SPEED CONTROLS, LOWER TEMPERATURES, FEWER LIGHTS

After Decade Of Fuel Guzzling, U.S. Going On Diet

After a decade of fuel guzzling, the nation is going on a leaner diet of speed controls, lower temperatures and fewer lights.

Governors and homeowners, schoolchildren and businessmen, all were enlisted last week in a massive effort to meet the energy crisis and so prevent possible brownouts and cold homes in the coming winter.

President Nixon made it official in his nationally televised speech Wednesday night. "We have an energy crisis," he said, a shift from last April when he talked of the nation's "energy challenge."

BURN COAL

To meet the crisis he recommended measures ranging from more coal-burning by utilities to year-round Daylight Saving

Time to lowering home thermostats by six degrees.

Before the week was out, presidential energy adviser John Love made a personal prediction that nationwide gasoline rationing would be imposed by next spring.

The nation was, in the President's words, "heading toward its most acute shortages of energy since World War II."

The immediate reason for the readying of "wartime" fuel controls was the Mideast war which led to an Arab oil production cutback. But this was really the final blow in a long-building crisis.

NEVER THE SAME

Even if there is a quick Mideast peace and the Arab nations restore production, some experts say the American way with energy probably never will be the same again.

With only 6 per cent of the world's population, the United States last year consumed 30 per cent of the energy the world used. That use grew out of an energy euphoria in the 1960s when there was a kind of abiding faith that science would think of something new before existing fuels ran out.

A warning sign went up in 1968.

"That was the year when for the first time we found less natural gas than we used and we produced less oil than we used," says Joseph Swidler, chairman of New York State's Public Service Commission.

The warning was little heeded. Hedging their bets on nuclear energy, more utilities switched from high-polluting coal to cleaner oil to meet new air quality standards. This increased demand for petroleum fuels.

NEW POLICY

By 1971 crude oil production in the United States began to fall. "By 1971 we needed a new import policy, the old quota system was no longer working," says John Lichtblau, executive director of the Petroleum Industry Research Foundation.

He believes assured supplies of foreign crude oil, then relatively cheap, would have induced major oil companies to build more refineries. Without that assurance, they virtually halted refinery construction and demand caught up with production capacity.

TO NEWSPAPER Getty Kidnapers?

ROME (AP) — A human ear and a lock of hair arrived in Saturday's mail addressed to a Rome newspaper with a note saying they belonged to J. Paul Getty III, 17-year-old grandson of the American oil billionaire, police said.

The boy's mother, former actress Gail Harris, told authorities the ear could be her son's. She identified the lock of reddish-blond hair as certainly belonging to her son.

The letter containing the ear and the lock of hair arrived Saturday afternoon by special delivery at the offices of Il Messaggero. It had been mailed from Naples, police said.

The boy, who turned 17 Sunday, has been missing for four months. His alleged kidnapers had said in a letter mailed to the same newspaper one month ago they would have cut off one of his ears and a lock of hair had the family refused to pay a ransom for his release.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

Fully a month ahead of our usual paroxysms associated with last-ditch efforts to reach the United Way goal, our big community fund drive went over the top last week. The $120,638 on a $117,240 goal (103 per cent) is due in no small measure to the remarkable Combined Federal Campaign effort at Webb and other federal installations, and at Cosden. If the rest of us followed that example, there would be little need for the UW budget committee to have to pare down requests from the agencies.

Homecoming for Big Spring High School was an outstanding success (results of the Odessa football game not withstanding), for it drew an unusually large number of former students, Louie Moseley, Claremont, Calif. appeared to have the record for distance until Pat Macklin Wingort put in from Virginia. Bill Birdwell was up from Australia but didn't make the reception. For the old grads, one of the thrills was seeing more than half of the state finalist 1953 football team back with their coaches, Carl Coleman, Dr. Wayne Bonner and Harold Bentley (all of whom live here), and for the Golden Anniversary class of '23, which also had half of its members present.

As for the football team, those young men gave all and more than you could reasonably expect from only 29 players up against a heavier, stronger more experienced squad of twice the size. Except for several mistakes offensively and defensively,

Israel To Ink Truce Papers

Premier Golda Meir, after hesitating for a day to clear up Israeli misgivings, accepted U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's truce plan Saturday. She said Israel will sign it Sunday in the hope the plan will lead to permanent peace in the Middle East.

With Egyptian acceptance already disclosed in Cairo's semi-official press, Mrs. Meir's final okay lowered the last apparent barrier to a formal signing ceremony by Israeli and Egyptian representatives.

MIGHTY EARLY

A U.N. spokesman in Cairo said the ceremony was scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday—7 a.m. Big Spring time—on the Cairo-Suez highway about 60 miles from the Egyptian capital. Mrs. Meir said Israel will be represented by Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv, one of her top aides.

The Egyptian representative was not immediately announced.

"After this takes place, I hope that not much time will pass before Syria will travel the same road as Egypt," Mrs. Meir told reporters in Tel Aviv.

The six-point plan devised by Kissinger in his swift tour of Arab capitals last week is designed to strengthen the Oct. 24 United Nations cease-fire and open the way for a Middle East peace conference aimed at settling the 25-year-old Arab-Israeli conflict that has led to four wars.

The peace plan provides that daily supplies of food, water and medicine will be allowed through Israeli lines in Egypt into Suez city, at the southern end of the Suez Canal, and that wounded Egyptian civilians will be evacuated from the town. It calls for free passage of nonmilitary supplies to the east bank of the Suez Canal, where the Israelis say they have Egyptian 3rd Army of about 20,000 soldiers encircled.

SEN. AIKEN SAYS: Nixon Will Make Tapes Info Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon intends to make public the contents of White House tapes and documents related to the Watergate scandal after they are submitted to the courts, Sen. George D. Aiken said Saturday.

"The President will apparently be glad to confide with the public," said Aiken, the senior Senate Republican who was among top GOP Congress members who discussed with Nixon on Friday how Watergate is affecting the government.

IMPRESSION

"My impression is very strong that he is willing to release everything relating to the Watergate without being in contempt of court," he added.

The Vermont senator said he understands that Nixon would risk being in contempt if he made the Watergate tapes and documents public before they are given to U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica and the federal grand jury.

"I got the impression that he didn't mind the public knowing, but the courts have to make a decision first," Aiken said in an interview.

He said it is his understanding that it will be about five weeks before the President could make the documents available because of the court proceedings. He said he did not know whether original documents or transcripts would be released.

The White House had promised on Friday absolute cooperation with Watergate prosecution and the courts, and said new material will be given to Sirica to fill the gaps left by two conversations that the White House says went unrecorded.

DOUBTS

In a major effort to shore up GOP support, Nixon scheduled a breakfast meeting Monday with 50 top Republicans in what may develop into a series of sessions next week to convince party and congressional leaders he intends to overcome the scandal.

Hundreds Flock Back For BSHS Homecoming

The Dedication of the Hall of Fame and the homecoming reception for ex-students at Big Spring High School was rated a happy success Saturday by those who planned the event.

Hundreds of ex-students, ranging from Beatrice Mittel from the Class 14 who was the oldest graduate present, to students from last year's Class of '73.

Pat Macklin Wingort, Class '69, received the award for coming the farthest, traveling 1600 miles from Virginia. Second was Louie Moseley, valedictorian of the Class of 1923, who came from Alta Dena, Calif.

PROJECT DEDICATED

The new Hall of Fame constructed by the present Student Council, which will be raising funds in the next two months for the project, was dedicated officially by Supt. Sam Anderson, assisted by Tom Sorley, president of the student council who spoke on the importance of school pride.

Craig Fischer, master of ceremonies, introduced John Smith, principal, Mrs. Janice Rosson, who spoke on the exes association; Marvin Wise who gave the historical background of the Hall of Fame, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Tucker, council sponsors.

Members and coaches from the Football Team of 1953, who were state finalists, were inducted into the Hall of Fame.

TEAM MEMBERS

Team members present included Wayne Bonner, coach, Harold Bentley, assistant; J. C. Armistead, Roger Brown, Bill Earley, James Hollis, Jerry Hughes, Bob Jones, Frank Long, Dickie Milam, Paschall Odom, Jimmie Porter, Lefty Reynolds, Frosty Robison, Louis Stipp, Ronnie Wooten and Fred Blalock, manager.

Webb AFB Dedicates Room To Memory Of Late Publisher

The Fireside Room at the Webb AFB Officers Club became the Whipkey Room in brief, impressive ceremonies Saturday.

The room was re-named in honor of Robert W. Whipkey, former Herald publisher and civic leader, whose special ties with the base were cited in the dedicatory remarks by Brig. Gen. Stanley Umstead, a former wing commander.

"He established firm ties between Webb and Big Spring," said Gen. Umstead, and he recognized from the beginning the essentiality of this relationship."

TOTAL DEDICATION

Not only this, but he was concerned with the mission of Webb AFB and constantly sought to assist in its accomplishment, the general added.

"He had a total dedication to civic service, and if not called on, he volunteered," Gen. Umstead added. He observed that he felt that he spoke for all former commanders at the base who had relied in Mr. Whipkey for advice.

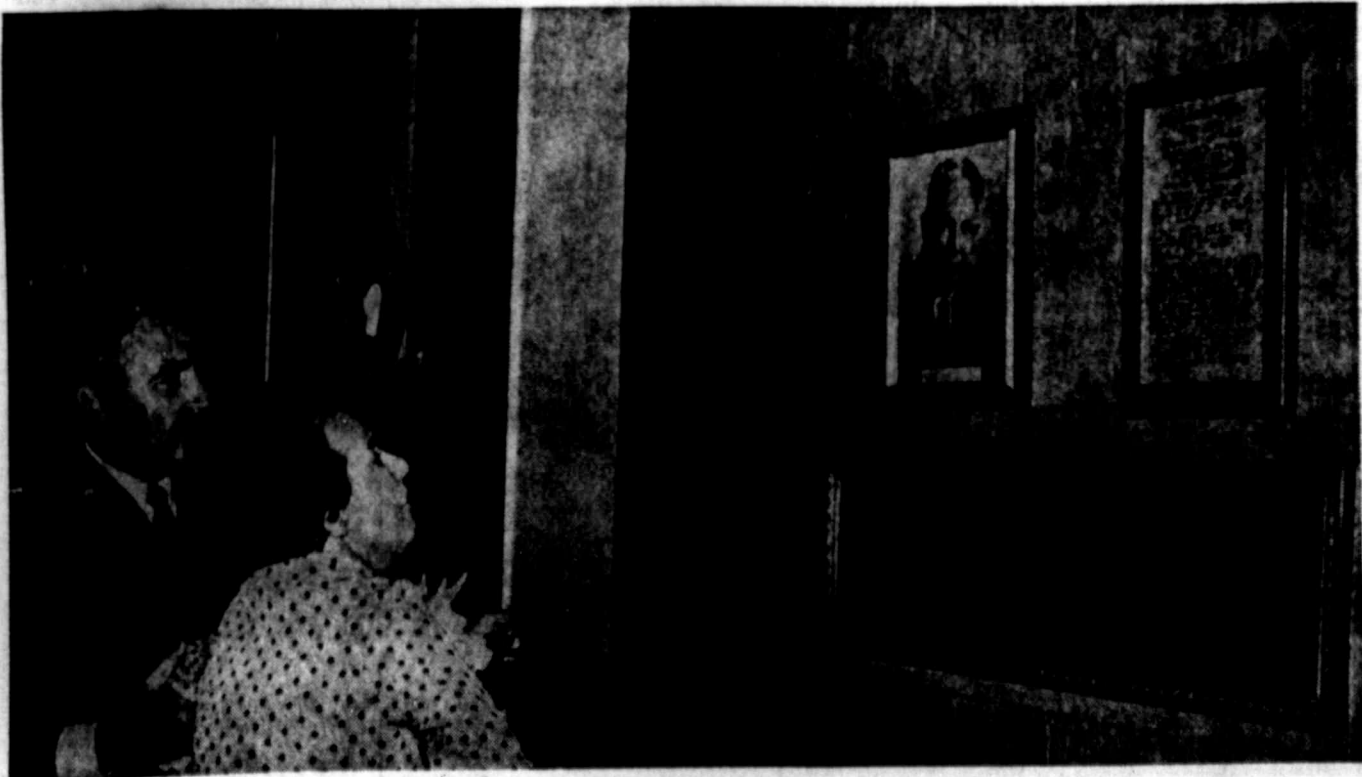

Characteristic of the breadth of his interest, Mr. Whipkey had helped with Webb's accent on youth to salute its young airmen last March, just shortly before his death. Gen. Umstead recalled. Also he made a delayed presentation to Mrs. Ruby Whipkey on behalf of the USAF Thunderbird precision flying team which had autographed a picture of their unit for the late publisher.

Col. Robert Liotta, wing commander, paid a tribute to Mr. Whipkey, by saying that "he made a deep impression upon those who only knew of him."

FRIENDS RETURN

Gen. Umstead helped Mrs. Whipkey cut the ribbon which unveiled a portrait of Mr. Whipkey, and a previous special award to him, both of which were situated above a handsome bronze plaque: "The Whipkey Room."

Besides Gen. and Mrs. Umstead, also back to join with base and approximately 100 civilian friends, were Gen. and Mrs. Malcolm Ryan, two former base commanders and close friends of Mr. Whipkey. Col. (Ret) and Mrs. Bill Head, San Antonio, and Col. (Ret) and Mrs. George Franks.

IBM Must Pay Competing Firm Plenty

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A federal judge reduced Saturday from $352.5 million to $259.3 million damages that International Business Machines Corp. (IBM) must pay a competing firm for monopolistic business practices.

U. S. District Court Judge A. Sherman Christensen reduced the award to the Telex Corp. as a result of what he said was a "substantial error" he made in computing the damages.

Christensen, in an opinion released in Tulsa, let stand a $21.9 million judgment against Telex to IBM for industrial espionage.

Telex had sued IBM, claiming the huge computer company had priced equipment in such a way as to freeze out competition. Telex originally sought $1.2 billion.

IBM, in its counter suit, charged Telex had lured away key IBM employees and obtained confidential company information illegally.

Christensen on Sept. 17 found IBM guilty of monopolistic practices and awarded Telex the $352.5 million which he reduced Saturday.

At the same time, Christensen ruled Telex had gained illegal advantage from its hiring of IBM employees and ordered the Tulsa-based firm to return any IBM confidential documents it possessed and not to hire any additional IBM employees for a two-year period without court approval.

Ford Giving House Chance To Show Its Independence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action on confirming Gerald R. Ford as vice president is giving the House a chance to show its independence of the Senate, and it is making the most of it.

The House has never before had a role in the confirmation process, which the Constitution assigns to the Senate for all other presidential nominations.

But the 25th Amendment, being implemented for the first time as a result of Spiro T. Agnew's resignation, requires the approval of both the House and Senate for a new vice president.

That's really all the 25th Amendment says on the subject, however, and it has been up to the current Congress to work out the procedures that will undoubtedly serve as a precedent.

As soon as President Nixon nominated Ford on Oct. 26, there were Senate suggestions that the confirmation hearings be a joint affair, with representatives and senators sitting on a special panel.

The idea had little appeal to the House, and the nomination was assigned to its 38-member Judiciary Committee.

The committee has also conducted its own investigation of the Michigan congressman's background in preparation for hearings, which begin Thursday.

The committee's investigation is in addition to the extensive one conducted by the FBI for both the House and Senate.

Two control groups, each of 464 persons, were selected by computer from 250,000 medical records. One group included cigarette smokers.

The researchers found there were slightly fewer teetotalers among those who had suffered a heart attack than in the control groups.

They also found that the non-heart attack groups included more people who reported drinking a day, or more than six drinks a day.

"Most previous studies," the researchers said, "have shown no relationship between usage or non-usage of alcohol in coronary disease. The explanation for the apparent slightly decreased risk of heart attack among users of alcohol in this study is not clear."

"The investigators feel that the results do not yet warrant the conclusion that drinking alcohol has a protective effect."

The study also found that cigarette smoking was strongly associated with heart attacks, that there was a "weakly positive" association for heavy aspirin usage and no association for coffee-drinking.

Stroups Return From Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Stroup have returned after spending 10 days in Hawaii, where they were guests of Southwestern Life Insurance Company at the firm's 1973 agency convention.

Stroup represents Southwestern Life in Big Spring and is one of the company's leading agents. He holds the professional designation of CLU.

Following the convention Mr. and Mrs. Stroup vacationed for a week in the outer islands of Hawaii. They spent two nights each on the "garden isle" of Kauai and the "big island" of Hawaii, for which the entire chain is named.

On the island of Maui, where they spent three nights, they joined other Southwestern Life couples for an authentic Hawaiian luau.

The convention was held at the Sheraton-Waikiki Hotel in Honolulu, on the island of Oahu.

THE WEEK

As predicted, the vote in Tuesday's constitutional amendment vote was light — only 1,236 bothering to register an opinion. This figures to about one out of eight on the voting rolls — also to nearly a dollar a vote. Dawson County voters, with a referendum on South Plains Water Conservation District No. 4 on the ballot, turned out in better percentage.

They turned down the water district idea, as did six other counties in the proposed federation.

Power Rates Boost Asked

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Power and Light Co. began filing requests for 10 per cent rate increases or more this weekend in 240 Texas cities.

Sister companies of Texas Power and Light—Dallas Electric Service—also will seek increases, officials announced.

Texas Electric officials said they will seek a 10 to 12 per cent increase after the first of the year in Tarrant County and Grand Prairie. Dallas Power and Light officials did not announce the timing or the rate.

Texas Power and Light has asked two increases in 22 years, the last one of 6 per cent in January 1972.

Power officials said the increases are the first of a series expected to come at two-year intervals for 10 years.

Aim is to pay for huge new coal and atomic power plants. These will be built with cooperation of other members of the Texas Utilities Services system.

In Richardson adjoining Dallas, a list of proposed rate raises show for example that industrial customers would be raised as high as 13 per cent while small residential users would face a seven per cent increase.

Mrs. Morris was born Aug. 17, 1895 in Nixon and came here in 1927 from Stockdale, where she had been married April 28, 1923 to Larry Morris. He died here in 1932.

Mrs. Morris was a retired restaurant owner and operator, and she was a member of the First United Methodist Church. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. William E. Neill, Tornillo;

Only 12 Counties Approved Legislative Pay Raises

By The Associated Press

The legislative pay raise and annual sessions proposals found approval in only 12 of the state's 254 counties in Tuesday's referendum voting, the Texas Election Bureau said Saturday in its final report.

Total vote was 605,900—or about 15 per cent of the registered citizens.

The pay raise-session proposal won only in Brazoria, Brazos, Duval, Hardin, Harris, Kennedy, Matagorda, Travis, Walker, Waller, Webb and Zapata counties. The plan fell 71,618 ballots short of passage.

Harris County (Houston) was a major factor with a turnout of 211,050 in the amendment voting.

BIG LOSER

This was 59,520 more votes than those the other seven metropolitan counties combined and more than one-third of the state vote. Houston had important local races for mayor, city council and the school board and a cable television issue to bring out the voters.

Of the three proposed amendments which were turned down, No. 8 to revise the ad valorem tax was the heaviest loser, failing by 146,380 votes. Only counties approving the issue were Duval, Jim Hogg, Starr, Webb and Zapata.

The homestead protection and tax benefits for single adults found widespread support, with only Lampasas County voting against homestead protection for singles.

Metropolitan counties tipped the balance against the water storage tax exemption. Harris County alone went against the measure by 65,930 votes.

FINAL RESULTS

Final Texas Election Bureau tabulations:

1. Legislative pay raises and annual sessions: for 267,141, against 338,759.

2. Homestead protection for singles: for 485,844, against 105,967.

Senior Float Wins First Place In Gala Parade

The Big Spring High School Band, with the last float in the homecoming parade Friday afternoon was named first place winner.

The Junior Class won second place and the Gold Diggers pep group placed third.

The band float was a large cuckoo clock with symbols of Big Spring High including an early class ring, the victory bell and others.

The junior float showed steps up to the victory bell pointing out the different sports in the athletic program and the Gold Diggers float featured a rainbow with the pot of gold at the base.

Among the other floats in the parade following school, city and county officials and Parade Marshal (Supt) Sam Anderson as well as the Homecoming queen candidates were a car with the 1923 class queen from 50 years ago, Helen Hayden Acuff.

Others with special cars or floats included the Vocational Office Education, the cheerleaders, the Spirit of '76 portrayed by the sophomores, One in Spirit by the Bible Class, the FHA jeep, Yearling Cheerleaders, special car and bicycles from Runnels Junior High, DECA monster and a car bearing their sweetheart, Debra Williams.

The Goliad Junior High jeep bore the words, "Win State in '78" followed by the chamber of commerce car, the Latin Club with a Roman chariot, Jack in the Box float featuring Jack Bowers, Choir director, the senior float with a watch and chain depicting time, followed by the Library Club, National Honor Society, HCJC's Jayhawk, the Hobo Club from the State Hospital, Thespians depicting drama, old cars, horses, and other participants.

Postmasters At Lamesa, Andrews Named

Southern Regional Postmaster Gen. Carl C. Usaker has announced appointment of 47 new postmasters in the 11 state region he heads including 23 new postmasters in Texas.

Among the 23 are two in this area of the state including the official appointment of James R. Edwards, Lamesa, who has been serving as acting postmaster since June 30 when A. J. McDaniel retired.

J. C. Eades, Andrews was named to replace Bob Luck, who was promoted last spring to the section center in Midland.

Others were from Addison, Corsicana, Edna, Emory, Ennis, Pecos, Greenville, Hearne, Hillsboro, Irving, LaGrange, Mathis, Mercedes, Mountain Home, Nazareth, Newcastle, Point, Taylor, Trinidad, Wadsworth and Willsboro.

Does Not Think Nixon Will Quit

DALLAS (AP) — "Clearly, the president has not lost his ability to govern. I've never seen a man so obviously in control (as during the middle East crisis). The government is going on," U.S. Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn. said here Friday.

Confident that the Watergate tapes have not been altered and prone to believe the president is innocent of any political wrongdoing until proven otherwise, Baker said he sees no reason for President Nixon to quit and does not think he will.

Baker came to Dallas to attend a $100-a-plate dinner honoring U.S. Rep. Alan Steelman, R-Tex. Nearly 1,000 Republicans attended the affair at the Fairmont Hotel.

Baker said there has been "cloakroom" discussion of impeaching the President, or advocating that he resign, but he said there has been no serious debate on the issue.

Baker is vice chairman of the Senate Watergate Investigative Committee, whose report, he said, will be ready for public release by March 1.

Baker said, however, that he does not think it "improper" for an impeachment inquiry to go on. "I feel it is entirely appropriate," he said. "There is a wide gulf between such an inquiry and an actual trial."

The Senator said he feels Americans will cooperate in Nixon's call for energy conservation and felt Nixon's televised speech earlier in the week was a "good one."

"American foreign policy won't be blackmailed by someone else's oil," he asserted.

Baker said he does not feel the national news media is waging a vendetta against Nixon despite White House charges of unfairness in reporting the Watergate scandal.

WEATHER FORECAST — Most of the nation will be fair today, according to the National Weather Service, except for rain in northern California, Oregon, Washington and Minnesota. Light snow flurries are expected in northern Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Extra Milk Price Is Cut

Extra milk sold in Big Spring school cafeterias dropped back from a dime to a nickel this week when the Agriculture Department announced it had restored full funding. This is for the special milk program to provide what USDA calls "snack time milk" for school children.

In Big Spring, extra milk goes to those who drink more milk at meals or those who purchase milk to go with a sack lunch.

The department also said a new federal regulation which went into effect last August allows school cafeterias to serve nonfat dry milk if the product is reconstituted into liquid form at dairy processing plants. However, the local schools are not using this product.

Last July, the department said it would hold special milk spending this school year to $25 million. But Congress insisted that $97.1 million be used to provide children milk in addition to servings at regular meals.

Schools and other institutions can collect federal reimbursement for serving the alternate milk products. In the case of school lunch programs, the federal government reimburses schools at the rate of eight cents per half pint served. This is two servings.

HOW SWEET IT IS Bagasse Newsprint

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico may be about ready to go into the newsprint business, using the leftovers from its sugar cane industry.

Paper mill strikes and increased demand have created a widespread shortage of paper for magazines and newspapers—especially in countries like Mexico which import newsprint from the United States, Canada and Scandinavian countries.

CANE JUICE

Mexican paper manufacturer Dantes Cusi has worked for 11 years to make a usable newsprint from bagasse, the plant fiber left after juice is extracted from sugar cane.

In another three years, Cusi says, he and the Mexican government hope to operate a $150 million paper mill in the heart of Southeast Mexico's sugar cane area.

The Mexican government-owned newsprint monopoly PIPSEA (Productores Importadores de Papel, S.A.) imported more than $40 million worth last year, mostly from the United States and Canada.

With the mill now planned and a second, Mexico could supply its own newsprint needs and even export to Central America.

Cusi doesn't believe bagasse newsprint will replace the usual wood pulp type. "The demand for newsprint increases worldwide and there is never enough of it," he said.

STARTING POINT

But he does believe his paper has changed the standards of a century-old industry. He says enthusiastically, "This is just the starting point."

The idea is not new. Cusi's own San Cristobal Industrial Co. has been using sugar cane bagasse in some paper products for years. And Cuba produced bagasse newsprint for a time but found it too expensive.

Cusi says his U.S.-patented method combining 85 per cent bagasse and 15 per cent wood pulp produces a durable paper almost as cheap as wood pulp newsprint.

He said, "I've never known of a project that has been put to such a test. It has been checked, rechecked, and cross checked."

Gift To Club Is Acknowledged, Programs Listed

Directors of the Boys Club, meeting Thursday evening, adopted a resolution of appreciation to the 7-Eleven stores for an annual contribution to the club.

They also heard about various club programs, including the arts and crafts which has three new volunteers, Mrs. Joe Peay, Cindy Sheppard and Mary Williams.

A singing group is being conducted two nights a week by Joe Peay, said Bert Andries, director, and John De La Rosa has started a basketball program.

The annual turkey shoot sponsored by the club will be held just before Thanksgiving, he said.

Patman Brands Federal Reserve System 'Menace'

DALLAS (AP) — The chairman of the U.S. House Banking and Currency Committee called for a "top to bottom reform of the Federal Reserve System" and warned that it is out to destroy the savings and loan industry.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., speaking at the final session of the 81st annual United States League of Savings and Loan convention and a news conference, blasted the Federal Reserve as the "sugar daddy of big banks."

He praised the convention delegates as the nation's top providers in the mortgage business, and added, "When your business booms, the housing industry booms—and people have a chance to obtain decent homes."

But he warned that the Federal Reserve has "started to openly sharpen the knives for the savings and loan industry."

He said that while the people are calling for full disclosure of Watergate and government scandals, an investigation also is needed of the Federal Reserve.

"There is absolutely no machinery in this government ... to find out how this agency is spending people's money," he said.

"The popular myth that the Federal Reserve is a bulwark against inflation is hogwash," the Texarkana congressman said.

Patman said the nation's "two greatest evils are poverty and high interest rates. And one leads to the other."

He said first step in stopping inflation is to "roll back interest rates."

Of recent calls for President Nixon's resignation, he said, "I'm not telling the President what he should do, because he knows his problems more than anyone. But if he did resign it sure would stabilize the country."

"I'm not advocating he do it, but I sure would be happy if he did."

Groucho Marx Files Lawsuit

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Groucho Marx has filed a $15 million lawsuit seeking a halt to publication of "The Marx Brothers Scrapbook."

Marx, 83, said the book so shocked him that it made him ill. He said it includes his comments on the drinking habits of his wives, his evaluation of people in the entertainment industry and remarks about people's sex habits.

Marx said he had agreed only to have informal talks with writer Richard Anobile. He said Anobile was to write the story of the Marx brothers' careers.

Marx termed the book "attempts character assassination against me..."

Soupy To Become An Academician

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Soupy Sales, generally regarded as the dean of American pie throwers, will become an academician in this Upper Peninsula community next Tuesday.

Sales will speak at what has been dubbed an "academic seminar on the comic art of pie throwing."

The seminar will be held in the Lake Superior State College gym at high noon, according to Bill Rabe, the college's publicist.

"Learned papers will be read by Mr. Sales," Rabe said with a straight face.

The publicist said the program also would include Prof. John C. McCabe, who is perhaps best known as the biographer of Laurel and Hardy. McCabe will review the history of American pie throwing in the cinema.

New Vitamin 'E' Diet Gives Fast Weight Loss

LOS ANGELES (Special) — New scientific discoveries have now produced a Vitamin E diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with glowing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almost as much as you want."

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and even more without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon and eggs and still lose weight.

Chewable (candy-like) vitamin E tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of ingredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wondrous benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

The use of the new Vitamin E Diet tablets and foods prescribed in the plan will, through natural action, act to help your body use up excess fat. According to recent clinical tests, a person who is deficient in Vitamin E or Protein "will double the speed of fat utilization" with the use of Vitamin E.

E-DIET AVAILABLE

To get a copy of this highly successful diet and E Tablets, send $5.00 for 10 day supply (or $7.00 for 20 day supply or $10.00 for 30 days supply) to: 309 N. Kings Rd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90048 money-back guarantee if not satisfied. In Calif. add 5% tax.

Decorative 'Birds' Pull Down Top Pay

EDITOR'S NOTE — It seems there are more bosses than secretaries in Europe these days, and as a result the decorative birds are pulling down top salaries plus a wide range of fringe benefits. One company attempting to lure a secretary into its firm promised her: "Gin before 11."

By JULIE FLINT
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Memo to the boss: Your secretary wants more than sweet-talk — and she's probably going to get it.

FREE MEALS

Across most of Europe, even in Russia, secretaries and typists are in short supply. In some countries, there are as many as 20 employers chasing every secretary, promising fat pay checks and free meals.

London ranks high on the list of most favored nations for aspiring assistants. Here you can expect an annual increment topping 10 per cent and fringe benefits ranging from free vacations and zippy autos to clothes allowances and even trading stamps.

"Two free tickets for weekends abroad, top rates and super parties," promised one firm. Another offered "free red mini for lucky girl who joins our go-ahead young team," and a third suggested: "Gin before 11."

If the British fog gets you down, try Frankfurt or Amsterdam, then Switzerland or the Scandinavian countries.

AFTER HOURS

But steer clear of Rome, where secretaries are chased only after office hours.

A survey published by a leading British employment agency revealed recently that there are 10 jobs for every London secretary. An inexperienced typist, the survey showed, can command a weekly wage of 27 pounds—$67.50—and her more experienced colleague upwards of 30 pounds—$75.00.

These are considered good salaries in a country where the average male wage is 40 pounds—$100.

In Amsterdam, school leavers can hope to take home $640.00 a month as secretaries. And in Frankfurt, where there are 1,000 secretarial vacancies, beginners can earn 1,400 marks—$560.00—monthly and experienced secretaries 2,500 marks—$1,000.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Fringe benefits, however, are governed by law and the line is drawn at subsidized meals and free soft drinks.

In Scandinavia the secretary shortage appears to be easing slightly, except in the middle bracket where monthly salaries hover around the $700 mark.

"There is a good selection of top or over-qualified secretaries demanding salaries too expensive for most firms," said the head of an Oslo firm. "There are also lots of beginners. But they are hard to find in between."

In Paris demand exceeds supply only at the very bottom of the ladder.

"A young girl fresh out of school who starts as a typist can get an average salary of between 237 francs — $59 — and 262 francs — $65 — a week," said employment agent Georges Albaret. "Naturally if she is pretty and can do a little more than type she will get more."

Belgium, as a bilingual nation, has special problems, as Robert Gints of the National Employment Office explained:

"Good companies are just plain crying for professional secretaries. It's very difficult to get a fully bilingual, fully com-

Passmore Is Promoted

ODESSA — Ronald R. Passmore has been appointed auditor for 7-Eleven Food Stores in West Texas District, announced Art Burk, district manager for the convenience chain.

Passmore was serving as a store manager in Big Spring at the time of his promotion to auditor. He joined the convenience chain in 1970. In his new position, Passmore will be headquartered at 7-Eleven's West Texas district office in Odessa.

Passmore's father, Tom Passmore, also worked for 7-Eleven Food Stores, and the new auditor's wife is a store manager for the convenience chain.

Passmore and his wife, Lynda, have five children: Joey, 12; Donna, 10; Cindy, 9; Tammy, 7; and John 5.

petent secretary. Too many of them type too slowly or just lack the general efficiency good training can give them."

EASY TARGET

For the skilled, however, the returns are good. Gints said, with 18,000 francs — $500 — a month an easy target.

Odd man out in Europe is Italy, where not even the prettiest signorina can call her own tune. Here there are 10 to 20 applicants for every secretarial vacancy, and even the lucky ones often earn less than supermarket clerks.

The butterfly of the business world, the temporary typist, or "temp," has not yet reached the shores of Italy; but she is a common phenomenon in other European countries. She earns at least 10 per cent more than permanent secretaries.

Feelings on the temp were summed up by an Oslo employer: "Good, but very expensive."

NO ANSWER

There are no temps in the Soviet Union — and precious few secretaries either. In a lengthy article earlier this year, the Communist party daily Pravda said the shortage of secretaries was "a matter of state importance."

Pravda demanded that the nation increase the number of secretarial schools. At present there are only seven in the country.

"We probably lose $10 to $20 billion a year in gross national product because of a simple thing like not having a secretary," a Soviet economist told a Western newsmen recently.

For example, a visiting American oil executive tried in vain for an entire day to get an appointment with a Soviet official he had come 7,000 miles to see.

"The reason was simple," he moaned. "There was nobody to answer the phone."

Council To Ponder Fire Truck Issue

City council members Tuesday will consider upping taxicab rates charged by Yellow Cab Co. and will rule on whether to advertise for bids for an aerial firetruck.

The hike in taxicab rates is requested by George Russell, who is seeking the increased rates "to cover our rising costs and to provide for the replacement of equipment."

Included in the ordinance to authorize the higher rates of 45 cents for first fourth-mile and 10 cents for each additional fourth-mile is a section requiring each of the cabs to undergo an annual inspection of mechanical condition and overall appearance.

Permission will be sought by the city purchasing department to advertise for bids for a larger new fire truck with an elevating platform by which firemen and equipment can be lifted to top floors of multi-story buildings.

AT STATE URGING

Fire Chief A. D. Meador explained earlier this year that the state is encouraging cities to purchase the expensive aerial trucks estimated to cost $125,000 each.

Council members will consider on emergency reading a resolution approving a police department grant application for a microfilm system. Funds will be sought from the Criminal Justice Council.

The council is expected to pass on second reading a resolution denying a monthly cost of gas adjustment clause to Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and to deny a zone request once sought by Lewis Rochester of Teepee Development Co. (Rochester has withdrawn his request after area residents vociferously protested the zone change; nevertheless a hearing is required.)

Other agenda items include: Discussion of the hotel-motel occupancy tax budget outlined by the Tourism and Development Council. The proposed budget includes $24,010 for promotional expenses and $1,500 for campground and rally site improvements, leaving $6,490 of the expected $32,000 in revenue for incidental expenses.

—Discussion of closing the alleyway south of IS 20 between N. Gregg and N. Scurry Streets as requested by Walton Morrison.

—Progress report by engineer Tom Crim on the paving program.

—Permission request to sell a building at the maintenance yard.

—Consideration for setting up a payroll deduction for city employee's cancer policy and taking bids.

—Discussion with Dr. Stuart Draper of the Health Department concerning an ordinance for pasteurized milk.

In his city manager's report, Harry Nagel will discuss progress of the search to find a new landfill site after the last proposed location was rejected by the County Commissioners court.

Immediately after the meeting, the council will go into closed session for what is listed as a personnel meeting.

Queen's Crowning Highlights Ritual

By DRUANNE PRIDDY
Nadine Teague, a senior cheerleader, was crowned the 1973 homecoming queen Friday night in pre-game ceremonies. Her court consisted of Mickey Fletcher, Kendra Dewees, Alice Trevino and Mavis Ray. Thursday night a community pep rally was held in front of the court house. Mr. Carl Coleman, 1953 head football coach, Mrs. Jane Smith and Coach Larry Horton gave pep talks. In the Homecoming Parade 1st prize went to the Steer Band Float, 2nd prize went to the junior class, and 3rd prize went to the Goldigger float.

Open house was held Saturday in the high school cafeteria for all of the exes. Ending homecoming were two dances, one for the exes and one for the students of BSHS. All students are reminded that the El Rodeo will go off sale Nov. 20. Students may purchase the El Rodeo for $10 from any Journalism student or go by the Journalism dept.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes sponsored Good Morning World Thursday morning at 8 a.m. Brad Carr was the speaker and Tim Dunn provided the music.

Monday Capt. Medinger from Angelo State in San Angelo will be in the Guidance office during advisory periods to talk to students interested in Air Force ROTC.

The theme of the Goldigger float was a pot of gold at the end of each year. Those riding the float were Patti Fitts, Dawn Hunt, Mary Guess, Sharon Jenkins, Kathy Haught and Cindy Fowler.

The 1953 football team was escorted by 20 of the Goldiggers during half-time Friday night.

The Steer Band has been practicing for UIL marching contest, and will continue the practice until the contest is held on Nov. 17.

Bill Bradley, band director, explains that the contest will take place at the W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa.

On the same day in the Bowie Junior High School gym the twirling entries will be judged.

There are several Steer Band members that are competing in the twirling contest.

The judges for the marching contest are: Mr. Dub Crain, Dumas; Mr. Phil Anthony, Lubbock; and Mr. Jeff Doughton, Pampa. Mr. Bill Woods, Seagraves; and Mr. Don Hayes from San Angelo will judge the twirling contest.

The contest chairman is Mr. Bill J. Dean of Odessa High School.

Other contestants in the AAAA class are: Midland Lee, Midland High, Odessa High and Odessa Permian.

Thursday, Mr. Driskell from the University of Texas in Austin Extension, visited each of the D.E. classes and gave a talk about public relations.

DECA has ordered their chocolate candy to be sold during November and December. Be sure and buy your candy from any DECA member.

Miss Debra Williams, sweetheart, represented DECA in the Homecoming parade. Also the Dragon Wagon, sponsored by DECA, was driven and owned by Jay Corn.

DECA will hold a meeting Thursday to discuss coming events. There are now displays being shown in Vocational building, sponsored by various stores, presented by the D.E. students.

The Future Homemakers of America held their meeting Tuesday. Next week will be the last week to sell ribbons. They will have an executive meeting Tuesday.

Following the Thanksgiving holidays the ICT club will be selling chocolate candy to raise money for the district and state contests to be held in the Spring.

Wildcats Win By 54-24 Tab

By TAHITA BLAKE

The Grady Wildcats proved to be victorious over the Fluvanna Buffaloes last Friday, Nov. 2. The "A" team boys won by a score of 56-24. Tony Sawyer was high-point with a total of 16 points. J. C. Tunnell added 12 points while Danny Crow had 12 points. Mark Greenhaw, 8; Ronnie Rose, 4; James Luna and Jerry Holloway with 2 points each.

The "B" team boys won by a margin of 46-44. Tim Nelson was the top scorer with 13 points. Daniel Lozano scored 9 points. Frank Cantu, Leslie Wood, Pedro Brisenio all scored 8 points. The "A" team boys and girls and "B" team boys played Greenwood on November 9. November 16 the Grady boys will meet the Fluvanna Buffs at Grady.

The Junior High teams split the difference last Monday as the girls won and the boys lost. The girls prevailed by a score of 44-36. Wendy Tunnell and Leza Britt shared high point honors with 17 points each. Faye Welch scored 10 points. The boys team lost by 53-38. Tommy Cruz was high-point with a total of 12 points. The next junior high game is at Klondike on Tuesday the 13th.

The Student Council met on Tuesday during activity period. The Constitution committee met Wednesday immediately after school.

The presentation of charms to them was made by Karen Woodley, head cheerleader and others. They also presented the charms to Debra Fraley, football queen.

Joe Moreno, drum major, recognized Brenda Cowley as the band sweetheart and also gave her a charm.

Medals went to the three outstanding marching band members — Carey Richardson, Shawn Fought and Sylvia Holguin. Mr. Mike Neel, director, made the presentations.

The speech team traveled to Lubbock Saturday. They attended a meet hosted by Lubbock Christian College.

The Buffalo Queens will be playing the Sands Mustangs at Sands this Tuesday.

The 12 week exams are scheduled for this week. The first, third and fifth period exams will be held on Wednesday and second fourth and sixth period will be held on Thursday. No school was held Friday due to a teacher work day.

GOLIAD JH

Sherry Proctor, Dana Workman Are Elected

By BECKY RAGAN

Goliad band sweetheart, football sweetheart, "Mr. Spirit" and "Miss Spirit" were introduced Thursday, Nov. 8, at the pep rally preceding the Goliad-Runnels contest. Sherry Proctor was crowned band sweetheart; Dana Workman was football sweetheart; "Mr. Spirit" was David Margolis; "Miss Spirit" was Cheryl Sparks.

The Goliad cheerleaders select "Mr. Spirit" and "Miss Spirit" based on students expressing the most spirit. Nominees were Trip Sullivan, Kyle Choate for "Mr. Spirit"; Deanna Douglas and Jamie Armstrong were nominated for "Miss Spirit."

The pep rally was carried out in the "1930" theme with cheerleaders dressed in knee length skirts and bobby socks. Pep rally was dedicated to Ricky Torres, an 8th grade member of the football team who is moving to San Antonio.

Last Wednesday and Thursday were color days for students and teachers. On Wednesday students were asked to wear red and white in mourning for Runnels. Thursday students were asked to wear black and white for Goliad.

Eight grade girls volleyball intramurals were held, and Fifth Period came in first place. Members of the winning team are Karen Tibbs, Theresa Baraza, Karen Brunson, Michelle Cox, Jeanne Wilson, Monica Allen, Rachel Nabors, Corinne Loftis, Nancy Bunn and Teresa Weaver, reported Miss Jeanie Hester, P. E. instructor. Second Period came in second place.

Girls' physical education classes in the seventh grade began volleyball and will hold soccer intramurals during the coming week. The 8th grade girls classes began soccer practice.

S. A. Walker, principal, Mrs. Nita Chears, English instructor, and Mrs. Essie Persson, librarian, will be attending meeting Nov. 12-16 at the Cooden Country Club. The meetings will be from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., and approximately 30-40 teachers are expected at the Instructional Development Institute.

Winners in the costume contest were Cindy Brasher, in the girls division and Shawn Parker in the boys division. They received Trick-or-Treat bags filled with candy.

Several members of the FFA chapter attended the Leadership Contest and banquet at Midland Thursday. Cindy McDonald was a participant in the Sweetheart contest. Kaye Hunt and Connie Hughes went as voting delegates. Receiving special awards at the banquet were Brad Ingram and Dennis Armstrong, who received their Lone Star Farmer degrees.

Approximately 25 members who were on special contest teams went. The teams included Senior and Junior Chapter Conducting; Senior and Junior Farm Skills; Radio Team; and Quiz Team. Accompanying the group on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Lon McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Maxwell.

Cindy Brasher Is Contest Winner

By KAY NEWCOMER

The Halloween spirit was certainly prevalent at Sands this week. Some prankster, who preferred to "trick" rather than "treat" did a nice job of decorating the hall for us!

Karen Cowart was crowned high school Halloween Queen at the coronation held recently. She was the nominee from the freshmen class and was escorted by Sammy Anderson. Grade school queen is Jana Long, representing the fifth grade. She was escorted by Dennis Martin.

Winners in the costume contest were Cindy Brasher, in the girls division and Shawn Parker in the boys division. They received Trick-or-Treat bags filled with candy.

Puga, Batla Gain School Laurels

By BECKY SCHWARTZ
During the half time at the homecoming football game Charlie Puga was named Mr. Bearkat and Linda Batla was crowned Bearkat sweetheart. Other candidates were David Smith and Cynthia Currie and Mike Batla and Marjorie Glenn.

All girls participating in any sports this year went to take their physicals Tuesday after lunch at Cowper's Clinic.

The Student Council held the monthly meeting Wednesday. They discussed the installing of a pay phone in the gym. Marjorie Glenn and Carlos Herrera were put in charge of looking into it. They also discussed the classes electing their own class sponsors but it was not voted on.

Wednesday the international lectures presented a program in the auditorium at 2:15 on gyroscopes.

The pep rally was held Thursday at 3:00 in the gym. The skit, "The Big Play" was put on by Linda Batla Marjorie Glenn, Cynthia Currie, Martha Doe, Becky Robinson, and Sheryl Newell.

The Bearkats traveled to Borden County, for their ninth game of the season. The pep squad was sponsored by Mrs. Greg Henderson this game.

Friday there was no school, because the teachers had an in-service day in Odessa.

Finals began Thursday with the 1st and 4th periods getting first chance this quarter. Monday will be the 2nd and 5th, and Tuesday will be the 3rd and 6th.

There was a special congratulations to all of the students, for a job well done in all of the activities of the week before last. The behavior at all the activities was above expectations. The party after the game was especially well conducted and well attended.

The plaque given at homecoming, to the class with the most representing it was the class of 1973, and the oldest class represented was the class of 1919.

Stallings Enters Tech Fraternity

Steve Stallings was initiated on Oct. 4 into the Texas Tech University's Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, a national honorary and professional accounting fraternity.

Membership is elective emphasizing scholastic excellence as well as personal attributes. The Beta Delta Chapter is currently very active, engaging in many community and service projects, such as a free income tax service offered to lower income families, and aid to small businesses who need accounting assistance.

Steve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stallings of Stanton, is a senior accounting student at Texas Tech and will graduate next May.

DOUGHBOYS REMINISCE

Armistice Day—End Of War To End All Wars

By MARJ CARPENTER

"Will you please suggest to people that we again observe Armistice Day on Armistice Day," admonished Henry J. Letterman, 83 year old WWI veteran in the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Five of the 41 WWI vets who are currently in the VA Hospital here gathered downstairs in the service center to reminisce over Armistice Day.

The three-day government long weekends which have placed Veterans Day on a fourth Monday in October mean little to the WWI vet, whose average age throughout America now is 78.

VETERANS UNITE

"Few people realize that actually the WWI vets were the ones who organized and obtained rights and jobs for the veterans of all wars," said James B. Hudnall, vet of two wars.

Harte-Hanks Promotes Exec

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc., has announced the promotion of a Yakima, Wash., news executive to be corporate director of marketing.

Richard H. Clester, 42, will succeed Charles H. Everitt, who Harte-Hanks says will be moving into a management position at one of the Harte-Hanks operating divisions Jan. 1.

Clester has been director of sales for the Yakima, Herald Republic, a Harte-Hanks division.

Frank H. McGinnis, who will be 78 next month, added, "America has been good to us. I hope they can do as much for the young veterans. I'm grateful."

Dr. R. J. Rhome, dental surgeon, recalled that he was with the Navy in Boston Harbor when the war was over. "I can remember those ships coming home filled to the brim with men in khaki," he mused.

Carl E. Schneider, 77, was also in the Navy and enroute to Bordeaux, France when the war ended.

"We were told it was the war to end all wars. But I guess the Good Book tells us different. There will always be wars," he commented.

NO MORE WORLD

The five men then speculated that if there was "ever another World War, we're liable to end up without a world."

They jokingly recalled the popular songs of the day such as "Over There," "Oh How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning" and "K-K-K Katie."

Their faces showed concern. One of them commented that "I hate to see young men refuse to serve, and worry sometimes about our country."

IT WASN'T FUN

One of the group said, however, "We didn't really want to go either. We didn't like it. It's just that we don't think they should make such a ruckus when they have to go."

"We were certainly happy the day it all ended — Nov. 11, 1918. That was a day to celebrate. We were all shocked in the late 30's as we began to realize that it was going to happen all over again."

Just like America back in 1918, they disagreed on whether we should have joined the League of Nations. Part of the group said a flat "No" while part of the group said "I think we should have. And I think when we started the United Nations, it would have been better without the veto."

SOMETHING SPECIAL

The five men came from Uray, Colorado; Anson, Wink, Rotan, and from Dewitt County, Texas. They have worked in the oilfields, in construction, aviation and the professions. They raised families, watched the history made, but to them all, Armistice Day has a special meaning.

It turned out not to be the end of the war to end wars, but they hoped it was, and that's what sticks.

COAHOMA HS NHS Planning Monday Party

By SHERRY GRIFFIN

The National Honor Society Club met Tuesday to make plans for the upcoming party. The party will be held at Terry Beagle's home Monday night at 7:30. Also discussed was the induction of new members. No definite plans have been set on the induction of new members. Mrs. Doris Tiller is the National Honor Society Club sponsor.

The Student Council met Tuesday to elect Boy and Girl of the Month. Kyle Kiser and Sheryl Hulme was elected for the month of October. For the month of November Marcelino Chavez and Dale Mitchell were selected.

The freshman and sophomore classes met Wednesday to elect their class favorites. The freshman class chose Ken Kelso and Janet Smolko. Mike Collier and Melissa Cooper were chosen by the sophomore class as their favorites.

The girls varsity basketball team was announced Monday by Coach Sonny Barnes. They are Theresa Beal, Sherry Griffin, Mona Honea, Sandra Howell, Sheryl Hulme, Judy King, Jennie Kohanek, Jayne Meacham, Dale Mitchell, Roylyn Welch, Patti Hulme, Pairey Ross, Susie Smolko and Becky Snell.

The junior varsity was also announced. They are Trenea Bayes, Debbie Fryrear, Debra Meyer, Jean Parks, Lusara Phinney, Kim Read, Karen Shirley, Tanya Sterling, Kim Swann, Leslie Taylor, Diana Thompson, Barbara Ward, Nancy Wood, Toya Banks, Seritha Baker, Donna Barber, Rhonda Bingham, Katy Brooks, Jeanne Hays, Karla Holman, Donna James, Paula Monroe, Donna Parrish, M. A. D. in e Richters, Melinda Reid, Cindy Roberts, Suzie Rupard, Janet Smolko, Laurie Snell and Alice Arguello.

College Officials Will Attend Annual Sessions

Board members and top administrators from Howard County Junior College will take part in the annual session of the Texas Association for Junior College Board members and Administrators which begin today in Austin.

Dr. P. W. Malone, a founding trustee on the HCJC board, and Dr. Thomas Salter, president of the college, will be on the program, both in the same subject field. Dr. Malone will view board opportunities to support the principle of in-service separate workshop.

'YOU CAN'T BE RIGHT ALL THE TIME'

Movie Rating Controversy

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Jack Valenti was on the telephone, as is his custom. Whether the call is to the White House or the hotel florist, his manner is the same — suave, persuasive, reassuring.

Valenti uses the telephone as much as Martha Mitchell and Bob Newhart. It provides him links with the worldwide empire of which he is the head — the American motion picture industry.

AND THEN?

He was in Beverly Hills for an address to the Hollywood Radio and Television Society about antibecency rulings. Within an hour afterward he would be on a jet heading for his Washington headquarters.

The next day he would be in New York, and then? It could be London, Geneva or Jakarta.

Valenti is always on the move and always talking. The words tumble out with a politician's ease, and indeed, he once wrote speeches for Lyndon Johnson and John Connally. To the men who run the big film companies, his talk makes sense. They seem eminently satisfied with his performance as president of the Motion Picture Association of America — except for times when the ratings board gives them films R ratings when they think a P is warranted.

TOUGH SPOT

Some of those outside the producers' association are less pleased with Valenti.

Catholic and Protestant leaders have excoriated Valenti's administration of film ratings, claiming that it is too lax on violent content of films. Independent film makers accuse him of favoring the major companies with better ratings.

Opinions of Valenti among film makers run the gamut. Says longtime director Mervyn LeRoy: "I think he's done a wonderful job in a tough spot. He has to please everybody, and that's impossible to do. The ratings have worked out fine; if you like filthy pictures, then you're against the rating system."

Producer Robert Radnitz observes that Valenti has done good work for the film industry abroad. But even though Radnitz has produced "Sounder" and other G-rated films, he quarrels with Valenti on the rating system.

"I was the first producer to speak out that the rating system is going to boomerang on us," said Radnitz. "Now the chickens have come home to roost. The ratings provide a greater spotlight for the blue-noses to berate us."

Despite Valenti's figures that 55 per cent of Americans find the ratings useful, Radnitz holds that "the ratings are a joke to the public and are confusing to the public." Valenti views such criticism philosophically.

GOOD LESSON

"One thing that politics does for you," he says, "is to teach you to understand and tolerate criticism. It also teaches you humility. You learn that no matter how you try, you can't be right all the time."

Jack Joseph Valenti was born 52 years ago in Houston, a grandson of Italian immigrants. He graduated from Sam Houston High School at 15, attended night school at the University of Houston while working for Humble Oil, first as office boy, then in the advertising department.

After seven years of night school — with time out for the Air Force in World War II — he graduated from college. He spent two years in Harvard Business School, then returned to Houston and formed an advertising agency, specializing in political campaigns.

SO LONG TEXAS

Lyndon Johnson took the young man under his wing, and Valenti handled the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign in Texas. He also worked on the Houston part of President Kennedy's visit to Texas 10 years ago and was in the Dallas motorcade when the President was shot.

"The new President ordered me aboard Air Force One for the trip to Washington," Valenti recalled, "and I got on with only two nights of clothes. En route Mr. Johnson told me, 'I want you on my staff,' and I didn't go back to Texas."

Valenti became special assistant to the President, serving first as appointment secretary, then cabinet secretary and speech coordinator. He married Johnson's personal secretary, Mary Margaret Wiley, and was responsible for the much-quoted remark that he slept better at night because Lyndon Johnson was in the White House.

In the course of his duties, Valenti became acquainted with Johnson friends in the film industry — Edwin Weisl Sr., of Paramount, Lew Wasserman of MCA-Universal, Arthur Krim of United Artists. In February 1966, Weisl approached Valenti about the job as president of the Motion Picture Association.

Valenti was tempted. He had always loved movies, and he was an amateur writer. He had gone into debt on the government job, and the new post would pay him $150,000 a year.

He broached the matter to Johnson. The reply was predictable: "I want you to stay with me." But he finally gave his permission to leave the White House.

As film makers sought more freedom, Valenti in November 1968 introduced the rating system, which advised parents on what was and what was not suitable for viewing by children. After five years, the controversy over the rating system continues unabated.

$3,500 LOSS ON EACH

FHA Attempting To Sell 10,000 Homes In Southwest This Year

DALLAS (AP) — The Federal Housing Agency (FHA) is attempting to sell 10,000 homes in the Southwest this year and expects to lose an average of $3,500 on each.

SILVER LINING

FHA regional real property officer Joe Rhodes sees a silver lining, however. The FHA, because of stepped up sales, may be selling as many homes as it acquired by year's end.

The FHA puts up no money when a purchaser buys a house. It only guarantees the mortgage money. If the buyer defaults on the mortgage, the FHA pays off to the lender and takes possession of the house.

The FHA in the Southwest acquired 25 per cent more homes than it sold. It had to take possession of 11,037 residences but managed to sell only 8,916.

This year so far, the agency has acquired 9,053 homes and has sold 8,890.

But as of the end of September, the FHA had a backlog of 10,460 houses to be sold in Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

TOUGH SITUATION

Of that number, 40 per cent had been surrendered by low-income families who had been housed under the now-terminated U235 program.

Reasons for the upturn in acquisitions are numerous. Partially it is a result of the generally tough economic situation, but it is also linked to dissatisfaction with the sliding scale used to determine U235 payments and the instability of many of the families who are given low income housing aid.

The FHA repairs repossessed homes and resells them. Though in isolated cases the FHA makes money on a resale, its average track record is not good: $3,500 loss each time it unloads a repossessed home.

It does not take a mathematician to figure out that even if the FHA sells as many as it buys, it is still in the red.

HIGH RISK

Rhodes says one must consider more than the bottom line on a financial ledger in judging the federal subsidy program.

"It depends on what you want to do—help poor people or insure houses that won't come back to you," he said in an interview.

The U235 project, discontinued in January, was a "high risk program," Rhodes says, but it did offer a chance at good homes to the young, the jobless, the uneducated and the unskilled.

But if the subsidy program is not to be judged on dollars and cents, it might eventually be judged on whether the foreclosure rate continues to grow.

NOT EASY

This year the Southwest region of the FHA is concentrating on selling off its properties. But selling is not easy or cheap.

Of the 10,460 acquisitions the FHA now has, only about 2,400 are currently marketable. The others are on a list requiring repairs before they can be sold. If a house is sold within six months after purchase, that is considered good.

Not all the acquisitions can be resold. In one instance, a $14,000 home was in such poor condition that it was demolished and sold for materials for less than $1,000. The FHA through its Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund, took the loss.

Another stumbling block for sales can be the general community where the homes are located. In San Antonio, Tulsa, Shreveport and New Orleans, it is difficult to resell houses because of neighborhood deterioration.

The resold houses can be purchased by anyone and are not limited again to low income families.

"Property disposal is more business-like perhaps," Rhodes says. "Here we are trying to minimize our losses."

Based on September figures, houses are being held by the FHA for resale in the following areas. First is the total figure, then the portion of that figure comprised of U235 homes:

Little Rock: 355, 231; New Orleans: 603, 357; Shreveport: 662, 551; Albuquerque: 292, 137; Oklahoma City: 417, 183; Tulsa: 505, 143; Dallas: 3,665, 1,424; Fort Worth: 1,895, 369; Houston: 1,023, 173; Lubbock: 829, 31; San Antonio: 1,014, 812.

Total 10,460—4,413.

The albino was incubated last week at the Florida Dept. of Natural Resources sea turtle hatchery, where officials say that this is the first true albino that they have seen. Lacking any pigment in its skin or shell, it has no protection from the sun's rays. It was given to the Seaquarium so that it can live where it won't get sun-burned.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "All female employees will wear hot pants, which should generate a substantial amount of heat in the office."

That was one of the "rules" facetiously posted Thursday in the office of Clerk of Courts Francis X. McCormack following President Nixon's speech on the need to conserve energy.

"Match periods, rather than coffee breaks, will be held," another of the rules stated.

"Every half hour employees will stand up and light a match to keep everyone warm."

And the list of regulations also stated: "All hot news copy will be retained for a period of one hour before releasing to the news media."

Texas Slams Baylor, 42-6

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Roughhouse Roosevelt Leaks rambled for three touchdowns and defensive back Jay Arnold swiped two passes Saturday to trigger Texas to a 42-6 victory over Baylor on the road toward a sixth consecutive Southwest Conference title.

Leaks, the punishing 5-foot-11, 218-pound junior fullback who gained 342 yards last week, thundered 23, 1, and 9 yards for touchdowns against the out-manned Bruins before 64,500 fans in Memorial Stadium.

Leaks rushed 17 times for 77 yards before Texas Coach Darrell Royal flooded the field with substitutes midway in the third period.

The 13th-ranked Longhorns are now 6-2 for the year, and 5-0 in SWC play. Texas needs only a tie in one of its two remaining games to become the host team in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

Baylor is 2-6 and 0-4 in SWC warfare.

Besides his interceptions, Arnold unleashed a vicious tackle that caused a fumble leading to a Longhorn touchdown.

Texas quarterback Marty Akins scored on a 15-yard run to make it 28-0 in the fourth period. Reserve quarterback Mike Presley booted nine yards for a touchdown and freshman Raymond Clayborn charged one yard for another.

Baylor got on the board late in the fourth quarter when quarterback Neal Jeffrey connected on an 8-yard TD pass to Charles Dancer.

Leaks' yardage left him just 80 steps shy of the all-time SWC season record of 1,302 yards established by Texas A&M's Bob Smith in 1950.

It was the 17th consecutive SWC victory for the Longhorns and their 29th in a row at home.

The victory may have been a costly one for Texas. Defensive tackle Fred Currin suffered a severe ankle injury and it was not immediately determined when he would be able to play again.

The Longhorns struck quickly after safety Terry Mellancon intercepted a Jeffrey pass to thwart a Bear drive in the opening moments of the game.

Texas methodically drove 67 yards with Leaks breaking behind center Bill Wyman's clearing block to travel the final 23 yards.

On the Bears' next possession, Arnold stole another Jeffrey aerial and the Longhorns drove 61 yards with Leaks adding the final yard for the TD.

PUTTER-TWIRLER — Early leader Gibby Gilbert twirls his putter over his head after missing a putt during the third round action of the World Open Golf Championship Saturday in Pinehurst, N.C. Gilbert, who was the sole leader after two rounds, slipped into a tie for first place in the eight-round affair with Allan Miller.

Interception Leads Owls To 17-7 Win Over Hogs

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice's Cullie Culppepper returned an interception 58 yards to set up a 15-yard touchdown run by quarterback Tommy Kramer and sparked the Owls to a 17-7 Southwest Conference upset victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks Saturday.

Culppepper picked off a pass by Arkansas quarterback Mike Kirkland at the Rice four-yard line in the first quarter and raced back to the Hog 41. Eight plays later Kramer darted to the right side 15 yards for the touchdown.

The Owls capitalized on another Kirkland miscue early in the second quarter to set up a 46-yard field goal by Alan Pringle. Defensive end Larry O'Neal recovered a Kirkland fumble at the Arkansas 31 after tackle Jody Medford knocked Kirkland loose from the ball.

Rice moved the ball to the 29 where Pringle sailed a soccer style boot that appeared to be short but the ball hit the cross-bar and bounced through.

Arkansas struck for its only touchdown in the third quarter when Dickey Morton ran 18 yards to climax a 92-yard drive. Kirkland hit Freddie Douglass on a 13-yard fourth down pass to keep the drive.

Rice linebacker Richard Holas, returning to action after missing two games with a dislocated elbow, sewed up the game for the Owls with 59 seconds left in the game when he intercepted a Kirkland pass and returned it 29 yards for a touchdown.

It was the third straight year that the Owls, now 2-6 for the season, had shocked the favored Razorbacks, now 5-4 for the season and virtually eliminated from the SWC race with a 3-2 record.

Morton went over the 3,000 yard rushing mark for his career with 106 yards on 26 carries for the Razorbacks.

It was a frustrating defeat for the Hogs, who completely dominated the game with 90 plays for 404 yards in total offense compared to only 49 plays for 138 yards for the Owls.

Rice-Kramer 15 run (Pringle kick). Rice-FG Pringle 46. Rice-Morton 18 run (Boltan kick). Rice-Holas 29 interception return (Pringle kick). A-22,500.

Miller, Gilbert In Tie

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Young Allan Miller, a non-winner in two years on the pro golf tour, battled wind and cold for a 72 Saturday and caught front-running Gibby Gilbert for the third-round lead in the $500,000 World Open.

The 25-year-old Miller tied for the lead in this event, which offers a record $100,000 to the winner, with a 210 total—three under par. He was one-over-par for Saturday's round, which began with the temperature at 27.

Gilbert, the leader since he fashioned a record 62 in Thursday's opening round, took a second consecutive 74 and also had a 210 total with five more rounds to play in this 144-hole tournament that ends Nov. 17.

Both leaders played the 6,905-yard No. 4 course at the Pinehurst Country Club. The rest of the way, they'll play the tougher 7,007-yard par-71 No. 2 course.

Gilbert had a five-shot lead after the first round and led by two at the end of 36 holes.

He and Miller—no relation to absent U.S. Open champion Johnny Miller—were the only players in the international field of 240 to be under par after three rounds.

Jerry Heard matched par 71—one of the best rounds of the cold, windy day—and was alone in third at 213. Veteran Gary Brewer had a 73 and was alone at 214.

The group at 215 included Bobby Mitchell, rookie Tom Kite and Miller Barber.

Weather conditions were very severe. The leaders teed off in the morning and got the worst of it. The start of the day's play was delayed one-half hour because of frozen greens.

Only a handful of fans showed up for this event, the richest golf tournament the world has ever seen.

Air Force Halts Rutgers By 31-14

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Air Force quarterback Rich Haynie threw for three touchdowns to engineer a 31-14 Air Force victory over Rutgers Saturday in non-conference college football.

Haynie connected on 14 of 21 passing attempts for 195 yards. Touchdown strikes of 34 and five yards went to flanker Frank Murphy and a 17-yard scoring pass went to flanker Al Breedy.

Raiders Rally To Dump Frogs

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Twelfth-ranked Texas Tech, trailing by ten points and its bowl dream in jeopardy, stung Texas Christian with two rapid touchdowns Saturday and romped on to a 24-10 Southwest Conference triumph.

The heavily favored Red Raiders struck twice in a span of four minutes of the second quarter and sped along to the fifth straight verdict in eight of nine outings.

With a 4-1 SWC record and still harboring hopes of snagging a share of the title, the Raiders overtook the Horned Frogs on Larry Isaac's three-yard burst and a nine-yard airway strike from Joe Barnes to Andre Tillman.

The defensive unit helped preserve the victory by brunt a fourth-and-one play at the Tech 19 late in the third period.

Don Grimes' 30-yard boot provided a three-point padding and Isaac streaked 52 yards for the clincher in the final period.

James Smith danced 32 yards after a short Barnes pass to propel Tech on a 47-yard drive for its initial tally and Kenneth Wallace's pass interception at the Frog 32 prepared the groundwork for the second.

Wallace returned the stolen aerial to the TCU 22 and the Raiders moved ahead five plays later on Tillman's end zone reception.

The Frogs captured a 10-0 lead in the first quarter on Berl Simmons' 28-yard field goal and Kent Marshall's one yard TD plunge.

Beside nearly 200 yards rushing by Mike Luttrell, TCU absorbed its fourth loss in five SWC ventures and its fifth setback of the season.

LAUREL Wins Field Goal Saves USC

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Dahlia, American-bred and owned but running for France, flashed past on the outside with one-sixteenth of a mile to go and became the first filly ever to win the $150,000 Washington D.C. International Saturday at Laurel.

The victory was the sixth for France in 22 runnings and snapped the U.S. winning string at three. It also evened the number of victories for foreign representatives and U.S. horses at 11 each.

Big Spruce of the United States finished second, with Scottish Rifle of England third and Card King of France fourth.

Dahlia, bred in Kentucky and owned by Texas oilman Nelson Bunker, finished 3/4 lengths ahead of Big Spruce, who had a length margin on Scottish Rifle.

Dahlia, ridden by Australian Bill Pyers and trained by Egyptian Maurice Zilber, carried 117 pounds, 10 less than Big Spruce and Scottish Rifle, over the 1 1/4 miles on the grass in 2:30 3-5, well off the track record.

Pyers kept Dahlia off the pace for most of the race then began a move on the final turn. As the field neared the wire, favored Tentam, of the United States, Scottish Rifle and Big Spruce were battling for the lead when Dahlia zoomed by on the outside and left them as though they were standing still.

The Cardinals, on Garcia's 25-yard field goal with 3:10 left in the game, led 26-17. But Haden quickly marched the Trojans to a touchdown, rolling out 10 yards himself for the score with 2:10 left to play.

That 54-yard, five-play drive was assisted by a 42-yard pass interference penalty against the Cardinals' Jim Kaffen, who had intercepted two Haden passes.

TUG-OF-WAR — Odessa's 205-pound fullback Doug King gets some resistance from Big Spring Steer defender Casey Lovelace (85) Friday during the Bronchos' 41-23 victory over the Longhorns. King, who ended the game with 142 yards, was one of the villains as the Bronchos spoiled the Steer Homecoming celebration.

Buckeyes Blank MSU, 35-0

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — 100 yards rushing. The Ohio State offense was just as overpowering in becoming the greatest rushing team in Ohio history. The 1973 squad has mustered 2,907 yards in eight games after a 303-yard day against the Spartans. The old rushing record of 2,774 was established by the 1969 team. The Buckeyes, avenging losses to the Spartans the last two seasons, scored four of the first seven times they had the ball.

All but one of the drives started in Michigan State territory.

The victory preserved a first-place tie with fourth-ranked Michigan for the Big Ten lead. The two schools probably will settle the conference title and the Rose Bowl bid Nov. 24 at Michigan.

The 185-pound Griffin rambled for 131 yards, marking the eighth straight time this fall he has surpassed 100 yards.

By JACK COWAN
Odessa High's Big Red Machine, continuing its purge of Dist. 5-AAAA, staged an awesome show of football might Friday in Memorial Stadium and hustled home with a 41-23 victory over the Big Spring Steers, spoiling Homecoming festivities in the process.

With the triumph the Bronchos, a team completely reformed following a pair of league losses, now prepare for this week's crucial war with Odessa Permian as several playoff possibilities come into view heading into the final week. Permian unmercifully drubbed top-ranked San Angelo 42-7 Friday night, and could sack up a second straight trip to the playoffs with a win over OHS.

But if the Bronchos, considered by many to be the best team in the district at present, could pull the "upset" against the ninth-ranked Permian lead it would leave the way open for Angelo, which hosts Big Spring Friday. One other possibility remains — if the Steers were to knock off Permian, a four-way tie would be imminent as San Angelo, Odessa, Permian and probably Abilene Cooper would all have two losses, and a coin flip would decide the representative.

Friday night, Odessa looked like it had the world championship in mind more than just a share of the loop honors. The Bronchos, taking advantage of good field position, stormed back from a 17-13 deficit early in the third quarter with four second-half touchdowns, and ended the night with an amazing 526 yards total offense.

Broncho quarterback Rodney Allison passed for three touchdowns and rushed for 103 yards and bruising fullback Doug King bulled for 141 steps on 21 carries as the Red Hosses upped their season mark to 6-3 and ran their district standing to 4-2. For Big Spring, it was the second straight week the Steers weren't within striking distance late in the game, and the result was the team's eighth loss of the year against one win. In district play the Longhorns stand 1-5.

"They just wore us down," Steer coach Bob Burris explained Saturday. "I thought we played as well as we could, but when you're outmanned that much against a good team they can certainly make you look bad. Allison, their quarterback, is a great player and a great leader."

Burris said that the Bronchos, who have been hitting hard enough to cause injuries all season, raised countless bumps and bruises "and it'll take us a couple of days to recover. But no one will miss the game this week," the coach said. Split end-defensive halfback Ronald McKee suffered a shoulder injury, but is expected to be out for workouts Monday.

There was at least one bright spot for the Big Springers, as John Thomas Smith's 94 yards in receptions put him over the unofficial Dist. 5-AAAA receiving record of 574 yards, set in 1969 by Abilene Cooper's Hobby Stevens. Smith, with one game still remaining, has caught 31 passes for 592 yards.

The Bronchos showed the Steers what was in store for them from the start Friday. After Steer quarterback Tom Sorley engineered a drive to the OHS 30 on Big Spring's first possession, his pitch to halfback Danny Ferrell on an option sailed into the backfield and Odessa's Monte Thorman fell on the ball at the 40.

Allison hit Woodie Shepard 30 yards downfield on first down, and the fleet halfback outraced the Steer secondary the rest of the way for a 6-0 edge with 9:36 left in the first quarter. Jerry Walker kicked the extra point.

The Steers took advantage of a Broncho bobbie to notch their first score, as Joe Baer fumbled McKee's punt at the OHS 20 and Big Spring's Bobby Jackson recovered.

Sorley ran for five yards on first down and then passed to Ferrell for a first down at the eight, and from there Ferrell raced around right end for the score. Doug Smith booted the 'Horns into a 7-7 tie with 6:45 left in the first quarter.

Odessa threatened again following the kickoff, driving to Big Spring's 17 before Allison was thrown for a big loss, and an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty shoved the Bronchos back to midfield. They got back to the 32, and that's where the Steers took over.

After Lonnell Banks lost five yards on a draw play, Sorley nailed John Smith with a 55-yard pass that shoved Smith over the receiving mark, and that one carried to the Odessa 23. The drive stalled at the 14, where Doug Smith came on to book a knuckleball field goal from 30 yards out as the Steers went into the lead, 10-7, with 11:27 remaining in the first half. Odessa came back in a hurry with Allison tossing 66 yards to flanker Terry Ely for a score on second down, just 40 seconds after the Steer tally. Walker's PAT was no good, as OHS held a 13-10 lead.

Steer halfback Doug Robison intercepted Allison's pass at the 26 and returned it 34 yards to set the home team up at the Broncho 40 midway through the second period. Big Spring drove to the 15, but on fourth and four a Sorley pass to Doug Smith covered just three yards and the Bronchos took over.

Robison got the Steers off to a good start in the second half as he picked off the short kickoff on the run and gave the hosts possession at Odessa's 47. From there, Sorley spotted Doug Smith on a sideline route for 47 yards and a touchdown on the first play of the third quarter, and Smith's extra point made it 17-13.

That was the Bronchos' cue, and they started their comeback with a 76-yard drive that ended with King's two-yard burst. Walker's PAT with 8:33 left in the third quarter started the avalanche.

It was seven minutes later when Shepard, who had 93 yards on the ground, broke loose for a 28-yard scoring scamper and then tacked on two extra points for a 28-17 bulge. Walker, who had punted out of bounds at the Steer three just minutes earlier, got the home team in a hole again early in the fourth quarter as his punt was downed at the two.

The Steers couldn't get out of that jam, and Robison punted to the Steer 44. It took the Bronchos 11 plays to move the distance, and Allison hit Derrill Eubanks from eight yards out on a crucial fourth down play to clinch the victory with 5:52 left in the contest. Walker was successful on the PAT as the score mounted to 35-17.

Odessa's final scoring blitz covered 55 yards, and King powered over from the one-yard line to cap the effort as 1:17 remained in the contest. A pass for two extra points fell incomplete.

Big Spring, held to just one first down and 70 yards total offense in the second half, managed to hang up six more points before things ended as Robison picked up a short kickoff and raced 65 yards for a touchdown with 1:03 remaining. Mark Moore's pass for two extra points was incomplete.

Behind every game plan, there's a strong objective. Ours is to win you over.

When I first came to Texas in 1957, I drove a '55 Chrysler. It was a good solid car, because even then, Chrysler was famous for its great engineering. Chrysler still makes a good, sound, well-engineered car. But as you can see, it's never been as beautiful as this '74. This is one of the most luxurious Chryslers ever built. Yet, for all of its elegance, the '74 Chrysler is priced within the reach of more and more people.

With three games under his Jayhawk-type belt, Howard County coach Harold Wilder returned home with some "observations" about his cage crew — and quite a bit of hope. The Hawks walked over three Gulf Coast foes to open the season, and bring their show to the HJC gym Tuesday night for the first time against the Lubbock Christian College Junior Varsity.

"I think that probably the biggest thing for us on this trip was that we outscored our opponents two to one," Wilder said. "That's a very important statistic, the percentage of rebounds (how many a team gets out of the number available). UCLA averaged 57 per cent during the last five years when it has dominated college basketball, and right now we've got 66 per cent."

"Of course, we know we can't rebound that well all year, it's such a phenomenal figure. The people we were playing (Brazosport, Alvin and College of the Mainland) didn't have the size we have, and Taylor Williams and Thomas Bledsoe did a real good job. But another reason for us dominating the score so much was that Williams and Bledsoe did a great job of getting the outlet pass, and that's important to our fast break," Wilder said.

The Jayhawks did dominate the score, piling up 316 points to 219 for the enemies. That requires some shooting, as well as rebounding, and the Hawks are doing OK there too, hitting 55 per cent in the early going. "I didn't see any real weaknesses in our game, but there were several areas where we can improve," the coach admitted. "We've got to be better organized on our press offense, for one thing. Our guards relied too much on muscling the ball down the court, and that's not going to work all the time. We've also got to have more movement in our zone offense, and we didn't get the ball to Williams enough. We've got to work on that."

Wilder pointed to another interesting development on the team. At the forward spot, where Mike Randle last year averaged seven points a game, this year he's getting help from Alfred Gladden and Keith Lewis and the three together are hitting over 20 points a game.

That depth shows up everywhere. In the final 10 minutes of the Jayhawks' game with College of the Mainland Wednesday, reserve center David Tolliver hit 14 points and pulled down nine rebounds, something that couldn't have been accomplished by the second unit last year. And once, when hot-shooting Leroy Lumzy lost a shoe going down the court, replacement Willie Young hit three quick baskets before Leroy could even get his shoe back on.

That's the key to a comparison between the team of last year, and with the team of two years ago which featured the shooting show of All-American Archie Myers. "When Archie was here, we lost if he had a bad game," Wilder said. "But that's not likely to happen this year. Take Wednesday night, Williams scored seven points, which isn't a good game for him, but Bledsoe had a good game. Bobby Beall isn't scoring a lot, but he's getting a lot of assists and Lumzy is getting the points. It's a matter of balance."

Penn State Eases By North Carolina

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Tailback John Cappelletti's third touchdown of the game, a 27-yard run in the fourth period, fired sixth-ranked Penn State to a 35-29 victory over North Carolina State Saturday and probably saved an Orange Bowl bid for the unbeaten Nittany Lions.

Cappelletti gained 220 yards on 41 carries as Penn State rallied from a 14-9 halftime deficit and twice snapped ties in the second half to earn its ninth consecutive victory. The loss was the third in 10 games for the tenacious Wolfpack.

NT Eagles Nip Wichita

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback Tony Ford fired four touchdown passes, three to David Kervin, to lead North Texas State to a 31-21 Missouri Valley Conference victory over Wichita State Saturday.

The triumph gave the Mean Green a 5-0 record in the MVC, a half-game ahead of Tulsa, which was idle Saturday. The two teams meet here next Saturday at 2 p.m.

Ford hit Kervin on scoring tosses of 26 and 23 yards to give NTSU a 14-0 first quarter advantage. Wichita State narrowed the gap to seven early in the second period on a three-yard run by Fred Speck.

OSU Cowboys Get 28-9 Win Over Kansas State

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Quarterback Brent Blackman guided Oklahoma State on two long touchdown drives and the Cowboy defense manhandled the Kansas State line and star tailback Isaac Jackson for a 28-9 Big Eight football victory Saturday.

It was the first conference win of the year for the Cowboys, who had to settle for ties in their last two outings against Kansas and Nebraska.

The Cowboys held Jackson, the Big Eight's leading rusher with a 113-yard per game average, to only 31 yards.

Oklahoma State, primarily a rushing team, went to the bomb to score on its first possession. Blackman hit tight end Reuben

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Larry Tidwell threw four touchdown passes here Saturday as the Austin College Kangaroos defeated the McMurry College Indians 37-13.

Wolverines Top Illinois

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Ed Shuttlesworth's one-yard touchdown plunge after Michigan recovered an Illinois fumble in the second quarter offset a surprising early 6-0 Illinois lead and the fourth ranked Wolverines went on to beat Illinois 21-6 in Big Ten football action Saturday.

Michigan had not been behind this season until Illinois kicking star Dan Beaver kicked a 41-yard field goal at 1:08 of the second quarter. Beaver stretched the Illinois lead to 6-0 with a 29-yarder later in the quarter.

Shuttlesworth's touchdown came four plays after Michigan end Walt Williamson recovered a fumble by Illinois' Steve Greene at the Illinois 36.

The Wolverines led only 7-6 at halftime but moved 67 yards in eight plays with the second-half opening kickoff to score on a 33-yard run by tailback Gil Chapman.

Steers Host Cross Country

Big Spring will host the Dist. 5-AAAA Cross Country Meet Saturday over a two-mile layout located on the back nine holes of the Municipal Golf Course.

Action begins at 10:30 a.m. as the Steers host runners from all eight league schools, including Abilene, Permian, San Angelo, Cooper, Midland High, Midland Lee and Odessa. The undefeated Permian quintet, will be favored, while Big Spring's Ricky McCormick will be in the individual pick.

McCormick has finished first in four races this year, and he has clocked a fast 9:46 two-mile time twice. The time is just one second off the school record. Main competition is expected to come from Permian's Lindon Dugan, one of two runners to beat McCormick this year.

The top three teams and the first 10 individuals will advance to the Regional Meet, set Dec. 1 in Abilene.

In conjunction with the meet Saturday, the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an invitational run open to teams outside of Dist. 5-AAAA. The race, which will include 5-AAA junior varsities, will be run immediately following the district race.

Youthful Ags Surprise SMU Mustangs, 45-10

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Speedy Skip Walker sprinted for 184 yards, scoring two touchdowns and setting up another Saturday as Texas A&M youth brigade defeated SMU 45-10 in Southwest Conference football.

Walker's sophomore running mate Alvin Bowers scored

But Walker, at 17, thought to be the youngest quarterback in a major college football, had too strong of a supporting cast, as Bubba Bean added 100 yards and Bowers 87 yards rushing to Walker's total.

Although SMU ranked seventh nationally in rushing, it did not make a first down until five minutes 30 seconds had elapsed in the second quarter. It was late in the third quarter alive the Aggies' bowl hopes if they should beat Rice next Saturday and SWC-leader Texas here on Thanksgiving.

The A&M-SMU game was billed as the first matchup between freshmen quarterback in the SWC's 59 year history—Ricky Wesson for SMU and David Walker for A&M.

SMU scored in the third quarter on a career record field goal of 47 yards by Clint Hackney and a 45-yard run with a pass interception by Andy Duval with one minute 55 seconds remaining in the game.

A&M's Wishbone T offense rolled up 432 yards rushing for a school record, breaking the old record of 400 against Texas Tech in 1951.

MOJO TAKES ONE GIANT STEP

Permian Routs San Angelo

By The Associated Press
Defending state Class 4A high school champion Odessa Permian, which was ranked only in a tie for 10th this week, took a giant step toward regaining statewide honors Friday by thrashing Texas No. 1 team with surprising ease, 42-7.

That top-ranked team, San Angelo Central, had rolled over its eight previous opponents. The other 10th-ranked team besides Permian, Beaumont South Park, was held to a scoreless tie by Beaumont French, but the rest of the 4A Top Ten and all the top-rated teams in other classes won their games. Second-ranked Brazoswood made a strong case for moving to the top spot by blanking El Campo 28-0. No. 3 Conroe whitewashed Houston Spring Woods 21-0. No. 4 Austin Reagan outscored Austin Lanier 41-21, fifth-ranked Seguin whipped New Braunfels 13-0. No. 6 Port Arthur Lincoln slipped past Port Neches-Groves 9-0. No. 7 Tyler swamped Palestine 54-0, eighth-ranked Wichita Falls slashed Fort Worth Trinity 28-8 and ninth-ranked Baytown Sterling clubbed Houston North Shore 24-0.

The No. 1 teams that won their games included Class 3A's Gregory-Portland 34-6 over Tuloso Midway, Friendswood of 2A 41-7 over Belleville and Class A pacesetter Holliday 34-20 over Knox City.

The Class B No. 1 Big Sandy, had an open date. Three upsets marked Class 3A play among the Top Ten. Second-rated Lewisville lost 28-21 to district rival McKinney. No. 9 Wichita Falls Hirsch was mipped 7-6 by Burk Burnett Thursday night and Ennis, tied for 10th, fell 19-15 to Waco Jefferson-Moore.

Other games saw third-ranked Cuero slap Gonzales 40-0. No. 4 Lamesa crush Colorado City 46-2. No. 5 Mount Pleasant trip Gilmer 27-14, sixth-ranked Aldine Carver blanked Humble 7-0 and Belton tied for 10th, beat Cameron 27-6.

Seventh-ranked West Orange plays Bridge City tonight and No. 8 Brownwood meets Stephenville today.

The top game in 2A was between third-ranked Greer and No. 8 San Diego. The game ended in a 14-14 tie, leaving the district rivals still deadlocked. In other 2A contests, No. 2 Denver City trampled Tahoka 41-0, fourth-ranked Hamlin tripped Ballinger 41-12. No. 5 Rockwall romped over Van 31-6. No. 6 Rivercrest stopped Rains 32-0, ninth-ranked Yieck collapsed Katy 40-6 and 10th-ranked Reagan County whopped Crane 28-14. Seventh-ranked Caldwell lost 27-20 to Bastrop.

The featured Class A match-up was between No. 6 White Oak and ninth-ranked Troup, with White Oak winning 12-7. Meanwhile, No. 2 Frisco beat Sanger 29-8, third-ranked Riviera crumbled San Isidro 36-0, fourth-ranked Barber's Hill edged Hardin 14-7. No. 5 Falls City clogged Three Rivers 49-6. No. 7 Stinnett ripped Gruver 30-6 and No. 9 Cooper roughed up Quinlan 52-18. Tenth-ranked Cedar Hill was idle.

The third head-to-head contest between ranked teams occurred in Class B, where fifth-ranked Wortham and No. 8 Atteit fought to a 10-10 tie. In other games, No. 3 Matador crushed Lazbuddie 56-0, sixth-ranked Celina topped S&S Consolidated 42-6. No. 9 Saint Jo nipped Perrin 27-22 and 10th ranked Meridian beat Eant 35-8. No. 2 Rule, fourth-rated New Waverly and seventh-rated D'Harris joined Big Sandy with open dates.

YOU GET ALL THREE WITH VOLKSWAGEN

1. Better gas mileage
2. Owners Security Blanket
3. The computer that Listens

LIKE IT OR NOT THE
IS HERE
... BUT, WITH VOLKSWAGEN
YOU DON'T NOTICE IT QUITE AS MUCH!

When you buy one,
you get covered by our Owner's Security Blanket, the most advanced new car coverage plan in the world.
For the first 12 months or 20,000 miles, if anything goes wrong, we'll fix it free.* (If the repair takes overnight, just make an appointment and we'll lend you a car free.)
That's just part of our Owner's Security Blanket.
Come in and we'll tell you more.

*For 12 months or 20,000 miles, whichever comes first, in normal use and service we'll fix any factory defective part except tires and filters on any properly maintained '74 Volkswagen.

The car that talks. The computer that listens.

One half of the most advanced automotive check-out system is already built into every new Volkswagen.
The other half, the Computer, has finally arrived.
Together they can tell you what's right or wrong with vital parts of your car. Quickly, accurately, and in language you can understand.
Plain English.
If you own a new Volkswagen, bring it in for a heart-to-heart talk.
If you don't own a new VW, maybe you should.

WEEK'S PLAYBILL

Liz, Laurence Co-Star

ELIZABETH TAYLOR
Witnesses a crime in 'Night Watch'

Laurence Harvey, actor, director, producer, who stars opposite Elizabeth Taylor in "Night Watch" as her husband, John Wheeler, last appeared with her in "Butterfield 8" when Miss Taylor won the first of her two Oscars.

Since then, he has starred in over 20 more films, directed and produced "The Ceremony," co-directed "Dandy in Aspic" and produced "She and He."

In all, he has made over 40 films since his first screen appearance in "House of Darkness" in 1948, in addition to his stage roles.

Harvey has starred opposite many of the screen's most exciting leading ladies. Among them are Mia Farrow, "A Dandy in Aspic"; Jeanne Moreau, "Dead Reckoning"; Anne-Marie, "Rebus"; Joanne Woodward, "W.U.S.A."; Jean Simmons, "Life at the Top"; Jane Fonda, "Walk on the Wild Side"; Sarah Miles, "The Ceremony"; Lee Remick, "The Running Man"; Shirley MacLaine, "The Spinster"; Julie Christie, "Darling"; and Sylvia Kristine, "She and He."

He is also noted for his memorable performance in "Manchurian Candidate" with Frank Sinatra and Angela Lansbury, and most recently completed "Arrow Beach."

Since the 1964 production of "Camelot" in which he starred at London's Drury Lane Theatre, he has appeared in two other recent stage productions: "Arms and the Man," a Chichester Festival production and a starring role in London's West End in Robert Marasco's "Child's Play."

"Night Watch" a Joseph E. Levine and Brut Productions

Presentation will open Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, through Avco Embassy picture release.

RITZ

Now Showing
HARRY IN YOUR POCKET (PG). James Coburn is the chief "cannon" or pickpocket in this movie about the world of pickpockets.

Starting Wednesday
NIGHT WATCH (PG). Elizabeth Taylor plays the focal role of tormented Ellen Wheeler. London-born Miss Taylor, the former child Hollywood star who captured the public's love in "National Velvet," has the unique record of being an international movie star for 25 years. Co-starring is Laurence Harvey.

Now Showing
SUMMERTIME KILLERS (PG). Versatile Karl Malden was among the first to give character acting a good name. Winning early recognition and an Academy Award for his performance in "A Streetcar Named Desire," he now appears in the role of a hardened New York detective of the waterfront area who is forced into the temporary employ of the underworld in search of "The Summertime Killer."

Starting Friday
CHARLEY VARRICK (PG). Charley Varrick, played by Walter Matthau, robs banks — by design small ones, because they are easier to knock over and the legal heat that follows a paltry $15,000 — $20,000 hit dissipates quickly.

This time Charley chose the wrong one, the Western Fidelity Bank of Tres Cruces, N.M. It is the conduit for Mafia money being shipped out of the country. In the space of several minutes, the robbery nets $750,000.

JET

Now Showing
COMMON-LAW CABIN (R), with Alaina Capri and Babette Bardot. Also, GOOD MORNING... AND GOODBYE (R), with Alaina Capri.

Starting Wednesday
JEREMIAH JOHNSON (PG). The lifestyle of the mountain man he portrays in "Jeremiah Johnson" is precisely the kind of lifestyle which appeals to Robert Redford, a contemplative outdoor man at heart and first rate actor by profession.

For the past 10 years or more, Redford has spent as much time as possible in the mountains of Utah, where he maintains a home which he and an Indian friend built near Provo. When he isn't skiing or horseback riding in the area surrounding his home, he wanders the land by foot — either alone or with his family.

Also show will be THE GOOD GUYS AND THE BAD GUYS (PG), with George Kennedy.

Saturday
MORE DEAD THAN ALIVE (PG) and DEATH RIDES A HORSE (PG).

CINEMA
Now Showing
THE LEGEND OF BOGGY CREEK (G). A true monster story.

Tuesday Night
A MAN CALLED PETER.
Starting Wednesday
PAPER MOON (PG), with Ryan O'Neal and his daughter, Tatum.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Nov. 11, 1973 9-8

Crime Elects Novel's Mayor

By DUDLEY LEHEW
Associate Press Writer

"THE FINGERED CITY" by Denison Hatch, Eriksson, 312 pages, $7.95.

The idea of organized crime getting a hand-picked candidate elected mayor of New York City via a secret $10 million, programmed effort is frightening. The question is: is it possible? It's almost impossible to decide for yourself until AFTER you finish this book because excellent writing by the author in his character portraits and story line demand a nonstop reading.

'Goats Head Soup' Brewed By Stones

By JUDY HUGG
Capitol News Service

"Goats Head Soup" doesn't exactly sound like something I'd care to eat but if you're in the mood for some real heady music it should hit the spot. The Rolling Stones, perhaps the world's premiere rock band, have demonstrated their unparalleled consistency once again with the release of this great album.

Rock fans always wait for anything new from the Stones, and this album is cause for celebration. It is the Stones playing as only they can, through the full range of their talents, from the bittersweet lament of "Angie" to the classic rocking "Dancing With Mr. D" and "Silver Train." The release is on their own label and it coincides with the Stones' first television appearance in six years, on Don Kirshner's "Rock Concert." It's a must for all music fans.

Singing and talking in a tough, raspy yet tender style that is true to his unique presentation, Bobby Womack comes across just great on his new release "Facts of Life" on United Artists Records.

The album offers variety and easy listening. One of several well-done songs is one written by the late Sam Cooke entitled "That's Heaven to Me." Bobby sings the song in Cooke style as a tribute to Sam. Other standouts are the title track, "All Along The Watchtower," "Natural Man," and a two-song medley, "Facts of Life" is a fine performance album.

In little over a year Bette Midler has become the most exciting new star of the 1970s. Her club and concert appearances are all SRO; she has a TV special in the offering; her first album on Atlantic records turned to gold. You can't ask for much more than that in such a short period of time.

Bette's new album is full of the magic that made her a superstar in so short a time and it's entitled simply "Bette Midler." She sings songs old and new, investing them all with the warmth and feeling that gives them new life and freshness, whether they are happy or tragic, camp or torch.

WORTH $423,850 Great Grocery Grab In Valley

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Where did all the giveaway groceries go?

That question is being asked frequently in Cameron and Hidalgo counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

When the two border counties swirled from the distribution of U.S. Agriculture Department surplus food commodities for the poor to a federally financed food stamp program, inventories were taken. Shortages were reported in both counties.

Grand juries in the two counties undertook investigations to determine what was missing, where it went and who got it.

NO INDICTMENTS

When the investigations are completed, they reported surplus food missing valued at about $423,850, but no indictments were returned.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Smith at Brownsville said the U.S. Agriculture Department is conducting an investigation into the missing food in Cameron County.

Both grand jury reports were critical of the county commissioners courts. In Cameron County, the grand jury said the shortage was caused by a lack of concern by the commissioners. Hidalgo County grand jurors said their commissioners let the situation "get out of hand."

Where did the groceries go? Neither grand jury offered an answer. Much of the speculation since the first report was issued has been that at least some of it was transported across the international bridges for sale in Mexico.

The Cameron County grand jury reported Oct. 30 they discovered $358,450 worth of surplus food missing. It was itemized as 85,837 pounds of butter valued at $98,700, 74,130 pounds of cheese valued at $96,400, 47,053 cans of chopped meat valued at $158,500 and 24,190 pounds of flour valued at $4,850.

OUT OF HAND

Hidalgo County grand jurors Wednesday did not itemize the missing food, but said the commissioners "allowed the commodities program to get out of hand, allowed it to degenerate to the point where the taxpayers of this county are faced with a possible liability in excess of $65,000 for all of the shortages in the program."

Cameron County grand jurors pointed out in their report that the commissioners took no action even after they learned that shortages were being found.

The surplus foods program was frequently criticized by persons who claimed the food was not always reaching the persons who were supposed to get it.

Indict Deputy In Dice Stickup

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Harrison County's chief deputy sheriff has been indicted in connection with the holdup of a dice game here July 3 in which $14,000 to $30,000 was taken.

J. C. Norman was named in indictments charging conspiracy after the fact to commit armed robbery and being an accessory after the fact to commit armed robbery.

Indictments named Joseph E. "Sonny" Fisher, owner of a private club where the robbery occurred, as a codefendant with Norman and with armed robbery and keeping a gaming house, officials said.

Sheriff N. S. Shivers said Norman would not be suspended as chief deputy and called the indictment a miscarriage of justice.

Norman posted $5,000 bond on each charge Monday, Shivers said.

Officials acknowledged the indictments were handed down Monday and made public Wednesday.

Indicted on charges of robbery with firearms in connection with the holdup were Gillis Hygh, Carl Brown and Erskine Harris.

Authorities said Fisher also was indicted for conspiring with Hygh in connection with the robbery.

Indictments alleged Norman and Fisher conspired for Norman to be an accessory and that Norman was to receive part of the stolen money, officials said.

Juvenile Cases Are Processed

Of 35 cases referred to Ed Cherry, juvenile probation officer, during October, 17 stemmed from theft under $5. Bicycle theft suspects numbered 3, auto burglary suspects five and other burglary suspects two. Cherry dealt with two out-of-state runaways, two juveniles accused of drunkenness, three of disorderly conduct and one aggravated assault. On parole from the Texas Youth Council were three boys and one girl. District Judge Weldon Kirk presided over a juvenile hearing for District Judge R. W. Caton who disqualified himself because of a conflict of interest. With a new state law effective Sept. 1, requiring that juvenile court judges be lawyers, responsibility for juvenile court in all three counties of the 118th District Court is in Judge Caton's hands. The court hearing resulted in one youth being placed in a home for delinquent children. Currently six boys and seven girls from here are in the custody of the Texas Youth Council.

Suit Names Jaworski

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Leon Jaworski, the new Watergate special prosecutor, has been named one of the defendants in a stockholder suit. Jaworski is a director of Coastal States Gas Corp. of Corpus Christi, Tex., another of the defendants. The federal district court suit involves the merger last year of Coastal States and Colorado Interstate Corp. of Colorado Springs, Colo. Both firms are involved in producing and marketing natural gas products. The suit was brought by Cecilia R. Gissen of Hallendale, Fla., a shareholder in Colorado

Interstate who claims that the two corporations issued false and misleading information about the merger. Jaworski has filed an answer claiming innocence of any wrongdoing and asking the court to dismiss the matter. Three suits are pending in federal court involving the two corporations and their officials, but Jaworski is a defendant in only one of the suits.

Indian Artistry

By JO BRIGHT

Turquoise, an opaque, cryptocrystalline mineral, is composed chiefly of hydrated aluminum phosphate — and prized throughout the world as a gem stone.

In the unpolished state it shines with a feeble, waxy luster, and its color ranges from blue and blue green, to greenish gray, according to the amount of copper usually present. The sky-blue variety, commonly referred to as "robin's egg" is the form most desired for jewelry but, can become green and dehydrated by over-long exposure to heat or sunlight.

The stone has been valued for ornamental use since ancient times and is found in neckwear and bracelets recovered from Egyptian tombs. The Aztecs used turquoise for their fine mosaic art.

In the United States, the mineral is worked extensively in New Mexico and in parts of California, Nevada and Arizona. When cut, the stones are usually egg-shaped or globular.

Some of the most beautiful examples of turquoise and silver jewelry are the hand-crafted pieces made by American Indians. Although it is an ancient craft, silverwork was unknown to the Indians until the late 1850's when Navajo tribesmen learned the art from Mexican smiths. The Spanish influence is evident in the designs, even today, which feature domed buttons and hollow, handmade beads. Turquoise settings were first used in 1880.

Jewelry which combines turquoise and silver is produced mainly by the Navajo and Zuni; the Navajo work being generally noted for its massive, simple designs and the Zuni pieces being recognized for their delicacy and accent on stones.

During the past five years, the wearing of Indian jewelry has spread from the Southwest to the metropolitan areas in the East. Its popularity has spawned a host of imitations and machine-made pieces, making it difficult for the novice to know for sure what he is buying. Knowledgeable collectors deal with reputable traders or, if making a purchase on their own, look for rough crudeness of handwork in silver, and unpolished stones with well-defined matrix.

To preserve the reputation of their work, the Navajo tribal council plans to issue certificates with each piece, signed by both the artist and the council, assuring its authenticity.

Early Indian jewelry was hammered from coins, until the government stopped this practice, and now it is made from sterling silver. The "coin" or "pawn" jewelry is more valuable, but difficult to find. It has been said that any old piece will now double in value every year.

Designs in Indian jewelry are not "symbolic," although some stamps or dyes represent the sun, wind, clouds, birds — things held in respect by the tribesmen.

Local owners of fine Indian jewelry treasure their collections and wear them with pride and pleasure. They are a beautiful reminder of a truly American heritage.

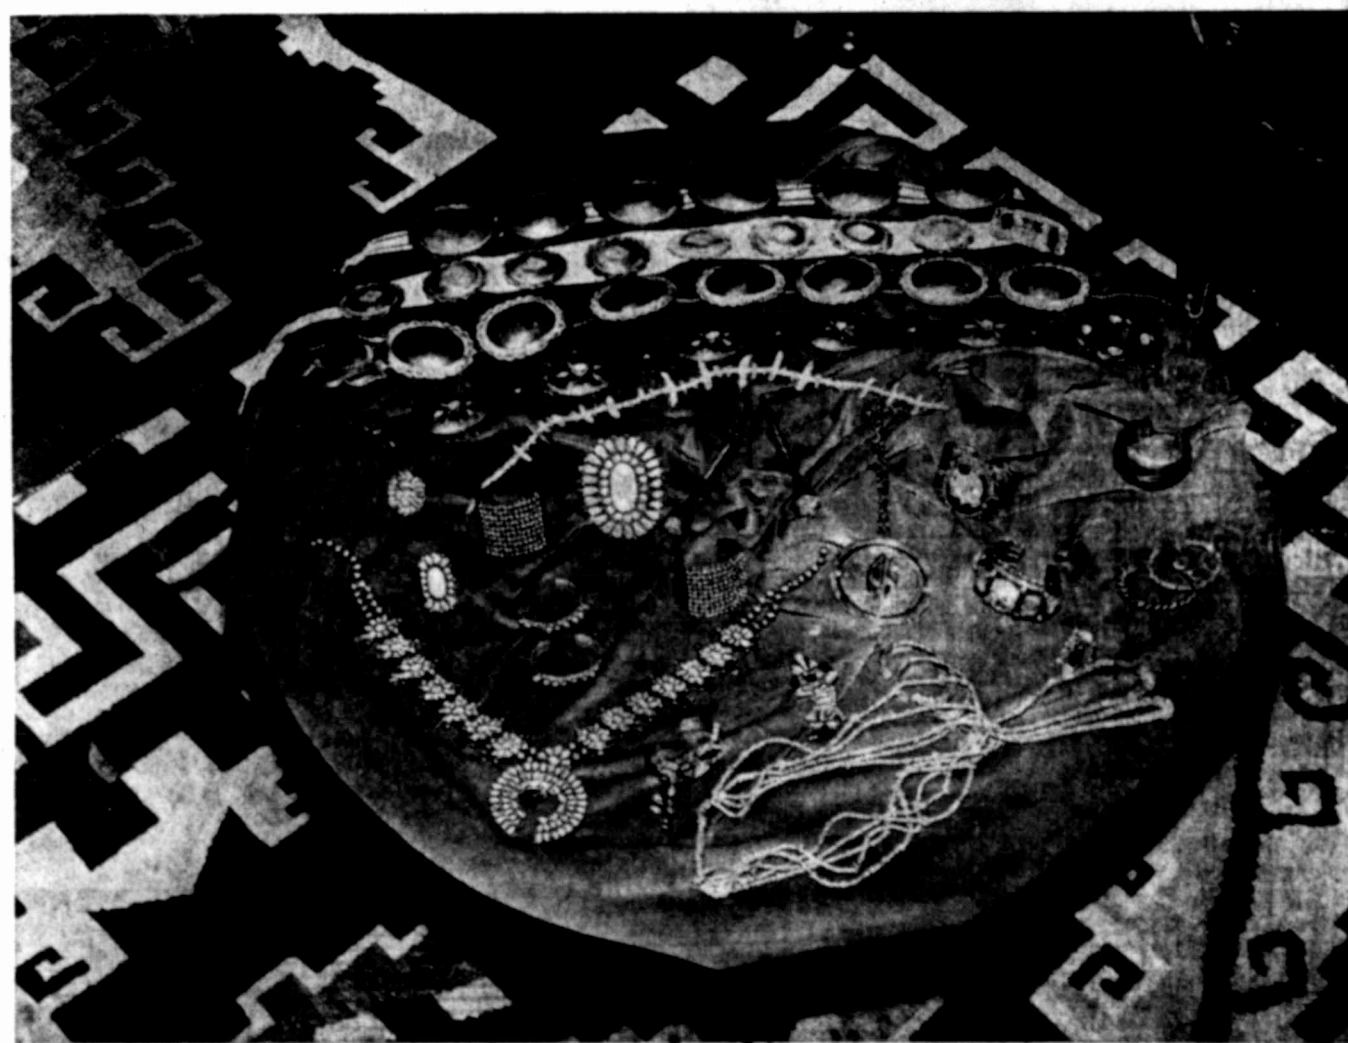

ONE-EIGHTH INDIAN, Mrs. Carl Strom is enrolled in the Osage tribe of Oklahoma, and her home is rich in the heritage of her ancestors. Navajo rugs, pottery, basketry and other art objects are blended into the decor of her home on Hillside Drive. Shown with several books from her extensive library on the American Indian, she is wearing a matching bracelet and ring of turquoise and silver.

BEGINNING her collection with a belt buckle, Miss Zane Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neal, has continued to acquire Indian jewelry, usually from traders with whom she is well-acquainted. The heavier pieces are Navajo; the more delicate ones, emphasizing stones, are from the Zuni tribe. The string of turquoise beads on the right were made by the Hopi.

MAKING A STRIKING appearance against the background of a Navajo rug are selected pieces of Mrs. Carl Strom's turquoise and silver jewelry and concho belts. Original "wampum" is at front right, and on the left is a squash blossom necklace. Her most prized pieces are a silver bracelet and ring set with turquoise and coral stones.

ACQUIRING her first piece of Indian jewelry as a child, Miss Zane Neal added to her collection while traveling the Southwest as a rodeo performer and, later, as owner of "The Mesquite Tree," a shop specializing in art and jewelry. Here, she wears a Navajo concho belt with turquoise and silver necklace and bracelets.

TEN YEARS AGO, Mrs. Hank Thompson acquired the Hopi necklace she is wearing in a small shop in Phoenix, Ariz. It is "overlay," the predominant style produced by the Hopi. The emphasis is on metal work, with very few stones, and interest is centered on the design. The Thompsons also have Navajo blankets and rugs.

Computer Dates

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If you use my letter, please don't use my name. I already feel like a first class fool. I am a 58-year-old widow who signed up with a computer dating service four months ago.

I was interviewed in person and said I liked classical music and theater, and only wanted a presentable escort. I paid them $398, and they guaranteed me two dates a month with a man supposedly selected by computer whose interests would match mine.

None of the characters they came up with were even presentable. All impressed me as men who were looking for a meal ticket. Some were insulting.

After four months without one suitable date, I asked this company for a $200 refund. They turned me down. I saw my lawyer, who said I was an idiot for having gone for a deal like this in the first place.

I could sue them, but I don't want to publicize my foolishness. I ask you, are all these mating and dating services just out to take people? And where does a respectable woman go to meet a decent man?

DEAR ABBY: I've had both bad and good reports on computer dating and mating services. (Mostly bad, which is not surprising since people write to me about their bad breaks — not their good.) I agree with your lawyer. Respectable women meet decent men through mutual friends, or in decent places like volunteer organizations, church groups, and adult education classes.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and am still a virgin. This guy I'll call Randy asked me to go all the way with him. I told him I was saving myself for marriage, and he said I was foolish because no guy wants a virgin anymore. Is that true?

Randy signed up for the Navy for four years and he is leaving soon. Do you think a girl should get that serious with a guy before he goes into the Navy? He probably just wants somebody to write to, but I am afraid to get involved with him knowing he'll be tied up with the Navy for so long.

Please tell me what to do as I am all mixed up.

DEAR IN DOUBT: Slow up, young lady, or you will be in TROUBLE. Plenty of guys want their brides to be virgins so don't let Randy sell you a bill of goods. He sounds like an immature, irresponsible kid you would do well to stay away from.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 20-year-old woman whose mother tells her she is "blockheaded and stubborn" because she refuses to try to make friends with a large dog that attacked her two years ago.

Being attacked by this dog was a traumatic experience for me. I can still remember the bleeding teeth marks on my wrist, and the large scar on my leg which took a year to heal.

My mother claims that this dog is friendly to anyone who isn't afraid of him, so I should pet him through the fence to make friends with him, and act like I am not afraid of him. I claim that under the circumstances it is normal for me to be afraid, and even foolish to be otherwise.

This dog was trained as a watchdog. Am I being stubborn?

J. W. DEAR J. W.: Yes. But intelligently so. They say, every dog is entitled to one bite. And that dog has had his.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 6770, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Wedding Ceremony Performed In Church

Miss Wyvonne Holcombe became the bride of Dennis Wayne Spray during a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. Friday in the First Assembly of God Church. The Rev. G. B. Jones of Jayton, officiated.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Dan McClinton, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Shirley, Houston, vocalists. The rites were performed at an archway accented with votive cups and orchid carnations. Branched candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and mums completed the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Bozo) Holcombe, 1003 Wood, and Spray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Spray, Jayton.

ATTENDANT

Miss Diana Holst, Midland, served the bride as maid of honor, wearing a floor-length gown of white tulle overlaid with orchid lace. The empire bodice was styled with long straight sleeves and a scooped neckline. She wore a Dior bow in her hair with accents of orchid lace.

The bride's gown, formal-length, was of white satin with an overlay of tulle. A band of lace and seed pearls outlined the empire waistline, and the bodice featured a stand-up collar with matching lace. Long sleeves were banded at mid-arm with lace and pearls and were full to a wrist band with similar trim. A chapel-length train fell from a bow at the waistline, and the gown was highlighted with bands of lace and pearls extending from the shoulders. The bride's illusion veil was held by a coronet of white velvet ribbon. She carried a cascade of orchid carnations, white gladioli and roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Cecil Spray of Aspermont, was best man, and ushers were Jimmy Earnest, Sand Springs, and Paul Stone, Jayton.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the First Assembly of God Church. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allen Lange, Mrs. Glenn Everett, Mrs. Chuck Martin and Mrs. E. L. Belcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Spray are on a trip to Carlsbad, N.M., after which they will reside in Jayton. The bridegroom, a graduate of high school in Girard, will join his father in the Spray Well Service. He served two years in the Army. Mrs. Spray graduated from Big Spring High School and was formerly employed at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

MRS. DENNIS WAYNE SPRAY

Miss Paulin Weds Floyd A. Richardson

S. Sgt. and Mrs. Floyd A. Richardson are on a trip to South Texas following their wedding Friday evening in the First Church of God with the Rev. Edwin R. Beasley officiating.

The altar setting featured a white arch covered with greenery and flanked by candelabra. Centering the background was an arrangement of pink and white gladioli and carnations. Nuptial selections were by Mrs. Richard Reagan, pianist; Steve Beasley, organist; and Delbert Hutchings, vocalist.

The bride is the former Paula Paulin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Marsalis, 3604 Boulder. A graduate of Big Spring High School, she has been employed by the Singer Company. Sgt. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Richardson, Alamo, graduated from high school in Donna and is currently stationed at Webb AFB.

FORMAL GOWN

The bride was attired in a formal gown of white cotton and acetate edged with

Tour Films Shown To Hyperions

A film showing highlights of a tour of Europe and the Holy Land was shown Tuesday evening by Mrs. L. B. Edwards for 1955 Hyperion Club in the home of Mrs. James Cape, 2518 E. 24th.

Mrs. Edwards said she visited Rome, Italy and Lebanon and crossed the Sea of Galilee at the mouth of the Jordan River. During trips to Israel and Jordan she toured Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Jericho.

Some of the most interesting sites viewed, according to Mrs. Edwards, were Christ's birthplace in Bethlehem; Mount Olive, Garden of Gethsemane and the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem; and the Acropolis, Parthenon and amphitheatre at Athens, Greece.

Mrs. Edwards was introduced by Mrs. David Elrod, vice president. Mrs. C. W. Mahoney presided, and members agreed to donate to the Christmas gift fund at the Big Spring State Hospital and to provide gifts for patients. Also, in lieu of a gift exchange among members, the women will bring candy and fruit to the December meeting to be given to patients at BSSH.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Walter Ross and Mrs. Tip Anderson Sr. The next meeting is scheduled at 11 a.m., Dec. 4 in the home of Mrs. Walter Wheat, 901 Mountain Park. Brunch will be served.

Cluny lace. The waistline, Gibson girl sleeves and border of the demi-full skirt were trimmed with lace woven with satin ribbon. Matching trim accented the neckline, shoulders and back of the bodice. A Venise lace cloche held her chapel-length veil of illusion which was bordered with ribbon-laced trim. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink and white camellias, pink roses and lily of the valley.

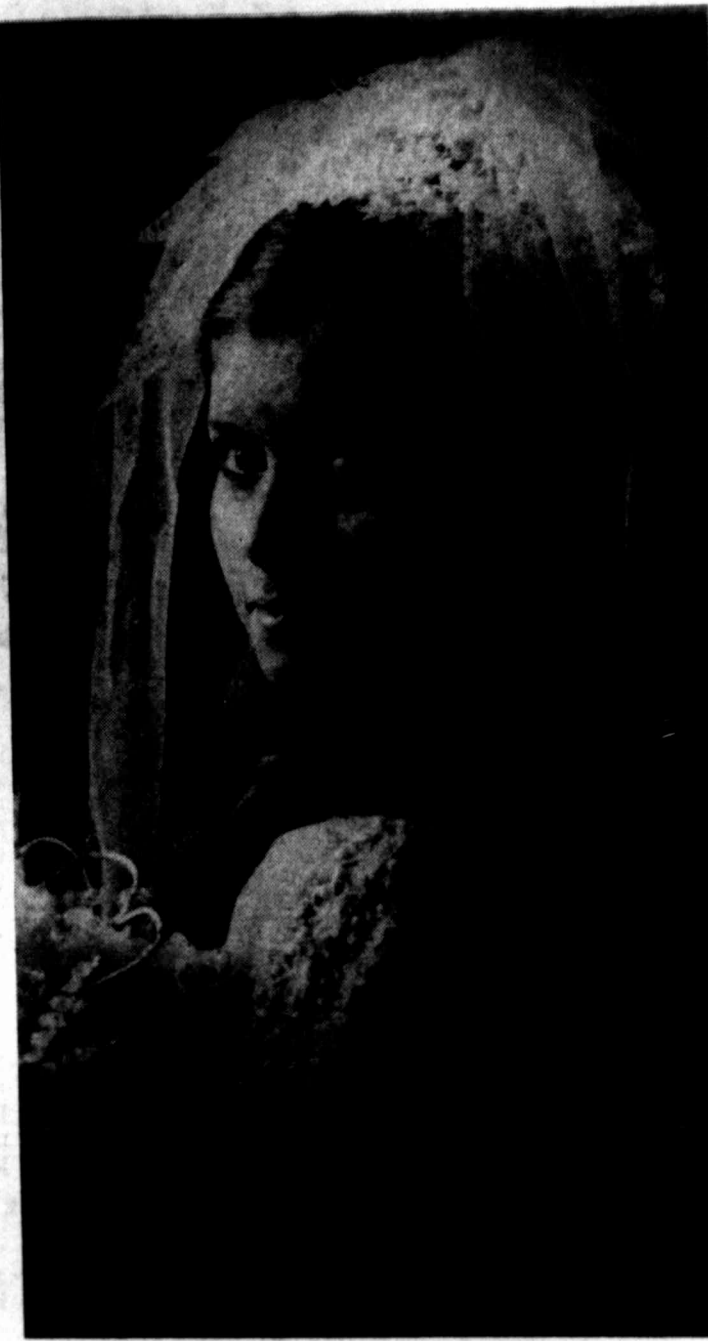

Mrs. Ernie Payne, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenny Pietz and Miss Janell Wright. Mrs. Payne's burgandy velvet gown, sashed at the waistline and accented with ruffles on the stand-up collar, and cuffs and forming a V on the bodice. She wore a headpiece of pink camellias on burgandy velvet with a blusher veil. The other attendants were attired in identical gowns of pink crepe, styled like the matron of honor's, and their headpieces were pink camellias on pink velvet bands with blusher veils. Their bouquets were nosegays of pink camellias accented with burgandy and pink streamers.

John Steele, Edinburgh, was best man, and groomsmen were T. Sgt. Jimmy Birdsell and Sgt. Gerry Parenteau, both of Webb AFB. The ushers were Kenneth Walton and David Beasley, and the ring bearer was Derek Payne. The flower girl, Rachel Howard, was dressed identically to the bridesmaids.

The reception was held in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

The bride's table was covered with a pink cloth, overlaid with white net and edged with greenery. A cherub vase held an arrangement of pink flowers. The bridegroom's table, laid with a burgandy-fringed muslin cloth, was centered with a burgandy candle ringed with fruit.

Those serving were Miss Sharilyn Barbee, Miss Donna Pearson, Miss Tina

MRS. FLOYD A. RICHARDSON

Rotenberry, Miss Aneica Carile and Miss Kim Tucker.

GUESTS

Those attending from out of town, other than the bridegroom's parents, were his grandmother, Mrs. Rita Salazar, and Miss Alma Salazar, both of Premont; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. V. Pringle, and Miss Brenda Miller, both of West Monroe, La.; Mrs. Walter Mielcarek, McAllen; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Huser, Austin; Vance Wingfield, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Dan Pringle, Hammond, La.; Mrs. Pele Lerma, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Jimmy Kirkpatrick, Houston; Mrs. Carmen Young, Quitman; and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Salazar, Richmond.

Sgt. and Mrs. Richardson will reside at Apt. 3, 4297 W. Hwy. 80.

Forsan Residents Visit Relatives

FORSAN (SC) — Recent guests of the T. R. Camps were the John Owens', Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Freda Neel and the T. A. Camps, all of Big Spring.

Mrs. Van Gaston and her parents, the W. E. Heidemans, have returned from a trip to Unity, Mo. Mrs. Gaston's children, Vance and Vanessa, spent a weekend with their grandparents, the Clifford Gastons, Sterling City.

The Henry Parks' are in Houston to visit their son and family, the Johnny Parks'. The O. W. Scuddays are in Eastland to see their son-in-law and daughter, the Jerry Mathews. Also there is their son, Bernie Scudday of Dallas.

Mrs. J. H. Cardwell is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Heilhecker, Abilene. Mrs. Cardwell plans to continue to San Antonio to visit her granddaughter and family, the Paul Garones.

MR. AND MRS. MELVIN A. LOUDAMY

Today Marks Anniversary

The Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Arthur Loudamy will be celebrated today with a family dinner in the couple's home at 1300 Muir.

Mr. and Mrs. Loudamy have four children. Their daughters are Joy Loudamy and Mrs. Terry M. (Dorothy) Carter, both of Big Spring, and the twin sons are Loy Loudamy, Big Spring, and Roy Loudamy, of Lake Jackson. There are two granddaughters and three grandsons.

Reared in the Elbow Community of Howard County, Mrs. Loudamy is the former Gladys Irene Hull, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hull. Mr. Loudamy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Loudamy, was reared in Glasscock County.

The couple was married Nov. 11, 1923 in the courthouse at Garden City by the Rev. Clyde R. Campbell who is now pastor of the Baptist Church at Bazette. The Loudamys are of the Baptist faith.

For many years, Mr. and Mrs. Loudamy farmed in the Centerpoint Community and owned numerous cafes in Big Spring which he calls "hamburger joints." The last such business which they operated was the Kossy Kitchen on Runnels Street, which they closed in February, 1972 and went into semi-retirement. They still own acreage, and they have "a garden, orchard, cows, chickens, dogs and cats" which keep them busy.

Discusses Life In Germany

Traditions and lifestyles in Germany were discussed Tuesday for College Park Home Demonstration Club by Mrs. J. C. Williams and Mrs. Ronnie McDonald.

A brief history of German ancestry in Texas was given by Mrs. Williams. Modern-day Germany was explored by Mrs. McDonald who spent four years in that country. She said German women shop daily for groceries and must provide their own containers. German stores do not supply paper bags or boxes.

Mrs. McDonald said cars are a luxury in Germany. The residents do a lot of walking, both out of necessity and for pleasure. Following the talk, members toured the McDonald home at 800 W. 18th, where the meeting was held. The hostess pointed out many items obtained in Germany, including wood carvings, hand-blown glass, candles, crystal, clocks, furniture and antiques.

Mrs. J. C. Williams presided. Mrs. John Couch, council delegate, reminded the women that a program on Christmas foods and decorations will be given by Mrs. June Williamson at 2 p.m., Nov. 16 in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. The public is invited to attend.

It was announced the HD council Christmas party will be at 2 p.m., Dec. 3 in the First United Methodist Church. Gifts will be exchanged.

Mrs. Steve Dreher will host the next meeting, Oct. 20, at First Federal Community Room.

Shine Shoes For Longer Wear

Polish and shine shoes before you wear them and each time that you wear them thereafter. This causes them to last much longer. If you have several small school children in the family, clean shoes the night before and when dry apply a thin coating of paste wax. The children can then shine them themselves the next morning.

Rose Culture Hints Reviewed For Club

Now is a good time to take cuttings from roses, according to Mrs. Robert Stripling who explained the process Wednesday for Big Spring Garden Club.

Mrs. Stripling said the cutting should be taken from the stem of a bloom, cutting the bloom off just above the first leaf. The stem should then be cut at a slant about 10 inches down the stem. All but the top leaf should be removed.

The stem end should be pushed into a root stimulant about four feet square, prepared with sand and peat moss, watered and covered with a glass jar. The speaker suggested mustard or pickle jars, and said about four cuttings can be placed under one large jar. The jars should not be removed until late March, but after one month you can tell if they are still green. In March, they can be placed in a permanent location.

Mrs. Stripling also told how to grow roses from seeds. Rose hips (large green balls or knots where blooms were) can be cut off, opened and seeds removed. She said the seeds should be placed in a plastic bag with some damp peat moss or paper towel, and placed in a vegetable crisper in the refrigerator. The seeds can be planted in January.

Garden roses can be fertilized now with a winter feeding of little or no nitrogen content, but that is high in phosphate and has a small amount of potash.

Invocation was by Mrs. J. C. Pickle, and Mrs. Clyde Angel presided. Bruce Griffith, Howard County agent, outlined types of soil found in the county and distributed brochures about soil types. He said his office is available as a service to county residents.

It was announced that Miss Marie McDonald made a donation to the club to be used in landscaping Heritage Museum. The gift was made in memory of Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. D. O.

Club Told Qualities Of Faithful

"The great women of the Christian faith all had three qualities in common," said Mrs. O. T. Brewster Wednesday as she named the important women of the faith for 1953 Hyperion Club at the home of Mrs. Daryle Hohertz, No. 7 Highland Heather.

"The women possessed a willingness to suffer, a life filled with activity and a radiance of presence," continued Mrs. Brewster. She said neither hunger, disease nor weariness altered their faith, and that they all brought hope, faith and love to the world.

Women mentioned by Mrs. Brewster included Helena, mother of Constantine; Hannah, wife, mother and grandmother of various saints and bishops; Hilda, the most distinguished churchwoman of the Anglo-Saxon period; and Susannah Wesley, mother of John and Charles Wesley.

Mrs. Brewster was introduced by Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, vice president, who presided. The next meeting will be an "international day" with guest speakers, Mrs. Wendall Dickinson of Germany, and Mrs. Elbert Jackson of Greece. It will be held at 1 p.m., Dec. 5 in the home of Mrs. Ralph Caton, 619 Colgate.

Texas Boys' Choir Sings Here Friday

The Texas Boys Choir comes here Friday as the second in the current Civic Concert Association series.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. at the municipal auditorium, and only those who have season memberships may attend. Individuals who have come to Big Spring since the enrollment campaign may still enroll by calling Mrs. Paul Kionka, 263-3942.

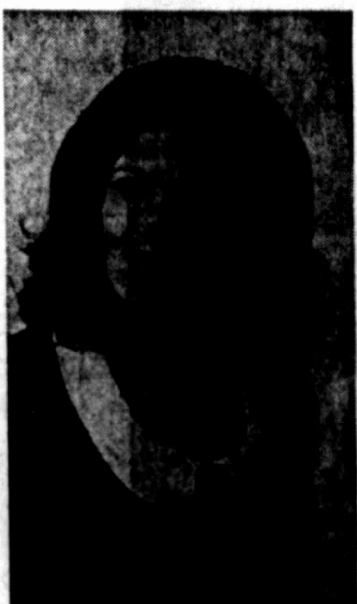

This is no fly-by-night juvenile musical group, Texas Boys Choir, now is in its 26th season under direction of the founder, George Bragg, has toured 15 European countries as well as going into Mexico, Canada and nearly every state in the union. Aside from the superb musicianship, the choir also has colorful and excellently staged routines, among them "The Continental Soldier Suite," arranged as its tribute to America's up-coming bicentennial.

Now open for your viewing at Heritage Museum is the exhibit on schools in Howard County. This goes back a long, long way — into the early 1880's in fact. At first school was under a buffalo hide tent near the "big spring"; then in a frame structure that antedated the courthouse; ultimately into a brick plant where the county library now is located. Then districts proliferated until there were 26 of them in the county before modern highways, fast transportation and economics shrunk the number back to three — Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan. Among those responsible for the splendid exhibit, which you may see today from 1-5 p.m., are Bill Dawes, chairman, Mrs. Dawes, Helen Acuff, Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, Clara Conger, Glenn Guthrie, Walker Bailey, Dan Conley and Agnes Currie.

"Colorprint USA," Texas Tech's fourth annual national juried show featuring works of contemporary printmakers, opens this afternoon at the Department of Art Teaching Gallery on the Tech campus. On display will be 83 color prints selected from 425 entries submitted by U.S. artists.

The 11th annual show of the Midland Gem and TELLS PLANS — Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Bell, 1000 Birdwell Lane, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Vickie Jo, to Airman L.C. Rick Charles Gorrondona of Webb AFB. The future bridegroom is the son of C. D. Gorrondona, Donaldsonville, La. and the late Mrs. Rosemary Gorrondona. The wedding is scheduled Dec. 17 in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Mineral Society concludes today at the National Guard Armory, 3900 North Lamesa Road, Midland. Outstanding collections, both by dealers and by individuals, will be on display, including creative jewelry. To someone who attends the show will go a sunburst gold pin centered with a black opal triplet accented with seven small diamonds.

The West Texas Watercolor Association has announced that $3,050 will be distributed in awards for paintings in its 1973 annual water color exhibition to be shown Dec. 16-Jan. 12 in the Museum of Texas Tech University. All artists 18 years or older are eligible to submit entries of original paintings in transparent watercolor on paper. Entry fee is $3. Applications may be made by writing to the Museum of Texas Tech University, 4th and Indiana, Lubbock 79406.

Colorado City Playhouse is announcing its cast and date for the fall musical, "The Fantasticks," the celebrated play written by two University of Texas students, Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt. It is well known for its 13-year run off Broadway. The cast will include Rita Kreig (the mute), George Womack (the narrator), Cathy Curlee (the girl), Carl Beery Moore (the boy), Sonny Pawkett (girl's father), Tandy Curlee (boy's father), Larry DeBusk, (the old actor), and Jacky Jackson (man who dies). An orchestra of percussion, bass, harp and piano has been assembled. Production dates are Nov. 29-30 and Dec. 1, 6, 7 and 8. Tickets will be $2.50 starting Nov. 26 and may be had by writing to the Playhouse, Colorado City 79512.

Scores Tallied For La Gallinas

First place winners during La Gallinas bridge Friday at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. Auril LaFond and Mrs. G. E. Peacock. Mrs. Jim Bill Little and Mrs. Paul Shaffer tied for second and third places with Mrs. Ollie Anderson and Mrs. Garner McAdams. Taking fourth were Mrs. Edward Corson and Mrs. John Affleck.

Winners Named In Bridge Play

Mrs. Elvis McCrary and Mrs. Ray McMahan were high scorers in duplicate bridge play Friday at Big Spring Country Club. There were six tables in the competition.

Other winners were Mrs. W. J. Harris and Mrs. Ward Hall, second; Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., third; Mrs. J. D. Robertson and Mrs. John Stone, fourth; and Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Morris Rhodes, fifth.

Sister Rosario Martin Will Pledge Final Vows

Sister Rosario Martin, a native of Big Spring, will pronounce her final vows here as a member of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus in San Antonio.

The perpetual profession of Sister Martin will take place during the Eucharistic Celebration at 3 p.m., Nov. 17 at Sacred Heart Church, 5810 N. Aylford St., according to a joint announcement by the Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Sister Martin's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Ontiveros.

Sister Martin is the daughter of Mrs. Jesse Cervantes, Big Spring, and her father is deceased. She has two sisters, Mrs. Joe (Mary) Doport, Big Spring, and Mrs. David (Lucy) Turner of North Carolina; and three brothers, Juan Cervantes, Ezekiel Cervantes and Oscar Cervantes, all of Big Spring. After making her temporary profession July 25,

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Nov. 11, 1973 5-C

1967 in San Antonio, Sister Martin continued her training in that city and was in France during June of this year. She is currently stationed in San Juan, Texas.

Which Color TV has the best picture?

People from all over America looked at the six leading big-screen color TV's

They voted ZENITH SUPER CHROMACOLOR the best picture by more than 2 to 1!

How the test was made

The entire test was conducted by a leading independent research organization, Opinion Research Corporation, of Princeton, New Jersey.

Opinion Research purchased six new color television sets directly from retail stores. All sets were 25-inch (diagonal measurement) solid-state, full-featured models representing the six largest-selling brands in the United States.

The test was set up in the lobby of America's largest hotel, the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, to reach people from all over the country.

All six sets were masked so they couldn't be identified. Only the pictures were visible. Each picture had a number above it. Viewers were asked to vote, by number, for the best picture. At the end of each day of voting, the sets were rotated to new NUPTIALS — The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Robyn Hevern Rowe to Charles Voight Jr., is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowe, 1000 E. 21st. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Voight Sr., Box 195, Gail Rt. The wedding is scheduled Dec. 8 in Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

FUTURE BRIDE — The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Micki Craddock to Danny Ray Heckler is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Craddock, 1804 Dixie. Heckler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Heckler of Luther. The wedding will be Dec. 14 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, with the Rev. Carroll C. Kohl officiating.

Mrs. Horace Garrett To Head MS Drive

Mrs. Horace Garrett, 715 Edwards will head the 1973 Multiple Sclerosis Campaign in Big Spring, it was announced today by Mrs. Sara Woodruff, executive director of the Permian Basin Chapter of MS. This year's drive will be Nov. 19.

"I feel honored to head this campaign and know that Big Spring can be counted on to cooperate in making the 1973 drive even better than last year," said Mrs. Garrett.

The Permian Basin Chapter of MS is in its third year and has been able to help many patients and their families in this area. Sixty per cent of the money contributed stays here, and forty per cent goes to the National Research Program to help conquer this tragic disease.

Multiple Sclerosis is a disabling disease of the central nervous system, brain, and spinal cord. It attacks the substance which protects nerve fibers so that message impulses controlling functions of seeing, walking, speaking, movement, and balance are distorted and blocked. This disease generally strikes young persons between the ages of 20 and 40, the productive, child-rearing age. With one-half of the population of the United States under twenty eight years of age, it is imperative to find the cause and cure for this crippling.

According to Mrs. Garrett, "All Beta Sigma Phi chapters of Big Spring are calling for volunteers to walk their blocks in order to give everyone an opportunity to contribute in the fight against Multiple Sclerosis. This door to door campaign is our only fund raising event of the year and we hope everyone welcomes the neighbor who knocks on their door Nov. 19."

Contacts Made By Church Unit

Thirty-one visits and 152 telephone calls to church members were reported by the Susannah Class, First United Methodist Church during a noon luncheon meeting Thursday in the Downtown Tea Room.

Mrs. Mark Wentz worded the invocation, and Mrs. Flora Brown presented the devotional. The class chose as its November project to provide a Thanksgiving basket for the Baker Chapel pastor's family.

The next regular meeting will be Dec. 13 at the tea room.

Restoration Of Photos Explained

Photo restoration was explained by Wesley Pierce, a photographer for Photo West studio, when he was speaker at Thursday's meeting of the Genealogical Society of the Big Spring. The group met in the conference room of Howard County Library.

Pierce stressed the importance of checking with authorities about what can or cannot be copied by a photographer. He outlined seven steps in the restoration and reproduction of old photographs, beginning with the cleaning, making copy negative, retouching of negative and on through the process to the finished print.

The speaker said much can be accomplished in the restoration of old photographs with the use of infrared lighting and ultraviolet radiation to detect faded out portions.

Mrs. Helen Earley presided, and Pierce was introduced by Mrs. Christine Horn, program chairman.

The next meeting will be Dec. 6 when a research workshop will be held from 5 to 9 p.m. in the library conference room.

Little Yarn Will Prevent Rust

Use rug yarn or other left over yarn to work buttonhole stitch over wire clothes hangers all the way round, drawing the yarn tight. This keeps garments from falling off the hangers and also prevents rust.

Rites In Home Unite Couple

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Carletta Pierce and Airman Michael Bishop at 6 p.m., Saturday in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Pierce, Stanton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce, Rt. 1, Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Bishop, Lincoln, Ill.

Performing the rites was the Rev. Charles Carter, San Angelo, interim pastor at Tarzan Baptist Church. The altar setting included twin arched candelabra entwined with emerald foliage and accented with white tapers. Clusters of fuchsia and pink carnations were arranged in another candelabrum.

A prelude of traditional nuptial music was provided by the bride's sister, Miss Laurabeth Pierce, pianist, who accompanied Marc Traweck, Midland, soloist.

The bride's formal-length gown was fashioned in soft fuchsia velour with an inset band outlining the empire waistline and forming a tie in the back. An off-white satin bib effect with a squared neckline complemented the bodice. Ruffled lace edged the neckline and extended over the shoulders. The short puffed sleeves were banded with matching lace. She wore an off-white picture hat with a fuchsia band, and carried a cascade of white roses and feathered fuchsia carnations.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Marc Traweck, Midland. She wore a princess-style gown of pink knit with short sleeves and fuchsia trim.

Airman James L. Adams of Webb Air Force Base was best man.

Bishop graduated from high school in Lincoln, Ill., and is currently assigned at Webb AFB. Mrs. Bishop is a senior at Big Spring High School.

A reception honored the newlyweds in the dining area of the home of the bride's grandparents. An off-white lace cloth overlaid a pink linen cloth on the refreshment table. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink and fuchsia carnations and pompons around a branched silver candelabrum. Crystal appointments were used.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tom E. Angel, Stanton; Mrs. Edward Pierce, Lenora; and Mrs. Ted Mattingly, Big Spring. Presiding at the guest registry was the bride's sister, Miss Jackie Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will reside at 107 E. 21st. Guests for the wedding included his parents.

Importance Of Wills Noted By Attorney

The importance of making wills was stressed Thursday by Ben Bancroft, local attorney, who spoke to College Heights Parent-Teacher Association in the school cafeteria.

Bancroft said preparation of a will by a lawyer can avoid excessive taxes and save much time and trouble for heirs. He suggested that life insurance be made payable to a specific beneficiary rather than to an estate in order to save money.

Mrs. Alton Ditto, treasurer, announced the fall carnival and chili supper was profitable. Mrs. Jimmy Townsend presided.

In other business, Mrs. A. C. Jones was named a delegate to the annual convention of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, Wednesday through Friday in Austin. Mrs. Jim Thomasson was named alternate delegate. Also attending will be Mrs. Townsend.

A committee was named to choose the group's project for the current school year. Members are Mrs. Leslie Walter, Mrs. Billy

MOD Research May Stop Birth Defects

"More than 350,000 babies are born with birth defects each year," said Mrs. Dan Hutchison, guest speaker Tuesday for Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association. She said birth defects are caused by hereditary or environmental conditions, or through the use of drugs.

Mrs. Hutchison, executive secretary for the Caprock Chapter of the March of Dimes, outlined work done by the MOD. Locally, she said the MOD helps about 20 people who have birth defects.

"The main purpose of the MOD is to discover the cause of, and find preventive methods for, birth defects," said Mrs. Hutchison. She said some of the organization's funds are used for research through grants given to medical students who want to specialize in the area. Also, MOD funds assist in paying for transportation, food and lodging of families of people with birth defects who must be taken to a hospital away from their home.

The meeting was held at La Posada Restaurant. Vocational talk was by Mrs. Hanese Yetman who outlined her duties in interior design for D & C Mobile Home Sales.

Plans were made to sell refreshments at a flea market scheduled Nov. 18 in the lot next to May Belle's Antiques. Guests were Mrs. D. H. Soles, Mrs.

TEXAS CROPS

Harvest Tomatoes In Dell City Area

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Harvest operations and planting of wheat and oats made some progress last week, but weather conditions were less than ideal, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Although defoliation have been widely used on cotton to ready the crop for harvesting, some farmers are still waiting for a killing frost to drop the leaves, he said.

PEANUTS

Harvesting of peanuts and cotton in North Central, Central, South Central and Southeast Texas made some progress, Hutchison said, and the second rice crop is being cut in the Coastal Plains.

The pecan harvest is under way in a number of counties but fields are expected to be light except in portions of Far West Texas and along the Red River because of late freeze last spring and widespread insect and disease problems, he said.

Planting of wheat and oats is moving toward completion in most counties and most early fields are making good progress with the abundant levels of soil moisture, Hutchison said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

BLACKEYED PEAS

South Plains: The cotton harvest is making rapid progress with excellence and quality. Grain sorghum harvesting is moving toward completion with good to excellent yields. Harvesting of blackeyed peas and green beans is about complete.

Rolling Plains: Harvesting of cotton, grain sorghum, peanuts and pecans is making good progress. Some cotton farmers are defoliating their crops but most are waiting on a killing frost to prepare the crop for harvest. Early small grain plantings are providing good grazing. Some greenbug, armyworm and white grub damage is in scattered wheat fields.

Far West: The grain sorghum harvest is 90 per cent complete in some counties. Tomatoes are being harvested in the Dell City area. The bell pepper harvest is about complete in the Pecos area. Carrot harvesting is starting. The seed crop of okra is also ready to harvest at Pecos. Livestock are in good condition.

ROOT ROT

West Central: Cotton harvesting is in full swing. Root rot damage is heavy in Coleman County. Harvesting of peanuts and pecans is under way. Wheat and oats are providing grazing for livestock. Some fields remain to be planted.

Southwest: Harvesting of the fall peanut crop is nearing completion. Yields are below

Court Will Amend Budget

Amending the 1973 and 1974 budgets is on the agenda for County Commissioners Court Monday morning.

Rather than spend revenue sharing funds for the library, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, wants to substitute an equal amount of money from other sources for this purpose.

She fears difficulties might arise by using revenue sharing funds here when the library is benefiting from membership in the state library system.

Federal funds might be mingled with state funds used by the state library system, she said.

Sharing funds can't be used where federal grants have been made.

While there will be no increase in total spending over the total amount budgeted for spending this year, limits of several categories within the 1973 budget have been exceeded, the auditor said.

Approving bills and the regular conference with Marvin Hanson, road administrator, also appears on the agenda.

Guitar Class Set At YMCA

A guitar class for youth and adults will be offered at the YMCA beginning Thursday. The class will be for beginners. No previous musical background is necessary to enroll, however, a person must be at least 10 years of age.

The class will consist of eight lessons on Thursdays, 7:00 — 8:00 p.m., at the YMCA. Instructor for the series will be Don Tolle. Further information may be obtained at the YMCA by telephoning 267-8234.

Prospectors Plan On Trip

The Prospectors Club made plans for a trip to Brady the second weekend in December, weather permitting, during a Thursday night meeting.

Aaron Welch, program chairman, showed members a film of the Grand Canyon. Welcomed as new members were Harvey and Letha Williams, Dwain and Louise Leonard and Cibly Stielman. Joseph Donahue was a visitor.

The meeting was held in the club building at 1628 E. 3rd St.

Superintendency On List Of School Board Items

The employment of the superintendent of schools will be among the items of business to be considered by the schools Monday at their regular meeting at 5:15 p.m.

Supt. S. M. (Sam) Anderson has indicated in the past that he will probably retire next August. It is not known whether the board will name a successor at this time or simply discuss the matter.

Exemption of residence homestead taxes for persons 65 or older will also be among the items considered by the school board.

The group also will hear a report on feasibility of a school air conditioning project. Audiences are set for hearings on carpeting of Moss Elementary School library, the city's use of Steer baseball park, and a proposed paved area at Marcy Elementary.

Other business includes routine resignations and employment, the annual audit retaining an auditor for the next school year, a proposed increase in substitute teacher pay scale, the appointment of the textbook committee, a discussion of the Gay Hill facilities, school bus needs, and a bilingual education program.

Do What Must Be Done

Like many diseases, the energy — or fuel — crisis is both acute and chronic.

President Nixon, in his address last week, outlined some measures which may mitigate the seriousness of the acute phase. Among these are tightening of certain transportation schedules, eliminating marginal ones; lower temperatures for heated buildings; slower speeds on the highways; possibly use of daylight hours for working.

These, with themselves, will make no dramatic impact on the shortage, but they will lessen the effects. Perhaps we need to economize on use of fuels for heating and power in order to remind ourselves not to be so profligate. But in the long run, the chronic stage of the crisis can be dealt with only as additional supplies or alternate supplies are developed.

In many respects, regulations and practices that will be developed will not be needed or warranted in this area, but they will be applicable along with the rest of the nation. We will not be caught up in the logistics of distribution as in the metropolitan areas, but we may be skewed on the horns of allocations and rationing just the same.

However, we ought to be cooperative in the spirit that all of us are essentially involved in the nation's welfare.

Part of this difficulty could have been avoided by more realistic policies in the past. First of all, policies which have discouraged exploration for additional supplies of oil and have encouraged foreign imports (for which many of the major oil companies must share blame along with government) have helped deepen the seriousness of the situation. Similarly, over-reaction to a belated concern about atmospheric pollution has prevented or retarded proper development of hard fossil fuels, and other alternate sources of energy.

The tendency to temporize and delay facing up to the crisis, until the seriousness of the situation forced acknowledgment that it indeed was upon us, is another factor in the current pinch.

An insatiable thirst for energy, beyond our capacity to supply the demand, plus the Mideast war which has virtually shut off these oil imports, has shaken us to attention. And, as usual, we will do what we have to do, although it may seriously affect our way of doing things.

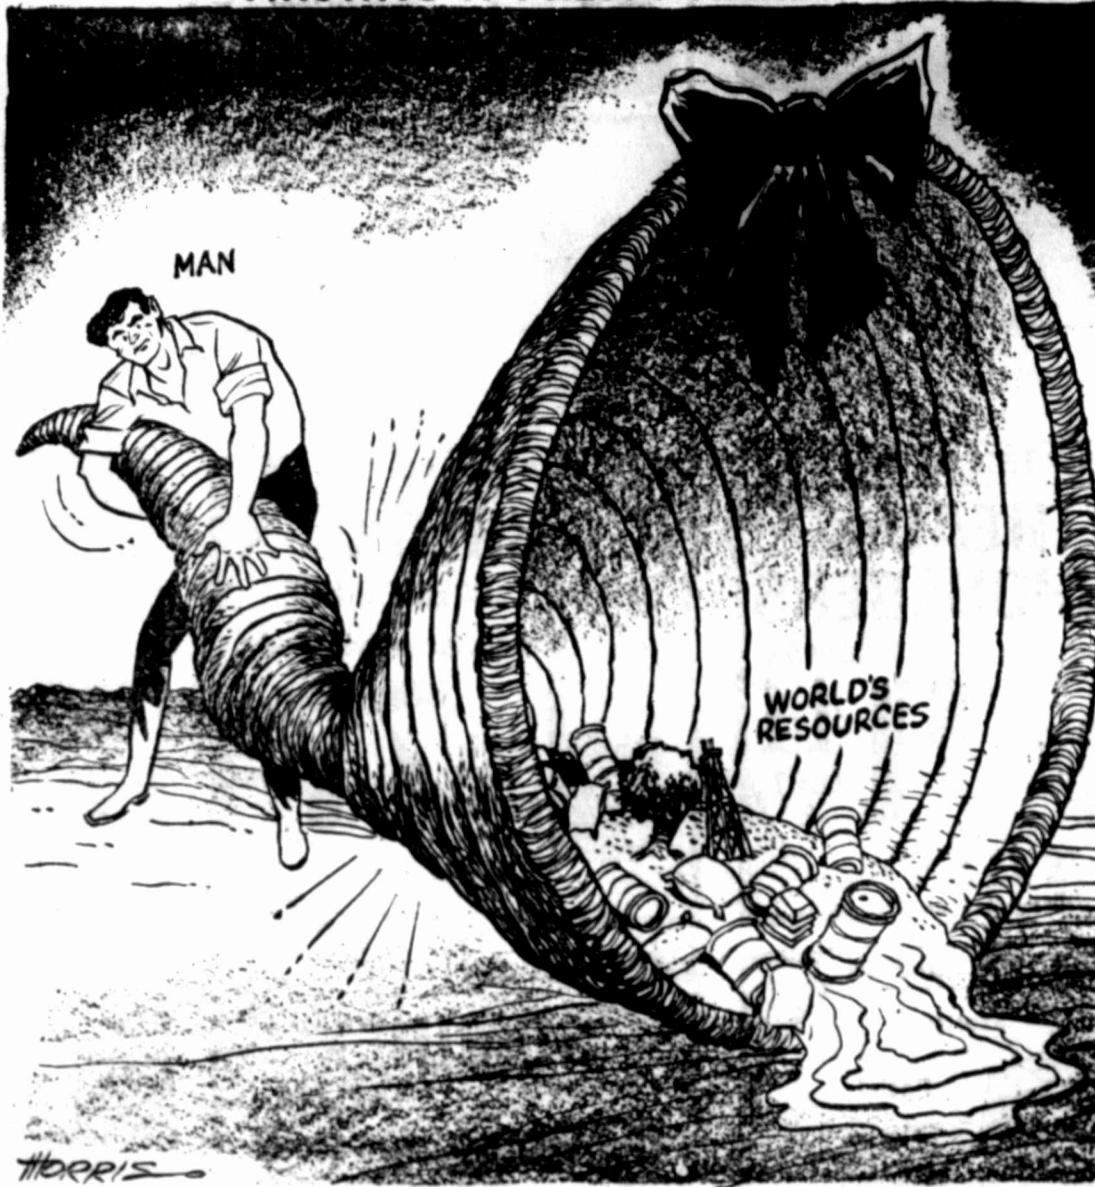

Fitting Memorial

The Fireside Room at the Officers Mess at Webb AFB has been renamed the Whipkey Room, honoring the memory of Robert W. Whipkey, former Herald publisher and for many years a benefactor of the air base here.

It would not be possible or fair to categorize his many interests and endeavors, but it was a fact that he delighted in cementing and nourishing the relationship between Webb and the community. He was more than a mortar which linked them; rather he was more like a magnet in constantly drawing the two together as one. And this contribution, perhaps, may be better memorialized through the perpetuation of his name.

TWISTING IT PRETTY HARD!

Energy Crisis Has Economic Impact

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's call this past week for cutbacks in energy use seemed certain to bring reductions in the nation's economic activity.

But even before it was really determined what parts of the economy would be hit and how hard, some energy suppliers were saying the President could or should have gone further.

The presidential proposals, prompted by reduced supplies of Mideast oil, included a call for voluntary cutbacks in the use of heating oil. They also included an order that heating oil allocations would be cut back 15 per cent from last year's level.

The President said he would ask for legislation affecting working hours and putting new

The Week's Business

- Airline, truck schedules tightened to cut fuel use
- President hints DST may be recalled to save power
- Wholesale prices ease off, for second consecutive dip
- Farm prices decline 5.3 pct., may be reflected at counters
- Automobile sales 12 pct. behind, may show further drop limits on airlines and truckers.

While the White House was offering its ideas to Congress, energy experts warned that tighter measures might be needed before the winter is over, let alone before the country's energy problems are solved.

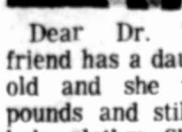

"The need for rationing is not as far removed as President Nixon indicated," said a spokesman for Sun Oil Co., who contended that the various measures would still leave the nation short a million barrels of oil a day. "If people get behind this and really make a hard effort, the combined package can have a very significant effect," said Howard W. Blauvelt, executive vice president of Continental Oil Co.

Blauvelt said the President's proposals were "for the moment, probably adequate." But he warned that unless Mideast oil supplies increased, "very strict government allocations will be needed in the near future."

Petite Doesn't Mean Skinny

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My friend has a daughter 19 months old and she weighs only 19 pounds and still can wear her baby clothes. She is fairly short and real skinny.

All her mother ever gives her is milk. The baby doesn't eat any meat and hates potato. She just sucks on a bottle all day.

My friend says, "she's going to be petite." Petite is petite but this is ridiculous. Do you think my friend has a problem?

— Mrs. A.Y.

Yes, I think she has an eating problem, and one that may get worse as time passes.

The child is four or five pounds under the weight given for her age in standard tables, and by this age should be getting semi-solid to solid foods.

So for one thing, the mother may well have some rebellion when she tries to switch the child to solid foods.

Is your account strictly accurate? It would seem to me that the child must be getting something other than just milk. Your comment that "she hates potato," so she must have been exposed to something other than milk.

All the same, petite is petite, but that doesn't mean skinny. Hasn't the child ever been taken to a pediatrician or family doctor if only for shots? It would be a good time to talk about her food.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When my grandson was a month old or even before, he was given a full bottle of rice cereal at night; at six weeks it had a jar of fruit, cereal and over four ounces of formula; at 10 weeks a jar of fruit, jar of vegetables, cereal, formula and orange juice.

Now at three months he is obese and has a stomach like a big balloon. I tell her to stop feeding him so much.

She says the baby eats it, and I say he will keep on eating it as long as you shove it in his mouth. After a baby gets obese at this age can it be corrected? — Mrs. J.Z.

Too little is too little; too much is too much. Some babies will stop eating when they've had enough; others will keep on eating and get fat. Eating habits are formed early, so

Use Of Blackmail

William F. Buckley Jr.

It is said, here and there openly but for the most part in whispers, that the disadvantages of our Mideast position are gravely damaging to us, and that as the results of the oil embargo begin to hit us, the public will rise in wrath against the foreign policy that brought it all on. And what — they say — of our Allies? How can we justify what we are doing to them? What will be the cost to us of the loss of their friendship?

IN THAT reasoning, it would appear to me, is implicit much of the weakness of the American position over the past years. It is a weakness that shows up in the defensive character not only of our deeds, but of our attitudes.

Begin, for instance, with the matter of our allies in western Europe. Why do we think of them as our allies, when it is more accurate to think of ourselves as their allies? A learned strategist recently asked, "What has Israel ever done for us?" Pposed just that way, it is hard to come up with the name of a single nation in western Europe that has "done anything for us" in this century.

Consider England — long may she wave, and while I am at it I wish Princess Anne great happiness — what has she done for the United States? The question is historically naive. The most obvious favor done in this century by one great country for another is the intervention by the United States in the Second World War, without which intercession Hitler would probably be giving away the bride at Westminster Abbey. Yet that intervention is also explainable in terms of self-interest: the prospect of a Hitler-dominated Europe was frightening to us.

BUT IN THE current situation, our allies surely need the United States more than the United States needs them? They need our investments, our products, our tourists, our navy, and above all our nuclear umbrella. West Europe is far gone in the enchantments of what its leaders are pleased to call practical diplomacy. "Even if Russia were presided over by Stalin, I would seek Ostpolitik," Willy Brandt is quoted as saying, exaltedly. Detente is pleasing to the Europeans, whose concerns these days are primarily economic; and it is not plain how they would inconvenience themselves merely in order to accommodate the United States.

THE ARAB powers, are punishing western Europe for America's role in the Mideast as principal supplier to Israel, the perennial target of a military machine deployed by the Soviet Union in Arabia. Everyone seeks nowadays to impose pressure through intermediaries. The question arises why the intermediaries do not assert themselves. It mystifies me that western Europe should think of itself as defenseless against the Arabs' use of blackmail.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

A young man I know, who has spent time in a mental hospital, told me that he was suffering because of his father's sins. Do you believe this to be true? I know that somewhere in the Bible there is a reference about this. If you decide to answer this in your column please don't rationalize. Tell it like it is.

First, let me say my answers are never consciously a rationalization. I determined long ago to speak what "the Bible says," and I'm sure you agree that is one book that "tells it like it is."

The reference you have in mind is Exodus 34:7. The larger context, however, (statement 5 and 6) represents some of God's most magnanimous statements about His love and mercy. It came to Moses as a cheering word in a time of depression.

God's nature is a blending of many qualities. Justice and truth are here wedded to mercy and love. This combination produces a holiness that must pass judgment on the guilty. Said a poet, "A God all mercy is a God unjust."

You're aware of certain diseases or bodily weaknesses which are transferred from parent to child. A particularly horrible example is the offspring of an addicted mother. So it is with certain sin — the effects of which spill over to succeeding generations. I can't make a judgment, however, about your friend.

But consider this, that whereas the visitation of sin extends only to the third and fourth generation, God's mercy is kept for "thousands." I assure you that this statement in no way contradicts the mercy of God. It is, however, a great warning against human selfishness.

A Devotion For Today

All the promises of God find their Yes in him (Jesus Christ). That is why we utter the Amen through him, to the glory of God. (2 Cor. 1:20)

PRAYER: Dear God, we want to know life in its fullness. Through vital fellowship with Thee, lead us into the experience of harmony and delight which brings joy. Through Christ. Amen.

Special Election?

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The elections last week, if they proved anything, showed that the ins are in bad trouble, whether Republicans or Democrats. In New Jersey the massive Democratic sweep brought in not only Brendan T. Byrne as governor but control of both houses of the legislature, thereby ending four years of Republican rule.

WHILE THE result there was more impressive than anywhere else, the same outcome was registered with a few exceptions around the country. The Republican candidate in New Jersey, Rep. Charles W. Sandman Jr., was no bargain and his last-minute demagogic appeals on the abortion question badly backfired. On both sides of the continent the voters said "no" to propositions of Republican governors. The California they turned down Ronald Reagan's constitutional amendment that would have fixed a ceiling on state spending with a limit on state taxes. Reagan had stumped the state for his proposal, and rejection is a setback for his presidential ambitions.

IN NEW YORK the voters turned down Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's $3.5 billion transportation bond issue. This was designed to reshape the transportation tangle in New York City, give commuters a break and cut down the pollution coming from the one-man-to-one-car traffic clog in ghte highways in and out of the city. Rockefeller, too, is on the presidential trail, and what happened on Tuesday will be a blow to a comprehensive plan that he could have advertised to a nation suffering from many of the same ills.

The ancient formula — turn the rascals out — is a reflection of the winter of America's deep discontent. In the drive to bring about President Nixon's resignation or, failing that, his impeachment is an expression of this discontent on the national level. The indignation behind the ancient formula is understandable. With it goes a sense of betrayal.

ONE OF THE few men in public life trying to enlarge the political dialogue beyond merely turning out the rascals is Mayor Kevin White of Boston. He proposes a special presidential election to be held in 1974 to elect a President and a vice president. In the interval Gerald Ford would be acting President following Nixon's removal from office by one means or another.

AFTER CONFERRING with distinguished members of the Harvard Law School faculty White is convinced there is no bar in the Constitution to such a special election. It would require a law passed by both houses of Congress and the process would then follow a normal presidential election — party conventions in September, voting on a President and vice president to come along with the Congressional elections.

White argues that putting Ford in the place of Nixon would settle nothing nor would it end the Donnybrook growing out of the Nixon Administration scandals. From the practical point of view Ford's renunciation of any ambition for 1977 is heavily discounted.

ESTABLISHED in the office, confronting a sea of troubles, he would win wide sympathy. Put forward as another Harry Truman, as the modest man from Michigan, he would be unbeatable. This seems not to have occurred to those, including many prominent Democrats, clamoring for Nixon's removal.

The White scenario must remain a dream sequence so long as President Nixon stays in office.

The Q's And A's

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The mail has been very heavy from readers in the past few weeks, and I feel obligated to answer some of the questions that keep popping up in my letters.

Q — DO YOU think President Nixon was wrong in turning over only seven of the nine tapes he promised to Judge Sirica?

A — No, I don't. Nobody's perfect and, while the media have been very critical of the President's failure to produce the two missing tapes, no one has given him credit for the seven he turned over. I think we should emphasize the good things, not just the bad.

Q — WHY DID the President fire special prosecutor Archibald Cox?

A — Because Cox wouldn't stop wearing bow ties. The President hates bow ties, and on several occasions he asked Cox to wear a regular tie like everyone else in the Administration. Cox refused and Nixon had no choice but to get rid of him.

Q — WHY DOES the President go to Camp David every night?

A — Because he can't get any sleep at the White House. People stand in front of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue with signs saying, "Honk If You Think Nixon Should Be Impeached." The best solution would be if they held up signs saying, "Honk If You Believe Him."

Q — WHO ARE the 27 per cent of the American people in the Gallup

Poll who still think Nixon is doing a good job as President?

A — Julie and David Eisenhower, Tricia Cox, Bebe Rebozo, Robert Abplanalp, Gen. Alexander Haig, Ron Ziegler and the entire board of directors of ITT.

Q — WHY ARE the press and TV so mean to Nixon?

A — They've been mad at him ever since 1962 when he told them they would not have Nixon to kick around any more. The press never forgets, and everything you've been reading about Watergate is nothing but the media's way of proving they can kick Nixon around any time they want to.

Q — WHO WAS Spiro Agnew?

A — He was a former Vice President of the United States who served until he got into some difficulty over his income taxes. A few old-timers remember him as being rather tall, and a neat dresser.

Q — HAS NIXON'S personal enemy list gotten any longer since his recent troubles?

A — Would you believe the Washington, Maryland and Virginia telephone books?

Q — IF THE President resigns, how much of the $10 million he spent on improving his homes in San Clemente and Key Biscayne will be returned to the government?

A — According to his accountants, about $34.75.

Letter Writing Course Monday

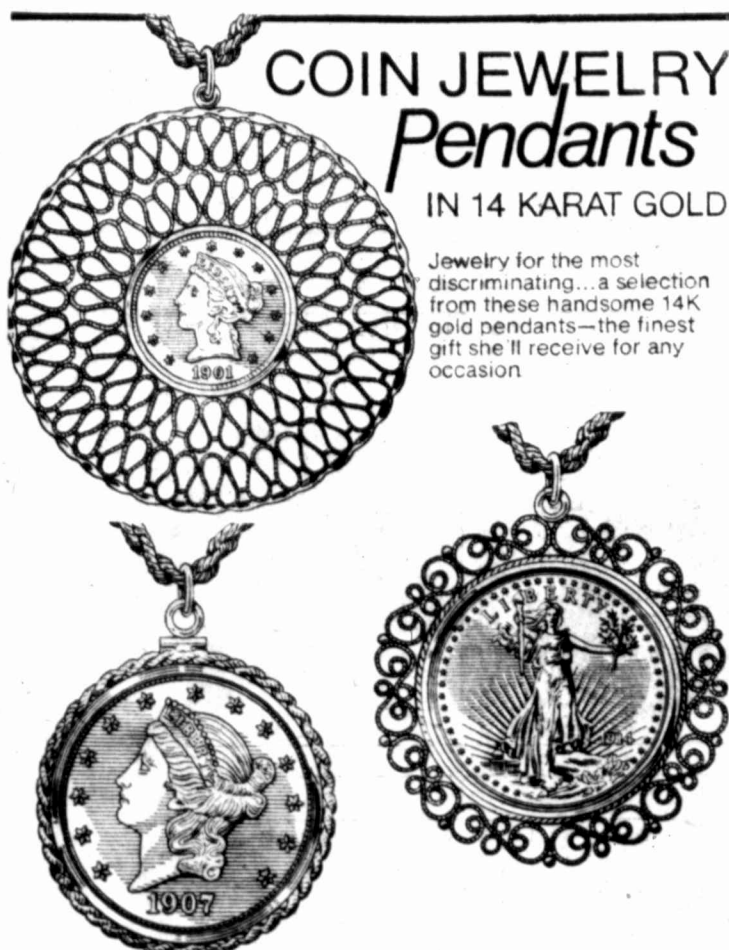

How to write better letters — and save money, time and effort in doing so — will be the theme of the Business letter clinic Monday at the Chamber of Commerce.

The clinic will run from 7-1:30 p.m., conducted by W. H. Butterfield, a leading authority on business correspondence and author of 16 books on the subject. Butterfield has conducted letter writing programs in almost 400 cities.

The clinic is open to everyone, and registrations are still being made with the Chamber of Commerce. The $15.00 registration fee includes a set of 15 letter improvement charts.

GERRY FORD'S KID NOT VERY COMPETITIVE

'Nothing Is Worth Hassling Over'

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Jack Ford stood in the back of the Cactus Club, a beer-only bar on Main Street, doggedly twisting the handles of a 25-cent-a-play table-top soccer game.

"This is about the most competitive thing in my life," he said, "and it's not very competitive."

John Gardner Ford — "Jack" to family and friends — is one of four children of Rep. Gerald R. Ford, President Nixon's nominee for vice president who is now undergoing congressional confirmation hearings. He is 21, a junior majoring in forestry at Utah State University.

MUCH BETTER

His father, at 21, was centering the University of Michigan's national champion football team.

"I guess his life probably demanded that he be more competitive, said the younger Ford. My life has been better than his in a lot of ways. He's pretty much a self-made man. I'm starting out from a much better position."

Jack Ford is 6-foot-1, weighs 180 pounds, has the build of a fire plug and is about as aggressive — but on his own terms.

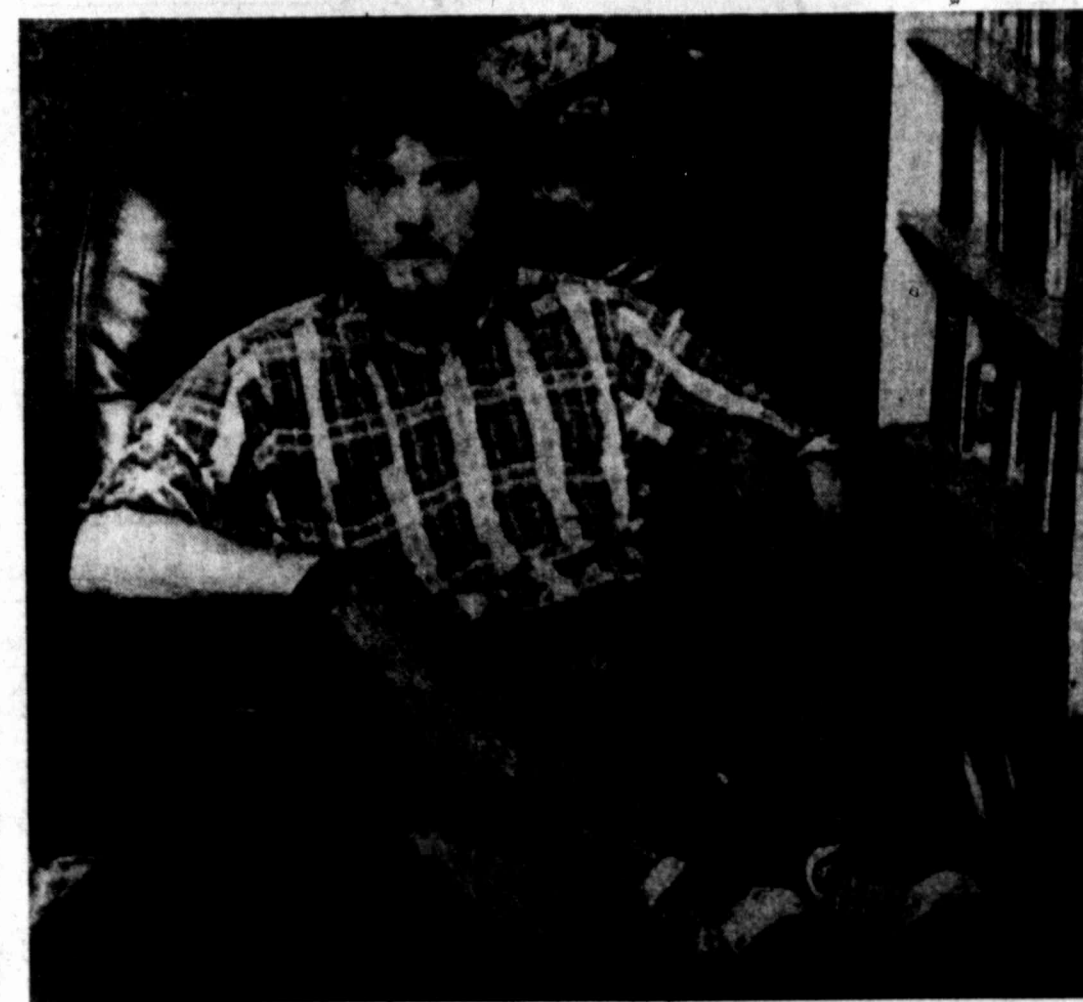

"Nothing is worth hassling over," he had said earlier. "I find some way to work around things rather than fight about them. But that does not mean my desire to be useful in life is any less than anyone else's."

Ford lives in a five room, $160-a-month apartment in an old brick house adjacent to the Utah State campus. He shares a bedroom with one of three roommates, takes his turn washing their plastic super-market dishes, smokes Kools and drinks Lucky Draft beer.

"I just hope this whole thing doesn't change my life too much," he said.

RATHER NOT FIGHT — John Gardner Ford, one of four children of Rep. Gerald Ford, President Nixon's nominee for vice president, is a junior majoring in forestry at Utah State University in Logan. The 21-year-old, whose father was a member of the University of Michigan's national championship football team at the same age, is not into competitive sports and says "nothing is worth hassling over." He believes in working around problems rather than fighting them.

Lake City, 85 miles away. His classes are large enough so some professors still do not know his name. As he walks around campus, most people appear either unaware or unaware that his father is in line to be the nation's 40th vice president.

"It has been more difficult to study," Ford said as he struck a match on the electric cable reel that serves as the apartment's living room table. "And some people, the ones who suddenly come on strong, they just make me laugh."

Ford grew up in the family's unpretentious but comfortable home in suburban Alexandria, Va. A younger brother and sister still live there. His older brother is studying at an Episcopal seminary in Massachusetts.

His father was a Republican congressman from Michigan when Jack Ford was born. He became House minority leader when young Ford was in the seventh grade.

"All it meant is he started working a lot harder," said Ford. "He had to give up a lot of family things. It didn't bother me. I guess I admired him for it. But so few people, even in the party, really recognized what he did. That did always kind of bother me."

At Williams High School in Alexandria, Ford won letters in football, track and crew. He had several college football scholarship offers, including one from Utah State. He ended up at Jacksonville University in Florida, not playing football.

"I decided I wasn't competitive enough to play college ball," he explained. "It is too much like making a living."

After two years in Florida, he decided that forestry had a lot of appeal. He left Jacksonville and registered here last January. In between, he worked seven months for the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

While working for the committee, he was once asked to fill out post cards in what later was exposed as a successful attempt to rig a television station poll to show support for the President.

EXPOSURE

Ford said he filled out two cards and returned the rest back unsigned.

"I just could not get into it," he said. "I was into a philosophy thing and feeling very responsible for all my actions. That was something I didn't think I wanted to take responsibility for doing."

While he talks of his father with respect and admiration, Ford is somewhat cynical about politics in general. The Watergate disclosures and the circumstances surrounding former Vice President Agnew's resignation do not overly disturb him.

"It probably does not bother me as much as other people," he said. "Maybe I'm a little more practical about politics because of the exposure I've had. I don't see any justification for corruption, but it happens on every level of life. It is not just politics."

CONTROL LIFE

Logan is a town of 22,000 people, 80 per cent of them Mormons, tucked away in the northeast corner of Utah. It is isolated, quiet and people don't lock their doors at night.

U.S. 89 slices east from town, past the campus and up a 35-mile canyon into the highland wilderness of the Wasatch Mountains. Hiking, skiing and the university's forestry program brought Ford here.

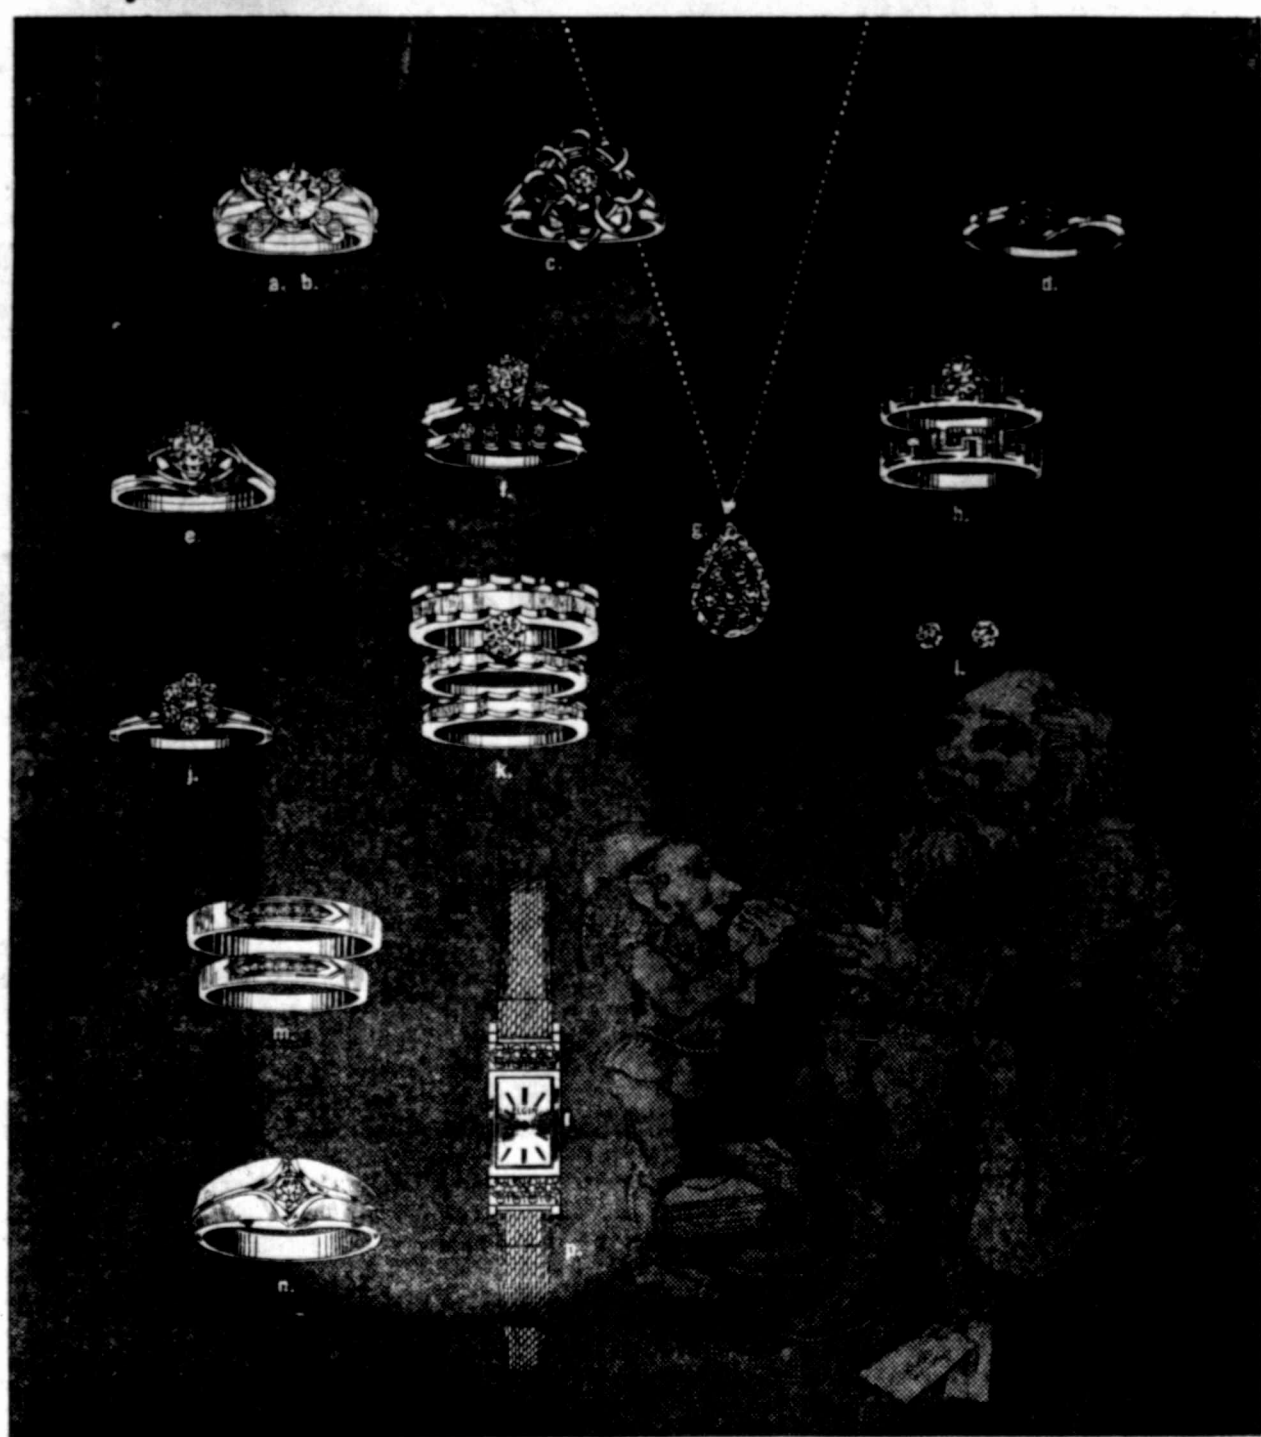

"I'm really comfortable here," said Ford. "Life runs at a more controlled pace. It's really very important to feel that you have control over your life."

"I just really get off in the woods," he said slowly, almost reverently. "It's just good for my head."

Despite his major, Ford has no strong commitment to making forestry a career. "I don't know what I want. I've got a year and a half to go. I'll worry about it then."

Ford spent last summer working for the U.S. Forest Service, including 39 days fighting fires in Idaho. While there, he grew the neatly manicured beard he now wears. His light brown hair falls in layers to his neck. He most often wears hiking boots and jeans, with maybe a flannel shirt or turtle neck.
