Wood Schedules Two Deep Testers In Gaines Area

Robert L. Wood of Midland filed applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas' District 8 office in Midland requesting permission to start immediate operations at two wildcat sites in Gaines County, and The Texas Company announced plans to continue drilling to 12,600 feet at its No. 1 Cox, Gaines wildcat.

Wood will drill No. 1-363 Riley Estate 330 feet from south and west lines of section 363, block G, CCSD-&RGNG survey and 10 miles west of Seminole. It is to drill to around 10,000 feet for tests of the Devonian.

No. 1-399

Wood No. 1-399 Riley Estate is 450 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 399, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey and 12 miles west of Seminole. It will drill to around 10,000 feet for tests of the Devonian.

No. 1-363 Riley Estate is three-quarter miles east of Aurora Gasoline Company No. 1 Doss, indicated Devonian discovery which is bottomed at 9,883 feet with operator preparing to install a pump and try to complete.

No. 1-399 Riley Estate is one-half mile southwest of Aurora No. 1 Doss.

The Texas Company filed application to take No. 1 Cox, wildcat in Central-South Gaines County, to 12,600 feet for tests of the Devonian. It was started out to go to 9,275 feet. It is now drilling below 11,035 feet in lime. Site is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block C-45, psl survey.

CSOC Sets Pipe In Dawson Flanker; Will Complete

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Brennand, Northwest Dawson County exploration which had flowed 145 barrels of 45.3 gravity oil in two hours in a drillstem test in the top of the Pennsylvanian lime reef at 8,597-8,610 feet, has set 5 1/2-inch casing at 8,595 feet with 450 sacks of cement.

Will Complete

When the plug cures it will be drilled out and the open hole at 8,595-8,610 feet will be tested and operator will complete the well.

This exploration topped the Pennsylvanian reef lime at 8,597 feet, to give it a datum of minus 5,517 feet on that marker.

It is not to drill any deeper as at the total depth of 8,610 feet it is about 30 feet above the water in the reef section in that area.

Flanker To Discovery

Cities Service No. 1 Brennand is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 78, block M, EL&RR survey. It is one location northeast of El Tee Oil Company No. 1-96 Briley, discovery well of the Mungerville-Pennsylvanian field.

On the top of the reef the No. 1 Brennand is 38 feet low to the same marker in the No. 1-96 Briley.

That well is up to now the only producer in the Mungerville-Pennsylvanian field. It is 15 miles northwest of Lamesa.

NE Runnels Test Gets Flowing Oil In Gardner Sand

G. W. Strake of Houston has found flowing oil in the Gardner sand of the Pennsylvanian at his No. 1 A. L. Mitchell and others, Northwest Runnels County wildcat.

This disdovery is 10 miles northwest of the nearest Gardner sand production which is in the Winters multipay field.

No. 1 Mitchell had its oil flow in a drillstem test at 4,756-70 feet. The tool was open 90 minutes. Gas surfaced in five minutes and oil came to the top in 43 minutes.

Flows For 47 Minutes

The well flowed for the next 47 minutes at the estimated rate of 15 barrels of oil per hour. Recovery when the drill pipe was pulled was 3,500 feet of oil and 30 feet of heavily oil cut drilling mud.

There were no signs of formation water. Gravity of the oil was 43 degrees. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 300 pounds to 730 pounds.

Shutin bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 1,695 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 500-1.

Tested Higher Zone

A previous test, higher in the Gardner sand, recovered only 30 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. Exact interval covered by that investigation has not been reported.

Top of the Gardner sand is at 4,748 feet. Elevation is 1,980 feet.

Operator has set and cemented 5 1/2-inch casing on bottom at 4,770 feet. The plug will be drilled and the

Ike Cautions Against Cuts In Aid Funds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower told Congress Thursday any cut in President Truman's $7,900,000,000 foreign aid plan "would inevitably tend to curtail or retard" this nation's defense program.

The message from Eisenhower was made public by Senator Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The retiring head of the Western defense forces did not specifically ask Congress to retain the full amount of funds Truman requested for foreign aid.

But he did say that any cut "would be heavily and seriously felt."

The Foreign Relations Committee has voted to cut a billion dollars from Truman's requests. The House Foreign Affairs Committee chopped off another 100 millions.

Eisenhower said in his cable to Connally that "any cut materially greater" than the billion-dollar reduction voted by his committee "would create such difficulties that a drastic revision of the whole program might well be indicated and might therefore endanger the proposed military build-up now visualized and which I consider essential in the interest of U. S. security."

Russell Asks Question

Only an hour before Connally released the Eisenhower message, Senator Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, sent a message to Eisenhower asking him whether he thinks the $6,900,000,000 voted by the Connally committee would be adequate for this nation's defenses.

Russell is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. Eisenhower is a candidate for the Republican nomination.

Russell told reporters he had sent Eisenhower this message:

"The Senate Armed Services Committee is holding hearings on the $6,900,000,000 mutual assistance bill. It would be of great value to the committee if you could inform us as soon as possible whether in your opinion this sum is adequate to the job of building up the defenses of the free world against aggression."

The House committee cut voted Wednesday was in foreign aid funds for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Most of the cut was in proposed military assistance to Europe. This was slashed $29,000,000 despite protests of military leaders that the full sum was vital.

Government Lifts Steel Stock Freeze

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government Thursday lifted its ban on shipment of steel from warehouses.

The freeze was clamped on April 29 to preserve steel supplies for vital defense projects. The order went out a few hours after CIO President Philip Murray called a strike against the steel industry.

Production was halted three days and then the workers returned to their jobs after an appeal from President Truman. The strike started immediately after a district court ruling that government seizure of the steel mills was illegal. The ruling has been stayed pending a Supreme Court review.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, federal boss of the steel mills, said a survey of the industry has indicated supplies have built back up to the point where the freeze on shipments from warehouses can be removed.

He said he had no estimate on the loss of production caused by the three-day strike.

MIDLAND HAS HOTTEST DAY

Wednesday was the year's hottest day in Midland.

The mercury soared to 97 degrees, seven above the maximum reading of 90 degrees Tuesday. It was 96 unofficially.

The early-Summer heat wave will continue Friday, CAA observers at Midland Air Terminal said Thursday. No rain is expected.

Little Scare-Purchasing Of Gasoline Evident Here

While a few Midland motorists are having service station operators "fill 'er up" with gasoline in anticipation of a shortage as result of the nation-wide oil workers strike, most are remaining calm and buying only as needed.

A spot check by The Midland Reporter-Telegram revealed that a majority of service station operators had experienced no "scare" gasoline purchasing, with sales remaining steady.

Several of the stations, however, reported a "heavy run" on gasoline with a few customers even taking extra gasoline home in a can "just in case."

All of the operators said their customers were "uneasy" about the situation and were wondering if gasoline would become scarce in this area.

"We don't know any more about it than they do," several of the station operators remarked regarding possibility of a local gasoline scarcity.

Francis Weaver, owner of the Every Ready Auto Service, 300 West Wall Street, said: "I don't think this particular area will be hurt unless there is a long, drawn-out strike." He said none of his customers were doing "scare" buying.

G. W. Burt, North Side Gulf Station, 1901 North Big Spring Street, said many of his customers were having tanks filled up in fear of a gasoline shortage. A few of his customers even were taking gasoline home in five-gallon cans to be prepared if a shortage comes.

R. C. Crabb, owner of Arrowhead Service Station, 300 East Wall Street, said it seemed almost all his customers wanted full tanks over the weekend. He said the run on gas had "slackened off" the last few days.

"They must have decided there wasn't going to be any shortage," Crabb said.

Stations experiencing "runs on gasoline" were in the minority, however. Typical, perhaps, was the remark of J. S. Burkett, who operates a Shell service station at 2201 West Wall Street, that "most motorists are taking it easy on gasoline buying.

RUSSELL WINS IN FLORIDA—Senator Estes Kefauver, left, still has a broad smile despite the fact he was defeated by Senator Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), in the Florida presidential primary. Senator Russell, seated right, assisted by the senior senator from Georgia, Walter F. George, checks the returns in the see-saw battle between himself and Senator Kefauver which Russell won by a slim majority.

Revitalized WTCC Launches Two-Day Member Campaign

The revitalized West Texas Chamber of Commerce is working continually for West Texas and West Texans and is fighting diligently for the survival of the free enterprise system, Tom Sealy, Midland director in the regional organization, told a group of business leaders attending a WTCC membership breakfast Thursday in Hotel Scharbauer.

Sealy was one of the speakers at the breakfast which launched a two-day campaign for Midland members in the West Texas Chamber. Bill Collyns, District 6 vice president, presided at the meeting.

The volunteer campaign workers were asked to attend a report meeting at 11 a.m. Friday in the hotel.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland C. of C. also addressed the group. He said the WTCC represents a 132-county area and is striving always to correct the problems of West Texas as a whole. He mentioned the leadership characteristics of regional and local chambers of commerce, and endorsed the grass roots program of work of the WTCC.

Investment In West Texas

"A membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is not a contribution, but is an investment in West Texas," Ralph Duncan, Abilene, manager of the WTCC's Community Services Division, told the Midland men. He outlined the work program and objectives of the regional organization and discussed the mechanics of the membership drive.

Oil Dispute Heads Toward White House

DENVER—(AP)—Refusal of 22 AFL, CIO and independent oil industry unions to call an end to their week-old strike may send the wage dispute to President Truman.

The Wage Stabilization Board in Washington, D.C., scheduled a meeting Thursday. Wednesday, WSB Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger told the House Labor Committee the case probably would be sent to the White House if the board failed to obtain an end to the strike.

Feinsinger had requested the unions to send their men back to work.

O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) in Denver, said Wednesday night the strike will continue. He added the unions will have representatives at a WSB meeting May 13, as requested.

"In light of the history of the dispute and of the WSB's apparent inability to affect industry participation in WSB hearings, we have no alternative but to continue our strike," Knight said.

House Bill Hikes Veterans' Benefits

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Two compromise bills boosting veterans' benefits payments an estimated 202 million dollars annually were passed by the House Thursday and sent to the Senate.

Passage was by voice vote.

The bills previously had been approved by both the Senate and the House, but differences resulted in the compromise version.

President Truman, 68 Thursday, Tells Scribes He Feels 28

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman, reflecting on world conditions on his sixty-eighth birthday, Thursday said the international situation still is very grave and some people here at home don't seem to realize it.

Despite the difficulties he saw, he said as he often has before, he still is hopeful of ultimate peace.

And as for himself and the fact it was his birthday, he commented that he has had a most happy, and he guessed as full, a life as any man of his age.

Once he leaves the White House, Truman said with a grin, he is going to spend the next 10 years having a good time and doing just as he damn pleases.

He suggested he might do a good bit of traveling abroad.

Before the President's meeting with reporters, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, his physician, had told newsmen that despite the burdens Truman has carried in seven years in the White House, his health and well-being are "even above the average of men of his age who have not been under similar strain."

Truman's own report was: "I feel 28."

Midland To Start Campaign On Flies

Midland's all-out war on flies—planned in detail for months to combat the menace which threatened the city last Summer — will be launched Monday.

Date for the launching of the health battle was announced Thursday after an expert from the United States Public Health Service arrived in Midland to take command of the pest control forces.

He is Thomas G. Smith, who has just completed a similar pest-control project in San Marcos.

Smith conferred at length Wednesday afternoon with City Manager W. H. Oswalt concerning plans for the war on flies.

Oswalt said Smith probably will be attached permanently to the City-County Health Unit here.

"Actually," said Oswalt, "the battle already has been started.

"We have gotten rid of most of the inadequate garbage cans in Midland by outlawing the use of oil drums. Our own forces, along with those of the health unit, have carried on a successful campaign to replace outdoor privies with sanitary toilet facilities.

"This has been made possible through many extensions of sewer lines in the Latin American and negro sections of the city."

Smith's main objective will be the tracking down of all fly-breeding spots in and around the city.

Chemicals, already on hand, will be used to clean up these spots.

Initial plans for the anti-fly campaign were launched late last Summer after an epidemic of polio broke out in nearby Odessa and Midland itself was stricken with a seige of dysentery.

General Dodd Held Hostage At Koje Camp

PUSAN, KOREA—(AP)—The Army announced Friday that Red prisoners on Koje Island had seized the Allied camp commandant, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, and a fellow-officer on Wednesday and still are holding Dodd as a hostage.

The other officer managed to escape, but General Dodd was dragged inside the Red prisoners' stockade. The other officer's name was not available.

A report from the island prison off the South Korean coast said a note had been passed from the stockade, but its contents were not disclosed. This report said Dodd had not been harmed. It was several hours old, however.

Koje Island has been the scene of two violent prison disorders this year. On February 12, 179 persons were killed in an uprising by Red prisoners in notorious "Compound 62."

On March 13, 12 prisoners were killed when anti-Communist and Communist prisoners engaged in a rock-fight.

Dodd, who was deputy chief of staff of the U. S. Eighth Army, took command at Koje after the February riot.

The fact that the general had been captured by prisoners was known in this provisional South Korean capital several hours before it was announced.

Tight Censorship

Correspondents were not allowed to go to Koje to investigate, and a tight censorship was clamped on the island.

Soldiers (not otherwise identified in this dispatch) said Dodd and his companion were walking near the stockade when prisoners suddenly seized them.

On April 28, the Army announced that it was moving all anti-Communist or non-Communist prisoners to six new camps on the mainland, leaving only about 70,000 die-hard Reds on Koje. Whether the move had been completed was not disclosed.

Dodd, born in Indiana Oct. 5, 1899, and a resident of Tallahassee, Fla., was named deputy chief of staff of the Eighth Army on February 6, but only one week later was sent to Koje to take command because of the riot there.

After the March riot, Gen. James

Allies Stage Greatest Air Raid Of War

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— The U. S. Fifth Air Force said it made its biggest single attack of the Korean war Thursday on the Red supply complex at Suan.

A day-long attack left the prize target covered with "billowing flames and smoke," the Air Force said.

The assault on the town, 35 miles southeast of the Red capital, Pyongyang, began at dawn and lasted until nightfall. Both jets and propeller-driven planes were hurled into the attack.

Two Jets Downed

Two Red jets were reported shot down and a third damaged as they ventured far from their Manchurian bases apparently in an effort to break up the raid.

The Fifth Air Force said more sorties were flown against Suan Thursday than the 312 that hit Sinuiju on the Manchurian border a year ago this month in the war's previous biggest single raid.

The Air Force reported Allied planes destroyed 165 supply buildings in the great supply complex, damaged 81 and knocked out 18 supply revetments and 16 vehicles.

Shooting Stars opened the attack at 5:35 a.m., hitting attack emplacements with demolition bombs.

The F-80 jets were followed by waves of Thunderjets, propeller-driven Mustangs, more Shooting Stars and Marine Panther Jets, Sky Raiders and Corsairs.

"Tons of demolition and high explosives tore the Communist supplies to shreds," a Fifth Air Force communique said. "Thousands of gallons of fiery napalm (jellied gasoline) were spread over the target, turning piles of supplies into billowing flames and smoke."

Reds Accuse UN Of Delaying Truce

MUNSAN, KOREA — (AP) — The Communists Thursday accused the United Nations Command of delaying a truce in Korea by refusing to negotiate further on prisoner exchange.

The prisoner issue is the only one in the path of an armistice in the almost two-year-old war.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il's verbal blast failed to shake the Allied delegates from their no retreat stand against forced return of prisoners to Red rule.

The Allies have told the Reds 62,000 captured Red soldiers do not want to be repatriated.

Federal Deficit To Be Less Than Truman Estimates

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Congressional tax experts Thursday calculated President Truman's budget overestimated this year's government deficit by $2,500,000,000 and next year's by $2,700,000,000.

Figures prepared by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue and Taxation indicated Treasury receipts would be somewhat lower than the budget estimate submitted in January, but that actual spending would be down even more.

As a result, the joint committee looks for a deficit of $5,700,000,000 in the current fiscal year (ending June 30) instead of the $8,200,000,000 estimated in the budget, and an $11,700,000,000 deficit in the 1953 fiscal year beginning next July 1, instead of $14,400,000,000.

William Fox, 73, Pioneer Of Motion Pictures, Dies

NEW YORK —(AP)— William Fox, 73, a pioneer motion picture producer and one-time operator of more than 250 theaters valued at more than $100,000,000, died in Doctors Hospital Thursday.

Fox ran $1,600 into a personal fortune of $35,000,000 but his moving picture empire crumbled under the depression, creditors and law suits.

Theda Bara, the "vampire," and Annette Kellerman, who made the one-piece bathing suit famous, were among stars of his productions.

His own rags-to-riches story was as dramatic as any of the film fiction he presented.

Fox was born in Hungary. He imigrated to the United States and became a $17-a-week pants presser on New York's drab Lower East Side.

The refusal of his boss to give him a $3 raise started him on his fabulous movie career. He quit the ironing board and bought a rundown nickelodeon in Brooklyn with his meager savings.

The dingy nickelodeon was the forerunner of the Fox Films Corporation and the Fox Theaters Corporation. His first films were produced at a studio in Fort Lee, N. J.

Later his Hollywood studios produced such well-remembered films as "What Price Glory" and "Seventh Heaven."

But his kingdom crashed with the stock market in 1929.

An onslaught of lawsuits descended on him during the next six years. The federal government filed tax liens of more than two million dollars. Corporations sued on charges of breach of contract. Stockholders sued. He settled many cases out of court.

But in 1936, he went into voluntary bankruptcy at Atlantic City, N. J.

Then came the hardest blow. The federal government indicted him with J. Warren Davis, a retired circuit court judge, and Morgan S. Kauman, former Eastern Pennsylvania bankruptcy referee.

The government charged that Fox gave $27,500 to Davis in unsecured loans in hope of getting favorable decisions in bankruptcy cases.

Fox pleaded guilty and named Kaufman as a go-between. Davis and Kaufman pleaded innocent.

Charges against Davis and Kaufman were dropped. Fox was sentenced to a year and a day. He surrendered Nov. 16, 1942, and served five months and 17 days in federal prisons in Philadelphia and Lewisburg, Pa., before being paroled. Then he returned to New York.

He had been living quietly at Foxhall, Woodmere, on Long Island. He is survived by the widow, the former Eva Leo, and two daughters.

Man Dies, Three Hurt In Explosion And Fire

BEAUMONT —(AP)— An explosion and fire aboard the launch Wimpy killed one man and injured three others Wednesday night.

The Gulf Oil Corporation craft was ripped by a blast about one mile south of Sabine. It blazed from stem to stern as crew members leaped overboard.

Joachimi V. "Jack" Correia, Port Arthur, drowned when the five men jumped into the water. E. "Teet" Leblanc, A. O. Turner, and H. F. Waite, all of Port Arthur, suffered shock and burns.

Another crewman escaped unhurt.

A Coast Guard vessel, the shrimper Margaret C., and the tug Bisco picked the men from the water.

Fire on the Wimpy was extinguished as the Coast Guard craft towed her to Coast Guard docks. The blazing launch had started drifting toward 15 or 20 tankers anchored off Sabine Bar.

Two of the men taken from the water were revived by artificial respiration aboard the Coast Guard ship.

Many naturalists now are of the opinion that the lower animals are capable of thinking.

General Eisenhower To Win Presidency, Is Belief Of Dulles

SHANNON, IRELAND—(AP)—John Foster Dulles predicted Thursday that General Eisenhower will be elected the next President of the United States but said he, himself, doesn't count on being secretary of state. Dulles indicated, however, he considers himself the "obvious" man for the job.

The Republican Party foreign affairs expert was interviewed here as he flew home after weekend conferences with the general in Paris. He had refused to say whether he would support Eisenhower's candidacy.

Nor did Dulles at the airport here come out flatly for the general, but said "there seems no doubt that General Eisenhower will be elected."

To Form Bridge

"But when it comes to secretary of state," he continued, "there are often factors which decide against the most obvious person. Sometimes the post has to be filled by one who will form a bridge between the President and certain political sections.

"I would be the last to say I am a certainty for the post of secretary of state."

Dulles was slated to get the top U. S. foreign affairs post had Thomas E. Dewey been elected President in 1948. Dewey now is a chief Eisenhower backer, but Dulles' activities as adviser to the State Department —a post to which President Truman named him and which he recently resigned—and his outspoken support of the present Administration's policy in Europe has incurred the opposition of some sections of his party.

Legal Fireworks At Fox Lit By Mystery Woman's Claim

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: A mystery woman claiming to be Marilyn Monroe's mother showed up at the Fox studio and legal lights investigated her story.

Dates and places, say the lawyers, don't coincide but there may be legal fireworks. Marilyn's real mother, unable to provide for her after the death of her father in an auto accident, turned her over to an orphanage when she was a tiny tot and disappeared into thin air.

Doris Day and Gordon MacRae will co-star in a 1920-backgrounded filmusical at Warner Brothers titled, "By the Light of the Silvery Moon." Cameras start rolling late this summer.

Now it can be told. Television's Sid Caesar missed out on movie stardom when Columbia decided to team newcomer Aldo Ray with Judy Holliday in "The Marrying Kind." Garson Kanin wrote the screen play with Caesar in mind, however, and fought for him as Jundy's co-star to the last ditch.

There was an ironic twist that escaped mention when Clark Gable and Lady Ashley were divorced. On the same day Jill, the widow of movie press agent Otto Winkler, won a divorce from her second husband. Winkler, who was Gable's press agent at the time, and Carole Lombard died together in that Nevada plane crash.

Ty Power and Fox are at odds on that one-a-year contract. Ty wants a Fort Knox figure. The studio, on an economy binge, wants him at a lesser salary.

Fatal Switch

It's an eyebrow raiser—the strangest movie casting switch in film history. A British murder mystery film, "The Clouded Yellow," is playing U. S. movie theaters. Barry Jones, a kindly old character actor, turns up as the surprise murderer although Jean Simmons is the logical suspect.

What audiences don't know is this: In the original script Jean was the murderess and for the first half of the picture played her role as such. But with the film half completed, Producer J. Arthur Rank re-wrote the plot and made Jones the killer instead of Jean.

MGM is plotting a filmusical titled, "International Revue," for shooting in London. Revue acts from all over Europe will be starred . . . Keefe Brasselle, who will play Eddie Cantor in "The Cantor Story," will wear brown contact lenses throughout the film to match Eddie's eyes. His own peepers are blue.

Make-up trick of the year: Making Lana Turner look boyish for her role in "Tribute to a Badman." . . . Mario Lanza, who weighed 275 pounds when he checked out of the Army, is now down to 157 . . . Angela Lansbury may be Ty Power's leading lady when he goes on tour of the U. S. in "John Brown's Body."

Edgar Bergen will make a 30-city tour this Summer breaking in new material for use on television in the Fall . . . Marilyn Maxwell and Rock Hudson have reached the five-nights-a-week stage . . . George Montgomery is sinking some of his own dough in "Red Blizzard," which he'll film in Montana.

Judy Canova's confessin': "My mother told me so much about the birds and the bees that I had a terrible time getting interested in men."

Oleg Cassini won't be designing any more kowns at Fox now that Gene Tierney has decided that she can live without him. She's notified the studio to ignore the clause in her contract stipulating that her glad rags can't be whipped up by any other designer.

June Haver, still in ill health, gets her way about the dances in "The Girl Next Door." The routines will be simple instead of back-breakingly elaborate.

'The Robe' Finally Will Be Produced

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Ten years ago Producer Frank Ross bought the film rights to "The Robe," a best-selling novel by the late Lloyd C. Douglass.

In the years since, one production problem after another has kept the picture from reaching the screen. Howard Hughes, boss of RKO Studio, reporterdly spent more than half a million dollars on the project before it was shelved.

Wednesday Ross and Darryl Zanuck, head of the Twenty Century-Fox Studio, announced they've made a deal for filming the novel of the birth of the Christian era.

It will be photographed here and in the Holy Land with Tyrone Power in the role of the Roman soldier who becomes a convert to Christianity. Production is scheduled for next Fall.

In good weather, 32 lakes and 36 mountains are said to be visible from the summit of Snowden, England's highest mountain.

Another Red 'Incident'

After some seven years of "incidents" involving outrageous Russian behavior toward the citizens of free nations, what new expressions of indignation are left to us?

Now we have an apparently calculated attack by two Russian jets on an Air France passenger plane flying to Berlin. Three persons were wounded, one seriously, and only sheer luck prevented the French craft from crashing in flames.

You might be able to make excuse for the Russians if only one attacker was involved. That there were two, who made four passes altogether at the passenger ship, seems to take the matter out of the realm of innocent mistakes.

The Air France pilot firmly declares he was flying in the prescribed air corridor maintained by the Western powers across Soviet Germany to Berlin.

• • •

The Russians have replied with one of their standard denials, saying the plane was outside the corridor and refused to land when directed to do so.

Considering the Russians' reputation for truthfulness, there is no reason to accept their version of the incident. But even if it were correct that the Air France plane had strayed beyond the corridor, isn't shooting it up a pretty drastic penalty for a navigational error?

A civilized nation, confronted with such a violation, probably would assume the first time that it was accidental. Officials might lodge a mild protest, with stiffer reminders following if more mistakes occurred.

Who but the Russians would turn to their guns the instant an error was detected?

• • •

What really is to be feared in this case, however, is not just that the Russians have shown again their essential bestiality. The danger is that this incident is the opener in a new series of terroristic acts designed to limit the value of the air corridor in the hope perhaps of promoting a new and more effective blockade of Berlin.

The Allied course is clear. We operate in the Berlin air corridor by right, not by sufferance of the Russians. If it becomes necessary to demonstrate the fact more bluntly, we can do it. We can supply fighter protection for our Berlin traffic.

Doubtless the Soviet Union will think twice before ordering its brave pilots to tangle with American fliers equipped to deal them the same kind of harsh handling the Reds gave the defenseless Air France passengers and crew.

Some people live happily ever after—a chance to constantly argue with someone.

A Leap Year tip to the gals—look well before you do!

Just as a suggestion—hibernate if you're satisfied with just a bear existence.

Why is it that learning to drive slowly is so much harder than learning to drive fast?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: President Truman and Phil Murray have not been intimate friends; Senator Gillette is jittery over Iowa newsman; Veep keeps air base for blue-grass state.

WASHINGTON — One of the personal paradoxes of the steel dispute which only three or four people know, is that President Truman and CIO Chief Phil Murray for many years were not on too good personal terms.

The public has the impression that they were intimate friends and that it was partly because of this intimacy that the White House went to bat for the steelworkers. However, although the CIO has thrown powerful political support to Truman, Truman's and Murray's personal relations for a long time were cool.

The coolness dates back to the '44 Democratic convention in Chicago when Murray was a strong supporter of Henry Wallace for the vice presidency. As such he opposed Truman, and was not in sympathy with the way Senator Sam Jackson of Indiana abruptly gaveled the convention to a close in order to stop a bandwagon rush for Wallace.

That night Murray received a call from some of the big Democratic bosses, including Ed Flynn of the Bronx and the late Ed Kelly of Chicago. They reported that they had been trying to stop Senator Harry S. Truman in his determination to be vice president, but were not successful. They asked Murray if he would talk to Truman.

Murray, who had a room in the Blackstone Hotel where Senator Truman also lived, picked up the telephone, asked if he could come down and see him.

"I'll come up and see you," replied Truman. And he did.

Almost bursting into the room a minute or two later, the senator from Missouri didn't wait for Murray to open the conversation.

"I know what you want," he said, "and I'm not going to do it."

He went on to say that he knew the CIO chieftain wanted him to withdraw, that he wasn't going to do so, and left.

That ended that. During the years that followed, Murray was not invited to the White House personally as he was by FDR. He went there only with other labor leaders. And it was not until about a year ago that he was called in for a personal confidential talk with the President.

Jittery Gillette

Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa, jittery chairman of the Senate Elections subcommittee, has made out a subpoena for several other newspapermen to be grilled on news leaks, but apparently hasn't the nerve to serve them.

Especially he hasn't the nerve to serve live-wire Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register-Tribune, who wrote exactly the same story on Gillette's committee as did Eddie Milne of the Providence Journal. In fact, the editor's note appearing at the top of the Providence Journal and the Register-Tribune stated that the stories were the same.

However, Gillette has threatened Milne with jail unless he reveals his source, yet he hasn't served a subpoena on Mollenhoff, although one is all signed and ready.

Reason: Rhode Island is a long way from the voters of Iowa, while Mollenhoff writes for the biggest circulating paper in Iowa.

Incidentally, Mollenhoff isn't ducking the subpoena. He's around the capitol every day, ready to accept service. Gillette just doesn't have the guts.

Kowtowing To McCarthy

Meanwhile, the entire incident of heckling newsmen regarding their news source indicates the extent to which Gillette has been under the thumb of Senator McCarthy, the man he is supposed to probe. What Milne and Mollenhoff wrote about the Gillette committee was that its own staff had recommended hearings on five of the charges Senator Benton preferred against McCarthy. McCarthy, who didn't like this publicity, and who is close to Gillette, is credited with persuading him to crack down on the press.

This crackdown came as a complete surprise to Senator Hayden of Arizona, chairman of the Rules Committee, and he cautioned Gillette about it. Other members of Gillette's committee were sore. They are also peeved over the fact that, after the Senate voted unanimously 60-0 on April 10 to continue with the McCarthy investigation, a month now has passed and Gillette has done nothing.

His only move has been to cater to McCarthy's close friend, Senator Welker of Idaho, by postponing further McCarthy investigations until May 12 when Welker returns from the West.

Washington Pipe Line

Few people, even in Kentucky, know how much it pays to have Alben Barkley pulling wires for the bluegrass state. The other day Truman himself telephoned Secretary of Air Finletter and half apologetically explained that the Veep was concerned about the transfer of an Air Force training center from Boone County, Kentucky, to Clinton County, Ohio. The transfer already had been partially made, but now is being made back to Kentucky. Meanwhile the Senate Armed Services Committee is investigating why the Air Force spent the extra money to shift an air base from Kentucky to Ohio and back again. The committee doesn't know that the Veep is involved . . . Tennessee friends of Senator McKellar are discussing the possibility of hiring a private railroad car for the senator's reelection campaign. McKellar is too feeble to travel by automobile and climb up on platforms so they plan a series of R. R. rear-platform speeches . . . Senate Secretary Les Biffle quietly has been boosting the elderly Veep for President together with the dynamic, young secretary of the Interior, Oscar Chapman, for vice president.

Merry-Go-Round

When President Truman greeted big steel executives the other day, he made a special point of shaking hands with Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel, who had attacked him bitterly on the air . . . Democratic bosses in Youngstown, Ohio, really were out to get Kefauver. They had bitter memories of his Cleveland crime hearings when he subpoenaed various mobsters who had enjoyed political protection and praised Youngstown Republican reform mayor Charles B. Henderson and Youngstown police chief Edward J. Allen for cleaning up the city . . . Congressman Walter Brehm of Ohio, Republican, convicted of taking kickbacks after an expose in this column, finally decided not to run for reelection . . . Senator Williams of Delawere has made such a name for himself as a tax-fraud exposer that people outside his state now appeal to him for help. When the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company abused farmers in putting a gas line across Western New York, people of that area appealed to Delaware's Williams, in addition to their own New York senators.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

When today's hand was played in the recent Eastern States tournament, the opening bid was one club at all tables. North almost invariably passed this opening bid, whereupon East reopened the bidding with a double.

The rest of the bidding was quite difficult for East and West. It usually is, in this situation, because when an opening bid is passed the fourth player almost always reopens the bidding. Hence the fourth player's strength is not clearly marked, and the partnership often flounders.

In this case, one pair reached four hearts with the East-West cards, and two pairs reached game in notrump. The rest played the hand at some part score contract in hearts or in no-trump.

North-South vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♥ J

The bidding presented no such problem when North (unwisely, in my opinion) decided to make a shaded response. If East now decided to enter the bidding, his strength would be very clear instead of doubtful. East and West would therefore have no trouble bidding a game if that seemed their best course.

At one table, where North took liberties with his miserable cards, East collected far more than the value of game by doubling one no-trump. West was delighted to pass, and now South was firmly established in the soup.

West opened the jack of hearts, and East won with the ace. A heart return enabled West to run the rest of the suit. East discarded the deuce and three of spades on the hearts, so West shifted to diamonds.

East decided that South was not solid in the black suits, so he let dummy hold the lead with the ten of diamonds. Declarer hopefully finessed the queen of spades, but West won with the king and led his remainging diamond. This gave East four diamond tricks, after which South mournfully claimed the last two tricks with his two black aces.

At this table South won only three tricks, suffering a penalty of 1,100 points. And if North had only known enough to pass, the odds were about 3 to 1 that East and West would have played the hand below game.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 Heart
Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades K-J-9-8-2, Hearts 7-4, Diamonds A-8-5, Clubs Q-J-6. What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. You would jump to two spades to show a maximum pass if your spades were stronger or if you had a better fit for hearts. With your actual hand you cannot encourage your partner quite that much.

He will re-bid over one spade if he has a sound hand; and if he fails to re-bid, the chances are overwhelming that there is no game in the combined hands.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 6-3, Hearts Q-7-4, Diamonds K-8-2, Clubs K-Q-J-9-8. What do you do?

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Most Candidates With Stated Views Lean To Pro-Labor Side

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—What the various presidential candidates would do with the steel situation if this unwanted baby was in their laps makes a good subject for political speculation. It provides an opportunity for comparison of records and policies on labor issues.

There are pretty fuzzy statements, or no statements at all, from some of the candidates. Others are very definite. President Truman of course vetoed the Taft-Hartley act and did not use it when the steel strike first came to a head on April 8. Instead, he seized the industry to prevent a strike.

Senator Robert A. Taft, co-author of the Taft-Hartley law, took the stand that the seizure was unconstitutional. This was the view that Federal Judge Pine sustained. Senator Taft still supports his law, although he has expressed willingness to have it amended on a few procedural matters that have been found unworkable.

If the Taft-Hartley law had been applied in the steel case, President Truman would have been required to ask the courts for an injunction.

The President would then have had to name an inquiry board to examine the case. This board presumably would have gone over the same ground already covered by the Wage Stabilization Board. But it could have made an attempt to have the steel employers and union settle their differences, with the help of board mediation.

If no settlement were reached within 60 days—roughly by July 1—the National Labor Relations Board would be authorized to conduct company-by-company elections on each employer's best offer.

This election would break up industry-wide bargaining. But it is entirely possible that the highly disciplined CIO Steelworkers' Union would vote against these best offers as a protest against the Taft-Hartley law if nothing more.

If a strike came after the 80 days' cooling-off period, the inquiry board would refer the dispute to Congress. That would make the gravy a lot thicker, to say the least. Congress might be in adjournment. If called back in special session—just before the Democratic convention—the picture of 500 congressmen trying to settle a steel strike would look like the ultimate in confusion.

If the steelworkers struck in violation of the court injunction the union could be sued for damages by the steel companies. There you have one of the fundamental reasons why union leaders don't like the Taft-Hartley law. It has been something of a dead issue. But it would become very live if invoked during the presidential race.

Senator Estes Kefauver, among the Democratic candidates, has made his view very clear on the steel dispute. He voted against the Taft-Hartley law and voted to sustain President Truman's veto. But today Senator Kefauver says he would not vote to repeal the law, although he would vote in support of a few amendments.

He is against the closed shop ban and he thinks many of the injunction provisions are unfair to the unions.

On President Truman's seizure of the steel industry to prevent a strike, Senator Kefauver also was critical. He said he thought further arbitration, negotiation and conciliation could have been resorted to.

But in a San Francisco press conference statement after the seizure, Senator Kefauver said that "in the emergency we're in, as a last resort, Mr. Truman has the power to do what he did."

From Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower have come only generalities on the subject of labor. His speech before the 1946 CIO national convention frequently is cited as expressing his sympathies for labor, but it contains nothing specific.

The Berlin correspondent of a New York German weekly recently interviewed Ike on his domestic policy views but revealed only that the general's ire was aroused by being considered anti-labor. That gives no idea how he would handle the steel strike.

International Association of Machinists' weekly newspaper has compiled detailed labor records on most of the major candidates. It lists General Eisenhower as more conservative than liberal.

Senator Richard Russell is shown to have voted for the Taft-Hartley law, voted to override the President's veto and voted against repeal and amendment of the law in 1949. He is also Senate leader in opposition to President Truman's civil rights program.

Democrat Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma came to the Senate in 1948 after the Taft-Hartley law was passed, but he voted for its repeal in 1949. Kerr is rated pro-labor on most issues, in spite of his sponsoring the natural gas bill, his opposition to excess profits tax legislation and other big business views.

Republican Gov. Earl Warren of California and Democratic Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois are the candidates that the union labor crowds like best. Both have built up state records for sponsoring social security and welfare legislation.

Alias Basil Willing

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, was murdered apparently by poison which he may have taken in a drink at a dinner party given by Dr. Zimmer, a psychiatrist. Dr. Basil Willing, also a psychiatrist, had followed Duggan to the party because Duggan had been posing as Dr. Willing. Duggan dies before he can explain to Basil. The next morning an aged blind woman, Miss Katherine Shaw, who had mistaken Basil for the imposter at the party, is found dead in her bed. Basil and Inspector Foyle go to the Shaw home to question the dead woman's nephew, Brinsley Shaw, and her secretary, Charlotte Dean, who also were at the party.

• • •

CHARLOTTE'S face was white now. Brinsley preserved his equanimity. "I think you're on the wrong track, Inspector. It's quite clear that you think Miss Dean or myself gave Aunt Kay occasion to employ Jack Duggan. But you forget one point: Aunt Kay never introduced this detective into her own home, where he would have had the best chance to investigate Miss Dean or myself. On the contrary, she made rather elaborate arrangements for him to dine at Dr. Zimmer's last night. That certainly sounds as if it were someone at Zimmer's whom she wanted Duggan to watch."

"What was her attitude toward the various people there last night?" asked Foyle.

Brinsley meditated for a moment. "She liked Zimmer best. He is quite charming with old ladies. In less than a year he became one of her heroes."

"Who introduced Zimmer to Miss Shaw?"

"Why, I believe I did."

"Where did you meet him?"

"Come to think of it, the first time I met him was at Rosamund Yorke's, but I didn't get to know him well until I became his patient."

"What was wrong with you?"

Brinsley was taken aback. "I—well—I had what they call a nervous breakdown about a year ago. But I'm much better now. Zimmer knows his stuff. . . ."

"What about the others?"

"Aunt Kay loved Rosamund Yorke but didn't care much for Thereon. Perdita Lawrence Aunt Kay considered spineless, but she had a real affection for Perdita's father, Stephen."

"And the Cannings?"

"Aunt Kay didn't like them at all."

"The Cannings—especially Mrs. Canning—didn't seem to fit in with the others at Dr. Zimmer's," said Charlotte. "And that was the only place we ever saw them."

• • •

BASIL started to reach for his cigaret case. His hand dropped as he saw there were no ash trays in this room either.

Brinsley was amused. "We can smoke in the garden." He led the way through an open French window. "As a matter of fact, we can smoke anywhere we like now."

It was more like a garden than most city yards. A high board fence was hidden by vines and shrubbery. But skyscrapers, towering aboye the shrubs on three sides, made it a little like the exercise yard in an enlightened, modern prison.

"I take it Miss Shaw didn't care for smoking?" ventured Basil.

"Not an ash tray in the house." Brinsley paced with a leisurely step. "I was supposed to come out here. Sometimes I'd sneak a smoke in my own room like a schoolboy."

They sauntered toward the window. "How could your aunt contact Duggan if Miss Dean didn't write the letter for her?" asked Basil.

"She might have telephoned him, if someone gave her his number. I still can't believe she did."

"The fact remains that your aunt and Duggan died the same night. We know that Duggan was poisoned, and we suspect that he was employed by your aunt at that time," Basil said.

Brinsley looked at him keenly. "Are you suggesting that my aunt . . .?"

Basil nodded.

Brinsley considered this while the amorous cooing of pigeons filled the sunlit yard. "It doesn't mean that Aunt Kay herself was poisoned, for how could this hypothetical person possibly know it was she who had hired Duggan?"

"Miss Dean knew," said Basil. "Because she made out the checks to Duggan. When she says 'she forgot' she means that her conscious memory lost the fact. It was always there in her subconscious memory."

"But how could she know that a man announced as 'Dr. Willing' was the man she had made out checks for as Duggan? And how could she know that Duggan was a detective?"

Basil smiled. "Then why do you think Duggan was killed?"

• • •

BRINSLEY looked up at the sky where a white cloud was sailing before an otherwise invisible wind. He spoke slowly, as if he were thinking aloud. "Dr. Willing, have you done much work in criminology?"

"I'd rather say forensic psychiatry. Except for the war years, I've been with the district attorney's office since 1938."

"You must have annoyed lots of criminals."

"Thank you." Basil's voice was dry as he wondered if Brinsley Shaw were making a crude effort to curry official favor by personal flattery.

"There is one extremely obvious motive that might have made someone want to kill Jack Duggan, and it has nothing to do with my aunt. Is it possible that it hasn't occurred to you?"

"Quite possible." Basil laughed. At least this wasn't flattery. "I'm not infallible."

Brinsley's gaze dropped from the clouds. His shallow, empty eyes looked directly at Basil. "Hasn't it really occurred to you that Jack Duggan was killed, not because he was Jack Duggan, but because he was supposed to be Basil Willing?"

Device Discourages False Fire Alarms

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The next time someone turns in a false alarm he may be due for a surprise.

Two hundred of the city's 3,200 fire boxes have been equipped with a special device in an effort to cut down on the more than 2,500 false alarms sounded last year.

The device is a special siren hooked up to the alarm box. When the alarm is pulled an ear-splitting who-o-o-osh fills the air.

Fire Department officials estimate the noise will alert residents in a two-block area and will most likely result in someone getting a good look at the person turning in the alarm.

Child's Confidence Hurt By Half-Baked Decisions

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A month ago, Jennifer caught cold. She was kept in bed three days and in the house two more. On the fifth day, she was sent out into the yard to get some fresh Spring air. As her mother zipped Jennifer into her brown snowsuit, she said, "I shouldn't be letting you go outdoors today. If you catch more cold you may get very ill."

Jennifer did not remain in the yard very long. The next day, when she was told to put on her snow suit, she found that her doll needed a blanket that had been left upstairs. Next, she wanted a glass of water. Thirst quenched, she announced that the snowsuit straps over her shoulders "pulled" her. Finally, after 20 minutes of alibis, impatience, tears, and squirms, Jennifer was sent outside to enjoy herself.

After a few days of this, Jennifer's prejudice against going outdoors to play had reached a point where only a strong man could put her into her snowsuit.

• • •

Did she resist because of the hint that fresh air might make her sick? Yes, this fear was part of her objection. Mostly, however, Jennifer was frightened by the idea of having a mother who kept insisting, day after day, on sending her out into this place "where you may get very ill."

A child, Jennifer knows, must trust a mother's judgment on things harmless or hurtful. To find this trusted creature bent on sending out her little girl into the "outdoors" which she herself admits is a dangerous place—well, if you're the child of such a mother, this is an alarming experience. You fight a snowsuit forced on you by a mother like that for all you're worth.

Suppose Jennifer's mother is afraid of her catching more cold? Must we forever be censoring what we say to children because they scare so easily?

• • •

No, we don't have to. Children do not scare easily unless we keep them all stirred up with our half-baked decisions. These are indeed troublemakers, involving us in perpetual, fearful, vacillating pro-con discussions of the hazards of this possible action against the hazards of another.

If Jennifer's mother had resolved her own doubts about sending her convalescent child outdoors before acting on her half-baked decision, she would have had no doubts sloshing about to harass the youngster with. Jennifer's mother is embattled with her daughter because of indecisiveness.

Young children are uncomplicated people and are happy when we uncomplicate life for them by making simple, clear-cut decisions for them.

If we believe that going out will give them more cold, they will be grateful if we keep them in. If, on the other hand, we make up our minds that we think a little fresh air would be fine for them, they will appreciate our sending them out confidently, as though we had respect for our own decision.

If we lack confidence in our action, they lose confidence in it, too. Make this a chronic situation—and you will indeed have a jumpy, angry little boy or girl.

Russia's Huge Sub Fleet In Pacific Termed Threat

TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(AP)—America's Pacific Fleet commander indicated today his main concern, if the Korean war spreads, would be what Russia would do with her big Pacific fleet of submarines.

It "would be a threat if used offensively," Adm. Arthur W. Radford told a press conference.

In the event of such a general emergency, Radford envisaged close cooperation of British and French forces in the Pacific. He has conferred with Far East military commanders of both on a tour of the Philippines and Formosa. The area recently was transferred to his protective jurisdiction from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Far East Command.

Radford said protection of Formosa from a Chinese Communist invasion or a blockade of the Red China coast would be no problem for the Pacific Fleet. He predicted Formosa soon would be impregnable.

If ordered to, the Pacific Fleet commander said, his forces could blockade the China Coast with "significant, long range effects."

Speaks Hypothetically

"Speaking hypothetically, it is my opinion that a blockade (of Red China) would only be ordered in an effort to halt further Communist aggression—and then only as a part of the total action taken to halt it," he said.

Asked if such a blockade would include the Russian-controlled Manchurian ports of Dairen and Port Arthur, Radford said this could not be determined in advance.

He said the U. S. Seventh Fleet, with assistance from Chinese Nationalist forces, "can handle any threat of Communist invasion here."

He saw no immediate danger of invasion, however, "even though the Communists are constantly building up their military power."

He added "I believe that Free China and the United States, as allies in the struggle against communism, can and will defend and offset any display of aggression by our common enemy in this part of the world."

Russell Still Pulls Away From Kefauver In Florida's Contest

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)— Senator B. Russell of Georgia continued to pull away from Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in their presidential popularity contest in Florida as results from Tuesday's voting trickled in from rural areas.

With 1,626 of the state's 1,682 precincts tabulated, Russell led by 339,916 to 272,283.

Two political unknowns, also on the ballot, were far behind.

Charles E. Compton of Miami had 10,659 votes and Carroll S. Shaw, also of Miami, received 9,628.

The Georgia senator staked his bid for Florida's support largely on his opposition to a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission and opposition to a union of Atlantic Nations—both of which are acceptable to Kefauver.

Kefauver said he is opposed to a compulsory FEPC but would accept it as a plank in the party's platform if necessary.

Russell insisted he would repudiate such a platform plank, but added he would not bolt the convention in a civil rights fight.

No delegates were involved in the campaign. The 24 Democratic convention delegates will be chosen at a second primary May 27. Republicans selected 18 delegates at a meeting of the State Executive Committee last February.

Complaint Charges Compact Violation

SANTA FE, N. M. —(AP)— A complaint by Texas that New Mexico has violated water terms of the Rio Grande compact was served on Governor Mechem and Attorney General Martinez Wednesday.

The state has until June 27 to file an answer. The U. S. Supreme Court recently agreet to allow filing of the case before it.

Texas contends the Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District in New Mexico used more than its share of water allowed under the interstate compact, depriving water users in Southern New Mexico and Texas. Texas asks appointment of a water master to administer the compact.

New Mexico has maintained that circumstances beyond her control contributed to the situation.

North, South Draw Lines On Weather

By The Associated Press

It was more Summer-like weather for most of the southern half of the country Thursday but it was cool, cloudy and rainy in the northern areas.

Light rain fell in parts of New England, the Western Great Lakes region and in South Dakota and Nebraska westward across the Central Rocky Mountains to the Oregon Coast.

It was a little cooler in the extreme southwest section of the country but no cooling was reported in other southern areas. It was a hot 104 at presidio, Texas, Wednesday. Readings in the nineties were reported in many parts of the south.

Charges Altered In Hearing On Airliner Crash In California

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— A hearing on an unscheduled airliner crash that killed 29 persons in the Puente Hills April 18 has brought amended charges by the Civil Aeronautics Administration that the pilots had been on duty more than 24 hours and one of them suffered from a heart ailment.

The pilots, Louis R. Powell and Charles Waldron, were among those killed as the North Continent Airlines plane crashed in the fog-shrouded hills while readying for a landing at Los Angeles International Airport.

CAA Attorney Glen Woodmansee charged Wednesday that Powell, 44, was allowed to pilot the plane although it was known he had a heart ailment. Woodmansee also alleged that although regulations for a pilot flying no more than eight of 24 hours, Powell and Waldron had been flying for 18 of the 24 hours preceding the crash.

In amending his charges to the hearing board, later, Woodmansee said the two men were alerted at 2:30 a.m. April 17 to fly the plane but that they had to stall around Kansas City until mid-afternoon of that day due to mechanical difficulties. The crash occurred at 3:34 a.m. April 18, Woodmansee declared, and the two fliers actually had been on duty more than 24 hours.

Service on the air line was suspended for 30 days after the Puente crash.

H. A. Blackman, attorney for the line, threw its certificate to operate as an irregular carrier on the table at the hearing and said: "We voluntarily surrender and abandon our certificate and move for dismissal of the complaint." Examiner Joseph Caldwell, Jr., refused to grant the motion, saying the CAA charges "must be adjudicated."

The hearing continued Thursday.

Head Of Gatesville School Resigns Job

GATESVILLE—(AP)—The superintendent of the Gatesville State School for Boys has quit his job and gone to Austin.

The resignation of S. L. Bellamy, effective May 1, was announced Thursday by Asst. Supt. M. B. Kindrick.

He said Bellamy gave "a desire to get into another type of work" as the reason for quitting the post he took over last July.

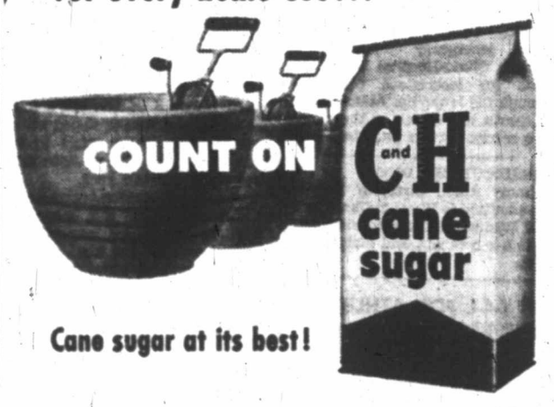

The state-appointed Youth Development Council which supervises the school apparently withheld the announcement of the resignation.

Kindrick said he would be acting superintendent until the job is filled by appointment.

Bellamy was assistant superintendent at Gatesville from 1936 to 1941. Then he was probation officer for Travis and Harris Counties and director of community service of the Youth Development Council. The council appointed him last July.

The history of Jerusalem goes back to the Stone Age, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

China Missionaries Undergo History's Worst Persecution

NEW YORK —(AP)— The worst mass persecution of American missionaries in our history now is going on in Communist China, church leaders said Thursday.

They gave this statistical picture:

Thirty-two American missionaries in prison.

Twenty-five under house arrest.

One hundred and thirty-six restricted in their movements, prevented from leaving the country, and subjected to criminal accusations and attacks.

"Their situation has become extremely grave," said Dr. Wallace C. Merwin, head of the China Committee of the Foreign Missions Division of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

Both Roman Catholic and Protestant leaders said that never in any land has there been such widespread, official persecution of American missionaries since the first ones went out almost 150 years ago.

It has smashed one of the most extensively supported mission fields of American churches, which five years ago had 2,986 missionaries in China—2,536 Protestants and 450 American Catholics.

Only 193 are left.

All of them—153 Catholics and 40 Protestants — are reported under various kinds of restrictions, charges and punishment.

Church spokesmen said the State Department, presumably through nations that have relations with Red China, is seeking to intervene in behalf of the missionaries. But no details of the efforts were given.

Churches Not Talkative

Until this month, the churches have been guardedly untalkative about the overall status of the China missionaries, for fear of causing added reprisals against them.

"Hate is being whipped up against them by mob psychology in a way that is extremely dangerous and uncontrollable," Merwin said.

Father Fred Maguire, of the Catholic Mission Secretariate in Washington, D. C., said "there never was a time when American missionaries in such great numbers have faced such circumstances."

A China missionary for 18 years himself, Father Maguire said the "elimination of all Americans and all foreign missions" from China is likely in "a very short time."

"That certainly is their objective," he said.

In first disclosing the numbers of missionaries held, the National Council's China Committee said recently it decided "only after careful consideration" to "break the silence we have maintained so long."

The committee said it acted in hopes that public knowledge of "this unprecedented situation" involving Americans "might help to speed their return home."

Cruelty Inflicted

No names were given, but the statement detailed cases of cruelty and malnutrition inflicted on missionaries.

At least one died in prison under uncertain circumstances. One has disappeared, his house left locked and empty. One reportedly has been sentenced to 12 years at hard labor.

Public trials, at which crowds were stirred to a high emotional pitch and accusations shouted at missionaries from coached accusers, were described from reports brought out of China.

"It would seem," Merwin said, "that in practically every instance, the missionaries are being held for propaganda purposes, since many have been used as the central characters in these public trials."

He said they were accused of such crimes as espionage, mbezzlement and murder of hospital patients.

Prior to the Communist regime, American Protestants poured some $8,000,000 annually into the Chinese missions.

Protestant missionaries held properties valued at $27,000,000 which was in the process of being turned over to National Chinese Christian groups. There were 13 Christian colleges, 220 hospitals.

Catholics also maintained extensive institutions.

Besides the 450 American Catholics, and 2,536 American Protestant missionaries, before the Red regime, there were 3,750 Catholics and 1,465 Protestants from other countries.

ITALY GIRDS SEA MUSCLE—The Bishop of Leghorn, Italy, imparts his blessings on the central keel piece of the Indomito, Italy's first postwar-built destroyer. One of two "tin cans" ordered by the Italian navy, the Indomito will displace 2700 tons and boast up-to-date armament and radar equipment.

Business Upsurge Seen In Midland

Midland business firms are anticipating a business upsurge as a result of the government suspending controls on installment buying Wednesday.

None of the businessmen contacted by The Reporter-Telegram, however, would express an opinion on the extent of the business stimulant.

"It would just be a guess on how much increased business will result from lifting of credit controls," Johnny Mills of the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company said Thursday.

"A lot of people have been in a financial bind for awhile. Lifting of controls will place them in a position to buy a number of things they couldn't in the past," Mills said. "Smaller down payments and an extended length of time in which to pay will certainly stimulate business some."

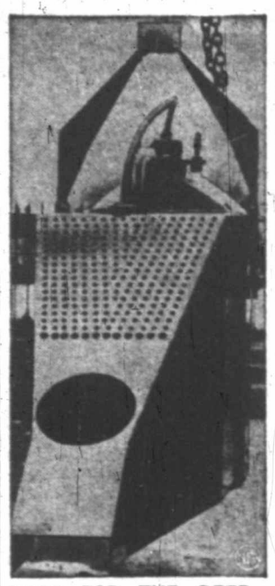

Harold Kitchen of the White Auto Stores, Inc. said he anticipated from 10 to 12 per cent increase in his business.

"I don't think business will be boosted to the extent that some people think," Kitchen said. He added "controls haven't been too strict for our business."

Department store owners, who have only short-term payments, said they didn't anticipate any effect on their business as result of the credit controls suspension.

Buck Hall of the Standard Motor Sales said "I don't think this area will go for the small down payments and 24 months to pay on cars. We will continue to require one third down and 18 months to pay for the present and I understand that other Midland dealers plan to do the same," Hall said.

He added that not much business stimulant in car sales was expected from the credit suspension.

EYES FOR THE DEEP—Deep-sea denizens will be robbed of their privacy when this floodlighting device, containing a television camera, is lowered into the ocean. Developed by the British Admiralty for a Cambridge, England, firm, it will be able to "see" underwater marvels for British TV viewers.

WTCC—

He explained that Midland's WTCC quota this year was increased from $1,400 to $2,000. He said all communities affiliated with the chamber have been asked to increase their quotas as a means of financing an enlarged program of work. Most Midlanders who had memberships last year already have paid their 1952 dues, he stated.

Wendell Bedichek of Abilene, director of public information for the regional chamber, spoke briefly at the breakfast session.

Quick Work

The membership effort was launched immediately following the breakfast. Cal Boykin reported back within 10 minutes with a new membership which was not listed on the prospect sheet.

Approximately 120 prospect cards were distributed among those attending the session.

The campaign workers include Sealy, John P. Butler, Stanley Erskine, Boykin, James Mims, Billy Yeatts, Gerome Grayum, M. L. Webb, W. Dave Henderson, Earl Chapman, James L. Daugherty, Frosty Barnett, John B. Mills, Glen Mershon, Harlan Howell, Robert W. Lewis and Len McCormick.

U. S. Cotton Crop Is Estimated At 15,130,000 Bales

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department, in a final report, Thursday estimated the 1951 cotton crop at 15,130,000 bales with a total value of $3,304,315,000.

This estimate compares with 15,290,000 forecast last December. It compares also with 10,012,000 bales produced in 1950 with a value of $2,359,762,000. Production for the 10-year (1940-49) period averaged 12,030,000 bales.

The cotton itself from the 1951 crop was valued at $2,865,685,000 compared with $2,005,169,000 the previous year, and the cottonseed at $438,630,000 compared with $354,593,000.

The acre yield of lint cotton last year averaged 271.7 pounds compared with 269 pounds in 1950.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday for medical treatment was W. M. Copeland, Route 1.

First lunch wagon in the United States was a horse-drawn affair in Worcester, Mass., operated in 1822 by Sam Jones.

Kilgore Plant Shutdown Extends Oil Strike Scope

By The Associated Press

The nation-wide oil strike expanded its Texas scope Thursday with the shutdown of a plant at Kilgore.

Continental Oil Company said it was prepared to resume operation of its refinery at Wichita Falls, but no union reaction was reported.

Oil Workers International Union (CIO) is striking in an effort to back up demands for a 25-cent hourly pay boost. More than 25,000 workers now are believed idle in Texas alone, some 90,000 over the United States.

Union employees of the Pan American Pipe Line Company of Kilgore quit work at 12:01 a.m. Thursday as the shutdown expanded in East Texas. Already out in the vicinity were Cities Service, Sinclair, and East Texas Salt Water Disposal Company plants.

Conoco notified the Wage Stabilization Board it was prepared to reopen its Wichita Falls plant and one at Denver, Colo., anytime refinery workers were willing to come back to work.

O. L. Fisher, Continental's regional general manager in Houston, said Wednesday his firm also intended to continue negotiations with employes at other plants where discussions are now in progress.

Fisher answered a WSB plea to oil companies and unions to reopen the plants pending further negotiations. He said Continental expects to have a representative at the WSB meeting in Washington next Tuesday.

"In agreeing to resume operations," Fisher said, "we believe we should get reasonable assurances that strikes will not be called again at struck locations while negotiations are in progress."

E. J. Tennyson, division superintendent for Pan American at Kilgore, said before the midnight walkout that only about 20 supervisory employes would remain at work. The plant employs about 144 men.

The oil strike is in its second week, production, both of crude and gasoline, has been falling off steadily since the first refineries started closing at the walkout's inception. However, no serious shortages have been evident as yet. Only a few places have reported closed service stations.

Chief result, so far, has been the rationing of gasoline for civilian aviation.

Hit heaviest in Texas is the Gulf Coast from the Orange-Beaumont-Port Arthur area to Corpus Christi. But several other plants in the Northwest Texas and East Texas areas also are closed by the strike.

Some refineries are still operating.

Gen. Dodd—

A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, said the Reds "take advantage of our good treatment."

Only a month ago, Dodd said steps had been taken to prevent further disorders and that all political signs had been removed from the Reds' camps.

The shift of non-Communist prisoners to the mainland followed a "rescreening" of those who did and those who did not wish to return to communism in the event of a Korean truce.

Official Text

Following is the official text of the Eighth Army announcement on Dodd's seizure:

"Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, United Nations commanding general of Prisoner of War Camp No. 1 on Koje Island, was forcibly seized by Communist prisoners of war and is being held in the camp against his will. The demand for his immediate released unharmed has been ignored by the Communists.

"General Dodd, with another officer, was conferring with Communist leaders at the gate to one of the compounds at about 15 15 hours (3:15 p.m.) local time, May 7. Without warning, the two officers were seized and forced within the inclosure by the prisoners. The second officer managed to escape and make his way to freedom.

"General Dodd of Tallahassee, Fla., was overpowered and held by the Communists. The Eighth Army said it had received note in Dodd's handwriting, indicating that he is unharmed.

"The Eighth Army said efforts are being made to effect the release of General Dodd. There are no other details available at this time."

Rotary Club Speaker Labels Government Juvenile Delinquent

"The juvenile delinquent — the child we call our government" was discussed by District Judge Alan Fraser of Alpine in an address delivered before the Midland Rotary Club at its meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

"You and I have left the American government which we inherited from our forefathers, in the hands of a bunch of political babysitters while we have gone off chasing dollars and to the show and the country club," he declared.

"If our government does not have the honor, responsibility and respect we think it should, we must remember that by our neglect we have permitted it to grow as it has."

Judge Fraser was introduced by Stanley Erskine, a former president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The speaker expressed complete optimism and absolute faith in the good common sense of American people in working their way out of a trend which he termed temporary.

"We are at the point where we must go back home to our children governmental," he stated. "I believe that real Americans again are on the march for good government."

Judge Fraser said that Americans first must regain their self respect and the respect of their government in order to gain the respect of the world.

"We must shorten the distance between the hearts of men as we have shortened the distance between all points of the world."

Grantham Appears New Mexico Demo Governor Nominee

ALBUQUERQUE—(AP)—Former U. S. Attorney Everett Grantham appeared the winner Thursday in a skin-tight race for New Mexico's Democratic nomination for governor.

As counting of unofficial returns all but ended, Grantham held a 1,360-vote edge over Lake J. Frazier, former Roswell mayor. Reports from 878 of 893 voting divisions gave Granthan 42,594, Frazier 41,234.

Neither was yet claiming victory nor conceding defeat in Tuesday's primary. The victor will face Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, unchallenged for renomination by Republicans, in the general election next fall.

Government To Pay Trucking Industry For War Seizure

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Justice Department announced Thursday the government will pay $8,500,000 in damage claims arising from federal seizure of the Midwestern trucking industry during World War II.

The announcement said this will "completely discharge" damage claims amounting to about 50 million dollars filed by 91 motor carriers seized by order of President Roosevelt in August, 1944.

Attorneys handling the case noted this was a statutory seizure, carried out under a number of wartime laws, as contrasted to the current seizure of the steel industry under claimed "inherent powers" of the President under the constitution.

Texas' Mid-Summer Heat Wave Continues

No rain had fallen in more than 24 hours and none was expected Thursday.

Ginners Request Mexico Wipe Out Bracero Blacklist

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— Texas cotton ginners asked Mexico Thursday to wipe out the blacklist which bars Mexican migrant laborers (braceros) from some areas.

The Ginners Association promised in return to launch an antidiscrimination campaign all over Texas.

Mexico has a list of some 35 counties to which it will not permit its migrant laborers to go. These are areas in which Mexico says her nationals have been the object of discrimination. There were some 100 individuals on the blacklist but all these have been removed since paying claims made by the Mexican employes.

The request was made through Jay C. Stilley, executive vice president of the association and honorary Mexican consul in Dallas.

Stilley wrote Miguel Calderon, in charge of Mexico's migrant labor program, that the association "realizes that this is a tremendous step we are asking your country to take. It is only because we plan definite action that we come to you with this request."

Opponents Attack Governor Shivers

AUSTIN —(AP)— Governor Shivers came under attack from two sources Wednesday, but the charge virtually was the same in each case: that Shivers is trying to tell Texans how to run their national affairs.

That was the implication of a prepared statement by Ralph W. Yarborough, candidate for governor, who said he thought "the people of Texas can be trusted to pick their own President and vice president without dictation from me or anyone else."

Fagan Dickson, leader of the self-styled Loyal Democrats, said Texas voters must choose whether they will follow Shivers up a "blind alley" or continue their program of prosperity and the fight for world peace along Roosevelt-Truman lines.

Dickson gave warning that Shivers will be challenged, not only in the state and national Democratic conventions, but also at the ballot box.

He said Loyal Democrats "have a rendezvous with the governor on July 26 (the date of the first Democratic primary in Texas). There is no place on the Democratic ticket for candidates who are running against the Democratic Party."

Yarborough, who will draw the support of the Loyal Democrats faction, said he believed the people of Texas "are entitled to a full-time governor."

"That's what I expect to be, and I don't intend to try to tell the people of Texas how to run their national affairs," he added.

President Denies Promising Texan Commission Post

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman was asked at his news conference Thursday whether there was a "rumor" that he had promised Representative Beckworth (D-Texas) an appointment as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The President said he didn't know anything about any such suggestion and that he made no promises of that nature during political campaigns.

The East Texas congressman is now running for the U. S. Senate seat to be vacated by Tom Connally. Texas Attorney General Price Daniel was first to announce for Connally's post.

Truman Announcement Puts Question Of Armistice Or War Up To Kremlin

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An uncompromising announcement by President Truman that "this is our position" left the Asiatic Communists Thursday with the choice of accepting what is apparently the final Allied armistice offer or continuing a war that has cost them much and gained them little.

While the Communists mulled over the declaration that the United Nations' three-point proposal must be accepted in entirety, military and diplomatic officials here weighed the alternatives to be used if the offer is spurned.

If the Chinese and Korean Reds turn down the one-package proposal, including the point that there be no forced return of prisoners who don't want to go back, the prospects for continued war seemed uppermost. The shape this war could take —more prolonged stalemate on the existing battleline, a blockade of Red China's ports, attacks on the China Coast—figured in several alternatives considered by the United States and its Allies.

The chance of a diplomatic effort outside Korea to settle the dispute remained at least a possibility. Deputy Defense Secretary William C. Foster was asked by reporters Wednesday if direct negotiations with Russia, master Communist nation, had been considered. Foster replied "every alternative has been considered," including that one.

The single package proposal submitted by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's negotiators at Panmunjom and supported by the UN Allies contains these three points:

1. "That there shall be no forced repatriation of prisoners of war — as the Communists have insisted" (the president's summary of the point). A poll has shown 100,000 of the 173,000 prisoners would oppose return to Communist hands. This was a bitter blow to Communist prestige.

2. The United Nations will not insist on prohibiting reconstruction or repair of airfields in Communist areas.

3. The commission to supervise an armistice shall include two Communist satellite nations, Poland and Czechoslovakia, and two chosen by the United Nations, Sweden and Switzerland.

It was the first point that was at issue and it was that one over which the President was precise and adamant. He said "we will not buy an armistice by turning over human beings for slaughter or slavery."

Truman declared the UN had taken extreme care in separating the 100,000 prisoners who said they would oppose return from the 70,000 who wanted to go back, adding the UN would agree to an impartial screening, after an armistice, of the prisoners. (The mechanics of such a screening are still under consideration.) Truman said "nothing could be fairer."

Directly To Russians

Taking the case directly to the Russians could have indirect beneficial results for the Allies even if the Kremlin rejected the Armistice proposal. A rejection by Moscow would leave Russia in the position of virtually ordering her Chinese and Korean satellites to continue a war which has helped only the Russian Communists.

The Korean war has pinned down in that remote part of the world seven United States divisions, substantial portions of the United States Air Force and ships and planes of the Navy. It has cost the United States 108,000 battle casualties and the loss of planes, ground force arms and equipment and a few small ships. That, as the Kremlin wanted, has helped disperse American military strength.

But the war has cost the Chinese and Korean armies an estimated 1,170,000 battle casualties and loss of weapons and equipment hard to replace. And after almost two years the Communists stand about where they were at the start, near the 38th parallel dividing North and South Korea.

They may choose to continue standing there, behind the fortifications in depth which they have built up along the stalemated battleline since truce talks started last Summer.

Not Yet Determined

Foster said the Communists "have the ability to mount an attack; whether they do so is another question." He said, also, that "whether we have to face the broadening of hostilities" is not yet known.

But it is known air reconnaissance and other intelligence have shown a vast amount of southbound traffic behind the Communist lines. Despite continued bombing of rail and highway lines, trucks and rail cars have continued to pour vast quantities of supplies into the front line area.

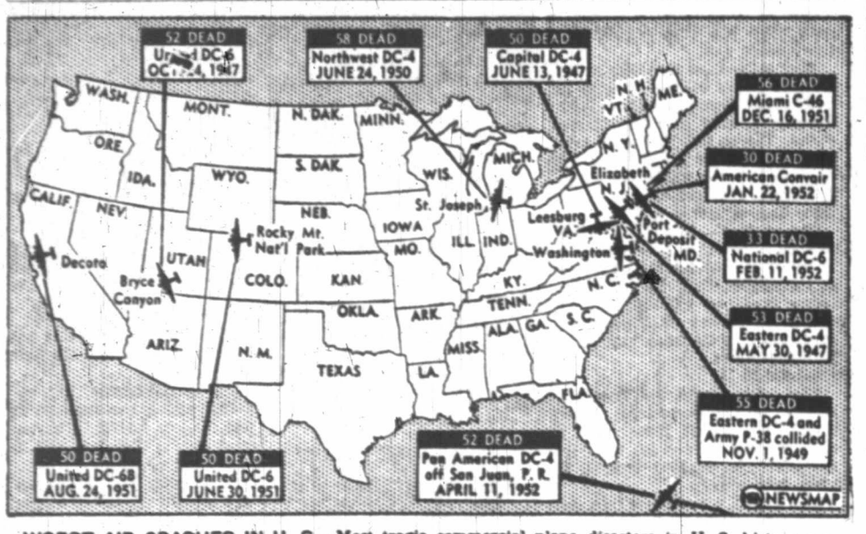

Losses suffered by the Reds during the heavy fighting before the armistice talks have more than been replaced. Fortifications, including bunker positions and artillery sites, have been observed on the front. These could mean either preparation for defense and continuation of the stalemate or a jump-off on a new offensive.

The formidable nature of the Reds' fixed line well may be a factor influencing the consideration of the various alternatives for possible use if an armistice is rejected. With the great weight of fire-power built up by the Allies, this defense line probably could be broken and another push in the direction of the Yalu River started.

But then there would be the question: Would the American public want to accept another costly slugging match on a front fought over before?

The proposals to move directly against the real source of Communist power in Korea, Red China, are by no means new. They were entertained months ago, were proposed to the Allies and figured in a speech in Parliament by Britian's Prime Minister Churchill.

Some advocates of the plan contended that, if the weight of the war were turned on China's commerce and transportation, the land battles in Korea would wither away for lack of Red support.

Atom Blast Series To Continue Indefinitely

LAS VEGAS, NEV. —(AP)— Five atom blasts down and perhaps five to go. That was the score Thursday in the Spring nuclear series.

After No. 5, Wednesday's tower shot in the dark, the Atomic Energy Commission indicated the series would continue indefinitely.

Since April 1 there has been a shot a week, with the exception of Holy Week before Easter. Next week's shot will be an invitational event for 500 military observers representing all branches of service, the AEC said. They will be stationed in foxholes, but will conduct no maneuver.

The next maneuver — the third phase of Exercise Desert Rock IV —will involve some 1,500 Army troops, probably two weeks hence.

The tests involving the military undoubtedly will be higher-level bombs dropped from planes to lessen the danger to human life.

The fact that the AEC still has three 300-foot test towers standing on Yucca Flat indicates the possibility of further tests similar to Wednesday's experiment.

If the earth stopped moving in its orbit, it would fall into the sun within two months.

Youth Who Served Term By Mistake Headed For Parole

AUSTIN —(AP)— The 15-year-old Iowa farm boy who went to prison by a mistake in his age may soon go back home on parole.

The State Pardons Board Wednesday indicated agreement on recommending clemency for him. They disagreed, however as to what jurisdiction might be retained over the youth.

Herbert Fletcher went to Texas prison last year on a 10-year sentence for filling station robberies in Freestone and Williamson Counties. He told officials he was 17. As a 15-year-old, he could have been tried only as a juvenile delinquent and sent to a training school.

Another robbery count had been pending against Fletcher in Milam County until Wednesday when the grand jury there no-billed him because of his age and recommended his parole to Iowa.

Presented To Board

Fletcher's mother and Georgetown Attorney W. K. McClain presented the Milam County Grand Jury's findings to the pardon board.

Board Chairman L. C. Harris and Member T. B. White asked McClain to add a letter from the Milam County attorney showing no action was planned against the youth as a juvenile.

Harris and White maintained the board had power of parole over the youth who, they said, waived his right as a juvenile when he told officers he was 17. Board Member R. A. (Smoot) Schmid contended the board by law could only recommend the sentence be commuted as illegal and Fletcher be remanded to the courts where he was convicted.

All three appeared in agreement, however, that he should be released from prison.

"I think a letter from the county attorney should be in the file when it gets over to the governor," Harris said.

The file would go to the governor for final action only if the board recommends Fletcher's release from prison.

REDUCING DIETS CAN BE HARMFUL

Doctors at a medical meeting recently, were advised by one of their members to quit calorie counting for their overweight patients and to start finding out what is worrying the fat ones.

"It is true," this doctor stated, "that the obese person is fat because he eats too much and he must eat less to reduce."

A strenuous reducing diet can do a great deal of harm; in some cases possibly more harm than the excess weight. We believe that a strenuous reducing diet should not be undertaken, except upon the advice and supervision of a physician.

And don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one hubby person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for your doctor. Never take any treatment for a glandular condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a rigid diet, take off weight, and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period.

Vitamins versus Reducing

Within the past year or so, several reducing "Plans" have appeared on the market. You will find by studying the "Plan" that it consists of a regimented diet, vitamins and minerals. Now vitamins have their uses and if you want to take vitamins or your doctor has prescribed them for you for a specific lack of any one of a number of vitamin needs, that is one thing, but for reducing, that is something else again.

If you will study the above mentioned "Plans" you will probably note that the plan calls for a regimented diet, which of course should take off weight. You will also note that the pills or tablets you take are vitamins or minerals. Of course the said minerals and vitamins will help to fortify you for the lack of essential food you are foregoing, but you cannot live on the vitamins. You must have sufficient, well balanced food to maintain health. Therefore, why pay for a "plan?" If you want to go on a starvation diet, you can do it very easily, but as we mentioned before, a rigid diet should not be attempted without your doctor's advice.

The Harmless Way

Here is a way to help you take off weight that is not based on the rigid diet and vitamin "plan."

You eat all you want, but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you eating more than is necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates. The preparation referred to is called Barcentrate, which you can get at any drug store. Nearly four and a quarter million bottles of this preparation have been sold in Texas in the past nine years.

Here is all you do. Just get a four-ounce bottle of liquid Barcentrate from your druggist. Pour contents into a pint bottle or jar. Add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day as per directions on label. That's all there is to it. There is nothing harmful in Barcentrate. In fact, thousands of people take it after losing the required weight, as a tonic. You can lose weight with Barcentrate without starvation diet or calorie counting.

As Mrs. Pearl Higgs, 1301 North Jackson, Odessa, Texas, wrote us: "I am very well satisfied with Barcentrate. I have lost 20 pounds taking it and I eat all I want. I think it is a wonderful medicine for overweight people."

This Lady Lost 25 Pounds

Mrs. Curtis Chandler, Olton Route, Plainview, Texas, is another lady who can't say enough for the merits of Barcentrate. She wrote us as follows:

"I lost 25 pounds taking Barcentrate only a few weeks and I highly recommend it for taking off weight. There is no other product like Barcentrate and I am forever grateful."

If the very first bottle of Barcentrate does not show you the way to reduce sensibly, safely and easily, return the empty bottle for your money back. Compare the cost of Barcentrate with any of the reducing "Plans" on the market and you will find it is less than half the price. The tremendous volume sales of Barcentrate enables us to hold down the price.

Roswell's Rockets Kick Odessa, 12-8

ODESSA—(AP)—Lowly Roswell rose up and knocked Odessa out of first place in the Longhorn League standings here Wednesday night, taking a long, dreary 12-8 decision.

Ron Peterson, who was Tuesday night's loser, lasted six and a third innings Wednesday night for the win. Juan Guerrero, who was shelled for nine hits and seven runs in five frames, was the loser.

There were 29 hits, 11 of which went for extra bases.

Bill Cearley hit two homers for the victors, both with the bases empty, and Teammate Wayne Crawford chipped in with one four-master.

A fine relief job by Andy Alonzo preserved the pitching win for Peterson. Alonzo came on in the seventh with Roswell leading, 9-8, one away and the tying run on second.

Roman Loyko hit a hard drive which Shortstop Bob Lemmel speared on the run and he touched second for a double play, ending the inning. Only one Odessa runner got on in the last two innings, that being Charles Weber, who walked.

Cearley's first homer, over the left field fence, was Roswell's first run and it tied the count at 1-1. In the third, Cearley tripled home Stubby Greer, who had gained life on Left Fielder Roberto Fabian's error, and then he scored on Ray Hill's single.

Odessa got one each in the first, second and fourth to make it 3-3 as the fifth opened.

Black Indians Split Pair Of Games With Traveling Cubans

The Midland Black Indians split a pair of games with the Florida Cubans here Tuesday and Wednesday night at Indian Park, winning 12 to 6 Tuesday night and losing Wednesday night, 13 to 4.

A traveling squad, the Cubans reportedly were one of the top semi-pro baseball teams in the nation last year.

Johnny Williams hurled the Midland team to victory Tuesday night. In taking the win, the Midlanders broke a 6 to 6 tie in the seventh finning by scoring four runs. They added two insurance runs in the eighth.

The Cubans downed the Midland team Wednesday night on the eight-hit pitching of J. Ciscio. John Hall hurled all the way for the Indians and was charged with the loss.

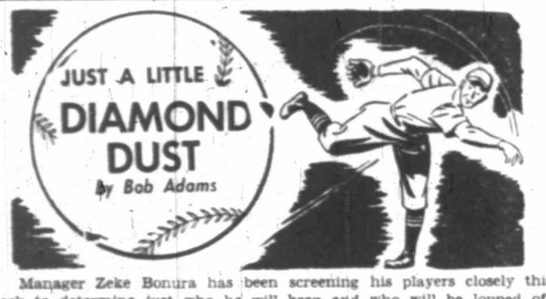

Johnny Williams homered with one aboard for the Midland team in the first inning and Cecil Hereau homered for the Cubans in the sixth with two aboard.

The Black Indians take on a Lubbock negro team at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Midland Indian Park.

Bearded Davids Again Texas Bound

DALLAS—(AP)—The House of David baseball team, one of the oldest traveling aggregations in the nation, begins its thirty-second year when it visits Texas next week.

The Davids play the Havana Cubans at Tyler Wednesday night and at Dallas Thursday night.

Manager Zeke Bonura has been screening his players closely this week to determine just who he will keep and who will be lopped off the squad.

Friday is the deadline when Longhorn League teams will have to trim down their squads to the number allowed by league rules.

Trimming the squad is a job which most managers dislike. They would like to keep all of the boys. And occasionally, it's difficult to decide just which player will develop ipto the best hand.

But a decision must be made and a few of the less fortunate will have to bid farewell to the team.

* * * * *

Israel Ten probably will get the pitching nod from Zeke to go against Odessa Thursday night.

Israel will be attempting to mark up his first win of the season. His complete reversal of form from last year has Ten, as well as Bonura, baffled.

At the close of the 1951 season, Ten was one of the most effective hurlers on the squad and the management rightfully expected great things of him this year.

"I don't know what's wrong," he told us. "I feel good and my arm feels as good as ever."

Tommy Phillips, 16-year-old Midland negro catcher, has signed a contract with the Dallas Eagles in the Texas League.

Phillips played with the Midland Black Indians here three years and, despite the fact he was playing with men much older than himself, was called one of the outstanding players in this area.

Carver High School Coach Johnny Williams said Phillips was better as a catcher than as a hitter.

Phillips also was an outstanding football player, making the all-district team here one year while playing quarterback.

Phillips probably will be assigned to another minor league club which has a working agreement with the Dallas team.

The Midland Indians will hold their first ladies' night of the season here Tuesday when Midland plays Artesia, according to Horace Busby, business manager of Midland Indians, Inc.

Any woman who is accompanied by one paid admission will be admitted to the park free.

In player transactions in the Longhorn League recently, San Angelo assigned Merle Lee Blackmun and Jesue Serrano optionally to the Hannibal Club of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League.

Big Spring obtained Carlos Fernandez by option from the Havana Club of the Florida International League.

Bauman's Big Stick Leads Artesia To 5-4 Win Over Big Spring

ARTESIA—(AP)—Big Joe Bauman hit two home runs for a total of four runs batted in to lead the Artesia Drillers to a 5-4 win over the Big Spring Broncs here Wednesday night.

Bauman, the Drillers' huge first sacker, clouted a solo round-tripper in the fourth inning and then blasted another four-master in the fifth with Teammates John Alonzo and Herb Harrow on the sacks in front of him.

His circuit clout Wednesday night ran his total for the year to seven.

The Drillers added another run in the fifth—their game-winning tally—on consecutive doubles by Rudy Brainer and Paul Halter.

Big Spring picked up its first run in the third inning on singles by Enrigue Gonzales, Bert Baez and Buddy Grimes.

More singles by Baez and Grimes and Manager Pat Stasey's two-run double down the left field foul line in the fifth added a pair of runs to the Bronc cause, throwing them into a momentary, 3-1 lead.

Their final tally came in the sixth when Gonzales and Baez led off with singles to chase Starter Glen McBride from the mound. Stasey then singled, plating Gonzales.

McBride was tagged for 11 hits in his five and two-thirds inning stint, but scattered them nicely to hold down the Big Spring scoring.

After Artesia Reliefer Tom Simone had yielded a single to Stasey in the sixth, he retired the next six men to face him in the same manner, on ground balls to Third Baseman Halter.

Armis Arencebia went the distance on the mound for the losers.

Indians Return To Play Odessa Thursday Night

Israel Ten will be the probable starting pitcher at 8 p.m. Thursday, when the Midland Indians attempt to get back on the winning path in the first of a two-game series with the Odessa Oilers at Indian Park here.

VERNON—(AP)—The Vernon Dusters took the Midland Indians, 9-6, here Wednesday night, sweeping the two-game series. Audie Malone chalked up his fifth consecutive victory.

A fast triple play in the first inning by Vernon highlighted the game. Dempsey Albritton and Dick Cassidy hit consecutive singles to occupy first and second. Pat Lorenzo lined out to Popeye Carerras at shortstop, who relayed to Leon English at the keystone to double off Albritton. English fired the ball to John Reimold at first in time to get Cassidy.

Midland's three runs in the third came off five hits, all singles.

John Payne, Albritton, Cassidy, Lorenzo and Julio de la Torre each hit singles in the outburst—in that order. Payne, Albritton and Cassidy did the scoring.

In the Midland eighth, Cassidy collected his third single of the night and went to second on an error. He scored when Stan Wilcox singled. De la Torre, who gained life at first on a fielder's choice, scored from third and Wilcox came all the way home on a double by Gordon Tanner.

Three hits and a gratis trip scored Vernon's final two runs in the bottom of the eighth.

Tito Santiago who was beaned in the first game of the series, was released from the hospital Wednesday, and attended Wednesday night's game.

He will be out of action about three days, according to Manager Zeke Bonura.

New York Shrugs Off NBA Opposition To Ray-Joey Battle

NEW YORK — (AP) — The chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission shrugged off NBA opposition to the Ray Robinson-Joey Maxim bout Thursday and proceeded to tie up loose ends of what he calls the "fight of the century."

"Could it be that this criticism stems from the fact that the bout is not being held in NBA territory?" asked Chairman Robert K. Christenberry.

The NBA—National Boxing Association, which governs the sport in every state except New York—issued a blast after the principals formally signed Wednesday to meet June 23 at Yankee Stadium.

Maxim is the light heavyweight champion. His title will be at stake in the 15-round battle with Robinson, former welterweight and now middleweight king who aspires to become the third man in history to head three divisions.

The NBA announced in Washington it frowned on such interclass bouts, declaring the champions first should defeat all logical contenders in their division.

Westerners Take Loop Leadership As Hornets Lose

Angelo Nips Braves, 4-3; Regains Top

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The San Angelo Colts defeated the Sweetwater Braves here Wednesday night for the second straight time by the same score, 4-3.

Lew Lozano, winning his third game in four tries this season, won a close pitcher's battle with Ernie Sadler, the Sweetwater ace. Again the Colts were outhit, this time 8 to 6, but the wildness of Sadler finally spelled his doom in the seventh inning, when the Colts pushed over the winning run.

After getting the first man in the seventh, Sadler allowed a single to left by Colt Second Baseman John Tayoan. A walk to Floyd Martin pushed Tayoan to second after Jake McClain flied out to center for the second out, Sadler walked both Mark Christmas and Cotton Russell to force Tayoan across with the run.

Charley Tuttle, Brave left fielder, put the Braves into a early second-inning lead with his second homer in two nights. Emil Carlini, Brave center gardener, followed with a double and scored on a single by Shortstop Pete Carmona to make it 2-0, Sweetwater.

Colts Tie It Up

The Colts quickly tied it in the bottom of the second on Mark Christman's leadoff home run, a single by Russell and an error by Carmona that allowed Russell to score from second.

The Braves moved back into the lead in the fourth on the only walk given up by Lozano, this one to Tuttle, a single by Charley Buck that put Tuttle on second, a sacrifice by Carlini and a single by Carmona.

The Colts tied the count in the fifth inning when Dooley opened with a walk, moved to second on Tayoan's ground out, and scored on Martin's broken-bat single over second.

Clovis Gains Notch By Racking Borger; Blue Sox Lose Again

By The Associated Press

Clovis, winning almost four games to its opponent's one, added the seventh victory in its last eight starts Wednesday night to set a torrid pace in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Clovis club stretched its first-place margin over Abilene by racking Borger, 17-2. Abilene, in the meantime, fell three full games back, as Pampa administered the Blue Sox' fourth defeat, 11-6, in the last six encounters.

Hapless Amarillo got blanked for its efforts against Albuquerque. Duke newcomer Frank Decarolis went all the way for the 5-0 win, and had a no-hitter until Amarillo loaded the bases on a single and two walks in the eighth inning.

Lamesa stopped Lubbock, 12-7, mainly by taking advantage of three first-inning errors for an early lead. Ray Machado sustained his first pitching defeat for Lubbock.

Clovis rapped Borger for five home runs and seven doubles.

A grand slam home run and two other RBI's by Glen Selbo provided all of Abilene's runs in defeat.

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The New York Giants, who will lose Center Fielder Willie Mays to the Army in 10 days, had another outfielder on their roster Thursday.

Rendezvous Keeps Record Intact In Softball League

The Rendezvous softball team pounded out a 9 to 3 victory over the Independents Wednesday night at Wadley Park to remain undefeated in league play.

Malone hurled three-hit ball for the winners in holding the Independents in check.

The Independents jumped into a first inning lead but Rendezvous tied it up in the third inning and went out in front in the fourth with two runs.

Grove paced the Rendezvous batters at the plate, collecting two doubles in three times at bat. Collis singled twice in three times up for the losers.

In a second contest, Humble capitalized on the wildness of a Phillip's 66 ptichet to win a lop-sided game, 14 to 3.

Horton, Phillip's pitcher, got in hot water in the very first inning when he walked the first four batters to face him. However, he redeemed himself somewhat, a little later, when he collected two of the three hits his team got in losing.

After plating four runs in the first inning, the Humble team led all the way by a sizable score.

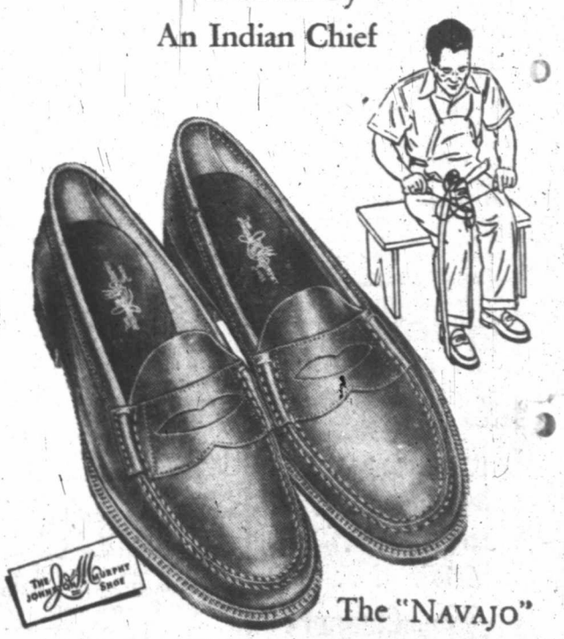

In action Thursday night, Humble will meet Shell in the opener, while Rendezvous will attempt to maintain its unbeaten record against the American Legion squad in the nightcap.

Front-Running Clubs Go Down In Topsy-Turvy Texas League

By The Associated Press

Tulsa was left behind in the Texas League Wednesday night when four of the five clubs in the tie for last place got spiteful and smacked the Oilers and the three loop leaders.

The circuit, so-called a pitcher's league, saw 18 moundsmen in action, although two games were settled by a single run and two by two runs.

Tulsa, nominally the eighth-place club Wednesday by five percentage points, stayed five and a half games behind, when San Antonio nicked the Oilers, 5-3.

First-place Fort Worth fell to Shreveport, 5-4, second-place Beaumont tripped before Dallas, 4-2, and Oklahoma City trimmed third-place Houston, 8-7.

Fort Worth Pitcher James Melton yielded four runs to Shreveport in the first inning as the first of four Cats pitchers in action. Melton's first relief man, Ernest Nichols, gave up a run in the second inning which proved to be the marginal tally.

Houston smothered four Oklahoma City hurlers with 14 hits but the Indian batsmen were more efficient, turning eight hits off three Houston pitchers into eight runs.

Dallas' Dave Hoskins outlasted two Beaumont hurlers as the Eagles turned in their first victory over the Roughnecks this season. Hoskins was boosted by Joe Macko's three-for-four night at the plate that produced two runs.

The Eagles collected four hits and three runs to rout Rough Starter Hugh Radcliffe in the sixth. Hoskins registered his fourth win, against a single loss to Beaumont, giving up six hits, a walk and fanning two.

San Antonio Catcher Bob Martin broke up the Mission-Oiler three-all tie in the ninth inning with a double that provided the deciding two runs. Johnny Vandermeer of Tulsa was the victim, while Bill Black, Mission starter, took the win, although he got help in the ninth.

Favored Pat Garner Shoots 76 In Fem Golf Meet; Match Play Starts

THIS IS THE WAY IT'S DONE, GIRLS—Gloria Ezell gets set to give Pat Garner, center, and Sybil Flournoy, right, an example of how one should make a proper approach to a green. All three women are top competitors in the Midland Country Club Ladies Golf Tournament, which will last through Sunday.

Defending champion Pat Garner shot a par-tying 76 at the Midland Country Club Tuesday as she won medalist honors in the qualifying rounds of the Ladies Club Tournament and lived up to her reputation of being a top favorite to retain her title.

Even so, Gloria Ezell stayed fast on the trail of Miss Garner by posting a score of 78, two over ladies par for the course.

A field of 28 golfers from Midland started match play in the championship flight at 10:30 a.m. Thursday on the 18-hole country club course.

Championship Flight

The championship flight is made up of 16 top qualifiers and at the end of Thursday's play, the top eight will be designated as the first flight and will play in a championship round at the course Sunday.

CHUCK DAVEY BATTERS VEJAR

CHICAGO—(AP)—Chuck Davey scored four spectacular knockdowns to defeat Chico Vejar easily Wednesday night and retain his unbeaten record.

Harpooning lefts to the face and stomach sent Vejar down in the 10-round welterweight battle.

Decision of the two judges and referee was unanimous. Vejar made an astonishing whirlwind finish to win the tenth round. Second and ninth rounds were declared even and the remainder went to Davey.

Eighteen of the 25 players of the University of Alabama baseball roster are home state products. Seven are from Tuscaloosa, site of the college campus.

Following the two game series here, Midland will travel to Odessa for a pair of games.

Midland's scnequie for the 10days following the above games are listed below:

Scarborough-Graves Duel Due In Texas-TCU Meeting

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas and Texas Christian open the payoff series in Southwest Conference baseball here Friday—and the setting could be no more dramatic for Luther Scarborough than if planned that way.

Scarborough has been slapped around by a lot of things in half of his collegiate athletic career. But he's a full-fledged hero now and his greatest moment may come Friday.

Seven of Texas' eight Southwest Conference victories belong to the big senior right-hander and now Scarborough will have the opportunity to settle accounts with Texas Christian's great pitcher, Norris (Nobby) Graves.

The son of a former Texas Christian all-conference football player Scarborough naturally wants to defeat TCU in a game that could decide the conference championship.

Furthermore, victory would be sweeter if it could be scored against Graves, Scarborough's former teammate at Polytchnic High School in Fort Worth. It was Graves who gained a decision over Luther here last year, and that 3-4 setback on four unearned runs was the only loss suffered by Texas in its last 58 conference starts on the home field.

In an earlier duel this year at Fort Worth, Scarborough was a 2-1 victor, both of Texas' runs being tainted by Graves' inadequate support.

Yank Refugees Win For Washington As Champions Flounder In Second Division

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bucky Harris and his Yankee refugees are licking their chops over a six-game Washington win streak while the world champ Yankees squirm in the second division.

Ever since the "big deal" sent Jackie Jensen, Archie Wilson and Spec Shea to Washington for Ivy Noren, the ex-yanks have been hitting and pitching like crazy.

Since they traded New York flannels for Washington, Wilson has hit .526 and Shea has pitched 1-0.

Jensen cashed in two more hits Wednesday night in the Senators' 6-2 romp over feeble Detroit. The veteran Sid Hudson didn't need much help behind his five-hit effort.

While the Senators continued to spree, the Yanks still were shaking their heads over the strange sight of two straight Cleveland wins at Yankee Stadium. Mike Garcia got home with a 7-2 victory over the Yanks although nicked for 12 hits.

The Indians needed that decision to stick one game behind the league-leading Boston Red Sox, who crushed Chicago, 7-2, on Southpaw Bill Henry's pitching and batting. The rookie backed up his five-hit work with a triple and single that drove in two runs. It was his fourth straight.

Philadelphia's Alex Kellner shoved the St. Louis Browns a little closer to their old home in the second division with a fine, 1-0 triumph over Earl Harrist. Eddie Joost's double, a sacrifice and an outfield fly accounted for the only run in the first inning. Kellner gave five hits, Harrist only four.

Brooklyn headed home from its first Western trip, still in possession of the National League lead, with the help of some strongarm relief pitching by Johnny Rutherford in its 5-4 triumph over Cincinnati. The right-handed rookie from St. Paul came on after left-handed Chris Van Cuyk floundered in the third.

Battle For Blood

Don't let anybody tell you the Leo Durocher-Eddie Stanky battles won't be for blood. Durocher used his two New York Giant aces—Sal Maglie and Larry Jansen—to subdue Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1.

Stan Musial opened the Card ninth with a double. Maglie was shaken up covering first base retiring Peanuts Lowrey. When Sal walked Wally Westlake and threw one ball to Enos Slaughter, Durocher took him out. Jansen, a right-hander, was a surprise choice against left-handed swinging Enos Slaughter. But Slaughter made Leo look good by rapping into a game-ending double play.

It was Maglie's victory, his fifth straight. In 45 innings "The Barber" has allowed but 22 hits and just five earned runs. He gave up only six hits to the Cards, two by Solly Hemus, who has had 23 hits in his last 40 times at bat.

Howie Pollet broke into the win column for the first time this year with a five-hitter as Pittsburgh broke a six-game losing slump to whip the Phillies, 5-1. The scheduled Boston-at-Chicago day game was postponed because of cold.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

Wide Assortment Of Backers Join LLB—Ex-Big Leaguers, Gridders, Navy Braid

By JOHN McCALLUM
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — The sight of a Little League uniform affects kids and oldsters alike. One day, in Milan, Tenn., Commissioner Carl Stotz, touring the South, watched curiously as a Little Leaguer walked into a store in his uniform on what obviously was an errand for his mother.

A five-year-old boy nudged his companion. "Gee," he said, his voice tinged with awe and envy, "that's the shortstop on our team."

Moments later the team's most rabid rooter passed by, an 80-year-old farmer who walked five miles to town for every Little League game. "There goes our shortstop," he drawled admiringly.

Pertinent to the strange fascination grown-ups have for this youth movement, Alva Gannon, secretary of the Rutherford, N. J., Little League and widowed mother of two sons, takes pen in hand and says:

"A boy is a boy for so few years, and if a parent doesn't grab every opportunity to see his boy play he's missing so very much in life.

"Every parent should take an interest in Little League. It's the main topic of conversation in a boy's life, and if a parent can talk the same language, he'll get so much more enjoyment out of the boy, making criticisms, complimenting good plays, being happy when the team wins, a little sad when it loses."

Ex-Big Leaguers Help

Little League is attracting the doggondest assortment of folks — ex-big league ball players, for instance.

Decision On Texas Tech Is Top Item At SWC Spring Meet

DALLAS—(AP)—The Spring meeting of the Southwest Conference opened Thursday with golf and tennis tournaments and a session of the athletic directors slated Thursday night. The Conference Faculty Committee holds its first meeting Friday afternoon, at which time the burning question of whether the league is to expand will be taken up.

Waiting for the conference fathers to decide will be Texas Tech, a big West Texas school now in the Border Conference, and University of Houston, a huge school at Houston now a member of the Missouri Valley Conference.

The athletic directors have four topics for discussion Thursday night—whether all conference schools will share Cotton Bowl receipts, whether to restrict the number of athletic scholarships per school, radio and television contracts, and a policy on use of football game motion pictures on post-game telecasts or in movie theaters. The athletic directors take no action — they merely recommend to the faculty committee.

The annual track and field meet will begin Friday afternoon with Texas A&M an overwhelming favorite to win the championship.

The faculty committee meets Friday afternoon, Friday night and Saturday morning. It will announce Saturday whether Texas Tech and/or University of Houston are to be taken in, or if the circuit will continue with the same seven members it has had 30 years. Tech, a long-time applicant, is confident of admission and, according to Aathletic Director DeWitt Weaver, isn't interested in any other conference.

AP Columnist Looks In On Maxim-Sugar Ray Signing

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joey Maxim, the thickest light heavyweight champion of the world, was waiting stolidly in the offices of the New York State Athletic Commission for Sugar Ray Robinson to show up and sign the papers for their 15-round fight at Yankee Stadium on June 23. He was asked if he wasn't getting weary of waiting for the Pride of Harlem.

"Not me," grinned Maxie, displaying two rows of strong teeth, "for this kind of money I can wait a long time. I've waited for a whole lot less. It hasn't been long since I was fighting some very tough monkeys for two-three-four thousand dollars. One period of 15 months I think I had 24 fights."

For all his scores of fights with many of the best men in the game, the 30-year-old Clevelander shows scarcely a mark. He bears only a few razor-thin scars around the eyes, and his cheekbones and nose are not puffed or warped. He looks like what he is, a consummate boxer. He will have two inches in height and some 14-15 pounds in weight on Robinson, and is sublimely certain he can whale the Sugar Boy.

Robinson, when he finally arrived for the signing, said quite frankly that he had no real hope of knocking out his heavier opponent. An admirer said he was surprised at this "defeatest" attitude on the part of the middleweight champ.

"It isn't defeatist," the slender negro protested. "I swear I don't feel any different about him than about all the others. It's just that I know he can take a punch. I know that if I beat him it will be with speed, and I'm faster than he is. Of course, if I see I've got him hurt, I'll try to finish him. Maybe I hit a little sharper than Joey does. I'm not worried about his weight. Jake LaMotta outweighed me about 14 pounds first time I fought him."

Another Flood Of Bogus Money Feared

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The country may soon be swamped under a major new flood of bogus money.

Based on a tremendous increase in bootlegging and evidence of the big-time syndicate crooks desperately seeking new sources of illegitimate revenue, with most of their gambling profits gone, government officials fear a serious outbreak of counterfeiting could be in the making.

Treasury officials and congressional crime experts have revealed the new bootleg menace. And they point out that counterfeiting has always been a major by-product of that racket, especially with the big interstate gangs moving in on the sale of illegal booze.

Prohibition days demonstrated how important a part fake money came to play in bootlegging, with the public ending up the sucker for both rackets.

Seen As Typical

Typical of what might be in the offing for the country is the recent partial exposure in Chicago of one of the biggest counterfeiting operations ever uncovered. According to a Secret Service spokesman, approximately 800 arrests all over the country were made as part of the ring, with $1,400,000 in fake $10 and $20 bills confiscated.

In jail in Chicago, charged with being key figures in the case, according to the Secret Service, are William Skally and William J. Russo. Two other men are also charged with using a legitimate printing shop as a front for the counterfeiting.

The fake bills involved flooded the middle west, with many of them turning up in New York and San Francisco. Other arrests of key figures in the ring are expected soon, the Secret Service says.

Significant Aspects

Two significant aspects of this case are most disturbing to the Secret Service. The quality of the bills was very good, a spokesman says. Since the war the trend has been to produce better bogus bills all the time.

The use of a legitimate printing shop which shielded the operations for a long period of time also alarms the Treasury. It could mean the presence of big-time gangster brains already well entrenched in the counterfeiting racket.

Even since the end of World War II counterfeiting has been increasing, and with the Chicago case figures, 1952 could set an all-time high.

Highest previous year was 1935, when a total of $1,493,311 worth of fake currency was discovered in existence by the Secret Service. Last year seizures of counterfeit currency totaled $1,380,882.

Proof Of Difficulty

As proof of the increased difficulty of curbing counterfeiting in the U. S., Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman reveals that his agents were forced to contribute 95,000 hours of unpaid overtime in order to keep the racket in check in 1951. There are only 224 agents at work on this activity.

The overtime represented the equivalent of about 52 agents working normal hours for a full year, Chief Baughman claims.

At the start of last year the Service had 18,000 pending investigations, Baughman reveals. By the end of 1951, he says, the Secret Service had investigated 49,952 cases of all types. Nevertheless retail stores throughout the country lost $448,560 last year to counterfeiters, he admits.

Baughman also admits "there is now more counterfeit money in circulation than at any time during the past 12 years."

"When the war was in progress and the rationing of food, gasoline and other commodities was in vogue, many crooks manufactured millions of counterfeit ration coupons," Baughman explains.

"When the war ended and rationing vanished, these criminals turned their new-found talents to the production of counterfeit money, and new home-made currency began to appear in circulation in increasing quantities throughout the United States and even in foreign countries."

Baughman is also concerned over the possibility of enemy countries using counterfeiting as a major weapon for an attempt to wreck American economy. He says, "History shows that foreign governments have used it extensively and successfully as a silent saboteur.

He has been active in organizing several recent international conferences of friendly nations to help combat the threat of large foreign counterfeiting of U. S. money.

Diagram by the Treasury Department shows the position of important features of paper currency, in this instance a $10 Federal Reserve Note. The Secret Service usese diagrams like this for warning notices describing counterfeit bills.

Composite portraits of Hamilton, left, from good and bad $10 bills and of Washington, right, from good and bad $1 bills are enlarged to show difference. This shows why the best way to detect a bad bill is to compare it with one you know is good. These currency photos are published by special permission of the secretary of the Treasury and further reproduction, in whole or part, is strictly prohibited.

Gross Describes $15,000 Shakedown By James Moran

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ex-Bookie Harry Gross—his lips unzippered after months in jail—testified Wednesday that James J. Moran shook him down for a $15,000 political contribution during former Mayor William O'Dwyer's 1949 campaign.

Moran, long-time political crony of O'Dwyer, is in Sing Sing Prison on a 12 1/2 to 28 year sentence for masterminding a $500,000-a-year fireman's shakedown racket when he was first deputy fire commissioner.

Gross also testified he had "an arrangement" with Inspector William P. O'Brien whom O'Dwyer later named police commissioner.

The "arrangement," Gross said, was for protection at the rate of $50 or $100 for him (O'Brien), plus the regular amount for the spot."

Gross reputedly paid one million dollars a year graft to police for protection until his 20-million-dollar-a-year bookie racket was smashed in 1950.

Asked For Comment

O'Brien, asked for comment on Gross' testimony, declared: "He's a liar. . . I don't know him. I never saw him. I never met him."

O'Brien, now in private business, quit as police commissioner during the graft scandal which broke after Gross' arrest. At the time of the resignation, O'Dwyer said "I believe Bill O'Brien is as honest a man as I have ever known."

O'Dwyer, now U. S. ambassador to Mexico, said in Mexico City Wednesday night that he had "no comment" on Gross' testimony.

Gross testified at the departmental retail of five policemen charged with protecting his gambling operations and with perjury at their first trial last November.

The original departmental trial and also the mass criminal trial of 18 alleged police grafters were wrecked when Gross refused to talk.

He drew a five-year sentence for contempt of court, and later was sentenced to 12 years on bookmaking and conspiracy charges.

East Germany Reds Threaten Anew To Set Up Own Army

BERLIN —(AP)— East Germany's Communist government hurled new threats Thursday to set up their own army—something the West says they already have—if West Germany lines up with Western defense.

Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl telegraphed Soviet Prime Minister Stalin that West Germany's almost-complete peace contract with the Western Allies threatens civil war and the Soviet Zone will arm to meet it.

East German President Wilhelm Pieck said on May Day that Western signing of the peace contract—expected before the end of May—would compel the East to raise a defense force. Wednesday night leaders of the East Zone's ruling Socialist Unity (Communist) Party wired Stalin such an army, necessary for defense "against aggression," would be raised.

The Western Allies have said for months, however, that East Germany already has a trained nucleus army in its 50,000-man state police and 10,000-man sea police unit.

The telegrams to the Soviet Union's Prime Minister were sent on the occasion of the anniversary Thursday of the Soviet conquest of the Nazi armies. Grotewohl said.

"By signing of the general treaty (by Adenauer with the West), conditions are to be created similar to Korea. A great danger of civil war between Germans arises. If Adenauer intends to sign a treaty without the people, without the Parliament and without the parties, then he shall know that the (East) German Democratic Republic will under no circumstances accede without resisting this putsch and its consequences."

Federal Reserve Board Lifts Installment Buying Controls

WASHINGTON —(AP)— For the first time in 20 months, the government has given you free rein to buy that car, television set, or furniture on whatever terms you can get.

The Federal Reserve Board Wednesday suspended controls over down payments and time-to-pay — on grounds that an easing of inflationary pressure justified the action.

There was varied reaction Thursday as business men and officials tried to size up the case, now that dealers and finance companies may impose their own terms:

Authorities on the reserve board said actually they expect the effects to be slight.

Some trade circles, happy over the suspension of controls, predicted a boost in sales, which have been lagging.

A few dealers were expected to proclaim the $10 down and $1-a-week type of sale, but in most cases spokesmen for business said the changes probably will be moderate.

No Down Payment

However, the Bank of America—the world's largest bank—quickly announced much more lenient terms. A few hours after the controls were lifted, the bank announced it will require no down payment for such household appliances as refrigerators, ranges and washers, and allow 24 months to pay.

Its new automobile financing terms are on a sliding scale, depending on the year in which the car was produced. On 1952 and 1951 new models, down payment is 30 per cent, balance in 30 months; on 1950-49-48 used models, 30 per cent down and 24 months for the balance; 1947-46, 30 per cent down, 18 months to pay; and on prewar models, 40 per cent down, balance in 24 months.

On television and radio purchases, the bank will require 10 per cent down and 24 months to pay.

Regulation "W" required a one-third down payment on automobiles and 15 per cent down on furniture and appliances, with 18 months to pay.

Suspension Not Likely

The government still will regulate terms for real estate purchases—under Regulation "X"—and officials said there is little likelihood of a suspension in this field.

An official of the Radio and Television Manufacturers Association said down payments probably will be reduced, especially on more expensive sets, but time to pay probably will remain about the same.

The National Automobile Dealers Association said finance companies are expected to continue to require about one-third down on most cars, but the payment period may be extended from 18 months to an average of 24 months.

Many business men and government officials agreed that the ultimate effects will depend on consumer reaction and business competition. They said dealers are expected to ease up on credit terms as needed to boost sales; but they still will want to keep sound credit accounts.

Odessa Feels Water Pinch

ODESSA—Supply of water is getting dangerously low during these hot days and Odessans have been urged by city officials to "take it easy" on water usage.

"If Odessans continue to use water at the present rate, some restrictions on its use will have to be put into effect," A. L. Wright, city water superintendent, said.

Water is being used at about the rate of seven and one-half million gallons a day and the absolute capacity the city can produce is eight million gallons a day, Wright said.

"We are urging residents to use water only for household purposes and just enough to keep lawns and shrubbery alive," the city official said.

Wright said he had been advised by Col. E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, that Odessa will be receiving water from the district by June 1.

"We'll have ample water for all if residents will just hold off on using so much water until June 1," Wright said.

New York GOP Committee Names Pro-Ike Delegates

NEW YORK—(AP)—Six pro-Eisenhower delegates-at-large to the Republican National convention were elected by the New York GOP State Committee Wednesday.

They and 90 district delegates chosen at the April 22 primary will make up New York State's powerful 96-vote convention delegation.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has said all but one of the district delegates will support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidential nomination. One announced backer of Senator Robert Taft was elected at the primary.

Supporters of Taft claim he will get at least 17 of New York's votes. Under state law, the delegates are unpledged.

Boy, 11, Gets Court Permission To Learn Flying and Navigation

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Eleven-year-old Randall (Scooter) Salmon had court permission Thursday to take lessons in instrument flying and navigation from his daddy.

The boy's mother objected Wednesday at the trial of her divorce suit against Herman Salmon, Lockheed test pilot.

But Superior Judge George A. Dockweiler said: "In this day and age when youths are thinking in terms of jet planes that are propelled faster than sound, and our whole situation is geared to transportation via airlines, it is not out of order for children to want to be pilots."

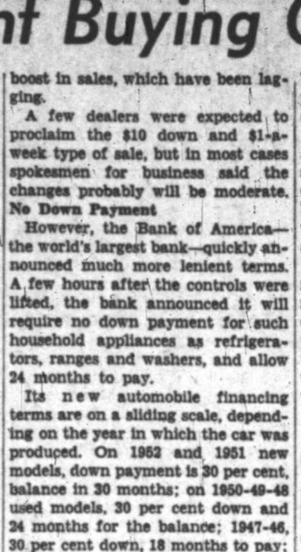

Mrs. Evelyn Salmon won a divorce and custody of Randall.

Randall, who already has more than 200 hours in the air as an observer, expects to be doing lots of flying with his dad.

Red Demonstrations Against Ridgway Are Ordered In France

PARIS —(AP)— The French Communist Party issued orders Thursday to Communists throughout the nation to organize protest demonstrations against Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Ridgway is due in Paris May 25 to take over as supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe. Said the Paris Communist Federation:

"He arrives dripping with the martyred blood of Korean and Chinese women, children and the aged, against whom he has committed the most awful barbarian crimes. He is the war criminal that the world forever will call 'the germ killer'."

Ridgway is coming to France "to step up the preparations for aggression against the Soviet Union, the popular democracies, the Democratic German Republic," the Communists said.

Child Enroute To Join Father Drowns

BOISE, IDAHO— (AP) —An Austin child, enroute to Japan to join his soldier-father, drowned in an irrigation ditch Wednesday.

William S. Quinn, Jr., nine, and two brothers were looking at the irrigation ditch while their mother unloaded their car for an overnight stay. The boy vanished and was found 150 yards downstream.

Mrs. Quinn and her boys were going to Seattle where they were to take a boat Saturday for Japan, where M/Sgt. William S. Quinn is stationed.

Gambler Tells Of Protection Payoffs To Former Official

DALLAS —(AP)— Protection payments of $50 a month were claimed by a former Fort Worth gambler to have been given to A. L. Wardlaw, onetime Tarrant County assistant district attorney.

W. H. Getzendaner testified at Wardlaw's trial for income tax evasion:

"I paid him $50 a month for protection for whatever time I was open. But those places (bookie joints) don't stay open all the time."

Getzendaner said he ran a bookie operation in Fort Worth during 1948 and 1949. His statements were the first indication in court of any protection racket in the Tarrant County district attorney's office during those years.

Getzendaner's statements were made with jury out of the courtroom at the order of Judge T. Whitfield Davidson. Assistant U. S. District Attorney Cavett Binion had asked that the jury be excused for Getzendaner's accusation.

Wardlaw is the first of two Tarrant County men indicted by a special federal grand jury that met in Fort Worth. The other, named in similar charges, is Sheriff Sully Montgomery.

New York Campaign Offices Opened By Senator Kefauver

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—Senator Estes Kefauver, claiming strong support among New York State delegates to the Democratic National Convention, opened state campaign headquarters Thursday in New York City.

Kefauver was to leave from Albany Airport Thursday morning to establish a political base (Hotel Lincoln).

On a foray Wednesday into rural upstate New York, the Tennessee Democrat tossed a challenge at the state's Democratic high command, which is seeking to corral New York's 94 delegates for its "favorite son" candidate, W. Averill Harriman.

Kefauver told reporters he was "doing everything I can to get all the votes in New York." He said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's state would go Democratic next fall if he (Kefauver) were the Democratic nominee.

Claims Big Support

"I have a lot of support among New York delegates," Kefauver said flatly. But he declined to estimate the number.

Earlier, the senator had declared his showing in the Florida and Ohio primaries Tuesday "practically assures my nomination."

Kefauver's performance in Ohio, where he won at least 27 of 54 delegates, boosted him into the national lead in claimed delegates over Harriman.

Delegate tabulations by The Associated Press show Kefauver has 104 1/2 to Harriman's 93 1/2. Of Harriman's total, 89 are in the New York delegation.

Speaking at a $15-a-plate Schoharie County Democratic Dinner Wednesday night, Kefauver termed himself a "devout believer in grassroots democracy." He asserted the people had the right not only to elect but to select their candidates for President "and not have their choices made for them."

The only prominent Democrat in the state who has declared for Kefauver to date is Robert B. Blaikie, an insurgent Tammany leader of New York City.

HIS VOTE'S AFLOAT—Ulysses S. Morton, 82, will vote this year, despite the fact that he has a floating address. Once or twice, Morton says, he has been unable to vote because the state of Ohio has contended that his floating home, near Cincinnati, is on the Ohio River, and therefore is on Kentucky property. However, the county prosecutor at Cincinnati has delivered an opinion that Morton is entitled to register and vote in Ohio.

Area Water Problems Long Have Been Concern Of WTCC

Water was the subject of the first action taken by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce when it was organized Feb. 8, 1919, and today it is leading the planning of a statewide conference on surface water problems, Wendell Bedichek, WTCC staff member, said here Thursday as the WTCC's local membership campaign was launched.

The campaign opened at breakfast Thursday at Hotel Scharbauer.

Bedichek noted that West Texas had just gone through its worst drouth in 1916 and 1917 when the regional chamber was formed in a meeting in Wichita Falls.

The first officers, elected at that time, voted to seek passage of legislation to make irrigation laws more flexible and understandable.

When the WTCC underwent a complete reorganization late in 1950, its directors adopted the following water policy, which still is in effect:

Wendell Bedichek

1. Aeaffirmation and advocation of the present system giving cities first priority on water supplies.
2. A fair distribution of water appropriation permits when more than one city is seeking municipal water from a single source of supply, based upon needs of the respective cities.
3. Reaffirmation of the belief that multi-city dams will best relieve shortages of water for many cities.
4. Reaffirmation of the principle that local control is the only good control of underground water.

Important Legislation

An almost unbroken thread of references to water problems runs through the records of this, the oldest and largest organization of its kind.

Perhaps the most important piece of legislation enacted with active support of the WTCC is the Wagstaff-Woodward Act of 1931, authored by Robert M. Wagstaff of Abilene, former representative, and the late Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman.

This act protects right of municipalities to first priority on surface water.

In 1930 the WTCC initiated organization of the Texas Water Conservation Association as a subsidiary organization.

Bedichek said a critical need in Texas today is more authority and funds for the State Board of Water Engineers. Data that is vital to intelligent planning of both surface and ground waters is inadequate, he pointed out. Comprehensive topographic and hydrographic information, stream flow records, siltation and quantitative and qualitative analyses are not available, he emphasized.

Housewife Becomes Weather Observer

CASCADE LOCKS, ORE. —(AP)— The Weather Bureau has trained a housewife as a weather observer. She is Mrs. Billie Burke and she phones in the weather six times a day from her home near an airstrip here. She will fill in the gap in weather reports caused by the closing of the service at Stevenson, Wash., across the river.

Putting Off Trip To Dentist Didn't Work For These Pupils

Putting off that trip to the dentist—an all too prevalent American habit—no longer worries the pupils at John M. Cowden Junior High School. This week the dentist came to them.

Four Midland dentists checked the teeth of more than 900 students for gross defects and made recommendations for corrections needed. The parents will be notified where trouble is indicated.

The purpose of this and other phases of the Midland Public Schools Health Program is not to treat defects, but to detect them.

Dentists contributing their services were Drs. Charles Gaines, J. F. Gaines, Lewis W. Tanner and George Ulvestad, Jr.

The dental examinations completed the health program for the 1951-52 school year. Since September all Midland students except first graders have had the Snellen test for vision.

First and eighth graders and senior high students have had their hearing tested with the audiometer. Each first grader was checked individually; older students are tested in groups of 20.

First, fifth, eighth and twelfth graders also had the tuberculin patch test given under the auspices of the Midland Tuberculosis Society.

School nurses, who have administered the program, are Mrs. Marian Hendrick and Mrs. Billie Hoyce Rodgers.

American Movie Is Banned In Malaya

SINGAPORE —(AP)— The American film, "An Ace in the Hole," banned in the Federation of Malaya, will be shown here.

It will be known as "The Great Carnival." It was banned in the federation because the official censor thought it portrayed a facet of American life "that might not be understood."

The story deals with the case of a man who is trapped by a rockfall and the newspaper reporter who delays the man's rescue in order to get a hot story.

A stork can stand on one leg for days at a time without tiring.

While we were figuring last night on what some of the Truman cronies would do next year, Arch Nearbrite came up with an idea for General Vaughan. He said he might get a job as a model for commander of a tin-soldier army. © NEA

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER

This is your "Operation Youth Center" reporting this week's news.

We will start off this Chatter by saying there are some people (?) up here who are very bothersome. They are Harold Wallace, Don Davis and Bill Mayfield. No, we guess they really were helping us with this???

We want to congratulate Roy Kimsey for placing third in the state meet in Austin last weekend. Roy ran the 440-yard dash. Robert Keisling also entered the meet, but failed to place in the finals.

We are informed that we made a mistake. The person who called our attention to it was Bill Mims. It seems we said the 220, 440 and 880 were runs. Bill informs us they all three are dashes. Say, Bill, is the mile a dash too???

Last week we forgot to mention that Bill Erskine, Robert Payne and Bill Mims attended the meet in Austin. Sorry, boys, that we neglected to mention you.

Friday Night Frolic

The show last week was not so good from the standpoint of attendance, so let's all turn out for it Friday night. Remember, it is staged for you, so you be there if possible. The show this week is "Lil Abner." It is supposed to be very funny, so be sure and attend. A sport film also will be shown.

The "Bulldog Stomp" turned out very good last week. Let's all be sure and attend this week. The affair starts at 8:30 p.m.

The Band Banquet was held last week and we told you we would give you the details this week, but there aren't many details to give, so we will just report that everyone had a swell time. Following the banquet, the Senior members of the band gave a dance for the rest of the band members and their dates. A good time was had by all.

The girls' pool tournament has been cancelled because of lack of interest. Four more boys are needed for their tournament. Step right up, it costs only 15 cents to enter.

Baseball In The Air

The baseball teams have been practicing every day and they are getting good. Some interesting games are in perfect.

Say, Mary Jane Miller, is red your favorite color? Mary Jane was atop a table in the Youth Center the other night, but not of her own accord, of course. Don Hudson, Pete English and others were helping her get there. Now, Mary Jane, what was there to blush about?

Bobby Stanley must have a new girl or something for he came to the Youth Center all dressed up Tuesday night. You really looked nice, Bobby.

The Youth Center has obtained some new records and they are all new hit tunes, or something. Come on down, drop in your nickels and hear the new records.

The air conditioner is working, so all of you be sure and visit our nice and cool building. It is getting pretty hot these days and the air conditioner sure does feel good.

Rough-Neck Suit

Well, you can tell that school is almost out because Bill Leonard has started wearing his rough-neck suit. Now, don't get the wrong impression. The rough-neck suit is the one Bill wears while working in the oil fields during the Summer months.

We wonder just why Don Hudson has been going to Lubbock so often. Will you tell us, Don???

Do you really go rabbit hunting at 4:30 in the morning, Jay Schlichting??? How do you like rabbit hunting at that hour?

Quite a hat Tommy Johnson was wearing the other night. And Barney McClendon was well costumed when he walked into Mrs. Wilson's room the other day, too.

King Cotton Hits Jackpot On Five Acres

AP Newsfeatures

JOHNSTON, S. C. — J. Maurice Smith can, with good reason, claim the title of "King Cotton" for the South Atlantic States.

The 38-year-old Navy veteran produced 17 bales of cotton on five acres last season, in an area where a bale an acre is considered a good yield.

This brought him a total of $2,250 in prizes—in addition to a premium price for his high quality staple.

First prize in the South Carolina five-acre contest was good for $750. Also, by topping all previous production records, Smith won a $1,500 sweepstakes prize offered by the Atlantic Cotton Association.

The South Carolina contest was started in 1926, when The State, Columbia morning newspaper, donated $2,000 in prizes to launch the project.

Father Of Four

Smith, a father of four who started farming about 10 years ago after eight years in the Navy, got 8,380 pounds of lint cotton off his contest field. He planted Coker 100 wilt-resistant cotton — the variety used by 775 of 789 contestants — obtained direct from the breeding farms.

Smith practices crop rotation and contour plowing and has a completely mechanized farm. But on the five-acre plot he turned to the old reliable mule for cultivation.

Elsewhere on his farm last year he made 91 bales on 48 acres, with all but eight acres yielding two bales or more to the acre.

The closest rival in the 1951 contest was his brother, L. E. Smith. And in 1950 their father, E. N. Smith, won the state contest, and Maurice was second.

The BIBLE —Can You Quote It?

7—Let the women learn in silence with————1 Timothy 2:11.

Six correct—excellent. Four correct—good.

For wisdom, courage and peace read the Bible daily.

Enhance the flavor of fish by adding a little thyme to whatever sauce you may be using.

SPINS WEB FOR DEFENSE—Steelworkers squat spider-like in web of beams being formed to support roof of "B" building at the new Ford Motor Company engineering and research center in Dearborn, Mich. Research on national defense projects will be carried on in the building.

Refrigerator cookie dough may be pressed into a square or round waxed cardboard carton and placed in the refrigerator. When the dough has chilled and stiffened the carton may be removed by cutting along one side and "peeling" it away from the dough. To cut even slices of the cookie dough for baking, use a thin very sharp knife and a sawing motion.

When you are buying a tube pan for angel, sponge, or chiffon cake make sure that the tube is taller than the pan sides so it will keep the top of the cake from touching the table when it is inverted for cooling. See also that the tube is wide enough to support the pan, or that there are legs on the pan for this purpose. The bottoms of tube pans may be loose or solid.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Magic Beans For Sale

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, had given a stranger a nickel for a handful of magic beans. At least the stranger had said that the beans were magic. He had said that the beans would grow a beanstalk up and up to the land of the giants.

And so now the stranger was gone, and Mugwump had the beans.

"Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump, "do you think the beans are really magic?".

Daddy Ringtail smiled. Were the beans really magic? Well, Daddy Ringtail had never seen any magic beans, and so he didn't really know that the beans were magic or not.

"I don't either," said Mugwump, "and if I put them in the ground, and if they don't grow up to be a beanstalk high to the land of the giants, then I have lost the nickel I gave the stranger to buy the beans."

Mugwump thought and thought about this. Maybe the beans weren't magic at all. Maybe he ought to try to sell them now to someone for money, and so away he walked down the Elephant Path, shouting as loud as he could: "Magic Beans for Sale! Magic Beans for Sale! Magic Beans for Sale!"

Daddy Ringtail watched him go. He smiled a little to himself. What if the beans were magic? What if they really were? Why, if that were true, Mugwump ought to plant them himself. Mugwump ought to be the one to climb a magic beanstalk up to the land of the giants if only the beans were really magic. Daddy Ringtail was about to run after Mugwump Monkey and tell him please not to sell the beans after all, but just then—from down the Elephant Path—Daddy Ringtail could hear Mugwump's voice while he shouted: "Magic Beans for Sale! Magic Beans for Sale for a Million Dollars!"

Daddy Ringtail waited, and pretty soon Mugwump was back where he was. "Mugwump," said Daddy Ringtail, "what's the business of the million dollars?"

And so Mugwump explained that nobody had a million dollars and so nobody would buy them. Besides, Mugwump hurried to say, maybe the beans were really magic after all, and he was going to see for himself. And so he covered the beans with dirt to plant them, and what happened is what I will tell you about tomorrow! Happy day!

Boyle Tells Secret Of Office Wolf, Romeo Of Water Cooler

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)— No history of the romance of our times is complete without a chapter on that Romeo of the water cooler—the office wolf.

He is the Peck's Bad Boy of the business world.

What is an office wolf? In pulp love tales he is pictured luridly as a prowling scoundrel evilly plotting to lead astray a poor but innocent working girl.

In fact, however, his teeth are less sharp than they are in fiction. Often, alas, his teeth are as false as his designs.

The average office wolf is as harmless as a tame skunk. He isn't really a wolf at all—he is just a mouse with great yearnings. Usually he is a married man with a wife at home who understands him only too thoroughly. That is why he paws his way around the office in the romantic hope of finding some girl who will be kind enough to misunderstand him a little. If there is anything a man can't stand, it is to be understood all the time.

One of the delusions of the office wolf is that his overtures to the hired girls are a guilty secret, known only to him. The truth is, of course, that every conversation in the privacy of the ladies' room starts off:

"Well, Mabel, what did old wolfie whisper to you this morning? Isn't he a perfect scream? He'll be the death of me yet—from laughing."

The girls get a big kick out of comparing the techniques the office wolf tries in his daily rounds. If he ever realized this, he would dwindle quickly into an office mouse. That would be too bad because, by and large, he does bring a sense of mild adventure and fun into the workaday routine.

I don't pretend to be an authority on office wolves. But girls I have consulted on the subject say they generally fall into three classes—bookkeepers, junior executives and vice presidents. There is also the cub wolf. This usually is an office boy with a desperate case of puppy love for the boss's secretary.

"Bookkeepers want to take you to a horse race on their day off," said one girl. "Junior executives are careful wolves—they want to meet you for a cocktail after work at some out-of-the-way, sidestreet bar.

"And vice presidents? Well, they are the pinchers. You have to get out of their way. But I really feel sorry for vice presidents. They are such frustrated men. I guess they really lead lonely lives."

This young lady said the two standard feminine formulas for dealing with office wolves are the classic cold shoulder treatment or the play-dumb answer, "Gee, Mr. Jones, I don't get what you mean."

But there is a simpler and even more effective way of handling the more persistent type.

"Just meet him at the office cooler some morning and whisper to him that you love him desperately and can't live without him," she said. "That will frighten any office wolf out of his skin."

That is the true measure of the breed. The office wolf visualizes himself as a gay Casanova going through life being endlessly fascinating. He may think he is searching for romance. But there is one thing he is sure he isn't looking for—and that is more responsibility.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

Just how tough is a grizzly bear? An Alaskan brown bear? The answer is—tough, under the right circumstances. And the grizzly tribe can be tough under any circumstances.

I remember an Indian guide up in Yukon Territory who thought grizzlies were tough even after they were dead. My Texas friend Jimmy Cullum had just bowled over a healthy specimen of Ursus Horribilis, a fine trophy that squared over eight feet, green hide.

When we had the hide off, and had finished the delicate job of skinning out the head on the spot, the Snake Indian lingered behind. I watched him gouge the grizzly's eyes and hurl them in opposite directions. Then he hacked off the four paws and heaved them to the four points of the compass. Those Yukon Indians have such a healthy respect for a burly grizzly that they don't want him reassembled and active even in spirit form!

Hardly a hunting year passes but that two or three stories come out of British Columbia and the Yukon, or from the brown bear's haunts in Alaska's coast, of man meeting bear—and man getting decidedly the worst of it.

In the vast majority of cases, man got himself into the trouble. He wounded a bear and followed him into thick brush, he bumped into a grizzly sore-headed because he's been hurt by another hunter's fire-stick, he interrupted bruin at his dinner, or messed around with a sow caring for cubs.

Charges without provocation do happen, but very seldom. Of course, the bear reserves the right to decide what constitutes provocation—and his ideas may differ from yours.

I know of a salmon fisherman who ended up in the Juneau hospital with 109 bites on his body. He had happened onto a brownie which his deer-hunting companion had just pinked with a .30-30 deer rifle. He was very lucky that the bear left him for dead.

Let it here be said that bears rarely exercise the full strength of either forepaws or jaws on a man. Perhaps they don't like the taste—but usually they'll worry a foolish human as a dog would worry a rag. I know of another chap who got himself chewed up by a big sow grizzly because he sprayed her with duck shot. Who'd blame the bear in either case

With an adequate cartridge, the .270, .30-06 or better, preferably with the heaviest bullet loaded in the caliber, no cool shot who will place his hit to break a fore-shoulder has cause to fear grizzly or brownie. But a badly placed hit lets out little of bruin's steam, his vitality, and his capacity to travel even after a heart shot is beyond belief. The shot which breaks massive bone forward will anchor bruin beyond any possibility of his raging, roaring charge.

Bears are tough—but a cool rifleman with an adequate rifle is a lot tougher. Otherwise we'd be running out of big game hunters up Alaska way.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Infected Tonsils And Adenoids Cause Most Hearing Troubles

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The ability to hear well is a precious quality which must be preserved if at all possible, and if not, which must be relieved to the greatest possible degree. In recognition of this, National Hearing Week will be observed this year from May 4 to 10, and several columns therefore will be devoted to the problem of better hearing.

Hearing difficulties are not rare; it is said that one person out of 10 needs some kind of hearing help, but it is encouraging that so much is being done to prevent difficulty and to aid those who do have some hearing troubles.

An interesting report on a conservation of hearing program for school children comes from Hartford County, Maryland. During the three-year period of a survey, 70 per cent of the children in the county's schools were screened for hearing defects.

About one child out of seven, among the 7,000 tested, failed to have perfect hearing as shown by the original test and was referred for further study.

Out of the 1,118 youngsters who failed the original test, 712 showed a certain type of hearing defect called chronic conduction deafness, which almost always was associated with chronic or acute infections of the upper breathing tract — most commonly, infected tonsils and adenoids.

One hundred and ninety children had their tonsils and adenoids removed, though this number was only about one-third of those for whom it had been recommended.

Of those for whom this procedure was done, about seven out of 10 showed definite improvement in hearing. Only about three out of 10 of those for whom it was recommended, but was not done, showed any hearing improvement.

No Need To Wait

The degree of hearing improvement was about the same in older and in younger children. So there seems to be no reason for waiting to have the tonsils and adenoids removed to conserve hearing, if removal is otherwise indicated, merely because a child is older. In other words, the operation should not be postponed merely in the hope of improvement.

This experience is only one of several attempts to conserve hearing. It is, of course, better to save good hearing than to try to treat it once it has gone bad, and therefore, efforts to do this should be encouraged.

In closing this column, I should like to mention the fact that the American Hearing Society (817 14th Street, N. W., Washington 5, D. C.) is a national headquarters for information relating to hearing. The Volta Bureau (1537 35th Street, N. W., Washington 7, D. C.) also distributes pamphlets on this subject.

Management's Duty Is To Talk Politics With Workers, Noted Industrialist Declares

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It is the duty as well as the right of industrial leaders to talk political issues with their employes. So declares Austin S. Igleheart, the ruddy-cheeked, white-haired boss of 19,000 men and women in one of the nation's top food industries.

In the face of the government seizure of the steel industry and this year's presidential election, Igleheart, president of General Foods Corporation, forthrightly insists that he and his fellow executives should explain the meaning of current political issues to the people who work for them.

Austin Igleheart: Management has been silent too long.

Management, in general, has been silent too long with its employes on such issues, says Igleheart, whose company produces about 400 items of all kinds and had gross sales in 1951 of more than $589,000,000. Igleheart himself is more than a food industrialist; he is a director of such diversified businesses as Chase National Bank, International Steel, Commercial Solvents, and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad.

Affect Welfare

"I believe the political issues of this year affect the welfare and future of all the employes just as much as the welfare of the company," he told NEA Service in an exclusive two-hour interview.

Sixty-two, Indiana-born and educated at the University of Wisconsin, Igleheart manifests well-tailored toughness. He is softspoken except when provoked into atomic profanity.

"It doesn't strike me odd that I should talk politics on a personal basis with an employe, or that any other executive should. And I mean freely and easily as one would with any friend or a casual business acquaintance," he said. "Of course, it would be assumed that I was talking from the standpoint of their and the company's mutual interests."

He said the company's experience in getting safety rules across to its employes set the pattern for getting them to understand economic truth better.

"In our safety drive we didn't get very far with posters, printed matter and speeches. We learned that the only way was to sit down with a man who might get hurt in an accident and talk directly with him. Then we got results."

General Foods used that experience to explain to its people how capitalism works and what it means to them. They held group meetings where discussions were carried on under group leaders chosen from the plant areas where the meetings were held. The leader's job was to keep the thinking along proper lines, he said.

"Yes, there was some training of the leaders," he admitted. But he vigorously denied that this was indoctrination or that the leaders could in the remotest way be likened to political commissars.

"In one plant we invited two of the dominant union officials to join the group," he said. "At first these men stood in the back of the room and acted disinterested. But after the third meeting they reported that they had decided their union was teaching them a slanted interpretation of capitalism."

The company next held group discussions on inflation. Igleheart claims that most voters have at best a hazy understanding of its source. He fears that inflation and the public's ignorance of its sources endanger our freedom and can be used to foist statism on the country.

The wage-price spiral is the result, not the cause, of inflation; the primary cause, according to Igleheart, is an increase in the supply of money and credit due to the government's fiscal policy.

"By forcing its bonds into the banking system and by deficit spending, the government is accelerating inflation by pouring more expendable funds into the market than there are goods and service to buy. Too many congressmen in both major parties are going along with this policy because it is popular with uninformed voters," he said.

He added that not only inflation but also taxation, legislation influencing management-labor conditions in plants, national defense, foreign policy and government controls must be understood by every voter if individual freedom and our high standard of living are to persist.

"The will to be informed and to inform others according to his lights is the duty of every citizen," he emphasized. "Certainly, we here (and the same goes for every other business in the country) have the right to exchange openly and without fear of public criticism our views on government policies and intentions that affect all of us.

"But certainly it is not the right of executives to mention their favorite party or candidate," he admitted. "On the contrary, we urge each member of our company to express his own personal convictions and to support the political party, candidates and issues he favors.

"Dishonesty in government—and I am not pointing to any one political party—plus unrealistic economic theories and the gradual encroachment of socialism, are weakening American business. I doubt whether industry will ever have more to lose than right now," he said. "So we can't be expected to sit on our backsides and slide uphill."

LANDS SAKES! WITHOUT ADVERTISING, WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business, And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

AP Newsfeatures

ROME—High on Rome's Janiculum Hill, a new $3,500,000 Pontifical North American College today nears completion.

Catholics throughout the United States paid for the gleaming five-floor structure of white brick and travertine. It will open officially next year.

Though shiny new, its traditions go back to Rome's "Humility" street and to the cloistered halls and memories of the original North American College whose records read like a "Who's Who" of American Catholicism for the past hundred years.

U. S. Priests Studied There

Many American priests have had at least part of their training in the Pontifical college. More than 40 American bishops and archbishops are among its alumni and six of the 11 Americans who thus far have been named Cardinals studied there.

The old college will be used as a residence hall for priests doing post graduate work after the new college is opened. There now are 154 seminarians here from 67 dioceses in the United States.

The college has come a long way from Dec. 7, 1859, when people of Rome saw a little procession of 13 ecclesiastical students on Via dell-'Umilta, in the heart of Rome.

American Colors

Their black cassocks were trimmed with blue, collared with white and sashed with red—the red, white and blue of the American flag. It was the first time that the church and connecting buildings were used as a college by North American seminarians.

Last year, to protect the buildings against any possible complications of the Rome zoning laws, the Italian government declared both the church and the college buildings to be a national monument.

Many Pontiffs have visited the historic buildings, which are several hundred years old. The present Pontiff was its guest several times when he was Cardinal Pacelli.

Archbishop John McCloskey of New York make it his headquarters when he came to Rome for his installation as America's first cardinal on March 15, 1875.

The college's war-ravaged conditions—it housed children of Italian nationals during the war—prevented it from being similarly used during the Consistory of 1946 when four American archbishops — Mooney, Stritch, Glennon and Spellman — were made cardinals.

These memories, said the college's present rector, Bishop Martin J. O'Connor, are among its priceless treasures. In these surroundings young Americans chosen by their bishops for Roman training have spent four or six years studying for the priesthood. Study and classes, at present, are held at Rome's Gregorian University.

The new college has not forgotten play provisions. It has a softball court, three tennis courts, a basketball and a handball court.

The college stands on a plot of 12 1/2 acres which the American bishops purchased from the City of Rome in 1923. The decision to build the new college was taken on Nov. 12, 1947, at Washington, D. C., when 130 bishops assembled in the 29th annual meeting of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. Ground was broken on Oct. 17, 1948.

The five-story building contains 304 single rooms, a chapel and refectory. The square-shaped structure is built around a central cloister. The chapel is in 11th and 12th centuries Roman style.

Incomplete Apology Gets Cold Shoulder

RANGOON, BURMA — (AP) — To make an apology is one thing, but to make it on bended knee—well, that's going too far.

So an argument between the editor of a local pro-Communist newspaper and an anti-Communist social organization remains unresolved. It seems the paper called the association a nasty name and the latter demanded "an apology on bended knee."

The offending editor promptly agreed to apologize, but only standing up. This wasn't good enough, and the association answered with a threat to tear down the newspaper offices. Special police were called out to keep the peace.

All U. S. Armed Forces Now Active In Atomic Tests

YUCCA FLAT ATOMIC TEST SITE, NEV.—(NEA)—A rapidly expanding nucleus of officers and GI's experienced in handling and maneuvering with live atomic weapons now exists in America's military machine.

This valuable know-how could mean the difference between victory and defeat for the U. S., in case of an all-out atomic war with Russia.

With Marine Corps participation in a live A-bomb detonation, just after the big blast which was shown to the public, all U. S. forces are actively in atomic warfare.

The 2,100 Marines and more than 2,300 Army troops involved in blasts bring the approximate total of U. S. military personnel who have taken part in live A-bomb tests up to 10,000. The Air Force, which dropped the first bombs in combat, and the Navy, as a result of the Bikini tests, account for the rest.

Almost unmentioned, because its part of the test was handled so effortlessly, was the Air Force's amazing contribution. The job the Atomic Energy Commission asked Maj. Gen. John S. Mills, boss of the USAF Special Weapons Command, to do was incredible.

At Specific Place

Some time last February, when plans for the public test were completed, the AEC told Mills that at 9:30 a.m. sharp, on Tuesday, April 22, he should arrange to have exploded an atomic bomb at a specific place in the air which was to be 3,500 feet above a spot on Yucca Flat. To help the bombardier, "Ground Zero" would be marked by intersecting bulldozer tracks.

The AEC, a couple of weeks before it happened, announced to the whole world what was going to take place at that tiny spot, not bothering to worry that Mills might not produce.

The confident nonchalance with which the Air Force drops live A-bombs is due in great part to the efforts of Col. Osmond J. Ritland, who serves under Mills as commander of the test group which handles such projects. Mills' command embraces all Air Force atomic weapons development and testing, including such things as guided missiles with atomic warheads.

Ritland's policy is to spread actual drop assignments among as many different crews as possible. He reports that the job now has become very routine among his men. Most of the crews which he has trained, totaling many hundreds of men, are sent to the Strategic Air Command where they add their experience to the ready force maintainted by SAC.

Most Types

Ritland also is actively engaged in developing the use of A-bombs for almost every type of plane the Air Force flies. He reports good progress in the carrying of A-bombs by the jet fighter-bomber aircraft. Pilots with this experience are graduating to units of the Tactical Air Command.

Although the Army's part in the April 22 test provided excellent experience for the troops, it pointed up just how much ground forces have yet to learn about the tactical use of atomic weapons.

Later it was admitted that the 3,500-foot height of the blast was probably too high for best tactical results. That height was set for AEC test purposes, not for the Army.

Not Against Troops

Other official Army observers said, after the blast, that it showed that probably the best tactical use of atomic bombs would be against air fields and not against troops.

These official Army statements have a bearing on the atomic artillery shell which the Army is supposed to have. If the Army does have a shell casing for a nuclear explosive, and the cannon to fire that shell, there remain some problems. Like how big an explosive force to put in the shell, where in the air to have it go off, how far into enemy territory to hurl it, and against what targets it should be used.

The net result of the test as far as the Army is concerned was discouraging, according to a consensus of official observers. It erased some hopes that atomic weapons would revolutionize ground tactics.

Marine Corps experts, on the other hand, believe their test will prove more encouraging as an aid to their basic mission, taking beach heads. They hope to show that one or more atomic bombs dropped on an invasion point is the ideal way to neutralize a beach before invasion.

REDS COMPLAIN ABOUT JAZZ

BELGRADE—(AP)—The newspaper Borba, voice of Marshal Tito's Communist Party, recently complained that there is too much "jazz." And bad jazz at that. Few who have listened to some attempts to strike the same notes as top American bands would disagree. Borba agreed that jazz itself is okay. But with this condition: "Only when the composer and reproducing artist are talented and masters of their profession."

Contractor Charges Headline Hunting In Air Base Graft Talk

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The contractor-boss of the huge U. S. air base program in Morocco Wednesday denied charges of graft and mismanagement on the job, and got into a bitter row with investigating senators.

Testifying before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, John B. Bonny accused two Army witnesses of having given false testimony alleging mishandling of the multi-million dollar project.

And, he told the subcommittee, he agrees "in general" that it has been "headline hunting" to promote Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) as a possible candidate for President.

Johnson promptly fired back that Bonny was trying "to smear the committee, smear the (subcommittee) staff, and some of the witnesses."

Bonny, who is chairman of the operating committee for five contracting firms building the air bases, said Col. Harry Reed, chief of Army audit, and William J. Cassidy, a civilian Army auditor, "made statements before your committee we know to be false."

Following 'Very Nice Escape,' Girl Feels She Is More Of Co-Ed Than DP

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Two weeks after Helen Charvat arrived in New York from Europe, she went to the Social Security office to get her number. She filled out the card and the man at the desk said, "That's fine, Helen."

For a shy, 17-year-old brought up in formal Czechoslovakia, the man who called her by her first name rather shocked her. In the nine months she's been here since then, the informality of Americans continues to be a surprise, but nowadays she likes it. She likes almost everything.

She liked the Statue of Liberty —"everybody was crying"—and she likes the stores—"there was such a choice, I was embarrassed"—and she likes the tall buildings — "at first they looked shorter than the pictures, but they seem to grow every day"—and she likes college—"we had a student-faculty party, something no European professor would do."

But there are some things she doesn't like. New York (she hasn't been outside the city limits yet) is so big. Once she was in a building at Number 1 Broadway, and she had to go to 400 Broadway. It seemed like a simple thing to walk up to 400. After an hour, she gave up.

Adjustment Comes

The adjustment has come, however. The subway no longer frightens her very much and she looks and acts like any New York college freshman. A little prettier than most, possibly, and a little less exuberant. But already there's much more of the coed than the DP about Helen Charvat.

Compared to many DP's, her life hasn't been a hard one. She herself refers to her flight from Communist Czechoslowakia the way most people talk about a weekend trip: "It was a very nice escape." There were a few moments of fear, a few discomforts, but no great hardships.

Helen is the daughter of a once-wealthy Prague ceramic and building material manufacturer. They had a home in the city and a 50-acre farm 20 miles away. As a child, she studied ballet and played tennis on the Charvat's own court. Her uncle was a pre-war minister of foreign affairs in the Czech government.

When the Germans and the Gestapo came, their life changed. They stayed on the farm all the time. Some of her relatives were hauled off to concentration camps, and Helen's father was taken in for questioning several times.

She was 11 when the war ended. There are vivid memories of caravans of German farmers, fleeing before the advancing Red armies, moving through their small farm town in the wintry cold.

"I did not hate them any more," she says. "I rather felt sorry for them."

After the war, there were two years of relative peace and quiet. Helen went to school and her father, a violent anti-Communist, did his best to conduct his business and try to fight communism. But the coup d'etat of 1948 ended both. From their farm house Helen saw the smoke of fires in Prague.

Helen's father was abroad on business. He tried to arrange for his family's escape, but the Red government wanted him back because of his business know-how. They said if he didn't return, they'd arrest his family. He came back.

Six times the three Charvats — Helen's brother had gone to England in 1946 to study—tried to escape. Five times the arrangements failed; once the escape leader was arrested a day before the scehduled departure. The sixth time they made it.

Loud Knocking

At dawn one morning there was a loud knocking on the door. Helen's mother was frightened; she thought it was the police. But it was an underground courier, telling them the arrangements were made. They left that afternoon.

A taxi took them to a town near the border. Once the police stopped the cab. "Fortunately," says Helen, "it was nothing more than excess of the speed."

They stayed hidden in a house near the border a week, until the coast was clear. Then, on a rainy, humid morning in June, 1948, they walked the three miles to the border, and over into the freedom of Germany. The only bad part of the escape was the heat. They could only take with them what they wore, so Helen had on a couple of coats topped by a raincoat. It was very warm.

Their money was useless in Germany, but, fortunately, the underground had known that and had equipped them with several bottles of whiskey. By selling these, the Charvats got along fine.

They made their way to Antwerp, Belgium, where Helen's father immediately registered to come to America. It took three years. Meanwhile, she went to school, learned English, and grew into a pretty, auburn-haired, blue-eyed young lady, with the incongruous ambition of becoming a chemical engineer.

Arranges Quarters

A friend in Belgium arranged an apartment for them here, so they went right from the pier to a home after the SS America docked last May.

Helen got a job as a clerk in an insurance company office over the Summer. Then came a scholarship from the Masaryk Institute, and now she is a freshman at Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart, in New York. She's majoring in mathematice, minoring in chemistry, as she still plans to be a chemical engineer.

Her mother is working in the office of a New York hospital, and her father is an economic adviser to the Study Center for Free Europe.

Like any college freshman, Helen's life centers around school. She is a good student, although she still has a little trouble understanding the English of fast-talking professors. She has some dates, but there's no serious romance.

Attitude Surprises

The attitude of her classmates is a surprise to her, since she's used to the seriousness of the European scholar. Cheating in exams, she finds, is looked on almost as a "favorite sport," but she says she prefers to be honest. "I am going to school because I want to learn," she says.

There is just one big thing about America that Helen Charvat would change. Last Summer, while not a particularly warm one in New York, impressed her as ferociously hot.

"I think the whole city should be air-conditioned," she says.

Rare Carvings Are Exhibited In Florida

GAINESVILLE, FLA.—(AP)—The University of Florida has opened an exhibit of carved wooden animals made by the lost tribe of Calusa Indians, a powerful Florida tribe of the fifteenth Century.

The rare carvings were first found in swampy muck in 1895 at Key Marco in the southeastern Ten Thousand Islands area. The water-soaked muck is credited with preserving the carvings for hundreds of years. This is the first public showing.

The prosperous Calusa tribe inhabited the Key Marco area around 1400 to 1450. by 1830 they had dwindled to a small group of fishermen. After 1840 the survivors joined the Seminoles.
