Leaders Linked With Gangsters

UNIVERSITY, POLITICAL AND LAW CIRCLES ARE IMPLICATED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 28.—Linked today with Chicago's most notorious gangsters in a blanket indictment striking at an alleged reign of terrorism in trade were the names of a New York attorney, a University of Chicago lecturer and a Chicago alderman, mentioned several times for the mayoralty.

Today deputy sheriffs were out with capiases seeking to arrest some of the 42 defendants accused by the Cook county grand jury of conspiracy to stifle trade by bombings, sluggings, acid throwing, strikes and intimidation.

Sapiro On Bond

From New York came word that Aaron Sapiro, the attorney named, had been arrested and released on $1,500 bail and that he had termed the experience "very embarrassing." Prominent as a pioneer organizer of the cooperative marketing movement, Sapiro was counsel of the Chicago Laundry Owners' association for almost a year.

And in Reading, Pa., where he has been acting as federal conciliator in a hosiery workers' strike, Dr. Benjamin Squires, who lectures for three months each year on economics at the University of Chicago, said he was astounded that he was indicted. He was one of the witnesses to appear before the grand jury during its exhaustive inquiry.

Squires To Return

He said he had arranged $10,000 bond and was returning to Chicago. Dr. Squires has figured in various capacities in the cleaning industry, the beauty parlor industry and with the Chicago master barbers.

The third prominent man named was Oscar Nelson, Republican leader of the city council, and attorney for the Dye House Drivers union. He is touring Europe with his family, but his partner, Joseph A. Ricker, said he would cable him to return at once and that Nelson would issue a statement.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney was jubilant at the action of the grand jury, which also indicted "Scarface" Al Capone, the city's

"Who Wouldn't Like New Code?"

MACON, Ga., July 28 (AP)—Thousands of cotton mill workers in the deep south opened their pay envelopes today—the first many of them received under the new textile code of the Industrial Recovery act—and said they thought the recovery act was a dandy idea.

"Do I like the textile code?" said a young mill worker, repeating a question.

"Well, I'll ask you: Who wouldn't like it—20 hours a week less work, and more pay. You see, I used to get 15 cents an hour, worked 60 hours a week, and got $9 a week. Now I work only 40 hours a week—only five days—and get $12 a week. Why, the difference will more than pay my rent in the village."

ALLOTMENT OF WHEAT FIXED

AMERICA WILL APPLY ITS OWN REMEDIES FOR DEPRESSION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 28—Wheat today furnished further proof that the United States is going right ahead applying its own depression remedies whether other nations agree or not.

Before the world wheat conference reconvenes in London August 21 to consider an international agreement to curtail production, the American farmer will be told—probably in 10 days—how many acres he is expected to reduce.

Allotment Is Fixed

Secretary Wallace said so yesterday in announcing what part of 456,198,588 bushels needed for domestic consumption each of 42 states should produce, under this total allotment, more than $120,000,000 may be distributed to wheat farmers as recompense for acreage slashes.

The next step is to tell the farmer how much he should cut acreage; how many bushels of his state's allotment he should produce. On every bushel allotted to him, he will receive about 28 cents from the government.

To raise the money, each "processor" who turns wheat into something else—like flour—pays a 30-cent a bushel tax. After administrative costs and other deductions are made, about 28 cents will be left to the crop cutters, the balance going out next spring after proof that the farmer has reduced acreage.

OIL PRICE HIKED

RESPONSES TO AGREEMENTS RECEIVED

MERCHANTS MOVE FOR RIGHT TO PUT BLUE EAGLE IN WINDOWS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A rush of merchants and businessmen to sign up and get the blue eagle of N. R. A. posted in their windows stimulated to more vigorous efforts today the men who are working for, and predict success of, President Roosevelt's re-employment campaign.

The thousands of telegrams which pledged support in the hour-shortening, wage-raising, job-creating endeavor were being backed up, at a surprising rate, by signed re-employment agreements with the president.

Certificates Filed

Post offices over the country reported merchants rushing in to file certificates showing they already had put the agreements into effect, entitling them to the eagle poster with the words: "We do our part."

Delivery of the blanks began only yesterday, and continues today and tomorrow. While postmasters reported the rush to sign, local committees were checking up on instructions from Washington to see how many men in each community actually got jobs from those who had reduced the working hours of existing staffs.

In Washington, the recovery administration's legal advisers were completing definite interpretations of the agreement expected to help thousands more employers with perplexing problems to sign up. Donald Richberg, general counsel, expected to complete the job yesterday but it proved too complicated.

Among questions he was trying to answer was whether employers whose help is under contract at a definite rate for a definite number of hours, can obtain the blue eagle without voluntarily bettering the terms of the contract.

Hugh S. Johnson, director of the

TEXAN GETS CROP REDUCTION CHECK

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The distribution of more than $100,000,000 to southern cotton farmers who heeded the government's call for acreage reduction began today with presentation by the president at the White House of a check for $517 to William E. Morris, cotton planter of Nueces county, Texas.

First Texas planter to sign an acreage reduction contract, he just had arrived in Washington accompanied by Representative Kleberg of his state.

Morris has plowed under 47 acres in cotton.

In addition to the check, he received an option on 23 1-2 bales of government cotton at 6 cents a pound. He may sell this at any time he wishes. Cotton now is around 11 cents.

ORANGE, Mass., July 28 (AP)—Partly concealed by leaves and brushwood the bullet torn body of Mrs. Mabel A. Grogan, 59-year-old Boston school principal was found today in a brook in the woods near Warwick. Police said the woman's daughter who recently suffered a nervous breakdown had confessed shooting her to death while out for a walk yesterday.

The daughter, Mrs. Ruth Compton, 30-year-old wife of Warren W. Compton, a state engineer who lives in Watertown, Boston suburbs, led police to the body after being taken to the Watertown police station by her husband.

DAVID ESCAPES EGG BARRAGE IN THEATER ACT

HOLLYWOOD, July 28 (AP)—A woman tossed eggs at David Hutton, husband of Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, evangelist, as he appeared in his singing act at a theater here last night.

She didn't score a hit as the target moved too fast, down stage to the wings.

Booked at the police station on a charge of disturbing the peace, the woman gave her name as Jane Jones, 27. Police said she was not a member of the congregation of Angelus Temple, the evangelist's headquarters at Los Angeles.

Hutton, formerly a choir leader at the Temple, has sued the evangelist for divorce. He inaugurated his vaudeville career last week in Long Beach.

TWO KIDNAP VICTIMS STILL HELD; LAW SCORES VICTORY

(By The Associated Press)

The law pointed today to a ten-strike against kidnaping—the first death sentence in an abduction case—but two victims of kidnapers still were missing, with authorities apparently at a dead end.

Three weeks ago today the young national guard lieutenant, John J. O'Connell, jr., of Albany, N. Y., was abducted. He is still unaccounted for. The other man still unreturned is Charles F. Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma City oil man. His wife was reported today near collapse, all efforts at negotiations for his release having been unsuccessful.

Quarter Million Asked

The ransom demand in the case of O'Connell was originally a quarter of a million dollars. Subsequent negotiations may have reduced it, but members of the young man's family have not been communicative, and authorities confess themselves balked.

On the heeles of the imposition of the death sentence upon Walter McGee for the kidnaping of Mary McElroy in Kansas City, the prosecution announced it would seek the same extreme penalty for McGee's brother, George, and for Clarence Click, held in the same kidnaping case.

Threats Probed

Federal agencies have shown increasing energy in the pursuit of kidnapers. At Leominster, Mass., today postal inspectors and men from the district attorney's office inquired into threats to kidnap executives of the Wachusett shirt factory and members of their families. The writers of the letters demanded a wage increase for employes. Police have been stationed at the homes of the officials threatened.

Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney-general, said: "Gangsters and kidnapers throughout the nation may expect the full force of the government in vigorously, persistently and relentlessly prosecuting the violation of every federal law, and in cooperat-

JESSE JONES IS CONFIDENT NATION WILL EMERGE FROM ECONOMIC DESERT

BY MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Jesse Holman Jones, rugged Texan, is working these days in line with his confidence that the nation will find its way out from the economic desert.

As head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation he rates a place in President Roosevelt's national recovery council, the "super-cabinet" of Washington's phrase makers.

His particular job is to apply his vigor, political sagacity and financial acumen to the loaning of hundreds of millions of government dollars to banks, railroads, insurance companies, building and loan associations, farm credit organizations and any other bodies which rank with these in the scheme of national rehabilitation.

He is 59 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall, shows white hair on his large head, has broad shoulders and an unruffled demeanor.

He is a banker, builder, hotel proprietor and newspaper owner with interests reaching from his home in Houston to New York. Before the big wind hit business late in 1929, he was reputed to be worth $100,000,000.

He got all this from a lowly start. He was born on a Tennessee farm and made his first success as manager of a lum-

STATE SOLONS EXPECTED TO BE CALLED

GOVERNOR SAYS THAT MEETING WILL BE IN TWO MONTHS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 28.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today telegraphed Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the National Recovery act, that the Texas legislature would meet in special session "within the next two months."

Johnson had wired Mrs. Ferguson inquiring if there was a likelihood of an extraordinary session within the next 60 days.

"I telegraphed him that it was very likely the legislature would meet within the next two months," the chief executive said. "It is not possible to say just now when the session will be convened, that depending on developments in Washington which may necessitate legislation in our state to make it possible for our people to fully embrace the president's recovery plan. However, I do not expect a necessity to arise that would bring the legislators here before the special election of August 26, when Texans will vote on repeal of the national prohibition amendment, legalization of 3.2 beer in this state, a proposal to issue $20,000,000 in bonds for unemployment relief and other matters."

FERGUSON READY TO TAKE STUMP

AUSTIN, July 28 (AP)—James E. Ferguson, husband of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, expressed himself today as ready to take the stump in opposition to Morris Sheppard, United States senator, in a campaign prior to Texas voting Aug. 26 on whether national prohibition should be repealed.

News had reached Ferguson that Sheppard was en route here with an automobile especially fitted with amplifiers to campaign against prohibition repeal or modification in each of the 31 senatorial districts.

Ferguson said he would speak in favor of repealing national prohibition, legalizing the manufacture and sale of 3.2 beer in Texas, issuance of $20,000,000 in bonds with which to augment federal relief funds, and the other proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Headlines Of Today Made 19 Years Ago!

BY RAYMOND CROWLEY

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Nineteen years ago today certain officials dipped their pens in ink and wrote the headlines for today's newspapers.

The ink, flowing in tiny stream on parchment, gushed to a mighty torrent on the front pages of the world—heralding the outbreak of the World war.

The headlines, black as woe, told of Austria-Hungary declaring war on Serbia on July 28, 1914, of Russia ordering a mobilization the next day; then of the others jumping in.

Today that ink still splashes on page one. A count shows that of all the headlines on front pages of New York morning dailies today 70 per cent deal with subjects which have been traced—directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, by one savant or another—back to the World war.

"Chicago indicts Al Capone and 23 in war on rackets"—how many times has the world been told that the war bred lawlessness, which fostered rackets?

"Gov. Lehman acts to put state behind NRA drive"—how many men have pointed to the World war as the cause of the severity of the depression?

"Spain to recognize Soviet Russia." The traces of war ink on that are plain: Would the Czar still be on his throne if ink hadn't trickled from his pen on parchment 19 years ago?

"Kidnaper doomed to death." Is that too, as some would contend, a result of war-spawned crime?

"O'Ryan is chosen by fushion group to run for mayor." That's Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan of the 27th division, which helped smash the Hindenburg line.

"World economic parley ends." Would it ever have had to begin, except for the World war?

CAPTORS FREE TEXAS MAN

THINKS THAT HE WAS VICTIM OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY IN CASE

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, July 28—Held captive by kidnapers for four days without water or food and forced to sign three blank checks, Adolph Galle, parking lot operator, told police after his release early today he believed he was the victim of a case of mistaken identity.

Galle, who was kidnaped from his parking lot Monday morning by three men driving a sedan with Oklahoma license plates, said he thought the men abducted him by mistake.

"Nothing To Eat"

Emaciated and disheveled, he told officers: "I've lost my appetite. They gave me a drink of water the first day, but not a drop since. I haven't had anything to eat since they picked me up".

Galle, who is 46, was reported missing by his brother, Ed Galle, last Tuesday and police had been seeking him since.

The men drove into his parking station about 8 a. m., Galle said. One of them was tall, another was short and stocky, and the other was of medium build.

Covered With Gun

One man covered Galle with a pistol. The parking lot operator, without explanation, was forced to enter the car and was blindfolded with a black cloth.

He was driven about town, taken out of the car and finally placed in a small, dark room, apparently a cellar. The blind fold was removed and Galle was left alone.

Gold Export Order Slightly Relaxed

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The few people who have gold ore and its concentrate may export to get a higher world price, but the 207 who still hoard coins have only three more weeks to turn them in before the government acts.

In response to a number of pleas, the treasury slightly relaxed the presidential gold embargo so the ore and concentrates—crushed and water-washed ore—may be exported. Smelted and imperfectly refined gold may not.

LUBBOCK GETS NRA BLANKS

AGREEMENT FORMS TO BE DELIVERED TO FIRMS TODAY

Lubbock's supply of employers' agreement forms for participation in the National Recovery act were to be distributed this afternoon by letter carriers to business men and firms, Postmaster John L. Vaughan announced this morning. The supply came in this morning and the postmaster arranged for immediate distribution.

In the package will be an application blank and a certificate, Vaughan said. The blank is to be filled out and returned in the enclosed envelope. The certificate is to be kept until August 1, when it is to be presented to the postoffice.

On presentation of the certificate form at the local postoffice, a "blue eagle" sticker, will be given each person. This sticker may be placed in the window and kept there as long as the firm or individual complies with the terms of the agreement.

If more stickers or posters are needed, they may be secured from the postoffice or other authorized dealers.

Besides the agreement forms, a complete stock of other supplies will be available for distribution to cooperating employers. DYING VICTIM ATTACKED AT FORT WORTH

CONFESSED MURDERER TELLS OF SHOOTING COUPLE TO DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, July 28.—How a negro fatally shot A. S. (Pete) Michael, 33, and Miss Geneva Cantrell, 19, and later attacked the girl early Monday was related today by detectives who announced they had obtained a confession in the double slaying.

The bodies of the couple were found a short distance from an automobile parked on the outskirts of town.

Three Shots Fired

According to the confession, the killer, who had been given a ride by Michael, returned to the machine, firing one shot which missed. Then he fired again, the bullet missing Michael but striking the girl. The third shot struck Michael in the head.

The girl then was dragged some 40 paces behind a tree, where she was attacked. The statement said she was barely alive at that time. The killer returned to the car, threw Michael's body into a ditch and left the scene.

ABOLISH MINIMUM ON GRAIN PRICES

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)—Minimum prices on grain which have been in effect here this week were today abolished by directors of the board of trade.

The directors also adopted the proposed maximum daily price fluctuations suggested at the Washington conference, five cents a bushel on wheat, rye and barley, four cents on corn and three on oats. Heretofore, the fluctuations permitted were eight cents a bushel on wheat and rye, five on corn and barley and four on oats.

Grains may sink as low as the market news dictates under the new ruling, provided the daily fluctuations do not exceed the set limits.

Barrow Companion Held In Oklahoma

SEMINOLE, Okla., July 28 (AP)—Herbert Blythe, about 22, said by federal officers to have been identified as a companion of the Barrow brothers in Iowa where Marvin Barrow was wounded and captured, was in custody of department of justice agents today.

Officers said he also was known as Hubert Bleigh.

Blythe was arrested in an oil field grocery store at Snomac near here yesterday by four oil field men who held deputy sheriff's commissions, as he sat reading a newspaper. He was unarmed. The search began at Snomac when one of the four men was tipped he was in the vicinity.

Penalties Cited If Agreements Voided

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—A farmer who signs an agreement to reduce his wheat acreage and fails to live up to it after receiving pay for doing so will be in danger of going out of the farming business.

STRIKING DINNER COSTUME

White linen mess jackets, worn with black skirts, make handsome dinner costumes. The jacket should be cut exactly like the ones men wear. Black satin is the latest formal daytime material. If you want to have that "Oh so Parisian" look, then get a black satin dress. The wide-brimmed hat, of a loosely woven black straw, has the restrained luster to complement the costume perfectly.

WARMING OVER MEAT

In warming over game or any kind of meat in gravy, don't let it boil. Boiling toughens it. Get the gravy to the boiling point, then turn off your burner and put the meat in just long enough to get it steaming hot from the gravy.

Old Silver Service Hidden Fifty Years

AIKEN, S. C., July 28. (AP)—A fine old silver service, once owned by W. W. Corcoran, founder of the Corcoran art gallery in Washington, was found in a bank vault here, where it had lain unused and forgotten for nearly half a century.

The silver was placed in the vault by Mr. and Mrs. George P. Eustis, who came to Aiken in 1897 on their honeymoon. Mr. Eustis, a grandson of the late Mr. Corcoran, and his wife later were divorced. She is now Mrs. Eustis Hofman of Aiken and Boston.

Mrs. Hofman discovered the Corcoran silver when she went to the bank recently for other valuables.

TEXANS ARE TO STAGE OPERA

75,000 ARE EXPECTED TO HEAR "AIDA" AT WORLD'S FAIR

BY RUTH COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)—Preparations are being made for an audience of 75,000 to hear a presentation of "Aida" by the Texas Grand Opera association, climaxing Texas Day, August 23, at A Century of Progress International exposition.

For from Texas grand opera on an ambitious scale is coming to Chicago, the home of one of the world's foremost opera companies, the Chicago Civic opera, now silent.

On Elaborate Scale

From ranches, oil fields, the gulf coast, the Panhandle, big cities and outposts on the wide sweep of the Lone Star State, 1200 Texans are coming to the World's fair determined to produce Verdi's spectacular opera on the most elaborate scale yet attempted in America.

The principals in the cast have been recruited from the Metropolitan, the Chicago Civic opera and other leading opera companies.

Vice President and Mrs. John Nance Garner, whose home is in Uvalde, Texas, have been invited as guests of honor.

"Ma" May Attend

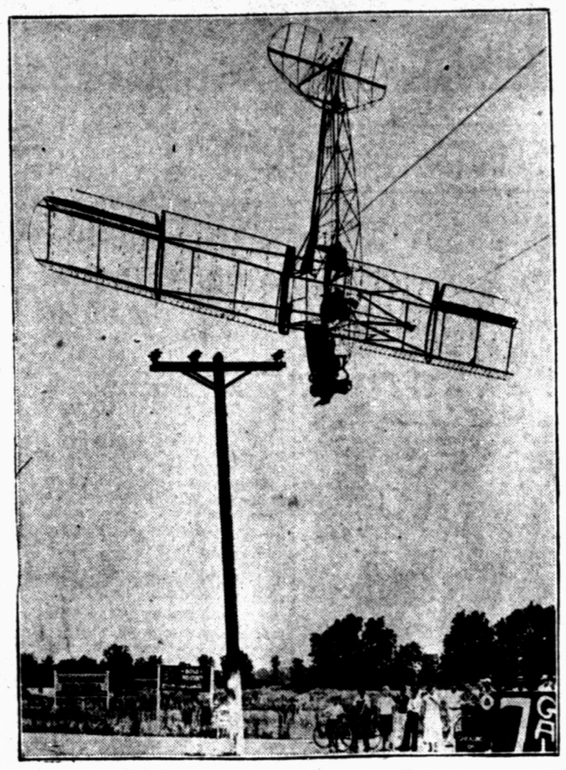

Special trains, numbering about forty, long caravans of bus and automobiles, augmented by airplanes, will bring many thousand Texans, perhaps headed by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Gov. James E. Ferguson, here for the event.

The Texas Grand Opera association is an outgrowth of the Houston Civic Opera association, founded and sponsored by Mrs. John Wesley Graham, head of the Texas Music Teachers' association.

Mrs. Graham is likewise president of the Texas association organized as a non-profit group for the special purpose of presenting "Aida" at the World's fair "to show Chicago and the rest of the world," as Mrs. Graham expressed it, "that Texans know as much about 'high c' as about the lasso."

The tam o' shanter was worn by Scotch plowmen as early as 1840; it was modified as a headdress for girls and young women about 1889.

FOREIGN COPS ARE AMAZED

OFFICERS OF EUROPE CANNOT UNDERSTAND U. S. CRIME WAVE

CHICAGO, July 28. (AP)—Amazement at the bravado, gunplay and kidnaping activities of American gangsters was expressed by European police chiefs today.

Their concensus was that "such things couldn't happen across the waters."

The anti-crime officials, from 14 foreign lands and 22 American cities, conferred for the announced purpose of promoting international police goodwill.

Barron Collier, special police commissioner of New York and official American host to the foreign conferees, said it was hoped that during the three day meeting the foundation would be laid for an international bureau of identification or clearing house of criminal information.

Roderick Ross, chief constable of Edinburgh, Scotland, branded kidnaping the "most vicious, most despicable and most atrocious crime of all."

"We have none of it in Scotland," he declared. "Criminals wouldn't dare try their hand at it, because they know we'd catch them."

Adolph Menjou Is Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, July 28. (AP)—Adolph Menjou, screen actor, yesterday was sued for divorce by Kathryn Carver, former actress and model, who accused him of associating with another woman, dissipating community property and threatening her life.

The complaint charged Menjou, the suave, dapper, man-about-town type in films, told his wife falsehoods, nagged her, carried on tirades against their friends, became intoxicated and upset her so she was forced to obtain hospital treatment for shock.

Several separations and reconciliations followed their marriage in Paris, May, 1928.

Miss Carver said the community property was worth $600,000 and asked the court to award it all to her.

She asserted he told her mariage was "old fashioned", and his public did not want to think of him as a married man, but as a "man-about-town."

The wife charged he had associated with Isabel Georgi in New York, dined at a hotel with her and spent several hours with her in an apartment.

Artesian Basin Is Under Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, July 28. (AP)—A vast artesian basin that could be tapped for the city's water supply at an estimated cost of $3,500,000 underlies the city of Minneapolis, says Benjamin Drake, leader in the Citizens' Artesian Water league.

Agitation has begun to persuade the city council to authorize work to utilize this supply and discontinue obtaining the city's water supply from the Mississippi river.

Drake declares the city is the center of a subterranean basin of 2,500 square miles of water bearing rock at varying depths from 400 to 1,100 feet. The supply, he says, would be inexhaustible.

Abernathy Will Meet Grassland

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

ABERNATHY RETURNS to the tournament wars this afternoon, playing Grassland in a game that will see one or the other eliminated from future competition. Only three teams will be left after today, and they'll battle it out for first and second place Sunday in a double-header. Today's game begins at 3:30 o'clock.

* * *

Grassland came very near surprising the boys yesterday. After a faulty start in which they let three Hubbers cross the pay-off platter, they settled down and played, not brilliant nor thrilling, but easy, steady ball. More than one time Lubbock was nearer defeat that it chose to believe. These teams from the little towns and communities know more about baseball than is generally suspected. There was some very smart base running and scoring strategy executed yesterday by the Grassland club. Some of it would go well with the Hubbers, who have as yet developed no smart baseball. A team exercising tricks and signals could make the Hubbers look quite foolish at times.

* * *

Manager Sled Allen, however, gradually is working his club up to the point where he doesn't have to draw a picture of every play he wants his boys to execute. They're catching on, and if they hang together you may see a smart team out there yet.

* * *

This town is due to be partially flooded any day now by the influx of coaches gathering here to attend Texas Tech's third annual coaching school. While a definite check at this time is impossible, it is pretty safe to suggest that the total enrollment will go over 300 individuals. There was a total of 432 last year, but it won't be quite as large this year, due to competition by other coaching schools and to slashed salaries over the country. Many coaches will rely on what they already know rather than spend a couple or three hundred dollars necessary to attend a coaching school.

* * *

They didn't plan it for that reason, but the folks of Lubbock can well show their appreciation of what Tech's coaches are doing in the way of building up the athletic side of the school, of bringing people to Lubbock and of generally making themselves useful, by coming out to the football field Monday night for the open house entertainment.

* * *

Coach Smith yesterday handed us a program of events for Monday night, and the card is well worth the dollar and a half you won't have to pay for it. It's all free, and the football stadium will hold about 5,000 people. It would do the coaches good, and would provide a great welcome for incoming coaches to see that stadium jammed Monday night.

TEAM LOSING TODAY'S GAME IS ELIMINATED FROM TOURNAMENT

A second team will take the homeward journey this afternoon following the fifth game of the Avalanche-Journal Invitation baseball tournament. Grassland meets Abernathy to decide which team shall stay to play out a three-way lead Sunday for championship and second place honors and money. The teams meet at 3:30 o'clock on the College Avenue park.

Winner of today's game will return to the tournament scene Sunday to meet Post, conqueror of Lorenzo, in the first game of a double header. Winner of that game will then take on the Lubbock Hubbers, who, by virtue of three straight victories, have gained the final game without further ado.

Hubbers Win, 6-4

A 6 to 4 victory over Grassland yesterday afternoon put the Hubbers into the final game. They had previously beaten Post and Abernathy.

The Hubbers had to hump to beat the surprising team from Grassland yesterday. It was the latter's first game of the tournament, and Manager F. L. Flowers brought a club that didn't look so hot at first but which proved to be about as neat in the field, on the mound and at bat as previous reports had indicated.

It was a battle of lefthanders on the mound, Doss "Lefty" Wright gaining a hard-earned victory over Bill "Lefty" Gregory of Grassland. The Hubbers smacked Gregory for ten bingles, but they were fairly well scattered. Grassland took Wright to task for eight hits.

Grassland Stages Rally

A rally in the eighth by Grassland threatened to tie the score, after Lubbock had taken the lead from the first. Smart base running and expert execution of signal plays made the Grassland boys hard to manage. The rally netted a lone run, and lacked another of tying the count at 5-all.

Lubbock was off to a lead and it looked like a runaway in the first when Gregory passed Burleson and Ballard, first two up for Lubbock. Kyle flied out to Catcher Luby Gregory, and Harold Crites, replacing Ray Marshall in the Hubber outfield, slammed a single to drive Burleson home. Hambright was out at first, but Ballard scored on the play. Lefty Bettes lashed out a single to left, scoring Crites. Webster flied out to right.

Lefty Lags Up

With such a lead, Lefty Wright was inclined to loaf for the next two innings. Thomas was safe when Kyle lost the ball in the sun. Walker beat out an infield scratch and Gentry got a clean single, scoring Thomas. With Milam at bat, Walker and Gentry pulled a double steal, Walker scoring on the play to second, Pirtle was safe on Chuck Webster's play that failed to catch Gentry at third, but Bill Gregory struck out and L. Jones bounded to second.

Lubbock failed to tally in the second, but added a pair in the third when Ballard and Kyle singled in succession to start the stanza. Crites laid one down, and Ballard scored on a passed ball. Hambright's long loft to left permitted Kyle to score. Bettes was safe when Gentry missed a grounder, and stole second, but Webster was caught at first.

After one out, Wright walked Edwards and gave up singles to Thomas and Walker in that order, the last one scoring Edwards. Thereafter, the Lubbock southpaw tightened and for the next four innings it was up and down for the losers. It almost was the same thing for the Hubbers, although Burleson hit a triple in the fourth and Hambright singled in the fifth. All others were retired in order until the ninth.

Grassland put one over in the eighth after Luby Gregory and Edwards had started their half with hits, Edwards' being an infield beat-out. Thomas was safe at first when Burleson elected to get Edwards at second, Gregory going to third. Walker's bunt scored Gregory, but Gentry struck out to end the rally. Pinch hitters failed to do Grassland any good in the ninth, and they were out in order.

Satch Hill scored, after a single, in the ninth on Cowboy Kyle's single. Ballard made two bases on his single, but was thrown out at the plate while trying to follow Hill home.

THINGS LOOK BAD FOR CHAMP RINGER

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)—Things looked bad for Blair Nunamaker of Cleveland, the defending champion, today as contestants in the second qualifying squad in the national horseshoe pitching title tournament made their tosses for ringers and hubbers.

Nunamaker, winner of the past four tournaments, yesterday could do no better than 223 out of a possible 300, and did not appear likely to land among the 24 qualifiers who will meet in the eliminations Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the World's fair grounds.

C. C. David, Kansas City, winner of five national championships, led the field with 256, with Ted Allen, Alhambra, Calif., second with 244.

SENATORS WIN FIRST GAME OFF YANKS

WASHINGTON LEAD IS INCREASED TO TWO GAMES THURSDAY

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Washington Senators have drawn first blood in their important series with the New York Yankees and boosted their American league lead to two games.

The Senators traveled ten innings to gain their eighth victory in eleven meetings with the Yanks by a 3-2 count yesterday as a pinch hit by Cliff Bolton, third string catcher, drove in the deciding run.

Whitewashing Threatened

With Southpaw Walter Stewart holding the world's champions to two hits in the first seven innings, Washington rolled up a 2-0 lead and looked as if they were about to hand the Yanks their first white washing in 304 games since August 5, 1931. Then with Jack Russell pitching in the eighth, Bill Dickey, Charley Ruffing and Earl Combs connected for singles and one run and Ben Chapman's double in the ninth produced the tying counter.

Ruffing handed out three walks, two intentional, in the tenth before Bolton delivered the winning blow.

New York's National league contender, the Giants, increased their lead to five games. With Carl Hubbell pitching four-hit ball for his eighth shutout and the Giants' 17th, and driving in the first run himself, the Giants beat the Brooklyn Dodgers for the fourth time, 2 to 0.

Pirates Down Cubs

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates meanwhile, took their third straight fall out of the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 0, behind the six-hit hurling of Larry French, and cut the Cubs' second place margin to a half game.

The St. Louis Cardinals re-asserted their right to fourth place, scoring two runs in the ninth by Martin, Watkins, Frisch and Cratford to beat Cincinnati 4 to 3 while Boston dropped two games to the Phillies. The Phils won on home runs as Harry McCurdy cracked a pinch homer for the winning runs in the opening 4-3 victory and Wes Schulmerich socked one in the second game to win 2-1 as Ben Cantwell gave the winners only two hits.

Cleveland Advances

Cleveland, aided by Monte Pearson's five-hit flinging, moved into fourth place in the American league by walloping the Chicago White Sox 9 to 1 while the Detroit Tigers dropped a 12-inning slugging match to St. Louis 10 to 9 on Oscar Melillo's single and Jim Levey's double.

Chicago's defeat, the eighth straight, left the Pale Hose only a half game out of seventh place as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-2 despite Jimmie Foxx's 29th homer.

WEST TEXAS GAS, AUTO PARTS AND McKEE CLUBS WIN

Victories by Quicksall-Pryor, A. W. McKee company and West Texas Gas company featured yesterday's play in the Lubbock Softball association, which sees the end of the first half in the National league this week. Dee's Coffee Shop, Federal Employees and Kuykendall Chevrolet company respectively were losers yesterday.

The auto parts team defeated the coffee shop team, 9 to 4, the losers being held in check by the pitching of Yancy Price and good fielding.

The same score held good in the McKee-Federal Employees game, Pitcher Morgan tossing a close game for McKee to win, 9 to 4.

West Texas Gas of the National League downed Kuykendall Chevrolet, 15 to 5, at Fair Park field. Leach and McKeever hit home runs for the winners, and Pitcher F. Strickland pounded out a four-bagger for the Chevrolet salesmen.

SHIELDS WILL MEET MANGIN

GRANT, PARKER LOSE IN SEMI-FINALS OF SEABRIGHT MEET

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 28—A new name will be added to the list of tennis "blue-bloods" who have won the famed invitation tournament of the Seabright Cricket and Tennis club.

The name to be inscribed after the final round today will be that of either Frank Shields of New York or Gregory Mangin of Newark for these stars battered their way to stirring semi-final triumphs yesterday over Bryan Grant, diminutive Atlanta entry, an dthe sensational Frankie Parker, respectively.

Wood Last Winner

Sidney B. Wood of New York, one-time Wimbledon winner, was the last holder of the historic Seabright bowl while previous winners have been such tennis greats as Ellsworth Vines, Bill Tilden, Bill Johnston, R. Norris Williams, Vincent Richards and John Doeg.

Wood, seeking permanent possession of the bowl by his third victory, was stopped short by Grant in the quarter-finals but the southerner was no match for Shields yesterday, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3. Mangin eliminated Parker, 17-year-old national clay court title holder, 6-3, 7-5.

BUFFS REMAIN FOUR GAMES IN FRONT

HOUSTON BEATS CATS WHILE BUCS DEFEAT DALLAS STEERS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four games still separate the pace-setting Houston Buffaloes from the second place Galveston Buccaneers. Both emerged victorious Thursday night. The third place San Antonio Missions and the fourth place Dallas Steers dropped several additional points back of the two leaders by losing. While all this was occurring in the first division, the Beaumont Exporters failed to improve their fifth place standing. They lost with the gate wide open and ready to swing them up a few notches toward first division.

Lefty Darrow spotted the Steers three runs in the first inning and then with the aid of his Pirate mates beat them 11 to 4 for his 18th victory this season.

Get Fifteen Hits

Darrow limited Dallas to five hits while the Buccaneers hammered John Whitehead and Sal Gliatto for fifteen hits, including home runs by Goldberg, first baseman, and Hufft, leftfielder.

Staked to a three run lead in the second and third innings, Bill Beckman held Fort Worth to six hits for a 3 to 2 decision. Houston got two runs in the second when Binder tripled with two on. Gene Moore hit a home run inside the park in the third for the final Houston tally. After this, Dick Whitworth hurled airtight ball for the Cats. Beckman weakened just enough in the sixth for the Cats to score two runs batted in by Barrett and Warren.

Indians Win Again

Four hits and one earned run was all Vernon Kennedy, Oklahoma City righthander, would give San Antonio. Behind this splendid pitching, the Indians trounced the Missions, 4 to 3. It was Oklahoma City's second straight win under the guidance of Luther "Red" Harvel, new manager.

The Beaumont Exporters matched Tulsa in hits with ten, but they failed in the run department by allowing the Oilers to win, 7 to 1. Lefty Johns, hero of the Fort Worth Cats years ago, hurled for Tulsa and proved there are still many baffling curves in his salary wing. He allowed the Exporters a run in the eighth and that was all.

Women's Finals Match Is Today

MRS. RHEA VERNON TO BATTLE MRS. PAUL DENSON FOR TITLE

Mrs. Rhea Vernon, Meadowbrook ace, and Mrs. Paul Denson, wife of the Country club professional, are playing an 18-hole final match today for the championship of the Lubbock Women's City Open golf tournament.

Mrs. Vernon, defending champion and tournament medalist, won her semi-final match over Mrs. W. D. Girand, Jr., yesterday, 9 and 7.

Mrs. Denson won her second round match without picking up a club, Mrs. K. L. Riggs choosing to default yesterday. Mrs. Denson was second in the qualifying round. They are scheduled for 18 holes today. Mrs. Vernon shot a 38—three over men's par—on the front nine yesterday morning to have Mrs. Girand 7 down at the turn.

In the second flight semi-finals, Mrs. Taylor defeated Mrs. Jim Floyd, 5 and 3, and Mrs. W. F. Helwig downed Mrs. Hooper Stiles, 5 and 3. Mrs. Taylor meets Mrs. Helwig today.

Mrs. R. T. Canon defeated Mrs. Winfield Watkins, 2 and 1, and Mrs. J. A. Dowdle won over Mrs. M. M. Brown, 6 and 5, in the third flight. The winners play for the flight championship today.

In first round consolations yesterday, Mrs. Carl Patton defeated Mrs. John D. Mitchell, 3 and 2; Miss Alma Girand downed Mrs. F. L. McRee, 1 up; Mrs. Lee Jones defeated Miss Harston, 5 and 3 and Mrs. Weaver beat Mrs. Hub Jones, 4 and 3. There were no third flight consolations.

TWO RECORDS ARE BEING THREATENED BY CARL HUBBELL

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Carl Hubbell, ace left hander of the New York Giants, already has run up the best shutout pitching record in 13 years and has a good start along the road to a couple of new National league records. Hubbell has hurled eight scoreless games already, a feat that has not been performed in the National league since Babe Adams hit that mark in 1920, and by blanking the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday he ran his latest shutout string to 38 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings.

The National and major league record for shutouts is 16 in one season, established by Grover Alexander of the Phillies in 1916. Ed Reulbach of Chicago set the National league mark of pitching 44 consecutive scoreless innings in 1908. Hubbell has won his last three starts by shutouts and pitched 8 1-3 scoreless innings against Pittsburgh July 19 after relieving Watson Clark. He was not scored upon in the last three innings of his July 13 game against St. Louis, when the streak started.

GUS MORELAND ELIMINATED

TITLE HOLDER BEATEN IN WESTERN AMATEUR MATCH BY HAMMAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 28 (AP)—Gus Moreland of Dallas, last year's champion, and Zell Eaton, Oklahoma City, the medalist, were listed among the casualties today as eight golfers representing as many states pushed on to the 36-hole quarter-finals of the Western amateur championship.

Leland Hamman, 22-year-old entry from Waco, Texas, who conquered Moreland one up in the second round of match play yesterday, turned his attention today to Walter Emery of Oklahoma City, the national inter-collegiate champion.

Emery was forced to go 20 holes to accomplish the elimination of D. Armstrong, from Aurora, Ill.

Westland Meets Harris

Jack Westland of Chicago, winner over John Montedonico of Memphis, 6 and 5, was paired with Chasteen Harris of Memphis, a former southern champion. Harris reached the quarter-finals by defeating 16-year-old Fred Barsodi of Houston, 5 and 3.

Heartened by a comeback victory over Sam Perry of Birmingham, Charles Yates of Atlanta faced Rodney Bliss of Omaha in another engagement.

Bliss, Nebraska champion, defeated Gene Vinson, of Meridian, Mississippi titleholder, two and one.

Mike Roach, youthful contender from St. Louis, was paired with Carl Dann, jr., of Orlando, Fla., in the other quarter-finals match. Dann, the Florida champion, eliminated the medalist yesterday, forcing the Oklahoma boy out by a score of two up. Another of Oklahoma City's entries, Henry Robertson, state champion, fell before Roach, three and two.

On this latter point the confer- ce stumbled. France maintained the outset that there was no e in talking about removing de barriers or any subject until problem of currency stabiliza- n was solved, a question the Uni- States refused to consider.

An executive committee has the wer of determining when the ngress will reassemble; it will ot, perhaps, in September to con- er reopening the parley.

In the meantime representatives several countries will resume ir discussions—not exactly a rt of the conference—regarding a eat restriction agreement, which veral times was reported close to mpletion.

The matter of adjournment s considered almost from the rt.

Other topics brought up include ar restriction plans, import quo- s, a world credit pool plan, price creases, monetary standards, a ntral bank plan, and a timber ade scheme.

Meanwhile, the nations were en- ined to put forth great efforts for nternal recovery, and several ob- ervers remarked that success of e domestic improvement program the United States might govern he fate of future deliberations.

Flies 700 Miles To Treat A Dog

HAVEN, Me., July 28 (AP)—Summoned here by long distance telephone Dr. Irving Cashell, Washington veterinarian, completed a hurried 700-mile flight from the nation's capital last night to treat one of his canine patients, Balkash, prize winning Samoyed.

Mrs. Sidney C. Graves, distant cousin of President Roosevelt, and owner of the animal, requested the veterinarian to rush by airplane to the Graves summer home here.

Dr. Cashell arrived here in an amphibian plane at 4 p. m. (EST). Without delay he started his examination of the Samoyed which has been ill with an intestinal affliction.

Mrs. Graves' husband, a prominent Washington real estate operator, said the animal was held in great affection by the family.

Mrs. Graves is the former Miss Olga Roosevelt, daughter of the late Col. Robert Roosevelt.

FIRE AT COLLEGE INN EXTINGUISHED

A blaze which probably would have whipped through College Inn, a Texas Technological college women's dormitory, at 2424 Fifteenth street, narrowly was averted about noon Thursday with speedy arrival of fire-fighting apparatus.

Wood shavings about a barrel, in which trash was being burned, were ignited by coals, and in turn set fire to some lumber stacked there. The fire burned through a window into a garage, which is used as a store-room and adjoins the dormitory kitchen. With the garage doors closed, a window broke on the side against which wind was pushing.

Open doors in the dormitory resulted in a dangerous draft-lane, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said. Capt. Guy Casey of No. 2 station was the first to arrive, in a booster truck, and confined the fire by the time central station firemen were there.

Mrs. J. H. James, matron, owns and operates College Inn.

Fire Marshal D. A. Forbess repeated Thursday afternoon a request that residents be careful in burning trash .

Student Saves Life In Parachute Jump

SAN ANTONIO, July 28 (AP)—Joe S. Irvine, a student in the pursuit section of Kelly field, joined the caterpillar club Thursday when he "bailed out" of his plane about 15 miles northwest of the field and landed safely with his parachute. He was practicing acrobatics when his plane got into an inverted spin at an altitude of about 3,000 feet. He was unable to regain control after the ship had fallen several hundred feet and jumped.

Cadet Irvine is a graduate of the University of Texas. His home is in Austin. He is 22 years old.

BOG YIELDS ANCIENT BOAT

HELSINGFORS (AP)—A 4,000-year-old boat was found in a bog at the hamlet of Loknevi. It was 12 feet long, built of pine and contained some primitive fishing tackle.

Parking Limit To Be Enforced Here

Enforcement of a two-hour parking limit on downtown business streets west of the middle of Texas avenue was ordered by City commission Thursday afternoon in City hall.

The action came after 13 merchants presented a petition asking that the ordinance be enforced in the 1200-block and on the west side of the 1300-block of Avenue J and on Thirteenth street between Avenue J and Avenue K.

A tax ordinance, creating a first lien on all property taxes, was approved by the commission to secure payment of taxes. Collection of taxes in bankruptcy cases and in other instances had been difficult, it was pointed out.

ROSE IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS

CONVICTED OF MURDER IN DEATH OF CHILD IN CAR ACCIDENT

TEXARKANA, July 28 (AP)—Bill Rose of Gladewater was convicted of murder and sentenced to five years' imprisonment yesterday in connection with the death of Juanita Berbig, 3, run over by Rose's car May 27 near Texarkana.

Defense counsel filed motions for arrest of judgment and a new trial.

Joe Anderson, who was with Rose at the time the child was killed, will not be brought to trial on a similar charge until motions in the Rose case have been disposed of, District Attorney Elmer L. Lincoln said.

Anderson testified as a state witness at Rose's trial in Bowie county district court.

The state had claimed Rose was intoxicated at the time of the accident. Rose denied this allegation.

PROBLEMS FACED AT RADIO PARLEY

MEXICO CITY, July 28 (AP)—Technicians say that the North and Central American Radio conference, which started more than two weeks ago to "settle the radio problems of North America," is encountering insuperable difficulties in trying to agree on broadcasting channels.

All delegates are highly secretive and profess optimism but from technicians at the parley it was learned that the gulf between the number of channels United States is willing to give up to Mexico and the number Mexico wants is wide, and at present there seems little possibility of adjustment.

Technicians looked for a final resolution covering up failure by saying the conference was preliminary and called only to discuss mutual problems.

Aviation's Progress

The flight of Mussolini's 24 seaplanes from Italy to Chicago may not prove that Uncle Sam's domain would be in any great danger of being bombed by hostile flyers in the event of war with a European power, but it certainly does testify to the remarkable advance that has been made in aviation.

One plane can get across the ocean by a fluke, or by virtue of its pilot's exceptional skill. That was done as long ago as 1919. But a whole squadron of two dozen planes cannot get across as a unit unless the allied arts of building and flying airplanes have advanced to a remarkably high level. These Italian flyers prove that big strides are still being made in the progress of flying.

The person who starts out to hit the high spots should carry more than one spare tire.

* * *

ONE of the things every newspaper cub learns early in the game is not to "write down" to the reader.

As one great editor told The Plainsman 15 years ago, "whenever a writer thinks he's smarter than the average fellow who reads his stuff he's just kidding himself. Don't be so xz?xz?! condescending!"

* * *

That advice popped into your humble servant's mind the other night while reading, for lack of better to do, a screen advertisement of a forthcoming cinema featuring Jean Harlow and Clark Gable.

The advertisement went on in the usual vein until it was nearly completed. Then the reader was slapped in the face with this gem of promotion:

"Nature made them to be locked in each others arms!"

Ain't that sumpin'?

* * *

MAYBE the film advertising writers shouldn't be criticized for a woeful lack of originality in preparing their copy but that fact doesn't let them get away with hooey like the above catch-line.

Who do they think they're writing for, anyway? A bunch of morons?

"Made to be locked in each others arms!"

Lawdy, lawdy, lawdy!

The Gable-Harlow team must be good because it pleases a whale of a lot of movie-goers.

So why not say that instead trying to cram a lot of baloney down the public's throat.

Do the Hollywood smartelicks think the people who go to shows are a bunch of boobs?

It would seem so.

* * *

HARLOW and Gable weren't made to be locked in each others arms and any numbskull knows it.

Gable, recruited from Podunk, Idaho, and Harlow, from the Bronx, showed talent for movie acting. They both got jobs and became popular.

A wise guy in the sin-ema capital watched them, decided to team them up in hot-cha films and he had a good hunch.

She's a steaming blonde with more curves than Vernon Gomez and he appeals to the womenfolks as a great strong lover, etc., etc., and etc.

They are 'naturals' to play opposite each other and The Plainsman supposes they're good actors.

But they weren't "made to be locked in each others arms".

It would be better to say they were made to make folks rush past the boxoffice!

GEORGE C. Wolffarth, pioneer Lubbock citizen, is another who is interested in the possibilities of a lake and amusement center for Lubbock.

In fact, Mr. Wolffarth has been interested in such a project for the past 15 years and when a member of the city commission advocated just such a move.

* * *

He has in mind another location, however, than the one proposed by Dr. Clyde C. Craig and associates.

Down the canyon about 10 miles southeast there is a place, Mr. Wolffarth reports, that has been known as 'the narrows' ever since this was a young cow country. At that point he says, a 1,000 foot dam can be constructed and a better lake thus made.

If constructed it would lie over land now owned by Mrs. S. I. Johnston, the Buffalo Springs acreage and the one-time Mutt Morris property—something like 3,000 acres in all.

* * *

MR. Wolffarth points out that springs and a larger stream down that way would assure a better water supply than the watershed northwest of Lubbock and suggests that the city and competent engineers look it over before making any definite decision on the lake project.

In addition to the recreational facilities, he says, a lake southeast could better be used in the future for a city water reservoir.

THE NEW DEAL IN PICTURES—

No. 2—Balancing the Budget

Text by John M. Gleissner — — — — — — Sketches by Don Lavin

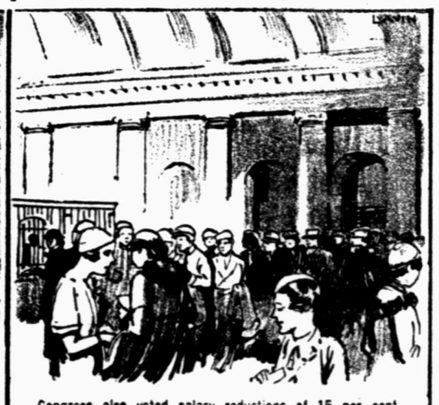

When President Roosevelt took office federal expenditures far exceeded revenues, and the government faced huge deficits. The president, in asking economy legislation, pointed out the danger of destroying government credit should the budget remain unbalanced.

Congress authorized the president to cut large sums from expenditures for veterans, and set up a new and reduced system of pensions, designed to save $460,000,000. This provoked a bitter protest from veterans throughout the country, although the president tried to protect war-injured.

The president ordered a re-survey and suggested that Congress restore some benefits, but not as many as Congress demanded. A long struggle ensued, which was ended by compromise, correcting some admitted injustices in the bill, and making it more liberal than the president had asked. Veterans injured in actual combat were fully protected.

Congress also voted salary reductions of 15 per cent throughout the federal establishments, authorized consolidation of bureaus, and compulsory retirement and furloughs.

WASHINGTON, July 28 — The devil, who is supposed to find work for idle hands to do, never has to find work for the hands of Dr. Leo Wolman.

Dutcher

Dr. Wolman is chairman of the National Recovery administration's labor advisory board. That's a strenuous, long-hour job.

But Dr. Wolman is also:

Teacher of economics at Columbia University, giving courses in labor, unemployment and social insurance.

Member of the research staff of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

A director of the Amalgamated Bank of New York and president of its investment trust.

A contributing editor of the New Republic.

Member of the executive committee of the American Association for Labor Legislation.

Review editor for the American Statistical Journal—which means Dr. Wolman has to read and examine all statistical books.

Member of the Census Advisory Committee, representing the American Economic Association, which meets several times a year and goes over census plans.

Author of three books now in process of production; one on labor in national life, another "Strength of American Trade Unionism," which he is revising from an earlier edition, and a third, "Wages in the United States."

Adviser and participant in activities of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, including strikes.

Each of those jobs requires work. But Dr. Wolman is an amiable, humorous, leisure-loving man of middle age. He smokes a curved pipe, is slightly bald and wears a bow tie.

About That Budget

"Well, Dr. Douglas, what do you know about the budget?" a correspondent demanded of Director of the Budget Lewis W. Douglas.

"What do I know about the budget?"

"Yes, what do you know about the budget?"

"What I don't know about the budget would fill a couple of budgets."

Farmer-Detectives

It takes a farmer to catch a farmer—that's one of the theories of enforcement contained in the cotton reduction plan adopted by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

About 60 per cent of the farmers promising to reduce production are taking options on government-held cotton as their compensation. The rest of the farmers will take cash.

The official, but unannounced, theory is that the holders of options—on which the amount of profits will depend on the reduction plan's success as expressed in higher prices—will carefully watch their neighbors to see that the neighbors plow up as much cotton as they promise. And that would mean, of course, that the option-holders would be watched in turn.

Professor Moley's Return

Assistant Secretary of State Raymond A. Moley, still confused by events at the London conference, returned here to find his reputation somewhat deflated, his expense account questioned and a strong belief that Roosevelt had clipped his wings in England.

Moley promptly went to New York for a week's rest.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Poems For Aid

BUDAPEST — A long-haired young man threw copies of poems from the gallery of parliament on the heads of deputies debating the budget. Arrested, he said he was Sandor Berek, and had not eaten for 24 hours. He said he hoped his action would bring aid from a patron of letters.

This Is His Story

GREELEY, Neb.—Somewhere in Wheeler county there's a jack rabbit that's alive today because of the help of an automobile.

T. H. Murphy of Greeley was driving along a highway and came upon a hound in hot pursuit of the jack, as he drove alongside the rabbit he slowed down momentarily and the rabbit hopped upon the running-board of the car.

The rabbit rode there about a quarter of a mile, until the hound had given up the chase, and then jumped off and went its way leisurely.

Fish Story

CLINTON, N. J.—John Y. Bellis caught a fatfish, he says, wearing gold rimmed spectacles. The glasses belonged to Eddie Gravenhurst, who lost them some time ago. Eddie ot his glasses. The catch was made in the south branch of the Raritan river.

Blood

CHICAGO—Blood is what Kenneth Stahl, 6, needed, but not just any kind. He needed the type that would help a boy who had just suffered successive attacks of mumps, chicken pox, and scarlet fever.

But Frank Stahl, his father, jobless, said he couldn't pay for a professional blood giver.

A newspaper sent out an appeal. About fifty men and women volunteered. But the person selected was 5-year-old Harold Frost, who recently recovered from scarlet fever.

Kenneth is getting well.

Wrong Side

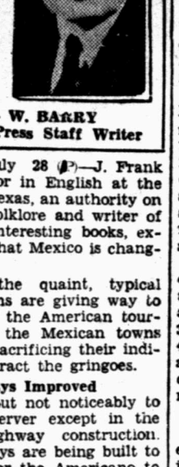

GREELEY, Neb.—Sheriff Art C. Weber doesn't believe all the signs he reads, and for that reason he is on the lookout for two young men who abandoned an automobile on a lonely road near here.

On the windshield of the car was this sign: "The person who finds this car may have same as owner left it on purpose. The owner."

Weber believes the car was stolen in Iowa.

Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 28 (AP)—J. Frank Dobie, instructor in English at the University of Texas, an authority on southwestern folklore and writer of a number of interesting books, expresses regret that Mexico is changing.

He claims the quaint, typical Mexican customs are giving way to the demand of the American tourist. He thinks the Mexican towns and cities are sacrificing their individuality to attract the gringoes.

Highways Improved

Possibly so, but not noticeably to the casual observer except in the matter of highway construction. Modern highways are being built to make it easy for the Americano to ramble around south of the Rio Grande.

Take Monterrey and Saltillo which are nearer the border than other good sized cities. They still are quaint, attractive Mexican cities with all the matchless hospitality of the Mexican still preserved. The buildings, streets and plazas continue to retain their native attractiveness. The promenade still is resorted to and the hotels have not become Americanized.

Saltillo, once the capital of Texas when what is now Texas was a part of the province of Coahuilla, still is a Mexican city with all the appealing features of Mexico. Monterrey, probably, is a little more Americanized, but not conspicuously so. She has her cabarets. Saltillo has none. But Monterrey's night life is strictly Mexican. The senoritas sing to their partners as they waltz to the music. They dance the night out and the morning in. That is Mexican, typically. What American can sleep in his Monterrey hotel bed with music coming up from the nearby cabarets and voices of merrymakers arousing him to wakefulness. The conversation that flows to him from the dance floors is liquid Spanish.

Dobie thinks tourists "never have done anything but curse any country they've gone to."

Dislikes Changes

"There will be no rejoicing from me," Dobie said, "over the changes that will be made as American tourists swarm into Mexico. How far they will go to destroy the charm and atmosphere of that colorful country, no one can yet say."

Dobie apparently overlooked the interest of Americans, such as exhibited by Frank Gibler, former newspaperman of Houston, who has taken his nine sons and daughters, to a beautiful ranch near Monterrey, the property embracing Horse Tail falls.

Gibler intends to make it possible for Americans to drink in the grandeur of the falls and surrounding mountains. There is a beautiful Mexican spot that an American shall preserve and make it possible for fellow-Americans to come, gaze and contemplate the awesome scenery of a neighboring republic.

BURIED CLAUSE IN THE INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY LAW BECOMES MAINSPRIN

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is another of a series of stories by staff writers of the Associated Press explaining new legislation now in effect.)

• • •

BY JAMES COPE

WASHINGTON, July 28. (AP)—A buried clause of the industrial recovery law has become the mainspring of the movement for mass reemployment.

The principal provisions of the law call for adoption by industrial groups of "codes of fair competition," which are binding agreements for self-regulation with special benefits to labor. The agreements are strictly enforceable, but the law also carries a single paragraph permitting voluntary agreements to secure the same results.

It is under this clause that the country's employers now are being asked to subscribe wholesale to an agreement limiting labor hours to 35 a week and white collar help to 40, with minimum wages of 40 cents an hour and a scale of $15 to $12, depending on the size of the community.

Power Given President

The president has the power to enter into agreements with individual employers, trade organizations, associations or groups, and labor organizations, or to approve agreements between these, whenever he decides that such action will restore commerce by relieving unemployment.

He has decided to use this power in temporary fashion.

He first invoked it to help the many textile industries after a code had been promulgated for cotton.

Rayon and silk weaving and miscellaneous textile operations are highly competitive with cotton production. They had no codes ready so asked and obtained the president's consent for voluntary agreements applying cotton's code to themselves until their own could take force.

Blanket Plan Evolves

Then the administration decided that despite the increasing speed with which big industries were asking codes, the vast field of unorganized employers and their workers were not being reached. From this evolved the "blanket" plan.

Public opinion, stirred by a nation-wide campaign, is to be used for enforcing the volunteer agreements. These, distributed from door to door by mail carriers, are to be signed and mailed to regional assembling points.

Another form, attesting compliance with the agreement's terms will go to postmasters in each town.

The name of the signer will go on a bulletin board in the post office lobby, and the cooperating individual or firm will receive a distinctive "badge of honor" to display conspicuously in his windows.

Consumers who pledge to patronize cooperators will receive similar insignia.

The agreements, however, will last only until formal codes cover each industrial and trade line. To hur these, after September 1, the pre ident will start setting dates f open hearings at which will shaped codes for unorganized lin which have not fashioned their own

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 28. (AP)—Cotton opened easy, 14-22 points decline on disappointing cables, lower foreign exchange and under Liverpool selling. Oct 10.80; Dec 11.02; Jan 11.11; Mch 11.30; May 11.45; Jly 11.67.

After showing net losses of 24 to 25 points on active positions with December selling at 11.00 under the initial pressure, prices steadied slightly on trade buying and covering combined with some local and New Orleans demand. The selling through houses with Liverpool connections continued, however, while there was further realizing or liquidation and the market soon eased again. December sold down to 10.98 and the general list showedd net declines of about 25 to 28 points at the end of the first half hour.

The decline extended to 10.83 for December during the middle of the morning, making net losses of 39 to 41 points on active months under continued selling through houses with Liverpool connections and liquidation. The market showed renewed steadiness later on trade buying and covering. At midday December was ruling around 10.95 with the general list showing net declines o f7 to 30 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 28 (AP)—Cotton opened quiet and rather easy today. Although Liverpool was better than due, sterling was decidedly weak.

First trades showed losses of 15 to 16 points and the market eased further after the start to 10.79 for October and 11.00 for December, or 17 points net down on both months.

Prices rallied slightly later in the first hour owing to continued unfavorable weather in the belt and boll weevil talk, October recovering to 10.83 and December to 11.04, or 4 points up from the lows to levels 13 points under the close of yesterday.

Subsequently the market eased 2 to 3 points on some liquidation but trading was light and there appeared to be a general disposition to await publication of the weather map.

The market continued to ease off most of the morning owing to further declines in sterling and weak openings in grains and stocks. October dropped to 10.61 and December to 10.81, or 35 to 36 points down from yesterday's close.

Later in the morning the market rallied, October trading up to 10.73 and December to 10.95, or 12 to 14 points above the lows but still 22 to 23 points below yesterday's close.

Mill-takings for the week were considered bullish as they were larger than the corresponding period last year.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Stocks moved feebly, and generally lower today with the early turnover the smallest since the beginning of the present bull market. A few of the "wet" stocks came back a bit, as did some of the specialties. The up and down range, however, was usually in the neighborhood of a point.

Wheat was reactionary both at Chicago and Winnipeg. Other grains were also soft, as was cotton. Most of these staples later pared their losses. The dollar jumped 6 cents against sterling, but exhibited less strength against the gold currencies. Bonds were irregular.

Among the mild share gainers were National Distillers, Commercial Solvents, Owen-Illinois, Santa Fe and Liggett & Myers B. Losers of a point or more included International Harvester, Deere, Bethlehem Steel, National Steel, American Can, Case, Johns-Manville, Celanese, Western Union, U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Alaska Juneau, McIntyre Porcupine and Doine Mines.

The stock exchange governors announced that, beginning Monday, the regular hours of business—from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.—would be resumed, but that all Saturday trading would be suspended up to and including September 2.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 28. (AP)—Forecasts of somewhat cooler weather in Canada with probable showers in the Dakotas did much to dampen buying enthusiasm in the wheat market today. In the late dealings, wheat and rye fell 5 cents from yesterday's finish, the maximum permissible.

With selling pressure increasing, rallies from early breaks in grain quotations failed to hold, and at no time did the markets get up to yesterday's closing figures. There was no let up, however, in crop damage reports from either the Canadian or American northwest following three succesive days of blistering temperatures and prolonged lack of subsoil moisture.

Business Extends Upward Movement

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—The progressively expanding movement in business and trade continues with scarcely any signs of the normal midsummer recession, the Dun & Bradstreet trade review said today.

"The strength of the buying movement," asserted the agency, "has proved insensitive to the repercussions of falling commodity and security values.

"The summer lull in retail demand is to be found only in a few isolated districts."

Deserters Offered Chance To Return

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 28 (AP)—Reminders that the side walks of New York are a long, long way off was the persuasion used by army officers today in an attempt to halt the first large group desertion from a civilian conservation corps camp in California.

Rides back to camp were offered stragglers from the defiant band of 125, most of them from New York City, who deserted the Bear river camp in the Sierra Nevada mountains.

Spicer Is Indicted In Slaying At Waco

WACO, July 28 (AP)—Claude Spicer was indicted Thursday by the McLennan county grand jury on a murder charge for the slaying of W. M. Scott, whose throat was cut with a butcher knife a week ago.

Spicer, at the time of the slaying, was at liberty on a conditional pardon granted about two months before by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson after he had served part of a sentence for another slaying. The pardon was revoked by the governor last Monday.

State Tax Rate To Be Announced Soon

AUSTIN, July 28 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson said today the automatic tax board of which she is a member, plans to set the state tax rate for the current year within the next few days.

When the board met several days ago to fix the rate the comptroller reported 42 counties had not yet filed their assessment rolls. The board recessed until such time as those rolls had been received. It was expected the rate would be fixed at the constitutional limit, 77 cents on the $100 valuation.

COTTON OIL MILL TO USE NEW CODE

When the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill opens its 133-34 run sometime after September 20, there will be three shifts of men working eight hours each, instead of two shifts, George Simmons, manager, said today.

"We will open up under the new code," he explained. "That means, we will work shorter hours, too. I think the new schedule will mean we will use from 30 to 40 more men."

Opening date is expected to be between September 20 and October 1, depending on when the new crop of seed begins to come in. Mr. Simmons said. The mill does not have a supply of seed at present. Normally about 80 to 90 men are employed in the mill.

COUNTY JOINS N. R. A. DRIVE

OFFICES WILL CLOSE AT NOON SATURDAY; OTHERS JOIN MOVE

Coincident with national recovery activities, 13 Lubbock county officials Thursday announced their offices would be closed at noon Saturday, reducing the working week four hours, effective tomorrow. Employes will work 44 hours weekly under the new arrangements.

Lubbock banks will close at noon Saturday, beginning tomorrow, the Clearing House association has announced.

Cafe Joins Move

D. Leva, owner of Hungarian restaurant at 1010 Broadway, announced, "We heartily favor the new deal offered by our able President Roosevelt." Beginning Monday waitresses at the cafe will receive a 20 per cent increase in wages and will work 40 hours each week; dishwashers will receive a 20 per cent wage hike and will work three hours less daily.

The seed of the carob tree was used as a standard of weight in weighing precious stones by ancient jewelers; the modern word "carat" is derived from "carob."

Science Shows How to End Body Odor in This Hard Water

Scientific tests have made clear at last why body odor—after one bathes with ordinary soaps—soon bobs up again. Their sticky, sluggish lathers cannot work into the pores, and so cannot remove the embedded stale perspiration. Instead they clog the pores with curds.

The new and positive way to beat body odor is deep-pore cleansing. One soap will do that, Kirk's Coco Castile, made by America's largest soap makers. In the hardest water, it breaks instantly into a searching lather. It cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded perspiration—then rinses out completely and in a flash. Thus it ends body odor at its source—the only effective way.

This 100% pure vegetable oil soap is odorless—leaves no offensive M. S. (medicine smell)—is stimulating to the skin. Available everywhere in a big generous cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is now selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

WHAT PRICE LOVELINESS

Elizabeth Arden has proved that loveliness can be acquired with the greatest economy . . . if these simple rules are followed:

Use preparations that justify every claim made for them . . . preparations carefully supervised by Miss Arden, who tests them on herself . . . who uses them constantly in her salons throughout the world. . . This method of attaining loveliness is sure and swift, and the ingredients are so concentrated that a little goes a long way . . . Herein lies true economy.

A complete new shipment of Elizabeth Arden's preparations has just arrived.

GAIN MADE BY FARM PRICES

BIGGEST THIRTY - DAY JUMP IN 16 YEARS SHOWN BY VALUES

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Farm prices, led by sensational gains in grains until last week's break in commodity prices, scored their biggest 30-day jump in 16 years from June 15 to July 15.

They advanced to within 76 per cent of their pre-war levels from 1909 to 1914 after standing on June 15 to 64 per cent of pre-war. Both represented sharp advances from their low in February, 49 per cent of pre-war, and March, exactly 50 per cent.

Index Is Set

The bureau of agricultural economics, reporting the increases today, said that using the figure 100 to represent the pre-war level of all farm commodities, the index on July 15 was 76.

For the 30 days ending on that date, grain prices advanced 31 points in the index; cotton and cottonseed 15 points; chickens and eggs, 12 points; dairy products 6 points, with no change for meat animals.

Compared with July 15, last year, this year's mid-July index showed all farm commodities to be 19 points higher, with grains up 52 points, cotton and cottonseed up 43 points, fruit and vegetables 20 points, dairy products 8 points and chickens and eggs 2 points. Meat animal prices, however, were down 6 points.

Hog Prices Sluggish

The bureau said hog prices failed to make their usual seasonal advance during the 30 days because of poor crop prospects and advancing feed prices. There were heavy storage accumulations of pork products which also served as a brake on prices.

Corn prices made important gains and the hog-corn ratio dropped to the lowest point recorded since July, 1924. It dropped to 7.2 on July 15 from 9.9 in mid-June.

This means that on the basis of corn and hog prices on July 15, it was estimated that the price of 7.2 bushels of corn was equal to the price of 100 pounds of pork.

In other words, corn prices were much higher than hog prices, making it more profitable to sell corn at markets than to feed it to hogs for which most of it is used.

ANTON SUPPORTS RECOVERY DRIVE

ANTON, July 28.—(Special)—Mayor Paul Whitfield has telegraphed to President Roosevelt a pledge of support of Anton and its business men in the national recovery program. The message read:

"We pledge you full support of Anton in recovery program, both individually and collectively. Request badge of honor for this city."

Another message was sent to Clifford B. Jones, Spur, recently named regional director of the public works division. It said:

"Congratulations on appointment this region. Feel that you have the confidence of West Texas and entire region." It was signed by the Anton Chamber of Commerce, Ed M. Hart, president.

In speaking of the message, Mayor Whitfield added, "We do not have any large industries or employers of large numbers of men, so we are pledging our entire citizenship to this worthy cause."

OCEAN AIRLINE ANNOUNCED FOR 1934 WITH SHIP TO SERVE AS BASE IN MID-ATLANTIC FOR SHORE-SHIP-SHORE FLIGHTS

By PAUL SANDERS

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28 (AP)—Experiments with the steamship Westphalen as a mid-ocean base for trans-Atlantic airmail service have been a complete success, and the first trans-ocean line will get under way in 1934, says Capt. Fritz Hammer.

Captain Hammer, former pilot of the giant flying boat Do-X and director of the Syndicato Condor, Brazilian representatives of the German Lufthansa company which will operate the ocean line, piloted the first flying boat catapulted from mid-ocean in a test to Brazil.

The Westphalen, now on the way home to Bremen, Germany, for minor changes, will return to mid-ocean in September or October for final experiments. The ship already has received and catapulted planes from Africa for Brazil and vice versa, besides taking part in numerous off-shore landing and catapulting tests.

Only One Accident

In all these experiments, extending over many months, only one accident occurred—Captain Hammer, experimenting with the landing machinery aboard ship, cut off part of a finger.

"The ocean air line, alternating with the Graf Zeppelin, will at the start give four-day service from Berlin to Rio," said Captain Hammer. "Later, as night flying is instituted along the African coast, and faster flying boats are placed in service, the time will be reduced and is expected to get down to 50 hours before many years."

The trans-ocean part of the line will require from 12 to 14 hours depending on flying conditions. Planes from Bathurst will reach the Westphalen, in mid-ocean, in six or seven hours, the trans-ocean tests demonstrated.

Reaching the Westphalen, the flying boats will be taken aboard by an ingenious drag sail and crane. A second plane will be catapulted for Brazil while the recent arrival from Africa is being overhauled.

Landing Device Important

The landing device, key to success of the experiments, worked without a hitch in the four ocean flights made as experiments.

This device consists of a canvas, 52 by 26 feet, reinforced by wooden strips, and with long slats underneath to assure stability.

Upon receiving a plane, the Westphalen heads into the wind, letting out the canvas drag sail behind. The flying boats, alighting on open sea, time their descent to hit the top of a wave close to the canvas.

Runs Up Sail

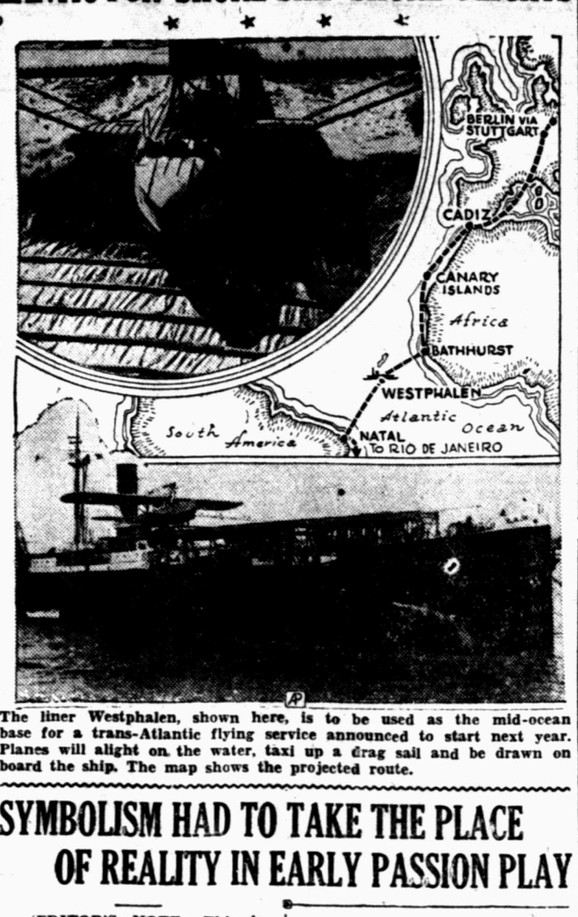

The flying boat proceeds to the sail, which drags partially under water. Then the Westphalen speeds up, the canvass pulls up more, the plane taxis partially up the canvas and a crane pulls the plane aboard.

The Westphalen was reached without difficulty by the planes, weighing nine tons loaded, in the ocean experiments. The planes are equipped with radio direction finders, and in experiments hit the target despite poor visibility.

Has Weather Bureau

The Westphalen is reported to have the most elaborate weather reports from Europe, Africa, South and North America, thus enabling complete weather maps for the Atlantic to be drawn.

The Lufthansa line will run from Berlin by way of Stuttgart, Cadiz, the Canary Islands, Bathurst, the Westphalen and Natal.

The liner Westphalen, shown here, is to be used as the mid-ocean base for a trans-Atlantic flying service announced to start next year. Planes will alight on the water, taxi up a drag sail and be drawn on board the ship. The map shows the projected route.

Over 5,000 Acres Pledged In Gaines

SEAGRAVES, July 28. (Special)—Of the 12,617 acres in cotton in Gaines county this year, 5,466.5 acres were pledged the government in the acreage reduction drive, Lee R. Pool, emergency county agent, says.

Cash plan payments were $15,945.84; option plan payments, $23,862.84; bales optioned, 853.71; contracts signed, 182; lint yield this year, 118.8 pounds. The county quota was 5,586 acres.

Yoakum county did its bit in the cotton drive, Mr. Pool said in reporting work in that county. Of the 3,363.5 acres in cotton, 1,609 were pledged the government.

Cash plan payments were: $8,556.75; option plan payments, $5,609 and 197 bales optioned. Seventy-one farmers signed up and lint yield is estimated at 131 pounds this year.

Operations On Same Day For Twin Girls

LAKE CITY, S. C., July 28. (AP)—So nearly identical are the Misses Dorothy and Elizabeth Gowdy, twins, that both had appendicitis at the same time and one followed the other on the operating table at the hospital.

The Misses Gowdy are school teachers and are graduates of Columbia college. They look so much alike that even close friends have difficulty telling them apart, and, to make matters worse, they dress alike.

They became ill almost at the same time recently, and when physicians diagnosed the trouble as appendicitis they were taken to a Florence hospital.

SYMBOLISM HAD TO TAKE THE PLACE OF REALITY IN EARLY PASSION PLAY

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of six articles upon the history of the Passion play, which will be presented, in English, at Lubbock High school auditorium, Friday night, August 4, under auspices of the Avalanche-Journal newspapers.)

• • •

The long, wooden stage upon which the Passion play was presented was open on all sides, Dr. Alfred E. Wolff, author of the English version, relates. The house formed the background and a balcony was attached to the house.

The balcony represented heaven, and three crosses were erected just under it so the souls of the three who were to die might mount easily and logically. Along the sides of the stage were various houses, required for the production.

Indications and symbolism had to take the place of reality. A cask standing on end represented the mountain Christ stood upon when the devil tempted him. Thunder was imitated by the report of a gun. In order to show that the devil had entered him, Judas held a blackbird in front of his mouth and fluttered its wings. The suicide of Judas was an execution in which Satan was hangman. He dragged Judas at the end of a rope to the top of a ladder. Judas had another blackbird and the intestines of an animal concealed in front of his clothing. Satan tore open the garment, the bird flew away, the intestines fell out, and Satan and Judas slid down the rope into hell. The entrance of hell was pictured by a wide-open mouth of a monster, and souls captured and released during the play passed through his mouth.

Souls In Picture

A painted picture, representing the soul, was hung from the mouth of each of the two thieves who died upon the cross. The angel took the soul of the penitent thief. The devil snatched the soul of the impenitent one.

The actors remained on the stage during the entire performance. They sat upon barriers of their respective division and were permitted to leave their places only to recite their lines. As each actor finished speaking, he returned to his place. All costumes were of the period of the living players. History was ignored utterly in that respect. The costumes were magnificent and costly, and silks, velvet, jewels and fine carpets decorated the Passion plays of the time.

They gave in this highest devolopment, a true picture of German city life. Serious and lively humor were highly developed. But as time went by, and the 17th century went along, the plays fell more and more into the hands of the lower orders. The ecclesiastical authorities forbade their presentation, usually on the grounds of disgraceful and irreverant farce.

Reformation Unfriendly

The reformation was unfriendly to the Passion plays. They were relegated, finally, to small out-of-the-way villages and towns. Public interest in the Passion play did not return until the last decade in the 19th century.

The Passion play, as it will be presented in Lubbock with members of the Freiburg cast, probably is the finest example of the Passion play which has passed through all the stages of change and expansion, and which now, after more than 800 years, for the first time will be produced as the American version of both the Oberammergau and Freiburg Passion plays.

His Life Saved

Ten-month-old Frank Cannon is so happy he could cry. After swallowing an open safety pin at his home in Metuchen, N. J., police of two states helped him make the 85-mile-an-hour dash to Philadelphia hospital to have it removed. He's shown with Nurse Mildred Cook after the operation.

PAIR CHARGED IN SLAYING

ONE SUSPECT IS HELD AND ANOTHER HUNTED IN FATAL ROBBERY

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Two men from Stamford, Conn., were charged with homicide today in connection with the robbery and slaying of Dr. E. Warren Sylla, a dentist, last Monday night.

One of the men, Edward F. Moran, 22, a shoe salesman of Stamford was said by two detectives to have named Thomas Kelly as the actual slayer. Kelly has not been apprehended.

The other man questioned was Joseph Terasowich, 30, an iceman, of Stamford. He disclaimed any knowledge of the crime.

Detectives Frank Murray and Leo Steiner of the homicide squad said Moran discussed the case freely, relating that Kelly knew Dr. Sylla, Moran was quoted as saying, and suggested they rob him. They drove to New York, parked their automobile outside the dentist's apartment, and Moran and Kelly went inside, the suspect related, while the other two remained in the car.

Moran said he and Kelly had been drinking and his recollection of what happened after that was hazy.

Cuba Seen As Rival To Orient In Silk

HAVANA, July 28. (AP)—That silk some day may come from Cuba instead of the orient is the hope of Miss Carmen de Gorivar, an employe of the Cuban department of agriculture.

With Dr. Donato del Castillo, an Havana business man, she has spent 12 years experimenting with silkworm culture and now has 15,000 grubs spinning cocoons at her home in San Miguel street. The partners also have 40,000 mulberry trees ready to plant.

From egg to cocoon takes from 31 to 33 days in Cuba, Miss Gorivar said. She added she is enthusiastic over the possibility of adding an industry to this country's resources.

Worms of ten different species are being used in the experiments, the list including Chinese Whites, Japanese Whites, Japanese Greens, Kan Kows, Sierra Morenas, Perugias, Bagdads, Salas, Black Butterflies and Yellow Golds.

The ten grams of eggs used will produce about 45 pounds of cocoons, it is estimated, which should sell for $1.50 a pound. This return more than covers the cost of the eggs, mulberry leaves and labor, the experimenters assert.

DEPOSITS COLOR FISH

CLEVELAND (AP) — The light coloring of the meat of whitefish caught in Lake Erie is attributed to the lime deposits which exist in the lake.
