Officer Reports Progress In Control of Drug Sales

Progress in attempts of law enforcement officers to control use of drugs in Aransas County was reported by Deputy Sheriff Mike Webb at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club May 14 at Ramada Inn.

United Fund Elects New Officers

Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., was elected president of Aransas County United Fund for 1975-76, and the Rev. Tom McClung was named chairman of the annual fund drive at a meeting of directors May 13 at Duck Inn. Lola L. Bonner was elected vice president, and Bob Mosier, vice president and treasurer.

Bill Ratliff, retiring president of the Fund, reported a total of $12,406.45 had been raised in the recently completed 1974-75 campaign whose goal was $11,500. This was the first time since the 1970-71 campaign that the goal has been achieved.

Ratliff credited the success to last-minute efforts of members of the board of directors who personally made many contacts with prospective givers. A letter of appreciation from the board was presented to Mayor Falk who was chairman of the campaign.

The board voted that money on hand be distributed to participating agencies which also had received a distribution last March.

In addition to officers, the following board members were elected for the 1975-76 year:

Virginia Shivers, John P. Mitchell, Jr., James H. Sorenson, Jr., Mildred McDonald, Robert Konvicka, Alma Hunt, Betty French, Jack McDavid, L.E. Casterline, David H. Crooks, Ruby Hart, The Rev. Walter Clark, Curtis Goodman, Joe Hugenberg, Loyce Landrum, secretary, Bill Ratliff, Mary Burke and Bill Janacek.

It will be held at the Rockport Lion's Club barbecue pit in Navigation Park near the Turning Basin. Please plan to attend and help the Fire Department.

drugs in the county is about half what it was a year and a half ago, but has been growing recently. Marijuana continues to be the most widely used drug, especially among students in local schools, he said. Hard drugs were sold rather openly on the streets of Rockport a couple of years ago, but continuing enforcement efforts have made pushers very cautious and today they will not deal with anyone they do not know personally, according to Webb, who said about 90 per cent of the drugs in Rockport come from Mexico.

The county officer spoke highly of the cooperation between the Rockport policemen and the deputy sheriffs. He also described a plan under active consideration to set up a special unit with one policeman and one deputy sheriff assigned more or less exclusively to drug law enforcement.

Webb asserted that effective law enforcement in the area of drugs depends to a great extent on cooperation of local residents from whom officers receive helpful tips about suspicious activities. Even though the informer may not see immediate results from the information he supplies, it often is very helpful in building a case against suspected drug pushers, Webb said.

The effect of drugs on other types of crimes is very evident in the area of robberies, according to Webb who said most burglaries are tied in with the use of drugs. He estimated that it takes from $180 to $200 a day to support a hard drug habit. As an illustration, he recounted that a recent raid in search of drugs uncovered no drugs but a house full of stolen articles.

Anti-Pollution Speech Topic

Speaking to Rockport Lions Club at their regular meeting on May 15, Jack McDavid, president of Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District Board of Directors, reviewed recent action of the Texas Water Quality Board which has brought one step nearer to realization of the possibility of better water pollution control for Aransas County, including a county sanitary sewage system.

McDavid, other members of the Board, and representatives from Aransas County and the City of Rockport attended a public hearing conducted by Texas Water Quality Board at Corpus Christi City Hall on May 12.

Purpose of the hearing, McDavid said, was to develop evidence of public support for designation of an area, including parts of Nueces, San Patricio and Aransas Counties, for a study of needs to be conducted under direction of Coastal Bend Council of Governments.

If approved, this study should provide information for Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District to make formal application for federal and state funds to construct a countywide sanitary sewage system.

Discussing plans for the annual July 4 Lions Club Barbecue, Chairman Robert Konvicka recommended to the Club an increase in the amount of beef, chickens and sausage to be barbecued by approximately twenty-five per cent in order to accommodate the public demand. Since July 4 is on Friday and the Annual Art Festival is on Saturday, large crowds are expected.

Lion John McDavid, Jr. Chairman of the annual broom and mop sales, reported total sales through May 10 in the amount of $1,979.96. Profits from the Broom and Mop sales and the Annual Barbecue are used to purchase glasses for elementary school children who need vision correction, to support a Cub Scout Pack, and a Little League baseball team.

Also, profits are used to send eligible crippled children and diabetics to a two weeks Crippled Children Camp in Kerrville at no expense to children or their parents.

The Blood Bank has delivered more than the usual number of whole blood and packed red cells to area hospitals for Aransas County residents. To facilitate the replacement of this blood the mobile unit is being brought to Rockport. A minimum of thirty donors per day are needed to bring the mobile unit to any given area.

The Blood Bank will accept all types of blood from healthy donors over 18 years of age. All blood donors may designate that their donation be credited as a replacement for a certain individual or friend or they may choose to leave it on deposit for future designation.

Bicentennial Celebration Plans Taking Shape Here

Preparations for a year-long, community-wide celebration of the nation's bicentennial in 1976 got underway at a recent meeting of interested residents of this area with Rockport's Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr. presiding.

Mayor Falk read a number of directives from state and federal bicentennial commissions and it was decided to adopt "Rockport Bicentennial Commission" as the official name of the local organization which will direct planning of the celebration. It was pointed out that Fulton, Lamar and all other adjacent communities will be actively involved in the program.

Dr. J. Martin Shaw was named general chairman, Mrs. Ardath Rogers, co-chairman, and Mrs. Dorinda K. Price, secretary. Bobby Price agreed to serve as youth coordinating chairman.

Next step is to have Rockport designated an official bicentennial city by the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission in Washington. To accomplish this it will be necessary to submit information to the federal body on plans for the local celebration. This will be done during June in anticipation of approval in time for Rockport to be awarded the designation and presented with an official Centennial flag, which hopefully would be raised at city hall on July 4, 1975, according to Dr. Shaw.

He urged that every local organization submit suggestions or specific plans for its participation in the centennial celebration by June 2, either in person to members of the commission or by mail to P.O. Box 1776, Rockport. Suggestions from individuals also are wanted, he added. Dr. Shaw can be reached by telephone at 729-5451, and Mrs. Rogers at 729-6515. Suggestions may be tentative at this time with more complete planning later, Dr. Shaw explained.

Local organizations are asked to designate a member as its representative on the Rockport Centennial Commission. Activities of participating organizations may be some current program which can be continued as a part of the Centennial celebration, or some entirely new venture. Mentioned at the initial meeting of the Commission as possibilities were Lions Club annual barbecues and fish fries, the annual LULAC parade and a possible costume ball sponsored by the Woman's Club of Aransas County. The committee in charge of the first annual Rockport SeaFair in October already is planning to tie in many of its activities with the local Bicentennial celebration.

Although no fund drive is planned in connection with the Bicentennial Commission's activities, some money is needed to pay for stationery, stamps and other office expenses as well as post office box rental and other incidental costs. Contributions already have been pledged by Rockport and Fulton Lions Clubs, Rockport Rotary Club, Live Oak State Bank and First National Bank. Checks made payable to Rockport Bicentennial Commission should be sent to P.O. Box 1776, Rockport.

"It is our hope that every organization and every individual in this area will play some part in celebrating the 200th anniversary of our nation's founding," declared Dr. Shaw. "The Rockport Bicentennial Commission will do its level best to help make this possible," he added.

County Oil Production 66,544,265 Barrels in 1974

Aransas County, which has had recorded production since 1936, last year produced 66,544,265 barrels of oil at the rate of 2,357 barrels per day. Production in 1974 boosted Aransas County's production total through the end of the year to 66,544,265 barrels.

In 1974, some 31 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil, with Anderson and Kleberg counties dropping below that mark and off the list compiled last year. The top seven, all with production in excess of 51-million barrels, retain generally the same order as in 1973 with one notable exception: Yoakum County has moved into the No. 2 spot ahead of Ector County.

Gregg County, the only Texas county to produce more than two-billion barrels of oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative production total through 1974 of almost 2.5-billion barrels.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day began—as a national observance—during the Civil War, first in Mississippi (Columbus and Vicksburg), Virginia (Winchester) and other states, and by 1865 was observed nationally. That year the Adjutant General of the U.S. Army suggested graves be decorated throughout the country.

Christianity, idealistic and moral principles and philosophies notwithstanding—unless a free nation contains men willing to fight and die, if necessary, for country and freedom, liberty cannot long survive.

These are the thoughts which should engage us on Memorial Day, 1975. And to all who responded to their duty when their country called, and who gave their lives, the nation is indebted. It is too much to expect each individual soldier, sailor or airman to pass individually on the rightness or wrongness of the foreign policy of his government and act accordingly. This would produce only chaos. Rather, a nation must necessarily depend on brave men who believe, as Robert E. Lee did, that duty is the sublimest word in the English language.

TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE magazine is one of the best of its kind in the United States and Canada.

We know that this is true, because it has made a habit of winning first place in the competition held each year by the American Association for Conservation Education (AACI). This is an organization of conservation agencies of states and provinces of the U.S. and Canada.

We would suspect that this is true even if no such competition were held. So many people tell us that the magazine is the best, there is bound to be fire where there is so much smoke.

Sometimes I am guilty of forgetting that the magazine is one of my best reference sources. I was asked to write something about the little black bugs that have been making life miserable in coastal areas of the state — the bugs we call lovebugs. I looked everywhere for an article I had read about these little pests but couldn't find it, until another information officer told me to look in the April 1974 TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE. I found it there.

The following is exactly the way that Neal Cook, editor of the magazine, wrote it: "Lovebugs: Most people along the coast have seen two little black bugs flying coupled, with one leading and the other being towed along. These bugs often reach such high densities as to clog radiators, smear windshields and make automobile travel difficult. From Florida, where they also make pests of themselves, comes interesting information about these creatures, known to most people as lovebugs but to scientists as Plecia Nearctic. They are native to the Gulf coast from Florida to Yucatan and Central America; the larger bug which does the leading is the female; and they don't bite, sting or do much damage other than flying around in great numbers, primarily in May and September. Prior to World War II, they were not a noticeable pest in Florida. But after the war, development there (presumably the same information fits Texas) brought new pastures, highway rights-of-way and drained marshes which created favorable lovebug habitat. The bugs bred and fed and the populations exploded. Because of the magnitude of their range and because they are not serious pests, the bugs are almost uncontrollable. Citizens living along the coast may as well resign themselves to the fact that they are going to have to just live with these seasonal outbreaks."

While it is true that we just have to put up with the bugs, we do not have to go without a monthly copy of TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE magazine. For just $3.15 for one year or $5.25 for two years you can subscribe to the magazine, and any Parks and Wildlife Department employee can get you a subscription blank. Try it — You'll like it.

THE HOME TEAM

"Now that's what I call playing center field!"

Two golfers stood on the tee at Live Oak Country Club, ready to start their match in the fourth flight consolation bracket.

The fact they were in the fourth flight made it clear they were not par shooters, and the fact they were in a consolation match meant they both had lost a previous match.

But in their minds, each considered himself a tiger, capable of crushing his opponent.

The contestants were Roy V. Rogero, owner and publisher of the Rockport Pilot, and John R. Kinsey, the editor. Both were surprised at the absence of a large crowd of spectators anxious to watch this memorable match.

After warming up and swinging their drivers in that smooth swing that characterizes Sam

Snead's swing, the match started.

Rogero won the first four holes with sparkling sixes. In each case, Kinsey lost by just one stroke.

Kinsey later said, "I had to keep in mind that I was playing my boss and he is getting up in years, so I didn't want to upset him."

Later in the match, Kinsey won three holes in a row, but it was too late. Rogero emerged the victor.

Quered by golf writers and TV cameramen, Kinsey said, "I was just a bit off my game today, but don't count me out. I'll beat that guy some day even if I have to cough when he's putting."

The Auxiliary was formed to help the fire department and furnish safety equipment, or food and refreshments while they are on fire calls.

The Auxiliary is strictly a working organization - not a social club; if you would like to help, please attend the meetings. You are always welcome.

Certify Early, Best Service

Certify early to get the best service on GI Bill checks is the advice offered to the veterans not now enrolled in college but who intend to attend summer school or the fall term by A.A. Hunter, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director.

Hunter said the Veterans Administration can have the veteran's first GI Bill waiting for him at his school at the start of the school term if he completes his certification early.

Veterans can contact the campus VA "Vet Rep" or the VA Regional Office in Houston.

Most of the 35,045 veterans who attended college during the 1974 fall term are already certified to receive their benefits as they continue into the summer or fall terms.

VA's main concern is the veteran starting college under the GI Bill for the first time or those who attended previously and are starting again this summer or fall. They must be certified for school benefits if they want an advance GI Bill check when school starts next semester.

Retirement Leisure Time

College Station -- Abundant leisure time in retirement can be a golden opportunity or a deadly burden--and early planning can make the difference, Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education - aging - specialist, observed this week.

"Early recognition of special problems and opportunities in retirement years, then systematic planning ahead can help insure a more problem free, satisfying way of life, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System, said.

"In years preceding retirement, consideration should be given to retirement income, housing, continuing education and health.

"Older people, as they approach retirement, often have only a superficial understanding of the difference between an evening/weekend marriage and a 24 hours a day/seven days a week marriage," she said.

Some observers view retirement as a waste of human resources and a denial of satisfactions which come from working.

Others view it as an achievement, creating a dividend of leisure years for the individual to realize objectives of prime value to him.

"But whatever view is held, most agree that without early planning, many older people are often poorly prepared to make wholesome, satisfying use of the abundance of time retirement puts at their disposal," she said.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Mother nature has many faces. In spite of all her gentleness there is a destructive side as well. Consider, for example, the tornado, one of the deadliest phenomena in nature.

Many of these violent storms occur during the springtime, when the earth is waking from its winter slumber. The destructive, whirling wind may strike almost without warning and seemingly at random, sweeping everything out of its way with a whirlwind tail that moves in a narrow path across the land.

At one time, about all that people could do to guard against being killed or injured by a tornado was to be on the alert for tornado weather and to move underground-into a storm cellar-when conditions warranted.

While oldtimers had to rely on experience to assess the possibility of a tornado, electronics plays a major part in today's alert system. Radar storm warning sets are used in almost all major cities in the state. These stations are connected by teletype and radio. Any station is able to instantly apprise all other stations of tornado activity and the path of a tornado. Then, all communities in the vicinity of the twister can be warned of the tornado's approach through normal channels of communications, or through special warning devices.

The Texas State Department of Health has joined with other state and federal agencies and medical associations in efforts aimed at disaster preparedness. It is ready to go into action in any emergency.

If worse comes to worst, and a tornado does strike a community, the State Health Department can provide vaccine, public health engineering, medical emergency nursing know-how, and other vital services, to stem the threat of disease or further complications while disaster relief is underway.

One of the best examples of public health action following a highly-destructive tornado occurred in Lubbock, five years ago.

Although storm warning was in effect, the tornado which actually hit the city appeared out of nowhere-forming just above the downtown section at 10 p.m. One of the first things knocked out was the emergency warning system.

With much of Lubbock's communication system knocked out, the health department staff and other city personnel were on their own in following the emergency procedures that had been established in advance. Vaccines and other medical supplies were dug out of the demolished health department building for transfer to an emergency clinic.

State Health Department engineers and other personnel arrived on the scene early the next morning. Food and drug investigators were assigned to Lubbock immediately and within a week had disposed of all spoiled foods and drugs. A large supply of tetanus vaccine was sent by the Health Department laboratories. Rapid insect control activities were vital because of the large amounts of rain.

As in all similar disasters, the one great lesson learned was the value of being prepared.

Over the years, the National Weather Service has developed a system to accurately report severe weather conditions. The public is informed by radio and television advisories.

For tornado activities, the terms used are "Tornado Watch", indicating the possibility of a tornado; "Tornado Warning", meaning that a tornado has been reported in the general area; and "Tornado Alert", meaning to act fast, that a tornado is known to be in the area.

What can you do in the face of a tornado alert?

If it's daylight, or if you can see the funnel advancing toward you, you may have time to move out of its path. If you have a storm cellar, you should move into it.

If you can't get out of the way and you don't have a storm cellar, you can still protect yourself.

In homes, open some windows and then keep away from them. Get to the center of the house, or to a basement if there is one.

In schools, move to pre-arranged shelter areas. Post a lookout if it can be done safely.

In shopping areas, go to designated shelter areas.

In mobile homes, evacuate the area. If no shelter is nearby, leave the trailer park for low protected ground.

In open country, move away from the twister's path. If there isn't enough time, lie flat in the nearest depression with hands shielding your head. If heavy rains accompany the twister, be alert for flash flooding.

Boy Scout Barbeque On May 31

Jim Cruser, general chairman for the annual Boy Scout Barbeque, has announced that the date for this annual affair has been set for Saturday, May 31 at the Rockport Lion's Club Pit. Serving will begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 2 p.m. For a donation of $2.25 you will receive a generous plate of wild hog, chicken, beans, potato salad, bread and drink.

After all bills are paid for this affair, the remaining money is distributed between troop 280, 281 and 49, based on the pre-ticket sale.

Tickets have been placed in the hands of all the Boy Scouts in these three Troops and the boys are covering the area selling these tickets.

It is hoped that you will buy one and come and get yourself a real meal. Various local Scouters have been assigned their job from the securing of wood to the dishing of the food.

It has always been a successful event and bids fair to repeat. . . . See you there!!!

Ruth Langham Day Success

"Ruth Langham Day" at the Concern Center and open house last Friday and Saturday was considered a real success. Approximately 150 people attended this open house, drank a spot of coffee or a cup of punch and enjoyed some home-made cookies.

The outdoor craft sales were interesting and some real bargains were offered to the public.

Ruth Langham, who helped set up this Center originally, came down from Austin and was present all day Saturday greeting her friends.

Mrs. John L. Leslie, chairman for the event, was assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Esther Decker, Mrs. Zollie Glass, Neva Sorenson, Evelyn Townsend, Lois Harrington, Lonie Rhineland, Mary Clark, Van Morgan, Agnes Reasor, Dorothea Montgomery, Pearl McNickle, Cleo Townsend, Bernice Parker, Alice Morrison, Carol Winkler and two of her Young Homemakers, Lena Evans and Mrs. Rose Willets.

Zollie Glass and John L. Leslie decorated the Center inside and out. Also pot plants and flowers furnished by Estle Turner helped decorate the place. Floral centerpiece was furnished by the Blossom Shop. Delicious cookies made by several ladies were served.

E.R. ALLEN DIES

Eugene Russell Allen, 73, died May 16 in a Corpus Christi hospital after a sudden illness.

He had lived in Rockport since 1969. Survivors include his wife, Leone; two sons, E.R. Allen Jr. of Fenton, Mich. and Jerry Allen of Arlington; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Carpenter of Manton, Mich., and four grandchildren.

Marshall Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Fickett Paints For A.A.R.P.

Regular meeting of A.A.R.P. was held on May 14 at Recreational Building at Airport beginning with coffee at 9:30 a.m.

Zollie Glass, president, presided and called the meeting to order. After the invocation by Paul Hoover there was the pledge to the flag and happy birthday sung to all with May birthdays. Guests were welcomed. There were 10 visitors and 47 members present.

The program was given by Ed Fickett, owner of Potpourri, who painted an outdoor scene in watercolor in about 30 minutes, giving tips as he went along.

Reports were made by various chairmen. Neal Gage, in his report, said that in the last 10 months, since the Council on Aging had been instituted here, they had served 141 people -- many being taken to doctors and hospitals in Portland and Corpus Christi -- and two sent to Galveston.

Bill Kelso is doing a fine job in the new Coastal Bend Employment Service and has placed about 50 people in jobs in the last 3 months, since it was set up. Anyone needing employment or needing someone to work, should call the Center who will put them in touch with these people, or come by.

Next meeting will be a picnic on May 28 and will be at 10:30 a.m. at the same place. Senior citizens visiting in the community are most cordially invited to attend the meetings while here.

Sheryl Wells Wins Honor

Sheryl Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wells of Holiday Beach, has for the fourth year received the National Pin of Recognition as a member of the National Association of Student Musicians. Her piano teacher is Mrs. Helen McCollough of Aransas Pass.

Sheryl attends the George Ware Fulton Elementary School. She will complete the fifth grade this year.

SOFTBALL NEWS

Last Year's champion Sea Gun Softball Team took second place in the Rockport slow pitch tournament May 17.

Sea Gun took second with wins over the Baptist Church, High School Coaches, Bandits and the Broncos from Corpus Christi.

In the finals the Broncos slipped past Sea Gun to capture first place trophy.

This still leaves Sea Gun in first place in Rockport league.

The league wishes to thank everyone for the turnout in support of the tournament.

Miss Pam Hutchins, 1975 Miss Shrimporee, helped Mrs. Emma Sowerbutts celebrate her 96th birthday at Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center.

Nursing Home News Items

Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center activities for May 12-18:

Last week at the Center was another one of the weeks that will never be forgotten by our residents and staff as well.

It got off to a good beginning Monday morning with "Arthur" from City Barber Shop of Ingleside coming over and cutting all of our men's hair. "Thank you," Arthur.

Of course every day is begun with exercise and kickball.

Tuesday afternoon a group of ladies representing several churches in the area who I have named "The Do-gooders" came out for an afternoon of games.

Wednesday evening at 7:00 the Acteens of the First Baptist Church of Ingleside, along with their sponsors, Suzie Morris and Janet Blasingame, came over and presented their monthly program and serving refreshments to all in attendance.

Thursday morning began early with our ladies getting their hair fixed for our big weekend.

At ten o'clock the First United Pentecostal Church group came out for their program.

Friday evening at 7:00 Wayne Jones of the Aransas Pass church of Christ came out to show films about the Bible.

Also, on Friday evening with the help of Zeke Flores and Gilbert Ritz, our maintenance engineers, we began decorating the living area, the dining area, and the nurses' circle for our open house.

Several of our residents helped in various ways on this project.

Then Saturday morning, we began to put the finishing touches on our Center and at one o'clock we were ready for guests to start arriving.

Attending the guest book was Mrs. Florence Stewart, mother adviser of the Order of the Rainbow Girls. Assisting her and also serving punch were Cindy Stewart, Lynda Wyatt, Cindy Jones and Tina Wray. Other volunteers were Mrs. Janet Blasingame with two of her Acteens, Betty Wilson and Delores Smith from the First Baptist Church of Ingleside.

The Acteens from the Aransas Pass First Baptist Church were Sandra McCrummen and Pippi Herndon.

Also, we had several G.A.'s from Aransas Pass Church.

Others who helped me so very much were Lois Kinney, Charlene Wingham, Olga Davila, Pete and Lillie Martinez, Belinda Ritz, Richard Alvarado and Dorothy Glenn and of course the entire staff of our Center.

We had somewhere in the neighborhood of a hundred people to register.

We were honored with the presence of Rita Strickland, president of the Aransas Pass Chamber of Commerce; Bonnie Durbin, manager of the Chamber of Commerce; and Miss Pam Hutchins, our new Miss Shrimporee.

For entertainment we were again honored by Mrs. Mary Farenthold, Teresa McIntyre to play and sing for us.

Little Donna Thompson of Portland did two dance numbers for us and everyone did so enjoy the whole affair.

There is no way for me or my "little people" to thank all of you enough for what you did to make Saturday a pleasant day.

Sunday morning Rev. Al Bankert held our regular morning church service and we had a nice turnout, too.

Sunday afternoon was another big occasion. Mrs. Emma Sowerbutts celebrated her 96th birthday with a party given by her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Baldwin and Susanna Sorenson and their families from Rockport. Cake and punch were served to friends and residents of the Center. She had quite a day for one so young.

Again, thanks to all who helped in making this a wonderful party. I would like to thank just a few more on our staff who do not often get mentioned.

They are the ladies in our kitchen who are Jannie Munoz, Patsy Coggins, Amy Herndon, Ann Gratehouse, and Lillie Rector.

We do have one gentleman in the kitchen and we thank you, too, Donny Coruthers.

If I have omitted any one who had part in this week's activities, please forgive me. Oh, yes, Mrs. Sue Mills, formerly of Aransas Pass and who is the administrator of the Goliad Nursing Center, was a guest here Saturday.

HOW THE IRS CHECKS TAX RETURNS FOR ERRORS

Austin - What happens to your income tax return after it is filed with the Internal Revenue Service? The IRS checks for various types of errors. Following are the answers to several questions frequently asked by taxpayers on how the IRS checks income tax returns:

Q - Is my tax return audited before a refund is sent to me?

A - No, but the IRS does a preliminary check of your return for mathematical correctness and completeness. The IRS also has an "Unallowable Items Program" to see if a return has a claim for items the tax laws clearly do not allow, or if all the forms needed to support amounts claimed are attached to the return.

Q - Can the "Unallowable Items Program" delay my refund?

A - Normally, the program at most would only delay payment of part of your refund. When a refund is due, and a return contains an unallowable item, the IRS withholds only the portion of the refund affected by the unallowable, and a letter from the IRS service center is sent to the taxpayer explaining the difficulty. The part of the refund that is not questioned is sent to the taxpayer after normal processing of the return.

Q - How does the IRS select returns for audit?

A - The answer to this question lies in the purpose of an audit—that is to make sure that the correct tax is paid, not a penny more or less. Consequently, the IRS tries to identify tax returns most likely to have errors. Primarily, the IRS uses a computer program called DIF (Discriminant Function). DIF actually is a series of mathematical formulas that score various items on a return and how the items relate to each other. Normally, high DIF scores point to a high probability of error. IRS employees check returns selected by DIF to learn if local or other factors have created a high DIF score on a return that otherwise would not require an audit.

Q - Is there anything I can do to avoid selection of my return for audit?

No, not absolutely. Both DIF processing and random sampling make it possible for any return to be audited. On occasion, audits result in refunds, rather than tax bills. Moreover, taxpayers who prepare their returns carefully, and keep good records to back up the entries on their returns, need not worry too much about an audit.

NEW AGENT NAMED FOR SAN PATRICIO-ARANSAS

Sinton -- Mrs. Marcia Warden Brown, who has had considerable experience in Texas Agricultural Extension Service programs, has been named County Agent (home economics) for San Patricio and Aransas Counties.

Her appointment was announced jointly by Judge Percy Hartman and District Agent Alma Flippo, Weslaco, for the Extension Service.

A self-style "Army brat" who has lived all over the world, she began high school in Kaiserautern, Germany and graduated half a world away in Panola, Oklahoma.

Soon after obtaining her degree in vocational home economics from Oklahoma State University in 1971, Mrs. Brown joined the Extension Service as Jackson County agent.

Following marriage to Douglas Brown, a Navy man, she met in Corpus Christi, she resigned the last day in 1972 to accompany him to California on a new assignment.

Nine months later the couple was back in South Texas so Brown, discharged from the Navy by now, could enroll at Del Mar College and study electronics engineering. He's presently employed as an electronics technician by the Navy while still pursuing his degree at Del Mar.

Since returning to the area Mrs. Brown, 25, has been employed as a teacher at Calallen High School and more recently as secretary to the registrar at Texas A&I-Corpus Christi.

The couple resides in Portland.

The new appointee--on the job now--succeeds Mrs. Karen Prukop Vaughan, who recently resigned to join her husband in El Paso.

NOTICE

Chapter E.O., P.E.O., will have a luncheon at the home of Mrs. M.H. McKinsey, May 27, at 12:15.

Council On Aging News

So far during the month of May fourteen have been taken in 13 days of the month. Discussion of and completing McNickle attended First Methodist Church on May 17 and received a check from them in the sum of $555.30 toward the support of the Council on Aging.

On May 19 McNickle, Neal Gage, John Leslie and Zollie Glass attended a workshop in Sinton studying counseling techniques, identifying resources, making referral decisions, and improving the service delivery system. This was conducted by Janet Crone and others on the Council on Aging staff of the Council of Governments.

Leon Redding was in Rockport Friday and discussed the budget for this agency for the next ten months. Some local funding is going to have to be found to continue the services started. If you are interested in this call 729-5352 and ask for Neal Gage.

PUBLIC NOTICES

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

Editor's Note: Public Notice advertising plays a unique role both in American history and in the process by which this country's democracy is preserved. Its one premise is that people must be informed if they are to govern themselves competently. Public Notice advertising first came into being with the Congress of 1792. That body, recognizing its responsibility to the people, required the Postmaster General to advertise for bids for the construction of new post offices. From that auspicious beginning to the complex publication requirements in federal, state and local laws today, government officials have come more and more to understand their obligations to inform the public through Public Notice advertising. Newspapers over the years have been the vehicle by which these obligations have been fulfilled. They will continue to be as long as the public demands that it be informed frequently, and by the best means possible.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas: The annual sale of Buddy Poppies Saturday, May 24, by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has been officially recognized and endorsed by governmental leaders since 1922; and

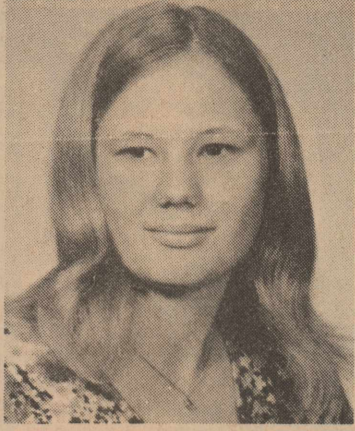

WHEREAS: V.F.W. Buddy Poppies are assembled by disabled veterans, and the proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans, and

WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor the Dead, by Helping the Living"; therefore

I, Walter S. Falk, Jr., Mayor of the city of Rockport do hereby urge the citizens of this community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies on the day set aside for the distribution of these symbols of appreciation for the sacrifices of our honored dead.

I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

How To Load A Freezer

College Station -- Guidelines for loading a freezer are simple and logical--designed to keep food rotating and the freezer temperature at 0 degree, Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist, said this week.

Be careful about adding too much "new" or unfrozen food at one time. The specialist advised that three pounds of food for every cubic foot of storage space is a reasonable addition.

"Another way to determine the amount of food to freeze at one time is to add no more than 1/15 the capacity of the freezer. After this amount is put in, wait 24 hours before adding more," she recommended.

The specialist pointed out that for fast freezing, new food should be placed near the walls or bottom of either chest or upright types of freezers.

"Keep similar foods together in baskets or on shelves. Masking tape makes a good label for this. Also, it's good practice to date-label commercially frozen foods.

"If the freezer is large, keep an inventory. Add each new food to the inventory sheet when it is put into the freezer."

Mrs. Chenoweth suggested keeping one page for each food category--meats, fruits, vegetables, baked goods, and any others.

"As items are used, deduct them from the inventory sheet. This systematic storage helps keep track of foods that should be cooked and lets the homemaker know when she's running low," she said.

Keep House Plants Clean

College Station -- Clean house plants are more attractive and perform better, according to a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Dust on leaf surfaces reduces the amount of light available to a plant," says Everett Janne. "Thus the plant may not get enough light for photosynthesis. Also, a dusty plant looks drab and uninteresting."

To remove dust, Janne suggests brushing the leaf surface with a soft camel hair brush or damp sponge and polishing with a soft cheese cloth about once a month. Heavily soiled leaves should be washed with a mild soap and warm water solution before polishing.

"Care should be used to prevent bruising or kinking the leaf surface while cleaning it," cautions the Texas A & M University System specialist.

"You can avoid bruising a leaf by placing one hand on the underside of the leaf as you wipe the surface."

Several commercial leaf polishes are available, adds Janne. If you plan to use a commercial leaf polish, be sure to water plants several hours before treating or foliage burn may occur. Furthermore, don't use any kind of oil on plants.

For plants with hairy leaves, Janne suggests syringing the leaf surface with warm water. "Don't use water that is colder than the room temperature where the plants are located as this can cause leaf spotting."

Cancer researchers are studying cell fusion.
