Payments Of Poll Taxes On Increase Here

Even though 1955 will not be an election year in Texas, it appears there is possibility of more persons qualifying to vote than were qualified a year. At least the present trend in poll tax payments indicates such.

The total number of persons who have obtained exemption certificates and poll tax receipts since Oct. 1 for voting next year is 84 above the total exactly a year ago.

On Nov. 30, last year, the total was 1,204, of which 365 were exemptions and 839 were payments. The present figure is 1,285, of which there are 894 poll tax payments and 391 exemptions.

By the end of the poll tax period of a year ago, the deadline being Jan. 31, there had been 5,025 persons to pay poll tax or obtain exemption certificates. Of these, 874 were exempt, and 4,151 paid poll tax.

One year earlier, the figure was 3,506; and two years earlier (in view of a presidential election), it totaled 7,335.

Certificates and receipts being obtained now do not become valid for voting until Feb. 1. They will remain valid from then until one year from that date. Poll tax receipts obtained between Oct. 1, 1953, and last Jan. 31 are still valid and will remain so until next Feb. 1.

It would be almost impossible to determine the exact number of qualified voters. Persons exempt from poll tax payment are not required to obtain exemption certificates unless they reside within the corporate limits of a city of more than 10,000 population.

Even those who vote in the four commonly-called "city boxes" do not have to obtain exemption certificates if they are exempt from payment of poll tax and reside outside the city limits. Each of these four voting precincts is composed of more rural territory than urban, one extending northward to the county line.

Persons entitled to exemption include Indians, persons over 60 years old, those who have lost a limb, blind persons, and those who have attained the voting age but have never previously qualified to vote in this state.

The poll tax is $1.75 in this county.

GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Mrs. Lorraine Eaton Clark, 28, mother of three children, is shown outside the court at Salem, Mass., where she received a life sentence after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of second-degree murder. She was accused in the shooting-stabbing death of her husband, Melvin Clark, 29.

Bond Vote Set By Gail School

The board of trustees of the Borden County Rural school district voted last night to call an election on Dec. 11 to decide whether the district should issue $225,000 in bonds to improve the school's water facilities.

S. P. Stewart, superintendent of schools there, said in announcing the election that the bonds, if approved, would be sold at less than two and one-half per cent annual interest and would be retired serially within a 15-year period.

Proposed is the drilling of two water wells on the Colorado River and piping water from the wells to the school in Gail, a distance of 14 miles. Stewart said the school now has six wells to supply water for the school's 210 students but that they do not provide adequate water. He estimated the wells have an average flow of one-half gallon per minute each. There is one storage tank and pressure pump used. The bond proposal includes addition of another storage tank somewhere between the school and the wells. The water line from the wells to the school would be a six-inch line, Stewart said.

The superintendent said one good water well would be enough to supply water to the school but that the second well would be drilled for emergency use. The school has had a serious water shortage.

There will be six voting boxes for the Dec. 11 election. They will be at the courthouse in Gail, Plains schoolhouse, Murphy schoolhouse, Glenn Creek schoolhouse, Prairie View schoolhouse, and at the home of Alton Milligan in the Miller community.

Members of the school board are Bert Dennis, president; Milton Davis, vice-president; H. D. Williams, secretary; Leonard Isaacs, Vernon Creighton, Frank Deaver, and J. C. Shepherd.

Woman Scientist On Witness Stand

By RELMAN MORIN

CLEVELAND (AP) —A green bag containing jewelry of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, found in a hedge beside his home, bore no blood stains, a coroner's medical technician testified today.

But on Dr. Sheppard's watch inside, there were human blood stains with the same "M-factor" as the blood of the murdered Marilyn Sheppard, said the witness, Mary Cowan.

The bag contained the watch, a signet ring and a key chain belonging to the doctor, but none of them contained fingerprints, she continued.

The state contends Dr. Sheppard beat his pregnant wife to death in their Bay Village home last July 4. He is on trial for first degree murder.

Dr. Sheppard, in his story of the murder, maintained that the watch and other articles were taken from him by a bushy-haired slayer who later left him unconscious on the beach in front of his home.

The state also produced Marilyn's wrist watch, which was found after the murder in Dr. Sheppard's downstairs den, on the floor.

Miss Cowan testified that this watch also bore no fingerprints, but that it was stained with human blood, which also contained the M-factor present in Marilyn's blood.

Describing her examination of Sheppard's trousers, the witness said she found four human hairs in the left front and right rear pocket.

"The hairs were similar and compatible with the hair of Marilyn Sheppard," Miss Cowan said, "determined by scale count, color, curl and diameter."

Asst. Prosecutor Parrino then ended his direct examination of Miss Cowan.

He did not pursue further the significance of Miss Cowan's testimony about the discovery of the hairs. However, he told a reporter, it is "very important."

The medical technician also said she found sand in the cuffs and pockets of the trousers. The doctor claims his second struggle with the unknown assailant took place on the lake beach.

Grandmother Holds Tongue

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Grandmother Nannie Doss, admitted poisoner of the last four of her five husbands, was under orders of her court-appointed public defenders today to quit talking to officers seeking to quiz her about other deaths in her family.

She followed their advice and declined a few hours after the murder charge arraignment yesterday to answer further queries by prosecution and police interrogators.

Lawyers for the plumpish 49-year-old widow were to enter her plea today to a charge she murdered Samuel Doss, 58, her fifth husband, by putting rat poison in his food and drink.

Doss, a highway department worker, died Oct. 10, about five months after they were married.

Mrs. Doss did not plead yesterday because of legal arguments which arose after her lawyers broached the question of whether she is sane.

Last Unit Of United Fund Opens Drive

The last division of the Scurry County United Fund drive here will open its campaign tonight.

That will be the residential division, headed by Mrs. Elroy Miller, who said about 30 workers will start a porchlight campaign here at about 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Miller asked that those wishing to contribute leave their porchlights on between 6:30 and 8 o'clock tonight. The drive is designed mainly for housewives who have not yet been contacted in the United Fund campaign.

Workers will gather at the United Fund headquarters at 6 o'clock to get assignments. Section chairmen of the drive are Mrs. Richard Brice, Mrs. E. W. Carey, Mrs. Ned White, Mrs. Roy Walker, Mrs. Ross Hemphill, Mrs. C. C. Miller, Mrs. Gene Dulane, and Mrs. Malven Stevenson.

Mrs. Miller said those persons who wish to sign pledge cards and give their money later to the United Fund may get the cards from the workers tonight. Payment of the pledge may be set up any way the contributor wants it, she said. Workers, she said, will have some type identification as they make their rounds tonight.

If some resident wishes to contribute but cannot be at home during the drive hours tonight, they may call the United Fund headquarters at 3-4624, and workers will pick up contributions at the convenience of the donors, Mrs. Miller said.

The United Fund still has several divisions working. The employe division, which started work last week, has not yet finished its drive. Now raised is more than $22,000 of the $29,500 budget. Agencies which are members of the United Fund are the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Scurry County Youth Center, American Heart Association, West Texas Boys Ranch, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and United Service Organizations.

Walkout At Chrysler Off

DETROIT (AP) — Company and union representatives early today reached an agreement averting a threatened strike of CIO United Auto Workers members at Chrysler Corp's Automotive Body Division plant. The strike ultimately would have idled 150,000 Chrysler workers.

After 24 hours of almost continuous negotiations, Chrysler and UAW officials, in a joint statement, announced the agreement at 6:10 a.m. The strike had been scheduled for 7 a.m.

Robert W. Conder, Chrysler vice president in charge of industrial relations, and Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the UAW, said in their statement:

"The notice of strike has been indefinitely postponed."

The agreement said salaried office workers at the automotive division will be covered by applicable provisions of the agreement for salaried engineers negotiated by the Briggs Manufacturing Co. before Chrysler purchased the Briggs automotive plants earlier this year.

The modifications cover bargaining procedure and seniority.

Discounts On Taxes Decline After Today

Today is the last day that discounts of two per cent will be given taxpayers for payments of county and state taxes. The tax assessor-collector's office at the courthouse discounts October payments three per cent, November payments two per cent, December one per cent, January none, and penalties being afterward on a graduated scale.

Payments to date have totaled about $1,600,000, discounts amounting to nearly $50,000 for early payments, a total of nearly 96 per cent having been cleared from the assessment of $1,717,555.

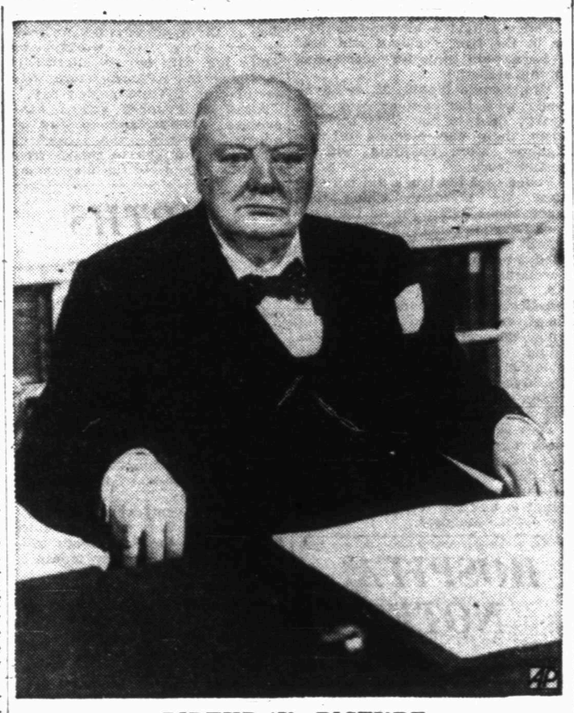

Ninety-four per cent of the assessment was cleared by October payments, most taxpayers taking advantage of the three per cent discounts, Jim Ikard, tax assessor-collector, said.

Only Seven Persons Request Ballots Here

By midmorning today, only seven persons had obtained ballots for absentee voting here in the Dec. 11 special senate election, and only three of these had been returned to the county clerk's office and boxed for casting. The other four still remained in the hands of voters.

Deadline for obtaining absentee ballots for this election is midnight Dec. 7, one week from tonight. Ballots must be returned to the county clerk's office by 1 o'clock the afternoon of election day if they are to be cast.

The election, for which there are seven announced candidates, is to fill a vacancy in the state senate caused by the death of Harley Sadler.

BIRTHDAY PICTURE

Churchill Receives World-Wide Tribute

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 80th birthday today with the fervent hope he still has "some service to render."

The Prime Minister, always a man of many sides, was both jovial and somber as the nation paid tribute to him and millions of admirers, at home and overseas, marked the anniversary as a personal affair.

Looking especially fit for his age, Churchill heard eulogies from all factions in the House of Commons at a new session of Parliament opened by Queen Elizabeth II with a speech from the throne declaring — in his words — that world survival depends on a continued intimate association of Britain and the United States.

He accepted the eulogies "with pride and humility."

And to those looking for a hint of his future plans, the old warrior described himself as "a party politician who has not retired and may at any time become involved in controversy."

He made only one reference to his age in the House:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I am now nearing the end of my journey. I hope I still have some services to render. However that may be and whatever may befall, I am sure I shall never forget the emotion of this day—this wonderful honor done me."

Churchill was in his best oratorical form in accepting gifts from members of the House in ancient Westminster Hall before a television audience.

He was presented a portrait of himself painted by Graham Sutherland and a book signed by most of the members of the House.

Churchill, who prides himself as a painter, took a look at the portrait and then remarked impishly that it was a "remarkable example of modern art."

While former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, leader of the opposition Labor party, lauded him, Churchill shifted restlessly in a chair almost like an embarrassed schoolboy.

Lady Churchill beamed proudly and patted Sir Winston's hand.

Visibly moved by the birthday reception tended him by Conservative friends and Laborite foes, Churchill called it the "most memorable public occasion of my life."

And then, in typical Churchillian style, he quipped:

Oil Property Deal Closed

DALLAS (AP)—A firm operated for the benefit of Southern Methodist University has agreed to pay $20,986,000 for 42 2-3 oil wells in the Kelley-Snyder Field in West Texas.

The Ponies Oil Co. closed the stock purchase deal here yesterday.

Movie stars Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, who each owned 16 per cent of the stock, will pick up $3,368,360.30 apiece.

Eugene McElvaney, chairman of the executive committee at SMU, said the dividends will begin going to the school's endowment fund after payments are completed in several years.

The other former owners include W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth.

Final Vote May Come Thursday

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) angrily took Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) to task in the Senate today for a broadcast in which Jenner said Flanders referred to the Soviet peoples as "brothers." Flanders snapped that Jenner "has taken leave of his intelligence."

The hot clash came as the Senate was moving into the final stages of its long debate over proposals to censure Sen. McCarthy. Under a unanimous consent agreement, voting is to begin tomorrow afternoon. Leaders forecast that amendments would be disposed of and a final vote reached by some time Thursday.

Flanders and Jenner have been leading figures in the controversy over McCarthy's conduct. Flanders introduced the original resolution of censure. Jenner has battled against censure.

When today's session opened, Flanders put into the Congressional Record the transcript of a Thanksgiving Day broadcast he made over the government's Voice of America radio network.

About half an hour later, while Sen. Brown (R-Nev) had the floor for a speech opposing censure of McCarthy, Jenner arose and asked permission of Brown to make a statement.

Jenner, speaking with Flanders sitting only three seats away, said Flanders had referred to the Soviet peoples as "brothers" at a time when Russia was shooting down American planes and Red China was imprisoning U. S. military men on "trumped-up charges."

Flanders, replying immediately, said "the gentleman is beside himself. He has taken leave of his intelligence."

As he attempted to continue his reply, Jenner repeatedly interrupted him, demanding that Flanders answer the question as to why he used the terms "brothers" and "friends" in speaking of the Soviet peoples.

Sen. Cotton (R-NH) who was presiding, pounded his gavel in an effort to halt Jenner, but the Indianan paid no attention.

Flanders told Jenner that essentially what he was trying to do in the broadcast was to make an appeal to the Russian peoples for friendship over the heads of the Russian government.

Flanders said the broadcast was based on a two-year old script embodying a message he had been trying for a long time to get across to the Russian people.

He said he had written it as "Russian people," but that for some reason of protocol his script was changed by others whom he did not identify to "Soviet peoples."

Flanders finally ended the exchange by asking all senators to read the transcript of his broadcast and saying he would leave it to their judgment.

With tomorrow and Thursday looming as the big days in the McCarthy censure controversy, many senators seemed inclined to devote today to other matters. There was difficulty rounding up enough members to get the chamber launched on its business.

Only about 25 answered the first roll call and Republican leader sergeant at arms to "invite the attendance of absent senators" before a quorum of 49 was on hand. Sen. McCarthy himself was among the missing.

Knowland said the Senate would run as late tonight as necessary to take care of all those who want to speak and cannot be accommodated in the five hours of general debate that will be available tomorrow between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The resolution asks that McCarthy be officially rebuked for (1) alleged contemptuous treatment of a Senate elections subcommittee which investigated his finances in 1951-52, and (2) for alleged abuse of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a witness before McCarthy's Investigations subcommittee.

But McCarthy, expressing hope that the Senate will "get this thing over with," said he thinks his critics may come up with "15, 20 or 25" additional counts.

He said he still has no doubt, despite an expression of regret yesterday over some of the blunt words in which he had criticized colleagues, that the Senate will censure him "when it gets around to it."

He took the floor the first chance he got yesterday as the Senate reconvened from an 11-day recess called after McCarthy went to the hospital for treatment of an injured right elbow.

With his arm still bandaged and in a sling, McCarthy stood up to ask an end to debate and declare dramatically that he would withdraw any "discourteous and offensive" language such as that which led to the censure charges. But in "facts and opinions which I held, I am unchanged," he said.

"Insofar as the words used are concerned, we can strike out all of the words that are objectionable," he said. "On the other hand, I still have the same strong feeling about the actions that were taken."

Typhoon Tilda Swirls Into South China Sea

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Tilda Tuesday swirled into the South China Sea after cutting through the central Philippines with 70-mile-an-hour winds.

The Philippine Red Cross said preliminary reports indicated Cebu, Panay, Negros, Samar and Leyte islands were hardest hit.

Three fishermen were reported missing four persons were injured at Iloilo City on Panay. Hundreds of homes were destroyed or damaged, communications were disrupted to many areas.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Occasional rain and warmer this afternoon. Scattered thundershowers tonight and in southeast portion Wednesday. Colder Wednesday and in northwest portion tonight.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy and windy this afternoon and tonight. Much colder in all except extreme south portion tonight. Lowest 18-28 in Panhandle and upper South Plains tonight. Scattered thundershowers in east portion of South Plains and east of Pecos Valley tonight. Wednesday, partly cloudy and colder.

Dallas Set For 'Whing-Ding' To Dedicate Bank Building

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

DALLAS (AP)—Much of Dallas was agog today over formal dedication tomorrow of the city's new 40-story Republic National Bank Building, tallest in these parts.

About 4,800 visiting "celebrities," the bank's press agents said, would be in town for Texas' biggest shindig since Glenn McCarthy opened his swank Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

But where the Shamrock's domination color was green, the color here is gold — money gold, if you please.

Some of the same old cast from the Shamrock whingding was expected back, even Bob Hope who was almost sure to have a crack about choking on 20-dollar gold pieces. Hope is known around the Petroleum Club here as an oilman who picks up cigar money doing little skits on the radio.

And his crack on choking on coin of the realm may not be too far off. Dessert at the dinner tonight in the huge Fair Park Automobile Building will be gold-colored ice cream in replica of the 20-dollar pieces. Drinks at three bars, stretching a city block, will be on the house.

Out at the city's airport, Love Field, the terminal building was crowded with what a Dallas newspaper called "dignitaries and even motion picture stars."

"So many celebrities were arriving at one time that no one could count them all," a reporter said.

The big building, costing 25 million dollars, was plagued during construction by eleven destructive fires with estimated damage of about a half million. Recently, since completion, a water main broke on the 17th floor and flooded five stories.

Pre-dedication viewers of the big, aluminum-sheated giant compared it with New York's United Nations Building and with Washington's famed Pentagon.

But a gravel-voiced East Texas hog farmer opined that "it sure would make a fine silo!"

"Could get enough corn and cottonseed meal in that there thing," he said, "to feed all the hogs in Texas, with them old Oklahoma hogs throwed in."

There were wisecracks, too, about the "almost half-billion candlepower" revolving beacon supported by a 150-foot ornamental tower atop the 448-foot building.

"Old Fred's (Fred F. Florence, bank president) looking for depositors," said admiring Texans who viewed the searchlight's swing as far away as Athens, Tex., some 80 miles to the southeast. Press releases say that on a clear night the light will be seen 120 miles across the Texas plains.

But it's the gold-plated lobby and escalators that really impressed the visitors, and even the Texans, yesterday.

A portly fellow in a Homburg hat approached a gold-plated water fountain, then backed away rather tiredly. "Is this just plain water in here?" he asked in a plaintive voice.

Sub-Freezing Weather Due

By The Associated Press

Rain, snow and sub-freezing weather headed for the Texas Panhandle Tuesday out of the Rocky Mountain areas of Arizona and Colorado.

By nightfall the norther was due to blow across the top of Texas from El Paso northeastward and blow on into the interior on stiff north winds.

The Weather Bureau said near-freezing temperatures would hit the Dallas-Fort Worth area by about 4:30 a.m. Wednesday. Precipitation, the observers said, probably would be limited to the Panhandle-Plains region.

Brownsville's .12 of an inch of rain late Monday night was the first measurable rain in the state since Nov. 17 when .04 of an inch fell at Dalhart.

But it was still raining in the area around and south of San Antonio Tuesday morning. Laredo, reported continuing light rain. Alice, San Antonio and Junction El Paso vicinity at the same time.

Skies were mostly clear in West Texas and cloudy in East Texas shortly before dawn when temperatures ranged from 35 at Dalhart to a warm 71 at Corpus Christi.

Dulles Brands 'Coexistence' As Tricky Word Of Russians

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today sought measures short of "war action" to counter "provocative" acts by the Chinese Communists.

The policy line was laid down by Secretary of State Dulles in a speech at Chicago last night. Dulles barred for the present any naval and air blockade of Red China.

At the same time he called for vigilance in dealings with Russia. He said "coexistence"—Moscow's currently proclaimed foreign policy line—is a "tricky word" in the absence of any reunification of international communism's "effort to rule the world by methods of force, intimidation and fraud."

Dulles gave a far-ranging report on U.S. foreign policy before a national 4-H Club congress in Chicago last night. Before returning to the capital shortly afterward, he repeated it for a nationwide TV-radio hookup.

He did not specify what the State Department planned to do about 13 Americans sentenced to prison in Red China on spy charges this country has branded as false. Informants indicated the United States might ask Russia to intervene with Red China, but it was expected main action would be concentrated on mobilizing world opinion against the sentencing.

In Geneva, Switzerland, U.S. Consul General Franklin C. Gowen disclosed today that he had met Red China's Consul General Chen Ping for an hour last night and delivered orally another U.S. protest protest in the "strongest possible" terms. Gowan said the Chinese took down his protest word by word, then told him he could not accept it.

Dulles apparently was referring to the 13 in his speech, and to Red China's threats against Formosa, when he said that while the Russians have recently "talked more softly...the Chinese Communists have talked and acted with increasing violence."

"Our nation," he said, "will react, and react vigorously, in the protection of our citizens, but without allowing ourselves to be provoked into action which would be a violation of our international obligations and which would impair the alliance of the free nations." He departed from his prepared text to insert the phrase about protecting U.S. citizens. He said perhaps international communism was trying in a new way to divide the free nations, remarking: "They seek to be soothing in Europe, they are provocative in Asia."

The United States, he said, is committed by the U.N. Charter to try to settle international disputes by peaceful means.

"Therefore," he said, "our first duty is to exhaust peaceful means of sustaining our international rights and those of our citizens, rather than now resorting to war action, such as a naval and air blockade of Red China."

He noted the existence of "a vast Russian military establishment" and said that safety from attack lies in the maintenance of an effective defense coupled with "retaliatory power."

"We believe," he said, "that the greatest contribution we can make to peace is to be ready to fight, if need be, and to have the resources and the allies to assure that an aggressor would surely be defeated.

"That does not mean being truculent or provocative or militaristic. It does mean seeking peace not only with the heart, but also with the mind."

He said that the continental defense system now building "should enable us to knock down a very high percentage of any Red bombers engaged in hostile missions against the United States."

Furthermore, he said, the U.S. Strategic Air Command now could retaliate against the Soviet Union with "damage far in excess of that which Red planes could inflict upon the United States."

Perhaps having in mind the critical reaction of Allied nations when he declared a policy of "massive retaliation" early this year, he said that the maintenance of a capacity to strike back at an aggressor does not mean that any local war would automatically be converted into a general war "with atomic bombs being dropped all over the map."

Nor does it mean, he said, that the aggressor would have to be totally destroyed. What it does mean is an ability to "inflict punishing damage," he said.

He said the danger from Communist subversion is particularly great in Asia and Africa, and the situation in the Indo-chinese state of Viet Nam—recently partitioned by the Geneva peace agreement—is "precarious."

He said one of the measures needed to combat subversion in these areas is a program for financing economic development.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Seeks Production In Disposal Well

R. E. Smith of Houston has filed application with the Railroad Commission to seek oil production in a Diamond M-Canyon well which has been used as a salt water disposal well since August, 1953.

The well is the No. 7 Marvin Key, drilled on section 148-25-H&TC, two and one-half miles northwest of Knapp. No footage is stated. Smith did not state where production will be sought, but it is to be at a shallow level.

NEW WILDCATS

General Crude Oil Co. has spotted location for a 7,400-foot wildcat four miles south of Girard in Northeast Kent County.

It will be the No. 1 Bilby Wallace, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 36-1-H&TC. It is intended to test the Pennsylvanian. Operations will begin at once.

G. W. Strake of Houston will drill a 4,900-foot wildcat in Central Runnels County as the No. 1 M. G. Roper.

Drillsite, six miles southwest of Winters, is 2,889 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 442, John Lynch survey. That is one and three-quarters of a mile north and slightly east of a recently completed lower Fry discovery, Youngblood & Youngblood No. 1 Crockett.

Frank R. Robinson will drill the No. 1 W. A. Scott Estate in Northeast Culberson County 23 miles west of Orla. Location is 2,310 feet from south and east lines of section 23-114-psl. Contract depth is 3,000 feet. Dry holes have been drilled in the same section to 2,006 feet, 1,935 feet, and 2,112 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining No. 1-B Thomas S. Riley is to be drilled seven miles southwest of Seminole in Gaines County. Drillsite has been set 510 feet from north and 690 feet from west lines of section 259-G-WTRR, and on a 320-acre lease. Contract depth is 13,100 feet.

FIELD TESTS

Seaboard Oil and others are to drill the No. 3-A H. N. Zant in the Oceanic-Pennsylvanian field of North Howard County one-fourth of a mile north of Vealmoor.

The well site is 330 feet from south and 1,200 feet from west lines of section 19-32-t3n-T&P. Rotary tools will be used to drill to 8,500 feet, starting at once.

R. S. Anderson of Midland No. 1-E Miller will be drilled in the Rocker A-South field of South Garza County. Location is 330 feet from south and west lines of section 306-H&GN, three miles southwest of Justiceburg. Contract depth is 3,200 feet, with rotary tools to begin operations immediately.

TESTS FINDS GAS

A drillstem test of the Ellenburger at Texas Crude Oil and B. L. McFarland No. 1-9 Jeff Good, Southwest Borden wildcat, recovered free gas and drilling mud.

The interval tested was from 8,184-215 feet. The tool was open one hour, recovering 1,350 feet of gas in the drillpipe and 45 feet of drilling mud. Flowing pressure ranged from 0-90 pounds, with 15-minute shutin pressure 540 pounds. More hole was being made at last report.

DRILLING REPORT

Lomax & Zonne No. 1 Martin, Northwest Scurry tester, is swabbing to clean out and test after fracturing open hole with 10,500 gallons of sand oil and treating it with 500 gallons of acid. Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented at 2,625 feet, with total depth 2,681 feet.

Forest Oil No. 1 H. H. Eiland in Southwest Scurry is waiting for cement to cure on eight and five-eighth-inch casing cemented at 1,735 feet. Union Oil No. 1 Simmons in Northeast Scurry is still installing a pump.

Robert L. Wood No. 1 Criswell, Northwest Fisher wildcat, is drilling below 6,745 feet in shale and lime after a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian lime from 6,620-250 feet. Recovery was 90 feet of slightly gas-cut mud and 270 feet of salt water. The test tool was open 70 minutes.

In Borden County, Texaco No. 1-C Clayton is drilling in lime below 5,388 feet. El Capitan and Wrather No. 1 Higginbotham has not yet begun operations.

DeKalb No. 1 Bacon, a re-entered Borden failure, has cleaned out to the old total depth. Operator acidized with 500 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 25,000 gallons and is swabbing out the load. The hole is then to be re-acidized with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Tennessee No. 1 Fambrough, bottomed at 3,677 feet, is cleaning cement from eight and five-eighth-inch casing after testing the casing. Shell No. 1 Clayton-Johnson is drilling below 6,687 feet in sandy lime and shale.

Three Die In Auto Crashes

LUBBOCK (AP)—Three persons were killed and two others injured on South Plains highways last night when they were involved in two collisions of cars and pickup trucks.

Police sought a hit-and-run driver in the first accident and held a 50-year-old man for questioning in the second.

Mrs. Bonnie Tipton, 22, of Levelland, and her 6-month-old son, Rinky, died in the first accident when their car plunged off the highway after colliding with a pickup truck.

Police said the truck did not stop after the accident, which took place about 7:30 p.m. on the Lubbock-Levelland highway.

Arlis Tipton, 20, husband of the dead woman, was hospitalized in Levelland with internal injuries.

A third person—Miss Lillian Bundick, 30, of Spade, Tex.—died about an hour and a half later when the car in which she was riding struck another pickup truck which officers said was parked on the highway. A sister, Miss Ethel Bundick, 25, suffered broken ribs and other injuries in the crash.

The 50-year-old driver of the truck was not injured. Police held him for questioning.

Police set up roadblocks throughout the South Plains area in an attempt to halt the truck involved in the earlier accident.

Snyder Water Plant To Serve As Model

The new city water plant at Thirty-third Street and Avenue M has been selected as a model for a similar water plant to be built at Greenville, Henry Neighbors, city manager at Greenville and former city manager at Sweetwater, said.

Neighbors and members of the Greenville city council visited Snyder to inspect the new Snyder plant a few weeks ago. B. J. Shelley, city manager here, said.

Greenville's plant will be slightly larger than Snyder's, but the same general form will be followed according to a report in a Greenville newspaper.

Evening Lions Club Sets Light Bulb Sale

The newly - organized Evening Lions Club has added a new twist to methods for raising funds for Christmas activities.

The club on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. will make a house-to-house canvass selling an item every family needs but usually turns up lacking.

A parcel of household lightbulbs containing enough bulbs to cost $2.60 will be sold to each householder needing the bulbs for $2.

County Court Fine Is Paid Here Today

A. E. Clark, Sr., of Snyder, paid a fine of $33.50, including court cost, this morning after pleading guilty yesterday to a county court charge of swindling by worthless check.

He was charged last Wednesday with giving a worthless check for $5 to McCormick Super Service station.

Child's 'No' Stage Can Even Be Funny

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When you have a new baby in the house, the veteran parents among your friends are always warning:

"Yes, they're wonderful when they're helpless and completely dependent on you. But wait until they learn to walk. Then you'll never know a moment's peace. They just become little terrors."

Well, Tracy Ann, who came to our house to live when she was five weeks old, has now passed her 17th month birthday. She walks and climbs like crazy, trying each hour to explore and absorb all the wonders and knowledge in the whole wide world. And while life with her is admittedly less peaceful, it grows more wonderful each passing golden day.

Although Frances and I have avoided saying "no" to her as much as possible, she picked up the word (we like to think) from her little friends in the playground for small fry in our apartment development, a playground which the young mothers generally refer to as "The Snake Pit."

"No! No! No! No!" she says, striding about like a Hollywood producer. And like a Hollywood producer she often says "no" when she really means "yes."

Some parents lament that a child is impossible in the "no" stage, but I just think it's funny. To take her mind off this word, I keep asking her if she can't say something really important like "Mississippi."

The other morning, sneaking into her room to kiss her goodby, I found her sitting up sleepily in bed saying, "No! No! Pizza pie! No! Pizza pie!"

Puzzled, I stood there for a moment until it dawned on me that she is slipping up on "Mississippi" by way of "pizza pie."

It is almost frightening to see the speed with which a child's personality develops, forming swiftly into a pattern that will probably last a lifetime. Already we know that Tracy is intelligent but stubborn, that physical punishment has no effect upon her but that she is kind, has a strong sense of duty and a deep need for loving approval.

The only thing she is afraid of is the vacuum cleaner. When Frances is doing the rug, Tracy has the idea that the cleaner is some kind of dragon attacking her mother. She stands there letting out yelps of dismay until the dragon is banished again to the closet.

"If that doesn't show this child is smart, I don't know what would," says Frances, who doesn't like the vacuum cleaner any more than Tracy does.

No child her age ever tried harder to learn the arts of a housewife. Tracy wants to help her mother cook, serve meals, do the dishes and darn stockings.

When I come home and call out, "where're my slippers?", Tracy runs and fetches them. Then she takes my shoes, grumbling at their weight, and gallops into my room and puts them neatly under a chair.

Somewhere in America there is a runny-nosed, dirty-cheeked little boy growing up. I wonder what kind of a man he will be. For here I am spending the best years of my life training a perfect little wife for him. I hope the scoundrel, whoever he is, will have the common decency to come to me 20 years or so from now and say, "thanks, dad."

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tavarez, 1709 Avenue T, are the parents of a son weighing three pounds, eight ounces, born at 6:47 a.m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Traffic Death Rate In Decrease Again

CHICAGO (AP)—October's traffic deaths dropped below last year's figure, the 10th monthly decline in a row, the National Safety Council reported today.

The 2 per cent decrease for the month was the smallest since January and the 3,580-death total was the largest for any month in the year, the council added.

For the first 10 months this year, the total of 29,350 deaths was 6 per cent fewer than for the like period in 1953.

For the first nine months of the year, travel mileage was 3 per cent higher for the country as a whole. This gave a rate of 6.2 deaths per 100 million miles, or the lowest on record for the period, the council said.

Whaling Vessels Fined Three Million Dollars

LIMA, Peru, (AP)—Five whaling vessels of shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' fleet must pay a three-million-dollar fine within five days, a Peruvian Navy court ruled yesterday.

Peru charged the ships, herded into the port of Paita Nov. 15 by Peruvian warships and planes, were operating within the 200-mile belt of the Pacific she claims as territorial waters. Lawyers for Onassis have contended three of the ships were outside the 200-mile limit and that Peru's claim to waters that far out violates international law.

Measures if the fine is not paid in five days were not announced.

10 Automobiles Sold In Sheriff's Auction

Ten automobiles were sold in a single transaction by sheriff's auction here yesterday for a total of $100.

The $100 bid was by the winner of the civil suit for which they were sold, however, the total judgment, including court cost, being $3,183.

Bill Love, chief deputy sheriff, said none of the cars was presently in running condition.

The judgment was in the civil suit of James A. Clark, Sr., of Snyder, vs. W. T. Montgomery, formerly of Snyder and now of Hobbs, N.M. Court cost assessed was $26.45.

Two other men bid $50 and $60.

Herefords Average Over $400 At Sale

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Buyers paid just over $400 per head, on an average, for 81 hereford cattle here yesterday in the annual sale of the West Texas Hereford Assn.

The 35 individual bulls, 25 females and seven pens of three bulls each brought a total of $32,465—an average of $400.80 per head.

The grand champion bull, owned by F. A. Youngblood & Son of Lamesa, brought $1200 from Rentie Hamilton of Texhoma. Moore Hereford Farms of McMinville, Tenn., paid $1025 for the grand champion cow, signed by the Arledge Ranch, Seymour.

Humphrey In Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—U.S. Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey arrived yesterday and met with Venezuela's President Col. Marcos Perez Jimenez after attending the Inter-American Economic Conference in Brazil.

Junior Play Tickets Out

Members of the high school junior class here are presenting their annual class play on Thursday and Friday nights to raise money for the traditional junior-senior banquet.

For many years in the school here, the juniors have feted the seniors in a farewell banquet near the end of the school year. Throughout this year, the class has worked in various activities to raise money for the event.

Tickets are now being sold by the class members for the play, "Our Town," a three-act drama written by Thornton Wilder, Pulitzer Prize winner. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. on both nights for the play, which will be presented in the high school auditorium. Tickets are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

The staging of the play is unique in that it requires few properties. The setting for each scene is not realistic but is designed to give the audience an idea of the location.

Director of the play is Wayne Pevey, high school drama coach. Stage manager is Alan Snead, and costume director is Lajuan Evans. Charlotte Chauncy heads the prop department, while lighting will be directed by Jimmy Key.

Members of the cast are led by Perry Bolger and Sandra DeFore.

Borrier Services To Be Held Here

Funeral arrangements are pending for Abraham F. Borrier who died about 6:30 a.m. today at the home of a nephew, J. O. Brown, on North Avenue R. Mr. Borrier, a former resident of New Braunfels, was making his home with the Brown family.

Bell Funeral Home will direct the services.

Father Of Snyder Woman Dies Monday

Funeral services are to be held in Crane for James C. Loving, 65, the father of Mrs. Hazel Rannefeld of Snyder. Mr. Loving died at his home in Crane Monday morning following a heart attack.

Survivors in addition to the daughter here include three sons and two daughters.

Daily Crude Average Still Nudges Upward

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The nation's daily average crude oil and condensate production nuged upward 400 barrels to 6,272,825 barrels during the week ended Nov. 27, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

Cumulative 1954 production, the Journal figured, reached 2,094,172,700 barrels compared to 2,147,620,289 a year ago.

The week's best gains were in Arkansas, up 3,600 barrels to 75,600, and Kansas, up 3,200 to 325,000. The heaviest loss was Oklahoma's 5,800 barrels to 506,100 barrels.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,648,675 barrels.

Turkey Rejects Bid

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkey has turned down Russia's invitation to the Red-sponsored European security conference, saying the parley is aimed at preventing ratification of the Paris accords on rearmament of West Germany.

Eisenhower Backers Contribute $890,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee reported today that it received $890,000 in contributions ranging from $1 to $100 from 10,000 contributors during the past 14 months.

"All approved bills have been paid and it is estimated that after unpaid obligations have been discharged sufficient cash will remain for terminating expenses and for the storing of committee records," the preliminary report said.

BREAKFAST PANCAKES
. . . make hearty main dish for luncheon or supper

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers" Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5488.

A combination of ground pork, tomatoes and onions, seasoned just the way you like it, turns pancakes into a tasty main dish. Pancakes, griddlecakes or flapjacks—call them what you like—are favorite breakfast fare. Served with a meat accompaniment, they are also a hearty, budget-wise main dish for luncheon or supper. Try these Spicy Mexican Roll-Ups once and you'll be asked to serve them often to family and guests alike.

SPICY MEXICAN ROLL-UPS
MEAT SAUCE

1 pound ground lean pork
1-3 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons pork drippings
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 garlic clove, sliced
Dash pepper

Brown meat well on both sides then remove from pan. Brown chopped onion in pork drippings until tender. Add the tomatoes, salt, chili powder, garlic, pepper and the pork; simmer until pork is done.

To make rollups, prepare 14 to 16 pancakes according to directions on package of pancake mix or your own favorite recipe. Add 2 extra tablespoons milk to make a batter slightly thinner than usual. Bake on hot griddle, using about 1-3 cup batter for each pancake. Spread each one with meat sauce, roll up like a jelly roll and place in a well-greased 13 x 9-inch pan. Cover with remaining meat sauce; sprinkle with 1 cup shredded cheese. Bake at 400 degrees about 12 minutes or until cheese is melted.

Many cleaning chores around the house can be speeded up with plain, ordinary baking soda. A little soda on a damp cloth will shine up dull doorknobs or knockers. Painted woodwork can be cleaned safely with a solution of two tablespoons of soda in a gallon of warm water. The same solution cleans and deodorizes refrigerators. Sink drains can be kept open by rinsing a little baking soda down the drain with hot water after each dishwashing session.

TOYS FROM TINS . . . The toys sketched are easy to make from empty domestic sardine cans. They are: doll bassinet, shadow box and miniature wheelbarrow.

It's Fun To Make Tin Can Toys

Christmas is a time when every member of the family should share in the joy of giving. Even the kindergarten set will have more fun if they can help with the preparations.

While Mom and Pop are busy with holiday shopping, little Johnny and Mary can have a wonderful time making toys for their friends out of such utilitarian objects as sardine cans.

The bright shiny tins in which domestic sardines are packed make the basis for any number of simple toys, easy for the youngest children to make. It's up to Mom to scrub out the empty tins after the tops are removed, and to be sure the tins are from domestic Maine pack sardines, since these have no jagged edges, and all printing is on the top, which comes off smoothly when the tin is opened with a wheel type opener.

Any little girl would love a tiny doll bassinet made from a sardine can. First remove the top and throw it away. Then carefully wash the tin and attach a half circle of twisted picture wire to each side of the can with cellophane tape. Next cut two circles of cardboard for the wheels and attach them to the sides, also with tape. Now make a gathered flounce of a scrap of pink or blue fabric and tie it firmly around the edges of the can with a piece of ribbon. Make the hood of the bassinet by shirring the edge of a piece of the same fabric and sewing it to the wire with tiny stitches. Make a little sheet and pillow to fit the can, and place a tiny baby doll inside.

A sardine can also makes an effestive shadow box to hang on a nursery wall. This is done by pasting any pretty little picture cut from a magazine to the bottom of the can, punching two holes in the top edge and looping a piece of ribbon through them, to hang up the shadow box. The same idea may be used to make reflector ornaments for the Christmas tree.

A toy wheelbarrow is another easy toy to make. Using the empty bottom of the washed sardine can, attach lollypop-stick handles to each side with transparent tape, and [illegible] two buttons for the wheels [illegible]t. This may be painted red or green, or left in its original shiny state.

These are only a few ideas. Sardine can wagons are fun to make by attaching cardboard or button wheels and lollypop-stick handles. Three or four of these may be strung together to make a train.

Mrs. Vaughn Attends Church Conference

Mrs. Ronald Vaughn, a member of the First Christian Church here, is among 200 church leaders participating in the first Joint Planning Conference of the Christian Churches in Texas this week.

Mrs. Vaughn is attending the conference as director of Christian Youth Fellowship in District 4 of Texas Christian Churches and as district chairman of stewardship.

The meeting is being held at Christian Youth Foundation, a Christian Church campsite near Athens. The conference is designed to plan missions and education programs for churches throughout the state. Work plans formulated will be used by cooperating congregations in Texas and shared with leaders of other states through national meetings.

Trinity WSCS Slates Christmas Bazaar

Plans for their Christmas Bazaar to be held Saturday were made by members of the WSCS, Trinity Methodist Church, when they met Monday night with Mrs. Adron Ivison, 1100 Twenty-fourth Street. The Bazaar and bake sale will be held in the Kolar Motor Company building, south of Phillips Brothers' Hardware Company.

Following the business session and officers' reports, refreshments were served to 18 members and two guests, Mrs. Nila Richburg, Big Spring, and Mrs. Louise Vaughn of Ira.

Special Programs Being Held By WMS

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church is holding a special meeting with a program each of four mornings this week in observance of Lottie Moon Week of Prayer.

The WMS will have charge of the midweek prayer service at the church at 7:30 Wednesday night in lieu of a meeting that morning. The morning meetings were held yesterday, today, and will be held Thursday and Friday.

The church will begin Sunday its month of endeavor to reach a goal of $8,627.93 in its Lottie Moon offering, taken each December. The Rev. Frank Bounds, a missionary to Italy, will address the [illegible] Sunday morning.

Brownie Troop Holds Officer Election

The West Elementary Brownie Troop, with Mrs. H. F. Clark, Jr., leader, and Mrs. Charles Snyder, co-leader, elected officers at a meeting Monday afternoon at the Little House. They were Elyse Thompson, president; Marsha Clark, secretary; Donna Sellers, treasurer and Barbara Beth Schiebel, reporter.

Plans for a Christmas luncheon to be held December 18 were discussed by the 15 members attending. Hostesses were Mrs. Johnny Boren and daughter, Jane.

Christmas Dinner Is Planned By Troop

Officers were elected by members of a West Elementary second grade Brownie Troop under the leadership of Mrs. Bill Schiebel. They were Cheryl Nunley, president; Ann Buell, secretary; Mary Ann Hand, treasurer. The troop voted to hold a Christmas dinner early in December.

Refreshments were served to 8 members. Hostesses were Evelyn Starnes and Martha Hunt.

Ohio State Ends Up Season As Top-Ranked Team In U. S.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This usually frenzied football town, worn to a frazzle by Ohio State's unglorious and swashbuckling gridiron deeds, just took it in quiet stride today as the Bucks won the national collegiate championship.

"Aw, we knew it all the time," was the general attitude as news spread Ohio State had climbed on the throne in the final Associated Press poll with 3,670 points to UCLA's 3,594.

Win or lose, the Bucks are always champions to the year-round rooters, but as the 408 sports writers made it official for Coach Woody Hayes' unbeaten squad the satisfaction was tinged with a bit of discontent.

"We should be playing UCLA in the Rose Bowl instead of Southern California. That would stop all arguments," was the oft-heard comment at Broad and High streets—the mecca which attracts the faithful for discussion of football doings.

Athletic director Dick Larkins was on the Coast making Rose Bowl arrangements, and Hayes was in upstate Fremont for a high school banquet when the championship flash came.

Larkins, always unruffled and soft-spoken, observed:

"I am delighted that we are the No. 1 team."

Hayes, who has had three so-so seasons with the Bucks before this year, declared:

"That's sure swell. Frankly, I think we deserve it because of the schedule we played and the way we stayed 'up' for nine games. This is the right time to win it too. Remember, after the Wisconsin game, when they voted us first I said 'Too bad!' Well, I was afraid everyone would be shooting at us the rest of the way."

Asked how his boys rolled over Indiana, California, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Purdue and Michigan in a row, Hayes said:

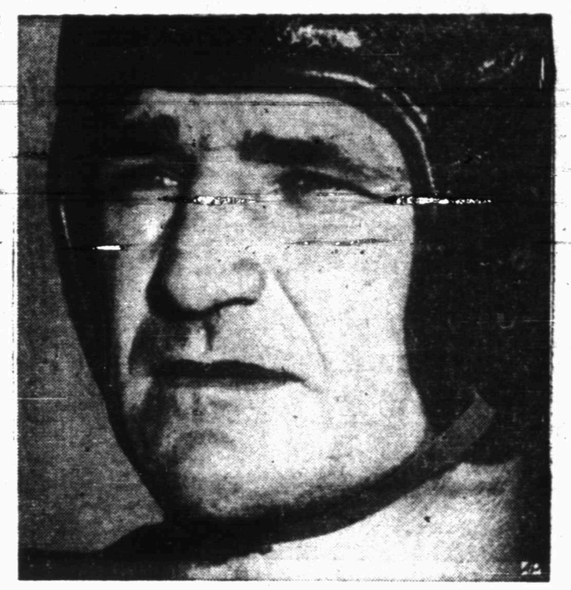

"I don't think it was depth, for other teams out-depthed us. I don't think it was conditioning. I think our kids just weren't going to let any team beat 'em—and they didn't."

Of the 408 ballots in the poll—a record vote—exactly half, or 204, placed Ohio State at the top. UCLA picked up 133 first-place votes, and third-place Oklahoma, which won 10 straight while the leaders were winning 9, was the choice of 35. On the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, Oklahoma finished 479 points back of UCLA with 3,155.

For winning the championship, Ohio State will receive a let on the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, CS.C., memorial Trophy, emblematic of the title. The award was donated by Notre Dame after the Irish retired the Williams Trophy in 1947 by winning it three times.

The leading teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	Ohio State (204)	3,670
2.	UCLA (133)	3,594
3.	Oklahoma (35)	3,115
4.	Notre Dame (9)	2,641
5.	Navy (4)	2,375
6.	Mississippi (6)	1,556
7.	Army	1,060

This is Sammy Baugh in a photo taken a few years ago while he was playing with the Washington Redskins. Baugh retired from professional football playing in 1952 after 16 years with the Redskins, the longest term of any pro gridder. Before that time, he was playing at Texas Christian. The famed footballer, now an associate coach at Hardin-Simmons University, will appear here tonight at a barbecue being given by the Quarterback Club in honor of all school football teams from junior high through high school.

Tech, Baylor Possibles For Gator Bowl

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Texas Tech and Baylor were among the teams being mentioned for bids to the Gator Bowl as officials prepared today to announce the teams who will play in the holiday contest.

A third Texas team — Rice — had been rated a top contender for a bid before putting itself out of the picture yesterday when the players voted to turn down any bowl bids offered.

The possibility of a replay of the last Gator Bowl game loomed when Auburn players voted to accept a bid to the game — provided they are invited and an outstanding opponent is found for them. Texas Tech beat Auburn 35-13 last year.

Other teams being mentioned included West Virginia, Kentucky, Virginia Tech, Georgia and Boston College.

Loops Rake In Cash For Teams In Bowls

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Atlantic Coast and Big Seven Conferences will receive more than $200,000 each for sending teams to the Orange Bowl football game in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

This was announced Monday when the Orange Bowl committee signed a three-year contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System for radio and television broadcasts of those New Year's Day football games for $825,000.

The contract calls for paying the Orange Bowl $275,000 annually for giving CBS exclusive rights to broadcast and televise the games.

CBS also agreed to give the Orange Bowl Committee 50 per cent of net receipts from sponsored commercial broadcasting of Orange Bowl festival events.

Navy Seeking Practice Site

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Two Naval Academy representatives flew to New Orleans today bent on finding a practice site close to the city for the Sugar Bowl-bound Middies and wheedling a deal out of bowl officials so some of the non-playing Midshipmen can attend the game.

Capt. Elliott Loughlin, director of athletics, said late yesterday he hoped a "substantial number" of the 3,600-member brigade of Midshipmen could attend the Jan.1 classic.

He also announced training plans for Navy, which will tangle with Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl. The plans were worked out at a meeting of Coach Eddie Erdelatz, his assistants, Loughlin and other athletic officials, and given high-brass approval.

The Middies—who won seven and lost two—will begin drills Dec. 8 and workout daily, except Sunday, right up till Christmas leaves begin Dec. 18. The players will report to New Orleans Dec. 26 for last-minute drills.

Loughlin said the training site will be "somewhere in the Greater New Orleans area."

Fluvanna Team Has Successful Start

Fluvanna's high school basketballers are now preparing for their fourth game of a season which has started out fairly successful.

Coach Grover Watkins and his cagers are looking for a better season than they had last year, when the boys won one of 16 games on their regular schedule.

So far this season, the boys team has a record of 2-1, with wins of 42-21 over Ira and 36-28 over Southland. In another game with Ira, Fluvanna lost 55-29.

The girls team is still looking for a win. It lost two of its games, however, by only two points. The team lost to Ira 27-25 and 42-22 and to Southland 27-25.

So far this season, Delbert Hataway has paced the boys, while Syble Bley is leader of the girls team.

A big event on the Fluvanna schedule this season is a tournament to be held at Fluvanna Dec. 9-11. Several teams are entered in both boys and girls divisions of the tourney, including squads from Slaton, Gail, Ira, Southland, and Hobbs, as well as Fluvanna.

Only three varsity lettermen returned to the Fluvanna squad this season. They are Boyce Holder, 5-foot-6 sophomore; Royce Holder, 5-foot-6 sophomore; and Rex Pylant, 6-foot soph. Reserve lettermen returning are Hataway, 5-foot-10 junior; Roy Ball, 5-foot-7½ junior; and Bobby Lemons, 5-foot-11 junior.

Other members of the boys team are Albert Hataway, 5-foot-3 freshman; Victor Fulford, 5-foot-7 freshman; Troy Evans, 5-foot-6 freshman; David Gene Smith, 5-foot-9 freshman; Leslie Burrow, 5-foot-11½ sophomore; Don Wills, 5-foot-10 junior; and Roy Beaver, 5-foot-11 junior.

On the girls squad are Mary Nell Boatman, Magie Boatman, Jacqueline Martin, Syble Bley, Barbara Reeder, Bertie Lee Kellner, and Darlene Lemons.

Blair Lands Spot On All-3A-1 Team

SWEETWATER, Nov. 30 — Co-Champions Breckenridge with four and Big Spring with three dominated the 1954 all-district selection for 1-AAA chosen by coaches and sportswriters for the eight member cities.

Breckenridge had back Jake Sandefer and tackles Jerry Cramer and W. L. Pevey on the mythical first team while Big Spring put back Frosty Robison and guard Dickie Milam on the top eleven. The teams' centers—Jerry Payne of the Buckaroos and Jerry Graves of the Steers — tied for that position. All the other league teams, with the exception of Lamesa, placed one man each on the first team.

Lonnie Holland of Plainview and Frank Smith of Sweetwater round out the backfield while the ends are Gene Miller of Vernon and Garey Lawhon of Levelland; Steve Blair of Snyder earned the other guard position.

Robison, an all-state selection on the Steer's state AAA runner-up team last year, was the only unanimous choice, receiving the maximum of 160 points. Ten points were awarded for a first team vote and five for a spot on the second team. Sixteen coaches and sportswriters participated in the poll which was conducted by the Sweetwater Reporter.

Sandefer was the next leading back having received 125 points. He was given eleven first place votes, three second team choices, and left off of two ballots.

Holland was selected as the top quarterback in the loop despite the fact he played on a Plainview team that won only two games all year. He polled 110 points. Smith, the boy who scored all three touchdowns in Sweetwater's 18-14 upset of Breckenridge, received 100 points.

Miller tied Sandefer as the second leading point-getter and led the linemen with 125 points, getting ten first place nods, five second place berths, and being left off only one ballot. Lawhon at the other end position received only five points less. Lawhon and Miller were the top two pass catchers in the league.

Cramer got 110 points to run away with one tackle position but teammate Pevey had a close race with Sweetwater's Cloyd Shilling, getting 75 points to 70 for Shilling. Milam and Blair both had 75 points to get the guard spots in the widely-scattered voting for that position and Payne and Graves had 60 points each in the voting for center.

Breckenridge and Sweetwater combined to nearly sweep the positions on the second team as the Buckaroos placed five men and the Mustangs four.

The Bucks had ends Tommy Beasley and Sonny Everett, guard James Jones, and back Bennett Watts and Dick Carpenter while the Mustangs placed tackles Shilling and Roland Powell, center Carrol Green, and back Haroll Hobbs. Back Jack Spikes of Snyder and guard Leroy Williamson of Levelland round out the second team selection.

Participating in the poll were Coach Joe Kerbel and Charlie Hall, Breckenridge; Coach Carl Coleman and Tommy Hart, Big Spring; Coach Spot Collins and E. J. Wadkins, Vernon; Coach Pat Gerald and Murray Forsyall, Sweetwater; Coach John Conley and Dale Walton, Snyder; Coach Johnny Hickman and Orlin Brewer, Levelland; Coach Don Mouser and Bob Carroll, Plainview; and Coach O. W. Follis and James Parrish, Lamesa.

Border Loop To Talk Barring Of Frosh

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Barring of freshman participation in varsity athletics—an on-again, off-again practice in recent years—will be brought up again at the Dec. 11 meeting of the Border Conference, Secretary C. Zaner Leasher said yesterday.

The rule against freshmen was dropped during World War II, put back into effect after the war, then dropped again during the Korean conflict.

The University of Arizona has opposed freshmen in varsity play for several years.

Frank Selvy of the Baltimore Bullets was the first player to score 200 points in the N.B.A. this season.

LITTLEFIELD CHAMPS

This team of huskies from Littlefield will be in Snyder Friday afternoon to meet a squad from Comanche. The game will be for regional championship in Class AA. Littlefield last week downed Tahoka in a bi-district game, while Comanche downed Monahans. The winner of the game here will take on the winner of the Colorado City-Phillips game in the state quarterfinals. C-City and Phillips are playing in Lubbock Saturday. Littlefield has a 9-2 record, while Comanche has won 10 and tied one. Phillips and Colorado City are each undefeated in 11 games. Kickoff time for the Friday game here will be 2 o'clock.

More Liberal Attitude Could Come From Navy's Bowl Tilt

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Navy's decision to play Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl, which came as a distinct surprise to most Eastern observers, could be the forerunner of a much more liberal attitude on the part of both service schools toward playing genuine big-time football schedules within a couple more seasons.

A radical change in policy is being forced upon Army and Navy by the determination of the newly formed Ivy League to get away from it all. Beginning in 1956, its eight members plan to play full round-robin schedules among themselves.

This will leave a lot of blank space for the soldiers and the sailors to fill in their schedules, and there is no question that they will be under heavy pressure from every section of the country to spread their favors around. There breathe few congressmen who will not be in their pitching for a fair share of the loot.

Once they become enmeshed in representative national schedules, where they regularly meet leading teams from each of the major conferences, the two schools—providing they have winners—will be in increasing demand in the various bowls. They'll be fair game too now that Navy has succumbed.

Army officials with whom we have discussed the bowl problem at one time or another have based their opposition to the fact that members of the Cadet squad would be forced to forego their Christmas holidays at home. In many cases, they pointed out, the Christmas break offered Army players their only opportunity all year to get away from the strict military grind and see the home folks.

The premise that a football player would rather go home for Christmas than perform in one of the bowls might have gone unchallenged forever if Navy's officials, no doubt mindful of the changing scene, had not put it to a vote of their athletes after being given their pick of several invitations last week. From all accounts, the Middies didn't need to have their arms twisted.

Temple, Del Rio Are Lagging In Big State

HOUSTON (AP)—Temple sought a working agreement with a major league team today as the Eagle management tried to keep the team in the Big State League.

Temple and Del Rio were the only teams not reporting themselves ready to compete in the 1955 season at a meeting here yesterday.

The Del Rio franchise probably will be bought by either Texas City or Laredo, according to Big State President Howard Green.

Temple officials, who had to call a city-wide campaign to keep the team from foundering in mid-season of 1954, said they felt a major league tieup would increase their financial strength.

Other members of the league are Tyler, Waco, Austin, Galveston and Corpus Christi.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pirates, was a catcher for the St. Louis Browns (1905 and 1906) and for the N.Y. Highlanders (1907), forerunners of the Yankees.

Minor Leagues Squabble While Majors Map Player Trades

By JOE REICHLER

HOUSTON (AP)—The fuss, furore and confusion created Tuesday by the American Assn.'s drafting of the Western League's Denver Club have all but blotted out the existence of the major league managers at the minors' 53rd annual convention.

But while weary and sometimes short-tempered executives were frantically seeking a solution to the many problems looming ahead because of the imminent wholesale realignment of teams, big league pilots were quietly plotting player trades.

One due to be announced at any moment now is the second half of the tremendous Baltimore-New York Yankee transaction of two weeks ago. The second installment probably will send Oriole pitchers Lou Kretlow and Mike Blyzka, outfielder Jim Fridley, catcher Derrell Johnson, first baseman Dick Kryhoski and an unnamed farmhand to the Yankees for pitcher Bill Miller and infielders Kal Segrist and Don Leppert.

That would make an 18-player deal of the one which began with the shifting of shortstop Billy Hunter and pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen to the Yankees for pitchers Harry Byrd and Jim McDonald, outfielder Gene Woodling, shortshop Willie Miranda and catchers Gus Triandos and Hal Smith.

There is no doubt more trade winds are blowing behind closed doors and private nooks in the rooms and in the lobbies of the hotel headquarters. One involves Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

General Manager Roy Hamey of the Phillies, openly admitting he is seeking hitting help, reportedly has made bids for Jackie Robinson, Carl Furillo and Junior Gilliam. The Dodgers have asked for southpaw Curt Simmons and either of the Phils' two catchers, Smokey Burgess and Stan Lopata, but not for the trio coveted by Hamey.

"Of course, I have talked to Brooklyn," Hamey said. "But I cannot disclose the names of the players who could be involved."

Robinson also is on the "wanted" list of the Cincinnati Reds, who have made a definite offer for the great infielder. Buzzie Bavasi, Dodger vice-president, admitted he has received several offers for the 35-year-old Robinson, who can be had for the right price or-and players.

The Western League has asked for $150,000 damages for the loss of the Denver Club. The American Assn. has offered $50,000, the same it received from Arnold Johnson for its loss of Kansas City to the American League.

The beleaguered Western League also faces the loss of Omaha, which wants to follow Denver into the AA.

Stunned by what is happening to their once solid Class-A circuit, Western League officials are now faced with the problem of doing some drafting of their own or start the 1955 season with a six-team league.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

George Sauer, the astute Baylor football coach, who, we hear, never has taken any medals as a diplomat, is the latest coach to draw the ire of sportswriters. Sauer reportedly kept a policeman guarding the Baylor dressing room door after Rice gave the Bears a licking last Saturday, and when the officer finally permitted the men of the press to enter, Sauer had already departed.

Perhaps we have lost some of the old college spirit, but for the life of us we can't figure out just what the writers expected to get in the Baylor dressing room. The "dressing room color" in our opinion is virtually obsolete so far as news value is concerned, unless there is something in particular that a writer wants to check on. The dressing room statements through the years have fallen into patterns that are trite at best.

The coach whose team has just won by 60-0 can be expected to say he was proud of his boys and that it was a "team victory." Of his opponents, nine times in 10 he can be depended upon to say "they've got a fine ball club," or "they are a bunch of good sports."

An individual hero who scores three touchdowns usually will say "it was that good line play that sprung me loose."

The losing team can always be pictured as a dejected lot. Their coach can say "they just out-hustled us," or "we got some bad breaks and our kids just couldn't seem to find themselves."

There shouldn't have been a sportswriter in the stands at Waco last Saturday who didn't know that by the time the final gun sounded.

• • •

Basketball practice is underway throughout District 3A-1, and few of the teams have the type material returning that Snyder and Plainview have. As just a shot in the dark, we would say that Plainview has a good chance to take the district championship again this season. Plainview, however, should watch out for Snyder. Levelland and Vernon are due to have fair teams this year, while Sweetwater and Lamesa are said to be down this year in basketball. Big Spring and Breckenridge are not expected to have much, as neither school has concentrated on basketball much in late years.

Coaches J. P. Ward, Jack Dillon, and Hal Battle have started workouts in the Snyder gym. Ward and Dillon will open the A and B team seasons Saturday night in Abilene.

George Stieber of Detroit has a bowling average of 157 per game. However, he bowled the lowest league total on record when he scored only nine in a 1952 league game.

Ted Atkinson, one of three American jockeys who has ridden more than 3,000 winners, spends most of his spare time in his garden. His hobby is horticulture.

In the first eight games of the season, Detroit Lion halfback Bob Hoernschemeyer completed three passes in six attempts. All three completions were touchdowns.

When can I see America's most advanced new car?

—AT YOUR MERCURY DEALER'S THURSDAY, DEC. 2

Would You Ever Dream . . .
You Can Cook ELECTRICALLY For Only PENNIES Per Meal?

See your electric appliance dealer's Special Jubilee Showing of modern electric ranges NOW, and select the size and type electric range you need to save your time and energy.

JUST THREE CENTS! Yes, the average family cooks electrically for about 3c per meal. That's what literally hundreds of women tell us . . . women who now are enjoying the benefits of electric cooking. And when you consider the many conveniences and advantages of cooking electrically . . . you'll agree that's quite a bargain. With an electric range you get clean, concentrated heat . . . less food shrinkage . . . better results every time. It's no wonder with these advantages available that penny-wise homemakers by the thousands are turning to clean, cool, automatic electric cooking. Why don't you join them?

Dulles Appears Firm, But Puts Stress On 'Peaceful' In Talk

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has replied to those—including Republicans like Sen. Knowland of California—who want tougher tactics toward communism, but in particular and in a hurry against Red China.

Secretary of State Dulles responded in a radio-television broadcast last night: The United States will try to use every peaceful means, before going any further, to get along with the Communists.

"Peaceful" was the keynote of his talk, although he said this country would "react vigorously" to provocation. He did not say what he meant by reacting "vigorously."

Last January Dulles spoke of "massive retaliation" against an aggressor. Last night, although firm, he was more restrained.

He took cracks at the Russians and Red Chinese. And, just as in January, he emphasized the vast power of this country and its allies to meet any attack. But he added:

"This does not mean that any local war would automatically be turned into a general war with atomic bombs being dropped all over the map."

This was a little more detailed insight into his thinking than he provided in January when his failure to explain in some detail what he meant brought him criticism here and abroad.

Dulles' speech last night was made at a time when this country is protesting the imprisonment of 13 Americans as spies, with sentences ranging from four years to life, by the Chinese Communists.

Without specifying this in his talk, Dulles called the Chinese "provocative." But if the administration has any plans for freeing those Americans, beyond protesting their imprisonment, Dulles did not reveal them. The Chinese have ignored the protests.

Knowland, the Republicans' senate leader and therefore one of President Eisenhower's chief captains in Congress, last week attempted to tell Eisenhower and Dulles, apparently without consulting either, how to treat the Red Chinese for jailing the Americans.

He proposed a blockade of the China coast—an act which might lead to war—with the help of America's U.N. allies if they'd go along but without them if necessary.

Dulles answered Knowland directly, without naming him, by repudiating his two proposals of blockade and go-it-alone, at least for the present. He said:

"Our nation will react, and react vigorously, in the protection of our citizens, but without allowing ourselves to be provoked into action which would be a violation of our international obligations and which would impair the alliance of the free nations. . .

"Our first duty is to exhaust peaceful means of sustaining our international rights and those of our citizens, rather than now resorting to war action such as naval and air blockade of Red China."

Not long before making his blockade suggestion, Knowland denounced the idea that there could be peaceful coexistence with communism and demanded a congressional investigation of the whole Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy.

Eisenhower previously had expressed hope for peaceful coexistence. The President shortly afterwards explained that while he hoped the West and communism could exist side by side he was not blind to communism's long-range goal of world domination. Last night Dulles said he hoped the West and communism could get along too, but that this didn't mean he was asleep at the switch either.

So a good deal of Dulles' talk, which had been described by the State Department as a major foreign policy speech, was taken up with answering Eisenhower's captain in the Senate.

Except for the emphasis on America's peaceful intentions, plus the answers to Knowland, there was little in Dulles' speech on American foreign policy not already known.

British Get Most Out Of Their Smokes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Englishmen don't smoke as many cigarettes as Americans, but because of the relatively high price in England, they smoke them longer.

Dr. Alexander G. Gilliam of the National Cancer Institute reported this in discussing the possible relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

He told the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States that recorded mortality from lung cancer in England is over twice that observed in the United States, although per capita consumption of cigarettes is "considerably greater" in this country.

Drink Of Cyanide Is Fatal To Californian

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — "Listen. I want you to hear me drink cyanide."

Police said Mrs. Pearlea Salter told them she heard that over the telephone while talking with her business partner Paul M. Soderberg, 38, yesterday.

Then she heard a gurgling sound.

Mrs. Salter called police, who found Soderberg dying, an empty glass nearby. Officers said the man apparently was despondent over business affairs and the responsibility of rearing three small boys left in his care after a recent divorce.

Resolution Protested

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Ten thousand demonstrators marched through Damascus yesterday in an anniversary protest against the 1947 U.N. resolution partitioning Palestine. They shouted slogans denouncing the Western Powers, Turkey, Israel and the United Nations.

Censure Is Urged

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Jewish Congress has urged the Senate to censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) to end what they called his "violations of basic American principles."

Termite Exterminator Convicted In Court

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—James R. Hoover, 39, a Bethesda exterminator, has been convicted on three false pretense charges involving treatment of homes he said were about to be undermined by termites.

Asst. State's Atty. Robert C. Heeney yesterday told the Circuit Court jury that Hoover "panicked" three Bethesda home owners into taking a total of $680 worth of antitermite work the prosecutor said was needless. Hoover awaits sentencing.

Former Showgirl Still Happy At Age Of 83

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) —Trixie Friganza has been bedridden for years because of arthritis and now her eyesight is failing but on her 83rd birthday anniversary she said:

"When anyone has lived as many happy years as I have, there's a lot to be thankful for, believe me."

The former showgirl, known as the "Champagne Girl" in the 1890s, has lived in retirement since 1939 at the Sacred Heart Academy. The Dominican sisters had a birthday cake for her yesterday and helped her open many cards and birthday presents.

Woman Bus Driver Protested By Parents

OAKLAND, Md. (AP) — A group of parents in the community of Bethlehem, 10 miles south of here, think driving a school bus is no job for a woman.

At least not over a route that includes a narrow dirt road across Backbone Mountain, often covered with snow in winter.

The parents say they have nothing against Mrs. Alice Harvey, the present driver, but they ask: Would a woman have the strength to hold a skidding bus on the treacherous road? And could she change a tire?

They have told the Board of Education they want a man driver. The board will hear the issue Dec. 6.

Claim Remains Of Pekin Man Found

LONDON (AP)—Communist China claimed today to have unearthed remains of a primitive human roughly related to the mysteriously missing Pekin Man.

Human teeth dating from about Pekin Man's era (500,000 years ago) in the Paleolithic Age have been found in the southern part of Shansi province, Peiping radio said.
