Ike Asks $3.9 Billions For Foreign Aid

WHO NEEDS MARCH WIND?—Marcos Varela, left, 4, and Lonnie Loquet, 11, aren't discouraged because they're in the hospital during kite flying season. With the aid of two fans and a tissue paper kite they're enjoying spring at Los Angeles Orthopaedic Hospital as much as the lucky kids at home. Man Crushed To Death By Farm Tractor

A Hermleigh stock farmer was found dead late yesterday afternoon ater his tractor had overturned on top of him while he was at work in his field.

He was Durwood Ernest Watson, 72, who lived five and one-half miles east of Hermleigh.

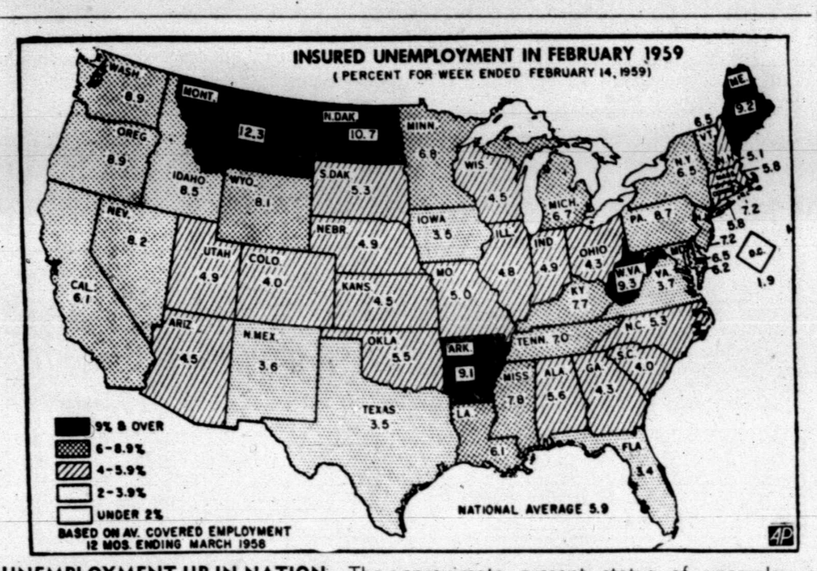

—He had taken his tractor to the field after lunch yesterday and was found dead, pinned under the tractor, by his son, Foster Watson, at about 5:30 p.m. A wrecker was required to move the tractor and free the body. It was believed the accident had occurred during the early part of the afternoon.

A resident of the Hermleigh community since 1906, Mr. Watson was born Oct. 3, 1886, in Oxford, Miss. He was married Jan. 27, 1907, at Morton to Patra Foster, and they made their first home at Hermleigh.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Central Baptist Church in Hermleigh, with the Rev. L. R. Stuckey, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Clesby Patterson, pastor of the Hermleigh Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Hermleigh Cemetery under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Ivy Sturdivant, A. E. Sturdivant, Charlie Richter, C. J. Groseman, T. D. Leech, Nathan Campbell, G. R. Groves, and Fred Campbell.

Survivors include the widow, three daughters, Mrs. A. A. Carroll of Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. H. J. Head of Houston and Mrs. E. E. Watts of Big Spring; three sons, Foster Watson of Hermleigh, Jack C. UNEMPLOYMENT UP IN NATION—The approximate present status of unemployment in the nation by states is shown by this Department of Labor chart for the last period on which figures are available. It does not cover agriculture seasonal unemployment. Montana, North Dakota and Maine figures reflect industries affected by winter weather. Depressed coal mining conditions cause the high West Virginia figure. Arkansas' total results from low activity in a wide variety of small industrial enterprises. (AP Wirephoto)

Pleads For Full Amount

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $3,930,000,000 in foreign aid. He said the spending is essential to survival in the face of a "growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction."

In a special message Eisenhower cautioned against reckless cuts, lest the United States become "the richest nation in the graveyard of history."

The President said the full amount is urgently needed to thwart "a fanatic conspiracy of international communism" which maintains 6½ million men under arms in about 400 divisions around the world.

Singling out the Soviet drive to force the West out of Berlin, Eisenhower said: "In Europe today the Soviet Union has made demands regarding the future of Berlin which, if unmodified, could have perilous consequences."

"The resoluteness with which we and our allies will meet this issue has come about in large measure because our past programs of economic and military assistance to our NATO allies have aided them," he said, "to stand firm in the face of threats."

Speaking of the worldwide Red threat against free nations, Eisenhower told the legislators: "Two fundamental purposes of our collective defense effort are to prevent general war and to deter Communist local aggression.

"We know the enormous and growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction and their willingness to use this power as a threat to the free world.

"We know also that even local aggressions, unless checked, could absorb nation after nation into the Communist orbit—or could flame into world war.

"The protection of the free world against the threat or the reality of Soviet nuclear aggression or local attack rests on the common defense effort established under our collective security agreements."

The sum requested is about 12 million dollars less than sought last year. It would continue massive military-economic assistance to some 70 friendly nations into a 13th consecutive postwar year.

Eisenhower's aid requests have been cut sharply in past years. Democrats, urging more spending than the administration plans on some domestic programs and the nation's own defenses, have been eyeing the foreign aid fund as a place to offset some of the increases.

Nearly 62 per cent of the new funds Eisenhower asked would go for military programs — military equipment and munitions including missiles and "defense support" as aid to nations which maintain big military forces of their own.

The remainder would go for development help, technical assistance and low interest loans, especially in Asia and the Middle East.

Eisenhower said special aid from one of these funds is needed for West Berlin which he described as "a solitary outpost of freedom back of the Iron Curtain."

"In addition to the firm support which we and our NATO allies have assured West Berlin in the face of current Soviet threat," he said, "it is important that we show our support of its people by continuing our economic assistance to that beleaguered city."

Eisenhower took note of the congressional arguments for shifting funds from foreign aid into other operations.

Carr Outlines Possible New Tax Program

AUSTIN (AP)—Speaker Waggoner Carr drew a picture yesterday of a tax program he thought the Legislature would accept — "An across-the-board tax not interpreted by the people as a general sales tax."

Carr said he thought three general tax plans already introduced would fit the label.

The speaker said he did not think Gov. Daniel's tax plans or the general sales tax proposal by Rep. Frates Seeligson, San Antonio, would fill the state's needs.

Carr said he was convinced the Legislature could find new money amounting to "100 million dollars or more annually" without a special session after the set May 12 adjournment date.

The three tax plans that Carr listed as fitting the "across-the-board" label were:

A bill by Reps. R. L. Strickland and Wesley Roberts to raise between 200 and 300 million dollars annually with a 14-point plan levying some new taxes and raising others. It includes a boost in the natural gas production tax, a one per cent occupation tax on all retail business and a two per cent levy on all public transportation.

A bill by Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches to raise 200 million dollars with a four per cent tax on the first sale of all goods manufactured or imported to Texas. Oliver said his measure "will not violate the commitments by many members of this Legislature against a general sales tax."

A bill by Rep. H. J. Blanchard, of Lubbock aimed at raising 200 million dollars a year with a "business privilege tax." It would collect a levy of one half of one per cent of the gross receipts of every business in Texas and use the revenue for public education and welfare.

The speaker said he was not against the governor's program for deficit and long range financing but he had "noticed a growing feeling that it was not designed to cover the entire field of appropriations." He said it did not include the Hale-Aikin school study proposals, which recommends an $800 pay raise for teachers.

One Person Injured In Traffic Mishap

Three employes of the Snyder National Bank were involved in a one-car accident this morning which reportedly injured only one.

The three were Peggy Trice, driver of the 1955 Plymouth involved, and two passengers Barbara Hodges and Barbara Cave. All three lived in the Hobbs-Camp Springs area.

The car went out of control at Eighth Street and Avenue I, and the accident caused Miss Hodges to fall from the car, suffering cuts and bruises. She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell ambulance. Her injuries were not believed serious.

Jim Farr, sheriff's deputy, investigated the accident. The accident occurred at about 7:45 a.m. as the three were on their way to work.

Macmillan, Adenauer In Complete Accord

By HERB ALTSCHULL

BONN, Germany (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have reached full agreement on Berlin, the German question and European security, a German government spokesman said today.

The statement came after Macmillan and Adenauer wound up their talks at a morning session of more than two hours. Only an interpreter was present.

Macmillan arrived Thursday from talks with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris. He goes to the United States next week for conferences with President Eisenhower.

Both the French and West German governments overruled any ideas the British may have had to ease the Berlin crisis by proposing a wholesale withdrawl of troops from central Europe.

Macmillan obviously sought to quiet West German fears that his recent mission to Moscow had raised the prospect of "disengagement" as an Allied policy.

Bonn press chief Felix von Eckardt told a news conference that the two heads of government were agreed on the procedure.

British Foreign Office spokesman Peter Hope concurred.

The agreement followed a period of considerable German coolness and misgiving over Macmillan's visit to Moscow.

Some West German sources had indicated privately there was fear Macmillan might give way on some points other Western partners regarded as vital without getting anything from the Soviets in return.

Asked about the Bonn government's attitude, Von Eckardt said it had always regarded the Macmillan trip as useful, but now it regarded it as having been "extremely useful."

The British prime minister admitted on arriving in Bonn Thursday that the Western powers are "still a long way" from their goal of finding a policy to counter the Soviet threat to drive them out of West Berlin.

Consolidation Vote Saturday

GAIL (Spl.) — Voters of the Borden County Independent School District here and the Gay Hill Common School District of north Howard County will decide at the polls tomorrow whether to consolidate the two districts.

The Borden County district now has about 251 scholastics, while there are 140 at Gay Hill. Consolidation would bring the total in the Borden County district to about 400.

Gay Hill has only an eight-grade school. High school student from there go either to Gail, 25 miles to the north, or Big Spring, 18 miles to the southeast.

The election was called after petitions were presented in both districts proposing the vote.

The proposal must gain approval of voters of both districts before consolidation can be effected.

Heavy Snowstorm Is Tapering Off

By The Associated Press

A severe mid-March snowstorm which hammered the Northeast, crippling normal activities and leaving a heavy death toll, tapered off today.

The late winter storm, worst of the season, dumped more than a foot of snow in sections of New England and New York state. Light snow fell during the early morning in the extreme Northeast as the intense storm moved out into the Atlantic.

At least 24 deaths were attributed to the storm, which earlier had lashed areas in the Midwest.

Most of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks suffered while shoveling snow.

The storm was indirectly blamed for the deaths this morning of seven persons including five children, in a fire in snow-bound Easton, Maine. A father, five of his six children and one man perished in the blaze that destroyed their home in Easton, about 10 miles from the Canadian border. Firemen, hampered by huge snow drifts, arrived too late at the burning home of John Hersey to save the victims.

Huge cleanup jobs confronted the storm - battered sections. Strong winds which whipped the heavy snow covering into huge drifts slowed snow removal.

Falls ranged up to 22 inches in New Hampshire and Maine. The covering at Caribou, Maine, measured 34 inches, and was 26 inches at Rumford, Maine.

New York state, which was hit by a covering up to 18 inches in some places, was lashed by strong winds during the night, especially in eastern areas. Travel in many sections was halted. Six deaths in New York were blamed on the storms.

Similar conditions were reported in many parts of New England, but most roads were open and plane flights were scheduled to rescue.

The white covering averaged up to 10 to 12 inches in sections of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and up to 14 inches in western Maryland.

The storm deaths included two lobster fishermen lost in a small boat off Islesford, Maine. Other deaths were reported in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Ohio.

Burglars Make Light Haul At Fluvanna

Burglars apparently took only one item after breaking into the school building at Fluvanna last night.

Sheriff Earl Abercrombie, who investigated the burglary, said as far as is known only an electric razor which had been in one of the offices at the school was taken.

The burglars gained entry to the building by prying a lock off the back door. There was little damage other than that to the door.

BY CHAMBER COMMITTEE

TB Association Revival Talked

Groundwork toward possible reorganization of a tuberculosis association here was begun yesterday afternoon by the Chamber of Commerce health and sanitation committee in its first meeting of the year.

The committee also discussed the annual cleanup campaign, beautification of Deep Creek through Snyder, insect control, and carelessness of citizens with their garbage. Dr. Pat Brecheen heads the panel.

Two meetings have been scheduled by the committee, one for the public and one for the committee and several guests in connection with the proposed reorganization of the TB association here.

One will be held April 3 for all persons interested, when B. G. Lovelace, head of the Dallas TB Association will be here to speak on the importance of tuberculosis control.

The other, about a week later for the committee and guests, will include a discussion with a representative of the Texas TB Association on details of reorganization. From that meeting it is expected the organizatio will get underway.

Mrs. Zelva Harris, county health nurse and a member of the chamber committee, pointed out in the meeting that Scurry County has a number of known tuberculosis cases now under treatment and that there are probably many more unknown cases in the county. There was discussion on patch tests and X-rays, which are used for detection of tuberculosis.

A tuberculosis association has a primary function of detecting TB, and it sells Christmas seals annually to raise funds for its operation. Mrs. Verba Logan, who attended the meeting as a representative of the Business & Professional Women's Club, which is also interested in the association, was appointed by the committee to learn more about the previous TB association here and whether there are any funds remaining.

Frank Taylor, member of the committee and of the Jaycees, was appointed liaison between the committee and Jaycees, on the annual cleanup campaign. It was suggested by the committee and by Louie Vaughan, sanitarian at the Snyder-Scurry County Health Unit, that the campaign be held earlier this year. It is usually held in July. Vaughan also cited the increasing problem here of residents piling garbage and trash in alleyways uncovered.

Insect control discussion mainly covered crickets, which last year plagued businessman as well as homeowners here. Dr. Brecheen was to investigate some means of control of crickets.

The need for grass on the banks of Deep Creek in Snyder for beautification purposes was discussed, and Taylor was appointed to check on types of grass which might survive if seeded on the creek banks. Grass is being seeded on right-of-way of some highways in West Texas now.

SEVERAL CHILDREN BITTEN

Reminder Issued On Dog Ordinance

A strict enforcement of the city's ordinances on dogs and animals will be carried out in the future because of the big problem created by dogs here, T. L. Steele, police chief, said today.

Steele said that the police department and city ilities department have received so many complaints about dogs recently that all dogs which are per itted to run loose will be picked up by the city animal officer and impounded.

In the past few days the city police department has received six complaints of dogs biting children and the dogs are now under observation.

There have not been any reports of rabies, but Steele warned that now is the time of the year when the disease spreads among animals.

"All dogs must have vaccination tags and city license tags, and be kept either pinned up or on a leash," Steele said in explaining the city ordinance.

"Any dogs which are permitted to run loose, even dogs with tags, will be impounded if they are caught," he added.

Dogs are kept in the city pound for three days and then destroyed if not redeemed by their owner. A pound fee of $1 per day is charged.

Vaccination of dogs costs $2.50, and city licenses fees are $1 for male dogs and $1.50 for females.

Ike Happy Over Hawaii Bill

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hawaiian Islands will become the nation's 50th state within the year.

Congress answered the territory's half-century of pleading for statehood Thursday with a resounding 323-89 vote in the House. The Senate assented a day earlier with a 76-15 vote.

President Eisenhower gets the bill today. His approval is certain. Presidential secretary James C. Hagerty said the President is delighted.

In four to six months Hawaii could be a full partner in the union. It will take that long to set up elections for the nearly 600,000 people to choose their first state officers, their two U.S. senators and one representative in the House. Hawaii will qualify for a second House seat after the 1960 census.

There is a maximum time schedule set out in the state constitution which the people of Hawaii, tired of waiting, adopted in 1950. The maximum is 160 days between the date the President signs the bill and the date of the general election. The actual time could be less.

Gov. William F. Quinn, 12th and last presidentially appointed governor of Hawaii, said he is inclined to favor a schedule on the slow side. He said he though, that would be preferred by political leaders of both parties to get good candidates in the field. Quinn is a Republican and a candidate for governor. It is up to him to set the election dates.

John A. Burns, Hawaii's Democratic delegate to Congress, said he favored the shortest possible preliminaries to the ultimate proclamation of the President formally admitting the islands to statehood.

"Hawaiians are tired of living under the shackles of the appointive governor system," he said.

Burns, undoubtedly a candidate for something, has not said which office he will seek.

Hawaiians will have other things to vote on, besides officers.

They must decide:

1. Whether they want statehood. (they voted for it 2-1 in a plebiscite 19 years ago, but they must vote again.)

2. Whether to accept the boundaries defined by Congress. (this excludes Palmyra Island, a tiny, privately owned coral atoll 960 miles south of Honolulu.)

3. Whether to accept the federal land grants and reservations specified in the statehood bill.

Benson Move Has Political Angle

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decision of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson to make no further reduction in dairy price supports has political as well as economic implications.

In announcing this decision at a news conference late Thursday, Benson set forth at length what he termed economic justifications for retaining the present dairy supports. Under the law, he could have cut them about 3 per cent.

Some farm leaders expressed surprise. Benson already had lowered supports for a great number of products, including wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, sorghum grain, soybeans, cotton, cottonseed, rice, peanuts, flaxseed, and dry beans.

Benson's philosophy has been that the way to head off surplus production of crops and milk is to lower supports. Lower prices, he says, tends to encourage greater consumption and to discourage excess production.

In the case of dairy products, Benson said an increasing population, a slight decline in milk production and in dairy products in recent months dictated retention of the present dairy floors.

A newsman asked if his decision was not influenced by politics. He said no, adding that he had been under no undue pressures.

Nevertheless, his action was likely to have some effect on a battle now going on between the administration and the Democratic-controlled Congress over farm legislation.

No other farm commodity is produced as generally through the country as milk. No other single commodity brings farmers as much cash. No single farm commodity normally exercises as much influence in Congress as milk. It has particular importance in Midwestern areas where Republicans lost heavily in last year's elections.

New Salk Vaccine Is More Potent

DALLAS (AP)—A drug manufacturer said yesterday his firm would place on the market this spring a new Salk polio vaccine which is up to 10 times more potent than the serum now in use.

John McKeen of New York, president of Charles Pfizer and Co., said the serum will be essentially the same as other Salk vaccine, but a combination of several improvements in the manufacturing process will make it "far more effective" in preventing paralytic polio.

Lawyer Says Murder Case Is 'Shaky'

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Most of the murder case against Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan rests on shaky witnesses, her lawyer contends.

Pleading for her life, Ward Sullivan urged the jury to "view with caution" the testimony they have heard.

He charged that some key prosecution witnesses were actually accomplices if there was a murder committed.

"An accomplice is someone who might have an ulterior motive in testifying," he told the jury which has eight women.

Mrs. Duncan, 54, is accused of hiring the murder of her pregnant daughter-in-law, Olga Duncan, 30. The prosecution alleges she was so jealous of her attorney son, Frank, 30, that she couldn't bear to lose him to another woman.

Two laborers, Luis Moya and Augustine Baldonado, have admitted they beat and strangled the victim, claiming Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000. She denies the charge.

The defense lawyer took over yesterday after Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson declared that the grandmotherly Mrs. Duncan is glad her son's wife was killed Nov. 18. Gustafson called Frank Duncan "a spineless jellyfish."

The case is expected to go to the jury today or early next week.

Seven Perish In Blaze As Cottage Burns

EASTON, Maine, (AP) — Seven persons, including five children, perished early today in a fire that destroyed their five-room cottage in snow-bound Easton, about 10 miles from the Canadian border.

The victims were John Hersey, 41, five of his six children, and Carl Lundy, 50, an overnight guest.

The children were John, 12, Victoria, 8, James, 7, Elizabeth 5 and Cindy, 4.

Hersey's wife, Christina, 40, and the only surviving child, Deanna, 13, escaped from the blazing 1½-story wooden dwelling by crashing through a first floor window.

Both suffered from burns, cuts on the face, chest and arms and from shock.

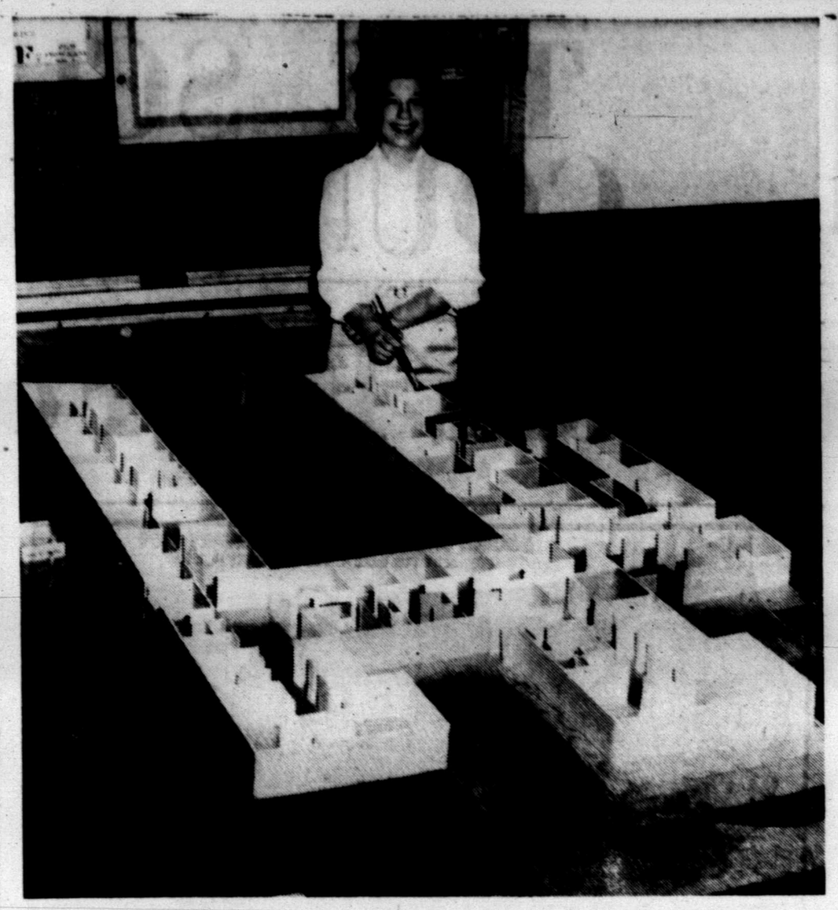

Snow drifts four feet deep on the highways prevented help from reaching the scene in time.

An ambulance sent from Presque Isle, seven miles away, was able to maneuver only two miles in two hours before it bogged down.

Fire trucks sent from Mars Hill, eight miles away, could not get through at all. Only one heavy fire truck made it from Presque Isle.

Ironically, Hersey, a former professional boxer, was a firefighter at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine, 20 miles from his home.

Lundy was a laborer in Presque Isle.

Hoffa Has Simple Message For Oil Refinery Workers

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Tough-talking James Hoffa had a simple message for 4,000 independent oil refinery workers last night:

"Join us and more than a million teamsters will help you fight your battles with Esso Standard Oil Co."

The Teamster president brushed aside an angry barrage of criticism from 30 AFL-CIO unions in the area for a bold invasion of this bustling Deep South industrial center.

The offer posed a problem for more than the local Esso refinery and the Independent Industrial Workers Assn., which invited Hoffa to speak here as a possible help in its contract difficulties.

Hoffa made it clear his sights are set on bringing all Standard Oil's independent unions into the Teamster fold.

He told a news conference before his speech he had met last month with workers at an Elizabeth, N.J., refinery and had an invitation "to speak to another large group of Standard Oil workers in the East," but no date had been set.

"Esso soon will recognize that the fight is not limited to Baton Rouge," he replied later when asked about a recent 440-man layoff at the giant refinery.

More than 1,000 IIWA members and visitors overflowed the meeting hall.

The IIWA has been working since last summer without a contract. The key dispute is over Esso's demand for acceptance of a catch-all "refinery mechanic" category, lumping many craft groups.

Hoffa swiftly made it clear it was muscles that count with him.

"The real question is whether you have the power to negotiate the proper classification," he said.

Vice President Howard Gibbon pointed out that "90 per cent of petroleum products in America are carried by Teamsters."

Hoffa hinted at a shutdown of Standard Oil service stations requiring bulk deliveries, reminding, "Teamster members recognize their obligations to fellow Teamsters who are in trouble."

It takes organization and power to battle a big outfit like Standard Oil, he said.

"No matter how hard an independent union tries, it has a limited financial structure and must have coordinated outside help to get what it wants," he said.

H. J. Voorhies, Esso vice president and refinery general manager here, said he had no comment on Hoffa's remarks.

President Victor Bussie of the State Labor Council AFL-CIO led an attack on Hoffa by his unions, featured by a tough newspaper advertisement labeling the Teamster boss "a disgrace to organized labor."

Hoffa quipped, "The newspapers made some money and the people found out who the phonies were... They ought to devote the same amount of time and money to organizing, getting better wages and representing organized labor as they are in representing the Esso people."

Water Use Up Sharply In February

Water consumption has been on a sharp increase during the first two months of 1959, according to the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

In February deliveries to Odessa, Snyder and Big Spring averaged up 20 per cent and repressuring water sales were up 15 per cent. Water metered to customers during the month stood at 542,179,000, bringing the total for the first two months to 1,120,682,000 gallons.

Odessa's requirements were 164,110,000, an increase of 20 per cent over February of 1958. Big Spring took 121,190,000 gallons, or 23.6 per cent more; Snyder 39,336,000, or 19.3 per cent more.

SACROC was virtually static at 143,241,000 gallons, Sharon Ridge up 29 per cent in reaching 47,766,000 and Lion down 4½ per cent at 24,664,000, making the over-all total for repressuring up 15.5 per cent. Texas Gulf Producing, the only other appreciable customer took 1,871,000 gallons.

One reason for the increase in consumption has been the dry weather which has persisted in the area in contrast to last year's continuing light rains.

Child Hurt While Playing Near Home

A Snyder elementary school student suffered a bad cut on her right leg while playing near her home yesterday afternoon.

She is Dana Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simpson, who live just east of the Big Spring highway near Bigham & Sons House Moving Co.

The child fell on a sharp piece of metal, which cut her leg. She was taken by Bell ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where she was admitted for treatment. Her condition was reported today as good.

Final CMA Concert Here Monday

Bernard "Le Most" Peiffer, the fabulous French jazzman scheduled to demonstrate his piano pyrotechnics on Monday 8 p.m. at the High School Auditorium, says:

"I enjoy playing and hearing both classical and jazz. I believe in the future the two will be mixed more in new compositions - pure jazz, that is, not sophisticated or commercial, just pure." M. Peiffer, a winner of the Paris Conservatory's Premier Prix d 'Excellence in piano, abandoned a budding career as a long-hair virtuoso when his first contact with American jazz, a Fats Waller record, showed him a boundless new area in which to apply his extraordinary rhythmic and improvisational gifts.

"Rock and roll is nothing, absolutely nothing; it will soon fade out completely. More and more real jazz is being played on radio and television, gaining new fans, and that is fine. But then they put on rock and roll and call that jazz too. It certainly isn't jazz. Its form of harmony is so ridiculous it can't even be defined. Soon everyone will grow tired of it-and go to jazz. After all, there's a degree a human being must stop at."

"My work has changed since I've been here." M. Peiffer came to America a little over three years ago. "I get a jazz feeling I could never get in France. It works the other way too. If anyone wanted to get really inside the music of Debussy or Ravel, he'd have to live close to the French people. Jazz, like pure French wine, is from the ground where it has gathered the essence of its surroundings for years and years."

"Bach was a rhythm man; all true jazz musicians love him. But in Bach there is only one kind of interpretation —the one he wrote"

"Playing jazz is more important than writing it down. One goes where there is no tradition - takes a risk. For me, the risk must be part of the heart, and the mind and fingers must be perfect to act for it - it must be a risk well made."

The French Academie du Disque sits eight to ten hours daily, four months yearly, listening to records. M. Bernard "Le Most" Peiffer was the first non-American ever to win its coveted Grand Prix du Disque in jazz; he won it twice.

Virtuoso Bernard "LeMost"Peiffer scored all the instruments but his piano that is, and performed on the sound tracks of two French movies: "Rendez-Vos de Guillet" and "Quand Tuliras cette Lettre."

Frenchman Bernard Peiffer's jazz compositions bear some typically American titles: "Pied Peiffer," "Strip Tease," "Blues for Slobs", "Tired Blues" and "Don't Touch the Grisby," among them. These the master is slated to deliver on his piano next Monday evening at the High School at 8.

Oklahoman Helping Equip Japanese For U.S. Study

TOKYO (AP) — Mrs. Robert Boylan, a striking brunette who has lived a busy and zestful life in the United States and much of Asia, has embarked on a new adventure in human relations.

Born Margaret Kerr in Ada, Okla., she early decided that being a woman didn't mean sitting on the sidelines while the rest of the world went by.

She underscored that point by becoming a civilian airplane pilot in 1940 and spending most of World War II as a ferry pilot helping release Air Force pilots for fighting assignments.

After the war she took a job in public relations with Northeast Airlines. She met her husband, who was public relations man for Parks Air College in East St. Louis, Ill., at an aviation writers' conference. And eventually that's how she got to Japan.

Robert Boylan had dreamed of Japan since the time, 12 years earlier, he edited a book on the Japanese people in the military government field.

He went to Singapore for the United States Information Agency and then to Australia as treasurer of the Fulbright Commission in his long trek toward Tokyo. His efforts finally were rewarded last year when he came to the American Embassy here as chairman of the Fulbright Commission and director of the exchange of persons branch of the embassy.

Robert was delighted with Japan. The reality was as good as the promise.

While her husband threw himself into his program, Mrs. Boylan decided that she, too, wanted to know and understand Japan through its people. She has done so as head of the embassy's program for coaching Japanese students in English. American women in Tokyo have volunteered their services as part of the plan which includes all of the Japanese who obtain Fulbright grants for study in the United States.

"I'm so enthusiastic about it, I hesitate to start talking for fear of being a bore," she said with a smile.

The students come to her lovely and spacious home, stocked with Asian art objects, for two hours each week. As the Fulbright students approach their departure time, this is stepped up to two or three meetings a week.

"They know more grammar than I will ever know," she said. "All are college or university graduates. But many times they have been taught by Japanese and need pronunciation help. I try to give them working English for use in the United States."

"I am constantly impressed by their kindness and generosity," said Mrs. Boylan who rounds out her time with Japanese brush painting, ceramics and raising two children.

"It has given me a wonderful opportunity to know Japan through their eyes. They always show a deep appreciation for any small thing one does. But I get more than they do out of the experience."

Union H-D Meeting Held In Hogue Home

The Union Home Demonstration Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Howard Hogue, with Mrs. R. J. Rosson and Mrs. O. P. Tate Jr. as hostesses.

Guest speaker was Mr. Gene Dulaney, attorney. The topic of his speech was "Transfer of property by wills and deeds".

Following Mr. Dulaney's address Mrs. C. F. Capps led the group in a game of "Are you an egg spert on scrambled eggs?" The object of the game was to unscramble the letters given to make ten words that were ways of preparing eggs.

Recreation was followed by the business meeting in which Mrs. O. B. Lindsey gave the roll call which was answered by "Do you have a will?" Mrs. Capps gave the council report. Mrs. Lindsey read the recommendation of the committees for civil defense and citizenship, finance, recreation, EEE, 4-H and of things to do for the 4-H Club which the Union H-D Club sponsors.

The club voted to begin having two meetings each month beginning in April, with the meetings to be held the first Wednesday and the third Thursday of each month.

Mrs. C. F. Capps received the hostess gift.

Refreshment of coffee and cookies were served by the hostesses to: Mrs. I. T. Huckabee, Mrs. O. P. Tate Sr., Mrs. O. B. Lindsey, Mrs. Ernest Hall, Mrs. H. L. Rhodes, Mrs. C. F. Capps, Mrs. Woody Worthington, Mrs. Howard Hogue, Mrs. Ralph Odom, Mrs. J. W. Kitchings, Mrs. Garland Shaw, Miss Linda Rosson, and Mrs. J. H. Langford, who has formally been very active in the club work, but has been unable to attend for some time.

Northeast P-TA Meet Held Monday

The Northeast Elementary Parent-Teacher Association met Monday afternoon in the school auditorium.

Mrs. N. E. Ray, president, called the meeting to order. Mr. Devenport led the group in prayer.

The devotional thought was presented by Mrs. Wayne Culvahouse. She used as her theme the scripture, "Train up a child in the way he should go and when is is old he will not depart from it".

During the business session, officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Mrs. D. D. Hirst, president; Mrs. Duaine Davis, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Hyatt, treasurer.

The group voted to have the April meeting by invitation to parents from the rooms their children are in. This was decided since each grade is now planning a program to be presented at different assemblies. Thus the parents of each group may come to the programs in which their children participate.

Mrs. Free expressed thanks for the carpet the P-TA placed in the library.

A film on American education was shown for the program.

A Pitch For Snacks

It takes a skillful pitcher to throw three balls across the plate for a strike out, whether he be major, minor, or little leaguer. In the nutrition league, you make a pitch for a similar feat when you limit yourself to three meals a day.

Because many of us do not call into play good meal planning strategy, three meals may not be enough to strike out the desire for food and meet the need for calories, vitamins, minerals, proteins. Hence the wisdom of the well-planned coffee break or the television tidbit. . .the snack that satisfies and carries its quota of essential nutrients. As long as you balance the amount of food you eat with the amount of energy you spend, snacking is good mealtime strategy.

That a four- or five-meal day can result in eating more of the essential foods is shown in a Montana State University study. When preschool children ate a midmorning snack, they were able to increase their intake of nutrients.

Preschoolers, little leaguers, and teeners alike have a double-header need for food to met the demands of growth and activity. Adults, too, need innings for replenishing energy stores. Well-planned snacks fill these needs.

Weight-worriers who use good snack strategy take advantage of the convenient lay-away plan . . . laying away part of the regular meal until later. No matter what the plan, make sure the foods that cross your plate include enough: Enriched or whole grain bread or cereal, milk, meat or an alternate, fruits and vegetables.

Smart Washer

One of the 1959 washer - dryer combination machines features a warm water soaking period before the main hot water wash. The purpose is to remove stains caused by milk, perspiration or blood, as such stains are "set" by hot water. The water selector control is et on "warm" which gives 70 degree water. When all the water is in, the water temperature control is turned to "hot." That automatically turns on the water heater incorporated in the machine and by the time the water reaches 120 degrees, the soils that are usually set by hot water will have been removed.

Mrs. H. Bond Hostess To Jayceettes

The Jaycettes met Tuesday evening at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for their regular monthly meeting.

Election of officers was held with the following to hold office: Mrs. Jerry Edwards, president; Mrs. Howard Milburn, vice president; Mrs. Herman Bond, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Baker, reporter-historian and Mrs. Dick Roberts, director.

The installation banquet will be held at the regular meeting in April at the Woman's Clubhouse with Dick Roberts, Jaycee president, as installing officer.

Mrs. Herman Bond introduced Mrs. W. W. Greif, who presented a most interesting program on dieting. She stressed the importance of a proper diet while loosing weight and the danger if this is not followed.

Mrs. Bond, hostess for the evening served refreshments to 13 members and the guest speaker.

Young Set Likes New Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeatures writer

The Sunday school set will step out for Easter this year in up-to-the-minute fashions reflecting all the latest grown-up trends from Paris and New York.

Like Mom, little Sis wants none of the chemise this spring. Her favorite dresses for the new season are frilly and feminine, with full skirts and natural waistlines, bodices trimly fitted. Little girls always did love party petticoats, and they'll have a chance to wear them again this spring and summer. The new full skirts look best with a froth of petticoats beneath.

Though they look as dainty as the flowers of spring, these new party dresses for small fry are as practical as blue jeans, since most of them are made in the new fabric blends that shed soil and wrinkles and can be washed almost as easily as a pair of nylons. Ruffles, tucks and embroidery emerge from the wash crisp and unwrinkled, ready to wear with little or no ironing.

A new blend of acetate and cotton is used in children's outfits which may be dunked in the washbowl at night, worn again next morning with little care. Other drip-dry fabrics include various blends of dacron, nylon and orlon, as well as cotton with a new wrinkle-shedding finish.

Little girls can be dressed in party frills this spring, with no washday pain for Mom.

Quilting Tip

When quilting, never lay scissors on the quilt to use in thread cutting. These may sometimes make the quilt sag. Instead of scissors use a razor blade for thread cutting.

soc Chewing gum 1-14

If the youngsters get chewing gum on washable fabrics, soak the material in cleaning fluid until the gum loosens. After this is accomplished, scrape the gum off, wash the garment in warm suds, and rinse.

OUR VIEW

Hawaii Joins Texas

Congress acted as expected on the Hawaii statehood proposal, and apparently a vast majority of American citizens agrees with the decision, notwithstanding some reports that flag makers face some problems.

Speaking of the flag makers, it is difficult to imagine a great deal of financial loss to them resulting from admission of the 50th state. The old flags, both the 48-star and 49-star varieties, should become collector's items soon. In fact, if we were in the flag-making business we would be tempted to take all of our 49-star flags off the market immediately with the hope that they would become more valuable as time goes by.

The 49-star flag should be the most valuable of all to collectors since there will be fewer of them.

Otherwise, the flag makers should not experience any great difficulties. Once the design for the 50-star flag is set, it should not be a big chore to retool flag-making facilities.

Getting back to Hawaii itself, the territory has realized an ambition of long standing, and there should be no doubt by now that it is fully prepared to meet its responsibilities as a state.

Hawaii and Texas share one experience, although Texas did not have a long waiting period when it decided it wanted to become a state. Hawaii was an independent kingdom until 1898, when it voluntarily became a part of the United States. Texas was a republic for 10 years before it voluntarily gave up its status as a nation for statehood.

So, at long last, Hawaii has joined Texas to add another state to the union.

Ike Bases Policy On U. S. Bombers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's tough stand against the Soviet Union on Berlin apparently is based on the belief that the United States could smash the Soviets in an all-out war—if it comes any time soon.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has expressed such a view repeatedly in recent weeks. So have others. They are basing their faith on American bombers, not on ground troops.

Eisenhower himself this week ruled out land war by conceding the United States and its allies are far outmatched by the Soviets on the ground. He did not rule out nuclear war.

Nuclear war would have to be carried out by the American Strategic Air Command, which could strike from bases around the U.S.S.R. American reliance on bombers will change as both this country and the Soviet Union develop missiles.

Democrats in Congress have protested that the administration is letting the Soviets gain an ever widening lead in missiles. Eisenhower replies that he knows exactly what he's doing.

On Jan. 20 McElroy said the United States has forces ready "to destroy any nation attacking our country." Again on March 2 he said this country has "definite offensive superiority over the Soviets at this time."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga), skeptical about American superiority as late as Jan. 20, began sounding optimistic.

On Jan. 28 Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said: "From the many bases that surround the Soviet Union we could devastate them. Only a madman would start a war now." He stressed the superiority of the Strategic Air Command. So did Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

But when it comes to missiles—the ultimate weapons of the future—Russell said: "No question that Soviet Russia is ahead of us."

Even if this country has destructive superiority now and if the Soviets gain it in the not-too-distant future, both situations raise painful questions.

The Western alliance is holding together against Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that the Allies get their troops out of Berlin. No one knows for sure why he chose to precipitate a crisis over Berlin now.

There could be several reasons: to gain Western recognition for the Communist East German regime; to weaken the West's will to resist just a little bit by trying to force the West into concessions to avoid a showdown that might mean war; or, through Western fear of war, weaken the whole Western alliance.

By not ruling out the possibility of nuclear war, Eisenhower actually raised the possibility of it. In a nuclear war the Soviets even though being smashed at home, would seek to retaliate in kind, the nearest target is Western Europe.

What looks like a solid Western alliance now might fall apart if this country's European allies came up to the brink of their own devastation over the question of refusing to budge on Berlin.

If the Soviets in a few years have missile superiority—missiles that could crush Western Europe and missiles that could cross the ocean to hit this country — what will this do to American toughness and will to resist?

These are all questions simmering in the Berlin kettle and the arguments between the administration and the Democrats over future defense plans.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt preferred that his special trains go about 35 miles an hour. President Truman preferred 75 miles an hour. President Eisenhower prefers air travel.

Few Knew Much Of Gene Lockhart

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Lockhart, one of America's all-time great actors, appeared in hundreds of films, but the public knew very little about him.

He died two years ago, but he is still much alive in the thoughts of his actress daughter.

"Many people didn't know it, but father also was very active as a songwriter," said June Lockhart, currently starring as the young mother in the TV network, "Lassie."

"He wrote 60 or 70 songs, among them 'The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise.'

"Father was a very versatile, talented and kind man. He was a doer and a giver, and he gave more of that thing that is most precious to all of us—time.

"When he was young and poor he didn't even have an overcoat. My mother, who was also in the theater, noticed this and sent him one and I guess that's how she got him.

"Father, as he grew older, was a very devout man. He helped many people come into the church. He was a very dedicated man—dedicated to his fellow human beings. He used to spend hours every day helping people with their problems.

"He had tremendous drive and a great capacity for work. After a long day at the studio, he would write most of the night on plays, sketches, songs, letters to people in trouble. He never sloughed off a job, no matter how small.

"In the household he was boss. There was no doubt of that. But he had great humor.

"We had a very full relationship as father and daughter, and nothing that should be done was left undone, and therefore I did not grieve too much when he died. We had done so much together. We were very close."

With June Lockhart herself it has been pretty much a case of "like father, like daughter." She is blonde and blue-eyed, witty and pretty, warm-hearted and wonderfully likeable because she is still wonderfully natural.

June never has had an acting lesson—and never needed one, since she was born to the theater. She made her professional debut when she was eight as Mimsey in the Metropolitan Opera's "Peter Ibbetson."

Her role as the ingenue in "For Love or Money" made her the toast of Broadway in 1947.

Since then June has appeared in a number of plays, some 15 movies, and scores of television plays. She is as hard-working as her father was, and has his same pride in his craft.

Her hobby is politics, a field in which she thinks some of the best acting in America is done. In presidential years she likes to travel with the campaign trains.

"I have no desire at all to run for office myself," she said. "But the theatrical aspects of politics fascinate me. I do love to watch a really smooth politician perform."

Celebrations Take Over In Hawaii

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

HONOLULU (AP) — Happy Hawaiians cranked up a second round of celebrations today for their newly acquired statehood.

Disregarding Friday the 13th, they planned a five-hour show at Honolulu Stadium featuring Hollywood entertainers and 200 grass-skirted hula dancers.

It was a holiday again throughout the islands, just as it was Thursday when Congress voted long-awaited statehood for the territory.

The day's program also called for a religious thanksgiving service in Hononlulu and a big concert by the Royal Hawaiian Band, joined by the bands of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Also on the program was a 50-gun salute to the 50th state fired by artillerymen from howitzers on Iolani Palace grounds.

Thursday's celebration began noisily within minutes after the House completed passage of the statehood bill.

It exploded in a discordant din of sirens, church bells, ship's whistles and motorists horns.

At night there were street dancing, bonfires and fireworks.

Military planes dropped flares at sea off Waikiki Beach, the island's best known resort spot.

At Waikiki, throngs jammed the streets to see dancing by Tahitian, Samoan and Hawaiian maidens.

Light showers failed to dampen the festivities. Native Hawaiians, who regard rain as a blessing of the Gods, took it as a good omen for the newest state.

Servicemen at liberty joined the thousands crowding the Waikiki area. One serviceman carried a cardboard sign from his neck reading "Maryland welcomes Hawaii" and another had asign which read "Iowa votes yes."

The largest bonfire was a towering blaze on an island adjoining Honolulu harbor. Logs from many states and foreign countries had been collected for the blaze.

In Waikiki, celebration committee workers collected housands of signatures on a big scroll which will be sent to Congress as a gesture of thanks.

About the moment the Washington vote was taken, 84 foreigners — most of them Japanese — took the oath of United States citizenship in federal court in Honolulu.

Novelist James A. Michener said: "You are very, very lucky. You join America at the same time these islands are joining America."

Classy Field Set For Canyon Reef Meet Tomorrow

RECORD THREAT — Stanley Woolever, above, Tiger hurdler, is a serious threat to the Canyon Reef Relay record in the 120-yard high hurdles. Woolever recorded a 14.6 time in the highs at the Comanche Relays two weeks ago, as compared to the 14.8 Canyon Reef record. Woolever will also compete in the low hurdles where he has a best time of 19.7. (Lee Watson photograph)

400 Athletes, 22 Teams Entered

One of the classiest fields in history of the meet will assemble tomorrow for the 7th annual running of the Canyon Reef Relays at Tiger Stadium.

Activity will begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow with the preliminaries and will conclude in the afternoon with the final events. The finals will begin at 2 p.m.

Twenty-two teams with 398 athletes will bid for honors at the Canyon Reef show which was won last year by the host Tigers for the first time.

The Tigers are apt to make another strong bid for the title if sprinter John Weaver is healthy. Weaver, the anchor man on the Tiger 440 and 880-yard relay teams, is nursing muscle spasms in his leg suffered in the Border Olympics at Laredo last week.

Weaver has been favoring the injury most of this week by coach Jim Stehley has hopes his sophomore speedster will be fully recovered by tomorrow.

The Tigers will have to make good showings in the 440 and 880 relays to contend for the title.

Midland, winner of the Comanche Relays at Fort Stockton and second in the Border Olympics, is the pre-meet favorite. Stiffest competition is due to come from Amarillo, Borger, San Angelo, Amarillo Tascosa and Big Spring.

Borger and Tascosa ran 1-2 in the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham last week and both could sneak in with the Canyon Reef title.

High jumper Charles Giesey and broad jumper Bubba Jones head the Midland team. Giesey won the high jump here last year and he went on to tie for first in the state meet. Giesey is one of two defending individual champions returning in the Canyon Reef meet.

The other is shot-putter Emory Martindale of San Angelo. Martindale tossed the shot 51-1¼ here last year to win first but already this season the San Angelo husky has bettered 57 feet.

In addition to the 440 and 880 relays, the other potential winners on the Tiger squad are Stan Woolever in the hurdles and Jimmy Maroney in the dashes. Woolever holds the best time of the Canyon Reef entries this season in the highs at 14.6 and is tied with James King of Tascosa for the best time in the lows at 19.7.

The Tiger 440 relay team, in addition to Weaver, is made up of Maroney, Richard Mahan and Jesse Crawford. Three of this quartet also runs in the 880 relay with Woolever eplacing Mahan.

Admission prices for tomorrow's show will be 50 and 25 cents for both the preliminaries and the finals.

Kentucky Seeks 5th National Title; TCU Meets Oscar & Co.

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's Wildcats, seeking an unprecedented fifth championship, open defense of their NCAA basketball title tonight as 16 of the nation's best major college teams begin play in four regional tournaments.

Kentucky plays Louisville, an at-large selection with a 17-10 record, in the first game of tonight's doubleheader at Evanston, Ill. Michigan State (18-3), champion of the Big Ten, meets Marquette (23-4) in the second.

Kentucky and Michigan State are favored to tangle Saturday night in the Mid-east regional.

Here's how the other three regional tournaments stack up:

East at Charlotte, N.C. — West Virginia (26-4) vs. St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (22-3) and Navy (17-5) vs. Boston University (19-6).

West Virginia, having overcome its jinx of losing in the preliminary round four straight years, and Navy, which eliminated well-regarded North Carolina, are favored.

Midwest at Lawrence, Kan. — Texas Christian (19-5) vs. Cincinnati (23-3) and De Paul (13-9) vs. Kansas State (24-1).

Two of the season's greatest stars, All-America selections, Oscar Robertson and Bob Boozer, promise plenty of action in this doubleheader.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

UNLESS YOU PLAN to follow the Tiger tracksters to some of the out-of-town meets this spring, tomorrow's running of the Canyon Reef Relays here will be your last chance to see the Tiger thinlies perform this season.

Tomorrow's meet is the only home appearance for the Tiger cindermen this spring. In the past the Tigers have been hosts to the District 3-AAA meet here in addition to the Canyon Reef Relays but this year the district meet will be held in Sweetwater.

We believe everyone attending tomorrow's meet here will be thoroughly entertained. Some state champions-to-be are almost sure to come from some of the contestants in tomorrow's show.

Several State Champs Competed Here In '58

There were four boys who competed here last year who went on to win state crowns and a fifth tied for first. The state champs who competed here last year were Alton Thygerson of Pampa in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, Pat McDonald of Lubbock in the 440-yard dash, and the Tigers' hurdle duo, Bud Morgan in the lows and Rex Wilson in the highs, giving Canyon Reef entries five winners out of a possible 14 in the state meet.

In still another event, the high jump, a Canyon Reef entry gained a share of first place in the state meet. He was Charles Giesey of Midland. Giesey, incidentally, is the only one of the above group who is returning this year.

But the boys who'll be competing here tomorrow have already proven that they're state championship caliber.

You'll be missing the boat if you pass up tomorrow's fine track and field show at Tiger Stadium.

On the golfing front, Jerry Taylor, Tiger quarterback of three seasons back, recently recorded a hole-in-one in Portales, N. M. during an intra-squad golf match at Eastern New Mexico.

Taylor made his ace on a 125-yard hole with an eight-iron. The shot hit about 12 feet short and rolled in. He finished with a 40 on the wind-swept course.

It was Jerry's first ace since taking up the game about six years ago.

Homer Jefferson, Colorado City coach, has officially resigned. Jefferson was asked to resign several days ago by the C-City school board but Jefferson refused.

Jefferson at first said he'd have to be "fired" but he finally consented to hand in his resignation.

Tiger Netters Win Opener

The Tiger tennis team opened its season on a victory note yesterday, defeating Colorado City, 4-1, at Towle Park.

Danny Tankersley and Jimmy Brown figured in three of the four matches won by the Bengals. Tankersley defeated Jimmy Brown of Colorado City, 6-2 and 6-3, and then teamed with Warren to defeat Ray Dillard and Tommy Humphries of the Wolves in a double match, 6-3, 5-7 and 7-5.

In a singles match, Warren bested Dillard, 6-4 and 6-2.

The other Tiger win was posted by Homer Ray who defeated Humphries, 6-3, 3-6 and 7-5.

Colorado City's Bobby Hale defeated the Tigers' Jimmy Brown, 6-1 and 6-1 for the lone Wolf win.

Tigers Host Steers Today

The Tiger baseballers went after their first victory of the season today when they were scheduled to go against the Big Spring Steers at Towle Park, starting at 4 p.m.

Norman Gladson, junior right-hander for the Bengals, was coach Speedy Moffett's mound choice for today's tilt. Big Spring was expected to counter with left-hander Chubby Moser, ace of the Steer staff.

Today's meeting will be the second of the young season between the two clubs. Big Spring, after spotting the Tigers a 6-0 lead, won the first game, 7-6, last Saturday in Big Spring in the curtain raiser for the Black and Golders.

Tiger coach Moffett had to shake up his lineup for today's tilt. Three boys who started the first two Tiger games to date will be missing today. Outfielder Terry Lee and shortstop Jerry Fleming are nursing sore arms. Johnny Drake, regular centerfielder, has gone to Fort Sill to take examinations for entry to West Point.

Following is the way the Tigers were to have opened in today's game:

Spencer Dyer, 3b; Dick Hayes, lf; Mike Moffett, cf; Denny Drake, shortstop; Charles Gladson, rf; Steve Free, 2b; Benny Greenfield, 1b; Ronnie Wylie, cathcer; and Gladson, pitcher.

TIGERETTES PLAY DC HERE TONIGHT

The Snyder High School girls volleyball team will entertain Denver City in a non-district game at Tiger Gym tonight, starting at 7:30.

Coach Allene Stovall's Tigerettes have won 10 and lost nine this season. One of the victories came at the expense of Denver City earlier in the season.

The Tigerettes are leading the District 3-AAA race with a 3-0 mark.

Tonight's varsity game will be preceeded by a "B" game between the two schools at 6:30.

Graham Says Crowds Over Half-Million

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Billy Graham announced today that attendance so far in his month-long Melbourne crusade has been about 526,000. Of these 19,368 came forward to make "decisions for Christ."

More than 100,000 are expected for the last Melbourne meeting Sunday.

Graham told a news conference this is the most moral big city he has ever visited.

The evangelist said he plans to spend a two-week vacation on Queensland's Gold Coast resting and writing a book.

"Today there is so much literature of despair," he said. "I want to write a book of hope. It has been burning inside me for a long time now."

He had been warned that a meeting today at Melbourn University might turn out to be rowdy but found it one of the quietest of his tour.

He cracked jokes about hillbillies and about himself to a crowd that listened intently. The audience overflowed into an adjoining lecture hall, where it watched by closed television circuit.

At his news conference Graham—who is from North Carolina—declined to be drawn into a discussion of the racial problem in American schools.

"It's not the sort of question you can answer in two sentences," he said, "but all our own meetings everywhere have been integrated, with Negro counselors and pastors."

Second Suit Filed By Helen O'Connell

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Helen O'Connell has filed a second suit for separate maintenance against author Thomas Chamales and says she fears for her life.

"Today there is so much literature of despair," he said. "I want to write a book of hope. It has been burning inside me for a long time now."

The former vocalist with the late Jimmy Dorsey's band said Thursday she has employed a bodyguard. She said Chamales—whom she married two years ago—threatened to kill her and her daughter by a previous marriage.

Miss O'Connell had dismissed an earlier separate maintenance suit after reconciling with Chamales. She asks $1,699 a month temporary alimony and child support.

Hungerford To Be Devotion Speaker

Speaker next week on the Daily Devotions program on KSNY will be the Rev. Donald Hungerford, vicar at the St. John's Episcopal Church.

The program, at 9:15 a.m. daily, is scheduled by the radio committee of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

Fanning To Conduct Sweetwater Meeting

Boyd Fanning of Dallas, former minister of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ here, will conduct a meeting at the Fourth and Elm Street Church of Christ in Sweetwater beginning Monday.

Fanning has been in Dallas about seven years, since leaving Snyder.

Cohen's Girl Friend Accused Of Perjury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal grand jury says actress Liz Renay, ex-gambler Mickey Cohen's girl friend, lied about Cohen's finances.

The jury, investigating Cohen's sources of income for possible income tax violations, indicted Miss Renay Thursday on five perjury counts. The indictment accuses her of falsely saying she arranged for a third party to make loans of $2,000 and $3,500 to Cohen, and that Cohen repaid them.

Hoodlum Confesses To Strangling Woman

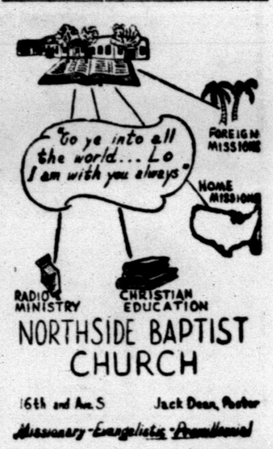

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Hoodlum Johnnie Green testified yesterday that he strangled Mrs. Bernice Haijdukiwicz after she proposed that they go to a hotel but resisted his advances after he parked on a lonely road.

Green is on trial for murder.

Green, 27, said they parked after he told her he was broke.

He said the mother of two married sons "asked me if I was married and got mad and slapped me when I said yes." Then, he testified, he strangled her with her sweater, drove to San Jose and dumped the body in a vacant lot.

He was arrested in Fort Worth, his home, Sept. 23 after the victim's car was found there.

The Public Spirited Firms and Individuals on this page bring you this weekly message in the hope that it will point to a better way of life and be an inspiration to everyone.

PREACHING JESUS

(Question) "Why not just preach Jesus and leave doctrine out of sermons?"

(Answer) One who preaches must "take heed unto . . . the doctrine" (1 Tim. 4:16) Thus when one preaches Jesus he is preaching doctrine. He must teach the things of Jesus that relate to His life, his atonement for our sins, and the scheme of redemption procured through his blood. This requires some quoting of scripture and proof from inspired writers of the New Testament. When men talk agriculture, they do more than just chant "farming, farming, farming." They speak of the soil, the plant best suited for it, the cultivation of it and the yield expected. So, when one preaches Jesus he does more than just say, "Jesus, Jesus, Jesus." He explains why Jesus is Lord of Lords and King of Kings. The bible says "Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria and preached Christ unto them." (Acts 8:5) Now note what they heard and also believed. "But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the KINGDOM OF GOD and THE NAME of Jesus Christ, they were BAPTIZED, both men and women." (Acts 8:12) In preaching the things capitalized above they were preaching Jesus. I thus conclude that one does not preach Jesus to the Lost world who leaves out any of these. It took some reasoning with these Samaritans to convince them of the merits of Christianity because they had already followed another teacher. (vis Simon) They thought Simon possessed the great power of God, but the preaching of Jesus converted them from error to truth. " . . . it is God's power unto salvation." (Rom. 1:16)

Junior Editors Quiz on U.S. HISTORY

QUESTION: What state was once known as Franklin?

* * *

ANSWER: When the American Revolution ended there were only 13 states in the union. All were on the Atlantic coast. Only a few people lived in the lands west of the mountains. The lands were claimed by the 13 states.

In the year 1784, North Carolina offered to give her western lands to the federal government. The people who lived there, however, did not want to be given away. They held a convention and organized the state of Franklin, named after Benjamin Franklin.

The United States refused to admit Franklin as a state in the union and, after four years, its organization ceased to exist. But, in 1796, the land that had been called Franklin finally was admitted into the union as a state. It's known today as Tennessee.

Woman's Row Shocks House Of Commons

LONDON (AP) — "Oh, Edith, you really are an ass!"

"Vulgar abuse," came the retort.

It was strictly a woman's row in the House of Commons Thursday night between two stalwarts of feminine rights.

House Chairman Charles Rogers showed gallantry—or diplomacy—with the innocent explanation "I didn't hear a word" when some male complained of the unladylike language.

The flareup came during a debate on the National Health Service.

Dr. Edith Summerskill, a diehard Socialist, protested American companies were among firms flooding the British market with highpriced drugs.

Dame Irene Ward, a diehard Tory, objected and shouted the "ass" remark at her distaff colleague.

Male members of the House who customarily address even their bitterest political rivals as "the honorable member," were stunned.

"I am surprised," said Dr. Edith, "that Dame Irene should be so feline."

"Well, really," replied Dame Irene, "it is too ridiculous to take that line."

Dr. Edith, 58, and an outspoken critic of legalized prize fighting, and Dame Irene, who refuses to disclose her age, are personal friends outside the political arena.

VERNIE McWHIRTER

New Manager For Lane-Wells Here

New manager of the Snyder District for Lane-Wells Co., technical oilfield service firm, is Vernie McWhirter, former Sweetwater man.

McWhirter came here shortly after Lane-Wells had rearranged its districts and made the Snyder station a district office. The district covers 23 counties.

Four counties were transferred into this district as McWhirter came here. They were Nolan, Fisher, Coke, and Tom Green, all formerly part of a North-Central Texas District. Several other counties of that district were transfered to the Abilene District.

The new district manager here succeeded Bill Smallwood, who went to Odessa as district manager. Smallwood had been here nine years, having first come here when Lane-Wells opened its Snyder station.

McWhirter was formerly manager of the Sweetwater station and had held that post three and one-half years before being promoted to head the Snyder District. He has been with Lane-Wells eight years, having begun with the company at Wichita Falls.

The Snyder District office is about four miles west of town on U. S. Highway 180. Key personnel, other than McWhirter, are John Ballard, salesman, and three engineers, W. G. Herring, O. C. Henderson, and Gene Doss. There are 12 employes at the station here.

A native of Roby, McWhirter lived there until he was about 15 years old but finished high school at Lubbock, where he attended Texas Technological College, graduating with a degree in electrical engineering. He was employed by an independent operator before going to Lane-Wells.

He is married and has two children, Ronnie, 9½, and Vicki Ann, 8½.

Prominent Family's Son Is Sentenced

ELSINORE, Calif. (AP) — A judge has sentenced the son of a prominent Lake Elsinore family to six months in jail for starting one of California's largest brush fires with an incendiary bullet.

Jerry H. Stewart, 21, was also fined $150 and placed on three years probation by Judge Stanley S. Root.

The fire, which took one life, swept 66,000 acres in three counties in the Cleveland National Forest Area last Dec. 14-17.

Stolen Kiss Costs Five Days In Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—Miss Hattie Tubbs told the court Thursday a stolen kiss was distinctly unwelcome.

Miss Tubbs, 23, testified in Police Court she was walking past a cafe when James Booker, 20, a stranger, stepped up and bussed her soundly.

Booker was charged with assault and battery. Asked why he kissed the woman, he said, "I donno."

"How much for the great lover?" asked prosecutor R. E. Cors.

"Five days," answered Judge R. E. Shannon.

Tax Revolt Fizzles Out In New York

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Tax experts raced an April 1 deadline today to effect sweeping tax changes spelled out in Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's record $2,000,577,797 budget.

The GOP-controlled Legislature tied up the loose ends of the vast spending program yesterday by approving 56 million dollars more in taxes on cigarettes, other tobacco items and estates.

The revolt against higher taxes sputtered out with a few scattered "noes" from both parties.

The main tax package is the 112 million dollar boost in income taxes, approved Wednesday. It first will be felt April 1, when a payroll withholding plan goes into effect. The same day, the levy on a pack of cigarettes goes from three cents to five.

The tax department rushed forms and instructions to 300,000 to 400,000 employers who will begin deducting income tax from workers' pay April 1, start of the new fiscal year.

The state system will operate much like the federal collection plan.

The state is canceling all 1958 income taxes except the capital gains tax, from which at least 33 million is expected. This levy is on income from the sale of property such as real estate or stocks.

A new 15 per cent tax on the wholesale price of cigars and other tobacco products will not go into effect until July 1. The second revenue bill will raise the rates slightly on estate taxes.

The tobacco and cigarette tax boosts are expected to raise about 47 million dollars, and the estate levy about nine million.

An increase in the tax on gasoline—from four to six cents a gallon—went into effect March 1.

Albert Charged With Plotting Wife's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Wealthy business man Kris Albert is charged with offering a man $5,000 to kill his crippled wife.

Detectives said Miguel Angulo, a farmhand, told them Albert tried to hire him, saying: "She is very sick and it would be merciful to put her out of the way."

Pearl Albert, 46, a multiple sclerosis victim, said her husband once threatened her life and said she would be better off dead.

Albert, 46, of Beverly Hills, is free under $25,000 bond.

Girl Has System For Winning Contests

CINCINNATI (AP) — Want to know how to win those guessing contests—how many beans in a jar, etc.?

Julia Colan of suburban Norwood has a formula.

Julia guessed within six ounces the correct weight of a big side of beef displayed here.

How?

"I took my age, 11, and put my grade in school in the middle," she said. "Then I substracted the six from the 11 to get the ounces."

Her estimate: 161 pounds, 5 ounces.

Nat Cole Says Best Songs Sidelined

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Good songs are still being written in this rock 'n' roll era, but the public rarely gets to hear them.

So says Nat King Cole, who has been riding high in the popular music world for 20 years.

"It doesn't take talent any more to become popular," the singer told a news conference Thursday. "It takes connections and push.

"They don't build performers like they did in my day. (Cole will be 40 Tuesday.)

"The young kids (popular with the rock 'n' roll set) don't owe their thanks to the public. They owe them to the jukebox operators.

"Jukeboxes and the record companies—they're the ones that are killing us off. A guy with good songs, where's he goint to take them?"

Cole, who describes himself as "a man with musical integrity," says he may have a partial answer.

"My next album is going to be all new songs." It was cut last summer and scheduled for the market in May while Cole is on a South American tour.

"This has never been tried before in the commercial market," Cole said.

Cole observed: "The kids are controlling the radio today. But they don't buy as many records as they think they buy. Album sales are 75 per cent of the record business. The young adult buy the albums, not the kids."

It's the young adult market Cole will be aiming at in his new album. Songs were picked from the 50 to 60 new numbers he sees weekly.

EOKA Soldiers Head Home

By WEBB MCKINLEY

NICOSIA, Cyprus, (AP) — EOKA's war is over and the boys are heading home.

The wiry youths whom Britain so recently called terrorists now are hailed as heroes on the streets of Nicosia.

They do not look fierce. It is hard to imagine one padding silently along an alley, gun in hand, or waiting for the right instant to set off a land mine on a mountain road.

They look more like young clerks, accountants, students, electricians, lawyers or farmers — which in fact they once were.

But the four-year war they fought in EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground, to free Cyprus from Britain was tough and ruthless. A total of 393 killings were attributed to EOKA. More than half the victims were Greek Cypriot civilians marked as traitors to the cause of Enosis, the union of Cyprus with Greece.

EOKA did not win Enosis. But on the advice of its leadership it accepted the plan for eventual independence for Cyprus.

The hatreds born in the struggle washed over into intercommunal fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots that took another 115 lives. All in all, including those killed by British security forces, the war left 601 dead and 1,260 wounded.

On the face of it, EOKA was battling hopeless odds. Its own hard core centered in the mountains probably never numbered more than 50 men, although the line of communication and part-time adherents ran into thousands. Against them, Britain threw in as many as 30,000 of its best troops.

How did EOKA do it?

The answer is Col. George Grivas, a Cyprus-born retired Greek army officer with the pseudonym of Dighenis, who formed the underground, led it and has now disbanded it.

"Looking back on it," a British intelligence official mused after Grivas called off the battle early this week, "he was ruthless, absolutely fearless, and a good organizer to the nth degree. In fact, he was the sort of chap you would want on your side if you had to do the same thing."

Grivas was 56 when he landed from Rhodes on the west coast of Cyprus the night of Nov. 9, 1954. Retired from the army in 1944, he had led a fanatically right-wing band in Greece after the war and gotten a name for hardness and efficiency.

He was called to Cyprus to organize a militant force to support Archbishop Makarios of the Greek Orthodox Church in his campaign for Enosis.

He immediately began to search for potential leaders in the Cyprus youth movement, discarding as he went along those with inadequate hardness or zeal. By the time his campaign opened, on April 1, 1955, he had around him a band of tough young men forming EOKA's inner core, and a second echelon of couriers, paymasters, quartermasters, recruiters and informants.

In the years that followed, EOKA had successes and some near disasters. By mid-1956, British intelligence was beginning to break through.

Even so, 1956 was the year that Field Marshal Lord Harding, the British commander in chief here, awoke one morning to find a time bomb in his bed.

In March 1957, when EOKA appeared to be near defeat, with many of its top men dead or captured, Britain accepted a truce. But essentially, EOKA survived because it won almost complete support from the island's 400,000 Greek Cypriots, and because of its excellent organization and deadly discipline.

"We are all EOKA," the Greek Cypriot mayor of Nicosia once proclaimed.

On hundreds of occasions British troops would rush within minutes to the scene of a killing, only to find that the killers had vanished, furnished with escape routes by the populace. In the mountains peasants fed EOKA men and hid them.

Grivas broke his organization down into mountain gangs, village shotgun groups and two killer squads which worked on order for specific targets, squads waiting for "targets of opportunity," couriers, leaflet distributors, propagandists and the like. Arms were smuggled in from the Greek mainland or stolen from British depots on the island. Explosives were stolen from mines.

Except for the mountain men who directed the warfare and carried out ambushes, it was a part-time organization. A villager might perform an EOKA mission one day and go back to his crops the next. Students were used extensively. Practically every schoolboy between the ages of 12 and 17 was active one way or another.

Communications were surprisingly good. Up to five couriers would carry one message — and the messages got through. To arrange a truce, the British in Nicosia could get a letter to Grivas within three hours. Truces were called four times and their effect always was instantaneous throughout the island.

Grivas had some talented and tough lieutenants to help make the organization work. They were not hoodlums — all had respectable and some had brilliant scholastic records.

Grivas himself was a stern and intensely suspicious disciplinarian. He allowed no gambling or amorous adventures in his group. He has not yet emerged in public. He probably will go to Greece for the future.

But on March 9, 18 days after the independence agreement was signed in London, EOKA leaflets, spread as mysteriously and swiftly as ever, told Greek Cypriots Dighenis was ordering the struggle to end. He called on them to work in peace for the new republic.

That morning, Nicosia burst out in celebration of relief and joy. The London agreement, to which Greek Cypriots were lukewarm, had been signed. Archbishop Makarios had come back from exile. But it really hadn't been over—not until their hero, Dighenis, said so.
