today and prepared to start their lengthy exhibition series with the New York Giants.

Thursday's opener will be in Houston. Other stops include Fort Worth and Dallas.

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals split up for a couple of days after they close out their spring training camp here today.

Half the squad will go to Houston. About 20 players will accompany Manager Marty Marion to Columbus, Ga.

HARLINGEN, (AP) — Manager Zack Taylor definitely is losing sleep over the St. Louis Browns' poor spring showing, but President Bill Dewitt claims he isn't worried.

Ike Williams Set, But May Be a Bit Late

PHILADELPHIA, April 4. (AP)—Ike Williams finally has decided to defend his lightweight championship—but it seems likely today the Trenton, N. J., puncher waited a little too long.

Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Williams' manager, said Ike will fight James Carter of New York in a title match at Madison Square Garden May 11.

This move caused the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission to lift its suspension of Williams but it didn't change the position of the National Boxing Association.

The NBA had begun polling the 14 members of its executive committee to decide whether to declare Williams' title vacant because he ignored an NBA directive to defend his crown by March 31.

Arch Hindman, head of the NBA, said the poll will continue.

Almost 114 million dollars are spent annually in Texas retail liquor stores, according to the Census Bureau.

Joe Maxim Will Fight Charles on May 30

CHICAGO, April 4. (AP)— Joe Maxim, ruler of the light heavyweight boxing ranks, will try to win the heavyweight crown from Ezzard Charles.

Charles will defend his title in a 15-round bout with Maxim at Chicage Stadium May 30. Sponsored by the International Boxing Club, the match will be confirmed when the two fighters submit contracts Friday to the Illinois State Athletic Commission.

Al Simmons Gives Up, Goes to See Doctor

TUCSON, April 4. (AP) — Illness halted Al Simmons' 26 consecutive year as a major league baseballer today.

Now a coach with the Cleveland Indians, Simmons, with tears in his eyes, told Manager Al Lopez that he just couldn't continue. Lopez asked him to wait awhile.

Simmons said no.

"I can't help you any longer. I'm going home to see my doctor in Milwaukee and find out what is wrong with me."

Get Commissioner--Or Else--Professional Golfer's Demand

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4. — "We've got to get a commissioner—and get one quick—or our game is liable to get all fouled up."

The words were those of Jimmy Demaret but they re-echoed today throughout the ranks of professional golf, now torn by a succession of bitter controversies.

"This is a wonderful sport of ours but unless we get someone to run the show and run it right the players and the public will lose confidence," Demaret added.

The dapper Masters Champion from Ojai, Calif., still rankles from the $500 fine he had to pay a few weeks ago for playing in the Mexican Open Championship.

HARLINGEN INVOLVED

Demaret continued he had a right to play where he pleased. The Professional Golfers Association Tournament Committee ruled he and a half dozen others who went below the border should have played at Harlingen, Tex.

The Mexican jumpers — including Vic Ghezzi, former PGA champion, who was fined $200 —all complained bitterly to the PGA chieftans but it didn't do any good.

"As long as players are asked to rule against players we will have animosity, dissention and unrest," said Ghezzi.

"Why, it's a ridiculous situation—just like Joe DiMaggio rushing in from the outfield and calling Ted Williams out at second."

CHANDLER MENTIONED

Three members of this seven-man ruling body of barnstorming golf—Lawson Little, Morton Smith and Clayton Heafner—agreed today to the acute need of a firm controlling hand.

You'll have oil!

The oil industry is better prepared than ever before in history to supply the country's needs for petroleum products. Continuous exploration and development have established the necessary reserves, refining capacity has been increased, transportation facilities have been improved and extended.

Operating competitively in free America, the oil companies have brought U. S. oil resources to a state of readiness not equalled in any other country.

In the past year, the daily needs of the American people plus the extra needs of national defense increased the demand for oil by about a half - million barrels daily. It was produced at once. Cars and trucks continued to roll, farmers' equipment stayed in the fields, industries powered by oil continued to operate; not an airplane was grounded, not a ship stayed in port, for lack of fuel.

Nevertheless, the industry recognizes that all-out defense preparations will pose many new problems; that some petroleum products may be reduced in quality; that some sacrifices may become necessary.

But the oil is here; it's available. You'll have oil.

Second Sanity Quiz For Adair Launched

DALLAS, April 4. (AP) — Testimony began today in the second sanity hearing for Fred Felix Adair, Jr., sentenced to death for rape.

Last month at the first sanity hearing the jury deadlocked — 11 to one—after hearing a week of conflicting testimony from 30 witnesses.

Adair was convicted of raping a Vickery housewife.

He is to die in the electric chair April 28 unless he is found insane.

Truman Has Yet to Prove He Can Quiet Labor Chiefs

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—In calling labor leaders to a White House conference Wednesday President Truman is doing what President Roosevelt did.

Mr. Rosevelt was able to quiet them. Mr. Truman has yet to show he can do the same. The problems facing both presidents were rather similar.

Early in 1941, when the defense program was getting under way, Mr. Roosevelt created the National Defense Mediation Board (NDMB).

It had 12 members; four from labor, four from business, four representing the public.

It exploded in November, 1941 when some of the labor members walked out in protest against a decision by the other members.

ROOSEVELT SUCCESSFUL

On Dec. 17 President Roosevelt called a White House conference of labor and management. During the war, most of labor and management promised there'd be no strikes and no lockouts.

Mr. Roosevelt created the War Labor Board (WLB). And both sides agreed to submit their disputes to it.

It was a time of rising prices—OPA hadn't come into full power—which meant labor would want higher wages when prices went higher and management would want higher prices if they gave wage increases.

WLB worked out a formula, deciding generally that no wages should be increased more than 15 per cent above those in January, 1941. WLB pretty well held to this.

SITUATION SIMILAR

Now comes the present defense program. To control prices and wages, Mr. Truman created the OPS (Office of Price Stabilization) and the WSB (Wage Stabilization Board).

Late in January both agencies froze wages and prices — temporarily, until machinery could be set up to carry out the controls. It was understood, because the freeze was so sudden, that adjustments would have to be made.

WSB — with nine members, three from labor, three from industry, three representing the public — set about controlling wages. WSB exploded on Feb. 13.

Over the protests of the labor representatives, the other six WSB members decided wages generally could not be raised more than 10 per cent above where they were in January, 1950. Labor walked out of the board on Feb. 16.

LEAVE AGENCIES

The labor leaders — except for John L. Lewis and four rail unions —banded together and pulled their representatives out of all government agencies connected with the defense program. They argued the formula would not allow wages to match still-rising prices.

WSB came to a standstill. This made such an impossible situation that on March 15 Mr. Truman apparently decided to try to pacify labor. He announced he'd appoint a national advisory board on mobilization policy, with 17 members: A chairman and four from labor, four from business, four from farms, and four representing the public.

Labor still didn't go back. Now Mr. Truman has called the labor leaders to the White House. He may call business leaders in later.

Out of this is expected to come a wage board satisfactory to labor

East Texas Area Eyed On Defense Zone Plan

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—The Labor Department is conducting a survey today to determine whether a 35 mile zone around Hughes Springs in East Texas shall be declared a defense area.

When the survey is finished, Ralph R. Paul, chairman of the Critical Defense Area Committee, promises action. He said this Tuesday to a group of 25 East Texas civic and business leaders. The group included Publisher Carl L. Estes of the Longview News and Journal.

Defense areas get easier credit restrictions on housing.

The Hughes Spring area includes the Lone Star Steel plants. Some workers are traveling as far as 80 miles a day to get to work, defense officials were told.

U. S.-Owned Firm Will Boost Iraq's Oil Royalties Rate

BAGHDAD, Iraq, April 4. (AP)—The partly American - owned Iraq Petroleum Company is reported to have agreed to increase Iraq's oil royalties to raise about equal to those paid nearby Arab nations by foreign interests. This could be as much as 50 per cent of profits.

A government communique Tuesday night announced the agreement. It followed by a day a declaration of Iraq's premier that foreign - controlled oil companies might lose their concessions if they refused to [illegible] higher royalties.

The statement by Premier Nuri Pasha Al said was in reply to demands in parliament for nationalization of Iraq's oil industry, a step the parliament of neighboring Iran has authorized. American, British, French and Dutch capital control the industry in Iraq.

The Iraq Petroleum Company is internationally owned. A 23 per cent interest is held jointly by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and Socony - Vacuum, Inc. The company operates on oil field at Kirkuk in Iraq and has concessions covering almost all of the country.

The government's statement gave no figures on the amount of the increase. However, the Arabian - American Oil Company signed an agreement last January with Saudi Arbia to split profits on a 50-50 basis.

This agreement called for royalties of about 34 cents a barrel plus payment of income taxes that raised the total to about 50 cents a barrel.

The Iraq Petroleum Company currently is paying about 34 cents a barrel. In Iran, the British-owned Anglo - Iranian Oil Company pays about 30 cents a barrel.

Cotton Strike's Effect Debated

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 4. (AP)—Management says it isn't effective; union spokesmen say it is. One thing for certain: The strike of 40,000 CIO Southern Textile Workers is still on.

Pickets still rim more than 45 southern cotton - rayon plants and mediators haven't been called on to arrange further talks.

The strike was called at midnight Saturday after management failed to meet union demands for wage increases, pensions and other benefits.

Waco Pushing Gaming Probe

WACO, April 4. (AP) — A secret investigation by the McLennan County Grand Jury into gambling continued here today.

The grand jury Tuesday questioned six public officials and peace officers, two ministers, a city firemen and a newspaper reporter in closed sessions.

The officials included District Judge D. W. Batlett, Sheriff C. C. Maxey, District Attorney Gene Maddin, County Judge McKie Walker, Justice of the Peace Nash Oliver and Police Chief Jesse Gunterman.

Radio Permit Hit

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP) — Station KELT of Electra, Texas, would be denied a regular operating permit under recommendations before the communications commission today. Examiner J. D. Bond said ownership of the radio changed hands without permission. He said a permit went to C. C. Elkins, Jr., and Bill Frank Lindsay in 1948 and that ownership was shifted to a corporation which included Elkins Lindsay, Allen Melton, a Dallas attorney, and eight others.

Firemen Find House, But Have Wow of Time Locating That Blaze

VENTURA, Calif., April 4. (AP)—Firemen had no trouble finding the house, but the fire —well, that was something else again.

The smoke eaters rolled up to a big, 23-room place where, Sandy Lamb reported, fire had broken out. Lamb didn't seem to be on hand as the fire laddies attached their hose lines and went looking for flames.

In one room after another they went. Finally, in an unused bedroom, some stored articles were found smouldering.

Hits Luxury Tax on Meat

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 4. (AP)—Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., manager of the King Ranch in South Texas, doesn't think much of a proposed "luxury tax" on meat.

Kleberg Tuesday night accused a staff of experts on the House - Senate Economic Committee of not knowing what they were talking about.

"Maybe these so - called economic experts are part and parcel of a group in this country working aggressively for the past 15 years to get people to quit eating meat and go on a vegetarian or Asiatic diet," he said.

"Or maybe they're as completely dumb as one of the OPA men who asked during World War II if we had any 'female steers' in Texas."

The National Geographic Society says three fifths of the inhabitants of Yugoslavian Bosnia are Moslems.

Found Dead in Bathtub, Woman Called Suicide

SAN SABA, April 4. (AP) — A verdict of suicide has been returned in the death of Mrs. Gertrude Layton Smith, 60.

She was found dead in the bathtub at her home in Richland Springs Monday. Her throat and cheek were slashed. A butcher knife was in her hand.

Rand Project Aids Air Force With Decisions

By ELTON C. FAY
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP) — A private, non-profit company helps the Air Force make its decisions on weapons and the way to wage air war of the future.

An Air Force spokesman said today that project — established five years ago but little known for most of that time — is still in operation. The current Air Force appropriation for the project, now operated by the Rand Corporation, is $4,000,000.

The official description of the Rand Project (the names comes from the words research and development) is that it "conducts long-range, scientific military research."

The research conducted by the 425 staff members and 100 consultants of Rand, in one way or another, is concerned with about everything that concerns both military and civilian life, at home as well as abroad. Airmen represent only a small part of the organization. Experts on such seemingly unrelated matters as sociology, astronomy, nuclear fission, industry, foreign governments, mass psychology compose most of the unit.

Out of their combined thinking comes a pattern of world picture as it may be a year or ten years hence — of trends by government and people and industry in potential enemy countries : a suggestion of who should get bombed and how if war with a particular nation comes.

The Rand Corporation assists the Air Force in picking and using its weapons — but it doesn't pick any particular weapon, just a kind of weapon. It leaves to the Air Force's own experts and engineers to say exactly what kind of fight or bomber is needed.

Wichita Falls Hospital Badly Neglected By State Officials

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., April 4—(AP)—The Wichita Falls State Hospital has a brand new $25,000 hog farm for its 666 hogs.

But it managed to keep only two doctors "to examine and treat over 3,800 North Texans sick enough to be in the hospital last year," says the beginning of an article by Jean Walsh.

Miss Walsh is a reporter for the Wichita Falls Record News. She wrote 16 articles on the state mental hospital in her town.

She said they were written "in defense of more than 3,800 North Texans who have been patients in the ....hospital during the past year, the 2,600 who are still there ....and each of the 1,900,000 residents of 65 North Texas counties which the hospital serves....."

Doctors could not be hired, she said, because of current salaries, "which are so far below those offered in private institutions, in private practise, and in other states ....that doctors won't give them a passing glance."

LOW WAGES

The state hospital board, Miss Walsh said, is recommending that at the Wichita Falls hospitals four psychiatrists be paid no more than $5,280 and that four other physicians be paid no more than $4,800.

Miss Walsh writes of "overworked employees;" of a turnover in attendants "something like a slow-moving popcorn machine," and of patients "crowded into bare cage-like wards..."

Here are some of the highlights of the series:

There are 243 attendants caring for patients in the wards. There was one attendant—a slight blond of not more than 21. Two women, huskier than she by at least 100 pounds, began quarreling. They started at each other, hands clawed, faces twisted, and screeching.

The slight blond flew toward them, talking as fast as she could ..."Now, Bessie, honey, you don't want to do that. You've got on your new print dress and you'll mess it up....Annie, I've just combed your hair all pretty..... don't do that, sweetheart...."

Suddenly, the two women looked at the girl. But Bessie decided not to ruin her dress and Annie patted her new hairdo with both hands. The girl wiped her sweating face and went back to work.

ATTENDANTS GOOD

Miss Walsh was convinced that "even if they are untrained, the majority of the Wichita Falls state hospital's attendants are good, kind people. The danger to patients is not through physical harm but through ignorance."

Then there is Mrs. Bea Coorney, head of the occupational therapy department, who insisted "to wanted to help every patient—better adjusted or not.

And there is Mrs. Omega Townsend, recreational director, who arranges the dances, the movies, the picnics, the bingo games and who two afternoons a week takes a car full of women to town to shop —"there's nothing better for a woman than picking out little things for herself or even window shopping."

But the employees are over worked and there's a shortage of trained personnel, said Miss Walsh.

Treatment of a patient—the direct medical treatment he receives boils down to next to nothing: electric shock, used widely and often; and hydrotherapy.

Until recently, she said, electric shock—a reproduction of an electrocution and a horrible thing to watch—was administered in open assembly line fashion. Patients awaiting their turn had to witness its effect on other patients. And in hydrotherapy, with only four operators and insufficient doctors and nurses, a very limited number of patients are treated.

SOCIAL WORKER

The new patients—at least 60 a month—are supposed to be checked mentally and physically by a doctor. They are supposed to be brought before a staff of doctors who have all the background material collected by the social worker and often the results of diagnostic tests given by the staff psychologist.

But Miss Walsh said that with only one or two doctors, things get confused. It's more than two doctors can handle. The patients get shuffled into the various wards. An occasionally disturbed college boy gets put into the same ward with the criminally insane. A well-mannered courteous middle-aged women in the midst of the most deteriorated because she sometimes gets out of hand.

The majority of the patients know exactly where they are and what is happening to them. Most of them simply cracked under the pressure.

Reduction in Quality Of Gasoline Upcoming

SAN ANTONIO, April 3. (AP) —An official of the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) said today a reduction in the quality of automobile gasoline is unavoidable.

Reid Brazell, director of PAD's Refining Division, said gasoline octane ratings must be reduced because of developing shortages of Tetraethyl lead, an anti-knock ingredient. Tetraethyl lead is increasingly in demand for military fuels.

In an address before the Western Petroleum Refiners Association, Brazell said military requirements for motor gasoline will increase 20 per cent during the last six months of 1951, over the first half of the year.

Public Morals No Better Than Private Example of Leaders

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

The well-known rule that no one likes to buy hair tonic from a 'bald barber' may well be applied to Senatorial investigations into the morals and manners of other people. A bald Senator, according to [illegible], is one who uses the investigating prerogative not—as the Constitution intended—to prepare legislation and not—as everyone of course professes or pretends—for righteousness and the public good; he uses it to grind his own axes and to serve his own career.

In recent years the investigating power of Congress has so often been abused and exploited that, far from defending public morals, it has contributed mightly to break down the standards of public life. For the investigators' themselves have so often recognized no standards by which they were themselves bound.

* * *

That could not be said at all of the Fulbright investigation. Nor, it seems to me—despite the debatable problem of television—of Sen. Kefauver's personal conduct of his investigation.

Sen. Fulbright has brought about some spectacular disclosures. But never did he forget that the purpose of his subcommittee was to study the R.F.C. and to recommend legislation about it. He was not tempted, though the temptations would for many a man have been very great, to capitalize on the public attention which his committee had drawn to itself. He did not, though he could easily enough have done it if he chose, prolong his sojurn up among the big headlines just for the pleasure and advantage of being there.

Quite the contrary. Sen. Fulbright has been faithful in spirit to the true principle of his office, which is that he is a lawmaker and not a law-enforcer. Therefore, as soon as he had investigated enough in public to demonstrate the conclusions which his committee had come to after a year of private investigation, he asked leave to stop the show and to go back to the Senate.

Thus Sen. Fulbright has set an example, all the more impressive because its sincerity has been so effortless, of how a good Senator can behave. This is the beginning of any reform of public morals—that somewhere in the high places of power and responsibility the country should find men who practice what everyone preaches. Any investigation by a politician, such as his, into the peddling of influence by other politicians and by hangers-on would be a phony and a farce, and indeed repellent hypocrisy, if the inquisitor himself were greedy for the influence of being a big shot in a big show. He would be trading in the very commodity which he would be saying it was immoral for others to trade in.

* * *

The Fulbright and the Kefauver investigations have posed two different aspects of what is ultimately—in the sense of how to treat it—the same problem. The Fulbright inquiry led quickly, as he told the Senate into that wide field of activities which, though they are not palpably illegal, are at least improper and may be very wicked. The Kefauver inquiry, on the other hand, has dealt with the failure to enforce the laws. It has been showing that the law-breakers have obtained power over the law enforcers. Both investigations have exhibited public officials who have betrayed their trust—be it because of influence or of outright corruption or perhaps in some cases even of terrorism.

* * *

The common and crucial question is, therefore, the old one which is as fundamental as any in the practice of government: Who will watch the watchman? Who will inspect the inspectors? Who will audit the auditors? Who will police the policeman. For the short run, when conditions have become especially bad, there may be some use in watchdog committees to watch the watchmen. But let no one rely too long on the reforms that can be had by getting some new watchdogs. The watchdogs will be exactly the same human stuff as the watchmen and, properly approached and with a little petting by a friendly hand, they will take the bone and cease to bark.

* * *

There is no mechanical gadget by which the moral level of public life can be maintained. There is no spasm of popular righteousness which will raise it much for very long. All depends on the code of conduct which is fashionable. All depends on the working rules of behavior which the leading and conspicuous men and women in a society practice because they believe them, which most of the others conform with as a matter of course, and which no one can violate with a feeling that he is doing what everyone else is doing.

In the realm of morals the example set by the prominent is decisive. It is far more important than the exposure of the wicked. In fact the example of the prominent shows those who administer and enforce the laws what is expected of them. This will determine how faithfully and how actively the wocked are exposed.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 4. (AP)—After 50 years in show business, Lewis Stone admitted today he is keeping an eye on the new medium, television.

"Oh, I don't expect to get into it for some time to come," he added. "But I bought a set so I could keep an eye on television. It's not because I like it: I think the quality of entertainment is improving, but still has far to go. No, I'm watching it because it's a new phase of our business that I might have to know about some day."

Stone doesn't seem too pleased that MGM press agents have discovered this is his 50th year as an actor.

"It's just a date on the calendar," he shrugged. "I think it's a bore. The only comment someone could make is 'so what?'"

"I am reminded of the news story about one of the remaining GAR veterans, a boy of 107 years or so. Naturally, he was asked to what he attributed his longevity. 'Well,' he replied, 'I made up my mind at the age of 65 that I would do one thing religiously — keep breathing.'

"That's about all I can say — I've kept breathing."

Stone admitted that he had done pretty well for a man who became an actor more or less involuntarily. He told how it happened:

"My father's family was in the old theatrical troupe, the Bostonians, but I never had any great desire to act. After service with the Army in the Spanish-American War, I found a story which I thought had dramatic possibilities. I worked on a play version and showed it to my uncle. He directed me to an agent who sold me on taking the place of an actor who had gotten sick in a stock company in Detroit."

Stone caught up with the company in Canada. He planned to stay with it only two weeks, but he wasn't allowed to quit without two weeks' notice. After that he was talked into taking another role. This continued for several years, with Stone never considering the work permanent.

"I guess it wasn't until I came to a stock company in Los Angeles in 1906 that I really believed I was in it to stay," he said.

He drifted to the movies in 1916 and lined up with Louis B. Mayer even before the merger of MGM. During his years in Hollywood, he has played many notable parts. He laughed about how he is most often cast as a lawyer "I probably know more motion picture law than any man alive."

Majority Opposes President's Making Troop Decisions Alone

BY GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J., April 3 -- Should the President have the right to send as many troops overseas as he wants — or should Congress limit the number?

In the current debate over this issue, public opinion upholds the right of Congress to limit the number, judging from interviews just completed with a balanced cross-section of the voting population.

This vote may signify growing Congressional prestige in the public eye as President Truman's popularity diminishes.

The average American seems to want Congress to exercise final judgment on this vital issue.

In making the survey interviewers for the Institute put the following question to each person interviewed:

"At the present time, do you think Congress should have the right to limt the number of troops which can be sent to Europe—or do you think the number of troops which can be sent should be left up to the President and his advisers?"

Congress	58
President	31
Both	1
No opinion	10
TOTAL	100

Actually, there have been two issues involved in the controversy over Presidential powers in the matter of troops —(1) whether the President should be allowed to send soldiers overseas without obtaining Congressional approval first and (2) whether the number he can send should be limted.

On both counts the public has been siding with Congress.

Last month the Institute reported a survey showing that 64 per cent think the President should not be allowed to send troops overseas without prior Congressional approval, while 28 per cent think he should have this right and 8 per cent are undecided.

* * *

REPUBLICAN ATTACKS

Sen. Robert A. Taft or Ohio has led attacks on the President's unchecked power to send troops overseas.

Taft's position is that if there is no limit on the Presidential power to dispatch troops abroad, it would "practically destroy the power Congress over foreign relations."

He and other Republicans charge that Mr. Truman's own action in sending troops to Korea last summer was arbitrary and not well thought out.

The Korean episode may, in fact, have a bearing on the public's apparent wish to have Congress act as watchdog on the troops issue.

In January and again in February the weight of opinion, as measured in Institute surveys, was that our entry into the Korean war was a mistake.

By the terms of the new draft bill passed by the Senate and now before the House, Congress could by indirection put a limit on the number of troops the President can send abroad.

The bill puts a limit on the total size of the armed forces.

With two hemispheres to police, as well as continental United States, this would automatically place a limit on the number of American troops that would be available for the defense of Europe.

New Survival Rifle Created To Rescue Stranded Fliers

A huge exhibition of farm equipment and household appliances, a stage show, and an open house will be combined when visitors tour the Snyder Truck & Tractor [illegible] building on [illegible] East Highway Saturday afternoon and Saturday night.

The doors of the new buff brick building, which measures 268 by 55 feet, will be thrown open at 2 o'clock for the public's inspection.

The large shop room in the rear of the building, 128 feet long and 55 feet wide, will be used for entertainment with the firm's annual family party.

The display and parts room in the front of the building, which is also 128 by 55 feet, will be decorated for the occasion, and merchandise will be displayed for public inspection.

"There will be no sales talks, however," Paul Keaton, owner, said. "We are giving a party and free entertainment."

The new building also has four offices in the center. Among items to be displayed are gas and butane kitchen ranges, washing machines, refrigerators, heating stoves, air conditioners, ironers, water heaters, tractors, trucks, truck engines, stationery engines, farm implements, accessories for trucks and tractors, parts, cream separators, lawn mowers, and tires for cars, trucks and tractors.

The J&S Carburetion System, a carburetor system for equipping engines to run on butane, will also be on display. The stem is designed to economize the operation of tractors and trucks by reducing fuel costs, adding longer life to [illegible] and increasing power.

The Snyder Truck & Tractor Co., as it is known now, is an expansion of the Wes-Tex Appliance Co., which has been located on the southeast corner of the sqaure until recently.

Keaton entered the butane business here in 1946 after serving in the armed forces for three years. He expanded the appliance and butane business a year later by taking the dealership of International Harvester products, purchasing it from C. M. Wilborn, now of Muleshoe. The Snyder Truck & Tractor Co. was located in the 1900 block of Twenty-sixth Street for many years, moving to the new location Jan. 20.

COMPANY PERSONNEL

Keaton is general manager of the firm as well as owner, but the company also has a large staff of employees.

Manager of the parts department is Armor McFarland, who stocks thousands of items for Framall tractors, International trucks, and McCormick farm equipment, all products of International Harvester Co.

Doyle Eades is responsible for records of the parts department, handling this with a Cardex System.

Foreman of the large shop is Earnest Allee, who is assisted by Jack Harless, Billy Evans, and Claude Lloyd.

[illegible] is manager of the tractor and farm equipment department. He is assisted by Barney Prince, Dave Dorman, and John Pitner, who set up and deliver farm equipment.

Clark Nicks is manager of the appliance department. In his department are such well-known appliances as International Harvester refrigerators and freezers; Maytag washers, ironers and stoves; and Roper ranges. Nicks is assisted by Marshall Boyd and Johnnie Joe Pitner who service these appliances.

Miss Wanda Lipscomb has recently joined the Snyder Truck & Tractor organization as bookkeeper.

Butane is a large business with the Snyder Truck & Tractor Co. which currently serves more than 1,200 customers. Serving these customers are Mitchell MacMath, Snyder; John Vernon, Hermleigh; Lester Bruns, Hermleigh; and W. B. Hickman, Snyder; and Johnnie Joe Pitner, of Snyder.

Snyder Truck & Tractor also have offices at Hermleigh. Vernon is manager of the Hermleigh store and is assisted by the Rev. W. E. Lyon who is salesman and bookkeeper.

Beside the new Snyder building is an 80 by 20-foot warehouse on the west. A large parking area extends across the main building's 128-foot front, and an area for implements and tractors is located near the warehouse.

Staff Praised By Paul Keaton

"The success of the Snyder Truck & Tractor organization is the direct result of teamwork," Paul Keaton, owner, said yesterday. "Every person who works for Snyder Truck & Tractor is part of a unified team, and each works [illegible] common goal [illegible] er satisfaction and service."

"Nowhere on the team can you find a star performer, as all work together and this dealership's long-range success is just as much the accomplishment of one man in the oragnization as another," he added. "To render dependable, quality service, the service shop must be backed up by a parts department that provides a parts inventory both adequate and selective to the equipment requirements of the territory. That is the aim of Armor McFarland, parts manager, and Earnest Allee, shop foreman.

"Customers rarely see the hundreds of bins which hold the many replacement items for motor trucks, tractors and farm equipment. Intelligent, farsighted parts inventory management by Doyle Eades has made Snyder Truck & Tractor a headquarters where motor truck operators and farmers know they can place their service confidence."

Women Who Count Endanger The Jobs Of Their Husbands

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, — Once upon a time there were six men who worked for the same firm and lived in the same apartment building.

Their names were Wilch, Yilch, Bilch, Dilch, Tilch and Pilch. They ate lunch together and liked each other very much. So did their wives.

Their immediate boss was a fellow named Filch who lived up the street in a somewhat classier apartment.

BOSS'S WIFE WINS

Well, one day Mrs. Filch thought it would be nice to have in the wives of her husband's subordinates for a quiet afternoon of gin rummy. None of the guests was stupid, naturally, so Mrs. Filch came out $18.45 winner.

During the course of the game they fell to talking about their husbands' salaries. Mrs. Filch knew the figures and gaily bandied them about. It turned out that thorough a spread of $3.16 between the weekly incomes of the six men who called Filch "Mister."

Do you think a little discovery like that worried Mrs. Wilch, Mrs. Yilch, Mrs. Bilch, Mrs. Dilch, Mrs. Tilch and Mrs. Pilch? Well, hardly at all. No more than if they had just found out that their husbands had leprosy.

HUBBIES CATCH IT

And as soon as he came home each took her spouse to task and gave him the old marital hammer —and-tongue treatment.

The next day the six unhappy musketeers all set off to work under orders to come home with a raise. Or else.

All day they tried to think up an excuse to bust into Filch's office and point out how valuable they were But Filch looked fretful and worried and kept frowning and shouting. They stayed away. At the end of the day they all had the same idea—ambush him on the way out.

There they stood—all six of them —looking uncomfortably at him as he started to get into the elevator.

BOYS MEET BOSS

"Come on, boys," said Filch. "Let's go across the street and have one for the road.

They had one. They had two. They had three.

"Fellows, I got a problem," said Filch. "And I wish you'd help me."

"Yes, sir," chorused Wilch, Yilch, Bilch, Dilch, Tilch and Pilch.

"Well, it's this way," said Filch. "You know how wives are. My wife thinks I'm working for peanuts. She told me last night I got to get another raise or another address. What do you think is the best way for me to approach the big boss? The way I see it, it is kind of a sales problem. What would you do if you were in my shoes?"

Moral: Never marry a woman who can count.

Hundreds Get Invitation To Keaton Fete

Invitations to the annual family show of the Snyder Truck & Tractor Co., which will be held this year in connection with the firm's grand opening at its new building on East Highway, have been sent to more than 1,200 regular business customers in addition to several hundred stroe customers.

"Our firm has given a family party each year for several years," Paul Keaton, owner, said. "But this year we are making it an extra special event in connection with the grand opening of our new building."

The new store, Keaton said, is an operations base for serving the county and this area of West Texas with farm and industrial equipment, butane, and home appliances.

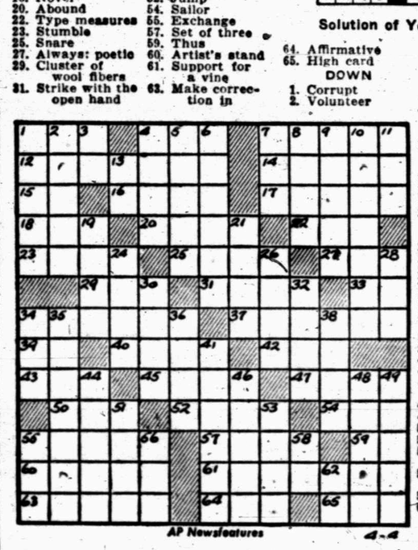

"We believe we have a base capable of serving the community well, and that is why we want the public to come and inspect it. We also want the people to come for the entertainment and enjoy themselves.

"The entire public is invited, whether written invitations have been received or not," he said.

The open house will feature two stage shows, one at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the other at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Barnes of Fort Worth are in Snyder on business connected with the Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home. They are staying at the Canyon Courts.

One Efficient Department In Washington

By The Associated Press

The typical government girl here works in one of the huge departmental buildings and spends the day typing form letters and filing papers in steel cabinets, seldom seeing anyone except those with whom she is employed.

Miss Rhobia C. Taylor of Houston, a native of Navasota, works for Uncle Sam but she is far from being one of those typical government workers.

She is director of events in the office of the head of the National Institutes of Health.

INSTITUTES-PLURAL

It's plural, all right, for the organization is composed of seven national institutes which come under the Public Health Service. They handle and coordinate scientific research regarding the heart, cancer, arthritis, neurological blindness, metabolic diseases and dental health.

One function of the organization is to allocate funds to universities and hospitals to finance in whole or part research in some particular problem.

The studies are coordinated so a scientist in one state won't be laboring to find an answer which has already been turned up in some other part of the country.

FIRST TO MISS TAYLOR

When anyone goes to the office of the institutes on any matter he will likely go first to Miss Taylor.

9 a.m.—arrange program for student nurses interested in cancer;

11 a.m.—show work on peptic ulcer to Australian physician;

12 noon—lunch with two scientists from the Netherlands;

1:30 p.m. — give talk on NIH to students at a local junior high school;

4 p.m. — back to NIH to work out training and orientation materials.

Miss Taylor attended public schools in Houston and then majored in sociology at Mary Hardin-Baylor College in Belton. Incidentally, she has just been elected president of the alumnae of that school in the Washington area.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, 604 Twenty-ninth Street, spent the week end in Abilene where they visited Mr. Billingsley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Billingsley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Marler have returned from Kingsville, Tex., where they spent a week on business. Mr. Marler is back at the Drill Collar Service Co., where he is employed.

City Utility Orders Reflect Steady Growth

Forty - one new water meters were set by the city water department last month to bring the total in service to 8,584, W. J. Ramsey, city superintendent, said.

Total collections for the water and sewer departments for the March were $15,930.55, Ramsey said.

FILL ORDERS

During March the water department completed a total of 656 orders, plus the reading of 2,584 meters.

The 656 orders were as follows: 138 water meters connected; 98 water meters disconnected; 61 water and sewer taps completed, 33 dead meters changed on: 41 new water meters set; nine main line sewer stop-ups; 23 service line sewer stop-ups, 37 water and sewer lines lowered for paving program; and 19 meter boxes moved back for the paving program.

One fire hydrant was moved back, nine meter boxes were replaced because of traffic damage, and 47 water breaks were repaired on lateral lines.

Ramsey issued 23 orders to collect delinquent accounts, four orders to collect bad checks, and six orders were issued to cut off water for non-payment of bills. Ramsey also issued 16 order to reread meters, with one meter found to have been read wrong.

BUILDING PERMITS

The city engineering department issued 24 building permits for construction totalling $122,221.50, and received 94 applications for plumbing permits. Thirty new water taps were applied for, and 15 new sewer taps were applied for.

One - hundred - sixty - one new meter deposits were put up totaling $1,800, and 119 meter deposits were refunded totaling $1,085.

Ramsey said that the report shows that there were increases in all his departments during March, and that applications for plumbing and other permits indicated that April would be an even bigger month for the city water department and for the growth of the city.

Oil Industry's Menace Called Taxes, Rules

By MAX B. SKELTON

SAN ANTONIO, April 3. — The oil industry, "from the grass root level on up" was asked today to be alert against ruinous regulations and taxes.

R. W. McDowell, Tulsa, Okla., oil executive, said too many government restrictions and too heavy a tax load could prevent the industry from meeting combined military and civilian requirements during the national emergency.

McDowell, the retiring president, spoke before the Thirty-ninth Annual Convention of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association.

The Mid - Continent Petroleum Corporation President said certain forces inherently unfriendly to business will use the threat of war to justify further inroads upon private enterprise.

"EASY" TAX SOURCE

McDowell said federal, state and local governments have found the industry an "easy source" for additional tax revenues although it is already carrying far more than its just share.

McDowell said the oil industry should be very humble about its great achievements of the past because it is confronted today with new and greater demands than ever before.

ELECTION SLATED

New WPRA officers were to be elected this afternoon. R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Big Spring, is scheduled to succeed McDowell. Tollett now is a vice president.

A late afternoon speaker was to be Reid Brazell, director of the Refining Division of the petroleum Administration for Defense.

Bruce K. Brown, Deputy PAD Administrator, is to be the principal speaker at the convention's concluding session Wednesday.

All Models Of Trucks Shown

The Snyder Truck & Tractor Co., near the city limits on the East Highway, will have 10 International trucks on display at its grand opening Saturday, according to Paul Keaton, owner.

The trucks will vary in size and model from the smallest pickup to the largest heavy-duty truck, Keaton said. The truck display will be only one of several displays of equipment and merchandise for the opening which will start officially at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and will continue until 9 o'clock.

"We want to emphasize the full truck display because of the satisfied truck customers we have in Scurry County," Keaton said, "and because of the reasons they give for owning International trucks. These trucks are good "luggers" on the roads, they are maneuverable, economical, comfortable, and parts are available on short notice."
