Public Schools Week Set For Mar. 1-5

The week of March 1st through Marth 5th has been designated as Public Schools Week in Texas. During this week a special invitation is extended to all patrons to visit in the local school or schools of your choice.

This week so designated, marks the twenty-first annual observance of this occasion. Public Schools Week was originated in 1950 as a public service project for the sole purpose of stimulating and advancing the general interest in public education in Texas. This traditional observance during the first full week in March has won widespread approbation and support.

This year is the 117th anniversary of the founding of the public free schools in Texas. We are given an apportunity to reflect upon the great heritage of freedom and self-reliance bestowed upon us, and which we are obligated to pass on to posterity.

To close the week of visitation and observance locally, a music program will be given in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, March 5, 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend this program.

Spring Book Fair Set for Mar. 1-5

Because the students of Rockport Elementary enjoyed the October Book Fair so much, the Library will sponsor a spring Book Fair from March 1 through the 5th. Students will be able to browse and purchase books. The Book Fair will be open during regular school hours.

These dates have been chosen to coincide with Public School Week so mothers and fathers may see the display and help their children select books. So all students, parents and visitors are invited to attend the Fair.

The Fair will not only spur student interest in reading and building home libraries but will also contribute to a worthwhile project. The school will earn 20 per cent of all sales and profits will be used to buy more books for the library. The children keep the books they buy for their own use.

The Book Fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular prices. All reading interest to students will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. Wonderful books to read or to give as gifts. The Library is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

Fulton Public School Plans

The game is sponsored by the Rockport-Fulton Lettermen's Association, and the admission will be 50 cents for adults, and 25 cents for students.

Rumors have it that the seniors are "frisky" and ready to go, but that the Faculty is out of shape and out of wind.

He will double as basketball coach under a limited athletic program to be started with the completion of a new $900,000 physical education building.

Segler will remain here until June 1, continuing to serve as Director of Physical Education and Athletics and basketball and golf coach at the Junior and Senior High Schools.

Dave's wife, Mary Lake Segler, will relinquish her position as City Secretary of the City of Rockport to make the move to Laredo. Mr. and Mrs. Segler have two children, Robbie, 19, a freshman at Southwest Texas State University, and Rusty, 13, 7th grade student in Junior High.

Segler graduated from SWTSU in 1951 and was employed by the local school system that fall. In 1957 he received his master's degree in physical education from SWTSU.

He started out here as Junior High coach in charge of football for two years and basketball one year; then he became the B team basketball coach at the High School; next he was named head basketball coach at the High School and backfield football coach.

In 1960 he was appointed athletic director and head football and basketball coach. In 1964 he gave up the football coaching responsibilities and concentrated on expanding the physical education program while retaining the duties of athletic director and also head basketball coach.

"I have enjoyed being here," Segler said, "and appreciate all the help I received in developing the atheletic program. The School Board and the school administration have very helpful from the standpoint of providing financial assistance and advice. New Publication Notes Aransas Water Supplies

AUSTIN — Ground-water supplies in Aransas County can be developed further without permanently depleting the aquifer, according to a new report on Texas Water Resources of Aransas County, Texas, written by G. H. Shafer of the U.S. Geological Survey, and prepared in cooperation with the Water Development Board.

To prevent the fresh water underlying Live Oak Peninsula from being depleted or contaminated by salt water intrusion pumpage should not exceed about 11,000 acre feet annually, the report reccommends.

Fairly large quantities of moderately saline water are available in the county, but economic use of the water depends on whether an effective inexpensive demineralization process can be developed and put into use.

Copies of Report 124 are available free from the Water Development Board, P. O. Box 13087, Austin, 76711.

Care to Give Encyclopedias?

The classrooms at Rockport Elementary are furnished with late editions of encyclopedias for use in the classrooms by the students. These books are not allowed out of the classrooms or to be taken home.

This left four complete sets of older encyclopedias in the library and it was decided by the principal and the librarian to allow the children to check out these books on a 24 hour basis to take home to complete their projects. The older encyclopedias are just as good as the new ones except for space and scientific material.

The response to this idea has been so great that the school runs out of encyclopedias to check out and wonders if there are people who have older sets they would like to donate to the library. Enrollment is much higher this year and many students do not have any reference books at home. The books would be used to help these books would be used to help these students.

Well, What Do You Know?

fun, games and knowledge

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor, The New Book of Knowledge

What do you know about gladiators?

The word "gladiator" comes from the Latin gladius, meaning "sword." In ancient Rome gladiators were armed warriors — often slaves trained for just this purpose — who engaged in fights for public entertainment. These spectacles usually took place in huge amphitheaters such as the Colosseum.

Do you know what shorthand is?

Shorthand is a method of rapid writing that uses symbols in place of letters in writing. It has been in use since ancient times. However, shorthand did not become an important occupational tool until 1873, when the typewriter was put into general use. The typewriter opened up careers for men and women as stenographers and secretaries.

What do you know about sets?

A set is a collection of objects or ideas. You can think of many kinds of sets—dishes, chairs, or blocks. The members of your family and the numbers from 1 to 5 are also sets. So are the fingers of one hand.

The idea of a set is the heart of mathematics. Think of a set of dishes that consists of a dinner plate, a salad plate, a bowl, a cup, and a saucer. What does it have in common with the fingers of one hand? When you answer that both sets have five members, you are at the beginning of arithmetic. Most branches of mathematics — whether they deal with numbers or with shapes — can be expressed in terms of sets.

Mrs. J. C. Gurley read minutes from the first year in 1963. It gave everyone a warm feeling going back over the years and things that were done. After much reminiscing, cake and coffee were served to the following:

Curried Fish

AUSTIN—If you have inclinations toward being an adventuresome cook and hostess but are just a little afraid to step into the world of the culinary unknown, here is an exotic recipe that doesn't take exotic skills. Curry dishes whisper of the mystical orient, but in essence this recipe is fish cooked in a cream sauce with an interesting combination of spices.

When you are entertaining special guests and really want to put on a show, get out the chafing dish for this recipe. You remember your chafing dish—it's that beautiful wedding gift of copper or silver that hasn't been used yet because you're not quite sure how to use. If that's the case it might be a good idea to have a "dress rehearsal" for just the family. Since the chaffing dish uses a gentel source of heat it may take 45 minutes or even longer to do the cooking in it. If you don't have that much time the recipe can be prepared on the range and the finished mixture transferred to the chafing dish to keep it hot. Redfish would be an excellent fresh finfish to use, or you might substitute peeled, de-veined shrimp or flaked crabmeat. Any of these cook quickly, and their flavors blend well with the sauce.

To make this dish truly authentic, serve traditional condiments such as toasted slivered almonds; chutney; freshly grated coconut; chopped, hard-cooked egg; fresh pineapple chunks; and crisp bacon bits.

Curried Fish or Shellfish

1 pound fresh fish fillets; fresh peeled shrimp or flaked crabmeat
¼ cub butter or margarine
¼ cup minced onion
2 or 3 teaspoons curry powder
1 teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
dash pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
3-4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk or half and half cream
Hot rice, biscuits, or patty shells

Melt butter or margarine in blazer pan of chafing dish over a direct low flame. Stir in seasonings and onion. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thick and smooth. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Fold in fish or shellfish, mushrooms and pimientos. Cook until seafood is done. Fish will flake easily when tested with a fork and shrimp becomes tender. Makes six servings.

Life With The Rimples

Internal Revenue Service Advice

If you plan to list a business deduction for travel and entertainment expenses, be sure to have the records to substantiate these expenses, Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of Internal Revenue in Corpus Christi, states. Estimates of these expenses are not legally acceptable for tax purposes.

In many instances, a taxpayer should keep a diary to timely record as well as receipts and invoices to back up a travel or entertainment expense.

To substantiate entertainment expenses you must establish the amount of each separate expenditure except for miscellaneous items like cabs, phone calls, tips and meals while traveling away from home, which can be added together for each day. In addition, the date of the expenditure must be confirmed, the name of the person entertained indicated and the type and location of the entertainment described.

The taxpayer's records should also show the reason for the entertainment or the business benefit expected, the nature of the business discussion and the names, titles and business relationship of the persons entertained.

The detailed rules on how to deduct travel and entertainment expenses are given in IRS Publication No. 463, available free of charge in all IRS offices.

Art Guild Gatherings

By JAN WENDELL

"Home again, home again, jiggety-jog." So wrote an anonymous author and that's just where we are are and are we ever glad to say so! Barring hurricane (Gulp!), earthquakes, snow storms, fires and all those other dread things one can think of, the Rockport Art Ass'n Gallery will re-open its doors Sunday at noon, Feb. 28.

The gallery has had a face-lift and many hours of scrubbing, hammering, and painting went into it. Our special thanks goes out to Jim and Katherine Bibb, Margaret Hall, Sis Harper, Neil and Estelle Stair, Estle Turner, Wayde Wendell, and Fred and Gunny Whittle who made the face-lift a happening.

The Art Assn. had its regular meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 23 with 70 per cent of the in-town members present plus two out-of-town members. We wish to welcome our new members: Helen Bayreaux, Kathy Cochran, Bob Gray, Dennis and Iris Ann Jenkins, Lois Mosier, Bobby J. and Donna Price, and Frederick J. Whittle. At this meeting a new Corresponding Secretary was appointed — Estle Turner. Also, it was decided to allow our May 70-71 members to have a free ride until November to compensate for the six months that the Gallery was out of commission. Thus, remaining dues will be paid in November for only the last two months of this year and we will begin each year with dues being paid in January. Also, the current officers will remain in office an extra six months to round out their year's service, or sentence, however they want to take it.

A new Screening Committee was elected by vote and they are Estle Turner; Yvonne Wendell and Gunny Whittle. It was also decided to have a Judged Art Show limited to members only on July 2, 1971 and to have an Art Festival open to all artists on July 3 and July 4, 1971.

The Rockport Art Festival Co-Chairmen elected are Dennis Jenkins and Fred Whittle. Other chairmen are: Arrangements—Jan Wendell, Invitations — Sis Harper, Social—Lois Mosier, Publicity—Peggy Bloomer, and Aides — Steve Akin, Helen Bayreaux, Lillian Cox, Claudia Nelson, Donna Price, Neva Sorenson, and Gunny Whittle. Chairman for the Judged Art Show will be Estelle Stair.

Member artists who wish to Gallery for the re-opening are Gallary for the re-opening are asked to bring them in not later than 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, and the Screening Committee is asked to make their decisions at the Gallery, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 27.

Children's art classes on Saturday mornings will begin in the near future taught by Claudia Nelson, and there will be a possible seminar by William Brigl in April. There will be advance notice about these as soon at the dates are set.

The Rockport Art Assn. wishes to welcome and thank our visitors at the past meeting, Marion Moore and Deane Steele of Rockport and Cary Parker of Port Aransas. The Assn. welcomes all visitors and wishes to state that we do not have closed meetings for members only—in fact, anyone who has the very slightest interest in art or in what we are doing is always invited and welcome. The dates and times of the monthly meetings are always announced in the Rockport Pilot in this column.

Sunday, Feb. 28, the doors will re-open at noon to all visitors and coffee and soft drinks will be served to all who want to drop in and see what we are doing. Do come.

"Home again, home again, jiggety-jog." Amen.

"Section 51-a. The Legislature shall have the power, by General Laws, to provide, subject to limitations herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions and regulations as may by the Legislature be deemed expedient, for assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and any other services included in the federal laws as they now read or as they may hereafter be amended, providing matching funds to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care, and for the payment of assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and other services to or on behalf of:

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Dentist's Prisoner

To have her new dentures checked, Mrs. R. paid a visit to the dentist. There she got a rude surprise. The dentist locked his office doors, pocketed the key, and demanded that she pay her overdue bill.

After a war of nerves that lasted for half an hour, she finally did pay up. Later, however, she filed suit for false imprisonment.

"But she wasn't "imprisoned," the dentist protested in court. "She was free to leave any time, just by paying me what she owed."

Nevertheless, the dentist was held liable for taking the law into his own hands. The court said he had no right to use such forcible methods to collect his money.

"False imprisonment" may befall you even if you are nowhere near an actual prison. The essence of the matter is an unlawful limitation on your freedom of lomotion. The law places a high value on the right of every individual to go where he pleases.

Even if your freedom is limited for only a few moments, you may have grounds for complaint. Thus:

A weary housewife, walking home from the market, gratefully accepted a ride offered by the man next door. But to her dismay, he began talking to her in amorous terms. Despite her protests, he kept on driving on past her house. Not until a block beyond was she able to get out of the car with some degree of dignity.

When she sued the man for damages, a court ruled she had indeed suffered false imprisonment—although it had lasted only a few moments. The court said she had been forcibly prevented, by the car's continuing movement, from leaving when she wanted to.

Nevertheless, not every interference with your freedom is false imprisonment. Take this situation:

A shopper had just emerged from a department store when a clerk hurried outside after her. Pointing at the purse she was carrying, he asked:

"Did you buy that here?"

The woman said no — and then, without being asked, painstakingly exhibited the purse and its contents to the clerk.

Admittedly, this incident did delay her departure. But had she suffered false imprisonment? In a court test, the judge said no. He pointed out that she had lingered on the sidewalk not out of any compulsion by the clerk but of her own free will.

Shrimp Landings—

kept smaller vessels in port and restricted large steel vessels. Vessels working waters beyond 30 fathoms south of Louisiana reported short trip catches of 250-400 pounds per night and limited daylight fishing for 200 pounds per day. White shrimp catches were spotted and confined to small areas adjacent to major passes. Vessels working off the Texas coast trawled waters out to 40 fathoms and made trip catches of 200-300 pounds per night. Trawlers working the high seas off Mexico made trip catches of 250-400 pounds per night of brown shrimp and slightly more on the distant Campeche pink shrimp grounds.

Oyster landings amounted to 43,000 barrels in January. This was 8 percent above January 170 landings and followed a record December 1970 volume. Meat yields were very good at 2¼-2½ gallons per Texas barrel. Galveston Bay dredge units accounted for 88 percent of the state's total volume. Shell oysters leaving the state, though very heavy, declined slightly compared with the previous month. Fishermen received $7.50-$8.50 per barrel for shell oysters.

Blue crab landings totaled about 200,000 pounds in December or slightly less than one-half the volume of January 1970.

Drought conditions existed along the entire coast throughout January. At the end of December 1970, cumulative rainfall was several inches below the expected normal at the close of January, the rainfall did not indicate any immediate relief.

There were no large trawlers launched from Texas ports in January. This was the first month since mid-1967 that failed to add at least one large unit to the shrimp fishery. There are, however, several large vessels nearing completion at shipyards along the central and northern Gulf. Two vessels were lost at sea.

The Kinsey Report

Two youths, David Bird and Bobbie Cruz, appeared before the Board of Deacons of First Presbyterian Church at a special meeting this week.

They said there is no place for young people of the Rockport area to go on Saturday nights unless they drive to Corpus Christi or just ride around.

David and Bobbie, who have a combo, said a dance would be one way of providing some fun. They asked permission to hold a dance Saturday night, Feb. 27 from 8 p.m. to midnight in the Fellowship Hall at the Presbyterian Church, stating that no other place was available in Rockport.

They explained that the event was to be paid admission dance for young people, that the City Police Department and the Sheriff's Department would be contacted to be sure that law enforcement officers would be present, that three sponsors would attend and more could be contacted to act as chaperones, that the hall would be cleaned and left in the same condition as before the dance, and that a donation of $60 would be made to the church for the use of the hall.

The deacons discussed the proposal thoroughly and gave the youths permission to hold the dance. David and Bobbie were requested to get at least two or more sponsors to be present at the dance.

Poem of Welcome from Live Oak Elementary School:

Welcome to all that enter these doors,
We take pride in our school from ceiling to floors,
Rooms filled with children . . . filled with litter,
Hoping to teach them a life that is better.
A life to be lived day by day,
Striving to make their paths an easier way.
A desire to give them a taste of truth
That can stand through many ages of proof.
Enter, and see beyond child and desk,
Look deeper, and know that we strive for the best.

March Draft Calls 908 Texans

AUSTIN—The March draft call for Texas was announced today by Col. Melvin N. Glantz, the state director of Selective Service for Texas. Galantz said Texas will induct 908 men from the Extended Priority Selection Group and from the First Priority Group for 1971.

Glantz emphasized that men in the first priority group would be called only if the March call can not be filled with men in the extended group.

The Extented Priority Selection Group is made up of men whose lottery number was reached by their local board in 1970, and who would have been inducted earlier had there not been delays in the issuance of their induction orders due to procedural or other delays.

"The March pre-induction physical examination call is for 2,400 men," Glantz added.

Benito Mussolini's son, Vittorio, is in business in Argentina.

Cancer of the colon and rectum strikes American men and women about equally and is second only to skin cancer in incidence. But the AmericanCancer Society says almost three out of four persons with colon-rectum cancer could be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment. The Procto exam helps diagnose the disease early.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Short resolutions for the new year? Here's a list designed especially for you and your family by the Texas State Department of Health:

Promise to give your body at least as good care as you give your car. Periodic examinations are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully, so let your doctor look you over thoroughly once a year whether you're ailing or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle-aged.

Dental troubles won't kill you, but sometimes they can make you wish you were dead. So check in once yearly with your dentist, too.

If you are putting on weight, resolve to start passing up the candied yams, boiled potatoes and the cream-filled tidbits which almost invariably spell extra pounds and perhaps an early grave.

Too much weight contributes to high blood pressure, and may be associated with hardening of the arteries and various forms of heart disease. Also, it means impaired vigor, greater surgical risk and greater danger from otherwise minor illnesses.

A good, physician-prescribed exercise regimen will keep your body in shape, tone up your heart muscles and put the spring back in your step.

The statistics linking smoking to cancer and heart disease continue to pile up, and it is tougher and tougher to rationalize the habit. If you still smoke, now's the time to quit. Resolve also to impress the health hazards of smoking on the minds of teenagers in your home.

When driving, consider that every other car is being driven by a madman, and when walking trust motorists only as far as you can see them. Motor vehicle deaths stand far above accidental deaths of all other types.

Resolve to take full advantage of every advancement in medical science aimed at benefitting you and the family, but always on competent medical advice. Start by checking the immunization records of your entire family—not just the children—as a safeguard against diseases and other complications.

Promise to obey local and state laws pertaining to health protection. For example, if your town has a dog leash law, adhere to it. It is a public protective device and you are the public. If you are a pet owner, be certain they are kept in good health.

Last but vitally important, give an occasional thought to such awesome problems as water conservation, pollution abatement, juvenile delinquency, drug abuse and the growing number of elderly people in our society. Lend your support as a responsible citizen to communuity afforts to solve them.

Your health should be of great concern to you. So get the good health habit by putting some healthful resolutions to work. You'll be happier, live longer and enjoy life more.

A friend asked a lady from Louisville, Ky., whether she'd enjoyed herself during her jaunt to the race track and the lady replied:

"I had lots of fun. I played all eight games."

That's nice, but we wonder which inning she enjoyed the most.—Anderson (S.C.) Independent.

Q—To have you compute my tax, should I just bring my return into an IRS office?

A—No, the computation is done at the IRS service center for your area when you file your return. The IRS will figure your tax if your income is $20,000 or less and consists only of wages or salaries, and tips, dividends, interest, pensions, and annuities and you choose the standard deduction instead of itemizing deductions.

The IRS will figure both the retirement income credit and your tax for you if you meet the income and deduction requirements. Just follow the instructions at the top of Schedule R. Be sure to attach the necessary schedules and W-2's and sign your return. Further details on this can be found on Pege 2 of the 1040 instructions.

Q—My son made over $1,000 last year, Dies that mean I'll lose his exemption?

A—The amount of your son's earnings will not change his dependency status if he was either a full-time student during five months of the year or under 19 at year's end. The support and other dependency tests must still be met, however.

Q—Since I was not married until last fall, I was single most of the year. Can I file a joint return?

A—Yes, your martial status for tax purposes is determined by what it was on the last day of your tax year. For example, someone married on the last day of the year is considered married for the entire year.

Q—I've been told I don't have to pay on the pay I received while I was out sick. Is that right?

A—You may not be taxed on all or part of your pay received for periods of sickness provided certain conditions are met. Details on how to claim this benefit are given on Form 2440 which may be obtained from any local IRS office.

To summarize the sick pay provisions, if your company paid you more than 75 per cent of your regular pay then you must wait 30 days before you can exclude any pay from income. After the waiting ing period you may exclude up to $100 a week.

If you received 75 per cent or less of your pay there is a 7-day waiting period. Afterwards, you may exclude up to $75 a week. After 30 days you may exclude up to $100 a week. However, if you were hospitalized there is no 7-day waiting period.

Q—I had about $45 in interest last year from several savings accounts. Do I have to list how much I got from each of them?

A—In cases where interest income is $100 or less, just inter the total amount of your interest income on the front of your form 1040. When interest income is over $100 it has to be itemized by amount and payor and entered on Schedule B.

Q—My tax situation looks so complicated this year that I want to get some paid professional help this year. Where can I get a reliable person to help me?

A—Cal your local accounting, legal or tax practioner asassociation. They will be able to supply you with the names of qualified people.

Avoid any person who "guarantees" you a refund or who suggests that the refund be sent to his address. Also, you should never sign a blank return or one that has been prepared in pencil. Remember, you are legally responsible for evry item on your return even though someone else helped you prepare it.

Q—I had a loss on some shares of stock I sold last year. Is this deductible?

A—Yes, capital losses are deductible and can be used to offset capital gains. In addition, capital losses can be used to offset other income up to a maximum of $1,000 a year. The limit is $500 each on the returns of married persons filing separately.

Note that the 1969 Tax Reform Act did make some changes in the handling of capital looses. While short term losses are still fully deductible from ordinary income, only one-half of the excess of the net long term capital loss over the net short term capital gain is deductible up to the $1,000 meximum.

Q—My wife and I both work. Should we file joint or separate returns?

A—Usually, married taxpayers will pay less tax if they file joint rather than separate returns. Since there are situations where this is not true, figure your tax both ways to find out which is best for you.

Note that when separate returns are filed, deductions must be handled the same way on both returns. If one itemizes, so must the other. If the standard deduction is used, both must use the same type, either the percentage deduction or the low income allowance.

Miss Ledbetter, Michael Hill Exchange Vows

Miss Margaret Sue Ledbetter and Michael Varde Hill were married Saturday, Feb. 20 in a double ring, candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Charles Fake officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Ledbetter and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip N. Hill, Sr., San Antonio.

Larry Stewart, Jr., Corpus Christi, played the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bradley sang a song using the music "Our Day Will Come" and the words sung were written by the bride and groom. At the front of the church was a table on which a large Bible rested. On each side of this was a golden candelabra. The aisles were lighted by eight candles, four on each side of the center section.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown of taffeta under lace. The dress was gathered at the waist and had a full skirt. The bodice was accented with seed pears and the front of the skirt was also adorned with seed pearls. The sleeves were close fitting and were made of lace. Her veil of illusion was made of sheer net trimmed with scalloped lace which was accented with pears. It was composed of two identical layers and formed the train. The bride carried a small Bible underneath the bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Duane Scheumack, Houston, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Molly Gregory, Miss Karen Hayden and Miss Pamela Griffis. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Annette Ledbetter, sister of the bride, and Joanna Dennes, Jacksboro, Texas, cousin of the bride. Flower girl was Miss Terri Fraser, San Antonio. The attendants wore floor length blue (copin) gowns of peau de soie. An overskirt of bone organza encircled the waist and was floor length also. It was trimmed with a ribbon of merrimist that tied in the back. The girls carried bouquets of blue carnations.

Philip N. Hill, Jr., San Antonio, brother of the groom, wast best man. Groomsmen were John Ledbetter, brother of the bride, Wayne Bennett, Montie Hunter, Gary Redding of San Antonio and Melvin Moore. Ushers were Michael McLead, Wesley Morgan and Burl Brooks. Candlelighters were Gary L. Leatherwood, Mineral Wells, cousin of the bride, and William Fraser, San Antonio.
