SHANGHAI, March 3.—Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura and General Yoshinori Shirakawa, navy and army commanders, announced tonight they ordered their forces to cease hostilities in the Shanghai area.

The Japanese forces were ordered to consolidate the positions they now hold on the border of a 12

FIGHTING REPORTED

SHANGHAI, Friday, Mar. 4. (AP)—Chinese army headquarters said early this morning a detachment of the 19th route army at Jiuho had been engaged by a Japanese force in the night and that fighting was still going on.

There also was an engagement in the vicinity of Nanziang, the communique said. The Japanese denied there was any fighting at all.

The Chinese statement charged the Japanese had attacked after the military and naval commanders had ordered cessation of hostilities in the whole Shanghai area.

1-2 mile zone around the city unless the Chinese resorted to further hostile action.

"I have ordered the army to stop for the time being at the points it occupies," General Shirakawa said, "and to stop fighting if the Chinese cease hostilities."

Not In Effect

The statements followed a confused situation earlier in the afternoon. The Japanese legation issued a statement between 2 and 3 o'clock that hostilities would be ended immediately but Chinese civil authorities said there was no indication the orders had been put into effect.

Nearly two hours later it was announced that the military forces occupied the Chinese Lunghwa arsenal and the garrison headquarters at the Lunghwa station of the Shanghai-Hangchow railway at the extreme southern outskirts of Shankhai. It also was reported they were planning to occupy Nantao, a huge block of the native quarter, abutting on the French concession.

A short time after the first statement, the Japanese military headquarters announced its troops had occupied Kating, more than 15 miles northwest of Shanghai.

WHEAT RELIEF BILL PUSHED

MEASURE WOULD TURN FARM BOARD GRAIN TO UNEMPLOYED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3 — The house made ready today to draw on the farm board's record hoard of wheat, to supply food for the country's unemployed.

Certain of enactment, the senate's bill assigning 40,000,000 bushels of this grain for relief purposes was given a clear field in today's debate, with a final vote expected by nightfall. The Red Cross, through John Barton Payne, chairman, already has said it is willing to undertake distribution of the wheat. There has been no indication that President Hoover would disapprove the bill.

"We bought and paid for it and I don't see any reason why the hungry people can't have the benefit of it," said Speaker Garner in expressing hope that the house would pass the bill forthwith. He argued that 18 cents a bushel a year storage charges now being paid on the stabilization hoard by the farm board quickly would eat up the value of the grain anyhow.

Under this act, the Red Cross will undertake not only distribution of the wheat in its own relief operations and those of other agencies, but also will provide for milling it into flour and other edible form.

VOTE SEEN ON LABOR BILL

CONGRESS IS SURE TO OUTLAW THE "YELLOW DOG" CONTRACTS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—"Yellow dog" contracts, under which laboring men are prevented from organizing to protect their interests, are practically sure to be outlawed by congress.

The Norris-LaGuardia bill, which puts a sharp limit on the power of the federal courts to block strike activities by injunction, is being pushed so strongly in the house that an early vote is likely. Although some determined opposition is in sight for some of its provisions, the "yellow dog" outlawing among them, majority sentiment appears to favor a repetition of the overwhelming endorsement given the bill by the senate.

The measure was approved in very short time by the judiciary committee yesterday, the action being accompanied by instructions to Chairman Sumners to obtain from the rules committee an early place on the house calendar. Special permission was given also by the house for presentation of the favorable report after the day's session ended, so it would be ready for fast action.

STUNNED BY DESTRUCTION, TIMOROUS CHINESE PROBE DEBRIS FOR HOMES

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Mar. 3.—Little groups of timorous former residents of ruined Chapei drifted back into the city late today after the fighting was over and probed cautiously into piles of debris that once had been their homes.

Slowly at first, and then more rapidly as they gained confidence that the patrolling Japanese bluejackets no longer threatened harm to them, the refugees straggled into the city that once was the most populous native quarter of Shanghai.

Many of them could not even find the streets they formerly occupied, to say nothing of the places where their homes used to be. They stood stunned by the black destruction.

Cautiously they walked past the bluejacket patrols and seemed much surprised that no shots or challenges greeted them, in striking contrast to the first few days of the Chapei terror, when most of them were driven out.

Here and there a group located a wreckage heap that seemed familiar and permission was asked timidly of the Japanese to explore the rubbish. Most of them received an indifferent grunt for a reply.

STATE MAKES STRONG PLEA AGAIN TODAY

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN SECOND TRIAL OF LUBBOCK MAN

With the state reiterating its demand for the death penalty and defense counsel making a strong case of their self defense plea, arguments in the second trial of Alvis Graves for the murder of Horace L. Smith were being heard before Judge Homer L. Pharr in 72nd district court this afternoon. The case will go to the jury sometime this afternoon.

Graves is being tried for the murder of Smith whose fatal shooting took place along with that of Robert Averett and the wounding of three others as a dance broke up at a private residence here, January 10, 1931.

Burks Is Heard

Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks opened the arguments for the state this morning after the court's charge to the jury had been read by Judge Pharr.

Burks declared Graves was a "red-handed murderer" and make an urgent appeal to the jury that he be sent to the electric chair. He declared that he had planned the killing of Smith and did the act with malice aforethought.

W. W. Campbell, one of the defense attorneys, followed Mr. Burks and stressed the self defense contention of the defendant and the claim that he opened fire on Smith and Averett as they backed him off the porch of the residence only to protect himself from bodily harm.

J. E. Vickers, chief counsel for the defendant followed Mr. Campbell in an address to the jury and District Attorney Durwood Bradley was to close for the state.

The testimony was concluded late Wednesday after twenty-six witnesses had been heard again Tuesday and Wednesday. Graves again appeared on the stand in his own defense Wednesday and declared that his only motive for shooting the men was that he was afraid they would kill him.

Worden pleaded guilty to the crime with which he was charged. His brother, Frank, under sentence to be hanged for a similar crime, was removed to another jail last night at his own request.

MYSTERIOUS LETTER TO FATHER OF KIDNAPED CHILD OFFERS CLUE

UNPRECEDENTED SEARCH SPREADS OVER WIDE AREA TODAY FOR WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS BOY; PARENTS CLEAR ESTATE OF CROWDS, HOPING FOR RETURN

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, March 3.—The kidnaped baby of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, according to a letter mailed by a woman in Boston today addressed to the famous aviator, is held in a house in a small Massachusetts town.

The letter, mailed by an elderly woman of foreign extraction for whom a wide police search was started, was taken from the mails and opened by authority of Colonel Lindbergh. It read in part as follows:

"Dear Colonel Lindbergh:

"I don't want to say how this information came into my possession. I urge you to act on it, though. I know that your son is held by two men and a woman at (name of town and address of house to which she referred.)"

The letter ended: "I receive this information from a long distance."

NO CONTACT MADE WITH KIDNAPERS OF LINDBERGH BABY, MOORE SAYS

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3 (AP)—Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey called on the Lindberghs today and afterward stated positively that no contact with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby had been made either by the Lindberghs or the police.

"There is absolutely no basis for the report that the baby's return is expected today," the governor added. The governor also revealed that no fingerprints had been found on the nursrey window, through which the kidnaper abducted the baby, or anywhere else.

Gov. Moore said the Lindbergh garage had been turned into a sub police station and equipped with 15 telephones, a police radio set and a teletype cut in with the four-state police network.

He said the Lindberghs were bearing up well under the strain.

"Do the Lindberghs have full hope that the baby will be returned to them?" the governor was asked by one of the half a hundred reporters who besieged him after his call at the Lindbergh home.

"I couldn't say about that," he replied.

NEW YORK POLICE SEND OUT AN ALARM AFTER CLUE UNCOVERED

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Police headquarters sent out a radio alarm shortly before 10 o'clock this morning to all radio-equipped police automobiles in Manhattan to stop and investigate an automobile, with license plates N-3837 NY, going south on Sixth avenue, in which two women with a baby were riding.

Meanwhile, White Plains police received a report from a chauffeur that last night he had seen in White Plains a faded green sedan driven by a man with a blond young woman and a baby in the rear seat and when the driver acted suspiciously he attempted to follow the machine but lost trace of it after it had driven through several streets. The chauffeur said the car bore Connecticut license plates. The police reported the incident on the teletype system as a precautionary measure to avoid overlooking the slightest clue in their search for the Lindbergh baby.

COLONEL LINDBERGH SEEKS RELIEF FROM STRAIN BY WALK IN WOODS

At his heels scrambled the little short-legged white dog which sleeps outside the door of the baby's nursery.

Seen plowing through dense undergrowth a mile from the house they were a pair to arouse sympathy in the hardest heart, the man's face drawn and white, the little dog dashing to one side and then the other as though hunting for its lost playmate.

The colonel was completely oblivious to all around him, his inner turmoil apparently blinding him to everything.

After about an hour he returned to the house, the little dog still following.

PARENTS OF OTHER KIDNAPED BOY WAIT IN ANGUISH FOR HIS RETURN

NILES, O., Mar. 3. (AP)—Like Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, two Ohio parents waited in anguish today for the hoped-for safe return of a kidnaped son.

The boy, James DeJute, jr., 11, son of a wealthy Niles contractor, was overpowered and stolen by two men from near his home here yesterday. They fled with him in an automobile.

Although two witnesses of the kidnaping gave police a good description of the abductors and their car no definite trace of them was found.

Police throughout Ohio, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia were asked to be on the lookout today for the boy and the men. James was described as 4 1-2 feet tall, light complexion and dark hair. He was wearing a gray leather coat with sheepskin collar, and a gray cap.

Mr. and Mrs. DeJute expected to receive today a note demanding a heavy ransom for the boy's return. The contractor said he knew of no enemies and without doubt the kidnapers were looking for "easy money." He offered $1,000 reward for their capture and conviction.

James was stolen while going to school with his cousin, Anna May Mellina, 12. After making certain of his identity, the kidnapers grabbed him. They did not bother the girl.

One of the most likely clues to the kidnapers' trail was a report that a car like theirs was seen 20 minutes after the abduction, speeding through Brookfield, O., toward Sharon, Pa.

CONGRESS IS SWEPT BY WAVE OF INDIGNATION AT THE ABDUCTION

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3. (AP)—The wave of indignation at the abduction of the Lindbergh baby, swept congress today on toward enactment of laws to put a definite stop to the spreading kidnaping racket.

The extraordinary session begun yesterday afternoon by the house judiciary committee was resumed on the Cochran bill providing the death penalty for transportation of victims from state to state. Despite the strong feeling of the members, however, the committee showed a conservative disposition to keep from rushing into legislation which might throw the entire burden of enforcement on the federal government.

Pointing out that in any case no law passed now could be invoked in the Lindbergh case, Chairman Sumners advocated taking time to "let the matter soak in."

But in other quarters action was rushed, with a new anti-kidnaping bill introduced in the senate by Steiwer of Oregon; promise of early hearings in the senate judiciary committee on the Patterson measure—companion to the Cochran house bill; and presence on the house calendar of a committee-approved bill placing heavy penalties on the use of the mails to send extortion threats.

LINDBERGH TO FIGHT WITH THE KIDNAPERS

HOPEWELL, N. J., Mar. 3 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh decided today to fight it out with the kidnapers of his baby son, keeping the police on the job and making every effort to run the criminals down.

WAY CLEARED FOR RETURN OF CHILD

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3 (AP)—The Lindbergh baby was still missing today.

But for miles on either side of the Lindbergh estate the road was cleared to make easy the return of the kidnaper, reported to be demanding $50,000 ransom, which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, is ready to pay.

Last night the army of reporters and photographers assigned to the kidnaping was requested to leave the estate for fear that if the kidnaper should bring the baby back he would be frightened at sight of the crowd and fail to stop.

Today an even stricter order was issued and the police deadline moved back to this village, almost four miles from the Lindbergh estate, on one side, and to Wertsville, even farther away, on the otherside.

No secret was made of the reason for thus isolating the Lindbergh home and it was acknowledged that with the estate and road cleared there were hopes the kidnaper or a representative might bring the baby back and demand the ransom.

Although Colonel Lindbergh was ready to pay whatever was asked, no statement was issued as to whether he had reached an agreement with police as to their action in case the kidnaper should arrive.

All night the Lindbergh home blazed with lights. For five miles it could be seen, standing against the black sky line a beacon inviting the baby's kidnapers to bring him back home, no matter the monetary cost. But the coming of a dull dawn found the little crib empty.

Instructions Awaited

There was a hint of hope. First the postcard, mailed in Newark yesterday and received by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh later in the day, stating that the baby was safe and for the man who flew the New York to Paris air trail to await further instructions.

Second, there was the intimation from the household itself that the child might possibly be restored to its parents today.

There was no explanation of the expression of belief that the 20-month-old baby would be returned today. Perhaps it was predicated on negotiations with the kidnapers. Such negotiations, however, have been repeatedly denied.

So far as official communiques were concerned, the most substantial clue in the hands of the authorities was the story told them by a Miss Keating, a waitress of Pennington, which is only a few miles from Hopewell.

Miss Keating said three men entered the restaurant where she is employed and inquired the way to the Lindbergh home. That was last Friday night. She gave them directions to reach the secluded $30,000 estate.

Same Three Returned

The same three men returned to the restaurant Tuesday night. She remembered them distinctly. After a brief lunch, they left. Two hours after their departure, the Lindbergh baby was gone from his nursery.

The authorities regarded Miss Keating's information as highly important. She was taken by a state trooper to Newark and New York to study pictures in the rogues' galleries in the hope she might be able to identify photographs of the men. No report on the outcome of the journey to New York had been received here early today. At Newark, however, it was understood she selected several photographs, but there was no comment by the police.

The post box in Newark in which the postcard to Col. Lindbergh was mailed yesterday was kept under police eye throughout the night. Police had a description of the man believed to have posted the card. Newspapers, announcements from the stage and the radio were enlisted in Newark to spread the man's

$100,000 Is Given To Baylor College

BELTON, March 3 (AP)—A gift of $100,000 by Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hardin of Burkburnett to the permanent endowment fund of Baylor college here was announced today at the college chapel hour by the Rev. Walter H. McKenzie, pastor of the University Baptist church of Austin.

Rev. McKenzie said the gift was in the form of securities. He said it was the third substantial gift to Baptist institutions made by the Wichita county pioneers in two years. They previously had presented Baylor university at Waco with $450,000 and arranged a legacy for Buckner Orphans' home at Dallas which ultimately will amount to $1,250,000, Rev. McKenzie stated.

PRAYERS REQUESTED

DEAR SIR: "Will you please print in your column a blessing which would be suitable for children to say before meals, as well as parents."

Answer: Here are a few from which you may be able to select one you like:

Thank you for the food we eat,
Thank you for the flowers sweet,
Thank you for the birds that sing,
Thank you God, for everything.

Thou art great and Thou art good,
And we thank Thee for this food;
By Thy hand must we be fed,
Give us, Lord, our daily bread.

Father we thank Thee for the night,
And for the pleasant morning light;
For rest and food and loving care
And all that makes the day so fair.
Help us to do the things we should
And be to others kind and good;
In all we do, in work or play,
To grow more lovely every day.

* * *

About a year ago I printed in this column a prayer for parents. During the past few months many requests have come that it appear again. So here it is, by permission of Greenberg, New York City, publisher of my book, "The Modern Parent," in which this prayer appears:

A Prayer for Parents

"Oh, Jehovah, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them, talking back to them and contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Give me the courage to confess my sins against my children and to ask of them forgiveness when I know that I have done them wrong.

"May I not vainly hurt the feelings of my children. Forbid that I should laugh at their mistakes or resort to shame and ridicule as punishment. Let me not tempt my child to lie and steal. So guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

"Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. May I cease to nag; and when I am out of sorts, help me, O Lord, to hold my tongue.

"Blind me to the little errors of my children and help me to see the good things that they do. Give me a ready word for honest praise.

"Help me to grow up with my children, to treat them as those of their own age; but let me not expect of them the judgments and conventions of adults. Allow me not to rob them of the opportunity to wait upon themselves, to think, to choose and to make decisions.

"Forbid that I should ever punish them for my selfish satisfaction. May I grant them all their wishes that are reasonable and have the courage always to withhold a privilege which I know will do them harm.

"Make me so fair and just, so considerate and companionable to my children that they will have a genuine esteem for me. Fit me to be loved and imitated by my children.

"With all Thy gifts, O Great Jehovah, give me calm and poise and self-control."

There is a distinct mode for hair as for hats and gowns. As the silhouette changes, new hair styles are created to suit them.

With the little curls tucked in snugly hair, loosely waved and brought down softly about the face; as in the model lower left, we have a style that is becoming alike to the young girl or to the mature matron.

The roll which has been so popular has disappeared, and the curls are pinned in close to the head, leaving the neckline free. This gives the well groomed, trim appearance to the head. Hair that is neither long nor short is difficult to manage, as many women can testify, as the ends are apt to become straggly, with an untidy effect.

The beret still holds its popularity for spring and the straw and frise velvet model, above, shows off the cluster curl bob just mentioned to advantage. It is correct to pose your spring hat at this angle.

Short hair has the tasking of many Paris hairdressers. Illustrated, lower right, is another new coiffure with the curls formerly worn low at the neck combed up following the headline perfectly. This is a delightful compromise between the long and the short of it for the young girl who spent last season growing curls. Above is the new Agnes dish type of hat, called "Romance." It is of black satin with a pink satin bow, and sets off the coiffure delightfully.

March Party Will Be Given For Group

Young people in the senior high department of First Methodist church are to attend a party Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the church parlors. Each one is to wear a "bit of green", according to an announcement made by Mrs. J. O. Haymes, superintendent, and this is to be a "March Wind" party. Teachers in the department are entertaining.

Calomel Robbed Of Objectionable Effects, At Last

Success Crowns Efforts of Pharmaceutical Chemists to Rid Popular Medicine of its Nauseating and Dangerous Qualities — Calotabs the New Name.

A triumph of modern pharmacy that is destined to bless the whole world, from the King on his throne to the humblest laboring man,—that is the opinion of druggists who have been watching the sale of the new calomel tablet that is free from the objectionable effects of the oldstyle calomel.

An occasional purifying of the system and thorough cleansing of the liver are absolutely essential to the maintenance of health, and calomel is the only drug that gives permanent results. Now that the unpleasant effects are entirely removed, the popularity of the new calomel Calotabs will be vastly increased. One tablet at bedtime, with a glass of water, that's all—no taste or unpleasantness of any kind. A good night's sleep and you wake next morning feeling fine, with a clean liver and a hearty appetite. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Beware of imitations! Genuine Calotabs are sold only in "checkerboard" (black and white) packages bearing the copyrighted trademark "Calotabs". The large, family size sells for thirty-five cents; vest-pocket size, ten cents. All dealers are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with Calotabs.—adv.

REAL SHOWDOWN ON PROHIBITION WILL BE SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—Anti-prohibition organizations concentrated efforts today on obtaining a real showdown in the promised house vote, March 14, on a motion to consider the plan for a state liquor control amendment to the constitution.

Success of the house wet block in obtaining 145 signatures to the petition which will force the issue was the signal for the drive. The association Against the Prohibition Amendment immediately announced it will work from now until election day for all supporters of a popular vote on prohibition, and against its opponents. The Crusaders, another anti-organization, warned it would consider a dry every representative who fails to cast his vote to bring the resolution before the house.

Tree-frogs sometimes borrow the insect-catching leaves of a southern species of pitcher plant and use them to catch insects for their own purpose.

An Aristocrat of Dogdom

Famed Educator Is Claimed By Death

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP)—David Jayne Hill, educator, historian, and former ambassador to Germany, died here Wednesday.

Dr. Hill has lived in retirement in Washington for many years, taking part in a limited social life but maintaining close touch with governmental and international affairs. He was 81.

Before becoming ambassador to Germany in 1907, Dr. Hill served as president of Bucknell university for nine years.

REFORM WAVE SWEEPS YOUNG ATHLETES IN 'GRAPEFRUIT LOOP'

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Long live the Texas Tech faculty! May all its children be Lefty Groveses, Helen Willses or Bobby Joneses! The college pedagogues met the other day and set a great example. One hundred and thirty of them pledged to purchase 138 athletic activity tickets for 1932-33. If a body of school teachers, in this day and time, who receive warrants instead of pay checks which in time may be cashed for one-half to three-fourths of their face value, can afford to buy those coupons, surely a vast majority of the pupils can dig up the necessary five bucks.

Yep, the price has been cut to five smackers, the ticket being good for all athletic adventures on the Tech campus next year. The basketball season alone is worth that much, let alone football. Out of a student body and faculty bordering on 2,000 the past year, only 231 purchased activity tickets. That's one of the principal reasons why we're not going to have a college track team to watch and root for this spring.

The athletic councils of Texas Tech and Lubbock High school met in a "friendly" joint session the other day and tried to outdo each other in being nice to each other. They did everything but deed each other the campus buildings and property off royalty rights. The outcome of the confab was several-fold. The high school authorities voted appreciation and gratitude for the use of the Tech field during football season and the track during track season, and wanted to do more. They made al sorts of offers, which Tech kindly and generously rejected—all except one. The high school is going to provide funds for the building of a 12-inch concrete curbing around the outer fence of the football field.

In previous years officials at Tech and high school games have incurred considerable trouble in prohibiting the free passage of fans under the wire netting which surrounds the grandstand and field. Particularly was there trouble last year when a number of games were played at night. Stakes driven in the ground along the fence at regular spaces were pulled out. The concrete curb will swallow the bottom part of the heavy fence and extend eight inches into the earth. When a "One Eye Connally" digs under that he should be allowed to watch the balance of the game.

Lubbock High school students, hereafter, will be allowed to purchase tickets to Tech games at the regular Tech student price, provided they get them at a designated point. Likewise, Tech students may see high school games at student prices. A good arrangement. Axel, a good arrangement.

THINGS YOU PROBABLY KNOW ALREADY: That only three of the big coaches who will conduct the Texas Tech coaching school are called by their right names—the others are "Pop", "Tiny", "Hunk", "Marchy", "Phog" and "Chuck"—Clyde, Jack and Charles are the un-nicknamed trio—that if Baylor and T. C. U. engage in a play-off for the Southwest Conference cage title it will be something new in that staid old league—hasn't been done before that we can recollect—A ping pong palace has been opened in Houston with a former Texas Aggie athlete as part owner and operator—Charley Barrett, veteran Cardinal scout, (who was through here recently) once rode into the country on a tractor to look over a prospect—high school scouts who go into the country these days to look over prospects are usually riding a sway-backed filly—we've often wondered why it didn't happen—the other day down at A. & M. it did—the Aggies were having batting practice, the hat slipper out of the hands of a player after a wild swing and crashed into the countenance of Coach Roswell Higginbotham—that's gratitude, after Hig led them to a conference title last year—that a college credit toward degrees will be given in football and basketball at the Tech coaching school this summer—three hours in each will be given—that two players, if they accompany their coach, may attend the coaching school for one price, that is, both for $25, the regular price for one—that in listing the district football champions of last year's Texas Interscholastic league the Fort Worth Star-Telegram repeatedly insisted upon naming Wichita Falls as the District 2 champion — it was Quanah, of course—that Prexy Anderson says that Jinx Tucker says that Paul Tyson told him that Pop Warner told him that Ernie Nevers told him that Pampa High school told him it would pay him $5,000 annually to coach the Pampa Harvesters, but Ernie had to go see a farmer about a mule about that time—Pop Warner has written that Nevers was the best all-around football player he ever coached—and Pop coached Jim Thorpe, and others of slightly less calibre and prestige—that it is against the law of the land to shoot at wild game or other game from one's automobile, but Game Warden Morgan Dickinson will not arrest any hunters in this section found thus engaged—the rabbit and prairie dog war is on.

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla., March 3 (AP)—The "grapefruit circuit" this year seems to be full of earnest young athletes in the grip of a reform wave. Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean is one of the latest to make the turn to the right, clamp the soft pedal on his loud speaking facilities and get down to the serious business of becoming a major league regular.

Dizzy came to the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals a year ago in full blast, ready to knock the boys for a row of palmetto trees. He quickly ran into trouble, had his tonsils extracted and received a railroad ticket back to Houston.

Taught A Lesson

"That," softly remarked this 20-year-old boy who may set the National league on fire this year, "taught me the lesson of my young life. I went back to work again. Then I got married. Now you can tell 'em that old man Dean's boy is here to keep his mouth shut most of the time and keep on working.

"I will tell you one big idea I have. I don't think it will be any tougher pitching in this league than it was in Texas. I don't worry about control because I have it. I don't mind admitting I have a high hard one that I can buzz through there. But here's the thing: Up in the big league a pitcher has better support and smarter. The other fellows do their share of the game. I don't figure I will have to bear down most of the time or keep pulling myself out of a hole.

"Of course it doesn't cramp my style any to be with the best club in the big leagues."

Dean won 26 games and lost ten with Houston last year. He struck out 303 in about 425 innings and showed an earned run average of only 1.53.

Oklahoma's gift to the pitching craft figures with the "breaks," he might win 20 games for the Cardinals but he isn't standing around the hotel corner these mellow evenings sounding off about it. Strange as it may seem, Dizzy is now one of the quietest, softest spoken boys in camp. He and Pepper Martin are pals.

CENTERS FACE FULLBACKS

ENDS RUN ROUGH SHOT OVER HALFBACKS IN TECH CAMPAIGN

The Centers meet the Fullbacks this afternoon in the Texas Tech football-basketball campaign, a series of cage games between divisions of football players who seek conditioning before spring training opens late this month.

Yesterday afternoon saw the Ends run rough shod over the Halfbacks, even though Captain Shorty France himself took a place in the Halfback lineup to play one of the best games on the side.

Wilson Gilmore, "The Pride of Olney" was the outstanding goal-gainer on the court. He tallied seventeen times in the 37 to 15 victory won by the wingman. Wilson and his brother B. Gilmore, were regular ends on the Picador grid team last fall.

Malcolm Martin of Lubbock, W. Gilmore of Olney, Yancy Pride of Lubbock, Matthew Hitchcock of Cameron, Harlan Howell of Brownfield, B. Gilmore of Olney, Wayne Larsen of Amarillo and one Brown, a newcomer, played in the Ends' lineup.

The Halfbacks who engaged in play yesterday were Ed McKeever of Tparta, Basil Hill of Lamesa, Professor Butts of Waco, Captain Shorty France of Levelland, L. N. Fuqua of Hamilton, D. M. McElroy of Dallas and Turner.

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—Contract for a football game between Daniel Baker college of Brownwood and the University of Texas next season has been signed, thereby completing a 10-game schedule for the Longhorns. The game will be played in Austin Sept. 24.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

JOIN IN BUNTING

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Leslie Mallon, Hugh Willingham and Rube Bressler join the Phillies in bunting today, having arrived in town when the rest of the team, and the town, was asleep.

Manager Burt Shotton grinned broadly when "Jumbo" Jim Elliott cut loose on the mound at practice and smacked the ball into Davis' mitt with a loud "pop." Davis tried to tell Burt he was making the ball pop with his glove.

"He hasn't got that much stuff," Davis said.

"Why don't you use a finger mitt, then?" Jumbo asked.

MACK LIKES ROOKIES

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Ed Coleman, Joe Bowman and Oscar Roettger, Connie Mack said today, are the best recruits the Athletics have taken south in years and they will help a lot in the A's drive for the pennant.

"They have it on the other recruits because they're experienced," he said. "Also, they have a lot more natural ability than some of the others, though most of our recruits are just young fellows hardly started yet."

He also is attracted, he said, by Willie Dumford, "Sugar" Cain who pitched today despite the bad bump he got on the head yesterday. Lew Crouse, Eddie Cihocki and Jimmy Deshong.

HAS PRIORITY RIGHTS

BILOXI, Miss., March 3 (AP)—Joe Kuhel had priority rights on the Washington Senators' first base today by virtue of a pronouncement from Manager Walter Johnson that he and not Joe Judge was regarded as the club's regular first sacker.

This support belief that Judge, the Senators' regular since 1916, is involved in a pending deal with the Detroit Tigers. Johnson said Kuhel would hold the job as long as he performed acceptably.

Both Judge and Kuhel are to reach Biloxi Sunday.

TAKES THINGS EASY

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Calif., March 3 (AP) — Burleigh Grimes is taking things easy in the Cub training camp.

The big right handed spit ball pitcher has experienced sore arms because of too much pitching in other spring drills and is working his arm into condition slowly this year. Catcher Leo "Gabby" Hartnett, who has never caught a spitball tosser, has been pestering him to cut loose without results.

Manager Hornsby today said he planned to send three youngsters of his pitching staff against the Giants Saturday—Warneke, Welch and Baecht.

SOX START WORK

SAN ANTONIO, March 3 (AP)—Lew Fonseca and his inspired band of White Sox moved into San Antonio today to start the real work of the 1932 spring training grind.

After a week of salt baths at Mineral Wells, Tex., all the players were anxious to grab bats and gloves and start fighting for positions. Satisfied that his pitching and fielding would be better than last season, Fonseca's first hunt was for hitters.

TO USE RECRUITS

BRADENTON, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Only three Cardinal regulars are in the probable lineup for the first exhibition game Saturday against the Athletics at Miami.

"Pepper" Martin, Sparky Adams and George Watkins are the three, while the other players likely will be recruits gathered from various parts of the country. Raymond Starr from Rochester, "Tex" Carleton from Houston and Southpaw "Bud" Teachout from the Cubs, all young pitchers, will be on the mound for the Cardinals, Manager Gabby Street says.

IN SLOW TAKEOFF

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Even though the St. Louis Browns have made a slow takeoff on their spring training, Manager Bill Killefer is confident his players will be ready when the long pennant race starts.

Killefer expects to see some "grand fights" among the recruits for both the infield and outfield positions open to them and for that reason thinks his baseball machine will be well braced when the season gets under way.

TAKING NO CHANCES

PALO ALTO, Calif., March 3 (AP)—Charlie Gehringer, star second baseman of the Detroit Tigers, will not be on the first team Manager Bucky Harris sends to San Francisco next week to open a seven game series with the Seals.

Gehringer's arm apparently is entirely recovered from an ailment which forced him out of the line-up last season, but Harris is taking no chances.

HEILMANN STILL HITS

TAMPA, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Harry Heilmann has not lost his hitting ability and so rejoicing rules in the camp of the Cincinnati Reds.

He faced real pitching for the first time since the 1930 season yesterday in his first workout. He lashed out a dozen drives to the garden and later said his efforts had bothered his right arm and wrist not at all.

BOBBY CONFIDENT

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 3 (AP)—No matter how many doubts there may be as to how well Hack Wilson will do with the Brooklyn Dodgers this season, there is one who is sure he will make good. That is his six-year-old son, Bobby.

While Hack was discussing whether his slugging marks would benefit from the short right field fence at Ebbets field, Bobby broke in, "Yes, and my pop will hit fifty home runs too. Won't you pop?"

SHOULDER "O. K."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Allen (Dusty) Cooke, spare outfielder of the New York Yankees, has stamped the "O. K." sign on his injured shoulder which was operated on a few weeks ago.

Cook gave his wing its first real tryout yesterday, making some long and accurate throws from the outfield.

McGRAW IS PEEVED

LOS ANGELES, March 3 (AP) — John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, is a bit peeved about his first baseman, Bill Terry.

Terry received permission to remain away from the camp until March 1 but he failed to appear on that date.

"Terry should be here," McGraw said. "He is a big man and needs lots of work."

HAS 'EM GUESSING

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Manager Bill McKechnie, of the Boston Braves has got them all guessing. He has intimated he might make Wally Berger a first baseman. "Then again," McKechn'e says, "I might start the season with Art Shires at first."

Maranville isn't a certainty in the short stop position either for Manager Bill might start Bill Urbanski at short.

"The race is wide open," Bill says.

RIVALRY STARTS

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 3 (AP)—Eddie Durham and Wiley Moore of the Red Sox pitching staff are engaging daily in debates on their hitting proclivities. They're out to out-hit as well as out-pitch each other this season and the annual Durham-Moore pitching argument has developed into a torrid debate with the whole camp joining in. Wiley bettered Eddie's batting average last year but Eddie is under the impression it was "only an accident."

PIRATES LEARN

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 3—Pittsburgh's Pirates are studying the art of stretching hits into extra bases. With Manager George Gibson as the instructor everybody has learned to run the sacks with the definite stride of a hurdler.

The first training camp game, scheduled for today, was postponed because of the absence of Pie Traynor, captain and third baseman. He is in Los Angeles where his wife recently underwent an operation, but is expected back tonight.

ADVANTAGES SHOWN

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 3 (AP)—The advantages of "chain store" baseball are becoming more apparent daily to the associated management of the Cleveland Indians and the Toledo Mud Hens.

For example, Eddie Montague is the first choice Indians' shortstop and Bill Knickerbocker is the leading shortstop of the Hens. But if Montague should fall short of major league worth, he would still be available as a tower of strength for the Toledo team, while Knickerbocker and Mike Bellande, recruit, would then be in line for try-outs with the Tribe.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 3 (AP)—Percy H. Collins of Chicago, six times a title-holder, led the field in the national amateur 18.2 balkline billiards championship tournament today with three victories and no defeats.

Three players deadlocked for the lead with Collins at the end of the second day were defeated yesterday but he came from behind last night to win from Ray V. Fessenden of Madison, Wis., western champion 300 to 230 in 31 innings, aided by a high run of 80. Edgar T. Appleby of New York, the defending national champion, Wallgren and Dale H. Goslin of Los Angeles, Pacific southwest title holder, suffered their first setbacks yesterday.

Mercy Spurs Hunt

CHARLEROI, Pa.—Police are looking everywhere for the miscreant who stole a sheep from the Charleroi-Monessen hospital—but their search is inspired more by mercy than by a desire to see ujstice done. The sheep had been inoculated with cancer germs in a laboratory test and if the thief eats it he will die.

Makes New Gav

ELKHORN, Wis.—The mighty arm of Speaker Garner has shattered so many gavels enforcing order on the floor that Alfred Olson, wood worker, felt his craftsmanship was challenged. If he breaks the black walnut masterpiece Olson is taking him he will indeed have proven himself a lusty thumper, Olson believes.

May Spell Misery

LANSING, Mich.—The generosity of Mrs. Ethel Phillips, register of deeds, may spell misery for five gentlemen who became benedicts yesterday. Free licenses were the order of the day at the courthouse because of leap year day and Mrs. Phillips distributed rolling pins as wedding gifts.

Composition Lost

NEW YORK — If Mozart's missus had been a little more solicitous about her hubby and less inclined to indulge in extra-marital flirtations the world might have had a lot more of the great composer's works, according to Mrs. Marcia Davenport, daughter of Alma Gluck. Mozart, she contends, had at least one theme more in his system but it died a-budding because his wife was not domestically disposed, and Mozart's temperament demanded care.

More Like Sniffle

MT. HOLLY, N. J.—Sniff, sniff. Troopers Armano and Erwin did just that as a truck passed them on the highway. What they sniffed prompted a peek. A still, first portable outfit of its kind on record, was bubbling merrily inside the truck. Three Philadelphians accompanying the machine sniffed also when brought into court. But it was a different kind of a sniff—more like a sniffle.

Depression Victim

DETROIT—If you were Pete, the aquarium turtle, you might have real reason to complain about "hard times." Pete is to be converted into soup merely because the city can't afford to have the sea water which is necessary to his existence brought from Boston any more.

"Wrong Number"

SEATTLE — Red engines screamed down the street and came to a stop before the hotel from which the alarm had been sounded. Firemen feverishly unrolled hose and dashed into the lobby.

"Where's the fire?" they asked of a lone guest watching them curiously.

"Fire? There's no fire here," the man yawned. "I asked the operator to get me a taxi and I guess she dialed the wrong number."

Has Bright Idea

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Deputy Joe Law had a bright idea. He would fool bandits by concealing in a loaf of bread the $30,000 of county funds he had to take to the bank. Heavily escorted, he lugged the loaf to the cashier's cage, ceremoniously whacked the parcel open, then nearly collapsed. He had brought the wrong loaf.

Rolling Pin Is Marrying Mayor's Gift to Brides

Here are wedding gifts that ought to make a "hit." They're oak rolling-pins that Mayor James A. West of Paulsboro, N. J., gives to couples at whose marriage he officiates. His advice to the bride is to use the "weapon" at her discretion throughout her married life.

WHOLESALERS TO ATTEND MARKET

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce announced Wednesday that 36 wholesalers had signed agreements to send representatives to a fifth semi-annual West Texas wholesale clothing market here Monday and Tuesday.

Letters were mailed Wednesday to South Plains clothing retailers inviting them to attend. Names of the wholesalers who had agreed to attend were given. A dance is planned Monday evening in Hotel Lubbock. The chamber of commerce will give complimentary tickets to wives of out-of-town merchants present.

The wholesalers are sending men here from Dallas, Los Angeles, Kansas City, St. Louis, Fort Worth, Boston, Sherman, Chicago, Milwaukee and Chattanooga. They include six ready-to-wear firms, nine millinery distributors, four general line dealers, six shoe firms, seven robes, pajamas and underwear firms, two hosiery and two novelties distributors.

A three-act faked radio stunt—in which the actors remained behind a screen and their voices were broadcast—was given. Speakers included Dr. W. C. Holden, Tech instructor; Mrs. William Dingus, James H. Goodman and Charles Reynolds. Edgar Shelton, who arranged the program, was toastmaster. A letter of greeting from President H. Y. The mascara furnishes protection from the brilliant glare of the sun on the tennis courts at Miami Beach, Fla., and Jimmy, a crack player, is just about to participate in a game.

C. F. Drexel Has Joined The Big Swing To U. S. Tires

C. F. DREXEL
Manager of New Tire Store

Cecil R. Cagel
Asst. Manager

A residential citizen of Lubbock for seven years, C. F. Drexel, above, announced today the formal opening of his U. S. Rubber Co. tire shop at 1112 13th street here. General Manager Drexel will be assisted in his business by Cecil Cagel as assistant manager.

Mr. Drexel was formerly affiliated with the Citizens National bank here. Mr. Cagel has been in the automobile tire, gas and oil business for six years, four of them in Lubbock. He was formerly identified with the Super Service station on Broadway and Avenue M.

"Quite naturally," Mr. Drexel stated, "I expected to develop a good clientele among my personal friends here, but I should not disappoint my friends by not selling a product worthy of their confidence and purchase I invite all of them to examine the new U. S. tire at my new place of business."

Mr. Drexel states that he has made quite a study of tires and tire workmanship and construction in the past few months, and that he is convinced that his big swing to U. S. Tires will prove successful. U. S. Tires, says Mr. Drexel, is the greatest American tire value considering dollar for dollar values.

Quick Facts About U. S. Tire Superiorities

1. Big, Heavy Latex-treated Web Cord Construction, treated with Liquid Latex from the plantations of the U. S. Rubber company, the World's Largest Producer of Rubber.
2. Tempered Rubber, Exclusive with U. S.
3. Deep, Wide, Tough Tread.
4. More Anti-Skid Mileage
5. Priced as Low as the Lowest.

AUTHORIZED U. S. TIRE WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DISTRIBUTORS

(By U. S. Tire Service)

Nationwide capitulation toward the scientifically modern automobile tire as motor car travel increases has led to the establishing of the Drexel Tire Service company in Lubbock.

Located at 1112 13th street, the latest distributing and service point for U. S. Rubber Company tires and tubes in this section announces its formal opening today. C. F. Drexel, for seven years a resident of Lubbock, is manager of the new plant, and Cecil Cagle is assistant manager.

Assisting in the opening of the Drexel Tire Service house is C. W. Jones, U. S. Rubber Company representative of Oklahoma City. Commenting upon the big swing to U. S. tires, Mr. Jones said that distributors and sales for the tire has trebled during the past twelve months in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle, which is his authorized territory.

"With high-speed driving practically universal today, tires are being built." Mr. Drexel said in commenting upon his product, "with greater strength and resistance, so that the motorist gets far more wear and service than ever before in the history of the automotive industry. The U. S. tire has been built to take care of every emergency.

"Tempered rubber, hailed as the greatest advancement in tire construction since the development of balloon tires, is the latest contribution of the U. S. Rubber company to the progress of automotive transportation. The formula, thoroughly covered by patents, is a closely guarded and exclusive asset of the U. S. tire," he continued. Tire improvement has progressed so far that today the tread on the tires of a light car wears less than one fiftieth of an inch in 1,000 miles of driving."

The American motorist today, according to Mr. Drexel, travels 22½ times as far for the amount expended on tires as he did in 1913. "Thus," he explained in discussing economic conditions and the value of the dollar, "it cost the motorist $18 for tires per thousand miles back in 1913, while today he drives the same distance at a cost of only 80 cents."

Thought For Today

Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed.—Genesis 9:6.

Every unpunished murderer takes something away from the security of every man's life.—Daniel Webster.

Plenty Of Work?

PLENTY OF WORK?

The difference between depression and prosperity means tragedy to many millions of people—and yet, amazingly enough, the actual gap between the two states is exceedingly narrow.

A writer in the current Magazine of Wall Street quotes figures compiled by the American Federation of Labor which show that there is in the United States today enough work to employ every worker in the nation—for 35 hours a week.

That is to say, if a seven-hour day and a five-day week were suddenly installed in every industry, unemployment would literally vanish. There is, it seems, plenty of work in America for everybody—if only it were divided up equitably.

The normal working week in most industries is 48 hours, scaling down to 44 in many cases. Between that and the 35-hour week there is no great gulf. And yet all that small gulf is enough to throw something like a quarter of all our wage-earners out of work and put long columns of red figures in the ledger of innumerable businesses.

Before the depression came we had several years of high prosperity. During those years something might have been done to pave the way for hard times. Working hours might have been readjusted, for instance, to spread work out over a larger number of workers. The high profits that were being made could have enabled industries to do this without greatly diminishing the individual worker's income.

But, as the writer in the above-mentioned magazine points out, "Too small a proportion of the earnings of 1919-1929 went into consumption. Too large a proportion went to swell the unspendable incomes of a minority of machine owners. Too much was ploughed back into additional capital investments to swell producing facilities which had already run beyong the consuming abilities of the mass population."

Now, however, we must look ahead to future opportunities, not back to ones that were missed. What are we going to do to narrow the gap? The man who presents a sane and logical program will do his country a tremendous service.

A Good Idea

The New York legislature is considering a new "obscenity statute" which looks as if it would make an excellent law. It would put the responsibility for the sale of an obscene book on the publisher instead of on the reteller, as is the case now; and it would not only free book-sellers from the harassings of official and unofficial snoopers, but would probably prove a more effective weapon against improper publications than the present law.

The book-seller has to take many of his books on faith. There are 10,000 or more printed annually; how can he go through them all? In many cases he decides to play safe whenever any small group protests the sale of a book—and thus makes possible an unofficial but highly effective censorship.

The new law would put it entirely up to the publisher, and would compel him to stand back of every book he issued. The arrangement would be more logical and more effective.

Judging by what the coaches say, the changes in the football rules will revolutionize the game and leave it entirely unchanged.

Every man should expect to live through four depressions, the economists say. But most of us don't care to have the four rolled into one.

Charles Schwab says he is confident of the future. What a difference in the confidence of a man a few millions can make!

That Girl on Broadway says naughtiness is not more prevalent than it used to be. It's just less sneaking.

If a man builds a big business he's a sinister influence. If he doesn't he's a failure.

* * *

A LUBBOCK business man, strolling down the street yesterday, ran across a friend looking glum and woe-begone.

"What's the matter, big boy?" asked the first gent. "Why so sad?"

"I said something to my wife and she wouldn't speak to me for a week", was the return.

"That's too bad", the friend observed. "What did you say?"

"That's the trouble", his companion observed. "I said it a month ago and now I can't remember how to say it again!"

WHILE Alfred E. Smith hasn't much of a chance to secure the 1932 Democratic nomination as President, most close observers of national politics are of the opinion that the last standard-bearer will play an important part in the nomination. He may, in fact, select his successor almost single-handed if he goes to the Chicago convention with as many delegates as his friends say he will.

This being the case, it behooves other candidates to keep on a friendly basis with the former New York Governor for his enmity might turn out to prove nothing short of political suicide.

Latest trick of the opponents of Speaker John Garner has been to present the Smith camp with the voting figures of Uvalde county, Texas, in 1928.

As might be expected, those figures are not offered by Garner opponents to gain him the support of Governor Smith.

MR. GARNER was overwhelmingly the favorite in his own Uvalde county in the last national campaign but Mr. Smith, his party's chieftain, didn't fare any better there than he did in Texas as a whole.

Uvalde county gave Mr. Smith 747 votes but to Mr. Hoover they presented the whacking sum of 1,224 ballots.

In other words, Garner opponents are trying to make Mr. Smith believe that "Uvalde Jack" elected himself and, on the Presidential derby, took the stand of "may the devil take the hindmost".

Those who know Mr. Garner's history as a stalwart defender of democracy know that the inference is false, that he stuck with the party, lock, stock and barrel.

But the inference his enemies are drawing is not beneficial to the Texan, particularly among the hot supporters of the New Yorker.

IN fairness to Speaker Garner it must be remembered by Smith friends and foes alike that no earthly power could have carried Texas for Mr. Smith in 1928. Take Lubbock county, for instance.

There are several men in this county who are popular enough with the people to get almost anything they want.

But do you think they could have carried Lubbock county for Mr. Smith?

Mr. Garner was in the same position in Uvalde county. His enemies in hinting that he could have carried his county for the New Yorker, are taking unfair advantage of the Speaker.

As editor of Washington's leading morning paper she, has risen to the eminence which permits her to ride in a private railroad car.

Incidentally, she is the only editor on record who has had money enough to ride anything more than a day coach during the past 18 months!

WHILE the Five Year plan and the whole shooting-works of Soviet Russia may fall under the characterization of noble experiments, some hard-headed business men in this country don't think it is noble enough to take any chances on not getting their money.

Big concerns selling manufactured goods to Amtorg, which is Russia's purchasing agent and business representative in this country, have worked out a scheme to protect themselves in a big way.

Most of Amtorg's purchases are large—involving hundreds of thousands of dollars—and on their purchases they pay half cash and sign notes for the balance. These notes usually extend over two or three years.

Some big concerns doing business with the Soviets take the cash then sell the notes at a very, very heavy discount—sometimes as high as 25 percent—to brokers or financiers willing to take the chance on collections.

Thus far Amtorg has kept its payments up in a most satisfactory manner but the big business fellows are still not convinced.

They're still selling the notes at a heavier discount than any South Plains banker ever heard of.

Bravery, Ability And Sincerity Is Combination That Is Uncommon Among Job-Holding Politicians Of Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 3—Bravery, ability and sincerity is a combination not common among the job-holding politicians of Washington. It is likely to mean defeat in the next election when the constituency finds out about it. But there are a few such men here who manage to stay on the job.

Dutcher

Congressman Charles Robert Crisp of Georgia, usually called "Judge" or "Charlie," is one. Lately he has been getting a vast amount of attention because he became acting chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee when Chairman Collier of Mississippi took sick.

He is in command of the task of devising methods of raising new taxes amounting to billions of dollars.

Where Are His Enemies?

You find, in checking up that Crisp doesn't seem to have any enemies at all. Republicans who have wrangled with him in years past quickly start telling you that he has more brains than any other Democrat in the House and even that he is the "backbone" of the House Democrats. Anyway, Crisp is certainly the "brains" of Ways and Means.

He might have been Democratic floor leader this year, if, when party policy seemed to demand a northern man, he hadn't withdrawn in order to avoid a bitter intra-party fight. He would do a lot for his party because he is sure the country's welfare depends on it.

Now he serves as a party leader without a title and often advises Speaker Garner and Leader Rainey. He is famous as a presiding officer and parliamentarian, he himself was House parliamentarian under Speaker Champ Clark. This session he has been of exceptional value in pulling people out of bad parliamentary jams, on the floor as well as in committee.

A Genius For Essentials

He has a keen business sense and a genius for getting at essentials. He studies deeply, works hard, and is familiar with a wide range of governmental problems.

He is conscientious and fair-minded, with a liking for compromise and conciliation, though he sometimes flames into "righteous indignation." More progressive than most southern members, he doesn't let his district or sectional viewpoint obscure his national viewpoint.

Probably the biggest thing in his career was his service on the World War Debt Funding Commission. He presented all the debt agreements to the House, explaining them clearly and effectively.

It was Crisp, outstanding expert on procedure, who forced through the rules liberalization by which 145 members may now seize bills in committee and bring them to the floor.

When drys objected that it would mean a prohibition vote, Crisp, politically dry, said he favored votes on prohibition as well as other important issues. Of course he is a low tariff man. He now urges taxes on gas and electricity.

What Farm Relief Means

His human qualities attract everyone—from elevator man to presidents. He is under medium height, with serious lined face and quiet dress. Smokes cigarets, lives in an apartment, says farm relief to him means getting someone to rent his 100-acre cotton-vegetable farm at Americus for a nominal sum.

Takes society moderately. Favorite sport: Playing with 4-year-old granddaughter "Ginger" and younger grandson Charles Robert in sandpiles or swings under his pecan trees at home.

His Father Was Speaker

He is 61 years old. His father was Speaker Charles Frederick Crisp. Other Crisps were Shakespearean actors. The present Crisp was elected first to fill the unexpired term when his father died. He was then city judge at Americus from 1900 to 1911. When Champ Clark was looking for a parliamentarian an old negro messenger who had served Speaker Crisp told him what a smart boy Charles Robert was. Clark sent for him and he held the job until his election to Congress, in 1914.

For 12 years no one in his district has ventured to run against him.

His recent strong speech for a balanced budget, in which he warned of the stiff taxes which must come and scorned possible political dangers, brought an extra-ordinary outburst of applause which demonstrated the respect which everyone has for him.

COMMONEST HEADACHE

Migraine or sick headache is one of the commonest of all human diseases. And it appears in a thousand different forms.

A great many people have migraine all their lives without having any notion what is the matter with them, sometimes they call their attacks bilious attacks. Just to make a diagnosis helps these people because often they know they are not going to die. And to realize that their mysterious visitor has a name and is known to medical science and that thousands, even millions, of people have the same thing, is comforting.

Dr. Clendening

The first characteristic feature of migraine is that it is periodical. Every once in a while for no apparent reason the victim begins to feel the approach of the disagreeable sensation which may amount to prostrating pain and for twenty-four hours or more is in its clutches. Then it goes away gradually or suddenly and for days, weeks or months, as the case may be in different individuals, everything is calm and serene.

The sensation is usually in the head although the whole body shares in it. It is variously described as a pressure or a pain, classically but not invariably, on one side of the head. And the words "sick headache" are well chosen because the stomach is also upset. There is nausea and even vomiting early in an attack. One patient said she felt as if every inch of the digestic tract—stomach and intestines—was paralyzed. In some people the digestive disturbances overshadow the headache—abdominal migraine, or "bilious attacks."

The most bizarre feature of the disease is that in most cases the victim knows an attack is coming on before it arrives. The sensations which precede the headache are known as the aura. Sometimes they are flashes of light before the eye—zig-zag streaks. Sometimes the aura is a general feeling of depression. With some people, on the contrary, the day before the attack there is an abnormal feeling of elation. One man told me that before his headache comes on he feels as if some splendid good luck were just ahead; that everything is freighted with an unearthly significance—even the signs on the billboards seem to have a hidden meaning he never saw before. When it is all over he can't remember the meaning, but he sees it at the time. He sees into the center of things and understands why the universe was created. And all the while he knows that before long his head will be throbbing like a trip hammer.

The certain people who are picked out for the visits of this strange malady seem to inherit it. Through in some cases the hereditary connection cannot be traced, it appears in so many that it must be assumed it operates universally. In families in which both parents were subject to migraine, 240 out of the 318 children had migraine.

The treatment of migraine will be considered tomorrow.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

R. W.: "Please give me some idea what the symptoms of breast cancer are. Every place I read about it, it warns of a lump, but if there is not a lump of any kind but a terrific pain, like a sharp knife being jabbed into the breast, and when the pain leaves the right arm becomes numb on the under side, is that a sign of cancer of the breast?"

Answer: Pain is not a prominent early sign of cancer of the breast. If pain is present, without any lump or change in the consistency of the structure of the breast, it would not indicate cancer. The symptoms you describe suggest the symptoms of angina pectoris.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

A Perfect Gorilla

NEW YORK, March 3—Strange, indeed, are many of the off-stage tales of theater folk.

There's the one, for instance, about Allen Jenkins. Jenkins made a large hit just the other night in one of the newer Broadway shows. He appeared as a Chicago gorilla imported for a New York gang job.

Critics and audience gave him a great big hand. Here was the "toughest" gent on the stage; an almost perfect characterization! He looked like a thug in his make-up and he acted like one. Jenkins started home feeling pretty good.

Meets a "Pro"

Jenkins lives up town, somewhere in the hundred-and-thirties! To enter his apartment he must pass through a darkened lobby. As he swung open the door, something hit him. When he regained consciousness he was lying chilled and hurt on the floor. His overcoat was gone; so were his watch and money and ring and tie-pin.

On the first night that he had been a stage bruiser, a real live yegg had robbed him.

Another Gabriel Gone

It's strange, too, how death seems to stalk the actors who have been playing the role of the "Angel Gabriel" in "Green Pastures."

The first one to have this role was crossing the street, hurrying to the theater, when an automobile sped around the corner. Unlike Gabriel, no horn was tooted. The actor was knocked to the street and was dead within a few days.

An understudy took the role. The show went on tour. And just the other day they brought back from Cincinnati the body of Samuel Davis, who had been playing Gabriel during the road tour.

He's Persistent, Anyway

For some years, radio studios have employed a couple of chaps who could imitate birds and cats and dogs.

There was one fellow who kept coming around trying to get a chance, but various inventions had come along to supply noises, and when noises were needed there were always the recognized experts.

But studio folk felt sorry for the gent who kept coming back and back. So they finally gave him a chance to pound a gong. But the gent's thespian pride got the better of him.

The first time he went on the air he couldn't resist the temptation to show how good he was at imitations. Not only did he whang the chimes, but he also barked like a dog.

There was nothing to do but fire him.

Wants Original Role

The episode was considered so funny that a playwright gagged it up and put it into a new show, "Wild Waves."

When it came time to cast the show, a number of types were rounded up for casting. Well—you've guessed it—the gent who had figured in the fantastic adventure showed up trying to get his original role.

Jusa a Voice

There's another show in town wherein the voice of a telephone operator comes booming through a radio loudspeaker. The actress is not seen.

The part is played by a girl who started with a small summer stock company up country, but upon reaching New York suffered from the not unusual malady of stage fright. In order to accustom herself to the stage she sits back of the wings and taps the role of "a voice."

The Prince of Wales is teaching boxing to his young nephews. Now some wisecracker will call him the Prince of Whales.

The TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

SAID Scouty, "This is like a dream. Imagine floating down a stream, all in a big umbrella. Gee, to me it's heaps of fun. When we were flying through the air we were not bound for anywhere, but now we're bound for any place this quiet stream may run."

"Well, as for me," said Duncy, "I would rather be up in the sky. If our umbrella springs a leak, we'll all get wet, no doubt. But, maybe things will turn out swell. Right now, of course, we cannot tell. Umbrellas, so I've often heard, will keep the water out."

The water then began to grow real choppy. Coppy shouted, "Oh I think I'm getting dizzy. Come, let's paddle up to shore. We all can paddle with one hand until upon the bench we land. This territory's strange to us. We'll find out what's in store."

"Oh, no," cried Scouty. "Don't do that! Sometimes your hunches are real flat. As long as we are safe let's try and be real satisfied. If we lean out we'll surely tip and that will end this thrilling trip. I see no reason why you have to kick about this ride."

So, on they went for quite a spell. They'd rise up on a great big swell and then sink slowly down again. It was real sport, they thought. All of a sudden Duncy said, "Oh, look, you Tinies! Look ahead! We're coming to a falls and in it we soon will be caught."

Before they had a chance to think, they found they were right at the brink. Then something funny happened that relieved their sudden scare. Right o'er the falls they thought they'd drop, to take a rather splashy flop. Instead of that, however, they sailed right out in the air.

(The Tinies meet three funny men in the next story.)

Kidnaped Lindbergh Heir Reported Located Today

description. He was described as about 40 years old, short of stature, weight about 150 pounds and with dark hair. He wore dark clothing and a derby.

Col. Lindbergh and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, made it clear that their interest was solely with their stolen child and was not concerned with capture and punishment of the kidnapers. The never talkative flier maintained his silence throughout last night, leaving all announcements of the progress of the hunt to state police and the governor's office at Trenton.

It was quite clear, in statements made by those in close touch with him, that Col. Lindbergh is ready and eager to negotiate for the baby's return and to meet the kidnapers' ransom demands.

Police continue to guard the contents of the note presumed to have been left on the nursery window sill by the abductors. Even the figure $50,000, generally understood to be the amount specified as ransom, was without confirmation from the Lindberghs.

There was indication that if the Lindberghs expected the baby to be returned to them, it would not be during daylight hours; for state troopers indicated with the changing of shifts at 6 o'clock this morning that restrictions against newsmen probably would be lifted during the day. This was taken to mean that there was no thought that the kidnapers would attempt to make the return, if one is immediately contemplated, at least until after dark.

HUNDRED THOUSAND ENGAGED IN SEARCH

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—A conservative estimate placed the number of peace officers and co-operating citizens engaged in the hunt for the Lindbergh baby at 100,000.

The whole eastern half of the United States and Canada became a field for the nation's greatest man-hunt. Thousands of automobiles were stopped, while bridges, ferries, railroads, steamship lines, interurban buses and other methods of travel were carefully guarded.

TRAGEDY REVEALED IN MOTHER'S LOOK

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3 (AP)—Troopers on the Lindbergh estate catch a fleeting glimpse now and then of a face peering from the window of the nursery from which the Lindbergh baby was stolen.

It was white and haggard. It is the face of Mrs. Anne Lindbergh, the child's mother. To the troopers both wives and children of their own it is the most harrowing part of the tragedy.

FINGERPRINTS ON AUTOMOBILE STUDIED

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A child's fingerprints on an automobile abandoned at Hyattsville, Md., the night Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., was stolen from his crib were photographed today by Washington police to be sent to New York authorities for checking with the prints of the missing infant.

Police of Washington and the surrounding districts meanwhile searched rooming houses and hotels for a man and woman who left the car, and failed to return for it yesterday morning as they had said they would.

BABY'S CRY HEARD IN INTENSIFY HUNT

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 3 (AP)—A rum runner's story of passing a 30-foot cruiser on which a man was seen and baby's cry was heard sent coast guard craft racing along the Jersey seaboard today in the latest phase of the Lindbergh baby kidnap case.

The rum runner, whose name was not revealed, told his story to Thomas Harris of the Deal station. Superintendent O. R. Sands immediately broadcast the alarm to all coast guard craft in the region.

AVIATORS OFFER TO HELP WITH SEARCH

ST. LOUIS, March 3 (AP)—Aviators at the Lambert-St. Louis flying field who were associates of Col. Lindbergh when he was an air mail pilot, have offered their assistance in the search for his kidnaped son.

Two companies operating airlines out of St. Louis instructed their pilots and employes to hold themselves in readiness to give assistance should the search extend into their territory.

INTENSE SYMPATHY SHOWN IN ENGLAND

LONDON, March 3 (AP)—Intense sympathy and indignation throughout England over the kidnaping of the infant son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was reflected today in the newspapers, which featured the account in columns of cabled details and pictures.

"It is not too much to say that the baby were a member of the British royal family the abduction would hardly have received greater prominence in the press.

KIDNAPING REPORTS DISPLAYED IN FRANCE

PARIS, March 3 (AP)—The French pride to which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has been a hero since he conquered the Atlantic in 1927 is eminently displayed reports of the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

Some newspapers published column-length articles and many added expressions of sympathy for the grieving parents.

PENNSYLVANIA HELPS IN KIDNAPER SEARCH

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 3 (AP)—A appeal to every resident of the state to join in the search for Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., kidnaped son of the famous flyer, was made late yesterday by Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the Pennsylvania state police.

CUNNING VETERANS OF CHICAGO'S CRIME WARS AND CAPONE TO HELP

CHICAGO, Mar. 3. (AP)—Men who match wits daily with the underworld—cunning veterans of Chicago's crime wars—and the man known as the city's most notorious gangster have offered their aid to track down the kidnapers of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, jr., and restore him safely to his famous parents.

The celebrated Secret Six, nemesis of kidnapers, bank robbers and other denizens of gangland, last night expressed a desire to assist through its head, Col. Robert Isham Randolph, for the last two years a leader in the civic drive on crime.

The state's attorney's office was reported to have delegated Pat Roche, the ace of its investigators and recent captor of an alleged midwest kidnaping ring, to fine-comb the Chicago area for possible clues to the abduction.

And from his prison cell in the county jail, "Scarface Al" Capone, the deposed gang lord, announced he would pay $10,000 for information leading to the safe return of the Lindbergh boy and the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers.

"It's the most outrageous thing I have ever heard of," said Capone, "who is under an 11-year prison sentense for income tax evasion. "If I were out of jail I could be of some real assistance."

In a copyrighted story written especially for the Associated Press, Col. Randolph advised that payment of the reported $50,000 ransom demand made upon the Lindberghs seems to be the only possible procedure under the circumstances.

"After the baby is safely back at home," he wrote, "there will be time to think of apprehending the persons responsible. Until then, the child's life is too precious to run risks."

MANY SEARCHERS THINK KIDNAP VICTIM SECRETED AMONG HILLS

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3 (AP)—A feeling that the Lindbergh baby may be secreted in the broken country somewhere near the Lindbergh home still persists among many of the searchers.

Airplanes zooming overhead and hunts among the gullies, caves and thickets of the neighborhood still go on, although the search already has been extensive.

There are many hiding places like the "Rock House", a cleavage large enough to conceal a man, in which John Hart, a revolutionary hero, was said to have hidden from redcoats.

The entire mountain area was photographed from the air with "flying speed" by a special aerial photographing fleet of four planes. The result may have some value if the kidnapers took the child into the mountainous country.

The fleet, flown by pilots who recently photographed the Mississippi for the federal flood relief program, delivered strip maps which were being "built" into a special mosaic map last night at the Curtiss-Wright aerial photography studios in New York.

SOURLANDS—EERIE HILLS WHERE LINDBERGHS LIVE—HAS LEGENDS

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 3 (AP)—The sourlands—that group of eerie and uninhabited hills on the Mercer-Hunterdon county line in which nestles the home of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, is notorious in local folklore as the scene of strange and wierd legend.

Charley Sutphin, who has lived in the region all of his 70 years, will tell you what he has seen and heard.

On cold, still nights when the frost is in the ground Charley says he has heard the roars of Stook the butcher and the frenzied shrieks of Stook's girl as she feels her lover's fingers on her throat.

Near the road at the Buttonwoods corners, resting on a flat, blue-jingler rock, Knitting Betty tirelessly knits. Charley has seen her. She vanishes when anyone comes too close. Her haunt is now part of the Lindbergh's backyard.

Other things has Charley seen and many more has he heard. Once this place was the devil's own stronghold and when he wanted to build a wall to separate the east from the west he flew to Maine for material. Back he came, soaring over New York and the bay across Navesink, turning where the Raritan flows, slyly winking at a parson's daughter in Bridgewater. Up and on to Neshanic, and there his apron strings broke and the rocks came tumbling down.

And Charley himself has seen the devil's doorway he built near the place where the Lindberghs make their home; and the rocks called the Three Brothers, standing over against the skyline on the hill named for the hermit Pero who lived nearby in a cave.

Sam Cruse, negro and racial brother of Charley, was shot to death in Princeton basin, and Dory Cruse was fatally beaten in 1873. On certain nights, legend has it, their manes return to earth and stalk the living along the lonely roads. And high in the desolate reaches of the stony hills Pete Nixon's wraith floats along to the saddening music of his fiddle, in vain quest of the head of Ben Peterson removed with a shotgun in 1877.

Up from their graves in the Sourlands come the restless souls of others who were looking for their ancient friends, the rye and applejack distillers at Dawlsamills in the village of Amwell, at Drake's in Woodsville, at old Peter Dilts' place in Post Town near the devil's half-acre, and at Larison's Corner, Ringoes, Neshanic and Van Liew's corner and Mount Rose.

KIDNAPERS OF LINDBERGH CHILD FACE LIFE IMPRISONMENT IF CAUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

The kidnapers of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh's baby face a maximum penalty of life imprisonment if captured and convicted but eight states have provided a death penalty for crimes such as theirs.

They are Alabama, Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Nebraska, Texas and Virginia.

Montana provides a minimum penalty of one year, with no maximum specified, and the sentences provided in the other states ranges upward to life.

Here are the maximum penalties provided by each of the 48 states:

Alabama death, Arizona life imprisonment, Arkansas 21 years, California 20, Colorado seven for each person kidnaped, Connecticut 30, Delaware death, Florida life, Georgia 7, Idaho 25, Illinois death, Indiana life, Iowa life, Kansas 10, Kentucky death, Louisiana 20, Maine 20, Maryland 21, Massachusetts 10, Michigan life, Minnesota 40, Mississippi 10, Missouri death, Montana no maximum, Nebraska life if injury done, death, Nevada life, New Hampshire 30, New Jersey life, New Mexico 99, New York 50, North Carolina 20, North Dakota 20, Ohio life, Oklahoma 10, Oregon 25, Pennsylvania life, Rhode Island 10, South Carolina life, South Dakota 15, Tennessee 20, Texas death, Utah 10, Vermont 25, Virginia death, Washington 10, West Virginia 10, Wisconsin life, Wyoming 14.

WOULD SET KIDNAPING PUNISHMENT AT DEATH

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—Kidnaping children would become an offense punishable by death in New York State under the terms of a bill which the legislature, aroused by the Lindbergh kidnaping in New Jersey, will receive today.

Senator John J. McNaboe, New York Democrat, announced his intention to introduce the measure applying to the kidnaping of all persons under 16 years old. Other kidnapings would be punishable by life imprisonment.

METHODISTS PRAY FOR SAFETY OF CHILD

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 3 (AP)—All regular proceedings at the general missionary council of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, were suspended yesterday while the 400 delegates and bishops prayed for the safety of the missing Lindbergh baby.

There were many tear-dimmed eyes as heads were bowed while Dr. W. O. Cram, of Nashville, led the prayer. It was some minutes after the prayer before the council was composed and proceeded with regular business.

SPECIALIST SAYS OVERFEEDING AND INFECTION DANGERS ARE POSSIBLE

NEW YORK, Mar. 3. (AP)—Overfeeding and pulmonary infection are the chief physical dangers which Charles Augustus Lindbergh jr., faces, a well-known child specialist said.

"A child of 20 months is much hardier than an infant," explained Dr. E. M. Hawks of polyclinic hospital. "Assuming that his captor or captors know nothing of scientific feeding or care, it is quite possible that the child, if healthy, could go for an indefinite time without serious harm.

"Undoubtedly the Lindbergh baby lived under a disciplined schedule backed by good scientific authority. Even if this schedule were to be entirely disregarded, in my opinion the child would not suffer serious harm, providing the disrupted program was not carried on too long.

"All babies, of course, can not be fed alike. As every face is different, so is each stomach a law unto itself.

"I would say in this particular case that the danger lies not in the lack of proper food as much as it does in the fact his captors may do too much overfeeding."

One of the greatest perils facing the baby, the doctor said, is the danger of a pulmonary infection such as grip or even pneumonia, especially considering the fact the child already had a cold.

If the child is being kept in an unventilated place and is breathing foul air, it is likely his resistance soon would be lowered, it was pointed out.

THREE ARE INJURED

MALVERN, Ark., March 3 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson of Greenville, Texas, and J. W. Red, of Little Rock, were injured seriously today in an automobile collision six miles west of Malvern.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 3 (AP)—The cotton market today opened very active but prices failed to respond to very firm Liverpool cables. On the basis of those cables, prices should have opened ten points up but instead opening trades showed no change to two points gain. All active months eased off one point after the start. The unsatisfactory course of prices was due to heavy profit-taking and hedge selling at the opening.

The market rallied after the offerings were absorbed and May traded up to 7.20, July to 7.34 and Oct. to 7.52, or 2 to 5 points above yesterday's close. This slight advance attracted fresh selling and near the end of the first hour the market eased off again one to two points from the highs. The market appeared to be full of selling orders.

The market continued to ease most of the morning owing to rather general hedge selling and selling by the co-operatives. May ultimately dropped to 7.11, July to 7.26 and October to 7.45, or 7 to 9 points down from the early highs and 4 to 5 points under yesterday's close. Around noon the market was a shade steadier, having recovered 2 points from the lows. Easier stocks induced some of selling during the morning.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, 2 points up to 1 point off with buying influenced by firm cables for the early contracts and offset by some southern selling for later deliveries. Orders were evenly divided.

Houses with foreign trade connections were among early buyers and the demand increased slightly after the firm opening of the stock market. The southern selling continued however and after selling up to 7.19 for May and 7.55 for October, or 2 to 4 points net higher, the market sagged back to about yesterday's closing quotations.

Maintenance of the Bank of England rate may have been a disappointment to some of yesterday's buyers here, but this seemed to be offset by the relatively steady Liverpool market. Private cables attributed the firmness there to general buying and covering promoted by the improved financial situation and said the large inquiry for cotton cloth was maintained.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, March 3 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: March 7.04; May 7.17; July 7.31; Oct. 7.50; Dec. 7.68; Jan. 7.73.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: March 7.06; May 7.16; July 7.33; Oct. 7.53; Dec. 7.69; Jan. 7.76.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP)—Fresh upturns in grain values early today accompanied higher quotations on securities at New York and on wheat at Liverpool. Introduction of a senate bill at Washington to impound farm board wheat at less than 81 cents for No. 2 hard also was construed as bullish. Opening at a shade to 1-2 to 5-8 higher, Chicago wheat futures afterward held near the initial limit. Corn started unchanged to 1-4 up and later kept firm.

Negro Is Charged In Slaying Here

Joe Stapleton, 22-year-old negro of Brownfield, was charged with the murder of Will Morrison, his father-in-law, in a complaint signed by Will Earnest, deputy sheriff, and filed in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court this morning.

Morrison was fatally wounded by a bullet from a revolver in The Flats, local negro quarter, Sunday night. He died at the door of a hospital. Arrested early Monday at Brownfield, where he was a janitor at a bank, Morrison was returned here and made a signed statement to Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney.

The fatal shooting was attributed to a family squabble.

PURSE IS STOLEN

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—The forward march in share prices came to a halt today as the stock market demanded harder fare that the faint indications of business improvement as yet provided.

A further flurry of short covering in the first few minutes started the session off with a bullish flourish but selling was quickly attracted by the higher levels and buying dwindled. An early upturn of 1 to 2 1-2 points was soon lost and by midday some shares showed moderate losses.

Union Pacific, for instance, opened up 2 1-2, then slid back 2 Auburn had another sinking spell, showing a loss of 8 points before support appeared. American Telephone rose 1 1-2 points, fell back 2 1-2, then recovered partially. U. S. Steel rose a point, then slipped back. Peoples Gas lost 3 points. The list showed some signs of stiffening in the early afternoon, when prices generally were close to yesterday's final levels.

FIGHTING CEASES

statement said Chinese government leaders there had called for summoning all energies to be "turned toward resisting Japanese aggression."

To Expose Invasion

"In view of the national crisis," the Chinese statement said, "all energies should be turned toward resisting Japanese aggression and the improvement of news transmission facilities so that the facts concerning the Japanese invasion may be exposed."

Peace talks which were to have been held aboard the British cruiser Kent today apparently fell flat.

Japanese military officials said their forces suffered 700 casualties during the last three days of fighting and they estimated the Chinese losses at 10,000, saying they found 3,000 Chinese dead on the battlefield between Kiangwan and Tachang.

During the battle at Woosung guns on nine Japanese war vessels in the river blazed continuously, pouring a steady rain of high explosive shells on the battered forts. At least two dozen field artillery guns and a squadron of bombing planes joined their thunderous fire to that of the warships.

JAPANESE HOPEFUL OF LEAGUE PARLEY

TOKYO, March 3 (AP)—Japanese officialdom today faced westward to look more hopefully on the procedure of the League of Nations at Geneva, following an announcement that hostilities at Shanghai had ceased.

The announcement of cessation of fighting was made only an hour or two before the assembly at Geneva convened to work out a permanent settlement of the Sino-Japanese trouble.

The privy council and the cabinet, which have been at loggerheads over calling a special parliamentary session to approve an appropriation for expenses of the Shanghai expeditions, also patched their differences during the afternoon and the special session of parliament was decided on for March 16.

Regarding the league assembly session, officials tonight took the position that the league asked to have the fighting at Shanghai stopped and that since it is now stopped, the way should be paved for authorizing a round table conference of all the interested powers at Shanghai to discuss the future status there.

LEAGUE TO TACKLE FAR EAST PROBLEM

GENEVA, March 3 (AP)—Delegates of fifty member countries of the League of Nations met here today in an extraordinary general session of the league to attempt to solve the Sino-Japanese problem in the far east.

The assembly adjourned shortly before noon to meet again late today, after electing M. Paul Hymans, Belgian foreign minister, president.

At the opening of the afternoon session Ambassadors W. W. Yen of China and Tsuneo Matsudaira of Japan were expected to present the cases of their respective governments.

GENEVA, Mar. 3. (AP)—Negotiations for an armistice at Shanghai have broken down, Dr. W. W. Yen, the Chinese spokesman, told the League of Nations assembly this afternoon.

Members of the American delegation to the world disarmament conference sat as spectators in the assembly hall as the meeting convened.

AMERICA WATCHING MEET WITH INTEREST

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Today's meeting of the league assembly at Geneva to consider the crisis in China was watched with intense interest by the state department.

Immediate action by the assembly was not expected, as both China and Japan must be given a hearing and responsibility for the complications in Manchuria and at Shanghai must be fixed by the representatives of the 54 nations which make up the league membership.

When a decision is agreed on by a majority vote of the assembly it must be submitted to the 14-member council of the league. Japan and China are included in the council but will be barred from voting, the unanimous approval of the remaining 12 being needed before any assembly recommendation can be put into effect.

Interest Is Keen

Interest in official Washington is particularly keen in the attitude the council may take toward employment of the economic boycott, should the assembly find Japan responsible for the troubles in China.

The United States has repeatedly let it be known it does not favor the boycott, considering this a step toward war. The United States has based its protests to Japan on the nine-power treaty, guaranteeing territorial integrity of China and the Kellogg-Briand pact for the outlawry of war.

FINGERPRINTS ARE FOUND ON OLD POTTERY

Four distinct fingerprint patterns were found by George Eubank, Lubbock police identifications officer, on fragments of pottery unearthed in New Mexico by J. H. Rhea, 1906 Seventeenth street. More than four pieces bore fingerprints, some of which could be identified by the naked eye.

Two of the patterns were of women, and the workmanship, as well as the finger ridges imprinted, was more delicate, Eubank said.

Rhea said he found the pottery bits, as well as other curios and relics, 90 miles west and north of Magdalena, and near Adams Diggins postoffice. After traveling as far as a road extended, Rhea hitched a slide to a team and continued onward over packed snow. He camped in an isolated spot about six weeks. He estimated the fragments were 1,000 to 1,500 years old.

"It got down to 40 degrees below zero while I was there," he said, "but the only thing I used my overcoat for was a pillow."

The group also asked for one continuous state highway number. The resolutions committee was headed by E. L. Pitts of Lubbock. About 70 persons were present. PARTICULAR

FORT WORTH, Tex.—To get married at the age of 71 is enough gamble without having to cope with pet superstitions, John M. Whitley believes. Consequently when he applied for a marriage license, he noticed the clerk was entering his application on page 413 of the record book. He asked the clerk to turn over the next page, and the clerk obliged him. Whitley married Mrs. Alice Ratliff.

R. C. MORRISON MAKES TALK

FORESTER SPEAKS AT POST WEDNESDAY ON BEAUTIFICATION

(By Staff Correspondent)

POST, March 3—Four cardinal points in the "ideal community" were outlined Wednesday afternoon by R. C. Morrison, city forester of Fort Worth, loaned to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for a series of city beautification meetings in this section in an address at the Palace theater.

Mr. Morrison stressed the necessity of cleanliness, civic leagues, a comprehensive plan and an interest in regional development, as the main points in a city program. He urged the use of native flowers and shrubs in the development of the home, the city and region.

Waste Is Cited

"The curse of our past has been its waste" he declared in urging the prevention of the enlargement of a city's area until all of the present area has been occupied. Most towns, he said, could really be built on one third of their present area, with fewer streets and consequently a reduction in city costs of paving and maintenance.

Following the talk, illustrated with lantern slides, Mr. Morrison was the guest of Mrs. John B. Slaughter and her son, J. B. at the U-Lazy-S ranch 12 miles south of the city. He inspected the rock garden and other work of Mrs. Slaughter and said it was one of the best examples of the use of local flowers and shrubs in the development of a home.

Tech Debaters Win Over New Mexicans

By a vote of 2 to 1, Texas Technological college debaters defeated a University of New Mexico team Wednesday night in the chemistry auditorium on the campus here.

The Tech debaters, Heber Ellsworth and Clyde W. James, won the match on the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the several states should adopt a plan of compulsory unemployment insurance." The New Mexico debaters were E. L. Mayfield and Peter McAtee. Mrs. Virgil Wolf, a member of the high school faculty, Supt. Charles D. Davis of Plainview, and a member of the Plainview high school faculty were judges. H. C. Pender of Tech presided.

Wets Merge

James Beck (top)
John Linthicum

Republican and Democratic wets in the house of representatives have settled their differences and have named a joint committee to merge the scores of anti-prohibition bills into one measure. They plan also to prepare a joint resolution for submission of the eighteenth amendment to the states for amendment or repeal. Congressmen James Beck, top, of Pennsylvania, leader of the G. O. P. wet forces, and John Linthicum of Maryland, who heads the Democratic wets, will have prominent places on the joint committee.

Man Is Sought In Oil Lease Racket

DALLAS, March 3 (AP)—A man believed to have defrauded a large number of persons in many states with promises of quick wealth was sought by postal inspectors today.

They failed recently in an attempt to arrest him after uncovering what appeared to be a scheme to entice persons to buy shares in an oil lease in a county where there is no active production.

HOWELL RITES SET SUNDAY

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN DIES UNEXPECTEDLY AT WASHINGTON

Funeral services for Mrs. L. D. Howell, 29, formerly Miss Blanche Bacon of Lubbock, who died unexpectedly soon after 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon while asleep at her Washington, D. C., home, probably will be conducted here Sunday afternoon.

Relatives received a telegram from Mr. Howell, a former member of the Texas Technological college faculty, this morning. He said he and Miss Virginia Bacon, a sister of Mrs. Howell, would accompany the body to Lubbock from Washington. They expected to leave there by train at about 4 o'clock this afternoon and to arrive here at 9:50 o'clock Saturday night. Rix Funeral home will supervise arrangements here.

Mrs. Howell, a daughter of John F. Bacon, Lubbock capitalist and city finance commissioner, had lived here virtually all her life. A physician attributed death to an acute heart attack. Miss Bacon said on telephoning relatives here of the tragedy late Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Howell were married here last September 3.

Here A Month Ago

Mrs. Howell and her sister went to Washington less than a month ago, meeting Mr. Howell in Dallas. He had been on a trip through the South for the United States Department of Agriculture, where he is in the bureau of agricultural economics, while his wife was visiting here. It was thought by members of the Bacon family last night that the change in altitude might have occasioned the heart attack.

Has Relatives Here

Mrs. Howell is survived here by her father, J. F. Bacon, and brother, Charles, at 1632 Broadway; an uncle, W. A. Bacon, and an aunt, Mrs. W. R. Adams. Other relatives may come here for the funeral.

The Bacon family is one of the best known in this section. J. F. and W. A. Bacon came to this section in the latter part of the nineteenth century as sheep ranchers and later went into the cattle business. Mrs. Howell, who was a native of this county, spent her girlhood on the Bacon ranch near where Idalou is now located. The family has been living in the city for several years.

She was a graduate of Ward Belmont college at Nashville, Tenn., and of the University of Texas where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. After finishing college, she taught in the Lubbock schools and later served as secretary to Dean Margaret Weeks at Texas Technological college.

Miss Bacon had accompanied her sister to Washington for a visit during the spring.

NEW YORK HOUSE APPROVES OF TWO WET RESOLUTIONS

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—Party lines failed to hold all of the Republican majority in the New York assembly Wednesday, enough of them joining with a solid Democratic group to pass two anti-prohibition resolutions.

Twenty-four Republicans lined up with 56 Democrats to memorialize congress to repeal the 18th amendment and restore liquor control to the states. The repeal resolution conformed to Roosevelt's declaration for replacement of the 18th amendment with another to permit state jurisdiction.

New Speed Ace

A few minutes after he had brought his plane to a stop at Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., Captain R. C. Moffat, ace of the U. S. Army Air Corps, is shown modestly wearing his newly-won laurels. Flying at an altitude of 25,000 feet and using oxygen, owing to the rarity of the air at that height, Captain Moffat covered the 382 miles from Dayton, Ohio, to the capital in one hour and twenty-six minutes, setting a new record.

THREE DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICAN WILL BE LISTED

LINCOLN, Neb., Mar. 3. (AP)—Three Democrats and a Republican probably will be listed for president on the primary ballots in Nebraska this year.

Petitions for Speaker John N. Garner of Texas, and Governor William Murray of Oklahoma were filed Wednesday and for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York last week.

The Republican preferential candidate is former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, for whom petitions were filed today.

All the petitions carried more than 500 signatures required and the acceptance of the candidates is not necessary. They may decline the honor however.

An Omaha Democrat filed the Garner petitions, which bore 2,285 names.

Filings in Nebraska close at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

MAY ASK HOUSE TO SEND AFTER DRAMA CRITICS

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—If the dramatic critics he labels "wisecrackin gsmart alecs" aren't willing to accept an invitation to tell congress all about it, Representative Sirovich will ask the house whether he should send after them.

The New Yorker, whose avocation is playwriting, yesterday permitted himself another outburst against the dramatics whom he holds largely to blame for the present financial condition of the legitimate stage.

He left a patents committee hearing to talk with newspaper men about some of the "witty" answers critics had made to an invitation to tell the committe what they think of the legitimate theater.

"They are wisecracking," he said. "Well, if they don't appear March 14, I'm going to make a speech on the floor of the house and ask the house what to do about it."

Sirovich insisted the "wisecracks" weren't hurting him because he has a "good sense of humor." If the critics refuse to come on invitation, they "will be defying congress," he said.

He reiterated that personally he has no grudge against the critics even if they did adversely write up a play of his called "Schemers" some time ago.

Students Observe Independence Day

The signing of the declaration of Texas independence 96 years ago was to be commemorated by high school students at convocation this afternoon.

Throughout this week public school students are writing themes and making a special study of Texas independence. The high school assembly was to be directed by the school's history department, said M. H. Duncan, superintendent.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech, said his students were to have a general convocation April 21, San Jacinto Day. The three Lubbock banks were closed Wednesday in observance of the Texas Independence day.

Crop Loans To Be Talked At Confab

Terms of federal crop loans will be discussed at a mass meeting of farmers here next Wednesday and no applications for loans will be received before then, D. F. Eaton, county farm agent, said.

Owen W. Sherill, administration officer under the recently enacted reconstruction finance act for agricultural production, is to speak. After the meeting if application blanks are available, the Lubbock county committee will begin receiving applications, said Mr. Eaton.
