Chamber Of Commerce Considers Five Directors

Final details of the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet and nomination of new directors for the Chamber board were among items of business for the monthly board meeting Monday of the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Nominated to three-year terms on the Chamber board were Bobby Lemons, Brad Rose, Barbara Gray, Drew Ballard and Travis Cawthron. They will succeed outgoing directors Mildred Free, Don Banta, Kenneth Rogers, Kenneth Beasley and Jean Holbert.

Ballots are to be sent to Chamber members for the selection of five new directors. Those nominated will be listed on the ballot along with spaces for write-ins.

Ballots will be mailed out in the near future.

Mrs. Vernon (Fleta) Lewis was appointed to the board to fill out the unexpired term of Cecil Flowers who resigned from the board last week.

The term will expire in January 1980.

In other business, the Chamber board set the price at $8 per ticket for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet scheduled for Jan. 18 in the Civic Center. Don Maynard, a football star for the Colorado City Wolves in the 1950s who later received national acclaim as a receiver for the New York Jets, will be banquet speaker.

The menu for the banquet will include filet mignon, baked potato, rolls, salad, a vegetable and pie, tea or coffee. Master of ceremonies will be Bob Reilly who was one of Maynard's coaches when he played for the Wolves here.

In other business, the board heard reports from various committees and were told the annual Mitchell County Fair and the annual Railroad Arts & Crafts Round-up were big successes.

Regarding the Arts & Crafts Round-up, Chairpersons Jolyn Mikow and Jody Neff reported that attendance was good and the one thing that hurt the Round-up was the dirt floor in the north barn of the ag barns, limiting the number of booths in the Round-up. No artist wanted on the dirt floor, they said. Most of the artists and craftsmen reported good sales.

Mrs. Mikow and Mrs. Neff also reported that there was a good number of out of town people here to attend the event. Of those, 41 from Sweetwater registered, 54 from Snyder, 19 from Big Spring, 10 from Midland and 10 from Odessa. Of the total registering for the prizes given away every hour, 66 per cent were from Colorado City. Only about half of those attending actually registered.

Those registering also came from San Angelo, Coahoma, Westbrook, Loraine, Tahoka, Haskell, Andrews, Rotan, Littlefield, Dallas, Lubbock, Colorado, Arkansas and various other points throughout West Texas.

Other business now being considered by the Chamber includes a Christmas promotion by merchants, a big Christmas parade with Santa Claus and a home lighting decorating contest. Details of these will be announced when they are finalized.

Chamber Of Commerce

By Larry Winders

Ever so often something happens that reminds me of a story I once read that had a profound and dramatic effect upon my personal philosophy and consequently my life. It goes like this.

"I had a wonderful father," said Elsa Maxwell. "I was his only child. In 1907 my father sent for me and said, 'I'm going to die and I've nothing to leave you. You've got to go out into the world and make your own living. How are you going to do it? You're nothing much to look at, never will be. You have no name. You haven't any money. But I'm going to leave you a legacy. It's three simple rules.

First, never be afraid of THEY. People are more afraid of THEY than anything else in the world. Strong generals with great armies will face courageously the most outrageous foes yet be terrified of what THEY might say, THEY might do, THEY mightn't like.

The second rule is even more important. Never collect inanimate objects. You can't do it, for they collect you. 'So I thought the more you own the more you are possessed; therefore I own nothing but essentials. I'm free as air, and it's wonderful.'

'The third rule, which suited me rather well, was Always Laugh At Yourself First. Everybody has a ridiculous side and the whole world loves to laugh at somebody else. You laugh at yourself first, and the laughter of others falls off harmlessly as if you were in golden armor. I have always followed that, too.

That story gave me room for a lot of thinking. When I really tried to understand that THEY were a nebulous group of talkers and not doers; and that THEY were also the same people who write dirty words on bathroom walls; and that us and we worked together and accomplished things, I quit worrying about THEY.

Some years ago when we made the decision that we no longer needed a ten room house with all the necessary items to maintain a prestigious facade; all of them were disposed of in one day. Personally I have been a happier man ever since.

I think and I hope that I have always had the ability to laugh at myself, to take my work seriously but not me. If I feel myself slipping it is easy to remember Larry Winders barefooted, in overalls in a small town (poor side at that) doing any work available during the summer in order to go to school during the winter. And no matter what, the same guy is still there. Perhaps dressed in more expensive clothes, wearing shoes, carrying many pounds of superfluous avoidupois and wearing a veneer of educational sophistication but they are all wrapped around the same Larry Winders. So, maybe that makes it easier for me to laugh at me.

I don't think there is any moral in all of this or any message, it just seems to me that if we could all place less emphasis on pursuit of material things, and take ourselves not quite so seriously perhaps we would enjoy life rather than endure it. After all we are transient and none of us will leave alive. So why not make our lives simple, laugh a lot and have some fun.

Preston Is Festival Queen

It was a grand ol' day in Loraine Saturday when the first annual Loraine Cotton Festival was celebrated.

Despite the chilling temperature and drizzling rain, a good crowd was on hand for the festivities. Highlighting the day's activities was the crowning of the Cotton Festival Queen Saturday night.

Hearts were pounding, stomachs had butterflies, nerves were on edge and excitement filled the air as 18 contestants waited for the announcement.

Ginger Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Preston, was announced winner of the queen contest. She was sponsored by Graham's Station and was escorted by her father.

Second place winner in the queen contest was Tracy Beights, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Beights, who was escorted by David Finley. She was sponsored by Custom Ag.

Sheila Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, was sponsored by Cree-Mee Drive In and received third place. She was escorted by her father.

Debbie Lee, escorted by Allen Boyd, was fourth place winner. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ace Lee, she was sponsored by Lonnie Williams Construction.

Striking the Festival off to a start was a parade consisting of the Loraine School band, the Middle School band, the Boy Scouts, Dr. Bruce Johnson dressed up like a clown, various cars and tractors. Floats represented the Business and Professional Women's Club, the queen contestants and First State Bank of Loraine. In addition, the Loraine football team rode on the fire truck.

Eight teams competed in a volleyball tournament and first place was nabbed by the Colorado City Smashers. Second place went to the Red Hots of Colorado City.

Edgar Haltom, president of the Loraine Improvement Program which sponsored the day's activities, said that he was "more than pleased" with the event. Although there has been no official tally of profit, Haltom noted that the proceeds would be used to put up street signs in Loraine.

Brothers Make A Team

By LOUISE TAYLOR

"Am I my brother's keeper?" is a quotation from the Bible which could certainly apply to several members of the Loraine football team.

The Bulldogs have seven sets of brothers playing on the varsity team this year.

Brothers are noted for disagreements, spats and jealousy. These boys are no exception to the rule. But on the football field it's different. These brothers work together, boosting each other and it's called teamwork. It's for a purpose—to play football and win.

Oh, there is the usual amount of laughter, criticism and competition with each other and maybe a bit of anger sprouts out at times.

It's all part of being a brother.

Sometimes the younger brothers do more of the complaining because big brother uses too much "upper class" authority.

The Martinez brothers are three—Frankie, a senior, Junior, a junior and Charlie, a freshman. They are the sons of Mrs. Valentina Martinez.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Williams are parents of Ricky, a senior, and Tony, a sophomore.

Frank and Bobby Sanchez are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Florentine Sanchez. Frank is a freshman and Bobby is a sophomore.

Clarence and Tommy Darnell are sons of Mrs. Betty Darnell. Clarence is a sophomore and Tommy, a junior.

The Woodell boys, Jeff and James, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Woodell. They are both juniors. Jerry Rose, a freshman, and Wayne, a sophomore are the sons of Mrs. Mildred Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Taylor are the parents of Rodney, a senior, and Stan, a freshman.

With seven sets of Bulldog brothers, it's almost like one big happy family.

How can a football team be anything but great with all that brotherly love?

That's a winner in every way!

Loraine girls basketball got underway Tuesday night with the varsity defeated 64-34 by Borden County.

Netting the most points was Linda Moreno.

The girls played their first five man court Tuesday night. "We just started practice Monday for one period, since football season is still going on," commented Coach Ken Lightfoot. "After the girls get used to the five man court and football is over we can really get started with our basketball."

He added, "Borden County has a good team this year. They scored 10 points before we even scored one. The end of the first quarter was 19-2."

The Colorado City junior high girls volleyball squads closed out their season Monday night against Loraine here as the eighth graders divided into "A" and "B" teams and played two separate matches.

The "A" squad took two out of three Loraine by scores of 15-9, 13-15 and 17-15. Carolyn Green led Colorado City with nine points in the first game while Loretta Morris had seven points in the second contest and Jana Bruce and Venita Johnson had five points each in the final game.

The "B" squad also defeated Loraine two out of three by scores of 5-15, 15-13 and 15-13. Della Ausbie had 12 points and Norma Molina had 10.

Saturday the Colorado City Optimists will honor outstanding youth in the community at a reception.

Set to begin at 7 p.m., the reception will be held at the C. C. Thompson Room of City National Bank.

Two outstanding students from grades seven through 12 will be honored, along with their parents at the reception.

This week was proclaimed Youth Appreciation Week by Mayor Marion Basham, in conjunction with Optimist International Youth Appreciation Week.

First place poster winner last week was Teresa Gorham, 2nd place went to Becky Coronado and 3rd place went to Chritina Franco.

Next Thursday night when the Middle School Wolves face the Coahoma Puppies in Coahoma they will have a little added support. The Middle School Jamborees will be going. It is the first out-of-town game we have gone to.

This week is the last pep rally and the last football game. So all you mothers who have a daughter in Jamborees don't be surprised if your daughter comes home Thursday night and doesn't talk to you. She probably won't be able to.

Last Thursday the Wolves were hungry. The Wolves ate up the Stamford Bulldogs with a score of 27-0. Danny Martinez had 126 yards rushing and Tom Rees had 103 yards rushing. The Wolves also had 39 yards passing. Together the team had 19 first downs and 285 yards rushing and 39 yards passing for a total of 324 yards on offense. Tom Rees made the first touchdown on a 12 yard run. Steve Marino connected with Willie Martinez on a pass for the two points.

The second touchdown also came on a run by Tom Rees. This run was from eight yards out. Tom Rees also kicked the first extra point for the year to make it 15-0.

Rees made his third touchdown for the night on an 11 yard run. Then Marino made the fourth touchdown on a one yard quarterback sneak to make it 27-0.

Stamford scored on a long pass. Their extra points failed.

Coach Robinson and Coach Gierhart said that the Wolves work well as a team. The offensive line blocked great. The Wolves will close out the season this week against Coahoma and the Wolves are still hungry!

Westbrook WMU Observe World Day Of Prayer

The World Day of Prayer was observed at First Baptist Church in Westbrook when the WMU met at 2 p.m. at the church. Each year a writer is chosen to prepare program material for the annual BWA Women's Department of prayer. This year's writer was Ana Maria Swenson president of the Women's Missionary Union of Mexico. Theme for Miss Swenson's 1978 program was "Lifting the World off its Hinges." These are the women for whom they prayed for on this day in November, women behind the iron and bamboo curtains, women in poverty, women in affluence, women in freedom and women in bondage.

Mrs. Floyd Rice was in charge of the program. Mrs. Lee Shan read the calendar of prayer and named the missionaries with birthdays on this day. Mrs. Altis Clemmer worded the prayer and told of "The Day of Prayer is Special in Dani Land." Mrs. Gerald Rollins spoke of "The Love of Jesus Reaches Dark Corners of Villages." Mrs. L. M. Dawson read the scripture, Romans Six chapter. Mrs. Bob Manning told of the Crusade that went on, despite a blackout.

Next meeting will be November 20 at which time the Royal Service Program will be presented. November 16 Westbrook women will meet with Oak Street Baptist Ladies in Colorado City for Mission Study Book. Book will be taught by Mrs. Manning. Every one is invited to attend. A covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour.

Tennis Association Discusses Courts

Building more tennis courts and renovating existing courts was the main topic of discussion of the monthly meeting of the Mitchell County Tennis Association held Sunday.

Plans to unite the city, county and school in efforts to construct courts were made. A committee was appointed to investigate the costs of wind curtains and another group is checking into the costs of additional lighting at the Middle School courts.

Nov. 18-19, the first tennis tournament sponsored by the Mitchell County Tennis Association will be held. Purpose of the tournament, according to club officials, is to promote interest in the association.

Entry fee for the tournament will be membership dues for club and the tournament is only open to club members.

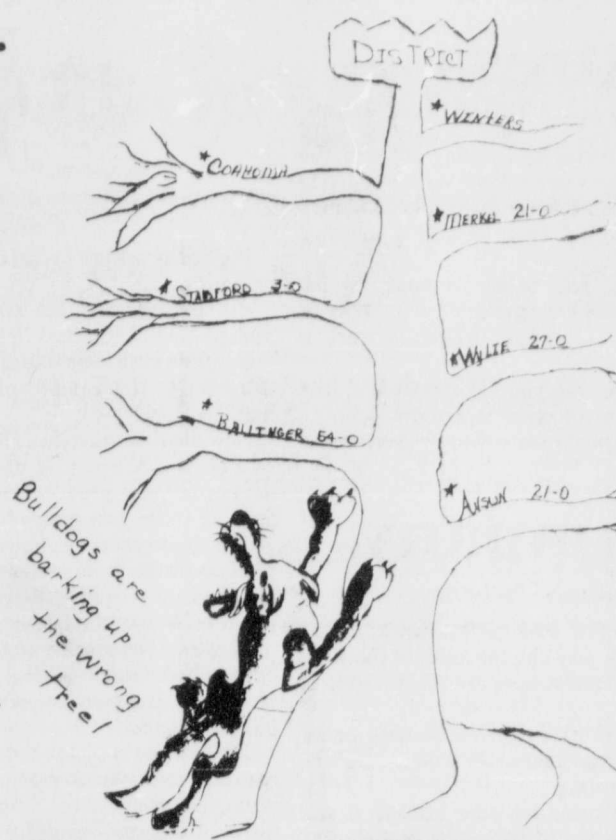

Dave Redwine is tournament director, assisted by Kitten Arthur.

A membership drive for the association is still underway and interested persons should contact Larry Hamner or Terre Bird. Dues are $5 for adults and $3 for students.

Next meeting of the group will be Dec. 3 at 8:30 p.m. at Sweetwater Savings and Loan.

Wolves Get Set For Shoot-Out

"It's gonna be a tough ol' ball game," said Colorado City Wolves' Coach Mike Farda about the upcoming contest between the undefeated Coahoma Bulldogs and the once defeated Colorado City Wolves.

The game will be played at Coahoma with a large crowd expected for what has been called the biggest game in West Texas this year. Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

The game has been called the big shoot-out, the high school equivalent of the Texas-Oklahoma game. The two schools are arch-rivals and the district championship has been decided in many sports when the two faced each other.

The schools compete with each other in all sports at all levels. The Colorado City Wolves who are now seniors lost two games to Coahoma in the seventh grade, 49-0 and about 47-0 and then they split two games in the eighth grade but since that time, Coahoma has not defeated this group of Wolves. The Wolves seniors have not forgotten the early defeats, said Coach Farda.

It was in the back of everyone's minds when the season started that this game would be the one to decide the district 6-AA football champion. It was also the deciding game last year, won by the Wolves. Going into the season, the senior laden Coahoma squad was the pick by many newspapers, magazines and rating services to take the district crown with the Wolves in second place.

A Wolves win would clinch a tie for the District Championship for the Bulldogs but they still have to face Stamford who's only loss was a 3-0 decision against the Wolves.

Should Coahoma win and then be defeated by Stamford and should Colorado City defeat Winters, there would be a three-way tie, making it necessary a coin flip to determine who would represent the district in the state play-offs. The play-offs would begin by the local district meeting the winner of District 5-AA which could be either Seminole, Frenship or Slaton.

Colorado City and Coahoma both have potent offenses and stingy defenses as Coahoma has scored 192 points and given up only 54 points to opponents. Coahoma has won eight games and lost none while the Wolves lost the season opener to Slaton and have won the last seven games.

Colorado City has scored 173 points and given up only 32 points on defense. No one has scored against the Wolves in district competition and Colorado City has a string of 23 consecutive quarters of shut-outs going.

However, Colorado City has had what some people consider to have been a tougher schedule as they played two AA schools and one AAA club in pre-district competition while Coahoma has faced two A clubs and one AA team.

In district competition, Colorado City has been more impressive in their victories as they have soundly trounced all but one opponent and just edged by a tough Stamford team 3-0. Coahoma has yet to play Stamford.

Coahoma has had a fight on their hands to get by two district opponents, Wylie and Merkel, defeating them 14-13 and 10-6. However, part of that is said to be because the Bulldogs have been looking ahead to facing the Wolves all year.

To illustrate that is the fact that Tracy Frazier, one of Coahoma's big guns, has suffered a knee injury, similar to that suffered by the Wolves Gary Hulme last year. Frazier is a veteran of the Bulldog team and one of their standout performers over the years. The Wolves coaching staff has been told by Coahoma coaches that Frazier has been held out of most games this season in preparation for one game and this is it.

"I see it as a defensive battle," said Farda with the winner being determined by mistakes, basically on penalties, fumbles and the kicking game.

They have a good kicking game, said Farda, as they do a good job covering on kick-offs and punts and have scored a number of touchdowns on kick-offs and punt returns this year.

Coahoma has four quick backs with a halfback who throws the halfback option better than anyone he has ever seen and out of many different situations, said Farda.

The Bulldog quarterback is quick and throws well. One of the favorite receivers is Tight End Randy Phillips. On offense, Coahoma runs a T-formation with a wide split, the line being spaced almost all the way across the field.

"They can move the ball," said Farda.

On defense, Coahoma runs a pro-type 4-3 with a lot of different looks and they stunt a lot. "We'll see every formation they have," said Farda.

Regarding the Wolves' plans for the game, Farda said, "We're going with what brought us here (to the showdown)."

The Wolves have had good workouts. The team is enthusiastic, said Farda, with probably the most exciting workouts since two-a-day workouts started in August. All the players know what this game means.

Everyone is healthy with the only exception being Dwayne Staats who suffered a sprained ankle against Merkel. He'll be able to play but it is not yet known if he'll be full speed, said Farda.

Regarding the Merkel game, those getting helmet awards included everyone on offense—Gary Hulme, Ricky Sanchez, Doug Johnson, Rodney Wheeler, David Rivera, Tommy DeLoera, Russell Noel, James Shoemaker, DaWayne Iglehart, Ruben Garcia, Dwayne Staats, Gene Carter, Donnie Lowrance, Martin Molina, Sammy Gomez and Jay Feaster.

Loraine Falls To Borden

The Loraine junior varsity girls basketball took a one point loss to Borden County Tuesday night in Loraine.

High point girl was Sylvia Barrera with 12.

Showdown time... This week the Colorado City Wolves travel to Coahoma to play the undefeated, untied, 8-0 Coahoma Bulldogs. This is the game players, coaches and people in the communities of both towns have been waiting for all year.

We all knew deep down that the district championship would be decided on the night of Nov. 10 at Coahoma.

I definitely think that the best two teams in district and maybe West Texas are playing for all the marbles. This ballgame is often called the Texas-Oklahoma of West Texas football. The only difference is this game is more important than Texas-Oklahoma because it directly concerns us.

Coahoma has a very explosive offense—all of their running backs are very quick and aggressive runners. The key to their offense is No. 11 Gary Gee, the quarterback. He runs the option to perfection and throws the ball very well. His favorite play is the dive with halfbacks No. 20 Ronald Sunday and Tom Childers carrying the ball. They have a very explosive fullback in No. 25 Gary Paige. He is a very good blocker in the option also.

Coahoma plays a base 27 or a pro 4-3 defense. They move their defensive people around a lot to give offenses a lot of different looks. They stunt very well out of all their defensive fronts. The Coahoma defense is a lot like that of Stamford—they are very quick and all their people chase the ball very hard and hit very aggressively.

Looking at the statistics on the two teams, Coahoma has scored 192 points in eight games and Colorado City has scored 173 points in eight games. Coahoma has allowed their opponents only 57 points while Colorado City has given up only 32 points all year.

Realistically you can throw out all the stats when these two teams play because they don't mean a thing. The only stat that means anything Friday night is who won and who lost.

I know that both teams will be ready to play Friday night and I hope that both teams will play the type of game that will make their communities proud of them. But there must be a winner and there must be a loser.

Good luck, Wolves. It has been a long time since the seventh grade and we all remember what happened in you seniors' first game. It won't happen again.

GATA Wolves!

P.S. Coahoma is having a pre-game victory dinner at Richter's Cafe across from the school. They did not invite our fans to attend.

Time For The Big Shoot-Out

It's time for the game that everyone has been thinking about and expecting all year, the annual battle between our Colorado City Wolves and the Coahoma Bulldogs.

It seems that almost every year, this contest is a big factor in determining the Champion of District 6-AA. This year will be no different.

Should our Wolves win, and we believe they will, they'll clinch a tie for the district championship and the right to represent the district in the state play-offs.

Colorado City and Coahoma have been arch-rivals for years. Both teams are winners and have proud traditions. It will be the game of the week in West Texas.

We believe our team will come out on top. A large crowd of supporters will be on hand in Coahoma for the game and the more, the better. Let's get behind our team and back them to another victory. We're with you Wolves.

Malone-Hogan Hospital, Inc.

Norman Knox - Administrator
Emily Ward - Director of Public Relations

Big Springers are proud of it, visitors are impressed by it, and nearby municipalities are envious of it.

But perhaps the one adjective that best describes the feeling of those who visit Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring, is surprise.

Surprise at the sophistication of the medical expertise that is available at Malone-Hogan. Surprise at the equipment and technology. And surprise at the brand-spanking new building itself.

How did it happen that all this ended up in Big Spring, Texas? Sources say that it started as a dream. A group of doctors who came to the area in the late Thirties saw the area developing, and grew concerned for the future health needs of the people, who would one day call these vast plains home.

The clinic group was known as one of the finest diagnostic teams in the southwest. Their patients came from miles around, and time and time again they added new doctors, installed new equipment, implemented new services, and added still more rooms for patients. But in the Seventies, the need to expand came again.

Hospital Corporation of America came into the picture when the doctors saw that their dream had taken wings, and they could not hope to finance what had become a multi-million expansion plan. HCA came to Big Spring, liked what they saw, and agreed to build a hospital.

The 153-bed complex today houses over 200 technical specialties, and includes intensive care and coronary care units, two nurseries, two delivery rooms, five labor rooms, a five room operating suite, 24-hour emergency room, and complete supportive services in physical therapy, laboratory, radiology, EEG/EKG, and respiratory therapy.

Surgical specialties include general and orthopedic, urology, otolaryngology, ophthalmology and oral.

Medical specialties include general internal medicine, family practice, dermatology, nuclear medicine, hematology, rheumatology, obstetrics and gynecology, pathology, pediatrics, radiology, chemotherapy and podiatry.

Malone-Hogan Hospital, Inc., is a refreshing newcomer with an old tradition of excellence in diagnostic and treatment specialization. Its reputation as a pacesetter in patient care is today rapidly gaining statewide significance, as its name pops up more and more on the growing list of outstanding hospitals in the Southwest.

They're not bragging when they caution you to remember the name of Malone-Hogan. It's a promise. Do remember the name. It's one you'll hear time and time again.

Bob & Dorothy Wheeler - Owners

With the price of auto parts as high as they are today, the average person cannot afford to keep his car in the best of repair, unless he is a wise owner and saves his money by selecting his parts from the Big Three Auto Salvage located on North Birdwell in Big Spring, phone 263-6844.

These men are experts in their field and can help you select just the right part to fit any particular project. They keep in stock a complete line of good used engines, and with their use you can save many dollars over having your present engine overhauled.

From generators and alternators to transmissions, both standard and automatic, this firm can supply you with practically any part you might need. They never sell parts they know are worn out or damaged without first telling you the condition of what you have.

We, the writers of this 1978 Business Review suggest to our readers that they save their money by selecting good used parts from this reliable concern. Remember the name, the Big Three Auto Salvage.

Veterans Week Proclaimed

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has proclaimed November 11 to 18, as Vietnam Veterans Week.

Commander A. C. Clark of V.F.W. Post 9178 reports that the Post, located at 1264 College Ave. will hold an open house all day Saturday with a chicken barbecue from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. to salute these unsung heroes who answered their country's call in a time of emergency.

All Americans are being asked to participate in paying tribute to these nearly 5 million veterans, both men and women, who quietly did their duty and went off to Southeast Asia in response to national policy, even though it was unpopular in many quarters.

Veterans of all other wars will also be honored. Citizens of Colorado City are invited to join with the V.F.W. in this recognition which has been long overdue.

V.F.W. Commander-in-Chief Eric Sandstrom, of Tacoma, Washington, states that many of the organization's 10,000 Posts spread across our 50 states will be holding special programs to honor all Vietnam Veterans during this special week.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States have taken the initiative to honor the forgotten Vietnam Veterans; and Whereas all 10,000 V.F.W. Posts across the nation will be holding special programs to salute these unsung heroes; and Whereas all Americans are indebted to these more than 5 million who answered their country's call in a time of emergency. Therefore, I Marion Bassham, as Mayor, proudly proclaim the week of November 11 to November 18, 1978, as VIETNAM VETERANS WEEK and urge all citizens of Colorado City, Texas to join with me in expressing our heartfelt appreciation.

Cotton Harvest Approaches

As the time for cotton harvest approaches, some Mitchell County farmers might want to start thinking about terraces on the land once the cotton harvest is complete, says Nolen Bird, Conservation Technician of Mitchell County. If they have land that has never been terraced or have old terraces that do not work satisfactorily, it would be to their advantage to consider new terraces.

Terraces in Mitchell County serve two primary purposes, says Bird. They are for water conservation and soil erosion control. Based on records that have been kept for years and years, it is a proven fact that on soils that are predominant in this county, namely sandy soils, almost one half of the yearly rainfall will run off of unprotected land.

For instance, on a 160-acre field with an average annual rainfall of 19 inches, this would amount to 3,040 acre-inches an acre-inch, of course, being water standing an inch deep over one acre. One acre-inch is 27,152 gallons. Thus on the quarter section this would be the equivalent of 82,542,080 gallons. An irrigation well would have to pump 300 gallons per minute, 24 hours per day for 191 days to equal this amount of rainfall. So if you lose half this amount from runoff, you can see how much loss this would actually be.

Record also show that the annual soil loss, from unprotected cropland with an average two per cent slope is approximately six tons per acre. With a good terrace system, this would be reduced to two tons per acre.

So if you could cut down on your water loss by one half and your soil loss by two-thirds this should give you a fair idea of what a good terrace system would be worth to you.

For help with these or any other conservation problems you may have, see your local Soil Conservation Service at Colorado City.

the month was a jewel bell shown by Benita Smith.
