Major Push Launched By U.N.

Cease-Fire Is Unlikely

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A U.N. spokesman said today U.N. forces launched a major operation against Katanga forces in Elisabethville Thursday night and that its "first objective" was successfully achieved.

This word came as U.N. diplomats expressed belief no cease-fire is likely soon between the United Nations and secessionist Katanga despite the intervention by President Kennedy.

The spokesman said the U.N. operation was launched at 10 p.m. Elisabethville time.

"Our first objective was reached successfully last night and we have suffered no casualties," said a terse message received at U.N. headquarters.

The spokesman said this was the operation for which the U.N. forces were preparing to achieve its aim of restoring freedom of movement of U.N. personnel and assuring law and order in the Katanga capital. There have been a steady stream of U.N. reinforcements pouring into the city to bolster the U.N. force for that effort.

U.N. diplomats predicted Kennedy would back up Acting Secretary-General U. Thant's determination to continue the U.N. military action until Katanga President Moise Tshombe shows a readiness to negotiate in good faith for a unified Congo.

The White House was scheduled to release today Kennedy's reply to a plea from Tshombe to intervene to end the fighting. Tshombe said he was ready to negotiate with Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central Congo government and asked Kennedy to name a negotiator.

It was understood the President had suggested a precise course for Tshombe to follow to get negotiations under way to make sure that secession-minded Katanga would not be able to reverse his course should an agreement to talk bring a cease-fire.

The President named the U.S. ambassador in the Congo, Edmund Gullion, as his personal representative in the Katanga situation.

In Brussels, a Belgian senator said Tshombe had sent him word that he is ready to meet Adoula for political talks as soon as possible in a neutral French African nation provided Senegal President Leopold Senghor is mediator.

Thant, who has a two-day-old cease-fire appeal from Britain, called a meeting this afternoon of his 18-nation Congo advisory committee, which is dominated by Asians and Africans. The committee was expected to advise the U.N. chief to stall off any cease-fire until the military campaign has achieved U.N. objectives.

But Thant told the British Thursday night that he has two envoys in the Congo trying to work out a political reconciliation between Katanga and the central Congo government in Leopoldville. They are U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche, an American, and U.N. political officer Robert Gardner, a Ghanaian.

U.N. objectives in Katanga, as stated by Thant Sunday, are freedom of action and freedom to carry out all U.N. resolutions on the Congo.

U.S. sources at the U.N. stressed that the United States position is still the same as it was Wednesday—when Undersecretary of State George W. Ball declared no cease-fire was feasible until the U.N. objectives had been achieved.

Some diplomats speculated that Tshombe might fear that his downfall is imminent in view of the buildup of U.N. military forces in Katanga and that he is now seeking a way out.

Tshombe's peace plea represented an abrupt switch from a "poison arrow" speech he delivered in Elisabethville Wednesday night calling on the Katangan people to fight until death.

Change Is Recommended For SACROC

A change in the operation of the SACROC unit has been recommended by the SACROC advisory committee.

At a meeting Wednesday the committee approved a resolution which called for the SACROC unit to be operated by a single operator. Included in the resolution was the recommendation that Standard Oil Co. of Texas be the operator.

Before any change can take place the resolution must be approved by at least 90 per cent of the over 300 owners of SACROC. It is estimated that it will take from three to six months to get this final approval.

The purpose of the change is to effect savings in operating costs and so benefit the owners. It was reported that the total number of people employed in the operation of the unit would remain near the present figure.

The committee's action followed several months of study. It had been announced last spring that SACROC was considering such a change, but there was no indication at that time as to the identity of a possible operator.

Another report, meeting in the Scurry County United Fund Campaign has been set for 10 a.m. Saturday at the Village.

Meanwhile, another plea has gone out to workers urging them to complete their contacts as rapidly as possible.

The last report session accounted for a total of $24,713, or about 65 per cent of the United Fund goal of $38,000.

E. H. Williamson urged workers to make every effort to finish the campaign before the Christmas holidays. The United Fund will support the operations of eight participating agencies during 1962.

Thirteen children are in a hospital. Four others among the 37 children aboard were treated and released. The driver, Duane Harms, 23, suffered minor injuries and shock.

They were in a late model, six-passenger bus sliced apart at 8:05 a.m. by the Union Pacific's 16-car passenger train, City of Denver, at a rural crossing near here.

The streamliner, 90 minutes late because of Christmas baggage delays en route from Chicago to Denver, was traveling 70 miles an hour. Railroad officials said that was normal speed.

Herbert F. Sommers, 64, a Union Pacific engineer for 22 years, said the bus did not stop at the crossing, marked by wooden crossbars and a road sign.

"He stepped on the gas and drove right in front of the train," Sommers said.

Harms, a school bus driver since last September, said "I think I did (stop). Well, I'm quite sure, because I usually do."

Fireman Melvin C. Swanson, 40, said "I thought he (Harms) was going to stop. Then he drove right in front of the train."

Officials Search For Cause Of Bus Tragedy

GREELEY, Colo. (AP)—Colorado officials searched today for the cause of the school bus-train collision that killed 20 children Thursday.

An official of the Colorado Highway Safety Council said poor visibility resulting from frosted windows may have contributed to the accident.

The council's executive secretary, Merf Evans, said in a report to Atty. Gen. Duke Dunbar that "30 per cent of all school buses in Colorado are overloaded."

This was not a factor in the Greeley tragedy, however. The bus load was 23 passengers below its capacity at the time of the crash.

Increased Aid To Viet Nam Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today ordered increased assistance for the defense of South Viet Nam in its desperate efforts to repel Communist aggression from the North. Government officials said this will not mean sending any American combat troops to Viet Nam. Kennedy acted in response to an appeal from President Ngo Dinh Diem of the Vietnamese Republic. Diem said his country "now faces what is perhaps the gravest crisis in its long history. We must have further assistance from the United States if we are to win the war now being waged against us." Diem said the forces of international communism, which are arrayed against his country are "more than we can meet with the resources at hand."

Letters To Santa

Kennedy reacted with words that "We shall promptly increase our assistance to your defense effort as well as help relieve the destruction of the floods which you describe. I have already given the orders to get these programs under way." The exchange of messages between the two presidents was made public simultaneously here and in Saigon. Kennedy didn't spell out what he meant by increased assistance to the Vietnamese defense effort. Other administration sources said that this must not be taken to mean that U.S. fighting men will be dispatched to the area. There has been frequent speculation on this possibility in the past. Rather, government sources said there will be increased financial assistance of the kind the United States has been giving Viet Nam, plus improved technical advice to enable the Vietnamese to make better use of equipment to be placed at their disposal.

Give A Gift For The Home

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer
Give your home a gift for Christmas. Everybody in the family wants to share in the home improvements, so choose a gift that is for everybody, or one that an individual can use in the home. One popular gift is trees, given with a gift certificate. The family who is always postponing investing in bushes or trees that they need will adore the idea, even though they don't have it in gift wrap. Dwarf fruit trees are good gifts. You can find a substantial looking bush or tree in any price range. If Dad has been planning a big gift for a long time, now's the time to come across with that swimming pool, tennis court, power mower. The family doesn't care that it isn't under the tree, a photograph will do just as well. They'll be glad to see it when they get it. Youngsters like something in the comfort line, also. Small tots like rocking chairs or those that are counterparts of Mom's Boston rocker. A new lamp base made of a playblock has a light built into it that glows in the dark to reveal a couple of playful puppets in boots. Hassocks for television viewing are popular and some are available in practically indestructible Verel, a plush pile fabric in fire engine red and a wide range of colors. Older children like portable television sets, 4 1/2 wave radios, desks and even those pole lamps that supply lots of light. The old-fashioned welcome mat in festive motif makes an excellent Christmas gift for the home. One that says "hello" in five languages is a gay asset for foyer or rumpus room.

to improve her home. You can start in the kitchen with a major appliance if you like, or give her a gift of flattery like a vanity table. A new mirror in a Greek design would go with any decor. This particular one lights the mirror as well as the face, just like theatrical dressing mirrors. The single panel mirror has ten lights, those with side panels have more.

There are electric footstools for Moms and Grandmas with cold feet, and ottomans for Dads who are always hinting for them. There are comfortable television chairs.

MEN GO for potato salad and cold cuts—any season, any meal.

Some Adventurous Men Like Tried 'n True Food

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor
No matter what the season, some otherwise adventurous men always welcome that staid culinary combination — cold cuts and potato salad. So if you're wondering what to serve a group of meat- and potato-lovers for Sunday - night supper, stagtime snacking, or at an evening party to which both men and women are invited, stay with this old familiar.

If you are adventurous, you can give this staple duo a new presentation. Here are some ways.

Arrange the meat platter by shaping thinly sliced salami into cornucopias; secure with food picks and insert a stick of cheese in each. Make some of the sticks cheddar, some Swiss cheese.

Spread thin slices of boiled ham with prepared mustard and roll up, or roll each slice around a pickled green bean. For crisp tidbits, add a plate of radishes plus sticks of celery and dill pickle.

And so to the potato salad. A new quick - and - easy way we've just tried: an envelope of salad dressing mix mixed with sour cream for the salad's dressing. Be sure to make up the salad the night before serving; we found flavors really need time to mellow and develop.

So many ways to garnish potato salad attractively! Seed a green pepper from the stem end and cut into thin rings; loop over the potatoes. Halve and devil hard - cooked eggs - and - arrange around - the - mounded potato mixture. Or go simple - slice the eggs and arrange in any design that suits your fancy, then sprinkle with capers. Paprika does wonders for the pale potato - add a dusting of this scarlet spice.

- SPECIAL POTATO SALAD
- 3 pounds large waxy-type potatoes
  - 1 tablespoon minced onion
  - 2 slices bacon cooked crisp and chopped
  - 1 1/2 cups commercially - prepared

1 1/2 cup cold vinegar
1 envelope onion salad dressing mix
Scrub potatoes and cover with boiling salted water; boil, covered, until tender when pierced with a fork - 40 minutes or longer. Drain remove skins; cool and dice into even pieces about 1/2 inch thick and 1-inch square. There should be about 6 cups. Turn potatoes into a large container with the onion and bacon. Stir together well the sour cream, vinegar, dry salad dressing mix; pour over potatoes and toss with two spoons to mix well, adding salt and pepper to taste. Refrigerate, covered, overnight. Garnish as desired. Makes 8 servings.
Note: In boiling the potatoes, you can use a teaspoon of salt to a pint of water.

Refrigerator cookie dough is usually sliced 1-8 inch thick; use a sharp knife and a sawing motion.

If you like to send annual Christmas "cards," here's a brand new choice: cards which simulate a book each containing two terrycloth fingertip towels. Unlike their paper counterparts, these are pretty—and washable—"greetings" will continue to extend your best wishes not only for 1961 but for many Christmases to come.

Correspondent Says Rodeos Used As Tool By Communists

By INEZ ROBB
It seems doubtful that many Americans realize the sneaky extent of the Communist conspiracy. Even the revelation by a d d l e members of the D. A. R. that the sale of Christmas cards by the United Nations Children's Fund is a Communist conspiracy to shut Santa Claus out of the gift-giving family.

San Antonio asks, "Are we going to permit Khrushchev to outwit us by our continuation of these heartless exhibitions, as he has outwitted us at every other point? Will it be too late when we finally wake up? Or will we have enough foresight in this nation to outlaw rodeos and keep our people from watching their own Mexico to watch bullfights?"

he was using bullfights as a propaganda medium. Personally, I can't stand bullfights, even should Hemingway turn out to be the greatest writer who ever lived. They make me sick, and I shall fight to my last breath to keep them from ever being introduced or legalized in the U.S.A.

"The Kremlin's plan is plain and bold," writes my San Antonio correspondent. "Cattle are sacred, even worshipped, in India and in other parts of Asia as well as in large parts of Africa. In some African countries cattle are so sacred that it takes many heads of them to buy a wife. An African may beat his wife, but he would never dream of taking a stick to one of his cows."

Police Have Good Luck
LEANDRO, Calif. (AP) — A holdup band speeding away from a supermarket robbery tossed a shotgun out the car window Thursday and as it struck the pavement it discharged and blew out his own tire.

Adherents of the radical right have been writing me that millions of Americans are Communist and don't know or realize it. This has been a rare puzzle to me until the communication arrived from San Antonio. Now I realize that these unwitting American Communists are undoubtedly the nation's millions of rodeo fans. As a nation, it is our duty to help these addicts kick the habit and saddle up in the ways of righteousness.

Columnist Has Moment To Remember

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes, years from now, my daughter will ask me around Christmas what I appreciate most.

At the close of the second World War, another correspondent and I were posted at Pilsen, Czechoslovakia. It was about 35 miles from Prague, and the Czechs sent men through the lines pleading for the Americans to come and free their capital.

It was the very end of the war and the area was in turmoil. The citizens of Prague greeted us as if we were the vanguard of the American army set to free them, as their emissaries had asked. We were not. We were only two U.S. correspondents in a jeep.

Twice the Russians started to shoot us. The Czechs intervened. I figured we might run out of local help and said, "Cy, I think we'd better get out of here—our Allies don't seem to know us too well."

He agreed and we left with the help of the exhilarated Czech partisans. We caught up with the retreating fully armed German SS columns and drove through and past them back to the area of Pilsen again.

Carol Singing

IF

WRONG?

...the time of year when spirits are gay and when voices blend in adoration for an event nearly 2000 years old... the birthday of our Lord. The warmth of Christmas Carols rolling out over hill and dale quickens the spirits of men as no other season of singing does. Then sing your Carols. Give out with your Noels. Of course it is Hallelujah time, but on His Natal Day may we celebrate with joyful reverence. We may sing our Carols, but may we also be serious in our jubilation.

Junior Editors Quiz on TOWERS

QUESTION: Why was the Eiffel Tower considered so wonderful?

ANSWER: The Eiffel Tower is a great skeleton-like iron structure that towers over the city of Paris. It was built in 1889 and named for its builder, Alexandre Gustave Eiffel, who also designed the iron framework for the Statue of Liberty.

At the time it was built, the Eiffel (pronounced "ey-fel") Tower was the tallest structure in the world and remained so until the Empire State Building was built in New York in 1931.

The Eiffel Tower has served many purposes. During World War I, it was an important military observation post. It has also been a radio station. It has elevators and stairways that take tourists to its restaurant high above the city streets.

FOR YOU TO DO: What is the tallest building in your town? See if you can learn why and how it was built.

Yule Buying Zips Toward Record High

By JACK LEFLER AP Business News Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Shoppers' dollars are falling like snowflakes into cash registers as the Christmas buying season swirls toward what may be an all-time record.

Merchants across the country generally report that crowds had started jamming the stores on the day after Thanksgiving day and have kept coming.

A trend toward buying fallout shelter equipment as household gifts was noted by some merchants.

"It's wonderful," chortled Joe Falk, owner of a Big Kansas City toy store. "People are looser with their money than last year. They are buying the good stuff and don't care what they have to spend."

Some areas, however, buying was about on a par with last year or a little lower. Apprehension over the international situation and anxiety over further call-up of reserves made some people cautious about hoarding buying.

The United States Chamber of Commerce predicted Americans would spend $23 billion this Christmas, up 4 per cent from record 1960. The National Retail Merchants Association forecast a 2 per cent gain.

An Associated Press survey of merchants in major cities indicated that in most areas people are buying more and better merchandise, have lost much of the caution that marked their shopping last year and are splurging somewhat on luxuries.

Merchants feel that general business improvement is reflected in the attitude of their customers.

Prices are generally holding close to last year with increased competition from discount houses being a factor.

"Saturday, Dec. 9 was the biggest day we've ever had," said Cyril Magnin, president of Joseph Magnin Co. with stores in San Francisco and Reno and Las Vegas, Nev. "Christmas shopping started out slow but sure picked up and I think we'll roll along for a top year now."

"Georgians are spending with enthusiasm," said Harold Brockway, president of Rich's department store in Atlanta.

Wallace Dreyfus, president of another Atlanta department store, Davidson-Faxon Co. added: "The buyers don't seem to have the price consciousness that you expect from Christmas shoppers. They don't want something they go ahead and buy it."

Daniel Denies Appointment Is Proposed

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel has denied a report that he may have been offered a federal appointment as inducement to stay out of next year's gubernatorial race.

His office said the New York Times quoted well-informed sources as stating the announcement of Secretary of the Navy John Connally as a candidate "may presage a federal appointment for the present governor, Price Daniel."

The article said "this situation led to reports that Daniel had brought into a federal position by President Kennedy to clear the way for Mr. Connally."

Daniel said: "A New York Times report that I may be lured away from the governor's office by a federal appointment is the figment of someone's imagination and highly offensive to me."

"No one proposed such a thing to me, and I would be surprised and greatly disappointed if the President or anyone else in Washington would consider this type of intervention in Texas politics. I consider nothing in Washington more important or challenging than the governorship of Texas."

"In fact, if anyone had attempted to so influence my decision, I am sure I already would have announced for re-election."

The Sweetwater convention is one of the regular semi-annual gatherings held by witnesses the world over. Over 600 are expected to attend.

Church Operates Via Mail

BOSTON (AP)— Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pitts of Big Lake, Alaska, located above the Arctic Circle, are members of the congregation of a Boston church.

The Pitts family is among more than 4,000 members of the Unitarian Universalist Church of the Larger Fellowship, which has a congregation scattered across the United States and 62 foreign countries.

There is no church building. Most of the members have never met the Rev. George N. Marshall, spiritual counselor of the church.

A packet of church material, including a sermon, mailed twice a month to members of the congregation is the only contact most of them have with their church.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall said membership in his church appeals to persons "who live where there is no one with whom they can share beliefs, converse freely, and exchange ideas."

Mr. Marshall's mail, he said, covers an endless variety of topics, including questions of theology, family relationships, books and education.

Chartered in 1944 by the board of directors of the American Unitarian Association, the Church of the Larger Fellowship has operated a home religious education program for more than a decade.

"As the church program developed, some parents realized that their children needed to belong to the church too," the Rev. Mr. Marshall said. "The problem was worked out through correspondence with the children themselves."

The Junior Fellowship was organized for children over 6 years old and a Junior Fellowship Youth for children over 14.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall, who said his church is the largest and fastest growing in the Unitarian Universalist Association, encourages its members to leave the fold.

Members usually leave, he said, to join or help found Unitarian and Universalist societies when they find persons with similar religious views.

His correspondence church, the minister said, "serves the settled churches and also the members of the denomination who are on the move."

"The frail link of paper and pen brings to the individual a sense of belonging, a safe pole for the orientation of life—no matter what great distances might separate members from one another."

Eutheran Youth To Present Program

"No Room in The Inn," a play based on the Nativity, will be presented by the Grace Lutheran Sunday School at their annual Christmas program at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Rev. Morris Slated On Morning Devotions

The Rev. Jim Morris, pastor of the Apostolic Faith Church, will be the speaker next week on the Morning Devotions radio program.
