Truman and 'Ike' Both Stay Silent

By the Associated Press
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once talked Republicans out of throwing his hat into their presidential ring today watched silently as a Democratic Ike-for-President boom surged forward at headlong speed.

WANTS IKE—Jacob M. Arvey, Chicago Democratic leader, says a "draft Eisenhower" meeting will be held in Philadelphia prior to the Democratic National Convention. He has been making long distance telephone calls for the past two weeks to influential Democrats.

President Truman — the man the Eisenhower supporters would replace as a party candidate — was silent too.

But as he headed for a Missouri speaking engagement, a top aide said the President was "absolutely convinced" nothing would come of moves to keep him from getting the nomination.

Although Truman was quoted as feeling that much of the Eisenhower boom could be traced to Democrats who really were backing Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, the general's supporters could point to some concrete results.

Without a word of support from the retired Army chief of staff, the number of delegates instructed to cast convention ballots for him climbed above the 100 mark while additional Eisenhower voices were raised on all sides.

The bandwagon got a heavy shove Sunday in New Jersey, where Democratic Leader Frank Hague, vice chairman of the party's National Committee, threw the state's 36 votes to the general.

Hague told a meeting of the state's party leaders: "We cannot be successful with President Truman as candidate. The people are clamoring for leadership. They do not feel that they have that leadership in the President of the United States or in the Republican nominee."

"But they do believe in world leadership in Gen. Eisenhower."

A few minutes later, the meeting enthusiastically passed (1) a draft-Eisenhower resolution, and (2) a motion to pledge New Jersey's delegates to Eisenhower.

The continued silence of the general, plus the increasing number of states nominating him.

Planes Push Supply Line

BERLIN — American and British efforts to break the Russian blockade of Berlin with a bridge of supply-carrying planes gained fresh momentum today.

The air forces of the two Western Allies sent nearly 400 planes into the city yesterday from Western Germany and were planning to keep up the pace.

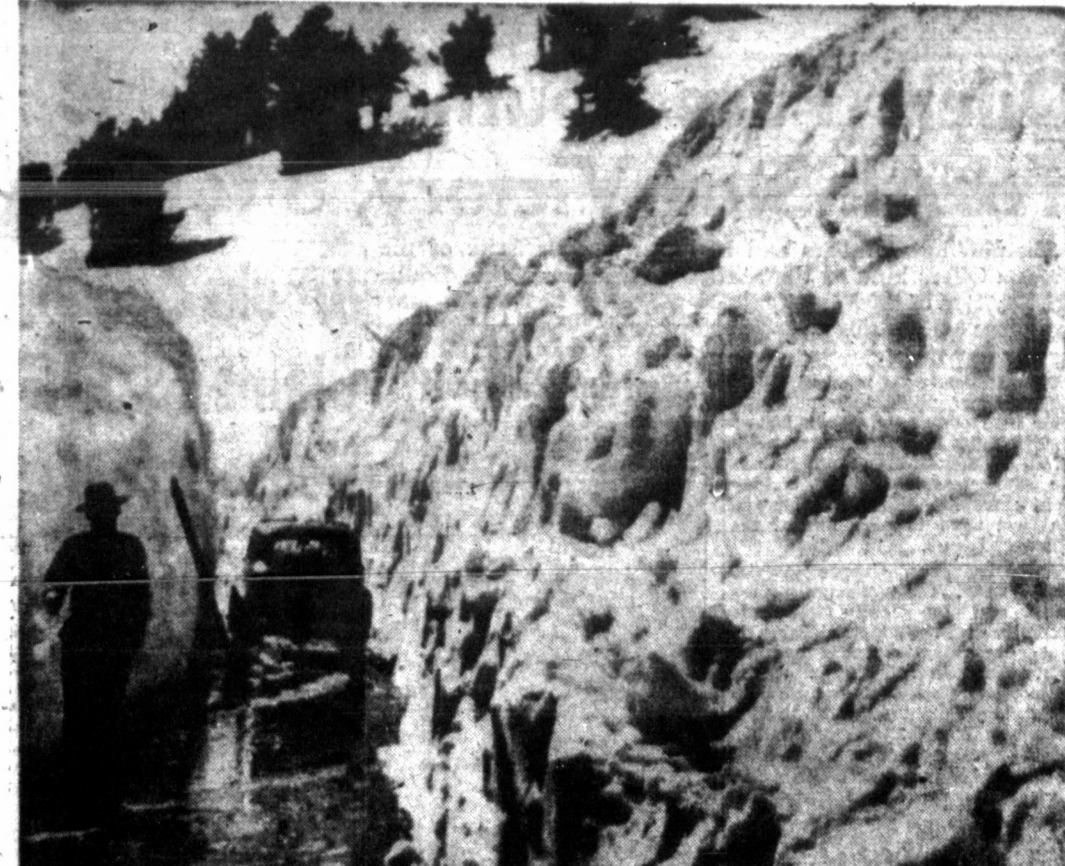

Brig. Gen. Joseph Smith, commanding the American Air Service, said he was extremely pleased with the efforts of both the flight and ground crews. Although the crews are averaging only four or five hours sleep each day they are maintaining and flying planes with maximum efficiency, he said.

Meanwhile, there were hints that the Russians planned a new protest over alleged violations of flying rules in the corridor being used by the American and British planes. Soviet officials have made approximately 20 similar protests in the last three months.

The hints of a new Soviet protest came in a dispatch by the Russian licensed A. D. N. News Agency. The agency said it had heard that the Soviet commander, Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovskiy, had sent letters on the subject to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander.

The 400 planes sent to Berlin yesterday compared with 224 flights made during the previous 24-hour period.

Despite the giant air lift Berlin still faced economic paralysis by the Soviet ground blockade, now at its 11th day. The stoppage of coal shipments from the west already has halved Western Berlin's industrial output.

HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU (JOKE)—Remember what this white stuff? S.N.O.W., as in winter. But this snow is in the summer. Out in Mineral, Calif., snowplows and bulldozers are cleaning away 30-foot drifts so skiers can reach the annual Midsummer Tournament of the Mt. Lassen Ski Club. Note the ranger in shirt sleeves.

Mediator Asking Truce Extension

CAIRO—(AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte asked Arabs and Jews today to extend the armistice in Palestine. Both sides were reported on good authority to have rejected his partition plan for a lasting peace.

The four-week truce which Bernadotte arranged as United Nations mediator expires Friday.

Opposition to Fizzle Say HST Backers

Aboard Truman Train Enroute to Bolivar, Mo. — President Truman's closest associates contended today that opposition to his nomination will fizzle out at the Democratic National Convention.

This was the view they offered aboard the presidential train enroute to Bolivar, Mo., where Mr. Truman and President Romulo Gallegos of Venezuela will participate in the dedication of a statue.

President Gallegos will present a $100,000 statue of Simon Bolivar, the South American liberator, to the Little Southwest Missouri town of Bolivar at 12:30 p. m. (CST). Mr. Truman will make a speech of acceptance.

Even word that Democratic Leader Frank Hague of New Jersey had thrown his endorsement to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower failed to shake the outward confidence of the President's staff in his nomination.

Mr. Truman, interviewed at Cincinnati, gave a "no comment" when told of Hague's decision.

However, his staffers claimed the Chief Executive has sufficient votes to bring about his nomination in the first ballot at the Philadelphia convention.

Griffith Rites Tomorrow at 2

Mrs. Geneva Griffith, 69, of 621 S. Russell, died at 1 a. m. Sunday in a local hospital following a stroke she suffered 10 days ago.

Mrs. Griffith came to Pampa 22 years ago from Cushing, Okla., and operated several hotels here. Part of the past 22 years she spent in Denworth, north of McLean.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Duong Funeral Home. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. I. J. Huvall, Pampa, and Mrs. W. P. Ramsey, Pampa, Okla.; and one son, C. R. Griffith, McLean. Mr. Griffith died in July, 1922.

Why Not Study Declaration of Independence?

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — This is the weekend Americans shoot off fireworks and make speeches to celebrate the Declaration of Independence.

You'll do yourself a favor by reading Carl L. Becker's "The Declaration of Independence, A Study in the History of Political Ideas," an excellent book not too widely known.

The Declaration itself was not the formal act of separation of the colonies from Great Britain. It was the justification, the explanation Congress wanted to make to the world after the act was done.

On June 7, 1776, several resolutions were offered in Congress to declare the colonies free. And three days later, June 10, a five-man committee — Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, and Robert R. Livingston — was appointed to draw up a declaration.

On July 2 the official act of separation was passed. On July 4, 1776, the Declaration, written by Jefferson with some help from the others, was approved.

The Declaration itself was a compromise. It didn't say all that Jefferson, for instance, wanted to say. It said only what the Congress, with all its shades of thinking, was willing to swallow.

Becker says of the Declaration: "It is not unimportant, even from the point of view of the history of political ideas, to know that the framers of the Declaration, denouncing George III to a 'candid world' for his violation of the natural rights of man, yet refrained from alluding to the fact that they themselves were slaveholders."

In that day, the 18th Century kings everywhere were claiming to rule by Divine right. It was therefore the job of Jefferson and the others to prove the American colonists had a right to break away from their kings.

So the Declaration says: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Becker notes the contempt certain Englishmen held for the document which said all men are equal and have the right to liberty. He says that the American colonists had 100,000 Negro slaves.

FOUR INTOXICATIONS

Fines and costs of $14.15 each were levied Sunday morning on four men for intoxication by Justice of the Peace Charles I. Hughes.

CHINESE STAGE RIOT

CANTON — A riot broke out today at Kwankhwan, principal seat on the Kwantung province coast. Several rioters and policemen were injured.

Cominform Weekend Meeting Reported

BUCHAREST, Romania — Well-informed sources said today they believed a meeting of the Cominform was held in Bucharest this weekend, possibly to discuss its controversy with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Correspondents here were unable to obtain verification of the report. The Romanian press carried no report concerning any meeting.

Reports that the Yugoslav Communist Party had been formally expelled from the Cominform like-wise could not be confirmed.

We Saw...

The Rev. Clyde Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church, sitting atop luggage on a bus at the church, just as he was about to be taken to the hospital as a chaperon, escort, et cetera, for a group of the church's young people. They, along with other youths of this district, will spend a week at Ceta Canyon.

A crowd of vacationers load themselves into a half dozen cars yesterday morning and take off for parts unknown. One of them must have been filled with holiday spirits, because he stuck his head out of the window and yelled, "Happy New Year!"

Yugoslavia Invites All Red Parties to Attend Congress

LONDON — (AP)—Yugoslav Communists appeared today to have set the stage for an Eastern European showdown on the policies of Premier Marshal Tito, who now is in disfavor with Moscow.

Tanjung, the official Yugoslav news agency, said all Communist parties have been invited to attend the Fifth Congress of Yugoslavia's Communist Party in Belgrade July 21.

The agency's announcement came only a few hours after a Bulgarian newspaper bluntly called upon the Yugoslavs to say whether they plan to remain in Eastern Europe's Communist Camp or seek a partnership with the Western powers.

The Sofia newspaper Otegetsvet Front, one of the voices of Bulgaria's Communists, said: "Yugoslavia cannot remain an isolated island between the two camps. Where will the Yugoslav Communist Party place Yugoslavia?"

It was the Soviet-dominated Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) which turned the heat on Tito by accusing him and his lieutenants of straying away from Marxism and embarking on a nationalist, anti-Russian policy. The Yugoslav Communist Party's Central Committee has denied the accusations and denounced them as "lies" and "slander."

The Yugoslav Communist organ Borba gave a clue as to which Western powers it might produce an upheaval in the Soviet hierarchy and affect the succession to the dictatorship when Stalin relinquishes it.

Yugoslav Communists have taken the surprising action of appealing straight to Marshal Stalin to repudiate the Cominform charges. The Tito supporters declare hotly that these charges are lies.

It's tantamount to calling on Stalin to repudiate one of communism's greatest figures a personality who has been mentioned often as a possible successor to the Russian dictatorship. The man in the jam, is, of course, Colonel General Andrei Zhdanov, hero of the 29-month siege of Leningrad by the Germans in the late war, who sits at the right hand of the big boss.

Zhdanov has held many of the highest posts in communism. It is he who is credited with being the papa of the new Cominform.

So when the Cominform applies the heat to Tito and tells him to eat crow, Zhdanov's communication, it presumably is the great Zhdanov speaking. And now along come the Yugoslavs and demand that Stalin reverse his man's policy.

That certainly creates a delicate and difficult situation for the dictator. Zhdanov repudiated his man's policy. He will create a seven-day Cominform, then the breach between Yugoslavia and Moscow will be widened with far-reaching consequences.

But that isn't the whole story. Unless Stalin himself authorized the Cominform action against Tito, somebody is responsible for putting the big boss on the spot. And report long has had it that anyone who dares to speak against the dictator paid a heavy price.

Club Convention Adopts Proposed 6-Point Program

FORT WORTH — Members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs entered the second session of their convention here with six new goals to guide them.

The federation meets every two years. Miss Sally Butler of Indianapolis, president, presented the objectives for the organization's 140,000 career women in a speech at the opening session Sunday night.

1. To place better qualified men and women in governmental posts of responsibility.

2. To win equal pay for comparable work for all.

3. To encourage workers to realize the dignity and importance of work as an incentive to efficiency and greater production.

4. To insure training of both men and women for family and community life.

5. To strengthen and make effective our United Nations.

6. To work toward stable and healthy world economy.

Miss Butler read a message from Pres. Truman who said he recognized the BFPW's efforts toward safeguarding and strengthening democratic institutions and keeping the U. S. economy healthy.

"I know that the activities of your organization, such as your projected drive to get out a large vote in the fall, are very well keyed to these two great needs," the President's message said.

39 Killed as Two British Planes Crash

LONDON — (AP)—Thirty-nine persons, two of them Americans, were killed yesterday in a plane collision over suburban London. It was Britain's worst civil air disaster. The government started an inquiry today.

Sir Edward Gent, British high commissioner for the Federation of Malaya, died in the crash.

The two four-engine aircraft collided in a raincloud, crashed a mile and one-half apart and burned with all aboard.

One was a Swedish Douglas DC-6 of the Scandinavian airlines system on a regular Sunday flight from Stockholm and Copenhagen. It carried 25 passengers and seven crewmen. Stockholm and Copenhagen reports said the passenger list included two Americans.

Frank Wederholt and Gustav Richard Boerger, addresses not available.

The other plane was a Royal Air Force transport from Malia on the last leg of a flight from Malaya. Aboard were six RAF men and only one passenger.

The York, a transport of a type developed from bomber designs, had circled Northolt Airfield for an hour, unable to land because of poor visibility.

Rio Grande Rising Again

By the Associated Press
The Rio Grande River was rising today after heavy weekend rains, approaching five inches at Del Rio.

Almost the entire state shared in the holiday weekend rains. Only the Panhandle and that part of Texas west of Abilene were relatively dry.

It appeared the Rio Grande would not reach flood stage unless there were further heavy rains.

The Weather Bureau said the fall at Del Rio for the two days ending early today totaled 4.96 inches. The downpour sent the Devil River and Sycamore Creek, both Rio Grande tributaries, up the Rio Grande itself was rising.

The rain was welcomed by farmers, but in some places it apparently came a bit late.

Highwater from Devil River and Sycamore Creek was 20 feet and at Eagle Pass it was 15.5 feet Monday morning with the crest of between an estimated 18 and 19 feet expected about mid-afternoon.

On June 24, Thursday, a week ago, the Rio Grande was up 80 feet at Del Rio and 44.5 at Eagle Pass.

Borger Girl Wins Writing Contest

BOERGER — On the basis of having the best writing contest appearance, Barbara Ann Mathis, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Mathis of Katorino, Bunnville, recently won first prize in the Second Grade National Penmanship Contest.

Only two Texas pupils won national honors. The other winner was first grader Thomas Scott of Cedar Lane, Tex. Engraved trophies will be sent to the respective schools where these students attend. The contest was sponsored by the American National Penmanship Society.

Miss Butler read a message from Pres. Truman who said he recognized the BFPW's efforts toward safeguarding and strengthening democratic institutions and keeping the U. S. economy healthy.

"I know that the activities of your organization, such as your projected drive to get out a large vote in the fall, are very well keyed to these two great needs," the President's message said.

The national directors adopted recommendations that each club be furnish up-to-date information on all legislation supported by the federation. It said special emphasis should be placed on informing members of Congress with the federation's reasons for supporting certain legislation.

The federation supports the Equal Rights Amendment, federal aid to education, legislation favoring displaced persons, universal military training and the equal pay bill.

CELEBRATING
Three youths were fined $5 each in Corporation Court yesterday morning for shooting fire crackers within the city limits; two men were fined $20 each on charges of intoxication, and one was fined $10 on the same charge.

Climb Begins To Site of Plane Crash

ORIZABA, Mex. — (AP)—Strong-hearted men began the long climb up the 16,220-foot Orizaba Volcano at dawn today to bring out 15 victims of a plane crash.

The plane, operated by the United States-Mexico Foot and Mouth Disease Commission, crashed on the side of the peak Friday while flying from Minatitlan to Mexico City. The plane made its last report 45 minutes out of the capital with 16 passengers aboard, 8 of them Americans.

Gen. Andres Zubieta, commander of the 20th Battalion stationed here, said the plane "has been definitely located at Cuevas Negras (black caves) at the snowline of the volcano."

Gen. Zubieta said troops under the command of Gen. Rodolfo Lozada were guarding the plane and awaiting rescue troops.

The rescue party of picked men will make three camps. The first at La Peña, about 40 miles north-west of here, the second probably La Ciénega and the third at the scene of the crash.

The first 40 miles will be made in Army and commission jeeps, the second 40 miles to La Ciénega will be by horseback and the rest of the distance by foot. The plane is at about 12,000 feet.

Gen. Zubieta said it was taken from three to six days to bring the bodies out.

The battalion commander said the information brought here indicated the plane exploded and burned when it crashed into the mountain side.

Pan-Am Hikes Crude Oil Purchase Price

HOUSTON — Pan American Petroleum Company's posting of crude oil purchase prices in East Texas' Quitman Field are up two cents.

The new posting is $2.20 a barrel for oil below 20 gravity. There will be a two-cent differential upward for each degree of gravity above 20 to a top price of $2.60 a barrel.

The company has raised posted prices two cents a barrel for high gravity oil in the Marcell and Morgan-Paul Fields of East Texas. The new posting is $2.62 a barrel for 40 gravity and above.

The old posting was $2.60 for 38 gravity and above.

Locals Lose to Clovis Pioneers As Blue Sox Sink to Bottom

Bobby Layne May Continue With Hubbers

LUBBOCK — Bobby Layne, who couldn't convince the scouts while in college that he was a professional baseball prospect, is now doing it — in professional baseball.

When Bobby was setting all-time pitching records in the Southwest Conference at the University of Texas, the critics said he didn't have what it would take in pro ball. A curve was his best pitch and he had only a moderate fast ball, they pointed out, and he telegraphed his pitches. Sure he could fool an inferior lot of college baseballers.

Layne said when he finished at Texas this spring after four years in which he didn't lose a game in conference baseball and hung up the greatest passing record in conference history in football, that he wasn't going to play pro baseball. He said he would continue his efforts to the professional gridiron game.

But he moved out here and while waiting for football season to open he took a fling at baseball with the Lubbock Hubbers of the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League.

Scouts soon looked him over and one expressed amazement at the fact that Bobby was showing when he struck out 11 batters in one game they all started revising their opinion of Bobby's baseball pitching. Bobby has pitched 43 2/3 innings and has won three games against two defeats. The more he pitched the better he got. In his last appearance he turned in a five-hit shut-out of Clovis.

Now Bobby has decided that he won't be his only appearance in pro baseball. Let me say Lubbock is to be his home and he wants to continue baseball here, pitching each summer until time to report to the football team.

He read a newspaper report the other day that said he was interested in buying into the club or having an interested relative do it. But Bobby says there's nothing to it. In fact, he revealed, it made him so mad he wrote out a letter (twisted) that 7-0 shut-out against Clovis.

Future Stars May Trod on College Field

SAN FRANCISCO — College golf has wrapped up its 51st national championship. Among the crack field that trod the Stanford course last week may have been future winners of the U. S. amateur and possibly the open title.

From National Collegiate Tournament victories have gone on to win the U. S. amateur such stars as H. Chandler Egan of Harvard, Jess Sweetser of Yale, George Dunlap of Stanford and John Fitch of Michigan.

In the professional competition for a livelihood, Lawson Little undoubtedly has been the most successful among the former college men.

Bredes Little, former collegian, well up in the professional ranks, won the National Collegiate while at Louisiana State, and Skip Alexander, who studied at Duke University, is among the top money winners so far this year.

Top Money Winner Bests Own Record

STANTON, Del. — Stymie, world's leading money-winning thoroughbred, boosted his earnings to $300,000 Saturday with a track record performance in the $25,000 added Sussex Handicap at Delaware Park.

The seven-year-old chestnut ran the mile and one-quarter in 2:02 to clip two-fifths of a second from the track standard he established in winning the same event a year ago.

Bobby Permaine drove Stymie to the front an eighth of a mile from home and he crossed the finish line a length and one-half in front of Hampton to earn the purse of $21,000. The Tips was three-thirds another length back.

Stymie, who trailed the early pace set by Hampton, paid $34.00, $2.80 and $2.40 across the board.

Hogan in Play Off

DETROIT — Ben Hogan stepped forward ahead in the PGA money parade today as he tied into E. J. Dwyer, Harrison, and the smiling Arkansian in an 18-hole playoff for the Motor City Open Golf championship.

Hogan closed with his second straight 66 five shots under par to overhaul the 35-year-old Harrison on the last hole of the 72-hole holiday show yesterday.

Today's playoff was for the $2,000 winners' share of $18,000 in prize money, and the $1,000 award to the runner-up.

Annual Tourney Held

LUBBOCK — The first annual Karl Storey tennis championship belongs to Bobby Goldfarb, University of Texas student from 22 West Goldfarb, who defeated Jake Broyles of Lamson, a Texas Tech student, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2 in the tournament here yesterday.

Broyles and Glenn Ivy won the doubles championship from Goldfarb and Houston Boyd of Lubbock, 7-6, 6-2, 6-7, 6-3.

The Clovis Pioneers waved farewell to the WT-NM League cellar last night in Oiler Park when they used the Pampa Oilers as "fall guys" for a 19-hit attack and a 12-9 victory over the Oilers while the Abilene Blue Sox were losing to the Albuquerque Dukes 15-11.

The Oiler loss shoves them four games behind the ram-paging Dukes and brings the Pioneers out, one full game in front of the lowly Blue Sox.

Boxing Lessons Urged for Boys As Peacemaker

NEW YORK — Teach your boy to box if you want him to be more sure of himself in his contact with other youngsters.

Layne said when he finished at Texas this spring after four years in which he didn't lose a game in conference baseball and hung up the greatest passing record in conference history in football, that he wasn't going to play pro baseball. He said he would continue his efforts to the professional gridiron game.

That's the advice given by E. F. Justice of the New York City Police Athletic League.

Fathers are usually willing to have their sons learn the art of self defense, says Justice in the July Journal of Living. It's the mothers who object in a mistaken attempt to keep their youngsters from fighting.

Actually, boys who know how to box are less apt to get into fights, declares Justice. A good boxing instructor instills in his pupils the idea that he is being taught to defend himself, not to bully others. And a youngster who has confidence in his own ability to ward off trouble is less likely to get into it.

Boxing has other advantages, too, according to the Journal of Living. It teaches boys to move their arms and legs gracefully and alertly and develops coordination. It also gives help to improve his school grades because a boy who is not worried about being picked on by school bullies can do better in his studies.

Whether a boy should be permitted to take part in competition boxing is up to the parent. But the sport itself does all it is meant to do, which is to make youngsters feel competent to call upon their skill when needed.

Hubbard then resumed White's journey to the loss column when he stalked to the mound and allowed one more Clovis run in the fifth, and three more in the sixth. The youthful twirler then settled down and blanked the visitors for the last three innings while a score into Mr. Dobbs' hand in three tallies in the first four innings, and leading the bases on three occasions.

Tony Kange, unanimous choice for the Southern All-Star team, proved his versatility when he pitched out two home runs and a double in 6 official innings, but to mention undergoing a shift from his regular third base position to the short stop slot, Kange's by Jack Riley as Tony Kange moved into left field, completing a change that was necessitated when Earl Harriman was released from the Oiler aggregation.

A double and a single in two trips to the plate went to the credit of Pitzer, who was followed by Checho led the Pioneer willow parade, getting three for four.

The Oilers and Pioneers meet tonight, beginning at 7 o'clock, in a double header which will climax their three game series.

Detton and Lopez Are Victors In Saturday Wrestling Bouts

Dory Detton, Amarillo, defeated Sammy Kohen, New York City, in 31 minutes of their match Saturday night at the Sportatorium, and George Lopez, Tampico, Mexico, won in 44 minutes from George Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss.

Kohen consistently used the dirty tactics that are fast winning him the reputation of one of the "baddest" boys of the local wrestling ring.

Detton, rubbing his abdomen after the match, admitted that Kohen had "worked" him over good. He said also that he had gotten a headache from Kohen's constant blows to the side of the head while holding him in a headlock.

Apparently Detton thought Kohen had conceded the first fall under the punishment of a full Nelson he was applying, because he broke his hold and stepped away. Kohen promptly came off the ropes to apply a wickedly quick surr board to take the first fall in 18 minutes.

Detton came back, and using his specially devised flying head scissors, took the second and third falls in 8 and 5 minutes respectively.

The men wrestled for 30 minutes in the muggy heat of the arena, their bodies were covered with sweat, before Curtis took the first fall with an abdominal stretch.

After a series of kangaroo kicks, Lopez pulled his Curtis slightly crooked, Lopez fell on him to take the second fall in 7 minutes.

When they returned for the last fall, Curtis tried a series of kangaroo kicks again. He connected with two, but on the third one, Lopez pulled his head slightly aside and Curtis missed. Lopez's groin promptly fell on the Mississippi George and took the third fall and the match in another 7 minutes.

Both men weighed in at 185 pounds; Kohen at 183; and Detton at 186.

Gil Knutson was referee for the matches, Homer Anderson was timekeeper, and Paul Lefebvre was announcer.

DETTON — (Special) — Thirteen coaches and sponsors of boys' softball teams met Tuesday afternoon at the City Auditorium with officials of Kids, Inc.

Purpose of the meeting was to assign teams of various age groups to the coaches and sponsors who will be responsible for the organization of clubs for the league.

Each boy, who signed a membership card, will be contacted by the coaches to determine the number that will be available this summer. All boys and coaches will hold a joint meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the City Auditorium when the league organization will be set up and a schedule set.

All officers and other interested persons are asked to attend the meeting Tuesday.

R. S. Risdal is president of Kids, Inc. Marshall Adams is vice president; O. J. Walker, president of the boys' softball league; Bob Holmes, custodian of sports equipment.

Coaches and sponsors, listed in order, are: Jack Strop and Jack Sims; Roy Carlton and Bill Rushing; John Woolly and Ray Tatum; Lonnie Burks and Dennis Ward; B. F. Risinger and Elmer J. Moore; Al Ryan and Perry Bear; Charles Stemmer, utility.

DETTON — (Special) — The Shamrock Green Sox went out in front early in the game and defeated the McLean nine, 17 to 7, Sunday afternoon at McLean.

The contest marked the end of the first half of play in the West Texas-Oklahoma League and placed Shamrock in a first place tie with Sweetwater.

J. D. Cook allowed only seven hits in more than eight innings. He was relieved in the ninth by Rual Rushing who finished the game allowing no hits.

The heavy-hitting Green Sox gathered 19 hits from McLean's Andrews.

Oilers Pace Southern Rebels To All-Star Victory, 8 to 6

Six playing members and Manager Grover Seitz of the Pampa Oilers kindled the spark that shoved the Southern Division of the West Texas-New Mexico League All-Stars to a close 8-6 decision over the Northern All-Stars in Abilene last Friday night.

The Rebel won marked their fourth consecutive triumph and their fifth out of the six in league history. Seitz has been at the helm of one of the All-Star aggregations for four years, counting Friday night's fracas, although this was his first time to pilot one of the winning teams.

Avon Driggers, George Fayette, R. C. Otey, Tony Rance, Jack Riley, and Joe Fortin were the six Oiler stalwarts participating in the contest as the Rebel took an active part in all phases of the contest and finished the game with a total of eight out of the 11 Southern assists. They handled all of their chances flawlessly, committing no errors, and contributing six putouts in aid of the Rebel cause.

South Ace Driggers started on the mound for the winners and gave up four hits, but failed to tender a run as he and Northern pitcher Albuquerque's Frank Shone both retired from the mound with the count still reading 0-0.

Fred Fazio of Abilene and Clayton Fries of Berger locked horns in the next hurling duel, but Mr. Fries failed to find any comfort in the Blue Sox park, as Seitz's Rebels promptly pounced on the Gasser ace for six runs on five hits in the third inning. Fries felt the wrath of two Pampans in this frame when Riley and Fortin got two of the five hits and drove in three of them. The Southerners were blanked by ace Fazio to his paw in the fourth frame where the Yankees drew their first counter off Fazio.

Eddie Carnett and Fries tried desperately to put the Berger hurler to the pole when they got two hits, but made them account for two runs.

Joe Budney, Amarillo Gold Sox mainstay, did a magnificent job for the Yanks, failing to allow one single hit, no runs, and permitting only one run to reach first base.

During these two frames, George Fayette, Oiler right-hander, was finding difficulties with the enraged Northerners. The losers got to Fayette for three hits and four runs before the final right-hander could retire the side. Only two of the runs, Richardson, Lubbock first baseman, missed a high pop fly that would have retired the side.

With the score knotted at 6-6, the South wasted no time in again taking the lead when Riley led off with a single against the Rebel wall that missed being a home run by about one foot. Richardson sacrificed Riley to second and then Chick Fowler, substitute Lubbock centerfielder who was playing in the absence of Ernie Palapiano, hit a home run over the Rebel wall, scoring Riley ahead of him. This established the final two-run Southern lead that stood throughout the remaining two innings.

Clayton Mathews, Clovis right-hander, was charged with the loss since the circuit swam a home run, scoring Riley ahead of him. This established the final two-run Southern lead that stood throughout the remaining two innings.

Brooks Defeat Giants 13-12; Negro Is Star

Associated Press Sports Writer

A new idol appears to have won his way into the hearts of the Flatbush faithful to fill the void created by the departure of Dixie Walker and Eddie Stanky.

The latest favorite is Roy Campanella, a rookie Negro catcher whose brilliant work over the weekend both at bat and in the field has left the impression he might be the long ball hitter the Brooklyn Dodgers have been searching for.

Yesterday the 26-year-old power hitter smashed two home runs and a single to lead the Dodgers to a nerve-tangling 13-12 triumph over the Giants.

The heaviest Fourth of July fireworks were supplied in Boston where the Red Sox blasted a record-tying 14 runs in one inning to overcome the Philadelphia Athletics, 19-5.

The Yankees moved within a half game of the second-place Athletics and one of the American League-leading Cleveland Indians by defeating the Washington Senators, 6-5.

The scheduled Cleveland-St. Louis doubleheader was postponed by rain.

The White Sox came roaring in the second game of a Chicago twin bill after Detroit had won the opener, 6-3.

The National League's leading Braves were handed a double setback by the Phillies in Philadelphia 7-2 and 5-2. The double win enabled the Phils to move past the Giants into the first division.

The Pittsburgh Pirates smacked the Chicago Cubs twice, 5-1 and 6-2, behind a pair of veteran right-handers, Rip Sewell and Elmer Riddle. The twin victory pushed the second place Pirates within two and a half games of the Braves.

Hank Sauer cracked his 23rd and 24th home runs as the Cincinnati Reds divided a doubleheader with the St. Louis Cardinals. Although he failed to finish, Sewell Blackwell gained his fifth opener, 6-6, as the Cards dropped, their fifth straight.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen ended the Cards' losing streak, holding the Reds to seven hits in the nightcap for an 8-1 triumph.

pin. Harold Sanders won second place honors with a ball placed in about four feet of the pin.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

If there is one art the modern woman needs to learn, it is the art of listening.

Women know how to talk, but few of them know how to listen. Some are interrupters who can never let another person finish a story without breaking in to make a correction, add a smart crack or say, "When you get through, remind me to tell you about such-and-such."

Others are vague and blank-eyed whenever another person is doing the talking. While they pretend to listen, their minds are busy with other things.

And there are some who are always afraid that, if they concentrate their attention on one person for even a few minutes, they'll miss something that is going on around them.

Then there are the women who can't listen for talking. They are the ones who never give anyone else a chance at the floor when they are in a group.

ATTRACTIVE LISTENERS

Yet, the truth is, a woman is rarely as attractive when she is talking as when she is listening attentively and appreciatively.

As a talker, she all too often gives the impression of being a show-off, or of being too opinionated, or of being a gossip.

And, if she isn't too intelligent, she only succeeds in advertising the fact when she talks too much.

The average woman would be a lot more attractive if she would listen more, and talk less.

Floor Drain Should Stop Back-Water

Basement floor drains connected with a sewer should be protected against water backing up through the pipe. If not, damage to the house and danger to health will ensue.

There are several devices to keep back-water out of the basement. The most commonly used is a trap in the drain pipe equipped with a one-way valve, which gives lasting protection.

In most cases where water has come into basements, inspection has shown that such protective devices were lacking.

Compulsory old-age insurance was first adopted in Germany in 1883.

BUILDING NEWS

Home Requires Protection By Varied Insurance Plans

Insurance of the property is one of the least understood factors in home ownership. Most home-owners buy fire insurance but overlook other forms essential to complete protection.

Trees and shrubbery are seldom covered, although storm or fire damage to them can be costly. During last winter's severe ice and snow storms, American property-owners lost many thousands of dollars because they failed to buy this inexpensive form of insurance.

Another type of hazard insurance often overlooked is public liability. A handyman can fall from a ladder while working for a householder; a deliveryman may trip over a hose left carelessly on the sidewalk; even a friend visiting in the home may be injured. All of these can sue and usually collect heavy damages.

Liability policies are now written with premiums of as little as $10 a year to cover not only these contingencies, but also to include accidents away from the home site, such as a home-owner's dog biting someone or damaging a neighbor's property; damage caused by one's children; bricks falling onto a neighbor's house, and almost any other conceivable kind of accident.

June Building Permits Total $237,800

Fifty-seven building permits representing $237,800 a quarter of a million dollars worth of new construction for Pampa were issued last month from the office of the City Engineer, according to the monthly summary compiled by that office yesterday.

The total value of permits issued in the first six months of this year is $1,191,295.00.

The breakdown for the past month shows 11 permits issued for new residential building, totaling $64,500; four permits issued for new business buildings amounting to $112,200; and 23 permits issued for moving houses into town totaling $27,300.

Eleven permits for remodeling, repairing, and altering existing business and residential buildings amounted to $25,850; one church received a permit for $2,750 worth of new construction; four new private garage permits totalling $4,700; and miscellaneous permits totalling $500 brought the month's total to $237,800.

In recent years, extended or eight-point coverage has been made available in fire insurance contracts at very slight extra cost. This includes property damage caused by wind, hail, explosion, riot, civil commotion, aircraft, smoke and vehicles. One need not experience an actual fire to collect for smoke damage with such a contract. Loss caused by "sudden, unusual and faulty operation of any heating or cooking unit" is covered.

In buying a house it is vital that the purchaser arrange to have the insurance transferred immediately when the deed is delivered. Not even five minutes should be permitted to elapse, because in that time disaster can strike and the new owner will be the loser unless a policy in his name is in effect.

Many persons think that the claim will be paid if there is insurance in the name of the seller and a loss occurs during the first few days after the sale. This is not the case. Practically every standard insurance contract provides that coverage cease the minute there is a change in title.

Real Estate Dealer is Aid To Buyer

Reputable real estate dealers have a distinct and important function in the buying and selling of homes and their services are invaluable to both parties of the transaction.

Under today's legal regulations and through codes of ethics established by real estate men themselves, no buyer or seller need hesitate in dealing with an established realty broker.

Most real estate dealers have lived in the community for many years. They have keen knowledge of values, population trends and future development, and their appraisal of a property is usually accurate and honest. They help both parties with all legal and other details attendant to the sale with which the average layman is entirely unfamiliar.

Not only are buyer and seller protected by law from dishonest brokers, but practically all real estate men wish to remain in business and hence they cannot afford to engage in practices which will hurt their reputation.

Easy Ways to Stop Moisture on Pipes

Condensation of moisture on cold-water pipes is a common source of trouble for house-holders in the summer. Moisture accumulates and then drips from the pipes because the piping is much colder than the atmosphere and draws water from the air.

This can be stopped where the pipes are accessible, such as in basements, by covering them with molded insulating jackets made for the purpose or by wrapping them with mineral wool insulation.

The condition can be serious with pipes beneath a floor or in walls because the water drip will damage plaster. For pipes in floors the remedy is to close the openings through which house air can reach the pipes. Wall insulation will prevent trouble occurring there.

Robot Reminder

One of the handiest gadgets for a house is a pilot light for the basement. It's a money saver. A little red light above the basement door on the light switch will tell you when you've forgotten to turn off the lights.

Metal Staining Can Be Avoided

A coating of clear varnish or acquer should be applied to all copper and iron which adjoins painted surfaces on the exterior of a house. This will prevent the metal from streaking the siding or window-frames. On iron, a rust preventive primer should be used before painting or lacquering. The treatment should include screens as well as gutters, downspouts, flashing and other metal surfaces if stains are to be avoided.

Old Sailors Read Cowboy Stories in 'Snug Harbor'

By HAL BOYLE
STATE ISLAND, N. Y. —(AP)—The ships stand out to sea, and the old men sit on benches on a broad green lawn and watch them go. Elderly men like these, done with the sea, have been doing this for 115 years on a tree-shaded 100-acre estate bordering New York harbor.

They are old salts washed up on this grassy beach after a lifetime on the deep. Their last anchorage is called "The Sailors' Snug Harbor."

"In 1916, our peak year, we had 325 men here," said the home's governor, Capt. Henry R. Patterson, a retired naval officer. "Now we have less than 400."

The harbor is a multi-million dollar investment. The home has main dormitories and mess halls, its own hospital and medical staff and a dairy with sixty milk cows.

The men get free food, quarters, clothing and a pound of tobacco—either chewing or smoking—each month.

It is one of the world's most unusual charities. It was created by Captain Robert Richard Randall, a privateer, who died in 1801 and left $7,500 and a 20-acre farm in Manhattan to found a home for "aged, decrepit and worn-out sailors."

It expanded steadily on the vast income from the property,

Dog Chews Girl, but She Still Loves Dog

PITTSBURGH —(AP)—A 12-year-old girl chewed viciously by her pet dog says, "I'm not mad at Ching. Why he's my best friend."

The 10-pound Ching sank his teeth into Jean Olnhausen's leg, then into the back of her neck and finally her head. The girl said she battled for her life in a darkened living room.

A noise in the street finally distracted the animal.

Texas Youth Names Japan Treason Trial

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—A description of the "bamboo treatment" for punishing American servicemen in a Japanese prison camp has been given to a jury trying Treason.

A drawing Texas cowboy, Gid Spurlock of Austin, testified in Federal Court Thursday that Kawakita administered the punishment to Woodrow Shaffer of Memphis, Tenn.

Spurlock and Shaffer were among the survivors of Bataan and Corregidor who were prisoners in the Oyeama Camp where the American-born Kawakita served the Japanese as an interpreter.

"The Japs put Shaffer on a raised platform in front of the camp's headquarters," testified Spurlock, a Navy veteran. "They made him squat down and slipped a bamboo pole behind his knees. Then they made him hold a bucket full of water at arm's

Red Bureau Moves Agency To Bucharest

BUCHAREST, Romania —(AP)—The Cominform Bulletin was published here Thursday night, thus indicating that the headquarters of the agency have been moved from Belgrade to Bucharest.

Premier Marshal Tito and other Communist leaders in Yugoslavia, of which Belgrade is the capital, were blasted by the Cominform Monday. The bureau accused them of pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia and deviating from the Marxist-Leninist line.

In other developments in the Cominform's quarrel with Yugoslavia, Romanian Communists joined in the campaign to discredit Tito and his regime.

George Gheorghiu-Dej, secretary general of the Romanian workers' party, accused the Yugoslav leaders of praising themselves too much while trying to belittle the part played by Russia in liberating Yugoslavia.

In the party newspaper Scanteia he called on Romanian Communists to side with Russia in the dispute.

Scanteia also published a resolution by the Central Committee of the Romanian Workers' Party (Communist and left-wing Socialist) condemning the Yugoslav Communist Party and proclaiming "unlimited love for the Soviet Union."

The paper said local party meetings throughout Romania are unanimously endorsing the Cominform's attack on Tito.

The nine-nation Cominform — Communist International Information Bureau — was organized in Poland last September. At that time it was decided to establish the headquarters of the bureau in Belgrade.

The Cominform was established from Russia, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Hungary.

At the time of its inception the bureau declared war on the Marshall Plan and what the Communists call "United States imperialism."

The Bulletin, organ of the Cominform, goes under the name, "for lasting peace, for people democracy."

Defendants in the case were Idellar Tucker and others. The Court ruled in favor of Morgan's petition and ruled the title cleared.

Earlier the Court granted a divorce to Virginia H. H. O'Rowetz from Frank J. O'Rowetz on grounds of cruelty. The couple was married in June, 1947, and separated three months later.

One adoption was granted by Judge Goodrich.

Eye Specialists Named in Suit For Price-Fixing

CHICAGO —(AP)—The government Friday named nearly 500 eye specialists throughout the nation as defendants in its price-fixing suit against Bausch and Lomb Optical Co., and three subsidiaries.

The oculists named in a petition filed in federal court by the anti-trust division are accused of accepting rebates on glasses prescribed for their patients.

Bausch and Lomb headquarters are in Rochester, N. Y.

Previously the government had named some 2,700 eye doctors throughout the country in suits against Bausch and Lomb and the American Optical Company of Southbridge, Mass.

The petition filed Friday asked that the eye doctors named be compelled either to agree they will be bound by whatever verdict may result from the suits or else contest the actions as individual defendants.

The government charges the optical companies and the oculists violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act by fixing prices on eye

Postal Receipts Increase in June

Postal receipts in the Pampa Postoffice have increased $1,890.81 during the month of June, 1948, over June, 1947, W. B. Weathered, postmaster, said Saturday.

Receipts for June, 1948, totalled $10,371.36 as compared to $8,480.55 in June, 1947. May's receipts showed a $282.97 decrease over May, 1947. The total receipts were $10,218.42 as compared to $10,811.40 in May, 1947.

During the past three months, receipts totalled $31,254.82 as compared to $29,712.42 last year. The large increase in June's receipts made up for the shortage of the receipts in April and May.

Grain Dumped on Ground; Car Shortage

TUCUMCARI, N. M. —(AP)—Wheat harvest is hardly well begun, and already truckloads of grain are being dumped on the ground here.

It's a familiar story in the Southwest: an acute shortage of rail cars to load out the freshly threshed cereal.

This time there's a different reason for the scarcity. B. D. Kersey, agent for the Southern

Peace Is Still Not 'Snap' Course

The theme of the Fourth of July this year was that Uncle Sam had grown into quite a strong uncle. He had influence all over the world, and that influence was gradually being respected everywhere.

One hundred seventy-two years from yesterday it so happened that the right group of men had been assembled, resulting in the Declaration of Independence. Yesterday that many years ago the "declaration" was ratified by the Continental Congress. It just happened that there were enough strong men to put over the plan for emancipation from the lords of England.

We have been thinking how much emphasis has been placed on force. This year's syndicate cartoons heralded the "American One" Uncle Sam, grown into quite a "chap," and in his hand he held the world. It talked about the achievement of the "lad" in just 172 years.

The world has already put forward the idea of "advances" in an ill-picked word—there is less need for force. As men become more "civilized," they are supposed to rely less and less on force, and more and more on reason.

But that has not proven to be the case. Some nations are still forced to rely on force, and other nations will stop only when threatened with force. This has been true in our times more than at any time in the recorded history of man. Twentieth Century wars, if they have not taught us to fear carnage and waste, have certainly proven to us that the wars prior to that time were nothing more than skirmishes.

Thousands of men, women and children, in fact, yearn for a decline in military might. This is understandable, because they are peaceable people. But these same people yearn for freedom at the same time. If they did not, they themselves would not be forced to mass military might.

That is the sad plight of our times. The world is scourged with the tremendous costs of maintaining vast armies. If it were not for the time when we believe there are still new worlds to conquer, obviously peace would be a "snap" course, as they say in college. But peace is not a "snap" course.

It was not the case at the time the Founding Fathers declared themselves free of the despotic yoke of the British Empire. And, perhaps until men change in their constitutional makeup, it shall not be true.

If Congress can't get necessary information, then the time has come to look for some new light-getting device. We cannot proceed indefinitely, at the mercy of an iron curtain.

REVOLT

WASHINGTON — The man who has done more than any other to spread the word among longshoremen and warehousemen is himself facing a revolt.

Information from an authentic source reveals that the rank and file members of the Communist Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, CIO, the Bridges Marxist machine, are sick of strikes and may refuse to heed orders Mr. Bridges tells them to quit work.

After a court order 10 days ago postponed a threatened strike, the Red chief of the Pacific Water front said he probably would call a strike for about July 4.

Working closely with Comrade Bridges is Head Bryson, head of the Marine Cooks and Stewards Association, CIO, of Bryson the 1948 Report of the California Fact-Finding Committee (the Tenney Committee) has this to say:

"Hugh Bryson, state chairman of the Independent Progressive party (the Henry Wallace party) in California is a Communist and a veteran of Communist conspiratorial activity in the Marine Cooks and Stewards Union, CIO."

Bridges, as the world knows, never deviates from the line laid down in Moscow.

Reds Use Varied Tactics To Shape Communist State

By JOHN FISHER

The Berlin crisis seems to indicate that Russia, regardless of the consequences, is bent on recasting Germany, her recent deadly foe, to the role of her newest partner.

This alliance was the dream of Lenin in 1918. He hoped that the Bolshevik Revolution would be followed by a similar uprising in Germany. Thereafter, he anticipated, a fusion of German scientific skills and Muscovite manpower would create an unbeatable combination.

But the age-long hatred of Slav and Teuton, the weakness of the infant Soviet Union, the rise of Hitler and World War II postponed the fulfillment of the dream.

Stalin is looking into the same vision. He appears determined to give us the boot in Germany with the hearty approval of a large segment of the German public. Such a rush act requires our ejection from Berlin and the undermining of the new Western German government so that all Germans will turn to Marxism, if unsuccessful, he practices what he preaches as "innocuous liquidation"—the subject meets with a fatal accident or is found dead at the hands of "unknown assailants."

While playing dirty trick to prevent an independent Western Germany from functioning, Moscow is pushing forward its own program for an independent "Eastern Germany" with Berlin, the capital, as a magnet to draw the west.

But the shrewd Politburo has no intention of releasing its claws. It already has organized and trained quiescent politicians to handle the machinery of government, time servers who rant about communism as fervently as themselves do the Russians themselves.

Instead of spoiling the illusion of independence by the presence of Soviet troops, the Russians seem set to place military control in the hands of the trusted "German Liberation Army." General von Paulus' men have been given refresher courses in fighting in the Lithuanian forests against guerrillas.

These many Russian rations to doom our section and bolster their own are factors which make the current Berlin situation so ominous.

OFFICE CAT

George whose only means of support was his rich father, was being married. "Everything went well until the honeymoon," said his father, "with all my worldly goods I leave you."

The colored preacher had just finished his sermon at the wedding and asked a brother to take up the collection. At this, a member of the congregation arose and protested.

"Folks, Ah thought you said salvation was free—the water we use is free, the bread we eat is free, brother, but we pipe it to you, and you have to pay for the piping."

A young man had been keeping company with the daughter of the house for some months and finally got the fathers permission for the marriage.

"I hope you don't mind me mentioning something," said the father, a bit hesitantly. "But seeing you're practically a member of the family now, I think it would be all right. Would you go down and tell the cook we want her to get up mornings in time to get our breakfast hereafter?"

A certain Southern banker (Smith) is quite bald, and contrives to keep his hair on most of the time, even in his bath.

One day recently Smith was standing near the teller's window, when Cephus, the janitor of the bank, stepped up to get his weekly pay check cashed.

"Banks," Cephus, why don't you open an account and leave some of it with us?" Cephus gazed warily at Smith's Negro.

"Mister Smith, I'm afraid to say, s-h, you look like you was always ready to stah somewhere?"

By R. C. BOILES

There is one paragraph in the Sermon on the Mount that has been to get what the man under your feet and turn again and rend you.

The four translations—King James, Moffatt, Weymouth and Goodspeed give about the same wording for this paragraph. One book uses swine instead of hogs and one uses pigs instead of swine.

It is hard for me to believe that Jesus referred to people as dogs and swine or pigs. It doesn't seem like other things Jesus advocated. But suppose Jesus did say what He is quoted as saying? What does this statement really mean? What are pearls? What are things that are holy or sacred?

The most precious thing is time or life. And time and life are sacred or holy. So it would be reasonable to presume that one should not give his time and life for things that are not as precious as time and life.

They will not answer questions about what they are doing. The man who insists on doing things or advocating things which he will not permit to be questioned and will not have it checked by any and all people and is wanting to use force in his own way, is a man who is acting the way pigs get what they want. They get what they want by force.

The man who will not answer questions without reason is a man who is not seeking truth. He does not have the desire to learn God's or Nature's Laws. He is seeking to win an argument in order to get what he wants. There is no other reason for his refusing to answer questions. So it is a waste of time to give your time, your pearls—that which is holy—to a man who insists on doing things or advocating things which he will not permit to be questioned. So if Jesus really said this He probably meant that it is not advisable to give much of your life, your pearls, to a man who insists on doing things or advocating things which he will not permit to be questioned by the way of the state or as an individual and will not set down an impartial rule of conduct as a guide of human relations.

But this statement in the Sermon on the Mount has been used time without number by those who present organized religion as a method of salvation. They are asked questions about their mystical and ritualistic religion which they cannot answer. When these people advocate a religion which is not realistic and when they claim to know things that they do not know, they are using the statement as a method of evasion in implying the man who asks a question is a swine or dog and not worth answering. Of course those people who use these tactics in order to evade questions are hindering real religion and real Christianity. They are driving away the real seekers after truth in order to keep themselves as leaders of mysticism and ritualistic religion which exalts them.

Yes, this paragraph is one of the most confusing and least understood in the Sermon on the Mount. It probably has done more harm than good. Many had heard it in the Sermon on the Mount and thought it was in perfect harmony with God's or Nature's Laws and this also is if it is properly explained.

Incidentally, the Studebaker resignation and Mr. Altmeyer's expected departure are forecast in the Sermon on the Mount, as well as the fact that the personnel of this organization has become completely demoralized.

REPUDIATION — The political consequences of open revelation in this social welfare agency might be the "final nail in the Democratic coffin." In the view of many politicians, especially when piled upon all other troubles and difficulties.

Dr. Parran and Dr. Studebaker were — and still are — the heroes of the vast and influential groups which believe in further federal assistance to education, medicine, and in an extension of the general Social Security system.

One of their principal admirers was and is Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and Dr. Parran was brought from Albany to Washington by FDR.

It will be difficult for the proponents of federal aid to education to work up any enthusiasm for Mr. Truman at the convention or in the campaign. It may be the chief reason why the Democrats for Democratic Action and allied liberals into open repudiation of the administration.

ENTRUSTED — Odery, it is generally believed that President Truman has taken no active interest in the breakup of FSA, or in its use for political purposes. He simply entrusted management of the welfare specialists as tops in such fields as education, hospitalization and medicine, prisons and similar humanitarian undertakings. And if you haven't heard, the GOP's standard-bearers come from those fields. The headquarters publicity staff will make the most of this "hard luck" happening in the forthcoming campaign.

WATER — The mention of Representative Ben E. Jensen of Iowa as a possible secretary of the Interior in a "Dewey-Warren administration" recalls a comic and curious incident that happened when several months ago, as well as the fact that the personnel of the House Appropriations Subcommittee handling those questions, Mr. Jensen toured the country to investigate conditions on the spot. On the morning that he reached the California capital, he ran into a terrific rainstorm. He was drenched when he walked into the Governor's office.

"Listen," he said only semi-morally, "don't you come to Washington again to ask millions of dollars for irrigation and reclamation! From my experience here, you have all the water you need — and more, too!"

With his great interest and sympathy in the peculiar problems of Mountain, Far West and the Northwest territory, and his recognition of their new needs, he may obtain for them almost as many benefits as FDR did with his dams, power expansion and reclamation projects.

Governor Warren believes in generous federal aid in this field because of the great contribution which the industry and agriculture of this area can make to the national economy.

So much so that private utility interests are oping he will not have too much influence at the White House, assuming that the Republicans control it for the next four or eight years.

Anyway, the expectation is that Governor Warren will use his power and talents to make this "empire" as safe for the GOP as the Solid South used to be for the Democrats.

The mine operators are obviously killing time trying to create a crisis. The industry's stay of the job's suggestion would be no satisfactory to the men who go down into the mines to dig coal.

John L. Lewis, president, UMW stated.

The country was being overvalued on military requests. The draft should be an issue in the coming election.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — The convention-explosion within the Federal Security Administration confirms Democratic politicians' private fears that Harry S. Truman happens to be a "hard luck" President, and that they cannot win with him at the head of their November ticket.

Although Mr. Truman and John Studebaker, former U. S. ambassador to Mexico, exchanged the customary pleasantries on the latter's resignation, the nation's leading educational expert actually quit because of political interference with his work. His good personal and political friend, Dr. Ewing B. Norton of Alabama, who resigned simultaneously, made this charge in his letter to Dr. Studebaker.

Only a few months ago Dr. Thomas E. Parran, an acknowledged pioneer and expert in the field of public medicine, was quietly forced out to make way for a Missouri physician, Dr. Leonard A. Scheele.

The next head to roll for the same reason is that of Arthur J. Altmeyer, social security commissioner, despite his denials. He has told friends that he is deeply disheartened with conditions in his office.

DEMORALIZED — The "politicking," chiefly responsible for the federal or voluntary departure of these three recognized leaders in their respective fields is Oscar R. Ewing of New York, federal security administrator. His only qualification for that post when he was appointed last year was his ability to collect funds for the party. For years he was vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

He has spent more time in "politicking," according to FSA officials, than he has at his desk. He has shown small interest in the party's welfare. Indeed, he has been a vocal proponent of such fields as education, hospitalization and medicine, prisons and similar humanitarian undertakings. And if you haven't heard, the GOP's standard-bearers come from those fields. The headquarters publicity staff will make the most of this "hard luck" happening in the forthcoming campaign.

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

This is the fantastic record of a slim, 50-year-old veteran of two world wars, a man war correspondent's acclaim as the greatest press relations officer the U. S. Army ever had.

Jay Vessels is now a Texan. He stopped in Austin for dinner one night last February and is still there. He works on the Austin-American and has a two-acre plot, which sports the sign: "Dead Cow Ranch. . . breeder of pure-bred, white-faced scorpions."

Native of Kentucky and long-time newspaperman, Major Vessels headed the press camp of the 12th Tactical Fighter Command. Wick Fowler, Dallas Morning News feature writer, was with him in Africa, Italy, Southern France and Germany. And this is the story Fowler told us.

Vessels (Fowler began) was the most unorthodox officer in the Army, a fast-talking bird with a little black moustache, pink cheeks, and brown eyes. If there was a rule he didn't violate, he never found out what it was. He ran his press camp for newspapermen, not for the Army. He called the newspapermen his clients and for them he never failed to supply the best of food, drink, housing, transportation and ready access.

A war correspondent could go see the fighting in one of Vessels' planes or cars or he could just sit at the bar Vessels provided and Jay would bring the war to him. It was a beautiful setup, and all the correspondents' men such as Emory Pyle, Hal Blyden, Noland Norgaard and Ken H. Dixon were nuts about Jay and didn't want to be in any other press camp.

Vessels was the finest scrounger the Lord ever made. . . this means that he miraculously produced an air fleet, automobiles, wonderful clothes and the finest liquors without ever signing his name to anything and without saying how he did it. A month before Rome fell Vessels was wiring and telephoning for hotel reservations there. And all of us believe that as long as he lived he never surrendered. Jay's air fleet was flying cognac and champagne out of Berlin for his "clients."

When we took Naples, Jay quickly obtained a seven-story apartment house, one of the most exclusive in the city. We moved in and named it "Vessels Violent Villa." It was high on a hill, surrounded by ack ack guns and directly in the bomb run of German planes. During the air raids, which were with us for a long time, he sought safety in the underground and go into emergencies over the beauty of the ack ack. He had an utter disregard for danger. In those days he often flew piggy-back on P-38 fighter missions. His own son was a bombardier. Jay was a man who could have stayed at home.

We credited him with a radar nose. . . he could stand on a porch of his apartment house, watch the ship's creep into Naples Bay and really sense which ones carried fresh troops. He would be there when they would disappear for a while and for days afterward the ice box would be heavily stocked with pork chops. We called it "moonlight requisitioning."

Interviews with fighter pilots show that he gradually built the story after the hot pilots landed. They would be sitting in Jay's big bar, with correspondents around them. Vessels was supposed to be plugging the Air Force, but he brought Ground Force heroes as well. And his plan was to bring us to Anzio beachhead for any war who wanted to spot the ground action there.

I'll never forget those wonderful dinners in the Naples apartment. There was an absolute rule that no one was to be left outside the door. It was a "Tomorrow" story that was private at one end of the table shouting in argument with some general at the other. Officers who pulled rank weren't asked out. . . they were thrown out.

Jay had one period of worry. Washington got wind of the going on in his violent Villa and sent an inspector clear from the U. S. Vessels met him at the airport, feeling very shaky, but when the visitor asked about the crews' of barbed balloons, Jay knew his man. At once, Jay began his confounding brand of double talk. Then the correspondents gave the inspector the same treatment. He left, after a week, thoroughly confused and, as far as we ever learned, he never turned in a report.

Vessels' had one rule. . . that a war correspondent's stories should be gotten out at all cost. . . by radio, by plane, by car. . . but gotten out. After the invasion of Southern France, it was Jay who smuggled out stories, not the men of other press camps. And he shielded and sheltered many newspapermen of other press camps who came to him begging for aid.

When the war was over and Jay rather a separation center, he had no papers to show he ever was in the Army and the Army could find no record of his service. He blew his top. This was the only thing that ever hurt him. . . four years in the service but no Army never knew he was there.

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

The story of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company of Hamilton, Ohio proves the old adage that "It's not what happens to you that counts—it's how you take it."

In 1941 Peter G. Thomson started a small coating mill with 25 employees. Everything went fine. By 1946 he had enlarged his plant. In 1949 he had a new plant. Then, on December 22, 1951, the whole plant was destroyed by fire — a damage of $650,000.

Thomson started all over. By 1952 he had a larger coating mill than ever. He gradually built the business up. Years of hard work. Meeting problems. By 1953 the business was a "real success". Then, just when it seemed that all the years of hard work had really paid off — disaster struck again.

This time a flood destroyed two-thirds of the plant. Another fire added to the damage. Plans were started for rebuilding immediately. This time the plant was rebuilt and beginning to operate smoothly — came the first world war. Most of the employees went off to war. Materials were hard to get. But neither fire nor flood nor war could keep this "Champion" down.

In 1921 Champion erected the first book paper mill in the South. They have continued to expand through the years until today Champion is producing two million pounds of paper per day, and is one of the largest producers of bleached pulp and paper in the world.

Champion Paper and Fibre has lived up to its name. For the real secret of a "champion" is not that he never takes a hard job to the jaw — but that he keeps getting up and coming back for more. It's a "success secret" that works in business the same as in the prize ring.

Champion's secret is the success secret that made this country great. The men and women who built a civilization out of a wilderness were "down" plenty of times — but they refused to take the count.

So when you find yourself stretched out on the canvas — just remember the secret of the Champion. Nothing can whip you if you refuse to take the count. (Copyright 1948, General Features Corp.)

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — It was a bright morning in Heaven. St. Peter, the gatekeeper, looked over his head to shade his eyes. But he couldn't get back to sleep. There was an awful clatter at the gate.

"This job would try a saint," he grumbled as he shuffled to his post. "It'll be the death of me yet."

His keys clanged against the pearly lock. He grunted, gave a mighty shove, the gate swung ajar — and Heaven was open for business.

"Peter took one long look outside. "Good Heavens!" he exclaimed. "It's just like the war again."

For there stretched before him, as far as eye could reach, a dolorous line seeking admission. There were young in that line, and there were old. Many had torn clothing — some wore makeshift bandages stained with the red tide of life.

The line surged toward the gate. "Take it easy!" St. Peter shouted. "Who's first?"

"Me!" said a fat little man. St. Peter scanned his big, golden book. His brow furrowed. "Why, according to our records, you weren't due here until 1965."

"What happened?" asked St. Peter gently. "I was driving home, and I tried to beat the train to the crossing."

"And —?"

"I didn't," said the little man. "Teh Teh!" and St. Peter crossed. "When are you mortals going to get over your immortal immortality. Any more Sunday drivers?"

Down the long sad line hundreds raised their arms. St. Peter shook his head.

A small boy stepped up nervously. "I'm Johnny," he said. The old saint peered into his book. "Son, we didn't expect you here for another 60 years. There were great things ahead for you down there. You had something the world needed."

"We sneaked off from the picnic," Johnny said. "We didn't know the lake was deep."

Hour after hour the line moved up to the gate. At last St. Peter said wearily: "What's gone wrong in the

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

No, I'm not talking about a prize fighter. But I'm talking about the success secret of a "champion" by the same spirit that makes men winners in the prize ring or in the business world.

The story of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company of Hamilton, Ohio proves the old adage that "It's not what happens to you that counts—it's how you take it."

ARMY APPEALS FOR TRAINING LEAVES
WASHINGTON - (AP) - The Army announced Friday to employers to help in the national defense program by giving leaves of absence to men for training or periods of active duty with reserve organizations. Brig. Gen. Wendell Westover, chief of the Army's Reserve Affairs Bureau, urged this cooperation in talking to reporters. The Army, he said, is starting to build up organized reserve units fully trained and equipped units, capable of giving quick support to the regular Army in event of emergency. Westover said employers could help by assuring employees that their jobs will be waiting when they returned from duty or training with reserve units. For training purposes, reservists are needed for periods varying from two weeks to 90 days. For extended active duty with the Army the time runs from one to three years. There are now about 460,000 men in the Enlisted Reserve Corps.

NEW ENGLAND MILLS
Need Cotton Now
BOSTON - (AP) - New England cotton mills cannot operate on crop prospects, but must have actual cotton now, not next fall, the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers advised President Truman Friday. Russell Fisher, president of the association, telegraphed an appeal to the President for action on manufacturers' requests for an increased import quota of long staple Egyptian cotton. Fisher's telegram said the cotton manufacturers disputed a statement attributed to U. S. Senator J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) that there was an adequate supply of long staple cotton on hand in the United States. Fisher told the President that some mills faced a shutdown very soon, because they were unable to secure enough to continue operations.

Navy Plans Cruise To Eastern Waters
WASHINGTON - (AP) - The Navy announced it will send three ships, including a small carrier, to Mediterranean and Persian Gulf ports between July 18 and September 15. The cruise will include visits to Gibraltar, Madelon, Sardinia, Naples, Phoenicia Bay, Greece, etc.; Izmir, Turkey and three ports on the Persian Gulf. The ships are the escort carrier Siboney, the amphibious command ship Porono and the fast destroyer transport Carpellotti. They will leave Hampton Roads about July 7.

OPA Expected To Be Issue In Campaign
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON - (AP) - If you think straight, start now. Pretty soon Democrats and Republicans will be rushing up and down the lawn, calling names, heaping blame, and making promises. It's going to be tough on those who'll have to listen to both sides before making up their minds. If you're in that group, you have some job: trying to figure out which side is right. The 28 percent rise in living costs since June, 1946, will be one of the many arguments about many things thrown at you. Just to show you how tough it will be for you to untangle the living cost mess alone - it's a real mess now - just go back a bit. Under the law, OPA, which had kept prices down steadily well during the war, was to die June 30, 1946, unless Congress passed a law renewing it. At the last minute Congress did. The Democrats controlled Congress in the time. But President Truman vetoed the bill. He said it was worse than no bill. He said it would legalize inflation. He said the three parts of the bill he regarded as most dangerous were sponsored by Republicans: Senators Taft and Wherry of Nebraska and Crawford of Michigan. That presidential veto killed OPA, dead, on the spot. With all controls gone, prices screamed upward. Later - in July, 1946 - Congress passed another bill to continue OPA for another year. Mr. Truman signed that one into law, although he said it wasn't much better than the bill he had vetoed. Nevertheless, it was too late to lock the door. Prices had soared. The backbone of price control was broken. and by November, 1946, with one control after another removed, OPA was not but dead. And prices shot up some more. Do you blame Mr. Truman? Or do you blame the Republicans he blamed? How can you - without a sharp knowledge of all the technicalities of the bill Mr. Truman vetoed - really know where to place the blame? Just sit back and relax. You'll hear plenty of talk about it. And if you're not more confused as the end than you are now, I'll miss a bet.

EMPLOYERS' CASES SHOW DECREASE
FORT WORTH - (AP) - Only 22 cases were filed by employers in this NLRB region using their new prerogatives created by the Taft-Hartley law during the first 10 months of this year's total cases, Edwin Elliott, regional director here, announced Friday. A total of 682 cases were filed by union, employers and individuals in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico during the period, Elliott said. This year's total cases showed a decrease from the 747 filed the previous year.

TEXAS TO RECEIVE FEDERAL ROAD FUNDS
WASHINGTON - (AP) - Texas is eligible for $25,000,000 of federal road funds a year under the new Highway Authorization Act signed by the President Friday. The act authorizes expenditure of a total of $450,000,000 a year in federal funds on primary, secondary, and urban highways for each of the two years beginning with July 1, 1948. The amount of 18 states which will be eligible for more than $10,000,000 a year under the bill, the largest allocation - $80,081,000 - will go to New York.

Scholars Give Jesse James Working Over

By The Associated Press
 Jesse James has been cursed by experts in the old days, but today the bandit is getting a very different going over in the usually academic halls where scholars write textbooks and encyclopedias.

The publisher's wrath stems from the amazing story told by an old man in Lawton, Okla., who claims that he and Jesse are one and the same.

J. Morris Jones, managing editor of the World Book Encyclopedia, is one of the many editors who are praying that the whole thing is a hoax.

Jones is particularly disturbed because the World Book publishers have just spent more than two million dollars on a new edition.

Jones pointed out that there must be positive proof before James is declared alive by the encyclopedia. Facts printed in newspapers and detective reports are carefully followed by editorial researchers.

However, before the World Book will eliminate James' death date, ber of his supporters, built up pressure which may explode the draft movement into action at Philadelphia Saturday.

At that time, 18 men will assemble, representing 17 states which will cast 568 of the 1,234 presidential nominating votes in the convention opening there two days later. By telegram, they invited others to attend "to seek for the leader of our party today the ablest and strongest man available."

They will include such party leaders as Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York, Democratic leader Jacob Roosevelt, California state chairman, Senator Hill of Alabama and Governors Tuck of Virginia, Jester of Texas, and Thurmond of South Carolina.

There was no doubt that the leader they have in mind to replace Truman is Eisenhower. Arvey said Eisenhower could grab the nomination on the first convention ballot—a claim also made for Truman by his supporters.

New president of Columbia University, the 57-year-old general's political leanings are so little known that months ago he was the object of a Republican draft movement.

Eisenhower stopped that by a January 23 statement that he was "not available for and could not accept nomination to high political office."

THREE INTOXICATIONS

Three men were fined $10 each in Corporation Court Saturday after pleading guilty to charges of being intoxicated.

There will be a period of watching and waiting if, after several weeks, the identity of James seems conclusive, a World Book contributor will be asked to check and double check the matter. Jones stated that E. E. Dale, Oklahoma University's nationally known historian, will probably be asked to handle the research assignment.

If James' claim proves to be legitimate, thousands of expensive corrections will be necessary in educational publications.

Texas Paper Gets Dope on Size of State's Families

PARIS, Tex. —(AP)— Reports that families throughout the nation are getting smaller bother the editor of The Paris News.

The newspaper asked readers to write in about their families.

First reply came from Mrs. J. A. Gentry of Petty, west of Paris. Her record is 10 living children and one dead — with all except one married and all living in Texas. Mrs. Gentry adds that she has 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

And Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Baty of Paris write that they are the parents of 10 children, seven of whom are living. The Baty's have 20 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

High on the record is the reply of Mrs. Edna Penton of Paris. "I am next to the oldest of 15 children," she writes, "and have 10 to 35 years of age. And she

Measles Cases Show Rise Above Average

AUSTIN —(AP)— The reported incidence of measles in Texas was three times greater the past week than the seven-year average for that period of the year.

The State Health Department's report for the week ending June 26 showed 736 measles cases. The seven-year median is 228.

Sixty of the cases were reported in El Paso County and 41 in Lubbock County.

His proposals would allow each member state to fix its own immigration policy in the first two years of economic union and appeal disputes to the U. N. Economic and Social Council.

Cancer Death Rate On Upswing in State

AUSTIN —(AP)— Cancer deaths increased more than 18 percent in Texas during the five-year period 1943-47. Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reported Friday.

Mortality tables compiled by the Texas State Department of Health show 8,687 cancer deaths in 1947 compared with 6,770 in 1942.
